Last Note Is Paid Off On Church Last Sunday: Was Build In 1928

Members and friends of the Lamesa Church of Christ will hold a celebration Thursday, September 18th, commemorating the clearing of the church debt. The final note on their building was retired last Sunday.

This beautiful building was built in 1928, and the church, like most individuals, suffered from the financial distress of the country, which made the payment of the debt very hard. Now that they have accomplished the task, they want to celebrate the fact with their friends.

Below is given a statement, released this week by a spokesman for the church:

"This meeting will be held on the lawn of the Church property, September 18, at 6:00 p. m. There will be plenty of good eats and drinks for men, women and children.

"We are not unmindful of our many good friends of the town and of the surrounding communities, and we are sincerely grateful to you for your financial help and encouragement during the years that we have been paying on our Church building. We are able to announce that the last note on our building was paid in full on last Lord's Day and of course we are all rejoicing. We feel that our happiness would not be complete and that we would not be showing our gratefulness and appreciation to you for all your kindness and interest should we not extend this invitation to you.

"This meeting will be informal, no sermons planned, just an hour or two in which to meet, talk and enjoy a friendly association.

"We can truthfully say that we are proud of our town and our surrounding communities, and we hope to be able in the future to render a bigger and finer service to all our many friends.

"Many of you will recall that our building was started in 1928 at a cost of about $25,000. During the past thirteen years we have experienced many dark days but with the help of our many friends, both within and without, we are now able to rejoice in the fact that the building is free of debt.

"We are happy and we want you to share this happiness with us, so COME!"

Ideal Market Is Celebrating Its 2nd Birthday

The Ideal Food Market, owned and operated by Grover Wilkes and Emmett Peterson, are this week celebrating their Second Anniversary in the grocery business in Lamesa.

The store is located on North First Street, next door to E. R. Yates Hardware, and they carry a complete stock of all kinds of groceries, fruits, vegetables and meats.

The have a large ad in this issue of the Courier in which they are offering some extra specials in celebration of the event. Look up their ad and make it a point to visit them during this special Anniversary event.

A. G. Waugh Co. In New Quarters

The A. G. Waugh Company, who announced Monday they would move to the Olin Nix Motor Company building on South Dallas, have already started moving and expect to be open for business in their new quarters this week end.

They have occupied their old quarters on North First Street for the past twelve years. Their business has out grown the present quarters and they were forced to get more room. The new building has approximately twice the floor space as their old home.

This picture, entered by the Texas extension service of A. and M. College, won first prize at the Kings-ton, R. I. convention of the American Association of Agricultural Editors. It was taken in connection with the service's surplus cotton mattress campaign. The composition shows a Brazos county family starting for their cabin with one of the mattresses.

Saturday Will Be Felt Hat Day For Lamesa Men

Next Saturday, September 13th, is Official Felt Hat Day in Lamesa, and all men are expected to chuck their straws into winter hibernation and don one of the new Fall Felts.

Stores in Lamesa are featuring these hats for this week, and several ads will be found in this issue of the Courier.

Many men have already put on their felts, as the past week has been real felt hat weather.

An effort will be made Saturday to get every man in Lamesa and Dawson County to join in the movement by putting on either a new felt, or one he may have had left over from last winter.

Look up the ads in this issue, you men, and make your selection from the scores of new styles and colors which are being featured by these stores.

Worm Damage Is Estimated At 15 Per Cent

While the leaf worms have been very active in crops over this section for the past several days, the consensus of opinion is that damage will run between ten and fifteen per cent.

Some farmers have had considerable more damage than the above figures, while others have had less.

Poisoning has been the order of the day on every farm in the county, and the continued rains has made it necessary to poison over and over again, but practically every farmer interviewed during the middle of this week, stated that the worms were practically under control and it is not felt that a great deal of additional damage will be felt, unless, of course, the rains continue.

Cotton is reported as beginning to open, and some picking is already under way.

Construction Started On Modern New Theatre On East Side Of The Square

Work of demolishing the old building on the east side of square, next door to the Vogue, to make room for a modern new theatre, go under way this week.

Audrey Cox, who owns and operates the Palace, Majestic and Mesa Theatres in Lamesa, is owner of the site and is building the new theatre.

The building will be 25x140 feet, with a seating capacity of 550. The front will be modernistic in design, finished in stucco and oriental tile.

The floor will be inclined so that a clear vision of the screen may be enjoyed from any seat in the house. The building will feature low density acoustical treatment for proper sound. The most modern seating and equipment will be used in the new structure.

Both men's and ladies' lounges and rest rooms will be incorporated in the new structure, for the convenience of the patrons.

The front will be decorated with modern display boards and marquee and will be lighted with fluorescent and tube lighting, which is the very latest type used in the most modern theatres.

No expense will be spared to make of this new theatre, one of the finest on the South Plains, it was stated by Harvey C. Allen, designer of the new structure, stated this week. J. E. Waller is the building contractor.

It is expected to have the new theatre finished and ready for operation by October 15.

Miss Tinnie Marie Dyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Dyer, will leave Friday for Waco, where she will enroll at the Baylor University for the fall term.

Five Men Will Go To Army In Sept. 30 Call

The Dawson County Local Draft Board, has received a call for five selectees for the United States Army, to report to the local offices on September 30th.

L. E. Eager, clerk of the board, stated Wednesday that the board had not made out a list of those who will be called, but that this information would be released within a few days.

Mrs. Gus White and Mrs. Roy Hoback spent Thursday in Lubbock visiting with friends.

Police, Chief Warns Motorists About Traffic Violations Near Schools

Chief of Police Jack Phinizy is this week making an appeal to parents, as well as all other motorists, in regards to careful driving around the schools.

"We have installed traffic lights, placed huge signs along the streets leading to the schools, and have a policeman on duty most of the time, to try to get motorists who use these streets to obey all regulations and laws," Chief Phinizy stated Wednesday, "but we are still confronted with the proposition of a few people ignoring these appeals for the safety of the school children, and we are asking that they think twice before acting. It is not our desire to make any arrests or to appear to want to make trouble for anyone, but the laws around the school buildings, MUST and WILL be enforced. We sincerely hope that all motorists will cooperate with us so that these laws may be enforced on a voluntary basis."

