School Term to End Friday With Commencement Exercises

High school careers will end for Perryton high school seniors tonight when they will receive their diplomas at the official 1947-48 school year commencement exercises will be held in the Ellis Theatre, with Bullock Hyder, assistant to the president of the North Texas State Teachers' Association, as speaker.

Ellis Theatre was selected as the place for commencement exercises by a vote of the senior class. Due to the remodeling program at school, the high school gymnasium cannot be used.

Light Showers Bring .22 Inch of Moisture

Showers which fell on Monday and Wednesday nights of this week in the Perryton area brought .22 inches of moisture. The Monday night shower amounted to .18 inches and the Wednesday night shower brought .04 inches for a total of .22 inches during the week. The rainfall was reported slightly heavier in the western part of the county Monday. Both Spearman and Booker were reported to have received more rain than fell in Perryton.

Wheat Growers, Grain Dealers To Meet Friday

The Ochiltree County Wheat Improvement Association will hold a meeting in the district courtroom Friday night to lay plans for the coming year, it has been announced.

The association is composed of wheat growers and grain dealers of the county who last year started a program of advertising and improvement of the county's wheat crop.

Although the association was formed last year when a record crop was harvested, the idea of the organization is to advertise and promote the quality of Ochiltree wheat, rather than quantity. Members believe that it is important to maintain the high quality of Ochiltree's premium milling varieties of wheat, especially when the trend at terminal markets and mills is to dock or refuse undesirable wheat.

Plan Grasshopper Poison Program In County Soon

Grasshoppers are hatching out rapidly in some sections of Ochiltree county, especially along Wolf Creek, and plans are being made to start a poisoning program within the next week or ten days, according to Hood Willis, county agent.

The best time to kill the hoppers is now, while they are young and eating more, says Willis. It costs less to control the young hoppers near their hatching beds and it is easier to kill the young ones than the large, full grown ones.

Willis and Pood Herndon, county ACA chairman, are making plans to secure a carload of bran and sufficient poison for all sections of the county where grasshopper damage will be most severe.

Farmers and ranchers who wish to spread grasshopper poison are requested to contact the county agent's office as soon as possible in order that arrangements may be made for the poisoned bran.

Next Thursday Clean-Up Day

Business men and civic organizations are reminded that Thursday, May 20, is the date for the second Clean Up Day in Perryton. Stores will not be asked to close this time, but will be asked to furnish one or more men to help in the work.

The most pressing need to complete the clean-up campaign is trucks, says Arch Talley, chairman of the C. of C. committee which is in charge of the campaign.

Assembly point for all trucks and men will be at the corner of Main street by the First National Bank, the same place as for the first clean-up day on April 29.

Military Rites For Barker Father, Son

Military rites were held at the double funeral of C. W. Barker and W. H. Barker, held Monday morning in the First Baptist church, with color guards, firing squads and pall bearers from the VFW and American Legion posts participating in the military ceremony at the gravesides.

Ward H. N. Gregg, minister of

C. W. BARKER

Woodward's to Hold Opening On Saturday

The formal opening of Woodward's exclusive men's clothing store, will be held on Saturday, May 15, co-owners Jack and Dorance Woodward have announced.

As a feature of the opening day, a $50 pair of cowboy boots will be given away.

The store is located at 410 S. Main, just south of the White Auto store. Work has been in progress for the past few months on a complete remodeling and decorating of the store interior.

The fixtures were designed by the Woodward brothers and were specially made for the store by the Alexander Co., of Oklahoma City. All fixtures are of light blond oak, arranged in a compact manner which gives a maximum of display and storage room, yet with ample customer floor space.

Recessed merchandise racks, indirect fluorescent lighting and paneled walls add to the attractiveness of the store interior.

Alfred Pittman, who has had a number of years experience in the retail clothing business, is the store manager. Mrs. Jewel Perkins has been employed as bookkeeper and clerk.

The store will feature the latest designs in exclusive men's furnishings, in a wide variety of price ranges. Leading clothing

Only One Show at Ellis Friday Night

The Ellis Theatre will show but one picture Friday night, May 14, and this show will start at 10 p. m. Virb Conley, manager of the theatre, has announced. Because the Perryton high school commencement exercises will be held in the theatre Friday night, the regular showing time had to be changed.

Co-Op to Hold Annual Meet On Wednesday

The annual stockholders meeting of the Farmers Co-Operative will be held Wednesday afternoon, May 19, in the district courtroom at 2:30 p. m.

H. Dean Smith, assistant to the executive vice-president, Consumers Co-Operatives, Associated, will be the principal speaker at the meeting.

The Co-Op showed net earnings of $8,516.37 the past year, surpassing the earnings of the previous year by nearly one thousand dollars. Net earnings the past year are the largest in the organization's history. The organization did a business volume of $152,972.43 last year.

No cash dividends will be declared this year because of the building program now in progress. Members will receive stock dividends, however.

Two directors, to serve a three year term, will be elected to replace A. E. Pittman and Harold Kershaw, whose terms expire this year. Holdover directors are H. C. Brillhart, Orlean Bell and G. M. Cooper.

There are 350 members in the Co-Op at present, a gain of 25 members over last year.

Junior High Exercises to Be Held Tonite

Graduation exercises for Perryton junior high school will be held in the First Baptist church on Thursday night, May 13, beginning at 8 o'clock. Gilbert Mize, principal, has announced.

J. W. Erickson, former administrator of the Sanford Hospital, will deliver the principal address to the graduating class.

There are 43 students in the junior high graduating class this year.

The following program has been arranged: Processional, Mrs. David Miles. Invocation, Rev. John Hulcy, pastor of the Perryton Nazarene church.

"Allah's Holiday," "Bells of St. Mary," junior high school chorus.

"Little Coon's Prayer," solo.

Services Held Monday for J. W. Mounts

Funeral services for J. W. Mounts, a resident of Beaver county for over 30 years, were held Monday afternoon in the First Baptist church. Mr. Mounts died Thursday while enroute from his home near Gray to a Beaver hospital. He was 75 years of age.

Rev. O. C. Curtis conducted the final rites.

Mr. and Mrs. Mounts had celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on February 8, 1948. They were married in New London, Mo., on Feb. 6, 1908 and left Missouri in 1915 to go to Alva, Okla. They then moved to a farm near

Perryton Baseball Teams to Play Doubleheader Sunday

Perryton baseball fans will have a chance to see a doubleheader at the local ball park this Sunday afternoon.

Boise City, scheduled for a league game against Perryton, will bring their junior team to play the Perryton juniors.

The junior team will start at 1 o'clock, and the regular game will begin at 2:45.

Admission to both games is 75 cents for adults, 25 cents for children.

Perryton is currently sporting a .500 average for the season. They won the league opener from Sunray, then dropped the second game last Sunday to Texoma.

The Perryton junior team has not played a game so far this season, although practice sessions have been held and the team played an intra-squad game last Sunday. Although the team as a whole is short on experience, there are several boys on the team who have had experience in Legion junior baseball in other towns.

Cronister Indicted by Grand Jury for Barker Murders; Date of Trial is Uncertain

After a day and a half of questioning witnesses and collecting evidence, the Ochiltree county Grand Jury returned two separate bills of indictment at noon Wednesday against D. A. Cronister, Ochiltree county farmer-stockman, charging him with the murder of C. W. Barker and his son, W. H. Barker, who were killed shortly before noon last Thursday.

Church of Christ Bible School To Open Monday

The Vacation Bible School of the Church of Christ will open on Monday, May 17 and will continue through Friday, May 28. Lee E. Rawlings, minister of the church, has announced. The school sessions will be from 8:45 a. m. to 11 a. m. each week-day morning except Saturday.

General theme of the school this year will be "What Jesus Did and Taught." There will be classes for all ages and efficient and capable teachers to give the best in instruction through means of Bible study, singing, hand-work, special activities and visual aids of the latest type, featuring flannel-board and film-strip work.

This Bible school will provide more hours of intensive Bible study than six months of Sunday morning Bible classes, stated Rawlings.

The school is open to the public and no tuition, charge or collection will be made. All materials will be furnished by the school. Elvin Bost of Higgins and Lee E. Rawlings, local minister, will be in charge of this school. The school activities will be concluded with a picnic on May 29.

On Monday evening, May 17, a singing school under the direction of Elvin Bost will begin and will continue each week evening except Saturday, closing on May 28. Mr. Bost is one of the best among song directors and Murder with malice was specified in both indictments.

District Judge Jack E. Allen set bond at $10,000 on each of the indictments. Cronister has posted bond.

The date has not been set for the trial. The current session of District Court ends this week in Ochiltree county, and the court is scheduled to open in Hutchinson county Monday with a rather heavy docket to clear up.

The fatal shooting of the Barker men, whose ranch home adjoined Cronister's, is alleged to have arisen over a dispute between the elder Barker and Cronister over some stock tanks and cattle gates. Cronister recently sold Barker the half section of land where the Cronister home is located, and was to have given possession on May 15, after the Cronister children finished school.

The shooting was witnessed by Ralph Cook, who was with Cronister at the time. It took place on the dirt road leading off highway 83 near the old Taylor house about 26 miles south of Perryton.

Cronister surrendered to Deputy Sheriff Ray Phagan in Perryton shortly after the shooting.

JUST HERE and THERE

If the Ochiltree County Chamber of Commerce wants to be of service to the farmers of the Perryton area, here's an idea that was mentioned to us the other day by one of our larger wheat producers. He suggested that a dock of suitable size for unloading and loading of custom harvest machinery was badly needed for this area.

It is true that the Santa Fe has a small dock but it is primarily for the use of rail shippers. In connection with the dock there could be provided a parking area for custom harvest machines and trucks. The space used in previous years . . . on both sides of Main Street at the railroad, is being utilized for other purposes at the present time.

We do not know where the United States Labor Department will set up their offices but they will probably headquarter in either the courthouse or the Chamber of Commerce. There is vacant space in the vicinity of both of the above places that could probably be secured for the harvest

Shotgun Shells Aged in Chamber

EAST ALTON, Ill. (AP)—Smokeless ball powder used in shotgun shells is prematurely aged in a heat chamber here to test its keeping quality and in studies to develop better powder. The findings benefit skeet and trap shooters.

Under normal conditions in temperate and cold climates, powder made by conventional methods keeps its full power as long as 20 years or longer, powder experts say. Under high temperatures, the powder loses its full power in a shorter time since the powder breaks down. The heat chamber speeds up aging and helps show how long a powder normally keeps its power.

Some samples of ball powder have withstood the heat test as long as 20 years or about four times longer than usual, said Fred Olsen, director of research and development of the Western Cartridge Co. division of Olin Industries, Inc.

