Zephyr Jumps Tracks, 2 Killed, 34 Injured

CHICAGO—P—Two persons were killed and approximately 34 persons injured when the Burlington Railroad's streamlined Twin City Zephyr jumped the tracks after being derailed by a tractor at suburban Downers Grove last night.

Edith Helland, 3105 Garfield Ave., South, Minneapolis, died today at Hinsdale Sanitarium, where she had been taken after the wreck with both legs fractured, a fractured rib, and internal injuries.

Instantly killed was L. W. Wright of suburban Oak Park. Wright, about 50, a passenger, was trapped in a coach after the speeding train crashed into the Downers Grove railroad station.

County Obtains Pampa Auxiliary Field From CAA

Gray County Commissioners late yesterday afternoon accepted the Pampa Auxiliary Airfield No. 2, known as Thompson Field, from the War Assets Administration.

The action followed an almost day-long joint meeting of the County Commissioners, Court, and the City Commission in City Hall.

Both the Civil Aeronautics Authority and the War Assets Administration advised the city or county to take over the port not only as an insurance against any possible loss of the present municipal airfield but also as a source of revenue from wheat growers who would lease the field to cultivate. However, the wheat growing will not be permitted to interfere with the two 4500 foot asphalt runways and the flying that may be done from the field.

The field itself will be maintained and operated as an efficient public municipal airport in order for the County to retain it.

The two asphalt runways are 150 ft. wide and still in good condition. The 440-acre plot also contains one building and the control tower. The field will be turned over to the county free of charge.

A formal waiver of claim to the field was made yesterday by the city to the CAA in Fort Worth and formal application by the County will be made in approximately 30 days. The field was also taken over in anticipation of securing an airline service stop for Pampa.

Red Cross Drive Reports Called In

Directors of the recent Red Cross fund drive here said today that all envelopes left in businesses should be turned in to the headquarters at the City Hall.

Some workers have failed to pick up all their envelopes. It was said. They should collect them at once, an official said.

Business managers are asked to call the Red Cross office if there are envelopes left at their businesses after today, it was said.

Committee Fails To Draw Agenda

MOSCOW—P—The Council of Foreign Ministers meeting scheduled for tonight was canceled today when a special committee working on an agenda for German political principles bogged down and failed to reach an agreement.

The committee will try to get out of the snarl in time for the Council to take up its report tomorrow at 4 p.m. (8 a.m., Eastern Standard Time). The Council meeting had been scheduled today for 6 p.m., two hours later than usual, in order to give the committee more time to work on its report.

Deputy foreign ministers working on the Austria treaty also made little progress today in their efforts to hammer out agreements on remaining treaty clauses.

Bitter Battle Is Seen Over Reparations

WASHINGTON—P—The United States moved today toward a showdown with Russia over the division of Japanese reparations, with all signs pointing to a battle as bitter as the one going on at the Moscow Conference regarding war damages from Germany.

At stake are about 1,000 Japanese industrial plants earmarked for shipment to various countries in payment for damage during the war. Over Russian objections, the United States intends to send about 300 of them immediately to China, the Philippines, and Eastern possessions of the Netherlands and Great Britain.

The country fought and won the preliminary skirmish with the Russians late yesterday when it invoked a procedural maneuver to break a deadlock over its plan to give the four nations some reparations without delay for "relief."

The United States on Feb. 13 proposed to the 11-nation Far Eastern Commission an interim program of advance reparations for China, the Netherlands East Indies, and the Philippines.

Thirty percent of total reparations from Japan would be divided among these countries in the ratio of 10 percent to the United States, 15 percent to the Philippines, the Netherlands 5 and Britain 3 percent.

The remaining 70 percent would be divided in the final reparations settlement.

Officials acquainted with the situation said that during preliminary discussion Russia objected on the grounds that an over-all settlement of Japanese reparations should be reached first.

Jealous Quarrel Results in Death For Man and Wife

AMARILLO—A jealous quarrel resulted in the death of both Elton Delwin Wyatt and Maxine Hudson Wyatt, man and wife, following a fatal shooting in the Little Inn Cafe, 109 North Buchanan, shortly before 5 p.m. yesterday.

Wyatt reportedly entered the cafe and shot his wife to death and then reloaded the single shot .22 rifle he carried and turned the gun on himself. Wyatt died a few minutes later in the St. Anthony Hospital.

Mrs. Viola Mason, a waitress in the cafe, who was a witness to the tragic affair, told officers that she, Mrs. Wyatt and another waitress were the only persons in the cafe at the time Wyatt entered the cafe through a rear door.

"I was near the front of the cafe when I heard Maxine scream," she said. "As I turned around, Maxine jumped off her stool and ran toward the front. Elton shot her. Then he shot himself under the chin."

Mrs. Wyatt had been seated on the second stool from the east end of the counter, according to the statements that have been made by the two witnesses, when Wyatt entered the door and did not say a word.

He walked across the room until he was approximately six feet east of his wife, then fired. Wyatt then walked back eight feet to the rear of the cafe and turned the gun on himself.

Mrs. Wyatt is said to have half staggered and half fallen to the juke box near the front of the tavern, where she collapsed. She was shot directly through the heart.

Several acquaintances of the couple have told authorities that they were aware that Mr. and Mrs. Wyatt had been having domestic difficulties for some time.

Young Ministerial Student, 22, Sees Mother For First Time; Sees Through Dead Man's Eyes

AUSTIN—P—Billie Joe McDonnell, 22, looked at his mother last night and all he could say was "Hello, there."

But the young ministry student could see her. And that was most important. Up until a short time ago, he was blind.

Climaxing a series of operations, and long months of anxious waiting, McDonnell stepped out of a plane here to greet his mother, Mrs. James Grubbs, and the Rev. Paul G. Strickert, his pastor and friend.

It was the first time in his memory he had seen his mother's face. His eyes had been clouded since he was six months old and he had been totally blind since the age of 16.

In New York, where he went to work in radio and radar, McDonnell obtained the help of a New York preacher and a newspaperman. They helped him obtain two minor operations, which failed. Then a difficult cornea transplanting operation was promised.

Last year while visiting his home, he received a telegram that a cornea had become available. He talked a pilot into taking off in bad weather for the trip East.

The operation was a success. McDonnell is enrolled in Concordia College Institute at Bronckville, N. Y., studying for the ministry. He never lost faith. "I'm looking at the world through a dead man's eyes," he says. A man dying of cancer asked that the cornea of his eyes be used to restore the sight of some blind person.

Cabot Buys Hospital Here For Offices

The Cabot Company of this city today announced in a brief release that it had bought the Worley Hospital, 400 West Francis, to be used at a later date as an office building.

The sale was consummated yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock by Cabot officials and the Worley estate.

For an unspecified time, according to the announcement, the building is under lease to Dr. M. C. Overton, Jr., who has been operating it for a few years.

The announcement from Cabot said: "Cabot Carbon Company announces the purchase of the Worley Hospital building effective April 1. The Company proposes to use the building for an office, however, at a later date it is under lease to Dr. Overton."

The Worley, a 40-bed institution, is one of the two hospitals at Pampa. The other is the Pampa Hospital, 1000 Kingmill. A new county hospital has been proposed here.

High Burdette, head of the Cabot interests here, told a reporter this morning, in response to a question, the concern did not plan to move any additional administrative offices here from Boston. He said the building would no more than hold local existing offices.

Although the interest in the transaction did not wish to comment on the subject of the new (See CABOT, Page 4)

Maintenance Men Greyhound Lines Strike in 9 States

FORT WORTH—P—Approximately 900 employees of the Southwestern Greyhound Lines maintenance department went on strike at 10 a. m. today over the company's new wage system.

J. E. Stanley of Dallas, president of the International Machinists Association, told the Fort Worth Star-Tribune.

Promptly at 10, the mechanics, stock clerks and other employees laid down their wrenches and assumed positions in picket lines outside the shops.

No shops are maintained at Fort Worth, but one-third of the strike force employees at the Dallas garage. Other main shops are located at Amarillo, Houston and Kansas City.

Stanley said the Independent Union had asked the company to take action against drivers. He added that he did not know whether the union drivers had voted any sympathy action with the maintenance workers' effort.

