Mexican President Moves To Heal Breach Between Catholics And State

GIL ANNOUNCES READINESS TO HOLD PARLEY

Religious Question May Be Settled as Result Of New Efforts

CHURCH REGULATED

Conflict Has Resulted In Numerous Uprisings Against State

MEXICO CITY, May 7. (UP)—President Emilio Portes Gil issued a statement tonight indicating that the government was willing to discuss with the Catholic church the possibility of settling the Mexican "religious question."

The question of regulating religious orders under Mexican law has long been one of the vital issues of the republic. Several unsuccessful attempts have been made to reach a settlement which would be satisfactory to the government and to religious elements.

Bloodshed eResults

Conflict over Mexican religious laws have resulted in much bloodshed in recent years, the "cristeros" or religious fanatics having resorted to open warfare at various times. Portes Gil recently said, however, that the government did not consider the church in any way responsible for the acts of the "cristeros."

Stringent regulations forcing priests to register with the government or be outlawed have been enforced, however, under the Portes Gil administration.

President Portes Gil's statement indicated he was ready to discuss any move "which would benefit the Mexican people."

"I am pleased to note that the archbishop said the religious conflict in Mexico was not caused by anything which could not be corrected by men of sincere god will," the president said when asked to reply to an interview on the religious question given out by Archbishop Ruiz Y Flores. "Also, that Catholic churchmen are prepared to co-operate with the Mexican government in any just moral effort for betterment of the Mexican people."

Reply to Interview

The statement was issued in reply to an interview issued in Washington by Archbishop Ruiz Y Flores of Michoacan.

The archbishop has long been active in the controversy between the government and the Catholic church, especially since the decree affecting religious worship issued by former President Plutarco Elias Calles in 1926.

This decree made it necessary for the clergy to be of Mexican birth in order to "exercise within the republic the ministry of whatever cult."

The decree also forbade the clergy to establish or direct schools of primary instruction; forbade establishment of monastic orders of any denomination; confined worship strictly to within the churches and prohibited church ownership of real estate (making churches the property of the nation).

Calles defended his action by saying that the government merely was upholding the civil rights of the people and asserted that the laws did not limit religious teaching within the church. The church, however, asserted that religious liberty and tolerance had been denied the people.

Mason County to Have Plentiful Deer Supply

MASON, Texas, May 7. (AP)—Indications are that Mason county will have plenty of deer this season. In fact, some ranchers have been so bothered by the fleet little animal that they have requested the state game department to remove some of them from their lands. Most of the deer are in the south and west parts of the county.

Hambone's Meditations

MODESTY WINS

Statue of Apollo Will Be Clothed in Beach Attire

KOVNO, Lithuania, May 7. (UP)—The forces of modesty have won a decisive victory on Liuthanian soil and the graceful figure of the Greek god, Apollo, will be clad in a bathing suit henceforth.

A wealthy citizen named Luriew, willed to his native town a number of works of art. The collection included a statue of Apollo. It was placed in a Kovno museum where a group of women of the town saw it and protested—vehemently.

The issue was taken before the town council which refused to remove the statue. The controversy continued until a compromise was reached. All agreed to dress the statue of Apollo in a bathing suit, and practically everybody was satisfied.

JURY PROBES REBEL FUNDS

Conspiracy Charges Aired By Investigators

NEW YORK, May 7. (AP)—The federal grand jury will sit during the morning hours of this month was convened today and at once began investigation of charges of a conspiracy to effect the departure to Europe of a fugitive rebel from Mexico.

The alleged fugitive is Salvador Ateca, former rebel paymaster, and gambling concessionaire who was arrested in possession of a black bag containing about three quarters of a million dollars, Mexican officials charged was looted from Mexican banks and the treasury of the state of Chihuahua.

Three Others Held

With Ateca were arrested his secretary, Antonio Maquero; Russell Mathews, assistant director of immigration for the El Paso, Texas, district; and W. M. Fryer, former assistant United States attorney at El Paso.

Ateca and Maquero are held without bail; Mathews and Fryer are at liberty under bail of $3,500 each. Mathews was in Washington today conferring with officials of the labor department, which he asserted on his arrest had ordered him to accompany Ateca from Texas to New York to see that he got out of the country. Fryer said he accompanied Ateca as his counsel.

The charges against the defendants were explained to the grand jurors by Assistant United States Attorney George Mintzer, who led the raid that resulted in the arrests. He was followed by Enos Throop Geer of counsel for the Banco de la Laguna of Torreton, Mexico.

Banks Money Held

After he had testified before the grand jury Geer said that about $160,000 in the black bag belonged to the bank or represented property seized by Jose Gonzalo Escobar former rebel generalissimo before evacuating Torreon.

Among documents seized in the raid by Mintzer and a score of detectives and secret service operatives were memoranda showing communication between Ateca and Escobar and a payroll covering $300,000 due soldiers in Escobar's army.

Ateca and Maquero were arrested recently in Kansas City on a charge laid against them in El Paso that they had violated the neutrality laws by shipping munitions of war by airplane to the rebels from this side of the border. They were released on bail of $5,000 each and rearrested when they came here, intending to take ship for Spain.

THREE WOLVES FALL PREY TO CLUB'S HOUNDS

Archer County Hunters Cop Three Animals First Day of Trials

250 WITNESS CHASES

Bench Judging and Additional Hunting Slated For Wednesday

Special to The Record News.

ARCHER CITY, Texas, May 7.—Three wolves were captured on the Andrews ranch south of Archer City Tuesday as a result of the first day of the annual field trials of the Texas Wolf and Fox club which are being held here this week.

The hunt opened at daylight Tuesday morning with 123 dogs, of the 300 that are entered in the three-day program, being unleashed for the first day's hunt.

250 in Chase

The wolves were started by the hounds about four miles from Archer City on the Andrews ranch and pursued by the dogs and about 250 hunters and spectators for several miles over the Andrews and Turberville ranches in the southern part of Archer county.

The three wolves were captured before noon. Numbers of other wolves escaped the pack and will remain on the range for the hunting Wednesday and Thursday and for many private hunts which are being arranged among certain hunters.

The largest crowd which ever attended the annual field trials of the wolf and fox club had gathered here for the beginning of the hunt Tuesday morning.

Hounds to Compete

Bench judging contests will be held at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon and will feature the program for the day. The other dogs will be divided and released on hunts during the remaining two days of the field trials here.

The program is in charge of J. W. Elliott of Lufkin, Texas, secretary of the club, while Fred Foreman of Throckmorton is acting as master of hounds.

Clark Calls Stories Of Contributions False

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., May 7. (UP)—Stories of campaign contributions were branded as "pure fabrications" today by J. W. Clark, suspended supreme court justice, as he testified in his own behalf before the senate court of impeachment. Clark denied that Wirt Franklin, wealthy oil man, or Hugh A. Ledbetter, his attorney, ever paid him any campaign money or that he gave Ledbetter a receipt for anything.

Scores Attend Last Rites for Buck Garrett

ARDMORE, Okla., May 7. (AP)—Old timers from all parts of the Southwest were in Ardmore today to pay tribute to their comrade of the pioneer days—Buck Garrett.

Funeral services for the veteran peace officer, attracted a huge throng of friends, many of them from out of the state, and from other parts of Oklahoma.

Imitates Crucifixion; Nearly Hangs Self

GREENVILLE, Texas, May 7. (UP)—After hearing his mother read portions of the life of Christ Bobbie Ferguson, 6, went out in his back yard to enact the story. His mother found him a little later, unconscious at the foot of a tree where he had hung himself in playing it was the cross. Physicians worked an hour before bringing him back to consciousness.

'I Poisoned Him and I'm Glad,' Woman Tells Jury

CHICAGO, May 7. (US)—"I poisoned my husband and I am glad I did it—I stood his abuse for 20 years." Thus spoke Mrs. Frances Kowalkowski, 39, who went on trial today before Judge Normoyle charged with the murder of her husband, Alex, on May 4, 1928.

Five Expeditions Lured to 'Other Side' To Study Five-Minute Eclipse of Sun Tomorrow

Huge Telescope Batteries Await Scientists' Eyes

NEW YORK, May 7. (AP)—Camped among the Atjeh, a warlike tribe in Sumatra, a Dutch astronomical expedition awaits a total eclipse of the sun shortly after noon Thursday.

They expect to be the first scientists, provided the weather is fair, to see the eclipse as it sweeps in from the west. Their probable station is Idi, near the northern end of Sumatra.

Strung out behind them are four other expeditions, in a curved path resembling the tail of a comet, nearly 2,000 miles long. Over this course the total eclipse will pass in a little more than an hour.

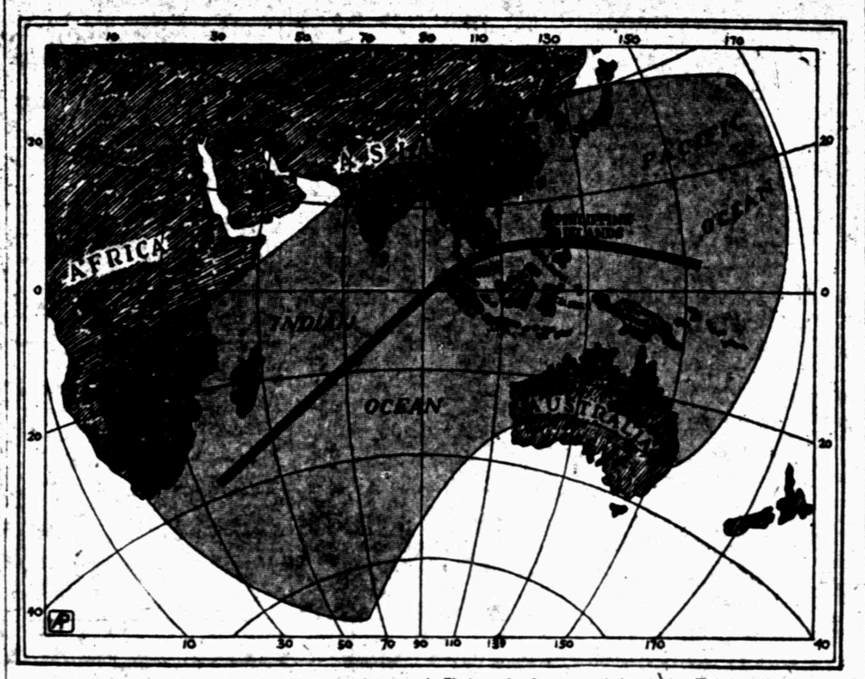

The lure is especially strong in this eclipse, for it lasts five minutes, one of the longest on record. It has attracted expeditions from half a dozen occidental countries, most of whose members are spending four months in travel and preparations and must risk the chance of clear skies.

The monsoon season will be near and weather records do not give the eclipse better than an even chance of escaping clouds over much of the course.

So the astronomers are not concentrated in any one territory. They are spread among five states—Sumatra, Siam, Kedah, Cochin China and the Philippines. Some have picked low coastal observation

THREE YEARS' INTIMACY TOLD IN DEATH CASE

Accused Pastor's Mate Gives Complete Story To Lamesa Jury

TESTIMONY CLOSES

Attorneys to Hear Arguments This Morning In Trial of Minister

LAMESA, Texas, May 7. (AP)—Both the state and defense closed late tonight in the trial of Rev. W. H. Duke, charged with shooting to death J. A. Cox near here Feb. 6.

Conflicting testimony was introduced by the defense and state which introduced testimony designed to show the preacher bought buckshot shells with the intention of using them for "a definite purpose."

Widow Identifies Hat

On the stand at the night session Mrs. J. A. Cox identified a black, bullet-riddled hat as that worn by her husband the night of his death.

Arguments by attorneys were to be started tomorrow morning.

J. A. Cox, 29, and Mrs. Duke, 25 were intimate for three years preceding the shooting on Feb. 6, last Mrs. Duke testified.

"He hugged me and kissed me and said 'Here's where I leave you just a minute before he was killed," she said.

Woman Trembles

In telling what she said occurred at Klondyke, a community near here, the night of the killing, Mrs. Duke trembled as she sat in the witness chair.

"My husband said he was going to Abilene Feb. 6," she declared, "and told me he would return about 10:30 p. m. About 6 p. m. I went with Cox to a little house near the store and returned about half an hour later.

"After the fatal shot was fired, I saw my husband through the dark with a gun leveled at me. I asked him not to shoot. Ht put down the gun and went into the house. Before that time, I did not think Brother Duke knew anything about my associations with Cox."

Pastor on Stand

Cox, whose home was across the road, had a wife and four children.

Earlier in the day, Rev. Duke on the witness stand told the story of an early marriage in Clarksville, of living in Red River county and at Spur where he began preaching in 1918. He said he first was told of his wife's conduct by C. W. Henson of Spur.

Twice alone, and the third time with his 17-year-old son, he said he watched his home.

"After watching for an hour the night of Feb. 6 with my son, I could not see anything," Duke testified. "I sent my son to get the car and bring it around to the house while I went close to the house to see why the lights were out so early.

Feared for His Life

"Henry Smith, a neighbor, had told me that Alva and Elmer Cox told him they were after the man who started those rumors, and that they had tried to get him twice to say I had threatened to kill Alva Cox.

"I was about to go into my own home at night. I felt that my life was in danger.

"When I went to the house that night, I sat down by a trunk in the yard and waited for my son. I heard gravel crunching and saw two figures 20 feet away, one on my right and the other on my left. I thought I was being surrounded.

"At that moment a pile of burrs burning at a nearby gin lighted up the scene and I saw Olva Cox looking at me. I didn't see him make any motions with his hand, but I thought they were two against one and that my life was in danger.

Self Defense

"I raised my gun and fired in the dark since the flare lasted only a moment. I turned and pointed my gun at the other figure and my wife called out not to shoot."

On cross examination, Duke declared Cox had not threatened him, that at the time of the shooting he didn't believe the stories were true, and that his only motive for firing the shot was to protect his life.

Elmo Duke, 17, told in detail of events preceding the killing. Mrs. J. A. Cox, widow of the man Duke

WHITNEY RITES WAIT BROTHER

Last Services For Wichita Landowner Delayed

Funeral services for D. G. Whitney, well-known farmer of Wichita county who was found shot through the forehead on the Byers road near the city incinerator late Monday afternoon, have been postponed until the arrival of his brother, C. W. Whitney, from Riverside, Calif. The services will be private and will be held in the home at 1611 Garfield. Rev. Nat F. Grafton, pastor of the First Presbterian church, will officiate. The hour of the services, which will probably be held Thursday, is to be announced later.

Passers-by discovered the body of Mr. Whitney lying half under his automobile just off the Byers road about 6:30 o'clock Monday evening. R. V. Gwinn, justice of the peace, conducted an inquest at the scene and pronounced death due to the wound of a .44 caliber pistol found lying by the side of the body. Letters addressed to his wife, his attorney and friends were found inside the car.

Friends who had seen Mr. Whitney through the day explained that he had been worried over financial matters and about the legal battle he had been waging with the city over the management of the dumping grounds adjoining his property.

Pallbearers to officiate in the final rites, named Tuesday, included Joe Hatchitt, J. W. Culbertson, George Herron, Guy Roberts, W. I. Cameron, J. H. Fisher, Lester Miller and C. W. Gilliland.

FAMILY RELIEF BOARD POSTPONES MEETING

The regular monthly board meeting of the Family Relief association which was to have been held in the council room of the Memorial auditorium Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock has been postponed until Wednesday, May 15, according to Mrs. Effie Meiman, secretary. Funeral services for D. G. Whitney, who died here Monday night, which a number of the board members wished to attend, was given as the reason for postponement of the meeting.

Jail Inmates Vote Harry Sinclair Good Fellow and Address Him as 'Mr.'

Oil Millionaire Helps Roll Pills, Attend Patient and Then Holds Reception for Inmates in Prison

By FRASER EDWARDS

WASHINGTON, May 7. (UP)—"Old Dunk," the jumbo elephant in the circus here today was less of a curiosity to the children of the capital than Harry Ford Sinclair, multimillionaire oil magnate, to his fellow prisoners in the district jail.

After giving this compulsory 90-day guest of the government for defying the senate a critical "once over," the jail inmates voted him a "good fellow." He may be number 42,000 to the jail authorities, but he is "Mr. Sinclair" to the prisoners.

Makes Best of It

The portly oil man apparently has accepted his fate and is striving to adjust himself to the unfamiliar sight of iron bars and early rising and retiring hours and the rigid routine of prison life. And Maj. William L. Peake, superintendent of the jail, described him as a "model prisoner."

A quarter of a century rolled back for Sinclair as he began rolling pills again. He started in life as a druggist and the jail authorities put him back at his old profession just as soon as they learned that he was a graduate pharmacist of the University of Kansas.

Helps Make Pills

Just above the office of the jail, Sinclair spent his first day of incarceration in the laboratory making up a supply of cold and la grippe pills, under the direction of Dr. Morris Hyman, the jail physician. He also aided the doctor perform a minor operation on a fellow inmate.

"Mr. Sinclair is a willing worker, but he is a little out of practice and a little slow just now. It will all come back to him in no time," commented Dr. Hyman on his assistant.

And Sinclair himself has an assistant, Miss Mary Kathleen Wright, jail nurse, a beautiful brunette with sparkling blue eyes and the effervescent celtic disposition. The gallant oil man, however, described himself as the "second man" to Miss Wright.

It was visitors' day at the district jail, but not for "white folks." Therefore, Sinclair was not "receiving." His attorney George T. Stanford spent a few minutes with him, but when Maj. Gen. John Murray

Mayor Commands Scribes To Leave Lindy Alone

ENGLEWOOD, N. J., May 7. (UP)—With all the righteous indignation of a Gene Tunney, Mayor Douglas G. Thomson of Englewood today informed newspaper reporters who have been seeking vainly to interview Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and Miss Anne Morrow that they were regarded as "public nuisances" and would not be allowed hereafter near the Morrow estate.

The mayor said that the Morrows and Lindbergh were "tired of being annoyed" by the recent efforts of the reporters to obtain information on the forthcoming wedding of the flying colonel and his fiancee.

Iowa Park Home Burns When Lamp Explodes

Special to The Record News.

IOWA PARK, Texas, May 7.—The explosion of a lamp in the residence of William Anderson, near here on the Iowa Park-Wichita Falls highway, started a blaze which destroyed the home entirely early tonight. No one was injured. The loss was estimated at $2,000, about $900 of which was said to be covered by insurance.

GRAIN RATES TO BE SLASHED

Conference Called on Road Proposal

WASHINGTON, May 7. (AP)—A conference of representatives of all interests affected by the proposed voluntary reduction in railroad rates on export grain has been called by the Interstate Commerce Commission to be held in Washington beginning next Tuesday morning.

WESTERN LINES ANNOUNCE PLAN

CHICAGO, May 7. (UP)—Emergency freight rate reductions to help the farmers market this year's crop and last year's surplus were announced today by the western trunk lines.

The rate reductions on wheat and wheat flour range from 5½ cents to 11½ cents per 100 pounds and will be in effect only until Sept. 30 of this year.

In announcing that the new temporary rate schedule would be filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission, the western trunk lines explained that the reductions should not be regarded as establishing a precedent but merely an emergency measure to aid the agricultural situation.

"Neither is it an admission by the carriers that present rates are too high," the announcement said. "It is believed that the abnormal rates will relieve the present situation in helping market this year's wheat crop and last year's surplus."

The new rate schedules will be placed in effect as soon as approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

TENSION GRIPS FARM FORCES

Single Vote May Decide Debenture Plan

WASHINGTON, May 7. (US)—Administration leaders tonight started a last-minute round-up of votes to defeat the debenture plan on the test vote tomorrow.

Reporting to President Hoover at the White House, Republican Floor Leader Watson said that the outcome was wholly in doubt. In fact the indications were that the issue might be decided by the margin of a single vote.

A number of unofficial polls were taken by party leaders and newspapermen, all of which indicated the voting strength was about equally divided between the Hoover forces and the Democratic-insurgent coalition which is trying to write the debenture plan into the farm bill.

There is a bare possibility that a tie vote may result, which would give Vice President Curtis an opportunity to cast his first vote. The expectations were that, if the opportunity arose, he would vote in opposition to the debenture.

Debate in the senate was given over to sniping against the administration farm bill by Senators Wheeler, Democrat of Montana, and Howell, Republican of Nebraska.

