Burkett Denounces Klan and Robertson In Talk For Ferguson

VOTERS FACED WITH ONLY ONE ISSUE, HE SAYS

Declares People of Texas Must Decide on Visible Or Secret Gov. Aug. 23

DEFENDS MRS. JIM

Says Her Stand on Prohibition Has Always Been Above Board

"There is simply but one issue in this campaign and we may as well face it now as wait and run into it further down the creek; and that is the question of whether or not this state is to be ruled by a visible or invisible government."

Thus did Senator Joe Burkett of Eastland draw the line Friday night in an address here in which he supported the candidacy of Mrs. Miriam Ferguson for governor. The address was given in the American Legion arena before a crowd that packed the ampitheatre to capacity; it was fostered by the "Mrs. Miriam Ferguson for Governor Club" of this senatorial district.

Smoke Screens

That the prohibition talks being made by Judge Felix D. Robertson, Mrs. Ferguson's opponent, were merely smoke screens designed to conceal the real issue was one assertion of the speaker, who also declared that prohibition was cutting no figure at all in the present governor's race.

Despite this, however, Senator Burkett devoted some tome to arraignment of Judge Robertson's challenges on the liquor question. Referring to him as "Felix Tanlac," the Eastland man charged openly that Robertson himself was the benchman and choice of Zeke Marvin Hanger, Marshall Hicks, Billy Mayfield and other prominent klansmen and anti-prohibitionists of Texas. He asserted at one point that some time ago the klan leaders held a meeting in Dallas at which time Robertson was selected as the klan's candidate for governor, and that after the session Robertson and Marvin "put on a high lonesome."

Raps Zeke Marvin.

The business enterprises of Zeke Marvin, who was declared to be a close personal friend and the political advisor of Robertson, were vigorously attacked by Burkett. He said that Marvin owned eight drug stores in Dallas and that last year one of them sold 1,300 gallons of prescription whiskey. That the liquor interests of the state would profit measurably if Robertson went to the governor's chair was openly charged by Senator Burkett.

In contrast to the liquor record of the klan candidate, the speaker as vigorously defended Mrs. Ferguson as being a life long prohibitionist, one who opposed the liquor interests all her life and one who would work ceaselessly in opposition to the whiskey ring of the state. He challenged successful contradiction of the statement that she had ever at any time even remotely espoused the cause of the anti-prohibitionists; and in opening his remarks he pointed out the ridiculousness of charges that the prohibition issue was one of paramount importance now by showing that a governor, even were he so minded, could not change the laws of the state. A public vote for repeal would be necessary, he explained, after the legislature had entertained the suggestions for such a vote from the governor. He also reminded his hearers that after this there were still the federal laws to be considered.

Score Klan.

In taking up the klan issue in detail Senator Burkett said in part:

The ku klux klan has caused nothing but strife, hatred and the blasting of friendships during the past two years; it has spread its poisoned doctrines through the very vitals of the state and has made bitter enemies, needlessly, out of life long friends.

"It is striking at the very foundations of the state and nation, and by its insidious programs will bring about the downfall of the commonwealth if it is not crushed. It is your duty as citizens believing in free and open government to go to the polls Aug. 23 and forever put the stamp of disapproval on the organization."

Continuing in this veing, Senator Burkett said:

Caused Europe's Downfall

"Secret government caused the downfall of Europe. Take Germany for example. For years the German people were taught that they were all powerful, that they were a favored race, that they were superior to the rest of the world and that they were destined to become the rulers of the universe.

They became arrogant and trampled on the rights of others; the world war resulted and the crushing defeat of the German empire followed. They were the victims of a secret government which ordered that the people follow blindly.

"The secret government of the ku klux klan teaches that these same doctrines, that we are superior to other races, that persons of opposite social and religious beliefs should have no right in governament. If these teachings are allowed to persist I predict that in 25 or 30 years the world will be visited by another

Yee Sing Will Rest Under Oriental Turf With Fathers

NOT quite ten years ago, on Oct. 22, 1914, to be exact, the lifeless body of Yee Sing, a Chinese resident of Wichita Falls was found in his room here. A self-inflicted bullet wound had produced death and a justice of the peace inquest brought a verdict of suicide.

Friends took charge and a day or so later the remains were buried in Riverside cemetery while the man's business affairs were wound up.

To all but a few of the Chinese colony here, Yee Sing was forgotten; and for the past years his bones have lain in the cemetery, marked only by the grave.

A few days ago, however, The O. W. Hines Undertaking company received a letter from the Wing Sun Undertaking parlors at San Francisco, asking that the body of Yee Sing be disinterred and shipped to them. At the same time, Chinese friends of the man here appeared also and gave similar instructions.

Acting on these, the body was exhumed from the Riverside grave Friday morning and is now on its way to San Francisco from where it will be sent across the Pacific to find a final resting place in the graveyard of Yee Sing's fathers. Word reaching here indicates that the man's wife is now in China and that a brother also lives in San Francisco.

Yee Sing's is the second body to make the league-long trek from Wichita Falls to a Chinese interior cemetery. About three years ago a local Chinese cafe operator died suddenly and the body was sent back to the boyhood home in China for burial.

DAVIS EMBARKS UPON CAMPAIGN

Leaves for His Home To Hear About His Nomination

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—John W. Davis tonight set forth on the greatest political adventure that can come to an American.

According to Mrs. Davis and his personal staff, he left here for Clarksburg, W. Va., his old home town, where on Monday night he will have confirmed officially, what he has referred to as rumors that he has been selected to carry the standard of the democratic party in the presidential campaign.

Beyond the address with which he will accept the mandate of the New York convention, Mr. Davis has no speaking engagements, but it was announced today at his headquarters here that he will make his second set speech of the campaign within two weeks. The section of the country in which it will be delivered was not stated, but it is known that many of his advisers have urged that he speak in the west.

From the time of the delivery of that address until the campaign ends in November the democratic nominee will be very active, it was stated. Denial was made, however, that he would undertake to cover more territory on his speaking tours than any candidate has yet done.

BANK CASHIER MAY DIE; SHOOTS SELF

By The Associated Press.

PUTNAM, Conn., Aug. 8. — Still conscious, though hovering between life and death, G. Harold Gilpatrick, state treasurer and cashier of the First National Bank of Putnam and director of various industrial and utility companies, refused today to explain why he shot himself in his home yesterday while bank officials were awaiting his appearance at the institution.

Federal Bank Examiner Beane and two assistants who worked all night over the accounts at the bank were still busy over the books at the institution when the bank reopened for business today.

Assistant Cashier Guy D. Baker said that the bank is entirely solvent and that the bank examiners have as yet uncovered nothing irregular in the accounts.

"Can't Get Ill To Buy Booze," Dry Agent Says

By The Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Aug. 8.—A "code of ethics" for Illinois prohibition agents, which among other things prohibits them from giving the sign of distress to a lodge brother as a preliminary to purchasing liquor from him, have been issued by Major Percy Owen, prohibition director.

In the list of "don'ts" agents are asked to refrain from becoming intoxicated in obtaining evidence; from feigning sickness to buy from druggists; making bootleggers, saloonkeepers and rum runners their associates and cabarets and bar rooms their lounging places off duty and from using evidence obtained because the sale was made on the ground that the offender is an old friend of the agent.

One Every 7 Hours.

After taking two or three drinks of high proof liquor an agent is urged to allow five to seven hours to elapse before taking another. Agents may use any disguises considered necessary. They should keep diaries in which drawings are to be made of locations where violations are found.

Gun play is especially cautioned against. There are times when a display of arms is necessary, Owens said, but nothing is to be gained in his opinion by turning a machine gun on a suspected lemonade stand.

SLAYER OF DALLAS WOMAN DENIED BOND

Special to the Record News.

DALLAS, Aug. 8.—Mrs. Edna Curlee, alleged slayer of Mrs. Myrtle Rine, was remanded to county jail without bond after preliminary hearing today. Mrs. Rine was shot Wednesday at a downtown store where she was employed. Mrs. Curlee told officers domestic affairs caused the shooting. Mrs. Rine denied this in a deathbed statement.

JOE BAILEY TO BACK FERGUSON

PLANO, Texas, Aug. 8.—Former United States Senator Joseph W. FORMER MATE OF VICTIM HELD

Couple Express Surprise At Being Accused In Mystery

By The Associated Press.

HOUSTON, Aug. 8.—With a man and woman under arrest and enroute here from San Antonio in custody of Sheriff T. A. Binford, and another man under arrest in Austin, local police authorities are hopeful of solving the murder of R. O. Wilson, art salesman, whos body was found four miles from this city Wednesday.

The man and woman being brought from San Antonio are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Don Carlos. They are charged with murder.

R. H. Keith, former camper at the tent city, on Harrisburg boulevard, where the Wilsons also camped, was taken into custody at Austin on request of local authorities for questioning. It was stated that on June 17 Wilson, with the woman known as his wife, Don Carlos, Keith, and the latter's son left the tent city together in an automobile. Later the entire party with the exception of Wilson, returned. Wilson was not again seen at the tent city.

According to Mrs. Keith, wife of the man held at Austin, Mrs. Don Calos told her that Wilson induced her to leave her home at Hillsboro, Texas, six years ago under promise of marriage. She was 17 years old at that time, she said. Despite his promise, he never married her, she said.

Wilson was believed to be in league with alien bootleggers by the residents of the tent city, Mrs. Keith declared, and it is the belief of these residents that he was killed by bootleggers.

Lived With Wilson.

Mrs. Carlos told Binford that she had never been the wife of Wilson, but admitted she had lived with him for six years and that he was the father of four of her children, two living and two dead, it was stated.

The last time she saw Wilson, Mrs. Carlos said, was on June 17 when Wilson was lying in his car asleep after "being on a drunk."

"I then decided to quit him," she added, "and went to live with another man at the tent camp on Harrisburg boulevard.

"Carlos came to see me there several times and we decided to get married. We got a license from the county clerk's office and were married by Justice of the Peace Williams Jul 7. We left Houston for San Antonio two weeks ago Thursday.

The signature attached to the express way bill is radically different from the signature of R. O. Wilson on file in the bank in which he kept his account and officers believe this shows beyond a doubt that the signature on the express bill was forged by some one who wished to dispose of

Everything Placed In Readiness For Milk And Ice Party

Everything is ready for the big lawn party and dance Saturday at the Haven Tea Room at 702 Scott street for the benefit of the milk and ice fund, according to Mrs. Miriam Wilton who is in charge of the party. The house has been properly decorated and the lawn gotten in condition. A few girls are needed to help serve, according to Mrs. Wilton and she said it would be appreciated by those in charge of the party if a few would volunteer to help at different intervals Saturday.

The program will start at 1:30 o'clock at which time cold drinks and ice cream will be served. The orchestra will play a few selections for those who wish to dance. The party will start in full swing at about 8 o'clock at which time the orchestra will start playing for several hours. Booths will be placed in the yard and those who do not desire to dance will be entertained in other ways.

Mrs. Wilton said Saturday that everything was progressing nicely and that a large crowd is expected as the proceeds will be turned over to the milk and ice fund and the money used to purchase milk and ice for the hungry and sick of the city. It is hoped that enough money will be obtained from the party to discontinue the fund for the remainder of the summer.

Euzebe Vidrine Hanged For One of Five Confessed Murders

By The Associated Press.

VILLA PLATTE, La., Aug. 8.—Euzebe Vidrine, self-confessed slayer of five men during the last three years, was hanged in the Evangeline parish jail here today, for the murder last May of Robert Leo Wiggins, Jr. The trap was spring at 12:42 p. m.

May Free Texan.

Meanwhile initial steps to obtain the release from the Texas penitentiary of Frank Smith, serving 15 years for the murder of Lee Duke, taxi driver, near Orange, Texas, December 12, 1921, and to which Vidrine has confessed, were launched this forenoon by Texas citizens who came here from Orange to interview Vidrine.

Smith was convicted on circumstantial evidence largely through the testimony of Charles K. Harris of Crowley, La. Duke's body was found near his abandoned car on the highway between Orange and Beaumont. Harris told the authorities during the preliminary investigation that he say two men enter the vehicle and that he could identify them. Smith was arrested as a suspect and Harris said he apparently was one of Duke's passengers.

Book Gives Details

Since his conviction for the murder of Wiggins, Valdrine has written a book describing his life and telling of five murders committed since 1921. Duke was one of his victims, Valdrine shooting him while riding as a passenger from the oil fields into Orange. He never was suspected. Harris learned of Vidrine's story of the crime and communicated with the Texas authorities asked that the case of Smith be reopened since he felt the conviction had resulted largely from his testimony.

Sheriff J. W. Helton of Orange accompanied by H. M. Kinnard, an attorney, and T. B. Denman of that city arrived here early today and this forenoon interviewed Vidrine. Vidrine dictated a statement in great detail telling of the murder of Duke. The Texan declared that apparently an injustice had been done Smith and that steps would be taken immediately to effect this release from the penitentiary.

FRENCH CONFER ON RUHR KNOT

Officials Disagree On Question of Settling Evacuation

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, Aug. 8.—Premier Herriot, War Minister General Nollet, and Finance Minister Clementel will go to Paris tomorrow afternoon for a cabinet conference and the negotiations of the International conferences will be suspended until they return.

Action by the French cabinet was necessitated by the fact that the question of evacuation of the Ruhr is the chief obstacle to any final agreement of the conference and also became H. Herriot and General Nollet are reported to be in disagreement on the important matter.

The French premier promises to return to the British capital Monday morning and in the meantime all eyes will be turned toward Paris, where it is expected M. Herriot will confer with the members of his cabinet regarding the final stand the French delegates to the conference should take on the Ruhr excavation question and on the question of the maintenance of the France-Belgian railroad men in the Rhineland system.

Loeb Is Mentally Diseased, Expert Asserts On Stand

College Boys Testify About His Peculiar, Mannerisms Displayed On Campus And at Frat Houses

CHICAGO, Aug. 8.—Eight college boys, finally giving way to Dr. Harold S. Hulbert, fourth of the defense's mental specialists, took the witness stand today before Judge John R. Caverly and gave testimony in support of the plea for mitigation in the sentencing of Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb, for the kidnaping and murdering of Robert Franks.

The students, mostly friends of Loeb, testified as to their observations of the youths' peculiar mannerisms and mental mechanlisms as revealed to them on campus and in fraternity houses. They occupied the entire morning session, except for four minutes when Dr. Robert Bruce Armstrong of Charlevoix, Michigan, gave evidence regarding a slight accident to Loeb in 1920.

