Mishap Fatal To Man, 79

A 79-year-old hospital patient became Scurry County's fourth 1962 traffic fatality early Sunday morning when he was struck and killed by a truck on East Thirty-seventh Street near Avenue C.

Mr. James Hyson Huey had been the object of a 15 or 20 minute search by city police, hospital officials, and his family before the accident occurred.

Attendants at the Snyder Hospital said he could not have been gone more than 5 or 10 minutes before his disappearance had been noticed. He was reported to police as missing at 1:45 a.m., and the accident occurred shortly before 2 o'clock.

The driver of the Halliburton Oil Well Cementing Co. truck, William Raymond Knott, 53, told Texas Highway Patroimen Royce Stowe and Wendell Rehm that he was just starting out on a job, and never saw the victim until a second before the impact. Mr. Huey was clad in a dark shirt and dark pants, but no coat.

Justice of the Peace W. C. Davidson returned a verdict of accidental death at the scene.

A resident of Scurry County since 1910, Mr. Huey had been a farmer and also had been employed by the maintenance department of the Snyder schools until his retirement four years ago. He was born May 3, 1883 in Blount, Ala.

Wintry Blast Lashes Eastern U. S. Today

By The Associated Press

Winter unleashed its fury on the Eastern section of the nation in the last hours of the year.

Below-zero temperatures were reported today in many spots.

High velocity winds tore down power lines, may have swept a youth off a ferryboat to apparent death, and overturned a motorboat whose operator drowned.

The pwerful gusts also ripped off a movie house roof, toppled a huge cnstruction crane and literally blew a river from its bed, stranding numerous boats.

The wintry blast also brought fresh accumulations of snow in some places.

Bangor, Maine, had at least 21 inches of new snow on top of the 15 inches previously fallen. Howling winds piled up drifts as high as 20 feet. The state's third largest city, population 50,000, was "just about paralyzed," according to one newsman.

The Bangor Daily News failed to publish its morning paper today, for the first time since 1899.

The Maine blizzard, termed the worst in a decade, also forced closing of Bangor movie houses for the first time in memory and stranded some 2,000 persons in buses and cars throughout the state.

Maines Gov. John H. Reed appealed to citizens to take in the refugees.

The 4,500 persons in Lincoln, Maine, some 40 miles north of Bangor, were reported isolated with no power and all roads blocked.

Maryland recorded three deaths in sledding accidents—a boy and a girl whose sleds were struck by cars and a boy whose sled careened into a tree.

Six Boy Scouts were trapped several hours in a car stuck in a snow drift in Washington County, Pa., before highway crews freed them.

The New York Central and New Haven railroads said the severe cold knocked out signal systems at many points along their main lines in the Northeast. Trains were delayed up to three hours.

New York City experienced 4-degree temperatures today, qualling the year's lowest reading.

The mercury fell below zero elsewhere, including low readings Sunday night of -11 at Massena, N.Y.; -13 at Montpelier, Vt.; -4 at Hartford, Conn.; -6 at Worcester, Mass.; from -20 at the Adirondack Mountain communities of Old Forge, Boonville and Big Moose in upstate New York, and -38 atop Mt. Washington in New Hampshire's White Mountains.

Gusts reached 80 m.p.h. in Newark, N.J., and an estimated 70 m.p.h. at Riverhead, N.Y., where the Peconic River was blown out into Great Peconic Bay on the north shore of Long Island. Boats were left stranded in very low water over a stretch of two miles or more.

A passenger on the Staten Island ferry in New York City reported seeing a teen-age boy swept overboard by the fierce winds. A search of the harbor did not immediately produce a body.

A man drowned when winds capsized his motorboat off Oyster Bay, N.Y., on Long Island's north shore.

In New City, N.Y., a movie house roof went flying, and the same happened to the roof of a Brooklyn, Conn., shopping center. No one was hurt in either case.

Internationally Tense 1962 To Make Its Exit Tonight

By The Associated Press

The end of an internationally tense 1962 and the start of an uncertain 1963 arrive tonight for countless millions around the troubled world.

For many, the midnight transition from the old to the new will bring joyful reflections. For others, it will spark sad recollections.

Millions will flock to churches to raise their voices in song and prayer — thanking God for the blessings of the old year and asking His guidance through the year to come.

Others will sing out the old and shout in the new at entertainment spots ranging from cozy corner taverns and tiny dance halls to big city auditoriums and night clubs.

To get to their parties, some will trudge through inches of snow. Others will walk along palm-lined boulevards under balmy summer-like skies.

Many will be oblivious to the magic instant. They are the very sick, the very young, the very tired.

The moment will go virtually unnoticed by those assigned to the task of keeping the vital services of a complex society rolling.

Some will die around the stroke of twelve. Others will be spanked into life.

Particular emphasis has been put on highway safety with hotels, coffee shops, expensive restaurants and churches offering free lodging, coffee and a moment of rest for those whose celebrating might leave them incapable of safe driving.

The Pennsylvania and New Jersey turnpike commissions will offer free hot coffee to any person traveling the super highways.

The Travelers Hotel near La Guardia Airport in New York has offered free overnight lodging to any celebrant who feels the need of it.

Members of the Adaman group will usher in the New Year by an assault on the 14,110-foot Pike's Peak in Colorado. From the summit, the group hopes to set off a fireworks display at midnight.

An estimated 12,000 men, women and children will go through last-minute dress rehearsals for th annual Mummers' parade in Philadelphia on New Year's Day.

The 73,000 temple bells that echo across Japan New Year's Eve will include for the first time in 20 years an old favorite reclaimed from Iowa.

The bell, the Choai-in Gankoji temple bell, had rung for three centuries in Japan before it was silenced and disappeared during World War II. It turned up on the Iowa State University campus and was brought back this year to Japan.

Katanga Challenges UN Victory Claim

By ROBIN P. MANNOCK

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—President Moise Tshombe's troops battled U.N. Congo command units in north Katanga today, challenging a U.N. claim of lightning victory in this third military campaign against the secessionist province.

The United Nations claimed full control of the area of Elisabethville, the capital, in the south. But incidents of pillage and terror promoted unrest. The U.N. command ordered looters shot on sight.

Consolidating gains, the United Nations ordered Katanga pilots to surrender by noon Tuesday and give up all their planes which had survived U.N. strafing attacks.

Tshombe himself, who has vowed to fight to the end against forced reunification of the Congo, was reported to have returned to Katanga. He took off in a Rhodesian air force transport from Salisbury for an unannounced destination after an overnight visit to the capital of the Central African Federation.

Officials in the Rhodesian border town of Ndola said Tshombe flew to Kolwezi, 150 miles northwest of Elisabethville. Katangans at Ndola expressed belief he planned to reform his government in Kolwezi and organize his armed forces to carry on the fight. They believed Cabinet members accompanied him.

The U.N. command in Leopoldville said fighting centered on the outskirts of Kamina, a mining town 260 miles northwest of Elisabethville, which the United Nations said Sunday had been captured by Ghanaian U.N. troops.

The U.N. command said today a Swedish battalion and a Ghanaian company were under fire.

Messages reaching Leopoldville this morning reported three Katanga companies were still in the town Sunday night.

However, the Ghanaians were reported by the United Nations to have captured a road and rail junction about 15 miles from Kamina, while Swedish troops seized intact but 10 miles of railway track to the east.

A U.N. message to Katangan pilots of both civil and military planes ordered them to fly their aircraft to the U.N. air base of Manono between 6 a.m. and noon.

