Look What They Found In Texas

The pign of T. W. Tidwell, above, rancher living near Dallas, has become a showplace following his discovery in the ground there of the fossil remains of a prehistoric monster, Dean E. W. Shaler of the School of Geology, Southern Methodist University, has identified the skeleton as that of a plesiosaurs, which roamed Texas some 2,000,000 years ago.

BOY SCOUTS ANNIVERSARY WILL BE OBSERVED HERE IN MANY PUBLIC EVENTS

Pastors to Stress Subject Sunday—Banquet on Next Friday Will Be Climax of Activities.

The twenty-first anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America, which starts Sunday, will be observed in Pampa in an elaborate program scheduled to be climaxed by a banquet at the First Methodist church Friday evening of next week.

The Rev. Tom Brabham will be chairman of the banquet, to which fathers are urged to take their sons or the sons of boys who have no fathers living. About 150 persons will attend.

Talks will be made at civic clubs and at school chapters, and local pastors will cooperate by speaking on the subject next Sunday. Downtown windows will be decorated with Boy Scout activities as the theme.

The Rev. A. A. Hyde will be in charge of a court of honor at which awards recently earned by the boys will be given in an appropriate ceremony.

Boy Scout week is divided into the following days: Sunday—church emphasis; Monday—school day; Tuesday—parent institution day; Wednesday—international day; Thursday—citizens day; Friday—home day; Saturday—outdoor day.

Football Banquet Is To Be Held Tonight

Football fans of the city will play host to the athletes of Central high school tonight in a banquet at the Schneider hotel.

During the banquet a number of the Harvester will be awarded gold footballs and chains which have been bought by interested fans.

Local men interested in promoting the Harvester athletics are urged to attend and to pay for the meal of one boy. Tickets will be 50 cents. The event will start at 8 o'clock.

Charges Filed in Alanreed Bank Looting

QUICK WORK MARKS HUNT AFTER RAID

Condition of Bryant Will Determine Other Case Against Roy Stephenson, Alleged Gunman.

MONEY IS FOUND

Loot Amounting to $2,110.85 Located Under Residence of Roy McGee in South Oilfield Territory.

Charges of robbery with firearms were filed by District Attorney Raymond Alfred this morning at 10 o'clock against Roy "Sherry" McGee and Roy Stephenson in connection with the robbery of the Alanreed State bank yesterday morning.

Charges in connection with the shooting of Jim Bryant will be held up pending definite knowledge concerning the wounded man's condition. If Bryant recovers, a charge of assault with intent to kill will be filed against Stephenson. Mr. Alfred announced this morning. Bryant is said to be recovering in a Clarendon hospital. Judge Clifford Braly is considering recalling the 114th district court grand jury to investigate the bank robbery and the shooting of Bryant.

Last midnight, McGee accompanied officers of the sheriff's department to the McGee house on the Sunray lease, 9 miles southeast of Pampa, where they removed a plank that had been nailed below the flooring on the outside of the house and recovered the money taken from the bank. The money, as counted by officers, amounted to $2,110.85. Sheriff Blansett and his deputies learned of the hiding place of the loot about 11 o'clock after they had questioned McGee for six hours.

The recovery of the money marked the final chapter in a quest for the robbers begun by officers at 9:30 o'clock yesterday morning. The sheriff, his deputies and other county officials celebrated the capture of the robbers about a week last night by eating dinner at a local cafe. It was the first food they had eaten since breakfast yesterday morning.

Mr. Alfred announced this morning that Stephenson will be taken to Clarendon and to Alanreed where Bryant, E. B. Hedrick, cashier of the bank, and Miss Jennie Sherrod, bookkeeper, will be asked if he was the man who shot Bryant and then robbed the bank. It is planned to take the prisoner to the two towns tomorrow or the next day.

Officers today were investigating a claim made by Dr. W. G. Stephens of Borger upon the Ford coupe seized during the search for the robbers yesterday morning. Its driver was released after Mr. Hedrick failed to identify him. Officers said the youth would not be connected with the robbery. Dr. Stephens reported that his car, similar to the one being held here, was stolen last Friday evening from in front of his office in Borger.

Pipeline Office Will Be Located In Pampa Soon

Officials of the Continental Construction company which will propose a 24-inch gas line to Chicago from the Panhandle were in Pampa yesterday making preparations to establish headquarters here.

A number of the men rented houses here and will move their families to Pampa. They did not say when actual construction of the pipeline will begin but it is believed the first pipe will be laid during the first part of this month. Frank Henry, in charge of the B. C. D. employment agency, said that the company plans to hire about 300 men, many of whom will be employed locally. Mr. Henry emphasized that he had no more information regarding the time construction will begin and how many men the company will employ here.

Scientists Study Universe

and electro-magnetism and offers a clue to the mystery of the structure of space.

Then Einstein told his fellow scientists that he presented the unified field equation as a closed box, and that he knew of no methods of investigation by indirect or physical experimental means of prying off the lid to see what was within. Dr. Walter S. Adams, director of the Carnegie institution of Washington, Mr. Wilson, observatory, announced that he and his associates hoped to have the cover off the box soon. It was Adams who made astronomical observations establishing proof of Einstein's relativity theory.

Two California scientists caused Einstein to change his mind. They are Dr. Edwin P. Hubble, and Dr. Richard Chase Tolman. Hubble sits at the turret of the world's largest telescope and has heard secrets of the island universes or distant nebulae. These are great universes like that in which the world and some 50,000,000 stars move. There are 30 million other such universes, all moving, the major universe. Some of these have been observed 300,000,000 light years distant, that is 300,000,000 times six million of million miles.

Tolman, companion of Hubble, is a physicist. He has taken Hubble's observations and evolved the theory that the major universe is expanding with explosive force and is running down because matter is being converted into energy and thus being annihilated.

These two men found that neither the original Einstein concept of the universe, nor that of Dr. Sitter, Dutch astronomer, and friend of Einstein, could fit the case. Hubble's old concept was that matter determined the amount of space in the universe, and Dr. Sitter figured that matter was infinitesimal and space was the controlling element. Both conceived a static or fixed universe.

Capper Oil Bill Advanced

Senate Committee Approves New Measure but Hard Fight Looms With Several Points at Issue on Subject.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5. (AP)—The senate commerce committee today approved the Capper bill to restrict the importation of foreign oil, after a sharp revision. The vote was nine to six.

Senator Johnson, Republican, California, the chairman, prepared to put the measure immediately before the senate. He led the forces favoring the bill.

A contest impends in the senate, however, both against the bill and against the jurisdiction of the commerce committee to act on the legislation.

The measure, offered by Senator Capper, republican, Kansas, would apply an immediate limitation on importations of crude petroleum. This product would be limited to 16,000,000 barrels annually for the next three years, including this calendar year.

Importation of all refined products including all by products and fuel oil would be prohibited for the three years.

The legislation was demanded by the independent oil producers of the midcontinent field, who told the committee they were in danger of destruction by the large oil companies who were importing cheaper oil from Venezuela and Colombia.

Senator Shortridge, republican, California, also had before the committee a bill providing for a $1 barrel tariff on oil but the independent producers favored the Capper measure and the committee gave it the right-of-way.

With adjournment of this session only a month away, little hope is entertained by advocates of the legislation of enactment before them. The sharp fight waged against the bill at the brief committee session augured a bitter contest in the senate, if the legislature gets up for consideration.

Chairman Smoot of the finance committee is under instructions from his committee to move in the senate that the legislation be re-committed to the finance committee.

The senate six times refused to place a tariff on oil in the tariff bill of 1930.

Highway Problem Is Major Issue Now

AUSTIN, Feb. 5. (AP)—The legislature's second $300,000,000 highway bond issue proposal loomed as the major issue today.

Representative Hubbard of New Boston had his proposed constitutional amendment calling for a $200,000,000 state highway bond issue ready for submission. He said all proposals of a statewide highway bond issue have centered on his proposition. Counties getting refunds from the state for money expended in building and maintaining state highways, under his proposal, would be required to spend this money in lateral road building.

Under the plan as much as $100,000,000 would be available for counties issuing bonds for state highway building. Not more than $20,000,000 could be spent by the state in any one year on highways.

LeFors Man Takes Poison; To Recover

A man about 27 years old is in Wesley hospital suffering from the effects of poison swallowed about 10:30 o'clock this morning in a pool hall at LeFors. Hospital attendants said that his condition is not critical and that he would recover.

The name of Albert Ramsey was signed to a note he handed to a customer just after he returned from the water cooler at the end of the room where he was observed drinking from a glass. Previously he had asked the clerk in the place for a piece of paper, and "he was handed a large leaf of wrapping paper. He was observed writing on the paper at a domino table.

The note requested that a Pampa citizen who was designated as "pal," be notified, also that the G. C. Malone funeral home be called.

The man was unknown in LeFors. The local citizen to whom the note was addressed said that he knew no one by the name of Albert Ramsey.

After handing the note to the waiter, the man reclined on a bench in the place. He was immediately removed to Dr. Rutherford's office in LeFors, and was later taken to Wesley hospital in a private ambulance.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wilson Have Been Charged With Assault to Rob

Mrs. Billie Wilson and her husband, Charles "Little Chuck" Wilson, were jointly charged with assault with intent to rob by District Attorney Raymond Alfred in justice of peace court before James Todd Jr. this morning. A habeas corpus hearing is scheduled for this afternoon before Judge Todd. Wilson is under an indictment for murder in connection with the fatal shooting of C. H. "Bert" Taylor west of LeFors last week. The Wilsons announced yesterday that they had retained Curtis Douglas to represent them in court. Both are being held in the county jail.

Mr. Alfred announced several days ago that he would fight strenuously any attempt to secure the release of either Wilson or his wife.

Argument of Attorneys Consumes Morning in Trial of Thompson

VERNON, Feb. 5. (AP)—Attorneys argued today as Emmett Thompson underwent cross-examination at his trial for the slaying of Homer Crabtree.

Noon recess was preceded by a clash over submission in evidence of Thompson's original motion for a severance of his case from Carl Heffner's. The men were indicted jointly. Heffner recently receiving a 99-year sentence at a trial in Pampa. The state argued that in his motion Thompson had expressed belief that the evidence was insufficient to convict Heffner, who, if acquitted, could then testify for Thompson.

