SOURCE OF IRRIGATION WATER

Recent rains have filled a lake on the Lewis Allred farm and backed the water under the railroad bridge and highway bridge and made a sizeable lake on the Bob Glenn land south of the road. The picture above was taken on the railroad bridge looking south. Mr. Allred plans to use the water for irrigation and also intends to stock the lake with fish. —Graves photo.

Commissioners Reinstate Three Services Sought by the People

The Commissioners Court in a meeting Monday, May 13, reinstated the extension service offices and the Veterans service office for Collingsworth County for the remainder of 1957.

The move came in the late afternoon, after the group had discussed the subject several times and had met with a delegation requesting that the extension service offices be kept.

Earlier in the day the court voted to reinstate the deputy sheriff.

The delegation of approximately 40 people, with Henry Sullivan as their spokesman, had put their need for the services, especially that of county agent, before the court in temperate but firm manner. They emphasized the monetary value the county will derive from the services, especially from the anticipated need of bug control resulting from heavy rainfall.

The motion for reinstatement of the services was made by Alfred Knoll and seconded by Jack Brewer. These two voted for the measure; Pat O'Hair against; and Cortez Barnett did not vote. The order is effective as of May 1, at the same salaries as last year. A motion earlier in the afternoon by Brewer had died for lack of a second.

The court also voted to try to issue $32,000 in time warrants for road and bridge purposes.

Not mentioned in the court records, because no action was taken, but receiving considerable discussion by the commissioners was the heavy damage to roads and bridges from the rains, and the expense that will result.

(The 30c ad valorem tax approved recently is not legal until the county tax rate is set in August, and money from it will not be available until tax payments begin coming in this fall.)

C. T. Hubbard of the Wellington State Bank, requested from the group a court order supporting the fact that the county will operate as a unit this year, especially as to precincts. This refers to the agreements among the commissioners that if one precinct runs out of money, the others will help out, which was approved by the finance committee. Hubbard pointed

Extension Date On Excess Wheat Now Available

Wheat farmers who have wheat acreage in excess of the allotment, or growing on the wheat acreage reserve land, and did not get this acreage destroyed by May 10, should immediately request of the county committee an extension of time to May 20, for disposing of it. The ASC State Committee has authorized the county committee to grant extension in justifiable cases (where they were hindered because of adverse weather).

As soon as the excess is destroyed, the ASC Office should be notified so a reporter can revisit the farm to recheck the acreage.

Farmers who have wheat acreage reserve agreements are reminded that they will not be permitted to harvest more acreage than that shown in item "F" of the agreement and item 4 of the

"Most Important Road Is Your Road"—Formby

After 50 Years Of Sandy Roads, Two Communities Get FM Highway

People of Lillie and Salt Fork communities, some of them old timers who have pulled the sandy roads for 50 years, joined former residents and visitors from throughout the area Monday evening, May 13, to celebrate the completion of a hard surfaced Farm-to-Market road into their section, and to hear Marshall Formby, Plainview, member of the Texas Highway Commission.

Approximately 500 ate the barbecue supper, at Lillie Baptist Church, provided by residents of those two communities. Over and over during the evening, the whole purpose of the celebration was told in answer to praises of the event: "We wanted to express our appreciation for the road."

Formby, introduced by Judge Luther Gribble, brought greetings from other members of the Texas Highway Commission.

Mr. Thornton, who will retire soon; Brady Gentry, Tyler, the incoming member; J. C. Petry, Jr. of Carrizo Springs, and from D. C. Greer, state highway engineer.

"Farm to Market roads have brought people out of the mud and out of the sand. They have brought people closer to town and they have helped to develop the rural areas as they have never been developed before," Formby said after recalling his own boyhood, in which he knew the muddy and impassable roads.

He pointed out that Texas has approximately 52,300 miles of paved roads — but a state that is one-eleventh of the whole country should have lots of paved roads. About 29,000 miles of this is farm-to-market roads.

"We think the farm-to-market program is one of the best things that ever happened to Texas," he declared, speaking for the Highway Commission.

"The 16 miles of paved roads in this project, costing nearly $220,000 to build, was paid for with your money, money you paid as gasoline tax," Formby told the group.

Turning to the state picture, the commission member said that four years ago, Texans owned three and a half million cars, now they own four and a quarter million, and travel almost a hundred million miles a day. "Texans are the go-in people in the world if they can get in a car," he commented.

Tourist trade has become an important industry, he reminded. Nine million people live in Texas, and in 1956, nine million tourists visited Texas.

"Your own highway 83, which is the longest highway in Texas, brings in lots of trade and lots of tourists," he said.

