$342,000 in bridge replacement

Wasting no time in deploying the recently appropriated Federal highway funds, the State Highway and Public Transportation Commission approved a $140 million Bridge Replacement and Rehabilitation Program January 27, 1983.

Donley County's share of this total is $342,000 which will be used for replacement or rehabilitation of the railroad overpass at the F.W. & D.C. Railroad in Clarendon, 0.2 mile north of U.S. Highway 287 on State Highway 70.

Childress District Engineer Lewis H. White said that the $7,143,000 approved for the Childress District will be used for bridge improvements in five counties.

The two-year program will upgrade 245 bridges in Texas.

WTU announces

energy savings plan

West Texas Utilities Co. has announced a new energy savings plan providing cash incentives to encourage its customers to purchase high-efficiency air-conditioning and home heating equipment.

The program is available for single-family residential customers. Don Welch, vice president and director of customer services, said the purpose of the plan is to urge customers to install higher efficiency equipment to help reduce the peak summer demand for electricity.

"If more of our residential customers install better equipment, we can make more efficient use of our present generating stations and prolong the installation of expensive new units,"

The FFA exhibited at the Fort Worth Fat Stock Show also. Those showing lambs were: Dawn May, Shay Green, Joey Patterson, Mykie Patterson, Mark Luttrell, Bret Harbri, Kandy Floyd, Doug Hawkins, Cris Downer, and Tresea Percival.

LAST WEEKS SNOW storm closed some Clarendon stores, while others braved the storm and stayed open. (Press Photo by Ricci Tunnell)

Storm dumps 8 inches of snow

For the third time in as many weeks a major winter storm dumped rain, sleet and snow on Donley County. The snow blanketed the county with a official 8 inches. The first snow storm which hit three weeks ago, left 4 inches of snow on the ground. Before it could melt, the second storm came adding another 3 inches of snow. Unlike the previous storm, high winds drifted snow up to 4 and 5 feet in some places.

Monday, Jan. 31 the latest storm came in, putting an additional 8 inches of snow on the ground, by the end of last week, giving the county an official 15 inches of snow in the three storms for 1983.

January and February of last year Clarendon received only .35 of moisture, .2 in January and .33 in February. The moisture content for January and February so far, with February only 10 days into the month measured 3.01 inches. The snow which started out as light, quickly turned into heavy snow, roads and street quickly became covered in snow and in many cases, roads could not be seen at all. By nightfall, visibility was limited and roads and highways were snow packed and slick.

The Sheriff's Dept. reported no major accidents and only worked about 8 fender-bender type accidents. However, one trucker reported being shot at from an orchard, by someone in a blue pickup with a camper. He refused to make a report in Donley County, stating he would do so when he arrived in Childress, but as far as is known, he did not report the incident at Childress.

The EMT's reported only received two calls which were weather related. A person at Howardwick fell and broke a leg and was taken to Amarillo, while another person fell and injured their back and was taken to Dr. Hudson's office and returned home.

The Clarendon schools let out Tuesday and Wednesday but did brave the weather and returned to school on Thursday, only to have to let school out again Friday at 1 p.m. Hedley schools only missed Friday, but had short schedules for Wednesday and Thursday, starting school at 9:30 and letting out at 2:30 p.m. Clarendon College dismissed classes on Wednesday.

The Tumbleweed Talent Show at the Fine Arts Center at Clarendon College scheduled for last Friday night has been rescheduled for this Friday, Feb. 11.

The Day Care Center closed only one day, but the Senior Citizens Center was closed Tuesday, Wednesday, Open Thursday, and closed again Friday, Sunday and Monday.

Most stores were open during the storm, but a few closed. Those stores open reported a pretty good business considering the bad weather.

The city put graders on some city streets Saturday piling snow high into the center of the street. With the temperature warming Monday, the thawing began and with a little help from the city grader, most of the snow and ice melted or was pushed from downtown streets by Tuesday morning.

Another low pressure system was reported out in California headed this way but it failed to materialize and temperatures were expected to rise into the 50's by midweek.

Rotational grazing has been around long time

Systems of planned rotational grazing have been around for a long time. Research has proven that range condition improvement is most economically done through some type of planned grazing system. It has been said that there are as many grazing systems as there are ranches. The one thing they all have in common is a built-in rest period for the grass in each pasture.

Cell grazing has probably generated more interest than any type of planned grazing system. Many questions have been raised such as: Can I really increase numbers? How will my cattle perform? And of course, how much will it cost?

Cell grazing is very similar to other systems such as the high intensity-low frequency, and the short duration grazing systems. The principle behind this type of grazing system is concentrating large numbers of animals on a small portion of the ranch and rotating the herd through the system. Grazing periods are often short and deferment periods are long.

