Stand Together Now—
There's Madmen Loose
They're Everywhere—
We'll Fight Some Day

"FORGIVE THEM," WERE THE last words of General Michael Collins fighting at the head of his staff against those who would destroy the Irish Free State. He was ambushed, he fought as he had always fought, the rebel assassins were beaten off and as he lay dying in the dust, his smoking revolver still clutched in his hand this young leader of the Irish people appealed to his fellow soldiers to be merciful to the Red gunmen who had snuffed out the candle of his life.

General Collins was worth more to the Irish Free State, to the people of Ireland and to the peace of the British Isles than all the radicals with murder in their hearts that have ever flourished in the Emerald Isle since the coming of St. Patrick centuries and centuries ago. He was only 30; before the coming of the Irish Free State he was the head of the republican army in Ireland and defied all the forces of the crown. He was one of the four delegates from Ireland who wrested the Irish Free State constitution from Lloyd George and the imperial government.

He was the soldier-genius of his people until victory had been won. He fought for the ratification of the Irish Free State treaty with all the power of eloquence of a Grattan or a Curran and won a remarkable victory at the polls when 400,000 of the 500,000 voters who participated in the election, cast their ballots for the treaty, the Irish Free State and independence within the empire for the Irish people. No man in Irish history for a hundred years had done as much to gain freedom for his people as this fiery young hotspur and soldier statesman who was shot to death by the madmen who recognized Eamonn De Valera, an American-Spaniard, and Ernest Childers, an Englishman to his fingertips, as their chieftains.

THERE IS AN EVIL GENIUS that has pursued Ireland for three centuries. It struck down Charles Stewart Parnell; it struck down John Redmond; it struck down Arthur Griffith, who had a genius for statecraft and was admittedly one of the foremost scholars of Europe.

Now the bullet of an assassin has sent to an early grave the dashing soldier and brilliant orator who helped to make the free state possible and upon whose shoulders had fallen the mantle of Arthur Griffith who died when his country and his people needed him the most. These irregulars or Irish republicans as they call themselves who follow the black flag of De Valera, have brought ruin to Ireland.

They have dashed aside the hopes of the Irish people. They have destroyed property since early spring time having a value of a hundred million dollars. They have reduced to ashes many of the historic buildings, with their easures in the leading cities of the island. And now only a miracle can save the Irish Free State to the people who have battled for independence and the right to rule themselves for three hundred years.

MICHAEL COLLINS DIED AT the very moment of victory. He died after having dispersed to the hills the last of the band of stragglers who had raised their rifles against their own people. He died when freedom needed him the most. He would have treated an Irish Free State that would have commanded the admiration of the world. He was only a boy when he became a champion of liberty and a fighting soldier for the independence of his people. And the millions of Irish who loved him will mourn him when they come to realize what they have lost.

Another dashing soldier and free lance, General Richard Mulcahy may succeed him. If so, this gallant lieutenant of the dead soldier statesman should give no heed to the dying words of the hero who is mourned today, not only in Ireland but by men with Celtic blood in their veins the world over. He should show no mercy to the guerillas who ambushed and assassinated Collins.

HE SHOULD SHOW NO MERCY to Eamonn De Valera or Ernest Childers. These are the men who are responsible for the deplorable

Strike Arbiters Seek Vainly for Road to Peace

Thursday Meeting Has Little Success; New Conferences Planned Today; Seniority Is Still Stumbling Block in Road to Peace; "We're All at Sea," Road Executive Says

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—"We are like bats: We can't see the way out,"——thus did the chief of one of the big five railroad brotherhoods describe the position in which the running trades found themselves tonight after their latest efforts to settle the shopmen's strike, now nearing the end of its eighth week.

Today peace negotiations centered on conerences between the brotherhood chiefs, cast as mediators, and the executives of more than a score of roads representing approximately 30 per cent of the rail mileage in the United States—conferences which were called to order after the association of railway executives yesterday had stoutly declined to yield to the seniority question but some of its members had indicated an interest in a suggestion that separate agreements might be possible.

19 Roads Represented.

Exactly 19 roads aggregating bout a quarter of the country's mileage, were represented when the days first session opened at the Yale club this morning. After the luncheon recess, during which the mediators reported back to the striking shopmen t the hotel Woodstock, several more executives slipped into the general conference, until more than 50 main lines and their subsidiaries were represented when the parley broke up shortly before 7 o'clock.

Firm On Seniority.

Although no official statements were issued regarding the results of today's parley, indications wer that the roads represented at the conferences were standing firm with those which had detailed no delegates on the decision of their association not to yield an inch on the demand that strikers be reinstated with full seniority rights.

Shawnee Shops to Be Filled

By Associated Press

SHAWNEE, Okla., Aug. 24.—Announcement of the coming here tomorrow of men from Chicago to fill the places made vacant by striking Rock Island shopmen, was made this morning by Alva McDonald, United States marshal, sent here to protect the lives and property of workers. Authorization for this announcement came through Dan Hickey of El Reno, Panhandle superintendent of the Rock Island, McDonald said.

The situation remained quiet this morning, the only new development being the employment of about 65 men brought here from Oklahoma City to work in the shops. About a score of men were brought here last night and put to work this morning.

City officials remained reticent regarding the strike, while United States Marshal McDonald said he believed the people of Shawnee were co-operating with him in spirit and with his force of about 100 deputies, could maintain order unless serious violence occurred.

Meeting Held.

Meetings of merchants and civic clubs were held last night, at which resolutions were adopted commending McDonald and his deputies in handling the situation. Meetings of several civic clubs also was scheduled for this afternoon.

Striking shopmen and their leaders have been closeted in secret meetings today, but nothing could be learned as to what transpired.

Bonus Bill Given Scant Attention

By Associated Press

WASHINGTON, August 24.—The soldier bonus bill received but little attention today in the senate. It was submerged under discussions of the coal and rail strikes and the Newberry case with a result that leaders do not now anticipate its passage before next week.

In the brief debate, Senator Underwood of Alabama, the democratic leader voiced his opposition to the measure with Senator Heflin, democrat of the same state, vigorously urging its passage.

PLENTY OF FUN FOR CROWD AT MAYFIELD RALLY

Judge Weldon and F. G. Swanson Clash

Approximately 300 people gathered on the Moore & Richolt lot Thursday night to take part in the last pre-election rally in Wichita Falls for Earle B. Mayfield, candidate for the United States senate. Former Senator J. W. Townsend, Judge H. F. Weldon and G. Clint Wood were the speakers of the evening and the crowd was kept in constant good humor by frequent tilts between the speakers and persons in the audience. This was particularly true when F. G. Swanson in the audience attempted to put in a few remarks in James E. Ferguson's favor, while Judge Weldon was speaking and ran into a veritable fusillade of Irish wit from the speaker. In fact, Judge Weldon kept the audience in an uproar for several minutes in his remarks that followed Mr. Swanson's first sally.

Townsend Speaks

G. Clint Wood, as chairman of the meeting, introduced Judge Townsend. The judge made a clean cut presentation of the Mayfield cause and his criticism of James E. Ferguson was confined to testimony offered during the impeachment proceedings at Austin. He said that he had known Earle B .Mayfield for many years and had known his father before him and that Earle B. Mayfield is a Christian gentleman. He said Mr. Mayfields' father was one of the old time southerners and a true Christian gentleman in every way. He said that he had never known of Earle Mayfield taking a drink or being a gambler and that those who sought to put out such a record for the candidate were besmearing the character of a good man and that their statements are without foundation.

The speaker declared that Mayfield may have played a game of poker back

Mysterious Man Whips Puzzling Pair When He Is Attacked In Street

A small riot followed an attempted kidnaping at the corner of Ninth and Travis street at 10 o'clock last night when two men were frightened off their victim by the explosion of a gun.

A man, the name of whom officers had not ascertained at an early hour this morning, was approached by two men just as he was boarding a street car and immediately after he had assisted a young woman and an elderly woman on the car.

According to C. C. Chapman, conductor of the car, they grabbed the man's gun before he could pull it and began scuffling with him. Meanwhile, it fell to the ground. When the young woman saw what was going on outside, she left the street car and rushed out.

The 10 or 15 passengers on the trolley also leaned over in their seats or ran to the windows to watch the fracas.

Then suddenly a gun exploded. The woman had picked it up off the ground and was brandishing it with quite an art. She was in the act of pulling down on one of the assailants when someone knocked the gun to the ground. It exploded as it left her hand, the bullet piercing the pavement.

Trolley passengers who had been eager eye-witnesses to the whole affair immediately left the windows. Those who could make no headway through the door found an outlet through the windows. Few loitered outside, but kept going when they hit the ground.

Bested in their scuffle, the two assailants, also frightened by the report from the gun, began a retreat on foot across the corner and up another avenue. The man who had been attacked recovered the gun and was about to shoot when Conductor Chapman advised against it.

After the men had fled, Conductor Chapman says the man who had been attacked turned and looked back as if hunting someone else.