Wheeler asserted that the loaning of $500,000,000 through the proposed farm bill presented "enormous possibilities of political corruption."

Llano School Boys Win Livestock Honors

Llano, Texas, May 7. (AP)—Two school boys of Llano have shown unusual ability in raising livestock.

One of the lads, Eugene Atchison, 14, had charge of a calf that showed a gain of 400 pounds over a feeding period of five and one-half month. The calf brought a net income of $36.

The other youth, Worth Spinks, raised a calf that showed a gain of 420 pounds over a like period. His calf weighed 960 pounds.

Victoria Tax Collector Found Shot to Death

VICTORIA, Texas, May 7. (UP)—Edwin W. Klein, 49, tax collector of Victoria county of the past 20 years, ended his life in the bathroom of his home here at noon today by shooting himself in the forehead with a pistol.

City's Soap Bill From Hard Water $250,000 Year, Douglass Reveals

Addresses by Sam Hord of the Wichita Falls Oxygen company and Dr. A. H. Douglass, general manager of the city water department, featured the regular monthly meeting of the Technical club Tuesday night at the Wichita club.

Dr. Douglass gave a summary of the water methods used here stating that the cost of soap used in the softening program here cost the city $210,000 a year, which would more than pay for a water softener.

The approximate cost of operating the lime-soda method of softening water would cost the city $52,000 a year while the Zeolite system should cost $72,000.

The average cost of taking odors and tastes from water used here is between $125 and $200 a day.

The lime softening process is more desirable as a softening method as it dechemicalizes the water. The effect of the hard water in rusting and damaging pipes, plumbing fixtures, radiators and other materials was also discussed by Dr. Douglass.

Mr. Hord gave his address on "The Manufacture and Use of Oxygen," giving a history of the development of the industry and its principal uses.

Several piano selections were furnished by Kenneth Watson.

SWEEPING INCREASES IN TARIFFS DRAW STRONG OPPOSITION

GARNER URGES 'FAIR PLAY'

Texan Pleads for Right To Offer Amendments

By ARTHUR HACHTEN

WASHINGTON, May 7. (US)—Fully 20 per cent of the rates in the tariff structure are raised in the new tariff bill introduced in the house today by the Republican members of the ways and means committee.

Designed to plug "leaks" in the tariff wall, the measure makes sweeping increases in levies on agricultural products, textiles, sugar, manufactured goods and a few minerals, all with the purpose of giving greater protection to home industry.

Publication of the bill immediately unloosed a torrent of opposition to many of its features, foreshadowing a bitter battle. Some of the spokesmen for the farmers were plainly disappointed.

Caucuses Held

State delegations immediately began holding caucuses to shape their course in the struggle. The California and Minnesota delegations were first to assemble. The big parade to rip open the bill was begun.

The ways and means committee majority flatly rejected the demand of beet sugar interests for a limitation on duty-free imports of that commodity from the Philippine Islands.

Section 315, the so-called flexible provision of existing law, was amended to permit the president, upon findings by the tariff commission, to raise or lower rates up to 50 per cent of the amounts fixed in the bill, whenever "competitive conditions" in an industry warrant.

The commission is reorganized under the new bill, so as to have seven members, instead of the present six. It cuts short the terms of the present members and permits the president to appoint commissioners regardless of party affiliation.

Garner Asks Fairness

Immediately after Chairman Hawley of the ways and means committee dropped the controversial measure in the house hopper, Representative John N. Ganrer of Texas, Democratic floor leader and tariff spokesman for his party, demanded that the Republicans give the minority "fair play" in consideration of the measure.

Garner insisted that the Republicans, having a majority of more than 100 members, ought not to be afraid to permit the Democrats to offer amendments to any features of the bill. It would be "unAmerican and unpatriotic" for the Republicans to shut off the Democrats, he said.

Indications were, however, that the Republicans will report a special rule limiting amendments to a few sections and giving individual members an opportunity to offer amendments on other parts only in the event the bill is read that far.

SENATE VOTES DAIRY BILL

Counties Given Authority To Employ Experts

The bill to permit the employment of dairy experts by the counties of Texas sponsored here to develop the dairy industry finally passed the senate on Monday, according to a message received by S. B. Jackson, executive manager of the Wichita county breeding farm near Iowa Park, from Senator W. D. McFarlane.

The bill was introduced in the senate by Senator McFarlane and was introduced in the house by Representatives Long and Storey. It was favorably reported by the house committee on livestock raising Monday.

Long Island Pastor Dies of Heart Attack

BEAUMONT, Texas, May 7. (AP)—Rev. Robert M. W. Black of Douglaston, Long Island, N. Y., who had been conducting services at St. Mark's Episcopal church here for the last five weeks, was found dead this afternoon in bed in his room at a local hotel. A verdict of death by heart attack induced by acute indigestion was announced by Justice of the Peace R. A. McReynolds, ex-officio coroner.

City Offers Garbage To Hog Raisers Here

Hog raisers who desire garbage from restaurants and hotels for feeding hogs may be supplied with it by hauling it away from the city dump, Dr. J. M. Farrell, chief city sanitary inspector, said Monday.

About 20 barrels of garbage are being buried by the city each day at the dump, but hog raisers may use it for feed if they want to haul it away, Dr. Farrell said.

SINCLAIR DOES LIGHT LABORS

Oil Man Welcomed by His Fellow Prisoners

Jenkins, U. S. A., retired, who described himself as "an old friend" alighted at the grim red stone jail, he was denied the privilege of seeing Sinclair.

Sunday is the regular visitors' day and the oil man expects to see Mrs. Sinclair, his brother, E. W. Sinclair and his lawyers at that time. Meanwhile, his only associates will be the prisoners.

When Sinclair's daily stunt was done, he is reported to have eaten a hearty dinner of the prison fare, consisting of beef stew, bread and butter, coffee and stewed prunes. He also is reported to have slept "without rocking" when the prison lights went out at the regulation hour of 9 o'clock.

Sinclair was the first one up in the jail. He arose at 5 o'clock after spending his first night in jail between a Syrian gambler, convicted on a bookmaking charge and an Irish embezzler. He slept in iron cot No. 62, the third from the window in the large dormitory reserved for the "white collar boys."

The embezzler, a "trusty" in the office, reported that the millionaire was a bit restless, as a result of his sudden change of environment, despite the fact that he slept in silk pajamas. Sinclair sat up several times to smoke a cigarette during the night.

While Major Peake insists that he will not give the oil man any "special break," he was not required to don the blue denim overalls worn by most of the prisoners. Just like all of the skilled and clerical prisoners, Sinclair was permitted to wear his well-tailored blue suit. He changed his shirt to a tan silk and put a scarfpin in his necktie.

After breakfast, Sinclair held an impromptu reception in the "white collar" dormitory. He shook hands with all of the 61 cell mates and to each he is reported to have said:

"I'm glad to meet you. I hope you will help me do my part."

Most of those in the "line" were a bit embarrassed and one young man convicted on a minor charge said:

"Gee, Mr. Sinclair, I've seen you lots of times out at the tracks, but I never expected to meet you in here."

"We all get bad breaks once in a while," replied the oil man with a smile.

REPORTERS BARRED FROM PRISON

WASHINGTON, May 7. (UP)—An official order barring newspapermen from visiting the district jail during the incarceration of Harry F. Sinclair, multimillionaire, serving 90 days for contempt of the senate was issued tonight by George S. Wilson, district director of public welfare.

Dinnis Dixon Given 40 Years

SHERMAN, Texas, May 7. (AP)—Dennis M. Dixon, charged with murdering W. L. Echols, Van Alystyne night watchman, March 21, was found guilty and his penalty assessed at 40 years in the penitentiary by a jury in the district court here today.

Robert Mason, also charged with murder, was to face trial in the 15th district court here tomorrow morning.

Echols was shot fatally when he did not raise his hands at the command of men he caught in an alley behind a bank.

Clifford Harris of Dallas testified that Dixon agreed to hold up Echols after Paul Artiste, alias Robert Mason, said "if Echols is out of the way the town is ours."

A signed confession, alleged to have been made by Dixon at Coleman after his arrest, was introduced. It said Dixon emptied his pistol at Echols and that Echols fired several shots later.

Death of Texas Girl And Her Suitor Investigated

HOUSTON, Texas, May 7. (AP)—"Late dates" of Miss Olina Wunsche, 20, were reviewed by her friends today to county investigators probing her death and that of Edward Stone, 21, near Aldine Friday.

Jealousy between Stone and another suitor, whom investigators learned had both had dates with Miss Wunsche on the same night, was considered a possible motive for the crime. Heated words between the two youths occurred at least twice, it was learned. At times, one of the youths had taken Miss Wunsche to a dance and the other had taken her home.

"On the morning before Mr. Cox was killed that night, daddy told mother he was going to Abilene and wouldn't be back until about 10 o'clock that night," Elmo testified.

"My 14-year-old sister and I went in the car with daddy to Lamesa where sister and I went to high school. Before I left him that morning daddy told me it was getting late and that he might not go to Abilene. He said he had heard that Mr. Cox was offering insults to mother and that he had known of it for about 10 days.

"Daddy had been informed that Cox was bothering our home. He said we couldn't take anybody's word, and that we had to find out for ourselves. He said he would like to have me there because he was afraid we kids might blame him for being too hasty if one of us didn't go with him.

Boy Accompanies Father

"I met him near Lamesa at 7:30 that night and we drove to a field a mile from the store in Klondyke. We walked across the field to some cotton bales near the gin and stayed there sitting on our hands and knees for about an hour, watching the gin. Daddy had a pistol and I carried the 12-guage shotgun. He had loaded the shotgun with buckshot.

"We decided I should go get the car and shine the lights on the house. Daddy said he would be near the large ice box on the front porch of the store and that if Mr. Cox was in the house he wouldn't come back. There were no lights in the store or in the back room where the family lived.

"When I got back with the car I saw a dark object in front of the store. It looked like a body. Daddy and mother were standing in the door. He had the gun in his hand, and mother was crying.

"Daddy told me to take the gun and go see if I could find Mr. Cox. I told him I had better go get Frank Harris, a deputy sheriff, and he said all right. I took the car and went after Mr. Harris, who lived nearby."

On cross examination, young Duke declared his father did not say at any time before the tragedy that he intended to kill Cox.

Harris, who testified concerning the position of the body, declared he did not find a gun near Cox.

Pastor Deplored Act

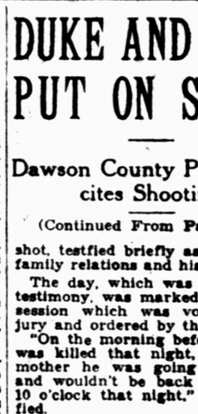

"When I walked into the store Brother Duke met me," Harris said. "I took his shotgun. He said, 'Frank, I hated to do this. I'd rather die myself'."

The court room was packed today, and the usual lunch carriers who were afraid they might lose their seats were present. Deputies went through the seated crowds and escorted out of the court room all children obviously under 16.

A Message To Underweight Men and Women

The one supremely good health building tonic that is also the one great weight producer known to modern science the country over is McCoy's Tablets.

They build flesh where flesh is needed—sunken cheeks, neck and chest—and many a man and woman, skinny and scrawny, have thanked McCoy's after a few weeks treatment for the decided improvement in looks and figure.

Many times the increase in weight is astonishing—one exceedingly thin woman gained 10 pounds in 22 days.

McCoy takes all the risk—Read this ironclad guarantee. If after taking 4 sixty cent boxes of McCoy's Tablets or 2 One Dollar boxes any thin, underweight man or woman doesn't gain at least 5 pounds and feel completely satisfied with the marked improvement in health—your money will be refunded.

Just ask for McCoy's Tablets at Renfro Drug Company—or any drug store. Distributed by McCoy's Laboratories, Inc., also distributors of McCoy's Cod Liver Oil—there is none better.—Adv.

Mother of Eight Boys

"I read an ad in the newspaper and I started taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I will recommend this medicine to any woman who is in bad shape like I was. I used to get so tired after a few hours' work that I was even afraid in my own house in the daytime. I didn't care if I lived or died. I have given birth to eight boys and I feel strong right after, since I have taken the Compound."

NOT any more than people are attracted to a rare work of art—or anything else of outstanding fineness—by its price, are Pierce-Arrows sold through the purse appeal. But this doesn't mean that Pierce-Arrow owners buy extravagantly, or without definite regard for value received.

Where the new Straight Eight by Pierce-Arrow is concerned, no other fine automobile, including its own illustrious predecessors, ever offered so much—in beauty, in fashion, or in performance—in every expression of actual dollar's worth.

But there is more than that to Pierce-Arrow ownership: There is the unfailingly delightful reassurance of possessing the most distinguished of all automobiles—the very finest thing of its kind.

Arriving at the psychological moment, the new Straight Eight is meeting today the greatest waiting demand in all Pierce-Arrow history.

SCHOOL GIRL KILLED, 10 PUPILS HURT AS BUS OVERTURNS

TIRE BLOWOUT BRINGS DEATH

Wilson, Okla., Vehicle With 63 Aboard Crashes

WILSON, Okla., May 7. (UP)—A tire blowout caused a school bus to leave the highway, turning over several times and causing fatal injuries to one girl and serious injury to 10 other school children.

The accident happened two miles north of here while the bus loaded with 63 children, was en route to school.

Athlee Cox, 13, died in an Ardmore hospital shortly after the crash.

The driver, H. B. Merriott, said the wheels locked after the blowout, causing the bus to turn over several times. He said he was traveling about 25 miles an hour.

Merriott was seriously cut and was taken with the injured children to an emergency hospital established here.

The injured: Buford Bain, Carey Watkins, Glena Mills, Miss Fant, Cordell Proster, Leroy Schellenberger, Kathleen Kirkpatrick, Elve Burris, Jewell Fuller and Maxine Noona.

BULL CIRCLE AT PLAINVIEW

First Holstein-Friesian Circle Formed

Special to The Record News

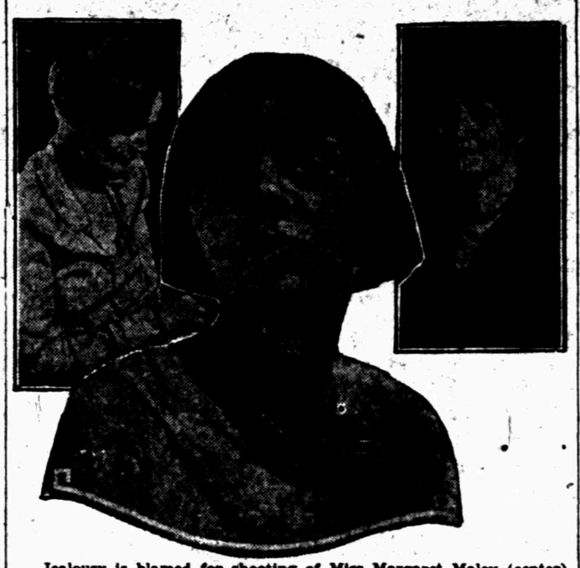

PLAINVIEW, Texas, May 7.—The first Holstein Friesian bull circle in Hale county is being organized and will be completed this week upon the arrival of five purebred bulls from the farm of Price's dairy at El Paso, purchased by County Agent R. M. Milhollin for Gilbert W. Louthan and A. N. Reddinger of Hale Center, G. W. Robertson of Plainview, George Hinkle of Kress, and A. S. Nafzgar of Olton.

The animals all have high production behind them, the dams of the bulls averaging over 528 pounds butterfat or better, and the sires, 900 pounds and better. The two highest producing sires of the animals come from dams averaging 1,120 pounds.

Hale county has long been noted for its seven Jersey bull circles, and is now furnishing Jersey animals for bull circles in other counties. Recently there has been a demand fore purebred Holsteins, and the organization of this circle resulted. Milhollin expects to perfect a Guernsey bull circle during the next few weeks.

Blame Jealousy for Shooting

Jealousy is blamed for shooting of Miss Margaret Maley (center), by Mrs. Josephine Green Conrad (left), divorcee, who then turned the pistol on herself. Neither shot was fatal. Both are members of wealthy families in Evansville, Ind. Mrs. Harold Van Orman (right), wife of former lieutenant governor and herself a candidate for mayor, was at party where shooting took place.

BLACK EYE FOR U. S. ACTORS

Lya de Putti Deplores Love As It's Done Here

LONDON, May 7. (INS)—"Never, never will I appear in another film in Hollywood. The place deadens you. There is no opera there, no theater, no life, nb talk such as one finds in London, Budapest or Paris."

So says Lya de Putti, the little Hungarian film actress who has come to London to work in British films.

Shocked by Hollywood's broken romances, which, she says, are caused by lack of "true love," Miss De Putti thinks the divorce scandals of America's film world will spell ruin for the pictures.

"All this public talk of love affairs and divorce frightens one," she told International News Service. "The people will think that no film artist can lead a life of happiness in marriage. I cannot understand these people. They have no discipline. They dream only of their money and their luxury. They think they have a rule unto themselves only.

"They will kill the pictures—those who want to advertise their stupid marriages. For the public, marriage, I think, is still a serious thing.

"And it is for me, too," she added earnestly, forgetting for a moment that, in the eyes of the public she was supposed to be a voluptuous little woman-of-the-world who had "vamped" her way to success on the screen as a wrecker of homes. She continued:

"I know what love can be. I have loved and been loved, but my love has always been my own secret. When I am married I shall have a husband who will still let me work at my pictures, but my marriage will be a sacred thing which will never, never be broken.

"We shall have children and I will rear them to be brave boys and gracious girls. I shall not tell the world of little quarrels, and—how do you say it?—tiffs, I may have with my husband."

LUBBOCK FORMS ROSE EXCHANGE

'Flower Showers' Planned By Society

Special to The Record News.

LUBBOCK, Texas, May 7.—A flower exchange has been organized by the Federated Missionary society which will give local people a medium of exchanging flowers for transplanting and which will be climaxed by several "flower showers," when flowers will be given to patients at all the hospitals and sanitariums here and to other sick people.

The spirit of spring was injected into the meeting as the society appointed members of the committee to handle the details of the exchange and requested that all people of Lubbock cooperate in the movement.

Mrs. Henry T. Kimbro is president of the federation and others of the committee are Mesdames T. W. Sawyer, W. C. Rylander, W. F. Denny and Hazel G. Lewery.

The exchange has been operated here in previous years and has been instrumental in making the city more beautiful.

Following the plant exchange this spring, the work will be carried on through the summer when thousands of cut flowers of every sort together with roses will be carried to all the hospitals in a shower of flowers. One of these showers will be given sometime in June, the other late in September.

The committee of women are urging everyone who possibly can, to plant and grow flowers which will not only make the city a more attractive place in which to live, but which will in turn bring joy to the hearts of Lubbock's sick and shutins, not to mention the many hundreds of out of town people who are patients or visiting at local sanitariums and hospitals.

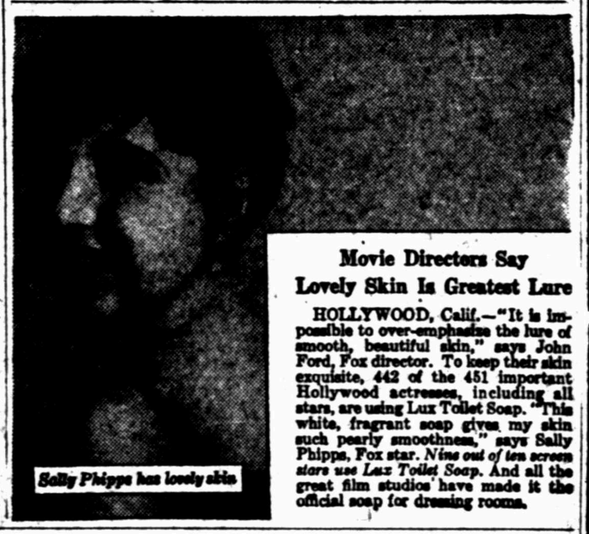

"We are extremely anxious to have Lubbock known as a city of flowers," Mrs. W. C. Rylander says, "thus we are again opening the flower exchange."

Testimony in Vestris Disaster Doesn't Jibe, Tuttle Finds

NEW YORK, May 7. (AP)—Discrepancies between testimony here and in London concerning the sinking of the Lamport and Holt liner Vistris threatened today to result in action against witnesses for conspiracy to defeat justice.

