Completion Of Structure Set In 330 Days

Cost Figures Will Await Decision On Type Of Material

By BILL CLARK
Journal Staff Writer

Robert E. McKee of El Paso and Dallas was awarded the general construction contract for Lubbock county's $1,200.000 seven-story courthouse building at 2:05 o'clock this afternoon.

The motion carried with one dissenting vote, Commissioner R. O. Short opposed the motion.

The vote followed a morning-long session.

The difficult and complex question had been discussed since the bid opening at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

Time Limit Shortened

W. G. McMillan of Lubbock had submitted the low base bid of $833,293. McKee's base bid was $840,000.

However, McKee's bid specified a time of 360 days, which was later shortened to 330 days, and McMillan's bid specified a time of 550 days, which he shortened this morning to 425 days.

McKee's bid had included use of Indiana limestone from Bloomington, Ind., and McMillan this morning offered to use that stone for an additional $10,287, plus seven per cent, plus one per cent, which would have made his bid $4,698 higher, using Indiana limestone, the commissioners figured.

Final Figure In Doubt

The final contract figure will depend upon which alternates the court accepts. Use of aluminum windows instead of steel will reduce the cost by some $6,000 and one or two other deductive alternates will probably bring the cost down still further.

The morning session today was drawn out.

McMillan appeared before the court to answer questions and give cost estimates on the use of Indiana limestone, as well as to offer the 425-day limit change.

Robert E. McKee, jr., did not appear before the court. He had returned to Dallas after appearing Thursday afternoon.

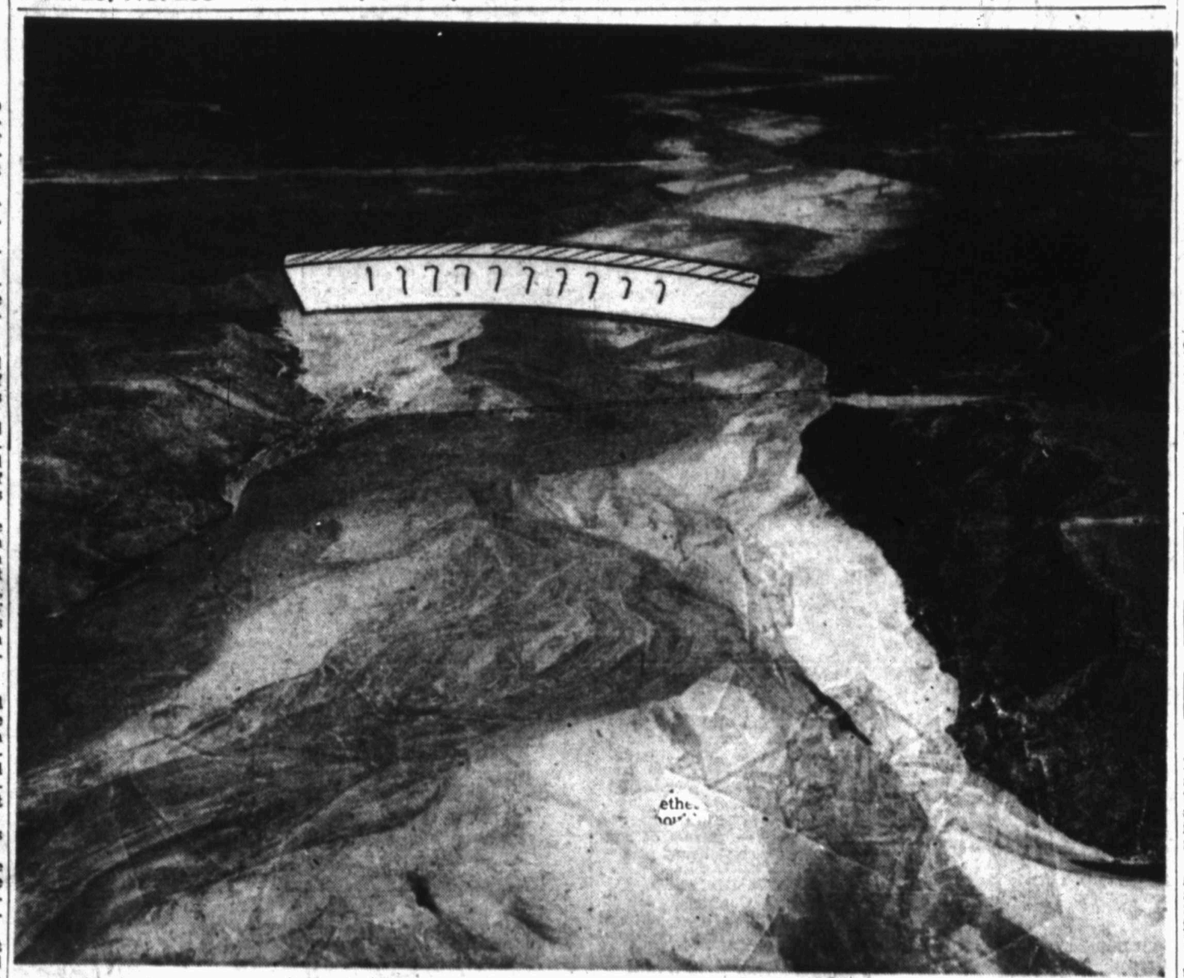

Two Motions Made

Two motions were made to award th econtract this morning, but neither was seconded and neither was voted on.

At 10:40 a. m. Commissioner R. O. Short made a motion to award the job to McMillan and select another type of stone other than the Lueders stone which McMillan had figured in his base bid.

The motion was discussed, but

PROPOSED DAM SITE—Pictured is the site favored by the U. S. Reclamation Service for a dam on the Canadian river. It is near Sanford, Hutchinson county, about 40 miles more north than east of Amarillo. The aerial photograph, made by the Reclamation service, looks downstream toward the proposed dam between canyon walls which, at that point, are about 165 feet high. The whitish masses in the picture are sand, not water, and would be covered by the proposed reservoir. The bridge-like structure in the picture is a multiple gas and oil pipeline. Cost Of Huge Project Over $84 Millions

Scope Of Undertaking Is Revealed At Plainview Today; To Serve 11 Cities

By C. W RATLIFF
Journal Staff Writer

PLAINVIEW, June 17—A proposed dam on the Canadian river, near Sanford, Hutchinson county, and a 277-mile aqueduct system have been recommended to the government as a plan to meet surface water requirements of Lubbock and 10 other Panhandle-Plains cities for the next half century.

Harry P. Burleigh of Austin, engineer for the Bureau of

More Details And Map Of Area To Be Served On Page 8, Sec. 2

Reclamation, revealed details of the gigantic plan at a meeting of the Panhandle Water Conservation Authority here this morning.

The Canadian river dam would have a control capacity twice the size of Conchas dam on the Canadian near Tucumcari, N. M., Burleigh said.

The dam and reservoir would cost a total of $27,800,000, Burleigh's report, which was submitted to the Reclamation Service at Washington Wednesday, estimates. Total cost of the entire project, including dam and reservoir, water transportation system to serve the 11 cities (Borger, Amarillo, Pampa, Plainview, Levelland, Lubbock, Tahoka, O'Donnell, Lamesa, Littlefield and Slaton), recreational facilities, irrigation features and all rights-of-way, would be $84,383,000.

Other Costs Tabulated

Of the above total, the water transportation system to serve the 11 cities would cost $54,340,000; recreational features $727,000 and irrigation features $1,516,000. Moving of Amarillo's sewage plant, necessary before completion of the project, would add another $1,000,000 to the total cost.

Total reimbursable construction costs, to be repaid to the Federal government by local interests, would be $79,408,000, of which $77,892,000 would be repayable by the 11 cities served by the project and $1,516,000 by the irrigation project.

Construction costs amounting to $2,951,000 would be allocated to flood control, and $1,570.000 allocated to Fish and Wildlife Conservation, thus a total of $4,521,000 would be non-reimbursable under present Federal law.

The report recommended as non-reimbursable $1,434,000 as recreational costs.

Plan Of Development

The plan of development, covered in Burleigh's report, provides for the delivering to the project cities their full surface water requirements through the year 2005, with a delivery of 134,000 acre-feet annually from the year 2000 through 2005; for the initial irrigation of 9,660 acres and ultimate irrigation of 17,310 acres with sewage effluent, and for flood control fish and wildlife conservation and recreational facilities.

The only reliable source of surface water for this area is the Canadian river, the report points out. Directly north of Amarillo, where the dam would be located, average annual discharge of this river (with the Tucumcari, N. M., project under full development) is estimated to be 310,000 acre-feet with a maximum of 1,937,000 acre-feet in 1941 and a minimum of 24,000 acre-feet in 1934.

Features Of Dam

The dam would be a rolled earthen surface structure with a crest length of 7,200 feet, a top width of 40 feet, a maximum height of 186 feet, and a total volume of 13,167,000 cubic yards. Normal water surface elevation would be 2,937 feet and maximum at 2,990 feet.

Controlled storage would total 1,305,000 acre-feet, with 440,000 acre-feet sedimentation, 440,000 conservation and 425,000 flood control.

The spillway would be of concrete and would be located on the right abutment with a maximum discharge capacity of 133,000 cubic feet per second.

Sanford reservoir would extend upstream 20 miles from the dam. At the maximum water surface elevation it would have a capacity of 1,956,000 acre-feet, including 651,000 acre-feet of uncontrolled super storage, and would cover

Possibility Of More Showers Forecast Here

Heavy Rains, Some Hail In Northern South Plains Area

A "very slight" possibility of more showers on the South Plains late this afternoon or early tonight was seen by the Weather bureau station in Lubbock following brief but in some cases severe rains during the night.

Heavy rains, in some cases accompanied by hail and high winds, lashed a section of the northwest and northern South Plains late Thursday night and early today.

Lubbock received .10 inch of moisture, bringing the month's total to 4.09 inches, the year's to 18.87 inches. The thunderstorm moved over Lubbock about 11 p. m. and lasted until 1:13 a. m. today.

Combines Running

The storms came after a sunny day over the state. Temperatures ranged from maximums of 88 at Texarkana, Ozona and Galveston to 108 at Presidio.

Combines were on the job during the day from the lower edge of Crosby county into Floydada. Mark H. Martin said at least 52 bushels to the acre was cut on part of his irrigated land about two miles southeast of Floydada. Others in that area said their yields averaged 25 to 30 bushels an acre.

The Texas Employment commission said this was the situation after two days of good weather:

Cutting in isolated areas of Hansford county; combines operating in Ochiltree and Lipscomb counties; limited cutting in isolated areas of Carson and Armstrong counties.

Estimates Given

The harvest in Gray and Roberts counties was one per cent complete.

Seven per cent of the harvest completed in Hemphill and Wheeler; one per cent in Floyd and Hale; two to three per cent in Swisher and Briscoe counties, where harvesting was resumed. The harvest started in Castor and Parmer counties.

No activity in Dallas, Collin and Grayson. Taylor and Jones counties 20 to 45 per cent complete; Hardeman 25 per cent; Childress, Cottle and Hall, five to 25 per cent.

Heavy To Northwest

The heaviest fall from the storms appeared to be in the Earth-Springlake area in north-

New England Still Steamy

(By The Associated Press)

New England had no promise of immediate relief today from nearly a week of hot, humid and rainless weather.

The drought over the northeastern states threatened severe crop damage and increased the danger of serious forest fires.

Gov. Ernest Gibson of Vermont drafted a proclamation closing Vermont woods to hunting and fishing because of the fire danger. Minor forest blazes were reported in scattered sections of the state and early crops suffered heavy damage.

Smoking Banned

In the woodlands of New Hampshire and Maine, no smoking and no fire-making bans were imposed.

Temperatures in the mid and high 80's were forecast for the New England area for the fifth straight day.

There were a few scattered showers in western New York state last night and more showers were forecast for today. Some cooling off from this week's 90 degree readings was expected. There have been 41 forest fires in the Adirondacks since last Saturday, including nine yesterday. The state conservation department said all are under control.

Showers which were predicted for New York City today were expected to break a three-week dry spell in the metropolitan area. In Rochester, lawn sprinkling was barred for 24 hours because of the water situation.

Danger In Oregon

Milk production was beginning to be affected in New Jersey because of dried up pastures. Only a spattering of rain has fallen in the state in the last 26 days.

The danger of forest fires remained in Oregon but showers eased the threat in Washington. A fire in southwestern Washington was extinguished after burning over 250 acres of timber slashings and threatened Packwood, a small community east of Centralia.

There was rain in widely scattered sections of the country. Some

Paris Parley Drawn Out On Disagreements

PARIS, June 17 (AP)—The Big Four foreign ministers have stretched their unofficial deadline to make another stab at reaching accords on a snarled up Austrian independence treaty and a German trade pact.

Deadlocked early today after a gruelling series of 11th-hour sessions, the ministers recessed until Sunday and set still another meeting for Monday. The parley had been expected to end last night.

Informed observers said agreement on the German question seems near. They said the issue has boiled down to east-west differences of principle.

Hopes Renewed

Hope for some sort of agreement was bolstered by the fact that the ministers extended their meetings.

The German question hinges on a trade and transport accord, over which the ministers have been wrangling for days.

The situation has been complicated by the four1week-old Berlin rail strike, which is still on.

The Austrian treaty promises to be a long, arduous task.

Even if the ministers settle their Austrian difference, the pact would take some months to write. Probably it would not be ready for signature until fall, when the ministers are reported planning to reconvene in New York.

Might Widen Gulf

An Austrian treaty might widen the gulf between Russia and Yugoslavia's Premier Marshal Tito. Tito's government has put forth several war claims on Austria, which Russia in the past has backed. If the treaty is signed Russia will have withdrawn that backing.

Garroted, Mutilated Body Of Woman Discovered In Abandoned Automobile

(By The Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, June 17.—Another in the long series of sadistic sex murders since the "Black Dahlia" slaying 2½ years ago confronted Los Angeles homicide officers today.

The garroted, mutilated body of a 28-year-old hairdresser and mother, Mrs. Louis Coulter Springer, was found yesterday in her husband's sports convertible car, abandoned on a street on the near south side, only a block and half from where the "Black Dahlia's" body was found. There was evidence of brutal rape, officers said.

Strangulation Cause

Coroner Ben Brown tentatively gave strangulation as the cause of death. Mrs. Springer had been strangled with a sash cord, her 99-pound body thrown in the back seat of the car and covered with a tarpaulin, investigators reported.

The husband, Laurence G. Springer, said his wife disapeared Monday night when he left her sitting in the car while he went back into the store where she worked for her glasses. In a missing persons report filed then, he said both his wife and the car were gone when he returned.

Autopsy surgeons said that Mrs. Springer had probably been killed within an hour or two after that.

Man Is Described

A resident of the neighborhood where the car was found—Don Graham—told police the car was parked there by a man wearing a gray uniform resembling that worn by a Navy chief petty officer. Two other persons said they

No Immediate Job Crisis Shown By Survey

Rising Relief Rolls Induce States To Enact Work Laws

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 17—Rising unemployment and swelling relief rolls have led five states to pass depression-style relief laws and at least seven cities to revive "work relief" projects.

But an Associated Press survey today suggested no national emergency. It found most states certain they could handle their relief load in stride.

It indicated joblessness has dwindled or stabilized in at least ten states in recent weeks or months. It showed that, almost everywhere, unemployment insurance has been a "cushion" to keep most laid-off workers off "poor relief" until they found new jobs.

No Basis For New Crisis

An inside-government memorandum made available to A. P. supports these findings. It says country-wide statistics "do not reveal the emergence of any new crisis." The reports adds:

"The current relief situation does not appear to be one which requires (federal) action beyond that already recommended by the President."

President Truman has proposed federal grants for "home relief" to match state aid to payless families, on the same basis as the federal funds now used for the blind, the aged, and dependent children. Officials say it would cost $230,000,000 a year, and more in bad times.

Non-farm employment sagged another 280,000 in May, the Bureau of Labor Statistics announced today. It stood at 43,655,000, or 961,000 below a year ago.

Layoffs Cause Slump

Layoffs and strikes in the factories caused the slump. BLS said other industrial employment including building and transportation went up, but not nearly enough to offset a 320,000 drop in manufacturing.

Much of the factory decline—the eight successive monthly drop recorded—was seasonal, BLS said. But it also blamed a "declining demand for a substantial number of products."

Mid-May jobs in manufacturing were numbered 15,017,000, or 900,000 below a year ago and 1,700,000 below the postwar peak reached last September. Reduced steel output and strikes in the automobile and other industries helped speed the drop from mid-April.

Mr. Truman said yesterday he does not consider the rise in unemployment and the dip in business a crisis, although total unemployment rose in May to 3,289,300.

Neither does the chairman of his council of economic advisers,

Pastor Bops Pastor's Nose In Fight Over Wedding Ritual

(By The Associated Press)

ROCKPORT, Mo., June 17.—A Presbyterian pastor today nursed an injured nose—the result of a one-punch dispute with a Methodist minister.

The argument was over which preacher would perform a marriage ceremony.

The Rev. Ellis J. Hough, pastor of the third Presbyterian church in Kansas City, Mo., suffered the nose injury.

The incident was related yesterday after the Rev. Kenneth J Bressler of the Fairfax, Mo., Methodist church, was fined $25 in magistrate court on a plea of guilty to common assault.

Hough said he planned to sue Bressler "for $10,000 personal injuries." He said his nose was broken.

The incident occurred last Sunday shortly before James Richard Schoemann and Miss Wilma Jacqueline Wright were to be married in Bressler's church.

The bride, a Methodist, wanted the wedding in Bressler's church but agreed with the groom, a Presbyterian, that Hough should read the Favorites came through on schedule in the opening session of the 12th annual Women's West Texas Golf association tourney at Lubbock Country club Thursday and winners swung into the second round quarter-finals this morning.

Despite high winds which affected the scores of most competitors, there were no startling upsets in the opening round of play in the championship flight.

TODAY'S RESULTS

Mrs. Sam O'Neal, defending champion from Odessa, today held a two-up lead at the nine-hole turn of her second round match with Miss Pat Garner of Midland, in the 12th annual Women's West Texas Golf association tournament at Lubbock Country club.

First Flight Consolation—Mrs. Fenner Tubbs of Lubbock Country club trounced Mrs. W. H. Simms of Meadowbrook, 6 and 4.

Second Flight—Mrs. R. C. Lewis of Abilene defeated Mrs. Zelma Barber of Colorado City, 3 and 2; Mrs. Bill Bell of Meadowbrook won over Mrs. K. L. Riggs of Lubbock Country club, 4 and 3; Mrs. Paul Hill of Sweetwater eliminated Mrs. E. H. Adderton of Amarillo, 3 and 2; Mrs. Doug Jones of Abilene won from Mrs. Tom Gilbert of Meadowbrook, 3 and 4.

Folsom Says Ku Klux Disgrace To State

Governor Urges Crack-Down On Hooded Alabama Raiders

(By The United Press)

BIRMIGHAM, Ala., June 17.—Gov. James E. Folsom and the Jefferson (Birmingham) county sheriff today urged the Alabama legislature to act at once on an anti-masking bill in an effort to halt night violence by hooded gangs in the Birmingham area.

The legislature, bogged down in a budget filibuster, took no action immediately.

Meanwhile, a navy veteran who was flogged by hooded men Tuesday night, said he had received offers of help in case of further trouble, and a Birmingham American Legion post called a special meeting to discuss "ways to stop mob violence."

Folsom sent a special message to the seate senate saying "the Ku Klux Klan outrages are a disgrace to the state of Alabama."

"They must be stopped immediately," he added.

He proposed that the Senate suspend the rules and take up immediately the anti-masking bill.

Houston Man To Decline Post As Ambassador, Friend Says

WASHINGTON, June 17. (Special)—A close friend of Wright Morrow of Houston, Democratic National committeeman, said here today that Sen. J. Howard McGrath would announce shortly that Morrow had chosen to decline an ambassadorial post as offered by President Truman.

This would leave Morrow in the national committeeman's post, the friend said. He could not be quoted. The spokesman is close to the Democratic party leaders and a Truman Democrat. He said: "I want Morrow to stay."

Sen. McGrath said he had not talked with Morrow in two weeks and had been told nothing of Morrow's decision.

The senator said: "I've never received so many inquiries over any thing in my life as this."

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Sims, of 2116 Twenty-fifth, were to leave Lubbock by train today for Los Angeles, Calif. They will visit his brother whom he has not seen in 20 years. Mr. Sims is connected with the Fort Worth and Denver City railway here.

Injunctions Or Seizure Of Plants Is Issue

U. S. Senate Sparring Over Deal On Emergency Strikes

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 17. A choice between injunctions or seizure confronted the Senate today as it entered the second round of arguments over how to deal with strikes that imperil the national health or safety.

While five proposals were vying for votes, what the senators really were trying to decide narrowed down to these alternatives:

1. Continue specific government power to get court injunctions, as in the Taft-Hartley act. Labor unions are solidly against this.
2. Avoid any mention of injunctions but authorize the government to seize an industry. This is another way of authorizing an injunction if it becomes necessary, but it is not nearly so bad in the eyes of most labor leaders.

The big contest was expected to be between two proposals which draw the issues most clearly.

One, by Senator Taft (R-Ohio) and other Republicans, would authorize injunctions in so many words—and seizure too. The other, by Senators Douglas (D-Ill) and Aiken (R-Vt), would authorize only seizure. This is supported by the Democrat leader, Senator Lucas of Illinois.

The showdown might come early next week.

Consideration of national emergency strikes began yesterday after the Senate passed two more non-controversial amendments to the Truman administration's labor bill.

That bill, in addition to its original purpose of repealing Taft-Hartley and restoring an enlarged version of the 1935 Wagner act, now contains provisions for:

(1) Non-Communist and non-fascist oaths from union and company officers; (2) financial reports from unions and companies; (3) keeping salaries of National Labor Relations board members at the present $12,000 a year instead of $17,500 as in the original Truman bill; (4) guaranteeing "free speech" to labor and management alike; (5) requiring both the bargain in good faith.

EDITOR, MAYOR TO SEE WEDDING

Germans Think Princess Lucky To Be Marrying Amarillo Man

HECHINGEN, Germany, June 17 (AP)—Villagers here think Princess Cecilie, granddaughter of the late German Kaiser and great-great-granddaughter of Queen Victoria, is lucky to be marrying Clyde Harris of Amarillo.

"Germany is washed up," they said today, "but Texas has a future."

"Harris is a lucky guy," they added, "because the princess is nice."

Cecilie's father, Crown Prince Wilhelm, who would be seated on the German throne if it still existed, is reported by his major domo to be "satisfied and happy."

As for Cecilie—she has expressed herself delighted with the thought of living in Texas. She intends to leave royal pomp behind her, be plain "Mrs. Harris" and make a home for her army-veteran husband, now an interior designer, in Amarillo.

Lawrence Hagy, mayor of that town, and editor Wes Izzard of the Amarillo News-Globe, will see the princess take the step next Tuesday which will eventually make her a Texan.

Meanwhile, this French-zone village is all a-bustle getting ready for the great event which will draw the cream of German aristocracy here.

The ceremony will be held in the bleak Castle Hohenzollern, ancestral home of the princess' family, exposed to all the elements on a rocky crag which rises 3,000 feet above sea level in the middle of this flat green plain.

Winds chill the ancient stone of the medieval fortress and it takes many days of strong sun to warm them. Most of the time the castle is inhabited only by caretakers paid to shiver there. The crown prince, Cecile's father, keeps warm in a house at the foot of the hill.

Two Services Planned

Two ceremonies will unite the princess and the Texan.

One, a civil service, will take place in a secret room hidden in the castle's watch tower. It will be restricted to a few close relatives and friends.

