It was announced today by President James Collins. Tickets will be 50 cents.

McCarthy will arrive early in the morning with C. H. Walker, chairman of the Gray county lake board and a director of the Panhandle association, and citizens and will make a trip to Beaver dam, one of the proposed sites for a lake in Gray county.

Guests will be present at the luncheon from surrounding towns and cities.

I Heard...

City Manager C. L. Stine smacking his lips in anticipation of the wild plum jelly he will eat this winter while he stroked out and bleeding hands. The city boss went wild plum picking "on the river" last night and he was mighty successful.

WASHINGTON, July 8 (AP)—The Senate labor committee approved an amended Black-Connery wage and hour bill today. The amendment would permit an administrative board to fix minimum wages no higher than 40 cents an hour and a maximum work week of not less than 40 hours.

The committee voted to strike from the original bill a provision permitting a proposed labor standards board to fix "fair" wages and hours above the level at which collective bargaining was deemed inadequate.

It was this provision to which many spokesmen for industry objected most strenuously. John L. Lewis, chairman of the Committee for Industrial Organization also had opposed it.

The original administrative bill would have defined a minimum "non-oppressive" wage and a maximum "non-oppressive" work week but the labor standards board would have been directed to vary these upward or downward to meet special conditions.

Terms of the bill approved by the committee would give the board power to fix the minimum wage and maximum work week for each industry but the board could not require any industry to pay more than 40 cents an hour or to employ men less than 40 hours a week. No restriction was placed on how low a wage or long a work week the board might establish. This was omitted, informed sources said, at the request of "organized labor."

The bill would not exempt any industry on account of size. Agricultural workers would be specifically exempted.

Also exempted from regulation would be all industries where collective bargaining had established higher standards than those fixed in the bill.

Chairman Black (D-Ala.) said the bill's requirements on minimum wages would prevent the board from fixing minimums below the prevailing rate in the affected community. No wage and hour standards would be fixed except after a hearing.

Prohibition against "oppressive" labor practices, such as espionage and strike breaking, were stricken from the bill. Black said the committee felt those subjects could be dealt with through the Wagner act.

Black later reported the bill to the Senate, shortly after it began all goods manufactured in violation of the proposed law would be barred from interstate commerce.

Intrastate commerce competing with interstate goods would be subject to regulation. Ordinary labor of children under 16 and the hazardous employment of those under 18 would be prohibited. Persons employed in administrative, professional or local retailing capacity, as defined by the board, would be exempted as would seamen, fishermen and railroad employees whose hours of service already are limited.

EIGHT MORE INDICTED IN STRIKE VIOLENCE

CLEVELAND, July 8 (AP)—Republic Steel Corp. reported the last of its strike-closed plants today and the grand jury of Trumbull county Ohio (Warren) returned indictments charging eight men with illegal possession of explosives in connection with strike violence.

The grand jury's action came in the wake of 157 indictments returned earlier this week by inquisitors in adjacent Mahoning county (Youngstown).

Today's indictments were against Gus Hall, deposed CIO organizer, six other men arrested as bombing suspects, and one man whose name was not made public.

1938 AUTO LICENSES TO BE BLACK, WHITE

AUSTIN, July 8 (AP)—Texas passenger automobile licenses will be black and white next year.

The highway commission yesterday decided the colors, specifying a white body with black letters figures and border.

Other combinations included: Commercial—black body and orange trim; farm truck—orange and black; trailer and tractor—light grey and maroon; dealers—ivory and black; buses—maroon and light grey; exempt plates—black and ivory; motorcycles—orange and black; side cars—black and orange.

NEGRO TO DIE

AUSTIN, July 8 (AP)—The Pardon Board ruled today that Ernest McCarty, young Port Worth negro, must die in the electric chair just after midnight for criminal assault on a white woman.

NINE CONVICTS ESCAPE STATE PRISON FARM

WINCHESTERS PLANTED IN FIELDS AT EASTHAM

HUNTSVILLE, July 8 (AP)—Nine convicts broke from Eastham state prison farm today. O. J. S. Ellington, manager of the prison system, was advised. He was informed that one of the men had been recaptured.

The break was made without violence, Ellington was informed, but the fugitives were reported in possession of two Winchester which had been "planted" in the field. The men were members of a "pauldo" gang, a crew of workers around the prison buildings.

J. P. Hamilton was captain in charge. Ellington left here immediately to direct the manhunt.

BOTH JEWS AND ARABS OPPOSE BRITISH PLAN

JERUSALEM, July 8 (AP)—Bitter opposition among the rank and file of both Jews and Arabs toward Britain's proposed "surgical operation" on Palestine was considered by some British circles today as the forerunner of a possible united front of Jews and Arabs.

The British royal commission proposed last night—subject to League of Nations approval—that the Holy land be divided between sovereign Jewish and Arabian states with a new British mandate over the holy cities of Jerusalem, Nazareth and Bethlehem.

Both Arab and Jewish masses were astounded today at the radical solution offered by the British government for their problems. Although many were not yet able to grasp fully what was proposed, it was suggested the age old rivals might embark on an independent attempt to work out their problems around the council table.

Fires Investigated Here by Officials

Visitors in Pampa yesterday afternoon and this morning were James Byrne of Fort Worth, arson investigator of the state fire board, and George Penning of Fort Worth, representative of the national board of underwriters in charge of the state of Texas.

The two officials visited with Fire Chief Ben White and assisted him in investigations of recent fires. They also visited scenes of rural fires and fires in nearby towns.

Smell of Food Whets Appetites At Courthouse

Mmm-mmm-mmm-mmm. ah-hhh-hh-hh!

Almost everyone on the third floor of the Gray county courthouse was hungry this morning.

That was because there was the sweetest aroma of cooking wafting about through the corridors and into the various offices.

Third floor detectives finally made the deduction that the appetizing smell came from the fourth floor where the noonday meal was being prepared for county jail inmates.

Hessey Loses Hat In Potomac; Giblin Of Morse Tries Out For FDR's Guard

Tom Giblin, Eagle Scout of Morse, was chosen by Adobe Walls County Scouts to try out for President Roosevelt's guard of honor in the grand review. He was examined by a Jamboree official, but final decision had not been made when Jim Bob Johnson penned one of his best letters about the Jamboree to The News. Jim Bob also disclosed in his newsy and interesting letter that Jack Hessey lost his hat in the Potomac river.

The letter follows:

JAMBOREE CAMP, Washington, D. C. July 4.—We are having fine weather here now and are having a big time and seeing a lot.

Yesterday afternoon our troop hiked up town and visited the Freer Gallery of Art and two buildings of the Smithsonian Institution. The Freer Gallery, single building, is made of marble and finished inside of the same material. It contains scrolls, crypts, stone carvings and plaques of medieval times as well as paintings of more recent years. Very formal, and containing only a few paintings in each large room,

Planes Search Coral Islands For 2 Flyers

HONOLULU, July 8 (AP)—The United States navy launched its mightiest peacetime air search today for Amelia Earhart, missing round-the-world flier, who officials hope is waiting rescue on a coral reef or sandspit somewhere southeast of lonely Howland island.

The battleship Colorado, cruising south and east of Howland, catapulted its three fighting planes last night to open the aerial phase of the hunt undertaken by boat when Miss Earhart failed to arrive at Howland last Friday on a 2,570-mile flight from New Guinea.

The Colorado's aircraft, vanguard of a fleet of fighting planes being rushed to the area, returned to the battleship after two hours and 20 minutes, to report no trace had been sighted of the missing plane or of Miss Earhart and her navigator, Fred Noonan.

The planes planned to resume their search today at dawn (12:30 p. m. EST), cruising over Winslow reef, 120 miles below the equator and southeast of Howland island.

From the vicinity of Winslow reef the Colorado could catapult her planes into a search of many islands and reefs in the northern Phoenix islands.

Rear Admiral O. G. Murfin, 14th naval district commandant and director of the mass hunt, predicted success or failure of the widespread operation should be determined by mid-afternoon Monday.

Reiterating the belief of many experts here and on the mainland, that Miss Earhart was forced down somewhere in the Phoenix area, Admiral Murfin explained that the entire region could quickly be scanned after the recovery of the powerful aircraft carrier Lexington and its complement of planes. He estimated a thorough search of the islands could be made in about six hours.

