Recruiting For the Cisco Glider Ground School Will Begin Immediately

Cisco is to have a glider ground school and it will be taught in connection with Cisco Junior College, it was announced this morning by R. N. Cluck, college president.

The school will be conducted at the Municipal Airport by the teaching and training force of Reg Robbins.

This announcement followed a conference here with William I. Dykes, of Amarillo, district ground school supervisor for CPT. The contract calls for the school to begin as soon as recruiting can be made.

"Recruiting for the glider pilot elementary course will begin at once," Mr. Dykes said.

It will be an 8-weeks course of 40 hours for the ground school, and 35 to 45 hours for the flight training. The ground course will be a full-time program.

The flight training will be given at the airport under supervision of Mr. Robbins, in powered ships of the cub class. It will be similar to the course now being offered.

Boys who qualify for the course will receive board and room and all necessary expenses. Men between the ages of 18 and 37 years are eligible.

After completion of this course they will be assigned to the army pre-glider training centers, where they will receive enlisted men's pay, and on the completion of this later course, they will receive the rank of staff sergeant with flying pay of $144 per month, together with subsistence, which will make a nice salary, according to Mr. Dykes. Commissions will go to those making good in the service.

These glider troops will be used for the transportation department for transporting supplies, equipment and men, but will not be used in combat areas except in instances where the United States has absolute superiority in the air.

It is a new field, said Mr. Dykes, and promotions should be rapid. For further particulars see R. N. Cluck, Doc Cabaness or P. R. Hewick.

TEXAS WHEAT ESTIMATE NOW 47,280,000 BU.

AUSTIN, July 1.—The United States department of agriculture Wednesday reported an indicated production of winter wheat in Texas of 47,280,000 bushels as of June 18.

Rains soon after June 1 offset deterioration that was begun as a result of surface dryness in Texas, the department said, setting the indicated production at 47,280,000 bushels from June 1 to June 18.

The indicated winter wheat production for the state compares with production of 29,991,000 bushels in 1940 and 27,186,000 in 1941.

The great give; the would-be-great gather.

103 IN FIFTH SIGN-UP

Tom B. Stark, chief registrar for the government's fifth registration of manpower, reports that only 103 males between the age of 18 and 20 registered in Cisco yesterday.

This number seems small at first thought, but it must be remembered that Cisco and the Cisco area, population considered, already have an unusually large number of 17 to 20-year-old boys in the army and navy of the United States—volunteers!

This is the second registration at which Mr. Stark has officiated. The three others were directed by Haywood Cabaness.

Registrar personnel working with Mr. Stark yesterday included the following: Doc Cabaness, O. L. Duckett, Pete Nance, J. R. Deen, G. C. Rosenthal, J. R. Wright, Fred T. Grist, E. L. Jackson and D. G. Streator.

Lee Heltzel and W. W. Fewell, slated for the work, were both out of town on business.

PLENTY OF CASH. WASHINGTON, July 1.—Cash balance for the war, $160,000,000,000, Senator Byrd of Virginia gave that estimate Wednesday of the amount of money already appropriated but unspent for military purposes. He declared the army, navy and other agencies had congressional authority to draw on the treasury for sufficient cash to carry on the effort at high speed for about 2-1/2 years.

EVENING MASS. MINERAL WELLS, July 1.—First evening mass at Camp Wolters will be held at 6 p.m. Friday on Scott Hill before an outdoor altar. Thousands of soldiers are expected to attend and to receive Holy Communion.

Carroll and Wayne Barnhill, sons of Mr. and Mrs. S. O. Barnhill, route two, Cisco, 19 and 20 years of age respectively, are attached to the U. S. Enterprise, somewhere in the Pacific, and the following letter from Wayne Barnhill reveals that both are in good health and thoroughly enjoying themselves:

Dearest Mother and Dad:

I haven't had a chance to write for a long time, so I hope you get this real soon—so you can quit worrying about Carroll and I for the present. We are still okay and both are well and having lots of fun and excitement. Have you heard anything about us lately?

Well, folks, here is some good news—I passed my examination and am now a seaman, first class. Isn't that swell?

Mother, Carroll and I were thinking of you Mother's Day, but we couldn't send you a thing, as we were not in a position to buy anything. We send you all of our love, mother dear, and hope you had a happy Mother's Day.