The second, in a tiny Protestant chapel which holds only 30 or 40 people, will be a religious service.

The crown prince will give his daughter away.

Harris first met Cecilie when he was a U. S. military government captain in 1945. After going home he kept up correspondence with her and came back to Germany last month.

Livestock is produced by 5,000,000 independent growers.

STRING ENSEMBLE—"Trunks" are two free-breezing, fore-and-aft panels that tie on the sides. "Tie a tight knot," warns Dottie Sykes.

UPLIFT MOVEMENT—Mike Ackerman anticipated frolicsome breezes, so added a bit of panty beneath the panels, as Helen Poulson demonstrates.

INDIAN SIGNS—Helen Poulson shows multicolor print, adapted from Seminole Indian costumes, which decorates the "Sun Worshipper."

FALLING ASTERN—Here's comely Dottie Sykes again, posing to show you that the panty-panels drape as well behind as before.

BRIEF EXCURSION—into fashion designing was taken by NEA-Acme photographer Mike Ackerman, veteran of many years of "shooting" shapely mermaids in beach garb. Mike, whose beat is beauty-studded Miami, designed the eye-catching outfit shown above and persuaded manufacturer Mel Warshaw to whip up a couple of demonstration copies. In case you're curious about technical details, Mike's creation is of rayon taffeta, in multi-color print inspired by Seminole tribal designs. The strapless bra top ties on with double tapes. Photos are by the proud designer, of course.

Garnier Case Jurors Hear Last Arguments

RIVERSIDE, Calif., June 17 (AP) The all-woman jury trying Mrs. Agnes Garnier, 53-year-old divorcee, on charges of murdering her wealthy boss, John E. Owen, heard final arguments today in the case.

With the prosecution asking the jury to decide whether the April 22 killing was "done in the heat of passion, making it manslaughter, or with some degree of premeditation, which makes it murder of the first or second degree," there was indication that the state might not press for a first degree conviction.

Mrs. Garnier's council, in opening argument, declared:

"This has developed into a case of the Owen family and the Apartment House Owners association against Agnes Garnier."

Owen, 68, was two-time national president of the AHOA. He was slain in the bedroom of his palatial ranch home here after an argument which apparently started over a set of cocktail glasses which he had received from actress Irene Rich.

The case was expected to reach the jury this afternoon.

Survey Of Lubbock Hotel Needs Voted

After conferring with three Hilton hotel officials for more than two hours Thursday directors of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce voted to secure the services of a reputable survey firm to make a survey of hotel needs for Lubbock.

Number of rooms needed, quality of service, costs and facilities desired will be included in data to be secured in the survey.

The Hilton officials, Spearl Ellison of San Diego, Calif., vice president and member of the board of directors of Hilton Hotels, inc., Conrad N. Hilton, jr., of Chicago, and W. D. Willingham, El Paso, chief engineer for the Southwestern division, met with the chamber of commerce directors at a luncheon in the hotel's Aztec room.

Possibility of the addition of 184 rooms above the north portion of the present Hilton structure or the addition of three additional floors on the present tower side of the hotel was discussed in the meeting.

Findings of the survey may result in some addition to the hotel at a later date, it was indicated from discussion in the meeting.

Seeing Is Believing: Bachelor Owns Dog That Turns On Radio And Dials With Paw

POTTSVILLE, Pa., June 17 (AP)—How'd you like to own a dog who turns on the radio and dials in programs? Raymond Klinger, 61-year-old Locust Gap, Pa., bachelor, said yesterday he thinks he has one.

Don't believe it?

Klinger didn't either but he claims seeing is believing, and "I saw it with my own eyes."

Several times in the past month Klinger has left his house, turning off the radio. When he returned the set was going full blast.

Curious, he walked out and then watched through a window. He said his dog, Skippy, jumped on the table, flipped the switch and then dialed with his paw.

The only thing he's not sure of is whether Skippy likes singing commercials or disc jockeys.

Legislature May Adjourn Session June 28

House Rejects Pension Plan Requiring Home Mortgages

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, June 17.—The Senate and House split yesterday on wether needy Texas old folks should have to give the state a mortgage on their homes in order to secure pensions.

The Senate voted 21-3 to submit to a vote of the people a constitutional amendment lifting the 35 million dollar ceiling on state welfare grants but imposing the new mortgage restriction.

Objecting to the mortgage idea, the House demanded that a new conference committee be appointed to work out a compromise. The vote rejecting the Senate plan was 61-47.

Adjournment Likely

On the big problem of state spending, the two houses outwardly reached agreement. The Senate approved 24-7, a House-passed resolution urging heavy cutting of the big money bills essential to operation of the state government the next two years.

However, the Senate turned thumbs down on a part of the resolution which suggested elimination of a building program for eleemosynary institutions unless Gov. Beauford H. Jester offered a practical financing plan.

The Senate approved a resolution to end the regular session of the 1st legislature at noon June 28. Both houses must agree before such action can be taken, but it appeared likely the lower house would agree.

The legislature took off for another long weekend, quitting until Monday morning.

Some senators who voted for the House economy resolution said the House was bluffing and trying to put the Senate on the spot when it suggested cutting appropriation bill 45 million dollars.

So the Senate called the bluff—if that's what it was.

Senator R. A. Weinert of Seguin had it figured that way.

"I think we ought to accept the challenge," he said, telling the Senate's presiding officer: "If you will appoint me and two other senators who will follow me on those (conference) committees (on general appropriations), we'll do some cutting and find out who is first to say, 'hold, enough'."

Senators Balking At Two Military Bills

WASHINGTON, June 18. (AP)—Double trouble cropped up in the Senate today for two major military bills.

Senator Elmer Thomas (D-Okla) took the lead in a search for methods to slash a billion dollars or more from next year's costs of the Army, Navy and Air Forces. He and like-minded senators aimed their knives at a $15,909,116,800 appropriation already passed by the House.

Senator Morse (R-Ore) balked, too, at plans to rush Senate approval of a pay increase bill that would add some $300,000,000 a year to present pay for all persons in the services. It also has been approved by the House.

Religion Has Important Part In Ideological War Of Orient

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Staff Writer

Out of mystic India comes a story so strange that it reads like fantasy. Attention is called to it here because it epitomizes a situation which I believe will play a vital part in the great war of the ideologies developing in the Orient.

On July 1 the old and princely state of Travancore will combine with the adjoining principality of Cochin and the 36-year-old maharajah of Travancore will become titular head. He will be responsible to the new government of India.

Ruler Hindu God

There's nothing startling in this transaction, of course, because some 565 principalities of India are being absorbed by the New Delhi government. The strange part is this:

For 200 years the real ruler of Travancore has been the Hindu god Padmanabha, and the maharajahs have acted s stewards of the diety. The princes have sworn allegiance only to the god, and every night have deposited the keys of the state treasury at the god's feet in token of this, picking the keys up in the morning.

It took the Indian government about a year to persuade the present maharajah to change the status of his state. He was fearful that he would be committing blasphemy if he swore allegiance to the Indian constiution or agreed to alter the boundaries of his state.

The skeptical reader may say that the prince was merely stalling to avoid changing the status of his state. However, your columnist accepts the prince's explanation as sincere, having spent much time in India and knowing how intensely religious both the Hindus and the Moslems are. I have seen one of the greatest of the Indian rulers—a highly cultured man with a western education — prostrate on the temple floor before a Hindu idol. He was a very religious man, and his fervor was typical.

Religion Dominating

Religion plays a major part in the lives of both Hindus and Moslems. It not only is spiritual but in many respects dominates the ordinary ways of daily life, even in the matter of food and drink. The same may be said of various other religions in that heavily populated part of our world. There are few atheists in the Far East.

And how does this fit into the war of the ideologies? Well, Moscow is increasingly shifting to the Orient the weight of its world revolution for the spread of Communism. A vital part of the Red offensive is its attack on religion, which is obstructive to the Communist movement.

Recent reports from various sources have said the Russians have been conducting a campaign against Jews and Zionism inside the Soviet Union. And a couple of days ago in Cairo a Moslem religious leader from Turkestan, in Soviet central Asia, charged that Russia has been conducting an anti-Moslem purge ever since the end of the war.

Many Other Religions

This Moslem is Al Sayed Nour Muhammed Ismail, head of the Turkestan mission to Cairo's great Moslem university. He charged that in the middle Asia areas of the Soviet Union there are virtually "no Moslem inhabitants left."

Of course the Hindu and Moslem religions are far from being the only ones in the Orient. There are numerous others, but one and all they probably represent Communism's toughest enemy. Even the man who worships a stone idol isn't going to give up his god.

Just how this will work out in China remains to be seen. Perhaps the religious resistance there won't be so stubborn as in many other countries, because a large percentage of Chinese subscribe to ancestor worship. Buddhism is the dominant religion, but there are some 48,000,000 Moslems and several million Christians, all of whom may be expected to battle for their faiths.

In any event, it will be an epochal fight.

Church Color Movie Filmed At Wayland

PLAINVIEW, June 17. (Special)—Colored talkies now being shot on the Wayland college campus soon will be shown in Baptist churches all over the south, R. G. Van Royen of Atlanta, Ga., said today.

Van Royan is director of visual education for the Baptist Home Mission board. Assisting him in the picture-taking is J. B. Nichols, graduate student at Southwestern seminary in Ft. Worth.

The talkie, entitled "The Open Door," is written by Mrs. Lake R. Pylant, head of the church recreation department at Wayland and author of a book, "Playtime," on recreation for youth. This production shows a young couple who decide to do Christian work in their own rural community.

Texans Are Actors

Chief actors in the presentation are Ruth Sharpley of Corsicana and Professor Herman Sandford, academic dean at Wayland who soon expects to go to West Africa as a missionary.

Collaborating with Van Royen and Mrs. Pylant in the production is Floyd Chaffin of Dallas, assistant secretary of the Texas Baptist General convention. Included in the action are shots of President J. W. Marshall and Wayland campus scenes.

Van Royen, former San Antonio pastor, declined to give an estimate of the cost but said expenses on the 25-minute production would run considerably less than regular commercial work. It should be released by September, he added.

John Barrymore, Jr. Has Famous Father's Profile, Good Looks

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Movie Writer

HOLLYWOOD, June 17—Here's what the new John Barrymore is like.

He has just turned 17 and he has the good looks of his famed father. The profile is an amazing likeness. He talks softly, but when he warms up to a subject, you can hear the sonorous Barrymore tones.

His only acting lessons have been alone before a mirror, but he is an assured young man and his hand gestures are often actor-like. He smoakes but does not drink. Romantically he is still playing the field.

He attends a private school in Hollywood. He likes all sports, including football, swimming, diving and gymnastics. Unlike his father, he has no talent for art.

Likes Medical Operations

One of his favorite pastimes is watching surgical operations, which he can describe in vivid detail.

He decided he wanted to be an actor a couple of years ago. I asked him why.

"I guess it's because you always want the things that are denied you," he answered. "My mother (Dolores Costello) always wanted me to be a doctor or a lawyer or something like that. When I decided I wanted to be an actor, she told me 'It's a filthy business.'

"I think it's like any other business, there are both good and bad people here. Hollywood gets all the publicity because people are famous here."

Barrymore, jr., overcame his mother's objections and signed a contract with Alan Lemay and George Templeton. He'll get $7,500 for the first picture, "Thunder In The Dust," a western in which he, Robert Preston and Robert Sterling will play brothers. If he's a success, he gets $30,000 for the second film.

GIRL PILOT LEARNS EARLY

ZENIA, O. (U.P.) — Barbara Jean Gibson, 14, hardly can wait until she is 17 years old. She has made two solo airplane flights to become what may be America's youngest girl pilot. However, she cannot get a pilot's license for another three years.

Low-Cost Liquid Fertilizer, For Mixing With Irrigation Water, Being Produced

A liquid fertilizer, made to be applied to irrigation water, is now being manufactured in Plainview. Sold under the trade name "Nitrow" the liquid fertilizer contains 25 per cent nitrogen and is low in cost.

A factory to manufacture Nitrow was completed recently by the Rowland company. Present capacity is approximately 20,000 gallons per day, an amount company officials believe will help relieve fertilizer shortages in this area.

Beneficial To Cotton

Tests made with Nitrow show that it has been especially beneficial to cotton, maize and other South Plains crops. Since nitrogen is one of the principle crop foods, the Rowland company believes that the liquid form will be more readily absorbed when applied to the irrigation water.

At an estimated cost to farmers of 35 cents per gallon and an application rate of 10 to 15 gallons per acre the cost of fertilizing by this method is comparatively low. The ease of application is another factor in its favor. When applied to the water it makes a milky or cloudy condition and gives off an ammonia vapor that can be easily followed down the irrigation rows.

Crops Yield Doubled

On some test plots near Tulia last season the cotton yield was almost doubled by the application of the liquid nitrogen. Another claim for the liquid is the fact that it is slightly acid. Since most of our soils are slightly alkaline the acid helps to counteract or neutralize the soil for better plant feeding.

In the Upper Valley of the Rio Grande, near Las Cruces, New Mexico, farmer, usually produce the above average yield of two bales per acre. Application of Nitrow to the irrigation water increased this yield by one-fourth bale per acre, Rowland officials claim.

While Nitrow is manufactured primarily for use in irrigation water, the Rowland company is experimenting with a special applicator on dry land. By mounting tanks or barrels on a tractor the liquid is side-dressed to cotton or corn. These tests are being made in the delta country of Mississippi and Louisiana at the present time, but tests in West Texas will undoubtedly be made this season.

Plainview Grain Men Installing Facilities To Handle Harvest

By EDWARD WELSH
Journal Staff Writer

PLAINVIEW, June 17.—Plainview millers and grain men are fully aware of the storage crisis that is facing the South Plains and have initiated steps to cope with the situation. One of the biggest projects now afoot to save the 'golden harvest' is the storage bin being constructed on highway 87 near the south city limits.

Utilizing almost half of the huge war surplus hanger that was erected here recently the Harvest Queen Mill and Elevator company is installing rat-proof walls, on elevator and overhead conveyor and a subway screw conveyor for loading the wheat when the time comes to remove it from storage.

The new facilities will handle more than 500,000 bushels of the wheat that is now being harvested and pouring in from Hale and surrounding counties. The measurements of the project are 145 feet wide, 192 feet long, and from floor to ridge pole is 44 feet.

When the wheat is brought in to the new bin it will be carried to the top of the building by an elevator leg and then distributed by a 12" screw conveyor along the top of the huge building. Openings at intervals along the horizontal shaft will allow the grain to be distributed evenly on the solid concrete floor. The conveyor is 190 feet long the entire length of the bin area.

There are 45 men now working on the job, installing machinery and lining the walls of the metal hanger with wooden grain doors such as those used in box cars. The heavy oak sections are two inches thick.

On Permanent Basis

Joe Sewell, superintendent of construction, said that no effort is being spared to make the new facilities among the best in the county.

"Although we are using slightly than half of this huge, former B-29 hanger, this is a permanent job." Sewell said. The balance of the hanger, which is 520 feet long, is occupied by the Consolidated Gas company.

J. P. Pritchett, sales manager for the Harvest Queen mill, said his firm was doing everything it could to help out in the emergency.

"The new bin will go a long way toward relieving the storage shortage here," Pritchett said. "In addition to that we have made our concrete elevators available to farmers in so far as our operations will permit."

"Our elevators at the mill will handle 1,000,000 bushels," Pritchett said. "We have to retain at least 10 per cent of this space for our own milling flour to maintain our rate of production."

"Another problem is last year's carryover," Pritchett pointed out. "We have about one-third of our space taken up with 1948 milo and it is slow in moving out."

"As we are operating now we are prorating the space we have available among our customers and the farmers of the county. That space is filling up rapidly and that is why we are pushing the construction of the 'hanger bin' so fast."

"All of the grain we are accepting is coming in from Hale county farms. It isn't moving as fast yet as it did last year when we handled as many as 810 trucks in one day," Pritchett said.

"We can do even better than that this year if we have to," the sales manager stated. He explained that new type unloading machinery had been installed so that a large truck can be unloaded in a matter of minutes. The mill has also installed a new platform scale that can handle the largest truck made. Pritchett said.

The Harvest Queen mill is just this week putting the finishing touches on the new office building and baker's flour warehouse. Of modernistic construction in red brick and glass block the new building adds 15,000 square feet to the main group of Harvest Queen buildings.

"We are very optimistic about the outlook for Plainview and the South Plains," Pritchett said. "We believe that in one way or another we can lick the tough situation that hit us this year and save the farmer from any undue loss on his wheat crop."

EXPANSION PROGRAM—The building shown above on the right is being completed this week to house the offices and baker's flour warehouse of the Harvest Queen mill at Plainview. Constructed of red cut brick and glass block the building adds 15,000 square feet of floor space of which 5,000 square feet will be used for offices. The mill is also adding grain storage space for 500,000 bushels of wheat. (Staff Photo).

NEW 'GOLD' STORAGE—The picture above shows the huge hangar doors, 40 feet high and 145 feet wide, being walled in to provide storage for 500,000 bushels of wheat now being harvested on the South Plains. In the center of the picture the elevator shaft which will haul the grain to the distributing conveyor is shown under construction. The building was formerly three B-29 hangars purchased from WAA, knocked down and reassembled together at Plainview. The Harvest Queen mill is rushing completion of the job to begin accepting storage wheat by the first of next week. (Staff photo by Edward Welsh).

War Criminals To Die As Scheduled

WASHINGTON, June 17 (AP) — A Senate subcommittee has changed its mind about asking a delay in the death sentences of 16 Germans convicted of war crimes. But the request still goes for 13 others.

The 13 include six former SS troopers facing death for their part in the wartime massacre of American prisoners of war near Malmedy, Belgium.

Chairman Hoey (D-SC) of the Senate investigating subcommittee said the group had decided not to ask stays in the death penalties of 16 Germans convicted by American civilian judges at Nuernberg "because there has been no serious controversy about those trials."

He said the group reached its new decision after a closed-door conference with a representative of Secretary of the Army Gordon Gray. Previously, Hoey said, the senators had agreed to ask stays in the sentences of 23, then 29, Germans.

The 13 now affected by the request were tried by a United States army court at Dachau. A Senate armed services subcommittee is investigating charges that the army used brutal methods to obtain testimony for the Malmedy cases tried at Dachau.

Lubbock And Lamesa To Open Three-Game Series Tonight

Hubbers Drop Amarillo, 10-3

(By The Associated Press)

First and third place teams in the West Texas-New Mexico league begin a crucial four-game series today.

Albuquerque, whose loop lead now has swelled to three and a half games, returns home to take on Borger, tied for third with Lubbock as the place for top spots under the Dukes tightened.

Abilene Barely Ahead

Abilene holds down the second rung, just a scant half game ahead of Borger and Lubbock. Amarillo is within striking distance of top honors, just six games out of first place and Lamesa trails them by only half a game.

Amarillo goes to Clovis, Lamesa to Lubbock and Abilene to Pampa in series starting tonight.

Albuquerque's lead was lengthened last night with a 11 to 7 win over Pampa. Clovis beat Abilene 10 to 7, Borger won over Lamesa 13 to 9 and Lubbock took a 10 to 3 win from Amarillo.

A five-run attack in the fifth wasn't needed by Clovis for its victory, but it used it to build up an eight-run margin over Abilene. The win put Clovis three full games out of the cellar it occupied so long.

Seven Scattered Blows

Johnny Wasselchuck limited the Blue Sox to seven scattered blows and one earned run. Clovis took a three-run lead in the first off Rudy Lorona and was never headed.

Righthander Johnny Myers, tossing for Lubbock, settled down after a rough first inning to throttle Amarillo. He gave up nine hits. Lubbock collected 15 safeties off two Amarillo hurlers and capitalized on four Amarillo errors.

Two singles, a fielder's choice and a double gave Myers a bad time in the first frame. Two runs came across. After that he pitched brilliant ball.

Borger's Gassers clubbed three Lamesa pitchers—Selbo, Sterling and Locke—and used every advantage in 8 Lamesa errors for its win. Gasser Righthander Jack Venable coasted to his third victory without defeat, striking out nine and giving up nine hits. He issued only three hits through the first six frames, but then weakened.

Albuquerque and Pampa tossed a wild one, with six pitchers in the game giving up 20 hits and 18 walks. Albuquerque took a one run lead in the second inning on Manager Hershel Martin's home run with Les Mulcahy on base and although the Oilers threatened throughout, kept the margin.

A ninth inning Oiler rally was snuffed out by Walt Raimondi after three Pampa batters had been put on base by Ferrarese's wildness.

THREE-GAME SERIES WITH LAMESA OPENS

Lamesa's sixth-place Loboes come to Lubbock today to open a three-game series against the Hubbers, who are flushed with winning three out of four games from the Amarillo Gold Sox.

Lamesa didn't fare well in the series against Borger, winning the first game and then losing the next two to slip six and a half games off Albuquerque's pace. The Loboes will be out to make up ground at the expense of the Hubbers, who have been getting hitting and pitching at the same time.

Manager Jay Haney indicated that he would use Stan Grzywacz tonight against Ray Reichelt for the Hubbers. Eulis Rosson, former Hubber, will pitch the Saturday night game and Jack Guiterrez will go Sunday.

As indicated by a rising vote of the fans Wednesday night, Sunday afternoon's game will begin at 5 p. m., instead of the customary 3 p. m. And all Sunday games from now on will start at that hour.

TO GO TO SMU

MARSHALL, June 17. (AP)—Hollis Morton, star pitcher of Marshal high school, said today he would go to Southern Methodist university. Morton gained statewide note by fanning 20 batters in a 10-inning pitching duel with Denison's Bob Leach at the state schoolboy championship tournament in Austin.

Two Boys Club Tilts Are Scheduled Here

Two games are on tap again this afternoon in the Boys club baseball leagues, with the Indians and Yankees of both the PeeWee and Pygmy Leagues furnishing the opposition.

In another game, which involves Junior League nines, the Exchange club faces the Jaycees.

Yesterday the Methodist Men had little trouble taking a lopsided 18 to 6 victory over the ABCs in the featured Junior League game. In the Pee Wee League, the White Sox beat the Pirates, while the tables were turned in the Pygmy league game.

Leading hitters for the Men included: George Guy, who racked up a double and two singles in three times up and Leon Bostick, with a double and a single in three times at bat. Sammy Nolley led the losers with two singles for three times before the plate.

The White Sox beat the Pirates 18 to 13, in the Pee Wee league game. Marshall Cathran led the Sox with a double and single in four. Charles Stogner got two for three for the losing Pirates.

In the Pygmy loop game, the Pirates trampled the White Sox, 39 to 4, behind Bill Boyd's two triples and a single in three times at bat. Guinn Sanders got four for five for the winners. George Smith led the Sox with a triple.

White Chosen On Tech Staff

Texas Tech has named a new head coach of freshman football. He is Allie White, former Texas Christian university grid star, pro football player and line coach at Lehigh university in Bethlehem, Pa., for the past three years.

White, 34, and married, will begin his new duties here July 1. He was appointed to the position by the Tech athletic council.

The new freshman coach was born in Crosby, Texas, and played for Masonic Home of Fort Worth in 1932, 1933, and 1934. His coach at that time was Rusty Russell, now assistant coach to Matty Bell at Southern Methodist.

White played tackle for TCU from 1935 to 1938 on the same team with Davey O'Brien and Ki Aldrich, All-Americans. The 1938 team was untied and undefeated and upset Carnegie Tech in the Sugar Bowl, 15-7. In his senior year White was named all-conference and received the Grassy Hinton Trophy as the best all-around player of the Horned Frogs.