The Chief also suggested that farmers coming to Lamesa and others who could conveniently do so, use either North Third or North Fourth Streets, or South South Second or South Fourth, pointing out that these streets are now paved clear through town, and by using them, traffic around the school building would be lessened considerably. At the same time motorists would save time, by avoiding the traffic lights on the corners of South First and North First on Bryan Street.

Parents going to and from school to take their children, are urged to drive carefully and slowly lest some youngster dash out in front of their car.

"We have been pretty fortunate in Lamesa thus far," Phinizy stated, "but we cannot be too careful where the lives of our children are concerned."

Wheat Growers Warned On AAA Regulations

Heavy Penalty Must Be Paid By Violators

Important Announcement Is Made By County Chairman To Farmers

"I wish to bring to the attention of the Dawson County farmers a change in the 1942 AAA rulings regarding the planting of wheat. This change states that ONLY those farmers that have a 1942 Wheat Allotment can plant wheat or wheat mixtures. A farmer that does not have a 1942 wheat allotment CAN NOT plant wheat or a wheat mixture," stated W. T. Meeks, Chairman of the Dawson County ACA, in an interview with a reporter on September 10.

"Any wheat or wheat mixtures seeded is considered devoted to wheat."

"The County Committee is especially anxious that farmers who are planning on planting wheat or wheat mixtures for winter pasture become familiar with this change in the rulings. We hope that this news article will save many of the Dawson County farmers much expense, and also save them penalties on their 1942 compliance.

"If a producer does not understand this change in the rulings, I suggest that he call at the office and receive complete information. If you must plant winter pasture be sure that you plant either oats, barley or rye—but DO NOT plant wheat or a wheat mixture."

"Those farmers having wheat allotments are cautioned to not over-plant their wheat allotment. By this we mean your wheat plantings AND your wheat mixture plantings must not exceed your 1942 Wheat Allotment," stated Mr. Meeks.

IIOOF Grand Master To Be Here October 1

Announcement is made this week by officers of the Lamesa Odd Fellows Lodge, that he State Grand Master, J. R. Ogle, will deliver a lecture along with moving pictures in Lamesa on Wednesday evening, October 1st.

The pictures will be of the Odd Fellows Orphanage and the Old Folks home.

The program will be held in the District Court Room beginning at 8 p. m., and the general public is cordially invited to attend.

The Odd Fellows will hold their regular weekly meeting immediately after the pictures are shown, at the lodge hall. Ordinarily they meet every Tuesday night.

Burkhart Bros. Remodel Store

Burkhart Bros. Food Store, on North Austin Street, are this week remodeling their building.

The front is being completely changed over, with the door being changed from the center, to the south side of the front.

The interior of the store will also be rearranged and remodeled, so as to make it more convenient for their customers.

Pest Control Man Will Help Local People

It is now possible for the farmers and ranchers of Dawson County to kill the most outstanding pest causing damage to their pasture land. The total number of prairie dogs has been reduced in Dawson County quite noticeably in past few years. Because of the damage caused by the prairie dogs still left, farmers and ranchers have expressed desire to be rid entirely of this pest and losses resulting from it.

J. B. Gibson of the Fish and Wildlife Service will be located in Dawson County for the next several months to work with the farmers and ranchers to rid their lands of the prairie dogs. The type of poison used in the poisoning of prairie dogs is cynogas flakes. This poison has been found to be the most economical and effective method to control the prairie dog. This method has been tested for several years in West Texas.

For the next few months, Mr. Gibson will be located in the office of B. J. Baskin, County Agent, each Monday morning to discuss control of the prairie dog and make appointments with farmers and ranchers to work these lands. The only cost of this service is the cost of the cynogas flakes which are furnished to the user at wholesale price.

Swiss Musicians To Visit Lamesa High School For Entertainment Monday

The Studer Brothers, Swiss Musicians, will appear in Lamesa High School on Monday, September 15, at 2:30 p. m., under the auspices of the Pep Squad, according to an announcement by Mr. F. T. McCollum, principal.

Three young men arrived in the United States a few years ago from their native Switzerland. Since then they have delighted hundreds of audiences with their appealing Swiss folk music and yodeling. They filled sixteen weeks of engagements in the South and Southwest the summer and fall of 1938, and will fill eighteen weeks the summer and fall of 1941.

With a beautiful stage background of Alpine scenery, and wearing colorful native Swiss costumes, these young men carry the audience into the heart of their picturesque land. Their mission is to bring to us some of their wholesome folk music and acquaint us with the manners and customs of their people—and they do this with gusto and much enjoyment.

They present the typical Swiss combination of instruments: bass viol, clarinet, and accordion. Each plays at least two instruments, with Joe, who is also the master of ceremonies, specializing on the accordion. (Continued on Back Page)

All Golf Players Called To Special Meeting Friday

All Golf Players of Lamesa, whether members of the Lamesa Country Club or not, are urgently requested to attend a most important meeting to be held Friday evening at 7 o'clock at the Lamesa Country Club.

Several important questions will be discussed, Bill White, stated Wednesday, and he urges everyone who plays golf, or who is interested in golf, to be present.

The meeting is being called early so that all golfers may attend the gathering and still have plenty of time to see the Lamesa Golden Tornado and Tahoka Bulldogs football game to be played at McCollum Field starting at 8 o'clock.

Remember the time is Friday night at 7 p. m. and the place is the Lamesa Country Club.

Tahoka Expected To Send Large Delegation With Team Friday Evening

The major school event of this week will be the football game between Tahoka and Lamesa High Schools. These teams have played an early season game for the last several years and the competition has become quite spirited.

The Tahoka team under Coach Leo Jackson has made rapid improvement and is now considered one of its conference leaders. The Bulldogs have been looking forward to the Lamesa game for more than a year, and the team, the school, and the fans are intensely interested in how their team will stand up against the Lamesa team this season.

