No Motive Is Advanced For Disappearance

Ransom Is Believed Motive As Family Is Reported Wealthy; Abductor Is Thought To Have Escaped By Boat

(By The Associated Press)

HARWICHPORT, Mass., May 2.—Margaret McMath, 10-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Neil C. McMath, formerly of Detroit, and granddaughter of Francis C. McMath, wealthy Detroit engineer and industrialist, was kidnaped today.

Dismissed from her fourth grade school room after a telephone call purporting to be from her father had been received there, the girl entered a large blue automobile driven by a man described as a negro.

No Motive Known

No motive for the kidnaping was known to the family.

State police and coast guardsmen joined in a search for the abductor which extended across Cape Cod by land and from Boston south to New London, Conn., by sea. There was a possibility the child might have been taken aboard a sea-going craft.

The telephone call received at the center school, which the child attended, said the speaker was her fathr. He said he was sending a chauffeur to get her. At about the same time another call to the McMath home asked that the telephone receiver there be taken off the hook for ten minutes. The speaker said he was a telephone company employe. The calls were traced to a store.

Leaves Schoolroom

When the abductor arrived at the school he sent another pupil, who was in the schoolyard, into the building to inform the girl's teacher he was waiting for the child. She left immediately and it was not until an hour later that police were notified.

In the absence of any known motive, police believed ransom was the motive because of the reputed wealth of the child's family. Her father formerly was employed by a Detroit structural steel firm. Since coming here he has been engaged in boat building.

Because the abductor asked that the McMath home telephone be disconnected for only ten minutes, credence was given the theory that he intended to escape by boat. The drive to the waterfront from the school was less than a mile's distance.

Abductor Described

The abductor was described as having worn a dark gray uniform similar to that worn by chauffeurs. The car registration number was not obtained.

Rails And Grains Continue Gaining

NEW YORK, May 2. (AP)—Railroad securities and grains continued to pile up new high prices for 1933 today while elsewhere the markets faltered.

Most markets sagged in the early trading, and some stock market operators were inclined to go short on the theory that a substantial technical reaction was at last appearing, but stocks regained most of their losses, as railroad issues were bid up $1 to $5 a share during the afternoon. More speculative railroad bonds also forged ahead.

Wheat at Chicago was helped not only by the progress of the farm relief-inflation bill in congress, but by bullish crop reports, unofficial estimates indicating a small spring planting, as well as the lowest winter crop in many years. Futures surged up nearly 2 cents a bushel, and final prices showed net gains of 7-8 to 1 3-8 cents.

Texas Commissioners Will Inspect Mexican Highways

LAREDO, May 2. (AP)—Members of the Texas highway commission and two representatives of the San Antonio Chamber of Commerce reached here today en route to Mexico to inspect Mexican highways.

In the party were W. R. Ely, chairman of the commission; D. K. Martin, a commissioner; T. H. Webb, assistant engineer, and W. H. Purlong and Dick Terrell of the San Antonio chamber. They planned a ten-day trip.

Nebraska Is Thankful For Dust Sent Over By Kansas, Oklahoma And Texas; Worth $10 Per Ton

(By The Associated Press)

LINCOLN, Nebr. May 2.—Nebraska is thankful to Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas for the red dust which blew into this state last week-end.

When housewives awoke Sunday morning and found a thin layer of red dust on porches, sidewalks and furniture, they were not appreciativle, but today Prof. E. E. Schramm, of the Universiay of Nebraska geological department, said the dust storm was worth millions of dollars to Nebraska farms.

Figuring the value of the dust at $10 a ton, the geologist estimated $25,000,000 worth of mineral fertilizer was added to Nabraska's soil.

The fine red dust was composed chiefly of gypsum, volcanic ash and silt particles. It came from the Permian red beds of Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas.

Trade Restrictions And Arms Are Brought Into Prominence In Fresh Attack On Problems

Lawless Days Of Gay 90's Are Recalled

(By The Associated Press)

GUYMON, Okla., May 2. — Memories of the lawless days of no man's land, before the Oklahoma Panhandle became a part of Oklahoma territory 43 years ago, were revived today as eight cities of the Panhandle and 12,000 visitors from Kansas, Texas, New Mexico, Colorado and Oklahoma celebrated the anniversary of the annexation by act of congress May 2, 1890.

Two tons of beef were barbecued to feed the multitude.

A two-mile parade of conveyances and dress of the era of the nineties featured the celebration, which closed with a square dance tonight, following an afternoon of free rodeo entertainment.

Roosevelt Looks Favorably On Program Advanced At Geneva By MacDonald; U. S. Ready To Talk Things Over

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 2.—A fresh attack upon world problems today by President Roosevelt brought trade restrictions and armaments into new prominence.

Tariff walls and the task of controlling the surplus wheat production occupied the president in his first talk with Argentina's special envoy, Tomas Le Breton.

Italian Envoy Arrives

The arrival tonight of Guido Jung, spokesman for Italy, brought up again the Geneva disarmament conference deadlock and the method of solution.

There is every indication Mr. Roosevelt is looking favorably upon the program for disarmament recently advanced at Geneva by Prime Minister MacDonald of Great Britain.

This plan has as one provision a proposal for consultation among the nations signatory to the Kellogg-Briand peace pact whenever peace is threatened.

Talk Things Over

It is believed here the president is willing, through either a formal note or proclamation to declare the readiness of the United States to talk things over—as has been done recently—in the event of a war threat.

This would not mean that the United States would be bound by votes of other nations or that she would vote herself—rather, a consultation in the interests of peace.

On the ground that his plan does not depart from present American policy, it is the understanding that the declaration of intention will be made by the president in a note, not requiring senate ratification, rather than by the formal signing of a consultative treaty.

This security assurance has been insisted upon by France. American action is expected to break the impasse that has bound the Geneva armaments conference for months.

Choice Of Next Host City Is Not Announced; President Of Texas Tech Is Speaker At Closing Session

(By The Associated Press)

SAN ANGELO, May 2.—Rotarians of the 41st district, concluding their two-day annual convention here this afternoon, left choice of their 1934 meeting place up to the presidents and secretaries of the member clubs who will be called to meet in executive session following the Boston international convention. Pampa, Sweetwater and Abilene were the three bidders for the next meeting, while Big Spring opened a drive for the 1935 session.

O. B. Sellers, president of the Fort Worth club, was nominated district governor, this being considered tantamount to election, which will take place formally at the convention in Boston June 26-30.

Sellers will succeed then H. C. (Andy) Anderson of Ranger at the district post.

Rotary was termed "an education" by Dr. Bradford Knapp, president of Texas Tech at Lubbock, in a feature address today. He said the service organization was like a school in seeking development of the character and the fitting of men and women for service in society.

Two Witnesses Are Used By Plaintiffs In Jordan Suit

Two witnesses were used Tuesday by the plaintiffs in the case of B. T. Jordan et al against the City of Lubbock for $50,000 damages. The case is being tried in 99th district court before Judge Clark M. Mullican.

The suit is an aftermath of the death last May 23 of Nat Jordan, after touching an electrically charged fence.

