TEXAN BIFFS KANSAS MOTHER BEATER AND GETS OUT OF JAIL

KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 24.—Frank C. Alexander, alleged undisputed heavyweight champion, mother beater of the world, was knocked out in the first round of an unscheduled bout in the county jail Wednesday afternoon by Robert Downey, 38 years old of Fort Worth, Texas, a plain "drunk" who carries a wallop in his right.

"They don't allow no beating of mothers where I come from," Downey said quietly to Alexander, who had been thrust in jail on the complaint of his mother, Mrs. Alexander, 62 years old, who said he had been beating her for years. "And I don't aim to allow it in here either," continued the lightweight Texan.

Sock! Alexander attempted to shift, but the Texan's fist landed squarely under his chin and he took the count. The bout lasted precisely three seconds.

When he heard of the fight the judge who had sentenced both participants summoned Downey. "Did you strike this man?" he asked.

"I'll say I did," replied the Texan.

"Well, in that case" the judge said, solemnly, "I'll have to parole you," and Downey went free.

When word of the parole reached the jail pent its occupants got the point, and Alexander is probably now getting a worse beating than he ever gave his mother.

ABDUL KRIM SENDS DEFIANT PEACE MESSAGE

PARIS, March 24.—An offer of peace accompanied by the declaration that he should be refused he is ready for many years of Moroccan war has been received at the French foreign office from Abdel Krim, the Rifian leader. Krim's offer was contained in a letter delivered through a British emissary.

If the enemies insist in their demands, reads the letter, "we will continue war, and will return to our former terms of peace. We are prepared for all eventualities, and for a war of many years duration if necessary."

While 300,000 soldiers compose the combined Franco-Spanish armies opposing Abdel Krim and his 40,000 men there is a spirit in France which demands that the peace offer of the Rifian chieftain be given most serious consideration. It has reached Paris when the nation, burdened with financial problems is little able to shoulder a heavier financial war burden in Morocco.

Collins, of Ropesville, wanted here on a charge of killing Frank Howard and seriously wounding Will Fisher, in a knife battle last week, was arrested today in Kemp by the sheriff of Kaufman county and Sheriff F. M. Ellington of Brownfield left here at once to take charge of him.

Collins, who disappeared after the fatal knife battle on the old Billy Howard ranch, was traced by means of a small check which he cashed at Snyder the day after the killing. He called on a friend to identify him before he cashed the check. Deputy Sheriff Jim Lewis and County Attorney George W. Neill investigated at Snyder, and Collins was afterward traced to Kemp, whether his wife and son had followed him. Mrs. Collins and the son passed through Lubbock Sunday, at which time Mrs. Collins professed to believe that her husband had been wounded in the fight and had crawled away to some hiding place to die.

The fight at the ranch was said to have arisen over a horse trade. ### Sports Frock in Printed Silk

Youthful, Simple, Chic
This frock, designed in the best Paris manner, combined three models in its development—printed silk, plain flat crepe and black velvet.

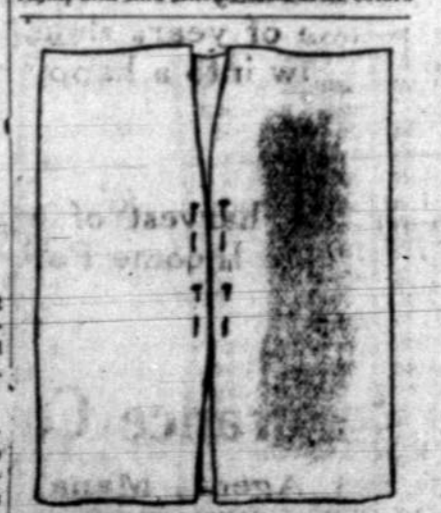

Women who pay particular attention to the styles have by this time noted that Paris adds many interesting details to the straightline sports frock which she keeps youthful, simple and chic. This dress, for instance, which calls for 2 1/2 yards of printed silk 36 inches wide, also needs one-eighth yard each of plain flat crepe and black velvet for the revers and collar, respectively.

ance and full at the hemline. The plait is folded on either side of the undergarment seam, then it is stitched and caught with buttons.

The diagram shows exactly how this is done. Where there is more fulness than usual to be held in and where the waistline is larger, instead of having one plait on either side, one may substitute a series of small hand-run tucks, and then overlap them, adding buttons or stitching or some form of trimming.

Sports fashions are more beguiling than ever this season, not only because they are showing a greater variety of fabrics, but because they answer more general purposes than ever before. The coat is such a fashionable detail of the costume for all hours of the day that it naturally is featured in all sports models.

With sports dresses smart little hats are worn made of felt, corded silk or straw. Sometimes the brim is of straw and the crown of felt. Figured cretonnes are going to be very smart for sports dresses, also rajah silk and linen in the richest colors.

Making Inverted Plaits at Sides of Dress
are Capri blue, copen, sheer red, Orlando, nude and gray.
Shewen may be worn either long or short, and many unusual treatments of the collar and neckline are obtained. The style of adding a velvet collar to a sports frock is carried even to the cotton or linen model.

Ladies' and Misses' Dress No. 261, cut in sizes 14 years and 16 to 42 inches bust, will be mailed postpaid upon receipt of 10 cents. Be sure to give correct number and size of pattern desired when ordering. Write name and address plainly. Send orders to Pattern Editor, this newspaper.

The beautiful stage settings and lighting effect, made possible by the minute attention to details.

One was impressed with the strikingly beautiful stage settings and the corresponding lighting effects, and made to realize that the management of the Palace theatre had spared no cost nor effort in making preparations for the Style Pageant, which is given semi-annually, and which on previous occasions was accorded the same large attendance and expressed enthusiasm that marked last night's showing.

The Mode Turns Red and White in a Cape Frock

Plaid taffets of white, cross-barred with red, shows itself here and there in a frock of soft, rouge-red tulle.

Red is a badge of courage, of youth and of great chic in frocks for the Spring. Yellow on the sulphur, mustard and channel shades is another gay color and there are new and lovely shades of green that are smart with gray or with a soft, creamy beige. Color was never more interesting or more varied, and if you are fond of wearing it do it now before the mode swings back to the always chic and always elegant black. The camel-hair trills come in dusty, pastel colors, and shantung, new this season, is smart in its natural shade.

Tony Q. Dyess, Lee Wendell and L. M. Brooks contributed much to the program.

YELLOW TAIL LIGHTS FOR ALL AUTOS RECOMMENDED BY TRAFFIC EXPERTS MEET IN WASHINGTON; RED FOR "STOP"

BY ROBERT D. LUSK

United News Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, March 24.—Tail lights on automobiles in the future will be yellow instead of the customary red if state legislatures carry out the recommendations of the national conference on street and highway safety.

After the most closely drawn fight of its session here the conference voted Wednesday to sustain the report of its committee on uniformity of laws and regulations in recommending that all states pass laws changing the color of tail lights. The committee did not ask that the lights of cars now in use be changed but that all new motor vehicles be provided with yellow lamps and that the change be gradual.

In the face of the prediction that the drastic switch would result in confusion to drivers and that many legislatures would refuse to carry out the recommendations, two ballots were required.

A standing vote sustained the report 125 to 115. A recount showed 140 in favor of yellow lights and 127 favoring red.

R. D. Brown, spokesman for the delegation from Michigan led the attack against the committee report, contending that nearly 20,000,000 automobiles in the United States now used red tail lights and that it would be virtually impossible to bring about the change. It would be expensive, he said, and drivers were accustomed to red.

General Nathan W. MacChesney, chairman of the committee, held that red should be used for rear stop lights.

"Psychologists have testified before the committee," he said, that a person traveling for a considerable time behind a red light becomes accustomed to its presence to such an extent that he grows careless. "Red they claim should be used to indicate danger, or a stop. A green light could not be used for it is one of the first colors indistinguishable to a person with color blindness.

MacChesney said that color experts, psychologists and the United States bureau of standards recommended yellow rear lights.

With but a few minor changes the model code for rules and regulations of traffic drawn up by the committee was endorsed by the conference Wednesday. The code in a completed form will go before the conference Thursday for final action. It then will be carried to state legislatures with the hope of having it incorporated into law in all states.

In the matter of minimum age limits for drivers, representatives of agricultural districts won out against delegates from cities who demanded that 18 years be the earliest age at which a person could operate a motor car. It was decided that a private driver might be licensed at 16 years of age, a chauffeur of a private vehicle at 18 and a chauffeur of a public vehicle at 21 years of age.

Speed limits were set at 20 miles an hour in business districts where traffic was controlled; at 15 miles in business districts where there was no traffic officers or control lights; 20 miles in residential districts and 35 miles on highways.

BLOOD AND SAND FROM EL TORO

They used to tell us long ago that the third time was the charm. We're going to see whether or not that is true. For the third time this year we are going to walk up to the cashier's desk and pay our little fee and see if that will put us through the year.

Some of the teachers certainly were emphatic about their grades. And speaking of retiring, they did that behind locked doors. Personally we can not blame 'em. It's misery enough that the grades given some of the students let alone some of the instructors, and the latter it seems wish to suffer in private.

We're going out of business or put the other fellow out. Our competitor says that it was none of my business when we took his trade away from him.

We didn't get elected. Might have known that in the first place, but it was just lots of fun. Someone suggested that if the election and its resulting race, or vice versa, had done one thing that several other things failed to do—it awakened just a lot of interest among the students.

We were standing idly before one of the class rooms this morning when a fellow came tearing up the steps and stepped inside that door. "What time," he asked quickly, "is the exam to be given?" "It was given two hours ago," was the calm rejoinder of the teacher.

All ready for the spring term and everything except weather. And as we as we are concerned we are ready for just any old kind of that stuff, except these little back biting things that swoop down unexpectedly and make us slip out of our summer duds.

One of the biology students handed in the following report: It was autumn in the year one. The sun was slowly sinking in the west. Even then the sun had learned to sink in the west. Adam felt lonely. Darkness came on apace. There was a rattle of leaves—it was Eve.

One of the Cheri Casans asked a College Inn girl if she was out. He "Will you a-ford-me the pleasure of taking a ride in my buick?" She "If I did I'd find out how a Cadillac. He—"Oh, is Stutz so?"

At that we never could be a weather prophet, but if anyone should ask you what the weather did look like last night, you might tell them confidentially that it looked like it was going to clabber up and blink.

BRITISH ROYALTY INSPECTS ITS SUBJECTS

LONDON, March 24.—British royalties are adopting modern direct methods of keeping informed of the work and welfare of their people as a part of the business of government. King George is a frequent and observant visitor at commercial and trade exhibitions and activities. Queen Mary spends perhaps a third of her busy public life at women's welfare centers, baby hospitals, and similar places.

The prince of Wales is seriously studying for his future job of king and since his return from his South American trip has attended many public gatherings, often three and four a day—have taken him to every corner of Great Britain.

