New Vaccine May Embody Cancer Cure

GENEVA (AP) — Cures are now feasible for one in three cases of cancer, a committee of experts from the World Health Organization reported here today.

They said promising hopes are centered on the discovery of a vaccine which may prevent the growth of tumors.

Eleven experts from ten nations said it should be possible to improve figures on cures in the future, not only in the pursuit of prolonging life but also to make it more comfortable for many other sufferers.

The committee, reporting at the end of a six-day meeting, criticized doctors who abandon "hopeless" cases. "Every effort should be made to cure cancer," is said. "If this is not possible patients must not be abandoned. Pain can be relieved, unpleasant symptoms eliminated and their general condition can be improved."

It added that the attitude of certain medical practitioners may have its roots in 'the long and sinister history of cancer as a lethal disease to be shunned by all, even by the physician."

The experts warned that patients who avoid treatment and doctors who make the wrong diagnosis contribute heavily to high cancer mortality.

The experts said surgery is still indisputably the best method of treatment. But they warned that delay in going to the doctor allows the cancer more time to grow and multiplies the risk of undergoing surgery.

LBJ Repeats Viet Vow; Activates 'Bama Guard

JOHNSON CITY, Tex, (AP) — President Johnson underscored Saturday what he called U.S. determination to remain in South Viet Nam as long as it is necessary to control Communist aggression and terrorism.

He told a news conference that changes in the situation may require changes in tactics. But he declared the United States will do whatever is necessary to accomplish its mission in Southeast Asia.

Johnson repeated the U.S. policy stand — for the 48th time, he said — as he announced that U.S. Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor will return to Washington March 28 for a week of consultations.

The President said that Taylor's visit to Washington is part of a regular, periodic review aimed at insuring "that our effort in Viet Nam is as effective and efficient as possible."

Johnson opened the news conference at his Texas ranch with an announcement that both selected units of the Alabama National Guard and U.S. Army military police units will be used to protect demonstrators on a civil rights march from Selma to Montgomery, Ala.

He accused Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace of failing to perform that state's ordinary police functions, and said his own actions will help the marchers "walk peacefully and without injury" on the march they are due to start Sunday.

Use of the troops, Johnson told Wallace in a telegram, "will help you meet your responsibility."

"It is not a welcome duty for the federal government to ever assume a state government's own responsibility," he said.

Answering a question, Johnson gave these details on the number of men involved in his actions:

He said there would be 1,863 National Guardsmen, about 100 FBI agents, 75-100 federal marshals, 500 men from Ft. Bragg, who are now at Maxwell Field, Montgomery, plus 509 other men in place near Selma.

On alert there is a reinforced battalion of 1,000 at Ft. Benning, Ga. One company could be on the scene in a few hours he said. Brig. Gen. Henry Gryam of the National Guard 31st Division is in command, Johnson added.

Turning to Viet Nam with his announcement of Taylor's return, Johnson recalled words he uttered a year ago and told his news conference:

"It is and it will remain the policy of the United States to furnish assistance to support South Viet Nam for as long as is required to bring Communist aggression and terrorism under control."

Front Clouds Launch Plans

By CHARLES STAFFORD

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Prospects for a Tuesday flight of the maneuverable Gemini spacecraft "Molly Brown" remained cloudy today, but Ranger 9 was given a clean bill of health for a launching Sunday to photograph the moon.

A cold front moved through the Cape Kennedy area, bringing cloudy but very changeable weather. A project meteorologist said prospects "must be considered less favorable than usual" for the inaugural flight of the Gemini program, which holds promise of recouping some of the prestige lost to the Russians when one of their astronauts left his spacecraft earlier this week.

The Gemini spaceship, a true flying machine, is designed to maneuver, to change its orbital path — something the Russians evidently have not yet accomplished.

The mission of astronauts Virgil I. Grissom and John W. Young is to test the new two-man craft. They will fly it backward and forward, even sideways, and alter their orbit up to 50 miles by firing jet-like thruster engines.

They planned to sit in on two reviews of the mission today, at the end of which a definite "go-no go" decision was to be given by project officials.

A Tuesday launch was questionable because heavy clouds were expected over the Cape that would prevent vital camera coverage of the Titan 2 booster's liftoff. Bad weather was also forecast for the Atlantic in the area where the space team would splash to a landing if they ran into trouble during launch.

Officials for the Ranger 9 project ran through a final status review of the mission today. They said two problems uncovered Friday during a mission simulation had been isolated. Both were in ground equipment, rather than the rocket, and both were corrected, they said.

They said Ranger and its Atlas-Agena booster are both ready. The countdown will begin at 7:15 a.m., Sunday with the launch scheduled in late afternoon. The weather was expected to be cloudy, with 12 miles an hour northeasterly winds. Both conditions were expected to be well within the minimums required for launching.

AS TROUBLEMAKERS

Rabbi Berates Rights Leaders

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A rabbi has charged that leaders of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee are "activists and revolutionaries" who want to cause trouble rather than further the civil rights movement.

Rabbi Richard L. Rubenstein, a University of Pittsburgh chaplain, told a student rally Friday that SNCC leaders invited college students to Montgomery, Ala., for a civil rights demonstration because "they wanted dead bodies, our bodies."

Rabbi Rubenstein accompanied about 130 Pittsburgh area students to Montgomery and was present when possemen on horseback broke up the demonstration with billy clubs Tuesday.

The rabbi told the rally, called by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, that SNCC executive secretary James Forman "lied to the Pittsburgh students and tried to use them."

Rabbi Rubenstein said Pittsburgh students went to Montgomery thinking that the demonstration would be nonviolent but were told by a SNCC leader the first night that "you may have to lay down your life in this demonstration."

Forman said "I don't want to get into a public hassle with anyone" but he said he questioned Rubenstein's motives in making the statements.

"I'm not surprised by what he said," Forman said. He said he had trouble with Rubenstein in Montgomery and that there was conflict between the rabbi and students in his group.

Eric Stern, president-elect of the student government at the University of Pittsburgh and a participant in the demonstrations, said, "we were not lied to by the leadership of SNCC in Montgomery."

Stern said at his home in Cleveland Heights, Ohio, the Pitt students who went to Montgomery were told of the dangers involved and given a chance to leave. None left, he said.

"We were assured by SNCC in Montgomery that police permission had been granted for demonstrations there," the rabbi said. "That was a lie. As we moved down the streets in the demonstrations, SNCC leaders went into a high school and asked children to leave their classes and join the demonstration. That was both immoral and illegal." He said the SNCC leaders did the same thing at a grammar school.

Riot Troops Flown To Alabama

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Regular Army troops trained in riot control were flown into Maxwell Air Force Base today for use, if needed, in protecting civil rights demonstrators Sunday on a march from Selma to Montgomery.

Reliable sources reported the soldiers were members of the 503rd Military Police Detachment from Ft. Bragg, N.C.

A detachment from the 720th Military Police Battalion was quartered in the gymnasium of the Craig Air Force Base in Selma. It was not known where the unit was formed.

There were reports that two battalions of regular Army troops had reached Selma by early morning.

Group Rapped For Shushing Story Of Red Space Feats

By HARRY KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP) — A congressional committee today released a report two years old that raps the U.S. space agency for withholding information on Soviet space activities from the American people.

A committee spokesman said the findings are still valid.

Unless Americans know what the Russians are doing, "they cannot judge whether the United States is ahead, behind or at least keeping pace with Soviet space efforts," said the House Government Operations report submitted to Congress.

The slap on the hands came two days after the Russians had achieved a new headline-grabbing space feat with their acrobatic cosmonaut.

The report is based on hearings held by a foreign operations and government information subcommittee in the spring of 1963.

The group's report said its investigations fully substantiate complaints from news media representatives that the National Aeronautics and Space Administration had withheld information concerning Soviet space activities "which, by law and consistent with national security, should have been made public."

The subcommittee found that while NASA had made periodic reports on orbiting objects of the United States and foreign powers, the military put a security label on most information from tracking stations relating to Soviet activities.

"Despite its clear statutory mandate to keep the public informed," said the report, "NASA has not once challenged these security classifications, blindly accepting the military decision even in those instances when it was obvious that national security requirements were not involved."

The space agency, the subcommittee said, ignored two requirements of the law establishing it — "the requirement of civilian control over nonmilitary space activities and the requirement for the fullest possible flow of public information."

The report recommended that NASA "in every possible instance consistent with the dictates of national security," exercise its right to challenge military restrictions.

Spring Brings Record Low Temperatures

By The Associated Press

Record-shattering low temperatures for the first day of spring dipped as low as five degrees at dawn today in West Texas. A frigid 10 degrees at Bowie in North Texas apparently killed the big fruit crop in that area.

Levelland on the South Plains recorded five degrees. Wichita Falls had 9, Amarillo 10, Lubbock 11 and Dalhart 13. Downstate, Corpus Christi had only 32 degrees.

U. A. Randolph, an agent at the Texas Experiment Station near Bowie, said the hard freeze in Montague County was almost certain to have killed the entire fruit crop, mainly peaches.

Other minimums included Abilene 15, Texarkana 19, Dallas-Fort Worth 20, Austin 24, San Antonio 26 and Houston 29.

Arrests Thwart Red's Bomb-Plot

By MALCOLM W. BROWNE

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Police today seized two Viet Cong agents driving into Saigon on a scooter truck rigged with explosives and said their mission was to bomb the U.S. Embassy.

The plot was thwarted when police discovered 25 pounds of plastic high explosive aboard a three-wheeled scooter truck, rigged with a time detonating device set to go off in 30 minutes.

The two men riding it, both presumed Viet Cong terrorists, were arrested and the mobile bomb was defused. The truck was intercepted several miles from the embassy.

Police said the two had planned to park the scooter in front of the five-story concrete embassy building. The detonating device was set for noon — when many embassy workers normally leave for lunch.

U.S. Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor was in his office when the explosives were found.

The bomb probably would have caused major pedestrian casualties but it was not believed large enough to have done serious damage to the building.

Brig. Gen. Nguyen Chang Thi, commander of South Viet Nam's First Corps Area, told newsmen his troops discovered a Communist ammunition-running boat at Cua Viet, about 18 miles south of the border with North Viet Nam.

He did not say when the discovery was made but said the craft was 55 feet long and carried a crew of five to seven.

In Washington, Secretary of State Dean Rusk said Friday he regrets that the Soviet Union "appears disinclined to put its full weight behind" the 1954 and 1962 Geneva agreements on Viet Nam and Laos.

He was responding to statements made in London by Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko after Soviet-British talks on Viet Nam. Britain and the Soviet Union were co-chairmen of the Geneva conference that was to bring peace to Viet Nam.

Gromyko declared that the United States would have to stop its military action in Viet Nam before any negotiations could begin. The United States wants the North Vietnamese Communists to stop aiding the Viet Cong first.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: After 12 years of marriage, how dumb can a wife be? Almost every evening after supper, Joe would ask me if I needed anything from the drugstore or the all - night grocery store. (You know, a woman always needs something.) I would tell him and he'd take off. If one of the kids wanted to go along for the ride, he'd always make up some excuse why they couldn't go. Anyway, he'd never take any of them with him.

He would be gone two or three hours. Then he'd come home with a magazine or toothpicks or some little item he picked up for me, and he would always have "bumped into somebody" who held him up for a couple of hours. Now I realize that Joe just wanted to get out of the house. What do you suppose my Joe is out looking for?

JUST CAUGHT ON

DEAR JUST: I don't know. What does he need?

• • •

DEAR ABBY: I recently read an article in a popular women's magazine on the matter of "allowances" for school children. The author advised mothers to get together with the parents of other children in her child's class and decide on a certain amount so that all the children would have the same spending money, and therefore feel that they "belong". Inasmuch as you came out against "codes" for teen-agers, I wonder how you feel about this?

MRS. A.

DEAR MRS. A.: Again, this is a decision that should be made by each parent, and not by a "group." A child's allowance should be determined by how much his parents think they can and should spare. This will vary, since all children do not have the same economic backgrounds. I believe that more important than the feeling of "belonging" to a group is for a child to understand that he "belongs" to his family, and must live according to their moral and economic standards.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: I have read many letters in your column from people who are concerned about where their remains will be deposited after death. Four years ago my husband and I willed our eyes to the Providence Hospital Eye Bank in Seattle. And our bodies to the Washington Medical School. Whenever I see a sightless person I thank God for the privilege of being able to give sight to another. Willing our eyes and bodies took only ten days from the first phone call. The total cost for drawing up both wills was $25. A cadaver costs a medical school about $500. Do you know of a better way to donate $1000 to the college of your choice? I am 47 and my husband is 50. We have two fine sons, and have had 25 wonderful years together. And we hope to have many more happy years in the future. But when "that day" comes, we'll still go on being useful. Let others worry about where they are going after death. Not us! We're going back to the university for research. Sincerely,

MRS. H. F. IN L. A.

DEAR MRS. H.F.: Thank you for your heartwarming letter. Anyone wishing information on the procedure of willing one's eyes after death may either write to this column or contact his local LIONS CLUB. For willing the body, your local medical college can provide you with pertinent information.

Reds Make Hot Re-Entry To Land In Cool, Deep Snow

By HENRY S. BRADSHER

MOSCOW (AP) — The Voskhod 2 spaceship made a scorching descent into the earth's atmosphere, but it had a cool, soft landing on deep snow, the Soviet Union said today.

The two cosmonauts aboard were reported well but there was no official word on their post-landing activities 24 hours after their descent to earth.

Voskhod 2 landed Friday at Perm, a city at the foot of the Ural Mountains about 725 miles east-northeast of Moscow. There was speculation that officials had trouble reaching the site.

The Tass news agency said "in the dense layer of the atmosphere, the spaceship was enveloped in flames," but the landing was "soft." The Voskhod came down in deep snow, Tass said.

In response to a telephone inquiry, the newspaper Pravda said all previous Soviet space ships were enveloped by flames on re-entering the dense layers of the atmosphere and there was no cause for alarm.

Moscow newspapers carried no new details on the landing and no pictures of it.

Official Soviet announcements said Pavel Belyayev and Alexei Leonov, the first man to leave an orbiting satellite and float in outer space, carried out their assignments perfectly. They completed 17 orbits in space.

But the announcements said nothing about picking up the two cosmonauts and returning to a debriefing area for medical checks, the normal procedure in the past.

Moscow radio said the two reported to the Soviet leaders that all systems of the Voskhod worked well, "we feel excellent" and thanked the leaders "for the trust you have placed in us."

Perm airport officials said by telephone the cosmonaut landed in strong winds and freezing weather. The temperature was 26.6 degrees Fahrenheit with winds of about 20 miles an hour. It was not snowing at the time of landing.