HOMES FOR AMERICANS

PLANNED FOR THE FARMER, this house does chores. Note the farm office near the front door, the utility room for laundry and canning, adjoining the kitchen, and the wide cellar stairs without a turn. This house, Plan AA-116, was designed by the Agricultural Associates, Inc., 25 Elm St., Ardsley, N. Y. It covers 1,200 square feet without porch and contains approximately 2,400 cubic feet with a complete basement. The designers suggest the bedrooms at the right facing north. This would bring morning sun in kitchen and dining room.

Homes for Americans cut By DAVID G. BAREUTHER, Real Estate Reporter

NEW YORK—If any house could be called a "machine for living" it would be the modern American farm house.

While town or suburban dwellings can be efficiently planned for comfort, attractive appearances and outlooks, durability and general livability, the farm house must have all this and almost usefulness, too.

Everybody and everything on a successful farm must work. The ATHLETES FOOT GERM KILL IT FOR 35c. IN ONE HOUR.

If not pleased, your money back. Ask any druggist for this STRONG fungicide. It kills. Made with 95% alcohol. It PENETRATES. Reaches and kills MORE germs ON CONTACT. Today at — BURK DRUG — house has as many jobs to perform as any hired man.

Unlike its city counterpart, the farm house calls for an office. Farming is a business and requires space for records and crop reports, reference books and agricultural literature. Buyers must be interviewed, workers must be hired, and foremen are conferred with.

The Agricultural Associates, Inc., 25 Elm Street, Ardsley, N. Y., specialists in farm building design, say the best location for the farm office is adjacent to the front door. Here it is accessible from the main highway as well as from the barnyard.

This location eliminates the use of the living room for business purposes. It also cuts down the amount of "tracking in" on muddy days and thus reduces house-work.

The farm office can be planned as a multiple purpose room. It can double as a guest room, or child's room. A daybed, serving as a sofa in the daytime, does this trick. Many a town house exploits such multiple use in library-guest room-extra sitting room combinations.

The women of a household like this extra room advantage for sewing. It saves their living room from threads and lint. It is a godsend for parents with growing children, who claim priority to the living room for their live sessions.

Another distinguishing feature of the modern farm house is an ample work room adjacent to rear door and kitchen. This can be a general utility room. A farm house may have a complete basement, but usually storage space is at a premium on the abundant farm. So a general utility room adjoining the kitchen is virtually mandatory.

Here the men can come in from the field, wash up, and perhaps take a shower — if adequate equipment is planned. At the same time this room offers space for laundry, canning, and other more or less messy jobs that the women like to keep out of the kitchen.

The Agricultural Associates recommend a wide stairway to the cellar with no twisting or turning, to make the carrying of large quantities of produce easy and safe. This stairway is wider than the average town house cellar stairs. It should be wide enough for anything to be stored in the basement.

A farm house can be built without a basement, but because of the need for storage space, and the necessity for foundation footings below the frost line in all northern states, not much economy can be achieved through elimination of a cellar. Construction of storage room above grade can cost as much or more in northern locations as excavation.

Closets are important in farm house planning, as well as in the design of any dwelling. The Agricultural Associates champion sliding doors for all closets because of the economy of space achieved by avoiding swinging doors.

And the designers point out that although the farm house must be primarily functional, its exterior design does not have to be extreme. "Most people still have a warm spot in their hearts for a touch of tradition in the design of their homes," the architects say. "Window boxes, shutters, a roof dropping to a low eaves line and a massive chimney can still fit into a useful farm house."

President's Air Policy Commission Points Ways to Prepare for War, With Dollars

Way some of the fire-eat- commentators sound off days, all hope for peace been abandoned and the question yet to be answered when the shooting war will But such expressions are tely misleading. The atti- in the realistic grimness, but e of realistic pessimism, but g still remains that peace e secured and maintained, e of the top minds of the y are dealing with the and means on a seven-day-

Obviously, the work in behalf of peace has two phases. First, there is the diplomatic phase—the effort of the State Department and other civilian agencies to lay the groundwork for an eventual agreement with the Soviet Union and the nations within her orbit, and to cement the Western powers. The principles underlying this effort are pretty well agreed upon for the present. The European Recovery Plan is the most momentous step taken thus far.

Second, there is the military phase—the feeling that we must back up dollars and supplies with sufficient military preparedness to make belligerents wary of attacking us. When it comes to this, there is a world of honest disagreement as to how it can best be done.

Unless the international situation takes a serious turn for the worse, universal military training has almost no chance to win Congressional approval. The draft has a much better chance, but if it is approved it will be on a severely limited and temporary basis. A program which is almost sure to be approved, on the other hand, calls for swift and extensive enlargement of our air arm.

A short time ago, the President's Air Policy Commission, which was made up of a number of well known civilians in the fields of law, education, journalism, finance and manufacturing, made an exhaustive report called "Survival in the Air Age." Its explicit recommendations are likely to be the framework on which a plan for military air development will be built.

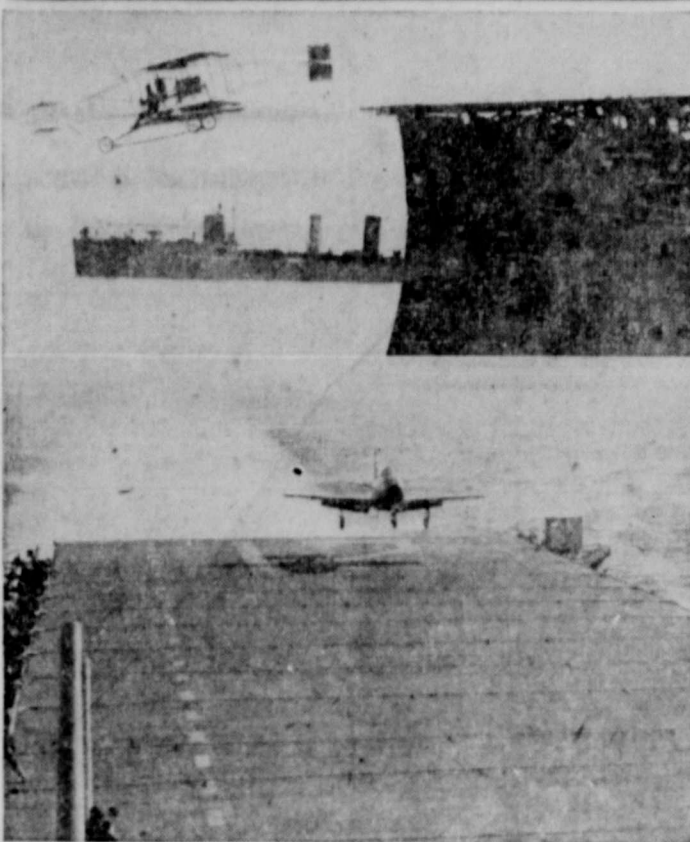

First of all, the report assumes that other nations may have the planes and missiles capable of delivering a sustained attack on the United States mainland by the end of 1952. It then reasons that, by that time, we must increase our Air Force to a minimum regular establishment of 70 groups with 6,809 first-line planes, an Air National Guard of 27 groups with 3,212 first-line craft, and an adequately equipped Air Reserve of 31 groups. It says that the Navy Air Arm is sufficient in size, but that it must have ample funds for the constant replacement of obsolescent planes. It estimates that all this will require an increase in the Air Force budget from its present $2,850,000,000 to $4,150,000,000 for the current year, and $5,450,000,000 for 1949.

Next, it points out that a strong aircraft industry is essential—we can't obtain the planes unless there are going plants capable of producing them at the desired speed. As of now, the military services are buying 21,000,000 pounds of airframe weight annually. It believes that this should be increased by 13,000,000 pounds for 1948 and by another 22,000,000 pounds next year. It urges that procurement be planned as far in advance as possible, and that orders call for the gradual delivery of planes over a 5-year period. This would make for stability in the manufacturing end, which hasn't known from one year to the next what it will be called upon to produce.

Going on, the Commission urges intensified and better coordinated research in all phases of air warfare—atomic energy, guided

THERE HAD TO BE A FIRST TIME

Advances in American naval ships and equipment have been marked throughout the century and a half of the Navy Department's history by important milestones of progress. One of these was the first flight from the deck of a ship, made in 1910 by Lt. Eugene Ely, when he took off from a miniature flight deck on the foredeck of the USS Birmingham (upper). Three years later naval aviation had its actual start when Admiral George Dewey signed the report of the General Board, which recommended the establishment of a Naval air arm. Today aviation is one of the elements in the three-pronged American Navy. Flowering of "Navy Air" can be symbolized in such scenes as the lower photo in which an F-1 "Fury," a jet-propelled Navy fighter, makes a landing aboard the USS Boxer while the ship cruises off the California coast. It Takes Plenty To Meat Argentina

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—People who live here are proud of Argentine meat—and prove it by eating an average 25 pounds a month each. Since a lot of the three million inhabitants of the city are children, this means the adults eat more than a pound of meat a day. The U. S. average is only three ounces.

The average consumption of meat is nearly twice the bread average—12 pounds of bread per month compared to 25 pounds of meat. One reason is that the great number of Italians here eat spaghetti instead of bread.

ANNOUNCES FOR CONGRESS—Judge David H. Brown of Sherman has announced for Congress the place now held by Rep. Sam Rayburn of Bonham.

missiles, gas turbines and rocket engines, landing aids, etc. In that connection it points out that while other nations keep mum about their aeronautical research, we widely publicize our advances and says that "rigid enforcement of wartime security measures" is necessary.

The Commission then recommends strengthening and improvement of civilian aviation and goes into detail as to extensive changes in governmental organizations which it believes necessary to its program.

There, in brief, is one projected phase of the preparedness program, and the other arms are advocating theirs. The point is to create a highly developed but relatively small peace-time establishment.

The cost will be tremendous. But anything is cheaper than war. The Commissioner's report states that 80 per cent of the Federal budget for this fiscal year is in payment for past wars and the maintenance of our present military establishment—and that 85 per cent of our total Federal budgets since 1915 have been for war, or preparation or payment for war! And no one is bold enough to even attempt to estimate the cost of another war if it should come.

The effort to reinforce peace plans grows more intense daily. No one thinks that the people of any nation—the millions who would do the fighting and the dying—want war. The long range goal is to find some means by which this mass repugnance toward war can find its reflection in the policies of governments. Until then, the billions will flow out for military needs.

Snakes Live High

DENVER (AP)—George Heywood, Denver High School teacher and snake fancier, scoffs at the widespread belief that rattlesnakes are not found above certain altitudes, believed by some to be 6,000 feet and by others to be 8,000 feet.

He cites his discovery of a rattlesnake den in a rocky crevice 9,000 feet above sea level on the western slope of the Rockies in northern Colorado. "I believe that rattlesnakes can live at even higher altitudes, anywhere in fact, where there is a deep crevice with a south exposure where the snow doesn't collect," Heywood concludes.

Washington Letter.

