Lambs, Rams, Orchid, Skunk Sold Thursday To Finance Lions' Work

Public-spirited citizens did more than their part Thursday afternoon at the Eleventh Annual Lions Club Auction Sale held at the football stadium when they bought at auction everything from a registered Rambouillet buck given by the Ranch Experiment Station to a baby skunk donated by Boyd Lovelace for a whopping total of $4,331, a new record. Added to this total is $567.50 in cash donations, making a grand total of $4,898.50. Nelson Johnson served as auctioneer. Cash donors included Neil Roueche, $25; Leo Richardson, $20; Mrs. Lula Karnes Estate, $25; Mrs. Ella Wallace, $15; S. S. Bundy & Son, $50; Paterson & Bundy, $50; R. A. Halbert, $350; J. A. Sykes, $7.50; John I. King, $25; The dance committee reported that the club made a profit of about $150 on the Thursday night dance.

The annual sale is the Lions Club's only annual fund-raising activity. Money realized is used to finance the Boy and Girl Scouts, child welfare, aid to the needy, and many other projects that the club sponsors each year. The largest annual project is the wool and mohair show, during which the club feeds entrants and their sponsors, gives some $800 in cash prizes and distributes $200 worth of other awards in an effort to encourage the number one industry of this section, livestock, wool and mohair.

WASHINGTON NEWS LETTER

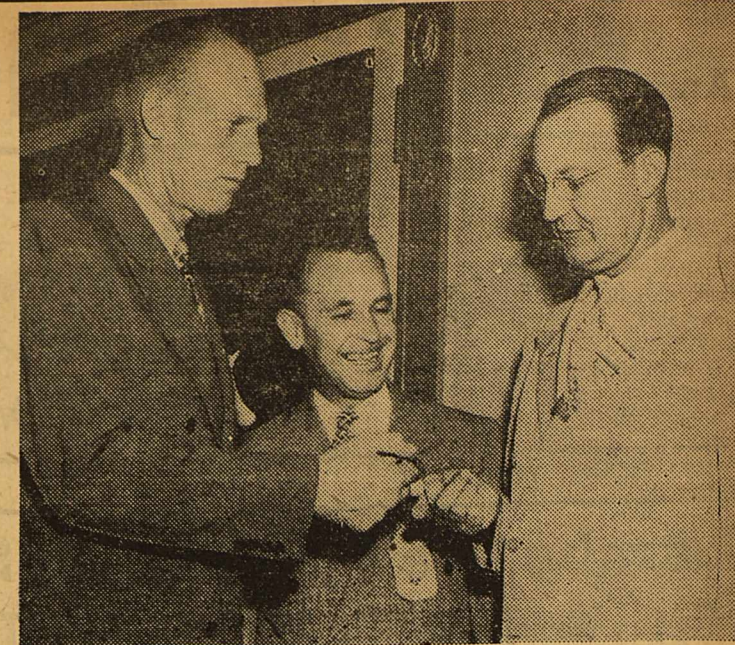

The closing days of the session witnessed confusion aplenty. Most of the legislation brought up the last two or three days was by "suspension of the rules," which means that by a two-thirds vote a bill can be called up, debated forty minutes and passed without being open to amendment on the floor.

The suspension method is a customary one when a session is about to end. The usual parliamentary procedure is too slow and cumbersome to get much done when time is limited. The result is that members often find themselves faced with the alternative of either voting to bring a measure up by suspension or of voting the other way, which means the bill is dead for the session. And since under such procedure amendments are not in order, one is often forced to vote for a measure in order to get its main purposes enacted, while being opposed to some of its provisions that are not subject to amendment. But the Senate also acts and often amends, and finally a conference committee of both Houses makes compromises and changes before the finished product is turned out.

The House, in effect, turned "thumbs down" on the T.E.W. Housing Bill by passing instead a bi-partisan measure to resume Government mortgage insurance on new houses up to 90 percent of value. The bill also gave veterans priority in buying war-built Government housing, and included a provision to speed-up a system of figuring depreciation allowances, which means a slight tax reduction as an incentive to get people to invest in apartment projects. The bill was approved by a majority of both Democrats and Republicans. The vote was 318 to 90.

The simple fact is that there are three essential elements in getting housing — material, labor, and capital. No legislation is going to increase the supply of either material or labor. Legislation can provide credit to make available needed capital. The new House-approved bill will help in that respect. A year ago the R.F.C. secondary market for G.I. home loans was suspended. It was claim-private capital would handle all such paper. But it has not worked that way and war veterans have been unable to get many loans approved.

