Combined assets of the banks total $5,670,819.64, as compared to $6,134,133 a year ago; $5,669,901 in 1947; and $5,184,775 in 1946.

$75,000 Bond Election Hinges on Highway Department Approval

Road District Formed in Precinct Four In Order to Get More Paved Roads

Creation of a road district covering all of Precinct 4 north of Salt Fork River for the purpose of improving roads in that district, was proposed in Commissioners Court Monday, July 11, by Commissioner Cortez Barnett of that district and approved by the remaining members of the court.

The district is known as Collingsworth County Road District No. 1.

The State Highway Department will be asked to approve the district in the immediate future, and if this is granted, petitions will then be drawn up calling for a $75,000 bond election for that area part in surfacing 10 or 11 additional miles of Farm to Market Road for which that precinct is eligible.

The proposed additional pavement will be extensions on the farm to market road to be constructed this year from Highway 83 through Samnorwood to Dozier.

Mr. Barnett, in explaining why only the part of the precinct north of the River was included, said that the semi-annual traffic counts by the State Highway Department reveals that certain portions in the north area has more than the 100 cars per day required before a road can become eligible for Farm-to-Market aid. No part of the precinct south of the river has this required amount of road travel, and consequently is not eligible for surfacing. In order that the people south of Salt Fork will not have to help finance the roads for those living north of the River, the southern area was not included in the road district.

"It is so that the people south of Salt Fork will not have to pay for roads that they don't use that we made his division," Mr. Barnett stressed.

Landowners living in Precinct 4 north of Salt Fork heartily approve this proposal, it was reported, and are supporting it.

If and when approval is given by the State Highway Department, petitions will be circulated calling for the election. It will be necessary that these bear the names of 10 per cent of the property owners of the district.

Should the bond election carry, the state will pay for one-fourth the cost of the roads or $25,000, and the road district will bear the other three-fourths, or $75,000. Additional surfaced Farm-to-

Market roads which would be sought under this plan include:

Paving from Dozier four miles west to a point one mile west of Abra.

Extension of the FM road from the point where the present approved road will end three miles north of Dozier, northward four (Continued on Page Ten)

New Oil Test Mile and Half East of Quail

Location of a new oil test for the Quail area was announced this week, and drilling is due to begin within a few days.

The new well will be drilled on the northeast quarter of section 27, block 21, owned by Oren Jones of Memphis. This is a mile and a half east of Quail, and the well will be only 330 feet south of the highway.

L. A. Helms, who put down the test northwest of Quail, is getting up the leases, Tom Crabtree, Quail merchant, said, but it is not known here who the driller will be. No drilling depth has been set.

This brings active oil interest to within about 9 miles of Wellington, and is six miles nearer than the Farmer test northwest of Quail.

Drilling has been resumed on the Farmer well, with Joe rush of Leffors and Warren Stover of McLean as drillers. It is down to a depth of almost 3,000 feet, and conditions are regarded most favorable.

Interest in the area has taken an upsurge, both among county and out of county people.

141 Cars Wheat Go Out of County During Harvest

One hundred and forty-one cars of wheat have gone out of the county this season, Silas Henry, agent for the M-K-T Railway and J. E. Roberts, agent for the Fort Worth and Denver, reported Wednesday morning, July 13.

Twenty-five cars went out of Dodson, Mr. Henry said, and the remainder from Wellington.

Just what portion of Collingsworth's wheat crop this represents cannot be known, but earlier in the season, buyers estimated that as high as half the wheat harvested was being stored on the farm to be put in the government loan.

Harvesting was over here the latter part of last week, although some is still being brought in from storage.

Salt Fork Bridge Near Completion

Construction work on the Salt Fork River Bridge is going forward rapidly, completion of the work is expected late this week.

Steel piling have been driven and the steel spans are in place. Forms are in place and ready for pouring the concrete floors.

The John F. Buckner Company of Cleburne has the contract for construction of the bridge, and C. I. Oaks of Fort Worth is superintendent. Clyde Drake, resident engineer, is representing the Highway Department.

The north portion of the bridge, approximately 150 feet in length, was damaged beyond repair by fire which followed a three-vehicle collision on the bridge Saturday, June 25. Reconstruction work started Tuesday, June 28.

Unit Here Through Friday Afternoon

Chest X-Rays Given 1185 in First Two and Half Days in Wellington

Chest X-rays had been made for 1,185 Collingsworth County and Wellington trade area residents Wednesday morning, July 13, at 10:30, Mrs. Lynn Carman, clerk for the State Health Department's Mobile X-Ray unit, said.

The unit will remain in Wellington until Friday evening, July 15, at 6:00 p.m.

In the remaining two days, every person in the county and trade area who has not had a chest X-ray, is urged to do so. The unit is located at the Stinson Motor Company on the east side of the square.

The X-rays are free, but they are not charity. They are paid for by the tax-payers of the state, and are made possible by the State Health Department.

Only two minutes is required for a picture, and you do not undress.

Wellington doctors, under whose auspices the unit is brought here, put out that of the 1,500 chest X-ray pictures made while the unit was here last year, 70 persons had a chest ailment of one kind or another that needed attention. While the program is primarily concerned with the eradication of tuberculosis, the pictures also bring to light a number of chest conditions. Around 300 signatures have been secured already, and the committee plans to get approximately 1,000 before presenting the petitions to the City Council.

The petitions ask that the city finance the garbage collection project as its judgment dictates, and that such resolutions, ordinances and regulations be passed as it deems necessary to get the best (Continued on Page Ten)

Watch for Flea Hoppers in Cotton

Spraying Planned to Curtail Damage To County's Alfalfa Seed Crop

Steps are being taken this week by alfalfa growers to control the heavy infestation of ligus bugs and the thrips which threaten this year's seed crop, County Agent J. W. Thomas reports.

J. A. Schofield, district agent, and Mr. Gunter, state entomologist, were in Wellington Tuesday to meet with a group of alfalfa growers on this problem.

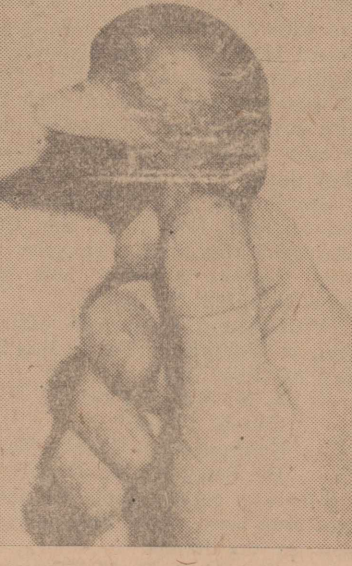

Spraying or dusting with DDT or Taxaphene is specifically recommended for the control of these insects, Mr. Thomas said.

"In the old fields, where the insect population has built up over a period of years, we think it will be profitable, after the first hay crops, and along about bloom time on the seed crop, to give the field a good dusting or spraying," he declared. Continuing, he explained that while there would be a big kill of all insects, those which act as pollinators show a much quicker come-back than do those of a destructive nature.

A number of farmers are considerably worried over the prospects of damage to the alfalfa seed crop. Mr. Thomas said he feels it will be spotted over the county, ranging from below average to a fair crop.

Flea hoppers are also being found in considerable numbers in the cotton, and farmers were warned to be watchful.

LOOK AGAIN

Not the head of somebody's duck, but a cucumber that was victim of one of nature's capricious moments, this came from the garden of Mrs. W. C. Killingsworth of Wellington. There were even indentations on the cucumber where the "duck's" eyes should have been.

Ritz to Feature "The Doolins of Okla." July 22-23

The Ritz theater in Wellington once again has been chosen among the leading motion picture houses throughout the great southwest for a day-and-date saturation showing of "The Doolins of Oklahoma," starring Randolph Scott with George Macready, Louise Albritton, John Ireland, Virginia Huston and Charles Kemper, opening a 2-day run Friday, Saturday, July 22-23, it was announced by Manager Emmett Passmore.

