City Eyes New Pollution Laws

Re-appointments to the City Electrical Board and discussions on a cemetery project and a sewer line extension were in the spotlight Monday night during a regular meeting of Slaton City Commission.

The commission also discussed an impending need for more equipment if the city is to comply with new air pollution regulations, some of which become effective in July. City Sec. Gerald Kendrick was asked to check on sources for heavy equipment through government surplus agencies.

The commission re-appointed Don Kendrick, Bentley Page and Albert Kuss to the electrical board for another term. Cecil Scott, representing the City Cemetery Board, appeared at the session to inquire about installation of a sidewalk in the new portion of the cemetery. Commissioners noted funds for improvements were in the cemetery fund budget, and the decision would be up to the cemetery board.

Scott also asked the disposition of a case where a citizen was reported to have stopped payment on a check to pay for a curbing project. He was informed that litigation had been initiated.

After discussing the background of a sewer line extension across the US-84 bypass, the commission agreed that an escrow account set up for the project should be maintained. Property owner Harold Wilson had put up the money to have the line installed before the highway was put down.

He was to be repaid as sewer connections were made, but the line has never been used. Commissioners approved a continuation of the agreement.

Commissioners held a brief discussion on an improved city maintenance facility. The project has been mentioned previously, with the idea of having a city "barn" with a mechanic on full-time duty. Officials feel the facility would effect a savings in repair bills.

Present for the meeting were Mayor Jonas Cain and three commissioners—Hugo Mosser, David Hughes, and Henry Bollinger. Also attending were Kendrick, Scott, Joe Carlsmaas, Walter Head and Jim Newhouse.

Burglars Hit Fertilizer Firm

Burglars made off with about $9,000 worth of an expensive herbicide from Kitten-Moseley Fertilizer & Supply Inc. early Tuesday morning.

Slaton police were investigating the break-in this week. The company, located on US-84 by-pass, had just received the shipment of herbicide Monday. Thefts of herbicide have been reported in other areas of the South Plains.

Police reported 28 jail arrests and 11 traffic citations the past week.

Burglary charges were filed against Charles Devroe, 19, in connection with a break-in at the Blue Room Cafe in southeast Slaton Saturday. Police reported a 15-year-old boy was also involved.

Chamber Appoints Committee Leaders

Appointment of committee chairman and approval of a "community ambassador" award highlighted the first meeting of the new year for Slaton Chamber of Commerce directors last Thursday.

President Clark Self Jr. announced new committee chairmen at the breakfast session held in the Carnation House.

Manager Ted Weaver proposed the "ambassador" award to recognize citizens in service trades who do a good job of "selling Slaton." This would primarily include people in the service station and restaurant businesses who are more likely to come in contact with tourists or persons passing through the city.

Boxes containing city maps, and printed with other pertinent facts, are also to be placed in

Fire Guts Old Bowling Lanes

Slaton Volunteer Fire Department battled a blaze at the Slaton Bowling Lanes building on 21st street early Tuesday morning.

The fire gutted the building, which was not presently being used. An unofficial estimate placed damages at about $16,000. The fire alarm came about 1:30 a.m. Tuesday.

Fire Chief Don Kendrick said the fire appeared to be caused either by spontaneous combustion or arson.

Firemen also answered a call later Tuesday morning, but it turned out to be a false alarm at Evans school.

4 MORE DEADLINES COMING

Vote Registration, Tax Deadlines Arrive Friday

Time is running short if you haven't preserved your right to vote by registering to vote. Deadline is TOMORROW, Jan. 31. Another deadline tomorrow is paying property taxes without penalty. And after this deadline comes four state and federal deadlines.

In most cases officials involved expect long lines to develop with the last minute rush.

Those other four deadlines which include a confusing array of opening and closing dates are attached to income tax returns, auto registration, auto inspection, and filing for home-stead tax exemptions.

On Feb. 1, auto registration begins. Also in the tax office, office, located at Drewry Insurance in Slaton or the county tax assessor-collector's office in Lubbock, homestead property must be rendered no later than April 30.

Auto inspection stickers, available at a number of Slaton auto and auto repair firms, must be in place by midnight April 15.

And the most commonly worried over deadline of all-income tax forms for individuals must be in the mail no later than April 15. Corporate returns must be mailed by March 15.

Mrs. F.A. Drewry, county deputy tax official here, said her office has passenger car and commercial license plates on hand for Feb. 1 opening of auto registration. There has been no change in registration fees from the 1968 rates. Deadline for having the new plates in place is March 31. Last year 119,121 vehicles were registered in Lubbock County.

Unless property taxes are paid by Feb. 1 penalties will begin to accrue at a rate of 1 1/2 per cent.

Enforcement of the required 1969 vehicle inspection begins at midnight April 15. Failure to display the sticker is a misdemeanor with a fine of from $1 to $200. "The fine is ordinarily light the first time a person is caught but if we catch him three or four times, I think he could expect to go up," Calvin Harrell of the motor vehicle inspection division of Texas Dept. of Public Safety said.