I just came back from quarters. They were presenting medals to officers and men for bravery, etc., during battle. Everybody was all rigged out in their whites and it was really a pretty sight. It was held on the flight deck. A negro mess attendant was presented with a medal and you could really see his big white buck teeth as he smiled. I bet it was the happiest day of his life, with all the goings on, etc.

I can't think of much to write about. I am manning my 5-inch antiaircraft gun this evening, as I do all the time. I am standing by to give the Japs some more lead if they try to bomb us again. I fell overboard this morning, but it did not hurt me very much. Just my back and shoulder were bruised; the way I fell overboard was when I got outboard of the life lines to fix a ten-inch line; my feet slipped and away I went, right into the drink. But I am a good swimmer as you know and I made it okay. I thought I had broken my shoulder for a while. Boy, that salt water is really hard to land in!

Well, mother, I must close for this time, so give every one my love. WAYNE.

JAPS GET SURPRISE.

MELBOURNE, July 1.—U. S. Commandos, opening offensive land operations in the Australian zone, have killed or wounded 60 Japanese troops and captured war equipment in a raid on the big enemy base at Salamaua, New Guinea, it was announced today. They swept down from the rugged New Guinea mountains at dead of night, slashed their way through the defense screen, and attacked the Japanese with bayonets, hand grenades and bush knives.

RAPID ADVANCEMENT

ABILENE, July 1.—Maj. Richard G. Stilwell, 25, one of the youngest officers of his rank in the armed forces, has been advanced from executive officer to command of the 315th Engineer Battalion of the 90th Division at Camp Barkeley. Major Stilwell is a 1938 graduate of West Point. He succeeds Col. E. F. Ketchum, who has been transferred to a command of an engineer regiment at Camp Bowie.

Henry Morgenthau Jr., Secretary of the Treasury, today made public the official War Bond Quotas by States for the month of July, which places the nation on a billion-dollar-a-month basis to aid in meeting the War cost. The above table also gives May War Bond sales in the various states in comparison to the May Quotas. (June sales by states will be available for publication shortly.) The percentage of Quotas range from 71.3 percent above quota in Utah, to 22.6 percent below the quota in Montana, but puts the nation as a whole above the $600,000,000 total May quota. Vulnerable Alaska and Hawaii led all states in sale of War Bonds on quota basis.

"Everybody, every day ten percent" is the Treasury slogan which is expected to place one of the attractive new window stickers in every American home. "We're Buying at Least 10%," reads the sticker, printed in the national colors. The new window stickers and the new "10%" label button, which indicates that the wearer is investing at least ten percent of his income in War Bonds every day, are yardsticks of patriotism in the War Bond Drive.

170 AT BAPTIST MEETING CISCO DEFENSE GUARD RANKS DWINDLING IN WAY THAT SEEMS TO INDICATE LACK PATRIOTISM

At a meeting Tuesday afternoon of the executive committee of the Cisco Civilian Defense Council, numerous matters pertaining to the welfare of the city were discussed.

The most important matter, in the opinion of the committee, was the lack of interest of the citizenship in the defense guard. Although approximately seventy-five men had agreed to enter into training and at two or more meetings the attendance has dropped to approximately twenty-five.

It was the consensus of opinion of the committee that a great many of the members and others who should participate in this, but who have not, do not realize the necessity of keeping up this training and have permitted more important matters to furnish an excuse for failure to join the guard or attend the meetings.

Numerous methods of getting this matter clearly before the members were discussed. A committee was appointed to contact all members and other citizens, who, in the opinion of the committee, should be members.

Some of those present called attention to the fact that several younger men, who had taken some preliminary training and had gone to the army, had expressed their appreciation of the value of this brief preliminary training and, inasmuch as the state committee had reduced the age limit to sixteen years, an effort will be made to obtain the attendance of all able-bodied boys above sixteen years of age.

Numerous business men, although conceding that it is necessary that all cooperate with the officials in this training, have permitted many number of reasons, some of which were deemed entirely insufficient by the committee, to justify their failure to attend. All of these citizens will be contacted.

It was the unanimous opinion of all those present that it was the duty of every citizen to do everything within his power to assist the committee at this time and that it will be ruinous and useless for the citizenship to wait until some character of emergency actually arises to begin to prepare to take care of an emergency, and it is absolutely necessary that all

DRIVE CONTINUES UNTIL JULY 10 BUT CHAIRMAN ESTIMATES 97 PER CENT IN; WORKERS THANKED

John H. Kleiner, county chairman of the government's drive for scrap rubber, wired representatives of the war department yesterday that the Eastland county hunt had produced 394,900 pounds of the valuable substance --- or almost 195 tons.

