

Cheers For Junior High

Applicants Plow Under Aid Cash

In less than 2 days of sign-up Mitchell County requests for drought emergency tillage cost-sharing outstripped the allocation by $50,000.

Don Stewart, executive director for Mitchell County Agriculture Stabilization & Conservation Service, said he believes the local allocations--if the funds are available--will be in excess of $200,000.

Sign-up for the newly approved drought assistance measure started Tuesday with $25,000 in federal cost-sharing funds approved for Mitchell County.

By early afternoon Wednesday, requests for allocations at the ASCS office here had passed $70,000.

Stewart, backed by the county committee, already has requested more funds.

Official memo urging increased funding for tillage went directly to State ASCS headquarters in College Station. It was sent almost as soon as sign-up started Tuesday because applications passed $25,000 mark almost immediately.

Stewart was on the phone Wednesday with the chief program assistant for emergency operations at State ASCS, who was on a line with Washington.

"I told them Mitchell County deeply appreciates what has been scheduled already for drought assistance," Stewart said, "but there was a great need for more...$100,000 more immediately."

"I emphasized that we anticipated a need for tillage funds in excess of $200,000."

Mitchell has a quarter million acres in cultivation and 95 per cent of the farmers on these acres are eligible for emergency tillage assistance, which is retroactive to April 14.

Because of drought and winds, producers have had to re-work their land and make repairs.

Stewart is optimistic Mitchell County will receive more tillage funding. How much is a question mark.

"Our original instructions from state office were to begin sign-ups here with the $25,000 and when that was used up, to notify 'em," said Stewart.

"They told me today they would do all possible to help us more."

In another drought assistance program, about 10 producers had applied for emergency feed program. Approximately 75 per cent of the applicants are expected to be approved.

Producers eligible for the grain assistance can purchase grain at reduced rates. Their eligibility requires a review of their individual financial statements.

There is increasing evidence that farmers and ranchers would like for feed aid requirements to be eased.

The Agriculture Department announced the feed program as assistance for saving foundation herds, preventing sell out of these herds because of drought conditions.

But requirements for the feed assistance is not based upon the need for foundation herds. Instead, it is a dollar and cent requirement that does not realistically consider the basic plan for preventing the wiping out of basic cattle herds.

'GO' For 4 Projects

Work Near For Downtown Walks, Park

City officials are moving ahead with four improvement projects which spread from downtown into residential areas.

Bids are being called for May 21 for a pair of these programs:

1. Seal coating of 60,000 square yards of paving -- about 40 blocks in key areas of the city.

2. About 7,000 feet of 6 inch water pipe to replace small 2-inch lines in a section of Eastover Addition.

Simultaneously with authority to obtain bids for those 2 projects, City Council also gave the nod to City Manager J. A. Sadler Jr. to go ahead with the first section of new sidewalk, curb and gutter in the central downtown area.

Tied into the same downtown updating is the action to plan for walkways, tables, benches and shelters for a small park area at corner of East Second and Walnut where a 2-floor building has been razed by city crews.

City Manager Sadler expects to confer within next few days with representatives of contracting firms concerning the downtown sidewalk replacement.

First phase of this work will be in 100 block of East Second, extending west from the alley (at west side of Ed Thrift's) to the corner of Walnut, then continuing south in 100 block of Walnut to the mid-block alley adjacent to Bob Ratliff Insurance.

Luncheon Friday For Soil

Lions, Kiwanis and Jaycees will combine in a luncheon Friday for a special Soil Stewardship program.

Rev. Glenn Roenfeldt, pastor of First Baptist Church, will be principal speaker for the event sponsored by Mitchell Soil & Water Conservation District and Mitchell County ministers.

The Friday luncheon will usher in the local community observance of Soil Stewardship Week, a nationwide observance which begins Friday and continues through May 23.

Roefeldt, who also is president of Mitchell County Ministerial Alliance, is a member of the soil district's stewardship committee with Rev. Billy Wilkinson, minister of First United Methodist Church, and Jimmy Harrison, district director.

Theme of Soil Stewardship Week will be "The World and They That Dwell Therein." It underscores the responsibility for each citizen in fulfilling his or her role as caretaker of the realm, according to Travis Turner, chairman of the conservation district.

It is a nationwide observance which places emphasis on man's obligation to God as stewards of the soil, water, and other related resources, Turner said.

The Mitchell district and some 3,000 companion districts throughout the nation along with See LUNCHEON Page 7 be removed and replaced with new 10-foot width with new curb and gutter. This will provide 3 feet additional street and when combined with similar width on the opposite side of the street will amount to 6 more feet of paved roadway for traffic flow.

