Wilson Honored For Dedication

A Certificate of Service from the Texas National Guard Association has been presented to 1st Sergeant Jess H. Wilson, Ret., for 25 years of service to the State of Texas and the United States of America.

This represents four years of service in the Army Air Corps and 21 years with the Texas National Guard, serving in the 2nd Bn., 142nd infantry, all with the Wellington unit.

As Sgt. Wilson is now a victim of multiple sclerosis and confined to his room, the short ceremony took place at his bedside Tuesday, Dec. 1, at 11 a.m., with Major Paul E. Dunaway, Battalion executive officer, 2nd Battalion, 142 Infantry, Amarillo, making the presentation.

Witnessing the ceremony were Capt. Jim Key, training officer for the 2nd Battalion; 1st Sgt. Bill Anders, C. Battery, 131 Field Artillery, National Guard, Vernon; who is Wilson's son-in-law; and M/Sgt. Vernon Day, Wellington national guard unit administrator; along with

Six-County Narcotics Raids Nets 28 Monday

An investigation into narcotics violations which was initiated by Collingsworth County Sheriff Kenneth Maxwell almost 8 months ago has resulted in the arrest of 28 persons in 6 southeast Panhandle Counties, Monday, Dec. 7.

Three of these were arrested in Collingsworth County.

They were named by 100th District Attorney David McCoy as:

--Elmer R. Shrubs, 29, whose address is listed as 1605 West Ave. He had not been arraigned Tuesday morning.

--Larry D. Culpepper, 27, 506 Ft. Worth Street, who is out of jail on $5000 bond.

--Judy Moore, 25, 411 Houston Street, who remains in jail under bail set at $5,000.

They will be brought before the 100th District Court grand jury at the next regular session. All three were arrested for delivery of marijuana.

McCoy listed other counties included in the investigation as Wheeler, Childress, Hall, Donley, and Hardeman.

He said all arrests were made as a result of investigations by three Department of Public Safety undercover narcotics agents, whose identity is being protected.

McCoy said 13 persons were indicted by a Childress County grand jury and warrants issued for their arrest. Twelve were in custody Tuesday and officers expected to pick up the 13th man, who was reported to be out of town.

Fifteen indictments were returned originally, then it was learned that one man has died and another is now serving a 10-year sentence in the Texas Department of Corrections on a conviction of forgery.

Included in the 13 arrested at Childress were two persons living in Wheeler County.

Methodist Choir Plans Cantata

The chancel choir of First United Methodist Church will present its annual Christmas cantata Sunday, Dec. 13, in the church sanctuary.

Starting time will be 6 p.m. and the public is invited.

By popular request, the choir is presenting for the second time "First Christmas," by the contemporary composer, Joe E. Parks.

Mrs. Hiram L. Cudd is directing the choir and David Pruitt will be the narrator. The pianist will be Mrs. Dan Henard, Jr., with Mrs. Lynn Emmert at the organ.

Mrs. Emmert, Mrs. Henard and Juliana Baumgardner will present a prelude of Christmas music on the piano and organ, to last approximately a half hour.

The choir will sing the introduction to the cantata, "Parks' arrangement of 'Silent Night, Holy Night', followed by the invocation, given by the Rev. Tom Thomson.

The narrator will give commentary, alternating with appropriate scripture.

The choir will be presented in the first two special numbers, "First Christmas," and "The Promise." A duet, "The Announcement," will be sung by Miss Baumgardner and Tom Lewis.

Rev. Thomson will present the solo, "The Stable," then the choir will carry the cantata theme with "The Star."

Bands Present Christmas Concert

The combined bands of the Wellington Schools, including 131 students, will present the annual Christmas band concert Sunday, Dec. 13, at 2 p.m. in the school auditorium.

Band Director George Mills will lead the three groups, Sparkler Band, Firecracker Band, and That Skyrocket Band in a program that is made up largely of Christmas music, he said.

Opening the concert will be the Sparkler Band, playing various tunes from "First Division Band Method" by Weber.

Playing "Percussion on Parade" by Kinyon, the Firecracker Band will take up its portion of the program.

