Summertime... and the Readin' is Easy

Craig Helm, 21-months old, and his sister Priscilla, who is three, find picture books from the local library fascinating companions. The children are son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Hel m, Robert Lee Highway. Along with other Mitchell County youngsters they will participate in Federation Library's summer reading program for children, starting June 1, and open to children of all ages. From simple picture books to children's classics, library shelves hold many volumes for reading or for just "looking." Last year, 99 local children took part in the summer program and 12 received state reading certificates.

Memorial Day Holiday May 30

Thursday of next week, May 30, is to be an all-day holiday throughout Colorado City, according to Hallie L. Norman, Chamber of Commerce executive vice-president and manager.

May 30, Memorial Day, is annually set aside by cities, towns, communities and homes of all America as the day for honoring the memory of this country's dead from all wars.

REACCREDITATION

Mitchell Herds to Get Tests for Brucellosis

Reaccreditation for brucellosis is due for Mitchell County. Immediate testing should be undertaken, said Dr. J. D. Williams, veterinarian.

"Livestockmen have received many benefits from this program," Dr. Williams said, "in cattle shipments from this area to so-called unclean areas, and benefits as well in interstate cattle shipments."

The program will be carried out by regulatory officials or local veterinarians in some counties. Local veterinarians Dr. Williams and Dr. Henry Mohr plan to undertake at least part of the program, as time permits, Dr. Williams said.

Free calfhood vaccination is authorized in testing herds if the testing. Age of eligible calves is 4-8 months for dairy breeds, 4-10 months for beef cattle breeds. All previously tested reactor and suspect herds will be retested 100%. Some other 98 other representative herds will be tested on the 20% basis, provided the herd consists of 50 or more animals. Livestockmen will need to See BRUCELLOSIS Pg. 5.

CANCER UNIT

Crusade Gifts Total $3,238 for County

Cancer Crusade's final figures for this year were released Wednesday by Trevlyn Kelley, president of the Mitchell County Unit of American Cancer Society.

Gifts to the 1963 Crusade totaled $3,238.22. That figure touches an all-time high amount meets and bests last year's creditable record by 113%.

A sum of $92.50 of that total was made in memorial gifts. Remaining $3,145.72 came in as gifts to the Crusade contributed by citizens of the county.

"I want to express my appreciation to the citizens of the county who so graciously welcomed Crusade volunteer workers into their homes, and so generously contributed to the campaign to make it the success it was," Kelley said. "Appreciation is certainly due, too, to the 250 volunteer Crusade Workers. Without volunteers there could be no Cancer Crusade program, a program determined to stamp out cancer by united volunteer efforts," he said.

Kelley reminded the public that 95.3c of every dollar donated by Texans to the Crusade fund last year will be spent in Texas this year for Cancer Research, Education and Service.

He concluded by expressing public thanks to Girl Scouts who packed Crusade kits, to Boy Scouts who helped to advertise the Crusade with bumper stickers and posters, and to news media, the Colorado City Record and Radio Station KVMC.

Percentage-wise this year's gifts to the crusade add up this way: this county reached 170% of the amount set by the state society as Mitchell County quota, $1,900; 108% of the locally hoped-for goal of $3,000; and the 113% better than the 1962 Crusade gift totals.

Month Matches Total Rains of '63

Spectacular lightning and thunderstorms followed by a steady all night rain brought Colorado City almost two inches of moisture between midnight Tuesday and breakfast Wednesday morning.

Official weather station in town reported 1.95 inches of rain for Wednesday May 22 to bring the month of May's total to date up to 3.48 inches. Some rain has fallen here eight of the 23 days since May 1.

Month of May 1963 has already earned the rain medal for the year so far. May has bested the first four months of this year both singly and by grand total when it comes to the rain record.

Total of the year whole 1963, until May 1 was just 3.43 with only .02 in January, .43 in February, .04 in March and .294 in April.

May 1 only a trace was measured, May 5 brought .39, May 6, .28, May 14, .15, May 18 another trace, May 20, .54, May 21, .17, and May 22, 1.95.

The most recent and best May rain was general over the county, reports show. Strong winds and some hail was reported for the Sunday evening storm which hit Colorado City a few minutes before 8 p. m. Tuesday night's storm turned gentle and settled for slow precipitation over a wide area.

Loraine was blessed with 2 inches in the early hours of Wednesday and some nearby farms received 2.5 inches. Sunday rain in Loraine totaled .40.

Cotton newly planted and all ready up in some rural sections was benefitted, all farmers reporting agreed. The moisture is also of great help to fields being readied for cotton crop planting.

Rex T. McKenney, Westbrook, who also has a farm at Carr, reported a Sunday rain of .4, a Tuesday afternoon total of 1.5 and a late Tuesday night rainfall of 1.65.

T. J. Geiger, Rogers Community, had 2 Sunday and 1.5 Tuesday night and Wednesday. W. M. Turner, Looney, boasted a total of 3 inches for the week with 1 inch Sunday night and 2 inches May 22. J. W. Blassinger, Buford, measured 3 rain Sunday and 1.75 W. W. Holman, who farms 15 miles southeast of Colorado City, measured just a trace of rain Sunday but came up with 2.2 by breakfast time Wednesday.

Otto Jones, Randerbrook Ranch 25 miles south of town, reported no rain for Sunday but 1.95 for late hours of Tuesday and early hours of Wednesday.

Dairy farmer Herman Minor, 10 miles northwest of the city, measured 1.3 of rain for May 22.