All Katangan planes which have not been surrendered by that time will be destroyed wherever they are found, the U.N. command said.

The United Nations said earlier that Swedish jet fighters had almost completely eliminated the Katanga air force, destroying two British Vampire jets and four or five converted Harvard trainers on the ground.

The United Nations reported that the Belgian mayor of Elisabehville had agreed to cooperate with the world organization. The United Nations claimed on Sunday Belgian public utilities technicians had refused to work for the United Nations but later agreed to work under the auspices of the Red Cross.

Katanga's president, Moise Tshombe, after an overnight visit to neighboring Southern Rhodesia, left Salisbury in a Rhodesian air force transport. His destination was not disclosed, but it was believe he was returning to Katanga.

Tshombe vowed that his secessionist province would fight to the death rather than accept forced reunification with the Congo central government. He said the Katangans "were only defending themselves" and the U.N. "for a long time prepared to attack us."

On the diplomatic front, pressure built up in Britain and Belgium against any attempt to translate the U.N. military sweep into quick Congo unity.

A British government plea for "discussion and negotiation" in Katanga brought charges from the opposition Labor party that Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's Conservative regime was trying to thwart U.N. plans for ending the partition of the Congo.

British, Belgian and American capital back mining operations in mineral-rich Katanga, which seceded from the poverty-stricken rest of the Congo almost as Soon as Belgium ended its colonial rule in June 1960.

"A military promenade" was the label pinned by a Western diplomat on the swift U.N. cleanup of Tshombe's forces. The U.N. command said it launched the three-day offensive only after it endured a crescendo of Katangan bombardments.

U.N. Secretary General U Thant sent congratulations on the success of the operation to his field commanders.

Thant said it had been "an unhappy circumstance and a matter of regret to me that it became necessary" to resort to military force.

ICC Gives Approval To Huge Rail Merger

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Interstate Commerce Commission set up one of the nation's biggest railroad mergers today by authorizing the Chesapeake & Ohio to gain control of the Baltimore & Ohio.

Approval of the control plan came as two other big Eastern railroad unification plans were being processed by the commission.

These would unite the New York Central with the Pennsylvania and the Nickel Plate with the Norfolk & Western.

The commission emphasized that the C&O-B&O case involves only an acquisition of control by an exchange of stock. But the C&O had made quite clear that this was intended as a preliminary step to merger of its operations and those of the B&O.

The ICC said the stock-exchange deal between the C&O and B&O would strengthen the financial condition of the B&O and both carriers will continue to operate as separate railroads.

"Approval of the application will not foreclose our opportunity to consider the lawfulness of any future merger application," the commission added, "nor will it prevent interested parties from raising objections to proposals of that application when it is presented to the commission for its approval."

But railroad industry observers had acknowledged beforehand that approval of the C&O-B&O control plan would be a major step toward the proposed development of three major rail systems in the East through merger.

The C&O operates about 5,091 miles of railroad in a generally V-shaped pattern running north east and southeast from Chicago. One arm runs through Detroit to Buffalo, N.Y. The other extends through Cincinnati to Newport News, Va. and Washington. The railroad's headquarters is in Cleveland.

The B&O, which went from riches to rags in its 135-year history, operates about 5,910 miles of road in New York, Delaware, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Kentucky, Missouri, Michigan and the District of Columbia. It is based in Baltimore.

The C&O, whose property is valued for rate-making purposes at $197,460,975, reported net income ranging from $51.7 million in 1958 to $4.5 million for the first quarter of 1961.

By contrast, the B&O's property value for rate-making purposes was $659,453,455 but its net income dropped steadily during the same period from $16 million in 1958 to an $11.5 million deficit for the first 1961 quarter.

Beaver Is Appointed Constable

In addition to the swearing - in ceremonies of new officials at their regular meeting this morning, the Scurry County commissioners court conducted regular business.

On the motion of Commissioner Bill Herring of Pct. 2, a petition presented by Travis Beaver bearing 108 names of citizens of the Flavanna and Dermott areas was placed in the minutes. The petition requested that the commissioners court appoint Beaver to the office of constable for precinct 2.

Herring's motion also called for the appointment of Beaver to the office until the next general election.

Gene Dullaffy, attorney for Beaver indicated that the election contest case presently being considered in 132nd District Court would be withdrawn.

In other business the court closed a number of dedicated streets and alleys in the Andress Heights Addition at the request of Mal Andress, developer of the area.

The court received the annual audit report of the accounting firm of Deffebach and Yorgesen. Discussion of the report was continuing at noon.

Appointment of a county health officer was deferred until next Monday. Dr. Robert B. Pierce has been serving in that capacity, and the commissioners indicated that he would be reappointed if he would agree to accept the appointment.

Also received by the court were the final plans for curb and gutter work to be done in Towle Park. Bids on this work will be received at the next regular meeting Jan. 7.

At Least Six Dead In Bus-Truck Crash

SUPERIOR, Mont. (AP)—A bus and a truck collided in western Montana today and the bus plunged into the frozen Clark Fork River, killing at least six persons.

First reports said the bus was a Greyhound and was eastbound.

Tugboat With Nine Missing

NEW YORK (AP)— A tugboat with nine men aboard was presumed lost today in wild and frigid waters of Long Island Sound.

The Coast Guard said the 100-foot vessel, the Gwendolyn Steers, apparently went down in the vicinity of Target Rock and Eaton's Neck Point, about 40 miles east of New York.

A lifeboat from the vessel was washed ashore with one body in it. The victim, not immediately identified, apparently had died of exposure. There was no indication of survivors.

The tug disappeared after radioing late Sunday that she was taking on water. A storm was raging at the time, with winds churning up 15-foot waves.

A Coast Guard amphibian plane took off this morning from Floyd Bennett Field to search the area, after delays because of high winds.

Castro Offer Has A Cool Reception

By GEORGE ARFELD

HAVANA (AP)—A cool reception greeted today the Castro government's offer to let more Cubans go to the United States if Pan American Airways resumed flights between Havana and Miami.

A Pan American spokesman in New York said the line had little desire to resume normal service to Cuba. He said the company had lost heavily on its flights to Cuba in recent years because of restrictions and limited travel to the island.

The State Department banned private and commercial flights to Cuba during the Cuban crisis. The ban is still on although it was lifted temporarily when the Cuban invasion prisoners were ransomed and flown out.

"The revolutionary government," said a communique from Prime Minister Fidel Castro's office, "will maintain its policy" to authorize the departure from the country for all those desiring to leave as soon as the Pan American Airways resumes its flights to Cuba which it suspended by a decision of North American authorities.

Official sources denied reports that Castro had agreed to allow more relatives of the Bay of Pigs invaders to follow the prisoners to the United States. James B. Donovan, the New York attorney who negotiated the release of the prisoners and nearly 1,000 of their relatives, said Saturday in Lake Placid, N.Y., that Castro had agreed to let an additional 2,500 relatives go to the United States.

Donovan said as each installment of the $53 million worth of ransom food and drugs for the prisoners was delivered, another group of relatives would be released.

The Cuban communique also denied a report by Donovan that Castro might go to the United Nations to negotiate the release of 21 Americans imprisoned in Cuba.

Havana radio ridiculed President Kennedy's appearance in Miami Saturday before the Bay of Pigs prisoners.

Kennedy made a real effort to forget his Yankee aristocratic prejudices when he called brothers these contemptible "Latin Americans born in Cuba," the broadcast said.

"One of the most ridiculous aspects of the show staged by Kennedy and his mercenaries was the reference to the fake brigade flag which Kennedy promised to return some day to what he called a free Havana."