U. S. Atty. Charles H. Tuttle has requested the British consul general and the United States attorney general to supply him with a transcript of the testimony being taken before the British board of trade for comparison with testimony at the federal hearing here last October.

SUN'S ECLIPSE DUE THURSDAY

Astronomers Await Chance To Make Observation

points, and others the elevated interiors.

Several 40 and 60-foot telescopes have been set up, some in regions that hitherto seldom have had structures more pretentious than huts. A number of expeditions are cooperating with others farther along the line.

Weather records give the best possibility of visibility to the Philippines, but there the eclipse lasts only four minutes. The parties in the Philippines include Swarthmore college and United States naval observatory astronomers. Harvard has an expedition in the Malay peninsula.

The greater portion of the path of the total eclipse is over water. It begins at sunrise in the Indian ocean, near the southern end of Africa, and ends at sunset in the Pacific ocean, taking five hours and 15 minutes to cross the daylight belt.

A partial eclipse will be visible over a considerable portion of southern Africa, about all of India and some of China, much of Japan and most of Australia.

EINSTEIN THEORY KEPT IN MIND

BANGKOK, Siam, May 7. (UP)—Important scientific advances may develop Thursday—weather and circumstances concurring—when the moon is scheduled to trail its shadow across the Eastern Hemisphere.

Five scientific expeditions were prepared tonight to view the five-minute total eclipse of the sun from strategic points in the narrow area on the earth's surface which will be in total darkness.

American expeditions in Sumatra and the Philippines, German groups in Sumatra, Siam and the Philippines and the central British expedition at Pattini, Siam, are awaiting the period of totality to further man's knowledge in various fields.

Practically all groups of the several expeditions will bend special effort to verification of the Einstein theory of deflection of light—visible only in a period of complete eclipse. A test star has been studied and photographed for comparison with photographs and observations to be made during the eclipse which will determine just how much a ray of starlight is bent by proximity to the sun—an important factor in calculations based on the Einstein theory.

The flaming tongues of the Corona, the brilliant halo about the moon during eclipse, will be carefully observed to determine just how the sun conserves its energy. There may be a clue to the successive glacial and tropical periods through which the earth has passed and perhaps science will gain another notch in the advance to long distance weather forecasting.

Body of Missing Girl Student Is Found

MONTREAL, Que., May 7. (AP)—A continent-wide search for Miss Barbara Pitcher, missing McGill university student who disappeared from here March 21, was brought to an end today with the finding of the young woman's body in Back river, near a convent at Sault au Recollect. Workmen also found the body of a young man at the same spot. The youth's body had apparently been in the water for two or three days.

Morgue officials stated Miss Pitcher's body appeared to have been in the water for some time—probably since the day she was missing—and showed no marks of violence.

Kansas and Oklahoma Squabble Over Car Tags

TOPEKA, Kan., May 7. (UP)—The commanders in chief of the armies of Kansas and Oklahoma—the governors of the two states—were trying today to get together to agree upon a peace treaty to settle the border warfare over the automobile license tag controversy and the naval forces of the two states may be called into the fight if peace is not declared.

Gov. Clyde Reed put in a long distance call for the governor of Oklahoma, but the line of communication seemed to be down and there was trouble in making connections.

DID NOT FEEL LIKE WORKING

When Constipation Ails Him, Construction Superintendent Takes Black-Draught

Pulaski, Va.—Mr. E. W. Cecil, the superintendent of construction of the county schools here, says he has been a user of Thedford's Black-Draught for thirty years and has found it "a splendid medicine."

"When I first began taking it," says Mr. Cecil, "I was suffering with indigestion, a tightness and smothering in the chest. Any one who has had this trouble knows what a disagreeable feeling it is, and what a relief it is, to find something to help him.

"I found Black-Draught would relieve me, when taken in small doses, and that is how I began using it.

"I also take Black-Draught for constipation. When I get constipated, my head aches, and I have that dull, tired feeling, just not equal to my work. I don't feel hungry, and I know that I need something to cleanse my system, so I take Black-Draught.

"It has been a kind of a household remedy for my family. We have found it to be a great help, all these years."

MYSTERY MAN

Prominent Dallasite May Be Heard in Probe Of Patronage

WASHINGTON, May 7. (AP)—Resumption of its investigation into the disposal of federal appointments in Texas was promised today by chairman Brookhart of the senate patronage committee if the senate recesses before the special session adjourns.

Brookhart said he believed the committee would take advantage of the recess to go to Dallas and hear additional witnesses, whose names have been suggested by a "prominent man." This man, Brookhart said, has offered some new information which may bring "important" development concerning the operation of the Republican organization in Texas headed by R. E. Creager, national committeeman.

WOMEN BACK FOOD SHOW

Exhibits Open at Lubbock May 9

Special to The Record News.

PLAINVIEW, Texas, May 7.—Twenty-eight exhibits of individual food products will feature the pure food show at Plainview being arranged and sponsored by the Federated Women's clubs of Plainview, May 9, 10 and 11 in the Plainview municipal auditorium.

The federated clubs have been working for several months advertising the show, and arranging for the food exhibits, and expect a large attendance. In addition to the exhibits, a large country store feature will be staged each evening.

The proceeds of the show will go to a fund for building a Women's Club house in Plainview. Several hundreds of dollars have already been raised from other sources for the construction of the building.

MEMBER OF CRAP GAME SHOT DOWN FROM BUSH

CAMERON, Texas, May 7. (AP)—Jesse Roper, 24, was shot to death when he went into the woods near Gause for a dice game, and a grand jury was investigating today.

Roper, six other men who were with him in the woods said, was shot from ambush. None of them would admit further knowledge of the killing.

KISSES SPEAK PLAINER THAN WORDS

When your little ones are half-sick, out-of-sorts, they can seldom tell you what is wrong. You have to read their symptoms in order to choose the right medicine. If, when ou kiss them, you detect unpleasant breath, you have a sure sign that the bowels are sluggish; that the stomach is sour and bilious.

For a child constipated, feverish, languid, fretful, wakeful at night, lacking appetite and subject to colds and sore throat, you will find a reliable remedy in California Fig Syrup. It is the finest laxative in the world for children. Little ones previously always half-sick, fretful and backward through sluggish bowels and poor digestion, take a wonderful turn for the better and thrive amazingly when the bowels have been helped back to healthy regularity by an occasional dose of California Fig Syrup. Millions of mothers have proved its merit and have been relieved of further worry and anxiety from their child's constipation.

If you have a child bothered like this or one who is subject to frequent, bilious attacks and sick headache, save the little one this suffering, and yourself constant anxiety by giving California Fig Syrup. Get a bottle today. All drug stores.

California Fig Syrup has been trusted by the World's mothers for over 30 years. That is why the word "California" should be emphasized when buying.—Adv.

Art School Student Who Worked As Waiter Wins $8,000 Scholarship

NEW YORK, May 7. (AP)—John M. Sitton of Greenville, S. C., who has helped pay his way through Yale Art school by working as a waiter, is to receive $8,000 for three years' study of painting in Rome. He has won the prix de Rome.

WASHINGTON.—Taps are to sound for the champion army transport Thomas. In 30 years, starting with the Spanish war and ending with the San Francisco-Manila route she has carried more than 40,000 officers and 200,000 men. Soon she is to be sold to the highest bidder.

NEW YORK—Sundry suits are being made for Col. Lindbergh. "His taste is inclined toward conservative materials and style," said a Fifth avenue tailor. Anne Morrow's aunt insists he is "Charles" to all the family and not "Augustus."

STAMBOUL, Turkey—The Modern Turish woman unwinds red tape by "squeezing out a faint." Such is the idiom for a mock swoon which is becoming a popular method of getting attention from government officials to matters of taxes and the like. At the first possible moment the government official gives orders that matters of business pressed by the fainting person be attended to forthwith.

NEW YORK—There's to be a $50,000,000 residential city of skyscraper homes in the Wall Street district. A syndicate is to erect apartments facing the Hudson. The idea is to enable men of affairs to live a stone's throw from business instead of travelling miles through congestion.

SAN FRANCISCO — Old Soak probably will raise ructions in Washington. A message from the steamship President Wilson says that Secretary Stimson's parrot, now en route from Manila, has chewed three buttons off the captain' coat. "I am sure the man who instituted 'be kind to animals week' never met Old Soak," the message adds.

Embargo Lifted On Goods Across Border

NOGALES, Ariz., May 7. (AP)—The embargo placed by the United States upon shipments across the border when Mexican rebels occupied Nogales, Sonora, was lifted today with the arrival here of Gen. Plutarco Elias Calles. The federal commander in chief arrived by airplane from Agua Prieta, Sonora, accompanied by Gov. Abelardo Rodriguez of Baja, Calif. Shortly after the embargo was lifted 21 carloads of freight consigned to Mexico crossed.

GERMANY MAY ALTER ANSWER

Owen D. Young Requests Memorandum Change

PARIS, May 7. (INS)—Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, chief of the German reparation delegation, was instructed this evening by Owen D. Young, chairman of the Expert's committee, and Sir Josiah Stamp, first delegate of the British group, to revise his memorandum of German reservations accompanying Germany's conditional acceptance of the Young plan.

It was officially denied that the delay means a refusal to accept the German stipulations. The revision was decided upon to avoid subsequent lengthy discussions.

The memorandum, as revised, must include reservations and figures.

Sir Josiah will collaborate with Dr. Schacht in revamping the memorandum.

It is expected that the work will be completed in time for the allied experts to get the revised document tomorrow.

Sir Josiah's collaboration will extend only to reservations, and will not include the figures.

"At the request of the allies, Chairman Young will write a supplementary memorandum dealing with reparation figures," an American spokesman informed International News Service.

WHEAT TESTING BILL FAVORED

Farmer May Get Benefit of Protein Content

WASHINGTON, May 7. (UP)—A bill authorizing the department of agriculture to examine wheat in order that farmers may get the financial benefits from that having high protein contents was voted a favorable report today by the senate agriculture committee.

The bill, introduced by Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, authorizes an appropriation of $285,000 to establish testing laboratories in the wheat growing states.

Proponents of the measure explained wheat now is tested when it reaches the various markets and local dealers get the benefit of higher prices for wheat of high protein contents.

THE KATY IS YOUR RAILROAD

The Katy's Growth

Freight service performed for the Southwest by the Katy Railroad has increased over 500 per cent in the past thirty years. Constant investments of new capital to expand and construct additional facilities have been required to provide this increased service.

During this thirty-year period $145,000,000 has been expended by the Katy for transportation improvements, approximately $60,000,000 having been expended for improvement purposes since 1914.

The KATY First

THE construction of the Missouri-Kansas-Texas Railroad meant to the Southwest what the completion of the Pacific railroads did to the West. In 1872, the first train on the first railroad (the Katy) crossed Red River into Texas from the North, connecting the Southwest with its natural traffic gateways to the North and East.

An artery was thus tied through which started a flow of commerce over thousands of miles of virgin territory. In the half century that has elapsed, the great Southwest empire has grown up along the Katy.

The Pioneer in its territory, the Katy is a distinctive railroad. It is the only railroad serving all the more important centers in Oklahoma and Texas from both Kansas City and St. Louis, and always a leader in improvement of rail service to and from the Southwest. Growing with the Southwest, it has been and will continue to be a most important factor in the progress of the community it serves.

Constant Katy improvements contribute directly to the Southwest's development and prosperity. Safe, Fast, Dependable and Comfortable transportation are benefits enjoyed through modern Katy Service.

STUDY CLUB CLOSES YEAR

Progressive Dinner Party Ends Activities

The year's activities of the Wichita Falls Music Study club closed Tuesday night with a progressive dinner party given for the women o fthe club and their husbands, concluding with an informal program at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Priddy, 1012 Harrison street.

The first course of the dinner was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Bebb, 508 Filmore, where cleverly disguised place cards afforded pleasant means of forming new acquaintance. The party moved to the home of Mr .and Mrs. J. E. Hall, 200 McGregor, for the plate course, and was entertained by Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Hamilton, 1723 Lucile, for the third course. Here they were entertained with two dances by little Frances Hope Hamilton. The dinner concluded with a dessert course at the Priddy home, where the dining room was a delightful ensemble of color, with tinted candles and a profusion of home-grown flowers completing the color scheme used in the menu.

Mrs. W. C. Hamilton and Mrs. J. V. Allred entertained with piano numbers before the introduction of the male guests who had been selected for the concluding entertainment of the evening. Chosen on the basis of closest resemblance, Wayne J. Holmes, luxuriantly gowned, impersonated Madame Schumann-Heink in an effective rendition of "Swanee River." Mrs. Kenneth Bebb, president-elect of the club, was then arraigned before a court over which O. C. Nochols and W. M. Priddy presided, charged with "killing the personality of her children through too great activity in musical organizations of the city." The state was represented by Jimmy Allred, while Jouette M. Bonner defended Mrs. Bebb. Spirited legal tangles before a jury composed of "Mme. Schumann-Heink," Mrs. Priddy and Mrs. Hamilton was productive of brilliant exchanges which obviously taxed the court's knowledge of jurisprudence. Cross-questioning served to develop a high degree of resourcefulness on the part of various witnesses. Mrs. Bebb was convicted, and will serve as president of the club during the ensuing year.

The following couples were present: Mr. and Mrs. Jouette M. Bonner, Mr. an Mrs. Kenneth Bebb, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne J. Holmes, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Hall, Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Allred, Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Nichols, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Sharp, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Barron, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Van Wormer, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Priddy, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Underwood.

Blue Curtain Players To Repeat Fall Success

"The Brat," by Maude Fulton, a three-act comedy of national reputation, which was presented by the Blue Curtain Players of Wichita Falls Junior college in the fall semester as perhaps the best play ever presented by the Blue Curtain, will be repeated in a second performance Thursday night, May 9, for the benefit of the college annual. So many requests for a repetition came in the fall when it was impossible to repeat with the holidays at hand that it had been planned to repeat it some time before the end of school, it was said.

All of the original cast is at hand to present the play again. Constance Castile, who is a student in Baylor university of Waco has wired that she will return in time for the rehearsals and will participate in Thursday's performance. Mrs. W. L. Bass, formerly Harriett Peterson, has also expressed her desire to take the role in which she did the best acting in her Blue Curtain career.

He "Knocks Knob" in 58 Seconds as Deputies Cheer Work

The arts and graces of knob-knocking, to say nothing of the expert's tools and the taking way he has with safety vaults, were rushed to the aid of law and sobriety in a recent whisky raid in Shawnee, Okla., according to a version of the affair which reached the ears of S. O. Hamm ,state highway officer, Tuesday.

It seems that the sheriff and his deputies at Shawnee, armed with a search warrant, investigated every nook of a suspected booze joint except a certain over-sized, formidable looking safe. Before it they paused and sniffed. Suspicion grew into near certainty when the owner obstinately refused to work the combination and reveal the contents of the big vault.

Adept as they are in their capacity as officers of the law, the deputies had no persuasive ways with safes. They talked of dynamite; they wondered about T. N. T. Then one of them thought of Frank Davis.

Frank Davis is held in the Shawnee jail under federal charges in connection with the robbery of a postoffice in Oklahoma. He was serving sentences which, laid end to end, would aggregate 81 years on convictions for burglary from Wichita county at the time of his recent escape from the state penitentiary.

The deputies considered the talents of Frank Davis.

They visited him in his cell and appealed to him. Davis went with them to the scene of the raid where the proprietor had erased the safe combination from his cuff and refused to try to remember. Davis asked for what he called "punches." He removed his coat. Lacking the delicacy and the finesse of a Jimmy Valentine, whose fingers and ears worked unaided, Davis still got results.

In 58 seconds, by the watch of a chief deputy, the safe door was opened. Davis amid the congratulations of the awe stricken officers, retired modestly to his cell.

Officers Delay Charges When Woman Refuses to Tell Name After Raid

A war-like young Wichita Falls woman who Monday treated a search warrant with disrespect, set the dog on the constables, and resolutely refused to give her name when she was taken into custody, remained under the shadow of anonymity Tuesday night. Members of the constable's department were embarrassed but not discouraged by her determination to remain nameless. Charges of the possession of 125 bottles of beer can not easily be filed against a Miss X. Frank Morgan explained, but added that some means of making the charge and bringing the young woman to trial would be found on Wednesday. Meanwhile she remains in the woman's ward of the Wichita county jail.

The woman was arrested late Monday afternoon after members of the department had searched her home and discovered 125 bottles of beer and 400 empties.

MRS. MOLLY GRAY

Funeral services for Mrs. Molly Gray, 59, who died Monday night at the family residence, 200 Cowan street, were conducted from the North Side Assembly of God Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Burial was in Riverside cemetery.

She is survived by her husband, J. W. Gray.

Demands for Family Relief Show Decrease

Expenditure of the Family Relief association for April showed a decrease of $973.58 over the corresponding period of 1928, according to the regular monthly report of Mrs. Effie McHam, executive secretary of the association, which was released Tuesday.

Total costs of the organization for the past month totaled $1,485.03 while expenses for the month of April, 1928, were $2,458.61.

A sum of $1,211.10 was expended for the relief of 136 families involving 1,600 persons during last month while in April, 1928, Mrs. McHam handled relief for families involving 1,970 persons at an expenditure of $2,159.07, the report showed.

The Family Relief association investigated 422 cases during April this year as compared with 606 in April 1928.

The large decline in the expenditures of the department have been dus largely to efficient and thorough investigations of every case which has been presented to the organization, Mrs. McHam declared.

The National Jewish Hospital provides treatment without charge for tubercular patients who are unable to provide such services.

62 Testimonials Given at Grant Street Revival

Sixty-two members of the congregation gave testimonials of the blessings they had received during the revival at the Tuesday night meeting at the Grant Street Methodist church.

Three new members joined the church and a baptismal ceremony was held after the sermon. Day services will start at 10 o'clock Thursday morning.

"A revival meeting has always been a sad thing to me," Rev. Patrick Dacus Moreland said, "because there are always some who come and warm their hands at the blaze and then after the meeting is over go back and say, 'I never knew Him.'"

Women of the congregation will hold an open house in the church at 2:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

BOY ARTIST GIVES RECITAL

James Hull, Violinist, Presented by Academy

James Hull, 14-year-old violinist, was presented in his finishing recital at the Academy of Mary Immaculate Tuesday evening.

In the brilliant execution of seven selected numbers, the young musician showed extraordinary promise and won the enthusiastic praise of a large crowd of friends and music lovers who attended the presentation. The boy's rendition of Bohn's intricate "Bolero," and the remarkable poise of his interpretation of "Adoration," by Borowski, excited especial attention.

Little Miss Erie Ward, the 12-year-old official accompanist for the academy, was at the piano. Her work, known through the numerous recitals in which she has appeared through the year, had already won wide recognition. Miss Tinsy Garrett, another 12-year-old musical artist, received much applause in two effective piano solos.

The little group of musicians was assisted in the program by Miss Josephine Bell, who delighted the audience with a group of entertaining readings.

Police Arrest Two In Thefts at Ringgold

Three men alleged to have stripped a tractor of its motor and parts near Ringgold, Texas, were arrested Tuesday by Pat Allen and Luke Hart, city detecti es.

The men were said to have brought the stolen parts of the machine here to sell as junk. They were arrested on suspicion by the two detectives who connected them with the robbery at Ringgold.

They were turned over to the sheriff's department of Montague county Tuesday by Chief of Police Frank Burns.

IKE WALTONS SOLICIT FUNDS

Anglers Urged to Help Finance Bass Ponds

Plans to raise money for maintaining the two reating ponds built by the Wichita Falls chapter of the Izaak Walton league at Lake Kemp were discussed at the regular monthly meeting of the local chapter Tuesday night at the county courthouse.

Anglers who use the lake should assist in paying for the project which is valued at $2,000 and which will be used for stocking the lake with fingerling bass, it was decided at the meeting. Persons wishing to make donations toward maintaining the ponds should communicate with J. W. Lee at the Noble-Little Hardware company, who is secretary of the chapter.

A committee to plan an Izaak Walton league fish fry on one of the lakes soon was appointed by Ben G. Oneal, president of the league.

Mr. Oneal gave a report of the Graham chapter of the league which he visited Monday night, stating that 55 new members were signed at the meeting. Great interest is being shown in the organization of an Izaak Walton chapter in Graham, Mr. Oneal said, with the chapter reaching 170 members during the month that it has been organized.