Lamesa football fans will have an opportunity to witness the Golden Tornadoes in action against a formidable opponent Friday night at eight o'clock on the home field. It is known that the Lamesa team is composed largely of veteran players and most of the entire squad have had some football experience. The period of training has been short but the boys entered the period of training in a fair physical condition which enabled the coaches to start scrimmages early.

The game with Tahoka is calculated to reveal the type of team we shall have this year, to indicate something of the style of play, and it will likely reveal the boys who can be depended upon for major effort in representing the Golden Tornadoes against district competition for 1941.

Several new football rules become effective this year. The most notable changes are, first, the substitution rule which permits frequent substitution of players without penalty, and second, the handling of (Continued on Back Page)

Classified Ads Cover Wide Area

That the classified ads in the Courier reach over a wide territory, is clearly proven this week, by the results obtained by an advertiser.

A local woman advertised a automatic sealer for sale and a woman who lives 25 miles west of Seminole came to Lamesa and bought the sealer this week.

This is one more example of the pulling power of these little wonder workers in the Courier.

They seldom cost more than the minimum charge of 25 cents per week, and this pays for both issues of the paper, not just one.

Maybe you don't have a sealer for sale, but maybe you do have something else to sell, or maybe a house or an apartment to rent, have lost something—but in any instance, you will find that the easiest, quickest and most economical way, will be to run a classified ad in the Courier.

The wise shopper and seller find that it is profitable to use and read the Courier classified section in every issue.

Enrollment Is Increasing In City Schools

The enrollment in the Lamesa Public Schools has increased from 1421 to 1497 for the first week. There are now 928 pupils in the elementary school, 525 in high school, and 44 in the colored school. It may be noticed that the gain during the week has been 76 pupils.

The lunch room, operated under the auspices of the Works Progress Administration, opened Tuesday for the first time. The lunch room is operated as of last year and because of the limited quarters, its use will be restricted to the younger pupils.

Olin Nix Motor In New Quarters

The Olin Nix Motor Company are this week announcing their removal to the building just across the street south from the City Hall.

The will continue to give service on all new and used cars they have sold, the announcement states, as well as do a general automobile repair business, body and fender repairs, and deal in used cars.

Your attention is directed to the ad in this issue.

Special Services At Sparenberg

Rev. Leon Frazier, of Monahans, will preach at the Sparenberg Baptist Church Sunday, at both morning and evening services. Morning services will begin at 11 a. m. and evening services at 8 p. m. Every-body is invited.

What's In A Name?

The picked young men who will one day fly Uncle Sam's military airplanes woke up one morning recently to find themselves called "Aviation Cadets" instead of "Flying Cadets," by War Department order. It made little difference to them. They changed a few signs around, as the group above is doing, then went right on plugging for their "Wings" and commissions in the Air Corps.

"Aviation Cadet" College President New Name For Flying Cadets

Young men who are learning to fly the new planes of the United States Army Air Corps are no longer "Flying Cadets" — they are now "Aviation Cadets," by a recent War Department order — but they still work as hard, learn as much, and experience the same adventures, no matter what they are called, Sgt. Troy Gibson, Big Spring Recruiting officer said today.

Sgt. Gibson pointed out that the change of name involved little more than printing. "Aviation Cadets" are as vitally important to the expansion of the Air Corps as "Flying Cadets" were and they are the same young men.

Qualifications for their appointment remain the same. To enter Flying Schools they must pass a physical examination and prove they have the necessary educational requirements. They must be unmarried and between the ages of 20 and 26, he said.

Their pay as cadets remains $75 a month, with quarters, rations, clothing, and medical and dental care thrown in, together with all expenses involved in their intensive course of training which leads them to a second lieutenant's commission and pay ranging from $205.50 to $245.50 a month on active duty in the Air Corps.

'A Woman With An In' Fools Contract Seekers

By SIGRID ARNE
AP Feature Service Writer

WASHINGTON — At dinner the other night, a man who should know said there must be some 5,000 people in Washington just living by their wits.

He meant the group of men and women who are here on retainer fees. They're supposed to get laws passed to help some industry, to get laws repealed for the same reason, or to wrangle government contracts and subsidies.

They draw remarkably comfortable livings, but do serve one good purpose. They probably keep their distant employers out of the insane asylum, because they can at least answer questions on what's doing here.

Occasionally some such person just gums up the works. These past three months a middle-aged woman has been an aggravating mystery. Somehow the word got out that she could "put the fix on the navy."

Timid, anxious ship-builders showed up in town with loaded brief cases, just dying for a big contract. Several such dropped in to confer with friends of mine. They just knew they had to see Mrs. So-and-So. My friends tried to tell them the idea was ridiculous, and that they should toddle down to the Navy and fill out some blanks; that contracts are let on the simple ability to perform.

But, no. The men were convinced that the woman knew somebody who knew somebody who could pull a rabbit out of a hat.

The next morning they showed up haggard. She had met them in a dinner dress. They had talked deep stuff at three of the town's most expensive night clubs. She finally thought she "could do something about the contract" at 4 a. m. and bade the suckers goodbye.

There's one unhappy gentleman I've seen at cocktails several times. He's here on a pay roll for a big power project. He gets paid extremely well. He admits he looks at his pay checks two or three times each month before he believes them.

He's been here three months, and to date the only thing he's been ordered to do is write three speeches, and put in four telephone calls to

Do You Know Texas?

A reader of this newspaper can get the answer to any question of fact about Texas by writing A. Garland Adair, Curator of Patriotic Exhibits, Texas Memorial Museum, Austin, Texas.

BACK TO SCHOOL: — "Those early statesmen and patriots who assembled at the call of their adopted and distressed country 105 years ago at Washington-on-the-Brazos charged it the Texas Declaration of Independence as a just cause for revolution that the tyrant Santa Anna government had founded no system of education for the people. So interested were the early Texas planners in the education of the people that they set aside nearly fifty million acres of land for public education, also specifying the building of a university of the first class. As the sound of bells is again soon to be heard in the land, we should be and truly are grateful that their message is music to our youth, to parents, to teachers, to school boards, and to friends of education throughout Texas. School bells are preferable to bombs and bullets. No state or nation can realize its fullest possibilities and greatest joys unless it builds upon the education of the whole people." — Governor Coke Stevenson.