Typical of the pay raises being sought is the effort to gain $1.50 an hour, 20-cent pay hike, for journeyman mechanics.

Stanley said the unions future relations with the company will be handled with L. C. Penn, Dallas, grand lodge representative, through T. F. Morrow, U. S. conciliation service representative.

Morrow was in Abilene Friday but was expected to return to his Fort Worth home Friday night.

The union and the company met in negotiations on the wage dispute in Fort Worth last Feb. 15 to Feb. 16. A 30-day strike period ended at midnight last Tuesday.

Pampa School Students Celebrating Easter

Students of the Pampa Schools rejoiced today as they were given a two-day holiday in observance of Easter.

The High School closed the day yesterday with a short devotional assembly program given by Rev. Russell G. West, pastor of Church of the Brethren, who told the story of the first Easter. The A Cappella Choir opened and closed the program by singing, "O Morn of Beauty," and "A Legend."

Junior High held a special assembly Thursday morning, and most of the grade schools had Easter egg hunts and parties during the afternoon.

Classes will begin again Tuesday morning at the regular time.

HOT LUNCH NORTH CHICAGO, Ill.—P—It was a sad day in the North Chicago firehouse.

While the firemen were out fighting a morning blaze, their lunch burned.

During the afternoon they were called out and after two hour fire battle and again their meal burned up.

So were the firemen. They finally got their food cooked and eaten about 7 p. m.

Unions in communications fields affecting the business and personal life of most Americans have threatened to strike as a result of unsettled disputes with subsidiaries of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company and the Western Union Telegraph Company.

In addition, the Radio Writers Guild (Ind.) will vote Monday and Tuesday on proposed strike action against the major radio networks.

Top development in the telephone crisis, with the strike deadline set for 6 a.m. (EST) Monday was a statement today by Attorney General Tom Clark that President Truman has the legal power to seize the telephone industry.

The President said yesterday that he was examining the matter to see whether he had the power to do so.

Clark based his opinion on the Federal Communications Act, which he said was based on the War Emergency Act and would continue until six months after the official "termination of the war."

John J. Morgan, chairman of the Federal Communications Commission, said yesterday that the unions would obey a legal seizure, although he doubted whether such legal authority existed.

Union and company officials continued meetings in Washington and at other scattered points in the nation today, but little or no progress was reported by the various media.

The strike threat to Western Union came with the filing of a 30-day strike notice by the Commercial Telegraphers Union (AFL) on behalf of its 50,000 members employed by the company. The action followed what a union spokesman termed "the complete collapse of collective bargaining."

The CTU contract with Western Union expired April 1 and was extended to July 1 to permit further negotiations. Jesse A. Payne, CTU president, said a 30-day cancellation clause would permit the union to call a strike any time after May 2.

The strike would disrupt Western Union service throughout the nation, with the possible exception of the New York Metropolitan area, where the American Communication (CIO) represents a majority of Western Union employees. The ACA has on other occasions, however, refused to pass CIO picket lines.

The radio writers' strike vote, which might result in keeping many top radio programs off the air, will be conducted in New York and Hollywood Monday night and in Chicago on Tuesday.

A union spokesman said the action was being taken because the networks and independent stations refused to negotiate a minimum basic agreement on wages and working conditions for 1,700 free lance writers in the Guild. The spokesman said about 300 other Guild members are covered by staff contracts with the three major networks.

Someone in town doesn't like dogs of any kind, city police deduced yesterday after another case of dog poisoning in the E. Gordon Ave. section was reported to them.

So far one little pet has died from the lethal drug and three others reported "very sick" from the effects.

At first the dogs were expected to die but started on the road to recovery after responding to treatment.

While police are expected to shoot dogs which are found to be rabid or otherwise generally dangerous, they turned to protect them this time from some unknown canine hater. An investigation has already been started by the police, Chief Allen said.

A present city ordinance prohibits the placing of any poisons on open lots, alleys, pavements or streets where children may be able to get the drug and harm themselves. It also carries a stiff fine for violations.

Allen said that whoever is poisoning the dogs is doing so regardless of the danger it causes from neighboring children picking up the stuff and "testing it" in childlike curiosity. It wasn't clear to city officials immediately whether or not there is an ordinance against the willful destruction of animals by anyone other than police or veterinarians.

The Shensi cities reported taken were Wapaoan, 50 miles north of Follen Yenan, and Tingpian, in the northwest.

Government troops which advanced from Yenan to take Wapaoan formed the south jaw of a vise which Chinese reports said might soon close on Red forces. These reports said a northern column, moving down from Yulin, was only 13 miles away, separated by a stretch of easy terrain.

Official estimates said 2,000 to 3,000 communists were killed in the bitter, weeklong battle for Wapaoan, reportedly headquarters for a time for the Red commander-in-chief, Gen. Chu Teh.

Steve Matthews Again Named City Manager

Steve Matthews who served as city manager of Pampa from April, 1940, to January, 1943, when he went into the U. S. service, has been named to that post again, it was announced today by C. A. Huff, mayor, speaking on behalf of the City Commission.

Matthews, who is connected with a local laundry, will assume his duties on May 1, the time when Garland Franks, outgoing city manager, will retire from the office.

City Manager Franks said today he would have an announcement next week as to his future plans. He announced a month ago that he would either continue work as a city manager elsewhere, or take a newspaperman, as well as city manager.

He gave notice several weeks ago that he was planning to resign his post here. He has been here since September, 1945.

Matthews, prior to his managerial duties here, served two years in that capacity at Borger. He is a graduate of East Texas State College, Commerce, from which he holds an A.B. and M.A. degree.

He majored in government and administrative work. He, his wife and baby son reside at 420 North West St.

Mayor Huff said: "The Commission feels gratified in being able to get not only a qualified, but also a man to fill this job—a man who will be able to continue to carry out the policies of the Commission."

Matthews was named as city manager yesterday afternoon. Today he said he felt that the Commission (See CITY MANAGER, Page 4)

British-Albania Issue Shapes Up For Court Case

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y.—P—The 15th sitting in the $1,500,000 peace case in the Hague may have a case to work on shortly.

The International Court of Justice, legal arm of the United Nations, has been in operation for nearly two years. Now the Security Council appears ready to toss a job to the $18,000-a-year judges.

Britain set the machinery in motion to refer her mine-laying charges against Albania to the World Court with a resolution in the Council. Several nations immediately supported the step and close observers of the Council's work say a possible Russian veto as the only barrier.

Andrei A. Gromyko, Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister, exerted the veto to kill an earlier Council verdict finding Albania "had knowledge" of the laying of the mines which wrecked two royal navy destroyers and killed 44 sailors last Oct. 22 in Corfu Channel. However, there was doubt whether Gromyko would use the veto again to block a reference of the complaint to the court.

Poland, Russia, in partner in Council voting, indicated it would abstain and in some circles this was viewed as a tipoff on what Gromyko would do next Wednesday when the issue comes up for vote.

The Soviet-sponsored Albania government denied the British charges, and both Russia and Poland insisted the British had no case.

Since opening April 18, 1946, the court has been on procedural work preparing for the reception of cases. The U. N. rules provides that it may handle disputes between nations and give advisory opinions to the General Assembly and the U. N. Councils. So far no one has asked for any opinions or submitted any disputes.

Lions to Observe

20th Anniversary
Miss Zita Kennedy, Pampa High School senior, was introduced yesterday as the new member, Lions Club Sweetheart at their regular weekly luncheon meeting.

During the business session it was announced that the Pampa Lions Club will observe its 20th Birthday Anniversary on the night of April 24. It will be a ladies night and all members were warned to bring their wives or sweethearts or both.

The entertainment program was furnished by the Sam Houston Grade School Chorus, under the direction of Mrs. Ray Sullivan.

They sang a selection of light semi-classical and religious numbers.

Kilgore College

Has New Grid Coach
KILGORE.—(AP)—Jimmie Parks, head football coach at Kilgore Junior College, has been appointed athletic director of the school. Will Walls, assistant football coach and head basketball coach for the last year, will succeed him as head football coach.