A bill to admit 200,000 displaced persons was enacted. I voted against it because I doubt the wisdom of bringing in so many immigrants during the next two years. The measure, however, contains many conditions, and one authority said if it is properly administered probably not more than 50,000 will be admitted under its terms. The Republican-controlled session enacted some good legislation, particularly with regard to national preparedness. But it has a record of failure in a number of

Notice To Locker Plant Customers

In an effort to better serve our locker customers, we are going to attempt to keep a record of each locker account as to what is put in the locker and also what is taken out — the date, the kind of food, and the person taking it out.

By doing this we hope to be able to look at your locker card and tell you what you have in your locker at all times so that you won't have to hunt through your locker for something that has been taken out already.

Also we want to beg of you to bring your locker key or leave it on the keybard so that you can get in your locker without using the pass key. In the event that you do not bring your key, there will be a charge of 10 cents for the service of an attendant and the use of the pass key.

We do not wish to offend anyone but we feel like this policy will be better for you than the way we have been running the plant in the past.

Your cooperation will be appreciated

ABILENE, June 23—Edith Eldridge of Sonora is one of the 1,105 students enrolled for the first six weeks term of the 1948 summer session at Hardin-Simmons University, Alton B. Lee, registrar, has revealed.

Miss Eldridge, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. J. E. Eldridge of Sonora, is a senior student at H-SU.

The 1,105 students comprise the largest summer student body in the history of H-SU, Lee said, surpassing last summer's previous all-time high by 136 resident students.

The current term will close July 10 with a second six weeks session scheduled to begin on July 12. A three weeks class will be held from August 20 through September 9.

Return From Vacation

Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Hunt, Nancy Bryan and James T., returned Thursday from a three-weeks vacation to the western states. While in Colorado, they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Shurley and Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Appelt, all former Sutton Countians.

The Rev. Stanley Hauser is reported recovering satisfactorily following an operation in San Antonio Tuesday. He is expected to return to Sonora Saturday.

Mrs. J. F. Howell and Frank, Jr. were in Perryton last visiting Mr. and Mrs. Jack Allen and Judge and Mrs. J. R. Allen. While there, Mrs. Howell attended a tea given for her daughter, Mrs. Jack Allen.

Joseph Vander Stucken and Howard Espy returned Tuesday morning from Marfa, where they spent a few days on business.

The property is the Somerville Auxiliary Field number one which originally served Bryan Air Field and is located 16 miles south of Bryan, Texas. Applications must be directed to the Grand Prairie regional office of real property at Box 6030, Dallas.

Houston will be spotlighted by disposal activity during the next two weeks. Auto parts, electrical, valve and pipe fittings will go on sale at the Sheffield Steel plant on June 30 and July 1. The following sites in Houston will be cleared in another War Assets bid sale July 9: Reed Roller Bit Plant, WAA warehouse 6, Hughes Tool Strut Plant, Goodyear Rubber Co., Converted Rice Factory, and the former War Assets Customer Service Center. Hand tools, portable phonographs, aviator bags, furniture and marine equipment originally costing nearly half a million dollars are being assembled for this big clearance.

Surplus airfield buildings at Aloe Airport, Victoria, and Jefferson County Airport, Beaumont, are currently up for disposal to priority applicants or other buyers who will use them in place. At the Aloe Air Field, the priorities have until July 5 to submit purchase offers on 36 buildings with their attached fixtures and utilities. Offers from the priority claimants and the general public will be considered for various buildings and improvements at the Jefferson County Airport until June 28. Chicago Painter Leaves $100,000 To Mooseheart, The Child City

Some of Mooseheart's Happy Children

Mooseheart, Ill., the famed Child City owned and operated by the Loyol Order of Moose for children of its deceased members, became the recipient recently of a $100,000 fortune, bequeathed by the late Herman J. Englehard, 78, a painter and decorator, of Chicago, Ill. Mr. Englehard was well known in his own community for his kindness to and love for little children. Although not himself a member of the Moose fraternity, he chose Mooseheart as the beneficiary of all the money he had saved as a hard working laboring man because, as he told his attorney prior to his death, "I want to help little children."