MRS. WAYNE SHAWN

"All Christians Have Faith" Maranatha Members Told

"All Christians have faith within their reach at all times, but they use it less than any other thing," Mrs. Wayne Shawn told the members of the Maranatha Study Club at their Thursday, May 16, meeting in the home of Mrs. Sam Bullock, 203 E. 13th St.

"Faith is a subject that many books have been written about and many express views on, yet something that each of us probably needs desperately in our own individual lives."

"There are times when things go wrong with all of us, but we should find faith and hope in knowing that although our Master lived a perfect life, there were times when things did not go as He wished. By following the example of our Lord we can discover a flicker of light that will help guide us through times of uncertainty," she said.

Mrs. Shawn told the members there are three things that each of us can remember with profit. These things are: Faith is the beginning of progress — you will never make a worthy contribution to civilization until you possess faith in God — in your fellowman and faith in yourself. I believe we grow spiritually according to the amount of faith we exercise in our daily lives. Live as if you believe in God and your faith will grow — our faith in God begins to develop when we look with observing eyes around us. We need to use the little spark of faith that we have and soon it begins to grow and multiply into something big and wonderful.

The last thing Mrs. Shawn listed to remember was: Pray that God will make your faith grow — we pray for everything under the sun, so why not pray for God to make us strong in faith. The Bible is full of stories of how God did strengthen the faith of our forefathers and he will do the same for us.

"We may not be able to change our situations in life but God can use each of us where we are. If we will only dedicate ourselves to Him, God can take our feeble efforts, our failures and even our afflictions and make them count for good if we are dedicated to his will."

"We need to remember that faith is the root of all good works. When we do our part and use what we have been given to God's glory, then we can say with the Psalmist, For this God is our God forever and ever, and He will be our guide even unto death."

Mrs. R. M. Reed, leader for the day presented a talk on the subject, "Some Sustaining Accents."

"At times like these and at any time, we all need some sustaining accents, something that will help keep peace and happiness in our hearts and minds," she said.

She told the group that all things on earth need to be renewed at one time or other. She said that all created things that do not toil need refreshing.

"Neither can man's life be sustained without renewal from God. That is the reason for the Bible, church and church activities. They that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength."

"Another sustaining accent on power is prayer. As we go to Him with our petitions, with our thanksgiving for his many blessings, with our intercession for friends and loved ones, God bends down and listens. His answer is not always as prompt or as we may have expected, but He knows best, and we should accept his will and his answer as being for our best interests," she said.

Mrs. Shawn said that as Christians, we have a sense of being bound up with a divine goodness and love more the troubles that environ us. The Christian has found God to be a divine reality, a precious companion and therefore we can face anything that can happen in the universe.

"Yes, God still lives. His book and its teachings will forever serve as the best guide for your life and mine," she said. Roll call was answered by "a safety hint." Mrs. Newt Miller led the group in prayer. Visitors at the meeting were Mmes. Robert T. Davis and Lawrence Ruddick. A new member, Mrs. Tie Vowell, was accepted at the meeting.

New at the Library

The following is a list of new books just received at the Federation Library. They are available, by request from Mrs. Boyd Dozier, librarian.

"GOD'S MASTERPIECES: 12 Devotional Portraits, Grace Noll Crowell (Abingdon). The author describes in prose and poetry a dozen towering figures from Scripture—Moses, Abraham, Joseph, Elijah, Elisha, David, Ruth, Naomi, Esther, Hannah, and God as described by Jesus in the story of the prodigal son.

"THE MOON SPINNERS," Mary Stewart (Morrow). Nina, vacationing from her work at the British Embassy in Athens, found a small village in Crete and a notable new inn. She also found a white egret that flew out of a lemon grove and led her into a magical but dangerous adventure.

"THE SPEAKS FROM THE CROSS: The Seven Last Words," John Sutherland Bonnell (Revell). Seven Protestant clergymen and teachers interpret for Christians today the last words of Jesus upon the Cross.

"THE FABULOUS COUNTRY," Charles Laughton (McGraw-Hill). As entertaining and original as Charles Laughton himself, this anthology of stories he has loved for their evocative, colorful descriptions of American life and the American scene will take every reader by surprise. Section by section, he tours the country, showing how the various regions looked through the eyes of some most unexpected writers—Mark Twain, Jack London, Henry David Thoreau, Charles Dickens, Thomas Wolfe, Sinclair Lewis, Gertrude Stein, Christopher Isherwood, Truman Capote and many others.

"THE WHITE HOUSE," Amy Lafollette Jensen (McGraw-Hill). Revised and enlarged to include the Kennedy family, this delightful history in pictures and text is a guide to not only through the White House and grounds, but through American history as well. With the aid of hundreds of illustrations, Amy Lafollette Jensen tells the story of the Executive Mansion, its famous occupants and visitors, and the changes that have taken place in it through the years.

Samples Need Information Logsdon Says

Livestockmen sending larvae specimens to screwworm eradication headquarters at Mission are urged by County Agent Buddy C. Logsdon to be sure the information sheet that should accompany the samples is filled out completely and accurately. Specimen vials are available at the County Agents office.

Eradication officials have reported that numerous samples are received with no information included. Some have been identified as screwworms.

Logsdon stated that prompt action is taken whenever an infestation is confirmed. In most instances, additional sterile flies are dispersed over the infested farm or ranch and livestock near the infested premises are sprayed at program expense.

"When samples are received with no information as to where it was collected, no action can be taken," the county agent said. "This could permit additional infestations to develop because no special sterile fly and spray treatment can be given to the area."

Eradication officials report less than 20 percent as many screwworm infestations have been experienced during the first four months of 1963 as during the same period last year. If livestock producers continue to inspect their animals at least twice a week, treat wounds and infestations, collect samples and report cases, officials feel there should be no recurrence of heavy infestations as experienced last year.

