FDR To Explain Policies To Nation

Farm Problem Is Gravest Of Many Worries

President Is Expected To Act Soon To Bring Three Major Recovery Units Into More Harmony And Accord

Program Assailed

Russian Question Also Likely To Be Discussed In Address Today; Monetary Statement Is Being Demanded

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21. — His NRA program assailed on one side by urban consumers protesting higher prices and on the other by farmers demanding more for their products, President Roosevelt tomorrow will again take an explanation of his policies to the country.

Mr. Roosevelt today was in the old colonial town of Chestertown, Md., receiving an honorary degree from historic Washington college, but between times he was patterning the address which may also deal with the Russian question.

Cooperation Is Urged

He called the nation to the "spirit of cooperation" of the colonial days as he accepted the degree.

Disdaining the "five year and ten year programs of some countries which have a dictator," the president declared amid applause:

"In this country, which has not a dictator, we can, I think, move further toward our goal without giving it a definite term of years."

Is Vital Element

But he emphasized that the spirit of cooperation was the vital element for recovery and harked back to George Washington, a founder of this institution, as a leader against class distinctions and the pioneer of cooperation.

"We have accomplished much in the last few months," said the president in his collegiate cap and gown, "but we can't reach the goal in a couple of months.

"Some countries where there are dictators have laid down what is called a five year program or a ten year program. In this country which has not got a dictator I think we can move further toward our goal without giving it a definite term of years."

Advocation Recalled

To the crowd covering the spacious campus lawn in front of the flag covered brick administration building, Mr. Roosevelt also significantly recalled the advocation of

Study Of Wheat Loans Is Begun

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21. (AP)—An intensified study of loans to wheat producers was underway today at the farm adjustment administration between Secretary Wallace, George N. Peek, administrator, and other officials.

It appeared an announcement for loans on wheat similar to those already decided upon for cotton farmers might come soon.

The funds would be furnished by the Reconstruction Corporation, in all probability, and the commodity Credit corporation, set up to handle the cotton loans, would furnish the working machinery for the plan.

Officials said also that there had been some demand from the wheat belt for an increase in the processing tax on wheat. This levy is now 30 cents a bushel and proposals have been made to hoist it another 14 cents.

Family Of Three Found Shot To Death In Bungalow Home

DOVER, Mass., Oct. 21. (AP)—A family of three were found shot to death in their bungalow home today. They were Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Kettley and their daughter, Ruth, 8. Police believed the crime occurred on Wednesday night as the child attended school that day.

State Detective Michael Fleming said that while to all appearances it was a case of double murder and suicide there were some angles which he wanted to discuss with the district attorney before any definite decision was made regarding the case.

CHILD IS KILLED

VERNON, Oct. 21 (AP)—Ray Nelson Dixon, 8, was killed today when he ran into the side of a truck on highway 5 at the end of the Pease river bridge three miles northwest of Vernon. He was believed to have been blinded by the glare of the sun as he crossed the road.

Big Jim Farley Popular With Home Boys; Leaves Lone Star State Behind

(By The Associated Press)

HOUSTON, Oct. 21.—"Jim" Farley postmaster general in President Roosevelt's cabinet, and often referred to during his stay in Texas as the chief executive's "right hand man," left the Lone Star state tonight a very popular person with Vice-President John N. Garner's "home boys."

Minus Garner, who decided he had done all the visiting he should do at this time, the smiling, genial New Yorker, landed here about noon with his party of Roosevelt administration heads for his last stop in Texas after a four days swing around the circles, through the air, of this expansive state.

Houston was disappointed that their native-son vice president did not come along, but the plain-spoken citizen of Uvalde decided he could come to this metropolis later, when he was in better fettle than at a time when he had been breaking his nine-o'clock-to-bed rule so consistently since "Jim" came to see him.

"I hate to see you go Jim," said Garner this morning as the Farley plane started to take to the clouds.

"John, I'll be waiting for you when you come to Washington next January for that congressional session," replied the postmaster general.

The take-off from Garner's home town had been delayed because of poor visibility, as plane pilots put it, but, while there was an almost impenetrable fog over the airport, the main reason was Farley, Will Rogers, the humorist, and others of the party tardied around their coffee cups at the Garner, pecan-tree-shaded home of the vice president, where they were guests for orange juice, eggs, toast, bacon and homemade jelly.

Farley, in his last Texas appearance, self-styled himself a "fellow

Death Of Girl Tragic Sequel

Spectacular Career Of Texas Gambler Who Won And Lost Heavily Told; Girl Takes Poison To End Story

(By The Associated Press)

McALLEN, Oct. 21.—The spectacular career of Modesto Casal, 38, who pawned his diamond, borrowed money on his automobile, lost the proceeds of both at gambling, then committed suicide, today had its tragic sequel in the suicide of Miss Lucile Shippe, 19, San Juan girl.

Edinburg investigators learned that Casal had been seen much with Miss Shippe recently. They were enroute to San Juan today to question her when they learned, as they reached Pharr, that she had taken poison. Justice of the Peace Max Maule returned an inquest verdict of suicide.

Story Is Told

Casal's story was pieced together by officers in the following sequence:

He came to America in 1927 from Spain and in partnership with Fermin Arenal, began operation of a saloon in Reynosa, Mexico, opposite McAllen. Casal lived in a comfortable apartment in San Juan, his partner in a small shanty on the

Curtailment Of Milk Supplies Is Being Studied In Some Cities; Picketing Will Be Used To Enforce Edicts

(By The Associated Press)

DES MOINES, Oct. 21—Milo Reno, president of the National Farmers Holiday association, tonight carried his plea for support of a national farm strike, which started at noon today to the doors of industrial labor.

Announcing his departure to Chicago for a conference on Monday with A. F. Whitney of Cleveland, president of the brotherhood of railway trainment, Reno said that "every effort would be made to enlist the moral suport of all other grounds of society."

Farmers Summoned

To the cause of the nonbuying, nonselling strike, the fiery holiday leader summoned the nation's 30,000,000 farm population from New York to California and Gulf to Canada.

Meanwhile, President Roosevelt called for the "spirit of cooperation" of colonial days in accepting an honorary degree from Washington college at Chestertown, Md. Cognizant of the strike movement, the president indicated he might have an important statement in an address tomorrow night.

In what numbers farmers would join in the holiday movement or

Total Of $500,000,000 In Taxes On Sale Of Liquor Expected First Year

(Copyright, 1933, By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21. — With an eye toward repeal that officials believe imminent, the administration is drafting its tax program in the expectation of receiving a minimum of $500,000,000 in taxes from distilled liquors during the first year of legal sale.

This gross income, however, would be offset by an automatic reduction of $227,000,000 now collected through special taxes that would end with prohibition.

To raise the amount the program calls for would require a tax on domestic liquor ranging between $2.50 and $3 a gallon. The domestic tax now stands at $1.10 a gallon.

Representative Hill of Washington, chairman of the house ways and means sub-committee which begins a study Monday of revenue legislation, said today that a tax of $2.60 a gallon appeared to be about as high as the committee would go with safety to prevent bootleggers and rum runners from underselling.

The import tax, now fixed at $5 a gallon, plus the domestic tax of $1.10 is to be the subject of considerable further study and will be finally fixed on the

Ginnings For Lubbock Crop Are Reported

Less Than Half Cotton Crop In Lubbock County Is Out; Total Of 29,107 Bales Is Shown Saturday

Activity Is Heavy

Reports From Other Towns On South Plains Are Received; Four Gins Not Operating In County This Year

BY J. SAM LEWIS
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

WITH less than half of the cotton crop of Lubbock county out, ginnings for 32 out of the 33 gins operating this season, up to mid-afternoon Saturday showed 29,107 bales of cotton ginned for the 1933 crop. Only one gin had made no report for the season up to that time.

Four gins are not operating this season, one at Shallowater being closed and one at Acuff, with two at Lubbock and Hurlwood, destroyed. There are 37 gin points in the awaiting ginnings.

CROP IS VALUABLE

Ginnings to date for Lubbock county, based on prevailing prices, indicates over $1,300,000 in cash as the value of the crop. However, a large portion of the late ginnings is being held.

In addition to this amount, nearly $900,000 in cotton plow up checks have been received. Should the price of cotton remain around $45 to $50 a bale, Lubbock county farmers will receive for their crop in excess of $3,500,000.

Lubbock Total 7,167

The eight gins operating in Lubbock showed a total of 7,167 bales. Reporting, including two rural gins, were: Farmers Coop, Farmers, Holmes Brothers, West Texas, Cotton Growers, and the Watson and Tudor gins near town.

Lubbock territorial gins, Canyon, Frost gin at Slide, Woodrow and Posey, showed 3,868 bales.

Five gins operating at Slaton reported 6,000 bales.

Two gins at Acuff reported 3,875 bales.

Four gins at Idalou reported 3,092 bales.

The two Wolfforth gins reported 2,259 bales.

Two Monroe gins reported 1,157 bales.

Two Shallowater gins reported 612 bales.

Girl Points Out Two Men As Aides To Machine Gun Kelly

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 21, (AP)—Twelve-year-old Geraldine Arnold, the girl who told officers where to find George (Machine Gun) Kelly and his wife when they were in hiding here after the Charles F. Urschel kidnaping, pointed out Langford Ramsey and John Tichenor today as the men who provided the hangout.

Ramsey and Tichenor were placed on trial in federal court on charges of harboring a fugitive.

"Langford Ramsey," Geraldine said, "called George Kelly by that name when he came to see him at Mr. Tichenor's home." Later, she testified that Tichenor was present when the Urschel kidnaping was discussed and she added that he participated in the discussions. It was at Tichenor's home that the Kelly's were captured September 26.

Premier Daladier To Make A Desperate Appeal Today

PARIS, Oct. 21. (AP)—Premier Eduard Daladier, his back to the wall and fighting for a budget-balancing and anti-inflation program, against almost certain defeat, will make a desperate last-minute appeal tomorrow to the chamber of deputies.

Apparent indifference was accorded his warnings today that inflation loomed if the budget remained unbalanced, and despite the continued weakening of the French franc, government parties wrangled all day with a solution more remote than ever.

Explorers Are Off For Jaunt To South Pole

Rear Admiral Byrd And Party Of Explorers Say Goodbye To Native State; Commander Shows Enthusiasm

(By The Associated Press)

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., Oct. 21 Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd and his party of explorers, bound for the great wastes of the Antarctic, said goodbye to his native state this afternoon.

With a smile and a wave of his hand to a crowd gathered to bid him adieu, Admiral Byrd gave the command which sent the Jacob Ruppert, flagship of the expedition, away from its berth at the shipyard pier here and into the James river channel.

Supplies Are Loaded

Departure of the vessel, brought here for installation of a boom with which to load the big Curtis Condor plane to be used in aerial exploration work, was preceded by a bustle of last loading of supplies and arrangement of the cargo upon which the party will have to depend during much of its two-year trip beyond the bounds of civilization.

Almost completely recovered from the throat ailment which had confined him to his hotel room at Norfolk for several days, Admiral Byrd met newspapermen just before his departure and talked enthusiastically of his second venture in the south polar regions.

He emphasized that this expedition will be primarily to secure further data about an unexplored region nearly as large as the continent of South America.

Comanche Physician Badly Injured When Hit By Truck

ABILENE, Oct 21. (AP)—Dr. I. T. Clemons of Comanche was critically injured when struck by a truck on highway 1, one mile east of here early tonight. The driver of the truck failed to stop.

Stopping his car to wipe off the windshield, Dr. Clemons was hit as he stepped out to the roadway, said J. A. Sprawls of Lamesa, who was riding with him. Sprawls had been given a ride with Clemons at Putnam.

Dr. Clemons was enroute to Anson where a half sister is dangerously ill. His injuries are to the head and left side of the body.

Century Of Progress May Be Reopened For New Year

CHICAGO, Oct. 21. (AP)—Strong indication that a Century of Progress exposition would remain open in 1934 was given today by Rufus C. Dawes, president. Observing that President Roosevelt had assured the management he would like to see the fair reopen next year, Dawes said, "if the public wants the fair in 1934, they can have it."

Accident Victim Dies In Lubbock

Injury Received In Car Crash Proves Fatal To Woman

THE eighth automobile fatality on the South Plains since Sept. 18. Mrs. C. R. Martin, 22, of Pauls Valley, Okla., died in a sanitarium here at 5:30 a. m. Saturday.

She suffered a severe skull fracture when the coupe her husband was driving was in a collision with a loaded truck near Wolfforth Thursday afternoon. Mr. Martin was slightly injured.

Body Sent To Home

Mrs. Martin's body was sent to Pauls Valley for burial Sunday afternoon, said Rix Funeral home. Mr. Martin accompanied the body, as did Mrs. Martin's father, J. B. Shirley, and two brothers.

The fatal collision occurred about three miles west of Wolfforth on a rural road. The vehicles met at a crossroads, view of which was said to have been obstructed by growing feed and weeds.

Robert Harry Caviness of Hurlwood was driver of the truck, it was said.

J. T. LANDERS

When J. T. Landers, 77, who had lived 42 years on the Plains, is buried in Strip cemetery near Abernathy at 3 o'clock this afternoon a long-time friend, Lemie Ragland, will "make a little talk." Selection of Ragland, rather than a minister, was at the request of Mr. Landers' aged brothers.

Mr. Landers, who settled about eight miles southeast of Hale Center in 1891 and who had acquired considerable property in that section, died of an acute throat ailment in a hospital here at 8 o'clock Saturday morning. Unmarried, Mr. Landers was survived by three brothers, A. Landers, jr., and B. F. Landers of Hale Canter, and W. L. Landers of Curvo, N. M.

The Strip cemetery was established long before founding of Abernathy, it was said. It is northeast of that town. J. T. Landers

AUSTIN, Oct. 21 (AP)—The jury in case of former Ranger W. S. Byars was dismissed by Judge J. D. Moore late today after it reported to him that it was hopelessly deadlocked. The jury had had the case since 9:30 p. m., Thursday.

Byars was charged with fatally shooting J. R. Munro. Mrs. Munro also was wounded at the same time.

Ex-Convict Is Facing Charge

Andrew H. Nelson Is Held For Burglary Of Postoffice At Meadow; Wanted For Theft Of Car Here

Andrew H. Nelson, 24-year-old ex-convict and son of the Meadow postmaster, yesterday was charged before United States Commissioner Victor H. Lindsey with burglary of the Meadow postoffice August 22.

Nelson, arrested in Abilene, was returned to Terry county a week ago today by Sheriff Jess Smith of Brownfield. Sheriff Tom Abel, who said Nelson was wanted for automobile theft in Lubbock county and in Roswell, N. M., said Nelson possibly would be brought here today.

$200 In Loot Taken

Loot estimated at more than $200 was taken from the postoffice. A postoffice inspector, who filed the charge, said Nelson had confessed. A Meadow drug store and a service station were burglarized the same night.

Sheriff Abel said Nelson was a suspect in connection with passing of forged checks here and in Slaton. Nelson served a sentence for forgery.

Kelly Was Just A Jolly Fellow

(By The Associated Press)

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 21. —A dangerous criminal to the law, George "Machine Gun" Kelly is just "a jolly good fellow who played with me and bought me pretty clothes," to Geraldine Arnold, the 12-year-old girl who tipped off officers to his hiding place and played a major part in sending him to the penitentiary for life for the Urschel kidnaping.

Speaking to a reporter before a department of justice agent, Geraldine said "Kelly was always playing games with me" while she was touring the country with the desperado and his wife, making contacts and acting as a "front" for the pair.

"He was a jolly good fellow. He and Mrs. Kelly bought me pretty clothes. They bought this dress, see?" she said, turning to display her neatly-fitted sweater suit. "And besides this one, they bought me another pretty one and once he gave me $20 to send to my mother."

"He got mad at me only once—when I didn't want him to drink some whisky," she said.

Cash Payments For Reduction Mount Higher

More Than Four Million Paid Farmers Of South Plains As Cotton Checks Continue To Pour Into Area

Incomplete reports from 21 counties in the South Plains area Saturday indicated more than four and three quarter million dollars had been paid by Uncle Sam to 13,735 cotton growers on their plow up contracts with the federal government.

Actual figures showed the checks amounted to $4,760,085. However several outlying counties had made no report for several weeks and it was believed the total would approximate $5,000,000.

70 Per Cent Paid

Twenty-two counties in the area showed 18,121 contracts had been signed, with payments amounting to $6,868,936. No report has been received from Parmer county. The other counties show slightly over 70 per cent of the cash had been paid, with over 75 per cent of the contracts.

Lamb county with $1,049,614 paid on 1,766 contracts, led the area. Lubbock was second with $896,139 for 2,240 contracts. Lynn county was third with $442,140 on 1,409 contracts and Crosby fourth with $405,-

Jury Reaches Verdict After A Brief Study

Only Slight Emotion Shown By Defendant As Jury Report Is Given; Father Rushes To Thank Twelve Men

Arguments Heard

Trial Of J. R. Readhimer Will Be Continued Until Another Term; He Is Free On Bond Of $5,000 In Case

VERT A. READHIMER, 27-year-old Deaf Smith farmer, was acquitted of the slaying of Stokes Campbell, 19-year-old Floydada High school youth on a street in Floydada last April 6, by a jury in 99th district court last night. Reaching a verdict after less than two hours' deliberation, the jury reported its decision to Judge Clark M. Mullican at 8:25 p. m.

The defendant, his father, J. R. Readhimer, who is also to be tried for the youth's slaying, the defendant's wife and other members of his family were present when the verdict was read. The father immediately went to the jury box after the jurors had been excused by the court and shook their hands, followed by the defendant and other relatives.

Two Attorneys Present

Geo. Dupree, of the local law firm of Bledsoe Crenshaw and Dupree, who took the leading part in Readhimer's defense was the only member of the defense present. Dan Blair, district attorney, was the sole prosecution attorney present. Only a handful of spectators were present.

Only slight emotion was shown by the defendant as the verdict was read, his father appearing the more elated as he rushed to grasp jurors' hands and thank them.

J. I. Bradley of Slaton was foreman of the jury. Other members were: S. O. Clark, route 5; S. B. Adams, route 2; W. A. Martin, route 4; L. R. Ralston, route 3; Oscar P. Garner, Slaton; O. M. Woodson, Wolfforth; H. G. Burkett, Woodrow; T. A. Sparks, Idalou; R. P. Rhoads, W. L. Peak, and H. W. Sims, Lubbock.

Closes Late Saturday

The trial closed at 5:25 Saturday afternoon after seven of the eleven attorneys taking part in the case had been heard in arguments throughout the day. Testimony was concluded late Thursday but attorneys spent all day Friday and until 10:45 Saturday morning in examination and study of the court's charge to the jury.

The trial opened Monday after the son's case had been severed from that of his father's. A jury was selected Monday and presentation of testimony took three days.

The defendant, his wife and sister, Grace Readhimer, over whose honor the shooting is said to have occurred, and his father were all present in Saturday's session of the trial and sat near the defendant as

Four Held Here For Shoplifting

Four persons, two Mexicans, one negro, and a white youth, were arrested by police yesterday afternoon for shoplifting.

One Mexican, about 35, was accused of stealing a ten-cent package of needles from a store in the 1100-block of Broadway. The suspect had $15.50 in his pockets.

A 26-year-old negro of Acuff pleaded guilty of theft of a pair of women's hose from another store, in the 1000-block of Broadway. He paid a fine of $20. A 23-year-old Mexican was charged with theft of a hat from a store in the 800-block of Brodway.

The 15-year-old white youth was released. He had been arrested as a suspect in the theft of a bottle of hair oil from the store from which the Mexican took the needles.

Joel McCrea And Bride Are On Honeymoon In Connecticut

GREENWICH, Conn., Oct. 21 (AP) —Joel McCrea, movie actor, and his bride, Frances Dee, also a film star, were on their honeymoon here today after their marriage late last night in Rye, N. Y.

McCrea said they would remain in Greenwich, taking short motor trips through Westchester county, New York, and the Connecticut countryside until his bride is summoned to Washington to work on a picture.

"We don't know just how long we can stay away," the bridegroom said.

Wonderful Results Are Reported In Old Clothes Drive; Children Aided

DOZENS of bundles of clothing which will protect unfortunate Lubbock children from wintry blasts were stacked at City-County Welfare association offices last night — the result of a third annual old clothes drive here.

"We had wonderful results; it was a mighty fine drive," Mayor J. J. Clements, chairman of the campaign, said last night.

"We haven't sorted this clothing, and have no idea how much we have but it was much better than last year," he continued. "It will save a lot of children from the cold."

Joe Wilson, executive secretary of the association, will have charge of distribution of the clothing. Jack Douglas arranged for a corps of automobiles which carried Boy Scouts through the city collecting bundles which had been left on front porches.

The campaign opened at 9 o'clock yesterday morning when whistles of Lubbock industrial plants were blown.

"We certainly appreciate the co-operation of the scouts and all others who aided in the drive," Mayor Clements said. "The spirit of Lubbock residents in giving their old clothing was wonderful."

"Rings Of Steel" Encircle Germany; Military Atmosphere Grows Tense

Teuton Ukase For Equality Drastic Move

Survey Of European Situation Finds "Ring Of Steel" About Protesting Germany; Can Arm 13,716,674 Soldiers

BY FRANK I. WELLER

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21. (AP)—Back of administration moves to prevent the collapse of the disarmament cause is contemplation of the burden facing the world should German demands for equality be worked out in terms of French "security."

Before Adolf Hitler's government recalled its representatives from Geneva and announced Germany's resignation from the League of Nations, the disarmament conference had disclosed that it would frown upon any material modification of the Versailles treaty which might bring about a restoration of pre-war power.

Equality Postponed

When the German withdrawal came it evoked revelations that the general scheme under discussion provided a scaling down of armaments in the world war victor states but without any accompanying upward revision in the vanquished countries. It would be at least eight years, and possibly longer, before practical equality would be accomplished.

Today there is a ring of steel around Germany. In the "French influence" area of Europe are five nations capable of putting 13,716,674 trained soldiers in the field.

Poland, on the east, has 332,100 active and 1,345,000 in reserve. South of Germany are the Little Entente nations—Rumania with 244,850 active and 1,485,500 reserves; Czechoslovakia with 138,000 under arms and 1,489,000 trained men, and Yugoslavia, whose army numbers 138,600 and whose reserves total 1,586,600.

French Army Largest

Then on the west is France with 607,000 mn on active service and 6,328,000 trained reserves. The republic thus replaces imperial Germany as the world's premier builder of armies.

Compared with these hosts Germany has but 100,500 regulars, no reserves, no fortifications such as bristle on the French side of the boundary, no tanks, gas or siege guns, limited ammunition and nothing but a commercial air fleet, whereas France has amassed nearly 5,000 battle planes into the most formidable air force in the world.

The German army looks puny against the backdrop of 1914. Some 800,000 regulars and 36,000 officers goose-stepped to the first battles of the world war and behind them came 6,200,000 reserves.

The regulars composed 217 infantry regiments, 18 battalions of light artillery, 11 machine gun detachments, 15 fortress machine gun detachments, 110 cavalry regiments, 100 field artillery regiments, 25 regiments of foot artillery, 35 engineer battalions, 3 railway regiments, 9 telegraph battalions, 6 balloon regiments, 5 airplane battalions and 1 mortar battalion.

Just as the Versailles treaty decapitated Germany's standing army it ended her glory on the sea.

In 1914 the great Heligoland naval base was considered impregnable. The German fleet boasted 355 vessels. There were 47 battleships, 56 cruisers, 152 destroyers, 47 torpedo boats and 39 submarines.

The treaty reduced German sea power to 6 battleships, 6 light cruisers, 12 destroyers and 12 torpedo boats, and dismantled Heligoland.

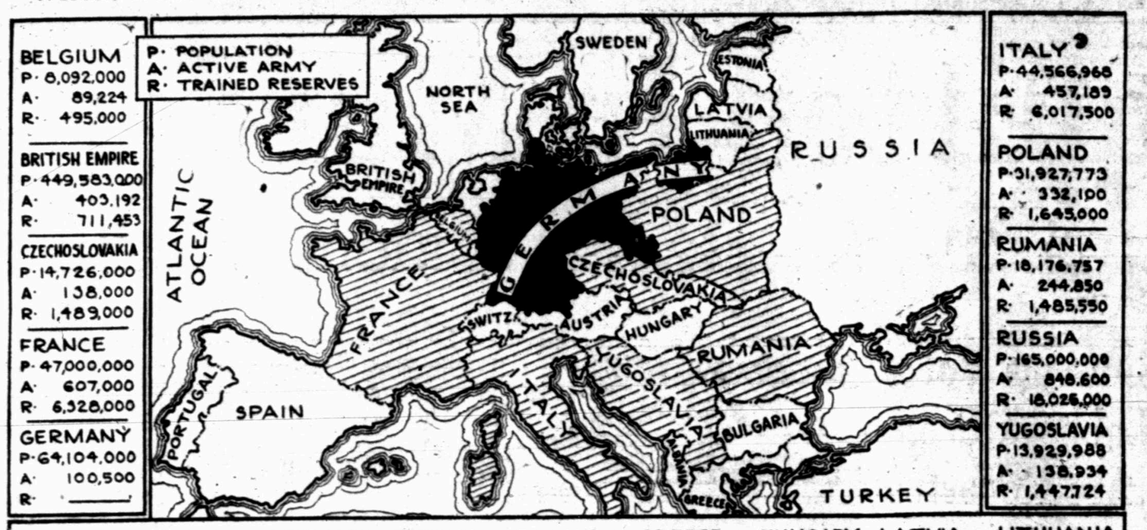

Army Term 12 Years

Germahy's lack of reserves reserves results from the voluntary 12-year enlistment imposed by the Versailles pact on regular army service. It was a French idea gained from the Franco-Prussian war.

All Europe was under the impression there were no more than 60,000 regulars in the Prussian army of 1870. Secretly, its officers hit upon a plan of training men in a few months and moving them out of sight while visible ranks filled with recruits. When the Prussians marched into Paris their army numbered 250,000.

The 12-year, non-conscript service was designed to discourage enlistment and keep German manpower visible.

Chancellor Hitler's drastic move in withdrawing Germany from the disarmament conference and announcing its retirement from the League of Nations has emphasized the military situation in Europe, with its millions of soldiers in active and reserve classifications. The map shows the distribution of these forces, with shading indicating those countries which form what has been called a "ring of steel" around Germany.

