Top City Officials

C. C. (Mike) Burt, right, new mayor of Colorado City, and Paul Hunter, mayor pro tem, were elected to office Monday night during a monthly meeting of Colorado City Council. Burt replaces Dr. John Chinn as mayor. Hunter follows R. J. Hoback as mayor pro tem.

Mayor's Post To Burt

Council Names Hunter Mayor Pro Tem

C. C. (Mike) Burt Monday night was named mayor of Colorado City by a newly reorganized City Council.

Burt, assistant principal and instructor at Colorado High School, has been a member of the council for the past seven years.

Mayor pro tem for the new fiscal year will be Paul Hunter, owner of Better Cleaners, who has served as a councilman for five years.

First on the night's agenda was an official approval of 1970-71 city budget read by City Manager J. A. Sadler.

Sadler reported current plans for the city's "Operation Pride" include councilman meeting with planning engineer, Nathan Kiser of Levelland, in a tour of the down town area. After that tour the city's Master Plan will be finalized and presented to council members.

The City Manager also reported approximately 2,000 truck loads of tree limbs hauled from local residents by city trucks following a December ice storm.

He estimated about 500 more truck loads will be necessary to complete the campaign.

Sadler indicated that bids for remodeling work on Museum building will probably be presented during a special called meeting of the council later this month.

Outgoing mayor, Dr. John Chinn, and mayor pro tem R. J. Hoback, were presented service plaques.

Dr. Chinn, councilman for 10 years had served six of those as Colorado City mayor. Hoback had been a member of council for eight years and mayor pro tem in 1969-1970. Another councilman filed for re-election.

Joining holdover councilmen Burt, Hunter, J.C. Brown and J. C. Britton for the meeting were Eddie Pickland, recently re-elected for a second term of office, Finis L. (Buck) May and Trevlyn Kelley, both named for a first term as council members.

Bracy Paces State

His Winning 220 Is Fastest

Twelve months make a difference.

And what a difference for Colorado City's Stan Bracy.

Last year in the wind and cold of Snyder's District 3-AAA track meet, Speeding Stan walked away from the meet a beaten sophomore.

He was sixth in the 100 with a 10.2 clocking and fifth in the 200 with 22.5.

His performance was far short of the sparkling first place job by teammate Carl Devorce. Big Carl, just a soph then too, tossed the shotput for 53 feet 10 3/8 inches and first place for 3-AAA.

Both 'em returned to district competition Saturday in Lubbock.

Big Carl repeated as shotput champ with a record-breaking 56 feet 6 inches--11inches farther than the 55-7 mark set in 1968 by George Kunkle of Lamesa.

Stan literally raced with the wind, winning the 100 in 9.6 seconds and the 220 with a record 21 seconds flat.

Fastest schoolboy 220 time in the state this 1970 season.

Sure, it was windy up there in Lubbock. But the 220 path was around a curve, so the Colorado High junior had it both in his face and to his back.

Devorce and Bracy were the only winners for Coach Dell Riley's Wolf track team. They move onto the regional competition next week.

This weekend, Coach Riley takes 'em to Gatesville for a track meet of regional qualifiers.

It was a remarkable performance by Bracy, who has made

For All Employees

New City Budget Has Salary Hikes

Colorado City Council Monday night adopted its 1970-71 municipal budget which will spend an estimated $476,929 and which will include pay raises for all city employees.

All without a tax increase, keeping the present $1.60 per $100 valuation rate.

New budgeted salaries total $15,294 monthly, up $616 per month from the 1969-70 budget.

Raises will go into effect May 1, beginning of the new fiscal year for city business.

The pay boosts, designed to meet raise in cost of living, are across the board but in varying amounts according to job classifications and longevity.

Longevity is begun after five years of city employment and is $1 per month for each year of service.

City Manager J. A. Sadler, only employee of the city who does not receive longevity, receives the largest hike in salary. His pay was upped $107.75 per month from the previous year's $656.25 monthly wage.

An increase of $50 was tabbed for Mrs. Bonnie Farrar, city secretary. Her 1970-71 salary will be $450 per month.

Salary for Chief of Police Bill Henderson last year received $494 monthly salary with $10 longevity. This year he will get $514 salary with $11 longevity, a raise of $21.

Salary for Chief of Police Jesse Brasuell was raised from $575 to $605, a $30 monthly difference.