O'Possum Captured On White House Grounds

WASHINGTON, May 7. (US)—An o'possum was added to the White House menagerie today.

A White House guard discovered the marsupial while making his midnight rounds. It was promptly assigned to the cage which was built for Rebecca, the Coolidge's pet raccoon.

This morning the president and Mrs. Hoover named it "Billy" and said that it could have a permanent home there. It is the first pet adopted by the new administration.

Hot biscuit —in just about no time at all

It doesn't take much more time to mix up a batch of Snowdrift biscuit . . . than to get out your flour and milk and your mixing bowl . . . It's so creamy, you know, that only a few stirs of your spoon will mix it thoroughly with sugar or flour . . . Just try this recipe and see:

SOUTHERN TEA BISCUITS

3 Tablespoons Snowdrift
2 Cups Flour · 1 Tablespoon Sugar
½ Teaspoon Salt · 4 Tablespoons Baking Powder
¾ Cup Milk or Water

Measure dry ingredients and sift together into mixing bowl. Measure Snowdrift and cut into flour with two knives, and work in with fork until well distributed. Add liquids, mixing with a knife or spoon until a soft dough is made that can be handled on a board lightly floured. Handle and work as little as possible. Roll thin and cut with a small cutter. Place on greased pan or baking sheet and bake in a hot oven 450 degrees F. for 15 minutes.

Easy, isn't it? And what light, fluffy, melt-in-your-mouth biscuits they are! They're good to eat because Snowdrift itself is so good to eat.

May Breakfast at Woman's Forum Presents Outstanding Program

In rooms where baskets of gorgeous roses, boxes and baskets of single and double poppies, made a colorful setting, where miniature corsages of tiny flowers, tied with pink and orchid tulle made each cover beautiful, the program of the Woman's Forum May breakfast, given at the clubhouse Tuesday morning, reached a peak of excellence in the address of Dean D. M. Wiggins of Simmons university.

Mrs. J. C. A. Guest gave the invocation and introduced in her pleasing fashion, Mrs. P. P. Langford, who served as gracious toastmistress during the program.

Mrs. C. Y. Tully and Miss Modena Howell, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. J. W. Akin Jr., sang two lovely duets.

Mrs. Langford's introduction of the Junior Forum members was an exquisite tribute to that body and to their past year's sponsor, Mrs. Claude Woods and next year's leader, Mrs. T. A. Hicks.

Emil Hermann, well known artist of Wichita, was introduced and gave a cordial greeting to the women of the forum. He said that he was so impressed by the worth of the body that he felt like giving something to them and the best he could give was something of himself. He handed to Mrs. Oneal a little plate to put on the lovely painting, "The Day Is Done," which he presented to the Woman's Forum.

The theme of the program in talk and toast was cooperation and service. Mrs. Langford introduced Mrs. G. L. Shapard, who toasted Mrs. Ben G. Oneal, who will serve the forum as first vice president and the district as president next year. Mrs. Oneal's speech in reply was an artistic triumph in its beauty of expression and earnestness. She told of the work that had been done since the organization of the forum: she told of the million dollar clubhouse she recently visited in Chicago and drew a parallel that was favorable for Wichita. The next introduction was that of Mrs. Arch Collins, who toasted the new president, Mrs. C. P. Burton. Mrs. Burton responded wittily and wisely, stressing the need of cooperation and winning the assurance of it with her talk.

Mrs. Langford called on Mrs. J. Truman Stevens to introduce the body of women who had served through the year with her on the social committee. Each new officer in turn was introduced to the members and guests.

New forum members names were read by Mrs. Bernard Martin. Several joined the forum on Tuesday. The speaker for the afternoon was introduced in the person of Dean Wiggins of Simmons university.

Dean Wiggins caught the large audience's attention with an anecdote about the little boy who went with his father to the opening session of the senate and who asked, "Daddy, who's that man who prayed today?"

"That was the chaplain, my son."

"Does he always pray at the beginning of the meeting?"

"Yes, my son."

"Does he pray for the senators, daddy."

"No, my son; he looks at the senators and prays for the state of Texas."

Dean Wiggins' talk was on the ideals of service. He referred to Pupin's wonderful life story and drew from it the thought that ideals must be cultivated. He referred to the statue of Nathan Hale, on the lawn at Yale and commented on his saying, "My only regret is that I have but one life to give for my country," by saying it was the ideal of service that made Hale able to say such a thing at the time he did. He stressed the thought that the emotional, the spiritual development of life was as necessary as the material and that among other mediums, the cooperation in woman's clubs served to draw together the material and spiritual in an ideal of service.

At the close of a talk pronounced by many one of the best ever given in the forum clubhouse, the chairman of the different departments were asked to stand and introduce themselves to the assembly.

There were approximately 253 in attendance. Among those registered were: Mesdames W. H. Costley, W. W. Cook, W. M. Cason, J. T. Carter, Arch Collins, Roy I. Carter, T. M. Conrey, J. P. Bowen, J. D. Bright, Hubert Barr, C. E. Basham and party, Henry C. Fulcher, R. L. Hargrave, Ola G. Hamlin, A. G. Holmes, C. C. Jones Jr., Grover C. Johnson and party, Carrie Joline, H. Duff Jones, E. B. Lehrack, L. I. Lucey, H. P. Ledford and party, Homer Lee, A. B. Maples and party, J. R. McKinney, S. S. McKenney, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Hermann; Misses Maude and Corrinne Moller, Mathilde Donnell, Mesdames T. L. McGee, McGann and party of Electra, E. W. Nicholson, C. W. Stice and party, G. L. We Women

By BETTY BRAINERD

This Girl Dared!

For several years I have watched the career of Eva Le Gallienne with increasing interest, wonder and admiration. Here is a girl who dared to defy tradition and has, at last, taken rank by sheer force of her courage, intelligence and accomplishment with the outstanding women of the day.

We recognize and celebrate the goodness and greatness of a Jane Addams but withhold full appreciation from those who are younger—and Miss Le Gallienne, after years of struggling, is only thirty.

She is well known on Broadway where, before she organized New York's Civic Repertory theater, she achieved stardom in "Liliom" and "The Swan." As an actress she has talent; as a woman she has a fine, resolute outlook.

In 1917 Otto Kahn described her in a speech: "She is clear-visioned, courageous, self-possessed, capable, eager, good-looking, slightly hard-boiled—slightly—just enough in her case not to be discouraged or pushed aside."

And neither man nor fate nor trying circumstance has pushed her aside.

Today she has definitely arrived. This girl who dared to do what Broadway theatrical managers said could not be done and tried to prevent her from doing is one of the significant successes among women in the world.

Miss Le Gallienne had only an idea to begin with—that and vision, courage, intelligence, perseverance and faith in her ability. She would give New York a theater where the best of plays would be produced at prices which those unable to patronize the Broadway houses could afford. She was founder, director, producer, actor and business manager—an organizer and executive as well as an artist and a dreamer whose dream stuffs are composed of the gossamer of realism.

She invested her own savings in the enterprise; her enthusiasm attracted other capital and at the end of her first year the Pictorial Review awarded her $5,000 for the most significant achievement of the year by a woman. That was recognition but sustained acclaim has not been forthcoming.

But in this pale, frail orchidaceous woman I sense some of those qualities which made Joan of Arc a woman apart. Defeat could not stay her—even an excruciating failure in a play which dealt with the life of Joan of Arc and which she wanted to succeed.

If we celebrate Broadway's theatrical magnates, let us also give due celebration to this girl whom it pleases my fancy to call the Joan of Arc of Fourteenth street!

I wish I could say she symbolizes the strivings of the modern young woman. But that, I fear, is a compliment the modern young woman does not yet deserve.

Betty Brainerd will be glad to help her readers with their problems. Send a self-addressed stamped envelope to her in care of this paper.

Personal Paragraphs

Mrs. Rasco Reed of Rockwall, Texas, returned home yesterday, after a few days visit with her sister, Mrs. Ed Howard, 1710 Huff avenue.

Dr. Harlo Lynn, a member of the Western Woman's club of San Francisco was an out of town guest at the May breakfast at the Woman's Forum Tuesday morning. Dr. Lynn is a prominent club worker and also an artist of note on the western coast. She expects to return to Wichita next winter and spend about a month here and at that time will probably give a lecture at the Forum clubhouse.

Mrs. Horace Gilbert of Austin, Texas, is a guest of her daughter, Mrs. J. A. Kemp Jr.

Mrs. G. C. Raley, 1708 Monroe street, has as her guests, Mrs. Mae Raley and Mrs. Gertrude Johnson of Dallas.

Mrs. Ben G. Oneal, accompanied by Mesdames G. B. Smedley and T. A. Hicks, will go to Archer City Wednesday to attend the closing meeting of the Amnity club of that city.

Carl P. Moursund of Dallas is spending a few days with G. L. Drummond of this city.

Mrs. O. A. Dillinger of Denver, Colo., has just returned from a week-end visit in Fort Worth and Dallas and will be the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Stampfli, 1820 Lucile.

Honeymoon and First Year Is Time To Train Mate to Be Perfect Wife

The Time to Train a Wife in the Way She Should Go Is in the First Year of Matrimony; Then She Is Young and Impressionable, but by Second Year She Has Hardened Into Form and It Is Forever Too Late.

You are going to be married, son, and as the wedding day approaches you find yourself getting shivery and gooseflesh and your feet turning to lumps of ice because you have begun to seriously wonder whether Arabella is going to make one of those wives whose price is above rubies or one of the sort who reconcile their husbands to the brevity of human life.

Well, it is pretty much up to you, son, and it all depends upon the way you train her during the honeymoon and upon your getting off on the right foot. For the next six months is going to establish your status forever in your own home and determine whether you are going to be the honored, respected, considered head of the house or a poor, terrorized slave whose only function is to labor to support it.

It will also settle whether you have an efficient helpmate for a life partner or a keep from having hysterics or a grinding tyrant who doesn't give you as much liberty as a dog on a leash.

You can do pretty much as you will with a bride, son, but once let a woman get set in her ways as a wife and you can't dislodge her from one of them with a ton of dynamite.

Arabella is young. She is head over heels in love with you and ready to break her neck to please you and come up to your ideal of her. Her pretty little head is full of all sorts of romantic dreams and visions about being a perfect wife, only she doesn't know just what you expect of her. Seize this psychological moment, while the iron is hot, in which to strike and mold her to your heart's desire.

You are a young man just starting out to make your fortune. You are ambitious and want to get somewhere in the world, and you know you can accomplish nothing if you are burdened with an extravagant wife who wastes the money you work so hard to earn. Very well, then. Begin by teaching your wife thrift.

Help her work out a budget and see that she keeps within it. Don't start off living beyond your means. Impress upon your bride's plastic mind the horror of debt. Talk over your business affairs with her and make her feel that she is a real partner in the firm of Benedict & company, and that its prosperity depends just as much on how she spends the firm's money as upon your earning capacity.

There are mighty few women who wouldn't be willing to do without a new dress or a trip if their husbands explained to them that the money was going into enlarging the business or an advertising campaign or some development that would bring bigger results. What grouches a woman is just being told arbitrarily that she can't have this and she can't have that with no reason given for her being deprived of it.

Husbands are always complaining that their wives don't know how to handle money. Why should they when nobody has ever taught them how to do so? That women have plenty of money sense is amply proved by the number of successful business women.

So, son, if you want a thrifty and economical wife, teach your bride how to use money. Discuss business with her and take a real heart interest in the way she runs the house.

You want a comfortable home and good food, for on that depends your health and your efficiency. A soggy breakfast of watery coffee and burnt toast and greasy fried eggs will put out the fire of genius in any man's soul. A dinner of overdone meat and underdone potatoes and heavy bread will slow down any go-getter. A cluttered house with unswept floors and unmade beds will send any man away from home to some place of cleanliness.

So, son, don't stand for bad housekeeping for a minute. Any woman who knows how to read can learn to be a good cook in three months. Any woman who isn't a chronic invalid can run a vacuum cleaner. Don't pity your poor little bride when you find her in tears when you come home to dinner and there is nothing fit to eat on the table and tell her you will go out to a restaurant and eat and that she shan't burn her pitty 'ittle fingers on dat nassy old gas stove any more. Tell her to buck up and have some courage and grit about her and that you expect her to hold up her end of the partnership as well as you do yours.

If a woman loves her husband she cannot endure for him to have a contempt for her, and if you make your wife feel that you consider her a quitter and yellow if she isn't willing to make you a comfortable home you will galvanize her into action and make her get busy with the pots and pans. It is a man's own fault when his wife poisons him on her cooking and when he has to get up and get his own breakfast. He didn't train her right in the beginning and he didn't warn her that she would lose her job if she didn't make good at it.

You want your wife to remain pretty and attractive and easy on the eyes. Nothing disgusts you so much as a dirty, sloppy woman who clouches around the house in a soiled wrapper with down-at-the-heel slippers and who doesn't bother even to comb her hair or wash the cold cream off her face when you are around.

I know of one young bridegroom who taught his young wife a lesson she never forgot. The first time she came to the breakfast table looking like something the cat brought in instead of a lady love he got up and left the table and told her that he would not come back until she had properly dressed herself. Also, he informed her in no uncertain terms that if she expected to keep him she would have to keep on looking desirable to him.

Many women degenerate into slovens at home because their husbands never pay them a compliment, so if you want your wife to doll up for you, never fail to comment on her appearance. Let her see that you notice everything she has on and she will be afraid not to make good.

You don't want to be one of those poor, downtrodden, worm-of-the-dust husbands who sneak in their own back doors after wiping their feet on the mat and whose wives walk in front and say: "Henry, sit there." Or: "John, don't drive so fast," and who wouldn't dare to bring company home to dinner or stay down town of a night.

If you married an aggressive, domineering girl you are lost if you give in a single time to her during the honeymoon. Your salvation depends on your having enough backbone to stand up for your liberty and make one desperate fight. If you give in to her the first time she has hysterics you are a goner and may heaven help you.

There are only a few elementary suggestions about developing a wife, son. If men would only take as much trouble in training their wives as they do their stenographers there would be more efficient wives and more satisfid husbands.

Carter Family Hears Of Nephew's Death

Word has been received by Mr. and Mrs. Roy I. Carter, 2002 Huff avenue, of the death of their nephew, Virgil Farley, which occurred in Knoxville, Tenn. He is a brother of Anabel and Frank Farley who make their home with Mr. and Mrs. Carter in this city.

The body will pass through this city en route to Amarillo where the burial will take place Thursday.

Mr. Farley is survived by his wife, three brothers, Howard, Raymond and Wilbur Farley of Amarillo, and Miss Loraine Farley of Vernon.

250 Attend Picnic and Program Closing Work of Reagan P.-T. A.

Approximately 250 persons attended the last meeting for the year of Reagan Junior High school P.-T. A. when members held the Polyanna picnic for the express purpose of installation of officers and the social meeting of parents and pupils from the eight grade schools from which Reagan will draw pupils next year.

The picnic began in the lineup into the cafeteria, where stacks of sandwiches and salads, potato chips and pickles, and pie and cakes and all the other "accessories" waited to be heaped bountifully on each visitor's plate. W. A. Franklin, superintendent, invited everyone to stop on their way up to the auditorium and see the art display of the school under supervision of Miss Mabel Cole. The pupils of the school have done excellent work in wool work, applied design and have made many lovely garments and done much tie and dye work.

The Lions club band opened the program for the evening with several splendid numbers. The next feature was the introduction by Mr. Franklin of Mrs. Underwood who made a gracious speech of presentation when a P.-T. A. pin was given to Mrs. Paul Barnett, retiring president, who responded happily. Mrs. Barnett's work was highly praised.

Mr. Franklin conducted the installation of officers after reading the new nominations which were Mrs. D. A. Lundien, second vice president, Mrs. R. D. Bone and Mrs. W. J. Howard, representatives to the city council. The installation services have a beautiful solemnity to them and after the new president Mrs. John M. Fox had pledged both honor and service to the organization in a gracious little speech, the members of the organization asserted their faith and trust and pledge of allegiance to the new officers by rising.

New officers installed were: President, Mrs. J. M. Fox; first vice president; Mrs. E. W. Napier; second vice president, Mrs. D. A. Lundlien; third vice president, Mrs. F. A. Bash; secretary, Miss Jean Paden; treasurer, Mrs. Lamance; representatives to the city council, Mesdames R. D. Bone and W. J. Howard.

Three original poems dedicated to "Mother" were given by Katherine Mosby, Marjorie Fox and Lois Brackett. They received much applause.

The Reagan Junior Glee club gave several songs and the school orchestra gave several selections. The uniforms of this little organization were very attractive. The girls and boys wore white satin blouses with a harp on the front interlaced with a large "R."

Paul Barnett gave a piano solo, "The Rosary." Every number on the program was well received.

Following is the program as arranged in full:

Lions club band.
Presentation of P.-T. A. pin to Mrs. Paul Barnett, retiring president.
Installation of officers.
Glee club; songs.
Poems, Katherin Mosby, Marjorie Fox, Lois Brackett.
Reagan Junior High school orchestra.
Declamation, Marguerite Covington.
Dance, Jane Rahl.
Piano solo, "The Rosary," Paul Barnett.
Reagan Junior High school orchestra.

GRAND JURY TO RETURN FRIDAY

New Indictment Sought Against Wright

The 30th district grand jury for the April term, recalled in special session on May 10 by an order from Judge W. W. Cook Tuesday, will hear evidence presented in an effort to obtain an indictment charging C. A. Wright, already indicted on two burglary counts, with being an habitual criminal, Sam B. Spence, district attorney, announced Tuesday.

Verified records of two alleged former convitions, one in Oklahoma and the second in Louisiana, are in the hands of the district attorney's office, Mr. Spence declared, and will be offered in evidence to the grand jury. Conviction under the Texas habitual criminal act may result in a 99 year prison sentence, the district attorney explained.

Wright was arrested in Oklahoma following investigations of a widespread wave of burglaries here. T. O. Cagle was indicted with him on one count and separately on five others. Mae Hart was charged by the same grand jury with receiving and concealing stolen property.

A few other complaints which have developed since the adjournment of the grand jury late in April may also be presented to the reassembled body, Mr. Spence said, but he expects the work of the body to be completed early Friday.

Walker Wins New Prizes in Display Contests Over U. S.

Word has just been received by Harry G. Walker, display man and advertising manager for the Hub Clothiers, of victories gained by his displays in three natonal contests during the past few months.

The first of these was an award by the Cheney Silk company of South Manchester, Conn., in which Walker was awarded the Capital Grand Prize of $250 in cash for a window display entered in their recent Cheney Neckwear contest. In the Cooper Underwear contest held last November, Mr. Walker's entry was awarded third place both by the judges for that company, and by the Liberty magazine, each award carrying a $30 cash prize.

A display of has entered in the Gibson-Burnam Publishing company's annual championship contest recently held in New York was awarded the diploma of honor, said to be one of the highest honor awards offered in the field of display advertising. The same window was entered in the Mallory hat contest conducted last fall and was awarded the Capital Grand Prize of $250 in cash and a silver loving cup.

Entries in these national display contests are made by photographs, and the judging is based on attention value, decorative art, sales appeal, arrangement and originality.

Wichita Falls was said to be one of the best represented cities in the United States in the list of display winners during the past few years. Entries by display men of this city are listed among the winners in almost every national contest conducted, it was said.

Medicine Park Thronged For Fomal Opening

Special to The Record News

LAWTON, Okla., May 7.—Medicine Park and other Wichita mountain resorts were thronged with visitors Sunday. A half score auto accidents were reported but with no one injured.

Formal opening of Medicine Park and outboard motor races on the city lake attracted large crowds. W. T. Waggoner, Electra, Texas, won the loving cup given as first prize for racing. It was a 12-mile event in four heats, each heat being three laps over a mile course. Waggoner drove a Lockwood Silent Chief.

A checkup of cars showed eight states represented at Medicine Park.

Drivers and Passengers Escape Injury in Triple Crash of Autos

Careful driving and "lady luck" played a winning hand in a three-car collison between a motor bus and two automobiles in the 1500 block on Eighth street when several persons involved in the accident escaped uninjured with the exception of a small girl who bit her tongue from the abrupt shock of the crash.

According to Chris Jensen, city detective, who investigated the case, the accident occurred when the driver of the bus brought his machine to an abrupt stop to avoid hitting a small child who fell into the street directly in the path of the bus wheels. The other two cars, which were traveling close behind the bus, crashed into it before they could be stopped.

