Biggest Day Of Fair Is Planned Saturday

NEW RELIEF COMMISSION IS PROPOSED

TICKETS GIVEN TO STUDENTS OF COLLEGE

TOTAL ATTENDANCE IS EXPECTED TO EXCEED 100,000 BY TONIGHT

With five successful showing days nearing a close, officials of Panhandle-South Plains fair were making plans for one of the biggest days of the exposition tomorrow. The 20th annual exposition will close Saturday night.

Students of Texas Technological college and other institutions were being admitted free today, College day. W. T. Gaston, Texas Tech business manager, said about 300 tickets had been distributed at noon, and that he still had a ticket for each student.

Races This Afternoon

The horse races, one of the chief drawing cards of the free entertainment program, will start at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon. A vaudeville and fireworks program will begin at 8 o'clock tonight.

With continued fair weather, the total attendance by nightfall possibly will exceed 100,000. Yesterday's tabulation of 16,985 brought the total to 83,518, a four-day average of nearly 21,000.

R. C. (Dick) Smith, association president, was jubilant because of the apparent success of the exposition.

"The people, both in Lubbock and all over the South Plains, have cooperated with us as well as I ever saw before," Smith said.

Appreciation Expressed

"The attendance has been good and the weather ideal. We want to express our sincere appreciation to the exhibitors, to the visitors, to all the superintendents, and to everyone who has aided this year's fair. We already are making plans for a greater fair next year," he said.

Judging in all divisions was completed Thursday, and blue, red, white, and purple ribbons dotted exhibits.

Several additional features are scheduled on Saturday's closing program. The regular band concerts, horse races, and vaudeville attractions will be offered. The greatest display of pyrotechnics of the entire fair is planned for tomorrow night, after the horse show.

Death on the gallows will be the fate of George J. Shaughnessy, 18, of Albany, N. Y., if his mother's pleas do not win clemency for him. He killed a Tucson, Ariz., auto dealer, with whom he thumbed a ride, when the motorist resisted a robbery attempt. Execution date was set for Oct. 27 in the Arizona state prison at Florence.

TWO MEN ARE HELD GUILTY

BOTH MANION, BEVILL CONVICTED IN HARVEY BAILEY'S ESCAPE

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, Oct. 6—Thomas L. Manion, who once swore the pirate's oath in a draught of blood, was marooned for eight days on a Pacific island and who has fought in five foreign wars, today awaited, along with Grover C. Bevill, a butcher, the sentence of a federal court for aiding Harvey Bailey to escape from the Dallas county jail.

A federal court jury verdict convicting Manion and Bevill was returned late yesterday after attorneys waived arguments in the case.

Manion Claims Innocence

"Notwithstanding the verdict of the jury," Manion told newsmen as he walked from the courtroom in custody of a deputy marshall, "I am still innnocent."

Bevill, long a courthouse habitue, had pleaded guilty and was the principal accuser of Manion, among a score of witnesses called by the government. He told of Manion promising him an "even split" of the $250 Manion said he would make if he could "put over a certain deal." Bevill told of purchasing, at Manion's request, the hack saw blades and cartridges for the gun identified as those used by Bailey in his escape.

Manion's defense apparently crumpled before the government's steady firing of detailed evidence and after calling three witnesses, his attorneys rested. Manion did not testify, as he had been expected to do.

Farley Asks Labor To Support N. R. A.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6 (AP)—An appeal to workmen to "continue to exhibit a recognition of the patriotic cooperation which the great majority of the employers of labor have rendered to the president's recovery program" was made today by Postmaster General Farley in an address to the American Federation of Labor.

"There can be no doubt," he said, "that great numbers of individual employers, great numbers of industrial corporations and business houses have increased wages and lowered hours without knowing exactly how they would find the means with which to finance this expansion."

MODERATOR NAMED

DENTON, Oct. 6 (AP)—The Rev. E. C. Cargill of Seymour was elected moderator of the Texas synod of the Presbyterian church, U. S. A. which began its annual session here last night.

JOHNSON, NRA ARE AT LOSS IN STRIKES

INDUSTRIAL SCENE IS DARKENED BY STRIFE AND BLOODSHED

(By The Associated Press)

Differences within the recovery administration over provisions of the bituminous coal code today add new complications to an industrial scene darkened by strife, strikes and bloodshed.

Whereas Hugh S. Johnson, recovery administrator, says he thought owners of steel company mines agreed to deduct union dues from miners' pay, Donald Richberg, NRA counsel, asserts no such agreement was made.

Johnson At Loss

This development left Johnson at a loss as to what to do to send an additional 60,000 of western Pennsylvania's 75,000 striking soft coal miners back to work.

As the coal strike persisted, more steel workers in the Pittsburgh area joined in a demand for union recognition. The situation was tense after one man was slain and a score of others wounded and beaten in a battle of gunfire, riot clubs and tear gas between pickets and deputy sheriffs at an Ambridge, Pa., steel plant.

Not many hours later, another outbreak of violence occurred in the Fayette county, Pa., mine area, heart of the coal strike and scene of a fatality some time ago. Two deputy sheriffs were wounded last night as more than 200 shots were fired in a clash between pickets and non-union miners at the Colonial No. 3 mine of the H. C. Frick Coke company, long a foe of the unions.

Troops In Command

State troopers held command of the situation in southern Illinois where 16 miners and three tourists were wounded in coal mine interunion strife. Richberg conferred at Springfield, Ill., in an effort to bring peace.

Sullen pickets continued their vigil at steel plants in Steubenville, O., and Clairton, Pa., after outbursts yesterday.

TROOPS IN COMMAND IN COAL MINE AREA

HARRISBURG, Ill., Oct. 6 (AP)—The Illinois national guard—325 strong—was in command of a mining community today where 19 persons fell wounded by gunfire of infuriated picketers attempting to stop operation of Peabody mine No. 43.

The six companies of guardsmen after clearing the streets and highways of picketers yesterday continued to do patrol duty. Their commander, Lieut. Col. Robert W. Devis, said he expected no further trouble of major importance.

Meanwhile, at Springfield a federal mediator decided to lay the whole problem of the long-drawn out trouble in the Illinois coal fields before General Hugh Johnson and other National Recovery administration officials.

Bexar Relief Head Quits When Asked

AUSTIN, Oct. 6 (AP)—Lawrence Westbrook, director of the Texas Rehabilitation and relief commission, said today that the resignation of Tex Alsbury as Bexar county relief administrator had been "asked and received."

Westbrook said that the state commission would take temporary charge of relief affairs in San Antonio and Bexar county.

Three Desperadoes Sought In Nebraska

OMAHA, Oct. 6 (AP)—Eastern Nebraska authorities today spread their forces in a hunt for three men they believe are the widely-sought desperadoes—Charles (Pretty Boy) Floyd, Wilbur Underhill and Verne Miller.

No trace of the trio was found this morning as officers continued the search begun last night after the men had commandeered a car when their own, bearing South Dakota license plates was involved in a collision near Plattsmouth, Neb. 20 miles southwest of here.

Two Men Escape With Bank Loot

BUCKHOLTS BANKER IS LOCKED IN VAULT BY HOLDUP MEN

(By The Associated Press)

CAMERON, Oct. 6—Two men robbed the Buckholts State bank at Buckholts, ten miles north of here, of at least $2,500 in cash today after locking Ed Kolba, president, in the vault.

They escaped in the direction of Temple in a car driven by a third man. The robbers, wearing overalls, were described as of medium height and heavy set and about 35 or 40 years old.

THREE BANDITS ROB BANK IN OKLAHOMA

FREDERICK, Okla., Oct. 6 (AP)—Three unmasked robbers raided the First National bank of Frederick today while it was filled with early morning customers and escaped with approximately $3,500.

They fled in a small sedan, carrying two bank employes, Prov Mounts, cashier, and Miss Velva McKinley, bookkeeper, with them to the city limits as protection against gunfire. Mounts and Miss McKinley were released unharmed.

Officers Outdistanced

Officers gave chase but were outdistanced. The robbers escaped to the southcast and officers believed they headed for Texas.

Two robbers entered the bank and looted the cash tills of small bills and silver while the third man remained at the wheel of their automobile.

Five officials and employes and about 30 customers were in the bank at the time. None was harmed.

They were forced to line up against a wall, with their hands high. One robber stood guard over them while another scooped the money into a bag.

Most of the bank's money was still in the safe and was not touched.

French Fliers Are Forced Down On Hop

LONDON, Oct. 6 (AP)—Jean Assolant and Rene Lefebre, French aviators, were reported in a Reuters (British) news agency dispatch to be down at Karachi, India, after a 36-hour flight in an unsuccessful attempt to set a distance record.

HUGH JOHNSON IS BACK ON NRA JOB

WASINGTON, Oct. 6 (AP)—Hugh S. Johnson was back today at a desk stacked high with pressing jobs including retail price fixing labor turmoil in the soft coal fields.

A quick decision on the price stabilizing language—forbidding retail sales at less than wholesale cost plus 10 per cent—was in prospect, with Johnson favorably inclined toward approval of the master code despite farm administration objections.

But coal troubles were a different matter. Johnson conceded the NRA just now was stumped at the situation in steel-owned mines. But he hoped for a quick and amicable settlement that would return striking thousands to work.

HONEYMOONER

LEGION PLANS ON CAMPAIGN

TO FIGHT COMMUNISM, ECONOMIC RECESSION AND CRIME WAVE

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Oct. 6 — America's legionnaires packed up their bags and marched homeward today, determined on a three-fold peace time war—against crime, communism, and the economic recession.

Under the leadership of a tall attorney of Decatur, Ill.—Edward Hayes, now 42, an ensign at the Great Lakes naval station during the war against Germany—the American Legion was definitely committed to aid the police authorities in the suppression of crime, to oppose communism and to help whip the depression by supporting the NRA.

The legion's views on these and a variety of other subjects, including rehabilitation for disabled former soldiers were outlined in resolutions adopted before adjournment of its 15th annual convention, which meets next year in Miami.

Calling upon the new national commander to appoint a law and order committee to study the crime problem, the legion asked that this body devise a plan whereby it could actively participate in the curbing of criminals on both a national and state basis.

The legion's rehabilitation program, which requests free federal hospitalization for all veterans, even if their ailments have been contracted since the war, and its policy in favor of strengthening the nation's defense, were also approved.

IT'S STILL A MISDEMEANOR TO FIGHT OVER A BELLE, IN EYES OF THE LAW

(By The Associated Press)

ASHEVILLE, N. C., Oct. 6—Dashing cavaliers, romantic intrigue, and moonlight duels may mean one thing to the chroniclers of the old south's era of lavender and old lace, but in the eyes of the law—prosaic, maybe—it's a misdemeanor to fight over a belle.

Rack Moody, a 22-year-old filling station operator, awaited sentence today for what he called a "scrap over a girl"—only, according to Moody, he didn't fight with his fists in the approved manner of a modern hero; he and an unknown stranger shot it out at twenty paces.

Moody's story is that a gallant young stranger, whose name police have never been able to learn, warned him to stop "courting" a certain mountain lass—and then, when a fist fight seemed imminent, suggested that they go to a nearby golf course and settle the matter "like gentlemen."

The proposal appeared to Moody's sense of propriety. And the "outlander," as strangers are known in these parts, seemed accommodating enough. He drove Moody to the greens in his car and when he found Moody had only two bullets in his pistol, he threw away all but two of his.

And then, in the moonlight, they stepped twenty paces, and, without seconds or a physician convenient,

SENATE GROUP WOULD KEEP WESTBROOK

SUB-COMMITTEE ASKS GOVERNOR, 8 OTHERS BE IN NEW BODY

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Oct. 6—A subcommittee of the Texas senate decided today to recommend that Lawrence Westbrook be retained as director of unemployment relief work in this state but that a new commission be named to supervise relief activities.

The new commission would consist of Governor Miriam A. Ferguson and eight other members. One of the commissioners would be appointed by the speaker of the house and another by the lieutenant governor.

Six Others Listed

The six other members would be John Wood, chairman of the highway commission, T. A. Lower of Brenham, one of the governor's appointees to the present rehabilitation and relief commission, Claude D. Teer, chairman of the board of control, W. D. Cline of Wichita Falls, President of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, E. L. Kurth of Lufkin, president of the East Texas chamber, and F. W. Kirk of Houston, president of the South Texas chamber.

The funds would be distributed within the counties by committees selected by the commissioners' courts and approved by the state commission.

The subcommittee was named after the senate had concluded a searching investigation into the past and present administration of federal unemployment relief funds. It was instructed to write a bill to provide for the issuance of state relief bonds to match federal funds and to prescribe the method for disbursing such funds.

The group decided to recommend the issuance of $7,500,000 of the $20,000,000 in state bonds authorized by the people in the election August 26.

