Garment Plant Due Within Two Months

(Smith's Studio Photo)

Cubans Blame Castro for Firings Over Water Deal

GUANTANAMO NAVAL BASE, Cuba (UPI) — Cuban workers who were fired in retaliation for the cutoff of fresh water to the U. S. naval base blamed Cuban Premier Fidel Castro rather than the United States, the base commander said Saturday.

The water shortage has been virtually solved. The first major shipment of water from the United States — about 4.3 million gallons — arrived early Saturday aboard the tanker Tallulah from Port Everglades, Fla. But Rear Adm. John D. Bulkeley, the base commander, was more concerned about the firing of Cuban civilian workers than about getting water.

"I guess it was just that Castro took a punch at us, and we thought we had to retaliate," he told newsmen who arrived by air about the same time as the tanker. They were the first newsmen permitted to go to Guantanamo since the water crisis began Feb. 6.

Most Still Remain

Bulkeley, the man who rescued Gen. Douglas MacArthur from Corregidor early in World War II, said there still are about 1,800 Cubans working on the base and living in Castro Cuban territory.

About 500 have been fired under orders from the White House, he said.

"Amazingly, though," he said, "there were only five among the 500 who were resentful or who blamed the United States. All the rest blamed Castro and the cold war."

Bulkeley admitted that firing the civilian workers would keep some U.S. dollars out of the Cuban economy. But he said about 200 domestic workers who were fired averaged less than $35 a month in salary.

He said there would be no more firings unless he gets orders from Washington.

Flies In Newsmen

The Navy flew a group of U.S. reporters to this beleaguered base on the southeastern tip of Cuba as the United States began a water shuttle service from Florida. Castro cut off the base's fresh water supply from the nearby Yateras River after four Cuban fishing boats with 38 men aboard were seized in U.S. territorial waters near the Dry Tortugas.

The Navy plans a $10 million program to make the base self-sufficient. The plans include shipping an experimental water desalting plant from San Diego, Calif., to Guantanamo.

Hoffa Freed In One Count Of Jury Fix

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn (UPI) — Teamsters president James R. Hoffa won acquittal Saturday on one of four charges of attempting to rig a federal jury.

U.S. District Judge Frank Wilson ordered the acquittal verdict, but refused to clear Hoffa and his five codefendants on the other charges.

Dropping of the one count reduces to 15 years imprisonment the maximum sentence which Hoffa and his five co-defendants on all outstanding charges.

He and his five co-defendants are charged with attempts to bribe and influence jurors who heard Hoffa's 1962 conspiracy trial in Nashville.

In ordering acquittal on the one count Wilson said there was "insufficient" evidence of a "connection of the defendant James R. Hoffa with the matters charged in the second count."

The count alleged that Hoffa engineered an alleged attempt to offer a $10,000 bribe to James Tippens, a prospective juror in the conspiracy trial.

Cambodia Threatens To Sign With Reds

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (UPI) — Prince Norodom Sihanouk, Cambodia's chief of state, threatened Saturday to sign a military pact with Communist China and North Viet Nam if the United States does not accept his plan to neutralize Cambodia.

Sihanouk set a May 31 deadline for U. S. acceptance.

If the plan has not been accepted by Washington by the end of April, Sihanouk said, he would send a mission to Hanoi, capital of Communist North Viet Nam, to negotiate recognition of Cambodian frontiers, and establishment of diplomatic relations.

From that time on, Sihanouk said, Cambodia would consider the Hanoi government as the only regime for all of Viet Nam, including South Viet Nam.

The United States, which is assisting South Viet Nam in the war against Viet Cong guerrillas, does not recognize Hanoi.

(In Saigon, South Vietnamese Foreign Minister Phan Huy Phan said Saturday his government will pursue "a policy of good neighborliness" toward Cambodia. He said incidents along the border with Cambodia "to a large extent appear almost unavoidable, especially when our country has to cope with a subversive war.")

Sihanouk stressed that Cambodia would not aid North Viet Nam in the war against South Viet Nam, but would intervene in the event of an invasion of North Viet Nam.

The agreement with Peking and Hanoi would call for North Vietnamese and Chinese intervention if Cambodia is invaded.

Politics Hot in Hemphill

Politics in the Pampa area appear to be at a low ebb this year, but one Top O' Texas county has assured voters a red-hot race come primary time.

Hemphill County is the site of the hottest election race in this area with four persons seeking the sheriff's office, four running for a county commissioners post and two more trying for a second place.

The contested elections go as far as the county Democratic chairmanship where two Canadian residents are battling for the post.

Lipscomb County has contested elections in all races but one, and at least one race in every county is on tap.

* * *

HEMPHILL COUNTY — Sheriff Walter Adams is seeking re-election as both sheriff and county tax assessor, but has three foes in the May 2 primary.

Jim Miller, city night watchman, B. N. Bryant, retired Canadian farmer, and Jim Cloyd, cattleman and food locker operator, are running against Adams.

In the county commissioners race for Precinct 1, Orla Curnutt, seeking re-election, is being opposed by Alton Hendershot, a farmer; Otis Cline, city councilman and First National Bank employe; and Don Fuller, service station attendant.

* * *

LIPSCOMB COUNTY — Basil Duke Jr., sheriff and tax collector, is being opposed in his bid for re-election by George Pratt, in this northern Panhandle county.

Mrs. Lena Glasgow, county clerk, has two opponents for re-election in the lone county clerk election in this area. She is opposed by Don Wynn and Wendell Henning.

County Commissioner George E. Travis is being contested in his bid for a new term by A. C. Cotney and Marvin Boren in Precinct 3. Ollie Scott is running.

Chamber Tells Plans to Form Industrial Unit

Foundation Would Provide Fund To Attract New Business to City

Need for an Industrial Foundation which would provide Pampa boosters with operating funds to attract new businesses was outlined Saturday.

Frank Culberson, immediate past chairman of the industrial committee for the Chamber of Commerce, told some 300 chamber members that "we are ready to organize the foundation and move forward."

Culberson's remarks were made during a dinner that brought the announcement that a new industry would be located in Pampa that would employ some 300 people within two years.

"This is a red letter day for Pampa," Culberson said. "This is the beginning for all of our hopes which were formed several months ago by the very people here today."

Culberson told the Chamber members present that the Industrial Foundation "is needed in order that we may go forward with our plans to make Pampa a greater city."

He said that the funds raised recently for the Texas A&M University industrial survey was just "a start" and "we are progressing."

"Now we are ready really to make a step forward and again it will take your help to make all this work worthwhile," he declared.

"This new plant is just the beginning of what you asked the industrial committee to do several months ago," he reminded.

"In order to continue we must have the funds available from which to begin," he explained. "You want a professional approach to this project and to be professional, we must get ready before we start."

Culberson said he felt that Pampa was on the threshold of "many things which will help this area." He pointed out that the Coronado Inn was a great example of "what Pampans can do when they set their minds."

"I don't know how we got along without this hotel before and I know we couldn't do without it now," he said.

"The details of the industrial fund have not been completed as yet, but we hope to be able to present them within a few days," Culberson commented. "I know that you will come through now as you have in the past."

Culberson, speaking on behalf of the industrial development committee Chairman Hugh Burdette, who was not able to be present, told the group that each person present should "become an individual booster for everything that concerns Pampa, day and night."

"This Industrial Foundation is a thing that we have to do and we, as citizens in a growing community, should take pleasure in doing the job right."

Chamber President Aubrey Steele and other chamber leaders had met earlier in the day with a large number of Pampa businessmen to explain the foundation idea.

No information about the actual foundation program was given during the dinner, but chamber officials indicated this would be forthcoming within the next several days.

Fighting Threatens Cyprus Cease-Fire

NICOSIA, Cyprus (UPI) — New fighting threatened the uneasy cease-fire on Cyprus Saturday and Britain announced it was seeking an early meeting of the United Nations Security Council to consider "the dangerous situation" on this troubled island republic.

Reports of military movements by both Turkey and Greece toward Cyprus touched off invasion jitters. Turkish flags blossomed on the roofs of houses in the east coast port of Famagusta in anticipation of a rumored Turkish invasion.

On the diplomatic front, urgent efforts continued to prevent full-scale civil war between the Greek and Turkish communities which could trigger armed intervention by Greece and Turkey.

U. S. Undersecretary George Ball flew to London for talks with British officials on the worsening crisis. Ball stopped over in Athens and Ankara en route from Nicosia after Cypriot President Archbishop Makarios turned down an Anglo-American peace-keeping plan.

Turkish naval units were reported massed at the port of Iskenderon but informed sources in London said Ball had persuaded the Turkish government to withhold military action pending further attempts to reach a settlement.

(Reports reaching London said Turkey had decided to use its treaty right of intervention in Cyprus but agreed to delay action for 48 hours at Ball's request.

(Informed sources in Athens said an undisclosed number of Greek warships, including troop carriers, were "patroling" in the Dodecanese waters off the coast of Turkey. The sources also said Greek armed forces were standing by.

(Greek Defense Minister Gen. Demetrios Papanikolopoulos told newsmen in Athens after meeting with Prime Minister John Paraskevopoulos that "the situation continues critical and unforeseen developments within the next 24 hours can not be excluded.")

Shooting erupted again this morning in the southwestern Cypriot town of Paphos, where fighting between Greek and Turkish Cypriots broke out Friday. British military officials said at least two Turkish Cypriots were killed and one injured before a company of British paratroopers moved in to enforce the ceasee-fire.

Makarios Friday turned down the Anglo-American proposal for an international peace force and said he would take the issue to the United Nations. The United States and Britain are opposed to such a move on the grounds that it would open the door to Soviet intervention.

He said he would send a Greek Cypriot delegation to New York for a direct approach to the U.N. Security Council seeking a guarantee against the alleged threat of Turkish military intervention.

Traffic Places Traffic Judges Out of Traffic

DALLAS (UPI) — Two of the four Dallas judges who try traffic violators in corporation court were off the bench today — because of automobile accident injuries.

Judge James Gamble has been out since Thanksgiving when he was seriously hurt in an automobile accident. Senior Judge Frank O'Brien was at home after being struck by a car as he walked along a street Wednesday night. He was not seriously injured.

Visiting judges are filling in.

Rusk Hints Boycott In Protest of Trade

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk has repeated recent high-level hints of a possible American consumer boycott of British firms trading with Cuba. He stressed, however, that the U.S. government would have no hand in any such development.

Rusk spoke out during a government - sponsored, Voice of American interview recorded Friday for broadcast overseas. His remarks were released Saturday, two days after the end of President Johnson's talks with British Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home.

The secretary of state acknowledged Anglo - American differences over Western trade with Communist nations, including Cuba, a touchy issue upon which Johnson and Sir Alec failed to agree.

But Rusk noted Saturday that British trade with Cuba is "very small" and that even if it increases, "it will not be large."

"I think we should just wait to see what the practical effects of this trade may be," he said.

Spread Hints

A week ago, top-echelon officials in the administration began spreading hints that American consumers might rebel against buying goods from British firms that export to Cuba. They suggested, for example, that the manufacturer that made a deal to sell 400 buses to Cuba might lose sales of its sports cars in the United States because of adverse consumer reaction.

British commercial and economic sources reported Saturday that there have been no indications that a boycott was in the making. A British Embassy spokesman said only a "normal" number of letters of protest about the bus deal had been received.

Factory to Employ Some 300 Persons

By GLENN McCASLAND

A new 300-plus employee factory will be constructed within two months in Pampa, it was announced by Chamber of Commerce officials Saturday.

Form-O-Uth Company of Los Angeles, Calif., manufacturers or women's inimate wearing appareal, will locate the factory here, bringing an estimated $800,000 payroll to the city within two years.

Calvin W. Fraser, president of the company, made the announcement jointly with Aubrey Steele, president of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce, during a luncheon at the Coronado Inn before a packed room.

The announcement came after Chamber officials completed two years of talks and 10 days of intensive work to interest the firm in locating a plant in this city.

The plant will manufacture a complete line of foundation garments for women to be sold in every state in the Union, including Alaska, Hawaii and all of South America.

Fraser said the factory would operate in conjunction with Marie Foundations plant in McLean, which is owned by the Form-O-Uth Company of Los Angeles. The McLean plant will continue to function at its present capacity pace. The Pampa factory will operate under a new company name, to be selected.

Construction of the plant will begin at once, with officials hoping to see actual ground-breaking done next week, and is scheduled to be completed within the next two months or 45-day period.

Dale Greenhouse, resident manager of Marie Foundations in McLean, will be in active charge of the Pampa factory in addition to his present duties, Fraser reported.

The Pampa factory will be constructed on the old Magnolia property at the east end of Foster St. by the Pam-Tex Corporation, another Pampa industry.

The building will include some 18,000 square feet and will be fully air-conditioned, landscaped and constructed in such a way as to make working facilities a model of contemporary comfort for the garment industry.

The firm is expected to employ 300 persons by 1966 and training will begin within the next three weeks in temporary headquarters at First National Bank Annex, Foster and Ballard Sts.

Officials said that applications for positions with the new firm, which will employ some 95 per cent women, should be made at the Texas Employment Commission Office as all applicants will be screened there.

Application forms will be

Cabot to Start Use Of Big Hopper Cars

Cabot Corporation announced from its Boston office Saturday it will put into service 40 new jumbo-sized covered hopper cars designed and built to its specifications by Thrall Car Manufacturing Company for use in handling and shipping of bulk carbon black.

These cars provide 30-50 per cent additional space over present commercially available carbon black covered hopper cars. Depending upon the density of a given black, the new car can hold up to 140,000 pounds as compared with an average load of 78,000 pounds.

Cabot says major advantages to customers will come from reduced costs and greater speed in handling and shipping the larger quantities of bulk black. Savings will result from reduced customer handling, lower inventory costs and internal processing economies. There is also the possibility of lower freight rates based on heavier loading.

Despite their greater capacity, cars are uniquely made to duplicate exactly the centre-to-centre discharge valve dimensions of present cars. This permits customers the same interchangeability of jumbo cars with all other cars and equal ease and convenience of unloading. In addition, cars are equipped with roller bearings which will eliminate intransit layovers, assure acceptance on high speed through trains and result in quicker deliveries and better customer inventory control.

Cabot maintains the largest covered hopper car fleet in the carbon black industry and says it considers it an essential customer service to do so. After adding the 40 new jumbo cars to its fleet it will set a new record with a total of 300 cars and a capacity of well over 1,000,000 cubic feet.

Pioneers of the carbon black bulk shipment idea, Cabot has consistently stressed the advantages to customers of price, cleanliness, efficiency and lower handling costs. They designed the first special carbon black covered hopper car to be put into use for this purpose which incidentally was the original "centre discharge" car now standard throughout the carbon black industry. Cabot states that addition to its fleet of the new jumbo cars will strengthen its ability to supply the fastest, most dependable and lowest cost carbon black bulk shipments to its customers.

Gas Firm Lists Income for '63

AMARILLO (Spl) — Earnings for 1963 were released at a meeting of directors of Pioneer Natural Gas Company in Amarillo.

The net income of Pioneer Natural Gas Company and its subsidiaries for 1963 was $6,093,125 compared to $5,611,610 for the year 1962. The net income, which excludes a special item, amounts to $1.70 per share on the 3,586,514 shares of common stock outstanding at the end of 1963 compared to $1.57 on the 3,582,164 shares outstanding at the end of 1962. The special item represents a capital gain on the sale of certain liquid hydrocarbon rights in the West Panhandle field of Texas, in the amount of $1,347,958, net of federal income tax, or 38 cents per share.

A regular quarterly dividend of 29 cents per share was declared on the outstanding common stock, payable March 5, 1964 to stockholders of record at the close of business on February, 21, 1964.

The Company's Annual Report to the Stockholders and Proxy Statements will be mailed about March 13, 1964.

Over 260,000,000 gallons of water are used daily in the U.S. for home and industrial purposes.

Center Wrap-Up

George Smith, Director
Pampa Youth and Community Center

The center will offer new swim lessons beginning Monday for advanced beginners and intermediates. Classes will meet for three weeks on Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. Advanced beginners will meet from 4-5 p.m. while intermediates will meet from 5-6 p.m.

To take the advanced beginner course a person must have passed a Red Cross Beginners course. To take the intermediates lessons a person must have passed an advanced beginners course. Persons qualifying may enroll anytime after 3 p.m. until Thursday, 20. Enrollees do not have to be Center members but may pay the instructor fee of $2.

The center is sponsoring judo lessons again for 1964. Classes will meet on Thursday nights at 7 p.m. for a period of two months. Classes will be conducted by A. E. Brewer, noted black belt winner of this area.

Persons interested in judo lessons should be at least 16 or older and be a center member. Non - members may become members by purchasing a membership card. Individual memberships are $5 and $8 while family memberships are $12 and $20. There is no further charge for the lessons. An organizational meeting has already been held but persons may still enroll by coming by the center.

There will be an all-star game Sunday at 2:30 in the center gym. An All - Star team from Borger will play against players from the center league. Center league players will be Roy Pool, Gene Brown, Gary Griffin, Jim Crinklaw, James Lee, Sam Condo, Gene Williams, Coyle Winborne, Arlen Kaiser, Bob Branscum, Ronnie Mills, Gerald Bichsel and Bill Abbott. The public is invited.

The center is sponsoring a Grade School Basketball Tournament on March 2, 3, 5 and 7 for grades 1-6. All of the Pee Wee basketball teams in Pampa as well as teams from all over the Panhandle area are invited to enter. Trophies will be awarded. Teams may contact George Smith at the center to enter. The tournament will be limited to 16 teams.

Basketball League games that were postponed because of the snow have been rescheduled and are as follows: Friday — 7 p.m. Wards vs. 1st National 8:30 p.m. — Panhandle Packing vs. Celanese, Feb. 23 — 2:30 p.m. Motor Supply vs. White Deer and Feb. 27 — 7:00 p.m. S. W. Public Service vs. Pampa Jaycees.

The league was in its 10 week at press time with Motor Supply playing Panhandle Packing. A win by Motor Supply would keep them on top undefeated (10-0) but a loss could drop them down into a tie with the Pampa Jaycees (9-1). A change in standings this week brought White Deer Jaycees up into fourth place by virtue of their defeat of First National Bank. The reason for this importance in positions is that the first four place finishers will engage in a playoff for a tournament trophy. Teams in the chips now in order are Motor Supply, Pampa Jaycees, Panhandle Packing and White Deer.

Communist Paper Admits Plane Shot

BERLIN (UPI) — The East German Communist youth newspaper Young World said yesterday a Soviet fighter shot down a U.S. Air Force jet trainer over East Germany last month only after the American aircraft ignored two warnings to land.

It was believed to be the first East European newspaper to say the plane actually was shot down.

It said the aircraft, whose three crew members were killed, flew 55.8 miles into East Germany over important "industrial and political objects."

"Then the air defense went into action," the newspaper said. "A Soviet fighter summoned the aircraft through optical signals to land. Nothing happened. The jet fighter fired warning shots. Still nothing happened. Only then was aim taken."

The unarmed jet trainer was shot down Jan. 28 when its equipment failed and it crossed the East German border.

PLAN EXPANSION

WELLESLEY HILLS, Mass. (UPI) — Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator Co. announced it will expand its data processing division operation in the Boston area, with a new 120,000 square foot plant rented at Lawrence, Mass., a 30,000 - square foot building leased at Newton Highlands, Mass., and a 110,000-square foot addition to the Brighton plant.

