Highway Paving Bids Called for by State Commission

Highway 66 to Be Paved This Season

State Highway Dept. Orders Bids on Gray County

At the regular meeting of the state highway commission held last week, bids were asked for paving Highway 66 in Gray county west of McLean. T. W. Gilstrap and Claude Williams represented the McLean chamber of commerce at this meeting, assisted by Senator Clint Small, and it was understood that paving would be done this summer.

T. W. Gilstrap and Jot Montgomery went to Amarillo Monday to interview District Engineer Van London, and found that he had left via airplane for Austin with plans for the highway, which is taken to mean early adjustment of the situation.

The committee was told that the machinery would not leave the route until the paving is done all through the county once the work is begun.

It is expected that a committee will see Mr. Van London Friday of this week in regard to getting plans in readiness for bidders.

Firemen Are Honored with Banquet Friday

A banquet honoring the McLean fire department was given by a number of merchants at the First Presbyterian Church basement last Friday evening.

F. H. Bourland acted as toastmaster, and Rev. Cecil G. Goff, pastor of the First Baptist Church, gave the invocation.

Mr. Bourland explained the purpose of the banquet and paid tribute to the fireboys in a short introductory speech.

Fire Chief J. A. Sparks made the first address, saying that the fireboys considered it an honor to belong to the fire department, and extended the thanks of the entire department for the banquet.

Mayor Jot Montgomery was called upon and said that no man in McLean has as much right to appreciate the fire department as himself. "There is no institution in town that they should be more loyal to than the fire department," said Mr. Montgomery.

Mrs. Ercy Cubine expressed appreciation for the firemen's wives who (Continued on page 3)

BAPTISTS ELECT DEACONS

George Colebank, Reep Landers and John Cooper were elected to the active board of deacons at the First Baptist Church Wednesday evening and an edification service is planned in the near future.

The active board now consists of L. O. Floyd, T. A. Landers, D. L. and G. J. Abbott.

THE LATHER OF ADVERTISING

By B. C. Forbes

An interviewer asked me the other day, "Is there ever a time when a firm should not advertise?" My reply was "Yes."

He asked "When?"

"When it is ready to die," I replied.

Advertising is to business what lather is to shaving. The more generously and vigorously it is employed, the easier it is to get the desired result. But too many advertisers expect to make a clean shave without taking the pains first to apply the lather of advertising adequately.

MCLEAN SENIORS '31

Girls' Glee Club Program Pleases Attentive Crowd

A group of singers from the girls' glee club of the McLean high school, under the direction of Mrs. Cecil G. Goff, gave a concert to a large and attentive audience last Thursday evening.

The selections given were pleasing and free from jazz influence, including the newly adopted state song.

Miss Sybil Graham gave a couple of pleasing piano selections, and Miss Elizabeth Kennedy rendered several readings that drew generous applause.

The lighting arrangements added to the attractiveness of the program, and Mrs. Goff played the piano accompaniments.

Club members taking part in the program were: sopranos, Odessa Kunkel, Lillian Carpenter, Ruth Hess, Oleta Holloway, Bobbie Appling, Lois Kirby, Maudelle Corum, Bonnie Bell; altos, Sarah Ellen Foster, Margaret Hess, Frankie Andrews, Madge and Fern Landers.

STATE AGRICULTURAL MAN HERE LAST WEEK

J. C. Dykes, professor in school of vocational teaching at Texas A. & M. College, assisting the state department in supervising, was here last week the guest of Dr. A. A. Tampke.

Prof. Dykes visited the News office and complimented the paper in co-operating with Dr. Tampke's department, saying that the clipping service furnished by the State University furnished more clippings of vocational work than from any other paper.

The following members of the First Baptist Church attended the Association Workers Conference at Moberly today: Rev. Cecil G. Goff, Rev. and Mrs. E. A. Cobb, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. St. Clair, Mrs. R. L. Appling, Mrs. H. W. Finley, Mrs. Luther Petty.

LIONS HEAR REPORT OF HIGHWAY TRIP

Lions Williams and Gilstrap reported their trip to Austin to appear before the state highway commission last week, at the regular luncheon of the Lions Club Tuesday.

Bids have been called for and contract will be let at an early date for paving. The committee found that there is plenty of money in the state fund for this section of the county, some 7 million dollars being available for the Panhandle.

A vote of thanks was given the committee for making the trip with only $18.00 expense. A vote of thanks was also extended the Southwestern Public Service Co. for donating car and gasoline for the trip.

The club highway committee, consisting of T. A. Landers, Claude Williams and C. S. Rice, was asked to co-operate with the county commissioner in getting the county highway work under way as soon as possible.

Secretary Reep Landers reported all bills paid, with a small balance in the treasury.

The secretary was instructed to send a letter of appreciation and congratulation to Sam M. Braswell upon his reelection as governor of this district.

PAMPA PLAY FAILS TO SHOW

The Pampa Little Theatre play scheduled for Tuesday night at the high school auditorium failed to show on account of lack of attendance.

The play had had no advertising other than announcement in the schools.

Mrs. Milford Sutton spent the week end in Amarillo.

School Fair Makes Good Showing of Student Activities

The school fair held at the grade school last Thursday made a good showing of the work done by each grade during the past year. Each room was decorated with the work done by the different pupils, and 93 visitors registered during the day.

The low first grade had a sand table with a Dutch scene on it, with canal and bridge pictured. The walls were lined with art work done by the small pupils.

The high first had a farm scene on their sand table, with their ABC books and other work on the walls.

The low second had a health house with milk bottle chimney, as principal point of interest, with full sized upholstered chairs and other things to show their activities. The high second had a study of birds on their table, with Eskimo booklets, health posters and other things on the walls.

ALANREED COMMENCEMENT BEGINS SUNDAY

The commencement sermon for the Alanreed high school graduates will be given Sunday morning by Pastor McKee of the Clarendon Presbyterian Church.

