China Boasts Success With N-Warhead

TOKYO (AP)—Red China underlined its rejection of new efforts to ban the spread of nuclear weapons and fresh allied peace moves in Viet Nam by claiming to have exploded a nuclear warhead carried by a guided missile Thursday. It said the achievement should be "a great encouragment" to Hanoi.

The blast—the fourth Chinese nuclear test since Oct. 16, 1964—took place two days after President Johnson and leaders of six other allied countries made new Viet Nam peace commitments in Manila and amid some signs of U.S.-Soviet progress toward a treaty to ban the spread of nuclear weapons.

The Chinese test came as Johnson, on his first overseas trip as President, was in Thailand, whose northernmost border is only about 100 miles from Red China. Its timing suggested it was designed to take Asian eyes away from the President's trip and the aftermath of the Manila conference.

The announcement, made early today by Peking's New China News Agency, did not report how far the missile traveled, where the test was staged or the size of the warhead.

But the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission said it had detected an explosion in the general area of the Lop Nor testing site in Singkiang Province. It said it was in the low to low-intermediate range - 20,000 tons to 200,000-to-1,000,000 tons. The Hiroshinra bomb was about 20,000 tons.

The AEC said it had no evidence to confirm or deny the Chinese claim of using a missile to deliver the nuclear warhead. Other U.S. officials noted that Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara predicted last year that Peking might have nuclear strike capability of 500 - 700 miles by early 1967.

A missile capable of delivering a nuclear warhead that distance could pose a threat to Nationalist-held Formosa, Thailand or Okinawa, the big U.S. military fortress 400 miles off the China Coast.

It also would bring neighboring India, bested by China in a border war four years ago, and the Soviet Union, with which China's relations grow steadily worse, under a nuclear gun from next door.

Switchboard Satellite On Course

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new communications satellite sped about the earth in a cigar-shaped orbit today, whirling ever closer to its intended station as a switchboard in space.

The shiny satellite is designed to serve as the first commercial space communications link between North America and Far East. It ultimately could relay live television coverage of the Viet Nam war into American homes.

"Everything looks good," reported a spokesman at the Communications Satellite Corp. operations center here. He said the drum-shaped satellite, launched Wednesday night from Cape Kennedy, Fla., is circling the earth every 11 hours, 9 minutes at altitudes ranging from about 20p miles to about 23,000 miles. As its orbit pattern changes, it comes closer to its desired "parking spot."

If all goes well, the spokesman said, engineers will trigger a kick-motor aboard the satellite early Sunday when it reaches the high point of its looping orbit.

This maneuver is designed to position the satellite so that it in effect will hover 22,300 miles above the Gilbert Islands in the Pacific.

In this spot it would serve as a space switchboard for transmitting radio, television, telephone, facsimile and teletype communications between North America, Hawaii, Australia, the Philippines, Japan and Thailand.

None of the television networks has firm plans now for satellite transmissions of live action in Viet Nam, but officials have said such transmissions would be possible.

PRESIDENT REACHES THAILAND — Umbrella protects President Johnson from drizzle as he transfers to helicopter after arriving at Sattahip Air Base in Thailand. Thai Royalty Greets LBJ

By LEWIS GULICK

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Thailand's king and queen and thousands of its people gave President and Mrs. Johnson a polite and colorful but never boisterous welcome today.

The President in a speech of greeting predicted peace would someday come to all Asia.

Solid ranks of smiling Thais, most of them schoolchildren in blue and white uniforms, waved small American and Thai flags as the President and King Bhumibol Adulyadej rode slowly down a broad boulevard.

Because it was a rigidly ceremonial occasion rather than one of the President's "meet the people" excursions, there were no stops along the route of the motorcade for the President to shake the Thai hands.

Mrs. Johnson rode with Bhumibol's beautiful young wife, Queen Sirikit, in a high yellow Rolls Royce with silk pillows.

The President and his wife came by helicopter to the royal plaza near the king's sprawling palace compound after an overnight seaside rest at Bang Saen, 68 miles to the southeast. Their arrival launched two crowded days of ceremonies and other activities.

The jazz-loving, Massachusetts-born king and his dainty queen greeted the Johnsons at the door of the helicopter and officially welcomed them to this Southeast Asian ally country three-fourths the size of Texas.

Cannon boomed and four Thai air force jets roared overhead as the President and the king stood at attention for their national anthems, then reviewed an honor guard. After the Johnsons met an assemblage of Thai dignitaries and the diplomatic corps, the long motorcade moved slowly off to the Municipal Pavilion where Lord Mayor Chamnan Yuvaboon welcomed the presidential couple to Bangkok and gave the President the gold key to the city.

Malaysians Burn Effigy Of Johnson

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — Yelling students burned a life-size effigy of President Johnson today and Chinese stoned a hotel used by U.S. troops, in demonstrations protesting the President's visit Sunday.

Police have been cracking down on leftists to head off any anti-Johnson demonstrations, but they were unable under the law to invade the University of Malaysia campus where the effigy was burned. They apparently were caught by surprise in the attack on the hotel.

About 50 Chinese attacked the hotel, used by U.S. troops on rest and recreation visits to Malaysia. Police said Chinese used slingshots to fire ball bearings, and threw bricks, stones and several bottles of oil. Windows were smashed at the entrance. Several U.S. soldiers in the foyer flung themselves to the floor. None was injured.

Police on guard broke up the demonstration within five minutes. The demonstrators carried banners and shouted anti-American slogans.

The effigy was burned in a shady glen on the university campus on the outskirts of Kuala Lumpur. A large red sign outside the campus urged the public to "come and watch the burning of President Johnson."

Two Servicemen Die In Ammo Dump Blast

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Two American servicemen were reported killed and 10 wounded tonight when a U.S. Army ammunition dump exploded in a huge ball of fire 12 miles north of Saigon.

First reports had said the blast apparently inflicted only slight casualties, but Associated Press correspondent John Lengel reported from the scene that American authorities there reported a heavier casualty toll.

The blast laid waste the surrounding jungle and broke windows in Saigon.

Large numbers of U.S. troops are based in the area, near Long Bnh, a supply point for the U.S. 1st and 2nd Infantry divisions. A large hospital also is there.

Pfc. Louis R. LaCroix, 19, of Somerset, Mass., said he was 500 yards away from the blast.

"I was just leaving the enlisted club of the 169th Engineer Battalion and the first blast shook everything. It knocked me to ground and the lights went out," he said.

"I heard a couple of machine-gun rounds before the explosion."

Pfc. David Owens, 18, of Knoxville, Tenn., was watching a movie at the 2nd Field Force headquarters at Long Binh when the explosion occurred.