President B. E. Masters, in announcing the changes, said that Parks would also coach basketball. Parks became head football coach last year when Clyde Lee went to the University of Tulsa.

Walls, former star athlete at Texas Christian, played six years with the New York Giants of the National Professional Football League.

Before World War II Burma was the world's leading rice exporter.

A MESSAGE FROM THE CHIEF OF STAFF
The Time of Need Is Now

The Selective Service System, which helped build so magnificent a wartime Army, is being discontinued as an immediate source of men for Army service. Its record is one of distinction, and the Nation's gratitude goes out to all those responsible for the efficient administration of that system, as well as to the millions of selected men who served with such courage and devotion.

From now on we are engaged in a great test, to see whether a system traditionally American in peacetime—the volunteer system—can give us the stable, well-trained Regular Army our current international commitments require.

We have come to a crucial turning point in the development of our military establishment. Building an all-volunteer Regular Army is not a job for the War Department alone; it is a job for the American people—a task of writing the insurance against the chaos of another war.

Here are the basic facts: To carry out our present assignments, we must maintain the Regular Army at a strength of 1,070,000 men. This will require a constant flow into the Army of 30,000 men a month. These men must be of high quality, and every one must be a volunteer. Thus we face a persistent question: Can we do the job?

The task is enormous. Never before have we even considered raising and maintaining a peacetime Regular Army of a million volunteers. There are no sign-posts to go by, no experience on which to base sure forecasts. But such obstacles have never deterred this Nation before.

I have confidence in the young men of America, whose opportunity it is to choose this fine profession. And I believe we can do the job—if we have three things: public understanding, public support and public action.

Woman Loses License, Fined on DWI Charge

Kizzie Marie Thompson, American Hotel was arrested by City Police last night on charges of driving while intoxicated after she had almost rammed the police car on Brown St.
Fined $50 and costs with a suspension of driving privileges for six months, testimony in County Court this morning brought out she forced a taxi cab into the gutter and narrowly missed a police car while driving on the left side of the street. County Judge Sherman White handed down the sentence after she pleaded guilty to the charge.

The Time of Need Is Now

National observance of Army Day and Army Week is made possible by public support. This has come from the fine young soldiers who have volunteered, from individuals, and from organized groups. Now, as we strive to build a Regular Army to help enforce world peace and security, I ask those who have given so generously of their help to redouble their efforts.

They can do so in the knowledge that the United States Army offers able young Americans not only three things every man wants—good pay, a real career, a chance for advancement—but also the honor and dignity which is associated with national service in time of need.

The time of need is now.

WE, THE WOMEN

Improving the House May Spoil the Home

By RUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer

In his provocative new book "How Good Is Your Taste?" Sanford Gerard, artist and art director, describes as his favorite Americans those people who are forever laying things aside for something "better."

Who? Who? Who? "Want to advance faster than is good for them," who never stop worrying about their taste.

That would seem to put Mr. Gerard's stamp of approval on a certain type of woman who is becoming more and more common in small towns and cities throughout the country.

She is far more interested in house-decorating than in home-making. That is, she is more concerned with finding a chair that is exactly the right chaircase than she is with finding one that is exactly right for her husband to sit in when he is reading the funnies, or listening to the radio.

She wears herself out and keeps her husband forever paying bills because having each room in her home reproduce a certain picture in her mind (usually one she has borrowed) is so important to her.

But because she is constantly improving her taste, the picture is never quite right and she is never completely happy with it.

FAMILY RECOGNIZED
You don't even have to see such a woman's house to recognize her. For if she walks into yours she is obviously more interested in your house than in your hospitality.

She doesn't quite follow what you are saying, so busy is she silently approving your draperies or wondering why in heaven's name you decided on green carpeting.

You can have her, Mr. Gerard. To other women she is "Mrs. Jones"—a place-setter—and trying to keep up with her is a terrible headache.

ENVIOUS OF someone else's pep?

Don't be! Simply fortify yourself against fatigue—against that constant tired-out feeling! Remember this—your work won't out, and there's nothing else wrong, this indicates you may not be getting enough of the vitamins and minerals required to maintain vigor and vitality! If that's true, try Vitawine without delay!

Vitawine is a palatable, super-potent tonic. It contains 6 times the adult minimum daily requirement—11 times the iron—plus other vitamins and minerals. It's scientifically and specifically formulated as a real aid to nature in rebuilding and maintaining pep, strength and energy when you're not getting enough of the "energy" vitamins and minerals this potent tonic contains. So—try this super-potent tonic! It may give results when many others fail.

Horace Mann Third Grade Gives Operetta

Third grade pupils of Horace Mann School, under the direction of Miss Ede Spright, Mrs. John Branham, and Miss Jimma Seary, presented an operetta "Spring Glory" for the assembly program Thursday morning.

Macy Bateson, as Bluebird, was the herald of Spring. Jimmy Schiffman, as Jack Frost, with his elves, defied the coming of Spring. They captured two of Spring's Maidens, Virginia Collins and Joan Collins, and hid them in their ice cave.

Many groups of Spring's helpers defied the maidens' release and warned him of punishment for his wicked deeds. He was still defiant until the Sunshine Fairies came to check him. The Brownies captured him and his elves, and took them to spring, Anita Southard, who banished him to the Northland. Spring was crowned by her people who sang graciously of her good qualities.

The colorful costumes worn by the various groups of Frost Elves, Pussy Willows, Rain Drops, Bees, Brownies, Sunshine Fairies, Butterflies, Breezes, and Flower Maidens enhanced the beauty of the production given by these amateur players.

ENTRIES FOR BABY CONTEST MUST BE MADE BY APRIL 7
Monday, April 7, is the deadline for filing entries in the First Baptist Church Baby Contest which is being sponsored by the Ruth, Euzellen and Winsome Classes.

Anyone wishing to enter a child are asked to submit a snapshot to Mrs. Tom Rose, Jr., 1307 Mary Ellen, phone 997-W.

The contest will be held in the basement of the church from 2 until 4 o'clock, Monday, April 21. It is open to all children, under 2 years of age, of members or prospective members of the First Baptist Church.

POT-LUCK SUPPER IS PLANNED BY PANHANDLE HD CLUB APRIL 22
PANHANDLE—(Special)—Plans were made for a pot-luck supper in the home of Mrs. O. York, when the Panhandle Home Demonstration Club met in the church, south of town, on Tuesday afternoon, April 22.

Old Bakes on Tuesday afternoon, a business and social meeting with the president, Mrs. M. L. Bender, presiding. This supper will be April 22.

Other routine business was transacted and plans were made to attend the district meeting of the Texas Home Demonstration Association to be held in Hereford May 7.

During the social hour refreshments were served to Mesdames V. C. Meaker, Fred Crist, Lee Roy Meaker, Herbert Sullivan, Oliver Russell, O. York, M. L. Bender, Ray Anderson and C. F. Hood.

The next meeting of the Club will be April 15 in the home of Mrs. V. C. Meaker, when Miss Charlotte Tompkins, home demonstration agent, will give a demonstration on "Food Preservation."

McLean Seniors Have 'Heyday' Directly Out of Comic Page
McLEAN, (Special)—Anything can happen on April Fool's Day, but just the same, many McLean residents dared to consider themselves in Deepatch, the home of Dagwood and Blondie or on a wild adventure with Superman—in comic page dream, that is.

It was no dream, son—just the McLean High School seniors on the Senior Day lark.

The day began with a program at the High School for the benefit of the entire student body. Following this, Dagwood, Blondie, Superman and all the rest adjourned to downtown McLean where they performed comic strip stunts for passersby.

The cast was as follows: Lil Abner, J. D. Ayers; Daisie Mae, Jean Terry; Sadie Hawkins, Ernestine Dickinson; Wolf Gal, Faith Hancock; Moonbeam McSwine, Glenda Joyce Smith; Mammy Yokum, Wendell Rat the Rat, Pappy Yokum, Chester Gough; Hilda, Betty Wood; Johnny Hutchinson; Pub Dorthiea Back; Jeep, Billy Hall; Pop-eye, Dickie Rigby; Olive Oil, Patty Rippy; Hilda, Betty Wood; June, Patsy Alexander; Wonder Woman, Oma Bell McPherson; Little Lulu, Marjorie Goodman; Negro Mammy, Pauline Moore; Lady Plushbottom, Naomi Glenn Smith; Mamie Loreva Davis; Superman, James Cooke; Lois Lane, Laura Wilcox; Dagwood, Bill Willingham; Blondie, G. O. Gordon; Major Hoople, Gerald Knutson.