Raises for police patrolman varied from $11 to $75 per month bringing all salaries in line with a newly approved base pay - $350, first year, $400, second year, and $450, three years.

Fire Department Captain Virgil Eaton's monthly salary of $470, plus longevity of $11, was raised to $490 with $12 longevity.

A $21 raise was budgeted for Walter Mitchell, street superintendent, who will receive $460 salary plus $11 longevity monthly.

Wage increases for Mrs. Gwen Wistrand, recreation director, is set for $16. Her salary will be $315 per month with $8 longevity.

Buford Rich, water superintendent, will get $460 in salary plus $13 longevity-a raise of $21 per month.

Salaries for six of the city's seven appointed officials remain the same with the seventh cut in half.

Change Marked For Diverted Farm Acres

A change for diverted farm acres in Mitchell County has been announced by Eddie R. Braswell County Executive Director for Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

In an April newsletter to county farmers, Braswell reminds producers that sweet sorghum will not be an approved cover for diverted acres in 1970, a change made from previous years.

Braswell also pointed out that a May 1 deadline is set for small grain cover crops to be pastured off, clipped, incorporated into the soil or destroyed by natural causes.

"However," Braswell said, "oats and rye may be left standing on land under some conditions."

The two crops previously had to be plowed up by May 1, he explained, but this year a producer can present a written request to county ASCS committee men stating that crops will not be harvested but left for reseeding purposes.

Deadline for submitting that request is also May 1.

Braswell reported interest in approved alternate crops this year for the first time.

He listed a number of crops that can be grown and harvested from diverted acreas by reducing diversion payment by 50 percent. They include castor beans, crambe, guar, mustard seed, plantago ovata and sesame.

"Producers must certify to the acres and crop growing on diverted acres at the time of certification," the county director said.

The 50 per cent loss in government payment will apply only to acres with alternate crops.

Schools Get Added Funds

Federal Grants Total $13,043

Colorado Independent Schools have received $13,043 in federal funds for this school year.

More than half that amount is designated as additional funds for Title I Program and will be used in August for pre - school program according to Assistant Superintendent of Schools Lloyd McKee.

And $1,460 will go to Adult Basic Education program and will make possible the extension of current classes for two months.

Remaining amounts will be distributed to Title II and Title III programs and Vocation Travels fund.

Title I program, here fully funded by federal government, had an initial grant of $70,006 used for reading program, pre-school and hot lunch programs, teachers aides, visiting teacher, materials, etc.

Additional funds will be used for salaries of reading teachers, visiting teacher and teacher aides to the pre-school program.

Title II funds totaling $1,850 will be used for library aids and materials. The program is also fully funded by federal government.

Initial grant this year for Title III National Defense Education Act of $1,651 will go to strenghten programs in such areas as, science, mathematics, foreign languages, history, economics, English, reading and industrial arts.

The grant, which is matched by local school district, will be used here for science materials and possible in social studies area, McKee said.

Three hundred dollars is designated for vocation travels fund that had an initial grant of $2,090 and is utilized by vocational teachers. This is another fully funded program.

Adult Basic Education classes originally set to end this month will be extended until the last of June because of the $1,460 additional funds.

That amount will pay salaries and other expenses for three ABE teachers and three aides. Initial grant for the program, which has about 50 enrolled in current studies, was $2,482.

ABE classes meet twice weekly, McKee said, and studies will be advanced for each group level.

CONVERSATION CORNER

HEARD an actress-entertainer named Dodie Goodman say to Betsy Palmer of "Girl Talk," the other day, "If I had life to live over I would not change one single thing. I wouldn't change even the mistakes and bad things because from the bad things I learned how to appreciate the good things."

Whether you agree altogether or not, you've got to admit that the lady had a point. Took to musing about it between browning the biscuits and perking a fresh pot of coffee.

What would you change if you had life to live over? Remember, now, that you could not change the fact of your birth when, where or to whom. But suppose you were born YOU? What, then, would you do differently? What would you change?

MOST of us would be quick to say things like "I'd finish my education and take better advantage of opportunities that came my way."

Well, the trouble with opportunities is usually the fact that they come knocking on the door while you're hanging out the wash or have gone to the bridge club or you're away up in the mountains on vacation or something.

You can't sit around waiting for opportunity to knock when the cookie jar is empty either, or it's time to mix the formula.