Official accounts said the cosmonauts landed inside the space capsule which returned to earth with the aid of parachutes. Pravda said it was the first landing directed entirely by the pilot inside the space craft.

African Bushmen Are Said Most Primitive In Existence

By NICHOLAS C. ASHESHOV

LOBATSI, Bechualand (AP) — They can hear a single-engine plane 70 miles away, pick out the moons of Jupiter with the naked eye on a clear night and run phenomenal distances through heavy sand at high speed. One was recorded as running 34 miles in blistering heat in five hours.

But sometimes one can't even win a fight with his wife.

Their diet is mostly snakes, birds, rodents and wild plants. They don't live much beyond 45, and though they are black as ebony they get sunburned. Mostly they stand around 5 feet tall, though some get up to 6 feet.

Many of them have just voted in the first parliamentary elections in thhis huge, dusty, British African protectorate, three times the size of the United Kingdom.

Southern Africa's famous Kalahari Desert bushmen, regarded by anthropologists as being among the most primitive people in the world, also have just had their most thorough-going survey to date.

Anthropologist and linguistic expert George Silberbauer, a Bechuanaland government officer, has published a 138-page report here on his six years of living among the bands of roaming , primitive bushmen. Included in the report are his government-requested recommendations for their future.

Silberbauer says bushmen women are expert cooks, who know how to make the most of very unexciting raw material. They marry between 7 and 9 years of age, but there are no children until after the girl's puberty ceremony. Silberbauer says the women can carry their own weight in food plants and firewood for over three miles in the burning desert sun.

Adultery is usually regarded as being a private matter between the persons concerned. The deceived husband is allowed to fight his wife's lover and, if he can, beat his wife. But bushmen women are tough, says Silberbauer, and "she may well defend herself too effectively for him to want to do this."

In general, however, "violence is just too dreadful to even contemplate, and only takes the form of husband or wife beating," he says. "Even this does not amount to more than an exchange of bruising blows — or a wife may pick up an ash-scraper and crack it over her husband's head — but not permanent or continued fighting."

Offenses against the tribal code include bad manners, persistent laziness and unprovoked bursts of temper. An offender is not, however, expelled from the tribe, "but is made to feel that, as his conduct is beyond the pale, he is not nice to be near. The need of companionship is very strong and when deprived of it by tribal censure the offender feels his loneliness keenly. He then apologizes or shows in some other way he has repented, and is forgiven."

Happiness is too positive a word for them. In their desert world they define their ideal as enough good company, food and drink and the absence of danger.

Silberbauer recommends that should special reserves be created by the government for the 6,000 or so bushmen who have chosen to remain in the desert with their traditional way of life, they should not be for preserving these people as museum specimens, but to allow them to continue the lifeof their choice. He says waterholes should be sunk in the central Kalahari district to help them.

Seeks Venue Change In Billie Sol's Case

ABILENE (AP)—A change of venue motion has been filed by the government in its civil suit against Billie Sol Estes and his wife.

The suit seeks to foreclose a tax lien outstanding and due Mrs. Patsie Estes against her stock interest in Pecos Transit Mix, Inc. Assets of the corporation have been transferred to a trust for the benefit of the Estes children.

The change of venue motion asks that the case be heard in Pecos, Estes' former home, rather than in Abilene, where it was originally filed.

Estes, declared bankrupt after his agricultural complex collapsed, is serving 15 years in Leavenworth.

Crisis Due In Coming Steel Talks

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Basic steel contract talks enter the door- die stage Monday with the start of top-level bargaining on wages and other key benefits.

Scheduling of the first such talks came Friday amid indications the United Steelworkers Union was clearing the decks for the final 40 days of bargaining that remain before it can strike the nation's steel mills May 1.

The union announced the addition of two men to its six-member top negotiating team. This was an apparent concession to I. W. Abel, union secretary-treasurer who ran against incumbent David J. McDonald for the union presidency and could take over during negotiations.

Start of top-level talks Monday will lift basic steel negotiations from the company-by-company level and put them in the hands of a dozen or so key men.

Talks involving the union and the 11 major steelmakers resumed last week after a two-month recess for the union's still unresolved election.

Some of the bigger companies such as U.S. Steel still have numerous local problems to settle. The company-by-company talks are recessed for the weekend.

Beefing up the union's negotiating team had been suggested by Abel, who reportedly emerged from the Feb. 9 balloting with a several-thousand vote lead over McDonald.

Meanwhile, union representatives negotiating with American Can Co. have called their full team to New York for a meeting Sunday.

A strike against American Can Co. has closed 35 plants.

The union said there had not been sufficient progress in talks with Continental Can Co. to call a similar meeting.

Lynda Bird Honored On 21st Birthday

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lynda Bird Johnson turned 21 Friday, and was honored at a surprise party at a private club attended by some 65 persons.

Panel Estimates Health Bill Costs

By EDMOND LE BRETON

WASHINGTON (AP) — The multiple health and Social Security bill being drafted by the House Ways and Means Committee would provide a payout of almost $5 billion a year in various benefits, preliminary figures indicate.

However, statistics gathered by the bill's backers list only a relatively minor part of this total as coming out of the Treasury — the kind of expenditure that figures in the budget.

The rough figures with which the bill's drafters are working include these estimates of payout during the first full year of operation:

Hospital and nursing home benefits, $2 billion; optional medical benefits, $1 billion; expansion of the existing Kerr-Mills system to include more categories of health care beneficiaries, $400 million; increased Social Security retirement payments $1.5 billion.

The greater part of this $4.9 billion total would be financed by increasing the base and the rate of the payroll tax which now pays for Social Security. Committee members and technicians working out the financing arrangements are understood to be trying to hold the drain on the Treasury to a range of $600 million to $800 million.

The increased payroll tax would be calculated to cover nearly all the $2 billion hospital cost and all of the $1.5 billion retirement increase.

Half the medical supplement cost, or $500 million, would be paid by premiums charged those who participate. The remaining demand on the Treasury would be offset in several ways.

One would be an income tax deduction change which, in effect, would reduce or eliminate the government subsidy in the medical section for recipients affluent enough to pay income tax. Another would be savings in the present cost of health services because some of the load would be picked up by the new hospital plan.

The federal government during the fiscal year that ended June 30, spent about $466 million as its share of state-federal health programs for the aged and dependent, and the total wil be higher this fiscal year.

While detailed projections were not immediately available, officials noted that about half the persons receiving such benefits would qualify for the payroll tax-financed hospitalization provided under the new plan.

The committee ordered Friday a fresh draft of the measure and predicted a final vote about Wednesday. A vote had been expected Thursday or Friday, so the schedule House leaders had hoped to meet — a floor vote by the week of March 29 — has been thrown off.

Curtis Haukamer of Houston has announced plans to drill No. 2 Thelma J. Cole as a ⅜-mile southwest offset to the discovery of the Vincent, South (Strawn) pool of Howard County.

It is five miles southeast of Vincent, 467 feet from south and 800 feet from east lines of section 36, block 26, H&TC survey. Contract calls for 7,900 feet.

Fourth producer and a ½-mile west extension to the Shamrock (Canyon reef) pool of Fisher County was completed by Scott L. Taliaferro of Abilene with filing of a potential gauge for the No. 1 J. L. Blevins.

It yielded 153 barrels of 43-gravity oil per day, flowing through an 18-64 - inch choke from open hole at 5,227-52 feet. Gas-oil ratio was 1,079-1 and flowing tubing pressure was metered at 450 pounds.

Location is five miles southeast of Rotan, 3,200 feet from south and 467 feet from east lines of section 7, block 2, H&TC survey.

Many Join Oklahoma Lion Hunt

ADAIR, Okla. (AP) — An animal which many contend is an African lion was the object of a hunt today by hundreds of persons, game wardens and a zookeeper armed with a tranquilizer gun.

Some 60,000 acres of brush and tree-covered northeast Oklahoma were the site of the big game safari which hunt marshal, Van Poplin, said was expected to attract up to 10,000 people. Loudspeakers were installed in the baseball park of this town of 400 population to announce progress of the hunt.

Poplin said 800 hunters, armed with rifles and shotguns, were expected. There is no record of an African lion being released in the area, but several persons have reported seeing one during the past four years.

One motorist said he sighted an African lion standing on the Will Rogers Turnpike near here. A rancher, George Hammel, said he lost seven cows and 11 sheep in one month. The animals' throats had been ripped.

PLAN CANCER DRIVE—Mrs. A. D. Dodson and Mrs. Sam Joyce, co-chairmen of the Advance Gifts Division of the Cancer Crusade are shown preparing the kits for the volunteer workers in that division as Ernest Sears, campaign chairman, watches. Oil, Gas Drilling Lagging Behind

By MAX B. SKELTON

HOUSTON (AP)—Oil and gas drilling operations in the United States so far this year are trailing anticipated levels.

Well completions the first nine weeks of the year were 3.3 per cent behind the same period a year earlier. Exploratory wildcat completions were down 6.3 per cent.

Most 1965 forecasts called for increases comparable to those recorded in 1964—a 3.6 per cent gain in total well completions and a 7.6 per cent increase for wildcats.

Only 1,321 rotary drilling rigs were in operation last week, compared to 1,395 a year earlier. Last week's level of activity showed considerable improvement, however, over the week ending Feb. 22 when only 1,210 rigs—a postwar low—were in operation.

All the slow start for 1965 cannot be blamed on bad weather because the drilling situation in Western Canada has presented a sharp contrast.

Total completions in Western Canada the first nine weeks were 6.3 per cent above the year earlier period. Wildcat completions were up a surprising 22.8 per cent.

Western Canada completions totaled 637, compared to 599 a year earlier. Wildcat completions jumped from 197 to 242.

By contrast, the 7,463 U.S. completions were 258 below the year earlier level. The 1,465 wildcat tests in previously unexplored areas were 99 below the first nine weeks of 1964.

Domestic drilling operations have declined in five of the eight years since the industry posted a record 13,034 wildcats in 1958.

Upwared trends were recorded only in 1959, 1961 and 1964. Most industry sources were hopeful another small gain could be added in 1965.

A top official of the American Association of Oilwell Drilling Contractors has described early 1965 activities as extremely disappointing but has said there still is hope the year can have a modest increase.

"It appears possible for some of the early year decreases in active rigs to be made up later in the year," said Warren Baker of Dallas, the association's executive vice president.

"The fourth quarter will afford the best opportunity for 1965 rig activity to recover some of the loss now indicated for the first quarter of the year.

"Rig activity failed to experience normal year-end growth in 1964. A seasonal advance in the last part of 1965 could push rig activity above late 1964 rates."

The February rig activity slump was worse than that of January.

Baker said on average only 1,337 rigs were in use in January. This was 129 lower than the previous January and the lowest monthly average since the war curtailed years of 1942 and 1943.

Monthly averages in 1964, Baker said, dropped no lower than 1,381.

The Oil & Gas Journal said last week the early 1965 drilling reports have followed an odd pattern.

The magazine said rig activity was down in January and February but the rigs in use were drilling more holes than a year earlier.

"Then the first of last week the footage figures went the other direction," the magazine said. "Footage drilled the first nine weeks was 346,351 feet less than that cut the same period last year . . .

Hoot Owl Thinks She's Some Chick

BOGATA, Tex. (AP)— Newt Bryson has this 18-year-old owl who thinks she's a chicken.

Or, depending on the point of view, perhaps he's a chicken who just happens to look like a hoot owl.

Hooter doesn't really care just how you describe her as long as she gets a little red meat and a lot of attention in her backyard apartment at the Bryson home.

She's really an ordinary hoot owl who had domestic rearing with the Bryson chickens. Some of the pupils in Mrs. Bryson's room at the Bogata school found her in a nest near Humble Lake in 1947 and brought her to school.

The Brysons always have had a penchant for odd pets, so Mrs. Bryson brought the fuzzy little owlet home. Force feeding was required at first, and then almost overnight Hooter was a grown-up owl.

Hooter's only companions were the chickens. She fancied herself to be one, even if all her crowing came out "who-o-o-o."

For awhile, the Brysons thought Hooter was a little boy owl. Little boy owls don't lay eggs, however, and Hooter shattered the boy theory in 1951.

Although no little ones came from the eggs, they aroused Hooter's maternal instinct. All the other hens were setting. Why couldn't she?

The Brysons correctly diagnosed her problem and put a small setting of bantam eggs under her. She took on the project with great enthusiasm. The result was five little bantam chicks. Hooter wouldn't let anyone else care for them.

She hatched three more bantams in 1957. There would have been more hatches except that being a goodnatured mother, Hooter let her chicks peck at her eyelids. They might have blinded her.

So now Hooter whiles away her time as sort of watchdog and official greeter for the Brysons. She sets up a fuss every time a strange dog or cat enters the yard.

Twice she wandered away but came home without coaxing.

Now and then a wild owl will fly into the neighborhood and strike up an acquaintance. Hooter has expressed little interest, however, in boy owls.

The Brysons put a wild owl in a cage with her a few years back and when the newcomer tried to become romantic, he got the whipping of his life.

So what's the wise old owl's secret for living to an old age?

Well, it's a great comfort to be an owl and not a chicken or turkey at Thanksgiving and Christmas.

'Gold Coats' To Elect Officers

The Snyder Producers Club, better known perhaps as the "Gold Coaters" met for their regular monthly meeting Friday.

It was determined by the members that the club, which had operated on a rather informal basis since its formation, needed to formulate a set of by-laws. A committee was appointed by Charles Hartman, chairman of the group, to draw up these by-laws.

The committee will also suggest requirements for membership, and an election procedure Election of new officers will be held at the April meeting.

The Producers Club is an organization of Snyder citizens who are interested in the city and its future. They act as the official welcoming committee for distinguished visitors to Snyder, and also represent Snyder at out-of-town functions such as Chamber of Commerce banquets in other cities. Eleven club members will represent Snyder at the Abilene Chamber of Commerce banquet Saturday.

Do Reds Lead Moon-Race?

By HAROLD R. WILLIAMS

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Did the United States fall far behind in the race to the moon when a Russian performed the spectacular feat of walking in space?

Most high-level U.S. space officials believe we trail the Soviets by two years. These officials don't believe we have lost additional ground.

They point out that, if all goes well with the upcoming Gemini shot, we will be first to orbit a spacecraft able to maneuver in space, change orbits and allow the pilot to pick his landing spot.

Astronauts Air Force Maj. Virgil I. Grissom and Navy Lt. Cmdr. John W. Young will seek to do these 'firsts" when they orbit the earth next Tuesday.

Russian cosmonauts apparently are along just for the ride, with control of the flight staying on the ground.

William C. Schneider, deputy director of the Gemini program, said he believes the Russians plan their space shots on a reaction basis.

"Everytime we announce a space shot," he said, "the Russians come up with one. Our program is carefully thought out to achieve our objectives. Each flight is a planned step forward."