The basic charge for the inspection is $1.75 and this includes a check of headlights, horn, windshield wipers, brakes, steering, wheels and rims, stoplights, tail lights and license plate lights.

Cars, trucks, motorcycles and most semi-trailers require the stickers, Harrell said. Only a few trailers—including two wheelers or those under 4,000 lbs.—are excluded.

While most large firms are required to file quarterly estimates to the Internal Revenue Service the average individual faces an income tax deadline only once a year—April 15. Many forms are available at the local post office, should you not have received one in the mail.

DURING PAST YEAR

Building Permits Total $385,860

Building permits issued during 1968 showed an increase over new construction figures in 1967, a check at the city secretary's office revealed this week.

Permits for the year past totaled $385,860. This compares to a total of $216,236 for the year 1967, which was the smallest construction total since 1956.

Leading the way in large permits the past year was a new addition at the First Baptist Church for some $139,000. Six new homes in the Russell Addition accounted for much of the remainder of the building total.

June was the big month in 1968 with permits issued that month amounting to $222,083. This included the church addition and two new homes. Permits topped $50,000 in September and November due to new homes.

Babe Ruth Meet Called Monday

Slaton Babe Ruth League will hold an organizational meeting Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the Reddy Room of SWPS building, it was announced this week by Dave Sanders, president.

Purpose of the meeting will be to elect new officers and make plans for the summer baseball program. Sanders said Slaton will host the district 13-year-old tournament this summer, and he invited parents of these prospective players to attend the meeting.

Mothers' March Nets $496 For MOD

The Mothers' March for the March of Dimes, sponsored by the Slaton Home Demonstration Club, was held Sunday afternoon and netted some $496.00.

Clubs and organizations assisting with the march were West Ward PTA, Kappa Kappa Iota, VFW Auxiliary, Knights of Columbus, Lions Club, Junior Civic and Culture Club and HD Club.

Individuals assisting were Mrs. Ford Rinn, Mrs. L.V. Smith and Vicki Tomlinson.

Members of the club expressed their appreciation to all who marched or helped in any way to make Slaton's contribution a success. They also voted a "special thanks" to Carroll McDonald, chairman.

Donations to date include: Senior Citizens $5; St. Joseph's Hall $9.61; Jr. Civic & Culture $10; VFW Post 6721-$45; GI Forum-$108; BR of T-$15; Daughters of Pioneer Study Club-$5; VFW Auxiliary-$10; HD Club-$5; and miscellaneous-$1.

The Slaton FHA girls, under the supervision of home economics teachers Mrs. Peggy Raub and Miss Garrene Harris, plan a "road block" Feb. 15 for the March of Dimes.

Kendrick Buys Drewry Agency

A longtime Slaton firm fades away this month, and another expands with the change.

Don Kendrick has announced the purchase of Drewry Insurance Agency, effective Jan. 1, 1969. The Kendrick Agency will remain at 115 N. 8th.

Mrs. F.A. Drewry, while withdrawing from the insurance business, will remain at her office south of the Post Office to continue as deputy tax collector for Lubbock County.

Kendrick has been in the insurance business since June of 1959, starting while associated with Kendrick Pontiac. He established a full-time agency in 1965. Kendrick purchased the Hoffman Insurance Agency in December, 1967, moving to his N. 8th street location at that time.

An active civic worker, Kendrick serves as fire chief of the Slaton Volunteer Fire Department and is also civil defense director. He is a member of the Slaton School Board, a director of the Chamber of Commerce, and a member of the Lions Club.

Lions Taking Summer Camp Applications

Do you know a handicapped child who would like to spend two wonderful weeks at summer camp...free?

If you do, then you are urged to call Hack Lasater of the Slaton Lions Club. He is taking applications now for campers to spend two weeks at the Texas Lions Camp for Crippled Children at Kerrville.

Slaton Lions help support the camp, and the local club is a 100 percent member—meaning each club member has donated $10 to the camp.

The camp is free and transportation is handled by the Slaton club. All applications are handled locally, according to president Cecil Griffin.

Contact Lasater or call him at 828-3716 if you want to make application for the camp.

zens, women or men, are interested in seeing the band stand in the Slaton Park preserved?

It had already been moved from the city square when we came to Slaton, so my family and I have not been fortunate enough to have seen it in use except at a very minimum. Course you're taking your life at your own risk by walking across the floor in it.

But when I go in the Citizens State Bank and see the beautiful oil painting that artist Ada May Kitten remembers it looking like while she was growing up, I sometimes wish it could look that way again.

How many people in Slaton feel strongly enough about remodeling the band stand to give of time or money -- or both?
Both local lumber companies have been asked for bids on repairing the band stand and what the cost of paint would be to repaint it.

I checked with our county commissioner, Max Arrants, since the stand is located on county property, and he is agreeable to go along with the citizens on the project. (The band stand was (or is) owned by the city, although). In fact he says the county will match any amount that is raised here to preserve the landmark.