Q. How many acres of the public domain of Texas have been set aside to finance free public education?

A. Bascom Giles, Commissioner of the General Land Office, said recently that 49,458,334 acres of the public domain have been set aside for the purpose of education. This figure is broken down as follows:

University of Texas and A. & M. College 2,329,168 acres
Local county schools 4,229,166 acres
Ecclesiastical institutions, 400,000 acres
Public free school purposes, 42,500,000 acres.

ODDITY: Switzerland has three times as many newspapers as Great Britain, yet the British newspaper get the answer to one question. He figures he should do more, but what?

At the House restaurant the other day one such adventurer was eating lunch with his client who was all eyes because he was eating in the same room with dozens of Congressmen.

The client was in town because of some angle on the new tax bill. So he looked to his lobbyist to do something. The lobbyist actually doesn't know anyone in Congress very well. But he looked around and saw dignified Representative Doughton, of the House ways and means committee.

He got up, walked over to Doughton, and half whispered: "Beg your pardon, sir, but aren't you Everett Wash from Des Moines?"

There were a few sentences exchanged and the grinning lobbyist went back to his table to report to his client. "He says there's nothing on that yet. But I'll keep in touch with him."

The client was tremendously impressed.

America's sympathy to war-torn China in her struggle for democracy was symbolized in Dallas by the handclasp of Nathan Adams, chairman of the Texas campaign for United China Relief, and little Maria Yium, 3, youngest member of Dallas' Chinese colony. The state drive for funds to provide medical aid, food and other needs of China's desperate war victims is being launched with a goal of $200,000 toward the national fund of $3,000,000. Contributions should be sent to Mr. Adams, care of the First National Bank, Dallas.

B. W. B. C. HONORED WITH COVERED DISH LUNCHEON

Miss Evelyn Barron was hostess to members and guests of the Business Women's Bible Class of the First Baptist Church Monday evening when she entertained with a covered dish dinner.

A short business session was held after which the delicious dinner was enjoyed.

Those attending were Misses Bess Churchwell, Jessie Norris, Myrtle Henderson, Lola Long, Iris Tanner, Juanita Flenken, Arrie Moore, Jean Martin, Melvin Norris, Lorna Williams, Ruth Merrick, Valda Moore, Tammy McCarty, Mrs. Ed Hatch and the hostess, Evelyn Barron.

Mr. and Mrs. Jewel E. Weaver of Fort Worth are visiting with relatives and friends in Lamesa this week.

HOMEMAKERS CLASS ENTERTAINED WITH LUNCHEON TUESDAY

Members of the Homemakers Sunday School class were entertained with a luncheon at the Lamesa Country Club Tuesday, with Mrs. R. P. Nix and Mrs. T. E. Tarter as hostesses for the occasion.

The club house was attractively decorated with vari-colored flowers. Mrs. Sam Cates, who is moving to Sweetwater, was presented with a farewell gift.

Those attending were Mesdames Joe Whitlow, Frank Veasey, Stan-cel Clement, Sam Cates, Rupert Austin, Buster Davis, Hop Groom, Dick Tume, Lloyd Mitchell, Nelson Williams, Connally Baldwin, C. C. Brothers.

FIDELIS SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASS ENJOYS LUNCHEON THURSDAY

Mrs. C. A. Hollingsworth, Mrs. Gus Ragsdale, Mrs. F. T. McCollum and Mrs. Guy Orr were hostesses to members of the Fidelis Matrons Class of the First Baptist Church at a one o'clock luncheon Thursday.

After the luncheon, officers for the coming year were elected.

Guests attending were Mesdames Glenn Esmond, Charnel Jobe, Watson, Jim Waltrip, S. W. Beason, S. P. White, Ernest Gambill, Clyde Privitt, Irvin Wright, Cecil Bryant, Roy Smith, J. H. Harp, G. W. Barrett, Bill Davis, Swanson Hurt, Victor Crawley, Homer St. Clair.

Dollie Jean Young, pictured above is the dancing star of Toby's Comedians, a tent theatre, which is coming to Lamesa for a three night engagement, starting Monday night, September 15th, auspices of the Lamesa Fire Department. Miss Young is an exceedingly clever singer and dancer and is only one of the many vaudeville artists and actors that make up the personnel of Toby's Comedians. This is a new tent show to this section of Texas and is not to be confused with any tent show of a similar name as it has positively never before appeared in Lamesa. The big tent is brand new and is absolutely waterproofed in case of rain. Only the latest plays and high class vaudeville will be presented, featuring Billy "Toby" Young, comedian. A 30-minute overture by the orchestra will be presented preceding the play, featuring Dolly Young and her Solo-Vox, Miss Young being the only member of any traveling tent theatre with this wonderful new musical invention.

Practice War In Louisiana To Show Army Style

By JOHN GROVER
AP Feature Service Writer

Official secrecy hides details of the U. S. Army maneuvers which will engage 500,000 men in Louisiana in mid-September.

It's deliberate secrecy, to make the war games realistic. Army brass hate any playing hush-hush to test the new troops under near-to-war conditions.

However, from knowledge of terrain, from the composition of the two armies, and from significant details of training, it's possible to risk a broad guess on the probable course the maneuvers will take.

The mock war will be fought over a vast area in north central Louisiana and east Texas. Most of it's scrub pine-land, liberally dotted with swamps. Rivers and bayous cut up the whole area. When it rains—and August and September are rainy months there—the dry ground turns to viscous goo that even stops tanks. (It did in the 1940 maneuvers.)

What does that mean? Heavy transport and mechanized weapons will be tied pretty close to the better roads.

That dependence on the road system spotlights the bridges. Bridges are the vulnerable points in a road network, and this maneuver area is chock full of bridges. It's going to be a headache for opposing army commanders to protect their river crossings. Highway junctions are going to be primary targets, too.

The composition of the two armies, also gives a few clues to the potential trend of the maneuvers. Lieut. Gen. Ben Lear, commander of the Second Army, has six divisions as his basic force. One is a cavalry division, two are the new "awifites" (reorganized triangular divisions) and three are the old square divisions.