ORDER JETS

DALLAS (UPI) — Two additional British - made "One - Eleven" jetliners will be ordered by Braniff International Airways, bringing the airline's total order to 14 and its investment in the "One-Eleven" program to $40 million.

Clubs of Ruby's Denied Licenses

DALLAS (UPI) — Beer and wine license renewals for two clubs once operated by Jack Ruby were denied this week by County Judge Lew Sterrett.

Joe Nelms, a state liquor control board inspector, objected to the renewals. He said cases were pending that charged Ruby with failure to be peaceful and law-abiding.

Sterrett rejected the applications for the Vegas Club and Big D Copa club (formerly the Carousel). Ruby, at the time, was attending a hearing in criminal district court connected with murder charges that he killed accused presidential assassin Lee Harvey Oswald.

Sterrett's denials may be appealed. Ruby's name was not on either application, but his brother is connected with the Big D Copa. Mrs. Delores Nolley told the court she had purchased the Vegas Club from Ruby and his sister, Mrs. Eva L. Grant.

MISSES HONOR

SPOKANE, Wash. (UPI)— The Spokane school district gave recognition Wednesday night to school district employe Rolland E. Jackson, head engineer at Shadle High School, who completed 30 years of service to the district without a single day lost from work.

School officials said if Jackson had taken the sick leave to which he was entitled through the years, it would have cost the district more than $3,000.

Jackson was unable to attend the meeting to hear the praise. His wife is ill.

MAISON RANCH

PARIS (UPI) — The newspaper Combat said that since President Johnson's family moved into the White House the "Maison Blanche has become a maison ranch."

HIKE ACID PRICE

NEW YORK (UPI) —Allied Chemical Corp. announced it was raising the price of its hydrofluoric acid $2 per hundredweight, effective March 1. The company said the increase will restore prices to the 1961 level.

DPS Patrolmen Shun Hemphill County Roads

By GLENN McCASLAND

CANADIAN — There are no Texas highway patrol cars in this Panhandle County.

The shield - carrying automobiles vanished from Hemphill County roads three months ago and unless various conditions change, it will be a long time before they return.

Motorists can drive the state, federal and county raods in the area without looking over their shoulder or fear that "one more for the road" will land them in county jail.

The question of why brings a number of rebuttals.

Second Involved

A second patrolman became involved in a dispute with Crow over filing of charges against a Perryton man who was held for DWI. The officer has since been withdrawn from the area.

First reports three months ago said Crow had asked DPS Chief Homer Garrison to withdraw the officers from the county on a fulltime basis. Crow denies this, saying he never talked with a highway patrol superior about the matter.

Maj. Harry Hutchinson, regional patrol commander, said the officers were pulled from the county for a number of reasons, but they had no instructions to "stay out of the county."

"We are short-staffed in this area and will remain that way until one of our officers recovers from an accident," he said.

Hutchinson was referring to Lawrence Macha, the normally assigned patrolman in Hemphill County, who was injured in an accident at Pampa Dec. 21. Macha was the officer who became entangled with Crow over filing a DWI charge just before Crow's trial.

"Waste of Time"

Hutchinson did, however, declare "sending officers into an area where they will not receive the full support and backing of the prosecutors and courts becomes a waste of time for the officers."

The major said this applied anywhere and he was not trying to pinpoint a given spot.

Crow, pleasant and courteous, told newsmen that he would "welcome the full co-operation of the highway patrol."

The county attorney said he had never told the officers "to stay out of Hemphill County."

"But most folks up here like it the way it is at present," he said. "However, even if Patrolman (Charlie) Pryor brought a complaint to my office, I would bend over backwards to be fair about it."

Pryor was the arresting officer in the Crow DWI case and later was accused of perjury during testimony on the stand.

"I'd be happy to take the complaint, but I'm afraid that Pryor would be made to look silly on the stand if the case came to court because his word is no good around here," Crow said.

Referring to Macha, Crow said he requested permission to question a DWI suspect before filing charges and was refused.

"The fellow had been picked up Saturday night, as I recall, and held until Monday morning. Monday was a court day and I was in the courthouse all day, knowing they might bring the charge over. The officer never did, Crow said.

"Tuesday he came and picked me up, we drove over to the courthouse and began preparing papers to file against the suspect," Crow explained. "I had learned the man had obtained a lawyer and I expected a habeas corpus writ to be filed and I suspected it might be a good writ. I wanted to find out from the suspect if he wanted to go ahead and plead or not. I asked to question the man in private and was refused. The next day Macha released the man and we never filed a complaint."

Since the Crow case, there has been no DWI charges filed in county court. No state officer has offered a complaint to the justice of the peace and Sheriff Adams admits he's not filed any cases either, except a few speeding charges.

Highway patrol tickets in Hemphill County have in the past brought in a reported $20,000 in revenue for the county. All fines stay in the county where the case is filed under existing Texas law.

And amid all these comments, the white patrol units ride US 60 and US 83 to the Hemphill County line, look at the long stretch of road that leads to Canadian, and turn around.

There are no highway patrolmen in Hemphill County.

Rural Accidents Listed by DPS

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated 14 accidents on rural highways in Gray County during January, according to Sgt. J. W. Wilson, Highway Patrol Supervisor of the Pampa area.

The Gray County wrecks accounted for 7 persons injured and an estimated property damage of $4,725.

The report on other Panhandle counties included Carson with 2 accidents, 3 injured, $2,085 damage; Hemphill, 3 accidents, 3 injured, $1,725 damage; Ochiltree, 4 accidents, 4 injured, $2,825 damage; Wheeler, 5 accidents, 2 injured, $1,495 damage; Potter, 15 accidents, 9 injured, $7,640 damage. There were no accidents in Roberts and Lipscomb counties during January.

Drama to Aid Twirp Program

To kick off TWIRP (The Woman Is Requested to Pay) at Pampa High Monday night, the drama department will offer a special price reduction to any girl buying two student tickets to "A Roomful of Roses."

Instead of paying the regular student price of 75 cents per ticket, she may get two tickets for $1.25. Regular adult tickets cost $1.

In addition, a TWIRP couple of the year will be announced and presented a special gift during intermission Monday night.

The first performance of "A Roomful of Roses" was Saturday night. Monday's performance, concluding the play's run, will begin at 8 p.m. in the auditorium.

In the cast are Dana Taylor as Bridget MacGowan, Ann Qualls as Nancy Fallon, Pat Spears as Jay Fallon, Kenneth Baxter as Larry Fallon, Carole Sears as Jane Hewitt, Sam Bryan as Dick Hewitt, Rita Schol as Grace Hewitt, Billy Hayes as Carl MacGowan and Jane Heaton as Willamay.

4-H Club Course Starts Tomorrow

An automotive course for Gray County 4-H Club members is scheduled for Monday and Tuesday in Pampa.

The Unit I Girl's Course will meet at 6:30 p.m. Monday. Unit 1 Boy's Course will meet at 6:30 p.m., Tuesday. Both meetings will be in the Court House Annex.

The Unit 2 Automotive Course will not begin until March. Courses are sponsored by Firestone Tire & Rubber Co.

Area Engineers Plan Observance of Week

Engineers in the Pampa area will join with those over the Panhandle and around the nation in marking Engineer's Week through Feb. 22.

Local engineers will go to Amarillo Thursday night for the annual banquet of the Panhandle Chapter of the Texas Society of Professional Engineers.

The dinner will be at the Amarillo Country Club. Speaker will be John R. Bradford, dean of engineering and professor of chemistry at Texas Technological College, Lubbock.

The Engineer of the Year will be honored at the banquet.

Reservations may be made by contacting Jim Hobbs, Pampa chairman, at MO 4-7432.

Ralph Milliron, Pampa consulting engineer, will address an assembly meeting at McLean High School on "Engineering as a Profession." Milliron is a director of the Panhandle engineers' chapter and owner of the Milliron Engineering Co. here.

Mayor H. R. Thompson Saturday issued a proclamation in which he stated that "in Pampa, engineers are responsible for major achievements and accomplishments in the field of public works, utilities, and development of industry."

World Affairs Editor's Topic

Wes Izzard, Amarillo editor and columnist, will speak on "World Affairs" at the annual banquet of the Pampa Business and Professional Women's Club.

Mrs. Earl Eaton, chairman of the club's world affairs committee, said the banquet will be at 7:30 p.m., Tuesday, Feb. 25 in the dining hall of First Baptist Church.

Mrs. Charles Ford, B&PW president, will preside. The speaker will be introduced by Travis Lively and Joe Whitten, vocalist, will entertain.

Two Californians Plead Guilty In McLean Court

WHEELER — Two Californians entered pleas of guilty before District Judge Lewis Goodrich Thursday afternoon as the judge opened district court here.

Bob Wyant, 24, of Modesto, Calif., was placed on five years probation after pleading guilty to passing a forged instrument in February of 1962 at the Lee Wallen Grocery in Shamrock.

Ronald Morgan, 22, of the Los Angeles area, pleaded guilty to theft of two saddles belonging to Oscar Laycock on Thanksgiving Day at the Laycock ranch 5 miles west of Shamrock.

Judge Goodrich took the plea under advisement before passing sentence. The judge is awaiting word on a lie detector test set in Borger for another man under indictment for the same theft.

District Attorney Bill Waters, who presented state's case in both pleas, said a grand jury hearing would be held soon to consider charges of burglary against four Oklahoma youths who were arrested in the act of trying to open the high school safe.

GETS DEGREE — Roy Eldon Hubbard, son of Mrs. Ruth Hubbard of Pampa and graduate of Miami High School, has completed his work at the School of Pharmacy at Northwest Louisiana State College at Monroe, La., and has been employed as a pharmacist in Marshall, Texas. Hubbard and his wife, Barbara, are residing in Marshall.

Poverty Battle Set In Eight-State Area

WASHINGTON (UPI) —President Johnson opens his war on poverty this month with his first battle set for the eight state Appalachian area.

The governors of the eight Eastern states from Pennsylvania to Georgia will be invited to attend a White House meeting at the end of the month when Johnson will be presented with the first report of the Appalachian Regional Commission.

The group was established by the late President Kennedy and continued by President Johnson to find ways of helping residents of the economically poor Appalachian area improve their education, health and income. Pockets of poverty in the region where machine has replaced man in mining coal, its major resource, are considered among the worst in the country.

The governors of Pennsylvania, Maryland, West Virginia, Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee, North Carolina and Georgia are expected to attend the White House meeting.

The commission is headed by Undersecretary of Commerce Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. It has prepared a series of recommendations for a five-year "saturation" attack on poverty in the region.

Oil, Gas Leases Will Be Offered

SANTA FE, N.M. (UPI)—Oil and gas leases within producing fields on 2,200 acres of the public domain in New Mexico will be offered through sealed bids next week.

The Bureau of Land Management in Santa Fe said the offer will involve 21 parcels in known geological sturctures of certain fields in Chaves, Lea, Eddy, Rio Arriba and San Juan counties.

Bids will be opened in the BLM office in Santa Fe at 2 p.m. Tuesday. Another lease involving 40 acres in Oklahoma will be offered March 10.

Tony Accardo in Swank New Home

CHICAGO (UPI) — Anthony J. (Tony) Accardo, one-time czar of the Chicago crime syndicate, settled down yesterday in his new $160,000 home.

The former henchman of gangland leader Al Capone moved Wednesday from a coachhouse to the swank 16-room house in suburban River Forest.

The new dwelling is a half-mile from Accardo's former mansion, which he sold for $200,000 before moving to the coachhouse.

Casualty Toll Shows War Cost in Viet Nam

SAIGON, Viet Nam (UPI) — The American casualty toll in South Viet Nam reflects clearly the increasing involvement of the United States in this country's bloody guerrilla war against the Communist Viet Cong.

So far this year the toll of American dead and wounded as a result of hostile action is almost as large as the toll was for the entire years of 1961 and 1962 according to figures provided by the United States Military Assistance Command here.

The United States military Assistance Command here two categories of casualties — those killed, wounded or missing in hostile action and those killed or injured as a result of non-hostile action.

From January 1, 1961 to the end of December 1962, 21 Americans were killed in hostile action against the Viet Cong while 80 were wounded. Another 34 were killed in non-hostile actions while 45 were injured.

Drilling Firm Will Operate In North Sea

OKLAHOMA CITY (Spl) — A wholly owned subsidiary of Kerr - McGee Oil Industries, Inc. and four West German companies have formed Transocean Drilling Company, Limited, a contract drilling organization which will begin drilling operations in the North Sea in the summer of 1964.

Transworld Drilling Company, a Kerr - McGee subsidiary, is the operator for the new venture. The four West German companies are : C. Deilmann G.M.B.H., Bentheim; Deutsche Erdol A. G., Hamburg; Preussag, Hannover; and Deutsche Schachtbau - und Tiefbohrgesellschaft m.b.H., Lingen - Ems.

A contract for the construction of a $5.5 million self-elevating, mobile offshore drilling platform, capable of operating in 140 feet of water has been awarded by Transocean to the Kieler Howaldtswerke Shipyard at Kiel, Germany. The rig is scheduled for delivery in July of this year. Upon completion it will be put to work in the North Sea off the coast of Germany.

API Chapter Plans Meeting and Speech

The Panhandle Chapter API will meet at 8 p.m. Thursday in the Starlight Room, Coronado Inn. Dell Redding of Phillips Petroleum Co., Guymon, Okla., will talk on the subject, "The Phillips - Carwile A No. 1". This well recently set a new drilling depth record in the Texas Panhandle Area, and it made important gas discoveries in several formations.

Redding is a graduate of the Colorado School of Mines with a B. S. degree in Petroleum Production Engineering. During his 16 years with Phillips, he has had extensive drilling experience in the West Texas, Gulf Coast, and the Oklahoma - Texas Panhandle areas. He is currently district rig superintendent, Mid - Continent District, Rotary Drilling Section, for Phillips. The Phillips - Carwile A No. 1 well was drilled directly under his supervision and he is uniquely qualified to present the program concerning this important Panhandle Area well.

Miami Boys Lose As Warriorettes Win Loop Title

By JEFF COHANE
News Sports Editor

WHEELER — The fabulous Lonnie Richardson celebrated his selection to the All-District 2B basketball team Saturday night by leading Allison past Miami, 44-37, for the district title.

In the opening game, Miami's Warriorettes walked off with the District 2B title by bouncing Briscoe, 34-42, and set up a Bi-District battle for the girls.

The Warriorette foe in bi-district will probably be Claude, but the date and site are to be determined, depending on the outcome of another district tournament.

No one on either team could hit in the low scoring boys' contest with the exception of Richardson.

In addition to leading his teammates, stealing passes, blocking shots and doing everything but polish the official's whistle, Richardson scored every point in the first quarter.

Despite four fouls, he scored seven more of his 24 points in the final period of action.

Miami, keeping pace with the Allison star on free throws, had an 8-8 tie at the end of the period, but Everett Childress teamed with Richardson in the second period to move Allison out in front 17-14 at the half.

Richardson and Lewis Holland traded baskets as Allison kept a four to six point lead with Richardson hitting a free throw at the buzzer for a 28-20 third period lead.

Wayne Daugherty sliced the margin down but mid-way the period Richardson hit five points in less than 60 seconds to give Allison the title.

Jody Holland had 13 points while Lewis Holland had a 10 point total for the Miamians.

Clutch free throw shooting by Connie Dodson and Cheryl Gill in the final period gave the Warriorettes their trip into Bi-District action.

Connie and Cheryl collected eight of 10 free tosses each in the final frame to offset the excellent shooting of Mickie Fulks, the Marvelous Briscoe ace.

The lead changed hands six times and was tied at least four times during the first half of play until Marilyn Murphy and Connie sank seven points in a row to put Miami out front to stay.

The Warriorettes led by five points early in the battle, but Mickie came from the outside to hit a bucket just before the buzzer, cutting the gap to 8-6.

The score switched back and fourth in the second stanza with Mickie and Connie matching baskets and Warriorettes led at halftime, 20-16.

Harvesters Close It Out With Foul-Filled Victory

By JEFF COHANE
Pampa News Sports Editor

AMARILLO—In a foul-filled festival, punctuated by the screams of a bad tempered crowd, the unruliness of an equally ill-tempered group of players, nine of whom fouled out of the game, and the near hysteria of the coaches, the Pampa Harvesters took an 82-78 victory over the Tascosa Rebels Friday night.

A carnival of whistle-tooting sportswriters and sportscasters saw a tremendous 61 fouls called, many of them questionable, such as the fifth foul on Harvester Danny Heil midway in the third quarter, although the scorebooks of both teams, all present only showed four infractions.

The win closed the season for Pampa, giving them a 14-12 season record, and a 8-8 district mark, with a share of fourth place awaiting Tascosa's final game with Amarillo Tuesday.

Charlie Price finished out his career in a blaze of glory, as the loop's third-leading scorer not only upped his own total with 24 points, but held second-leading Bill Bogan to only four points in the first half, although Bogan, the only starter left in action throughout the second half, racked up the points against the shorter Pampa reserves for a 21-tally total.

The whistle-tootin' paid off for Pampa for one of the few times this year. Losers of most of their games at the foul line, the Harvesters got 55 chances and made 36 of them, with Price hitting 12 of 13 and Kenny Hebert eight of 10 to wrap the game up in the final frame.

The lead changed hands eight times and was tied once in the opening quarter until Rick Stewart led a nine-straight point explosion to put Pampa ahead for good. Tascosa tied the game once and pulled within one point three times, but each time Price and Ropes Roper would pull the Harvesters away again.

With Tascosa leading 11-9, Stewart suddenly sparked as he stole the ball for a three-point play, Hebert drive in, Price stole the ball and fed Stewart, Price faked Bogan out for a short jumper and Pampa had an 18-11 lead. Tascosa went into a zone press and pestiferous Pat Harkins closed the gap to 24-18 at the quarter.

With Price leading the way as he rebounded, blocked shots and hit from both inside and outside, Pampa moved to 30-18, but Harkins suddenly went wild, hitting three quick baskets to cut the edge back to six. Heil and Hebert took over the boards at this point and built it right back up, despite Ronny Baker scoring on a fast break just before the buzzer to make it 44-37.

Baker and Bogan led an opening third-quarter surge to two points, and Bill Gorman stole the ball and fed it to Bogan for the tying bucker, 45-all. Roper immediately matched him and Pampa never lost the lead again. Tascosa threatened throughout most of the period, trailing by one to three points, but Hebert hit a laup and Roper and Price, all over the boards, hit four straight free throws for a 59-52 margin. Bogan hit a jump shot with 15 seconds to go to make it 63-58, but Price hit two free throws just before the buzzer for a 65-58 lead.

Roper and Hebert hit to open the final frame, but Bogan, hitting from all over the court, cut the notch down to three points, with 2:18 and then again with 1:44 left in the game. Davy MacDaniel stuffed in a clinching bucket nine seconds later and Pampa went into a stall, with Carl Harnsberger hitting a free throw with 59 seconds left for an 80-74 margin.

The Pampa Shockers, spurred on by the hopes of giving coach Roy Kieval and sportswriter Jeff Cohane the "water treatment" to celebrate the district B team championship, came from behind in the final minutes of the ball game for a 54-51 victory, giving them their 25th victory against two defeats.

Finley Puts A's on Sale For Millions

KANSAS CITY (UPI) — A banker disclosed Saturday that Charles O. Finley has offered to sell him the Kansas City Athletics for $7 million.