Graduating exercises will be held Wednesday evening, May 13, with Dean Clark of Clarendon College delivering the address.

The members of this year's graduating class are: Misses Willie Dee Hall, Annie Lou Darnell, Messrs. Virgil L. Elms and Leroy A. Terbush.

Graduating exercises for the seventh grade pupils will be held Thursday, May 14, with Supt. J. D. Wilson of Collingsworth county making the address.

H. C. Robertson is superintendent of the Alanreed schools.

Senior-Faculty-Parent Social Monday Afternoon

A senior-faculty-parent social was given at the high school auditorium Monday afternoon, with Supt. G. C. Boswell in charge.

Parents and faculty members were asked to gather in the science room and the senior class formed a receiving line in the hall, parents passing down the line and into the auditorium, where a short program was rendered.

Mrs. R. L. Appling, president of the P. T. A., gave the invocation, followed by a piano solo by Charlie Mae Carpenter.

Prof. John Harding gave a couple of accordion solos, and the following rendered two quartet numbers: Laurence Bourland, Fred Durham, James Burrows and Marvin Gardner.

Miss Kennedy gave a reading and Miss McCarty, class sponsor, gave an "appreciation to the seniors," followed by a response from Fred Durham, class president.

Supt. Boswell made a short talk in which he said that "we should make this parting time as happy as possible."

Opportunity for parents to talk was given, and F. H. Bourland, T. A. Landers, W. E. Bogan, Mrs. Jim Back and Mrs. J. F. Corbin made short talks.

Supt. Boswell paid a glowing tribute to J. H. Bodine, school janitor, saying that he is one of the greatest characters that it has been his privilege to associate with.

Mr. Bodine responded by saying that it has been a pleasure to work with the faculty and class. "There has never been a more loyal class," said Mr. Bodine.

Refreshments carrying out the class colors were served by the home economics department under the direction of Miss Seal, and the program closed by singing a number of pep songs led by Prof. John Harding.

PRESERVING EGGS AND CAPONIZING COCKERELS

By Dr. A. A. Tampke

Due to low prices of eggs at this time, it should be the desire of everybody in the community to preserve their eggs for winter use. A five to ten gallon crock and less than $1.00 worth of sodium silicate is necessary. Eggs will keep nine months or longer if preserved properly.

Caponizing cockerels when they are six to 12 weeks old increases their market value, puts on more weight at same age and produces meat of higher quality. Little training is required to do this.

If anyone wishes to do either of the above and desires help, I shall be glad to serve in this capacity at any time. This service is absolutely free.

CO. SUPERINTENDENTS MEET

Gray county principals and superintendents held their regular meeting at Pampa Wednesday evening at 6 o'clock, with the Sam Houston ward school of Pampa. Music, readings, etc., and a paper dealing with promotions by G. C. Boswell of McLean, composed the program.

Superintendent Irby Curruth of Canyon, Mr. Savage, director of the training school of Canyon College, Mrs. Curruth and son were also present, as were a good number of school board members from Pampa, Lefors and other places.

The following officers were elected for another year: R. B. Fisher, Pampa, president; G. C. Boswell, McLean, vice president; Miss Josephine Thomas, Horace Mann ward school principal, Pampa, secretary.

The next meeting will be with the Lefors school, the second Wednesday in September.

Mrs. Martha Hamilton and children are visiting in Oklahoma City.

Graduation Exercises Next Week

Commencement Sermon at High School Auditorium

The baccalaureate sermon for the graduating class of the McLean high school will be preached by Rev. John Mullen, pastor of the First Christian Church of Childress, Sunday evening, May 10, beginning at 8:30.

The exercises will open with the processional played on the piano by Mrs. Boyett, followed by the invocation given by Rev. W. A. Erwin, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, after which the congregation will sing "Onward Christian Soldiers."

Prof. Robt. C. Davidson and Fern Landers will render a clarinet duet, after which the scripture, Matt. 6: 19-3, will be read by Rev. Cecil G. Goff, pastor of the First Baptist Church.

Sybil Graham will play a piano solo, followed by the commencement sermon, with benediction by Rev. W. E. Bogan, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene.

Thirty-three members of the class will graduate this year, with Fern Landers holding the highest number of credits for girls and Fred Durham for boys. Other honor graduates are Sybil Graham and I. D. Shaw.

Graduation exercises will be held Saturday night of next week.

Complete Report McLean Winnings of 4-H Club Boys

By Dr. A. A. Tampke

The official reports from the Texas A. & M. College judging contest reveal some very high placings by the McLean teams.

The McLean dairy team placed 3rd with 2,459 points, which is only 25 points less than first place, won by the Mart team. Our team also placed 4th in Jerseys and 9th in Holsteins. This is remarkable, when it is remembered that 121 of the 439 competing teams were dairy teams.

McLean also had high individual in grain judging and 4th high team in the grain division. The livestock team won the Kansas City Royal trip, placed 5th in all events, 2nd in horses and 6th in beef cattle. The poultry team placed 7th in production birds and 7th in examination.

The farm shop boys placed 4th in all events, 2nd in rafters, 7th in soldering and 7th in concrete.

Out of 150 schools represented in the contest, McLean placed 3rd, which is determined by the addition of the total scores in all seven contests. McLean scored 12,913 points as compared with 14,145 for Sanger, which was first.

FREE BAND CONCERT SATURDAY

A free band concert will be given by the McLean band under the direction of Prof. Robt. C. Davidson, Saturday at 3 p. m., near the Sitter Furniture Co. corner on Main street. Three brand new numbers, never before played publicly by the band, will be given, as well as two old favorites.