So if you are interested, now is the time to let us know about it. If no interest is shown, I assure you it will soon fall apart. The stand needs a new floor, several boards replaced and a good paint job.

This is up to YOU, Slaton citizens. I'll give a report to you next week on how much money (and volunteer hours) will have to be donated. In the meantime, we'd like to know your feelings. Are there civic organizations who would like to help paint the stand, repair it or donate to the cause?
Or can you think of a fund raising project to raise the money?
Let us know by mail or voice soon giving us your name and phone number. Tell your neighbors and friends how you feel about it. If it's worth preserving, let's get this thing rolling.
Write The Slatonite, Box 775, Slaton or phone 828-6201.

Our wishes for a very speedy recovery goes to Norma Lasater this week. Norma fell in front of Lasater-Hoffman Hardware about noon Tuesday and suffered an injured left shoulder. Norma is going to have to learn to "talk with her right hand" for awhile, I'm afraid. Norma has probably helped hostess more bridal showers here than anyone I know. Let's hope this injury doesn't slow her down too long.
She says she'll be back at work Thursday.

The first half day or day I can call "my on", you will find me at L & V Ceramics. This new hobby that is being offered to Slaton women sounds fascinating to me. We hope Mrs. Breland and Mrs. Clark find it a very successful venture.

Spice your meat dishes properly when cooking. Bay leaves are for beef stew and pot roast. Caraway seeds complement liver or pork dishes.
Use basil in pork and beef entrees.

For the gourmet in the tatoes, serve with mayonnaise to which prepared mustard and worcestershire sauce have been added.

The Versatile Tape Recorder
Last week I was at a tea in the community center when someone put a record on the player. Usual enough, except that this time no music came out.

Instead of Mozart or Victor Herbert or Duke Ellington, we heard a long, loud, high-pitched hoot, plus the clash of wheels thundering down a track. The sound emerged from the distance, careened past, and diminished until it was but a faraway echo: a locomotive going through a whistle-stop.

You might consider this a strange kind of recording to play at a community tea. And, in fact, it's not my cup of tea -- if you'll forgive the expression.
Still, many members like those sounds which don't ordinarily make the grade as entertainment.

This might be called the age of the tape recorder. You find all kinds of people in various odd situations waiting to immortalize their favorites on the gamut of sound waves.

One of our members spends one morning a week recording the frogs in a nearby pond.

And I know a number who do their bird watching with recorder as well as binoculars.
Then there's the devotee of the whizzing locomotive.

When it comes to capturing the present moment in a permanent form, the tape recorder is challenging the camera.
Faces of friends and relatives have long been standard items in the family album... now their voices are being added.

We can bring home notably the sight of ducks on a lake, but also the sound of their honking as they descend from the sky or rise from the water.
This development is, of course, a matter of technology.
People have found that tape recording is as easy as handling a camera. More and more of them, after exposure to the results, are taking up the hobby.

If your taste runs to more musical sounds than the ones I've mentioned above, well, you can have them too. Tape recordings of choice portions of Beethoven symphonies are not unknown in this fraternity of sound aficionados.

Style Show Set March 6

St. Joseph's Home School Association met Jan. 21 in the school cafeteria and viewed a film on "The Modern Look in Catholic Education". Sister Angelica, principal at St. Joseph's School, demonstrated some of the modernized equipment used this year at the school.

During the business meeting, the group decided to sponsor a style show which will be staged by Dunlap's of Lubbock. It will be the association's major fund raising project for the year.
The show was set for March 6 at the Slaton High School Auditorium with a $25 gift certificate from Dunlap's as a door prize.

Refreshments were served to 47 members present.

however, doesn't take the place of enough detergent to prevent

Tea Sunday At Hospital

Mercy Hospital Auxiliary will host a "Membership Tea" Sunday from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m. in the Mercy Hospital dining room.
If you are a member or are

This would be a good time to ask any question you would like to concerning the operation of the auxiliary and its goals.
There are four type members:
active, associate, contributing and life.

Since the formation of this auxiliary about two years ago it has organized a group of high school girls called "The Candy Strippers". It has started a fund for an X-ray machine for the donate an hour a week at the

VASCAR Measures Motorists' Speed

VASCAR, a new scientific speed measuring device to serve as a deterrent to speeders, is being put into operation over the State of Texas, announced Major Luther Moore, Regional Commander of the Texas Department of Public Safety for this Region.

VASCAR, known as the Visual Average Speed Computer and Recorder, enables the highway patrolman to determine the speed of vehicles both in front and behind him, traffic approaching from the opposite direction, and crossing his path. In other words this device can measure or determine the speeds of vehicles in any direction regardless of their position. It may be used at night or day, in clear or inclement weather.

The VASCAR device is a special electronic digital computer designed to record the distance traveled by a vehicle and the time to travel that distance and to compute the average speed of the vehicle over the recorded distance. This method of timing results in an average speed calculation. The average speed is never higher than the peak or highest speed the vehicle reaches during the measurement.