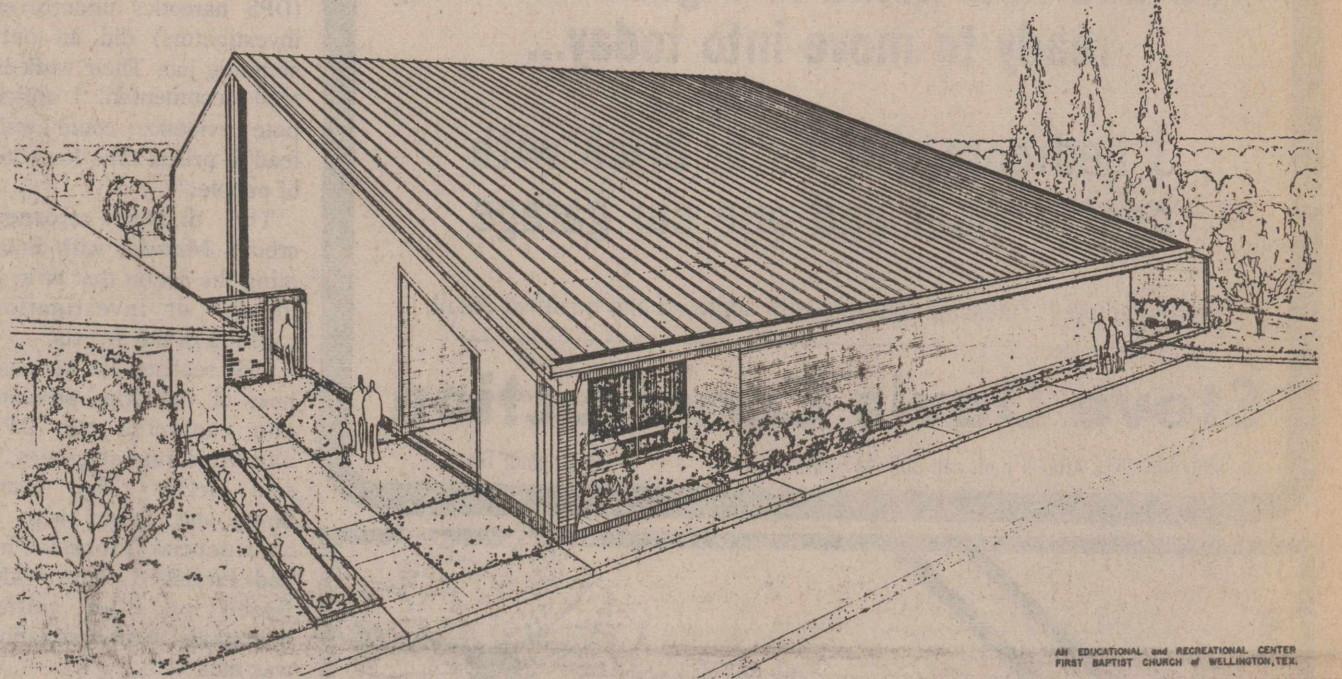

They will follow this with "Merry Bells of Christmas," by Balent; "Civil War Patrol," by Kinyon; and "Hark the Herald Angels Sing", Mendelssohn.

That Skyrocket Band will follow the Christmas theme with "I'll Be Home for Christmas," by Gannon; "Have Yourself a Merry Little Christmas," Martin; and "White Christmas," Berlin. It will close the program with Themes from The Nutcracker Suite, Tchaikowsky.

Members of That Skyrocket Band are: flute, Renee Murdock; clarinets: Susan Brooks, Becky Saied; Deeda Seal, Lisa Cochran, Mary Saldana, Stacy Scott, Sylvia Saldana and Karen

EDUCATIONAL AND RECREATIONAL CENTER, 1ST BAPTIST CHURCH

Mid-March Target Date Set

Steel girders have gone up on the First Baptist Church educational and recreational center and work is now progressing rapidly, the Rev. Stanley Hughes, pastor, announced this week.

The 12,760 square foot building, located north of the church, is due to be completed in mid-March, at a cost of $299,999, the pastor said.

The contract for the building was let in the late summer and the cement work was started about 5 weeks ago.

Tommy Hudson, chairman of the building committee, said the new fellowship hall will be of brick, stucco and metal panel exterior, with accent areas of brass. There will be a second story beneath the deeply sloping roof, and this will contain a great deal of Sunday School classroom space.

Included in the new building will be a chapel that will seat approximately 100 people; and a kitchen which will be fully furnished.

The fellowship hall, approximately 44' x 67', will serve the dual purpose of accommodating churchwide fellowship and recreation.

Another dual purpose area is the parlour, serving for Sunday School space and for formal gatherings.