Loeb Mentally Diseased.

Dr. Hulbert, going over the lives of the defendants from cradle days, concluded that Loeb "is mentally diseased" and had not reached his conclusions as to Leopold when court was adjourned until tomorrow.

Dr. Hulbert said most boys upon arriving at a certain age "are able to snap out of" the phantasies but Loeb was not.

Loeb got quite a kick out of the Franks case in discussing it with his family, Dr. Hulbert testified. "His mother's comment about the case, what a hardened criminal such a person must be, tickled his sense of humor, Loeb told me."

Thinks Crime Clever.

"When the coffin was brought out by little bright faced boys, it made him feel a little uncomfortable. That has been the only time he has had any feeling about the crime. He has not dreamed about or lost any sleep because of the crime, and gets a tremendous thrill out of the newspaper accounts of the case.

"He thinks his crime was extremely clever. He said he had no hatred for the Franks boy."

"I am forced to conclude Loeb is mentally diseased," Dr. Hulbert testified. "He is not normal mentally or physically. Intellectually he far exceeds the average boy of his age, but in matters of emotion he is much inferior to the average boy of his years. I estimate Loeb's emotional age as about eight or ten."

Before Loeb's birth, his mother had a serious illness and Richard was slow in maturing, the witness said.

Dr. Hulbert then turned his attention to his findings regarding Leopold.

Mrs. Leopold, Nathan's mother, suffered from Bright's disease before he was born, remained an invalid and died 17 years later, said the doctor.

Leopold Has Fear of Pain.

"Leopold's advance has been markedly rapid from the first," the doctor said.

"Leopold is particularly sensitive to pain and recently has developed a morbid fear of pain," said Dr. Hulbert.

Prosecutor Crowe asked for an explanation and Dr. Hulbert said Leopold nearly fainted at the idea of taking blood from his ear for a test.

"He wouldn't like the idea of being hanged very much either would he?" asked Mr. Crowe.

"That's another question," replied the witness.

The remainder of Dr. Hulbert's report was permitted to go into the record without being read from the witness stand. A copy of Richard Loeb's bank account at Charlevoix, Mich., showing a balance of $3,900 at the time of the Franks murder

GRAND JURY TO PROBE SLAYING

Special Session Called At Beaumont to Investigate Burning of Woman

By The Associated Press.

BEAUMONT, Texas, Aug. 8. — A special session of the Jefferson county grand jury has been asked for Monday morning to investigate the death of Mrs. J. E. Bishop, 45 years old, whose body was discovered in her blazing home, a bullet through the base of the skull, early Thursday morning.

Police revealed Friday that a neighbor and his wife heard a shot and a woman's scream and the sound of an automobile being driven rapidly away a few minutes before the Bishop home burst into flames. These witnesses and others and letters found by the police which were written by the woman to her son a few days before her death indicating that she had a premonition of impending doom will be taken before the grand jury.

The husband, who separated from his wife last Monday and who was arrested immediately following the discovery of the body, has refused to talk from the first. The police theory is the woman was murdered and the house fired to destroy evidence of the crime. Suicide, while possible, was highly improbable, according to investigators and had been practically discarded Friday.

SEEK TO FIND SUPPLY BASES ON GREENLAND

Increasingly Unfavorable Ice Conditions Cause Talk Of Postponement

ARMY TO GO AHEAD

Every Effort Being Made To Complete Flight Around Globe

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—Redoubled efforts will be made to locate and equip emergency bases in Greenland for the use of the American around the world flyers, it was said today by the army air service in answering to suggestion that the remainder of the flight might have to be postponed until next year because of increasingly unfavorable ice conditions. Ice apparently has prevented entry into Angmagsalik, on the east coast of Greenland, first selected as the terminal, and threatens the withdrawal of the naval convoy.

Pilots Confer.

Informed that Rear Admiral Thomas P. Magruder, heading the naval guard on the Atlantic route, had called a conference of the pilots to discuss the advisability of discontinuing the attempt at Reykjavik, Iceland, without reaching a final decision, officials of the air service declared no necessity for abandoning the flight was yet apparent in any reports received here.

"It is expected that the world flight will not be much further delayed," a statement issued from aviation headquarters said, "and within a short time the planes will be on their way to Greenland."

Locating Bases.

Attempts to locate emergency bases are proceeding along three lines. Major Clarence E. Crumrine, representing the air service on the cruiser Milwaukee, sent word that he had "ordered the establishment of a base on the west coast as near Cape Farwell as possible" and had commissioned the steamer Quest to attempt to penetrate the ice on the east coast with the same object in view. Lieutenant C. L. Bisbell, commanding the landing party from the Danish government's steamer Gertrude Rask, which is stationed off Angmagsalik, telegraphed a request that authority be sought from the Danish government for further exploration along that section of the coast.

Should the 730-mile jump to the southern point of Greenland become necessary, officials thought it possible further to safeguard the route by locating a floating base on the edge of the ice midway between the Iceland and Greenland terminals.

WADE SHOWS SPIRIT.

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—The spirit that has carried the American army fliers almost around the world is manifest in a message dated Louisburg, N. S., August 7 and received by the air service from Lieutenant Wade, who commanded the plane wrecked off the coast of Iceland. Realizing that his action meant he and his flying companion would be unable to complete the circuit of the globe and share fully in the glory of that achievement, Lieutenant Wade advised against sending a reserve plane to him at a point where the wreck occurred because he feared it would mean delay to the other ships and might threaten the success of the world flight itself.

BANDIT SLAIN AT SEDAN, KAN.

Notorious Bank Robber Is Victim of a Shot From Sheriff's Posse

By The Associated Press.

LEAVENWORTH, Kans., Aug. 8. A bandit shot and killed by a sheriff's posse near Sedan, Kans., late yesterday was Jeff Duree, notorious mail robber, who was released from the local federal prison on bond last February, it was learned by prison authorities here today.

Duree was wanted in connection with the recent robbery of a bank at Lamont, Okla., and was recognized by the city marshal at Grenola, when he drove into town with his wife last Saturday. Duree submitted to arrest, but requested permission to drive to his home to change his clothes. The marshal granted his request.

Sheriff Disarmed.

When they arrived at Duree's home the marshal was confronted by Elmer Downs, brother-in-law of Duree, and Charles Duree, a brother, both of whom were armed. They took the marshal's gun and fled.

Late yesterday afternoon Sheriff Buckles, Chatauqua county, was notified the three were in the vicinity of Sedan. He organized a posse and started in pursuit.

The three men were surrounded in their motor car in the northwest part of the county. The suspects began shooting as the posse closed in. In the exchange of shots Jeff Duree was killed and Downs wounded.

Brother Escapes.

Charles Duree escaped and commandeered a motor car, driven by a woman, telling her he was an officer in pursuit of bandits. The motor car was found some miles away, but Duree had made his escape. Downs is being held in the jail at Sedan.

Jeff and Dan Duree, George E. Downer and E. E. Dodge were arrested in Oklahoma three years ago and charged with robbing a mail train. They were convicted in federal court at Guthrie, Okla., and sentenced to the federal penitentiary. They were received here February 8, 1922. Jeff Duree was released on bond of $10,000 approved by the federal court of Guthrie, February 12, last. His appeal is pending in the circuit court of appeals.

property that might be incriminating to him if found here.

One of the first things Mrs. Carlos is quoted as saying in protesting her innocence was "If you want to get the person responsible for the death of Mr. Wilson find who got his sample case."

Carlos Tells Story.

Carlos told the officers at San Antonio that he had met Wilson about three months ago at a camp here and said he was employed by Wilson.

Carlos is quoted as saying he had gone by the place at the tourist camp where Wilson was last seen and got the "old Ford car" that belonged to Wilson and sold it for $10.

Carlos told him, Sheriff Binford said, that the last he saw of Wilson was as they stood talking in front of a bank at Harrisburg right after he had married.

"Wilson pointed across the street to a red roadster and said that he was going away. He got in the roadster which was occupied by another man and they drove off," he said.

Wilson was once arrested in San Antonio, San Antonio police records are said to show. At the time he was arrested he was finger printed and his prints checked with the record of a man known to Fort Worth police as Joseph E. Workman, alias J. Workman, alias Ray O. Wilson, it was said, according to an account published here today.

Says Loeb Slayer

Dr. Hulbert corroborated the testimony by Dr. Bernard Glueck of New York, that Loeb was the actual slayer of the Franks boy. Loeb said that he struck the boy several times with a cold chisel, intending to stun and strangle him later with the assistance of Leopold, but that the blows were sufficient to cause death, said Dr. Hulbert.

Had Phantasies Early

Both Leopold and Loeb early began to have phantasies and pictured themselves quite differently from the imaginary selves normal boys dream of, said the pathologist. Leopold's phantasies grew from the age of five, when he saw his brother in a soldier's uniform, and dreamed of being in command of a huge body of men. That worked into a "king-slave phantasy," stated the doctor. Leopold at times picturing himself as a king, but 90 per cent of the time as a slave protecting his king. He carried the phantasy into real life and sought somebody to whom he could surrender himself as an abject slave, concluded Dr. Hulbert.

"Loeb," phantasies concentrated on the planning of crimes, were abnormal in that they were ignoble and that they persister too long in life," said the specialist.

Dr. Hulbert also corroborated previous statements that Loeb had contemplated killing Leopold but could not bring himself to commit murder alone. He was afraid Leopold would get him into trouble Dr. Hulbert, adding that the youths once played a game of cards to see who should kill himself first.

The testimony by the college students all ran along the same line, to the effect that Loeb was irritical, irresponsible, drank heavily, argued continually, had fainting spells and feared "queer scenes," to balance his high intellect.

A fleet of "flying islands" was recently constructed by a steamer off the coast of Florida. The largest was about seven acres in area, and contained palm trees more than a hundred feet high.

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Aug. 8.—John W. Davis, democratic presidential nominee, arrived here at noon today to attend the annual basket picnic of the Dutchess county democrats. He motored to the home of Franklin D. Roosevelt, where he had luncheon. Governor Smith also was a guest at the Roosevelt home.

Boarding the Montreal express at New York City, Mr. Davis rode in the cab of the electric locomotive for 20 miles until it gave way to a steam locomotive at Harmon. Mr. Davis ran the electric from the grand central station to the 125th street station and enjoyed the experience.

I'LL FOOL THEM ALL, FAMOUS JOCKEY SAYS

By The Associated Press.

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Aug. 8.—"I'll fool them all; I'll ride again," was Jockey Earle Sande's remark today when told of the general belief that his riding days were over. Sande, who was injured in a race yesterday, is in a hospital here, resting comfortably, his physicians say. An x-ray of the broken leg, reveals a clean break a little above the knee and another break six inches higher. Above the upper break there is a splintered condition. The hip joint is uninjured, however.

OFFICERS CAPTURE CAR, STILL, BOOZE

Deputy constables early Friday morning confiscated an automobile, a copper still, some coils and a quart of corn liquor after the owner of the outfit departed with more alacrity than grace when the law appeared on the scene. The catch was made in an alley near the 1700 block on Burnett street.

Lying in wait, the officers noted the car as it drove into the alley. They approached it, and the driver leaped out, went over a board fence in one jump and made good his escape.

Thus far no one has put in a bid for the contraband goods.

KLAN DIES SOON --LA FOLLETTE

Independent Candidate Denounces Private Monopolies

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—Senator LaFollette as an independent presidential candidate intends to devote his energy during the campaign mainly to fighting private monopoly which he considers the "dominant, all embracing issue."

He disclosed this intention today in a letter to Robert P. Scripps, newspaper publisher, in which he vigorously denounced the ku klux klan by name and expressed regret that this and other questions "unrelated to the vital issue" had been injected into the campaign.

"I am unalterably opposed to the purposes of the secret organization known as the ku klux klan as disclosed by its public acts," said Senator LaFollette, adding that in his opinoin the order "cannot long survive."

Pledging himself to an unrelenting effort to "break the combined power of the private monopoly system over the political and economic life of the American people," the senator continued:

"To this issue in so far as I am able I shall hold the attention of the voters of this country. From this position I shall not be turned aside."

ESCAPED PRISONER TAKEN IN OKLAHOMA

Tom Yancy, under indictment here on charges of burglary and for whom a search has been made for nearly a year following his escape from the county jail last October, was arrested Thursday night in Duncan, Okla. He was brought back to Wichita Falls Friday and is again a prisoner in the jail here.

Yancy was arrested on charges of having broken into a local lumber yard and stealing an adding machine, a typewriter and some other office supplies. He affected his escape from jail by hiding on top of the bear cage when the regular jailer was off-duty and thus escaping the check-up made by the guard. From the cage, he was able to get to a window and cut his way to freedom.

WARM WEATHER SWELLS TRAVEL

Tourist Camp Registrations Double During Hot Spell; 110 Cars Last Week

Rather than acting as a check, hot weather is bringing a heavy increase in tourist travel, according to reports from the Wichita Falls tourist camp at Scotland park.

It was believed that the scorching weather of July and August might slow up tourist travel to some extent, but instead of this a patronage almost double that of the cooler weeks has been enjoyed lately.

110 Cars In Week.

Last week a total of 110 cars, each carrying at least one and some as high as seven tourists, took advantage of the local camp's facilities. The week before saw almost that many tourists registered.

Cars from every state in the union have used the camp now, and an inspection of the daily registrations shows the new arrivals listed from points on the Atlantic and Pacific coasts as well as from intermediate stations.

Cops To Watch Cars Carefully

City police have been instructed to keep an eagle eye on motorists when fire trucks are in the streets and it is announced that more vigorous prosecutions are to follow against persons caught interfering with or in any way endangering firemen and trucks as they are responding to alarms.

Cops Clear Streets.

Cars on Scott avenue near Ninth were brought to an abrupt halt in all directions Friday morning when Patroleman Roark, hearing central station trucks coming in response to a call, planted himself in the middle of the street and waved back traffic from every direction. As a result, the trucks were able to sail past a dangerous corner with room to spare and with motionless civilian machines at a safe distance.

YOUTHS FREED DESPITE HOAX

Boys Who Put "Dead Man" On R. R. Crossing Given Lecture By Judge

Three youths who were arrested Thursday night after they had placed a dummy near the Valley tracks east of the city and nearly caused a heavy mortality rate among the negro population there were discharged with a lecture Friday morning when they were called before Judge E. S. Whitelaw in city court. The three were charged with malicious mischief.