The Lexington, cutting across the Pacific at 33 knots, nearly 38 miles an hour, was due here at 8 p. m. (EST). It was to refuel and speed immediately toward Howland more than 1,500 miles southeast, where its aircraft will join the search. Although earlier advised to look for Earhart and Noonan, Admiral Murfin's aide, said he presumed the Lexington had its full complement of 98 planes aboard.

Naval and coastguard authorities, who have closely followed the search from the start, saw in the fruitless hunt north and west of Howland island support for their belief the round-the-world fliers alighted in the Phoenix area.

The coast guard cutter Itasca and navy mine sweeper Swan, acting on the navy's lead for the sake of coordinating the search, contacted the Colorado off Howland yesterday and replenished its sorely depleted supplies of fuel and drinking water. The hunt to the north of Howland was abandoned, at least temporarily, as the cutter joined in the search to southward.

Palmer Gratified.

In San Francisco, George Palmer Putnam, Miss Earhart's husband, expressed gratification over the shift in the search. He has clung consistently to the belief that his wife and Noonan were forced down in the Phoenix area.

What coast guard officials in San Francisco described as one of the most promising developments in the search.

319 Money Orders Written in Day At Postoffice

Much has been heard about new records set lately and yesterday one was set by Mrs. Pauline Thurman, money order clerk at the local postoffice. At least it was a local record and an enviable one.

During an eight-hour period, Mrs. Thurman wrote 319 money orders for an average of one each one and one-half minutes during the day. On each money order she had to accept the application, enter the number and stamp the office and date, fill out the order and receipt and make change.

Never before in the history of the office had 319 money orders been written in one day.

ROOSEVELT'S TAX RETURNS PROBE BARRED

WASHINGTON, July 8 (AP)—The Senate-House committee on tax evasion barred today an investigation of President Roosevelt's tax returns, or tax practices.

The committee agreed, however, to let Representative Fish (R., N. Y.) present any evidence he might have with respect to other members of the Roosevelt family, Secretary Morgenthau and the secretary's father, Henry Morgenthau Sr.

Only after a long argument, did the committee vote to let Fish appear at its session tomorrow.

That vote was said by committee members to have been 7 to 5. Earlier the committee turned down 6 to 5, a motion that Fish be required to present written proof of his charges that the President and members of his personal and official family had used revenue law loopholes for tax reduction purposes.

LINT ACREAGE LARGEST SINCE 'PLOW UP' DRIVE

WASHINGTON, July 8 (AP)—The federal crop reporting board estimated today that cotton acreage this year was largest since 1933 when the federal government staged a "plow up" campaign.

It is estimated cotton in cultivation July 1 aggregated 34,192,000 acres, or 10.4 per cent more than the 30,960,000 acres last year.

Acreage this year was 17.5 per cent less than the average of 41,424,000 acres for the five-year period of 1928-32.

The crop board reported increases in all cotton growing states, with the least expansion in Oklahoma and Texas, with increases of 3 and 7 per cent respectively.

The board said a new extension of the cotton area this season was 1,000 acres reported officially in Nevada for the first time.

Firemen's Training School Recommended

AUSTIN, July 8 (AP)—More than 250 Texas cities can earn a 3 per cent credit on the fire insurance key rate by sending representatives to the annual firemen's training school at Texas A. and M. college July 19 to 23.

Marvin Hall, state fire insurance commissioner, urging fire departments to enroll men in the school, said cities complying with requirements of the general basis schedule and having recognized water works and fire departments would be eligible for the key rate reduction if their representatives completed the course.

Wheat Brings $1.08 Cents Bushel Here

Wheat in Pampa at noon today was bringing $1.08 a bushel with little being received. The grade on that delivered dropped a little because of green suckers and weeds. Unless rain falls, cutting is expected to become more brisk tomorrow or Saturday. It is still wet and light showers in widely scattered areas this morning didn't help any.

Rep Jesse James Seriously Injured

CAMERON, July 8 (AP)—State Representative Jesse James of Cameron, vice chairman of the house revenue and taxation committee, was seriously injured early today when his automobile left the highway about two miles east of Cameron.

He was still unconscious several hours after the accident and the exact nature of his injuries had not been determined. He was alone at the time.

The injured representative was discovered after tourists reported they had seen a wrecked automobile east of Cameron. James' car skidded into a tree after leaving the road and was badly damaged.

Cause of the accident was not known.

Mates Keep Anxious Vigil

As the world waited for word of Amelia Earhart and her navigator, Fred Noonan, lost in the Pacific, the anxiety was keenest of the city of Pampa and scanned incoming teletype reports of the search.

Spanish Waging Bloody Battle

MADRID, July 8 (AP)—Government forces in a new offensive to smash insurgent siege positions on Madrid's western front were reported today to have extended their curving 15-mile salient despite a counter-attack at Brunete.

A column of Gen. Jose Miaja's "Milicianos," which spread through the insurgent line and captured Brunete Tuesday, was said in an official communiqué to have thrown back an insurgent counter drive.

"The enemy was unable to make them lose a single inch of ground," the report said, "but on the contrary they continued to advance, occupying new positions and crossing the Guadarrama river."

HENDAYE, Franco-Spanish frontier, July 8 (AP)—Possibly one of the most decisive battles of the civil war raged today west of Madrid where the Spanish government hurled its army, rejuvenated with fresh troops, against insurgent siege lines.

Generalissimo Francisco Franco's own communiqué called the attack "the most violent drive the enemy has ever attempted." Authorities on both sides agreed its success, or failure, might change the whole picture of the war.

Troops Guard Plant After 2 Are Slain

ALCOA Tenn., July 8 (AP)—Alcoa—owned and named for the Aluminum Company of America—was tense but quiet today under the guns of 300 soldiers called in after two men were killed and 28 hurt in a pitched battle between strikers and company guards.

Henson Klieck, 30-year old striker, and W. M. Hunt, 42, a special officer, died of bullet wounds.

Rep Jesse James Seriously Injured

CAMERON, July 8 (AP)—State Representative Jesse James of Cameron, vice chairman of the house revenue and taxation committee, was seriously injured early today when his automobile left the highway about two miles east of Cameron.

He was still unconscious several hours after the accident and the exact nature of his injuries had not been determined. He was alone at the time.

The injured representative was discovered after tourists reported they had seen a wrecked automobile east of Cameron. James' car skidded into a tree after leaving the road and was badly damaged.

Cause of the accident was not known.

WALLED TOWN DEFENDED BY CHINESE ARMY

REAL BULLETS USED BY ATTACKERS IN SHAM BATTLE

PEIPING, China, July 8 (AP)—Chinese troops, ignoring a Japanese demand that they give up their arms and surrender, bitterly fought a Japanese drive on the little walled city of Wanpinghsien today, manning its old battlements with machine guns and rifles.

Five hundred troops were rushed to the walls, while an additional 1,500 Chinese soldiers hastily erected defense across the Yingting river along a southern line paralleling the Peiping-Hankow railway to Changhsien, four miles to the southwest.

The fighting broke out in the western suburbs of this ancient dragon capital of China between Japanese forces and the Chinese General Sun Chieh-Yuan's 29th army after a midnight skirmish between troops conducting secret night maneuvers. It continued tonight.

Japanese soldiers seized a portion of the railroad southward from Peiping, Hankow.

Japanese kept up a steady artillery fire for more than an hour in the vicinity of the marble bridge of Marco Polo, 10 miles west of Peiping, and then returned to rifle sniping at the Chinese defenders.

The Chinese dead lay under the Marco Polo bridge which the Japanese at one point in the fight were reported to have captured. Sixty other Chinese were reported wounded. One Japanese was killed and one wounded.

100,000 Troops Ready

There were unconfirmed reports that the Chinese had concentrated more than 100,000 troops in the Peiping area in the last month preparatory to resisting an expected Japanese attack.

Chinese police and soldiers declared the fighting, which started about 11 o'clock last night, came after Japanese troops, engaged in war games and supposedly making a sham attack against the Marco Polo bridge and the city of Wanpinghsien, suddenly stopped using blank cartridges and loaded their rifles with real bullets.

Soldiers of the Chinese army said the fighting broke out about midnight when night-manoeuvring Japanese troops attempted to capture the marble bridge across the Yingting river. After a brief skirmish there, the Chinese withdrew into Wanpinghsien, which the Japanese brought under artillery fire at dawn.

Japanese sources denied Wanpinghsien had been bombarded and accused the Chinese of starting the trouble. Japan maintains a garrison of some 7,000 troops in the Peiping-Tientsin area of north China under its interpretation of the Boxer protocol of 1901, under which the Chinese Empire gave the principal foreign powers the right to use troops to keep the route open between Peiping and the sea.