The picture is the newest story in the series of investigations into what made the lawless West what it was and it is an accounting of Bill Doolin and his gang of Oklahoma renegades who took up where the Dalton and James boys left off, Manager Passmore reports.

A western from the word go, it involves the well known gang of outlaws, the leader of which is painted with a pseudo-sympathetic brush until the law catches up with him and it is proved once more that even for Scott, crime does not pay.

When the Dalton gang is double-crossed at Coffeyville and shot down, Scott, a new member, is forced, in self-defense, to kill the double-crosser.

He becomes a hunted man and then organizes the Doolin gang, which has considerable success in robbing banks and trains, until Scott's (Doolin) desire for a normal family life brings about his end as well as that of the rest of the gang.

The film also leaves a suggestion that all outlaws were not completely bad.

Headed by Scott, who has yet to turn in a second rate performance, the rest of the cast are worthies who keep their end of the proceedings flowing smoothly in a good story.

As Rose of Cimarron, Oklahoma's own Louise Albritton is fine. She was born in Oklahoma City July 3, 1920.

Noah Berry Jr., also registers as a member of the gang, as do Kemper and Ireland.

Photography is excellent and the film has been classed for family trade, the show manager said.

On the same program with "The Doolins of Oklahoma" are vacation

Kiwanis Club Has 57 Members as Half Year Ends

The semi-annual report of the Kiwanis Club, for the period ending July 1, shows the club has 57 active members, L. B. Bratten, secretary, has reported.

During June, the club had a 92 per cent attendance, Mr. Bratten said.

The programs for this period were varied. Cameron Beam and Pat Riley, president of the Key Club, explained Key Club plans for the coming year at the first meeting of June. John Kennedy of Shamrock presented a musical program at the second meeting; the Rev. Lester Hill, pastor of the Methodist Church, told of the various countries he visited while serving as an Army Chaplain; and George Taylor of Childress presented a program on soil conservation at the final meeting.

One of the aims of the club is aid to underprivileged children, and during the month, one child was fitted with glasses and further assistance was given a youth the club has set up in the shoe shine business.

Plans were made for the Key Club to sponsor a Donkey Baseball Game, the date to be announced.

The agriculture committee was particularly active in June, and members made a field trip to Beckham County, Oklahoma, in search of three registered Chester White gilts for FFA and 4-H Club projects.

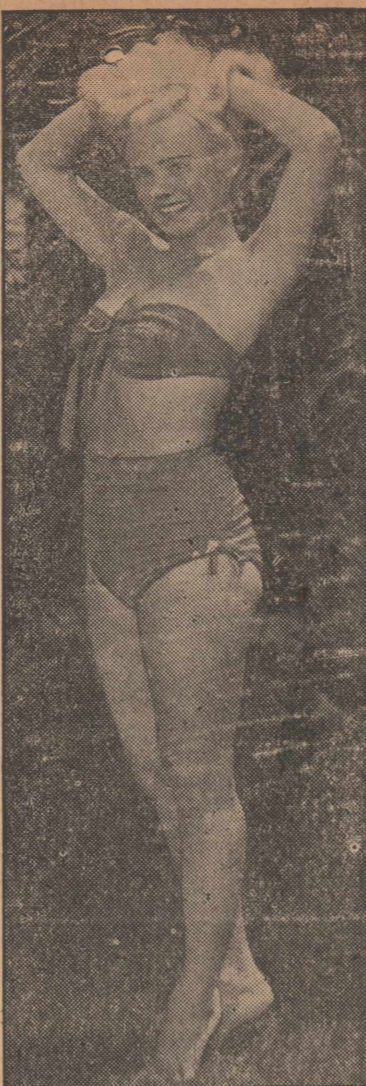

Other activities included co-operation in bringing the State Health Department's Mobile-Ray unit here, and with the city and other civic clubs in sponsoring the clean-up campaign.

Shamrock Team May Offer Competition

Dukes Split Pair But Keep League Lead

The Dukes of Wellington took a game from Shamrock and dropped one to Altus in league play during the week, but still lead by a comfortable margin the Red River Valley League, with 12 games won and only 4 lost.

The Dukes beat an improved Shamrock Green Sox team 11 to 3 Thursday night on the local diamond. Shamrock has added some five or six new players and will likely win some ball games for the remainder of the season.

Lefty McDonald was on the mound for the Dukes and held the Green Sox to four hits. The Shamrock team scored one run in the first on two errors and scored twice in the ninth on three hits. The Dukes amassed a total of 15 hits for their 11 scores. Every Duke got a hit and Windy Eldridge led with three hits for four at bats.

Scrappy Whitman got a long home run over the stringers for the fence in deep center field.

On the whole, much better ball was played than the score indicates.

The Altus Oilers took the Dukes for their Sunday game 5 to 3 at Altus. The game was good all the way. Altus scored four runs in the first inning on two base on balls, two errors and two hits.

Ralph Rogers, Duke pitcher, was wild in this inning but settled down and with the exception of a home run by second baseman Doyle of the Oilers in the seventh, he pitched good ball until relieved by McDonald in the eighth.

The Oilers secured six hits off Rogers and the Dukes got 10 hits off Blount, but could not hit with men on, as they had eight left on bases.

In other Sunday games, the Shamrock Green Sox surprised Childress with a 11 to 6 win at Shamrock, and Mangum won over Memphis 7 to 4.

Here is the league standing to date:

Team	Won	Lost	Pct.
Wellington	12	4	.750
Mangum	10	6	.625
Memphis	9	7	.562
Altus	8	7	.533
Childress	7	8	.467
Shamrock	2	14	.125

Junior Bellew Hurt in Kansas

By MRS. C. W. FRITTS
Mrs. J. L. Alexander and son, Billie Rae, of Lutie left Friday night in response to a message from Scott City, Kansas, that her brother, Junior Bellew, had received a mangled hand on a combine belt.

He was working with Mr. Alexander's combine crew. Junior received three badly mangled fingers on the right. The accident occurred as he was putting grease dressing on the belt. He was alone at the machine and his hand was caught between 80 minutes and an hour before help came. Gene Whitfield returned to the field and found him. Muriel Whitfield was combining in the same large field, but was out of sight from the machine where Bellew was injured.

Bellew was rushed to the Scott City, Kansas, hospital for treatment. Doctors believe his fingers can be saved unless infection sets up.

Mrs. Alexander and Billy Rae returned home Monday. Mrs. Elvis Crawley of Fresno kept the three smaller children while she was away, John, age 9, two year old Joyce and 18-months-old Nancy. Another accident in the Alexander family occurred when John fell off a tractor while his 15-year-old brother, Billy Rae, was greasing it recently.

He received a painful cut on his head, and was rushed to Wellington for treatment. Several stitches were taken to close the gash.

Deck's DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

Farming is the most hazardous of occupations. Accidental deaths cost the lives of 51 farm people every day in the year in the United States. This is a total of over 18,000 deaths. Of this number more than 7,300 are killed in traffic accidents and the rest are killed by accidents on the farm and in the farm home. The week of July 24 to 30 has been designated as national farm safety week. The time will be well spent if farm people give more study to the causes of this appalling number of deaths.

Sunday, July 17, there will be a lot of activity at Marian Airpark. These include a flying meet, a flying show, a diving exhibition by champions at the swimming pool, a barbecue at noon and a league baseball game. Tickets for the barbecue may be obtained from Bill Lewis or other members of the Wellington Flying Club.

The Boy Scouts will hold their first annual district swimming meet in Wellington August 5th. Troops from Collingsworth, Donley, Hall and Wheeler will be represented. It is fine to have a pool that will attract such a group and Sandy Parsons Jr. is to be congratulated upon bringing them here. Getting people to come to your town helps a lot whether it is the flyers, the Scouts, the singers or what-not. And it takes something like the community building and the airpark to make it possible to get them here.