The duke of York is making a series of tours to all important industrial centers, studying factory, mine and workshop methods and conditions.

It has been revealed that Princess Mary, the king's only daughter, is studying department store life; and that, in her studies, she spends all her spare time, unrecognized by the people she talks to, shopping at small and large stores and chatting with the sales girls.

It became known for the first time a few days ago that Princess Arthur of Connaught, daughter-in-law of the Duke of Connaught, the king's uncle, has been for some months a working nurse at a huge London hospital.

Trenton, N. J.—Gov. Moore recommends the abolition of the so-called "easy divorce law," which allowed divorcees for extreme cruelty.

A plot is not without honor, save in the scenarios.

MARION TALLEY STILL PACKS METROPOLITAN

NEW YORK, March 24.—Marion Talley, the 19 year-old Kansas City prima donna continues to "pack 'em in" at the Metropolitan Opera House and Wednesday, at a benefit performance of "Tales of Hoffman" even the standing room was exhausted.

A society seeking funds for Near East relief bought out the matinee insisted that Miss Talley sing in order to secure a full house. The Metropolitan management, acknowledging that it has not had such a drawing card since the days of Garbo, agreed to let her sing, although she will appear again tomorrow as "the Nightingale."

Two performances a week—unusual in these days of fragile sopranos—continues the program for Marion. Next week she will sing in her debut opera "Rigoletto" and "Lucia" in which she scored her second success.

It is said that a burned child dreads the fire; and a newly married man certainly avoids his old flames.

PUBLIC OPINION

(Contributed by a Young Man)
We are often unconscious of the thing itself that breeds criminals, and seldom do we take the time of spend the energy to go to the bottom of a situation and remedy the cause rather than try to remedy the effect. We are too busy making and spending money, and our social organizations are often lacking in the desire or strength to strike at the root of an evil. And if they do not have the desire to lend active support and effort or even go so far as to blaze the trail, their members are either blind to the situation or else they are wanting in organization.

The boyhood of today is the manhood of tomorrow and tomorrow to some of our young fellows is just around the corner. What we do with them today will determine their strength tomorrow. If some of them turn out to be criminals or develop an inherent criminal tendency somebody is to blame but nobody will accept the responsibility. It is hard for a man to rid himself of the badge of even one criminal act, and to a boy's mind "jail" and "crime" are synonymous. Put a boy in jail for an hour and let him get a look at the outside world with a vision blurred by the bars of our prisons and we have paved the way for a life of crime. We have robbed that boy of his pride, his freedom of action and boyhood of his youth. We have deprived him of his self respect, made him feel the iron hand of the law, and singed his innocence with a flame that will leave a scar far more than skin deep. The impression left on that young mind by his experience will brand him with a feeling of disgrace throughout a life time. He may not realize it at the time, but the realization will come later on when he begins to appreciate his boyhood experiences and realizes the badge of disgrace that he is wearing. Did you ever see a boy who didn't tell his playmates his experiences? Did you ever see one when he came to the realization that he had brought disgrace on his name? Did you ever see one robbed of his pride and self-respect? His young mind may not be equal to the occasion, and he is wholly unable to discern whether or not he is a criminal, and the odds are in favor of his believing that he is a criminal, once he has experienced the restraint of prison bars. But when he comes to that belief or realization, can he rightfully be condemned? Are we justified in our condemnation? Regardless of whether we are or not, he will be on the receiving end of criticism, condemnation and disgrace. But who is to blame? While we are making financial reports and gloating over our victories in the financial world some of our boys are receiving their initiation into the criminal world by spending their first hour in jail. Their crime is serious. They have played hooky from school and more than likely have done it many times. And they have received their sentence. Their first hour behind the bars. But even if their first sentence is only an hour, their ultimate and inevitable sentence is the loss of pride and self-respect, and with those elements of character taken from them in their infancy what can we expect of them and their manhood tomorrow?

Beat a dog and you deprive him of his pluck and fight. Kick him and he'll never forget you for it. Either stroke will ruin his first hour in jail. Isn't there some means more desirable, more humane, or some means of constraint less tragic than the jail in which to temper our sixteen year olds? If not, aren't we a sorry group? Are we worthy of the badge of intelligence and civilization? Thousands of dollars are spent on good roads, on public buildings, on higher education, and many other enterprises are benefactors of the public coffers. But what part of the millions of taxes we pay are intelligently applied to the recreation of the average boy or the boy who has more than his share of the world's energy and who rebels at the restraint of the school room? Would it be worth our while as a community to employ a man who knows how to handle such cases? Wouldn't it be better to lend them than to drive them? To spend a little on them rather than crush them? Wouldn't it be better to spend a little on our future manhood and go about it wisely than to obtain immediate relief for a few days by the use of our jails when the chances are nine to one that we are cutting our own throats by our methods? We have the time to do it. We have the money to do it. Better think it over seriously. Your boy may be the next one to spend his first hour in jail.

When weapons are ready, good sense is absent.

FARM RELIEF.

Proposals to place agriculture upon a more prosperous foundation are very numerous. The Agriculture Committee of the Federal House has been giving some thought to farm relief legislation recently. Control of marketing is the aim of the bill proposed by certain representatives of farmers' organizations. A revolving fund of two hundred fifty million dollars would be used to co-operate with existing farmers' organizations in disposing of surplus crops. The goal is a stabilized market, rescued from the world competition, and the prohibition of speculating affecting agricultural commodities. Federal taxation would be used to force farmers into co-operative associations was an objection to it by Representative Fort of New Jersey. He bases this criticism upon the provision for what are called equalization fees collected on various crops, the proceeds from which would be used to adjust crop prices and to maintain the price level. "This proposition," says Mr. Fort, "asks Congress to do for the farmer what he is either unable or unwilling to do for himself—compelling him to pool his products and levying a tax on them." To guarantee a certain price for a commodity would be far reaching. Surplus crops can only be avoided in two ways, by reduction of acreage or by stimulating consumption. In connection with the former, it is interesting to not that while the cotton farmer in the South is struggling this year to reduce the size of the crop to secure a better price, the Federal government is pushing the development of cotton culture in irrigated lands. In 1925, some 165,000 bales of cotton were produced in Arizona, New Mexico, Texas and California. Sixty four acres were planted last year in the last mentioned state as an experiment and produced $5,625 worth of cotton. Isn't it foolishness for the Federal government to be considering means to avoid a surplus while at the same time pushing the development of this crop in new areas?

VOICES CROSS SEA

It was eminently fitting that fiftieth anniversary of the telephone this month should have been marked by the establishment of wireless telephonic communication between New York and London. While radio messages through powerful broadcasting stations have been transmitted far greater distances, the holding of regular conversations across the sea by wireless telephony has just been achieved for the first time. Reports state that it was just like talking on an ordinary telephone and by that the voices were heard as distinctly as on many local calls. It was on March 10, 1876, that Alexander Graham Bell uttered the first words ever transmitted over telephone wires, when he said: "Mr. Watson, come here, I want you." A Watson, his assistant, sitting at a crude receiver in another room and were heard distinctly by him. He hurried to tell Bell that their patient research had been rewarded and that a new art had been at that instant given to the world. The wonderful invention was exhibited at the Centennial Exposition in Philadelphia that year and while it attracted wide attention, no one dreamed of the part it was to play in human affairs. Now the telephone is one of the most important and indispensable adjuncts of modern civilization. We can not imagine what we should do without it.

HOT STUFF

A rather clever story is going the rounds concerning the municipal band of Palm Beach, Florida. Just how true it is we can not vouch, but we pass it along for what it is worth: Last year while the band was playing "There'll be a Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight" the Breakers Hotel took fire and burned to the ground. A few days ago at Orlando the band struck up "Keep the Home Fires Burning" and a $25,000 warehouse a block away went up in smoke. Next day at Lake Eola, while the band poured forth the strains of "Red Hot Mama" fire broke out in a private hospital just across the lake. Fire Chief Alfred Sandler has warned the leader to refrain from playing any more musical hot stuff.

ANOTHER FREAK BILL

Congressman Parks of Arkansas has introduced a bill which would prohibit ambassadors or cabinet members from containing information which they might have obtained through their occupancy of such public offices. Just what inspired Mr. Parks to offer such a bill is not clear. Certainly it would infringe upon the liberty of an American citizen in a most unwarranted manner, besides it would doubtless in many cases deprive the public of information of great value. Statesmen of all countries and in all ages have written of the events in which they played a part and some of these writings are among the most illuminating of the world's historical documents. Others, it is true, are devoted mainly to a glorification of the writers, but even these give the thoughtful reader a better insight into the significance of the times with which they deal. The author of this freak bill is probably a poor writer, who never expects to be an ambassador or a cabinet officer.

BOON TO FARM WOMEN

At the opening of a free electrical exposition sponsored by the Birmingham News recently, some facts were presented in an address by M. H. Aylesworth, managing director of the National Electric Light Association, which are of particular interest to farm women. Mr. Aylesworth declared that electricity is relieving the women of America of much of their former drudgery and that this benefit is rapidly being extended to the rural districts, whereby farm women will be enabled to retain their youth and health, instead of being broken down at an early age. Stating that electrical washing-machines, vacuum-cleaners and other home appliances can be operated for three to five cents an hour, he said: "The time has arrived when our wives and mothers must no longer be permitted to sell their time at coolie wages of three cents an hour, having to neglect the highest work entrusted to human beings, the work of motherhood." Among the notable advances which will be witnessed by the next generation, none will be of greater benefit to humanity than the emancipation of farm women from lives of drudgery, through the application of electricity to the work of the home.

BIG POULTRY POOL

After a year spent in educational and organizational work, there is now being launched in Saskatchewan province, Canada, a great poultry pool, with 9,500 members, owning nearly nine million hens and other fowls, for co-operative marketing. Mrs. J. Holmes is president of the organization, which will ship a large portion of its products to eastern Canadian and British markets. Members of the pool have signed binding contracts, which it is believed will insure faithful delivery of products and genuine co-operation through business-like methods. Like all well managed organizations of a similar nature, the new pool will stress the necessity for high quality of production, proper grading and intelligent distribution. Co-operative marketing is making much headway both in Canada and in the United States, and while some setbacks and discouraging experiences have been met here and there, it seems that the principles underlying the movement are entirely sound and capable of being developed into a truly beneficial system, for producer and consumer alike.

SET-BACK FOR PEACE

Failure of the Geneva meeting to consummate the provisions of the Locarno peace pact by bringing Germany into the League of Nations, as it was hoped to do, has created another serious situation in Europe. With representatives of fifty-five nations gathered for the purpose of furthering the purposes of the Locarno agreement, friction of such a serious nature developed that the admission of Germany was postponed. While details of the disagreement have not been fully explained, it is known that Germany's entry into the League has been delayed through disputes concerning the admission of other nations, particularly Brazil, Rumania and Poland. After a week of squabbling over the issues involved, it was finally decided that Germany should not be admitted to the League until next September. Whether she will ever become a member appears to be in doubt. Blame for the failure of the meeting to carry out its purposes is being charged to one nation and another. It is evident that the cause of European concord has suffered a shock which may injure the prestige of the League as a working instrument for permanent peace.