"There were four of them," he said, according to Chapman.

Chapman says that he did not question the man, but that it was evident that both he and the woman knew what it was all about, and that they had expected action of some sort from them.

Sheriff Fred Smith, who was personally working on the case last night, will continue an investigation into the affair today.

Following the incident a report was turned into the police that a man had been killed, and it was also rumored that the man attacked had been kidnaped, and that a woman had been taken away with him in a Ford car. A Ford car was on the scene during the scuffle, but, according to Conductor Chapman it played no part in the episode.

"Jim Lied Like a Dog," Mayfield Asserts in Election Speech at Athens

By Associated Press.

ATHENS, Texas, Aug. 24.—Stopping here on his way to Corsicana to speak tonight in behalf of his candidacy for the democratic nomination for United States senate, Earle B. Mayfield denied the charge made by his opponent, James E. Ferguson, yesterday that he was seeking the Mexican vote by distributing circulars purporting to be reproductions of an editorial written by Mr. Ferguson in his newspaper.

"He simply got out a circular showing what he (Ferguson) said about the Mexicans and yesterday blamed it on me, "Mr. Mayfield said, "Jim Ferguson simply lied like a dog when he said it."

Mr. Fayfield said that although he had refrained heretofore from comparing his public record with Mr. Ferguson's he pointed out that they were both in office together at Austin, Mr. Ferguson as governor and Mr. Mayfield as railroad commissioner, asking "where is Ferguson now?"

"I am still there," he said.

Mr. Mayfield was asked by a man in the crowd how he stood on the labor question. He replied:

"I am opposed to the open shop or any other organization tending to destroy the efficiency of organized labor."

Answering another question he said that his labor record is "100 per cent."

OUSTER MOVE IN HOUSE REJECTED

Volstead Retained as Committee Head

By Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—The house swiftly struck from its record today a resolution presented by Representative Tinkham, republican, Massachusetts, calling upon Chairman Volstead, Minnesota, of the judiciary committee to resign his committee seat because aid was said to have been given him in his last campaign by the anti-saloon league.

As read by a clerk, the resolution provided that unless Mr. Volstead retired within fourteen days his seat on the committee which framed the prohibition enforcement act, would be declared vacant.

Mann Gets Busy.

Representative Mann, republican, Illinois, was on his feet immediately and moved that the proposal be tabled which would kill it, and the house laid it there with a shout of approval. Then Representative Dyer, of Missouri, a republican member of Mr. Volstead's committee, offered a motion to expunge the resolution from the Congressional Record and it went out by a vote of 141 to 3. The two New York democrats, Cullen and Carew, and Mr. Tinkham, made up the opposing trio.

Mr. Tinkham sat silent, taking no part in the brief debate preceding the elimination of his document.

BILL IN SENATE WOULD GIVE U. S. COAL SHAFTS

Profiteer War Is Also Advocated by Measure

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, August 24.—Government operation of the coal mines and federal control of coal distribution in such a manner as to prevent profiteering, were proposed in measures introduced today in the senate. Other developments in the coal and rail situation included:

Decision by the senate labor committee to substitute the Borah coal commission bill for the Winslow commission bill passed yesterday by the house.

Demands in the senate for prompt and drastic government action to end both the coal and rail strikes.

Announcements by Secretary Hoover that within a week daily bituminous coal production would be sufficient for the nations need, but that the country faced a shortage of freight cars which would be acute within a month.

A suggestion by Chairman Borah of the senate labor committee, that the authorities of other states follow the lead of Governor Miller of New York in dealing with their local coal situations.

A declaration by Chairman Cummins of the senate interstate commerce committee that congress, at its next session would take up industrial problems with a view to determining "what place unionism should occupy in the civilization of the United States."

Long Debates

A resolution empowering the president to take over and operate the mines was introduced by Senator Walsh, democrat of Massachusetts, after a long and heated senate debate and was referred to the senate interstate commerce committee. To this same committee was sent an administration bill offered by Senator Cummins, proposing to create a federal distribution agency, which, working through the interstate commerce commission, would control not only distribution of, but profiteering in coal. Chairman Cummins called a meeting of his committee for Saturday to consider the administration measure.

The senate is expected to act first on the Borah substitute for the Winslow bill, which Senator Borah plans to call up tomorrow. It proposes a committee of five members to investigate the whole coal industry and make recommendations to congress.

Strike-Breaker Reported Beaten

Police were notified of the affair, but when they arrived at the reported scene, were told that the man had been taken in charge by a physician and rushed to the hospital.

No trace of the injured man could be found and it is believed had suffered only minor injuries and after receiving medical attention, went to his home.

"Mayfield Passed Nine Times and Broke Up the Game," Says Ferguson

By Associated Press

ROCKWALL, Texas, Aug. 24.—Following his usual attack on the ku klux klan in his speech here this afternoon, former Governor Ferguson candidate for democratic nomination for United States senator, read a message from former President Woodrow Wilson in which the former president denied a charge of Rev. A. C. Parker, acknowledged Cyclops of the Dallas klan, that he had while president "handed out 85 per cent" of his appointments to Catholics.

Mr. Ferguson made no comment on the message, apparently letting the mere reading of it carry the point he wished to make.

Added to his usual attack on the klan, Mr. Ferguson said that this "hydro-headed monster of anarchy is crawling over this state" and that "the constitution written for us by our fathers is in danger." He again charged that his opponent, Earle B. Mayfield, is a member of the klan, reading a letter from A. B. Ellis, styled "grand dragon of the klan in the realm of Texas," to support his charge.

In another part of his address, Mr. Ferguson accused Mr. Mayfield of "drunkenness and immorality," claiming that while in Houston to attend a football game, Mr. Mayfield, "drank bootleg whiskey and passed nine times with his own dice, breaking the crowd."

The former governor denied the accusation by Mr. Fayfield that the disturbance during Mr. Ferguson's speech in Houston Monday night was "hatched up by Ferguson and his supporters."

conditions in Ireland today. These are the men who made peace impossible while their armed gunmen sought to overthrow constitutional government with bomb and torch and bullet. These are the men who made it possible for the return of English soldiers to Ireland and the restoration of the old regime with all its oppressions, all its horrors, all its tyranny and all its hideous memories.

Michael Collins spared the rebels when he fell in the hands of the men. He was merciful. He released them and told them to go and fight no more against their country and its government. For this they murdered him and for this De Valera should be in execration by the people of the Celtic race at home and abroad. Posing as an apostle of liberty, he has been the worst enemy the Irish have had since the black and tan soldier Hessians who fought for pay, murdered with impunity, looted without conscience and carried terrorism wherever they appeared. Peace did not come with the signing of the armistice. There are assassins everywhere throughout Europe. There are assassins or blood-thirsty murderers throughout the United States. There are apostles of hate everywhere. There are revolters everywhere.

ORGANIZED WARFARE MAY have been dissipated when the armistice was signed, but there has been a revolution on in every civilized land ever since. This is what militarism cost the world. This is what despotism cost the world. This is what the frightful carnival of blood and fire cost the world. Out of it came a civilization more idealistic, more sublime, than any that the world has ever known.

Civilizations perish when they are dead, but there is a wreck of worlds when a civilization is dying. There has been a wreck of empires and a crumbling of dynasties in recent years. Indeed, the map of the world has been changed and now from the far east comes the news that Japan and Russia are planning a treaty pact and those who have a vision and realize that the day will come when Germany and Russia and Japan will constitute the most formidable three-power pact that the world has known.

There is history in the making all the time. They are making it in Ireland. They are making it in France. They are making it in Germany. They are making it in Russia. They are making it in China. They are making it in Japan. And yet in the English-speaking world men are fighting over narrow creeds and racial hates when the day may come when all the English families of peoples or nations may be compelled to stand together and perhaps die together for the best that there is in Caucasian civilization.

GERMANY MAY BE FORCED into the hairy arms of Russia and the wily Jap, knowing that there is a new world to conquer in an economic sense will be there when the Teuton and the Slav prepare to march hand in hand down the corridors of the future.

There is an open lane on land and sea from the Rhine to the palaces of the mikado. There is India with all its wealth. There is China with undeveloped resources, mineral and otherwise, that is staggering to the mind. There is Siberia which could be made the granary of the world and feed all of Asia. Some day the English-speaking white man will come out of his trance. His right to rule the world is going to be challenged. Then the tribes of men who recognize English as their mother tongue may forget their narrow creeds, their man-made dogmas, their superstitions, their blind prejudices and their mockery of what Woodrow Wilson once defined as universal justice.

Labor Scores Kellogg Bill

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Labor continued its attack today before the senate foreign relations committee on the Kellogg bill, under which federal courts would be given jurisdiction over aliens as recommended by President Harding in his recent message to congress.