In turning in his figures to the Cisco Daily Press this morning, Kleiner requested the paper to extend thanks to all who in any way contributed to the total amount secured and then expressed the opinion that about 97 per cent of all Eastland county scrap rubber is in the bag.

"The president of the United States has extended the drive to July 10," the county chairman said, "and I trust that citizens will realize the importance of the government's rubber needs and do their utmost to get in every available pound."

A check at the various buying stations revealed that the major portion of the rubber secured during the past few days came from the farms and rural districts of the county.

JULY 4 A LEGAL HOLIDAY CCC IS OUT BY VOTE OF U. S. CONGRESS

WASHINGTON, July 1.—Uncle Sam started the fiscal year today with one less bureau.

Congress decided to win the war without the Civilian Conservation Corps. It allowed CCC $8,000,000 to liquidate itself, however, and a year in which to do so. President Roosevelt had asked for $80,000,000 to keep it going.

At the same time congress allowed $58,049,000 to continue the National Youth Administration.

CCC was created by act of congress. NYA was set up by presidential fiat. Both were depression-born aids to youth. The administration sought to continue them as aids to victory. But congress, while retaining NYA, decided that the demand for youth in the armed services, in war-production factories and on the farms was such that CCC should shut up shop.

Since its creation in 1933, CCC has spent $2,700,000,000. The peak of its operations was reached in 1935 when it had 520,000 enrollees in 2652 camps.

The vote was 158 to 121.

WITHOUT FUNDS.

WASHINGTON, July 1.—Approved in a frantic, last-minute rush, $45,000,000,000 in record federal appropriations became effective today, but the agriculture department faced the immediate future without funds. Deadlocked senate and house conferees were unable to compromise separate versions of the $680,000,000 agriculture supply bill for fiscal 1943. Furthermore, they could not agree on the form of a resolution to give the department temporary funds. Its next pay day is July 8.

U. S. TAKES PART

LONDON, July 1.—United States dive bombing planes have reached or are on their way to various theaters of the war, the government revealed today in commons debate on the conduct of the war. The debate brought a charge that Prime Minister Winston Churchill had made "untrue and inaccurate" statements on the situation in Libya. Oliver Lyttelton, production minister, who opened for the government praised the work of the United States General Grant tanks in Libya and intimated that there been enough the scale might have been turned.

CONGRESSIONAL STEAM

The United States congress lately has been in a state of high dudgeon about the criticism to which it is subjected. A good deal of such criticism, it should be admitted, is unfair. Congress has more merits and abilities than it is usually credited with. Or at least, members of congress have taken separately. The trouble is largely a lack of proper team work.

But what else can be expected than public wrath or contempt when that potentially great and intelligent body of legislators stages such a performance as appeared in the house military committee last week? At a time of great delicacy and danger, a report was made, approved by 12 house members—three Democrats and nine Republicans—accusing the war department and war production board of performing their duties with reasonable efficiency and are entitled to our commendation.

Now there may be truth on both sides. But why handle so important a matter in such a crazy way? What are committees for, if not to thresh things out and come to a fair and temperate conclusion, without throwing monkey wrenches into the machinery of legislation and publicity, when the safety of this nation and the fate of the world are at stake? At such a time lawmakers of both parties should try to behave like responsible statesmen, instead of confusing public opinion and playing into the hands of the enemy.

COLLECTION FAILURES

That we are sometimes too optimistic is not news. It is confirmed by the reports on the aluminum collections. At the time they received much publicity with constant bulletins of this disused water tank, or that mountain pile of sawpans, which had been unearthed and turned in. The impression was that the campaign was going wonderfully well. Then the WPB announced that only 6,400,000 tons were collected, though 15,000,000 had been looked for. While difficulties in transporting the aluminum brought in may explain part of the shortage, it is too plain that the campaign was a disappointment. It was, however, the first of the big salvage drives and was not well organized. The experience gained in it is helping the later efforts.

Other collection drives are expected shortly, one for grease and fats. The aluminum failure should teach people not to put too much faith in rosy reports, and to spur themselves on to added efforts and sacrifice.

SALARY HONESTY

Mrs. Harriet L. Rose, chief investigator for the Scarsdale, N. Y., welfare department for several years, recently asked that her pay be cut to half. She said that her work has decreased that much in the last year because of the upturn in employment.