Additional segments of the sidewalk, curb and gutter will be scheduled in a manner for minimum interference with downtown business.

"I want to obtain some current cost figures from contractors so that we can map this work in accordance with available funds in our 1971-72 municipal budget," Sadler said.

If possible, the city manager wants to include black concrete curb and gutters and a sidewalk of alternating blocks of exposed aggregate and finished concrete.

Planter type beautification will be added later to conform to traffic safety and the downtown pattern, Sadler said.

City crews have been cleaning away the debris at the building demolition site, Second and Walnut, and preparing the outside wall of W. L. Doss building for plaster and paint finish.

Sadler obtained council approval to construct a business area park in at the exposed corner with grass lawn, walkways, prefabricated metal shelters with concrete tables and benches.

The park equipment -- shelters, tables and benches--will be placed by the city on the lot if proper agreement can be obtained with the out-of-town property owner.

"The city wants to be certain that the equipment can be moved to another location if the lot is needed in the future for commercial development," the manager explained.

In the May 21 bid call, the city is asking for proposals on 7,000 feet of 6-inch pipe approved by specifications of American Water Works Association.

This is planned for a "trouble" area between East 16th and 17th Streets, Watson and Eastover.

If bids are low enough, the city expects to install the new supply line as quickly as pipe is delivered.

Sadler said the new pipe will be either asbestos cement pipe or cast iron.

Bids for the 60,000 square yards of street seal coating will include materials, labor and equipment.

The seal coating will be the same type that was applied last year on several streets, segments of 6th, Austin, Walnut and Elm.

City Manager Sadler's study will map a priority list for the new seal coating that will be based on traffic and condition.

However, he is definitely planning to include segments of 17th and 10th streets and a second application to areas treated last year.

Lorraine Storm Loss Heaviest Since '48

Property damage toll climbed near the $200,000 mark in the wake of a windstorm and hail that struck areas of Mitchell County Saturday night and killed one person.

Cars, residences, farm buildings, irrigation systems and power lines all felt the force of the destructive storms.

Killed when his mobile home overturned on him was James S. Mays, 64, who had moved to the Lake Champion area only a few weeks earlier from Houston.

Mays died in Root Memorial Hospital at 9:25 p.m., 55 minutes after being pinned under the mobile home 8 miles southeast of Colorado City.

Colorado City Volunteer Fire Department had freed him from the overturned house a few minutes before his death.

The wind and hail caused damage in almost all sections of the county.

However, the area in and around Lorraine probably counted the heaviest property toll. Herbert Mearse, president of First State Bank of Lorraine, said property loss in the Lorraine area would be $100,000 plus.

His insurance firm Wednesday had counted 125 automobiles and dwelling claims within its own office.

Lone Wolf Electric Cooperative Inc. Manager Kenneth Rogers said winds knocked out 16 or 17 poles on Lone Wolf lines.

"Our damage was scattered from Vincent (far northwest) to Champion (far southeast) and in the lake areas," Rogers said.

"We had all the lines back in service by Sunday evening."

The Lone Wolf manager said a contracting crew was called in to speed the repairs.

"We are still taking reports of damage and checking 'em out to complete the work," he said.

Rogers said condition of poles and lines indicated tornadic twisters in the storm.

"Poles were twisted and lines wrapped around," he explained.

Mrs. Robert Brooks, who with her family was returning to Colorado City from Lake Champion when storm winds struck near State Highway 208 south of Colorado City, described her eyewitness view as:

"It was like a bunch of black whirlwinds on the ground. It was unusual with clouds hanging low."

"It parted at the highway--one part going straight east and the other moving south-east."

The time then was shortly after 7 p.m., she said, and the storm was located then south of the W. A. Helm residence and near the A. M. Holman home.

Some of the heaviest damage came soon after the storm crossed State Highway 208.

At the Grady Mitchell place in Looney community, a blacksmith shop and several small buildings were wrecked. Mitchell's equipment was damaged and glass blown out of a new pickup truck.

On the Ellis Browne farm, southeast of Colorado City, the storm wrecked a mobile irrigation unit. The quarter-mile hookup was scattered over 1-mile area. Its power unit and sprinkler were hurled 300 yards and other parts bent, torn and scattered a half mile apart.

Cotton trailer and TV antennae also were toppled at the Browne farm.

South of Lorraine the twister-type wind wrecked another irrigation system on the Billy Cornutt farm.

Southwest of Colorado City in the Plainview Community the storm tore off a portion of the roof on the W. A. Lindsey home, ripped away almost all of the barn roof, blew over a mobile water tank onto a butane tank, knocking off the top.

