U.S. Launches Drive On 'Little Fuehrers'

Fate Of 600,000 In Nazi Hierarchy Of 'Descending Ceasars' At Stake

By DANIEL DE LUCE
Associated Press Staff Writer

NUERNBERG, Dec. 17—The United States prosecution plumbed the depths of the pyramided Nazi political system today in an attempt to convict 600,000 "little fuehrers" of criminality, but doubts were raised that actual guilt reached that deep in what the American counsel called a "hierarchy of descending Caesars."

The doubt was cast by pointed comments from Lord Justice Sir Geoffrey Lawrence, presiding over the international tribunal trying 21 top Nazis, and by the reported view of the British prosecution that the trial should not attempt to convict the bottom levels of the Nazi political hierarchy.

Final Argument Today

U. S. Assistant Prosecutor Robert G. Storey of Dallas, Tex., opened this most controversial and difficult phase of the trial, and Justice Robert H. Jackson, chief U. S. prosecutor, himself will present the final argument on why six Nazi organizations should be ruled criminal, and membership in them automatically a crime.

Many of the 600,000 now are in Allied jails "waiting the outcome of this war criminal trial," Col. Storey told the court.

If the United States venture is successful, it will mean the blanket conviction of the leadership corps of the National Socialist party, all of whom will be considered guilty in varying degrees.

Actually, Storey said, 600,000 is a conservative figure, for if all subordinate staff officers of the leaders were included, the total would reach 2,000,000.

Among Those Accused

Those Storey sought to convict included 41 gauleiters (provincial leaders); 808 kreisleiters (county leaders), 28,326 gruppenleiters (group leaders), 89,378 zellenleiters (unit leaders) and 463,048 block leaders, plus the staff officers assigned them.

Storey contended the responsibilities of the leadership corps were "more massive and comprehensive than those of the masses it led and directed in assault on the peace-loving people of the world."

Using a chart, he traced the heirarchy. Directly below Hitler, he said, were the reichsleiters, including Rosenberg, Bormann, Nazi youth leader Baldur von Schirach, governor of Poland Hans Frank, Wilhelm Frick, protector of Bohemia and Moravia, and the late Robert Ley, labor front leader who hanged himself in his Nuernberg cell.

Powerful Overlords

These were the "most powerful overlords of the German people," Storey declared.

He said Rosenberg's organization carried out a vast program of

Molotov To Head Parley

By EDDY GILMORE
Associated Press Staff Writer

MOSCOW, Dec. 17—The foreign ministers of Russia, the United States and Britain, Soviet Foreign Commissar Vyacheslav M. Molotov presiding as permanent chairman, met for two hours late today but there was no announcement of the progress of their conferences on multiple world problems.

While little actual news of the meetings could be gleaned, there was every reason to believe, however, that representatives of the three nations were prepared for discussion of actual items on their agenda. It was their second formal session at Speridonifka palace.

Asked To Preside

It was learned, however, that U. S. Secretary of State James F. Byrnes and British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin had asked Molotov to preside as chairman.

An observer said the ministers met in an atmosphere of "serious businesslike discussion." They will meet again at 4 p. m. tomorrow, a U. S. embassy spokesman said.

An observer said U. S. Secretary of State James F. Byrnes, British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin and Molotov cordially greeted one another as they entered the sparkling white and gold conference room.

A flag of his respective nation sat on a huge circular table before each minister and his delegation.

Emerge In Good Humor

After the conference the ministers emerged in what appeared to be good humor.

Observers were quick to point out however that both Byrnes and Bevin had predicted the conference might not result in the reaching of any agreements and said the fine air of cordiality which prevailed should not raise hopes beyond the expectations of the principals themselves.

Both Byrnes and Bevin were said to be keeping in touch with Chinese and French representatives in Moscow.

Stalin Back On Job After Long Vacation

LONDON, Tuesday, Dec. 18. (AP)—Generalissimo Stalin has returned to Moscow from a vacation of more than two months. The Moscow radio said briefly today that Stalin, who had been vacationing near Sochi on the Black sea since Oct. 9, returned to the capital yesterday and "resumed his duties."

Stalin's return coincided with the opening this week in Moscow of the conference of foreign ministers of the United States, Great Britain and Russia.

Rumors regarding Stalin's health, denied by authoritative Moscow sources, were published throughout the world when he failed to attend the 28th anniversary of the Red revolution on Nov. 7.

Nylon Stocks Being Gradually Built Up

NEW YORK, Dec. 16. (AP)—Nylons have not turned up yet on store counters, but stocks gradually are being built up all along the line.

The National Association of Hosiery Manufacturers said today yarn now is available to turn out 2,850,000 dozen pairs a month.

Some manufacturers are stockpiling nylons until they can make sizable shipments to retail accounts. Others are allotting output as it is available and retailers are building up their own inventories.

A resident buying office said shipments received by retailers have been so small they have not dared put the nylons on their counters. Some have distributed them to store employes and other have contributed them as premiums in war bonds drives.

R. E. Tilles, president of Gotham Hosiery Co., predicted that nylons would not be on store counters in normal supply for many months.

Konoye Memoirs Fix Blame On Matsuoka

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first of a series of stories based on the memoirs of Prince Fumimaro Konoye, premier of Japan when that country and the United States were seeking means to avert war. Konoye committed suicide Sunday, Dec. 16, rather than submit to American arrest).

By MURLIN SPENCER
Associated Press Staff Writer

TOKYO, Dec. 17—Top Japanese officials accepted "in principle" an American compromise plan to solve differences with Japan eight months before Pearl Harbor but it was blocked by Foreign Minister Yosuke Matsuoka because he was in "a bad mood," Prince Fumimaro Konoye declared in memoirs completed shortly before his suicide yesterday.

The plan was approved in general by leaders who included the war and navy ministers, only to be stalled by the sole opposition of Matsuoka until it was made useless by misunderstandings and deterioration of relations, Konoye wrote in his lengthy political testament detailing Japan's side of the negotiations which preceded the war.

Military Attitude

Subsequently, however, Konoye referred to the military as regarding the deal as a temporary expedient.

The Associated Press obtained the Konoye memoirs in Japanese three days before his suicide. They are being translated, and copies are in the hands of Joseph B. Keenan, U. S. special prosecutor of top war crimes cases in Japan.

Konoye, the prince who was three times his country's premier, the last time in the tense summer of 1941, reported:

1. The late President Roosevelt suggested a tentative date—some time in October—and a place, possibly Juneau, Alaska, for a personal meeting with Konoye to discuss peace. (It was in mid-October, however, that Japan by an imperial conference decision began preparing for war, and Gen. Hideki Tojo notified Konoye it was time for his cabinet to resign. Tojo succeeded him.)

Feared Pacific War

2. Japanese naval leaders were fearful of a Pacific war but unwilling to oppose officially the Army's demand for it.

3. The then Foreign Minister Matsuoka was blamed by Konoye as suffering from jingoism and pro-Germanism plus "a bad mood" which led to sabotaging acceptance of the compromise plan.

New AAF Giant Is About Ready

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17. (AP)—The Army Air force disclosed today some additional details of its coming superbomber, the Consolidated-Vultee XB-36. It said in a monthly publication, Air Force, that the huge plane was "about to take to the air."

A drawing of the bomber showed it with lines resembling those of the Boeing B-29 Superfortress, except that the six engines are set into the after part of the wing and the propellers flush rather than pull.

Gen. H. H. Arnold, commanding general of the AAF, discussing the new weapon recently, said it would weigh more than 250,000 pounds and have an operating radius of 5,000 miles. This compares with a peak gross weight of 140,000 pounds and about 1,600-mile radium for the B-29.

More General Facts

Air Force gave these general facts about the XB-36, which is being built at Fort Worth, Texas:

The fuselage is 163 feet long and 150 inches in diameter. The tail rises 46 feet 7 inches above the ground. Its fore and aft compartments are linked by a pressurized tunnel as in the B-29. The crew will total 17, including relief crewmen. There will be sleeping accommodations and a galley to prepare hot meals. It will operate at more than 30,000 feet altitude and can make non-stop flight from Tokyo to New York as "matter of course."

Views Differ On Housing Muddle

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17. (AP)—The CIO today endorsed the administration's appeal for price ceilings on houses, but a spokesman for home builders said such controls would "emasculate the industry."

While labor and management delegates to a government-sponsored housing conference clashed on this point, they joined in recommending that it be made clear to the public there can be no quick solution of the housing shortage.

Will Require Years

Labor and management delegates stressed that it will take years to provide enough housing to meet pent-up demand. They asked that the government emphasize this point in its information programs.

"We should not delude the public with any impression that thousands upon thousands of homes can be built next year," said Harry C. Bates, chairman of AFL's housing committee.

Can Build 400,000

Bates estimated that only 400,000 dwellings could be built next year. Government officials have calculated that at least 3,000,000 new homes will be needed by the end of 1946.

Opposition to the administration-endorsed Patman bill for ceilings on houses came from Joseph E. Merrion, president of the National Association of Home Builders, who said such legislation "not only would do nothing to produce building materials, but would reshackle and emasculate the industry."

Price Lids May Go Back On Citrus Fruit

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17. (AP)—Stabilization Director John C. Collet today rejected OPA's demand for immediate restoration of price ceilings on fresh citrus fruits.

But he warned that "if excessive rises are not promtply curbed or eliminated as a result of ample supplies and voluntary restraint on the part of the industry, this office will act forthwith to reimpose price ceilings."

In a memorandum to OPA, Collet noted that Secretary of Agriculture Anderson had urged that the citrus industry "be given further opportunity voluntarily to bring its prices within proper limits before price control be reinstated."

Joan Crawford And Hubby Phil Separate

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 17. (AP)—Joan Crawford and her husband, Phillip Terry, have separated, and she said today she "probably" would institute divorce proceedings.

Miss Crawford said that she and her third husband had decided only yesterday to go their separate ways.

"We simply haven't been getting along, and that's about all there is to say about our separation," she told a reporter.

The couple was married in July, 1942. They have adopted a boy and a girl.

Miss Crawford was married previously to Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., and Franchot Tone.

Patton Recovering 'Like House Afire'

HEIDELBERG, Dec. 17. (AP)—Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., sat up in his hospital bed today for the first time since his automobile accident eight days ago, after doctors removed a traction apparatus which has realigned the vertebrae in his broken neck.

Army medical authorities, who substituted a plaster cast which encases Patton's neck and the upper part of his chest, said the colorful 15th Army commander was getting well "like a house afire."

The 60-year-old former commander of the Third Army was recovering from the paralytic injury to his spinal cord with speed reminiscent of his armored lunges across France and Germany. He had said after the crash: "This is a hell of a way to die."

Arraignment Of 400 Japs Is Set Today

(By The Associated Press)

YOKOHAMA, Dec. 18.—The first of nearly 400 Japanese accused of murdering or mistreating prisoners of war faced arraignment here today before an American military commission of nine colonels—two of them former inmates of prisoner-of-war camps.

Among the five defendants whose cases headed the commission's docket was Tatsuto Tsuchiya, known to American prisoners as "little Glass Eye." His indictment included the accusation that he had 'brutally and atrociously" beaten to death Pfc. Robert Gordon Teas "with knotted ropes and clubs."

HOMMA HEARING SET

MANILA, Tuesday, Dec. 18 (AP)—Lt. Gen. Masaharu Homma will be arraigned before an American military commission here tomorrow on war crimes charges involving the deaths of 67,000 American and Filipino prisoners of war.

Specifically the former Japanese commander in the Philippines is charged with responsibility for the ghastly Death March of Bataan, in which 17,200 captured Americans and Filipinos died.

Also chalked up against him in the war crimes indictment are brutalities and executions that took the lives of 4,831 Americans and 45,000 Filipinos between April and August of 1942 in the notorious O'Donnel and Cabanatuan prison camps.

Fair Trials Promised

Commission members emphasized that the accused would be given fair trials, and that they would be furnished with translations into Japanese of testimony in English. It was decided, however, not to translate the entire court records into Japanese. Chief defense counsel Lt. Col. John Dickinson of St. Petersburg, Fla., said such translation might prolong the series trials one year.

It was also decided to swear in witnesses by oaths binding in their respective religions. The phrase "to help you God" in the customary oath was regarded as of questionable adequacy in the case of non-Christian Japanese.

U. S. SUPREME COURT STAYS YAMASHITA DEATH

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17. (AP)—The Supreme court of the nation he vainly tried to master by the sword granted a stay of execution today to Japanese General Tomoyuki Yamashita, convicted as a war criminal.

The former "Tiger of Malaya," convicted by an Army commission of permitting wholesale atrocities in the Philippines, sped a petition here by air mail asking that the case be taken out of the hands of the military.

Future Undetirmined

The Supreme court justices held a hurried get-together and granted a stay of the death sentence. Whether the high tribunal actually will take jurisdiction over the case—and thus decide the legality of the military trial—was not immediately announced, however.

It was believed unpercedented for a foreign enemy general thus to appeal to the Supreme court. However, it is usual for the court in a death case to grant a stay pending a decision on whether the appeal should be reviewed.

Yamashita is not appealing directly from the sentence. That might come later. He is fighting a decision of the Philippines Supreme court denying his contention that the military tribunal was without jurisdiction.

Yamashita has two other petitions pending here in which he challenges the miltary's right to try him and asks that he be brought before the Supreme court for a hearing.

His grounds are: When the commission was appointed there was no military government or hostilities in the Philippine islands and therefore no authority to set it up. He also says he should be regarded as a prisoner rather than a war criminal.

Four Die In Crash Of Keesler Bomber

BILOXI, Miss., Dec. 17. (AP)—Four men were killed when a B-17 Army bomber based at Keesler Field crashed late this afternoon at Handsboro, near Gulfport, the public relations office at the field said tonight.

The bomber was on a routine training flight and 11 men were abroad, a public relations spokesman said. He was unable to identify any of the personnel involved.

He could not say what caused the crash.

Employe Penalties Demanded In New GM Proposal To Union

UAW Also Opens Negotiations With Newly-Formed Kaiser-Frazer Firm

(By The Associated Press)

DETROIT, Dec. 17—A demand that "appropriate penalties" be provided against employes participating in work stoppages that violate contract provisions was made upon the CIO United Automobile Workers today by General Motors Corp.

The demand was contained in a letter to the union listing more than a dozen stipulations the corporation said must be included in a collective bargaining agreement with the UAW-CIO. The letter was made public by the management as discussions of new contract proposals, including the union demand for a 30 percent wage rate increase, were resumed.