WASHINGTON — Bosses, soon you may be able to get the super-secretary.

The girls are trying to set up for themselves a degree, or rating, similar to that earned by the Certified Public Accountant and the Certified Life Underwriter. CPS would stand for Certified Professional Secretary.

The idea was started by the National Secretaries Association, which boasts 9,000 members in 250 chapters over the United States. In cooperation with the association, the universities of Kansas and Tulsa (Okla.) are conducting research with a view to setting up some sort of examination that may be set up by state boards.

Miss Louise Helfrich, top secretary with the National Savings and Loan League here, is chairman of the CPS Committee of the National Secretaries Association. Tentative requirements for CPS candidates have been suggested by the association's chapters: 1. There probably will be a $15 fee; 2. Examinations would be given twice a year. If at first you don't succeed, you can try again; 3. To pass the exams one must make a percentage of 85 and have a knowledge of office machines. Though the super-secretary may not be required to use a comptometer, an adding machine or what have you, she must be able to see that others operate them properly; 4. The applicant must have two to three years' experience in a bona fide secretarial capacity. She must be at least 21 years of age and have at least a high school education.

Tests no doubt will be given in commercial law, English, grammar, spelling, punctuation, synonyms, definitions, shorthand and transcription, mathematics, accounting, banking, interviews and personality. There will also probably be several elective phases such as foreign languages, legal terminology and so forth. "Sentiment among secretaries," says Miss Helfrich, "is to make the examination's requirements high enough so that we will be proud of the rating we achieve."

"The whole idea is to elevate the secretarial profession. We have no intention of organizing a union, or anything like that."

The National Secretaries Association was organized five years ago and has its national headquarters in Kansas City. It will hold its annual convention in Los Angeles the latter part of June.

"Better Letters—Better Living," is the organization's motto. The initials "B" and "L" figure prominently on the members pins, which are shaped like spread wings. Miss Helfrich, who is treasurer of the association's "Presidential Chapter," here has been a secretary in Washington 13 years. She came here from Bruin, Pa., and started working with the Veterans' Administration.

Veterans' NEWS

World War II veterans in education and training programs are urged not to write or contact Veterans Administration Offices asking how to qualify for increased subsistence benefits due to recent changes authorized by Congress in rates, ceilings and number of dependents.

The higher rates will be paid automatically to those GI Bill Trainees whose existing applications with VA contain the information needed to certify them for increases, VA said.

Adjustments for disabled veterans training under the Vocational Rehabilitation Act (Public Law 16) and qualified to receive additional benefits also will be automatic.

When additional information is needed from veterans training under the GI Bill, the veteran will receive a form from VA asking for the necessary data. The first of these forms are already in the mail, VA said.

Veteran trainees are urged to fill in the forms completely and return them promptly to VA. Adjustments will be made on the basis of the completed form.

The first adjustments that possibly can be made will be in the June subsistence allowances payable on or shortly after July. It is more likely that most of the initial payments at the higher rates will not be made before the July subsistence checks are sent out about August 1, VA said. The increased benefits are retroactive to April 1 in most cases.

More than half of the 14,870,000 World War II veterans have applied for some form of training since the inception of the vocational rehabilitation and education and training programs administered by the Veterans Administration.

By April 1, 1948, almost 8,100,000 applications were received by VA. Most of them, 7,200,000, were from veterans seeking education or training under the GI Bill. About 100,000 were for vocational training.

She has subsequently worked for the labor and Justice departments, Smaller War Plants Corp. and OPA.

Minnesota Short Of Tractor Fuel

WASHINGTON (AP)—Minnesota farmers will be faced with a serious situation unless federal clearance is given to ship in farm tractor fuel Senator Ball of Minnesota said today.

Ball told a reporter that Col. J. Monroe Johnson, Office of Defense Transportation director, has flatly refused to assign 125 tank cars to transport some twelve million gallons of fuel oil from Texas to Minnesota.

Senator Wherry of Nebraska, chairman of the Senate Small Business Committee, told Ball he will call Johnson before a special meeting of his committee—possibly tomorrow—to explain his action unless he changes his mind.

"Minnesota farmers are short of tractor fuel," Ball said. "This is serious with the spring planting due soon. Colonel Johnson told me he will not allot any cars for that purpose. He said there is not enough information to substantiate the need."

SAIGON (AP)—Andre Lafourge is believed to be the first Frenchman captured by Viet Nam guerrillas and then released. His wife's refusal to believe reports he was killed during an attack on a convoy near Saigon hastened his return to French territory. A French official headed Mrs. Lafourge's insistence that no Frenchman knows. But five months after Lafourge's capture a letter from him reached his wife through the French post office.

Meanwhile, his wife and his 18-month-old son became ill. The son died later. But guerrilla leaders were informed of the illness. It is believed they released Lafourge, a public works engineer, because of sympathy for his family, not as a political gesture.

Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Newman drove to Amarillo Monday to take his sister, Mrs. Arthur Simmons to her home. Mrs. Simmons had visited several days with relatives in Perryton.

Stubble Mulch Farming, Which Saves Land
From Erosion, is Rapidly Gaining Favor

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science
Reporter

LINCOLN, Nebr.—A new idea started 10 years ago on a few acres of Nebraska land has burgeoned into the biggest and fastest growing method of saving the wealth of America's soil.

The new idea was stubble mulch farming, which at first glance looks like a lazy man's way of doing things. It saves and uses residue of the stubble, stalks, and even weeds left behind after harvesting of crops. The trash is never removed or burned. Instead, it forms a cover to protect the soil from erosion by water and wind.

Except for land devoted to grazing ranges, this method now is used on more U. S. farm land than any other single method of soil conservation, an official report shows.

In 1947, stubble mulch farming was used on 15,178,000 acres of land, with 9,000,000 having been added in the last two years. At the same time, there were 13 million acres in contour cultivation, five in cover crops, nearly six in seeding ranges and pastures, and 3 1/2 in strip cropping. These others are older major soil conservation practices.

And farmers in 1948 plan to use the new method on 21-million acres.

The seeds for this giant growth were the experiments on a few test acres near Lincoln in the spring of 1938 by Dr. F. L. Duley and Prof. J. C. Russel. Stubble mulch farming has been a co-operative project of the University of Nebraska Agricultural Experiment Station and the U. S. Soil Conservation Service.

Their big idea was that the left-over crops residue would battle rain-drops and wind. The tom-tom beat of rain is particularly damaging on bare open land, as in cornfields or bare plowed land being prepared for planting. The raindrops cause a thin, compact layer of earth to form. The rain cannot penetrate rapidly, and begins to run downhill, carrying rich topsoil with it.

A protecting cover of decaying cornstalks, wheat straw or leaves acts as a shield. It takes the energy from the tom-tom raindrops and the drops ooze into the soil. More water penetrates and it goes deeper.

In dry seasons, dead vegetation helps prevent blowing winds from picking up particles of dusty soil. Wind can sometimes be as demanding a robber of soil wealth as running water.

The fields have to be prepared for planting without burying the residue from the previous crop. This is done by sub-surface tillage, with special kinds of V-shaped sweeps or other equipment. They undercut the soil at depths of two to seven inches, loosening and pulverizing it. The stubble from last year's crop is toppled, but not plowed under. It stays on top as the sweeps cut underneath. As it decays, the stubble works into the soil, adding food values for future crops.

It isn't a lazy way of farming, for two- to three tillage operations may be necessary. After the main tillage at plow depth, another is done at two inches or so to kill new weeds. Equipment also has been devised for smoothing and finishing the seedbed after tillage.

Seeds of the new crop must be planted down through the cover of stubble at the proper depth. Some special adjustments on machines take care of this.

The cost of preparing the land for a new crop is about the same or a little less compared with plowing, Duley and Russel said, but it rarely runs higher. Yields are about the same as from plowing. In dry years, yields may be greater since more of the rain that does come enters the soil.

The difference in soil saving is striking. In tests at Lincoln, about seven tons of soil have been lost from each acre per year under plowing, they said. But with stubble mulching the loss was cut to 1 1/2 tons. It can be reduced further by the customary rotation of crops with occasional planting of sod crops.

Stubble mulching is best suited for warm, dry climates, and has not expanded so much into cool, humid regions in the northern and eastern states.

Is One for Every 855 Inhabitants

CHICAGO, Ill. (AP)—If all residents of American cities over 10,000 population wanted a taxicab at the same time, they would number about 855 to the vehicle. The International City Managers' Association reported Monday there are 64,985 cabs licensed in 834 cities reporting, or an average of 1.17 cabs per 1,000 population.

Cities in the 10,000 to 25,000 population group have the largest per capita number of cabs—1.42 per 1,000 population. Cities in the 250,000 to 500,000 population range have the smallest per capita count—.87 per 1,000 population. More than a sixth of all the cabs in the 834 cities are in New York City, which has 11,814 registered taxis. Chicago is second with 3,275, followed by Philadelphia 1,800, Boston 1,523, Detroit 1,302, Baltimore 1,150, Los Angeles 1,064, St. Louis 950, Pittsburgh 780 and San Francisco 739.

Hong Kong (AP)—"Surgery" prescribed for a "sick ship" has proved successful here.

The oil tanker "Aldegonda" underwent an operation in which the entire middle section of the ship was scrapped and rebuilt, and the three portions fitted together again.

The tanker, which formerly grossed 2,088 tons, now has a tonnage of 2,466.

The superstructure was lifted off the ship and put back again on the new mid-portion after the

AUTHOR Of the Week

By W. G. ROGERS

The Rev. Terence L. Connolly is the editor rather than the author of the week, for his book "Literary Criticisms by Francis Thompson," Librarian at Boston College and curator of its Thompson collection, he was previously on the faculties of Fordham, where he received his Ph. D., and Georgetown. Already author of two books about the Catholic poet and critic, Father Connolly found the material for this volume in England in 1938 at the home of Wilfrid Meynell. He returned in 1944 to complete his researches in the files of such periodicals as the Academy, Athenaeum and Merry England. Father Connolly was born in North Attleboro, Mass., and educated in the Pawtucket (R. I.) public schools and in Woodstock College, Maryland.

The Golden Text is: "As we have borne the image of the earthy, we shall also bear the image of the heavenly" (I Corinthians 15:49).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Therefore if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature: old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new" (II Corinthians 5:17).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Mortals can never know the infinite, until they throw off the old man and reach the Spiritual Image and likeness" (page 519).

SCRIPTURE: Malachi. DEVOTIONAL READING: Luke 1:1-4, 11-17.

Malachi Demands Sincere Religion

Lesson for May 16, 1948

GET ready for some straight talk in next Sunday's lesson. Malachi reveals the dark picture of unrequited love, polluted offerings, impious priests, unfaithful husbands. You wonder if Sam Jones has come back to life. He begins by crying, "The burden of the word of the Lord to Israel by Malachi." We shall miss the entire meaning of this lesson if we fail to read every word of the Book of Malachi. We cannot claim any of the promises of a better day, as indicated in the latter section of Malachi unless and until we deal with such hypocrisy as may infest our lives today, even as the priests and people were consumed with iniquity when Malachi prophesied unto them.