Arthur J. Lovell, vice president of the brotherhood of locomotive firemen and enginemen, declared enactment of the measure would put the federal government in strike breaking on a "national scale." Other representatives of railroad labor organizations attacked the bill as unconstitutional and "vicious."

in his younger days, but if he had he now has developed into a fine statesman. He asked everybody in the audience who is qualified to hold office and has not played cards at all to hold up their hands. Not a hand went up.

All About Flowers

Judge Townsend told of the flower incident about which he said he had been joked considerably. He said he pleaded guilty to buying the flowers for Earle B. Mayfield when the candidate spoke here, but said he bought them at the suggestion of the president of the Womans Civic league and simply ordered the flowers over the telephone and guaranteed that they would be paid for. Judge Townsend closed his speech by a close analysis of James E. Ferguson's career. He said he is the last man in the world to try and hold a man down and that he likes to see a man come back, but that the public cannot afford to let Jim Ferguson come back into office. He then quoted from the record evidence brought out at the Ferguson impeachment and declared it is not a fact that the office of governor was stolen from Jim Ferguson by prohibitionists. He showed from the record the names of eight anti-prohibitionists who voted to impeach Ferguson. He also quoted from the records evidence on which the former governor was impeached and said that evidence was clear that Ferguson has abused the people's trust and had been dishonest in his conduct of the office. At no time did Judge Townsend's speech contain any element of criticism beyond the quotation of evidence contained in the record.

Swanson Talks

It was during Judge Townsend's speech that Mr. Swanson first talked from the audience as a supporter of Mr. Ferguson. It was an attempt to deny certain evidence in the record. Judge Townsend answered him by saying the vote of a jury of the senate including eight anti-prohibitionists believed the evidence.

Before introducing Judge Weldon, Mr. Wood took occasion to say that he had been ridiculed by C. C. McDonald in a speech several nights ago when a new well known incident of the first Mayfield meeting here was brought up. He said while the remarks of Mr. McDonald were rather personal that he would forgive him for making them.

Judge Weldon's speech sparkled with wit. It contained enough native Irish wit to keep the audience laughing a greater part of the time. He did not fail to flay James E. Ferguson. He said Ferguson is making an issue of the klan. He said Ferguson is making a grave mistake there. He gave several reasons why he said Ferguson is fighting the ku klux klan and one of them is, he said, Ferguson knows that he, Ferguson, can not become a member. He pleaded the cause of Mayfield as a good man and a good democrat. He made light of the criticism of Mayfield for drinking liquor and playing poker. He said he did not know that Mayfield had done these things, but that if he had then he had done no more than many other good men had done in their day. He took occasion to say that he himself is an anti-prohibitionist, but has never taken a drink of whiskey in his life. He said, however, that since prohibition is in effect it should be thoroughly tried out and that James E. Ferguson is just fooling the people when he says he can put it out of commission. He said he would vote the prohibition ticket if he had to vote on it now because he thinks the people should try prohibition out.

"I am not for light wines and beer if I am a Ferguson man," Mr. Swanson said from the audience.

"No," came back the reply from the speaker, "you want yours strong." Then for several minutes the speaker devoted his talk to witticisms at the expense of Mr. Swanson and the audience laughed heartily.

Judge Weldon, in closing his talk, thanked the people who came out and all the people in Wichita Falls who will vote for Mayfield for the senate.

China Wants U. S. To Finance Debts

By Associated Press.

SHANGHAI, China, Aug. 25.—Sun Yat Sen, former president of China, and later of South China, who has been leading conferences here on plans to reunify the country, today outlined a plan to rehabilitate China's finances by having America take over China's debts to European countries on a refunding basis, as part payment on European debts to the United States.

CHARMING AND CAPTIVATING ARE THE NEW FALL HATS

Black—and again black. That's a hint to be mostly followed. And it's an artful bit of fashions' planning that black hats are smartest when they droop a bit—for nothing's more flattering than the drooping brim.

Novelty feathers, buckles and metallic braids lend their brilliancy to the vogue of black. These lustrous fabrics are an important feature of all fall fashions.

$1,000 Reward

To any member of Fred Smith's campaign committee who can prove to the Editor of the Record News that Pat W. Murphy ever deserted his family or left them destitute as has been surreptitiously charged.

This is our answer to the slimy slanders which have been freely circulated against Pat Murphy.

FRED SMITH'S ROCKY ROAD

It has been charged that Pat Murphy entered into a conspiracy to defraud the county for the benefit of certain well known citizens of Wichita county in the rock contracts for our highways.

Before Pat Murphy would issue the warrant for $100,000 upon a contract which was executed by the commissioners court he (Pat Murphy) insisted that the individuals above referred to file with the county clerk an indemnity bond for $100,000.00. This bond protects the tax payers against the loss of a dime! ! !

LISTEN TO THIS

If Pat Murphy, assisted by Fred Weeks, had not brought the old road contract out into the light of day and compelled the commissioners court to change it Wichita county would have today only 44 miles of concrete road for two million ninety thousand dollars.

INSTEAD we have now 67 miles of concrete and 22 miles of gravel road at a cost of less than two million ninety thousand dolllars! ! !

Does this show that Pat Murphy can be trusted to safeguard the best interests of our people?

We still repeat:—

Saturday's Primary Sets 'Em All to Guessing About Results

SOME EXPECT BIGGER VOTE

Others Say Many Won't Cast Ballot

Saturday's run-off primary has all the political prognosticators guessing. They are up a tree, so to speak, with the hounds yelping and barking below.

There are those who say there will be a heavier vote cast in the run-off election than in the first primary.

They say that personal animosity has been aroused and that the mud-slinging campaign tactics used in many cases has worked the voters to a fever heat.

They claim this to be especially true in the senatorial race. It is claimed that in the county election the candidates have campaigned harder than they did before the run-off and that each candidate has enlisted more supporters from the supporters of those defeated in the first election.

On the other hand there are some close observers of the political situation who say there will not be nearly so many votes cast in the run off as in the first primary.

There are known to be many local men outspoken on the matter in the senatorial race, especially. They say they will not vote for either candidate in the race. Hundreds of persons who supported Culberson, Ousley or Thomas in the first race will refuse to vote at all rather than vote for Mayfield or Ferguson, it is said.

Many Not to Vote

It is also claimed by some of the political observers that while some people who voted for the other candidates will vote for either Ferguson or Mayfield, that there are many persons who voted for one of the two candidates in the first primary who will not vote for either in the run off. The campaign has revealed many things, they say, and on close analysis of the two candidates they will not vote for either of the two.

Incidentally the republicans not only locally, but all over the state, say the republican candidate for United States senator will poll the largest vote a republican candidate for the same office ever pulled in Texas, when the general election comes. The voting capacity of Wichita county, including Wichita Falls, is 11,790. The voting strength of each box is as follows:

	Poll Taxes	Exemptions	Total Voters
1	389	28	417
2	563	37	600
3	294	26	320

97 VOTES FILED BY ABSENTEES HERE

A total of 97 votes have been filed with County Clerk W. T. Harris under the absentee law, according to a tabulation made in the clerk's office late yesterday afternoon.

Officials of the clerk's department expressed themselves yesterday as believing that when the final count is made that there will be even a much larger list of votes cast under the absentee law than during the first primary, this indicating much more interest in the second race than in the first.

MRS. ROBERTS HURT IN CRASH

Car Skids and Turns Over in Ditch

Pinned beneath an automobile when it turned over on the old lake road near the Downing swimming pool, Mrs. W. Roberts, living on San Antonio street, suffered injuries early Thursday night which may prove serious. She was badly bruised and cut and attending physicians were of the opinion after an examination that she had sustained internal injuries.

Mr. Roberts was badly cut about the hands in the accident and a 10-year-old daughter. Marie, sustained injuries about the back. Neither of these are regarded as serious, however.

The accident occurred about 9 o'clock and was caused by the machine skidding off the road and overturning in a deep ditch at the side. What caused the car to skid is not known.

Other motorists passing aided in extracting Mrs. Roberts from the machine and she was hurried to her home. Dr. W. W. Swartz was summoned and after an examination issued a statement to the effect that the injuries might be serious.

The Roberts car was not damaged to any great extent in the mishap.

RED GIBBS ASKS VOTERS SUPPORT

Leader in Primary Working Hard

Continued support in the second primary is asked by O. L. (Red) Gibbs from his friends who piled up a commanding lead for him in the July primary, as well as support from those whose first choice is not in the second race, in a statement issued by Gibbs yesterday afternoon.

In seeking the office to which he was almost elected by a clear majority over a field of three opponents, Gibbs is depending solely on his qualifications for the office, and his pledge to his friends and supporters of an honest, efficient and active administration of the duties of this office. Although he has made an effort to see every voter in the time between the two primaries, the necessity of working has prevented his making a complete canvass, and he takes this method of appealing to the voters whom he has not seen to give him and his qualifications for the office a careful consideration when visiting the polls

Mayfield Club Formed at Burk

Special to The Record News.

