EUROPE WRITHES IN MENACING WAR CRISIS

OFFICERS WILL FIGHT HOLDUPS IN THIS AREA

SHERIFFS IN SESSION IN AMARILLO MAP OFFENSIVE

Recurring highway robberies in this territory will be combated with all the resources of sheriffs' departments and the State Highway patrol, assisted by police officers of the Panhandle.

After talking over the question with Sheriff Bill Adams of Amarillo, Sheriff Earl Talley of Pampa yesterday called other sheriffs into session in Adams' office. They exchanged information, mapped out a plan of attack, and left with understandings which will prevent overlapping of efforts.

When the next highway robbery is perpetrated—if it is—each officer will have a defined course of action and his whereabouts will be known by the other officers, and vigilantes in Oklahoma and elsewhere, mainly in hunting bank robbers.

Present at the meeting yesterday where R. H. Routh and other officers of the State Highway patrol, Chief of Police W. R. McDowell of Amarillo, Sheriff C. A. Best of Claude, Sheriff T. B. Harris of Panhandle, Sheriff Guy Pierce of Clarendon, Sheriff Raymond Waters of Wheeler, Sheriff Walter Jones of Canadian, Sheriff John Halliburton of Vega, and Clark Cain, Amarillo chief of detectives.

Cooperation of operators of filling stations, tourist courts, and restaurants will be asked as descriptions of the bandits are distributed. It also was revealed that the highways will be patrolled.

Apprehension of citizens, especially on highway 66, has reached a serious state, it was agreed. Several "leads" of possibly great value have been discovered in investigations of the last week, it was learned.

Governor Acts To Bar Aliens And Indigents

DENVER, April 18. (AP)—Gov. Ed C. Johnson declared martial law today in a one-mile wide strip along the southern border of the state to keep out all aliens and indigents.

The governor said he ordered martial law after learning that railroads were shipping in track laborers and that representatives of sugar-beet companies were importing field workers from New Mexico and Texas.

He said also that alien sheep herders were being imported into the state.

The governor ordered Neil W. Kimball, adjutant general of the Colorado national guard, to mobilize such guardsmen as might be needed to patrol the strip, which extends about 316 miles along the New Mexico border.

State highway patrolmen, port of entry officers and local officers will be stationed along other state boundaries to keep out indigents and aliens, the governor said.

FDR'S LOUIS HOWE DIES

WASHINGTON, April 18, (AP)—Louis McHenry Howe, long time political advisor of President Roosevelt, died tonight at 11:10 o'clock.

Mr. Howe, who also was secretary to the President, died peacefully in his sleep at the Naval hospital after having been ill for more than a year.

Death was caused by heart and chest complications.

I Heard . .

Track and Field Coaches Red Dennard of Pampa, Bob Clark of Wheeler, and Bill Bronson of LeFors, arguing as to which would go to Farley, N. M., to get a one-man track and field team, but in this case a "one-woman" team. The party in question is Mrs. Viola Knotts Coleman and she holds three better records than made in the track and field meet here Friday. Marks set by Mrs. Coleman are:

Pole vault: Nine feet, eight inches.
High jump: Five feet, four inches.
Broad jump: 18 feet, nine inches.
440-yard dash: 54 seconds.
220-yard dash: 21½ seconds.
100-yard dash: 10 1-4 seconds.
50-yard dash: 5 seconds.

Seeks Freddie

She had just enjoyed a thrilling plane ride across the United States, she was about to see the Hollywood of which she had heard so much, and, most important, she was near her noted actor-son, Freddie—all this helps explain the apparent happiness of Mrs. Lillian Mae Bartholomew, of London, shown above in Los Angeles. The boy is in custody of his Aunt Myllicent in Hollywood.

NEWSMEN THINK LIBERTIES MAY BE IN DANGER

Lobby Probers Have Criticism for Publishers

WASHINGTON, April 18. (AP)—Blanket seizure of private communications, whatever the authority that might be used, was denounced today by the American society of newspaper editors as a violation of constitutional rights.

In resolutions striking at the activities of the Senate lobby committee, the editors of the principal newspapers of the country recorded their conviction "that if such practice is not checked, the threat of liberty of individual action and particularly of the freedom of the press is immediate and menacing."

They refrained from direct mention in the resolution, of the committee headed by Senator Black, but throughout the three-day session of their convention, the lobby committee, whose seizure of telegrams has brought injunction proceedings in the courts, had been under direct attack. In his presidential address, Grove Patterson of the Toledo Blade had called its activities "outrageous and tyrannical."

A professional investigation of editorial conduct during the Hauptmann trial, set the society to work on a study of some plan of cooperation with the bar to prevent sensational murder cases from becoming public scandal. This move was adopted after Walter Lippmann, newspaper commentator, argued that the press owed such a responsibility to the public.

Their off the record conference with J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, brought a pledge from the editors

Hamm Kidnaping Is 'Solved'

TOM F. HUNTER ANNOUNCES

'JIMMY' FLAYED FOR NEGLECT OF OLD FOLKS

'JAUNTY' GOVERNOR IS SCORED BY 9TH OPPONENT

AUSTIN, April 18, (AP)—Tom F. Hunter of Wichita Falls announced his candidacy for governor today, bringing the total of candidates seeking the democratic nomination for that office to nine.

Hunter, twice previously a candidate for the governorship, launched his campaign with a sharp criticism of what he said was Governor James V Allred's "callous neglect of the old people of Texas" He referred to the administration of the old age pension law

Governor Allred said recently he had not decided when he would begin active campaigning for a second term. His present one expires this year.

Other candidates are: Roy Sanderford of Belton, F. W. Fischer of Tyler, Rube S. Wells of Cooper, A. E. Harding of Fort Worth, Pierce Brooks of Dallas, A. U. Puckett of Kaufman and Commodore Hatfield of Dallas.

Hunter's announcement climaxed a week of quickening political activity otherwise marked by the call for a meeting of the democratic state executive committee in Fort Worth April 23.

The committee will select a city for the convention May 26 at which delegates to the democratic national convention at Philadelphia next summer will be chosen. It may also discuss proposed election law changes.

A group of younger elements of the party, the progressive democrats of Texas and the Roosevelt Democrats of Texas, Inc., advocated the new deal in a meeting at Austin. Speakers proposed reorganization of

Farmer-Laborite Will Talk Here

Robert Minor, nationally known speaker, will talk on the Farmer-Labor party for the United States, April 22, at 8 p. m. in the district court room.

Minor is a native Texan and a son of a distinguished Texas jurist, the late District Judge R. B. Minor of San Antonio. His grandfather, a cousin of General Sam Houston, once served as cartoonist on the old San Antonio Gazette. His first venture in labor circles was as a member of the carpenters' union there.

He was a war correspondent for the Scribbe-Howard newspapers is France in 1916. In 1917, he headed the drive to defend Tom Mooney and the followin year went to Russia as correspondent for the Philadelphia Public Ledger during the first revolution. He was one of the leaders of the mass parade of unemployed in New York City in 1930.

In Minor's recent address at Houston he said "We have to unite labor or starve. The color line must be broken. The Labor party is the salvation of the whites, salvation of the blacks, of the nation itself."

Mr. Minor will be introduced by D. E. Metz of Borger.

Train No. 25 arriving Pampa 4:42 a. m. and No. 26 10:50 p. m. will be discontinued between Wichita and Clovis. Passengers for Pecos Valley points will, under the new schedule, use Trains 9 and 10 to and from Clovis at which point close connecting service will be provided into and out of the Valley.

These new schedules provide overnight service to Kansas City and only one night on the train to Chicago and Los Angeles, together with air-conditioned equipment on all through trains.

Promise of Rain Seen Last Night

An east wind, a few drops of rain, and a dark sky last midnight hinted that rain might be near.

At Borger, there was a light shower during the evening. Shamrock had a heavy rain and Canadian reported getting a shower.

The Panhandle skies were overcast.

BURNS TO DEATH

JACKSBORO, April 18. (AP)—Robert Thomas, 30, was burned to death and his five-year-old son was burned critically today when an explosion fired a state highway department warehouse here. The boy said Thomas, watchman at the place, struck a match to see if any asphalt had been left in some of the highway trucks. The explosion followed immediately.

Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Stanley left last week to make their home in Borger, where he has been transferred by the Phillips company.

HOOVER NAMES ALVIN KARPIS AS 'SNATCHER'

BREMER, HAMM JOBS DONE BY 'SAME GANG'

WASHINGTON, April 18. (AP)—Alvin T. Karpis was written anew at the top of the justice department's list of wanted men tonight—this time with an announcement that the William A. Hamm kidnaping had been "solved at last."

The department set down this kidnaping, like that of Edward G. Bremer, another St. Paul man, as the work of the old Karpis-Barker gang. It announced solution of the Hamm kidnaping after the arrest of three alleged conspirators.

Karpis, "public enemy number one" and last survivor of the inner circle which hovered around old "Kate" Barker, is still at large. With him is Harry Campbell, a pal and hanger-on.

Asked about the connection between the two kidnapings, J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the bureau of investigation, said:

"The same gang did both."

Hoover named eight men in the Hamm plot and said "there may be more arrests soon."

Hamm was seized by two men as he left the office of the Theodore Hamm Brewing company at noon on June 15, 1933. He was held in a hide-out for four days until $100,000 ransom was paid.

Hoover's roster of the Hamm plotters:

Edmund C. Bortholmey, postmaster at Bensenville, Ill., arrested there Friday as owner of the house in which Hamm was kept captive.

John P. Peifer, commonly known as Jack Pfeiffer, Twin City police character, arrested in Minneapolis Friday, where he was said to have served as "finger man" for the kidnapers.

Charles J. Fitzgerald, 60-year-old ex-convict and alleged former member of the old J. S. Morgan gang of desperadoes, arrested in a Los Angeles, Calif., garage Friday, accused of being the man who shook hands with Hamm before two others poked guns in his ribs.

Elmer Farmer, serving a sentence in the Bremer case.

Byron Bolton, also called William Bryan Bolton, now held in St. Paul in connection with the Bremer case

Arthur "Doc" Barker, oldest of "Ma" Barker's boys, serving a life sentence at Alcatraz.

Fred Barker, killed with his mother in a gun battle with federal agents at Oklawaha, Fla.

Fred C. (Shot Gun Ziegler) Goetz, reported killed by gangsters.

Alvin Karpis, at large.

The arrests brought to 63 the number of cases solved or helped toward a solution by Hoover's men and set them out again upon a new hunt for the three major kidnapers who still are at large. These are:

Alvin Karpis.

Thomas H. Robinson, Jr., the former law clerk wanted for the kidnaping of Mrs. Alice Speed Stoll at Louisville, Ky., on October 10, 1934. Robinson, who masquerades as a woman at times, has not been seen since he collected $50,000 ransom for the return of the Louisville society leader.

William Mahan, called "the remaining principal" in the kidnaping of little George Weyerhaeuser, Tacoma, Wash., timber fortune heir, on May 24, 1935.

Pair Injured as Gate Blows off

Two employes of the Cargray corporation, W. J. Everett and Frank Huddleston, miraculously escaped serious injuries late yesterday afternoon when a master gate on a well on which they were working blew off. The men were hurled several yards.

Both men were covered with oil and peppered with sand and gravel until their bodies looked as though they had been subjected to a barrage of small shot. Everett has a dislocated elbow and body bruises. Huddleston was cut about the head and face and his body badly bruised.

The men were taken to Worley hospital for treatment. They were taken to their homes last night.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Collins have as their guest for three weeks his mother, from Merkel.

Face 'Smear Roosevelt' Quiz

"Conscience" forced him to distribute photographs of Mrs. Roosevelt attending a Negro meeting, Vance Muse, Texan, told the Senate Lobby Investigating committee. Muse said he paid for some of the pictures out of his own salary, in aiding the anti-Roosevelt campaign in the south. Shown above left with John H. Kirby, head of the Southern committee to Uphold the Constitution, Muse, a Kirby aide, testified that he collected $5000 each from Pierre S. du Pont and John J. Raskob in the campaign. This helped finance the Macon, Ga., rally which endorsed Gov. Eugene Talmadge for the presidency, Muse said.

Local Students Win League Meet With 85 Points

Panhandle Is Second And Borger Is Third

Pampa high school again demonstrated its leadership as an all-around high school by winning the District No. 2 Interscholastic League meet held here during the week-end. Pampa piled up a total of 85 points, based on athletic and literary accomplishments. Panhandle was second with 50, and Borger was third with 35.

Pampa Junior high won first in Class B with 42 points. Junior high entered only four events and won three first places. Booker was second with 35, Lelia Lake, third with 30 points. In the ward school division, White Deer was first with 35 points, and LeFors and Hopkins tied for second place with 10 points each.

In the rural school division, Hopkins No. 1 was first with 55 points, Glazier second with 15, Plainview, Goldston and Grandview tied for third place with 10 points each.

Other high schools in the meet made points as follows: Shamrock 4½, Magic City 15, Alanreed 5, Morse 7, Booker 5, Wheeler 5, White Deer 12, Clarendon 20, Hedley 20, McLean 17, Mobeetie 15, LeFors 10, Spearman 5, Perryton 7½.

Other ward school scores follow: Sam Houston 5, Weatherly 5, Skellytown and White Deer 2.

The meet on the whole was held in record time, and decisions were largely satisfactory. Trophies and medals were more resplendent and attractive than any ever given winners here. Very few complained against judges decisions.

Twenty of the 85 points made by Pampa were earned at the track and field meet held Friday afternoon. The league system of computing points allows 20 points for first place, 15 for second and 10 for third. These points are added to the number made in literary events.

SAN JACINTO'S BIRTHDAY WILL BE ON TUESDAY

Houston Has Already Begun to Observe Great Day

HOUSTON, April 18. (AP)—The one-hundreth anniversary of the battle of San Jacinto, one of the most important engagements in the United States history will be observed Tuesday in appropriate celebrations throughout Texas.

The principal observance will be on the field where Sam Houston's straight-shooting young recruits, numbering less than a thousand, routed Santa Anna's larger force and won Texas independence from Mexico in a battle lasting only eighteen minutes.

Approximately 50,000 persons are expected to endeavor to get within earshot of the ceremonies at the battle ground, situated about 20 miles southeast of here on the manmade ship channel connecting Houston with the Gulf.

This city and territory already have started celebrating the occasion, the largest peace demonstration in Houston's history was held today. Costumes depicting what people wore during the various stages of Texas' development; tableaux re-enacting noteworthy scenes in the state's romantic history, and glittering pageantry emblematic of the Lone Star state's progress were viewed by massed thousands.

An estimated 40,000 persons occupied all parking places for miles around to witness a brilliant patriotic fireworks display on the battlefield last night.

BALDWIN SAYS HITLER HOLDS PEACE CAPTIVE

FASCISTS WEDGE NEAR ANXIOUS HEART OF ETHIOPIA

By OSCAR LEIDING
Associated Press Foreign Staff

LONDON, April 18. (AP)—Europe's tension had relaxed tonight, but it major problems were unsolved.

The Italian military advances into Ethiopia continued with the League of Nations conciliation committe formally acknowledging it had failed in its assigned task.

Despite official denials, reports still emanated from Turkey that the nation governed by Kemal Aturk had suddenly remilitarized the Dardanelles in violation of the straits convention embodied in the Lausanne treaty.

The situation arising from Germany's remilitarization of the Rhineland remained, but the Prime Minister Baldwin significantly asserting that peace or war was a matter which Reichfuehrer Hitler himself could decide upon.

Baldwin declared that Hitler could do more to lift the danger of war from Europe "than any man living: God grant he may have the will!"

The next step at Geneva, following the failure of the conciliation efforts, will be a meeting of the league council Monday at which representatives of member nations, including Italy, will air their opinions concerning the Italo-Ethiopian conflict.