Mooseheart is both a school and home for nearly 1,000 children. It is an entire city in itself, with 150 buildings spread over 1,200 acres of lush farm land in the picturesque Fox River Valley, 35 miles west of Chicago. Nursery, elementary and high school education plus a trade are provided to the students. Mr. Englehard's humanitarian gesture is saddened by the fact that he met a tragic death. He was found fatally beaten in his home by an unidentified assailant. The Supreme Council of the Loyol Order of Moose has offered $5,000 reward for the arrest and conviction of Mr. Englehard's slayer.

YOUR HEALTH

"Few, if any, people have escaped the inconvenience and the annoyance of athlete's foot. It is said to be the third most common skin disease of the summer, and, contrary to popular opinion, the fifth most prevalent disorder in the winter."

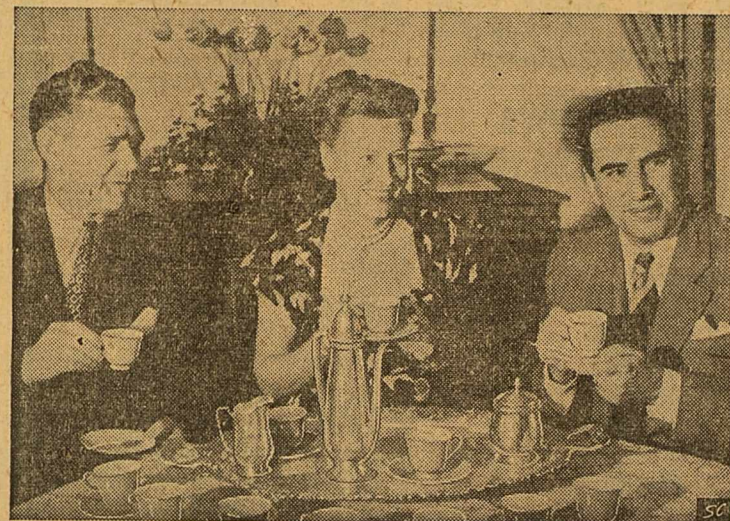

So says Dr. George W. Cox, State Health Officer, in a recent press release. Dr. Cox explains that athlete's foot is due to a small, mold-like growth or fungus which thrives on moist, warm parts of the body such as the feet.

"The infection of athlete's foot is usually gotten directly or indirectly from someone else," Dr. Cox says, cautioning that the most likely places to contract the infection are around bath houses, locker rooms, and other public places where people go barefoot. "It is probable that at least one-half of all adults suffer from the infection at some time."

In suggesting some effective measures to be taken to prevent initial cases and avoid recurrent attacks of the disease, Dr. Cox emphasized drying carefully between the toes; use of a mild alcoholic solution on these areas after drying; liberal applications of talcum powder in the socks and the shoes; and wearing socks that are absorbent but not coarse. "Ill fitting shoes are often the source of athlete's foot, Dr. Cox warns. "Shoes that rub and chafe should be corrected or discarded."

Miss Evelyn Folley, who underwent a minor operation Wednesday in Marlin, is reported to be doing satisfactorily. Miss Folley is a sister of Mrs. Andrew Moore.

Good Neighbor Policy Begins At Home

Irene Dunne, moving picture star, sets the pattern for neighborliness by entertaining leaders of the international coffee industry at an afternoon coffee. Stimulated to good conversation by both the beauty and the beverage, George V. Robbins, President of the National Coffee Association of the U.S.A., and Antonio Stockler de Queiroz, Chairman of the Pan-American Coffee Bureau, enjoy her hospitality. Dr. Queiroz is in the United States representing Brazilian coffee interests which supply the American public with over a billion pounds of coffee a year.

KEEP COOL

Kool Kooshion
... FOR Kleanliness ...