The banker, Alexander J. Barket, said Finley made the proposal three weeks ago while the two men were flying together from Dallas, Tex., to Kansas City. Finley was enroute here for another of his fruitless negotiating sessions with city officials over a new lease for Municipal Stadium.

"He was dead serious about it," said Barket, a personal offered to take a note for as friend of Finley's. "He even offered to take a note for as much as $3 million of the sale price, with 2 per cent interest.

"And I know that if I wrote him a check for the amount today, he would take it without hesitation."

Barket, chairman of the board of the Civic Plaza National Bank and president of a construction company, expressed interest in purchasing the American League club last January. But he said he would not consider buying at the price Finley asked.

"I would have to do a lot of liquidating to raise $7 million," he said. "And besides, the Athletics aren't worth over $3.5 million, or $4 million at the most.

"I would buy in a hurry if I could get the club for $3.5 million."

Finley paid approximately $3.5 million for the Athletics when he purchased the franchise three years ago from the estate of the late Arnold Johnson.

Ponies Toss Way to Win Over Frogs

FORT WORTH (UPI)—Southern Methodist took advantage of 40 trips to the charity line Saturday and beat Texas Christian 85-75 in a Southwest Conference basketball game.

Although outscored from the field 31 goals to 28, the Mustangs connected on 29 free throws and led the entire game.

TCU's three top scorers, Gary Turner, Bobby McKinley and Archie Clayton, all fouled out in the second half. Turner, who was high point man for the Horned Frogs with 22 points left the game with 2:30 to go.

Southern Methodist, who led at halftime 51-34 and by as much as 20 points in the first half, saw their lead dwindle in the closing minutes. But the closest TCU came was within six points, 77-71, with 3:52 left in the game. The Ponies did not hit a field goal in the last eight minutes of play.

Arakansas Solves Baylor Defense For Loop Victory

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (UPI) — Arkansas solved Baylor's man for man defense in the second half Saturday and downed the Bears 73-61 in a Southwest Conference basketball game.

Baylor led most of the first half and Arkansas went ahead only seven seconds before intermission on Warren Vogel's layup 34-32. Arkansas had managed to pull even only twice in the first 20 minutes, 17-17 and 32-32.

RIDING HIGH — Ropes Roper appears to be riding piggyback as he goes clear over the head of Bill Bogan of Tascosa for two of his 18 points last night. The lone junior on the Harvester squad helped his senior teammates close out their careers with an 82-78 win over their deadly rival.

Randy Hits 62-5 to Eye Games Mark

DALLAS (UPI)—Randy Matson, Texas A&M's teen-aged freshman giant, moved nearly a foot closer to the U.S. Olympic team Saturday night when he got off a 62 foot, 5-inch heave that was the fifth best indoor mark in history.

The 18-year-old Pampa, Tex. youngster, cleared the 60-foot mark on all six of his throws and was over 62 feet three times as he bettered his previous best this season—a 61-6¼ at the Will Rogers games in Fort Worth last week.

The 6 foot, 7-inch Matson hit 60-2½, 61-3¾, 60-7½, 62-1, 62-5 and 61-3½ in that order to win the outstanding athlete award hands down in the third annual Dallas Invitational Track Meet of 7,000.

The toss has been bested only by Gary Gubner's 64-11¾, Parre O'Brien's 63-1½, Arthur Rowe's 62-11½ and Dallas Long's 62-7½ indoors.

It was a new meet record here—one of several marked up—as it far surpassed the old mark of Texas A&M varsity star Danny Roberts, who did 57 feet ½ inch last year.

Roberts got off his best shot put ever Saturday night—59-9—but it wasn't enough.

John Roderick, Southern Methodist sophomore, spoiled teammate Billy Foster's reign as the Texas indoor sprint king when he nipped Foster in the feature 60-yard dash in 6.1 seconds.

Liston, Clay Reach Final Week Before Richest Title Fight Go

By JACK CUDDY
UPI Sports Writer

MIAMI BEACH (UPI) — Champion Sonny Liston and challenger Cassius Clay enter the final week of training Sunday for the richest heavyweight title fight in history.

For their 15-rounder Feb. 25 at the Miami Beach Convention Hall, the all-sources financial target now is $7.24 million.

That's the "projected" total which Americans and foreigners will pay for the live gate, theater-television, radio and movie privileges of finding out whether challenger Clay's fists are as mighty as his mouth.

That's the figure put forth by Jack Nilon of Chester, Pa., advisor to the champion and a most alert watchdog for all of Sonny's earnings — since Jack gets 50 per cent of those earnings after training expenses (probably about $100,000) have been deducted.

Twenty-two-year-old Cassius of Louisville, Ky., — the poetic prognosticator — predicts an eight-round knockout over the 30-year-old champion, now living in Denver, Colo. In his latest fight with Henry Cooper at London last June 18, Cassius forecast a fifth-round kayo and achieved it, after climbing off the canvas. That was his 19th straight victory and 15th kayo as a professional.

Nevertheless, champion Sonny is a prohibitive 7-1 favorite in the betting because he required only a total of six minutes and 14 seconds to score first-round kayoes in his three latest fights — two with ex-champion Floyd Patterson and one with Albert Westphal of Germany.

"I hit that Westphal the hardest of anybody I fought," Liston explains. "I didn't mean to put him away so quick." The time was 1:58 of the first round. Patterson went out in 2:06 and 2:10.

The betting is even money that Cassius doesn't answer the bell for the sixth round and at 8-5 that he doesn't come out for the 11th frame.

Snead Ruled As Favorite For PGA Seniors Effort

PALM BEACH GARDENS, Fla. (UPI)—Slammin' Sammy Snead ruled the favorite Saturday as he prepared to make his debut in the PGA Seniors championship — a nostalgic event which proves again how swiftly time marches on.

A host of the old heroes are in the field of 421 pros—all over 50 years of age—who will tee up Thursday for a four-day chase in which Herman Barron of White Plains, N.Y., is the defending champion.

Snead, at 52 still assertedly hopeful of winning his first U.S. Open, gives minor recognition to the years by entering the Seniors for the first time. But he'll have plenty of competition in the scramble for the coveted Teachers Trophy over the new PGA National Golf Course.

Barron was six under par with scores of 67-67-69-69—272 in winning last year and finished only two strokes ahead of big John Barnum of Grand Rapids, Mich.

Also on hand to battle Snead will be such golfing immortals as Jimmy Demaret, three-time Masters champion; two-time PGA match play and Senior winner Paul Runyan; veteran Gene Sarazen, Denny Shute, Vic Ghezzi and Jim Turnesa.

The "name" list also includes Jimmy Thomson, the original long ball hitter; Henry Ransom, Buck White, former Yankee outfielder, and ex-tennis King Ellsworth Vines, George Fazio and Dutch Harrison.

Even the "ancients" will be on hand, to play in older age brackets. They include Freddie McLeod, winner of the 1908 U.S. Open, and 86-year-old Tom Clark.

All-District 2B Squad Named

WHEELER (Spl) — Lonnie Richardson of Allison was unanimous choice to the District 2B team Saturday night.

Other first team players were Lewis and Jody Holland of Miami, Tommy Hayes and Orville Atherton of Briscoe, Ray Corcoran of Mobeetie and Mike Harvey of Kelton, and Mendall Hunter of Wheeler.

Girls first team included Estelle and Mozelle Fillingim of Wheeler, Marilyn Murphy, Connie Dodson and Cindy Coffee of Miami, Mary Helen Gudgel of Mobeetie and Linda Barnes of Kelton.

Four Horsemen Founder Dies

DALLAS (UPI)—Funeral services will be held Monday for James Barry Holton, 67, a former freshman coach at Notre Dame who founded the famed backfield combination of the "Four Horsemen."

Holton died Friday. He retired last year as director of community service at Southern Methodist University.

Holton was a player and a coach under Knute Rockne at Notre Dame. As a freshmanm coach in 1921, he put together the combination of Harry Stuhldreher, Jim Crowley, Don Miller and Elmer Layden, who were later called the "Four Horsemen" by the late sportswriter, Grantland Rice.

He is survived by his widow, a son, a daughter and his mother.

Ironmonger Wins At Forth Worth

FORT WORTH (Spl) — Johnny Ironmonger of Pampa, fighting with the Amarillo team, decisioned Walter Potter of Beaumont in the third round of the 1964 Texas State Golden Gloves here Saturday night.

Ironmonger weighed 116 and Potter 117 in the bantamweight division bout.

Jack Cupit Blasts Par To Lead Tucson Field

TUCSON, Ariz. (UPI) — Dimple - chinned Jacky Cupit went five under par on the last five holes Saturday to shoot a 66 and take the third round lead of the Tucson Golf Open golf tournament with a 54-hole score of 203 — 13 under par for the distance.

The stocky Texan, now playing out of Corona, Calif., moved into a three-shot lead over Tommy Aaron, who had a 206 total.

Friday's co-leaders, Bruce Devlin of Australia and Rex Baxter, were tied at 207 with rookies George Archer of San Francisco and Chuck Courtney of San Diego.

Cupit, moving along one under par after 13 holes, finally caught on fire on the 14th to shoot five consecutive threes, including one eagle.

Gets First Birdie

On the 14th the former Houston University star knocked in a 15-foot putt for his bird. On the 15th, a 350-yard par five, he knocked his three iron approach 14 feet above the pin. The curling, downhill putt dropped into the cup for an eagle.

He followed this with a 10-foot birdie putt on the 16th and a three-footer on the 17th that was set up when he hit a 130-yard eight iron hook shot to within three feet of the hole. He finished the round with a par three after missing a birdie putt by inches.

He had nines of 35-31 and now has rounds of 69-68-66.

Sets Course Record

Cupit's wild finish in the brilliant sun at the 6ber Country Club5 overshadowed a course record round of 64 set by Al Johnston of Montreal, Canada. Johnston had nines of 32-32 and now is tied at 210 with Al Geiberger and Joe Taylor.

Johnston hit 17 greens and had nine birdies against a single bogey. He chipped into the cup from 40 feet for one bird and had other birdie putts from 20, 13 and 10 feet among others.

Don Massengale had a 69 for a 208.

Ken Hubbs, Cub Star, Dies in Plane Crash

PROVO, Utah (UPI) — Slender Ken Hubbs, who burst into baseball stardom two seasons ago as a rookie with the Chicago Cubs, was found dead Saturday along with a companion in the wreckage of a light plane in nearby Utah Lake.

Sandy-haired Hubbs, a tall, quiet fellow with big, sure hands that gave him prowess on the playing field, and Dennis E. Doyle were killed instantly in the crash two days ago, according to searchers who found the bodies. They were on a return flight from Provo Airport to Morrow Field near their hometown of Colton, Calif.

Seconds after takeoff Thursday morning from the field five miles from the lake, Hubbs' new red-and-white, single-engine Cessna 172 apparently nosedived into the water. The plane smashed into an ice-covered section of the lake 200 yards south of "desolate Bird Island.

The motor and fuselage plunged to the bottom of the lake and the remainder of the craft was scattered over the ice. The water was an estimated 10 to 20 feet deep.

Hubbs and Doyle, both 22, had taken off as a snowstorm spread over the area. Utah Aeronautics Director Harlon Bement described the weather as "very unfavorable for flying."

They were not reported missing until late Friday when Doyle failed to show up for work as scheduled. A widespread search over parts of Utah, Nevada and California was organized and an armada of light planes took off at dawn.

Myron Jense, Provo Airport manager, and Bement spotted the wreckage near the island at mid-morning. Jense said there was "no chance they could have survived" because the water froze into the wreckage and then was covered by a new snowfall.

Hubbs, National League rookie of the year in 1962, attended Brigham Young University at Provo briefly before signing a bonus contract with the Cubs. Previously, he was all-state and all-conference prep star and student body president at Colton High School.

His first year in the majors was a sizzler. He not only broke Al (Red) Schoendienst's National League field mark but also Bobby Doerr's major league record for second basemen of 73 games without an error. Hubbs went for 78 consecutive games without an error.

Wolves Hold Feast On Bucks; Does Win

By RICHARD ULRICH
News Sports Correspondent

WHITE DEER — The Dalhart Wolves took a 48-40 win over the White Deer Bucks Firday night, but the Does stayed in the thick of the district race with a 51-30 win in the girls game.

The first half of the boys game was strictly a tossup, with neither team ever leading by more than two points. With Cal Turner on the boards against Pete Scardello while Mike Reynolds and Dan Simmons hit for WD and Scardello and Dwight Clifton for the Wolves. WD led 11-9 at the quarter and Dalhart 18-16 at the half.

The 6-3 Clifton, despite four fouls, completely dominated the boards with nine rebounds in the second half and Dalhart started pulling away as Mick Chandler hit to lead then to a 24-17 margin. Turner cut it back to 24-23, but Clifton pulled them away again, 30-25 at the three-quarter mark.

Bob Cunningham belted home eight points, backed by Clifton, to clinch it for the Wolves in the final frame.

Cunningham had 14 and Clifton 10 points, Simmons 12 and Reynolds 10. WD is now 3-5 in district.

Little Sammy Denny came off the bench for 16 points in the second half to spark the Does to their seventh loop victory in eight starts. The first half was anybody's game, WD leading 14-13 at the quarter and 22-19 at the half. Sammy, Linda Hawpe and Betty Peters started pumping the buckets in the third quarter and the Does upped it to 37-28 and pulled away in the final frame. Linda had 13 and Betty 12 points, Cindy Floyd had 19 for Dalhart.

WD plays Shamrock tomorrow, and if the Does win, hit the showdown at unbeaten Spearman Tuesday.

Dalhart came from behind for a 46-44 win in a boys B game. Rondal Alexander and Troyce Phillips led the locals with nine points each.

Welch Stalled As Tiger Title Attempt Halted

By JEFF MONEY
News Sports Correspondent

WELLINGTON — The streets of Wellington exploded with Skyrockets Friday night as their trict basketball championship with a loop football crown by beating the McLean Tigers, 72-46.

Triple-teaming All-State Derrith Welch and holding him to one of his lowest point totals of the season, the Rockets finished their loop season with a 9-1 mark, having lost one game to McLean. The Tigers also lost to Canadian and have a 7-2 record going into their final game against Lefors Tuesday.

Putting three men on Welch, the Rockets held him to 24 points, with his only substantial help coming from George Green with 12 points, eight of them in the final quarter.

Wellington led all the way, taking a 17-7 quarter lead on the shooting of Roger Weems, Ted White and Jim Hudson, and never lost the edge, holding it at 32-21 at the half and 47-29 at the three quarter mark, fast-breaking behind Ted Barton to pile it up in the final frame. Weems had 24 points and Barton 20.

The Wellington Rockettes led all the way, 14-7, 27-17, 40-25 and 49-36 over the Tigresses. Betty Lou Courtney had 20 points and Connie Holton 17 for the winners, Jan Bailey 16 and Sharon Goldston 14 for McLean.

CONFEDS IN LOSS

PHILLIPS — The Lee Junior High 7th grade Confeds lost their first game after 10 straight wins Friday, dropping a 20-15 decision to Phillips, who moved into a first-place district tie with the Confeds.

Neither team could find the bucket, with Lee trailing most of the way. Jim Hollis led the locals' scoring with seven points.

Lee has two more games to play, a makeup at home against Dumas Tuesday and with Pampa Junior High Friday. Phillips

Groom Reaches Door to Throne

CLAUDE (Spl) — The Groom Tigers pulled to within one-game of first place Quail Friday night with a district 14-B victory over Claude, 62-38.

The Tigers, now 6-3, are in a three - way tie with Hedley and Samnorwood for second place, and play the key game with Quail Monday night. A win by Groom would put them in a playoff with the Quails, but could also knot the loop in a three or four - way tie.

Groom broke open a close game with a tremendous 27-point surge in the third quarter led by the scoring and rebounding of Jerry Roberts, the sharpshooting of Bud Fields and the rebounding of Big Jerry Quirk. The 6-4 Roberts pulled down 18 off the boards and the 6-2 Quirk 16.

Roberts led Groom to a 14-8 quarter lead and 25-17 halftime bulge, with the Tigers wrapping it up in the third frame on the circle jumps of Roberts and the corner clipping of Fields. Coach Sobbin' Jack York allowed himself a rare smile and cleared the bench, with Tommy Talley and J. B. Parker sparking the rest of the way.

Roberts had 15 points, Tally 12, Parker 10, Pat Hubbard had 15 for Claude.

Claude's girls clinched the girls title with a 57-37 win in the opener, breaking open the game in the second quarter. Holding a 13-9 lead at the quarter, the shooting of Judy Finley and Marilyn Bryan moved them into a 41-11 halftime bulge. Judy had 23 points and Marilyn 19, Evelyn Burgin had 14 for Groom.

Canadian Eyes Third Spot With Victory

CANADIAN (Spl) — The Canadian Wildcats kept in the running for third place in district 2-A Friday night by downing the Clarendon Bronchos, 56-42. Clarendon girls took the opener over the Kittens, 51-44.

Clarendon was stone - cold dead in the game and completely unable to find the basket, garnering only four points in the first frame. Their fine inside defense, however, kept the Cats at long range and Canadian was only able to notch seven tallies in the opening canto.

Deadeye Ken Willis started finding the range from the corner, Butcherboy Eckles switched to hitting from outside, and Jumping Joe Schaef began driving through the Broncs, and Canadian moved to a 25-14 halftime lead.

The Cats continued the action in the third quarter and pulled away, 42-29.

Willis and Eckles had 17 points each, Scheaf 11. Donald Moring topped the losers with 15.

Clarendon's girls broke a tie ball game open with five straight baskets in the last two-and-one - half minutes of the second quarter and then held off a Canadian rally.

Holding a slim 12-9 lead, Clarendon saw the Kits tie it up at 20-all in the second period. Dorothy Richey, hitting from outside, suddenly led the way as the Broncettes exploded for a 36-21 halftime lead. Dorothy and Doris Fredericks moved it to 43-27 at the three - quarter mark, and a fourth - quarter Canadian rally fell short.

Dorothy had 31 points, Doris 13. 5-10½ Elizabeth Rampey was held to seven points by the Kit defense, but dominated the offensive boards. Squeaky Petree had 20 and Dora Mae Hext 13 points.

'Tough' Terry Terrorizes Memphis Cyclone by 77-57

By KEITH GEISLER
News Sports Correspondent

MEMPHIS — Once again the Lefors Pirates smothered the Memphis Cyclone like a blanket a grass fire, taking a 77-57 win Friday night to stay in the running for second place in district 2-A.

The Cyclones weren't even a gently breeze as Don "Squash" McCool and Terry Bromlow blew by them, while Phil Woodring acted like a thunderstorm on the backboards.

McCool and Bromlow, hitting 11 points each in the first half, on drives and jump shots from the keyhole and the corner respectively, led the Pirates to a 23-10 quarter and 42-26 halftime lead.

The gold dust twins continued building Cyclone fences as they rolled it up, with coach Dale Prescott clearing the bench in the second half. Neil Cates sparked the reserves with eight points. The Squash closed with 26 and Bromlow 19, Don Waites had 12 in a losing cause.

Memphis took revenge with an 82-50 B team win.

Lefors, with a 5-3 district record, plays Clarendon Monday night at home and at McLean Tuesday night. Wins in the two games could pull the Bucs into a tie with McLean for second place.