MOVIES IN SCHOOL

Considerable progress is reported in connection with the introduction of moving pictures in New York City, where the department of visual instruction is gradually installing a definite system. Pictures are now being employed in such subjects as geography, civics, science, biology, history, nature study and hygiene. A short talk on the lesson is first given, after which the appropriate picture is shown, this being followed by further study of the textbook. This method is said to be meeting with marked success, though stimulating the interest of pupils and giving them a more practical understanding of the subjects taught. The educational value of good moving pictures can hardly be over-estimated, and this applies to adults as well as to school children. In many subjects a moving picture can convey more information in a minute than could be gained in hours of poring over a dry text-book. No doubt the next few years will see the wide employment of visual instruction in schools everywhere.

Little Avalanches

Men and women have one thing in common; both worry over women's clothes.
 When you finish pleasing everybody in the old home town telegraph us, at our expense.
 If it keeps up the school children will form a union and demand more and longer days.
 Well, it's just about three months before people will begin predicting a cold winter again.
 A good way to set fire to your house is to start a fire with kerosene, pouring it from the can.

Rather Annoying

WOMAN'S INTUITION IS AN ASSET IN BANKING

MILWAUKEE, Wis., March 24 (United Press)—"Masculinity is to be admired, but not copied," according to Miss Gertrude M. Jacobs, assistant cashier of the Marshall & Hiley bank.
 Miss Jacobs said in an interview she began her career on the principle that women have a place in the business world and she believes that women today are coming rapidly to the front in banking and economic circles.
 "Women in the past have been creators, as well as home builders, and their intuitive powers make them especially adaptive to the thousand and one questions side of the business ledger."
 "When women first went into business, they attempted to do things in a masculine way. Experience, however, has taught them that the easiest road to success—is to be feminine as much as modern business will permit," Miss Jacobs said.
 Miss Jacobs is one of the very few women in the country who have broken down the masculine barriers in economic circles and advanced to the executive side of banking. She was born and received her early education in Detroit, Mich. Later she entered Hillsdale, a preparatory school at Hillsdale, Mich., and then went to Madison, Wisconsin, where she entered the University of Wisconsin, from where she was graduated in 1919.
 For the next six years she has been with the bank where she is now employed, first in the economic educational department, then head of the women's department and finally, after five years' training, she was advanced to the position of assistant cashier.
 Financial problems are not "yes" and "no" questions, according to Miss Jacobs, who has made a careful study of banking in all phases. They are always intimate problems and cannot be remedied other than with personal discussion, she believes. This she says requires a good deal of intuition and psychology and this is one of the primary contributions of women to banking.
 "Women, as a rule do not desire careers, as much as a home, but the economic situation of the present day has caused a large number of women to go into business. Most of them, as I can see it, are making a success," Miss Jacobs said.

SO THINK WE

We think that most of the nations that are squabbling over a seat in the league of nations would not be contented with a seat, but, really want to get in the saddle.

We think the Florida boom seems to be slightly muffled.

We think the best asset that any business can have and a very important one is to have some one who can politely answer foolish questions.

We think the guys who say there is no God should try to build an old earth like the one they live in and put air and everything necessary to maintain life in their own carcasses, and they will find out that more than human hands and ingenuity had to do with it.

We think that that young lady who proposes to cross the Niagra on a wire, must be over on the Canadian side, for we are sure no one would want to get over into Canada that bad.

We think that if a lot of people really knew the conditions of Texas morally, they would certainly look toward a cleaning up of the conditions.

We think a lot of the parents of this country are very modest about bringing important matters of character before them but often let them go ahead in ignorance and pay the price of experience rather than to warn them against the evils.

We think that really big men are not ever small, for when they do the little things of life they really do them better than the ordinary man.

We think about the most absurd thing that we have seen or heard of is a man and his wife who claims they love each other, but just keep on fighting and quarreling.

We think it is awful when a fellow is trying to think of a new idea to put over and just can't think of a new slang word to use.

We think the cattlemen must feel awfully queer when they read a head line in the newspaper about stockmen being prosperous.

We think March has been a wonderful month so far, but it has ruined a bunch of the old timers with the new comers. Some of them do not believe that the Sand Storms are half as bad as some of the pioneers pictured them.

 We think it missed a mighty big opportunity to come a real sand storm Wednesday.

We think the pessimist had a fine time yesterday trying to get it to freeze and have something to talk about the fruit all getting killed.

IT IS REPORTED

It is reported that a youngster was recently picked upon information from another town that he had left home without permission of his parents, and upon being questioned about the matter stated that he left because he was lonesome there without his parents. We imagine that some of the kiddies of this town get rather lonely at home all by themselves. Parents spend too much time at parties and clubs and picture shows without their children.

It is reported that Lynch Davidson made a three column speech in his opening crack at the voters, and had it boiled into plate matter and shipped out several tons of type metal and asked the newspapers to run it in their paper for the sake of the country. The Avalanche manager told us that there would be nothing doing for Lynch, Dan, Zim, pa, ma or that other woman unless there was a check to cover the cost of the space they use.

It is reported that a South Texas paragrapher says that Dan may possibly Lynch Ma.

It is reported that Lamesa is asking for the seat of the new Federal court to be at Lamesa.

It is reported that the differences between the City Commissioners and those of the county have been smoothed out at Lamesa and more concrete will be poured into the streets right away.

It is reported that lawyers live on stubborn human beings. We merely heard this. We do not vouch for the truth of it.

It is reported that all of the Plains country is wet. Not anti-prohibitionally, but with "sky-juice."

It is reported that one Lubbock woman was heard to say a few days ago that "technically" the husband is the head of the house, but that women did not think much of technicalities.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST

WHAT THEY'RE COMING TO

I do not fret o'er knee length skirts or rings within the ears
 Which much resemble as they swing those old-time chandeliers;
 I see the pretty modern girls who shock our ancient crew
 But I have not the slightest doubt of what they're coming to.

They're on their way, as long ago, wore those good wives of ours
 To pots and pans and kitchen stoves and food a man devours;
 To making beds and dusting chairs, to bassinets and cribs
 And tucking under little chins those hand-embroidered bibs.
 These modern styles, which are de-

pires, will little change their lives
 They're on their way to men like us to be their faithful wives;
 They're on their way to humdrum tasks, to nights of anxious care
 And to the endless duties borne by women everywhere.

These frivolous and pretty things with babies in their ears
 Will rule the houses of the land in just a few more years;
 They're on their way to every hurt and joy that we've been thru;
 And there is not the slightest doubt of what they're coming to.

Next Races For Coursing Park To Be April 4th

More than 500 people witnessed the first contest on the new coursing park which is located one and a half miles south of Lubbock last Sunday and it is thought that more than a thousand people would have attended had it not been for the rain. Something like 18 dogs were in the final races Sunday afternoon with the first money going to Rolf Alford Amarillo.

On April 4 the second contest on the Lubbock coursing park will be held with the preliminary races in the morning and the finals in the afternoon. Dogs from all parts of the Panhandle and South Plains are expected to enter the contest here on the 4th. It is requested by the coursing park association that the entry of all dogs made for the race on the 4th be sent in by Friday, April 2, stating the class of dog that will be entered.

Dogs To Be Classified

The dogs for the races will be classified into three classes: Registered dogs, common or cold blood dogs and puppy class (less than one year of age.) Entrance fee on the dogs will be for registered dogs $7.50, for common or cold blood dogs $5; for puppy registered $3.50, common $3. Seventy-five per cent of the fees paid in will go for prizes in all events.

A guarantee of $50, $35 and $15 will be given to the winners of the registered dogs, $25, $15 and $10 to the common or cold blood class.

All persons entering the dog races will be admitted to the park with no charge. Match races will be allowed at intervals of ten minutes. To make entrance into the contest of April 4 write Lubbock Coursing Park Association, box 833, Lubbock, Texas, or phone Gene Wofford, either at 576 or 318.

Wind Interferes In Many Golfing

With the players laboring under a handicap from a strong north wind the first flight of Municipal Qualifying Tournament was played Wednesday afternoon. After an agreement between all the entrants it was decided that the score would be counted by match play instead of strokes. Each pair played eight or ten holes. The surviving entrants are paired as follows for Thursday: Germany and Smith; Dugan and Joyce; Stubbs and Jarrott; Melarty and Wells. Due to the terrific gale blended with occasional deposits of sand and small pebbles swept from the roof of the canyon some of the players were momentarily blinded and this very unsatisfactory condition is doubtless responsible for the fall of the vanquished. They were strong men and valiant but their prowess availed them little against their alert opponents who availed themselves of the shelter afforded by the many deep hazards and the tall and stately cedars which line the fairways. Much can be said of the defeated while more can and will be said of the victorious. The most thrilling match of the afternoon was played between Germany and Slaughter who began their match promptly at 3:10. After many brilliant plays on the part of each they halved the eighteenth hole and the score was tied for the match. Another nine holes was played to settle the difficulty to be finished as the sun sank below the western horizon.

BRIEFS

BATTING HEAVY ON STRIBLING TOMORROW

By United News
NEW YORK, March 24.—Young Stribling has been staled heavy favorite in the betting on his bout with Jimmy Slattery of Buffalo Thursday night, but the "wise money" is going lightly on the Atlanta boy. It has happened so often that Buffalo boxers have used "advantage" that not a great deal of money is being wagered at 2 to 1 on Stribling. Slattery, one of the most notorious "in-and-outers" of the ring, holds a decision over the southerner, won in six round bout at Buffalo.

LEFTY BROWN IS TRADED TO MEMPHIS

TAMPA, Fla., March 24.—Arthur "Lefty" Brown, pitcher of the Brooklyn Dodgers, who last year led all pitchers of organized baseball, winning 18 games and losing one with the Ardmore club of the Western association, has been sent to the Memphis club of the Southern league as part payment for Pitcher Moss and Catcher Hohlbecker. Wilbert Robinson announced the shift Wednesday.

WILLS WINS 14TH CUP AND LAYS OFF A WHILE

CANNES, March 24.—With fourteen cups won in tennis competition on the Riviera this winter, Helen Wills is prepared to depart for a more restful vacation in Italy. The American girl added the title of Assur woman's singles championship to her long list on Wednesday, when Jean Bidley of England scratched in the finals.

Pilot of Phillies

Manager Arthur Fletcher of the Philadelphia National league team is not making any predictions that he will win the pennant this year, but he is confident his team will finish well up in the race, if not in the first division.

BRIGHTER DAYS FOR PHILLIES AHEAD

By LAREY DAILEY
 United News Staff Correspondent
BRADENTOWN, Fla., March 24.—Arthur Fletcher, who for three years made the most out of bad jobs, sees brighter days ahead for his Phillies. The square jawed leader of the Philadelphia Nationals is greatly pleased over the outlook for the coming season.