Lieut. Gen. Walter Krueger has ten divisions, one cavalry, one a stream-liner, and the rest square divisions.

In addition, the general staff has designated the new armored forces and air forces "headquarters troops". These are to be assigned to one or the other army at the very last minute. It's part of the general secrecy. However, there are good reasons to believe that the armored forces will be assigned to Gen. Lear's second army, together with the assault aviation.

Several months ago GHQ ordered Gen. Krueger to form and train some special, experimental antitank forces. These provisional units will be larger than the anti-tank battalions normally carried. They will not be defensive units, but have been designed expressly to hunt out and attack opposing tank forces.

It's unlikely GHQ would put these special forces and the new armored divisions on the same side. It doesn't add up. If the anti-tankers and the armored forces are to get the maximum benefit of the training, they've got to be on opposing sides. So it's indicated that Gen. Lear gets the armored forces, as Gen. Krueger already has the special anti-tank outfits. The size of the basic forces—ten divisions to six—also lends credence to this belief.

Gen. Krueger would still further increase his numerical superiority. There has been no "tipoff" on the assignment of the aviation units to either side. It's a cinch both sides will have adequate reconnaissance planes. A modern army can't "see" without them. But whether Gen. Lear will get the bulk of the aviation for plane-and-tank team assaults, or Gen. Krueger will get it so GHQ can see what planes and tanks do against each other is anybody's guess.

What does this add up to? Gen. Lear will have the swifter forces, a preponderance of mechanized weapons, but he'll be more tied to the roads if wet weather sets in in the bayou country as expected. Gen. Krueger will have a numerically superior force, and an advantage in that his foot soldiers can slog through the roadless country for raids or for mass action where tanks can't go.

Both sides have adequate rail and highway transport in their back areas for bringing up supplies. There's the picture. Mapping it out, the parallel between the Russo-German conflict in the swamp country of the northern front is inescapable.

Will Gen. Krueger defend against his faster foe by letting mechanized stuff through on the roads and pinching it off before the support infantry gets up—as the Russians did in many instances?

Will Gen. Lear attempt encircling action to surround and chew up segments of the opposing army, as the mechanized Germans did? That's the whole picture of the coming maneuvers. It pits a fast, hard-hitting mechanized force with a slower, heavier force—on terrain that puts mechanized equipment at a disadvantage in wet weather.

What develops in the battle of the bayous and bridges will tell the country what sort of a new army we've got after a year of emergency training.

Cotton Hose Not So Bad...

Cotton stockings aren't what they used to be, judging by the samples being looked over here by David H. Young, hosiery designer for the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Bureau of Home Economics. These stockings represent but a few of the 150 designs for better-looking, better-fitting, better wearing cotton hose released by the Bureau of Home Economics to manufacturers in the past two years. Dora R. Barnes, Extension Service clothing specialist for the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service, says beautiful cotton hose, the kind women will be proud to wear, will be one result of the present shortage of silk hosiery.

Keep Cool

Science says the best way to keep cool in the summer is to wear a large umbrella and nothing else. But science admits that such a costume isn't practical. The next best thing is to wear cotton underwear. It helps keep you cool. Cotton has higher powers of absorbency and evaporation than any other fibre, an important characteristic in comfortable summer clothes.

An effervescent football scout, sent to Seattle to scout the University of Washington a few years ago, got sidetracked with some of the boys at a hotel after the game and missed his plane south. And the next one . . .

Monday morning—the scout was supposed to be back with all his notes—the Southern football coach became desperate. His club had to play Washington that weekend. He frantically wired the scout for an advance thumbnail synopsis of the report pending the scout's arrival.

Came the answer:
"They run left and they run right. All you gotta do is watch the guy with the ball." . . .

The ladies of the W. M. U. will meet Monday instead of Tuesday because of Conference this week.

Words are entirely inadequate to fully express our heartfelt thanks to the good people of this territory for your words and deeds of sympathy which you so richly bestowed upon us during our sad bereavement in which we lost our dear wife and mother. Especially do we thank the doctors and nurses in the hospital, our neighbors Mrs. J. H. "Why, in my day at Brooklyn, no one was really daffy until they passed at least two runners on the bases. In fact the high point was in Cincinnati once when two Dodgers passed each other—both going in opposite directions. . . .

Covering a University of Tennessee football game, Sports Editor Bill Keefe of the New Orleans Times-Picayune was dictating a play by play account to the telegraph operator sitting beside him. Intent on the game, Keefe paid no attention to the click of the telegraph keys.

A few minutes after the first half was over, the operator said to Bill: "Your paper's asking for something on the game."

"Didn't you send the play-by-play I've been giving you?" asked the bewildered writer.

"Oh," replied the equally astonished operator, "was I supposed to send that? I thought you were just explaining the game to me."

"Let your man come through fast to leave a hole for me," Glass instructed Tulane's tough tackle, Fred Brekke.

"Hell, he's been coming through fast all afternoon," muttered Tackle Brekke.

Yes, pork chops should be covered after the initial browning. Pork chops and pork steaks are best cooked by braising, that is, by cooking in moist heat. Therefore after they have been browned, cover the pan closely so that they may cook in the steam which surrounds them. Cook them slowly and thoroughly.

To broil bananas in a lamb chop grill, place them in a pan on the rack. Put the pan on the broiler when you turn the chops after they have been browned on one side. The bananas require only half as long to cook as do the

...but ARE they?
PROTECT THEIR SIGHT WITH MORE LIGHT!

Books lined up... lunches packed... new clothes... but what about eyesight protection? If youngsters have to study by old-fashioned glaring light, school-days may become eye-strain days.

Why not visit a store which sells lamps this very afternoon and buy a modern Study Lamp for your child? Then you can be sure that he has plenty of soft, glareless light that safeguards young eyes.

Spindle Top STARTED IT!

Forty years ago an oil gusher roared in on a low hill south of Beaumont to open a new industrial era for Texas.

That discovery at Spindletop started our modern Texas petroleum industry and made Texas the nation's leading oil state.