My neighbors insist that I apologize to Judge Howard Riggs for what I published about his barracks cluttering up the landscape. This I do freely and openly. Howard has built a lovely home and when he finishes the landscaping it will be even lovelier. Our block certainly has improved in the last ten years. If old Tom Bryant would just do right by his neighbors and plant some permanent shrubs on the outside of his fence east of his garage, the view from my front yard would be practically perfect. Wonder if I will have to apologize to Tom about this time next year? *

Roger Babson says that the only thing that can cause a real panic will be labor leaders overreaching for power. *

It seems to me that there is little for business people and farmers and stockmen of this area to worry about in the next few months. We have the most wonderful prospects for fall crops that we have had in years. A substantial minimum price is assured due to the government loan. Our worst hazard has been and is the weather. This year it has been most kind. One more rain and in August cotton is made. Too many rains could bring damage from worms and insects; but with the help that the county agent and other experts can give the danger of insects can be eliminated by poison. *

Some Wellington merchants have been jittery during the month of June. They expected the effects of wheat money to start showing up in their stores. There is a very simple reason why it did not show up. The wheat growers have not been paid up to date and they will not be for some two or three weeks from now. The bank statements in this issue of the paper are very good; but none of them reflect any appreciable amount of money that has been derived from wheat. *

The effects of the wheat money should begin to show up in August and the combine grain in September, and in October the cotton money will be rolling. It could be and probably will be a very wonderful fall for business in Wellington. *

Was I startled Tuesday. Various public spirited people announced about the free X-ray pictures that were being offered to the people of this area. What startled me was to realize that the best announcing voice, the most cultivated voice was that of Nimro Higdon, the Buick dealer, as he urged the people to come over to the Stinson Motor Company and get a free X-ray of the chest. Incidentally these free X-rays will continue to be made Thursday and Friday of this week. Out of 1,500 people X-rayed last year, there were seventy who had signs of a chest condition. Doctors believe that at least six lives were saved by the timely examinations. Why not go over Thursday or Friday. It may save contaminating your children with this disease. *

The use of 2-4D spray by wheat growers earlier in the year to kill weeds is causing repercussions among the cotton farmers. The extent of the damage is not too well known yet; but there are signs that it may be extensive in some areas. It is damaging the cotton. This may change my optimistic picture. *

By BILL HUGHES

The Flyers' Barbecue, Sunday, July 17, being sponsored by the Collingsworth Flying Club, aided and abetted by all of Wellington's civic organizations should be a "lollapolozer." It is again a chance for Wellington hospitality to make itself felt throughout the area. It was felt and appreciated at last year's breakfast by people from a wide area. While it is true that they might be classed as aviation bugs, they are still people of many different vocations and represent a considerable territory of neighbors. The good will and the publicity won't do Wellington any harm and the pleasure to be had by one

Husband of Former Resident Injured

By BETHINE ADKINS

Three men were critically injured when a fast Amarillo bound freight rammied into the rear of another east-bound freight in the city limits of Hereford recently. The accident was blamed on a faulty switching system.

One of the injured was Fred Baird, engineer on the train, who is the son-in-law of Mrs. W. B. Wyrick and a brother-in-law of T. Wyrick, Mrs. Clair Lawrence and Mrs. Jake Lawrence, all of Arlie. Mr. Baird received serious lacerations about the head and back and chest injuries. The injured are in the Hereford General Hospital. One of the three injured is not expected to live.

Mrs. Baird will be remembered here as Miss Leta Wyrick. She is at her husband's bedside, and keeps in touch with relatives here by phone. She reports that Mr. Baird is resting very well, but is still in a critical condition.

She is the daughter of Mrs. J. L. Hays of Wellington.

and all including ourselves as hosts mingling together is basic of understanding and cooperative effort for every field of endeavor.

This is not a matter of promoting one industry to the detriment or at the expense of others. While flying is the principal in sparking this particular effort, the effort is in the interest of the whole community. Flying is not just a sport. It is an industry of many parts that has achieved basic importance to business, growing importance to agriculture, and a must in national defense. It is an industry that hires workers, pays wages, buys groceries, homes, pays plumbers, electricians, runs automobiles, sends children to school, goes to the movies, and pays taxes.

The airport at Marian Airpark is not a playground for a few peculiar characters. It is the necessary foundation for an industry, for a school of that industry, and for a terminal of transportation. There is a struggle ahead of anything new born. How great the effort and pain of this struggle depends upon the environment in which the sprout is rooted and the conditions under which it must grow.

The Collingsworth Flying Club was formed not for personal benefit but by a group who believe in aviation and believe in the benefits to the community in having such an industry in its midst. Congratulations, Bill Lewis, Wilbur Upchurch, Beryl Faulkner, and all the members of the Collingsworth Flying Club. (Yep, I am one, too.)

Congratulations to the city's man of multitudinous parts, Prometheus Handley and to the long suffering Odysseus, our airport manager, Tom Kane. Keep them flying! It's just as important in peace as it is in war — more so, I believe. Here is to a great 17th of July at Marian Airpark. Hope to see you all there.

Quail Men to Insect Meet

Frank Kennedy, vocational agriculture teacher at Quail, and Supt. Noah Cunningham attended an insect eradication meeting at Plainview Friday, traveling the farthest distance of any of the 50 odd men present.

Mr. Cunningham reported that flea hoppers, aphids and boll worms are present in such numbers on the south plains as to cause much concern over the possible damage to cotton and other crops.

Recommendations given at the meeting to determine whether infestation is sufficient for dusting is: check the first 100 stalks of cotton on a row and if as many as 20 flea hoppers are found, the crop should be sprayed. Recommended by the state botanist, who was present at the meeting is the 3-5-40 formula, which includes both DDT and sulphur.

Mr. Cunningham said that some flea hoppers and aphids have been found in the Quail area.

Canadian Border Is the Goal

Custom Combining Big Business For Large Number of Collingsworth Men

Collingsworth's harvest trek northward is under way. Combines, trucks and trailer houses that were parked on dozens of vacant lots in town and beside farm houses a month and a half ago are completely gone. They're scattered over the North Plains, Oklahoma Panhandle, and the endless Great Plains of Kansas, Colorado and Nebraska.

Most of them won't come home till August, after they've gone through North and South Dakota, Wyoming or Montana, some all the way to the Canadian line.

There's no count of the number of combines that have gone out from Collingsworth, but they number in the dozens.

Most of the custom combine operators in this area are old hands at the job now, having followed the harvest north for three or even four years.

Some return to cut for the same farmers each year. Others may their routes according to the wheat yields.

A good many of the families of operators are going along, living comfortably in house trailers and seeing considerably more of the United States than the average vacationer does, and providing first-hand lessons in geography for boys and girls.

Conspicuous this year the number of high school age boys making the harvest. Some are earning money to enter college this fall. Most of them are traveling with combine operators that are family friends.

Here is a partial list of the custom combine operators from this area. Some groups include two or three independent owners working together.

Among the first custom combine crews to operate from this area was that of N. B. Ringgold. They are out again this year, with two self-propelled combines, three trucks, a jeep, and a trailer house. Mr. and Mrs. Ringgold and her son, Owen O. Johnson, and his nephew, a Mr. Newman of South Texas, head the crew. Mrs. Ringgold, with an assistant, takes care of the food that keeps the men going.

This family, incidentally, has The Wellington Leader sent to them each week, dropping a card to the paper each time they change their address. At this writing, it is going to Gruver.

Cap Davis, with Troy Archer of Fort Worth and Mr. Griggs of Wellington, have been cutting north of Canadian, but were due to move into Kansas.

Floyd Nipper is holding down a two-man job. He heads a custom combine crew that is either around Goodland, Kansas, or in Southwest Colorado. But right now is driving back and forth to Collingsworth County to look after a big cotton crop he's growing here. While he's away from the combines, his brother, L. H. Nipper of Amarillo takes over.

This group is operating three self-propelled combines and four trucks, and the crew includes Floyd Nipper, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Nipper and two children, and a battery of high school and college youths, Gaston Williams, Keith Cunningham, Billy Joe Keller, Wilbur Earl Smith, Franklin Orr, Jackie McPherson and Earl Wayne Nipper. Mrs. Earl Nipper and her son and daughter, Bobby and Nelda, will join them as soon as the cotton is laid by.