West of Colorado City near Sue's Flowers, the mobile home of Don Minshew was picked up and moved 25 feet.

Damage within Colorado City was relatively light with the South side reporting the larger toll.

At the city waste disposal See STORMS Page 7

It's A Dog Roundup

If there is less howling and yelping in your life, then thank the city.

Because in the last 4 months 533 dogs have been picked up under authority of the new dog ordinance.

Only 40 of the entire 533 were reclaimed by owners. All the rest have been disposed.

Complaints still come into the city and police headquarters almost daily about dogs that are causing problems for residents. So, the problem of roving dogs has not been eliminated, but is certainly has been eased.

The 533 total is from Jan. 1. And, last Thursday, when the count was tabulated, 19 dogs were picked up by city employees, according to City Manager J. A. Sadler Jr.

To assist with enforcement of the dog enforcement the city has two employees who have worked on their off-duty hours picking up animals.

The enforcement--although letting numerous citizens sleep better and have prettier flowers--has tapped the city's tight money budget for more than $500. That's because the city pays $1 for each animal an employee picks up.

Serious Fishing Churches In Project

Representatives of the "Fish Program" from various churches in Colorado City will meet Sunday at 2 p.m. in the First Christian Church to organize the activate "Fish" operational for Colorado City.

Mitchell County Ministerial Alliance is the sponsor of this program under the direction of its President Glenn Roenfeldt. First Christian Church minister Weems S. Dykes is serving as the coordinator.

Materials are available to all churches that would like to participate in this program, he said.

"Purpose of the 'Fish Program" is to demonstrate God's love for all people, through us, His Church, in simple acts of kindness," Dykes explained.

Categories of services offered will include:

1. Emergency errands and car rides for the sick and elderly and shut-ins.
2. Emergency baby sitting, house work, preparing a meal, washing clothes, especially during sickness or during tragedy.

3. Companionship for the elderly, such as reading the Bible. See FISHING Page 7

Award To Young

Baily Joe Young is a "big man" for Colorado High School's Black Knights of Precision Band any manner you appraise him.

Tuesday night he was recognized--not for his physical size--but for his bigness in contribution to his band.

He received the coveted John Phillip Sousa Award in a high-light presentation during the Annual Festival of Bands in Colorado High Gym.

Presenting the award and praising the graduating senior was Band Director Dwight Tomb, who has observed the 18-year-old Young progress through every level of the public school band program.

Young, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Turnbull, was cited by Tomb for his musicianship, his dedication to the band as a whole and for his craftsmanship that includes composing and arranging.

In fact, it was at last year's Festival of Bands that Young, then a junior student, directed the band in an arrangement of his own composition.

Brownies, Scouts Advance Rank At Family Picnic

Almost 40 Brownies and Girl Scouts will go into advanced phase of scouting this spring.

Girls will be received into advanced troops during ceremonies Friday evening following a family picnic in Ruddick Park.

Twenty-five Brownies will receive Brownie wings in a fly-up service as they are initiated into junior scouting. Thirteen Junior Scouts will get cockade pins for uniform caps.

Advancement ceremonies will be conducted by individual troop leaders.

Picnic for Brownies, Girl Scouts and their families is scheduled for 7 p.m. on east side of Lone Wolf Creek. Camp fire, sing song and advancement ceremonies will begin at 8 p.m., according to Mrs. Corky Houston, Girl Scout Neighborhood chairman.

Families are to provide their own picnic suppers. In the park they will be directed to troop picnic areas by Cadette Scouts.

Picnic and outdoors program is second of this kind for Mitchell Country Girl Scouts and their families.

"Even though the picnic is for girls and their families," Mrs. Houston said, "the public is invited to attend fly-up ceremonies, camp fire program and sing song."

Mrs. Thompson Reviews Book For County-Wide Tea

More than 50 home demonstration women and guests heard Mrs. Charles C. Thompson review "Woman At The Well" during annual HD tea in Lone Wolf Electric Medallion Room.

In reviewing the autobiography by movie star Dale Evans, Mrs. Thompson told of tragedies as well as good times comparing her to the woman at the well.

Describing Miss Evans as a "good Samaritan type person," the speaker told how the star's life was changed after being led to Christ by her oldest son.

She also told of her life today and rewards of her life today because of Christ.

Mrs. Weldon McMillan, chairman of 3-E Committee, introduced Mrs. Thompson.

Fairview and Buford Home Demonstration clubs were hostesses for the yearly fete.