Trio Censured.

Judge Whitelaw censured the trio somewhat for scaring the east end section, but he also remembered, evidently, that he had been a boy once himself. No one had been hurt by the prank, and as a result the case was dropped.

A fourth member of the party escaped when cops uncovered the hoax, but three were caught and locked up for the night.

BIBLE THOUGHT AND PRAYER

THE ONLY GOD:—Hear, O Israel; the Lord our God is one Lord. —Deuteronomy 6:4.

PRAYER:—

"O God, we praise Thee, and confess
That Thou the only Lord
And everlasting Father, art
By all the earth adored."

DEMANDS OF LABOR.

Samuel Gompers and his lieutenants have spoken. They say they speak for three million American voters. This is one of the declarations of their remarkable political manifesto.

"We maintain that the Volstead Act is contrary to the desire of the majority of our citizens as well as the spirit of the 18th Amendment and we demand that it be modified to permit the manufacture and sale of beer containing not more than 2.75 per cent alcohol."

How can the Volstead Act be contrary to the spirit of the 18th Amendment? The 18th Amendment prohibits the manufacture, importation and sale of intoxicating beverages. Is beer an intoxicating beverage? If it isn't ask the old-time beer drinker who had a generous capacity and could put away his dozen bottles. Robert M. LaFollette was a bitter opponent of the ratificaton of he League of Nations. Samuel Gompers and his lieutenants proudly proclaim LaFollette and Wheeler their standard bearers and then make this declaration as one of the platform demands of labor:

"We demand that our nation identify itself with international agencies and conferences to promote world peace, and we urge membership in the League of Nations and participation in the world court."

Senator LaFollette was one of the die hards when the League of Nations treaty was pending before the senate. Senator Wheeler is said to be as strenuous an opponent of the Legue of Nations and Senator James A. Reed of Missouri. How will it be possible for the nominees of the progressive party to face the issue as marked out by the doughty Gompers and his very able co-adjustors.

The republican party pledges the people if it is given power to make this country a participant in the world court and the democratic party pledges a referendum in order that all the qualified voters of America may be given a voice in saying whether the United States shall go into the League of Nations or remain out of it.

Not all the straddlers assisted in the making of the democratic platform. There appears to be cunning straddlers in the camp of organized labor. Senator LaFollette has no use for entangling alliances but the American federation of labor demands beer with a kick in it and Senator LaFollette's record shows that he has no objection to beer containing a kick.

DID YOU KNOW?

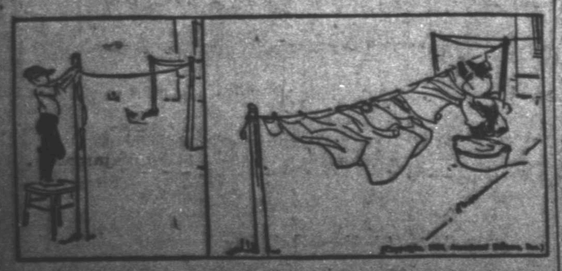

That John W. Davis, speaking of Thomas Jefferson, says, "I think that Jefferson was the greatest political thinker the world has ever produced and expect to die in that faith."?

That John W. Davis, again speaking of the Sage of Monticello, says, "If the Jeffersonian principles are true, and I think they are, they remain true. The application may change but not the principles?

That Frank A. Vanderlip has entered an emphatic denial that he was responsible for the acceptance by Senator Burton K. Wheeler as running mate on the La Follette progressive national ticket.? That Vanderlip, when interviewed by reporters, refused to state which side of the political fence he would take in the presidential election this year?

That Congressman John Cooper of Ohio, former leader in the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, has been denounced as a traitor to labor by the official newspaper organ of the brotherhood? That the official newspaper organ of the brotherhood editorially declares that Congressman Cooper has proved entirely unworthy of the confidence of the workers and has repeatedly betrayed them on important issues? That Congressman Cooper, who is a republican, defies the official newspaper organ of the brotherhood and says he is doing his best to look after the interests of all his constituents?

PANTOMIME -:- By J. H. Striebel

Does 5-5-3 Mean Equality or Something Else?

Their Name Was Legion

That his father, Franklin Rogers, actually had made his will with the provisions as declared to Bart in the office of Leon Barrows that night. It would be prima facie evidence that his father had willingly and knowingly signed away to a man whom Bart hated the thing that would make "Bull" Frannison a millionaire, and Bart Rogers a pensioner, a hanger-on for the rentals of a flowing gold mine that, by the right of work, of struggle, of privation, yes, even suffering, should have been his! It would end all thought of trickery, for it would mean that Franklin Rogers had known what he was signing, and that he had deliberately and knowingly saved the copy of a document that was to rob his son of millions. What would that safety box yield?

CHAPTER X
Disappointment

The next morning Bart entered the bank and asked to see his father's safety deposit box.

"Oh, it's all right, I guess." The bank clerk shrugged his shoulders. "Your name's on there in your father's writing—and I know you're young Rogers. But I guess I'd better go along with you. We have to be pretty careful when some one is going through a dead man's effects."

They went within the big door then and to the fitting of the pass and master keys to the little bronze box. The tiny compartment swunk open and the clerk brought forth the drawer, placing it on the counter. Hastily Bart seized the packets of papers and began their perusal.

A deed to the 160 acres which he had called home. An insurance policy which had been allowed to lapse. A cancelled mortgage, representing the saving of the farm from its first load of debt. Then—a folded paper to thump. He brought it forth and read it, line after line—the final blow. It was the will.

"Guess that was about the last trip your father made in here—about a year ago—the day he put that will in the box," came from one side, and Bart looked down into the features of the clerk, forgotten for the moment.

"Yes." Rogers turned toward him rather curiously. The clerk bobbed his head.

"He showed it to me that day—he thought it was a great joke."

"Joke? On whom?"

"I don't know. He didn't mention any names—he just said that a fellow had played the fool and he let him go ahead, that he never liked him, anyway."

"He didn't say what the deal was?" Rogers was like

"No, he didn't—except that it was something about some kind of rights."

Bart Rogers did not answer. He replaced the document in the box, and turned his key in unison with the one in the hands of the clerk. Then silently, admitting defeat, he walkd slowly out of the bank.

He had dreamed vaguely of finding another will in the safety box, or perhaps some explanation of the document which had been read to him the night before. But there had been nothing of the sort. Instead, the unassailable proof of the genuineness of the document, had come to him from the lips of the clerk, recounting the incident of his father's last visit, and the fact that he had boasted of bettering a man he did not like.

"Well, there's at least that consolation!" he murmured, as he stood on the bank steps, watching the erection of a tent dance hall across the street.

Then slowly, as if in realization of his defeat, Bart Rogers pulled the breath into his lungs and straightened, like a man about to face a sentence.

"If Dad figured things that way—it'll have to go," he mused. "He thought he was making a good bargain—and made a bad one. That's all there—"

There he stopped shortly, and turned in response to a dig in the ribs which threatened to keep on going. Again it came, even before he could look up into the features of the tall, gangly person who towered above him, and who continued the punching jabs, even as he asked his questions.

A lantern-jawed person he was, inches more than six feet in height, while about his twinkling gray eyes there seemed a thousand wrinkles. Yet he was young.

"Buddy!" he was announcing, "where's the American Legion? Where's it at? Huh? Tarko's m'name, Bud Tarko. Just came in on that special with the rest of the tin-horn sports, gamblers, loose women and whatnot. Got a Legion post here, Buddy? Where a good man like myself could get a wash-up and some grub?"

"Why—" Bart had hesitated. The elongated Bud Tarko went genially on.

"Have to pardon my parlay-voo. Can't help it. Went A. W. O. L. the day before I was to shove off on the packet for home and they sent me back up into the army of occupation. Since then I've been all over."

"What outfit are you from?" One word had brought to the serious features of Bart Rogers the resemblance of a grin. Bud Tarko swung his arms.

"What'd you like to have me from?" he queried. "Since the time that M. P. dogged me back up the harbor at Brest I've been in everything that ever looked like an outfit."

"I know. But your original outfit?"

"Oh, that?" Bud Tarko untangled himself to his full height and beamed genially down upon Rogers. "The real one, huh? Read 'em and weep—the 5th marines, brother."

Bart Rogers put forth a hand.

"Same division, friend," came quietly.

"Huh? the 2d? Stand back there and let me take a look at you. Yep. Maybe it's so. Look like a good man. What are you from?"

"Ninth infantry." (Continued Tomorrow)

Gold Prospectors Cause Excitement In Rhodesia

By The Associated Press.

BULAWAYO, Southern Rhodesia, Aug.—Gold prospecting is very active throughout Rhodesia and so keen are the prospectors in pegging out claims that eight of them slept throughout the freezing cold one night on the site of a dead miner's forfeited gold claim, known as Mick's Luck, near Essex Vale, at one time the home of the famous explorer F. C. Selous.

As soon as it was daylight there was a wild stampede among the men to erect the customary discovery notices. Motor cars had arrived for two of the competing amateurs, who apparently thought that first registration of a claim at the mines office in Bulawayo established a prior right to it. These two men had a furious race to Bulawayo, covering the distance of 30 miles over the rough veldt road in 45 minutes.

Records Indicate California Squaw Is 120 Years of Age

By The Associated Press.

YOSEMITE, Cal., Aug. 5.—Apparently authentic records indicate that "Indian Lucy," a squaw living in the Yosemite valley, is 120 years old. She is believed to be one of the oldest women in the world.

Lucy lives in a typical Indian tepee not far from Camp Curry, but keeps out of sight of the tourists. She has difficulty in walking, but otherwise retains full possession of her faculties. he can remember clearly the events of 100 years ago. She was living in the valley when the first white men made their entrance and finds pleasure in relating the details of their exploits.

The Voice of the People

FERGUSON OR ROBERTSON

Editor Record News:

When Mr. Feliz Robertson, candidate for governor spoke in Wichita Falls Tuesday evening he made reference to a nucleus of a Ferguson for governor club, in meeting held in court house Monday evening, at which 189 men and women signed the roll agreeing to support Mrs. Ferguson for governor and do all possible for her success.

That organization was referred to contrary to facts as a group of old antis and the assembling of the remnants of a former wet brigade etc. Being one of that 189 without apology, I ask leave to call attention to the following:

1. The contest for governor appears to be between a woman of unquestioned character, intelligence and ability as a representative of open and visible government, and a man selected by the firm of Evans-Clarke-Marvin-Butcher-Hanger et al; to in reality run on a platform of secret and invisible government while masquerading as a democrat and seeking to create other issues.

2. The man in this case in speech Tuesday evening attempted to make prohibition the issue. Grant that it is; we have a woman who before the enactment of the Volstead act and the adoption of the 18 amendment proved her allegiance to the cause by refusing to allow liquor to be served when she presided in the governor's mansion and a record of a lifetime in favor and support of prohibition, as against a man who can show no over act of any kind nor public confession in favor of prohibition until it became politically expedient.

3. When a candidate for governor in first primary spoke in Wichita Falls, from official records as recited he said that over 10,000 gallons of liquor was sold from drug stores in Dallas, the principal ku klux klan city in Texas, as against 5,000 gallons sold in San Antonio during the same year. During that year the man who is now in run-off for governor presided in a district court in Dallas with all authority of law to impanel grand juries and enforce the penalties of the law for violations of all crime. If actions speak louder than words, why is he now silent on his performance as against his professions of intended-to-do if elected governor!

4 If whatever prejudice may exist as against Jim Ferguson is now legitimate campaign material as against Mrs. Ferguson, why has not the other candidate or his campaigners undertaken to show that his wife is a more able, intelligent or capable adviser, or does the candidate object to the 19th amendment (as he is reported to have objected to the 18th) and deny equal political rights to men and women.

5. Officials of the W.C.T.U. have announced that their organizations do not endorsed individuals for office; that their activities are for the cause leaving voters free to make their own election which in a measure conflicts with introduction of speaker Tuesday evening. There are many who have never violated the Volstead Act, nor the 18th Amendment nor any state law in harmony therewith, who believe that if prohibition is the real issue, will vote for Mrs. Ferguson on that issue, as well as other issues they may believe to be involved in the election.

WHAT TODAY MEANS TO YOU

By MARY BLAKE LEO

Today's planetary aspects between noon and early evening are very adverse, although during the rest of the day they are very benign and propitious. The best period for aggressive effort and progressive thought is during the forenoon, as the signs indicate a great measure of success, especially along commercial or mechanical lines. After noon, it is advisable to rest from activity and seek recreation or light amusement. In the evening, the vibrations are again very beneficial, and if opportunity be taken of this occasion to put your fate to the test, the probabilities are that you will not be given a negative reply.

A child born today will be strong and healthy, and will give you very little worry, in so far as its physical development is concerned. This same trength, however, will make it rather intolerant of the weakness of others, and inconsiderate, as well as selfish. These weaknesses can possibly be overcome by precept and example during childhood; in most cases however, resort must be had to forceful discipline, so that its strength may be enjoyed without being abused.

If today is your birthday, you are dissatisfied with your present position and environment, yet lack the will power to achieve that end which you originally set out to win. This is most unfortunate, as in your case to will is to win. Every great achievement is the fruition of will power.

To will is not merely to wish. It implies something more. It implies determination, dogged perseverance, confidence, courage, and stick-to-itiveness. Whatever may befall, your will must never be vanquished. The world may beat and break and storm against you, and may defeat your plans; this must never be allowed to defeat or crush your will.

The first cardinal care must be for you to cultivate the right kind of will power and to point it in the right direction.

Our future and our fate lie in our wills more than in our hands; these are but the instruments of our wills.

If you generate unconquerable will power, if you learn to put your body under command of your will, then, though all the powers of evil rage against you, you can and will prove a conqueror over the things that count most.

HOW IT STARTED

"WHAT LINE ARE YOU IN?"

People with a good knowledge of the language and sufficient words to choose from are heard to ask, "What line are you in?" when they inquire about someone's business or profession.

If this is slang, it has an auspicious origin; for the term harks back to the Scriptures, where we find it as follows: "The lines have fallen to me in pleasant places, yea, I have a goodly heritage."

The original reference was to the customary drawing of lines to mark out the land or lot of each tribe Hence "line" came to be used for "lot" or "destiny," and later for calling, trade or profession!

ON STANDABILITY.