Huey Steps In To Get Flayed

Kingfish Just Can't Keep His Mind On Own Business; Now Legion And Stock Exchange Are On His Neck

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 21 (AP)—Senator Huey P. Long today was challenged by a war veteran and a stock exchange president on statements he made at Franklinton two days ago in sponsoring seven new taxes for Louisiana.

Will F. Candler, thrice commander of the Layfayette, La., post of the American Legion said he resented Long's purported statement that "most" of the men serving in the United States army were "dragged in by the hair of the head," and asked the senator if he would repeat the statement before a called meeting of the Lafayette post.

Candler also addressed an appeal to State Commander Larry Fox of the Legion in which he described the purported Long statement as "an insult to every patriotic man who served his country." He asked the Legion to make a formal answer.

The other challenge resulted from Senator Long's reference to the New Orleans stock exchange as a "gambling house."

John Dane, president of the exchange, issued a statement saying that "our little exchange in New Orleans is a true investment exchange if there is any such thing in the world."

Senator Long referred to both the stock exchange and cotton exchange as "gambling houses" in his address in which he intimated that taxes might be placed on them.

Terry Farmers Get More Than $142,000 In Plow-Up Checks

BRWNFIELD, Oct. 21. (Special)—Cotton plow-up checks received by Terry county farmers amount to $142,522, according to R. C. Reed, county agent. There have been 670 checks received so far.

Farmers are scheduled to receive an additional 275 checks for about $858,000.

Doctors Will Attend Confab

Eleven Lubbock Men Are On Program Of Meeting Of The Panhandle District Medical Society At Plainview

Eleven Lubbock doctors will appear on programs of a meeting of the Panhandle District Medical society Tuesday and Wednesday in Plainview.

Dr. F. B. Malone of Lubbock is president of the society.

Lubbock doctors who are to read papers or lead discussions at the meeting are Dr. J. P. Lattimore and Dr. Jerome H. Smith in medicine; Dr. Olan Key, Dr. Allen T. Stewart, and Dr. O. W. English in gynecology and obstetrics; Dr. J. T. Krueger and Dr. D. D. Cross in surgery, and Dr. J. T. Hutchinson, Doctor Malone, Dr. R. T. Canon, and Dr. Fred Standefer in eye, ear, nose, and throat subjects.

Dr. Roy G. Lovelace of Lamesa is on the program of the last division.

A luncheon, a golf tourney, a tea and a coffee for visiting women, and a dinner-dance with a floor-show compose the social program.

Two Are Held As Violators

Men Are Arrested In Beaumont Friday Night And Held For Indiana Officers; Tell Of Flight To Texas

BEAUMONT, Oct. 21 (AP)—Ed Manger, 27, and Russell Ledbetter, 21, were captured here last night and held in jail pending return to Indiana as parole violators from the Pendleton reformatory.

Police said the men and a woman companion admitted they had kidnaped three taxicab drivers and tied them to trees in lonely spots as they made their way south from Indiana. Their statement said the long trip started when they held up and robbed an aged woman at Newcastle, Ind., and hired a taxi to take them to Louisville, Ky., near which city the driver was robbed and tied to a tree.

Near Meridian, Miss., the three said they had trouble with their car and caught a ride to that city. There they said they repeated the taxi driver kidnaping and obtained another automobile in which they drove to Vicksburg, Miss., where they robbed and bound the driver. A third taxi brought them here.

The men were arrested in a pawn shop and the woman was picked up as she waited in an automobile with a Mississippi license. She told officers she was waiting for her husband and another man.

Ledbetter was serving from one to ten years in the Pendleton prison for automobile theft and Manger two to twelve years for forgery.

Indiana officers advised Beaumont police that both men would be returned to that state.

J. R. Hewitt New Vocational Teacher At Plainview High

PLAINVIEW, Oct. 21. (Special)—J. R. Hewitt, vocational agriculture teacher at Panhandle, Carson county, for the last two years, has come here to be vocational teacher in Plainview High school. He succeeds Alex R. Bateman, who resigned to go to Farwell as county agent of Parmer county.

The new teacher is a graduate of Kansas State at Manhattan, Kas.

Agency For Advanced 1934 Majestic Radio Is Acquired

An agency for advanced 1934 Majestic style-built radios has been acquired by Meinecke Bros. Hardware company, 1117 Broadway.

The Majestic line has 18 models, distinguished by modernistically designed cabinets, double-purpose tubes, and automatic volume control. Both battery-operated and electric sets are among the selections. Nearly all models have shift-wave bands for reception of police broadcasts.

Each set employs from one to three double-purpose tubes, increasing receptive power. To illustrate, a five-tube set, circuited as a seven - tube set, has daytime reception equal to that of an ordinary seven-tube model. The duo-valve tubes are self-shielded.

Orthodox design for those preferring it instead of the modernistic is provided in both table and console models.

First Aid Training School To Be Presented In City

A first aid training school presenting both elementary and advanced courses in a single series of 11 weekly seshions will be conducted in Lubbock, beginning Thursday, November 9, under auspices of the South Plains Area Boy Scout council cooperating with the national Red Cross.

Persons more than 18 years old, both men and women, are eligible to enter the class, which Dr. Allen T. Stewart, Red Cross instructor, will conduct, D. T. Jennings, area executive, said.

The class will meet in the First Baptist church.

CONSIDER MILEAGE
NRA
YES, let's forget, for a moment, that we quote such low prices. Let's consider quality, for we know you want the best.
You marvel at STAR'S speedy rise to popularity and a place of leadership. You hear so much about the progress of Hicks Star in the tire and battery field.
Do you think that low price alone has built our business? No, price without quality can't do the job.
It takes quality, mileage, and USER-praise to reach the pinnacle in any field.
That word "quality" . . . what is your idea of it? With us, it is more than a word to use in advertising. We have a hunch our conception of quality is identical with yours. Check the quality points at the right. Measure STAR products accordingly.
THE YARDSTICK OF QUALITY
Check Star Tires Against These Definitions of Quality
★ A product from which YOU derive more value and more improvement than from all other similar products
★ A product whose advantages set it apart and cause YOU to take real pride and satisfaction in its acquisition.
★ A product whose service and performance makes YOU glad you bought it.
★ A product about which YOU can exclaim: "It's better than the advertisement said it was."
★ A product that enlists YOU in a sincere word-of-mouth campaign, which is the most powerful of all advertising.
★ A product that is neither "cheap" nor "dear," but which YOU are buying at a price that's RIGHT.
Miles, and Lots of Them, Are Selling STAR Tires
WHEN USERS RAVE about the performance of Star Tires, we see no need to indulge in claims. And if you will check tire prices, you will find that we have the price that will show you a saving at the time of purchase; we have the tire that assures another saving, in the form of greater mileage.

Annual Lamb County Fair Set At Amherst Thursday, Friday, Saturday

Many Features Being Planned

Plenty Of Amusements Carded For Visitors; Three Days Will Be Filled; Many Other Exhibits Slated

AMHERST, Oct. 21. (Special) — With plenty of amusement as well as educational exhibits, the Lamb County Fair association will hold its annual exhibit at the fair grounds here Thursday, Friday and Saturday, October 26, 27 and 28.

Besides exhibits there will be educational demonstrations, a baby beef show, a pork killing and canning demonstration and a horse, mule and stallion show. A dairy cattle show will also be held.

Amusements Carded

A horse show and races will be held each day with a dance at night and a traveling show company here for the three days, playing in a tent down town. There will be a carnival at the grounds during the stay.

Four-H club boys will have their first baby beef show. There will be a killing and curing of pork demonstrated by D. A. Adam, county agent. Beef demonstration also will be held.

The women are planning a cheese making demonstration as well as several others. Miss Ruby Mashburn, county demonstration agent, states.

Premiums Awarded

Cash premiums will be awarded in the women's entries; 25 cents going to first place and 15 cents to second, with ribbon for third place.

There will be seven divisions for exhibits; cotton, grain and seeds, sheaf grains and seeds, grain sorghums, hay (baled), corn and vegetables.

Methodists To Gather Sunday

More Than 30 Young People To Attend District Rally At Tahoka; C. T. Jackson Will Preside At Affair

More than 30 young people, members of First Methodist and Asbury Methodist church here, are to attend a Lubbock Methodist district rally at Tahoka today. Part of the group was attending the opening sessions there last night.

C. T. Jackson of Asbury church is district president. Wilton E. Lynn, also of Lubbock, was to conduct a vesper service last night.

Other delegates to the rally from Lubbock are: Fredis Atkins, Milton Adams, Fern Hutchison and Woodrow Montgomery, all of First Church; and Margaret Luckie, Joe Lane, Mrs. Joe Lane, Mildred Adkison, Coy Baker, Ed Brown, Mary Brewer, Horace Brooks, Ruby Lee Ater, Christine Lane, Jamie Collie, Miriam Tatum, Julia Austin, Nancy Ann Hadsell, Thelma Baker, Veida Baker, Thelma Blanton, Joyce Glover, Dorothy Glover, Pauline Glover, Marjorie Taylor, C. N. Kissinger, Corinne Ater, Robert Brewer, Cecil Roberson, Maurice Cowan and Melville Brooks, all of Asbury.

The visitors were welcomed at 7 o'clock last night by Lester Prater, president of the Tahoka young people's division.

A chuck wagon supper was served at 8 o'clock, and afterwards recreational activities were directed by Charles Fike.

Today's program:

Breakfast, 7:15 a. m.; sacrament, with Rev. H. L. Thurston of Wilson in charge, at 8 o'clock; round table meeting, 8:45 o'clock; church school devotional service, Claude Donaldson, superintendent, 9:45 o'clock; sermon, Rev. H. C. Smith of Tahoka, 11 o'clock; lunch at noon; committee meetings at 1 p. m.; devotional service, led by Cecil Tune of Tahoka, at 1:30 o'clock; and business session at 2 o'clock. Miss Gertrude Evans is secretary.

Explains Support Of Al Smith As A Personal Matter

CHICAGO, Oct. 21. (AP)—George F. Getz, newly named treasurer of the Republican national committee, said today his support for Alfred E. Smith in the 1928 presidential campaign was "largely a personal matter."

"Al Smith entered my employ following the Harding landslide of 1920 in which he was defeated for reelection as governor of New York," Getz said.

"For two years we were closely associated in business, and I learned to admire and respect him."

Friends of Getz pointed out he came back into the Republican fold wholeheartedly in 1932. Getz said his acceptance of the Republican position in no sense meant doubt of the present administration's recovery program.

"Like every other good citizen I am hoping to see a change for the better," he said. "If the present program does succeed and the country is brought out of the depression I shall be very glad.

"However, I shall go ahead with the duties now assumed and do what I can to aid the general recovery."

Gun Display Will Be Seen Tuesday

A recruiting detachment of 10 men from 5th United States cavalry at Fort Clark will be in Lubbock next Tuesday and Wednehday with a display of modern weapons, and probably will fire them in a public demonstration.

Recruits, however, will be sent to Ft. Bliss, El Paso, instead of the 5th cavalry or some other Fort Clark unit, as had been announced earlier, Lt. James G. McKinnon of Lubbock was informed Saturday. All Fort Clark vacancies have been filled.

Machine, 37-millimeter, and other guns will be in the display.

Lubbock reserve officers asked to assist the detachment included Capt. John D. Love, Lieutenant McKinnon, Lt. William W. Condray, Lt. Robert C. Goodwin, and 2nd Lt. S. T. Love.

Zachary Taylor, from the time he was old enough to vote, never stayed in one place long enough to qualify as a voter, but he became president of the United States.

Scouts Of Troop 16 At Post Plan Court Of Honor Monday

Boy Scouts of troop 16 of Post will appear at a court of honor there Monday night.

Preliminary to a monthly court here, Lubbock Boy Scouts will be presented to a board of review Wednesday night, beginning at 7:30 o'clock, in the scout office in City hall.

The court will be conducted Friday night, beginning at 7:30 o'clock, in the district criminal courtroom.

Construction in Australia has been expanding for several months.

Toy Drive To Be Conducted

Playthings Will Be Sought In Third Annual Campaign For Benefit Of Lubbock's Poor Children At Xmas

So Lubbock poor children will have toys Christmas, a third annual toy drive will be conducted here Saturday, D. T. Jennings, area Boy Scout executive, has announced.

The scout chieftain suggested Lubbock residents explore their closets, empty boxes stored in garages and attics, and assemble all discarded and outgrown toys in the family. Persons having playthings to contribute are asked to telephone City hall, No. 695, and give their addresses.

Boy Scouts will call for the toys Saturday morning. No house-to-house canvass will be made.

As in the past, members of the Lubbock fire department will repair and renovate the toys, and the Lions club will distribute them to poor children at a party Christmas eve morning in a Lindsey theater.

The Lions club will arrange for automobiles to transport the scouts collecting the toys.

Emma Lodge Of Ralls Plans Masonic Rally And Barbecue

RALLS, Oct. 21. (Special)— The Emma lodge, No. 931, of Ralls will have a Masonic rally and "feed" Tuesday night at 8 o'clock in Masonic hall.

A splendid barbecue and program have been arranged. Officers of the lodge are urging all Masons in the Ralls territory to attend.

McWilliams Transferred To Co-Op Office At Brownfield

BROWNFIELD, Oct. 21, (Special) —Knox B. McWilliams, for the past three years branch manager of the Texas Cotton Cooperative association here, has been transferred here from Post, where he was stationed earlier in the season.

McWilliams will handle both the Levelland and Brownfield offices of the T.C.C.A. He is arranging a schedule for both towns.

No successor to him at Post has been announced.

America Gathers Facts And Figures For Russian Recognition Parleys

Litvinoff To Visit States

Activity Being Stirred And Some Market Prices Shoot Upward; Discussions Will Be Held In November

BY JOHN F. CHESTER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—The Washington government was disclosed tonight to have marshaled a bulging sheaf of Russo-American facts and figures, including claims running past the half billion mark, in expectation of opening recognition discussion with Soviet Russia during the first week in November.

Although definite word from Moscow was lacking at the state department, there was an official expectation that Maxim Litvinoff, the Soviet foreign affairs commissar, would reach Washington in about two weeks.

The prospect of early recognition of the 16-year old communist state, opening wide new trade possibilities and already nudging some market prices upward, stirred activity at the state, commerce and agriculture departments in rounding up data previously prepared for presentation to President Roosevelt.

There were indications that the Roosevelt - Litvinoff conversations would bear more heavily upon trade matters than upon the claims and counter claims that have rested dormant between the two countries for around a score of years.

Possibilities To Fore

Export possibilities of more than $100,000,00 in cotton and heavy machinery, including rail equipment, already have been brought to the fore. Since the buying power of the soviet rests solely with its government, Mr. Roosevelt was expected in some quarters to come down to dollars and cents in thih regard.

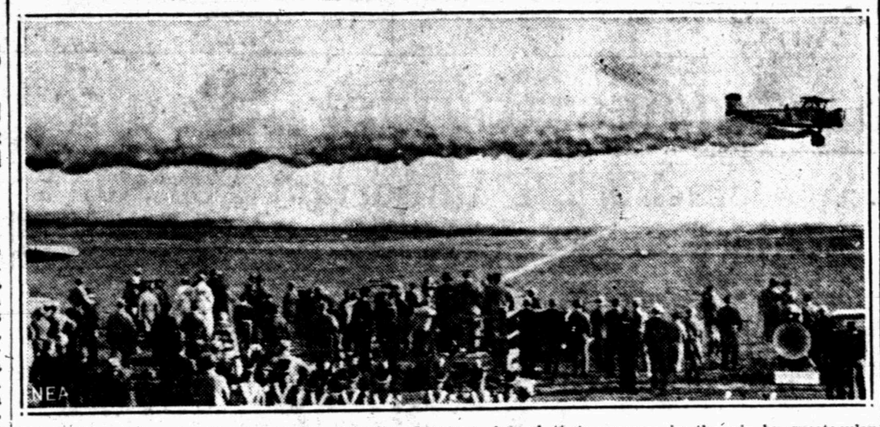

William C. Bullitt, a special assistant to Secretary Hull, was regarded by some as likely to emerge as a right hand man of the president during the Litvinoff conversations. Bullitt first went into Russia on a special investigative mission for President Wilson in 1919.

He went into the Soviet state again in May, 1932, and gathered some Russia data for Mr. Roosevelt during more recent trips abroad. He has talked with Litvinoff during comparatively recent months.

AFTER SAFETY RECORD

CLEVELAND, (AP)—The White Co., Cleveland manufacturers of motor trucks, is determined to win again this year the safety award of the automotive industry, won by the company last year. Among the safety devices is a rope strapped to workers' hands which automatically withdraws the hands of the workman when a press descends.

Marines Take The Air At National Charity Fete

Not to be outdone by the Army, the Quantico Marines showed their prowess in the air by spectacular plane stunts at the national charity pageant at Roosevelt Field, N. Y. Here's the scene as a Marine plane lays down a smoke screen as it streaks by a gallery of 30,000 spectators.

Snyder To Be Legion's Host

Lieut. Governor Edgar Witt Accepts Invitation To Be Principal Speaker At 18th District Convention

(Special To Avalanche-Journal)

SNYDER, Oct. 21.—Edgar E. Witt, leiutenant governor of Texas, has accepted an invitation to be principal speaker during the 18th congressional district convention of the American Legion here November 4 and 5.

In addition to the state official, practically all district and state Legion officials have agreed to be present, and many visitors from adjoining districts are expected.

With these dignitaries coming, and with promise of between 700 and 1,000 delegates, Snyder is preparing for the greatest convention in its history. Lee T. Stinson, commander of the Will Layne post, said yesterday that "although the legionaires have never decided to convene in a city so small, we are determined that they shall say when they leave that they have never been entertained in a city so hospitable."

A number of reservations have already been made at local hotels. E. M. Dearkins, J. E. LeMond and Porter King, composing the housing committee, report that many homes have been offered for use of delegates, and they are anticipating no trouble in handling the crowd.

In addition to regular convention sessions and special functions for visiting officials, Snyder will offer a football game, horse racing, boxing, and other entertainment.

American Legion Commander Opposed To Any Recognition Of Soviet Union

DALLAS, Oct. 21. (AP)—Edward A. Hayes, national commander of the American Legion, expressed strong opposition to any sort of recognition of Soviet Russia, either diplomatic or commercial, in an address here tonight at fair park before a statewide mass meeting of Texas legionnaires.

"Thank God it is the expression of the American Legion that we don't want the government which we served to give them (the Russians) any sort of recognition," he declared.

"No one can come into my home and say or do things which are insulting to my wife or my youngsters and still ask me to carry on officially any sort of communication or activity of any kind with that individual. Yet, we have representatives of that particular country over here, admittedly by their own statements, teaching and disseminating things which have to do with the tearing down of the very government in which we live.

"This government of ours is nothing more or less than a composite of the families which make up the nation. When they go into the families of this nation and say that the government which those families represent isn't the proper kind of government, then they are insulting my family. As long as they continue to do that sort of thing, we are opposed to recognizing their government."

Hayes' statements came on the heels of reports from Washington and Moscow that President Roosevelt had invited President Mikhail Kalinin of Russia to enter into negotiations on the possibility of recognition and M. Kalinin agreed to send Maxim Litvinoff, commissar of foreign affairs, to Washington as soon as possible to begin the conversations.

Hayes landed here by plane at 7:30 p. m., coming from Washington to preside at the installation of officers of Texas Legion posts. He spoke before several thousand members massed at fair park. Official greetings were extended by L. Van Perkins of Cameron, Tex., Texas Legion commander, and George E. Hughes of Austin, state adjutant.

Three Treated After Mishaps

Mexican Slightly Injured In Auto Crash; Farmer Will Be Charged With Driving Wagon Without Rear Light

Victor Rodriguez, a Mexican, was slightly injured and C. C. Thornton, a farmer, will be charged with driving a wagon without a rear light or reflector as a result of an accident on highway 7 near Posey early last night.

A car driven by Rodriguez struck a wagon which Jack Reaves, state highway patrolman, said was being driven by Thornton. Rodriguez suffered a gash on his forehead. Three other Mexicans in the car, a Dodge coupe, were uninjured.

Three Treated

As a result of two mishaps here yesterday, three persons were treated at West Texas hospital.

Clarence Johnson, 14, living 1 1-2 miles northwest of here beside state highway 7, suffered probable concussion of the brain and a shoulder injury, and his 10-year-old nephew, Charles Knight of Seagraves, bruises and shock Saturday morning when a bicycle they were riding upset in the 2200-block of Tenth street. They were received at the hospital about 9 a. m. A Sanders ambulance took them to the hospital.

Police reported Knight's foot was caught in the front wheel of the bicycle, propelled by Johnson, and it "turned a flip." Both boys were stunned. Johnson was a son of F. M. Johnson.

Shoulder Dislocated

M. C. Adudell suffered dislocation of the right shoulder in a fall from a 12-foot platform at the Texas Cotton Growers gin, 100 Thirteenth street, where he was employed, Saturday morning.

W. C. Harp, one of four persons nearly asphyxiated in an automobile here Friday, was dismissed from West Texas hospital Saturday morning to return to his home in Amarillo. The other three were released Friday.

Jim Williams, 18, of Lovington, N. M., who underwent an operation for removal of spleen after he was injured in an automobile accident, was resting at Lubbock sanitarium.

Condition of Oscar Giles, 39, treated at the sanitarium for a broken left leg, suffered when a piece of steel struck him when an oil well blew in near Jal, N. M., Friday, was reported to be satisfactory.

NRA Code Is Called "Arbitrary" Act Of Dictator By Tennessee Attorney

KNOXVILLE Tenn., Oct. 21. (AP)—A code set up under the National Recovery Act, was termed "an arbitrary edict by the president who has been made a dictator," during argument in federal court here today on a suit contesting the constitutionality of the act.

Injunction Asked

The charge was made by Carlye Littleton of Chattanooga, attorney for Ralph Starring, 33, a former employe of the Southern Silk mills of Springs City, Tenn. Starring filed the suit seeking an injunction to prevent the company from complying with the underwear manufacturers' code and the United States district attorney from prosecuting the mills for alleged violation of the code.

Littleton further asserted that the code constituted "terrific coercion," and that the recovery act had the effect of "terrorizing employers" and interfering with the right of an employe to contract for labor. Starring alleged in his bill that he was discharged by the company because the underwear code limited machine hours in the mill.

Decision Reserved

Hammond E. Chaffetz, special assistant to United States Attorney General Cummings, contended that the suit was not brought by the party directly affected. He said the Southern Silk mills, rather than one of its employes, should have filed such a suit.

District Judge George Taylor reserved decision in the case until Monday.

C. B. Qualia Chosen Head Of Spanish Teachers' Session

C. B. Qualia, head of the department of foreign languages at Texas Technological college, was elected president of Llano Estacado Chapter of the American Teachers of Spanish at a meeting at Lubbock High school yesterday afternoon. Miss Pella Phipps of Amarillo Junior college is retiring president.

Mrs. Clint Herring of Plainview was elected vice president. Miss Agnes Charlton of West Texas State Teachers college, Canyon, secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. Rosa Mae Buford of Lubbock, corresponding secretary.

About 35 teachers attended the meeting. An entertainment program was given by Lubbock High school teachers and students of Spanish. Afterwards tea was served in the home economics department. The next meeting, in January, will be held at Plainview.

Construction Total Slumps

Houston Building Permits For Week Lead; Longview Second On List, Dallas Third, And Fort Worth Is Fourth

DALLAS, Oct. 21. (AP)—New construction in Texas dropped appreciably the past week but Houston's building permit total again gave that city the lead over others. Longview was second.

Figures for the week and year:

Houston	$29.755	$2,806,394
Longview	21,410	314,724
Dallas	20,082	1,634,498
Fort Worth	15,685	2,577,249
Beaumont	13,778	164,009
Galveston	7,364	332,228
Austin	7,055	1,170,242
Tyler	3,825	653,297
Wichita Falls	2,050	80,860
Corpus Christi	1,025	140,966
Corsicana	None	65,790

Resign as nursemaid to the furnace!

The care and feeding of old-fashioned furnaces is no mean task. Yet, for all the back-breaking labor and the early and long hours you put into furnace-tending, the results leave much to be desired. Why not give it up as a bad job and install Gas Heating?

Only a few hours are required to install an Automatic Gas Furnace —and from then on your troubles are over. Just set a thermostat in the fall and turn it off in the spring. In between times you can revel in a house temperature that's just what you want it to be. You can get up late to find the house already warm —you don't have to shovel or haul anything — you are freed of the dust, soot, and oily vapor that accompany other furnace fuels— you never need worry about the fuel supply running low. In fact, Gas Heat comes as effortlessly as mid-summer sunshine—and much more dependably!

We'll be glad to have our heating engineer prepare an estimate for you —at no obligation to you, of course. Don't delay—winter's not far off.

Do you trade your house every January?

Henry Ford
Dearborn, Mich.

The golden days of the glib salesman and the tricky trader and the careless buyer of cars, are over and gone. It will be long before we see their like again.

Every family in America knows that buying a car today represents about double the investment it did several years ago. Not that car prices have gone up, but family incomes have gone down. The national income which was 84 billions in 1929 is less than 40 billions in 1933.

This means that everybody is striving to make every outgoing dollar bring back an equal value in quality. And that is right.

No country ever comes to economic trouble where values are kept equal. It is only when a man gives honest labor for the dollar which he receives, and is given dishonest value for the dollar which he spends, that the nation's life becomes unbalanced and broken. This is an old lesson in Bible economics that we ought to have learned.

Buying a car and buying a house are on nearly the same level of importance in the mind of the American family just now. They are both major investments. Both are considered from the point of long-term use and value.

We do not buy houses to trade them for new models every January. When we buy a house we expect to make it a home that will give us long, comfortable and economical use. More than that, we expect that the money price will be so evenly matched with the real value of the house that we may reasonably hope to get back the unused part of our investment should we dispose of it.

Cars are now being considered in exactly the same way. People are not buying the sales talk invented by sellers. They are buying the quality created by manufacturers. And quality is doing the talking.

Our experience is that the real talk about a car comes after the car is bought and is in use. That is the talk we rely on.

Intelligent buying is going on in this country. Many families are making a solid investment in a new car. We know this because of the way people have bought the Ford V-8 in the last few months. It has been the choice of every class of car user, both those who can afford to pay more, and those who must carefully economize.

This car is the logical answer to the careful buyer's search for value.

SPYING ON SPORTS

BY COLLIER PARRIS

NOT A BAD football day for Lubbock, Friday. Four Lubbock teams play on four gridirons in four towns, win three games and tie one, scoring a total of 85 points to 30 for the opponents.