Governor Ferguson would be chairman of the state relief commission. Westbrook's salary would be $4,000 yearly. The bill would permit

LUBBOCK MAN IS SERIOUSLY HURT

Twisted like a rag-doll when the motor of a cooling vat he was cleaning was turned on, E. A. Embry, 28, of 1420 Tenth street, was received at West Texas hospital in a serious condition a few moments before noon. He suffered fractures of two vertebrae and other injuries.

Embry, employe of the Lubbock Poultry and Egg company, was cleaning a vat at the plant at 1204 Fourth street, when he became entangled in coils of the vat.

He suffered a dislocation of the right knee cap, a sprain of the right knee, and two vertebrae were chipped.

A surgeon early this afternoon was preparing to puncture Embry's spine.

Siamese Twins To Marry Within Year

NEW YORK, Oct. 6 (AP)—The Aquitania came in from England today, bringing Violet and Daisy Hilton, Siamese twins, and they brought a story that they will figure in a double wedding within a year.

Daisy, the one on the left, said she was engaged to Jack Lewis, an orchestra leader, now in Chicago. Violet reported that her fiance is "a prominent English boxer," whom she met abroad. She declined to divulge his name.

ALLOTMENTS MADE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6 (AP)—The public works administration today allotted $6,565,063 for sixteen non-federal work projects in eight states to provide 52,000 men months of immediate direct employment.

HUBBELL WINS OVER WEAVER IN ELEVENTH

NEW YORK AGAIN GOES TWO UP IN WORLD SERIES STANDING

(By The Associated Press)

GRIFFITH STADIUM, WASHINGTON, Oct. 6 — Carl Hubbell pitched his second victory of the World series for the Giants today beating Monte Weaver, Senators' righthander, in a dramatic duel that went eleven innings to a 2 to 1 decision. Blondy Ryan drove in the winning run for the Giants.

TRUCE SOUGHT IN HAVANA

CUBAN LEADERS MEET WITH AMBASSADOR SUMNER WELLES

(By The Associated Press)

HAVANA, Oct. 6—A resumption of negotiations for political peace became a possibility today after an important conference of Cuban leaders which American Ambassador Sumner Welles is reliably reported to have attended.

The parley took place at the home of Dr. Cosme De La Torriente, who previously participated in Mr. Welles' mediation attempts, and followed a meeting of the American embassy and Colonel Fulgencio Batista, leader of the Cuban army.

Mendieta Attends

Among those present also was General Carlos Mendieta, nationalist chieftain. Earlier attempts to effect a recognition between the Ramon Grau San Martin administration and its opponents, including the nationalists and the OCRR and ABC secret societies, apparently ended in failure a week ago when Grau's supporters spurned the opposition's demands for Grau's resignation and a coalition government.

Reliable political observers said the conference last night was the first of a series designed to reopen actual negotiations between the government and the opposition factions.

Bank Is Guarded

The capital, meanwhile, was quiet, though police guards patrolled all foreign banks after the manager of the Havana branch of the Bank of Nova Scotia told authorities a plot was afloat to bomb his institution to bring about American intervention.

The army continued efforts to establish the exact number killed in a battle between former army officers and soldiers at the National hotel Monday. Reliable sources, however, put the death toll at 60.

OIL DECISION IS TO BE APPEALED

AUSTIN, Oct. 6 (AP)—James V. Allred, attorney general, was preparing an appeal today from a decision of the Travis county district court holding that he could not prosecute a suit to penalize 17 oil concerns for alleged violations of the anti-trust laws.

Judge J. D. Moore decided that the defendant's demurrer, contending President Roosevelt's NRA code for the petroleum industry, superseded Texas' strict anti-trust statutes.

Allred had sued for $17,000,000 in penalties on grounds the defendants had subscribed to a code of business practices, promulgated by the American Petroleum institute, that was, in effect, an arrangement in restraint of trade and designed to set up a monopoly.

Oklahoma Man Shot By Whisky Runner

HUGO, Okla., Oct. 6 (AP)—John Hammock of Grant was shot probably fatally last night by an assailant identified by officers as a whisky runner. Officers said the shooting followed a quarrel over a liquor deal.

Hammock was taken to a Paris, Tex., hospital.

THE WEATHER

Eighty-Five Men And Women Attend Junior High Parent-Teacher Club Gathering

Duncan Speaks For School Association

Eighty-five men and women attended an initial meeting of the Junior High Parent-Teacher association Thursday evening in the school auditorium.

M. H. Duncan, superintendent of schools, talked on "Why the Home and School Should Cooperate in Character Training." Carroll Thompson, school principal, gave the welcome talk. Mrs. Carl Scoggin sang.

There was a business session with the president, Mrs. George Herd, presiding, and a social hour followed. Light refreshments were served.

Because this month is the anniversary of the founding of the parent-teacher movement, the members agreed to send a letter to the founder, whose home is in Dallas. There was a birthday service at the meeting. The organization has been in existence for 26 years.

Kemas Club Dinner Served Last Night

Several new men at Texas Technological college were guests Thursday evening when members of the Kemas club, a stag organization, entertained with a smoker-banquet at the Hilton hotel.

Miss Lucile Walker entertained with dancing and vocal solos during the evening.

The club sponsor, Mart Pederson, attended with the following members: Morrison Liston, Roscoe Clark, Craig McNeese, Edward Watson, Chancey Watson, Neil Brown, Harold Elliott, Bryan Harper, Eugene Watkins, Sam Black and A. C. Sanders.

Officers Elected In Baptist Class

Officers have been elected in the Calvary Baptist Truth Seekers' class of which Mrs. J. H. Comer is the teacher. There were 22 members in attendance last Sunday.

Mrs. C. E. Whitley is the president. Mrs. R. B. Hattan is vice-president and Mrs. B. F. Foster is secretary. Committee chairmen include Mrs. Bill Deatherage, fellowship; Mrs. C. E. White, devotional; Mrs. Grover Stephens, mission and stewardship. Mrs. R. D. Harris is reporter for the class.

Marriage Rites For Couple Are Read

Miss Elsie Erwin and R. L. Stokes of this city were married Thursday at noon at the Colonial hotel with the Rev. Walter P. Jennings, pastor of the First Christian church, officiating. They will make their home in Lubbock.

Mr. and Mrs. M. B. McClain have gone to Chicago to see the world's fair. Mr. McClain was awarded the trip by the Firestone company for which he is local manager.

Shriner Motif Is Used In The Hats

The "Shriner motif" is something new in the way of a smart fall turban. This one, worn by Jean Muir, is of brown crushed velvet with a long brown tassel for trimming.

Miss Erwin Speaks At P-TA Meet

Members of the K. Carter Parent-Teacher association heard a talk on "Healthful Clothing for Children" Thursday afternoon at a meeting at the school. Miss Mabel Erwin of the faculty at Texas Technological college made the talk.

Room pupils taught by Misses Evelyn Jones and Mildred Boone presented a program. Rooms taught by Mrs. Josephine Ballenger and Mrs. Wallace Wells were represented by the most mothers.

Wesleyan Class Has Party Thursday

Mrs. H. C. Nott, 1913 Dixie Drive, was hostess to 11 members of the Awakened Wesleyan class of Asbury Methodist church Thursday afternoon in her home. This was a business and social meeting of the group.

MAKE POSTERS

Posters were made for the annual Gypsy hike when members of the Wakishaka Camp Fire group met at the home of Mrs. H. B. Hawkins Thursday afternoon.

REPORT ON PACE BILL FAVORABLE

AUSTIN, Oct. 6 (AP)—A bill by Senator Will D. Pace of Tyler to increase the production allowances to marginal oil wells will come before the Texas senate with a favorable committee report.

The state affairs committee voted last night, 6 to 5, to give it a favorable report.

The committee acted after a hearing in which former Senator Tomas G. Pollard of Tyler and Roy Jenkins of Dallas, East Texas operator, spoke for the proposal and Charles I. Francis of Wichita Falls argued against it.

Pollard said that while the bill was general in character its principal effect would be to increase the production of stripper wells in the East Texas field from 20 to 30 barrels daily.

Francis expressed fear that passage of the bill would disrupt "the entire oil industry."

Rub the flat or electric irons once a week with paraffin and rub on a soft cloth. This will clean the irons and make them iron smoothly.

Oranges, candied or currant jelly can be served with duck or squab.

D. G. Hale has gone to Chicago to see the world's fair.

Social Gatherings Enjoyed By Groups

Several organizations enjoyed social gatherings here on Thursday.

There was an all-day party for members of the 1916 Needle club. Las Leales club members and guests enjoyed a steak fry. Members of the 1928 Luncheon club had a party.

Las Leales club is an organization made up of several women students at Texas Technological college. They were hostesses late Thursday afternoon with a steak fry at the home of one of the sponsors, Miss Margaret Weeks, 2436 Twentieth street. Guests included several new students at the college.

Hostesses were Misses Mary and Katherine Leidigh, Margaret Lindsey, Lucille McCrummen, Pearl Harrison, Romo Yarbrough, Emmajean and Ruth Douglas, Pearl Edmondson, Hermona Shadle, Ruth Thompson, Rebecca Goodloe, Louise Lawson and Pauline Garrigues.

These Are Guests

Guests were Misses Juanita Shannon, Ruth Elaine Lewis, Pauline Hall, Bertha Helen Triplett, Olga Faye Ford, Myrtle Teague, Beatrice Payne, Agnes Abernathy, Mabel Erwin and Mrs. Mary W. Doak.

Mrs. J. H. Bryan, 2012 Main street, was hostess with an all-day party for the 1916 Needle club. A picnic lunch was spread under the trees in the back yard at noon. In the afternoon the guests sewed.

Members attending were, Mmes. O. H. Cline, Joe Baldridge, E. R. Allen, James M. Gordon, J. W. Gamel, R. V. Kimmel, R. T. Coffee, James Kimmell, R. I. Tubbs, W. H. Edgett, W. D. Benson, W. E. Lyle and J. E. Cook. There were three special guests, Mrs. R. D. Benson, Mrs. Floe Swenson and Miss Sue Bryan.

Mrs. Bledsoe Hostess

Members of the 1928 Luncheon club attended a luncheon and bridge party at Hotel Lubbock. Mrs. W. H. Bledsoe was hostess.

Mrs. Bradford Knapp scored high in games of contract bridge.

Other bridge guests were Mesdames A. B. Conley, W. F. Schenck, W. O. Stevens, Carl Slaton, J. H. Hankins, F. R. Friend, Fred Snyder, W. H. Meador, Wallace Rix, J. T. Hutchinson, Sam C. Arnett, C. C. Crenshaw, E. G. Rall, Ft. Worth, Miss Delia Wilkinson.

Mrs. W. T. Gaston was a luncheon guest.

Three tables were arranged for bridge when Mrs. W. S. Moss, 1725 Twenty-Third street, was hostess to the Congenial Bridge club in her home in the afternoon.

The Royal Squadron Hat Is Shown

Stylists have found inspiration in Italy for the slouch felt hat shown at right. They call it "the royal squadron." It rolls at the back in true Italian fashion and has colorful feathers tucked in the band. At left is a tweed ensemble for cool autumn days. The fur trimmed collar can be worn slightly rolled or high about the neck. The hat has a flange that lifts the crown to give added height in the center.

Blue Bird Group Has Nature Study

Members of a Blue Bird Camp Fire group met at the Camp Fire club house Thursday afternoon and went from there to the campus of Texas Technological college for a nature study. They were accompanied by Mesdames W. L. Bradshaw and M. N. Hale.

Twins Have Birthday Party Thursday

Dorothy Lou and Betty Ann Rountree, twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. John Rountree were honored on their second birthdays when their mother entertained Thursday afternoon in their home, 2708 Twenty-Second street.

After a series of games the two birthday cakes were cut and served with ice cream. Several children found favors in their slices of cake and all were presented with novelty balloons. Lynn Lowrey found the key, Jewell Alice Pharr, the ring, Margaret Thompson, the spoon, Lynn Marie Ryan, the thimble, Ray Mark Thompson, the shoe, Ernest Huff, jr., the dice, and James Rountree, the button, in the cake. Other children attending were Jo Ann Kuykendall, Marshall Pharr and Sam Davis.

Adults present were Mesdames Neil Thompson, Ernest Huff and E. J. Lowrey. Mrs. Rountree was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. John A. Keathley.

Petersburg Pair Is Married Here

The marriage of Miss Lela Fay Brunson and A. H. Bruington of Petersburg took place Wednesday afternoon at the First Christian church with the pastor, the Rev. Walter P. Jennings, officiating. The couple was accompanied by several friends for the ceremony.

Why Liquid Laxatives are Back in Favor

The public is fast returning to the use of liquid laxatives. People have learned that the properly prepared liquid laxative will bring a perfect movement without any discomfort at the time, or after.