In his testimony here Thompson said that Heffner did all the stampering in the affray with Crabtree near LeFors last November. Crabtree died as a result of the beating.

Attorneys also clashed over state's questioning the defendant on what defense counsel said was a statement made by him soon after his arrest. The defense claimed the statement was inadmissible as evidence and that questions should not be predicated upon it. The court upheld the objection but ruled that the questions were not so predicated.

State's counsel stressed Heffner's "Do you mean to tell the jury, asked Prosecutor Watkins, "that Heffner, a drunk man, outran and overtook Crabtree, a sober and frightened man?"

Thompson answered in the affirmative. He said he pulled Heffner off Crabtree, wiped the blood from the beaten man, and then made Heffner lift him into the car. Heffner, he said, jerked Crabtree out and again stamped on him before being stopped again. The defendant denied knowing that a truck driver had watched the fight and said he had not gone to find the truck driver afterward.

Vanderbilt Says Marine General Misquoted Him

PHOENIX, Ariz., Feb. 5. (AP)—Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr., reputed source of the Mussolini story that has resulted in Gen. Smedley D. Butler facing a court martial, was on record today as saying the marine officer had "quoted inaccurately" something he heard at the affiliated lecture bureau in New York last November.

Giving his first explanation of his silence regarding the Mussolini incident since it brought the general a court martial summons, the young newspaperman last night said he would relate correctly what he said originally concerning the Mussolini anecdote, if called as a witness in the court martial.

General Butler in a recent Philadelphia speech charged the Italian dictator left the scene of an accident wherein an automobile in which he was riding struck a child.

Was in Confidence Vanderbilt said he was "bound to respect the strictest confidence" surrounding several incidents related by himself and others in the New York Lecture bureau.

"All but three or four persons have respected that confidence," he said. "General Butler quoted inaccurately what was said. Everything that has come out since the story was told has been garbled. There are 18 or 20 people who have remained silent.

"I will relate correctly from the witness stand what I said if General Butler or his counsel asks me to appear. So far I have told it only to the state department in a letter which they have declined to make public. I have told the state department I will appear at the court martial if it is desired, and I have informed General Butler similarly."

Butler Defended PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 5. (AP)—Friends of Major Gen. Smedley D. Butler, who will be tried here by general court martial for alleged disreputable remarks about Premier Mussolini, continue to come to his defense.

At the annual dinner last night of the League of the Sacred Heart, an organization of local policemen and firemen, a telegram was read from General Butler saying he was "greatly disappointed not to be able to attend the dinner this year."

This was followed by a short address by Pres. Judge Harry S. Modest, of the Philadelphia Common Pleas court, who asked for a fair opinion from the general. Butler when he was director of the department of public safety in Philadelphia, helped develop the league.

Unemployed Youth Loses His Mind

Unemployment, that dreaded shape which haunts the tracks of so many people these days, claimed a victim here yesterday in a strange and terrible manner.

For several months the victim who is a boy of 20, had been without employment. He frequently remarked to his friends that it looked as if he never would get a job again. He had responsibilities—he had been helping support a family.

Yesterday, in a sanity trial before Judge S. D. Stennis, he was found insane. He will be taken to a state hospital for treatment.

RETURN TO CONVENTION PRIMARY SYSTEM PROPOSED IN BILL BY SENATOR HOPKINS

State Meetings Would Choose 2 Candidates for Each Office; Rest Is Left To People.

AUSTIN, Feb. 5. (AP)—Sen. W. K. Hopkins of Gonzales today introduced a bill to substitute the convention-primary system of nominating candidates for statewide offices for the present two-primary system.

Under its terms a state convention would be held to select two candidates for each office, including that of United States senator. Delegates to the convention would be selected in the primary, to be moved up to the second Saturday in July. There would be one delegate for each 500 votes cast in the preceding primary election.

The convention would be held the second Tuesday after the first primary with the second primary to be held the same time as at present, the fourth Saturday in August. In case any candidate received three-fourths of the vote of the convention, he would receive the nomination without a primary.

Since the convention would meet before the second primary and draw up the platform, the platform would have a real significance, Hopkins said.

"A very distinct dissatisfaction with our present primary election laws has developed in the public mind," the Gonzales senator stated. "Restoration of the old democratic convention system of nominating candidates—modified and properly safeguarded—would be welcomed by a large number of our people who feel that the time has arrived for a change."

E. A. SIMPSON BREAKS JAIL THIS MORNING

Confessed Robber Threatens Elevator Man and Forces Latter to Move Down One Floor, Then Runs.

OBTAINS A KNIFE

Sheriff Lon Blansett Tells Force to Search Every Part of City and All of Oil Field Area.

A bold plan of E. A. "Feenies" Simpson to escape from the county jail was successful this morning about 11 o'clock when he fouled the lock on the cell door and descended to the third floor in the elevator after threatening the life of Charles Spurlock, who was operating the elevator.

From the third floor, he descended to the sidewalk by the stairs. The escape was immediately reported by Spurlock and officers began combing this community for the prisoner.

Simpson is under a five-year sentence for robbery at LeFors. He pleaded guilty to the charge. Officers said that the plot to escape was hatched several days ago, but that a close watch had been kept on the prisoners. Fifteen other prisoners in the same cell with Simpson did not try to escape. Simpson did not wear his jail clothes of blue shirt and blue overalls but the clothes which he wore when placed in jail. The fact that he had donned these clothes indicated to officers that he had been planning to make his getaway for several days.

Spurlock took the elevator to the fourth floor on which the jail is located when the bell rang. He thought it was one of the officers. As he shoved back the elevator door, Simpson leaped behind him and pressed the point of a long sharp knife against his neck. "Take me to the third floor or I'll cut your head off," he threatened. From the third floor he fled down the steps and into the streets before officers saw him. Sheriff Blansett and his deputies were inspecting the car taken in the hunt for the Alanreed bank bandits when the escape was made. Simpson had fled from sight before officers in the escape could be relayed to them.

In fixing the lock of the door so that it would open, Simpson stuffed it with paper. When the door was closed by officers as they left the cell, the lock snapped but the door did not close entirely.

Sheriff Blansett, commenting upon the escape, declared that the county commissioners should furnish him with a jailer. "The situation is ridiculous," he said. "Here we have 50 prisoners in jail here and no jailer to watch them. The escape of one prisoner is the least one could expect under such conditions."

Immediately after Simpson ran across the courthouse lawn, Sheriff Blansett instructed his deputies to search every part of Pampa and the oil fields. All highways were being watched.

Iron and Steel Workers in Protest

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 5. (AP)—A group of local iron and steel structural workers met last night and registered a protest on the alleged importation of "outside labor" for carrying forward construction of the new state capitol building at Baton Rouge.

A committee of four was named to wait on the New Orleans welfare committee, in charge of unemployment relief, today to make formal demand that Louisiana and New Orleans skilled labor be given preference on state jobs for the year. C. A. Colon, at whose home the meeting was held, said there were "more than 150 skilled steel and iron workers in the city, all qualified voters, without jobs."

Opportunity Is Here for City To Seek Greater Beauty

With good weather available and many needy men awaiting opportunity of securing even a few hours of employment, Pampa citizens should make this a cleaner, neater city.

There is no need for waiting for "spring." Spring in the Panhandle is an uncertain quantity, and no better weather could be desired than that of the last month.

Having achieved remarkable growth, Pampa should not be satisfied with newness merely but should seek neatness and beauty as well. Now is an ideal time to prepare ground for lawns and to clean up and paint up. Those who have jobs were never in better position to secure cheap labor and cheap materials. Those who have no work can spend part of their time cleaning up the home premises.

Pampa has a pretty setting, and its "draw" on the north side is being turned into a beauty spot. It can be made a very attractive city, indeed. The doing of it rests in the hands of its citizens.

Sheriff Lon Blanset and his deputies "snapped into it" when robbers looted the Alarced bank. Their resourcefulness and energy got results, on which they are hereby congratulated. Prompt law enforcement is always a prime need of any respectable territory. An ample county force is a necessity.

Much interest has been aroused in new type planes which do not have propellers. Birds, you know, which reach great speed, have no "props." They achieve propulsion by means of rapid up and down strokes which create a vacuum just behind the wings, thereby pushing the feathered bodies forward. It may be possible to fly planes by means of this thrashing motion.

Statesmanship, and the lack of it, differ widely. If Governor Bill Murray has it, President Hoover certainly does not. Mr. Hoover has been even less of a leader than Mr. Coolidge. Governor Murray is something of a driver. He addresses his legislature in vitalistic terms. Governor Moody tried a milder form of coercion and failed to make an impression upon the hard-headed legislators. Can "Alfalfa Bill" with his strong words and gray hairs, do what Moody could not? The answer to this query will be awaited with interest.

COURAGE OF A MOTHER

Samuel Cohen came rushing home the other day, and tossed $1,759 in his mother's lap.

"We have plenty of money now, mother," he said. "I've just robbed a bank, my first."

There was a wide smile on his face. A happy, triumphant grin. In exactly the same way he had probably told his mother that his team had won the baseball game, or he had made a dollar shoveling snow.

But his mother didn't smile. She gazed a little wonderingly at the 18-year-old boy who was her son, and who so proudly had given her the spoils of his holdup.

Then she sent him away. She found a paper sack, put the money in it, and turned down the top so the coins wouldn't roll out. After that she put on her hat and coat, and went to the police station. She told on her boy because she had decided that it was the only way that she could save him.

There are some who say that it was a heartless thing to do; that justice becomes a paltry issue when love is at stake. But every step of that walk the face of Mrs. Fox's son probably went with her. She remembered how he had skipped along at her side; holding tightly to her hand when he was three and four and five; how proud he had been when he was old enough to cross the street alone; how he watched the traffic lights for her just a few years later.

It is safe to say she didn't walk alone and her heart wasn't cool and calculating. It was aching and dull. And it struggled with a conscience that wouldn't let her turn back. Her son had broken trust with her. He had started off on the wrong path.