Dr. Newton

GIVING OUR BEST TO GOD
 "A SON honoureth his father, if then I be a father, where is mine honour? and if I be a master, where is my fear?" Malachi 1:6
 How can God bring good out of evil, when his people hold back their best from him? Let us bring it closer home, and ask, How can our earthly parents do their best for us, when we give them half-hearted allegiance?

OUR BEST IN WORSHIP
 PASSAGES in the first, second and third chapters of Malachi reveal the lack of sincerity on the part of the priests in the worship which they offered and which they taught the people to offer. Here we see that unclean hands can never bring an acceptable offering unto the Lord. He looketh on the heart. He knows what is in man.
 Using the house of God to make a show before men was one of the shameful evils of the priests in the days of Malachi. It did not fool God then, nor will it fool him today. Unless our worship is an expression of something fine and sincere, he will not accept it.

THE DAY OF RECKONING
 "BEHOLD, I will send my messenger, and he shall prepare the way before me; and the Lord, whom ye seek, shall suddenly come to his temple, even the messenger of the covenant, whom ye delight in. . . . But who shall abide the day of his coming?"
 One would think that such words of warning would have brought the priests and the people to their senses in humble contrition before God; but they continued to disregard the words of God's messenger. "For, behold, as an over, and all the proud, yea, and all that do wickedly, shall be stubble; and the day that cometh shall burn them up, saith the Lord of hosts, that it shall leave them neither root nor branch."
 Thus did God warn. And the day of reckoning did come—a day in which priests and people went down beneath the chariot wheels of the invaders. And once again the warnings of God, though despised, were fulfilled to the last word in the terrible punishment upon those who forgot him.

THE PROMISE TO THE FAITHFUL
 BUT God does not forget those who truly love him, and thus the Book of Malachi closes with the words of promise to the faithful. "But unto you that fear my name shall the Sun of righteousness arise with healing in his wings; and ye shall go forth, and grow up as calves of the stall," Malachi 4:2.

The remnants of those who remained true to God in the midst of a wicked generation were used to perpetuate his witness in the earth. The dark days of persecution could not put out the light of his presence and peace.

Let us pause as we study this Book of Malachi and search our own souls, lest we be guilty of the hypocrisy which destroyed the people in the long ago. With every strand of strength which he grants us, let us do with our might what our hands find to do, and the peace that passeth all understanding will be our portion.

"And all flesh shall see the salvation of the Lord."

Gabby Hayes Admits He is No Actor, He Makes Good Living Trying

WYWOOD — Sixty-three-year-old George "Gabby" Hayes couldn't act his way out of a paper bag. Not even a wet paper bag. "I just play a character that has captured some of my imagination," cackles the actor, scratching his whiskers. "It's always made me itch—long gray locks hanging down to his second shirt. But Gabby has grown up. He has shaved only the last dozen years. He's always the comedy western. He has fallen through a second-story window in a barrel and driven a wagon that singed his ears. Five hundred million people would've trampled another time, he thinks, if a smart horse hadn't bit the back of his rump and opened the way to safety. Gabby never horse till he was 45. "Wrangler" is his 170th in 17 years. At 16, he ran away from his father's hotel in Wellsville, N. Y., and joined a repertory troupe at $12 a week. Three times the show went broke and Gabby rode freights or washed dishes or caught and sold catfish to survive. Gabby started playing old men when he was 17. He works with his upper lip out because this makes his face "kinda fold up like an accordion." He wears his hat brim turned up and adopted the nickname "Gabby" as trademark. He is "allus tellin' tail tales" in his characterizations.

In movie saloon scenes he always orders "sasparrilly." The kids wouldn't want to see him drink whisky. After several years with Roy Rogers, Gabby is now free-lancing. On personal appearance tours, interviewers "mister" the other performers but address him familiarly as "Gabby." His biggest kick is hearing some stranger shout "Hi, Gabby!" when he stops his car for a traffic light while driving to his

Veteran Forum

Q. I am a World War II veteran and have been totally disabled for a few months. At the end of my sixth month of total disability, will I have to continue paying my National Service Life Insurance premiums or is a waiver granted automatically?

A. No automatic waiver of premiums is ever granted. A veteran must be totally disabled for six months before he may apply for a waiver of premiums. You are entitled to file a claim for refund of those premiums you paid from the date on which the waiver became effective.

Q. Who is entitled to the compensation check received prior to the death of a veteran?

A. The check or checks received prior to the veteran's death become a part of his estate.

Q. I am a World War I veteran and would like to know if I can get a guaranteed loan under the provisions of the GI Bill?

A. No. Benefits of the GI Bill, Public Law 346, are for World War II veterans only.

Q. What is the largest amount I can borrow under the provisions of the GI Bill and still have the loan guaranteed?

A. There is no limit to the amount which can be borrowed under the GI Bill. The limitation by law is on the amount of the government guaranty and not on the amount of the loan.

Summertime is Danger Time for Water Sports

AUSTIN, Texas—Seasonal advice to vacationists concerning the proper precautions to be used in water sports was released today by Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

Lakes and ponds of unknown depth, and streams of unfamiliar currents are often the site of picnics and excursions, and the usual lifeguard supervision associated with bathing beaches and commercial swimming pools is, of course, not available in such places.

"Swimming and water sports are beneficial to good health provided one's physical condition justifies this type of exercise," Dr. Cox asserted. "Nevertheless, they possess dangerous possibilities if the rules of safety are disregarded through carelessness or thoughtlessness."

The State Health Officer outlined the following simple rules for bathing and swimming safely: at least one hour should elapse after a meal before entering the water; upon the first indication of fatigue, come ashore, and don't re-enter the water; if chilled, leave the water immediately; do not enter the water when overheated; learn to float—this is important; never attempt to rock a boat in a spirit of fun; and never swim in water that may be polluted.

"Outdoor excursions, picnics, and swimming parties contribute much to a healthy, happy, nor-

Don't Hold Your Breath

You still hear people talking about buying something or other when prices go back to normal. Anyone has a perfect right to defer his purchasing in hope of a price millennium. But, judging by the evidence, he's going to have a long wait indeed.

The inflationary pressures are as strong as ever. The usual upward wage adjustments are taking place. The national income is still at or near its peak. The government is showing little disposition to economize in any direction. The cost of the European Aid Program and the preparedness program will turn more dollars loose, and lead to more competition for scarce goods. Nothing, in fact, indicates the probability of important price drops for any kind of commodity in general use.

Babson More Optimistic

ROGER W. BABSON, Editor-in-Chief

BABSON PARK, Mass., May 7— I have today returned from a trip throughout the great Central West—the "Magic Circle" of America. During the winter in Florida, I was rather blue due to the waste and indifference that I saw there. On Saint Patrick's Day, however, I heard a message of courage and decision broadcast to the world by our Chief Executive and Commander-in-Chief of our armed forces. If this has aroused the U. S. A. to new purpose and productivity as it aroused me, good times for the next few years are "possible." Provided: We can match our new found faith with a proportionate output of goodwill—and goods!

Good Times "Possible"

Readers of this column will recall that repeatedly I have stressed, if production fails to keep pace with demand, all of us could be caught up in a tornado of inflation—the vicious "boom and bust" spiral. Furthermore, the threat of communism and other storm-clouds had also darkened our outlook for the nearby nineteen-fifties. Therefore, I had been distressed for sometime by the "take-it-easy" attitude of our people.

My trip of the past few weeks has changed my attitude and strengthened my faith. I found that President Truman—with that speech—pepped up the entire nation. I found farmers, ranchers, merchants, manufacturers and even hard-boiled bankers in a new and better mood. They—like myself—are more hopeful than for two years.

Need of More Capital

I am heartily in accord with the growing conviction that a great demand of the period next ahead will be a universal desire and need for capital. Not even the impenetrable Iron Curtain can conceal the fact that Russians, Americans and all other divisions of the globe are subject to the same Iron Law! Namely: People cannot keep on forever consuming and/or exporting more than they produce. It is the old axiom of "Root, hog, or die." It matters little in what part of the world you set the pig trough. Yet capital cannot be manufactured by your local banker. It must be saved by you and me.

Hence, in this old-new world of ours today, we have the ironic situation that the UNITED STATES the UNITED KINGDOM and the U. S. S. R., tomorrow will be united in their common need for capital. How on earth is humanity—whether East or West—to get this capital, this life-blood of the world's economic future? Only by all of us producing more than we consume, and allowing the surplus to accumulate. Everyone in business these days is in the same boat, eager to get more capital, in one form or another. It is the common story, from wholesaler to retailer, from Maine to California; from Moscow U. S. S. R. to Washington, D. C.

Who Among Us Are "Producers"?

Another thing: We must accept the economic truth that in a period of prosperity people will not be content with a mere "something to eat." Alert and informed families will ask more about the nutritional values of the soils where their goods are grown. Hence, I predict that housewives of the "fifties" will become students of the principle that good foods originate in good soils. The agriculture of the "fifties" will tend toward a combine of engineering and organic chemistry. Then there are hundreds of important new inventions ready to come on the market.

The day is dawning when we shall classify as "producers" not only farmers, manufacturers and miners,—but all who apply intelligence and ability to the betterment of the country. "Producers" are those who unite to produce superior goods and/or services at efficient costs. They, with the help of the teachers and preachers are the hope of America.

Price of Prosperity? Productivity!

Yes, I now feel that more good years are possible, but like so many other good things, they are to be had only if we are willing to pay the price. Looking forward to the potential prosperity of the nineteen-fifties, the price-tag is marked in bold letters for all to read. It says: We all must produce more and save more. Here, then is the "neighborly advice" which I am giving—and trying to take myself.

Do not look backward upon things-as they were, however precious the memories, nor struggle to keep things-as-they-are. Rather, let's all unite to create new highs in living standards, including standards both material and spiritual. Work and faith are the first and final securities. If we put those things first, the nineteen-fifties can be good to us all and we can forget "boom and bust" for awhile at least.

WHAT IT MEANS

Artificially Low Interest Rate

CHARLES MOLONY Newsfeatures

WASHINGTON — The government owes so much money—a third of all that is in this country—that it has $5,200,000,000 a year in interest.

The yield on that bond is 2 1/2 percent. If the price of the bond went down to $90 on the market, the $2.50 a year interest would boost the yield above 2 1/2 percent, for $2.50 is a higher percentage of $90 than it is of $100.

The government wouldn't feel any immediate difference on that bond when its price dropped from $100 to $90. It would have to keep on paying $2.50 interest a year and pay $100 for the bond when it fell due, because that was its promise when the bond was issued.