BURKBURNETT, Aug. 24.—On Tuesday afternoon the ladies of the city were called to meet at the Methodist church for the organization of a Mayfield club under the chairmanship of Mrs. W. D. Utts. About 100 ladies were in attendance. Addresses were made by S. A. L. Morgan, E. H. Gipson, Mrs. M. M. Adickes of Wichita Falls; Rev. C. D. Montgomery and Mrs. Lulu Majors of Burkburnett. Mrs. Guest and James Avis of Wichita Falls were also present. The support of Mr. Mayfield was urged mainly on the prohibition issue as compared with Mr. Ferguson on his light wine and beer plank.

The name of W. W. (Pat) Murphy was given general favor as against Fred Smith, the former having been endorsed by the Citizens' association of Burkburnett early in the campaign.

C. J. (DAD) ARRINGTON Makes Final Appeal to Voters

I take this means of thanking my friends for their support in the first primary and of urging them to stand by me this time. I have lived in this city for many years and during part of that time served you in the capacity of Justice of the Peace. I tried to give you the best service I knew how to give and promise if elected to this position at this time will likewise render the same courteous and faithful service.

As many of the voters of this precinct know, I am an old man of more than 67 summers, while my opponent is a young man with a good position with the traction company and with steady pay. I need this office and believe with the experience that I have had in this position can best render service to the public.

This will probably be your last chance to vote for me. I never expect to ask you for your suffrage again while my opponent can have this position and office after I have passed on.

So friends come out on the 26th and cast your ballot for me and make me the happiest man in Wichita Falls, and I will do my best to make you the happiest people.

Local Citizens Indorse Parnell for Representative

TO THE VOTERS OF WICHITA COUNTY:

We know that it is of the most vital importance to the citizens of Wichita county that careful consideration should be given to the selection of its representatives in the Texas legislature to the end that they be thoroughly qualified and capable and especially fitted for this position. We therefore submit to the voters of the county our indorsement of J. D. Parnell, and do so after having carefully investigated his record while he was a member of the legislature from this district in 1919 and 1920. Many matters of importance to this county and district were before that body during those two years, among them the oil legislation, the amendments to the irrigation laws, the appropriation for the completion of the North Texas Insane Asylum and many other matters of importance to this county and district. We have found that his efforts in the interest of his constituency were untiring and were entirely satisfactory and successful. There will be many important measures before the legislature which will convene in January of 1923, and we feel that his experience and ability will enable him to more thoroughly represent us.

In commending him to the voters of Wichita county we do so only in the spirit of fair mindedness and we feel in the best interest of the county. We know that he will be fair minded on all questions and always alert and active in the interest of the people of this county.

A LESSON FROM VERNON

WILBARGER county is going to have a get-together barbecue and picnic at Vernon today. There will be no political speaking at the picnic and the avowed purpose is to bring the people of the county together in friendly meeting where all differences will be forgotten, for the time being at least, and they can commune as friends and neighbors, all pulling for the common good.

Every city and county in Texas, and for that matter over the entire nation, should have at least one such picnic as Wilbarger county is going to hold once each year. It will be one of the greatest influences for good that can be imagined. It will remind the people that they are here on earth to live as friends and neighbors and that though they may have different ideas on political and other questiones, that when it comes down to bedrock they are all serving one God and one country.

Perhaps no year in the political history of the country has wrought so much bitterness as has the year now passing. Friend has been turned against friend and brother against brother in many cases and over nothing more than differences of opinion. That the people of Wilbarger county have seen fit to get together and be friends, forgetting their differences, shows that the people of Wilbarger county are far-sighted and strong in their desire to do the right thing. People like that never go far wrong.

Coming together as brothers as they are going to do in Wilbarger county brings to mind those times in bible history when the good people gathered for feasting and praising their God for the blessings given them.

PEACE IN THE COAL FIELDS

DISPATCHES from the coal fields Wednesday told how mothers wiped tears from their eyes when they heard the music of the "back to work" whistles. Those back to work whistles in the coal fields have more than likely made more hearts glad than anything since the armistice. The blowing of the whistles mean there will be hundreds of aching hearts among the mothers, who are wives of miners, comforted because they know their children will get bread and clothes and there will be thousands of mothers' hearts comforted out in the big cities away from the coal fields because they know their children will not suffer from cold during the winter to come.

Peace in the coal field! That simple announcement should bring joy to every heart. It means, besides bread and meat for thousands, warmth for millions. But above all it means that there is peace and, we hope, good will among our people where for many months there has been hate.

If the railroad strike can only be settled then the entire nation will have cause to pause, every man in his track, and thank God for the blessing that has been bestowed upon our land.

THE ROAD TO BURK

WHEN a kid is really tickled about something he exclaims "hot dawg." Official notice has been given that the road to and through Burkburnett to Red river has been completed and will soon be open for travel. "Hot dawg."

Every time another good road is built just that much is added to civilization. Good roads are among the strongest factors in civilization. Do you know why? Because they enable people to travel more; they allow neighbors to visit oftener; they allow people from this town to make trips to the people of that town and become friends; they develop land because they furnish an outlet by automobile or wagon and to railroad stations for products; they cause the farmer to go to town oftener to mix with the town people and they enable the townsman to go to the country oftener and buy the farmer's chickens, vegetables, eggs and drink his buttermilk, besides pausing to discuss the questions of the day and say "come to see me when you are in town." In fact good roads, next to churches and schools and hospitals and orphanages, do more for the country than anything else.

THAT MISSISSIPPI RACE

JAMES K. VARDAMAN had a plurality in Mississippi but not a majority. Now he must face 15,000 voters in a run-off who preferred a woman senator in the first primary. It looks like Editor Jim will go over in Mississippi.

GETTING ACTION

JOHNSTOWN is dry again. Mayor Caulfield's edict that the saloons could sell real beer remained in force 24 hours. Then the joy ended. Then the lid was clamped down.

The mayor had played a great joke on all concerned. He is perfectly satisfied. He knows that one man can not clean up the town. He knew the wet conditions before he issued his order. He had asked the church people for aid, he said. and they winked the other eye. Enforcement officers were blind. He had to do something. There were hundreds of hell holes selling poison over their bars.

He pulled the joke and got action. National enforcement officers rushed in. Local enforcement officers were fired. Now there is to be a general clean-up of the hell holes. And the joker says they can't impeach him for he told the saloons they could sell beer if they kept within the law. They overlooked the joke but the joker got action. He was a first pager in every town between the two oceans. He placed Johnstown on the map for 24 hours.

There must have been oceans of real beer gulped down by the thirsty while the lid was off. Now they must go to their hell holes again for their poison or drink water. Of course there is another alternative. All the Johnstown citizens who love booze and have the money are privileged to go to New York, take passage on American ocean palaces and drink their fill after the wet vessels are beyond the three-mile limit. Those who haven't the money are privileged to remain at home and do business with the makers of poisons who are known as rum runners. Many things happen in dog days in this old land of ours.

ROBINSON AND JEFFERSON

SENATOR JOSEPH T. ROBINSON of Arkansas is one of the ablest of democratic leaders. He was permanent chairman of the San Francisco convention that nominated James M. Cox for president but Robinson could not help it.

He has answered the question, "What is the matter with congress?" This is his diagnosis: A fanatical tendency toward excessive lawmaking. During the last session of congress 16,170 bills were introduced in the house and 5,052 in the senate, making a total of 21,222, not counting about 2,000 resolutions. Senator Robinson thinks that it is entirely too much law for one land.

And so it is but there are thousands of self-elected reformers to be found in each of the 48 commonwealths and each reformer is stuffed to the nozzle with cranky ideas and would embody one cranky idea in each bill which he has outlined in his brain pan.

Snator Robinson would repeal unnecessary, vexatious and admittedly unpopular statutes; he would simplify all laws in force; he would rigidly and impartially enforce all statutes; he would create higher standards of public duty for citizen and official; he would set up just industrial tribunals to adjust disputes before strikes occur; he would launch a nation-wide campaign to define the administration of justice as the surest way to stabilize our civilization and perpetuate high ideals in American citizenship.

Senator Robinson must be going back to Jefferson. All his suggestions for the restoration of a whole-hearted confidence in the government were recommended by the Sage of Monticello decades before Arkansas found a place on the map of America.

OIL AND HELL

THERE is said to be another revolution on the way in the Mexican state of Tabasco. There are newly opened oil fields in that state, and the bandits are said to be very bold. Wherever there is oil in Mexico there is hell. The so-called bandits are in close touch with the concessionaires.

President Obregon should adopt the Diaz policy. He should turn his soldiers loose and shoot the bandits without trial. And the next time he lays hold of General Felix Diaz, the unworthy nephew of a great soldier and statesman, he should give the instructions to make short work of this gaudy Aztec politician. There was only one Diaz worth while and he is dead.