"I do not think it fair to take taxpayers' money for work I do not do," said Mrs. Rose. The statement and her attitude do her honor.

There was a time in this nation's history when integrity and justice of this kind were not news. It was an accepted principle that "public service is a public trust." Perhaps with the hardening of fiber which these times are bringing, there will be a stiffening of the backbone; uprightness of character and action may once more be the rule.

LIPSTICK MORALE

The preservation of moral, social and military values in war time works out in curious ways. It is found that lipstick, for instance, is almost as important as food or dress. When a manufacturer of cosmetics, in a generous mood, asked the British Relief Society whether the English girls wanted money or lipstick, they chose the latter.

The way they explained their choice is interesting. They didn't say the lipstick made them look more attractive. They said it "helped them to maintain their morale." Cosmetics, to be sure, have always been famous as "moral builders," but it takes the new expression to point the old truth. And it must be admitted, even by the millions of cynical people who think current lipstick tints are unnecessarily vivid, that long rows of neatly-dressed girls with their lipstick on certainly do pep up a bomb factory.

COAST SHELLING

The recent shelling of the Oregon coast was startling but not important. No military objectives were injured, and the general damage was slight. The aim evidently was to give the world a hardly needed proof of Japanese ingenuity and power, and perhaps also to scare coast people.

In this the Japanese were mistaken. Americans don't scare easily. Such hit-and-run raids could be made by American warships if it seemed worth while. It was done once in the bombing of Tokyo, to which the Japanese attack was perhaps a reply. And it will be done again, more effectively.

It may be just as well that the rest of us are not trying to tell Churchill, Roosevelt, Stalin and Chiang Kai-shek what to do about everything.

Tractors and motors will never wholly replace the Army Mule as a factor in the mobile units of our army. The Army Mule is a tradition and the "mule skinner" is a breed unto himself. Army Mules are used by the Field Artillery in the Cavalry in areas where the terrain is rough and tractors cannot operate.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

Pack trains in mountainous sections are often necessary and here the mule, slow but sure-footed, plays an important role. Our Army buys thousands of mules paying from $175 to $190 for each. The mule eats less, carries more, and some declare is smarter than the horse. Your purchase of War Bonds and Stamps helps pay for these Army Mules. Invest at least ten percent of your income in War Bonds every pay day.

DESDEMONA

Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Stover, formerly of Desdemona but now of DeLeon, were here Sunday afternoon to attend the funeral of Miss Ineta Koonce.

Rev. and Mrs. H. B. Clark and Mrs. Charles Lee went to Salem Sunday to attend the quarterly conference of the Desdemona circuit which includes Victor, Salem and Desdemona Methodist churches. Rev. Roy A. Langston, Dist. Supt. of Cisco, could not be present because of the death of his wife's brother at Temple. In the absence of the Dist. Supt., Rev. Clark preached at 11 o'clock and at 1:30 Rev. Ramsey of Gorman, conducted the quarterly conference. At noon the Salem women served an appetizing and abundant lunch.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Palmer of Stephenville were among the large number of friends who came to attend the funeral of Miss Ineta Koonce.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Maltby and their son, Neil, and daughter, Uarda, returned Saturday night from their vacation trip to Amarillo where they visited their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Scotty Lemaster. They also visited relatives in western Oklahoma.

Funeral services were held here at the Baptist church on Wednesday afternoon for Stephen Andrew Hogg who had passed away at Mangum where he had lived several years with his daughter. He was a pioneer settler in the country north of town and burial was in the Howard cemetery where his wife and several others of his family had been buried. A large crowd of friends and relatives attended the funeral and the floral offerings were numerous and very beautiful. Quite a number of people from other towns came to pay their tributes of love and respect to this good man. Among the number was a nephew, I. N. Haygood, of Lorenzo, who was accompanied by Tink O'Rear and his daughter, Miss Loveday O'Rear, also of Lorenzo.

Members of Desdemona Eastern Star chapter who went from here to Cisco on Saturday to a joint meeting of all the chapters of Eastland county were Gid Tarpley and Mrs. Altha Williams and Mrs. Sadie Bedford. Two other members who live at Olden and who went to the meeting were Mrs. Irene Baker and Mrs. Eltha Parks. The meeting was in honor of Mrs.