Margaret Stewart, small daughter of Mrs. G. G. Stewart, 2109 Grant street, was the only person injured in the three-car smash up. She was riding on the back seat of the last car to enter the wreck and bit her tongue when she was suddenly thrown forward by the shock from the collision, Jensen said.

ORIENT BUILDS NEW STATION

Elaborate Landscaping To Feature Structure

Work has been started by the Orient Petroleum company on the erection of a new California type filling station at the corner of Harrison street and Avenue E, according to W. F. DeHaas, who recently assumed charge of the company's office in the Harvey-Snider building.

The new station will face diagonally on the intersection from the northwest corner, and will have two wide concrete drives affording access from either street. The 12x16-foot building, which will be centered on the large plot of ground secured, will be built in the colonial style of architecture, with numerous arches, and will be finished in white stucco. The roof will be of red tile, trimmed with green. Elaborate landscaping of the ground inside the double drive has been planned, Mr. DeHaas said, with flower gardens and decorative shrubs attractively arranged. Outside the drives, in the corner next the curbs, a clover-leaf design will be effected in a flower plot.

The station will be equipped with two gasoline pumps, and will be designed to render gas, oil and greasing service. It is expected to be ready for opening the last week in May.

"Married Life" Not Worth While

Blames Wives' "Nerves"

"Weak nerves," said a New York doctor recently, "in my estimation wreck more happily married lives than any other cause."

Besides making the sweetest disposition sour and irritable, nervousness is a terrible drain on your vital forces—it saps your youth and your strength and dulls your beauty. What a difference from the bright-eyed, vibrant girl he married. No wonder married life seems unbearable!

But you can get rid of your nervousness—speedily too—and become the steady-nerved, radiant woman you once were. Take a teaspoonful of Tanlac before meals and before going to bed and if it doesn't soon make a new woman of you—doesn't rid you of that tired, strained feeling—go back and get your money.

Go to your druggist now and get a bottle of Tanlac. Millions of folks have started back on the road to youth, health and happiness with this world famous tonic and there is no reason why you, too, can't begin today to rebuild your worn-out tissues and revitalize your entire system.

ARCHER JURY VOTES 9 BILLS

Six Indictments Returned In Still Seizure

At the close of a two day session Tuesday afternoon, the 30th district grand jury for Archer county returned nine true bills of indictment, six of them involving violations of the liquor laws. The whisky charges grew out of the seizure last week of a giant still, Sam Spence, district attorney, explained. All of the men involved in the indictments have not yet been arrested, he declared.

Two bills charging burglary and one charging a statutory offense were also returned. The criminal docket is to be called Monday, May 13. The grand jury was adjourned after one of the briefest sessions of the past two years.

New Tests Given Rural Students of County

In an effort to determine the degree of improvement in the reading and arithmetic work in the sixth and seventh grades of the Wichita county rural schools since the application of standardized tests several months ago, Burl Bryant, county superintendent, has begun a series of follow-up tests all over the county.

He gave the second papers to the students at Cashion and City View Tuesday, and expects to continue the work in Clara Wednesday. Plesant Valley, Allendale and Weath schools have already been given the tests. Results will be compiled and compared with those already obtained, by way of checking the effectiveness of the system.

The first tests showed that Wichita county students are ahead of the standard in arithmetic and below the average in reading, the superintendent explained, and efforts have been made to correct the weaknesses discovered.

Sixty per cent of the world's telephones, 18,500,000, are in the United States.

Committee Organized to Select Citizens Giving City Best Service

Bullington Named Chairman and Kennedy Vice Chairman of Group; Rules of Award Drafted

Organization of the committee which will select the winners of two silver loving cups offered by the Ad club for the greatest service to Wichita Falls during 1929 was effected when its members met as guests at the weekly Ad club luncheon Tuesday noon at the Kemp hotel.

The plan to be followed in awarding the cups was discussed by Walter Cline, following which the committee elected Orville Bullington and R. D. Kennedy as chairman and vice chairman, respectively. W. S. Abbott is secretary of the committee by virtue of appointment by the service cup committee of the Ad club.

Instructions and rules given to the committee state that it shall meet at least once every three months after May 1, 1229, and that votes on nominees for the cups must be cast in person. The identity of the two persons selected will be revealed at the annual banquet of the chamber of commerce in January, 1930, when presentation of the cups will be made.

One cup will be warded for the greatest financial or philanthropic benefit rendered the community, the other for the greatest service of personal efforts or ideas.

C. C. Hudson, editor of the Iowa Park Herald, spoke to the gathering on "The Newspaper as a Public Utility."

"Newspaper making is a great adventure in human relationship," said Mr. Hudson.

"A newspaper must practice toleration, appreciation, and co-operation. We have to live here whether we like it or not. We can't move out, so we must tolerate other people, and they must tolerate us. A paper must manifest and inspire a policy of appreciation—acknowledging the things that are worth while in every individual and organzation. Co-operation is the logical sequence to the other two qualities. With tolerance and appreciation, a community will attain the "pull together" spirit which invariably follows in the wake of a good newspaper."

The program Tuesday was broadcast through station KGKO, with the microphone in charge of R. E. Shepherd. Albert E. Kelly, Ad club president, acted as announcer.

The committee headed by Mr. Bullington is composed of the following persons: W. S. Abbott, J. W. Akin, J. M. Baber, Dr. J. W. Powers, Orville Bullington, Mrs. C. P. Burton, J. W. Cantwell, W. L. Robertson, Walter K. Campbell, P. M. Cordell, Mrs. G. R. Ellis, S. S. Disbrow, Dr. R. H. Graham, R. D. Kennedy, Tom Glass, Ed Howard, A. E. Kelly, Dr. O. T. Kimbrough, Mrs. Glenn Laskey, Mrs. T. H. Lawson, Tarlton Morrow, Homer Sanderford and Walter Nelson Jr.

"City" Prairie Dog Added To Collection at Zoo

A prairie dog captured in the city limits of Wichita Falls will be donated to the municipal zoo by E. T. Williams of the Community Drug store at 514 Flood street, according to C. C. Bunnenberg, city park department.

The animal was caught on the lower end of Brick street. Mr. Bunnenberg said that he was unable to explain the presence of a prairie dog so near the city. The addition of the new prairie dog will make around a dozen of the animals which are on exhibit at the zoo.

ATWATER KENT SCREEN-GRID RADIO

Enormous new power under complete control!

New mastery of distance!

New needle-point separation of stations!

New, unmarred beauty of tone!

Electro-Dynamic, of course!

THE SET IS READY! It has passed every conceivable test—under all climatic conditions—in the laboratory, in city and country—in skilled and unskilled hands.

Enormous power, needle-point selectivity, longer reach, magical tone!

A moment's trial will convince you that it is by far the best radio Atwater Kent has ever made—and the whole world knows what that means!

Emphatic words like these have never before been used in Atwater Kent advertising. They are used now to describe a set which gives the word "radio" a new meaning.

New power—unruffled tone

It takes more out of the air and brings more into your home. It is vastly more powerful. Yet all this new energy is completely under your control—as obedient to the fingers of a child as to those of a radio engineer—and as silent as a leopard's step!

The tone is so pure that you feel as if you might reach out and touch the artist, though he be singing or playing hundreds of miles away.

Call the Roll of Stations!

How the stations come in! Not only the old familiar ones, but exciting new ones from away off across the map, which perhaps have been only names to you until now. How they speak up—a host of stations from near and far that heretofore have been elbowed out by others, but are now brought in clearly by Needle-Point Selectivity!

When you see and hear this really extraordinary new radio—as you are bound to do soon—glance inside to see how it's made.

Such workmanship comes only with experience. And all the experience of 27 years, including nearly 7 years of leadership in making fine radio, is concentrated in the new Atwater Kent Screen-Grid Radio—made with the utmost care in the Atwater Kent factory—now doubled in size to 81 acres—now doubly the largest radio factory in the world!

Cabinet or Table Set

America's leading furniture makers have designed cabinets expressly for Atwater Kent Screen-Grid Radio. Choose from many styles, just as you choose other furniture.

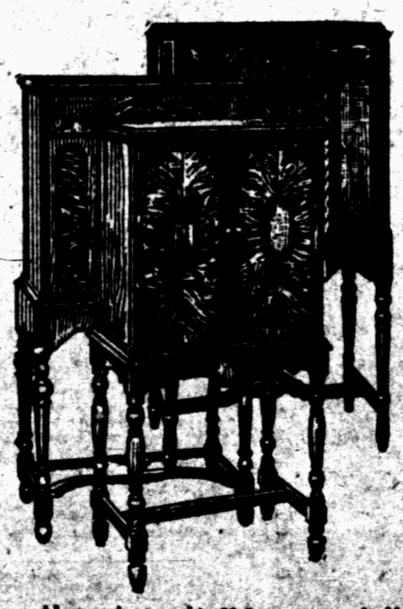

Again Atwater Kent leads—with the supreme performance of the Screen-Grid set—and with variety of cabinets worthy of it and of your home. Ready today—at your dealer's—or for a trial in your own home—the new Atwater Kent Screen-Grid Radio! Start enjoying it NOW!

THE TABLE MODEL
Model 55—Screen-Grid receiver. Without tubes, $90.

Herbert Kaufman's ◇ ◇ ◇ THE LAZY MAN'S CROP ◇ ◇ ◇ Daily Editorial

THERE'S too much wheat acreage. And the great menace of farm relief lies in its immediate increase.

Not only is natural grain land in full bearing, but light pasture soil, diverted to breadstuffs under the stimulus of war's bribery, continues to throw a monkey-wrench into economic balances by sticking to a task beyond its capacity.

The withdrawal of these grazing areas largely accounts for the scarcity of cattle and the current prices for meat.

We can't breed more steers than there's grass to feed 'em.

Thus nations always pay usurious hire to the fiddler when emergency insists upon special dances. But we're likely to pay still more if federal paternalism breaks the check-rein.

Subsidizing legislation is apter to hurt than help the surplus situation. It will tend to halt diversification progress and revert agricultural practice to seasonal instead of round-the-year activity.

Farm relief is sure to result in a further expansion of granaries with a likely fall-off in corn yields.

If, as many experts predict, this happens, present confusion will be worse confounded.

Commerce and invention are fast turning maize into the most useful plant on earth.

But no method has yet been discovered to eliminate the watchfulness, the drugery, the regular hilling and weeding upon which its maturity depends.

◇ ◇ ◇

CORN is a breadstuff, a stable feed and a poultry staple. Its ears are full of squeals and bellows. When mill requirements are satisfied the farmer fills the silo, puts four legs on the cob and sends it grunting or lowing to the stockyards.

It's syrup and sugar, cellulose fiber and edible oils—all in one. Experiment has just demonstrated the utility of the stalk as a newsprint base. Some day we must rely upon its distilled essence for substitute motor fuels. It gives us starch and medicinal alcohol—and what not?

Corn is vegetable gold—but it's a worker's crop.

Wheat is bread and little else. Its straw is unfit for by-product use. It's an indifferent fattener and consequently a poor beef or pork manufacturer.

But nothing that grows is handled with less bother.

Wheat culture scarcely consumes half the rancher's time; and that's why it's so hard to wean a wheat specialist to diversification.

And it will be still more difficult to shift his operations from single-cropping to a dozen sources of revenue, when Uncle Sam begins to hold the bag, absorb market slacks and tax city Peter to indemnify rural Paul.

Wheat is a universal staple—in competeition with the pauper labor of India, the cheap-living Russian muzhik, the enormous harvests of Australia and the Argentine, and Canada's bouteous prairies.

If the law of supply and demand had remained in charge of affairs (working untrammeled by political expediency), Necessity and Experience, the world's leading efficiency experts, would have straightened matters by variously distributing energy and investment. . . .

But what's the use of talking basic principles to men deafened from campaign oratory and blinded by its dazzling promises?

A Study in Contrasts

DAILY LIFE in this country is so full of contrasts that we don't ordinarily pay much attention to them. Sometimes, though, they're sharp enongh to make us stop and do a little thinking. That's always good for us—and sometimes it results in progress.

A certain midwestern manufacturing city recently staged a week of grand opera. Its expensive public auditorium housed the event. Every night big automobiles rolled up to the entrance, and expensively clad men and women alighted, paused on the sidewalk to be seen by the less resplendent citizens, and went inside.

The opera was a great success. It proved, first, that the city had a great many inhabitants who enjoyed good music; and it also proved that the city was very rich—for, otherwise, it could not afford to pay for a week of grand opera.

Now it happened that right across the street from the hall where the opera was held there stands another building owned by the city, and in this building the city conducts a free employment agency.

So, every day, while the vari-colored canopies and resplendent signs testified to the presence of grand opera in the one building, several score of very ragged, unwashed, discouraged looking men clustered across the street and waited for their names to be called by the employment clerks.

On one side of the street was a glittering display of great riches; on the other side there was a much less glittering display of great poverty.

On one side a gilt sign over a doorway read: "Dress circle"; on the other side there was a daub of a sign announcing that a dozen pick and shovel men were needed—and 40 men were jammed about it, competing for the chance to earn a few dollars.

A contrast such as that is sharper than we ordinarily see. It made at least a few of the people who saw it feel uncomfortable—for a moment, at least. And that is an encouraging sign.

It is only when such things begin to bother us that we can begin to do something about them.

Great poverty and great wealth have always existed side by side. Happiness has always lived just across the road from misery.

Once that fact begins to worry us—once we reach the realization that such a state of affairs is eternally wrong—there will be hope that a change can be made.

Then there won't be so many contrasts—or so much misery.

Golden Jubilee of the Texas Press Association

IT IS NO DISPARAGEMENT of other conventions that have met here this year to say that the convention of the Texas Press association next month will be the most important gathering Wichita Falls will be privileged to entertain.

The Texas Press association this year will celebrate its golden anniversary. Through 50 years the editors of Texas have kept contact with each other, have met to renew friendships, talk shop and to discuss together the problems of their commonwealth in the convention of their association. Through the years their association in this organization has grown closer and the press association itself has grown in prestige and in the affection of its members. It now numbers in its membership the editors and publishers of practically all the weekly newspapers in the state, and many of those in similar positions on the daily papers, large and small as well.

It is planned to make the golden jubilee convention a meeting long to be remembered and every member of the association is laying plans to be in attendance.

Wichita Falls has an opportunity to make a good impression with folks who have influence in their communities and who count that will be of incalculable benefit. Plans for the entertainment of the visitors are now being worked out. The programs of the convention itself and the more or less formal entertainment that will be provided will be ample, but above and beyond this there ought to be a generous hospitality on the part of the citizenship that will help make the Wichita Falls meeting one to be long pleasantly remembered.

The convention will meet on June 13, 14 and 15. It is certainly not too early for every citizen to begin thinking just what he can do to help make golden jubilee meeting of the Texas Press Association the most enjoyable the members of that association have ever known.

The Problem of the Criminal

PAROLE COMMISSIONER ARTHUR D. WOODS, of Michigan, said some things in his recently-issued biennial report that are worth while reprinting. Read them, especially if you think you know how criminals should be treated after they are arrested:

"Practically all prisoners are victims of three human urges—to live, to love, to learn—enmeshed through excessive gratification of some appetite, propensity or desire.

"They are not a cross-section of the entire population; abuot 90 per cent are poor, 10 per cent are well to do, and less than two per cent belong to the wealthy class."

That doesn't solve the problem of what to do with the crook, of course. But it does remind us that it's a problem that will take a lot of study. And that, in this day of glib solutions for everything, is something.

The Day Book of a New Yorker

Broadway Chatter by Grant Dixon

NEW YORK, May 7.—This is an important year, both for the stage and the founders of the Theater guild. It is the tenth anniversary of the founding of the guild. Its beginnings were wrapped in heart-breaking difficulties and its aims were not in line with the mercenary interests of the theater in New York just after the war.

The guild backers, believing there should be an organization to foster the better plays, fought those producers whose only interest was in the commercialization of the theater, regardless of art. The guild has presented the best of international playwrights. Its large subscription audience has made possible the success of any play it fosters.

If the guild's only contribution to the past season were "Wings Over Europe" it would have done much for a theatrical season otherwise marred by failures, chiefly due to an excess of bad shows.

The 3 o'clock curfew law in New York's night clubs, now being enforced by Police Commissioner Whalen, hits the gayety of New York night life. For it is a fact that nocturnal gayety in this city doesn't gain headway until well after midnight. It is after the theaters are emptied that thousands swarm to the night clubs.

One estimate has it that 1,000 night clubs and cabarets, including, of course, the common variety of speakeasy, may be found in a radius of half a mile from 46th street and Sixth avenue—which might be called the hub of night club life.

Babe Ruth's early morning wedding the other day points attention to a not uncommon practice of New Yorkers matrimonially bent. The time was, when it was fashionable to elope to Greenwich, Conn., but marriage laws there have become more strict.

Right in town there are a number of churches where you may be sealed before dawn—providing you are sober and in your right mind.

Rivalling the Little Church Around the Corner in popularity is the Church of St. Gregory in West 90th street, where Dr. William F. Hughes performs marital splicings for half the usual price long before 6 a. m.

◇ ◇ ◇

Perhaps nowhere outside of New York is there such a diversity and plurality of organizations, leagues, associations and societies in favor of or against something.

Picking up the paper the other day I saw a protest against a railroad which runs through a West Side thoroughfare. This organization is known as the League to End Death Avenue.

An amusing title, to be sure, but there are others: The Society for Wider Sidewalks, the Association Against Dumping Garbage in the Hudson River, the League for Better Lighting in Suburban Streets, the Leggue Against Building Over Twenty Stories, the Association in Favor of Closed Streets for Temporary Playgrounds for Children.

Oh yes, and the Society in Favor of Beards and Long Hair for Men!

One day last week I watched from a safe vantage point, the water rush over the battery sea wall.

Whenever there is a particularly rough storm at sea, the battery wall proves the barometer as to its fierceness. On this day the bay came up and overwhelmed the wall and its waters poured into the park, nearly half a foot deep.

The awful majesty of the sea was here in evidence, right in downtown New York. And all the while, small boys and girls, happy because of this new chance to play, waded merrily into the sea, their innocence and ignorance laughing at the fierce gestures of an element feared by man.

O. U. Appropriation Hike Is Opposed

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 7. (UP)—The University of Oklahoma will meet the resistance of Governor Holloway in any effort to increase its appropriation, he said Tuesday.

The university's request for $80,000 in buildings was denied by the governor's budget conference. Agitation has been started to replace part of the items cut off.

Holloway said the university received over $1,500,000 in buildings in the last session. He did not indicate any policy of leniency toward increasing the tentative budget as fixed by the conference.

"BULGES"—A DOMESTIC DRAMA

She: Well, what did your national horse collars do today?

He: It went down another two points.

PHILLIPS

She: That's what you get for hanging on. I could have told you.

He: What was I to do? can I make the market go up? Am I a miracle man?

She: Why don't you do what the brokers say?

He: What do they say?

She: They say to sell on bulges. Here's a broker's statement right here opposite the stock quotations and it says, "Until the market develops a more definite trend we recommend selling on bulges."

He: How can I sell on bulges when there are no bulges?

She: There must be bulges, Brokers wouldn't say to sell on them if there weren't any, would they?

He: I dunno. All I know is that National Horse Collars hasn't bulged in a month.

She: You mean to say it hasn't had a single bulge since you bought it?

He (sadly): Nary a bulge, Ida.

She: Well, there must be something wrong, other stocks have bulges, don't they?

He: I suppose so.

She: Look at Federated Olive Stuffers; it's up two points today. Isn't that a bulge?

He: If my stock went up two points I would call it a burst.

She: Well, why don't you call up your broker and complain.

He: About what?

She: About bulges.

He: Please be quiet, Ida; you're most exasperating.

She: You should call him up and insist upon a bulge.

He: How can he make a bulge? Don't be silly.

She: Well, when you bought the stock he didn't say anything about there not being any bulges in it, did he?

He (wearily): No.

She: He took mighty good care not to tell you it was a bulgeless stock didn't he?

He: Yeah; I guess so.

She: Don't sit there and yawn. If you're not interested in our investments I am, and what's more I'm going to write him a letter right now.

He (sleepily): Awright.

She: I'll tell him what I think of him.