Walls will be of vinyl finish and floors will be carpeted in all areas except in the fellowship hall. There floors will be of vinyl and the walls of varnished wood. Acoustical tile will be used in the ceiling throughout the building.

The contractor is Hallmark Builders in Amarillo, and Mike Boyett of Amarillo is the architect.

Serving with Hudson on the building committee are Lonetta Ingram, Benson Long, Mike Hughes and Rodney Myrick.

The committee to oversee the construction includes Raymond Hodges, Hudson, and S.L. Yielding.

Children's Musical Sunday

Space children and earth children will move back in time to Bethlehem and stand beside the manger where the Christ child sleeps, in the musical to be presented by boys and girls of First Baptist Church Sunday evening, Dec. 13 at 7 p.m.

The children's Christmas program will be followed by a church-wide fellowship. Those attending are to bring favorite Christmas finger foods, and during the fellowship hour, the group will eat together.

Mrs. Dan Langford is chairman, and working with her are members of the hospitality committee, Mrs. Dale Morris, Mrs. Jim Ingram, Mrs. Eddie Maxwell and Mrs. Willie Wade.

The musical "Christmas 2001," will be presented by children in the first through sixth grade choirs. The story tells of the journey of two space children and their robot, and four earth children, in their space module, takes them back in time to Bethlehem. Directing the choirs are Mrs. Elaine Bearden, grade four through 6, and Mrs. Mike Hughes, grades one through three. They will be assisted by Mary Bearden, Mrs. John Scott, Mrs. Rodney Myrick, Mrs. Bill McKinney and Mrs. Eddie Maxwell. Forty-five children will take part. In the younger choir are Amy Ward--Mary; Marty Manuel Joseph; Brad Bawcom, Dusty McKinney, and Doug Daniel--shepherds, and Julie Wilkins, the mother. Duets will by sung by Angie Lacy and Dana Langford, and by Jennifer Hiatt and Lisa Holland. The other children, who are angels are Amber Ford, Sheila Castillo, Mindy Watts, Cathy Bergvall, Brenda Forrester, Holly Hudson, Hattie Blacksher, and Shaun Cox.

The 4th through 6th grades choir includes: Rusty Bawcom and Stephanie Barton a duet; Bradley Campbell, Orion, a space child; Toby Jackson, CD2 the robot; Ginger Daniel, who will give the welcome, Dena Lacy and Carrie Langford, duet; Kim Morris, Myah, a space child; Valerie Noakes and Carla Morris, earth children; Mark Myrick and Dana Isaacs, narrators; Mike Maxwell, Lee Souder, Lyndy Forrester, Diana Noakes, Rachelle Ford, Darla Noakes, Robert Watts and Ronny Mote, earth children.

As the story develops through the songs, it also advances through the spoken word. The story ends with the visit by the Wise Men.

Chester Ingram said 5 persons were indicted by the grand jury Monday morning for unlawful delivery of marijuana, and warrants for their arrests were issued Monday afternoon. Two were Quannah residents, the others had lived there a short time, the sheriff said. Two indictments each were returned against a man and woman, and one count each against the other three men.

The group ranges from 20 to 25 years of age. Three arrests were made and indictments returned by a Hall County grand jury. Two indictments were for delivery of marijuana and one for delivery of methamphetamine, according to McCoy.

Four Donley county residents were arrested on charges of delivery of marijuana. They had not been indicted Tuesday morning, the district attorney said.

The arrests were headed by narcotics investigators working with sheriff's departments, Texas Highway Patrolmen and city police in the various counties.

McCoy called this a "significant narcotics investigation for towns the size of these."

"The narcotics people (DPS narcotics undercover investigators) did an outstanding job. Their work is well documented. I anticipate evidence could well lead to prison time for a lot of people."

The district attorney credits Maxwell with initiating the action that after 8 months of investigation resulted in the arrests.

"He realized the seriousness of the drug problem and contacted the DPS narcotics investigators," said McCoy "They came down and talked with a confidential informant he had furnished them with. Based on that initial beginning, the investigation was made."

During the period of the investigation, officers found a number of people who were in possession of marijuana. To have arrested them would have blown the investigation. Its purpose was to locate those selling the marijuana or other substances.

McCoy explained that to prove possession, an arrest must be made on the spot and the substance taken must be chemically analyzed and weighed to determine if this is a controlled substance and if the amount in possession makes it a felony or misdemeanor.