The patrolman places distance into the computer by closing an electrical switch when the patrol car reaches a predetermined point on the highway, and opens that same switch when the patrol car reaches another point farther down the road. Time is placed into the computer closing another electrical switch when the suspected speeder's vehicle reaches one of the same points, and the switch is opened when it reaches the second point. Time may be placed into the VASCAR unit either before, during, or after the distance measurement is made. The following example illustrates one of VASCAR's many methods.

When the suspected speeder's vehicle reaches a certain location or reference point on the highway, the time switch is closed; this activates the time circuitry in the computer. When the patrolman's vehicle with the VASCAR unit reaches the same location point, the patrolman closes the distance switch. This activates the distance circuitry to record the distance being measured by the patrolman's vehicle through the odometer module connected to the speedometer cable.

As the suspected speeder's vehicle reaches a second location point, the time switch is

Glaucoma

Glaucoma, a disease characterized by an increase in fluid pressure in the eye, is the second greatest cause of blindness in the United States, accounting for nearly 14 percent of all loss of sight. In its most common form, glaucoma can destroy vision slowly and painlessly, sometimes without giving any warning signs or symptoms to its victim until most of his sight is gone.

opened. The time that it has taken the suspected speeder's vehicle to travel between two points has been measured and put into the computer.

When the patrolman's vehicle reaches the second location point, the distance switch is opened. Thus, the distance between the same two points has been measured and put into the computer. This completes the speed measuring process, and the speed is electronically computed and instantly displayed on the read-out module in miles per hour.

Major Moore stated because of the advantages and versatility of the VASCAR unit, the efficiency of the patrolman is increased, thus becoming a more effective speed deterrent.

FIREMEN HONORED--Members of the Slaton Volunteer Fire Department, along with firemen from Post and O'Donnell, were honored at a steak supper in Tahoka Friday. The supper was designed to show appreciation for the help rendered by neighboring departments during an industrial fire in Tahoka Dec. 22, and it was sponsored by the Tahoka VFD and the City of Tahoka. Attending from Slaton were Leroy Poer, Skip Tunlinson, R.J. Moore, Sammy Crowson, Mac Kendrick and Weldon Self. In the photo are officials of the four departments, left to right: Leroy Mensch, O'Donnell chief; Lloyd Mock, Post chief; Leroy Poer, Slaton captain; and Alton Kelley, Tahoka chief. Gene Moore of Post, former Slaton resident, entertained the group with impromptu piano playing.

COMMUNITY PROPERTY LAWS AFFECT INCOME TAX RETURN

Taxpayers don't like to read instructions. However, the Internal Revenue Service points out that married Texans who fail to read the community property instructions (Document 555, available at IRS offices) may cost themselves even more than the taxpayers throughout the country who don't want to take the trouble to read the regular 1040 instructions. In Texas you may need to read both.

The Dallas District Office, covering the Northern half of Texas, emphasizes that there are three special areas affected by the community property law that may provide tax savings:

- 1) An additional dividend exclusion of $100.
- 2) An extra capital loss of $1,000 (if they file separate returns), and
- 3) Additional retirement income credit worth up to $228.60 in tax savings.

Although all married taxpayers in Texas are affected by the community property requirements, divorced taxpayers and taxpayers not divorced but separated and living apart, are forced to split their income on separate returns under community property requirements. Since a gift of community property is made equally by husband and wife, Texas taxpayers may make larger gifts to their children (or others) without paying a federal gift tax.

And finally, both halves of the community property are re-evaluated to fair market value on the date of death of either spouse. This can save a large amount of income tax on the sale of property after your spouse has died.

There are more than 900,000 married couples who are required to file income tax returns from Northern Texas in 1968. Income tax filing statistics of past years indicate that these families (1,800,000 individuals) will report about nine billion in income on their 1968 returns. These couples have to either file a joint return or split the community income, deductions, and credits with their spouse and each file on one half on their separate returns. In some cases, community property creates a considerable tax saving for the taxpayers, in others, it costs the taxpayer. Internal Revenue is required to follow the state law on who is entitled to the income in all cases.

Area Cotton Meet Feb. 5

LUBBOCK... The third annual meeting on the production of quality cotton sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service will be held at the Koko Palace here at 9:30 a.m. on Wednesday, Feb. 5. A top slate of speakers will be on hand to discuss the current cotton production situation for the South Plains.

Headlining the event will be a discussion by Dabney S. Wellford, top economist with the National Cotton Council. Wellford's address will touch on the overall outlook picture for cotton in 1969 to include domestic and foreign consumption as well as mill demands and promotional efforts to increase the consumption of this area's top cash crop.

Topics of interest also include development of new and better adapted, high quality producing varieties; Texas A&M's role in the improvement of quality and lowering of production costs of high Plains cotton; production of broadcast cotton; marketing, and the use of scientific instruments for measuring the various quality characteristics of cotton.

The meeting is open to all area cotton producers, ginners and agribusinessmen.