Italy's attitude, as it waited to see what the league council meeting may bring forth, may be summed up as follows:

1. A fascist official said: "We are a totalitarian state and our victory must be totalitarian, not merely diplomatic." Premier Mussolini was described in Rome as determined to take all Ethiopia. In support of this, is the fact that a large body of Carbabinieri is being formed to be sent to police Ethiopia while two battalions of marines are being organized to patrol Ethiopian lakes.

2. Italy blames the failure of efforts by the committee of 13 on Ethiopia's unwillingness to accept Italian terms for negotiations.

3. Italy continues determined to negotiate peace outside the League of Nations.

Against this attitude, Geneva sees Great Britain and France endeavoring to secure a peace which will save the prestige of the league.

In Paris officials indicated that France planned to use the time

ICC Votes Down R. R. Fare Pleas

WASHINGTON, April 18, (AP)—By a six to five vote, the interstate commerce commission today struck down a proposal by Eastern Railroads for an 18-month delay in establishing sharply reduced passenger fares, leaving the carriers the sole recourse of challenging its action in the courts.

With the commission divided five to five, Transportation Coordinator Joseph B. Eastman, the eleventh member, but who acts only when there is a tie, broke the deadlock by voting against any delay in the June 2 effective date of a recent ICC order fixing a basic rate of two cents a mile in day coaches

The former rate was 3.6 cents and the carriers had asked the delay in order to establish their own "experimental" rate of 2.5 cents. They agreed, however, to accept a 3-cent pullman rate fixed by the commission. The former pullman rate was 3.6 cents plus a surcharge, which averaged four-tenths of a cent.

Government Wins In Utility Fight

WASHINGTON, April 18. (AP)—Victor in one protracted court fight, the government made ready today for another encounter with utility companies on the lawfulness of PWA's municipal power project allotments.

Attorneys for PWA and the Justice Department, who balked an injunction against a $2,800,000 development in Greenwood county, S. C., will go into the District of Columbia supreme court Monday to forestall similar injunctions against ten projects in five states. The PWA allocations involved total about $2,506,000.

The utility companies' request for the injunctions is on the following contentions: the section of the national industrial recovery act under which the PWA was created is illegal; the PWA has exceeded its authority under that law and has sought to reduce electric rates and drive the companies out of business by inducing municipalities to accept an "offer" of loans and grants

The government categrocially denied accusations in the Greenwood county case and contended it is neither inducing nor coercing municipalities to participate in its program.

The government lost its first skirmish in the ten current cases when the court here issued temporary restraining orders on the basis of a contract between the PWA and the city.

The plaintiffs and allotments in these cases include; Oklahoma Utilities company—Hominy, Okla., $150,000. Texas Utilities company—Plainview, Texas, $423,546.

Brundage Cracks Whip for Olympic Expense Account

CHICAGO, April 18 (AP)—Avery Brundage, president of the American Olympic committee, cracked the whip at his official family today to start sending home definite reports on the $350,000 fund necessary to get Uncle Sam's athletes to Berlin in August.

"Less than 90 days remain before the teams sail," Brundage said, "and I haven't been able to get together a definite idea of where we stand financially. If we are to have a full team, adequately equipped and accommodated, the fund campaign must have all possible assistance immediately."

The job, he said, is up to the official family, members of the various sports committees, the national Collegiate A. A., the Y. M. C. A., and the A. A U. They must carry the cause to the public to aid the fund raising committees to get the right answer as quickly as possible.

"I am sure the track and boxing teams will raise their quotas, however, I don't know so much about the other teams' prospects, and I have written for definite information so that I can prepare a report within the next two weeks," Brundage said.

Tax Measure Is Pressed as Key To Adjournment

AUSTIN, April 18. (AP)—The state instructed suit today to test its claim to 22 years' back taxes alleged due from the Texas Employers Insurance association of Dallas.

Attorney General William McCraw filed suit in the Travis county district court for $387,767 to settle a long standing controversy over the association's tax liability. The association, McCraw said, was established in 1913 by an act of the legislature and has contended it is exempt from taxation as an agency of the government. The association writes workmen's compensation insurance.

McCraw said the suit presented some interesting questions. An effort of the city of Dallas to levy an ad valorem tax against the association was upheld by the Dallas court of civil appeals.

The state taxes insurance companies on the basis of gross premiums based on a graduated scale McCraw said investigation disclosed the company was liable for the minimum for six years.

He said the association has a surplus of $700,000 and that should the state obtain full judgment it would not impair its ability to satisfy claims.

Two Injured as Cars Overturn

Two persons were injured when automobiles turned over, one Friday night and the other Saturday morning. Both automobiles were badly damaged.

E. O. Snelling was taken to Worley hospital Friday night after his car overturned on a curve near the Danciger refineries east of Pampa. Flying glass cut a long gash in one cheek, on his head and neck. He also suffered severe bruises.

Ed Foran, sexton at Fairview cemetery, was the victim of the other accident. He was en route to Vernon early yesterday morning when his car overturned 16 miles south of LeFors. He was brought to Pampa-Jarratt hospital where he received treatment for cuts and bruises. Later he was able to be taken to his home.

A loose trailer hitch was blamed for the accident. Foran said his car started swaying when the hitch came loose and before he could stop his car it had hit a soft shoulder.

CHAPTER XX

Toby spent a sleepless night and was worried about her, but Harriet had to leave for an early appointment. Standing in the doorway, she looked back anxiously.

"You're sure there isn't anything you want?" she asked. "Anything I can get for you?"

"No," Toby said. "I'm going to be all right. I think I feel better already."

She didn't, but she wanted to be alone. After the door had closed on the other girl, Toby pressed her head against the pillow and closed her eyes. If she could sleep, she thought, the pain in her head might stop.

But, before she knew it, she was again going over the arguments she had repeated so often to herself the night before. There was no reason—none at all—to suspect that, just because Tim had gone to Maryland, he was at the house party Carol Marsh was attending. Why, Maryland was a whole state. There were hundreds of towns in Maryland. It was merely a coincidence that Carol was there, too. A surprising coincidence—but how many times had she heard that truth is stranger than fiction?

If Tim would only write or telephone—

She lay very still thinking that perhaps, if she did that, by some magic the telephone across the room might ring. She was so still it seemed she could hear her heart beat. But the telephone did not ring.

Then the scene in the Seville club, that last night she and Tim had spent together, came back—so vividly Toby might have been seeing it all again. Tim's sudden insistence that they should leave, rushing her away almost before she knew what she was about. And the memory of Carol, cool and beautiful in her silver gown, sitting at that table not a dozen feet away.

Had Carol and her friends just arrived? Was that why Tim was in such a hurry to go somewhere else? The thought held infinite torture, and Toby tortured herself as women in love, before her, have done.

Tim had explained, of course, and she had believed him. Oh, she had wanted to believe him! She [illegible] believe him now, but why didn't she hear from him?

At last, tired by the unanswered and unanswerable arguments, Toby slept.

When Harriet returned in the afternoon she found her roommate sitting by the window, mending a blouse.

"Why, Toby" Harriet said. "That's my blouse. You shouldn't be doing that!"

[illegible] sitting there and thought I might as well be working at something. It's just about finished."

She held up the blouse for inspection. Toby's stitches were neat and tiny.

"Hm," Harriet said. "Better than I could do. Is the headache gone?"

Toby nodded. "I'm feeling fine now," she said. She didn't look as though she were feeling fine, by any means, but Harriet was too concerned with her own affairs to notice. "Clyde's coming tonight," she exclaimed jubilantly. "I found a letter from him when I came in. He's going to get in town about 5 o'clock and he's coming to take me to dinner. I didn't know whether to wear my green dress or that new black one—"

"Wear the black one," Toby advised. It makes you look as though you'd just stepped off a ritzy magazine cover."

"All right, if you say so. Listen, Toby, I wish you'd come with us! Clyde knows a lot of men. I know he'd be glad to call one of them to go along."

"No," Toby said hastily. "Some other time, maybe, but not tonight."

"But, honestly, I think it would do you good. You've been in the house so much lately."

"I just don't feel like it, Harriet. I'd rather not."

"Well—maybe you'll change your mind later," Harriet suggested. She eyed her roommate uncertainly. Something was the matter with Toby; she hadn't been a bit like herself lately. Harriet suspected it had something to do with Tim [illegible] Toby too a rush for a while. Now he was [illegible] Toby doesn't seem to want to talk about where he was or when he'd be back. All she had said was that he was out of town. Harriet was inclined to hope he was, and that he would stay there. Anyone who made Toby look so miserable was [illegible]

It was half an hour later that the telephone rang. Harriet answered and then, lowering the instrument, put a hand over the receiver. "It's for you, Toby," she said.

"For me?" the words were the barest echo of the song in Toby's heart. Tim was calling at last! He was home again and all her silly worries and fears had been for nothing. Oh, she had known it. She had known it all along!

She took the telephone and said, trying to keep her voice as steady as possible, "Hello—"

But is was not Tim who answered. For an instant Toby didn't understand the voice on the wire. She only knew it wasn't Tim's voice. There was a pause, and then she heard herself speaking. She said, trying to stifle her disappointment, "Oh, Bill—how are you?"

It was odd that she hadn't recognized Bill Brandt's voice. Only it would be Tim. Toby suddenly realized how long it had been since she had seen Bill. Almost two weeks, except for a brief encounter on the street. Until lately she'd seen Bill two and three times each week.

He said, "Oh, I'm getting along all right. How's America's most popular advertising model?"

Toby laughed. Something about the way Bill said things almost always made you want to laugh. "I really don't know, Bill," she said. "Is she an acquaintance of yours?"

"I'll say she is. Toby Ryan, her name is. Skinny little thing, about as big as a minute. Maybe you've heard of her?"

"Never." Toby was emphatic. "But if I ever do see her, I'll remember she's a friend of yours."

"Thats right. Give her a break [illegible] as it. And, by the way how about giving me one? I haven't seen you in a coon's age. Don't you think it's about time we went down to the old cafeteria where they have the corned beef and cabbage? Or, if you'd like something fancier, I might even be able to manage that. Not too fancy, of course—"

Toby's voice was regretful. "I'd like to Bill—but I'm afraid I can't tonight.'

"Some other boy friend ahead of me, huh? You're certainyl getting to be a popular girl, Toby."

"I really want to see you, Bill. Call me again, won't you?"

"Well, from where I'm sitting, it looks very much as though I would. And I hope I have better luck. So long, Toby."

She put down the telephone. Harriet, busily manicuring her nails, looked up. "Was that the Bill you introduced me to?" she asked. "The one we met on the street that day?"

"Yes. Bill Brandt."

"Hm. Nice sort of fellow, I thought. If it wasn't for Clyde I might try to give you a little competition."

"Bill's one of the nicest people in the world," Toby assured her.

"Hm." There may have been an answer on the tip of Harriet's tongue, but if there was, she kept it to herself.

Clyde Sabin telephone later and then arrived at the apartment. He wasn't at all the sort of person Toby had expected him to be. In the first place, he was older—well into the 30's, surely. From Toby's 19 that seemed middle-age. Harriet was 22.

Sabin was tall and broad-shouldeerd and very well tailored. Not at all handsome, but rather nice-looking. And he certainly tried to be pleasant. Toby thought perhaps he tried a little too hard. Maybe that was the reason she didn't feel at ease with him. She couldn't think of any other reason.

Sabin repeated Harriet's invitation for Toby to join them for the evening. "Let me call up Tom Garside," he said. "I know he'd [illegible] a nice fellow, too. You'll like him—"

But Toby made it plain that she preferred to stay in and when the others saw she meant it they gave up their urging.

They left finally and Toby went to the window and looked out. [illegible] in half an hour it would be dark. Already Manhattan's electrical splendor was in evidence, though Toby could not see it. Nearby buildings, bleak, unlighted, closed in about her. They assumed grotesque, menacing outlines.

Toby turned her back on them and walked from the window. Downstairs a radio had begun to play a tune she had often danced with Tim. The music was being broadcast from some place where there was gaiety and laughter, soft lights, couples dancing as she and Tim had danced.

A sudden sense of loneliness swept over her. Why had she insisted on remaining at home tonight? Why hadn't she gone out with Harriet and Clyde Sabin? Or with Bill? [illegible] knew, even as she asked the question, why she had not gone. She was waiting to hear from Tim.

News Of Interest From Nearby Towns

With a $20,000 bond issue voted for the Wheeler schools Saturday, all thoughts are being centered around using this sum for a new high school building.

The Republican county convention of Wheeler county will be held at the court house in Wheeler at 3 p. m., Tuesday, May 5. So states a notice received from Frank Exum of Shamrock, Republican county chairman. This convention will be composed of delegates and alternates elected from each voting precinct of the county. These will be named in precinct conventions to be held Saturday, May 2, at 7 p. m.

To Elect Delegates

Announcing that a special Legion meeting will be held Tuesday, May 21, at Wellington, Guy E. Clay, commander, today said that delegates would be elected to the district convention to be held in Pampa May 2-3. He said that in addition to naming delegates there was also other important business to be transacted.

Carson Wet

In last Saturday's liquor election 702 votes, out of more than 2000 eligible, were cast, 436 casting their votes for the sale of all kinds of liquors in Carson county and 266 voting against said sale.

Four precincts, Conway, Groom, Gulf Camp and Lark, gave majorities against the proposition, and it will remain illegal to sell liquors in these districts. The rest of the county authorized the sale in their several precincts.

The County Farm meeting was held last Friday night in the basement of the Miami Methodist church. There was not standing room for the crowd, estimated at over 210 persons and there was not a dull moment from start to finish of the program.

The North Plains string band with Homer Ratliff in charge, furnished plenty of lively music throughout the evening.

Theo. Jenkins acted as chairman and in his opening address explained the Wheat Compliance in 1936.

Governor James V. Allred has accepted an invitation to speak at Amarillo, May 10 at a Panhandle Folk Festival, arranged as a pre-Centennial celebration and as a prelude to the West Texas chamber of commerce convention.

Borger's first racing season will get under way on June 25 if the sale of stock goes as was expected, officials of the project announced Wednesday after a meeting here.

The entire equipment of the Southwest Racing association, formerly of Panhandle, will be moved from Panhandle in the near future, it was announced. Included in the equipment which will be moved will be the grandstand, stables, fence and jockey clubhouse.

Black Duster Recalled

True to its reputation for sudden and extreme changes — sometimes within a few hours — Panhandle weather brought a pleasant surprise, Tuesday, when a welcome shower of rain marked the anniversary of a noted manifestation of the elements at Wheeler.

Exactly a year ago, Sunday afternoon, April 14, brought what oldtimers declared was a scene never before observed in Wheeler county. It was a black dust storm. Originating somewhere to the north, the huge rolling bank of greyish-green and black colored sediment rode a gale across the Panhandle and far into the state before its fury was spent.

Approximately 1,500 Wheeler school children are expected to attend the county-wide sing-song to be held on the Shamrock football field on the night of April 24. Wheeler hopes to have at least 125 representatives. This program is in connection with the statewide sing-song featuring Centennial songs.

Mayor's Proclamation

Owing to the fact that our school is to celebrate Tuesday, April 21 and pay tribute to the heroes who gave to us and our state the liberty we now enjoy, it is fitting that the people of our city should cooperate in every way possible to make the Centennial celebration as success.

Therefore, it has been requested that all business houses be closed from 12 to 2 o'clock Tuesday, April 21, so that all may attend the Centennial celebration at the high school building.

Roy J. Landers, Mayor of Higgins.

Scouters School Success

The second scouters school was conducted Monday night, at the Canadian high school building by C. A. Clark, scout executive from Pampa, and Leonard Records. Much interest is being taken in these schools. Two business men from Higgins were present. They were: C. S. Carmichael and T. R. Murray. Another scouters school will be held at the Canadian city auditorium Friday night, May 22.

Ernest Pickens and Bill Mathers were raised to second class scouts by passing tests before a board of review Monday afternoon. On the board were: C. A. Clark, Leonard Records and Jesse Grimes.