In comparison. These systems have long since proven that rapid range improvement can be achieved through the long and frequent rest periods.

Among the disadvantages of short duration grazing systems are poor individual animal performance, need for increased water storage and increased labor required in movement of cattle from one pasture to another.

The cell grazing method has overcome some of these problems. In the cell concept fences are laid out in such a manner that there is a single central watering location. Fences radiate out from this "Cell Center" and form a design similar to a wagon wheel. This arrangement cuts down on the need for labor because the cattle are always eager to go to the next fresh pasture and usually move themselves. Also the normal tendency of cattle, turned into a fresh pasture is to head to the back side first, then gradually graze back toward the water. This decreases the amount of labor needed, but the manager should have a basic understanding of grazing management principles. In short, this type of grazing system is more intensive than normal yearlong grazing and requires a higher quality of labor.

General recommendations in the growing season, range from grazing periods of one to ten days alternating with 40 to 60 days of rest. These graze-rest periods can be lengthened during the dormant season. As in all cases these numbers will vary with each ranch and individual situation.

For more information contact the Soil Conservation Service, assisting the Donley County Soil and Water Conservation District.

Emergency Care Attendant course

There will be a course in Emergency Care Attendant offered at Clarendon College beginning March 1, 1983. The course will consist of 40 classroom hours with no hospital time and no ambulance runs required. Instructors for the class will be Pat Robertson, Paramedic, Philip Vargas, Paramedic, and Wynona Mooring, EMT.

Upon successful completion of this course and upon passing a written and skills exam administered by the Texas Department of Health, the student will be certified as an ECA for a period of four years and must take additional training at that time. All aspects of trauma and medical emergencies will be covered during the class which will meet on Tuesday and Thursday nights from 7 to 10 p.m. for five weeks. The class is scheduled to end April 1.

The class will be limited to 30 students. Since a large part of this class will be made up of firemen working toward their rescue certification, the class could fill up rapidly. For this time only, tuition is being offered at a reduced rate to those interested, with the total cost of books and tuition running approximately $30 instead of the approximately $50 usually charged for this class.

It is not required that any person taking this course become active with the EMS or Fire Department. It will be open to the general public, so that any individual can come and learn all aspects of emergency care.

For more information, contact Dr. Ken Martin at Clarendon College or any of the instructors. All Clarendon Firemen are reminded that those interested in working rescue should make every effort to enroll in this class and that it counts 40 hours toward State Firemen's Certification. Any firemen who are interested must contact Pat Robertson no later than February 25 to get your name on the list.

Tumbleweed Talent rescheduled for Friday

Because of poor road conditions, "Tumbleweed Talents" was cancelled this past Saturday and has been rescheduled for Feb. 11, 7:00 p.m., in the Fine Arts Theatre, Clarendon College.

The Drama Club, PTK Honor Society, and OEA Business Club extend their sincere apologies for any inconvenience the cancellation or rescheduling may have caused.

Everything is ready—trophies, prizes, acts—so be sure to come out this Friday night for our special event! The theme for this year is "Valentine's". What better way to show someone you care than by taking them out for an exciting evening of entertainment!