Summer's coming, get going!

If this isn't a great time to get yourself a new Chevrolet—well, we just don't know when is. Why, you'd almost have to be anti-summer not to let one of these four convertibles get to you. Or any of Chevrolet's sedans, wagons, sport coupes and sport sedans, for that matter.

And there are a lot of other buy-now reasons besides the season. Like the care-free feeling you get on a long vacation trip in a brand-new car. And it's a smart time to trade, what with your Chevrolet dealer all stocked up for a busy summer. Chances are, he has just the model and color you want—be it Chevrolet, Chevy II, Corvair or Corvette—ready to go right now.

So maybe now you're all wound up? Then spring into summer at your Chevrolet dealer's.

Westbrook Sailor's Skip In Recovery

W. N. Bacon, Jr., fireman apprentice, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Bacon of Westbrook, Tex., serving aboard the destroyer USS Collett, was scheduled to take part in the Pacific recovery of Astronaut Leroy Gordon Cooper May 15-16 during his 22 orbits of the earth.

Thirteen ships in the Pacific Recovery force were patrolling five pre-planned recovery areas during the flight. Ships were supported by Navy carrier-based aircraft and Air Force land-based planes. A special world-spanning naval communications network linked the Pacific force with the Atlantic Recovery Force and Cape Canaveral, Fla.

The primary recovery ship was the aircraft carrier USS Kearsarge, which picked up Astronaut Walter Schirra at the conclusion of his six-orbit flight last October.

The communications for the Pacific Recovery Force were centered at Honolulu, one of the world's largest naval communications stations. It connected the Pacific Recovery Force with recovery elements around the world and with Cape Canaveral.

The Collett, Bacon's ship, operates from Yokosuka, Japan, as a unit of the Seventh Fleet when not on special assignments, such as this one.

CONVERSATION CORNER

BEST definition ever given for a bore was that one in 'The Devil's Dictionary' written by Ambrose Bierce.

"A bore," Bierce opined, "is one who talks when you wish him to listen."

In other words, somebody who talks about what he's interested in when you wish he'd shut up so you could hold forth on what interests you.

MANY writers from other times, other countries have commented on the bore. Lord Byron coined this little couplet:

Society is now one polish'd bore,
Formed of two mighty tribes, the Bored and Bored.

THAT pessimist philosopher Schopenhauer went so far as to compare being bored with mortal agony.

"The most general survey shows us that the two foes of human happiness are pain and boredom," he said.

Charles G. Norris, who wrote better, fewer, and far less popular books than his wife Kathleen, once had a character in a novel of his say "A man can forgive a woman anything; my Darling, save this one—boring him to death."

IT IS, of course, inevitable that everybody gets cornered with a bore, occasionally, life being what it is and largely made up of compromise.

It's got to be inevitable if you go back and remember Ambrose Bierce's little gem—loosely translated to mean "a bore is anybody who keeps talkin' when he oughta be listenin'."

A bore is any person who Refuses to stop talkin' and listen to you.

WHAT bores you? It could be a sign that you're suffering from symptoms of the self-centered syndrome.

Does it bore you when people talk about their kids or their grandkids? Well? Drag out those snapshots of your own and demand equal time! It'll end that conversation in nothing flat, every time.

TALK about somebody else's vacation by land or sea or air bore you?

Cure for that one is to break in firmly with "That spring I flew to Chicago . . ." or "The Last Time I saw Paris . . ."

You'll find your seat companion takes to looking out the window or picks up his magazine, pronto.

THERE is one sure remedy for whatever ails any conversation in which you find yourself getting bored. Just stop listenin' and start talkin'. Stop being bored and be boring.

Here is the cure for being bored
If that is the end you're working toward:
If you can't get away, can't run, can't walk
Be boring instead of bored—YOU talk!

HONORS AWAY . . .

Our youths away to college continue to earn honors that warm our pride.

Latest in the list are Carolyn Shimer, recipient of the Best Student Citizen Award at Southwestern University, Georgetown; Marilyn Russell, named to the National Honor Society for freshmen at Texas Woman's University, Denton; and Mike Robinson, who scored the third highest grade in physics for freshmen at Princeton University, New Jersey.

Their accomplishments speak forcibly for our local school system and teachers. And the entire community should be almost as proud as their parents—the Johnny Shimers, the John Russells, the Bob Robinsons.

Henry Bilberry,
CORNER DRUG

Chickasha, Oklahoma, is Mrs. Arthur Barry who hopes to spend several months visiting.

Sunday issue of Snyder Daily News held a familiar face, that of Judge Eldon Mahon who spoke at a Snyder Jaycee banquet . . . and another familiar name, Gene Williams, "Mr. Jaycee" for the year and Jaycee president-elect. Gene's first son of Minnie Bell and Ed E. Williams, now of Irving, Ed's former superintendent of schools here, now a principal in Irving where Min teaches, too. Gene has a sporting goods store in Snyder.

SHOPPING SCENE—ers were Hallie Norman and his handsome 13-month-old son Brent with a late-day grocery list, and saying wife Theda's mother—Mrs. Paul Pierce is here from Waco for a visit.

Naomi Rhode (Mrs. Bill) and Mrs. W. W. Rhode graduation gift-buying . . . Mae Dunn (Mrs. Glenn) who lifts her lovely soprano in First Baptist choir each Sunday, and who mothers Mary Glenda Dunn—CHS girl recently awarded her state degree as a Future Homemaker of America.

JACK JORDANS, their sons Gary and Danny and les adorables twin babies Joan and Julie, are to leave in the morning for Louisiana. They'll visit her parents and his for two weeks.