The Phillies showed flashes of power last season and finished in a tie with Brooklyn for sixth place. There is reason to believe that the Quakers will land a notch higher this campaign and a first division berth for them is not unlikely.

"Butch" Henline, 1925 captain and George Harper, who batted .354 last year haven't signed their contracts. These recalcitrants must be gathered into the fold before Fletcher can present his best front.

The pitching staff is satisfactory. Carlson and Mitchell, the southpaw spit baller, are in excellent condition and much is expected of them. Knight and Claude, Wiloughby and other youthful moundmen, who have impressed critics at the Phillies camp here.

ENGLISH LAD RIDES 100 TO 1 SHOT TO WIN

LINCOLN, England, March 24.—Fifteen year-old Pat Donoghue is a hero to every English school boy.

The lad, whose father is the famous Steve Donoghue, foremost rider in England, rode in his first big race Wednesday, and boosted him a 100 to 1 shot a winner in the Lincolnshire Handicap.

King of Clubs, on which young Donoghue had the leg up, was an ordinary selling platter purchased by his present owner, a year ago for $1,650. Yet the boy who only recently was granted a license as a professional jockey, got his mount home ahead of some of the best horses in training in England.

Steve Donoghue, the father rode Argeia and tied for last place in a field of 27.

As young Pat slipped from the saddle after saluting the judges at the finish of the handicap, he was crying and trying to smile at the same time. Between excited gasps, he managed to stammer:

"I was lucky to get a quick start, but I knew he would be fast."

If young Donoghue had confidence in his mount, none of the experts did, and the colt was absolutely ignored in the betting. The Lincolnshire handicap inaugurates the flat racing season in England, and many bets steeple chase at Aintree next Friday. Bookmakers lay long odds against such "doubles," during the winter, sometimes as much as 5,000 to 1.

Young Donoghue, who seems to be a chip off the old block when it comes to riding, got his mount away fast from the barrier, and let the first half mile. The Lincolnshire handicap is run over a straight mile, and is worth $5,000 and extras to the owner of the winner.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—The interstate commerce commission today suspended until July 26 proposed rates on wheat in the Kansas City Southern district scheduled to become effective March 23 and ordered a hearing April 21 in Kansas City to consider the proposed changes.

Under the proportional rates proposed, wheat and corn would be shipped three cents per 100 pounds cheaper from Kansas City to Beau-

Slaton Tigers Ready For Any High School

SLATON, March 24.—The Slaton high school Tiger coach, Gus Miller, is ready to meet all comers for the great American game. He issues his challenge to any high school club on the South Plains. In throwing open his challenge he does not claim that he has the best team but that he wants some games so that he might determine his strength.

The Tigers were champions of the district last season and are trying hard to retain their distinction again this spring. Miller has a great number of his championship nine back for the game this year.

McGraw's Jinx Still Follows Giants

By United News
SARASOTA, Fla., March 24.—John McGraw will pay a fancy price for a left hand rabbit's foot. Last season a series of mishaps kept all Giant infielders by the exception of George Kelly out of the game at various times and possibly prevented the "master mind" from realizing his ambition of winning four straight pennants. Further visitations from the jinx this spring with the New York camp have convinced McGraw that a malignant influence is at work.

Archie Nehf, was the first victim. An injury to the veteran southpaw's hurled hand only recently allowed him to throw a baseball and he will be delayed in getting into condition. Then, on the same day that Frank Frisch fell ill to tonsillitis, Hughie McQuillan broke his finger stopping a liner from Tris Speaker. These injuries with the failure of Bill Terry to sign his contract has darkened the outlook for the New York club.

As in all things, however, there is a silver lining for the Giants. The veteran Jack Scott is showing great form. Henri Grob's under pinning are apparently stronger, and Irish Meusel, as fit as a fiddle recently left the hold out ranks.

McGraw has no little confidence in his pitching staff. Nehf and McQuillan will come around all right. Scott is ready now. Ring's work has convinced McGraw that the deal, whereby he obtained the twirler from the Phillies, was advantageous to the Giants. Green advantage has Wayland Dean, who was a disappointment with the Giants last year after being a minor league sensation in 1924, is showing well as is Ernie Maun, another former Giant, who won 17 and lost 19 games for Indianapolis last summer.

Frank Ulrich looks best of the young pitchers. Art Decatur, Jack Knight and Claude Wiloughby are other youthful moundmen, who have impressed critics at the Phillies camp here.

SPORT FLASHES

FANNING WITH FARRELL

By HENRY FARRELL
 (United Press Sports Editor)
 After a campaign, extending over several years, the government tax on sporting goods is being slowly removed along with important personal taxes.

The new revenue bill, passed a few weeks ago, was kind to golf players and trap and rifle marksmen.

Notice was sent out by counsel for the United States Golf Association a few days ago that all clubs throughout the country need not include in their 1925 tax returns the amounts collected as green fees by individuals for the privilege of playing on courses of which they were not members.

The announcement was made as a result of a discovery that hundreds of thousands of dollars have been improperly and unnecessarily paid by golf clubs on the assumption that green fees were in the same class as dues and admission fees to places of amusement. These taxes, in spite of a campaign to have them exempted, still have to be included in the returns, however.

The excise tax on sporting arms (which does not include revolvers and pistols) and ammunition has been repealed and millions of sportsmen are rejoicing.

The repeal of the tax immediately means a reduction in the cost of shooting at the traps, on the rifle range, and in the field.

In the neighborhood of $18,000,000 has been paid into the United States Treasury in the last six years by those who sought pleasure in shooting at clay targets, on the rifle range and in the field and those who hunted game to provide food.

Through the War Department several million dollars is spent annually in fostering rifle shooting in the Civilian Military Training Camps, the R. O. T. C. and The National Matches and the Congress made it extremely difficult for these embryo riflemen to continue the program. The military folks laid out for them because of the excessive and needless tax. The tax has been most injurious to the development of shooting. It has caused man to retire from competition and has prevented many others from taking it up.

BASKETBALL

LAWRENCE, Kan., March 24.—Four championships and one tie for top honors in the last five years is the distinction accorded to Dr. F. C. Allen, University of Kansas basketball coach.

Kansas University under the direction of Dr. Allen has stood at the top of the Missouri Valley conference since 1922, when it shared honors with the University of Missouri and since then has ruled supreme.

Dr. Allen's layshaker-quietest just only one game during the conference season which recently came to a close.

INTEREST IN SPORTS

LONDON, March 22.—The public excitement over the Lengien-Willis tennis match at Cannes, the reams printed, the thousands upon thousands of words glashed around the world and full pages of camera studies of the principals in action, has inspired a sporting paper here to recall that sport was not always so popular.

For instance, the first Wimbledon championships, held in 1877, were accorded about three inches of space in the newspaper report. The first Oxford-Cambridge Boat Race, now a classic in the sportsman's calendar here, was rowed in 1829 and received only a bare mention in one or two newspapers, and not a word in the Annual Register.

The same was true of horse racing. The first Derby, in 1780, furnished the "Public Advertiser" with a piece of news about the breakdown of a one-horse shay bound for Epsom Downs, but no mention was made of the race itself.

HE HAD POLICE UP IN THE AIR

BROOKLYN, N. Y., March 24.—Police had to climb nine flights to arrest John Hill, full blooded Irish quail, who played football at Carlisle, and was charged with abducting Hill. Hill is an iron worker and when arrested was swinging in mid-air on an iron beam.

THE CAT CAME BACK—220 MILES BACK

TEMPLETON, Mass., March 24.—Unable to shake off an attack of homesickness, Billy, a cat owned by Rev. Francis J. Hale, walked 220 miles back to the town in which it was born and raised. Hale moved from this town to Jefferson, Maine, last May taking Billy with him. Wednesday Billy was at the home of one of its owners, former neighbors here, having found its way back from Jefferson after nine months of traveling.

A Brooklyn congregation presented its pastor with $25,000 recently. The next brother who gets a call from Brooklyn will be Brooklyn-bound!

TARIFF KEY-NOTE OF DEMO FIGHT THIS YEAR

BY RAYMOND CLAPPER

United News Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, March 24.—With the congressional campaign now opened, it is possible to outline the general line of attack that will be foisted by the democrats.

While the most important side of the democratic strategy will lie in the local hand to hand fighting of congressional and senatorial candidates, certain features of national interest will be emphasized. Chief of these will be the tariff. Representative Oldfield, chairman of the democratic congressional campaign committee, declared in a keynote at the Maine state party convention Wednesday.

The democratic points will be somewhat as follows:

Tariff—democrats will ask repeal of the flexible tariff provision; reduction of tariff commission from six members to four with higher salaries. Repeal of high protective duties of Fordney-McCumber act and re-establishment of competitive revenue principle of Underwood act of 1913 which was designed to produce the largest revenue possible by permitting genuine competition of domestic and imported articles in the American market.

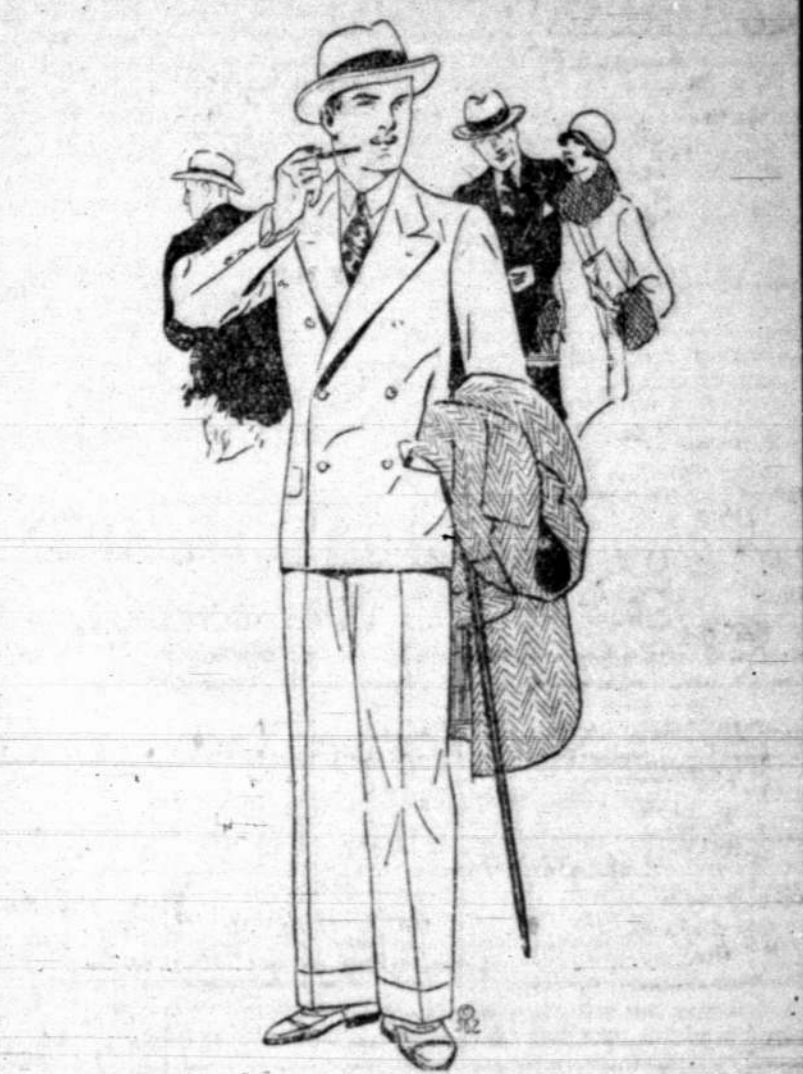

White House influence—complaints that President Coolidge has attempted to influence the work of quasi-judicial bodies like the federal trade and the tariff commissions will be emphasized by the minority campaigners. It has been charged that the president compelled one tariff commissioner to sign an undated resignation before the appointment was made, that Commissioner Colburn was put out of the way by being named minister to Roumania, that the request for the resignation of Commissioner Haynes of the shipping board was an attempt to intimidate all such officials. The president's refusal to accept the tariff commissioner's sugar report and his refusal to publish the commission's findings will be another subject of criticism. Much of the material that the democrats expect to use in this connection will be obtained from the senate tariff investigation now going on.