They Can Take It

Of all the local teams, the Texas Tech Picadors must have put on the best exhibition. They had all they could handle in the first three quarters, but romped all over Butler Field to manhandle the Amarillo college Bedgers something fierce in the last quarter, withal a mildness that must have convinced Amarillo that a Tech team could win without resorting to so-called rough stuff.

The Matadors looked pretty punk against the Louisiana Tech Bulldogs Friday night. They appeared totally unprepared for the game. The Bulldogs should never have scored a point, yet if they hadn't, the stands probably would have been just about empty long before the game was over. Those ten points served to bring to life a listless ball club, which had received too much kind treatment following its hard-earned game over Arizona.

WHILE we do not alway fall in line with Coach Cawthon and his frequent temperamental outbursts, we can see some reason for his frothing attitude Friday night. Ask any player on the Matador squad and he'll agree that the entire squad deserved some caustic callings down. We haven't interviewed all of them, but we've asked several, and each of them was self-critical in his viewpoint that they all played "a lousy game," and that "in a way, we deserved to be treated like rascals." Cawthon is a driver, no doubt, and unsparing in his verbal condemnations, but the fan in the grandstand and the curbstone coach should not feel too harshly toward the Matador mentor. It's not as bad as it sounds; the gridders learn to "take it" with a grain of salt. Their's is not a veneer so easily penetrated by a few rough remarks. You learn a lot when you play football, besides how to block and tackle.

Break For Westerners

Up at Borger Friday night, there was more reason for a coach's squawk, but Weldon Chapman didn't squawk because he can't talk yet and it was a break for the Westerners. He did some high-class sputtering and fuming and dirt-kicking when the Westerners went to sleep in the last half. A very modest quiet-tempered man, Chapman rarely goes on a rampage. A throat affliction has temporarily robbed him of his voice, and all he can do is whisper. Some hot whispers passed his lips Friday night.

COACH SWEDE McMURRY'S Lubbock High Cowhands, whose 19 to 14 victory over Slaton and Slaton's 13 to 0 loss to Big Spring make them stand out pretty good, were off their feed in Crosbyton Friday afternoon to play a 13-all game with the Class B boys. Backed to the goal line by a couple of 15-yard penalties, the Cowhands suffered defeat in the closing minutes of the game.

Practice Your Booes

It is with a lot of pleasure that we herald the approach of Wednesday night and the coming of Dutch Mantell to town. Dutch needs little more introduction here. His presence on a wrestling card means that the fans will get their money's worth and think they're cheating the box office. A great showman as well as a tough wrestler, Mantell has a following all over the world. He has fought on every continent and in nearly every country.

THEY'LL boo Mantell mightily Wednesday night, because the Dutchman, a dual personality if ever there was one, uses tactics not always approved. But he doesn't mind the razzberries. He gets fat on 'em. So don't be afraid you'll hurt his feelings. He tangles young Bobby Sampson of Los Angeles in the main event. Jack Van Bebber, the local star, will make his second appearance in a professional ring Wednesday night, meeting Pat Garrison of Little Rock in a 30-minute semi-windup. Jack, who coaches wrestling at Tech — not the kind they do in the professional ring — made a great start last week, and immediately won the cheers of his spectators.

Washington And Lee Defeat University Of Kentucky, 7-0

ROANOKE, Va., Oct. 21. (AP) — A spectacular 93-yard march for a touchdown in the third quarter gave Washington and Lee's Generals a 7 to 0 victory over the University of Kentucky eleven here today. Joe Sawyers scored from the 10 yard line after catching a shovel pass from Seaton and Mattox kicked goal.

Jinx Holds As Aggies Bow By 13 To 7 Count

Flying Frogs Overcome Aggie Lead, Bottle Up Domingue And Take Crucial Southwest Conference Battle

BY BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

FORT WORTH, Oct. 21. (AP)—Texas Christian university's royal purple and white flying Frogs leaped from out of the air, from chalk lines on the ground and contributed a torrid football exhibition today to smother the battling Texas A. & M. Aggies, 13-7.

It was a crucial Southwest conference championship game with the highly favored Aggie a touchdown favorite at the starting whistle. It was the Aggies' 1933 conference debut. It was the Frogs' first conference win in two starts, and the victory re-established the Frogs as outstanding contenders to repeat as king gridsters of the conference.

The Frogs never depended on any certain system. They flooded the air with long passes, flat zone and basket passes. They proved themselves versitile by skirting ends and slashing off-tackles for numerous long gains.

But They Do Score

One thing the Aggies did accomplish. They scored on the Frogs for the first time since 1929. The A. & M. line that ripped Tulane for victory several weeks ago failed to charge today. Frenchy Domingue, conference, leading scorer and ace of the Aggie backs, was thoroughly smothered and did not play over half of the game.

It was a game that belonged to the Christians from the first to the final whistle, but they had to fight every inch of the way with an aggressiveness that atoned for whatever fumbles and mistakes they made.

The Christians proved their power by clicking with 19 first downs against 11 for the Aggies. They completed 11 passes against seven for Texas A. & M. and most of the Texas Christian passes meant touchdown territory. The Christians had 12 passes incomplete against eight for the Aggies.

If the game flashed an individual star, the honor belonged to Charlie Casper, speedy and slippery halfback, who was in on all kinds of play and caught a pass for the Christians' second touchdown. Johnny Kitchen and Captain Jack Graves also played stardom football for the Christians. "Stumble" Jordan, a Fort Worth lad, played splendidly for the Aggies down in the murk at left guard.

Score On Long Pass

The Christians got their first touchdown when a 34-yard pass from Kitchen to Myers put the ball on the Aggies' one yard line from where Kitchen plunged across. Joe Coleman's place kick was blocked.

The Christians made it 13 to 0 in the third period when a flat zone pass from Coleman to Casper put the ball on the Aggies two yard line. On this pass, Gregory of the Aggies tried to bat the ball down but instead batted it into Casper's arms, who was then raced out of bounds on the two yard stripe. Casper then carried it across on the first down. Jewell Wallace place-kicked goal.

The Aggies' touchdown came late in the fourth period. It resulted in a drive from the Christians' 19-yard line. A series of plays saw Bill Couser rip through for first down on the Christians' eight yard line. A pass from Couser to Pete Robertson netted the touchdown when Robertson caught the ball back of the goal line. Grady Godwin place kicked goal, and the game terminated a few minutes later.

Southern California Is Held To 0-0 Tie By Oregon State

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 21 (AP) — A battling band of Beavers from Oregon State college today achieved a startling upset by holding the University of Southern California football team to a scoreless tie and ending a string of 25 successive victories which had been run up by the Trojans.

A shouting crowd of 20,000 saw the Beavers turn back the best the Trojans could offer in the Pacific Coast conference game without making a single substitution.

Levelland Beats Olton By 6-0 Count In District Go

LEVELLAND, Oct. 21 (Special)—Coach Ameral Payne's Levelland Bobcats defeated Coach Red Moore's Olton High school gridders here Friday afternoon in a Class B conference game of District 2. The score was 6 to 0.

After a long drive down the field, with Silas Leddy doing most of the ball carrying, the Levelland fullback plunged over the line for a touchdown. Try for point was no good. The touchdown was scored in the second period.

Season ticket prices have been slashed about 50 per cent for University of North Carolina football this year.

The Shame Of It

Soccer Player Too "Sad" To Play

RIO DE JANEIRO, Oct. 21 (AP) Soccer is the national sport in these parts and, like baseball in the United States, has its occasional fisticuffs and not unoccasional arguments.

But just imagine Babe Ruth declaring he was "too sad" over a called strike.

Sadness, said Player Lino, one of the stars of Rio's professional Vasco da Gama soccer team, was one of the reasons for the eleven's defeat by Palestra of Sao Paulo in a contest in which a penalty against Lino figured prominently.

"I told the referee," Lino asserted, "that upon my word of honor I had committed no foul, and I swore by all that is most sacred to me; the referee, in the face of all that only shrugged his shoulders. You can't imagine how sad I was."

Longhorns Tie Centenary, 0-0

Gallant Goal Line Stands Keep University Of Texas Back Of Pay-Dirt; Steers Threaten In Final Minutes

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 21 (AP) — Undefeated since 1931, the Centenary college Gentlemen were forced to make two glorious goal line stands against the University of Texas here today to keep their record untarnished. The two teams played to a scoreless tie under a sweltering sun.

After outplaying the Longhorns in the first half, Centenary fagged in the last two periods to allow Texas to run them all over the field. The Steers, however, lacked the punch to push over a counter.

Near the end of the third period, Texas ran and passed its way from its own 40-yard line to the Gents five yard line. Centenary was penalized to its one yard line and Johnson bucked it through center to the one foot line, Laurence, Texas fullback, plunged into Centenary's center but was thrown for a yard loss.

On the next play Texas was penalized 15 yards and lost the ball on downs.

To One Yard Line

In the final minutes of the last quarter Texas unleashed a vicious passing and running attack featured by passes from Fagan to Hadlock, Jurecka and Sangar that carried it from its own 34-yard marker to the Centenary one-yard line. It was first down and goal to make.

Jurecka hit the Gentlemen's center twice but the Gentlemen held like a stone wall and he failed to gain. Fagan, Texas quarter, made a terrific plunge at the Gents right guard that netted only a half yard. The game ended before Texas could run the fourth play of the series.

Centenary threatened in the first quarter when Smith, with the ball on Texas' 35-yard line heaved the ball over the goal line.

The Gentlemen came within speaking distance of the Texas goal at the start of the second quarter when Smith, rambling back, got through the Texas line for 20 yards to place the ball in midfield and then passed to Geisler on the Texas 15-yard line. A pass, Smith to Geisler, put the ball on the one yard line and Smith rounded end to cross the line but was called back and Centenary was penalized for off side.

Centenary made six first downs in the first half but was able to make only two in the last half. Texas was credited with three first downs in the first and eleven in the last half.

Windham Socks Santos To Win Bout Decision

Abilene Scrapper Outpoints Mexican From Fort Worth In Main Event; Brittain Wins By Technical Knockout

Blonde Woody Windham, Abilene lightweight, tagged Nick Santos, boring Mexican from Fort Worth, often enough to win the decision in a hammer-and-tongs main event of 10 rounds on Dee Puckett's boxing card Saturday night at the Rex theater building.

About 500 patrons of the Queensbury industry saw the black-headed, blocky little Santos rally in the last two rounds without enough effective punching to turn the tide. Both fighters had difficulty in finding the range, although Santos was more economical with his punches.

Santos Floored Twice

Windham floored Santos twice in the eighth stanza. After cuffing the Mexican with a couple of rights, the blond loosed a left uppercut that sat Santos down. Santos was up without a count, caught several mark-finding punches, and was cracked on the face with one of Windham's swishing rights. The Mexican was whirled and dropped, and barely was up as the bell ended Referee Bo Sexton's count at 9.

In the third round, which both judges, Ben Kucera and Julian Williamson, awarded to Santos, the crouching Mexican dropped Windham, who, however, was not hurt. Although Windham proved he had heavy artillery in those soggy mits, Santos exasperated him time after time by shuttling backward with the punches he did not roll under. Once the blond's thunderbolts landed squarely, he crippled the Mexican whose punching was powerful but usually inaccurate. Santos had the edge in infighting.

O. H. Brittian, 148, Texas Technological college sophomore, scored a technical knockout over Sonny Smyers, 142, of Lorenzo in 1 minute, 15 seconds of the last stanza of a four-round preliminary. Smyers' counterpunching was fairly effective until Brittian's rushing and the punishment he dished out at close quarters winded the Sonny boy.

Brittian ended an exchange and the bout by driving both hands to the fast-stepping Smyers' stomach.

Guthrie Wins

Another Matador athlete, Harry Guthrie, 175, stowed away Snow Flake, 175, of Lubbock in 1 minute, 55 seconds of the last round of a four-period curtain-raiser. Flake, a less finished fighter than Guthrie, but capable of dangerous leather flinging, opened successfully; lost points in the second, and hit the deck in the third, the gong permitting only one count. Guthrie whittled away at Flake's peculiar stance and speared through to stagger him twice. Groggy, Flake was trying to force the battle when the referee stopped it.

The semi-final event, with Gene Nobles, 130, of Fort Worth, and Joe Hooks, 128, of Abilene, billed for six rounds, was called "no contest" in 1:20 of the second. After a warning Nobles, although out of condition, as was Hooks, attempted to fight in the second.

All rounds were 2 minutes each.

Ben Condray was the announcer; J. W. Bowers the time-keeper.

PENN BEATS DARMOUTH

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 21. (AP)—Pennsylvania's untried football array outplayed Dartmouth through every period but the last of their 13th annual gridiron struggle before 40,000 fans on Franklin Field today, but games are won on scores and the team from the hills of Hanover ran off with the victory, 14-7.

Southern Methodist Mustangs Battle Oklahoma Aggies To 7 To 7 Deadlock

BY FRED DYE
Associated Press Staff Writer

DALLAS, Oct. 21. (AP)—A trio of plunging fullbacks used in relays, a stellar first-game quarterback and a hard-charging line offset a brilliant aerial offensive and one brilliant backfield today and Oklahoma Aggies tied Southern Methodist university 7 to 7 in a football game played as feature of the state fair of Texas. The Methodists had been favored to win.

Dean Weber, 138 pounds of dynamite from Newkirk, Okla., was the outstanding star of the Aggies. He was brilliant in all departments of play.

The three gigantic fullbacks the Aggies employed one after another gained ground and stopped threatening plays in fashion almost as brilliant. Jess Rosett, 189 pounder, from Hughes Springs, Texas, started. He was replaced by plowboy Ross Hall, 193, Vinita, Okla., and Kester (Tractor) Trent, 190 pounds, took the third whirl at the Methodists.

Over Standing Up

Little Robert Wilson, two years ago an all-Texas high school back, was the Methodist Mustangs' tower of strength and without him they were not so strong. He registered the first score with a brilliant 78-yard spring through the Aggie team in the second period after catching a punt on his own 22-yard line. No Aggies was near him the last 30 yards of his run and he went across the goal line standing up. The Oklahomans lost no time in tying it up, however. They were quick to take advantage of a break that favored them as the third period opened. The Mustangs received the kick-off, tried a line play and then fumbled, the Aggies recovering on the 32-yard line. A line play picked up five yards and then Rosett dumped through left tackle and got away for a 27-yard sprint for a touchdown.

The versatile Weber converted from placement.

There was no other scoring threat as the teams played see-saw football, with but little to choose between them, until late in the fourth period, when the famed aerial circus of the Methodist clicked with all its pristine vigor. They worked the ball down to the five-yard line but there the blight of the last two sessions again cropped up and they could not put the ball over the last stripe.

"Wisecracker" Is Important Post On Ohio State's Grid Team; He Letters

This Team Includes Wit And Humor On Gridiron Menu

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 21 (AP) — There is a new position on the football team at Ohio State University this fall.

It's called "entertainer" — and Kenneth Beck Rassmussen, bespectacled musician and wit of sorts, from Cleveland, is so good at the job he doesn't even have to work out to keep the "place" on the team.

It is a new note in gridiron warfare, it appears, with Coach Sam Willaman as the proud originator.

Rassmussen (the boys call him "Rasputin") eats, sleeps and gets into football toggery with the squad.

"It helps keep down that certain tension on the team," Willaman explains in all seriousness. "The boys are in a good humor, relaxed, at ease. It is good stuff all the way around."

When Willaman ran an eye down the roster of likely prospects and picked out 50 to report for the early drills this season, he sent Rassmussen a letter too.

The clowning Clevelander, a sophomore now, went out for the freshman squad last year. But it soon became apparent to all hands that his value to the team was not in making spectacular tackles, booting high spirals, running around end or making smash plays through the line.

But as a spreader of good cheer and rare humor—well, he was a positive genius.

So Willaman hit upon the idea of having him around this year. And so far it has been a good idea.

He will stay with the squad as long as he can be presuaded to do so, and very likely he will be among those putting away his uniform after the final game of the year.

Skeet Shooting Scheduled Here Today, 1 O'Clock

First of a series of weekly skeet shoots will be staged this afternoon at the field just north of the Lubbock Country club on the Plainview highway.

Initiated by H. I. Blocker, of the South Plains Hardware and Supply company, the Lubbock Skeet club is open to any shooters who desire membership.

A modern set-up of skeet traps has been erected on the field by Mr. Stock, who invites all shooters to the scene at 1 o'clock this afternoon.

Growing In Popularity

A new sport in Lubbock skeet shooting is becoming a very popular activity over the country this year, what with the introduction of new traps and set-ups.

It is not necessary that the shooter have a special type of gun, Mr. Stock said. Rather, it is highly desirable that a shooter use the gun with which he hunts game girds, as one of the most important purposes of the club is to offer practice for hunters.

Clay pigeons are trapped in a way to simulate the flight of game birds, thereby providing good practice for the hunter.

No Fees Attached

There is no membership fee or expense connected with a membership in th Lubbock Sket club. Members will provide their own guns, ammunition and targets; the targets may be purchased at the field.

Twenty-five shots constitute a program, which means that a single box of shells is sufficient for a match.

It is hoped that skeet shooting will prove popular among the local hunting gentry, as well as among individuals who do not hunt live game but shoot for the sport of the thing.

Waggoner's Liberty Limited Loses Feature At Arlington

ARLINGTON DOWNS, Oct. 21 (AP) —Breezing ahead in a field of seven, T. C. Worden's Trinchera, 4-year old gelding, today won the Fort Worth handicap of six furlongs far ahead of W. T. Waggoner's Liberty Limited and J. A. Nix' Gay World, recent winner of the Chicago derby. The race was the feature of the days program.

Th race was for a $2,000 added purse. Trinchera rewarded the owner $1,660, paid $7.50 to win, $4 to place and $3 to show. Time 1:10 3-5.

Liberty Limited, the pride of Waggoner's "Three D" Arlington Downs stables, paid $7.60 to place and $3.60 to show, while Gay World, paid $3.40.

TULSA 7; KANSAS 0

TULSA, Okla., Oct. 21. (AP)—Tulsa university, a little school with a big ambition, passed and plunged to a spectacular 7-0 football victory over the ever-dangerous Kansas university Jayhawkers at Skelly Field this anxious to win the popular title of "Another Centre" by going through a tough schedule victorious all the way, the "Golden Hurricane" decisively outplayed Kansas through three periods, and stopped cold a desperate last minute rush that carried the ball from the Jayhawkers' 10-yard line to the Tulsa 25.

Dutch Mantell To Appear In Main Go Of Wrestling Show Wednesday Night; Jack Van Bebber To Meet Garrison

The rassle match Lubbock fans have been waiting for since Sled Allen got his state license and selected Wednesday nights for his regular show nights, is coming up this week.

Dutch Mantel, the old sauerkrauter himself, the ancient one who has fought all over the world, is booked on the two falls out of three, finish fight as the main attraction. He tangles with Bobby Sampson, an ambitious youth from Los Angeles.

Popular where wrestling rings are situated, Mantell needs little introduction to the Lubbock mat fans, 2,000 of whom cheered and booed him through a rough and tumble match in a match sponsored by the Matador Club last winter. They hate him something fierce when he gets into the ring, but he's everybody a friend on the outside.

Full Of Tricks

Known from one continent to another as one of the roughest, trickiest, cruelest wrestlers in the game, the old man from the old world, who has been wrestling 28 years and is now 'way up in the 50's as age years go, is a main attraction anywhere.

It is said of Sampson, the "little giant of Los Angeles," that there are few better middleweights on the Pacific seaboard, and there are those who think he can out-trick Mantell Wednesday night.

Van Bebber Again

Jack Van Bebber, who went over big in his professional debut last Wednesday night, whipping the giant Swede Larsen of Amarillo in a "special attraction," is coming back for more this week. Holder of seven national inter-collegiate wrestling championships, and champion in his weight division in the Olympics of 1932, Van Bebber d'splayed a wonderful fighting ability and massive strength in handling the heavier Larsen. Van Bebber is wrestling coach and physical education instructor at Texas Tech. He meets Pat Garrison, the "Arkansas Razorback," Wednesday night in a 30-minute semi-final. Garrison has wrestled here twice, once last winter and again two weeks ago in a semi-final at the Auditorium.

Tucson Ace Here

In a 20-minute preliminary, Lobo Brown of Pampa, who lost to Walter "Sneeze" Afchiu last week here, meets Jim Jackson of Tucson, Arizona.

Every bout on the card promises plenty of action, and showmanship.

HOLY CROSS KICKS HARVARD

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 21 (AP)—Holy Cross battered its way to a 10-7 victory over Harvard today before 45,000, largest crowd of the season. Harvey kicked a field goal to open the Crusaders scoring and they put over a touchdown with a fourth period passing attack. He scored again in the second period.

Burt and Jim Hammers, twin brothrs from Columbus, Kas., each weighing 195, are members of the University of Kansas football squad.

Bruins Heave Long Aerials To Win, 21-0

Two Lengthy Passes And Long Run Account For Baylor's Touchdowns; Cowboy Touch Is Called Back

(By The Associated Press)

WACO, Oct. 21.—Baylor university's Bears took a slow game from the Simmons university Cowboys today, 21 to 0, making their scores on two long passes and 41-yard run by Thornton.

Baylor scored early in the first quarter on a long heave from Joe Jack Pearce to Jim Tom Petty who stepped across the goal. Stringer made the extra point from placement. The same combination accounted for the second touchdown a few minutes later after Carl Pee, Simmons backfield ace, fumbled on his 31-yard line.

In the second, the Cowboys suffered a bad break. Carl Pee tossed a beautiful pass to Winters who ran 30 yards across the last line but the Simmons team was offside and the play was called back.

Thornton's run came after the Bears had advanced the ball to their opponents' 41-yard line.

Louisiana State Wallops Porkers, 20-0

SHREVEPORT, La., Oct. 21 (AP)—Louisiana State university's flying, battering backs tore triumph the University of Arkansas for a 20 to 0 triumph today in a traditional intersectional grid clash before a state fair crowd of 15,000.

Using reserves most of the game, Louisiana unleashed a first half varsity power and air attack that drove Arkansas, conquerors of Baylor and Texas Christian in the Southwest conference into the beaten class, and kept their own record clear of defeat.

Razorbacks Outclassed

The gold-helmeted Louisianans completely outclassed and outplayed the Crimson shirted Razorbacks in a 28th renewal of rivalry.

Louisiana, its offensive apparently really organized for the first time this season, shot over a touchdown in the first two minutes of play with its first stringers and added two more touchdowns in the second period. State substitutes held the Porkers easily in check, and even crossed the Arkansas goal only to have the apparent fourth marker denied because of a holiday penalty as the game neared a close.

A gallant Arkansas goal line defense on their 1 1-2 yard line near the end of the first quarter also kept the Louisiana score down.

East Texas Lions Win Over Sam Houston 'Cats, 14-13

HUNTSVILLE, Oct. 21. (AP)—The East Texas Teachers college Lions from Commerce defeated the Sam Houston Bearcats 14 to 13 last night in a thrill-packed game.

The Beareats scored first, McAdams taking the ball across after McDonald's kick gave them the ball on the 20-yard line, in the first period. Hitt, Lion quarterback, carried the ball across in the second period and kicked goal, making the score 7-6.

A pass from Captain Morgan, Lion half, to Smith, accounted for the Lions' second score and Morgan converted. McAdams scored the Cats' second pointer after carrying the ball the full length of the field.

SUL ROSS BEATS DIXIE

ALPINE, Oct. 21. (AP) — The Sul Ross Teachers college Loboes today defeated the Dixie university Rebels of Dallas 5 to 0 in one of the most spectacular games ever played here, although it was a non-conference affair. Both teams battled on nearly even terms until the Loboes kicked a field goal for a safety in the final period.

PRINCETON 20; COLMBIA 0

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 21.(AP)—Princeton came back today, the youthful pupils of Fritz Crisler, headed by a 150-pound package of explosive named Garry Le Van, battering Columbia's powerful Lions into a 20 to 0 defeat and wrote down the first major victory Princeton has scored in five years.

OLYMPIC ATHLETES SUSPEND

HELSINGFORS, Finland, Oct. 21. (AP)—Three of Finland's most famous Olympic athletes and Ossian Roschier, an athletic promoter, today were suspended by the Finish amateur athletic association for periods ranging from a year to life.

MINNESOTA STOPS PITT

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 21 (AP) — Pittsburgh's prowling Panthers were blasted out of the national football picture by a powerful Minnesota eleven which scored an astounding 7-3 victory over the favored Easterners today. Attendance was 28,000.

PURDUE WINS

STAGG FIELD, CHICAGO, Oct. 21. (AP)—Chicago's football hopes, lifted to the highest crest in 10 years, crashed today before a torrent of Purdue backs and rainfall, 14-0.

Michigan Stops Ohio State In Exciting Game, 13 To 0

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Oct. 21 (AP)—Ohio's bid for Big Ten football honors failed to match the desperate effort of Michigan to remain in the title battle today, and the blue-accoutered Wolverines sent the Buckeyes home with a crushing 13 to 0 defeat.

The Wolverines started a march toward the Western conference promised land for the fourth consecutive year before a colorful, surging throng of 93,508 persons, the largest gathering that has ever jammed the Michigan Bowl since its construction in 1927.

Youthful Harry Kipke, the Wolverine mentor, reached into his master's time-worn bag of tricks and came out with Fielding H. Yost's "old 82," end around play and others that were throw-backs to the active days of the "grand old man."

Yale Bulldogs Trim Brown's Bears In Eli Bowl, 14 To 6

NEW HAVEN, Oct. 21. (AP)—In a struggle featured by brilliant offensive football and flavored by numerous long, extended marches goalward by both elevens, the Yale Bulldogs trimmed their old rival, the Brown Bear, by 14 to 6 before an audience of 24,000 in the Yale bowl today.

Captain Bob Lassiter, long legged Eli half back and captain, scored both of Yale's touchdowns, the first on an eight-yard spring around end after a 51-yard drive in the initial period; the second on a two-yard dive through the center of the Brown line in the third after he and the other scampering Yale backs had twisted and squirmed their way 67 yards to put the ball in scoring position.

Oklahoma Sooners Drive To 19-7 Win Over Iowa State

NORMAN, Okla., Oct. 21 (AP)—The University of Oklahoma Sooners passed and drove their way to a 19-7 victory over Iowa State's Cyclones before a small crowd here today.

Harlan took the ball over the Sooner goal line in the second quarter for the Cyclone's lone score. A short pass to Harris over the line in the second period and plunges by Robinson and Dunlap in the final quarter accounted for the Sooner scores.