The everlasting dentist was drilling away on my dead second molar—lower left.

I had never been able to "stand" the grating of chalf on a blackboard.

And this scratching, scraping, grinding against what seemed to be my whole nervous system was the most exquisite torture.

It was sending hot flashes to my head and cold currents down my spine.

Suddenly in the executioner's eye I caught what seemed to be a twinkle.

"You women!" it said to me.

Now I am a very proud person, and that twinkle aroused my ire; it hurt my self-respect.

And it set me more than ever against the source of my agony, the little stone driller.

"Hardest of known substances, though, you may be," I bethought me, "you are but carborundum—a bit of stone; while I, I am a woman.

"What matter to me how hard you grind away your matter—'tis not me you touch, merely a bit of enamel, a calareous epidermis—like you, a bit of stone.

"And who cares if it be somewhere near me that these two stones rub each other away—or in the ruins of Pompeii!"

"Doctor, please wake me up when you finish; I'm going to sleep."

Nonchantly so saying, I did not grit my teeth (I could not!), I did not stiffen my spine, I did not even clench my hands; but folding them placidly in my lap I lay back, relaxing, and to the hardest of minerals I turned the cold shoulder.

Then faintly through my restful doze, I heard the lazy purring of something — somewhere, perhaps in Pompeii!

More Truth Than Poetry

METHOD IN THEIR MADNESS

A divorce may now be obtained in a day and a half and for a dollar and a half.

When Mr. Ruffsky and his wife,
Who've tried a week of married life,
Decide that this
Here wedded bliss
Is vastly over-rated,
They do not curse the day they met,
But go and ask the Soviet
For a divorce
And in due course,
The pair is separated.

Today the hardy Russians seek
The altar every other week.
Although they're wed,
For days ahead.
Their troths are often plighted
To other ladies who must get
Divoces from the Soviet,
Which makes decree
That they can be
Re-re-re-reunited.

In Russia these are lively times,
For constantly the wedding chimes
Ring loud and clear
And far and near
And far and near
In every village steeple.
And we will make a little bet
Taht Mr. Trotzky's Soviet
Has passed this law
In hopes to draw
Our moving picture people!

BADLY NEEDED

New York's park commissioner suggests that more trees be planted along the streets—for pedestrians to climb when pursued by motors, probably.

ALWAYS EMPLOYED

The man who used to rock the boat is now trying to see how close to the heads of crowds on the beaches he can drive an airplane.

EASY

If the Coolidge cat doesn't come back, we know where we can lay our hands on a couple of thousand to replace it.

Dr. Frank Crane's Daily Editorial

Alert

Alert is one of the words which we have taken from the Italian. It means wide awake. It is the opposite of absentmindness.

It is the sense of being alive to one's environment and it is that sense we lose when we are going to sleep.

It can best be expressed in English by the words "wide awake."

The alert-minded are those who know best what is going on around them.

Alertness of mind is sought by those who are in executive position, who have something to do, and whose business it is to deal with the exigencies of occasions. Its opposite is sought by the thinkers who deal, not so much with that which exists around them at present, as with the causes of things.

We speak, therefore, of the absentminded professor whose mind is far away in experiments that have been an indirect bearing upon the present and of the nimble-witted street arab, whose business it is to dodge taxicabs and seek a precarious living in the come ad go of the street.

For those who would qualify themselves, therefore, for executive positions, alert-mineddness is to be sought, while the ruminative and meditative virtues are more to be desired by those whose business it is to think.

Alert-mindedness is on the surface. Its value, therefore, depends upon the amount of thinking that has gone before it.

After all, when we are in a crisis and we desire something done it is to the absentminded, whoolly-haired professor that we turn.

What to do is not always to be determined by the people who are doing but by those who are thinking what is best to do.

Always the business men of the world have turned to the John the Baptists, to the "voice of one crying in the wilderness," to find the underlying truths of the universe.

Both kinds are necessary. It is necessary for one group to retire from the world and to think out its problems in silence and just as necessary for the other group to be constantly present minded and deal with whatever may happen.

WATER
Occurrence of Water

Water in one of its three forms, solid, liquid or gaseous, is of very wide occurrence. The surface of the earth is more water than land. Under the surface of the land water occurs in most places at some depth.

In fact is is rare indeed to find a place where, if a well is dug or drilled deep enough, water in some form will be found. In the great Sahara Desert in northern Africa many wells have been drilled of late years and even artesian flows have been secured. The same thing applies to the so-called deserts of our great west.

Water in the form of vapor is present in the air, either unseen or partially condensed in the form of clouds and fog.

Water occurs in the driest of soils, although not in sufficient quantities to become available for the use of plants.

Water is found in the rocks of the earth. In more porous rocks such as sandstone or conglomerate it is found in the spaces that occur naturally between the particles that make up such rocks. In crystalline rocks, such as granite, it is often found as water of crystalization in crystals which form them.

All this is not to be wondered at when we consider that water is in liquid form is constantly being pulled down by the force of gravity and forced into every little crevice and pore space and that, by action of the sun and the wind, it is formed into vapor and carried to places far distant where it is precipitated in the

Lapps Turned Their Backs On Royal Photographer

By The Associated Press.

THE HAGUE, Holland, Aug.—Queen Wilhelmina, her consort, Prince Henry, and the young Princess Juliana have selected a holiday resort which is somewhat out of the usual where royalty is concerned. They are spending a month in northern Lapland, well above the Artic circle, where they are living the simple life, making excursions on foot, visiting the Lapp reindeer camps and sleeping in tourist huts like ordinary folk.

The queen has a passion for photography, but a violent dislike to being snapshotted herself. According to letters received here, the queen found her dislike shared in an unexpected manner by the picturesque Lapp nomads whose objection to being "snapped" is based on religious grounds. Every time the queen levelled her camera at them they at once turned their backs and fled.

The royal party will return to Holland by way of the Norwegian fjords.

Unknown Compositon By Verdi Found in Budapest

By The Associated Press.

BUDAPEST, August—The library of the Budapest opera house has unexpectedly yielded a hitherto unknown opera by Giuseppe Verdi, entitled, "The Robbers." The libretto is none other than Friedrich Schiller's famous drama of the same title.

It appears that Verdi composed a cycle of operas which have Schiller drama for their texts. The cycle included "Don Carlos," "The Maid of Orleans," "The Robbers," and "Cabal and Love." The discovery of "The Robbers" will, it is believed, lead to the musical production of the whole cycle in the near future.

Permit to Drill Issuance Takes Big Drop

ELEVEN ISSUED FIRST WEEK, AUG.

Drill permit issuance by the oil and gas office of the Texas railroad commission here reached a new low mark during the first week in August, just past, (ending August 7), when but eleven permits were issued for drilling in this district during that period. This number eleven is only half as many as were issued the week previous, and about one-third as many as were issued during the week ending two weeks ago. It is about one-sixth the number issued here on an average during the first weeks of May and the last of April when activity was at its highest.

The drop is as nothing else indicative of the real slump in operations over this district. Proration in varying degrees and incessant price-cutting have told their tale and operators have responded with the curtailment of activity to meet the changed conditions.

Of the eleven permits issued but two were for Wichita county, eight for Archer county, and one for Clay county. This, as compared with the figures of the previous week, shows a loss of two for Wichita county, and eight for Archer county, with none issued for Clay county during that week.

Of the eleven permits issued five were for pure wildcat operations, two for Comac district tests, and one for another test in the vicinity of the Texas Company Pease estate well, No. 1, Graham.

New Water Line For Ragle Pool

Knight and Hines and the Panhandle Refining company have closed a contract for a four-inch water line from the Olney city water supply, a lake located in sections 11 and 12, RB&CRR surveys abstracts 936 and 47, just east of Swastika, to their Ragle land wells, and other tests to be drilled in that district, including the Jeffers-Newby test in the southeast corner of the Hausler land. Pipe has been ordered and it is expected to have the line completed within two weeks. This will relieve the limited water supply which has been a drawback in the development of this pool. With four new drilling tests which should be underway by the middle of next week a real strain would have been placed on the existing supply.

TEXHOMA AND STANIFORTH S, STANDARDIZING

The Texhoma Oil and Refining company and Staniforth are standardizing their No. 5 Kemp and Kempner, north offset to the Panhandle No. 3, B. Orton, west of Holliday, Archer county.

Sand encountered at 1,786 1-2 feet has been penetrated to a depth of 1790 feet in this well, the first nine hours' swabbing showing 162 barrels. No. 6, a location east in the corner of block 64, is drilling at about 600 feet. This is a north offset to the Humble Oil and Refining company's No. 1 Orton.

BARNES-BISHOP WILL DRILL NO. 3

Barnes and Bishop have made a location and expect to start operations soon on their No. 3 L. F. Wilson, a location west of their No. 1, lot 12, section 26, L. F. Wilson land, ATNCL, Archer county, west of the Simms-Woodburn lease. This well will be located two locations away from the east line of the lease, and 150 feet south of the north line.

HASKELL COUNTY TEST DRILLING

RULE, Aug. 8.—The Galloway test on the Quade farm about four miles southwest of this place has resumed drilling after being shut down for some time at a depth of 500 feet. Water wells that have been ruined by oil settlings on the surface have given landowners in this vicinity a very optimistic outlook for oil development in this part of Haskell county.

Atlantic Starts Operations On Newly Acquired 320-Acre W. H. Taylor Lease

Rigging Up for Well On North Line of Lot 2, Section 17

The Atlantic Oil Producing company is rigging up and expects to start drilling soon on a test in lot 2, section 17, W. H. Taylor land, ATNCL, Archer county, in about the center of a recently acquired 320-acre lease here.

The test will be located 450 feet west and 150 feet south of the northeast corner of lot 2, section 17. This forty-acres contained in lot 2, is owned jointly with F. E. Skinner. The rest of the 320 acres in the lease is entirely the property of the Atlantic Oil Producing company.

The lease includes all of lots 1, 2, and 2 and the north halves of lots 5, 6, and 7, section 17, such lots being all 40-acre tracts. It includes all of lot 3, block 14, to the west, also a forty-acre tract and all of lot 1, and about a fourth of lot 2, block 16, to the north, and a part of a narrow strip in the south of block 15.

This lease is located north of the old Peterson and Sunshine State pools in absolute wildcat territory. The drilling of the well on this lease marks the first activity of the company, one of the largest operating in this field, in any section except their Wilson and Parrish leases.

Rinet-Bailey Erecting "55"

Riner and Bailey are erecting a 55,000 barrel storage tank on their lease in section 29, L. . Martin land, ATNCL, Archer county. Some steel has arrived on the grounds and construction will be pushed as rapidly as possible, in order that the firm may store its own oil to some extent during the present industrial slump.

D. O. JOHNSTON WILL DRILL, JAMES NO. 1

D. O. Johnston has made a location and is building a derrick for a test in the southeast corner of the southwest forty acres of the northwest 160 acres of Mrs. J. H. James land, section 16, H&TCRR survey, block 7, in the southwest corner of Wichita county. Drilling is expected to start at once.

KNOX CO. TEST GOING DEEPER

Williams and Rhodes are drilling deeper, after encountering a good oil showing in their test north of Goree in Knox county. A sand picked up at 564 feet was cored into and then through a misunderstanding of orders drilled into with a big bit, ruining the casing seat, it is stated. There was four feet of sand, the bit leaving the sand at 568 feet. Casing had been ordered to the field for setting.

ROSA ET AL BELOW 1,465, MONTAGUE

Ed Rosa and associates are drilling past 1,465 feet in their test in the old Summerour well near Sunset, Montague county. Gas showings have been passed in this well since drilling was resumed at 1,050 feet two times, at 1,080 and at 1,396 feet. Previously to the well being taken over by Rosa et al a showing had been passed at 800 feet.

SUNSHINE PAST 1,838 FT., DUNDEE

The Sunshine State Oil and Refining company is drilling past 1,838 feet in sand in their test in section 5, H. Reilly survey, abstract 209, Mamie Medlin land, southwest of Dundee. A core taken of the sand at about that depth showed no oil.

McGREGOR BELOW 1,100 FEET, COMAC

Stanley McGregor is drilling below 1,100 feet on his No. 4 Llewellyn-Robertson, John Llewellyn survey, abstract 256, Comac district, Archer county. This well is a north offset to the Magnolia's lately completed No. 3 Llewellyn.

FISHING, COMAC DISTRICT TEST

Cooper and McGlothlin have a fishing job in their test on the L. H. Farmer land, northeast of the old Scott and Goss well, Comac district, depth being given as about 1,180 feet.

Drill Permits

Special to the Record News.

AUSTIN, Texas, Aug. 8.—A new oil well on university land in Reagan county will be drilled by the Arkansas Fuel company, according to notice of intention to drill filed with the oil and gas bureau, state railroad commission Thursday.

Twenty-two wells were listed Thursday in notices of intention to drill. Operator, well number and lease, county and proposed depth are shown as follows:

To Drill.

Arkansas Fuel Oil Co., No. 1 university land, block 6, section 9, Reagan county, 3,200 feet.

Gulf Production Co., No. 7 E. M. Scarbrough, Liberty, 3,500 feet.

Atlantic Oil Producing Co., No. 4 B. L. Swink, Navarro, 2,980.

Gas Ridge Development Co., No. 8 Voges, Bexar, 900.

Lake View Oil Co., No. 40, Hardin County Oil Co. lease, Hardin, 1,500.

Magnolia Petroleum Co., No. 4 Llewellyn heirs, Archer, 1,500.

Henry Riley, No. 1 McClelland, Eastland, 3,500.

L. C. Lucas et al, No. 7 Grisham, Callahan, 450.

Parkersburg Drilling Co., No. 17 Qualls, Callahan, 420.

A. S. Goodloe & Harris, 1 Davis, Callahan, 450.

Diehl Chappell and Hadcock, No. 1 Ingram, Callahan, 700.

Tidal Oil Co., No. 1 Elliott, Shackelford, 650.

Sam McClure et al, No. 1 Sam Hunt, Callahan, 600.

Ray-Featherston Oil Co., Inc., No. 2 Nichols, Archer, 2,000.

Apple-Brandeberry Oil Co., 2-B Jennings, Wichita, 2,000.

Stanley McGregor, 4 Robenson-Llewellyn, Archer, 1,450.

Hobbs, Chensult and Burleson, 14 Goldsmith, Archer, 1,400.