In Albuquerque, N.M., Space Administrator James E. Webb told a news conference the Soviet shot probably was not deliberately timed to overshadow the scheduled U.S. flight.

"My opinion is that the flight was right in line with a capability that we have known they possessed," Webb said. He added that he believes the Russians are spacing their flights to meet their own.

Webb also said an American spaceman will step outside his capsule during one of the Gemini flight series, but he didn't say when.

First Group Starts In Cancer Drive

The First drive for the Scurry County Chapter of the American Cancer Society is being started by the Advance Special Gifts Committee, headed by Mrs. A. D. Dodson and Mrs. Sam Joyce, co - chairmen.

The volunteer workers in this division which is actually the first to actively start work in the 1965 Crusade, are Mr. and Mrs. Sonne Umberson, Mrs. Wright Huddleston, Mrs. Scott Casey, Mrs. Lee Smyth, Mrs. Travis Rhoades, Mrs. Harold Bennett, Mrs. Ross Carroll, Jr., Mrs. Frank Wilson, Mrs. Nina Lee Cooper, Mrs. Ben Thorpe, and the two committee chairmen.

Head of the Crusade is Cliff Hale. The year - long job of Cancer Campaign chairman is held by Ernest Sears.

The month of April has been designated as Crusade Month, and the theme again this year will be "Fight Cancer with a check-up and a check."

Door-To-Door Crusade April 27

The 1965 Cancer Crusade will be taken door-to-door in Snyder on Tuesday, April 27, it was announced Saturday.

Mrs. Bob Mahood is the chairman of the house-to-house Crusade event.

"We have two reasons for calling on people in their homes," said Mrs. Mahood. "First, we want to reach every family with our educational material about cancer, and second, we want to give every citizen an opportunity to help support the research, education and service programs of the American Cancer Society.

"The Cancer Society knows that two out of every three families in America will eventually be struck by cancer. Through the educational aspect of our crusade we hope to alert both families and individuals to the danger of cancer and to the increasingly hopeful side of the disease.

"There are now 1,300,000 Americans who are alive and cured of cancer, and in 1965 some 183,000 people will be saved. But we could save more. Most early cancers can be cured. We want to alert people to Cancer's Seven Danger Signals and we want to encourage them to have a complete physical examination by a reputable physician at least once a year."

Volunteer workers during the residential canvass will distribute the educational leaflet, "Answers to Questions About Cancer Which Concern You."

Last year's drive distributed thousands of leaflets and raised $4,361.37. This year's goal is to reach every home with the educational leaflets.

Assisting Mrs. Mahood this year on the drive will be Mrs. George Chamblee, Mrs. Ruben Gonzales, Mrs. Faye Sims, Mrs. James Bickle, Dorothy Taylor, Mrs. Leroy Hessler, Mrs. Robert Clemons, Mrs. Lottie Jones, Mrs. Franklin Pruitt, Mrs. Jim Mathis, Mrs. Dean Blankenship, Mrs. Lester Hanback, Mrs. Dan Cotton, Mrs. Dub Tubbs, Mrs. W. S. Salmon, Mrs. I. D. Tharp, Mrs. Mal Andress, Mrs. Nat Mearse, Mrs. James Thompson, Mrs. E. C. Schultz.

Also assisting will be members of Beta Sigma Phi, member of the Firemen's Auxiliary, members of the B&PW Club, members of Iota Psi sorority, and Dan Johnson, principal of the Lincoln School.

Indonesia Notifies Of Takeover

By ANTOINE YARED

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Four Western oil companies were formally notified today that Indonesian government "authority and supervision" has been imposed on their operations in this country.

The notification said government managing teams would be appointed at the four companies. They are Stanvac, Caltex and Pan-American, all American owned; and Shell Oil, whose officials say it is Dutch-owned.

The notification was given to company representatives at a meeting with officials of the Ministry of Basic Industries.

Reliable sources said the oil companies were assured that their "property rights are fully guaranteed."

An oil company source who declined to be identified said the oil companies' attitude toward the new measures would depend on their implementation. He said too much interference from the government-imposed supervisory teams would only disrupt operations. If this should happen, he said, the companies would have no alternative but to leave the country.

A statement from the Indonesian ministry said:

"The management of the foreign oil companies concerned will continue to share responsibility for the smoothness of the operations of the respective oil companies."

It appealed to "all concerned to keep away from provocations and illegal actions" that may disrupt the oil operations.

President Sukarno had announced Friday that all but Pan-American were being taken over. He acted after receiving a petition from Communist-led workers requesting seizure of foreign oil properties in retaliation for U.S. support of Malaysia.

Their combined operations and installations are estimated to be worth more than $300 million.

The Indonesian government gets more than $100 million a year in royalties from the companies.

Spinster Repays Kindness

TORONTO (AP) — For 20 years, police in a Toronto suburb took special care of a kind spinster school teacher they thought was nearly destitute. She died and now a part of her $111,000 estate has gone to the officers.

It all started when Mary Clara Tucker became ill while shopping and was helped by a policeman.

"I stopped the cruiser and took her to her home," Sgt. Joseph Holbrook recalled today. "She wasn't very well so I kept checking on her every day to make sure she was getting along all right."

When she began improving, he asked Miss Tucker to phone his home at 2 p.m. every Sunday to report she was well.

"She almost never missed in 20 years," Holbrook said.

She became friendly with other members of the police department in suburban Forest Hill. They called her Miss Mittens — for all the mittens she knitted for them.

Last month Miss Tucker died at the age of 85. Her will was probated Thursday and of her $111,131 estate she left $6,000 to Holbrook and another $6,000 to 17 other members of the department which became part of the Metropolitan Toronto Police in 1957.

The bulk of the estate went to the city's Scott Mission for whose children she also knitted countless mittens.

Sgt. F. B. Saul, who was left $2,000, said Miss Tucker never spent money on herself and many thought she was destitute.

She made her own clothes. Her skirts were made of bleached sugar sacks and she only had a hot plate in her kitchen," he said.

UCLA-Michigan In Championship Finals

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — UCLA's devastating Bruins, fresh from a 108-89 romp over outclassed Wichita, are ranked a paper-thin favorite over Michigan's muscular Wolverines tonight in the finals of the NCAA National Basketball Championships.

The Wolverines, Big Ten champions and ranked first in the nation with a 24-3 record, destroyed Princeton's dreams 93-76 in the first semifinal Friday night, using a combination of their rebounding power and Bill Bradley's foul trouble to make it look easy.

It set up a match of the nation's two top teams for the national title won last year by UCLA. Game time is 10 p.m., EST, in Memorial Coliseum. The championship game is scheduled for regional telecasting by sports network over some 135 stations throughout the country.

Wichita Coach Gary Thompson put the favorite tag on the swift Bruins.

"Michigan is bigger and stronger, but they don't jump any better and they're not as fast as UCLA," he said. "It will be close."

The Bruins, bidding to become only the fifth team in history to take back-to-back titles, ripped outmanned Wichita with a 65-38 first half, then coasted in with substitutes playing most of the rest of the way.

Michigan, capitalizing on their front line strength and with Bradley playing under wraps, outscored Princeton 20-4 over one string just before and after intermission, took a 49-38 lead and, for all intents and purposes, wrapped it up.

Bradley, a two-time All-America, player of the year, Rhodes Scholar and captain of the U.S. Olympic team, collected his third foul with 6:04 left in the first half, got his fourth one minute into the second half, and fouled out with more than five minutes remaining.

He finished with 29 points and six rebounds.

Princeton Coach Butch Van Breda Kolff also picked UCLA to win the final.

Cazzie Russell, Michigan's 6-foot-8 All-America, got 28 points and 10 rebounds, while 6-foot-7, 235-pounder Bill Buntin had 22 points and 14 rebounds. In all, Michigan beat the Tigers on the boards, 56-34.

The triumph was sweet revenge for the Wolverines, who suffered a major scare by the Tigers before pulling out an 80-78 victory in a previous meeting.

UCLA simply ran away from Wichita, but has a major worry going into the title game. Keith Erickson, their No. 1 rebounder, has a gimpy left leg and his condition is uncertain.

UCLA All-America Gail Goodrich scored eight of his 28 points, had three steals and two assists in a 20-4 UCLA burst that gave the Bruins a 57-39 lead and pointed them to the record scoring total for a semifinal game, their third straight over 100 points and seventh of the season.

The Bruins, making the most of their brilliant zone press defense, stole the ball time and again and forced the hapless Shockers into countless mistakes.

Jaime Thompson of Wichita led all scorers with 36 points. Edgar Lacey had 24 and Freddie Goss 19 for the Bruins, now 27-2 for the year.

SPORTSCUTTLE

Top scorer on the 1965 Texas A&M freshman basketball team was Terry Trippet of Odessa, the lad who re-wrote Dub Malaise's records at Odessa High. Trippet is bigger than Malaise, standing 6-3 in height and weighing 200 pounds. He roped 170 points in 12 games for the Aggie first - year team. The freshman Aggies won 5 and lost 3 against other Southwest Conference freshman teams. They defeated Texas freshmen twice, Rice freshmen twice and TCU freshmen once. They lost a pair to Baylor freshmen and one to TCU freshmen.

What's this about Frank Broyle's considering the single wing offense at Arkansas? The Razorback mentor, who can moan with the best of them, reportedly is discouraged over talent available for the quarterback position at Fayetteville. He notes that he has been unable to find a current candidate for the man-under position because of a "three-year recruiting void" at that position.

"Next fall, if we can't come up with a quarterback we are going to the single wing," Broyles threatened.

District 3-AAA may have its best balance of power in history in track and field this season. Snyder, a consistent over-all winner in recent years, appears likely to make a strong bid for the district title which it earned but could not accept last season. Then, there's Littlefield, which will be competing in the district for the first time. The Wildcats have been making quite a splash in the early meets, despite the fact that Ronald Sitton, one of the top sprinters in the state, was involved in basketball and got a late start in track training. Lamesa also will be tough in several events, and some of the other schools may offer some challenges in various events.

Track has the center of the stage this time of year at Littlefield, since the Wildcats do not field a baseball team.

Reports are that the TV networks have been disappointed in the "ratings" of some of the specially arranged golf exhibitions they have been airing. Of course the big tournaments, such as the Masters and Crosby meets, always attract good audiences, but apparently the shows with a handful of "name" pros brought together for the specific purpose of appearing on TV are not enticing big groups of viewers. This is one of the pitfalls in the path of the participation sports when attempts are made to transform them into purely spectator events. Although a golf fan may get plenty of thrills watching play in the Masters tournament on TV, chances are he would much prefer to be on the course playing a round himself then to watch a handful of pros perform in show - business fashion.

With some 26 seniors off last fall's varsity squad departing, the Snyder Tigers are virtually certain to be rated near the bottom of the pile in District 3-AAA football next year. The Snyder graduation loss may be the biggest in history for the district. According to word making the rounds this spring, a couple of new coaches in the district are given good chances to contend for the district title next fall. Harold Barrett, who is taking over at Levelland replacing Johnny Hickman, and Fagan Mullins, who is succeeding Jerry Sessoms at Lake View, both expect to have some salty material available next fall.

Coach Says UCLA Will Win Title

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Gary Thompson, the Wichita coach who saw his team defeated by UCLA 108-89 Friday night, picks UCLA to win the National Collegiate basketball title Saturday night.

"Michigan is bigger and stronger, but they don't jump any better and they're not as fast as UCLA," Thompson said.

"It will be a fine, close game. It certainly matches the two best teams in the country," he added.

"It's hard to imagine a college team as strong physically as Michigan," said UCLA Coach John Wooden. "Obviously we are not going to try to compete with their strength. We'll run, and play our usual game.

"I feel if we can keep them from dominating the boards, if we can get our share of rebounds, we can compete with them."

Wooden disclosed that his star rebounder, Keith Erickson, suffered a pulled leg muscle in practice Thursday.

"He tried to run it out tonight, but we won't really know until tomorrow," said the UCLA coach. "It's the same injury that put him out of action earlier this year."

Wichita and Princeton will meet prior to the title game.

Plainview Boxer Loses In Finals

KANSAS CITY (AP) — One Texas boxer—Eddie Gonzales of Plainview—weathered the early roonds only to lose in the finals of the 1965 Golden Gloves Tournament Friday night.

Gonzales, a bantamweight, outpointed Al Robinson of Los Angeles for the only Texas victory in the semi-finals.

But in the championship bout, Gonzales was outpointed by Mel Miller of Billings, Mont.

In the only knockout of the semi-finals, towering Lynn Farr of Texarkana, Tex., was KO'd after 50 seconds of the second round by heavyweight Jerry Quarry of Los Angeles.

The knockout came as a surprise because Farr, a 6-foot-6, 228-pound Texas Christian student, was doing a good job of staying away from Quarry.

Gene Guess of San Antonio was outpointed by Dave Matthews of Buffalo in the 160-pound class.

Gonzales, Farr and Guess were the only three Texans to make the semi-finals. Other members of the Texas team were eliminated in earlier rounds.

Lt. Echols Is Coaching Track Team

Mr. and Mrs. Perry Echols visited their son, 1st Lt. Thomas C. Echols, and family last weekend at Cooperas Cove.

Lt. Echols, former math teacher and coach at Lamar Junior High School here, served as backfield coach for the Fort Hood football team last fall and now is coaching the First Armored Division track team.

The assignment is considered quite an honor, since the First Armored Division is one of the most active in sports. Most of the members of the 30-man team participated in university and college sports. Lt. Echols and Lt. Larry Thirsup are sharing the coaching duties.

Some of the outstanding performers include Ralph Alspaugh of the University of Texas, Lee Carl Smith of Texas Southern and Don Carter of West Virginia State, sprinters; Don Moffatt of Canisius and Bobby Reed of San Jose State, distance runners; David Pitts of Southern University, Roy Clay of Tennessee A&I field events.

Lt. Echols feels that several will make the All - Army championships in May. Their commander is Gen. Harry J. Jablonsky who captained athletic teams at the U. S. Military Academy and coached there for 10 years.

Astros Win Shutout

COCOA, Fla. (AP) — Three Houston pitchers allowed the Kansas City Athletics four singles and nothing else Friday as the Astros won their third straight exhibition baseball game 2-0.

Former New York Yankees star and World Series no - hit pitcher Don Larsen yielded only two hits in the first four innings. Larsen struck out four.