Rippling Rhymes

FAR AWAY

Jinks insists that being settled doesn't pay; like a charger, fierce and mettled, he would stray; for the hills are always greener, and the winds are sweeter, cleaner, and thy dish up better wiener, far away. Life in Pruneville every voter is a jay; and the chap with is all of baling prairie hay; there are towns where lights are glowing, and the better films are showing, and the sports their coins are blowing, far away. Here in Pruneville every voter isa jay; and the chap with henry motor thinks he's gay; there are towns where things are humming, and there is no muffled drumming, and all men are up and coming, far away. Jinks is gazing over yondet, every day; and he'd like to roam and wander, to Cathay; for the wanderlust besets him, and the dull existence frets him, and the distance always gets him, far away. We old fogies, mossencrusted, checkers play; we are heeled and Jinks is busted, so men say; here at home, in manner fitting, we've attended to our knitting, while our neighbor Jinks was flitting, far away. Jinks must dream of places distant, where he'd stay; when his yearning grows insistent, he'll obey; for he says the stars are brighter, and the business men are whiter, and the flappers are politer far away.

LESSON No. 52.
THE WAVE METER.

One of the most important instruments used by radio engineers, inspectors and experiments is the wave meter. The name itself indicates that the wave meter is an instrument employed to measure the length of the other wave emitted by a radio transmitter or the length of the other wave which a receiving set is tuned.

In a given oscillating circuit, that is, a circuit containing inductance and capacity in which oscillations occur as a result of the discharge of the condenser through the inductance coil, the size of the condenser and the size of the inductance coils determine frequency with which the condenser discharges through the circuit. If we know the frequency of the current flowing in a circuit we may determine the wave length of the circuit from simple relation, wave length equals the rate which the waves travel, divided by the frequency.

Therefore a circuit of known capacity and known inductance has a known frequency, hence a known wave length. A wave meter consists of a circuit containing a condenser and an inductance coil, the combination of these two elements resulting in a circuit of known frequency or known wavelength. If either the condenser or inductance coil is made variable the wave length of the wave meter is changed, the greater the value of inductance or capacity the longer the wave length and the smaller the values of inductance or capacity the shorter the wavelength.

The Wave Meter

In most wave meters the inductance coil is of fixed value and the condenser is of the variable type.

The wavelengths for the different settings of the condenser may be marked directly on the condenser scale or the scale may be marked only in degrees and the wavelength obtained from a chart. This chart shows the values of wavelenghts corresponding to the condenser settings in the form of a graph.

In determining the wavelength to transmitting station the transmitter is placed in operation and the wave meter shown in Figure 1 brought within a few feet of the ground lead. The condenser is varied until maximum deflection is noted on the thermo ammeter which means that the wave meter is adjusted to resonance, i. e., the same wave length as the transmitter. The desired for that purpose. This method may be employed in tuning either spark transmitters or continuous wave transmitters and is preferable to the audibility method sometimes used.

In determining the wavelength to which a receiving system is adjusted the wave meter shown in Figure 2 is brought close to the ground lead at a point remote from the receiving set itself. With the receiver adjusted to the incoming signal the buzzer of the wave meter is set into operation and the condenser of the wave meter varied until the maximum sound from the buzzer is heard in the telephones, which indicates that resonance has been obtained. The desired wavelength is then read from the chart provided with the wave meter for that purpose.

Received on a Motor Truck.

The special radio concert broadcasted from Schenectady for the entertainment of the passengers on the Lackawanna train was also heard by the driver of a motor truck.

Installed on the truck was a radiophone receiving set which reproduced the music while the truck was being driven from a nearby town to the city.

Pleats Are the Keynote of This Kiddy's Frock

To make this dear little pleated frock join two widths of material. Cut it the length from shoulder to hem, allowing two inches for the hem. Baste in groups of pleats from the front center to within nine inches of the seams. Pleat back and front. Now lay on your pattern or follow the diagram in the upper left-hand corner of the illustration. Cut away the shaded parts. Pleat in the part from "A" to "B" to fit around the little one's waist. Make eyelets at each side of each group of pleats. Run ribbon or velvet through the eyelets. Finish with perky little bows on each shoulder and at the bottom of each set-in sleeve. It would be lovely to have a hat to match this pleated frock. FLORA.

FASHIONS

Collar and Cuffs of This Smart Straight-Line Frock Are Interesting

Circular skirts may come and draperies go, but the straight line goes on forever. No great author said this, but it is true. It might properly be applied to the style situation during the past four or five years, and unquestionably it holds true for the season immediately ahead.

Practically every new season witnesses a little flurry of more or less bizarre styles, but as the weeks pass the freakish and bizarre models gradually take their place on the special sale racks and the conservative, becoming, smart, straight line suits and dresses find themselves firmly entrenched.

Designers and manufacturers of dresses have "batted" the draped and circular models about in a most amazing and interesting way this season. Some of the highest class houses have disclaimed interest in either, saying they would let the cheaper manufacturers play with these things. Some of the latter have declared bizarre styles were for the high grade houses only, and that makers of garments to be sold at medium and low prices should adhere to conservative styles!

The straight line garment is always smart and always in good taste. This is particularly true now that longer skirts are holding the center of the stage.

The sketch features a smart frock of heavy silk crepe that is particularly interesting because of its cuffs and collar. The former are of the gauntlet type, and the latter a soft stock, both being of self-fabric. Gauntlet cuffs are very much approved for the coming season, the gauntlet type of glove also being one of the leaders.

This dress is trimmed with panels formed of rows of silk braid tinted and stitched on so as to simulate ladder tucks. The girdle, placed at slightly below normal waist line, is of pleated self-fabric. A buckle made of the pleated braid fastens it.

Little Stories For Bedtime

BOWSER, THE HOUND, CRIES FOR HELP

Farmer Brown's Boy was very much excited. Yes sir, he was. You see, he never before had set a trap for a wolf and somehow it seemed to him it would be a great thing to catch Old Man Coyote. So he was up very early that morning to visit the traps he set.

"I almost know I have got him," said he, as he started forth with his terrible gun over his shoulder. "I know he was in his house when I set those traps, and with a trap hidden at each entrance he couldn't possibly get out without stepping in one. I think I'll have his skin made into a mat for my room. Hello, Bowser, old fellow! Shall we go get him now?"

As he spoke he stooped and unchained Bowser the Hound. Bowser shook himself, licked his master's hand, and then started to trot ahead on the way to the Green Meadows, for he knew perfectly well where they were going. It was just at that very minute that there was a frightened squawking and cackling of the ducks and chickens in the henhouse.

"Hello!" exclaimed Farmer Brown's Boy. "Something is bothering them. We'll have to see if Mr. Skunk or Reddy Fox is around."

With that he led the way in the direction of the henhouse. Of course, Bowser raced ahead and disappeared around the corner of the house. A second later his great voice rolled out so excitedly that Farmer Brown's Boy knew he had discovered something.

"Sounds as if Bowser had found a fresh fox track," muttered Farmer Brown's Boy and began to run. When he reached the henhouse and turned the corner Bowser was already well on his way to the Green Meadows, and from the noise he was making it was very clear that he was following a fresh trail.

"Bow, wow, wow! Bow, wow, wow!" roared Bowser, and his master knew that meant "Come on; come on! I've found a track."

Bowser soon left Farmer Brown's Boy far behind and his voice grew fainter and fainter in the direction of the far corner of the Green Meadows. Farmer Brown's Boy tramped along in the same direction, for, you know, it was there that he had set his traps for Old Man Coyote. He smiled as he listened to Bowser's deep voice, for when he is following a trail Bowser's voice is very musical and good to hear. It was full of excitement, was Bowser's voice, the excitement of the hunt. You know, no one loves to hunt more than does Bowser. And because he loves the chase so there is always a note of joy in his voice.

Farmer Brown's Boy listened and he smiled. Suddenly he stopped and a queer expression came over his face as he listened harder than ever. Bowser's voice was faint because he was so far away, but it was loud enough for Farmer Brown's Boy to notice that there was a great difference in it. All the joy was gone out of it. Indeed it expressed surprise and pain and fright altogether. In a minute it became a howl which was all pain and fright.

Farmer Brown's Boy began to run. What could have happened to make Bowser howl like that? Something had happened, that was sure. Could he have tried to fight that wolf and Old Man Coyote be having the best of it?

"Poor old Bowser. He is in real trouble of some sort and is calling for me," panted Farmer Brown's Boy. He was quite right. Bowser was in trouble.

Strong Hands in Control of Market; Heavy Issues Active

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, August 24.—Considerable irregularity developed in today's fairly active stock market session, but there was abundant evidence that the control of the market as a whole continues to be in strong hands.

Unfavorable overnight developments in the rail strike situation did not result in any extensive liquidation of carrier shares, although many issues yielded slightly at the start because of general uncertainty as to what the market would do. Northern Pacific climbed up to a new high for the year, buying of the stock being based on reports of an early resumption of the 7 per cent dividend and the expectation of oil developments in its Montana land holdings.

U. S. Steel Up

United States steel duplicated its year's high price, with sympathetic advances in shares of some of the independent companies, presumably in response to reports of higher prices and profitable fall operation. Crucible closed at a net gain of 2 points.