"It knocked me five feet," Owens said. He was sent to the 93rd Evacuation Hospital in Bien Hoa for a checkup.

Pfc. Richard G. Martins, 20, Eagle, Wis., was driving a truck two miles away.

"The first thing I thought of was to jump for cover. It was a big fire ball. It kept rolling up and up into the air," Martins said.

The night supervisor of the 93rd Evacuation Hospital, Maj. Marguerite Casey, from Philadelphia, said:

"Bottles fell off the shelves, some screens blew in, and the whole building shook. Two patients who were not badly injured jumped out of bed and pushed the others to cover. I thought it was a mortar attack. Some 20 minutes later the first patients came in by helicopter and ambulance," she said.

h graf 3rd

The explosion ripped through an open ammunition dump containing propellant charges for 175mm howitzer shells.

U.S. authorities said they were not sure whether the cause of the blast was accidental or sabotage.

The dump is located on a bulldozed tract of jungle just off the main Saigon-Cap St. Jacques highway.

A series of small explosions followed the main blast, a U.S. spokesman said, starting several fires in the dump area. These were extinguished by 10:30 p.m., 90 minutes after the first explosion.

U.S. helicopters took to the skies over the dump, much of which had not exploded. Flares lit up the sky and all roads in the area were blocked off.

Newsmen were not permitted to enter the explosion area.

The force of the explosion burst doors open in Saigon's waterfront restaurants and broke windows in some shops on the main streets.

Ears popped, and people who threw open their windows to look out saw a huge fireball in the sky. One witness described the fireball as being "just like a sunset." Then a black pillar of smoke rose into the sky.

American military police drove frantically around the city for a few minutes, certain the blast was inside Saigon itself.

The U.S. army's 4th Division has a brigade of infantrymen based in the ammunition dump area. Other American units in the vicinity include headquarters of Field Forces II, an Army hospital, engineers and numerous supply installations.

VIET NAM MILK UPGRADED — Army helicopter crews in Viet Nam are so bullish on what their craft can do that they even move cows that won't fit inside. Here, using a net, they airlift a cow from a little hamlet occupied by a few villagers in enemy country near Tuy Hoa. The hamlet was found by paratroopers of the 101st Airborne Division who decided to move everything, including dogs, cats and cows. Cows wouldn't fit inside so they were moved like this one. Problems To Delay Launch

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Problems with the Apollo 1 spacecraft have ruled out the possibility of launching it into orbit this year with a three-man crew.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration had hoped to move the launch forward into December from its originally planned "first quarter of 1967." However, the problems make a launching this year impossible, NASA sources reported.

The troubles involve Apollo 1's environmental control system, which is designed to provide life support for the three astronauts for up to 14 days.

Pilots for the Apollo 1 mission will be Air Force Lt. Cols. Virgil I. Grissom and Edward H. White II and Navy Lt. Cmdr. Roger B. Chaffee. They are to wring out all systems of the craft, forerunner of the vehicle that is to transport U.S. astronauts to the moon.

Preparations were progressing smoothly here for the four-day Gemini 12 flight launching Nov. 9. This final Gemini flight will be piloted by Navy Capt. James A. Lovell Jr. and Air Force Maj. Edwin E. Aldrin Jr.

New Setback For Erhard

By HANNS NEUERBOURG

BONN, Germany (AP) — Chancellor Ludwig Erhard's new minority government suffered two parliamentary setbacks in half an hour this morning.

The Bundesrat, the house that represents the federal states, unanimously turned down a proposal to continue giving the federal government a 39 per cent share of income and corporation taxes. The 11 states want to give only 35 per cent to Bonn.

The Bundesrat declined to take a stand on the record 1967 budget of $18,475,000,000; it accepted a report of its finance committee declaring there is a deficit of more than a billion dollars.

The budget was defended by Economics Minister Kurt Schmuecker, who has taken over the Finance Ministry from Rolf Dahlgruen. Dahlgruen is one of the four Cabinet members of the Free Democratic party who quit Thursday in a refusal to back higher taxes.

The Bundestag can override the Bundesrat, but Erhard's success there is uncertain. Erhard was shakily holding the reins of an unprecedented minority government after his coalition partners joined the opposition. Two key state elections in the next month are expected to decide whether he can cling to power.

The minority government was formed Thursday night after the four Free Democratic party ministers in Erhard's coalition cabinet resigned. The Free Democrats and the opposition socialists have a total of 251 votes, while Erhard's Christian Democrats can count on only 245 in the Bundestag, the lower house of Parliament.

The ministers who resigned said they opposed Erhard's plan to raise taxes to cover a $1.05-billion deficit in a budget burdened by a pledge to buy arms in the United States.

But with important state elections in Hesse Nov. 6 and Bavaria Nov. 20, the Free Democrats appeared badly in need of a well-publicized campaign issue. They have been slipping at the polls in recent years and risk losing all their state parliament seats in Bavaria.

Erhard could be overthrown in the Bundestag only if the opposition got together and elected a new man, but at least 10 of the Free Democrats in Parliament have said repeatedly they would never agree to a coalition with the Socialists.

Nike X Officials Discount Threat

By SEYMOUR M. HERSH

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. officials say they have no plans to speed development of the controversial Nike X antimissile defense system because of Red China's reported missile-launched nuclear success.

In addition, they said they have no plans to use the added $153.5 million appropriated by Congress this year to begin procurement of the complicated system, which has been under development since 1957 at a cost of more than $2 billion.

There is no need to use the extra funds now, the officials said, because there is no clear Red Chinese missile threat now.

They described as not surprising the apparently successful test-firing Thursday of a Chinese missile-launched atomic device. But at present rates of progress, they added, Red China's nuclear capability will be limited for many years.

The officials said they have evidence that China is working on the development of intercontinental ballistic missiles capable of threatening the United States, but said the actual deployment of those weapons is about 10 years away. The United States could begin producing antiballistic missiles long before then, they noted.

The officials said the reported Chinese blast falls within U.S. expectations, as outlined by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara at a North Atlantic Treaty Organization meeting last December.

He said then: "The Chinese appear to be making an intensive effort to develop a medium-range ballistic missile which possibly could become operational as early as 1967. It is estimated they could probably deploy several launchers by 1968 or 1969, and several dozen by 1976. It is probable that they have already begun an ICBM development program. This program could result in an initial deployment as early as 1975."

Whether to begin production of the Nike X system has long been a sore point of contention between McNamara and Congress.