Matadors And Westerners Try El Paso Teams Saturday

Austin High To Come Here As Matadors Invade El Paso For Game With College Of Mines

Victorious Over Louisiana And Borger Teams, Locals Point To Tough Battles This Week At Home And Abroad

Victorious last week, but not in a manner satisfactory to local coaching brains, Lubbock's favorite football squads exchange visits with El Paso teams this week. The Texas Tech Matadors go on the road again, meeting the Texas School of Mines Muckers at the border city, while Chapman's schoolboy Westerners remain at home to contest the strong Austin high eleven of El Paso.

Lying more or less stagnate in the first and third quarters, the Matadors allowed a weaker Louisiana Tech team to make simians out of them on several occasions Friday night in the home game. In the first and second quarter, Cawthon's squad had to come up from behind Bulldog leads, and the outcome was exceedingly in doubt until the later part of the game. The Texans won, 40-10.

Lubbock Has Trouble

Performing brilliantly in the first half, Lubbock high's Westerners seemed to be getting off to grand start in their district tilt with the Borger Bulldogs. But in the last chapters, Lubbock's lime-covered athletes seemed to wilt in the face of the driving Southern California attack of the Bulldogs, and a brisk sandstorm that happened to be in progress. A three-touchdown lead piled up in the first periods proved, however, to be a safe victory margin, and Westerners won 19-7.

Ryan made another one of his headliner, 80-yard runs, but hurt his shoulder soon after, and was kept in throttle by the Bulldogs for the rest of the game. Going up against a stronger club next week the Westerner prima donnas will have to labor a full sixty minutes against Pat Murphy's aggregation.

Odds About Even

A team against which the Matadors have had uniform bad luck that is, they have not won a School of Mines game in their short history. Coach Cawthon's squad is rated about even on the odds with the El Paso college.

Due to leave Thursday for El Paso, the Matadors may be accompanied, via the Santa Fe, by any and all fans, for the round-trip fare of $10.

El Paso Club Is Sectional Champ

PHOENIX, Oct. 21. (AP)—Austin High school of El Paso, Texas, and Phoenix Union High school today were designated by the Southwestern High School association as having tied for the 1933 conference football championship.

The association, in closing session of its semi-annual meeting here, elected H. B. Fort, principal of Austin High school, president; Harvey L. Taylor, superintendent of Mesa, Arizona, Union High school, vice-president; and F. H. Lynn, principal of Las Cruces, N. M., Union High school, secretary-treasurer.

Cement Mills Show Increase

Production During September Is Higher Than August But Is Below Total For Same Month Of Last Year

AUSTIN, Oct. 21. (Special) — Cement mills in Texas showed a considerable increase in production during September, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research. They produced 271,000 barrels of cement during September, a gain of 77 per cent over the 153,000 barrels produced in August, and a decline of 37 per cent from the 427,000 barrels produced in September, 1932. Shipments, however, declined. Only 183,000 barrels were shipped, almost 8 per cent less than in August and 42 percent less than in September, 1932. Stocks of 307,000 barrels represented an increase of 12 per cent over August and 13 per cent above September a year ago.

Production totaling 5,638,000 barrels in the United States represented a decline of 31 per cent, both from August, 1933, and September, 1932. Shipments for the country as a whole were 6,517,000 barrels, an increase of 9 per cent above August but 33 per cent below September of last year; while stocks, totaling 21,196,000 barrels, were off 4 per cent from August but 19 per cent above September, 1932. Plants in the United States operated at 26 per cent which is a decrease from the 36 per cent in August, 1933, and the 37 per cent in September last year.

Members of the Cleveland Bulldogs professional football squad are galloping ghosts on the gridiron. The team wears uniforms on which skeletons are painted and, as its games are played at night, the effect is fantastic. Above is Howard Kriss, former Ohio State star, shown in the weird garb.

Texas Boy Is Star As Army Thumps Illini

Wrong Decision Robs Soldier Boys Of Field Goal; Fumble Ruins Another Touchdown In 6-0 Win At Cleveland

BY ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

CLEVELAND, Oct. 21. — The Army carried the opposing trenches today with a savage early drive, resisted a sensational counter attack from the air and emerged triumphant over Illinois, 6-0, in a football battle waged before 35,000 spectators in the cavernous Municipal stadium.

The Cadets struck a decisive blow for the eastern football colors on the neutral shores of Lake Erie with a decisive, brilliantly executed attack featured by the all around work of Texas Jack Buckler. Going into the fray as the underdogs, the Soldiers repeatedly swept their big Ten rivals off their feet and then staved off a long passing attack that gained 159 yards without producing a point for Illinois in the last half.

Technicality Bobs Up

But for a technicality and a fumble within scoring range the Army would have doubled its margin, at least. Three points, one a beautiful place kick through the uprights by Travis Brown in the second period, were wiped off the scoreboard when the officials decided after a lengthy huddle that it was null and void, due to the fact Quarterback Paul Johnson had both knees, instead of just one, on the ground as he held the ball for Brown's boot from the 15-yard line.

The decision was in direct contradiction to the football code, which specifically exempts the player holding the ball from being affected by the dead-ball rule. Referee J. E. Keegan of Pittsfield Mass.) told Army officers after the game he regretted a mistake had been made, and admitted Brown's field goal should have been allowed.

Among freak fashions seen at Deauville and Monte Carlo recently were berets of real horsehair, and gloves and shoes of real frogskin, pelican skin and black lizard.

Six Games Scheduled On Indoor Ball Card This Week; Start Monday Night

Six games are scheduled in the Lubbock Indoor baseball league this week, the week's program to get under way Monday night with a double-header beginning at 7:30 o'clock.

The J. & J Sporting Goods company meets Avalanche-Journal in what promises to be a thriller in Monday night's first game. J. C. Penney company tangles with the Federal Employees in the second contest.

The card continues Tuesday and Friday nights of this week. No games are scheduled on Wednesday night on account of the wrestling show, and none Thursday or Saturday nights because of dances at the Auditorium. Herman Waldman and his recording orchestra from San Antonio hold forth at Sled Allen's show house Saturday night in the special Hallowe'en celebration.

Tied For Lead

After three weeks of play, Avalanche-Journal and Mitchell's Cafe teams lead the eight-club league, neither having tasted defeat. The Reporters have won three games and the Hashers 4.

Four Winners In Class B Grid Race To Get Prizes At End Of Football Year

Due to arouse more interest and enthusiasm among the class B circuit members of the vicinity, the district executive committee yesterday in a session at the Hilton Hotel evolved a system of football awards for the year which will place more contestants in the finals.

Under the chairmanship of V. Z. Rogers, Superintendent of Lamesa schools, the committee voted to give trophies to first place football winners and half-size awards to teams second and third in the win column.

Instead of the winners of the quadrants merely meeting as before for the district title, there will also be contests for the two other top-ranking positions, and for the consolation prize between the cellar occupants.

The following district members represented their schools on the committee:

Coach F. T. McCollum, and Supt. Rogers, of Lamesa; Superintendent Edwards of Crosbyton; E. A. Lawlis of Brownfield; Superintendent Jones of Lockney; S. Z. Hall of Spur; Coach Red Moore of Olton; Superintendent A. B. Sanders, secretary of the committee; Superintendent Cummings of Floydada; Coach P. W. Wright of Slaton; and Ira Witt of Post.

BUYS MULESHOE STORE

MULESHOE, (Special)—G. O. Jennings of Prague, Okla., has purchased the Moeller grocery here from F. C. Moeller. Jennings lived at Ralls for about 10 years and then went to Sudan. Later he moved to Prague. Moeller, who has been here for over 10 years, will devote his entire time to his moving picture theatre.

NO STOKES PUPIL?

EARLINGTON, Ky. (AP)—When the 1933-34 school term opened here teachers checked over the roster of pupils and then discovered an odd thing. There was no member of the stokes family enrolled. Since 1875 every term of the Earlington school has had a pupil from the Stokes family, beginning with Ernest Stokes and his sister, Olive. The last of the grandchildren were graduated last year.

Huskers Beat Kansas State By 9-0 Score

Large Throng On Hand To See Nebraskans Boot Goal From Field And Score Touchdown To Pace Big Six Chase

(By The Associated Press)

MANHATTAN, Kas., Oct. 21.—A long spectacular dash by Halfback Hub Boswell, which enabled Fullback George Henry Sauer to drive over for a touchdown from the 1-yard mark, and a field goal by Bernie Masterson gave the champion Nebraska Cornhuskers a 9-0 victory here today over Kansas State college and sole claim to the top rung in the Big Six conference football race.

Big Crowd On Hand

Before a homecoming crowd estimated at 16,000 one of the largest in recent years—the Huskers turned from aerial methods to speed and power and put over their only touchdown in the third period.

FIRE DESTROYS HOME

Notre Dame Is Loser, 7-0, To Carnegie Tech

Harpster Coached Tartans Get Over For Counter After An Irish Fumble; Notre Dame Puts Up Sluggish Front

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 21. (AP)—In one swift, rapier-like scoring thrust, in the first minute of play, Carnegie Tech today knifed out a 7-0 victory, over a big, rumbling Notre Dame team that just couldn't get going.

It was "Harpster football"—the gridiron art as taught by Tech's 26-year old coach—that brought the Tartans their astonishing triumph over the Irish machine before a crowd of 37,000.

Halfback Johnny Tobin of Hunk Anderson's starting "shock troops" gathered in the ball on his own 11-yard line and scuttled to the 27-yard line before a swarm of Tartan tacklers brought him to earth in a resounding crash that knocked the oval from his hands.

Like a flash, Carnegie's right guard, Bunny Burzio, who was to be a pain in Notre Dame's neck throughout the battle, was on the pigskin.

Steve Terebus, right half, lost a yard at right tackle, but on the next play Bevevino, who once was a Notre Dame freshman quarterback, rifled a pass to Lewis, who pulled it in on the ten-yard stripe and galloped across the line for a touchdown.

Stocks

WALL STREET REPORT

BY JOHN L. COOLEY
Associated Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 21. (AP)—Stocks began the day in fairly good spirits, but lively selling that centered around issues which have had greatest speculative appeal promptly squelched the improvement before it had gone very far.

Heavy liquidation of alcohol stocks and of metals, though to a lesser degree in the latter, sent the list spinning downward around the turn of the first hour and prices ended an active Saturday market with many net losses of 1 to 7 points. The average decline was 2.4 which more than cancelled Friday's recovery. Sales totaled 1,360,160 shares. It was the busiest week-end session since July.

The break by "repeal" stocks appeared to have been prompted by a report that the government planned to place a limitation on profits which these companies would be allowed to make after prohibition repeal. With liquor issues and metals weakening, other groups lacked stamina to do much resisting and the market declined actively late in the final hour. Closing prices were somewhat above the lows.

Forecasts of imminent Russian recognition encouraged moderate buying of farm implement and a few other industrial stocks, the theory being that Russia was a good prospective customer of certain American companies. However, the market did not look particularly robust during this demonstration and volume dwindled before the break developed.

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 21 (AP) — Cotton fluctuated freely but without any very definite trend in moderately active trading today. It was a nervous and erratic short session and final prices were net unchanged to four points up.

The opening was steady as Liverpool cables were about as due and sterling was steady. First trades here showed gains of 8 to 11 points and the market continued to advance in early trading on trade buying and price fixing and some opening improvement in stocks and wheat. December advanced to 9.33 and March to 9.53 or 13 to 15 points above yesterday's close.

The market weakened later on a break in stocks and on week-end liquidation and by the time the offerings were absorbed December had dropped to 9.15 and March to 9.36 down 17 to 18 points from the early highs and 3 to 4 points under yesterday's close. The market recovered 5 to 7 points at the end on covering. December closed at 9.20, up 2 points net and March at 9.40, net nchanged.

Receipts at ports 41,632, for season 2,986,047, last season 2,544,676. Exports 42,007, for season 1,988,331, last season 1,769,131. Port stock 866,108, last year 3,984,756. Combined shipboard stock at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 166,342, last year 138,673. Spot sales at southern markets 44,332, last year 76,917.

NEW YORK REPORTS

NEW YORK, Oct. 21. (AP)—An early advance in cotton on trade and commission house buying or covering which was thought to be based on expectations of constructive developments in Washington and reports of a tightening spot situation in the south, was followed by reactions today under hedging and scattered selling. December sold off from 9.33?@ 9.20 and closed at 9.21, with the general market closing barely steady net 3 points lower to 2 points higher.

The opening was barely steady at an advance of 10 to 14 points with active months showing net gains of 15 to 16 points. After the early buyers had been supplied, however, prices eased off under week-end realising and scattered selling, which was believed to include a little more hedging. May reacted to 9.52 and while fluctuations in the late trading were rather erratic, closing prices were within a point or two of the lowest on most positions.

The amount of cotton on shipboard awaiting clearance at the end of the week was estimated at 176,000 bales against 122,000 last year.

Liquor Taxes

basis of evidence to be presented in the full ways and means committee's sessions after December 1. In official quarters, however, it was believed the import tax probably would be reduced, rather than raised.

In working out the tax program, the administration estimated that the consumption of distilled liquors in the first year after repeal would be approximately 150,000,000 gallons. The consumption in the last year before prohibition was approximately 165,000,000 gallons.

There is available now in domestic liquor approximately 44,000,000 gallons which these officials estimated would be converted to produce approximately 100,000,000 gallons, thus necessitating imports of about 50,000,000 to meet the demand they anticipated.

The import tax was regarded as the hardest problem the committee would have to solve. To prevent a flood of imported liquors of established and world advertised brands from coming in and pre-empting the market, the government has refused to grant any more permits for imports. Officials do not expect that ban to be raised until the situation is canvassed to determine how much liquor domestic sources can supply.

Livestock

KANSAS CITY REPORT

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 21. (AP) — Cattle trading this week found lighter weights of fed steers and yearlings selling at steady to 25 lower levels with offerings of strictly good and choice grade scaling 930 lbs. and down receiving first call and bringing mostly steady prices. Steers with weight were under pressure all week and near the close, it was extremely difficult to dispose of these consignments except at materially reduced prices. Western grass steers closed the period at steady to 25 lower prices. Stockers and feeders were considered unevenly 15 to 40 lower for the week with some sales as much as 50 off on feeders. Receipts at ten markets for the week totaled 263,570 as compared with 261,127 last week and 223,876 a year ago.

The trend in lambs was rather uneven with several markets listing sales as steady to 25 higher. Others were 50 or more lower. Sheep and feeding lambs maintained a generally steady basis. The week's receipts totaled 444,470 against 525,980 last week and 518,258 a year ago.

Hogs closed the week at prices ranging unevenly 35-75 lower than last Saturday with St. Louis securing a late top of 4.05. Accumulated receipts for the week totaled 266,730 as compared with 327,562 last week and 45,409 the same period a year ago.

Two Men Are Killed, Five Hurt After Line Explosion

WINCHESTER, Ky., Oct. 21 (AP)—Two men were killed and five hurt, two of them seriously, when an air line of the Kentucky Pipe Line company exploded here today.

The dead are L. J. Wagner and R. R. Gibson, both of Winchester.

The explosion occurred in the main building of the plant while a crew was testing an air line to discover a leak. The cause was not known.

MAN FALLS DEAD

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 21 (AP)—William Irwin, 66-year-old church janitor died suddenly today a short time after police reported he had made an oral confession to charges of mistreatment of four small girls. He fell dead as a written confession was being prepared. Physicians said his death was due to heart disease.

Grains

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, Oct. 21. (AP)—Good demand was reported for all the light offerings on the Fort Worth cash grain market today. Receipts included: wheat 4 cars, corn 1.

Prices ranged as follows, basis car loads on track at Fort Worth freight paid to destination:

Delivered Texas Gulf ports, export rate, or Texas common points:

Wheat No. 1 hard 90@91. Barley No. 2 nominally 60@62: No. 3 nominally 59@61. Sorghums No. 2 milo per 100 lbs. nominally 1.02@1.05: No. 3 nominally 1.00@1.02; No. 2 kaffir nominally 97@1.00; No. 3 kaffir 95@97.

Delivered Texas common points or group three: corn No. 2 mixed 58 3-4@59 3-4; No. 2 white 61 1-4@62 1-4; No. 2 yellow 59 1-4@60 1-4.

Delivered Texas common points: oats No. 2 red 43 1-2@44 1-2; No. 3 red 42 1-2@43 1-2.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Oct. 21. (AP)—Despite sharp breaks in securities, grain markets displayed notable strength much of the time today, and wound up at a moderate advance.

An outstanding feature was persistent buying done in December and May deliveries of wheat and credited to United States government food relief account. Highest prices of the day in the wheat market, showing 2 1-2 cents rise were associated with an early outburst of buying based on optimism over announcement of an address from President Roosevelt tomorrow night presumed to deal with agricultural conditions and perhaps giving also a more definite outline of the administration's monetary programme.

Wheat closed unsettled, 1-8 to 5-8 above yesterday's finish, corn 5-8 to 1 cent advanced, oats 3-8 to 1 3-8 up, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 18 cents.

Corn and oats displayed relative strength as compared with wheat.

Farm Strike

stick by the federal government's relief program, was not known tonight.

Appealing for support from members and non-members of the holiday association alike, Reno asserted that the strike was a battle to determine "whether the farmer shall become a peasant, the menial slaves of the usurers and the industrialists" or retain the independence "inherited from his fathers."

In a letter to state association presidents, Reno advised that "schools, churches, civic institutions, labor groups can be informed, not only as to the justness of the farmer's cause, but also that every business will suffer if the farmers' purchasing power is not restored, and that the life of the republic is, at this time, hanging in the balance."

Curtail Milk Supply

Nebraska's holiday president, H. C. Parmenter, conferred with associates at Omaha, to plan a curtailment of that city's milk supply.

Picketing would be used, he said, "unless we have the proper cooperation."

Although Gov. William Langer's wheat embargo in North Dakota remained nominally in effect, railroads continued to transport wheat from the state. Sheriffs ordered to enforce the ban on grain shipping, awaited formal instructions.

May Get Higher Prices

From Nebraska came Gov. Charles Bryan's prediction that the strike might obtain higher produce prices in shorter time than the federal government's program. He sought assurance, however, from holiday leaders that the movement would not tolerate violence.

Ohio holiday officials indicated their intention to meet within the next two weeks to determine a course of acton. New York dairy farmers planned to meet Sunday to consider a strike, asserting that, if called, it would be in cooperation with the holiday association.

Senator Norris of Nebraska was reported authoritatively today to have telegraphed Washington that he was back of the president's program, but that he favored currency inflation.

RAID AT MULESHOE

MULESHOE, (Special)—Lee Edwards, residing about five miles north of town, was arrested by members of the sheriff's department following a raid on his farm. A pint of liquor was found in the place and officers said a large amount had been spilled just before they arrived. A possession of liquor complaint was filed against him.

DIVORCE IS ASKED

RENO, Nev., Oct. 21 (AP)—Emily Roosevelt Cook, opera singer and fifth cousin of President Roosevelt, filed suit here today for a divorce from Archibald M. Cook of New York and Connecticut. She charged cruelty.

Insull Status Greek Problem

Whether Utilities Operator's Acts Punishable In Adopted Country To Be Determined In Hearing On Extradition

ATHENS, Greece, Oct. 21. (AP) — Arguments on whether Samuel Insull was guilty of acts punishable under Greek law occupied a large part of a hearing today in which the United States government is making its second attempt to extradite the former Chicago utilities operator.

The public prosecutor restated the accusation against Insull, fraudulent bankruptcy and transfer of property in anticipation of bankruptcy, and then declared that certain offenses considered crimes in other countries were not so considered here.

Verdict Praised

Deniz Lazarimos, Insull's attorney, praised a previous verdict in the case as typical of Greek justice and then spent four hours quoting various figures from balance sheets of Insull firms, which, he said, proved their solvency.

Today's hearing continued most of the day with brief intermissions, and then was adjourned until 10 a. m. Sunday.

Another attorney for Insull, P. Rhalli, emphasized that the "substance" of the case must be investigated thoroughly to ascertain whether the former utilities magnate is punishable under Greek law.

Property Given Up

The attorney maintained that his client had given up a life insurance policy and his wife's property.

During the proceedings Insull frequently asked questions and throughout preserved a bright and cheerful humor. Two plainclothesmen and one of his lawyers accompanied him from the nursing home where he has been staying to the small courtroom. Its hundred seats were filled.

Readhimer Case

attorneys argued the case before the jury.

Judge's Charge Long

Judge Mullican began reading the charge to the jury, a lengthy statement of sixteen typewritten pages, at 10:45 and did not finish until 11:15 when the first argument started.

District Attorney A. J. Folley of the 110th district opened the arguments, asking for conviction and urging the jury to "forget about a suspended sentence" and declaring the shooting of the boy was "murder with malice."

Court recessed for the noon hour after he had finished and R. F. Joiner of the Plainview law firm of Joiner and Cook, was the first defense attorney to address the jury. J. E. Vickers of the local firm of Vickers and Campbell, employed as a special prosecutor by T. J. Campbell, father of the slain youth, next made an appeal to the jurors for conviction of the defendant.

Blair Takes Floor

He was followed by L. G. Matthews of Floydada, another defense lawyer. District Attorney Blair then took the floor and issued an appeal for the state's side.

Geo. Dupree closed arguments for the defense counsel, followed by G. E. Hamilton of Matador, another special prosecutor employed by Mr. Campbell, who closed for the state. Both the closing speakers referred to each other, on several occasions their remarks bearing a dash of sarcasm. Mr. Dupree also took occasion to crack at "the masterful Vickers" and challenged statements made by District Attorney Blair.

30 Witnesses Heard

Thirty witnesses testified during the week. Description of the fatal shooting of the Campbell boy by J. R. Readhimer while the defendant was holding the youth was given by several state witnesses. Principal defense witnesses were Grace Readhimer, who unfolded her "love affair" and seduction at the hands of the slain youth and named him as the father of her three-months-old child which she held in her arms on the stand, and the defendant, who testified his reaction and that of other members of his family when they learned of his sister's "condition."

Young Campbell was killed on a street in Floydada on the late afternoon of April 6. Both the Readhimers were charged in the shooting, although witnesses testified only the father shot the boy, four times in the back, twice as he was standing and two more times after he had fallen face-forward to the ground. The defendant was holding the youth when his father fired the first shots.

Were Denied Bail

Denied bail in Floyd county, the Readhimers appealed to the court of criminal appeals at Austin on a habeas corpus writ and were subsequently granted bond. The elder's bond was placed at $5,000 and the son's at $3,000.

The trial was moved to Lubbock county on a change of venue.

Both the defendant and his father have since moved from the Daughtery community, 13 miles southeast of Floydada, where they lived for 15 years prior to the killing. The father now lives in Hale county and the son in Deaf Smith.

Besides attorneys mentioned above, Chas. Crenshaw and W. H. Bledsoe of Lubbock and Dan Cook of Plainview were other defense attorneys. Assistant District Attorney Burton S. Burks of the 72nd district assisted the state.

Trial of the father, J. R. Readhimer, for the slaying is also scheduled to be heard here. Owing to combination of two special venires summoned for the cases for the son's trial, the father's hearing will have to be continued until another term of court, it was said last night.

Devastation wrought in the recent battle of the Hotel National in Havana now may be seen by visitors. Sight-seers are shown inspecting damage caused by one shell which pierced three walls and exploded 40 feet inside the building.

Road Program In Rio Grande Valley Delayed During Rehabilitation Work

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21. (AP)—Milton West, representative from Texas, was advised today that the government's emergency road program in the Rio Grande valley would be put fully under way as soon as demands for labor which now is engaged in rehabilitation work eased.

To Complete Storm Repair

He had conferred with Lawrence Westbrook, Texas relief director, and quoted him as saying that it was not desirable to attempt to begin the entire road program until the task of rebuilding the storm damage was virtually complete. Continuous employment, West said Westbrook told him, would be provided under the plan, whereas it was feared rehabilitation work might suffer by diversion of labor to roads if that program were begun on a broad scale at once.

Enlarge Staff

West likewise said the Home Owners' Loan corporation in Texas would be able to operate at a faster rate hereafter due to an agreement at headquarters here to allot about $6,000 a month more to James Shaw, Texas manager, for enlarging his staff.

West said that branch offices, particularly at San Antonio which serves the valley, had been "swamped" with work due to lack of sufficient personnel.

Texan." He was speaking at the time, before a luncheon audience here.

"This has been the biggest event in my life," he said. "I want to tell you 'fellow Texans' that I never can forget this wonderful trip that has been mine. I shall hasten back to Texas as soon as I can, to go to other places that we did not touch on this trip. I never was here before, save in 1928, when I came to the national Democratic convention as an humble delegate from the state of New York.

"I want to give credit where credit is due. If it had not been for your own Texan, Silliman Evans, former newspaperman of Fort Worth (fourth assistant postmaster general), this privilege and pleasure never would have been mine. He conceived it and executed it."

Participating in the Farley goodwill demonstration here was Jesse H. Jones, Houstonian, who has been in Washington since advent of the Roosevelt regime as head of the Reconstruction Finance corporation.

Humorist Rogers told the banqueters after Jones had made one of the speeches welcoming the official party that he merely was "here to say howdy to my friend Jesse Jones."

"Everything has been said that could be uttered, except 'amen' and I'm here now to give you that," he said. "But, it seems to me this is the biggest unemployment gathering I have seen in some time. Everybody is here looking for an appointment as postmaster.

"I went out to get some chili for my 'dunner' while you here were participating in this 'lunch.'

In his farewell talk Farley commented on likelihood of almost immediate ratification of a constitutional amendment repealing prohibition, and said he hoped all the states would enact satisfactory regulatory legislation.

"After the regulatory laws are passed I certainly pray that you will observe them conscientiously," he said.

Speakers who welcomed Farley and praised him and his chief, President Roosevelt, included W. O. Huggins, editor of the Houston Chronicle; Dr. William States Jacobs and Roy Miller.

Mayor Oscar Holcombe headed the reception committee at the airport when the party was initially welcomed.

BROWN IN COMMAND

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21 (AP) — Brigadier General Lytle Brown, chief of army engineers for the last four years, was assigned today by the war department to command the Atlantic sector of the Panama Canal zone. He sails from New York November 1.

Mexican side of the Rio Grande. They bought everything in partnership—even the large diamond ring Casal wore and a new automobile—and set up joint banking accounts in McAllen and San Juan banks.