A 99th district court jury yesterday returned a verdict favoring the Panhandle and Santa Fe Railway company, defendant in a suit brought by John Richards and Ralph McWhorter, as a result of death of four cattle of a shipment between Seagraves and Lubbock.

BILL STILL PENDS

WASHINGTON, May 2. (AP)—Passage of a bill to shorten the work week to 30 hours still was a possibility tonight although President Roosevelt has omitted it so far from the things he wants congress to do before it goes home.

Conference Committee Adopts Compromise Proposal With Confidence That Measure Is To Be Passed

Changes Are Seen

Twenty-Five Counties Of The Panhandle-Plains Area Will Make Up 19th District With Passage Of Bill

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, May 2. — A conference committee on congressional redistricting today completed a compromise bill to be recommended to the Texas legislature.

Members of the committee expressed confidence both houses would accept the plan. The last legislature failed to agree on a redistricting proposal, with a result the three additional congressmen to which Texas was entitled because of a population increase were elected at large.

Galveston Changed

The compromise proposal would place Galveston county in the South Texas district now represented by Representative J. J. Mansfield of Columbus. That would make room

HOUSE APPROVES

AUSTIN, May 2. (AP) — The Texas house of representatives tonight adopted a conference committee report on a bill to redistrict Texas into congressional districts. The vote was 88 to 33.

for a partially new district in East Texas. Districts also would be given to the Panhandle-Plains area of West Texas, Central West Texas and Bexar county.

Conferees said passage of the bill would not affect the election of a successor to Clay Stone Briggs, of Galveston, who died a few days ago. A successor will be named from the present seventh district, which extends north into Central East Texas.

Provisions Set Out

If a Galveston man should be elected, however, and the state should be redistricted as suggested, he would have to change his residence by next summer or be ineligible for re-election. However, he could run against Mansfield in the ninth district.

Uvalde county, the home of Vice President John N. Garner, long the congressman from the fifteenth district, was taken from that district and given to the new 21st district.

Other counties in that district would be Sterling, Coke, Runnels, Coleman, Brown, Irion, Tom Green, Concho, McCulloch, San Saba, Mills, Lampasas, Schleicher, Menard, Mason, Llano, Gillespie, Kimble, Sutton, Valverde, Edwards, Kerr, Kendall, Real, Bandera, Kinney.

The new 19th district would comprise the following counties: Has-

Strange Belief Girl Was Better Off Dead Is Told

Jury Startled When Oakley Says That He Is Lindbergh

(By The Associated Press)

LINDEN, Tex., May 2.—A strange belief that Bernice Clayton, three-year-old invalid, was "better off dead" was revealed today at the murder trial of Paul Oakley, itinerant preacher, accused of choking her to death during a weird religious ceremony.

Mrs. O. B. Snellgrove, a farmer's wife, testified that when she went to the Clayton home last December a few hours after Bernice died, the child's mother made the remark and further said that neither parent nor Oakley and his brother, Coy, appeared to be moved.

Jury Is Startled

Oakley startled the jury of pinewoods farmers and their friends in the small courtroom by announcing that he was "Lindbergh" when asked if his name was Paul Oakley. When it came time to make a plea, the defendant cried out, "Paul Oakley was not guilty."

The Oakley brothers, who had conducted services in the remote communities of East Texas last fall, and Sherman Clayton, father of the child, were charged with murder. Coy Oakley and Clayton will be tried later.

Detailed Story Given

The jurors today heard a detailed recital of events immediately following conclusion of the fantastic rites performed in the hope that Bernice, a cripple since afflicted with infantile paralysis, might be cured.

George Wilson, a neighbor, said he went to the Clayton home after hearing for two days singing and praying but was refused admittance by Coy Oakley, who called him a "devil." He said he saw the defendant bending over a bed with his hands on the girl's throat. Later, when Oakley went to Wilson's home, Wilson testified he said he didn't choke her—"the devil did it."

Forty-Six Sets Of Twins Given Tickets For Big Party Today

All Sorts Of Twins Register Tuesday For "Twin Party" At Palace Theater

TWINS, twins and more twins! Old twins, young twins, short twins, tall twins, lean twins and fat twins. Twin boys and twin girls and mixed twins.

All day long Tuesday they visited the Avalanche-Journal office where they registered for the big twin party the Palace theater, the Godino Siamese twins and the newspaper are staging for the twins of the South Plains this afternoon. By nightfall, forty-six sets of twins living in and around Lubbock had been registered for the party.

Get Four Tickets

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Sessums, living on North Avenue H, get four tickets for the party. They have two sets of twins.

Five In One Room

Five sets of twins in one classroom, is the record at Shallowater school according to R. L. Hooten, superintendent, who was in Lubbock yesterday. Superintendent Hooten came down to register six twins in his school for the "twin show," at the Palace theater today.

Twins in the third and fourth grade room at Shallowater are: David and Durwood Toliaferro, boys; Claude and Charles Sooter, boys; Ruth and Reuben Haynes, a girl and a boy; Freda and Veda Joplin, girls and Bessie and Jessie Peeler, girl and boy.

In the second grade room are Fern and Faun Bolder, girls.

The Central Baptist Dorcus Society also gets tickets for the party. The society has adopted two little twin girls, Dorcus and Dortha, two-months-old girls, and they're coming to the show just the same.

Free tickets to the theater are being given to each set of twins who register for the party. If the twins are too small to see the show alone, a ticket will be given to the person accompanying them.

Wives With Twins

The Godino Siamese twins, Simplicio and Lucio, are the only boys born together in the world. They will appear at the theater Wednesday and Thursday with their dancing wives.

At the party today, a picture will be made of all the twins present with the Siamese twins standing in the center. The Siamese twins will also present an autographed picture of themselves to every twin present.

Starts At 1:45

The party starts at 1:45, the minute the theater opens for the matinee. After a screen showing of Lila Damita in "Goldie Gets Along", the Godino twins will appear for their act along with their wives. The Siamese twins will be on the stage at 3:45.

Twins registered thus far for the party are: Clarence and Elizabeth Harper, 17, 1625 Tenth street; Billy Dean and Bobbie Jean Bryan, one-year-old twins of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Bryan, 1409 Avenue G; Morris and Merle Fisher, 4-year-old twins of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Fisher, 2224 Eighteenth street; Ray and Fay, 9 and Monette and Mildred, 5, children of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Sessums, north Ave-

Girl Is Worried And Shoots Self

KILGORE, May 2. (AP)—Worried because she had spent money given her to pay for music lessons, 11-year-old Gerdinand Rowe today fired a bullet through her heart with her father's pistol.

Authorities learned the child took $11 given her by her foster mother and paid a bill she owed for candy and school supplies, instead of paying her music teacher.

While her father, Harry Rowe, was out of the house she took the pistol from the mantle and fired twice.

It was reported she drew a picture of herself in a coffin and gave it to a school chum yesterday. The picture was labeled, "Gone But Not Forgotten."

Action Taken As Sure Death For Proposal

Senate Committee Of Whole Is Opposed To The Creation Of New Commission; Allred Is Fighting Measure

Oil Men Flayed

Mrs. Ferguson Had Sent Up A Special Message Criticising Rail Commission And Asking Passage Of Bill

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, May 2.—The Texas senate committee of the whole today voted, 20 to 10, to recommend the senate kill a house bill to create an oil and gas conservation commission.