G. T. Morris, 1 Stevenson, Clay, 1,500.

McClure and Sons, 1 W. D. McClure, Wichita, 1,000.

To Deepen.

Magnolia Petroleum Co., 1 Coffield, Archer, deepen to 1,600.

Shackelford Oil Co., No. 6 J. A. Shackelford, Callahan, deepen to 650.

Cheney & Anzac Oil Corp., No. 1 Driver, Young county, deepen 2,100 to 2,600.

EVERTS ET AL CEMENT CASING ON MILLER LAND TEST

Everts and others are cementing casing in their test on the Miller land, lower half of lot, block 19, ATNCL, depth being given as 1,683 feet. An attempt to get a casing seat in the shale at that depth failed. Shipley and others to the north are making preparations to run casing and set. They are building a new water line to take care of decreased water supply.

Further developments from the Everts test can hardly be expected before the middle of next week, when the cement has had time to harden.

UNITED CENTRAL WILL DRILL IN WITH STAR, NO. 10

The United Central Oil company has moved a standard machine on to the location of their No. 10 McCarty, and expect to drill in and complete some time today. Sand was encountered in this well at a depth of 1,086 feet.

MAGNOLIA GETS SAND, PARRISH 1

The Magnolia Petroleum company has picked up a sand at 1,595 feet in their No. 1, Parrish, northeast corner of the northwest forty acres of section 26, W. F. Parrish land, ATNCL, Archer county, and are running casing to set. The well is about a thousand feet south of the Carter-Gould recently completed well on the White land, in the southwest corner of the north half of lot 15, section 24, White land, placed on the beam and reported to be making between 75 and 100 barrels a day from a sand below 1,000 feet.

COOPER DRILLING WEST OF COMAC

G. W. Cooper and others have spudded and are drilling on their Comac district test in the northeast corner of lot 8, W. C. Winters survey, abstract 663, Archer county.

8,000 STUDENTS DUE THIS YEAR

More Buildings Will Soon Be Needed to Care For Growth

Approximately 8,000 students are expected to enroll in the Wichita Falls public school September 8, according to Superintendent J. W. Cantwell. The total enrollment for last year was 7,336 which was an increase of 500 over that of the preceding year. With the completion of the new Junior college building it is thought that the number will nearly reach the 8,000 mark on the opening day of school.

Junior College

The new college building will contain five grades of pupils, the last three grades of high school work and two grades of college work. Several new courses will be added to the college work and it is expected that approximately 200 students will be in the junior college department.

One of the advantages secured through the completion of the Junior college building is that it will relieve the crowded conditions in the ward schools. All the seventh grade students will be taken out of the ward schools and placed in the old high school buildnig on Broad. This building will also accommodate the first year high school pupils.

Soon Need New Buildings

It is estimated that 1,027 pupils will be enrolled in the seventh and eighth grades. Superintendent Cantwell said that it might be necessary to place the low seventh grade pupils in the Austin ward school.

At the present time space conditions in the public schools of Wichita Falls are in fairly good condition, according to Superintendent Cantwell, but with the increasing enrollment each year it will soon be a necessity to construct more buildings.

FIRE CAUSES $5,000 LOSS

Burnett Street Home of C. O. Roark Damaged At 10 a. m. Friday

Fire believed to have started from a hot water heater in the bath room caused a property loss of approximately $5,000 at the C. O. Roark home, 1403 Burnett street, at 10 o'clock Friday morning. The house was gutted by the flames, although the walls were left standing.

The building was owned by Fred Massie and was damaged to the extent of $3,000. This loss is said to be covered by insurance. Furnishings owned by Mr. Roark, most of which were completely destroyed were valued at about $1,500. Some insurance was said to have been carried on these.

MAGNOLIA PULLING CASING TO GET BAILER FROM HOLE

The Magnolia Petroleum company is attempting to pull five-inch casing in its No. 1 Portwood, northeast of the Cranfill, Baylor county, producer, after having lost a bailer in the hole, the total depth of which is 1,802 feet.

$10 FINE FOR TRUCK ACCIDENT

A fine of $10 was assessed Friday morning against Mrs. Bert Bean when she was found guilty in city police court with having failed to stop her machine when a fire truck answering an alarm approached. Her car collided with the central station chemical truck in the 1500 block on Tenth street last Wednesday, badly damaging both cars.

The case was tried before Judge Whitelaw Thureday morning but decision was reserved until Friday morning.

Experts Plan to Tell All About New Drugs

By The Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug.—Development of pharmacy, involving the study of strange drugs, problems of education, manufacture and standardization, and the hazards of exploring the plant life of the jungles will be outlined at the third annual meeting of the national conference on pharmaceutical research to be held in Buffalo, N. Y., Saturday, Aug. 23, according to an announcement here by Prof. H. V. Arny of Columbia university, president of the American Pharmaceutical association. Two sessions, to be attended by delegates from every state, are planned.

Sources and identification of botanic drugs, now more abundant because of recent discoveries in the wilds of South America, will be described in the report of a research committee, whose efforts, it is said, are opening up new avenues of human knowledge.

Nine other research committees, composed of leading workers in pharmaceutical science, will present reports dealing with the chemistry of drug plants, biological products, business research, manufacture of medicinal chemicals, dispensing pharmacy, and standardization of botanic drugs.

Gas Elusive at 7,000 Feet.

By The Associated Press.

LIGONIER, Pa., Aug.—Drilling nearly a mile and a half through the earth's crust into the heated substrata, gas men have made unsuccessful efforts to strike wells with which to replenish the steadily dwindling supply of gas in this district. Drilling crews of the People's Natural Gas company of Pittsburgh have penetrated nearly 7,000 feet without results.

The Ligonier operation is the deepest hole in the world that has been drilled for gas. The work has been in progress four years. The 7,000-foot mark was passed on the fourth birthday of the operation.

Wealthy Mine Owner's Venture Starts New Town

By the Associated Press.

BELFAST, Aug. 4. — Newtownkelly is the name of a new town which has sprung from the venture of Sir Samuel Kelly, wealthy mine owner, and which is said to be the greatest commercial undertaking ever attempted ringle handed in Ireland.

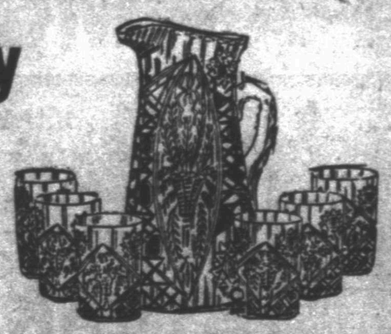

He has successfully prospected for coal, sunk two deep shafts, constructed overhead equipment and laid eight railway sidings. Colliers which he brought from Cumberland and Scotland live in the new town.

Experts Tell How to Make Tasty Dishes Out of Leftover Food

SANDWICHES A SAVER OF MEAT

Rice Pudding and Beef Stew Old Favorites of the Housewife.

Any leftover meat may be minced and mixed with mayonnaise and made into sandwiches. Olives and hard-boiled eggs make a tasty sandwich too. Chop stuffed olives and white of eggs fine, put yolks of eggs through a sieve, season all with a little mayonnaise and spread between thin slices of buttered bread.

Rice Pudding—Put half a cup of rice to cook in the double boiler in one quart of milk. Cook until soft. Add half a cup of sugar, one-half teaspoon salt, yolks of two eggs and any flavoring desired. If you wish a chocolate pudding put two squares of chocolate, melted, in the rice. The grated rind of an orange and a little of the juice makes a nice flavoring, grated lemon rind is equally good. Cook until thick, then pour into a serving dish, whip the whites of the eggs stiff, sweeten with confectioner's sugar, and a little orange or lemon juice if you have used the fruit for flavor, beat again, spread over the pudding. The meringue may be borrowed or not, as you choose. Serve cold.

Beef Stew—Beef stew may usually be bought very cheap because the cheaper cuts of meat can be used. Have the butcher cut the meat in pieces of suitable size for serving. Brown in a little fat, then cover with water and let simmer gently.

Crab Meat Salad—Take one can crab meat, remove from can immediately on opening. Pick in shreds. Add three-quarter cup cut up celery. Mix crab meat and celery with thick mayonnaise. Have a large platter ready. Put sufficient leaves of head lettuce on to cover. Fill the lettuce leaves with mixed celery and crab meat. Slice tomatoes (peeled) over top in orderly rows and in center row slice hard boiled egg. On top of each slice tomato put a dab of mayonnaise. In making this salad, have all ingredients well drained and your mayonnaise thick. Otherwise an unappetizing, watery salad will result. This salad may be varied by using shrimps or lobster in place of crab meat.

Rice Croquettes—Take one cup cold cooked rice, add one well beaten egg. Drop by spoonful on greased frying pan. Turn when brown, serve with jam.

Berry Shortcake—Take sufficient pie crust dough for one pie, roll medium thin, have buttered pie plate, lay on flat and bake brown and crisp. Split, butter and put berries between and on top. Recipe for pie crust calls for six tablespoons flour, four tablespoons shortening and butter mixed; two tablespoons ice water. It is easy to remember being multiple of two.

French Fried Potatoes—Potatoes may be fried in the morning and put in hot oven for few minutes when ready to serve.

BRIDES SHOULD CAN IN SMALL AMOUNTS

If you are a June or July bride, do not let the prospect of canning frighten you. Our mothers and grandmothers "put up" fruit by the bushel and crate, but that is no reason why we should. And even if we feel we must have a goodly supply of home canned fruit on hand there is no reason why we should labor all day and half the night to take care of it. Put it up in small quantities. A few boxes of berries will make several glasses of jam or jelly or a few cans of preserves; the work will not tire you so that hereafter you think with dread of canning time. And a few cans at a time soon fill up your shelves.

Making Beets Delicious.

Beets are made delicious by pouring over them, when cooked and sliced, the following: One and one-half cups vinegar, one-fourth teaspoon salt, one and one-half cups sugar, two tablespoons butter, three-fourths tablespoon cornstarch. Mix the cornstarch, vinegar, sugar and salt. Let it come to a boil, stirring constantly. Cook five minutes, then beat in the butter. Pour over the beets and serve hot.

Lemon Rinse Popular With Both Bobbed and Unbobbed

PICTURE STARS USE LEMON RINSE

Whether bobbed like Helene Chadwick's or long like Kathleen Key's, the hair of the well-groomed woman is soft and glossy.

Every woman can have such hair, if she will us the juice of a lemon in the after-shampoo rinse, according to these screen actresses, each of whom is doing her bit to make the "movies" easy to look at.

To bob or not to bob, and if bobbed, whether to let it grow long again? These are foremost questions with the fair sex nowadays. Word from Paris states that bobbed hair has become increasingly popular with all women and the prediction is freely made that the bob has come to stay, in spite of some mere husbands who like it on the flapper but disapprove it on the wife.

At all events, the care of the hair has become a topic of paramount interest to women on both sides of the Atlantic. Even if one is not interested in bobs, she is likely to be interested in curls and marcels for bobbed hair has brought waved hair into more prominence than ever.

Curls, whether permanent, round or marcelled, are expensive and it is well to know how to get the best results from the hours spent with the hairdresser in securing these becoming ripples.

The lasting qualities of the curl depend upon the state of the hair when the wave is put in. Hairdressers state that the cleaner and softer the hair, the longer the life of the curl. The best time for curling is after the shampoo.

This makes it necessary to be sure that the shampoo leaves the hair soft, which it always will do if it is followed by a lemon rinse, to cut the film that even the best soap and most thorough rinsing always leave on the hair.

Use the juice of a lemon in a quart of warm water just before the final rinse, and the result will be soft, glossy hair, in the proper condition for curling or marcelling.

The lemon rinse also brightens blond hair and it gives a delightful soft glossiness to straight hair.

Helene Chadwick, whose curls and dimples make her one of the most attractive motion picture stars of the day, always has a lemon rinse when she shampoos her bobbed hair. Kathleen Key, another beautiful screen actress, uses the lemon rinse for her long and lovely tresses.

Foard County Towns In Rival Picnics; Mrs. Ferguson Speaks To Great Crowd At Rayland

Special to The Record News.

CROWELL, Aug. 8.—Rather a spirit of rivalry prevailed in the air in Foard county yesterday. Margaret, a small town eight miles northeast of here, staged her annual picnic while Rayland, another small town 17 miles northeast of Crowell, is staging a picnic and dance just as big today. Each of the towns is vieing with the other in an effort to attract the largest crowds to her own affair.

When Margaret announced that hers would be entirely free in every way, Rayland immediately announced that she would go them one better. Her committee then went after the higher ups and as a result, Mrs. Miriam Ferguson was secured to speak at the Rayland picnic.

The Rayland affair, a get-together meeting between the citizens of Foard and Wilbarger counties, Rayland is situated just within the line of Foard county, and it is the aim of her committees to promote a more brotherly feeling between the two counties. The picnic and speaking lasted all day, and the night was spent in dancing.

TODAY'S RECIPES.

Manhattan Steak—Take a pound and a half porterhouse steak. Do not cut off the tough end but cut the meaty part out, leaving the rim of fat. Grind tough end through chopper and make into an oblong pat; after seasoning it, lay it back where it was before cutting out. Fasten the fat strip around it and skewer with toothpicks. Cook as usual and in serving, each plate receives steak, tenderloin and hamburg.

Peach Shortcake — Take one cup flour, one-half cup sugar, one teaspoon baking powder, two tablespoons butter, salt. Moisten with milk until thickness of cake batter. Bake fifteen minutes. A thin batter is better than the stiff biscuit kind. Half the peaches should be sliced, sprinkled with pulverized sugar and allowed to stand three or four hours. Sugar the other half and place on top. Use table cream, whipping only until it froths. Stiffly whipped cream on shortcake is too dry.

Huckleberry Muffins — Take three-quarters cup flour, three-quarters cup milk, one teaspoon baking powder, salt, one egg, one tablespoon butter, two-thirds cup huckleberries. Makes four, enough for two meals.

Italian Dressing — One part tarragon vinegar to three parts olive oil, salt and paprika to flavor.

SUGGESTIONS.

A pinch of baking powder added to potatoes when mashing will make them lighter and whiter.

A soap shaker will be found very useful when using soap dye. Put the cake of soap dye in the shaker and shake it back and forth in the water. By doing this the hands are not stained and the color is evenly distributed.

To increase the efficiency of your refrigerator keep the supply of ice up to capacity instead of allowing it to melt almost entirely before replenishing. Also protect the inside temperature of your refrigerator by cooling all cooked food before putting it away. Open the refrigerator door as few times as possible and then for as short a time as possible.