In the fall of 1939 he was guard for the professional Philadelphia Eagles, moving the next fall to San Benito, high school as head coach. In 1941 he returned to Fort Worth as line coach of North Side high, a post he held until he was commissioned in the Navy in April, 1942. In service he played under Bear Wolf at Georgia Pre-Flight in 1942 and under Don Faurot with the Jacksonville Naval team in 1944. He also served as assistant coach at Jacksonville.

Hard Working Coach

During the 1946, 1947 and 1948 seasons White was line coach at Lehigh in Bethlehem, Pa., assisting Bill Leckonby, who quarterbacked the Jacksonville Naval team.

Coach White is characterized by Coach L. R. "Dutch" Meyer of TCU as "a fine tackle, a swell fellow and a hard-working and efficient coach." White is married.

Hamilton Leading Motor City Open

DEROIT, June 17. (AP)—Lanky Bob Hamilton of Landover, Md., held a three stroke lead in the $15,000 Motor City Open golf tournament today.

Hamilton fired a 31-32—63, eight under par, to set a new competitive course record at Meadowbrook Country club yesterday in the first round of the four-day tournament.

He held the three stroke margin over Dr. Cary Middlecoff, the new National Open champion from Memphis, Tenn., and Henry Ransom of St. Andrews, Ill., who tied with 66's.

Jake La Motta Is New Champ

DETROIT, June 17 (AP) — The "new" Jake La Motta today holds the world middleweight boxing title he chased for eight years, but he doesn't know when he can cash in on the prize.

La Motta, an official 10th round knockout winner over Marcel Cerdan of Casablanca at Briggs stadium last night, has a bad hand to show for his trouble. Cerdan, the dethroned champ, has a pulled shoulder muscle.

Jake probably will have x-rays taken of the puffed-up left mitt today. Cerdan's handlers said they would fly Marcel to New York today for further examination.

That leaves the return match—a must according to the original contract—up in the air.

Jake must meet Marcel again in his first defense with each receiving 30 per cent of the gate in his first defense. The site and date have yet to be determined.

La Motta's 15 per cent cut last night amounts to about $19,171, but he has to leave his money in escrow until he makes his defense. Marcel will get 40 per cent or about $51,124.00 of the net gate of $127,810.

It was the first championship defense for the courageous, 32-year-old Frenchman, who saw his title slip away after he suffered an injury to his shoulder in the opening round of the scheduled 15-round bout.

Cerdan was able to use his left only once or twice after the injury and he took a terrific body beating before referee Johnny Webber finally halted the fight after the ninth round bell.

Webber was summoned to Cerdan's corner by the Frenchman's handlers who explained that their man was in acute pain.

After Dr. Joseph Cahalan of the Michigan boxing commisison examined the disabled fighter, Webber called La Motta over and raised his arm in token of victory.

Under Michigan rules, the fight was entered in record books as a 10th round knockout.

The sudden ending came as a surprise even though the crowd of 22,183 fans—most of them La Motta supporters—had seen Cerdan fight gamely for several rounds using only his right hand.

La Motta took command from the opening bell and even in the first round when Cerdan's shoulder was okay, Jake won the round on the cards of the three ring officials.

After the first round, every round followed about the same pattern. That called for Jake — an 8-to-5 underdog—to cut loose with a barrage of punches that kept Cerdan in trouble.

The Frenchman at 15914 had a pound advantage over Jake, but that was about the only edge he had in the fight.

Bluebonnet-Sunbeamers Tackle Crane In Crucial Double Bill

SAN ANGELO, June 17. (Special) — Lubbock's Blue-bonnet-Sunbeamers, leading the Texas Softball League's western division, will play a crucial doubleheader this week, while Howard Payne of Brownwood, leading the eastern loop, also has an important twin bill scheduled.

The Sunbeamers go to Crane for a tussle with the strong Oilers, who have threatened all season. Mackey of Abilene, another title threat, takes on Howard Payne in Brownwood.

In other games, Fort Stockton comes to San Angelo in a western division battle. Other teams are idle.

Stamford twice defeated Mackey in the only loop tilts last week as teams took off to play in the TSL's first East-West games. The West All-Stars won both games, 4-1, and 2-0.

Fowler, Pope Set Pace

Wally Fowler of Lubbock's Bluebonnets sets the batting pace with .429.

Warren (Stringbean) Pope of Lubbock leads the pitchers in strikeouts with 83 and Red Denham of Crane is second with 71. Only two hurlers are unbeaten in league play. G. W. Warden of Lubbock has won six and Jimmy Kight of Brownwood has won two. Warden has two no-hit games.

SUNBEAMERS APPEAR TO BE READY FOR CRUCIAL TILT

The Bluebonnet - Sunbeamers appear ready for their crucial tilt against Crane Saturday night. They played the eastern division's leader, Brownwood, in a pair of games last Saturday night and won them both.

Warden and Pope collaborated to chalk up the victories, with Pope relieving Warden in the second game to get credit for both wins.

Has Margin Over Crane

Lubbock currently has a three and a half game margin over Crane, but a double loss could imperil this lead. A split would put the Sunbeamers well on the way to a second half victory. And a clean sweep of both games would do much to end the race before it begins.

Roy Butler of the Sunbeamers is hitting .315 to rank second to Fowler on the squad, while Tommy Moorehead is batting .308. They are the only players hitting over .300.

Baseball Deals Revealed Here

In new baseball deals announced last night by George Schepps, Lubbock Hubber general manager, the Hubbers have secured a lefthanded pitcher, lost a righthander and have sent three rookie players to Corpus Christi.

The southpaw twirler is Luigi (Louis) Colella, who was signed to a Greenville Baseball club contract and assigned to Corpus Christi. Colella has been recalled by Greenville and re-assigned to Lubbock.

Bill Grafton, a righthanded pitcher who has won two and lost five with the Hubbers, has been recalled by Greenville and was due to leave this morning.

Bobby Barron, a rookie from Dallas, who was signed on a five-day look last week, has been signed to a Lubbock contract and optioned to Corpus Christi. He will report at once.

Kenneth Ledbetter and Curtis Willis McElhaney, a pair of rookies from Arkansas, have been signed to Lubbock contracts and also have been optioned to Corpus Christi. They will report at once.

Colella is from Chicago and last year pitched on the Illinois state semi-pro championship baseball team. Like most lefthanders, he is inclined to wildness, but has exceptionally good stuff. He is 18 years old stands six feet and a half inches tall and weighs 175 pounds. He has won five and lost two for Corpus Christi.

Grafton was sent to Lubbock early in the season to bolster the weak pitching staff. He largely was ineffective in compiling a 2-5 mark. Grafton had not started a game since June 4, when he was relieved in the sixth inning against Pampa.

Barron is an infielder, Ledbetter is a 20-year old rookie outfielder from Wesley, Ark., and McElhaney is a 20-year old rookie righthander from Thorney, Ark.

Texas Is Winner In NCAA Opener

AUSTIN, June 17. (AP)—Texas had Oklahoma A. and M.'s back to the wall today as the two teams moved into their second game of the series to decide the NCAA regional baseball championship.

The Longhorns beat the Aggies, 3-2, yesterday in the opener and can close the series out by winning today. If the Sooner Aggies turn the tables this afternoon, however, a third game will be played tomorrow night.

Texas won the game in the last of the ninth as Al Joe Hunt lofted a long fly that permitted Jack Webb to score from third base.

Between The Lines by Joe Kelly

Main topic of conversation at the Lubbock Country club yesterday afternoon, besides how well the Hubbers were doing, was the great match yesterday morning between Mrs. Sam O'Neal of Odessa and Mrs. Gloria Ezell of Midland. Mrs. Ezell went down fighting to the bitter end and the match wasn't Mrs. O'Neal's for sure until she sank a short putt on the final green. Mrs. Ezell had sent a long, apparently hopeless lie rolling over the carpet and into the cup to check the match squarely up to Mrs. O'Neal. But the veteran golfer rallied to it. As big as the mental problem must have been, she calmly sank the putt for victory.

Miss Pat Garner of Midland, one of the other hopes from that city, came in with a 3 up victory. She said that she had not been as bothered on the course yesterday as she had been the day before. The wind didn't bother her, although it did a lot of the competitors, and she said that she was beginning to get into it more. Miss Garner plays Mrs. O'Neal today and it should be about the best match of the day. Mrs. Goldthwaite still remains the tourney favorite and her 7 and 6 victory yesterday over Mrs. Sibyl Flournoy, who was given a good chance of extending her, was impressive, to say the least. She again proved that she will be hard to beat.

Mrs. E. C. Knight, who came in Tuesday with an 84, after driving seven balls in the water hazard on No. 9 in the nine-hole flight, yesterday toured the course in a creditable 72. She remarked, when she came in and saw us, that she was improving. "I didn't go in the water once today." She told Mrs. T. E. Patterson Tuesday that "you wanted beginners and you're getting one."

George Aulbach was in a jovial mood again yesterday. He said that the play had started five minutes early and that the golfers were coming in pretty well. But later in the afternoon, he had to change his tune. Some of the matches went over the 18 hole limit and some of the golfers, bothered by the wind, took longer to tour the course than had been expected. George wasn't altogether happy. He said that the Amarillo golfers were taking something of a licking and he didn't like that. Amarillo golfers were taking something of a licking off the golf links, too. They took a lot of razzing about the Gold Sox, who dropped three out of four to Lubbock.

Most women yesterday began to settle down into the routine of tournament golf and lost what first day jitters they had. Several admitted as much. All to whom we talked agreed that the course was in fine shape and most of them felt that the golfers had become more accustomed to the greens. As a result, putting was better all around. The first nine holes were being played in lower strokes than the back nine, which still was causing a lot of trouble. Yesterday the women said they thought most of the trouble on the back nine was caused by the high wind and that, given a good day today, the scores would be better.

Not as many golfers from South Plains towns showed up as we had anticipated, which is disappointing all around. There should have been a good representation from towns in this area. Plainview sent a large delegation, but we haven't seen anyone here yet from Lamesa, one of the stronger golfing points on the Plains. Mrs. Ethel Herriage, president of the South Plains Women's Golf association, is here and in the tournament. And Mrs. L. E. Brister of Monahans is a one-woman chamber of commerce for Monahans. She had hoped that another member from her club would be here, but she was the only one able to get away. She's still very much in the tourney.

There haven't been many alibis so far, or if there have been, we haven't heard them. The women are good competitors. They play all-out to win and they have been gracious losers. Herb Schroeder, Country club pro, says that there hasn't been a beef by a single woman so far. And Aulbach hasn't had a bit of trouble. Several visitors in town for the tournament, most of whom yesterday sat in the shade of the starter's tent. Chairs were placed on the sod behind the first tee yesterday for the benefit of the gallery and golfers waiting their turn to start.

Just a line or two of congratulation to Texas Tech for making such a wise move in selecting a good man for a tough job that needed filling badly. And also a line of credit to Maxey McKnight for taking a thankless job and doing his best, which was pretty, pretty good. Tech athletic exes have, for a long time, been convinced that the varsity coaches could be aided greatly if the freshmen teams were in the hands of a good coach. They also were convinced that a good freshman team attracted some attention and a well-coached freshman team meant a better varsity. We think that Tech has taken a long step in the right direction.

Lobo Left Fielder Assessed $50 Fine

LAMESA, June 17. (Special) — Milton E. Price, president of the West Texas-New Mexico League, yesterday assesses a $50 fine against D. C. Miller, slugging left-fielder of the Lamesa Loboes, for "unbecoming conduct."

Miller, who last night slammed his 15th home run of the year, also was placed on probation. He was given the fine for his actions in the game against Borger here Wednesday night.

The burly outfielder, Lamesa's top long ball hitter, disputed violently a called strike by Umpire Steve Sadowski in the first inning of the game. For arguing too strenuously, Umpire Sadowski gave him the thumb.

Sadowski later similarly thumbed pitcher Jack Guiterrez and right fielder Leo Rheingans out of the game for expressing disapproval of his ball-strike decision. Borger won the game 3 to 1 to end Lamesa's six-game winning streak.

Umpires left the park after the game with a police escort while angry fans muttered threats. One Lamesa fan was fined $17.50 for allegedly hurling two pop bottles at Sadowski.

Dallas Eagles Dust Off Sport Challenge

(By The Associated Press)

It's goo hit, no pitch as the Dallas Eagles ride atop the Texas league. But the way those babies hit, the other side has no pitch either.

Last night the Eagles beat off their most persistent challenger agai nas they powered to a 12-11 victory over Shreveport. Not only did Dallas shove the Sports two and a half games away but Shreveport also tumbled into third place.

The Fort Worth Cats moved into the runner-up spot by trouncing Beaumont, 6-0.

San Antonio licked Oklahoma City, 8-5, and Tulsa whammed the Houston Buffs, 12-7, in other games.

Joe Louis fought 61 bouts during his ring career, winning 60 of them.

Champ Indians Wake Up To Take Warpath

Yankee Series Will Be Test

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Have the world champion Cleveland Indians awakened from their season-long lethargy and gone on the warpath? The answer should be forth-coming after their three-game series with the league-leading New York Yankees, which starts today.

Heartened by five straight victories over the Yankees and Boston Red Sox, the teams generally regarded a stheir toughest opposition, Cleveland followers today were certain that their favorites finally had straightened themselves out.

Sweep Boston Series

They pointed with pride to the Indians' three-game sweep of the Red Sox in Boston, a feat no club has been able to do in years. Prior to that, the Indians had been able to win only five out of 18 away from home for a miserable .287 percentage.

Mike Garcia gained his second decision in five days yesterday when he pitched the Indians to a 6-3 triumph over the Red Sox.

The victory enabled the fourth place Indians to pick up half a game on the Yankees, who were held to a split in their doubleheader with the Chicago White Sox. A gap of six and a half games separates the two clubs. Boston is in seventh place, nine games behind.

Race Tightens Up

The National league race tightened up considerably when the second place St. Louis Cardinals whipped the Brooklyn Dodgers, 6-2, with third place Boston and fourth place Philadelphia winning their games. The Cards now trail the Dodgers by one game. The Braves and Phils are two games off the pace.

New York's fifth place Giants moved up to within four games of the top although their scheduled doubleheader with the Reds in Cincinnati was washed out by rain.

Chasing Lefty Joe Hatten with a four-run barrage in the seventh inning, the Cards won the rubber contest of the three-game series before 28,807 fans, one of the largest week-day turnouts in St. Louis in years.

Pete Reiser Honors

Pete Reiser homered in the fifth to break a 2-2 tie and send the Braves on their way to a 7-2 victory over the Pirates in Pittsburgh. Vern Bickford space five hits for his eighth victory, his third over the Bucs. Ray Poat was the loser.

Relief pitcher Jim Konstanty singled across the run in the ninth inning to win his own game as the Phils nipped the Cubs in Chicago. 4-3.

Fred Sanford, purchased from the St. Louis Browns for 100,000 last winter, went the route for the first time this season as he pitched the Yankees to a 5-4 victory and a split with the White Sox. The Sox had won the opener, 10-5, scoring nine runs in the first two innings, against Tommy Byrne and Clarence Marshall.

Reynolds Smith Favorite To Cop Texas Amateur Tourney

DALLAS, June 17. (AP)—Minus both its defending champion and medalist, the Texas Amateur golf tournament today found Reynolds Smith of Dallas the favorite.

Smith knocked Rick McCreary of Houston, the 1948 champion, out of the running in the second round yesterday with a 2 and 1 decision.

At the same time veteran campaigner Bill Skeeters of Dallas was eliminating medalist Mally Reynolds of Dallas 1-up.

Others advancing were Walter Benson of Austin, Bob Watson of Wichita Falls, Don Cherry of Odessa, Morris Williams, jr., of Austin, L. M. Crannell, jr., of Dallas and Herb Durham of Dallas.

Today, Smith takes on Benson, Watson tackles Cherry, Skeeters plays Williams and Crannel meets Durham.

Other than the downfall of McCreary and Reynolds, the upset of the first day's play was the decision by Durham over Billy Maxwell. Durham beat the Odessa star 3 and 1.

Benson advanced to the semi-finals with a 4 and 3 decision over Dr. Harvey White, jr., of Wichita Falls and a 2 up win over Matthew Roberts of Terrell.

Watson got there by defeating W. L. Todd, jr., of Dallas, 5 and 4, and Ed Hopkins of Austin 2-up.

Cherry trimmed Jim Simpson of Fort Worth, 4 and 3, and Don January of Dallas, 2 and 1.

Williams won over Don Bilbrey of Wichita Falls, 3 and 2, and Orion Newman of Dallas, 2 and 1.

Crannell beat Carl Vandervoort of Fort Worth, 2-up, and John Shive of Waxahachie, 6 and 5.

Durham won over Gene Towry of Dallas, 1-up, in addition to eliminating Maxwell.

Smith scored a 1-up win over Joe Conrad of San Antonio before beating McCreary.

Skeeters took out George Bennett of Dallas, 1-up, then polished of Reynolds.

Rotary Ball Club Defeats Optimists

Rotarians today had the last laugh—for the time being—on the Optimists.

The baseball team representing the Rotary club in the American Legion Junior League baseball program yesterday won an 8 to 7 victory over the Optimist nine at Jumbo Webster Field. Erwin and Higginbotham shared hurling honors for the winners.

The Optimists staged a rally in the last half of the final frame, but Blocker was nailed at the plate on a perfect peg.

Earlier, the Rotary club had sent two runners over the plate in the final inning to take a lead they didn't give up.

Cleveland and Boston both scored 17 runs in the six games of the 1948 World Series.

Legion Competition Will Start Monday

American Legion Junior League baseball competition will begin Monday and continue through July 7, it was decided last night at a meeting of coaches and managers of the 13 teams in District 2.

Double elimination playoffs will be held July 8 and 9 at Rosenthal Field among the top teams, which will be decided on percentages. Each district group will establish game times, select umpires and set ground rules for home teams.

Representatives from all 13 groups in the district met last night with Joe Holmes, district chairman, in the local American Legion hall.

The teams which will compete are from Spur, Ralls, Idalou, O'Donnell, Brownfield, Plainview, Lubbock, Slaton, Levelland, Morton, Tahoka, and Muleshoe.

The representatives present at the meeting were: Guy B. Karr, Spur; J. Jacobs, Tahoka; Herman Brown, Lubbock; Milton Bell, Brownfield; C. R. Burleson, O'Donnell; J. C. Adams, Plainview; M. E. Wheeler, Levelland; Dan Roberts and O. D. Stephens, Ralls; Melvin Crawford, Morton; and David Sanders, Slaton.

FIRST BAPTISTS WIN

The First Baptist softball team defeated the Lubbock Auto company 18-5 in a game played Thursday in the Twilight Commercial league. Cecil Setiz of the Baptist hit two home runs and Charles Wood got one round tripper of the winners.

LEGION TO PRACTICE

The first workout of the first and second American Legion baseball teams will be held Saturday afternoon at 5 p. m. at Chapman field diamond, Joe Holmes announced Thursday night.

Details Of Huge Canadian Dam Project Revealed At Plainview

It was estimated that construction of the dam project would require four years and that five years would be needed to complete the aqueduct to serve all 11 cities.

It would be the responsibility of each of the 11 cities to apportion the reimbursable capital charges and the operation and maintenance charges among themselves. If they were to apportion such charges on a flat rate, the cost per 1,000 gallons of water at the portal of each city would be 7.5 cents, the report said. This is based on the project being authorized without interest.

The 7.5 cents per 1,000 gallons cost compares with from 4 to 6 cents it now costs the City of Lubbock to produce water from wells, exclusive of capital costs, reservoirs and booster stations.

Would Include Pipeline

The aqueduct system would include a pipe line exteding from the reservoir to Sanford, where it would divide, with one branch extending eastward through Borger to Pampa, and the second branch extending southward through Amarillo and Lubbock, with its terminus at Lamesa and a branch line from Lubbock to Slaton. Branches from the Amarillo-Lubbock line would be constructed to Littlefield and Levelland at a later date when warranted by their need for surface water.

Initial diameter of the pipe line would be 84 inches, terminal diameter at Lamesa 24 inches, and an over-all length of 227 miles. Ultimately 15 pumping stations would be required to transmit water from the reservoir to the various cities.

Energy charges at an an estimated $00.0065—per kilowat hour for pumping would total $383,000 in 1960, $645,000 in 1980 and $1,072,000 in the year 2000. Portions of the line would operate by gravity.

The pipe lines would be combination steel-concrete, the proportion of each material depending upon the head at various stations.

Quality Is Superior

Quality of Canadian river water would be superior to ground water supplies now used in flouride content (low enough to eliminate tooth stain); superior to all present sources except Amarillo, Plainview and Pampa in hardness; superior to all in magnesium and bi-cardonate content; superior to Lamesa, Lubbock, Pampa and O'Donnel in chlorides and inferior to all cities except O'Donnell in sulphates.

The water is considered acceptable for municipal use, Burleigh told the approximately 100 representatives of the cities atending today's meeting at the Hilton hotel. The meeting opened at 10 a. m. and closed with a noon luncheon.

John L. McCarty, president of the Panhandle Water Conservation Authority, presided at the meeting.

Lubbock Represented

Attending from Lubbock were Mayor W. H. Rodgers, City Manager Steve Matthews, City Commissioners Clarence Whiteside and E. K. Hufstedler, jr., R. L. Oldham, director of public works, and Joe Nislar, R. L. Stewart and Ruel C. Martin, member of Lubbock water resources board, and Harry N. Roberts, engineer. City Manager J. D. Willson of Lamesa and Mayor L. B. Wooton and City Secretary J. J. Maxey of Slaton, also were here. Pampa, Tahoka, O'Donnell, Littlefield and Levelland were not represented.

In addition to Burleigh, two other reclamation officials were present. They were Rex Reed, chief planning engineer, and Howard E. Robbins, regional director of the Reclamation service, both of Amarillo.

Of the total reimbursable cost of $77,892,000 to be repayable by the project cities, a method of charges to each city would have to be determined by local interests. Three methods of payment were presented.

Methods Are Explained

Under the flat rate method of charges for water, the same charge per 1,000 gallons would be made against all cities involved.

Under the percentage-of-use method, the construction cost of the dam, reservoir and other facilities jointly serving all the cities would be allocated among the cities in proportion to their respective shares of total water deliveries during the period 1955-2005; the construction cost of each section of the aqueduct system would be divided among the cities served by that section in proportion to the percentage of the design capacity required to serve each city; interest costs, if repayment is made with interest, would be alocated among the cities in proportion to their respective shares of total water deliveries during the period 1956-2005; variable operation and maintenance costs, principally for pumping energy, would be divided among the several sections of the aqueduct system in proportion to the factor—total head times design capacity-for each section, expressed as a percentage of the sum of such factors of the entire system; the variable operation and maintenance costs for each section would then be divided among the cities served by that section in proportion to their respective total water deliveries through the section during the 50-year period.

Under the incremental method, the total costs of a project designed to serve Borger and Amarillo, only would be determined, and the same water charges would apply to both cities. Next, the cost of expanding the project to serve Pampa would be sufficient to return these additional costs.

The cost of expanding the project again to serve Lubbock, would be determined, and the additional costs required for this expansion would be considered as the costs to that city.

Finally, the cost of expanding the project once more to serve Plainview, Levelland, Littlefield, Slaton, Tahoka, O'Donnell and Lamesa would be determined. And the additional costs required for such expansion would be borne by those cities.

It would be necessary for the local interests to form an organization under appropriate laws of Texas with which to contract with the Federal government for repayment of all reimbursable charges, the report concluded.

In effect, that requirement has already been complied with in the formation of the Panhandle Water Conservation Authority, representatives of which attended today's meeting.

A note of warning to the cities represented in the meeting showed its ugly head in Burleigh's report.