They plan to go on north into Montana, as long as the good wheat holds out. The Nippers are old hands at custom combine work.

Dick Wiles is operating a combine and truck around Springfield, Colo., and will go on north with the harvest.

Mr. and Mrs. Olan Cook and son, Jerry, their daughter and her family, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Amburn and children, and his nephew, J. B. Long Jr., form another custom combine crew that is operating two combines and two trucks in the Kansas area. Last year they went to South Dakota, and will also go on north this time.

Last year, the W. W. Hagerman crew from Loco cut the first wheat that was harvested in the United States. This was at Crowell. They started at Crowell again this year, and are operating one of the larger units in the county, three combines, four trucks and two trailer houses.

The crew includes Willie Davis and Charlie Davis of Haywood, Nebraska, who had been with them previously, Tiffin Young of Loco, Lindel Norman, Choice Harris of Wellington, Mr. and Mrs. Hagerman and their children, Dortha and Wayne.

They will go with the harvest all the way, stopping only at the Canadian border.

From the Dodson area, these combine crews are reported out: Mr. and Mrs. Pete Nipper and Jeanette went to Abilene with two combines, trucks and tractors, and are working north into Nebraska. Mr. Nipper has Gerald Warren and Harold Darby and others with him. Mrs. Nipper and Jeanette go along for the trip.

Joe Lowrie, with Denver Warren and others, takes about the same route.

Clinton Norman and family, and Paul Ford and son, Buddy, take several combines. They are connected with Roy Tisdale, who has combines, trucks and tractors. They began down in the Vernon area and are working north. Rufie Jameson and son, Dan, with a crew of men, began around Quanah. Mrs. Jameson and Doogie joined them at Dumas and will finish the trip with them.

Among those of the Dodson area who cut in the county during the harvest were Thurman Crownover, Buster Fillpot, David Fillpot, Edwin Crowder, Olan Farris and Harvey Taylor. David Fillpot, only 16, operates the combine by himself.

From Loco, Bethine Adkins reports:

A. V. and Clinton Norman are off with a combine and truck. Fred Cox and his son, Fred Cox Jr., have two combines, two trucks and a full crew.

Elvis Crawley has a combine and truck, hiring Ernest Hutchins as combine man.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Belew took two combines and two trucks. Mrs. Belew is crew cook.

Jack Brown took a tractor, combine and truck and hired a crew from Wellington.

Bill Adkins went with a harvest crew from Dodson.

All these will go on through to the Dakotas.

At the last report, Randolph Hunt of Wellington and his crew were at Colbert, Kansas. With him are his father, J. G. Hunt, Mr. and Mrs. Matney and Ray Matney, Bill Woodward of Dumas, I. L. Long and Kenneth Caldwell. They are operating three combines and three trucks, and have along a trailer house, additional trailer and car. Mrs. Matney is in charge of cooking for the group.

They plan to go to the Canadian Line.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Francis and Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Francis have been cutting around Liberal, Kansas. They also run two combines and two trucks.

Gene Martin, Paul Bell, Bill Towns and Ed Young have been operating together with their crews around Sunray, but at the last word received by relatives here, they were moving on, saying they were going until they found good wheat. Martin and Bell operate two combines and three trucks each, while Young and Towns have a combine and truck each.

With Martin are Johnny Bryant; Charley Waters and James Hogan of Mobeetie; Kenneth Martin; and Dick Kilgore. With Young is his brother, C. L. Young. Floyd Chandler is working with Bell.

They report an average wheat crop in the section where they have been, but not as good as last year or the year before. They plan to go into South Dakota.

Another large group which started out together in the Grandfield, Oklahoma, area and is working north are the crews of Ernest

Majority Norwood Students to School

Supt. Orville Cunningham of the Samnorwood Schools said Saturday that 90 percent of this year's graduating class is planning to enter college this fall, and he expects another five percent to decide to go before the college term opens.

Transcripts of the students are being prepared by Willard Ethridge, principal, to be sent to the various colleges chosen by the graduates.

This year's class had 16 graduates.

Lewis Cotton is employed at a gin at Robstown, which is already in its cotton harvesting season.

Dukes Play Shamrock And Childress Here

The Shamrock Green Sox will meet the Dukes of Wellington at Marian Airpark Diamond Thursday night, July 14, and the Childress Cats will come here for a game Sunday afternoon, July 17.

The Thursday game is scheduled for Shamrock, but as that team does not have a lighted field, it will be considered their home game, although played here.

After their 11 to 6 win over Childress Sunday, and with still additional new players and pitchers, they are expected to give the Dukes just as tough competition as they will meet the rest of the season.

The Green Sox are no longer the set-up that has been welcomed by all the League clubs so far, and the fans may look forward to as good a ball game as could be expected from any Red River Valley team, Mr. Strong declared.

The Childress team has two or three new players who are adding considerable life to the team, and the Cats are fighting hard to get back in the first division, or in a position for the play-offs at the end of the season.

Cliff (Lefty) Jones, ace pitcher for the Cats, will be on the mound. He is considered by many fans as the best hurler in the league.

The Dukes, stung by their 5 to 3 loss to the Altus Oilers Sunday, will be out to win this one. Manager Francis will likely use Lefty McDonald as his pitching selection. In that case, this will be a battle of the south-paws.

One of the largest crowds of the season is expected to see the game. The fence will be completed for the game and the Dukes will be giving their best in the new park.

Flyers of Five -

To Welcome Flyers Flyers are expected to begin arriving around 7:00 a.m. Members of the Flying Club, along with Tom Kane, airport manager, and Bura Handley, city engineer, will be on hand to welcome the pilots as they touch ground and help with parking the planes.

Registration Arrival of the visitors will be recorded, as will various events of the day, and the recordings will be played over various Panhandle radio stations during the day.

Members of the B&PW Club who will be registering the guests include Messadmes Dick Richards, president; Prebble Russell, Ernest Nunnally, Pete Brock, Heber Brantley, Bill Lewis, and Misses Beattie Rainer, Dora E. McClaskoy, Rose Shadid, Anna Lee Graham and Dorothy Robertson.

They will also assist in serving the barbecue at noon.

Contests The spot landing contest will begin at 10:00 a.m. and will continue until 1:00 p.m. The time races will start at that time and entries will be accepted until 3:00 p.m. The races will continue until all entries have participated.

Church Services Representatives of the Wellington churches will be on hand to welcome those visitors wishing to attend services, and there will be plenty of transportation to take them to the church of their choice at 11:00 a.m.

Barbecue The big barbecue will be served at Ellison Park, under the direction of Wilbur Upchurch, and prepared by Kennedy. There will be plenty of transportation to take the visitors from Marian Airpark to Ellison Park for this event.

Beauty Contest One of the highlights of the entire flight meet will be the Beauty Contest to select the "Queen of the Airports," Sunday afternoon at 3:00 p.m.

Airport managers from Lubbock have assured Mr. Upchurch that they are bringing four contestants; Plainview, and Canyon, two each; Amarillo several; Wichita Falls, two, and Oklahoma City is due to bring representatives. Wellington will have two entries, and a dozen or more other towns in the surrounding area will be represented.

David Pinkston of Radio Station KSEL, Lubbock, and George Young of Amarillo, are the out-of-town judges named to choose the winner.

A second diving exhibition will be given at this time also. A regularly scheduled baseball game between the Childress Cats and the Dukes of Wellington will be played at Marian Airpark that afternoon. The usual admission charge will be made, since this is a league game.

Arrangements are under the direction of Bill Lewis, chief pilot of the Gollingsworth County Flying Club, assisted by Weldon Cleveland, co-pilot; Judge R. L. Templeton, engineer; Tom Kane, airport manager; Bura Handley, city engineer; and these club members, Orville Vaughan, Bill Hughes, Dr. Dale Watkins, Randolph Hunt, William W. results from such service. Immediate clean-up work continued in Wellington this week, with citizens still hauling off trash and rubbish from their own premises and from vacant lots.