FLOWERS

I wonder how many people living in the country where wild flowers are plentiful, or living in a city and able to get at least a few of them, realize how lovely these "works of nature's hands" are and their possibilities for decorating the home. So many people call such things "weeds" and pay no attention to them. Clover blossoms, "bouncing Bess," goldenrod, "Queen Ann's lace" or wild carrot; daisies, and many others too numerous to mention even if I knew the names of them—which I am frank to say I don't—make such lovely bouquets. Hot house and garden flowers are lovely, but these darlings of nature are so wonderfully graceful, it is a shame that more people do not appreciate them.

ELECTRA FORMS CIVIC COUNCIL

Community Efforts For City's Betterment Centralized

Special to The Record News.

ELECTRA, Aug. 8.—The most important movement made in several months in this city was the organization, this week, of the Electra community council. The council is made up of a committee from each of the following organizations: chamber of commerce and agriculture, Lions club, Rotary club and Parent Teachers association. A meeting was held this week, and a committee appointed to draw up by-laws, which will be adopted at an early meeting of the council, when it is likely that future work of importance will be outlined for the new body.

It is expected that other organizations of the city, interested in civic work, will join the new body, and assist in its work, which is to centralize community efforts for the betterment of the city and environs. Matters heretofore held up pending action by the various organizations, can now be taken direct to the council, which will represent the various bodies, and the quickest possible action obtained on matters that should not be delayed.

Foard Co. Ranchmen Selling Scrubs for Blooded Stock

Special to the Record News.

CROWELL, Aug. 8.—Les K. Johnson of this place sold to S. C. Isaacs of Wellington, 500 head of two-year-old steers at $50 a head for immediate delivery. This marks the peak of the rapid movement of cattle which has taken place in Foard county within the last few weeks. A remarkable movement has been under way, since scrub cattle are rapidly being moved out to make way for the better breeds of beef cattle.

One of the most noticeable developments is the introduction of the Brahma steer into Foard county ranching. Up to this year, this particular breed had never been tried and was looked upon with some disfavor by the local ranchmen. However, Glen Offield and Paul Shirley, ranchmen near here, became pioneers in the matter and have successfully demonstrated that the crossing of the Brahma with the standard breeds is a profitable venture, and with their success in that line, other ranchmen have followed rapidly.

Gassers Forfeit to Spudders In Series First

THOMAS SENDS PROTEST TO LEAGUE PRESIDENT ROBERTS

Homelings Mop Up With Shreveporters In Exhibition Contest By 13-6 Score

Wichita Falls drubbed Shreveport in the series opener, 9 to 0, Friday, but the game didn't go a full inning. Followers of fisticuffs were given more than their money's worth when Umpire Louie Weir and Heinie Sheer hooked up in a speedy duel during the Spud portion of the initial couplet. Homelings were leading 2 to 0 at the time.

After the fisticuffs Umpire Daly forfeited the contest to Wichita Falls because the Shreveporters didn't resume play quick nough to suit him.

Shreveport Owner Ira Thomas and Manager Orr last night sent formal protest to J. Doak Roberts, league head, and expect to push the Shreveport cause to the limit, according to these gentlemen themselves.

Spudders and Gassers continued play, an exhibition contest, after the two man riot had been quelled, and Umpire Daly had taken his departure. Homelings captured the tilt, a slugging affair 13 to 6.

According to player, Sheer chided Weir, who was umpiring bases, for getting in his way. Weir became ired up, and the bickering went from bad to a bit worse. Weir stopped the game and ordered Sheer from the park.

Sheer Cusses Weir?

From the press box it appeared that Sheer, who was reluctant to leave, cast a few red hot aspersions on Weir, his nearest relatives, and all his ancestors—this Weir declared was the cause. The umpire drew back a husky right as if to annihilate the Shreveport player, but was beaten to the punch. Sheer tore into him, and the two mixed it quite freely for several minutes, nobody interfering.

Sheer was taking the combat on points, and making Weir miss often. The battle was a lively affair and under the marquis of queensbury rules with but one exception—Weir attempted to kick Sheer somewhere below the belt, an out and out foul.

Weir to Jail.

The pair clinched and fell to the turf after nearly a full round of pummeling. Then ball players, cops, and Umpire Daly took a hand in prying the battlers apart. Weir was escorted to the city jail, and esconced therein, but was later given his freedom. Sheer remained and took part in the exhibition embroglio.

"This is the third time Weir has either forfeited or been the cause of a forfeiture by Shreveport," said Thomas last night. "He forfeited a game of ours here to Wichita Falls in 1922, forfeited another in Beaumont last year, and then was the cause of this one this afternoon being forfeited. What he'll do in 1925 I don't know.

"I am protesting to the league president, and if necessary will put the matter before the league directors, and depend on the rest of the clubs in the league to decide," said Thomas.

No Forfeiture, Says Orr.

"Weir had no excuse for ordering Sheer from the park much less jumping on him," declared Manager Orr. "We absolutely did not forfeit the game. Daly didn't give us time to resume play nor did he tell us to do so. He was sore because Weir got the worst of the fight, and was taken from the field by the police while Sheer was not bothered," continued the Gasser manager.

Daly's reason for forfeiting the game was because the visiting team did not go back to their positions when ordered to. They were given about two minutes to get into action.

Weir declares that Sheer cursed him, and that that was the reason for all the trouble.

Gibbons Fights British Scrapper This Afternoon

LONDON, Aug. 8.—Everybody in Great Britain who knew anything about boxing, and a good many thousand who pretend they don't ordinarily take interest in fistic affairs, seemed to be greatly excited over the 20-round bout which is to be fought Saturday afternoon in the great Wimbley stadium between Gibbons, the American lightweight, and Jack Bloomfield, the English boxer. Already 70,000 seats are said to have been sold, an unprecedented number for a British ring battle.

Gibbons, although he is ten years older and three and a half inches shorter than the Briton, still remains the favorite in the betting. The odds on the American, however, which originally were as high as 3 to 1, have steadily shrunk the past two days.

One thing that has whipped interest in the bout to a pitch unknown in England since long before the downfall of Joe Beckett, England's "white hope," has been the belief, boomed by the newspapers, that if Bloomfield should defeat the American he will have earned the right to have a chance at Jack Dempsey's title.

The sport writers have been hailing Bloomfield as the potential rescuer of his country's sinking prestige in the ring.

McFARLAND BATTLES RAY THURSDAY

FRANKIE McFARLAND.

McFarland, a featherweight who hails from Boston, has been doing the greater portion of his battling recently down around the Alamo City and in Mexico.

Frankie breezed in the other day for a few bouts in the local arena before trekking for the Pacific coast.

Tex Ray, the Fort Worth flash and a veteran, has been matched to step with McFarland in the Legion double header next Thursday evening over the ten-round route.

First Methodists Grab Off 1924 Sunday School League Gonfalon

Grace Methodists Put Up Hard Battle But Go Down In Defeat By 8 to 6 Count

The First Methodist church team of the Sunday School League became the champions of the organization by virtue of their win over the Grace Methodist nine Friday afternoon, 8 to 6. The Grace team fought hard for the game but could not hit McDuffey in the pinches sufficiently to win.

Clyde Hicks tried to capture the game all by himself by poling out two home runs and playing a great game behind the plate. He continually shifted his outfield to play the various batters.

Andree's wildness again cost him a victory. He hit five batters and walked three. The victors garnered only five hits off his delivery, but they were sufficient to win. Brooks, who relieved Andree in the third pitched well with the exception of the fifth.

Brown got a freak home run in the second when W. Neal lost the ball in the high weeds in left field.

Skeen's one-handed catch of a hard line drive in the fifth was the fielding feature of the game. Martin played a brilliant game at second for the losers and he got a triple and a walk in three trips to the plate.

Top O' the Mornin' Stuff

BLONDY CROSS

Spudders and Gassers again his afternoon, and we have it direct that there'll be no forfeit if Ira's boys behave themselves.

The poor old umps always comes in for the small end of the deal. Umpires are a necessary evil, and picking on 'em doesn't help the cause along a bit.

Every man has his faults, and some men when given a little apthority may prove over bearing, but the chances are more than even Stephen that Sheer yesterday called Umpire Weir a few things which he isn't.

They do it over the loop. Hardly a day passes that some ball player doesn't cuss an umpire in a mild manner that would call for gory battle from any other man, and the player gets by with it in a majority of cases.

Yesterday's affair at Spud park may not have been one of these cases. Weir may have been all in the wrong, but there's still a great wide open space for doubt.

Weir started to hit Sheer. Umpires don't usually swing on a ball player unless that player allows his palaver to slip into a little too unpleasant language.

But the fans were on Weir yesterday. The police escorted him from the park; took him to jail. But doubtless the police nor the fans knew just whose fault the sudden battle was.

Weir swung first, but he may have had reason. He did kick Sheer, and unfair method of fighting, but just how many of the average citizens do fight fair when precipitated into conflict?

Many of the fans who derided Weir for unclean battling themselves if in the same position would have gone running for baseball bats, tomahawks, or anything else with which to protect their skins.

Just who was at fault for the battle and later the forfeiting of the game by Umpire Daly to the Spudders we don't know, and don't give a cuss. And possibly no wisecre fan sitting in the grandstand yesterday knows either. But somehow or other the umpire is always the under dog. Give him a chance, fellows.

Wrestling may take a position on the Wichita Falls sport card this fall. That is, if the plans of Frank Holomek do not go awry. Holomek, a Kansas mat promoter, is in town now looking the situation over. He hopes to stage matches here in about eight weeks.

The legion mitt program slated for next week will bring together Duke Trammel and Frankie Tucker, welters, in a 12-round bout. Tex Ray and Frankie McFarland, feathers, are billed for a 10-rounder, or possibly 12, said Promoter Wofford Saturday. Red Lewis and Slou Keyes, light heavies, will step for six rounds. The curtain raiser is to be in the form of a very dark battle royal.

Wildcat Monte and Frankie Fink are billed for 10 rounds on the double windup card scheduled for week after next.

Lina Motors Beat Griswold

ELECTRA, Aug. 8.—Lina Motors retained their lead in the Twilight league in a pitchers' battle today with the Griswold team, also contenders for the top position, winning 5 to 3. Blakeley, Griswold pitcher, stuck out 11 men and Ray for the Motor men retired 11 of his opponents.

McCracken, third baseman, for the Linas, hit a pretty home run in the fifth inning, bringing in Easley, but the Griswold men had their choice in throwing him out at third or home. He missed both bases.

DECLARE HOUSTON WOMAN IS INSANE

By The Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Aug. 8.—After examining Mrs. Anna Lurie of Houston, Texas, who yesterday visited the Franks case trial and attempted to talk to Judge Caverly about the case, Dr. Francis J. Gerty of the psychopathic hospital said today he would report to County Judge Jarecki his belief that she is of unsound mind.

Mrs. Lurie's husband is a traveling representative of the Rabbinical association of New York. She has relatives in Chicago and said she came here to attend a theosophical convention.

Aviatrix Aided Brazilian Revolt With Airplane

By The Associated Press.

BUENOS AIRES, Aug. 8.—Anesia Pinheiro Machado, Brazilian aviatrix and sportswoman, is among a number of persons who have been arrested by the Sao Paulo federal authorities for alleged revolutionary activities, according to a message from Sao Paulo.

Senorita Machado was mentioned in official communications during the seige of Sao Paulo as having lent her airplane to the rebels. It is now asserted that she flew it herself, scouting over the federal lines, and that it was she who flew over Santo and dropped revolutionary pamphlets in the streets and on the battleship Minas Geraes, a flight which gave rise to reports at the time that the battleship had been bombed.

ESTIMATE ON COTTON GROWS

Nearly Half-Million Increase Over Last Report Is Made

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON. Aug. 8.—Improvement in the cotton crop during the last 15 days of July resulted in an increase of 417,000 bales in the forecast of production for the year which was placed today at 12,351,000 equivalent 500-pound bales by the department of agriculture in its semi-monthly report, basing its calculations on conditions prevailing August 1. A forecast of 11,934,000 bales from the condition of the crop July 16 was made July 21.

The crop is doing splendidly in most of Texas, the largest producer, and Arkansas, Oklahoma and Tennessee the report stated. It is suffering from drought in eastern Texas, northern Louisiana and southern Arkansas which regions have had practically no rain since early June, dry weather has forced blooming ahead of the usual time. A short period of drought following active rains as in South Carolina and Georgia has caused considerable shedding.

"No great amount of damage has so far been done by boll weevil," the report says. Boll weevil are reported numerous from all sections, but the numbers are limited and the damage to cotton so far has been much less than usual.

The production forecast was based on the condition of the crop on August 1 which was 67.4 per cent of normal, indicating a yield per acre of 146.3 pounds. From the condition of the crop on July 16, which was 68.5 per cent a forecast of 11,934,000 bales was made, compared with last year's crop of 10,128,478 bales.

The condition of the crop by states on August 1 was announced as:

Virginia, 51; North Carolina, 58; South Carolina, 60; Georgia, 73; Florida, 75; Alabama, 70; Mississippi, 67; Louisiana, 58; Texas 66; Arkansas, 71; Tennessee, 69; Missouri, 72; Oklahoma, 76; California, 91; Arizona, 92; New Mexico, 83; all other states 74.

FREDERICK IS PREPARING FAIR

Buildings Be Put in Readiness for Big Fall Events

Special to the Record News.

FREDERICK, Okla., Aug. 8.—All buildings and fences at the county fair grounds are this week undergoing a coat of whitewash in preparation for the annual county fair to be held in Frederick easily in September. The improvement is noticeable and quite attractive.

Everything points to one of the best county fairs that has ever been held. Agricultural exhibits will be fine, as the county has produced record crops this year and the interest in livestock and poultry is on the increase constantly.

Automobile races will be the main feature of entertainment with a carnival backing it up. The county federation of farm women's clubs are talking of a baby show, but this has not been definitely decided upon.

MONEY At Work

Brief but important lessons in finance, markets, stocks, bonds and investments.

What is one prime essential of a successful export trade?

"Adequate transportation facilities with reasonable rates to the seaboard and to foreign markets form one of the primes essentials of a successful export trade." So says the United States department of commerce. In addition to the purely business aspect of international trade there is the information service and the enterprise of the individual exporter to be considered.