It so happens that Mae's mother has not yet seen the five-month-old girl twins so it's bound to be a very special occasion.

SAW a friend named Berta Mann, her eyes a-shine over a planned trip to Houston, June 2. She'll visit son Ralph Marvin, his wife Doris Ann (Coffey) and her two grandchildren Jim and Betsy Ruth.

Oddly enough and strange as it appears
Berta's grandchildren are two absolute dears!

AVALINE HALLMARK—describing her recent trip to Hawaii—couldn't possibly fall into the tiresome category, either. Her reminiscent talk sparkles.

Back Sunday from a two-weeks tour of the islands (where she went by jet) Avaline was spell-binding Ruby Hutchins over the lunch table. Certal nanonymous eavesdroppers were enchanted, too!

Avaline is the teller at City National's drive-in window—when she's not collecting leis and luau.

Anybody can get bored sometimes, no doubt,
But people who STAY bored need to watch out!
Need to practice the comforting art
Of listening. Listening with the heart.

Farm Bureau Tries Collective Bargaining

The American Agricultural Marketing Association, a Farm Bureau subsidiary, has entered the field of contract farming. Processing fruits and vegetables are its present concern, all agriculture is its goal.

Through contract production AAMA and its affiliates aim to improve the bargaining power of farmers and ranchers, to facilitate orderly marketing as a means to higher farm income, to expand markets and promote the sale of commodities in both the domestic and foreign markets; and to initiate and promote special grower services.

They plan for a precise and expanding market information service to keep producers up to the minute on the supply and demand situation in their crops, the situation in competing commodities, and the economic position of the buyers.

Plans are afoot to help the growers negotiate for favorable marketing terms on delivery conditions, grading, quality recognition, and prices and payments.

AAMA also intends to conduct research on consumer preferences, price differentials, production costs, and to push for the improvement of quality and standardization of grades.

According to the current report in Farm Quarterly magazine, AAMA envisions a type of contracting in which there is a good deal of bargaining and give-and-take between buyer and seller, and a minor role, if any, for government action. Though some state agricultural marketing associations are in favor of using federal marketing orders to directly control agricultural production through individual producer allotments or quotas based on production units, the official position of the AAMA is that such regulations weaken, rather than enhance an association's effectiveness in accomplishing its objectives.

This thinking is based upon the theory that it is the function of a marketing association to achieve for the grower the full, fair market price, not to fix unduly high prices which attract gluts in supply and divert consumers to substitute products. The feeling is that when all growers are forced into an association the association then has the power to pummel the processor and consumers, and even to go so far as to commit economic suicide.

The antidote to this is government regulation which eventually leads to rigid controls and price fixing rather than bargaining.

The individual growers offer another objection. They don't like compulsion.