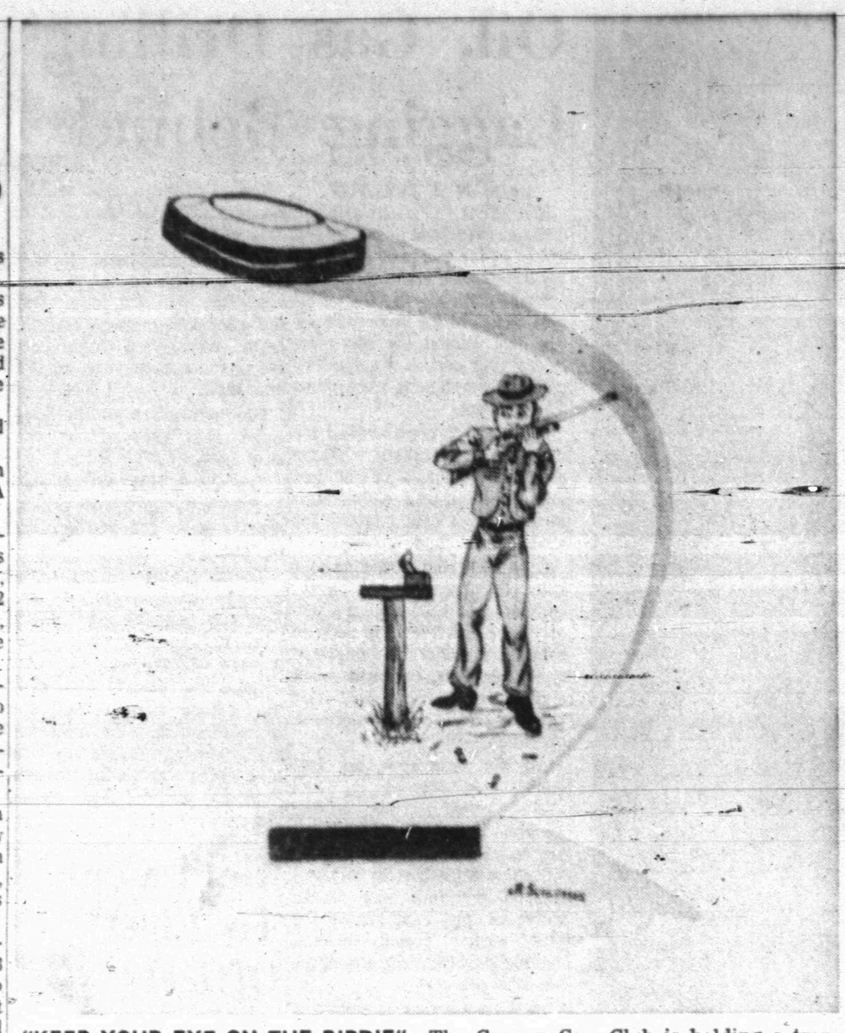

Rookie Larry Yellen pitched a hitless three innings and rookie Darrell Brandon surrendered two more singles in the ninth but pitched his way out of trouble.

Rookie Norman Miller tripled home Houston's first run in the second off Jose Santiago. The Astros got another run on two hits and an infield out off Bob Meyer in the sixth.

Six New Marks Set At Odessa

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

ODESSA, Tex. (AP) — Six records were already in the books as the collegians moved out today in search of more in the chilly West Texas Relays.

The half-dozen new marks came in the high school division Friday, a 24 feet ½ inch broad jump by Tyrone Smith of Carlsbad, N.M., standing out.

His record came in the major schoolboy division.

Division 2 of the high schools hung up the other five records, the best time of which were a 13-1¼ pole vault by Gerald Penney of Crane and a 55 feet 2 inches shot put by Johnny Jernigan of Odessa Blackshear.

There were 10 final events on the collegeiate schedule this morning with Roger Orrell of Abilene Christian going after the discus mark of 171-2.

But the major record-breaking isn't expected until the finals this afternoon when Abilene Christian will be after marks in the mile and spring medley relays, Charles Christmas of ACC in the mile run and Ron Linscomb of North Texas State in the broad jump.

Abilene Christian will be favored to win the university division championship. Texas, the defending champion; Southern Methodist, Texas Christian, North Texas State, Baylor, Texas Tech and Houston will furnish the opposition.

East Texas State and Texas Western are slated to battle it out for the college division title where East Texas and Lamar Tech were co-champions last year. Lamar Tech will be in the Texas Southern relays at Houston.

Texas Western promised records in two of the relays—the 440 where it has done 40.9 and the mile relay, where it has approached the mark of 3:12.7. The record in the 440 relay is 40.8.

Russ Polhemus of East Texas should crack the shot put record of 53 feet 5½ inches, which he shares with Robert Young of Howard Payne. He has flipped the 16-pound ball 57-7¼.

Jim Ewing of Howard Payne has run the mile in 4:14.0 against the record here of 4:24.0.

Odessa Permian, with 16 points in the finals Friday, is favored to win the division 1 high school title with Amarillo Tascosa, strong in the double-point relays, likely to furnish the most opposition.

Odessa Blackshear, with 17 points and qualifying in the four relays, is heavily favored in division 2.

Houston Golfer Sets Tournament Record

LAKE CHARLES, La. (AP)—Jim Grant set a tournament record Friday in leading the University of Houston to the Lake Charles Intercollegiate Invitational Golf Tournament title.

Grant, of Wethersfield, Conn., ignored a cold wind to fire a 5-under-par 211 total for the 54-hole, two - day tourney. The previous record of 212 was set by Lamar Tech's Danny Mason in 1960.

Houston's four-man team had a total of 882 strokes over the Lake Charles Country Club course. Second in the 11-team field was Lamar Tech with 926. The University of Southwestern Louisiana was third with 965.

The Cougars of Houston, champions of the NCAA, finished the 54 holes just a stroke off the tournament record they established in 1960. They were the defending champions.

Other team scores: McNeese State 972, Louisiana Tech 978, Northeast Louisiana 985, Northwestern Louisiana State 1,011, Sam Houston 1,014, Nicholls State 1,020, Stephen F. Austin 1,029 and Louisiana College 1,064.

Astros Get Pacheco

HOUSTON (AP) — The Houston Astros acquired 20-year-old infielder Edwin Pacheco from the St. Louise Cardinals for the $8,000 waiver price Friday.

Pacheco was one of five first-year players the Cardinals were required to carry for the season or make available to other clubs.

He's a righthanded hitter who stands 5 feet-11 and weighs 160. Pacheco, a native of Puerto Rico, played in three leagues last season.

Dick Rhyan Leads Open

JACKSONVILLE BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Dick Rhyan Jr. has the appearance of a man who blends into a crowd and tends to go unnoticed. That is exactly what happened to him on the professional golf tour for a year.

But he holds a lion's share of attention going into the third round of the $57,500 Greater Jacksonville Open today. He's the leader with a 36-hole score of 136 — eight under par.

Rhyan's putter—one he got from a friend the other day—was going strong Friday and he scored 34-33—67 over the 6,906-yard Selva Marina course in spite of its soggy condition.

Almost as much a surprise as finding Rhyan in first place is the appearance of Phil Rodgers back in a contending spot after a year of near obscurity. He broke the course record with 33-32—65.

Bruce Devlin of Australia and left-hander Bob Charles of New Zealand each took 139 into the third round and were in good spots for a foreign claim on the top $8,500 when the tourney ends Sunday.

HCJC Plays In Consolation Round

HUTCHINSON, Kan. (AP) — Howard County of Big Spring, Tex., will meet Dodge City today in the consolation rounds for fifth and eighth places in the National Junior College Basketball Tournament.

Dodge City, the defending champion, defeated Kilgore, Tex., 88-76, in a semifinal first round losers' bracket game Friday.

Howard County beat Robert Morris of Pittsburgh, Pa., 94-80, in another first round loser's game.

Friday's loss eliminated Kilgore from the tournament.

Although beaten three times this season, Syracuse scored in double figures in all 10 football games.

Tigers Edged By San Angelo 2-1

SAN ANGELO — The Snyder High School baseball team dropped a narrow 2-1 contest to San Angelo Central here Friday in the first of a 3 -game stand.

The two teams were to meet in a doubleheader Saturday afternoon.

The Bobcats tallied single runs in the 2nd and 6th innings for the victory. Costly errors figured in both runs. The Tigers had taken the lead in the first inning when Drew Bullard, leadoff hitter, walked, stole second and then went on into third when catcher Gilbert Velez threw the ball into center field. He came on across the plate on a single by Leslie Brown.

The contest was played in real chilly weather, which may have contributed to the 3 errors committed by each team. Both pitchers were quite effective. J. N. Wall went the route for the Tigers, giving up the two runs on 6 hits. He issued 3 bases on balls and struck out 7 batters.

Gary Baty was the winning pitcher, as he allowed only 3 hits, 3 walks and struck out 11 opposing batters.

The loss brought Snyder's record to 2 wins and 3 losses for the season. It was San Angelo's first victory against one defeat.

The Tigers will be in Abilene Tuesday in a contest with Cooper High. They will host Andrews in a double -header here Saturday.

SEC Votes Jerry Rook High Honor

By The Associated Press

Jerry Rook, the Arkansas State College senior, has been named the Southland Conference's "most valuable" basketball player for the 1964-65 season.

Rook, a 6-5, 225-pound player from Nettleton, Ark., earlier was named to The Associated Press' Little All America team and was a unanimous choice on the Southland's all-conference team for the second consecutive year.

He was voted the "most valuable" honor by the cage coaches and sports information directors of the Southland's five member schools.

During his career at Arkansas State, Rook scored an amazing 3,153 points and holds seven Arkansas State school basketball records, including the career point output. Last season he averaged 23.09 point a game and 25.3 in the previous season. He was an outstanding rebounder and free throw shooter. His jump shot was lethal from 25 feet or more and most of his point production came from the outside.

Nominated also with Rook for the "most valuable" award were Arlington State's Bruce Tibbets, Lamar Tech's Don Bryson and Abilene Christian's Charles Cleek.

'Big Indian' Quits After 50 Years

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The Big Indian retires today ending a 50-year career in basketball.

The Big Indian is Joe Lapchick, coach of the St. John's University Redmen who battle the favored Villanova Wildcats in the championship final today of the National Invitational Tournament.

Lapchick, who reaches the compulsory retirement age of 65 next month, has drawn as much attention on the sidelines as the game itself.

Lapchick, who played with the original New York Celtics, the famed pro team of yesteryear, is nationally known for his antics by the bench.

By actual count on Thursday night, when St. John's beat Army in the semifinals, he jumped up and screamed 35 times, got down on one knee in imploring gestures 23 times and went to the water cooler 19 times. It wasn't possible to keep track of his groans.

This is Lapchick's 20th year as St. John's coach, a tenure interrupted for nine years when he coached the pro New York Knicks of the National Basketball Association.

His boys, who have played inspired ball throughout the tourney, vowed before the game to win this last one for the coach and give Lapchick an unprecedented fourth NIT championship.

JC Tourney Into Finals

HUTCHINSON, Kan. (AP) — Vincennes, Ind., in its first trip to the National Junior College Baketball Tournament, will be going for the championhip against a seasoned Burlington, Iowa club tonight.

Burlington, with a 26-4 season record, will have its hands full unless it finds a way to handcuff speedy little Bob Pritchett, firebrand of the Vincennes gang that possesses a 27-5 mark.

Pritchett fired from long range, medium range and on driving layups to score 34 points in a 101-87 victory over Joliet, Ill., in Friday's semifinals.

Burlington advanced with a 93-87 decision over Eastern Utah, with Virgil Watkins hitting 28 points, Roger Blalock 21 and Sam Williams and Milan Vorkapich each 18 in a balanced attack.

The championship game will start at 9:15 p.m., CST.

Joliet and Eastern Utah will play at 7:30 p.m. for third and sixth places.

Other pairings in the losers' bracket:

1 p.m. — Howard County, Tex., vs. Dodge City, Kan., for fifth and eighth places.

2:45 p.m. — Canton, N.Y., vs. Northeastern Colorado, fourth and seventh.

In Friday's games Dodge City, the defending champion, eliminated Kilgore, Tex., 88-76; Howard County defeated Robert Morris of Pittsburgh 94-80, and Northeastern Colorado beat Murray State of Oklahoma 62-58.

ARNIE WILL BE THERE—Arnold Palmer is one of the top golf professionals who will be in Midland on May 3 for an unprecedented benefit exhibition for the Heart Fund. Scheduled to tour the 7,200-yard Midland Country Club course with Palmer are Bobby Nichols, Bob Charles and Bruce Devlin. Palmer and Nichols will be paired against Charles and Devlin. All proceeds will go to the Heart Fund, and tickets at $5 per person may be obtained from Heart Association chapters in the area.

Tennis Team Bows Out At Midland Meet

The Snyder High School Tennis team competed in the Midland Invitational meet Friday, with one doubles team being victorious in the first round, only to lose out in the second round against the top - rated team.

Ronnie Detrich and Milton Kellner defeated Marquis and Curry of Lubbock, 6-1, 1-6, 9-7 to advance to the second round. There they were defeated by Williams and Connell of San Angelo 6-1, 6-0. This was the top-rated duet in the tourney, being favored to win in the finals Saturday. Coach Ken McAllister said that the two Snyder boys played real well.

In boys singles Gordon Stokes lost to Starnes of Carlsbad, 6-0, 6-1; Jimmy Nix lost to Bill Davis of Carlsbad, 6-1, 6-2; Gary Sanders lost to Zimmerman of Brownfield, 6-2, 6-2; and Gary Blackshear lost to a boy from Monterey, 6-2, 6-4.

In another doubles match Aubrey Jones and Jerry Bell were defeated by Jackie Box and Dexter Tooke of Crane, 6-2, 6-4.

In girls play Emily Kincaid lost to Judie Talioferro of Eden, 6-1, 6-1; and Jackie Tidwell lost to a girl from El Paso Jefferson, 6-0, 6-1. The El Paso girl is rated the number three girl player in that city.

The Snyder team will take part in the Lubbock invitational this coming weekend. The junior high teams were scheduled to play in Sweetwater Saturday, but the matches were cancelled because of the cold weather.

The Los Angeles Dodgers listed 24 spring exhibition games in Florida but only six of them were scheduled for their Vero Beach training site.

Girls Steal Spotlight At Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP) — Except for a close finish in the mile and 600, the girls stole the show by setting two meet records in the 25 annual Knights of Columbus track meet at the Cleveland Arena Friday night.

Three U.S. Olympic gold medal winners were beaten — Billy Mills, Bob Schul and Ollan Cassell — and Schul was almost lapped by Dave Ellis of the Toronto Track Club in the three-mile.

Ellis and most of the other Canadian performers had a great night.

Jim Grelle of Portland, Ore., well-known for his strong kick in the mile, whipped past Mills, of the Marines, to win by five yards in 4:10. Mills, who will run for the United States in Great Britain and Berlin next month, captured the 10,000-meter run last year in Tokyo.