The report cited that there is an estimated 150,000,000 acre-feet of ground water in a state of transient storage in the gravels of the Ogallalla formation, the only aquifer available to the project cities and the present source of water for each.

Is Now Inadequate

"The project cities south of Lubbock obtain their water supplies from a thin water bearing strata, which is inadequate for their needs," the report said. "These cities must seek new water sources at once.

"The pumping rates necessary to meet water requirements at Amarillo, Lubbock, and Pampa and in the Borger area are so large that local unwatering of water sands occurs at a rate higher than the permeability of the Ogallalla aquifer enables replenishment.

"To overcome this physical situation in these areas, a reliable water supply necessitates constant expansion of well fields to lessen excessive water table decline resulting from concentrated pumping which eventually lowers the water table to the level of non-water bearing strata.

"The well field expansion process is costly, and the results are not always," the report's warning continues "Moreover, the cities face the constant possibility of litigation in areas where their concentrated pumping produces water table declines adverse to nearby interests.

"The project cities have concluded therefore that the lack of a reliable water supply hampers growth and industrial expansion and have determined to seek a permanent and adequate water supply from surface water sources. The remaining, smaller cities could possibly meet their water requirements from ground water sources."

ern Lamb county where an estimated one and one-half inches of rain fell, accompanied by some hail and high winds.

Gus Parish of Springlake said last night it was feared that the elements did extensive damage to cotton and wheat in the area. A brilliant electrical display accompanied the storm. A "brisk" hail storm was reported in the Earth area and damage to cotton and wheat in that section was feared.

Showers At Muleshoe

No reports of damage had been received from the northeastern part of the plains early today where harvesting of the rich wheat crop in Floyd and Hale county started Thursday.

Also reporting rain was the Olton area. A heavy thunderstorm struck there about 9 p. m. and circuits were out at a late hour last night.

The Plainview operator reported also that circuits were out to Dimmitt.

R. J. Klump of Muleshoe said late last night that only light showers and sprinkles had fallen there, but indications were that there had been considerable rain to the north. It was not known last night what crop damages were sustained in that area. Skies seemed to be clearing in that vicinity late last night, it was reported.

Littlefield, Amherst, and Sudan reported light showers last night. The three communities were swept by winds of fairly high velocity for a short time. No damage was reported.

Plainview reported no rain late last night. There had been no rain or storm activity early today in the Floydada area it was reported there.

Seminole and Seagraves late last night reported clear skies in their immediate vicinities.

Stock Market

NEW YORK, June 17. (AP)—A sleepy stock market just about held its own today. Trading dropped to one of the lowest levels in years.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, June 17. (AP)—Most grain contracts ended lower on the board of trade today after a listless session of backing and filling.

Corn and oats showed some strength in early dealings, but sank in the last 15 minutes along with an easier tone in wheat. The bread cereal met selling in view of another clear day in the southwest speeding up harvesting operations.

March wheat and March corn were the only two contracts in these cereals to advance. They were brought on the belief Congress will extend the 90 percent parity support program into 1950.

Wheat closed ⅛ lower to ⅜ higher, July $1.93⅝-½; corn was ¼ lower to 1⅝ higher, July $1.30⅜-⅝; oats were unchanged to ⅛ lower, July 59⅜-¼.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK, June 17. (AP)—Cotton futures were steady today in quiet trading as New Orleans and commission house buying met only limited liquidation and hedging. Locals were also on the buying side.

Washington indications that a sharp cut in ECA funds is not likely, the start of buying by some foreign countries against third quarter ECA cotton credits and unfavorable crop news from some sections of the belt, accounted for the upturn.

Futures closed 35 to 75 cents a bale higher than the previous close.

Hough said he asked Bressler's permission and "received a rather vituperative letter from him. He didn't like the idea but requested me to call on him when I arrived in Fairfax."

The argument began when Hough arrived at Bressler's home.

Said Bressler:

"Hough threatened to send the letter I'd written him to the Methodist bishop and I wanted it back. I got mad—a fit of temper just like anybody can get once in a while—and I struck him, just once."

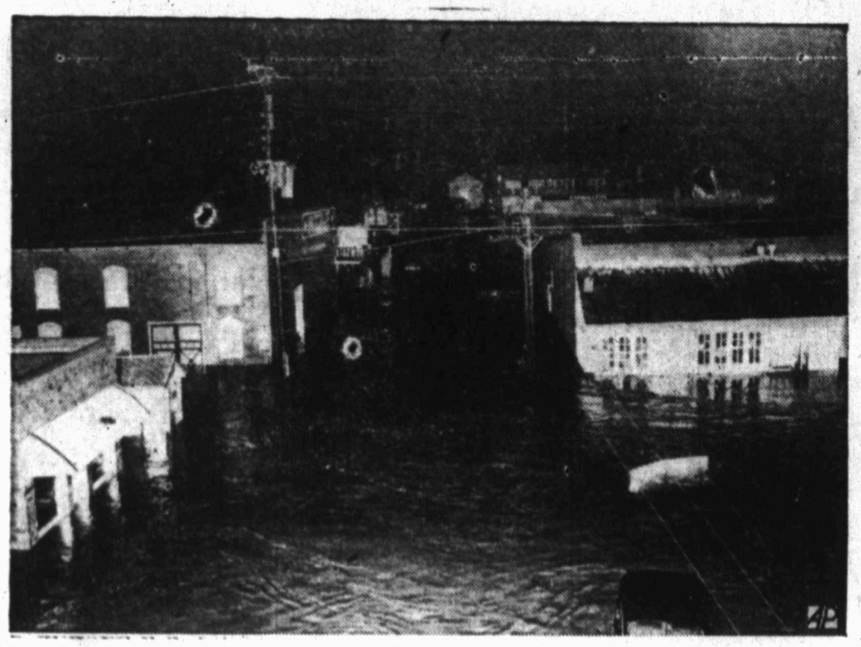

After the dispute, neither minister performed the ceremony.

A third pastor, the Rev. Harold Park, jr., of the Fairfax Presbyterian church, was called in for the marriage.

Writer-Vet Says Return Trip To European Battlefield Is Shock, Especially If Alone

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, June 17. (AP)—A letter to any veteran:

Well, soldier, I made my trip into memory. I went to see the fox-holes of Europe that I remembered.

And if you plan to revisit the battlefields that still disturb your dreams, maybe I can give you a tip or two.

The main thing, I would say, soldier, is don't go back alone if you can help it. You'll find it quite a shock to see how much the earth has swallowed your war.

I don't know just how to put into words the feeling you get when you learn that the foxholes you remember so well don't remember you at all now—no more than a hotel bed recalls its last guests.

Feelings Mixed

But it is a mixed feeling—a kind of resentment at life and death and change, and an utter loneliness and desolation of spirit.

That is why it is better to go back with someone who can share that feeling—a buddy or a group of buddies. Together you can better forgive the soil that once gave you shelter and now has forgotten you altogether.

I know. I went back with a group of 47 war correspondents. And we were grateful afterward that we'd had each other's company.

Whether you should take your wife along, soldier, I couldn't say. If she's the right kind of wife, why sure—okay. But there is also the other kind who jaws: "You call this a battlefield? I'd rather see that blonde ruin I hear you shacked with in Belgium."

This type of wife it would be better to jettison in Paris.

Trip Worth While

Looking back over this letter, soldier, I wonder if I have given you the impression that it isn't worthwhile to make this trip into memory at all because it will be too painful. Well, if I did, I didn't mean to. It is very much worthwhile.

It is painful but one pain sometimes cancels out another. Too many men who fought the war have secretly hugged it too long in their hearts and minds now. They have made war a terrible sweetheart, a mistress who taught them much, gave them little, and took their youth.

But nothing cures an old romance like seeing the old sweetheart again years after. And that is why it is good to go back, soldier. It'll put the war in proper perspective.

Postal Workers Plan Saturday Night Meet

A 19th Congressional district postal workers meeting will be conducted in Slaton Community club house Saturday night.

A social hour will open at 7 p. m., followed by a basket picnic at 8 p. m. The program will follow the picnic.

G. N. Shirey of Floydada, president of the 19th district Rural Letter Carriers, will call the meeting to order after which the group will sing "America." B. E. Beaver of Girard will offer invocation.

K. L. Scudder Slaton postmaster, will welcome the group and B. E. Terrell, Lubbock carrier, will respond.

Remainder of the program will include music and short talks by a rural letter carrier, a city carrier, a clerk, a supervisor, a postmaster and Postal Inspector V. E. Bell of Lubbock.

Workers have been invited to take their families.

by Sen. Henry Mize, would outlaw the wearing of masks in Alabama except for parties and festivals. It now stands in 2th place on the Senate calendar.

Folsom was joined in his plea by Sheriff Holt McDowell of Jefferson county, who has advised citizens to arm themselves against hooded night raiders.

"My officers and other law enforcement agents over the state can handle daytime raids by unmasked groups," McDowell said in a statement here. "But we need laws with some teeth in them to stop hooded, night-riding gangs."

Parade Group Hunts Used Surrey, Buggy

WANTED: One used surrey or buggy.

The vehicle needn't be a late model. It may be any age, up to a half century more or less, if it still has wheels.

The appeal for a buggy or surrey was made from Abernathy today by Clyde Haden, chairman of the 40th Abernathy anniversary parade committee, which needs the vehicle for use in the parade on July 2.

The committee would like to rent either a buggy or surrey and would be glad for anyone in this area who has one or can help the committee locate one to communicate with Haden.

Unemployment

Dr. Edwin G. Nourse, but Nourse declared in a speech that a "continued downswing" in business is possible.

It is too soon to say, the economist added, whether the outcome will be a leveling-off, a new inflation, or a "real recession."

The Associated Press survey covered 38 states from which data were quickly available. In almost all of them, officials reported rises in the last year in both the relief burden and the number of people drawing unemployment pay.

Five states voted special laws to help cities and counties cope with the relief problem—Ohio, Minnesota, Iowa, Kansas and Massachusetts. Three more are investigating the need—Michigan, Colorado and Idaho.

California has had a "standby" relief law on the books since 1945. Some of the other states' laws are more "preparedness" measures than "emergency" acts.

Relief Project Reappears

The work relief project, so familiar in the "thirties, reappeared in Dayton, O., as early as December. Now it has spread to at least six bigger metrolopitan areas, reports the American Municipal association.

They are Detroit, 1,156 persons; Chicago, 155; Cincinnati county, more than 300; Los Angeles, 488; Cleveland, 141; Milwaukee county, 201. The totals are as of April or May; they may have risen.

Yet, most of the state officials directly concerned with relief gave such reassuring analysis as these, from every region of the country:

"A slowdown but not disturbing" (New Jersey); Relief problem "well in hand" (Minnesota); "Not at all critical" (Wisconsin); "Signs of recovery" (Maine); Tight squeeze but "no crisis" (Oregon); Situation "pretty good" (Arkansas); Unemployment is "largely seasonal—no alarm" (Massachusetts).

Some new problems are looming, nevertheless. And some old ones are returning. For instance:

Relief Costs Soaring

1. Relief costs per relief family have soared. Ohio says it costs 2½ times as much to keep a family going as it did in 1942. Food costs more, hospitals cost more. Everything costs more.

2. Rents must be paid. Nowadays, landlords evict non-paying tenants. In the depression, many people who couldn't pay stayed on anyway because the landlord coudn't find other tenants. Now the state or city must either pay the rent or re-house homeless families.

3. Longer relief rolls are embarrassing city treasuries. Already squeezed between frozen tax revenues and higher costs for every city service, cities find the new relief burden raises serious financial problems.

4. Some western states report migrants on the march again. Nothing like the "Grapes of Wrath" era but incoming transients are causing concern in Colorado and Wyoming, for instance, and even in Oklahoma whence came the "Okies" of dustbowl and depression days.

Child Dependents Increase

5. Aid to dependent children is rising faster than other relief. Missouri thinks it is because women who worked to support children are losing jobs. Louisiana thinks wartime marriages are breaking up.

Summarized reports from the states included:

Oklahoma—the state reports 14,447 getting unemployment checks or now applying, as against 5,528 a year ago. The Employment Security commission blames the rise on business layoffs, a sharp drop in construction, and an increased labor force.

Texas—Unemployment claims in May were $1,358,000, or thrice the volume of a year ago. The prewar high was $1,089,701.

Boy Severely Burned In Butane Explosion

Two-year-old Wayne Mason, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Mason, was resting well this morning, considering seriousness of burns which covered more than 60 percent of his body, it was reported at Lubbock Memorial hospital.

The boy was taken to the hospital after he was burned about 8:30 p. m. Thursday in a flash of fire from a butane explosion in a two-room apartment into which his parents were moving on Idalou highway.

He suffered first, second and third-degree burns. Worst burns were on the legs, back, stomach, face and one arm. Blood plasma was administered.

City firemen, who were called to the scene, said the explosion blew away part of the sheetrock ceiling of the small apartment, throwing pieces of two-by-fours from the ceiling up against the rafters in the roof.

The apartment apparently became filled with gas when previous residents moved and left jets open in the butane line, city firemen said. A spark, possibly from an adjoining apartment, may have set off the gas, they explained.

The apartment is located on the Idalou highway, near Corral Drive-In theater. B. N. Dorman, who operates a grocery store nearby, was listed on fire department records as the occupant of the apartment next to the one in which the explosion occurred.

"dark horse" role Thursday with a convincing first-round performance.

Mrs. O'Neal was extended all the way to beat Mrs. Gloria Strom Ezell, former University of Texas champion now playing out of Midland, 1 up. Mrs. O'Neal carved out a one-hole lead in the front nine, and held that margin through the incoming nine.

Mrs. Goldthwaite scored the most lop-sided triumph of the opening round, trouncing diminutive Mrs. Sibyl Flournoy, Midland, 7 and 6, with an impressive performance that saw the Fort Worth ace equal women's par on the first nine holes.

Winner Goes To Finals

Miss Garner easily defeated Mrs. G. V. Lillie, Odessa, 6 and 4, as the field was narrowed to eight championship contestants.

Today's top attraction matched Mrs. O'Neal against Miss Garner, with the winner generally favored to continue into Sunday's finals.

In the other bracket, Mrs. Goldthwaite still was top favorite. In today's second round she met Mrs. Carl Mahan, of Abilene, who came from behind Thursday to oust Mrs. Spearl Ellison, El Paso, 1 up.

Other quarter-final matches pitted Mrs. Henry Lobstein, Brownwood, against Mrs. Bonnie Awtrey, Odessa, and Mrs. Ted Huestis, Odessa, against Mrs. E. A. Dietz, Fort Worth.

Thursday's tightest match came in the first flight, where Mrs. Bill Roden, sun-tanned Odessa swinger, staged a gallant rally only to lose to Mrs. John Markham, Lubbock, 1 up in 19 holes. Five down with five holes to play, Mrs. Roden put on a Merriwell finish to square the match on the 18th green, then three-putted on the extra hole to drop the decision.

Championship and consolation play in all flights was to continue today. The tournament semi-finals will be held Saturday, with the finals Sunday.

Funeral services for Betty Jean Taylor, 19, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Taylor of 913 E. Fifteenth, were scheduled for 4 p. m. today at College Avenue Baptist church, with Rev. Abe Hester, jr., pastor, officiating.

Sanders Funeral home announced burial would be in Lubbock cemetery.

The girl died about 2:30 p. m. Thursday in the home after long illness.

Miss Taylor was born in Lubbock and had resided here all her life.

Survivors in addition to the parents include two brothers, Billy Joe and Odis Taylor, both of Lubbock.

Amateurs Plan Radio Contests

Along with amateur radio operators throughout the United States, members of the South Plains Amateur Radio club will open a 24-hour field day at 4 p. m. Saturday, Rogers Orr, president, said today.

Purpose of the field day is to demonstrate readiness of amateur operators in case of emergency to operation on their own power.

South Plains Amateur Radio club will be enabled to demonstrate its ability to operate under its own power through recent purchase of a transmitter and receiver combination which is battery operated and has been bought for emergency work. It is a BC 654-A Army surplus transmitter which cost the club $40, a small fraction of its original cost.

Contests Planned

The local field day will be conducted about 100 yards north of the traffic circle on Tahoka highway, in a building owned by Marvin McLarty Sales Co.

Approximately 30 men are expected to attend. Officers, in addition to Orr, are Bill Gentry, vice president, and W. T. Ward, secretary.

Activity will consist of making as many contacts with other field day stations as possible in the 24 hours. Specified numbers of points will be allowed for each contact and a prize will be given to national and sectional winners. Members of the South Plains group also will conduct a local contest and the prize will go to the operator who makes the most contacts and keeps a perfect log of his contacts.

W5EWB, the call letters of U. V. Blake, will be used.

At 11:25 Commission Pat Corley made a motion to accept the bid of McKee. That motion, too, was neither seconded nor voted on and discussion continued.

Award Protested

Shortly before noon a delegation representing Clowe and Cowan and the Samson company, low base bidders on the heating, air conditioning and plumbing appeared before the court and protested award of the contract to Anthony company on an alternate bid, submitting that the second company was not in a position to figure the base bid.

No action was taken, the commissioners adjourning for lunch after the hearing.

The court made all other awards for construction of the building Thursday afternoon, as follows:

Heating, air conditioning and plumbing to Anthony company on alternates one and three at $157,960.

Electrical work to W. K. Jennings Electric company, Inc., of Austin on a base bid of $56,385.

Elevators to Hunter-Hayes company of Dallas on a bid of $82,228, taking an alternate on stainless steel doors.

The court could not bring itself to vote Thursday afternoon on the general contract award.

Bidders Present Arguments

The two low bidders appeared before the court, each with persuasive arguments in his favor.

McMillan had submitted the low base bid of $833,293, McKee second low bid of $840,000—a difference of $6,707.

McMillan had agreed to complete the building in 550 calendar days. He did not reduce his time requirement Thursday.

McKee had agreed to complete the building in 360 calendar days. He reduced this time to 330 days—11 months—after the court had explained the importance of the time element in reducing county operating costs.

Would Use Local Labor

McMillan had figured Luecders limestone, acceptable under the specifications, which comes from a quarry near Abilene.

McKee had figured Indiana limestone, also acceptable under the specifications and which was generally accepted by the court to be a harder and more durable stone.

The commissioners' court is not legally or morally bound to award any contract to the low bidder if, in their opinion, another bid is better, according to law.

The advertisements for bids and the specifications state:

"The court reserves the right to reject any or all bids, and to waive formalities."

Two emergency flights added drama to the day of tension as the commissioners sought to serve the best interests of the county in making the awards.

Emergency Flights Made

One was the flight of McKee from Dallas to appear before the commissioners Thursday.

The other was made after J. F. (Doc) Anthony, Bill Anthony and Buster Welch requested permission to have a General Electric air conditioning engineer be heard. Permission was granted at 15 minutes until 12.

At that time Welch called the Dallas office of G.E. and learned that E. A. Rapp, the expert, was aboard a plane en route to Oklahoma City and Tulsa.

Rapp was contacted at Oklahoma City. He immediately chartered a Beechcraft Bonanza and flew to Lubbock, arriving at 2:45 and going before the commissioners immediately.

He conferred with the court and discussed an alternate bid on G.E. reciprocating cooling machines which lopped $14,500 off Anthony company's base bid, making that firm low. The Samson company of Lubbock was low on base bid using equipment specified by the architect, but submitted no bid on the alternate.

After a 30-minute conference, he left and the commissioners promptly voted to award Anthony the contract.

Both the electric and elevator contracts went to the low bidders.

County Judge Walter Davies and Commissioners R. O. Short, Ottis Isom, Pat Corley and George A. Green were all present throughout the day-long meeting. Also present were S. B. Haynes and L. H. Kirby of Lubbock, architects on the project.

than the United States Bureau of Mines forecast for Texas crude oil demand in July.

Natural gasoline and distillate production for July and August was estimated at 253,668 barrels daily, bringing to 2,125,626 barrels daily the state's permissible production of liquified petroleum.

Adopted Unanimously

The new order was adopted unanimously but Commissioner Olin Culberson said he agreed only after realizing he was outnumbered.

Culberson strongly advocated an order maintaining current production schedules.

He estimated such action would mean a cutback of only 46,000 barrels daily.

Culberson said empty storage facilities in Texas last month increased 644,000 barrels over April, indicating ability of the industry to receive more oil.

Dr. Lloyd Ross, Convicted In York Murders, Is Held Insane

LA GRANGE, June 17. (AP)—Dr. Lloyd I. Ross, killer of four, had a new hold on life today—as a man insane.

District Judge J. R. Fuchs directed a Fayette county jury yesterday to find the San Antonio surgeon insane. The verdict was recommended by District Attorney J. Lee Dittert.

It saved Ross' life. He had been condemned to die in the electric chair for shooting four members of the Willard York family of San Antonio to death on Sunday in May, 1947.

His sanity trial ended abruptly after the first two witnesses, both doctors, testified Ross now is permanently insane.

Sheriff J. T. Flournoy planned to take Ross to the state hospital at Austin today. He will be observed there for 90 days.

Unaware Of Verdict

At the end of that time, if Dr. A. T. Hanretta, hospital superintendent, reports Ross is sane he will be given another sanity trial before a jury.

Ross sat only about four feet from District Clerk Elo Rhode as he read the verdict. He kept his black-bearded face bent over a bible and made no sign that he understood what had happened. He had not shaved since the trial began.

Dr. Hanretta and Dr. Royall Calder of San Antonio were the witnesses who testified Ross is permanently insane.

Dittert had Hanretta recalled to the witness stand. The doctor testified then that a more thorough examination of Ross could be made if he were in the Austin hospital for a period of 30 to 90 days. He added that Ross is "hopelessly insane."

Relatives Left Room

Dittert turned to the court. He said:

"I have my doubts. I am not convinced he is insane. But the state of Texas is too big to send a man to the chair if he is not sane. After all, I have to live with my conscience.

"The ends of justice and the rights of society have been served."

Then he asked the court to instruct the jury to find Ross insane and to have him committed to a state hospital.

Ross' wife, his 15-year-old daughter, Ann, and his sister, Miss Rena Ross, had left the courtroom when the doctors began to testify he is insane.

The small courtroom was hot and close-packed with spectators. They were quiet and orderly. Many stayed in the courtroom until Ross had been taken back to his county jail cell.

Harvard Graduate

Sheriff Flournoy said commitment papers would be signed today by County Judge H. W. Pittman. He said only one thing might keep him from taking Ross to the hospital today—a rule that the patient must have complete changes of clothing. Either Ross' family or the state will have to provide them, the sheriff said.

Ross was born in Ohio. He was graduated with honors from Harvard university.

He was convicted on Oct. 23, 1947, of the rifle-slaying of Mrs. Gertrude York on a country road in Comal county on May 25.

At the same time he killed York, his son John, 9, and York's mother, Mrs. Mary York, 67.

In Ross' trial for the slaying of Mrs. Gertrude York, the defense tried to show that the doctor "cracked up" after he lost his savings of about $150,000. He had entrusted the money to York for investment.

The court of criminal appeals ruled twice that Ross must die.

Suffers Heart Disease

In the sanity trial, Dr. Hanretta testified that York suffers from heart disease, as well as schizophrenia, or split mind.

"He is out of touch with reality," the hospital superintendent said. "He is in a world of his own. He is in an irreparable state."

On cross examination, Dittert told Dr. Hanretta:

"The test is whether the man knows right from wrong."

"I believe definitely his mental capacities are such he does not know right from wrong," the doctor replied. "Of course, medically, he definitely is insane."

Questioned by Defense Attorney Leonard Brown, Hanretta testified Ross showed many mental symptoms—heard noises, saw things, had false beliefs, felt that people were against him, doing things to him.

"There were signs of marked mental deterioration. Markedly retarded."