Open With New Firm

The UAW-CIO, led by President R. J. Thomas, submitted what it termed a "standard proposal" at the opening of negotiations with the newly formed Kaiser-Frazer Corp.

The company, through Edward D. Riordan, director of industrial relations, said it will submit its lists on proposals, including the request for a guarantee of company security, at the next meeting Thursday.

Both sides termed today's initial conference "satisfactory." They would not enlarge on the provisions of the union contract proposal nor would Thomas say whether it embodies a 30 per cent wage increase demand.

Penalties Demanded

The new General Motors agreement, management there said, must include a stipulation "that there be appropriate penalties, including loss of seniority, against any employee taking part in any strike or work stoppage in violation of the agreement."

Another stipulation advanced by the corporation would provide that "wages, hours of employment and other conditions of employ-

Exes Launch Stadium Drive, Set Big Rally

Former students and officials of Texas Technological college, meeting last night on the campus, launched plans for an over-all drive that will contact every former Tech student possible in an effort to raise funds for the $300,000 athletic stadium proposed at the last board of director's meeting.

A committee was appointed to draw plans for a huge stadium rally to be held in a downtown hotel January 7 and to present at that time an outline of the manner in which solicitations will be made.

Steering Committee

Broadie Puckett, Leonard Latch and Maurice Cowan were named by Gordon on the steering committee. They will draw up a program for the Jan. 7 rally, which will include pictures of some 1945 games.

An outline of the proposed stadium along with the facts concerning the need for such a structure will be sent to editors of West Texas newspapers asking their cooperation and aid in publicizing the drive for funds through the alumni association.

In the intervening period before the January rally persons wishing to contribute any amount from "$10 to $10,000" are requested to send their contribution to the "Texas Tech Foundation, Stadium Fund, Box 96, Tech Station, Lubbock."

To Get "Little Fellow"

Jason O. Gordon, president of the Lubbock county ex-student's chapter, told the group assembled last night that the persons to be contacted in this drive will be "the little fellows who cannot give so much, but whose combined contributions will go a long way toward completion of our new stadium."

The funds will be raised in the immediate future, with completion of the drive as soon after Jan. 1 as possible.

O. B. Ratliff, former Tech student and a member of the college board of directors, outlined briefly progress of drives for funds from other sources. About $150,000 or half of the total estimated cost, has been raised through a $100,000 donation by Dr. Clifford B. Jones, president emeritus of the college, and from the board of directors.

Details Of Plant

Morley Jennings, Tech athletic director, and Dell Morgan, head football coach, attended and pointed out the technical details of the erection of a stadium such as the one proposed.

A round-table discussion was held among those present in which means and ways of raising the funds through personal soliciation—to touch every former student in the area and as many as possible everywhere — were brought out.

Yule Joy-Spreaders Turn To New Tasks

WITH all listings complete and cash donations practically all in for the 1945 season, the Goodfellows Christmas Cheer drive today will begin pointing toward actual packaging of gifts and preparations for their delivery on the morning of December 25.

Noting that listing of eligible youngsters was completed yesterday, Chief Goodfellow, anonymous leader of the drive, said indications are that 1945 would see "the best Christmas yet" for Lubbock boys and girls of 14 years of age and under who require Goodfellow visits to make their holiday as happy as it should be. He said his organization would have "everything ready for last-minute touches" within a day or two.

Slowly climbing, the contributions late yesterday stood at $644.32 over the $1,500 goal. At present the financial report stands:

Previously reported	$2,001.32
J. U. Borum	5.00
Lubbock Junior Chamber of Commerce	25.00
Room 135 Senior High	4.00
Anonymous	5.00
Lubbock Chapter No. 248 R.A.M.	10.00
Tom Garrett	5.00
Anonymous	1.00
Total	$2,144.32

Chief Goodfellow said a call would be issued, if necessary, for aid in delivering the packages on Christmas morning. "If you want to help," he told Lubbock as a whole, "watch the papers. We'll call on you if we need you and we know you'll respond this year as you have on each of the 10 previous years."

Transfer Of Vessels To China Is Sought

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17. (AP)—Legislation permitting the President to transfer surplus naval vessels to China was asked today by the Navy.

In a letter to Speaker Rayburn, Secretary Forrestal said:

"The national interest, as well as considerations of good conscience, require that the United States give aid to the republic of China by assisting that nation in maintaining a navy which will make possble a substantial contribution toward the maintenance of peace in the Pacific."

UNO CHOICE DELAYED

LONDON, Dec. 17 (AP)—Recommendation of a specific American city as the site for the permanent United Nations organization home apparently was ruled out tonight, preparatory commission delegates said, and the choice probably will be left up to the general assembly which convenes Jan. 10.

Solons Push Bills Through

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17 (AP)—Congress opened its last week before the Christmas recess today with a flurry of bill-passing.

The Senate completed action on the $1,350,000,000 UNRRA authorization for next year. Its approval by voice vote sent the measure to the White House.

Also passed by the Senate was a resolution calling for free entry of Jews into Palestine. This now goes to the House.

The House passed two bills to bring home the bodies of American World War II dead when their families request it, to restore the two-cent stamp to local mail, and to add 8,281 temporary wartime officers to the regular Army. These three went to the Senate.

V-12 College Program

The House sent to the President a bill continuing until June 30 the V-12 program giving college training to Navy doctors, chaplains, engineers and other specialists. It also voted to give retirement credit to civil service employes for time spent in the armed forces; this goes to conference with the Senate.

As Congress acted on these and other bills, the Navy proposed a new one. Secretary Forrestal requested an act under which the President could transfer surplus warships to China to help that nation build up a navy. He also asked that Navy and Marine personnel be sent along.

Naval matters seemed to dominate the day's news at the capitol.

There was a Presidential veto for a bill to create some new vice admirals and rear admirals. President Truman wrote that the matter should wait until "the organization and composition of our whole postwar military establishment" is decided. His recommendations on the unification proposal will go to Congress probably Wednesday.

Rep. Rogers (R-Mass) proposed that Congress tell the Navy it disapproved the calling of a Japanese submarine skipper to testify against a U. S. captain being court-martialled in connection with the loss of the Cruiser Indianapolis. She introduced a resolution.

To the House Military committee, the Navy detailed its plans

Senate Would Open Palestine

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17 (AP)—The Senate formally called on the United States today to use its "good offices" with Great Britain toward the opening of Palestine to free entry of Jews

It passed, on a voice vote, a resolution by Senators Wagner (D-NY) and Taft (R-Ohio) favoring establishment of Palestine as "a democratic commonwealth in which all men, regardless of race or creed, shall have equal rights."

Hart Plan Rejected

It rejected an amendment by Senator Hart (R-Conn) to provide for working out the problem with other nations—including the Arab states—as well as Britain. Hart Argued there was danger of bloodshed if the Arabs thought too extreme measures were being undertaken.

Chairman Connally (D-Tex) who was the lone "no" man in a 17 to 1 foreign relations committee vote approving the resolution; told the Senate:

"The President doesn't want this resolution passed. He told me on the telephone and I told the committee. He told me, 'I do not regard it as advisable. I don't want to see any sort of resolution enacted until this commission has completed its inquiry and reported back.' The secretary of state does not want it at this time."

House Would Donate FSA Colony To State

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17. (AP)—The House Agriculture committee recommended today that the Agriculture department turn over to the state of Texas the title to the Mexia colony Farm Security administration project, Limestone county, Tex.

The committee reported favorably a bill by Rep. Luther Johnson (D-Tex) to direct transfer of the land to the state "for benefit and rehabilitation of convalescent or handicapped residents."

The project now is administered by the agriculture secretary as trustee under an agreement of October, 1939.

A former prisoner of war camp is on the land.

Last week the Senate passed an identical measure, which probably will be substituted for Johnson's bill when it reaches the floor for action, thus expediting final enactment.

His Conscience, If Any, Must Be Giving Him Misery

Death March Homma Awaits Trial

By RAY CRONIN
(Former Associated Press Bureau Chief In The Philippines)

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 17. (AP)—Strutting, arrogant Japanese General Masaharu Homma has finally landed in a Manila jail, headed for military trial on war crimes charges.

One of the things he must answer for was the brutal, horrifying Bataan Death March during which hundreds of helpless American soldiers died under circumstances that were inhumane to the nth degree.

That major black mark of atrocity is the main link in a chain of inhumanities for which Homma can be held responsible. He already has acknowledged, "I am ready to take responsibility for any act of my subordinates."

Homma led his invasion forces into the Philippines soon after Pearl Harbor. He was in command when Bataan fell. At that time I was held prisoner by the Japanese in Santos Tomas camp at Manila.

Two Filipino boys who worked for the Associated Press braved the Japanese guards at Santo Tomas to bring me eye witness accounts of the infamous Death March. They told of wounded and sick Americans pinned to the ground with Japanese bayonets because they couldn't walk — of others left to die of thirst in the burning tropical heat — of promiscuous killings of helpless men who had surrendered in honor.

At first the civilians of Santo Tomas appealed to the Japanese general staff — head by Homma —to allow us to send medicine and food to the military prisoners. The reply to this was an order decreeing death to any person aiding a military prisoner in any way.

It was then that I appealed to Homma and his staff, through the American chairman of our camp, to permit me to raise a volunteer corps of able-bodied American civilians from the Santo Tomas population — a corps that would surrender itself into the military prison camp at Cabanatuan to nurse the wounded and the sick.

Several hundred volunteered in no time. The U. S. Navy nurses, captured at Cavite, wanted to go

The Woman's Angle
By Margaret Turner

SO that those courageous men in the Army, Navy and Veterans hospitals from Maine to California may know that their friends are thinking of them this holiday season, the American Legion is sponsoring a shower of "gifts for the Yanks who gave." The gifts will be distributed to patients in all military hospitals.

Boxes to receive your gifts have been placed in Hemphill-Wells, Dunlap's, Levine's and Mark Halsey No. 1 stores and local sponsors are asking that you take your packages down by Friday.

These young Americans who have given so much in the struggle to make "Peace on Earth" a reality at Christmastide this year should be provided with a means of knowing they are not forgotten. Gifts, such as those asked by the Legion, will help the hospitalized veterans to have a reunion in spirit with those at home who are thinking of them at Christmastide.

CAROLERS

GIRL Scouts, Girl Reserves and other young people are planning caroling parties during the Christmas-tide. As their fresh young voices sound out in the frosty night, we wonder if they know that the familiar Christmas carol, now so beloved by all Christian peoples, once was frowned upon by the church because of its similiarity to songs popular during pre-Christian agricultural celebrations of the Persians and Chinese.

Dr. Michael Winesanker, University of Texas professor of music, who has been doing research into the history and meaning of musical forms, said the Christmas carol, now the symbol of the entire Christian season, had to struggle for its existence.

"Various church councils tried to place a ban on the carol," he said, "but it survived, and today our carols show definite influence from both church and secular songs.

Miracle and mystery plays of the 14th and 15th centuries, legends and lullabies have colored the history of the English carol, which almost died out in the 17th century during the Puritan regime.

"It has been only within the past 50 years that collections of carols have been made which are of value today," according to the professor.

TAKE IT EASY

IT'S our observation that it's never been very merry—12 hours before Christmas. There is very little peace, and practically no good will at all as frantic shoppers plow through ill-humored crowds looking for last-minute gifts. Nearly everyone's living room looks as if it had been struck by a cyclone.

All this hurry scurry doesn't make any sense any way you look at it. We believe holiday sanity may be preserved by faithful adherence to just three little words —"Take it easy."

One week from today will be Christmas. If the family members who have not done their shopping can be persuaded to get the list checked today and their shopping done the next day and the wrapping done Thursday, Christmas will present less of a problem.

When the night before Christmas comes, we think you really should be able to hear yourself think. There is beautiful music on the radio, there is last minute tree trimming to be done, there is the candle to light and place in the window, and as you await the first peacetime Christmas in four year, why not give yourself time for true contemplation.

Groups Of Women Meet For Programs

Women's groups met at churches Monday afternoon for Christmas programs. Others had mission and Bible lessons.

A program on "Joy Gifts" was given preceding a social hour for First Presbyterian Woman's auxiliary at the church. Mrs. Elmer Haass was in charge of the program and members of Circle 6 were hostesses.

Twenty-seven were present.

Christmas carols were sung to open the meeting of St. John's Methodist Woman's Society of Christian Service. The Christmas story was read from the Bible by Mrs. O. C. Southall.

The Methodist women selected a child from Milam's home to clothe during 1946. Officers gave reports.

A Royal service program for East Side Baptist Women's Missionary society was given by Mesdames Hershel Henkel and Neil Hill at the church. Mrs. J. M Gill gave a prayer and Mrs. H. W. Hollyfield led the devotional.

Mrs. I. T. Weed was hostess at a Christmas party for Arnett-Benson Bible class in her home at 2715 North second. Mrs. Ruby Bolin assisted.

Program Given

A program was given by Misses Holly Wall and Marilyn Gollihugh and Rev. C. J. McCarty. Gifts were exchanged.

Others present were Mesdames L. L. Burdine, J. L. Gollihugh, W. L. Armstrong, W. N Boyd, Laura Sanders, W L Wallace, L W. Parker, John Gollihugh, G. W. May and Charles Noble.

In her review of "They Found the Church There" (Henry P. Van Dusen) for First Baptist W. M. S., Mrs. S. C. Cooper told of the experiences of American soldiers while serving among the natives of the South Pacific. She related incidents which told of natives saving the lives of the American boys because they were Christians. She stated, "The dramatic stories of our men answer the question, what is the use of foreign missions?" Mrs. Cooper had a map showing the route traveled by American soldiers in the Pacific and showing the location of Christian missions.

Mrs. F. C. Stanley sang "The Light of the World is Jesus" and Mrs. H. P. Baker gave a chalk talk centered around the theme of this song.

During the tea hour, Mesdames Cooper and R. E. L. Pattillo, W. M. S. president, poured. Holly, evergreen and red candles were arranged on the refreshment table. Christmas carols were played by Mrs. Jerry Dye.

Seventy-one attended.

Engagement Of Miss McDonald, C. B. Martin Is Announced At Monday Afternoon Tea

Mrs. Alex McDonald entertained with a tea Monday afternoon from 4 until 6 o'clock in her home at 2221 Eighteenth to announce the engagement and approaching marriage of her daughter, Miss Conny McDonald, and C. B. Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Martin, 1909 Ninth.