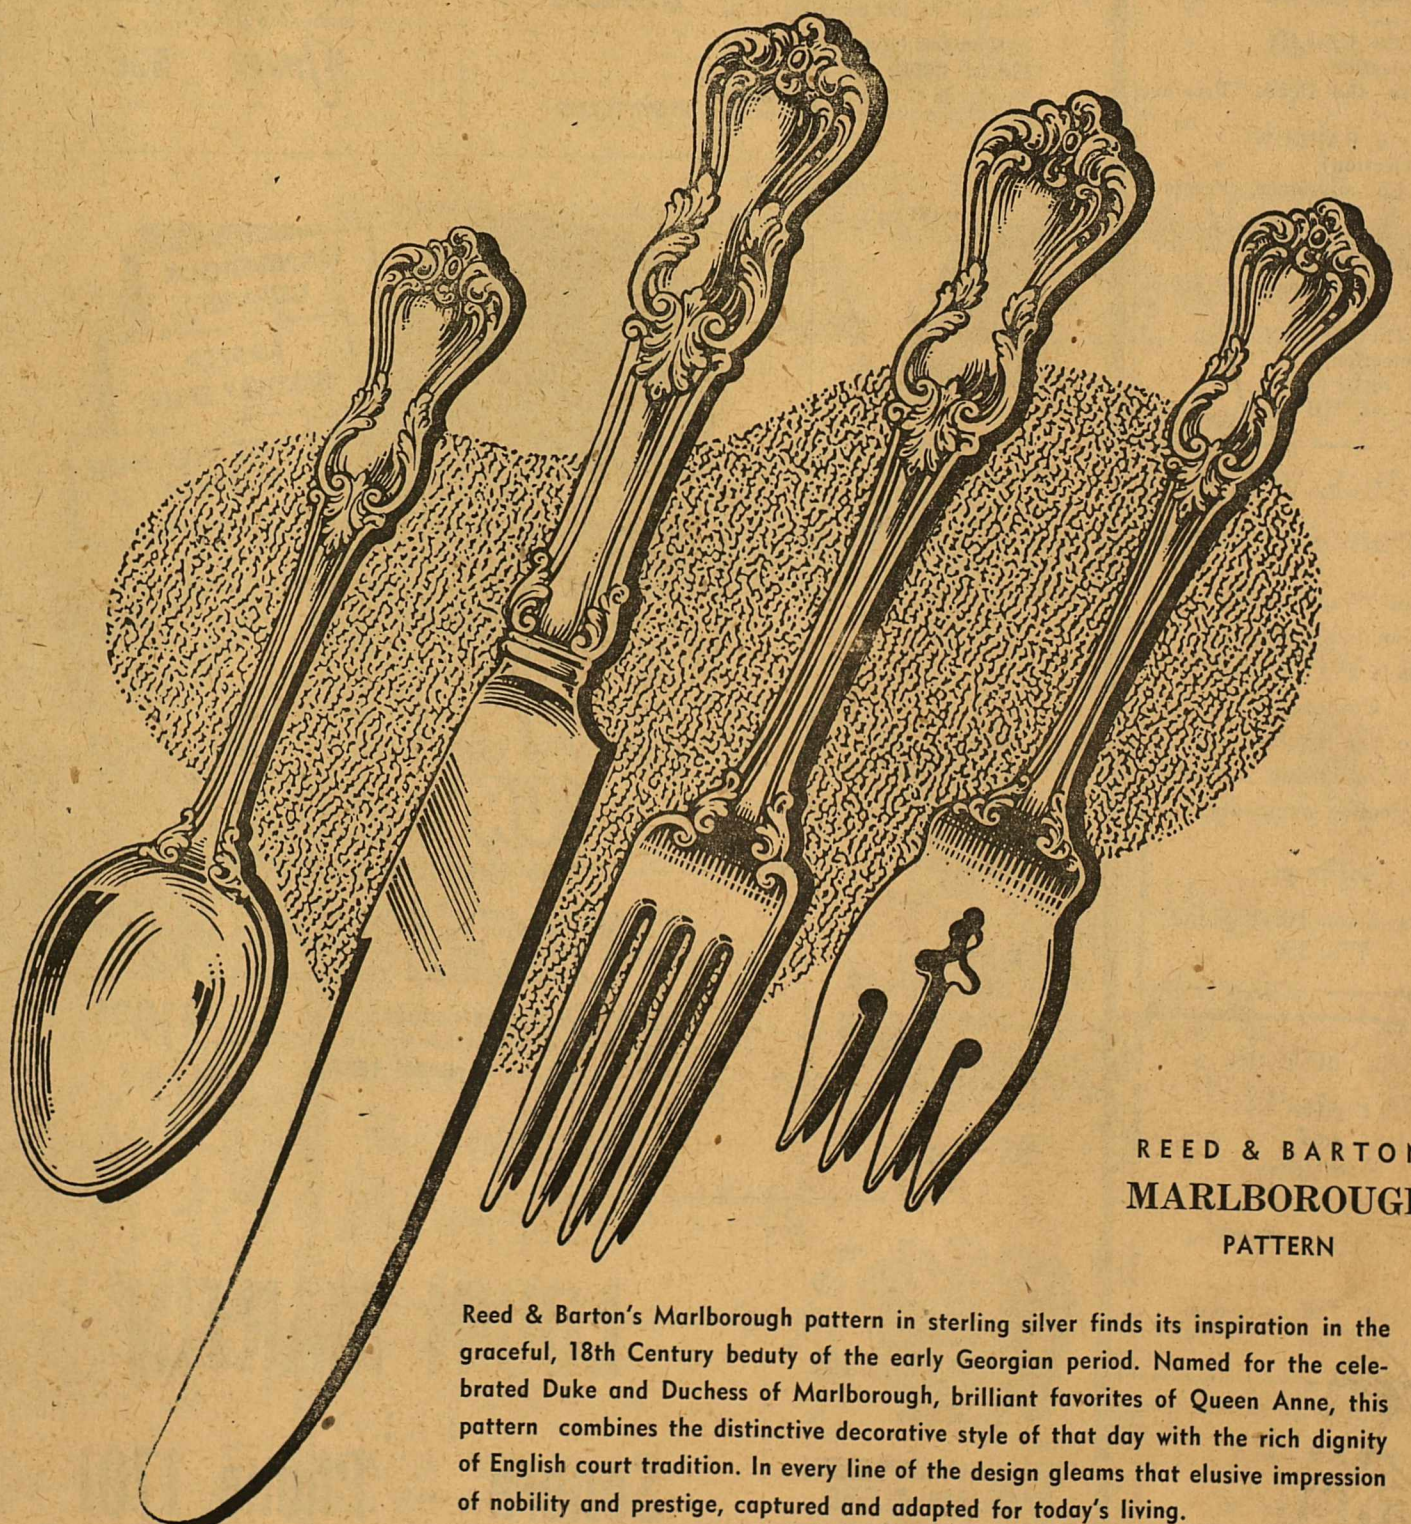

THE CONSTRUCTION

The interior of a Kool Kooshion is sixty feet of rust-proof coil spring, spirally wound and laced into a soft, springy cushion. This feature, together with the fibre netting used for covers, permits the free circulating of air through the Kool Kooshion at all times. The ventilating space between the covers is approximately one inch. The edges are attractively bound with high grade Fabrioid tape. Kool Kooshions are built to last and hold their shape.

PURPOSE AND USES

The purpose of Kool Kooshions is to keep office workers COOL and COMFORTABLE during hot weather. They prevent PERSPIRATION and keep the clothing clean and fresh. The savings effected in cleaning and laundry bills will amount to more than the cost of Kool Kooshions. Many people use them on home and office furniture, on yard and porch furniture and as cushions at ball games and picnics. Sitting on a Kool Kooshion is like sitting on a breeze.

REED & BARTON
MARLBOROUGH
PATTERN

Reed & Barton's Marlborough pattern in sterling silver finds its inspiration in the graceful, 18th Century beauty of the early Georgian period. Named for the celebrated Duke and Duchess of Marlborough, brilliant favorites of Queen Anne, this pattern combines the distinctive decorative style of that day with the rich dignity of English court tradition. In every line of the design gleams that elusive impression of nobility and prestige, captured and adapted for today's living.

GULLEY'S CAFE

Jesus Christ never asked any man a question in order that He Himself might acquire information. God's Son is Himself all wisdom and all knowledge; and as the God who made men, He knows their thoughts and all the workings of their minds. Whenever the Lord Jesus Christ asked a question, it was for some purpose touching the person to whom He addressed Himself. Sometimes it was to break down a wall of reticence and to begin a conversation that He might reach the heart of the one to whom He spoke.

Once as He was passing through the crowded street of a city surrounded by a great throng, He suddenly stopped and said, "Who touched Me?" (Luke 8:45). The disciples, not understanding the reason for the question, wondered at it, and said to Him, "The multitude thronged Thee and press Thee" (Luke 8:45). To them the question seemed almost foolish considering the multitude pressing upon Him from every side. God's Son knew that through the crowd had come a poor, sick woman who, with a trembling hand but a heart full of faith, had reached out to touch His garment believing that she would be healed thereby. He knew who had touched Him. He knew why He had been touched. There must have been, therefore, a reason for His question. Possibly someone in that multitude needed to learn a

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

They let the Wives in!

The ex-GI's of our town entertained their wives the other night at one of their "feeds" of hamburger sandwiches and ice cold beer. (The girls had hinted that they'd like to see what went on when their husbands got together!)