Brown asked if Ross would ever recover.

"No," said Hanretta, "there is too much mental deterioration."

Attorney C. C. Jopling of La Grange opened the case for the defense by reading three affidavits submitted to the court for four San Antonio physicians.

One of the documents said:

"There has been a marked and progressive deterioration mentally since his trial and he now is hopelessly and permanently insane.

"He claims to have heard God's voice on numerous occasions and claims poison attempts were escaped because God's voice has invariably warned him the night before."

Officers To Explain Training In Army

Two officers of the Second Armored Division will fly to Lubbock Sunday to address a city-wide meeting of men and women at the invitation of Mrs. C. M. Kaigler.

Chaplain (Lt. Col.) Henry L. Gillenwaters will tell the audience of work being done by the Army in religious and citizenship training, morality and character guidance. He will also explain the extensive athletic and recreation program initiated by the Army to provide wholesome off-duty occupations for the young soldiers. Lt. James D. Clavio, troop information and education officer of the Second Armored Division will explain the educational opportunities offered to every soldier.

The invitation to speak came as a result of Mrs. Kaigler's attendance at a Women's Interest Unit conference held at Camp Hood on May 24. Favorably impressed with what the Army is doing to take care of its young soldiers, most of whom are under twenty, Mrs. Kaigler has the desire to further the relationship of civilian and military communities by disseminating this information on a wider basis. Mrs. Kaigler is hoping that this meeting will bring to the people of Lubbock a realization of their responsibility toward today's young soldiers, she said.

Police Search For 'Hollywood Producer' As Widow Disappears

CHICAGO, June 17. (INS)—Chicago detectives searched last night for a man who identified himself as a Hollywood producer and disappeared with an attractive, red-headed widow's $5,000 seven days before she dropped from sight while "going to get my money back."

The story was told to state's attorney's investigators by the 19-year-old daughter of Mrs. Reseda Corrigan, the missing woman.

The daughter, also named Reseda, said her mother met a man who claimed he was "Sam Engel," the name he said he used as a Hollywood producer, but whose actual name was supposedly "Frederick Samuel Engel Ward."

Miss Corrigan said the meeting between her mother and "Engel" occurred about three weeks ago, and that it was followed by a whirlwind courtship.

Marriage Planned

Two weeks after "Engel" met Mrs. Corrigan, her daughter said, he asked her to marry him.

The couple first set June 2 as the wedding date and made preparations for the ceremony. Then, on Memorial Day, Miss Corrigan said, "Engel" took the Corrigan family to Milwaukee where he wanted to pray over his parents' graves for "spiritual" blessing.

Miss Corrigan told investigators "Engel" later said he would open a bank account for $5,000 in her mother's name because it was essential that his family believe he was marrying a wealthy woman.

She said "Engel' later asked to postpone the ceremony until June 6 so John Corrigan, jr., could return home from Carleton college at Northfield, Minn., to attend the wedding.

Bank Account Changed

The following day, according to Miss Corrigan, "Engel" told her mother it was not legal for a married woman to have her own bank account and suggested she turn her money over to him.

The girl said she did, along with $90 to buy a wedding band.

The last time Miss Corrigan saw "Engel," she said, was June 5 when he left the family after taking them to dinner.

Miss Corrigan said her mother reported "Engel's disappearance to police but refused to sign a warrant for his arrest.

She said her mother disappeared June 12 after receiving a telephone call.

"Engel" was described by Miss Corrigan as about 50, 5 feet 3 inches tall and slender. She said he wore expensive clothes.

Pensions Main Issue As Steel Company-Union Fight Resumes

PITTSBURGH, June 17. (AP)—Is "big steel" obligated to discuss pensions in contract negotiations with the CIO-United Steel workers?

On that question the conference between U. S. Steel Corp. and the union resumed today.

The two factions yesterday made their stand on the issue very clear. The company said legally no. USW promptly answered morally and legally yes.

Contract Issues Differ

"The issue is solely whether a labor contract means what it says, or whether one party to such a contract can disregard its terms at will. Our labor contract with this union continues until April 30, 1950. These contracts are reopenable at this time only with respect to rates of pay and insurance benefits. By the terms of these contracts they cannot be reopened to permit the union to make a pension demand."

Philip Murray, CIO and steelworker president answered that one this way:

"It is incredible that this great corporation should quibble and engage itself and the conference with legal sophistry on this issue."

Murray further elaborated the union position at a news conference where he said, "We're opening the contract on wages and wages are pensions."

'Obligation' Cited

He said the corporation was morally, legally and contractually obligated to bargain" with the union on pensions.

The union president disclosed the text of his argument presented the company on the pension issue. It contended that pensions "fall within the scope" of the contract clause which says wages and insurance may be reopened.

As the conferees sat down for the current meeting's third session, both sides were well aware of the USW's contractual right to strike this year if no agreement is reached by July 16. That was not the case last year.

The entire industry anxiously watch this sparring over the pension issue. It is common knowledge that the settlement—or lack of one—will set the pattern for the entire industry. As usual, the negotiations for 175,000 U. S. Steel employes should set the basis for some 835 other steel contracts covering more than 700,000 workers.

Bethlehem Opens Talks

The same pension snag was met in New York where Bethlehem Steel Co. opened contract talks with the USW. The company said no to pension discussion. Some 75,000 workers are involved.

Negotiations also began with Wheeling Steel Corp., at Wheeling, W. Va. A company spokesman there said the initial meeting adjourned indefinitely. He said "no" conclusions were reached.

It was disclosed that the USW asked a "substantial" pay boost from Crucible Steel Co. Crucible employs some 15,000 workers in plants from Wisconsin to New Jersey. But there too, Seward French, jr., assistant to the president of the firm, said yesterday he told the union a pension plan could not be considered now.

FBI To Be Asked To Check On Atom Work Story In Magazine

WASHINGTON, June 17. (AP)—The Atomic Energy commission will ask the FBI to check an article on atomic security in this month's "Nation's Business" to see if the story itself violates security regulations.

Commission chairman David E. Lilienthal indicated yesterday that he thinks it may be a violation.

He described the article to the Senate-House atomic committee as "inaccurate," as well as "reckless and irresponsible," and said it refers to "the most highly classified" information.

"We are consulting at the earliest possible date with J. Edgar Hoover, director of the FBI, about possible security violations," Lilienthal said.

A-Bombs Estimated

The article said, among other things, that the United States "should have" about 400 new atomic bombs.

"Nation's Business" is the official magazine of the United States Chamber of Commerce. As such, a note says, it "carries notices and articles in regard to the Chamber's activities; in all other respects the Chamber cannot be responsible for the contents thereof or for the opinions of writers."

In Albuquerque, N. M., the writer of the atomic story, William Bradford Huie, commented: "What I have written has been part of an effort to inform the American people of mismanagement. I welcome any investigation the FBI chooses to make."

Hickenlooper Adds Support

It was charges of "incredible mismanagement" by Senator Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) which brought Lilienthal before the congressional group to defend the commission's operations.

But even Hickenlooper supported Lilienthal against the statement in Huie's article that the commission chairman "doesn't have the stomach to go about the grim business of producing atomic weapons."

Said Hickenlooper: "I know of no time when Mr. Lilienthal has been restless or impatient about bomb making."

Lilienthal said the statement was "contrary to the record of the commission" and added that it reflected falsely "upon my patriotism and my stomach."

The Huie article brought a demand from Rep. Price (D-Ill) that the committee investigate "leaks" in atomic information.

Attack To Continue

Hickenlooper, continuing his attack on commission policies, said today's session (9:30 a. m. EST) would be devoted to a discussion of "waste" in the operation of three major atomic installations—Oak Ridge, Tenn., Hanford, Wash., and Los Alamos, N. M.

That hearing coincided with a closed door session of a Senate appropriations subcommittee considering a $1,090,000,000 AEC request for cash and contract authorizations.

Both groups have had the commission under fire on three counts involving the spending of taxpayers' money: (1) awarding scientific research fellowships without checking on the "loyalty" of candidates; (2) construction of a natural gas pipe line for Oak Ridge; and (3) the cost of a secret plutonium plant at Hanford.

Missing Uranium Discussed

Yesterday's hearing before the atomic committee started out with the case of an ounce of Uranium-235 missed from the Argonne national laboratory, Chicago, last February. Roughly seven-eighths of the missing material has been reported as recovered by the commission.

The atomic agency said its container also has been found, but Hickenlooper said he was still not satisfied that it had. Nor, he added, does he believe the "mystery" of the uranium's disappearance has been solved.

"As long as four grams are still missing and completely unaccounted for," he remarked to reporters after 2½ hours of evidence, "how can anyone discount the possibility of surreptitious removal?"

'Chutes Help Panty Shortage In Prison

McALESTER, Okla., June 17. (AP)—One hundred and fifty women in distress have hit the silk at the Oklahoma State penitentiary.

The women prisoners are wearing parachute panties—but nobody's bailed out yet.

Warden Clarence Burford nearly went into a spin himself when the prison matrons reported a grave pantie shortage in the women's ward. The state hadn't provided enough to go round.

So when Burford heard of an airforce surplus sale he jumped at the chance.

A prison agent bought 300 'chutes—two for each pantie wearer. Matrons held sewing classes.

BURMA WANTS ARMS

Burma would welcome foreign aid to repulse "the unholy alliance" between the Karen and Communist insurrectionists, Government representatives have said.

Telephone Workers Threaten To Strike

CHICAGO, June 17 (AP)—A nation-wide strike of CIO telephone workers will be called within three months if necessary to win bargaining recognition from the Bell system.

The third international convention of the CIO Communication Workers of America, claiming to represent 320,000 telephone workers, voted such action yesterday. The resolution called for "economic, strike, political, and any other action" needed to support a recognition campaign.

The union, which affiliated with the CIO May 9, says about half of the 320,000 workers are switchboard operators. Yesterday's action followed appeals to the national labor relations board in many states and regional Bell telephone companies for new bargaining elections. Wage contracts were made between the Bell company and the CWA before the union joined the CIO.

Joseph A. Beirne, CWA president, said contracts of 37 of the union's divisions with Bell companies had been "abrogated and dues collected through voluntary checkoff systems impounded.

"We're not strike-wacky," Beirne said, "but when it's necessary workers should use the strike weapon."

32,000 DRUNKS AVOIDED

Enough shimiyane, a local type of liquor, to make 32,000 people fighting drunk, was reported seized by police raiding "shebeens" in Durban, South Africa.

Oldest Tech Campus Building, Famed 'Jailhouse,' Is Razed

For many years the first thing a visitor to the Texas Technological college saw as he entered the grounds at Broadway and College was an old weather beaten two story stucco building that had the reputation of being the oldest structure on the campus.

Now the old "jailhouse," as it was called by most students who attend the college, is gone. The Tech Board of Directors recently gave authority to tear it down and in doing so did away with what was actually the oldest building on the campus. Smooth ground and a young lawn of rich green grass are all that is left on the site where the building stood.

Back in 1923 when the state legislature passed a bill establishing a state college "west of the ninety eighth meridian and north of the twenty ninth parallel," to be known as Texas Technological college, the location fell on the Dr. M. C. Overton estate.

Home Is Moved

Dr. Overton's home was moved to make way for the new institution but with the purchase of the land went a combination garage and servants quarters which was left behind. It was this garage and servants quarters which became the first building on the campus of the new college.

For the record, the first function of the long honorable career which the "jail" had was to serve as the dressing room for the first Texas Tech football squad. C. W. Ratliff, managing editor of The Avalanche-Journal, says he can remember when around 80 players used to have lockers and suit out in the building. E. Y. Freeland was coach then and there were nearly 120 players out. Those who lived in Lubbock would don their uniforms at home and join the others for practice.

Ratliff said after the players suited out they would sprint to the area where Twenty-second street intersects the campus and work out there.

Space Was Scarce

Space was at a premium in those days just as it is today, and the old garage was soon converted into a book store. Students, there were 1,379 of them when the college first opened, couldn't get inside the building to buy their books because it was too small. A counter, consisting of two by four across some nail kegs, was set up just inside the doorway and long lines of students waiting to buy books ran from this counter outside and around the building. It also served as the campus post office at this time and bars were put on the windows because of this.

James H. Grimsley, who became superintendent of buildings and grounds at the college in 1928, says he remembers using the building for a storehouse after the bookstore moved into its larger and better quarters. Grimsley is now retired from his building and grounds job and has a small lock and key shop on the campus.

Band Takes Over

It was not used for storage space long until Prof. Harry LeMaire who had been director of the Tech band since the school opened, decided to house his band there. Prof. LeMaire, who is also retired now and lives at 2405 Fifteenth where he still teaches music, used both floors of the old structure for both practice and class rooms.

When Prof. D. O. Wiley, the present band director, came to the college in 1934 he moved the band to a larger building since it too, like the college, was suffering growing pains.

It was the speech department's time next to patch and clean the old building (Grimsley said he needed a new roof after the band moved out) and move their headquarters there. Miss Ruth Pirtle was in charge of the speech department then. After she left, Miss Annah Jo Pendleton, who is now head of the speech department, still had some classrooms and offices there as late as 1942.

Converted Into Dark Room

Another group which made good use of the old "jail" was the Tech journalists. Prof. Cecil Horne, who has been at the college since it opened in 1926, says he can remember when he and Winston Reeves, Lubbock photographer, cleaned out the second floor of the old building in 1936 and installed some photography dark rooms.

After the speech department moved from the "jail" in 1942 it was closed up and used for storage and as a catch all. It remained such until it was torn down. Official wheels turn swiftly and the old structure was torn down rapidly. It was simply outdated and gave way to the fast growing era which the college is undergoing at the present time. Just the same, the thousands of students who have wandered through the "sand covered halls" at Texas Technological college since it opened will never forget the old college "jailhouse."

Orchestra Finishes Season In The Red

PHILADELPHIA, June 17. (AP)—The Philadelphia orchestra, which just completed a 28-concert tour of England, wound up its season $78,412 in the red, it was announced today.

With a $32,516 deficit remaining from previous seasons, the orchestra is now in arrears a total of $110,929.

The orchestra gave 177 concerts during the past season, including the 28 concerts in Britain which were underwritten by a British sponsor and hence represented no financial loss.

YIELDS BIG STURGEON

The fish weighed more than 1,130 pounds. It was brought to Moscow and went on sale in one of the local fish stores.

Texas' Originator Of Father's Day Angry At The Late Date Set For Homage To Pop

WEST COLUMBIA, Tex., June 17. (AP)A stately West Columbia lady whose own father died when she was four is credited with originating Father's Day.

But she's not happy as the annual observance set for Sunday approaches.

"It makes me sad," Mrs. Reuben Burch Loggins, sr., said, "that Father's Day should play second place to Mother's Day. Father's Day should be the first Sunday in May, and not come along later in June." She nodded her head vigorously and added:

"I'm still working on it. I've got friends in Washington and I'm writing them."

It was by writing one letter—and then many more—that "Miss Zula" won credit for originating Father's Day.

It was in 1911 while she was in Santa Rosa hospital in San Antonio that she wrote a letter to the San Antonio Express. She had been brooding for some time about dads not being recognized.

"I had attended a memorial service for Mother's Day once," she said today, "and it just made me mad all the way through to hear all that talk about mothers without any mention of our dads, who are the finest people in the world."

The Express printed her letter. It brought other letters. Mrs. Loggins started a letter-writing campaign which reached over the nation and into the Congressional Record.

Five Texas governors have recognized her as the sponsor of Father's Day in Texas. Each has sent her a copy of his proclamation of the day. The latest arrived last week from Governor Beauford H. Jester.

New, Homogenized Swift's Jewel Shortening Challenges The Costliest...Costs Much Less!

JEWEL CAMERA INTERVIEWS

TODAY'S QUESTION:

In your opinion, how does the new Jewel compare with costliest shortenings in performance?

Mrs. J. A. Perry, 2681 Pershing Ave., Memphis, Tenn. "There's nothing better than new Jewel for all fine frying and fancy cooking. For example, on a recent Saturday night I made a Jam Cake with the new Jewel that would just melt in your mouth. It's also especially good for frying chicken. It can't be beat . . . and it costs less too!"

Mrs. T. H. Goodwin, 1905 Hickory St., Dallas, Texas. "I find the new Jewel goes lots further and fries and bakes as good or better than expensive shortenings I've used. Makes cakes light and fluffy and real tender, piecrusts. I find that it's good too, for french fried potatoes. Doesn't leave 'em soggy."

Mrs. R. T. Farrar, 1315 E. Belknap, Fort Worth, Texas. "I like it better for making cakes and piecrusts than any other shortenings costing more. I deep-fat-fry with it for good crisp fish. It's real good for french fries, too. And I can make the lightest biscuits of all with new Jewel. In fact I use it for everything. Every pound I buy, I save pennies that add up."

Mrs. A. Chiesi, 1635 Clio, New Orleans, La. "New Jewel is lighter than any other shortening I've used and best of all it's not greasy when cold. I use it for deep fat frying of fish, potatoes, codfish cakes. I find it goes farther because I can fry with it again and again. It costs less to begin with, too."

Simple Test Proves Jewel Tops

"Smoke-Point" 40° higher than costliest shortenings!

WON'T SMOKE UP OR SMELL UP KITCHENS

Dramatic proof that Jewel is smokeless is offered by a recent test conducted under scientifically controlled conditions. In this test, Jewel was compared with the three costliest shortenings on the market. And in every single instance, Jewel demonstrated a marked superiority.

The test itself is so simple that it can be done in any home kitchen. As the photograph above illustrates, equal amounts of Jewel and any costliest shortening are placed in two pans. A cooking thermometer, (two, if you have them) will help to verify the exact temperatures reached.

The heat goes on

As identical heat is applied to both of the pans the expensive brand will begin to smoke and give off odors.

Jewel, however, remains smoke-free long after the other shortening has been removed from the heat. It can, in fact, be left over the heat until its temperature is 40° higher than its competitors. Only then is there any evidence of smoke or smell.

Home Economists agree that the perfect deep-fat frying temperature is 365° to 375°. Expensive shortenings will begin to smoke at 360°. Jewel, however, could be heated to 400° before even a noticeable trace of smoke or odor would appear.

NO OTHER SHORTENING IS MORE DIGESTIBLE OR MORE NUTRITIOUS!

Don't be fooled—say scientists.

Just because a shortening costs more doesn't make it any more nutritious or digestible.

As proof they cite new homogenized Jewel. Costing 5¢ to 7¢ less per pound than costliest shortenings—it rates every bit as high nutritionally. And it's just as digestible, too.

Actually, any fats—including the fine vegetable and meat-food fats found in Jewel—are among the most completely digested foods. For table and cooking fats, regardless of source, are 93% to 97% digestible.

Furthermore, all fats play an important role in good nutrition. For example, they are a concentrated energy food yielding 2¼ times as many energy units per pound as either carbohydrates or protein.

In other words, money can't buy a more nutritious or more digestible shortening than new Jewel. Not even if you pay $10 a pound!

GIVES "MAGIC" RESULTS IN COOKING, BAKING, FRYING. YET SELLS FOR 5¢ TO 7¢ LESS PER POUND THAN COSTLIEST SHORTENINGS!

Thanks to the skills and ingenuity of the famous Swift Research Laboratories a new, homogenized Jewel Shortening has just been introduced. It challenges the entire field of costlier shortenings. Yet it costs 5¢ to 7¢ less per pound.

Created to a new formula, the new Jewel employs a controlled homogenization process in the blending of its fine vegetable oils and meat-food fats. The result is a remarkably smooth and even-textured product of highest quality. No other shortening—regardless of price—is more nutritious or more digestible.

Exhaustive tests by Martha Logan, Swift's nationally-known Home Economist, show that the new Jewel is truly ideal for all cooking, baking and frying. Jewel-made cakes, pies, biscuits, doughnuts and fried foods rival those of shortenings costing much, much more.

"Even a bride," says Martha Logan, "can make tender, light cakes and flaky piecrusts with new homogenized Jewel. And as for frying—well, Jewel's in a class by itself!"

Rigid Swift Quality Control and U. S. Government Inspection Insure Uniformity of Jewel Quality

Take it from Swift food scientists, you'll always find the same high quality in new Jewel—no matter where you buy it. In Houston, in Memphis, New Orleans, Montgomery or Charleston—and all points in between—Jewel is unvarying in its quality.

For today, all Jewel Shortening is tested for quality at the refineries. A thorough, continuing system of Quality Control is constantly on the alert for any deviation, however slight, in the Jewel formula.

It must be the best, or it never gets to market.

In addition the new homogenized Jewel Shortening must pass a rigid U. S. Government inspection. Thus, each Jewel carton bears a U. S. inspected stamp of approval.

All this extra care taken in the manufacture of Jewel makes it certain that Jewel will be uniform wherever you buy it. The same high quality—the same purity and rich, smooth texture.

Homemakers who have used new Jewel for frying are most enthusiastic. For this new shortening remains smoke-free and odor-free at extreme cooking temperatures. Actually, its "smoke-point" is 40° higher than that of costliest shortenings. Thus, even at temperatures above those required for perfect deep-fat frying, it won't smoke up or smell up your kitchen.

Yet, for all its many advances, the new Jewel is sensationally low in price. In fact, Jewel is so economical that homemakers will be able to purchase 4 pounds for the same price they usually pay for 3 pounds of costlier shortening brands.

Jewel a long-time favorite of the South

To hundreds of thousands of Southern homemakers, there's "magic" in the name of Jewel. Over the years, this famous shortening has become one of the best-known and respected of all branded food products.

First introduced in 1898, Jewel's fame spread quickly. Today, over the entire southland, the famous Jewel red carton is a familiar sight to homemakers. It can be purchased in big cities, small towns and even in crossroad country stores.

Here, as everywhere in the South, cooking has always been considered a fine art. And Jewel's popularity is indeed a high tribute to the product itself.

Generation after generation have come to know and to depend on its high quality—its uniform creamy-smoothness—the truly amazing results it brings.

For tender light cakes, flaky piecrusts, golden brown fried foods—Jewel has been acclaimed by some of the finest cooks.

With the introduction of new, homogenized Jewel Shortening the fame of this fine and dependable product is destined to reach new heights.

SPECIAL PECAN PIE RECIPE FROM SWIFT'S FAMOUS MARTHA LOGAN

Families who go for pecan pie (and what family doesn't!) will give a cheer for this special recipe featuring the new Jewel Shortening. You'll find it's easy to make, too! Just follow the 3 magic steps which Martha Logan has indicated for your convenience. 1. Line an 8-inch pie pan with pastry made with Jewel Shortening. 2. For the filling, beat 4 eggs slightly. Add 1 cup sugar, ½ tsp. salt, 1 cup white corn syrup, 3 tbsp. melted Jewel Shortening, ½ cup whole pecan nut meats and 1½ tsp. vanilla. 3. Fill prepared pie shell and bake in a moderate oven (350° F.) about 1 hour, until an inserted knife comes out clean.

Challenges the costliest—costs much less!

Eddie Waitkus Is Not Expected To Play Again During Season

CHICAGO, June 17. (AP)—Eddie Waitkus will play major league baseball again—but probably not this season—says one of the physicians attending the seriously wounded Philadelphia Phillies' first baseman.

Dr. L. L. Braun, team physician for the Chicago Cubs, said it was "still uncertain" whether Waitkus, shot near the heart by an infatuated teen age girl, will be back in the Phillies lineup this season.

"But I am quite sure," Dr. Braun said, "he will be back playing baseball. Just when it will be I cannot say."

Condition Good

Waitkus has been in the major leagues since 1946, playing with the Cubs three years before he was traded to the Phillies last winter. He is currently leading the National league first basemen in the vote for the all-star game next month.