Prosperity—the republican picture of general prosperity will be challenged by the democrats. They will insist that business is good in spots but that the textile and shoe industries are in bad shape, that the farmers are in worse condition and have received no assistance from the administration, and that there is more unemployment than is generally believed to exist.

Government for the rich—the large influence of Andrew W. Mellon in the administration, the intimacy between the president and Twilight W. Morrow of J. P. Morgan & Co., the suppression of the federal trade commission's charges against the aluminum industry, and the usual charge of partnership between big business and the republican party will be discussed by the democratic speakers.

Administration inactivity—it will be contended that the only important acts of this session were accomplished through democratic support as in the case of world court, tax reduction, the Muscle Shoals commission and holding down of appropriations. Coolidge's refusal to aid in bringing the anthracite strike to an earlier end will be criticized.

Prohibition—in the prohibition question every man will shift for himself. Prominent candidates in both parties are found on each side of the argument. In some localities the wet candidate will be a democrat and in others a republican. No general party policy will be laid down and every effort will be made to keep this troublesome question out of the national discussion.

Texas State Board of Health Weekly News Letter

Last Word On Clean-Up Campaign

On the eve of the state-wide clean-up campaign which is scheduled to start March 28th, Dr. H. O. Sappington, state health officer, again urges that clean-up activities be conducted in every town in the state. Notice of cooperation in this campaign has been received from a large number of towns, and a number of county contests in which much interest is being manifested, have also been announced.

According to Dr. Sappington, application of scientific procedures and sanitary measures now available will result in a large reduction of both the mortality and morbidity rate in the state, and to put these measures into effect requires the conscientious, cooperative work of the citizens of each municipality. In addition to general clean-up activities which call for clean streets, alleys, beautification of parks and vacant lots, sanitation of public buildings, and drainage or filling of ditches or other bodies of water that may breed mosquitoes, the following questions are suggested by the state health officer as ones about which householders should seriously concern themselves:

Do you know how clean or safe your milk supply is?
Is your local water supply given Grade A rating by the state board of health?
Do you create mosquito menaces around your home by allowing the refrigerator to drain under the house or by allowing tin cans or other containers left on premises to collect water?
Is your home screened with 16 mesh wire, and do screens fit tightly and are they in a good state of repair?
Do you have a covered metal receptacle in which to put garbage?
Is the plumbing equipment in your home working properly?
Have you safeguarded the future welfare of your children by having their births registered with the local registrar?

Standardization of Municipal Health Practices Planned

Adoption of the appraisal form used by the American Public Health Association in grading municipalities was made by a joint committee of this association and the Texas Association of Sanitarians, which met recently in the office of the state board of health, for the purpose of devising means of standardizing municipal health practices in the state.

The personnel of this committee is: Dr. W. A. King, San Antonio, chairman; Dr. H. O. Sappington, state health officer, Austin; Dr. L. H. Martin, Fort Worth; Dr. A. H. Spear, Corpus Christi; Dr. A. H. Fickler, Houston; and Dr. J. Brown, El Paso. Dr. L. H. Martin was appointed by the committee to prepare texts for pamphlets on smallpox, diphtheria, scarlet fever, measles, whooping cough, typhoid, pneumonia, influenza, mosquito-borne diseases, rabies, tuberculosis, and venereal diseases, and present these texts for approval at the next meeting. If approved, these texts will be used for distribution by all Texas municipalities. "Applied Municipal Sanitation," a book recently published by the Texas Association of Sanitarians was approved.

Dr. H. O. Sappington was requested to devise forms to be used by cities and counties in making reports to the state board of health. It was also arranged to have Dr. Drake, of the American Public Health Association, who is now in Austin making a health survey, to also make a health appraisal of the cities of Houston, Fort Worth, San Antonio and Corpus Christi.

The next meeting of the committee will be in Houston on the day preceding the meeting of the State Medical Association in May.

Social Hygiene Diseases Increase
Social hygiene diseases in Texas took an upward trend in 1925 according to reports received by the state board of health. Statistics compiled show for this year: syphilis, 20,701 cases; gonorrhea, 14,039; and chancoid, 868. Statistics for 1924 show number of cases of syphilis reported, 10,348; gonorrhea, 7,447; chancoid, 778.

Better reporting last year by physicians and clinics was responsible to a large extent for this apparent big increase, but there was also some increase in these diseases, according to Dr. H. O. Sappington, state health officer. Literature sent out by the bureau of venereal diseases numbered 17,177 pamphlets in 1924 and 34,159 pamphlets in 1925.

LIGHT PENALTIES FOR FASCIST MURDER

CHLTI, Italy, March 24.—The gruesome murder of Giacomo Matteotti, millionaire socialist deputy, which stirred all Italy and threatened dissolution in the fascist ranks, has resulted in minimum sentences for three of the accused men and acquittal for the other two.

Maerigo Dumina, born of an American mother in St. Louis, Mo., Albino Volpi and Amleto Povermo, the latter two native Italians, were found guilty Wednesday and sentenced by the jury to five years and eleven months imprisonment. Giuseppe Viola and Augusta Malerina were acquitted. Thus ended a case that began on June 10, 1924, when the anti-fascist leader Matteotti was kidnapped on the banks of the Tiber in Rome, and spirited away to be murdered and buried in a crude grave 12 miles outside the Italian capital.

Due to the king's amnesty ruling, the one year and seven month sentence given three of the men will be reduced to one year eleven months and 20 days. They are awaited sentence since June, 1924, and this time will also be deducted. They will thus be freed early in June, 1926.

WOULD-BE DIVORCEES FIND SONORA "NOT SO HOT" AS SECOND RENO; IT TAKES TOO LONG, COSTS TOO MUCH

NOGALES, Ariz., March 24.—Hundreds of troubled American couples are hurrying over the international line into the state of Sonora, Mexico, for "easy" divorces, and hundreds are coming back, still married.

The sad truth is that the widely heralded divorce law of Sonora which has made divorce as easy as marriage is quite another thing in fact.

The new law provides for divorces by mutual consent of the husband and wife, which is easy enough as it is written, but here is the rub: The costs, including state and federal taxes, the verification of documents, publication of judgment and court costs amount to a minimum of $525, plus attorneys fees.

The time required from the filing of the complaint to the publication of judgment is about 40 days. There is no residence required.

The parties to the action need to be present only at the meeting of conciliation.

A woman may not re-marry within 300 days of the judgment, or from the date of the separation, if it is shown that the parties had separated.

The proceedings consists of a petition or a complaint in Spanish and signed by both parties to which are attached verified copies of the marriage certificate and agreements, providing for the care of minor children and the disposition of community property.

The court then cites the parties to a meeting of conciliation. At this meeting one of the parties should be represented by attorney. If there is no reconciliation—at one after, the parties ask for judgment meeting or within 15 days there by joint petition.

Rather than wait so long and pay so much, the disillusioned American couples cross the border again and plan to separate where the separation is faster.

KAROLYI QUERY IS FURTHER DELAYED

WASHINGTON, March 24.—The senate foreign relations committee again delayed action Wednesday upon the Wheeler resolution for investigation of the manner in which Countess Karolyi, wife of the former republican president of Hungary was excluded by Secretary of State Kellogg from this country.

Senator Wheeler, democrat, Montana, and author of the resolution, explained to the committee in a secret session that he understood certain written reports exist showing that a private detective agency employed by the United States minister to Hungary "hounded and trailed" the count and countess while they were in America.

RATTLE SNAKE OIL FOR CISCO SALADS

CISCO, Texas, March 24.—"Cheat the birthplace of rattlesnake oil," may be the slogan attached to this city in the near future if results obtained from a stormy recently published in the Daily News of Cisco indicate anything.

Several weeks ago the newspaper published a yarn about some resident of Cisco who had discovered a method of extracting an oil from rattlesnakes that when fully distilled had a commercial value of $100.

Since the story was published the chamber of commerce, the newspaper and the individual who made the claim have been besieged with letters. Some of them offer to furnish rattlers by the gross for the manufacture of the oil, others inquire as to the merits and uses of the unusual product, while more ambitious seek the formula for the product.

Altitude Aviator

Lieutenant John A. Macready, world famous altitude and transcontinental flyer of McCook Field, Dayton, Ohio, will be one of the aviators to tell the Crosley WLW radio audience of the work of the aviation division of the United States Army. These talks are given every Tuesday evening, at seven o'clock. The aviators are in an airplane flying about 5,000 feet above the field. A transmitter is in the plane and the talks are picked up on an R. F. L-60 radio receiver in the WLW transmitting station near Harrison, Ohio, and then re-broadcast.

STOCKS

Closed Steady

New York Finance
By E. WALTER MOCKLER
(Financial Editor New York Commercial)

NEW YORK, March 24.—After a few days in which the market failed to develop any definite trend, stocks turned lower so abruptly as to more than suggest that many pools were unloading, voluntarily or otherwise.

Stocks which have been linked in market ideas with strong pool operators, suddenly turned very weak and closed drastically lower. Averages melted away and in many respects the break was comparable with some of the worst declines in the history of the stock market. The turnover was more than 2,700,000 shares and at no time during the day did the trading suggest the possibility of a turn.

More than one good sized account was shaken loose in the merciless drive against prices, especially in the industrial division. Industrials which were in the van of last year's advance were again called upon to pay the penalty for too rash buying at that time. All of the gains made since last October were wiped off the records and the losses during the four months interim can only be computed in billions of dollars. Gan, Atlantic Coast Line, Dupont, American Brakehoe and scores of other leaders were sharply lower.