Bill Crothers, a 24-year-old pharmacist from the Toronto East York Track Club, legged the 600-yard run in 1:11, three-tenths of a second ahead of Cassell, gold medal winner on the U.S. 1,600-meter Olympic team. It was Crothers' seventh straight indoor victory this year.

The top female stars were Iolanda Balas of Rumania in the high jump and Abby Hoffman of the Toronto Olympic club in the 800-yard run.

Mrs. Balas, a leggy, 6-foot-1 blonde, cleared the bar at five feet, 10½ inches for a meet record. She already holds the world's record of 6-3 and has pending a world's indoor record of 5-11½.

Miss Hoffman, national AAU titleholder in the half- mile, broke her own meet record set last year with a 2:12 clocking in the 880, winning easily by 17 yards over second place Sandra Knott of Cleveland.

BASEBALL ROUNDUP

Mantilla Leads Red Sox To Victory Over Cubs

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

The rabbit bat that Felix Mantilla discovered in the American League last year seems to have stuck with the veteran utility man.

Mantilla, who had only 29 home runs in seven National League seasons before coming to the Boston Red Sox in 1963, suddenly found muscles he didn't know he had. He played regularly for the first time in his career last year.

The Puerto Rican-born jack-of-all-trades fell in love with Fenway Park's left field wall, belting 30 home runs and batting .289 for the Red Sox while dividing his time between infield and outfield.

Mantilla's power eye is on target again this spring. He has hit two homers for the Red Sox, his latest a two-run shot Friday that helped Boston to a 6-1 exhibition baseball victory over the Chicago Cubs.

Bill Monbouquette and Earl Wilson hurled the six-hitter with the Cubs' only run coming on Len Gabrielson's ninth inning homer.

Mantilla's old Milwaukee Brave teammates dropped an 8-2 decision to the Chicago White Sox with four errors — three by first baseman Rico Carty — keeping the Braves in trouble.

Carty, an outstanding rookie playing left field last year, is trying to switch to first to make room for outfielder Felipe Alou, who was hurt much of last year. Alou had three of Milwaukee's eight hits.

Three Minnesota rookie pitchers handcuffed the New York Yankees as the Twins whitewashed the American League champs 5-0. Mel Nelson, Gerry Fosnow and Dave Boswell shared the two-hitter while Jimmie Hall's three hits and two doubles by Tony Oliva paced Minnesota's 14-hit attack.

The Yankees "B" squad meanwhile, plastered Washington 12-5. Rookie Chet Trail drove in four runs for New York while the Senators' Don Lock hammered two home runs.

The Houston Astros got shutout pitching from Don Larsen, Larry Yellin and Darrell Brandon and blanked Kansas City 2-0. The Athletics managed just four hits against the trio.

The New York Mets pushed five runs across in the ninth inning and edged the World Champion St. Louis Cardinals 6-5. Bobby Klaus' bases-loaded single drove in the tying and winning runs for the Mets who snapped a seven-game exhibition losing streak against the Cards.

Bunts befuddled Bo Belinsky as the Detroit Tigers came up with two runs in the eighth inning to beat the Philadelphia Phillies 5-4. Successive bunts by Mickey Stanley and Ray Oyler which Belinsky couldn't handle, highlighted the rally.

Pittsburgh pushed across two runs on three hits and two wild pitches in the 11th inning and beat Cincinnati 6-4. Homers by Jerry Lynch and Gene Alley had given the Pirates the early lead.

Veteran catcher Dick Brown's two-run homer in the 11th inning gave Baltimore a 7-5 victory over Los Angeles. The blow, Brown's first circuit of the spring traveled 400 feet over the left center field fence.

The San Francisco Giants, who got pitcher Bob Shaw to end his holdout siege earlier in the day, edged Cleveland 4-3 with Jesus Alou's two-run triple the key blow. Shaw signed for $34,009.

The Los Angeles Angels breezed by the Jalisco Charros in Guadalajara, Mexico, as Dick Simpson drove in seven runs with a pair of home runs.

The Cincinnati "B" team downed the Puebla Parrots in another Mexico game 4-2.

6 Dropouts Caused By NCAA Ruling

HOUSTON (AP)—Six schools have withdrawn from the Texas Southern University Relays virtually ruining the 14th annual event this weekend.

The six are—Southern University, Grambling, Prairie View A&M, Lincoln University, Alcorn and Lamar Tech. They withdrew Friday after receiving warnings from the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) that the meet was not sanctioned by that organization.

Participation by member schools would disqualify them for future NCAA sanctioned meets, officials said. The TSU relays are sanctioned only by the Amateur Athletic Union (AAU).

Left in the open division are Wheeler Street Track Club (TSU), University of Mexico, Langston, Philander Smith, Ft. Hood and Oklahoma Baptist.

Close Contest Seen In Swimming Meet

DALLAS (AP) — Houston Memorial smashed one record and qualified 10 swimmers Friday to challenge Highland Park in the state high school swimming and diving meet.

Highland Park, the defending champion, qualified eight swimmers for today's finals. Midland High qualified seven, Wichita Falls six and Midland Lee and Houston Milby four each.

Thirty-four teams are entered.

Mark Tabbert of Houston Memorial swam the 200-yard freestyle in 1:51.7 to better the old record of 1:52.6. It was the only record broken in Friday's preliminaries.

Jacksonville, 1964 International League pennant winner, won 17 of 22 games from Richmond.

Sanders To Compete In In Colonial

FORT WORTH (AP)—Doug Sanders, currently the hottest man on the links, and 10 other professionals have accepted invitations to the $100,000 Colonial Invitation tournament here May 5-9.

Their acceptances bring the field to 36 players, the halfway mark.

Joining Sanders as new additions are Rex Baxter Jr., Frank Beard, Tommy Bolt, Paul Bondeson, Rod Funseth, Kel Nagle, Johnny Pott, Bob Rosburg, Jerry Steelsmith and Art Wall Jr.

Sanders took the title here in 1961 and has won the last two PGA events, capturing the Pensacola and Doral championships. It's the first back-to-back spree since Tony Lema won the Thunderbird and Buick Tournaments last June.

Bolt won here in 1958, the same year he went on to take the National Open crown.

Rod Funseth appeared here last year as a champion's choice—by vote of former champs. He won at Phoenix a month ago to claim his first tour victory.

Paul Richards Loves To Discuss Houston's New Domed Stadium

COCOA, Fla. (AP) — Houston's new domed stadium is the most lively topic on the baseball beat this spring, and Paul Richards speaks with an evangelical fervor when the Astrodome is discussed.

The general manager of the Astros thinks the dome will prove that baseball is a game of defene.

"I'd give my right arm to have Tri Speaker to play center field in the dome," said Richards. "The center fielder will have the opportunity to make Ringling Brothers plays every day. No wind is going to blow the ball away. All you have to do is stake off."

"The stadium is going to emphasize defense and prove beyond a doubt that baseball is a defensive game. There will be no wind to carry a ball into the stands. No sun to get in a fielder's eye. No high bouncers because the grass will be soft."

Richards was beginning to warm to the subject at the Astros' spring training base near Cape Kennedy.

"We took a test run in there before we came to camp. The curve breaks. The knuckler knuckles. Everything works just like it did before but there are none of the outside factors that can influence a play.

"For instance, the infield is flat, except for the built up pitcher's mound. Why shouldn't all infields be flat. Why should anybody build up the third base line so that bunts will stay fair?"

Why indeed? Certainly the canny Richards wouldn't do a thing like that.

"No, I wouldn't do it," said Richards. "But I did."

The memory still is fresh of the White Sox tilted infield when Richards was in Chicago, slanted to take advantage of the bunting ability of the Sox.

"We are going to have constant baseball in the dome," Richards continued. "It will be like a laboratory with no trucks. You can plan your defense and play the way you plan. No wind, or sun will change it. If you have it planned right, you'll be there to catch the ball.

"For the first time you will have a background for high fly balls. You've heard outfielders complain of losing the ball against a high sky. No more. Our roof turns the most beautiful blue color for a few minutes about sunhown. Then at night it is a light green.

"In the daytime it is a little hard to see the ball because it goes in and out of the daylight. We don't know yet whether we'll have to use the lights in the daytime. But at night you have no problem."

Richards said there would be a special ground rule providing that the ball would remain in play if it hit the roof, a most remote possibility.

"The only ball that might give us static is the line drive that curls foul before it goes past first or third and then hits a box seat and bounces back into fair territory. I think that should be a foul ball and I think I can put it over."

How big is the new stadium?

"It has long foul lines, 340 feet down each line," Richards explained. "Except for that it is similar to the old Polo Grounds in New York with a deep center field, 405 feet. The distances drop off sharply from the foul lines. It's 360 feet over the third baseman's head and 380 behind the shortstop."

The Houston press brochure mentions that the astrodome is the eighth wonder of the world. The dome probably will finish higher than the Astros.

Day At A Florida Beach Led To Big Treasure Hunt

By BEN FUNK

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — From a hole he had scooped in a lonely Florida beach, a gleam of yellow fire winked up at Kip Wagner. He clawed at the wet sand and brought up a heavy ring, fashioned crudely but of pure gold.

On that spring day, with curious pelicans as his only witnesses, the 59-year-old plasterer found the clue that would lead him to one of history's greatest recoveries of treasure beneath the sea.

It was to take him to a storehouse of $1.6 million in gold, silver, jewels and precious artifacts in the grave of a Spanish galleon that had lain for two and one-half centuries just 1,000 feet beyond the water's edge from where he stood. His big strike was at Sebastian, 150 miles north of Miami and just 50 miles south of Cape Kennedy.

Since Wagner's spectacular find came to light last fall, there have been other big strikes, including one off a beach in the Bahamas that could be just as valuable. A frantic rush on dealers in underwater equipment has signaled the start of the great treasure hunt.

For a few with the proper equipment, the know-how and the luck, it could be successful beyond wildest dream. For the great majority, the search must end in disappointment. But for all, it holds the sure promise of adventure.

The development of detectors that will shun common metals but hum happily in the presence of gold or silver, and advances in scuba diving equipment, could clear the way to recovery of many of the storm-shattered galleons.

Many of the wrecks lie close to shore. At low tide, Wagner's galleon could almost be reached by wading!

The treasure ships, homeward bound from the New World to Spain, went down along a line running north from Havana across the Florida Straits to Key West, up the Florida east coast to Fort Pierce, then across to the Bahama bank. This is the route of the trade winds and the north-rushing Gulf Stream, a river in the ocean running close to the Florida Coast.

Wagner's discovery has opened a new age of piracy, and it has brought back the moonlighter, the claim jumper and the confidence man of the type who operated in the days of the California Gold rush.

"The state of Florida demands one-fourth of all treasure found in its territorial waters," one veteran hunter growled. "This could make pirates of us all. We simply couldn't afford to declare our finds.

"Treasure hunting is a very big gamble. If you spend $100,000 on an expedition and you find $100,000 worth of treasure, you lose $25,000. Only the state profits."

Still to be settled, on top of that, is the question of how much the Internal Revenue Service will take. No policy had been made before, because Wagner was the first to declare a big treasure haul. Wagner's horde has been placed in bank vaults and until the IRS makes up its mind, he will do no more prospecting.

The tax situation and the state's insistence on a split has slowed the development of the great treasure hunt. Florida has declared a moratorium on exploratory licenses until a system can be worked out to guarantee that the state will get its share. There is a strong suspicion that it already has been deprived of articles of great historic value.

After four Miami skin divers, Jack Slack, Dick Tindall, Bissell Shaver and Gary Simmons — brought up 10,000 silver coins from a wreck 1,000 yards off Freeport in the Bahamas, the island government slapped a ban on further recoveries until it decides how much of the loot it will claim.

"The true value of 10,000 pieces of eight is $10,000," says Art McKee, a longtime Florida treasure hunter. "But if they were put on the market a few at a time, collectors would pay $10 to $100 each. Even at actual value, though, a successful hunter can strike it rich."

Only a practiced eye can spot a wreck. There is no towering hull on the ocean floor, with a skeleton hanging from the yardarm, as Hollywood depicts it. These ships were beaten to pieces on the reefs. Rot, rust and sea termites have disposed almost entirely of the wooden hulls.

The telltale evidence will be a long, dark, coral-enshrouded oval that could be a pile of ballast stones marking the decayed bones of a hull, or a coral-encrusted cannon that has not disappeared into the floor of the ocean. The treasure itself will lie deep in the sand.

Such clues, however, will not necessarily mean that this is a treasure ship. Thousands of wrecks of all types lie in these waters.

IRS Issues Warnings To Taxpayers

By ADREN COOPER

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Internal Revenue Service has issued its annual warnings against incompetent and fraudulent income tax advisers.

An IRS spokesman said today that at least two such warnings have been sent out through the service's district offices. They list, in general terms, some of the things taxpayers should look out for if they enlist help in preparing their returns.

The warnings may be especially pertinent this year since more taxpayers are probably seeking help because of the changes made last year in the tax laws.

Anyone who can sign his name is eligible to become a "tax adviser" so far as federal regulations are concerned. But any advisers who defraud taxpayers or misrepresent their qualifications may be subject to legal action under laws covering other businesses.

The government offers free help for taxpayers at IRS district offices and by telephone.

The government offers these tips on how to choose an adviser, and how to avoid getting hooked by a confidence man:

—Be on guard against a person who offers to make out your return for a fee based on how much he can save you.

—Beware of the "expert" who claims to know the angles on how to get questionable items past the government men.

—Never sign a blank tax form and let the adviser fill in the blanks later; it's like signing a blank check.

—Do not sign a return made out in pencil — it easily can be changed.

—Pay taxes only by check or money order, and make certain it is made out to Internal Revenue; use a separate check to pay the adviser's fee.

—Be on guard against the adviser who suggests that you have a tax refund sent to his home or business address.

One Twin Would Die If Separated

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Doctors have ruled out surgery for the Pantaleon family's Siamese twins from Puerto Rico because it would kill one of them.

Ruth and Dulce Pantaleon, 17 days old, have a common five-chamber heart, Dr. Buford Nichols, chief of Texas Children's Hospital Research Center, said Friday.

"At the present time, we would have to say one — Ruth — will die if they are separated," he told newsmen.

The Rev. George Springer of the Holy Ghost Catholic Church said: "The Church feels it is immoral to kill a child. The operation would be direct killing."

A hospital spokesman later said Nichols felt the same way — that it would be immoral to operate.

The twins were brought here March 11 for tests to determine if they could be separated. They are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Silvio Pantaleon of San Juan.

In San Juan the father said the decision "is pretty much up to" the doctors, adding: "This seems more a medical matter than of the Church."

Boston Red Sox coaches for 1965 are Sal Maglie, Billy Gardner, Jim Runnels and Leo Okrie.

