The helicopter proved itself as a rescue craft in the recent crash of a Belgian trans-Atlantic airliner in the wilds of Newfoundland, near Gander airport. The "flying windmill" saved hours of rescue time by dropping down at the scene of the crash, to which conventional planes could not penetrate. Above, an unidentified woman, one of 18 survivors out of 44 persons aboard the wrecked ship, is removed from the helicopter for transfer to a PBY flying boat. Note the helicopter "land field"—a few planks flown in and used to prevent helicopter's wheels from sinking in swampy earth.

E. B. Haralson, Pioneer Resident Dies Early Tuesday

E. B. Haralson, 77, a beloved resident of this county for 41 years, died Tuesday morning, October 1, at 7:30 a.m. at his home in Wellington. Mr. Haralson had been confined to his home since he fell and broke his hip about two years ago.

A retired farmer, Mr. Haralson had lived in Wellington for nearly thirty-five years. Born in Newton, Miss., November 11, 1868, Eli Burgess Haralson was the son of Charity Thompson Haralson and Julius Columbus Haralson, a Confederate veteran. Three years later, the family came west, traveling to Texas in the dead of the winter of 1870-71. As the covered wagon rolled slowly across the miles, rain and deep snow fell, making traveling impossible at times. At the end of a six-months journey, they reached Freestone County. After only six months there, the family went to Comanche County.

In 1880, Mr. Haralson moved to Montague County and remained there 18 years. After two years in the Indian Territory, near Ryan, he moved back to Montague County, and from there to Hollis, Okla., in 1901. A year later he filed on a claim in old Greer County, but three years later he sold out and moved to Collingsworth County, settling in the Lillie community. After six years he and his family moved to Wellington.

Mr. Haralson was married to Miss Cora Ellen Brock in Montague County February 3, 1889.

Their first six years in Collingsworth County were spent farming and stock raising. After they moved to Wellington, Mr. Haralson

Teachers of the Wellington school system Wednesday took action in an effort to reach an agreement with the school board on the salaries they are to receive during the current school year.

The action came after the first month's work had been completed and checks made out to the faculty members at a rate less than they had believed they would receive.

School was dismissed and representatives of the teachers met with the board. No agreement was reached but school will resume Thursday.

Logan Cummings, superintendent of schools, acting as spokesman for the faculty, stated that the question revolved around the amount of pay the teachers are to receive. He said that on September 2, with six members of the school board present, a 15 per cent increase was granted to all teachers in the system. This would amount to an average of about $200 per year.

Saturday night, September 29, in another meeting of the board, the raise was rescinded. Mr. Cummings said he did not learn of the action until Tuesday afternoon.

All teachers met at the high school Wednesday morning and picked members of their group to meet with the board, requesting the restoration of the raise.

"The teachers are not striking. They feel that an injustice has been done them, since the money to pay this raise is available, and because the cost of living is up."

"We want it definitely understood that no teacher is desirous of more money than the school is able to pay. All we are asking is a fulfillment of the agreement made with us by the board. There is not a teacher that will be unreasonable and there will be no unreasonable demand at this time. There will still be a spread of several thousand dollars between the salaries agreed upon and the anticipated income," Mr. Cummings said in a statement Wednesday morning.

Handley is Named To Good Roads Campaign Body

Bura Handley, Collingsworth County good roads advocate, has been chosen chairman of the Collingsworth County Good Roads Amendment Campaign Committee, it was announced today by Charles E. Simons, executive vice-president of the Texas Good Roads Association.

Appearing on the ballot in the November 5th general election as Amendment Number 3, the Good Roads Constitutional Amendment guarantees the availability of motor vehicle registration fees and gasoline taxes exclusively for road purposes, with the exception of one-fourth of the gas tax which will continue to be allocated to the Available Free School Fund.

"His deep interest in better and more improved highways and farm-to-market roads was the primary factor in his selection to head the Collingsworth County campaign," Simons said.

Simons also pointed out that the Texas Safety Association, Texas Farm Bureau Federation, State Board of Education and thirty other state organizations have adopted resolutions strongly endorsing the amendment.

"With so many outstanding organizations backing the Amendment," Simons continued, "we feel that every citizen in Collingsworth County should be fully informed of the provisions of the measure and the benefits they will derive from it. For this reason, we have selected Mr. Handley to head the Collingsworth County committee and direct a vigorous educational campaign to point out the merits of this amendment."

R. T. Savage Opens Radio Repair Shop

Opening of the Savage Radio Service was announced this week by R. T. Savage, young World War II veteran who is an almost lifelong resident of the county.

The business will be located three doors north of the Wellington State Bank, in the building formerly occupied by the Killingsworth Planning Mill.

Mr. Savage will do all types of radio repair work.

Prior to receiving his discharge from the Army in July of this year, Mr. Savage had been in the armed forces 21 months, four of which were spent in Europe. Before entering the Army he was in civil service two and one-half years and was stationed at San Antonio, Dallas, Philadelphia and New York. Included in this was 14 months in a government school and the remainder was spent as a radio and radar mechanic.

He is the son of J. R. Savage of Wellington.

Vetch Experiments Planted in County

Hairy vetch, which has made a name for itself in other sections of the state as one of the principal soil building legumes, will be given a thorough trial by three Collingsworth County farmers during the coming year.