Guests were greeted at the door by Mrs. Overton Ribble who presented them to the line composed of Mrs. McDonald, the bride-elect and Mrs. Martin.

Centering the tea table which was laid with a hand embroidered cloth from the Philippines were figures of a boy and girl standing beneath a tree made of flowers. On a canvas resting on an easel, the girl was painting "Conny and C. B., Dec. 21."

In House Party

Mesdames C. W. Tatum, Irving Jones and J. W. Wallace poured during the calling hours. Others in the house party were Mesdames Ed Winner, sister of the honoree, Jack Gordon, R. L. Sanders, John A. Roberts, Jr., I. A. Stephens, and Misses Jean Freeman, Lucille Hall, Wanda Jo Ribble and Roberta Niblack.

Both Miss McDonald and Mr. Martin are graduates of Lubbock High school. She attended Colorado State Teachers college in Greeley, Colo., and he has served in the Pacific with the Seabees for the past 22 months.

The wedding will take place Friday night at 7:30 o'clock at First Presbyterian church.

Open House Held At Roscoe Wilson

Parent-Teacher association of Roscoe Wilson school sponsored a pre-Christmas open house at the school Sunday afternoon. Approximately 350 parents attended.

AN epidemic of contagious colds is spreading. That's why it's mighty important that you give your family all the benefits of Vicks Plan—the easy-to-follow home guide that meant fewer colds . . . shorter colds . . . 50% less sickness from colds . . . in a great medically-supervised test among 2650 children!

With colds spreading misery, put Vicks Plan to work in your home today. This simple home-guide may do less—or it may do even more for you and your family than its sensational record indicates. But these unusual results prove Vicks Plan is certainly worth trying at once! Get full details in every package of Vicks.

NOTE: If the miserable symptoms of the cold are not relieved promptly—or if more serious trouble seems to threaten—call in your family doctor right away.

IT'S EASY—HERE'S WHAT YOU

Observe A Few Simple Health Rules. Live normally. Avoid excesses. Eat simple food. Drink plenty of water. Keep elimination regular. Get plenty of rest and sleep. Avoid crowds and people who have colds.

At First Sniffle or Sneeze, put a few drops of clinic-tested Vicks Va-tro-nol up each nostril. Use as directed in package. This specialized medication is expressly designed to aid your natural defenses against colds—and if used in time, Va-tro-nol helps prevent many colds from developing. (Even when your head is all stuffed up from a mean head cold, Vicks Va-tro-nol relieves distress, makes breathing easier.)

If A Cold Does Develop, or Slips By Precautions, rub clinic-tested Vicks VapoRub on back, as well as on throat and chest. VapoRub penetrates to the cold-congested upper bronchial tubes with soothing medicinal vapors. It stimulates throat, chest, and back surfaces like a warming poultice. This penetrating-stimulating action keeps right on working for hours to relieve miseries of colds 2 ways at once . . . even while you sleep!

Murder Suspect To Be Released To City Having Strongest Case

By ROBERT BENNYHOFF
United Press Staff Writer

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 17. — Alfred Leonard Cline, 53, Bible-quoting exconvict, will be surrendered to face trial in the city having the strongest murder case against him, Ditsrict Attorney Edmund Brown said today.

Held in city prison as a fugitive from a Dallas, Tex., murder charge, Cline pondered whether or not he would fight extradition.

Meanwhile, focus in the disappearance or death of seven elderly widows police believe were associated with the onetime Denver choir singer was brought sharply to bear on number one on the list, Mrs. Carrie May Porter, of Santa Cruz, Calif., and Mexico City.

Inherited Big Sum

San Francisco authorities said they had a statement from a former Polson prison mate of Cline in which Cline admitted killing Mrs. Porter.

Police said Cline allegedly made the admission when he was in prison serving a term for the 1933 robbing and drugging of a Los Angeles businessman.

Mrs. Porter died in Reno on Oct. 16, 1931—just 23 days after she named Cline sole heir to $20,000.

Cremated In A Hurry

Reno police said they were unable to investigate the death at the time because Cline left by train for Oakland, Calif., with the body before a court order for a post mortem could be obtained. The cause of Mrs. Porter's death was listed as broncial pneumonia.

Police said Cline removed the body from the train at Antioch, Calif., and rushed it to an Oakland funeral parlor for cremation within 24 hours of Mrs. Porter's death.

Specifically, Cline is charged at Dallas with the murder of Mrs. Alice W. Carpenter, widow of a Bloomington, Ind., veterinarian, but police believe the widow who died there is October, 1944, was Mrs. Delora Krebs Cline, of Chicago, his last known wife.

To Probe Cases

Assistant District Attorney Harding McGuire will leave this week for Reno, Dallas, Macon, Ga., Jacksonville, Fla., and Portland, Ore. to consult with local authorities on the death or disappearance of five of the women. On his return, the district attorney's office will decide which city can establish the strongest case against Cline.

Police also are investigating the death of Mrs. Elizabeth Hannah Klein, in Jacksonville, in 1943; Mrs. Alma Willa Carter, who may have been Mrs. Carpenter, in Macon, in February, 1944; and the disappearance of Mrs. Isabelle Van Natta, San Francisco, thought to have been the woman whose body Cline ordered cremated under the name of Mrs. Krebs Cline in Portland last month.

Rites Are Conducted For Lon Carlisle

A brief funeral service for Lon Carlisle, 92, who died Monday morning at the home of his step-daughter, Mrs. A. W. Hall, 1922 Thirtieth, was conducted at 7 o'clock Monday night at the Hall home with Rev. H. G. Gantz and Dr. H. I. Robinson officiating.

The body will be taken to Temple where a graveside service will be held today with Rev. Noel Keith, pastor of the Temple First Christian church, officiating.

Mr. Carlisle had lived with his step-daughter the last 10 years. He was born near Montgomery, Ala., Dec. 5, 1853. He moved to Texas in 1882 and lived at Belton and Weatherford before coming to Lubbock.

Mrs. Hall is the only survivor. Rix Funeral home is in charge of arrangements.

10% more than wartime take-home pay refused by UAW-CIO

Before GM workers were called out on strike, the UAW-CIO refused an offer aimed to increase wartime take-home pay by at least 10%.

Read the background and ask yourself, does this make sense?

HERE ARE THE SIMPLE FACTS:

1. During the last year of the war, the average General Motors hourly-rate worker earned $56.93 per week.

This is based on actual records of the money paid and the number of people working. To earn this money they worked an average of 45.6 hours per week.

2. The public demand for GM products and services is enough to keep our plants working at the wartime level of 45 to 48 hours weekly.

During the period of shortages, we plan to operate at this rate, barring work stoppages due to causes beyond our control. In fact, some of our plants were working 48 hours a week when the strike was called. The number of people employed when reconversion is completed and our new plants and facilities are in production, will be larger than before the war.

3. General Motors offered to adjust wage rates in line with the cost of living.

Since January 1941, General Motors' wage rates have increased substantially. Before the strike was called, the union was offered a cost-of-living wage adjustment in line with the Government's stabilization policy. The union rejected this offer and called the strike. This offer has finally been determined to amount to an average of 13½ cents per hour.

4. The UAW-CIO turned down a proposal which would have given the average GM worker $63.44 a week.

Under this offer, the average General Motors hourly-rate worker would have received $63.44 for the same number of hours for which he was paid $56.93 during the war. This is at least 33% more than he would have received in January 1941 if he had worked the same number of hours then. The union rejected the offer. The strike continues. The workers are getting nothing.

5. What does the UAW-CIO want?

Government figures say that the cost of living has gone up 33% since January 1, 1941. As already pointed out, General Motors has offered this much to its workers. But the union insists it wants 30% more than present rates, which are already substantially higher than 1941 rates. Its battle cry is "52 for 40 or fight"—52 hours' pay for 40 hours' work.

It refuses to budge from that demand.

Japs Hoped Soviets Would Join Axis Bloc, Konoye Paper Shows

By CHRIS CUNNINGHAM
United Press Staff Writer

TOKYO, Dec. 17—The private papers of Prince Fumimaro Konoye, former premier of Japan, disclosed today that Japan signed the tri-partite pact thinking that Russia would become the fourth member of the Axis.

Konoye committed suicide by taking poison Sunday a few hours before he was due to surrender as a suspected war criminal.

Wanted To Settle War

American counter - intelligence officers seized the papers shortly after Konoye's suicide and turned them over to Joseph B. Keenan, chief Allied prosecutor in the forthcoming war trials. Konoye's secretary, Tomohoko Ushiba, outlined the principal points in the papers to the United Press.

Japan's foremost objective in joining the Axis was to settle the war with China, the documents said. Konoye said he thought Japan could settle the China "affair" in any way she chose if she were allied with Germany, Russia and Italy against an "Anglo-American" combination.

Would Prevent U. S. In War

Her second reason was the hope of preventing the European war from becoming world-wide Konoye wrote. He said he thought in 1940 that a powerful combination of Germany, Russia, Italy and Japan would keep the United States from entering the war.

But the following year Konoye began to feel that the alliance was dangerous because Russia had not joined, the documents revealed. He felt then that the Axis had lost its meaning so far as Japan was concerned.

The former premier wrote that the only way for Japan was an understanding with the United States which he believed would make the tripartite alliance invalid so far as Japan was concerned. It was for this reason, he said, that he concentrated on trying to negotiate with Washington.

Texans Will Honor Eisenhower, Nimitz

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17 (AP) — Those distinguished native Texans who head the Army and Navy, General Dwight D. Eisenhower and Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, will be honored jointly at a banquet of the Texas State Society of Washington Jan. 24.

Announcement of the double-starred occasion where the two five-star chiefs-of-staff will meet on common ground, while others debate the armed forces merger proposal, was made by Dale Miller of Dallas, president of the state organization.

Speaker Sam Rayburn of Bonham will be the third speaker at the dinner, at which recently elected officers of the society will be installed. The affair will be at the Mayflower hotel.

The new officers are Ralph Pittman, formerly of Wichita Falls and one-time Baylor university all-Southwest football backfield star, a local attorney, who succeeds Miller as president; Reps. Ed Gossett of Wichita Falls and John E. Lyle of Corpus Christi and Mrs. Tom Clark of Dallas, wife of the U. S. Attorney general, vice presidents; Albert Woods of Fort Worth, clerk of the House Public buildings and grounds committee, sergeant-at-arms; Mrs. Luther A. Johnson, wife of the Corsicana congressman, hostess; Mrs. Walter Hornaday of Dallas, assistant hostess; Miss Helen Snelling, Abilene, secretary-treasurer.

Texas Schoolchildren May Play Santa Claus To Hungry In Europe

AUSTIN, Dec. 17, (U.P.)—Every kid in Texas will have a chance to play Santa Claus this Christmas.

Gov. Coke R. Stevenson and state school Supt. L. A. Woods, acting together, suggested that during this week Texas children bring contributions of canned foods to school to be sent to children in war-torn countries of Europe.

Woods mailed a letter to school superintendents throughout the state asking cooperation and enclosing directions for the campaign. It will be sponsored by the Texas council for children.

Then, when the kids come back to school after Christmas holidays they will be asked to join in collection of clothing for ill clad children and adults overseas. The victory clothing collection will be from Jan. 7 to Jan. 31. Its national goal is 100,000,000 garments in addition to shoes and bedding.

Bridge At Boston Wrecked By Ship

BOSTON, Dec. 17 (U.P.) — The Liberty ship John Hathorn crashed into a bridge connecting Boston's north end with Charlestown today and a 90-foot section of the structure plunged into the water.

No one was injured, but all foot and vehicular traffic was halted. The Boston elevated railway halted service over the trestle-like structure.

The bridge, one of the principal traffic arteries, was clear of automobiles at the time of the collapse. Elevated railway trains normally pass over the structure at about three-minute intervals but none was on the tracks.

Hunter Drowns In Effort To Save Dog

BEAR RIVER CITY, Utah, Dec. 17 (AP)—In an effort to rescue a borrowed hunting dog from the waters of partly frozen Bear river, V. I. Ewert of Ogden, Utah, drowned yesterday.

After shooting two ducks which fell into the icy water, Ewert obtained the retriever from a resident of the area, other members of the party reported. The dog brought the ducks back but was unable to climb up the ice ledge. Ewert fell into the river as he tried to help the animal.

Firemen recovered the body two hours later.

Madame Kai-Shek Is Shown "Jitterbug"

PEIPING, Dec. 17. (AP) — The phonograph in the swank Red Cross Legation club was throbbing out "In the Mood" when China's first lady, Madage Chiang Kai-Shek, dropped in Saturday.

"That's good American jitterbug," someone informed Madame Chiang, who promptly replied she had never seen it danced.

Sgt. Thomas Kearns of Queens Village, N. Y., and Miss Prodence Hemenway of Buffalo, N. Y., a Vassar graduate who has been a Red Cross staff member in the China and Burma theaters since January, 1945, volunteered for the command performance.

Madame Chiang witnessed American jitterbug as it should be danced, in the opinion of observers.

Wainwright Is Given Colorful Ovation In Fort Worth Visit

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
Associated Press Staff Writer

WORT WORTH, Dec. 17.—Fort Worth warmed a cold, dreary day today with its welcome to the man from Bataan, Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright.

Thousands lined flag-bedecked streets to shout a tremendous ovation for the distinguished visitor who led an impressive Army parade. And Tarrant county said thanks to the hero of Corregidor in an even more substantial way—the county went over the top today in its $4,500,000 Victory Loan drive quota. In so doing, Tarrant was the first of the big-four Texas counties to put the campaign across.

Wainwright Give Warning

At a bond rally tonight, Wainwright said in a prepared address that "if war comes again, the United States will be the first target."

Answering the question of whether preparedness might not be the best course for the U. S. to follow, Wainwright stated: "To that question those who have studied the unhappy results of our past military policy and those, like myself, who have personally experienced the tragic consequences of unpreparedness, have but one answer—and that is yes. That is the answer we owe to those Americans who died on Bataan and Corregidor, at Anzio and in Normandy, in defense of those principles to which our forefathers pledged their lives, their fortunes and their sacred honor. From now on, we must be prepared."

Speaks At Dinner

The general also spoke briefly at a dinner attended by 750 persons who gained admission by purchasing a $1,000 War Bond and a $3 ticket. The dinner netted $1,500,000 in bonds.