KIDNAPPING MILLIONAIRE HUBBY

Big Blonde Bride Faces Charges

By TOM JOHNSON

BRECKENRIDGE, Tex. (AP) —A hearing on a kidnaping charge — and possibly other troubles — today faced Pearl Choate, the 205-pound blonde bride who married her 95-year-old spouse Wednesday, a step ahead of police.

The kidnaping charge against the big blonde, who served 12 years of a murder conviction between 1949 and 1963, were filed Tuesday when she disappeared with A. Otis Birch, 95, a multi-millionaire California philanthropist.

After the pair left the home of her brother in this West Texas oil town Tuesday, the kidnap charges were filed. Earlier, Tuesday, she had been charged with simple assault following a butcher knife attack on Harlan J. Moehn, a cousin of Mrs. Birch, who died here Oct. 7.

After posting bond on the assault charge, Pearl bundled Otis into her 1967 model sedan and went to Duncan, Okla., where she said they spent Tuesday night. Wednesday morning, she went on, they went to Altus, Okla., and were married.

Birch, who made what Pearl herself said was about $200 million in oil and citrus, became the 5-foot, 11-inch woman's seventh husband.

Soon after the news of their disappearance was wafted about Wednesday night, Pearl and Otis returned to Breckenridge with a brand-new marriage license. She promptly posted $5,000 bond on the kidnap charge, on which a hearing was set today at 9 a.m.

The newlyweds also faced possible annulment of their marriage.

Dr. C. Adrian Heaton, president of the California Baptist Seminary in Covina, Calif.; Dr. Larry Allen, a vice president of Baptist Theological Seminary, Los Angeles; and Mrs. Martha Tulley, Los Angeles, a cousin of the late Mrs. Birch and guardian of her late cousin and Birch were reported en route to Breckenridge.

The two Baptist leaders and Mrs. Tulley were quoted as saying they intended to go into court today on a writ of habeas corpus for investigation of the Birch-Choate relationship and marriage and probably try for an annulment.

Newsmen interviewed both Birch and his bride after their return from the Oklahoma marriage.

Birch, who is nearly totally deaf, was asked in a written question if he were married. "No" he replied in a written voice. But the big bride took the paper and wrote, "Tell him."

After a pause, Birch said, "I didn't go inside. . .I signed a license, but I didn't know we were married. . .I sat in the car and didn't go in. I didn't know he was a preacher. If that's all it took, then we're married."

Africa Vows To Block UN Move

By TOM HOGE

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Many U.N. diplomats expressed doubt today that the world organization could carry out the General Assembly's decision to wrest South-West Africa from a defiant South African government.

The 121-nation assembly voted 114-2 Thursday night, with 3 abstentions, to end South Africa's old League of Nations mandate over the vast territory on her northwest border and bring it under U.N. trusteeship.

The resolution authored by 54 Asian and African nations was the most drastic action the U.N. has ever embarked upon to try to compel South Africa to yield the territory. But the South African government has served notice it will use "whatever means necessary" to block any attempt to take over the mandate.

This would give the assembly only one recourse: To turn the issue over to the Security Council, which has the authority to resort to sanctions or outright force.

But this posed the question of whom the council would delegate to carry out the job in the unlikely event that it did approve military measures without running into a British veto.

It was considered more likely that the council would call for economic sanctions. But such measures have had little effect on South Africa's white supremacist government in the past.

The resolution said South Africa had failed to carry out its obligations to the half-million inhabitants of the 318,000 square miles of territory it took over in 1920.

Declaring that the territory was henceforth a U.N. responsibility, it set up a 14-nation special committee to recommend ways for the U.N. to administer the territory and prepare it for independence.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am a married man who teaches school. I drive my car every day. A young woman teacher asked me to drive her home after school on the first day, and ever since then she has asked for a ride home every day.

It's not out of my way, and I don't mind so much that she has never offered to put in any gas, but I think it looks bad. You know what people start thinking when they see a man and young woman together all the time.

If I am a little late, she waits for me. If I leave early, she hurries to go with me. How can I get rid of her without insulting her? I'm afraid there has been talk already.

ON THE SPOT

DEAR ON: I don't agree that because a man gives a young woman a ride every day, poeple will talk. But if YOU do, then tell the lady that, silly as it is, people are talking, so the two-party car pool will have to be dissolved. I can't guarantee that she won't be "insulted," but your only alternative is to become permanently trapped.

DEAR ABBY: My daughter went away to college and before she left I bought her a beautiful wardrobe. She recently wrote me a letter saying she needs some new clothes because she has been dating the same boy for the last two months and he has seen all her dresses. How should I answer her?

MANKATO MOM

DEAR MOM: Tell her to get another boy friend and start over.

DEAR ABBY: I work in a rest home where about 75 per cent of the patients are senile. They tell their families that we don't feed them, or bathe them, and that we steal from them. Abby, some folks actually believe these stories. Don't they realize that these old folks aren't mentally all there at times?

Five minutes after they have cursed us and have even tried to strike us, they are hugging nd kissing us, having forgotten all they've said and done. Please print this so the families of these poor old souls will realize that if we didn't love and understand them we wouldn't be working here.

"UNDERSTANDS"

DEAR UNDERSTANDS: Orchids to you, and to others who continue to work in places where this type of understanding is so desperately needed. I agree, the only way to handle those who are not responsible for their actions, be they senile or mentally ill, is to love them, love them, love them

DEAR ABBY: That young working wife who didn't have time to call her mother, because her mother kept her on the phone for at least 20 minutes, sure burned me up. She should be in my shoes. My mother has been dead for 18 years, and if I only could, I'd call her every day and twice on Sundays no matter how busy I was. Sincerely,

CYNTHIA G.

Halloween Comes Early In Waynesboro

WAYNESBORO, Pa. (AP) — Halloween pranks started early when teen-agers decorated Center Square with an outhouse Thursday night.

Police had to light the structure with a red flare to prevent motorists from hitting it until the wooden building could be removed.

About 500 teen-agers gathered at the square to watch the performance and cars were backed up bumper to bumper for several blocks in all directions.

Police were looking for the outhouse's owner.

Beale Street To Become Landmark

By DON MCLEOD

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — They closed up Beale Street 50 years ago and now they're going to clean it up, as befits a national historical landmark.

Today, Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall and the widow of Beale Street's most illustrious son, William Christopher Handy will be on hand for the ceremonies that declare nine squalid blocks in the heart of Memphis to be, officially, a part of Americana.

For Mrs. Handy, the street holds few memories. She was the second wife of the blues composer, and married him long after he had abandoned Memphis for New York.