Traffic Toll Runs Below Estimates

By The Associated Press

Traffic	178
Fires	42
Miscellaneous	48
Total	268

The nation's traffic death toll in the first half of the long New Year weekend appeared running below pre-holiday estimates by safety experts despite a spurt in fatalities Sunday.

A survey of accidental deaths since 6 p.m. (local time) Friday showed 178 killed in traffic; 42 in fires and 48 in miscellaneous mishaps. The over-all total was 268. The holiday ends at midnight Tuesday.

Snowy, windy, and cold weather made driving conditions hazardous in broad areas in the Northeast and sections of the Midwest.

The National Safety Council has estimated that 420 to 480 persons may be killed in traffic accidents during the 102-hour New Year holiday period. The record traffic toll for a four-day New Year period was 409 in the 1956-57 observance.

The traffic death toll in the first half of the current holiday was far less than for the comparable period during the extended Christmas weekend when more than 300 fatalities were reported. The final Christmas tally showed 646 traffic deaths.

Last year's New Year holiday covered three days and the final tabulation showed 337 traffic fatalities, 83 fire deaths and 59 killed in miscellaneous accidents, for a total of 479.

Hare-And-Tortoise Strategy Is Adopted By Rockefeller

By RAYMOND J. CROWLEY

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller has adopted a hare-and-tortoise strategy in his quest for the 1964 GOP presidential nomination, reports reaching here indicated today.

The idea appeares to be that Rockefeller will hang back, letting such other GOP stars as Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, Gov. George Romney of Michigan and Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania put on whatever burst of political speed they desire.

Then in the stretch Rockefeller, with that massive New York delegation propelling him, will romp to certain nomination or so his backers feel sure.

In line with this, Rockefeller is keeping comparatively quiet, has few speaking engagements outside New York, and is turning down a number of bids.

Officially, of course, Rockefeller has not entered the presidential competition, nor has Goldwater or Romney or Scranton.

The political betting is that Rockefeller will be in there fighting—and probably will get the nomination, barring some big change in the political picture.

For the present, Rockefeller strategists are passing the word that he thinks the GOP should remain flexible, giving full exposure to all its likely presidential possibilities and then pick the best man, a man with a positive approach.

"The governor," one said, "doesn't want to get in the position of assuming the mantle of the party nominee, or even the stance of a candidate for the nomination at this time."

Asked whether Rockefeller has shown any reluctance to come to grips with President Kennedy since the latter's rocking chair television interview — an event which struck even some Republican leaders as a political tour de force—the governor's backers scoffed any such idea.

"He just does not want to assume the role of chief Republican antagonist to the President at this juncture," one said. "This is in line with his policy of not trying to put on the mantle of the nominee."

The Rockefeller high command obviously is bending its efforts to see that he does better in any future political combat than he did last November, when his re-election margin proved smaller than his 1958 plurality—529,000 as against 573,000.

Whether the departure of L. Judson Morhouse from the post of New York state Republican Judson Morhouse from the post of New York state Republican chairman had anything to do with Rockefeller strategy for 1964 was not immediately apparent. Rockefeller said he was saddened by Morhouse's resignation Dec. 27. Morhouse is reported to have been far from a big wheel in the Rockefeller 1962 campaign, which brought results somewhat disappointing to the governor.

Republican Sen. Jacob K. Javits rolled up a plurality of 983,000 as against Rockefeller's 529,000. However, the governor's camp points out that the difference in the total vote for Rockefeller and Javits was not nearly so large—3,272,417 for the senator as compared with 3,081,587 for the governor.

Rockefeller backers also explain that any incumbent governor is apt to suffer attrition these days because of the necessity of levying high taxes and taking other measures displeasing to many voters.

If Rockefeller wins the nomination he will, by all odds, face Kennedy in November 1964. Whether the personable Rockefeller could take the attractive Kennedy could depend in large part on whether Kennedy stubs his toe again as he did on the Bay of Pigs.

Integration Order Will Be Appealed

DALLAS (AP)—Attorneys for the Carrollton Independent School District have filed notice the district will appeal a federal court order that called for integration of its schools.

U.S. Dist. Judge Sarah T. Hughes ordered trustees Dec. 14 to prepare a plan for integration and submit it to her for approval by Jan. 15.

At the time she suggested the plan provide for integration of the high school by February and elementary schools by next September.

Earl Luna, attorney for the district, said the appeal may stay proceedings before Judge Hughes until such time as the U.S. Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans rules on the case.

But, Luna pointed out, a decision for such a stay will have to come from Judge Hughes. He indicated plans to talk to her about such a possibility upon her return from a holiday vacation.

Officials in the Dallas suburb are working on the court-ordered plan to meet the Jan. 15 deadline, if necessary, the attorney added.

$4 Billion Tax Cut Plan Indicated

WASHINGTON (AP) — Walter Heller, chairman of President Kennedy's Council of Economic Advisers, has indicated the tax cut the administration will request of the new Congress will total more than $4 billion.

"What is required is not a small cut of $1 billion or $2 billion, but a substantial cut. A $3 billion or $4 billion cut won't do the job," Heller said in an interview Sunday on ABC-TV's "Issues and Answers."

Heller described the still-unveiled administration tax plan as a big balanced program. Included, he said, will be a large reduction in the lower brackets, a cut in tax rates above 65 per cent, more incentive for investment and a reduction in corporate rates.

Opponents of tax reduction have argued that lower levies would balloon the federal deficit. On this point Heller said the choice was further deficits with a weak economy or tax reduction with some temporary deficits and a growing expanding economy.

"For 5½ years this economy has been operating below, considerably below its potential," he said. "The tax system keeps pulling out of the economy too large a total amount to permit the products of industry and agriculture to be sold at full employment levels."

Heller said the economy was capable of producing $30 billion to $40 billion more in goods and services without strain. This, plus full employment, would produce some $5 billion more in taxes, he said.

The state of the nation's economy was the subject also of a yearend statement Saturday by Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges.

Economic activity has achieved record levels, he said, and the economy is basically sound. But, he added, the rate of forward movement in recent months was slowing down.

The pace of progress next year will be slower than in 1962, Hodges said, "and at a level well below full employment of the nation's economic resources."

A tax cut is imperative, Hodges said, to expand consumer buying power still further and to increase the incentive for business to invest in new and more modern plant and equipment, and in inventories.

Commercial candlemaking in the United States was pioneered in 1855 in Syracuse, N. Y. by Anton Will, a German immigrant. The firm he founded now makes candles for the Vatican.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: The wife who wrote that her 55 - year - old husband wanted to paw all the young girls stuck a familiar chord with me. I agree that some men who act like this are "sick." But I think there is another side. Don't you think if mothers taught their daughters not to encourage older men by flirting with them and sitting on their laps (all in fun, of course), we wouldn't have so much trouble of this kind?

FORT WORTH FAN

DEAR FAN: Not always. Sometimes you aren't even aware of the connection until you get the shock!

• • •

DEAR ABBY: Last night, while I was fixing supper, my husband came into the kitchen, put his arms around me and hugged and kissed me. I said, "What brought that on?" He replied, "I love you." Later when the children were out, he said, "Honey, haven't I been treating you right?" I said, "You always treat me right — what is the matter?"

His reply: "Well, when I came home this evening I wanted to type up my speech for the Chamber of Commerce and found the typewriter out and a letter in it. It started, 'DEAR ABBY.' I explained that I only wanted to write and tell you that I was one of those women who got up in the morning to make her husband's breakfast. Thanks, Abby. It gave me a thrill to know he loved me as much as I love him.