Wainwright led the parade in an open blue convertible, waving to the throng that had come to cheer him. Ticker tape and confetti fogged the view down the city's canyon and fluttered down to streets wet from intermittent rains. Represented in the parade were units from the Fort Worth Army Air field, Texas State guard, Eighth Service command headquarters, Dallas; 43rd Cavalry squadron, Camp Swift; Camp Bowie, Camp Hood, the Army Air Forces Training Command, Fort Worth; Camp Wolters, Eagle Mountain Lake Marine base, and the U. S. Naval Air station, Grand Prairie, Texas.

Is Given Presents

In Wainwright's escort were American soldiers who were taken prisoners of war by the Japanese in the Philippine campaign.

At the bond rally the general received a .12 gauge shotgun, gift of Fort Worth citizens and belt with a gold buckle, a present from the Southwest Livestock exposition.

Wainwright goes to Dallas tomorrow, arriving there for a press conference at 10:30 a. m. He will address a luncheon, make a radio broadcast and speak at Hockaday school. The general will spend tomorrow night in Dallas and go to San Antonio Wednesday. He plans to spend the Christmas holidays hunting in the Del Rio area.

VETERAN NAMED SHERIFF

WICHITA FALLS, Dec. 17 (AP)—Maj. Pat Allen was appointed sheriff of Wichita county by the county commissioners court today following the voluntary resignation of Sheriff Harvey F. Hawkins, who assumed the post when Allen left for Army service in 1942. Hawkins' resignation becomes effective Jan. 1 at which time Maj. Allen will resign his commission.

26th, 36th, 89th, 90th Infantry: On high seas.

79th Infantry: Major portion at home.

82nd Airborne: Shuttling to United Kingdom from Le Havre for shipment home.

80th Infantry: In Le Havre area: 7,500 to shuttle to United Kingdom for trans-shipment, remainder to ship direct.

100th Infantry: First elements at Marseille.

A29th, 84th, 94th Infantry, 2nd Armored, 22nd corps headquarters: Alerted for movement.

Army Probing Crash On Fastest Bomber

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17. (AP)—The Army began an inquiry today into the crash which turned its fastest bomber, the 450-mile an hour XB-42 "Mixmaster," into a pile of wreckage a week after its public debut.

The unusual appearing plane, equipped with dual rotating propellers in the tail assembly, developed engine trouble during a routine flight from the Army's Bolling field here yesterday. All three occupants parachuted to safety before it plunged into a wooded field at nearby Oxon Hill, Md.

The "Mixmaster" was first in the headlines Dec. 8 when it streaked from Long Beach, Calif., to Washington in 5 hours, 17 minutes and 34 seconds for an unofficial transcontinental record.

Jury Convicts Negro In Rape Case Here

J. B. Jackson, a negro, was convicted by a 99th district court jury Monday afternoon of rape. The jury recommended punishment of five years in the penitentiary.

He waived a constitutional two-day period allowed before being sentenced, and Judge G. V. Pardue pronounced sentence.

An ex-convict, Jackson was charged with rape Nov. 17 of Ruby Lacy, a negro woman.

Police had reported immediately after the Lacy woman's accusations that she and her mother, Willie Mae Lacy, had been taken to a negro hospital for treatment. Both had been beaten.

Jackson went to the Oklahoma reformatory for chicken theft and to the Texas penitentiary twice for burglary and murder. He denied the state accusations. He said his relations with the Lacy woman had been with her consent.

The forgery case naming L. T. Crawford was tentatively set for Tuesday morning, but Nelson & Brown, Crawford's atorneys, Monday morning field a motion to quash the indictment. Judge Pardue probably will announce his ruling this morning, court officials said.

Jury Frees Man Then Gives Him Fare Home

HOUSTON, Dec. 17. (U.P.)—Not only did a Harris county grand jury free Luther W. Ragan, 35, of charges of negligent homicide but it took up a collection to buy him a train ticket to Horatio, Ark., so he could be with his children on Christmas.

Ragan had been charged with negligent homicide and failure to stop and render aid in the hit-and-run death Nov. 29 of John R. Cikanek of Wichita, Kans. Following the accident in Houston, he said, he lost his head and fled with his family to relatives in Horatio where he was arrested.

"God bless all of you," he told the jury with his eyes filled with tears. "Now I'll be able to spend Christmas with my babies."

Deaf And Dumb Mute Decides He Can Talk In Police Checkup

HOUSTON, Dec. 17. (U.P.)—Police couldn't talk the language of a deaf and dumb mute but they soon convinced him they get along all right anyway.

By writing notes, waving his hands and wiggling his fingers the 33-year-old man told them he had been robbed of $10,000 in negotiable bonds and a .38 pistol in a taxicad.

The suspicious officers checked his fingerprints to discover he was a speaking ex-convict, wanted for questioning about a store robbery.

"O. K." he confessed. "I thought the deaf and dumb act was worth trying if I could get the bonds back. I won 'em in a poker game."

Police held him to see if they could convince him to talk more.

Orange Man Named In Kidnaping Charges

ORANGE, Dec. 17. (U.P.)—The father of a 16-year-old brown-haired girl today filed kidnap charges against H. W. Foster, 38-year-old Orange store-keeper.

Police said Foster and the 118-pound girl who worked in his store disappeared last Thursday.

Police Chief R. F. Bass said the Federal Bureau of Investigation would be called in on the case if Foster were not apprehended soon.

A state-wide police broadcast alerted officers throughout Texas to pick up Foster who was driving a 1940 blue Chevrolet coupe.

Help them get home for Christmas

Make only essential trips during the holidays

528,000 home-bound members of our victorious forces will reach West Coast ports this month

The biggest gift that thousands and thousands of the men and women in our fighting forces could get is a chance to spend the Christmas holidays with the folks at home.

But getting them home is far more than a matter of discharge papers or a holiday leave—there's the problem of getting them to wherever home is.

Tens of thousands are now in California ports waiting to get home.

The Army and Navy tell us that better than a half million service personnel will be returning in December. That means 17,000, on the average, must be taken care of each day.

Our trains are already overcrowded. We don't want to disappoint a single soldier, sailor, marine, coast guardsman, Wac, Wave or Spar we can possibly find space for.

So won't you help us to do our share in playing Santa Claus to them by postponing your trip until after the holidays—unless it has to be made.

You'll get—we'll bet—a little glow out of knowing that you're making it possible for somebody in the service to be home. So again we ask, in all friendliness, won't you postpone your trip until we can serve you in the traditional Santa Fe manner.

Two Questioned In Hijack Case

City and county officers last night had arrested two persons for questioning in connection with the reported hijacking early Sunday of H. A. Lightfoot, 2418 Ave. L.

Lightfoot said two men came up behind him as he was walking toward the business district about 6 a. m. along Ave. L between Seventeenth and Eighteenth. One of the men punched him in the back, he said, and told him to get his hands up.

Other One Masked

The other man, who was masked, came around in front of him, Lightfoot said, took his wallet, removed $31 and handed the wallet back. Then they told him to walk two blocks with his hands up, "but not too fast."

He described the man as about 22 years old, approximdtely 160 pounds, 5 feet 10 inches tall and wearing a blue hat. He did not see the other man.

Among thefts reported Monday were a pair of sun shades and a pair of gloves, total value, $18, from the car of C. W. Turner, 1811 Fifteenth, the offense occuring at Tenth and College; from the car of Howard Hayes of route 6 at the Lubbock Austion barn, a tire, tube and wheel, total value, $24; and $52.95 worth of rhinestone costume jewelry from the Dunlap company.

Cafe Safe Cracking

Police investigating reported attempts to crack the safe at the Hut cafe, 352 Ave. H, were unable to get fingerprints, and said that investigation showed a fountain pen and 75 cents in stamps missing.

The sheriff's department at Spur reported theft of a 1941 black Chevrolet sedan, license No. FD 3548, and the sheriff's office at Levelland reported theft at Ropes of a blue 1941 five-passenger Chevrolet coupe, license No. FN 7287, and that a 1937 Ford coach, license No. ED 9956, was abandoned there.

Donald Wells Hall, 21, of Lubbock had not posted $600 bond last night, set on a charge of fornication.

for trainees if the compulsory military training bill is passed. They would get three months in "boot" camp, three months in a school for specialized training, three months of team training, and three months at sea, said Vice Admiral Louis Denfeld.

At other hearings:

Lewis W. Douglas, president of the Mutual Life Insurance Co., testified that the cost of life insurance would go up if the interest rate on housing loans is cut. Omar Ketchum of the Veterans of Foreign Wars said something has to be done to provide housing for veterans. This was at the Senate Banking committee.

Secretary of War Patterson promised the House Banking committee that the Army will do all it can to help in the housing shortage but said it had not much more material that could be released.

ment are the only matters which are subject to collective bargaining."

The management asked that the union "withdraw objections to the local unions negotiating and agreeing to pay plans which provide for rewarding individuals for increased productive effort." The corporation has said the union objects to the incentive wage plan.

The GM demand for penalties against worker participating in unauthorized work stoppages follows the line of a Ford Motor Co., demand for "company security."

Illegal Stoppage Payments

Ford demanded that the union pay a $5 a day fine for each worker taking part in illegal stoppages. The union countered with a proposal for fines of $3 for the first offense and $5 for subsequent contract violations, the money to be deducted from the offender's pay check. The proposal still is under discussion.

The first restraining order against Michigan pickets was issued late today in Lansing by Circuit Judge Charles H. Hayden.

He directed pickets to cease interference with GM office employes seeking to enter three strike-bound plants there.

Earlier in the day upwards of 10,000 salaries employes who had been kept from their jobs by the strike of production workers went through picket lines to return to their jobs.

Picket Lines Charged

At Flint, Mich., police, using a flying wedge formation, charged through a picket line at one of the corporation's AC spark plug division plants.

Within the wedge were 30 non-union office workers. They were not molested by the strikers although shouts of "scab" were hurled at them from the line. Subsequently scores of other office employes entered through the hole opened by Police Captain Gus Hawkins and 30 police officers. Union spokesmen said only about 50 pickets were at the plant gates when the police appeared.

The incident at Flint was the first time police had been used to break through the picket lines in the strike that has idled 38,000 salaries employes in addition to the 175,000 production workers who walked out nearly a month ago ove rthe UAW-CIO demand for a 30 per cent wage rate increase.

Injunctions Sought

Last week General Motors, charging the union with "illegal picketing," sought injunctions in several states restraining the pickets from interfering with office workers and over the weekend advised these workers and supervisory employes to report for work today at certain plants.

General Motors and UAW-CIO officials held another conference today on the 30 per cent wage demand. The talks will be transferred to Washington Wednesday when management and union representatives will meet with a fact-finding board appointed by President Truman to study the dispute.

The Japanese command kicked the idea around for six weeks. First they sent me word the volunteers were crazy to want to leave a civilian internment camp for life in a military prison camp—an admission that Cabanatuan was a hell hole, as its skeleton-like inmates later confirmed.

The Japanese quickly rejected the suggestion that female nurses might be allowed to go. Japanese insistence that the volunteers were out of their minds in wanting to undertake such a mission caused m to send the high command word that we were ready to sign papers relieving the Nipponese of any responsibility for our wellbeing as civilians.

After a month and a half came the final decision—the volunteers would not be permitted to go on an errand of mercy to Cabanatuan where, because of lack of attention, scores of American soldiers were dropping off daily.

Our answer to this refusal was the setting up of a ring through which we sumggled medicines and other necessities from Santo Tomas to Cabanatuan. At the head f this ring was Tony Escoda, Filipino newspaper man, graduate of Columba, prewar city editor of the Manila Daily Bulletin. He was the outside man who smuggled directly into Cabanatuan camp the contraband we were able to move out of Santo Tomas.

This work cost Tony his life, as well as that of his wife, Josefa, also a graduate of Columbi.. They were executed by the Japanese.

Of the eleven original smugglers in our setup, six are dead. Four died under Japanese swords. One was a victim of starvation. The other, suffering from malnutrition, failed to survive a surgical operation.

Konoye's Memoirs

(Matsuoka, who also has been listed as a war criminal suspect by General MacArthur, held the view, Konoye said, as far back as May, 1941 that Roosevelt had already decided on United States entry into the European war.)

4. Talks on adjustment of American-Japanese relations had been under way unofficially since December, 1940, with former U. S. Postmaster General Frank Walker in one of the key roles. Konoye named the others as Bishop James Edward Walsh, superior general of the Catholic Foreign Missionary society, Maryknoll, N. Y., and Kichisaburo Nomura, Japanese ambassador to the United States, and others for Japan. He said both President Roosevelt and Secretary of State Hull were informed of the conversations.

Period Not Indicated

There was no indication of the period during which Konoye wrote his memoirs, which relate in detail the negotiations of the second and third Konoye cabinets from April, 1941, to a period seven weeks before the first shot of the war. They evidently were designed, however, to present his final word.

Of high importance to Japan was Konoye's statement that if an understanding were reached, there would be mutual exchange of necessary materials. He said it would provide that the United States should furnish credit and give "support and cooperation in the production and gaining of resources Japan desires in the (Southwest Pacific) area such as petroleum, rubber, tin, nickel and others."

The two countries would jointly guarantee the independence of the Philippines, wrote Konoye, and Japanese "immigrants to the United States and the Southwest Pacific would be considered in a friendly manner or be given the same treatment of non-discrimination and equality as other nations."

Suggested In Honolulu

The plan, he added, that Japanese-American conversations be held in Honolulu, to be opened by President Roosevelt and Konoye, but later Alaska was mentioned.

Konoye summoned a conference of cabinet and military chieftains when he received the plan on April 18.

"The general opinion," he wrote, was that "to accept this American proposal would be most suitable for the disposal of the China affair."

"On the advocacy of some quarters for entrance to the south (occupation of southeast Asia) even the military command now says it has no preparations," Konoye continued. "From the standpoint of nurturing national strength, too, there is the necessity for the future to shake hands temporarily with the United States" and plan for obtaining materials.

New Plan Is Set For Surplus Purchases

AUSTIN, Dec. 17. (AP)—Educational leaders meeting with Gov. Coke Stevenson today originated a new state agency for the purpose of facilitating the purchase of surplus government property for the schools of Texas.

Weaver Baker, chairman of the state board of control, will head the agency to be composed of 15 representatives drawn from all grades and kinds of school, both public and private.

Gov. Stevenson said he would agency was necessitated by the stipulation of the U. S. office of education that each state name one person to head a single agency with whom the federal government could deal on the disposal of surplus war goods on a 40 per cent discount basis.

The plan for setting up such an agency was offered by Reed Granberry, assistant to the president of the University of Texas

The executive committee will determine matters of broad policy and act in cases of disagreement between five sub-committees.