Viva Huffman, of Houston, who is worthy grand matron of the state grand chapter. A buffet style lunch was served in the basement of the Christian church. In the afternoon the members assembled in the Masonic hall which has recently been redecorated and the floors covered with beautiful new carpeting. The main feature of the program was the address of Mrs. Huffman whose theme was "Loyalty to our Country." Gifts were presented to the guest of honor, Mrs. Huffman, and three other officers of the grand chapter. Mrs. Ruby Huffman, worthy matron, of Cisco chapter, presided over the meeting in a most efficient way and extended a cordial welcome to the visitors.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Williams are enjoying a visit from their son, Debert Williams, who has been in the U. S. army the past year. Not only his parents, brothers and his sister are glad to see him but all of his school mates and friends are delighted to see him.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Krapp came Saturday for a brief visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Clayton, east of town.

One of the largest crowds that ever attended a funeral here was the one that gathered Sunday afternoon at the home of Ben Koonce, a few miles south of town to pay their tributes of love and respect to his daughter, Ineta Koonce, 16 years old, who had passed away Saturday night as the result of injuries received in a head-on collision between the pick-up in which she and six others were riding and a car in which two soldiers were riding. The tragic accident occurred about midnight, Friday, and since then one of the soldiers has died and six others are in hospitals seriously injured. The accident occurred at Van Dyke between Comanche and DeLeon as a result of the drivers being blinded by the car lights. Ineta Koonce was one of the most beautiful girls in this section and was loved by all who knew her. She graduated at our high school this year and her sister, Ila May Koonce, 18 years old, who is in the Blackwell Sanitarium seriously injured, had graduated in May, 1941. The funeral services for Ineta were conducted by Rev. Jim Bays of the Baptist church of which she was a member. He had conducted her mother's funeral 4 years ago. A large number of school girl friends served as flower girls, carrying the many large and beautiful floral offerings, tributes of the love and respect in which she was held. Pall bearers were Leslie Williams, Neil Maltby, Earl Parks, Allen Gregory, Paul Stanley Arnold, and Gerald Sturdivant, all of whom had been school mates of this popular girl who had met such a tragic death. The funeral procession extended more than a mile. Sincere sympathy is being extended to the sorrowing relatives.

Methodist WSCS
Presented Fine
Program Tuesday

The women's society of Christian service of the First Methodist church entertained the various church societies of the city Tuesday afternoon with a program followed by an address by Chaplain James R. Sewell of Camp Bowie. In the absence of Mrs. W. W. Fewell, president, the meeting was in charge of Mrs. Edward Lee, vice-president of the organization. Mrs. Abbie C. Daniel opened the meeting with prayer, after which all joined in singing the hymn, "Onward, Christian Soldiers." Private Luper was pianist and the singing was directed by Private Black. The young soldiers accompanied Chaplain Sewell from Brownwood.

A sing-song, led by Private Black, consisted of a number of old familiar hymns. A vocal solo, "A Little Walk With Jesus," sung by the leader, was greatly enjoyed. He also favored the audience with other numbers, among which was an old English ballad.

Chaplain Sewell was then presented and gave a splendid address on the various experiences and duties of an army chaplain. He related a number of his own experiences which greatly interested his hearers.

Hair Is Woman's Greatest Asset If It's Kept Beautiful

By PEGGY MASON

What adds most to a woman's beauty? Some say it's sparkling eyes, some contend it's a pleasant expression about the mouth, others hold to a beautiful throat line. But in the final analysis, it's soft, shining hair that most often creates the illusion of beauty and adds the "crowning glory" to the well-groomed woman.

So-called "unmanageable" hair can be beautiful, and it doesn't require a fortune in either time or money. It does take determina-

4-H BOYS BUY
THREE REG.
JERSEY COWS

Three Eastland county 4-H club boys have recently purchased registered Jersey heifers for their club demonstrations.

The boys are Bud Cornwell, Gorman 4-H club; Don Schaefer, Rising Star 4-H club; Charles Sullivan, Alameda 4-H club.

The boys purchased their heifers from Joe Moore of Melissa, Texas. They are out of Raleigh and Oxford bred cows and sired by the grandson of Nobly Born, all owned by Mr. Moore. All of the dams have records of 40 pounds or more of milk per day.

Two of the boys, Charles Sullivan and Bud Cornwell, obtained loans from the Farm Security administration to purchase their heifers. These loans are available to all boys whose fathers are clients of the FSA and are being made for the purpose of increasing production of agricultural commodities in connection with the food-for-freedom program.