The dose of a liquid laxative can be varied to suit the needs of the individual. The action can thus be regulated. A child is easily given the right dose. And mild liquid laxatives do not irritate the kidneys.

Doctors are generally agreed that senna is the best laxative for everybody. Senna is a natural laxative. It does not drain the system like the cathartics that leave you so thirsty. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a liquid laxative which relies on senna for its laxative action. It has the average person's bowels as regular as clockwork in a few weeks' time.

Come over to the SUNNY SIDE OF LIFE

Do you want to feel always at your best? To meet each day with fresh vitality? You can. For when you're healthy, you're happy.

A delicious cereal provides the "bulk" that is so important in overcoming common constipation.

Tests show Kellogg's ALL-BRAN also supplies vitamin B to further aid regular habits. In addition, ALL-BRAN is twice as rich in iron as an equal weight of beef liver.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that in leafy vegetables. What a relief to enjoy an appetizing cereal instead of taking patent medicines.

Serve as a cereal or use in cooking. Directions on the red-and-green package. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

OLD OIL WELLS ARE REVIVED

RESURRECTION OF THE DEAD WELLS RELATED TO GEOLOGISTS

DALLAS, Oct. 6. (AP)—The ghosts of dead oil wells in the Ranger, Eastland, Cisco and Breckenridge fields of West Texas—dead these twelve years since—have been revived before the research committee of the American Association of Petroleum Geologists, in session here.

Resurrection of such wells in the last year was explained by Tom Petty, geologist at Cisco for the Humble Oil company. He said the treatment of old wells with hydrochloric acid was restoring much of their apparently departed flow.

Tells Of Response

He described the pumping of several hundred gallons of hydrochloric acid into a 20-barrel-a-day Humble well in southeastern Throckmorton county, near Albany, and the well's response to that treatment by a revival of potential production at a rate of 1,800 barrels a day.

Petty's subject was the acid treatment of limestone oil reservoirs and he explained that the acid, under forced pressure, penetrated rock fissures, dissolved the rock and opened up entrances into hidden oil pools bound in very irregular spaces in the rock. He said wells treated in that manner opened up other rock-bound pools and greatly increased the flow in wells more than a quarter of a mile distant.

Treatment Limited

The treatment is effective only in limestone areas, Petty said, such as the Fisher county and Noodle creek fields of Texas, the Zwolle field of Louisiana and certain pools in Michigan.

M. G. Cheney of Coleman, Tex., vice chairman of the research committee, asserted that "at least four-fifths of the oil in each field has not been recovered and geologists are working to turn the oil industry from a 'game' into a business."

Snyder Youth Gets Position As Page

SNYDER, Oct. 6.—(Special)—Another Snyder resident has secured a post at Austin.

He is Donald Darby, son of Mrs. Louise Darby, former district court clerk here. Young Darby is a page for the state legislature and secured his place through Representative Joe Merritt of this city.

Mrs. Darby is with the board of county and district road indebtedness at Austin.

MINISTER RETURNS

ROARING SPRINGS, Oct. 6—(Special)—After serving as the minister of the local church and also of the Paducah Church of Christ for some time, Ben West, a minister, is resuming his work as minister of the Eleventh Street Church of Christ at Port Arthur, where he was formerly located.

At Last—Offensive Body Odor Ended!

Soaps with Tell-Tale Medicine Smell No Longer Needed!

Laboratory tests now show that ordinary soap, with its thick, sluggish lather, will cleanse only the surface of the skin. But body odor is deep-seated, caused by stale perspiration curds. Ordinary soap can't remove these curds in this hard water.

That's why deep-pore cleansing is needed—and it is a scientific fact that there is only one way to accomplish this. Kirk's Coco Castile, being a 100% pure vegetable oil soap, mixes with the particles of perspiration curds, loosens them, then rinses out completely—even in the hardest water. Thus it ends body odor in the only effective way—by removing the cause.

Kirk's Coco Castile is stimulating to the skin—leaves no offensive M. S. (medicine smell)—ends body odor the odorless way. A BIG cake, half again larger than the average toilet soap, it is today selling at the lowest price in history. Be sure to ask for Kirk's Castile by name—at your grocer's.

MARKET WEEK SLATED HERE

SEVENTH SEMI-ANNUAL EVENT IS SCHEDULED FOR NEXT WEEK

"Apparel rivaling that of the southwest's principal markets in style, quality, and quantity will be offered for sale to retail merchants of West Texas and East New Mexico here October 8, 9, 10, and 11 at a 9th semi-annual Wholesale Clothing market, the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce has announced.

In addition to the trading advantages at the sample rooms in local hotels during the market, there will be dancing each evening except October 8, and on the evening of October 10, a style show will be held at the Lubbock High school auditorium, it has been announced.

To Show Latest

The latest styles in ladies' ready-to-wear, millinery, hosiery, coats, wash frocks and in other merchandise will be modeled in this style show with the following wholesale merchants participating: Lyndaw Manufacturing Co., Charlotte Frocks, Inc., Stern-Siegman-Prints company, H. T. Poindexter and sons, Smith-McCord-Townsend, Pitts-Smith Dry Goods company and Brand and Puritz, Kansas City market; Higginbotham Millinery company, Dallas market; A. B. Frank company, San Antonio market and Oklahoma Bear Brand company, Oklahoma City market.

In addition to the firms in the style show, there will be approximately fifty other firms handling both women and men's clothing, shoes, millinery, general line, novelties, costume jewelry, work clothes, hats, shirts and other merchandise.

From 150 to 200 retail merchants are expected to come into the market to make purchases for fall sales. Cotton marketing and receipt of cotton acreage reduction money has put millions of dollars into the hands of the farmers of the Plains in the past few weeks, this being a great stimulus to business in this section.

POSTAL RECEIPTS SHOW GAIN HERE

A barometer of business conditions, postal receipts are increasing in Lubbock as compared with 1932, and indications are they will surpass last year's mark by several thousand dollars.

That was the information given out Thursday by Acting Postmaster M. M. Brown. The increase was made in spite of the two-cent local postage rate placed in effect July 1. Receipts for the past quarter reached $25,979.81, Mr. Brown reported.

Receipts for the year total $77,918 as compared with $74,393.95 for this time last year.

At least a fifteen per cent increase in the volume of mail has been shown by the office in the past sixty days, Superintendent of Mails John R. Green reported. Especially noticeable is the increase in parcel post, Mr. Green said.

Navy Uses Gliders In Training Pilots

PENSACOLA, Fla., Oct. 6. (AP)—Gliders are being tested by the navy at its air station here as aids to training student fliers in developing aircraft "sense" or "feel."

Two of the motorless ships have been put into service to see whether their use in training may shorten the time required for dual instruction and increase the confidence of student pilots.

The students first "fly" the glider as it is pulled along the ground behind a towing car. When they have learned how to control the wing level and keep a straight course with the rudder the speed of the tow car is increased until the glider is a few feet in the air. Altitude is gradually increased as the students become more proficient.

Next steps are learning to make turns and finally precision landings.

NEW SCHOOL HEAD

ABERNATHY, (Special)—R. C. Patterson has been elected superintendent of the Nazarene Sunday school. He succeeds A. N. Johnson. T. L. Tarver, Johnson and Patterson were named delegates of the local church to the state convention at Cisco in November.

Law schools in New York state require two years of college work after completion of high school for admission.

Frauds In Belgian Dole System Shown

BRUSSELS, Oct. 6. (AP)—New legislation affecting the payment of the dole has led to the tracking of numerous frauds.

Out of a total of 175,000 unemployed submitted to control within the first three months' operation of the law, 20,000 were found unentitled to the dole, another 62,000 to a reduced dole, and 1,500 were prosecuted for fraudulent statements.

Detroit suffers a loss of $12,000,000 a year due to destruction caused by rats.

Complexion Cleared Up

"At one time," writes Mrs. Lizzie Falls, of Paris, Texas, "my complexion was muddy and bad. I felt tired and dull. Did not feel like doing anything. My system seemed clogged. I did not have a good taste in my mouth. I believed this trouble came from constipation. I used Black-Draught until my complexion and other trouble cleared up. Now I only have to take an occasional dose. I have never found any laxative that gives the satisfaction Black-Draught does." • • Children like the new, pleasant tasting SYRUP of Black-Draught.

Nation-Wide Fight On Malnutrition Started By Secretary Of Labor Perkins; Doctors And Social Workers Will Meet

Doctors and social workers are to meet in Washington today to plan for a country-wide campaign against malnutrition and its effects upon the health of children. Secretary of Labor Perkins estimates that about one-fifth of the nation's children show signs of an inadequate diet.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6 (AP)—Malnutrition, making its slow and dangerous inroads among an estimated one-fifth of the country's children, has resulted in a call by Secretary of Labor Perkins to open a nation-wide drive for child health recovery.

Doctors and social workers will meet here October 6 to devise a uniforms means of finding the small sufferers of the depression and to decide upon methods of helping them through correct food and medicines, back to normal health.

Data available to the children's bureau of the department of labor are meager, coming only from communities with advanced welfare systems.

90 Per Cent In Some Sections

"We have no exact figures to answer the question of how many malnourished children there are today," says Secretary Perkins, "because there is no universal method of measuring the child's nutritional condition.

"It is probably safe to estimate that about one-fifth of the children are showing signs of nutritional lack. In some regions the figures are appalling, going as high as 90 per cent."

The conference will attempt to set up a uniform method of physical examination; to devise a plan for state and local welfare agencies to supply the needed foods and medicines; to establish the part to be played by public health officers, health associations, relief and educational organizations and volunteers, and to set a date for the opening of the national drive.

Figures Show Malnutrition Record

Among the conditions shown by statistics for children of school age are these:

Malnutrition jumped from 16 per cent in 1929 to 23 per cent in 1932 in the borough of Manhattan, New York, and from 13 to 23 per cent in the borough of the Bronx.

Detroit, in an examination of a special group of children, found that 11 per cent were undernourished and that seven per cent additional were underweight.

Springfield, O., examining 8,430 children in 1931-32, found that 31 per cent of the children were underweight by 10 per cent or more.

Five coal-mining counties in Kentucky and West Virginia were found to have more than half of their children underweight, and in some schools the percentage ran as high as 90.

Among pre-school children and infants the figures show the same evidence of undermined health.

A Fetching Smile for Chaplin

Banquets may be boresome, but this one wasn't, for Charlie Chaplin, with Paulette Goddard bestowing one of her best smiles on the film comedian. They were among guests at the party given for Walt Disney, Mickey Mouse creator, in Hollywood. Rumor long has linked Chaplin and Miss Goddard as headed for the altar.

PICKING IN FULL SWING AT RALLS

RALLS, Oct. 6.—(Special)—With many pickers here from elsewhere to help harvest a record crop, cotton-picking is in full swing in the Ralls territory.

All gins are working full time and the streets leading to gins here are crowded with wagons and cars with trailers loaded with seed cotton. Ginners state that the crop is showing a good improvement in grade and that staple is satisfactory.

No checks have have been received here since Monday for distribution to farmers who sold their crop to the government, A. V. Bullock, secretary of the chamber of commerce, estimates at least half of the government's payment has been made.

The Security State Bank and Trust company has reported increased deposits, with payment of notes and loans, also deposits by business men, according to J. Edd McLaughlin, vice-president. Business houses are busy handling a growing trade.

Sheriff G. S. Hildebran of Burke county, N. C., reports finding a "moonshine" still with a blue eagle placard hanging nearby.

Phillips with PHILLIPS

Best for your car and pocketbook

No argument about it! Here is the gasoline which has won friends faster than any other in the history of motordom.

It is the gas with every premium quality you need, want, and are entitled to get for your good money in these days of thrift.

As an experienced and observant driver, you can prove for yourself that all gasolines are not alike. Just try one tankful of Phillips 66. You quickly feel the difference . . . your engine feels it . . . but your pocketbook doesn't! . . . Because Phillips 66 costs not a single cent extra. It sells at the price of regular gasoline.

Yet you get honest HIGH TEST—the gravity range this month is 63.5° to 69.5°.

70 OCTANE

GRAVITY FROM 63.5° TO 69.5°

You get HIGHER ANTI-KNOCK—official 70 Octane, highest anti-knock value possible at regular price.

You get CONTROLLED VOLATILITY—the scientific method pioneered by Phillips which prevents weather-changes from affecting power, pep, and mileage.

Note that these statements are not vague claims dressed up in high-sounding words. But facts, FACTS backed up by definite figures.

Make sure that you are not passing up far finer performance and actual savings in money, by stopping for gas at the Orange and Black 66 shield.

SWINE AWARDS MADE PUBLIC

FOUR BREEDERS TAKE SIX CHAMPIONSHIPS IN FAIR HOG SHOW

In what Douglas Pounds, divisional superintendent, described as the best swine exposition conducted west of Dallas, four breeders won the six grand championships in the hog show at the Panhandle-South Plains fair.