No mother wants to admit before the world that her son has failed; that he has broken trust and taken money that is not his. Mothers like to hold their heads up proudly as they say that Johnnie has received a raise or Harry has been promoted. The very fact that Mrs. Fox did her duty so fearlessly is proof enough that she believed that it was a necessary step to help her boy.

She was thinking of him and his future, not of herself and her pride.

So she put the money in a paper bag and gave it back. It must have stung her hands as she stuck the bills in, listened to the jingle of the silver. Sometimes it must take courage to be a mother.

A quarry worker, wisecracks the office sage, is the most passive worker on earth because he takes everything for granite.

Rubio Regime At First Anniversary

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 5. (AP)—Mexico today celebrated the fourteenth anniversary of the signature of the constitution of Queretaro and the first anniversary of the Ortiz Rubio administration.

The chief events on a crowded day's program in the capital were a gala bull fight in the afternoon and a torch race through the center of the city tonight. The bull fight was arranged by the national revolutionary party for the benefit of the Oaxaca earthquake victims.

Twenty-eight of the most beautiful girls of Mexico, one from each state, will parade about the bull pit to be reviewed by the president and his cabinet. Thereafter six bulls will be dispatched, the best matadors of Spain and Mexico vying for the premier honor of the season. La Greja de Oro—a pure gold emblem shaped like a bull's ear.

Several score of the country's best runners have entered the torch relay race, which will start at Chapultepec Castle and end at the national palace, three miles distant. The runners will pass lighted torches to their relay partners. The constitution of Queretaro is the one initiated in 1917 by Gen. Venustiano Carranza, who later became president. It is still in force. It was a year ago today, incidentally, that President Ortiz Rubio, shortly after his formal inauguration, was shot in the jaw by an assassin.

Entire Family Is Victim of Blaze

WELCH, W. Va., Feb. 5. (AP)—An entire family of six today had been wiped out by fire.

Mrs. Clarence Bennett, 23, died in a hospital last night, the sixth victim of a fire that destroyed her home at Asco near here last Friday. Her husband and two sons, Charles, 4, and Junior, 6, were burned to death as they slept. Two daughters, Lillian, 7, and a baby girl died the following day.

Officials expressed the opinion that the fire had been caused by an overheated kitchen stove.

OIL QUESTIONS BEING STUDIED

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 5. (AP)—While investigations by house sub-committees on oil questions were under way again today, the corporation commission entered another day of its hearing on a proposed increase in allowable flow from the Oklahoma City field.

Proration practices in the Oklahoma City field held first place in the proceedings of an investigating group headed by Ira Finley, which was hearing testimony on alleged "wide open" flow of certain wells under supervision of Otto Bradford, field umpire. The charges were brought by Howard Tucker, Oil Journal publisher.

Governor Murray had not revealed the nature of the recommendations of the majority of his special oil legislative committee. A minority report is being prepared for him. The majority report has been submitted.

Method of selecting the men comprising the special committee was aired by one of the investigating committees. It was learned. Meetings were behind closed doors.

Former Sheriffs Under Charges

TOPEKA, Feb. 5. (AP)—Two former Kansas sheriffs, Fay Brown, of Reno county, and Howard King, of Ford county, were named in separate indictments returned today by a federal grand jury reporting to Judge Richard J. Hopkins.

Brown was charged with conspiring with Gus Rupp, Haven, and Bill Messerschmidt, Wichita, to violate the prohibitory laws. King was indicted for conspiring with Max Cohen, Jim Stiff, and Sam Moss, all of Wichita, to violate the liquor laws.

COW HAD BABIES

BALDWIN, Kans., Feb. 5. (AP)—Fifteen residents of the Pleasant

The animal was owned by I. S. Flory. Suspicious of its unusual actions a veterinary surgeon ordered it killed. An examination at the state laboratory revealed the cow was infected.

IT RUNS DOWN DEER

DELAND, Fla., Feb. 5. (AP)—Track coaches might look into this. Billy Mickle, local high school boy, went hunting and shot a deer, five times in all, but the deer kept going. Billy gave chase, caught the fleet animal and the Mickle had venison for several days.

GRAY COUNTY SCHOOL HEADS ORGANIZE ON WEDNESDAY

Cast Announced For First Little Theater Play To Be Presented Here

Group Gathers Here For Banquet At High School Plans Are Made For Holding Similar Meetings Monthly

Organization of the Superintendent and Principals club of Gray county was perfected and officers were named at a banquet Wednesday evening in the home economics room of the Pampa high school. The study of problems relating to school legislation is the purpose of the organization.

Supt. R. B. Fisher was named permanent chairman. Supt. John B. Hessey, secretary, and Principal Lyle Maxwell, members of the constitution and by-laws committee.

The group voted to hold regular banquets on the first Wednesday evening of each month, and invitation to Supt. E. G. Sanders to meet in LeFors next month was accepted.

Will Seek Convention

The organization planned to go to Lubbock in a body to attend the conference of the Northwest Texas Teachers association April 11 and to make every effort to bring the 1932 meeting to Pampa. H. A. Glass, principal of the organization, which was formed last year in that city.

Short talks on legislative problems were made by practically every official in attendance, and it is to be the object of the organization to assist in solving the individual problems.

Play Is Presented

Under the direction of Miss Arlene O'Keefe, "Mansions," prize-winning play, was presented by Dorothy Doucette, Joe Kahn, and Virginia Rose, local high school students.

The table was beautifully decorated for the occasion, red roses being furnished by Mrs. H. H. Hicks. Dishes were furnished by the Pampa Hardware and Panhandle Hardware stores.

Those Attending

Following are the school officials who were present: Bradford Bull, superintendent of the newly consolidated district 17, and Mrs. Bull; Supt. and Mrs. Everett Clark of Phillips camp; Miss Everett Daniels, principal of Woodrow Wilson school, Pampa; Supt. and Mrs. R. B. Fisher, Pampa; Supt. and Mrs. H. C. Robertson of Amarillo; Supt. and Mrs. E. G. Sanders of LeFors; R. A. Selby, principal of Pampa Junior High school; Principal and Mrs. L. L. Sons of Pampa High; Miss Josephine Thomas, principal of Horace Mann school, Pampa; Mr. and Mrs. P. T. Wilson of Hopkins; John Harding, principal of McLean high school, and Mrs. Harding; Principal Lyle Maxwell of Lakerton; Principal and Mrs. J. A. Meek of Baker school, Pampa; Principal and Mrs. A. L. Patrick of Sam Houston school, Pampa; County Supt. John B. Hessey and Mrs. Hessey; Jordan Miller, principal of the ward department at LeFors; Miss Arlene O'Keefe, dean of the girls in the Pampa high school.

FEMININE FANCIES

By HOLLYCE SELLERS

Perhaps the paramount subject taught in the local schools during the past month has been thrift. There have been no text books and no regular periods of the day designated for this subject but it has been successfully correlated with other studies. The movement is under the sponsorship of the Parent-Teacher associations and has its beginning with the observance of thrift week the first week in January.

Contests have been conducted in the making of thrift posters and in the writing of thrift themes, talks have been made on the subject, and plays with thrift obviously stressed, have been presented at the various P-T-A meetings. Scores of children have begun saving their money systematically, and the money which formerly went for candy and hamburgers now is being used to enlarge an account which the children take pride in watching grow.

In a contest sponsored by the P-T-A of Woodrow Wilson school, Loudene Cooper, fifth grade pupil of Mrs. M. A. Craft, was announced as winner of first place and John Williams of the same room took second place.

The article taking first place follows:

"Thrift is a great word in the English language. It means to save. Every child should be taught to save, for if he is allowed to spend his money foolishly while a child in later years he will never know what saving means."

"There are lots and lots of ways a child will spend his money. Most of the nickels and dimes one spends are spent for things that do not do any good. If one would save those nickels and dimes, perhaps you would soon have saved enough to buy something worth while."

"I think the savings banks are good things. If a child will start saving his money at an early age, by the time he gets ready for college he will have more saved than one can imagine."

"The budget is another good and easy way to save money, for in this case a person puts part of his earnings in the bank, in case of sickness or emergency he will have money."

"Lots of children will tear up things at school such as books, desks, and anything that might be torn up, and there is another expense. If we would think about these things we would have money for things more useful. If people would practice thrift all over the United States, there would not be so many poverty-stricken people. I know grown people that do not know the meaning of thrift."

"If we are wasteful, our parents won't be so willing to give us money when we really need it; but if we practice thrift they will nearly always give it to us, because they know it will not be spent foolishly."

Following is the article taking second place:

"Thrift is not a big word but it is a big thing. Some people do not realize what a nickel or dime means to them, but the richest man in the world today started out by saving a dime out of his salary each week, which was 50 cents a week."

"People should not get discouraged because their parents are poor, because they can some day be a great man or woman."

"There are free schools and free books to study from. There are many ways to work when you are grown, such as pilots, lawyers, firemen, carpenters, doctors, or nurses."

"Some people say a penny saved is a penny earned, and that is true. I believe, because you can save and add on to it until you get about a dollar and put it in a saving account in the bank, and if you stop going to the show and buying so much candy, by the time you are grown you will be a rich man or woman."

"One time there was a poor boy came into a church and said he wanted to join the church. So he joined. The people did not want anyone in their church but rich people. Later the same boy became the richest man in the world. This man is John D. Rockefeller. He owns so many oil wells that he does not know where they all are. That shows you what you can do if you try hard enough."

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Feb. 5. (AP) A dwelling has been built here in eight hours. The speed may be accounted for by the fact that 30 carpenters, 10 bricklayers, six laborers and a superintendent did the work. The local carpenters union built the house for one of their older fellow members who had been living at a charitable institution.

With 14 Contestants, Beauty Race Draws Much Interest at W.T.S.T.C.

CANYON, Feb. 5. — The beauty contest in progress at the West Texas State Teachers college, which is being sponsored by the Le Mirage college yearbook, is creating much interest on the campus, 14 girls having been entered in the race by organizations and classes of the college.