Warriors, Broncettes Take Upset Triumphs

By JERRY TUCKER
News Sports Correspondent

WHEELER — Upsets reigned here in the district 2-B tournament Friday night as the Miami Warriors knocked off Briscoe, 44-42 and the Briscoe Broncettes stunned the Wheeler Fillies, 47-46. The other bracket saw expected wins as champions Allison boys and Miami girls took a respective 56-44 win over the Wheeler Mustangs and a 51-19 triumph over the Allison Gazelles.

Big Ray Guerrero once again sparked Miami to the win as he dominated the rebounds and hit the buckets to put the Warriors into a third - quarter lead they never relinquished, while Charlie "Worry Kid" Byrum sank two pressure - packed free throws in the final seconds to insure the win. A fighting front-court defense led by Lewis Holland and Roy Bean also led the Tribe as they kept Tommy Hays, who carried a 26 - point average into the game, completely scoreless.

Jody Holland hit for the Warriors and Mac Sides for the Broncs as Miami pulled into an 11-10 quarter lead. Tommy Hays started stealing passes and connecting downcourt to Orville Atherton and Briscoe came right back to a 26-21 halftime margin.

Miami pulled to within three points and then Guerrero hit two buckets for a 33-32 Miami lead going into the final frame.

Sides, aided by Atherton and Ronnie Hays, kept it close, but Lewis and Bean kept Miami in the lead, and Byrum calmly stepped to the free throw line with 11 seconds left for the clinching charities.

Bean had 12 points, Guerrero 11 and Lewis 10, Sides had 15, Ronnie and Atherton 10 each.

With three seconds to go, Briscoe's Diane Dodd hit the winning free throw to give the Broncettes the win. It took a tremendous shooting exhibition by Marvelous Mickie Fulks to offset the outside belting of Beverly Clark, but Briscoe won it on defense as they bottled up Estelle Fillingim, holding her to four points and forcing the Fillies to shoot from outside.

Mickie hit eight points to put Briscoe into a 10-7 quarter lead. Lou Meadows started pumping in long shots and upped the edge to 28-20 at the half.

Mickie and Beverly matched buckets in the third quarter and it was 37-31. Beverly and Lynda Beaty got red-hot in the closing minutes and Beverly hit six straight points to tie the game with 30 seconds left. Briscoe worked for the last shot, Diane was fouled, and won the game on a one - pointer.

Mickie had 30 points, Lou 12, Beverly had 29, Lynda 11.

Leaping Lonnie Richardson, the Allison Antelope, broke open a tight game in the third quarter to knock Wheeler's Mustangs out of the race.

The outside shooting of Richard Wallace put Wheeler into a 10-5 quarter lead, but Lonnie and Mike Aderholt split 17 points as they put Allison into a 22-20 halftime lead, despite the shooting of Mendall Hunter and the rebounding of Neil Rogers.

Richardson was all over the court in the third quarter and lifted Allison to a 39-30 lead, keeping it up in the final frame. The All-State candidate canned 26 points, Aderholt had 12, Hunter had 14, Wallace and Dunk Porter 10 apiece.

Miami was never headed as their tremendous defense held Allison to only one point in the first quarter while Connie Dodson and Marilyn Murphy slammed in 13. The Warriorettes upped it to 29-8 at the half and the reserves took over midway in the third quarter, Cheri Jackson sparking then to a 40-15 bulge.

Connie had 19 points, Marilyn 14, Liz Kelly had 18 for the losers.

4-H Cops Shooting Honors

The Top O' Texas 4-H Club walked off with most of the honors at the junior rifle match at the Pampa Rifle and Pistol Club yesterday.

The 4-Hers, last year's runners-up, won first place as a team with a 1372 total, 34 points better than second-place Perryton, with Childress third. The TOT second team was fourth followed by Boy Scout Post Four.

The 4-H's top two shooters took individual honors as well, Keith McCann shooting 374 for first place and Danny Hogsett 362 for second. Cross of Childress was third with 359.

Lana Monroe shot a 342 for Perryton to take high girls honors, Cynthia Hogett of the 4-H second team was second with 305 and Susan Cross of Childress was third with 285.

PHILS INK THREE

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — The Philadelphia Phillies brought their 1964 list of satisfied players to 24 Tuesday with the signing of pitchers Paul Brown and Darrell Sutherland and outfielder John Briggs. Brown, a righthander, had an 0-1 mark with the Phillies in six appearances last season.

YCC Basketball

Motor Supply downed the Panhandle Packers, 31-26 and Wards racked SW Public Service, 60-40, in YCC League basketball games.

Motor Supply remained in first place as they led by a narrow margin all the way. Each team put three players in double figures, the Motormen featuring 15 points by Gene Williams, 13 by James Lee and 10 by Sam Condo, Coyle Winborne hitting 17 for the Packers, followed by Ronnie Chase with 16 and Jim Enloe with 11.

Kennedy Olympic Plan Revealed

DALLAS (UPI) — President John Kennedy, an active sports fan, was formulating a plan to bolster the nation's sagging Olympic fortunes before he was killed, the Dallas Times Herald said Saturday.

A copyrighted story by Frank Boggs said the late president was on the verge of endorsing a new "Sports development foundation" to raise up to $30 million to assist athletes in minor sports.

"The plan would require neither government subsidy nor control," the newspaper said. "At this time it lacks but one requirement—the push to start it rolling."

Boggs obtained a copy of the Kennedy sports report from a Washington source who helped on the planning. He said Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy was among the handful of men who worked up the proposed plan.

The plan calls for a board of perhaps a dozen trustees with an executive staff to encourage the so-called minor sports, and in doing so strengthen the nation's physical fitness.

The Times Herald said the board would consist of about a dozen extremely prominent persons, most of whom have long been associated with sports.

In general, the funds would be used to increase participation in sports the United States public considers minor — but which carry heavy weight in most other nations.

Weather 2-10-64

I heard one of the weather forecasters say a week a g o that all the snow would be gone in the country by Tuesday night, February 11th. I'll stick my neck out and bet him a $20.00 hat we still have snow by the time this is in print. He also reported at that time there was only two inches on the ground in the country. Unless the yardstick I was using was wrong I measured out 10 inches t h e same day he reported two.

Value of Water

What's the value of water? According to Judge O. F. Dent, Texas Water Commission, a number of liquids command a higher price. Water, says Judge Dent, is worth $10-$20 per acre foot, Petroleum is worth $22,000 per acre foot; milk $300,000 per acre foot. But good bourbon at an expeensive night club would cost $10,000,000.00 an acre foot.

CONSTRUCTION REPORT

WASHINGTON (UPI) — New construction put in place in January amounted to $4.6 billion, the Commerce Department reported.

The figure was 13 per cent below the estimate for December. The department described this as the normal seasonal change expected between December and January.

Pampa FFA Group Racking Up Amazing Records

High school agriculture programs take a lot of planning, hard work and sometimes sheer luck to become successful.

In the case of the P a m p a High School Future Farmers of America chapter, it h a s been a combination of a l l these things, plus the wholehearted backing of the school that has brought home some $300 in prize money and 42 ribbons and awards in three weeks.

The Pampa youths walked off with 12 ribbons in the recently completed Fort Worth Fat Stock Show with 11 animals being shown in the junior division of the show.

During the Amarillo F a t Stock Show the same group won as many ribbons a n d placings as they did in Fort Worth.

• • •

NOW THE CHARGES of sponsor Bob Skaggs are preparing a club show, which will pit each boy against the other in competition, plus grooming their animals for entry in the Gray County Fat Stock Show next month.

And they have their fingers crossed about the success of the club's efforts.

The big prizes came at the Fort Worth show when J. T. Winters produced a 205-pound breed champion among the Chester White barrow class at the show.

The animal brought 42 cents per pound and sold for $86.10 plus the $18 prize money f o r first place honors.

• • •

F R E D VANDERBERG showed the reserve b r e e d champion in the same class with the animal weighing 210 pounds and brought 41 cents per pound or $86.10 plus $16 second place money.

The Pampa club entered 10 barrows of the top animals shown at the Amarillo show during the Fort Worth exhibition.

Three youths picked up second place honors with their barrows as Jimmy Behrends placed second in the middleweight bracket of the Poland China division, Geary Johnson was second in the heavyweight division, and Larry Richardson took second in the "other" breeds class.

• • •

DON BROXSON was third in the heavyweight division of the Duroc class and J o h n Behrends was ninth.

Ricky Jones was sixth in the lightweight division of Poland Chinas and Gene Furgerson was 15th place in the lightweights.

Geary Ingram took eighth place in tthe heavyweight division of the "other b r e e d class.

In all, the Pampa g r o u p was battling some 1,000 entries in the junior show at Fort Worth.

SKAGGS, AN EASY going FFA instructor, says he was very proud of Baggerman because of the showing the youth made at Amarillo in the judging contest for FFA boys.

Baggerman was high individual in the entire c o n t e s t with some 150 boys taking part and led his team to second place in swine judging and third place in overall p e r formance.

B a g g e r m a n finished 21 points higher than the next boy in total judging points. Other team members w e r e Vanderberg and Jones, w h o did exceptionally well, Skaggs reported.

• • •

"I DIDN'T EXPECT for my boys to do this well and I'm proud of them," Skaggs said. "I just hope they will work as hard the rest of the year and bring home more ribbons and prizes."

The FFA group currently is displaytng a board with all the ribbons won this year by the club at the FFA office in the Vocational building of Pam pa High School.

Skaggs said he may display this board of awards during the Gray County Fat Stock Show as FFA members show their animals.

ADDED PROTECTION — John L. Johnson, who lives nine miles south and three miles east of Pampa operates a Dempster Drill making wheat into wheat stubble. This wheat will not blow out and stubble mulch farming helps to prevent accidents caused by blowing dust and snow.

Wind Erosion Hazard Feared After Snows

By VAN C. MILLS

Although the much needed moisture was welcomed, it may have left us with a possible wind erosion hazard.

The wetting, freezing a n d thawing of the surface s o i l tends to powder and pulverize the surface soil.

This pulverized soil will blow very easily where there is not sufficient cover to prevent t h e blowing.

Farmers and ranchers w h o have been practicing stubble mulch farming will not h a v e anything to worry about t h e blowing. In 1954 during one severe dust storm much of the wheat blew out.

Farmers who had been practicing stubble mulch farming made from 12 to 20 bu. of wheat per acre. Wind erosion can cause a severe financial loss to farmers. This loss also effects business establishments of the area.

Stuhble mulch farming n o t only prevent wind erosion but is our best method of getting water into the soil. The soil is the best place to store water. It will make more money and do less damage when stored in the soil.

Our soil is the greatest storage reservoir that we have. If we received a heavy rain on 640 acres of land and had a 3 inch runoff, this would be enough water to fill a 20 acre lake 8 feet deep.

The recent snow storm points out the advantage of keeping a grass cover on our grassland. On areas where all of the grass was grazed off, much of t h e snow blew off.

The same thing will h a p p e n this spring when we get o u r rains. Most of the water will runoff where there is no grass cover to hold it on the land.

To be a successful farmer or rancher we need to carry out conservation practices that will get water into the soil.

A few of the better practices are stubble mulch farming, contour farming, terracing, a n d proper use of grassland.

The first people to yell about a drouth are the ones that are not carrying out a sound conservation program.

Jurist Candidate Stops in Pampa

Jack Pope of San Antonio, candidate for the Texas Supreme Court, stopped off in Pampa Friday on a tour of Panhandle towns and cities.

Pope presently is a justice of the Court of Civil Appeals at San Antonio, having previously served as a judge in the 94th Judicial District in Nueces County.

Pope visited here with members of the Gray County Bar Association before leaving for Borger and Amarillo.

This shocking statement comes from an authority on physical fitness—after studying more than 50,000 individuals. Why this early physical decline? Lack of activity—not enough vigorous daily exercise. Today, our children risk all the hazards of easy living. Right now, in fact, one-third of them are unable to pass simple physical achievement tests. That's why it's so important for all youngsters to participate in vigorous exercise for at least 15 minutes during each school day. 10-Year-Old Mother Reported Doing Fine

CHICAGO (UPI) — A 10-year-old girl who gave birth to a 5-ound-13-ounce baby by Caesarean section was reported in satisfactory condition today.

Attendants at St. Bernard's Hospital, said the baby, a full term girl, was in "fair condition." The child was born Wednesday.

The mother was believed to be the youngest in Chicago medical records. Medical sources said a 9-year-old Arkansas girl was believed to have been the youngest mother on record in the United States.

A 10-year-old newspaper vendor named Maria Gonzalez Garcia gave birth by Caesarean section to a 5-pound 10-ounce son at Women's Hospital in Mexico City one week ago. Both are doing fine.

Secrecy protected the young mother in St. Bernard's Hospital in Chicago. She was identified only as a Negro fourth grade student. Her name was not made known.

Authorities said the girl named a 16-year-old boy as the father. The youth is the son of foster parents with whom the girl had been living. He has authorities and has been undergoing psychiatric tests.

The hospital said the bay would be sent to St. Vincent's Orphanage as soon as possible. The hospital said whether the mother would see her daughter was up to the family court and social agencies.

A teacher at a parochial school first noticed the girl was pregnant.

"When I told her she was going to have a baby," a doctor said, "she asked, 'a real one?' "

The 10-year-4-month-old girl, suffering from anemia, iron deficiency and an infection, was admitted to the hospital Jan. 18 and underwent a series of blood transfusions.

The attending physician during the birth Wednesday, Dr. Carlo A. Fioretti, said the baby was "of unusually large size considering the circumstances."

The hospital administrator said the decision to resort to Caesarean section was made because of the child mother's small size.

Doctors said she had spent her time in her hospital room playing with cut-out dolls and crying with worry about what would happen to the baby.

Russians Lift Ban on Language

TUNBRIDGE WELLS, England (UPI) — The Soviet Union is lifting a ban on Esperanto, thus ending a 77-year fight by the Esperantists to have the artificial international language recognized, a British Esperanto association spokesman said today.

Jack Cox, spokesman for the Universal Esperanto Association, said a book of poems and songs in Esperanto has been published in Moscow. He said a million people in the world can speak Esperanto, invented in 1877 by a Pole, Ludwig Zamenhof.

JANESVILLE, Wis. (UPI) — Directors of Parker Pen Co. have proposed combining the company's class A and class B common stocks into one new issue that would increase total shares outstanding from one to two million. Shareholders will vote on the plan June 25.

Newsmen Agree Honeymoon Over With President

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A panel of prominent Washington newsmen agree that the so-called honeymoon between President Johnson and the press is about over.

They also noted that the Chief Executive's sensitiviy to criticism is becoming increasingly evident.

Appearing on the program, "At Issue," broadcast over the National Educational Television Network, were: Peter Lisagor, Washington bureau chief for the Chicago Daily News; Philip Potter, Washington correspondent for the Baltimore Sun, and Charles Bartlett, syndicated columnist for the Chicago Sun-Times.

Also appearing on the show was Louis M. Lyons, curator of the Nieman Foundation at Harvard, and Ed Bayley, editor of public affairs programming for the educational television network.

Lisagor said he thought Johnson was behaving naturally for a new President.

"I think he would like to make cheerleaders out of all of us and we are fighting hard to preserve our virtue because soon enough . . . we will all turn into our natural state which is to be common scolds and he will have to deal with us then," he said.

Youth Chooses Hard Way to Get Shower Taken

MALTON, England (UPI)— One school boy had good reason for an aversion to soap and water yesterday, police reported.

The 14-year-old student at Malton School for Boys, whose name was not released, was showering when he dropped his bar of soap down the drain. He tried to retrieve it and got his arm stuck.

Firemen smashed through a showerhouse wall, chisled away the concrete casing around the pipe, and removed the pipe—with the boy's arm still stuck. A nearby metalwork shop completed the rescue operation.

Too bad that Rep. John B. Anderson was unable to interest chairman Wilbur D. Mills in the Anderson plan to restore the pain to taxpaying as part of the administration's tax reduction legislation.

Anderson is a Republican from Rockford, Ill. Chairman Mills of the House Ways & Means Committee is an Arkansas Democrat. Anderson's plan was referred to Mills' committee last October. It was a three - paragraph bill self-described as follows:

"To permit an employer, in his discretion, to deduct the required withholding tax from the wages of his employees only once a month even though their regular pay periods are less than a month."

That is a proposition to restore the pain to and withdraw the pain killer from taxpaying. The big-spending, big - taxing politicians have been bamboozling the voters with their something - for - nothing medicine. Their scheme has been to get themselves re-elected by spending the taxpayers' money on various welfares and fringe benefits.

The fast-talking politicos generally convince a majority of the voters that somebody else is paying the tax bills, that the Common Man is getting for free the fringe benefits that have been added to the benefits of U.S. citizenship.

Would Call it Baloney

This is what the late Al Smith would have called baloney. It probably would be rejected by the brighter voters but for the pain killer narcotic that the late Beardsley Ruml peddled to Franklin D. Roosevelt.

This was after FDR's New Dealer had been hit by the fact that their programs could not be adjusted to their campaign promises of government economy.

Beardsley Ruml was a pusher for the narcotic withholding tax. FDR was hooked. Withholding at the source assured that a great many taxpayers who had paid less than they owed or not at all would be tagged for at least some and perhaps all of their tax liability. That was an assurance worth having.

But there came with the years something more. The working stiff whose pay envelope had been tapped each week through all of his working life began almost to forget that he was paying taxes. If he didn't forget, he was spared the anguish of going into his pocket or his bank account to make an annual settlement with the tax collectors.

Never Saw Taxes

Take-home - pay became a phrase in American speech. Take-home-pay also became in the mind of the taxpayer and his wife the sum of his wages. The Common Man never saw the tax dollars withheld. He paid scant attention to the fact that it was withheld. Once a year, briefly, this Joe was startled to learn from his boss how much he had paid in taxes.

So the little guy was doped against knowing what the big spenders did to him. Anderson's bill would change that. A dopey taxpayer earning $100 a week could become accustomed to having $12.10 deducted each pay day for uncle. But, suppose he got the whole $100 for three weeks in a row and was tapped every fourth week for a month's withholding. In that fourth week this taxpayer would draw $51.60 instead of $100.

A $75 - a - week man would draw $40.20 in that fourth week. The $50 man would get $38.80. The dopiest voter would be kept always aware under that system that the politicians were taking a big chunk of his personal dough.

That could make it hard for the polls next timearound.

Disarm Warning Given Big Play

By JOHN A. CALCOTT

GENEVA (UPI) — There is more activity behind the scenes than on stage at the disarmament conference where East and West are struggling to find ways to untrigger the world.

But one thing is boldly, grimly, in the open. It is the warning engraved high on the granite walls of the conference room, which reads:

"The nations must disarm or perish."

They meet in an ornate gilt-and-sepia salon in the Palais Nations (Palace of the Nations) the European headquarters of the United Nations which overlooks the calm waters of Lake Geneva.

Bells End Sessions

At the end of each session bells ring, telephones jangle and messengers scurry to warn chauffeurs that the delegates are coming out.

Ushers swing back the heavy doors and delegates stroll out, some chatting with each other, others making off-the-cuff comments to waiting reporters.

Watching the delegates leave at about 1:30 p.m. for a late lunch, visitors to the Palais might assume their work has been finished until the next day —that life for the diplomat-negotiators is an easy one with only a few hours of duty.

The opposite is true.

Delegates to the 2-year-old conference spend about nine hours a week attending plenary meetings. But they spend as much as 10 times that doing their "homework," conferring with aides, with members of Allied delegations, explaining their positions to the eight neutral participants.