Bulldogs play Amarillo College

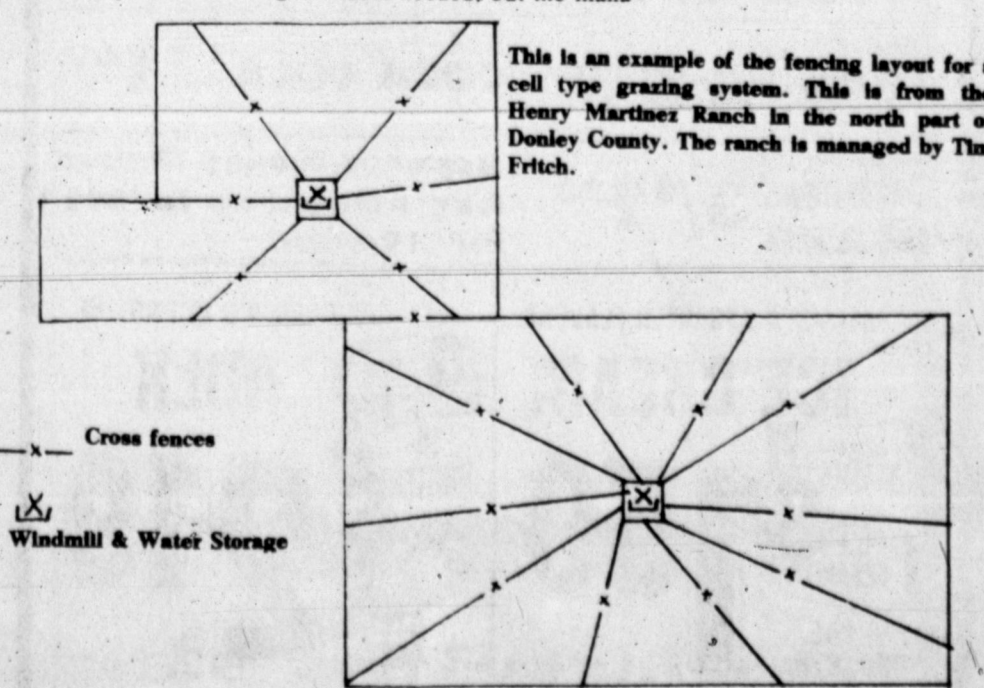

February 3, the Clarendon Bulldogs went to Amarillo to meet rival Amarillo College in an important conference game. Each time these teams meet it promises to be exciting.

The Lady Bulldogs were very effective from the field and the line. They hit 57 percent from the field and 67 percent from the line. The Lady Bulldogs couldn't get it going enough to beat the Lady Badgers. They fell to Amarillo 78-56.

Denise Posey led the Lady Bulldogs in scoring with 16. Vanessa Calloway added 14 points.

The men's game was close but the Bulldogs came out in the second half and out scored the Badgers 18-2 in the first 6 minutes. The Badgers came within 6 points of the Bulldogs 3 times but couldn't get any closer. The Bulldog's went on to win 78-70.

The Bulldogs had 4 players in double figures. Tim Thomas had 18 points and a game high of 14 rebounds. Following close behind were Dean Jackson with 17, Daniel Spivey with 15 and Basil Brown had 11. Greg Pinkney had 14 assists to tie the conference record for the year.

Help for people who are breathless

Practice pursed-lip breathing! Learn how to cough! Exercise your muscles!

These are just a few of hundreds of suggestions in "Help Yourself To Better Breathing", a new free booklet offered by the American Lung Association of Texas.

The booklet identifies troublemakers, such as air pollution, extremes of weather, infections, and smoking and how to avoid them.

"Help Your Medicines Help You" describes various medicines and the importance of working closely with a physician. There are spaces within the booklet to write individual directions for taking each medicine.

Breathing aids, such as nebulizers, respirators, oxygen, humidifiers, and vaporizers are described. There is even a section on eating to feel better.

The "Keep Living Your Life" chapter can help people suffering from chronic bronchitis or emphysema lead full, enjoyable lives despite their illness.

The booklet is used by participants in the Lung Association's Breathing Clubs, especially for persons with emphysema and chronic bronchitis.

Chock-full of excellent "how-to" hints, this large-size, 24-page booklet is illustrated by famous artist Roy Doty. There are first-person stories about how people have learned to cope with breathlessness. And specific directions on how to clear the exercise and education program for adults who have breathing problems.

"Help Yourself To Better Breathing" and information on Breathing Clubs are available from the American Lung Association of Texas, the "Christmas Seal" People. Write ALAT, 7701 North Lamar Blvd., Suite 104, Austin, Texas 78752-1088, 512/458-2206. It's a matter of life and breath.

Bridge on highway 70 behind dam to be removed

The State Highway and Public Transportation Commission approved the removal of the bridge on the Salt Fork of Red River, north of Clarendon, according to Childress District Engineer Lewis H. White.

Approval of the 1983 Statewide Highway Safety Improvement Program will allow the Department to improve highway safety at a number of locations across the State.

Are you a disabled handicapped person?

There is an agency in the state that has as a primary purpose the restoration of vocationally handicapped persons to the world of work.

A person must meet two requirements to be eligible for Vocational Rehabilitation services: 1. they must have a physical or mental disability which results in a substantial handicap to employment and 2. there must be a reasonable expectation that rehabilitation services will result in gainful employment.

This is not always as clear cut as the above indicates. This is why each case is judged on an individual basis. As an example: A person who becomes a double amputee and is a bookkeeper can continue in that occupation so is not vocationally handicapped and not eligible; however, a ski instructor under the same conditions probably would be vocationally handicapped and eligible.

Medical reports are received from physicians, testing may be done, and counselling with the client. After a determination of eligibility is made, a plan of service is made which explains what is expected of the client and the counselor. These services may include surgery to correct a physical defect, therapies to lessen the defect, training in college or a vocational school, counselling and guidance and with the help of other state agencies, job placement.

Fortunately in our state, many employers will hire handicapped employees and find that they are as good or better than other workers. The tax payer is also benefited. For each rehabilitant placed back on a payroll, there is less need for public assistance from other agencies. Every dollar spent on rehabilitating a person returns nine dollars to the economy. The real value cannot be counted in dollars and cents for it is the self respect, esteem, and pride in helping themselves that counts more for a person.