It's like waiting for an important telephone call. If you really want the phone to ring, try taking a bath. That'll do it. Everytime. In all probability, half the women in this world didn't hear the last time opportunity knocked because they were in the bathtub singing "Rain Drops Fallin' On My Head," or maybe "Lover Come Back To Me."

AS for finishing the formal education wishful thinking bit, that's usually a lost cause, too.

The informal education usually makes up for it to some extent. The informal education begins where the school classes end.

It may or may not console you to remember that higher mathematics did not teach many people how to keep a family book out of the red, and that dissecting frogs in the college laboratory was of little value when it came to cutting up a frying-sized chicken.

So long as you can and will read, education can be a continuous process. But women who commit matrimony early nearly always get the informal part of completing education by the old "try and cry" method.

IF, HOWEVER, by some miracle, you could go back and do it all over again, where would you start?

Think, perhaps, it might be well to begin with the old capacity for suffering. Would tone it down some.

To the very young, the capacity for suffering--not always nobly---is a very keen pain in the neck, not to mention the aching heart.

If all the tears shed by the young over things like broken dates, no dates, rained-out picnics, "Dear John letters," rules and regulations, torn formals, and unstrung pearls, could have been saved and stored somewhere, there'd be enough for every house in town to have an attractive--if salty--swimming pool in the back yard.

WOULD concentrate, given a second-time-around chance, on developing to the fullest, the capacity for joy.

To put it simply, would cry less and laugh more. Would conserve more tears for real emergencies, not wasting any for small things like the time the baby's new shoes got accidentally burned up with the trash.

Capacity for joy is a beautiful thing to live with. It protects like shining armor.

Have no war with the youth of today. Have been there. Have been a rebel, too, as far as rebels went in those days.

But as this old fuddy-duddy sees it now through her square bi-focals, the trouble with youth of this confrontation era is that their capacity for suffering is their number one joy-killer.

Predict, when their informal education begins, they'll be the strictest parents this country has seen since the Puritans.

SEEN LATELYS for now were Erdine Morgan and Sibyl (Mrs. Dennis) Walding sharing a refreshment break. . . Wilma Womack, Selma (Mrs. Willie) Landau, and Lovess (Mrs. Tandy) Curlee sitting in a row at the counter. . . Ditto Gladys Howard and Thelma Harrison.

E. M. Owen was on the downtown scene. . .So were Porter Richardson. . .Clem Myers and Don Banta. . .Philip and Minna Berman out working in their yard. . .A. C. Craig with a cup of mid-afternoon coffee. . .Marcus Vest.

Chatted with Virginia Aguilar Martinez, former Record employee who is now Mrs. Paul Martinez and is loving living in the country.

Saw Jake Northcutt and his pretty wife Pearl together at the library. . .Clorene (Mrs. A. B.) Stewart, too.

HEAR TELL the H. F. Davenports, former Citians, have subscribed to the Colorado City Record through Aline (Mrs. Stanley) Hamner.

Davenports got the Record-reading habit when the Hamner son Larry had his copies mailed to their address in Santa Fe Springs, Calif., while he was in the service. He's now in Denton.

DID YOU KNOW that our Lillian Thomas, wife of Glenn, has returned from Hendrick Memorial Hospital in Abilene and is reported to be "just fine" following brain surgery to remove a cist? She's due for a full and speedy recovery, says happy husband Glenn.

Alice Baker, talented musician and wife of Curtis Baker, director of vocal music for Colorado City schools, is in West Texas Medical Center, Abilene, for tests and treatment.

Little Bea Henderson, wife of Eual, is back from Shannon Memorial in San Angelo following corrective bone surgery. Good news department reports that Bea, who suffered a hip fracture 18 months ago, WILL WALK again with more comfort now!

Jesse Pidgeon is at home in Austin after a stay in a hospital at Austin.

CAPACITY FOR JOY department notes belong this time to the Curtis Latimer family.

Hear tell, from a trusted and reliable grapevine, that Curtis, his wife Margaret (nee Trulock) and their third son John Baxter will fly to Michigan, April 30.

Church wedding bells will ring, May 2, for the Latimer first son Dan and his fiancee Renate Schmidt in Grosse Pointe Woods, near Detroit. Parents of the groom and John Baxter will attend the wedding and festivities.

Dan and Renate will fly to Spain, the Morocco, for five weeks of further graduate study during their honeymoon. Dan, who teaches the Great Books Series at University of Michigan in Ann Arbor, is on the last lap of his Ph.D. in comparative literature.