Capital NEWS

By VERN SANFORD

IN Tex.—Immediate implementation of the Texas Water Development Board's $10-billion water plan (to take water from every part of Texas), lowering the voting age to 18, lifting the public welfare contribution, and a gradual revision of the State Constitution were among the surprises Gov. Smith offered the Legislature.

Legislators had been asked to reveal their first impressions of the session, waiting to see what their new governor had in mind. But they knew his aims. But they were yet to reveal his budget tax recommendations, which will have tremendous impact on whether his proposals are enacted.

Governor Smith lauded the existing Board, Texas State and University System plan to provide upper-level colleges in Midland, Odessa, Corpus Christi, and Dallas and a four-college in San Antonio, did not adopt it specifically. However, he did encourage the board's recommendation for a new state medical school in Houston and Lubbock, dental school in San Antonio and state participation in the University's dental and medical schools.

Called for a state police academy program for police officers, an "implied" D.W.I. test to cut down on traffic accidents involving alcohol, "enlarging" the Parks & Wildlife Commission to obtain better geographical distribution, and raising workmen's compensation benefits from $35 to $45 a week.

Governor Smith endorsed the 1968 State Democratic platform (which had his approval), but added: "I have read the Texas Republican Platform, I think you will find the two quite similar."

Smith's message to the Legislature left unanswered the question of spending and taxing. He called for economy, but conceded that new taxes may be needed. His recommendations as to what should be spent and where it should come from will follow in another message.

His legislative program was very extensive. Rural legislators who have been getting objections to the proposals for school consolidation made by Gov. John Connally's Committee on Public School Education were glad to hear Smith call that plan impossible to pass. He disagreed with the Committee that there should be some school consolidations, but he felt they should be voluntary.

Attracting much interest was the fact that the new governor did not mention in his list of proposed constitutional amendments the one to allow local option liquor-by-the-drink. Instead, he merely gave legislators a copy of the Democratic platform which called for a statewide vote on the question.

His message came after a colorful inaugural program which brought thousands to Austin. A "victory dinner" attracted 6,000. As many as 40,000 may have attended the six inaugural balls. More than 100 units took part in the inaugural parade.

When Smith and Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes took office, they gave the Capitol the first West Texas team since 1947. West Texans were prominent among those in Austin to cheer for the men from Lubbock and DeLeon.

TUITION HIKE PROPOSED—Finance committee of Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System found tuition of students must be doubled to help pay the expected $404.2 million biennial operating cost of higher education facilities by 1975-76.

Committee also proposed $165 a year student building fee to float bonds for a $401-million college construction program. Fee would apply only on six new campuses recommended during the next decade.

Tuition suggested by the committee would be $7 per semester credit hour for Texas residents and $20 per credit hour for non-residents. This would raise an additional $22-million a year. Present tuition rate, unchanged since 1957, is $50 a semester. It is one of the lowest in the nation.

Committee strongly recommended a uniform building system and standardized construction components for new campuses, as well as new procedures to cut down operating costs.

Report will be acted on at the February 10 Coordinating Board meeting, together with a request to merge South Texas College of Law at Houston with Texas A & M University.

DIES SECRETARY OF STATE—Governor Smith's first official appointment was his secretary of state. He selected former Lufkin Sen. Martin Dies Jr., and Dies was immediately confirmed by the Senate.

Smith described Dies, who did not seek reelection in 1966 after eight years in office, as one of the most popular senators in recent history. His main work has been in the areas of retardation in children and parks development.

"I have turned to one of the most able and dedicated men in public life during this era of government," Smith said. "I am sure Senator Dies is destined to become one of the great secretaries of state in Texas history."

CONSTITUTIONAL Amendment—Freshman Rep. Lynn Nabers of Brownwood plans to introduce a proposed constitutional amendment to allow the state to give aid to private colleges and universities.

In the proposal, a committee would determine what it costs to educate the average student at state-supported schools. State then would deduct from that the tuition students pay at state institutions—now $100 per year—and send the rest to the private schools as credit toward the educational costs.

System would be complicated at those private schools which teach religion courses. Some state aid would have to be deducted for that, because of the constitutional provision on separation of church and state.

AG OPINIONS—Texas Technological College may create a medical school on the Lubbock campus without passage of implementing legislation, Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin said in an opinion requested by Governor Smith.

Martin warned, however, that the legislature, through its control over appropriation of funds, has the power to "accept or reject this method" of creating medical facilities.

In another opinion he also ruled that a school board has the authority to expel a student for violation of a published policy against drug use, after a hearing. But he said an indictment alone is not grounds for expelling.

REGISTER CARS PROPERLY—Auto registration regulations will be enforced tighter due to computerization, Highway Commission and Department of Public Safety warns.

Highway Department says, that many motorists have cars registered illegally in counties where they do not reside. Others who live in cities show only a post office box number instead of the required residence address.

Computerization also will aid in law enforcement, and reduce the waiting-in-line time to obtain a license. Motorist will get forms to fill out in advance, saving typing time at busy license distributing points.