Frank Coleman and Ben Farmer of Quail and W. W. Oldham of Samnorwood have secured seed and will plant experimental plots. Since vetch grows along the ground and cannot be harvested unless planted with some other crop, the local men are combining vetch and rye in a proportion of 10 pounds of vetch and 30 pounds of rye per acre.

If there is sufficient winter moisture to give growth, the vetch and rye will be pastured, then harvested next summer, Mr. Coleman said. A separator will be built or arranged for to separate the vetch and rye seed.

Mr. Farmer is planting the largest plot, 20 acres, while Mr. Coleman and Mr. Oldham are each planting 10 acres.

J. W. Thomas, county agent, who secured the seed for the local men, pointed out that while vetch grows particularly well in sandy land, it will grow nicely on tight land as well. He estimated that vetch will make approximately 20 per cent more growth than winter peas if the grower decides to turn it under as a green manure crop.

"Vetch is one of the best soil building crops we have," Mr. Thomas declared, "and where it is used

Workers to Open War Chest Drive Monday Morning

The campaign for Collingsworth County's part in the United War Chest campaign will open Monday, October 7, when work will open simultaneously in the city and all communities of the county, B. W. Beaird, county chairman, said this week.

The $880 quota that the county is being asked to raise is the smallest USO quota the county has ever had, and those in charge of the drive believe that there will be little difficulty in raising it.

The campaign will be conducted similarly to those in past years.

Assisting Bobo Castleberry in the drive in Wellington will be Cameron Beam. Joe Terry and Earl Hunter will be in charge of funds and Clark Anderson has been named auditor. Corbett Ford and B. W. Boardman will work that section of the Wellington school district outside the city limits, while Logan Cummings will be in charge of raising funds in the schools. J. W. Holder will be in charge of the court house and Claude Savage the Wellington post office.

Publicity will be handled by Miss Virginia Robey, S. R. Pinkston and Bill Hurd. The church committee will consist of the pastors of the various churches, including Rev. Howard Jones, Rev. C. C. Armstrong, Min. Vaughn Shofner, Rev. J. F. Mathews, Rev. J. J. Grubbs, Rev. Austin Moore, Rev. Andrew Quante, Rev. J. S. Shoff and Rev. O. B. Hutson.

Sailor Here After Atom Bomb Test

"You really don't know anything about the atomic bombs after you have seen two of them exploded," Jack W. Tinkle, Bsm 2-c, declared Tuesday, here on leave after witnessing the activities of the Bikini bomb tests.

Tinkle, who was born in this county and lived here until 1938, is now visiting his grandmother, Mrs. W. H. Montgomery of Samnorwood, and other relatives in that community.

He served aboard the repair ship Ajax, and for five months worked in connection with the atomic bomb tests.

The first bomb looked white, then it looked like fire boiled up inside the smoke. First it went up in a long spindle shape, that looked like an ice cream cone, then it mushroomed out.

"The second one didn't go so high, but mushroomed out lower down. They didn't cause the large waves that were expected," Tinkle said.

The young sailor witnessed the explosions from a distance of about eight or nine miles. All men were ordered up on deck for the explosion and told to cover their eyes with their arms for three minutes during the time the explosion occurred.

Tinkle returned to the States on August 15, 20 days after the last explosion.

From here he will go to Corpus Christi to receive his discharge from the Navy. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Jack Tinkle of Welteria, Calif.

Communion Day Services Set

The Methodist Church will join other protestant churches throughout the world Sunday, October 6, in observing World Communion Sunday, Rev. C. C. Armstrong, pastor, has announced.

"As we observe the sacrament of the Lord's Supper, we can know that in churches in all parts of the earth, at the hour of their services, are also observing this same sacrament," the pastor declared.

The sacrament of infant baptism will be administered at the same service if the need exists, Rev. Armstrong said.

"All Christian people in Wellington who will not be in the services of some other church here are invited to be present and to take communion with us," he added.

All members of the church are particularly urged to attend.

Women's Clubs Hold Achievement Day

In their Achievement Day program, the Home Demonstration Club women of Collingsworth County will display a group of educational exhibits in the community building Saturday, October 5, beginning at 10:00 a.m.

Along with the exhibits, the women are planning a gift sale to include various kinds of handwork and other items, as well as a food sale.

Miss Joy Riley, county home demonstration agent said that some of the exhibit subjects will be pasteurization of milk, correct methods of lighting, buying wisely, making peanut butter and home pressing. Other exhibits will include various kinds of sewing, hand work and canning.

A luncheon sale will begin at 11:00 a.m. and continue through the noon hour.

The food sale will include butter, cream, eggs, dressed chickens, fresh vegetables, cakes, pies and cookies.

"Everyone is cordially invited to attend the Home Demonstration Achievement Day. You will enjoy it, and your attendance will encourage the women in their work," Miss Riley said.

Rockets Back on Home Field for Game Friday

The Wellington Skyrocks will return to their home field Friday night, October 4, to play the Wheeler Mustangs in a conference tilt.

While the Rockets are hoped to win over the Mustangs, Coach Al Duncan warns fans that it won't be a walk-away.

The Mustangs, under the coaching of W. O. Carrick, have some of the larger players of the district, and the team has been undergoing rigorous workouts in recent days.

"With a fullback at 175 pounds, a 170 pound quarterback, and a 180-pound tackle, they have the power and size to go places. Only one man on the team falls below 140 pounds," Duncan said.