Heavy liquidation continued in the stocks of shipping companies engaged in the Atlantic trade in anticipation of a sharp cut in passenger rates. International mercantile marine preferred broke more than 3 points, with smaller declines taking place in the common, Atlantic Gulf and American ship and commerce.

Tobacco products A moved to higher ground on the announcement that the stock had been placed on a 7 per cent dividend basis. Dome mines sold at the year's best price, reflecting increased earnings while Studebaker also registered a substantial advance in expectation of a fine earnings statement for July.

American telephone broke 4 points on the announcement that the directors had authorized the issuance of $115,000,000 additional stock to its present shareholders, but it recovered about half of its loss before the close. Chemical shares continued to yield to selling pressure, allied chemica 1 dropping 1 1-4 points, American agricultural chemical 1, and Virginia Carolina chemical preferred 2 3-8.

No Old Women Nowadays

Modern dress, hair dressers, facial experts and cosmetics all combine to keep women of all ages young and attractive in appearance. Not until the telltale wrinkles become so deep, the figure stoops, or some ailment or weakness develops to drag a woman down does she really look her age.

Every woman owes it to herself and her family to keep herself young in appearance, and happy. When headaches, backache or "the blues" develop or when a woman reaches the trying age from forty-five to fifty, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound may be depended upon to keep her in health as it has so many other women whose letters we are continually publishing in this paper. —adv.

WHEAT CHANGES WIDE AND RAPID

Strength Follows Weak Opening

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, August 24. — Wheat prices fluctuated rapidly within a narrow range today.

The starting was weak, in sympathy with lower quotations at Liverpool and the break in foreign exchange, but prices advanced sharply later on, short covering and some general buying induced by the strength in corn.

At the finish, wheat was easier and showed a net loss of 5-8c to 1 1-8c, with September $1.01 5-8 to $1.01 3-4, and December $1.02 7-8 to $1.03.

Corn varied from 1-8c down to 1-2c up.

Oats were unchanged to quarter cent higher.

Provisions ranged from 2 1-2 to 25c advance.

COTTON PRICES HINGE ON RAILS

Wide Declines in Early Trading

By Associated Press.

NEW, ORLEANS, Aug. 24.—The course of prices in the cotton market today hinged more upon the interpretation of rail strike news than any other factor, even weather and crop accounts being temporarily eclipsed. In the early trading, fairly wide declines occurred and they were based on an unfavorable opinion on overnight strike negotiations news.

In the late trading opinion was more hopeful and some little buying was done on the idea that something might result from the attempts of individual railroad systems to settle with their employes. At the lowest of the day prices were 27 to 43 points down, but on the close they were only 13 to 20 points down. October traded as low as 21.75 and closed at 22.02.

It was rather a weak opening and in the early trading there was evidence of a little more hedge selling than usual. Lowest prices were established at this stage of the session, and during the remainder of the day the tendency was toward small recoveries, the steadiest period being around the noon hour.

The continued drouth in Texas was a steadying influence and helped to keep the selling within bounds and the effect of unfavorable Texas news was increased by reports of severe deterioration from most sections of the belt, leading to expectations of a low condition report for August. Interest in the report was increased by the fact that the August period ends tomorrow.

KRAFT WAITS ALL SEASON TO HUMBLE SPUDDERS THEN DOES IT AT INCONVENIENT MOMENT

Allen Continues Drives Over Short Wall; Adams Pokes Three Safeties for Day; Keene Chased by Brashear in Second for Argument; Wheeler Driven Out in Fifth

Special to The Record News.

BEAUMONT, Texas, Aug. 24.—Lou Kraft kept the Spudders' hits well scattered today and with bits of excellent support, turned them back for their second straight loss in as many days when he triumphed 5-3.

Although outhit, the Exporters hammered their blows with runners in position to count and used the offerings of three Spudder hurlers at liberty for their runs.

Keene started on the mound for the Spudders and after a grand beginning was parked by Umpire Brashear in the second inning when Keene disputed a ball which passed Allen to first. Wheeler took over the job of stopping the Beaumonters, but failed and later gave way to Flaherty.

Outstanding in today's game was Allen's continued bombardment of the lot beyond the short right field fence. Twice did he pole the apple over the near barrier, bringing his total of two-ply swats for the series to seven.

Shorty Adams, Spudder shortfielder, led the visitors' attack with three safeties, two of which counted in the scoring.

The Spudders failed to count in the first off two singles, a double and a free pass. Bescher opened with a single but went out on a double play when Tanner grounded to Fedor, Adams poked a single into center and Summa doubled out of the park sending Adams to third. Tex McDonald was passed filling the bases, but Beck could not deliver, and popped to third.

Spuds Take Lead.

Three runs in the fourth put the Exporters back in the game again. Mathes was out Adams to Beck, but Anderson singled to left. Allen's double out of the lot sent the catcher to third. Edington grounded to White but the play to the plate was too late to stop Anderson and he counted the first marker. Stansbury squeezed Allen across with the run to tie, Edington taking second. Brennan's single to left scored Edington.

Exporters Ice It.

Two more markers in the fifth sewed up a ball game. Fedor singled to center and moved up on a neat sacrifice by Kraft. Doyle's single to left sent Fedor to third and the hitter moved to second when Bescher turned Fedor back with a nice throw to the plate. Flaherty relieved Wheeler in the box. Mathes doubled over the fence and scored both runners with the necessary runs to win.

A ray of hope greeted the Spudders in the eighth when Fedor fumbled Tanner's liner. Adams sent Tanner to second when he beat out an infield hit. Tanner took third when Summa forced Adams at second. McDonald singled to left scoring Tanner, but Beck and White were out on fly balls.

McDonald made his first appearance in the Spudder lineup since the fourth game of the Wichita Falls-Dallas series, having been out with a bad shoulder.

ELKS CHALLENGED FOR BENEFIT GAME

The Maskat baseball club has challenged the Elks club to put a ball team in the field to meet them at the Athletic Park soon to raise funds for the United Charities and it is probable that the challenge will be met and the game played in the near future. The Shriners have been wanting a good game at the home lot and from all indications they have found a team that can give them all the opposition they desire.

The date for the contest has not been set but final arrangements will probably be made soon and the game played within a few days. Whenever the date, a good exhibition will be staged and the Wichita fans, as well as the members of the two organizations will turn out to see a fast game and to help the cause.

GIANTS HIT IN PINCHES AND BEAT REDS

Luque Loses Out Through Own Wildness

By Associated Press.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, August 24.—The Reds outhit the Giants in the final game of the series today, but Luque lost his game through wildness. Barnes was very strong in the pinches and drove over the winning run with a single after Smith had walked and gone to second on a wild pitch with two out in the seventh inning. Both teams fielded faultless. Pinelli's work was sensational. He made a single, a double and a triple in four times up and accepted ten chances at third base.

Local Shooters Finishing Off For Entrance Grand American Tourney

When the members of the Gun club meet for their regular weekly shoot this afternoon it is expected that the entrants list will number more than have ever entered a shoot here. Secretary Dempsey, who will have charge of the shoot, states that the shooters who have planned to be present are anticipating a full list and some record scores.

The shoot will be held along the usual lines and will feature both handicap and straight firing. The shooters have been putting in some good work at the traps and when the clay birds fly today there will be many a pigeon that will reach the ground in fragments. The shoot-off of last week's score will be held in the first 25 rounds and the winner will receive the spoon offered. The match last week was hopelessly tied, with four lead scatterers in the run off, "Spike" Cooper, E. V. Leslie, Hunter Dempsey and George Grooms will stand at the rail for the first 25 birls to decide the winner.

R. A. King of Delta, Colo., will shoot again this week and he will find the team of six that will represent the local club at the Grand American meet ready to give him a race for the honors. King is rated as one of the country's crack trap shooters and as a local shooter said: "He points a mean gun."

The six men who will go to the national shoot are Deatherage, Greenburg, King, Ward and Daniels. They will journey to Atlantic City Sept. 11, where they will meet the nation's best gun men at the traps. The Grand American shoot is the world's largest meeting of scatter gun artists and draws shooters from all over America and foreign countries as well. The local entries will put in good time today and the next few shoots practicing and preparing for the meet when they hope to take honors.

SPUDDERS GET NEW HURLER FROM INDIANS; HE WILL JOIN CLUB FOR SAND CRAB SERIES

G. H. Edmondson, Former Trinity Collegian, Well Known in Texas Semi-Pro Circles Released by Speaker; Left New York Last Night for Galveston; Tall Right Hander

A message from President R. O. Harvey yesterday stated that the Cleveland Indians had released G. H. "Big Ed" Edmondson to the Spudders. The new hurler will arrive in Galveston Saturday in time to take his turn with the Crabs.

Edmondson is a Texas lad and product of Trinity university. His first college experience came in 1914 when he hurled Meridian college to the junior college state championship. For three years he hurled unbeatable ball for that institution before entering Trinity university at Waxahachie.