Tierra Blanca farms of Canyon and Lillard farms of Arlington each won two of the grand prizes, and Shallowater farms of Argyle, Ill., and Geo. M. Sherlock of Knoxville, Ia., each exhibited one sweepstake winner.

Mowery Is Judge

Ray C. Mowery, Texas Technological college, spent three days in the judging, completing the last division late yesterday. He said that about 30 winners of the International Swine show in Springfield, Ill., were shown here.

G. H. Shaw was in charge of three of the out-of-state herds. He was in charge of Shallenberger's Durocs, which includes one boar weighing 1,100 pounds; of Columbian farms' Poland Chinas from Grandview, Mo., and of Wonderland farms' Poland Chinas from Wolcott, Ind. Four of eight pigs of a litter which won first for Arnold Moore, 15, of Wolcott in a national pig club contest are on display, too. Jack Heffelfinger is in charge of 20 swine from the Sherlock farm. It is their tenth show this season. In the herd is The Storm, grand champion boar the past two years at the International Livestock show in Chicago, said Heffelfinger.

In Gotham Political Tangle

The leadership of Tammany Hall faced the threat of complete disruption as an outgrowth of its adamant stand on the candidacy of John P. O'Brien (left) for relection as mayor of New York. Those opposed to the relection of O'Brien and dissatisfied with the nomination of Fiorello LaGuardia (lower right) by the fusionists are urging Joseph V. McKee (upper light, former president of the board of aldermen, to run as an independent candidate. (Associated Press Photos)

LA GUARDIA IS LOVER OF GOOD BEER, SPAGHETTI COOK AND MAN OF BATTLE

BY B. L. LIVINGSTONE

NEW YORK, Oct. 6. (AP)—New York's voters, diverted by the bitterest election fight in years, know fusion's candidate for mayor as a man of battle, a spaghetti cook supreme, and a lover of good beer.

Fiorello La Guardia, son of an Italian bandmaster and earnest advocate of liberal causes, comes to the November elections as vivid a personality as has flashed across the Gotham mayoral scene since Jimmy Walker first stole the show on Broadway.

Short, stocky and black-haired, he has brought to New York politics the same fire which marked his career in the house of representatives—a career cut short by last year's Democratic landslide.

Accused As Radical

Often he has been accused as a radical, but many of his "radical" ideas he now sees accepted as commonplaces.

He attacked Samuel Insull when Insull was king. He made beer on the sidewalks when prohibition was unaffected by three-point-two. He predicted financial woe for New York City when funds seemed unending.

The late Clinton W. Gilbert, with humorous insight into his character, once remarked of him: "The good cook will never lead a revolution."

Some thirteen years ago he sat at city hall as president of the board of aldermen—a single Republican in a Tammany stronghold by virtue of an upset election—and he was the exasperating center of a scene of acrimony and disorder.

"Hit the president of the board of aldermen on the head with the gavel, then maybe he'll keep quiet," they pleaded of Mayor John F. Hylan.

They're Still Trying

They have been trying, periodically, since then to hit La Guardia on the head. It has never had noticeable quieting effect upon one of the scrappiest one-man minorities ever to trod on the sacred toes of a majority.

This year he is back at the throat of his ancient foe, Tammany Hall, and what he terms "all bossism, be it Republican or Democratic." Behind him stands that Tammany nemesis, Samuel Seabury, his staunch friend.

Going to congress for the first time just before the war, he walked out of the house chamber to join up and go to the front as an air bomber. When he returned later to Washington, he gained the reputation of a front rank progressive.

Fought Both Parties

On the floor, he fought Republican and Democratic proposals displeasing to him with complete impartiality. Last year, speaking against a Republican sponsored modified sales tax, he declared:

"There is no partisanship on anything that goes beyond $1,000,000."

Today, in his office, he gave a glimpse of the ideals of his campaign:

"New York is a wonderful city, but it can't go on being that under a systematic looting by party bosses. They must be wiped out and New York made in every respect a great, wonderful, beautiful city."

He married his secretary because he figured he couldn't get along without her. Their home life is placid and happy.

CUT SUBWAY TRAFFIC

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Frequency of trains on the city subway has been increased to a 90-second headway at the rush hour, two minutes in other daylight hours and four minutes all night. Traffic has declined, and the company is trying to combat bus and jitney competition.

Olives contain 24 per cent of oil; the avocado, or alligator pear, contains 12 per cent.

Inscription Tells Fate Of Captives

LIVINGSTON, Mont., Oct. 6. (AP)—A mountain climbing expedition, reaching the crest of Mary mountain in Yellowstone park this summer found an inscription telling the fate of nine Montanans at the hands of a band of Nez Perce braves.

The Indians held a council on the spot August 24, 1877, the inscription related, to decide the prisoners' fate. The captives were attacked, five escaped, three were carried off as prisoners and the leader left for dead.

FLIES 1,300 MILES

ODESSA, USSR (AP)—The story of a carrier pigeon which flew more than 1,300 miles to return home after twice being sold to fanciers in Moscow and Saratov is being told by the original owner here. He claims the distance is a world's record.

WEST REMAINS ON THE JOB

WHILE OTHER SOLONS ARE BACK HOME HE KEEPS TO OFFICE

BY WILLIAM S. WHITE
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6 (AP)—Big, sandy-haired Milton West of Brownsville keeps to his office in Washington while most of his colleagues in the Texas delegation are back moving among the home folks.

An extraordinary demand for his services here developed out of the recent Rio Grande valley storm and kept him rushing from department to department, seeking one sort of aid here and another there. There still is work to be done in that connection and he doesn't know yet when he'll be able to go back home.

Meanwhile, like others, he faces possible or probable opposition next election. But his friends hold and he apparently agrees, he can do as much good politically, and more for his district, here than he could by being in Brownsville.

Anyhow, he says he is getting some good training in making contacts with department heads and finding his way around.

Reports reaching Washington are to the effect that Gordon Griffin, allied with the good government league when that group was engaged in long and bitter controversy with the "regular" Democratic organization in Hidalgo county, probably will elect to engage West for his congressional seat.

Griffin polled a heavy vote in the race that sent West here.

West always has been a Democratic party man. He represents Vice President John Garner's vast old district and came along the political road from a start as district attorney at Brownsville.

He once was a Texas ranger down in the border country and his friends say he still can shoot like one.

Watch Senate Race

Everybody in Washington interested in Texas is watching for developments in connection with the 1935 senatorial election. Senator Connally comes up for reelection at that time and the list of possible opponents, as Washington hears it, includes the names of former Governor James E. Ferguson and Rep. Joseph Weldon Bailey of Dallas, son of the former United States senator. There may be, and probably are, others being talked of, but it is thought hereabouts the Bailey and Ferguson candidacies are most likely.

Children's Dogs To Be Classed As Toys

HUNTINGTON, Ind., Oct. 6. (AP)—It may cost the township a bit to give the poor dog a bone, but Trustee Dale Kreigh has decided in favor of the poor children on the relief rolls.

He has ruled that a dog is a toy—at least in families too poor to buy playthings for their children—and therefore cannot be taken away merely because the family, and the dog, are living off the township.

In Jamaica, natives run 18 miles uphill, carrying fresh fish to the markets. The runner who reaches market first gets the best price for his fish.

DRESS UP CHURCHES

ABERNATHY, (Special) — Three local churches are being repaired and redecorated for the winter. At the Nazarene and Lutheran churches the buildings are being repainted. At the Baptist church in addition to painting a new class room is being added.

LIST OF SCOUT WINNERS REVISED

A revised list of winners in Boy Scout exhibits at the Panhandle-South Plains fair was announced last night by D. T. Jennings, area executive, who explained that changed regulations had resulted in the revision.

In summarizing the first winners, the changes were not noted. A rechecking found several names were dropped and new ones added. Contestants who failed to meet specifications were dropped.

Troops 4 and 22 tied for first place in troop exhibits with 65 points each, under new regulations. Troop 2 was third with 60 points. Troop 22 is from Lamesa and the others are from Lubbock.

In the paper knives contest for patrol competition, Eagle patrol of troop 22 placed first, Pirate patrol, troop 22, placed second and Panther patrol, troop 4, third.

Flying Eagle patrol, troop 4, was first in insect collection, with no second place.

No placings were found in architecture. In the art section, Verril Miller of troop 22 placed first with no other placings. These were in the individual competition classes.

Stamp collecting results were: Neal McCaskill, troop 5, first; J. T. Lamm, troop 3, second. There was no third place.

Wood turning, Willard McSpadden, troop 22, placed first and Zac Davis, troop 22, second.

In the adult competition on whittling, Joe Spikes, troop 22, placed first and W. G. McMillan, troop 2, second.

Ministers Ask For Return Of Tuttle

PLAINVIEW, Oct. 6.—(Special)—Ministers of the Plainview district of the Methodist Episcopal church, have asked Bishop Hiram A. Boaz, who is to preside at the annual Northwest Texas Conference at Clarendon, in November, to return Rev. W. L. Tuttle here as presiding elder.

At a district meeting recently the ministers voted an expression of their appreciation of his work as head of the district and also unanimously voted to ask his return.

ROCKEFELLER URGES ELIMINATION OF PROFIT MOTIVE IN LIQUOR TRAFFIC

NEW YORK, Oct. 6 (AP)—John D. Rockefeller, jr., believes the only hope of controlling the liquor problem after repeal of prohibition lies in eliminating the profit motive in liquor traffic.

He stresses the point in a statement which will be published as a foreword to a report on liquor control recently completed by Raymond S. Fosdick and Albert L. Scott after an eight-month survey sponsored by Rockefeller.

The first aim in a program of liquor control, Rockefeller said in his statement, is the abolition of lawlessness, even if "the immediate result is temporarily away from temperance."

Temperance Is Aim

The second aim is temperance—"the focusing of all the forces of society upon the development of self control and temperance" in the use of alcoholic beverages.

"To develop the habit of temperance in individuals, to take up again the slow march of education—this is the real and fundamental approach to the problem of alcohol," Rockefeller said.

"The report regards liquor taxation, as it should be regarded, primarily as a helpful factor in forwarding these objectives, and only incidentally as a means of producing income.

Would Eliminate Profit

"Another principle which the report develops is that only as the profit motive is eliminated is there any hope of controlling the liquor traffic in the interest of a decent society. To approach the problem from any other angle is only to tinker with it and to insure failure. This point cannot be too heavily stressed."

Rockefeller reaffirmed his personal devotion to total abstinence, but reiterated his belief, first made known a year ago last June, in the "regrettable failure of the Eighteenth amendment" and the necessity for its repeal.

TOBACCO to grow, to ripen and become mellow, has to take in or absorb something . . . not Vitamin D, of course, but something that it gets from the right amount of Sunshine

It's the Southern sunshine you read about, combined with the right sort of climate and moisture, that makes the Carolinas, Georgia, Kentucky, Maryland, and Virginia the best tobacco country in the world.

You can stand down there in that Southern sunshine and almost see it grow.

This ripe, mellow tobacco is skillfully cured by the farmer. Then, for 30 months, it's aged — just like fine wine.

It takes the right quantity of each kind of these tobaccos, blended and cross-blended — then seasoned with Turkish, to make a milder cigarette. Sunshine helps. Just try it!

Tech-Dixie Tilt Set For Tonight

SPYING ON SPORTS

BY COLLIER PARRIS

Lubbock 13; Sweetwater 20:
Dixie 0; Texas Tech 34.

* * *

How do we get that way? That's easy. Take the Lubbock-Sweetwater figures, for instance. There are eleven letters in Littlefield. There are two teams playing in the World Series. So 11 plus 2 make 13. Sweetwater ought to score a touchdown, which means six points. There are fourteen applications on our desk for press box seats for the Tech-Simmons game. Fourteen plus 6 equal 20. Now take Dixie and Tech. Nick Dobbs says he has no professionals on his club. He has been scrimmaging 22 men this week in preparations for the game. Twenty-two times zero equals nothing. As a result of the Simmons-West Texas game last Friday night at Canyon, there are 34 charley horses, misplaced vertebrae and broken bones, flattened noses and bruised knuckles on both teams. So there's your 34 to 0.

* * *

Oh, you didn't know they had a rough game up at Canyon last Friday night? Well, they did—and how? There were so many bloody noses, crushed bones and splintered shins that at least three of the Simmons boys are probably incapacitated for the remainder of the season, or at least for a few weeks, and we don't know how many of the Buffaloes are battered up. It shouldn't surprise us to hear any day now that West Texas and Simmons have severed athletic relations. We understand even Coach Fats Cranfil of Simmons, one of the most congenial and peace-loving coaches of the profession, is carrying a split hip. These are the stories drifting in one way and another since the "battle" at Canyon, but no informer seems to want to be quoted.