The seniors were guests of the Lions Club at noon, following which they went on a picnic to the Frank Wilson Place southwest of town. In the evening, the class sponsored a Bingo Party at the Legion Hut.

Rainbow Girls
The regular meeting of the Rainbow Girls will be held Monday afternoon at 2:30 in the basement of the First Methodist Church, instead of the usual time.

FREYBETTERIAN AUXILIARY SHAMROCK (Special)—The Freybetterian Auxiliary met in the home of Mrs. Tracy Tapp Monday afternoon. Mrs. Tom Brown presided and opened the meeting with a prayer.

Mrs. W. R. Doty was in charge of the Bible lesson and gave "The Gospel According to Luke," a commentary by Dr. G. O. Gordon.

Mrs. Brown led in prayer following the lesson and Mrs. W. R. Doty, the incoming president, took charge of the business session.

new what its policies are, that it was the job of the city manager to carry them out, and that he would do just that. "The people, I feel, are well represented in the present Commission," he added.

It was stated that so far as management is concerned, he is severed from the laundry business once he takes office.
He served three years in the navy, operating in all theaters. He left the service of the city during the administration of Mayor Fred Thompson, and Commissioners George Cree and H. C. Wilson.

It was announced yesterday that, following the rejection of the initial plans for the new institution as presented by the architect, additional plans would be submitted to comply with certain suggestions advanced by local physicians. It was announced several days ago that the original plans by W. R. Leaves From a Correspondent's Life Note Book

By HAL BOYLE

ORACOCKE, N. C. — (P) — "Big Ike" O'Real can still hear the sea, but it doesn't say anything to him anymore.

"Ain't done a stroke of work for eleven years now," said "Big Ike," sitting in a rocker in the weathered frame house where he lives now, a sailor home from the waves. He still tells his hours by a fine old cathedral clock he paid $2.50 for 39 years ago. Almost 82, "Big Ike" is one of the few veterans of the era of sail left on this small island off the North Carolina coast, part of the "outer banks" which seamen know as the graveyard of the Atlantic.

Time has chipped away some of "Big Ike's" 240 pounds but hasn't bent his six foot-three frame. Nor has it slowed his fondness for "yarning" about the days that are gone, when the Hatteras Shoals seized rich ships and turned them into sea skeletons.

"I'm glad to see you—or anybody else for that matter," said "Big Ike" the night I called on him. "I can't talk so well, because I'm using somebody else's teeth. I bought 'em all right. But they ain't really my own teeth. That's why I say I'm using somebody else's teeth."

Two events that stand out in his crowded memory are the first time he ever ate white flour bread and the night the duck flew in through his cottage floor.

"I was eleven years old and never tasted anything but corn meal," he said. "My brother and a fellow bought a barrel of flour in New York, paid ten dollars for it. We spread a sheet out on the floor, rolled the barrel on it and divided the barrel by sawing it in half. The flour was packed so tight it didn't even crumble or spill."

"You know I didn't sleep at all that night, wondering what flour bread would taste like in the morning."

It was in "the big storm of 18 and 99" that "Big Ike" had his locally famous encounter with the mysterious duck.

"Longest storm we ever had—lasted from Tuesday afternoon to Friday night," he said. "Had nothing but my olskins on, and there were three or four families in the house—children crying, women screaming, men praying, and water rising outside."

"I was afraid the house would float off its blocks. I thought if I opened a hole in the kitchen it would equalize the pressure, and help hold the house down."

"I took my ax, hit it a lick. I pulled up a plank, the water slopped in, and a big white duck flew up and didn't stop until he hit the ceiling. He was quacking as loud as God would let him."

"I was more than skeered. I caught the duck and put him in a box, but I didn't have any appetite for him then. Didn't cook him until the storm was over."

Train Wreck

sengers through a hole ripped in the side of one coach.

Police said the crash occurred at 10:41 p. m. (CST).
Most of the injured were taken to hospitals at nearby Hinsdale and Aurora. Three were reported in serious condition. Many who suffered cuts and bruises were treated at doctors' offices and released.
The Zephyr's engineer, Clarence Thurston, 67, of Aurora, Ill., was trapped in the diesel's cab, which lay on its side 100 feet ahead of the coaches. He was reported in serious condition at a hospital after being cut out of the cab.

Inside the coaches most passengers remained calm and were removed in orderly fashion through windows and doors.

Daniel Trygg, 24, of Minneapolis, Minn., a student at the University of Minnesota, said bricks fell through the roof of his coach as it rammed into the depot. Trygg, who was unhurt, added:

"The man sitting in the seat right in front of me was killed. He was buried under bricks. Most people were pretty calm, and most of those I saw hurt had only cuts and bruises. We were lucky."

tank on his own property on the strength of a telegram received from the Texas Fire Insurance Department.

On April 1, Fire Chief Ben White acting in his capacity as fire marshal, wire the Department:
"A party here insists on building a 1500 gallon storage tank for grip gasoline (casinghead gasoline), or any other gasoline in city among residences or back of 50 foot lot to be 18 inches above ground. Please advise . . . what steps to prevent this fire hazard and explain dangers involved."

A few hours later the chief received a return wire stating:

" . . . If conditions as outlined in your telegram are permitted all buildings within 30 feet will have rate increase of $1 per hundred dollars of insurance and it will be necessary to raise the key (meaning base) rate of the entire city two cents for special hazard exposures. You have authority under city fire marshal ordinance to abate hazards to life and property and would suggest that you have city attorney take immediate step to block this hazard."

Since Tarrant told the Commission that he wanted the storage tank for his own private use, the Commission took the stand of public safety above private needs and refused the request with the city fire marshal ordinance to block them up.

Without any formality, Mayor C. A. Huff, and Commissioners Crawford Atkinson, Vernon Hobbs, W. E. Ballard and Fred H. Paronto were sworn into office by City Secretary J. Ernest Hood for their two year term a few seconds after the Commission had canvassed the ballots and declared themselves reelected.

Building Inspector For City Resigns

R. R. Jones, plumbing inspector for the city, was appointed temporary inspector this week after Dennis Feigenspan resigned to attend Texas A. and M. College. It was announced by the City Commission.

Building permits will now be issued in the offices of the plumbing inspector until a new building inspector can be obtained.

MOVED TO TEARS

ROCKFORD, Ill. — (P) — The play, was no turkey, but a weeping audience greeted with relief the premature ringing down of the curtain. Two hundred persons viewing George Cohan's melodrama, "Seven Keys to Baldpate," as presented by the Rockford Little Theater group, wept copiously after a prop revolver discharged gas cartridges instead of blanks.

Mahatma Gandhi, 76,Calls for 'One World'

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

In India we find Mahatma Gandhi, frail but not bowed by his seventy-six tumultuous years, sitting cross-legged before the Inter-Asian Conference in New Delhi and advising delegates that Asia should give to the West "a message of love and a message of truth." He calls for the achievement of "one world," as an audience of 25,000 listens intently to the man who is the most powerful individual in all India.

But this is merely an interlude in the Mahatma's campaign to get India into the right frame of mind to deal with its problem of implementing the independence which Britain has offered. He is dealing with this question not only from the political but from the spiritual angle—largely the latter.

Gandhi is laying before his people the teachings of the sermon on the mount, which years ago he told me had been the greatest influence in his own life.

The political situation in India is this:

A provisional government has been formed, but while the Hindus and the Indian princes have agreed

WHEELER NEWS

WHEELER—(Special)—The Rev. P. D. Pullingim and Homer Moss were in Pampa Monday evening where they attended church services at the Calvary Baptist Church.

Mrs. Tom Britt returned Saturday from Dallas and Temple where she visited her daughter and mother.

Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Britt attended the funeral of Mr. Britt's sister, Mrs. Anna Cain, at Shamrock Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Cain was 90 years old. Also attending funeral services were Mr. and Mrs. Tom Britt and Davis, and Mr. and Mrs. Buck Britt of Clayton.