A few weeks ago, Casal began drawing money from both banks, apparently planning to leave the country, and in a last flourish of prosperity, gambled heavily in Matamoros and won enough to buy the new car. Then he began losing, pawned the diamond to a prominent McAllen man for a small sum, lost that, then borrowed money on the car. He asked permission of the man who had lent him the money on the car to drive it down the valley. He returned to Matamoros, lost his last remaining "stake" and returned to his San Juan apartment where he shot himself. The coroner held his death was suicide.

FDR's Policies

an old professor of his for distribution of wealth.

"In wealth and education," said the president, "there is represented only a minority of the people. As I recall the words of a professor of my school, the wider a distribution of wealth there is in the proper way, the more we can make it possible for the men and women of the land to have the necessities of life in such shape that they will not have to lie awake at night worrying where the food far tomorrow will come from. Then, and only then, will we have the security necessary for the country.

Make Many Changes

"Today we are making many changes in the machinery of life—not in government alone. It is perfectly proper, but at the same time old fashioned boyhood ideals, the old fashioned principles are things that are going to keep this country going.

"Your new president, Dr. Meade, spoke of the pioneer spirit. The spirit of the colonies was the spirit of cooperation.

"It was the building up, not a class but a community, that made possible the United States. The understanding of this spirit of cooperation as against classes made the first president's name revered in our memory."

However, the farm situation, precipitated by the strike in the wheat belt and the denunciation of the recovery program by Governor Bryan of Nebraska, was claiming the most serious thought of the entire administration for the present.

Senator Norris, the Nebraska Republican independent who supported President Roosevelt in the last campaign, reiterated today this belief that currency expansion was the peg upon which an immediate uplift in farm prices must be hung.

Statement Is Asked

Meanwhile, a definite statement on what he intends to do with respect to money was asked of Mr. Roosevelt by Senator Hastings (R-Del). He asserted business was "disturbed and distressed" at its lack of knowledge of the president's intention regarding monetary inflation and expressed vigorous opposition to inflation.

The possibility of arranging loans to wheat farmers similar to those already decided upon for cotton farmers was being studied carefully by the farm administration, with indications of an early announcement.

Will Act Soon

Reports were reviewed that President Roosevelt would act soon to bring his three major units—the industrial, farm and public works administration more into harmony.

Open discord between the farm and industrial administrations came out in the retail code controversy, with Hugh S. Johnson, the NRA chief, advocating a ban on sales below cost plus ten per cent to eliminate cutthroat competition. The opposition of Secretary Wallace, who felt that a greater consuming price might be loaded upon the farmer, took the problem to the White House, with President Roosevelt still to announce his decision.

NRA officials privately expressed belief that their program had been hampered by the slow spread of the public works funds.

Russia Plans For Meetings

Moscow Bustles With Activity As Recognition By U. S. Is In Sight; Litvinoff To Sail For America Oct. 28

BY STANLEY P. RICHARDSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

MOSCOW, Oct. 21. — This Russian capital, busy normally with myriad details reaching into the everyday lives of the most remote Soviet peasant, found today in preparations for recognition negotiations with the United States another reason for bustling activity.

These conditions involved who should go to Washington with Foreign Commissar Maxim Litvinoff to talk with President Roosevelt, the Soviet platform in the conversations and a review of industrial and financial details.

Overtures Hailed

When M. Litvinoff will leave and whom he will take with him have not been announced for the overshadowing fact was the enthusiastically-hailed statement that President Roosevelt asked that negotiations looking to recognition be undertaken.

Discussions went forward on what Russia could hope for from the resumption of official relations and supporting facts were gathered regarding credit, tariffs and foreign relations, particularly in the far west.

Called A Peace Move

Newspapers commented at length on the development, editorial writers being especially interested in the proposed recognition as a peace move.

The editorial comment was voluminous, but Soviet officialdom warily abstained from an enlargement of the views set forth in the government controlled press.

Words Are Guarded

So much importance was attached here to the forthcoming Washington decisions that no one in authority risked an open observation for fear that a misconstrued phrase here or an ill-used word there might affect the negotiations—and Moscow has been disappointed too many times in its past efforts to come to some understanding with Washington to take any chances now on this delicate subject.

It was understood Mr. Litvinoff probably will be accompanied by no other government officials and that his entourage may consist entirely of secretaries.

It was considered not unlikely that he will sail on the liner Manhattan from Harve October 28, although there has been no announcement on these points.

Meanwhile, numerous incoming dispatches from Soviet correspondents in the United States a tested to the great interest here in the subject.

In addition to giving comment by various American public figures and newspapers, they described at length the scene at the White House when President Roosevelt made public yesterday the exchange of messages between the two capitals.

"On the dark background of the present state of international relationships," said the newspaper Izstia, "President Roosevelt's message is a pleasing fact."

It interpreted the action as indicating a growing conviction in America that favorable conditions exist for "the coperation of both countries in the most varied field."

Regarding economic hopes the newspaper for industrialization, organ of the heavy industry commissariat, maintained that:

"Soviet economists now discussing import plans in connection with the second five year plan naturally anticipated such results of the Washington negotiations which will give a strong impetus to the development of trade with the United States."

Geraldine Arnold Is About Ready To Settle Down In Little Home In West

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 21. (AP)—Geraldine Arnold is about ready to "settle down" in a little home in the west and go back to school.

"If I get the reward money offered for George (Machine Gun) Kelly," the 12-year-old western girl told interviewers tonight, "I am going to buy us a home and then I'm going to school somewhere."

"I don't know whether George Kelly and Kathryn are mad at me or not. 'Pop—I called George Kelly Pop and Kathryn 'Auntie'—told me when I left Memphis to tell no one where they were.

"Still I wouldn't be afraid to walk up to George Kelly on the street right now."

ATTENTION
HUNTERS

A hint to the wise is usually sufficient, and the shrewd buyers have already begun to realize that land is going higher. The fact is that many good farms have been taken off the market and prices raised on many farms from $5 to $10 per acre. There is good reason for it. We are assured TEN CENTS or BETTER FOR THE NEW CROP. Money is pouring into our banks . . . the confidence is re-established.

If it is a genuine BARGAIN in quality land and location that you are looking for, it will certainly pay you to inspect the following list of SPECIAL FARM SACRIFICES BEFORE BUYING.

160 ACRES, near good school. Fine, heavy catclaw loam. Improved. Near Lubbock. $30 per acre, $2,000 cash, balance easy terms.

320 ACRES
A real sacrifice at $85 per acre. Located near hi-way, gin, and school. Just few minutes drive to Lubbock. Fine cotton, grain, and truck land. Has oceans of fine water, better than average improvements. Over 280 acres in cultivation. All tillable except 15 acres. Fenced and cross fenced. Will make good cotton, and the buyer will be assured of from $10 to $15 per acre profit within one year. A good man can handle this farm with $1,500 to $2,000 cash, balance attractive.

100 ACRES, good six-room home, close in to Lubbock, gin, highway, school. Fine land. All for $3,500.

80 ACRES, good strong land, every foot in cultivation. Good five room home, bath. Fair outbuildings. Fine water. All for $2,000. Easy terms. MANY larger and smaller tracts. I know where to find the Real Bargains.

Six men and a woman, arrested as theft suspects, were released after they could not be connected with theft of neckties at Slaton, Highway Patrolman Jack Reaves said. The group was arrested after they attempted to sell some ties. The woman and one man were from Abilene. The others were from Owensboro, Ky., Parson, Kan., and Temple, Mineral Wells, and Bonham.

A Liberty, Ala., youth, arrested after passing of a "split" bill at Littlefield, was held in Lubbock county jail last night. Victor H. Lindsey, United States commissioner, said a federal agent was coming here to investigate the case. The bill, allegedly passed by the suspect, had been made by splitting a $5 and a $1 bill.

Organization of Lubbock County Wheat Control association was discussed at a meeting of County Agent O. G. Tumlinson, G. K. Horton of Shallowater and J. L. Snyder of Monroe. Horton and Snyder are group chairmen named by their communities. W. L. Brashear is a third director, from Becton. The organization will be considered again at a meeting Thursday.

An electric iron left connected in Stinson's Dyeing and Cleaning plant at 1708 Broadway resulted in a call by the fire department at about 11 o'clock last night. The ironing board, on which the hot iron had been left, was scorched, but there was no other damage.

"Old Manassa Mauler" Stands In Fair Way To Become Oil King; Well Is In

GLADEWATER, Oct. 21. (AP)—Jack Dempsey, "Old Manassa Mauler" of fisticana, was in a fair way of becoming an oil king tonight after the Dempsey-Manziel No. 1 well, owned jointly by Dempsey and Bobby Manziel, his former sparring partner and lifelong friend, blew in for an estimated potential production of 35,000 barrels daily.

The well is located on city block 29 of Gladewater. The oil blew in over the top of the derrick and was controlled into pits, to be turned into refinery storage. It tested 41.5 gravity. From an elevation of 372, the top of the sand was reached at 3,640 feet and was penetrated 35 feet for a total depth of 3,675. Oil was flowing through a one-inch choke under a pressure of 200 pounds.

Manziel, formerly a bantam weight fighter and sparring partner of the ex-champion of the world's heavyweights, joined Dempsey recently in acquiring oil holdings in the Gladewater area—Dempsey's first venture into the oil business. Dempsey was expected to visit the new gusher next week.

REGULARITY

Your carrier boy buys his papers wholesale and sells them at retail. His earnings depend entirely on collections. You can help him by paying him promptly each week.

PUNCTUALITY is an important part of the training that your carrier boy is undergoing. Both in his school work and in his task of delivering your daily paper regularity is emphasized and required. This boy is one of 588,000 boys in this country who are engaged in the sale and distribution of newspapers. Their task requires less than an hour and a half a day, but in it they are receiving training in the fundamentals of business.

The newspaper boy of today is receiving an education plus. His task and his school work go hand in hand, supplementing each other and developing him along the lines that will be most beneficial to him in the future. It has been found that the close co-operation which now exists between newspaper and educational authorities is a most efficient and effective means of producing boys of the highest character and intelligence.

Uncle Sam Finds A "Devil's Island" In Rocky, "Escape-Proof" Alcatraz

New Home For Kelly And Bailey?

Cold, swift tides "stand guard" over Alcatraz island in San Francisco bay and separate it from the mainland. There the government may imprison "Machine Gun" Kelly (left) and Harvey Bailey (right), sentenced to life for the Urschel kidnaping. Walls of the prison compound where Uncle Sam plans to send his most desperate criminals in the future are seen in the center of the island.

By ALEXANDER R. GEORGE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21. (AP) — Uncle Sam has picked for his own "Devil's Island" a grim granite islet in San Francisco bay washed by tides so swift and cold that it is believed no swimmer could live in them long enough to escape.

So secure and isolated is Alcatraz island that it is looked upon as "escape-proof" bastile against such desperate criminals as "Machine Gun" Kelly and Harvey Bailey, the convicted "lifers" in the Urschel kidnaping case who are likely to be among its first prisoners.

Mile From Mainland

The island which Attorney General Cummings hopes will provide a safe prison for the most dangerous federal prisoners is situated more than a mile from the mainland and contains about 12 acres. The military reservation and a lighthouse virtually cover it. Near the center is the prison compound from which, army officers say, no prisoner ever has escaped.

The prisoner's sense of isolation is heightened by his view of the San Francisco skyline and hills surrounding the bay while after dark he is taunted by the twinkling lights of a city famed for the brilliancy of its night life.

Visited Only By Launches

From the distant hills the island looks like a giant battleship lying athwart the entrance to the Golden Gate as if waiting to challenge the ships that come sailing in. More than 6,000 ships pass it in a year but only army launches stop there.

On one end of the island is the lighthouse, which throws beams some 19 miles out to sea and has prevented many vessels being dashed to pieces on the rocks. Electric sirens scream warning during fogs and the racing currents beat endlessly against the rocky shore.

For Incorrigible Convicts

Several hundred military prisoners now on the island will be transferred to other compounds, and incorrigible federal convicts at Atlanta, Leavenworth and other penitentiaries will be taken to Alcatraz. It is expected also that the most dangerous convicts hereafter will be committed to the island prison by federal judges.

There is no similarity between Alcatraz and the French penal colony off the coast of French Guiana except that the American "Devil's Island" will become a place of permanent exile. The penal code of the American mainland rather than one modeled after the French is expected to prevail.

Nazi Princess And Her Mate Are Being Held In Austria

Both Are Declared Guilty Of Nazi Conspiracy; Officers Confiscate Documents Said To Be Incriminating

VIENNA, Oct. 21. (AP) — Austria's fighting five-foot Chancellor Engelbert Dollfuss locked a nazi princess in her romantic Carinthian castle tonight "for an indefinite period" and threw her princely husband into jail for six weeks.

Both of them, Prince Von Sachsen-Meiningen and his wife, Princess Margot, were declared guilty of a nazi conspiracy against Austria.

Document Seized

Police who arrested him in Carinthia because his automobile carried a Hitlerite flag in the streets of Klagenfurt revealed they confiscated many incriminating documents, including a letter to Dr. Paul Joseph Goebbels, the German propaganda minister, from them.

Contents of the letter were not revealed immediately.

It was officially emphasized that Princess Margot will be a prisoner in her own castle and will not be permitted to receive visitors or otherwise communicate with the outside world.

Keep Counsul Away

"And," it was added pointedly, "care will be taken to keep the German consul away."

Rumors spreading meantime in Vienna that the army garrison at Kufstein had gone to Germany en masse, reached such proportions that the police warned foreign correspondents to "not send rumors about Kufstein demonstrations because they are absolutely untrue."

While the German prince languished in Klagenfurt jail, another prince—the Austrian Ernst Rudiger Von Starhemberg a fascist leader and vice-chairman of Chancellor Dollfuss' patriotic front, was oratorically flailed by a former cabinet member, Karl Hartleb, in the Styrian diet.

To Name Successor

The legislature was convoked in a special session to elect a successor to Governor Rintelen, who will become Austria's minister to "this Starhemberg, who feels himself the herald of a new Austria and talks of eliminating democracy and corruption, first squandered the inheritance of his forefathers, then borrowed heavily of the Jews, and now, because they will not lend him more, lets himself be financed from abroad," Hartleb vehemently asserted.

Prince Von Sachsen-Meiningen aroused suspicions at the police station where he was taken when he asked permission to telephone his wife at his castle near Pitzelstaetten, near Carinthia.

Police said they overheard him instruct her to "destroy the documents" and thereupon the authorities notified officials in Pitzelstaetten.

Rush To Castle

Twelve armed police were rushed to the castle. They arrested Princess Margot, searched the house and grounds, and found the documents.

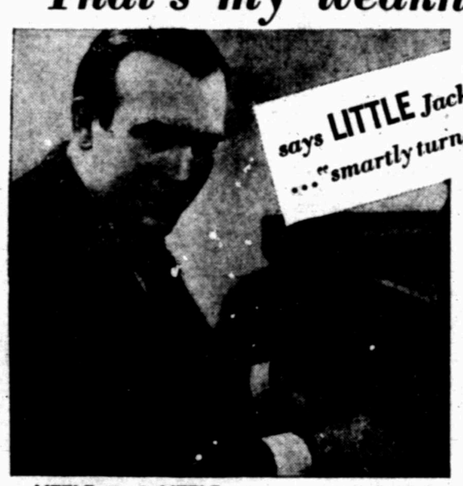

She was questioned extensively at Klagenfurt but was later returned to the castle under the guard of two detectives.

Recently the prince attracted considerable attention by hoisting a German flag on the castle.

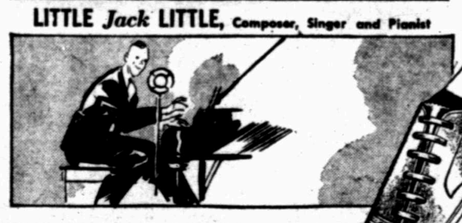

The exact nature of the alleged conspiracy was not revealed, but police said they found the entire office files of the Klagenfurt district nazi headquarters in the castle along with propaganda material the prince was said to have brought from Munich.

Home-Canned Vegetables To Be Used For Relief At Tulia

TULIA, Oct. 21 —(Special)—More than 4,000 cans of home canned vegetables, put up in the community kitchen here have been stored for use this winter in relief work, Mrs. J. R. Ward, in charge of the work, reports.

Beans, peas, tomatoes and vegetable soup have been put up. The cans are stored in the courthouse. A garden, under the supervision of Mayor R. A. Scott, furnished the produce. The garden also was used by those working it in supplying their tables with food during the summer.

Little Boys And Girls Clamor About This Young Leader To Obtain Views

They clamored about him, the little boys to seek his suggestions and the little girls, maybe, to see one of those nice smiles. The center of attraction was 11-year-old Otho Lane, small for his age, freckled and blond. The place was Central ward school during recess.

Assistant captain of the football team, member of the art and glee clubs and other school organizations, Young Lane is not too busy with his activities to make excellent grades in school work, teachers say. He is in the fifth grade.

Too Much In Demand

It was difficult, however, to detain him long enough for an interview. The boy, polite and modestly interested, was too much in demand by other children.

"I'm going to be a civil engineer when I grow up" he answered with a readiness that proved the question not only a definite decision but one, the details which have been carefully planned.

All teachers have a good word for Otho. "He is talented in art", "He is an excellent little actor", "I can always depend on Otho to do the hight thing"; "He is popular among all pupils and faculty members" are some of the remarks made by those who contact him at school.

Young Lane is the son of Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Lane, 1307 Twenty-Fifth street. His father is a city employee.

WACO, Oct. 21. (AP)—Two young women from the same part of Texas, who entered college together and live in the same dormitory, will be managing editors of the student daily and the college yearbook at Baylor university this year.

They are Pat Sloan of Falfurrias, Tex., who will direct the Daily Lariat, and Jacqueline Adams of Uvalde, elected to run the Round-Up.

Thirteen Scouts Seeking Cooking Badge This Fall

Thirteen local Girl Scout members are now working toward a cooking badge. They began their training three months ago and will be examined this week by Miss Mabel Erwin of the Texas Technological college who is the local scout examiner in home-making activities.

As a part of the examination the girls will serve a meal, prepared by themselves, at which Miss Erwin will be guest and critic. She will judge the girls upon their roles as hostesses, appearance of the table and the efficiency with which the food is prepared and served, the orderly management in the kitchen and the speed and skill with which the dishes are washed.

Tests which the girls will be asked to pass for the badge include planning well balanced menus, making a fire and keeping it regulated, preparing simple breakfasts and other meals, cooking a one-pot meal and cooking an out-of-door meal.

To take the examination: Betty Blankenbeckler, Elinor Crenshaw, Ida Rule Duff, Cathryn Dykes, Mary Ruth Hufstedler, Doris Hopping, Mary Jarrott, Marjorie Johnston, Betty Lee Lindsey, Lois Jane McDonald, Dorothy Smith, Angeline West and Bertha Proctor.

Rises From Foundling To Opera Star

Youthful Diva Is In Leading Role In New Opera

By NEA Service

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—A pretty girl, with the poise of a princess, who began life as a foundling on the doorstep of a humble Athens, O., home, is today one of the most promising young singers in the country.

Her name is Ruby Mercer.

And her life reads like a storybook tale. Last summer she was one of the stars in Cincinnati's Zoo Civic Opera Company. She sang "Juliet" in "Romeo and Juliet," and "Michela" in "Carmen."

Last summer she flew 4500 miles to Alaska for a series of seventeen concerts. Her plane crashed on a mountain top near Fairbanks, but she escaped unhurt and the following night she was singing at her next engagement.

Raised in Humble Home

The story begins when she was left on the doorstep of the home of an elderly couple, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Mercer, in Athens. She was just six weeks old. And for 20 years she did not know who her father and mother were.

They raised her in a homely, well-meaning way, but Ruby grew into a beautiful girl with talent and poise and a will of her own.

When she had a chance to go to an Episcopalean school in Honolulu, she took it. One day a visiting vocal teacher, Eleanor Hazard Peacock, heard her sing. Plans were laid for her to return and enter the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music. She had no money, but she had talent and a knack for making friendships.

Mme. Petrovic became enthusiastic about her. She made rapid progress and within two years had won the coveted fellowship for a year's study at the Juilliard Graduate School of Music in New York City. She is now studying there under Mme. Sembrick, prima donna.

RUBY MERCER

In Two Premieres

Gruenberg, the famous American composer, picked Miss Mercer to sing the role of "Princess" in the world premiere performance of his new opera, "Jack and the Beanstalk," in New York. Then followed a quick succession of performances, "Rosina" in the "Barber of Seville," "Miami" in "La Boheme," "Susanna" in the "Marriage of Figaro," and the heroine in Molapiero's "False Harlequin," at its American premiere.

Her fame has now spread to Canada. In November she sings with the opera company in Montreal.

Sometimes she was asked to sing in the homes of friends and patrons of music. Clothes were a financial problem and frequently she would appear in a borrowed frock or a borrowed evening wrap.

Mrs. Horace Schmidlapp, a wealthy Cincinnati woman interested in Miss Mercer's career, has given financial as well as social help. As she is coming more and more to the fore, singing with Jagel, Metropolitan Opera star, fulfilling concert engagements with the Newark Symphony Orchestra and being deluged with the approvals of music critics, the question of money has not been so pressing.

But the girl who is earning this recognition by sheer personality, talent and work, is the same one found, as a baby, crying on a doorstep in the middle of the night, with not a relative or friend—to begin with.

Springs Scene Of Y Meeting

Tech Associations Visit At Buffalo Springs With The Traveling Secretary, Who Meets Students

After a two day session of lectures and conferences on the campus of Texas Technological college, Miss Fern Babcock, traveling secretary of the Young Women's and Young Men's Christian associations, is the guest of Tech Y. W. and Y. M. C. A. members at Buffalo Springs over the week-end.

The group left for the outing directly after Miss Babcock's lecture to freshman students at 2 p. m. yesterday in the auditorium of the engineering building. Friday evening and Saturday morning, the secretary spent lecturing to and conferring with student members of the two organizations.

Miss Babcock came from her headquarters in Dallas on the Soutern Methodist university campus. She spent last summer traveling and studying in Europe.

Party Is Enjoyed By Women's Club

Mesdames C. F. Elkins and P. F. Murray entertained members of the Merry Bidders club at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon in the Elkins home, 1803 Thirteenth street.

Child Is P-TA Program Topic

Dupre Ward Parent-Teacher Association Plans Monthly Programs; Three-Fold Aims For Year Outlined

The mental, physician and spiritual development as well as the social direction of the ward school child is the concern of the Dupre Parent-Teacher association this year. Lectures and pupil programs of this group, which meets every third Tuesday afternoon at the Asbury Methodist church, are outlined in the following paragraphs.

November is book month for the association and Mrs. W. C. Holden, librarian at Texas Technological college, will discuss new and suitable books for children at the meeting. In keeping with the subject, the program will be conducted by members of the rooms of Mesdames Mary Gullege, H. G. Knight and Miss Dimple Ford.

Mrs. Dan Blair, dietitian of Lubbock Sanitarium will speak at the December meeting on "Physical and Intellectual Development Through Nutrition. Pupils of Mesdames W. H. Sims, C. H. Willingham and Miss Vivian Keaster will participate in a child health program.

In January there is to be a spiritual development program with Dr. Bradford Knapp, president of Texas Technological college, speaking on "Youth and Social Hygiene." The pupil program will be presented by the rooms of Mrs. Albert Kimbro and Miss Ninetta Parker.

Mrs. W. C. Wood was received as a new member. Twenty-five were present.

Things Are Backward In World Of Sports Clothing

By EVELYN BABB
Avalanche-Journal Staff

In the world of sports apparel everything is backward this year. Jackets look like sweaters; sweaters look like the dainty waists to grandmother's skirt, and hats — well, Peter Pan, or is it Yankee Doodle with his feather in his cap, is an adequate comparison.

But aren't they lovely?

Local shops are featuring sports clothes at this particular stage in the season. Whether it is because of football or because people won't buy winter garments until the first cold spell brings an urgent need for warm school or work clothes—the salesmen didn't say. Nevertheless it won't be hard to find just exactly the right sort of sweater suit, swagger suit, dress or jacket for milady's own personality in Lubbock this fall.

The Question of Coats

The question in the mind of the average young lady in quest of a practical winter wrap, saleswomen say, is "Shall I buy a swagger suit with a suit of 'twin sweaters' to match or shall it be a coat?" It isn't a matter of price, or material or warmth that will decide the question. It will depend upon the wardrobe of the individual.

Both coats and suits lean toward the swagger styles, in fact it would be hard to find a suit of any other cut. Coats, however, vary. Some of them look remotely like the polo coat of last year—only fuller and baggier and softer looking. Many of the leading materials are known by trade names; each material is found under different names in different shops; and colors, the names of which give not the slightest description to the hue itself except in one instance—eel grey—are the same ole' winter colors only all dolled up in richer shades.

Tans, for instance, are the blend of myriads of other colors; red, blue, green and orange, all woven together so that only the effect is tannish.

Brown With Grey

One of the striking color combinations is grey and brown—almost as astonishing as the blue and green alliance that stylists sprung on us several seasons ago. One of prettiest suits was a worsted material, grey in effect. The saleslady suggested a brown blouse and brown accessories to match.

Blouses, by the way, are mostly satin in dark solid colors. They are reported to be good with lighter colored suits. Blouses at this season are giving away to sweaters although some attractive ones are still being shown, among them some clever cotton plaid and stripes in dark colors.

The popular style in sweaters now is the already mentioned "twin sweater" suit. These may be had in any color desired and at almost any price. They range from machine made mercerized knits at $5.95 to the hand made woolens and boucles priced $19.50 to $37.50.

Sport hats, gloves and scarfs or ties may be had in sets. Hats are mostly knit angora or of a porous looking wool fabric. They are to be had brimless or with flat sailor brims—according to the contour of the face or the collar on the coat to be worn this season.

Gloves for sports wear are most inexpensive. They come in plain and plaid fabrics. Some are jersey or woolen knit, with bright colored trimming to match the feather in one's hat or one's bright colored jacket.

Miss Mabel Erwin Is To Talk Before City Federation In Monthly Meeting On Friday; To Talk On Textiles

By BLANCHE BEAN WILSON
Woman's Editor

THIS next week-end is to be federation week-end as far as Lubbock is concerned and a trio of meetings will affect hundreds of women in rural as well as city clubs.

Miss Mabel Erwin is to lecutre on "The Modern Trend in Textiles" Friday afternoon before members of the City Federation of Women's clubs in a meeting at the Hilton hotel.