SDEC EXPANDS ACTIVITIES—State Democratic Committee, which took in a tidy sum from its inauguration-even victory dinner, has approved plans to expand work in three fields and to publish a monthly political magazine.

New committees were authorized on youth activities, woman's organization and communications. Latter department will supervise the magazine.

SHORT SNORTS—Rep. L. DeWitt Hale of Corpus Christi and Sen. A.R. Schwartz of Galveston will handle the legislative program for the Governor's Committee on Public School Education.

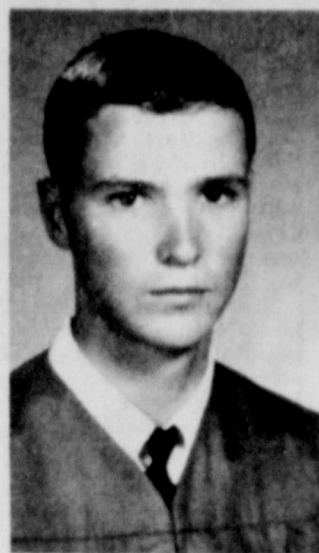

Texas Farm Bureau unveiled a legislative program which includes opposition to minimum wage and compulsory collective bargaining for farm workers.

House Water Study Committee headed by Rep. Bill Clayton of Springlake has recommended that Texans support a $3.5-billion bond issue to help finance the $10-billion Texas Water Plan.

Texas Liquor Control Board announced that 1968 saw an all-time high in the number of juveniles arrested for possessing or buying alcoholic beverages—some 14,186 above the 1967 arrest figures.

PAULINE MENDEZ

Pauline Mendez is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Mendez of Rt. 4, Lubbock. She participated in the band for two years; was a member of the National Honor Society; and received the mathematics award.

Following graduation, Pauline plans to attend Texas Tech.

After graduation, he plans to attend business school or a junior college. He also added, "I plan to marry someone, someday."

Beef Production Course At Cooper

A beef production short course for adult farmers will be held Feb. 3-6 under the sponsorship of the Cooper High School Vocational Agriculture Department according to H.C. Carpenter, superintendent, and Dan Taylor, teacher of Vocational Agriculture.

Frank C. Litterst, beef production specialist with the Vocational Agriculture Division of the Texas Education Agency and the Department of Animal Science at Texas A&M University, will be the instructor for the course. He is headquartered at Texas A&M University.

Litterst is a graduate of Texas A&M University with a degree in Animal Husbandry. Much of his work was done in livestock production.

After 3 years of service in the U.S. Army, Litterst served as instructor in the Veterans Agriculture Program in Hays County four years and was District Sales Manager for Burrus Feed Mills, Ft. Worth, four years.

He then served as manager, Baldwin Land & Cattle Co., with ranchers in Travis and Shelby Counties until 1964. This included operation of a ranch consulting business. He has successfully operated his own ranching and farming business consisting of both registered and commercial cattle, sheep, Angora goats, Pecans and grain farming. He is a former director in the State Shorthorn Breeders Association and a member of American Angus, and Texas & Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association.

The short course at Cooper is scheduled to begin Feb. 3 at 7:30 p.m. in the Vocational Agriculture Building. Other meetings in the series of four will be held Feb. 4, 5, 6. During the dates the short course is in progress, Litterst will be available to assist cattlemen with individual problems and to provide on-the-farm instruction, according to Dan Taylor.

Cattlemen interested in attending the short course should write or call the superintendent. An entry fee of $2.00 will be charged.

Beef production short course certificates will be presented to each cattlemen who attends all the training sessions.

Litterst states that the field of beef cattle production must take a close look at efficiency of production in the future. With land prices, feed, and taxes rising, the producer is meeting more and more competition for the consumer's dollar at the meat counter. From the economic view of the beef cattle business, there is every indication that in comparing the producer of yesterday and the producer of tomorrow, beef must be produced to sell cheaper in order to be a profit-making business. Litterst indicates that the beef production short course will deal with methods of producing beef at a lower cost and the ways of

MEMO FROM MAC

R. B. (MAC) MCALISTER
State Rep., Dist. 76, Place 3

Eight legislators in the house coffee shop one morning last week were of the unanimous opinion that Governor Preston Smith is going to work better with both the Senate and House than any Governor in modern history. The new Governor comes down on the floor and visits with any and all, and frankly so far they accept him as one of them.

One big reason is because Governor Smith having served in both houses for 18 years knows their language. The honeymoon will soon be over, but we predict that the spirit of cooperation between the Executive and Legislative branches of our state Government will be the finest ever, and this should make for a "Most effective" session.

There are now 149 members in the House and to date I know 80 of them. I hope in the next two weeks to be able to place the name and face of the entire House. You will be reading the latter part of this week about the committee appointments. No one seems to have any advance information, but most legislators feel like my deskmate J.E. Ward of Glen Rose: "I'll work where Gus puts me."