Being wary, the boys provided chicken sandwiches and cake and cider—for those wives who might have other tastes. But though they were grateful for the choice, most of the wives agreed that hamburger sandwiches and beer were a mighty pleasant combination.

After the "feed" the husbands took their wives on at a game of darts, and later they played "indications." The party broke up around ten, with the boys agreeing that it was mighty successful.

From where I sit, it's this companionship among young couples today, and their moderation in a sensible beverage like beer, that's won the younger generation such a wholesome reputation.

Jaycees' Rodeo Opens Wednesday In Kerrville

KERRVILLE, June 24—Jaycees are dusting off the welcome mat for visitors to the 14th annual Hill Country Championship rodeo, and Sonora has been invited to send a duchess to the Southwest's finest rodeo.

Visitors will be offered a complete range of entertainment running from parades, fireworks, coronation of a rodeo queen, and dances to Del Dunbar singing as the world's finest cowhands compete for top honors in the bronc riding, bull dogging, calf roping, etc.

The gala shows will be held in the cool evenings on June 30, July 1, 2, and 3 under the lights of Antler Field, and plenty of stadium seats will be ready for the record crowd expected.

Top performers of the arena from all over the nation are expected to vie for the $3,700 added money. Added attractions will include the Dallas Mounted Quadrille, a standout at this year's Fat Stock Show at Fort Worth; clowning and acrobatic roping by Jack and Bobbie Knapp of Hollywood; trick roping by Calgary Red of Cody, Wyoming; and clowning by Johnny Miller of Vernon.

Visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Awalt this week were Mrs. Awalt's cousin, Arlan Bishop of Lovington, New Mexico, and Mr. and Mrs. John Simpson of Conroe. Mrs. Simpson is Awalt's sister.

Sending chain letters through the mails is against postal regulations, as has been pointed out in these columns before. However, a friend of ours got one last week, that is a slight departure from the usual in that it requests no money. Here it is:

"This is a chain letter started in the hope of bringing happiness to all tired businessmen. Unlike most chains, this does not cost you any money.

Simply send a copy of this letter to five males, then bundle up your wife and send her to the fellow whose name heads the list.

When your name works up to the top of the list, you will receive 15,176 women of various degrees of gorgeousness, and they will all be yours.

Have faith. Do not break the chain. ONE MAN BROKE IT AND GOT HIS OWN WIFE BACK."

The first impounded dog auction sale will be held Saturday morning at 9 o'clock at the City Hall, with four dogs to be offered for sale. Held under the provisions of the dog license ordinance passed last month, the sale is held in order to give an owner every chance to recover his dog. When a dog is impounded, a description is posted in the City and Court House.

Five days later a public sale is held. If the dog is still unclaimed it is destroyed.

"The Bawl Street Journal," a newspaper which annually lampoons the Wall Street Journal, made its appearance here recently. Advertisements carried by investment and banking houses are changed in this yearly edition to appear as silly as possible and news stories are written in the lighter vein. The lead story in this year's Bawl Street Journal, a copy of which is at the First National Bank, has to do with Henry Ford II swapping engines for horses:

The story is headed: "Ford Swaps Engines for Equines"

Detroit — At a press conference held in the restored tool-shed where his grandfather originally planned the car that sired the Model T and Model A, Henry Ford II today turned back the pages of time with the announcement that he has acquired a huge tract of land in southern Michigan where his company will breed and develop horses to propel the new 1949 Ford cars should a scarcity of engines result from the steel shortage. The tract has been christened, "Will He Run?"

"I think Gramps would be pleased if he were with us," Mr. Ford stated, "Whiffle-tree to whiffle-

George Peddy Is Stumping State

George Peddy, one of the three major candidates for the U. S. Senate, is now in the midst of stumping the state.

In his first tour of the state, George Peddy accepted speaking invitations by invitation, but early in June he began making from 2 to 3 stump speeches a day in addition to his daily 15-minute radio broadcasts, Monday through Friday, at 6:45 o'clock.

Peddy, a rugged campaigner, has surprised political experts with the popularity of his campaign. His mailbag is filled with letters from people of all walks of life who are pledging their support to him.

Peddy campaigns long hours and seldom gets more than five to six hours sleep each night. He writes his own speeches on legal size tablets with a pencil, some times burning the midnight oil until 2 or 3 o'clock.