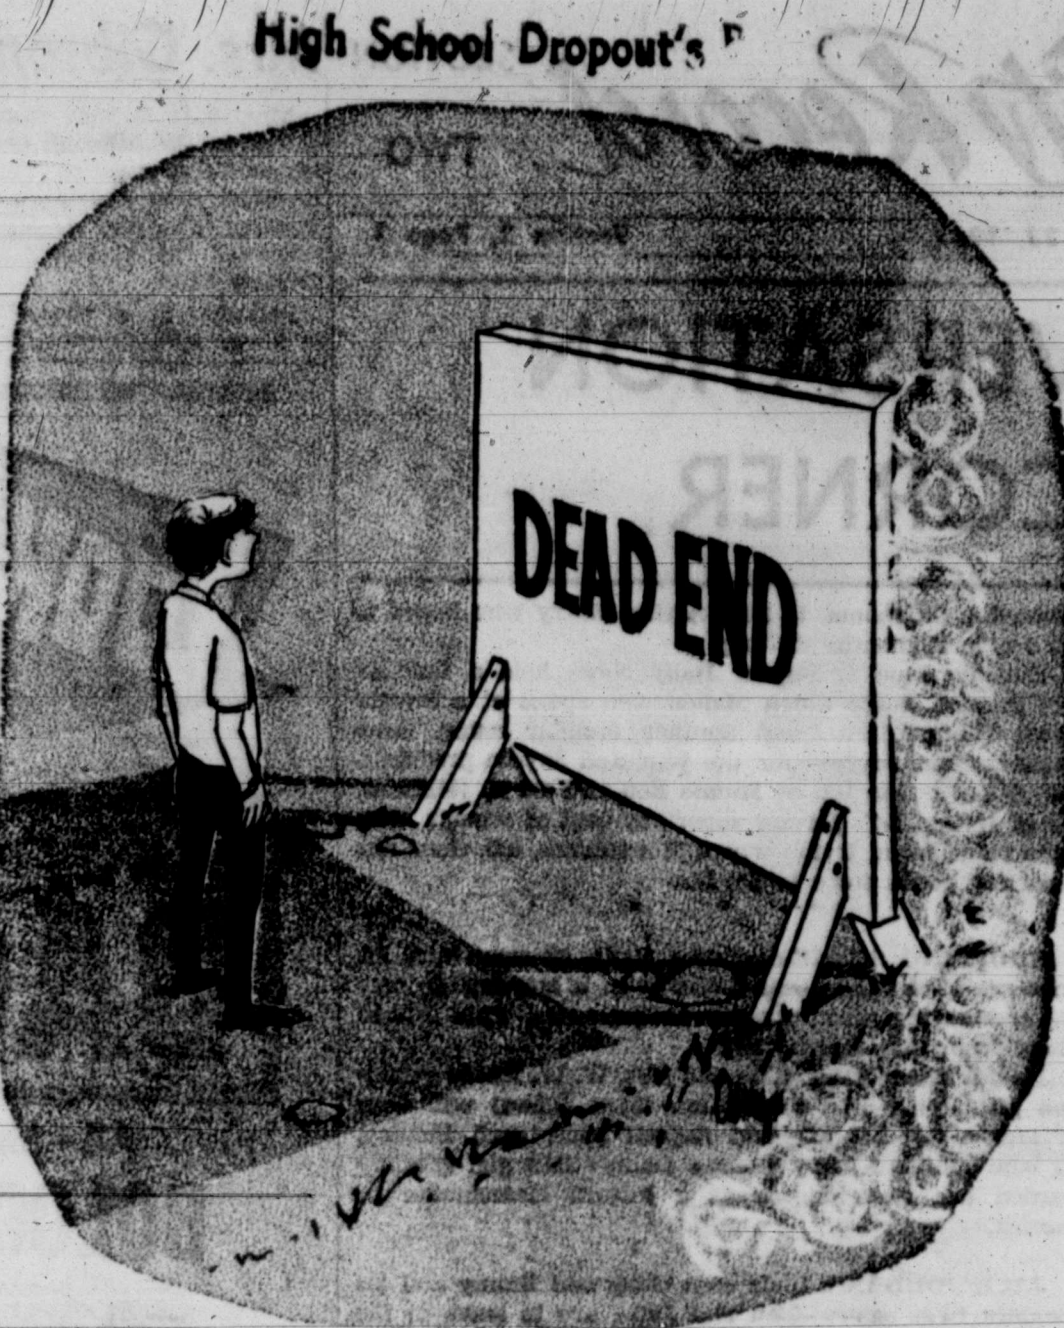

The only government help the AAMA is asking at this time is possible anti-discrimination legislation. Many growers have a fear of reprisals from the buying side if they join a marketing organization. The national association and many of the state organizations are suggesting legislation against such action.

The AAMA looks to see a new era of price stability with the maximum degree of freedom for the producers.

Maybe so, maybe not. Only time and the actual accomplishments of this collective bargaining will tell.

However, the Record—both in its editorials and in talks by its publishers—has contended for years the American farmer needs business unity if he is to hold his own in the battle for adequate take-home dollars.

Collective bargaining, as experimented with in the AAMA plan, could be the right track. But the farmer must realize that collective bargaining works both ways—that labor has the same right to organize as he does.

Liability Insurance Minimum Going Up for Texas Drivers

BY VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

Many Texas drivers who carry insurance will need to notify their agents to increase their public liability insurance after August 24.

By the narrowest of margins—a single vote—the House adopted a bill by Rep. Bob Fairchild of Center to raise the bodily injury insurance or security requirements under the driver financial responsibility law from $5,000 for one person and $10,000 for two or more to double those amounts.

Estimates are that it will cost the average driver about $5 a year for the extra coverage. This will enable him to keep his driver's license and car license should he be involved in a collision in which someone is hurt.

It was a hard fought issue in the house. But Fairchild won, 68-67, with the vote of Speaker Byron Tunnell breaking the tie.

In the Senate, passage was voice vote, with 12 Senators recording themselves as voting no.

Argument for the bill is that it would bring requirements up to a more modern figure. Court judges in personal injury suits often exceed $10,000.

Argument against it, voiced by Rep. Eligio de la Garza of McAllen, was that 35 percent of the drivers cannot afford to carry liability insurance at present rates. So there will be even more uninsured motorists on the highways after the Fairchild law takes effect.

WIND UP — Regular session of the 58th Legislature ends Friday. That's days earlier than a constitutional requirement.

Hundreds of the 150 proposed new laws submitted by the 181 legislators were to die in committees and the crowded calendar.

Other hundreds were to come law when Gov. Connally signs them. R. Connally signs them. R. Connally signs them. R. Connally signs them.

All legislative proposals are important to someone. In a few cases, it is a single person.

One proposal would allow a newspaper editor to practice law. It was led on the floor.

Another would practice of architecture by a qualified person who failed to apply for a license before the deadline arrived. It died in committee.

But the major issues of the session appear to be fairly well settled.

COURTS — An exception is judicial redistricting.

Rep. Henry Stollenwerk, a Republican from Dallas, vainly tried to move some rural district courts to the cities. This to follow the people who have moved into the population centers.

Stollenwerk presented statistics showing that some courts are handling only 150 cases a year, while others in major cities have towering caseloads even after disposing of five times that many cases a year. Bill was killed in committee.

Rep. Bob Johnson of Dallas persuaded the House to pass a bill under which a judicial redistricting board, made up of the Lieutenant Governor, House Speaker and Attorney General, would reapportion district courts if the Legislature did not. Bill died in the Senate.

MINORITY LEADER — the waning days of the session, House Republicans announced their 8-member delegation leader, Rep. Horace B. Houston of Dallas.

Houston has some sort of seniority since he previously served a term when he ran as a Democrat.

Speaker Byron Tunnell quipped, "From now on, when you folks have complaints about your bills, you can take your troubles to the House minority leader."

Houston then cast his first vote as G. O. P. leader in favor of extending the Veterans Land Program, while his followers cast votes against it.

A Look At West Texas Through Editorial Page Excerpts From Its Leading Weekly & Semi-Weekly Newspapers

It used to be believed that one small town would never help another in a civic undertaking. That condition is no longer true. Baird and Cross Plains present proof.

At the recent rodeo in the county seat town, $450 for scramble calves was provided by Cross Plains interests. By the same token, names of many Baird residents are to be found in the list of donors toward a fund to build a livestock exhibition barn in Cross Plains.

Good towns like good people, find a way of working together.