Charley Carter has been in Wheeler Hospital with the flu.

Mrs. Belle Green has been confined to her home for the past two weeks with the flu. She is slowly improving.

Miss Mary Black, who is attending school at Amarillo, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Buster Black, last weekend.

Jim Neely Accepts Spearman Position

Jim Neely, who is associated with the Reeves Olds Company here, has accepted the management of the McClellan Chevrolet Company at Spearman, and will leave this weekend to assume his new duties.

Neely, who is the father of two children, a girl and a boy, will leave his family here until school is out, he said. He and his family have been residents of Pampa from 1937 to 1940, and then from November, 1945, to the present time.

to participate, the Moslems are standing out. The latter, who are outnumbered three to one by the Hindus, claim that they have no hope of fair treatment against such odds and insist on the establishment of independent Moslem states. Neither the British nor the Hindus want this.

There has been widespread fighting between Moslems and Hindus in many parts of the country and thousands of lives have been taken. There reports—and they are not hard to believe—that some of these bloody clashes have been inspired by ill-advised political leaders.

Things got so bad that some weeks ago the little Mahatma went into Bengal, where the fighting had been particularly fierce, and risked his life by tramping from village to village with his message of peace and goodwill.

Gandhi is bent on achieving a compromise which will permit the provisional government to function. He is working on the basis of brotherly love.

AUCTION SALE ON A HOUSE

John Martin who lives out at 807 East Gordon, out in the Wilcox Addition is being transferred away, and he has to sell his house real quick, and I thought the best way to do it would be to have some bids on it. If you would want to buy a pretty good house that sets on about 4 lots, with some outbuildings, and a good orchard where you would have plenty of room, go out and look it over and make him a bid. We are fixing to sell it to somebody. You might get a bargain here.

I have a mighty good, small wheat farm that I can sell worth the money, lays close to town, about a mile off the pavement. I would give one-third of the wheat, and reserve 1/2 the mineral. This won't last long I don't think.

Here's a good five-room modern house, with a good three-room, and one two-room house on the back that I can sell worth the money. This would make someone some good rent property, as it is in a good location. Want 7500 for it and it is on a corner lot.

This is the best house I've had to be moved—2 bedrooms, living room, dining room, kitchen with built-in cabinet, bath with tub, plenty of built-in. Well constructed with triple floors and walls. Wired for electricity, newly decorated, floors newly sanded, good roof, garage. This house is really a good buy at $900.00. Located about 4 miles from town.

Demaree and Byron Leading Masters Meet

By CHICK HOSCH
AUGUSTA—(AP)—Byron Nelson and Jimmy Demaree, who learned their golf on the flat plains of Texas, took to the rolling National course here today for the second round of the 11th annual Masters Tournament with a one-stroke lead over the field of 58.

Each opened his bid to win the coveted $10,000 event again by posting three-under par 69's over the 6,800-yard layout. They left seven other contestants tied at 70, six more deadlocked at 71, and six with even par 72's.

A stroke behind the famous pair were George Snelcher of Salt Lake City, Johnny Palmer of Badin, N. C., Ed Oliver of Wilmington, Del., Jim Ferrer of Chicago, Fred Haas of New Orleans, Johnny Bulla of Phoenix, Ariz., and Lew Worsham of Washington, D. C.

Demaree, winner here in 1940 and now playing out of Ojai, Calif., turned in one of yesterday's most spectacular shots. He discarded his shoes and socks to blast out of a water hole and get a birdie four on the 48th hole.

Nelson, now retired and living at Rossmore, Texas, won here in 1937 and 1932.

Bobby Locke, the South African champion, ran into difficulty of the greens—which are much faster than those to which he is accustomed—finished with 38-36 for a 74.

Plans Completed for Medal Play Golf Meet

Plans for the Pampa Country Club Medal Play Golf Tournament, which is to be held April 26, have been completed, Frank Baker, club pro, announced recently.

Approximately 60 entries are expected to tee off on the nine-hole qualifying round which will be played any day between the dates of April 12 through the 19.

The tournament play will consist of 27 holes, 18 of which will be played on April 26. The nine-hole qualifying round counts on the total score.

Baker said, "This tournament is not limited to our membership only. Any Pampa resident wishes may participate." The tournament entrance fee is $1.

San Antonio Fans Concerned With Park, Not Team

By HAROLD SCHERWITZ
San Antonio Light

SAN ANTONIO—(AP)—San Antonio fans have been so busy wondering if they will have a baseball park that they haven't had much time to wonder about the club. And that at the latest checkup, goes for the parent St. Louis Browns, too.

In San Antonio, far away from the best spring training climate in the world, the Missions have been struggling along between showers and cold winds frankly waiting for the Browns and their American Association brethren from Toledo, also San Francisco, to assign them some talent.

What they've had in camp today isn't enough. They admit it. They might get by, and they might even pull a surprise like they did in 1946 when they were rated about sixth and finished third after crowding out North and Dallas all season.

But they've lost lots of punch in Ray Coleman, Jess Newman and Charley Grant, promoted to Toledo, and Pete Kraus, traded to New Orleans for catcher Marcus Carroll.

And they'll miss strong-armed Jack Jakucki, who won 15 games last summer. Jakucki was swapped to Seattle for Joe Demoran, veteran right-hander who used to toil for Dallas.

The familiar names of Ed Cole, New Carver, Johnny (Footsie) Marcum, Al Lamacchia and Chili Wagener, the last named the only lefty in the lot, head the pitching roster. Much is being made of Marcum's apparent comeback after he suffered a "dead" arm last year.

Newcomers still on the rolls are Demoran, and a squad of graduates from Elmira of the eastern league; Ernie Bickhaus, Bob Doyle, Mike Rolla, Marlin Stuart, Ralph Germano and Dave Garland. Germano, the lone Southpaw in this group, and Garland still are Elmira prop-warrant elevation to the Texas league if something better isn't dropped in the Mission's lap from above.

Two veterans on whom San Antonio had counted apparently aren't going to play—Bill Selneth, a left-hander, and Sid Peterson, a pre-war star in the Mission ranks.

An outfielder with a potent bat named George Bradley from Toledo also is being difficult this way and has been scratched off the list. In his place the Missions may get a Giant with a strong arm but a slight allergy to curreball pitching named George Corona.

The opening day outfield, barring late additions, should be, reading from left to right, Charley Wisniewski who batted .302 for Indianapolis last year; Ruben Naranjo, the pride of San Antonio's Latin-American west side, and either Jack Brudshier, who has been hitting around in the St. Louis chain for some years, or a flashy left-handed batsman from the South Atlantic league named Jimmy Robinson.

ERRORS, MORE ERRORS
PORT WORTH—(AP)—Port Worth scored an easy exhibition victory over rival Texas League Club Oklahoma City here yesterday, 11-4. Seven Oklahoma City errors, three by Manager Roy Schalk, aided Port Worth's victory spurge.

Texans Responsible For Most Fishing Plugs --- Good and Bad

By JACK RUTLEDGE
Get your fishing box. Pick out your favorite plug, the one you've had the most luck with, and take a good look at it. It probably was made in Texas.

A fast growing Texas industry has followed in the wake of increased interest in fishing—the manufacture of plugs, lures, flies and various types of artificial baits.

A gentleman in San Antonio makes such attractive flies that some women fishermen wear them as ornaments on their dresses. Over in Uvalde, Art Sansom and Hub Eoff have developed an artificial lure they call the "wonder bug," made of cellophane, colored nail polish and odd lengths of wire. In Sherman, a man makes what he calls the "whopper stopper."

But the largest such factory we've seen is the Bomber Bait Company in Gainesville, owned and operated by Ike Walker, John W. Parker and C. S. Turbeville.

They have applied for a patent for both design and name—"The Bomber." In the meantime they produce over 1,000 bombers a day and are 400 dozen behind in orders.

The original design was whittled out by Ralph Whelan three and a half years ago. It has been changed and improved upon (Parker, one of the owners, is a science teacher at the high school) but it's still a lot like Whelan's old bomber.