Speaking of Highway 83 before the program started, Formby said that the traffic count on this highway is increasing all along, and he did not doubt that it will one day be high enough, along part of the route at least, for a four-lane highway.

County Judge R. L. Templeton and commissioners Jack Brewer and Pat O'Hair, in whose precincts the road lies, spoke briefly, and Palmer Massey, district highway engineer, Clyde Drake, resident engineer for the Highway Department, and members of the staff were introduced.

Entertainment was by groups from the music department of Quail school, directed by Mrs. Lowell Wells, Herman Moseley, superintendent of schools, was master of ceremonies, and remarked that the school already is benefiting from the road in its savings on bus repairs.

The Rev. Virgil Smith, pastor of Lillie Baptist Church, welcomed the group on behalf of the church.

Wheat Growers Vote on Quotas On June 20th

June 20 has been set as the date on which wheat growers in Collingsworth County will vote "yes" or "no" on the 1957-crop wheat marketing quotas, recently proclaimed by Secretary Benson, according to Travis C. McGuire, chairman of the County Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Committee. The Collingsworth County ASC office will, as usual, set up polling places throughout the county for farmers' convenience in voting.

Mr. McGuire pointed out that the recent marketing quota announcement marks the fifth successive year in which wheat quotas have been proclaimed. The proclamation of quotas must be made — in compliance with the law — when the wheat supply is 20 percent or more above normal. This year's supply is 56 per cent above normal.

Chairman McGuire emphasized that at least two-thirds of the producers voting in the referendum must approve quotas before they can be put in effect. He also stated that individual farm quotas generally will be the actual production from the farm's wheat acreage allotment.

Should quotas be approved, Mr. McGuire explains, Collingsworth county wheat growers who comply with their allotments will be eligible for price support on their entire production. Wheat growers who exceed their farm acreage allotments will be subject to marketing quota penalties on their excess wheat if they have more than 15 acres of wheat for harvest. The penalty will be 45 per cent of the May 1, 1958 parity price. Growers who knowingly exceed their allotments will also be ineligible for price support.

If quotas are not approved, there will be no restrictions on wheat

New construction will be a 60 by 100 foot tabernacle and a 40 by 40 foot shallow swimming pool for non-swimmers.

The work is due to be completed by July 4, when First Baptist Church, Wellington, will have an all-family encampment.

Money for the building project has been contributed over a long period, and the remainder of the financing is by sale of bonds in the Palo Duro, Panhandle and North Fork Baptist Association. These bonds bear 5 per cent interest, payable semi-annually.

AMMO-PHOS

is water soluble...

Experiments prove that crops take up more phosphate from water soluble Ammo-Phos fertilizer than from common mixed fertilizer.

MAKE THIS EASY TEST

Place one-half teaspoonful of the fertilizer you are now using in a glass of water. Then place a similar quantity of Ammo-Phos in another glass of water. Stir both mixtures for several minutes. Notice how water soluble Ammo-Phos goes into solution while the mixed fertilizer collects at the bottom of the glass. Even if left for several days, the ordinary mixed fertilizer will not dissolve completely.

With Ammo-Phos your crop gets what you put in the ground.

CROSSROADS

REPORT

Dear Editor:
I see where the internal revenue scroungers didn't let their shirt tails hit them until they got their hands on $23,000 of Sugar Ray's fight purse.

Which does not actually show any more rampant acquisitiveness than their other habit of ambushing pay checks and knocking down on same before the citizens who do the work ever see them.

Which my all's-for-the-best neighbor says is a good thing. This way we don't get acquainted with that part of our money and learn to love it before they take it away.

I see where a Prof. Cohen says that property is going to be completely abolished in ten years.

I want to warn the Prof that if he aims to get rid of my personal poverty along with everybody else's he is going to have to open up a new can of technique.

On account of I have already tried all of the standard methods of poverty abolition except bank robbing and work, and none of them has made any perceptible dent in my destitution.

I note that Senator McCarthy has passed on, and there was poorly concealed glee in some of the pious comments on this event.

Practically everybody claimed to go along with the Senator's motives in fighting Communism, but some bewailed the way he went about it.

Which reminds my bull-headed neighbor that in his long and screwballish life he has not heard very many non-hit dogs complain about the methods used in rock throwing.

I note that people are still harping on the letter which Pres. Ike wrote back several years ago wherein he came out strong against federal aid to schools.

We have discussed this matter locally and come to the conclusion that it is unsportsmanlike in a changing world like ours to hold a man accountable for something he said five or six years ago.

Like my dry goods store running neighbor is still bothering me about a rash 1950 model promise I made to him about paying for some pants.