The committee's action was regarded as tantamount to killing the bill. The senate would have to reverse its stand and adopt the report of a minority of its members in order to revive the proposal.

Passed By House

The proposal probably had provoked more controversy than any other bill introduced this session. It was passed by the house by a six-vote majority.

Governor Miriam A. Ferguson had sent up a special message yesterday criticising the railroad commission, the state's existing conservation agency, and requesting the senate to pass the bill.

Allred Denounces Bill

The senate state affairs committee had given the proposal a favorable report but opponents managed to have it recommitted yesterday. The vote today was taken after a long hearing in which James V. Allred, attorney general had denounced the bill and defended the railroad commission.

Senator Small, sponsoring the bill in the upper branch, sought to have it amended to provide the members of the proposed new commission would be chosen by the governor, lieutenant governor and speaker of the house instead of by the governor alone. His amendment lost on a 15-15 vote.

Mrs. Ferguson had stated yesterday she was willing for the presiding officers of the two houses to act with her in the appointment of the commissioners.

Order Is Discussed

The railroad commission's present order permitting the East Texas oil field to produce 750,000 barrels daily and the drastic price reductions since that order was issued entered into the discussion.

Dan Harrison, Houston independent operator, charged the "big companies, in reducing the price all over the state today were trying to crack the same whip over the senate that they cracked over the house last week when they cut the East Texas price to ten cents a barrel."

Allred told the committee the oil men promised the legislature last fall that if a "market demand law"

Repeal Advocates Lose House Fight

AUSTIN, May 2. (AP)—The house of the Texas legislature today refused to give the necessary two-thirds vote to a resolution proposing submission of an amendment that would repeal the prohibition section of the state constitution.

The vote was 85 to 49 for submission, but one hundred affirmative votes were needed to send the resolution to the senate. It would require twenty-one affirmative votes in that side of the capitol to put the proposition up to the electorate.

Both houses already have passed a resolution proposing submission of an amendment to the prohibition section of the constitution to legalize the manufacture and sale of 3.2 per cent beer. The election has been set for August 26. Sponsors of the other amendment want the entire section repealed, thus permitting manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors of whatever alcoholic content.

Sixty-One Voters Determined Stand Of Lubbock County On Pro Question

SIXTY-ONE persons voted 32 years ago in an election which will make Lubbock county dry if and when the state votes legal sale of beer.

Of the voters who marked ballots March 2, 1901, 57 favored prohibition; four were opposed. The commissioners' court, after canvassing the returns, wrote into its minutes:

"It being found that a majority of votes cast at said election were in favor of prohibition, it is the order of this court that the sale of intoxicating liquors shall be absolutely prohibited in Lubbock county, except for the purposes as set forth under the regulations specified in the revised statutes of 1895, laws of the state of Texas, title No. 69, until such time as the qualified voters of said Lubbock county, may at a legal election held therein for that purpose, decide otherwise."

The voters have not decided otherwise, and thus the Lubbock county of 1901 (there were 293 residents here in 1900) determined the wet or dry status of the county in 1933. Today the county has an estimated population of 40,000.

The voters prohibited "sale of intoxicating liquors." Congress has voted that 3.2 beer is non-intoxicating, and a question which eventually may appear in the courts here will involve whether 3.2 brew is intoxicating. Under a proposed constitutional amendment to legalize beer, communities dry before state prohibition would remain

The Woman's Angle

BY BLANCHE BEAN WILSON
Avalanche Woman's Editor

NOW that the good old summer time is coming along and you will have an opportunity to lose some weight, perhaps you would like to check up on your girlish figure and see how many ice cream sodas you may consume.

Or, if your difficulty is in trying to gain, instead of trying to lose, you can check up to see how many ice cream sodas you need to consume before you dare get out in a bathing suit.

The pulchritude standard set by 32,000 American beauticians recently for 1934—and you may want to know about it in 1933—is as follows: Height, 5 feet 5 inches; neck, 12 inches; shoulders, 39 inches; bust, 35 inches; waist, 25 inches; hips, 36 inches; thigh, 20 1-2 inches; calf, 13 3-4 inches.

While you are making comparisons with that, you may want to check up, also, on your approach to measurements of the Venus of Milo, that Greek ideal of womanly beauty. Those measurements were as follows: Height, 5 feet 4 inches; neck, 14 inches; bust, 34 3-4 inches; waist, 28 1-2 inches; hips, 36 inches; calf, 13 1-2 inches; ankle, 8 1-2 inches.

The chances are, too, that you will be glad you don't have the measurements of the statue, for they don't quite fit today. We have had such an era for slim women that we can't quite appreciate the buxom type.

At any rate, don't worry if you don't match up with these ideal sizes. For the same beauticians that chose the ideal also decided that proportion is the thing that counts. If one has the proper waist measure for her height and the proper size of hips and busts she is supposed to look well. We are supposed, you know, to look larger or smaller because of the optical illusions that are caused when we vary from the correct proportions.

MID-AFTERNOON LUNCH

SINCE we are on the subject, here is an after-school or mid-afternoon lunch that will help one gain and help keep away that late afternoon fatigue. It is called a meal in a glass and is made as follows:

One egg, two teaspoons coco (heaping), three heaping teaspoons sugar, one teaspoon vanilla, three cups milk. Separate egg. Beat yolk, coco and sugar together until smooth. Add vanilla. Beat slightly. Add the milk. Beat egg whites with a little sugar until stiff. Beat milk mixture together with egg whites. This recipe makes four cups and may be served with crackers or cookies.

FOR YOUR HAIR

IF you want to be stylish this summer and are contemplating a change in hair color, you should become a "honey blond"—or so we are told by the stylists in Paris.

The honey blond—the true blond—'s the thing now, the dispatches say. This blond has the "rich golden coloring of the Scandinavian" and displaces the platinum blond. Other hair colors that are good are the "Roman gold" and auburn hair. However, the dispatch goes on to say that individuality is the rule, so perhaps that mop you are wearing will do for another season.

Your hair is to be coiffed, by the way, to suit the hat you are wearing and you may choose the length—just so it isn't too long.

FOR YOUR VEGETABLES

FROM the standpoint of cooking value, baking a vegetable in its skin or in a casserole is the best method, federal food experts say.

The baking, it is pointed out, should be slow with moderate oven heat. Potatoes, squash, cucumbers, tomatoes and onions for example, contain enough water to form steam and keep them moist. The skin holds in the steam.

And this begins the time of year when you have fresh vegetables instead of those that have been placed in cans.

Pro Question

without the brew unless citizens voted for a change. Under a bill passed last week by the senate, commissioners court could call local option elections any time after July 1.

The legal sale of beer, however, would be prohibited until and unless the voters approve it at a special statewide election, tentatively set for August 26.

W. S. (Uncle Billy) Clark, who was an election judge in 1901, recalls events leading to local option here.

"Lubbock had had a saloon, but it died because it had no patronage," Mr. Clark said. "Then, a man from Snyder came up here scouting to see about putting in a saloon. Word got around about what he was planning to do, the election was called, and liquor was voted out before he moved his saloon here.