In Donley County, Mrs. Dorothy Cooke can be reached at the Department of Human Resources, 874-3595 other times you can write her in Amarillo at 4104 West 51st St. Amarillo, Texas 79109 or call her at (806) 353-7491 for a definite appointment.

In 1981, 43 persons were served in Donley County, at this time, others are recovering from surgeries or are being trained.

Mrs. Godfrey loves arts and crafts and while attending a seminar about ten years ago, she met a woman who made egg shell art. She became fascinated by this form of art, but the lady absolutely refused to share any of her knowledge about this art with her.

Mrs. Godfrey was determined that this was the art media she wanted to pursue. After returning home, she began to experiment, read and learn the art on her own. Now ten years later, Mrs. Godfrey has a collection, which she has designed and no two are alike. She has 6877 egg shell art pieces.

She will not sell any of her creations. Some she gives to friends as gifts, but mostly she decorates her home and packs her collection into boxes. She readily admitted that she rented the apartment they live in because of the abundant storage space.

Mrs. Godfrey said, "a science teacher friend of mine tested an egg in his classroom with a vise and when the egg was placed end to end in the vise it took 2000 pounds of pressure to break the egg." Egg shells are not as delicate as everyone thinks. "I break a few shells while working with them," Mrs. Godfrey stated.

Egg shell art is considered a Fine Art and mostly sold in art shops and exclusive gift shops. There are 1200 members of the Texas Guild of Egg Shell Artists, and they are registered with the Texas Commission on art.

There are several ways to start your egg art, you can put a hole about one fourth inch wide at the bottom and a very small one at the top and stir up the egg yolk and white with a toothpick, then gently blow the inside of the egg out the bottom. Then wash and dry the egg, or you may order empty shells from a dealer.

Once you have the egg, you must decide if you want to paint it, put a decal on it, take a print from a picture, sculpture or cover it with velvet. Mrs. Godfrey uses dental tools for her sculptures. You can keep them whole, cut a door in the egg and put a statue inside, or you can slice it like you peel a banana and put pictures and whatever inside. She even has one that she made for Mrs. W.R. Scott, of Memphis, who is a life long friend. It has small round windows cut out and school pictures at various ages in her life inside.

The eggs, if bought from a dealer can cost from 38 cents for a duck egg which are used a great deal, to $150 for a Cassawary egg, which is a native bird of Australia and a cousin to the Ostrich. The Cassawary's eggs are the color and shape of a cucumber about 8 inches long.

Mrs. Godfrey haunts garage sales, auctions and junk stores for old jewelry, small statues, figurines and other materials she uses in creating her egg shell art.

Although Mrs. Godfrey will not sell any of her art, she stated, "that it can be very expensive. A small Christmas tree ornament can cost $6 to $10. She has seen egg shell art sell for thousands of dollars. If anyone is interested in having a class in egg shell art, call Tillie Anglin at 874-3969. If there is enough interested, a teacher will come from Austin to conduct the class.

Altus Cotton Market

Trading on the Altus Market Friday, Feb. 4 was slow to moderate. Grower offerings remained heavy, although carrying charges priced many out of the market. Merchant demand was moderate, centering on low physical priced cotton topping out at about 45 cents lb. Spots, base mike, staples 31-32 sold at about 43-44 cents lb.; tinges with good mikes brought 36-40 cents lb.; base mike 52s traded at 175-200 points over the loan. Buyers were willing to pay about 175 points over the loan for grade 42, staple 32, base mike, but this was not enough to pull the cotton out of the loan. White and light spot B.G.s moved at 40-41 cents lb.; 83s were 2-3 cents lower. Some strength lots of 25 grams/tex or higher brought premium of 25 to 100 points.

No forward contracting on the 1983 crop was reported this week. Limited interest was expressed for several PIK contracts. Two contracts offered were 45 cents lb on a 4232 basis and 50 cents lb., 4132 basis.

Inclement weather continued to prevent completion of the 1982 crop. Ninety-five per cent or more of the crop has been harvested and over 90 per cent has been classed.

Producers were reported receiving mostly $75-$80 per ton for cottonseed.

Grade 42, staple 43, mike 3 5 to 4 9 was quoted Thursday at 51.25 cents lb. FOB warehouse on the spot market in Dallas and 52.35 cents lb. FOB warehouse in Lubbock. The New York Futures Contract No. 2 for March closed Thursday at 65.39, up 17 points from a week earlier; July 67.92, up 22 points for the same period.

Through January 27, mill buying continued at a slow pace. Purchases of all U.S. growths were reported, but demand was best for California growths. Buying for prompt or nearby delivery accounted for the bulk of trading. Interest in cotton for summer and later shipments increased.