AMUSEMENT

MISTAKEN IDENTITIES—These two sets of onstage twins and mistaken identities are key factors in Shakespeare's "The Comedy of Errors" being staged nightly through March 26 at Texas A&M University. The Aggie Players' production of the farce opened Thursday night. Standing, from left, are Jordan A. Brooks Jr. of Bryan and Terry Mayfield of Hayden, Ariz. They play the Antipholus twins. Below are their twin slaves, Thomas Avant of Jayton and Bud Franks of Randolph Air Force Base. Avant, a senior English major, is a graduate of Snyder High School. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Avant, live in Jayton.

Grace Kelly Is Eyed For Movie Role

By JAMES BACON
AP Movie-Television Write

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Hardest thing to find in Hollywood, says Rod Taylor, is a feminine star with boxoffice appeal.

So the handsome Australian is looking towards Monaco.

"I think Grace Kelly would return to the movies if approached right," says Taylor. "And I intend to approach her right."

Taylor soon will make James Michener's "Caravans" in Afghanistan — if he can find the fight leading lady.

"Grace Kelly is right," says Taylor. "And she will sell tickets."

Rod says Natalie Wood is another choice — but adds her agent doesn't want her to go on such a remote location.

How about Elizabeth Taylor?

"You can't separate her from Richard Burton," answers Rod.

Pressmen Honor Nacogdoches Man

LONGVIEW, Tex. (AP) — Publisher Victor B. Fain of the Nacogdoches Sentinel was presented the Sam C. Holloway award Friday by the North and East Texas Press Association.

The award was in recognition of Fain's "outstanding contributions to his chosen profession."

Charles K. Devall, publisher of the Kilgore News-Herald and winner of the award in 1964, made the presentation.

Holloway published the weekly Deport Times. This is the sixth year the award has been made since his death.

The 39th annual meeting of the press association continued through today. The Longview News-Journal, its publisher, Carl Estes, and Mrs. Estes are hosts.

The Philadelphia Phils and Los Angeles Dodgers have 59 night games scheduled this year, two less than the Houston Astros.

THIS IS A SCENE from "The Rounders," a modern day western in color, which is coming to the Canyon Drive In Theater here Wednesday, March 24. Starred are Glenn Ford and Henry Fonda.

Hope Again Oscar Emcee

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Bob Hope will be master of ceremonies for the 11th time on April 5, night of the 37th annual Academy Awards show.

There's a good reason why the academy usually rides with Hope.

"He's at his funniest when he's working for us," says an academy spokesman. "Perhaps it's the challenge of performing before so large a group of professionals. Or maybe he's roused because of the many millions watching and listening at home."

Hope has never won an Oscar and his sneering at the winners is world renowned.

"It's my annual insult," says Bob of his Oscar chore.

TEMPESTUOUS and fiery Gina Lollobrigida matches Rock Hudson word for word in the family quarrel brought on by her championing of a weird minority cause in Universal's zany romantic comedy, "Strange Bedfellows." It is coming to the Palace Theater here Sunday, March 28.

Nelson Says Peyton Place Has Made Him Happy Actor

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — Ed Nelson, whose face, if not his name, is now familiar to a large segment of the television audience, is that rare creature, a happy actor.

And this despite the fact that he will get no real vacation in the foreseeable future and that a vast majority of his fans address him as "Dr. Rossi."

It is simply that Nelson is delighted to be one of the leads in this season's big, surprise hit, ABC's evening dramatic serial, "Peyton Place."

He plays the part of Dr. Michael Rossi in the evening soap opera. It has succeeded so spectacularly that it will be expanded from two to three episodes a week next season and has inspired both NBC and CBS to try the same sort of thing.

"After all those years of playing villains who usually got killed in the end this has been a pretty stimulating change," he smiled. "I've no complaints about anything. Working in a serial is very different from working in the ordinary TV series — we can't have a summer period off when we use re-runs. We have to pump out new shows on a year-round basis.

"But that's no hardship — I've spent enough time without work to make it count as vacation for the rest of my life. And besides, we have a big enough cast and enough subplots in development that every week I have two or three days off."

"Peyton Place" has, in fact, so many characters in the process of reaching emotional crises in their drama-filled lives that Nelson goes for weeks at a time without seeing some of the cast.

"That's good," he observed. "We don't get in each other's hair."

So far, Dr. Rossi has been pretty involved in the troubles of the others, notably those of Betty Anderson, but before very long the viewers are going to learn about the tragedies in his background.

"Actually, 'Peyton Place' moves faster than the average daytime serial," Nelson observed. "Just think, already this season we have resolved Betty Anderson's troubles — she's been married and lost a child. And Allison is interested in a new man. We've had a murder — and they handled that one so that we in the cast weren't sure who was the killer. I was led to believe that three different people did it, and I'm sure that handling it this way was reflected in our performances."

"Peyton Place" has been criticized for its emphasis on sex and sin, but Nelson feels that the serial and its point of view "is good for young people."

LIGHTEST MEXICO

BY JOHN ABNEY

MEXICO CITY — It happened coming back from San Juan del Rio where we spent a pleasant day in the gem emporium of Mr. Pancho Cabrera.

And driving along the highway everything was green and covered with a solid golden tinge from the late afternoon sun. My young copilot wanted to stop and examine some rock formations.

But there was a black sky ahead. Cars coming our way with their windshield wipers still working. So we kept going.

Weather is a sudden thing during Mexican summers. One minute you are tossing up dust and before you can say Quetzalcoatl, it is mud. This is what happened. The sun went out like an electric light and we ran into the rain like going through a curtain. Headlights on.

Wes splashed by a gentleman pedaling frantically on his bicycle. He looked like a wet rooster determined to finish the fight.

And it sounded like somebody dumped a truck load of gravel on us. A rattling din that would be music with your feet in front of a fire.

"Hail," observed my copilot.

"Like marbles," I said.

It gave the impression of a snow storm. The windows frosted over inside and we slowed to a crawl in the line of traffic. The whole countryside was white like New England in December and the headlights reflected light back off the hail. Tires crunched and we could see tracks ahead, three or four inches deep.

"Good thing we didn't fly over," my copilot said.

"A very good thing."

"What would it do to the plane if we flew in hail?" he asked.

And I said, "I wouldn't be occupied with the plane. My thoughts would be concentrated on our welfare."

So he asked, "Would it bust up the plane?"

And I said, "Well, streaking through ice balls at a hundred and fifty miles per hour might result in a few dents here and there."

Several cars pulled over to the side of the highway and parked with their lights on. Gave up the battle to ride with the current.

Lightening blasted with all the wrath of the ancient Aztec gods to brighten the white countryside and give us an outline of the truck twenty yards ahead. Twenty yards was excellent visibility in that weather.

The hail fell was 5.4 kilometers wide on the car reading. Flying gets you in the habit of looking at instruments and watching dash boards.

All of a sudden there was no hail. Just a gully - washing rain. And the rain thinned to a drizzle. Then we hit dry pavement and the line of traffic picked up speed.

So my copilot asked, "How come we didn't fly over today?"

And as we burst into the brilliant late sun again I said, "The sky was wooly and it didn't look like good flying weather." Actually, I don't know why we didn't fly.

But he beat me on the back like a grizzly cub and said, "Gee Pop, you're really sharp on this stuff."

"Experience," I said modestly. There is no use in spoiling a lad's illusions, especially when they pertain to me.

Subway To New Building Doesn't Work

WASHINGTON (AP) — Everything seems to be working in the new Rayburn House Office Building — the congressmen, their staffs, the cafeteria, the gym and the elevators—everything but the most prized possession of all.

For years, congressmen looked green at their Senate colleagues' subway system. Now they have their own, a new $7.7 million subway linking the $86.4 million Rayburn Building with the Capitol.

But it isn't working, despite some optimistic forecasts it would be in operation by the end of February, and later by the middle of March.

A workman standing beside the two subway cars, asked when they would start rolling, shook his head. 'Don't ask me that," he said. "Well, we had to make some adjustments. Maybe next week."

A congressman, who refers to the big Rayburn Building with its maze of levels and corridors as "Puzzle Palace," said he had heard the subway would open "April 1, All Fools Day."

More Legal Moves Due In Ruby Case

By MIKE COCHRAN

DALLAS (AP) — Further legal maneuvering was assured today in the bizarre case of Jack Ruby, presumably still in state courts and possibly before the same judge who sentenced him to die.

Judge T. Whitfield Davidson of U.S. District Court refused Friday to take jurisdiction.

Then the condemned slayer of President Kennedy's assassin rose, with the court's permission, to deliver this bitter comment on the courtroom session: "Nothing satisfied me. So what good did it do? You can't win."

Ruby made the remark during a 30-minute lecture on lawyers, conspiracies and sanity — one of his few public utterances since Nov. 24, 1963, when he shot Lee Harvey Oswald.

Lawyers for Ruby's family had asked the federal court to take jurisdiction, remove Joe Tonahill as a defense lawyer and disqualify District Judge Joe B. Brown, who heard the state court murder trial, for a sanity trial.

Judge Davidson simply turned the case back to the administrator of Texas' 1st Judicial District, Judge Dallas Blankenship of Dallas, for assignment to a state court.

Blankenship said later he would let Brown decide who should preside for the sanity trial.

"If for health reasons — he's had a heart attack — or any other reason Brown wants to disqualify himself, I will appoint another judge," Blankenship said.

He will decide later, Blankenship added, on the various issues in the case. These include:

1. Whether Tonahill remains as a defense lawyer. Tonahill says Ruby is insane and the defendant's rejection of him has no standing.

2. A date and court for Ruby's sanity hearing.

The Texas Court of Criminal Appeals has refused to hear Ruby's appeal until after a sanity ruling.

Ruby asked permission to speak. Judge Davidson allowed the pudgy defendant to talk at the counsel table without being placed under oath.

Roosevelt Eyes Job Of LA Mayor

By DIAL TORGERSON

LOX ANGELES (AP)—James Roosevelt is quite serious about it: he wants Sam Yorty's job as mayor of Los Angeles.

For 10 years Roosevelt has been the congressman from the city's 26th District.

Now, suddenly, at 57, he has plunged into municipal politics.

Getting elected won't be easy. The smart money says short, scrappy Samuel W. Yorty can defeat the towering son of the late Franklin D. and Eleanor Roosevelt at the April 6 primary election.

But Roosevelt is gaining ground with an expensive campaign — television, personal appearances, and a Kennedy-like approach to precinct work.

Why does Roosevelt want to be mayor?

"The threat to orderly governmental processes in Los Angeles is real — and all of us must do our utmost to oppose the forces of disorder and extremism," he says.

Roosevelt admits to no aspirations beyond the mayor's office.

But political insiders readily offer this interpretation of Roosevelt's plans and possibilties:

"If he loses, he can still go back to Congress. If he wins, he'll have a chance to build a following in population heavy Southern California, move toward the governorship or the U.S. Senate, perhaps as soon as 1966.

Democrats are already taking sides.

In Roosevelt's corner — according to Yorty — are Gov. Edmund G. Brown and Democratic National Chairman Eugene Wyman.

And in Yorty's corner — according to Roosevelt — is powerful State Assembly Speaker Jesse Unruh.

Novel Is Analyzed

THE JEALOUS GOD. By John Braine.

It is unusual when an author can make an interesting story out of some thoroughly disagreeable characters.

(The current fashion for disagreeable characters runs toward degenerates, psychopaths, homosexuals, narcotics addicts and various other inhabitants of the sewer. But in this case, "disagreeable" refers simply to some slobs of the respectable middle class, not the crawling insects of avante - garde fiction. These are card - carrying members of the proper slob class.)

The story is centered around Vincent Dungarvan, 30 - year-old teacher in a Catholic school. He is mother - smothered by a whinning old witch who insists that he choose between priesthood and marrying a nice Catholic girl, whatever her identity may be.

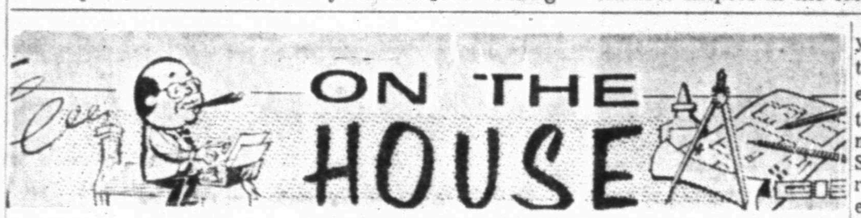

Vincent is a stuffy schoolmaster. He is no homosexual, but has an inhibited, low voltage. He dawdles, argues vainly with his mother, visits one brother who is drowned in split-level mediocrity, and occasionally sees the other brother, a repulsively vapid, prosperous lawyer.

So Vincent meets a Protestant girl, even feels the throb of emotion. He is thrown into such a tizzy when he discovers she is a divorcee that he lets his sister-in-law commit adultery with him.

The whole bit is a question of Vincent's weak - water Catholicism against the sniffy impropriety of love with a heathen. It proves to be a close call, for Vincent is too ready to give up all, and only a quirk of circumstance pulls him out of his tidy, self - indulgent defeatism.

Braine writes well, and is good at this fetid analysis of middle class decay. If his story has a bite, no doubt it is because he writes with an astringent realism about such disagreeably respectable, soddenly proper members of an ineffectual segment of the weary human race.

If wood finishing is your hobby, you either swear by — or at — lacquer.

It's that kind of finish, capable of producing strong loyalties or deep distastes. Not because of its over - all qualities, since it is a durable, heat-resistant, water-proof coating. But because the finisher must acquire a knack of applying it properly to obtain a first - class result.

The rapidity with which lacquer dries is at the same time its strength and its weakness as far as the user is concerned. This fast drying prevents it from being as susceptible to dust, that great enemy of finishing, as other, slower - drying materials. Yet this very quick - drying asset calls for a special technique of application to avoid trouble.

In view of all this, the initial advice to a prospective lacquer user is: practice first on scrap wood or a not-too-important project before tackling a good piece of furniture. Another bit of preliminary information you should not disregard is that lacquer tends to "lift" varnish or paint and so should not be applied over either. (You can get Andy Lang's helpful booklet, "Wood Finishing in the Home," by sending 25 cents and a long, stamped, self - addressed envelope to Know - How, P. O. Box 954, Jamiaca, N.Y. 11431.)

For beginners, lacquer should be mixed with an equal amount of lacquer thinner, preferably made by the same manufacturer. It should be applied in broad, generous strokes, overlapping previous strokes slightly. Do not — repeat, do not — run the brush a second time over an area which you think did not come out properly. It is better to keep going, relying on the second coat to take care of any section which was not perfect the first time. If you go back over a spot, even a few seconds later, you'll only make it worse.

Apply from three to five coats for ordinaty jobs. Although some experts feel that sanding between coats is not necessary, it is generally believed that the amateur will get better results if he does so. The final coat can be rubbed with pumice and either oil or water; or sanded very, very lightly with waterproof paper; or treated according to the directions on the container of one of the rubbing compounds now on the market.