KY.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a mother who sleeps with her 13 year - old daughter when she could just as easily sleep with her own husband. The reason she sleeps with me is because my father snores. Well, Abby, SHE snores and keeps me awake. If I don't get my sleep at night, I can't keep my head up in school. What should I do?

ALWAYS TIRED

DEAR TIRED: If there is a couch in the living room, sleep on it. Or fix up a "bed" anywhere in the house, far away from both snoring parents. Good luck, and pleasant dreams.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: I work in a large office and every year have allowed the boys in our office to kiss me "movie style" on New Year's. There is a snob who came to work with us, who lets the boys kiss her on the cheek only. She contends that it is unethical and unsanitary otherwise. Who is right?

GEORGINA

DEAR GEORGINA: I'm with the "snob." A kiss on the cheek is adequate for the co-worker. If he comes back for "seconds" — turn the other cheek.

• • •

CONFIDENTIAL TO YOU: May you and yours have a happy, healthy and prosperous New Year.

THE NEW CHAIRMAN FACES A TOUGH BOARD

20th Century Man Displayed Firm Staying Power In 1962

By INEZ ROBB

A great many big,- minded surveys of 1962 and prognostications for 1963 have already been committed to paper—all kinds of roundups, wrapups, rundowns and weighty peerings into the veiled future.

To me the greatest—the most far-out—accomplishment of 1962 is that man and his world survived: that each is still in one piece. If we do as well in 1963, I am prone to let well enough alone and not ask too many carping questions.

In the new year I shall not beseech that the Dodgers win the pennant, or that the stock market make Morgans of us all, or even that bifocals still pass me by but only that man again survives, with the world he knows, intact.

I rejoice this day not in great fortune but in the fact that at the end of 1962 I am alive, kicking vigorously and ready to face up to 1963, which will doubtless be more of the same.

Someone should say a good word for 20th Century man and his staying powers, so here goes: He has learned to live with an assortment of shocks and threats more varied and horrendous than any experienced by his ancestors. By and large, under an almost-constant threat of annihilation since World War II, he has managed to live with grace under great pressures.

To his great credit, a credit that deserves both admiration and congratulation, he has lived as if each day were not the last but as if the sun would certainly rise on the morrow as it has for less nerve-wracking eons. That alone is a triumph of the human spirit, and a tribute to man's durability.

This nation lived through the Cuban crisis without once faltering, much less panicking. And if anyone wrung his hands, he had the courtesy to do it in private.

In the nation's capital, during the Cuban dust-up, our leaders advanced from brinksmanship to blinksmanship, with Secretary of State Dean Rusk quoted as saying —vis-a-vis the U. S.—U. S. S. R. zero hour—"We're eyeball to eyeball and I think the other fellow just blinked."

Even so, that wonderful creature, the man in the street (which included the woman in the home and the child in school), never faltered or—to use official terminology—blinked, or ran screaming to a back-yard shelter. In time of acute crisis, men, women and children went about their daily chores with a calm that deserves the word magnificent.

None of us could know when or if we would be in the midst of a nuclear holocaust. But the 20th Century has so tempered us to crisis that the nation took in admirable stride a profoundly dangerous clash of powers.

Doubtless one of the biggest factors in the nation's calm acceptance of blinksmanship was pride, and great pride, in the fact that at long last we flexed our muscles—we tasted and tested our own power and found it not only completely adequate to the situation but exhilarating.

To a nation frustrated for years by the cold war tactics of the enemy, it was as balm in Gilead to be part of a situation in which the Communists, at long last, were forced to react to our initiative. We have been reacting so long to the crude power tactics and the facile propagands feats of communism that it was great —just great!—to be on the giving instead of the receiving end—to hand it out, to pour it on, to go on the initiative!

In one woman's opinion, we say farewell to 1962 with pride in what we lived through and what we accomplished as a people, and, having survived the crisis, look forward to 1963 with a good bit more confidence than has greeted other new years in the recent past. Certainly, we greet the new year unblinkingly.

Treat Arranged For Group Of Orphans

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—Airline pilot Jack Adams of nearby Walls Miss., has arranged a New Year's Day treat for 30 New Orleans orphan boys.

Adams will furnish 30 tickets to the Sugar Bowl football game involving Mississippi and Arkansas, pay for transportation and box lunches and supply each boy $3 spending money.

Originally, Adams planned to take his wife to the game. While checking about tickets, he discovered he could buy a block of 30 seats at $6 each.

"My wife agreed that we can go to the game a lot of other years," said Adams. "We decided to let some children go in a group—children who otherwise would not be able to go."

Columnist Learns From His Mail

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Retirement is no death sentence. A man who quits work at 65 can expect to live to be 79.6 years old.

Almost 53 per cent of America's individual stockholders are women—but they hold fewer actual shares than men do.

Water doesn't look crowded but it is. Each drop contains about six sextillion atoms.

It is estimated that Americans bought more than 1.5 billion presents this Christmas. Some 41 per cent of the average family's gifts are purchased during the Christmas season.

There is some truth in the remark of old-timers that "We don't have winters like we used to." Scientists say the climate gradually is growing warmer.

"A loving wife will do anything for her husband except stop criticizing and trying to improve him."—J. B. Priestley.

Tokyo now has five English-language newspapers.

The dying words of George Washington were, "It is well." James Madison said, "I always talk better lying down." U. S. Grant cried, "Water." Grover Cleveland said, "I have tried so hard to do right." And Woodrow Wilson said to his wife, "Edith, I'm a broken machine, but I'm ready."

Three per cent of the nation's population moves from one state to another each year.

Some comets have no tails, while others have tails up to 150 million miles long.

It takes persistence to be an author. Marcel Proust had to print "Swann's Way" at his own expense. William Faulkner's book "Sound and Fury" was turned down by 13 publishers. It took Theodore Dresier and Erskine Caldwell seven years to get their first novels published.

Of 300,000 known vegetables, only about 30 are widely used as human food.

The longest-lived birds, except for vultures and parrots, are Canada geese. In captivity they have reached the age of 70.

Vampire bats can run on the ground as fast as a rat.

It was Wilson Mizner who observed, "I respect faith, but doubt is what gets you an education."

Couple Planning Clock Marathon

VALDOSTA, Ga. (AP)—The Cecil E. Cooks' clocks will ring in the New Year in a big way.

The Cooks are clock collectors. They have 38 clocks in the 10 rooms of their home—no two set at the same time. The clocks will start bonging and chiming around midnight and will continue for some time thereafter.

"It's much more interesting to hear them strike at different times," says Mrs. Cook. "Then we can tell the different personalities of the clocks, and pick out names for them."

Junior Editors Quiz on GEORGIA

QUESTION: Why was the colony of Georgia so successful?

• • •

ANSWER: The state of Georgia has a fine climate with good water and soil. But these attractions were not the main reasons for its colonization. An English colony had been established in South Carolina and this was threatened with invasion by the Spaniards who controlled Florida and the French who were in Louisiana. Another colony, the English felt, would strengthen South Carolina. Such a colony could also be a refuge for persecuted Protestant sects in various places and for poor but worthy English. A careful plan was worked out: Parliament gave 10,000 pounds to the "trustees for establishing the colony of Georgia in America" and forbade the sale of liquor and the importation of slaves. Oglethorpe settled in Savannah in 1733. The colony did help against the French and Spanish, but the industries planned did not work out well. However, in 1753, the charter of the trustees ran out and Georgia became a royal province. With this new rule and the development of its fine farm land, the colony soon became the most flourishing settlement in the south. The state of Georgia, with its many industries, goes on developing today. It is often referred to as the "Empire State of the South."