County and community committeemen for Hemphill county's new soil erosion conservation program are announced this week by H. M. Cantrell, county agent, as follows:

D. U. Hardin, county committeeman and M. P. Rogers, community committeeman, representing the Gem district. Gaddy Vice, county and Farmer Hefley, community committeemen, for Gageby district. J. W. Voyles, county and W. W. Lewis community, from Canadian district.

County educational meetings are being held this week in the following communities: Gem, Gageby, M. K. Washita, Allison and Lone Star. These meetings were called by community councils and the county agent and adjustment assistant. Details of the workings of the new soil conservation program for application for grants are being discussed.

New Band Uniforms

Canadian high school band plans to take part in the Texas Centennial celebration at Higgins, April 21, and at the West Texas chamber of commerce meeting at Amarillo, May 12 and 13.

Delivery of new uniforms is expected to be soon after April 24. The first appearance of the band in their new uniforms will be a free concert at the City auditorium in appreciation of the Band Mothers, P. T. A. and the chamber of commerce.

In addition to the new uniforms, the band recently bought a new French horn, a pair of cymbals and had the bass drum repaired. Bobbie Fowler will play the French horn. Sydna Kokley is the new drum major.

Belgian 'Help' Of Haile Have Resigned, Claim

ADDIS ABABA, April 18. (AP)—The members of the Belgian military commission, employed for the last five years by Emperor Haile Selassie to train soldiers and police, were reported reliably today to have resigned again.

The relations between the Belgians and the government have been strained often in the past, and they tendered their resignations in a body at least once previously since the outbreak of the war.

What relation there may be between the present report and the approach of the northern Italian army to the capital was not specified, but the Belgians are known to have had disciplinary troubles in the past.

It was understood that the government may not permit the Belgians to depart because of a dispute over the fulfillment of contracts. It is known that some of the instructors are dependent upon the government for transportation.

As this fresh internal dispute developed, the government took steps for the protection of Americans and other foreigners still stationed here.

Harvester Track-Field Team Noses Out White Deer, Hedley In Close Meet

MOBEETIE BOY LEADS SCORING FOR DISTRICT

TWO HEDLEY ATHLETES SCORE ALL POINTS FOR TEAM

Although having only two men come under the string first, the Pampa Harvester track and field team repulsed all invaders to repeat as champions of district 2 in the Texas Interscholastic league meet here on Friday. The team was coached by E. N. "Dick" Dennard.

The Harvesters made 28½ points to lead White Deer with 23 points and Hedley with 20 points. Other point makers in the meet were: Mobeetie 15½; Wheeler 13; Follett 10½; Clarendon 10; Magic City 7; Booker 6⅓; Panhandle 5½; Alanreed 5; Shamrock 5; Perryton 2½; Allison 1.

Key of Mobeetie, with a first, one second and a tie, led the individual scoring with 10½ points. Hedley's two man track team, Jones and Richardson, each captured two first places to tie for second high scoring with 10 points each.

Weather was ideal excepting for a light breeze blowing up the track at the finish. It was the second consecutive meet held without dust or wind. Bill Allen of McLean acted as starter. Each of the field events had a manager and as a result, the entire finals were run off in less than two hours.

Only four records were broken despite the favorable weather and keen competition. All of them were in the field events. Probably the outstanding performance in that division was the pole vaulting ability shown by Gilliam of Alanreed who cleared the cross bar at 11 feet 5 inches. The standing record was 10 feet 9 inches, made by Still of LeFors in 1934.

Ford, Wheeler's weight man, was an easy winner in the shot put with a record heave of 45 feet 3½ inches which bested the record of J. R. Green of Pampa who made a throw of 41 feet 2 inches in 1935.

Key of Mobeetie broad jumped 20 feet 2½ inches to best the 20-foot mark of Holton of Spearman, made last year.

Mills, little but well built Shamrock boy, hurled the javelin 165 feet 9 inches to best the mark of 155 feet 9 inches, held by Bill Dunaway of Pampa.

Hedley's ace sprinter, Jones, had little trouble winning the 100 yard dash and the 220-yard dash. He led the pack in the longer event by more than 10 yards at the finish.

Albert "Deacon" Ayer gave two of the greatest performances of the meet when he won the half mile and picked up more than 50 yards as anchor man in the relay. Ayer made a wonderful finish to best Cain of Wheeler in the 880-yard run. The "deacon" was more than 100 yards behind the first man when he started the last lap of the relay. He overhauled Lopez of Canadian and came within inches of taking second place from Magic City. Ayer was handicapped when Noblitt, running third, pulled up with a sore leg 220-yards from the finish. He was in second place at the time.

F. Vanderberg of Hopkins won the rural pentathlon, nosing out Boyce Pierce of Midland by one point, 24 to 23. E. Vanderberg of Hopkins won the event last year.

Summary:
120-yard high hurdles—Richardson, Hedley; Key, Mobeetie; Strickland, Pampa; Ayer, Pampa. Time, 18.
100-yard dash—Jones, Hedley; Mauldin, White Deer; Moore, White Deer; Grady, Clarendon. Time, 10.2.
880-yard run—Ayer, Pampa; Cain, Wheeler; Rose, Booker and Harrison, Panhandle, tied. Times, 2:17.4.
220-yard low hurdles—Farmer, Mobeetie; Noblitt, Pampa; Anderson, Panhandle; Brown, Pampa. Time, 28.
440-yard dash—Strawn, Clarendon; Harrelson, Follett; Anderson, Panhandle; Hines, White Deer. Time, 57.1.
Mile run—Shuey, Booker; Phillips, White Deer; Lane, Clarendon; Harmon, Magic City. Time, 5:07.
220-yard dash—Jones, Hedley; Mauldin, White Deer; Moore, White Deer; Baxter, Clarendon. Time 23.8.
Relay—White Deer (Moore, Thornburg, Hines, Mauldin); Magic City; Pampa. Time 3:55.
Broad jump—Key, Mobeetie; Strickland, Pampa; Harrelson, Follett; Hodges, White Deer. Distance, 20 feet 2½ inches (new record).
High jump—Richardson, Hedley; Burns, Magic City; Strickland, Pampa and Sharp, Follett, tied. Height, 5 feet 7 inches.
Javelin—Mills, Shamrock; Ayer, Pampa; Hartman, Pampa; Mattock, Follett. Distance, 165 feet 9 inches (new record).
Discus—Hartman, Pampa; Urbanczyk, White Deer; Ford, Wheeler; Power, Clarendon. Distance, 109 feet 3 inches.
Pole vault—Gilliam, Alanreed; Key, Mobeetie and Finney, Perryton, tied; McMullan, Allison. Height, 11 feet 5 inches (new record).
Shot put—Ford, Wheeler; Harrelson, Follett; Mills, Shamrock; Fuller, Shamrock. Distance 45 feet 3½ inches (new record).

Little Road Runner Boys Asked To Report Monday

Joe Parkinson Will Be Manager of Team

Joe Parkinson, experienced baseballer who yesterday was named manager of the Junior Road Runner baseball team, issued a call for all candidates for the team to report for initial practice Monday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock at Road Runner park.

The call did not catch prospective members of the team napping for many have been practicing with the senior team, and have engaged in batting and throwing practice in the last few weeks. A sizeable crew is expected to report as candidates for the team.

Mr. Parkinson also announced that new uniforms, just like the Road Runners', have been ordered and will be given out to the boys as soon as they arrive. The Little Road Runners will play their first game unday, April 26, when the recently organized junior baseball league opens with the Phillips 66 boys coming to Road Runner park, Hoover going to Canadian and the Magnolia Peewees going to Amarillo. Competition on the Road Runner team as well as in the other teams is expected to be close.

Rosters have been sent in by three teams in the league and rosters of the other teams will be given Archer Fullingim, president of the loop, as soon as it is humanly possible. Mr. Parkinson played on the first Road Runner baseball team organized here. Before that he played on teams at Duncan and Wichita Falls. He managed the Rock Island Refinery team at Duncan, Okla. Harold Miller, manager of Road Runner baseballers, praised Mr. Parkinson as ideally qualified to coach and manage the Danciger company's junior team.

The following rosters arrived yesterday:

Peewees—Doyle Aulds, Billy Morrow, Howard Buckingham, Jr., Grover Lee Heiskell, Richard Kilgore, David Seyffert, Glen Dull, O. Rafferty, Grover Foster, Dales Mills, Vernon Dickinson, Claude Heiskell, Ed Casada, Howard Buckingham, manager and sponsor; Roy Marshall, assistant manager and coach.

Canadian — Jack Calloway, Joe Calloway, Ben Caldwell, Gerald Sprague, Bill Pendergraft, James Owsley, Albert Fincher, Bill Stephen, Lawrence Briggs, Ravis Massey, Verlin Massey, Wayne Keene, James Spiller, Boots Gerhart, Geo. F. Carver, Manager.

Hoover—Cecil Lewis, John Rodgers, Robert Hogan, Fred Sloan, Farrington Lewis, H. J. Johnson, Duane Turcotte, George Conders, Harold Lewis, E. W. Hogan, Marvin Maddox, Lewis Colvin, Lewis Cole, Graham Lewis; A. Colvin, Manager; E. W. Hogan, Coach; J. M. Daugherty, umpire.

It is understood that all teams in the league would take on better players. The initial rosters may be changed before the season gets well under way. Rules permit addition of a player at any time, providing he has not signed up with any other team in the league. A player whose name is not included in the initial roster may play two weeks after his name is added. Ben Romines is the manager of the Phillips team. Harry Dumbell is the manager-coach of the Amarillo Mavericks.

Chess Tourney Will Be Held in Lubbock May 9-10

LUBBOCK, April 18.—(Special)—One of the most ancient of games will be featured in a West Texas open chess tournament here May 9-16.

The cream of Texas chess players have been invited to participate. The tournament, the first of its kind in this section, has been arranged, however, to enable less experienced players to compete for prizes in classes B and C.

O. W. Manney, United States immigration inspector at El Paso, who is Texas champion, and J. C. Thompson, Dallas, runner-up in the last state tournament, are expected to enter. Persons eliminated from championship play will compete for B. and C division championships.

Entries may be sent to Robert J. Allen, Lubbock. Entry fee is 50 cents.

Skeet Club Will Shoot at Range

The Pampa Skeet club will open its range for public shooting at 9 o'clock this morning instead of at the customary afternoon hour. Members believe they will escape much of the wind which has been hindering shooting in the afternoon.

The range is located about a mile east of the city limits on U. S. Highway 60 and just south of the KPDN radio tower. The public is invited to shoot. The charge will be the same as for members.

WHEELER WILL END SERIES OF FIGHTS ON TUESDAY EVENING

WHEELER, April 19—Tuesday night will end the series of fights held at Wheeler. This is to be closed with a golden glove tournament. Nine gold boxing gloves will be given to the winners in each division.

Each fight will be three one-minute rounds, with one minute rest. S. H. Cavanaugh of Shamrock will refree the fights and will make all decisions.

Proceeds from this fight will go to pay on baseball equipment. Admission will be 10, 15 and 25 cents. Reserve seats, 20 cents. The program will begin promptly at 8 o'clock in the Wheeler gymnasium. Weighing will start at 7:30.

At last Cain has a fighter from McLean. This should prove to be one of the high spots in the boxing circles, along with Connor matched again with the powerful Cunningham from McLean. Charles Red will meet some stiff competition in Clepper from Briscoe as will Parker when he meets Hefley from the same town. Fuller of Shamrock is to be in the heavy-weight class but no one has entered against him yet.

Entries are:

Flyweight—Hooker, Yukon vs. Miller, Death Valley.

Bantamweight—Red, Wheeler, vs. Clepper, Briscoe.

Featherweight—Parker, Wheeler, vs. Hefley, Briscoe.

Lightweight—Cain, Wheeler, vs. Back, McLean.

Welterweight—Pace, Wheeler, vs. Finley, McLean.

Middleweight—Cook, McLean, vs. Mills, Shamrock.

Light heavyweight — Connor, Wheeler, vs. Cunningham, McLean.

Heavyweight—Fuller, Shamrock, vs. Johnson, Mobeetie.

Main fight of the evening will be Sims of Wheeler vs. Ledbetter of McLean.

20 AMATEUR BOXING MATCHES STAGED RECENTLY AT McLEAN

Before a large crowd in McLean's gymnasium Friday night, 20 amateur boxing matches were staged between well matched boys. The fights were staged under the direction of Coach Bill Allen, with proceeds going to a fund to purchase football uniforms for a junior team.

The fights were enthusiastically received and are expected to prove popular in the future. Inter-school matches may be staged later. Lloyd Hunt and Orville Cunningham, students at West Texas S. T. C., who were home for the Easter holidays staged an exhibition bout during the evening.

Other bouts included:

Battle royal, juniors—Stevens and Dwight, draw.

Battle royal, 6th and 7th grade—Glenn and Braxton, Jones, draw.

Battle royal—R. B. Cook.

Joe Cook, 11, defeated Willis Ledbetter, 11, in one of the best matches of the night.

John Floyd Campbell defeated Bill Pierce who outweighed him 16 pounds.

Senior division: Bill Webb beat Jimmie Murphy; Jiggs McDonald won from Winfred Finley; Faris Hess lost to Clayton Wilkerson; Morse Ivey beat Lloyd Strother; Spencer Sitter lost to Don Lancaster; Bill Roth beat J. D. Back; Virgil McCauley defeated Earl Moon; Charles Finley won from Cecil Jones; George Watson was victor over Kid McCoy; Albert Overton beat Myrle Norman; Ray Terrell was defeated by A. D. Nichols; Jess Finley defeated George Chambers; Arthur Ray Ledbetter won from Porter Chilton; James Emmett Cooke and Dusty King met for the third time with King being declared winner. The previous two meetings ended in draws.

"Whity" Rigdon, former professional boxer, acter as referee.

HARVESTERS WIN TENNIS TILT OF DISTRICT OVER SPEARMAN

Pampa high school annexed the boys' singles tennis crown in the District 2 Interscholastic league meet Friday afternoon when Ralph "Lefty" Hamilton defeated Spearman's Jack Davison in a torrid four-set match which was featured by several sensational volleys and deadly corner shots.

Panhandle won the boys' doubles, defeating McLean in straight sets. Panhandle also annexed the girls' singles by defeating the defending champion, Magic City's entry. Magic City, however, came back strong to take the girls' doubles event from Booker.

Hamilton, displaying strong forehand shots, won the first two sets from his big opponent, but lost the third. He came back strong to win the final round. Scores were 6-3, 6-2, 5-7, 6-3.

Frank Kelley and Morris Day of Panhandle won from James Cook and J. D. Back in the boys' doubles, 6-0, 6-3, 6-2.

Dorothy Day of Panhandle came from behind to annex the girls' singles crown from the head of Nara Pearl Shirley of Magic City, defending champion. Scores were 3-6, 6-4, 6-3.

Wilma Connell and Florette Miller of Magic City defeated Fay Rose and Vivian Hughes of Booker. They also had to come from behind to win. Scores were 6-8, 6-2, 6-3.

District officials extend their thanks to the White Deer school district for the use of their courts. All girls' events were played on the fast White Deer courts.

DAVIS CUPPERS CHOSEN

PARIS, April 18. (AP)—The veteran, Christian Boussus, and the youngster Bernard Destremeau, today were chosen to play Davis cup singles for France's international tennis team this year. Marcel Bernard and Jean Borotra will play the doubles with Jacques Brugnon replacing Rene Locoste as non-playing captain.

SLIGHTLY BUSY

LAWRENCE, Kan., April 18. (AP)—Chick Wallender, University of Texas runner, was refusing all invitations to go for a stroll tonight. Wallender admitted he was just a trifle tired. All he did in the Kansas relays today was to run the races—preliminary, semi-final and final—in the 100-yard dash; anchor the 440-yard and 880-yard sprint relay teams, run the second leg of the university sprint medley, and compete in the university mile run.