This meeting, the second for the fall, will be at 3 o'clock in the afternoon in the hotel ball room. At 2:45 o'clock, preceding the meeting, the executive board will meet.

Meet On Saturday

Acuff has been chosen for the semi-annual meeting of the County Federation of Women's clubs Saturday of this week, according to an announcement made by Mrs. George N. Atkinson, the president.

The meeting will open at 10 o'clock in the morning and continue until in the afternoon. It will be at the Acuff school house and the Four S club of that community will be the hostess organization.

Miss Hazel Bratley, home demonstration agent, is to talk on her work in the morning and Miss Margaret Weeks, dean of the school of home economics at Texas Technological college, will talk on co-operation of urban and rural women in promoting the farm women's food market.

C. E. Russell, of the Tech faculty, will talk on tree planting in the afternoon.

Each woman who attends the meeting is to take a covered dish for the lunch that will be spread at noon.

To Elect Officers

Officers will be elected at the Church Women's Federation meeting on Monday, October 30, at First Christian church as this meeting will be the last for 1933.

The Federation meetings fall regularly on the fifth Mondays of months. There have been gatherings this year in January, May and July.

Following the general theme of "Thy Kingdom Come Through Christian Service", this month's program will be on "Bear Ye One Another's Burdens." Mrs. R. C. Campbell, of First Baptist church, will lead the devotional and Mrs. S. J. McFarland, of the hostess church, will make the talk. Special music will be arranged by Mrs. George N. Atkinson, of First Baptist congregation.

Next year's president will be drawn from the membership of First Presbyterian church, in the rotation of this office, according to an announcement made by Mrs. C. A. Bickley, the president now. She is a member of First Methodist church.

The nominating committee is composed of Mrs. Tom Campbell, Miss Virginia McLean and Mrs. J. D. Peters.

Aggie Club Dance Is At Local Club

Tables were laid for games of bridge and forty-two and dancing was enjoyed Saturday evening when members of the Tech Aggie club entertained at the Country club. There are 80 members of the club.

These men and their dates and faculty people were asked to attend.

MEN TO MEET

First Presbyterian Men of the Church will meet at 7 o'clock Wednesday evening at the church for supper.

Three Tech Groups Will Have Entertainments Friday Evening

The Woman's Angle

Avalanche Woman's Editor

This column is making a prediction. It is that several more lives will have to be sacrificed before there is sufficient interest in barring intoxicated people from driving cars to keep them from doing so.

You don't hope that prediction fails to come true any more than I. None of us wants to see people killed or injured unnecessarily, but the prediction stands.

Perhaps you read those statements by Judge Clark M. Mullican this week: "In far too many cases have witnesses appeared before the grand jury on behalf of the accused and testify to his sober condition, contrary to what we believe the true facts to be . . . There appears to be a lack of public sentiment in favor of enforcement of the law . . . we realize that without the support of public opinion law enforcement officers are hampered."

You must have realized over and over that no law is worth anything unless it is enforced and that enforcement is almost impossible if people do not back the men they have elected to office.

It is not pleasant to believe that some child, perhaps your child, is going to have to be killed to wake us up to a realization of the dangers of allowing intoxicated people to drive automobiles. It doesn't cheer you to believe that some day some intoxicated driver may lose control of his car and hit you.

Yet, this prediction holds. There is going to have to be additional losses of life before the public, which includes you and me, has awakened to the seriousness of the situation.

By the way, don't let these sob stories that are written about the Shannons move you too much. They may have been victims of circumstances to a certain extent but they had been keeping bad company. Kidnaping had been a great big game that was being played with the public as a victim. No one had realized that Uncle Sam might get busy one of these days and do something about it, in spite of warnings, and when he did, the sob stories had little effect.

When it comes to crime and law enforcement, too many of us are inclined to go around with our hearts and sympathies on our sleeves while our intellects are engaged elsewhere.

GOOD SUGGESTION

FRANK KLEPPER, DALLAS artist, made a suggestion about this art loan collection at the Panhandle-South Plains fair each fall that might be considered. He was talking to Mrs. Chester Hubbard, who was art director this fall. "Why don't you," he queried, "have some one down here assemble a collection of pictures and send them out to you?"

Which might not be such a bad idea. There are many artists in Dallas and this would save a lot of time and trouble contacting all of the artists separately.

COLLEGE GOOD TIMES

THIS is the beginning of that season of the year that may truly be called the social season in Lubbock.

Much of this society is occasioned by college groups as they have their largest dances and prettiest receptions during this time of the year. At other seasons there are parties and dances and open houses and other less formal occasions that may properly be termed society happenings, yet they are more in the routine of the weeks. There is little to distinguish one event from another.

To some it may seem that the college students are devoting altogether too much time to having fun. These folk probably have not stopped to think that college days are offering these young men and women an opportunity to enjoy the best times or their lives and that later on even their good times may be overshadowed by the responsibilities they will have assumed. And then there is the traditional belief that "All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy"—a truth we have never had reason to doubt.

Marian Martin Pattern

SPECIAL ATTENTION CENTERED ON DETAIL
PATTERNS 9719 and 9729

Perhaps you've been a bit afraid of the new styles—too extreme in detail, too hard to wear and much too difficult to make, you thought! We've knocked down all those notions in the two Paris-inspired models shown today! You can make them and wear them with ease. Just see how flattering is the scarf knotted in soft folds at the throat in Model 9719. The diagonal bodice closing and slender skirt panels are clean-cut lines that are very kind to your figure and simple to put together. Here is a stunning new sleeve, too—until you've seen our diagrammed Sew Chart that shows you the easiest way to make them, you've missed half the fun of sewing. Make it of satin, faille, ottoman, etc. Much the same can be said of Model 9729. It is really very easy to make. Note its fetching collar, modish sleeves and the new low-placed skirt flare. This frock is smart in sheer wool, rough crepe, faille, satin, etc., with a collar of bengaline or flat fur.

Pattern 9719 may be ordered only in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 32, 34, 36, 38 and 40. Size 16 requires 3 1-2 yards 39 inch fabric and 3-8 yard contrasting.

Pattern 9729 may be ordered only in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 32, 34, 36, 38 and 40. Size 16 requires 3 3-8 yards 39 inch fabric and 1-4 yard contrasting.

Send fifteen cents in coins or stamps (coins preferred for each Marian Martin pattern. Be sure to write plainly your name, address, the style number and size of each pattern.

The winter edition of the Marian Martin pattern book shows all the new style highlights This book will guide you to a distinctive ward robe at little cost. Send for it today, price of pattern book fifteen cents, book and pattern together, twenty-five cents.

Send your order to The Morning Avalanche, Pattern Department, 232 W. 18th St., New York, N. Y.. of children---

He had discovered their undernourished condition and their diseases, and resolved to procure for them the right kind of food, that they might grow strong—physically and mentally.

Nathan Straus knew the food value of milk. He discovered the great advantages of pasteurization—he knew that pasteurization would save the lives of millions of children.

His experiments extended to hundreds of thousands of those undernourished children. He taught the dairymen of the United States how to pasteurize their milk—he spent more than a million dollars of his own fortune fostering pasteurized milk.

Surely you can take the judgment of Nathan Straus in selecting the kind of milk you will give your children. Start taking Bell's milk today—children like its uniform flavor and its richness—think, too, of the added satisfaction you will find in knowing that Bell's milk is made "Safe" by the newest and best methods of pasteurization—just phone 373 for service or hail the Bell Ice Cream Co. milkman as he passes your door.

Poppy Day Is November 11

American Legion Auxiliary Is Planning Annual Sale Here Of Poppies; Supply Comes From Legion, Texas

Annual "Poppy Day" will be observed this year on November 11, it has been announced by Mrs. Thomas E. Boyd, chairman of the poppy sales committee in the American Legion auxiliary. This unit is making extensive preparations for the observance of the day and is hoping for the full cooperation of all other organizations and individuals, she said.

Memorial poppies, to be worn in honor of the World War dead, will be made available to every one by volunteer workers from the auxiliary unit. Organization of the workers is going forward rapidly under Mrs. Boyd's direction and the unit expects to have representatives in all parts of the down town district throughout the day, she said. The flowers for the sale have been ordered from Legion, Texas, where they have been made by disabled World War veterans.

"Poppy Day is the day for personal tribute to the men who lost their lives in the country's service," Mrs. Boyd said. There will be no set prices on the poppies. Individuals will contribute as they wish for the flowers. The funds will be used for relief work among the disabled veterans and their families, the bulk of the money going to support the relief activities of the local auxiliary unit among needy families here.

Autumn Styles

in many seasons, salesmen say. Styles for sport range from the flat heeled pig skins with the broad tongues, folding back to the toes, to the high heeled suede and patent leather combinations. Oxfords are cut high upon the arch and the sports type have shiny leather heels. Suedes and reptile skins are popular materials for this type of shoe. Shoes are shown in many colors including dark greens and navy blues, but the popular shades are dark brown or eel grey.

The shops are selling dresses, too. The most general thing to be said about them is that they have broad shoulders and high and snappy necklines. The sleeves are often buttoned on just below the shoulder line.

Buttons, by the way are a most important factor in this year's dresses. They are large and hand carved of wood or bone. Buckles, extremely large, are of the same type.

Belts, on sports dresses are largely wide and stitched and placed closely around the natural waistline. Half belts, still wide, and buckling in back are popular.

The most satisfying factor noticed about the shops is that in spite of current talk that prices are going up and have done so during the past couple of months, they are not exorbitant yet. Quality materials are still much the same in price as they were last fall. The only difference is that many of the shops are rid of the inferior materials that they had to sell at low rates in the past.

Cocoanut Adds To Flavor Of Pudding

By NEA Service

Old recipes, handed down from Grandmother's cookbook, sometimes are the ones we like best of all.

Rice pudding is one of the old favorites. Dress it up in a new way for winter menus and you'll make a hit with your dinner guests.

Tasty as well as nourishing, it's the perfect dessert for a school child's luncheon. If he doesn't come home for lunch, it can be packed in a little covered glass jar to fit in one corner of the lunch box.

There are many ways varying rice pudding. Fresh peaches or other seasonal fruits can be mixed with it just before it goes to the table. Shredded cocoanut, baked to a golden brown right on top of the casserole, gives new zest to the dessert. It appeals to grown ups as well as to the children.

If you have a pretty casserole or baking dish, by all means serve the rice pudding at the table. Simply place it, a serving spoon and the dessert dishes in front of the hostess and let her serve each one.

Here's a fine cocoanut rice pudding recipe which will serve six people: Four tablespoons of uncooked rice, 4 cups of milk, 1-2 cup of sugar, 1-4 teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons butter, 1 cup of shredded cocoanut.

Wash the rice thoroughly and then put it in a buttered baking dish with milk, sugar, salt and butter.

Bake in a slow oven for two hours, stirring vigorously every thirty minutes. Add cocoanut, mix well and continue baking for one-half hour. Sprinkle on remaining 1-2 cup of cocoanut and bake one-half hour longer or until the cocoanut is delicately browned. Serve hot or cold.

Girl Scouts Are To Observe Week Of Special Occasions

Celebrating the founder's birthday, Girl Scouts will have a week of observances, beginning next Sunday. The climax will be a court of awards on Thursday evening at Seaman hall. A hedge of shrubs will be planted and there will be a supper for adults and girls connected with the organization.

There will be a service at the Episcopal church that Sunday evening and each day of the week will have a special significance for the girls.

Miss Jane McGuire has returned home from near Big Spring where she has been teaching. She has been visiting friends in Big Spring and Snyder.

A huge roadside boulder at Ardlin, Scotland, was split in halves by a tree which grew through it.

Self Control Is Subject Of Child Study Circle Lesson

"Self-Control" was the subject for discussion at the meeting of the Madonna circle of the Child Conservation league Friday in the home of Mrs. Neil Vanzant, 1919 Broadway.

Speakers on the program were Mesdames Clarence Rollo, H. L. Burgess, F. A. Kleinschmidt and J. Mule Davis.

Other members present were Mesdames Parker Prouty, David S. Martin, W. J. McMillan, Thomas Pirtle, F. B. Malone, Alex McDonald, H. C. Whitworth, Jack McGinnis, and Paul Hardwick.

IMPROVING SPINACH

After the spinach is thoroughly cooked cream well and serve with poached egg on each portion. It makes a good substitute for meat and with a dish of cottage cheese and sliced radishes takes care of a light meal.

Hallowe'en Party Attended By Girls

Wee Wadita Camp Fire girls and their guests had a Hallowe'en party Friday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Allen, 2124 Seventeenth street.

Louis Pittman, dressed as a ghost, met guests at the door. Josephine Welmaker told fortunes. The costume prize was awarded Janet Wilson.

Others who attended were Rozeltha Smith, Mary Ann Stephenson, Jacqueline Davis, Raenell Strickling, Betty Lee Lindsey, Shirley Bass, Geraldine Philips, Virginia Lee Barr, Wynona Simmons, Polly Peters, Marguerite Broiles, Jeanne Roane, Chalones Whitacre, Kitty Moore and Dorothy Allen, Mrs. Arch Harper, Mrs. Allen and Miss Ethel Green assisted with the entertainment and served refreshments.

READY FOR WINTER

This is the time of year to put away your summer slip covers, lampshades and curtains. Wash the slip covers and curtains and brush the lampshades before you pack them. Remember that shades will stay in better condition if you put each one in a separate box.

Couple In Sudan Community United In Marriage Recently

SUDAN, Oct. 21. (Special)—Miss Grace McNeme and Henry Fowler were united in marriage last Saturday evening at 8 o'clock by the Rev. Sam A Thomas at the Methodist parsonage, in this city.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. McNeme of the Friendship community. Mr. Fowler, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Fowler, is also of that community.

LOU WOMAN MARRIES

BROWNFIELD, Oct. 21. (Special)—Miss Mabel Johnson of Lou was married here Saturday evening, October 14, to Louis Youngquist of Avoca.

Mr. and Mrs. K. L. Riggs are spending the week-end in Dallas seeing the fair. They were accompanied to Dallas by Mrs. N. L. Peters who met Mr. Peters, who has been in East Texas, there for the week-end.

Don't throw away scraps of soap. Put them in a soap shaker and they can be used to the very end.

Committee Is Arranging For Sunday School Class Dinner

The Sunday school class of Mrs. William Dingus is having a banquet at 7:30 o'clock Monday evening at the First Methodist church.

Miss Eulala Henderson is chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements. Helping her are Misses Dollie Clements and Ruth Mildred Rylander and Charles Maedgen.

Personals

Miss M. Moss Richardson, of the faculty at West Texas State Teachers college, is the week-end guest of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Shepard, 2518 Twentieth street.

Mr. and Mrs. John Kershner, of near town, are parents of a daughter born Friday evening at their home. This is the first girl in the Kershner family in four generations. She has been named Shirley Ray Kershner.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. McIntire of Estelline are visiting their daughter, Mrs. V. V. Clark, and Dr. Clark, at 2617 Nineteenth street.

Miss Ruth Green, E. Steward Wed

Miss Ruth Green of this city was married Saturday morning to Ernest Steward of Vega. The ceremony which took place in Amarillo was witnessed by friends from Vega, Miss Ruby Pierce, formerly of Lubbock, and Howard Steward, brother of the groom.

The bride, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Green, 2008 Eighteenth street, was a senior at Texas Technological college last year.

After a brief honeymoon the couple will be at home in Vega where Mr. Steward is employed by an implement company.

MARRIAGE IS ANNOUNCED

Announcement was made Saturday of the marriage of Miss Oma Faye Fairley and T. H. Dawson on September 17 in Clovis, N. M., where the couple is residing.

Mrs. Dawson is a graduate of the Lubbock Sanitarium nursing school and a post graduate of Barnest hospital in St. Louis. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Fairley of O'Donnell. Mr. Dawson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Dawson of Slaton. He manages a food store in Clovis.

Thoughts At Random Of A Hollywood Columnist—Behind The Scenes

BY DAN THOMAS
NEA Service Writer

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 21.—Random thoughts of a Hollywood columnist:

Colleen Moore must feel grand over having so many studios bidding for her again. Sally Eilers gives a perfect imitation of Garbo. And you should see Bob Armstrong do a hula! Wonder what's happening to that picture Charlie Chaplin was supposed to be starting?

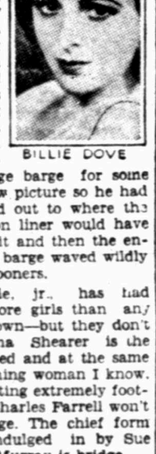

COLLEEN MOORE

Marie Dressler probably is the only person in Hollywood without an enemy. And Baby LeRoy is one of the few who won't take orders from anyone—when he wants to do something, he does it. Gloria Swanson still stands pat on refusing to have any of her children picturized—there isn't a photograph of any of them in existence.

Billie Goes Domestic

IT might be amusing to see Jimmy "Schnozzle" Durante really mortified. Fay Wray should have been a racing driver. The Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences will be making its 1933 awards pretty soon. I'd like to see Oliver "Babe" Hardy playing polo. Billie Dove has gone completely domestic since getting married. Soft spoken John John Miljan isn't at all the type of man you would expect to find playing 'heavies.' That was a swell gag Dick Arlen pulled on Dick Hunt and Julie Lang as they were sailing for Honolulu on their honeymoon. Dick was working on a garbage barge for some scenes in his new picture so he had the barge moved out to where the big white Matson liner would have to sail right by it and then the entire crew on the barge waved wildly to the honey-mooners.

BILLIE DOVE

Carl Laemmle, jr., has had "crushes" on more girls than any other man in town—but they don't last long. Norma Shearer is the most sophisticated and at the same time most assuming woman I know. Hollywood is getting extremely football conscious. Charles Farrell won't ever look his age. The chief form of recreation indulged in by Sue Carol and Ken Murray is bridge.

Joan Not Snooty

JOAN Crawford still is just as friendly toward everyone as she was when just an unimportant bit player. Off the screen Heather Angel looks like just a child. Elissa Landi has Hollywood's grandest mother Minna Gombell tells the funniest stories. On a rainy day even a tractor couldn't climb the driveway to Jean Harlow's home.

JOAN CRAWFORD

The most embarassing question you can ask an actor is why he hasn't worked recently. Since getting her divorce Carole Lombard seems to really enjoy being with Bill Powell. The Harold Lloyds now have grabbed the title of Hollywood's ideal couple. Darryl Zanuck wouldn't look nearly as impressive if he didn't have a big cigar in his mouth. It seems like all of our little fellows go in for the big cigars, while the big fellows smoke cigarets.

Glad Sylvia Is Out

THERE'S an old proverb which says in effect "everything happens for the best."A few nights ago every Paramount executive had the truth of it jammed right down his throat.

ANN DVORAK

Loud wails emitted from the Paramount lot when Sylvia Sidney walked out of her role in Maurice Chevalier's new film, "The Way To Love," after something like $100,000 already had been spent on the picture. After several days of triyng to persuade Sylvia to return, Ann Dvorak was substituted.

And now, after seeing a preview of the picture, all of the executives are thanking their lucky stars that Sylvia wouldn't come back. Ann is just that good—much better, in my opinion, than Miss Sidney possibly could have been.

Long List Of Screen Favorites In Pictures Here This Week

Lilian Harvey To Be Seen In "My Weakness"

George Arliss In "Voltaire" Coming; "Bureau Of Missing Persons" And "Saturday's Millions" Also Booked

"MY WEAKNESS," the new Fox production that presents Lilian Harvey in her first American film play, opens a three-day run at the Lindsey today. Popular European picture star Miss Harvey created somewhat of a sensation with her performance in "Congress Dances."

In her first appearance before the American lens the German actress is cast opposite Lew Ayres. Other important parts are filled by Charles Butterworth Harry Langdon, Sid Silvers, Irene Bentley and Mary Howard, daughter of Will Rogers.

Arliss Portrays Voltaire

George Arliss presents another historical character study in the title role of "Voltaire," Warner Brothers' picture, which will be screened at the Lindsey Wednesday and Thursday. The picture features one spectacular incident in the life of the brilliant poet-philosopher who was a friend of royalty in Europe but a champion of the common people in his native land. The setting offers a living picture of the extravagant times of King XV. Doris Kenyon as Madam Pompadour, and Margaret Lindsey as Nanette Calas, the innocent cause of an uproar which almost brought on the French revolution thirty years sooner, head the supporting cast.

With football enthusiasm at a high pitch, the Lindsey has booked a timely picture for Friday and Saturday. It is "Saturday's Millions," Universal's new gridiron drama. Featured roles are played by Robert Young, Leila Hyams, Andy Devine, Johnny Mack Brown and Lucille Lund—the latter recently selected by College Humor Magazine as America's most beautiful co-ed—and the supporting cast includes Ernie Nevers, Erny Pinckert and other widely-known football stars.

"Beureau of Missing Persons"

Bette Davis, Pat O'Brien, Lewis Stone and Glenda Farrell head the cast in "Bureau of Missing Persons," First National production which opens a three-day run at the Palace today. The picture reveals the mysterious, and to a large exteut, secret workings of that division of the police department in which are recorded the cases of kidnaped men and women and those who strangely vanish. Thousands of persons, from Park Avenue as well as the slums are reported missing every year in the large cities and it is upon these that the story is based.

"The Soltaire Man," startling story of super continental crookdom, will be presented at the Palace Wednesday and Thursday. In the title role, Herbert Marshall heads a cast which includes Elizabeth Allan, Mary Boland, Lionel Atwill and May Robson. The story concerns a man who driven to desperation by loss of a fortune in the war, turns into a sophisticated, gentleman crook.

"Captured!" To Be Shown

Unsung heroes of the prison camps during the World war come into their own in the Warner Brothers' production, "Captured!" which will be shown at the Palace Friday and Saturday. Leslie Howard, Douglas Fairbanks, jr., and Paul Lukas share leading honors, the first two as British army officers who meet, for the first time since university days, in a prison camp. The love of these two men for the same English girl, who is the wife of one though she is in love with the other, precipitates a crisis in the lives and fortunes of hundreds of prisoners in the camp.

Adapted from Eugene O'Neill's sensational drama, "Strange Interlude" will be screened at the Texan today and Monday. Norma Shearer and Clark Gable are co-starred. The story centers about a woman who gets a man other than her husband to be the father of her child because of insanity in her husband's family.

"Men Must Fight"

Diana Wynyard, Lewis Stone Phillips Holmes, May Robson and Robert Young head the cast in "Men Must Fight," scheduled at the Texan Tuesday. The plot centers about a woman who teaches her son to share her hatred of war.

Ben Lyon, Glenda Farrell, Mary Brian and Peggy Shannon appear in the principal roles in "Girl Missing," which will be screened at the Texan Wednesday and Thursday. The story concerns how a quick-witted chorus girl solves a murder mystery and exposes a marriage racketeer.

Buck Jones in a western thriller, "Hello Trouble," will be the attraction at the Texan Friday and Saturday.

Fairbanks Has Role Typical Of Old Films

"Mr. Robinson Crusoe" Opens Run At Broadway; "Hearts Of Humanity" And "Cynara" Scheduled This Week

DOUGLAS Fairbanks, the same fighting, leaping, bounding Doug of old, will be seen at the Broadway this week in his latest picture, "Mr. Robinson Crusoe," which starts a three-day run today. Modernized, speeded up and spiced with homor, the story is an original one, merely based on the famous Devoe classic.

Doug's Crusoe is a sportsman who, on a bet, undertakes to duplicate the life of the famous storybook character. Not only does he equal Crusoe's accomplishes, but he surpasses them in the many new complications he unearths. Maria Alba and William Farnum head the supporting cast. The picture was made in its entirety in the South Seas.

"Hearts Of Humanity"

Life as it is lived by the simple immigrant in New York's lower east side is depicted in "Hearts of Humanity," Majestic picture, scheduled at the Broadway Wednesday and Thursday. Jean Hersholt, who is actually a Dane, appears in the leading role as a Jew. Jackie Searle, J. Farrell MacDonald and Claudia Dell are seen in other important roles. The petty conflicts and beautiful friendships that result when men and women from the four corners of the earth are flung together in one great melting pot form the basis for the story.

Kay Francis and Ronald Colman are teamed in "Cynara," a sophisticated story of the idle rich, which will be screened at the Broadway Friday and Saturday. The story concerns a married woman who loves a struggling young politician. Her husband enmeshes the politician in a scandal that threatens his career, but the woman comes to the rescue and publicly professes her love for him, helping him to be elected to the office he seeks.

"A Bedtime Story"

"A Bedtime Story," with Maurice Chevalier, starts a three-day run at the Lyric today. Helen Twelvetrees, Edward Everett Horton and Baby Leroy appear in the other principal roles. The story concerns a Paris play-boy who finds a baby abandoned in his automobile. Numerous amusing complications follow "adoption" of the baby.

Torn between duty to his unresponsive and social climbing wife and love for his efficient and beautiful secretary, a home-loving husband finds himself in the whirlpool of an emotional crisis. How he surmounts the obstacles and marries the secretary forms the pivotal point in "Second Hand Wife," Fox picture which will be offered at the Lyric Wednesday and Thursday. Sally Eilers and Ralph Ballamy appear in the leading roles and Helen Vinson heads the supporting cast.

"Rusty Rides Alone," Columbia outdoor feature starring Tim McCoy, will be screened at the Lyric Friday and Saturday. Barbara Weeks plays opposite the star. The picture also presents a new dog star, Silver King.

Nebraska has more river mileage than any other state.

Invitations Sent To Dramatic Meet

Invitations are being sent out to senior colleges and universities of the state by Texas Technological college dramatic organizations, Sock and Buskin and Alpha Psi Omega, for the annual intercollegiate dramatic tournament which will be held in Lubbock, April 5 and 6. A series of events including one-act plays, buffet suppers, and dances are being planned for the guests.

The tournament was won by Tech at Belton last year with the presentation of Strode's "The End of the Dance," the team being awarded a loving cup to be kept for the ensuing year. Best individual male actor prize was given to Lloyd Marr of Lamesa and Tech.

Miss Ruth Pirtle, sponsor, predicts a record attendance and much competition for first place among the members of the association. The Tech dramatic organizations, hosts for the occasion, will not compete.

Popular Dance Band To Return Here

Herman Waldman (above) will bring his popular recording and radio orchestra to Lubbock again on the night of October 28. Waldman's band has been appearing at Baker hotels in Dallas and San Antonio for several years and has been popular for several seasons over radio station WOAI at San Antonio. The orchestra was presented in Lubbock last May and returns here upon popular demand. The dance will be held at the Auditorium, formerly the Up town Dance palace. The band will also appear in dinner engagements at the Hilton Saturday and Sunday, it has been announced.