IN 29th ORANGE BOWL CLASH

Oklahoma Offense, Tide Defense Face Big Tests

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A once-reluctant football player and a former linebacking specialist will key the vaunted Oklahoma running attack Tuesday in the 29th Orange Bowl football game.

Versatile junior college transfer Joe Don Looney at left halfback and sophomore fullback Jim Grisham top the "most wanted" list for All-America center Lee Roy Jordan and the proud Alabama defense.

Something's got to give.

The favored Crimson Tide, who last gave up more than seven points to an opponent 25 games ago, own the second best rushing defense in the nation with a meager 58.8 yard average yield. Oklahoma's 265.9 yard mark is second highest in rushing offense.

After the third Oklahoma game and second straight loss 9-6 to Texas, Coach Darrell Royal of the Cotton Bowl defending Longhorns remarked:

"The Sooners are only one good running back from being a great team, good as anyone."

Oklahoma Coach Bud Wilkinson agreed. He moved Looney from reserve fullback to left half, discovered Grisham's offensive aptitude and made him No. 1 fullback instead of a defensive ace.

The following Saturday Oklahoma charged from behind on Looney's 61-yard sprint and beat Kansas 13-7, launching a string of seven straight victories which carried it through the rest of the regular season.

In this same stretch, Oklahoma jumped from 93rd to third in total offense with Looney and Grisham combining for 17 touchdowns while Looney passed for an 18th.

Because he didn't want to play in his father's football shadow, Joe shunned the game for some time. That explains why this 9.7 second dashman had only one year of high school ball and one at Cameron, Okla., Junior College under his belt before this season. Don Looney as an end was a favorite target of Davey O'Brien on the great Texas Christian teams of 1937-38.

Looney proved himself under fire in the Sooner opener when he came into the game as third-string fullback and broke away on a 60-yard dash in the final 2 minutes for a 7-3 victory over Syracuse. By the time the campaign was over he led the nation in punting with 43.4 yards average; was fifth in rushing, with 852 yards and a 6.2 per carry average, and collected 62 points.

Grisham, 2 pounds lighter than Looney at 205, has been lauded for attaining the status of a complete player in his first varsity campaign. He is a remarkable linebacker and even after his fierce running and blocking were uncovered, he still gets the defensive call when the going is toughest.

Son of an oil field foreman, Grishmam out-rushed the entire rival team in each of his last three games, including the nationally ranked running games of Missouri and Nebraska. Jim ran for a total of 711 yards, a 4.8 average and eight touchdowns.

Rose Foes Biding Time

By DAVE O'HARA
Associated Press Sports Writer

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Southern California, the national collegiate football champion, and Wisconsin, a team determined to wipe out the stigma of past failures, marked time doing little today before their meeting in the Rose Bowl New Year's Day.

Southern Cal Coach John McKay and the Trojans boarded a couple of buses and traveled from their hotel headquarters in Los Angeles for a visit to the sprawling stadium here with its seating capacity of some 100,000.

Wisconsin Coach Milt Bruhn scheduled a light loosening up drill on a practice field a few hundred yards from the Rose Bowl, but otherwise the Badgers remained in seclusion at a monastery retreat in neighboring San Marino.

The Trojans, who rolled up 10 straight victories en route to the Nation's No. 1 ranking and the post-season classic, appeared relaxed amidst a quiet air of optimism despite what McKay calls "probably our worst physical shape of the year."

McKay, disturbed earlier by the anticipated loss of Ron Heller, a speedy halfback who injured his knee in practice last Thursday, said Heller was able to run Sunday and indications were that he would be able to play Tuesday.

The Badgers moved from their Pasadena Hotel headquarters to the monastery Sunday with all hands in sound physical shape. However, they will be hurt by the loss of guards Dion Kempthorn and Jon Hohman, who were left behind in Wisconsin because of ailments when the squad flew to California.

Bruhn and his players are bent on atoning for Wisconsin's 7-0 loss to Southern Cal in the 1953 Rose Bowl game and the 44-8 humiliation by Washington on the 1960 Pasadena trip.

The kickoff is set for 5 p.m. EST. The game will be telecast and broadcast nationally (NBC).

Father Of Baylor Track Coach Dies

MERKEL, Tex. (AP)—Homer Patterson, long-time Merkel farmer and father of Jack Patterson, Baylor University track coach, died at his home Sunday of a heart attack.

Patterson, about 70, is survived by his widow; a son, Jack; one daughter, Mrs. Kemp Hinch of Odessa, and four grandchildren.

Funeral services are scheduled at 3 p.m. today at the First Methodist Church of Merkel.

SWC Settles Down To Family Feuding

By The Associated Press

They start playing for keeps in Southwest Conference basketball this week.

Southern Methodist, whose five straight over strong intersectional foes in the past two weeks projected the Mustangs as the top team, plays the feature of the opening round, meeting Arkansas.

Arkansas, which wound up third best in the practice campaign, is in Dallas Thursday night. The Razorbacks face a tough assignment indeed.

It was at some that the Methodists broke a 3-game losing streak and whipped Louisiana State, Tulane, Northwestern, Minnesota and Tulsa in succession.

Texas A&M, which has the best pre-season record—7-2—and lost only one intersectional game, gets Baylor, which dropped three games last week while playing in the All-College Tournament at Oklahoma City.

The Aggies and Bears meet at College Station Thursday. Rice and Texas play at Austin and Texas Christian and Texas Tech clash at Fort Worth in other Thursday night openers.

Texas, the pre-season favorite which has lost more games than it won—a record of 4-5—might run into real trouble its first time out. Rice hasn't won many but the Owls have been playing all of them well.

Rice won the consolation title of the Gator Bowl Tournament last week. Texas lost in the finals of the Sun Carnival Tournament to Texas Western, 45-40.

Saturday night Texas A&M and Texas Tech tangle at Lubbock, Arkansas and Texas play at Fayetteville, Baylor and Southern Methodist play at Waco and Rice takes on Texas Christian at Houston.

Texas A&M won the Jonesboro, Ark., Classic last week, beating Tulane 67-53 in the first round and nosing out Virginia 60-59 in the finals. That and Southern Methodist's toppling of unbeaten Tulsa 73-71 were the high points of conference action.

Only four intersectional games are left on the schedule and the league can't hope to catch up. Its record is 25-38 for the season. Last week was the first time this year for the conference to finish ahead against outside teams. The league won nine while losing eight.

The conference faces the start of title play with Bennie Lenox of Texas A&M the leading scorer. Lenox has romped to 203 points in nine games—a fine average of 22.6.

The only other players boasting 20 or better are Kendall Rhine, the Rice giant, who has poured in 185 points for a 20.6 average, and Winston Moore, the sophomore from Kentucky who has done 20.0 for Baylor.

Fabled Pete Cawthon Dead At 62

SHERMAN (AP) — Pete Cawthon, 62, a football coach in the flamboyant tradition of the late great Knute Rockne, died today after a heart attack.

Cawthon, grown rich in oil and other businesses, had ended his coaching days after one of the most storied careers in the game.

Tales of his ability to tongue lash his players into a frenzy were legion. The fact of his Southern drawl removed none of the sting from his bitter orations.

Cawthon was a coach, athletic director, professional scout and professional coach.