Miss Laura Blanche Atkinson of Dalhart is leading the race at the latest count, with Miss Jessie Louder of Canyon, second, and Miss Estelle Bourland of Canyon, third. A campaign manager has been appointed for each contestant by Wallace O'Keefe, business manager of Le Mirage, and a bulletin is posted each day showing the positions of the contestants.

The final choice of the favorites will be made after they have been cast in a play planned by the annual staff.

Parents' Help Is Needed In Giving Child Education

By MRS. G. C. MALONE
Sara Houston P-T-A President
He who has the most difficult of tasks, phrasing titles for other people's talks, was generous in phrasing this one. The title, "Parent-Teacher Association and the Elementary School" is certainly all embracing.

Rollo G. Reynolds of Columbia university says: "No teacher alone can teach a child. 'No school has a corner in education'; 'what has been builded can be torn down.' May these titles be presented in a little different fashion."

Parents Needed
Mark Hopkins, his boy and his log, as the picture of a great educational institution is a pretty fiction—at best only two-thirds true. Mark and he log are essential parts, but in the majority of cases Mark needs father and mother somewhere on the log with himself and the boy.

In the second place, your boy and girl learn more in a week on the street and in the home than in a month at the school.

Third, the school develops within the child knowledge, skills, habits, and attitudes. These not only need practice (which the school cannot give) for their perfection, but they can be neutralized and even nullified by contrary knowledge, skills, habits and attitudes created by the home and the world outside.

The conclusion which I would draw from my statements is that education is a cooperative enterprise that the two most concerned with the process are the home and the school, hence, the Parent-Teacher association.

Requirements Given
This partnership in the education of the child requires of each partner certain things.

The school should furnish (1) a philosophy of education in democracy; (2) skill in realizing this philosophy; (3) an understanding of the child; (4) an appreciation of all the child's environments, including the home.

The parent should contribute (1) the financial support of education; (2) a knowledge of the philosophy including modern education; (3) some knowledge of the skill required to realize this philosophy; (4) a willingness to so control, as far as he can, the environment of the child, particularly the home, so as not to neutralize or nullify the efforts of the school.

DOG RETRIEVES DYNAMITE
YORK, S. C., Feb. 5. (AP)—Armed with a stick of dynamite and followed by his faithful dog, James Smith, a farmer, went fishing.

He lit the fuse and tossed the sizzling explosive into the stream, then stepped back to watch the fish blow to the surface. But the dog, an expert retrieving object, swam out, seized the dynamite and headed back for shore.

Smith took one look and went away from there.

When he fell from exhaustion after a futile effort to outrun the dog, he found the fuse had been detached in the scramble.

Several Schools Represented At P-T-A Meeting

Practically every school in Pampa was represented on the program at a meeting of the Junior High School P-T-A Tuesday afternoon in the music room of the Lamar building. Mrs. Joe M. Smith, president, presided.

The meeting was opened in prayer by Mrs. Tom W. Brabham, and pupils of Miss Kathleen Beatty's room, Woodrow Wilson school, followed with a group of musical selections.

Play Is Presented
Of particular interest was the one-act play, "A Colored Revival," presented by the junior high school dramatic club under the direction of Miss Anne Louise Jones and Miss Opal Cox.

"Recreation in the School" was the subject used by A. L. Patrick, principal of Sam Houston school, who was chief speaker for the occasion. He stated that recreation and exercise are essential in the life of a child, and that games may be used as a means of instruction in initiative, leadership, cooperation, and other desirable characteristics. He then listed a number of games suitable for pupils of the junior high school age.

Mr. Patrick suggested that the following books be read by P-T-A members: "Health," by Scott, "Tumbling and Pyramid Building," "Games for Home and Playground," and "Games, Contests, and Relays."

"Morals," the speaker said, may be improved by recreation in that it teaches sportsmanship, clean language, and recognition of the rights of others.

Rev. Brabham spoke briefly on the comparative difference in the progress made in the school system in the past 25 years. He also touched briefly on the moral effect of athletics.

Principal R. A. Selby briefly discussed the advantages in the change of the curriculum of the last semester.

Tells Of Work
Mrs. J. E. Townsend, president of Woodrow Wilson P-T-A, told of the work her organization has done, stating that an outstanding accomplishment was the creating of a child welfare board.

Mrs. J. H. Blythe said that the coming year's goal of the Baker P-T-A, of which she is president, is the installing of a school cafeteria.

J. A. Meek, principal of Baker school, told of charity work and the improvements made in playground equipment at that school, explaining also the contemplated improvements.

A. L. Patrick then outlined the work in Sam Houston school.

Fellowship Important
Mrs. G. H. Wallace, high school P-T-A, president, stated that the fellowship achieved between parents and teachers had proved very valuable to high school. She discussed the possibilities of visual education. The Lord's prayer in unison was given in closing the meeting.

WYOMING MAN WILL MEET CLINGMAN ON MAT TONIGHT

PETE STECHER COMES FROM MAT FAMILY

Brother of Famous Joe is Clever; Preliminaries to Start at 8:30 o'Clock at the Pla-Mor.

Otto Klingman today awaited the going which tonight will send him into action against Pete Stecher, the Wyoming cowpuncher who turned to swapping punches on the mat.

He had a rather definite campaign mapped out, with the Boston mat in readiness for the visitor. This hold has been practiced by the local man for several weeks. If the invader is too cautious to permit the use, there is another trick which will come in handy.

Stecher is a brother of the famous Joe, former world's heavy-weight champ. Although relatively new to the mat, he knows the sport thoroughly and is very tricky.

Preliminaries, with Tulsa Flann and Red Michael, will start at 8:30 o'clock at the Pla-Mor.

College Enrollment Larger Than Ever

CANTON, Feb. 5. (Special).—The Panhandle of Texas has another evidence that it is in the white spot of the United States in the attendance at the West Texas State Teachers college. At the present time the names of 1,487 students appear on the rolls of the college. This does not include more than 500 club women who are taking extension courses from the college. These are not included because the women do not receive college credit for the work done.

It was generally supposed by the college administrators that there would be a large number of withdrawals from the college at the beginning of the winter term due to the economic conditions prevailing. Actually the gain in attendance came within one of balancing all the losses sustained from the opening of the college in the fall to the present time.

*FILLING BIG SHOES

COLUMBUS, Ohio. (AP)—Ohio State nominates Jack Keller, a sophomore hurdler, to fill the flashiest, point-scoring shoes of George Simpson, the sprinter, who ended his college career last summer.

Keller's high school career was even more promising than that of Simpson.

Not only is Keller expected to attack records in the high and low hurdles, but Coach Frank Castleman hopes to use him in the dashes of indoor meets.

When Simpson was graduated he held two national intercollegiate championships at 220 yards and one at 100 yards. He set the N. C. A. A. century record of 9.4 seconds, of which Frank Wyckoff of Southern California is a co-holder. Simpson was not defeated on his home track in the three years of his college racing.

Keller broke all state high school hurdle records; won both high and low hurdles at the national interscholastic meet in Chicago in June, 1929.

On that occasion he equalled the record of 15.3 seconds for 120-yard hurdles and established a new mark of 24 seconds for the 220-yard low hurdles.

Both of Keller's coaches, Dr. Castleman and Larry Snyder, were hurdlers. Castleman at Colgate and Snyder at Ohio.

JACK KELLER, hurdler, Castleman at Colgate and Snyder at Ohio.

Babe Ruth Likes New "Dead Ball"

NEW YORK, Feb. 5. (AP)—The prospect of having to hit a changed ball during the 1931 baseball season does not worry Babe Ruth at all. In fact, he rather likes the idea.

"Say, you can make that ball all over and let the stitches stick out like grapevines and I'll still hit it," was the Babe's opinion on recent changes in the pellet. "I hit that ball when it was said to be dead, back in 1919 and 1920, and I nailed a lot of those 'dead' balls a lot of feet."

"The ball will go if it's hit. The good thing about the new arrangement is that a lot of poorly hit balls won't go so far. There won't be the percentage of fluke homers there has been."

Mrs. Cecil Taylor Given Acquittal

PAINT ROCK, Feb. 5. (AP)—Mrs. Cecil Taylor was acquitted here yesterday of a charge of murder in connection with the fatal shooting of her husband, former San Angelo automobile dealer. The jury deliberated only 12 minutes. She had pleaded self-defense.

Taylor was shot Sept. 1, 1929, at the ranch home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Jacoby, parents of Mrs. Taylor, where she was staying with the two Taylor children. She testified she fired two shots before Taylor broke the latch on the door and started into the house in an effort to get the children. The couple had been estranged.

It was considered likely the companion case of Boyd Jacoby, Mrs. Taylor's brother, would be continued by agreement.

Rogers Will Be In Stillwater Next

DURANT, Okla., Feb. 5. (AP)—With $20,000 in the box for Oklahoma's needy Will Rogers turned over to another college town, Stillwater, for the first of three shows.

From Stillwater, Capt. Frank Hawks will pilot Rogers to Tulsa for a 2 o'clock matinee, and thence to Ponca City for an evening performance.

Last night Rogers told Southeastern college students, who composed most of his audience here, his views on educational theories supposedly held by Gov. William H. Murray.

"I'm here lobbying with Bill Murray to have the teachers' salaries cut. The governor wants to curtail education. I think it should be abolished altogether."

GIANT BOXER MAY HAVE TO QUIT CAREER

Bout Declared to Be No Contest—Hansen Falls to Canvas Without His Rival Slugging Him.

CHICAGO, Feb. 5. (AP)—Any plans for building Joe Santa, giant Portuguese heavy-weight, into a career-sized attraction are at a standstill today, pending the regular meeting of the Illinois State Athletic commission next Tuesday.

Santa, 6 feet 8 inches tall and weighing 225 pounds, and Knute Hansen, the sprinter, who ended his college career last summer, were sent from the ring in the second round after Hansen had gone to the canvas four times, the last time apparently without having been hit. Referee Dave Miller refused to count him out, declaring the bout no contest. The purpose of both fighters was ordered withheld by Gen. John V. Clinton, president of the National Boxing association, and chairman of the Illinois commission.

General Clinton said both men would be required to appear before the commission Tuesday and "show cause why both of them should not quit fighting."