In the forty years since Spindletop blew in, nearly 200,000 wells have been drilled throughout Texas. Over 500 separate fields are now producing in all parts of the State. Today Texas supplies over one-third of the Nation's oil and has over half of its petroleum reserves.

Our industry, by refining almost all of this oil in Texas, has created our largest manufacturing enterprise. By furnishing cheap fuel it has laid the foundation for many other Texas industries.

From a handful of Texans forty years ago, this industry has grown until now, directly or indirectly, it supports almost one million of our people. Its expenditures reach into every section of the State and benefit every Texan.

The discovery of America's first gusher oil field at Spindletop has turned out to be one of the most important events in the history of our state.

Today all of Texas salutes Spindletop!

On October 9, 10 and 11, during its annual convention at Beaumont, the Texas-Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association will dedicate a monument to Spindletop.

Inscribed in ageless Texas granite will be the story of oil.

This is more than a monument to petroleum. It is a tribute to Texas enterprise and initiative which in forty years have built a great industry in our State—an industry in which you and every other Texan share.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC - In order to take care of the larger trucks since the load limit was raised, we have recently installed a set of Howe Scales, 40-ton capacity, with a platform 48 feet long. We have also tried to please the public in general, by putting the scales in a more convenient place. They are now located one block off the Lubbock Highway, just north of the Lamesa Steam Laundry. Office in the Oquin building where they were formerly located. We have a separate room arranged for farmers and grain buyers to transact business, aside from the weighers office. We are better prepared to take care of all weighing and promise the most courteous service at all times. Meet us at our new location. Mrs. G. W. Wyatt.

A Prediction About Hose

Beautiful cotton hose, the kind women will be proud to wear, will be one result of the present hosiery situation. That's a prediction of Dora R. Barnes, clothing specialist for the A. and M. College Extension Service. Just how long it will take to develop that kind of cotton hose, she won't say.

"Somehow I can't get excited over the present shortage of silk hose for something good will come of the situation," Mrs. Barnes explains. Cotton fibers, such as nylon probably will be used more and more. Already manufacturers are combining nylon and cotton in hose, making cotton tops and toes and the remainder of the stocking nylon.

In addition, rayon will be used more in hose, since the United States ranks 3rd in the production of that material. It can be made into hose that will wear well and are attractive.

Most women use little silk these days, the specialist points out, since so many other beautiful synthetic fibers are available and the cost of pure silk is so high. In many small stores it is impossible to buy pure silk.

Because of the current interest in the hose situation and in new cotton hose which are being developed, Mrs. Barnes will broadcast on the Texas Farm and Home Program from Stations WBAP, KPRC and WOAI on September 16 at 6:15 a. m. Her topic will be "The Cotton Hose Situation."

Mrs. J. W. McDonald and Mrs. Stokes and daughter Elizabeth, left Tuesday morning for Waco where Elizabeth will enroll at Baylor University.

School Milk Is Made Available Under New Plan

Rural and urban club women, land use planning committees, professional workers interested in nutrition, Parent-Teacher units and civic organizations should become familiar with the conditions under which children in their community can benefit from the school milk program, says Mildred Horton, vice director of the A. and M. College Extension Service and chairman of the Texas State Nutrition Committee.

Recently an authorization was signed by Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard which will permit expansion of the program which was previously confined to several large cities of the country. The project provides that milk can be sold to children in schools and various institutions at one cent per pint.

For each half pint of milk sold under the program, handlers receive a Federal indemnity payment. This plus the selling price of one cent enables them to pay for the milk and the necessary cost of distributing it. Producers who supply the milk to handlers receive a price lower than that established for fluid milk sales and higher than the price established for the so-called "surplus" milk.

E. R. Eudaly, Extension Service dairyman, says there are numbers of communities in Texas which can qualify for the program. "It would give under-privileged children some milk and at the same time use up some of the surplus, which would help the dairymen," he says. A sufficient surplus in excess of fluid milk and cream needs must exist in the area to meet the probable requirements before the school milk program may be set up. A list of conditions which must be met before the program can be made operative in any area can be obtained from the Surplus Marketing Administration.

Returning Men To Be Aided In Securing Jobs

Urging the patriotic cooperation of every employer in Texas to see that every returning soldier has a job when he gets home, General J. Watt Page, State Selective Service Director, today announced the inauguration of a carefully studied and organized reemployment program which will function through the local boards of the System.

"Many of these returning soldiers must be cared for in this respect beginning this month when the first selectees, National Guardsmen and others to be relieved from active duty by the Army will be released," General Page said. "The Selective Training and Service Act imposes the duty of carrying out its re-employment provisions upon the Selective Service System as well as upon the former employers of these men."

The re-employment program calls for the appointment of a Re-employment Committeeman affiliated with each local board. The Director explained. This committeeman will act as liaison agent between returning soldiers and employers.

The function of the local board Re-employment Committeeman will be to get in touch with the former employer prior to the return of a soldier to see if his former job is still available, to transmit the record of returning soldiers who have no jobs awaiting them to the nearest State Employment Service, and to act as liaison agent for the soldier in placing him in contact with available jobs.

In cases where the State Employment Service is unable to find a job for a returning soldier, the local board Re-employment Committeeman must look for local employment opportunities. For this purpose he should obtain the cooperation of local chambers of commerce, and boards of trade, Rotary, Kiwanis, Lions, Exchange and Optimist Clubs and like groups, labor unions, the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars and similar organizations.

The War Department is cooperating with the Selective Service System in carrying out the obligation of the Government to obtain civilian jobs for returning soldiers. In every case it is gathering the occupational and educational history of the soldiers together with all data concerning the military career of each that is pertinent to civilian employment. This data will be distributed to local board Re-employment Committeemen by National Selective Service Headquarters through State Headquarters.