The colorful Cawthon was head football coach at Texas Tech from 1930 to 1941, and also had been coach at Austin College here, Rice University, Beaumont, Tex., high school, and Terrell, Tex., prep school.

He was athletic director at the University of Alabama before retiring a few years ago.

In 1942 he coached the Brooklyn team, and later became a professional scout.

His physician, Dr. V. L. Tuck, said Cawthon suffered the heart attack after having just recovered from an attack of infectious hepatitis.

Cawthon's heart stopped beating Sunday and Dr. Tuck, who once played football under Cawthon at Austin College, revived him with an external heart massage.

The physician said a cardiograph Saturday night showed Cawthon's heart in apparent perfect condition, but at 3 a.m. Sunday the attack occurred.

The former coach maintained residences in both Sherman and Tuscaloosa, Ala.

Cawthon was installed in the Texas Sports Hall of Fame last year.

Survivors include the widow and two sons, Kelly Cawthon, a Tyler geologist, and Pete Cawthon, a Houston banker.

Cawthon had retired from sports but kept close connections with his former players, who respected his tough approach to the game.

He was able to tongue-lash his players into frenzied play despite his deep Southern accent.

There was the time he was so disgusted with the play of his Austin College team that he told the regulars they were to stay in the dressing room and his second team would start the last half. The first team got mad, raced out to the field and took over for the kickoff against Cawthon's orders. Austin College won and the Cawthon strategy was victor again.

A small player named Speedy Moffett at Texas Tech missed a tackle and Cawthon pulled him from the game. Moffett didn't want to talk to the glowering coach and went to the end of the bench and covered his head with a blanket. Cawthon followed him and growled, "If I had somebody little enough to wear your uniform I'd take it."

Cawthon admired Knute Rockne of Notre Dame and also Notre Dame football. Once he stormed to his players: "I travels you like Notre Dame and you eats like Notre Dame but you play like Canyon Normal."

In a game against Centenary, a Cawthon team took a terrific battering in the first half.

"The first half you was playing for your school," declared Cawthon at the half. "This second half you'll be playing for your life."

For a time he was an associate coach of the professional Detroit Lions.

Cawthon was a four-sports star in high school and college. He was a native of Austin.

He coached teams in New Year's classics in both the Cotton and Orange Bowls. His 1924 Austin College team defeated two powers of the Southwest Conference.

In his 11 years at Texas Tech, he compiled a record of 79 wins and 27 losses. In 1932 his team was the highest scoring in the nation.

Tigers Face Indians Next

Snyder and Seminole meet here Tuesday in the rubber match of their three - game cage series. Tipoff time is 8 p.m., and that contest will be preceeded by a B game matching the same two schools.

Coach Ned Underwood's Tigers lowered the boom on Seminole in the second round of the Canyon Reef Tournament, 58-45, but the Indians came back to score a decisive 64-44 triumph in a more recent battle played in Seminole. The Tigers will enter the game in hopes of coming up to the .500 mark once again for the season, with their current record reading 5-6.

Both teams tried their hands in last week's Caprock Holiday Tournament held in Lubbock, and both lost out to the two championship finalists, Lubbock Monterey, a team the Tigers met in the opening round, won by a tab of 72-55. Snyder went on to be eliminated by the eventual consolation titlist — Lamesa — by a narrow 49-48.

Seminole had little trouble in its tournament opener against Vernon, gliding to a 65-41 decision, but was felled by Lubbock High in its semi-finals duel, 64-51.

Lubbock High went on to nudge Monterey, 52-48, to unseat the Plainsmen as Caprock Tournament kingpins. The Westerners did it the hard way, too, scoring five points in the final four seconds for the victory.

McAdoo took the small school crown to replace Denver City as reigning tournament champ. Only 15 boys are enrolled in McAdoo High School, and 14 of them make up the basketball squad.

Snyder B has met Seminole B on only one occasion this year, and absorbed a 39-29 thumping at that time. The Tiger juniormen, coached by Bill Hartsfield, stand 4-6 for the campaign, with three of their defeats having been sustained at the hands of varsity teams in the Canyon Reef Tournament.

Following Tuesday's action, both the Snyder varsity and B teams will take a week's layoff from the courts, with their next scheduled encounters being in Vernon January 8.

Wide Open Cotton Clash Forecasted

DALLAS (AP) — Coach Charlie McClendon of Louisiana State predicts a wide open game.

Coach Darrell Royal of Texas says he has no idea but there may be some scoring from fumbles, intercepted passes and blocked punts. This indicates Royal isn't looking for too much offense.

That's the somewhat confused situation on the day before the 27th annual Cotton Bowl football game in which teams with sawtoothed defenses do battle.

Texas' squad, 63 strong, flew in Sunday to complete the picture and start football fever rising. Louisiana State had been here for four days.

While the coaches can't agree on what kind of game it will be, veteran observers are looking for both teams to loosen up on offense especially in the air.

The argument is that since neither team is likely to be able to run much, that they'll have to resort to passing in order to get some scores.

There's another point that causes confusion. While Coach McClendon said he was putting in some new stuff, Royal said he was making no changes.

"My system got us the Southwest Conference championship, an undefeated season and a bowl bid," said Royal. "I see no reason to use anything else."

McClendon indicated that his changes might have to do with the defense. When asked if his defense ever stunted, the Louisiana State coach replied that it seldom ever did but that "stunting is effective when you do so little—it surprises the opposition."

Asked if this could be the "new stuff" he grinned and replied, "it just might be."

McClendon also said he didn't think Louisiana State should be the favorite by two points since Texas was undefeated and ranked higher in the ratings. Royal said he didn't think anybody should be the favorite.

"It's an even game," he explained. "These teams are really well matched."

But there's one thing that appears fairly certain: The weather will be favorable to football. The weather bureau has predicted that temperatures will be in the 50's, it will be partly cloudy and no rain is indicated.

Texas will hold a final workout today. But McClendon said he was sticking to his original plan of passing up a workout the day before a game in favor of a look at films and a report from his quarterbacks on whether they have the strategy fully in mind.

Packers Stave Off Giants For Second Straight Title

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Green Bay did it aain. Only this time it was closer.

Vince Lombardi's Packers did not humiliate the New York Giants Sunday in their 16-7 victory at frigid Yankee Stadium as they had done in their 37-0 rout last New Year's Eve in Green Bay. The net result was the same, though. The Packers still are champions of the National Football League.

The story of the game is told best by the voting for the most valuable player. No Jim Taylor, No Paul Hornung. No. Y. A. Tittle. The award went to Ray Nitschke, the Packers' 6-foot-3, 220-pound ball-hawk who may be the middle linebacker of all-star teams for the next 10 years.

Nitschke recovered a Phil King fumble on the Giants' 28 late in the second period with the Packers holding a perilous 3-0 lead. Two plays later, after a 21-yard pass from Hornung to Boyd Dowlers, Taylor charged headlong into the end zone on a 7-yard burst for Green Bay's only touchdown. Earlier Nitschke deflected a Tittle pass that was intercepted by Dan Currie.

Shortly after the Giants scored their only touchdown when Erich Barnes blocked Max McGee's punt and rookie Jim Collier of Arkansas recovered in the end zone, Nitschke swung into action again in the third period. He pounced on the ball on the Giants' 42 when Sam Horner fumbled a punt. Five plays later, Jerry Kramer kicked the second of his three field goals. The kicks traveled 26, 29 and 30 yards.

"You couldn't throw the long one on a day like this," said Coach Allie Sherman of the Giants whose club won the Eastern Conference title on the passing of Tittle. "Of course, it was the same for them."