Place over boiling water about 5 minutes, stirring constantly until gelatin dissolves and mixture thickens a bit. Remove from double boiler. Add orange juice, strawberries and food coloring. Refrigerate mixture until it mounds a little when poured. Meanwhile, beat the egg whites lightly, adding sugar gradually. Beat the cream. Fold egg whites and whipped cream into the orange juice mixture. Cold mold with vegetable cooking spray and pour in mixture. Refrigerate overnight or until quite firm. Unmold by running warm water on the mold. Serves 10-12.

Visitors to capitol in Feb. can view skeletal remains

Visitors to the Capitol in mid-February can view the ancient skeletal remains recently discovered north of Austin.

The find by State Department of Highways and Public Transportation (DHT) archeologists will be displayed Feb. 12 through Feb. 18 in the rotunda.

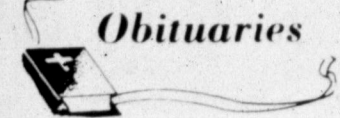

The Archeology Section, part of DHT's Highway Design Division, is arranging the show in response to hundreds of citizen inquiries and requests to view the bones. Many student groups viewing the exhibit will combine a tour of the Capitol while the Legislature is in session.

Dr. Frank Weir, head of the Archeology Section, said the display would be made up of the skull portion of the remains, projectile points and other artifacts found at the site. A photo display will accompany the materials. A display of the entire skeleton is not possible because of the fragility of some of the bones.

The skeletal remains were removed from the excavation site on Jan. 7, and department archeologists have since been examining them in a laboratory. Although exact dating of the bones will have to await carbon-14 tests, which will take a few more weeks, Dr. Weir estimates they are more than 9,000 years old.

The site was doubly unusual due to the abundance of artifacts found which indicated continuous habitation of the area for a 7,000-year period.

Shaw - Minton announce engagement

Mr. and Mrs. H.C. Shaw Jr. are very pleased to announce the recent marriage of their daughter "Carrie" to Mr. Ray Minton. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rogers of Canadian. The couple was married Saturday evening February 5th in the home of Sherry and Terry Moore of Spearman, with the Rev. Bruce Chesser of the First Baptist Church performing the double ring ceremony. Those attending them were Sherry and Terry Moore, Carrie's sister and brother-in-law, and her niece and nephew, Billie Jo and Aaron Shawn Moore; and Rays son Mike.

Carrie carried a beautiful arrangement of burgundy and cream silk roses with burgundy and cream streamers. It was a gift from her niece and nephew. She did reside in Amarillo where she was employed by the American Quarter Horse Association. Ray lives in Moore, Oklahoma and is employed by National Supply Company.

They had champagne and a heart shaped cake following the ceremony. The pearl lined ceramic bride and groom on the cake was a gift from a special friend of both in Spearman.

They will reside in Moore, Oklahoma.

Carrie's local grandparents are the Harvey Shaw Sr.

LIVESTOCK HEALTH TIPS

From the Animal Health Institute.

Hog Health Care Practices: A Matter Of Dollars And Sense

When the market is right, hogs have frequently been one of the most profitable investments a farmer can make. That's how they got the nickname "mortgage lifters." With the depressed grain market, and relatively higher livestock markets, hogs are again profitable. Beyond good housing and proper nutrition, a sound health care program is one of the best ways to insure profitability. Here are some health tips from the experts at the Animal Health Institute, Alexandria, Va. Breeding stock Work with your veterinarian to develop a health care plan. Commit it to paper and follow it closely. A series of vaccinations before and during pregnancy may be required to prevent the following diseases: leptospirosis, erysipelas, Type C clostridial enteritis, TGE, and atrophic rhinitis, among others.

Federally licensed vaccines conform to rigorous government standards. Look for the U.S. Veterinary License number on the product. That's your assurance that these products have been thoroughly tested. Keep records on the types of products you use, the manufacturer, the serial numbers, and the expiration dates.

When more than one biological product is to be administered, do not mix the two substances unless specified on the label. The two biologicals can become contaminated when mixed and may not provide the desired immunity. Never dilute a biological product unless specifically called for on the label. And never mix a biological with an antibiotic.

Feeder pigs A series of vaccines is also called for during the first few days of a baby pig's life. These vaccines protect against pseudorabies (in states where pseudorabies vaccine is legal), atrophic rhinitis, and pneumonia, among others.

During the high stress period of weaning, pigs are again vaccinated for disease; antibiotics are added to the feed to prevent disease as well. Later, wormers will be added.

To insure safe, effective use of these and other drugs, the Animal Health Institute advises: Feed or administer the right dose. Whether it's a vaccine, wormer, or feed additive, it's important to provide the right amount. Dosages are scientifically determined for effective and safe use after years of research and examination by both the manufacturer and the regulatory agencies.