Major Takeo Imai, assistant Japanese military attaché, said Chinese troops had fired on maneuvering Japanese troops at 11 p. m. Wednesday. He added the Japanese halted their maneuvers and concentrated to await developments at midnight.

At 5 a. m., he continued, the Chinese again opened fire and the Japanese were forced to take self-defense measures.

The outbreak of hostilities, signaling a new and grave rupture in Sino-Japanese relations, was rapidly isolating both Peiping and Tientsin, headquarters of the Japanese military command in North China, 90 miles to the southeast.

Peiping Gates Closed

Gates of Peiping were closed and martial law was reported ordered. Heavy details of soldiers and police patrolled the streets.

Fighting between Chinese and Japanese troops continued for possession of strategic bridges to the west of the city.

(In Shanghai, a Japanese spokesman was quoted by the Domei, Japanese news agency, as saying the Chinese troops would be "wiped out" unless they were immediately disarmed.)

(The Japanese ambassador to China, Shigeru Kawagoe, was reported en route to Peiping for a "diplomatic mission.")

YOUR CHILDREN

College in the fall? Which one shall it be, now that Jim is out of high school, and Mary has hung up her commencement dress and framed her class picture?

The chances are that it is all settled, for today the plan is not to wait until the valedictory has been given, before going into the further detail of college, but rather to prepare for a definite place, during the senior year, and get all the credits and units in shape. Each college has its own special requirements for entrance, especially the big dozen that put up the stiff wall of "college boards."

However, it is not always thus, and some students enroll in college or university as late as August, when they discover that Uncle Mack has changed his mind about the country having a surplus of educated men and women who cannot find jobs.

Whatever the reason, it doesn't matter. Is John going to college? And are the seasons still open to family vote? If so, can anyone get in? And may I have the floor for a moment? I do not wish to interfere, but there are a few wayside signs that would lead me to you, to ask I have been along the road and gone through it all. My errors and successes may be of some service.

Consider Subjects Well. Large colleges and universities are excellent, but they are not the magic of name, discourage you from looking into the smaller ones that may be nearer, less expensive, and more suited to your finances. And don't let the name "denominational" school influence you against it. Most of these are indeed splendid, and not "godly-goddy," but earnest, high-class places.

Make at least a rough outline of subjects to be studied with some direction toward a definite end. If you merely look for general culture, then subjects may be elected almost at random, but even so, one "major" may be the most important factor of later success in the student's life.

Co-educational schools are good for some and not for others. If John has fooled his time away with girls in high school, and needs to get down to brass tacks now, think it over well. The same with Mary or Myrtle. By the same token, if they need more social life and the mixed influence of both girls and men, put up with their reach. For the level-headed who can take it or leave it, that's fine. Any choice is right.

Working Way Depends on Student. Shall John work his way through? This depends. Not if he is not strong or is carrying a heavy load of classes. He needs plenty of sleep, can't work and study, too. But if he is able—yes.

If possible, get into the car, go and see a few of these schools and talk to the dean. Never buy a pig in a poke. And if you fear a two-trial school, that quarrels with your democratic ideas, why make yourself uneasy? You have a right to have some say-so in your child's future convictions. It is your money, after all, and John is your son.

Remember there are courses in agriculture, forestry, the varied sciences and engineering of many kinds. The trained man of the future won't hesitate to get dirt or oil on his hands. Playwriting and authorship are splendid for vocations, but experience of real life is their soul. Something hard and fast should be learned as well. Think well. Plan and know what you are paying your money for. Never was time better spent.

STUNT FLIGHTS SCORED
WASHINGTON, July 8 (AP)—Secretary Roper frowned today on "stunt" flights, saying the commerce department hereafter will make certain that long distance fliers have taken adequate safety precautions before permits are granted. He did not mention the Earhart-Noonan trip.

Tea was introduced into Europe by Spanish traders in 1528.

Marlene at Her Bath—Barred by Film 'Czar'

With trousers or soapuds, Marlene Dietrich manages to keep her noted legs pretty well out of the public view. But that, along with the help of censorship from the office of Will Hays, movie "czar," may be part of the secret of their fame. For instance, here is Marlene, neck-deep in lather in a scene from the film, "Knight Without Arms." Little of the legs are showing, but the Hays office disapproved, and not only cut much of the film sequence, but banned release of the stills by American distributors. This still came from London, where the movie was made. As for Marlene herself, the greatest inconvenience of it all was the bath itself, as rehearsals, takes and retakes stretched her soapy immersion out for hours.

LABOR TAKES STEEL FIGHT INTO COURTS

CLEVELAND, July 8 (AP)—"Little Steel's" dispute with organized labor was largely a legal fight today as Republic Steel Corp. reopened the last of its strike closed mills.

Steel and Tubes, Inc. employing normally about 500 men and smallest of Republic's four Cleveland units, was opened to workers while police and Ohio national guardsmen formed a protective circle at the mill, near Lake Erie on the city's far northeast side.

The other three Republic plants here resumed operations Tuesday.

Lee Pressman, general counsel for John L. Lewis' Committee for Industrial Organization, came to Cleveland from Pittsburgh to confer on pending court proceedings. He expected to go to Columbus, state capital, for a hearing tomorrow in federal district court on a suit to force withdrawal of national guardsmen from Ohio strike centers.

Pressman announced he had filed a complaint with the national labor relations board which charged Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co. "has imported a great number of armed thugs and gunmen . . . for the purpose of interfering with the right of peaceful picketing and . . . intimidating the strikers."

CIO attorneys asked an injunction at Youngstown to restrain enforcement of Sheriff Ralph Elser's proclamation limiting pickets to 10 at each steel plant.

Brig. Gen. William A. Marlin, in charge of national guardsmen at Canton, O., when strike disorders occurred July 2, was made defendant in a $10,000 damage suit filed at

MAE WEST ADMITS SHE WED FRANK WALLACE

L.S. ANGELES, July 8 (AP)—A statement by Mae West that she was married 26 years ago in the old Milwaukee Wis. courthouse to Frank Wallace, New York song-and-dance man, was contained in a court decision on file with the county clerk today.

The marriage of the pair, often publicly denied by Miss West until late yesterday, was admitted in the answer of the actress to Wallace's suit filed under the California civil statutes seeking court compulsion that she recognize him as her husband.

But if Wallace expects to share in the hundreds of thousands of dollars Miss West has earned since the marriage, it was indicated he will find Miss West opposed to him. Her answer contains the statement they never lived together as man and wife.

HEAT WAVE CAUSES 17 DEATHS IN MID WEST

CHICAGO, July 8 (AP)—Rising temperatures today wiped out hopes for immediate relief from the heat wave which blanketed the middle west and north Atlantic states, causing at least 17 deaths.

The mercury, after a normal drop during the night, pushed into the nineties again under the impetus of a broiling sun and hot winds from the western plains.

The weather bureau at Washington predicted the wilting weather would continue through Friday.

Phillipsburg, Kas., recording 106 degrees, was the nation's hot spot on the official weather map yesterday.

California values its system of 70 state parks at $14,744,008.

'ROAMIN' HOLIDAY'

England's practice of observing all legal holidays on Monday may be adopted in the United States, under a bill submitted by Senator Edwin C. Johnson (Dem., Colo.), Memorial Day and the Fourth of July, observed on Monday this year, provide a little sample of what to expect.

The obvious advantages include a two-day week-end, extra sleeping time bigger and better picnics, more visitors and more visiting, longer strings of fish and double the rounds of golf.

But, lurking in the background are some disadvantages. The extra sleep won't quite offset the later hours; the visitors may be the last you hoped to see; dish breakage, flat tires and mosquito bites will be multiplied by two on outings, and washday and the time clock will still be on hand when Tuesday rolls around.

All in all, when the marathon is over, the old job may look like a long-lost friend. But if the two-day holiday is made permanent by law, there will be little to do but take it and like it.

CAREERS IN AVIATION

Air gliding, subsidized heavily in Europe, has reached enormous proportions there as compared with free-lance development in the United States. Germany has an estimated 50,000 glider pilots as against a mere 500 holding licenses in this country.

On the occasion of the annual gliding and soaring meet at Elmira, N. Y., an aeronautics association official used this comparison to emphasize the importance of developing, through glider training, a larger force of flyers, to be available to this country for future national defense.