Refreshment table was covered with a white cloth and centered with a bouquet of pink carnations. Cookies decorated in spring motif and lime sherbert punch were served.

HD members and guests attending were Miss Martha Ernest, Mrs. Rufus Marshall, Mrs. J. A. Bobo, Mrs. H. T. Bryant, Mrs. Forrest Porter of Roscoe, Mrs. Maggie Hamrick, Mrs. T. A. Rees, Mrs. H. L. Jamison, Mrs. Arthur Shepherd of Lorraine, Mrs. Sidney Compton.

Mrs. K. L. Taylor of Lorraine, Mrs. W. C. Harlow, Mrs. J. Wiley Walker, Mrs. N. O. Brown, Mrs. Henry McGuire, Mrs. J. E. Price, Mrs. James Watkins of Lorraine.

Mrs. C. A. Watkins, Mrs. R. W. Dolan of Sterling City, Mrs. Floyd Griffin of Lorraine, Mrs. Vada Preston of Lorraine.

Mrs. Frances Crutcher, Mrs. Clara Butler, Mrs. Lynn Compton, all of Lorraine; Mrs. Hoyt Roberts of Westbrook, Mrs. Dave Womack, Mrs. Mable Majors, Mrs. Muriel Thurman.

On Dean's List

Jerry Landau has been named to Dean's honor list at University of Denver for high scholastic achievement during winter quarter.

Landau, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Landau of 725 Marshall Street, is a 1970 honor graduate of Colorado High School.

Rites For Storm Victim

Funeral for James Steven Mays, fatally injured Saturday when high winds blew a house trailer over on him, was conducted Monday afternoon in Kiker and Son Chapel.

Rev. Bob Powell, Assembly of God minister of Sweetwater, officiated in final rites. Burial was in Colorado City Cemetery.

Pallbearers were Jerry Brown, Heston Redwine, Floyd Mitchell, Jerry Cannon, Doyle Mitchell and Lindley Moore.

Mays, a 63-year-old retired construction worker, had lived in Mitchell County about five weeks. He was born in Waller County June 16, 1907.

He was married to the late

Mrs. Mays, the former Rachel Atkins, Dec. 24, 1930. She died in May, 1970.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Eunice Griffiths of Chicago, Ill.; a daughter, Mrs. Perry Mitchell of Colorado City; one son, Steve Mays of Sunnvale, Cal.

Also, a sister, Mrs. Lucille Byrnerd of Houston; seven half brothers, a half sister and five grandchildren.

BUSY MOMS AT WORK

Probably one of the busier working groups for the next few months are the moms of Little League and Junior Teenage League baseball players.

They have their own organizations that assist the league programs, operate concession stands and handle other chores that assist the league programs.

Right now, one of these groups is asking for a little bit of consideration and assistance. Not for work or anything like that.

What the Mothers of Junior Teenage League are asking is a bit of freewill donations so they can replace their worn-out pop corn machine. Sure, they need other equipment for their concession stand so they can continue to serve the game crowds and make money to assist the league.

They've put money jars in numerous businesses--there's one here at Corner Drug, by the way--and Saturday they'll have bake sales at E-Z Way Superette and Safeway.

So don't forget 'em. Help fill up the jars...take home a tasty homemade cake for the weekend...and provide a hand for a good youth program.

Susan Pritchett, Brent Nall Exchange Double Ring Vows

Miss Susan Pritchett became the bride of Brent Nall Tuesday in an evening ceremony in Ford Memorial Chapel of First Baptist Church of Lubbock.

The bride is daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Pritchett of Lubbock. She is granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Pritchett of 706 East Eighth Street and Mrs. Roy Porter of Lubbock.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Nall Jr. of Lubbock are parents of the bridegroom. Rev. J. T. Bolding read double ring vows in the 7:30 p.m. ceremony. Wedding music was by organist, Mrs. James Atchison, aunt of groom.

Chapel altar was centered with an arrangement of white spring flowers, backed by an arch candelabra with white tapers.

Presented in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal length gown of candlelight silk organza appliqued with reem-broidered French imported Val lace. Fitted bodice had long sheer sleeves and high collar.

A chapel-length train extended from back waist.

She carried a white heirloom Bible with butterfly orchids, stephanotis and miniature ivy.

Miss Anne Pritchett, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a street-length dress of pale yellow linen fashioned with a fitted bodice and long sheer sleeves.

Her pouf bouquet was made up of yellow Marquerite daisies.

John Wright, of Lubbock, cousin of groom, served as best man.

Ushering guests were Steve Holmes of Lubbock and Mike Pritchett, brother of the bride.