QUESTION: We have a coffee table which I believe has a varnish finish. I want to put on a laminated plastic top. Can you tell me (1) whether the varnish has to be removed first and (2) whether I can leave the edges of the table as they are?

ANSWER: In order to insure a perfect bond between the present top and the new one, you will have to remove the varnish. If you don't, the varnish may come loose in time and so, then, will the laminated plastic. If you use one of the cements which bond on contact, be sure to allow it to dry sufficiently before attempting to put on the new top.

The directions on the cement container will tell you how long to wait. There are slight variations in waiting time, depending on the brand used, but it's usually anywhere from 30 minutes to two hours. Yes, you can leave the edges of the table as they are or you can cover them with wood veneer strips to match the laminated plastic or you can use lengths of the plastic itself. If you decide on covering the edges, remember to take them into account when measuring and cutting the top. Since you will want the top to rest over the newly applied edges, it will have to be larger than if you were not using any new edging.

Gardener's Corner

BY EARL ARONSON
AP Newsfeatures

THIS IS the time of year we like to give you a preview of what will be available to brighten your 1965 garden. The catalogs are arriving to help while away the winter hours.

From the University of Minnesota comes word of a new garden chrysanthemum — aptly named Superior. It produces abundant, bright bronze-orange double, flat - petalled, 3 - inch flowers on bushy plants 18 inches tall.

Superior is the 45th Chrysanthemum introduction by this university.

Chrysanthemums should be planted after danger of killing frost has ended. Plant either small plants taken from rooted cuttings or divisions or rooted suckers of old plants.

Chrysanthemums like well-drained sandy loam soil and good sun. The plants will tend to be taller and bloom later if set in shade.

Mix peat moss, compost or well - rotted barnyard manure and superphosphate (3-5 pounds per 100 square feet) in the soil. If you use peat moss do not add organic matter. Instead use a commercial fertilizer such as 5-10-5 in the spring. Add a side dressing of a complete fertilizer early in August.

Pinch the tips to induce branching and stockier growth when the plant has reached a height of 6 inches. Water adequately and spray with an all-purpose insecticide - fungicide twice a month through the summer.

American 'Survives' In Britain

HOW TO LIVE LIKE A LORD WITHOUT REALLY TRYING. By Shepherd Mead.

This ex-advertising man who wrote "How To Succeed in Business. . ." has been a resident of England for several years, long enough to catch on to many of the foibles of the island breed.

So now he satirizes them, using the format of his earlier book. His main character is an expatriate American, Buckley Brash, who typifies the bewildered States-sider trying to make his way through the fog of British manners and customs.

There are light-hearted jibes at the lack of heating, the hazards of driving, the anomalies of the school system, the peculiarities of English status, the trickeries of caste, the oddities of speech, the supposed frigidities of the natives, the contradictions of what to wear and when.

The author calls this work 'a confidential manual prepared as part of a survival kit for Americans living in Britain." His instructions on how to get rich over there are centered on the fact that capital gains are not taxed, but everything else is.

If the reader allows himself just a second for a bit of reflection, it may occur to him that this book is the result of an odd confluence of the American habit of overstatement and the English habit of understatement. Fortunately the result has some affectionate overtones of admiration for the English way.

Library Notes

The history of science is told biographically through the lives and achievements of great scientists, and chronologically from ancient Greece to the space age in many volumes in the Scurry County Library, Several new books dealing with various aspects of science were added recently to the library's shelves.

Isaac Asimov is as much a humanist as a scientist, and makes the personal lives and times of his subjects as fascinating as their scientific contributions in his new book, "Asimov's Biographical Encyclopedia of Science and Technology." Because the biographies of the scientists are arranged in chronological order of birth, not in alphabetical order, the story of the development of science is told with continiuty. Scientists working in the same period of history in the same or different fields are discussed in relation to each other. Thus chemists, mathematicians, inventors, explorers, physicists, astronomers, biologists, and physicians appear in the book working in interaction with each other, as they do in life. Asimov covers all the sciences from chemistry to zoology. He has not slighted modern science. This book may be used as a reference work, but it makes fascinating reading.

"The Science of Life," by Lawrence S. Dillon, a textbook in general biology, presents the basic principles of every discipline which has to do with the science of life. Designed to give the student a comprehensive appreciation of the nature of living things, it gives equal, sufficiently detailed treatment to all aspects of the living world. Dogma is not presented as fact. The text requires the student to pick and choose between concepts, to decide matters for himself where possible. In short, this book teaches the student to think. The text incorporates new idea, but it does not regard familiar, traditional concepts as out of date. Both the new and old are treated as problems for research, subjects for further concentration. Special treatment is given to biochemistry, plant physiology, and ecology; the metabolic processes; the nervous system, and vertrbrate physiology. This is the only text to show the relationship of the vitamins to the vertebrate hormones. It is also unique in that it discusses the subjective nature of biological observations.

Two books on astronomy have been received by the library. Patrick Moore's book, "A Handbook of Practical Amateur Astronomy," fullfills the need of many amateurs. This book is addressed to the enthusiastic amateur who already has a basic knowledge of the subject but is neither the owner of a high-powered telescope nor a mathematician. The amateur with simple equipment can make a very worthwhile contribution to the fascinating science of astronomy. The book also contains chapters on photography, recording, radio astronomy for amateurs, and astronomical computing. Each chapter is organized for ease of reference, and is illustrated in line and halftone. This book also contains formulae, observational data, and a bibliography.

The second book treating on the celestial bodies is G. A. Chisnall's "Astronomy and Space Research." This introduction to the principles of astronomy and space research goes a stage further than many purely descriptive works. It aims to prepare the reader for more advanced astronomy texts. A modern treatment of astronomy has been adopted in which the emphasis is on the physical characteristics of the stars and planets, rather than their motions and positions. Work relating to gravitation — Kepler's laws, the shape of the earth, and the masses of the sun, moon, and planets — is dealt with in one section; another section is devoted to the interpretation of radiation, including spectroscopy, the study of radiant energy, and interferometry, a study of the interference of the waves of light for measurement of wave lengths. Because of the increasing use of instrumented rockets and satellites in making observations, a third section covers rocketry.

Whatever interests Scurry Countains may have in the many fields of science, the county library has information to help the most enthusiastic researcher, or the person merely interested in adding to his store of knowledge.

ALL ABOUT BABIES

A Public Service of the National Baby Care Council

THE COMMON COLD —
By C. ROBERT GRUVER
Editor, All About Babies

Pediatricians point out that in babies, there is greater likelihood that the common cold will lead to the lungs or ears and cause such complications as bronchitis, pneumonia, or inflammation of the middle ear.

They urge mothers to take extra precautions to prevent their babies from coming down with a cold and extra measures to minimize the effects of a cold after it develops.

Babies should be kept away from persons who have colds and from crowded places such as stores, buses and movie theaters. If a mother who has a cold must take care of her baby, she can give the baby some protection by wearing a gauze mask over her mouth and nose, and by washing her hands with soap and water before handling the baby or preparing its food.

Anything which tends to lower a baby's body resistance such as not eating enough of the right kinds of foods, and lack of rest, will often increase a baby's susceptibility to colds. Diseased tonsils and other defects in the nose and throat may also be contributing factors.

Sniffles, sneezing, coughing, tickling or soreness in the throat are some of the symptoms of a cold. When a baby shows these signs, he should be put to bed, kept warm and quiet and separated from other people, especially other children.

If the cold does not clear up quickly, a physician should be consulted. For some of the signs of a cold may also be the symptoms of the early stage of many communicable diseases of babyhood. If the symptoms are followed by chilliness or convulsions, fever and aching, it may be more than a cold, perhaps some babyhood infection such as measles, pediatricians say.

Parents should not allow a baby who has even a mild cold to mingle with other children. This one precaution alone, a responsibility of all parents, would do much to minimize the effects of a cold and check the spread of colds and other infectious diseases among babies.

MUSHROOM PLEATS — As sprightly and fresh as Spring itself is this mushroom pleated skirt and striped top in double-knit. Pullover parades a row of tiny baby buttons from jewel neck to hem; free-wheeling skirt can look slim or swing in action with its rib-pleating all around. Lightweight, springy all-American knitted wool is a weather conqueror because it has that unique ability to insulate against sudden temperature extremes of both heat and cold.

New Amazing Ingenuity In Pretty Spring Knits

A study of women's fashion buying preference reveals that the number one costume in the wardrobe is in kknitted wool. Retail stores are ecstatic about the trend because these lively fashions sell out on arrival — never require costly delays required for pressing before readying them for customers, and never show telltale signs of being shopworn.

The brilliant colors they come in act like magnets, drawing women into the store. Women's partiality to knitted wools exists for two reasons: (1) Styling is young and tres avant garde. (2) Their "instantly" wearable virtues, with perpetual well - groomed looks that require practically no upkeep care.

It's this great popularity of wool knitwear that justifies and inspires designers to devote endless hours to the creation of ingenious textures, and texture-let's face it - is of prime importance in the overall fashion picture today.

Remember, too, the knitwear designer i the only one in the field of fashion that has the dual role of designing fabric at the same time she creates style; she knows that all of it is her baby!

For Spring into Summer, you'll find original textures that you've never seen before in any fabric. Among them is a striking, new knit - smocking treatment; another with Pop Art expressions. There are wool-knits that have bouncy, loopy curls, some that fringe into tucks; see - through meshes that include a fascinating lattice weave; pretty girl crochets and ruffles.

Incredibly popular are the full - bodied double - knit fashions, produced not only by knitwear designers, but also by leaders in the couture field who have knitting mills create them by-the-yard. This group (referred to in the trade as the "cut-and-sewn" designers) has also turned out wonderful walking suits and dresses in fine "single" wool jerseys that have an attached, smooth lining that feels divine next to the skin. The fabric is so fluid and pliant that it is almost indispensable for the very soft, soft feminine look. It can flutter into smooth drapes or flares, or crease into an infinite variety of pleats from the tiniest in sunbursts or cartridge pleats, to the widest open wrap - pleats.

Look for knitted wools in rich - textured baby shakers, both in jackets, dresses and especially in sweaters. Throughout summer, with all the air conditioning around, a wool sweater is as important as breathing. No fiber can provide the protection that wool offers against the ups-and-downs of the thermometer.) Wear a slim - line woolknit skirt that swings with the free - wheeling grace of skirts - in - motion because the fabric has so much natural stretch and movement. Watch for easy - flexing knitted wools with all - around mushroom pleating and low - slung founces that give them an extra whirl. One of the most animated in the collections is a double-knit wool sheath all a-flutter with long maypole streamers from yoke to hem.

The "threesome" look in vivacious colors or patterns is developing, employing two or three colors for dramatic punctuation There are touches of the influence now, and the trend will be seen in abundance next fall. The costumes flash three brilliant colors in one fashion, achieved in panels or in stripes. Dare to wear the "threesome" look in patterns such as one in a solid color combining polka dots with checks.

Newest in wool sweaters are the "Fun Tops" — wonderful for Spring - through - Summer. Usually sleeveless, they come in a riot of colors and textures and are ideal for costume - mating with dresses, shorts, slacks, skirts, and for beach cover - ups.

Whatever is on the season's docket — traveling, careering, outdoor - sporting, partying, at-homing — there's a new knitted wool to add a special zing to the occasion. With their amazing range of fashion personalities, knitted wools are positively chameleon - like in their ability to adapt themselves to every wardrobe function. They are completely "all - pleasure to own!"

Strawberry Coconut Tarts

For the easy-to-give dessert party serve strawberry - coconut tarts. For eight, prepare a package of strawberry gelatin, using only 1½ cups boiling water and refrigerate until slightly thick. Meanwhile, combine a 3-ounce package of cream cheese with 1-3 cup milk and a cup of crumbled coconut cookies. Spread 2 tablespoons of this mixture in the bottom of each sponge cake shell. Top with halved fresh strawberries. Ladle gelatin over filled shells and chill until firm. Just before serving, garnish with whipped cream.

Louisiana's Dutch Gardens Officially Open This Week

Newellton, La. — With the opening of Louisiana's Dutch Gardens in Newellton this week, Tensas Parish in Northeast Louisiana's rich Delta land becomes the goal of thousands of garden enthusiasts and tourists who want to see something different.

At least 20,000 persons have visited the new Gardens prior to the official opening and have found the thousands of tulips and "bit of Holland" in the Delta land intriguing and completely in character.

A visitor from Holland said he "felt right at home" and pointed out the similarity of the flat riverland to the lowlands of Holland. The peoples of both areas of the world have much in common he said, in that they must constantly hold back the Big Waters with dikes and levees, and they "all love tulips."

Builder of Louisiana's Dutch Gardens is E. R. McDonald, who was awarded last week the Netherlands Flower - Bulb Award for Distinguished Achievement in the Washington offices of Congressman Otto Passman. This came from the Dutch Government "in recognition of his outstanding services in enhancing the beauty of our nation by creating the magnificent Louisiana Dutch Gardens for the enjoyment of visitors from all parts of the world."

The Gardens are open to the public at no charge, and are an outgrowth of a parish - wide community and highway beautification program.

BEAUTIFICATION

It all began six years ago when "Mr. Ed" McDonald of Newellton encouraged several of his neighboring planters to join him in a highway beautification project on their plantations bordering the Great River Road. Along a six mile route from Newellton to Somserset — one and a half miles of it through "Mr. Ed's" Verona and Routhwood Plantations — they beautified eight turnrows on which their huge mechanized farm machinery turned as they plowed and cultivated the big cotton and wheat fields.

Flowering plum trees, quince and peach, green young pines, oaks, magnolia, crepe myrtle, paracantha — these and other evergreens and flowering shrubs soon were blossoming and growing tall in the bright Delta sun. Neighbors who joined "Mr. Ed" in the venture were W. W. Burnside on his Franklin Plantation, Jack P. Mabry on Somerset, and the Panola Company on Blackwater and Balmoral Plantations.

While they were pleased with the results, it was "Mr. Ed" whose heart was caught most vividly with the vision of still greater color and beauty. Three years ago, then, he began the massive planting of rows upon rows of tulips in his own turnrows on Verona and Routhwood Plantations. So enthusiastic was the response of Tensas Parish citizens to these brilliant plantings that his tulip show soon became a Parish - wide project.

Led by "Mr. Ed", the town of Newellton became a miniature tulip garden with banks, business establishments, service stations, and residences large and small participating by planting beds of fine imported tulips. For humbler homes that could not afford the expensive bulbs, "Mr. Ed" was there with a gift of imported bulbs large enough to make an inspiring showing.