Mail is beginning to pour in on the "Name change" of Texas Tech. This issue will not be settled for weeks, or maybe months, because it must be referred to a committee before any chance of coming up for passage. Obviously, there is a strong difference of opinion among students, ex-students and faculty, but unlike the "School Consolidation" issue, this one holds very little interest 150 miles from Lubbock in any direction. The quicker it is settled, the better for all concerned, and my fervent hope is that all who desire will have their say, but when the name is approved by the Legislature, we shall accept it and move on to greater things.

I am about to get used to the "Honorable" tag in front of my name. Senator Blanchard explained the significance to me. Once there appeared before a committee a Colonel Bean. One house member interrupted his testimony to ask, "Sir, what does the Colonel mean in front of your name?"...The old gentleman paused and answered, "Well it's like this, you men are called the Honorable so and so...my colonel is just like your honorable...it doesn't mean a doggone thing."

MIKE MASON

Featured senior this week is James Michael Mason, son of Mr. and Mrs. James M. Mason. Mike has been vice-president of his class all four years in high school.

He played football his freshman year; participated in track for three years; was cast in both the junior and senior plays; was voted class favorite his senior year; and Mr. SIES his senior year.

Some of Mike's favorites are food, fried shrimp; some, "Toad"; band, Jimmie Hendrix, saying, "Don't worry about it"; most embarrassing moment, no comment.

After graduation, he plans to attend Texas Tech.

'Off Election Year'

The term "off-election year" is a misnomer... there's not any such thing. It is true that there will be no regular elections of national, state or county officials this year, and in that sense, 1969 is an "off-year" politically.

But there will be, in 1969, important elections of city and school district officials... and there is always the possibility any year, that there may be special elections which will be of more than passing importance. Such things have happened. Deaths; resignations... and even taxes... have been known to bring on special elections which could not be foreseen months in advance.

The point of all this is that this month... month of January... is the last month of a three-month annual period in which citizens can qualify as voters by the process of registration... and since annual voter registration is required in Texas, citizens who want to be eligible to vote in elections later this year must qualify themselves now... or before January 31.

After registration is free... and the necessary forms are available at the office of the county tax assessor-collector at the courthouse.

Since this is a so-called "off year" in which no major political candidates are expected to develop, there won't be the usual official concern with voter registration which ushers in more important general and primary election years... so it's going to be up to concerned citizens individually, to remember to get to the courthouse to register before the deadline.

Do it today, while it's on your mind. You'll be glad you did when April rolls around with city and school district elections at hand.

LETTERS to EDITOR

Dear Speedy,
I have been meaning to write a letter to you for a long time, but I just haven't had time. Well, now I'm taking time.

I'd just like to say that I'm very glad we have Chief Walter Head back on our police force. We finally found a police chief who really cares about us teenagers, and who listens to our problems.

Chief Head helped me when I was here, he helped me with any problem I had, he helped me to grow up, as did many other grown-ups like my teacher, Mrs. Childers.

I felt like crying when I heard Chief Head had left. But I was so happy when he came back. Many people I've talked to have noticed a great change in the time he was here from before he first came here.

He has helped Slaton in so many ways and I really appreciate his being here because if he'd ever leave again Slaton would go "keputt".

The troop later enjoyed refreshments at the Carnation House. Members attending were Jill Crews, Cherie Stone, Tracy Lee, Lana Brieger, Naomi Shankles, Stephanie Cook, Laurie Ross, Lynn Stabeno, Kim Rice and Gloria Acuma.

Accompanying the troop were Mrs. Jerry Ross, Mrs. Bobby Lee and Mrs. E.C. Stabeno.

Health Clinic
Slated Here

The Well Child Conference and Immunization Clinic will be held in Slaton the first Thursday of each month, according to Mrs. Jeannie Johns, new health nurse assigned to Slaton. The conference is held in the First United Methodist Church at E. Geneva and S. Johnson St. at 10 a.m. and is by invitation only.

The immunization clinic is from 1:30 to 2 p.m. and is for those not under the care of a physician. There is no charge. The date of the next clinic is Feb. 7.

Welcome Newcomers

The Slaton Chamber of Commerce reported seven new families moving to Slaton during the month of December bringing the total number of families for 1968 to 142.

Following are names of the head of the household, previous address and present address:

Anne Arnett, from Lubbock to 825 S. 12th; Marceline Caudillo, 155 S. 2nd; H.D. Jackson, from Lubbock to 520 W. Crosby; James Munselle, 725 S. 14th; Pascual Perez, from New Deal to 630 S. 7th; Dodson Smith, Jr., from Brownfield to 615 Collins; and James Lee Hodges, 155 N. 4th.

COLUMN ONE ---

In Lamesa, Speaker was Donette Mays, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Truett Mays of Crosbyton. She's the all-American type and spoke well for "the other 98 percent" of our teenagers.

She took issue with national news media for headlining all the bad things about teenagers and about our country in general. It was a stirring and inspiring talk—one that could well be presented on a national TV show in place of some long-haired, bearded, no-talent musical groups.