Gov. Stepvenson said he would announce the committee roster tomorrow after each institution had sent him a suggested list of members.

HST Indicates Internal Affairs Of All Nations Concern World

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17. (AP)—The United States appears today to have embraced the belief that under certain conditions any nation's internal affairs become the business of all nations.

President Truman applied that principle to strife-torn China in his policy declaration Saturday, and government officials said this country soon might join others in applying it to Spain and Argentina.

With ratification of the United Nations charter, the United States, accepted the principle of collective action to prevent—or stop—international wars. Traditiontlly, however, this country has held that a nation's internal troubles were strictly its own business.

Mr. Truman moved some distance away from that position in hi 1200-word directive to Gen. George C. Marshall, his special envoy to China.

The President observed that events of this century indicated "a breach of peace anywhere in the world threatens the peace of the entire world." Thus, he said, it is in "the most vital interest of the United States and all the United Nations" that Chinese Nationalists and Communists settle their difficulties promptly and peacefully.

He implied that American economic assistance for China would depend on the speed with which that country moves toward peace and unity.

Meanwhile, there were week-end indications that the United States soon might decide officially that tactics of Generalissimo Franco in Spain and Argentina's military regime constitute threats to peace and thus are international business.

Secretary of State Byrnes has announced this government's "unqualified adherence" to a recent Urguayan proposal that the American republics adopt the principle of collective intervention when any one of their number denies its people essential rights or violates its international obligations.

As for Franco's Spain, the return to Washington of Ambassador Norman Armor apparently will end a phase of American relations with that country. There are no plans to replace Armour.

Some government officials believe the next move will be a joint Anglo - American - French diplomatic break with the Franco government early in 1946.

FFA Contest Winners At Tech Announced

Winners in a series of three leadership contests for Future Farmers of America chapters conducted at Texas Technological college Monday were announced last night, with Lubbock and Roosevelt chapters grabbing the most honors.

The Lubbock county FFA chapter won top place in the Junior Chapter Conducting contest with Roosevelt taking second spot. In the farm demonstration contest, Cooper's chapter carried off frist place with Lubbock's chapter taking runnerup honors. And in the public speaking contest, Hermleigh was judged best with Roosevelt in second place.

Other chapters participating in the day's activities included Slaton, Frenship, New Deal, Idalou and Snyder.

Ray Chappelle and O. T. Ryan of the college staff were judges.

Optimists Told To Practice Precepts Outlined By Club

Now is the time for the world to practice the kind of optimism which is the guiding light of Optimists clubs—"not just pollyanna-ism, not just being good fellows, but optimism in faith."

So declared I. E. McWhirter, manager of appliance advertising of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram in a talk Monday night at the seventh annual charter night banquet of the Lubbock Optimists and Opti-Mrs. held in the Lubbock hotel.

Get Down To Earth

"This is a time for the world to get down to earth," he said. "It is a time for the peoples of the earth to trust one another wherever they may be—at home or across the sea."

He dealt at length with Optimists International's "uncle-nephew" program which involves the practice of friendship toward all youth. He said Optimists' work among boys was one of the principal things which distinguished the organization.

McWhirter advocated extension of the Optimists organization, saying that every club should feel a responsibility for forming clubs in neighboring towns.

Musical Program

The musical phase of the program comprised vocal selections by Mrs. Ardelle Scales, club pianist, who was accompanied by Miss Frances Croslin.

Following the banquet, a dance was held in the club room.

Club President, L. D. Casey, announced that the club's regular weekly luncheon today, next Tuesday and Christmas day have been canceled.

Chinese Agree To Deal With Reds As Communists Hit New Setbacks

By SPENCER MOOSA
Associated Press Staff Writer

CHUNGKING, Dec. 17—Chinese government willingness to make a deal with the Communists was expressed by a high official today amid new reports of Communist setbacks in Inner Mongolia and disclosure that U. S. Air forces would fly government troops into Manchuria.

President Truman's declaration of American policy toward China and the favorably-spoken reaction to it continued to be the top news in this strife-torn country.

Coalition Suggested

K. C. Wu, government minister of information, said that he believed the government would agree to form a coalition with the Communists provided they would abolish autonomous armies and cease independent control of territory, but that the Communists still wanted to retain both.

Wu said President Truman's statement, urging the rivals to settle their differences and create a united China in order to get American said, was not regarded here as a warning. President Truman's stated objectives are identical with those of the central government, Wu asserted.

The official central daily news said the Communists were determined to maintain their armies and that President Truman "hit the nail on the head when he said existence of autonomous armies makes political unity in China impossible."

Control In North

The government meanwhile was making progress with its moves for control of northern areas.

Associated Press correspondent Spencer Davis quoted authoritative American sources in Peiping as disclosing that the U. S. Army Air Transport command would fly government troops into Mukden and Harbin, important cities of Manchuria. The influential newspaper Ta Kunk Pao said last Thursday that the Russians had agreed to this use of American planes and pilots.

Tech Board Chairman Is Re-Appointed To Farm Credit Board

HOUSTON, Dec. 17 (Special)—Charles C. Thompson of Colorado City has been re-appointed by Governor I. W. Duggan of the Farm Credit administration, Kansas City, Mo., for a three-year term on the board of directors of the Farm Credit administration of Houston, Jack Shelton, FCA general agent, announced here today.

Thompson, prominent West Texas farmer and stock raiser, and chairman of the board of Texas Technological college at Lubbock, has completed one term of office on the Farm Credit board.

The Farm Credit administration of Houston, which serves the State of Texas, is composed of the Federal Land Bank of Houston, the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank of Houston, the Houston Bank for Cooperatives, and the Production Credit Corporation of Houston.

Thompson was re-appointed to the board as the top nominee from three names submitted as a result of balloting among the national farm loan associations in Texas.

Carols To Be Sung Downtown Saturday

Members of the Lubbock chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America are rounding out practices this week for the presentation of Christmas carols from the balcony of Lubbock Hotel Saturday night.

The singers have been practicing for the event the past three weeks and will present 40 minutes of caroling starting at 8:30 o'clock Saturday night. A loud speaker system will carry their voices throughout downtown Lubbock.

Approximately 30 men will take part in the affair.

Newsprint Controls Now Up To Synder

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17. (AP)—The Civilian Production administration has decided to lift newsprint control Dec. 31, it was learned today but the decision must be approved by Reconversion Director John W. Snyder.

Government officials who know about CPA's decision, but who asked anonymity, said Snyder may make his position known tomorrow.

CPA, it was understood, had planned to make an announcement on revocation of controls, but the order was held up in Snyder's office.

Officials said the delay was due to phrasing used in the CPA announcement, rather than to any disagreement on whether the order should be lifted.

Members of the newspaper industry advisory committee have twice recommended that all newsprint ration controls be lifted at the year's end.

Number of farm and ranch operators in Wyoming decreased 12 per cent since 1940. Present figures are 13,207.

Oklahoma Attorney Dies Of Pneumonia

OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 17 (AP)—Moman Pruiett, 73, one of the most colorful criminal lawyers of the Southwest, died today of pneumonia.

This pioneer Oklahoma attorney appeared for the defense in some of the state's most spectacular cases. He won acquittal for 303 of 343 accused slayers he defended.

Pruiett became rich as well as famous but the last of his huge fees was lost in real estate.

In his last years, Pruiett eked out a bare existence on a $40 a month pension.

Needs For Christmas Baskets Are Sought

Officers have announced that the Salvation Army office, 1112 Seventeenth, will be open through Wednesday to receive applications for Christmas baskets to go to families whose holiday might be cheerless otherwise.

The Salvation Army was late getting its kettles on the streets this year, officers explained, but the Christmas baskets will be distributed as in other years.

Award Is Presented Mrs. Roosevelt

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 17. (AP)—The late President Franklin D. Roosevelt was "a friend of all peoples and never thought of anyone as having a label," says the widow of the man who was honored posthumously with Brith Sholom's 1945 humanitarian award.

Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt accepted the award yesterday. It paid tribute to Roosevelt's "untiring efforts in behalf of the stricken and oppressed peoples of the world."

Action Finished On Second UNRRA Fund

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17. (AP)—The Senate completed congressional action today on legislation authorizing a second $1,350,000,000 fund for the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation administration.

Approval came on a voice vote sending the measure to the White House.

The Senate already has voted $750,000,000 of the new funds in approving a $2,500,000,000 deficiency appropriation bill last Saturday.

Plan To Keep People Of World Informed Step Toward Peace

By LOUIS F. KEEMLE
United Press Staff Writer

A significant move has been made in London to let the people of all countries in on the secrets of their own world organizatin.

The plan provides for the fullest possible publicity on meetings of the United Nations, now in the process of formation. It will be presented this week to the preparatory commission of the UNO, with the strong endorsement of the United States.

Foote Backs Plan

Woodrow Wilson's proposal for "open covenants, openly arrived at" may come closer to realization under this plan than has been possible during the tricky, duoble-dealing course of international politics which marked the breathing space between the two World wars.

The plan has been drafted by a technical advisory committee on information. Its primary backer is Miller Foote, special assistant to Edward R. Stettinius, chief United tSates delegate to the UNO preparatory commission.

Would Aid Press and Radio

The project is designed to give the press, radio and other agencies of information fuller access to the proceedings of the UNO, so that the public may have a better idea of what is going on.

Like any such far-thinking proposal, the plan is by no means perfect, but it is an encouraging beginning. It is capable of expansion after the UNO has begun to function. When and if the UNO is broadened into a world parliament, as some idealists hope it will be, the suggested policy could become a Magna Carta of freedom in information.

Keep Public Informed

The strength of the drafted plan lies in its opening declaration that the UNO cannot achieve its purposes unless the peoples of the World are fully informed about its aims and activities. The weakness is that no specific provision is made against closed meetings of UNO bodies under any and all circumstances.

A London dispatch reports that the plan seeks to follow for the United Nations organization the same policy adopted during the present preparatory meeting, by which all committee sessions, including those of the steering committee, were open to the press.

Plan Is Explained

The dispatch, however, made the following observation:

"The nations now meeting here already have approved in their rules of procedure for various UNO organs the policy that all meetings be open except in extraordinary circumstances, and with the exception of the security council, whose meetings will be open unless otherwise decided."

Unless that policy is tightened, true freedom of reporting will not be possible, especially in matters of the gravest importance. The technical advisory committee fortunately set no such limitations. It suggested a world-wide advisory committee which would meet periodically at the UNO seat and suggest improvements on the information bureau under UNO auspices. The bureau would give the press and other informational agencies "the fullest possible access" to UNO activities and documents, with a view to world-wide distribution.

A check would be made of public opinion to determine whether the people were being fully and impartially informed. Provision was made to ensure that the material distributed should be entirely information and not propaganda.

Members Of Church Recover From Attack

MARSHALL, Dec. 17. (AP)—Members of Friendship Baptist church, in the Gill community about 10 miles south of here, were recuperating today from what was believed carbon monoxide poisoning.

Four were hospitalized out of 29 noticeably affected.

Between 35 and 40 persons in the church yesterday when there came a wave of fainting and nausea. Rev. D. H. Joiner, the pastor, who reentered the building to assist some outside, was among those hospitalized. Miss Beulah Fogle fainted, cutting her face as she fell. Two children required administration of oxygen. They were Dorothy Mae Bogue, 10, who remained at a hospital today, and Lillie Bell Hopkins, who was discharged from the hospital yesterday.

Three gas circulating heaters had been burning in the church since early morning.

Four Powerful Clubs Ready For Schoolboy Semi-Finals

(By The United Press)

Four great schoolboy football teams that have lost only three games between them were squared off today for what appeared to be the closest pair of semifinal battles stage din the Class AA championship playoff in many years.

So evenly matched are the four survivors of the gruelling race that started last September that there was little to choose today between Highland Park, Wichita Falls, Waco and Goose Creek—although generally observers were rating them in the order named.

Sites of Games

Site of the games was expected to play a major role in deciding the winners when Highland Park engages Wichita Falls at Fort Worth, and Waco meets Goose Creek at Houston.

Both of the Northern division teams are unbeaten, the only blot on the record of each being the 7-7 deadlock they engaged in at Wichita Falls in midseason. And you could get an argument on the drop of a hat as to which team looked best that night.

Waco has only a 7-0 setback at the hands of Highland Park against its fine record and all of the statistics favored the Central Texans, who lost on the Scotties field in the waning minutes of the game.

Two defeats—both by less than a touchdown—ruin Goose Creek's season mark, Lufkin having nosed out the Ganders 7-6 and Port Arthur winning by a 6-2 margin.

Potent Power Shown

All four teams came through handily in the quarterfinals last Saturday, although Waco had to capitalize on two fourth-quarter breaks to gain a scoring edge over a stubborn Marshall eleven.

Highland Park displayed plenty of bone-crushing power to bowl over North Side of Fort Worth 40-6, ripping wide holes in a Steer line that had given up only two touchdowns all season for backs Bill Elliott, Bill Moxley, Bill Weatherford and Rusty Russell to slip through for scoring thrusts. North Side was unabe to threaten except against reserves who allowed the only Steer score as the Scotties rolled up 22 first downs to eight and 400 yards rushing to 80.

Coyotes Looked Good

Wichita Falls had almost as easy a time with a hitherto undefeated, untied Odessa eleven as Lindy Berry, Joe Dean Tidwell and Billy Pyle passed and ran to a 35-0 victory behind a big line headed by tackles Bob Hames and Willie Bigham. Odessa's heralded J. W. Thompson played a standout game offensively and defensively but was no match for the potent Coyotes.

Goose Creek, which had beaten Jefferson of San Antonio 20-6 earlier in the year, turned in another three-touchdown victory over the Alamo city crew as Ted Hunt sparked an attack that netted a 19-0 score. Hunt scored once and Jack Kraft twice as the Ganders amassed 134 yards to 18 and 14 first downs to two.

Marshall's surprising Mavericks battled gamely for three quarters and kept Waco scoreless despite two penetrations, but a 77-yard quick kick by Waco's Cotton Lindloff and a pass interception set the stage for two touchdowns by Marv Brenner in the final period and Waco walked off with a 13-0 victory.

Brownfield's Cagers Drop Sundown Twice

BROWNFIELD, Dec. 17. (Special) — Brownfield's high scoring Cubs chalked up two impressive cage triumphs over the Sundown High hardwood "A" and "B" squads here tonight.