He (just before dozing off): Go to it, Ida. And listen.

She: What?

He: Tell him you want a lot of big bulges right away or we'll close the account!

Electra W. M. U. Meeting Held

Special to The Record News

ELECTRA, Texas, May 7.—An all-day meeting of the W. M. U. of the First Baptist church was held Monday in the church, with circle 6 in charge. A missionary program was given, dedicated to the grandmothers.

The meeting was opened with the song, "How Firm a Foundation," followed by prayer. The program was as follows: Song, "Don't Forget Your Mother," by T. D. Carroll; scripture lesson, Mrs. E. B. Holcomb. The following talks were made: "The Changeless Christ," Mrs. John Brownlee; "The Light Making All Things New," Mrs. W. W. Rivers; "Speaking in Tongues, the Mighty Works of God," Mrs. Leonard Gillum; "Christs Compassion, and Man's Inhumanity," Mrs. Duke Caufield; "Relaying the Gospel," Mrs. W. W. Rivers and Mrs. Buck Stalcup. The main address of the day, "Heaven," was made by Rev. George W. McCall, who is conducting a revival at the First Baptist church. At noon lunch was served by circle 5.

During the afternoon session Rev. W. W. Rivers read the scripture lesson from the book of Hebrews, after which the business session was held with Mrs. J. M. Tanner in charge. Officers, group captains and circle leaders gave reports. Mrs. Hannah Johnson was judged the oldest grandmother present and Mrs. L. N. Cruse was judged the youngest in the grandmother contest held on that day. Two hundred people attended the services.

RAILS DEVELOP FLOYD COUNTY

Transportation Marked End Of 'Cow Camps'

Special to The Record News.

LOCKNEY, Texas, May 7.—Pioneers of Floyd county attribute the rapid development of the county during the past 20 years to adequate transportation facilities, both highway and rail, resulting from the energy and progressiveness of the citizenship. A story depicting the rapid development of a broad expanse of prairie land into a well diversified, irrigated farming section providing for the growth of modern cities to replace the old time "cow camps," all a result of adequate transportation, may be heard from the lips of the "old-timers" as they spend the remaining days of their lives "living the pasts."

Unprecedented growth has been recorded during the past 10 years. The Fort Worth & Denver and the Frisco railway companies have completed 168 miles of new rail line in the county during the past two years. This additional mileage has reduced the average farm haul to six miles from farm to market. Three new cities have been built in the county, since the coming of the rail lines, each providing practically all of the utilities to their residents. A modern cotton oil mill and cotton compress are the major industrial achievements during the past three years. Citizens of this county have expended more than $700,000 on the rural and city schools and now there are 30 rural schools in the county, out of which 21 are brick structures. Two of the cities of the county have been provided with natural gas during the past two years with every assurance that this service will be extended to the three other cities of the county before Jan. 1, 1930. Farm leaders say that cheap fuel, as natural gas, will be provided throughout the shallow water belt for irrigation purposes within the next five years. An immense gravel deposit is now providing cheap building materials for the people of the South Plains section, from Floyd county, opened up by the building of a rail line close by.

Prosperity and wealth are best indicated by the increase in tax evaluations from five to 12 millions of dollars during the past 10 years, the result of farm, city and industrial developments.

Work on Quanah Street Lights Started

Special to The Record News.

QUANAH, Texas, May 7.—Work is rapidly progressing on installation of poles and equipment for the traffic lights ordered by the new city council in the first meeting of that body after election. Three of the lights will be installed, one at the corner of Second and Main, one at Third and Main, and one at Third and Mercer.

A petition signed by many business men and individual tax payers asks the council to order one installed at the intersection of Main and the Fort Worth and Denver railroad tracks.

CARPENTERS IN ANNUAL MEET

Builders Discuss Issues of Their Trade

TYLER, Texas, May 7. (INS)—The 25th annual convention of the Texas State Council of Carpenters was down to earnest consideration of problems peculiar to the interest and welfare of their various crafts and subsidiaries today.

Two important resolutions were introduced. The first opposing the use of convict labor in competition with free labor at any time, the second opposing the consolidation of the industrial accident board with any other state department.

The constitutional, the legislative, the financial and the organization and the resolutions committees were engrossed with various important matters which will be submitted to the carpenters before their adjournment Thursday night.

Among resolutions introduced which the carpenters seem to be more vitally interested were the compensation law and the attitude taken by the 41st legislature toward them.

PORT ARTHUR WINS MEETING

East Texas C.-C. Selects Gulf City

BRYAN, Texas, May 7. (INS)—Port Arthur was named convention city for the next year at the annual convention of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce here today.

Hayne Nelms of Groveton, Trinity county, was elected president of the organization. Tom Ball Jr. of Huntsville, was elected treasurer and W. N. Blanton was re-elected manager for his fourth year. Vice presidents will be elected at the next meeting of the board of directors.

Gov. Dan Moody was the principal speaker of the day. He discussed relocation and centralization of the prison system and highways.

Governor Moody arrived on a special train which brought a majority of the members of the Texas legislature, special guests of the convention.

Resolutions passed at the closing session endorsed the construction and maintenance of state highways by charges upon the traffic and not by taxation of property; urged that the legislature grant the salary schedule requested by A. & M. college and make appropriations requested for departmental maintenance; urged increased rates on imports of vegetable oils; bespoke consideration for W. E. Lea of Orange to fill the vacancy on the U. S. shipping board and urged an appropriaiton by the legislature for a geological survey of Texas.

Immediate Relief From Indigestion

Not Necessary to Diet

Many people who are hungry are afraid to eat for fear of distressing after-effects. They keep themselves on a limited diet and go about half starved.

This is unnecessary. Take a spoonful of GORDON'S after meals and you can eat what you like and as much as you want without any after-feeling of distress. Try it and see.

GORDON'S, an internal antiseptic, goes right to the seat of the trouble by stopping fermentation (souring of food). It soothes, heals and strengthens weak or disordered stomachs.

DANGEROUS—HEROIC—BUT "ALL IN A DAYS WORK" WITH LONE STAR

"Grab'er, Bill! THIS LINE'S GOTTA BE BACK IN BEFORE DAYLIGHT!"

A rushing flotsam of driftwood struck a Lone Star pipe line which irrigation workers had exposed when digging a channel near Bonham, Texas. Trouble shooters bearing tools and fittings rushed sixty miles through the storm to repair the damage. Arrived, they must walk across a slippery ten-inch pipe which spanned the torrent of raging water. A single slip meant death. Over this precarious "bridge" of pipe they carried a three-hundred pound fitting, and repaired the breach on that wintry night by the light of blinking lanterns. Without food for twenty hours, without heat, often up to their necks in icy water, but no complaints . . . . . .

These trouble-shooters are the personification of a Lone Star ideal. Unremembered by the very public they serve, they offered during those dreadful hours, a touching tribute to that ideal.

And from the president on down, we of Lone Star wish to make this public acknowledgment of our gratitude to our trouble shooters!

WILTSE HURLS 9-2 TRIUMPH

Galloways Rally in Late Innings to End Duel

Special to The Record News

WACO, May 7.—Playing the league leaders and in their own small park had no terrors for the Wichita Falls Spudders, and Jim Galloway's men swept the two-game series with the Cubs by taking today's pastime. The score this afternoon was identical to that of yesterday—9 to 2.

For seven innings, Hal Wiltse and Nick Dumovitch engaged in a sparkling duel of lefthand pitchers. With the score 3 to 2 in their favor, the Spudders went out and tallied four runs in the eighth round, and counted two more in the ninth.

Comrades Aid Wiltse

After yielding a tally in the first and fourth innings, Wiltse kept the Cubs away from the plate thereafter. He was accorded brilliant support by his teammates, fast fielding, including two double plays, helping keep Waco athletes away from the plate.

It was the fourth defeat in a row for the Cubs.

The Spudders hammered Dumovitch and Harris, his successor, for 13 hits, of which 11 were made off the first chucker. Dick Sullivan led the attack with three blows, including a home run and a double, and Benton, Snyder, Crouch and Wiltse clouted two hits each. Both of Crouch's and one of Benton's knocks went for two bases.

Wiltse kept the 10 Waco hits well scattered and by bearing down and with the above-mentioned classy backing from his comrades was never in serious danger.

Blackerby Paces Cubs

George Blackerby set the pace on the attack for the Cubs, the Wichita Falls youth whaling three blows, two of them doubles, against the athletes from his home town.

Milton Gordon played at second base for the Spudders.

The Spudders open a three-day stand tomorrow at San Antonio and return home Saturday for an extensive stay.

'Crucial' Tests For Hall, Scott

Rugged Foes Try Boxing Worth of Favorites

Two favorites of the hemped square engage in bouts here tonight that, to employ a favorite phrase of baseball writers, will be "crucial" tilts. One is making a "comeback," the other is seeking to continue along his unbeaten road of victories.

Cyclone Hall, the Childress middleweight, is the fellow who is out to rehabilitate himself in local boxing favor. Until his knockout by Duke Trammel a few weeks ago Hall was the hero of many fans. Now the Cyclone is "coming back," and he faces a formidable foe tonight at the Palace theater in the final of Alex Ross' two 10-round feature mills.

Varner Meets Hall

Hall's adversary will be Walter Varner from Baird. Varner is reputed to be a hard-punching chap, and Hall seems to have his work cut out for him.

Howard Scott, the Electra featherweight, is the lad who faces the test as to his true ring worth. Howard has compiled an unbroken string of victories in Wichita Falls rings. But he never has faced such an obstacle as he will encounter tonight in Midget Mike Dundee, New York bantam.

Dundee's Record Bright

Dundee has met some of the foremost banties and flyweights, and claims to have boxed Abe Goldstein when the latter was 118-pound champion of the world.

Two six-round bouts complete the card. Rudy Hodge will meet Virgil Oden in one of the sixes that promises lots of action. They are welters. Jack Betts and Johnny Owens, 150 pounds, open the show at 8:15 o'clock in a carded six-round go.

Injury May Keep Borah Out of Spring Contest

LOS ANGELES, May 7. (AP)—The prospect that Charley Borah, curleyhaired sprint ace, may be kept out of competition for the remainder of the season today had served to tone down discussion of the world record performances and upsets in Saturday's southern Pacific A. A. U., championships.

Whether Borah will be able to run again this year in spite of the leg injury suffered in Saturday's race with Frank Wykoff was a matter of concern to followers of the University of Southern California.

Legion Officer

William S. Parks, athletic officer of Pat Carrigan Post No. 120, is directing plans for the boys' baseball league, organized last night.

4 CLUBS FORM LEGION LEAGUE

Five-Week Schedule Gets Under Way June 1

Four teams will play in a baseball league here, the winner to engage in the national tournament sponsored by the American legion. This was a decision reached last night at a meeting at Memorial auditorium.

William S. Parks, athletic officer of Pat Carrigan post, in charge of plans for local competition, appointed a committee of three to assist in the many details of organizing and conducting the league. C. C. Bunnenberg, city park superintendent; C. C. Frazee, city recreational director and C. R. Cole, assistant legion post athletic officer, comprise the committee.

City Fields Offered

Bunnenberg tendered the use of seven city diamonds for league play, and said that there are about 55 juvenile baseball teams here, from which the legion nines may be recruited.

Play will be started June 1, with each team engaging in three contests weekly. The league schedule will run for five weeks.

The winning Wichita Falls team will compete in district play, and the district winner will engage in state competition. The major baseball leagues donate $50,000 annually to the legion to aid in playing off the inter-state contests, and in addition provide a trip to the world series to the national champions.

Eligibility Rules

The only eligibility requirements are that players must be amateurs and not be 18 years old before Sept. 17, 1929. Boys desirous of playing in the league may communicate with Frazee at his offices at Memorial auditorium.

The Forty and Eight and the American legion will back two of the clubs in the local league. Sponsors for the other two teams will be announced soon.

Indians and Cats Swap 1st Basemen

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, May 7. (AP)—Ray Grimes, first baseman of the San Antonio baseball club the past two seasons, was traded to Fort Worth for First Baseman Jim Riley, business Manager Tom E. Conner of the San Antonio baseball club, announced tonight.

The trade became effective at once and Riley will be in the Indian lineup Wednesday when the Wichita Falls Spudders open here.

Allison May Play On Davis Cup Team

PHILADELPHIA, May 7. (AP)—Three of America's younger tennis players appear to have won places on the American Davis cup team, which will engage Canada this month, in trials ending here.

John Hennessey, Indianapolis, defeated William T. Tilden, 6-1, 6-4, and John Van Ryn, former Princeton star, beat Francis T. Hunter, New York, 4-6, 6-4, 6-4. In doubles Wilmer Allison, Fort Worth, Texas, and Van Ryn defeated Tilden and Hunter, 1-6, 6-3, 6-2.

Baseball Crowds

Both New York clubs, the Chicago Cubs and the Philadelphia Athletics may take a crack at past attendance records before the season is over. All four are sure to be big attractions throughout the entire season, and it is almost a certainty the Cubs will set another home-made mark.

These four clubs will be big money makers. Both St. Louis clubs should have big seasons, and Pittsburgh will do well, extremely well, if Donie Bush can keep his people in sight of the leaders.

Just how the others will make out depends largely on how long they hang around with polite baseball society. Once they are well out of the race the rabid fanatic loses most of his spring enthusiasm.

Boston will do well, with something like a chance. There is no better ball town anywhere on any circuit, soul for soul.

The wonder is that any fans have survived, when you inspect the standing of the clubs in the two leagues for the last few years.

It takes a fanatic wilder than a dancing dervish to subsist on tail-end fare and like it well enough to keep repeating the dish.

In spite of another wet, cold spring, 1929 gives early evidence of general interest, East and West. Only those with Eskimo blood enjoyed the April show, but warmer weather will again see capacity in more than one park as the campaign begins to steam up.

There is always some early gossip about baseball's waning popularity, but there isn't any waning taking place in those cities that are lucky enough to have the first division set.

Paulino Uzcudun

This axman from the Pyrenees
Is tougher than his native trees,
And no man yet has made him run,
I mean Paulino Uzcudun.

He has a large and hairy paw,
They break their fists upon his jaw;
For socking rock is not much fun,
I mean Paulino Uzcudun.

He has a chest built like a cask,
This heavy, thick-set, burly Basque,
Who grins to see his claret run,
I mean Paulino Uzcudun.

He's hardly called a fancy type,
His boxing skill is largely tripe;
But he'll take four to slip you one,
This fellow known as Uzcudun.

I like the way he marches in
With granite jaw and ears of tin,
And tries to claw or crack or stun,
I mean Paulino Uzcudun.

Yes, I could write you twenty more
Such verses from my endless store,
But as it is I think I've spun
Enough about this Uzcudun.

Second Base Combination

Lou Gehrig, of the Yankees, recently said that next to a strong pitching staff, one of the main requirements of a pennant-winning club was a strong second base combination.

Past history will show pretty well that Gehrig is right. The old Cubs had Tinker and Evers, one of the greatest pairs of all time, and they won four pennants within five years. The old Athletics had Barry and Collins, another pair fully as brilliant, and they also won four pennants in five years. One of the main reasons for the Braves' success in 1914 was their second base combination of Maranville and Evers.

The Giants during their four-year reign had Bancroft and Frisch, another powerful combination. When the Cardinals won in 1927 they had Thevenow and Frisch, almost as good. The Senators had Peck and Harris during their winning years, and the Yankees had Koenig and Lazeri as they peeled off three pennants.

A team with a weakness around second can break apart quickly in defensive play, even if it gets good pitching. Too many balls are hit through the two positions and there are too many chances for double plays. A strong combination here can frequently save two or three runs that a weaker pair would lose.

If Connie Mack's play around second holds up this season he has a better chance to win the pennant than he has ever known since 1914, when Barry and Collins were working side by side.

The Best Keystoners

It might be stated here that this refers in the main to the modern game, with no attempt to swing back to the '80s and the early '90s.

Here are a few to think about:
Long and Low—Boston—late 90's.
Wagner and Ritchie—Pittsburgh—1902.
Turner and Lajoie—Cleveland—1905.
Tinker and Evers—Chicago—1906.
Bush and Schaefer—Detroit—1907.
Barry and Collins—Philadelphia—1910.
Maranville and Evers—Boston—1914.
Bancroft and Frisch—New York—1922.

There may have been a more brilliant defensive pair in this list than Barry and Collins, but I doubt it.

The Hardest Schedule

Get a few old football men together in any season and the talk is football. They were talking about hard schedules for next fall. The argument was steaming up until some one mentioned the Army's campaign — which among others will include Yale, Harvard, Illinois, Notre Dame and Stanford.

And this doesn't make mention of a powerful Ohio Wesleyan invasion, a team that beat Michigan last fall, and may be even stronger this year. Not to forget that out at Illinois, Dr. Zuppke will throw every division he has into the Army engagement, it being one of the doctor's chief pleasures and diversions to toss the poisoned harpoon into eastern football flesh at every given chance. And he hasn't failed often enough to drag in any of the vital statistics.

Today's Golf Tip

Did you ever finish your back swing and then let the clubhead descend through its own speed, unchecked by some incorrect effort? You might try it some time and you might also be surprised how much speed it develops in this way about the time it reaches the bottom of the arc.

PLEASING NEWS to local fandom emanated last night from Spudder headquarters with Secretary Guy Airey the purveyor of the glad tidings. It was to the affect that Bud Stapleton will be back in the lineup when the Galloways return home Saturday, and that Pete Turgeon soon will be able to don diamond regalia. Stapleton's broken finger has healed nicely and his physicians have advised the star first baseman that he will be able to snare wild throws and hot grounders with his usual aplomb.

Turgeon's sprained ankle also is getting back to normal, and the starry infielder can walk on his injured pin without great pain. It will be a few days, however, before Pete can scamper around the keystone bag with undiminished speed.

THE ABSENCE of Pete and Bud was felt by the Spudders, but their substitutes have done well at unfamiliar positions. It is an axiom of baseball that a ball club is as strong as its substitutes, and the Spudders seem to have plenty of reserve talent.

It was surprising that Brick Eldred, the stocky outfielder, was placed at second base. Milt Gordon and Debs Garms, the rookie infielders, are available for duty and it seemed that one of those kids would get the call when Pete was forced out.

But Eldred was called on by Skipper Jim, doubtless due mainly to his hitting. And Brick also has delivered playing a strange position, his defensive work being excellent.

It will startle fans not familiar with Brick's speed to know that he is an exceptionally fast runner for a pudgy fellow. In fact, over the 50-yard route, Eldred is one of the fastest men on the Spudder club. That was proved in spring training when he left most of his teammates behind in short sprints.

BOB SNYDER likewise has acceptably played at first base although he is a catcher by trade. The big chap has been pounding the ball well, too. Indeed the Spudders have been hitting at a resounding clip on their present jaunt, loose defensive work, which includes pitching as well as fielding, proving their undoing in a majority of games which they lost.

SHREVEPORT can claim the doubtful distinction to the Texas league hard luck championship. Two Sports outfielders have sustained injuries that will keep them out of the game several months and other Shreveport tossers have been victims of injury and illness.

McClanahan, the hard-hitting and promising rookie outfielder, broke a leg a week ago and of course won't play ball for many a week. Hutson fractured an arm in last Monday's game and it will be a couple of months before he is back in uniform. Hutson is another kid gardener.

Joe Brown, star of the pitching staff, suffered from an attack of appendicitis shortly after the championship campaign opened and has been of little value since, although he was not called upon to go under the surgeon knife.

Dick Cox, another outfielder and Ernie Holman, third baseman, have lost a few games for various ailments.

A full meed of admiration must be accorded Art Phelan's courageous young club for staying up in the race as well as they have in the face of such adversity they have encountered.

SECURITY WINS BANK OPENER

Mathis Hurls 9-3 Victory Over Wichita State

The Bankers Baseball league was opened yesterday when the Security National defeated the Wichita State nine in seven innings by a score of 9 to 3 at the Wilson field diamond. The Security team took the lead in the first inning and were never headed as a result of the fine pitching of John Mathis.

Persky was the big noise in the winner's attack with a single, double and a home run. Guy Taylor formed the Wichita State's threat with his excellent hurling and batting, getting a single, double and triple in three times at bat.

The fielding of the losers was erratic which caused many Securities to be given a place on the paths; whereas the winners fielded perfectly.

Charles C. Bunnenberg, city park superintendent, and W. E. McBroom, city clerk, officiated in opening the season.