CROSS PLAINS REVIEW

Runnels County's First Youth Fair was a big success from every standpoint... the planning committee who conceived the idea and promoted the fair are to be commended for their efforts... the response by the youth of the county was very gratifying and as a result everybody was pleased... there is some very fine talent among our youth and with the encouragement and help from the schools should go far in their chosen fields... some of the pets they had had interesting stories back of them... for instance, there was a black and white pig, the only one in a litter, that had been raised in the bathtub until it was too big for that... it had been raised with a little dog... the little dog took up some of the pig's habits... ate like it did and the pig tried to act "doggyish"...

BALLINGER LEDGER

Texas is cheapening its educational system. The latest action is just one of a series, brought on by localized pressure, of legislative changes to add more schools to the state college system.

In Austin last week, legislative action cleared the way for San Angelo Junior College and Pan American College at Edinburg to join the state-supported college group that now numbers 22 four-year schools. Arlington State and others have been added in recent years.

But that seems to be the wrong approach. What Texas needs, desperately, is better schools... not just more schools. What the legislature needs to consider, and then take action on, is improvement of the existing schools.

HEREFORD BRAND

SHINNERY PHILOSOPHER

Whoa, Now! No Politics, Please

Editor's note: The Shinnery-Flats Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Bone Hollow Creek discusses politics this week, his letter indicates.

Dear editor:

I don't know what he has against me, but a neighbor stopped me the other day. Well, he didn't actually stop me. I was already stopped, sitting in the shade under a tree near the road, and he stopped his pickup and got out and came over and sat down and since it was in the middle of the morning he was a little ill at ease and acted sort of like he was violating the law, as his theory is you're not supposed to stop working till it gets too dark to see.

"Say," he said, "I've been reading your letters in The Colorado City Record and I think you ought to run for office."

"Run for office?" I gasped. I don't like the word run anyway. Walk is all right, if you take it slow and rest often.

"Yeah, run for office. They could use some of your ideas in Washington."

"Washington? I thought you were talking about a local office. You're worse off than I thought. Ought to rest oftener."

But since I discovered he was actually serious, I set him straight at once. I've got problems enough right here on this Johnson grass farm without tackling more any place else, and if I'm going to run up against problems that are too big for me, I'd rather lose to them at home where I can be comfortable.

I don't mean to say somebody shouldn't be in Washington, whether he's equipped to handle the problems there or not. For example, you set up a rule that no Congressman can vote on farm legislation until he has successfully farmed, and you'd have very few votes and no legislation. In fact, you'd have trouble finding a Secretary of Agriculture. Somebody has to be there but it's not me.

Also, I wouldn't make a good candidate because I'd have trouble classifying myself. All candidates have to be tagged with a political philosophy. Some candidates, you know, say they're to the right, some say they're to the left, and some say they are in the middle of the road.

Me, I don't even know where the road is. Yours faithfully, J. A.

Eyes To The Future For Conservation

"We Turn Our Eyes to the Future" is a fitting theme for the observance to Soil Stewardship Week, May 19 through May 26. We face major decisions in the management of our soil and water in a swiftly changing pattern of land use. What we decide today will have far-reaching effects tomorrow.

God provided the productive soil and the water to care for our material needs. We should never cease to be grateful for the richness that soil and water adds to our lives.

Soil Stewardship Week is a time to remember that these gifts were given to us for continuing use, not just for today. What greater source of inner pleasure and serenity has our Creator given us than a beautiful landscape or a rippling stream. We have been blessed with much, and much is expected of us as stewards of these blessings.

It is up to us, as good stewards, to develop the potential richness of our soil and water resources. Conserve them we must, but conserving them means using them to fulfill our needs. Future generations will thus be grateful for the blessings that have been ours and are theirs.

We have been endowed with a great trust. All of us—not just a few of us—have the responsibility for stewardship and to plan for our needs for today and the future.

ULCERS CAN BE CONTROLLED

Every time the international political scene gets tense, I know that I can expect to see ulcer patients within a short time.

Although it is highly debatable whether we are reaching any solution to our international problems, medical science is now able to offer more relief than ever before to those who suffer ulcers, some of which may be a consequence of the worrisome state of international affairs.

Ulcers are found four times as often in men as in women. Whatever the patient's problems may be, it is the resulting emotional tension that is believed to be the initiating factor in most ulcers.

Prolonged tension, for some uncertain reason, seems to cause an increased flow of acid into the stomach, and it is the presence of too much acid, or hyperacidity, which causes a sore, or ulcer, to develop along the stomach wall.

Many of these patients can be cured completely, whether the ulcer is in the stomach or in the duodenum—that part of the small intestine into which the stomach empties. Other patients can have their ulcers controlled. This has been made possible by the great improvements in medical diagnosis and treatment.

As an ulcer develops, pain or an unnatural feeling of hunger, so-called "heartburn" and "indigestion," or other digestive complaints usually occur. But through improved examinations and other diagnostic aids, doctors can almost always determine the size and location of the trouble.

In many patients, ulcers can be treated successfully by careful diet. The patient must also attempt to reduce mental and emotional strain. Furthermore, new drugs are proving helpful and cases that do not respond to either drugs or diet therapy are often benefited by surgery.

INCOME & PRODUCTION

Texas Cotton Off 5% in '62 Totals

Texas cotton producers received $809 million for their 1962 crop.

The total income for both lint and seed, as well as total production, fell below 1961 totals by five and one percent, respectively, but the crop was still the second largest since 1949 when the all-time high of 6 million bales was established.

Fred C. Elliott, extension cotton specialist, added that the lower income was due primarily to a lower average price for both lint and seed, one cent per pound less for lint and $3 per ton on seed.