She welcomes the $20-million facelifting job scheduled for Beale Street as part of an urban renewal program still in its planning stages.

"It'll be a nice sight to see when it's done all over," said Mrs. Handy, now 64, in an interview at her home in Yonkers, N.Y.

Handy Park, and its towering bronze statue of the musician-composer, will remain untouched by urban renewal. Precious little else will survive the bulldozers which clear the way for a combination residential-commercial neighborhood.

While the planners hope to preserve as much of Beale Street's flavor as possible, only about 70 buildings on the short, narrow street that runs from the Mississippi River to Manassas Street are considered to be structurally sound. It is the worst slum in the city, a row of tightly packed, dreary tenements, pawn shops, pool halls, grimy cafes and cut-rate stores.

Universities To Study Food Prices

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. John Connally announced Thursday he has asked the University of Texas, Texas A&M and Texas to learn why food prices have been going up.

Connally asked the presidents of the three schools to institute a joint study comparing food prices with those of last year and the previous 20 years.

He asked them to determine how much of the consumer's food dollar goes to the grower, to the processor, to the wholesaler and to the retailer.

Also, he asked how much of the food dollar is spent on transportation, advertising, sales incentives and such things as added services.

Food prices should be compared with consumer costs of clothing, housing and services, too, he said.

"In other words," Connally said, "what has caused the increase in food prices and where and to whom is this additional money going?"

He said he was "disturbed by the mounting food prices and their effects on the homemakers of the state." He asked the schools to report back to him no later than Dec. 1.

Study Sleep At S. Pole

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — A group of scientists who have been studying sleep is en route today toward the South Pole to investigate why some people snooze excessively in that frigid area while others get the "big eye."

The scientists will observe Navy personnel and other persons at the South Pole station, a scientific base at the exact geographic pole.

Dr. Jay T. Shurley, research professor of psychiatry is head of the University of Oklahoma medical center team.

Sleep disturbances are common to people who have stayed at the South Pole station, a spokesman explained.

He said some suffer the "big eye" or "long eye"—slang for polar insomnia—and others go to the other extreme and sleep excessively.

Renal Rosson Speaks On Insurance To B&PW Club

The Business and Professional Women's Club met Tuesday evening at Martha Ann Women's Club for their monthly combined dinner and business meeting. Florence Leftwich gave the collect.

The head table was decorated with dainty fall mums. Placed in a hexagon design were individual tables which seated four. This delightful arrangement added much to the overtone of the fellowship hour, and the pleasant evening enjoyed by 22 members and three guests.

Elizabeth Beavers introduced the Honorable Renal B. Rosson, State Peresentative from this district, who spoke on "Insurance."

As an introductory remark Mr. Rosson praised the organization for its many civic and community accomphishments, noting that it had a representative on the board of the Chamber of Commerce.

The speaker stated that in Texas:

"We now operate under the 1951 insurance code. The insurance business has grown since 1900 from 138 companies to 1795 companies of all types operating in Texas as of the 31st of August, 1961. It is now thought to be only second to the oil industry in size in our State, with there being approximately 4¼ billion admitted assets in cash and properties as of August 31, 1961. It is estimated that there is in force life insurance on Texas lives of over 25 billion dollars.

"The State Board of Insurance is under the direction of three board members - William Hunter McLean, formerly of Fort Worth, Texas, Judge Ned Price, formerly of Tyler, Texas, and Durwood Manford of Austin, Texas - which board members handle the rate making and policies of the State Board of Insurance.

"It has been expressed by various parties that only when claims are reduced for death, injuries, and property damage resulting from accidents and storm damage will insurance rates go down substantially and stay down.

"The Insurance Board in determining rates for any year uses the loss records of the previous three years as part of its computation in figuring present insurance rates."

A buzz session followed the address, and for 30 minutes members had the opportunity to ask questions pertinent to their insurance needs. These questions were ably answered, and all present conceded that the session was helpful, informative and interesting.

Mrs. Travis Rhoades, president, presided for a short business meeting. The club voted to continue to support the American Field Service and to persist in the money making project until the club's quota was reached.

The organization packed two large, lovely Christmas boxes, one to be sent to the Big Spring State Hospital, the other to Abilene State School.

Guests attending were Mrs. Martha Sloan of Dallas, Mrs. Ruth Donelson, a teacher in Central Elementary School, and the guest speaker. Miss Alta Nations, speech therapist in Snyder Schools was introduced as a new member.

Brownstone's Country Captain

1 frying chicken, about 2½ pounds
¼ cup flour
1 traspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
4 to 5 tablespoons butter or margarine
1-3 cup finely diced onion
1-3 cup finely diced green pepper
1 clove garlic, crushed
1½ teaspoons curry powder
½ teaspoon dried crushed thyme
1 can (1 pound) stewed tomatoes
3 tablespoons dried currants, washed and drained
Blanched toasted almonds

Have chicken cut so there are 2 pieces of breast, 2 wings, 2 legs, 2 second joints, 2 pieces of bony back. (Wing tips, neck and giblets may be used for stock for another dish.) Wash and clean chicken pieces in cold water; drain. Mix flour, salt and pepper; coat chicken pieces with mixture, rubbing it in where necessary. Heat butter in 10- or 12-inch skillet until very hot; add chicken and brown well on all sides. If 10 - inch skillet is used, squeeze in bony back pieces at sides. Start with 4 tablespoons butter and add remaining tablespoon if necessary to brown chicken well or if there are not enough drippings in pan for next step. Remove chicken pieces; add onion, green pepper, garlic, curry powder and thyme to drippings in skillet. Stir over low heat to get up browned particles and cook slightly; add stewed tomatoes, including liquid in can. Return chicken to skillet, skin side up. Cover skillet and cook slowly until tender — 20 to 30 minutes. Stir currants into sauce. Serve accompanied by almonds Makes 4 serving.

A good rule for adding water when you are preparing soft-cooked eggs is to add 2 cups of water for the first egg and an additional cup for each egg used after that.

How To Go Antique Shopping

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Many young newlyweds travel the auction circuit hoping to find furnishings to lend distinction to their homes.

For most young people, the answer is the not-so-old piece. It helps furnish a home on a lean budget with solid looking furniture and accessories that can be painted, antiqued, re-upholstered. And they can have fun doing it.

But one must learn how to bid to avoid being trapped into a "bargain."

First, attend the exhibition of the sale merchandise, marking down all items in which you have some interest, what you think they are worth and what you can afford to pay.

If a chair frame is good but the chair needs to be reupholstered, make a note of it. If a table is gouged or scratched, or needs slight repairs, make a note of it. (Veto anything that requires big repairs you can't do yourself.)