But when the bond fell due, things would be different. The government can't pay all $117,000,000,000 worth of its marketable bonds off with cash on hand, because it doesn't have that much surplus cash.

It can, however, borrow the $100 needed to pay off your bond by issuing another bond. But if old bonds paying $2.50 interest were selling at $90, the government would have to pay higher interest on its new bonds—about $2.66—to sell them for $100 each.

As long as the Federal Reserve banks buy the bonds for $100 or slightly more, that doesn't happen. The interest rate stays at

SOME ADVICE FROM AN OLD TIMER—Coach Cy Perkins of the Philadelphia Phillies caught more than 1,700 games in 15 years with the Athletics, and claims to know a lot about pitchers. He says throwing with an unnatural motion ruins pitchers, arms nowadays and that the lively ball makes the pitcher afraid of the batter. Shown above, Cy shows Phillie catcher Andy Seminick a few pointers.

Jobs Guarding Nazis Popular

BERLIN (AP)—Jobs guarding Rudolf Hess and the other six surviving major Nazi war criminals in Berlin's Spandau Prison, which once went begging, are now eagerly sought. When, after a year of four-power administration of the prison, the U. S. guard complement was unfilled, the American Military Government advertised in its Berlin Command "Daily Bulletin" to fill two vacant places. The Associated Press wrote a story about the advertisement, which offered the jobs at gross annual salary of 3619 dollars. The result was a flood of applications.

They came from Belgium, Holland, France, England, Hungary, the United States, Canada and numerous places in Germany. The non-American applications went into the wastebasket and so did some American bids. But others were retained on file in the event future vacancies must be filled.

English Weightlifters Poor Olympic Choice

LONDON (AP)—Britain has 100,000 weightlifters, but John Barrs, 34-year-old coach of the Olympic Team, doesn't think this country will win a title at the 1948 games.

Next time, says Barrs, Britain's chances will be better.

Barrs, who has written a million and a half words on weightlifting during the past two years—books, pamphlets and newspaper articles—will take the 11 men finally selected as the British team for intensive training at a south coast resort a few weeks before the summer games open at Wembley stadium on July 29. The Olympic coach who has been a weightlifter for 18 years has a tightly developed physique, is over six feet tall and has about the biggest biceps in this country.

A six year old son, Peter, even now handles barbells in a way that suggests he's going to be a champion, too.

2 1/2 percent and the government's interest costs stay down.

This is important for a lot of reasons. One is that keeping interest rates down on government bonds tends to keep interest rates low for corporations issuing bonds, and for other borrowers.

Some people think it is a mistake for the Federal Reserve banks to hold down government interest rates and thereby other interest rates.

They say making it cheap to borrow promotes borrowing and therefore adds to inflation, reflected in high prices, which the government says it is combating in other ways.

They take the position that one of the best tried and true ways of stopping inflation is to cut down borrowing by letting it become more costly.

The Federal Reserve System and the administration, however, say that interest on the $253,000,000,000 debt already accounts for 13 cents of each dollar the government spends, and that paying more would increase the tax burden.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Jeb Had the Folks in Stitches!

At the Friday Night Social, Jeb Crowell had the audience in stitches—doing a take-off on the blustering character who belittles everybody and everything that isn't from his own home town.

Well, we can laugh at that sort of character because from where I sit, Americans are just the opposite. We like to boast a bit perhaps, about the paint job on the new barn, or the missus' style of cooking—but we aren't intolerant of people who don't think or act exactly the same way we do.

In our town, for instance: Some folks like band concerts, others don't—some families serve beer with dinner, others, buttermilk—and as for politics, there's plenty of healthy disagreement.

But when it comes to denying folks the right to think or act as they choose... no, we're like you—we don't believe in it, whether it goes for serving beer, or speaking one's mind on public affairs.

TEXANS IN WASHINGTON
BY TEX EASLEY
(AP) Special Washington Service

WASHINGTON (AP)—Texas farmers are becoming increasingly conscious of the value of fertilizers—and of the fact that the supply won't meet the demand. Studies just concluded by the House Agriculture Committee uncovered these figures:

The average consumption of fertilizers in Texas from 1935-39 was only 79,251 (short) tons annually. The consumption in 1941 was up to 142,666 tons, and each year since then it has increased steadily until the amount used in 1946 was 386,202 tons. That is the latest year on which figures are available.

As the decades roll by, the soil wears out and farmers find fertilizers more and more useful to increase production. That is why in the old southern states where the land has been tilled nearly 200 years longer than in Texas they long recognized the need for enriching the soil.

In North Carolina, which leads all states in fertilizer consumption, the amount used in the 1935-39 period was 1,119,246 tons annually. This had increased to 1,717,353 tons in 1946. The comparative figures for Virginia are 405,742 and 684,919.

Based on its investigations of the fertilizer situation throughout the nation, the committee has drawn up a report setting forth these points:

1. Civilian production of basic fertilizer materials will be a little larger than last year.
2. Exports from civilian production will be a little smaller than last year.

duction will be a little smaller than last year.

3. Transportation difficulties will be less severe than during the last planting season—unless strikes of other unpredictable delaying factors come up.

4. In spite of these favorable conditions, the demand of American farmers is expected to exceed supply by 10 to 20 percent.

5. The worst shortage will be in solid nitrogen material for top dressing and this will fall most heavily on southeastern parts of the country where this type is widely used.

Texas farmers who know that large quantities of the basic ingredients of fertilizers are produced in their state hate to see that production go not only out of Texas but out of the country. But it's part of over-all foreign policy—increased production a broad cuts down on relief food shipments.

An example of this is the big Cactus Ordnance plant near Dallas and Elmer in the Panhandle. It is owned by the government. The Army is currently negotiating with four different companies who want to operate it under lease. One of the big conditions which the Army is insisting is that the output shall go entirely or at least largely into export to step up food production in foreign countries.

Garden Club Makes Yard Pilgrimage at Final Meeting of Year Tuesday Afternoon

The well-kept yards at the Carl Ellis, J. H. Neufeld, A. P. McCelvey, H. C. Sanford, Leroy Hartman, Fred Huston, A. S. Brillhart and D. D. Shanks homes were toured by members of the Perryton Garden Club and their guests Tuesday afternoon.

The pilgrimage was enjoyed after the group gathered at the home of Mrs. Clarence Neufeld for a business meeting and social hour indoors. Originally planned as a lawn party, those present brought lunches in egg cartons. Irises and peonies decorated the Neufeld home, and centerpiece for the dining table was fashioned from red roses; the table also held a large plate of cake, mints and candy corn.

Following the business hour, Mrs. A. P. McCelvey entertained at the piano with "Spring Song." Iris bloomed profusely in the yards toured during the afternoon. Other flowers blooming in season included roses, peonies, daisies, pansies and perennial snap dragons. Women making the tours were presented bouquets from the yards they visited.

At the D. D. Shanks home, where the pilgrimage ended, Mrs. Shanks served bottled drinks, cookies and candies.

Present for the lunch and business hour at the Neufeld home were Mesdames Jack Allen, Dewey Allen, Horace Glasgow, Fred Huston, A. C. Witt, H. T. Cutter, Lawrence Elizey, Alton Witt, G. D. Holt, C. Notla Club Meets With Mrs. Wall

To save the juice when preparing strawberries for the locker, put ice cubes in water through which the berries should be washed several times before stemming. These were the instructions given members of the Notla Home Demonstration club by Mrs. Virdie Wheeler, agent, when they met in the home of Mrs. Carroll Wall, Thursday, May 6.

She also gave a demonstration on preparing rhubarb and asparagus for the freezer-locker or deep freeze unit.

Plans were made for the conversion of the Notla school house to a community center.

Refreshments were served to Mesdames Sam Handly, Lawrence Elizey, Swink, Smith and Wheeler, visitors and Mesdames Byers, Waggoner, Fay Savage, J. H. Callahan, Geo. Yates, Hale and the hostess.

The club will meet with Mrs. Ralph Hale May 20. Visitors are always welcome.

Plans Made for B & PW Banquet

At the executive committee meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club on Friday evening in the home of Miss Virginia Good, plans were discussed for the membership banquet to be held in June, and committees for this event were named by the president, Mrs. Frances Ferguson.

Mrs. Dorothy Crisp was named chairman of arrangements for the banquet with Mesdames Bernard Leslie, C. A. Igou, W. E. Perry and Miss Moina Caldwell on her committee. Miss Georgia Hurlhey was named chairman of decorations for the banquet. Her committee is composed of Miss Carmenita Wright, Jackie Garrison and Mrs. Joy Hergert.

A tentative budget for the year was presented by the finance committee and adopted by the executive group.

Attending the meeting were Mrs. Frances Ferguson, president; Mrs. H. D. Meadows, vice-president; Mrs. Wilford Lance, recording secretary; Mrs. W. E. Perry, parliamentarian; Mrs. Dorothy Crisp, public affairs; Mrs. Freeman Garrett, finance; Mrs. Walter Holmes and Miss Edith Eggleston, health and safety; Mrs. Louise Wright, membership; Miss Georgia Hurlhey, legislation; Mrs. Van W. Stewart, news service and radio, and Miss Virginia Good, program coordination chairman.

Mrs. H. D. Barnes was hostess for the meeting of the pinocle club at her home last Wednesday evening. Four tables of players were present for the covered dish supper and games which followed.

High score awards went to Mrs. Dorothy Crisp and Lonnie Sutor, low went to Mrs. Lonnie Sutor and Mrs. Oscar Blank.

Seated for the games were Messrs. and Mesdames M. M. Cudd, W. E. Perry, O. C. Shearer, Roy Cudd, Lonnie Sutor, Wesley Bryan, Mesdames Crisp, Blank and Bill McLanahan and D. C. Wilson.

Girls Interest Group Meeting

Pioneer Couple Honored at Open House to Mark Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Jones, who have made their home in Beaver county, Okla., and Ochiltree county since 1904 were the guests of honor at an open house Sunday afternoon, May 9, in the home of their daughter, Mrs. LaRue Norris and Mr. Norris, 302 S. Amherst. The occasion marked the pioneer couple's 52nd wedding anniversary which was passed May 6.

Ada L. Sharp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Sharp became the bride of J. A. Jones in an old log house near Stillwater, Okla., the home of her parents, on May 6, 1896, and the couple first made their home in Kay county, Okla., near Blackwell, on the homestead which Mr. Jones claimed after making the Cherokee strip rush in 1893.

After two years residence there, the Joneses moved to Ft. Scott, Kansas, then in the spring of 1904 they homesteaded in Beaver county. While in Beaver county, Mr. Jones did blacksmith and welding work, and also drilled many water wells on farms in the vicinity.