Following is the program:

March	America
Overture	Gala Night
Fox trot	Copenhagen
Rag	Rag-a-muffin
March	Lone Crusader

Mrs. Roy Campbell and daughter, Joan, visited in Clarendon Tuesday.

STATION MHS (Weekly Broadcast)

Hello, everybody. This is your old station MHS coming on the air. We are going to give you a short review of the honors won by the students this past school year.

If you'll pardon a little seriousness, I wish to get a little bit sentimental about it. First, however, I wish to say that the school has exhibited a peppy spirit than any year since I have been in high school.

During the first semester, the football squad won six of their twelve games and chalked up more points than their opponents. Out of the 17 boys who lettered in the past season, six will not answer the commands of the tiny scream of the referee's whistle in high school football again. They have donned those gold jerseys and gone out on the field to fight for old MHS for the last time. . . . graduation time leads them out of active high school life.

The team was loyally supported by the pep squad and they were entertained on a number of occasions. The captain of the squad was Reed Grogan, a senior. The boy who received the gold football was Ed Howard, a senior. The football queen, Doris Ruff, was a senior. The Hallowe'en carnival queen was Edna Wilson. She, too, was a senior.

Neither of the basketball squads were very successful. However, we do not attribute this to the coaches. The green material and the experienced teams they encountered were the causes. Enough fundamentals have been taught to those coming into their own next year to be somewhat successful.

McLean won the Gray county class A track meet in both the ward and high school competition. McLean won all of the tennis. The girls won second in volleyball, two first places were won in declamation, a first in extemporaneous speaking, and a number of literary events. There was only one first place won in track events against the superior Harvesters of Pampa (they won the district.) But Carpenter won the half mile. Hase Waters was awarded the gold track shoe as a reward of being McLean's high point man. (He, too, is a senior.)

The one-act play cast under the direction of John Harding won the district tournament at Canyon.

The agricultural boys, coached by A. A. Tampke, won a number of prizes and trophies in their endeavors.

McLean vocational agricultural students made an unusual record in winning in the various fields of activities during the past year. Everybody of the McLean community should be proud of this record, which is listed below. Mr. Tampke stated in his report to the Tiger Post.

In a number of shows (four, to be exact) the students received in poultry as prizes, $105 in cash and 125 ribbons. In the various judging contests, the students won a silver trophy for high individual at Pampa, a gold medal for high individual at the Tri-State fair. This was also in poultry. The dairy team won the trophy and high individual honors at Panhandle. Farm shop won high individual at Texas Tech, and the (Millard Window) received a scholarship. The entire group won second in sweepstake honors at Tech. At Goodwell, Okla. A. & M., the plant production team won first in small grain and had high individual, for which they received a gold medal. In the state contest at Texas A. & M., the livestock team won the Rock Island free trip to Kansas City Royal Judging contest, where they will represent Texas in the national meat judging contest. They also won third high sweepstake honors of the state. In summarizing, the teams won $105 in cash, 125 ribbons, two loving cups, two gold medals, one scholarship, free trip to Kansas City (value $16), and second and third sweepstake honors in the largest contests in the state.

In telling of the activities of the school, we must not overlook some of the parties, etc. There were a number of weiner roasts and picnics which were enjoyed; the party at Clara Pearis, at Geneva's, at Charlie mae's, the sunrise breakfast, the junior-senior banquet! They were sure great. Monday the seniors and their parents had a very nice social.

In the above list I have mentioned only some of the outstanding events of importance. We did not mention any of the local plays which were successful. Station MHS signing off. . . . Weah! we forgot the school weather report for next week. . . . freshmen, fair and hotter; sophomores, fair and pleasant; juniors, stormy and threatening (probably violent); seniors, balmy skies and pleasant weather with a slight hint of "wet" weather. Station MHS signing off. . . . we hope to bring you a more interesting program next week. Toodle-oo. . . .

SENIOR-PARENT-FACULTY SOCIAL

Monday, May 4, at 3:30 p. m., the seniors, their parents and the faculty enjoyed a social at the high school auditorium. When the guests arrived the senior class, headed by the sponsor and class president, formed a receiving line. The following program was then given:

Piano solo, Charlie Mae Carpenter; accordion solo, Mr. Harding; boys' quartet, Laurence Bourland, Fred Durham, James Burrows, and Marvin Gardner; reading, Miss Kennedy; tribute to the seniors, Miss McCarty; response, Fred Durham.

At the conclusion of the program, several of the parents addressed a few parting remarks to the senior class. The guests were served with yellow punch, mints and cakes decorated in the senior colors. After refreshments were served, several songs were sung and the crowd dispersed.

A THANK YOU

We, the members of the junior class, and the sponsor, wish to express our appreciation to everyone who in any way helped us with the banquet. We especially thank the mothers who helped us and who furnished the food. We wish to thank Mrs. Appling and Mrs. Ashby for their work. We thank Mr. Gilstrap for the especially appropriate speech that he made. We thank the faculty for their help. We wish to tell the public that we have two decorators in our class—Mackie Greer and Duard Lynch. These boys did the decorating at the church, and they did it well. The girls of the class made the place cards, and each member of the class helped in some way with the banquet. We wish to thank the girls who efficiently served the banquet for us. In other words—to all who helped—"we thank you."

SENIORS

Sing a song of seniors, Let out of a cage; Thirty-three together, Sitting on the stage. And when the cage is opened, They'll fly out in a whirl— Thirty-three's an awful lot To turn loose on the world.

Mother's on the front seat, Proud of our fine show; Father's there beside her, Wondering what we know.

One time we were freshmen, And green but growing grew. Then, we were sophomores— The juniors knew it, too.

Now we are seniors, And hold in our hands The shuttle to weave the pattern of life As the Master of life commands.