One of the smaller schools of the district, the Mustangs have less material to draw from than a majority of their opponents. This year they defeated Lakeview 12 to 0, then lost to Shamrock 32 to 0 and to Lefors 26 to 13.

Coach Duncan said that it is possible that Tim Hatch, bruised up in the game with Childress, will not be in the game Friday, but that I. D. Russell probably would.

The Mustang starting line-up will include: Ends: J. Weeks, 140 pounds and L. Herd, 160; tackles: B. Robertson, 180, and J. McCormick, 165; guards: G. Reivious, 163, and D. Waters, 140; center: W. Jolly, 158; fullback: J. Barr, 175; quarterback: G. Hubbard, 170; and halfbacks: E. Colliers, 150 and B. Lowrie, 135.

Basketball League Is Organized

Initial organization plans for the Wellington basketball league were completed Tuesday night with sponsors for seven teams announced.

C. G. Weaver is the league organizer.

Sponsoring teams are Goat's Cafe, the Palace Drug Store, Modern Market, Thompson Food Market, United Super Market, Steve Owens, and the high school faculty.

Players and sponsors will meet again Monday night, October 7, at the high school and all interested players are urged to attend.

At present it is planned to play two nights a week, Monday and Thursday.

Skyrocket Band Is Second In Childress Fair Contest

The Skyrocket Band placed second in the band marching contest held in connection with the Childress Fair on Thursday, September 26. Seymour placed first and Childress third.

Under the direction of W. R. Faifer and led by Tommie Ann Campbell, drum major; Diane Wells, assistant; and Lynn Moore, Ethra Jean Norman, Wanda Estes and Joyce Duncan, twirlers, the band did left and right oblique marching, counter marching, as well as the waltz and grapevine specialties, while playing "Salutation," "New Colonial," "Our Director" and "Let Me Call You Sweetheart."

Taking part in the contest were Peggy Riggs, Jeanne Way, Edward Hajek, Lura Finley, Virginia

All Farmers And Wives Urged To Go to Polls

Landowners of the county will determine Saturday, October 5, whether or not the Salt Fork Soil Conservation District will be formed to cover Collingsworth County.

Voting will be held at six points, Jake Tarter, polling chairman, said. These are Wellington, Samnorwood, Quail, Lutie, Dodson and Rolla. Voting will be at the county court room in Wellington and at the usual voting places in the other communities.

Owners do not have to vote in their local polling box, but may vote in any of the other boxes. The polling hours are from 7:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m.

Both the landowner and his wife may vote in the election, and if a piece of land is owned jointly by two individuals, both can vote.

During the 10 days preceding the election, meetings at the various communities will give landowners an opportunity to learn of the soil conservation district set-up and to ask any questions regarding it.

"There is nothing binding in any way on an owner in the formation of the district and nothing binding on an owner after the district is formed by such an election, as the district can neither levy bonds nor taxes, neither can a district vote on bonds or taxes," Mr. Tarter said.

There is no provision in the law to force any man to do anything on his farm that he does not want to do, such as terrace, contour, dig ditches or anything else, Mr. Tarter pointed out.

There are certain advantages to having such a district, however, including both services and materials. The Soil Conservation Service, the Extension Service, the AAA, the Bureau of Reclamation and the State Board of Water Engineers have certain services that are available to landowners in a district. Free service is available

Insanity Verdict Rendered in Breeden Trial

J. C. Breeden, charged with rape, was found by a jury of the 100th district court to be sane at the time of the commission of the crime, but insane at this time. The trial, which began Monday morning, went to the jury at 3:00 p.m. Tuesday afternoon and the verdict was returned at 10:00 a.m. Wednesday morning.

Judge Luther Gribble presided. The effect of this verdict will be that Breeden will be placed in an asylum until authorities there declare him to be of sound mind, and he will then be tried on the charges against him, District Attorney Sam Hamilton explained.

Breeden will be transferred to a state hospital as soon as the county can make the necessary arrangements.

Five Cent Air Mail Effective

The new air-mail postage rate of 5c per ounce became effective Tuesday, and stamps are now on sale at the Wellington Post Office, R. F. Curry, postmaster, has announced.

The new rate is effective to all parts of the United States, to the armed forces overseas, and to all possessions of the United States.

"The purpose is to create greater volume to overcome the drop in air mail rate. The post office believes it can be done," Mr. Curry said.

He pointed out that local residents sending letters more than 200 miles can well afford to use air mail. "For instance, a letter going to Chicago by regular mail is delivered on the third day after it is mailed here. Going by air, a letter mailed at 5:00 p.m. in Wellington reaches Chicago at 9:00 a.m. on the following morning," Mr. Curry said.

Similar time is made by mail going to the west coast.

Mr. Curry also stated that the Post Office Department is experimenting with its Air Post Office, which provides for the sorting and routing of mail while it is being flown.

District Farm Bureau Meet at Amarillo Tuesday

A series of 13 district Farm Bureau meetings will be conducted throughout the state of Texas during the month of October, it has been announced by J. Walter Hammond, state Farm Bureau president.

One of the meetings will be held in the Herring Hotel at Amarillo on Tuesday, October 8. Joe M. Hatton of Spearman, state director, will preside. The meeting, which will begin at 10:00 a.m., will be attended by Hammond and State Organization Director Marvin Carter.