The City National bank and First National bank nines will tangle in the second game of the season at Wilson field, at Brook and Speedway, today at 5 o'clock

'WEE BOBBY' TURNS IN 147

16 U. S. Pros and George Von Elm Qualify

By ARCH RODGERS

MUIRFIELD, Scotland, May 7. (UP)—Americans were in the van at Muirfield today, Leo Diegel, White Plains professional, winning the qualifying medal with a brilliant low aggregate of 144.

Three strokes behind Diegel and still well out in front of the field of 108 qualifiers in the British open golf championship, came little Bobby Cruickshank, beloved by the east coast Scots, with 147.

Bringing up the rear of the qualifying ranks, however, were some of the other American pros—Jim Barnes, Johnny Farrell, Al Espinosa and Ed Dudley, the last named finishing in a tie for last place and just getting in with 162.

All 16 professionals from the United States and George von Elm, former amateur champion, qualified.

The weather which took such a heavy toll of strokes on Monday improved today, but the golf, for the most part, failed to follow suit. Diegel's 70 over the championship course at Muirfield was the lone outstanding performance of the second day.

Horton Smith Scores 154

The 108 qualifiers will set out tomorrow on the 72-hole medal play test, and the field will be reduced further Thursday night when all those more than 14 strokes behind the leader must drop out.

Horton Smith, young Joplin, Mo., pro., who qualified with an aggregate of 154, will lead the big parade tomorrow morning, with Willie Robertson, a Lancashire golfer, as his partner. Walter Hagen, defending champion, whose qualifying total was also 154, will be last to start, partnered with Henry Cotton, young British Ryder cup professional.

The best British performances in the 36-hole qualifying test which ended today were turned in by Cyril Tolley, the former amateur championship, and R. A. Whitcombe, a member of the famous family of golfing brothers from the west of England. This pair tied for third place with 150, and were followed by George von Elm, George Duncan and A. E. Whiting, with 151.

Tim Perkins, British amateur champion, had an aggregate of 152, as did Al Watrous, American Ryder cup player, and Archie Compston.

The first 17 also included the following, tied with 153: Arthur Havers, R. B. Denholm, Henry Cotton, W. Nolan, Abe Mitchell, and Aubrey Boomer, Britishers, and Jose Jurado, diminutive Argentine pro, who did so well in last year's open championship at Sandwich.

Jim Braid Eliminated

Few notables suffered elimination since the scores in general were considerably higher than had been anticipated. Chief among the casualties were James Braid, who has won five times since 1900, and Jack White, winner of the 1904 open.

Four American amateur golfers failed to qualify. They were Joshua Crane, veteran Bostonian, who had an aggregate of 171, and Max Behr, W. F. Stites and Si Newton, who failed to turn in cards.

Fred Jewell, the little-known British professional who led the field yesterday with a 72, cracked today and took an 82 for an aggregate of 154.

Although only four Americans—Diegel, Cruickshank, von Elm and Watrous—finished among the first 15, it was felt in many circles tonight that British goldom is again threatened with American supremacy.

Many believe that the championship will evolve into a battle between the human putting machine—Diegel—and the smiling Scot Cruickshank. Diegel's driving was the feature of his game today. At the short sixteenth Leo hit the pin with a tee shot which he declared one of the best in his career.

Weather Still Uncertain

The uncertainty of the weather is still a prime factor. Rain commenced again early tonight and threatened to continue and thus slow up the greens after they had dried out today.

Hagen, who tied for 18th place with Horton Smith and five Englishmen, had notable trouble with putting today and will have to show improvement on the greens if he is to retain his title.

Tommy Armour, who started a joint favorite with Cruickshank among the Scots to win the title, finished 25th with a 155 and is still regarded as a serious threat because of his familiarity with the course which he learned before he went to the United States.

Horton Smith has won the approval of the Muirfield galleries—among the most critical in the world—as a good-natured smiling giant and a natural golfer. He has won hundreds of friends locally, where children play golf in the streets and any resident is able to recognize a natural coming champion.

"THE FAST WAY TO HEALTH"

Some Pineapple Recipes

The pineapple is a multiple fruit, as all of the little sections are really fruits growing out of a central core. When the pineapple is small, it is covered with many purplish-blue flowers, one in each eye. As it matures, the flowers drop off, and the closely packed individual berries become consolidated into one juicy solid fruit.

It is difficult to obtain good fresh pineapple in this country because it must be picked green for shipment. The best fruits reaches us in canned form, as it may be allowed to completely ripen and develop its full flavoring upon the plant before being canned. If you use the fresh fruit, select one that has yellow around the little circles. If you cannot get the pineapple fully ripe, you should set it aside for a few days to allow it to become mellow.

The pineapple prepared without sugar makes a very good fruit to use while fasting, and may be used as a change from the orange to other fruits.

Unsweetened pineapple juice can be obtained in most stores and some of the better class restaurants serve this in the same manner as orange juice before breakfast.

The pineapple is especially suitable as a dessert with a protein meal, as its combination of fruit acids and other elements stimulates the gastric juices and makes the pineapple really a medicinal fruit especially for dyspeptics. It also combines well with the non-starchy vegetables, but not well with the starches.

Ripe pineapple contains about 85% water, one-half of 1% protein, 13% sugar and some mineral matter, in which potassium, calcium and magnesium are most abundant.

Here are a few pineapple recipes;

Pineapple Cream Gelatin

Soak two tablespoonfuls of gelatin in a small amount of water. Add one-half cup of strained hot pineapple juice. As this mixture becomes cool, but not yet solid, fold in a half cup of whipped cream, a half cup of crushed pineapple, and a half cup of cleaned raisins. Place in molds and allow to harden on ice.

Frozen Canned Pineapple

Do not open the can of pineapple, but remove the label, placing the entire can in a bucket and entirely surround it with a mixture of chopped ice and ice cream salt. This will freeze in about a half hour, after which the can may be opened, the frozen pineapple sliced and served; or, if you have one of the new electrical refrigerators, you can place the can of pineapple in the freezing compartment for about a half to three-quarters of an hour.

Crushed Pineapple Dessert

Plain crushed pineapple served in individual cups make a splendid dessert for a protein meal. If desired, the pineapple may be garnished with whipped cream and water-cress or mint leaves.

Baked Ham and Pineapple

Cover ham with cold water and boil for thirty minutes. Drain the water off and cut the ham into small pieces. Place in shallow baking dish and cover with crushed pineapple and melba toast crumbs. Bake in moderate oven or forty-five minutes or until well browned.

Pineapple, Water-Cress and Cottage Cheese Salad

On lettuce leaves place crushed or sliced pineapple. Cover this with fresh cottage cheese and garnish with water-cress leaves. No dressing is required. A large dish of this makes a complete meal in itself.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

(Wounded with Shrapnel)

Question—Mrs. J. K. writes: "During the war my husband was injured with shrapnel, one piece of which lodged close to the spinal nerve near the base of the brain. An operation was considered too dangerous, and it was never removed. He is subject to violent headaches which I do not believe due to faulty diet. Do you think it advisable for him to have an X-ray with a view to having that bit of shrapnel removed? Other bits have worked out through the skin on his neck, but is there danger of this piece working into the brain?"

Answer — I believe the best plan would be for your husband to have an X-ray so that the exact position of the shrapnel can be determined. It is rare that a foreign object in the body ever works into a dangerous area, as the tendency is for them to work toward the skin or become imbedded in fibrous tissues. It would be necessary for him to have a careful examination to determine the cause of the headaches.

(Too Muscular?)

Question—Miss H. Writes: "My question is: How may I keep my flesh solid without becoming any more muscular. I am too muscular already and have stopped playing basket ball on that account."

Answer—Do not worry about being too muscular. It is healthful to be muscular and as you grow older the muscular condition will be rounded out so that it will not be noticeable. Keep right on with your athletics. Women athletes do not seem to be deformed by muscular development. Take Helen Wills for instance.

(Normal Blood Pressure)

Question — W. L. asks: "What is the normal blood pressure?"

Answer — For the adults, the normal blood pressure should be from 120 to 130 systolic. This should not increase much in those of advanced age, and should never go higher than 130.

Old Soak's Temper Rougher Than Ever

NEW YORK, May 7. (US)—Old Soak, the pet parrot of Secretary of State Stimson, who is being brought to this country from Manila by Capt. F. E. Anderson, of the Dollar Liner President Wilson, is in good health but mean temper, according to a wireless message received here today by the Dollar Line offices, from Penang, Straits Settlements.

Captain Anderson apparently had little relish for his task. His message reads:

"Old Soak's health good. Few tail feathers lost account of molting. Mean temper; chewed three buttons off my uniform coat. I am sure the man who instituted 'be kind to animals week,' never met Old Soak."

Quanah Man Catches Huge Bass With Hands

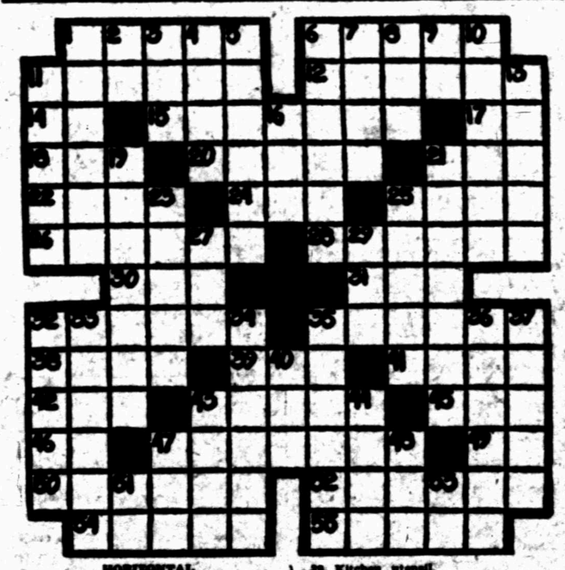

Special to The Record News.

QUANAH, Texas, May 7.—Catching and landing a seven and one-half pound bass with his hands was the unusual experience of B. F. Murray, employe of the West Texas Utilities company at the superpower plant at Lake Pauline.

The fish had come down into the spillway leading into the intake canal. This intake pipe is covered with screen which frequently gets clogged and it was while cleaning off this screen that Murray captured the bass.

This same screen was electrified early in the season when minnows were moving, and millions of the small bait fish were electrocuted causing them to come to the top of the water where they were removed.

TAYLOR TEST HAS OIL SHOW

Mid-Continent Wildcat Near Abilene Cleans Out

Special to The Record News.

ABILENE, Texas, May 7.—Mid-Continent Oil & Gas company has around 1500 feet of fluid, mostly crude oil, standing in its No. 1 T. H. Taylor, wildcat oil test in north central Taylor county, 18 miles southwest of this city. The crude is coming from two horizons, the first from 2381 to 2394 feet and the other from 2445 to 2450 feet.

When the two oil bearing strata were encountered during the last days of January they were tested and showed up for around 7 barrels a day, pumping. The owners drilled the test on down to 3006 feet and then plugged back to 2550 feet and shot the pay formations. The first shot was 30 quarts and the second 607 quarts.

Due to the fact that the pipe was pulled when the shots were set off, considerable cavings went into the bottom of the hole. The drillers are cleaning out and are now about 30 feet off bottom. In the cleaning out they have bailed the hole considerably having the slush pit coverd with fluid. All the crude in the hole has come in since the shooting.

It is claimed that the hole is free of water and as soon as the cavings are out a test to determine the productive value of the well will be made. This hole is showing more oil than any other test ever drilled in Taylor county. There is some gas coming from the bottom of the pay.

Local operators have made no official estimates as to the possible value of the well, waiting for the cleaning out to be finished and report of swabbing obtained.

The Taylor wildcat is located in the southeast corner of the 100-acre Taylor lease in lot 3 of the Guadalupe county school lands and is about 3 miles northwest of view, a small town on the Santa Fe railway.

Auto Dealers Give Spark Plug Parade

A parade of new automobiles, service cars, shop trucks and wrecking trucks belonging to local automobile dealers was staged Tuesday under the direction of W. D. Jones, sales representative of the Champion Spark Plug company of Toledo, Ohio, in celebration of Champion National Change week.

The parade was styled by those in charge as part of an educational campaign fostered by the Champion Spark Plug concern and designed to impress upon automobile owners the value of annual changing of plugs. The Auto Spring & Supply company and the Archenhold Automobile Supply company of this city, assisted in the demonstration Tuesday.

Two Outbreaks In Chaco Territory

WASHINGTON, May 7. (INS)—Two outbreaks have occurred within the last few days in the Chaco territory, lying between Bolivia and Paraguay, but the utmost secrecy is being maintained both by the Neutral Conciliation commission prying into the outbreak of last December and by the Bolivans and Paraguayans themselves.

Brig. Gen. Frank R. McCoy, chairman of the conciliation commission, merely issued a short statement saying that he had received from the Bolivan delegates "such information as they have of a recent frontier incident in the Chaco."

Electra C-C Band To Give Concert May 30

The Electra Chamber of Commerce band will present a concert here May 30 on one of the city park department's free programs at Bellevue park, according to C. C. Bunnenberg, park superintendent.

The Electra band is directed by Ira C. Johns and was offered to Mr. Bunnenberg several weeks to use in one of his programs.

More than 50 other band concerts have been arranged for by Mr. Bunnenberg during the free show season which will open on May 15 and extend until the beginning of winter weather.

W. F. Davis Retains Gasoline And Service Station Interests Here

The Record News wishes to correct a statement contained in the May 7 edition with reference to the merging of the Orient Petroleum company of this city with the Pennsylvania Consumers company of Council Bluffs, Iowa.

The local properties listed as comprising the Orient interests involved in the merger included those of the Orient Gas and the Orient Gas and Oil companies of this city. These concerns operate filling and service stations in Wichita Falls and other cities and are the personal interests of W. F. Davis. The trade name was adopted by these concerns in 1923, it was stated.

The properties of the Orient Petroleum company, which entered into the holding corporation, include the refining properties on the Iowa Park road several local filling stations and a subsidiary, the Orient Petroleum company of Illinois, at Elgin, Ill.

The Orient Petroleum company has established offices at 354-355-356 Harvey-Snider building, in charge of William F. DeHaas.

The extensive marketing facilities provided by the merging of interests will absorb the greatly increased output of the refinery which will be effected by the installation of a Jenkins cracking system, and other improvements, according to Mr. DeHaas.

Sparkling Comedy Promised Here In Presentation of "Sunshine"

A musical comedy sparkling with the brilliance and splendor of "Old Sol" himself is promised by members of the Optimist club in the presentation of "Sunshine" at the Memorial auditorium, Friday, May 17.

The cast for the show, chosen in this city, is being directed by Mrs. Virginia Street Orr, who is also the author of the production. Mrs. Orr, who lives in Columbia, Tenn., is a graduate of the Leland Powers School of the Spoken Word, Boston, and is credited with a number of distinct successes in the production of entertainments similar to the one to be given here.

"Sunshine" was said to have been presented with complete success in many of the larger cities of this country, and to have been commended by many officials high in public life, civic club workers, and dramatic critics. It has been given invariably under the auspices of civic organizations, and the approval registered both by box-office receipts and voluntary expressions of its patrons were said to have occasioned many repeat and return engagements.

Those who have attended rehearsals, which have been under way for the last three weeks, attest to the musicianship and directing ability of Mrs. Orr. Charming music, rich costuming, and original dances were listed as among the features to be expected, with speaking parts which give more play to histrionic ability than most productions of this kind.

NORTHEAST OF CHARLIE

Wirt Franklin company No. 1 C. L. Wolfe located a short distance northeast of the town of Charlie in Clay county has completed arrangements and will build a standard rig to put down the test a depth of 4000 feet. NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, May 7. (AP)—Cotton was fairly active today and price movements were feverish. Values declined 17 to 22 points in the early trading prompted by lower Liverpool cables, a further decline in wheat, and continued high money. The lower level attracted active covering with some fears expressed that the weekly weather and crop bulletin on Wednesday would be unfavorable. July contracts, after selling down to 18.[illegible], rallied to 18.72, an advance of 9 points from the previous final. The high levels of the day were reached late in the afternoon but were not fully maintained, July closing at 18.66 or 3 points net higher. The general market closed steady at net unchanged to 4 points higher.

The opening was steady at a decline of 10 to 16 points and early in the day was under considerable pressure from liquidation and selling through commission houses.

The further break in the grain markets and the high money rates seemed to bring out more selling for western and Wall street accounts and although the crop advices were somewhat conflicting, sentiment seemed to lean to the bear side on the expectation of a large acreage and the possibility of a big crop. Whn shorts covered late in the day, the market advanced rather easily. The December position, after selling down to 18.62, advanced to 18.88. When the market developed signs of firmness more attention was given to some earlier private reports of weevil activity in the southern belt. Washington announced that only one boll weevil emergence report would be issued this spring which will be as of June 1 and will be released on June 14.

Private Liverpool cables reported general liquidation on large acreage reports but covering and calling in the decline and said that Machester was unsettled with the cotton decline checking business. Exports today 29,336, making 7,413,282 so far this season. Port receipts 8,956. U. S. port stocks 1,305,617.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, May 7. (AP)—Rallies of approximately $1.25 a bale followed an early decline in the cotton market today on a demand stimulated by bullishly construed private weekly weather and crop reports. Highs of the day were made in late trading when July sold up from 18.42 to 18.68. The option closed at 18.63, or 5 points net higher. The general market closed steady at net advances of 2 to 6 points.

Liverpool cables were lower than expected and first trades here showed losses of 8 to 10 points in sympathy. Selling continued rather active after the start and July dropped to 18.49, October 18.37, and December 18.48, or 15 to 17 points below the previous close. Increased acreage views coupled with disappointing cables was responsible for the initial weakness.

The decline was checked at these levels by a demand prompted by unfavorable crop accounts from the interior and a private weekly weather report regarded as distinctly bullish. Fears that tomorrow's official report would confirm the private advices, further strengthened prices and in late trading July sold up to 18.68, October 18.64 and December 18.72, or 24 to 27 points from the lows. Final prices were a few points off from the best, due to some last minute realizing and October closed at 18.59 and December 18.69, or 4 to 6 points net higher.

SPICER MANUFACTURING CORPORATION

The Spicer Manufacturing corporation which owns a number of subsidiaries both in this country and in England is the largest manufacturer of universal joints and propeller shafts for automobiles in the United States and is one of the leading makers of automobile frames for trucks and passenger cars. It also makes automobile axles drop forgings, screw machine products and general metal stampings.

The plants are located at Toledo, South Plainfield, N. J., Pottstown, Pa., and Jamestown, N. Y. A western sales office is maintained at Detroit. The company has shown fairly good earning power since 1921 in which year it registered a deficit. In 1927 net income was $1,116,352. This compared with $1,638,990 in 1926. For the nine months ended Sept. 30, 1928 net income was $1,245,400.

There is no funded debt. Capital stock outstanding includes 100,000 shares of $3 cumulative convertible preferred series of "A" of no par value which is redeemable at $57.50 a share and 313,750 shares of common of no par value. The old $8 preferred stock was retired in July, 1928. The preferred stock is convertible into common at the rate of four shares of preferred for three shares of common up to Jan. 1, 1933.

Dividends have been paid regularly on the preferred stock but nothing has been paid on the common since 1920. As of Nov. 30, 1928 current liabilities amounted to $1,721,896 while total current assets were $6,079,269 leaving net working capital of $4,357,373. Book value applicable to the common stock at the last report available was $23.58 a share.

Continued Tight Money Eases Trade And Keeps Stock Market Lower

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, May 7. (US)—Continued tight money put the stock market lower in quieter trading today. The call rate held at 14 per cent with conflicting reports of the outlook emanating from banking circles so that nervous liquidation and short selling kept the list irregular throughout.

A few specialties continued to move ahead but most recent favorites colsed lower. Sparks Withington gained over 11, By-Products Coke close to 3 points more and Shattuck moved 3½ points higher. Radio lost 6, Montgomery Ward 3, American Can 5¼, General Electric 6, Sears Roebuck 4⅞, United Aircraft 3, while others lost from about a point to over 2 points.

Coppers were soft throughout with Kennecott losing over 2 while the rails were dull and fractionally lower on the average. Oils met support but lost a little of recent gains. Turnover dropped under the 3,500,000 share level.