Hudson Motors dropped to 83, after touching 80, a new low for the year. General Electric lost considerable of its dignity as a market leader by breaking below 300 and closing off 9 3-4 points. This is about 92 points below the high for the year. Steel common came within a quarter point of the year's low. Youngtown Sheet and Tube established a new low for the year, closing down 3 5-8; Mack Truck dropped 8 points, bringing the decline from the year's high to more than 50 points. National Tea's 8 point drop brought the decline from the year's high to 96 points.

This sort of record could be kept up for a long time, although in the bank and file of stocks the losses were not so severe. Still, in proportion, there was quite an extensive loss and sentiment in the street at the close was very pessimistic. Bears who have been selling the market consistently since the first March break, showed no haste to cover, although this might be induced by any signs of a rally. For some time well versed market observers have been looking for a sharp break such as yesterday's to round out the selling. Whether yesterday's set-back spells the end of the decline is a moot question. Psychology has superseded economics as a market guide for the time being and for this reason the human element must be considered in preference to the usual basis of market reasoning.

Kansas City Livestock
KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 24.—Cattle receipts here at most market centers were liberal. The run here included a good percent of fair to good killing steers and yearlings. Extreme low priced steers and best lights and yearlings were fully steady while others were slow and weak to 25 cents lower. Most steers sold around 8.00 to 9.50 with tops at 10.15. Best yearlings generally ranged from 9.00 to 9.75. Hog supplies were liberal and trade was again irregular. Light weights were slow and 15 cents to 25 cents lower; medium and heavies were fairly active and steady to strong; stock pigs were scarce and unchanged with sales around 13.05 @14.40.

SILVERTON PLEASSED TO LEARN ROAD RECOMMENDED

SILVERTON, Tex., Mar. 24.—The report of Examiner Boles of the Interstate Commerce Commission that either the T. F. & G. or the Santa Fe would be granted a permit to build to Silvertown was received here with much delight. Silvertown is the county seat of Briscoe county, and one of the largest towns in Texas that is not served by a railroad.

Silvertown for over thirty years has been forced to freight all of its products of every description over thirty miles to the nearest railway station, but being handicapped by railway facilities has not kept the town from growing.

In the past fourteen months building permits have been more than a quarter of a million dollars, and many improvements are now being planned. Silvertown annually produces and ships hundreds of carloads of wheat, cotton, maize, feed, cattle, poultry and dairy products. With the coming of a railway it is expected that Silvertown and Briscoe county will develop very rapidly.

Black Hereford Sale Creating Much Interest

HEREFORD, Tex., Mar. 24.—Much interest is being manifested from breeders over Texas and nearby states in the big Anxiety 4th Hereford sale which E. B. Black is staging here April 15. Two thousand copies of the sale catalogue have just come off the press and are going just like hot cakes. A large number of breeders were on the waiting list and requests are being received daily from interested breeders for information concerning the offering.

More than fifty per cent of the offering is straight line bred Anxiety 4th stuff, and the rest of the animals are three-fourths or better in Anxiety 4th breeding. It is doubtful if there has been a Hereford sale in Texas within the past five years with such an offering of Anxiety 4th breeding.

Most of the animals are direct descendants of the Stanways, Superior Mischief, or Domino, and a large number of the animals drafted for the sale, have one or more of the famous Donna Anna cows appearing in their pedigrees.

Donna Mischief by superior Mischief and out of Lady Randolph, Donna Mischief 2nd by Beau Randolph 3rd and out of Donna Mischief, Myrtle Mischief by Superior Mischief and out of a Domino cow, Hazel Caido by Bocaldo 6th and out of Lady Anxious, and Gosamer 4th by Beau Converter and out of Gosamer 17, are among the outstanding cows of Black's sale. Practically all the sixty head that will be in the sale are sired by the great Superior Mischief, Mischief 5th by Superior's Mischief, Donald Stanway by Bright Stanway, Modest Mischief by Superior Mischief, or Modest Stanway by Beau Converter. Old Donald Stanway, one of these herd bulls probably has as much Anxiety 4th blood in him as any animal living.

Buenos Aires.—Cmdr. Franco, having successfully completed his flight from Spain to Argentina, wishes to return by way of Chile, Cuba and the United States.

HEREFORD COTTON GIN WILL BE OVERHAULED

HEREFORD, Tex., Mar. 24.—Word has just been received from the owners of the Hereford Gin Company that the local gin will be overhauled and placed in first class condition during the summer months so that it will be in shape to handle a large acreage of cotton which is expected to be planted in this vicinity.

The local Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring the cotton industry in Deaf Smith county, and will do everything possible to encourage the farmers to plant around twenty-five per cent of their land in cotton. The local organization has secured around fifteen hundred bushels of high grade Burnett cotton seed and will distribute them at cost to the local farmers. County Agent R. O. Dunkle and a committee did some research work last fall concerning the different varieties, and Burnett was determined the best variety for this particular locality. Mr. Dunkle is in charge of placing the seed among the farmers here.

LOCKNEY PEOPLE COMPETE IN FESTIVAL

LOCKNEY, Mar. 24.—Musicians and high school students of Lockney will be contestants at the South Plains Musical Festival which will be held in Lubbock March 24 to 27. Miss Lauream Christian, head of the music department of the Lockney High School states that she will enter 14 piano solists and the girls chorus which consists of 18 girls. Much interest is being manifested in this event, and a score or more of Lockney people will be in attendance.

Oil Test Will Be Made In Randall County

CANYON, March 24.—Whether there is oil in Randall County will be thoroughly investigated within the next few months if the plans of the Canyon Chamber of Commerce, headed by O. W. H. Cook, its president, are successful.

Members of the Chamber of Commerce, assisted by farmers of the county are securing a block of land and the leases are in the hands of a board of trustees consisting of Grady Oldham, cashier of the First State Bank, Senator J. W. Keen, president of the First National Bank and M. O. Slack, prominent farmer. The land which is owned by residents has almost all been leased and non-resident owners are showing an inclination to avail themselves of the opportunity to find if they have oil on their holdings.

Canyon has been visited by many men interested in oil, and the minute the necessary leases are secured a reliable driller will be on hand to begin work.

100,000 CHICKS HATCHED EVERY THREE WEEKS

RANGER, Texas, March 24.—Hatcheries in Eastland County are taking off an average of 103,700 baby chicks every three weeks, according to information furnished by C. C. Patterson of the Ranger Chamber of Commerce. Recently a carload of eggs were shipped from this point to Boston, three-fourths of these eggs were furnished by the Bankhead Poultry Association. Last Wednesday a car load of chickens were shipped to Chicago.

DALLAS CLUB OWNS TWO RARE VIOLINS

Case's kills 100,000 Americans every year, it can be treated successfully only in first stages.

MASTER CRIMINAL, WHOSE DEATH IS SOUGHT BY THREE STATES, IS SCION OF SUBSTANTIAL, CLEAN AMERICAN HOME

By United News
NEW YORK, March 24.—As two states sought the custody of Richard Reese Whittemore, notorious bandit leader, in an aim to execute him, and still a third demand his life for murder, sociologists traced his beginning to a substantial clean American home.

The dapper young crook, whose last in the last year has totalled $1,000,000 came from ancestors entirely free from the stigma of crime and his father was an honest, hard working mechanic in Baltimore.

There wasn't any over supply of money in the home to which young Whittemore was born, the experts say, but poverty was absent and respect for law was deeply ingrained. Despite this, the man who now stands as one of the largest operators of the underworld with additional charges piling up on him and his confederates hourly, began stealing while still a youngster.

When most boys are thinking of school, young Whittemore was being sought by police—a petty theft from a neighborhood grocer, a large haul from another store and he grew into the leadership of a gang of boy thieves. He had a criminal record before he was 15.

He led the "Tiger girl" to the altar and his activities increased. Treasures obtained at pistol point were peddled at her feet and guarding the guns by which he lived, she sought insure his safety by standing watch over him when he slept. For Whittemore, never a lone wolf, had a gang and its members must be protected, even from each other.

Now "the Tiger girl" is behind the bars with her bandit husband and the mountain of evidence against them promises to keep them there unless the nose or the chair takes Whittemore.

RAIN FAILS TO DAMP PRE-EASTER REVIVAL

Inclement weather slightly lessened attendance at the pre-Easter revivals in three local churches last night, but failed to put a damper on the enthusiasm of the services. While no call has been made as yet for additions to the church, the pastors expressed themselves as pleased with the spirit of the congregations.

At the Cumberland Presbyterian church Rev. K. L. Ingram took his text, "Agreement in Prayer," from Matthew 18:1 to 10. Miss Ruby Ingram, Rev. Ingram's daughter, sang a special solo.

Rev. Mr. Atkinson at the First Christian church chose as his subject, "Christ a Sufficient Savior." Dr. Atkinson said after the services that while the crowd was slightly less than it had been, it was more than he had looked for during such a rain.

"The Responsibility of Parenthood" was the subject chosen by Rev. D. B. Doak at the First Methodist church. He showed how as "the earthly parent looks to the welfare of his children, so the Heavenly Father looked after His followers."

All the church services opened early and closed early, in order that the congregations might attend the music festival. The same hours will prevail tonight.

The hiding place of the "key of facts" was revealed through a series of hieroglyphics. Timon never had progressed far enough in his worship of "Satan" represented as a fallen angel who eventually would rise to supersede the "key" to undertake a search for this "key."

"Sister rites of this theory," according to this theory, to impress him with the necessity of obeying all commands. The custom of human sacrifices was emphasized to test a fear that refusal to put up required funds would mean death, it is held.

Finally Timon seeing his money slipping away and unable to get possession of the promised "key of facts" revolted against his cult leaders and was slain to prevent an expose of the fraud. Detective Wood believe.

The jury returned the obvious finding that Timon's death was caused by laceration of the throat, "by persons unknown."

'Mercenary Mary' Pays Dress Maker to Keep Out of Jail

By United News
BONDON, March 24.—Peggy O'Neill, American actress starring here in "Mercenary Mary" saved herself a jail sentence Wednesday when she paid a dress maker's bill for $75.

Following sentence Tuesday by the Westminster county court for 42 days imprisonment unless she paid the bill Miss O'Neill sent a check to her dressmaker at once.

"I was astounded at the court's order," Miss O'Neill said. "I had forgotten I owed the money, and of course sent a check to the dressmaker immediately. I certainly don't intend to go to jail."

An order such as that issued against Miss O'Neill is customary in England whenever any creditor claims that a debt has been ignored.

LEARN ABOUT WOMEN FROM HAROLD—HUH?

By United News
KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 24.—Howard M. Underwood, tall, slender, eagle-eyed cowboy from Wyoming, is no sap, and no woman can slip anything over on him. He admits it.