"I just cannot bring myself to let somebody write words I am going to say," Peddy declared. "It just wouldn't be my speech unless I wrote it."

Peddy has carried on a blistering attack all over the state against old-line politicians.

"One of the greatest needs of our day is men in public life who look upon public office as a public trust," Peddy said, "and not as a personal prize to be sought and used for personal gain."

On numerous occasions Peddy, a veteran of World War I and II, has said he has no special tie with any group or faction.

"I wouldn't have the office if I didn't know that I can go to the Senate free of any special ties. If the least influential citizen were not just as important to me as the most powerful, in making my decisions in the Senate, I wouldn't have the office."

SWING OF SOUTHWEST MARKETS

Mixed strength and weakness appeared at southwest farm markets during the past week, the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Production and Marketing Administration reports.

Slaughter steers and stocker and feeder cattle held their own fairly well for the week, but killing cows and calves sold $1 to $2 lower at most southwest markets. Common and medium cows sold generally from $17 to $21.50, though San Antonio paid only $15 to $17.50. Common and medium calves ranged from $16 to $25 at Texas markets. Wichita paid $28 for top vealers and calves. Good and choice vealers brought mainly $27.00 to $31.50 at Denver and $25 to $29 at Kansas City.

Slaughter lambs netted generally lower prices at southwest markets after early-week gains and later losses. Other sheep classes showed little or no change. Spring lambs sold at $28.50 down at Oklahoma City. Medium and good grades brought $20 to $24 at Fort Worth, and $28 to $29 at Denver and Kansas City.

Quiet wool trading included a few sales of average French combing lots in Texas.

Contest Winner

Winner of second prize in the Western Auto tire selling contest is Louin Martin, owner of the local associate store. Martin, who was awarded $77.60, sold 100 tires and 89 tubes during the month-long contest.

Mr. and Mrs. James Ellington and son left Wednesday morning for their home in Fort Worth following several days' visit with Mrs. Ellington's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lum Hefflin.

Billy Bob Ellingson left Wednesday morning for Newton, Kansas, where he will spend a month visiting relatives. He made the trip alone.

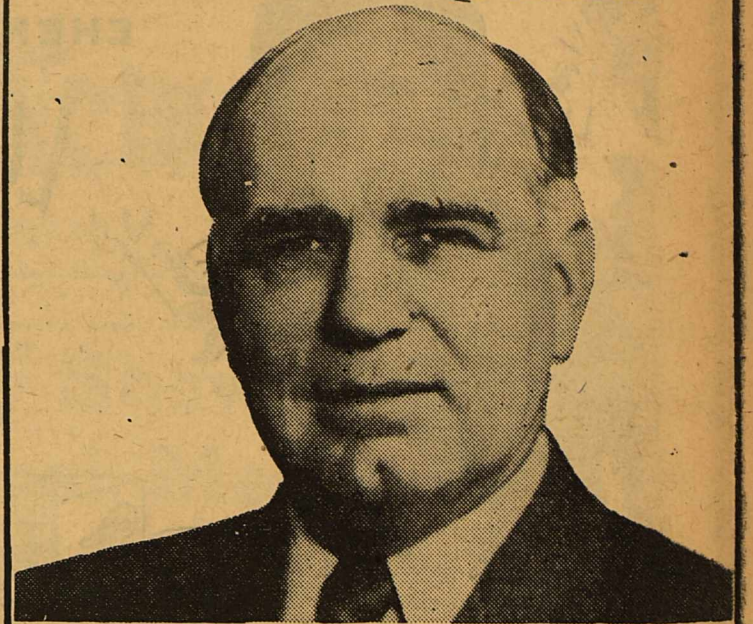

Mr. and Mrs. George Baker and children visited in Sonora Thursday morning for a short time with friends. Baker was formerly owner of the Devil's River News.

Save and Sell

Save and sell fats no longer needed in your kitchen. World supplies of fats and oils are still critically short of total requirements. Salvaged fat takes the place of other fats and oils needed in industry. Keep that can marked "Used Fats" in a handy place where it will never be forgotten.

Adding machine, cash register and typewriter cleaning and repair -- Guaranteed work. Leave your machine at the News Office.

Double Saving

Conscientious fat salvage is one way to cut down your budget during these days of high food costs. Besides being paid by your meat dealer for your used cooking fat, pouring kitchen grease into a container rather than down the sink saves plumbers' bills.