In the "A" game, the Brownfield lads added up a decisive 43 to 26 decision after a slow first half which found the score only 15 to 9 at the intermission. Calvin Franks with 19 points and Joe Wheatley with 13 paced the winners, while G. Pearcy with nine points and Ethridge with eight led the way for the losers.

The Brownfield "B" club also came through with a lopsided margin, winning 35 to 14. Billy Winn with 10 points and Bob Sampson with eight were high point men for the winners. McTrover was the only Sundown man to amass as many as three points for the losers.

Wednesday night, the Brownfield lads invade Lamesa for a twin bill, the Cubs' last game before the Christmas holidays.

Goose Creek Is Cinderella Club

(By The Associated Press)

Lost in all the fuss and flurry about the mighty teams at Wichita Falls and Highland Park and Waco has been the rags to riches story of the Goose Creek Ganders in Texas schoolboy football.

Here is an eleven that came up the hard way, wading through a barrier of bumps and bruises and apparently once the victim of dissension that threatened to end its hopes of state championship.

At one time, it seemed Goose Creek was no better than a 100-to-1 shot of winning its district title. It had lost to Port Arthur, was trailing unbeaten Galveston.

But the Ganders got up off the floor and battled down the stretch to barely edge into the state play-off. Today they have reached the semi-finals and offer a very serious threat to Waco's Tigers in this week's play-off.

There never was much doubt about Goose Creek's ability. It had experience and power. Yet it didn't have the spark, couldn't click with all its troubles. But somewhere down the line all was straightened out. The way Goose Creek moved over Thomas Jefferson (San Antonio) last week indicates it has really hit its stride.

It's the second time in the semi-finals for the Ganders. In 1943, with George Walmsley as its star, Goose Creek met Lufkin at Houston. The teams battled to a 7-7 tie with Lufkin winning on penetrations. Lufkin backers claimed the terrific battle with Goose Creek was what really lost the Panthers their state title game with San Angelo the next week.

Goose Creek gets a break in its game with Waco by playing the Tigers at Houston. The Ganders consider this their home field.

In the other semi-final battle, Highland Park meets Wichita Falls at Fort Worth. Highland Park will at least have the advantage of playing on a field it knows. The Highlanders last week met North Side on the Fort Worth gridiron.

Gassers Gain Ground By Forfeit Victory

Picking up a three game forfeit from S. & Q. Clothiers, while Armour's won only two games over Meads Bakery, the West Texas Gassers increased their lead in the City Bowling league race to four full games Monday night at Plamor alleys.

In the other games in the league, Hub Laundry won two over the Jaycees and the Birdseye food club took a pair from the Lions club.

Sam Hitch of the Lions copped the scoring honors of the night, getting the best single game total of 226 pins, and the best series with 587 pins.

Miami Beach, Fla., has no railroad station, airport, cemeteries or slums.

Colleges To Hold State Cage Meet

COMMERCE, Tex., Dec. 17. (AP)—A new phase of basketball competition for colleges in the Border, Lone Star and Texas Conferences is in progress and there is a possibility that Dallas, since it is centrally located, will be the site of a round-robin cage show during the week of March 4.

Texas' chairman of the national intercollegiate basketball championship, which is held annually in Kansas City, Coach Gus Miller of West Texas State Teachers college, has announced colleges in the three circuits have arranged to complete their schedules around March 1 in order that the best two teams in each conference can have a play-off to determine which will represent the Lone Star state at the Kansas City affair.

East Texas State's Dennis Vinzant and Putt Powell, sports editor of the Amarillo Globe-News, have been appointed by Miller to assist in arranging the three-circuit play-off.

From the Panhandle last week Miller telephoned Vinzant to announce to all colleges in this part of the state that "We plan to meet at a centrally located city affording facilities large enough to accommodate our state tournament and play it out for a ticket to the Kansas City tournament which is to be held March 12-17."

Teams eligible to participate in the play-off are Texas Tech, Hardin-Simmons, West Texas State Teachers, Howard Payne, Southwestern, ACC, Austin College, McMurry, Trinity university, Sam Houston State, East Texas State, Southwest Texas State, University of Houston, Stephen F. Austin, and North Texas State.

Brand Cagers Romp Over Gailey, 38-26

Gayland Brand's senior cagers at the Lubbock Boys club romped over Jack Gailey's club in the senior loop feature Monday night, winning 38 to 26 over the Gailey's.

But Gailey himself set a fast pace on the goal shooting, pouring in 14 points to lead his team. Bruce Lanier paced the winners with nine points.

Melvin Lindsey's five won the junior league game, beating John Cottman's team, 20 to 4. Jimmy Wilson paced the winners with four points, with Pat Wallace and Tom Rainey dividing the four Cottman points.

It was a battle of brothers in the midget league, Ira Owens beating James Owens 12 to 7. Scoring honors were divided, with Keith Newman for the winners and Dennis Atkins of the losers each getting four points.

Play will be suspended until after Christmas, with the schedule resumed Dec. 31 with Clark and Chaney playing in the senior league, Pharr and Stanley in the junior loop, and Smith and Ince in the midget.

Florida has the longest coastline of any state—1,197 miles.

Westerners Defeat Lobo Cagers, 35-31

The third time was the charm, and Coach Marlin "Shorty" Hayhurst's Lubbock Westerners, a fast improving ball club, showed how much they have improved by beating the Levelland Lobos Monday nightat Westerner gym, 35 to 31, for Lubbock's first win in three games with the Lobos.

The Westerners won in an impressive fashion, grabbing the lead shortly after the game started, and were never behind, although the hard fighting Lobos launched several threats that gave the Westerner fans some jittery moments.

Clardy vs. Turner

The game developed early into a duel between two top flight stars, Jess Clardy of the Lobos and Verdell Turner of the Westerners, with Clardy setting the scoring honors for the night, and leading a great comeback drive in the final period to put the Lobos back in the ball game.

Clardy found the range on the basket for seven field goals and a donation toss to total 15 points. Turner was one field goal behind him, for a total of 13 points.

Lubbock Grabs Lead

Finley flipped in the first basket of the ball game, and Turner followed him up for an early 4-0 lead. Turner rolled in seven points in the first perod, to get the Westerners off to a 9-5 lead at the end of the first quarter.

There was very little scoring in the second period, with Clark setting the pace to lead the Westerners to a 15-9 lead at halftime, with Clardy putting in four points to keep the Lobo hope alive.

Lubbock twice led by ten points during the third period, and the two teams moved into the final period with the Westerners leading by a 27 to 20 score.

Clardy opened up in the final period, and he tossed in seven of his points in the home stretch. At one time, Clardy had cut the Westerner lead to four points at 31-27.

Finley and Presley eased the pressure somewhat with a couple of quick two-pointers, and late shots by Clardy and Garrison cut the lead again, but time ran out on the Lobos with the Westerners freezing to the ball in the closing seconds.

The Lobos gained an even break for the night, the Lobo B team winning for the first time in three efforts over the Westerner B, 21 to 19 in a game that a Lobo rally forced into an overtime session before the Lobos won the game.

Schmidt of Lubbock was high point man with six points, while Petty and Wise paced Levelland with five points each.

Other Coaches Honor Indiana's McMillin

NEW YORK, Dec. 17. (AP)—Alvin (Bo) McMillin, whose coaching of Indiana to the 1945 Big Ten football championship has brought him two personal honors in three days, said today that "the honors make me feel just as good as the day I scored that touchdown against Harvard."

McMillin, named the coach of the year today in a poll of coaches conducted by the New York World-Telegram and picked as the sport's man of the year by the Football Writers Association of America on Saturday, referred to the touchdown he made for Centre college in its 6 to 0 upset triumph over Harvard in 1921.

"Then I had to worry about Harvard coming back to tie or beat us," he continued, "but I guess I got these for sure and can quit worrying."

McMillin was named first on 64 of the 164 ballots cast. Col. Earl (Red) Blaik of Army, who was runnerup a year ago when Carroll Widdoes of Ohio State was named, was in second place again this year with Lou Little of Columbia third and Jimmy Phelan of St. Mary's fourth.

AAU Cage Loop Starts Tonight

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 17. (AP)—The American Basketball League, a brand new AAU project spanning the West from Kansas City to Los Angeles, has its inaugural tomorrow.

With the Sand Diego Dons opening against the Salt Lake City desert team in the Utah city, the farthest-flung AAU circuit in cage annals will embark on a 10-week, 72-game schedule running through Feb. 24.

Other league members are the famed Phillips "66" Oilers of Bartlesville, Okla.; the Denver Ambrose Jellymakers; M and O Cigars, Kansas City; 20th Century-Fox of Hollywood; the Carroll Shamrocks of Los Angeles; Dardi company of San Francisco; and the Sacramento Senators.

Playing a home-and-home slate, each of the nine teams is booked for 16 games.

It's really industrial league basketball on an intersectional scale, with the sponsors avowedly not interested in profits. Most of the receipts have been earmarked for charity.

But the league—with on exception—has taken care to pick the largest auditoriums for its games. Seating capacities range from 4,000 on up to 12,500 at Kansas City, except for aBrtlesville where the Oilers will play before top crowd of 2,500.

President of the league is G. J (Bud) Fischer, playing coach of the Hollywood team. John B. Old, Los Angeles Herald - Express sportswriter, is league commissioner.

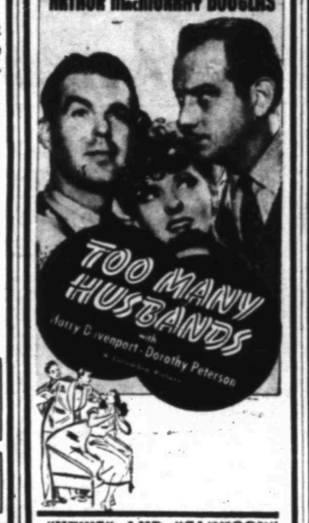

MICHIGAN BEATS UTAH

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Dec. 17.—The University of Michigan's undefeated basketball team, warming up for its Big Ten opener Saturday, overwhelmed the University of Utah 48 to 32 tonight in a game marked by ragged shooting on both sides. It was the third defeat for the Utes in seven starts.

Censorship Need Gone

World Press Freedom Is Sought

IN the years preceding the war, the areas of the world in which newspapermen were free to report frankly and fully on the course of events became progressively restricted. News was colored more and more by government propaganda as totalitarian states took over control of the press. And foreign correspondents found it increasingly difficult to operate under consorship or the threat of censorship. With the coming war, censorship of necessity was applied almost universally. Cessation of hostilities, however, has not been followed everywhere by abolition of restrictions on the press.

In an attempt to get rid of press controls abroad, and to insure the most favorable conditions for interchange of news, leaders of American journalism initiated a movement to obtain effective guarantees of world press freedom in the peace treaties or other international agreements. Early this year the American Society of Newspaper Editors sent a committee around the world to enlist support for the movement among foreign editors and government officials. The committee found general adherence to its views except in Russia, where the government-controlled press is regarded as the spokesman of the people and the press of other nations is viewed as the voice of capitalism.

Difficulties encountered in getting news out of eastern Europe, combined with distrust of Soviet policies in Russian-occupied countries, led to recent proposals in Congress to attach free-press conditions to distribution of UNRRA supplies purchased with American funds. On Nov. 1, the House of Representatives approved a rider to the UNRRA appropriation bill which would have denied use of the funds in any country not allowing American press and radio correspondents freedom to report UNRRA activities. The rider was criticized as an attempt to enforce freedom of the press by the threat of starvation. The Senate refused to go along, and when the bill emerged from conference, the free-press amendment had been converted into a mere request to the president to use his good offices to obtain admission of American correspondents to countries receiving UNRRA aid.

Meanwhile, the State department has been laying emphasis on freedom of the press as a test of freedom of elections in liberated European countries. And the Administration, in various other ways, has sought to promote world press freedom. Last spring at Mexica City, the United States was largely instrumental in obtaining adoption by the American republics of a resolution on free exchange of information. Freedom of the press was not specifically mentioned in the United Nations charter, but Edward R. Stettinius, then secretary of state, interpreted a declaration on "fundamental freedoms" as including freedom of speech, press and communications. At Bermuda early this month, the United States reached an agreement with Great Britain providing for reduction of cable and wireless rates on press and commercial messages and for operation of more extensive communication facilities.

Some progress is thus being made toward attainment of the objectives of American crusaders for world press freedom. Full realization of those objectives will require universal recognition of the right of foreign newspaper and radio correspondents to enter any country and move about freely therein; opening of news sources to foreign correspondents on equal terms and without discrimination in favor of the domestic press; and freedom to transmit dispatches without censorship or fear of punitive action. An important secondary objective is the availability of adequate international transmission facilities at non-discriminatory rates.

Let's Make It "Safe At Home"

TEXANS have waited four long years for this Christmas.

GI Joe has dreamed of it on every battlefield of the world. Thousands of them are streaming out of separation centers, homeward bound. Others, already home, are shedding their khaki and blue for civilian clothes. Each passing day is making "home for Christmas" a blessed reality.

Except for one thing—traffic accidents.

The Texas Safety association predicts a traffic toll of 223 persons and non-fatal injuries to some 2,000 others in December, with a large part of the accidents during the holiday period.

Yes, of things run true to form, Christmas will be ruined in hundreds of Texas homes by accidents to someone in the family.

These accidents are especially tragic and ironic at the Christmas season in any year. This year they are doubly so. This year, of all years, we want no tragedy that can be avoided.

Journey's end for the returning veteran should be the safety of his fireside. Not futile death on the streets and highways of Texas.

Isn't it worth a little extra trouble this Christmas season to prevent accidents that bring sorrow and suffering and tragedy?

Then do your level best to make this a "safe at home" Christmas.

"Is stealing a kiss 'petty' larcency?" some one asks. No; it's grand.

Marshall's Report On The War

By Gen. George C. Marshall
Wartime Chief Of Staff

(This is the 26th of 42 installments of material selected from General Marshall's report on the winning of World War II.

BURMA FALLS

THE reentry into Burma was the most ambitious campaign yet waged on the end of an airborne supply line. From the first advance by the Chinese into the Hukawng Valley in October until after the fall of Myitkyina town the next August there were at all times between 25,000 and 100,000 troops involved in fighting and dependent largely or entirely on food, equipment, and ammunition that could be air-supplied, either by parachute, free drop, or air landed.