"One of the men who voted against prohibition then was a trucker, a sort of a wag."

Court minutes for February 12, 1901, show that the election was called on that date:

". . . it being deemed and thought expedient by said court, each member of said court concurring and the motion of said court (on their own motion) to order an election to be held at the regular voting places in the said county of Lubbock in said state to determine whether or not the sale of intoxicating liquors shall be prohibited in the said county of Lubbock . . . it is therefore ordered by the commissioners' court . . . that an election be held . . . the second day of March A. D., 1901."

Mr. Clark was presiding judge in precinct No. 3, John T. Beal in No. 1, George L. Beatty in No. 2, and I. A. Boyd in No. 4. W. D. Crump was county judge, and commissioners were F. L. Phenix, R. C. Burns, J. H. Clark, and H. D. Beal.

MARKET REPORTS

Stocks

WALL STREET REPORT
BY JOHN L. COOLEY
Associated Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK, May 2. (AP)—Rails offered a tow to a lagging and quieter stock market today, but had to do most of the advancing themselves.

Carrier shares rallied with unusual vigor in the afternoon and closed with a burst of strength for net gains of 1 to 9 points. Several other sections of the list, notably industrials, were unable to find enough new buying fully to offset sales, though final prices outside the rail section were above the day's lows and some utilities advanced. Sales totaled 3,894,630 shares.

Professional traders doubtless felt that the carrier stocks had been lagging on recent advances and were entitled to a flurry. However, current traffic statistics are showing district improvement for half a dozen western roads loaded more freight last week than in the corresponding period of 1932.

Santa Fe jumped 5 points and Union Pacific and Delaware and Hudson around 4. Illinois Central, Atlantic Coast Lines, Lackawanna, Lehigh Valley, Louisville and Nashville and New York Central were up 2 or more, while a number of others improved at least a point. Elsewhere, net losses were fairly plentiful. Bethlehem Steel, American Can, Du Pont, Sears Roebuck, Radio, U. S. Rubber, Coca Cola and General Foods lost fractions. Oils weakened under omission of the Socony-Vacuum dividend, which had been 20 cents quarterly, that issue was off 2 points at the worst, while New Jersey and California Standards lost more than a point. Allied Chemical was down 1 1-2. American Telephone closed just under par for a small decline. Metal issues were sluggish.

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, May 2. (AP)—Cotton was somewhat less actively traded today but prices rallied strongly from all breaks caused by profit-taking and hedge-selling and closed at net advances of 5 to 11 points. A private authority estimated "probable increase" in acreage of 8 per cent.

The market opened easier and Liverpool came in several points lower than due. First trades here showed losses of 6 to 13 points, and prices gradually eased after the start owing to rather liberal profit-taking and hedge selling until at the close of the first hour July had dropped to 7.99 and October to 8.21, down 17 points from yesterday's close.

The market started to rally as soon as the early offerings had been absorbed, in sympathy with firmer stocks and on moderate trade buying and price fixing and by midsession and became firmer during the afternoon on active short covering. July advanced to 8.34 and October to 8.48, up 25 to 27 points from the lows. There was a reaction of 10 points in the late trading in sympathy with stocks, but prices jumped back almost to the highs in the final trading. July closed at 8.31, up 5 points net and October at 8.45, up 7 points.

Liverpool is due on New Orleans tomorrow 8 to 9 penny points up.

Port receipts 20,699, for week 49,593, for season 7,875,581, last season 9,588,067. Exports 14,809, for week 59,099, for season 6,502,699, last season 7,337,434. Port stock 4,178,012, last year 4,122,840. Combined shipboard stock at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 144,661, last year 126,139. Spot sales at southern markets 16,184, last year 5,920.

Preference will be given those applicants whose dependents are the most needy and who most clearly indicate their recognition of this obligation by the size of the allotment made. (Note: $5 a month is considered ample spending money while in work camps.)"

One Exception Made

There is one exception to the requirement that applicants be on the relief rolls and that is that if a member of his family is already on the relief rolls, the applicant is eligible providing other conditions set out above are met, the government rules.

Lubbock county's quota of corps enlistments has thus far been set at 78 by the Texas Relief commission at Austin. First group to go out of this county to conservation camps will be composed of six men, the Austin office of Director Lawrence Westbrook, has ruled.

Relief Work Here Is At Standstill

Reconstruction Finance corporation has not discussed May and June allotments of federal funds for employment of labor in Texas counties, Col. Lawrence Westbrook, director of the Texas Relief commission, has informed Lubbock Work Relief committee.

The Texas senate yesterday refused to vote to submit a proposed constitutional amendment to authorize a $20,000,000 state bond issue for unemployment relief. Colonel Westbrook had informed local committeemen that the allotments for May and June would not be discussed until the legislature adopted the resolution defeated by the senate Tuesday.

As a result, the Lubbock committee has only a small surplus left from the April allotment, and until such time when May allotments can be made, RFC labor will be at a standstill in this as well as in other counties of the state.

Colonel Westbrook had warned that Texas would not receive any additional relief allotments from the RFC unless and until the legislature voted submission of the bond issue.

Mr. Jamieson's Success

TO FRANCIS A. 'FRANK' JAMIESON, crack correspondent of Associated Press, has come the crowning glory of newspaperdom. For his clean 'scoop' over all rivals on the finding of the poor, battered body of Baby Lindbergh, Mr. Jamieson has received 1932's principal individual Pulitzer award.

Mr. Jamieson's 'scoop' was sensational. He was 'on his toes', he used his head—and the result was that he beat his rivals to the story under conditions not conducive to a 'scoop'. We have unstinted praise for Mr. Jamieson; as an Associated Press newspaper we are proud that again the supremacy of Associated Press men has been proven in the realm of news.

But more than for his 'scoop'—great though it was—we honor Mr. Jamieson for his many, many 'straight' news stories which it has been our good fortune to exclusively publish on the South Plains of Texas.

For Mr. Jamieson is not a reporter 'made' by one big 'break'—in this case, the finding of the body of the Lindbergh baby.

He is a reporter made over the years, whose long experience, quick mind and brilliant pen made him a star reporter and correspondent long before Associated Press gave him a free rein on the Lindbergh story. It is for the pull across the years, for the long grind from a cub's typewriter to the pinnacle of journalistic fame that we honor 'Frank' Jamieson.

It has been men of the type of Mr. Jamieson who have made the credit line, "By Associated Press", over a news story the equivalent of the word 'sterling' on silver. It has been men of Mr. Jamieson's quick wit, backed by long training, who have made Associated Press membership the most valuable asset of any newspaper—from the New York Times to the smallest publication carrying the '(AP)' symbol.

Mr. Jamieson deserves the acclaim of his colleagues and a pat on the back from the millions who daily demand their news served at the greatest possible speed and with the greatest possible accuracy.

But he deserves more applause for his labors which made him ready for the 'big break' when it came.

PROTECTING CORRUPTION

Pennsylvania citizens interested in honest government face a clear-cut duty in connection with a bill pending in that state's legislature.