Renate, daughter of a medical doctor who left Austria via the underground when the Communists came, grew up in Vienna with her grandparents. Her father now is a practicing physician at Grosse Pointe. Renate teaches German at University of Michigan and is soon to receive her PhD, there, too.

The young couple met at Ann Arbor and continued their courtship in Germany where each studied under a fellowship for a year, in different universities.

Love still makes the world go 'round!

WINNERS TOO

I'm for singing the praises of Stan Bracy and Carl Devorce with their winning performances in District 3-AAA track.

All of us, I'm sure, are wishing them more success when they go to regional.

But they are not the only winners. The gals at Colorado High are District 3-AAA champs in volleyball and compete in regional this weekend.

The gals placed four on the all district team too--Mary Lou Cooley, Ada Feaster, Susan White and Dianne James.

All of which adds up to a pretty versatile sports program for our school.

Hangover cure.

Nobody likes a sloppy range. Especially if it's a result of hangover heat.
After all, heat that hangs on after your range is turned off isn't your fault. But you have to clean up after it.
However, gas ranges turn on and off instantly. No heat's left over to scorch your food, burn your pans or cause food to boil over.
Buy a new gas range, sure-cure for hangover heat.

a habit of winning every weekend this season.

He broke the tape a stride ahead of Estacado's all-stater Jesse Lethridge, although both were credited with a 9.6 time in the 100.

Then, in the 220 he won going away. He took the lead from Letheridge on the turn and at the tape it wasn't even close.

It was the same Lethridge who in the prelims had tied the 3-AAA record of 21.4 set by Lubbock Dunbar's Roy Davis in 1968. His 21.4 repeat in the finals though was much too slow for Bracy's 21 flat.

Speeding raced two-tenths of a second faster than the previous low mark for Texas this season--21.2 by Denison's Larry McLelland weeks earlier.

Trailing him now with the fastest 220 performances across the state are McLelland, 21.2; Don McGraw, Dallas SOC, and Lethridge, 21.4; Joe Pouncy, Dallas Lincoln, and J. T. Hollins, McKinney, 21.5; Herman Alexander, Austin, and Samm, Dierschke, Sealy, 21.6; Lawrence Gipson, Estacado; Rex Adams, Wichita Falls, and John Berry Dallas Jefferson, 21.7.

With his 9.6 century, Bracy is tied with Rufus Shaw, Dallas Lincoln; Alexander and Dierschke with the third fastest time in the state. Lee Lewis of Ntn. Kashmere and Gene Pouncy of Dallas Lincoln have 9.4 while Joe Pouncy of Dallas Lincoln and Delvin Williams of Ntn. Kashmere have 9.5.

Devorce is just barely out of the top 10 of the state's best. Tops for the season is 65 feet 6 inches by Millard Neely of San Antonio Brackenridge.

Hey, You! We're Talking About Power

Power comes in many packages. Horsepower speeds our cars while steam power thrusts us toward the moon and nuclear power propels us to no-one-knows-where.

There is money power, too, and some people seek it by any means just as others use political power to corrupt.

But all these are confined to certain force, certain influence. No more. Each has its limits.

Only one power has no bounds -- the power of FAITH. FAITH in God reaches beyond military power, auto power, money power and all the rest... even death. Yet, this mightiest power is so available and ready even a little child can lead us to it if we truly seek.

CHS Teachers Talk To Tech Class

Two Colorado High School teachers Friday conducted a study at Texas Tech for seniors in the University's Home Economics Education.

Mrs. J. S. Craddock Jr. and Mrs. Caddo Matthews, home economics teachers in CHS, presented two demonstrations of mini - lessons originally planned and presented to local Adult Basic Education classes.

They also discussed their particular concept on mini-lessons for ABE Better Living classes.

Mrs. Craddock's deomonstration was "Basic Four Food Group", a guide for proper nutrition, in which she used visual aids. Mrs. Matthews presented a mere controversial demonstration, "Sex Education - A Job for Home, School and Church", in which she used a film strip, "Sex: A Moral Delimna for Teenagers".

The film strip was one that has been used in high school Family Living study.

Inivtation to the two local teachers to speak to the Tech group came from Miss Irene Gromatsky, supervising teacher for Tech's student teachers who studied and taught in home economics classes here recently.