The Selective Training and Service Act of 1940 provides that a man inducted into military service shall be given a certificate of satisfactory service if he completes training to the satisfaction of the Army. The Act then specifies that:

"In the case of any such person, who, in order to perform such training and service, has left or leaves a position, other than a temporary position, in the employ of any employer and who (1) receives such certificate, (2) is still qualified to perform the duties of such position, and (3) makes application for re-employment within 40 days after he is relieved from such training and service—

"(A) if such position was in the employ of the United States Government, its District or possessions, or the District of Columbia, such person shall be restored to such position or to a position of like seniority, status, and pay;

"(B) if such position was in the employ of a private employer, such employer shall restore such person to such position or to a position of like seniority, status and pay unless the employer's circumstances have

TSCW Students Fly Own Planes

When America finds a place in the defense program for its women fliers, these Texas State College for Women students, Elsie Adams, El Paso, and Gladys Ingenhuet, Comfom, will be ready to go. Both girls own airplanes and were instructed in the CAA approved school at the Denton Airport where the college permits its students to train with parental approval. A ground course in flying is offered in the TSCW physics department.

The Silly Side Of Sport . . .

AP Feature Service
MILWAUKEE — In the boom times of some years ago, when golfing bets averaged a bit higher than today, there was a foursome of gosh-awful duffers who used to bet $5 on the longest drive and $10 on low hole scores.

These four dubs strolled along, hooking, slicing, topping, missing, with $5 or so riding on every stroke. One day, going to the 18th hole, two of these golfers came up with a flock of carryovers — $40 worth — for the longest drive.

The first took a pair of sweet practice swings. Then he drew back his club, swung hard and—swish—missed the ball entirely. The other stepped up to the tee, sure of his $40. Why anyone could outdrive a wind stroke. He took no practice swings, just swung, and . . . yep, missed it too.

But, the ball rolled forward—the wind from the whistling club had blown it off the tee. That's how this duffer's shortest drive won $40 for the longest drive bet.

PHILADELPHIA — The Phillies may have set at least one baseball record this year—

In a recent baseball game with the Cardinals, 52 baseballs were used, 44 of which were fouled into the stands. Don Padgett of the Cards hit 15 for the fans to scramble after

NEW ORLEANS — When Claude "Monk" Simons Jr. was playing with Tulane a few years ago he got no special care from the football trainer, Claude "Monk" Simons Sr.

During his freshman year, Little Monk was knocked out one day scrimmaging the varsity. The coach told him to go home and he left without receiving any attention from the trainer.

That night Big Monk was greeted sternly at home by Mrs. Simons: "I hear one of the players was hurt today."

"Oh, just one of the freshmen," her husband replied. "I didn't pay any attention to him."

OKLAHOMA CITY — The day may be near at hand when a man can watch a baseball game at midnight without worrying about strikes when he gets home.

Charles Salsberry, manager of the state semi-pro baseball tourney here, is considering instituting "dog house cards" for late sessions. An official clock would stamp the cards at the ball park as the tourney-goer left for home.

LAKE CHARLES, La. — The Lake Charles club of the Evangeline baseball league set out by bus one afternoon for a night game at Lafayette, 75 miles distant.

At a town near Lafayette there was a telegram from the Lake Charles owner, Joe Bratcher, telling them the game had been cancelled because of rain. The bus turned back, and just outside Lake Charles Bratcher himself waved it to a halt.

"My mistake," he said, "the telegram was meant for another team." Again the bus about-faced and the players, giving up hope of dinner, changed into their uniforms as so changed as to make it impossible or unreasonable to do so:

"(C) if such position was in the employ of any State or political subdivision thereof, it is hereby declared to be the sense of the Congress that such person should be restored to such position or to a position of like seniority, status and pay."

The Act also provides that persons restored to their jobs shall not lose seniority and shall be considered as having been on leave or furlough. It further stipulates that "persons so restored shall not be discharged from such positions without cause within one year after such restoration."

To make use of the facilities being provided to aid in his reemployment, the soldier has only to fill out the information requested on forms being distributed by the Army, and to get in touch with the Re-employment Committeeman attached to his local board if he is a registrant, or the local board nearest his home if he is not, as soon as he returns.

General Page stated that a Re-employment Committeeman for each of Texas' 351 local boards would be appointed by Governor Coke Stevenson within the next few days.

Dr. Cox Says:-

The daily inspection of school children and the removal and isolation of those found with scabies (itch) or head lice is the most important factor in the control of these conditions, said Dr. George W. Cox, State Health Officer. Reports received by the State Department of Health indicate that the opening of school will witness an increase in this occurrence.

The State law provides for the exclusion of children from school if found to be infected. To prevent loss of school time parents should see that their children do not have scabies or head lice.

All children who are scratching or have an irritation on the skin should be examined for the itch-mite. These parasites are usually contracted by direct personal contact, although they are sometimes conveyed by animals. It is important that all members of a family be treated until cured, otherwise the disease is passed back and forth from one to another. It is also important that all clothing, bedding, and towels be boiled each time they are washed.

No person should be blamed for having lice, only for keeping them. They are very common among children and are communicated directly and also from using each others' caps, combs or hair brushes. The condition may be suspected by the teacher in children who show indications of an irritation of the scalp and the cause is easily detected by looking for the eggs which are small white objects adhering to the hair. Head lice are best treated by killing the living parasites. The eggs or nits must then be gotten rid of. With boys this is easy, as a close haircut is all that is needed. With girls, who do not want such a haircut, a fine tooth comb wet in vinegar or alcohol, which dissolves the attachment of the eggs to the hair can be used. All combs, brushes, and caps or hats should be carefully washed and disinfected.

Three dots and a dash is the code for V. V. is for victory, for vegetables, for vim, for vigor, for vitality. Produce more vegetables at home, consume more vegetables at home. Strong people will be produced. And strong people will bring victory.

Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Holly of Tracey, California, Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Holly of Fresno, California, and Mrs. Edith Underwood of El Monte, California, are visiting in the home of Bill Roberts this week.

CARD OF THANKS

To all those loving friends and Dr. Frazier who ministered so devotedly to our loved one in his last illness, and those who helped us to bear our sorrow we want to express our heartfelt gratitude.

For your every word, deed, and prayer, for your beautiful floral offerings and for your encouraging messages, smiles and tears we want to thank you every one. May God in His infinite wisdom and tender mercy grant you such loving friends and neighbors when your dark hour comes, is our prayer.