The bout was the last of four 10-rounders on a card that attracted the smallest attendance in the history of the stadium. The crowd was 4,894 with gross receipts of $10,051.72. Larry Johnson, Chicago negro, making his first start as a heavy-weight, knocked out Martin Gallagher of Washington, D. C., in the second round of the third 10-rounder; Harry Ebbetts of Brooklyn, outpointed Willie Oster, Boston Irishweight, in six; Elie Francis, Italian, beatweights, outclassed Georgia Nate of South Bend, Ind., in six.

Big Ten Champ On Grid Again Near Net Title

CHICAGO, Feb. 5. (AP)—The halfway mark in the Western conference basketball championship—mid-year status—found Northwestern in a position to duplicate a rare performance by winning the basketball flag after annexing the football championship.

Fordham did it last year, losing not a conference game in either sport.

Northwestern was not defeated in football by a Big Ten opponent, and the basketball team won its first four games easily, defeating Michigan twice, Illinois and Ohio once. At mid-year all other conference teams had lost. Indiana, with only one defeat marring its record, and that by a one-point loss, appears to be the only serious rival of Northwestern. The Hoosiers, however, have the more difficult schedule.

Early season games placed a strange transference of not teams at the top of the conference. In past years the edge race has been confined to Wisconsin, Indiana, Purdue and Michigan, but this year Chicago and Minnesota, with Northwestern, occupy the first division. Both Michigan and Wisconsin lost three of their first six games.

Senator Schall Renews Attack

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5. (AP)—Senator Schall, republican, Minnesota, today resumed his attack on Attorney General Mitchell for the latter's refusal to endorse Ernest Michel as federal judge for Minnesota.

Schall, in a formal statement, said Mitchell was "dying" the constitutional injunction that nominations be made "with the advice and consent" of the senate. He cited a letter, written by Mitchell in connection with the appointment of John J. Parker of North Carolina to the supreme court.

"The whole purpose of the letter," Schall said, "was to show that the Parker nomination originated entirely with Mitchell. Well it is to be hoped that he is still proud of it for no one else appears to be."

It is well recognized now that the nomination, by alienating the labor and colored vote, caused the loss of several states from the republican party in the recent election. Of course, that does not disturb Mr. Mitchell. As a democrat he considers it his duty to himself at the very least to be able to salve the republicans from the inside."

Schall also renewed his criticism of Mitchell for his part in the government's attempt to collect $1,000,000 from the estate of Mrs. James J. Hill. Mitchell, Schall said, appeared as a witness in the case before the circuit court, and Mitchell's testimony, he said, constituted about a third of the judge's opinion.

"An ordinary sense of decency," said the senator, "would have precluded Mitchell from appearing in any capacity before judges who had been made to feel that their future promotion depended upon him."

Kamm Is Likely To Be Traded To Cleveland Club

CHICAGO, Feb. 5. (AP)—The name of Willie Kamm is still on the Chicago White Sox roster, but reports persist that it won't be there when the American league championship season opens.

Manager Donie Bush will be in Chicago tomorrow or Friday and it is expected he will go back to work on a proposed trade with Cleveland, in which Kamm, who cost the Sox $100,000, would be exchanged for First Baseman Lew Fonseca.

The Sox' chances for obtaining Fonseca, however, appear to depend on whether the Indians talk Dick Morgan, who played first base last season when Fonseca was injured, into signing.

Such was said to have been dissatisfied with Kamm's work last season, and has intimated that Chalmers Clesell, whose purchase price was $125,000, and who has not functioned up to standard either at second base or short stop, will be traded at third.

Not a "Tennis Bum"

So George Kott didn't say anything about becoming a "tennis bum" after all. George says so himself in a recent issue of American Lawn Tennis, an illustrated magazine devoted exclusively to the game.

George writes to the editor in this fashion:

"I would like for once and all to deny that I have ever made any reference to a 'tennis bum'. What I did say, and I said it to you, was that I did not see how anyone could possibly be successful in business and still give four months a year to competitive tennis. I added that I expected to start to work in the fall. The inference drawn from this was the result of some of our sensational New York sports writers. As a matter of fact, immediately after I was reported to have taken a stand I did not take, I received about a dozen letters from successful business men throughout the country commending me upon this stand."

What Are We to Infer?

This pillar of truth and enlightenment is vastly interested in George's denial, since at the time some comment was made here regarding his position. But it is not so much this which seems interesting now—it is the fact that George received all these letters from business men, praising him for the stand he says were thought up by the "sensational New York sports writers."

In this pillar to infer that these 12 letters represent the views of all successful business men in the matter of amateur tennis? George's letter makes no mention of any one.

Successful business men condemning his stand on tennis bump. Not a sporting voice is raised from the ranks of the successful business men defending amateur tennis as it is today.

In Low Estate?

Do the nation's successful business men think amateur tennis is bunk? Or were these 12 letters from crabbled old gentlemen who have played tennis above sports of all sorts?

Surely you would think there was one successful business man in this broad country who would write to George in this manner:

"Amateur tennis I regard as the

Murder At Bridge

BEGIN HERE TODAY

A number of people could have killed JUANITA SELIM at her bridge party: JUDGE MARSHALL, her landlord, to whom she paid no rent, and owner of the man and woman with which she was shot, was one. JOHN DRAKE was another. FLORA MILES, in Nita's closet at the time of the murder, reading a note she thinks is from her husband, but which is from DEXTER SPRAGUE, is another. CLAVE HAMMOND and POLY BEALE, who were in the salaried together, and JANET RAYMOND, in love with Sprague, also are suspected.

DUNDEE believes that Nita, recognizing one of these six in a group photograph, came down from New York for blackmail, receiving $10,000 and a bullet, and he wants Sprague not to carry on the scheme. Nita's will and the fact that she had Sprague contrive a bell near her bed to summon LYDIA show she feared death. Police think Nita was killed by a New York gunman.

Nita had burned papers, intending to marry RALPH HAMMOND, and Dundee thinks the murderer will return, looking for them. At the office Thursday morning, Penny Crain is telling him of an impromptu bridge party Wednesday at the Miles home, to which Sprague came uninvited, when the telephone rings, with the news of Sprague's murder. His body is found in the trophy room at the Miles' home. Penny says that Sprague disappeared mysteriously from the party, that Miles quarreled with Flora over him, and Dundee learns that all six of the original suspects had opportunity to kill him.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXXVII

The Miles home, still known in Hamilton as the Hackett place, since it had been built more than 30 years before by Flora's father, old Silas Hackett, dead these seven years, dominated one of the most beautiful of the wooded hills which encircled Mirror Lake in the Broadwood section. Of modified Tudor architecture, its deep red, mellowed bricks had achieved in three decades almost the same aged dignity and impressiveness that characterized the three-century-old mansion in England which Silas Hackett's architect had used as an inspiration.

The big house faced the lake, a long series of hand-carved terraces leading down to the water's edge, but the driveway wound from the state road up a side hill, to the main entrance at the rear of the house.

Once before—on Sunday, the day after Nita Selim's murder, when he had come to interview Lydia Carr and had secured the alibi which had eliminated Dexter Sprague as a suspect—Dundee had driven his car up this hill between the tall yew hedges. But then he had taken the fork which led to the hooded doorway over the kitchen; had descended the kitchen stairs with Lydia, to the servants' sitting room in the basement. Now he continued along the main driveway to the more impressive entrance, whose flanking, slim turrets frowned down upon a line of police cars and motorcycles.

His approach must have been expected and observed for it was the master of the house who opened the great, iron-studded doors and invited him into the broad main hall, at the end of which, down three steps, lay the immense living room. The detective's first glance took in stately arm chairs of the Cromwell period, thick shagpile, and in the living room beyond, splendid examples of Jacobean furniture. In all this dignified but simple grandeur only Tracey Miles—short, stout, black, the typical business Babbitt—struck a false note.

"A horrible thing to happen in a man's home, Dundee," Miles was saying, his plump, rosy face blighted with horror. "I can't realize yet that we actually slept as usual with a corpse lying down here all night!"

And I have only myself to blame—" "What do you mean?" Dundee asked. "Why, that the body wasn't discovered sooner," Miles explained. "If it had occurred to me that Whitson hadn't closed the trophy room window, I should have gone in to close and look them when I made the rounds of living room, dining room and library, after our guests were gone last night."

A pale-faced, bald-headed butler had materialized while his master was speaking. "Beg pardon, sir, but I did not close the trophy room window because I thought you might be using the room again. You see, sir," and Whitson turned to Dundee. "Mr. Miles and Mr. Dunlap played ping-pong in the trophy room after dinner until the other guests began to arrive, and I did not want them to find the room stuffy—it was a warm night—if any of the guests—"

"I see," Dundee interrupted. "Who, to your knowledge, was the last person to enter the trophy room last night, Mr. Miles?" "I was, except Sprague, of course, and I had no idea he'd gone there. Drake wanted to play anagrams, and before the bridge game started, I went to the trophy room to get the box," Miles explained. "I turned off the light when I'd got the box, and there was no light burning in there this morning when Celia, the parlor maid, went in there to put the anagram box back in the cabinet, and—found the body."

"Flora—Mrs. Miles—had brought the anagrams in from the porch and left them on a table in the living room, as our guests were getting ready to leave. There was nothing new to bring in, in case of rain. The bridge tables are of iron, covered with oilcloth, and fitted with oilcloth bags for the cards, score pads, and pencils—"

"Yes, I know," Dundee interrupted. "Miss Crain has already told me all about that, and a good many details of the party itself. . . . By the way, where is Mrs. Miles now?" "In bed. The doctor is with her. She is prostrated from the shock."

"Where is this room you call the trophy room?" Dundee asked. "No, don't bother to come with me. Just point it out. It's on this floor, I understand."

Miles pointed past the great circular staircase that wound upward from the main hall. "You can't see the door from here, but it's behind the staircase. Celia found the door closed this morning, and no light on, as said—"

Dundee cut him short by marching toward the door which was again closed. He entered so noiselessly that Captain Strawn, Dr. Price and the fingerprint expert, Carraway, did not hear him. For a moment he stood just inside the door and let his eyes wander about the room which Penny had already described. It was not a large room—12 by 14 feet, possibly—but it looked smaller, crowded as it was with the long pingpong table, bags of golf clubs, fishing tackle, tennis racquets, skis and sleds. There were two windows in the north wall of the room, looking out upon the yew-hedged driveway and between them stood a cabinet of numerous big and little drawers.