This, it seems, is attacking the problem from the wrong angle. There are enough legitimate peacetime opportunities in flying to make it attractive to the average promising youngster looking for a career. Besides, too many young Americans have become keenly aware that there is no real future in war.

THE FAMILY SPOKESMAN

When Leda Arlen, 19 and unmarried, announced in New York the other day that she had pledged not to have a baby until the last threat of war is banished, she did more good than provide a peace league with good publicity.

She dramatized, perhaps unwittingly, the futility of having a few legal minds try to settle the problems of the human race by shifting warships and armies on the international chessboard.

Miss Arlen's example stands as a sharp reminder to diplomats and politicians that the family still is the basic unit of civilization, and should be consulted whether the question involves cannon fodder or the price of pork chops.

Incidentally, herein is a hint that if women ever decide to organize a fight for "family rights," they have a mighty telling club to swing as they stroll the picket line.

WASHINGTON LETTER

By KIRKE SIMPSON

WASHINGTON—Elderly justices of the Supreme Court who are roving in summer pastures would find small solace if they examined the proposed amendments affecting the court which are before the senate judiciary committee. Pending further developments, the committee is committed to whitening out of that material a plan of its own which might become an element of performance in the court controversy.

Many senators have tried to doctor the constitutions in regard to the court. The one thing in which they seemed agreed is that justices ought to retire at 70 and should be retired arbitrarily at 75 or so. That idea runs through the Andrews, McAdoo, and even the Burke amendments.

And Burke, be it noted, is the fiery mainsteam, more or less, of Democratic resistance to the President's court plan. The Nebraska would seem to agree with the President, for all his opposition, at least on the notion that, by and large, justices in their 70's are a doubtful blessing.

It has been expected in the press gallery right along that a court constitutional amendment of some sort would be submitted by congress to the states this session, regardless of what congress did about the President's bill. The best guess is that it will take the 70-75 retirement form. Debate during passage of the voluntary 70-year retirement act clearly showed the temper of congress on that point.

True, submission of such an amendment would be a long way from its incorporation into the constitution, if ever. President Roosevelt might not have an opportunity to name high justices under such an amendment unless he served a third term—or more.

Quite likely a 7-year period for ratification will be attached. It is more or less the rule nowadays with submitted amendments.

Assuming that a 70-75 court retirement

TEX'S TOPICS

It's strange, but almost everyone has the idea that we are wrong about Amelia Earhart being found alive when all the time the chances of this being true are only one in a million. . . Suffice it to say, that we just put a world of confidence in the old crystal ball and let it go at that. . . The ball hasn't let us down in a long time. . . These are days, so hot and stuff, that ambition flies out the window every time you open it. . . Or does it affect you that way?

We don't get around very much. . . So we wouldn't know what some people are talking about half of the time. . . Of course, it isn't their fault that we don't get around. . . The Boy Wonder out at the house has reached the stage now where he gets almost as much food in his mouth as he does in his lap. . . And this rare accomplishment makes his mother very proud. . . Now that the all-star ball game is history, Spain and John L. Lewis will return to their regular positions on Page One.

That trial over at Stinnett in which they are trying to determine who stuffed the ballot box, if any, reminds one a lot of the six day bicycle races. . . They just go 'round and 'round until the spectators get dizzy. . . and at no time can you tell just who is really winning. . . This is the time of the year when you've got to keep the irrigation system running full blast 24 hours a day or the lawn soon will look like a day before yesterday's fried egg. . . That reminds us that something is radically wrong this year. . . Nobody has reported frying an egg on the pavement.

Getting back to the crystal ball again—we can tell you now that Joe Louis will lick Tommy Farr, and that later on Max Schmeling will paste Louis to a fare-you-well. . . Louis' handlers are too smart to pit him against Schmeling until the black champion has collected some easy dough from the general run of push-overs. . . Even Maxie Baer is likely to be among the latter. . . It seems there has been too much ado over England's Order of the Garter, when it's usefulness is limited now merely to keeping up appearances. . . An inventor has brought out a telescoping necktie expected to be most convenient for slapstick comedians planning a television comeback.

The golfing marathon season is in again with the story of a man who played 300 holes before going to the office to relax. . . Careless drivers who habitually are hitting telephone poles have compensations. They might, sportsmanlike, insist on moving targets. . . Stalin's hardest job, now that his men are actually living at the North Pole, will be to get that story across about Santa Claus. . . In some dry parts of Chile, inhabitants recall but one or two showers in a lifetime. . . And then, probably, there was no hot water.

The first U. S. settlers reached Texas in 1822, and little did they know they were breaking ground for one of Billy Rose's greatest spectacles. . . Nature's hint to hill-billy troubadours: Coyotes never meet twice in the same place to yelp their weird songs. . . This time are preferred by camels, probably on the theory that for desert journeys it's best to eat something that will stick to the ribs. . . An elephant's trunk contains 40,000 muscles, with an estimated peanut power of two dozen nickel bags a performance.

To assist in ridding the country of cockle-burrs, Australia is importing a tiny black beetle from Texas, while ant-eaters from South America are imported to rid Texas lands of ants. . . It costs the Canadian government about 1 cent a letter to deliver mail by air into remote sections of the country where dog teams, canoes, and river steamers formerly carried it. . . Berths on trains are made up with pillows toward the engine so that passengers will suffer less from draft by sleeping with the head in that direction; also, the face and shoulders are better protected from dust and cinders.

amendment should be quickly approved by the states if submitted this year a curious upshot of the fuss over the court would develop. If it went into the constitution in 1938, it would affect only Chief Justice Hughes and Justice Brandeis, both now more than 75. Neither can be regarded as wholly antagonistic to Roosevelt constitutional conceptions; quite the contrary in the general view.

If an amendment became effective in 1939 it would be different. Both Justices McReynolds and Sutherland would fall under its 75-year compulsory retirement provision. They have been again in the White House right down the constitutional cleavage line.

It may make no difference anyhow. For whispers are going around that those two justices will retire before next term anyway.

Man About Manhattan

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—There is a pharmacist on Lexington Avenue whose daily chores provide one of New York's most fascinating entertainments. A glassed-in circle has been cut thru his wall, and behind the pane is a display of drugs that leaves anyone who doesn't understand chemistry confused and confounded.

All day the pharmacist prowls amongst his tinctures and elixirs, his aquas and acids.

Being in a noisy mood, I stuck my head through the door: "What's in that blue bottle?"

"There is no blue bottle," he answered. "The bottle is just like ordinary glass—it's the water that's blue. It's an aqua used for flavoring."

"And those things—there?" In this row are poisons and their antidotes. Here is a drachm of bromide. Don't touch that bottle of sulphuric acid. You might get a burn."

His name was Sam. There was a gathering, as usual, starting at Sam and his hundreds of blue and yellow and black, red, green, purple and rose-colored bottles.

"Don't you ever make a mistake? I mean, get the wrong ingredients in some of these concoctions?"

"No," said Sam. "When you make mistakes in this business, people die. We can't afford to have such things happen."

It was hot. Twenty feet away was a fountain.

"Let's have a soda," he suggested, laying down whatever that greenish stuff was.

We ambled up to the fountain. "You go ahead and have one. I'm not thirsty."

Sam looked up suspiciously. "I know what's on your mind. Didn't I tell you we didn't make mistakes around here?"

"Well, if you're sure there won't be any H-2-S-O-4 in it, I'll have one. Make it strawberry."

No mistake was made. Afterward I strolled outside and joined the mob watching the rows of little coral, pigeon-blood, lavender, jade, bay, and russet bottles. There was even a bottle of cod liver oil, compounded medicines, tanning acids, and blending his sulphurs and phosphates.

It's something to see. Waterfront: An ominous, long, snaky craft is nudged into a 47th street pier. A white cylinder of bored steel thrusts its nose out, forward. . . She's a French gunboat, and she's been in dock for two weeks. . . That white cylinder is a long-range gun. . . It could bore holes through every brick wall in Manhattan. . . Passengers pause to entertain the strange craft. . . Pedestrians make life unhappy for the cops, ganging up to have a peek. . . Everybody seems excited except the French, themselves. . . There isn't a single sailor in sight.

People You Know

By ARCHER FULLINGIM

One of the letters said "Last night there were a million stars out and after everybody had gone to bed I went out and watched them fall and thought, 'And another letter said, 'Why don't you write something about the stars?'"