In the spring of 1920 Tris Speaker signed the lengthy hurler upon the recommendation of Luther Burleson, former Texas leaguer. Edmondson did not report to the Indians but remained to finish his schooling and took his degree in 1921. Trouble with his arm in the spring of 1921 kept him out of the game until late in the season and he played amateur ball for a time. When the Indians started training at Dallas this spring, Edmondson was called in and worked in his first game with that club when the Speakerites appeared here for two games.

After the Texas-Oklahoma league opened, Edmondson was sent to Corsicana at his own request when Speaker decided he was not ready for the big show. Corsicana was near his home. During his two months in that league Edmondson was beaten only five times and won more than a dozen games. With the close of that league three weeks ago, the Indians called him in and he has appeared twice in the Cleveland line-up since joining the team.

Edmondson is a brother of Roger Edmondson, former Houston Buff who helped hurl that team to three Texas league championships.

Edmondson stands over six feet, throws and bats right handed. He is 24 years old and has been a collegiate athlete of note.

Last year he was chosen all conference center of the T. I. A. A. by many sport writers and coaches when the mythical football team was chosen.

FAST BOUT PROMISED AT BURK TUESDAY

Johnny Stopper and Lee Morrissey will battle one of the fastest scraps in Burkburnett when they meet in Liberty Garden arena there Tuesday evening, that has been witnessed by local fans, according to assertions made here yesterday by Morrissey and Stopper's manager who passed through Wichita Falls en route to Burkburnett.

Stopper, en route to the east where he plans to winter and appear often in main events, agreed to fight Morrissey 12 rounds, stopping over to fill the engagement, and has been in Burkburnett training since yesterday. His record is that of a clean, fast boxer, and it is believed that he will do the trimming stunt necessary to claim Morrissey's scalp.

Thirty rounds of fast boxing have been planned for the Tuesday evening card, including a six-round semi-wind-up between Johnny Adamson of Denver, Colo., and Tommy Simpson of Lawton, Okla., 133 pounders, while "Kid" Snyder, the pet of Burkburnett and a bantam of coming ability, will face "Kid" Bee, also of Burkburnett, in the prelims in a four-round engagement.

A large arena has been prepared for the occasion. Morrissey stated here yesterday, and a packed house is expected.

MASKATS PLAN ELECTRA TRIP

Fast Game Promised Next Sunday

The Maskat all-Shrine baseball team will go to Electra Sunday to meet the ball tossers on the diamond there. Although the Shriners lost their last game, they are going strong and have the old pepper that it takes to win ball games. Manager Al Ellis is confident that his men will show up well in Sunday's contest and feels sure of another scalp added to his war belt at the end of that set-to.

The game will be called at 3:30 sharp and when the first ball is thrown over there will be a goodly crowd of members of the Mystic Shriners will see the game and there will be a live bunch of Wichita fans to inspire the sluggers to their best work.

The Electra club is far from a poor one itself and will give the Masons a hard fight. The team there has been playing regularly and is in the best of condition. With the nine at its strongest of the season and some good pitchers lined up, any of whom could trouble the best batters, it will be a fast game either way it goes.

The Electra crowd never gives up till the last and the Shriners are hard after another win so it looks like a real snappy ball game when they get together.

RECORDS TALK

FRED K. SMITH vs. W. W. (Pat) MURPHY

38 Years a Citizen of Wichita County 3 Years in Wichita County

W. W. Murphy and those supporting him as their principal argument for sheriff represent to the voters of this county that Murphy has saved the county $100,000.00 in one transaction, that being the guardianship of the business dealings growing out of the several contracts for the construction of the Wichita County roads, and these leaders of the political machine organized under the disguised name of the Law Enforcement League say that Pat ought to be rewarded for this great saving. So far as this committee has been able to ascertain and diligent inquiry made no one has ever said how Pat saved this money and in what particular regard he saved it. We desire in this connection to review the record.

February 16, 1918, (before Murphy was appointed auditor) a contract with the Womack Construction Company for the construction of 108 miles of road was entered into by our commissioners court. This contract was made before the voting of the second bond issue which was for the construction of the paved or more permanent roads.

February 13, 1919, this contract was canceled, a bonus of $20,000.00 was paid for its cancellation. On July 1, 1919, the commissioners court entered into a contract with the Chico Bridgeport Cement & Stone Company of Chico, Texas, for the purchase of certain stone to be used in the building of the Wichita County roads, to be purchased at $1.25 per ton, an advance of $100,000.00 to be made to the Chico Bridgeport Cement & Stone Company in the nature of a loan to bear interest at the rate of 8 per cent, the payment of which was properly secured, money to be deposited in the First National Bank of Wichita Falls, liquidated by credit of 75 cents per ton on stone as purchased until such amount was so received to discharge the $100,000.00 with interest. This contract was not performed.

At about this stage a meeting of some of the prominent citizens of Wichita county was held and violent protests were filed with the commissioners court protesting their contracts in the building of these roads, our friend Pat Murphy lead these fights as auditor of the county, and such a protest was made from the citizenship of Wichita county in support of their auditor that pressure was brought to bear on our commissioners and this contract and others were modified, and the one with the Chico Bridgeport Cement & Stone Company was not performed.

On July 15, 1919, a contract was entered into by our commissioners with the North Texas Stone Company, whose directors are R. E. Huff, G. D. Anderson, J. A. Kemp, R. S. W. Womack, (the Womack who had the first contract), A. S. Goetz, by the terms of which these parties through that company called the North Texas Stone Company procured a contract to furnish the stone for the county at $1.25 per ton and by which these parties procured a loan from the county and a warrant drawn on the county by our friend Pat Murphy in the sum of $100,000.00, money advanced these parties to open and operate their stone quarry in Wise county, Texas.

This money was loaned to these citizens to draw 5 per cent interest, drawn from the bank by warrant of our friend Murphy, which under contract by the commissioners therefore made, was drawing 7.52 per cent interest on the daily balance, secured under contract to be repaid by these parties as follows: 40 cents of the $1.25 to be paid per ton to be credited on their contract in liquidation until the full amount and interest may have been paid, 85 cents per ton on this purchase to be paid through the auditor's office in cash as each ton of rock was received.

On July 29, 1919, this so-called North Texas Stone Company entered into a contract with our commissioners whereby they agreed to furnish the county an additional 50,000 tons (that is in addition to the 250,000 tons contracts above mentioned) of rock at a stipulated price of 95 cents per ton, being an optional purchase which the county was not required to consummate unless needed.

The roads contemplated to be built in Wichita county are almost completed and under this contract to furnish the rock on a credit of 40 cents per ton as performed to date, the auditor's office has received and collected only approximately one-third of the $100,000.00 leaving approximately two-thirds of it unpaid.

One of the commissioners some six weeks ago called upon Pat Murphy for an itemized statement of the condition of the account showing the rock purchased by him as purchasing agent from different stone quarries, (he having purchased some from companies other than the North Texas Stone Company) and to date has not received this statement. This commissioner says that at the last session of the commissioners court Murphy walked in with a sheet of paper containing only these words and figures: "Wichita Falls, Texas, ... 19.., Wichita County to ..... Dr. for general fund. (Hargrave Printing Company, Dallas, Texas), 2135 cars stone, 106,750 tons," no auditor's name or any other person's signed thereto, but read to the court in open session and Murphry threw the instrument in the waste basket but was recovered by this commissioner while they were in session.

We find then a political machine organized in Wichita county with many unsuspecting good citizens joining hands in the fight not knowing the real motive of these men who have profited, or had their chance to profit from the building of our roads, through the assistancce of our auditor. For what—the elevation of Pat Murphy to the sheriff's office. We submit to the good people that they have not done or offered to do any other thing than the elevation of Pat Murphy to the sheriff's office.

Did Pat help these original organizers of this political machine in a way he has handled their account with the county, and their loan of $100,000.00 to open their business in Wise county to operate their business there for the profit they might make in the furnishing of this material to the county, in taking it out of the bank where it was drawing 7.52 per cent interest on daily balance by his warrant to them consummating this loan to them of $100,000.00, at 5 per cent? Do they owe him a political debt and would you expect anything other than for them as good citizens of this county than to pay this political debt with the proper opportunity?

We find one of these men acting chairman of the Law Enforcement League at its organization and with the suppport of the others living in this county chiming bells for Murphy.

Suppose you ask Murphy if he would have issued a warrant against the county advancing you money to have engaged in an enterprise to furnish the county or any one else material in a business where you and no one else had a profit. And, then ask yourself if you would not have organized a political machine to reward Murphy if he had issued a warrant on the county for $100,000 to engage in business for profit for yourself. And, then ask yourself why Murphy is running for sheriff with the support of these men at the head of this so-called Law Enforcement League.