"The chief job of organized agriculture is to maintain farm prices at a fair exchange level," Hammond said. This was not done following World War I and the result was depression. After the other war farm prices dropped 53 per cent. By 1935 two million farmers were foreclosed. Industrial goods dropped only 14 per cent, which brought about disparity between agriculture and other groups.

Principal topic for discussion at the forthcoming farm meeting, will be the proposals of officials of government and other groups with reference to the future of agriculture. "A careful study of agriculture's program as proposed by these people," Hammond said, "will reveal that they are the same plans offered and adopted following the first World War which led the nation into depression that not only wrecked agriculture but brought ruin to business, finance, and industry. The present-day trend is toward cheaper prices for farm products."

"If the right plans are not adopted now," Hammond continued, "we cannot hope for anything but a recurrence of the disaster following World War I. An agricultural program must be maintained that will stabilize the prices of farm products, which will in turn stabilize business and industry. It is the responsibility of the farmers of Texas to attend these district meetings and discuss feasible plans for agriculture."

At the forthcoming meetings plans will also be discussed for a state-wide membership drive which will be conducted simultaneously in all counties of the state during the week of October 24-30.

Building Permits Drop in Texas

AUSTIN—The value of building permits issued in 49 Texas cities fell back 17.5 per cent in July from June; however, the July amount was more than twice the size of the July 1945 figure for permits issued.

This information was released from the Bureau of Business Research at the University of Texas. Dallas led the state, with total permits of $2,899,377, followed by Austin, Fort Worth, San Antonio, and Houston—all of which issued permits in excess of $1,000,000 during July.

Rocket B Team Loses Opener

The Wellington B boys suffered a 12 to 6 defeat in their opening football game at the Childress Bobcat stadium Wednesday afternoon September 25.

The Childress boys scored both touchdowns early in the first period and the Wellington boys were never able to overtake the two touchdown lead.

On the first play of the ball game the Childress club recovered a fumble on the Wellington 30 yard line and ran over on 2 plays. Wellington threatened on the first play after the kick-off when Shoff passed to McCutchins who was dragged down on the Childress 5 yard line. On the next play Childress back picked up a short pass over the line and ran all the way back for a second Childress score.

The Wellington counter came in the last period on a touchdown heave from Shoff to McCutchins. No extra points were made by either team.

Outstanding on the defense for Wellington were Guards Roberson and Plank and Ball at tackle. Shoff did most of the ball carrying for the Firecrackers with some nice assistance from Clark, fullback.

Teachers Enroll 100 Per Cent in State Teachers Association

Every teacher in the county has enrolled in the State Teachers Association, Noah Cunningham of Quail, membership chairman, announced early this week. It is the first time in recent years that the county has had such a record, he said.

A large number of teachers have enrolled in the National Editorial Association, with East Ward School in Wellington having 100 per cent membership, Mr. Cunningham said.

The Rocket B schedule for the remainder of the season includes: October 10, Childress, here, 2:30 p.m.

October 17, Hollis, there, night game.

October 24, Quanah, there, night game.

October 31, Hollis, there, night game.

November 14, Quanah, here, night game.

A small admission will be charged for these games, which will go toward buying additional equipment and if possible a reserve letter for the boys at the end of the season, Coach Robert Percival said.

Mr. Bell was well known here and had conducted cases in district court here a number of times.

Mr. Bell was born in Flatwood, Tenn., February 2, 1884, and came to Cottle County in 1910. He served as county attorney there for eight years and as district attorney of the 50th judicial district for eight years. He moved to Childress in 1928. He served seven years with the government farm program during the Roosevelt administration.

Mr. Bell was a member of the Methodist Church and the Masonic Lodge.

He is survived by his widow; one brother, Judge Joe Bell of Paducah; one sister, Miss Mary Bell of Paducah; and one grandchild, J. Ross Bell III.

October Is the Month to Begin Landscape Gardening

Fallen autumn leaves contain valuable elements such as nitrogen and phosphorus and should be used as mulching material or as a source of compost, says Miss Joy Riley, who attended a landscaping school conducted by Miss Sadie Hatfield, landscape specialist, in Childress Tuesday and Wednesday, September 24 and 25.

"Leaves can be used either as soil conditioner to be spaded into the soil or when well rotted as top dressing for lawns and gardens. Decayed material found around oat, wheat, and hay stacks make a good mulch for flowers, which protects from extremely cold and dry weather," she said.

"There are a number of things to be done in year landscaping plan at this time of year. Bulbs and roots may be moved in September, but October is better for most. Roses may be treated with copper-sulphur dust for black spot, and also treated for chlorosis (food hunger) with iron sulphate. However, the treatment for chlorosis is given preferably in the spring. For explicit directions for applying the treatment, see your county home demonstration agent.

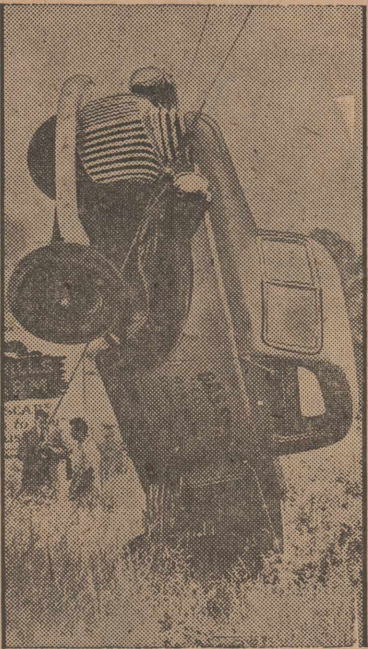

"Pruning deciduous shrubs and trees, ones that lose their leaves in winter, should be done in late winter and early spring," Miss Riley concluded.