The measure would make it illegal for newspapers to publish anything concerning financial affairs of any branch of the government except by permission of the department affected. This is a censorship that stands to accomplish no good purpose. Instead of serving the public welfare, its effects would tend in the opposite direction. That it would, if passed, be taken advantage of by crooked officials to protect their criminal acts is a certainty that can not be escaped. And corruption has not been an unknown item in official circles in the past. It might prove interesting and enlightening to know the influences behind the measure.

Publicity is an enemy of corruption, as many former officials high and low, in many states, can testify to. It has sent to prison more than one man who would not have gone there but for the enterprise of some newspaper in making the public acquainted with legitimate news.

Honest government need not fear publicity. It is corruption that shrinks from the spotlight. The Pennsylvania bill would prove an invitation to crookedness in office. It has nothing to commend it. It ought to be defeated.

NO CAUSE FOR WORRY

Those apprehensive souls who live in fear of the end of things should find reassurance in the testimony of an astronomer that the universe is still a long way from disintegration, supposing that it is headed for such an ignominous finish.

Basing his estimate on the measurable radiation from the fiery suns and on the scientific experience that everything that burns must finally burn out, he calculates that in the stars, the last spark of heat and energy, won't flicker out for another thousand million million years.

But do not astronomers presume a little too much in applying mundane laws to cosmic behavior? Whatever process created those solar systems may conceivably be in operation today to maintain them or renew them. The origin of the universe is still far beyond the understanding of science; its maintenance may be another such mystery.

In any case, the date of dissolution is now postponed to a time where it need cause this generation no worry.

Experience is a great teacher, but a man's experience with a woman seldom teaches him anything.

Today's One-Minute Sermon

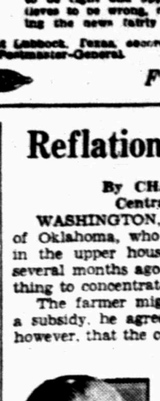

When the righteous turneth from his righteousness, and committeth iniquity, he shall even die thereby.—Ezekiel, 33-18.

Reflation Hope Of Farmer

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, May 2.—Senator Elmer Thomas of Oklahoma, who has been engineering "reflation" in the upper house of congress, made up his mind several months ago that cheaper money was the only thing to concentrate on, to save American agriculture.

The farmer might equally be saved by means of a subsidy, he agreed. He said it was his judgment, however, that the country is not in a mood to asquisce in a subsidy in any form except that of the tariff.

Senator Elmer Thomas

What (he asked himself) was to be done?

He reasoned thus:

Certain vast interests are in possession of practically all the money in the country, and, having a monopoly on it, they are letting go of it only on their own terms—mighty hard terms; anyone whose position is such that he really is compelled to raise a little cash, must pay the vast interests for it, in commodities, most emphatically "through the nose", as the saying is.

Diluting Money

Without an outright revolution, the senator recognized that it would be impossible to take the vast interests' money away from them, but, upon due reflection, he decided that it would be a comparatively simple task to dilute it to such an extent that it would not be worth nearly so much.

In effect, this was the Oklahoman's concept of reflation—a program of flooding the vast interests out.

Essentially it is for the farmers' benefit.

Indeed, the senator made it part of the farm bill, pending in congress—though it is scarcely accurate to describe it as part of the farm bill; rather, what is left of the farm bill is part of the reflation program.

As we know, it authorizes the president to reflate or IN-flate the currency up to a not very clearly defined limit—a great deal, anyway.

It undoubtedly will enable agriculture to pay its debts very fast—if the president reflates as much as he is empowered to do.

The question occurred to me if, after that, the plan will not increase the prices that the farmers will have to pay as stiffly as it will increase the prices that he can get for his crops, and I put this query to the senator.

Farmer's Position

"The answer," Senator Thomas said, "is that the farmer, after his debts are paid, is in a position to feed himself. Presumably he already has shelter, he has no need to dress expensively, and consequntly he is so situated that he can hold out for a long time, while buying almost nothing. Meanwhile, if he gets good prices, he will do tolerably well in the long run."

But as to the urban workingman—whose pay has been cut, and whose living costs seem likely to be sharply advanced now?

"He may suffer a temporary pinch," conceded the senator, "but unless agriculture is rescued the whole country will go to smash—urban workers and all."

Be that as it may, Senator Thomas is the outstanding champion of reflation—the one lawmaker to put it across after a generation of efforts by a list of statesmen as long as one's arm.

GREEN LOOKS AHEAD

President William Green of the A. F. of L., in warning workers who still hold jobs, to begin agitating promptly for better pay, knows what he is talking about.

If inflation works, it will increase prices.

Folk on fixed incomes, like wages, thereupon will need more dollars and cents in their envelopes, or, in effect, their stipends will have been cut. Part timers may get in more hours, but at a reduced rate, in purchasing power, per hour. The jobless, though they may find re-employment, will not be getting back to their pre-depression basis—not unless pay is advanced, equally with the cost of living.

Cotton Prices Bring Profits

Farmers Of Lubbock County Are Realizing Profit; Total Of $5 To $10 Is Added After Rising Markets

Lubbock county farmers, who held their 1932 cotton, have seen rising markets add from $5 to $10 a bale to the value of the lint, according to brokers and others.

Opinions differ as to the amount of the 1932 crop held over, but the general belief is that 10 per cent of the South Plains crop of slightly under 500,000 bales, was held. About half of that amount, or around 25,000 bales, has been sold recently.

Gains Are Shown

Actual cash income to farmers who sold cotton within the past three weeks, has been approximately $30 a bale, or about $5 per bale higher than previous prices. Last week saw a higher average, with the price this week around $35 a bale or better, depending on grade.

Farmers have received for their crop sold approximately $750,000, an increase of about $125,000 above what they would have received on earlier prices. Should the remaining bales be sold for $35 or more, the farmers will receive $875,000 or an additional $125,000 above the first increase.

"The cotton coming in now is of a better grade than for some time," Harry Blocker of the Blocker Cotton company, said. "Farmers held much of their better grade cotton."

On the Lubbock cotton compress there probably is several thousand bales of cotton held for farmers, although compress officials said they had no way of knowing how many bales actually belonged to farmers.

A Levelland buyer, in town Monday, said he estimated at least 2,500 bales being held near that city.

Purchases of cotton have been heavy the past three weeks by cotton brokers here. They have bought from gins, farmers and buyers in other towns.

More Than 500 Head Of Texas Fed Cattle Go To California

More than 500 head of Texas fed cattle, including 156 head from the South Plains, were sold last week by Washburn and Condon, Los Angeles commission men, on the Los Angeles market, the company's bulletin shows.

South Plains shippers were: Dr. I. E. Barr and the Lubbock Cotton Oil mill of Lubbock and Singley brothers of Levelland. Dr. Barr's shipments included three lots, two steers that brought $6.10 and $6 per hundred and one that brought $5.75. Singley brothers sold two lots of steers for $6.15 and the Lubbock Cotton Oil mill sold two lots of cows for $3.75 and $3.65.