When you return home, add up the figures and see whether the amount you'd spend is within the framework of your budget. If you are over your money goal, cross out the least important items. The important thing is to decide that you will not go over your budget. Well, maybe on that one extra bid if you do not get a chance to bid your maximum on the last round.

The thing auctioneers seem to have in common is that they save good things for a big crowd. Always arrive early, just in case the acutioneer's best - laid plans go astray. A rainy, windy, foggy or steamy hot day will put him in a different frame of mind, if the auction is outdoors. He may well want to get rid of everything early if a thunderstorm in imminent.

Things you've earmarked may be just the things to go early, and you may get a tremendous bargain.

Resist the temptation to respond when the auctioneer asks "Who will give me $25 or $50 to start this....." When he brings it down to a realistic figure, someone will begin bidding. If no one does, be "it", providing it looks as if he is not going to put the item up. The object is to get it down to your level.

An auctioneer will often mention that a large collection — trivets, horse brasses, whale oil lamps — is a "lot" with bidder's choice. In that case, the first bidder should know old trivets from new trivets, if the auctioneer permits three or six to be selected. When he puts the items up again, they should not bring as large a bid because it is assumed that the best of the lot has been selected by the first bidder.

One stands a better chance to get a fair deal at auctions that include some really fine furniture, even though you cannot bid on those things. An auctioneer handling choice items values his reputation and will tell the true condition of the tiniest thing and its age. If the auction is merely an assortment of stuff in disrepair, naturally he cannot go into detail or he wouldn't sell anything. You are on your own.

It's a good idea not to set your heart on anything. If you don't get it, forget it. Some little thing may look so attractive by comparison to other offerings, that it will bring a bigger price than anyone anticipates. Some people will pay far more than an object is worth too, if they want it to fill out a set of chairs, china or silver.

Earnestness Great Sin

THE GOLDEN CURTAIN. By Susan Cooper.

The curtain of Miss Cooper's title is accidental and even invisible. She says "nobody can see the Golden Curtain. Everyone thinks he knows about the world; and both sides are wrong."

Having taken that position, she declares, "This book is about the reasons why." She is earnest (she says earnestness is an American sin, but it is not as irritating as English reticence) in her own way about the "why" of this state of affairs.

Because she is questing for the "why," American readers should be able to forgive her for following pretty much the same trail travelled by that endless phalanx of Britishers who, since the days of Charles Dickens or earlier, have been lecturing us on our shortcomings.

But it is not quite the same trail. Instead of harping on American isolationism, she uses the term insulation to denote a dangerous euphoria arising from the fact the Atlantic is more than 40 miles wide. She unmasks much of the tinsel quality of our cultural pretensions (as have some American writers), but in mitigation acknowledges that we are still a very young country.

On the perennial theme of our materialism she finds that there is a two-way blindness between us and the rest of the world. She examines the unusual proliferasion to be "regular guys" and here, is baffled by our compulsion to be "regulat guys" and aghast at our violence and crime.

She has the grace to drop in frequent examples of equivalent aberrations abroad. And in a chapter on education (which quotes the Conant report several times) she does the reader a service by explaining calmly the great differences in the British and American approaches to that subject.

The author came here first as a journalist: more recently, as the wife of an American scientist, she has become a resident. She obviously has seen a great deal of America and Americans. She knows she is saying things that will ruffle us, yet she says them not the condescension, but with a sort of anxious affection.

Geiger Is Top Seller Of Almanacs

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — There aren't very many men who could beat Benjamin Franklin at anything.

But as an almanac salesman, Ray Geiger, 56, a former altar boy and Notre Dame philosophy student, makes old Ben look like a piker.

Franklin usually sold only about 5,000 copies a year of his famed "Poor Richard's Almanack" published from 1733 to 1757.

But since 1934, Geiger has sold 50 million almanacs, more than any other man in history.

He is making a small fortune out of nostalgia.

"Almanacs help satisfy people's yearning for the wholesomeness of an old-fashioned way of life that we'll never get back to but still miss," he said.

"And children like an almanac because they feel it gives them a true glimpse of the old days."

This year Geiger has printed 2,750,000 copies of the 150th annual edition of the "Farmers' Almanac," which is distributed free to customers by banks, insurance companies and other firms. When he took it over in 1933, it was selling only about 100,000 copies.

He is also printing 800,000 copies of the second issue of "The American Farm and Home Almanac," which he founded only a year ago and is sold on newsstands.

Geiger, tall, blond and affable, heads a $5-million-a-year advertising specialties firm in Lewiston, Maine. A promotion genius, he makes 125 speeches a year, travels some 100,000 miles.

The almanacs represent only a small fraction of his business, but give him the most fun.

"I peddle the almanacs to send my five children through school," he said smiling.

Almanacs were popular among the ancient Egyptians and the Romans. Some 150 kinds flourished in early America, including church almanacs, political almanacs, patent medicine almanacs, and even temperance almanacs.

Then, as now, they featured weather forecasts, phases of the moon, household recipes, historical oddities, bits of folklore and snippets of wisdom.

"Early to bed, early to rise, makes a man healthy, wealthy and wise," said "Poor Richard's Almanack."

"When a man gets too old to set a bad example, he starts giving good advice," says the 1967 sesquicentennial edition of the "Farmers' Almanac."

Its 12-month weather forecasts are made by Harry Buie, a Florida astronomer.

"We are kidded about them," said Ray, "but they often turn out to be surprisingly accurate. We have a good batting average."

Geiger gets contributions from all parts of the nation. One of his best sources is a convict serving a life sentence.

"He has plenty of time to read and clip," said Ray.

Geiger spent five years in military service during World War II.

By JOHN CHADWICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — One piece of unfinished business left behind by Congress was legislation designed to make its own operations more efficient.

In the pell-mell rush with which measures were passed in the final days before adjournment, some members spoke out strongly on the need for Congress to get its own house in order.

"This is no way to run a railroad and it is no way to run the Senate," Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., protested at one point.

Others also complained of bills being passed and billions being appropriated without adequate study.

But in the closing crush action was put off until next year on a congressional reorganization measure drafted by a special Senate - House committee after 17 months of study.

Some of the primary objectives of the bill are to increase the effectiveness of the committee system, to strengthen congressional control over government spending and to provide the members with more information on complex issues.

It also would tighten the regulation of lobbying, provide for an August recess of Congress except in times of war, relieve Congress of any responsibility for the appointment of postmasters and require higher standards for patronage employes.

With over 90 per cent of all legislation passed in the form approved in committee, many of the bill's provisions are aimed at strengthening the committee system and at making committee actions subject to critical examination.