I see where many of the people who get paid to comment on vital public affairs in your paper are seemingly out of touch with the work-to-eat level of citizenry and spend much of their time writing about prosperity.

I ran a poll at coffee today and found only 50 per cent of the people interviewed around here will admit to being in a prosperous condition.

The other 50 per cent said his wife is busy bringing up the kids and until she gets back on a pay roll he won't get to enjoy any of this modern type of abundance.

I note that Secretary of Defense Wilson is now disgusted with citizens squawking about the size of the Federal budget.

Which shows that he is thoroughly infected with political hot flashes which get to ailing many cabinet members, presidents, congressmen, county commissioners, etc., after they have been in office for a while.

We are kind of tired of the old plot, where the Big Bad Bureaucrats ask for more money than they expect to get, and Hero Congress gets credit for beating them down to what they wanted in the first place.

We figure they could get some unemployed script writer for the TV wrestling matches, and he could maybe work in a little suspense in the Budget Show.

Initial Plans Laid for Band Festival in 1958

First plans for a band festival for Wellington in March 1958 have been laid, with the Chamber of Commerce voting Thursday, May 2, to sponsor the event.

Doyle McElroy, director of the band music for Wellington high school, met with the board of directors and discussed the project with them.

These events are now held in towns throughout the area, most of them larger than Wellington, and draw hundreds of students for the event.

Heading the band festival committee for the C-C is Dr. J. M. Orr, and members are McElroy, Bennett Goodloe and N. M. Higdon.

Now is the time to start training the dog to stay off porch furniture that he's become accustomed to sleeping on all because you neglected to take it into the house last fall.

thinking of making money with chickens?...

Fall egg prospects look good

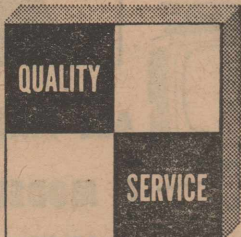

Chick hatch down 21% (Feb. 15 U.S. Government report)... fewer pullets on farms... probably 5-6% fewer chicks will be raised this spring—all point to strong egg prices this fall.

The egg price pendulum is due to swing up again this fall. The substantial drop in chick hatchings, pullets on farms, and flock replacement intentions, should result in better egg prices. This offers real opportunity to the poultry raiser who is ready with sturdy, rugged pullets when prices start up.

HOW TO CUT PULLET-GROWING COSTS
And one way to make more money is to cut costs by cutting feed used in growing pullets. A recent study showed that pullets raised at the Purina Research Farms require 250 pounds less feed per 100 birds than the average in nine leading poultry states. That makes a saving of $8.50 to $12.50 on each 100 pullets raised! You can start right now to make money with Purina's low-cost pullet growing plan. And, right here at the Store with the red-and-white Checkerboard Sign... we can help you start right... and stay right... with the Purina Pullet Program best suited to your particular conditions.

Poultry Health Hint—We recommend that you protect your chicks and young pullets against common disease germs with Purina Disinfectant and Purina Check-R-Tabs. They provide a lot of valuable protection at very little cost.

Rufus Sweat, who carries mail on Route 6, worst in this part of the country in wet weather, has several miles at the east end that has been impassable. He also has more than 80 years of age, who lives alone. It's Rufus' habit to look in on her often. When he couldn't go over that part of the route the other day, he parked his pickup at the end of the pavement at Needwood school and walked the three-mile round trip to make her mail and see if she needed anything else.

Dick Wiley telling this on Oran Starkey and his rattlesnakes. Oran had one in the jar in the back of his pickup and was showing it to a group gathered around. Just as he reached over to pick up the jar, Dick gave him a sharp punch just to see if he would get a reaction. He did.

Zook Thomas adding the comment that the rattlesnakes have moved south of Salt Fork. "It used to be there weren't any south of the River," he says.

At the Lillie Road Opening:

Mrs. G. D. Thomas saying she didn't believe anyone could appreciate the new paved road more than she, for she does the driving for the family and there've been so many times she'd get stuck in the sand and have to walk a mile to get help. . . . Mrs. Tom Crabtree remarking how much talent there is among the young people of Quail if they are given the opportunity. . . . the fascination of watching the FFA talent team, as that pantomime group matches its timing exactly to the songs they appear to be singing. . . . the number of people who remarked at the celebration that "we ought to have

Scattered Leasing Continues in Most Parts of County

Scattered leases in the south, central, western and eastern parts of the county were recorded during the past week, and part of these, taken by A. M. Hunter and Jack Ball, have been transferred to Sunray-Midcontinent Oil Co. This, with the sale of mineral rights in the immediate Samnorwood area made up the oil and gas transactions recorded in the county clerk's office.