Charges filed against those arrested in this investigation are for delivery.

"An offer to sell a narcotic, actual transfer or constructive transfer." He gave an example of the latter:

"If I tell you there is a pound of marijuana in a package in a certain location, that is a constructive transfer, although I may never have it in my hands."

McCoy said that officers will run out additional leads they get as a result of this investigation.

Council Sets Tax Rate

A tax rate of 23 cents per $100 on a total city of Wellington property valuation of $25,155,031 was approved by the City Council in a called session Thursday, Dec. 3 at 1 p.m.

Yet, this 1981 tax rate will bring the city only about $1,000 more than it took in from taxes for the 1980 fiscal year, under the old valuation and tax rate, City Manager Glen Taylor pointed out.

The city's tax revenue for the 1981 FY will amount to $57,857.31, based on 100% collection.

Under the state mandated revaluation of property at 100% fair market value for taxing purposes city property values were increased from $5,300,119 for 1980 to $25,155,031 for FY 1981. At the same time the tax rate was dropped from $1.30 to 23 cents per $100 valuation.

The actual 1981 valuation was $27,938,366, but with $2,783,335 in exemptions subtracted.

Taylor stressed that tax revenue is increasing only by about $1,000.

"It does not mean that some taxes won't go up," he said. "The 100% valuations will make some taxes go up and some will go down." This depends on how last year's valuations were set.

In the regular council meeting Monday night, Dec. 7, Tommy Hudson, West Texas Utilities Co. local manager, presented his company's request for a rate increase which would amount overall to 15.4%.

Hudson explained that the increase is needed for WTU to get ready to begin operations with its new coal powered plant.

The council voted to suspend for a period of 120 days the rate schedule filed by WTU for further study, investigation and presentation of evidence and public hearing.

Under Section 43(d) of the Public Utility Regulatory Act, the operation of the proposed new rate schedule is actually suspended for 120 days from January 1, 1982. At the end of that period, the rate increase request will go before the Public Utility Commission for determination.

Hudson pointed out that a 10 cent to 15 cent per

Nuclear Waste Meeting Set

Dr. Jeff Neff, a key man in the Department of Energy's program for drilling test sites for potential nuclear waste disposal, has announced that a meeting will be held with Panhandle public officials Thursday, Dec. 17, at 10:30 a.m. at the Swisher County Courthouse in Tulia.

This information has come to County Judge Bob Watson from Swisher County Judge Leroy Saul.

Watson plans to attend the meeting. He said it is hoped public meetings can be set up.

Also due to be at the meeting are Dr. E.G. Wermund, of the University of Texas, in charge of the geological research of test holes, and Dr. Ted Taylor, Texas Energy and Natural Resource Council, Austin.

Dr. Wermund has told Panhandle news media that salt nuclear storage caverns would be several hundred feet below drinking water and would not endanger the water strata in this area.

He added that he was more concerned about water formations as deep as 10,000 feet that might be a possibility of dampening the salt formations.

Congressman Kent Hance, of District 19, talked with Judge Watson by phone, Monday, Dec. 7, saying he appreciated the resolution condemning test drilling passed by the Collingsworth County Commissioners Court.

customer per month is included in the rate request, which WTU will use to buy lignite mined northwest of Ft. Worth. This will be stockpiled for later use. "Ten to 15 years down the way we think you will agree that this was the thing to do," Hudson said.

30,800 Bales Ginned Crop Half Harvested

By Wednesday morning, 30,800 bales of cotton had been weighed in at the county's five cotton gins, managers have reported.

In the area around Dodson, as well as in the north part of the county, the cotton crop is estimated at approximately half harvested. A little more is out in the area around Wellington, with some estimates as 60% harvested. Others believe it is nearer to 50%.

Stacie Pauls Makes Debut at Galveston Artillery Club Ball

Eleanor Stacie Pauls, daughter of Mrs. Peter Clifton Hughes of Los Alamos, N.M., and Louis Edward Pauls, Jr. of Galveston was one of nine debutantes presented at the 141st anniversary ball of Galveston Artillery Club in the Marriott's Hotel Galvez ballroom Saturday, November 28.

The theme, "Christmas Elegance", provided a profusion of flowers and a silvery, mirrored backdrop for the young women, clad in traditional white gowns and long kid gloves, to make their formal bows to society.