Peter T. Kerckhoff, former Santa Clara university football captain and star end, is candidate for the California legislature.

TOKYO GIANTS AND HUBER TO PLAY TUESDAY

JAPANESE PLAYED ALL TEAMS IN TEXAS LEAGUE

Sotaro Suzuki, "manager-in-chief" of the Dai-Nippon Tokyo baseball club limited, better known as the Tokyo All Star Giants, will have his team in Borger Tuesday night when they play the Huber Blackfaces to open the season.

A new manager, Yoshio Asanuma will be in direct charge of the team. The Giants have played all teams in the Texas league and their worst defeat was by three runs Eighteen players will accompany the team to Borger. They will not play here because of lack of time.

The "School Boy Rowe" of Japan, 19-year-old Sawamura, is with the team this season. He held the major league all stars to a 1 to 0 score in Japan last year. He fanned Babe Ruth three times and the winning run was a homer hit by Charlie Gehringer.

The "Charlie Gehringer" of the team is Matash who is built and acts exactly like the Detroit star. Also with the Japanese is a "Ty Cobb." He is Pabe, who stole 92 bases in 110 games last season.

Mizuhara is the "Rabe Ruth" of Japan. He was purchased for a million yen. Nakatama is a catcher de luxe.

The Japanese players simply floor the American players and fans. Instead of "cussing" the umpire, the Japanese players steps to the plate, smiles, removes his hat and bows—yes—to the umpire.

A new hitting power has been developed by the Japanese, due largely to pointers given them by their American idol, Frank "Lefty" O'Doul. Feilding has never worried the little Nipponese. Speed on the bases has also been left for the other teams to worry about.

Many Pampa fans plan to drive to Borger to see the team in action. The Japanese stars will play Phillips of Amarillo at Metro park on Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock for their only other appearance in this section of the country.

IN THE TEXAS LEAGUE

TULSA, April 18. (AP)—Stan Schino boomed out a homer with one man on to break up an eighth inning tie and win a Texas league ball game for the Tulsa Oilers from the Oklahoma City Indians here today. The score was 6 to 4.

Schino's clout scored Levey ahead of him and the victory gave the Tulsans four games out of five with Oklahoma City. The first three of which were played in Oklahoma City.

Score by innings:	R	H	E
Oklahoma City 00 101 200	4	11	0
Tulsa 000 301 02x	6	9	2

Swigart and Seebold; Selway and Jackson.

Exporters Win

BEAUMONT, April 18. (AP)—In a merry hitting frolic here this afternoon the Exporters made it two out of three over the San Antonio Missions by blasting out a 11 to 9 victory, timely Shipper base knocks offsetting lusty non-stoppers by Rhein, Bettencourt and Harshany that drove in eight tallies. George Coffman, brother of the Giants' Dick Coffman, made his Texas league debut and after a wobbly start tossed good ball, shading Lefty Mills, Guy Fletcher and Weissenborn. Fletcher, an old Shipper, was credited with the defeat.

Steers Win 10-7

DALLAS, April 18. (AP)—The Dallas Steers finished their first at-home series of the season tonight with a clean-cut 10 to 7 victory over the Fort Worth Cats. The Steers took a commanding 7-run lead in the first three innings and added three for a safe margin.

Score by innings:	R	H	E
Fort Worth ... 100 002 130	7	9	0
Dallas 214 002 1x	10	13	5

Jonnard, Shoffner, Wiltse and Brittain, Krale; Frazier and Gaston.

Buffs Vanquish Bucs

HOUSTON, April 18. (AP)—Eight innings of brilliant pitching by John Stevenson, 20 year old Austin boy, and some fine curving by Manager Ira Smith when the youngster weakened in the ninth frame, featured Houston's 7 to 3 victory over Galveston tonight. The win marked the fourth straight victory for the Herd and kept the Buffs at the top of the league standing.

Score by innings:	R	H	E
Galveston 000 011 001	3	5	1
Houston 010 230 10x	7	10	2

Jakucki, Eaves, Bennett and Keith; Smith, Stevenson and Franks.

NAVY CREW DEFEATED

ANNAPOLIS, Md., April 18. (AP)—Columbia, crew that found only defeat last year, opened the eastern rowing season with a surprise triumph over the Navy here today, whipping the sailors by more than a lenght over a 1½ mile course. The Columbia Jayvees outstroked the Middies by a length and a half, while Navy scored its only victory as its plebes rowed to a three length win.

TEXAS TRACK STARS SHINE IN LAWRENCE

WORLD RECORD BEATEN AT KANSAS U. RELAYS

By WHITNEY MARTIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

LAWRENCE, Kan., April 19 (AP)—One world relay record was bettered, the Olympic decathlon mark also was bettered, an intercollegiate relay mark tumbled, and four records were established in events new to the meet as approximately 10,000 spectators watched a preview of United States track and field hopefuls in the fourteenth annual Kansas relays here today.

The meet also marked the 1936 outdoor debut of Glen Cunningham, former University of Kansas runner and holder of the world mile record. Cunningham won his event, the 1500 meters in the comparatively slow time of 3:57.1, but provided no answer to the question of whether his best days are before or behind him.

The meet and decathlon record were bettered by sturdy Fort Collins, Colo., automobile salesman, Glenn Morris. Competing under the colors of the Denver Athletic club, Morris, a graduate of Colorado State college at Fort Collins last year, and competing in his first decathlon, rolled up the impressive total of 7,576 points.

The Olympic record of James Bausch, set in 1932, translated into the new scoring system is 7,392 points, and the meet record, also set by Bausch in 1932 and similarly translated is 7,456.

The Emporia, Kansas Teacher college distance medley relay quartet, anchored by Archie San Romani, national intercollegiate mile champion, raced through its variety of distances in 10:12.7, the world and American record being 10:14, set by Manhattan college of New York in 1933.

Three of the meet records were established in events appearing on the program the first time because of their connection with the Olympic games. The meet was recognized as an official American Olympic try-out, and the three events—the 400-meter hurdles, the 3,000-meter steeplechase, and the hop, skip and jump, are Olympic events.

The fourth record established was in the one-mile team race, which this year replaced the four-mile university relay.

University 880-yard relay—first heat won by Texas U. (1:26); second, Illinois (1:28.2); third, Washington U. (St. Louis) (1.28.9); fourth, Kansas U. (1.29).

Second heat—won by Nebraska (1.27.5); second, Iowa U. (1:29); third, Colorado U. (1:29.3); fourth, Drake University (1:30.4).

Winners—on base of elapsed time: First, University of Texas; second, University of Nebraska; third, University of Illinois; fourth, Washington U. (St. Louis). Winning time—1 minute, 26 seconds.

University quarter-mile relay—relaw—winners on elapsed time—first heat, won by Washington U. (Time 42:4); second, Nebraska (42.5); third, Iowa U. (42.9); fourth, Colorado (43 seconds).

Second heat—won by Texas U. (Time 41.5); second, Kansas (42:1); third, Drake (42.9); fourth, Illinois (42.9).

Winner on basis of elapsed time—first, Texas (Reeves, Rockhold, Gruneison, Wallender); second, Kansas; third, Washington; fourth, Nebraska. Winning time 41.5.

University sprint medley relay—won by Northwestern (Heg, Millett, Keitel, Fleming); second, Texas; third, Kansas State; fourth, Oklahoma. Time—3:27.4. (Betters intercollegiate record of 3:27.6 set by Ohio State in 1931; also new meet record as first time event has been held here).

University one-mile relay—won by Indiana (Gunning, Miller, Gill, Collier); second, Texas; third, Missiuri; fourth, Kansas; time, 3:19.6.

Budge, Mako Beat Allison, Van Ryn

PINEHURST, N. C., April 18. (AP)—Donald Budge and Gene Mako, youthful California combination, defeated Wilmer Allison and John Van Ryn, national champions, for the north and south tennis title today in a match which carried added significance because of its possible effect on selection of the doubles team for the Davis cup matches with Australia.

Bitterly fought from the opening set which the veterans won 8-6, the match saw Budge and Allison each carrying the burden for his side, though ably supported by Mako and Van Ryn. Allison appeared somewhat tired while Budge was near his peak and was hitting beautifully as he and Mako captured the second, third and fourth sets by scores of 6-2, 6-3, 6-3.

GIANTS LOSE 14-1

TYLER, April 18. (AP)—The Tyler Trojans of the East Texas league walloped the Tokyo Giants, 14 to 1, in an exhibition baseball game here. It was one of the worst beatings the Japanese players had suffered since starting their American tour.

FIGHTER WINS $15,000 TEXAS DERBY CLASSIC

STOCK IN KENTUCKY DERBY BOOSTED BY VICTORY

ARLINGTON DOWNS, April 18.—Out of the dust kicked up in the stretch by its stable mate came the Fighter, Gallant Milky Way Farms colt, to triumph in the $15,000 Texas derby here today before 23,000 fans. The sensational three-year-old, pride of Mrs. Ethel V. Mars' stable, boosted its Kentucky derby stock in his fourth consecutive handicap victory at this track with a 1:12 4-5 performance over the mile and furlong route.

It took vigorous urging by Jockey Alfred Robertson to push the Fighter in ahead of Rushaway, A. G. Tarn's Louisiana derby winner, which surprised with a durable exhibition that made him a contender from the start. He was a length behind the Milky Way speedster at the finish line.

In third position was Holl Image, the Jack Carter gelding which copped the Arkansas derby, a bare length behind Rushaway.

Stretched out in the order named was Butzy Hernandez' Loischen and Flag Cadet, coupled as an entry; Doran, Milky Way farms, sixth; J. L. Roberts' Tugboat Frank, seventh, and Sangreal, early pacesetter for the Fighter, last.

The Fighter brought his winnings at the Texas Jockey club track to $20,055, adding the Texas derby to previous wins scored in the inaugural, Fort Worth frontier and blue bonnet handicaps.

Off at the head of the pack, the Fighter stuck to the inside rail, allowing Sangreal and Rushaway to ease ahead, and then breezed along in third position. At the far turn the Fighter made his characteristic stretch bid.

From third he moved into second position, replacing the fast tiring Sangreal. Jockey Robertson turned on all the great colt's speed as they thundered down in front of the stands and sped past Rushaway with a rush.

It was a typical race for the Fighter. He has never dropped farther back than third or fourth in running handicaps here and always gave the crowd its expected thrill by making his move coming into the stretch turn.

Jockey Robertson dismounted, strode to a public address system and told the throng the Fighter would be shooting for the Kentucky derby prize.

Perfect weather prevailed as the horses paraded to the post with the band blaring "The Eyes of Texas are Upon You." The crowd was equal to last year's attendance.

The Fighter brought its backers $2.60 while Rushaway rewarded with only $2.10 in the place hole.

DANEY GIVEN HURLING JOB FOR PAMPANS

HUGHES, FORMERLY OF TULSA, TO PITCH FOR HUBER

Panhandle baseball rivalry will break out this afternoon at Road Runner park when the Huber Blackfaces of Borger will meet the Pampa-Danciger Road Runners. Game time will be 3 o'clock with admission 25 cents for women and 40 cents for men. The Knot Hole gang will be admitted free at the pass gate east of the main entrance.

The Blackfaces will come to Pampa with the intention of smashing the Road Runners and starting down the avenging trail. Last season the Pampa aggregation was the Huber nemesis.

Anticipating a tough struggle, Manager Sam Hale of the Road Runners has given Lee Daney, little Indian hurler, the starting assignment. Should Daney be unable to go the distance, Hale will have seven hurlers ready to take the mound.

Opposing Daney will be a right-hander by the name of Hughes, secured from the Tulsa Oilers following spring training. Manager "Lefty" Huffman will also have Eyron Chody, an old Road Runner jinx, and Nash, who played ball last year with Palestine ready to go to the mound.

Taking a look at the lineup, Huber appears to have the inside track on this afternoon's tussle. The Blackfaces will line up with five former Coltexo Gassers in uniform. The rest of the team will be composed of veterans from last year, except for the pitching.

Manager Sam Hale will start the same lineup that took an 8 to 0 game from the Ponca City Angels last Sunday. The team will appear more finished, it is predicted. The Road Runners have gone thru several stiff workouts since meeting the Angels. Strict attention has been paid to work on the infield and hitters have been getting more work.

The field has been "drowned" and worked since last Sunday when it was so hard that judging ground balls was almost impossible.

Starting lineups with probable batting orders follow:

Pampa	Borger
Summers, 2b.	Polvogt, c.
Bailey, lf.	Huffman, 1b.
Seitz, cf.	Spencer, ss.
Hale, 3b.	Ross, 3b.
McNabb, rf.	Wilson, lf.
Lisle, c.	Warren, cf.
McLary, ss.	Moore, rf.
Cox, 1b.	Dingman, ss.
Daney, p.	Hughes, p.

NORTH SIDE WINS

FORT WORTH, April 18. (AP)—North Side high school of Fort Worth scored 39 points to win the first place in the district 10 interscholastic league track and field meet at T. C. U. this afternoon. Although schools from eight counties took part, the meet honors were hogged by four Forth Worth schools. Masonic Home was second with 33 points. Paschal third with 20, and Poly fourth with 13. Cresson, Springtown, Weatherford, Cleburne, Denton, Arlington, Gainesville, and Grandview were other point making cities.

What Would You DO If there Were No Classified WANT ADS?

Can your imagine? Can you visualize . . . a newspaper without Classified Want Ads. You've lost your purse with your weeks earnings in it . . . How are you going to find it, You want to rent a room, a house, an apartment . . . you want to buy or sell a Used Car, a second hand stove . . . you want to find a job . . . HOW ARE YOU GOING TO DO IT? Your problems are solved through the Want-Ads.

When newspapers, several hundred years ago, began printing notices of one sort or another, they were all together in an appointed column. But the increasing numbers of these small ads forced a change. Ads similar to purpose and intent were assembled under one head.

For example, the ads of all those wanting to sell something were set one following another. Such was the beginning of a systematic grouping. The ads were "classified."

So today the want ad section is divided into definite groups with accompanying sub-heads. Some of these classifications come to mind: Public Notices group—Employment group—Automotive group—Real Estate group—and each group further divided for the mutual aid of reader and advertiser alike.

At La Nora

Without a doubt that old adage, "practice makes perfect" is as true as arithmetic, according to Paul Draper, sensational New York dancer who is playing in his first picture, the Warner Bros. musical film "Colleen," which comes to the La Nora theater Sunday thru Tuesday.

"If enough practice were given to the feet," he said, when interviewed between scenes during the production of "Colleen," "they could be made to do as many things as the hands. I remember when I was a boy I saw an armless man in a sideshow who was able to eat, sew and write with with his feet. It took lots of practice. But if a dancer would become proficent in his art he might steal a page from that man's book."

Draper is forever practicing. Oftentimes he devotes ten hours a day working on intricate steps, and often dances at home after spending eight or nine hours dancing at the studio.

His shoes are made for his feet, as are his sox, which are a heavy silk and wool—for protection.

"Colleen," which is directed by

Wins First

Aubrey C. (Foozy) Green, Jr., above, was the only Pampa boy who placed first in declamation in the various divisions of the Interscholastic League held here yesterday. "Foozy" won the gold medal with three first places, beating the Panhandle and McLean boys who went to the finals with the Pampa lad. Donald Crow, Panhandle competitor, nosed out "Foozy" in the finals last year, but placed second this year. The winning declamation was "The Song of the Forerunners" by Karl Wilson Baker, which he gave over the radio station KPDN last Sunday.

Texas Students Killed in Crash

GEORGETOWN, April 18, (AP)—Two University of Texas students were injured fatally when their plane crashed near here today.

Guy Bryan, 22, of Houston, died within a few minutes after the plane went into a spin and plunged into a gully. Jeff D. Farish, also of Houston, died in a Georgetown hospital.

Both were prominent in university affairs. Bryan's father was Guy Morrison Bryan, who died last year. Farish is the son of Jefferson D. Farish, connected with the Humble oil company.