When the family moved to Old Ochiltree in 1913, Mr. Jones continued to follow this line of work until he sold out to C. C. Cifer and opened the hardware store which he moved to the Perryton townsite in 1919. The well which Mr. Jones put down in Perryton was among the first to be drilled in town and until other wells were in operation, many of the townspeople carried water from it.

In 1920 Mr. and Mrs. Jones moved to New Mexico where they lived until '26, when they returned to Perryton, and Mr. Jones opened a furniture store. Both were active in church and civic affairs, and Mr. Jones, an early member of the Masonic lodge in the county, was the first master to serve after the new brick building was erected in Perryton.

Falling health forced Mr. Jones to sell his furniture store in 1941 and they moved to California where they lived six years, returning to their home town, Perryton, to make their home.

They have three children, Mrs. Paul Brickley, Mrs. L. S. Hoskins and Mrs. Norris, nine grandchildren and one great grandchild.

Many friends sent flowers and gifts and called to extend Mr. and Mrs. Jones best wishes on Sunday.

The lace covered serving table was centered by a three-tiered wedding cake, iced in white and embossed with pink confection. Flanked by tall white tapers, the cake was encircled by sweet peas and greenery, as was the crystal punch bowl.

Mrs. G. D. Holt, an old time friend of the couple, presided at the punch bowl, and Mrs. J. D. Wade, another oldtimer, was in charge of the guest register.

Mrs. Beth Feulscher greeted the guests at the door.

Mr. Jones' only sister, Mrs. E. Z. Hunter and her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Heisel of Stillwater, Okla., were guests of the couple last Wednesday and Thursday; Thursday being the actual anniversary of their marriage.

Members of the Hustler's class of the Methodist Sunday School enjoyed a hamburger fry along with home made ice cream and cake at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Gaither last Thursday evening.

Hustlers Class Has Hamburger Fry

Members of the Hustler's class of the Methodist Sunday School enjoyed a hamburger fry along with home made ice cream and cake at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Gaither last Thursday evening.

Games of "42" were enjoyed after the group had retired to the house from the backyard where the food was served.

Present were Messrs. and Mesdames J. A. Anderson, Harlan Hawk, LeRoy Hartman, Gilbert Mize, W. C. Sanders, Rufus Bolerjack, Clarence Neufeld, James Brillhart, Charley Kent, Vance Apple, Earl Waide, Orlan Bell, D. R. Gaither, Rev. and Mrs. Jim H. Sharp, Mrs. Aldon Bell, Mrs. J. W. Sammons, Mrs. Clifford Beck, Miss Grace Spencer, Gus Birdwell and R. P. Hurn.

Dinner Compliment To Mrs. Gyger

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Gyger were dinner guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Gyger on Wednesday, May 5; the affair was a Mother's Day compliment to Mrs. E. B. Gyger, and Mr. and Mrs. Mark Boehning called in the evening.

The senior Gygers and Mr. and Mrs. Merrill McLain and four of their children left Thursday morning for Glendale, Ariz., to spend Mother's Day at a reunion of the Gyger family. Mrs. McLain is Mr. Gyger's sister.

The group expects to return home in a week.

Mrs. Mary Belle Chisum and children spent Sunday in Pampa, Texas, visiting her parents.

Wesleyan Guild Monthly Session In Caldwell Home

The Wesleyan Service Guild of the Methodist Church met in the home of Miss Moina Caldwell Monday evening, May 10, for its regular monthly meeting. Miss Virginia Mason served as co-hostess.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. H. D. Meadows. Roll call was answered and minutes of the previous meeting read and approved. Mrs. Rufus Bolerjack gave the treasurer's report.

A letter from the Methodist Home in Waco thanking Guild members for the $40.00 which they sent to William Henry Roath for summer clothing was read, along with a "thank you" note from William Henry. The members decided to request authorities at the home to let him visit here several weeks this summer.

Mrs. R. L. Kirk directed the worship program, "Whose Daughters Are Not Afraid." Mrs. Curt King led the program on "Women in Paths of Service." Under this topic Mrs. Howard Holt presented "Experiences of Women in the Netherlands"; Mrs. Freeman Garrett, "Women in Belgium"; Phyllis Foreman, a poem, "Valiant Heart"; Mrs. H. W. Ragan, "Daughters in France"; Miss Foreman, "Daughters in England"; Miss Georgia Hurlhey, "Daughters in the Philippines." "I Need Thee Every Hour" was the song sung by the group and Mrs. King voiced the closing prayer.

Members present were Mesdames Rufus Bolerjack, Freeman Garrett, Leroy Hartman, Howard Holt, King, R. L. Kirk, H. D. Mayberry, J. D. Mayberry, J. H. Sharp, Pearl Teeter, Lloyd Morgan, Misses Edith Eggleston, Phyllis Foreman, Georgia Hurlhey, Anna Tevis and the hostesses, Misses Caldwell and Mason. Visitors present were Mrs. D. A. Caldwell, Mrs. H. W. Ragan, Misses Marie Pincley and Mary Elizabeth Turner.

Mrs. Leroy Hartman and Miss Hurlhey will be hostesses for the June meeting.

Luncheon Guests

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Shradler entertained guests for luncheon Friday at their country home.

Plates were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Albers, Ed Harbert, Dumas, Miss Ruby Kay Davis, San Mateo, Calif., and the host and hostess.

New Action Thriller Depicts Trucker's Danger-Packed Life

The rarely publicized daring of the men who drive America's giant cargo trucks—their dangerous living and loving—has been brought to the screen in a film that is said to have excitingly captured all the action-packed adventure inherent in that perilous occupation.

The picture is the latest Pine-Thomas production for Paramount, "Speed to Spare," and it arrives next Sunday at the Per-tex Theatre with Richard Arlen and Jean Rogers heading a top flight cast.

The tense story of our iron-nerved truckers is told in the adventures of dare-devil Cliff Jordan, played by the ever-popular Dick Arlen. Cliff is an exhibition driver, crashing cars through fire for the enjoyment of thrill-hungry spectators, until he accepts a dare to quit his reckless life and settle down on a job with a trucking concern managed by an old friend.

A cocky guy with a way with women, Cliff soon makes two enemies among his fellow drivers, taking over one's run and attempting to take over the other's. The replaced driver is bent on revenge, and his sabotaging of Cliff's rig leads to such pulse-pounding scenes as that of a huge truck speeding along the highway with a flaming tire and a runaway trailer racing crazily downhill until it plunges off the side of a mountain.

But Cliff, himself, is partly responsible for the suspense-packed accident which explosively climaxes the film. He criminally accepts a bribe to carry an illegal load of chemicals. The night of the trip, he is knocked out by his jealous rival, and his pal takes his run. The truck again has been sabotaged and, despite Cliff's frantic effort to catch up with him, his pal is killed in the terrific explosion which completely demolishes the freighter. Cliff punches the saboteur into a confession, and they both go off to prison.

Richard Travis, Roscoe Karns, Nannette Parks and Pat Phefan head the supporting cast of FORT APACHE—John Wayne, Henry Fonda, Shirley Temple and George O'Brien star in the film, "Fort Apache," which comes to the Ellis on Sun.-Tues., May 16-18. The story is a thrilling account of Indian fighting days in the old West, specifically the heroism of early U. S. Cavalry troops.

'My Girl Tisa' Is Story of Two Worlds

The old world meets the new in "My Girl Tisa," which comes to the Ellis on Wed.-Thurs., May 19-20. It is a richly peopled romantic-drama told against a colorful backdrop of New York at the turn of the century.

Basically it is the simple story of Tisa (Miss Palmer), who is fresh to these shores, and who works overtime in a sweatshop to save enough money to pay for her father's passage from Europe. She meets Mark (Wanamaker), an energetic young man of the neighborhood.

Dramatically the story takes form when Tisa becomes involved with a crooked ship's agent and (an arrangement by the enterprising Mark) is faced with deportation. The ending carries a punch when President Teddy Roosevelt meets the girl at Ellis Island and solves her problem.

Swedish Neutrality Critic Home

By LENNART STRID
Stockholm—To the Swedish government the traditional policy of strict neutrality in any international conflict is still good. It is obsolete. The Swedish minister of finance, Erik Wigforss, recently had to say in a speech on neutrality that the unity on neutrality is being broken.

west were equally "dangerous to this country."
The view, which is vigorously propounded by "Dagens Nyheter" and some other newspapers, is that Sweden's chances of escaping any new war are faint. The best course, according to these quarters, is to prepare military and political cooperation with the West in good time. Swedish defense, it is said, is based on the principle of delay till help from abroad arrives. "Why not acknowledge our friends and arrange for that help before the flood comes? After, it may be too late," the alliance enthusiasts say.
But there has been no panic here. Although 3,314 Swedes can immigrate to the United States each year, that quota has not

HOMES FOR AMERICANS

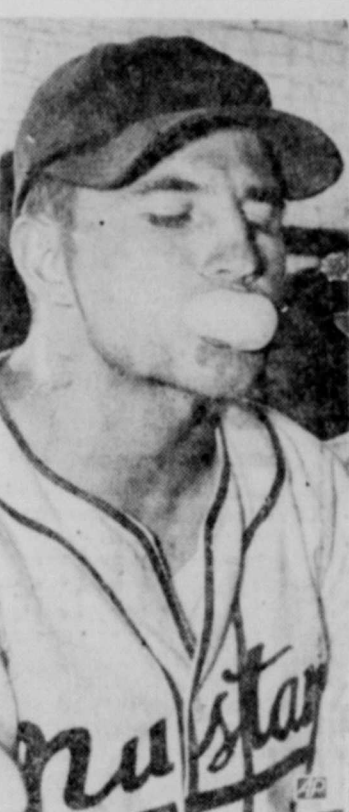

(P) Newsfeatures
A MODERN interpretation of Colonial tradition, this plan can be used on either a wide or narrow lot. Bertram A. Weber, 221 North La Salle St., Chicago, Ill., is the architect. He finds this style popular because it "imparts an air of grace and dignity to any site." Plan W-500, this house includes six good sized rooms in approximately 1,300 square feet, exclusive of porch and garage.

A part basement accommodates heating plant and laundry. AMONG MAJOR specifications, the architect suggests an exterior of common brick, painted white with green shutters and a black asphalt shingle roof. The plan offers interesting possibilities for orientation. As shown here, a location on the east side of a street would give the house morning sun in kitchen and dining room, with a southwest exposure for living room. The open plan of living and dining areas provides an unbroken width of 30 ft.

Puts Bite on Wolves

TULSA, Okla. (P)—J. D. Bradshaw credits his seven greyhounds with the success of his northeastern Oklahoma "wolf extermination" service. "My hounds," he says, "can snap the life right out of the biggest wolf that roams."

Bradshaw doesn't charge for his service. Neither does he collect the $250 bounty the state pays for each wolf bagged. With him, it's a hobby. He began his hunting two years ago after a pack of wolves invaded his farm, mauling two calves and killing several young turkeys.