I will write a poem about the stars without figures; because there are no words to describe them. I will say that the stars are pictured best in the songs of night birds. They cannot be likened to anything upon the earth because they never change. They are not like diamonds of a king set in a purple cushion, for the range of such jewels do not flash in darkness. Night skies give no hint of a canopy of flaming worlds because one must confess watchers forget earth and peace comes lightly, and lastly they do not bring bright wonder, but happiness as calm as low thunder.

AROUND HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD—Most memorable of World War films was "All Quiet on the Western Front." Its sequel by Erich Maria Remarque, now completed for the screen, is "The Road Back."

The picture, like the war-shattered German youths who seek the road back to a foothold in reality, never quite gets there. James Whale's production is magnificent in theme, in photography, in mob action. And on the whole it is a disappointment.

The film begins in the trenches on Armistice day, where "All Quiet" ended. The soldiers, little more than boys when they went to war, return home to find Germany in revolution, their elders still mouthing the conventional phrases of glory and patriotism, and their sweethearts changed. Life has gone on at home while for the boys it has stood still.

Shoots Munitions Maker

Out of their homecomings dramatically poignant moments arise, and the film has many of these—but is related, not on any trail to a dramatic climax. Such climax as there is comes from the shooting of a munitions profiteer by one of the boys (Maurice Murphy) who finds his sweetheart has been stolen. At the trial the soldiers plead that the killer has murdered many men he had no cause to hate—why should he not kill the man who has ruined his life?

The film, far from finding the road to "All Quiet's" power and importance, skirts the broad highway and makes its time in the hypnosis of comedy relief, evasion, and philosophic discussion of the futility and foolishness of war. It treats the German revolution in comic opera style, for the most part, and the prominence of comedy—supplied mainly by Slim Summerville, Andy Devine and Louie Fazenda—suggests to a confession of the futility of making pictures about the futility of war when things are as they are.

The dramatic leads are Murphy, John King (new to features, handsome and promising) and Richard Cromwell.

Refuses $250 Raise

You have to know an actor's financial mathematics before you decide he's daffy for turning down a $250-a-week raise. . . James Burke, the Irish cop of "Dead End," could have had one but said "No." . . Wants to wait until he's "really

How's Your Health?

Edited by DR. LAO GILDSTON for the New York Academy of Medicine

Early Morning Exercise

To the tune of a radio and the beaming voice of the "exercise man," some men of 50 and over jump out of bed upon waking and go through a routine of contortions good for the young man, but rather hazardous to those whose arteries are something of an unknown quantity.

These early morning exercises of 50 and over were discussed by Dr. Maurice Boigey recently before the Paris Academy of Medicine. He advises them to rise more leisurely.

During sleep, blood pressure is lowered, the pulse is slowed and there is a general sluggishness of the blood. At the moment of awakening there is a rise in blood pressure. To allow the body to adjust itself to the higher blood tone, Dr. Boigey advises 20 minutes of post-waking rest in bed. Then the individual should rise and put on a bathrobe or other suitable covering to avoid being chilled. He may then proceed with his morning exercises.

These should include various movements of the head, neck, shoulders, arms and legs. The exercise should be gentle and slow. All of these exercises, Dr. Boigey urges, should be taken in the vertical, not the horizontal, position.

He particularly disavows that form of exercise in which the individual lies down and draws his thighs and legs against his abdomen. Physiologic studies have shown that this type of exercises causes an increased blood tension in the cerebral arteries and in the presence of pathologic changes may induce a cerebral accident.

Dr. Boigey also disapproves exercises which bring the head below the waist line. Such movements have a congestive effect on the brain.

The doctor suggests that those over 50 should take their settling up exercise between 4 and 8 p. m. He reasons that at this time of the day the older individual's organic temperature, muscular strength and general vitality are at their best. Incidentally, exercise during these hours might also be advised for sedentary workers.

worth it." . . If he takes it now, he figures, he won't work so often, but will make less. . . Burke defined the height of bad taste as being an actor flourishing a script in the Masqueurs' club. . . That's where, in the jokes, all the unemployed actors hang out. . .

Another cleric on the film horizon now, besides Swanson and Dickson. . . This one's Youngblood, one-time model, and part Indian. . . Gary Cooper looks twice as tall in his "Marco Polo" boots. . . Roland Young has a new Roach contract and must report for work in four months. . . In that time all he has to do is finish a film with Eddie Cantor, make a picture in England, and get back to Hollywood. . .

Ronald Reagan, the sports commentator turned movie actor, is wondering about his nickname "Dutch." Doesn't know whether to drop it now that he's in pictures. Figures it won't make any difference around Des Moines, anyway.

APPROPRIATIONS FOR FLOOD CONTROL URGED

WASHINGTON, July 8 (AP)—Congress received recommendations today for flood control appropriations that may reopen the dispute over earmarking the $1,500,000,000 relief fund.

A Senate-House committee report on the bill appropriating $194,000,000 for the war department's civil functions proposed that $52,500,000 of relief funds be devoted to flood control measures along the Mississippi and other rivers.

It advocated also a direct appropriation of the same amount.

Chairman Copeland (D-NY) of the Senate portion of the committee, said the proposal was unusual, as it in effect would alter the relief program after its approval.

Other senators said privately they believed President Roosevelt would veto the appropriation measure because of the size of the flood control projects.

If some of the projects are financed by relief funds, army engineers said they cannot determine which items will be undertaken until they determine the availability of relief labor.

CROP INSURANCE WILL COST WHEAT FARMERS

WASHINGTON, July 8 (AP)—Congressmen learned today proposed government crop insurance would cost the nation's wheat farmers from about one to 35 per cent of their average yields in the form of premiums.

The House committee has under consideration the Senate approved Pope (D-Iowa) wheat crop insurance bill already passed by the Senate. Farmers would pay premiums in the form of grain, to be stored for release as indemnities for losses.

Indemnities would range up to 75 per cent of average yields. The agriculture department reported it had established rates for each of 1,600 wheat counties in the United States.

The sample rates per acre, on the basis of 75 per cent coverage of average yield in a number of counties were given as follows:

Oklahoma—Beaver, 2.3 bushels; Blaine, 5; Kiowa, 8. Texas—Hereford, 1.7 bushels; Potter, 2.2; Carson, 1.7; Floyd, 9.

RAIN AND HAIL RUIN COLLIN COUNTY CROPS

McKINNEY, July 8, (AP)—A severe rain and hailstorm destroyed farm crops yesterday between Anna and Westminster in northeast Collin county. The disturbance cut a swath about four miles long and two miles wide.

Cotton was stripped, halibuts pounding bells into the water-soaked ground. Corn stalks were beaten to shreds. Gardens were ruined. Wind ripped the roofs off several barns and other farm buildings. Remains of shade trees littered farm yards.

D. E. Green, farmer, picked up several dead rabbits in his cotton patch.

Peck Lewis Facing Statutory Charge

C. E. (Peck) Lewis, city street department employee, was under $1,500 bond today awaiting action of the county grand jury on a statutory charge brought against him by a Pampa woman yesterday afternoon.

Lewis was arrested by sheriff's officers after the complaint had been lodged against him by the woman through the county attorney's office.

PETROLEUM CONDITIONS CALLED BEST IN YEARS

AUSTIN, July 8 (AP)—Ernest O. Thompson, chairman of the Interstate Oil compact commission, said today conditions in the petroleum industry throughout the world were the best in years.

Thompson had returned from Paris, France, where, as a delegate from the United States, he attended the world oil congress.

Although general conditions were excellent, he said many refineries were not up to the best standards and that branch of the industry would soon witness many improvements.

He also expressed the opinion the United States was due to get more of the world market for petroleum because of more dependable sources of supply and a higher grade of crude.

With other representatives of Texas, Thompson will attend a meeting of the compact commission in Santa Fe, New Mexico, Monday and Tuesday, a highlight of which will be a report by the federal bureau of mines on oil in storage.

"This survey, made at the request of the commission and by congressional appropriation of $56,000, is the first authentic check-up on crude in storage," he said. "I hope it will become an annual event."

Thompson scouted reports Capt. E. N. Stanley, chief enforcement officer for the Texas railroad commission, would resign.

BYBEE NOT BLAMED FOR STATION SLAYING

DALLAS, July 8 (AP)—City and county officers today abandoned the theory that W. H. "Hilton" Bybee, fugitive from Eastman farm, was responsible for the slaying of Samuel Lester Neilson, 51, at Neilson's filling station Tuesday. Money on Neilson's person and in the cash register was not disturbed. "Bybee wouldn't have killed a man and gone off without taking what money was available," Prison Warden W. W. Wade was quoted as having told Sheriff Smoot Schmidt.