Each debutante was announced as she entered a platform area of the ballroom, given a bouquet of a dozen, long-stemmed red roses, and escorted in promenade around the ballroom as Dick Drueger's orchestra played their favorite songs. The C.C. Company also played for the evening's festivities.

Stacie was presented by her grandfather, Louis Pauls, Sr. to the melody "If Ever I would Leave You" from the musical Camelot. Her maternal grandmother the late Eleanor Harriss Pauls, was presented at the 1931 Artillery Ball. She was escorted by Allan Edward Legge and her stags were Robert Ansley of Los Alamos, N.M., Craig Janek, and her brothers Britt and Taylor Pauls, all of Galveston.

Miss Pauls' presentation gown, an original by Bianchi, was fashioned of white slipper satin. The bodice rose from an Empire waist to a bateau neckline and was finished at the shoulders with satin sculptured bows. The skirt fell gracefully to a slipper length in deep scallops, underskirted with another layer of slipper satin. The upper point of each scallop was accented with matching bows, and the hemline of the skirt dipped to form a small train which swept the floor in back. Her jewelry was a strand of pearls with matching earrings, gifts from her mother and her father.

Stacie, a graduate of O'Connell School, is currently a sophomore at Galveston College. She plans to transfer to the University of Texas at Austin and to major in elementary education. She attended Wellington Schools for several years when she lived here with Mr. and Mrs. Peter Hughes.

Delta Kappa Gamma Holds Christmas Meeting Saturday

Members of Gamma Kappa Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma met in Wellington Saturday, Dec. 5, to hear Mrs. Peggy Tooker of Abernathy, Alpha State Area XI co-ordinator. Speaking in the Heritage Room, Mrs. Tooker reported on special donations being made to help the Technical Education Foundation Thrust, an organization working with Indians to help them improve their living and education.

Mrs. Doyle (Evelyn) Messer was program chairman and reported on an article from the National Retired Teachers Association Journal, "Let's Revive Santa Claus," by Richard Pritchett.

"My Most memorable Christmas" was described by each one present. Each memory was unique, with some telling of covered wagons bringing Christmas to their home.

Each teacher told the number of years she had been in the profession, and the total years of teaching by the 16 present was 543. Mrs. Jamie Johnson's pre-school choir gave a program of Thanksgiving and Christmas songs under her direction.

Mrs. J.R. (Hazel) Brandon president, directed the business meeting and heard reports of the various committees.

Miss Maudie Coffee gave the invocation and a donation was made to Girls' Town.

An area workshop to be held at Friona was announced.

Five chapter members attended the Area XI Conference in Amarillo in September and presented a program on legislation.

The Christmas theme was carried out with table decorations and food.

Present were Iva Dea Hinkle, Mrs. Hazel Brandon, Edgar Mae Mongole, Mable Mongole, and Alma Bruce of Clarendon; Zola Donald and Inez Blankenship of Goodnight; Evelyn Messer of Hedley, Mrs. Tooker, Margaret McElreath and Ethel Hillhouse and Helen Madden of Memphis, Miss Coffee, Juanita White, Myrtle Hill, L.C. Sweat of Wellington.

United Methodist Women Have Traditional Christmas Party

Members of the four groups of United Methodist Women were entertained with their annual Christmas party at Baumgardner Farm Thursday evening, Dec. 3.

Mrs. David Baumgardner and her daughter, Juliana Baumgardner, were hostesses.

This is a tradition followed for a number of years.

Mrs. Gorman Owens presented the program, "All I Want for Christmas Is..." Each one present completed the sentence to express her own desire. Miss Baumgardner played Christmas music.

Holiday greenery decorated the stairway, and a large Christmas tree with traditional decorations highlighted the living room during the evening, gifts were exchanged from the tree, and the two oldest members of the group were especially remembered. They are Mrs. Jennie Holcomb, 89, and Mrs. W.E. Brewster, who will be 95 soon.

The program ended as members formed a large circle for sentence prayers, and closed with the group singing "Blest Be the Tie."

Mrs. Steve Emmert presented cakes, in the form of yule logs and Christmas candles, which were then served as refreshments.

Country Club Members Plan Festive Holiday Activity

Leading the series of pre-Christmas fun entertainments will be the Wellington Country Club Christmas Dance, slated for Saturday, Dec. 12 at the club.

Dancing will be from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

Festive Christmas decorations using a theme that is both traditional and colorful, are going up, and members are bringing guests.

Each member attending will bring finger food.

Those attending will dance to recorded music.