It seems that no difficulty is great enough to diminish the business of the true exporting genius—principally because he knows how to interpret the information he receives accurately and he knows how to gauge the human side of the people he wishes to sell his products to. Failure to gauge this human side accurately involves the exporter in many unpleasant and unprofitable squabbles.

Total Sales 837,400 shares.

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—A sharp break of 6 5-8 points in U. S. Cast Iron Pipe unsettled today's stock market after an early period of strength due to active short covering prompted by the cut in the local federal reserve rediscount rate. Sales fell below the million share mark for the third consecutive day.

Spirited bidding for leading issues gave the market a strong tone at the opening. However, the failure of the speculators on the long side to follow up the advance encouraged a resumption of profit taking which reached its climax when large blocks of U. S. Cast Iron Pipe were thrown into the market, apparently for pool accounts.

Active trading took place in the shares of the railroads mentioned in connection with the "Nickel Plate" merger, the trade endeavoring to adjust prices with the proposed exchange ratios. "Nickel Plate" common soared 5 1-2 points to 114 1-2, a new top and then dropped back 3; Pere Marquette common crossed 68, also top a new top, but fell back two points, while the Erie issues lost ground, the common dropping two points, the first preferred and the second preferred yielding fractionally. Chesapeake and Ohio issues lost about 1 1-2 points each.

Special buying was again noted in the anthracite coal carriers, Lackawanna and Delaware and Hudson establishing new 1924 maximum quotations.

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 8.—The cotton market developed the usual excitement today which always accompanies a bureau day. The market as represented by October, the most active month, had improved in the early trading on the absence of further rains in the west. Immediately after the condition average of 67.4, or a loss of 1.1 points from the July 16 report, the active month jumped to 28.00 and within less than a minute more reached 28.25, or 75 points up from the price ruling just before the flash. When the report giving the indicated crop as 12,351,000 bales was received, the market at once weakened and October soon traded off to 26.85, or 45 points down from the high of a few minutes before.

Little attention was paid to the census report of ginning to August 1, although the total given was only 21,924 bales against 64,381 bales ginned to the corresponding date last season. October declined to 26.40 and December to 26.42, or 185 and 126 points down from the high reached soon after the bureau figures were announced. The close was at practically the low point, showing net losses for the day of 80 to 82 points.

CORN JUMPS 3 AND 1-4 CENTS

Wheat Close Unsettled With Prices Down Nearly One Cent

By The Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Aug. 8.—Corn jumped up 3 1-4 cents a bushel today as a result of the government crop report. Extreme gains, however, failed to hold. The corn market closed nervous, 7-8 to 2 1-8 cents net higher, December 104 7-8 to 105, with wheat unsettled 1-4 to 1 cent down, September 1.29 to 1.29 1-8 and December 1.32 5-8 to 1.32 7-8, oats 3-4 to 1 1-8 cents up, and provisions showing 5 to 20 cents advance. Rains breaking the drouth in Argentina were responsible for depression of values in final trading. Previously the wheat market had developed considerable strength in sympathy with corn.

Delay to the movement of the oat crop gave independent strength to the oat market, and more than nullified the effect of the government report as to oats.

Provisions were responsive to the action of the corn market and of holding values.

WOOL

By The Associated Press.

Boston, Aug. 8.—The commercial Bulletin will say tomorrow:

While many of the manufacturers have refrained from further buying of wool, pending the formal opening of the lightweight season, their ranks have been filled by the dealers who have been trading among themselves so that a fair volume of business has been transacted and at fully firm to hardening rates. Scattered buying is reported from the west at firm rates also.

Foreign markets are strong, mohair prices nominally firm.

Billy Whiskers

By FRANCES TREGO MONTGOMERY.

Mr. Nolan was driving along on a deserted road when he had a puncture.

He took off his hat, scratched his head and thought a minute," Stubby continued. "Then he climbed the fence at the side of the road and waved to a farmer he saw plowing in a field half a mile away. After many attempts he succeeded in attracting the farmer's attention, and he left his horses and came toward us. When he was within speaking distance, Mr. Nolan called out, "Morning' Hiram! I am sorry to bother you, but I am in trouble. I have a blow-out and I can't fix it by myself. Could you come and help me? The two of us can do it in a short time but it is an everlasting job for one to tackle. If ou will help me, I'll give you a peck of that Golden Bantam seed corn you like so much the next time you are in town."

"This corn was something Hiram had long coveted, as Mr. Noland's Golden Bantam corn was the envy of all the farmers. So Hiram jumped over the fence in a jiffy and the two set to work with a will. In twenty mintes the wheel was fixed and we were on our way."

"That delay will make us reach our destination about dinner time, so we will have to ask them to keep us. I am right glad as Farmer Greenbush's wife is noted for her guinea pot pies, and perhaps if I hint around and flatter her, she might make one for our dinner. I'll just speed up a little until we get to the big Mokie Hill after which we can't make much time as the road is bad," said Mr. Noland.

"For the next fifteen minutes we drove as fast as the little Ford would take us. Soon we were at the foot of the celebrated Mokie Hill. It is known far and wide as being the steepest and the most difficult hill for autos to climb for miles around.

"'I'll just take it on a run,' said Mr. Noland to himself, and he put on full speed and we mounted to within a few feet of the top, when his engine stopped short, and before he could put on his brakes we were running backwards down that hill at a terrific speed. When he did put on the brakes we were going so fast they did no good. Instead of him paying attention to his steering and keeping us in the middle of the road, he turned his head to see where he was going. I guess he lost his head and turned the steering wheel the wrong way, for we shot to one side of the road, hit the corner of the bridge at the bottom of the hill and turned upside down in the water. We knocked the top off, but otherwise we did not injure the car, in the least."

(We will hear some more of Stubby's story tomorrow.)

Mothers

AND THEIR CHILDREN

A Digestion Aid.

One Mother Says:

When my boys have been romping hard just before a meal is served, I have them lie flat on their backs on the floor for a few minutes until their muscles all relax. This saves them from frequent pains in the stomach, and the relaxation makes them much less prone to rush through their meals.

If you would like to get a handy little book, entitled "100 Ideas for Mothers," containing the best ideas for mothers that have been published here, send 10c in stamps to The Record News Mothers Bureau, Room 930, 440 S. Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill.

Geers Expects Peter Manning to Hang Up Some New Records

By The Associated Press.

MEMPHIS, Aug.—Peter Manning, 1:56 3-4, the fastest trotting horse in history, is being groomed by Edward F. (Pop) Geers, the celebrated horseman, at Billings Park race track, for an extensive tour of the country this season. Geers also is training his record-breaking pony pacer, Sandro, 1:59 1-2, for the coming campaign.

With Peter Manning, Geer expects to establish new trotting records on both the mile and half-mile tracks. The veteran turfman says of the champion, "Dog-gone him. Every time I drive him he gives me a thrill. His speed is surely marvelous."

It is claimed by scientists that the results of taking from the earth such vast quantities of oil, relieving as it must certain pressure from within the earth, may prove serious. The exact nature of such results is, of course, merely a matter for speculation.

Color Cut-Out

"Maybe the old woman will be gone to town or something when we go to Marjorie's house," said Betty hopefully, "and then we'll get to see her after all."

The three friends, Betty and Roger and Billy, slowed up as they came to the queer little cottage where Marjorie was just the same as a prisoner.

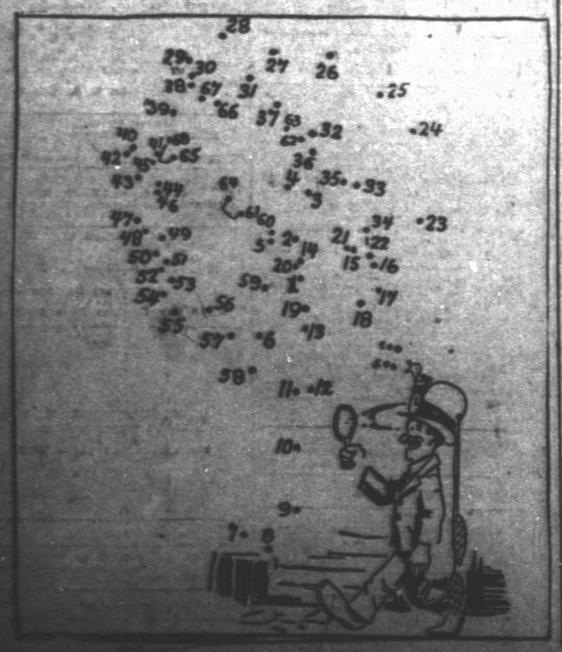

Neither Marjorie nor the old woman was in sight as they came up, but —"Look!" exclaimed Betty. "That's something new!"

There in the front yard a big fierce looking Collie was chained up. A Collie pup played nearby. The big dog's chain was long enough so he could roam over most of the yard.

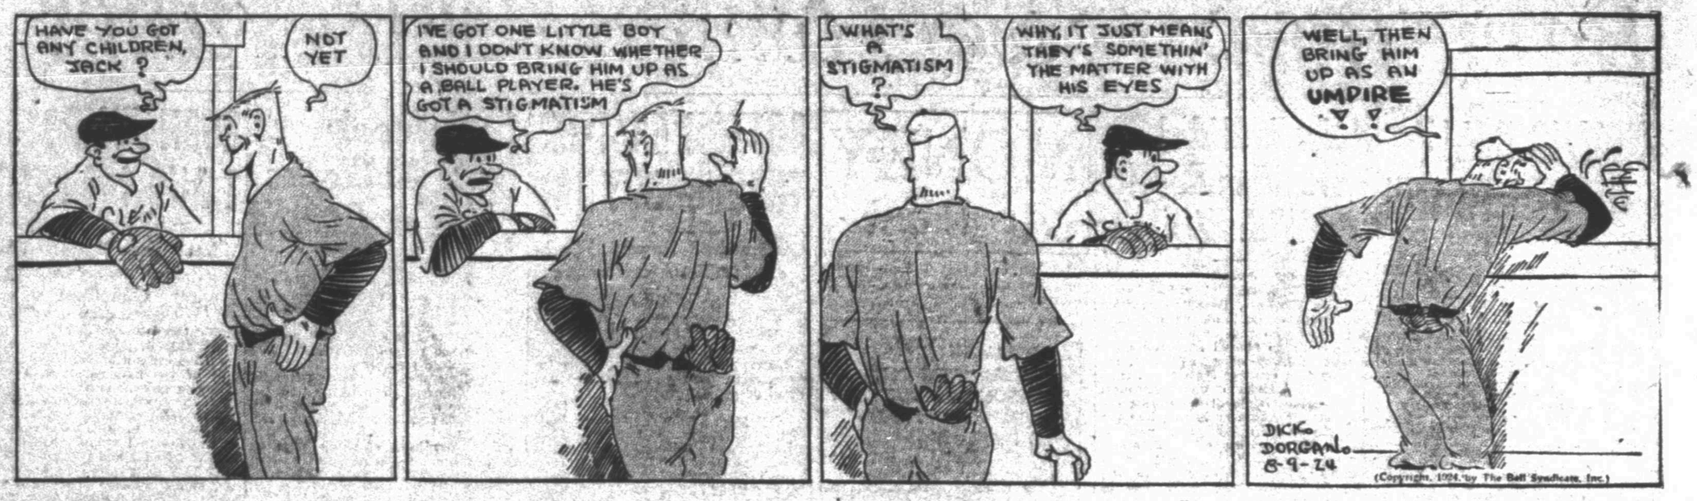

"Oh, dear!" wailed Betty. "Now we'll never be able to rescue Marjorie. I bet the old woman got that dog to scare us off!"

Color the dogs yellowish tan. The collar, which should be pink fits around the pup's neck. Next week the Cut-outs will have more adventures with the old lady in the queer little cottage.

TRACTION CO. PICNIC HELD

100 Street Car Men And Families Gather for Fun At Lake Wichita

Over 100 employes of the Wichita Falls Traction company, together with members of their families, enjoyed an outdoor picnic and social Friday evening at Lake Wichita as guests of the company.

Taken to the lake on two special cars provided by the company, the street car men were treated to light refreshments provided by their employers, and still later a short program of addresses was given. L. Is Albritton, general manager of the company, and others spoke a few words regarding the work.

The picnicers returned to the city via the specials late in the evening.

BURKETT

catastrophe that will witness the downfall of the United States through the malicious and perfidous workings of the ku klux klan."

Taking up the klan question as it relates to the courts, Senator Burkett stated that in this lay one of the greatest menaces of the organization.

Locks Wheels of Justice.

He recited instances of how the klan had locked the wheels of justice in Eastland county and, with a klan judge on the bench and a klan jury in the box, had on one occasion acquitted a klansman who had committed one of the most atrocious and cold blooded murders he had ever heard of.

Senator Burkett was introduced to the audience by Judge A. H. Brittain, chairman for the Ferguson for governor club here. Judge Brittain paid his respects to Felix Robertson and some of the remarks the latter had made on the occasion of his visit to Wichita Falls last Tuesday evening.

Referring to Robertson's prohibition tendencies, Judge Brittain observed that he'd "bet $4 Robertson has drunk more whiskey in a month than I've drunk in my whole life."

He also told of a meeting he had with Robertson here last Tuesday in which Robertson had admitted his membership in the klan.

Old Home Town Stuff

Chief Gunner's Mate Phares, in charge of the local naval recruiting office, returned to Wichita Falls Friday after a 30 day leave and has again opened the station here. Naval recruits are being taken at his office in the city hall.

An expensive pair of glasses, found on the street Friday, have been turned into the city police department and are awaiting identification of the owner at the city hall.

County Farm Agent Guy R. Jones has left the city on a brief vacation trip. He is in east Texas on an automobile tour.

The police are holding a lady's combination purse and vanity case which was picked up at Spudder park following the Thursday game with Dallas. It was turned over to officers and is now at the city hall where the owner may obtain it by establishing an identification.

Dr. A. R. Protho and family left Friday by motor for Denver, Colorado where they will spend several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Rider recently returned to Wichita Falls from Colorado, Utah and other southern states where they have been spending their honeymoon for the past two months. Mr. Rider is the principal of the local high school. Mrs. Rider was before her marriage Miss Florence Tyson of this city.

Fire, caused from a cable wire, damaged a Chevrolet owned by Mr. Harmon as it stood in front of the Mack Taylor drug store on Ohio early Friday night. The fire department answered the alarm.