Headrick and Hughes of Sweetwater sold one lot of cows for $3.50. Other Texas shippers were: Jess Elrod and C. J. Poor.

WASHINGTON, May 2 (AP)—Ruth O. White, 21, manager of the George Washington university girls rifle team, died today two hours after she had been found unconscious in the gas filled kitchen of a sorority house.

He succumbed to a heart attack while his wife, Mrs. Florence Benton Whitehead Allaire, New York social registrrite, was away from home during the evening.

School Rally Will Be Held

Per Capita Apportionment Of At Least $17.50 To Be Asked; Knapp And Garrard Are To Be Speakers

A regional educational rally will be conducted Saturday morning from 10 to 12 o'clock at Lubbock High school, with President Bradford Knapp of Texas Technological college and Tom Garrard, member of the state board of education as principal speakers.

Dr. J. T. Hutchinson, president of the Lubbock board, will preside. Besides the main speakers, each of whom will talk for 30 minutes, there will be a number of others, including: former Senator W. H. Bledsoe, Lubbock; T. H. Holmes, secretary of the Ralls school board, and W. B. Collins, Lamesa, president of the board.

To Ask Support

A resolution is to be presented by George W. Dupree, urging the state legislature to provide sufficient revenues to support at least a $17.50 per capita apportionment.

It is pointed out that the $16.50 per capita, because of the exemptions of homesteads of $3,000 valuation, will be reduced to less than $8 for the coming school year. Many of the districts, with present per capita, are unable to operate for a full nine months term. Unless there is some spacial revenue provided it is believed, impossible for many schools to operate for more than a few months next year.

Lubbock schools, among others, will open with a heavy deficit.

Invitations have been sent to trustees of independent school and other school districts and also to many others known to be interested in educational matters. A large attendance is expected.

Lubbock County Baseball Tournament Starts Today; 19 Teams Entered

Becton Meets Barton Squad In Lead Game

Liberty And Canyon Play Today At 3:30; Two Games On Tap Every Day But Monday; Entry List Swells

The Barton and Becton baseball boys meet at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon in the first game of the Lubbock county invitation tournament. Liberty and Canyon meet in the second game, which starts at 3:30 o'clock.

The entry list closed yesterday at noon with nineteen teams registered, the largest number ever to participate in a tournament here. The entries of Acuff and New Hope were accepted yesterday morning.

Pairings for first round games remain the same as were announced yesterday with the exceptions that Estacado will meet Acuff in a first round game and New Hope will draw a first round bye.

Time Is Changed

Time of the games has been changed, first games to start daily at 1:30 instead of at 1 o'clock, with second games beginning at 3:30 o'clock.

All games will be played at City Park, north of Lubbock.

Judging from the amount of enthusiasm displayed by team managers and players, the championship prizes probably will be divided nineteen ways, as every team is confident of winning the tournament title.

Three prizes, however, to first, second and third place teams, will be awarded.

To End Friday Week

The tournament will end, according to the present schedule, Friday afternoon, May 12, with two games daily except on Monday, May 8, when there is only one game. Winners of the Becton-Barton and Idalou-County Line teams will play a second round game on Monday.

The teams have been divided into two brackets, with ten clubs in the first bracket and nine in the second. Winners in each bracket will meet for the championship next Friday week.

Bleachers Are Installed

Bleachers borrowed from Texas Tech college have been erected back of home plate at City Park, assuring comfortable seats for fans. Automobiles may be parked behind the screens which run past first and third bases and occupants may see the games from the cars. There will be no extra charge for driving cars into the park.

Tournament officials last night said that popular prices of 25 and 15 cents would apply. Fans from towns represented in tournament play will be admitted for 15 cents. All others will be charged 25 cents for the day's double-header. Children under 14 years of age will be admitted any day for 15 cents.

Games will be started promptly at the times designated. Failure of a team to appear 30 minutes before scheduled game time and to be ready to play at the appointed time will lose the game by default.

Here's The Schedule

First round pairings, as revised yesterday, and the times of games, is as follows:

Wednesday, May 3—1:30 o'clock: Becton vs. Barton; 3:30 o'clock: Liberty vs. Canyon.

Thursday—1:30 o'clock: Idalou vs. County Line; 3:30 o'clock: Lubbock Ramblers vs. Monroe.

Friday—1:30: Grovesville vs. Martin Drug of Lubbock; 3:30: Union vs. Woodrow.

Saturday—1:30: Slide vs. Bunker Hill; 3:30: 131st Field Artillery of Lubbock vs. Shallowater.

Sunday—1:30: Estacado vs. Acuff; 3:30: winner Liberty-Canyon game vs. New Hope.

Second round games will start Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock when the winner of the Becton-Barton game meets the winner of the Idalou-County Line game.

The two-game daily schedule will be resumed Tuesday.

Eddie Neil Wins Honor As Scribe

NEW YORK, May 2. (AP) — They took Eddie Neil, staff sports writer of the Associated Press, "down the most dangerous mile and a half in the entire sports world" as he put it, on a bobsled at the last winter Olympics and the graphic story he wrote, a classic of descriptive writing, today received honorable mention among the best written newspaper stories of 1932.

Neil's story of the breathless dash down the mountain slide near Lake Placid with Harry Homberger's "Red Devils" gained widespread attention at the time and was nominated by many sports followers throughout the country for the Pulitzer prize committee's consideration.

Nationally recognized for his expert description of big boxing matches, Neil's colorful stories of sports events have been conspicuous in the Associated Press for a number of years.

He attended Andover and Bowdoin, began his newspaper career in Boston and joined the general sports staff of the Associated Press in New York in 1926. He has many close friendships among the great and the near-great of the sports world.

Noteworthy among other stories were dramatic sketches of the career of the late Al Lassman, New York university all-around athletic star, and his description of West Point's tribute to Dick Sheridan, the end who died after injuries in the Yale-Army game of 1931.

TEXAS LEAGUE SPLINTERS

TEXAS League hitters sighed with relief when Detroit farmed Izzy Goldstein to Toronto instead of returning him to Beaumont.

Izzy could always deal "hitless misery" to the league's hardest horsehide clouters.

BIB McCULLOUCH, the rookie who trumped the veteran "Tex" Jeanes' bid for a regular job in the Dallas outfield, was recommended to the Steers by Randy Moore, a former Texas league star.

"Sock" Johnson, Oklahoma City's rightfielder, takes an outfield stance that resembles a sprinter's start in the century dash.

Fred Luderus, Oklahoma City manager, did not get the results desired when he released Tom Holley and signed Ray Flaskamper for second base. Ray is said to be a trifle too slow on double plays to suit Luderus.

ART GRIGGS, Tulsa manager, said he did not release Lil Stoner because Stoner could not pitch winning baseball but because Stoner was a veteran and he (Griggs) wanted to develop a youngster for future sale.

Ball players claimed that Zeke Bonura, Dallas first baseman, had the largest legs in the league until the arrival this year of Goldberg of the Galveston Buccaneers. "They're tree trunks," was Sam Langford's description of them.

MANAGER HAPP MORSE knows about sudden headaches. After Dallas had lost a doubleheader to Tulsa, Morse hardly returned home before receiving a telephone call requesting an additional thousand to buy equipment for his bowling alley.