The old adage "if a little bit is good, then a whole lot more is better" does not apply to animal drugs. By the same token, it is a mistake to underdose. A hog requires a precise amount of a drug's active substance in its system to do the job.

For feeders, observe withdrawal times if required before shipping. Whether administering an animal drug via feed, water, bolus, or injection, be certain to observe the withdrawal period before sending the animal to market.

If you don't, an illegal residue could appear. That can cost you. If just one animal contains illegal residues, the entire shipment will be held and tests run to determine whether other animals contain residues. If they do, you won't be paid for them. You could also be prosecuted and face stiff fines and/or jail sentences.

Read the label. Even if you're not in doubt, you should check the label, because label instructions can change. Then take time to follow directions. That's what the eye-clock symbol on the label is telling you.

MEDICAL JOURNAL

Regular eye examinations can greatly reduce the incidence of glaucoma, according to a recent broadcast sponsored by the Columbia-Presbyterian Medical Center and The Prudential Insurance Company.

Dr. Robert Shaffer, director of the Glaucoma Clinic at the University of California, San Francisco, says early detection is crucial in glaucoma. Ophthalmologists can detect increased pressure in the eye, damage to the optic nerve or loss of peripheral vision through a painless screening process. These common symptoms of glaucoma may not be recognized by the patient until a great deal of vision has been lost.

"Glaucoma is a series of diseases which have intra-ocular pressure and the tendency for optic nerve damage as their common denominator," explains Dr. Shaffer. "Pressure develops within the eye when fluid drainage is blocked. The pressure on the optic nerve results in destroyed vision and gradual numbing and destruction of the nerve."

Damage to the optic nerve is permanent, increasing the importance of early detection. Dr. Shaffer concludes, "Vision is almost always maintained for the patient through medication or occasionally surgery. The major obstacle, however, remains in convincing each patient to see his doctor before permanent damage has occurred."

of interest to VETERANS

Under a recent policy change, the Veterans Administration now allows GI loans for houses or condominiums in retirement communities or other developments with age restrictions. According to a VA headquarters spokesman, the new philosophy is based on the higher average age and changing needs of the veteran population.

VA-guaranteed home loan applications ran about 8,000 per month nationwide in 1981, when the GI mortgage rate averaged 16 percent. There were 18,447 applications in October 1982, when the rate was 12½ percent. The interest rate for VA-guaranteed home loans has declined since.

Since the first GI Bill of Rights was enacted in 1944, the VA has backed nearly 12½ million mortgages to veterans for housing worth over $201 billion. Currently, the average loan is about $60,000 on a $65,000 property for 30 years. The monthly payment comes to $617, principal and interest; taxes and insurance are added on.

Eligible veterans can get FHA loans requiring lower down payments than under other FHA programs. Veterans also have preference for processing of loans on farms and homes in towns up to 10,000 population from the Farmers Home Administration (FmHA). Some states, notably California and Oregon, offer veterans better home-loan terms than the federal programs.

Veterans can get more information and assistance from any American Legion Post or Veterans Administration Office. — Al Keller Jr., National Commander.

Public Notice

In order to implement prior orders of the Public Utility Commission of Texas in Docket No. 3957, notice is hereby given of Southwestern Bell's proposal to implement a new schedule of intrastate long distance rates, effective April 1, 1983, unless otherwise determined by the Commission.

It is expected that the proposed rate schedule will not increase the company's net intrastate revenues, but rather, the increased rates will offset increased settlements paid to certain other telephone companies.

A complete copy of the new rate schedule is on file with the Public Utility Commission at Austin, Texas, and is available for inspection in each of the company's public business offices in Texas.

Notice to Customers of Other Telephone Companies

Changes in intrastate long distance rates would also affect customers of other telephone companies because such companies provide intrastate long distance service in accordance with rates specified in Southwestern Bell's tariffs.

Aviso Público

Southwestern Bell, con el objeto de cumplir con el decreto previo del Public Utility Commission (Comisión de Servicios Públicos) del Estado de Texas, Acta No. 3957, por la presente hace saber su intención de establecer un nuevo arancel de tarifas para servicio intraestatal de larga distancia, con vigencia a partir del 1o de abril de 1983, a menos que la Comisión haga otra determinación.

Se espera que el nuevo arancel de tarifas que Southwestern Bell se propone establecer no aumentará sus ingresos netos intraestatales, sino que servirá para compensar el aumento de los ajustes que se les paga a algunas otras compañías de teléfono.

Una copia completa del nuevo arancel de tarifas se ha archivado en las oficinas del Public Utility Commission (Comisión de Servicios Públicos) en Austin, Texas, y esta disponible para inspección pública en todas nuestras oficinas en el Estado de Texas.