Use of a spraying machine was secured Tuesday and all streets and alleys were sprayed with a DDT solution. Follow-up sprayings at those points where flies and mosquitoes are most likely to breed will be made.

"We found last year that we could best control flies and mosquitoes came when this follow up method was used," Bura Handley, city engineer, said.

With the initial cleaning up over, civic clubs and the city urge that local residents keep their premises clean, as the only way of preventing the breeding of disease carrying insects and rodents.

The city has for sale at cost a spraying solution which has proved effective in killing flies and mosquitoes. This is a DDT solution, but contains rosin and is to be used only around the premises and outside the home.

Castleberry Outlines Veterans Land Program

Knowing that a number of Coluth County veterans will be ested in purchasing land un-the Veterans Land bill approved in 1946 by voters of the state, Commander Bobo Castleberry of the Frank King Post of the American Legion has given the following analysis of the bill.

A law putting this bill in effect was passed in June by the State Legislature. The purchases are to be made through a Veterans' Land
 Board.

Hoping to keep the Collingsworth veterans better informed and aware of the opportunity for purchasing land, Mr. Castleberry has submitted the following brief analysis in question and answer form.

1. Who can buy land from the Land Board?

Any veteran who served at least 90 days between September 16, 1940, and December 31, 1946, and who was not dishonorably discharged, providing he lived in Texas at the time of his induction and is living in the state now.

2. How do I qualify if I want to buy some of this land?

Write to the Veterans' Land
 Board at the General Land Office in Austin and ask for the necessary forms to certify your eligibility.

3. What lands will be offered?
 Any land with a clear title, either public or private, which the members of the Land Board can buy at a price which they consider to be a bargain.

4. Who are the members of this Board?

The Governor, the Attorney General, and the General Land Commissioner of Texas.

5. How much land can I buy from the Board?

Up to $7,500 worth, or up to $10,000 worth if you have a down payment to cover anything above
 $7,500.

6. How much down payment is required of me if I want only a $7,500 tract or less?

Only 5 per cent of the value. For a $7,500 tract, you would be required to pay only $375 down.

7. Will the Board offer it to me at exactly what it cost them?

Absolutely. You will amortize the unpaid balance at 3 per cent a year.

8. How long will I have to pay it off?

That will be set by the Board,
 but the law says not more than 40 years.

9. Will I get the mineral rights?

You will get 1-2 of the mineral rights, or 1-16th royalty. The State of Texas gets the other half.

10. Can I go out and find a piece of land myself and get the Board to buy it and then sell it to me on these terms?

Yes, so long as the title is clear and the Board considers it a bargain.

11. If I don't actually find the land myself, how will I know that lands are being offered?

The Board is required to advertise them for four weeks in a paper of general circulation. All county lands offered must be advertised in that county's papers.

12. Are there any priorities for buying the land?

Except where you find it yourself, the disabled vets get a 90-day priority.

13. Do I have to live on the land?

No, but you may not offer it for resale within three (3) years after buying it.

Williams Attends Firemen's Training School at A&M

COLLEGE STATION — Special developments in fighting gasoline and oil fires are being displayed and studied at the twentieth annual Firemen's Training School to be held at Texas A. & M. College, July 11-15. Attending from Wellington is Jim Williams, secretary of the Fire Department.

Six hundred firemen, marshals, inspectors, industry safety directors, and Armed Forces representatives are attending the five-day school.

The school is being conducted through demonstrations. There will be no speeches. The school is the only one spending full time outside on practical demonstrations. It is the third oldest school of its kind in the United States, Iowa and Illinois being the two older ones. Thirty-eight states are now conducting such schools.

The school is held under the auspices of the State Firemen's and (Continued on Page Eight)

Miss Delia Cowan Improving Rapidly

By BETHINE ADKINS
Miss Delia Cowan, who received a broken hip in a fall while visiting in Abilene recently, is improving rapidly, Miss Dorothy Harbin, Loco student attending Hardin Simmons University, said in a letter to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Harbin.

Miss Cowan is now up in a wheelchair.

She is a patient in Hendrix Hospital at Abilene.

THE DUKES OF WELLINGTON

The Dukes of Wellington, seen here at their home diamond at Marian Airpark, are at the top of the list in the Red River Valley League play, the position they have held during the entire season. Their record now stands at 12 wins and only 4 losses. In the back row, left to right, are Melvin Mc-

Markers Will Be Placed This Fall

Samnorwood Memorial Park A Beauty Spot in Rural Area

One of the attractive spots around Samnorwood this summer is the Memorial Park, honoring men from that community who gave their lives in World War II, and those who died while in some way connected with the school.

Located just south of the school gymnasium, the small park has been set in shrubbery and flowers. Arizona Cypress are planted along the north side, next to the gym. Redbud and crape myrtle are set at intervals to lend color during season, Orville Cunningham, school superintendent, said.

Diamond shaped rose beds were set in the southern portion of the park and for some weeks now these have been in full bloom.

Money for the trees and shrubs was raised at a pie supper this spring, and although a heavy rain fell at the hour the entertainment was planned, $97 was raised.

Sometime during the autumn, another pie supper will be held to raise money for markers. One large marker will bear the names of the men from the Norwood area who died during World War II. Small plaques, placed around the bases of the cypress, will carry the names of those connected with the school at the time of their deaths.

Other improvements are planned until the Memorial park is one of the beauty spots of Collingsworth County.

A. J. Laycock Will Probated

The will of the late A. J. Laycock of Shamrock, one of the pioneer settlers of Collingsworth County, has been admitted for probate in county court at Wheeler, and recorded in the office of County Clerk J. M. Moore here also.

The will bequeathed all property, both real and personal, to his wife, Mrs. Lula Laycock, and named her as executrix of his will, directing that no bond be required.

Inventory and appraisal of the estate of the late Mr. Laycock lists the community value of both real and personal property being $246,471.37; half real estate value, being community property, $89,516.26; and half community value of personal property, $156,955.12.

Land owned by Mr. Laycock in Collingsworth County included sections 22, 23, 5, 54, 51, 79, the southwest one-fourth of section 53, the northwest one-fourth of section 53, all in block 22;

Section 51, block 16; Section 97 and 98, block 12; sections 5, 17, 4, 3, 9, 10, 11, all in block 13; one-half interest in the south half of section 15, block 13; sections 12 and 8, block 3; the north half of section 1 and all of section 20, block 17.

Personal property included cash, bonds, cars, farm machinery, notes, and cattle.

Surveying Begins On Arlie FM Road

By BETHINE ADKINS
Surveying has begun for the Farm-to-Market highway that will run from Arlie to U. S. Highway 83, and one mile north and one mile south of Loco.

Work will be delayed, however, due to the absence of several of the landowners along the highway route. These men's signatures are needed on the right of way assessments and they are away in the harvest.

Postal Receipts Show Increase Over Last Year

Postal receipts for the second quarter were $5,565.09, R. F. Curry, Wellington postmaster, said Monday. This is approximately $381 more than the receipts for the same period last year, which totaled $5,184.41.

Mr. Curry said that the increase in postal rates would account for not more than $100 of this, and that the post office was doing more business than a year ago.

"It is possible that we are serving a few more customers. These are all general delivery customers, however, and we have no way of knowing the number we serve," Mr. Curry explained.

There have been no extra boxes available at the Wellington office for several years.

Families Hear from Cousin in Germany

Members of the Stall families in Wellington recently received a letter from a distant cousin, August Stall, of Detmold, Province of Lippe, Germany.

Relatives here have been sending CARE packages to the family, R. F. Curry said.

Mr. Stall, who lives in the British Zone of Germany, said that the food situation is a little better now and food is more easily obtained.

He is distressed, however over the division of Germany, Mr. Curry said.

The letter was written in May and was more than a month reaching Wellington.

Mr. Stall of Detmold is a relative of the late Henry Stall, Julius Stall and Tom Stall, pioneer Wellington residents. His family consists of his wife and daughter.