Firemen from the central station were called around the corner early Friday evening when an automobile parked in the 800 block on Ohio avenue caught fire. The blaze was extinguished with chemicals before much damage had been done.

Fenders Nos. 11 and 12 On Fire Truck That Runs Despite Narrow Escapes

Fenders Nos. 11 and 12 are being tacked on the central station chemical truck, which is undergoing other repairs following its near-disastrous crash last Wednesday with a civilian machine on Tenth street.

The truck has been mixed up in more accidents, probably, and has come out with less damage than any other machine in town. Since being put into service by the fire department several years ago it has answered hundreds of alarms in all parts of the city, making most of them at high speed, and has had more narrow squeaks than the average pleasure car will get into in a double lifetime.

In spite of this, however, the truck has been in only one really serious spill. That was about two years ago when it struck a car at Ninth and Travis, turned over and badly injured the driver. The firemen went to the hospital for three weeks and the truck to the shop where it was rebuilt almost from the ground up. It has been in half a dozen minor mishaps in which a fender has been ripped off. These have accounted for the large number the truck has carried since it first came from the shop.

Fijians Complain of London's Shuffling Feet

By The Associated Press.

LONDON, Aug.—The three Fiji chiefs, Vali, Sukuma and Rabici, who have been visiting London for two months to pay their respects and that of their peoples to the king of England, their overlord, have only one complaint to register. There are too many people about.

"They get in the way when you walk," says Vali, "you can't go straight like you can in Fiji, and you have to keep hopping about unless you want to get trampled upon."

The chiefs will be glad, they said, when they can walk about without fear of their lives and when they can use an elevator without their hearts ascending to their mouths.

King George one morning received the chiefs at Buckingham palace, the pompousness of which so captivated the chiefs that they forgot all the English words they knew and upset the ceremony by talking to the king in Fiji.

Quarrymen of Indiana Collect Relics in Stone

By The Associated Press.

BEDFORD, Ind., Aug.—Egyptian stone relics from the ancient city of Tel-El-Amarna, sent by the Egypt exploring society, have arrived at headquarters of the Indiana Limestone Quarrymen's association. They will form a part of what eventually is planned to be the most complete collection of stone types in the world.

King Tut-Ankh-Amen's father-in-law, Amenhotep IV, 33 centuries ago, founded the city whose ruins are now known as Tel-El-Amarna, on the Nile and Upper Egypt, and from which collection was excavated, according to Thomas Whittemore, who obtained many of the relics for the society.

Quaint pieces of limestone furniture, low-slung chairs, stools, stands, an offering table, and curious utensils for grinding meal are included in the collection, dug from many homes of these ancient ruins. There are also bits of sculpture bearing hieroglyphics sharply carved and easily translated.

Europe Adopts Smoking Of American Tobacco

WASHINGTON, Aug. — American ingenuity, in developing the European taste away from Turkish brands of tobacco in favor of the American product, has developed a great field for the sale of American tobacco in foreign countries.

T. L. Hughes, chief of the tobacco section of the commerce department, in a statement summarizing his observations on a recent tour of 11 European countries, said he found a greatly increased demand for cigarettes. Consumption, he explained, had increased in Germany from 12 billion in 1913, to 23 billion in 1923. The increase in other countries has been proportional. America produces about 35 per cent of the world's total tobacco crop.

Ticket Profiteers Active

By The Associated Press.

LONDON, Aug. 8. — Considerable profiteering in tickets for the current lawn tennis championship meeting at Wimbledon has been discovered as the result of investigations by the authorities and as a consequence committees have been set up to consider schemes to prevent this happening at future meetings.

It has come to the knowledge of the Wimbledon authorities that in some cases as much as $250 was demanded for a week's seat of tickets which were originally sold by the club for less than one-tenth of that amount.

The speculators are known to be members of the general public who secured tickets for the ballot, which, according to the rules, were issued for accommodation of bona fide lawn tennis players and spectators only. Applications for tickets in any other manner were liable to be the object of scrutiny by the committee.

New Material Lessens Building Cost In Russia

By The Associated Press.

MOSCOW, Aug.—Russia's scarcity of living accomodations and the high cost of building material have forced the Soviet authorities to experiment in the construction of what are termed "thermolite" houses, the invention of a Russian engineer named Peter Galakhoff. A thermolite house has the conventional framework of wood, but a liquid material of heavy consistency (thermolite), composed of sawdust, straw and common tree leaves, mixed with lime, plaster and antiseptic solution, is interposed between the outer and inner boards.

When the mixture becomes hard, the house is rendered moisture-proof, resists decay, and is impervious to certain insects. With a coating of special paint containing the same ingredients as "thermolite", the house is also rendered fire-proof. Houses of this type, according to the inventor, can be erected for 25 percent less than the ordinary house and can be completed within less than six weeks.

London Made to Function While City Fathers Flay

By The Associated Press.

LONDON, Aug.—The thousands of London's municipal organizations will, in a week or two, be "working automatically." This is quite the usual thing during the August vacation season, when big concerns like the London county council, the metropolitan water board and all borough councils go into recess so that their administrators and thousands of subordinates may recoup at the seaside.

The wheels of progress will not halt, however, because the various governing bodies happen to be away from their desks. They took precautions weeks ago to issue the most elaborate instructions in order to keep the tramways working, to see that 5,000 tons of garbage was cleared away daily, and that the water supply for London's millions was not likely to fail. Tons of necessary stores were purchased and checks signed for wages bills which run into millions each week.

Whisky for American Market Brings High Prices

GLASGOW, Scotland, Aug.—Seven hundred and fifty thousand gallons of Scotch whiskey recently changed hands in Glasgow in one deal. This is one of the biggest sales of whisky on record since the close of the war.

While the buyers refused to disclose the purchase price of the liquor, it is reported to have been considerably higher than the public has hitherto been paying for such whisky. This is reported to be one of many big sales effected by concerns which are consolidating whisky stocks for export, especially to North America. Glasgow and Liverpool are now exporting direct to America, the trans-shipment at the Bahamas and other points having been abandoned to avoid in port duties and other charges.

Portland to Honor French

By The Associated Press.

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug.—The statue of Joan of Arc by Fremiet, ordered last January by Dr. Hendy Waldo Coe of this city to be placed in a park here as a tribute to the French pioneers who helped to settle Oregon, has been completed in Paris at the foundry of F. Barbedienne, famous caster of bronze, according to information received here. The statue is a full-sized reproduction of the Fremiet statue at the Place des Pyramides in Paris, and, like the original is finished in gold leaf.

British Trade Hindered By High Charges in Ports

By The Associated Press.

LIVERPOOL, Eng., Aug.—Higher port charges in England than those on the continent are handicapping trade severely, it was declared at a meeting of the chamber of commerce. One speaker said that British goods were severely handicapped in overseas markets by the difference between the freight rates at British and continental ports.

F. Russell Roberts, secretary of the Liverpool Steamship Owners' association, said there was a difference of about three shillings a ton in port and handling charges between Liverpool and Hamburg, Antwerp, Amsterdam and Rotterdam. In the continental ports men worked longer hours at cheaper rates.

Unless workmen could be brought to see that the cost of services rendered and goods manufactured must be brought within the reach of the purchaser, trade was bound to leave the country, he declared.

Berlin Has Freak Auto.

By The Associated Press.

BERLIN, August — German automobile manufacturers have great affection for freak designs in cars. One of the latest monstrosities to appear on the streets of Berlin is a motor car with the motor in the rear and so constructed that the front end of the car bears the appearance of the rear end of an ordinary car. In consequence the vehicle seems to be running wrong end first, and crowds stop in the street and laugh at the unusual craft.

How to build up your Weight

TO be under weight often proves low fighting-power in the body. It often means you are minus nerve-power, minus red-cells in your blood, minus health, minus vitality. It is serious to be minus, but the moment you increase the number of your red-blood-cells, you begin to become plus. That's why S. S. S., since 1826, has meant to thousands of underweight men and women, a plus in their strength. Your body fills to the point of power, your flesh becomes firmer, the age lines that come from thinness disappear. You look younger, firmer, happier, and you feel it, too, all over your body. More red-blood-cells! S. S. S. will build them.

S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

MARSHALL HERE NEXT TUESDAY

State Senate Candidate To Speak in His Behalf At Legion Arena

John C. Marshal of Hardeman county, opponent of J. D. Parnell in the state senate race, will speak here Tuesday in behalf of his candidacy, it was announced here yesterday by his friends. The meeting will be held in the American Legion arena and is scheduled to start at 8 o'clock.

Judge Marshal ran second in the July 26 primary and is conducting a vigorous campaign before the run-off voting August 23.

KANSAS WOMAN IS AFTER HOUSE SEAT

By The Associated Press.

TOPEKA, Kans., Aug. 8. — Miss Nellie Cline, former state representative and lawyer of Larned, Kans., having persuaded democrats of the seventh Kansas congressional district that she is competent to accept the gage of political battle in the November election, said today that she is prepared to do her level best to become Kansas' first congresswoman. Miss Cline expressed hope that Kansas women and farmers to whom she has particularly addressed her appeal will bear her to Washington.

Miss Cline was a political pioneer in a state that was a pioneer in granting women political freedom.

CASING AND TUBE REPORTED STOLEN

L. R. Dixon, 807 Third street, reported to police Friday morning that a casing and tube had been stolen from his car Thursday night as it was parked in front of his home. No trace of the missing tire has thus far been found.

NORTH CAROLINA WILL HOLD DEFENSE DAY

By The Associated Press.

RALEIGH, N. C., Aug. 8.—The people of North Carolina were called upon today by Governor Morrison through a formal proclamation to observe and lend their earnest support to the national defense day on September 12 in compliance with the policies of the president and war department.

Neff Names Attorney

AUSTIN, Aug. 8. — Appointment of Attorney Julian LaCrosse of Del Rio as district attorney of the 63rd judicial district to succeed J. Q. Henry, resigned, was announced today by Governor Neff.

63-Year Search For Man Ended

Special to The Record News.

DALLAS, Aug. 8.—A search of 63 years for J. M. Jones is believed by members of the family here to be ended with the finding of Mrs. Jones in Farmington, Tenn.

Jones and his bride separated at the time of the war between the states. He went north and joined the federal forces. His bride's parents, southern people, brought her to Texas. Their son, Charles L. Jones, was born after the separation and never saw his father. For years efforts were made to find the husband and father, the search being conducted by Mrs. Jones, her son and finally by Miss Edith Jones, daughter of Charles L. Jones. Miss Jones by writing letters to every possible relative finally learned of J. M. Jones at Farmington, Tenn., and an exchange of messages causes the family here to believe the search is ended.

SHAVER GOES HOME TO ENTERTAIN DAVIS

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—Clem L. Shaver, acting chairman of the democratic national committee, left here late today for West Virginia after a day of conferences with partly leaders, saying that headquarters for the middle west would be opened at Chicago some time next week and later for western headquarters would be established probably on the Pacific coast.

John W. Davis, the democratic candidate for president will be the guest of Mr. Shaver at Fairmont, W. Va., tomorrow night.

ADAMS OPPOSES SENATOR PHIPPS

By The Associated Press.

DENVER, Colo., Aug. 8.—United States Senator Alva B. Adams today was designated as a candidate for the democratic nomination for the seat now held by Senator Lawrence C. Phipps. His designation was by acclamation. Unless some one files a petition Senator Adams will be unopposed in the democratic primaries in September. Senator Phipps is unopposed in the republican primary.

WILL PROBE CAUSE OF HALL COLLAPSE

By The Associated Press.

BUCKEYE LAKE, Ohio, Aug. 8. —An investigation into the cause of the accident at the dancing pavilion here last night which cost the lives of six negroes and injured several others is expected to be started immediately. The crash came while approximately 500 persons were dancing at the annual negro day outing sponsored by the Elks.

STAMFORD GIRL HURT IN WRECK

Mother Also Injured As Auto Falls Into 10-Foot Ditch

Special to The Record News.

STAMFORD, Texas, Aug. 8.—Opal Goree had a leg broken and her mother, Mrs. W. E. Goree, is hurt as the result of an auto accident last night, the car falling in a ten-foot ditch.

CHILDRESS FAMILY HURT.

Special to The Record News.

CHILDRESS, Aug. 8.—Superintendent B. M. Harrison and family narrowly escaped serious injury Thursday in an automobile accident near here. The family was returning from Central Texas where they have been visiting when in some way Superintendent Harrison lost control of his car, a Hudson coach, and drove it into a ditch. Dorothy Harrison, 10, was in the front seat when the accident happened and the little girl was thrown through the wind shield of the car. She suffered a badly cut head and face and it was necessary to take 15 stitches in her face. Superintendent Harrison suffered a badly bruised head and face. Mrs. Harrison and two other children were uninjured.

C. Pitman, who was driving a car behind the Hudson, brought Mrs. Harrison and the little girl to Childress.

RATES REDUCED FOR REPUB DELEGATES

Special to The Record News.

FORT WORTH, Texas, Aug. 8.—Rates for the state convention of republicans which will be held here August 12 have been reduced to 1 1-3 for the round trip by Texas railroads it was announced today.

ONE FATALITY COMES IN IOWA STORM

DES MOINES, Iowa, Aug. 8. — One fatality, severe crop damage and some property loss resulted from a heavy wind storm that swept across Iowa early today. The full extent of the storm damage was not known here at noon, owing to crippled wire service, but fragmentary reports indicate the storm was general over the state.

The single fatality reported was at Granger, near here, where the home of Ray Lyttle, a farmer, was demolished and Mrs. Lyttle was crushed in the wreckage.

HUNT TWO MORE IN EVANS SLAYING

By The Associated Press.

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 8. — With five of the persons who participated in the murder of Mrs. Rosalie Evans, who was slain near her hacienda last Saturday, in custody, the Mexican authorities today were seeking two others who were believed to have been in the party which attacked Mrs. Evans and her hacienda manager, John Strauss, fatally wounding her, seriously injuring Strauss and escaping with the hacienda pay roll which they were carrying.

Huge Organ to Be Built.

By The Associated Press

LOS ANGELES, Clif., August. — What is described as the largest orchestral organ in the world is to be installed in Hollywood Bowl, a natural open-air amphitheatre in the foothills of Hollywood. It is said that the organ will have pipes as long as 64 feet, with enough lumber in one of them to build a bungalow, and that the vibration in the bass chambers will have so great an intensity that if it should strike a human being, without interfering tones, it would knock him unconscious.