FRESHMAN PICNIC

Last Monday afternoon about 30 freshmen answered the insistent call of spring and drove about six miles west of town for a picnic. Playground ball proved to be the most interesting sport, but many games such as red rover, flying dutchman and two deep were also played. At six o'clock a bountiful spread, consisting of sandwiches, fruit and cake, was devoured, and at seven the merry party broke up, declaring that they would have to have another picnic soon.

Mr. Rush and Miss Mitchell accompanied the picnickers.

Miss Antoinette Ahlschier, Red Cross nurse, who has been in McLean schools for seven weeks, has been working with the high school boys and girls for the past two weeks. Miss Ahlschier finds that the high school boys are more interested in their physical well-being than are the girls. This is probably due to the fact that the boys have more athletic interests than the girls. Volley ball, playground ball and basketball teams were organized this year, and we hope to see a large number of girls interested, especially in the first two sports, next year. The students of the high school appreciate Miss Ahlschier's personal interest in them, and we thank the local organization of the Red Cross for making possible this much needed health service.

CONOCO

We don't sell Germ-Processed Oil on claims...we just show you the test results, figured out in fractions...

It's comfortable to know that the oil you are using will result in gasoline and oil economies. A prominent southwestern bus line (name on request) wanted to know. They put Germ-Processed Motor Oil to the test in a 25-passenger bus. Competent engineers checked every detail of operating cost and maintenance during 7,488 miles of regular passenger service, comparing the results with an equal test of the competing oil.

When the test ended it was found that Conoco Germ-Processed Motor Oil had reduced oil consumption by 13% and had lowered gasoline consumption by 14.3%.

Such economies are also possible in your car. And there are other advantages which soon become evident to the user of Conoco Germ-Processed Motor Oil, as proved by authoritative tests. Your own test-through-use will be most convincing. Have your crankcase filled today with Conoco Germ-Processed Motor Oil at the nearest sign of the Conoco Red Triangle. All grades 35¢ per quart.

T. A. Landers gave a humorous characterization of after-dinner stories. Hansel Christian, Boyd Meador, Dr. Coleman, Bee Everett, Chas. Guill, Pete Fulbright, G. V. Koons, Ercy Cubine and T. N. Holloway all made short talks of appreciation.

Rev. Cecil G. Goff expressed appreciation of the work of the fire department and gave some reminiscences of days spent in a fire department.

Rev. W. A. Erwin, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, made the closing address and pronounced the benediction.

Rev. Erwin stressed the unselfish work done by the fire department.

Those present were: Messrs. and Mesdames G. V. Koons, Ercy Cubine, T. N. Holloway, Pete Fulbright, Chas. Guill, Bee Everett, J. A. Sparks, P. H. Bourland, Cecil G. Goff, Hansel Christian, Jot Montgomery, T. A. Landers, Misses Irene Hayes and Rhoda Powell; Dr. Coleman, Boyd Meador and Rev. W. A. Erwin.

The banquet was sponsored by Erwin Drug Co., Montgomery Drug Co., American National Bank, Citizens State Bank, American Theatre, Puckett's Grocery, Sitter Furniture Co. and Blake Dry Goods Co.

Food and service were furnished by the Presbyterian ladies. Printed invitations were used and the table was beautifully decorated with fresh tulips.

MR. ROCKNE

Talk about greatness, big heart and noble character, but what about the driver of a Colorado school truck that died in an attempt to do his duty as a citizen? A man that forgot himself and did all that he could to save the school children?

Knute Rockne, the far famed football coach, has also gone to his reward. I liked Knute Rockne and the way that he played his game, and think he was a wonderful man in his way and I have no particular objection to his way. But while the nation will be paying tribute to Rockne for the fame that he has nobly won and honestly deserved, the games that he played and the fools that he has made, the poor never before heard of school bus driver will be forgotten—too soon.

Now, critic, don't misunderstand me. I am not criticizing Knute Rockne at all. I have admired him. Not to the extent that most folks have, for I never thought it necessary nor deserved. I cannot speak as an absolutely informed person on the life of Rockne, and neither can many others, for they have known him only as his admirers would have us to know him and not as he perhaps was. I would count that Rockne was a good man. He was worthy. He was fair in his way of considering fairness. He was just and considerate. He loved his game and the fellows that played it for him, and they loved him. His moral influence in the world was worth something to the world. He was a success, no, for the fame that he had won, but for the work that he had done.

What I am trying to get over to my readers is that so many of us in our own common herd are forever wasting wind about the greatness of some guy that we have never seen and know little about except the overdrawn newspaper reports, and at the same time we are forgetting the worthy people right at our door.

A few years ago President Coolidge's son was buried, and on the front pages of perhaps every worthwhile newspaper of the country ran an account of the misfortune and sorrow that was shadowing the White House family. Of course, the nation was justly in mourning and in sympathy with the Coolidges. On that same day, in my own home town, a little child of a transient family was laid to rest. The writer, with a very, very few others, was present and in our small way did what we could to help. We saw the poverty stricken family grieve until it would have melted the heart of a stone man. The grief of the family in the highest position of the world could not have been greater.

Only to say: Let our sympathy of the great and national and emotionally known be no less but let us not forget the folks at our door and lend them a helping hand when possible.—Vanguard.

FAIR WEATHER BUSINESS MEN ALANREED CEMETERY SURVEYED

Advertising is as essential to the progress of development of the average business enterprise in a period of depression as it is during normal eras.

In the smaller cities, merchants too often take the attitude that as volume declines, the first overhead to be reduced is advertising. They feel that it is impossible to create demand for their products. This erroneous assumption accounts for the present condition of many mercantile and business enterprises of other types.

Every well-regulated and properly managed business should operate on a budget. Advertising should be proportioned to the volume of business, and if additional sales effort is made thru the proper advertising mediums, the merchant will find his volume more stable.

It is the duty of the small city publisher to convince the advertiser of the necessity of maintaining a proper proportion between volume and advertising appropriations. The advertiser should not be permitted to spend too much nor to curtail his expenditures to the point where his business will stagnate.