Plenary sessions usually begin at 10:30 a.m. and end at 1 or 1:30 p.m. The meetings are held in private, and the press learns of what went on in briefings given by the professional spokesmen of the leading delegations.

Small Briefing Rooms

Newsmen take notes in small briefing rooms while Swiss cleaning women dust and sweep the adjoining conference hall in readiness for the afternoon series of guided sightseeing tours. The hall is a star attraction.

They have to be physically tough to stand the pace and thus cannot allow themselves more than rare indulgence in Geneva's night life.

For the most part they prefer for weekend relaxation to drive to mountain or lakeside resorts, perhaps to neighboring France for long lunches, at famous restaurants.

William C. Foster, head of the U.S. Arms Control and Disarmament Agency and chief of the American delegation, likes quiet lunches and weekends with friends whenever possible.

Other diplomats snatch a few hours on Saturday or Sunday to go skiing in the mountains surrounding Geneva.

Man Charged In Conspiracy At Ft. Worth

FORT WORTH (UPI) — Used car dealer John D. Phillips, 48, was in jail charged with conspiracy to murder a man he said swindled him.

Phillips was accused of hiring a New Orleans "gunman" to kill a former Fort Worth car dealer who now lives in Beaumont. The gunman turned out to be special agent William H. Gurvich, 38, who was working with police.

Gurvich, a New Orleans $special officer, alerted police about the hiring and they set a trap in a Fort Worth motel Wednesday. Officers recorded the conversation between the two, then sprang from another room and seized Phillips when he handed Gurvich $2,100, a map indicating the route to Beaumont and a .38-caliber pistol.

Phillips was reportedly mentally disturbed because of his losses. He was freed on $15,000 bond and taken to his doctor following his arrest.

In the course of the recorded conversation, Phillips said the intended victim had bought titles to wrecked late model cars and sold them to Phillips under the pretense they were in good condition.

Theater Goes Round for 'Moon is Blue'

By ALETHA DAVIS

Paint spattered, harried and only slightly confused, members of Pampa Little Theater have announced "one or two little" projects are underway to improve the presentation of stage art in the center of the Top O' Texas.

Crawling from under a newly constructed prop, John Callerman, architect, painter, carpenter and plumber, janitor and director of the current stage production, recently outlined plans for the group.

The major item of course is the presentation of "The Moon Is Blue" which is scheduled for March 19-20 and 23. Close on its heels in the line of priority is the renovation of the Holy Souls School; fast becoming Pampa's first theater in the round.

Major jobs (did we tell you the work is being done by members of Pampa Little Theater) include painting and painting and painting; then too, the plumbing doesn't work and there are theater seats to be installed. Somebody just has to cover the windows, and the wiring for the new stage lights and control board is really going to be a job—Mr. Callerman?

Edd Rowntree, looking chipper in overalls and sneakers, is head of the committee to facelift the place and add just a bit of "Broadway" to the Texas High Plains.

By the time all this redecorating and construction is completed, the theater trusts the production of the three-act comedy, "The Moon is Blue", by F. Hugh Herbert, will be ready for the public. Presented by special arrangement with Dramatists Play Service, Inc., the cast includes the able Don Pope; Homer Krueger, Jim Douthit and the lone girl performer, Kay Cobb. John Callerman is in the driver's seat with backup and back-seat advice coming from Marie Jones.

Rehearsal is now under way in and around the amateur, soon-to-turn-pro, decorators and tradesmen who are constructing props, hangings and making costumes.

Anyone interested in a chance to become one of a great team that's going places—like up in the attic to replace worn wiring or down in the basement to patch a water pipe OR in swaying the emotions and tickle-boxes of a packed house, please, please call Marie Jones. She says anybody and everybody interested in the fun and frenzy of the theater may contact her (when not at the theater) by calling MO 9-9372 or writing Box 2231.

There's nothing like the smell of grease paint and the glare of the stage lights to make the wall-flower and bashful Bill come to life, they say. Jim, Don, Homer and Kay may be neither of these; but they are expected to lay the audience cold in the hilariously funny comedy chosen for production. Kay will have her hands full carrying the lone female role and the boys are going to have to fight it out for the spotlight.

Believing in jumping in with both feet, the bold, brave bunch known as the Pampa Little Theater, will present "Antigone" in June, backed up by a musical in August and top off the year with "The Pope" scheduled for October.

"You don't have to be crazy; but it helps" is their motto as they grit their teeth, grin and go at it again. So much to do, so little time and so many laughs to go, they hardly have time to say "hi" as they run home for forty winks and bite to eat and head back to the hallowed ground of their chosen endeavor.

Callerman and Marie extend their sincere and paint-spattered invitations to interested parties; promising entertainers, interior and exterior decorators and. . .anybuddy know a electrician?

So we leave the busy place of creative art and source of tension-relief

From out of the roar of the director, the saws' buzz and pounding of hammers we hear a faint voice call, "See ya 'round, theater that is!"

The Pampa Daily News

WHERE'S THE HELP — John Callarman, director of the latest Pampa Little Theater, Inc., production peers around one of the stage settings and asks for aid in completing the production, "The Moon Is Blue." Biggest assistance would be a packed house when the current rises March 19 for the three day run of the three-act comedy.

DRESSSING UP THE THEATER — Three Little Theater work crew members put finishing touches to paint on walls at the Holy Souls School building which the theater group is converting into a "theater in the round" for productions of future plays, including the present one, "The Moon Is Blue." On the ladder is Mrs. Sud Reddell while Mrs. Georgia Mack and daughter, Mary Ann Mack, use the paint brushes to advantage.

Boren-Jackson Vows Read

Mr. and Mrs. Tommy D. Jackson

Linda Rose Boren, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Boren, 1238 S. Dwight, became the bride of Tommy DeWayne Jackson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jake Jackson, Lefors, during a single ring ceremony officiated by Rev. Aaron Laverty in the Calvary Baptist Church on February 1.

BRIDE

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a gown of white lace and satin. The fitted lace bodice was accented by a heart-shaped neckline and the full skirt was complemented by lace tiers. She wore a strand of pearls belonging to her great-grandmother. Her waist length veil was secured by a rhinestone tiara.

ATTENDANTS

Miss Beedie Allen, cousin of the bride was maid of honor. She was attired in a blue nylong over satin street length dress and carried white carnations.

Brother-in-law of the bridegroom, Wade Taylor, served as best man. Ushers were brothers of the bride, Charles and Richard Boren.

Flowergirls were cousins of the bride, Debbie Herring and Gwen Sharp.

Estelle Malone provided traditional organ music and Mary Lou Gilreath gave the vocal selections, "Blest Be the Tie" and "Forever Yours".

The mother of the bride wore a three piece dress with black accessories and a white carnation corsage.

The mother of the bridegroom wore a two piece suit of brown with matching accessories and a white carnation corsage.

For a wedding trip to St. Louis, the bride wore a red checked two piece dress with matching accessories and a white carnation corsage. The couple will be at home in Belleville, Ill.

The bride attended Pampa High School and the bridegroom is a graduate of Lefors High School.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Arron Laverty and son, Denver; Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Boren, Pringle; Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Boren, Stinnett; Mrs. Leon Guest and daughter, Borger; Mrs. Elsie Allen and children, Wichita, Kan.; Mrs. Beedie Sharp and children of Wichita; Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Herring and children, Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Laverty and son, Kingman, Kan.; and Mrs. Elsie Laverty and children, La-Verne, Okla.

Miss Schaffer Feted With Bridal Shower

GROOM (Spl) — Miss Joan Schaffer, bride-elect of Bill Musser, was honored with a miscellaneous shower in the home of Mrs. Robert Milton, recently.

The guests were greeted by Mrs. Milton, the honoree and her mother, Mrs. Claude Schaffer and Mrs. Edgar Musser. The refreshment table featured the bride's chosen colors of blue and silver with a white cut-work tablecloth and a floral arrangement. Napkins were blue with "Joan and Bill" printed in silver. Mrs. Charles Harvey presided at the silver tea service. Mrs. Nace Baggerman registered the guests. Another floral arrangement on the registration desk also carried out the bride-elect's chosen colors.

Many lovely and useful gifts were on display.

Sharing the hostess duties were Mmes. Melvin Asberry, T. G. Fields, Henry Merrick, C. L. Fields, George Eschle, Charles Harvey, Ruby Denton and Floyd Knight.

Shower Honors Bride-Elect

CANADIAN (Spl) — Miss Kay Russell, bride - elect of Calvin Sthere was honoree at a wedding shower recently in the home of Mrs. James O. Wilburn. Mrs. J. A. Parks, Mrs. Perry Gober, Mrs. L. F. Etheredge, Miss Betty Gober and Miss Darla Prater.

The serving table was covered with a white linen cloth and the bride's colors of aqua and white were carried out in in the decorations and refreshments. The table was centered with an arrangement of daisies and white roses.

Miss Gober served the cake which was white with aqua trimming. Miss Prater attended the punch bowl.

About 55 guests were registered or sent gifts.

Linda Moon Wins Homemaker Award

CANADIAN (Spl) — Linda Moon has won Canadian High School's 1964 Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow Award and she will be entered in statewide competition. Linda has received a "Homemaker of Tomorrow" pin from General Mills, Inc. who sponsored the contest. The State Homemaker of Tomorrow will receive a $1,500 college scholarship and her school will receive a set of Encyclopaedia Britannica's. The state's second prize winner will receive a $500 scholarship.

Scouting Scoops

By SUSAN DAVIS
Senior Troop 38

Aloha! This famous expression suggesting exotic native islands and cool summer nights, hardly seems appropriate during this season of knee deep snow; yet I am certain the members of troop 151 of Borger have just these things on their minds. Yes, through the concentrated efforts of Mrs. Ruby Garret, the girls, and I'm sure their families too, they will set off for none other than Hawaii itself August fourth through the fourteenth. Boy, what a trip that should be.

Past President of the Quivera Girl Scout Council, Mrs. Murl Howard of Borger, and her family, including Vinessa and Vienna Howard, her active Girl Scout daughters, has been transferred to Spain. They take leave of the U.S. for three years in March. Adios amigos!

On the home front, the Senior Planning Board had its first meeting of 1964 on Feb. 25. Newly elected officers are: president, Linda Moore; vice president, Pam Purcell (Borger). Objects for discussion were the Senior Conference planned for March, and the Patrol Encampment for those wishing to go to Roundup the summer of '65.

Mrs. Raymond Laycock's Troop 54 are busy earning their Housekeeping and Pen-pal Badges.

Feb. 17 is the date set for troop's court of awards. The troop, led by Mrs. Charles Casey, will receive its Sign of the Arrow, and Sign of the Star Badges, along with individual badges earned by the girls. During the past year, Mrs. Casey has been assisted by Pam King, from Senior Troop 38, who has been earning a service badge of her own while helping the younger troop.

The senior council meeting held Jan. 30, was opened with a flag ceremony by Troop 5. Nancy Holt, a member of that troop, presented a drawn cover for the annual report, the theme of which is International Friendship.

Talks were given by Mrs. Marian Osborne on her trip to the National Convention at Miami Beach, Florida, in October, and Miss Vinessa Howard, just returned from an archeological study in New Mexico.

New officers installed were: president, Mrs. J. R. Holloway, Pampa; first vice-president, Mrs. Frank Badeen, Borger; second vice-president, Mrs. John Porter, Shamrock; secretary, Mrs. James Crouch; and treasurer, Mr. T. M. Whitely.

This summer's camping dates are as follows; day dates are as follows; day camp first session 8 through 12; second session—June 15 through 19; third session—June 22 through 26; Kiowa Troop Encampment—August 9th through 15; and Established Camp —August 9th through 20.

BETROTHAL ANNOUNCED

Miss Barbara Jean Holt

Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Holt, 2010 Charles, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Barbara Jean, to William McCordy Engle, son of Mrs. Opal Engle and the late Mr. A. D. Engle, Big Spring. The wedding is planned for March 28 and will take place in the First Methodist Church, Pampa.

Couple Reads Vows In Perryton Church

Brenda Jeanette Waller, daughter of Mrs. Corene Musgrave, 109 N. Nelson, and Gary Charles Punches, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Punches of White Deer, exchanged wedding vows February 3 in the Methodist Church of Perryton. Rev. Duane Bruce read the double ring service.

The bride chose for her wedding a white brocade dress with matching jacket. The rounded neckline and elbow length sleeves trimmed with fur added interest to the sheath styled frock. A circlet veil of white silk illusion was secured by a white chiffon bow.

Mrs. Punches is a senior student in Pampa High School. The bridegroom is serving with the United States Navy and will report for duty at the Mare Island, Calif., base where he will board the U.S.S. Segundo for sea duty.

We should never include such plants in our gardens unless, of course, one has a special interest in caring for a particular specimen or group of nonhardy plants.

To mention just a few observations of hardy trees around town, here are some impressive and veteran specimens: Atlas Cedar growing at 721 Browning is some 25 feet high. Art Display Announced

Approximately fifty pieces of local original art went on display Friday in the lobby and coffee shop of the Pampa Hotel, at the invitation of Preston Faulkes, manager. "It will be a privilege to replace the now hanging reproductions on our walls, with samplings of our local artists' original works," stated Faulkes.

The invitation to hang pictures has been extended to the Pampa Art Association with the Creative Art Group going on display for a period of three months.

The newly organized Creative Art Group is composed of students of the Satterwhite Studios, 814 East Browning. Both children and adults' works will be presented in the three fields of art; modern, primitive, and visual.

Alva Satterwhite, artist-teacher, opened her studio to students four years ago.

An acclaimed primitive artist, Mrs. Satterwhite studied for eight and one half years with Dord Fitz of Amarillo. She has presented four pieces in several New York showings, with the Area Art of the Fitz Gallery; a one-man showing in the fall of 1962 and currently Mrs. Satterwhite will enter three pictures in the invitational 24th annual exhibit of the Philbrook Art Center in Tulsa, Oklahoma.

Fashion Trends and Fads Studied By Varietas Club in Recent Meeting

Mrs. Dow King presented a program on fashion which had been prepared by Mrs. J. R. Spearman as the Varietas Study Club met recently in the home of Mrs. Sherman White, 610 N. Banks. She defined fashions as the style that is popular at the present time and stated that the woman using sound judgment in adapting the best fashion to her own needs and personality may obtain elegance and distinction. In contrast she described a guest at a noted dining place who was attired in enough jangling costume jewelry to drown out the faint strains of the background music, a white mink stole over a pink embroidered sweater, pale blue stretch pants and spike-heeled gilt sandals exposing pearl enameled nails. Each article of clothing is in fashion; but is not appropriate when used together or was it suited for the occasion. Good taste is in realizing the importance of right clothes for the occasion and the individual.

It is good to have the knowledge of basic principles of harmony, proportion, balance, rhythmn and emphasis and how to apply when wardrobe planning. A wisely chosen dark suit or dress that is well fitted is usually the answer to a well planned wardrobe as it can be dressed up or down. Hats are chosen for their beauty of design and colors as well as their usefulness and should be scaled in size of the wearer.

Etiquette demands that a well dressed person never appear in public outdoors without gloves. They should never be conspicious and if they do not match the costume, they make the hips look larger making a line across the body. Decorated gloves should not be worn by women with large hands as they call attention to the size.

Costume jewelry should be selected with care. A few pieces of semi-precious stones cost no more than a quantity of imitation jewels and are in better taste. Limit the use of brightly colored accessories to two matching pieces, more will give a spotted effect. In short, fashion is something we buy but style is what we give the things we wear.

Mrs. Sherman White presided during the business session. The club voted to sponsor a high school student in the Hallmark Art Contest.

Mrs. R. W. Lane was named as delegate to the Top of Texas District Convention in Borger which will be conducted March 25 and March 26.

Newly named officers of the organization include president, Mrs. R. W. Lane; vice-president, Mrs. J. E. Kirchman; secretary, Mrs. J. R. Spearman; treasurer, Mrs. S. C. Evans; parliamentarian, Mrs. C. L. McKinney; reporter, Mrs. H. H. Butler; and library chairman, Mrs. J. C. Vollmert.

Attending the meeting were Mmes. H. H. Butler, Cecil Dalton, H. Price Dosier, S. C. Evans, Lee Harrah, Dow King, J. E. Kirchman, R. W. Lane, C. L. McKinney, Otis Nace, Luther Pierson, Ralph Thomas, W. A. Wagoner, Joe Z. Weaver and Sherman White.

Artist's Biography Given at Meeting

The devotional was given by Mrs. E. W. Crowell.

Mrs. J. B. Lindley gave a biography on the life of Augusta Metcalfe, an Oklahoma artist. Mrs. Lindley displayed examples of Mrs. Metcalfe's work during her talk.

Those present were Mrs. Simpson, Mrs. Crowell, Mrs. Lindley, Mrs. F. D. Teas, Mrs. W. A. Merrell, Mrs. J. J. Caudle, Mrs. John Jones and Mrs. Ben Beard.

If people would confine their talk to subjects that are profitable, that which St. John informs us took place once in heaven, would happen very frequently on earth,—silence for the space of half an hour.

Federation of B&PW Convenes in Ft. Worth

The Board of Directors, composed of officers, standing chairmen and District Directors of the Texas Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Inc. are at the Hotel Texas, in Ft. Worth to present reports and formulate plans for their annual state convention to be held in Ft. Worth in June.

Mrs. Hope Conroe of Lubbock, president of the federation, presided at the general sessions where chairmen and directors, representing more than 190 B&PW clubs from all parts of Texas, were presented summations of accomplishments for the first half of the 1963-64 club year.

Mrs. Carol Haberman, San Antonio, state first vice-president discussed program plans for the June convention with committee chairmen and Mrs. Modell Scruggs, Houston, president elect of the state organization, met with directors and directors-elect from each of the state's 15 districts to discuss the federation expansion program. Other business on the agenda was an executive committee meeting on Saturday morning and a finance committee meeting in the afternoon. A final session of the full board was scheduled this morning.

Blessed is the man who, having nothing to say, abstains from giving in words evidence of the fact.

Dear Abby....

Getting the Most for the Dollar Runs in Your Family

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I made what I thought was a good suggestion and it started a whole family fight. My daughter recently got a diamond ring and plans to be married this summer. My sister's daughter announced her engagement New Year's Eve, and she plans to be married this summer, too. When I mentioned to the other members of my family that I thought it would be a good idea if the kids got together and had a double wedding, they said if they had to buy TWO wedding presents they expected to go to TWO weddings. And when I explained to my sister that we could save on flowers, music, food, drinks, etc., she said they could afford to put on their own wedding as they weren't in the poorhouse yet. What's wrong with my family? Or is it me? Next time I open my big mouth, I wish somebody would kick me hard.

MEANT WELL

DEAR MEANT: Your suggestion was motivated by your desire to get as much mileage out of a dollar as possible. So was their reaction. It must run in your family.

DEAR ABBY: I am engaged to a wonderful man. He is a European and his first name is difficult, but not impossible, to pronounce. When I introduced him to my mother for the first time she didn't even attempt to pronounce his name. She simply said, "I shall call you John." He smiled, good-humoredly, thinking she was joking but she has been calling him "John" ever since. I know he feels hurt and I don't blame him. I think it's insulting. Don't you think my mother should learn to pronounce my future husband's name? It has bothered me for several months.

BOTHERED

DEAR BOTHERED: Why the silent burn? Teach your mother to pronounce your fiance's name, and insist that she address him as such. (P.S. Why doesn't John speak for himself?)