Closing out the holidays, country club members will have a milk punch bowl watch on New Year's Day.

They will begin gathering about 10 a.m. and will watch bowl games through the

After the dinner, gifts were presented from the decorated tree.

Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Ross Swift, Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Crowner, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Cochran, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Mosenbaker, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Reynolds, Mrs. Herman Ward, Mrs. Fred Boyd, Miss Lesa Cochran and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Lowrie.

With heating costs on the rise, do-it-yourselfers are not satisfied just to decorate a room so it "looks" warm and inviting. Now the object is to combine beauty with practicality. Today's wood or coal burning space units not only add to the warm appearance of a room, but also help keep it warm at reasonable cost. They're featured by hardware stores which, today, sell a lot more than the nuts and bolts of home repair.

1st Bapt. WMU has Week of Prayer for Foreign Missions

Members of First Baptist Church WMU held their annual Week of Prayer for foreign missions through last week, with a series of meetings.

The week opened at 7 p.m. Monday, Nov. 30, to introduce this year's material.

Women of all circles met together Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday mornings for prayer and inspirational study.

The week concluded at a 3 p.m. service Friday.

This year's theme was "How Shall They Hear." Most of the members participated in the programs.

Offerings taken at the close of each meeting were earmarked for the Lottie Moon Christmas offering. The year-long goal for this fund for the Wellington church is $8,798.38, said Mrs. Charles Cason, one of those participating. South-wide, the goal for foreign missions is $50 million.

Garden Club Has Tree

Wellington Garden Club met Monday, December 2 in the Heritage Room for the Christmas party. Hostesses were Mrs. Chas. Cason, Sr., Mrs. Russell Hill and Mrs. W.F. Harbin.

Mrs. Harbin read the Christmas story from the Gospel of St. Luke and Mrs. Cason gave "Legends of the Christmas Tree" and "What I'll Do For Christmas."

A florist, Jack Meares of Roscoe, son-in-law of Mrs. Harbin, made Christmas corsages for each member. The president, Mrs. H.L. Jenkins, made each member a ceramic ginger jar. Gifts were exchanged from the Christmas tree.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. Joe Terry, Mrs. Lois Ratliff, Mrs. Chester Fires, Mrs. Silas Crawford, Mrs. C.R. DeArmond, Mrs. E.F. Bartlett, Mrs. Tom Caterlin, Mrs. Charles Michael, Mrs. Ray Clubb, Mrs. Jenkins, and hostesses Mrs. Cason, Mrs. Hill and Mrs. Harbin.

Natalie Wood

When John Lennon was murdered a few months ago, a whole generation of people mourned for the man who had spoken to them as a prophet and a poet. For the women of my age-group, Natalie Wood's death will be mourned as much as Lennon's was. When I heard the report of her death Sunday, it was like hearing a close friend had died. Throughout her life, as we grew up, she seemed to choose her roles in sync with the lives and crises of my generation.

My first memory of her is of a big-eyed child in braids, clutching a doll. I don't remember the movie but I remember that I saw the perfection of what I might have been. At the end of innocence, when the Fifties were real life, not Happy Days, she played James Dean's girlfriend in "Rebel Without A Cause," and we girls all imagined ourselves befriending those lost souls like Dean who stalked the high school halls in black leather jackets.

She perpetuated our fairy-tale dreams when she married another teen idol, Robert Wagner. I felt that I had predicted the future because I had spent years putting together a scrapbook of my two favorite movie stars, Natalie Wood and Robert Wagner.

And then when fairy tales were quickly yielding to wrenching reality, she played a betrayed innocent in "Splendor In The Grass," and again she spoke to the females of her age: This is what might happen to you, but you will survive.

The Fifties ended, and so did her story-book marriage to Wagner. We were all dragged, kicking and screaming, into the Sixties and Seventies, and suddenly were anachronistic, out-of-date left overs: too old to be hippies, too young to be truly entrusted by the establishment. We watched women of our age struggling with a new moral code, tranquilizer addiction, secret alcoholism, nervous breakdowns. And again her roles reflected those problems and compromises with life in "The Cracker Factory" and "The Last Married Couple in America."

In the last few years she had seemed to find the peace that had alluded her throughout her life. She remarried Wagner about nine years ago, and they seemed the perfect couple. She was able to pick and choose her roles and garner everything from Academy Award nominations to an Emmy and a Golden Globe award. She seemed to find joy in her role as mother to three daughters, and in her new part-time career in real estate.