* * *

But back to the local set-up. Texas Tech and Dixie meet tonight at 8 chimes on the Matador field. Tech is doped to win, because Dixie lost to Simmons and barely nosed out Austin college. But where's the dope in that? Didn't Simmons beat Tech? and didn't the Matadors defeat Austin college last year? But Ridding aside, critics tell us the Rebels aren't nearly as strong as the Jefferson university Rangers of last season.

* * *

So far Tech doesn't appear nearly as strong as the Matadors of 1932, either. We don't know just why, because the club ought to be stronger. A couple of good men were lost, to be sure, through graduation, but that shouldn't make such a difference when you consider that everybody else on the squad is more experienced and capable of playing good football. The Matadors played hard last Friday, showing much improvement over the freshman game, and the Mustangs had to play like the dickens to win. But the local collegians have not clicked so beautifully as they did in mid-season last year.

* * *

Tonight the Matadors will be somewhat crippled on account of injuries. We're not presenting this as an alibi, but come to think of it, it would be a pretty fair thing to fall back on. The Matadirs didn't even work out yesterday, and not much the day before because the coaches couldn't find enough physically fit men. The regulars, who came through last Friday night's game better than the shockers, are due to start tonight, and probably finish. A couple of tough scrimmage sessions early this week had more to do with the injuries than the Mustang game. What Coaches Cawthon and Smith had intended for a week of real hard work in preparation for a game that may turn out to be a tougher test than expected, resulted in a disappointing flop toward the last of the week.

* * *

Employing Cawthon's strategy as Coach Nick Dobbs has planned to do tonight, the Rebels might wear the Matadors down with numbers, rather than straight football. Dobbs plans plans to start his shock troops, replacing them with his regulars when Cawthon sends in his first stringers. But Cawthon said last night he has no shock troops with which to start the game, which makes the thing shape up some differently.

* * *

Regardless of the outcome, you'll see a rough and tough football game tonight. Both teams favor the Notre Dame system, and coaches on both sides encourage the "rock 'em and sock 'em" type of football. Critics have said of Dobbs that he puts on the Notre Dame system in a manner that would do credit to Rockne himself.

In one out of every four murder cases the guilty person takes his own life, according to estimations.

MATADORS READY FOR COACH NICK DOBBS' REBELS OF DALLAS

Coach Nick Dobbs and 26 of his Dixie university Rebels from Dallas arrived here this morning and took up temporary residence at Hotel Lubbock. Except for the hours between 8 and 10 o'clock tonight the visitors from Big D will be on display in their street clothes at their local headquarters.

At 8 o'clock this evening, the Rebels, bearing the football standards of a small law school, will take the field against Texas Tech's Matador gridsters.

GREER IS CAPTAIN

Toby Greer, heralded by many Tech critics as one of the outstanding linesmen ever to play for the college, has been appointed captain of the Matadors in tonight's game. A senior varsity man from Comanche, Greer has earned two varsity letters as a regular guard. You'll see him at right guard position most of the time tonight.

In Good Condition

Upon his arrival this morning, Coach Dobbs said his team was "in fine shape, probably the best of the season," for the game, and that "we're going to put up a battle out there tonight that'll make everybody sit up and take notice."

With the exception of Jodie Whire, who is suffering a bruised ankle, the entire Dixie team is ready, Dobbs said. Asked if Whire, who, it was reported, withdrew from school last week, would play tonight, Dobbs said "he might." Whire, all-American halfback from the University of Georgia, is considered one of the smoothest backfield men in the southwest today. He is reported to be seriously considering an offer by a professional football team. Coach Pete Cawthon of Tech considers Whire the outstanding back of this end of the country.

Rivalry Develops

It's a strange, yet well-founded rivalry that is due to characterize tonight's game. Tradition has nothing to do with the enmity, since the teams of Tech and Dixie have never met.

Exchanges of caustic communications between fans, players, sports writers and coaches of Dallas, home of the Rebels, and Lubbock, home of the college boys, together with charges of "professionalism" hurled at the former and retaliations in kind by the Rebels have combined to make tonight's outlook a promising one for the fan who likes his football rugged and hard.

Negotiations for a game between Tech and Dixie were begun last season when the Rebels, playing as the Jefferson university Rangers, were having trouble finding suitable opposition. They mowed down everything that came along in the way of college and university teams, finishing the season undefeated and with the season's score very top-heavy indeed.

They Didn't Play

Efforts to schedule a game last season failed when the Rangers asked an exorbitant price for coming to Lubbock. Tech officials refused to make agreement and countered by offering to send the Matadors to Dallas for the same price. In addition, the word was bruited about that Tech didn't care to endanger its amateur status by playing the Rangers, although all charges of professionalism were denied in vociferous terms by Jefferson authorities.

The teams did not meet last year, but each included the other on the 1933 schedule, the game to be played at Dallas tonight. In the contract was a clause demanding that the Jefferson team, now the Dixie aggregation, abide by player eligibility and training rules customary at Texas Tech, with the exception that transfers and freshmen could play. Another clause called for Dixie to post a certain sum prior to the game as guarantee for trip expenses.

And They Did It

According to Coach Cawthon of Tech, Dixie has abided by the first clauses of the contract; is playing no professional gridsters, is using no players whose four years of college are up and abided by other training and eligibility rules. Upon failure of Dixie officials to procure the necessary funds, the request was made for a change in site, so the game was brought to Lubbock.

"Every man on my squad is a member of the Amateur Athletic union," wired Coach Nick Dobbs to the Avalanche-Journal this week, which is calculated to erase all suspicion regarding Dixie's professionals.

Cawthon said he would start his best men tonight, and keep them in the game, meaning that Malcolm Martin and Matt Hitchcock will start at the wing positions; Elva Baker and Bennie McWilliams or Brigham Young at tackles; Toby Greer and Lacy Turner at guards; Whacker Barton at center; Ed McKeever at quarterback; Gwynn Dowell and Aubrey Butts at halfback and Leonard Curfman at fullback.

Different Backfield

It will be noticed that this team, while strictly "regular" as regards the line, does not stack up with the "first quarter substitution act" usually played in Tech games. The backfield doesn't jibe with the line, because members of the regular backfield are out with injuries, or have been moved back to the shock troops. D. M. McElroy, Lefty Sollis, Yancy Price, Marion Harris, Ted Wilson, Mack Scoggin and Johnnie Walker all are temporarily indisposed because of charley horses, wrenched necks and twisted vertabrae.

The Rebels will outweigh the Matadors tonight, according to figures released here, on the average of about 15 pounds to the man. The lines will stack up more favorably than the backfields.

RACE PROGRAM DRAWS LARGE FAIR CROWD

THURSDAY'S CONTESTS CHARACTERIZED BY CLOSE FINISHES

Characterized by close finishes in which jockeying as much as horseflesh meant the difference between victory and defeat, the horse race program at the Panhandle-South Plains fair was continued yesterday with five events on the quarter-mile track.

An estimated crowd of 3,600 persons saw the races, a pony, two free-for-all, a cow-horse, and a saddle-horse event at a quarter-mile.

Nigger, a sleek, black speedster owned by Mullins & Peters of Lubbock and ridden by H. H. Robinson, 111 pounds, won a $50 purse in the first free-for-all, second race on the bill, and closed fast to place second in the saddle-horse event, the last race, with Robinson up again.

In the first open event, the four entries were bunched nearly to the turn, with Chickasha Bob, a brown horse ridden by Earl Wilson, leading wide on the outside. Red-shirted Robinson whipped Nigger to the inside there, and in a driving finish with hardly a head to spare the big black and the round-faced boy reached the post first. Z. A. Zimmerman owns Chickasha Bob. Mary Reed, a bay, owned by Doss Fulcher, was third with Dick Grady in the saddle. C. B. Priddy's Relay, jr., ridden by William Keefer, also ran.

Barney Owens Wins

In the first 50 yards it was plain that the second free-for-all, fourth race of the day, was between a sorrel, Barney Owens, owned and ridden by Keefer, and Doy Boake, a brown. George Keith, a brown owned and reined by Doc Bloss, and Squirrel, a bay, G. C. Peters entry with Robinson as jockey, were left to fight it out for third position. Bloss' horse placed.

Barney Owens won in a flashy spurt. Franchie, jockey of W. McElroy's Doy Boake, protested, accusing Keefer of grabbing Boake's rein at the turn. Keefer replied that he did not intend to be cut off. The judges disallowed the protest. The purse was $50.

A quick getaway and enough stamina to hold off Nigger's terrific push on the stretch enabled Rolling Sox, an Ellerbee & Kemper sorrel with Wilson up, to nose across for the $25 saddle-horse purse. Bill Till's Miss Cruder, a bay ridden by D. Fulcher, was third. Nigger Bill, a black from the Priddy string, with Keefer on, also ran.

Joe Rieger, a former deputy sheriff and one-time jockey, saw his entry, Paint, with Wilson as jockey, booted home winner in the cow-horse race. Harry Lindsey rode his sorrel Bolly to second place. A dun, Zabe, owned by J. N. Crum with Robinson up, was third. Sleepy Bess, a black, did not place. She is owned by G. G. Turpen and was ridden by Jack Strickland.

In the opening scramble, that for ponies, two paints, Kediver and Trixie, indicated what was to be expected through the day's running by finishing in a virtual dead-heat. The judges awarded first to Kediver, ridden by Jack Cartwright, and second to Trixie, urged by Bud Kidwell. Both ponies are owned by G. T. Cartwright. Topsy, a black, owned by Mullins & Peters and jockeyed by Eddie Kelly, was third. Pinto, entered by Tom Baber, was out of the money. All are mares. The pony purse was $10.

Cow and saddle-horse pots were $25 each.

Not all the events were clocked. Fastest of those timed were the cow and saddle-horse races, each being won in 25 seconds.

Yellowjackets Win Off John Tarleton

BROWNWOOD, Oct. 6. (AP)—Held scoreless through the first half, the Howard Payne college Yellowjackets came back in the third period last night and scored 20 points, defeating the John Tarleton college Plowboys without permitting them a single marker.

Tarleton took the kickoff in the third but failed to gain. The ball went over and Ray Taylor ripped off 32 yards in two plays for the Jackets. Truett Little, fullback, charged over for a touchdown and added the extra point.

After the next kickoff, Turkey Morrow blocked a Tarleton punt and raced 35 yards for another score. The Yellow Jackets started their next touchdown drive in midfield and Ray Taylor accomplished the final 11 yards to put the ball over. Yellowjacket reserves held Tarleton scoreless in the final period.

More than 235,000,000 persons attended outdoor playgrounds in 516 of our cities in 1932.

Sens Revived By Win Over Giants

MONTE WEAVER GIVEN TASK OF DEFEATING HUBBELL TODAY

BY EDWARD J. NEIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6 (AP)—All the Washington Senators had to do today to get back on even terms with the New York Giants in the World series was beat Carl Hubbell, the southpaw master of the screw ball.

From a neutral point of view that looked not one whit more difficult than any of the fabled twelve labors of Hercules. The last time the Senators saw Hubbell, which was also the first time, they scarcely saw him at all. He mowed them down with five hits in the opening game in New York, 4 to 2.

Terry Turns To Hubbell

But today a powerful change had swept over the series picture, a change so threatening that Bill Terry, leader of the National league champions, turned as he had done all through the past season in similar crises, to Hubbell, the tall, angular Oklahoma southpaw, the pitcher of the year in the majors.

From a stunned, shaken, struggling team, wandering dizzily about, bats waved futilely in the face of superb pitching, the Senators reformed their ranks yesterday amid the familiar scenes of the home ball field, under the eyes of President Roosevelt, and swept the Giants back in the third game with a wave of the same hard bitten, belting aggressiveness that overpowered the American league this season.

Behind the flawless pitching of Earl Whitehill, southpaw ace, the Senators stepped out and clubbed down fat Freddy Fitzsimmons as the Giants had slugged Wally Stewart and "General" Alvin Crowder.

Weaver Given Task

Great as was yesterday's 4-0 triumph, it could bring little ultimate satisfaction to the Senators unless the recovery, in the shadow of the legislative halls where one of the greatest recovery programs of all time was enacted, carried on today. Therefore Cronin entrusted his pitching to young Monte Weaver, the Virginia mathematician, who, through the closing days of the American league season, tossed the finest ball of any man on the Washington staff.

Weaver, a cool, calculating young man with a grand curve and fast ball, has been Cronin's ace in the hole, and the Senators believe he can beat the Giants, even with Hubbell pitching. Should that baseball miracle happen, the teams will enter the third and last game here tomorrow tied at two victories each, the series then continuing in New York with a sixth game Sunday, and a seventh Monday, if required.