Time to Treat Peach Borers

All farmers who have a home orchard should prepare to treat for the peach tree borer. This borer is the greatest enemy of peach trees in this area, County Agent J. W. Thomas declared this week.

One ounce of paradichlorobenzene should be placed around each 4 year old or older tree which is infested with borers. 1-2 ounce of P. D. B. is sufficient for younger trees. P. D. B. should be put out by the middle of October. Put P. D. B. out in a narrow band around the tree, 1 1-2 inches from the trunk and cover with 3 to 5 inches of dirt. The soil temperature at this time of the year causes evaporation which forms gas that is 3 times as heavy as the air.

This gas goes into the burrows of the tree and roots where the tree borer, in the larva stage, has bored in to spend the winter. The life cycle of the borer includes the egg, larva, pupa, and moth stage. The larva is the only destructive stage. The moth lays the egg on the trunk of the tree in the late summer.

CLIMBER

The egg hatches and the larva crawls down near the ground surface, a few inches above or below, and bores into the tree trunk or roots. He works here all winter, boring around in the cambium layer or vicinity, often girdling the tree, then in the spring the larva goes through the stage of pupation and emerges as a moth to lay eggs in the summer.

By treating in the fall the larva is killed before much destruction is done to the tree, however, the same treatment can be applied in the spring when soil temperature is between 60 and 80 degrees F. The mound of dirt and P. D. B. should be pulled away from the tree trunk in 5 or 6 weeks.

"Some of our leading orchardists in the county have other methods of borer control which have proven very effective. The ethylene dichloride spray is effective also," Mr. Thomas said.

Farm and Ranch Chatter

With Layne Beaty, WEAP, Fort Worth

This week's column is being concocted in Louisiana where this reporter is looking into things agricultural en route to Alabama. Of particular interest here just now is the bumper sweet potato crop which favorable weather has yielded. Nation-wide publicity campaigns are under way to move the crop.

The six-year-old Southern Regional Research Laboratory of the U. S. Department of Agriculture at New Orleans is doing some research on new uses and processes for three crops common to Texas—cotton, peanuts and sweet potatoes. The latter is due to reach new popularity as a feed crop. Cloth from peanut protein (that's right) is another new development at the laboratory.

Tests too numerous to endeavor to cover, are going on in the cotton section of the laboratory. However, we may expect some greater utilization of cottonseed and improved cottonseed meals as result of some of the tests. And perhaps a new place in the sun for short staple "immature" fiber from the boll-pulling cotton sections of the plains.

The laboratory expects to include rice in its official assignments for research in the future. This reporter suggested also that pecans might be a rich field for scientific exploration, pointing to the new plant in Weatherford for extracting tannin from pecan hulls, and to the many qualities of pecan oil.

Colonel Harry P. Newton, a Baylor University graduate, and native of Bosque County, is vice-director of the laboratory.

Mississippi farm workers have asked Secretary Anderson to rescind the cotton picking wage ceiling of $2.60 per hundred pounds. The National Farm Laborers Union (AFL) sent a petition to Anderson pointing out that the price is "grossly inadequate." This is reminiscent of the cotton picking wage ceilings established in some sections of Texas last year.

Louisiana agricultural leaders are urging more livestock on the farms. Many farms are without any stock or poultry, and meat must be imported. Lots of Texas farmland has come to rest in Louisiana, due to erosion in the Mississippi watershed. The Mississippi river is higher than the city of New Orleans on its banks, as a result of silting. Heavy rainfall will not run off New Orleans streets, must be pumped away.

Rice farmers in Louisiana are gradually turning to the combine as a harvest method. Nearly one-fourth of the crop this year will be harvested by combines, the rest by binder-threshers. Sugar cane looks good, and is mostly cut by hand, though some experiments with machine-cutting of sugar cane are being conducted in Florida this year.

More Students Return to College

County students continue their plans to attend college during the current term.

Thomas Holton left last week to enter Baylor University at Waco, where he will major in business administration. He was accompanied by his wife, who will make her home in Waco.

Alton D. Hobbs is a student in Texas Tech at Lubbock. Hobbs almost completed his high school work when he was called for Navy service, but returned last spring and graduated with the class of 1946.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawson Holton have returned to Norman, Okla., where he has resumed his studies in the University of Oklahoma.

John Boverie left Monday for Fort Collins, Colo., where he will resume his studies at Colorado A&M College. He is majoring in animal husbandry.

Three Samnorwood boys have enrolled in Tech, Jay Bryan, Paul Jones and Royce Laycock.

June Wischkaemper, also of Samnorwood, has returned to West Texas State College, Canyon.

Eugene McBride, just back from service with the Army in Korea, has enrolled in Hardin Simmons University at Abilene.

He who toots his own horn soon has everyone dodging him.

How women and girls may get wanted relief from functional periodic pain

Cardui, many women say, has brought relief from the cramp-like agony and nervous strain of functional periodic distress. Taken like a tonic, it should stimulate appetite, aid digestion, thus help build resistance for the "time" to come. Started 3 days before "your time", it should help relieve pain due to purely functional periodic causes. Try it!