The condition of the 28-year-old star first baseman was described as "good" today at the Illinois Masonic hospital, where he has been confined since he was shot early Wednesday. The hospital said he had "taken a turn for the better but was not quite out of danger."

Waitkus was shot with a .22 caliber rifle by Miss Ruth Steinhagen, 19-year-old typist who was secretly in love with the bachelor ball player although she had never met him until she lured him to her room in the Edgewater Beach hotel Tuesday night. She had told him in a letter and by telephone she wanted to tell him "something important."

Girl In Jail

The tall, dark-haired girl was removed to the Cook county jail in lieu of $25,000 cash bond after her arraignment in felony court yesterday on a charge of assault with intent to murder. Her hearing was continued to June 30 by Judge Matthew D. Hartigan, who also ordered she be examined by

Lamesa Kidnaping Suspect In Custody

LAMESA, June 17. (Special)—Eugene Brown, one of four suspects in the May 21 armed robbery and kidnaping of Leon Edwards, Lamesa service station attendant, is in custody of the sheriff's department at Ada, Okla., Dawson County Sheriff Roy King said Thursday.

Edwards was hijacked about 12:50 a. m., May 21, as he was closing the service station for the night, and approximately $35 removed from his possession. After being carried into the country by the four hijackers, Edwards was released and found his way back into town.

Louis Ables, 26, and Earl Sidney Abbott, 21, both of Oklahoma City, were captured by Lubbock police early the same morning. The two men are charged with the robbery by 106th district grand jury indictments, and are held in Dawson county jail under $10,000 bond each. A fourth man involved in the hijacking is still at large.

Sheriff King said Oklahoma officers indicated that Brown refused to waive extradition. Extradition proceedings were commenced here immediately, King said.

Through the new Palomar telescope, scientists could see a light the size of a candle 40,000 miles away.

Dr. William H. Haines of the criminal court behavior clinic.

Miss Steinhagen was questioned briefly by Dr. Haines after her court appearance. He said: "It is my opinion that this girl is suffering from schizophrenia (split personality). However, after a complete examination, I may want to change my opinion."

Before entering the courtroom, Miss Steinhagen told reporters she was sorry she had shot Waitkus, whom she said "I admire now more than ever before. If he dies, I will die also—mentally and physically. I realize now how much he is suffering."

Wheat Storage Bins Loans Now Available

Lubbock county farmers are now able to receive loans to buy or build grain storage bins, Walter Wells, secretary of Lubbock county Agriculture Adjustment agency, announced Thursday.

Commodity Credit association will either lend the farmer the money directly or guarantee loans made from local agencies.

The loans, which can be up to 85 per cent of the total cost of construction, are to be repaid in five equal installments, Wells said.

Any bank or lending agency desiring to make these loans must apply to the county AAA committee for approval.

Service For Deaf Persons Planned

A visit to deaf persons of this area is being made by Miss Beatrice Hale of Knoxville, Tenn., who will interpret by sign language the pastor's sermon Sunday morning and night at the Thirty-fourth Street Baptist church at 2701 Thirty-fourth.

Miss Hale is a Baptist Home Mission board missionary to the deaf. She arrived in Lubbock and is making efforts to contact all deaf persons in Lubbock and vicinity while here. Approximately 50 deaf persons have been estimated to live in the area.

She will teach the Silent class of Thirty-fourth Street Baptist church at 9:45 a. m. Sunday and will interpret Rev. John P. Baker's sermon at the 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. services.

All deaf persons of the area have been urged to take picnic lunches to be eaten at the church. Miss Hale will speak, by sign language, to the deaf and counsel with them during the afternoon, beginning at 2 p. m.

Miss Hale has been teaching the sign language since three years of age. She worked with the deaf in her home church in Knoxville, Tenn., and has lived close to the State School for Deaf in Knoxville.

She plans to visit Lubbock at times to help the deaf in any way possible.

She plans to present a quartet of deaf persons who will, by sign, offer the hymn, "Let Others See Jesus in You," while a soloist sings the words, during the worship services Sunday morning at night at the Thirty-fourth Street Baptist church.

Texans' Bodies Found In Wrecked Airplane

HOPE, Ark., June 17. (AP)—State police reported two bodies were recovered last night from a wrecked plane in the rugged Ouachita mountains and that they had been "positively identified" as those of two Texas men missing since May 29.

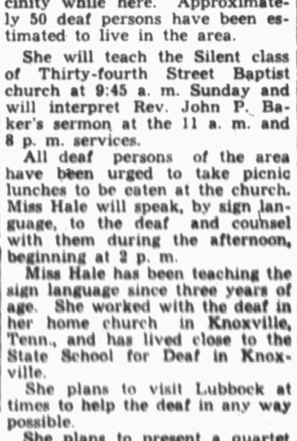

The Texans were T. C. Elkins and his nephew-pilot, Ben Ferguson, both of Stephenville.

President Receives New Broom From Congress To Tidy Up Executive Branch Of Government

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, June 17.—This is the story of a big, sloppy, sprawly giant called the government.

And it explains how President Truman just got a new broom from Congress to tidy up the giant.

Ever since its birth in the 18th century, the government has been getting too big for its britches.

An agency here doing more or less the same kind of work being done by an agency there; an agency springing up under one department when it belonged inside another; a lot of people doing practically the same work a lot of other people were doing.

All this became pretty obvious. As long ago as 1912 President William Howar Taft sent an overhaul plan to Congress. Eventually, Congress acted on some of it. Meantime, the giant got bigger.

Export Help Hired

President Taft's reorganization plan was the first. Other presidents after him had plans, particularly President Roosevelt.

Some were okayed by Congress. Still, the government grew bigger till it bulged.

Finally, about two years ago Congress decided expert help was needed to study the whole government set-up and suggest ways of pulling the loose ends together, lopping off fat, and making the whole thing more businesslike and cheaper to run.

It set up a 12-man commission, helped by a big staff of experts and headed by former President Hoover. A few months ago this Hoover commission began turning out its reports and recommendations, 18 in all. President Truman was all for them.

It was clear that, if the job was going to be done, Congress would have to give Mr. Truman a pretty free hand and its blessing. Months passed in arguments in Congress.

Power Granted

But yesterday, Congress voted Mr. Truman power to reorganize, or overhaul, the whole executive branch of the government.

This didn't give him any power to juggle the other two branches: the legislative (Congress) and the judiciary (courts).

This is what will happen:

The President will send a number of reorganization plans to Congress. He won't try to do the whole reorganization job in one plan or even in one year. Some plans now, some next year.

This will mean eliminating some agencies, combining others whose work overlaps, shifting others around to make them more useful, and, at the same time, cut down the expense of running the government.

Congress Holds Check

Mr. Truman won't have a completely free hand. Before he can put any plan into effect, he must submit it to Congress. If, at the end of 60 days, Congress has done nothing to block the plan, he can go ahead with it. Congress can block him in two ways only. These would come about:

1. If Congress quits for the year within the 60-days after a plan has been submitted to it. For example: If Mr. Truman offers a plan to Congress next Monday and Congress quits before the end of 60 days after Monday.

2. If, before the end of the 60 days, a majority of the full membership of either house votes against it. This would mean 218 of the 435 House members—49 of the 96 senators—would have to vote against a plan to stop it.

Whether the plans offered by Mr. Truman follow exactly the recommendations of the Hoover commission remain to be seen. Mr. Truman has had a staff of his own experts working on plans for months.

He said yesterday, just before Congress voted him the power to go ahead, that he has plans ready. But—

If the offers a plan now, Congress would have to stay in session till mid-August to let the 60 days elapse before he could put it into operation. Maybe Congress will go home before then, killing reorganization for this year.

Premature Quads Die 10 Hours After Birth

LONG BRANCH, N. J., June 17. (AP)—Premature quadruplets—two boys and two girls—all died within 15 minutes of each other this morning, a little more than 10 hours after they were born.

Their mother was Mrs. Raymond Caffrey of Union Beach, N. J. Monmouth Memorial hospital, where the quadruplets were born, said Mrs. Caffrey had been five months pregnant. She was listed in "good" condition after the births.

Quadruplets occur, on the average, once in every 551,271 births.

Convicted Of Rape, Negro Faces Chair

HOUSTON, June 17. (AP)—Death in the electric chair is the penalty Nathaniel Edwards, 26-year-old negro, is scheduled to pay for his part in the criminal assault of a 16-year-old white girl.

Edwards, alleged to have been one of three negroes who committed the assault, was convicted by a district court jury yesterday.

The girl was attacked and her 20-year-old escort was beaten and robbed when they parked their car on a lonely road.

Canadian River Dam Advantages To South Plains Towns Evaluated As Water Cost Still Climbing

By H. I. KEIFER
Journal Staff Writer

The desirability of building a dam across the Canadian river has been under consideration many years.

The Army engineer corps has made an exhaustive study of the project which was interrupted by the war. Work was resumed after victory and a report was prepared for release last fall.

The substance of the report was that the cost of the dam, then estimated at $20,000,000 to $25,000,000, would not be justified by the protection it would afford against floods.

Army Cooperative

By that time, Lubbock and Amarillo had become greatly concerned about a sufficient water supply to sustain continuing growth. Such men as the then Mayor Lawrence Hagy, of Amarillo, and Mayor Rodgers of Lubbock saw the possible answer to the area's long range water problem in the Canadian river.

They and officials of the Panhandle Water Conservation authority argued that the cost of the project could be justified if other advantages resulting from the construction of a dam were considered along with flood control.

The officials have been unanimous in their agreement that the Army engineers have been most cooperative. The engineers readily agreed to delay their unfavorable report to give the Reclamation service opportunity to evaluate the other advantages of the proposed dam and reservoir.

Advantages Evaluated

These values included, as the most important feature, the impounded water which might be sold to towns and cities of the Panhandle and South Plains. Other advantages considered have been the recreational value of a large lake, fish and wild life conservation, irrigation of limited extent and water for industries.

The theory on which supporters of the project have been working is that the government should bear at least half the cost of the dam because of flood control, wildlife conservation, recreation and irrigation.

The further expectation is that enough water can be sold to towns and cities on the South Plains to pay the remainder of the cost within a 40-year period.

Engineering opinion is in agreement that enough water now goes to waste down the Canadian to supply the needs of all communities during the foreseeable future—for at least 50 years.

Flow Measured

Measurements of the river's downstream flow have been taken over an extended period. The volume from year to year has varied widely. Estimates as to the average per year have ranged from 150,000 to 550,000 acre-feet. A flow of 150,000 acre-feet is more than seven times as much water as Lubbock and Amarillo combined ever have used in a year.

Engineering opinion apparently is in no doubt that the flow would fill a huge reservoir and usually keep it full, without reasonably foreseeable danger that it would drop to dangerously low levels during periods of drouths.

Opinion is not as unanimous as to the quality of the water. Everyone apparently agrees that it would not be as good as the water now obtained from wells. The predominant opinion, however, is that it would be palatable. A minority view is that it might taste too strongly of gypsum or other minerals to be suitable for domestic or industrial use. Most of this opinion, however, is that the water at worst, probably could be made suitable for use by treatment, but at large and possibly prohibtive cost.

The army engineers' surveys have been exhaustive and have been credited by the Reclamation service with being of great value in the preparations of its report.

The engineers have considered numerous possible sites for the dam. Their choice finally narrowed pretty well to two—Sanford and Tascosa. Tascosa is about 60 miles unstream from Sanford.

Apparently none of the interested localities has reached even a tentative decision as to how much it would be willing to pay for water from a Canadian site. The present production cost of water obtained from wells varies widely with communities.

In Lubbock, the cost is about 8 cents per 1,000 gallons. The sale price averages about 18 cents per 1,000, ranging from 60 cents to 10½ cents, depending upon quantities used.

But production costs in this city have been going up, and are almost certainly to continue their climb.

As the city has grown, it has become necessary to reach further and further for sites for water wells. Within the past three years, Lubbock has bought nearly four sections — almost 2,500 acres—of land to obtain sites for wells. The cost has ranged from $75 to $225 an acre.

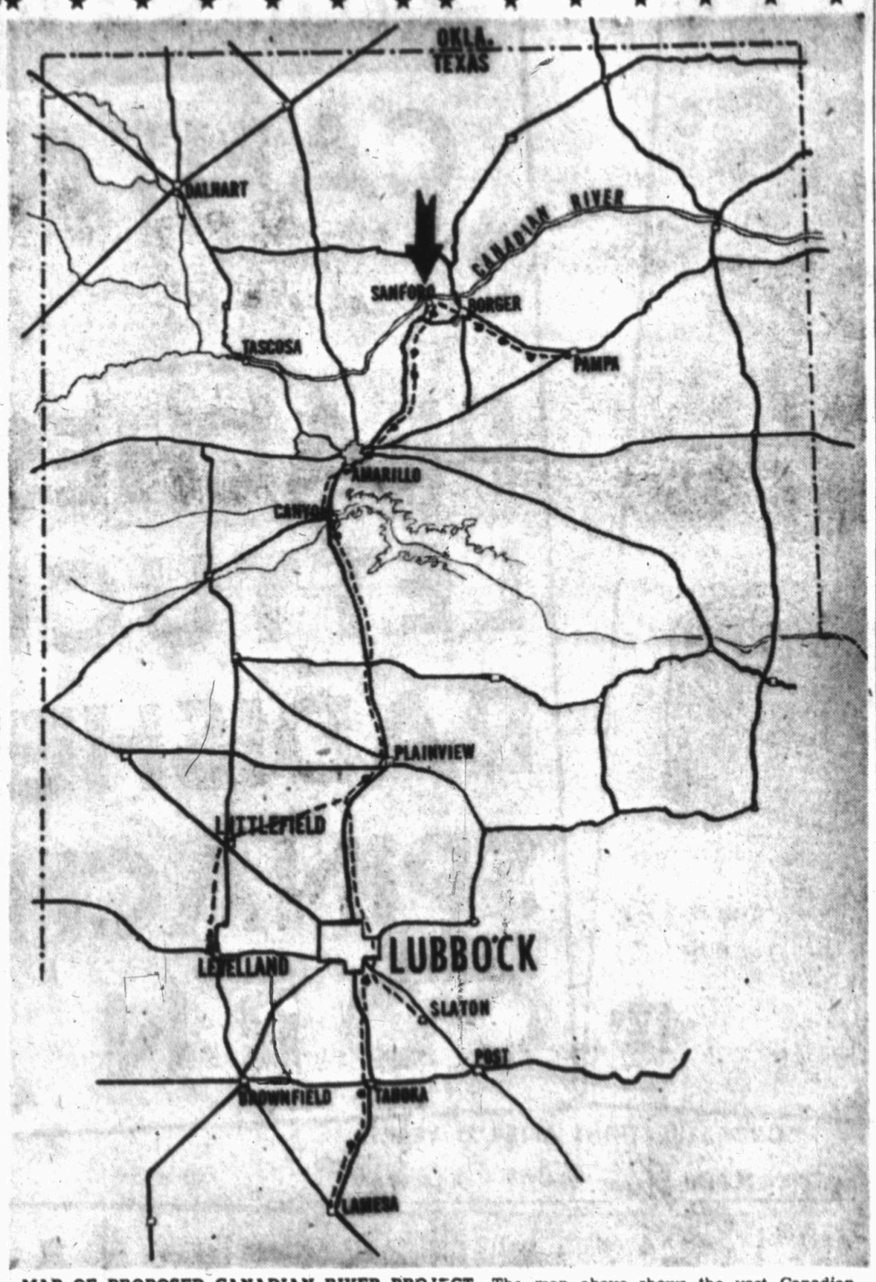

Since then, investigations of the purchase of additional lands have been made. The quoted price has gone up to $500 and $1,000 an acre. And the cost of bringing such water into the city increases with the distance of the land from Lubbock. It would cost nearly $1,000,000 to build the pipeline to bring the water in from one of the sites which has been offered. The proposition has not been given serious consideration by the city commission.

But Mayor Rodgers has declared on several occasions that the cost of getting land for wells is approaching the prohibitive point if, indeed, it has not been reached.

Aside from the cost, each tract bought takes just that much land out of irrigated agricultural production, and means further drains upon underground water reserves in this area.

The prospects thus are that water rates in Lubbock will have to be raised before long, even if the city should continue to place entire reliance on underground supplies.

Chamber of commerce officials also have pointed out that the lack of a surface source of supply places the city at a disadvantage in competing for new industries. Industries can be obtained more easily if the operators actually can see the water they must have to operate.

Lamb County Reports First Load Of Wheat

LITTLEFIELD, June 17. (Special)—The first load of wheat from the 1949 Lamb county crop was brought to Littlefield by Werner Birkelbach, two miles west of town.

The wheat, testing 58 pounds to the bushel and having a moisture content of 17.01, was taken to the P. W. Walker Grain and Seed company.

Birkelbach placed the wheat in elevator storage to be eligible for the maximum government loan for number one grain, $1.87 per bushel.

Walker expects the movement of wheat to pick up rapidly today and tomorrow with much of it moving to the elevators at night. Although the moisture content is still high the grain is showing rapid improvement and is combining well.

Littlefield Chamber Elects New President

LITTLEFIELD, June 17. (Special)—Hardy Shelby, district manager of the Southwestern Public Service company, has been elected to head the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce for the coming fiscal year.

Other officers chosen are; W. B. Little, department store owner, vice president; and, J. H. Lee, president of the First National Bank, treasurer. Pat Mann continues as secretary of the organization.

Four new directors were also chosen this week. They are, David Keithley, W. C. (Hoot) Cannon, Harry Kline and Clint Griffin. Outgoing directors were, Mancil Hall, Jack Christian, Roy Eubank, and Joe Walters.

Aquarium Fish Are Tapped To Death

PHILADELPHIA, June 13 (U.P.) Fish in the Philadelphia aquarium are being tapped to death.

Attendants report that visitors, disappointed when the fish remain quietly at the tank bottoms, have taken to taping the glass and waving handkerchiefs. The fish swim about excitedly and dash themselves against the glass.

As many as 38 have been killed in a single day, attendants said.

Czech Catholic Church Leader Virtual Captive In Own House

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, June 17. (AP)—Archbishop Josef Beran, head of Czechslovakia's 9,000,000 Roman Catholics, was a virtual prisoner in his own palace today, as the Communist government's war on the church appeared nearing a climax.

A reliable informant described the Prague archbishop's status as "house arrest."

Armed Guards Present

More significantly, the reception desk and telephone switchboard inside the palace gate were manned by secret police.

Two Associated Press correspondents who tried to see the archbishop were told by personnel at the reception desk that "the archbishop says 'no'."

At the same time a Czech in clerical garb was attempting to gain admission. The reception personnel demanded from him full identification papers and other data before they would consent to telephone the archbishop for an audience.

There was no way of knowing whether they were actually phoning to him.

Bishop Incommunicado

This close surveillance of his office tended to confirm reports that in the past two days even high diplomatic officials have been unable to gain entrance to the archbishop.

It was known, however, that two days ago all the bishops of the country were gathered in the palace for a conference with the archbishop.

Archbishop Beran for some months has fought against a government campaign to take over schools and abolish church papers.

In recent weeks he has sent out a number of clerical letters breathing defiance of government decrees involving the church-state conflict. In one message he hinted that excommunication would be imposed against "collaborators."

Interference Charged

Vatican sources have likened the Archbishop Beran issue to a similar campaign in Hungary just before the arrest of Josef Cardinal Mindszenty.

Last week a new group which calls itself the Action Catholica was set up. The new group has been whitewashing the government stand in the controversy with Archbishop Beran and the bishops of the constituted Roman Catholic church in Czechoslovakia.

The archbishop had predicted the formation of such a group as a step toward a state-controlled church and has reminded of the penalties of excommunication for all participating in such a movement.

TO INSPECT RANCHES

AMARILLO, June 17. (U.P.)—Gov. Herman Talmadge of Georgia will inspect ranches in the area next Thursday and Friday. The youthful chief executive of Georgia and his staff will come to Amarillo from a conference at Colorado Springs.

Dallas Flouts Show Tradition In Popular Starlight Operetta

By ADELINE McCABE
United Press Staff Writer

DALLAS, June 17—There may be no business like show business, but there's a different formula for its success in Dallas' Starlight Operetta, which opens its eighth season Monday night.

"Up in Central Park," starring Kenny Baker, is the first production in the summer-long series.

Dallas' "dynamic" business men bill the Starlight series as the country's "most progressive." It is second in size and age only to the St. Louis Municipal opera, now in its 31st year.

But the Starlight's unique methods stem mainly, apparently, from the conviction in these parts that Dallas and Broadway may like each other, but they do not speak the same language.

New Policy Brought In

In the years since Dallas merchants and bankers started the operetta to stimulate business during the hot summer months, four policies have evolved:

1.—Top management of the starlight must be local. The state fair of Texas, a huge and successful concern, is the parent company. Charles Meeker, a onetime Dallas movie publicist, runs the operetta.

2.—Texans are music lovers, true, but they want more than just music; they demand stars. So, the Starlight pays big prices for short visits by such stars as Kenny Baker, Gertrude Niesen, Carol Bruce, et al, etc.

3.—Each show is treated as a new one, not as a revival. It is general policy to secure as many of the newer musical comedies as possible. Those creaking with age are avoided. And sometimes, with great lack of respect for the author's original handicraft, scenes are re-written to fit the times or special music is interpolated.

'Names' Put On Show

Roger Gerry, who used to direct for Billy Rose, heads the professional group. Peter Wolf comes each summer from Broadway to design the sets. Douglas Morris, who lights the Ringling brothers circus at Madison Square Garden, handles the blubs for the Starlight—a completely out-of-doors show. Lehman Engel, in 58 Broadway shows as composer or conductor, is the Starlight musical director, and Vonn Hamilton handles the ballet.

The Starlight lured a quarter-million people into the Casino at Fair park last summer, and it was estimated fully one-third of them were from out-of-town. Businessmen believe they bought more than ice cream cones, and this contents them rather well, apparently, despite the fact that the operetta definitely is not in the black, falling into the category of "civic venture."

Man Uses Lipstick To Stop Train Fire

LUCIEN, Okla., June 17 (AP)—A. D. Schnaithman found a new use for lipstick—and prevented a train fire.

While on the station platform here, he saw fire shooting from the journal box on one of the wheels of a freight train.

He quickly took his girl friend's lipstick, picked up a piece of cardboard and scrawled "fire." Engineer Otto Brammer and conductor Dan Wright saw the warning sign and stopped the train in time.

Lewis Orders End Of Strike

PITTSBURGH, June 17. (AP)—John L. Lewis has ordered his 480,000 United Mine workers back to the pits on Monday.

John Busarello, president of district No. 5 of the UMW, announced yesterday he had received a telegram from Lewis requesting the miners to end their week-long walkout on schedule Monday.

Said Busarello:

"The telegram was short—just a few words and simply requested the end of the walkout on schedule. That's what I expected, of course."

Lewis, who now is in the midst of new contract negotiations with the industry, called the walkout to "stabilize" the industry. The contract expires June 30.

To Start Vacation

Actually the miners will work only five days and then get another week off. On June 25 they start their annual paid vacation. They receive $100 apiece.

Meanwhile, a large group of coal operators locked heads today to map strategy for forthcoming contract talks with Lewis.

The session includes the northern, midwestern, and far western operators, President George H. Love, of Pittsburgh Consolidation Coal Co., announced.

No date for start of talks with this group as yet has been set. Lewis already has swapped opening remarks with soft coal operators and the U. S. Steel Corp., owner of extensive mines. Talks with anthracite operators will begin July 7.

Gang-War Just Joke By College Students

PASADENA, June 17. (AP) Excited citizens who telephoned police agreed on the details:

An automobile drove into a busy street intersection. A man leaped out, threw others in the car fired at him repeatedly. Then they jumped out, picked up his blood spattered form and threw it into the car and drove away.