Montague Due in Yokohama, Japan

Lt. R. S. Montague Jr. was due to land in Yokohama, Japan, July 10, according to a letter to his mother, Mrs. R. S. Montague. He left Seattle, Wash., June 21 on the David C. Shanks, taking the northern route through Canada and the Dutch Harbor Islands.

He told of the trip as being very nice and spoke of the Northern Lights as being a very wonderful experience. On the David C. Shanks there were 400 women and children en route to Japan also.

Mrs. Montague will join him in September or October.

Norwood Students Get Scholarships

During the last three years, eleven Samnorwood graduates have been offered full scholarships to Texas colleges, Supt. Orville Cunningham said this week.

All of these cover tuition, room and board, books, laboratory fees, etc. Most are for a period of four years, although several offered by junior colleges were for the two year period.

Lucille Barker, valedictorian of this year's graduating class, now a student in West Texas State College, Canyon, has accepted a four-year scholarship offered by Hardin College, Wichita Falls.

Cleo Brooks, now a summer student in Wayland College, Plainview, has received an athletic scholarship from that school, as have Joyce Tippie, Joyce Price and Camilla Coleman, who were students last year.

Nolan Poteet has received a scholarship from West Texas State College.

* Eight Collingsworth County vocational agriculture students have received the Lone Star Farmer degree, highest awarded in the state set-up of the Future Farmers of America. These boys are J. C. Nelson, Morris Johnson and Charles Hammonds of Wellington; Clifford Johnson of Samnorwood; Jimmy Peggram, Kenneth Jett, Leroy Brown and John Fuson of Quail.

These boys will attend the state Future Farmer convention which convenes in Dallas July 21, 22 and 23. Here they will receive the Lone Star Farmer insignias.

The Lone Star Farmer degrees will be conferred on them at the area banquet to be held in Amarillo in August, the date to be set later.

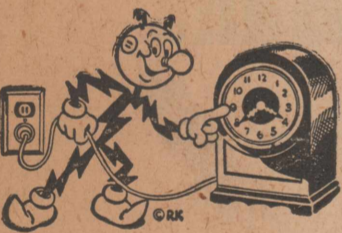

Sixty-six boys submitted applications for the Lone Star Farmer degree from area 1, including the Panhandle and West Texas section. Sixty-one of these were accepted.

Local boys have worked under the leadership of the county's two vocational agriculture teachers, Bennett Goodloe of Wellington, and Frank Kennedy of Quail. Samnorwood was without a vocational ag teacher during the major portion of the year, and Mr. Goodloe assisted Clifford Johnson with his work toward the Lone Star farmer degree.

There are a number of requirements a boy must fulfill to become a Lone Star farmer, but the chief include regular enrollment in vocational agriculture work; completing a satisfactory program of work; he must be familiar with the State Future Farmer constitution, and parliamentary procedure, and parliamentary procedure in his chapter; and he must have earned at least $250 from his projects.

Individual stories of these boys agriculture work will be found elsewhere in The Leader.

Present Price Trend Not Unwholesome

President Truman said last Thursday that he feels bullish about the economic situation and cited the mid-June upturn in the stock market.

The plain facts are that the economy of the U. S. is not bullish at the present time. The President did not mention that the stock market has been going down steadily for over six months up to the slight up-turn in June.

However the economists of the nation do agree with the President that there is sound ground for confidence in continued prosperity.

In 1929, private debt was double the national income. Creditor's pressure was intense. People had to pay these debts out of current income and couldn't buy goods of services.

Twenty years ago, banks were folding fast with large losses. Cash and bank deposits were only $55 billion.

There was little or no backlog of demand in 1929. Eleven years had passed since World War I, and that demand is far from exhausted.

Twenty years ago it was hard to find a place for capital investments; currently, there is real need for new capital.

In the export picture, private loans abroad had been curtailed in 1929. "Pay as you go" was the U.S. word overseas. Exports fell off sharply. Large government loans and gifts abroad have changed the picture today.

The building boom was over in 1929. Public construction was $2.4 billion for that year. In 1949, housing creates a giant need.

And in that important item of income, 1929 saw no minimum wage laws or strong unions. Worker's wages dropped 22 per cent in four years, 1929-1933, and farm income, unsupported, fell 54 per cent in three years.

In 1949, minimum wage laws and unions support high wages, and farm prices are supported.

There, briefly, is a picture of the two years, 1929 and 1949.

Recognition for Youthful Farmers

Deserved recognition came to eight Collingsworth County Future Farmers recently when it was announced they are among boys from over the entire state to receive the coveted Lone Star Farmer degrees.

These boys represent the three agriculture departments in the county schools.

Recognition is due, too, the two vocational agriculture teachers who directed this work. Much skill in teaching and leadership is needed to assist the boys in becoming Lone Star Farmers.

A great deal of hard work, practical, muscle straining work, had to be done by these youths before they became Lone Star Farmers, and they learned many, many things about farming that will stand them in good stead in the years to come.

The Lone Star degree is the highest offered in the State FFA set-up. Next comes the American Farmer degree, for which several of this group plans to try.

Collingsworth has been fortunate during recent years in having both teachers and boys who are willing to pursue the benefits of Future Farmers work to the limit.

Pebbles Against the Rock

The Buck Creek Philosopher

Editor's notes The Buck Creek Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Buck Creek seems to be about normal this week, the following letter reveals.

I was out here the other day watchin things grow and listen to the drone of tractors runnin on my neighbors' farms and wonderin if my corks was goin under from the pull of a fish big enough to be worth the effort of yankin up from the pole, ain't no use exertin yourself unnecessarily in this kind of weather, and I got to thinkin what my neighbor, the energetic one, had to say yesterday about farm machinery.

"What will they bring out next?" he wanted to know, still admirin and covetin a set of four-row tractor equipment he'd seen in town that mornin.

"First they had a walkin plow, and I can remember when they brought out the one-row ridin plow and I thought a man with one of them really had somethin," he went on.

"Then when they brought out a two-row ridin cultivator, the fellow with the one-row outfit looked up and said the other fellow really had somethin.

"Then when they brought out tractors, with three-row equipment, the fellow with the two-row mule-drawn stuff was really envious.

"Now they got tractors with four-row equipment. What do you reckon they'll bring out next?" He walked off in a sort of a dream, like he thought manufacturers was devotin their lives to makin farm-in a snap.

Now understand I pride myself on bein progressive, ain't never yet stood in the way of anybody who wanted to work harder, ain't never envied my neighbor's flashy car or 18 months time-payments, but my suspicions is that most folks are kiddin themselves about progress.

The way I look at it is, if you're workin from sun-up to sun-down with one-row equipment or four-row equipment, you're still workin from sun-up to sun-down. There may be some folks who can get some satisfaction out of goin up four rows and down another four, but to me there ain't no basic difference between that and goin up one row and down another. One may be producin more stuff than the other, but both is equally tired when they limb off the seat at sun-down, and if the bottom falls out of the price, which ain't un-heard of in farm-in, one ain't much ahead of the other. Now if you used a four-row tractor to get through quicker and go fishin, it might be different, but everybody I know with four-row outfits has to work more land to justify the added expense and wind up puttin in the same hours as the one-row farmer.

Most folks, includin those in town, have lots of conveniences and contraptions, but in the final analysis the total amount of work necessary to make a livin and pay for the contraptions ain't been reduced very much by gadgets.

Psalms Exemplify Joy in Praise And in Worship

"I was glad when they said unto me, Let us go unto the house of the Lord." So writes the Psalmist in Psalm 122. That note of joy in praise and worship is expressed in many Psalms, and is typical of them all.

This joy was in the certainty concerning God and the spiritual foundations of the world and life. It had its deepest expression in the 46th Psalm, in which the writer was sure of God as a refuge, a "very present help in trouble," even "though the earth were removed, and the mountains carried into the midst of the sea."

That note of joy in religion is, of course, uppermost in the Christian experience. Paul constantly proclaims it, and it was exemplified in that scene in the darkness of a Philippian jail (Acts 16), when at midnight, in the inner prison, with his feet fast in the stocks, and his companion, Silas, prayed and sang praises unto God.