MARSHALL

The air supply was maintained by troop carrier squadrons, British and American, commanded by Brig. Gen. William D. Old, under the direction of General Stratemeyer's Eastern Air Command. Night and day troop carrier C-46's and 47's shuttled from numerous bases and air strips in the Brahmaputra Valley to points of rendezvous with the Allied ground columns in the Burma jungles. Each trip had to be flown over one or more of the steep spines which the Himalayas shove southward along the India-Burma frontier to establish one of the most formidable barriers to military operations in the world. The troop carrier squadrons at the height of the campaign averaged 230 hours of flying time for each serviceable plane a month for three months. The normal average monthly flying time is 120 hours.

At two critical stages of the campaign the troop carrier squadrons assisted by Air Transport Command planes made major troop movements in a matter of hours and days that would have required weeks and months by surface transport.

The first was the movement of British and Indian troops to meet the threat of the BengalAsaam Railroad at Dimapur. The second was the movement of two Chinese divisions, the 14th and 50th, from Yunnan, China, across the Hump to the troop carrier base at Sookerating, in Assam, India. This operation was accomplished in just eight days. The Chinese troops were picked up by Air Transport Command planes in China and landed at the troop carrier field where they were entirely refitted, armed, and flown to a staging area in the Hukawng from where they entered the battle for Myitkyina.

Only by air supply was the Burma campaign at all possible. The jungle covered ridges between India and Burma have effectively resisted the advance of civilizations. They are inhabited by mountain tribes of Kachins, Chins, and the headhunting Nagas. Before United States Engineers accomplished the Herculean job of driving the Ledo Road, now known as the Stilwell Road, across the mountains and through the jungles, a road from the Brahmaputra to the Irrawaddy Valley was considered an impossibility.

Stilwell's Job One of War's Hardest

The mission that the Joint Chiefs of Staff had given General Stilwell in Asia was one of the most difficult of the war. He was out at the end of the thinnest supply line of all; the demands of the war in Europe and the Pacific campaign, which were clearly the most vital to final victory, exceeded our resources in many items of materiel and equipment and all but absorbed everything else we had. General Stilwell could have only what was left and that was extremely thin. He had a most difficult physical problem of great distances, almost impassable terrain, widespread disease and unfavorable climate; he faced an extremely difficult political problem and his purely military problem of opposing large numbers of enemy with few resources was unmatched in any theater.

Nevertheless General Stilwell sought with amazing vigor to carry out his mission exactly as it had been stated. His great efforts brought a natural conflict of personalities. He stood, as it were, the middleman between two great governments other than his own, with slender resources and problems somewhat overwhelming in their complexity. As a consequence it was deemed necessary in the fall of 1944 to relieve General Stilwell of the burden of his heavy responsibilities in Asia and give him a respite from attempting the impossible.

At the same time it became obvious the mission of reestablishing communications with China would be accomplished, and as the future objectives of the forces in Southeast Asia and China were to grow continually more divergent, it appeared advisable to make a clear division of the two theaters. Accordingly, the American administrative area of China-Burma-India was separated into the India-Burma and the China theaters. Lt. Gen. Daniel I. Sultan, who had been General Stilwell's deputy, was given command of the India-Burma theater. Maj. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer, formerly Chief of the War Department Strategical Planners and later a member of Admiral Mountbatten's staff, was appointed commander of our forces in China, succeeding General Stilwell as the Generalissimo's Chief of Staff.

New Assignment for Stilwell

No American officer had demonstrated more clearly his knowledge of the strength and weakness of the Japanese forces than General Stilwell and the steps necessary to defeat them in Asia. He was brought back to the United States to reorient the training of the Army Ground Forces for the war against Japan. Then after the death of General Buckner on Okinawa he was returned to the field to command the U. S. Tenth Army.

The Burma campaign continued with intensity during the monsoon season of 1944. Chinese, American, and British troops were then disposed along the Chindwin River north of Kalewa and from the upper Irrawaddy to Lungling. It was planned to drive southward through Central Burma to Mandalay, and Admiral Mountbatten prepared for operation DRACULA to seize Rangoon amphibiously from the south. At the close of the monsoon, Chinese, American, and British troops under the immediate command of General Sultan advanced southward astride the Irrawaddy, captured Shwegu in early November, and by December had cleared the projected trace of the supply road to Bhamo.

The Japanese in Burma had never recovered from General Stilwell's thrusts and from the losses inflicted by British and Indian forces on their 15th, 31st, and 33d Divisions in their abortive effort to sever the Bengal-Assam Railroad. As fast as the combat forces moved ahead, United States Engineers, commanded by Brig. Gen. Lewis A. Pick, shoved the road forward behind them, operating their bulldozers so far forward that they were frequently under fire. On 28 January 1945 a convoy of American trucks and materiel from India crossed the Burma-China frontier. The Stilwell Road was open.

Oklahoma Vet Given Gift From Friends

ARDMORE, Okla., Dec. 17. (U.P.)—Success was assured today for the personal reconversion program of Sgt. Elmer Morriss, Oklahoma's worst disabled soldier of World War II.

More than 1,000 persons crowded into the Civic auditorium here yesterday to witness formal presentation of a gift of $31,003.81 to Morriss and his pretty young wife.

The money was raised by donations received by the soldier's friends, the Fort Worth, Tex., Star-Telegram, the Daily Oklahoman of Oklahoma City, the Daily Ardmoreite of Ardmore, the Woodward, Okla., Daily Press and other newspaper and institutions.

Morriss was hit by an 88 mm shell in the battle of the bulge in Belgium last Dec. 29. He miraculously escaped death, losing both legs, one arm, one eye, and part of his other hand.

He says he always dreamed of having his own farm. Now he will be able to have it—and a sizeable sum left over to meet the financial needs of the future.

"Buy A Victory Bond TODAY."

Looking At Life ------ By Erich Brandeis

JAMES A. FARLEY, former Postmaster General, astute politicians and one of the nicest fellows you ever want to meet, made a statement recently on which I would like to have some enlightenment from him.

In an address before a men's club he said:

"Although most of the troubles abroad are not our troubles, this nation can't get away from its responsibilities. They can't settle their differences among themselves, there are too many hatreds there, hatreds which have come down through the centuries.

"We'll have to give real leadership for some time to come."

A fine sentiment, Mr. Farley, but let us consider for a moment just how we are qualified to act as leaders for the rest of the world and to help other nations to eliminate their hatreds.

BRANDEIS

You read your newspapers, don't you Mr. Farley.

How can we give leadership to others when we have no leadership at home?

Where are the leaders who will do away with work stoppages and strikes, who will provide housing for our returned servicemen and give them jobs?

Where are the leaders who will get us back into production and give us the thousand things that we need and cannot get?

Where are the leaders who will do away with race and religious hatreds, with constant bickerings between capital and labor, with crime and poverty and greed?

• • •

You talk about hatreds in Europe. There are more hatreds of all kinds right here at home than there have ever been in the history of our country.

Leadership, Mr. Farley, is not talk, it is action.

Leadership requires not just a big vocabulary and a good platform personality, but courage, conviction, faith, strength and intelligence.

• • •

AMERICAN leadership at present is at its lowest ebb.

I don't see a single person in our business, professional, religious or political life who has the requirements of leadership such as Lincoln and Jefferson possessed in such rich measure.

Pussyfooting, hedging, hesitating and rationalizing—that is today's way of handling important questions. Fear seems to sit in the saddle and mediocrity is rampant in Washington.

I fully agree with you, Mr. Farley, that American should be the leader of the world.

But no one can be a leader who cannot first lead himself.

The "Atomic Senator"

Brien McMahon Stymies The West

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

THE POSTWAR plan for decentralizing the factories of American industry has bumped into a serious obstacle in the bulky figure of Brien F. McMahon, the senior senator from the heavily industrialized State of Connecticut. Although a comarative newcomer to the upper chamber, the former assistant Attorney General has maneuvered himself into a strategic position in several ways.

Headed by Sen. Pat McCarran of Nevada, a group of western legislators sponsored the inquiry into this problem at the last session. In their opinion, their hearings disclosed that eastern-minded individuals in the War Production Board and the Reconstruction Finance corporation had tried to thwart the growth of great manufacturing centers in the Far West and on the Pacific Coast.

TUCKER

It was largely because of the late President Roosevelt's sympathy for and support of Henry Kaiser and Andrew Jackson Higgins, to name only two, that WPB and RFC were forced to advance funds to western and southern industrialists.

The war's demands also necessitated the expansion into new territory. With Mr. Rooseveit no longer in power, the drive for even more extensive redistribution of steel, magnesium, aluminum and shipyard plants has lost steam.

• • •

BLOCKED: The McCarran group felt that they had only scratched the surface in their preliminary examiniation, and the senator from Nevada reintroduced a demand for a further inquiry when the authority of the original investigation expired on January 1, 1945. Meanwhile, McMahon arrived on the scene after his election to the Senate in 1944.

In the midst of that campaign a preliminary McCarran committee report recommended that factories in the East be "frozen" at the close of the conflict, and that the West and South be given a seat at the industrial feast. Eastern editors, rade groups and politicos denounced the proposal, and nowhere were they more irritated than throughout New England.

McMahon grabbed the issue and pledged that he would look after his section's interests if he were elected. He carried out that promise by becoming a member of the Interstate Commerce committee and of the McCarran inquiry itself.

Next he got himself made chairman of the Interstate Commerce subcommittee supposed to hold hearings to decide whether the would-be decentralizers should be allowed to continue with their investigation. He has successfully blocked a further survey in that capacity, although a petition signed by 49 colleagues from the West and South have asked him to act favorably and affirmatively.

• • •

ASTUTENESS: Senator McMahon believes that he has sufficient reasons for his delay. Over considerable opposition he obtained the chairmanship of the Senate committee charged with devising a program for the handling of the atomic bomb. He replies to complainants that this assignment is more important than decentralization, and that he hasn't the time to call his subcommittee into session.

His opponents admire his astuteness and maneuvering. "Atomic Brien," as they characterize him, new seeks to lock up this source of energy for the very reason that it has been cited as a factor — indeed, a necessity — for transferring American factories from coastal areas to the more remote interior and West.

Meanwhile, delay operates in favor of the enemies of the project. Besides arousing the industrial and financial interests which want no disturbance of the manufacturing map, they have started to stir up the labor unions on the plea that workingmen's homes and lives would be disrupted if plants were shifted westward and southward.

It was significant that the senatorial petition urging McMahon to get busy was signed by only two Eastern members—Senators Tydings and Radcliffe of Maryland.

• • •

FILIBUSTER: Oddly enough, the Western faction anticipated success for their enterprise with the advent of a Missourian to the White House. But Mr. Truman has been so occupied with foreign problems that he has had hardly any opportunity to consider this matter. And there is the suspicion among some of his former colleagues on Capitol Hill that he does not want to provoke capital and labor unnecessarily at this particular moment in the reconversion process.

But unless the McCarran group can get action before the return to peacetime conditions has progressed too far, they fear that their cause will be difficult, if not hopeless. And they charge that "Atomic Brien" is running a one-man filibuster against them.

• • •

JOINING: Returning veterans exhibit no prejudice against labor unions, according to organizers for the three great workingmen's organizations — the American Federation of Labor, the Congress of Industrial Organizations and the United Mine Workers. Their attitude has been a pleasant surprise to William Green, Philip Murray and especially to John L. Lewis.

The reports of strikes that handicapped the war effort, together with the word that workingmen were making tremendous wages while they fought for $50 a month, were supposed to have alienated the boys overseas. Labor leaders charged that Washington politicians deliberately sought to prejudice the soldiers against groups unpopular at the White House, especially the UMW chieftain.

But the war has apparently taught the youngsters that they must "organize" to obtain their objectives. They are joining the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars as well as unions. And, since most of them are unskilled workers, they are finding that they must start to work at fairly modest pay in the service trades or in manufacturing.

TF RUTS could be worn into concrete by constant walking over the same spot, Fort Worth Traffic Officer C. G. Dewes would have accomplished that little phenomenom.

For six days a week since April, 1940, he has patrolled one corner in the downtown business area. No other traffic officer here in recent years has held the same beat for so long, said Police Lt. Bob Buckman. Most officers are transferred to various beats, Buckman explained.

Dewes begins his patrolling at 10 each morning and hangs up his patrol stick at the police station at 6 p. m. Boredom on the job never exists as Dewes greets numerous friends constantly during the day as they hurry up and down streets.

Pedestrians give Dewes the most trouble. "What can you do?" he complained. "They step right off the corner with a yellow light and are worse than motorists about jumping lights — and motorists are bad enough. I either let them go or give them a ticket if they prove repeated offenders," Dewes said.

DOWN ON the banks of Goose Creek lives a true to life "Pistol Packin' Mama."

While her husband was working the night trick at the Baytown refinery, Mrs. E. M. Clark heard her chickens squawking.

She turned on a 20-watt porch light and saw a gray fox looking at her, 75 feet away.

She shot one time with a .22 calibre pistol, right through the fox's right eye.

"Oh, yes, I've practiced some with a pistol," Mrs. Clark, mother of a year-old daughter, said. "I used to knock the clothes pins off my mother's clothes line when we lived at LaWard, an Humble production camp near Victoria."

Mrs. Clark said she is going to teach her daughter, Mary Lee, how to shoot.

We'd rather not believe the world is going to the dogs. That's something that shouldn't happen to a dog.

At the college sophomore age it's difficult to tell a budding genius from a blooming fool.

Market Boom Cause For Worry

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON — Occasionally a once familiar institution of our national life of other days, long forgotten, bobs up to stir memories and cause reflection.

STOKES

A reporter asked President Truman the other day at a press conference if he had given any thought to the inflationary possibilities in the stock market.

Stock market?

The president said he hadn't looked into the stock market. Had too many other things to worry about. He'd never been active in the stock market himself. Thus he dismissed it.

Most of the reporters who stood about his desk hadn't given the stock market a thought, either. There have been too many other things, the war for so long, and now all the worries about getting back to work at peace. We'd frankly forgotten the stock market as a problem, as a part of our national life.

But there were some who stood before the President who could remember when Washington was very conscious of the stock market. It was front page news then, instead of being buried back on the financial pages in those technical articles and peculiar jargon that somebody undoubtedly understands, for the papers keep on printing them.

• • •

Remember Other Days

Some of us could remember standing before another President—18 and 20 years ago—and listening to him as he gave encouragement, in the cold, precise way characteristic of Calvin Coolidge, to the speculation going on then in the New York stock market. It was all a part of something called "prosperity," deified by capital letters.