It would permit a majority of a committee to call meetings and to require legislation to be reported if the chairman fails or refuses to do so. Proxy voting would be abolished. Votes taken in closed sessions would have to be made public.

Open hearings would be required except in national security matters or when testimony might reflect adversely on the character or reputation of a witness or others.

Hearings normally would be announced two weeks in advance. Witnesses would have to file written statements two days before testifying. Daily summaries of testimony would be prepared. The minority would have the right to call witnesses for at least one day of the hearings.

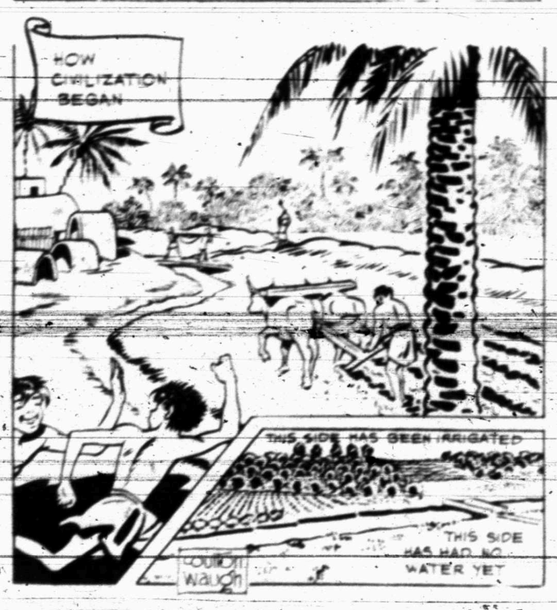

Committee reports on bills would have to be made available to the entire membership three days before a measure was called up for floor action. Specific responsibilities would be assigned to committees to review the operations of existing programs. Committee jurisdiction would be realigned. Increased professional help would be provided.

To increase congressional controls over the government's fiscal affairs, the bill provides for making greater use of the General Accounting Office, the employment of automatic data processing techniques, and procedures to give Congress a broader view of the President's budget and the economic assumptions underlying it.

In an effort to assure senators and House members of more adequate sources of information, the bill not only would authorize additional professional staff help but would permit the employment of outside consultants and create an expanded legislative research service in the Library of Congress.

The football series between Penn State and Syracuse is all even. They played five ties.

Junior Editors Quiz on PEOPLE

QUESTION: How did civilization begin?

ANSWER: About 6000 B.C., according to many historians, certain tribes in Mesopotamia discovered it was possible to plant seeds and raise their food instead of depending on hunting. These first farmers built villages of mud huts and started to domesticate animals. Later they moved to the banks of the Tigris and Euphrates rivers. There, conditions were harsh; the rivers either flooded the land, or the land baked hard in the fierce sun. But these energetic peoples banked up the river edges in flood time and dug irrigation ditches to carry water when it was dry. Plows were invented for their newly domesticated animals to draw. Our picture shows such conditions about 4000 B.C. The villages grew into cities and by 3000 B.C. the brilliant Sumerian civilization was underway. Meanwhile, on the Nile river, the early Egyptians were making similar discoveries. The word civilization is based on the Latin civis, meaning a citizen of a city. When men began to live in cities and could use writing to record their discoveries, human civilization had really begun.

'Cats Bring Title Hopes To Snyder

TOUGH TIGERS—Bobby Clardy (left) and Joe Breeden will be in the thick of the fight for the Snyder Tigers here tonight when they host Littlefield's Wildcats in a District 3-AAA clash in Tiger Stadium. Kickoff is set for 7:30 p.m. Clardy and Breeden both are regular linemen.

Kickoff Set In Tiger Stadium

An exciting football battle between the Snyder Tigers and the Littlefield Wildcats is in prospect tonight when the 'Cats invade Tiger turf with high hopes of winning the District 3-AAA championship. Kickoff is set for 7:30 p.m.

Coach George Kirk's Wildcats share the district lead with Lamesa. Both teams sport 2-0 records, and they also have the best season records with identical 5-1 marks.

Comparative scores between Littlefield and Lamesa indicate the Tigers are in for a rough night. The Tornadoes bombed Snyder, 41-6 after losing, 7-12, to Lubbock Coronado. In an earlier contest, the 'Cats walloped Coronado, 40-15, indicating they're 30 points stronger than Lamesa, which would make them 65 points stronger than the Bengals.

But, then, few coaches put much stock in comparative scores. And the Bengal charges of Coach Keith Miles believe they have a good chance to knock Littlefield out of the league driver's seat. The Tigers, in compiling a 3-4 season record, have not lost a home game, nor have they won a road tilt.

The only loss on Littlefield's record is a 14-15 affair to Tulia. Beneficiaries of a huge, tough line, the Wildcats have one of the most potent offenses in the district. They seldom pass, and when they do it's usually for the bomb.

Littlefield has 12 returning lettermen, including numeral winners at every position. Returning are backs Richard Wright, Denny Walker, Tim Tapley, Fred Koontz and Gary Conway, ends Kevin Hutson and Wilmer Williams, tackle Ralph Dangerfield, guards Randy Birkelback, Kim Hanlin, and Mike Lumdsden and center Mack Mangum.

In Mack Mangum, the 'Cats have perhaps the best center in the district. He made All-District last year, and he hold down a linebacker berth this season. Wilmer Williams, a 165-pound speedster, has been shifted to running back. An end last year, he knows what to do with the ball after he catches it.

Nevil Manning, 208-pound fullback up from the "B" team, is adept at cracking enemy lines, and Fred Koontz provides plenty of speed at the other halfback spot. The 'Cats usually operate from the straight T with Tim Taply and Mike Grisson alternating at quarterback.

But, don't count Snyder out. Fullback Mario Tavarez, with 633 yards gained on 86 efforts, is the leading ground gainer in the district and the 12th best in the state. Tailback Curtis Clay also is ranked among the top 20 in the state with 553 yards gained in 99 runs. Tavarez averages 7.4 yards per carry, and Clay averages 5.6.

With boys like this alternating carrys, it's easy to pick up first downs. And the Tigers usually win the battle of the statistics. Last week, they held a clear edge over Lake View, but the Chiefs walked off with a 7-6 victory.

What has been lacking to date appears to be a competent passing game to take some of the pressure off the ground attack. A seeming lack of pass protection and an inability to complete the long one have not been helpful to the Tiger cause.

However, the Bengals have actually looked better than any of their opponents this year with the exception of Big Spring and Lamesa and could have won either of the other two losses with their share of breaks.