Rev. and Mrs. L. Burney Shell, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Todd of Pampa and Mr. Horace Duncan of LeFors went to Plainview Friday night to a meeting of the Trinity Exes. They returned Saturday morning. Mr. Shell was one of the speakers on the program.

Alfred E. Green, with special dances staged by Bobby Connolly, features an all-star cast, including Dick Powell, Ruby Keeler, Joan Blondell, Jack Oakie, Louise Fazenda, Hugh Herbert and Draper.

Music and lyrics are by Warren and Dubin.

Mrs. M. M. Rutherford and daughters, Mary Maude and Patricia Ann, returned Friday from Kerrville, where they spent the past three weeks for benefit of Mrs. Rutherford's health.

N BAR N RANCH SENT 22,250 CATTLE UP THE TRAIL IN 1893

200 COWHANDS JOURNEYED TO HEADQUARTERS

AMUSING INCIDENTS OF CAMP LIFE TOLD BY PIONEERS

BY ARCHER FULLINGIM,
City Editor, The NEWS.

Probably the greatest cattle movement that ever took place in the old west occurred back in 1893 when the famous N Bar N ranch moved ten herds along the trail from the north Panhandle to the Crow reservation in Montana in one season. The historic ranch sent every animal on its range over the trail that year.

Cowhands came from great distances in the cattle country, hoping to get a paying job in the great adventure. Every real old timer in this country now can remember the year the N Bar N broke up. The ranch headquarters that spring was undoubtedly the most populous place in the Panhandle. In addition to the 100 cowhands that expected to take the herds up the trail, there were a hundred more in the "sweaters" camp where the cowboys who hadn't landed a job were "sweatin' it out" until they learned definitely whether or not they would get a job.

Wright Was Cook.

And Charlie Wright, now living at Panhandle, was the cook for both cowhands and "sweaters" and for everybody else who came into camp, for the flower of fine, western hospitality was in full bloom at that time. Every cowboy who ever ate Charlie Wright's chuck still praises it. It has been told and truthfully that one morning Charlie moved his chuck wagon 15 miles and served delicious beans for dinner that he cooked that morning.

An average menu for breakfast included fried bacon, coffee, hugh sour-dough biscuits, fried corn, fried potatoes and cling peaches or apricots. Persons who were at the N Bar N at that time recall that one of the boys who went up the trail with a herd to Montana was a boy from Boston. His father had sent him west to make a man out of him; as so many fathers did at that time, including Theodore Roosevelt's father.

Now there were many college graduates among the cowboys on the ranch, but they did not flaunt their education before the lesser-learned dogie chasers. They, for the most part kept quiet about it, and in time they learned to ride and rope and become regular cowhands. The average cowhand was fun-loving, adventuresome, fearless, romantic, and sentimental. The youth from Boston who had been sent to the ranch by his father had a hard time of it. He talked too much at first.

The cowboys took his fine banjo and made a target out of it. They shot the drum full of holes. Then they had him all primed to ride the meanest bronc on the N Bar N but the man who knew that the boy might get killed put him wise. There were but few men on the N Bar N who could ride that horse. One time, pitching like an insane devil, he went right into a saloon taking his rider with him.

Poor Bostonian.

None of the herd foremen wanted the Bostonian in his crew. Ten cowboys took one herd up the trail and if one couldn't ride or rope it made it hard on the other nine. Finally orders came from the "old man" up in Colorado for the boy to go with a certain herd. The next day the foreman of that herd was overheard saying, 'Sure, I'm going to take him with me. The old man says so, and I'm going to take him along if I have to put a halter on him and lead him behind the chuck wagon."

There was another man at the N Bar N that spring who aroused the contempt of the cowboys but for different reasons than those which inspired the attitude toward the Bostonian. The other fellow was a seasoned cowboy. He arrived one day on a good horse that also carried a big roll of fine bedding. Now, it was a hard matter to bed everybody down what with 200 cowboys trying to find places to sleep and something to sleep on. There was a shortage of blankets, pillows, and quilts. The big fellow was oblivious to the needs of everyone except himself. Now if there was anything cowboys hated in those days it was selfishness, so they promptly began to make it miserable for the fellow who failed to share his luxurious bedding with the others, some of whom were glad to get one blanket.

Life Made Miserable.

There was one little fellow at the camp named Peeler. Well, Peeler was just the sort of a whimsical cowboy to make it miserable for a buddy who was selfish and reveled in his selfishness. Peeler and a pal took time about every night standing to make sure the fellow did not sleep a wink. As soon as he would doze off, down would come the covers; sometimes a cup of cold water would dash in his face. In any case, he was not allowed to sleep. If the victim had protested strenuously with fists or tongue, he would have had the whole N bar N on him.

One day, the foreman of the ranch was heard to say to the bedevilled puncher, "Why don't you take that Peeler out there and dip him in the tank; you could do it with one hand," but the cowhand was wise. He knew that if he laid hand on the little Peeler whose sleeves and pants cuffs were always too long and were turned up several times, that they'd practically drown him in the tank.

Another day, a colorless, sickly-looking man who looked as if he would drop dead the next minute and who seemed to have lived without pep for 10 years rode up to the camp. He looked like a man who was on his last legs, and would surely die in the spring. But he said he could ride. That made the cowboys snicker; in fact they chortled. They brought out the worst and meanest bronc on the ranch. Oh, he was a mean one; there wasn't a man on the N Bar N which had the best riders in the Panhandle, who could stay on that critter. The cowboys sort of 'repented when they saw the pallid, pale, thin cowboy really meant to try to ride the horse. Some tried to talk him out of it; some begged him not to. They started to hold the horse, but when the cowboy put his foot in the stirrup they saw a different creature. He was as live as an electric dynamo. He got on the horse by himself. As soon as he put his foot in the stirrup, most of the cowhands knew he was a great rider.

Strawberry Roan Stuff.

Well, that broncho gave a Strawberry Roan exhibition of sun-fishing and everything that goes with it; he bucked for 15 minutes without stopping but the cowboy kept his seat easily. He would ride the horse by the admiring cowboys who cheered him now. The next to the last time he came by, he told them to bring him his suitcase and set it on a post. The next time he grabbed it and said he was going to White Deer which he did, riding the terrible bronc.

For a while Charlie Wright had to cook for everybody, but later the general foreman sent various crews several miles out with a chuck wagon. The Boston boy went with one. Up to that time he hadn't learned to relish corn, potatoes, biscuits for breakfast. One day he came into headquarters after the mail and Charlie had cooked Boston baked beans. That was one thing the boy could go for, and he did . . . until he was gorged to his Adam's apple.

Cattle Got Bigger, Fatter.

As stated before, the N Bar N sent ten herds up the trail to Montana that season. Each herd comprised 2,250 cattle, ten cowboys and about eight horses. The route of the trail led to Lamar, Colo., Wyoming, and to Montana. Many people often wonder why they took herds over the trail from Texas to Montana; it is obvious that the herds that were taken over the trail to Kansas were to be shipped, because they were then no railroads to take cattle to Kansas, and the terminus of the Santa Fe was first Abilene, then Dodge City, Kans.

Well, the reason the herds were taken up the trail to Montana was because the Panhandle steers, even when several years old, would quickly grow much bigger and much fatter. The same went for horses From Montana the cattle, greatly increased in size, and in weight would be shipped by rail to Chicago.

J. S. Wynne, Panhandle pioneer, was at the N Bar N the year the ranch sent the 25,000 cattle up the trail to Montana. He had been married a short time, and Mrs. Wynne was living with him at the ranch.

MARKET BRIEFS

NEW YORK, April 18. (AP)—Securities markets titled downward again today as foreign and domestic developments apparently were less reassuring.

The rails, motor equipments and most other groups felt the pressure of trading sentiment that leaned toward the theory that it might be better to "run away and live to fight another day."

Losses of fractions to 2 or more points were general at the close, although support appeared for some categories in the final few minutes. Several new year's lows were recorded in the retreat.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was off .7 of a point.

PAMPA NURSE'S FATHER NOT RECOGNIZED BY FAMILY NEAR HEDLEY; ABSENT 23 YEARS

Some twenty-three years ago Bates Jones, a young man of near Hedley went West to seek his fortune He finally located at Phoenix, Arizona where he has resided for some time, and is recognized as a good citizen.

The hankering to come back and see his mother, sister and brother near Hedley recently became so strong that the trip was made. At night Bates Jones, his wife and daughter arrived at the Frank Jones farm north of Hedley. The usual alarm awoke Miss Montie Jones who asked the "stranger" what he wanted.

Hearing the conversation, Frank Jones got up and investigated after his sister had failed to recognize the visitor. Frank was just as positive as his sister that he had never seen "this" Bates Jones before. It was then that Mrs. S. M. Jones, the mother, came out to see "what it was all about."

"This man says he is Bates Jones," Frank told his mother, "but he does not look like him to me."

"Shine a light on him and I can tell if he is Bates Jones. I would know my own son anywhere," Mrs. Jones remarked. The light shining in the face of the stranger failed to convince her. "My son has a birth mark on the upper part of his left arm," Mrs. Jones said. At that the "stranger" smiled and bared his left arm.

This was enough and Bates Jones and his family were received with open arms. He was the son who had been gone 23 years. A visit of several days was made and old times recalled. Mr. Bates Jones also visited a daughter, a trained nurse in Pampa, while in this section. It turned out to be a most happy reunion of the family, but it took a birth mark to bridge over the ravages of 23 years that had made a big change in the appearance of the Arizona man.

Mrs. H. G. Hendricks of Amarillo, who was a program guest of El Progresso club Thursday, was a week-end guest in the home of Judge and Mrs. W. R. Ewing

Students Visit Kiwanis Meeting

Students from the Pampa high school home economics class visited the Kiwanis club Friday and modeled the dresses they made and will display at Austin in a state show.

A quartet composed of Jack Dunn, Bob Rose, Chic Hickman and Dude Balthrope sang several songs.

The Pampa club will send twenty-five members to Wellington next Friday night to meet with the Kiwanis club there. On April 27 they will put on a program before the Amarillo Kiwanis club.

Visitors other than the ones on the program included Kiwanians Bill Bronson, J. H. Duncan and F. L. Mize of LeFors, Kiwanians H. S. Kelly and T. W. Gilstrap of Amarillo and Bob McKenzie, Tom White and Rev. J. E. Kirby.

BEARS WHIP FROGS

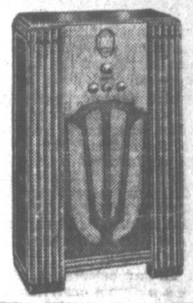

WACO, April 18. (AP)—The Baylor Bears defeated the T. C. U. Horned Frogs track team, 66 to 57, in a dual meet here today. The Bears took nine first places. Clifford of T. C. U. was high individual scorer with 16 points. Rex Clark, Frog speedster, scored 13 points and Cotton Kimbriel, Baylor's star hurdler, scored 10.

WE'D like to show you what this Buick owner meant when he coined that phrase about the Buick Special!

We'd like to take you out—over any route you care to name—and show you what it's like to ride behind the ablest straight-eight engine in the world!

We'd like to level out a few hills for you—iron a couple of bad roads smooth—let you sample the velvet softness of hydraulic brakes as Buick knows how to build them.

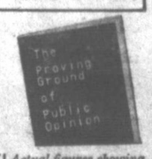

We'll take you through traffic, so that you may see how this nimble, thrifty, mile-eating beauty saves your time at every traffic light, takes the corners without weave or tire-squeal, slides through rush-hour snarls like a rabbit through the brush!

We'd like you to see how obedient a Buick is—how completely it puts control in your hands—how reassuring it is to ride in it at any pace!

After that, if you like, we'd like to prove that you can afford a Buick—how very little more it costs than the lowest priced automobiles.

"Power-packed and primed for action!"—our hat's off to the man who put the words together. Come take a ride in a Series 40 Buick Special and see if you can find a phrase that describes it better!

Steers Finally Trounce Frogs

FORT WORTH, April 18. (AP)—Dick Midkiff, University of Texas hurler, was no puzzle to the T. C. U. Horned Frogs here this afternoon but his mates had enough punch to save him from defeat. The Steers won 11-8 after two hours and 15 minutes.

The Frogs blasted out 17 hits, including four doubles, but the Steer defense was tight in the pinches. Texas got to Aubrey Linne for 13 hits but the visitors received much help from the purple which made four erorrs and pulled several other mistakes that couldn't be recorded. Only five Texas runs were earned.

Priebish and Westerman hit for the circuit for Texas.

BIRTHDAY

as its contribution to the celebration. The 69th coast artillery regiment from Galveston will camp Monday night under the stately liveoaks where General Houston and his men rested on the eve of the battle exactly 100 years before.

The high light of Tuesday's ceremonies will be a field mass attended by Catholic dignitaries from all sections of the nation. Their vestments will be embroidered with bluebonnets, the Texas flower which now is in full bloom. Archbishop Joseph F. Rummel of New Orleans will celebrate the mass and Bishop John J. Cantwell of Los Angeles will deliver the sermon.

The all-day celebration also will include a patriotic observance sponsored by the sons and daughters of the Texas republic at which Governor James V. Allred will be the principal speaker and the dedication of a monument to the pioneer Masons of Texas.

San Antonio's annual fiesta week celebration will open Monday, reaching its climax in the beautiful battle of flowers parade Friday.

Austin county, named for its foremost citizen of all time, Stephen F. Austin, "the father of Texas," will stage a three day observance beginning tomorrow. This event will be climaxed by an all-day festival Tuesday at San Felipe, site of Austin's first colony and the capitol of the colonies until independence was won.

The victory at San Jacinto did more than pave the way for the acquisition of Texas by the United States. As an indirect consequence, territory now forming all or part of the states of California, New Mexico, Arizona, Nevada, Colorado, Wyoming, Utah and Oklahoma was removed from the judisdiction of Mexico.

Mrs. Lee McConnell left Friday for Long Beach, Calif., where she will visit her mother.

BALDWIN

gained at Geneva to rebuild, if possible, her defenses with Great Britain and Italy against Germany.

Fran e's hope of regaining Mussolini's promise to fulfill Italy's pledges of aid under the Locarno treaty were said to lie in the possibility that Italy would take Addis Ababa and enthrone a new emperor of Ethiopia within the next three weeks—before France's parliamentary elections.

In such event it was considered likely that peace negotiations would permit the league to lift or at least to reduce partly the sanctions against Italy.

In the meantime France is making efforts to overcome the British "indulgence" toward Germany before the league considers the remilitarization of the Rhineland by Germany.

Fears permeated Paris, however, that Great Britain would refuse to join France in promoting league action against any Germany attack on Austria or Czechoslovakia or against Germany's possible fortification of the Rhineland.

In Berlin a foreign office spokesman said preparations to fortify the Rhineland were proceeding.

Berlin saw France's Italian policy weakening her case for dealing harshly with Germany for Hitler's denunciation of the Locarno pact.

The German foreign office spokesman declared: "Removing the sanctions against Italy would mean France could not advocte sanctions against us."

some phases of the social system.

The announcement of Hunter's candidacy follows:

"A lead horse that never presses the collar can't guide the string, and by that old saying I am reminded of young Governor Jimmie. As an economic leader Jimmie Allred is a social laugh—except to the old folks. To them he is a heartache.