R. O. Lister Jr., Shamrock, who recently bought one-half interest in the mineral rights in 2005 acres from J. A. Coleman and Harry Jones in Block 16, this week sold parts of that interest to O. R. Campbell and wife, Bess, of Tulsa, Okla.

these community gatherings more often". . .

A. F. and Kathleen Wischkaemper over from Samnorwood with their boys. They're interested in the road too, for they often drive over it to visit. . . . Carl Wischkaemper helping with the PA system, and Rosetta Wischkaemper serving the cake and pie at the barbecue. . . . Dolly Mae Wilson, who did so much toward the celebration, as calm as if she'd been a visitor enjoying the event.

The pretty, pretty girls who are the Quail Chorus, wrinkling their noses as the sun got in their eyes, and the ripple of laughter through the crowd when they turned "When You and I Were Young Maggie" into a blues song.

Highway Commissioner Marshall Formby remarking as he tackled a big plate of barbecue, the youngsters in the Lillie and Salt Fork communities who drive their cars 90 miles an hour down the new road have fathers who once drove a Model T at what was considered breakneck speed, and grandfathers who raced their horse and buggy as fast as they could run. . . . and he brought along his lovely blonde wife, a North Carolinian by birth but Texan by adoption, and their delightful 18-months-old daughter, Frances. . . . Other speakers who come down here to such affairs could take a note from this.

Charley Caldwell saying that during the wet years the frogs would be so bad at his place you couldn't sleep outside. The other night, he heard the first frogs in several years, and he declares they were rather out of voice.

Part of this land comes up to the town of Samnorwood on the west, lying 13 miles north and 3 west of Wellington; and other acreage is at the northeast corner of Dozier and also about two miles north of Dozier and three miles north and two east of Dozier.

Campbell in turn made these mineral right sales on the same land: 1-8 interest to Home-Stake Oil & Gas Co., Tulsa; 1-8 interest to Home-Stake Royalty Corp., Tulsa; 1-16 interest to J. T. Murdoch; and 1/16 interest to Linda Dale Murdoch Trust. The land involved is: W/2 and NE/4 sec. 25; N-2, sec. 47; W-2 sec 54; E-2 sec 26, (less a 13 acre tract, 2 acre tract, and 17 lots in the Duncan Addition of Samnorwood), all in block 16.

Mineral deeds also were recorded from Lister to Campbell on the S-2, sec 37; SW-4 sec 86; and S-2 of SW-4, sec 52, all in block 16.

Elbert Kesler continued taking leases in the central part of the county, including John R. Henard and wife, Emma, N-2 and SW-4, sec 48, blk 11; and the S-2 of S-2, sec 71, blk 11; S. B. Bowen and wife, E-2 of NW-4, sec 23, blk 15; May Hix, N-2 of NE-4, sec. 23, blk. 15; Sandown Smith and wife, Morie, NW-4, sec. 22, blk 15; John R. Henard and wife, Emma, W-2 sec 33 blk 11; C. G. Little, SW-4, sec 56, blk 15; G. E. Van Pelt, W-2 of E-2 sec 32, blk 11; Arthur Bailey and wife, Clem, Phoenix, Arizona, N-2 and SW-4, also W-2 of the SE-4, sec 49, blk 11; Mary E. Sugg, W-2 sec 37, blk 15, and the N-2, sec 24, block 15, and T. H. McClure and Ethel McClure Bailey—NW-2 sec 11, block 11.

Jack Ball and A. M. Hunter took leases, then assigned them to Sunray Mid-Continent Oil Company.

Mud Hinders But Doesn't Stop Buses Of Norwood School

"If it had rained another half hour, I don't believe we could have had school all this week," Orville Cunningham, Samnorwood superintendent declared good naturedly early this week, adding that the wonderful season the rain had given was the best he had seen here.

The school bus going into Elm Valley was unable to make its route all of last week, and other buses were unable to make their runs in many places.

Parents co-operated, and children walked to meet the buses, came on horseback, or were brought by parents on tractors.

A number of patrons told Cunningham the school buses and tractors were the only vehicles that could get down their roads.

TWO SPEED MOTOR—Controlled Cooling
Full cooling capacity for hot torrid days to a soft caressing whisper for moderate days or late evening is at the user's command with fingertip control of the special two-speed motors on all Esick-built coolers with a "2" following model number. Depending upon temperature conditions, with two-speed motors, the cooling can be varied to suit the personal desires and requirements of the individual user and provides the most modern comfort.
The use of two-speed motors will increase the use of cooling equipment as much as 50%, as there are many days when full capacity of the cooler is not required and, unless the cooler is equipped with a two-speed motor, the cooler is turned off and the users are deprived of many hours of comfort.
Be sure and ask us to show you the advantages of the two-speed motor.