The "dust bowl," as defined by government agencies, consists of a 90,779,555-acre expanse in Oklahoma, Texas, Kansas, Colorado, and New Mexico.

TOOK VAN-TAGE AND FEELS LIKE A "NEW PERSON"

Had Gassy Stomach; System Badly Rattled; Another Western Lady Tells How Van-Tage Relieved Years of Misery; She Says It Is Wonderful!

Some of the Best-Known People of This Section are now coming forward daily with Remarkable Statements, praising and endorsing VAN-TAGE, which is the Amazing New Medicine now being introduced to the local public at the Cretney Drug Store next to the LaNora Theatre.

MRS. CARRIE C. HAYWOOD

For instance, just a few days ago Mrs. Carrie C. Haywood, of 501 Empire Bldg., Denver, Colo., made the following statement describing the Great Relief she got from Van-Tage and recommending it to ALL WHO SUFFER.

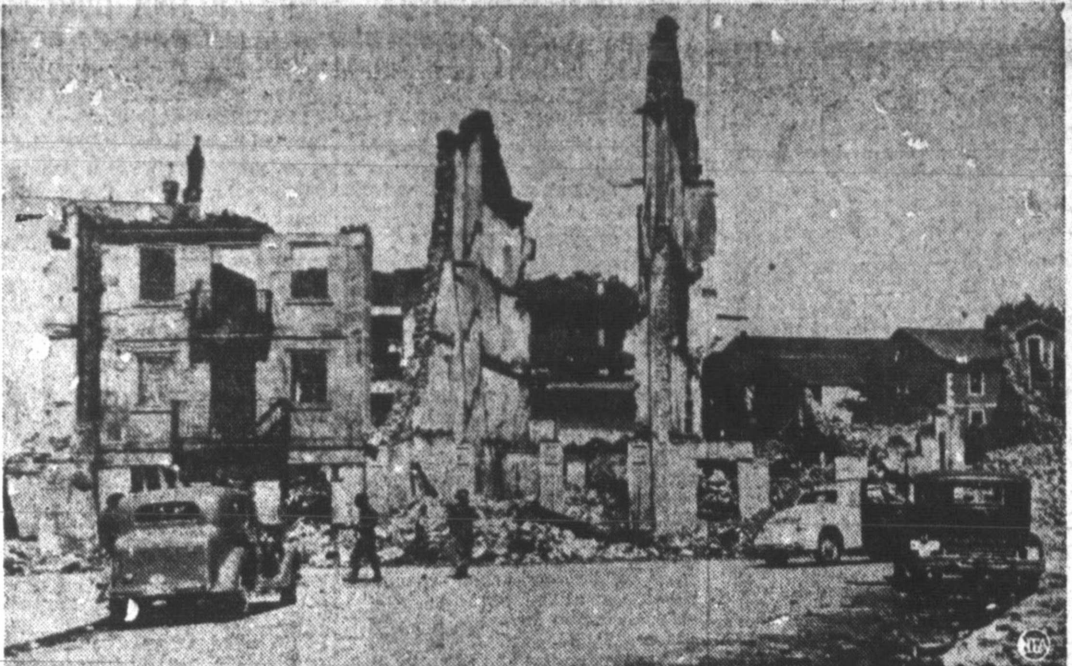

Tired, Rundown Due to Years of Suffering

"It seemed like my whole system had gotten into an awful rundown condition caused by gassy, upset stomach. My food just REFUSED to digest properly. I felt tired out and didn't seem to have enough energy to keep going. I hadn't been able to get relief no matter what I did. Then I heard about Van-Tage and started taking it, and it has made such a change in my stomach and system that I'm like a NEW PERSON! Now I can eat my meals with real enjoyment, and I don't have that awful tight feeling in my stomach like I did, because Van-Tage has cleared away the gas that caused this suffering. My strength and energy are increased. I am happy to pass on the good word about Van-Tage, and I hope my statement will help others who are in misery like I was."

Acts on Bowels, Stomach, and Kidneys

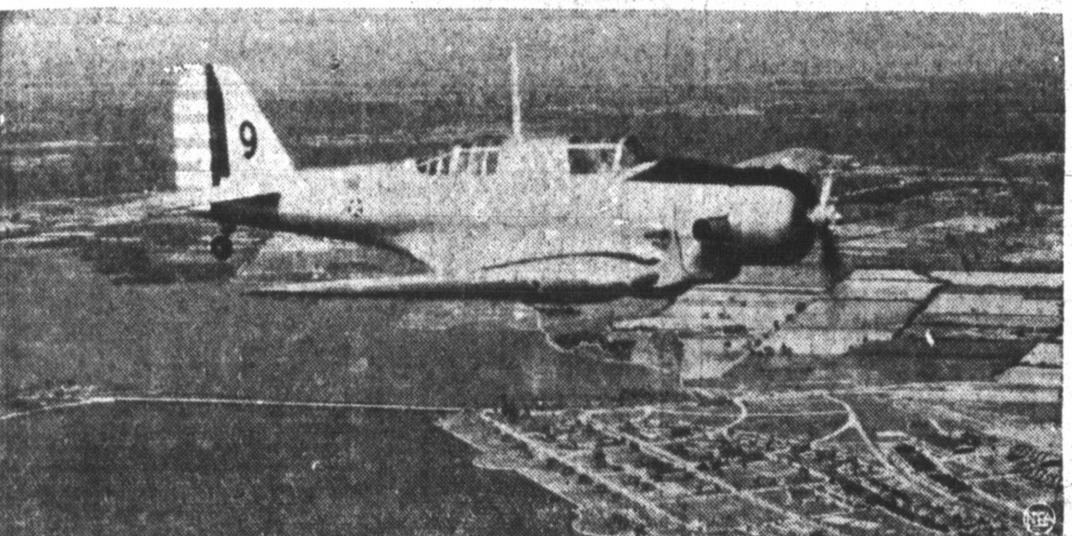

VAN-TAGE helps invigorate bowel, stomach and kidney action. Its 21 Great Herbs and Other Splendid Medicinal Agents (over 20 Ingredients in all) have a surprising effect on suffering people. Another thing—due to the immense volume in which it sells, the price of Van-Tage is reasonable. So, don't hesitate. Get it—TODAY at the Cretney Drug Store, next to LaNora Theatre.

What Victors Found in Bilbao—Hollow Shell of a City

This picture of destruction in Bilbao gives an idea of what the victorious rebel armies in Spain found when they captured the long impregnable Basque capital—block after block of buildings demolished by the intensive aerial and artillery bombardment that marked the cruelest siege in the history of warfare. Retreating Basque anarchists added to the havoc with dynamite and fire, intent on leaving only a hollow shell for the city's conquerors.

way of amateur radio messages was reported last night from Conrad, Montana.

Ray Havens, Conrad creamery worker, phoned the Great Falls Tribune that at 10:40 p. m. (MST) (12:30 a. m. Thursday, EST) he heard a man's voice giving a position and saying "all's well."

A few minutes later, he said, he picked up a second message, which he gave as follows:

"Position 173 west longitude and 5 south latitude."

Luke Wright of the Tribune editorial staff immediately tuned in at his set on 3105 kilocycles, and reported he heard a voice, presumably a man's, but could not distinguish the words.

Receives Odd Telegram. The position reported by Havens is near Hull Island, one of the Phoenix group.

Putnam, snatching only a moment's rest at infrequent intervals, kept a constant vigil at San Francisco for definite word concerning his wife.

He disclosed without comment yesterday receipt of an oddly-phrased telegram from Washington bearing the name of George T. Huxford and declared Miss Earhart "will be rescued alive."

The telegram read: "Amelia landed exhausted in a small boat on a small reef 50 miles west southwest of Howland. She has a weak portable radio, food and water, hardly strength to use them. She will be rescued alive and taken to a ship, probably Japanese, and you will have official confirmation tomorrow. Noonan not with her. The Japanese aircraft carrier Kamo and the Japanese survey ship Kookoku were cooperating in the search, combating the vicinity of the Marshall Islands, 600 miles northwest of Howland. They have not been heard from since they joined the search Tuesday."

survey of North China. Chinese officials at Nanking, seat of the central Chinese government, professed to see a connection between his trip and the present hostilities.

Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek, China's strong man, and other high ranking authorities were spending the summer at Kuling, near Kihuang, and no official in Nanking was authorized to deal with the situation.