Odds Favor Hubbell

A continuation of the power that flogged Fitzsimmons, the knuckle ball veteran, for two runs in the first inning, one in the second and a final marker in the seventh, would do for Hubbell, of course, as it would for any pitcher. But there was any amount of money at 10 to 7 odds in Washington today, some of it ready to bounce surreptitiously out of American league pockets, that Hubbell, with only two days rest, can come back and better his opening game performance, then if necessary, rest two more days and do it a third time.

The big problem of course, was to get runs for young Weaver to win with, and the record of the first game fails to show any system to work on with a chance for success. The Senators scored two unearned runs off Hubbell in the Polo grounds opener, both due to errors. Ten of them fanned. Buddy Myer, Goose Goslin and Heinie Manush in a row in the first inning. Of the five hits the Senators got, every single one passed through the infield and three were scratchers. It was a weary day indeed for the American league rulers.

Roosevelt Brings Sun

But yesterday it was different, with the capital only luke warm in its reception, the crowd numbering only 25,727, second smallest since the war, even the weather chilly and rainy until President Roosevelt appeared and brought the sun along with him.

Full of fight and dash, completely rehabilitated, the Senators, led by Myer both at bat and afield, never let up on Fitzsimmons and his knuckler until the verdict was clinched. With Whitehill's fast ball blazing over the corners under perfect control, his curve dancing past the Giants' bats, a single run would have been plenty.

It was a bad day for little Mel Ott, the Giants' right fielder who banged out a homer and three singles in the first game. Mel fanned twice, hit one long fly, and walked once, in the ninth, only the second pass Whitehill issued. Travis Jackson's long double to center in the fourth was the only extra base hit off the southpaw. All told the Senators got four extra base knocks, all doubles, and all off Fitzsimmons.

SORE ARM KEPT WHITEHILL OUT OF FIRST GAME

BY ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6 (AP)—Now that Earl Whitehill has pitched the Senators back into the World series scramble with a shutout conquest of the Giants, the "inside story" may be told as to why the American league champions delayed sending their one best flinging bet to the firing line until the third game.

"Whitehill, as most of you fellows figured, was selected by Manager Joe Cronin to oppose Carl Hubbell in the opening game of the series," revealed Clark Griffith, president of the Senators, "but he developed a sore arm for the first time in his life by bearing down too hard in a workout against the Yankees last week.

Great Duel Expected

"We had counted on Whitehill to give Hubbell a great duel, possibly win and put the Giants in a hole at the very outset. It was the logical thing for us to do. But he worked just a bit too long and too hard against the Yankees. Afterward his arm failed to respond rapidly to treatment. It was baked and massaged. He worked carefully the day before the opening game but he wasn't quite right and we switched to Wally Stewart as the next best man likely to stop the Giants.

"As it turned out, Stewart lacked just enough control to be at his best. A change of pace that he intended to travel low sailed high and in the grove for Mel Ott who hit the ball out of the park.

"You saw what Whitehill did to Ott as well as Terry yesterday. He had them handcuffed. Together, they got only one ball out of the infield."

Puzzle Is Solved

Griffith's disclosure solved one of the things that has been puzzling the experts most since the series started; by what devious process did the Senators arrive at their plan of pitching strategy?

On the basis of today's evidence, it develops that the strategy was all right but that the execution was spoiled by Whitehill's sudden development of a sore arm. "Whitey" has always been known among baseball men as a "rubber arm" pitcher, the kind who could step into a training camp on the first day and cut loose if he wanted to or bear down without worrying of the consequences. He had enjoyed his greatest year, winning 22 games.

Had Whitehill been able to produce on the opening day the kind of pitching he showed the Giants yesterday, the entire complexion of the series would have been changed. In all probability he would have beaten Hubbell, whose shaky defense let in two runs, and the Senators would have enjoyed the stimulating effect of being "on top," instead of being punched back on their heels so quickly that they did not recover until they lost two straight.

Not An Alibi, Now

So what? So the Senators now have a shutout pitcher who probably won't be ready to pitch again unless the series go the limit of seven games. Instead of having Whitehill on the same "overtime" basis as Hubbell, who drew his second assignment for this afternoon, the Senators must make an unprecedented rally for the opportunity of playing their ace again.

It isn't an alibi now, for the Senators, spirits revived, have strong faith in Weaver, as well as the ability of Stewart and Crowder to come back and Whitehill to be ready for the finishing touches. But it still leaves them "in the hole" today, with Hubbell and Schumacher, the two winning pitchers of the Giants, coming up in succession again.

SCORING RECORDS MADE IN 2 GAMES

A couple of indoor baseball games that must have set some kind of a record for quantity of scoring, but which nevertheless were thrilling and close throughout, satisfied nearly a houseful of customers at the Auditorium last night.

In the second game, Lydick Roofing company, a new entry to the softball field, nosed out the Federal Employees, formerly of the American Softball league here, 25 to 24 in a sensational 6-inning contest.

Avalanche-Journal, represented in the summer National Softball league, won a 32 to 29 victory over the Peoples Ice company, represented in the American league during the summer season, in the opener of last night's double header.

Both games were decided in the final innings, although substantial leads gained by the winners in the first innings stood up during both contests.

The Reporters jumped off with a 12-run attack in the first inning of the initial game last night and held a slight lead all the way, although the Icemen lacked but a run of tying the count in the fifth.

In the second game, the Roofers scored 13 runs in the first frame and ran right across the platter in the fourth to win the contest.

MUSTANGS AND WESTERNERS TO CLASH

GAME SCHEDULED FOR THIS AFTERNOON ON SWEETWATER GRID

The Lubbock High school Westerners are in Sweetwater today, doing battle this afternoon with the defending champions of District 3 in a clash billed as one of the headline attractions in the Texas Interscholastic league set-up this week-end.

The big Sweetwater team that last Friday shellacked the Abilene Eagles 19-0 and never allowed a penetration of their 35 yard line are favorites. But the Westerners' speedy and surprising machine, with victories over Big Spring and Ranger, is acknowledged to have the potentialities necessary to place the outcome of any game in doubt.

Sweetwater's rampant offensive, which specializes on sweeping end runs, has dwelt heavily on Coach Chapman's mind during the past week, and the workouts of the Westerners for the last few days have consisted principally of defensive scrimmages against the formations Sweetwater uses when they have the ball.

Line Must Charge

Last year the Westerner ends and other linemen adopted a waiting policy against the thrusts of the Mustang secondary, and they were mowed down like a mob before a machine gun by the big Sweetwater blockers. This year, if they have listened to their coaches, the Lubbock forward wall will come charging in, will cross the line of scrimmage in an effort to stop the excursions of Jones and other Sweetwater backs.

Coach Chapman took a squad to Sweetwater that was intact with the exception of Vergil Griner, who stayed home with a bad leg, hurt in the Big Spring game. Jesse Granbury, whose shoulder was bruised last week, may not see much service in the hard-going this afternoon.

Lubbock's probable starting lineup:

Ends, Griggs and Calhoun; tackles, Doherty and Wimberly; guards, Phillips and Hodges; center, Young; halves, Ryan and Haley; quarter, Hale; fullback, Newton.

Razorbacks And Frogs To Clash

TEXAS TO DO BATTLE WITH NEBRASKA AND BEARS MEET GENTS

BY BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Francis Schmidt and 29 of his Texas Christian university Horned Frogs unloaded Friday at Fayetteville, Ark., in time for a breezy workout on the University of Arkansas gridiron.

Saturday, the Frogs, last year Southwest conference champions and with a trio of non-conference victories this season, will start the defense of their title against the Arkansas Razorbacks. It is the only championship conference game on this week's schedule.

Razorbacks Strong

Schmidt has his warriors painted up and ready. He has spent the week polishing up their defense. He knows his cohorts have got a battle on their hands, for the Razorbacks are listed as one of the stronger teams in this year's championship marathon.

Having stopped at Dallas for a punting and passing drill, Coach Clyde Littlefield and his University of Texas Longhorns worked out at Kansas City Friday and then continued en route to Lincoln, Neb., where Saturday they battle the Nebraska Cornhuskers who won last year's Big Six conference crown with an undefeated record.

While at Dallas, Littlefield said he realized his team was being picked to lose but that his boys would make a battle of it. Bohn Hilliard, slippery halfback who has scored five touchdowns in two games, was the center of attraction at the Dallas workout.

Aggies Vs. Sam Houston

Business in the conference really starts Friday night at Huntsville where the Texas A. and M. Aggies will play the Sam Houston Teachers. Brimful of confidence by virtue of their impressive 13 to 6 win last Saturday over Tulane's Green Wave, the Aggies are overwhelming favorites to take the Teachers for a football lesson. Coach Madison Bell plans to start practically the same lineup that crushed Tulane.

Other games Saturday will see the Baylor Bears at Shreveport where they are in for a stiff test of football against the Centenary Gentlemen—a collection of gridsters who take special delight in walloping Southwest conference teams. It is Baylor's biggest game this season barring conference battles.

Mustangs Meet Miners

The prancing Southern Methodist Mustangs, roaming greener pasture since last week's 14 to 0 victory over Texas Tech, are ready for Saturday's melee's against the Texas School of Mines from El Paso. This game will feature opening day at the Texas State fair. Coach Morrison has his steeds primed for one of their celebrated areial attacks with all hands on board and in ship-shape for a touch scrap.

INTRODUCING THE TECH MATADORS

RAYMOND "WHACKER" BARTON—Lubbock and West Texas fans have watched this flaming-thatched lad play football on the local gridiron for the last seven years. He's playing his senior season at Tech this fall at the center position, having been transferred from the tackle slot where he was a shining star for Lubbock High school from 1925 through 1928. Twenty-four years old, standing 5 feet, 11 inches high and weighing 155 pounds, Barton is one of the hardest blockers and tacklers on the Matador team. He was a terror in District 1 of the Texas Interscholastic league, winning all-district honors and all-state mention. He kept up the good work at Tech from his freshman year through two years on the varsity.

BARTON, CENTER

CARLTON "LUPE" LUPER—Tech coaches had counted on Luper to fill a more or less regular position at left end this fall, following his fine showing last year. Injuries have kept him off the lineup so far this year, but he is due to see service before the season is over. He is a junior, having played one year as a freshman and one as a sophomore. Houston is his home. He is 22 years old, weighs 175 pounds and stands 5 feet, 11 inches tall.

FLASHES OF LIFE FROM EVERYWHERE

INTERESTING BITS OF NEWS GROUND FROM THE GRIST OF THE DAY'S HAPPENINGS

(By The Associated Press)

Traveling Student

DURHAM, N. C.—Roscoe Adams, 17, a Duke freshman, will travel some 25,000 miles to classes this year.

Adams lives at Clarksville, Va., where his father operates a dairy. He delivers milk along the 65-mile route to Durham while most students are dreaming, then picks up the empty cans on his way home at night.

Break For The Fox

MT. VERNON, Ill. — Fox hunters in southern Illinois have successfully mixed religious services and musical entertainment with pursuit of the crafty quarry which is not killed. At the four-day meeting of the Southern Illinois Fox Hunters association, ministers of various denominations spoke each afternoon and night, dividing program time with orchestras and soloists. Hunters got their thrills from the chase alone, as kills were not permitted.

Number Please

MINNEAPOLIS — Mayor Bainbridge wanted to call his home shortly after he had a "silent" number telephone installed yesterday.

"Please tell me what my telephone number is," he asked "information."

"I'm sorry," came the reply. "It's a silent number and we don't give out silent numbers."

The mayor pleaded, threatened, cajoled—to no avail. He went home and learned it from his wife.

Minerals Lost In Streams, Is Claim

MIAMI, Okla., Oct. 6 (AP)—Money flows in the waters of the tri-state lead and zinc district, says W. George Waring, a chemist of Webb City, Mo. He wants to salvage this runaway wealth.

Waring estimates that metallic zinc and cadmium valued at more than $8,000 is carried away daily by the streams of the mineral area embracing parts of Oklahoma, Kansas and Missouri.

He advocates measures to precipitate the metals in the water and thus retrieve the mineral values.

WANT FREE LION?

LONDON (AP)—Lions have become so plentiful that the London Zoo is giving them away. Last year the zoo took over 11 lions from a menagerie. Six were given away, but there still are 20 in London and five at Whipsnade. The pigmy hippopotamus is another beast that has multiplied in the zoo.

The yardmaster transmits orders to locomotive engineers in the railroad yards at Hamburg by radio.

Fingerprints Held Best For Records

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 6 (AP)—Inspector Edward A. Parker of the police identification bureau here prefers a fingerprint to a tooth print any day.

Parker, in other words, doesn't approve of expensive equipment to register tooth prints of criminals, as has been suggested by some authorities.

"Teeth change naturally in a human being's mouth with considerable rapidity," he said, "while finger-prints remain the same through out the individual's life."

North Carolina plans to spend $115,000 on seven new prison camps in the mountainous area near Robbinsville.