It was designed to get depth, and to wiggle under water while being retrieved. Fishermen will realize the value of both.

Parker says the bomber will go down as much as six feet, "down where the fish are," and while being reeled in, will remain about ten feet under water and "wiggle like hell."

They make it in one basic design, but in three sizes and 17 colors. Each individual lure requires about 24 hand operations before it's ready for sale, and has about eight different bits of wood and metal attached.

New machinery has been invented in Gainesville to speed up the process of manufacture. But it's still mostly hand work, like the eyes, which are of two colors—yellow, with a black iris. They're made or painted on with a common nail. A worker dips the head into the yellow ink, applies to the lure, then dips the other end into black ink and dabs it in the center of the yellow.

The body of the bomber is made of cedar. It's a special type and Parker won't tell where he gets it. The paint used has been tested and won't crack. It has triple hooks, because it goes down deep, it wiggles, and it floats.

He admits that most of the ideas fishermen have about pet plugs are just plain superstition, but that when it comes to the bomber, it delivers.

There must be some truth to his claim, because sales of this unadorned, unpromoted artificial bait have extended into Kansas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Louisiana, Missouri, Tennessee, New Mexico, Arizona and, of course, all over Texas.

CARDS BREAK CAMP
ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—(AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals broke camp last night after what Manager Eddie Dyer termed, "the best training camp trip I've ever known," and headed for Houston, Texas, for a four-game series with their Farm club there and the first stop on their long trip home.

BARRETT TO FITCH

Eighth Grade Softball Finals Slated Wednesday

The softball team from room 213 will meet Room 114 in the finals of the 8th Grade Junior High Softball Tournament next Wednesday noon. Room 213 broke into the finals round when the defeated Room 113 in a closely contested game yesterday.

Room 114 clinched their chances for finals play when they beat Room 117 in a comfortable 7 to 2 game last Wednesday.

A game to decide the third place team in the 8th grade division will be held between Rooms 113 and 117 next Tuesday.

Longhorn Nine Home for Easter

AUSTIN—(AP)—The University of Texas baseball team returns to its home diamond today and tomorrow to entertain the Oklahoma University nine in two Easter holiday games.

The two-game series will be the third and fourth games of the week for the Steers.

Scarcity of front line pitching talent is expected to hinder the Longhorns despite the home field advantage.

Five starters from last year's Oklahoma team that defeated the Texas team twice here on their last meeting will be on hand. Jack Venable and Jack Watkins, who combined to win one of the '46 contests are returning.

A 10-2 win over Rice Wednesday on Bobby Layne's three-hit pitching kept the Longhorns on top of the heap in the conference race, sharing first-place honors with the Baylor Bears.

Outfielder Rex Travis, leading hitter on the Texas team, who missed the Rice game because of a shoulder injury, may be ready to go against the Sooners.

Commission 'Shuts Door' to Filchok and Hapes for 'Fix'

PHILADELPHIA—(AP)—The door barring Merle Hapes and Frank Filchok from professional football—probably forever—swung shut today.

Square-jawed Bert Bell, commissioner of the National Football League, in the most far-reaching ruling in the annals of the pro gridiron game, suspended them indefinitely for their roles in the attempted fix of last year's championship game.

Bell admitted the decision was a "tough one to make." But said the New York Giants' backfield stars were found guilty of "actions detrimental to the welfare of the National Football League and of professional football."

"Professional football," Bell said in his decision announced yesterday, "cannot continue to exist unless it is based upon absolute honesty. The players must be not only absolutely honest; they must be above suspicion."

The ruling on Filchok and Hapes was the most recent chapter in the greatest sports scandal since the 1919 World Series. Only 24 hours earlier three men had been sentenced to prison terms for their parts in the attempt to fix last December's game.

Testimony at the trial of Alvin Paris and the three others, Harvey Stemmer, David Krakauer and Jerome Zarowitz, disclosed that Hapes and Filchok had refused the bribe offers.

Hapes, a former University of Mississippi ace, announced following Bell's ruling that "I'm through with professional football, anyway."

Filchok, former Indiana University griddler, told reporters in Washington that "I still want to play football. I guess I always will. I haven't made any future plans," he said, "simply because I never thought of being out of football."

Testimony at the trial of Paris, Stemmer, Krakauer and Zarowitz disclosed Hapes and Filchok were offered bribes of $2,500 each and $1,000 bets in their names as well as lucrative off-season jobs if they would "lay down" in the game.

YOUR LIVING COSTS
The high cost of food—which recently touched a record level—still holds an important place in the headlines. Reports of consumer resistance have come from all parts of the country. Government officials have been considering possible remedial measures. And retailers, whose prosperity depends upon a large and stable turnover, are definitely concerned.

The public should understand the position of the retailer in a matter such as this. He is literally caught in the middle—between high wholesale prices on the one hand, and consumer demand for lower prices on the other. He is without control over wages, the prices paid farmers, taxes, and everything else that enters into the final selling cost of food. What he can do is hold down his own cost of operation to the limit, so that price increases may be as small and as few as possible. And that is exactly what nine out of ten retailers are doing.

A recent report of what happens to each dollar spent by the consumer in one of the country's principal food chains tells the story. Of each dollar sale, less than one solitary cent remained with the store as net profit. All the rest went for overhead and purchases of one kind or another—for buying goods, for rent, for salaries, for taxes, etc. This system's operating costs are the lowest consistent with running an efficient, attractive store. It is obvious, in other words, that the retailer is not the reason for the high price of food.

Time will determine the future price trend. Your retailer, if he is typical, will give you the most possible for the least money—in food and other goods.

HOLLYWOOD—EXCLUSIVELY YOURS: Humphrey Bogart is losing his hair, due to an odd skin ailment, but it isn't as serious as reported elsewhere. One story said he was even losing his eyebrows and eyelashes, which is not true. But it is pretty definite that Bogart will join the toupee brigade.

Bogart's agent softened the blow for Jack Warner before he heard about Bogart's gradually balding, with a glowing discourse on Bing Crosby and other big male stars who wear toupees.

Well, I've been reading about atomic power, airships to Mars, and other modern super-stuff till I'm blue in the face, but as far as I'm concerned the only thing worth inventing is the new mothproof panty just dreamed up by researchers in Great Britain.

After all, we can hide from Gracie atomic radiation, but the moths have always been able to get at us.

This invention may put new spirit into the United Nations. It must have been difficult for the members of the Security Council to stand up at a meeting and demand security for all the world when their own panties weren't even secure from the nibbles of the insect.

I say "Burray for the new mothproof panty!" Now we are able to face the atomic age with courage and confidence.

Who Can Define Stealing?
Recently in this column I stated that those engaged in teaching in tax supported schools could not warrant not protect their students against the dangers of stealing—that is, theft from a purely moral point of view.

We are all familiar with the definitions of stealing as stated in law books—a very different thing than stealing when the theft is not covered by a man-made statute.

We have plenty of lawyers to discuss the law books and plenty of police officers to enforce the law. Where we are woefully weak is in understanding that it is just as vital to our welfare to be protected against those who steal but do not violate the law book statutes as it is to be protected against the gunman who takes your wallet. For the sake of clarity, we can call the one type of theft legal stealing and the other immoral steal.

I was talking to an older brother day who was an admiral of the Roosevelt policies and asked him to give an impartial definition of stealing. He admitted he could not do it. Of course he could not. No New Dealer could give a real impartial definition of stealing. If he attempted to do it, he would convict himself.

And too many Republican leaders could not give an impartial definition of stealing. Such men as Dewey, Warren and Hoover could not define immoral stealing that would not convict them of advocating it.

In fact, no socialist or no man that believes in socialistic doctrines such as social security, tax supported schools, compulsory saving, immigration restrictions, tariffs, graduated taxes, etc., can give a definition of immoral stealing.

All they can do is use their own personal changeable definition so that they will not convict themselves of being a party to steal.

It is no wonder we have such confusion after another when public schools cannot define immoral stealing and those at the heads of our parties do not know what immoral stealing is.

If you think that statement is not true, ask any educator connected with public institutions or any politician to give a definition of stealing. Of course they will not. They will not define immoral stealing, but not immoral stealing that has existed before there was any government. A real Christian or a man that truly believes in the Declaration of Independence and the ten amendments can define stealing without being embarrassed.