Bradshaw hunts the wolves in a pickup truck with a hinged tailboard which can be opened in the truck's cab. The dogs ride in the back. "I just drive around a ranch until I spot a wolf," he says. "Then I let the greyhounds out and they pick up the scent and that's all there is to it." He recently accounted for 20 wolves in less than that many trips.

Rogers Fund Aids Handicapped

NORMAN, Okla. (P)—Since 1939, when a $100,000 scholarship fund was established from a bequest by the late Will Rogers, 156 physically handicapped students at the University of Oklahoma have received financial assistance. Successful scholarship applicants—including the blind, crippled and deaf; those suffering from heart ailments and arrested tuberculosis—receive monthly sums ranging from $30 to $50. The amount is determined by the difference between the student's needs and resources.

Grants to students may be made as advances, loans or gifts. Most of them are approved under the third classification. The maximum amount given thus far under a regular scholarship was $1,545 during a four-year period. The lowest was $38.

The funds provide an annual income of about $6,400. Only the interest is expendable. The State Vocational Rehabilitation Division matches the Will Rogers scholarships, and usually supplies such aids as crutches, wheel chairs and glasses.

The program also is in operation in Texas and California, where the state universities aid handicapped students through Will Rogers funds.

'Met' Stars Aid Florence Orchestra

(P) Newsfeatures
NEW YORK — An American G I's promise to help rebuild the world famous symphony orchestra of Florence, Italy, is well on its way to fulfillment. Back in November, 1945 when the orchestra of the Maggio Musicale Fiorentino (May Music Festival of Florence) of the Teatro Comunale gave a farewell concert for American troops who had remained to attend the U. S. Army University there, the guest conductor was Sgt. Robert Lawrence of New York.

Sgt. Lawrence, a member of the Army University's music faculty, promised Pariso Votto, director of the Teatro Comunale (Municipal Theater), that when he returned to his native land he would strive to raise funds to replenish the percussion, and brass sections of the Florentine orchestra.

The instruments had been destroyed by a bomb. After two years of effort, Lawrence staged in New York a music festival starring some of the best known Italian artists now in the New York Metropolitan Opera. More than $10,000 was raised.

On a recent tour Lawrence appeared in Genoa where all four opera houses were destroyed by the war. His hopes now are for a concert in behalf of music of Genoa. He hopes that members of the Teatro Comunale Committee will give their services a gain.

Mrs. Pearl Teeter, accompanied by her niece, Doneva Chaney of Berger, went to Oklahoma City last week to visit with her sister, Mrs. Chas. E. Brown, who was seriously ill. They returned home Sunday and report Mrs. Brown's condition much improved.

Chauncey O'Brien, Amarillo, was in Amarillo Sunday to get Mrs. O'Brien, who spent the past week visiting her mother, Mrs. Emma Glasgow.

Veterans Hear Service Officers At Potluck Supper

A crowd of about 100 servicemen and their wives enjoyed the joint potluck supper of the local VFW and American Legion posts held at the VFW Hall Tuesday night.

Two out-of-town speakers spoke on service legislation and benefits. These speakers were J. C. Warner of Borger, manager of the Texas Employment Service there, and Jimmy Sanders, state service officer of the VFW.

Warner spoke on the responsibilities of the Employment Commission towards veterans, stating that veterans have a priority, wherever qualified, in all jobs the state office fills. He also mentioned the readjustment

Former McMullen Resident Dies May 10 in Dallas

Funeral services for Mrs. Ganie Redus, 75, a resident of Ochiltree County for 28 years until 1944, were held Monday (May 10) in Dallas, where she died the previous Friday. Burial was in Restland Memorial Park in Dallas.

With her husband, J. L. Redus, and two sons, Mrs. Redus moved to this county in 1916, settling on a farm in the McMullen community in the southwest part of the county. Mr. and Mrs. Redus moved later to a farm at the west edge of the county, eight miles east of Spearman in the Black community. They moved in 1944 to Vernon and thence to Dallas. Mrs. Redus had been ill for the last eight months. Surviving her are the husband and both sons, W. L. Redus, editorial writer for the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, and Dr. M. W. Redus, a professor in the department of religion at Southern Methodist University. Relatives in this county are E. A. Greevers and the W. R. Greevers.

Eight Fines for Traffic Violations in Month of April

There were eight traffic fines in the corporation court of Perryton during the month of April, a great decrease from court activity in March, when 28 traffic fines were levied.

Four persons were fined for wrong parking and four persons were fined for speeding during April.

The wrong parking fines, for $2 each, were levied against Carl Sargent, R. W. Stewart, Geo. S. Sargent and R. B. Cochran.

Speeding fines of $10 were given to Robert Stephenson, Ray Ratliff, Robert Forgy and Winston Barker.

You Need Hair To Be a Soldier

By FRANK CAREY (AP) Science Reporter

WASHINGTON—Complete baldness, bad breath and unusual fattiness were among little known causes of disqualification for U. S. military service during the war. Dr. Louis Carp, describing his experiences at New York's Grand Central Palace induction station, says. Men with such defects were turned down, because of the possibility of upsetting morale or exposing the men to ridicule. "Unshapely, very obese men with unusual fat distribution," he writes in the magazine Military Surgeon, "were not only bad potential risks, but they might come in for some chronic ribbing... Total (baldness) was not only unsightly but it could easily make a man the butt of a company." Tattooed men were okay, and Carp said the percentage of tattooed selectees "was considerably higher than is generally believed." Carp tells of one chap who had a black cat and the number 13 tattooed on his arm. "It had always been lucky for him," related the doc. "His most recent lucky episode occurred on Friday, April 13, 1945, when he was among a group of 13 doughfoots who escaped from a German prison camp." James McGregor, R. A. Harber, Dr. Roy K. Sanford, H. D. Meadows and Alton Boxwell left Tuesday for a fishing trip to Possum Kingdom. Mr. and Mrs. John Bolin were Mother's Day guests in the Keith Drum home at Beaver. Miss Kay Witt of Perryton was also a guest.

Home Demonstration Edition Of Herald Draws Praise

The Herald staff has received some nice compliments from Home Demonstration women on the April 29 issue, which was dedicated to the HD women who attended the District One convention in Perryton.

Mrs. Carl McDowell of Sunray, district vice-president, writes as follows, "On behalf of all Home Demonstration Club women of District One, I would like to tell you how very much we appreciate the paper that you dedicated to us. I am not sure, but believe that no other district in the state received an honor of this kind."

"I wish I could thank you, each member of your staff and the business men of Perryton personally, but since I cannot, I will tell you that I shall always think kindly of Perryton folks for being so nice to all of us.

"I appreciate your interest in rural people."

From Mrs. C. E. Terry, legislative chairman of the Texas Home Demonstration Association, comes this word: "I want to say a personal 'thank you' for the special edition of the Ochiltree County Herald which was published and given to the Home Demonstration women of District One. It was one of the nicest things that has ever been done for us. We all appreciate it, and think Perryton and Ochiltree county, the Ochiltree County Herald editor and staff are 'real folks.'"

Helen H. Swift, state Extension Service sociologist, thought so much of the paper that she asked Mrs. Virdie P. Wheeler, Ochiltree HD agent, to send some copies to the head offices in Washington.

Her letter, written to Mrs. Wheeler, stated "Yesterday I received the Home Demonstration issue of the Ochiltree County

Ochiltree County Ranks 47th in State for Criminal Convictions During Past 11 Years

Ochiltree county ranks 47th in the state of Texas in criminal convictions of the past 11 years, a study by Dr. R. C. Koeninger, sociology professor at Sam Houston State College, reveals. To gain this rank, the county had 10 convicts during this 11-year period.

Other neighboring counties have better records, and some have worse. Roberts county had one convict in 11 years, and ranks 10th in the state. Lipscomb had 6 convicts, ranking 23rd, while Hemphill had only 7 convicts and were ranked 26th.

Hansford county is way down the line, ranking 117th in the state, although they had only 11 criminal convictions in the past 11 years. Wheeler county had 51 convictions and that county ranks 123rd.

In the past 11 years there have been 26,231 criminal convictions in the state. The worst area in the state is the trans-Pecos region where El Paso, Hudspeth and Culberson counties show criminal convictions of 8.78, 12.01 and 16.93 per 1,000 of population from 1937 to 1947.

The state's average number of convictions per 1,000 of population is 3.39. Ochiltree county's average number of convictions per 1,000 of population is 2.37.

Three counties, Kenedy, Loving and McMullen have had no criminal convictions over the 11-year period.

Five counties have accounted for one-third of all criminals convicted in the eleven years. Harris, Dallas, Bexar, El Paso and Tarrant counties sent up 8,751 criminals.

The Koeninger study, in general, indicates a close correlation between crime and population density; in other words, there is more crime in big city areas than in rural districts.

Although all figures are for counties, cities can be assumed to be major factors. For example, the five top counties on the basis of criminal convictions are the counties in which Houston, Dallas, San Antonio, El Paso and Fort Worth are located.

Each of the five counties mentioned tops the average figure for convictions per county on a population basis. Tarrant county is the best of the five with its 4.84 convictions per 1,000 and El Paso the worst with 8.78 per 1,000.

Gas Masks in The Jungle

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—Bushworkers in northern Queensland have found one of the hazards of clearing tropical scrub is the pollen from a species of stinging nettle tree which causes hay fever and continuous sneezing. Texhoma Drops Perryton 8-4 in Second NPAA League Game

Perryton absorbed a 8-4 licking from Texhoma Sunday afternoon to drop from the undefeated ranks in the NPAA league, while Texhoma maintained their perfect record for the season.

Perryton collected 10 hits, but couldn't cash in on them, stranding 11 men on the bases during the game. They scored two runs the first inning and two more in the seventh, but couldn't catch up with Texhoma.

Chambers and Gyger, Perryton pitchers, led the batting for the locals. Chambers hit 2 for 3 while Gyger hit 1 for 2. Chambers also scored two runs, while Holland, Hergert each scored one.

Methodist Hour On May 16 to Present Dr. Smart

One of Methodism's outstanding scholars and teachers will be the Methodist Hour speaker on Sunday morning, May 16th. Dr. Wyatt Aiken Smart, Chaplain of Emory University, Associate Dean of the Candler School of Theology, Emory University, Georgia will speak on the subject "Ye Shall Know the Truth."

This sermon is one of the 1948 series of the METHODIST HOUR broadcasts on the theme "The Teachings of Jesus and the Present Scene."

WHALE EXPERT—Dr. Carl L. Hubbs of La Jolla, Calif., sits on his front porch and watch whales. From his home, located on top of a 300-ft cliff overhanging the Pacific, Dr. Hubbs has watched so many whales that he is now an authority on their habits.