We reporters of that day duly recorded the words of the man in the White House and then we'd go across the street to the Treasury and listen to another oracle of that day, the wisp of a financial giant by the name of Andrew W. Mellon. He was urging "prosperity" along, too, in his quiet, halting way, speaking in parables that the boys on "the street" understood as he twisted in his thin fingers those fine, black, hand-made cheroots to which he was addicted.

• • •

IT didn't mean a lot in the life of our kind, shaggy-headed young men, drawn of face, smoking too many cigarets and drinking too much black coffee, cynical outwardly but knowing too little to be intelligently cynical inwardly. At least I speak for myself, and probably a few others.

Lots of folks were sucked up into the merry whirl that we all helped to create here in Washington. Everybody was going to get rich in a hurry. Then one day it all blew up, and there was hell to pay, and a lot of wise and fancy brains here were wrinkled up trying to find some way out of it.

• • •

Curbs Set Up

The first thing that the successors of the prosperity boys did—those fellows we called New Dealers—was to poke around and find out what had happened. It was not so pretty. Then they got Congress to pass some laws to regulate the stock market business. And we promptly forgot the stock market.

Here it is back again.

And while President Truman tossed it aside lightly, it is beginning to worry some people here in Washington, including the Federal Reserve board. They don't want it to get out of hand.

The current stock market activity is not comparable to that of the late twenties. That was credit speculation. This is a cash market largely. There is lots of ready cash around. The use of credit is restricted by Federal Reserve regulations requiring 75 per cent margin.

• • •

THE brokers, who have been waiting around through the lean years for just such a flash situation as exists now, are kicking at the credit restrictions. But the credit curbs have large public support, as shown by letters to the board.

The concern is that stock market speculation might go to the point where it contributed in inflationary tendencies, also present in other directions. For that reason Federal Reserve officials are keeping a watchful eye on it. It certainly is part of the general picture.

We don't want to whoop ourselves up again into what we had in the twenties.

Three Dead As Cars Crash Near Gallup

GALLUP, N. M., Dec. 17. (U.P.)—Death toll in a week-end head-on automobile crash near the New Mexico-Arizona border had risen to three today with the death of Mrs. Betty Stein, 35, Topeka, Kansas.

Two servicemen, Seaman First Class Alfred Rishell, 19, Fort Blanchard, Pa., and Private Floyd Francis Miller, Hamilton, Ohio, died from injuries suffered in the crash shortly after being brought to the hospital here Saturday.

Described by hospital attendants as being in a critical condition were Thomas Dawber, 68, West Warwick, R. I.; Ralph B. Stein, husband of the dead woman; Seaman Second Class Calvin W. Taylor, 19, Troy, W. Va., and S. Joseph DePhilippo, 24, Philadelphia.

Drivers of the two cars, which crashed on the slippery pavement five miles west of Lupton, Ariz., on Highway 66, were Stein and Dawber. Both vehicles were completely demolished.

ALTERCATION FATAL

DALLAS, Dec. 17 (AP)—Era Bauer, 42, died in a hospital today from a fractured skull received in an altercation near a domino parlor, and a charge of assault to murder is on file against James Calvert Ferguson, 47.

Christmas Party, Dinner Are Given

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Vickers were hosts to Tech Art Institute Saturday night in their home on the Plainview highway. One hundred guests attended.

Mrs. Roscoe Wilson registered guests and Mesdames Claud Keeton, W. O. Stevens, W. A. Bacon, Chester A. Hubbard and John Daly were on the arrangements committee.

Mrs. R. G. Porter was chairman of the musical program and Mesdames J. O. Cade, Douglas Witt and J. C. Allensworth were other members of the house party.

The program included "The Birth of a Carol," told by Mrs. F. A. Kleinschmidt, with accordion accompaniment played by Mrs. E. G. Wylie; Mrs. James Vickers played "Fire Dance" and "Lullaby" (Chopin) and Mrs. Jane McDonald read Van Dyke's "The Other Wise Man." Mrs. Elois Elliott led group singing of carols.

Robert I. Lockard, at Santa, announced his packages included a folder of 20 wood engravings the institute has bought for enjoyment of the community.

• • •

Altrusa club members attended an annual Christmas dinner at 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon in the Chimayo room of the Hilton hotel.

Mrs. George Marie Alford sang "O Holy Night," accompanied by Mrs. Bernice Carnahan and Miss Morrine George read "On Christmas Day in the Morning" by Grce S. Richmond.

Mrs. Grace Morris directed singing of carols and there was a gift erchange.

Misa Jo Pazdral was a guest. Members present, other than those already named, were Mesdames Allie M. Dyer, Bob Hampton, Teressa Gegg, Jessie Byers, Gladys Holden, Gladys Stokes, Vera Chapman and Fay Westmoreland, Misses Effie Puryear, Esther Sorensen, Opal Wood, Clara Pratt and Dr. Pauline Miller.

Miss Grace Durham To Wed Lieutenant

The engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Grace Durham and Lt. Carl Hittle of Hartman, Colo., was announced Sunday afternoon when Mrs. Edna Swift and Miss Sannie Callan entertained in their home.

Christmas decorations were used in room an dtable appointments. Mrs. Lucy Bibb poured tea.

The marriage is to take place Saturday in Fort Collins, Colo. Miss Durham is assistant professor in the Tech home economics division. Lt. Hittle is stationed at Fort Jackson, S. C.

Miss Frances Priebe Marries In Arkansas

Miss Frances Priebe of Magnolia, Ark., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy C. Priebe of Wink, and Wilmer, A. Lewis, son of Mrs. Henry Lewis of Atlanta, Ark., were married at the First Methodist church in Magnolia Dec. 13. Rev. L. M. Sarkey, pastor read a double ring ceremony.

Baskets of huckleberry and white gladioli decorated the altar. The tapers were lighted by Misses Juanita Lewis and Bernadean Priebe, sisters of the couple.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a rose wool suit with black accessories. She carried a white Bible, topped with an orchid.

Sister Is Attendant

Miss Helen Priebe, who attended her sister as maid of honor, wore a green wool suit with a corsage of Talisman roses. Sam Bass, jr., was best man.

The bride is a former student at Texas Technological college, and a graduate of Scarritt college, Nashville, Tenn. She is a rural worker for the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist church.

The bridegroom is a former student of Arkansas A. and M. college, Magnolia.

The couple is at home in Atlanta, Ark., where Mr. Lewis is employed.

Fireworks Blast Damages Store

A bang-up, shoot-the-works $300 pre-Christmas pyrotechnic celebration that was as sudden as it was unscheduled Monday afternoon broke plate windows, set fire to the awning and sent customers and employes scurrying from Mark Halsey No. 3 drugstore, at Sixteenth and Texas.

What happened, according to a symposium of firemen, police and store officials, was this:

Joe Dick Ison, 16, of 2102 Ave. O, who was selling fireworks from a stand outside the southeast corner of the building was waiting on a customer and flares began to go off—"and I took off!"

Flares Burn Quickly

"Army flares" that burn quickly generated intense heat that broke three plateglass windows and caused fire that spread to approximately 15 feet of the awning on the east side, destroyed merchandise in one display window, set off more crackers and other explosives and quickly filled the drugstore with smoke.

Store employes ran out and began moving automobiles of customers from the adjacent curbs, and Manager B. J. "Shortly" Boyd, who recently came here from O'Donnell, and Cpl. W. C. Reynolds, home on 75-day recuperation leave after precisely six months on Guam under the command of Gen. Carl Spaatz of the Army Air forces and who expects to be discharged about Feb. 1 at Santa Anna before resuming divided duties in supervising the No. 3 and No. 4 Mark Halsey stores, began opening windows under smoke conditions that, at best, "were pretty thick."

Room To Maneuver

Mrs. Jessie Holt, cashier, was closest store employe to the blast—except for Isom, who concededly had more room to maneuver—and took it.

Reynolds, informed that a carelessly-tossed cigaret probably had set off the initial blast, said a partial estimate of damage would include approximately $170 in money. The fireworks stock lost amounted to approximately $300, it was estimated.

"Isom had last reported having about $135 in greenbacks in his possession as receipts," he said, "and he had a quantity of silver."

Some of Silver "Scattered"

Some of the silver was "scattered."

In addition to other damage, ceiling areas in the store were blackened.

The flames and smoke were "sucked" into the building because of the agency of the awning, firemen and store officials said.

"Not a scratch" was suffered by anyone, a late check revealed.

PRICES DROP SHARPLY

NEW YORK, Dec. 17 (AP)—Heavy cashing of profits pulled the props from under the stock market today and leaders dropped 1 to 7 points in the sharpest setback for nearly two years.

Brokers generally attributed the tumble partly to "tipsters" who predicted a relapse and to the simultaneous move of speculators to realize gains under the 25 per cent capital tax law on the idea this impost might be boosted or holding terms lengthened in 1946 as a step against inflation. "Thinness" of many issues contributed to individual weakness. Labor stalemates and belief the bull swing, now in its fourth year, was due for a serious technical correction, inspired much of the liquidation. Steels, motors, rails, aircrafts and specialties led the retreat.

While assorted issues closed a shade above their lows, many finished at bottom figures. Transfers of 1,990,000 shares were the largest since last Monday and compared with 1,130,000 Friday.

The Associated Press 60-stock composite was off 1.8 points, widest downturn since April 9, 1943. Of 985 issues registering, 840 declined, 77 advanced and 68 were unchanged.

Conspicuous losers included Eastern Air Lines, off 7, Douglas Aircraft and Chrysler 3¼ each, Southern Railway 3¼, American Telephone, International Harvester and Northern Pacific 3 each. Yielders of 1 to 2 or so were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, General Motors, Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, Great Northern, Schenley, Radio Corp., Kennecott, Anaconda, Du Pont, Montgomery Ward, U. S. Rubber, Boeing, United Aircraft, Consolidated Edison and Electric Power and Light.

Bonds generally followed stocks.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Dec. 17 (AP)—The cotton market suffered a reaction today on hedge, commission houses and New Orleans selling. With the securities markets lower and recent sharp advances in cotton carrying prices almost a cent a pound above the government selling price for the staple traders were generally in a profit taking mood. There was considerable switching from near to the later months, a good part of it of a year end character.

Futures closed 60 cents to $1.05 a bale lower.

AVERAGE PRICE

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 17 (AP)—The average price of middling 15-16ths-inch cotton today at ten designated southern spot markets was 75 cents a bale lower at 24.52 cents a pound; average for the past 30 market days 24.16; middling ⅞ths-inch average 22.97.

COUPLE DIE IN FIRE

DALLAS, Dec. 17 (AP)—Jeff F. Griswold, 62, and his wife, Emily, 66, were burned to death early today when flames spreading from the explosion of a faulty kerosene cook stove, destroyed their four-room rented cottage.

Treaties Would Hold Free Press Clause

TOKIO, Dec. 17. (AP)—General MacArthur recommended today the inclusion in all United States treaties of a clause guaranteeing "a reciprocal free press and open communications facilities."

The supreme commander made his suggestion in a letter to Wilbur Forrest, vice-president of the American Society of Newspaper Editors, in which he declared:

"There can be no greater guarantee of a peaceful world than an international free press."

Discussing the Japanese press, MacArthur said:

"Now that the feters of feudalism are unleashed" a press which "will freely and adequately mirror the aspirations of the Japanese people will be created."

Man, Wife Burned To Death In Dallas Fire

DALLAS, Dec. 17. (AP)—Jeff Griswold, 63, and his wife, Emily, 65, were burned to death early today in a fire which destroyed their home. Fire Marshal B. C. Hilton said the blaze was caused by the explosion of an oil cook stove. The bodies were sent to Corsicana for burial.

Majority Of Voters Opposed To Prohibition, Gallup Poll Shows

By GEORGE GALLUP DIRECTOR American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., Dec. 17 — Although a considerable portion of the United States has voted "dry" under local option laws since national prohibition was repealed more than 10 years ago, public sentiment today remains two to one against any return to nation-wide prohibition.

Sentiment on the question of national prohibition has been periodically tested since 1936 by the American Institute of Public Opinion.

GALLUP

The question, asked of a carefully selected cross-section of voters throughout the entire nation:

"If the question of national prohibition should come up again, would you vote wet or dry?"

The replies:

Wet	67%
Dry	33

About five in every one hundred among those questioned had no opinion to offer.

In other words, if a nation-wide referendum were to be held today on the issue, the vote would be approximately two to one against a return to national prohibition.

It will be remembered that in 1933 the results of the official referenda showed 30 per cent of all voters voting dry, 70 per cent voting wet.

The table below charts the trend of public thinking on the question of national prohibition since 1936, when the Institute first began testing opinion on this issue. Today's results show a slight increase in wet sentiment as compared to November 1944:

	Dry	Wet
1933 Official Referenda	30%	70%
1936	33	67
1938	36	64
1940	32	68
1942	36	64
1943	34	66
1944	37	63
Today	33	67

Abstainers

After people had registered their vote on the prohibition question, they were asked:

"Do you ever have occasion to use any alcholoic beverages such as liquor, wine or beer, or are you a total abstainer?"

Highlights of results on this question reveal these facts:

One out of every three (33 per cent) are total abtainers.

Fifteen people in every one hundred (15 per cent) say they drink only wine or beer.

Fifty-one per cent—five out of ten — say that on occasion they drink any alcoholic beverage, including wine, beer or liquor.

Drinking falls off sharply among men when they reach 50 years of age, the survey finds. Only two of ten are non-drinkers among men up to 50. After that about one out of three is a total abstainer.

More women than men are non-drinkers, the survey finds, with 25 per cent among men reporting themselves as non-drinkers, compared with 41 per cent among women. Fifty-seven per cent among the women over 50 years of age are non-drinkers.

In farm areas, total abstainers number better than five out of ten; whereas in cities barely two out of ten say they do not drink.

GARRISON APPOINTED

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17 (U.P.) — The supreme court today appointed Lloyd K. Garrison, former member of the War Labor board, as special master in Georgia's freight-rate suit against 20 railroads.

Electric service is available to almost half of the farms in Colorado.

Eclipse Of Moon To Be Visible Tuesday

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17, (U.P.) — Barring interfering cloud formations, you can watch the moon turn from silver to coppery red tomorrow night in the first total eclipse visible in this country since Aug. 26, 1942.

The preliminary phases of the lunar eclipse will start at 5:38 p.m. CST. The period of totality will begin at 7:40 p.m., CST and will last until 9 p.m., according to the Naval observatory.

During the period of totality the moon will be in the earth's shadow, accounting for the apparent change in color.