Not until he had taken in the general aspect of the room did Dundee look at the thing over which Captain Strawn and the coroner were bending—the body of Dexter Sprague.

The alien from New York had fallen about four feet from the window nearer the east wall of the trophy room. He lay on his side, his left cheek against the floor, the fingers of his left hand still clutching the powder-burned boom of his left shirt, now stiff with dried blood, a pool of which had formed and then half congealed upon the rug. The right hand, the fingers half curled but not touching each other, lay palm-upward on the floor at the end of the rigid, outstretched arm. The one visible eye was half open, but on the sallow, thin face, which had been strikingly handsome in an obvious sort of way, was a peace and dignity which Dundee had never seen upon Sprague's face when the man was alive. The left leg was drawn upward so that the knee almost touched the bullet pierce stomach.

"How long has he been dead, doctor?" Dundee asked quietly. "Hello, boy!" Dr. Price greeted him placidly. "Always the same question! I've been here only a few minutes, and I've already told Strawn that I shall probably be unable to fix the hour of death with any degree of accuracy."

Took your time, didn't you, Dundee? Captain Strawn greeted his former subordinate on the homely, but not unkindly, face of the doctor. "Doc says he's been dead between 10 and 12 hours. Since it's nearly 10 now, that means Sprague was killed sometime between nine and 11 o'clock last night."

"Better say between nine o'clock and midnight last night," Dr. Price suggested. "He may have lived an hour or more—unconscious, of course. For the indications are that he did not die instantly, but staggered a few steps, clutching at the wound. . . . But of course I shall to perform an autopsy first—"

Dundee crossed the room, stepping over the dead man's stick—a swank affair of dark, polished wood, with a heavy knob of carved ivory, which lay about a foot beyond the reach of the curled fingers of the stiff right hand.

"Sprague's hat?" he asked, pointing to a brightly banded straw which lay upon the top of the cabinet.

"Yes," Strawn answered. "And did you notice the window screen?" He pointed to the window in front of which the body lay. The sash of leaded panes was raised as high as it would go, and beneath it was a screen of the roller-curtain type, raised about six inches from the window sill. A pair of curved, nickel-plated catches in the center of the inch-wide metal band on the bottom of the copper curtain showed how the screen was raised or lowered.

Dundee nodded, frowning, and Strawn began eagerly: "You'll have to admit I was right now, boy. You've sneered at my gunman theory and tried to pin Nita's murder on one of Hamilton's finest bunch of people, but you'll have to admit now that every detail of this setup bears me out."

"Yes?" "Sure. This is the way I figure it out: Sprague has good reason to be afraid he's next on the program. He's nervous. He hops a taxi at his hotel and comes here—can't stick to his room any longer. Wants a little human companionship. This crowd here—and I have Miles' word for it—ain't any too glad to see him, and shows it. He phones for a taxi to go back to his hotel, about 9:15, that was, Miles says, but decides to wait to go back out on the porch and lie about having a good time, when he hasn't. . . . Well, he opens the front door, or what would be the front door when it was any ordinary house, but before he steps out he hears something—probably a rustling in the hedge across the driveway, or maybe he even sees a face, in the light from the lanterns on each side of the door.

"He feels sure Miles' murderer has trailed him. In a panic he darts into this room, and don't turn on the light for fear he'll be seen from the windows, but he can see well enough to make out how the 'green work' I'll bet you anything you like Sprague stayed in this room for an hour or two, till he thought the coast was clear, then he crept up this screen, intending to climb out of the window and drop to the ground. . . . Not much of a drop at that. You can see that the tall hedge on this side of the driveway comes pretty near up to the window. Well, I figure he laid his hat on this cabinet, intending to reach in for it when he was outside, but that his made some little noise which the gunman was listening for, and that when he got the screen up, this high, the gunman, crouching under the window, let go with the same gun and silence that he used to bump off Nita. . . . I've got Miles' word for it that neither he nor anybody else heard a shot. . . . Of course, nobody knew Sprague was in here, and since his hat and stick and body were a slightly bewildered look on his heavy old face.

"That's funny. . . . Collins, the lad I sent to check up on the taxi companies, says he's located the driver, that answered Sprague's call last night. The driver says he was told to wait for Sprague at the foot of the hill on the main road; says he waited there until half past 10, then went on back to town, so're'n a boiled owl."

"It doesn't look exactly as if Sprague were afraid of anyone outside of this house last night, does it?" Dundee asked. "By the way, I suppose you've sent for everyone who was here?" "Sure." But again Captain Strawn looked uncomfortable. "But we haven't been able to locate the Beale girl and Olive Hammond." (To be continued.)

Biggest Summer School Planned

CANYON, Feb. 5. (Special)—Plans are being made by the administration of the West Texas State Teachers' college for the greatest summer school that the institution has ever had.

The session will begin on June 3 and continue for 12 weeks, the work being arranged in two terms of six weeks each so that students can attend all summer or a part of the summer with equal advantage. The second summer term begins on July 16.

President Hill has announced that in addition to his regular faculty several outstanding school men will be brought to Canyon for all or part of the summer.

The recreational opportunities offered by the Palo Duro canyon, the proximity of Carlsbad Cavern and the short distance to the mountains of New Mexico are being emphasized by the college authorities. Besides these attractions an elaborate campus recreational program is being worked out through the department of physical education and the student welfare committee of the faculty.

Chevrolet Is To Advertise to Get Needed Business

DALLAS, Feb. 5. (AP)—"Advocating 'Buy Now' campaigns and talking about the return of prosperity are not harmful gestures, but they are not nearly so effective as actually doing something," declared Felix Doran Jr., southwest regional manager of the Chevrolet Motor company.

Mr. Doran has just returned from Detroit, where he attended a meeting of Chevrolet and General Motors officials. Purpose of the meeting was organization of sales plans to meet increase in business promised by 1931.

"While others are talking about business," Chevrolet is going after it," Mr. Doran stated. "Instead of waiting for business to come to it, the Chevrolet Motor company has already laid plans to build and sell one million cars in 1931. The material for these cars has already been contracted for and thousands of men are at work fashioning the material into automotive parts. Thousands of additional factory men and salesmen have been hired to properly build and sell the manufactured units. Chevrolet Motor company is showing its faith in this country by expending millions of dollars in these operations. The powerful General Motors financing institution allied with Chevrolet is ready to finance cars on terms agreeable to the purchasers. Bankers have been apprised of our plans and dealers have no financial worries on that score.

"Sales of Chevrolet in this section clear through this city, which helps to swell payrolls here and, in the course of a year, puts many dollars into circulation for salaries, advertising and the many lines of business which today are aided with the automobile. Chevrolet plans for greater expenditure this year. We are confident we are going ahead."

BEWARE THE COUGH FROM COLDS THAT HANG ON

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs. Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

ABRAHAM LINCOLN

Born February 12, 1809. Fifty-one years later he was elected President of the United States, and within two months announced that there should be no human slavery in Territories of the United States. On January 1, 1863, he issued his famous proclamation freeing all slaves, including those in States then fighting for the right to secede.

Lincoln's stand on the question of human slavery led to the war between the states which was fought, however, over the right of states to leave the Union.

Slavery still exists in America today—not the kind of slavery common before the war between the states but the slavery of the family wash, dirty dishes, cooking, house-cleaning. It is a form of human slavery for which there is no excuse because there now exists an army of mechanical slaves—kilowatts of electrical energy—ready and willing to do the work in the home for an insignificant wage.

Let these tireless slaves do the work, manual labor in your home, just as they are doing in industry and in almost every other line of human endeavor.

Discover Way to Quickly Conquer Dangerous Cough

Science has at last worked out a new cough remedy, entirely different from the ordinary "coughing" remedy, that merely moistens the throat and then temporarily deadens the cough with opium, morphine, chloroform or alcohol. Those who have tried everything for a stubborn, miserable cough that has defied the system with its constant racking and lays you open to fatal diseases can, with this new discovery, get complete relief in 5 hours.

This new remedy, known as Mentodene, gets right down to the cause of the cough. It is based upon a new way of taking menthol internally in a pleasant-tasting liquid. Everybody knows how menthol, even when just inhaled, "clears out the pipes," soothes rawness, loosens phlegm and kills a cough quickly. When taken internally in this new combination with other healing ingredients—acting in direct contact with the irritated throat lining—it is 10 times more effective.

Furthermore, Mentodene at once works its way all through the system, clearing out the cough, cold and bronchitis that cause "headache, fever, etc." and builds up the entire system. So a cough that has hung on for weeks goes in a short time.

Make this amazing overnight test without risking a penny. Get a bottle of Mentodene today from your druggist and take as directed. No matter how severe your cough or how long you have had it, if you do not have a thoroughly comfortable and cough-free night, and if you don't feel 100 per cent better in the morning, make return your money. Start today. adv.-4

TODAY'S RADIO

By C. E. BUTTERFIELD
Associated Press Radio Editor.
(Time is Central Standard)

NEW YORK, Feb. 5. (P)—Approximately 155 American broadcast stations will carry the address of Pope Pius XI, planned for February 12. Arrangements are now being made to include every unit of the two chains, National and Columbia, in the rebroadcast of the program from Vatican City which will inaugurate HVJ, the new short wave station there.

The NBC network will comprise 74 stations in addition to three New York transmitters not regularly a part of this chain. They are WOR, WNYC, and WQCD. The CBS hookup will number 78. Besides the broadcast stations a number of short waves are expected to join in the transmission.

Definite decision to move Major Bowes family program from Sunday night to Friday has been made. The change of this WEAF feature goes into effect March 6, the time to be 6 to 7 p. m., and giving the family an hour instead of a half hour. This move is preliminary to increasing the Maurice Chevalier Sunday night broadcast from a half hour to an hour, starting March 8.

Try these on your radio tonight: "Daddy and Bello," sketch set, WABC and stations at 6:45.