DEAR ABBY: You should have told the Mason's wife, who felt left out because her husband wouldn't share the secrets of the lodge with her, that she and her husband should join the Order of the Eastern Star. It's not ALL secret.

Sincerely,
A MASON IN

The bodice featured a long sleeve jacket of white alecon lace edged in peau de soi. The three tiered veil of illusion was attached to a head piece formed by three peau de soi roses.

She carried a bouquet of white roses.

ATTENDANTS

Sister of the bridegroom, Mrs. Larry Thompson, attended the bride as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Ann Belanger and Mrs. Lynda Tyler. Attired identically, the attendants wore dresses of peacock blue peau de soi fashioned with bell skirts. Their headpieces were dior head bows and they carried carnations and roses.

Ron Fossett, cousin of the bridegroom was best man while ushers were Bill Haddock, brother of the bridegroom, and John Pickett, brother of the bride. Other attendants were the groomsmen, Dick Luetkemeyer and Bill Murphy.

RECEPTION

For a wedding trip to Hot Springs, Ark., the bride wore a moss green coat and dress with white accessories and a corsage lifted from her bridal bouquet.

The couple will be at home in Oklahoma City.

Mrs. Haddock attended the University of Oklahoma where she was a member of Gamma Phi Beta social soroity and was listed on the dean's honor roll.

Mr. Haddock has a BBA degree in business from Oklahoma University where he lettered in varsity basketball and baseball. He was named to the All Big Eight Conference of Pitchers of 1963, and was a member of the Varsity "O" Club. He was named Distinguished Military Student in advanced R.O.T.C. and was a member of Iota Epsilon marketing fraternity and a member of Kappa Sigma, social fraternity. The Doctor Says

Dr. WAYNE BRANDSTADT

Man has been defined as a member of the ape family with a cough. The definition is never more vivid than it is in the winter months. If you have a cough that hangs on for more than three weeks, it should be regarded as chronic, and you should have your doctor find out why it has persisted.

If your cough is associated with shortness of breath, blood in the sputum, or pain in the chest, it is doubly important to have a checkup.

The more serious causes of a chronic cough are tuberculosis, lung cancer, chronic bronchitis, and valvular heart disease with beginning decompensation. Other common causes include heavy smoking (more than a pack a day) and daily exposure to smog.

If heavy smoking is the cause, don't laugh it off as just a cigarette cough. It is an indication that smoking has damaged your respiratory mucous membranes. Furthermore, if you have had the cough for a long time, it may reduce your awareness of a cause that may be reinforcing your cough.

I am sometimes asked why night air aggravates a cough. The night air does not aggravate it, but the change in posture from standing or sitting to lying down may do so.

Your cough is a symptom rather than a disease in itself; but like all symptoms it is a warning that something is wrong.

We have come to be so preoccupied with relieving or masking symptoms (pain, depression, etc.) that we often forget the protective value of the symptom as a warning.

Cough remedies to suppress your cough should certainly be taken when you are seized with a fit of coughing in public or when coughing interferes with your sleep, but they are no substitute for discovering and treating the cause.

There are literally hundreds of cough remedies available. Old-fashioned hard candy with or without glycerin as an ingredient will soothe the irritated mucous membranes of the throat. Most of the older cough syrups contained codeine which suppresses the cough reflex. There are now many non-narcotic drugs that are just as effective.

One of the most valuable recent contributions to the treatment of coughs due to emphysema, pneumonia, tuberculosis, and chronic bronchitis is acetyclysteine.

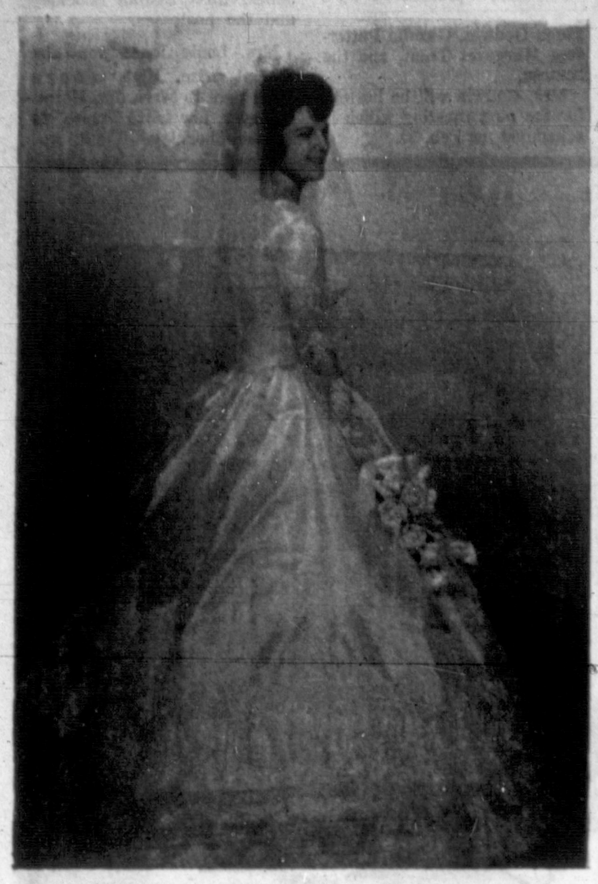
McBroom-Hogan Vows Said in Pampa Church



(Photo by Call's)

Mrs. Jimmy Hogan

Wedding promises were exchanged by Carol Jeanne McBroom and Jimmy Hogan Saturday evening, February 8 in the First Assembly of God Church in Pampa.

Rev. Paul Lunsford, uncle of the bride read the double ring ceremony before a background formed by a nine-branch candle tree flanking a spiral candelabra centered with an arch of salal and pink mums.

Mrs. Bob Marstellar was organist and accompanied Miss Barbara Kinnamon as she presented the vocal selections, "Till There Was You," "Each For the Other" and "The Wedding Prayer"; offered as the benediction.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie McBroom, 401 Red Deer and Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Hogan of Lubbock.

BRIDE

Mr. McBroom, with "her mother and I" avowal, gave his daughter in marriage. The bride chose a formal gown of white chantilly lace with a redengote effect overskirt of silk peau de sol, appliqued around the edge with lace. The fitted bodice of chantilly lace featured a sabrina neckline also trimmed with sequins and seed pearls and long tapered sleeves ending in petal points at the wrists. Her only jewelry was a strand of pearls which was a gift of the bridegroom.

Her veil of bridal illusion flowed from a crown tiara of tiny seed pearls and crystal beads. She carried a cascade bouquet of pink roses with a center of feathered white carnations attached to a small white Bible.

ATTENDANTS

Dressed identically in sheath dresses with overskirts fashioned from peacock blue silk peau and matching head pieces, the attendants to the bride were: Miss Betty Hogan, sister of the bridegroom, maid of honor; and the bridesmaids, Miss Margaret Lunsford, cousin of the bride, Wichita Falls; Mrs. Eugene Lunsford, Miss Winona Pritchard and Miss Bena Loveless. The maid of honor carried a crescent bouquet of pink carnations and the bridesmaids carried pink feathered carnation nosegays.

The bestman was Rev. Jerry B. Walker, Austin and groomsmen were Paul Paumann, Perryton; Doyle Robertson of Lubbock; Rev. Bob Marstellar and Rev. Glendon Roachelle, McLean.

Candlelighters were Mary Joyce Thorton and Nicky Brumfield. Flower girl was Brenda Lunsford of Oklahoma City, cousin of the bride and ring bearer was Donnie Lunsford, Oklahoma City, cousin of the bride. Dressed similar to the bride and bridegroom were Pamela Pritchard and Dee Estess, Perryton, cousin of the bride, who distributed rice bags as the guests arrived.

Mrs. McBroom chose a dress of light pink silk with matching accessories for her daughter's wedding. Her red rose corsage complemented her costume. Mrs. Hogan was attired in a dress of pink silk shantung with matching accessories and chose a corsage of red roses.

RECEPTION

Mr. and Mrs. Hogan were honored with a reception in Fellowship Hall immediately following the ceremony.

The bride's table was laid with white satin covered with blue net. The three-tiered pedestal wedding cake was decorated in white and silver and topped by a miniature bride and bridegroom. Miss Annette Preston presided at the punch bowl and Miss Kay Hill, Arlington, served the wedding cake. Miss Patsy Pritchard, Oklahoma City, registered the guests.

Members of the house party were Mmes. L. O. Thorton, Bobby Thornton, M. L. Lunsford, L. R. Brumfield, J. B. Caldwell and Bob Tigrett.

For a brief wedding trip the bride wore a two - piece wool suit of turquoise with gray accessories and a corsage of pink roses lifted from the bridal bouquet.

The couple will be at home in Lubbock where Mr. Hogan is director of the Revivalaires Choir of Lubbock.

The bride is a 1963 graduate of Pampa High School and attended Draughan's Business College in Lubbock. She was previously employed with First National Bank in Pampa.

The bridegroom is a 1959 graduate of New Deal High School and is engaged in farming west of New Deal.

Lamb Rates High With No. 1 Gourmet

By GAYNOR MADDOX

Our trencherman friend, James Beard — author, lecturer and teacher — is rated as America's No. 1 gourmet. He regards lamb as one of our great meats. We asked him for suggestions for getting top enjoyment from it. Here is his enthusiastic reply:

For a welcome change, serve hot lamb with tart currant jelly or beachplum jelly. It is far more interesting than commercially made dull mint jelly.

A casserole of eggplant and tomatoes goes perfectly with roast lamb. So do curried rice or a casserole of curried mixed vegetables.

With the roasted leg and the new potatoes, I serve a salad of crisp greens and sliced raw mushrooms. I add a little chopped fresh mint to the dressing made of oil and wine vinegar.

Sometimes I marinate a leg or boned shoulder of lamb for 24 hours before roasting. For the marinade I use herbs liberally because lamb has an affinity for fresh herbs. The marinade consists of ½ cup olive oil, 2 teaspoons salt, 1 teaspoon freshly ground pepper, juice of 2 lemons, a clove of garlic, some thyme, parsley, oregano, onion and bzy leaf aand a pint of wine, either red or white. Place in a large shallow bowl and immerse the leg in the marinade. Turn frequently during the 24 hours. To roast, use same method as foar unmarinated lamb.

Lamb curry is a dish universally liked. It can be made with the cheaper cuts of lamb. Serve with perfectly cooked rice, crumpled crisp bacon, preserved kumquats or pickled watermeloan rind.

Groom HD Club Conducts Meet

GROOM (Spl) — The Groom Country Neighbors Home Demonstration Club met recently in the home of Mrs. Jim Hermesmeyer with Mrs. Harris Barnett as cohostess.

During the business session Mrs. Glynn D. Harrell was elected club nominee to the district club meeting. The club went on record as favoring the woman of the year award, to be sponsored by the county council. The new yearbooks were discussed and a tentative guest date was suggested.

Resignation of Mrs. Mike Homer and Mrs. Arletus Ruthardt were accepted.

The hostess gift was won by Mrs. Mary Kuehler. Refreshments were served to 11 members and two guests.

The international relations committee reported that 50 pounds of books had been shipped to the Denver office for points overseas. The good selection of books had been noted by the Denver chairman.

Marian Osborne, Altrusa chairman of the Career Clinic, conducted Wednesday at Pampa High School, urged support of the Altrusans in this worthwhile project.

Rosemary Lawlor, music chairman called for club recognition of Fidelia Yoder who provides dinner music at each meeting.

Mrs. Libby Shotwell, publicity committee, thanked the Pampa News for cooperation.

Breakfast Social Held by Bethany Sunday Sch. Class

The Bethany Sunday School Class met recently at the Pampa Hotel for breakfast and a business and devotional meeting.

Mrs. A. Turner gave the devotional on the topic, "God So Loved Us" and read scripture from the Gospel of John.

Mrs. Winter led in prayer and Mrs. Hutto gave the invocation preceding the breakfast meal.

Mrs. Hutto was in charge of the business meeting.

Twentieth Century Names Officers, Conducts Program

The new slate includes president, Mrs. Arthur Teed; vice-president, Mrs. Felix Vendrell; secretary, Mrs. Homer Johnson; treasurer, Mrs. E. J. Dunigan; reporter, Mrs. Holt Barber; and parliamentarian, Mrs. Calvin Jones.

Mrs. Joe Franklin and Mrs. H. N. Daniel presented the program, "Women of the Theater". Mrs. McDaniel presented Katherine Cornell who has been called 'first lady of the American stage'. Ruth Woodbury Sedgwick says in the preface to Miss Cornell's autobiography, "Cornell alone in this generation has possessed the fusing of genius, physical and vocal endowment, technique, discipline, sense of responsibility to the public and to a high tradition, which are necessary equipment for the triumphant presentation of measuring an actress' stature in the hall of theatrical immortality."

"Her career — the only stage career we have, which has been planned as fine architecture is planned, has swept for many years in a constantly mounting crescendo beyond managerial whims and greed, play script famine and passing fad and prejudices, Hollywood inroads, and the comfortable habit of resting on oars."

"According to an article in the "Theatre Trade Magazine" the greatest female star of our era may well be Ann Bancroft," Mrs. Franklin said. Born Anna Maria Italiano in the Bronx, she has always loved to talk, sing and make faces for anyone who would listen and watch. In 1958, she got the role of Gitt in "Two for the SeeSaw" and was Broadway's new sta In 1959 she played the part "Annie Sullivan" in "The Miracle Worker" and was a claimed in the front ranks great living actresses. Family, Friends Honor Couple on 61st Anniversary

A dinner was served to members of the family and guests which included three daughters and one son.

Children of the couple attending the event were Hazel Marshall, Cedar Vale, Kan., Eva Rixkard, Norman, Okla., Marie Smith, Pampa and Lawerence Martin of Pampa. Mrs. Martin was also present.

Others present were a great-granddaughter, Susy Davis of Pampa; granddaughter, Mrs. Wilma Handley and two daughters, Donna and Kim; Drumright, Okla.

After dinner a two-tier anniversary cake was served with coffee.

Come and go guests included Mr. and Mrs. Bill Jameson, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Culberson, Bufford Owens, Mr. and Mrs. Williams and Rise Davis of Phillips.

Scouts Entertain At Parents' Night

CANADIAN — The Canadian Girl Scouts entertained their parent's Monday night in the WCTU Building.

Mrs. Homer Thomas, neighborhood chairman, was in charge of the program. The Rev. Carroll Harmon gave the invocation.

Cathy Ezzell was flag bearer and Linda Wilson, Nancy Mathews, Connie Powers and Margie Faulkner were the color guard.

A piano solo was played by Donna Lansdown. Rita Conn and Toni Whipple sang a duet followed by a vocal number by the girls of Troop 76. Troop 215 sang two selections and Christi Jones did a record pantomime.

The Christeens of the First Christian Church sang several numbers. They were accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Danny Urschel.

Kathy Reeves played a piano solo and the members of Troop 83 sang a number and played a musical game. The Reeves sisters and Wanda Goodman did a record pantomime and flute solo was played by Carol Cullender.

After the entertainment was concluded membership cards were given to Troop 76 by Mrs. Johnny Conn and Mrs. Jimmy Bayless was announced as the new leader for Troop 76.

Xi Beta Chi Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, Studies Great Men at Meeting

The president, Mrs. Howard Buckingham led the opening ritual and conducted a business meeting.

The program topic, "The Various Man" was divided into three parts of discussion with the first being the multiple genius and a resume of the life of Leonardo da Vinci showing that he was a man with a great talent in several fields. Among his accomplishments were architect, sculpting and painting, as well as civil and military engineering.

The second assignment concerned the patriot, Patrick Henry. The part he played in the early history of the United States was discussed and several of his famous speeches were noted.

A local pioneer, T. D. Hobart, was used to depict the last portion of the program. Hobart came from Vermont to Palestine, Tex., in 1882 to work for the New York and Texas Land Company, L In 1886 he moved to Mob tie where he was put charge of more than one m lion acres of the compan lands. After six years he turned to Vermont to mar Miss Minnie Wood Warren.

The Hobart's first hor was a tract of land at t head of the Washita River Hemphill County and in lat years Hobart acquired oth lands adjoining the origi tract and developed one of t most beautiful ranches in t Texas Panhandle. Hobar interest extended to ranchi stock farming, oil, irrigati forestry and reclamation lands. His career made him well-known leader in Tex as a colonizer, ranchm highly respected citizen, a one of the best land men T as has ever developed.

New Plant Here to Employ 300

available within 10 days and notice will be given at the proper time to begin applying for jobs, Bill Ragsdale, local TEC manager, announced.

In making the announcement, Steele told the Chamber members present, "We are happy From-O-Uth chose Pampa as a location for this modern plant, and we are looking forward to working with Mr. Fraser and his staff to make their operations here pleasant and profitable."

Fraser was quick to compliment "all the people who have worked with my company" in the past two years of talks.

"However, let me say that Aubrey Steele should be given a vote of special thanks for his never ending, always pleasant, efforts to bring this expansion program to Pampa," Fraser said.

Steele paid high tribute to neighboring McLean for the work there which "aided us so much in obtaining this plant."

"Let me say to you, that without the co-operation of Mayor John Haynes of McLean and his council, this might not have been possible," Steele declared. "John and the people of McLean are our kind of folk."

The announcement brought a standing ovation from the some 300 people present.

Mayor H. R. Thompson of Pampa threw the full co-operation of the city behind the plant as he told Fraser and chamber officials, "I have never been so happy to hear such news in my life and the city will be happy to help in any way we can."

Thompson also acknowledged the "excellent fellowship of the people of McLean" in the efforts.

Mayor Haynes of McLean told the throng that "I feel that anything that helps Pampa, helps Gray County and we're all for it in McLean."

The mayor continued, "In fact this may very well help McLean more than Pampa in the long run. If you people in Pampa need any further help in anything, just let us folks in McLean know."

The entire city council at McLean and the County Commissioner from that area were present at the announcement.

Form-O-Uth has its own design staff, and has produced a number of original creations, many of which will be manufactured at the Pampa plant.

Fraser said, "The uniformity of production expected in the Pampa plant will mean year-round employment and a steady payroll, which is most unusual in the garment industry."

Form-O-Uth's Pampa plant will feature excellent working conditions, designed to attract a high type of personnel. The factory location will have ample parking space as well as land available for future expansion. Fraser said plans for expansion of the Pampa plant, beyond its 300-employee needs, are already being made and will be instituted as fast as workers can be trained and staffed.

Ed Myatt, Chairman of the Board of Pam-Tex, said the Form-O-Uth plant here will be one of the largest of its type ever constructed in Pampa. It will be 120 feet wide and of clear span construction with no interior columns and will feature the latest in improvements in pre-fabricated steel buildings.

The building will be designed to give a maximum amount of pleasant surroundings and useable space. It will be 140 feet long, giving in excess of 18,000 square feet of space.

The exterior will be covered primarily with colored steel panels with baked-on enamel finish, utilizing glass and brick designed to give a particularly pleasing appearance and enhancing the surroundings of the neighborhood.

Black-top parking space will be provided for over 200 cars for the convenience of personnel and visitors.

Fraser and Friton expressed a sincere appreciation of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce for the assistance given by its Industrial Committee in preparing needed information requested for the decision to locate the factory here.

The special committee which handled most of the negotiations locally consisted of Steele; Frank Culberson, a member of the industrial committee, who represented industrial committee chairman Hugh Burdette during the negotiation period; Myatt, another committee member; Bill Ragsdale, office manager at Pampa for the Texas Employment Commission, and Chamber Manager E. O. Wedgeworth.