The New Testament counterpart of the 46th Psalm—of enduring and incurruptible faith—is found in the closing verses of Romans 8, where Paul, having listed all possible human experiences, and then all possible powers and forces, says that none of these "shall be able to separate us from the love of God, which is in Christ Jesus our Lord."

The devout Christian had the advantage of the example of the Master, Jesus Christ, and the faith in the Resurrection in its triumph over death and the cross, so that the depth of the note of joy in the Psalms, written many years earlier, is all the more remarkable.

Whence came this strong faith, and this triumphant joy?

Its deep foundation was in a sense of right and wrong, a faith in the integrity of the universe. "There are set thrones of judgment." "Shall not the judge of all the earth do right?"

of every day, I like my system better . . . just let things slide. Yours faithfully, J. A.

OTHER EDITORS SAY—

Penalizing Worthy

Senator Grady Hazelwood of Amarillo has directed public attention to the fact that necessitous elderly persons in Texas receive only meager pension checks because there are so many undeserving recipients on the rolls.

It is possible in Texas, according to Senator Hazelwood who cited specific cases, for an elderly person to own a 200-acre farm worth $25,000 or a $20,000 home and still to draw a pension check from the state.

This claim of the state would not be satisfied until the recipient died and expenses of last illness and funeral were paid. As matters now stand, children who have neglected their parents in old age assistance, in effect, becomes a gratuity to the children.

The lien provision clearly should be written into any proposed amendment to be approved by the Legislature for submission to the people. Otherwise, old age assistance in Texas fails to fulfill its fundamental purpose of aid to the worthy needy and persists as a cynical means of snaring votes of irresponsible children of elderly pensioners.

Senator Hazelwood logically argues that a majority of the latter would favor the lien amendment if they knew the facts.

Four Quail Boys Receive Coveted State Future Farmer Honor Award

Four Future Farmers from Quail have been given the Lone Star Farmer degree, highest state award in the FFA organization, Frank Kennedy, vocational agriculture instructor, announced this week. They are Leroy Brown, Jimmie Pegram, Kenneth Jett and John Fuson.

The group this year equals in number the total who have received Lone Star Farmer degrees in all other years vocational agriculture has been offered in the school, Mr. Kennedy said.

One of the group, Pegram, graduated this year. The others will return to Quail high school this fall.

Pegram is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Pegram, Jett is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Jett, Fuson the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Fuson, and Brown the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Brown.

These boys will attend the State Future Farmer convention in Dallas July 21, 22 and 23, where they will receive their Lone Star Farmer certificates and insignias. Here the four tell in their own words the stories of their Future Farmer work — what they did to earn the Lone Star Farmer degrees.

Jimmie Pegram

I entered Vocational Agriculture on August 12, 1945. On September 20, 1945, I was initiated to the local F. F. A. Chapter as a Greenhand. It was in the Junior Chapter conducting contest held at Memphis.

My first project was a registered Duroc gilt which my father bought for me. I paid for the gilt by return work.

My second project for that year was 25 baby chicks which I raised for fryers. I later sold them and got a good price. During that year I had 5 acres of cotton for my third project. I had just gotten it plowed and hoed when it was hailed out. However, I had the crop insured and the money sure did come in handy.

That year we went to the Childrens Lake on our summer encampment. We went fishing while we were there and sure caught some nice fish.

My second year in Agriculture I became a Chapter Farmer. That year I had a gilt that I raised the year before. I didn't do so well with her. I went in the hole about five dollars.

For my second project that year I had a calf which father gave me to raise. He said if I would take care of it I could have it without any charge.

During my second year we went to Craterville Park on our encampment. They had about everything a person would want for entertainment. We stayed in the swimming pool most of the time we were down there. We did our own cooking. A nice time was had by all.

That summer I went to the Plains and worked in the wheat harvest.

During the third year of Agriculture I had as my projects a sow and a heifer. I did good on both of them. I made about sixty-five dollars on my sow. I won first prize at the Local Livestock Show on the sow. The heifer I had was bought from my father for twenty dollars when it was a baby calf. I fed it for about nine months and showed it at the County Fair and won first place. I sold her for twenty-eight cents a pound. She weighed 740 pounds. I made about ninety dollars off of her.

That year the agriculture boys went back to Craterville on their encampment. We did about the same things as we did the year before. We stayed three days. Both of our encampments have been in June.

Last summer I went back to wheat harvest. I made pretty good while I was there. I came back to school and drove a bus for the school this year. I am saving my money to go to school and major in agriculture. I plan to go to a four year college and when I have completed college I plan to teach agriculture for a while. Then when I am financially able I plan to buy a farm of my own.

Kenneth Jett

I entered the F. F. A. in September 13, 1946, and was initiated as a greenhand. I had three projects that year. I showed a beef heifer in the county show and won first place.

I helped Dad farm the home place. We had teams and a tractor that year and I drove the teams. We had from 50 to 75 head of cattle to feed and we milked 20 head.

The second year we raised cattle on the halves and I got the beef calf from them. We had fifty head in the deal. We had twenty head of our own. We had seven head of sows and we raised 75 pigs from them. I bought a registered boar for $23.00. He wasn't any good and I had to give the boys back their money. We castrated him and sold him to Dad for $40.00 and it helped take me to Kansas City to the National Convention.

The third year, I was doing better. I bought two cows with the money from the pigs and sow that I had in the second year. I traded two pigs out of the litter for a registered sow. Dad rented 75 acres and gave me 20 acres if I would farm all of it. He will pay for the seed and gas and I will use his tractor.

After the Quail Stock Show I made nearly enough to buy another hog, so I put some money that I got from the pigs and bought a Hampshire gilt from Kenneth Maxwell for $25.00. She weighs 125 pounds.

Everybody was talking about how good rabbits were so I bought myself a trio. That is, two does and a buck. I gave $7.50 each for them. They weren't ever productive so I sold them for $25.00 to Claude Cason. I took the $25.00 and bought 250 chickens or broilers.

The two saddle horses were both given to me. One was given to me on my 13th birthday. She was given to me by the family. Some of the first prize money that I won I bought two more does and a buck. One doe had three little ones and the other one had five. I gave $12.00 for the two.

If things go as I have planned, the cotton crop will make enough so I can buy a tractor. If I finish school by mid-term next year I will be able to rent a 100 acres or so by myself. This will enable me to send in my application for American Farmer, that is if my plans work out right.

John Fuson

I entered Vocational Agriculture on August 12, 1946. On September 13, 1946, I was initiated to the F. F. A. as a Greenhand. I participated in the Junior Chapter conducting contest. The first year as projects, I had a gilt for pig production and a boar for service. I bought the gilt from Mr. I. O. Morgan for $20.00. She was bred to a Duroc boar because there was no Chester White boar close enough with which to breed her. Her pigs were large when they were born but later quit growing. I fed them everything that I could but it did no good. Finally I began feeding them some mineral and they began growing again. I got the boar from my father for $30.00 and let him have the services free.

I worked at home hoeing cotton and driving a tractor during the summer and then worked out for other people in the fall.

The second year of Agriculture began on August 16, 1947. I was initiated to the rank of Greenhand the year before and this year to Chapter Farmer on September 9, 1947. The projects that year consisted of a dairy heifer for calf production and cotton for lint. I got the heifer from my Grandfather for $40.00. She was paid for out of the money I received for my gilt and boar. During the summer I worked for my father and he gave me five acres of cotton that he could not control the weeds in. I hoed the cotton twice and hired it hoed once. The cotton made better than sixteen hundred and thirty pounds of seed and better than two bales of lint. I put the money that I had left from my gilt and boar in the bank with the money that I got from my cotton.

After all the work was done at home, I got a job driving a tractor and raking peanuts for Mr. Osa Mack. While working for him, I made better than one hundred eighty dollars which I deposited in the bank.

As projects the third year, I had cotton for lint, maize, heifer, chicks for meat, and feeder pigs. I received the cotton from my father for working for him during the summer. He also gave me the maize for my summer work for him.

The heifer I bought for ten dollars from my father who has furnished nearly all my projects.