Arrangements were made with W. F. Cornwell, father of Bud Cornwell, to haul the heifers from Melissa. Cornwell charged just enough to cover expenses of the trip.

County Agent Floyd Lynch, extension service, A&M College of Texas, and his assistant, Joe M. Glover, Jr., made the trip to Melissa to assist in selecting the heifers.

Never use dervish-like words. They might be devilish!

LIONS HEARD FINE LUNCHEON TALK BY THEIR FELLOW MEMBER, REV. L. W. SEYMOUR

Lion Carlos J. Turner had charge of the first program of the fiscal year which begins for the Lions organization on July 1 of each year, at Hotel Laguna today, and it was a good one, so all members testified.

Miss Billye Cole, Mrs. Jack Lauderdale and Miss Marian Jacobs sang several trio numbers with Miss Cole at the piano. They were heartily cheered.

Rev. L. W. Seymour, pastor of the First Methodist church and a Lion member, gave a patriotic talk on the theme, "The World will be in charge of Disciplined People."

In his talk Lion Seymour compared the discipline of those of the United States with that of Nazism, ours being self-enforced while that of Germany and other countries under domination is forced by dictators. Ours is voluntary in order that liberties may remain with us, instead of being lost to us through force from others, he said.

And then Seymour asked the question: Are we disciplined? He said that every person must prove himself worthy of the liberties he now enjoys if he is to continue to enjoy them.

"We are having geography now," he declared, "because it has been rather forced upon us through the great world events that have been happening during the past few years. Before that, Singapore, Java and many other places in the old world were merely names. They meant nothing more," he said.

"Much of our thoughts about peace as well as about religion has been mostly wishful thinking," the speaker declared. "We must now begin to think seriously about the kind of peace we are going to insist upon. Our ideas will influence greatly the ideas to be insisted upon by those of our nation who sit about the final peace table." And then he added that we must do our thinking now, not waiting until the time has come.

"We must decide what kind of terms we are to insist upon. We will be held in Abilene Thursday at 2 o'clock."

Mrs. Ray Hatten of Eastland will visit her mother, Mrs. C. I. McAtney, Thursday while enroute to Waco, where she will join her husband and their daughters.

E. H. Muller is transacting business in Abilene today.

Mrs. Clint Britton, in charge of the agricultural project for helping low-income people of the rural communities secure mattresses, announces that materials are now here and that the workshop at 108 W. Sixth street is open.

Mr. and Mrs. Amalee Richardson and daughter Wanda June of Wayland visited relatives in Cisco Tuesday night.

Mrs. George Haeble stated today that her sister-in-law, Mrs. Kate Longmore, wife of Ben Longmore, died at Abilene this morning. Funeral and burial services.

moral thinking. Thus must we solve these problems," the speaker concluded.

Mayor G. P. Mitcham spoke on the lack of citizen support of the defense guard activities, saying there were very few who attended these meetings and drill practices. He urged that Lions give it their active support.

Lion D. G. Streater reported on the going away of Lion Joe Lea Moore to answer the nation's call. He stated that a group of Lions met and gave him a traveling bag, trimmed with the Lions emblem of membership, and of a talk being given conveying the best wishes of the Lions club.

Lion Streater also introduced Harry Schmidt, manager of the E. B. Mott store, as a new Lion cub.

The Yardstick Diet Will Do It

IS YOUR FAMILY ON ITS TOES?

This nation must eat a build-up diet, to win the war and peace: balanced meals that are cooked right. Vitamins have to be handled with kid gloves, so don't let them over-cook, or steam out the window. With a modern Gas range, you have simmer-burner and thermostat, to keep foods packed with their original nourishment till they reach the dinner plate. Follow nutrition guides, and thrive.

RAISIN COOKIES

No Sugar

1 cup each of dark corn syrup, flour, and raisins.

1/2 cup shortening.

1 1/2 cups quick-cooking oatmeal.

1/2 teaspoon each of baking powder, salt, cinnamon.

1/2 teaspoon each of cloves and soda.

1 egg.

Cream shortening; add syrup gradually. Sift dry ingredients and add, together with oatmeal and raisins. Drop in small dabs on greased cookie sheet; bake in a preheated 350-degree oven for ten minutes.

THAWING-OUT NOTICE:

Since range factories have switched over to war goods, ranges are scarce, but the WPB has thawed out the stock on hand. You can buy a Gas Range now, if your old one will not work. (Also, you can buy gas Floor Furnaces, etc., to use where you have no heating equipment).