It was 20 degrees at game time. The weather soon turned for the worse, dropping down to 17 with a 20-mile-an-hour wind blowing passes, punts, hats, dust and even the Packers bench (unoccupied) across the frozen turf.

The only points the Giants scored were turned in by the defense on the blocked punt by Barnes and the recovery by Collier.

The Giants stopped the first Packer drive in the first quarter and forced Lombardi to settle for a field goal. Then New York started to move with Tittle hitting Del Shofner twice and then King until Currie broke it up with an interception on the 10 and ran it back to the 40.

Although the Packers led all the way, ranging from 3-0 to 10-0, 10-7, 13-7 and finally 16-7, the Giants were in the ball game until Kramer kicked his third field goal with only 1:50 to play.

Willie Wood, the Packers' all-star safety man, was thrown out of the game for striking an official, back judge Tom Kelleher, after he was called for pass interference in the third period. The official said it was an overt act that called for a disqualification. Wood gets an automatic $50 fine.

The championship was the eighth for the Packers and their fifth victory in seven playoffs. They won three in 1929, 1930 and 1932 before the league was split into two divisions. The Giants now have lost four playoffs in a row and have a sad 3-10 record.

Each Packer gets $5,888.57 and each Giant $4,166.85 from the gross gate of $1,243,110, all records.

Reb Runner Passes, Too

By BEN THOMAS

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—A mercury-footed tailback who has an unbeatable passing record — four for four—could play a key role for Mississippi Tuesday when the undefeated Rebels meet Arkansas in the 28th renewal of the Sugar Bowl football classic.

One of Chuck Morris' four passes this season played a vital part in Ole Miss' 15-7 upset of arch rival Louisiana State — the first Rebel triumph over the Tigers since 1957.

The 6-foot-1, 185-pound Morris casually flipped a surprise 18-yard pass to wingback Louis Guy on the LSU 3 and set the stage for a touchdown aerial seconds later by quarterback Glynn Griffing.

Morris, noted more for his running, fired three passes and completed all of them to Guy in the Mississippi State game. The tosses picked up needed yardage in the Rebels' 13-6 victory over the Maroons.

Morris, a senior, was nosed out for rushing honors by Griffing, 277-274.

The 1963 Sugar Bowl matches Arkansas and Ole Miss for the first time in a post-season classic, although the two schools have a long regular season rivalry which ended after the 1961 game.

Three Quads Die

PHILDELPHIA (AP)—The wife of an aerospace engineer gave birth to quadruplets Sunday. Three of them died.

The fourth, a boy was reported in critical condition today.

"We were hot htold together of the deaths," said the father, Alvin Spector, 27. "Of course we were very sad to hear it. There was nothing we could do. The hospital did everything they could. We just had to accept the fact."

The three boys and a girl were the first children born to the Spectors, childhood sweethearts who married two years ago.

SNYDER BUSINESS NEWS

JUST A FEW OF THE VARIOUS MATERIALS which can be coated with the new epoxy Mira-Plate, made by O'Brien Paints, are displayed by W. S. Salmon, owner of Salmon Paint Co. on the Lubbock Highway. Salmon displays a piece of galvanized tin to which the Mira-Plate has bonded without primer or other pre-painting preparation. The smooth Mira-Plate finish on the sink looks exactly like enamel, and the rusty pipe, the plastic toy, and the cinder block all demonstrate the versatility of the new finish handled by the firm.

New 'Mira-Plate' Paint Is Available At Salmon Firm

Changing times bring about the need for new products. One such need was for a paint that would be virtually heat-proof for use on missiles.

Available paints, practically unchanged in basic formula for years, would not do the job. A paint that would do the job was developed by the O'Brien Corporation.

That paint, now marketed under the trade name of "Mira-Plate", and available in Snyder at Salmon Paint Co., hardens by a chemical reaction, rather than by evaporation of the volatile elements as do regular paints. This means that even the dampness of the suface being painted has no effect on the drying qualities of the paint.

The chemical reaction of Mira-Plate actually "bakes itself" to metal, wood, concrete, fiberglass and plastic surfaces. It is proving to be unsurpassed for boats, swimming pools, concrete floors, machinery or wherever ultra toughness and heavy-duty wearability is desired. When used in school buildings, it gets one of its hardest tests, and it is found to be virtually "kid-proof."

The secret of Mira-Plate lies in the fact that it is a two-component coating formed of a pigmented base and a hardener. When intermixed and left to stand for 60 minutes, it is ready for application.

After mixing, Mira-Plate has a pot life of at least eight hours. The resulting epoxy coating dries dust free in just an hour, and can be recoated in six hours.

Mira-Plate can be brushed on, rolled on, or sprayed on. And it can be depended upon to outwear and outlast conventional coating many many times.

Mira-Plate ends the search for an all-purpose marine paint since it bonds to wood, steel, fiberglass or aluminum. For marine usage, it will outlast any other finish.

Mira-Plate is available in seven basic colors, and in hundreds of different tints.

Salmon Paint Co. is proud to offer this outstanding finish. They are happy to help and advise customers on the proper use of it, and to make suggestions about special Mira-Plate applications.

Among others of the O'Brien fine finishes in stock at Salmon Paint Co. is Poise — a top-quality latex wall paint, and matching colors of Liquid-Lite satin enamel. Each can be depended upon for the very best in paint beauty and paint performance.

Another specialty finish by O'Brien available in Snyder at Salmon Paint Co. is their "Super-V" clear coating. Used in the same way as varnish, Super-V clear coating won't "skim over" in the can as varnish does. Water-proof and mar-proof, Super-V is especially good for marine use and for heavy-traffic floors.

Customers of Salmon Paint Co. can depend on getting the right material for the job because of the complete line carried by the firm. And further, they can depend on the expert advice, free and cheerfully given, at Salmon Paint Co. on the Lubbock Highway.

Scientist Raps President's Panel

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The President's Science Advisory Committee has drawn sharp criticism from Dr. James Van Allen, discoverer of the radiation effects of a nuclear test last July.

David Beckler, executive secretary of the committee, answered that "the committee is a highly competent scientific group with a good reputation for hearing all views."

Van Allen's remarks were made Sunday at the closing sessions of the 129th meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

In other developments at the meeting:

A space agency official announced the United States plans to land an expeditionary force of robot detectives on Mars in 1966 to search for life there. He described the ingenious devices being developed or studied to carry out the assignment.

Space doctors weighing the risks stresses and safety factors for the Apollo moon flights expected by 1970 reported there will be no arbitrary retirement age for astronauts flying to the moon. They said this would not be in terms of years but in exposure to penetrating radiation in space.

The Van Allen dispute grew out of a Science Advisory Committee report in August which implied that a nuclear test last July 250 miles above Johnston Island in the Pacific had created an artificial radiation belt that would last long and was stronger than had been predicted.

Evidence from more than a half dozen satellites now passing trough the artificial radiation belts indicates the committee statement was wrong, Van Allen said. He predicted the most durable radiation would last not more than a few years and probably would not be detectable by next summer.

Van Allen, of the State University of Iowa, said the committee had relied almost solely on information obtained by the Telstar satellite lofted right after the blast and had ignored evidence from the Injun satellite.

He accused the committee of being hasty and "government-dominated." He said he felt "exceedingly intimidated" on the occasions he has been before the advisory committee, headed by Dr. Jerone B. Weisner.

Dr. James W. Warwick, radio astronomer of the high-altitude observatory at Boulder, Colo., said his studies made with radio measurements generally agreed with Van Allen's and were "inconsistent" with the government's report.