Fraser said he was well impressed with the caliber of men that he dealt with in the negotiations and that the main factors that influenced his company's decision to locate a plant here included the attitude of the people in Pampa, the healthy industrial climate, the attractiveness of the city, and the ample supply of labor available.

"The plant is expected to bring in approximately $800,000.00 additional annual payroll to the Pampa area when fully staffed.

Form-O-Uth has plants at Gardena, Calif., which is a suburb of Los Angeles, a warehouse at El Monte, another suburb in the Los Angeles area, and the Marie Foundations plant in McLean. The company is 28 years old and has operated its McLean plant in its present location since 1957, where they employ approximately 300 people.

Fraser said the local factory will take care of increased sales demands in the southwest and added that plans were already in the mill for expanding the Pampa plant just as fast as employees are trained.

Adequate land is being provided to take care of future expansion plans.

The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself, no more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

An Educator's Viewpoint On Closed Door Meetings

The comments of Dr. DeWitt Reddick, Texas University journalism director, about cooperation between school boards and the press, were highly pertinent to the current controversy between the Pampa school board and The Pampa News.

Dr. Reddick's remarks were contained in an interview published on the front page of last Thursday's News. He was principal speaker at the High School Career Clinic the day before.

The Pampa News has long held that the school board should not conduct closed door meetings under the guise of discussing "personnel" and "personal" matters. It is generally known that at these closed meetings the board members more often than not drift away from "personal" and "personnel" matters into business that rightfully should be reported to the general public.

This, of course, could happen accidentally, or accidentally on purpose. Whether it happens either way, The Pampa News feels it is right in saying the board's policy is morally wrong.

The Texas U journalism director urged school officials from elementary to school board level to cooperate with news media "to inform the public."

The public cannot be informed when reporters are barred from the so-called executive meetings held by the Pampa school board.

This comes under the head of managed news—news managed by the school board. The only news released after an executive meeting, if any is released at all, is what the school board wants released. We do not believe school board members are qualified to determine what is news and what is not news.

Their policy is one that shapes up as giving school board members the right to determine what they want the public to know — and what they do not want the public to know.

The News suspects that some of the school board members know that their secret meeting policy is wrong, but stubbornly refuse to publicly admit it. The suspicion is based on a statement made privately by at least one board member.

Dr. Reddick tells them very outspokenly, and without reservation of any kind, that their policy of closed meetings is not a good one.

"A closed door policy is not in the best interest of a sound educational program," Reddick declared.

This is a statement by a noted Texas educator and a former newspaper reporter who is thoroughly familiar with both sides of the story.

Based on his opinion, the Pampa school board would have to be wrong on its closed door policy.

We could list many other well-known educators and members of other school boards who would not go along with the Pampa board's policy of barring news media from meetings, executive or otherwise.

It is difficult to understand why the local school board continues to keep the doors closed.

We can't think of a single legitimate reason for not wanting the public to know what its school board servants are doing at any meeting where the public's business is being conducted.

As Dr. Reddick points out:

"If they close the door, shutting out a newspaper, that paper cannot report the facts. In shutting out the press, the schools therefore hurt their public relations program and no sound educational effort can be sold that way."

Worse Off Than Dropouts

Great attention is being focused on high school dropouts these days, but another group of students is more to be pitied —those who take college preparatory courses and graduate with only Cs or worse.

That is the opinion of Norman C. Harris, a professor of technical education at the University of Michigan.

"They have no saleable skill," explains Harris, "most four-year colleges will not admit them and they are not prepared to begin an occupation education program in a two-year college. And there are several hundred thousand of these youngsters every year."

To these should be added the fresh crop of students who by virtue of high school diplomas were admitted to state universities last September, only to be weeded out in January.

Harris advocates pretechnical programs in high schools that are planned in co-operation with nearby community colleges or technical institutes.

Whether C students in academic courses would turn into A or B students in a technical curriculum is another question. In cases where poor counseling or parental pressure forced an uninterested student into a college prep major, this might be true.

One thing is clear, though: As job competition and college entrance competition sharpen with the years, the so-so scholar will find that the middle of the road is full of chuckholes.

Business Vs. The Weed

A number of businesses are said to be following the lead of a Long Island, N. Y., bank which has banned smoking by employes at its 50 branches—except in washrooms.

It's a noble experiment, but cynics claim such a rule will do more to make washrooms popular than to make cigarettes unpopular.

Worst of all, it could have more adverse effect upon the Gross National Product (through reduced worker efficiency) than upon tobacco consumption.

On the other hand, if the idea succeeds — if nonsmoking proves to be both good business and good citizenship — then the weed is doomed.

"Sometimes I wonder if there's something wrong with US . . . whenever we LIKE a show, it's discontinued!"

Pull Up A Chair

By Frank J. Markey

Women love furs, but they don't know how to care for them, a N.Y. furrier told us. One of the common mistakes, he said, is storing or hanging furs in a plastic bag. He recommended a cloth bag and for white furs a dark cloth bag. He said carrying a handbag on the arm causes abrasions on the pelt, and stuffing pockets causes the fur to stretch out of shape. He added that perfume and cologne should never be sprayed directly on furs and cleaning fluids and moth sprays can discolor them. He also said if furs are worn in wet weather they should be allowed to dry naturally and then shaken vigorously to restore their luster.

Today's smile: A traffic cop waved a woman motorist to the curb, and asked her why she went halfway through his stop signal. Her answer was: "Well, I washed my car an hour ago and I can't do a thing with it."

A Hollywood efficiency expert found during a recent survey that TV producers can turn out a half-hour film for $50,000, whereas a major movie studio spends up to $20,000 on a single minute of a feature film. The cost per minute of the finished prints of "Cleopatra," "The Cardinal," and "How The West Was Won" ran to astronomical figures . . . If you want to become famous, write your senator or congressman and ask him to arrange to have an Alaskan mountain named for you. It's estimated there are 10,000 unnamed mountain peaks in the 49th State. Recently they named two in honor of Orville and Wilbur Wright, inventors of the airplane.

Thoughts while shaving: Food authorities say the average American eats 50 pounds less fresh fruit than his grandfathr did. They add he makes up for it by drinking more concentrated fruit juice . . . There will be 63 sit-down restaurants seating 18,000 persons at the N.Y. World's Fair with menus ranging from sandwiches to gourmet delights. Of course there will also be hundreds of hot dog stands. What is any Fair without 'em? The recent demise of Studebaker in the American automotive field recalls it's strictly a blue chip business. An astute operator like Henry Kaiser quickly dropped $50 million trying to build a popular car. And, Ford, one of the big three, made a $250 million error in plugging Edsel cars . . . Headline in the Langdon (N.D.) CAVALIER COUNTY REPUBLICAN: "Shablow and Bergman, Bergman and Shablow Place in State Shoot." Nothing like giving everyone top billing . . . The most expensive "seat" in the world is one on the New York Stock Exchange. Prices ranged last year from $217,000 to $160,000 . . . Leap year note to the ladies: Just in time for Valentine's Day a New York publisher brought out a new book, "The Intelligent Woman's Guide to Man-Hunting," authored by a well-known psychologist.

Country Editor speaking: "The only reason the U.S. never had a woman President is because the Constitution says the chief executive must be over 35."

Allen-Scott Report

Action on Burton Visa Up to Rusk and Kennedy; Feighan Reports Mail 'Deluge' 40 to 1 for Revocation

ROBERT ALLEN

PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — The highly thorny problem of what to do about the increasingly explosive clamor for revocation of the visa granted British actor Richard Burton is now in the hands of two key Cabinet members.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Attorney General Robert Kennedy have been directed by the White House to come up with an answer to this disturbing bombshell — which is flooding both Congress and the White House with the heaviest deluge of mail in months.

This backstage Cabinet "crisis" was precipitated by letters sent Rusk and Kennedy by the House Judiciary Subcommittee on Immigration, headed by Representative Michael Feighan, D-O., demanding revocation of Burton's visa.

Copies of these foreceful letters also were sent to President Johnson. He lost no time in letting Rusk and Kennedy know he wanted speedy action.

What they will do remains to be seen. They have been exchanging views by phone, and assistants have been poring over statues and precedents. They have also received reports on the heavy mail reaction.

Rusk also has asked for a compilation on Burton and his still-married "fiancee" Liz Taylor.

At Rusk's orders, Abba Schwartz, chief of the Bureau of Consular & Security Affairs, cabled U.S. officials in London, Paris, Rome, Mexico and Canada for all information in their files concerning the couple and their activities.

Further, at direct White House behest, Rusk set up a "review board" to consider Burton's visa. Its decision is to be promptly conveyed to the White House.

There are two reasons behind the President's concern:

One is the unmistakable evidence of widespread indignation at the granting of a visa to Burton. This was done while he was in Mexico recently filming a movie. The visa is for six months, to enable him to appear in "Hamlet" in Boston in mid-March and then in New York. The White House clearly does not want to be embarrassed by this queasy affair.

The other reason is that Representative Feighan, in the forefront of the demand for cancelling of the visa, also is chairman of the Joint Congressional Committee on Immigration that has jurisdiction over the administration's bill for extensive revision of the immigration laws. In this capacity, the Ohioan is in a strategic position to determine the fate of the far-reaching legislation.

THROWING THE BOOK AT HIM — Feighan is leaving no doubt he is firmly bent on forcing a showdown on Burton's visa.

In addition to the blunt letters to Secretary Rusk and Attorney General Kennedy, Feighan has requested the State Department to supply his subcommittee with a full transcript of Mrs. Burton's divorce proceedings against the actor. This record is to be made a part of the committee's hearings.

In the letter to Rusk, Feighan stressed that under the law it is squarely up to the State Department to decide what should be done about Burton's visa.

"There is no question, in my opinion," wrote Feighan, "about the Department of State having the exclusive authority by law to revoke the visa issued to Richard Burton . . . Congress intended that the basic question of eligibility to receive visa be sharply separated from any and all involvement with the question of admissibility after a visa was granted and the visa holder presented himself at a port or point of entry into the United States."

Feighan also sharply reminded Rusk that other matters besides law are involved in this case, foremost among them "the moral tone of our nation."

"It is, I believe," said Feighan, "generally conceded that the break-up of families and the public glorification of crime and immorality are major contributing causes to the staggering increase of crime and delinquency in the United States. When these two causative factors are dominant in a single case, and when all the sordid details of that case are propagated through mass media, the end results are painfully evident. One cannot escape the conclusion that the constant flaunting of immoral behavior by widely publicized public figures creates in the minds of many the false concept that immorality is a public virtue.

"My office has been deluged with letters, telegrams and telephone calls from all parts of the country expressing indignation about this case. This correspondence is running more than 40 to one in favor of barring Richard Burton from admission into the United States. Many of the letters are written by parents of teen-aged children, pouring out their concern over the depraved example of public conduct set by Richard Burton and the trying problems of parents who strive to rear their children to be decent, law abiding adults and citizens."

In the letter to Attorney General Robert Kennedy, Freighan asserted that the Burton-Taylor case "has a direct and important bearing on our government's efforts to stem the rising tide of delinquency and crime throughout the country."

"It is, I believe," Feighan continued, "generally conceded that the break-up of families and the public glorification of crime and immorality are major contributing causes to the staggering increase in delinquency and crime. When these two causative factors are dominant in a single case, and when all the sordid details of that case are propagated through the mass media of our country, not to mention Europe, the end results are painfully evident. One cannot escape the conclusion that the constant flaunting of immoral behavior by widely publicized public figures creates in the minds of many the false concept that immorality is a public virtue."

Conceding that "government cannot legislate morality," Feighan contended it is up to the government to "set the moral tones of our nation by its actions."

"Just as the Burton - Taylor case has propagated a false sense of public morals," Freighan held, "government can just as surely put its stamp of disapproval on the flaunting of immorality as a public virtue. The means to exercise that official stamp of disapprovel are now available by law to our government, notwithstanding claims by some to the contrary.

"Obviously, the public issue of the Burton-Taylor - Fisher case originated from the issuances of a visa to him by a consular officer of the Department of State. The Department of States has the same exclusive authority to revoke that visa after a reconsideration and review of the factors involved, including the substance of the subcommittee hearings referred to above. Finally, the same broad judgmental authority on the granting of visas provided by law and the clear congressional intent thereon applies with equal force to the revocation of a visa."

In addition to being unanimously supported by his subcommittee, Feighan has the backing of top Republican and Democratic House leaders. They have conveyed this to him in personal talks and phone calls.

Similarly, a number of senators of both parties have gone out of their way to express their approval.

Evil depends on contrast and on consiousness. A barn - door hen is not unhappy, in respect of locomotive capacity, so long as it is not aware of the difference between itself and an eagle.

Office Cat

The doctor sees all the weakness of mankind, the lawyer all the wickedness, the theologian all the stupidity.

A man went into a butcher's shop, and finding the owner's wife in attendance, in the absence of her husband, thought he would have a joke at her expense, and said,

Man—Madam, can you supply me with a yard of pork?

Owner's Wife — Yes, sir. (And then turning to a boy, she added,) James, give that gentleman three pigs' feet!

Thoughts put on paper are nothing more than footsteps in the sand; you see the way the man has gone, but to know what he saw on his walk, you want his eyes.

General (to the rookie who had neglected to salute him)—Do you know who I am?

The fellow looked at him blankly for a moment, then turned and called to a couple of his friends near by:

Rookie — Hey, fellas, here's a good one. A general who doesn't even know his own name!

A woman riding a trolley car was anxious not to pass he destination. She poked the operator with her umbrella.

Woman — Is that the Citizen's National Bank?

Operator — No, ma'am, that's my stomach.

Sixteen years after it was lost, my grandmother's wedding ring was found and returned to her by the man who had purchased her former home. — Steve Balney, Bethesda, Ohio.

Lady — I know that kind; I have some which came back with their sides split.

HOW TO ADDRESS OUR LAW MAKERS

You may wish to write your senators and representatives in Washington and Austin. Here are their addresses:

(FEDERAL)

Rep. Walter Rogers, House Office Bldg., Washington 25, D. C.
Sen. Ralph Yarborough, Senate Bldg., Washington 25, D. C.
Sen. John Tower, Senate Office Office Bldg., Washington 25, D.C.

(STATE)

Sen. Grady Hazelwood, Senate Bldg., Austin, Texas.
Rep. Grainger Mcilhany, House of Representatives, Austin, Texas.

matter of Fact

The so-called Black Country is an industrial area around Birmingham in the British Midlands. The name is derived from the muck produced by the collieries, blast furnaces and foundries set up there because of the nearness of coal and iron mines. Mining has almost ceased in the area, and old quarries have been laid out as public parks.

WASHINGTON:

Latin Aid Is Tied to U.S. Policy

By RAY CROMLEY
Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA) — A major change in U. S. tactics in Latin America is coming. It will be speeded as a result of the Panama riots.

There will be sizeable revisions in the spotty Alliance for Progress.

There will be a quick, sharp cutback in U.S. attempts to force our concepts of social and governmental change on Latin countries as the price for U.S. economic aid.

The new idea is to hit hard at improving each country economically in the belief this will automatically create a climate for better government and improved social conditions.

We will no longer hold back aid solely because of a military coup, as we did in Honduras and the Dominican Republic. That is, aid won't be contingent on how a government got into power, provided it's friendly.

We won't hold back aid because a co - operating government doesn't institute land or tax reform or expand its school system. We'll turn these problems over to the Latin states themselves and let them police each other.

We will begin linking Latin aid directly to U.S. foreign policy instead of considering aid an end in itself. Cancelled: the old policy of continuing aid to a Latin country even when its government starts working against the United States. Aid, as in Panama, will be recessed until the situation "improves."

Aid will be suspended when a country doesn't carry out self-help as its part of an aid deal or when a government being helped doesn't take the steps to make aid effective.

There will be more loans, fewer gifts.

There will be an increase in efforts to undermine the Castro - Communist movements now growing in a fistful of Central and South American countries.

Guiding hand behind these changes is Thomas Mann, new presidential adviser and assistant secretary of state.

Mann has strong ideas about U.S. tactics in Latin America. He's not backward about expressing those ideas. He held them before the Panama riots. But Panama has given him a strong new lever for pushing through his concepts against pockets of resistance in the U.S. government.

Mann points out that conditions which led to the riots in Panama are duplicated in other Latin - American countries.

A source close to Mann says, "I think the Communist problem is serious in the hemisphere. I sometimes think we make a mistake in thinking in terms of numbers. Too often we have gone on the assumption that because the Communists are small in numbers, they are not dangerous. Panama taught us better.

"History doesn't show any case in which the people of a Latin country by themselves have been able to get rid of the Communists."

U. S. Latin policy will be more flexible. The United States no longer will try to strait - jacket one Latin policy on the whole of South and Central America. Instead, Mann's men will try to develop 20 policies, one for each country.

Mann will push the Alliance for Progress at a less frenzied pace. There will be less hullabaloo.

Says one diplomat, "We ballyhooed the alliance so much that we contributed to the social tension in Latin America. People came to expect better schools, better jobs, better social conditions overnight. When these changes didn't come, they were resentful. The Communists have whipped up this resentment."

Clever politicians, as in Panama, have turned this resentment away from themselves and toward the United States.

I saw an ad in one large Texas daily. One Booze Maker alone, in 1963, sold 1,117,498 barrels of booze in Texas. If we could salvage the runoff from that, we would not have had to build the dam at Sanford on the Canadian River, and Dallas would not have to canalize the Trinity River to the Gulf of Mexico.

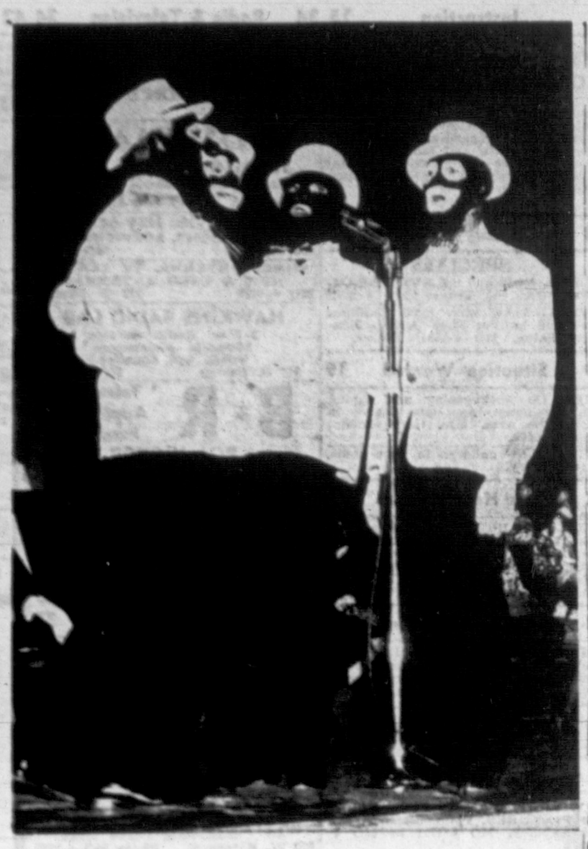
LOUD AND CLEAR—Gray County Sheriff Rufe Jordan, well-known for his far-reaching voice, vocalizes in preparation for this year's Lions Club Minstrel Show. Rehearsals are now under way and Howard Greenlee, chairman of the Minstrel steering committee, has put out an urgent call for Lions to turn out for rehearsals every Tuesday and Thursday nights in the film room at Pampa High School.