She was the epitome of all the things my generation of women longed for. She had it all: glamor, beauty, talent, brains, the respect of her fellow professionals, a loving husband, beautiful home, and a still-youthful appearance. For her life to end so senselessly is indeed tragic.

No other actress will ever be able to capture the imagination and hearts of my age group like she did. Who will speak for us for the next 40 years of our lives?

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Gov. Bill Clements last Thursday gave up his fight to avoid testifying in the Congressional redistricting case after the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals said he must respond to the plaintiffs' subpoena.

The governor considered an appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court on the grounds of executive privilege before deciding to testify on Friday. The appeals court did not express an opinion as to Clements' right to claim executive privilege to avoid answering questions.

Both House Speaker Billy Clayton and Sen. John Wilson—author of the controversial bill—testified that Clements had no effect on the redistricting plan. He had threatened to veto any plan which did not provide a minority district in Dallas.

The three-judge panel set a Dec. 17 deadline for submitting post-trial briefs and insisted they would rule on the case before the Feb. 4 filing deadline for congressional candidates. Before the three judges rule, however, the plan must be reviewed by the Justice Department for compliance with the Voting Rights Act.

Press Barred from Hearing

In a Texas Courtroom of another sort, The Lufkin News has gone to federal court over a state district judge's barring the press from a pre-trial hearing.

The hearing involves a lawsuit filed by minority stockholders of the Texas National Bank in Lufkin against the bank's majority stockholders. When the judge barred a Lufkin News reporter, Publisher Joe Murray committed his efforts to "going all the way", presumably to the U.S. Supreme Court, to open the delayed pre-trial hearing.

The judge upheld the press ban on the motion the hearing involves sensitive and confidential bank matters.

Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Anders.

Wilson was sworn into the U.S. Army Air Corps on the day after Pearl Harbor, Dec. 8, 1941 at Camp Joseph T. Robinson, Little Rock, Ark.

He received his training at Sheppard Field Wichita Falls and served as a training officer at Napier Field, Ala. throughout the war. He was discharged Nov. 17, 1945.

He joined the National Guard in 1949 and was a charter member of the reorganization of the Guard in Wellington. At that time, this was a medical unit under the command of Col. D.V. Watkins.

Wilson retired in 1970.

The first indication of Wilson's illness came that same year, but it was not until about 1974 that Brooke Army Medical Center doctors in San Antonio made a probably diagnosis of multiple sclerosis.

It is ironic that it was not until he was of retirement age that he was stricken with a disease that usually finds its victims among those from 20 to 30 years of age.

The Certificate presented to Wilson reads:

"National Guard Association of Texas. To all who shall see these Present, Greeting: Know ye that in recognition of the Patriotism, Valor, Fidelity and Dedication of 1st Sgt. Jesse H. Wilson for 25 years of Honorable and Faithful Service which he has so unselfishly rendered in defense of the Citizens of the State of Texas and United States of America as a member of Texas and United States of America as a member of the Texas National Guard and the Army of the United States of America. This Association expresses its appreciation and gratitude by the issuance of this Certificate of Service."

It was signed by Edward S. Komendosky, president of the National Guard Association of Texas, and Leonard Tallas, executive director.

Wilson holds a Life Membership in the National Guard Association of Texas. He was the 482nd man to join. There are now approximately 12,000 members.

More than one-fourth of U.S. Farmers are frequent readers of The Wall Street Journal.

There were 1.9 million people age 60 or older in Texas in 1980.

GOLF AT WILLOW CREEK

By MARY SANFORD

After searching for 30 minutes for the meeting place, Monday evening, Dec. 7, I finally found the women of Willow Creek Golf Association at the REA building.

Oh, yes, I had been instructed correctly, I just don't listen good.

Arriving in an agitated and frustrated state, I found the meeting in lively discussion of spring and summer tournaments and other future activities.

The purpose of this meeting was to include the working members in the organization's plans for the coming year. To further this participation, the members voted to make meetings with working members available before tournaments. The members also voted to continue to keep the snacks, (candy, crackers, etc.) concession in the pro shop. Ivabell Mauldin gave the awards for local Ladies Day for November.

On Nov. 4, Bennie Sullivan and Betty Cochran tied for high score and most putts. (That'll happen, girls). Louise Mabery chipped in hole No. 1 that day. (Some days you just got it; some days you ain't).