If every business enterprise in a community would expend a proper proportion of its volume of business for advertising, it would find the results surprising.—Mangum (Okla.) Star.

The man lives happy and in command of himself who, from day to day can say I have lived. Whether clouds obscure, or the sun illumines the following day, that which is past is beyond recall.—Horace.

A GENTLEWOMAN A HOUSEKEEPER AND A SCHOLAR

Perhaps you know her. She is far from wealthy, yet no matter what the occasion, she dresses appropriately and well. And whether she is guest or hostess there is an exquisite rightness about her . . . she is gay, tactful, poised . . . her charm is graced with simplicity. She is, in short, a gentlewoman.

She is also an able housekeeper. She has to be, to live as comfortably as she does within her moderate means. She uses a budget system, keeps an exact account of all expenditures. No skimping, though. Toilet accessories, the food she serves, the completeness of her up-to-date household equipment, disclaim skimping as they do extravagance. She never denies herself necessities, and even manages to allow herself some tasteful luxuries.

If you ask her how she does it, she'll laughingly tell you the secret is that she's a scholar! Not a dollar-a-dollar ten o'clock kind of scholar, but a bright-and-early scholar of the advertisements in her favorite newspaper. She studies them thoroughly. With their constant news of unusual sales and superior values, they enable her to keep down expenses by careful buying. They tell her where to get just the things she wants for just the prices she is willing to pay.

Advertised products are dependable. Read the advertisements. They will help you, too.

NOTHING BUT WORK

Oh dear—I haven't dated tell Daddy that I'm studying to go into the Movies—It'll be easier over the phone—I'll call his office—