HARMONY — Here's the Basin Street Quartet of last year's Lions Club Minstrel Show. Left to right are Howard Buckingham, Hansford Ousley, Red Wedgeworth and Dude Balthrope. Show this year is scheduled for March 12 and 13. Committees for the show have been appointed and rehearsals are now under way. The club is expecting more than 2,500 to see the show this year.

French Folk Singers Slate Pampa Concert

The Varel and Bailly Chanteurs De Paris will give one of their inimitable concerts at Pampa Junior High School Saturday, under the auspices of the Pampa Community Concert Association.

Conceived and produced by the internationally famous songwriting team — the "Rodgers and Hammerstein of France" — Andre Varel and Charly Bailly have gathered together a group of top form entertainers, headed by Charly Bailly, himself.

Hailed by the New York Journal - American as "The most exciting group of singing young men we've heard in years", they have packed houses and heard loud and spontaneous "Bravos" all across the United States.

Many of the residents of our city are already familiar with this talented light-hearted group through their appearances on television with the Garry Moore and Ed Sullivan shows.

Their music is largely folk and popular songs of pure nostalgic delight. Their program moves along at a swift pace designed to provide an evening of complete satisfaction and enjoyment.

They appear to enjoy what they are doing more than anything else in the world.

What they do is sing; and whether they sing a nostalgic ballad about tulip - time ("When You Wore A Tulip") or cavort melodically with a stuffed dummy of the Charleston era ("La Grande Coco") their enthusiasm is so contagious that even the food - conscious patrons at the smart supper clubs where they often play stop eating and hang on every note.

Their American debut during the 1956 - 1957 season was such a smash success that they were booked each succeeding year for longer and longer tours, with many re - engagements.

"All this is easily understood after hearing the smooth-as-silk musicianship of this group," said a reviewer of their appearance in Sante Fe, New Mexico. "They have near perfect tonal balance and a fine originality of presentation that is apparent at once and which seems to grow with each song they perform."

Beatles Worm Way Into Four Disk Spots

CHICAGO (UPI) — Those pesky Beatles from Britain have wormed their way into four places in the nation's list of 10 top tunes.

A United Press International survey showed Saturday there was a tune for each Beatle in the top 10, including the first and second place listings.

The Beatles' bray, "I Want To Hold Your Hands," was in first place for the second straight week and by a margin of two-to-one over the runnerup, another Beatle effort, "She Loves You."

1. I Want To Hold Your Hand. Beatles. Capitol.

2. She Love You. Beatles. Swan.

3. Dawn. Four Seasons. Philip.

4. You don't Own Me. Lesley Gore. Philip.

5. Java. Al Hirt. RCA.

6. California Sun. Rivieras. Riviera.

7. Out of Limits. Marketts. Warner Brothers.

8. For You. Rick Nelson. Decca.

9. Hey Little Cobra. Rip Cords. Columbia.

10. Puppy Love. Barbara Lewis. Atlantic.

The early Spaniards called platinum "unripe" gold and valued it less than the pure yellow gold, using it to adulterate the latter.

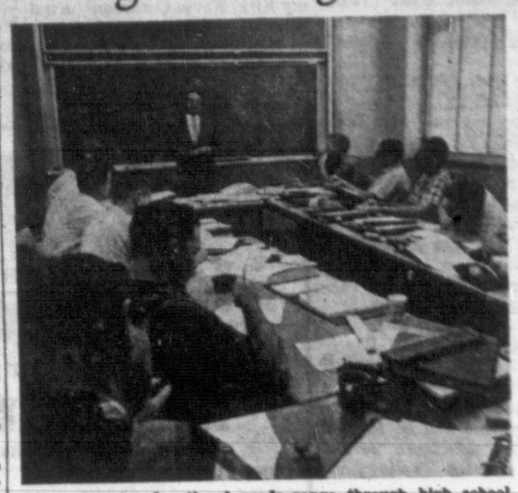
National Engineers' Week

Heavy Math, Science Background Needed For Engineering Career



An engineer's educational needs range through high school, college, graduate work, and on-the-job study as engineering applications involve nuclear and space era technology.

Almost everybody knows that prospective engineering school students need a good background in math and the physical sciences. But it is not nearly so widely recognized that high school youngsters must begin to plan for engineering school by at least their sophomore year if they are to be adequately prepared for college-level engineering courses.

It is in the first two years of high school that basic math and science courses must be taken if the student is to build the foundation for the more advanced math and science needed to qualify for entrance into engineering school. A strong foundation in algebra, geometry, physics, and chemistry is necessary, along with a considerable familiarity with more advanced mathematics up to the calculus.

The engineering schools have generally raised entrance requirements for freshmen in recent years. Some educators have stated that today's engineering school freshman begins his studies at a level where the freshmen of only a few years ago were at the end of their first college year. The University of Illinois freshman requirements for its College of Engineering last fall included these increased high school unit figures: English, up from 3 to 4 units; mathematics, up from 3½ to 4½ units; science, up from 2 to 3 units; social studies, up from 2 to 3 units; and language, up from 2 to 3 units.

To earn 4½ units of high school math and 3 units of acceptable science, a student must begin no later than his sophomore year to take the proper course sequences. The youngster who makes a decision for engineering as a career late in his high school program and who has not taken the necessary background courses in math and science faces a real problem in terms of making up these courses in a way that will satisfy engineering school admittance officers.

In his undergraduate years in engineering school, the student can look toward a four-year program including an assortment of advanced math subjects, science, and engineering courses in the special field of his choice. Of course, he will also be required to take a number of liberal arts subjects along with laboratory courses in chemistry and physics.

Engineering education is currently going through a period of intense change in scope and direction. The problem of the educators is twofold: One aspect is that of the impact of contemporary developments in science and technology on the traditional four-year sequence of science and technical courses; and second, the fact is that today's engineering schools must be prepared to train engineers whose active professional careers will extend to the year 2000.

What kind of world we will have by then is unforeseeable from 1964. But it is certain that it will be a world in which science and technology have an even larger role than today. The engineer in the year 2000 will be concerned with practical applications of physical science developments just as he is in 1964.

To help answer the question of what kind of education is best suited for engineers who will be working through the rest of this Century, the National Science Foundation is supporting a $300,000 study by the American Society for Engineering Education. The study will examine graduate and undergraduate engineering education with the objective of establishing guide lines for the design of future engineering school curricula.

The use of high-speed electronic computers for engineering work has brought about another major change in engineering education. Computers have made it possible for one engineer to do work which would have taken a dozen or more engineers before the computer era. As recently as a decade ago, computers were more or less experimental devices used in only a few advanced research areas. Today, computers are involved in practically every phase of science and engineering.

The engineering student can expect to hear a good bit about computer theory and operation during his undergraduate years. Although computers have removed much of the laborious hand computation of past years, the engineering student will find that the use of computers for complex engineering problems actually calls for more, rather than less, understanding of mathematics.

This week, February 16-22, is National Engineers' Week, a time when high school students will have a chance to meet professional engineers at career conferences and on guided tours through industrial firms and consulting engineering offices. One piece of advice the students will surely hear from the engineers is to "dig into math and the physical sciences as though these areas will be with you for life." They will be.

Shake-up in Defense Will Reduce Expense

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara has quietly ordered a shake-up in his office staff, abolishing the $20,000-a-year post of "administrative assistant to the secretary of defense."

J. R. Loftis, a Pentagon official for 17 years and administrative assistant to former secretaries Neil H. McElroy and Thomas S. Gates Jr. as well as McNamara, was informed that his job no longer existed. No announcement was made of the shakeup, in contrast to the usual practice of publishing reorganizations that affect either far-flung armed forces or the staff of more than 2,200 constituting the Office of Secretary of Defense (OSD).

Asked about the circumstances, the Pentagon told newsmen "Mr. Loftis has been notified that the position of administrative assistant to the secretary of defense has been abolished."

Loftis, who is 52 and started Pentagon service under the nation's first defense secretary, the late James Forrestal, now "has the right to seek retirement or to request reassignment to another job" at his present pay if a "suitable" job is available at that salary.

Was he offered another job? The answer given to that question was that "at the present time he has neither requested reassignment in the Department of Defense nor retirement."

Loftis told a reporter he now had a "unique opportunity" to retire three years ahead of time under Civil Service regulations, because his job was abolished, and would seek private employment. Asked about his relations with McNamara, he said he thought he "got along as well as any" of the Pentagon staff.

An administrative assistant, Loftis headed an office that performed a variety of budgetary, personnel and administrative services.

Malayasia Talks Termed Likely

MANILA (UPI) — President Diosdado Macapagal said on his return from Cambodia that a summit meeting appears likely among Malaysia, Indonesia and the Philippines.

Informed sources said a three nation foreign ministers meeting will probably be held late this month to prepare the way for summit talks.

Macapagal returned from a five - day visit to Cambodia, which he said was made to bolster Philippine relations with Cambodia, follow up mediation of Cambodia's dispute with the United States and confer with Malaysian Premier Tngku Abdul Rahman.

Research Man Says Lincoln Suffered From Bone Defect

CHICAGO (UPI)—A medical researcher said this week that Abraham Lincoln suffered from a skeletal defect called the Marfan syndrome that gave him disproportionately long bones.

Dr. Harold Schwartz, Huntington Park, Calif., said Lincoln's arms and legs were unusually long compared to his 6 foot 4 inch height. He said Lincoln's head was thin and elongated with large ears set at a wide angle.

Lincoln also was described as having a "sunken breast" and "spiderlike legs"—typical of the syndrome first recognized by Bernard-Jean-Antonin Marfan in 1896.

Writing in the journal of the American Medical Association, Schwartz said William H. Herndon, Lincoln's former law associate and biographer, observed that in sitting down, Lincoln was no taller than ordinary men. It was when he stood he loomed over those around him.

Certain pictures show that when seated Lincoln's knees were considerably above the plane of his thighs, further indicating the excessive elongation of the lower legs, Schwartz said.

Casts of Lincoln's hands also demonstrate features of the symdrome, according to the report. The casts indicate that Lincoln's left hand was longer than his right, and the thumb of the longer hand was shorter than the thumb on his right hand.

Schwartz said his interest was aroused by a 7-year-old boy with the classic features of the syndrome. He traced the boy's lineage back nine generations to Mordecai Lincoln II, the great-great-grandfather of President Lincoln.

The mother and sister of the boy also had the characteristics and a search of archives revealed that other Lincoln kin also showed the syndrome.

Schwartz said there had been little research into a co-relation between the syndrome and the intelligence of the afflicted person.

History-Making Rights Bill Week's Biggest News

By HARRY WILSON SHARPE

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House passed the toughest racial rights bill in American history this week after a North-South fight that was remarkably bloodless.

The overwhelming 290 to 130 bipartisan vote shifted the issue to the Senate where a wall of Southern Democratic resistance could dam it up and stop the wheels of Congress.

The measure contains most of the provisions Negroes and other staunch civil rights advocates long have sought — fair employment opportunities, equal access to hotels, restaurants and other public accommodations, federal protection of voting rights, power for the department of justice to start desegregation suits, etc.

President Johnson hailed it as "an historic step in the cause of human dignity." He hoped the same spirit of bipartisanship would prevail in the Senate. But the Senate has different ground rules.

There the powerful Southern bloc has the privilege of unlimited debate. The members already have formed relay teams to talk the bill into eternity. This puts it up to the Senate leadership to let them talk or gag them with a distasteful cloture rule.

The House bill covers nearly all the rights proposals made by the late President John F. Kennedy and endorsed by President Johnson. It is certain to be a pivotal issue in the general election campaign and could be decisive in whether the South turns its back on Johnson.

The President observed Lincoln's birthday by placing a wreath in Lincoln Memorial and urging all Americans to fulfill the promise and unfinished work of the Great Emancipator. This, he said, is "to assure a fair chance and equal opportunity for all men."

The Russian hierarchy got a severe jolt when it was disclosed belatedly with Yuri I. Nosenko, secret police agent with the Soviet disarmament delegation at Geneva, had defected to the United States.

The 36-year-old Nosenko is believed to possess top secret data on Soviet nuclear weapons, defense plans and disarmament strategy. He was said to have used this information in bargaining for political asylum.

Dispatches from Moscow said Soviet officials had accused the United States of kidnaping Nosenko. Earlier they had charged Swiss authorities with conniving with foreign agents to engineer Nosenko's disappearance and had demanded his return. Swiss officials replied with angry denials and a warning about diplomatic relations.

Still later Soviet authorities asked the State Department for permission to interview the defector and also for information on how he came into U. S. hands. The department said Nosenko was "agreeable" to an interview and that it would take place "some where in the United States at an early date." American officials will be present. This is a normal practice.

The department discounted Moscow reports that the Kremlin would recall its disarmament delegation if Nosenko was not surrendered. Nosenko vanished from his Geneva hotel Feb. 4. The department said he had asked for sanctuary before that date. He is married and has two children.

President Johnson slapped at "bigots, alarmists, bellyachers and critics" of his foreign and domestic policies in two addresses, the first to internal revenue field officers here, the second at the 200th birthday anniversary of St. Louis.

He conceded some errors at home and abroad but said he had seen times when "the skies were grayer."

"Regardless of what you hear and regardless of what some of the bellyachers say," he declared in his Washington speech, "we are a much beloved people throughout the world." He added that foreign policy was not a one - way street.

In St. Louis he denounced "twisted arguments that would damage the good name of our country" and added that Americans "can be confident that those who distort the truth to alarm the people will not fulfil their ambition."

Much of his criticism was aimed at Republican presidential aspirants and members of Congress who blasted his administration in Lincoln Day speeches from coast to coast.

On Other News Fronts:

University of Illinois classicist Revilo P. Oliver, a John Birch Society leader, wrote in a Birch publication that Americans would learn to "curse" the late President Kennedy. He said Kennedy was assassinated because "hel fell behind the Communist time-table for taking over the U. S." Robert W. Welch, founder of the society, praised the article as "a superb commentary."

The President took steps to put the garrison on the U. S. naval base at Guantanamo Bay Cuba, on a strict military basis. All dependents — about 3,000— will be brought home gradually. Several thousand Cuban workers on the base also are being fired.

The action followed Communist Cuban Premier Fidel Castro's order cutting off the base's water supply in reprisal for the seizure of four Cuban boats illegally fishing in U.S. waters.

The Navy is ferrying in ample water supplies and no longer will rely on the Cuban source This deprives Castro of sorely needed dollars as will dismissal of the Cuban workers.

A UPI dispatch from New York said Organization of American States investigators had found Cuba guilty on four counts of aggression against Venezuela, confirming charges made by Venezuelan President Betancourt.

British Prime Minister Alec Douglas - Home and the President wound up two days of talks here with a communique which pointedly omitted mention of British and other allied trade with Castro. Though Johnson is trying to topple Castro with an economic blockade, Britain and France persist in selling Cuba buses and trucks to revive its crippled transport system.

Johnson stressed to Home the subversive and disruptive influence of the Castro regime throughout Latin America. The prime minister told a press conference before departing for London that Britain must trade to survive. Hence, he said, it not only is prepared to increase its trade with Castro but will extend long-term credits to Russia, also counter to U. S. policy.

Home said his government believes "comfortable" Communists are less dangerous than lean Communists. But he said Castro would not get British arms, economic aid, or loans. "We don't believe in boycotts. We don't discriminate in our trade according to political creed," he said.

Aside from this, the Johnson-Home talks apparently were harmonious and dealt extensively with world trouble spots and how to attain peace.

The President sent Congress a special message calling once again for medical care for the aged, financed through Social Security. "There is no need or room for second class health services," he said. Fees of personal physicians would not be covered. The bill currently is dammed up by lack of a few votes in the House Ways & Means Committee.

Johnson also ordered government contractors to end hiring discrimination because of age except when qualifications fall short or rigid retirement plans ban such work. He said "older workers are an indispensable source of productivity and experience which our nation can ill afford to lose."

Senate and House agents working out a compromise $11.6 billion tax cut bill came to quick agreement on lowering the withholding tax rate to 14 per cent. This could mean more take-home pay for most Americans by March 1 if the bill is passed, as planned, late this month.

Johnson continued pushing his war on poverty and revealed that R. Sargent Shriver, head of the Peace Corps and also in charge of the anti-poverty campaign, will attend future cabinet meetings. Shriver's stature has been increasing coincident with reports the President may choose him as his running mate in the presidential election.

Nationalist China broke diplomatic relations with France — apparently under French pressure — after President Charles de Gaulle extended diplomatic recognition to Red China. President Johnson is bitterly opposed to De Gaulle's action, fearing it could lead to the spread of Communist influence in East Asia and possibly Africa. De Gaulle would "neutralize" the whole East Asian area where France once wielded great influence.

Anglo American efforts to end bloody Greek - Turkish civil strife on the island of Cyprus by sending in a peace force, collapsed. Cyprus President Archbishop Makarios said he would seek United Nations Security Council action. This would give Russia a foothold in the dispute — exactly what the United States and Britain have been trying to avoid.

New Books on Shelves At Public Library

FICTION

Against Heaven's Hand — by Leonard Bishop; seven blind men and women find thmselves stranded in the wilds of Oregon, the only survivors of a plane crash. What follows is admission into the world of the blind. Mr. Bishop shows the reader all the techniques the blind must substitute for sight.

Assassination Bureau, Ltd. — by Jack London and R. L. Fish; Jack London wrote two-thirds of the novel and R. L. Fish completed the manuscript of this story about an organization that assassinated for profit, but kills only when it decides that the victim deserves death.

Green Heart — by Van Smith; with its very real people, exciting races, and heartfelt emotion, this is a book the whole family will enjoy.

NON-FICTION

No Two Ways About It — by Dale Evans Rogers; the author of "Angel Unaware" tells frankly what she thinks about the pressure of modern life, show business, sex, and the philosophy of "anything for a buck", and the way to real satisfaction in life.

Secrets From the Caves — by Thurman L. Coss; this introduction to the Dead Sea Scrolls acquaints the reader with the era of the scrolls as well as with the people who have played leading roles in their dramatic history.

John Doe, Disciple — by Peter Marshall; a volume of the late Peter Marshall's sermons based on his many messages for the "Young in Spirit" on such subjects as prayer, morals, marriage, death and the devil.

A Senate Journal — by Allen Drury; veteran Washington correspondent and Pulitzer - Prize novelist, records daily observations of the people, events and workings of the Senate during the momentous period from November 1943 to the end of July 1945.

To Remember Forever — by Gladys Hasty Carroll; those readers who have taken the Hasty family of fifty years ago to their hearts will find this journal of a college girl, 1922-23, especially interesting, for it is the true journal and letters of "Marcy", Gladys Hasty in real life.

Sweet Music — by Helga Sandburg; a book of family reminiscences and song; a widely-known novelist remembers growing up in Illinois, Michigan, and North Carolina, adding to the nostalgic charm of her narrative by relating episodes of songs she sang with her father, Carl; with photographs from family albums, and with words, music and guitar chords.

William Shakespeare — by A. L. Rowse; whole libraries have been written about Shakespeare; he has engaged the profoundest thought of the greatest critics of the past 200 years. Yet it is safe to say that no hitherto existing work anticipates the contribution of this volume.

Chennault and The Flying Tigers — by Anna Chennault; the widow of the famous American General, Claire Lee Chennault, tells of his leadership of a group of American volunteer fliers who defended China against the Japanese air force.