GOLDEN ROCKET 88 HOLIDAY COUPE

"Come on try it... there's nothing like a J2 Rocket!"

Olds Owner: Let me show you. This J-2 Rocket* is like two engines under the hood.
Friend: Neat trick—how does it work?
Olds Owner: It's a new progressive carburetor system: Gives you more economy . . . or extra power for safety. Take your choice.
Friend: Economy sounds swell . . . but with a big car like this . . . ?
Olds Owner: You bet! They engineered the J-2 Rocket Engine for our kind of driving . . . top efficiency at normal driving speeds because it's fueled by one carburetor.
Friend: How about that extra power?

Olds Owner: Give it 3/4 throttle and two extra carburetors cut in. It's mighty reassuring to know you've got that extra power in the bank.
Friend: I get it. Economy when you want it—power when you need it.
Olds Owner: Correct. But talking about it won't give you the whole story. This one you've got to drive. Climb in—let's go.
PERSONAL NOTE: Your Olds dealer would like you to try J-2, too! It's available now on all models, including the Golden Rocket 88, lowest-priced Rocket Engine car. Be his guest for America's newest driving experience.

Housecat Worst Offender, Warden Declares

Favorable Habitat Will Increase Game Supply

"We are not trying to prevent the honest fellow who wants to hunt. We are trying to help him find a place to hunt, but by the same token, we are banded together to prevent the game-hog, that is the game violator, and the person who does not respect the property rights of others, from even coming in," District Game Warden Slim Davis of Shamrock told the Wellington Leader in commenting on the organization of the Samnorwood and Quail game associations in Collingsworth County.

"We have a very reproductive part of the country for Quail when we have the season, but when we don't it's hard on them." Other aims of these associations, and others like them, are to keep better relations between the man on the land and the good sportsman. But predators kill five times as many game birds as do hunters, Davis continued, and the chief offender is the common house cat. "Usually it's somebody who has a litter of kittens he just can't stand to kill, so he puts them in a sack and drops them by the side of the road to look out for themselves," the game warden declared. Other offenders as far as Quail

Junior High Honor Graduates Named by Bush

Joy Hartman has been named valedictorian and Betty Jo Sanders salutatorian of the 8th grade graduating class, with less than one-tenth grade point's difference in their grades, Mack Bush, principal, has announced. Joy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hartman, had a grade average of 97, while Betty Jo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Sanders, had 96.92. Both girls had an A average for their 3 years junior high work. Graduation exercises will be Thursday, May 23, at 8 p. m. at the high school auditorium, Bush said. Others who make up the high ranking 15 students in the class are Ralph Coburn, John Wolf, Adelle Ward, Robert Weir, Gwen Killingsworth, Elaine Ledbetter, Betty Durvey, Patricia Sullivan, Sharon Campbell, Sheri Gibbs, Granvel Killian, Lynda Orr, and Laverne Moore.

as concerned are bobcats, squirrels, ground squirrels, rats, snakes, hawks and owls, but probably the worst of the birds are crows. "If crows stayed here as much in the summer as in the winter, we wouldn't have any Quail at all," he said. Skunks and badgers kill a few quail, but not many, and the coyote is no offender at all. Davis takes a dim view of exotic game birds introduced, often from the Orient. Most of the time they do not thrive, but there is always the possibility they might thrive so well as to become a nuisance. Davis recalled the English sparrow, which first came to America in a shipment so small that the birds could be counted on the fingers of the hands. The same holds true for the Starling. He urges instead that Collingsworth county landowners make a habitat—a place where native game will have cover and food—and they will generally thrive.

marketings. Allotments will remain in effect, however, and wheat farmers who comply with their allotments will be eligible for price supports at 50 per cent of the parity rate, as required by law when quotas are disapproved. The 1958 national wheat allotment of 55 million acres is the minimum fixed by law and is the same as last year. It is expected to yield 800 million bushels, after allowance for acreage placed in the Soil Bank program. State, county and farm allotments are based on the national allotment. The 1958 allotment for Texas comes to 4,164,302 acres, which is slightly more than this year's allotment. If the national allotment had been figured on the basis of the law's supply formula instead of upon a minimum national allotment, the 1958 allotment would have amounted to only 23.1 million acres. Growers in commercial wheat States who will have more than 15 acres of wheat for harvest as grain in 1958 come under the regulation of quotas and will be eligible to vote in the referendum. States having wheat allotments of 25,000 acres or less have been designated "noncommercial" wheat States, and allotments and marketing quotas do not comply therein.