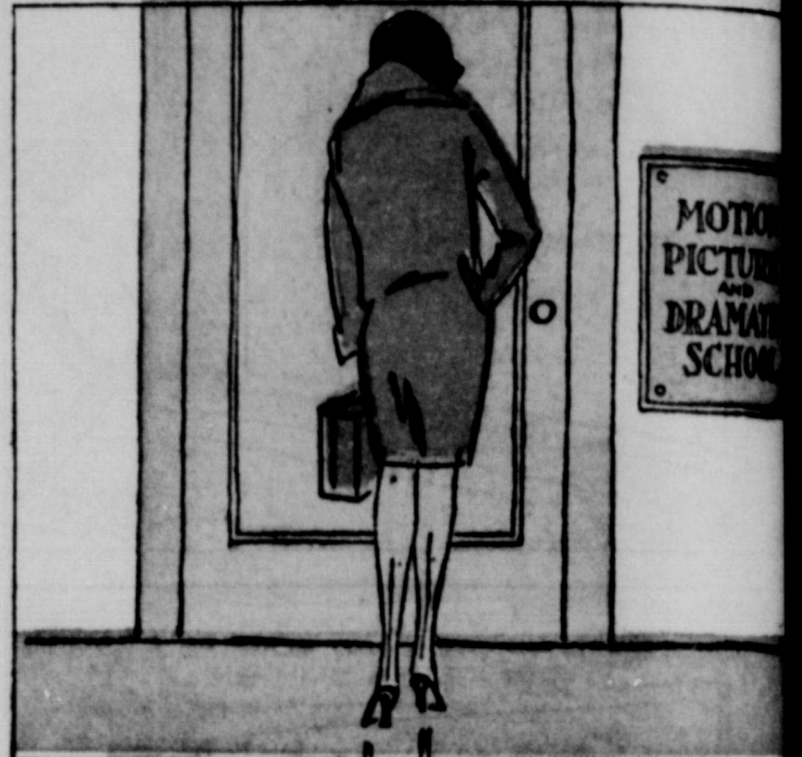

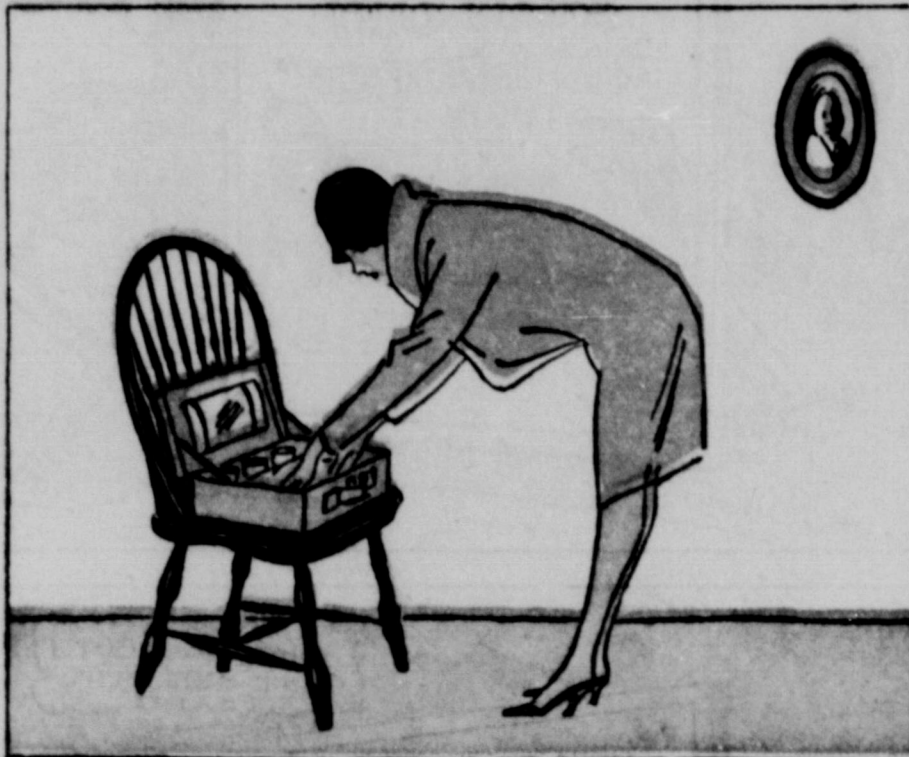

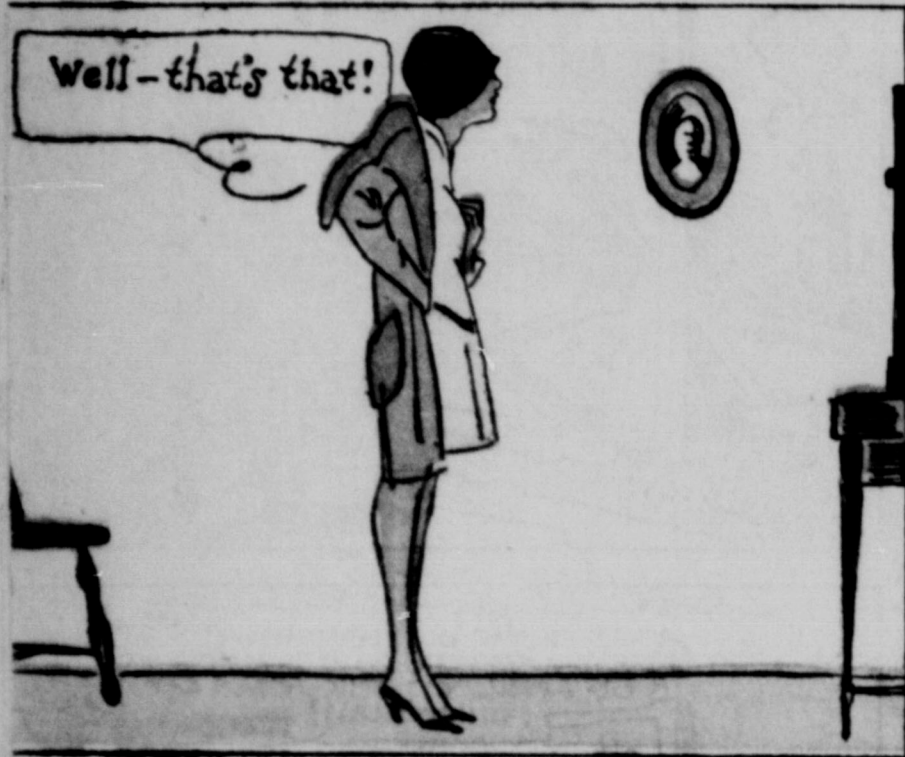

—and you haven't any idea how hard we have to study—nothing but work, work, work—a steady grind—but there's no success without effort is there Daddy, dear—?

Gee, he took it easily enough—never even peeped

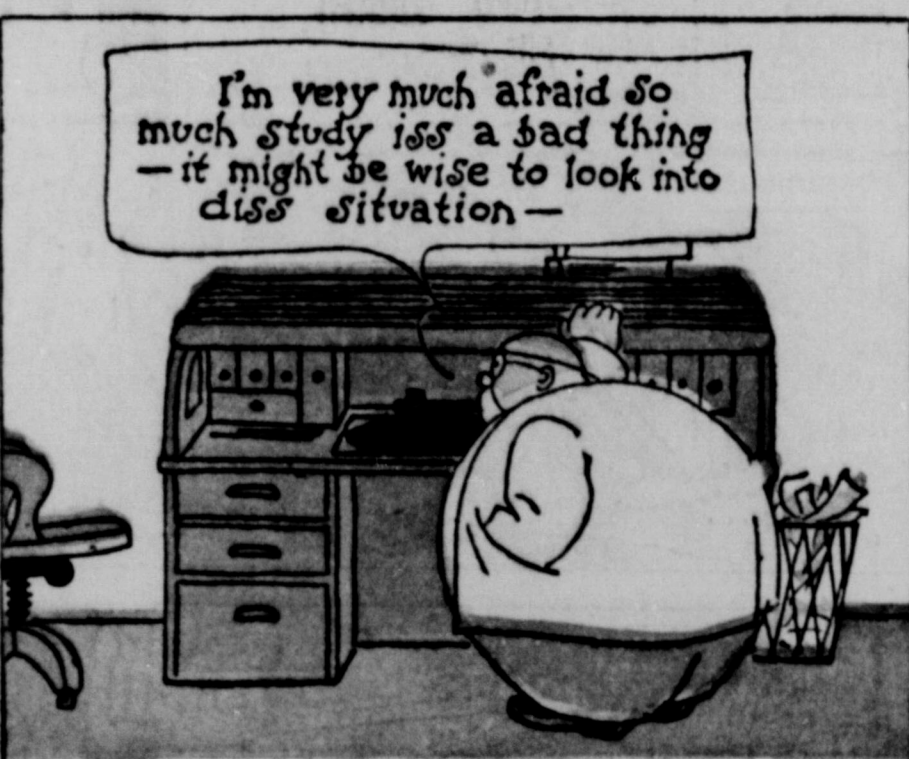

Well—that's that!