Larry Cox opened the season in centerfield for San Antonio. The first game he clouted two home runs and batted in five runs to give the Missions a 17 to 5 victory. Thirteen days later he was released by Manager Henry Severeid.

"PID" PURDY, San Antonio centerfielder, is reputed to be the most talkative player in the league. Players claim "Pid" hits .340 with the bat and an even 1000 in the conversational league.

Sam "Slam 'Em" Langford has more than filled Rip Radcliff's shoes as a rightfielder for the Dallas Steers. Sam is proving a better fielder, thrower and base runner than the Ripper. In addition to these achievements, he is hitting the ball for a better than .300 average.

Flint Rhem Survives Assault To Win, 6-5; Red Birds Fly All Over Brooklyn To Open Eastern Invasion

PHILADELPHIA, May 2 (AP)—After six straight setbacks the Phillies defeated the Pirates, 6-5, today.

The league leaders assaulted Rhem for four runs in the first inning but the Phils knocked Larry French, southpaw Buc ace out of the box in the next and scored five runs putting them into a lead they never gave up.

Chuck Klein hit his second home run of the season with two on base in this inning to drive over the final three runs of the rally.

The Phils scored their six tally in the fourth on Rhem's single, two successive force plays, a passed ball and Klein's single. The Pirate run was scored in the eighth on Traynor's double and Piet's single.

CARDS GO EAST

BROOKLYN, May 2 (AP)—The Red Birds of St. Louis flew into Brooklyn today to start the first eastern swing of the western clubs round the National League circuit and alighted all over the Dodgers. Three Dodgers pitchers fell before the Cardinal onslaught, 13-4.

Dizzy Dean, the lanky right-hander with the left-handed mental processes, allowed the Dodgers ten hits but he fanned seven and was just loafing along after the Cardinals fell upon Walter Beck, rookie right-hander, for four runs in the first four innings walloped Joe Shaute for six more and banged Ray Lucas, a jittery right hand freshman, for a final three for good luck in the last two.

Jimmy Wilson and Pepper Martin led the Cardinal attack with home runs, as every man but Frankie Frisch got at least one of the 14 St. Louis hits.

WARNEKE BLANKS GIANTS

NEW YORK, May 2 (AP)—Lon Warneke, ace right hander of the Chicago Cubs, and his battery mate, Gabby Hartnett, proved entirely too much for the Giants today in their opening game against the west and the Cubs won 11-0.

Warneke blanked the Giants with three hits, Hartnett clouted a pair of homers, driving in five runs. The Cubs topped off their assault with six runs in the eighth and Riggs Stephenson finished with a circuit blow in the ninth.

REDS BEAT BROWNS

BOSTON, May 2 (AP)—Home runs by Leo Durocher and Ernie Lombardi today enabled the Cincinnati Reds to open their first eastern invasion with a 2-1 victory over the Boston Braves.

Larry Benton, former Brave, opened against the Tribe and with one out in the first inning, he was struck on the right forearm by Baxter Jordan's single through the box, and was forced to retire. Bob Smith, another ex-Tribesman, took up the pitching burden for the Reds, holding his former teammates to five hits.

Brandt started on the mound for Boston and, after holding the Reds to six hits, gave way to the pinch-hitting Bob Holland while the Braves were trying to rally in the eighth. Harry Seibold finished for Boston.

Fred Marberry Checks Yanks; Detroit Wins

Tigers Bunch Hits To Win 3-2 Decision In Opener; Browns Defeat Red Sox, 2-1, To Open St. Louis Series

(By The Associated Press)

DETROIT, May 2—Fred "Firpo" Marberry, big Detroit flinger, held the champion New York Yankees in check just enough to enable the Tigers to give them a 3-2 defeat today in the first game of their western jaunt.

Marberry was forced from the hill in the middle of the eighth inning, when things were looking dark for Detroit, but Elon Hogsett picked up the duel with Charley Ruffing with two men out and two on base, retired Bill Dickey and finished the ninth with only one hit.

Ruffing held the Tigers to six hits but they were fortunately bunched to produce runs.

BLAEHOLDER IN WIN ROLE

ST. LOUIS May 2. (AP) — Blaeholder won his own pitching battle with Burns by bunting safely in the tenth inning to bring in a run and allow the St. Louis Browns to take the first game of the series with the Boston Red Sox today, 2-1.

Boston scored its run in the second on Jolley's double, Hodapp's sacrifice and Oliver's single. St. Louis tied the count in the fourth when Garms hit a homer. Both pitchers were so effective that no more runs were scored until the tenth when Blaeholder bunted and brought in Burns who had doubled and advanced to third on Melillo's sacrifice.

Tulsa Loses To San Antonio In Close Contest

(By The Associated Press)

SAN ANTONIO, May 2. — Tulsa gave signs of cracking the lengthy Mission winning streak here today but the locals overcome a five-run deficit to finally triumph, 7-5.

Fabian Kowalik started, in spite of over work in the past few days, and was just three innings convincing every one he had nothing but his glove.

The Missions ganged Posedel for four hits and three runs in the fifth and another on a walk and a hit in the fourth.

Isaiah And Charley O Place And Show In Trial Race

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 2. (AP)—Head Play, Mrs. William Crump's bargain colt, justified the confidence of backers who have made him the west's favorite to win the Kentucky Derby when he came from nowhere to easily defeat a field of the better class of western eligibles at Churchill Downs today.

J. W. Parrish's Isaiah, a lightly regarded Derby prospect which has raced surprisingly well this spring, ran second after leading into the stretch. The R. M. Eastman estate's Charley O., Florida derby winner, captured third place after leaving the post last.

Head Play won by a length and a half. His time for the mile was 1:39 2-5, a fair performance over a drying out track. The $1,000 purse will more than pay his entry fee in the Derby Saturday, when he is expected to be secondary favorite to W. R. Coe's Ladysman leading eastern hope.

Charley O., by racing excellently after breaking last, established himself as a derby calibre. Head Play worked out an additional eighth after the finish, negotiating the mile and furlong in 1:54 3-5, and Charley O. did likewise, closing fast to work the mile and eighth in 1:54 4-5. Isaiah was rapidly tiring at the finish.

Ridden by Jockey H. W. Fisher, Head Play was the favorite and paid $4.16 for a $2 win ticket, $3.56 to place and $3.26 to show. Isaiah paid $6.50 to place and $4.32 to show, and Charley O., paid $3.56 to show.

Cowboys From Simmons Come To Tech Track

Coach Lowrey's Matadors Work Hard To Better Marks Set Against Buffs; Meet Cowboy Team Tomorrow Night

Texas Tech track and field athletes are going to make the Cowboys from Simmons university hump tomorrow night if practicing and preparation mean anything.

Coach Pinkey Lowrey has been giving his Matador pupils plenty of work for the past few days, with yesterday a particularly hard day, in preparation for the Cowboys invasion tomorrow night.

Tech's second track and field meet this season will start at 8 o'clock Thursday night under the football floodlights at Matador Field. They won their first meet, 85 to 32, a couple of weeks ago at the expense of the West Texas State Teachers college Buffaloes of Canyon. That was the first meet in which Tech athletes had participated for three years.