Eagles and Quails Play to Capacity House Sept. 24

By ORVILLE CUNNINGHAM
The Samnorwood-Quail games went to the wall Tuesday night, September 24. Not a seat was available and standing room was all to be had; after the opening of the first game even that was all gone. Approximately one thousand people witnessed one of the most dynamic games ever to be played on the maple at Samnorwood. The game proved to be one of the thrillers the people had been expecting. Although the preliminary game which matched Samnorwood B Boys against Quail B Boys got off to a slow start, it gradually picked up momentum. Although out-scored in the first half by 19 points, the Samnorwood B Boys came back the second half scoring 10 points against their opponents 7. The final score ending 30 to 14, Quail.

The second game started as though it were packed with dynamite. Ever since the defeat the Samnorwood girls handed the Quail girls September 16, the Quails have been out to avenge themselves of the first defeat received from Samnorwood in a number of years. Samnorwood Eagles took an early lead. Excitement grew as the game progressed. The early margin the Eagles had taken was being cut down by the Quails as they began to settle themselves to a game that was being played very beautifully. Just before the final whistle, the Quails were leading by one point. At that time Coach Cunningham shifted his three starting forwards back into the game, who immediately scored 4 points and the whistle ended the game, the Eagles leading 24 to 21.

After the hotly contested girls game, the excitement had reached its peak. The Samnorwood boys and Quail boys teed off with enthusiasm still running high. Quail boys took an early lead, scoring 4 points before the Samnorwood boys could find the hoop. After finding their range, though, the Samnorwood boys scored 11 points for the first quarter, while their tight shifting defense held the Quails to 4 points. At half time the score was 18 for the Eagles and 8 for the Quails. As the teams began to settle down, some of the most beautiful passing that will be seen on any high school basketball court was witnessed by the throng at Samnorwood. Both teams put forth an effort which displayed some of the most dazzling floor work that has been seen in this section of the country in a number of years. As the final whistle blew, the Samnorwood Eagles emerged victors by a score of 36 to 19. High point man for Quail was Neely with 6 points, while scoring honors for Samnorwood went to forward Harold Bryant with 12 points, with forward Ernest Overcast scoring 10, followed closely by 6 ft. 4 in. center Nolan Potet with 8 points. The Deputy State Superintendent, complimenting both clubs, said these were the smoothest games that he had ever seen played this early in the season, in the state of Texas.

Samnorwood was highly honored by having as their guests Mr. Beard and the Deputy State Superintendent of Texas.

Just what is a newspaper?

That's the question a lot of folks ask. And that's a question with just as many answers. For a newspaper is . . .

A PUBLIC SERVICE: It is read by the community of people it serves, for the news it contains, advertising in its columns, opinions, and comments, and the entertainment it provides. It serves as rallying ground for campaigns and programs in the public interest.

A MANUFACTURING FIRM: Raw material purchases include newsprint, ink, gas and electrical power. Each day these items are turned into a finished product in quality. Newspapers pay taxes, consume material, manufacture a "trade-named" item just as any other plant upon which the economy of a community depends.

A BUSINESS—Wholesale, Retail, Door-to-Door: Selling individual copies of newspapers each day is a definite retail function. In addition to and super-imposed upon this daily task, copies must be made available for newspaper boys, counter sales, to supply post office mailings for distant points and men in uniform.

A PROMOTIONAL ENTERPRISE: Where else can be found the equal in loyal support for a community? Newspapers constantly tell the world of the advantages of the home town. Newspapers mirror and reflect the desirability of the community as

• No Bed of Ease

Somebody who doesn't like the city's accommodations tried to burn up the city jail the other day. A pile of mattresses went up in smoke, and City Marshal Bruce Wooddell predicts that overnight guests of the city are going to have hard beds to sleep on for a while.—The Hereford Brand.

• Employee Housing

Housing is Quanah is so critical that the Quanah Cotton Oil Mill had danger of losing old employees when they were forced to move from quarters they once occupied. To overcome this the mill officials are purchasing homes and moving them to the property owned by the corporation in order that office workers and other employees will be assured a place to live.—The Quanah Tribune Chief.

• Hollis Pushes Ahead

Nothing definite yet, but we hear there is a remote possibility that Hollis may yet receive city mail delivery service. Postal inspectors were here this week questioning various folks about the matter.—Dick Dudley in The Hollis Weekly News.

• Lost Cars

The nation "lost" nearly 2,500,000 new cars and trucks in the first six months of 1946 because of strikes and other hindrances to production, according to the Automobile Manufacturers' Association. At the same time auto workers were losing almost half a billion dollars in wages, with employment cut from 587,180 to 456,292.—Van W. Stewart in The Ochiltree County Herald.

a place in which to live and earn a livelihood.

A SERVICE ESTABLISHMENT: Do you need a bit of information, or seek advice and guidance? Invariably the question can and will be answered around the newspaper office. Newspapermen and women are never too busy to help their fellowmen. The ability, wide acquaintanceship and experience of newspaper personnel is always at the command of the community.

Yes, a newspaper is all of these things. It is that and more. The newspaper functions as no other community enterprise can hope to do.