That happened at least twice yesterday. Police didn't get much excited. Just a prank of junior college students celebrating the end of school, they explained. The blood? Probably catsup.

IN HOLLYWOOD: BY ERSKINE JOHNSON

Wynn Says Berle Lifted Idea; Plans Video Reprisal In Fall

HOLLYWOOD, June 17 (NEA) Ed Wynn, who has publicly accused Milton Berle of pilfering his style of "getting into the acts" while serving as master of ceremonies of a variety show, is planning no legal action.

He told me: "There's no basis for a suit. I originated the idea, but you can't copyright ideas."

I asked him if his own TV show, slated to start in Hollywood in the fall, would be similar to Berle's format. He said: "I'll do what I've always done." And that, kiddies, sounds like competition for Milton.

The Melody Lingers On

Rita Hayworth and Aly Khan will be "immortalized" at Steeplechase Park in New York's Coney Island. Their portraits in luminous paint will soon be decorating the tunnel of love "to inspire couples taking the show boat to romance."

Aside to Ingrid Bergman: Two Broadway songwriters, Bernard Kalban and Michael Edwards, just completed a romantic ballad titled, "Stromboli."

Jackie Cooper has his next wife picked out and will lead her to the altar after June Horne's California divorce. She's an actress, Hildy Parks, who worked with him in the ill-fated "Magnolia Alley" on Broadway . . . Kay Thompson's contract with the Williams Brothers expires Aug. 7. She won't renew.

Prolonged Reign

Jesse Lasky has revived negotiations for the filming of the air show, "Queen for a Day." I wonder if they'll use that story Jack Bailey tells about one of the gals he crowned queen. She was employed and happily married. After winning the title, she quit her job, divorced her husband and went home to mama. She hasn't worked a day since and lives in a dream world in which she's queen every day.

Frank Fay was as happy as the Hollywood first nighters when the curtain went up here on his original version of Elwood P. Dowd in "Harvey." He later came out to the Biltmore footlights and cracked.

"Everybody has played my part here except Mrs. Roosevelt—and I understand a deal could be made."

Bill Goetz and John Beck, who will bring "Harvey" to the screen, were in the audience. If they don't get Fay for the film version, they are crazy. There will never be a better Elwood.

Bob Hope is still blushing. He had 5-year-old Mary Jane Saunders as a guest on his airshow. Mary Jane, who can't read, memorized five pages of script in less than 24 hours. Came the show and she was letter perfect. Hope, reading the script, fluffed.

Bob later cracked: "This kid will probably wind up as my summer replacement."

Lizabeth Scott will keep a date with 46 high school boys July 5. They're coming out from Grosse Pointe, Mich., on a tour of the Pacific Coast . . . Things are so tough hear that the desert city of 29 Palms is thinking of changing its name to 21 Palms . . . LAWN MOWER IN VACUUM

ALTUS, Okla., June 17. (AP)—It stopped traffic . . . but using an electric vacuum sweeper did the trick in cleaning up R. W. Moore's front lawn. Moore decided to try the sweeper after his dog, Rip, scattered feathers over the front lawn. All the feathers were quickly gathered by the sweeper, but not before a gallery of neighbors and passers-by had collected.

Trial Of Driver Who Hit Hogan Nears End

VAN HORN, June 17. (U.P.)—A Greyhound bus driver charged with injuring golf star Ben Hogan, critically in a highway collision last February may know his fate today.

County Attorney J. W. Swartz said the state would rest its aggravated assault case against Alvin Logan of Pecos after presenting an additional witness today.

Pretty Valerie Hogan, wife of the Fort Worth golf star, testified the bus pulled around another vehicle near Van Horn and collided with bantam Ben's black Cadillac.

Hogan, who was driving, received almost fatal injuries. Dr. Alton Ochsner, famed New Orleans surgeon, was flown to Hotel Dieu hospital at El Paso to remove a pelvic blood clot which was endangering Hogan's life.

Mrs. Hogan received only minor injuries.

The charge against Logan is a misdemeanor, and, if convicted, he would be subjected to only a fine and jail sentence.

German Tot Flying To Texas All Alone

NEW YORK, June 17. (AP)—Just like a big girl, Kirsten Huettig, two and a half, is flying from Germany to Texas—all alone in a great big airplane.

She will join her mother, Mrs. Eva Huettig of Edinburg in San Antonio.

The blonde, blue-eyed tot was to leave New York on the second leg of her trip from Frankfurt at 11:30 a. m. (CST).

Mrs. Huettig, a Washington state-born American citizen, came to Texas last February after spending 30 years in Germany with her parents.

Her husband, a German citizen, plans to join his family in Edinburg in about six months.

Babich Shouts Angry Answers To Questions At Death Trial

MILWAUKEE, June 17. (AP)—Milton Babich, 19, fired angry replies to Dist. Atty. William J. McCauley's questions yesterday as cross examination began in the youth's first degree murder trial.

The former honor student, who lost his poker-faced calm for the first time during the long legal proceedings, was scheduled to resume the stand today.

He is accused of murdering Patricia Birmingham, 16, last Feb. 10—some five weeks before he eloped to Michigan with Pat's sister, Kathleen, now 18. Pat's weighted body was pulled from the Milwaukee river March 20, three days after the elopement.

One Time Enough

McCauley's first question was, "Milton, when did you have your first act of sexual intercourse with Kathleen?"

"None of your business," snapped Babich. "You asked Kay about that yesterday and that's enough."

Moments later, McCauley recalled that Babich told him he had never had any experience with pistols before buying the weapon used in the slaying. Then the prosecutor asked, "weren't you once brought into the West Allis police station for shooting a revolver?"

"Why don't you get it straight?" Babich shot back. "Two friends had a gun and I was with them."

On direct examination, Babich had stated he purchased the gun for protection because he and Kathleen planned to take a large sum of money with them when they eloped. He said he also wanted it to frighten Patricia so she wouldn't reveal that Kathleen was pregnant.

Autopsy Reported

Referring to a statement given McCauley six days after Pat's body was found, the prosecutor said, "wasn't the question asked you—you bought the gun solely to scare Patricia, and wasn't that the truth?"

"I don't recall," Babich replied and then added "when you asked me that, I hadn't had much sleep or rest for three days—and you know that."

Babich was withdrawn from the stand temporarily while Dr. Thomas A. Carter, Chicago, a deputy Cook county coroner, was called to refute prosecution medical testimony.

Dr. L. J. Van Hecke, who performed an autopsy on Patricia, has said she was killed by the second of two bullets fired into her head. He claimed the first shot only paralyzed her, while the second, fired "at least a minute" later, caused her death.

Dr. Carter told the jury, "it is my opinion that after a body has been in water that length of time (39 days) . . . it would be almost impossible to determine which shot was fired first and which was second."

HUDDIE LEDBETTER

Negro Folk Singer To Perform Here

Huddie Ledbetter, better known as "Lead Belly," will be presented tonight at 8 p.m. on the administration building green at Texas Technological college as the second attraction on the college summer recreation program.

Ledbetter, whom Life magazine called "the country's number one negro minstrel," was discovered by the late John A. Lomax, curator of American folk music, in his never ending search for new folk singer talent.

Lomax, whose daughter is Mrs. Shirley Mansell of 2412 Sixteenth, first located the negro working on a Louisiana chain gang. Together they toured the country, "Lead Belly" singing to his heart's content and Lomax promoting his new find.

Recognition Spreads

It wasn't long until the negro singer began to be recognized and soon his songs were well known throughout the nation. He has recorded 117 of his most famous tunes for the Library of Congress.

Born in Louisiana, it didn't take Lead Belly long to catch on that he liked music.

In the early period of his life he found himself in real trouble and served time in chain gangs in both Texas and Louisiana.

Singer Wins Pardons

Upon winning his pardon from the governors of both states he began his tour with Lomax. One story about that first tour tells of how, when Lead Belly first came to Lomax, the latter eyed a sugar sack containing the singers belongings.

Lomax asked if he was carrying a gun in the sack and Lead Belly said no but that he did have a razor edged knife.

"Lead Belly," Lomax is quoted as saying, "down in Austin I have a lovely lady for my wife and also a very dear daughter. If you sometime, when we are driving along on a lonely road, decide that you are going to take my money and car, you need not stick that knife in me. Just tell me and I'll hand over the money and get out and let you drive on."

"Lead Belly" divides the songs he sings into sections. He sings reels, work songs, "hollers," blues, talking blues, ballads and pardon songs. These songs have landed him in the country's leading night clubs and caused an ex-president of the American Folklore society, Harold Thompson of Cornell, to say "I regard Lead Belly as not only one of the great creative artists of the United States, but also as the most authentic interpreter of negro folk music whom it has ever been my pleasure to hear."

Admission for tonight's program will be $1 per person with students admitted free upon presentation of their activity cards.

In Honduras, theatre owners can't raise ticket prices without official approval.

HERALDING THE RODEO—Marching under the banner that announces the fourth annual Littlefield Jaycee Rodeo is a section of the long parade that attracted several thousand visitors to Littlefield's business section Thursday. The three-day event featured some of the nation's outstanding rodeo and Western stars. 2,500 persons filled the grandstands and bleachers Thursday night to see the roping, bronc and bull riding, girls' barrel race and comedy performances. There were plenty of spills and thrills as the wild horses refused to let their riders stay the eight-second limit. (Staff photo by Edward Welsh).

Arlington Reports First Polio Death

(By The Associated Press)

Arlington reported what officials believed to be the first polio death in the North Texas town's history yesterday. One new case was reported at Austin and one at Dallas.

But for the first time in more than three weeks, San Angelo had no new cases.

Two hospitals in the West Texas city dismissed five patients, leaving 70 under treatment. There had been 77 a few days ago.

Ann Marie Watson, 18, Arlington's victim, died in a Fort Worth hospital. She had been ill two weeks.

George Norris, 32, of Burnet, was diagnosed as a polio case at an Austin hospital. A four-year-old boy from nearby Mesquite was admitted to a Dallas hospital for treatment of polio.

Meanwhile, the Texas Air National Guard at Hensley field said Fort Worth and Wichita Falls had asked that planes spray DDT around the fringes of the cities.

Japanese From Brazil Arrive In Tokyo To Get Evidence That Fatherland Lost War

TOKYO, June 17 (INS)—Six Japanese-Brazilians arrived in Tokyo today to obtain proof that Japan lost the war.

They need the evidence to convince some 150,000 Japanese in Brazil that the fatherland actually was defeated in the recent conflict.

The group's spokesman, Yoshikazu Morita, explained that at least half of the 300,000 first, second and third generation Japanese in Brazil believe either that Japan won the war or that the war is still on.

More than 500 Japanese, he added, are awaiting trial in Brazil for a mass conspiracy to kill all fellow-Japanese who indicate they believe Japan lost the war.

Morita said that Japan's invincibility was "drilled into the minds of these people by cheap ultra-nationalist magazines—the only literature they read before the war."

Flood Of Golden Grain Begins To Flow Over South Plains

Heavy Yields Over Area Are Expected

South Plains wheat farmers undoubtedly will mark down Thursday as the official start of the 1949 harvest.

Combines were rolling from the lower edge of Crosby county, into Floyd, and backing up trucks at elevators in southeast Hale county.

Many fields were still awaiting the arrival of combines because of still muddy conditions, and some wheat still had to ripen a bit more, and other fields had too high moisture content to be accepted by elevators, but the golden grain was beginning to flow to the elevators in an increasing flood yesterday afternoon, and today many more fields will be opened, if the weather does not hamper operations.

Good Yield Is Seen

Growers and combine men say by the first of next week, barring scattered showers or other inclement weather conditions, there will be scarcely a wheat field in the South Plains that doesn't have a combine at work.

The South Plains crop has been estimated at near 1,000,000 acres of wheat for 1949, and if the yield continues to hold up as it has started, the harvest will mean millions of dollars to area farmers.

Changed conditions from a week ago were obvious over the three county area. Where last Friday Floydada was jammed with machinery in the downtown area only a scattering of machines were parked idle on vacant lots and along highways yesterday.

Machines were still idle at Lorenzo, Ralls, and Petersburg, but they were relatively few in number compared to the dozens that lined the roads and parked on lots last week awaiting the arrival of fair weather.

Heavy In Floydada Area

Because of the extremely high humidity, early morning dews and general wet condition of fields, few combine crews are getting started before noon. However, the dry wind that whipped the area yesterday was welcomed as it caused the grain and fields to dry more rapidly and undoubtedly hastened the harvest by a day, or possibly two days.

The top cutting reported so far came from Mark H. Martin, large-scale Floyd county wheat grower, who said that a portion of irrigated land about two miles southeast of Floydada cut at "least 52 bushels" an acre. Martin, who has 950 acres of wheat in that particular area, said his irrigated wheat had cut 42 bushels to the acre, and that dry land wheat was cutting 24 bushels or more to the acre.

Four self-propelled combines under the direction of Leo Sawyer, of Lamesa, are custom cutting Martin's wheat. The Floydada grower said that at one time, the four combines cut 220 bushels of wheat in a 15 minute period.

R. M. Battey, another Floydada grower, said that six combines began cutting his crop late yesterday afternoon. Battey said his 290 acres probably would cut 30 bushels to the acre, and that there was a possibility that it might run slightly higher.

Roe Jones, manager of Producers Cooperative elevator of Floydada, pointed out that cutting undoubtedly would pick up for the next week, barring interference from weather.

Jones said that most of the wheat was testing 59 pounds and up to the bushel and that most of it was coming under the 13 per cent moisture content margin allowed for federal loan wheat. However, some of the wheat brought in Thursday had tested as high as 16 per cent moisture content.

C. B. Hendrix, who has 400 acres of wheat a half a mile south of Ralls reported he was getting a yield of 25 bushels to the acre. Hendrix, who had four combines operating under the direction of Walter Woods, of Graham, said that hail had shattered his wheat badly, and had cut his yield five or six bushels to the acre at least.

Ground Drys Some

R. W. Catching, Lorenzo elevator operator, reported that almost all fields in the Lorenzo area were ready for combines and that the only delay was from muddy soil conditions.

Catching said many growers started "mudding it" yesterday as ripened wheat threatened to snap under the hard wind. Most of the wheat in the area he said would run from 20 to 25 buschels to the acre.

Harold Priddy, Ralls elevator manager, labeled Thursday as "D-Day" for the Ralls wheat producers. Wheat in the area, he said, probably would average 25 to 28 bushels per acre, but that at present moisture content was averaging 13 to 13.5 per cent, with a considerable portion running even higher. Priddy reported that his elevator had shipped out two cars of wheat Wednesday and expected to move four or five cars by late Thursday. One other elevator at Ralls was loading a car for shipment yesterday, he said.

Trucks Lined Up

At 3:30 p. m. Thursday a line of 25 to 30 wheat loaded trucks, many of them truck-trailer combinations, were waiting to unload wheat at Petersburg elevators. Almost every wheat field in the Petersburg area had one or more

Large Crowds Attend Rodeo

By EDWARD WELSH
Journal Staff Writer

LITTLEFIELD, June 17.—"Old Settler's Reunion" day will be featured at the fourth annual Jaycee rodeo here today.

A permanent organization for Lamb county will be formed at a special meeting in the country club starting at 2 p. m. Officers will be named and the oldest man and woman will be honored.

Large Crowds Attending

More than 100 riders, 20 floats, covered wagons, four-horse team freighter wagons and a buckboard followed the colors down main street late Thursday in the opening day's parade.

Sammy Baugh, professional football player and rancher, was leading the parade with the Junior Chamber of Commerce donkey mascot 'Forgetful' and the Littlefield High School band.

Queens In Parade

In the van of the parade were queen Wanda Foust, junior queen Melba Jo Edwards and little midget queen Leta Merle Roberts. Following were Howard Brown, producer of the show, the Lubbock County Sheriff's Posse and the 60 cowboys and cowgirls who had entered the rodeo to compete for the $2,500 in cash prizes.

The floats in the parade vied for prizes totaling $100. One float containing a bevy of attractive girls in bathing suits drew whistles and catcalls from the crowd. Another float had four beautiful girls in white evening gowns which offset their deep tan. Many commercial houses were represented with floats advertising their business.

Large Crowds Attend

Despite the forbidding black clouds to the north and west, the rodeo got off on schedule with the grand entry riding through the gate and into the arena at 8:30. Ted Daffin, Grand Old Opry hillbilly singer kept the crowd entertained between events and while waiting for the show.

Shortly after the show began it was estimated 1,200 persons had been admitted to the grandstands and bleachers. It was one of the largest crowds ever attracted to a Littlefield rodeo.

Many of the visitors were attracted by the scheduled appearance of Monte Hale, Western movie star and the Moore family of rodeo clowns with their mule 'Beeswax.' Most of the people however, admitted they came to see some hard riding and roping.

Clear Lines And Arrangement Key To Attractive Rooms

Housewives Underrating Themselves As Home Decorators, Visiting Artist Is Convinced

By OPAL DIXON
Journal Staff Writer

The average housewife underrates herself as a decorator, in the opinion of Mrs. Addie Mae Miller, Washington, D. C., interior decorator and artist who is visiting her mother, Mrs. N. C. Dickson of Slaton.

The decorator has an intense interest in the problem of the housewife who has decided financial limitations when it comes to decorating.

"If you have plenty of money, you can make a place attractive, but I want to help the ones who have little to spend," she said Thursday during a visit in Lubbock.

Kind Of Budget

Her philosophy is kind to the budget. "I am a great believer in using what you have and making it as attractive as possible," she said.

Mrs. Miller, who formerly lived in Slaton about six years, has lived the last 10 years in Washington, where her husband, J. Emmette Miller is an auditor in general accounting, office of the comptroller general. He formerly was an auditor for the Santa Fe at Slaton.

Mrs. Miller and an associate in a Washington interior decorating shop recently decorated a portion of the home of General Omar N. Bradley Army Chief of Staff, and Mrs. Bradley at Fort Myer. They consulted Mrs. Bradley on decorating plans and did not meet General Bradley.

Has Studio In Home

Mrs. Miller regularly aids as an interior decorator for quarters at Fort Myer.

In addition to work with an interior decorating shop in Washington, she has a studio in her home in which she paints portraits and some still lifes. She painted her first portrait—one of her mother—about 10 years ago.

She has painted several in the last four years in Washington. One was a portrait of Major Gregory Lock, chief of chaplains at Fort Myer.

She became interested in painting about 20 years ago while a public school student. She has studied painting in Dallas and Washington. She has studied interior decorating by practice and self-instruction, she said.

Lack of self-confidence, she said, handicaps many homemakers in home decorating. Unable to buy what they think they need to make their homes beautiful, many do not use to best advantage the items they already have, she said. "I am interested in interior decorating from the point of view of the average home where you have good old pieces that can be redone and, in some cases, remade."

For instance, an outmoded bedroom siute can be remade to show little or no resemblance to its former self. There are ways of taking off the headboard and using the footboard for the headboard, padding it, and doing away with need for a footboard. One of the best ways of working over old dressers and dressing tables is to remove the mirror and hang it, "taking away all the gingerbread and making the furniture look simple and plain."

For smaller homes, the decorator recommended "smaller furniture and clear lines."

"A few sketches and a little encouragement" are needed when a woman sets out to redecorate her own home. "There are so many inexpensive magazines available to give you ideas," said Mrs. Miller. "From them, you choose the one that fits your own problem." In many cases, a complete idea may be followed. In other instances, the homemaker may adapt her plan from a picture or brief description.

In order to make a home show the personality of the owners, the likes of the owners should be put into effect. In some cases, study of good decoration may guide the likes along better lines.

Arrangement Is Key

THE QUESTION
How old should a boy or girl be before being allowed to use the family car?

THE ANSWERS

J. W. REID, 2505 Thirty-third, director of safety and instructor in driver training in Lubbock High school: "I think youngsters can be permitted to drive—some at 14 or 15 years of age—provided they are carefully supervised by their parents. This training and supervisory period should extend over three or four years' time. They should be allowed to grow into modern traffic rather than being plunged into it overnight. They can learn the mechanics of operating a motor vehicle in a short time, but the development of the proper attitude and safe driving practices requires more time. To give a youngster unlimited and unsupervised use of a motor vehicle at this early age may be detrimental to the youngster and to the community."

GLADYS LIMMER, Wilson, who will be a junior in Wilson High school next year: "At least 16. They usually start driving then. They should be old enough to learn how to drive then. They should be more dependable then than if they try to drive when younger."

WESLEY B. SMITH, 2302 Twenty-first, owner of Smith Printing Co.: "As soon as they can drive well and have a driver's license. It would vary, I think, for different children. I want my children, even at 11 and 12 years old, to begin to learn the fundamentals of driving so, as they become of age to get a driver's license, they will know how to drive. I think parents should prepare them. When they become of age, the children should be allowed, occassionally for pleasure and at times for useful purpose, to drive the car.

MARION FOOTE, 617 Twenty-ninth, who will be a junior in Lubbock High school next year: "I think about 16. I believe they're old enough then to know how to handle a car without driving too fast, unless they're acting silly. Our drivers course teaches us not to 'cut up' with a car. Using the car should be limited to two or three nights a week."

ROY WARD, 3210 Ave. J, who will be a senior in Lubbock High school next year: "If he's old enough to drive safely, he should be allowed to use it any time that the family is not using it. He should be at least 14 or 15—old enough to have responsibility."

JOHNNY CARPENTER, 2115 Ave. L, who will be a junior next year: "I'd say 15. I believe that if you start a little young, when you get older you can be trusted more and will be more careful with it. You might use it once a week or once every two weeks."

Man Does Not Return For Cake, Check Does

PERRYTON, June 17. (U.P.)—A Perryton bakery today was looking for a large wedding party which could use a king-sized cake.

The baker promised to have it ready, but the young man who plunked down a check for $39.70 didn't come back. The check did, however.

Farmers are said to raise about 70 per cent of all the food products they require.

A Father Thinks About Fathers Day

COME SUNDAY, when the packages are being opened and families across the land spread themselves to make Dad a one-day Cock of the Walk, a great many men will mask with their grins some pretty serious self-searching thoughts.

Most of them, sincerely touched by the belts and the ties, the sports shirts and the shaving lotions, will be deeply affected by the inner feeling that they've fallen short of doing their big job as well as they'd like to have done it.

From Seattle to Pensacola and from Orono to San Diego, fathers whose hair is gray, or streaked with silver—and some of those who are still young—will take stock of their shortcomings, real and imagined, and wish they had come just a little closer to filling the bill.

Oh, the rest of the family won't know it, although Mother may suspect. But just the same, the Old Man, behind his bluff, good humor, likely will wish he could get up to his room, or out in the back yard, for awhile and sort of think things over alone.

Eager leaders in young people's work, the Boy Scout executives, the YM and YW secretaries, etc., prattle a lot about how a father should "be a pal to his boys and a Big Brother to his daughters." But somehow or another, that sort of guff has always left us a little cold.

While we make no claims at being a whiz in the fathering line, it has always seemed to us that our boys had plenty of Pals of their own age and wanted something else, altogether, from the Old Man. And while our ideas about the father-daughter status admittedly are entirely academic, the happiest of such combinations we know about are on the strictly parental, rather than the Big Brother-Little Sister, basis.

Fathers are important to sons and daughters, but they are important as fathers, not as synthetic chums. And it seems to us that we've seen many a boy injured, instead of aided, by too much "My Old Pal" stuff from Pop; too many daughters who have missed something from Dad's getting himself all mixed up in a Big Brother's field.

AS WE look back on our own days at home, and the part played in them by our own father now gone these many years, we find a great deal to support the natural, father-son status. We find little, if anything, to strengthen the "Good Old Pal" theory we hear so much about these days by the professionals in the young people's dodge.