Aviso a los Clientes de Otras Compañías de Teléfono

Cambios en las tarifas para servicio intraestatal de larga distancia también afectarían a clientes de otras compañías de teléfono porque dichas compañías proveen servicio intraestatal de larga distancia en conformidad a tarifas especificadas por Southwestern Bell.

Quick Tips For Cooking Success

Remember all those simple, yet oh-so-special cooking tips and tricks your grandmother and mother used to share? There were just some things it seemed you could only learn by word of mouth.

However, in these busy times, it's often difficult to get that same personalized training. So, we've collected some of grandma's old tricks, added a few new tips, and offered them here. Cut these out and post in your kitchen or file with your recipes. And the next time you wish you had grandma here to offer some cooking tips, refer to this list. Chances are one of these tips will apply to your situation.

- For a different, but easy way to serve fresh fruit, try kabobing it on skewers. Experiment with different shapes and colors for greater eye appeal.

- Add some zing to your next omelet. Mix an envelope of instant tomato soup mix in with the eggs and milk.

- Want to serve some unique appetizers in a hurry? Wrap a slice of cheese along with a slice of ham or bologna around a pickle spear. Secure with a frilly toothpick.

- Are you using a glass pan for an oven recipe? Be sure to reduce the oven temperature 25 degrees so the dish won't bake too fast.

- Looking for a quick way to use a few meat, cheese or vegetable leftovers? Toss them in a chef's salad and serve with a cup-of instant soup and a roll for a tasty meal.

- It's easy to serve yeast breads piping hot, even if they aren't fresh-baked. Simply put them in a brown paper bag or wrap in foil, sprinkle with a little water and heat 10 to 15 minutes in a 325° oven.

- Broiling fish? Be creative and sprinkle with a little dill, oregano or curry powder for an interesting flavor.

- Spice up your rice by mixing an envelope of instant onion soup mix into the water for 2 servings of rice.

- Preparing spaghetti squash? Give it a "pasta" flavor by adding a dash of oregano or basil.

- If you are basting meat with a glaze containing sugar, only use it the last half of the cooking time. You'll avoid burning.

- Making mashed potatoes? Blend in a hearty flavor by adding a package of instant cream of chicken soup mix in with the milk and potatoes.

- Whenever possible, save washing dishes by mixing and serving a recipe in the same dish.

- For a quick dessert, top a graham cracker with a piece of chocolate and a couple of marshmallows. Broil in a toaster oven or broiler. Enjoy!

- No need for vegetables to be ho-hum. Sauce them up with mushroom sauce made by combining instant cream of mushroom soup mix and 1/2 cup boiling water. Top with buttered bread crumbs for an added texture treat!

- When fixing a punch, make sure all the ingredients are well chilled before combining. Also, add any carbonated beverage at the last minute so as to preserve the fizz.

- Parsley is handy to use for seasoning or decoration. Simply dry a bunch, put it through a coarse sieve and store in a glass jar.

- "Spring" some taste into your next sour cream dip. Add an envelope of instant spring vegetable soup mix to a cup of sour cream.

A Good Old Fashioned Thank You for banking with us!

Sending valentines is a quaint, old-fashioned custom we look forward to at this time of the year.

It gives us a chance to tell you how much we appreciate your trust and support.

And with those sentiments in mind, we extend to you a good, old-fashioned thank you...for letting us be your friend, your neighbor, your bank.

GOOD PSYCHOLOGY

You may not realize it, but much of your sense of taste is really what you smell! Research has shown that much of what we associate with taste is really the sensation of odor. We actually smell coffee, tobacco, wine, apples and potatoes more than we taste them. In fact, red wine and plain coffee taste almost alike when sampled blindfolded and with the nose closed.

That's the reason why we often say food has no taste when we have a cold. Our nasal passages are blocked and we cannot smell what we eat. Stuffy noses are probably one of the greatest discomforts of the common cold. One way many people relieve this is with cold preparations such as Coricidin "D", from Schering Corporation.

Its decongestant formula allows the cold sufferer to carry out normal routines with a greater degree of comfort. As a bonus, you'll find that as those clogged nasal passages clear, the sweet smells—and tastes—of your favorite foods and drinks will return to you once more. And that's nothing to sneeze at!

Iris take their name from Iris, the Greek goddess of the rainbow.

Colors Elicit Expectations

COLOR FEBRUARY RED FOR ACTION

Color perception depends upon many complex scientific factors. Conditioning and training, however, influence color perception of many objects, including foods. For instance, apples are expected to be red, green or yellow and never blue.

Colors of food also affect taste perception. Studies reveal that certain colors elicit certain expectations. For example, reds excite and call the viewer to action. Red is frequently associated with sweet, succulent flavors.