Thought For Today

It is a fearful thing to fall into the hands of the living God.—Hebrews, 10:31.

* * *

Nemesis is one of God's handmaids.—W. R. Alger.

One More Blow

Whenever you take up the problem of crime and its prevention, you are pretty likely to find yourself talking about the lawyers before you get through.

Attorney General Cummings' announcement that the Department of Justice is preparing to open fire on lawyers suspected of underworld connection should not be surprising. That there are lawyers who work hand in glove with notorious crooks is perfectly obvious—as, likewise, is the fact that the crooks can't be curbed effectively until something is done to the lawyers.

"One of the most important elements of predatory crime," says the attorney general, "is the manner in which some members of the bar cooperate with the underworld."

* * *

Any man accused of crime, no matter how black his reputation, is entitled to the best legal defense he can get when he gets into court. That much goes without saying.

But what the attorney general is talking about is the lawyer who advises the gangster on how to commit and cover up crimes, who helps him slip out of the law's grip when he gets caught, uses trickery to guide him safely through the courts, and in general steps over the ethical borderline in looking after his interests.

There are lots of lawyers like that. Everyone who has had anything to do with the criminal courts knows it perfectly well. So far the various bar associations of the country seem to have been either unwilling or unable to do anything very effective about putting such lawyers out of practice.

* * *

As an emergency measure, action by the federal government would be a very good thing. Uncle Sam has taken on a lot of unfamiliar jobs this year; if he wants to tackle the racketeers of the legal profession, now, we can do nothing but wish him lots of luck.

But in the long run the job is up to the legal profession itself. A much finer sense of the necessity of living up to the profession's ethical standards, a finer sense of the lawyer's responsibility to society as well as to the client who happens to be paying him, a passion for justice and a recognition of the fact that a lawyer can soil his hands by handling the wrong kind of business—these are things we must have if the house cleaning is really to be effective.

Flapper Fanny

Inferiority complexes don't worry some girls as much as inferior complexions.

The Plainsman Says:

That Girl on Broadway says an executive is a "guy with a job that lets him have every afternoon off for golf.

* * *

Strikes are multiplying, which is another way of saying that things are rapidly approaching normal.

* * *

"CACTUS JACK" GARNER, Texas' own contribution to the first winning Democratic national ticket since 1916, has taken his last oath of office. He said so Tuesday afternoon in the presence of The Plainsman and a group of Lubbock citizens who journied to his Uvalde home to present him with a Texas Tech suit.

But Mr. Garner's statement, however final it sounds, does not mean exactly what it says.

In the first place, something might happen to President Roosevelt—although we don't any of us like to think of such a thing—and in the second place, the "Sage of the Open Spaces" has a rattling good chance to succeed himself for a second term.

* * *

For some reason or another—probably because the industrialists of the north and east naturally look askance at a Texan—a rumor has gone around that Mr. Garner was a 'stop gap' nominee for the vice-presidency and that he got the job simply because he was on the ticket, and there had to be a vice-president elected.

Nothing can be further from the truth.

John Nance Garner, to use a baseball phrase in this World series time, has "plenty on the ball."

He is no political accident from any angle you look at it.

He is a brainy, shrewd, experienced man and by his words and actions proves the point.

* * *

CHATTING with the Tech delegation in an informal manner, "Uncle John" Garner not only showed the "horse sense" for which he is famous but he also displayed a rare type of sportsmanship.

"The vice-president," he declared, "has no duties outside of the times when he presides over the Senate. I haven't got anything much to do—and the less it is the better I like it. All I want to do is to be of service to my country. I have taken my last oath of office; I'm not interested in playing politics. All I want to do is co-operate with the president!"

* * *

Being second in command to Franklin Roosevelt has not gone to the head of Uvalde's famous squire, as well it might have to a lesser character. To be frank about it—and to put it into plain language—he's as natural as a 4-3 on the dice. There is no "high hat" stuff connected with either Mr. Garner nor his charming, brainy wife.

They're just common, ordinary folks, pleasant to meet and to converse with and perfect hosts.

* * *

TALK to any citizen of Uvalde (The Plainsman talked with half a dozen of them) and they'll tell you this:

"Mr. Garner? He's all right! He's a swell guy, no foolin'. He's just like he was when he was running for Congress 30 years ago and his prestige hasn't hurt him a bit!"

And that's a fact. Any man, woman or child—or the family dog, for that matter—will fight, bleed and die in Uvalde for John Garner, and that's the finest compliment any man can have paid him.

* * *

MR. GARNER met the Tech delegation from the front porch of his lovely home as the visitors reached the steps. He had just finished a belated nap after listening over the radio to the first game of the World series, and was clad in a more or less wrinkled pair of gray trousers, wore no collar and the sleeves of his shirt were rolled halfway up.

"Howdy, boys," he called as he stepped down to shake hands all around. "come on in the house!"

And in we trooped to a pleasantly decorated hall, through a nicely appointed front room and into a sun parlor where the vice-president spends much of his time.

* * *

Someone, perhaps it was President Brad Knapp of Tech, opened the box which contained the college-made suit and Mr. Garner beamed. At the suggestion that he put it on he did just that, going into his adjoining bedroom to immediately appear in the beautiful white suit—this time wearing a collar and tie.

Happy as a kid with a circus ticket, he showed off the suit by modeling it. "I'll do anything you want me to", he replied to the suggestion that pictures be made.

* * *

MR. Garner rarely goes to the business district of Uvalde unless he has something that he particularly has to do. The reason is,

School Teachers' Pay Is So Uncertain These Days

Every Time You Turn Around In Capital You Are Bound To Stumble Over Code; Only Big Ones Fully Reported

Editor's Note: This column, "The New Deal in Washington," is being conducted by Willis Thornton during Rodney Dutcher's vacation.

* * *

BY WILLIS THORNTON
The Evening Journal's Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6 — The codes for the big key industries were constructed in the spotlight, as befitted their vital importance to millions. The pulling and hauling, bluffing and calling, all were fully reported.

Few realize, even here, the vast amount of labor, frenzied argument and protest, desperate insistence and driving, that goes into the making of the hundreds of codes in vital industries. No newspaper could report them fully. There are too many of them; they come too fast; yet each is vital to its own group.

* * *

Talk Nothing But Codes

On any of the fast trains into Washington from New York you will see groups of earnest men rehearsing, in a circle of brief cases, the arguments with which they intend to overwhelm some deputy administrator on the morrow when their code is discussed. Smoking car conversation has changed from the off-color story to the economic homily.

Your correspondent was regaled in the smoker on the Congressional Limited by an earnest industrialist, who spent half of the four hours of the New York-Washington trip in marshaling his economic theories of what could be done and what couldn't in his industry.

But when his hearing came in Washington the next morning, he was given five minutes to tell it all, told to stick to facts and never mind the oration, and finally presented with a code that laid low every theory he so extravagantly had expounded on the train.

* * *

Wide Variety of Hearings

At one hotel is being conducted the hearing on a code proposed by the National Association of Manufacturers of Smoking Pipes and the American Association of Smoking Pipe Manufacturers. At another is scheduled the hearing of the Stationery, Tablet and School Paper Manufacturing Association. The Cast Iron Pressure Pipe Industry comes next. (That's separate from the Pipe Nipple people).

Make way for the Novelty Curtain, Drapery, Bedspread and Novelty Pillow Industry, which comes next, the Hair and Jute Felt folks, and the Viscose Extrusion Industry, all of whom must have their say as soon as the National Bottled Gas Association has been heard.

Complaints arise that codes are hastily framed and imperfect. It is just as well to recall that the Lord took six days to make the world, and even He had to rest on the seventh. Surely we must bear with very human deputy administrators in making a new industrial world against the stopwatch.

* * *

Roosevelt Safeguarded

Chief Moran of the Secret Service personally supervises the arrangements these days when President Roosevelt enters or leaves the city. He is on the job in the flesh, personally inspecting every detail of the protective cordon. Miami and the wild bullets of Zangara are not forgotten.

* * *

Beer Is Not the Answer

The return of beer has been a disappointment to hotel men, who were among the loudest criers for it as a savior. At least so reported W. C. Roper of the Atlanta Biltmore at the hotel code hearing. Too many licenses to small taverns and stands, the hotel men claimed. Now they look to repeal.

* * *

"Come and Get the Cash"

Public Works Chief Ickes (he's also secretary of the interior, but nobody thinks of those old titles any more) is making desperate efforts to get the cities to drive up and haul away money for socially valuable public works. Pressure has been put on him to speed up.

In an appeal to mayors to "come and get it," he conducted a stirring address with "A city can accept a 30 per cent grant without diminution of pride or self-respect, both of which would be impaired if not destroyed, if it relied altogether upon generosity of the federal government." One Washington cynic grunted, "Well, better to keep 70 per cent of your self-respect than none."

North Dakota to get beer after 44 years. Probably waited most of that time for the foam to settle so they could find the beer, if the new schooners are any criterion.

With 'Whiz' BARRY Under The Capitol Dome

BY R. W. BARRY
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, Oct. 6. (AP)—The Bexar county unemployment relief rolls has borne the names of university professors, former lawmakers, doctors, lawyers and persons of many vocations, Solan Walker, director of that agency, testified before the senate.

"We had a former member of the house on the rolls, but I cannot recall that any senators ever got on there," Walker testified.

Bootleggers Hard Hit

He said quite a few bootleggers, once pretty prosperous, but now not so affluent lately, had applied for assistance.

"With the advent of 3.2 beer there naturally was a falling off in the hard liquor business, as well as in home brew trade, and the bootleggers got hit pretty hard," said Walker.

"I told all those bootleggers we placed on our list that if I caught them selling booze I'd stop relief. I'm watching them, too. Our investigators will know it if any of those fellows get back into the bootlegging game."

Walker said he made it a point to go down town "after supper" and sit around on the curb with beneficiaries of the relief organization.

"We try to help them all we can," he said. "I find that being human with them helps a lot. We show the right spirit and as a result the unemployed fellow becomes sincere about this thing and gets a job the first time one shows up."

Erosion Uncovers Old Indian Village

KEITHVILLE, La., Oct. 6 (AP)—Soil erosion, following overflow of a rain-swollen bayou, revealed the site of an ancient Caddo Indian village near here.

Washing away of dirt turned up petrified bones, broken pottery, arrowheads, spearheads and stone chips. Concentration of the relics over a relatively small area led to belief the camp was only temporary.

Several small pieces of pottery were skillfully decorated with Indian designs.

The will of the late Mrs. Mary Fanny Scott of Miami, Fla., provided $1,000 to buy religious reading material for her only son.

somewhere in the shopping center:

One purseful of opportunities...

THE opportunities, to which we refer, are the daily bargains to be found in every shopping area. Some people find them quite by chance . . . stumble over them blindly . . . and acquire them with astonishment. Others never seem to be in the right store at the right time: If there's a 25% marked-down sale of shoes at Smith's, they are buying at Brown & Co. . . . If a grocer three blocks away is clearing out his canned goods at half-price, they are at the corner store making routine purchases.

But—there are some people who always find these opportunities. Their money buys them more—and better—merchandise than their neighbors'. Why? Not through good luck, you may be sure; but simply because these people read the advertisements in their daily newspapers.

This advertising is NEWS. It tells WHAT. . . . It shows WHERE. Those who read it every day are informed. They save themselves time, trouble, and DOLLARS. . . . And their homes are always up-to-date, their clothes stylish . . . their meals fresh with seasonal variety . . . all through the opportunities that advertising gives them.

Read the advertising in your daily newspapers.

Cotton Market

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 6. —(AP)—Cotton opened steady although Liverpool warranted a larger improvement than opening prices showed. First trades here were one to two points up.

Trading was somewhat restricted at the start but hedge-selling developed later and December eased to 9.56 and March to 9.81, down 5 to 6 points from yesterday's close.

Trading was still moderate, however, and traders continued to be influenced by fears of a large crop estimate on Monday and uncertainties over details of the ten cent a pound government advance yet to be disclosed.

Late in the first hour the market was steady but quiet and prices were around the lows.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Oct. 6 (AP)—Cotton opened barely steady, 3 higher to 1 lower with steadier cables offset by southern selling. Oct. 9.48; Dec. 9.66; Jan. 9.73; Mar. 9.90; May 10.-06; July 10.20.

October was relatively steady at the start with other months unchanged to a point lower. The general market eased after the call under southern selling and scattering liquidation. Active months showed net losses of about 2 to 6 points at the end of the first half hour. Weather conditions in the south were considered generally favorable.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Oct. 6 (AP)—All grain prices turned downward today after an irregular start. Corn led the decline, and soon fell almost two cents a bushel as a result of continued liquidation of December contracts. Corn started 1-4 off to 1-2 up, and subsequently underwent a general tumble. Opening at 1-8 decline to 1-2 advance, wheat later receded all around.