School Buses Of County To Be Inspected As All Schools Open But Two

With the beginning of Ackerly and Union Schools this week, only two are not yet started. Mullins will begin the morning of the 15th with O. K. following on the 29th.

Considerable changes have been made in bus facilities. Klondike has purchased four new chassis and have remodeled the bodies, giving them up to date transportation. Union has purchased one new chassis. Bartlett has purchased a new bus while Woody will operate a new pickup for the high school students. Sparenberg has exchanged a worn out bus for an excellent second hand job. Mullins also exchanged their former bus for a larger machine since their needs could not be accommodated with the smaller pickup.

Musicians-

dian; Louis on the clarinet, and Josef on the bass viol.

Several novelty numbers will be presented including one where Louis plays two clarinets at the same time.

Swiss folk dances will be given by Josef and Joe, with Joe dressed in the colorful costume of an Alpine girl.

Josef will demonstrate the unique Swiss custom of flag throwing. He says flag throwing developed centuries ago as a means of communication between people on distant Alpine mountains. It is now used largely for entertainment and is growing in popularity in the United States. In one southern state it is said that a wealthy football fan sent clear to Switzerland for an expert flag thrower to come over here and teach the High School Girls' Pep Squad of his city the art of throwing flags as a stunt to be used at football games.

Solo and harmony yodeling will be featured. Joe will also give a short talk on the customs of his native land. The entire program is given with infectious enthusiasm. The variety, melody and folk color of the performance will make it unforgettable.

Captain Legge of the State Highway Patrol has announced that his men will appear at the Church of Christ at 10:00 a. m., Saturday, September 20, to inspect the safety of the buses in order that they may be certified as safe carriers and make them eligible for transportation aid.

Plans are also being made for the first county teachers meeting to be held September 20 at 10:00 a. m., at the Lamesa High School auditorium at which time Interscholastic League officials and County Teacher officers will be elected and other business will be attended to. Every teacher in the county is expected to attend, which would make a total of 131 in attendance.

ICELAND MARINES WRITE NEW WORDS TO A SONG

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. (AP)—Captain Jenkins, of the Horse Marines, the Gilbert and Sullivan operetta character, has nothing on Uncle Sam's Marines in Iceland. They have written a new verse to the Marines' song, ending with:

"The Iceland fields were frozen hard—
The Iceland girls were fair,
And every Gyrene mounted guard
Astride a polar bear."

Short Course Winners

Dwane Campbell and LeRoy Shannon (left to right) of Grow, King County, won first place with their pig feeding demonstration at a 4-H short course sponsored by the Extension Service of Texas A. and M. College.

Football-

the ball in the backfield. The workings of these new rules will be observed for the first time in the game Friday night.

The Golden Tornadoes will be working against a team of veterans to protect their reputation and to avoid defeat at the hands of a Conference A member. The Lamesa team members are anxious to enter the district race without a defeat and to accomplish this they must win the games against Tahoka this week, against Thomas Edison, of San Antonio on Friday night, September 19, and against Plainview on Friday night, September 26. To boost the team members along, the band has been practicing diligently to perfect both playing and marching. They will present new tunes and new activities for their between-halves stunt this season. James Yarborough will lead the band's marching and they will follow his signals. Anne Hure will be in front of the band, also, with the baton. There will be sixteen girls perform with the batons during the season.

The high school pep squad, sponsored by Miss Caroline Seale, led by their student leader, Mary Frances Barnard, have had frequent rehearsals in order to be ready for the first game. It will be recalled that these young ladies are among the upper fifteen per cent of pupils in scholastic standing, which is now necessary for pep squad membership. It should be understood, however, that not all of the eligible girls are members of the pep squad because of conflicts as some are members of the band and others come to school on buses and are not in a position to remain for the rehearsals.

It all sums up that the football squad, the band, and pep squad members are all at work and they trust the fans have not lost their interest in football, and that a large crowd of local citizens will be present on Friday night to witness this first game of the season.

Plenty of parking space is available just south on the stadium on the school campus, and fans are asked to please park here so as not to cause a jam and to enable all to get parking space.

Defense Bond QUIZ . . .

Q. Can Defense Savings Stamps be redeemed?

A. Yes; they can be redeemed for cash at face value or exchanged for Defense Savings Bonds. For example, 75 of the 25-cent stamps—total cash value $18.75—may be exchanged for a Defense Savings Bond which in 10 years will be worth $25.

Q. How long have Defense Savings Stamps been on sale at retail stores?

A. Sale of Stamps at retail stores originated in the State of Michigan on July 10. The idea met with such success that it is spreading rapidly and soon stamps will be sold in most retail stores on a Nation-wide basis.

NOTE:—To buy Defense Bonds and Stamps, go to the nearest post office, bank, or savings and loan association; or write to the Treasurer of the United States, Washington, D. C.

Misses Sarah and Peggy Eiland left Wednesday for Lubbock where they will enroll in Tech for the fall term. They are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Eiland.

received his questionnaire may know that he is delinquent and should communicate with us immediately.

Regardless of whether the registrant has been classified or regardless of whether he is above 28 years of age before July 1, 1941 and regardless of what his classification may be, the Selective Service law says he must keep his Local Board informed of his address at all times. The proper way to notify the Board of a change of address is to address a post card to the Local Board, Lamesa, Texas, giving your present address and name. This is a very simple and inexpensive matter and we feel that the consequences are too serious for any registrant to neglect this matter.

ATTEND WEDDING

Mrs. T. A. Kellam and T. H. Christopher attended the wedding of Miss Mollie Frank Touchstone and J. B. Jordan Jr. at Abilene Saturday evening. Rev. Alonza Bickley, former Methodist Presiding Elder of this district, performed the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Glover of Albuquerque, New Mexico, visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Ciever and Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Mitchell, over the week end.

IT WAS NO TIME FOR CEREMONY

Yellowstone National Park (AP)—A fat, middle-aged gentleman suddenly removed his pants in front of the Mammoth Hotel.
"I was taking a picture when suddenly a bee flew up my pants leg," he told Ranger Frank King. "Modesty had to be shoved aside."