This committee desires to correct an error made in the ad of yesterday afternoon's issue of the Daily Times, wherein they were enumerating some of the audits made by Murphy of books other than those of the county while drawing full salary for an assistant and himself, wherein they named the Petrolia Machine & Tool Company as the party for whom the audit was made, when in truth and in fact the committee intended to name the Burkburnett Machine & Tool Company, there being no such company as named that we know of.

It might be interesting to the voters to know that Murphy while drawing salary from the county for his services as auditor and while he was being furnished with an assistant to take care of the rushing business of his office, made an extensive trip to New York City at the expense of the town of Burkburnett, Texas, in an effort to dispose of certain bonds voted there and drew his full check for the time spent on this trip from the county, though being paid by the City of Burkburnett at the same time.

TWO BALES OF COTTON SOLD

One Follows Another At Electra

Special to The Record News.

ELECTRA, Aug. 24.—Two bales of this season's cotton crop were brought to Electra yesterday. H. L. Graves, six miles north of town, who arrived about noon was first, but he was followed shortly by John Sanders of the County Line community. Neither bale has been ginned as the local plants have not been repaired for operation. Mr. Graves had 1,518 pounds of seed cotton while the County Line man had something over 1,400, according to field weights.

Now That's Rather Odd

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK.—A luxuriously furnished apartment where out of town visitors were mulcted after being attracted there by two blonde girls, was brought to light early today when the police raided a house on the upper west side near Riverside Drive.

Diamond studded dice listed by the police as worth $400, solid gold put-and-take tops, and many packs of gold edge playing cards were among the objects found.

Buyers from other cities had complained to various hotels that, desiring to see something of New York night life, they had fallen prey to two charming girls, who were apparently women of wealth, as they had their own automobiles and uniformed chauffeurs.

BERKELEY, Cal.—The affiliated Berkeley clubs, representing some 3,000 property owners, which recently declared war on crowing roosters, has requested the city council to limit goats and cows to two for each family. "It is not altogether a matter of noise," explained Secretary Kellogg Van Winkle, "but sanitation as well."

SEATTLE, Wash.—Edward L. Doheny, said to be the world's wealthiest individual petroleum operator, was unable to find oil in Alaska, he announced yesterday following his arrival here on his yacht Casiano after three weeks of cruising, hunting and fishing along the Alaska coast.

"I do not want to find more oil," he said. "The price is too low for anybody to make money."

CLARKSBURG, W. Va.—What is said to be the first training camp for farm women in the United States is in progress at Jackson Mills, W. Va., near here today. Eighty-five women from farms located in eighteen counties of the state are registered.

SAN FRANCISCO.—Space has been reserved for M. Helie de Talleyrand Perigol, first duke of Talleyrand and thirteenth count of Grignola and his duchess who was at one time Miss Anna Gould of New York, a maid, a valet, sundry other servants, and 37 pieces of baggage, all of which are due to arrive Saturday. The duchess is looked on as a sort of "home folks" so there will be a splurge.

For one thing, the duke and duchess will get the presidential suite. For another, an extra valet, a salon attendant and other servants will be provided pro tempore. It was the understanding of the hotel management that a chaperone for the pup would be in the entourage. Chefs have instructions to serve only the best mommos de terre, encergot and bonefin la mode obtainable during the sojourn.

VERNON HAS COTTON ROW 75 MILES LONG

Special to The Record News.

VERNON, Texas, Aug. 24.—Now comes west Texas with its most recent claim to greatness. Not a three-headed calf nor a corn stalk 12 feet high, but a cotton row 75 miles in length. Five or six miles across the Wilbarger line into Ford county it can be found on the farm of John L. Hunter of Margaret. And—few even of Mr. Hunter's neighbors are aware of the wonder in their midst.

Mr. Hunter, it appears, has for years been a large wheat grower and is at present a county commissioner. To save time he planted his cotton in rows of which there are fifteen on 200 acres. He merely started at the outer edge of the field and drilled in a huge circle to the center, for all the world like the puzzle plate on the case that entitles you to a cigar if you work it out.

It's the longest row on record in these parts, and west Texas is willing to pit it against the rest of the south. Anyhow, there are but few hands who are of the disposition to attempt cultivating the plans. "There's no place to stop," in their plaint," so a fellow can go to dinner."

WEDDING AT DECATUR

Special to the Record News.

DECATUR, Aug. 24.—Prof. Harley True Burton of Clarendon and Miss Clara Belew of Tishomingo, Okla., were united in marriage here yesterday at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Belew. Both of the contracting parties are natives of this community, and both are graduates of Decatur college and Baylor university. For several years the bride had been the principal of Tishomingo (Okla.) high school, but was for the past year a member of the junior A. & M. college at Tishomingo. Mr. Burton has for several years been a member of the faculty of Clarendon college, and has established a splendid reputation as coach of the athletics of that school. Mr. and Mrs. Burton left at once for their home in Clarendon.

FIRE DAMAGES BAKERY

Special to The Record News.

VERNON, Texas, Aug. 24.—Fire about 11 o'clock Tuesday night badly damaged the City Bakery, located on the main street of Vernon, and for a short period threaten'd an entire business block. The loss is estimated in the neighborhood of $2,500. Defective wiring is thought to have caused the blaze.

Dr. J. W. DuVal, eye, ear, nose, throat specialist, announces the removal of his office from the American National bank building to 815 Scott avenue, where he will be associated with the Feid Optical company.—adv.

Ma Burdick Writes Back She's Having Good Time in California

"Having a good time, and enjoying this climate," is the essence of the message contained in Ma Burdick's letter to Mrs. E. B. Gorsline, Jr., which the latter received from the famous Salvation Army worker Thursday morning.

Ma Burdick's letter asserts that California is a wonderful place, and that she is enjoying all the beautiful things that she is seeing out there.

Through the aid of friends, The Record News and the American Legion, a fund of nearly $500 was raised here recently to send Ma Burdick hurrying across the desert sands, where she is now regaining her strength and health.

In her letter to Mrs. Gorsline yesterday, she said "give my love to all my good friends, the Record News and the American Legion."

MAKES $750 BOND ON BOOZE CHARGE

Charged with the sale and possession of illegal whiskey, J. M. Faulkner appeared before United States Commissioner J. A. Lantz yesterday and made bond in the sum of $750, pending the action of the federal grand jury.

Faulkner was arrested Wednesday night following a raid made on his home by City Officers Charles Rebout, Tom Shook, Jack Miller and V. P. Belcher, headed by Federal Prohibition Officer Archie Tyler, after he had made an alleged sale of whiskey.

When the officers went into the Faulkner place, it is reported, Faulkner was just making an entrance into his attic, one of the police espying his feet when he pulled himself into the place. He was forced to come to the floor and carried to the city prison, charged with selling and having in his possession contraband liquors.

Business or Charity?

If the office of County Clerk should be given to the one who needs it the worst, this committee is sure that there are hundreds of families in this county who need it worse than either of the two present candidates. But if the county's business were yours, Mr. or Mrs. Voter, and you had to hire a person to run it, we are sure that you woud take other things into consideration first—particularly the candidate's experience and ability to run the office.

Elizabeth Hall, as chief deputy county clerk, has had direct charge of the office, under the supervision of the present county clerk, for the past several years, and her friends feel that in asking to be elected County Clerk she is only asking for a deserved promotion, and a promotion which would naturally follow to one in a private business organization. Shouldn't one employed by the public in its business expect similar promotion for work well performed?

This matter of the relative need of the two candidates for the office was not injected into this race by those of us who are working in the interest of Miss Hall, but was brought in by the supporters of Mrs. Miller to whom, many of them being wealthy, her means might seem needy when to others less fortunately situated they might look different. Inasmuch as the matter has been brought into the race, the following statement of her husband's estate, filed only a little over a year ago, is published.

P. P. LANGFORD,
R. E. SHEPHERD, Appraisers

Sworn to and subscribed before me, this 12th day of January, A. D., 1921.

W. L. ROBERTSON, Notary Public, Wichita County, Texas.

It is true that the statement only shows the assets exceeding the liabilities by only a little more than $11,000. An examination of the assets will show why. For instance the home, which has been purchased only a little more than six months before for $13,000 cash and $5,500 deferred payments, is only listed as worth $1,500 (fifteen hundred dollars). Listed as only worth $1,500, it shows $6,000 against it. It is at present listed for sale with a real estate agent for $17,000. It is reasonable to suppose that the other realty is valued proportionately low. For instance two farming tracts, north of Wichita Falls and in Wichita county are listed as approximately worth $35 and $20 per acre respectively. Is there any farming land in that section which could be bought for anywhere near this price. Or is there any Montague county land worth less than three dollars per acre, as the tract is in this statement?

Remember the friends of Miss Hall are not seeking her election on the grounds of Mrs. Miller's possessions, or need or lack of need of the office. The issue was brought into the campaign by others, and it is only in justice to her that this statement is printed. They are asking you to support Miss Hall in the belief that it is good business for the public to advance a tried and competent employe to the existing vacancy in a higher position.