With its 31-0 rout of Levelland two weeks ago, Snyder demonstrated what it is capable of doing when the ball bounces evenly for both teams. With Murry Bowden back to guide the attack and wingback Rick Hall available for limited duty, Snyder could be stronger this week.

Mickey Almond, substitute quarterback, again will miss action due to a sore throat. Mike Flynn, wingback and end, also is out with an injury. Otherwise, the Bengals appear to be in good shape.

The Tigers have the spirit and the desire to win. They are not quitters, and, given their share of breaks could defeat the high-stepping Wildcats, without raising eyebrows.

Probable starters: Offense - quick end, Frankie Grimmett; quick tackle, Bobby Clardy; quick guard, Larry Wadzeck; center, David Wilson; strong guard, Tim Mebane; strong tackle, Ronnie Shields; strong end, Owen Lynn Cooper; quarterback, Murry Bowden; halfbacks, Lonnie Gilstrap and Curtis Clay; and, fullback, Mario Tavarez.

Defense--End, O. L. Cooper; monster, Rob Golden; tackles, Bobby Clardy and Frankie Grimmett; guards, Craig Bell and Joe Breeden; nose guard, Mario Tavarez; middle linebacker, Murry Bowden; cornerbacks, Lonnie Gilstrap and Dwaine Boydstun; and, safety, Curtis Clay.

Blue Devil Ninth Held To 0-0 Tie

BIG SPRING — Travis 9th grade and Runnels 9th grade football teams fought to a scoreless tie here Thursday night in a tight defensive battle.

The Blue Devils had a difficult time moving the ball against the "stack 5" defense employed by the Runnels eleven.

On the other hand, the Travis defense played superbly. The Snyder boys did a great job of gang tackling and knocked the ball loose from the Runnels backs eight times, recovering all of the fumbles.

Travis threatened in the second quarter after grabbing a loose ball at the hosts' 35. They drove down to the 15 and had to relinquish possession after a 4th and 2 effort was six inches short of the necessary yardage.

The Blue Devils kept Runnels in the hole the entire second half on the good punting of Jim Patrick, who twice punted inside the 10.

Penalties marred the Travis attack as two long passes were called back for rules infractions. In all, the Blue Devils lost 80 yards on penalties.

In the final 3½ minutes, the Blue Devils moved from their eight to the Runnels 45. Patrick looked good with his passing in this drive, but it was halted by the clock.

Merce Hernandez was the leading ball carrier for Travis with 90 yards on 12 carrys. Ricky Glasscock and Eddie McClain were outstanding on defense, and Brent Beall did a good job on pass defense. Mark Gilstrap also looked good in the secondary.

Hunters May Shoot Cranes Saturday

ALBUQUERQUE — Hunters can begin sandhill crane hunting in parts of New Mexico and Texas, one-half hour before sunrise on Saturday, October 29, according to Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife Regional Director John C. Gatlin. Shooting hours from one-half hour before sunrise until sunset will continue through November 27.

Hunters will be allowed to take 2 birds per day with 4 in possession in the New Mexico counties of Chaves, Curry, De Baca, Eddy, Lea, Quay, and Roosevelt; and in that portion of Texas lying west of a line from the International Toll Bridge in Del Rio, north following U. S. 277 to its junction with U. S. 87 at San Angelo, northwest on U. S. 87 to its junction with U. S. 287 at Dumas, then northwest on U. S. 287 to the intersection of the Texas-Oklahoma state line in Dallam County. Hunters must possess a valid state hunting license, and shotguns must not be capable of holding more than three shells at one time.

Sandhill cranes, which may reach 4 feet high and weigh as much as 7½ pounds, are hunted only in parts of the United States through which the rare whooping crane does not migrate.

Experience gained in the last 5 sandhill crane seasons shows that the largest concentrations of the big birds are found in the Roswell-Portales, New Mexico area, and in the Muleshoe-Big Spring, Texas area.

Runnels Raps Travis 8th

BIG SPRING — Runnels' 8th grade football team scored in every period here Thursday night to take a 34-6 decision over the game but outmanned Travis Blue Devils.

The hosts got off to a good start with two touchdowns in the first period, but Travis fought back in the second period for its touchdown. Johnny Matta set it up with a 40 yard run, and Stewart Sims scored it on a two-yard wingback dive play.

Runnels held a 22-6 halftime advantage, and scored a touchdown in each of the final two frames for the 34-6 tally. They scored three of their five touchdowns on runs and two of them via the air lanes.

Matta also was outstanding on defense along with Billy Guynes.

Travis 8th hosts Runnels here Saturday week in a 6 p.m. test at the Junior High field, followed by a 7:30 p.m. clash between the 9th grade teams of both schools.

Late Lamar Rally Sinks Ponies, 12-7

Lamar's hustling 9th grade Texans cranked up for touchdown drives of 78 and 60 yards in the final five minutes of the fourth quarter to score a thrilling 12-7 come —from - behind victory over Andrews here Thursday night.

The ability to put over the big play when the chips were down and time was against them accounted for the Lamar success. They simply refused to accept defeat.

The Texans spotted Andrews a touchdown in the third quarter. The Ponies took advantage of a fumbled punt at the Lamar 25 to get good field position. And then when an aroused Texan defense thwarted the visitors at the one yard line, Andrews recovered another fumble three plays later as Lamar tried to get running room.

The second recovery was made at the 15, and the Ponies scored in two plays. Phipps took a 10-yard pass reception to the 5 to set up first and goal, and then Webb charged over. Finley's kick was good as the visitors took a 7-0 margin into the final stanza.

On its second possession in the fourth quarter, Lamar drove the 78 yards in nine plays. Lee McNair passed to Larry Greene for a 24-yard gainer and a 1st down at the Pony 48. Lynn Wilson and Alex Tavarez hit the line for runs in succession to set up third and two at the 30, then a roughing penalty put the Texans on the 15 with another first down. On the first play, Tavarez raced around right end and carried all the way. He dived into the end zone with a defender holding on. When the run for bonus points backfired, Lamar still faced a 7-6 deficit with about four minutes remaining on the clock.

Led by Jerry McKinney, Larry Greene and Billy Bowden, the tough Texan defenders threw the Pony backs for losses back to their 44 in three downs after a Lamar on-side kick attempt fizzled for only one yard. A short punt gave the hosts possession again on their 40 with 1:58 separating the Ponies from victory.

Lamar marched the 60 yards to paydirt in 44 seconds on seven plays. The drive began with a razzle-dazzle play in which Bernard Garrett, a left handed passer took a pitchout from McNair. He ran wide left as if to run, then lofted a 17-yard pass to Phil Ator. The left end made the reception with defenders in front of and behind him and went out of bounds to stop the clock. It was a picture play and gave the Texans a 1st and 10 at the Pony 37.