Since 1914 Dr. Smart has been Professor of Biblical Theology at the Candler School of Theology. He is a graduate of Vanderbilt University, Union Theological Seminary and has received honorary degrees from Ohio Wesleyan University and Southern Methodist University. Dr. Smart is the author of many articles and books and was one of the feature speakers at the recent Ecumenical Conference held in Springfield, Mass.

This broadcast is a part of the April, May and June broadcasts of the METHODIST HOUR and will be heard over KGNC at 7:30 a. m. Sunday morning, May 16.

CHANGING INCOME SOURCES

What It Means:

Prospect of Trouble With U. S. Tax Budget

By ROBERT H. KIMMEL

WASHINGTON — The government has more money in its treasury than ever before in its history. At the same time many tax experts are predicting that financial trouble for the nation may be just around the corner. The reason, according to the experts, is as simple as Mama's household budget troubles.

For instance, they say Father may have a good salary when he and Mother make out the family budget for the coming year. They decide they can afford T-bone steaks twice a week. Despite the cost of T-bones, it appears there will be enough left of father's paycheck at the end of the year to buy mother a new evening gown. During the year father's salary is cut, unexpectedly. Nevertheless, the family has become accustomed to T-bone steaks and continues to eat them.

Besides, there have been unexpected doctor bills, and mother already has purchased her dress, charging it. So the family has to borrow money and go into debt to pay its bills and balance the budget. The Brookings Institution of Washington, which describes itself as an organization to aid constructively in the development of sound national policies, has just completed a study of the government's budget situation. Lewis H. Kimmel, the economist who wrote the report, says government finances are similar to household finances in this way:

Income must equal spending to balance the budget. Otherwise the government goes further in debt. There is no doubt this year's income will be greater than the year's expenses. Looking ahead to 1952, however, Kimmel sees this possibility:

National income may drop about 12 per cent (to around $175,000,000,000 a year) under 1947's national income. Federal, city and state expenses may continue at a high level because of demands for defense, education and other programs. Kimmel says the "probable" total of all government expenses may be around $43,000,000,000 (b).

This means 248 per cent (about one fourth) of national income will have to be paid to the government (city, state and federal) in taxes so it can meet its bills. This is about six per cent more of the national income than was paid in taxes in the last year, 1940. In dollars and cents the difference is more striking. Taxes totaled $14,300,000,000

(b) in 1940, compared with an estimated $43,000,000,000 in 1952. This was $110.42 for each person, or about $490 for each family of four in 1940. In 1952 it would be about $290 for each person or about $1,100 for a family of four.

This estimate is based on the 1947 tax rate. But a lot of new tax reduction plans have been proposed. Kimmel says if all these tax reduction proposals were approved by Congress, federal tax returns would be reduced a total of from $15,000,000,000 (b) to $18,000,000,000 (b) a year. (This estimate includes the $4,800,000,000 (b) cut approved this year by Congress. If even a portion of the proposed new reductions are approved in the next few years, and if there is a "recession," or a decline in the amount of money Americans earn and upon which they pay taxes, Kimmel estimates it might easily mean this:

Government spending would run about $10,000,000,000 (b) more than its income. The Treasury would go in the "red" that much. "Perhaps the best way of describing the fiscal situation of the years immediately before us is to say that it is highly precarious," Kimmel says.

Lost Heir—Lost Town

LONDON (AP) The ghost town of "Anstruther, Canada West," may yield the heir to an old Irish baronet—if anyone can find it. At stake is the Lynch-Blosse title, created in 1622, and dormant since 1942 when Sir Robert Lynch-Blosse, twelfth baronet, died. The title is claimed by Robert Cyril Lynch-Blosse, a distant cousin, but the home office declined to make it official on the grounds that lineage was in doubt. Someone with a better claim to the title is thought to be alive.

C. F. J. Hankinson, editor of DeBrett's Peerage, who is helping to run down both heir and town, said: "All that can be gathered from family records is that Francis, second son of the tenth baronet, who may have married and had children, died in this peculiar 'Anstruther, Canada West,' July 26, 1864. Maybe the town name was changed years ago. Maybe it was some fleeting settlement in North America in the early days, maybe it never existed and the records are all wrong. If anyone knows anything about Anstruther we haven't been able to find him."

If a handful of microscopically divided iron particles is exposed to air it will burst into flame.

Science Probes "Growth Vitamin"

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE

Science Reporter

AMES, Iowa—Ice cream and milk are good bets to be sure of getting the growth vitamin, B-2. They are better sources for humans than green peas or almonds workers in the Nutrition Laboratory at Iowa State College report.

Nutritionists know pretty well just how much of the different vitamins are contained in different foods. But just as important is the question of how much of those vitamins the human body is able to take out of the foods and use. Dr. Gladys Everson and associates at Iowa State have just finished such tests with Vitamin B-2, or riboflavin. Women students were the guinea pigs of the test. For several weeks they ate exact test diets. First, the diet had pure riboflavin along with the given amounts of fats, proteins, and carbohydrates.

Then in other studies, they ate the same amount of fats, proteins, and carbohydrates, but had ice cream, then frozen green peas, and then almonds as the source of B-2. Chemical tests showed that all three of these contain fair amounts of the B-2. Their bodies took out almost as much B-2 from the ice cream as they obtained when they had the pure B-2 vitamin. But only about 40 per cent of the B-2 in the peas and almonds was absorbed by their bodies. In those foods, riboflavin wasn't as available for use.

Dr. Everson now is trying to learn why. The difference may be due to differences in digestibility. Ice cream, a liquid dairy product, may be more easily and completely digested. Or the difference may be due to the way that the B-2 is chemically bound or held together in the different food stuffs. The laboratory also plans similar tests with other vitamins to determine which foods are most efficient sources of the vitamins.

Real Isolation

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—An abandoned hut in western New South Wales carried this unusual notice on its door for some years: "Twenty miles from a neighbor, 40 miles from a post office, 50 miles from a railway, 50 miles from a pub, 10 miles from wood and water, 1,000 miles from a city. Whoever finds this farm can have it. We hope they will settle down and help pioneer the west. We would do it ourselves only the missus wants to see life. She has left for the city. So have I."

Second Story Work On German Trains

BERLIN (AP)—Train robbery in postwar, disarmed Germany is more in the art of the second-story burglar than the wild west holdup man. In fact, one of the main weapons against train bandits is searchlights, which either put them to rout or make them prey to capture.

Powerful spotlights have recently been installed upon mail trains which travel from the major U. S. and British ports in Germany, Bremen and Hamburg, through the Russian occupation zone to Berlin.

The action was taken after such trains had become the major target of bandits because they were heavily laden with thousands of gift parcels mailed by U. S. and British citizens to relatives and friends in Germany.

The bandits operate slyly. They know where the trains travel slowly and there they mount them, and, while the cars are in motion, break open their doors and toss out the booty for accomplices to pick up along the rails. When the train slows down again, the robbers jump off. With their new searchlight equipment, amplified train guard personnel now light up the mail trains at stop stations and slow-speed stretches of their route.

The new lights recently helped them capture a bandit gang between Helmstedt and Magdeburg, in the Russian zone, and another at the Treptow station, in Berlin's Russian sector. The latter group had broken open mail cars when the lights were flashed upon them.

County Ball Tournery to be Held at Balko

The annual baseball tournament which is sponsored each year by the County Superintendents and Principals Club of Beaver county will be held this year at the Bethany Consolidated School, it has been announced.

The tournament will begin at 1 o'clock Monday afternoon, May 17, and will continue through Tuesday afternoon.

The Gate boys and Forgan boys are scheduled for the opening game and the second game Monday afternoon will be played at 2:30 o'clock between Balko and Beaver.

Semifinals start at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning and the finals will be played at 2 p. m. Tuesday.

There are six Beaver county teams entered and there is every reason to believe that this tournament will be a hotly-contested affair, judging from the reports of coaches over the county regarding their success.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Sheets and children, Guyton, Okla., were visitors in the Gene Cudd home Saturday evening.

Table Tennis is Dangerous Says Its "Tournament King"

Newsfeatures
SOUTH RIVER, N. J.—Don't laugh, but table tennis has its physical dangers, too.

Lou Pagliaro, who probably has played and won as many tournaments as any man alive, tells of how once during a crucial match, he came dashing in from about 20 feet beyond the table for a shot that barely cleared the net. Only trouble was he couldn't stop, and went sailing under the table.

"The same thing happened to a fellow in New England a couple of weeks ago," said Pagliaro, who put on a trick shot exhibition here. "He really flew under the table, but fortunately he got out without being hurt—except for a few scratches."

Pagliaro and his two partners, Henrietta Wright and Hamilton Canning, are touring the country in exhibition matches, and they put on a man sized show what with Lou playing himself. He madly dashes back and forth from one side of the table to the other, blasting cigarettes off the corners of the table (which is real sharpshooting—try it sometime).

Pagliaro says the game is no joke, either, and the demonstration seemed to bear him out. He and his partners played on a table that was in the middle of a basketball court, and at times the pace got so fast the rivals were whacking the ball back and forth at each other from the foul lines—no kidding.

Pagliaro, a short, dark-haired fellow, is a serious student of the game and has been for 18 years since he began his career in a New York City boys club.

Lou says that if you ever want to become a good player, you've got to have a good eye and some fast footwork. Then, he comments, about a year of practice and you learn to master the rudimentary strokes. That, of course, is only the beginning. The next step is to get to work on the more complicated strokes, after which you can call yourself a "good" player.

The feminine part of the team, Miss Wright, for example, says she has been a tournament and exhibition player for 10 years, but still has a great deal to learn. She says she has not completely mastered the science of the top and bottom spin.

The use of paper in the United States has doubled in the past ten years.

Calling Doctors Stevenson

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—Persons patronizing a new clinic here may ask for "Dr. Stevenson, please" or Dr. Stevenson—or—Dr. Stevenson. If they want a surgeon, Dr. Edward N. Stevenson or his twin brother, Dr. E. Malcolm Stevenson, would answer. Then there's Dr. Cleo W. Stevenson, their brother, who specializes in internal medicine.

The twin Doctors Stevenson have been confusing patients several years. Now Dr. Cleo has joined their clinic and it's a real family affair.

Fungus Aids Golf, Sculpture

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—A strange Australian fungus, commonly known as "blackfellow's bread," offers possibilities for sculptors—and golfers. This fungus, which is often turned over in lumps of 20 lb. or so, resembles potato when it is dug up and can be easily cut with a pocket knife, but when it has been dried in the sun it bakes into rocklike hardness. Whether the Australian aborigines actually ever ate it is doubtful.

Children in the Australian outback cut lumps of blackfellow's bread into the shape of a ball and use it for playing cricket. It has been claimed that golf balls made from the fungus are as good as the rubber ones. Small statues and ornaments carved from the fungus can be given a high polish after they have been dried in the sun.