Day after day, its editors, managers and staff go about their tasks in serving the general public. It is only on such occasions as the observance of National Newspaper Week that this newspaper and its personnel pause to remind its readers of the function of a free and undominated press in America. — The Cannonsburg (Pa.) Skyrockets Lose Hard Fought Game To Childress Bobcats 18 to 6

Wellington took a trouncing from the Childress Bobcats Friday night by a score of 18 to 6; but not before they had demonstrated that they are a team that will not lose its fighting heart under circumstances that would have demoralized many a football team.

Compared to the Perryton game, Wellington played terribly erratic ball at times; but they fought all the way and quite a number of the so-called reserve players demonstrated that they have what it takes.

Childress won the ball game on the second play of the first quarter. Hatch kicked off to Cagle who took the ball on the 10 yard line and ran it back to the Childress 33. Jones tried a line buck and was thrown for a three yard loss by Fulton. On the next play Ulmer took the ball and went through right tackle and with the Wellington line backer lured out of position raced 70 yards. It was an excellent run by a very fast man who had good blocking to assist him. The try for point was no good.

The second touchdown came soon after and resulted from Wellington's poor pass defense against long passes when they are minus I. D. Russell to rush the passer. Cagle kicked the ball to Fulton on the 40 who advanced it to the 47. Hatch made 2, Orr 4 and Moore 2. Russell, who has had an ankle injury since the Perryton game, was sent in to punt. He got off an excellently placed boot away from the fast Childress backs and it went out of bounds on the 22. Strickland was sent in to replace him.

Taking the ball on their 22 Childress started sweeping the ends and bucking the line to make 3 first downs in a row; but one thing might as well be said here as later. They didn't sweep Gerald Copeland's end. They tried it; but they never took him out or boxed him in and frequently he smashed the whole play near the line of scrimmage. There were other good men in the line but Gerald Copeland and Sam Raburn turned in the most consistent performance in the line. They played the whole game. It was truly heartening in this adverse game.

But back to the running account of the game: Childress was held after making three first downs and punted to the Wellington 30. After failing to gain a first down Moore got off a good punt that went to the Childress 25. Jones was thrown for a two yard loss by Johnson. Then Lewelling threw a long one to Williamson who took it on the 35. Another long pass from Jones to Fromm, who had worked behind the Wellington back, was good for the touchdown. The try for point failed and the score stood 12 to 0 at the end of the first quarter.

At this point Russell was sent back into the game despite his injured ankle and it brought new fire to the Wellington team. Childress kicked to the Wellington 10 yard line and Hatch brought it back to the 16. A pass from Hatch to Russell was good for 28 yards. Two running plays gained more yardage, and on a very few plays with Russell in the game Wellington had marched to the Childress 45 yard line. The next pass was intercepted.

At the beginning of the second quarter Childress started trying from the Wellington 45 yard line. Jarring tackles by Russell, Copeland, Fulton, McPherson and others forced Childress to kick from the 49 yard line after having picked up only 4 yards on three tries. Wellington took the ball on the 20 and on a lateral from Hatch to Russell picked up a first down past the Rocket 30 yard stripe. Wellington was penalized 5 yards for delaying the game and Strickland, who played a grand game, was sent in to replace Russell.

Again Childress was held by a fighting Rocket team and quickly kicked to the Wellington 15 yard line. Hatch immediately got off a splendid boot to put the ball back on the Childress 46 yard line. After a penalty the Bobcats were again forced to kick and it was Wellington's ball on their own 49 yard line. Moore passed to Strickland and again to Fulton to put the ball on the Childress 32 yard line. Two more passes went wide but on the third attempt Moore connected with Strickland again for a fourteen yard gain and another first down on the Childress 18 yard line. Wellington had definitely gone into the air; but three incomplete passes and a 5 yard gain by Hatch failed to make a first down. Childress kicked out and the half ended before Wellington had a possible opportunity to start another march.

At the opening of the third quarter Childress kicked to the Rocket 15 and Hatch made a beautiful return back to his own 38. Hatch passed to Russell for an 18 yard gain and another first down. A line buck by Russell and lateral from Hatch to Russell gave the Rockets another first down. On the next play Hatch's attempted pass was intercepted by Jones and the ball went over to Childress on about their own 20 yard line.

With Russell once again withdrawn from the game, Childress advanced the ball down the field on running plays; but the Rockets were holding them fairly well until their fatal weakness showed up again and Childress shot another long pass to a receiver who had been allowed to work his way behind the defensive halfbacks. He was brought down on the Rocket 4 yard line, and the stand of the Wellington boys was such that it took four drives to put the ball over. That was the end of the scoring although Wellington was definitely on the offensive during the fourth quarter.

In the fourth quarter, Kenneth Strickland, the brightest light of the Wellington backfield reserves, halted a Bobcat drive by intercepting a pass. Nice passing by Moore and Hatch to Strickland, Ingram and Fulton again made Wellington a threat. Right in the few last minutes of play Wellington stopped the original Childress starting backfield cold and went on to wind up near the Childress goal line as the final whistle ended the game.

The game was peculiar in one respect not shown by the vital statistics published by the sports writer in the Childress Index. The Rockets received only 10 yard in penalties. These were two of 5 yards each for delaying the game—substitutes going in too late or getting in motion too late.

On the other hand the Bobcats were given 95 yards in penalties even if the officials did not start calling them until the AA team was safely ahead by 18 points. Three of these were for what is known among all football players as dirty football. One was for clipping and two others were for unnecessary roughness. The other 15 yard penalties were for holding and illegal use of the hands.