Chapel parlor was setting for wedding reception. Table was accented by a silver compote with arrangements of white dianthus and gypsophelia.

In the reception houseparty were Miss Connye Nall, groom's sister; Miss Janeen Drew and Mrs. Joe Drabek, all of Lubbock.

For travel to Padre Island, the bride changed to a navy and white ensemble.

After their wedding trip the bridal couple will be at home in Varsity Village Apartments in Lubbock.

Both 1968 graduates of Monterey High School in Lubbock, they are now students at Texas Tech where the bridegroom is a senior pre-med major, president of Alpha Epsilon Delta, member of Association of Operating Room Technicians.

He is also employed as operating room technician at Methodist Hospital in Lubbock.

The bride is a senior business education major, member of Phi Gamma Nu Business Sorority and Pi Omega Pi.

Among out of town wedding guests were several relatives and friends from Colorado City.

They were Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Pritchett, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Pritchett Jr., Miss Ruthel McKenney, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Harkins, Douglas and Glen.

Others in Lubbock for the marriage were Mr. L. W. Patterson of Sweetwater, great-grandmother of bride; Mrs. C. W. Nall of Mason, groom's grandmother; Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Goebel of Abernathy, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schuler of Petersburg.

New Members of Junior NHS

Included in 27 new members initiated into Colorado Junior High National Honor Society in a formal ceremony last week were, left to right, Darlene Matlock, Dolores Bradbury, Patricia Winn, Kathy Ratliff, Lisa Wilkinson, Ginger Noel, Debbie Walding, Alicia Henderson, Carla Walker, Brenda Bratcher, Patty Whatley, Debbie Neger, Jackie Palmer and Danny Edwards. A reception following the initiation honored new NHS members and their parents.

Fellowship For Women

Fellowship Hall of Central Baptist Church Friday was setting for a Ladies' Fellowship.

Mrs. Ruth Bryant, co-hostess with Mrs. H. A. Moore, presented devotion thoughts based on 23rd Psalm.

Attending were Mrs. Bryant, Mrs. Moore, Mrs. C. A. Claxton, Mrs. Alice Shelton, Mrs. A. R. Straub, Mrs. Bonnie Harsh, Mrs. Eddie Graves, Mrs. Edna Bobo, Mrs. Lloyd Barr.

Also, Miss Gracie White, Mrs. Trudie Gentry, Mrs. Bob McClure and Mrs. H. G. McCown.

Hostesses for June 4 Fellowship will be Mrs. Leroy Culbertson and Mrs. Jean McKinney.

MRS. BRENT NALL, nee Susan Pritchett.

Special Thanks...

To Colorado City Volunteer Fire Department who, by their efficient firefighting and dedicated effort, saved our business from a quick spreading grass and brush fire last week.

When unable to move in usual firefighting equipment, they effectively fought the flames with brooms, shovels and whatever weapon available. And they diligently stayed on the job until the fire was out.

We shall always be appreciative and thankful for their service.

for that community in more than 20 years--since 1947.

"In the town proper," said Mearse, "there is not a roof without at least some damage--except those of heavy tile or metal."

Mearse said the storm cut-off with hail about 3 or 4 miles west of the town. Hail damage was reported to windows as far as 5 miles north of Lorraine at the Claud Chapman residence.

Major wind damage in the Lorraine area was south of the town. Lester Webb, 5 miles south of Lorraine, had a cotton stripper atop a cotton trailer. The wind toppled both.

Autos took a beating from hail in the Lorraine area. E. B. Young had $496 damage to his windshield and auto body. Most car losses are expected to range from $300 to $400.

"We are about half way through the job of checking claims," said Mearse Wednesday.

Lorraine swarmed with out of town insurance adjusters Monday and Tuesday. About half of them remained Wednesday.

Rites For C-City Native

Final rites for Mrs. Dessie Mae Lydia of 1919 Boyd Street were Tuesday afternoon in Pentecostal Church of God.

Mrs. Lydia died Saturday morning in local hospital following a few months illness.

Rev. Jackson, Pentecostal Church pastor, officiated in funeral service. Burial was in Mitchell County Cemetery.

Palbearers were Woodrow Bailey, Henry Burden, Charles Brown, Willie Brown, Maurice Brown and Jesse Burton.

Born in Colorado City June 13, 1921, Mrs. Lydia worked as a housekeeper and was a member of Pentecostal Church of God.

She is survived by parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dallas Austin of Colorado City; a daughter, Jacqueline; a son, Leroy Lydia Jr., both of the home, and two half brothers, Johnny Stovall and Henry Stovall.