Howard answered an advertisement from a young lady who said she wanted to get married. They corresponded and it was love from the first special delivery letter.

Finally the trusting Romeo of the plains proposed and was accepted, on condition that he send $100 to enable the object of his affections to pay for divorce from her husband.

Howard who is no sap sent the $100 for that purpose and never again heard from his "sweetie" until Wednesday when he met her face to face in the office of the postal inspector. The authorities had arrested her at Howard's request. She was Miss Sylvia Matthews, 28 years old and not difficult on the eyes.

After a brief interview alone, Sylvia and Howard came out smiling. "I guess I made a mistake," he said. "This little girl would not harm anyone, and it will not be right for me to prosecute. And so arm in arm they walked away. Howard, by no sap.

INSURANCE WRITERS OPEN CAMPAIGN IN LUBBOCK AT FAST PACE

F. E. Mangrum and B. J. Hernandez, salesman for the Texas Life Insurance Company who through the K. L. Riggs Agency here yesterday launched a campaign to sell every insurable person in Lubbock ample protection, reported a good get-away for the campaign.

They expect to have a good report to make on the amount of business written before half of the campaign period has passed.

A newspaper that told the truth about the people of its community would die of strangulation in two issues.

SILVERTON, Tex., Mar. 24.—The report of Examiner Boles of the Interstate Commerce Commission that either the T. Silvertown is the county seat of Brisco county, and one of the largest towns in Texas that is not served by a railroad.

Silvertown for over thirty years has been forced to freight all of its products of every description over thirty miles to the nearest railway station, but being handicapped by railway facilities has not kept the town from growing.

In the past fourteen months building permits have been more than a quarter of a million dollars, and many improvements are now being planned. Silvertown annually produces and ships hundreds of carloads of wheat, cotton, maize, feed, cattle, poultry and dairy products. With the coming of a railway it is expected that Silvertown and Brisco county will develop very rapidly.

Black Hereford Sale Creating Much Interest

HEREFORD, Tex., Mar. 24.—Much interest is being manifested from breeders over Texas and near-by states in the big Anxiety 4th Hereford sale which E. B. Black is staging here April 15. Two thousand and copies of the sale catalogue have just come off the press and are going just like hot cakes. A large number of breeders were on the waiting list and requests are being received daily from interested breeders for information concerning the offering.

More than fifty per cent of the offering is straight line bred Anxiety 4th stuff, and the rest of the animals are three-fourths or better in Anxiety 4th breeding. It is doubtful if there has been a Hereford sale in Texas within the past five years with such an offering of Anxiety 4th breeding.

Most of the animals are direct descendants of the Stanways, Superior Mischief, or Domino, and a large number of the animals drafted for the sale, have one or more of the famous Donna Anna cows appearing in their pedigrees.

Donna Mischief by superior Mischief and out of Lady Randolph, Donna Mischief 2nd by Beau Randolph 3rd and out of Donna Mischief, Myrta Mischief by Superior Mischief and out of a Domino cow, Hazel Caldo by Bocaldo 6th and out of Lady Anxious, and Gossamer 4th by Beau Converter and out of Gossamer 17, are among the outstanding cows of Black's sale. Practically all the sixty head that will be in the sale are sired by the great Superior Mischief, Mischief 5th by Superior's Mischief, Donald Stanway by Bright Stanway, Modest Mischief by Superior Mischief, or Modest Stanway by Beau Converter. Old Donald Stanway, one of these herd bulls probably has as much Anxiety 4th blood in him as any animal living.

HEREFORD COTTON GIN WILL BE OVERHAULED

HEREFORD, Tex., Mar. 24.—Word has just been received from the owners of the Hereford Gin Company that the local gin will be overhauled and placed in first class condition during the summer months so that it will be in shape to handle a large acreage of cotton which is expected to be planted in this vicinity.

The local Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring the cotton industry in Deaf Smith county, and will do everything possible to encourage the farmers to plant around twenty-five per cent of their land in cotton. The local organization has secured around fifteen hundred bushels of high grade Burnett cotton seed and will distribute them at cost to the local farmers. County Agent R. O. Dunkle and a committee did some research work last fall concerning the different varieties, and Burnett was determined the best variety for this particular locality. Mr. Dunkle is in charge of placing the seed among the farmers here.

CANYON, March 24.—Whether there is oil in Randall County will be thoroughly investigated within the next few months if the plans of the Canyon Chamber of Commerce, headed by O. W. H. Cook, its president, are successful.

W. Keis, president of the First National Bank and M. O. Shack, prominent farmer. The land which is owned by residents has almost all been leased and non-resident owners are showing an inclination to avail themselves of the opportunity to find if they have oil on their holdings.

Canyon has been visited by many men interested in oil, and the minute the necessary leases are secured a reliable driller will be on hand to begin work.

Slaton Band To Be Organized

SLATON, Tex., Mar. 24.—A special meeting of Slaton's Commercial Club met on Monday night, March 22, for the special purpose of reorganizing and the rebuilding of Slaton's band. Some twenty-five or thirty musicians were present on this occasion. Much enthusiasm and interest was featured in this fathering.

As all remember, and was known throughout the west, that Slaton at one time stood in the front ranks and held the first place as a band. Some of the very best talent are located in this city and this meeting brought back the good time and the old spirit when all was alive.

Mr. Joe Heinrich was elected band master and Mr. I. M. Brewer manager. All committees were appointed for the completion of the organization with the understanding that all members would meet in practice next Friday night, March 26. This is one of Slaton's greatest moves as we believe at this modern day of so many gatherings and meetings that nothing so thrills and inspires the spirit and interest of the public as a master band.

Watch this band within a few weeks Slaton's people will hear the echo and strains of those musical voices that will lead and inspire the soul of man to bigger and better things.

Slaton's Commercial Club is doing her part toward blending every interest of life in that great program and is leading the way for every interest that will function for the construction and build of the South Plains.

BURY CHILD WHO HANGED HIMSELF

CROSBYTON, March 24.—Lee Waldron, 12 year-old son of J. F. Waldron, prominent farmer living near this city, was found dead hanging by rope from a tree in the yard late Monday evening. The child, as in instances before, had been playing in a tree and had a small rope for his playmate. From all indications he had lost his balance and became entangled in the rope in such manner that a part formed around his neck as he fell and choked him to death. He had caught a chicken for his mother and went for play and was later found by his father.

Funeral services will be held here today.

NEW TREASURE HUNT IS ORGANIZED

HAVANA, Cuba, March 24.—A treasure hunt for revolutionary funds amounting to $200,000 in United States currency is being organized by veterans of the Cuban War for Freedom, at Aguacate, Cuba.

According to the veterans, just before the battleship Maine was blown up in Havana harbor in 1898, a Cuban filibustering expedition raised $200,000 in the United States. The Spaniards, getting wind of the fund, detailed soldiers from Havana to go to Aguacate to investigate the rumor. The Spaniards were successful in locating the group of patriots having the money and pursued them so closely that one of the Cubans buried the money in a secret cache. The Cuban was killed by the Spanish soldiers and the secret died with him.

The remainder of the band now believe they have located the approximate location of the treasure on a farm owned by an American and are endeavoring to get permission from the owner to search for the money on his property.

Cuba abounds in tales of buried treasure. Pirates of the Spanish main are supposed to have buried some of their loot on the Isle of Pines. Several of the keys off the south coast are thought to contain treasure buried by pirates.

Another story circulated in Havana is of a group of emigrants, who when Cuba joined the Allies against Germany, buried $2,000,000 in cash and jewels on the beach a few miles from Havana to prevent confiscation by the Cuban government. A group of American adventurers, overhearing discussions for locating the treasure being given to representatives of the Germans in Havana several years later made an effort to reach the place where the treasure was buried ahead of the representatives but arrived only to find a freshly dug hole in the earth.

Elaborate Plans for District Inter-Scholastic Meet.

While the West State Teacher's College is rendering its maximum service to schools throughout the Panhandle in the conduct of their local meets, where boys and girls compete for places as debaters, declaimers, extemporaneous speakers and athletes, the authorities at the college are making plans for the giant first district meet on April 23 and 24.

At this time Canyon will have a thousand boy and girl visitors from the high schools of 23 Panhandle counties.

HEREFORD POULTRYMEN TO ORGANIZE EGG ASSN.

HEREFORD, Tex., Mar. 24.—Poultry breeders of Deaf Smith county, will gather in a mass meeting next Monday night to perfect the organization of an infertile egg association. Preliminary work was done some weeks ago when a committee was set to work to gather data concerning the organization and work of various egg marketing associations. This committee will make its report Monday night.

The poultry business in Deaf Smith county is growing by leaps and bounds, and is fast becoming one of the country's most profitable industries. Local poultrymen are faced with the problem of producing fresh eggs at points where the best prices can be obtained. Right now there are no premiums paid here for first class eggs that are gathered properly and packed in the right way. The association is expected to help solve these problems.

RAILROAD SITUATION EXPLAINED BY MANAGER A. B. DAVIS OF LUBBOCK C. OF C. BEFORE ROTARIANS WEDNESDAY

Interesting because of the special attention that was given the Panhandle railroad situation, the weekly luncheon meeting program of the Lubbock Rotary Club yesterday engaged the absolute attention of a large majority of the members and guests.

Chas. A. Guy was chairman of the program, introducing as the first speaker Chief T. E. May, who explained the clean-up campaign that starts here April 4th, and told the Rotarians something of what is expected of them.

A very instructive and entertaining discussion of the Volstead Act, with special attention to its merits, was entered into by Dr. J. C. Granberry, of the Texas Technological College who declared that that act of congress had been ratified by vote of the people and was therefore not an abruptly established law, but one wanted and approved by the majority of the people of this country.

A. B. Davis, manager of the Chamber of Commerce and Board of City Development, explained the railroad situation clearly. His speech is as follows:

As I am not a prophet nor the son of a prophet, I am not attempting to tell you what the final development will be in new rail construction for this section but to briefly explain the recommendations of Examiner Bolea, who conducted the hearing at Plainview last July.

He recommends that the T. P. & G. be given a permit of Public Necessity and Convenience to construct a new line from Tucuman, New Mexico to Seymour, Texas, provided they will construct certain lines or make arrangements for extending their service into Plainview and Lubbock.

From Seymour, they will go over the Gulf, Texas & Western to Jackboro or Bridgeport or Salesville. They are to acquire the Gulf, Texas & Western by purchase or obtain trackage rights over the Gulf Texas & Western from Salesville, Jackboro or Bridgeport, they are to go into Fort Worth over some existing line such as the Rock Island by trackage agreements or to construct a line into Fort Worth.

The Q. A. & P. is given permission to extend its line from McBain to Floydada and the T. P. & G. is to build into Lubbock from Floydada and into Plainview provided they can not make trackage agreement with the Santa Fe. The T. P. & G. is to serve Lubbock and Plainview by operating trains over the Q. A. & P. from Paducah to Floydada and serve Lubbock and Plainview from Floydada as already outlined.