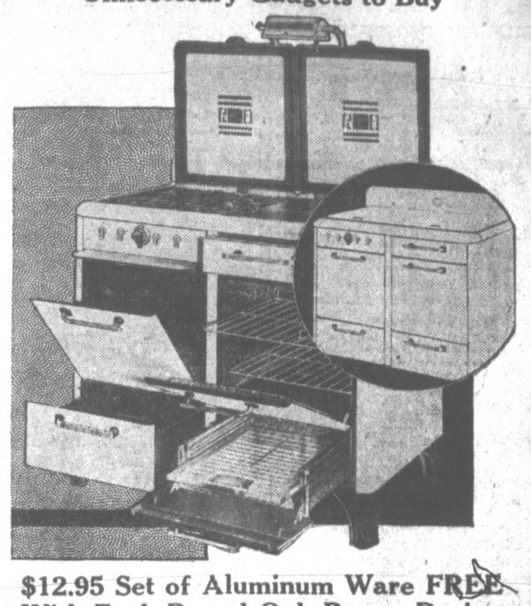

"This is not my opinion alone. Five weeks on the road checking sentiment from both those that supported me, and many who did not, conclusively shows that today the majority believes the election of Jaunty Jimmie was a mistake. It takes more than a personable young fellow forever off on some jaunt or other to guide the business of state government.

"It will be impossible for me to make a campaign with all the hoopla and tub thumping characteristic of the kind of circus maximus conducted by Jaunty Jimmie and his troupe. I have no such source of money, but neither have I any "obligations" to hamstring me or cramp my style in doing—so far as in my ability—the most good for the greatest number. And I shall insist that it is the governor's obligation to be a governor at the seat of government, not a glorified drum major leading a tournament of roses.

"An executive in Austin only two days or so a week is only a week-end governor—and pretty weak at that. He can hardly be expected to know what it is all about. The first office of Texas entails constantly weighty duties and one should be on the job in person for a study and a performance of those duties. As governor I will stay in the state and on the job except when duties require my service elsewhere. I shall be generous and divide honors when ribbons are to be cut at bridge openings, school parades are to be led, and when some of our thousands of beautiful queens are to be crowned. I will not be a galloping, gallivanting governor.

A. J. "Skeet" Johnson of Electra is a week-end visitors in Pampa.

FAST FREEZING
LOW COSTS

The past ten years have been crowded with the history of electric refrigeration progress. Improvement has followed improvement—temperature controls, direct expansion, better insulation, constantly refined mechanisms, and new refrigerants. There is really little basis for comparison between the old and the new electric refrigerators except that both the new and the old give a good account of themselves when it comes to fast freezing and below 50 degree food compartment temperatures.

From the customer's viewpoint most all of this remarkable progress in electric refrigeration has resolved itself into lower costs. The price or first cost has been just about cut in half, which greatly reduces interest charges and depreciation. The new units are much better so that service costs are now almost negligible. Year after year operating costs have been constantly reduced so that electric refrigerators have never been so good or so economical as they are in 1936.

DISTRICT P-TA CONFERENCE WILL OPEN HERE WEDNESDAY

El Progresso Club Presents Artist And Her Paintings

GUEST DAY IS OCCASION FOR THE PROGRAM

MRS. HENDRICKS TALKS OF PICTURES AND MODERN ART

By WILLETTE COLE WILLIAMS

Mrs. H. G. Hendricks, Amarillo artist who has been listed since 1929 in "Who's Who, Artists of America," showed twenty-four paintings here Thursday, and spoke informally to members of El Progresso and their guests at the club's annual open program and tea.

Responding to many requests, Mrs. Hendricks arranged Friday to have her exhibit remain in Pampa for a week. The pictures are on display in the windows of the Texas Furniture store, where local art lovers and visitors to the Parent-Teacher conference here next week are invited to see them.

In her discussion, which was the feature of the El Progresso program, Mrs. Hendricks outlined briefly the progress of creative art thru the ages and remarked upon the influence of the various cultures. Founders and forerunners of the various styles and schools of painting and sculpture were, in every instance, she said, rebels against the accepted modes of their day, and, with few exceptions were scorned or neglected in their own times. Such artists she termed "moderns," regardless of their century, and regardless of theeir twentieth century status as Old Masters.

Tolerance For Moderns

On the basis of past history, Mrs. Hendricks recommended tolerance in looking at contemporary art and its sometimes startling innovations. She suggested, at the same time, that each person hang in his home only those paintings that hold a lasting appeal for his own imagination and emotions.

Appreciation for art, according to Mrs. Hendrick's own definition, is dependent upon a capacity for emotion, while mastery in any art is relative to the ability to evoke emotion.

At request, the artist gave the inspiration and locale of each of the paintings in the exhibit. She said little of her own technique, but explained that she painted with a view to producing pictures that could be effectively displayed in small and average sized rooms. She admitted, however, that she enjoyed "throwing a pot of paint" at the canvas to achieve an effect that can be startlingly good when given proper distance and light.

Has Two Careers

Mrs. Hendricks, wife of a widely knows former judge of the court civil appeals and district court, at Amarillo, has achieved her artistic successes largely after many busy years devoted primarily to the careers of her husband, two daughters, and the son, Harrison Hendricks, who has followed in his mother's footsteps as a painter of distinction.

Mrs. Hendricks is a vice-president of the Texas Fine Arts League, which has headquarters at Austin; president of the Amarillo Art association; member of the American Federation of Arts, Washington, D. C.; member and exhibitor of the Southern States Art League; and member of the Plains Historical Art society, with headquarters at Lubbock.

She has served eight years as superintendent of the fine arts department of the Tri-State fair, and throughout her long residence in the Panhandle, she has lent support to movements for the encouragement of creative effort and appreciation of the arts.

Studies Widely

A native of California, Mrs. Hendricks studied in her youth at the San Francisco Art Institute and in the National Academy of Design in New York. Among the eminent painters with whom she worked then or in more recent years were Ernest Lawson, N. A., Randel Ravey, Mon. Campion, Gerald Cassidy, Jose Arpa, Adele Brunet. Much of her time during the last several seasons has been spent in the art colonies at Santa Fe and Taos, N. M., and Broadmoor Academy, Colorado Springs. She traveled last summer in Mexico, and plans to make another trip through that colorful country.

Among the paintings in the local exhibit were two which the Southern States Art League has selected for showing. One was a colorful study of asters which received honorable mention when it was hung last spring at the Pantheon in Nashville. The other was a striking canvas of the oft painted Taos pueblo, one of the artists's most popular paintings wherever shown.

Landscapes Numerous

Landscapes were predominent in the exhibit, and wide variety of views was shown. Two portraits only were included, and a half dozen studies of flowers. Each group showed a facility of expression, and

DANCERS FROM WIDE AREA AT PIONEER BALL

Old Time Costumes And Dances Take Prizes

That old fashioned social note, "a good time was had by all" summarizes the pioneer ball held at high school gymnasium Friday evening. A large crowd enjoyed the dancing throughout the evening.

Prizes were awarded for the best dancers and the best old time costumes. Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Heiskell were judged the best all-round dancers.

Mrs. Si Johnson of Clarendon and B. G. Harris received the prizes in square dancing, Mrs. Roy Sewell and Frank McAfee of Miami in the waltz, Mrs. Leo Paris of Miami and Clayter Mathews of Stinnett in the polka, Mrs. Katie Vincent and Mr. Elkins in the new shoes, Mrs. Lillian Treece and Floyd Hoffman in the schottishe.

Mrs. L. J. Thomas wore the oldest costume, 75 years old. Mrs. Treece took the prize for the most authentic costume.

Dancers and visitors from nearby towns came for the ball which was arranged and sponsored by the Pampa Centennial committee.

Aid to Crippled Children Given From Seal Sale

Sale of seals by the Texas Society for Crippled Children starts this week, in charge of the Women's Auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. Mrs. H. W. Waddell, president, is directing members in the sales campaign.

Annually these seals are sold for a penny each by the society, the money going to the help of Texas' crippled children who otherwise would be without aid. Hundreds of children throughout the state, including some from Gray county, are aided each year by this fund.

Gov. James V. Allred proclaimed a "crippled children't month" this spring to call to the attention of all Texans the needs of many children. He has urged the cooperation of every citizen in helping to offer financial support for rehabilitation of crippled children.

The program of aid is conducted by the crippled children's division of the state department of education and the Texas Society for Crippled Children. A representative of the society was in the city last week, arranging for sale of the seals.

WELFARE HEAD FOR STATE TO ADDRESS BODY

COUNTY BOARD WILL HEAR STATE CHILD BUREAU HEAD

Mrs. Violet Greenhill, state head of child welfare, will be a guest of the Gray County Child Welfare board when it meets Tuesday evening at 7:30 in the county courtroom.

Full attendance of board members from all towns in the county is asked by Mrs. W. R. Ewing, chairman. Problems which have been presented to the board in recent weeks will be discussed with Mrs. Greenhill. Anyone who wishes to bring a case to the board's attention should notify a member before the meeting.

Anyone wishing to hear Mrs. Greenhill's talk is invited to attend the meeting.

FOUNDERS DAY LUNCH HELD BY GROOM WOMEN

Fifteen Years' Work In Community Honored

GROOM, April 18.—The Community Improvement club of Groom celebrated the fifteenth anniversary of its founding with a flower and crystal luncheon last Saturday, at the Groom high school building.

Spring flowers of every color graced the tables and the hall. Texas stars and flags suggested the Centennial idea in the decorations, while the tables bearing pink and white covers and the rose crystal service carried out the club colors.

Favors were tiny crystal holders bearing pink candles, and the programs were outlines of Texas with hand-tinted folders made by a high school art class under the direction of Mrs. Kenneth Kendrick.

Presidents Honored

Mrs. T. V. Reeves of Canyon was the guest speaker. Past presidents of the Community club who appeared on the program with reviews of their administrations were Mrs. A. E. Angel, Mrs. P. E. Johnson, Mrs. C. L. Ledwig, Mrs. T. G. Fields, and Mrs. C. R. Slay. Mrs. J. E. Wagoner, president of the club for the past two years, gave a report of her administration and then sang two nunfbers. She was accompanied by Mrs. Paul Townsend.

Mrs. W. W. Brunais gave a tribute in honor of Mrs. A. L. Smith, deceased, second president of the club, and Mrs. P. G. Gill appeared on the program as a representative of Mrs. Hulon Collier's administratoin. Mrs. I. C. Unsell gave a tribute in honor of departed members, and Mrs. Lee Butler of Amarillo pronounced the benediction. A corsage was presented to each woman appearing on the program. Mrs Morris Knorpp was toastmistress.

Former Members Return

Former members who spoke briefly were Mrs. Lee Butler, Mrs. R. D. Leeper, Mrs. Jack Little, and Mrs. Lindsey Davis, of Amarillo, Mrs. J. H. Marshall of Pampa, Mrs. Walter Davis of Shamrock, Mrs. H. B. Skelton of Claude, Mrs. C. B. Chunn of White Deer, and Mrs. Van Earl Steed of Waka.

While Mrs. Townsend played "Have You Ever Been to Texas in the Spring?" bluebonnets were passed to all present by Peggy Beth Smith and Laurel Knorpp.

Many Attend Lunch

Those seated for the luncheon were: Mrs. T. V. Reeves and Miss Linnie Babston of Canyon, and Mesdames J. E. Wagoner, Perry Johnson, J. H. Marshall, Geo. Eschle, Jim Wall, V. E. Steed, T. E. Latta, C. L. Culver, Ben Shockley, G. C. Whatley, P. G. Gill, Walter Crowell.

THREE DAYS' BUSINESS TO BE VARIED WITH ENTERTAINMENT PLANNED BY PAMPA HOSTESSES

CHURCH WILL START SECOND REVIVAL WEEK

Sermons and Music At McCullough Announced

The second week of a revival at McCullough Methodist church starts today. The Rev. J. E. Kirby of Wheeler will preach at both morning and evening services. Members of Harrah Chapel will also attend these services, after the Sunday school hour at their church.

Special music has been arranged for meetings today and next week. This morning little Miss Hastings will play a violin solo. This evening R. B. Fisher will sing a solo, The Holy City. The high school male quartet is to be heard tomorrow evening singing negro spirituals.

Some subjects announced for next week by the evangelist are: How to Become Sons of God, Life and How to Find It, The Guest at the Open Door, This Man Built Upon Rock, Reconditioning for Life, Moral Leprosy.

The Rev. Lance Webb, minister, is assisting with the services and directing music. He will fill Mr. Kirby's pulpit at Wheeler today.

P-TA Delegates Are Named From Woodrow Wilson

Delegates elected recently from Woodrow Wilson Parent-Teacher to the district conference here next week are Mmes. Earl Powell, L. T. McCarty, Jewel Shackelford, E. A. Shackelton, Bob McCoy, S. Taylor, George Cotton, Ray Summerville, Raeburn Thompson, T. F. Morton, Roy McMillen, J. R. Beacom, J. E. Kirchman, Bob Chafin, Tom Duvall, W. B. Murphy, W. A. Breining, and Pete Post.

Any of this group who will be unable to serve is asked to notify Mrs. Frank Shotwell, president, so an alternate can be named. Delegates are reminded that each must present her membership card for credentials.

Night Service to Replace Vespers

The Vesper services at the First Presbyterian church have been discontinued and tonight the services will be held at 8 p. m. The Christian Endeavor will meet at the same time as the night service, instead of the vesper hour The service tonight will be on "The Cross," using a lighted cross and hymns on "The Cross". The public is most cordially invited to this night service.

MRS. EWING SPEAKS

Mrs. W. R. Ewing went to Mobeetie yesterday morning as a guest of the district Homemaking club meeting, which was in session there all day. Mrs. Ewing spoke on Pioneer History of the Panhandle, one of the feature talks on the morning program.

RADIO BROADCAST IS RECENT ADDITION TO PROGRAM

Entertainment of about 400 delegates and visitors expected for the annual conference of eighth district Parent-Teacher associations here next week is the most important consideration of Pampa women at present. Not only members of the local associations, who total more than 1,000, but all women of the city are interested.

The conference will start Wednesday morning. Registration is to begin at 9:30 in the First Methodist church, where all regular sessions will be conducted. Credentials will be approved, homes will be assigned, and exhibits from the various associations will be studied in the morning.

A pre-conference meeting of the district board of managers is scheduled for 10 o'clock, and the annual board luncheon at 12. Gray County Parent-Teacher council will give this luncheon.

Starts After Lunch

The conference will actually get under way at 1:30, with Mrs. J. E. Griggs of Amarillo, district president, presiding. A morning and an afternoon business session will follow Thursday, and a morning session Friday.

Most recent program arrangements are for a radio broadcast from station KPDN, tentatively set for 1:45 to 2:15 Thursday afternoon. Mrs. H. K. Godeke of Amarillo and Mrs. A. Y. Troutman of San Antonio will each speak five minutes; Mrs. Griggs will be introduced, and pupils from some Pampa schools will furnish musical numbers.

Social events of the conference include luncheons, a banquet, tea, and a drive through the oil fields. All delegates will be guests for the Thursday luncheon, given by the Board of City Development and the county Home Demonstration club council; and at the tea Thursday afternoon, at which the Council of Women's clubs will be hostesses at city club room.

Tea Plans Announced

Mrs. S. A. Hurst, chairman of arrangements for the tea, announces that it will be in Dutch theme. Hostesses, the presidents of clubs in the council, will be in Dutch costume as will the high school orchestra directed by Winston Savage, which will play through the afternoon.

Mrs. Clyde Gold is in charge of refreshments, and Mmes. Arthur Teed, George Walstad, B. C. Fahy, and Gilmore Nunn of decorations.

The Thursday luncheon and the banquet will be open to the public, if any reservations are available after delegates secure their tickets. The luncheon Friday, which closes the conference, will honor retiring officers and the new officers to be elected for next year.

J. C. C. Sponsors Tours

The ride through the oil fields will follow the first business meeting Wednesday. It is sponsored by the Junior chamber of commerce.

Pampans are invited to the conference sessions, to hear the speakers and the entertainment numbers which will feature music from local schools and clubs. They are also asked to open their homes to conference visitors, some of whom will spend the two nights here, and others who will be here only for certain programs. Mrs. C. P. Buckler is head of the committee to assign homes for the delegates.