Valentines and George Washington's cherry tree create expectations of the color red. Home economists in the Betty Crocker Kitchens have developed two timely recipes that permit us to fulfill color and taste expectations of the ingredients. Maraschino cherries flavor, as well as color, Angel Soufflé. Red tart cherries add color and excitement to Date-Cherry Crumble Dessert.

Angel Soufflé

- 1 package Betty Crocker white angel food cake mix
- 1 package (8 ounces) cream cheese, softened
- 1 cup sugar
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 2 cups chilled whipping cream
- 1 jar (10 ounces) maraschino cherries, drained
- 1 cup miniature marshmallows

Bake and cool cake as directed on package. Tear cake into about 1-inch pieces.

Beat cream cheese, sugar and vanilla in small bowl on medium speed, scraping bowl occasionally, until smooth and creamy. Beat whipping cream in chilled bowl until stiff. Gently fold whipped cream, cherries and marshmallows into cream cheese mixture.

Toss cake pieces and cream cheese mixture. Make 4-inch band of aluminum foil 2 inches longer than circumference of 6-cup soufflé dish. Extend dish by securing band around outside of dish. Turn angel food mixture into dish. Refrigerate until set, about 8 hours. Refrigerate any remaining soufflé. 12 to 16 servings.

High Altitude Directions (3500 to 6500 feet): Prepare cake mix as directed in high altitude directions on package. Continue as directed in recipe.

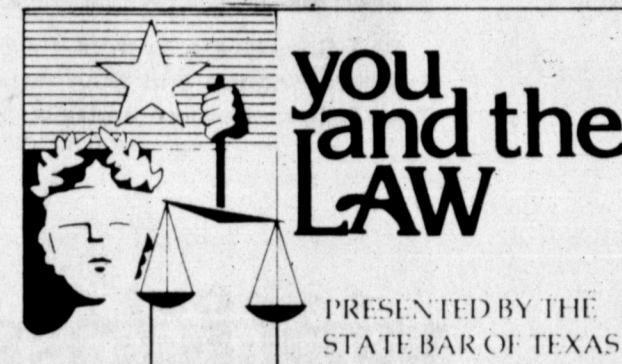

Date-Cherry Crumble Dessert

- 1 package Betty Crocker date bar mix
- 1 can (16 ounces) pitted dark sweet or red tart cherries, drained and coarsely chopped
- Whipped cream or ice cream

Heat oven to 375°. Prepare Date Mix and crumb mix as directed on package. Stir cherries into date mixture. Press half of the crumb mixture lightly in ungreased square pan, 8x8x2 inches.

Top with cherry mixture. Sprinkle remaining crumb mixture over cherry mixture. Bake until crumb mixture is golden brown, 30 to 35 minutes. Serve warm with whipped cream. About 8 servings.

Q: I own a major portion of the property my parents left in a will. My brother owns the rest. What should I do if I cannot buy my brother's share nor agree with him about selling the property?

A: You have a number of options. You could continue your joint ownership. In some forms of co-tenancy you could leave your share, still undivided, under your Will. In other forms, the survivor between you and your brother would own the entire estate. You can agree to value the land, sell to one or the other, or you could market the land and split the proceeds in the same fractions as you inherited.

Q: Can you tell me about inheritance laws and "either, or" savings accounts? Will the surviving spouse inherit the whole amount if one of us dies?

A: Texas laws prohibit a spouse from taking as a survivor under accounts labelled "Husband or Wife, joint tenancy with right of survivorship." These JTROS accounts are effective between any other two people in Texas: only spouses may not use them to pass community property.

If a couple has legally partitioned assets or if they hold separate property, these separate assets may be passed to the survivor under the "either, or" accounts you describe.

Q: What taxes would be due on a large estate with property, cash, and saving bonds?

A: All assets of an estate are gathered and valued. A total net value is reached which is less certain final expenses, fees, and costs. This net value determines whether tax is due: it does not matter whether the assets are cash, land, or stocks.

Estates of $225,000 or less escape federal taxation in 1982: the exemption equivalent increases to $600,000 by 1987. In addition, all that spouses leave each other passes tax free.

Texas assesses the same tax as the IRS does, but gives the estate full credit against paying the federal tax, so that in effect no state tax is due.

Q: Can I file for child support for my son even though I was never married to the father? He used to send money up until recently.

A: You must be able to show the parent-child relationship exists between the man and your son. If he acknowledges paternity and if you listed the man on the child's birth certificate; or if he has made payments pursuant to some agreement or court order, you're halfway there. The Court will then look at the child's needs and the man's earnings and obligations and order support after you file your motion and have a hearing.

If no father-child relationship exists, you have to ask the man to sign a voluntary acknowledgment of paternity, or file a paternity suit. Under present laws, you have four years after the baby's birth to bring the paternity action.