Mr. Bolea recommends that some major carrier other than the Santa Fe or Burlington shall obtain control of the T. P. & G. by the purchase of at least $2,000,000 worth of capital stock and the T. P. & G. shall be given six months to perfect its plan. In event the T. P. & G. does not make the necessary financial arrangements its application to be denied at the end of six months and the application of the Fort Worth & Denver to build from Estelline to Lubbock and from a junction above Lockney to Dimmitt by way of Plainview be granted.

The application of the Fort Worth & Denver to build from the junction above Lockney to Silvertown to be denied and the application of the Santa Fe to build from Luder Switch to Silvertown to be granted. The application of the Santa Fe to build from Plainview to Dimmitt to be denied.

The next step in this procedure is that the various interested railroads shall be given twenty days in which to file their exceptions. Then, the case will be docketed and a date set for hearing oral arguments before Division Four of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The best information we can get is that this hearing of oral argument will more than likely be in May or June. After the hearing of oral argument, Division Four will render a decision which may not be in accordance with Mr. Bolea's recommendations.

I further understand that appeal may be taken from the decision of Division Four to the entire Commission, whose decision will be final. It may be well to state that ordinarily a decision of a Division of the Commission is taken as final.

Locally, we are in this position: We have a contract with the Fort Worth & Denver, to be built into Lubbock. This contract provides that we shall obtain right of way across the country, right of way into and through the City of Lubbock to a location selected for station grounds, terminal facilities and the necessary shops.

Under the contract, we are given permission to purchase that part of the required right of way, terminal, station and shop grounds required in Lubbock up to an expenditure of a sum not exceeding $75,000.

The Fort Worth and Denver contracts and binds itself and has deposited bonds in the sum of $100,000 that in the event their application is denied, they will take all the property purchased under this contract off our hands at the cost of the property plus the expenses of obtaining same and they further agreed that should a final decision not be had in thirty months from the date of the contract that they will take this property off our hands any way.

The Railroad Committee of the Chamber of Commerce has purchased approximately $33,000 worth of property. They secured the money for this through a loan for a Fort Worth Bank. The notes given by local citizens in the total sum of around $175,000 were due and payable last November and December.

The Railroad Committee has collected on these payments from a number of the makers of the notes and at this time are attempting to collect these first payments from additional subscribers that they may repay the loan to the Fort Worth bank.

Because of our contract with the Fort Worth and Denver there is no possibility of our people losing any money.

Hear Heart Beats Over Microphone

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., March 24.—Heart beats of five men were distinctly heard by radio listeners in various localities of the northwest Tuesday night, officials at radio station WCCO, where the experiment was conducted Wednesday.

A special attachment of a stethoscope and a three tube amplifier made the heart throbs sufficiently loud to be broadcast.

The sound reproduced by receiving apparatus was described by listeners as that of a far away gushing of water through pipes. The difference between the opening and closing of the heart valves was said to be discernable.

IS IT CATARRH? Oden, Ark.—'About four years ago I was troubled with catarrh in the head and with indigestion. My doctor did me no good. Finally I wrote to Dr. Pierce and when I received an answer I sent for Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, Pleasant Peppermint and Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, also a Nasal Irrigator. I commenced to doctor myself and had good success. I'm sure I would not have been living if I hadn't obtained relief. I am 64 years of age. I tell every one who has catarrh to consult Dr. Pierce, as he surely helped me.'—J. W. Ledbetter. All dealers. Write Dr. Pierce, President Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., for free advice.

WHAT NEXT? WONDERS PLYMOUTH, ITS CHIEF ATTRACTION DEAD By United News PLYMOUTH, Vt., March 22.—Their houses bright with flowers sent to the funeral of Colonel John C. Coolidge and afterwards given to his neighbors by Mrs. Calvin Coolidge's orders, the people of Plymouth are wondering what is to be the disposition of the old farm house where the father of the nation's president lived and died.

Colonel Coolidge's neighbors profited from the fame that came to Plymouth when the chief executive of the United States took the oath of office there. Thousands of tourists came to the otherwise obscure little village.

Now the people of Plymouth are wondering whether they must return to obscurity, or whether President Coolidge will retain some association with his father's birth place. The house in which Colonel Coolidge lived had been deeded to his son some time ago.

Plymouth would like to see the president make the farm his "summer White House" and is discussing this possibility around the stove in the general store. Many of the villagers favor making the Coolidge homestead a museum.

ATTACKS ON AMERICAN FILMS TERMED UNFAIR WASHINGTON, March 24.—(U. P.)—Unusual discriminations which may have an unfavorable effect on the entire foreign trade of the United States, are being made against American pictures abroad, according to Dr. Julius Klein, foreign trade expert of the Department of Commerce.

American industry must get together, Klein said, to force removal of the obstacles now placed in the way of importation of films in foreign countries. Showing of American motion pictures abroad, he emphasized, has a profound effect of sales of other American products.

"In some countries," Klein said, "what is known as the contingent system has been set up to block imports of American films. Under this system no American film should be shown by a given theater without an equal number of films of the native manufacturer being shown. In some cases the proportion was not equal. In some cases it was five American films to one native film, or for every two American films one native film."

Many foreign industries, Klein said, knowing the effect American pictures have on the sales of other products, have combined to obstruct the importation of films. American movies, he said, are the most potent single contributor to a better understanding of the United States in Latin America. "American films are invaluable in countries where there is a high percentage of illiteracy," Klein said. "From the pictures they see they get their impressions of how we live, the clothes we wear, etc. "There has been a complete change in the demand for commodities in dozens of countries. In the Far East there have been expansion in trade, traceable directly to the effects of motion pictures."

PRESENCE AND HOSTILITY OF ALIEN ELEMENT GREATEST HINDRANCE TO DRY LAW ENFORCEMENT, ROTARY TOLD

Dr. J. C. Granberry, of the Texas Technological College, yesterday pointed out to members of the Rotary Club some of the facts concerning the Volstead Act that indicate its substantiality and show that the people of this country are in the majority favorable to prohibition.

His speech follows:

Three years ago, when I made a survey for the World League Against Alcoholism, visiting eighty countries and passing through Northern Africa and Eastern and Central Europe, I found that only three great peoples had adopted the prohibition experiment of thoroughgoing prohibition. One of those was the Mohammedan World, where abstention from alcoholic drinks is supposed to be part of their religious program, though not strictly observed in the great centers and seaport towns. The second was Russia, which had already relaxed the prohibition measure; indeed, in Russia prohibition did not come up from the people but from above. United States stood out as the greatest prohibition country in the world, and I have found many intelligent people in other countries who look to us with respect and admiration in our unique and bold adventure. The suppression of alcoholic beverages is then a distinctive American policy, and it is not without significance that the Western parts of the United States are the parts where the foreign-born are most numerous, and that most of the bootleggers are said to be foreigners, though many of their patrons are native-born Americans. Undoubtedly one of the greatest obstacles in the way of this courageous experiment in democratic government is the presence and hostility of an alien element indifferent to American institutions, unresponsive to American opinion, and with a traditional attitude toward alcoholic drinks foreign to our way of seeing things.

They are now being called upon to reverse our verdict and reverse our national policy regarding prohibition. If there exists any good reason for our so doing, no patriotic, fair-minded man should hesitate. Prohibition is a mistake, then let us abolish it. We do not, however, propose to be stampeded, and demand to be shown the reasons for a change.

In the first place, we are told that prohibition was adopted hastily as a measure, and it is intimated that there was something unfair or irregular about the way it was put over. Nothing could be farther from the truth. Both the Eighteenth Amendment and the Volstead Act were enacted in strict conformity with established legal procedure, and they have repeatedly stood the test of the courts. The allegation that the American people acted without due deliberation is absurd. For fifty years the question had been agitated, and already a majority of the American people, occupying three-fourths of American territory, were living under State and local prohibition when the Eighteenth Amendment was submitted. National prohibition was simply the next logical step in a movement that had been active ever since Abraham Lincoln had called the liquor traffic a cancer that ought to be removed. The evil had crossed State lines and was national in scope, and under our Constitution three-fourths of the States have the right to say what shall or shall not be placed under Federal jurisdiction. The question was submitted in 1917, and in January, 1919 both branches of the Legislature in 36 States had ratified the Amendment. Later 45 out of the

"Help Yourself Traffic Court"

A novel and speedy traffic court has opened in Chicago and the violator doesn't even have to see the judge. When given the arrest slip, the violator can plead guilty to the charge against him, appear in court 36 hours later, and pay for his negligence according to a fixed scale. The new system eliminates all necessity of tiresome waiting in the courtroom until one's case is called.

48 had so done, leaving only New Jersey, Connecticut and Rhode Island.

Secondly, we are told that the majority of the people do not want prohibition, as shown by straw votes. But our form of government makes no provision for straw votes. The Constitution sets forth clearly the means by which the will of the people may be registered, and the provisions were complied with in adopting prohibition. Exactly the same means are at the disposal of those who are now so dissatisfied.

But objectors are not themselves unkind. Most of them seem to say that they are not fighting the prohibition amendment but the Volstead Act. This measure is only the carrying out by Congress of the second section of the amendment providing for enforcement. The limit of alcohol found practical in prohibition states, one-half of one per cent is imposed. Would not light wines and beer mean a return to intoxicants and therefore violation of the constitution.

Bottling Company To Open Plant Here Soon

J. R. Jameson and J. D. Spencer, of Austin, who have just completed the building and equipping of a Nu-Grape Bottling plant here, will open the new business on Main street, near the Tech College campus, about April 15th, according to announcement made yesterday.

The company will serve ten counties of which Lubbock is the hub and in addition to the grape beverage, that has proven popular in other sections, a "Squeeze Lime" product will be handled by the company in this territory.

Mrs. Frank Simpson of Douglas County, Nebraska, recently went to India with her husband to deliver 600 mules to the British government.

100 LEGIONAIRES ENROLLED IN CAMPAIGN

A total of one hundred new members have been enlisted in the American Legion as a result of the campaign that was launched at the regular semi-monthly meeting Monday evening.

The largest number of new members enrolled at a single time was Monday when nine of the workers reported the enlistment of more than 85 ex-service men.

The campaign, which will continue until the evening of April 5th, will be concluded with a great get-together meeting of the old and new members when a special program will be arranged.

FARM NEAR LEVELLAND SECURED BY CITIZENS OF BROWNWOOD

Joe Carr, of Brownwood, returned to his home yesterday after several days in this territory during which time he exchanged a large home at Brownwood for two labors of land four miles north and east of Level-land in Hockley county.

The land will not be put into cultivation this year, but will be developed early in 1917, Mr. Carr said. The deal was made with Mr. Reed, of Austin, who owns a large body of land in that section and whom it is understood here is planning a trading for other residence property at Brownwood, which will bring a number of families from that place to the plains country.