TRAVEL PROGRAM OF PIONEER CLUB PRESENTED AT McLEAN

McLEAN, April 18.—With Mrs. Willie Boyett as hostess and Mrs. W. E. Bogan as leader ,members of the Pioneer Study club met in the parlors of the Methodist church Thursday for an interesting program on Egypt and the Holy Land.

In introducing her audience to historic places and famous personages, Mrs. Bogan led an imaginary tour along the Nile, first by boat and then by airplane, pausing while Mrs. Claud Brooks acted as guide and members viewed the Great Pyramids, and Mrs. Roger Powers related the romantic story of Cleopatra.

As the party landed in Macaerus, Mrs. John Harris explained that this was the spot where Salome danced before King Herod to be rewarded with the head of John the Baptist.

Special features of the afternoon were piano solos by little Patsy O'Roarke and Jimmie Batson, young music pupils of Mrs. Boyett.

Present for the lovely refreshment plate following the program were Mmes. O'Roarke, Ed Dishman, Bogan, Claude Brooks, H. W. Brooks, J. W. Butler, S. A. Cousins, C. A. cryer, Ercy Cubine, Thurman Adkins, Jim Sharp, D. A. Davis, H. W. Finley, John Harris, J. B. Hembree T. A. Massey, Roger Powers, Creed Bogan, Jim Back, and the program guests.

To Home Ec. Meet

Miss Alyne Mallow will accompany winning students from her high school sewing and cooking classes to San Angelo Wednesday for the state home economics meet.

From the first year classes, Leta Mae Phillips will attend as winner in a sewing contest held in December, and Jesse Mae Lynch as winner from the cooking class.

Dorothy Sitter, president of the Home Economics club, will go as club representative. The winner in the sewing department of the second year class is Norma Lee Rickard, and Leona Humphreys won in the cooking contests.

Students to Pampa

Principal A. R. McHaney, Mrs. Sam McClellan, and Mrs. Amos Thacker accompanied the ward school volley ball team to Pampa Thursday where the girls lost by two points to Borger in the district interscholastic league meet.

Girls making the trip were Floy Holt, Fabrice Galloway, Cleo Ledbetter, Gwendolyn Koen, Gloria Moon, Opal Thacker, Opal Tedder, and Bernice McClellan.

Coach Allen drove over with his tennis players. Marie Landers and Mavis Brewer lost to Magic City in girls' doubles, and the boys, J. D. Back and James Emmett Cooke, advanced to the semi-finals by defeating Clarendon and Perryton.

Residents Return

Several former McLean residents have returned to the old home town after absences, much to the pleasure of their friends here. Among these are Mr. and Mrs. Finn Bourland, who recently returned from a residence at Hamilton; Mr. and Mrs. Ed Dishman, who for the past year have lived at Clarendon; Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Bourland, who have returned from Happy.

Miss Gray Hostess

Thelma Jo Gray was hostess to the Home Ec club Thursday evening when an informal program was enjoyed. Refreshments were served to Jesse Mae Lynch, Dorothy Sitter, Molita Thurman, Naomi Gunn, Mable Back, Mildred Bonine, Wilda Joyce McMullin, Leta Mae Phillips, Shirley Johnson, Ermadel Floyd, Willie Louelle Cobb, Georgia Colebank, Morma Lee Richard, and Miss Alyne Mallow.

H. D. Club Bakes

"Use fresh cream of tarter in making angel food cake," said Miss Ruby Adams, county home demonstration agent at the home of Mrs. Claud Hunt in a recent meeting. Cream of tarter is an acid and is used to toughen the delicate cells of the egg white, she explained, so use of too much, or of a stale product will not produce the best results.

After the demonstration, a white cake made by Mrs. J. A. Fowler was served by Miss Adams, and a business session was conducted.

Those attending were Mmes. John B. Vannoy, J. A. Fowler, Sam Sharp J. H. Wade, Palestine Gilling, E. L. Rigdon, Walter Smith, Misses Relia Sharp and Adams.

EDITORIAL

A RIGHTEOUS SOCIAL ORDER: Nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more. But they shall sit every man under his vine and under his fig tree; and none shall make them afraid; for the mouth of the Lord of hosts hath spoken it.—Micah 4:3, 4.

A More Humane Order

Science and the people are not as calloused as is sometimes believed.

While economic hazards persist, many of the other menaces to human health and happiness have been removed in recent years. For instance, there has been steady elimination of the principal causes of vision impairment. Means of safeguarding eyes of infants at birth, of conserving sight of school children, and of protecting eyes of industrial workers are becoming generally known. We now know what harms sight in modern life. We are prepared to combat it. We have instruments to measure light in terms of foot candle power. We have marvelous surgeons who are called upon by royalty. Making and fitting of spectacles is more and more an exact science.

And through out civic clubs, generous individuals, and such organizations as the Texas Society for Crippled Children, we are rebuilding broken and distorted bodies. Two thousand years ago, Aristotle urged that the physically handicapped be not permitted to live. One thousand years ago, cripples were thought to be bedeviled. Fire hundred years ago, cripples were ostracized, their lives made miserable. One hundred years ago, the physically handicapped were tolerated but neglected.

Today society is much concerned with rebuilding and preserving human life. A physically handicapped man is President of the United States. Every year more and better laws are made in behalf of unfortunates.

We are learning to live by such philosophies as these: "Insasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these, you have done it unto me."

And—

"There is but one virtue; to help human beings to a free and beautiful life; but one sin; to do them indifferent, cruel hurt; the love of humanity is the whole of morality. This is goodness, this is humanism, this is the social conscience."—J. William Lloyd.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON.—"Bigness" in agriculture is still far from a possibility of comparison with "bigness" in industry. The trend, however, is in that direction.

Revelation of huge benefit checks paid by AAA called attention to the growth of corporate farming and large farm land holdings. It was also shown that both the number and total of such payments were quite small in comparison with the number and total of all payments.

The story makes good political propaganda, but Secretary Henry A. Wallace has asked critics how they would limit production without co-operation of the large farms.

Information as to the concentration of farm holdings is limited. In a northeastern area of 22 states, reaching as far west and south as Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri, Kentucky, and Virginia, it was found that from 1930 to 1935 the number of farms operated by full owners had increased 12 per cent, while those operated by tenants increased 20 per cent.

Percentage of total farms occupied by tenants increased less than 2 per cent. There were fewer manager-operated farms and the total number of these is less than 1 per cent, but the average acreage of this type of farm increased 12.5 per cent while the average acreage of all farms was declining 6.6 per cent. Yet manager-operated holdings as a whole declined 8 per cent.

Department of Agriculture economists consequently like to point out that there has been no real change since 1929 in a situation which then found that 19 per cent of retail trade was in automobiles and related sales and 22 per cent in food, but that 92 per cent of the automobile industry was in the hands of three boards of directors, while the production of food was spread among 6,000,000 farmers.

Perhaps the last piece of legislation to be introduced by Senator Edward P. Costigan of Colorado, who has just announced that he will not run for re-election because of failing health, is a sugar bill bearing his name which is remarkable for its provisions for laborers in the cane and beet fields.

Few if any measures passed by Congress have ever been so comprehensive in covering agricultural or other labor.

The bill is designed to remove legal doubt as to AAA's sugar quotas by writing quotas into the bill instead of leaving them to executive discretion and to supplement Soil Conservation payments of about 12½ cents a hundred pounds by an additional maximum of 37½ cents.

Payments would be conditional on maximum working hours and minimum wages to be set by the secretary of agriculture, no employment of children under 14, an eight-hour day for children between 14 and 16 and the growing of enough cane or beet to meet allotments, but not exceed them, in order to have a continuous supply of sugar at prices "fair to producers and consumers."

Settlement with laborers must be made before payments are received and labor disputes would have to be submitted to the secretary. These provisions apply for Puerto Rico, Hawaii, and continental United States.

"Jimmy Braddock is working out on the dock." After the Louis fight, however, the doc may be working out on Jimmy.

That new song, "I'm Going to Sit Down and Write Myself a Letter," suggests one way to foil the Black investigating committee.

A resident of Bombay was found guilty of biting off the end of a woman's nose. Still, how could he have known about that bump in the road?

Seven minutes after a Californian was thought dead, internes saw his finger twitch. He was probably permitted to go back on the PWA job.

Now that science has developed a glass as elastic as rubber, it will be possible for people who live in stone houses to throw glasses.

The New Deal is being panned, it seems, for both its "economy of scarcity" and "scarcity of economy."

OIL NEWS -- From Panhandle and Other Southwest Fields

NINE WELLS COMPLETED IN PLAINS AREA

TWO GASSERS AMONG NEW PANHANDLE PRODUCERS

Seven oil wells and two gas wells were tested by Railroad commission employes in the Panhandle field during the last week.

The oil wells were good for 4,597 barrels daily, all in proved areas.

In Wheeler county, Camplin Refining company completed No. 1 Binkley, section 35, block 24, H&GN survey, for 10,462,000 cubic feet with 195 pounds rock pressure.

In Carson county, Hagy-Harrington-Marsh No. 1 N. A. Cobb was completed for 40,079,000 cubic feet of gas daily with 260 pounds rock pressure.

Proration continued in an unsettled condition because of inequities resulting from the decision of Phillips Petroleum company to reduce its purchase in order that it might withdraw from "excess storage."

Railroad commission tests for the last week were as follows:

Hutchinson County.

Turman Oil company No. 1-B Whittenburg, section 19, V. Jameson survey, tested 308 barrels daily. Total depth was 2,836 feet in lime. Pay was from 2,780-2,835 feet.

Texas company No. 10 Lewis, section 7, block 25, BS&F survey, tested 788 barrels daily. Total depth was 3,006 feet in lime. Pay at 2,830 to 3,006 feet was shot with 450 quarts.

Stanolind Oil & Gas company No. 5-B Pitcher section 19, block M-21, TC&RR survey, tested 482 barrels daily. Total depth was 3,160 feet in lime, with pay from 3,073-3,122 feet.

Gray County.

Gulf Oil corporation No. 2 E. G. Barrett, section 128, block 3, I&GN survey, tested 868 barrels daily. Total depth was 3,302 feet in lime. Pay was from 3,223 feet to 3,302 feet.

British-American Oil company No. 7 Alex Smith, section 138, block 3, I&GN survey, tested 822 barrels daily. Total depth was 3,232 feet in lime, and pay from 3,159-3,231 feet.

Carson County.

Empire Oil & Refining company No. 2-D Magnolia, section 109, block 4, I&GN survey, tested 716 barrels daily. Total depth was 3,031 feet in lime, with main pay from 2,938-3,026 feet.

Wheeler County.

Texas company No. 16 P. M. Keller, section 48, block 24, H&GN survey, tested 713 barrels daily. Total depth was 2,525 feet in granite wash. Pays were at 2,395-2,400 and 2,475-2,523 feet.

AMENDMENT TO A FAMOUS LINE

GENERAL OIL OUTLOOK IS NOT ONE TO CAUSE FEARS

States Cooperate Well in Observing By Allocations Made to Them.

In a report of Chas. F. Roeser, president of the Independent Petroleum Association of America, Russell B. Brown, general counsel, has written as follows:

"Many inquiries are made as to why there has not been an increase in the price of crude. We here cannot answer that question. It is pointed out that the demand for petroleum and its products is now at a new high; that production by the various states is held within reasonable expectancy; that no state is greatly exceeding the allowable suggested to maintain the balance; that crude storage is at the lowest point in recent history; that imports although in excess of the expected level compared with 1932 are taken into consideration in determining the suggested total allowable.

"There appears no immediate threat of a breakdown of supply restrictions sufficient to warrant any real concern.

"The states which are in the oil compact are doing their duty. The states which are outside the compact are showing a disposition to go along, accepting the allocations just as the compact states are doing. There is a question whether this will continue if the expected price increase is not realized. The question is also raised as to whether the states would be justified in continuing to accept this restriction if the price does not soon increase.

"While some are worrying over the increase in refinery runs, the fact that these increases are caused by those who are also the purchasers of crude suggests that those responsible for the situation are not greatly disturbed by it.

"The situation with regard to Rodessa seems to have created considerable disturbance and concern. We have very reason to believe the situation was clearing up satisfactorily when along came the information of an increased allowable granted to one company. This aroused the entire industry. Fortunately the timely action on the part of the officials in charge has brought new assurance to all concerned. Action by a federal tender board would not have met this situation. Where excess production is in accordance with state law, the tender board has no authority since it can only act where oil is produced in violation of a state law or regulations under such law.

'An absolute embargo on all imports of petroleum and its products will be urged upon the House Ways and Means committee by the International Association of Oil Field, Gas Well, and Refinery Workers, according to a statement made by President Harvey Fremming of that organization who says: "If we cannot secure complete embargo we will accept the Lisney bill as a beginning, but we want to make it clear that we demand absolute embargo and nothing less will be satisfactory." The arguments which may be used by the labor organization and the method which may be employed is suggested in the following portion of Mr. Fremming's remarks:

"'Paying pitiful wages in Venezuela and Colombia, these great oil companies are selling their imported product from American pumps at filling stations for the same price they get for domestic production, taking by that means another huge gouge out of the American public. The companies are winning from two directions, while the American people lose from every direction. Big business is simply up to its old game and we are asking Congress to put a stop to the game.'

"Congressman Patrick J. Boland of Pennsylvania, who was unsuccessful in his attempt to persuade the House Ways and Means committee to incorporate in the new tax bill a sales tax on fuel oil, has introduced H. R. 12161, providing for a tax of one cent per gallon on fuel oil to be paid by the seller. The second section of Congressman Boland's bill also provides for increasing the excise taxes on imported crude petroleum and fuel oil derived from petroleum from one-half cent per gallon to 1½ cents per gallon, but also contains the following provision: 'The rate prescribed in this section shall not apply to crude petroleum imported for refining purposes.' Since the intent of Congressman Boland's bill is to so increase the price of fuel oil that it will be handicapped in its competition with coal in the cheaper fuel markets, it is difficult to understand why this measure exempts from this tax crude petroleum imported for refining purposes since the fuel which might constitute the residue from refining processes would have a greater advantage over coal than is possessed by imported fuel oil paying the one-half cent per gallon excise tax."

QUESTIONS THAT ARE ASKED ABOUT BANKING

"What is meant by a Bank's capital and surplus?"

The "capital" of a bank is the amount of money the stockholders have invested as owners of the bank. The Federal and State governments have minimum capital, and frequently subscribed surplus, requirements that must be met before a bank charter is issued.

In addition, the "surplus" of a bank is built up, usually out of earnings set aside to increase the protection of depositors. In addition, there are reserves for meeting known liabilities or guarding against contingencies.

The capital, surplus and undivided profits constitute an element of protection to a bank's depositors which supplements its policies of sound, honest management in safeguarding the funds entrusted to its care and applying them in useful loans and investments.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, April 18. (AP)—Indications of rapid increase of irreparable crop damage southwest and west, together with European political developments construed as ominous, swept wheat 2½ cents upward today.

Wheat closed strong, at virtually the day's top prices, 1⅝-2½ cents above yesterday's finish, May $1.01⅛-⅝, July 93⅞-94, corn 1⅜-1⅝ up, May 63½-⅝, oats ¼-⅜ advanced, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 17 cents.

STANDARD'S AGREEMENT WITH HAILE SELASSIE IS REVEALED IN COLLIER'S

Walter Teagle Denies That Big Sum Was Paid For Concessions in Country.

NEW YORK, April 18.—Actual terms of the famous oil agreement between Standard-Vacuum and Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia, which raised an international furore in the early days of the Italo-Ethiopian war, were revealed for the first time today by Walter C. Teagle, president of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey.

Describing the whole incident, which had the capitals of the world on tenterhooks, as a tempest in a teapot, Mr. Teagle denied that 50 million dollars, or any other sum, was to be paid to the emperor for the Standard-Vacuum concession. Writing in Collier's, he gives a full report of the negotiations leading up to the contract, which finally was cancelled at the request of the state department.