Wellington reserves who played in this tough game while some of the starters were out or injured are: Jackie McPherson, John M. Jones and Tiffin Young, and in the backfield Kenneth Strickland

Bert Childers and the Melon Patch

Bert Childers put an ad in the Clarion the other day. Here's what it said:

"Planted more melons than I can eat this year. Stop by and pick as many as you want. All free."

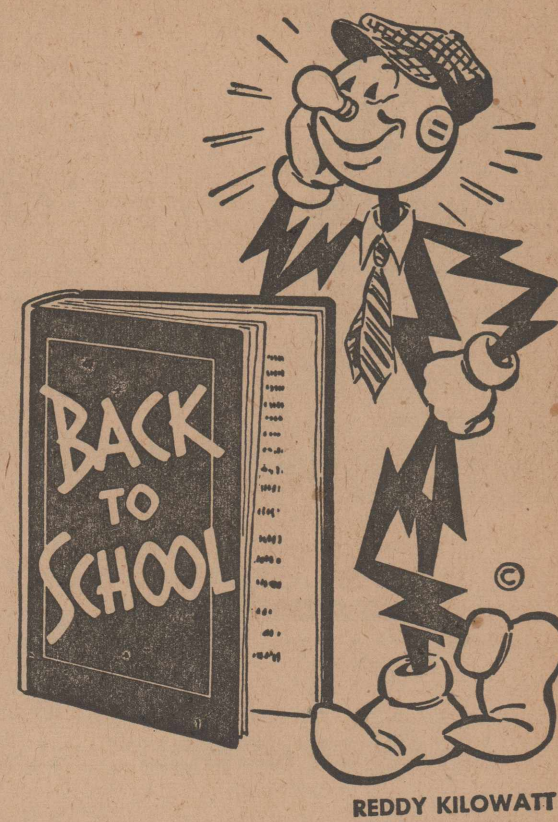

As you can guess, plenty of folks sent their kids over and plenty of the parents came too. Stripped Bert's melon patch in no time. And as they went away, Bert treated the kids to lemonade, and offered the grownups a glass of ice-cold sparkling beer.

Naturally it puzzled some folks ... but Bert explains: "It gives me a kick to share things when I can afford to—whether it's the melons, or the lemonade, or beer. I guess I just like to indulge my whims."

From where I sit, if we had more "self-indulgent" people like Bert—who believe in share and share alike, live and let live, this tired world would be a whole lot better off!

Bing, Bob, Dotty Travel New 'Road'

Three of screenland's most seasoned travellers cap their zany adventures with an hilarious trek up the "Road to Utopia," Paramount's latest "Road" film due Sunday at the Ritz Theatre. Insiders say that Bing Crosby, Bob Hope and Dorothy Lamour have hit the millennium in laughs in this slap-happy gag-a-minute show which takes the tireless trio into the gold studded Yukon.

The object of their misadventures is a rich mine buried in the snowcapped Alaskan hills. It's Dotty's inheritance, but two of the Yukon's shootin'est thugs are out to swipt it, so Bob and Bing assure Lamour they'll beat them to the punch. The trip is made just a bit more difficult when the two boys mistake the ship's porthole for a safe and throw their boat fair to the shark's fins. With their last dollar floating away, Bob and Bing have to start working their way northward. Reports indicate that this and other such situations make the script provided by Norman Panama and Melvin Frank a gold mine of laughs.

DON'T BUY BLACK MARKET

If you are ever tempted to buy black market meat, remember this picture—and your family's health—and don't. Photo shows attorney Harold R. Levy looking over 350 pounds of ungraded meat, found hidden amid dirt under back seat of car by OPA agents in recent Chicago crack-down.

While climatic conditions make it necessary for Dottie to trade her jungle sarong for a fur-lined parka, she nevertheless has ample opportunity to display the famed Lamour form in some slinky Edith Head creations. On one such occasion she gives forth with a little ditty titled, "Personality," lyrics by Johnny Burke and music by James Van Heuson. Bob and Bing

Childress Square Dance Reset

Postponed until next Saturday night because of rain last week, was the big fireworks display and mounted square dance scheduled at the Childress State Fair last Saturday night. Paul Ord, fair manager, announced that both events would be given this Saturday, entirely free, beginning at 8 p.m.

"Rain prevented our closing events in the stadium last week, and since thousands of people had come to see our show, we have scheduled our complete performance for this Saturday, entirely free to the public," Ord said.

Vetch Experiments

in connection with an application of from 150 to 200 pounds of superphosphate per acre, it will put enough phosphate and nitrogen in the soil to have a tremendous effect on the land."

Vetch is seeded annually, he pointed out, and this makes it particularly desirable where crop rotation is practiced.

In addition to the value of hairy vetch as a soil building crop and its use for winter and spring pasture, Mr. Thomas said that the harvesting of the seed can prove rather profitable. A yield of 200 pounds per acre is considered a fair yield and at present, these are selling for 20 cents a pound. However, it is considerably higher than the seed generally sell for, he added. This is in addition to the rye seed yield.

Vetch may also be counted as an approved winter legume practice under the 1947 AAA program, Millard Brown of that office said.

Any Collingsworth County farmer who feels that he would like to experiment with this crop is urged to contact either the county agent or AAA office as early as possible, since October 15 is generally regarded as the deadline for planting vetch.