Babson Sees Changes As Result Of Unbalanced Industrial Improvement

Conservative Trends Noted In Capital, Expert Says

BY ROGER W. BABSON
(Copyright For Avalanche-Journal)

BABSON PARK, Oct. 21. (Special)—A decided change in sentiment is taking place in Washington today. This is the natural result of the change in economic conditions since President Roosevelt assumed office. At that time business was stagnant. Since March average business activity has increased 27 per cent. Operations in some industries are at normal. Others, however, have shown only a slight revival. This unbalanced improvement necessitates a change in the administration's economic program.

Last March practically every branch of business was at a standstill. It was absolutely essential at that time to adopt drastic measures to revive activity immediately. Going off the gold standard and the threat of devaluing the dollar frightened people into buying goods for fear the value of their money would depreciate; while the NRA was an effort to raise public purchasing power quickly. Naturally industries engaged in producing consumer goods benefited most from these measures. In other words, companies making shoes, clothing, automobiles, furniture, cigarettes, electric refrigerators, and similar products have enjoyed the best business in many months.

Others Not Aided

On the other hand, companies making capital or producers' goods, as they are called, did not experience a corresponding pick-up in orders. These companies manufacture goods such as electric generators, railroad locomotives, steamships, construction equipment, and farm machinery. Measures which were adopted to stimulate activity in the "light" industries were just reverse of those necessary to revive activity in the heavy industries. In order to show how much greater the improvement has been in consumer lines than in the capital goods group, we need only to examine the records of the various industries.

Since March, shoe production has advanced 30 per cent and textile activity has increased about 100 per cent. There were 63,000 more automobiles produced in September than in March. Employment in the radio industry is 77 per cent greater. In contrast, there was only one locomotive ordered in September against none in March. Employment in the farm machinery industry has increased only 9 per cent. Construction volume, as measured by an index figure, is only 18 per cent greater than in March. These figures clearly show that the sharp rise in consumers' goods actively has scarcely been reflected in the heavy industries.

New Stage Is Reached

The business revival has reached a new stage. Since March 1 it is estimated that 2,800,000 workers have returned to their jobs—but around 10,000,000 remain jobless. Employment in industries making and distributing consumer goods is excellent. In fact, operations of the latter are nearly normal. The bulk of unemployment is in those industries making heavy machinery and other capital goods.

Naturally there is a limit to the increase in employment in the "light" industries. The only further source of employment is in a more extensive share-the-work movement, but this will not increase the total purchasing power of the nation. Accordingly, I believe further progress toward recovery depends upon a revival in the "heavy" industries.

Must Restore Confidence

Since August, business has been declining. It is estimated that over 600,000 people have been recently involved in labor strikes. More and more people are becoming impatient with the administration. It must be admitted that the recovery program has not attained the goal which was mentioned by the administration. This has been due to the type of measures adopted. The good which they could accomplish was limited to improvement in consumer lines. To promote activity in the "heavy" industries, however, it is now necessary to adopt new policies. This explains the change of sentiment which is taking place, not only in Washington, but all over the nation.

The basis on which recovery in the "heavy" industries rests is a return of confidence to our business and financial leaders. The only incentive for a company or an individual to make loans for the purpose of creating capital goods is confidence that the dollars repaid will be as good as the dollars lent. The first requisite to restore this confidence is the stabilization of our currency. I feel very strongly that we can have no sustained improvement in the "heavy" industries until the future monetary policy of the nation is made clear. Bankers and private investors alike will not make loans so long as there is a possibility that with tomorrow's inflation they may receive only a 50 cent dollar in return.

Low Production Costs Essential

Revival of activity in the "heavy" industries also depends upon low production costs. Rising prices of raw materials and sharp advances in labor wage scales are no boon to shipbuilders, building contractors, and the like. Therefore, the administration, instead of urging wage advances, will now attempt to curb unreasonable demands of certain labor leaders. Instead of price-raising programs, the government will work along price-control lines. In other words, President Roosevelt and his advisers see that any further inflation will not help employment in the capital goods group. Therefore, their policy will now be along more rational, conservative lines rather than experimental lines.

This does not mean that the code movement will be overthrown. The NRA has created thousands of new jobs in all parts of the country. It has raised the wages of hundreds of underpaid workers. While we all realize it has not fully succeeded we may never know what catastrophe the NRA averted. The codes not only have improved labor's position, but employers can now present a more unified front. Consequently, I feel that if today's strikes are properly handled by the government, we will have a smoothly working system of settling labor-employer disputes in the future. Moreover, I believe the permanent effect of most codes will be to preserve healthy competition within industries and at the same time to eliminate ethical and economic abuses which have hitherto existed.

Need For Courage Today

The new program emphasizes reflation through credit expansion rather than inflation through currency expansion. Such measures as closed bank liquidation, government loans to industry, mortgage relief to farmers and homeowners alike, and the public works projects are all part of the new program. The Securities act must be modified in order to coax private funds back into industry. These steps are all laying a sounder foundation for restoring confidence in the gigantic industries which create both capital goods and prosperity.

American industry has not passed out of the promotional era into the operating period. The pioneering spirit in the United States is not dead! I can not emphasize too strongly, however, the need today for courage, initiative, and, above all, faith and confidence on the part of all groups—rich and poor, employer and worker alike.

Business, as estimated by the Babsonchart, now registers 18 per cent above a year ago, and 25 per cent below normal.

Brief Bits Of News About Autos And Auto Dealers

ASKED TO ATTEND

AN appeal to all local and South Plains automobile dealers to attend a special statewide meeting of the Texas Automobile Dealers association has been made by the local organization.

Both new and used car dealers are urged to attend the meeting, slated for next Tuesday at the Texas Hotel in Fort Worth. W. A. Williams, secretary and manager of the state association, will be present to interpret the automobile code as approved by the N. R. A. and President Roosevelt. The new code becomes effective about Nov. 3. It was signed by the president October 3.

The local organization is to have several representatives present, and urges that all new and used car dealers attend or send a representative to the state meeting.

U. S. Must Be Prepared!

AMERICA'S legion of parlor pacifists must be downhearted at the further collapse of the League of Nations, beautiful in theory but impossible in practice.

After spending thousands—and, more probably, hundreds of thousands—of dollars over the past decade in handing out league propaganda, which went unused by The Avalanche-Journal and the other watchful dailies of the land, league proponents cannot now but admit their failure.

Even the fondest adherant of the bedtime story plan for world peace must realize with German's withdrawal what others realized even before Japan marched out, intent upon its territory-grabbing in the Orient.

The league's once impressive, yet none the less impossible machinery is a junk pile—and that's that.

ALWAYS a proponent of preparedness as the greatest safeguard to peace, The Avalanche-Journal still sees eye to eye with its oft avowed policy of strong defense.

With war drums rolling in Europe and the Orient, and with foreign nations scrambling to prepare for what many experts claim is an inevitable conflict, we look to the far-seeing Roosevelt administration to improve the army, the navy, the marines and the air service to the point where we will command fearful respect from those who might otherwise be unimpressed.

It is no time for sleeping at the switch.

America must call upon its best brains and its finest leaders to preserve, if possible, the peace of the world.

Yet we must also see that our armaments and our various departments of defense are strengthened against a day when we might otherwise prove a helpless target for agressive invasion.

IF, as many well informed observers believe, Europe and the Far East are to be plunged into another struggle, our country must plan its policies carefully in order to guard against entry into war.

Yet we must never overlook the fact that we might be forced into it—and must be prepared against such an undesirable move.

WISHING FOR FOOL'S GOLD

General Johnson prescribes an economic Keeley cure for the persons who implore the government to bring back the prosperity of 1928 and 1929. He prays that Heaven will save us from any more prosperity of that pipe-dream substance.

It has been apparent since the crash of 1929 that this country was headed for economic trouble in the midst of its greatest prosperity. For years it skated on thin ice. Prosperity built alone upon inflated market values and an expanding foreign trade bought with our own dollars can not long endure, and when it goes it takes everything with it.

That expanding export trade of which much was made by those who claimed credit for it was a smoky dream. We got it by lending busted foreign customers lavish billions to buy our goods, when we were already on notice that they could not, or would not, pay even a portion of other lavish billions they already owed us. We were giving away both our goods and the money to buy them as fast as ships could carry them across the ocean, and then building here a bonfire of hope under our speculative markets from the warmth of the I O U's.

It is readily understandable why some yearn for the return of the old prosperity. They sold their goods for the cash furnished by the suckers who purchased worthiess foreign bonds or floated those bonds in the United States at a handsome commission, bonus and split.

A Britisher says we are inclined to believe the worst. Only about the British.

Singers in the two-bit opera are working for sweatshop wages of only a few hundred a week.

Wars will end when we have an encyclopedia and a history all peoples can read without getting mad.

Revolutions and riots are the safety valves in Europe and Latin-America for the same thing which escapes in the United States through college sports and class scraps.

Today's One-Minute Sermon

And Jesus came and spake unto them, saying, All power is given unto me in heaven and in earth.

Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost:

Teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and, lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world. Amen.—St. Matthew, XXVIII, 18-20.

The National Whirligig

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By George Durno

REPRESENTATIVES of the retail dry goods trade had a very secret meeting here the other day.

Although the trade is now split into two factions over its impending code, both groups were represented.

Despite their family grievances they came together against a common enemy—the manufacturer.

The star chamber session was assembled to discuss proposed reductions in standard trade discounts that have been written into various manufacturers' codes.

It was agreed this boded no good for the black side of the retailer's ledger.

Plans were laid to raise a common fund which would defray the expense of having attorneys (or lobbyists) watch all of the manufacturers' codes and fight the discount reduction clause.

Then came the hitch.

Representatives of the Macy stores and certain mail-order houses (the minority fighting a cost-plus-10 per cent clause in the retail code) refused to ante up unless their money was also ammunition against any price-fixing provisions in the wholesalers' codes.

The meeting finally agreed. Which was paradoxical as the vast majority of retailers are demanding the stop-loss provision in their own code. Which is what the Macy, mail-order interests call price-fixing.

In fact the minority thinks it is about to sell a compromise to NRA whereby the retailers must agree only not to sell below net invoice. The fearful majority is frothing at the mouth for fear this will happen.

CONGRESS: Entirely apart from this meeting there is much debate among the cut-price boys over the suggestion of setting up an "Anti-Price-Fixing Council" in Washington.

They're afraid they'll beat the provision in their own code against selling below cost.

Looking ahead to the next congress they see immediate revival of a movement to jam through price-fixing legislation along the lines of the Capper-Kelly bill that died last session.

WET GOODS: The Treasury is about to issue orders permitting the importation of medicinal whiskey.

Officially the decision to open the spigot on foreign liquor is based on belief domestic stocks will ebb to nothing after prohibition repeal.

Now doctors all over the country have been squawking because the distillers have sky-highed the price of "medicinal" whiskey. They say it's loading it on too thick on the truly sick.

Despite high duties Canadian spirits could now compete with many of our brands.

FUMED: Comptroller of the Currency J. F. T. O'Connor was no end miffed the other day when he called at the White House to see the President.

He started as usual into the office of Marvin McIntyre, Roosevelt secretary. "Mac" was out at the moment. A Secret Service man, not recognizing O'Connor, barred his way and bade him wait in the outer lobby.

The Comptroller fumed but there he waited.

NOTES: What has become of that crime report Prof. Ray Moley was working on? He has been out of office over a month now . . . Word reaches Washington son that Dan Reardon, Al Smith's intimate, has purchased the Harrison brewery . . . This was the New Jersey plant owned by Waxie Gordon and his mob for which the permit was withdrawn . . . Reardon's acquisition of the property is expected to make it respectable . . . The shaggy brown mane of President John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers is a familiar sight in Washington's downtown district these days . . . NEW YORK
By Richard Waldo

THE administration has respect today from the highest financial circles here which was not previously in evidence.

Bond experts in banks and insurance companies take their hats off to the Liberty conversion. They are saying it is more than a success. Gyrations of the financial markets cannot alter the fact that the Treasury's operation was an achievement of the first order.

Mark it to come up for checking in 30 days.

CHISELERS: When is an executive? General Johnson's blast at employers who cheat the codes by designating flocks of employees as "executives"—and thus exempt from NRA rules—hit home in this city. Manufacturers and merchants have been widening this loophole to a diameter that would let an air squadron through.

A crack emporium holds the known record. It tripled its executive staff—and not a new name on the payroll.

MAYOR: Is it a three-cornered fight for the mayoralty? Watch the line-up shifting away from that.

McKee is the target for everything the O'Brien and the LaGuardia forces can lift. Tammany's old guard can stage a win even if it loses the election but runs ahead of McKee. Then it will still have its machine—bent but repairable. Nothing but the mayoralty will do McKee any good.

The LaGuardia leaders—strongly Republican in national politics—mean to smash McKee. He might have been with them. He turned his back. Renegade! And raising the religious issue by digging up something written eighteen years ago has drawn blood.

As things stand today a secret and authoritative computation estimates the lost votes to the Recovery party at 100,000.

PEP: Watch Tammany do its stuff! Never in the history of the hall have appeals to the regulars been so frantic as during the past fortnight. District clubrooms ring with confidential pep orations to election captains and campaign workers. The old revival spirit is there. The horrors of hell ("you and every one of your family will be out in the cold for good"). The delights of paradise ("if you put O'Brien over you'll never have to work again for the rest of your lives!").

D. A.: Men of long inside experience prophesy that Curry's organization will carry Manhattan. The other boroughs may beat O'Brien. But they lay odds that Tammany's district attorney will K. O. Fusion's Pecora.

That would be consolation. More of the boys have to see the D. A. than are ever asked to the City hall.

The Halloween Spirit In Europe

THE NEW BOOKS

David Lloyd George Attacks Lord Kitchener In Volume One Of His War 'Memoirs'; Will James Had New Book This Week; Author Of 'Beau Geste' Writes Of The Sea In His Latest Novel

"WAR MEMOIRS," by Lloyd George; (Little, Brown and Co., Boston).

IN the first volume of his "War Memoirs," David Lloyd George lays his sturdy and disrespectful hands firmly upon the laurel wreath that England set upon the brow of the late Lord Kitchener. By the time he gets through, one gathers, the wreath will follow Kitchener to the bottom of the North Sea.

For Lloyd George, who broke the munitions deadlock that almost caused England to lose the war, does not depict Kitchener as a tower of strength in a distressed land. On the contrary, he says, the faults of strategy and organization which cost England so much in the first part of the war can be traced pretty largely to Kitchener.

Clung To Schemes

Kitchener, says Lloyd George, clung obstinately to an inefficient and red-tape-ridden scheme of munitions supply long after it had become a national scandal. He clung to the notion of a break-through on the western front at a time when the judicious expenditure of a few troops and a few guns in the near east would have brought victory. England could have won in 1915 or 1916, says Lloyd George; that she did not was, at least in part, Kitchener's doing.

Others Hit Too

But Kitchener is not the only famous man who serves as a target for the energetic Welshman. Grey of Fallodon, who died recently, gets his share, too. He deceived the cabinet, says Lloyd George, he committed England to French support before 1914, he had the chance to avert the war and he muffed it dismally.

All this makes pretty discouraging reading. Whether you accept the personal criticisms of Kitchener and Grey or not, you at least are shown beyond dispute the frightful cost —in human lives—which can be paid sometimes for human inefficiency.

Europe in 1914 was full of men who weren't quite big enough for their jobs; millions of men had to die, as a result.

An Amusing Tale

"THE THREE MUSTANGEERS," by Will James; (Chas. Scribner's Sons, New York).

ALONG comes another book by Will James, cowboy, author and artist. Those who don't know a mustang from a parada, as well as those who are avid readers of westerns, are likely to find something enjoyable in it.

WILL JAMES

It is well written, in a style that follows a cowhand's manner of speech (but not too closely); it is liberally illustrated with the author's own sketches and it tells an amusing tale. Not to mention the invaluable instructions for anyone thinking of going into the business of catching wild horses.

Out For Adventure

"The Three Mustangeers" are three outlaws out for adventure and excitement more than gold and whatever else their law defiance may bring them. In fact, when their ill-gotten gains pile up to the point where they have all they could want of material wealth and comfort, they seem glad of an excuse to pack up and ride away.

The story resembles the usual western story only in the authentic background James gives it. Not a man in the book is technically "honest." The principal characters don't turn honest even in the end.

In the love interest, too, James is a non-conformist. Between the three hard-riding outlaws and the widow they befriended, James works up nothing more than a business partnership and a mutual feeling of family-like affection. No heart-breaks, no tender love scenes, no embrace at the final fadeout.

Horse and cattle stealing come natural to the boys and they seem to have no qualms of conscience over their deeds. Those who have been brought up to believe the old west hanged all the horse thieves it didn't shoot will be surprised at this; but they will be thankful the three men were spared at least long enough to romp through "The Three Mustangeers."

Forsakes The Army

"ACTION AND PASSIONS," by F. C. Wren; (Frederick A. Stokes, N. Y.)

MR. P. C. WREN, whose "Beau Geste" tipped off the world at large to the romantic possibilities of the Foreign Legion, has given up the army and gone nautical.

His newest novel, "Action and Passion," hasn't a soldier in it, and Africa figures only as a smudge on the horizon. It's a sea story, and of posterity fails to rank it with Melville, Dana, and Conrad, the yarn nevertheless will enjoy a flutter of contemporary popularity.

Dirty Work Begins

This time we get a young Englishman shipping out as "brass bounder," or apprentice boy, on an English square-rigger. The ship sails to Australia with the skipper's wife and daughter going along just for the ride, and then starts back again. And immediately the dirty work begins.

First there's a peculiar series of murders. Then we have a regular 18th-century-style mutiny. Eventually our young apprentice, who is a handy man with his dukes, quells the mutiny and brings the ship back to England safe and sound, and everything turns out swell for everybody except the mutineers.

A reading of this book leads one to meditate on the qualities of Mr. Wren's heroes. Before they are anything else, they are English gentlemen—heroic, clean, athletic, kind to the lower classes, chivalrous and noble.

A First Novel

"WHISTLE FOR ME" by Michael Jackson; (William Morrow and Co.)

THE book trade has been extending what used to be called "the hand of fellowship" to an unusual number of beginning novelists of late. The latest is a quite young gentleman named Michael Jackson, whose "Whistle For Me" is just out.

"Whistle For Me" is not Mr. Jackson's first book; he has a stack of former attempts a couple of feet high, or so he says. But it is his first published novel, rather a light novel, but also rather unexpectedly a good novel.

It is written, for one thing, in flowing prose, frankly but not "starkly," and for all it owes to the Anderson-Hemingway et al. school it has a quality quite its own. The quality is tolerance, lightly expressed. Mr. Jackson and the dictionary are on good terms. He does not handle words as if they were bullets, or at least not often.

The story itself is a very simple one, quadrangular rather than triangular, and it hangs chiefly on one Paul, who is a piano player in a jazz orchestra and wants to compose. W. R. Burnet wrote "The Giant Swing" about a similar person, although one would have to be very unkind to accuse Mr. Jackson of plagiarizing. The plot is entirely conventional, although the situations are not. No depths are explored consciously; yet even after a hurried reading the reader emerges with an unusual number of pictures.

And he remembers them.

MAY HAVE TO SWIM

Because of the great loss of lives by drowning this year France eventually may be a nation of swimmers. A bill has been put before the Bureau of the Chamber of Deputies suggesting compulsory swimming instruction for all children before they are 13.

Jaunts Into The Skies

This is another of the series of articles on popular astronomy, written expressly for The Sunday Avalanche-Journal by Dr. R. S. Underwood, of the faculty of Texas Technological college. Doctor Underwood teaches mathematical astronomy and is regarded as an authority on the subject.

4. MARS

AS you face the dazzling and unmistakable Venus in the southwest sky this evening you may notice two attendant red stars somewhat lower and farther west. Both are rather unusually red in color, and there is very little difference in their brightness. It is hard to realize that the one nearest Venus is merely a baby planet of the solar system, while its apparent twin on the right and below is a veritable super-sun—one of the largest known—at least four million times as far away. The sun is Antares (meaning the "Rival of Mars"), and the planet is Mars itself.

Saturn has his rings for distinction and Venus has her brilliance; but Mars has something that intrigues the interest more subtly than either of these. Size it has not—the earth weighs ten times as much, and in the mystery of unknown surfaces it yields to cloud-wrapped Venus and the one-faced moon. Frank it is to the limit permitted by the great intervening gulf of space; and in that frankness lies its everlasting lure, for it signals "Here may be life".

Question Is Interesting

And other-world life is after all the one astronomical question mark which interests the casual man in the streets. If we could know that suns like Antares have circling planets bearing in whatsoever form the divine sparks of intelligence and growth, we would feel somehow warmed by a sense of companionship in a universe grown too large to understand. But other suns are far too remote for us yet to search for life on their satellities—or even to find the satellites. We must turn to the varied planets of our own middle-sized sun for any promising light on the question, and only in the case of this one planet Mars is there more than an outside possibility of life. But here there is more than a possibility.

Let us examine the known facts about Mars, as they bear upon its habitability. It has some atmosphere—not much, but such, perhaps as we find on mountain tops. It revolves on its axis in a period a little longer than our day, as shown by the permanent markings on its surface. It has seasons like the earth, and in those seasons white caps form on the respective winter poles like mantles of ice and snow. In the spring these mantles shrink suggestively, sometimes they disappear during the Martian summer.

Markings Fade In Fall

Following the shrinking of the polar caps the dark greenish-blue markings become more pronounced, and in the fall they fade to the brown color of dying vegetation. Relatively narrow streaks (the famous "canals") are verified by photographs, but artificial water-routes made by intelligent beings are far from established facts. However, the presence of at least a low form of vegetable life is considered by many astronomers as the most plausible explanation of the observed and photographed facts.

Certainly if there is life on Mars it must be adapted to a climate far more rigorous than ours. If reasoning beings inhabit its cold-near-deserts they may have developed high intelligence to meet the living problems of their cheerless world. This was the belief of the late Percival Lowell, famous astronomer of Flagstaff, Arizona. But this we do not surely know. Only this we can say: he would be a rash prophet who would flatly declare that Professor Lowell was wrong.

Why All The Strikes?

A Human Volcano Seethes As Industrial Disputes, Born Of Old Inequalities, Trail The New Deal Of NRA

BY BURTON KLINE
Special Correspondent

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—In three states of the Union 70,000 silk strikers have been out for weeks. For weeks, in other states, 100,000 miners have been raising, not coal, but Cain. In many more states the Federal Department of Labor has been sweating for months to settle industrial disputes involving workers by the hundred thousand.

Now in every state millions of Americans ask, Why these innumerable strikes?

The question is asked with the greater point in view of the surrounding facts. Business is unmistakably picking up—lustily in spots. With two million and more of the idle back at work, labor has taken its first step forward in four dismal years. With the new rights handed it on a platter by the Recovery act, it lifts its face to a future brighter than any before it in the thousands of years since there has been such a thing as labor.

Union Dominance Feared

At one of these rights in particular business men shiver in their shoes—the right from now on to unionize in whole a country long unionized in part. They say the way is wide open to a union dominance too strong already and henceforth likely to be complete. Some of them want it stopped.

All the more reason to ask, then, Why is the worker thus kicking himself in the face? These unions being so powerful, why don't they muzzle their men? Why are these strikes allowed? Why do they happen?

THEY are "allowed" because they are outlaw affairs—guerilla warfares. They happen because those who wage them, long out of work, are now out of hand.

Recovery from a depression has always bred these things. This time they happen to be more than a yell for revenge after a hell of distress. They are happening in response to a social urge that not all the unionism on earth could control.

Rising out of a past darkened by some of the most mournful pages in history, labor has had placed before it at last, thanks to the Recovery act, a new flight of stairs. These outlaw strikers aim to take the whole flight at a bound, and whether they know it or not they have behind them, even more than history, one of the strongest urges in human nature.

The Past Tells The Story

What is afoot in the ranks of labor just now can best be seen through a squint at its past.

Probably humanity's deepest trait, up to recent years, has been—with good reason—hatred of work. Certainly since there has been such a thing as a human family, the family had stood divided over the burning question of who should do the work, most of it regarded as dirty and degrading.

The more aggressive had always saddled the work of the world on the more unfortunate. The unfortunate had always striven their utmost to get out of doing it, and the fortunate had always mortally feared that the attempts might succeed—and had taken to the lash sometimes to see that it didn't.

Which accounted for another of humanity's fixed attitudes. It had always hated not only work—but also the worker.

FOR thousands of years, until quite recently, this dread of both work and the worker has been grooved into human nature. The worker has always bitterly resented it, and to this day it crops out in his ranks. For all the fine things said in the '90's and '20's, regarding "the new partnership between capital and labor," a dispute had only to break between them, and out came their deep-seated, age-old, inherent hostility.

Now something has changed the face of all this at last—the marvelous machinery of the past 10 years that has taken the drudgery out of work. It has taken more than the drudgery, it has taken the stigma from toil.

Conditions Have Changed

The man once smeared with paint and the pick is master of a miraculous machine that not only does his work but gives him a sense of personal power. He is no longer a worker but has the feeling of one, like the rest of his countrymen, attached to the great forces running the world.

This same advanced machinery accused of tossing millions of men out of their jobs has put a whole new psychology into the minds, not of workers alone, but of everyone else.

The ancient struggle to climb out of doing the work is gone. Its place is filled with pride in skill and power and accompishment. That much of the age-old quarrel between those who own and profit and those who toil and take wages has vanished. But something of the worker's old grudge against the rest of humanity remains, and those who would halt or battle labor's organization would do well to heed it.

THESE current strikes that dismay the country so much are flickers of the fires they may encounter. That is their meaning.

The worker no longer need climb out of work. But he has had another inveterate hope to climb out of a subject class—out of the mine and the ditch owned by somebody else out of the many bossed by the few—into something nearer equality with the rest in managing the life of the whole. And the Recovery act is important for more than alloting him wages and hours suited

South Plains Farmers Believed Harvesting Record Grain Sorghum Crop

od Return Is Indicated In Early Harvesting; Acreage Reported Much Heavier Than Last Year's Crop

BY J. SAM LEWIS
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

HARVESTING of what is believed to be a record grain sorghum p is well under way and farmers are hopeful that frost will not he until in November, in the belief that the crop will be ripened. Yields as reported are much better than anticipated, some reports as high as two tons of maize ds to the acre being made. en in sections where light crops ve been the rule frequently, the eral crop seems to be better.