A semi-official Chinese version of the fighting said that after the first skirmish between the night-manuevering troops, a temporary truce permitting discussions of the incident had been effected, and talks were under way when the Japanese rushed a large contingent of troops from their base at Fengtai to the vicinity of the Marco Polo bridge.

64 WRECKERS EXECUTED

MOSCOW, July 8 (AP)—A consular report from Khabarovsk, Siberia, to the Japanese embassy here today said 64 more alleged wreckers of Soviet railways had been executed at Svoboda in the Far East. A total of 274 known wreckers now have been taken place in Soviet Russia's spy hunt, 153 of them in the Far East.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON NEW ORLEANS, July 8 (AP)—Cotton futures today were a shade higher after the department of agriculture placed the acreage under cultivation July 1 at 84,192,000, or an increase of 104,400 acres.

Most floor brokers had expected a slightly larger total as the average of private estimates issued recently was 84,500,000 acres.

Prior to the cessation of trading July contracts sold at 12.06 cents a pound. October at 12.17 cents and December at 12.17 cents.

After business was resumed July traded up to 12.15, October 12.18 and December 12.27, or 9 to 11 points above the pre-bureau price of 12 to 16 points over the previous close.

Most of the buying was attributed to shorts and the trade. Long who held their contracts supplied the demand.

PENSION CHECKS WRITTEN

AUSTIN, July 8 (AP)—Checks for 127,675 needy Texas aged were being written today and W. A. Little, acting director of pensions, said they would be mailed probably next week. Little said July recipients represented a net reduction of 4,183 from the June total. Texas application for a July-August federal grant of $1,605,672 has been approved.

SCOUTS MAY SIGN UP FOR SUMMER CAMP

Boy Scouts of the Adobe Walls council are now registering for summer camp at the newly acquired Camp Ki-O-Wah on Wolfe creek near Perryton. The camp will open on July 25.

Every Boy Scout who registers for camp and pays his $6 per week fee before July 15 will be given a Camp Ki-O-Wah emblem. Troops have a 50 per cent or better registration will receive a pennant.

Boys may register for one or two full term periods at camp. The program will be varied and under personal supervision of Executive Fred Roberts and a corps of able adult leaders. There will be instruction in Scout lore, swimming, supervised play, handicraft and religious services.

Vaughn Darnell, chairman of the council camping committee, urges Scouts to register immediately. Many have said they will make the trip but not all of them have paid their fee.

11 MILLIONS COLLECTED

AUSTIN, July 8 (AP)—Texas today had $11,364,559 in the federal treasury out of which to make payments to jobless wage earners after January 1. Orville S. Carpenter, chairman director of the unemployment compensation commission, said addition of $150,000 yesterday had increased the state's funds to that amount. He added the fund probably would reach $20,000,000 by the end of the year.

not know our rating until the Jamboree is ended.

Alva Frye, Earl Manning, and A. W. Wentworth, assistant scoutmaster of our troop went down to Annapolis yesterday afternoon. They were shown through the United States naval academy, went on board a submarine, and saw the historic city. The three were with a special party, and made the 150-mile round trip by bus.

Yesterday morning, L. B. Nichols, Victor Willhisen, Ikey Cumberland, Billy Stockstill, and Joe Pete Lyle went swimming. It was a scheduled part of the Jamboree and cost the boys nothing. The pool is large, contains running water and has lights on the bottom and sides, which create a beautiful effect in the water at night.

Jack Hessey lost his hat in the Potomac day before yesterday when we were going down to Mt. Vernon. Gene Caperton bought a bead and has made an Indian style hat-band. He will trade it for something else when he has time to make a swapping tour.

This swapping is getting to be a leading activity of the camp. ting in trade for horned toads, cactus, and beargrass baskets.

There is so much to see and do in Washington that we are busy all the time. This is one camp where there are no idle moments.

Last night our troop served as guards for section O, and this morning a service officer came down and said he watched us all night and that we did a splendid job. Which did not make us happy, because we wondered why he couldn't have guarded the section himself since he stayed up anyhow. Hiking over this "city of magnificent distances" all day makes one enjoy his sleep at night.

This morning each Jamboree troop was asked to select an Eagle Scout who would be examined by a committee as to his fitness to serve as a guard for President Roosevelt in the grand review tomorrow. There are 12 scouting regions in the United States (we are in region IX) and one boy will be selected to represent each region. There are two Eagles from Amarillo, William Danver and Brian Dillon, and two from the Adobe Walls council, Tom Giblin and Jack Hessey, in our Jamboree troop.

By drawing names from a hat, the fairest method that could be used, Tom Giblin was selected to represent troop 6 in the final tryout for the President's guard. Tom was interviewed by a Jamboree official this morning, but the result of the interview, whether or not our troop will be represented in the guard will not be known until later. Tom has won his silver palm, the highest award of rank in Scouting, has 37 merit badges, has been a Scout and Scoutmaster for six years, and is now assistant scoutmaster of his troop, No. 73 of Morse.

DIZZY DEAN TAKES BLAME FOR YANK'S DEFEAT OF NATIONAL LEAGUERS

DISREGARDED CURVE SIGNAL OF HARTNETT

WASHINGTON, July 8 (AP)—May-be Dizzy Dean shouldn't have come to baseball's all-star game after all. Ole Diz, who reportedly threatened to boycott the classic and then dropped in by plane to say it was all a mistake and get the National's opening pitching assignment, made the error of trying to feed Lou Gehrig a fast one down the middle in the third inning yesterday.

That was the ball game, even though it went the full route before the American leaguers won 8 to 3. Gehrig's towering blast over the right field fence, with Joe DiMaggio trotting home ahead of him, was all the Americans needed to regain their confidence.

The Nationals won last year for their only victory in the five-star-studded contests.

The Americans hopped on Carl Hubbell, the Giants' screwball ace, in the fourth and bumped him in less than an inning.

All of Manager Bill Terry's hurlers—Lee Grissom of the Reds, Van Lingle Mungo of the Dodgers, and Bucky Walters of the Phillies—looked alike to the Americans. Cy Blanton, of the Pirates pitched to only one man, and managed to get him out.

Dean, who got credit for the National's victory a year ago, was charged with yesterday's defeat. After the game he produced the biggest news story of the battle by voluntarily taking the blame.

Dizzy admitted he had disregarded Catcher Gabby Hartnett's advice on DiMaggio and Columbia Lou.

Gabby called for curve balls. Dizzy shook his head and fogged in fast ones. DiMaggio spanked out a single and Gehrig, after waiting out a three and two count, poled one over the barrier.

Dean qualified his statement by adding, "Those guys were lucky stiffs."

The Nationals got as many hits as the victors—but only three were extra base blows and few were timely.

The Yankee players batted in seven of the eight runs, with Gehrig personally accounting for four. The Yankees' pitcher, Vernon (Goofy) Gomez, turned in by far the best pitching trick and drew credit for the decision.

Joe Medwick, Cardinal outfielder, was virtually the only National leaguer really to bombard the American hurlers. Joe got four hits in five appearances.

All the Nationals' runs came off Tommy Bridges, Detroit right hander. Herman's single and Medwick's double scored one in the fourth; Hartnett's single, Ole's double and Walters' fly counted another in the fifth, and singles by Medwick and Demaree and Mize's fly brought in the last in the sixth.

Besides Lou Gehrig's third-inning homer that netted two runs, Americans got three in the fourth on Dickey's walk, West's single, Rolfe's triple and Gehrig's single. Doubles by Cronin and Dickey tallied another in the fifth, and the final pair came in the sixth on Rolfe's walk, Gehrig's single and Gehrig's double.

Joe DiMaggio, the Yankee outfielder who as a rookie performer was the "goat" of last year's game, was the defensive hero yesterday. His principal gem was a perfect strike to the plate in the sixth to catch the speedy Burgess Whitehead and break up a National rally just when it appeared they had Bridges groggy.

A sell-out crowd of 31,391 including President Roosevelt, who threw out the first ball, attended the game. Unofficial reports said next year's game would go to a western National league club.

Yankees Threaten To Spread-Eagle American League

(By The Associated Press.)
After a three-day holiday during which the New York Yankees exhibited their strength in the all-star game, the firing will break out tomorrow with the world champions once more threatening to spread-eagle the American League and the National League staging its customary close race.

The Yanks open the second half of the season against the fifth place Washington Senators with a five and a half-game lead over the Detroit Tigers.

The Tigers return to action with the Cleveland Indians as their opponents for the next three days. The White Sox will attempt to regain their second place position against the lowly Browns.