Eddie Cantor, comedian, as guest of Rudy Vallee's orchestra, from Miami, Fla., over WEAF and chain at 7.

The first nighter production, "He played Her Part," WJZ group at 7.

John McCormack, Irish tenor, singing in Orchestra Melodies via the WJZ hookup at 8:30.

Melody Moments, with Eugene Ormandy, conductor, as violin soloist, WEAF network at 8:30.

Opening of the weekly Radio Roundups on WABC and chain at 9:30, with a different group of guest stars in each program.

Talk by Mrs. Victor Bruce, aviatrix, on her experiences, WEAF and stations at 10, followed by Florence Richardson's orchestra at 10:15.

Choir Director Killed by Veteran

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Feb. 5. (P)—A young choir director and radio singer, Floyd McKissack, 22, was shot to death last night and a close friend, Oscar Neely, 39, who police said had been made insane by the after effects of wartime shell-shock, was held today as the slayer.

Five shotgun slugs killed McKissack as he rummaged for a late evening meal in the kitchen of Mrs. Joe Kennedy, his landlady and Neely's sister. Mrs. Kennedy's husband is a police sergeant.

McKissack had come home after completing his weekly broadcast on radio station WMC with a solo, "Now That the Day Is Over." Sur-rendering voluntarily, Neely told police:

"I wanted to kill them all. They were after Joe's (Joe Kennedy) property and Joe was my friend. When I saw Floyd standing there in the kitchen eating Joe's food, I couldn't stand it."

Neely said he had been in the army and was suffering from shell-shock. He said he had been in the army and was suffering from shell-shock.

Out of Jail, He Runs For Mayor

NEA Chicago Bureau
Having just finished a two-year term in Leavenworth prison, former Mayor Marshall D. McCormack, above, of Herrin, Ill., has announced his candidacy for mayor again, desiring that he was freed by politicians on charges of taking protection money from bootleggers and asserting that he wants "vindication." He was serving his second term as mayor when convicted.

Death Sentence Is Given Lovett

EL RENO, Okla., Feb. 5. (P)—District Judge Lucius Babcock today sentenced to death Henry Lovett, Chickasha, for the fatal shooting of Dee Polart, high school coach, during an attempted robbery of the First National bank here last November.

Judge Babcock fixed date of execution April 17.

James Mather, Lovett's attorney, filed notice of appeal.

Lovett, accused holdup man, was convicted of slaying Polart, a customer in the bank. Lovett, also was wounded.

Tells How To Get Rid of Stubborn Torturing ECZEMA

Don't waste time with makeshifts. It takes something powerful to put eczema out of business—and Emerald Oil is a concentrated, powerful antiseptic—it's effective. It does the work and a generous bottle costs but 25 cents.

It will stop the itching promptly and in a short time rid you of bothersome fiery eczema or you can get your money back from Fatheree Drug Stores or any other good druggist.

Note: Being such an effective antiseptic remedy, Moore's Emerald Oil is much used and with splendid results for broken Varicose Veins, Skin Blemishes, Itching Skin, Pimples, Acne and Psoriasis. Remember also that Adhesive Foot is caused by germs which germicidal Emerald Oil kills, then the itching of feet and toes stops and feet are healthy again. Dial Ranch In Court Again As Case Is Reversed

AMARILLO, Feb. 5. (P)—The now famous Dial ranch suit, involving oil lands in Hutchinson county once valued at $30,000,000, is back in litigation, the Seventh Court of Civil Appeals, Amarillo, having reversed the lower court in denying the claims of Mrs. Gertrude A. Dial and her two minor children to a half interest in the property.

After five years before the courts, the case is scheduled for return to the trial court or for appeal. Attorneys for the more than a dozen oil companies and individuals who hold title to the lands and mineral rights say the case will be appealed. Originating in the Hutchinson county district court in March, 1926, the case was once settled by consent, refilled six months later at Stinson, transferred to federal court in Amarillo, sent back to Stinson for want of jurisdiction, then transferred to Potter county by agreement of attorneys. It was thrown out of court on a general demurrer, but an appeal resulted in a reversal.

Testimony was first heard by a court almost a year ago, and Judge W. E. Gee of the 108th judicial district instructed the jury to return a verdict against Mrs. Dial and her children. The plaintiffs' attorneys appealed, and the case was reversed. Now attorneys for the defendants are appealing.

Meanwhile, more than $6,000,000 worth of oil and gas has been taken from the 11,046 acres of land.

Because of the slump in the petroleum industry, the old ranch now is probably not worth more than 12 or 15 millions of dollars. The mineral rights continue to be exploited to the profits of the leaseholders, and if the case is kept in court many more years, it is probable that the land at time of settlement will be worth only a small part of its value at the time the suit was filed in 1926. Lloyd Fletcher, attorney for the children, said.

Claiming half interest in the property, Mrs. Dial and the children first filed suit to have the deed of conveyance, and the oil and gas leases set aside, charging that they were fraudulently obtained and were not binding on them. That claim, in which they asked for $350,000, was settled for $212,500, being divided equally between Mrs. Dial and the children. A special term of Hutchinson county court was called to enter the judgment, June 19, 1926.

In December of the same year a new suit was filed to set aside the deed of conveyance, the mineral rights and the former agreement. It is this case that is still before the courts.

The suit is based on the settlement of a ranch partnership between J. C. Dial, deceased, and his brother, C. L. Dial. When J. C. Dial died in 1918, leaving his widow and two minor children, the ranch continued to operate on a partnership basis which, attorneys claim, was contrary to the statutes. It became involved in its obligations that a deed of conveyance was signed, with an understanding that the purchasers would pay off the debt. Mrs. Dial signed the deed as independent executrix for the children. A well was being drilled at that time but no showing of oil or gas had been obtained.

The court of civil appeals found that Mrs. Dial was not the independent executrix for the children and that she should have obtained permission of the court, thus protecting her husband's will before signing the deed back in 1922.

Defendants include N. E. Martin, George E. Martin, and J. J. Perkins, Hutchinson county; W. B. Hamilton, Wichita Falls; W. H. Hamilton, Dallas; W. D. Cline, Wichita Falls; Continental Oil company, Gulf Production company, Panhandle Refining company, Phillips Petroleum company, Gold-Elaine Oil corporation, American Petroleum company, et al.

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 5. (P)—Second earth tremor in New Mexico last night was reported in Kansas City before the windows of Albuquerque stopped rattling. With the report came assurance property damage was slight.

Sheriff Engages In Fight—Falls And Fractures Skull

JACKSON, Miss., Feb. 5. (P)—Attending the challenge of a political adversary to take off his badge and get a beating "all over the court-house," Sheriff Tom Moore, of Hinds county, yesterday engaged in a fist fight with Kenneth E. Klinker and ended with a fractured skull.

Physicians today said they believed the sheriff would recover.

Klinker, a railroad engineer, was arrested by deputies and held without formal charge.

Moore's deputies said Klinker had some words with Moore over an old political campaign argument and was escorted from the building by officers.

Obtaining permission to return and apologize, Klinker went back into the courthouse and the fist fight resumed.

Klinker's face was bruised.

SHERIFF MISSING FLIES

EL PASO, Feb. 5. (P)—Three rights of cadets from Kelly field, San Antonio, were to take off today in search for Cadet Donnelly of an attack squadron, who has been missing since he left Fort Sill, Okla., at 10:30 a. m. yesterday.

Forty-nine ships came through and landed late Tuesday at Biggs field, El Paso.

New Zealand City Abandoned

NAPIER, N. Z., Feb. 5. (P)—Frightened by new tremors which toppled standing buildings about the heads of rescue squads, authorities today speeded up complete evacuation of this once beautiful seaport.

An appeal was sent to railroad officials at Wellington to provide rolling stock necessary to take refugees from this city and the surrounding country to camps where they can be cared for until sanitary conditions can be restored here.

With every hour the death toll has mounted and Red Cross officials said the number of dead in Napier, Hastings, and surrounding villages stricken by Tuesday's quakes, would mount well past 1,000. Thousands are injured and virtually everyone is homeless.

Deafens of the stricken citizenry to make last visits to the shanties which were their homes is complicating evacuation. Many have insisted upon returning to their former residences and searching the ruins for valuables, relics, and the like. Authorities have clamped down on this as dangerous and as liable to result in further casualties.

The sewage systems have all been destroyed and if any great number of people remain in the devastated zone much longer pestilence may be expected. The British steamer, Veronic, which was in the harbor when the quake occurred, has asked for new demolition stores to level buildings which are considered hazards.

Rescue squads have confined their activities principally to digging out bodies from the debris. Tonight two women were found alive in a ruined house and extricated. They had been imprisoned since Tuesday morning.

Premier Forbes today designated Sunday as a national day of mourning. Churches of all denominations were asked to arrange appropriate services.

Gambling Ship Is In Difficulty

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Feb. 5. (P)—The luxurious gambling ship Monte Carlo, victim of the vagaries of chance and whims of the sea, lay today at anchor off Egmont Key.

Financial difficulties, which caused the closing of her gaming devices

Monday, were augmented by a physical disability yesterday when the Monte Carlo broke loose from her moorings in the gulf. Coast guard cutters got new anchors aboard the 300-foot ship before the shoals were reached.

Today she lay within the international rights of the law so to speak, and therein was another difficulty. A writ of attachment, sworn to by a creditor of the ship, was in the hands of Sheriff Roy Booth.

The Monte Carlo opened its brief life with the new year. Speed boats conveyed guests to a location outside the three-mile limit.

There were dice games, card tables, roulette wheels, hazard tables, the silvered wheel of fortune and the "bird cage" table but the majority of the gambling was done at the five, ten and twenty-five cent slot machines.

LUCKIES are always kind to your throat

The advice of your physician is: Keep out of doors, in the open air, breathe deeply; take plenty of exercise in the mellow sunshine, and have a periodic check-up on the health of your body.

Everyone knows that sunshine mellow — that's why the "TOASTING" process includes the use of the Ultra Violet Rays. LUCKY STRIKE—made of the finest tobaccos—the Cream of the Crop—THEN—"IT'S TOASTED"—an extra, secret heating process. Harsh irritants present in all raw tobaccos are expelled by "TOASTING." These irritants are sold to others. They are not present in your LUCKY STRIKE. No wonder LUCKIES are always kind to your throat.