I don't mind my little girl going into der Movies, but—

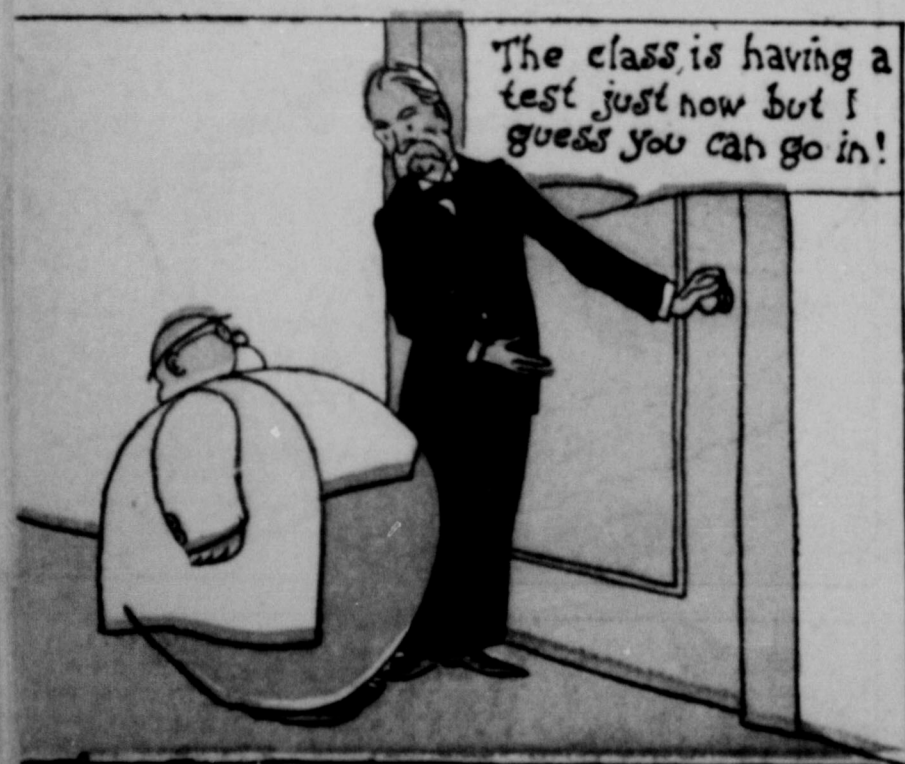

I'm very much afraid so much study is a bad thing—it might be wise to look into dis's situation—

She might work herself up to a breakdown!

The class is having a test just now but I guess you can go in!

Oh—your crawl stroke is simply stunning, Dorothy!

Where'd you get your permanent Gladys?

That'll be all for today, ladies—

PARABLE OF THE POUNDS
Luke 19:11-26

By Rev. Cecil C. Goff

It was near Jerusalem. The Jews who were with Him expected to proclaim Himself the King of the Jews when He reached the city and by some miraculous power would overthrow the Jewish rulers to Him. And under His power, and thus a movement which would free the nation from the hand of the Roman government. Jesus had different ideas. He was about to leave Jerusalem which would strip practically all of His followers. He would ascend to be for more than two thousand years with His heavenly Father. He had a lesson which He wished to bring to the hearts of His followers concerning the fact that many of them would later take up through faith in Him, a reign of service for the Master. To this end He told the parable of the pounds.

There were ten servants to whom the nobleman gave a pound. Only three are mentioned after the return of the king. Those were representatives of the ten to whom the pounds were given and the followers of the Master then and now. The king represents Christ. He has given to men talent, ability, opportunities, privileges, duties as the children of God; in other words, He has given to men and women a pound apiece and has gone to the Father, to return some day. Whether His return is while the present generation yet lives or while some future generation two thousand years hence is living, is of little consequence. The pounds are ours today to make of them what we can while we are yet held here in service for the Master.

Two of the men had put their pounds to use and brought the nobleman not only the original pound which he delivered to them, but they had gained other pounds through trading and interest bearing. One of the men had hid the pound and brought it to his master with no gain. He had done nothing with it for fear of the master and of making a mistake. The pound was taken from him and given to one who knew how to use it to advantage. Nothing else could be expected; the money was to be used, if not in trading with large returns, in simple interest bearing which would bring small returns, but returns which would place a value on the money greater than the original amount.

Some things are to be noticed: (1) that each man brought to the master the results of his own efforts; (2) the man who had done his best but had gained only five pounds received the same praise from the nobleman as the one who had gained ten pounds; (3) fear of his master and lack of self reliance in his ability to please his master was the cause of the latter's failure; (4) the one who had failed placed the blame on his lord; (5) each man by his own actions had passed judgment on himself.

Those same five things may be closely applied to our service for Christ. There is no servant of God but who has some ability in some line in which he might serve, or talents which might well be placed in the service of the Master. The usual conception of talents and ability is for their use in the ordinary walks of livelihood rather than in God's special service. And as we stand before God in judgment, that judgment will be meted out in accordance to the use we have made of our ability in His service, and not in our own service.

There will be some who will have multiplied the talents God has given them in service by ten fold, but that will be expected of them, for they have a ten-fold ability, just as the man who was able to multiply his pound ten-fold was expected to rule well over ten cities. Most of us, however, are just five-fold talented persons, but we are to serve God with the five-fold ability, and be rewarded to the full because we did our best—but, are we doing our best?

Many men fail in service of God because they fear Him, and have no confidence in their ability to know the will of God in service. Such failure is mere laziness. If we are not serving with our talents for such fear, we might learn that God in His Book has pointed us to the fact that if we will stay close to Him and study His Word diligently we will know His will. God in no way excuses ignorance that is based on spiritual laziness. Furthermore, God is not going to take the blame. If you and I do not serve God because we don't know Him well enough, are indifferent, are tired because of work at other things, have had our feelings hurt or our pride ruffled, are at variance with others in His service, we would like to lay the blame on God or someone else, but we can't

IN MEMORIAM

Since God, in His infinite grace and wisdom, has transplanted in His heavenly garden the soul of our friend and neighbor, Mrs. W. C. Montgomery, one of our fellow townsmen, and darling mother of our beloved ex-president, Mrs. L. V. Lonsdale, we, the Parent-Teacher Association of the McLean school, do express our sincere sympathy to Mrs. Lonsdale and her father in this time of their deepest sorrow. We point them to God on whom alone knows the depths of their sorrow and Who only can in time heal the wound when He brings them together in the greatest of all family reunions—that everlasting reunion in the great beyond.