On the next play, Lee McNair fired a long spiraling pass into the arms of Larry Greene at the five for a first and goal situation. Lamar cracked the center of the line on three successive plays, stopping the clock on time outs after two of them for a 4th and goal situation at the one. On 4th down, Wilson sliced over right guard into the end zone for the 12-7 margin. A pass for extra points missed, but the Lamar fans couldn't care less.

Andrews tried unsuccessfully to mount an offense following the kickoff, but it came to an abrupt end when Greene recovered a fumble on third down. Lamar ran out the clock to preserve the upset.

The Texans held the ball only three downs during the third frame, and the second quarter was marred by penalties, fumbles and interceptions which halted thrusts by both teams. The Texans did cross midfield in the second quarter on the same tricky pass play, Garrett to Ator, but couldn't move after that.

In the first quarter, Lamar took the opening kickoff and drove from its own 15 to the Pony 4 before running out of steam. It was a beautiful 81 yard march in which Lynn Wilson gained most of the yardage on quick openers and trap plays. Neal Rineheart, Billy Bowden and Randy Levens also contributed important yardage in the march.

To Head Managers

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Julian F. Atkins of Pittsburgh has been elected president of the National Management Association.

The San Francisco Giants had poor success with the Philadelphia Phillies during the baseball season. The Phillies beat them 10 times in 18 games, the best record any team had against the Giants in 1966.

Wants Hunters To Plant Deer Food

SPRINGFIELD, Vt. (AP) — Charles Johnson, concerned about reports that the state's deer herd is starving, wants to see the deer coming through the rye this winter.

Johnson, a grocer, has offered a pocketfull of rye seed to any hunter who promises to scatter the seed in the fields. He said rye springs up in about a week and stays green all winter, providing food for birds and rabbits, as well as deer.

Houston Frosh Win

HOUSTON (AP)— University of Houston freshmen used a pair of scoring passes to defeat the North Texas State frosh 13-8 Thursday night and remain undefeated after two games.

James Mayfield tossed for 51 yards to Calvin Achey for one Kitten touchdown and Richard Harrington seven yards to Jerry Drones for the other.

North Texas scored on Steve Ramsey's 26-yard pass to Ronnie Shanklin and added a safety when Achey was tackled in the end zone as he tried to run back a punt.

Backers Still Work For Gun Control

By JOHNN CHADWICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — The assassination of President John F. Kennedy didn't do it. The massacre on the University of Texas campus didn't do it. Appeals from President Johnson didn't do it.

Sponsors don't profess to know what it will take to pass new federal gun control legislation, but before Congress adjourned they vowed to keep trying in the next session.

A major bone of contention is whether a bill should be limited largely to handguns like revolvers and pistols or also take in take in long guns—shotguns and rifles.

Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., has been the chief sponsor of an administration-backed bill covering both handguns and long guns, but he was unable to get this measure out of the Senate Judiciary Committee.

Leading the opposition was Sen. Roman L. Hrushka, R-Neb., who maintained that crime statistics show the handgun is "the principal offender" in the unlawful use of firearms.

On Sept. 22, the committee approved Hruska's bill by a 10-5 vote. But this was misleading. Dodd and some other opponents voted to report it out of committee in hopes the broader bill could be substituted for it on the Senate floor.

Hruska's bill would ban interstate sales of handguns to persons under 21 years of age and regulate mail order sales through an affidavit procedure under which delivery would have to be delayed seven days to give local police an opportunity to check on the purchaser.

It would place no new restrictions on mail order sales of shotguns and rifles on the ground that "their preponderant use (is) in a lawful and beneficial manner"—such as for hunting, target shooting and other recreation.

'B' Boys Host 'Dogs Saturday

The Snyder "B" team is going all out Saturday afternoon to win its first football game of the year. They meet Stamford at 2 p.m. Saturday in Tiger Stadium, in the familiar role of underdogs.

Coaches Roy Carter and Bill Hartsfield listed probable starters, as follows:

OFFENSE — ends, Charlie Johnson (140) and Robert Sadler (150); tackles, Jon Holdren (160) and James Merritt (210); guards, Bobby Wright (130) and Valvin Garcia (145); center, Dewey Grinslade (155); quarterback, David McGinnis (145); wingback, Thomas McDorman (134); fullback, Lonnie Fisk (150); and tailback, Joe Greer (150).

DEFENSE — ends, Lonnie Fisk, Larry Krause (170) and Bobby Wright; tackles, Jon Holdren and James Merritt; guard, Billy Johnson (215); linebackers, David McGinnis and Valvin Garcia; halfbacks, Joe Greer and Thomas McDorman; and safety, Efrain Cervantes (134).

The "B" team has been hampered by injuries all season. Such stalwarts as Steve Holder, Ronnie Lewis, Flavio Reyes and Jerry January are out of action, just to mention a few. And Mitch Rambin, one of the best running backs, has been promoted to the varsity.

Still, the "B" boys have plenty of fight left in them and hope to make things interesting for the Doggies when they come to town Saturday.

Be still

"And thine age shall be clearer than the noonday; thou shalt shine forth, thou shalt be as the morning." Job 11:17.

May we supress our desires —
our passions control—
Somehow a bit wiser as days
take their toll.
By will, help us dodge that gentle decay
Where we live in the past, forgetting today.
Keep us youthful in action,
zestful in mind;
Our heart keep with Thee, so
it ever be kind!

Whosoever Will may come to Church may come to God...

...The Golden Rule. And what a world this would be if men would only live it! There would be no more necessity for preaching and the jails could rot down. Observance of the "Golden Rule" would bring in the Age of Gold. Hillel, the Jewish lawyer, called it "the whole law." Leo Tolstoy, "discovered those clear simple truths," gave up a most successful profession and spent the rest of his life crusading for the welfare and understanding of his fellows. "Do Unto Others," was made more Golden by the American Indian when in his memorable words, he counsels us to travel "A moon in his moccasins," before we criticize another. The Golden Rule carries the secret of a good society... A Democratic society. But don't forget the man who uttered the rule in the Gospels. That makes it different. His message includes the parable of the Good Samaritan and of the Last Judgment... feed the hungry, clothe the naked and remember the man in jail. It all boils down to a most significant question... "Will you keep it in good conscience?" In your home, your business, your social affairs, will you "DO UNTO OTHERS AS YOU WOULD BE DONE BY?"

More on the Golden Rule next week.