In New York, Dr. I. I. Rabi, Columbia University physicist and consultant at-large to the committee, said both Van Allen and Warwick "know very well that when evidence is not complete, the results cannot be accurately predicted."

"There are times when practical action must be taken for various reasons," said Rabi. "I recall that Dr. Van Allen was not consulted beforehand, since he seems to be the final authority."

Relations With Poland Uncertain

By GENE KRAMER

WARSAW, Poland (AP)—Relations between the United States and Poland could take a turn for the worse in 1963. The next few days or weeks may set the course.

One indication will be whether Poland pays its annual $4 million installment on $40 million in compensation for American private property nationalized in the Communist takeover.

The third annual payment is due the first week of January. Competent sources say Poland recently warned the United States it may default on the payments because of congresional action last fall affecting Polish exports to America.

The Poles have accused the United States of bad faith because Congress included in the new foreign trade act a clause calling on the President to cancel tariff concessions, known as "most favored nation treatment" now granted Poland and Yugoslavia.

Polish authorities contend U.S. negotiators morally obligated their government to grant Poland "most favored nation" treatment at the time the property claims agreement was worked out in 1959. There is no legal connection, however.

Several congressmen who visited Warsaw recently expressed surprise at hearing U.S. officials talk of such a moral obligation. They said that while the Kennedy administration had opposed cancelling the trade concession for Poland and Yugoslavia, they had not been informed in Washington of any connection with the claims agreement.

Besides commercial trade, Poland is looking to America as a source of wheat, needed particularly because of a bad 1962 harvest. After repeated delay, talks began in Washington in late November on a Polish request for the shipments of surplus wheat on long-term credit. Progress, if any, has not been announced.

Poland owes $425 million for surplus U.S. foodstuffs imported since 1957 on 40-year credit. Officials say repayment, due to start in 1967, depends on opportunities for Poland to earn American dollars.

Polish exports to the United States have been growing steadily since 1960 and now run about $40 million dollars a year. But Polish sources claim orders are leveling off, partly as a result of congressional hostility toward East-West trade and sporadic boycotts by U.S. anti-Communist groups.

Crop failures and other economic troubles have prompted Poland's regime to give more emphasis than ever to boosting exports and conserving hard currency. Any deterioration of U.S.-Polish economic relations thus would be certain to lower the modest degree of American influence with Warsaw.

8 Orphans Set To Begin A New Life

KANNAPOLIS, N.C. (AP)—Eight brothers and sisters begin a new life together today at the Church of God orphanage due to the efforts of a welfare worker, Miss Andrea Triplett.

Another brother, now 10 months old, will join them when he is 2.

On Oct. 7, Abner Avery Bentley, 67, a retired carpenter, and his wife, 40, packed their children into the family truck for a trip over a winding road near Morganton.

Bentley lost control of the vehicle and it rolled down a steep incline. When officers arrived, they found Bentley and his wife dead. The children escaped serious injury.

The children were moved out of their four-room home to the home of an uncle. He was unable to carry the heavy burden and they were scattered to six foster homes in mid-November.

Miss Triplett, 21, the Caldwell County welfare worker who handled the case, found that the Church of God orphanage would accept all the Bentley orphans except 10-month-old Terry Wayne.

"I talked to them as a group. I explained to them this may be the only way they could remain together," Miss Triplett said.

"There were no problems in getting them into the orphanage except for the baby. The orphanage can't take him until he is 2. But he'll join the others then."

Because of welfare regulations, the children were not told where their brothers and sisters were staying. They had no Christmas reunion.

"But they all had a very good Christmas," Miss Triplett said. "Organizations donated clothing and toys. I expect the children had the best Christmas of their lives."

The children are Abner Jr., 14; R. C., 13; Bonnie, 10; Jerry, 9; Darlene, 7; A. B., 6; H. T., 5; Danny Gene, 4, and Terry Wayne.

Hope Peeved Over Delay At Customs

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Bob Hope, somewhat peeved, said today, "The only hardship on our annual Christmas tour was going through customs at Los Angeles International Airport."

The comedian and his troupe of 60, including Lana Turner and Janis Paige, was detained for more than two hours Sunday after arriving on a nonstop air force flight from Guam.

"They went through all our baggage and took a look at each piece of dirty laundry," said Hope. "It's the first time such a thorough search has ever been made of one of our tours."

A customs agent said "it's regulations" as he and colleagues went through the entertainers' baggage piece by piece.

England Has Hopes For Thaw Today

LONDON (AP)—Prospects of a thaw in southern England brought hope of relief today after a weekend of the worst blizzards in memory.

The big freeze spread over much of continental Europe. Rising temperatures in Austria and France brought the danger of avalanches around the crowded ski centers.

Deep snowdrifts brought traffic almost to a standstill in most of southern England. The weather man predicted that a belt of rain moving across the area later today might bring milder weather.

At least five deaths in Britain were attributed to the weather. A man and his wife froze to death in their car buried under a 15-foot snowdrift in a rural spot in Dorset County. The couple's daughter, grandson and another man were rescued unconscious and in critical condition.

Helicopters rescued a number of stranded travelers.

Traffic in and out of main cities was halted completely. Snow lay so deep on some highways that attempts to clear it were abandoned.

Roads linking London with the channel ports of Dover and Folkestone were impassable Sunday.

Snowplows worked all night at London Airport to keep one runway clear.

The blizzards also swept across Ireland, immobilizing road traffic and closing Dublin airport.

Amateur Robbers Labor In Vain

CHICAGO (AP)—"Rankest amateurs I've seen in years," said one city detective.

He was talking about the burglars who used a screwdriver, a sledgehammer, a chisel and an electric drill over the weekend in a bungled attempt to open a 70-year-old safe in a doughnut factory.

Police said the safe was unlocked until the burglars inadvertantly locked it, had the combination written on top, and was empty.

Four Held In Beating

LEESVILLE, La. (AP) — Officers are holding four DeRidder, La., residents—two men and two women—in the beating death of a Waco, Tex., book salesman.

The salesman and father of four, Bobby Jack Commander, 32, was found dead beside a rural highway near this West Central Louisiana town Sunday.

Chief Deputy Sheriff Malcolm Smart said he expects charges will be filed this week.

Commander died of a fractured skull. Vernon Parish Coroner E. H. Byrd said. He also suffered two fractures of the right jaw and numerous other bruises.

Smart said the four have admitted being in a fight with Commander over a car accident that allegedly occurred sometime Saturday night in Leesville, a small town near Ft. Polk.

One of the men, Smart said, told him Commander was still breathing when he was dumped beside State 1211, two miles west of the nearby community of New Llano.

Two motorists discovered the body about 8 a.m. Sunday. The Coroner said Commander had been dead about three hours.

Smart said the four told him Commander was knocked unconscious during a fight at nearby Anococo Lake.

They said, according to Smart, the salesman had been invited to a party after differences concerning the auto accident had been resolved.

Good Groundwork Laid For Robbery

SANTA ROSA, Calif. (AP)—Pharmacist John Swire heard an authoritative voice when he answered the telephone at his drug store.

"This is an agent of the FBI. We have information that your store is going to be held up in a few minutes. We have the place under surveillance and we will arrest the man as soon as he comes out. Co-operate with him in every way so we can get evidence."

A shabbily dressed man walked in a few minutes later and announced that he was staging a holdup.

He took $50 and some narcotics and calmly walked out.

Swire is still waiting for the FBI.

Carbon monoxide causes more deaths annually than any other poison.