Final ginning figures released by the Bureau of Census, he said, placed the Texas crop at 4,726,000 bales, the harvested acreage at 6,500,000 and the per acre yield at 348 pounds compared with 350 lb. in 1961. Almost half of state's total production, he noted, came from the Plains area.

Nationally, ginnings of Plains area. Listed as 14,867,000 bales from 15,569,000 acres and the per acre yield as 457 pounds, up 19 pounds from the 1961 average. Top per acre yields were posted by California at Arizona, over 1,100 pounds each and new records. The national income from cotton and cottonseed was placed at $2,653 million, only slightly less than the total for the 1961 crop.

Trans-Pecos growers produced just over 37,000 bales of American-Egyptian cotton from 33,000 acres.

Elliott said that Texas producers are continuing to use the latest research findings for top yields and efficient production. Each year sees a higher percentage of the state crop harvested by machines and more chemicals utilized in the fight against grass and weeds, he said.

Also, more extensive use of fertilizers, adapted varieties for machine harvesting and improved cultural and harvesting practices are being used to help hold production costs down, Elliott said.

PALACE OPENING SUNDAY

'Love Is A Ball' New Ford Comedy

The world of the diamond studded, gold-encrusted French Riviera comes sparkling to the screen in Martin Poll's bright new comedy, "Love Is A Ball," starring Glenn Ford, Hope Lange and Charles Boyer and co-starring Ricardo Montalban. Directed by David Swift, the Paramount Technicolor film opens Sunday at the Palace Theatre, through United Artists release.

With humor ranging from the highly sophisticated to the madly farical "Love Is A Ball" is the tale of a poor, but proud, American adventurer, Ford, whose talents are enlisted by Boyer, a suave match-maker bent on seeing that his protege, Montalban, is groomed as the perfect mate for Miss Lange, portraying "Madcap Millie," one of the richest and most impetuous girls in the world.

Location work embraced approximately three months at actual story locales on the Riviera. Both cast and crew made their headquarters in Nice, with the principal hubbub of activity taking place at the Hotel Negresco. The movie-goer is offered a luxury tour of the dazzling playground of the rich including scenes at the Palm Beach Casino in Cannes, the Hotel Metropole at Beaulieu, the harbor and casino at Monte Carlo, the beach at Juan les Pins, the swimming pool and dining pavilion at the Eden Roc, the picturesque marina at Villefranche, the Grand Prix racing classic and the famed Musée de France, the former Rothschild Mansion at Cap Ferrat, which, in the story, serves as a splendid villa designed solely for amour.

The Swedish beauty Ulla Jacobsson makes her English speaking debut in "Love Is A Ball." Miss Jacobsson is known to the movie-going public for some brilliant performances in films by the noted director Ingmar Bergman. Ruth McDewitt and Telly Savalas are also importantly cast.

PEGGY'S Paragraphs
By PEGGY BELVIN

"WE'LL REMEMBER always, Graduation Day." Graduation Day.

To those who passed this day many years ago, it is a day of accomplishment. A day of pride. A day of solemn reverence.

To current graduates it is all these things. But it also is a day of thanksgiving. And it is a day for sadness.

It marks the beginning. The beginning of their lives in a new environment.

BUT IT ALSO marks the ending. The ending of the days they spent in classrooms. Days they thought they hated, days they thought they'd never get through.

But days, even now, they are beginning to miss. Already they are remembering.

Remembering pep rallies, ballgames, geometry class. History teachers and basketball tournaments. They are already remembering closeness. Closeness in planning class trips, Howl Night, and yearbooks.

And they are wondering.

Wondering about next year, and the next year, and all the years after that.

Wondering where they will all be. Wondering how long it will be before they are all together again.

Wondering if they will ever be all together again.

GRADUATION DAY is a day of equalizing. A day when each is like the other.

"Mister Athlete" becomes just one of many college students. "Miss Beautiful" becomes just one of many ex-high school beauties.

The top of the class and the bottom of the class is taken together and given a slight shove. A shove that sends them out to face their lives. No longer adolescents. Not yet adults.

Just a bunch of scared almost-grown children.

So this graduation day, don't be so quick with congratulations. Be quicker to congratulate the graduate who can accept his diploma without a shaking hand and with a dry eye.

Be quicker to congratulate the graduate who can break away from binding ties and take a giant step forward, leaving something behind, but grasping for something better ahead.

"School is Out!"

Mrs. Vance Dickenson, teacher of second-grade classes in the Loraine Primary School, heaves a sigh of relief as school dismisses. A desk drawer is used for a foot prop and a book dangles from her hand, not to be used again until next year. Last day for classes in the Loraine school was Wednesday.

SATURDAY NIGHT

Double Ring Rites Unite Faye Conaway, Mr. Dickson

Double-ring vows read in gladioli and lighted candles, the First Baptist Church of Westbrook Saturday night at 7 p. m. united Miss Faye Conaway and Stewart Dean Dickson in marriage.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otha Conaway of Westbrook and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Selma Q. Dickson of Colorado City.

Rev. Kenneth Andress, pastor of the Wayside Baptist Church in Big Spring, read the vows before an arch covered with greenery and flanked on either side by baskets of seed pearls, rhinestones and served as maid of honor. She was attired in a street-length dress of peacock-blue taffeta, styled with a tulle overskirt. Her bouquet was of small white roses.

Donna Bryant, Glenda Rees and Doris Swann of Westbrook and Linda Blakeney of Midland, niece of the bride, were bridesmaids. They wore dresses identical to that of the maid of honor.