Times and distances were slow and short in the first meet, but if the Matadors hope to do much against Simmons, they'll have to do much better. Coach Lowrey says his team has improved.

Veteran Athletes Coming

Simmons, which conducts track and field as a regular spring sport, will bring a team of experienced athletes to Lubbock. Comparison of records shows the Cowboys to be faster in nearly all races and stronger in the field events, but not so much so that Tech could offer plenty of competition with a degree of improvement.

The meet was transferred from Abilene in order to give Tech two meets at home this season. Tomorrow night's will be the final one here. The Matadors will meet the Buffs in a dual meet at Canyon and will participate in the Border conference meet at Albuquerque.

Lubbock And Panhandle Artists May Appear In Opera; May Come to City

Lubbock and other Panhandle-Plains artists may appear in a Texas opera, "Tejas," which will have its premier in San Antonio and which will be presented in some of the state's other large cities. Theophilus Fitz of San Antonio was here Monday and Tuesday in the interest of the production.

Mr. Fitz, who recently sang a selection from the opera before the state house of representatives, conferred with Prof. W. R. Waghorne, head of the department of music at Texas Technological college, and other music enthusiasts here. Lubbock residents are among about 400 Texans who have expressed a willingness to be social sponsors of the opera, Mr. Fitz said.

Organization of the chorus is to begin soon in San Antonio, and auditions will begin May 15 at the St. Anthony hotel in San Antonio. Mr. Fitz's conferences here after his arrival Monday marked launching of a program to solicit talent in this district, of which Lubbock, Big Spring, Abilene, San Angelo, and Brownwood are the principal cities.

The chorus, Mr. Fitz said, possibly will tour the larger cities in Texas as the Texas Centennial chorus, by courtesy of the Texas Opera company, prior to production of "Tejas" late this fall or early next spring.

Appearance of the chorus of 64 voices here, if arrangements can be made, is anticipated, Mr. Fitz said, adding facilities and size of Lubbock High school auditorium would permit presentation of the complete opera here.

A native Texan, Mr. Fitz returned to the state three years ago, as a representative of D. W. Griffith, motion picture director famed for his epochal dramas. Plans for a Texas picture having been abandoned, Mr. Fitz set to work to create what he says will be the first state opera of any of the North American commonwealths.

Mr. Fitz had been professor of music at Colorado State Teachers college in Greeley, and after that conductor of vocal studios in New York City, Minneapolis, and Los Angeles.

"Tejas" is a dramatic opera in three acts, with an optional prologue, "The Winning of Texas Under Six Flags," and an epilogue, "Texas Centennial Exposition." The libretto is by Mrs. H. F. Mays and Mrs. William H. McGhee of Brownwood. Mr. Fitz is the composer.

With six leads, two baritones, a tenor, two sopranos, and a contralto, the premier musical battery also will include 64 persons in the chorus, 32 in a ballet, seven minor leads, and a symphony orchestra, according to Mr. Fitz.

Mrs. Edith M. Reisch, San Antonio impresario, is handling plans for the opera.

After Mr. Fitz last Thursday at a luncheon at a convention in San Antonio of the Texas Federation of Music clubs had outlined plans for the opera, he was asked to speak about it in Houston, Beaumont, Dallas, Texarkana, Amarillo, and elsewhere, he said.

His personal ambition, the composer, singer, and director said, is to make permanent opera in Texas, to enable young people of ability to have training "w.thout having a fortune."

Rev. Walter P. Jenn'ngs, pastor of the First Christian church here, is a long-time friend of Mr. Fitz.

Three members of the opera cast, Miss Erna Taylor of St. Louis, and Misses Marguerite Bevins and Lucille McMullan, both of Midland, accompanied Mr. Fitz here to visit friends.

SPRING AND SUMMER ARE THE REAL TEST OF YOUR SHIRT SUPPLY

Rarely, indeed, can a man check his shirt supply at the beginning of spring and find that he is sufficiently supplied for the added requirements of the "skirt sleeve" season. Have you checked upon yours? More than likely you need numerous replacements and right now is the ideal time to "stock up" for many reasons—

Solid White and Colors . . . Attractive New, Fancy Patterns . . . Stocks Are Complete

When assortments are fresh and new at the beginning of the season its a pleasure to make your selections. No question of sizes and sleeve lengths—no trouble to find all the blues or tans, or greys you might want to select from.

Featured here are famous nationally known makes—Manhattan, Eagle, Arrow. Full cut-fast colors, preshrunk fabrics—there is never a question about these things in makes of this type—New fabrics, too, as well as the popular "stand by's."

Prices are a pleasant surprise for such quality goods—more than likely cheaper now than later if all this "inflation" talk means anything. We offer wonderful shirts this season at ——

Three Held In Death Of Man

Coroner's Jury Orders Woman And Two Men Held As Body Of Youth Is Found In Lake Near Hot Springs

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., May 2. (AP) A coroner's jury today ordered two men and a woman held for the grand jury in connection with the death of Clifford Edwin Johnson, 23-year-old Oklahoma City bookkeeper, whose body was found Sunday in Lake Hamilton, near here.

Those ordered held were Edwin (Johnny) Reynolds, 23, of Durant, Okla.; J. E. Todd, 21, of Harrisburg, Ill., and "Jimmy" Odell, young woman of Tyler, Tex. Bob Clark, a full blood Osage Indian arrested with the others, was released.

Young Woman Sought

A widespread search was underway for Miss Marie Lawrence of Oklahoma City, who, officers said, was a member of a dancing party with Johnson on the night he disappeared. Fred Richardson testified he gave the girl a ride several days after the party and that she asked him if a body had been found in the lake.

Police said they had been told of fights alleged to have taken place between Johnson, Reynolds and Todd.

According to the general story of witnesses, Johnson, Todd, Reynolds and two girls went to a boat landing on the lake the night of April 23 and enlisted Clark to motor them to a likeside dancing pavillion. All admitted they had been drinking.

Sitting On Railing

Reynolds and the Odell girl said they last saw Johnson sitting on the railing of the bridge which spans the lake near the pavilion.

Asked why they returned to Hot Springs without Johnson, all four witnesses said they believed he had obtained another ride. When he failed to show up the next day, the witnesses said, they assumed he had gone to Denison, Tex., where he had relatives.

Coroner Randolph said a post mortem examination showed that Johnson was alive when he struck the water.

Johnson and the others all were patients at the federal medical clinic here.

Something to Say
—not just saying something

A friend of CHESTERFIELD writes us of a salesman who had "something to say":

"I dropped into a little tobacco shop, and when I asked for a pack of Chesterfields the man smiled and told me I was the seventh customer without a break to ask for Chesterfields. 'Smoker after smoker,' he said, 'tells me that Chesterfields click with them . . . that they're milder and taste better. I sell five times as many Chesterfields as I did a while back.'"

Yes, there's something to say about Chesterfields and it takes just six words to say it—"They're mild and yet they satisfy."

they Satisfy

Wherever you buy Chesterfields, you get them just as fresh as if you came by our factory door