Expect Good Bundle Crop

uch of the early crop already s been harvested. Heads have ed out better than anticipated. ere is plenty of stalk for bundles l farmers whose grain yields re first expected to be low, anpate good returns from bundles. Farmers have cut and shocked e crop or have left it in the field. w, with cotton harvesting under y, the heading work will be left til later in the season. Those who ve headed their grain and run it rough the combine or thresher, port excellent yields.

Normal acreage of the South ains is considered 55-45 to 60-40, former figure representing cotn and the latter the grain crop. otton this year had a slightly ger acreage, due to increased nting. With the reduction of 40 r cent of the cotton acreage unr the government's plowup camign, the vacant land was largely rned over into a feed crop.

Acreage Is Increased

Based on 1930 census reports, 13 unties on the South Plains had a al of 1,220,000 acres in cotton and 5,000 acres in feed crop. These unties were: Bailey, Cochran, osby, Dawson, Floyd, Gaines, le, Hockley, Lamb Lubbock, nn, Terry and Yoakum. With the dition of Swisher, Garza, Motley d Dickens counties, approximate the same ratio is maintained. ese counties this year added 215,0 acres of cotton and on the same io, 162,000 acres were planted to d.

These counties had approximate 1,440,000 acres of cotton this year d plowed under 615,000 acres. th at least half of the destroyed eage planted to grain sorghums, l acreage is estimated at 1,393,for grain crops. The cotton eage is in excess of 825,000 this r. From this acreage, yields are mated to run from 250,000 bales s high as 365,000 and more.

Yield To Be Good

Census estimates of yield in 1929 s .7 of a ton to the acre. On is basis, the yields will be not less an 977,000 tons, while with yields a ton or more will bring the to to between 1,400,000 and 1,500,000 ns.

Present prices of grain will aver e $7 and $8 a ton. This should eld from $9,800,000 to $12,000,000 the farmers. In addition there is e bundles for roughage.

Frost Is Factor

Late crops of grain sorghums and excellent chances of making grain crop before November 1 to provided there is no killing frost fore early in November. In most unties the heads have begun to rn ripe.

Terry, Gaines and Yoakum counes the chief corn growing areas, ewise report excellent crop prosts.

From Floyd county comes a reort of yields better than a ton per re. Lamb, Bailey and parts of chran counties will have as high two tons, as will Lynn, Crosby, le, Lubbock, Dawson and Hockley unties.

Thousands of acres of feed in the y sections of Dawson, Gaines, rry, Hockley and Yoakum, planted late will yield good if the crop pens before late frost.

owers Of Alfalfa In Hale County Starting Fifth Cutting

(By Staff Correspondent)

PLAINVIEW, Oct. 21. — Many wers of alfalfa this year will cut eir fifth cutting and work will art on that within the next few eks.

Most of the late fourth cutting s been completed. It averaged ound a ton to the acre.

According to Captain Winfield olbrook of the Texas Land and velopment company, the first ur cuttings will average a ton to e acre. The fifth cutting is not pected to be that good.

The T. L. D. has alfalfa on all its irrigated farms. These, with ivately owned irrigation farms, ll have around 800 to 1,000 acres more in the crop.

In the Blackwater draw there is obably as great an acreage of lfa. The yields have not been ite as good, on the whole, as the rigated land.

Little trouble has been reported disposing of the crop at fair ices. The crops brought $12 to 3 a ton, in town, or slightly less the field.

South Hails Fine Roosevelt Cattle Bred From Scrawny Scrub Stock By Registered Sire In Breeding Experiment

By EDWIN HOLMAN

ATLANTA, Oct. 21. (AP) — Blood will tell, and President Roosevelt has given added proof of the saying with experiments in cattle breeding at his farm, near Warm Springs, Ga.

Recently he sent the cattle to the Southeastern fair in Atlanta, and crowds flocked to the pens to see and marvel.

Livestock producers, particularly, were interested to see calves dominated by characteristics of their registered Hereford sire, although they were only two generations removed from the worst sort of scrub cows.

Mother 'Moo Cow' Eclipsed

Broad of back, staunch of hindquarters and straight-faced like the thoroughbred bull on the Roosevelt farm, the yearlings bore little resemblance to their raw-boned, dish-faced dams only one step removed from the common variety of "moo cow."

Long before Mr. Roosevelt became president he found intense interest in efforts to develop the livestock industry in Georgia and the south.

Realizing that many southern farmers have small means for obtaining expensive thoroughbreds, he hit upon the plan overlooked by many livestock men — the development of choice beef cattle from scrawny native cows through proper breeding.

Expert Called In

The plan involved too big a problem for an amateur in animal husbandry, which Mr. Roosevelt professed himself to be; so he called in an expert, Tap Bennett of the United States department of agriculture and the Georgia agricultural extension service.

The first thing Bennett did was obtain the splendid bull that sired the herd of 120 head now grazing in the 1,200-acre pasture along the slopes of Pine Mountain.

The first calves out of scrub mountain cows had few characteristics of their sire save for white faces. But the second breeding produced the calves that caused the fair crowds to marvel.

And now Bennett is confident the third breeding will bring forth beef cattle similar to top-grade steers from the midwest that were exhibited in pens adjoining those of the bony cows and their aristocratic-looking offspring.

Experiments on President Roosevelt's Warm Springs, Ga., farm have developed choice beef cattle can be evolved by breeding scrub cows to blooded sires. The cattle shown here were exhibited at the Southeastern fair, Atlanta. The bull is similar to the one on the Roosevelt farm which sired the calf on the left. In the center is the calf's dam, one generation removed from scrub stock in Georgia's pine mountains.

Wheat Farms In Swisher Scarce

(By Staff Correspondent)

TULIA, Oct. 21. — Not a single wheat farm in Swisher county is to be had, according to farmers, property owners and grain men here. Every farm has been leased and the limit acreage put out in crop.

According to grain men, the acreage this year will be larger than ever before, in spite of the reduction program. Many land owners whose farms last fall were not all planted to wheat, are putting in every acre this year.

Large Proportion Sown

A large proportion of the wheat land has already been sown. Where there has been sufficient moisture, the seed has germinated and is showing up good. Some wheat has been pastured.

Even the Hickman Price land, which was in the hands of a receiver, is being leased this year. Practically all of the land that Hickman Price and his brother, Andrew Price, owned, is in crop.

Five-year acreage average for Swisher county, according to government reports, has been 173,400 acres, with a normal yield per seeded acre averaging 10.3 bushels and average production of 1,784,000 bushels.

Largest Sudan Crop In Area Is Being Harvested In Bailey

(By Staff Correspondent)

MULESHOE, Oct. 21.—What is believed to be one of the largest sudan crops in this section, is that now being harvested on the Paul Brothers ranch near Bula in southeastern Bailey county.

According to reports there were about 800 acres in sudan this year. Yield is averaging 1,000 pounds to the acre and the ranch will probably produce 800,000 pounds of seed.

It is reported that an offer of $4 per hundred pounds was refused by the owners A year ago the price was said to have been around 40 cents per hundred pounds.

TWENTY BOYS JOIN

CROSBYTON, Oct. 21. (Special) —Twenty boys have joined the Crosbyton Boy Scout troop according to Sam George, scout master, since its organization several weeks ago.

There has been considerable interest manifested in the troop and more are expected to join later.

Registered Herd Of Holstein Cows At Tech Make More Than 3 Times Yield Of Average Cow

The registered herd of Holstein cows owned by the Texas Technological college has been on test for eighty-one days and have made the high average yield of 1.7 pounds of fat per cow per day. That is more than three times the yield of average dairy cows.

Flowerdale Echo Coronis Alta is leading the herd with a credit of 108.2 pounds fat and 5359.3 pounds milk. High cow for the month was Tech Creamelle Hartog with a yield of 90.2 pounds fat and 2304 pounds milk. She has been in milk for 54 days and has made 166.6 pounds fat or over three pounds a day. Second place went to Tech Sylvia Hartog with a monthly yield of 76.4 pounds fat and 1903.3 pounds milk.

The demand for registered Holsteins has shown a decided improvement within the past two or three months. Breeders who are making production records on their cows are in the best position to furnish foundation stock and cash in on this demand. Inquiries for Holstein breeding stock have shown an increase of over 400 per cent as compared with last year, reports the Holstein-Friesian Association of America.

Swisher County Wheat Farmer Plans To Reduce His Acreage

(By Staff Correspondent)

TULIA, Oct. 21.—W. F. Griffin, of this city, who owns extensive wheat land in Swisher and Castro counties, is expecting to cut his acreage under the wheat allotment plan and to cooperate with the government in its reduction program.

Last year Mr. Griffin sowed 5,600 acres in wheat but harvested only about 5,100 acres, as the remainder was blown out.

This year Mr. Griffin has about 3,600 acres that come under the allotment schedule. He is placing around 900 acres under allotment to the government. This land has beben in wheat for a number of years.

In the fall of 1931 Mr. Griffin planted 2,200 acres in Castro county, that had been in sod, in wheat. This land is not coming under the allotment program.

Prof. K. M. Renner Of Tech Faculty To Speak At Portales

Professor K. M. Renner, head of the dairy manufacturing department at Texas Technological college, will be in Portales, N. M., October 28 to speak at a meeting of the dairy cooperative association there on the subject of "Quality Cream."

Farmer In Hale County Makes Two Different Crops, Hegari And Oats, On Land This Year

(By Staff Correspondent)

PLAINVIEW, Oct. 21.—R. R. Jacobs, a farmer living on an irrigated farm near here, has raised two crops this year, oats and hegari, according to Captain Winfield Holbrook, manager of the Texas Land and Development company. Jacobs is one of the tenants on the T. L. D. farms.

Late last winter Jacobs planted oats on 27 acres and late in June he began harvesting his crop. He baled the oats instead of threshing them and got 30 tons of oats.

Jacobs at once replanted with hegari. From this he has harvested 20,000 bundles of grain for his feeding. Both crops were irrigated.

Former Lubbock Agent Expects Yield Of 300 Bales From 350 Acres Of Irrigated Cotton

(By Staff Correspondent)

PLAINVIEW, Oct. 21.—Joe Jennings, former Lubbock county agent and manager of the Lockview farm of Anderson and Clayton, 10 miles east of town, is expected to raise at least 300 bales of cotton off 350 acres of irrigated cotton.

Jennings conducted experiments in irrigation while planting this year's crop. He has decided that the best time to plant is right after watering and says that next year he will not wait to plant until all has been watered. This year's experience indicated the delay in planting held up growth.

Between 450 and 500 acres of cotton was planted last spring on the experimental farm, including owned land and leased land. This was reduced to 350 acres under the cotton plow-up program.

Picking is well under way. Advance weights indicate the yield will run close to an average of slightly under a bale to the acre.

The present crop is being irrigated with two pumps. One pump takes care of 160 acres and another around 200. A third pump, repaired on leased acreage, has not been used.

Hale Farmers Feed Lambs

Between 3,000 And 4,000 Head Expected To Be Shipped To Markets Next Spring; Program Grows In County

(By Staff Correspondent)

PLAINVIEW, Oct. 21.—Between 3,000 and 4,000 spring lambs are expected to be shipped from Plainview and the several shipping points in Hale county next spring to the Kansas City markets, according to Walter W. Evans, county agent.

During the past several years the business of raising spring lambs for the eastern markets at Easter has been growing. The number being shipped each year has increased and a cooperative shipment program has been started.

McGarr Chief Advocate

Chief among the advocates of the spring lamb breeding is John P. McGarr, who has made a study of the raising for several years and who has been remarkably successful along that line. There are only three places in the United States according to McGarr, where spring lambs can be raised successfully. These are: California, Arizona and the Panhandle-South Plains area of Texas.

Lambs should weigh about 70 to 80 pounds when shipped to Easter markets. Milk fed lambs bring better prices than do the other type. One trouble with a number of shippers has been that in order to fill out a car heavier lambs were added to the milk fed lots and the entire load was sold at the current price instead of the special price.

Good Crops Aid

Already lambs are dropping and feeders report good crops. Late feed crops and plenty of pasture will enable feeders to do good work this winter.

Among the better known beeders who go in for spring lambs are: John P. McGarr, Bill Buntin, Bill Messick, George Branham, George Struve and Frank Weil of Hale Center, R. E. Albers, J. A. Lutrick, J. H. Lutrick and F. W. Struve of Abernathy; Paul Johnson, Ben Harris, Elmer Sansom, Claude Fletcher, L. T. Mayhugh and Fred Weyl.

All-Day Turkey Judging And Grading School And Tom Show To Be Held Here

Program of the all-day turkey judging and grading school and tom show, to be held here Wednesday, October 25, has been prepared under the direction of O. G. Tumlison, county agent. The affair will be held at the Panhandle-South Plains fair grounds, in the poultry building.

Paul Cunyus, College Station, turkey specialist for the extension service, will be here to judge the show and to grade the birds. He will be assisted by Roy B. Davis, Plainview, manager of Plains Cooperative, Inc., and Prof. Ray C. Mowery in charge of poultry work at Texas Tech.

Program Detailed

Following is the program:

10 a. m. All toms in the pens; 10 to 11—discussion on fattening and selling turkeys, led by Mr. Cunyus; 11 to 12—demonstration of killing and dressing.

Noon, lunch, to be served picnic style, with those attending bringing their own lunch.

1:30 to 4 p. m. — Judging and swapping of toms.

"Turkey growers have been meeting regularly each month throughout the year," Mr. Tumlinson said. "Many are carrying out a feeding program with the object in view of a better marketing plan for this season."

All toms are to be graded as: good breeders, fair breeders and poor breeders.

Women as well as men are invited to attend, Mr. Tumlinson said. A large number of farmers are expected for the occasion.

Selection Of Sevier As Ambassador To Chile Is Fitting Recognition For Traditionally-Democratic Families

BY R. W. BARRY

AUSTIN, Oct. 21. (AP)—The Seviers are going to Chile. Hal H. Sevier has been appointed ambassador from the United States to that post in Santiago. Fitting recognition of a couple of southern, traditionally-democratic families.

Sevier was a newspaper publisher in Austin in the halcyon days. Mrs. Sevier was a Driscoll, one of the pioneer families of southwest Texas. Her father was a trail-blazer down there. He had one of the largest ranches in that entire section. Her brother, Robert Driscoll (or Bob as he was better known to his compatriots in the mesquite country) took up the responsibility where his father left it and carried on with the ranching properties and banking interests.

Daughter Assumed Task

Bob was stricken ill and died a couple of years ago, in his prime. It fell upon Clara Driscoll and her husband, Hal Sevier, to pick up the torch. They did, moving to Corpus Christi after seasons of wide travel, leaving their beautiful home in the hills near Austin to live in the center of the Driscoll interests.

Now they have arranged their affairs for a diplomatic career. It will be a happy partnership, because Mrs. Sevier is as much a diplomat as her husband and he has those characteristics born in him.

Urged To Keep Post

Mrs. Sevier, because of her unwavering allegiance to the cause, is national committeewoman from Texas for the Democratic party. She now wants to relinquish that post, but the managers of the party are reluctant to let her quit. They are trying to find a way for her to lend her wisdom and guidance while she is in a foreign country.

Before they left Texas, the Seviers were the honorees at functions of esteem for them. In Austin, the state capitol, leaders of Democracy, flanked by privates in that great army, paid them tribute. They gathered around the festive board and toasted the departees. Albert Sidney Burleson, postmaster general in the cabinet of Woodrow Wilson, was the prime mover in that demonstration.

The Seviers, later, were honored with greetings from James A. Farley, postmaster general in the Roosevelt regime, and Vice-President Jonh N. Garner, the Farley good will visit to Texas having coincided with the Sevier departure for foreign service.

THE BEASTS OF TARZAN, No. 1— By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Two happy years had passed for John Clayton, Lord Greystoke—he who had been Tarzan of the Apes. Yet often it seemed to him that only yesterday he had left the kingship of his savage African warriors and, with his bride, returned to civilization. Here, his great riches from Opar, the golden city, and the charm and beauty of his wife had brought him an enviable position in society. Who in London's most exclusive circles could ever have imagined that this handsome, polished nobleman had grown to manhood knowing only the society of savages and jungle beasts? Occupied with the management of his vast estates in Uziri and England, in love with his beautiful wife, and proudly devoted to his little son, life seemed indeed good to the one-time ape-man.

His arch-enemy, Rokoff, had been sentenced to a French military prison. There was not a cloud upon Lord Greystoke's horizon. Today, as he crossed the Channel, he thought again of all this, and his mind recalled many other memories. A sudden longing for adventure and the freedom of his past life in sun-drenched Africa possessed him, though he tried to dismiss these thoughts as unworthy.

This strange restlessness still persisted when late that night he entered the home of his friend in Paris. He had arrived in answer to an urgent summons from Lieutenant d'Arnot. After a warm exchange of greetings, the naval officer said: "The entire affair is shrouded in mystery. No one knows how it was accomplished. All that anyone knows is that Nikolas Rokoff has escaped!"

Conference To Celebrate Its 75th Birthday

West Texas Methodist Meet Opens At San Antonio On October 26; Bishop Moore To Make Opening Address

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 21. (AP)—The West Texas conference will celebrate its 75th anniversary with the current session, opening October 26. Bishop John M. Moore, a former pastor in the West Texas conference, will deliver the opening address. Sessions of the conference will be held at Travis Park church, where the Rev. C. C. Gregory is pastor.

Five of the 15 bishops of the Southern Methodist church were formerly pastors in the West Texas conference, and each will either be present or send an official message of greeting on the occasion of the 75th anniversary celebration. They are Bishops John M. Moore, Edwin D. Mouzon, now of Charlotte, N. C.; Arthur J. Moore, of San Francisco, Calif.; Paul B. Kern, of Shanghai, China, and A. Frank Smith, Houston, Texas.

Officers Are Listed

Officers of the West Texas Conference, in addition to Bishop Hay, are C. C. Wade, San Marcos, conference treasurer, the Revs. Sterling Fisher, Corpus Christi, secretary; W. D. Williamson, Mathis, statistical secretary; F. B. Buchanan, Uvalde, C. E. Bludworth, Mercedes, M. C. Stearns, Garden City, and J. Fisher Simpson, Nashville, Tenn., assistant secretaries.

The Rev. Sterling Fisher who is rounding out his 42nd year as secretary of the conference, has served under 19 bishops. No secretary has filled the post as long as Dr. Fisher.

Prior to the formal opening of the conference Bishop Hay will meet with his cabinet comprising the eight presiding elders of the conference, the Revs. S. W. Williams, Austin district; H. E. Draper, Brownsville district; Sterling Fisher, Corpus Christi district; J. E. Lovett, Llano district; S. L. Batchelor, San Angelo district; K. P. Barton, San Antonio district; F. B. Buchanan, Uvalde district; and W. M. Rader, Yoakum district. Of this number the Rev. Dr. Williams is slated for a change, having rounded out the four-year term permitted presiding elders.

Charges Are Expected

Next in importance to the election of the 12 delegates allotted the West Texas conference, will be the reading of appointments of preachers to their charges for the ensuing year, as many have served the same charge for four years, or longer, a number of changes are looked for though there is no time limit to assignments.

Chairmen of conference boards and commissions whose reports will be of unusual interest in view of the approaching general conference, include: J. W. Pittman, Corpus Christi, board of lay activities; T. H. Flannery, San Antonio, trustees West Texas conference endowment association; L. U. Spellman, Austin board of Christian education; and M. K. Fred, Mission, board of finance.

In addition to visiting bishops several distinguished visitors from general board headquarters will be present.

Why The Strikes?

to his worth. It offers him at last the stair to that hope.

Deep down these strikes are croppings-out of the old family feud over the crank inequalities of rank and fortune and power that work has always brought into the world. They are a blind movement to a new order of things, a social struggle of a magnitude not yet measured.

Curiously enough its drift and character have been sensed, at least, in unexpected quarters. In the New York it has been lately reported important Wall Street figures as disposed to let the American Federation of Labor go the limit in organizing the country.

The Street still controls business and business opinion. It speaks for industry as a whole. It thus can smooth the Federation's way by the simple process of razing the wall that has blocked unionization of the country since there has been such a thing as organized labor.

HAS the Street seen writing on on the wall? Or is it, as other intimations hint, a quiet girding of the loins, while the enemy does the same, for another killing war on the old battle ground?

The air is full of prophecy. Forces under cover about the country are said by those who know to be mustering for it. And a clash of the two antagonists can mean the death of both, and both of them know it.

Warning Is Seen

The alternative is the partnership planned in the Recovery act and supported by the people—a partnership at last of fact and not the old one of words. As an index of the temper of labor deep down in the ranks strikes today are a warning of what well may happen otherwise.

If they serve as such they may yet be worth all the loss and gnashing of teeth they cause.

About $18,000 In Delinquent Taxes Received At Plainview

PLAINVIEW, Oct. 21. (Special)—Delinquent taxes amounting to about $18,000 were paid during September, J. M. Johnson, county tax collector, has reported. The money was due state, county and common school districts.

On September 1 a penalty of two per cent was applied to delinquent taxes. Receipt of cotton checks boosted payment, it was said.

Talk Of "Labor Party" Finds Administration Watchful, Says Price

Roosevelt's Managers Pricked Up Ears At Recent Federation Convention

BY BYRON PRICE
(Chief Of Bureau, The Associated Press, Washington)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21—President Roosevelt's political managers pricked up their ears intently when agitation for a "labor party" suddenly was revived at the Washington convention of the American Federation of Labor.

Mr. Roosevelt has made no secret of his desire to unite all "liberal elements" into a continuing working organization under democratic and insurgent republican leadership. Emergence of any real "labor party" would complicate that plan seriously.

Although the project appeared to be getting nowhere with federation leaders, the President took occasion to reassert his leadership when he spoke at the dedication of the Gompers status.

Appear Unworried

ALL in all, the Roosevelt managers appeared unworried by the net result. President Green of the federation, who a few days before had been complaining that the NRA did not give labor enough, praised Mr. Roosevelt in his convention speech and asked his colleagues to stand by the government. Whatever the background of that speech, it cheered administration leaders immensely.

These leaders do not now look for the development of any powerful independent labor movement in politics, but whether labor as a unit can be kept in line behind Roosevelt remains to be seen.

In the past, efforts to corral "the labor vote" on a national basis for anybody have resulted in repeated failures.

Eyes On the Treasury

POLITICIANS of every feather are taking increased interest in the state of the United States treasury. Whether the budget is balanced is a matter already in controversy. President Roosevelt recently said it was, but Republican House Leader Snell insists no such conclusion can be reached except by "trick bookkeeping."

The official figures early in October, entering the second quarter of the fiscal year, showed expenditures outrunning receipts by around $200,000,000. Included in the outgo, however, was about $300,000,000 listed as emergency payments so that considering "ordinary expenditures" alone, the budget appeared $100,000,000 to the good.

The money spent on the emergency recovery program will be a subject of mounting discussion, because this sort of spending hardly has begun.

The farm administration has paid out only about $100,000,000, mostly to cotton and hog producers. Public works actually has disbursed even less, although it has allotted on paper upward of $2,000,000,000. The Reconstruction corporation, once the biggest spender, is passing out of the budget picture because it is receiving in repaid loans almost as much as it is putting out.

Treasury bookkeeping is so complicated that politicians are able to draw all sorts of conflicting conclusions—and doubtless will as the 1934 campaign approaches.

Patronage Pleas Persistent

UNDERGROUND pressure for democratic patronage is growing every day. As weeks go by with many fat appointments still unmade, members of congress are wondering whether the patronage lever isn't being reserved to ease administration legislation through at the January session.

The strange part about it is that, although Postmaster General Farley continues to smile and take it on the chin, in his ostensible role of "patronage dispenser," the real decisions are being made by the White House, itself.

Anton Gypsy Band Gets Cotton Check

ANTON, Oct. 21. (Special)— The Anton Gypsy band, one of the popular musical organizations of the South Plains, is "on its feet" in a big way as a result of Uncle Sam's cotton plow-up campaign. Recently the band received a check for $455 as its share of land plowed under.

The band was given an acreage by R. F. Duggan and had no rent to pay.

Conversions And Additions Obtained In Tittle Revivals

PLAINVIEW, Oct. 21. (Special)—In addition to his duties as presiding elder of the Plainview district of the Methodist Episcopal church, Rev. W. L. Tittle of Plainview finds time to hold revivals over his district.

Meetings which he has held the last six months have resulted in at least 125 conversions and more than that number of additions to churches. Recently at Sweetwater, as a result of an 8-day meeting, 25 additions, mostly on profession of faith, were reported.

Although the London County Council provided homes for 26,000 people there still are thousands of people in the metropolis unsuitably housed.

Tech Now Has 1,952 Students

Increase Over Last Year Is Shown In College Report; Percentage Of Gains In Three Schools Shown

Enrollment figures of Texas Technological college show that 1,95[illegible] students are now in attendance, a small increase over the corresponding period last year. Increased fees and lateness of receipt of government cotton checks are given by President Bradford Knapp as operating to prevent a much larger increase in attendance.

There are 187 students enrolled in agriculture as against 169 last year, a gain of 10.7 per cent. In engineering there are 370 students as compared to 333 a year ago, an increase of 11.4 per cent. In home economics 196 are enrolled while 176 were enrolled a year ago, an increase of 11.3 per cent.

Frosh Classes Larger

Enrollment in freshman chemistry, sophomore physics, and sophomore biology has shown a considerable increase. The number of students taking freshman English is much larger.

The junior class is not as large as last year, due to the fact that in 1931-32, the year the present junior class were freshmen, the enrollment was the smallest this institution has had in recent years.

There are 45 graduate students, nine in agriculture, one in engineering, one in home economics, and 34 in arts and sciences.

When You See a Package From Our Store You Know It's Paid For!

Are you using a Singer that looks anything like this?

IT WAS a fine old Singer, the best sewing machine you could buy in its time. It rendered long years of satisfactory service. But we want all Singer users to know what sewing with a modern Singer is like. Therefore, to the 10 million Singer owners in the United States and Canada, Bonded Representatives are carrying the news of this special offer:

If you have a machine made before the introduction of the modern Singer Electric, we will take it back and allow you 50% of your original cost toward any new model you choose.

A Representative should reach you soon. But you need not wait for his call at your home. 'Phone, mail, or bring in the factory number and age of your machine and you can find out at once whether it qualifies under this special offer. Use coupon.