The Newellton Town Council gave a vote of confidence to the community beautification project by encouraging all citizens to participate. Ladies of the Newellton Garden Club designed and planted one of "Mr. Ed's" turnrows and decorated their plot with lifesize cutout figures in typical Dutch costume. Meantime, somewhere along the line, Newellton won first place in the Fifth District and fourth place in the State in the "Louisiana's Cleanest City Contest."

Catching the spirit, the Tensas Parish Police Jury encouraged all citizens to make this a parish - wide project and towns people of nearby St. Joseph began planting tulips and other Spring bulbs in their charming oldtime riverport town. Last year five thousand bulbs bloomed brilliantly in well designed beds surrounding the handsomely restored Tensas Parish Courthouse in St. Joseph.

All over the Parish now, people everywhere were planting tulips. Out on the Great River Road, at the largest of his turnrows on Verona Plantation, "Mr. Ed" planted thousands of bulbs in graceful, sweeping rows of reds, yellows, pinks and whites. As the focal point of his most elaborate tulip garden, he placed a large authentically scaled Dutch windmill. Four of his grandchildren, dressed in imported Dutch costumes, helped serve as hosts to travelers who stopped to sign the register, excited by this colorful display on the Great River Road.

Results of the tulip planting extravaganza in Tensas Parish were spectacular. On a single day, Easter of '64, six thousand tourists visited the brilliantly colored turnrows along the Great River Road and toured the towns of Newellton and St. Joseph — more visitors than Tensas Parish ordinarily sees in a whole year.

DUTCH GARDENS

Inspired by this dramatic success, "Mr. Ed" projected his dream of beauty for Tensas still further and this year established the twelve acre Louisiana Dutch Gardens and Dutch Village on his Durossett Plantation, a short distance off the Great River Road. Here visitors may stroll through four acres of flower gardens — tulips, aenemones, renunculas and jonquils in the early Spring, followed by a chain of other flowers throughout Summer and Fall. Over two hundred and fifty flowering trees and other decorative shrubbery form a backdrop for a brilliant floral display. Pink stone paths of authentic Dutch design lace the flower beds, bordered now by green winter grasses. Two windmills, copies of those built in Holland in the 1800's for pumping water over dikes, form focal points at corners of the gardens.

Adjacent to the Gardens, Dutch Village houses a gift shop containing a wide variety of imported items, from clay pipes to tapestries and including wooden shoes, Delft china, imported Dutch candies, cheeses, sausages and pastries. A snack bar and an attractive patio provide a comfortable resting place for the many visitors whom "Mr. Ed" expects to visit his Dutch Gardens.

The gayly colored rooms of Dutch Village are decorated with murals painted by one of Louisiana's outstanding artists, Louis Sicard of Shreveport, and by Harry Durgin of Monroe.

The Highway and Community Beautification Project of Tensas Parish, which began six years ago along the Great River Road near Newellton, shows what can happen when a total community works together to create a more beautiful America by beautifying its own small corner.

The brilliant display of tulips in Dutch Gardens is probably the first great outdoor show of these blossoms in the United States because of the warm climate of the Delta land.

Black Cherry Brandy Torte

Almost as quickly as you can don your carnival mask and dart away to the ball, you can prepare a frosty dessert for eight luscious portions, you will need a baker's loaf pound cake. Cut it into 3 equal - sized, lengthwise layers. For the filling: Drain dark, pitted sweet cherries from a 1 pound, 13 ounce can, saving ½ cup of the juice. Place it in a small saucepan together with 1 tablespoon cornstarch. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until it starts to boil. Continue cooking and stirring another 3 minutes. Remove from heat, add cherries and ½ teaspoon brandy extract. Cool and spread between cake layers. Whip together ½ teaspoon brandy extract, 1 teaspoon sugar and ½ cup heavy cream. Snowcap the top of the cake with it and chill until serving time. Freeze it, if you like.

A delicious salad combination: spinach leaves, paper-thin onion rings and orange sections tossed with French dressing.

Lafitte's Bread Pudding

When that bold French privateer, Jean Lafitte, went ashore at New Orleans to celebrate, it is rumored he doted on a delectable bread pudding over which was lavishly ladled a sauce. You can create one such from your favorite bread pudding which is baked with plump raisins. Now for the sauce. Take 3 egg yolks, beat slightly. Then add 1 cup sugar, beating all the while. Add 1½ cups of half-and - half, 1 tablespoon cornstarch and cook over low heat until it comes to a boil, stirring constantly. Place over hot water and cook until mixture is thickened and done, about 15 minutes. Add 2 ounces of brandy and cool. Ladle over 8 individual portions of warm bread pudding.

Grandparents At 50 Has Amusing Moments

THE PINK CIGAR. By Martin Panzer.

The main audience for Panzer's comic observations will be the semi - young set, which may feel itself a little foolish when it is propelled from fun and games into the rocking chair brigade.

For, as the book says, there is a new world — "the world of young grandparents. Today life begins with your child's baby."

These are the days of many student marriages and early parenthood, and a good many people who are fiftish, but still feeling pretty spry, are becoming grandparents. And never mind the cane, or the lavender and old lace.

In the author's case, there was a 24-year-old daughter whose husband still was working on his doctorate in physics.

The new Grandpa and Grandma found there were all sorts of new, surprising situations — remote - control problems of baby care, delicate protocol with the son-in-law and the relatives-by-marriage, perplexities over visiting arrangements at the old split - level homestead, touchy questions of the new baby's progress, and many others.

And in this household, there also were some continuing problems of parenthood, involving a young daughter and a young son.

Panzer makes the whole affair lightly amusing.

Texas Prisons Challenged With Remolding Of Young

Editor's note: The Texas prison system doesn't give up on the young. It tries to return them to society never to enter prison again. Here is how it is trying.

By TOM JOHNSON

HUNTSVILLE (AP)—"Courts are asking us to do in two to three years what parents didn't do in 17 to 18 years.

"It's quite a challenge," said Warden Jack Kyle, 34, administrator of the Ferguson Unit of Texas prisons.

Considered among the finest prison facilities of its kind anywhere, Ferguson houses only male first offenders, aged 17 to 21.

"Everything we do here revolves around one central idea: To try to keep the men from coming back to prison," Kyle said.

About 1,100 are confined at Ferguson, or nearly one - tenth of the Texas prison population. They are segregated from older men.

Kyle said less than 8 per cent of those released from Ferguson since it opened in 1962 have been returned.

"This compares with a national average of 50 per cent for this type of inmate," he said.

The Ferguson youths work hard on the prison farms and in the shops. Work is only part of the program.

Equally important are education and recreation.

Seventeen per cent of the Ferguson inmates are illiterate. Only 4 per cent are high school graduates and half have less than an eighth-grade education.

Inmates are required to attend a minimum of two half-days of general education classes a week. In addition, about two-thirds attend more classes on a voluntary basis.

Correspondence courses are available and encouraged. As a result, one out of five (60 of 300) inmates released during the first year of operation completed requirements for high school equivalency diplomas.

Ferguson inmates also are encouraged to use the unit's 7,000 volume library. The day room, open at all hours after work and before bedtime, offers chess, dominoes and television. Or just a chance to sit and think outside a cell.

Also available is a modern craft shop which affords an opportunity to pursue a hobby or learn a new skill.

The unit provides compulsory training in recreation and physical fitness.

"Most of these boys never learned to play, just as they never learned to work," Kyle said.

A modern, fully equipped gymnasium gets hard usage, and the unit's basketball team, the "Falcons," competes in a tournament with nine "free world" schools in the area.

Kyle taught school and was a football coach at Huntsville from 1952 until 1958, when he joined the prisons department.

"We like to think our three-fold program of work, education and recreation is unique," he said.

"We're proud of it, and especially we're proud of the two Department of Corrections directors who made it possible: The late O. B. Ellis and Dr. George Beto."

Ferguson, a handsome, meticulously clean institution, was built entirely by inmate labor for $4.5 million. It would have cost $15 million had it been built commercially.

It is 18 miles north of Huntsville. The main building contains a corridor nearly a quarter of a mile long, 936 individual cells, two dormitories with a 100-bed capacity, an emergency hospital, the gym, the library, two dining halls seating four men to a table with capacity of 700, a religious chapel, a laundry, class rooms and shops.

The 14 cell blocks are inspected every morning. Records are kept, and inmates of the cleanest blocks are awarded extra visiting privileges and even telephone calls to relatives.

"I like to recall what the late O. B. Ellis said: 'You can catch more flies with honey than with vinegar,' " Kyle said. He added:

"If we can teach these boys to live like decent human beings on the inside, there's a good chance they'll live that way on the outside, too."

Junior Editors Quiz on DUST

QUESTION: What is dust composed of?

• • •

ANSWER: What is considered true dust is made of particles of matter small enough to float in the air—smaller than one one-thousandth of a millimeter. There is much coarser dust, of course, of a larger size. Dust is composed of tiny fragments of a great many materials, such as mineral matter, cinders, soot, ashes, particles of wool, cotton and hair as well as wood shreds, pollen grains and spores from plants. Outside, the wind picks up much mineral matter, such as the crumbling substance of rock, as well as fragments of soil from mud flats and plowed fields. These sources account for most of the dust of the atmosphere. When it is very dry, much precious topsoil may be carried off from the land as dust. In the 1930's, great damage was caused to farm lands in some of the states by dust storms moving in this way.

Dust, however, is more than a nuisance in your room or a threat to farmland. Carried high in the air, dust helps to form rain, for water vapor often condenses on the tiny particles, becoming heavy enough to fall. Did you know that dust can help in detective work? By analyzing dust collected in a room, one may get vital information about the people who have lived there.

FOR YOU TO DO: Next time you dust your room (why not do it now?) look at the dust in your dustpan and think how curious it is that some of it may be coming down again some day—along with cooling, refreshing rain. 3/20

Fascism Reappears In Britain

By HAL R. COOPER

LONDON (AP) — Fascism in Britain, once believed to be as dead as Hitler and Mussolini, is again making a splash on the national scene.

The Fascists have been spurred into renewed activity by a race issue.

Indians, West Indians, Africans and Pakistanis have flooded into the country, seeking employment. Now about 850,000 are competing for jobs and housing with the native whites.

In communities where these immigrants are concentrated the situation is tailor-made for disorder and propaganda.

Sir Oswald Mosley, whose prewar Fascists touched off riots by marching in the heavily Jewish east side of London, is soft-pedaling anti-Semitism these days.

He now calls his group the Union Movement and is trying to sell the idea of a common government for Britain, Europe and Africa — with whites and nonwhites segregated. Although now 68, Sir Oswald still hopes to be the leader of this visionary merger.

The activist prong is the National Socialist party, run by a pudgy, 42-year-old ex-teacher and former door-to-door soap salesman named Colin Jordan.

The National Socialists wear Nazi-style uniforms, including swastika arm bands and jack boots, and are pledged "to advance racial dignity and justice for each race on the basis of total and absolute geographic separation of the races."

Their party manifesto promises also "to find and accomplish on a world-wide scale a just and final settlement of the Jewish problem."

The National Socialists are coy about size, but from all indications they are numbered in the hundreds.

STREET AND SANITATION DEPARTMENTS: 3rd In A Series On The Functions Of Your City Government . . .

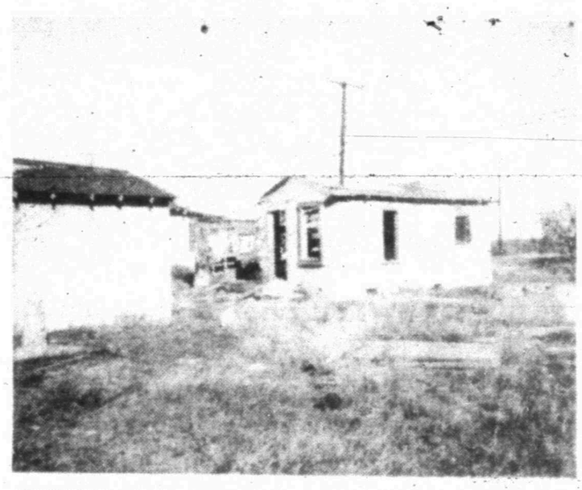

CONSTANT MAINTENANCE is necessary to keep traffic signals working properly. Here City Electrician W. A. Cooper is shown working on a part of the control mechanism for one of these signals.

PRESENTLY UNDERWAY in Snyder is the first phase of a beautification project on Deep Creek. Authorized by the City Council, the first block to be improved in the project is between Twenty-sixth and Twenty-seventh Streets. A bulldozer is shown smoothing and shaping the creek bank.

IT TAKES ALL KINDS OF SIGNS to help with the flow of traffic over Snyder's 116 miles of streets. Pictured, in a corner of the Street Department's warehouse, are just some of the types of signs used by the department. Of the city's 116 miles of streets, 73 miles are paved, and during the past year, 382 tons of rock asphalt patching material were used in maintaining these streets. The Department has five full-time employes, and operates under a $95,000 yearly budget.

TYPICAL of the type of deserted buildings which city street and sanitation crews are removing as part of the city's continuing clean - up campaign are these shacks which were owned by a California man.

IN THE NEXT STEP city equipment and crews of the street department are shown preparing holes along the upper creek bank for placement of the trees. Total cost of beautifying the one-block area is expected to be less than $500.

SOON TO BE WIDENED to four lanes is this bridge on the western edge of Snyder. The Texas Highway Department, at the request of the city is widening U. S. 180 from Avenue Z one mile west to the city limits. Local government costs of the project are being borne equally by the city and county. The city and county have also jointly requested Highway Department widening of Avenue S (Tex. 208) from Thirteenth Street north to the city limits at Huffman Avenue. This project is presently under study by the Texas Highway Department.

WITH THE OWNER'S permission such abandoned buildings are razed by the city. Shown is a view of the same lot as city crews complete the clean-up work there. Beautification is one goal of the campaign; reduction of fire hazards is another.

VARIOUS TREES including native pecan, fruitless mulberry, crape myrtle and tree yaupon (an evergreen which grows to 15 feet and has small red berries in winter) are being planted. Grass will be planted later in the spring.

WEEKLY SERVICE is provided all citizens of Snyder by a fleet of three 24-yard capacity packer-body garbage trucks. The Sanitation Department employes 10 persons, and has the responsibility of maintaining the city dump ground. This department operates under a $60,000 yearly budget.

PICTURED ARE something less than half of the city's new Dumpmaster refuse containers when they arrived in Snyder earlier in the year. They replaced the old containers which had to be individually carried to the dump ground.

UP, OVER, AND INTO THE TRUCK goes the refuse from one of the 100 new containers designed for use by the city's Dumpmaster refuse truck. With this new system of refuse storage and collection, the city has eliminated many fire and health hazards, and has made a tremendous improvement in the cleanliness and appearance of the commercial areas of the city.