The Rivalry of Achievement

In all probability, you'd be surprised if you could see the carrier boys' room at the hour the editions start tumbling from the presses. Or your local news distributing station when our truck arrives. Every carrier is on the alert, eager to receive his quota of papers, all impatient to be off on his route. There's a good reason, naturally. Each lad feels it an obligation to "his customers" to try to get the News and Post on their doorsteps BEFORE the time they expect it. And each wants to beat the other fellow's record for prompt delivery. Such an attitude makes for real service.

Wheat Program Is Endangered by High Production

BISMARCK, N. D., Feb. 5. (AP)—The prospect that the grain stabilization corporation must abandon its artificial maintenance of the domestic wheat market unless American growers sharply reduce acreage was outlined today by Governor Blavier by Chairman Legge of the Farm board.

Since mid-November the corporation has held domestic prices above the world level.

The chairman reviewed in a letter an ever-increasing world production to more than 20 per cent in recent years without a corresponding increase in consuming demand.

Unless American growers can see their way clear to production of wheat on a scale permitting disposition of prospective holdings of 120,000,000 bushels of farm board wheat at the end of this marketing season, Legge wrote, stabilization efforts "will have to be abandoned."

The loss would then have to be "written off" and average adjustment left to the "old time principle of the survival of the fittest."

Pointing to the large production increase in the southern hemisphere this year, that in Russia, with the prospect there of a 10 per cent increase for 1931, Legge asked "why should a farmer continue to grow a hundred acres at a loss when he could raise 80 at a profit?"

WHEAT PRICES DOWN

CHICAGO, Feb. 5. (AP)—Forecasts of rain or snow likely to afford widespread relief from drought in domestic winter wheat territory, turned grain prices downward early today. A reduction of 20,000,000 bushels in estimates of the Argentine wheat exportable surplus, however, tended to check selling pressure.

Opening unchanged to 1-4 cent lower, wheat afterward underwent an additional sag. Corn started 1-4 cent off to 1-8 cent up, and subsequently showed declines all around.

STOCKS REVERSED

NEW YORK, Feb. 5. (AP)—Three consecutive days of rising stock prices were followed by an abrupt reversal of the trend in today's market.

A rather sharp decline in the early trading gave way to an interval of dullness but when the list failed to show much recuperative power selling was resumed, although in light volume.

Some of the recent pool favorites were weak. Eastman and Auburn Auto losing 4 each while Air Reduction dropped 3. U. S. Steel, Allied Chemical, Case, Lowry, Westinghouse, Johns Manville, Vulcan DeLamotte and American Telephone were down 2 to 2 1/2. American Can, Bethlehem Steel, Consolidated Gas and Anaconda slipped off 1 to 1 3/4. Rails were dull, but mostly lower. Independent strength appeared in Baldwin Locomotive and Gillette, up 11-8 each. Call money renewed at 11-2 per cent.

COTTON IS ACTIVE

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 5. (AP)—Cotton had an active opening. Liverpool came in much better than due, and first trades here showed gains of 8 to 10 points, with May at 10.92 and October at 11.40. This initial advance brought out selling by ring traders, which caused prices to retreat to 10.84 for May and 11.33 for October, or 7 to 8 points down from the opening high.

There was active trade buying, however, and at the end of the first hour, the market showed a disposition to rally again.

BRITISH PRINCES' ARRIVAL IN BERMUDA

For eight hours the royal guests of Great Britain's tiny island colony off the American coast, the Prince of Wales and his youngest brother, Prince George, are shown here shortly after their arrival in Bermuda. The future king is seen, at left, shading his eyes against the tropical sunshine on the way to the Mid-Ocean Golf Club at Hamilton. The two princes made the brief stop-over en route to Havana to start their Latin-American good-will tour.

Fleets Prepare to Enter "Battle"

SAN PEDRO, Calif., Feb. 5. (AP)—Sixty-three ships of the battle fleet strained at their anchors here and at San Diego today, awaiting the hour which will transform them into a "black fleet" to attack the Panama canal and the projected canal site in Nicaragua, defended by the "blue fleet" from the Atlantic.

Between Feb. 16 and 20 the black fleet will attempt to establish a base on the Central American coast. A "battle" will follow bringing into play fighting craft never before used in maneuvers on so huge a scale.

In the conflict, 137 surface ships, 274 aircraft, including the dirigible "Los Angeles," 2,800 officers and 33,000 enlisted men will be engaged.

The exercises are characterized by Admiral William V. Pratt, chief of naval operations, as the most pretentious scouting problem the fleet has attempted.

Five giant V-type submarines of division 20, said to be the most powerful undersea fighting unit in the world, will take part for the first time as a group.

Proration Is East Texas Topic Today

LONGVIEW, Feb. 5. (AP)—Representatives of the East Texas committee of 25, the Texas central proration committee and a committee named by a general meeting of east Texas oil men in Dallas recently were here today to discuss the controverted question of establishing proration in the new east Texas oil fields.

At a preliminary meeting last night, lease and royalty owners and citizens of the oil field along Longview adopted resolutions declaring they were "unalterably" opposed to proration of any kind in this field now.

The resolutions were forwarded to the state railroad commission. The Gregg County Lease and Royalty owners and Citizens association was formed for the purpose of protecting the new east Texas field against what was termed "the attempt of big companies to get control of the new field without paying for it."

W. C. Hurst was elected president; F. E. Lathrop, vice-president; W. R. Nicholson, secretary.

At 6:50, vendors (milk-fed) medium to choice, $5.50 to $10.00; stocker and feeder steers, good and choice (all weights) $6.50 to $9.25. Sheep, 8,000; killing classes 15-25 lbs. down, $7.50 to $8.20; medium 90 lbs. down, $6.50 to $7.50; common all weights, $5.25 to $6.50; ewes, medium to choice 150 lbs. down, $2.75 to $4.15.

Tulsa Man Is Shot to Death

TULSA, Okla., Feb. 5. (AP)—One man was dead today and another was in jail here as a result of their attempt to flee from officers who surprised them after they were alleged to have looted a Skiatook home.

The dead man was identified as Charles Blair, about 30. His companion gave the name of Arthur Jones, 28, of Hominy.

Mrs. Caleb Corey, wife of a Skiatook merchant, said she found the two men escaping from her home. She called officers. The men started running after their automobile broke down. Blair was brought down by a bullet from the rifle of W. A. Roach, Skiatook marshal, who said the fleeing men failed to heed his commands to halt. Jones was captured by W. R. Moseley, Skiatook chief of police.

City Dwellers of Country Eager to Move To West

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5. (AP)—Thousands of city dwellers are seeking to find out if there's a place for them in the big open spaces of the west.

At a rate of 400 to 600 a day letters are piling up at the general land office. They want to know how to go about filing claims for homesteads on public lands. Long-time employees of the land office recalled today that in each of the depressions of the past 30 years, applicants for government lands doubled and trebled. They are following the precedent now in even greater proportion but the news they get is less encouraging.

For little if any of the public domain remaining is suitable for farming and the land office in giving applicants instructions on establishing claims adds that warning. Most of the letters come from the thickly populated urban centers of the east and central United States. Thousands of the land seekers belong to the "white collar" class of workers, who despite agriculture's troubles fondly believe it would be easier to grow the food they are finding it difficult to buy.

Many letters, however, come from farmers in the east who want to move, and a good portion is written by sons of farmers who strayed from the furrows in their youth to search for metropolitan fame.

During the fiscal year ended last June 5,434,550 homestead entries were recorded. The year before they were just more than four and a half million. Records for the last six months are not complete but officials estimated today the total of entries and applications would run well into the millions.

Former Ball Players Find Berths In Coaching Game at Coast Colleges

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 5. (AP)—Professional baseball players, most of them retired, hold down the baseball coaching berths at many universities and colleges in California.

Harry Walters, one time New York Yankee outfielder, has been coaching the fine points of the game at Stanford for years.

Gene Valla, former outfielder of the San Francisco Seals, is coach at the University of San Francisco.

Two pitchers still active in the Pacific Coast league, Walker Hails of Portland and Frank Spillenebach of Hollywood also hold down coaching positions.

Hails holds forth at Santa Clara university, and Spillenebach is instructor at Loyola college, Los Angeles.

The two largest universities, California and Southern California, are exceptions; neither having a coach of professional experience. Clinton Ayres, also assistant football coach, is in charge at California, while Sam Barry, also head basketball coach, directs the Southern California nine.

At St. Mary's college, Ed "Skip" Madigan, head football coach, has handled baseball for seven years.

Bush Interested In Slamming Ball

CHICAGO, Feb. 5. (AP)—Most major league pitchers are looking forward to using the recently adopted "dead" baseball, but Guy Bush, Cub right hander, is less concerned about throwing the ball than hitting it.

Bush, who fancies himself a batsman, today had his time for dispatching the possible advantages to batters. His most earnest comment was:

"Just when I was getting all set for a big year with the stick, they make a change in the ball to help out pitchers."

BREEDGOOD-KILLS SELF

CHICAGO, Feb. 5. (AP)—Edward J. Powell, wealthy street paving contractor, who recently married Mrs. Corinne Fox, former wife of Mayor H. H. Fox, Baltimore banker, killed himself last night in his "Gold Coast" apartment by swallowing poison while he and his mother were entertaining a group of acquaintances.

Until last week Powell and his bride had been spending their honeymoon in Florida. He returned to Chicago unexpectedly, however, telling friends that business necessitated his presence in Chicago. His wife is stopping at a hotel in Palm Beach.

WOULD BAR SPECULATION

AUSTIN, Feb. 5. (AP)—A bill to stop gambling and speculation in stocks, bonds and securities was introduced in the house today. It would make it a felony to trade or speculate in futures of grain, cotton, wool, lumber, stocks, bonds and securities on margin, or call where actual delivery was not to be made within 30 days.

The emergency clause cited that several millions of dollars were being mulched from Texas citizens annually through market speculation.