Junior bridesmaids were Sue Blakeney of Midland niece of the bride, and Wanda Whitehead of Westbrook. They wore peacock blue taffeta dresses accented with tulle cummerbunds.

Each of these attendants carried long-stem white roses. Elizabeth Conaway of Fort Worth, niece of the bride, and Linda Ranne of Westbrook, were flower girls. They carried white baskets of flower petals.

Gary Dickson of Corsicana, cousin of the groom, and Mike Oglesby of Westbrook, were candle-lighters.

Raye Conaway, of Westbrook twin brother of the bride, was best man.

Groomsman was Dale Mathis of Colorado City.

Ushers were Glenn Houck of San Angelo and Jerry Bryant, of Colorado City.

A reception was held in Fellowship Hall of the church immediately following the ceremony. The bride's table was covered with a white lace cloth over blue. The three-tiered white wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom, was served with frosted punch from crystal and silver appointments.

Members of the Houseparty were Mrs. Jerry Alberts of Colorado City, niece of the bride, Mrs. Larry Sullivan of Big Spring and Misses Rebecca Bird and June Ritchey, of Westbrook.

For a honeymoon trip to New Mexico, the bride chose a two-piece suit of navy blue, which she accented with white accessories.

The bride is a senior student at Westbrook High School. The groom is employed by the Big Spring Police Department. The couple will reside in Big Spring.

Out-of-town wedding guests were registered from Abilene, Colorado City, Fort Worth, Big Spring, Midland, Frost, Corsicana and Loraline.

A flameless ELECTRIC water heater installs almost anywhere

Because an electric water heater is flameless and needs no flue or ventilation, it can be installed almost anywhere in the house, close to the point of greatest use. This flexibility of location makes a flameless electric water heater easy to install. And there's no need for long heat-wasting pipe runs. An electric water heater with its immersed heating elements heats the water and not the tank. Its quick recovery operation assures plenty of hot water for every household need. You get flameless safety, cleanliness and completely silent operation, too. See the quick recovery electric water heaters now on display. END OF SCHOOL YEAR

Foreign Student Prepares To Return To Home Country

By Peggy Belvin
Record Women's Editor

Miss Suraiya Akhtar, Colorado City's second foreign exchange student, will be leaving for her home in Karachi, Pakistan, at the end of this school year.

What benefits have been derived, for the foreign student and our own students here in Colorado City, by her stay here?

E. M. Findley, principal of Colorado City High School, where Miss Akhtar has attended classes for the past year, has experienced his gratitude for the opportunity of her study here.

Findley said that he is convinced that the American Field Service, which arranged for her stay here, is a very fine program.

"I think it is one of the finest things a high school can have. It gives the students an understanding, not only of the government, but of the people in other lands.

"We have had the good fortune to have been host to two exceptional students. I think Miss Akhtar is outstanding. She has the poise and the ability to adapt herself to any situation. She has become one of us, and we shall all certainly miss her when she returns to her home country."

Dr. and Mrs. W. S. Rhode

were host family to Miss Akhtar, as they were for Colorado City's first foreign student.

Dr. Rhode says of his duty as a foster parent: "I think that having the foreign students in our home has helped me to understand better how people on the other side of the world think and act. It has been a great opportunity for me and everyone else in town to meet and know these fine young people."

"The difficulties that being a foster family entail are not nearly so great as the benefits derived. It is not an easy task. It is hard enough to raise your own child, the one that you are familiar with. It is harder still to become responsible for a strange child, one that you are not used to.

"But I believe it is well worth it," he said.

Mrs. W. S. Rhode, foster mother to Miss Akhtar for the past year, said, "I think the American Field Service is the best way to make people realize that people all over the world are just people. That they are a lot alike, dependent is very much worth the responsibility. It is a hard job, just as being a mother to any teen-ager is a hard job. But it is certainly worth it. Being a foster parent makes you realize how small the world really is," she said.

Suraiya Akhtar, Colorado City foreign exchange student from Pakistan, said, "I think the AFS is a wonderful organization because it brings together a lot of understanding between the peoples of different countries."

"For the students, I think it is a wonderful experience. Being a foster parent is just like being a parent to your own children. You reprimand them as if they were your own and you love them as if they were your own. I have been astonished at how much Suraiya is like my own child, although, with her different culture and religion, you would think she would be very different.

"I think being a foster parent is especially good. It has made me realize that teen-agers are teen-agers all over the world, that they are basically alike."

"I especially think the foster-parent part of the program is wonderful. It helps you learn to get along with people. Teen-agers need some sort of supervision, foreign students are no exception. Without the foster-parent part of the program, it could not succeed."

"I think that part of the credit for success of the parent-child relationship goes to the AFS, for placing the right students in the right homes."

But ninety-nine per cent of the credit goes to the American people who open up their hearts and their homes to foreign students.

"I have found that my American family is much like my own family in Pakistan. I have not felt at any time that I was out of place and I have always felt that I was wanted."

"Being able to attend an American high school has given me a chance to get to know what schools in America are like. All AFS students lose one year, because we get no scholastic credit for our year as exchange student. But I think it is well worth it."

"I think Colorado City is a good place for a foreign student. The town, itself, gives a wide variety of different personalities, and the various conventions and meetings I attended with school groups gave me a chance to see other American high schools in action and to meet other American teen-agers."

"I think the AFS is a really good organization. It is the only organization of its kind in the world that embraces practically all parts of the world and is not partial to religion, creed or race. "I don't know how to thank the AFS Chapter here, the townspeople, my classmates, or my foster family for the wonderful experience of the past year."

"I only wish there were more Americans who could take an active interest in the AFS program and would learn the wonderful benefits that can be derived from it," she said.