Here is my definition of stealing. See if it sanctions any socialistic act on the part of the government.

Stealing is any act wherein one or the state takes by force or threats of force or by fraud something from someone that he has produced himself or obtained in a voluntary non-fraudulent way.

Would that definition permit tax supported schools? And if that is not the proper definition for stealing, let someone who believes in the socialistic idea of tax supported schools write a real definition of immoral stealing. The best way to test the soundness of one's moral beliefs is to attempt to harmonize them with the Commandments and define their terms so that others may know what they mean without being obliged to come back to him every time to determine the meaning of their definition.

star at Republic. . . Ralph Bellamy finally has made up his mind. He'll re-marry his former wife, Catherine Willard, when his divorce from swing organist Ethel Smith is final.

I only know what I read in the papers about what goes on in this committee.

Rep. Walter Lynch (D) of New York, minority member House Ways and Means Committee.

HAZINESS FROM DUST
Floating dust particles, which usually vanish in the more rainy and windy seasons, cause the haziness in the atmosphere in Indian summer.

GRAND TOTAL OF $731 MILLION
It is now proposed to give $350 million more. Fifty million dollars of it will go for direct relief to follow up on the UNRRA shipments ending March 31. Twenty million will be for aid to Greek agriculture. Fifty million is intended as aid for industrial rehabilitation.

For Greek labor to do the reconstruction job and for building materials purchased in Greece, it is estimated another $80 million will be needed.

But still on top of this another $150 million is to be advanced the Greeks to modernize, equip, and train their army.

Add up all this postwar American aid to Greece—the U. S. share of UNRRA, the postwar credits, the new proposals—and the total comes to $731 million. The $350 million they're talking about in Congress now just jerks to cover the next 15 months.

The more you study this picture, the worse it looks. Sen. Bourke Hickenlooper asked Secretary Clayton, "If, after having spent all this money things get no better—then what?"

"We do not contemplate failure," said Clayton. "Fifteen months in this world is a good long time, and we shall be relieved, but you'll never be turned into Jay—John Jay."

The question everyone in Washington is now asking himself is, "What else is there to do?"

Flowers speak a language all their own. Whatever the occasion, beautify it with flowers from Clayton's. We deliver.

Plains Creamery Buys Quality Grade 'A' Milk to Better Serve You

Recently, local health officers returned from a trip to Arnett, Okla., and vicinity, where they made a complete check of milk sheds. Upon their return they reported that the grade "A" milk, that is used in this area, is handled in accordance with the state association regulations.

The Plains Creamery, located at 315 East Atchison, is the only purchaser of sweet milk in Arnett, or Ellis County, Okla., for that matter. That is why it is of outstanding interest to the Plains Creamery people that the milk be handled with the correct sanitation technique.

At the present time the Plains Creamery firm is making every effort to secure a greater amount of grade "A" milk for the residents of Pampa and vicinity. Only last week they were instrumental in projecting a plan whereby they may be able to obtain more grade "A" milk for this area.

The firm produces that better tasting, richer pasteurized and homogenized milk with the added vitamin D content, the only milk sold in Pampa that carries the stamp of approval of the American Medical Association.

Other products that are offered by the firm are buttermilk, whipping cream, coffee cream, cottage cheese, dairy orange juice and ice cream.

To better serve Pampa's residents with the better ice cream products the firm has recently completed the installation of a new cold storage vault for the purpose of hardening and storing ice cream. This vault is capable of maintaining temperatures ranging from 18 to 30 degrees below zero.

Remember—for the best in milk products drive by the Plains Creamery or choose the products with the Plains Creamery label at your grocery store.

The latest real treat being manufactured by the local Plains Creamery is their big, delicious ice cream sandwich. It consists of a generous portion of tasty vanilla ice cream between two vanilla wafers. Ask for a Plains Creamery Ice Cream Sandwich at your drug store or soda fountain today.

Clayton's Has Large Supply Easter Flowers

"On display at the Clayton Floral Company this week, is one of the largest and most varied selections of beautiful blooming plants of the entire year. Stately Easter lilies, the traditional Easter flower, are the finest they have been in years, just the right height for Church decoration or home use. Hydrangeas in colors ranging from pale pink to deep rose and rich dark blue are especially popular as Easter gifts. Deep red tulips, yellow King Alfred jonquils, and fragrant hyacinths are among the many other plants to make up the profusion of bloom to greet the visitor to Clayton's."

To accent the new Easter outfit a corsage of orchids, carnations, or gardenias furnish that extra something to make the day complete for milady; but they should be ordered early, since the supply of corsage flowers at Easter is never equal to the tremendous demand.

Roses, carnations, tulips, iris, jonquils, glads and spring flowers are available for bouquets and gift boxes, although the supply of roses and carnations are short of demand.

After Easter is over, the time for beautifying the yards will be upon us. Clayton's has the largest supply of bedding plants ever offered there and the prices have not increased. Their greenhouses are packed with flowering plants of every description, both annuals and perennials. They also have plenty of tomato and pepper plants of the most suitable varieties for our climate.

Motor Inn Auto Supply Will Have Open House Tomorrow

The Motor Inn Auto Supply is celebrating its fourteenth year in Pampa, by moving into its new modern building on west Foster St. Crawford Atkinson, general manager, and Luke McClelland, store manager, are very proud of their new building which is unique of design and construction. Glass brick predominates throughout the brick and concrete walls while the front consists of stainless steel and plate glass. The 8400 sq. ft. of floor space is well lighted by fluorescent fixtures and the entire building is completely insulated throughout.

Although the business did not originate in Pampa, Atkinson opened his Motor Inn Auto Supply here in 1933, and added McClelland to his staff as a junior partner. The Motor Inn Auto Supply consists of two stores, one in Pampa, and the other at Big Springs. The concern specializes entirely in the wholesale business and carries equipment, parts and supplies for car dealers, garages, service stations and fleet owners. Their salesmen cover forty counties in Texas, Oklahoma, and New Mexico, thereby giving a wide area, the advantage of The Motor Inn Auto Supply's complete and up to date stock of equipment.

Another interesting feature about the Motor Inn Auto Supply is that it has the most modernly equipped automotive machine shop in the Panhandle. The machine shop, which is in the rear of the supply department is perfectly equipped to handle all types of machine shop service, and they are particularly proud of their crankshaft grinding. With one of the largest crankshaft grinders in this part of the country, and men who are experts to run it, the Motor Inn Auto Supply feels that it is second to none in this line of work. The machine shop also does expert work on re-boring and complete motor service.

All in all, Atkinson and McClelland are justly proud of the new building, and of their progress since opening in Pampa, fourteen years ago. Although the new building has been occupied since February, the formal opening will be held on Saturday, April 5. So, the members of the staff, and the 35 employees of the Motor Inn Auto Supply join in ex-

THE STORY: Sherry has been married to Peter for four months. When he proposed, she told him she wasn't in love with him but Peter didn't seem to mind. He talked it over with the boys and pointed out the advantages he could give her. It seemed a reasonable plan all around. Sherry now lives in an atmosphere of luxury. Peter is away on location. She still sees the boys.

XXIII

SHERRY took out a sweater to match the skirt and stroked the angora gently with her cheek. When she went into the bathroom. She turned off the tap and sprinkled bath salts in the water. She wished Marcia was home; they would go out and do something. But Marcia would not be back until tomorrow. Still it was just possible!

Sherry put down the bath salts and hurried into the bedroom. She knelt on the chaise longue and dialed the number, then she lay back against pillows and waited. There was no answer. She hung up disappointedly, and the telephone rang in her hands. It was Tony.

"I saw Dr. Drexell yesterday," he told her, "and he says you can learn to ride now. What are you doing this afternoon?"

Sherry said, "But I haven't any habit!"

Tony said, "That's what I mean. We're going to take you out to Lambert's. Can you go this after-

KIDNEYS GETTING YOU UP NIGHTS?