The National league, again present a dog fight among the pace setting Cubs, Giants, Pirates and Cardinals, features the game between the league leaders and the ever dangerous Reds at Pittsburgh.

NEW YORK (AP)—It's "twin insurance," advertises one New York department store, to buy its particular layettes for the expected baby.

If twins, triplets, or even quins arrive after one of these layettes has been purchased, the store will provide an identical layette for each additional surprise arrival, at no extra cost.

Proper execution of the forward somersault

By Jack Pobuk
A forward somersault is no more difficult than a backward somersault.

Lie in the water in a back-sculling position. Draw the knees up to your chest, tilt your head forward, and pull yourself under with hand and arms, kicking upward with the feet at the same time. (Note illustration.)

Keep the chin down and continue the circular reaching, sweeping motion of the hands until the somersault is half completed. Then straighten the head and scull to the surface.

You will come out of the water facing in the same direction from which you started the forward somersault.

You can repeat this somersault again and again without stopping if you take a quick gulp of air each time you come to the surface.

NEXT: The tandem crawl.

HUBBELL WINS OVER STRONG CLUBS, DIZ OVER EASY ONES

ST. LOUIS, July 8 (AP)—Cold hard figures disclosed today the two generally accepted leaders of major league pitchers—Carl Hubbell of the Giants and Dizzy Dean of the Cardinals—have gained most of their victories over different calibre opponents.

They indicated King Carl has his best work facing pennant contenders and Dizzy is at his peak against second division clubs.

Hubbell has won 11 and lost four, beating Dean in two of their three meetings. Dean has won 12 and lost 7.

Facing the four second division teams—the Bees, Red, Dodgers and Phillies—Dizzy has won 10 games, while losing only one, that to the Phillies. Hubbell has not pitched against the Phillies but against the remaining clubs he has a record of five victories and two defeats.

The figures are reversed when it comes to first division rivals. Pitching against the Cards, Cubs and Pirates, King Carl has won six and dropped two, a percentage of 750 against one of 714 while facing second division teams. Dean's record against the Cubs, Giants and Pirates is 2-6, or 250 as against his winning mark of 909 against the lower teams.

Sports Roundup

By EDDIE BRIETZ

WASHINGTON, July 8 (AP)—Bucky Harris had the right dope. He said after the all-star game: "Well, I see the Yankees were in town again today."

That's right. . . All the Ruppert Rifles did was drive in seven of the American league's eight runs.

Herr Lou Gehrig personally accounted for four. . . The Yanks contributed the best hitting, the best individual fielding, the best throwing, and the best pitching. . . One safe bet is that the National league will turn next year's all-star team back to the fans. . . No lineup they might have chosen would have been more soundly trounced than Bill Terry's one-man pick, yesterday.

J. Edgar Hoover, the No. 1 G-Man, was present. As Dizzy Dean prepared to pitch to Gehrig in the third, Hoover turned to the man next door and said: "That is the last fellow Dean will pitch to. . . I'd like to see somebody put it over the fence." Gehrig did just that on the next pitch.

Incidentally, Dean came within one strike of finishing his three inning term as well as Lefty Gomez. . . He had a count of three and two on Gehrig when Lou hit the long-est homer he's ever clouted in Washington. . . On Dizzy's part it may be said the umpires didn't give him anything.

President Roosevelt got a big kick out of the whole show, including Dean. . . The President was smiling broadly as Dizzy joshed with the Yanks when he passed by their bench after flying out in the first.

The only time the National leaguers were ahead was when Dick Bartell of the Giants captured the first ball tossed out by F. D. R.—after a mad scramble with the other players of both teams. . . Arch Ward, sports editor of the Chicago Tribune and originator of the all-star game idea, got a rousing hand from the 32,000 fans when he was introduced over the mike.

PHILLIPS WINS OVER COLTEXO IN 2-0 BATTLE

The Dewey brothers, battery for Phillips, worked perfectly yesterday evening to defeat Coltexo of LeFors 2 to 0 in an Industrial Softball League game.

The game was won when Marvin Gibson hit a home run. Another was added, however, when Windom scored on an error. Witherspoon was in the mound for Coltexo with Maxey receiving.

In a City League game, Coltexo "B" defeated Christians 6 to 5 with Hill the winning pitcher over Gaynes. Texas, with Stancil on the mound, won an 18 to 13 game from Sun with Roach pitching.

SHAKEUPS ELIMINATE FULLERTON, MALLON

DALLAS, July 8 (AP)—Ray Brubaker became manager of the Dallas Steers today.

Vice President Bob Tarleton announced his appointment after an early-morning conference with the former leader of the Vicksburg Miss. club of the Cotton States League. Brubaker drove here in response to a frantic call for help from officials of the last-place Dallas team.

The new skipper is the third in two weeks for the Steers. Fred Marberry, the club's best pitcher, wearied of his 12-day job as leader and asked to be relieved. During his tenure the Mavericks lost 11 straight games. Marberry took over when Alex Gaston "resigned."

The shakeup did not stop with Brubaker's appointment. Tarleton announced Collin Lancaster, Longview right hander, had been added to the roster. Other new players were Frank Hackney, second baseman, and Claude Horton, pitcher, who came from Vicksburg with Brubaker.

Beside Marberry, Les Mallon, the league's leading hitter last year, and Curt Fullerton, veteran right hander, will be lost to the club. Fullerton got an outright release and Mallon, Tarleton said, had been sold to Los Angeles of the Pacific coast league. Mallon announced, however, he intended quitting baseball entirely.

RAY BRUBAKER WILL SUCCEED STEER SKIPPER

(By The Associated Press.)

If hope springs eternal in the human breast, the disconsolate Dallas Steers may have felt a quickening of the spirit today on learning they had a brand new manager.

Never-say-die Bob Tarleton, vice president of the club, announced at 2:07 a. m. today that Ray Brubaker would take over the helm relinquished by aging Fred Marberry, 12-day skipper who succeeded Alex Gaston.

The announcement came but a few hours after the Steers ingloriously slid into the basement on the strength of their eleventh consecutive loss. Brubaker left his job of piloting the Vicksburg Miss. Cotton States League club, which has been up around the top all season, to come to Dallas.

Again it was not pitching weakness but costly errors that proved the Mavericks' undoing. Oklahoma City got nine hits, Dallas eight, but the Indians capitalized on a ghastly first inning to rush across five runs.

In the eighth they got three more, chiefly by more inept Dallas playing. The score was 8 to 1. The loss gave Dallas undisputed possession of the cellar, to which Houston had been clinging doggedly these many weeks.

There was another slaughter, this time in San Antonio. Houston hitters went suddenly and uniformly berserk against four Mission pitchers, rapping out 15 hits for a 15-to-1 victory. In the sixth inning 10 Houston runs rolled across the plate.

The score was almost as bad when Fort Worth thrashed with Tulsa. While Jim Gravin was making the Oilers look weak against his five-hit hurling, the Cats were climbing on three Tulsa pitchers for a 9-to-7 win. In so doing the Panthers kept in step with the pace-setting Oklahoma City team.

In something more akin to a ball game Beaumont triumphed over Galveston, 5 to 4 in 11 innings.

The law was passed, incidentally, in an effort to insure fair pay by submitting constitutional amendments. Before it was enacted some had felt there were objectionable attempts to obtain first position and that amendments sometimes would carry or kill all the others.

The ceremony was the simple slipping of paper on which the six constitutional amendments had been designated were placed in Clark's hat, which was passed first to Mrs. Lecta Rider, correspondent for the Houston Chronicle.

Mrs. Rider drew forth the slip denoting the amendment abolishing double liability for stockholders in state banks and that proposal, therefore, won place number one.

Howard Marshall, correspondent for the Associated Press, drew next and was responsible for the amendment authorizing aid to dependent children having place two.

Gordon Shearer, another correspondent, took a slip from the hat and the proposal to allow the legislature to abolish the salary system of compensating certain county, district, and precinct officials went into place three.

The amendment authorizing a system of tax discounts to encourage payment of taxes was drawn by Burks Dougherty, head clerk in the state department, while that allowing Harris county to levy a tax to support a road plan emerged in the hand of Jack Moore, clerk assigned by the Senate to the governor's office. They will be in places four and five.

Secretary Clark then drew amendment authorizing aid to needy blind over 21 years of age, giving it last position.

In the opinion of many, last place is a very good one. Some say it is as good as the first. The places between are the ones sponsors of amendment like to avoid.