One could hear anything as to money conditions. One group of borkers and traders stated the rate would drop while others looked for a higher charge. The only reliable information was from money sources and indicated that there was plenty of funds that could be made available if the reserve would stop its under-cover restrictive measures. In this connection interesting advice was received from Washington to the effect that many complaints have been made to the leaders of the administration regarding federal reserve activities. Up to date, however, the administration appears to have adopted neutral attitude at the least. So long as no unsettlement in general business is threatened by the money manipulation no interference by the White House is thought likely where there appears to be no reason for changing belief that a good part of the money developments are connected with international finance.

Utilities and power shares continued to stand out by reason of the conspicuous advances of several issues and the good support given the group as a whole. Electric investors skyrocketing opening followed report here of the character of the buying. Those interested also are active in United Corporation, Electric Bond & Share and others that have been among the outstanding leaders recently. More will be heard of expansion of activity of this group and plans to effect closer affiliations in the very near future. Oils gave a good account of themselves also.

General Motors interests continue to display optimism despite the confused reports emanating from motor circles these days. The directors will meet for dividend action on Thursday. While some extra disbursement is possible it is likely to be small for it is the practice of the management to refran from cutting the big melons until after definite indication is avalable of the results of the year's operations. Murray Body continued fairly quiet. Its friends declared it is stabilizing its position following its recent move to new high territory. They still talk of earnings of over $3 a share this quarter and in addition maintain the stock is harboring the largest short interest in many months. Radio's report of earnings caused disappointment. Radio's bonanza period, however, is in the last half of the year.

Specialties influenced by favorable individual developments remain the most attractive trading mediums. Shattuck took the spotlight because of reports of expansion plans of the management. The chain of store restaurants, it is declared, will be substantially increased this year. Already more have been added since January 1 than in any nine months' period and before the year closes, it is stated, Shattuck will have added at least ten more. Ludlum Steel has been quietly bought in expectation of record earnings report. Eaton Axle has reflected similar influence lately as net for the first quarter is said to have been close to $2.50 a share.

Livestock

TEXAS LIVESTOCK

FORT WORTH, May 7. (AP)—Stocker cattle made up the bulk of the cattle receipts here today and they included some sold on country contract. The supply as a whole was light and slaughter cattle consisted largely of mixed lots and rather common.

One load good heavy cattle sold at $13.75 and weighed 1,384 pounds. Other ears included the kind due to sell at $10.50 and $11.75.

Very few bulls offered. Light bulls around $7.00 and better heavy bulls around $8.50.

Hardly enough cows on hand to test grade. Canners and cutters sold at $5.00 and $6.25.

Very few yearlings offered. One load sold to an order buyer at $12.50 and considered fully steady.

Most of the calves offered very common and sold at unchanged prices. Short load in the southern division sold at $11.50 and a small package of desirable 305-pound calves sold at $13.50, with most culls around $8.00. Bidding on lights and better quality stockers about steady, others slow, with lower tendency.

Sheep for slaughter purposes mostly 25c lower, 25 and aged wethers sold at $8.15 and yearlings at $11.75.

No good rail hogs offered. Quality considered, most hogs called 10 cents lower, best rail butchers at $10.40 and rail top at $9.90 for a few with most of the sales at $9.80. Bulk 175 to 250-pound butcher sold at $9.50 and $10.40; packing sows at $8.50 and $9.00.

MID-WESTERN REVIEW

KANSAS CITY, May 7. (AP) (U. S. D. A.)—Further price declines were enforced on hogs at most points around the 11-market circuit. Values were unevenly steadily steady to 25c lower, with closing trade more active than the opening. The day's extreme top of $11.45 was paid in Chicago. Total offerings were around 72,300, a decrease of 30,700 from a week ago and 15,500 less than the corresponding day last year.

Although cattle receipts were light to moderate, fed steers and yearling trade was slow with packers attempting to shade values. A slow eastern dressed beef trade was the depressing influence. Light weights of steers and yearlings were generally steady with a fair demand for the choice grades. Weighty steers were on a weak to 25c lower basis. The in-between grades showing the decline. Chicago scored $15.00 on choice 1,300-pound steers and realized $14.85 on long yearlings. Choice light weight steers at Kansas City and Omaha reached $14.50. Prices on stocker and feeder steers have strengthened this week due to the curtailed supply. Kansas City received $14.75 for a load of choice short yearling stockers and attained $13.50 for a nine-car string of good horned Texas stockers averaging around 625 pounds. Aggregate receipts were estimated at 35,300, as compared with 44,613 last Tuesday and 37,502 a year ago.

A weak undertone continued to prevail on sheep. Fat lambs were unevenly steady to 25c lower while aged stock at several markets slumped 25@50c.

California springers in Chicago cleared at $17.25 and best fed wooled offerings made $15.85. Clipped lambs in Chicago realized $14.40. The supply approximated 49,000, a shortage of 13,700 from a week ago, but 2,700 more than a year ago.

CHICAGO, May 7. (AP)—Hogs—Receipts 19,000; steady to 10c lower; top $11.45 for 200-pound averages; packing sows $9.50@10.25.

Cattle—Receipts 8,000; calves, receipts 5,000; weak on yearlings, weighty steers weak to 25c lower; slaughter steers, good and choice 950-1,500 pounds $13.25@15.00; fed yearlings, good and choice, 750 to 950 pounds, $13.75@15.00; cows, good and choice $9.75@12.25; vealers, milk-fed, good and choice $12.00@16.00.

Sheep—Receipts 11,000; steady to weak; spring lambs, good and choice $16.25@17.50; lambs, good and choice, 92 pounds down $12.25@14.40; ewes, medium to choice, 150 pounds down $6.00@7.50.

FORT WORTH, May 7. (AP)—Hogs—Receipts 1,100; 10c lower; top $10.40; medium to good, 180 to 240-pound rail hogs, $10.15@10.40; packing sows $8.50@9.00.

Cattle and Calves—Receipts 2,200, including 700 calves; quotably steady; choice beeves 1,384 pounds, $13.75; others $10@11.00; butcher cows $7@7.75; fairly good fat yearlings $12.50; good heavy calves $11@11.50.

Sheep—Receipts 1,700; steady to 25c lower; shorn fat yearlings $11.75; good shorn fat wethers $8.15.

KANSAS CITY, May 7. (AP)—Hogs—Receipts 7,000; 10@20c lower; top $10.80 on 200-220 pounds; packing sows $8.50@9.65.

Cattle—Receipts 7,000; calves 1,000; fed steers steady to weak; other classes fully steady; slaughter steers, good and choice 950-1,500 pounds $12.75@14.75; fed yearlings, good and choice 750-950 pounds $13.00@14.75; cows, good and choice $9.50@12.00; stocker and feeder steers, good and choice $12.25@14.25; vealers (milk fed) medium to choice $9.50@14.50.

Sheep—Receipts 12,000; fed lambs steady to 25c lower; sheep 25@50c lower; spring lambs, good and choice $15.50@16.75; lambs, good and choice (92 pounds down) $12.75@14.00; ewes, medium to choice (150 pounds down) $5.25@7.00.

Grain

TEXAS CASH PRICES

FORT WORTH, May 7. (AP)—Wheat values nominally followed the contract markets to lower levels in today's trading on the cash grain market, but dealers held off awaiting further action of the market and there were no sales here. Corn and oats slow with no sales of barley.

Wheat—Prices nominally 3 cents lower; mills bid as follows, basis delivered Texas common points, No. 1 ordinary hard milling $1.14@1.15; 13 per cent protein $1.15@1.16; 15 per cent $1.23@1.24; No. 1 soft red, mixed delivered gulf around $1.14@1.15.

Corn—Unchanged.

Oats—Half cent off; No. 3 white delivered group one points at 56@57c; delivered group three points one cent higher; No. 2 delivered Texas common points, 58@59c.

Sorghums—Slightly higher under good demand for small offerings. No. 2 milo per hundred pounds delivered Texas common points, $1.42@1.43; No. 2 kaffir, $1.33@1.34.

Sorghum Heads—Unchanged.

Cane Seed—Unchanged.

CHICAGO REVIEW

CHICAGO, May 7. (AP)—Millions of bushels of Canadian and Argentine wheat pressing for sale at 4 to 6c a bushel below United States wheat led to a record-breaking fresh collapse today of grain prices here. Corn and rye as well as wheat shared at times in the general smash. Efforts to have United States government ships take domestic wheat to foreign markets at cut rates were of no apparent effect in stopping the downward plunge of wheat prices which went 28c below the season's top figures.

Chicago closing quotations on wheat were nervous, 2¼ to 3¼@3⅜c under yesterday's finish. Corn closed irregular at ¼c decline to ⅝c advance, oats ⅛@¼c off to ¼c gain, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 20c.

Initial severe downturns today of wheat values here were largely owing to the fact that before trading had opened in Chicago the Liverpool wheat market showed a decidedly sharper setback than was looked for. This was ascribed to withdrawal of buyers there pending new developments in regard to slashing of railroad freight rates in the United States and Canada as a means of finding an outlet for surplus stocks before the beginning of harvest operations that are almost at hand in Texas.

Corn and other grain showed considerable weakness because of sympathy with wheat, but recovered from the effects. Cash demand for corn was active, receipts being the smallest witnessed in some time.

Provisions advanced in line with the hog market.

POULTRY PRICE HOLDS STEADY

Usual May Decline Fails To Materialize

United States' most heavily populated district, the territory of which New York is the immediate center, continues to draw freely upon Wichita Falls and vicinity for part of its voluminous consumption of fresh poultry and eggs.

One carload of eggs, one of dressed chickens, and one mixed car of both commodities will leave this city for New York this week, it was stated by local dealers Tuesday. A large portion of this produce is coming from points removed by as much as 150 miles from Wichita Falls. Trucks operating to Bowie, to Graham and Breckenridge, and through Quanah into Paducah and Crowell, bring in large numbers of chickens and eggs regularly, it was said.

Hens and broilers constitute the principal movement now in poultry, although a large number of roosters have appeared on the market recently. The territory immediately surrounding this city was said to be furnishing sufficient numbers of broilers to meet the local demand, but the growth of the spring hatch has not yet produced sufficient numbers for shipment to outside markets.

Local dealers stated that a reduction in poultry prices usually is registered about May 1 of each year, but that no indication of a weakened market in the East had been received yet.

Navy Balloon Wins National Race With 900 Mile Journey

PITTSBURGH, May 7. (INS)—The Navy No. 1 balloon, with its crew of Lieut. T. G. W. Settle and Ensign Wilfred Bushnell, aide, is the unofficial winner of the national elimination balloon races which began here last Saturday.

Second and third places will go to the Detroit Times entry and the Goodyear balloon, piloted by Ward T. Van Orman. Van Orman flew 456 miles to Harkness, N. Y., and the Times balloon flew approximately the same distance. Their official mileage will be determined by the National Aeronautical association.

The Navy No. 1 entry covered more than 900 miles when it landed on Prince Edward Island, Canada.

All three balloons will participate in the international James Gordon Bennett race at St. Louis.

Pilot E. J. Hill and Aide A. G. Schlosser of the Detroit Times balloon made their way to a settlement on the edge of the Adirondack wilds today, according to reports from Newcomb, Essex county, N. Y. received at Rale headquarters this afternoon. They had been missing since they took off from here Saturday afternoon.

AROUND WORLD

Art Goebel Announces Latest Plan to Gird The Globe

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., May 7. (INS) — Definite announcement was made here this afternoon by Col. Arthur Goebel, veteran pilot, that he will attempt a non-stop flight around the world soon in a giant airplane equipped with a 425-horsepower motor.

Goebel, who made the first run of the recently inaugurated Kansas City-Des Moines-Minneapolis air route, said arrangements had been made for air fueling stations in all countries with the exception of Russia. He added that negotiations are now under way with the Soviet government.

Col. Goebel did not announce the names of his companions on the proposed flight. He said he believed the trip was feasible in a single-motored ship.

SCOWLERS GET LITTLE SLEEP

Physician Tells How to Relax and Slumber

By W. F. SULLIVAN

CHICAGO, May 7. (UP)—Frowners, through constant scowling, develop a contrary muscle in the eyebrow, jar the nervous system and toss around in bed until the early morning hours, Dr. Edmund Jacobson, who has stayed awake nights experimenting on the whys and wherefores of insomnia, has determined.

It's simple to overcome sleepless nights and the remedy is simply to "learn to relax—control the contrary muscles."

The doctor, a professor in the physiology department of the University of Chicago, has spent 20 years of experimentation on the causes of neurosis and insomnia and sums it all up in a book published today on "Progressive Relaxation."

Causes of Unrest

The trouble with most people, he explains, is their desire to become too comfortable and their worry over whether the pillow is in the right position or whether there is a wrinkle in the sheet, keeps them from relaxation and—sleep.

"Many persons who suffer from insomnia," Dr. Jacobson writes, "do so because they are too particular about becoming perfectly comfortable. If they would spend their time in developing the relaxation of their muscles, they would find sleep."

The doctor's theory abandons the old plan of counting sheep jumping fences or running through other mathematical scales His plan, more or less, would be to drop behind the bed covers and let the legs and arms fall where they may.

"People frequently arrange and rearrange the pillow," he says, "change the location of the bedclothes, alter the position of the leg or other part of the body so as to avoid some slight feeling of cramp or poor circulation.

"In this way they pass the hours, continually improving their position, they believe, but really keeping themselves awake by tensions they make in such efforts. Such persons have to be re-educated gradually to abandon their efforts to get perfectly comfortable."

He explained that a muscle in the eyebrow, for instance, draws tense through frowning, causes a "jumpy" feeling that will keep the mind awake and sleep away.

That muscle must be smoothed out through progressive relaxation which cannot be developed overnight. Constant practice of relaxing the muscles, one at a time, will accomplish the desired peace of mind and body.

Dr. Jacobson's book is directed especially to the education of physicians. They are told how to teach the muscularly tense patient to relax his various muscle groups by "letting them go" until they are perfectly placid.

Once progressive relaxation has been perfected, he says, neurotics and victims of insomnia will learn that "now I lay me down to sleep" is more than a mere mumbling of words.

School and College News

A general discussion of the closing college activities featured a special college assembly which was held during the half hour period Tuesday morning in the college assembly hall. L. O. Jonas, financial sponsor of the Wal-Kun and sponsor of the senior class, urged attendance at the Blue Curtain presentation of "The Brat" which will be held Thursday night at the Junior college auditorium.

◆ ◆ ◆

A central committee consisting of Bill Duncan, chairman; Mark Walker, Mack Thomas, Marvin Kuehn, Alice Hartman, Edna Bobo, Rita Bob Turner and J. T. Barton was appointed at a special business meeting of the college senior class following the adjournment of the college assembly Tuesday morning. The committee was appointed to arrange the schedule for the college senior week program and will make a report within the next few days. A sub-committee to complete plans for each activity on the senior week calendar is to be appointed later.

Program cards were distributed among the high school students during the half-hour period Tuesday morning for the purpose of signing for the courses desired when school again opens next September. No general assembly program was held, as the entire time was devoted to the selecting and registering of the courses desired.

Both front and rear back-steps of the new tennis courts now under construction on the west side of the building were practically completed by the close of school Tuesday afternoon.

Girls to Give Lions Club Program Today

Members of the Junior Business girls and of the Girl Reserves will entertain the weekly meeting of the Lions club Wednesday noon at the Y. W. C. A.

Musical numbers will be given by the Misses Peggy Teeters, Birmah Arnold, Ruby Cardwell, voice; Kathrun Miller, piano, and Joy Baldwin, violin. A number of Junior college girls will present an interpretation of the code of the Girl Reserves, and both groups will sing "Follow the Gleam."

Mrs. Glenn Laskey, president of the Y. W. C. A., will speak.

"I Firmly Believe It Saved My Life," Says Local Woman

"My Entire Family Takes Orgatone and Thinks It Is Just Fine, It Speaks for Itself," Says Mother

"I firmly believe Orgatone saved my life," said Mrs. R. H. McNeill, of 1405 Burnett, Wichita Falls, Texas, wife of a well known carpenter here.

"My entire family takes Orgatone, and thinks it is just fine, it speaks for itself," she continues.

"I have been sick off and on for 10 years, with gall bladder and indigestion troubles. At times, I would have such severe, intense pains in my back and sides I could hardly move, it would hurt me so. I was bilious and very dizzy, and had a soreness in my stomach all of the time. I had frequent headaches, and was very nervous and had a bad case of constipation. Every time I ate anything gas would form on my stomach, until I could hardly breathe. I was getting worse every day, and needed something to build me up.

"Orgatone was advertised and so I began taking it. I don't have gas pains, or that tired feeling at all now, and since taking the first two or three doses of Orgatone, I haven't had a symptom of gall bladder trouble. My kidneys are in normal condition, and I don't have any more bilious or dizzy spells. My six children who are home take Orgatone every day, and we feel that we can't speak enough for it, for it has helped us so. I'll praise Orgatone as long as I live, and I know that if anyone will give Orgatone a trial, it will speak for itself."

Genuine Orgatone is not a so-called patent or secret remedy but a new scientific bile preparation, and is sold in Wichita Falls exclusively by Allison's Drug store, under the personal direction of a special Orgatone representative.—Adv.

SHRINE CLUB FORMED HERE

Service Organization Open To Nobles of Area

Organization of a service club for Shriners was effected at a luncheon held in Maskat Temple auditorium Tuesday noon, when about 60 men voted for its formation, and laid plans for the election of officers within the next few days.

The club will meet on Tuesday noon of each week, it was announced, and will devote the concluding 30 minutes of a one-hour meeting to programs similar to those used in the work of other service clubs. Membership in the new organization is open to all members of Maskat Temple and other Shrine temples in this territory. Efforts will be made to enlist as many as 200 members, leaders in the movement stated.

"Sunshine" Artists On Optimist Program

Members of the Optimist club again will be entertained with a series of sketches taken from the musical comedy, "Sunshine," at the weekly meeting Wednesday noon at the Kemp hotel.

The show is being prepared under the direction of Mrs. Virginia Street Orr for presentation on May 17. Proceeds of the performance are to be used in the Optimist club's program of boys' work.

SEALS HEADS REALTY BOARD

New Officers Elected At Meeting Tuesday

The Wichita Falls Real Estate board elected C. R. Seals president for the ensuing year at the biweekly meeting held Tuesday noon at the Kemp hotel.

C. Y. Tully, first vice president; Rosco Staton, second vice president; Alfred Harris and T. E. Hill, directors, were the other officers chosen at the meeting.

Mr. Seals and J. M. Baber, the retiring president, were selected as delegates to the state realtors' convention which will be held in June at Amarillo.

Mr. Baber was presented with a desk set as a token of appreciation from members of the board for his services as president during the last year. W. S. Curlee acted as their spokesman.

The business survey being taken by the organization was reported to be nearing completion.

$1,500 Bonds Fixed For Pair Held in Burglary

Jack stewart and A. D. King, charged with burglary after the Wooten Grocery company was robbed of several cases of tobacco and cigarets early Monday morning, Tuesday afternoon waived a preliminary hearing. Their bonds were set at $1,500 each.

Ralph King, 16-year-old brother of A. D. King, is being held on a similar charge by J. A. McDonald, county juvenile officer. Members of the police department made the arrests and recovered a quantity of the stolen goods within a few hours after burglary.

LIVING ROOM CONTEST ENDS

Judges to Decide Today On Improvement Test

Judges in the countywide living room improvement contest, under way since Jan. 1, will begin their rounds of inspection Wednesday morning and the prize winners will be announced before the end of the day, Miss Ethel L. Webb, county home demonstration agent, under whose direction the contest is being held, announced Tuesday. The competition, offering an award for the living room which shows the greatest improvement upon the least expenditure of money, is sponsored by the extension department of A. & M. and by the semi-weekly Farm News.

Mrs. J. E. Hays and Mrs. S. D. Johnson, both of Wichita Falls, have been appointed judges. With Miss Webb they will drive to the homes concerned in the contest early Wednesday. The first prize winner will be given a scholarship to the farmer's short course at A. & M., an award presented by the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce.

Contestants whose rooms are to be judged Wednesday include: Mrs. D. W. McShan, and Mrs. A. Starbeck of Wichita Falls, Mrs. C. C. Burrows and Mrs. Clarence Lennen of Iowa Park, Mrs. J. D. Bradley and Mrs. Clarence Foy of Electra.