If you get up nights—have frequent desire to pass your water—but have only scanty passages—yes, and have backache due to excess acidity in the urine, be glad you're reading this:

Three generations ago Dr. KILMER, a famous doctor, found hundreds of his patients with this trouble. Painstakingly he made a medicine of 16 herbs, roots, vegetables, balsams—Nature's own way to relief. He called it "Swamp-Root" and millions of grateful men and women have taken it—often with amazing results. Swamp-Root goes right to work to flush out kidneys...increases the flow of urine, helping to relieve excess acidity...so the irritated bladder gets a good flushing out, too. Many report getting a good night's sleep after the first few doses. Caution: take as directed.

For free trial supply, send to Dept. S, Kilmer & Co., Inc., Box 1255, Stamford, Conn., or get full-sized bottle of Swamp-Root today at your druggist.

English tea doom next door.

They got to talking about how Sherry should have something to do, and Tony made quite a long practical speech on what she should do about her writing.

"Even though you don't have to work now," he said, "you ought to keep it up," and he went on to tell her how she should set apart a few hours a day for it.

Kris said, "You know Orville Merriman didn't pick any duds Sherry. You can write if you want to."

"Oh, I will," Sherry said, "but I just don't seem to get to it."

They went on talking about it and little by little Sherry began to feel ambitious.

She thought, "I'll get a typewriter—a pretty one—and really work for two or three hours every day."

She said, "I have a couple of ideas, but they're not suitable for pictures."

"Then write magazine stories!" Tony told her. "Anything so long as you keep at it!"

Tony suggested that they shop for a good riding stable after tea, and they spent the rest of the afternoon visiting stables, getting prices and looking at horses.

When Sherry got home the living room was dark. She lit the lamps and stood looking at the room. It was beautiful, dully colored and rich.

Long velvet drapes hung in artistically correct folds to the floor. Sherry crossed to them and pulled the heavy cord. The velvet swung dramatically back and she could see the lighted windows and the hills and the cool night sky.

Sherry stared at the night and wished she knew what she wanted. But it was funny when you thought about it, she had never had a thing she really wanted!

She had asked for nothing more in life than to live in Hidden House with Mona. Mona had gone away. Then she had really been going to write. Orville Merriman had died.

Then at last she had known. It had been Tony, to marry and love forever. Tony had not loved her. She told herself that everything she wanted was taken away. Maybe it was better not to want anything at all.

XXIV

When Sherry awoke the next morning she was tired and depressed. Jenny brought the mail in with her breakfast tray.

She tore open a letter postmarked Big Pine.

"My darling," it began, "I worry about you when I'm away, and hope you are taking good care of yourself and getting a lot of rest."

Sherry smiled. Dear, kind Peter, always thinking of her health.

He went on to tell her about the location and a bridge game the previous evening in which he had won $120. "So buy yourself something with it as a little present from me," he wrote.

For the first time since yesterday afternoon Sherry thought of the typewriter. Peter would be pleased about that, and he would be proud of her when she was a success.

"It's lonely here without my beautiful little wife," Peter went on, "but I'd much rather know you're comfortable at home than have you living in tents the way we are here."

"Remember me to the boys and tell them that I still expect them to keep an eye on you when I'm away."

"Until Sunday then, darling, and all my love to you."

Sherry finished the letter and put it down to continue her breakfast. It would be fun when Peter would let her go on location with him, she thought. A wife's place was really by her husband's side, after all.

The telephone rang and Jenny answered it.

She said, "Yes, Miss Stone, Miss Barton's awake," and Sherry flew to the instrument.

She said, "Oh, Marcia! I'm so glad you're back!"

Marcia said, "I just got in, too, and need a tub. Want to come over?"

CHERRY forgot about buying the typewriter or starting a story, and bathed and dressed in a rush.

When she got to the medieval court there was smoke from Marcia's chimney. Sherry did not stop to knock.

The living room with its cheerful fire was welcomingly familiar, and Marcia came out of the bedroom looking as fresh as if she had just awakened from a good night's sleep.

She said, "You look grand, infant. Peter bet you yet?"

Sherry laughed.

She said, "No, he's away too often."

Marcia said, "That's the only way to have them—away."

After they were comfortable they told each other all the news, and it was almost tea time when a Mr. Hartley dropped in.

Sherry had met him before and did not like him. Neither did Marcia, but he was a good promoter and they worked together sometimes so Marcia had to ask him to have a cup of tea.

They talked about mines and one thing and another and finally Marcia asked him how Lilly was. Hartley laughed his big booming laugh.

He said, "I haven't seen Lilly for months. She left me flat. Can you imagine that?"

Marcia murmured something about things like that happening and changed the subject, but Hartley wanted to talk about it.

He said, "That's the picture business for you."

Sherry had to ask whatever the picture business had to do with it, and Hartley went on to tell her what a swell little pal Lilly had been until she got the bug that she wanted to go into the movies.

He said, "I got a friend of mine to get her a job on a Stein picture."

Sherry's face brightened. Then Peter had photographed her. Peter had shot every Stein picture for years.

Hartley went on, "You know, only a day's extra work, but this dumb cluck of a cameraman has to tell her that her face is photographically perfect."

Sherry resented Peter's being called a dumb cluck.

She said, "If the girl's face is perfect, I think she has a right to know it."

Hartley said, "Yeah? Well, anyway, he gets her a lot of work and he's such a nice quiet sort of guy she falls for it."

Marcia got up suddenly.

She said, "Hartley, we've got a late at five that I completely forgot about! I hate to rush you off like this."

She sounded a little breathless and Sherry was puzzled. She knew that they did not have any date.

Hartley got to his feet good-naturedly.

He said, "Well, to make a long story short, this bird gives her a long and dance about what he can do for her in pictures, and about his wife's being too sick to be interested in him, and yours truly's 'ut in the cold."

Sherry sat very still and stared at Hartley. She thought, I'm not eating right! He can't be saying his! He can't mean Peter!

She felt Marcia's hand gripping her shoulder hard and knew she must have come around to stand behind her.

Hartley had got his hat. He rinned.

"Well, anyway, she gets a lot of rips. Her sister tells me Lilly's always on location with him. They're up at Big Pine now."

Marcia said, "I'm so sorry to rush you, Hartley," and opened the door.

The man grinned.

He said, "That's O.K. 'Bye, iris!" and laughed and went out. (To Be Continued.)

The boss said to get a story about stretchberries, the poor man's bubble gum. We'd never heard of them.

"Ask Ratliff, he knows," said the boss. So we put on our coat and walked over to Sports Editor Harold V. Ratliff's desk and said we wanted to interview him about stretchberries.

With his usual modesty, Ratliff promptly admitted he knew all there was to know about stretchberries. He pushed his mustache to one side, lit a cigar and said he'd chewed stretchberries when he was a boy and that they could do anything bubble gum can do.

"Listen, I've produced bubbles as big as the nickel balloons you used to get at the circus," he said. "Today they're 50 cents, if there's a circus."

"What's 50 cents?" we asked. "The circus, the bubble gum or the balloons?"

"Everybody knows about stretchberries," he continued borrowing a match to relight his cigar. "They're very common."

We told him we'd never heard of them, but we waved that aside. He pointed out that we came from the border, where there was nothing but mesquite and cactus and huisache. Everybody else, he intimated, knew of such things.

We resented the implication, and challenged him to take a poll of the office. Only three of the staff had ever heard of stretchberries.

"Well," Ratliff said, "they're little blue-black berries that grow wild along creek and river banks and in wooded valleys. We used to peel them and take a little sticky, white substance from between the outer cover and the seed. We'd put it in a clow of gum, work on it a while, and then blow. You'd be surprised."

"What kind of tree do they grow on?"

"Now, I don't want to knock the bottom out of the bubble gum market," he said, looking at his cigar. "We said stretchberries wouldn't even cause the bubble gum market to waver, and after quite a bit of conversation got him to admit he didn't know exactly what kind of tree they grew on. Probably, he said, something with a long scientific name that only a adept lexicographer could handle."

We suggested looking it up in a dictionary. Under what, he asked. Under stretchberry, we said. Stretchberry wouldn't be in the dictionary, he said. But it was:

"Stretchberry—the fruit of a bristly or prickly greenbrier."

Balsa wood, similar to that used to construct model airplanes, is now being adapted to create for aid freight shipments.