FIRE PREVENTION COMMITTEE PLANS OBSERVANCE HERE

Planning local observance of National Fire Prevention week, Oct. 8 to 14, a group of Lubbock men met in the chamber of commerce offices this morning. A parade, fire drills, essay contest and several other events were planned.

Centering the city's attention to the importance of fire prevention, a parade with all fire equipment will be staged next Saturday afternoon. Boy and Girl Scouts, fire insurance men, city officials and others will be in the parade, D. T. Jennings was named chairman.

Drills by the fire department on the drill tower just east of the city hall will be held Wednesday and Saturday nights at 8:30. A fire drill will also be held at the children's matinee at the Palace theater next Saturday morning.

Members of the committee are planning an essay or some other contest for school children, prizes to be awarded winners. A questionaire on fire hazards will be distributed through the schools for each child to fill out on his home.

Members of the committee who attended the meeting this morning were: Guy L. McAfee, chairman; Wesley Read, Fire Chief W. E. Twitty, D. T. Jennings, D. A. Forbess, C. B. Akers, W. H. Rodgers, Police Chief Wiley Metcalfe J. J. Clements, Supt. M. H. Duncan, Garnet Reeves and C. W. Ratliff.

R. H. Hutson of Florida, bus driver, has driven buses for 13 years, during which time he has traveled 1,002,040 miles, an average of 6262 miles per month. And he never had an accident which injured one of his 144,000 passengers.

FRENCH POLICE AXIOM CHANGED BY LOCAL COPS

When Deputy Sheriff Baxter Honey and a Panhandle, Tex., constable put their heads together yesterday they added a new twist to the French police axiom, "Look for the women."

There were several women—four of them, not including the complainant, mother of one of the quartet—and some of them had been found but, continental police to the contrary notwithstanding, that didn't solve the case.

A horse-trainer, maybe he was a jockey too, was wanted in Carson county for bigamy, said the constable. What was his name? Information was a little vague on that point. The horseman had been in Amarillo, he was supposed to be here and he had a certain bangtail with him. Officers learned that from a woman or two. They learned the name of the horse. "Look for the horse" was the revised version.

To the fairgrounds went Deputy Sheriff Honey. He found the horse. He found Claude Davidson.

A wife, daughter of the complainant, was with Davidson, Sheriff Tom Abel said. She was informed the track-follower was alleged to have three other wives.

The constable left this morning with Davidson for Panhandle.

Men At Missouri U. To Forego Shaving

COLUMBIA, Mo., Oct. 6 (AP)—A mass meeting of the student body here last night adopted a proposal that University of Missouri men forego shaving until after the Missouri-Kansas Aggie football game Oct. 14.

The motion carried, despite objection from a large number of women students.

BANKS WILL BE REORGANIZED

NEARLY FOUR HUNDRED MILLION IN FROZEN DEPOSITS INVOLVED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6. (AP)—A total of $398,735,000 in frozen deposits is involved in the list of 376 banks for which reorganization plans have been approved by the treasury.

Of this amount, the treasury estimated today, depositors will receive approximately 50 per cent when the banks carry out the plans agreed upon and are licensed to open for business.

A total of $31,151,000 in unrestricted deposits is held by the 376 banks.

"While frozen deposits of these national banks amount to $398,735,000 this does not mean that such a sum will be released to depositors when and if reorganization plans are acted upon and individual banks are reopened," the treasury said.

"The total represents the amount of deposits carried on the books of these institutions when conservators took charge of them after the bank holiday. It is obvious that the banks would have reopened immediately had they been able to pay 100 per cent of their deposits.

"However, it is estimated that, in most instances, depositors will receive an average of slightly better than 50 per cent of their balances when and if these unlicensed banks reopen, with additional percentages being available as slow or doubtful assets are converted into cash.

"The $31,151,000 in unrestricted deposits represents deposits made since conservators have been in charge of these institutions. Such sums are segregated under conservatorships."

Know This Boy?

Authorities at Asheville, N. C., are seeking the parents of Fred Stephenson, 15, above, who is a victim of amnesia and knows nothing about himself but his name, although he believes he was on his way to school somewhere in the south. Welfare workers found the boy in a railway station.

ARGUMENTS BEGUN IN HUSTON TRIAL

After delay in preparation of the charge to the jury, arguments in the case of Burton Huston, charged with burglary, were begun late this morning before Judge Clark M. Mullican in 99th district court.

Burton S. Burks, assistant district attorney, presented the first plea to the jury.

W. M. Peticolas, jr., and W. F. Schenck are defense counsel.

District Attorney Daniel A. Blair probably would close the arguments.

Judge Mullican yesterday overruled a defense objection to reading of two alleged indictments of Huston in Hale county for burglary.

The prosecution sought, under habitual criminal statutes, a 99-year sentence of Huston.

Three other cases were heard yesterday. A jury shortly after noon found Thelma Hendricks guilty of violation of the prohibition law and assessed sentence of five years on her plea of guilty. Sentence was suspended. Abel Seguera, charged with burglary, and John Griego, also burglary, were given two years each, with sentence suspended. Both entered pleas of guilty.

NOTICE OF BANKRUPT'S PETITION FOR DISCHARGE

In the District Court of the United States For the Northern District of Texas, In The Matter of Henrietta Twaddle, Bankrupt. No. 194 in Bankruptcy.

Office of Referee, Lubbock, Texas, October 4, 1933.

Notice is hereby given that Henrietta Twaddle of the County of Lubbock, and district aforesaid, did, on the 17th day of April, 1933, file in the Clerk's office of said Court, at Lubbock, a petition setting up that he has been heretofore duly adjudged a bankrupt under the act of Congress approved July 1, 1898; that he has duly surrendered all his property and rights of property, and has fully complied with all the requirements of said acts and of the orders of the Court touching his bankruptcy, and praying for a full discharge from all debts provable against his estate in bankruptcy, save such debts as are excepted by law from such discharge.

On considering the above mentioned petition, it is ordered that any creditor who has proved his claim, and other parties in interest, if they desire to oppose the discharge prayed for in said petition, shall, on or before the 6th day of November, 1933, file with the Referee for the Lubbock Division of said district, a notice in writing of their opposition to a discharge in the above entitled cause.

W. D. GIRARD,
Referee in Bankruptcy.

his friends will tell you, that "there's always somebody laying for him to get a political appointment". One of his few public appearances came last week when he was the principal speaker at the annual banquet of the fire department.

He and Mrs. Garner prefer home to anywhere else and they're always glad to get away from the hustle and bustle of Washington.

* * *

The fact that the vice-president lives in the pleasant city of Uvalde brings many visiting delegations there as well as many tourists.

This summer, in particular, Mrs. Garner said, scores of tourists have idled by the home place and many of them have taken pictures. Both she and Mr. Garner are used to having strangers peer at the home and think nothing of it.

* * *

THE Garners do not have their phone listed in the directory but the number, known to their friends, is 192.

That more or less protects them from unnecessary bother and gives them a little added privacy.

* * *

Ross Brumfield, who runs the town's largest garage, is the hunting and fishing partner of the vice-president about which much has been written. Adorning the wall of the garage office, just over Mr. Brumfield's desk is an autographed picture of the vice-president in formal attire but the garage man has an album of many less formal snapshots of Mr. Garner, taken on numerous hunting and fishing trips.

Mr. Brumfield is an ace hunter and in the garage storage department there are mounted heads of 86 deer and two longhorn steers.

In addition he has scores of other heads and horns in a shed back of the garage. Altogether, he has more than two hundred trophies of the hunt.

* * *

TO give you a little more of an idea how much the vice-president appreciated his new suit, just as the Lubbock delegation was leaving they spotted him, on the sidewalk at the Brumfield garage, modeling the clothes for Mr. Brumfield and several other cronies.

He was showing them all the features of the suit and appeared to enjoy it hugely.

* * *

Mr. Garner owns the First State Bank of Uvalde, now the only financial institution in the city. His son, Tully, who with his wife and daughter lives with the elder Garners, runs the bank.

Possibly there is one, or perhaps two more imposing bank buildings in West Texas than the one at Uvalde, but certainly not in as small a city.

The Garner bank is unusually beautiful and well appointed for a small institution.

* * *

ALL in all, the vice-president and his family are identical with scores of prosperous families in West and Southwest Texas.

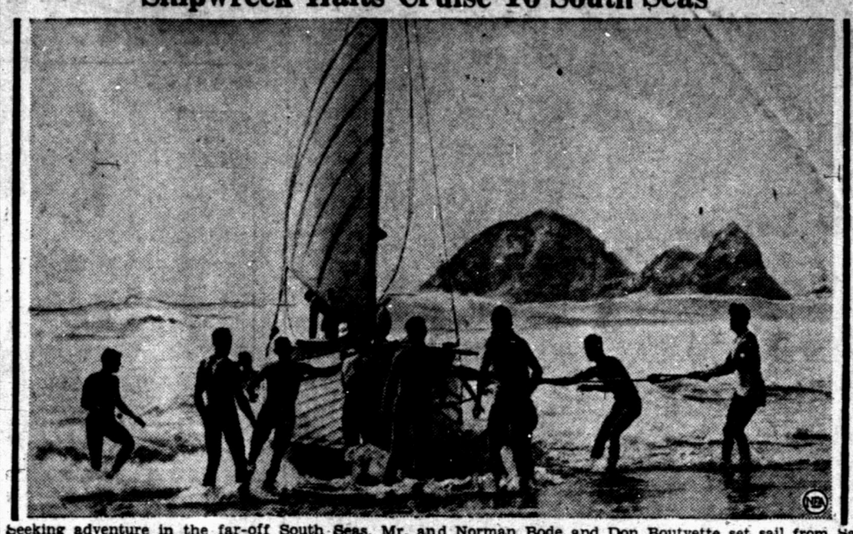

There is no 'put on', no frills and nothing but cordiality and naturalness about them.

To see them as they are, unaffected by honor, is refreshing.

Shipwreck Halts Cruise To South Seas

Seeking adventure in the far-off South Seas, Mr. and Norman Bode and Don Boutyette set sail from San Francisco in this 26-foot boat and found adventure a lot closer home when they were shipwrecked before they had hardly got to sea. Coast guardsmen are shown pulling their small craft to the beach after it had floundered a few miles off shore. The three adventurers had planned to visit Tahiti and other remote islands in quest of material for a book.

BAD MEN OF WEST STILL LOOKED ON AS HEROES; BODY OF BLACK JACK IS EXHUMED, REBURIED IN CEMETERY

CLAYTON, N. M., Oct. 6 (AP)—The West's bad men still are looked upon as heroes.

In the romantic southwest, where legend sometimes means more than history, a reputation for daring and the ability to handle a six-gun live after a man longer than outstanding statesmanship or deeds of philanthropy.

Take the case of Tom Ketchum, better known to the pioneers of the west as Black Jack, convicted train robber and accused slayer of many men. When Ketchum was decapitated by the hangmen's noose in Clayton in 1902, after his conviction for an attempted robbery, single-handed, of a mail train, the citizens refused to permit his burial in the municipal cemetery and his body was dropped into a grave on a windswept knoll a mile away. One other outlaw and a negro were his only "neighbors" on the hill side plot.

Body Exhumed

Legend, often repeated, however, made the bandit popular with succeeding generations. Fired by the stories of his deeds, the public literally beat a path to his grave. Oldtimers, whose hatred for the outlaw had waned, finally asked for authority to exhume the body and remove it to the city cemetery. The plea was granted and markers now direct visitors to the new mound which holds his bones.

Extensive ceremonies attended the removal of the body. Those who had first-hand information of his activities and who witnessed the gruesome execution, told stories of his bravado—how he spurned the priest and asked for a "fiddle and dance"; his final request to be permitted to "shave the district attorney;" his plea for speed in order that he might be "in hell for dinner;" and his command to the hangman to "let 'er go—I'm ready."

Girl Gets Shoe

A girl, among the hundreds who attended the ceremonies, grabbed a shoe, containing the remains of one foot, as it rolled from the decaying wooden coffin and kept it for a souvenir.

Jack Potter, an acquaintance of Black Jack, who is now a member of the New Mexico legislature, placed a spray of flowers on the casket. His card bore the inscription: "to a cowboy and trail driver who went astray."

Few are the old-timers in the southwest who do not claim—with pride—an acquaintance or even a friendship with Black Jack, Billy the Kid, the James boys, the Daltons, and other bad men of their time.

The heads and arms of many of our priceless old Greek statues were knocked off and burned into lime by unappreciative lime burners; it is for this reason that so few of the missing parts are ever found.

The church at Downe, England, birthplace at Charles Darwin, is still lighted by candles; the village scorns such modern conveniences as gas, electricity, moving, railway stations or sewage systems, although it is situated just 20 miles from London.

Meteorological services in Poland are under direction of the government institute of meteorology and hydrography at Warsaw.