One of the things we appreciate most about our Dad is that he was always a Dad and never found it necessary to attempt masquerading as one of the kids around the corner.

He was the kind of guy who kept one hand on our shoulder and the other in his pocket—forever encouraging and backing us up, and forever ready to shell out in emergencies.

He was the kind of a guy a fellow could go to for advice, or just to "talk things over," because his advice and his talk were seasoned with experience and understanding.

What kid wants a Pop who doesn't know more than some other kid of the same age?

And what normal boy, or girl, wants Pop trailing around all the time, vainly trying to knock 25 or 35 years off his age and his reactions, and be "one of the gang?"

Instead, these boys and girls of ours—already neck deep in organizations and almost constantly surrounded by friends and associates in the same age and intellectual groups, want a rock to tie to when the going gets tough, or the waves get high.

They want a snug harbor, with somebody in the lighthouse who has been over the same seas to furnish the illumination; they want someone around who knows more about charting a course than the rest of their youthful, fellow mariners.

For every father who has fallen down on the job by not being a "Good Old Pal," or a synthetic "Big Brother," 100,000 have fallen down by not being enough of a Dad—and don't let any jolly theorists tell you any different!

WHEN PAST Fathers Days have rolled around, we've usually had time to think a minute about those other Dads whose sons, or daughters, live far away, or who shall never return. We've felt sorry for those fathers, although we've quickly reminded ourself that "that's the way life is," the empty place cannot be so glibly glossed over.

To younger fathers, who see stretching ahead many years before the family may be expected to break up, let us say this:

"Enjoy those kids while you can. You may think your situation will last forever, but it won't. You'll be surprised how quickly time flies. Take time out to talk with those kids. Take time out to go somewhere with them once-in-awhile. Break your busy day downtown by lunching with them occasionally. They'll be gone before you know it. And when they're once gone from under the roof, they'll never be back again, except as visitors."

It's all right, we suppose, to have an annual observation of Fathers Day.

After all, the Old Man is usually a pretty good sort, if sometimes a shade gruff, and most families ought to do something once a twelvemonth to let him know they appreciate him.

But sometimes we wonder if, after all, it wouldn't be better to forget Fathers Day—or, at least, to put less stress upon it.

To most fathers, we suspect, Fathers Day is more a time of introspection, of self-indictment, of a feeling of defeatism, than the happy, rollicking affair pictured in the advertisements of razors, expensive whisky, wrist watches and cuff links.

Maybe it would be better all around if the Big Day were discarded and in its place Mom and the kids would just say, off-handedly, a couple of times a year that Pop might be a little hard to get along without.

HOWEVER, WE'VE got Fathers Day and we've all got to live with it.

Better then that we give a little serious thought to the Why of it, and to Dad's own feeling in the matter.

If a father's thought at Fathers Day result in his doing a little better job for even just a short time, it will be good for the nation and for each individual family involved.

From that standpoint, it might be even more valuable to the nation than it already has become as a vehicle for increasing the business cycle at a time of year when the business cycle otherwise would be rolling in low gear.

BY DREW PEARSON: NAVY LEAGUE HAS BEEN MEGAPHONE FOR ADMIRALS SINCE HOOVER

Navy Propaganda Will Be Probed As Well As B-36

WASHINGTON.—The much ballyhooed probe of the B-36 is now taking an unexpected and not too happy turn—at least for the Navy. The turn is so unhappy that naval reserve captain Congressman Jimmie Van Zandt, the Pennsylvania Republican who started all the B-36 furor, would just as soon forget about it.

PEARSON

For Chairman Carl Vinson of the armed services committee is not merely probing the B-36. He is also investigating the source of the smear stories against Secretary of Defense Johnson and Secretary of Air Symington. In other words, he is probing the delicate but highly important question of who wrote congress Van Zandt's vitriolic speeches.

In this connection it may be significant that the Navy has suddenly transferred its press relations and propaganda expert, Rear Adm. Edward Ewen, to Guam. Admiral Ewen had served only one year of a three-year tour of duty, but suddenly he was whisked off to a distant island, far from the strong arm of congressional subpoena.

The Vinson committee is also expected to apply the microscope to the most powerful backstage lobbying organization ever to buttonhole congressmen for a government bureau—the Navy league. Frank Hecht, president of the Navy league, has now become so vituperative in comparing Secretary Johnson to European dictators, that good-natured Bob Fleming, president of Washington's Riggs National bank, is all set to resign as treasurer of the Navy league. As treasurer of the G.O.P. Congression committee last year, Fleming helped raise around a million dollars for Dewey, and has no love for the administration. But he hasn't been able to stomach the Navy league diatribes.

The Navy league has now taken over the admirals' crusade against the bill before Congress tightening unification. What the admirals say privately, the Navy league now says for them publicly.

History Repeats

Harry Truman isn't the first president to have trouble with the Navy league. Herbert Hoover also had his headaches. Just 17 years ago he got into such a mudslinging duel with the Navy league that the latter ended up charging the President of the United States with "abysmal ignorance."

Attempting to practice economy, Hoover had ordered the admirals to cut their 1933 budget. Instead the admirals upped it by $40,000,000, and Hoover sent the budget back with a demand that it be reduced $20,000,000 under 1932.

Whereupon the Navy league, acting as a megaphone for the admirals, hurled the "abysmal ignorance" charge at Hoover just as the same Navy league is now calling Secretary Johnson a dictator.

Most folks have forgotten the origin of the Navy league—which shouldn't be forgotten. For its founders read like a meeting of metallurgical magnets. They include: Charles M. Schwab, Bethlehem Steel corporation; J. Pierpont Morgan, United States Steel corporation and owner of a controlling interest in the Carnegie Steel company; Col. R. M. Thompson, International Nickel company; B .F. Tracy, attorney for the Carnegie Steel and Harvey Steel companies, and director of the Tennessee Coal and Iron company; George Westinghouse, Westinghouse Electric company; Clement A. Griscom, director, Cramp Ship and Engine company, the Electric Boat company and the United States Steel corporation; S. S. Palmer, director, Lackawanna Steel company.

THERE is a good reason why these gentlemen and their successors should be the most powerful, unscrupulous, and consistently irrepressible propagandizers for a big navy. It pays. The bigger the navy, the more steel plates, the more generators, the more copper and nickel these gentlemen sell to Uncle Sam.

Members of the Navy league have been active and brazenly admitted their activity in sabotaging American diplomats at international conferences. It was Charley Schwab of Bethlehem steel and associates who paid $25,000 to "Big Bass Drum" Shearer to frustrate the Geneva naval conference. The steel and shipbuilding companies just didn't want naval limitation to succeed. Dividends, for them, came ahead of their country's efforts for peace.

At Geneva, Shearer would have got nowhere if he had not had the all-too-eager cooperation of several U. S. naval officers sent to Geneva to work for naval limitation. Instead ,they did the opposite.

One of Shearer's most active naval collaborators was Adm. Joseph M. Reeves, later exposed as such before the Senate naval affairs committee. During the balance of the Hoover economy drive, the bewhiskered Reeves was kept in simulated disgrace. But FDR was the admirals' gift from heaven, and under Roosevelt, Reeves was actually rewarded for his lobbying by promotion to be commander-in-chief of the fleet.

It may be a surprise to President Truman and Louie Johnson to find the Navy league now fronting furiously for the admirals. But it surprises no newspaperman who has watched the admirals work.

"You must take off your coat and go to work helping to save the situation," Navy league president Hecht has frantically written to thousands of people. "You must join our crusade. By joining to defeat the efforts now being made to emasculate our Navy and jeopardize our country's safety you can help.

"Stir up interest in your locality," Hecht exhorts. "Talk to your local editor. Write cards or letters to those on your Christmas list. Talk to your congressmen and senators. Go to Washington; telephone or write your representatives. Ask for copies of materials to send your friends. Help arrange for speakers before various groups, tell the story. Speak up for America and the U. S. Navy."

There is nothing wrong with presenting pro-Navy or anti-Navy views before Congress. The right of petition is guaranteed by the constitution. However, it is equally important that the public know who is behind all the propaganda. It is largely either the admirals themselves or their friends who, in many cases, profit from Navy contracts.

NOTE—the inescapable fact is that either you have unification or you don't. And you can't have it with one branch of the service waging a death battle against its commander.

"Hey--They Went That Way!"

BY RUTH MILLETT: TO THE LADIES

The Feminine Viewpoint

SO far as I know no husband has yet sued his wife for divorce on grounds that she made a fool of him on a radio audience-participation show. But I can't figure out why not.

Every day for a chance at a washing machine or a set of matched luggage or whatever prize an insulting glib master of ceremonies dangles before them, housewives on such programs "tell all" about their husbands.

MILLETT

Between giggles they'll gladly answer such questions as "What's your husband's worst fault"—even if the answer is "snoring."

Or they'll tell how he proposed—and the more ridiculous they make the once-ardent husband look, the more approving giggles the story gets from the studio audience.

Some wives will even go into a sob story about how, if they get the prize money, they'll keep Papa out of jail, or get him back on his feet by paying the bills he can't meet.

AUDIENCE LISTENS

THEY'LL tattle things about their husbands the men probably wouldn't tell to their best friends. And they are tatteling such tidbits to what radio announcers like to refer to as the "vast, unseen audience."

They tell all with a nervous giggle, apparently pleased as punch to get a verbal pat on the head from the man who is making his living by getting them to talk.

It seems to me that is the rankest kind of disloyalty to a husband—making them look idiotic to thousands of people all over the country.

So, it's a wonder to me some of the thousands who have had their privacy so betrayed haven't rebelled to the point of asking for a divorce on the ground that making a fool of a man over the air is mental cruelty.

But maybe by the time a wife broadcasts her husband's foibles and shortcomings to the world she has already made private conversation of them so often the husband takes it as a matter of course.

Today's Thought

For that which befalleth the sons of men befalleth beasts; even one thing befalleth them: as the one dieth, so dieth the other; yea, they have all one breath; so that a man hath no preeminence above a beast: for all is vanity.—Ecclesiastes 3:19.

WHEN Richard Spong, now teaching at Michigan State, was undergraduate editor of the Dartsmouth newspaper, he sent a Freshman cub to cover a wedding some miles outside Hanover. The bride—a Vassar graduate—informed the young reporter loftily, "You may say that when we return from our honeymoon, we will reside at the old manse."

The story the Freshman handed in to Spong read, "After their honeymoon, the young couple will dwell at the home of the bride's father."

Hobo King Says Eleanor And Duke Leaving Travel To Him

CINCINNATI, June 15 — Jeff Davis, the king of hoboes and emperor of the knights of the road, heaved a deep and gusty sigh.

"There aren't but three of us left," he said. "Now that Bob Ripley's dead. Me, Eleanor and the Duke, and the last two ain't working at it any more."

RUARK

Mr. Davis was referring to Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt and the Duke of Windsor whom, together with the late Mr. Ripley and himself, he regards as the most persistent travelers of the age. The king of the boes is 66 now. He has been on the road for 54 years. He says he has been around the world six times, and has covered more than three million miles.

"I only paid for about 100,000 of the three million," he says with considerable pride.

Mrs. Davis, the king's consort, says she reckons Jeff's been away from home at least 35 years, maybe 40, of their 50-year marriage. Mrs. Davis said that after a while she got used to it, although she was a little put out once when Jeff came home and failed to recognize his son.

The king's hair is white, now, as are his long, dashing sideburns, but he seems remarkably young and chipper for a man with so much mileage on his back. I found him in his study, a room cluttered with souvenirs of his journeys.

Among other things, there were blowguns, opium pipes, snakeskins, spears, daggers, bows, arrows, tomahawks, clubs, sombreros, a dart quiver of tanned human skin, antlers, witchdoctor's wands, Egyptian tapestry, prayer rugs, indian rugs, antlers, miniature whisky bottles, an Irish shillelagh, a salmon-killing club and a shark's paw.

Aside from this trove of geegawry, Jeff was up to his windpipe in card-files and letterheads. As king of the hoboes, he is subjected to a great deal of correspondence. The last sworn audit, which is filed with the Department of Commerce, listed 1,029,000 members. Jeff has been king of them all since 1908.

Mr. Davis informs me that there are no more hoboes riding the rails any more—"only a few bums and tramps passing themselves off as boes. The real boes all quit to go to work during the war. Most of them are still working and paying income taxes now. It'll take a pretty stiff depression to start them drifting again. It's hard, but even I've got accustomed to paying passage fare."

THE king lately has concerned himself with good works, economics, penology and what he calls "social-ology." He speaks as masterfully as any Washington economist about "the greatest prosperity America has ever known because of industrial expansion, the Atlantic pact, and re-stimulation of economic activity." He decries drastic price-cutting, and talks knowingly of gradual deflation and the stabilization of the foreign exchange value of the American dollar.

Jeff, who still sells razor blades for a living, says the trouble with people is they do most bad things on impulse, and that people have got to be taught to think before they jump. To this end the king wishes compulsory education for all convicted criminals with a graduate certificate a prerequisite to their release.

"Teach people to think," Mr. Davis says, "and you cut your crime in half."

Jeff also bemoans a growing commercialism in this country. In a recent speech he was quoted as saying, "It is high time Americans stop and take stock of themselves," sounding almost as well as B. M. Baruch. And "there should be more stress on the greater values of life," sounding as authoritative as his fellow-traveler, Eleanor Roosevelt.

I paused to say goodby to Mrs. Davis, who is not feeling well.

"I guess Jeff'll be off again soon," she said. "He's been home almost a week."

AN ASSET, OR LIABILITY?

The membership of the United Mine Workers apparently shares the opinion that their president, John L. Lewis, has been by far the greatest of their benefactors. Certainly he has been chiefly responsible in obtaining a great many benefits for them.

But those who look far down the line may ponder whether Lewis will not be regarded eventually as the worst enemy the coal miners ever had because of killing the goose which has been laying their golden eggs. His responsibility for such things as present mining "holiday" have won many concessions. But they have also stimulated the trend of many industries from any fuel other than coal. They have spurred experiments with generating gas and electricity by burning coal underground, eliminating the need for mining.

Lewis has been riding high for years. He is the hero of most of the coal miners and probably will be during the remainder of his lifetime. But many straws in the wind justify curiosity as to whether the time will come when the miners will regret that such a man ever lived.

Borden County Sinclair Well Hits Flowing Oil In Dolomite

Flowing oil has been developed from an unidentified deep dolomite formation at Sinclair Oil Company No. 1 Sterling Williams, northwest Borden county discovery.

Casing perforations at 9,915-45 feet were washed with 500 gallons of mud acid and the hole loaded with 300 barrels of oil. The well swabbed and flowed out 66 barrels of oil, then kicked off and flowed steadily.

The well was gauged for 13 hours after swabbing began. It made 571 barrels of oil—271 barrels additional to the load oil—with the last 505 barrels produced flowing. The venture was flowing ahead at the end of the 13 hours.

Gravity of the new petroleum is 42.8 degrees. Gas-oil ratio was 518-1.

Horizon Undecided

This prospector, bottomed on 10,035 feet with seven-inch pipe cemented at total depth, recovered clean oil on drillstem tests of the zone at 9,830-9,928 feet and flowed oil at the rate of 40 barrels per hour on a test at 9,945-10,000 feet. The water table was encountered on 10,000 feet.

The horizon is thought by several geologists to be Ellenburger. Some think the upper section is Mississippian, while others are under the opinion the pay formation is Siluro-Devonian.

Location is 660 feet from north and east lines of section 45, block 32, T-6-N, EL&RR survey, about 11 miles northwest of Gail.

Water developed from an unidentified Pennsylvanian formation at Seaboard Oil Company of Delaware No. 1 Clayton & Johnson, north-central Borden county wildcat, six miles north of Gail and 660 feet from south and west lines of section 37, block 31, T-6-N, TP survey.

Tests Are Taken

Drilling was continuing below 8,375 feet in lime.

Completion as a Clear Fork-Permian producer is to be attempted at Shell Oil Company, Inc., No. 2 Hawkins, venture one-half mile south of the Ellenburger discovery opening the Flanagan field in South-Central Gaines County.

The prospector drillstem tested for one hour in the Clear Fork at 7,155-7,260 feet. Gas reached the surface in 26 minutes and a steady blow continued for the remainder of the period. Recovery was six barrels of heavily oil and gas cut drilling mud.

Operator now has set 5½-inch casing at 7,128 feet and was waiting for cement to cure on the pipe. Plug is to be drilled for production tests of the formation.

This project is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 8, block A-23, psl survey.

Every Flanagan outpost which has drilled through the Clear Fork so far has indicated production in that horizon.

Anhydrite Encountered

Top of the anhydrite has been picked at Anderson-Prichardson Oil Corporation No. 1-D University, recently spudded wildcat in extreme east-central Andrews county, about six and one-half miles north of the Mabee field.

The venture was drilling ahead from 4,465 feet in anhydrite and shale. It entered the anhydrite on 2,120 feet.

Location is 1,980 feet from southeast and 660 feet from southwest lines of section 38, block 7, University survey.

Potential test has been completed at Los Nietos Company No. 1-E M. S. Doss, edge well in the North Riley pool of west-central Gaines county, 660 feet from north and west lines of the lease in section 328, block G, CCSD&RGNG survey.

The well pumped 24 hours, producing 83.43 barrels of 32-gravity oil, with no water. Gas-oil ratio was 813-1.

A total of 9,000 gallons of acid had been injected into the pay formation at 6,588-7,189 feet.

Rodeo Opens

events in the three-day show. The stock used in the riding contests was reputed to be as mean as they come.

Only two of the first four riders remained on the horses' backs for the eight second limit. Two stayed on for less than three seconds.

Jaycees Direct Activities

Bill Street, Littlefield attorney, was in charge of ticket sales.

The judges for the various contests are Limey Thomas, Clovis, and Jack Shaw, Ruidoso. Buddy Townsend of Nocona announced the show. Take-off men working in the arena were Son Woods, Clovis and Nolan Fincher, Huckabee.

Nights Results Given

The results of last night's performance were:

Calf roping: first place—Jimmy Weir of Hobbs, N. M. with the time of 13.2; second place—Troy Fort of Lovington; third place—Jack Skipworth of Clovis, N. M.

Saddle bronc riding: first place—A. J. Anderson of Jacksboro; second place—Bill Barton of Abilene; third place—Buster Lindley of Alpine.

Bulldogging: first place—Shorty Mattock of Las Cruces, N. M.; second place—Hood Abercrombie of Lubbock; third place—Polly Rushing of Springlake.

Bull riding: first place—Bud Weems of Levelland; second place—Erick Little.

About 3,000 attended last night but a severe storm thinned out the crowd during the performance.

Friday afternoon will feature "Old Settler's Reunion" day. The rodeo will close Saturday.

Each day of the three-day Jaycee rodeo will end with street dancing in the downtown business section.

Wheat Harvest

combines busy. Some were forced to idle because of the unexpected jam at the elevators which tied up trucks. An increase in truck traffic on rural roads in the area was noticeable.

Elevator men and growers reports indicated that Hale county's yields would compare favorably with the averages reported for Floyd and Crosby counties.

Storage Is Problem

Storage was the one gloomy spot on the wheat growers' horizon yesterday. They all frankly admitted that they didn't know what they would do when the present elevator space had been used up.

Catching said that the Lorenzo elevator was accepting no storage wheat but had a "little" terminal elevator space, and approximately 100 carloads of space at their Crosbyton elevator. He admitted, however, that this was only a "drop in the bucket."

The Lorenzo elevator man said that his firm was not going to pile wheat on the ground this year because of the wet conditions. He pointed out that only a few farmers in the Lorenzo area had built home storage bins.

"Unless the terminal elevators happen to turn up with unexpected space it looks like the farmers are in for a hard time this year," Catching said, "for there will be just no place to store the grain."

One elevator man who requested that his name not be mentioned, said that he had a "little space" but that it had been allotted to his "better customers" and after that was used up there would be no more at his plant. He voiced an opinion that terminal elevator space might "loosen" up under pressure generated by the new crop. He pointed out that the government might in some manner dispose of the "old crop" that was still occupying terminal space.

Home Storage Used

Jones said that space at the Floydada elevator probably would last "one more day." He said that he didn't know what farmers would do when the space at the four Floydada elevators was gone.

Battey pointed out that he was storing as much of his wheat as possible at the elevator, but that he had home storage bins that would accommodate the remainder of his crop. Other farmers would be caught in the storage pinch, Battey believed, "There just isn't enough space available, and I don't see how enough temporary bins or metal bins can be built in time to handle the crop."

The rapid flow of grain at Petersburg was expected to glut all available space in a short time, and growers then would be faced with placing the grain in home bins or piling it on the ground.

Elevator men were almost unanimous in their belief that ground storage would be unsatisfactory this year because of the damp nights and the damp ground. The suggestion that waterproof paper might be used beneath the piled wheat failed to draw approval because of its cost which in turn would reduce the profit from the grain crop.

Sisters Trying To Shed Common Mate

LOS ANGELES, June 17. (AP)—Walter Fisher, 19, a really in the middle of annulment proceedings—from two sisters.

The sisters, Mrs. Helen Blanc Fisher, 20, and Mrs. Evelyn Blanc Fisher, 21, filed suits yesterday charging that both had been tricked into marriage by Fisher, a New York upholsterer.

Helen said she eloped with Fisher to Las Vegas, Nev., March 16, 1948, and that he deserted her an hour after the wedding.

Evelyn claimed she married the same man July 3, 1948, in Baltimore. Three months later she got around to notifying Helen — who then told her they had a husband in common, the complaints say.

Fisher, it seems, was an old child hood friend of both girls. Both are employed as stenographers here now.

Home Decorator

tor in interior decorating, in my opinion, than the price of things."

Mrs. Miller formerly worked with a sewing machine company, giving lectures and illustrations, and she believes that helped her to develop a practical sense of decorating.

She lived in Slaton from the time she was 12 to 15 years old and after her marriage moved back with her husband and lived there about three years.

She has a sister, Mrs. Velma Wright, and two brothers, Ralph and Jack Dickson, in Slaton.

She has accepted an invitation to meet with a Slaton art club next week to discuss painting still lifes.

She arrived in Slaton Sunday and will visit there about three weeks.

Murders and felonious assaults are more frequent in the summer months, while crimes against property generally increase in the winter months.

Caso March Brings Campaign To City

Caso March, of Waco, brought his campaign for governor to Lubbock Thursday.

March, former law professor at Baylor and two-time loser in former governor's races, is on a swing of the Panhandle and South Plains to lay the groundwork for what he has announced is one of the most intensive campaigns in the state's history for the governor's post.

Stating that he is waging a campaign far in advance of next year's elections in order that he "may visit every town and county in the state of Texas," March visited briefly here this morning. He was to go to Amarillo this afternoon and speak at a labor temple dedication in Borger tonight. He speaks to a state Amvet commission in Waco Saturday and the AFL convention Monday.

Snyder Man Heads Firemen's Group

GALVESTON, June 17. (AP)—M. W. Autry of Snyder is the new president of the Firemen's and Fire Marshals' Associaiton of Texas.

Autry was elected at the 73rd annual convention Thursday to succeed Adolph Solmky of Seguin.

Other officers named: John Dean of Plano, first vice president; John Ballew, Childress, second vice president; J. C. Swadley, Grand Prairie, third vice president; C. P. Churchwell, Mabank, fourth vice president; the Rev. J. C. Felger, Victoria, chaplain; Olin Culberson, Austin, secretary-treasurer, and Louis H. Scholl, Gonzales, assistant secretary.

Ninety three per cent of stolen automobiles and 21 per cent of other stolen property was recovered during 1948 by local police.