Several times in years past, Mr. Teagle writes, the oil company had sent its geologists to look over Ethiopia, so far as they could, with the natural obstacles in the way, and the territory was "in the future book."

"About a year ago they looked into the situation and thought they might obtain a concession," he explains. "They engaged an English agent, because of his previous experience in similar work, to trade with Haile Selassie. Since fantastic stories have been published that this concession involved a commitment of $50,000,000, I might as well tell the actual terms.

"Not a nickel was to be paid to the emperor; the arrangement followed the general lines of a lease in the United States. If production were obtained within five years, Ethiopia would have received the customary royalty. Standard-Vacuum executives advanced their negotiator $25,000 for expenses and agreed to pay him another $25,000, if he brought back the concession. He got what he wanted, but as Italy and Ethiopia were coming to grips, no further steps were contemplated until peace should be restored."

But news of the lease was prematurely published, Mr. Teagle said, in such a way as to make it appear that the United States might become involved in the Italo-Ethiopian dispute, and the state department accepted the oil company's offer to cancel.

"Had the story not been published," he added, "the situation as regards Italy, Ethiopia, and the United States would be today what it is, but Standard-Vacuum would hold the right to go into Ethiopia when peace is restored and carry through its plan for exploration. No work would have been attempted in the meantime, and no money nor credit would have been advanced."

In referring to the current conflict in Africa, Mr. Teagle said that "it may surprise you to be told that war is injurious rather than beneficial to the oil industry." He added that that is "probably true of any business, the steady growth of which is disrupted to an extent that is not compensated by the temporary forced consumption due to the war."

"Some sellers who appear only when the regular suppliers are out of the market may have been money selling oil to Italy," he said, "but the American companies which were in the foreign business before the Italo-Ethiopian war have lost out. Our Italian subsidiary imported in 1934, from all sources including the United States, 4,908,000 barrels. In 1935, with all the extraordinary demands for fueling the troopships, tanks, lorries and airplanes, their receipts were actually less than in the previous year."

Mr. Teagle expressed strongly his opposition to policy of isolation.

"The air is full of talk of preparation for another war," he said. "There is unfortunately, nothing like so much thought being given to the maintenance of peace. The venture into the realm of extreme nationalism, or autonomy, has failed utterly either to preserve peace or promote prosperity. It has worked in the wrong direction.

"I firmly believe that the best preventive of international conflict is greater freedom for international trade. For trade rests on understanding. It endures so long as buyers and sellers deal with each other in good faith.

"Perhaps the time is here to remove the artificial barriers, agree on a basis for an international medium of exchange and again enable the peoples of the world to trade freely with one another. I should like to see it tried."

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, April 18. (AP)—Active buying developed on the cotton market today and prices moved ahead from 5 to 8 points, closing very steady within a point or so of the best levels of the day.

Unfavorable, a tight spot situation, and further delays in starting the supply of loan cotton to market were the main reasons behind the advance.

The spot month ended at 11.39 today. July closed at 11.07, Oct. at 10.43 and Dec. at 10.45. In the spot market at New Orleans, middle gained 7 points to 11.62 oon sales of 212 bales.

GREAT FIELD IN EAST TEXAS TO BE SEEN

CENTENNIAL VISITORS TO BE FURNISHED GUIDES

KILGORE, April 18.—Texas Centennial visitors will have an opportunity to tour the great East Texas oil field which surrounds Kilgore, according to plans now being made in this city which is one of the Texas Centennial celebration cities. A Centennial pageant is to be given in Kilgore on April 21.

The chamber of commerce has announced it will furnish without cost a guide for persons who desire to see the oil belt.

An idea of the size of Texas' greatest oil field was given in a story published recently by the Kilgore Daily News, part of which is reproduced here.

"The 19,538 wells in the field have an hourly potential production of 14,725,450 barrels of oil or they can produce 353,410,800 barrels a day.

"Based on current market demand as estimated by the Bureau of Mines, the East Texas field is capable of producing enough oil in one day to supply the nation for 13 days and 19 hours, or enough to supply Texas' needs for approximately 28 days.

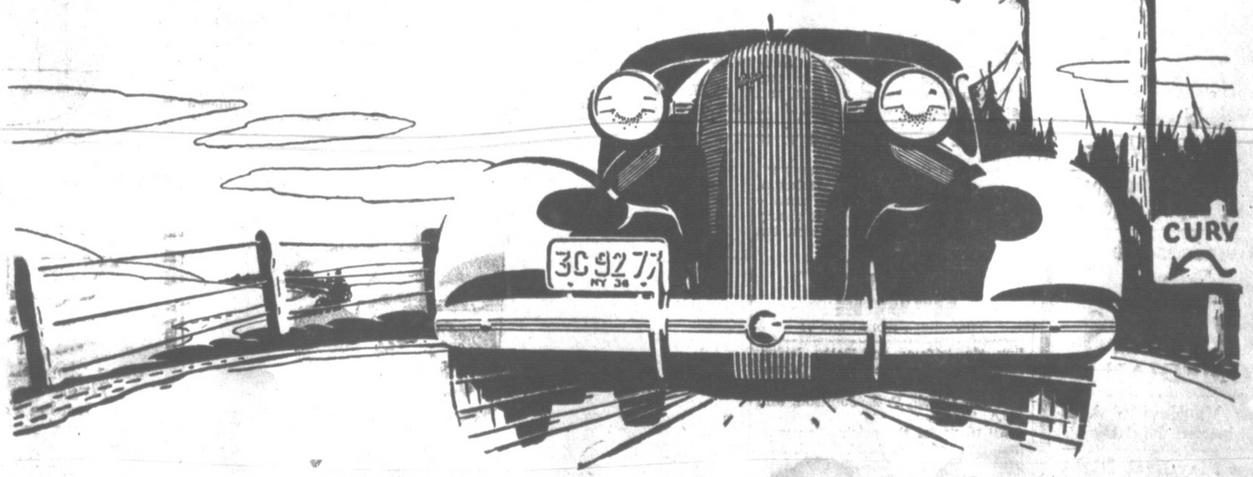

"In ten and a half minutes, the East Texas field can produce enough crude to supply the United States for a day. Based on the world output of 1,008,500,000 barrels in 1935, East Texas could flow nearly three times as much oil in a year as the world needs. The field is capable of producing 4,240,829,000 barrels annually."

These figures were compiled a short time before well No. 20,000 was drilled in the field.

Free guides will take visitors on a tour of the gigantic field, to refineries and gasoline plants, to drilling locations, to state and federal oil law enforcement agencies and to many other places of interest.

NEW WARNER MUSICAL HAS GREAT CAST

LYRICS, COMEDY, PLOT WELL BALANCED IN MOVIE

That inimitable team of screen lovers, Dick Powell with tuneful song on his lips, and Ruby Keeler with her rhythmic dancing, together with Joan Blondell and Jack Oakie, head the cast of Warner Bros.' latest spectacular musical comedy, "Colleen,", which comes to La Nora theater today.

In addition to the four stars, the cast, which is one of the most notable ever assembled for a production of this type, includes Hugh Herbert, Louise Fazenda, Paul Draper, Marie Wilson, and a score of other famous names besides two hundred beautiful chorus girls and dancing youths.

There are two big, spectacular specialty numbers created and staged by Bobby Connolly, formerly dance director for the Ziegfeld Follies and other New York shows.

Dick Powell is the serious minded young manager of an estate for a rich and flirtatious uncle, who had purchased a modiste shop for a "girl friend."

Dick falls in love with the efficient secretary of the shop, and manages to win her heart after a series of entanglements filled with hilarious comedy for the audience, although heartbreaking to the young lovers. He also sings three songs.

Miss Keeler has the role of the secretary, and introduces some remarkable tap dancing, both by herself and with that wizard of the stage, Paul Draper.

Jack Oakie and Joan Blondell portray a pair of golddiggers, out for all the loot they can get out of the eccentric millionaire, a role played by Herbert. His wife, a hysterical society woman, constantly upset by her husband's philanderings, is portrayed by Louise Fazenda.

Draper, the famous interpretative dancer of Broadway, makes his film bow in this picture. He has been the rage of New York, and in this picture, is said to do some of his finest lyric dancing.

COMEDY STARS IN 'COMEBACK'

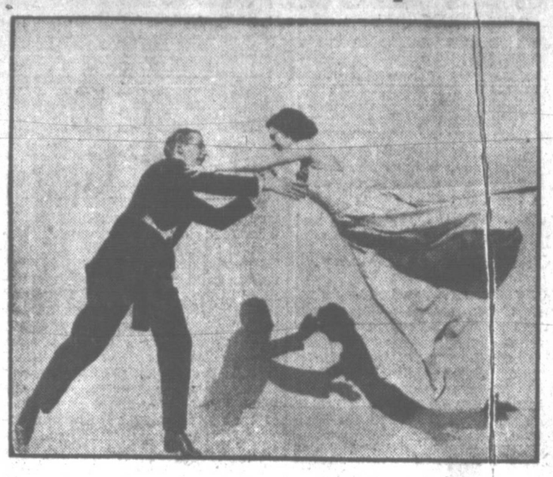

Comedy stars of yesteryear—funsters who were featured players in the silent days of motion pictures—were not forgotten when Laurel and Hardy selected actors to support them in their newest full-length production, "The Bohemian Girl," which comes today to the Rex theater. As a matter of fact, several of the veteran comics who reigned supreme in their individual field until the advent of the talkies, were in the first contingent of players chosen by Stan and "Ollie" when they began casting the picture.

Such once celebrated funsters as Eddie Borden, Harry Bowen, Bobby Dunn, Harry Bernard and Sammy Brooks were given parts in "The Bohemian Girl" not for "old time's sake" or for any other sentimental reason but because they still rank as first rate laugh-provokers and masters of their profession. Not one of this group of comedians received a check written in less than four figures during the days of silent pictures. Each was a featured comic in his own right, working under the sponsorship of either Hal Roach, Mack Sennett or some other prominent screen comedy producer.

New Dance Team Has Reputation

Ruby Keeler is said to be the best female tap dancer. Paul Draper, with whom she is shown above in a scene from "Colleen" —now at La Nora theater—is conceded by many critics to be the best dancer on the Broadway stage. They are teamed in this picture, which also features such notables as Joan Blondell, Dick Powell, Colleen Coleman, Hugh Herbert, Jack Oakie, and Louise Fazenda.

Q. In what poem do the following lines occur, O that 'twere possible after long grief and pain, etc? B. W.

A. They are in Tennyson's Maud.

Q. Please give a list of some famous people born in April. E. M. S.

A. A few whose birthdates occurred in April are: Hans Christain Andersen, April 2, 1805; John Burroughs, April 3, 1837; Raphael Sanzio, Italian painter, April 6, 1483; Lorenzo de Medici, April 8, 1449; Shakespeare, April 23, 1564; and Walter De La Mare, April 25, 1873.

Q. Who made the first electric chair for the execution of criminals? L. E. W.

A. It was edvised by E. F. Davis, the state electrician of New York.

Q. When is the fair to be held at Cleveland? K. M.

A. Cleveland's centennial fair will be celebrated for 100 days beginning on June 27.

Q. Where is the coldest place in the world? A. A.

A. The region of Yayutsk, although south of the Arctic Circle, is understood to be the coldest region, reliable recordings as low as 90 degrees below zero having been made. However, in the short summer season grain is grown there.

Q. How much does it cost to maintain the new electric chewing gum sign on Broadway? K. L.

A. The display will cost the company about $200,000 a year and $4,000 worth of current will be consumed every month.

Q. Are the palms at the Hialeah Race Track brought from Cuba? L. E. M.

A. The royal palms bordering the Hialeah club house entrance are of the species Roystonea regia. These palms are a native of the everglades section in the south and southwest portion of Florida. It is likely, however, that the same variety of royal palm grows in Cuba.

GUEST DAY

each had its special admirers among those who attended the exhibit.

Mrs. Hendricks has a notable power for reproducing atmosphere, chiefly through her exact treatment of light and shadow. In her Taos jueblo, in "Hacienda," one of her paintings from Mexico, and again in an angle view of a Mexican courtyard, the sunshine has a brilliance, hardness, heat, and the shadows are vibrant. A duskier sort of shadow and light is as accurately caught in a picture of palms in a canyon of tropic Mexico. A down-hill view of a mountain side in New York conveyed coolness in the treatment of light beneath the branches of large trees, and something of the same cool stillness is seen in a view of Ceta Canyon, which excited much comment. Quite as effective were two sea-scapes pained at Corpus Christi, widely different in both view and treatment.

Modern Influence

A beach scene at Corpus Christi, handled with a minimum of detail but conveying a sense of great depth and breadth and a maximum of color and life, and a brilliant hued study of cannas showed most definitely, perhaps, the influence of contemporary modes upon Mrs. Hendricks' work. In the latter picture, line suggested rather than reproduced the form of the flowers, and all emphasis was upon color. This painting, as well as all other still life studies in the show, was made from flowers from Amarillo gardens.

In a portrait of a young girl, for which a youngster at a girl scout encampment posed, Mrs. Hendricks caught with charming effect the freshness and beauty of youth. The other portrait was of a sedate Mexican girl, Amelia Carilla, of Santa Fe. It also was much admired.

Other canvases which drew especial attention included a snow scene at Toas, bluebonnet pictures, and a study of dahlias in life size and naturalistic colors.

Tea Follows Talk

The program-tea and the exhibit were held at the women's club rooms, city hall. Hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. S. G. Surratt chairman; Mrs. P. C. Ledrick, Mrs. John V. Andrews, Mrs . George Briggs, who was absent because of illness, and Mrs. James Todd.

Mrs. Andrews was program chairman, and introduced the speaker of the day in a brief talk, in which she praised Mrs. Hendricks for her unfailing efforts in promoting art in the Panhandle.

Mrs. C. T. Hunkapillar, president of El Progresso, welcomed the guests of the day and reviewed the work of the club in its 13 years of existence, and reminded her fellow club members that the history of the state is the history of the many groups and communities which build that state.

Mrs. Todd read the club's collect, with a piano accompaniment by Mrs. W. R. Ewing. Mrs. J. M. Dodson sang two solos, "Only A Rose," and "Tis Spring." Her accompaniment was played by Mrs. C. E. Powell.

Mrs. W. M. Craven and Mrs. Surratt poured tea at 5 o'clock. The table was laid with embroidered linen, and decorated with an arrangement of mirrors to reflect the light of white tapers and a centerpiece of pink and white sweet-peas. Dainty sandwiches and small cakes were served with spiced tea.

Guests of El Progresso and the individual club members were as follows: Mesdames Hendricks and J. H. Adair of Amarillo, W. R. Frazee, Lloyd B. Roberts, George R. French, O. H. Booth, Ben Williams, W. Calvin Jones, Burney Shell, V. E. Fatheree, C. S. Boston, Clinton Henry, Harvey Todd, T. W. Sweatman, W. D. Price, S. L. Lewis, Alex Schneider, A. H. Doucette, Bob Gilchrist, C. E. Powell, C. A. Burton, Ramon Wilson.

Members present were: Mesdames Ewing, Craven, Dodson, Hunkapillar, Todd, Charles Thut, Lee Ledrick, P. C. Ledrick, Dave Pope, George Walstad, C. P. Buckler, Carson Loftus, J. M. McDonald, Andrews, Surratt.

Disabled Vets Are Assisted by Dimes

Dimes donated by the American Legion Auxiliary members have made possible a contribution of $25,000 from the Auxiliary to the American Legion for support of the Legion's work for disabled World war veterans, the rehabilitation chairman of the Pampa unit of the Auxiliary, has announced. A check for this amount was presented to the Legion from the Auxiliary on April 1.

Ten cents per capita has been collected from nearly all of the Auxiliary's 400,000 members through the state organizations. The money contributed to the Legion will be used to help maintain the vast claims service operated by the Legion to assist disabled veterans and dependent families in proving their claims for government aid The balance will be used in the Auxiliary's national rehabilitation program.