Submitted by committee: Mrs. Jim Back, Miss Cressie Turner, Miss Zebulene Furgerson.

Adopted by the Parent-Teacher Association on April 30, 1931.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Benson of Shamrock spent Sunday with relatives here.

Poor Lighting-- An Extravagance

A survey of about one million people brought out that: In the public schools, 22% had defective vision. In colleges, 40% of those under 20 had defective vision. No less than 71% of all under 50 had the same trouble. Of persons over 60 years of age, 95% suffered from defective eyesight.

More industrial accidents occur about the middle of the afternoon than at any other time. This is due, in a large measure, to fatigue. Nothing will contribute to fatigue to a greater degree than working in a poor light. Fifteen per cent of all industrial accidents are attributable to improper lighting.

Poor lighting belongs to the days of the cave man's pine torch, the hanging fire basket, the crude oil lamp, the candle, with their smoke and flickering, wavering light.

Electricity belongs to this age. There is no excuse for poor lighting. The abundant and correct use of light pays for itself many times over.

Whether in the home, office, or factory, poor lighting is an extravagance—injuring the eyes and increasing hazard through accident.

CHILDREN CRY FOR IT—

CHILDREN hate to take medicine as a rule, but every child loves the taste of Castoria. This pure vegetable preparation is just as good as it tastes; just as bland and just as harmless as the recipe reads.

When Baby's cry warns of colic, a few drops of Castoria have him soothed, asleep again in a jiffy. Nothing is more valuable in diarrhea. When coated tongue or bad breath tell of constipation, invoke its gentle aid to cleanse and regulate a child's bowels. In colds or children's diseases, you should use it to keep the system from clogging.

Castoria is sold in every drug store; the genuine always bears Chas. H. Fletcher's signature.

Chevrolet

Has struck a popular new note in motor-car styling

Chevrolet's front-end appearance is a fine example of the latest trend in modern design.

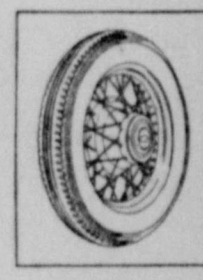

ident in the enthusiastic public reception of the car than its smart new style.

Fisher Body craftsmen, with their background of fine-car designing, have made this new Chevrolet an exceptionally attractive automobile.

Study it from any angle and you find it extremely pleasing. Look at it from the front and you are impressed by the modish ensemble of deep radiator, large headlamps and arched tie bar—all gleaming in rich chromium plate. Viewed from the side, the long hood, low-slung body lines, sweeping fenders and massive wire wheels strikingly suggest the car's fleetness and power. And the appeal of Chevrolet's beauty is made more pronounced by the fact that all models are available in a variety of colors.

Interiors, too, are unusual in every way. The upholstery is carefully tailored. Seats are roomy, deeply cushioned and invitingly soft. And the interiors are tastefully appointed.

An important factor in Chevrolet's smart appearance is the de luxe wire wheels with forty steel spokes and massive chrome-plated hub caps.

In fact, the new Chevrolet Six is such a thoroughly fine-looking automobile that it has become a very popular choice with every type of buyer. You find it not only the smart family car, but the smart personal car as well—a worthy companion to the expensive automobiles of the two- and three-car household.

This emblem—Body by Fisher—is a symbol of superior body craftsmanship—exclusive with Chevrolet in the low-price field.

THE EYES OF M. G. S.

Miss Irene Hayes, Sponsor

The musing of a human being: "I wonder why we never appreciate anything until after it is gone?"

Everyone is eager for school to be out. Some have estimated the time in seconds; few, if any, have figured it so closely that we almost know the number of ticks and beats until school will be out.

The M. G. S. students as a whole have worked hard and laboriously; hence, they will get a well earned vacation. We are glad to know that the students will be just as eager to return in September.

I think this poem expresses the sentiment of the M. G. S. faculty to the M. G. S. students:

A Tribute to M. G. S. Students
We've wandered all the by-ways through;
We have seen students galore;
When we see what McLean students can do,
We just keep wishing for more.

There is a spirit of friendship here;
A love for your fellowman;
When you leave, you often shed a tear.

As you grasp a friend's true hand,
No matter where you may roam,
Or how often you want to turn back,
There will always be this feeling of home,
Whether it be a mansion or a shack.

So, dear students of M. G. S.,
Our simple prayer for you
Is not to be on the front page of life,
But to be noble, unselfish and true.

AFTER 40 bowel trouble

Constipation may very easily become chronic after forty. And any continued constipation at that time of life may bring attacks of piles and a host of other unpleasant disorders.

Watch your bowels at any age. Guard them with particular care after forty. Whenever they need any help, remember a doctor should know what is best for them.

"Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin" is a doctor's prescription for the bowels. Tested by 47 years' practice, it has been found thoroughly effective in relieving constipation and its ills for men, women and children of all ages. It has proven perfectly safe even for babies. Made from fresh laxative herbs, pure pepsin and other harmless ingredients, it cannot gripe; will not sicken you or weaken you; can be used without harm as often as your breath is bad, or when your tongue is coated; whenever a headachy, bilious, gassy condition warns of constipation.

FORD BRAKES ARE UNUSUALLY EFFECTIVE

Reliability and safety due to simple design and careful construction

ONE OF the first things you will notice when you drive the Ford is the quick, effective action of its four-wheel brakes.

They are unusually safe and reliable because they are mechanical, internal expanding, with all braking surfaces fully enclosed. This prevents mud, water, sand, etc., from getting between the band and drum and interfering with brake action.

Other outstanding features of the Ford are the Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield, four Houdaille double-acting hydraulic shock absorbers, aluminum pistons, torque-tube drive, more than twenty ball and roller bearings, Rustless Steel, reliability, economy, and long life.

You save when you buy the Ford and you save every mile you drive.