Statistics show that about half of the young men between the ages of 16 and 21 who are in the labor force are also enrolled in school. The young ladies are industrious too, with about one-third of the same age group who are holding down some type of job also attending school. Less than 3 percent of these young people have chosen to drop out of school and the labor market.

College enrollment has skyrocketed over the past 10 years, and students with jobs number the highest since World War II. It gives us reason for renewed confidence in today's youth, because recent trends show they are, for the most part, better educated and more industrious than their predecessors.

Years ago, when a man finished a day's work he needed rest. Now he needs exercise.

The best thing to take when you're run down is the license number of the car that hit you.

Marriage is a transaction whereby the grocer takes a customer away from the florist.

Worst thing about growing old is having to listen to a lot of advice from one's children.

Once upon a time, people saved their money, thinking it would be worth more later.

The reason God made women after He made men was because He didn't want any advice.

Modern women need only two friends. One to talk to and the other to talk about.

The best way to tell a woman's age is in a whisper.

SUNDAY'S SERMON

YOUR FELLOW MAN

One-way streets help move traffic in the city. The only inconvenience is that sometimes you must drive around the block to reach a particular address.

One-way people, on the other hand, they will run over you if you get in the way. More often than not, they're moving against the grain, forcing others to make room for them as they charge blindly about.

Successful living must take into account some consideration of the other fellow. If this is not true, then the road of life leads to no worthwhile destination.

No man is an island. No one can really walk alone. Choose your own road, uphill or downhill, along the crowded streets or off the beaten pathways and you will meet someone along the way.

Nowhere on this earth can you really get away from your fellow man. Doesn't it make sense that you should recognize him when you see him? Shouldn't you acknowledge that he has a destination of his own — and the right to travel his own way so long as he shares the road with you?

Salmon, again?

The Atlantic salmon, whose numbers have diminished in recent years, once was so plentiful that some indentured servants in the 1700's demanded contracts specifying that they would not be forced to eat salmon more than three times a week.

CITY-WIDE
CENSUS

The Slaton Ministerial Alliance of Slaton is sponsoring a city-wide census, Feb. 2 to 9th. All participating churches will be expected to recruit personnel to make house-to-house calls.

The census takers will meet at the First United Methodist Church Feb. 2 at 2 p.m. for a short briefing session. These people may spend as much time that afternoon as they can spare and return the filled out cards to the Methodist Church.

Work may be continued throughout the week and on Feb. 9th, a clean-up effort will be made to complete the census. All youth and adults are urged to help.

Services Held
For G. Payne

Services were held for George A. Payne, 73, Saturday at 11 a.m. in the First Baptist Church here. He died in a Topeka hospital Wednesday, Jan. 22. The Rev. W. F. Ferguson of Lubbock and the Rev. J. L. Cartwright, pastor, officiated. Burial was in Englewood Cemetery under direction of Englands.

A native of Mississippi, Payne was a longtime Slaton resident. He was a retired car inspector for the Santa Fe Railway.

Survivors are his wife; two sons, Blanton of Slaton and Bill of Lubbock; a daughter, Miss Betty Louise Payne of Laurel, Md.; a brother, L. W. of Hawaii; four grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Ted Lahey of Laurel, Md. attended the funeral.

Wild Land

It is still possible to get away from it all. Take Peru, for instance, where some three fifths of the country is covered by little-known jungle.

The oldest botanic gardens in the Western Hemisphere were established in 1765 in Kingstown on the West Indian island of St. Vincent.

22 Attend
WCSL Luncheon

The Women's Society of Christian Service of the United Methodist Church met Monday for a noon luncheon in Fellowship Hall.

It was announced that the annual Chuck Wagon Supper for SHS seniors will be held Thursday, March 13.

The program, "Look What's Happening to Religion", was led by Mrs. J.S. Edwards. A skit was performed by Mmes.

Carroll McDonald and L. A. Haral. Mrs. Bill Smith read the scripture and "A Free Church in Berkeley" was given by Mrs. H. T. Scurluck.

Mrs. Lucille German gave "Are You Disturbed by the New Religion" from Readers Digest and Mrs. R.H. Todd closed the meeting with the "Lord's Prayer" by a university student preparing for the ministry.

Mrs. Wilson
Presents Program

The Wesleyan Service Guild of the United Methodist Church met in the home of Mrs. W.P. Layne Jan. 23 at 7:30 p.m. Mrs. H.H. White was co-hostess.

After the opening prayer by Mrs. Ray Conner, Mrs. Douglas Wilson, guild president, conducted the business meeting. Mrs. Wilson then gave the program, "A Universal God, When Christians Are in the Minority".

A social hour followed and a salad plate was served to eight guild members.

According to the Methodist News bulletin, Jack Shepard is a patient in Santa Fe Hospital at Temple.

"For with God nothing shall be impossible."
—Luke 1:37

Don't ask God for miracles. Don't look for signs in the stars or for a message written across the sky.