The chickens are Harmonsons string of fine stock. They cost me three dollars and ninety-five cents. I fed them Nutrina Growing Mash. The feed cost me fifteen dollars.

During the fall some of the sows had pigs and I bought two of the pigs that were runts for five dollars a piece.

The first year we had 160 acres of land, one tractor, four milk cows and twenty hogs.

The second year, we had 320 acres of land, two tractors, three milk cows and seven hogs.

The third year, we have 430 acres of land, two tractors, and four head of cows.

Leroy Brown

I began taking Vocational Agriculture on the twelfth day of August, 1946. On September thirteenth, 1946, I was initiated as a Greenhand into the Chapter of Quail High School, Quail, Texas.

As projects for that year I had a pig which my father gave me in return for feeding his hogs. He also gave me a calf for hoeing his cotton. I then used $3.00 to buy me twenty-five baby chicks. I had rather hard luck with the chicks for I lost seven the first night. Out of the twenty-five I raised eighteen to frying age. I sold them and deposited the money in the bank with the money that I had already deposited from my other two projects.

The second year I didn't get to have but one project because we moved to a smaller farm and Dad had so many cows that I didn't get a chance to get any projects of that sort. However, later that year I did get a pig.

My last year my father let me buy two cows and use them for projects. I also purchased a beef calf with the intentions of making a show calf of him. When we castrated him blood poison set in and he didn't recover in time to enter in the show. I still have the two cows that I bought for projects. They were both bred when I bought them so I didn't have to pay a breeding fee.

I have lived on a farm all of my life and I like very much to work with cows and hogs. I have always fed our hogs and cows ever since I have been big enough. Dad has never paid me for my work on the farm but he always gives me money when I want it. Instead of paying me in money he started me out by giving me a pig and now I have a horse, and also two cows besides all the fun I have had raising them.

The first year I was president of the Junior Chapter conducting contest and I also participated in some of the contests we had during that time.

The second year I was second Vice-president of our local chapter and in September I received the degree as a Chapter Farmer. During that year our Vice-president moved away and I assumed the duties of Vice-president for the remainder of that year. I participated in the Senior Chapter conducting contest and some of the other contests we had during that time.

The third year I was elected President of the local Chapter.

I participated in the Senior Chapter conducting contest and was an ex-officio member on all the committees. I went on the camping trips all three years and I have attended all the Father and Son Banquets. I was also present at all other social events of our Chapter.

I Saw

By VIRGINIA ROBEY

Ozette Rainey, who teaches at Samnorwood, in the hospital for treatment and saying that was the day she was supposed to take her final exam in English at West Texas State College, and there it was, she couldn't do anything but think about it.

Myrett Henry's pickup after its experience with fire. The story his co-workers tell is that he was taking the clean-up campaign seriously and was hauling trash out to the dump ground. But some of this trash happened to be on fire, and pretty soon the pickup was too.

V. V. Durham braving the heat to walk to town. Although he had a stroke some months ago, and must now take things slowly, Mr. Durham gets a great deal of pleasure out of his trips down town to visit with friends.

Mrs. J. H. Birchfield telling proudly of her new home in Wellington, which she is the first to occupy. It's the house the Charlie Neeves built on Bowie Street. Mrs. Birchfield has lived in the Kelley community for many, many years.

Elinor Drake and Celia Ray Anderson enjoying a cool drink on a hot afternoon down-town. . . Sue Leach back at work after parting with her tonsils. . . Dorothy Cornell working diligently at her new job of Western Union operator. She takes the place of Mary Wilkerson, who was transferred to Littlefield.

Ever so many former residents back to visit. . . so many you can't remember them all. . . for instance, Betty Ritter, Waco, visiting her family, the Dewey Ellises. . . Clara Gillentine and daughter, Sara, of Hereford, on their way to Florence Bobo's wedding at Rhame, where Sara was to be a candlelighter.

Mrs. L. C. Jones of Shamrock and Martha Campbell, of McLean, with Martha and Lester's new daughter, Chris, whom they adopted a few weeks ago. "She has started her life going to the cellar," Martha said. "Already, she's been eight times, but I'm not taking any chances when a cloud comes up.

The James Doneghy's back in town after their trip to Europe. . . Mrs. Frank Eikenburg saying her baby, eight-months-old Lavonia Gay, is all right again after a particularly hard fall that brought her to the hospital for treatment.

H. L. Duncan explaining all the fine points of a diesel burning tractor, like a good salesman should, to I SAW, whose extent of cultivation this year is somewhat sketchy attention to two flower beds.

A need-to-see: The street sweeper going busily up and down some of the streets.

Floyd McNabbs Have Grocery Store in Carrollton, Mo.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd McNabb, formerly of Wellington, are now living in Carrollton, Mo., where he is operating a grocery store, Mrs. McNabb's mother, Mrs. George Brewer, said recently.

They moved to Carrollton from Fresno, Calif., in March. The family left Wellington about two years ago.

DDT Kills Horn Flies and Ticks

COLLEGE STATION — Hornflies and Lone Star ticks are a couple of pests Texas stockmen ought to be on the lookout for, warns James A. Deer, extension entomologist of Texas A. & M. College.

Both are showing up on the cattle along about this time of the year, Deer says, and both of them should be controlled in order to keep up beef and milk production. Insects keep cattle in a nervous condition and often cause wounds that come infested with screw worms.

The most effective control for hornflies is DDT. Animals sprayed or dipped with eight pounds of 50 percent DDT wettable powder in 100 gallons of water will be protected from hornflies for at least 10 to 15 days. Two or three treatments of DDT in the spring and early summer and one more in the fall usually kills the hornflies for a year.

Livestock will be better producers if they don't have to fight off flies and ticks.

Certain types of beetles were mummified in ancient times because they were thought to be sacred, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

White sidewall tires, as illustrated, available at extra cost.

Good Buy - all around

FRRIENDS gather, look over that long bonnet and wish they had as much Fireball life as you have here.

They size up the broad windshield and narrow corner posts—and don't have to be told how these things step up "sec-power."

They appraise the smart styling, the roomy interiors, the usability of luggage space—and agree you've made a buy.

But don't stop, please, with letting them look. Invite them in and introduce them to some of the special pleasures you'll know as a Buick owner.

Show them, for instance, how completely different Dynaflo Drive† is, with every mile cushioned by flowing oil and none of the rigid harshness of direct-drive cars.

Let them sample the matchless Buick ride, with all four wheels cradled on soft, coil springs and low-pressure tires made still easier-riding by extra-wide rims.

†Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on SUPER models.

Point out how solid this Buick feels. That's what you get from husky frames, low-swung weight, and power delivered through a torque-tube instead of the rear springs.

For the truth is, this Buick's a bargain on much, much more than you can see.

It's a big buy on the solid goodness a demonstration quickly makes plain. On increasingly favorable delivery dates. On attractive price. On the kind of "deal" your Buick dealer makes.

That's why we keep saying "Better see your Buick dealer—and get that order in promptly!"

BUICK alone has all these features

Fire Marshal's Association and is conducted by the Industrial Extension Service of A. and M. College in cooperation with the State Board of Vocational Education. H. R. Brayton of the Industrial Extension Service is in charge of local arrangements.

The school is divided into the general basic course, advanced course, fire marshals' course, instructors' course, and lay instructors' first aid. In the basic and advanced courses, the student firemen undergo 10 divisions of instruction. In the fire marshals' course, the marshals and inspectors attend 10 three-hour sessions. The instructors' course is conducted over a period of 30 hours with emphasis placed on proper methods and procedure to follow in teaching. The lay instructors' first aid course, conducted by Harris Burton, American National Red Cross, St. Louis, Mo., will qualify students to receive first aid cards and requalify old cardholders.

The training school will end on Friday, July 15, with written examinations given in the general basic courses and advanced courses. In order to stimulate the desire among the student firemen to take comprehensive notes for use when they return to their homes, they are permitted to have open notebooks during examinations.

More than 300 cities are represented at the school. Mexico plans to send several representatives.