Nov. 18, the ladies teed off from the men's tee box on hole No. 5, Mary Nell Holton was really on the ball. She parred the hole and won for least strokes. I think she was more surprised than anyone else. Unfortunately (or fortunately) Lyna Hurst did not fare so well. She won for most strokes.

Nov. 25, Eugena Sherman won for low score on holes 3 and 6. Lorene Jenkins, Bennie and Ivabell tied for high score on those holes. Watch it, girls. Lorene is fast catching up with you.

The meeting adjourned with the good thought: Hope Wednesday's a pretty golf day.

Brad Beck Wins National Football Honors Twice

Honors came in pairs this month to Brad Beck of Eastern New Mexico University.

The second leading rusher in the nation, he was selected as N.A.I.A. District VII "Most Valuable Player." District VII is composed of New Mexico, Colorado and Utah.

On Tuesday, Dec. 2, he was named to the American Football Coaches Association Kodak All-American College Division I team.

The College Division I team includes NCAA Division II and N.A.I.A. Division I schools.

Beck rushed for 1272 yards and 9 TDs in 10 games for the ENMU Greyhounds.

He also threw 63% average for 257 yards and 3 TDs while catching 20 passes for 203 yards giving him total offense of 1732 yards. The ENMU running back, who won District VII player of the week honors early in the season, average 5.4 yards a carry and was the Greyhounds' leading scorer with 54 points on 9 touchdowns. He also hit 7 of 11 pass attempts.

Beck, a two-time all-stater at Perryton High School, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Beck.

Langford Completes WTU School

Jeff Langford, employee of West Texas Utilities Co., was one of 16 men who completed the fall 1981 Line-Service Training Program, held by the company at Lytle Shores. Rob Carleton was training coordinator.

This is an inter-company training program required of all trainees, said Tommy Hudson, local manager.

Langford, 22, has worked for WTU 6 months and now classified as a lineman trainee.

A graduate of Wellington High School, he is a member of Wellington Volunteer Fire Department and Collingsworth Volunteer Ambulance Service. He is a Emergency Medical Technician.

Bill Harvey Dies Sunday In Accident

A former Wellington man, Bill J. Harvey, 45, of Amarillo, was killed Sunday, December 6, in a one-vehicle accident near Garland.

Investigating officers said Harvey, traveling alone in the westbound vehicle, apparently veered off Interstate 30 and crashed into a creek bank.

Harvey was born at Petersburg and graduated from Wellington High School in 1954. He was a member of the Skyrocket basketball team and was voted Personality King as a senior.

He graduated from West Texas State University.

He was a self-employed building contractor and previously was employed by Conley Implements of Amarillo.

Graveside services were conducted at 2 p.m. Wednesday, Dec. 9, at Petersburg Cemetery, with the Rev. Wayman Swopes, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Petersburg, officiating.

Survivors include his mother, Mrs. Fay Harvey Jones, and a sister, Mrs. Doyle (Sue) Ingram, both of Amarillo.

Tournament Schedule Given

Play begins at 9 a.m. Thursday, Dec. 10, in the 22nd annual Samnorwood invitational basketball tournament, and the champions will be decided in the two games of the Saturday night session.

Sixteen teams are entered, boys and girls from Wellington, Hedley, Allison, Briscoe, Mobeetie, McLean, Estelline and Samnorwood.

Coaches of these teams met Wednesday, Dec. 2, and seeded Mobeetie No. 1 and Wellington No. 2 in the girls division. Hedley was seeded No. 3 and McLean No. 4.

In the boys division, Mobeetie was also seeded No. 1 and Wellington No. 2, with Hedley No. 3 and Allison No. 4.

Trophies will be awarded in both divisions to first, second, third and consolation winners, with sportsmanship trophies to go to the teams selected by game officials as showing the most sportsman-like conduct throughout the tournament.

The concession stands will be operated by the junior and senior classes, offering homemade sandwiches, hamburgers, ice cream. PTO members will have the soft drink concession.

Martindale has announced the Thursday playing brackets:

1. 9 a.m. Hedley-Norwood girls.
2. 10:30 Hedley-Samnorwood boys.
3. 12:30 Mobeetie Estelline girls.
4. 2 p.m. Mobeetie-Estelline boys.
5. 3:30 McLean-Briscoe girls.
6. 5:30 Allison-Briscoe boys.
7. 7 p.m. Wellington-Allison girls.
8. 8:30 Wellington-McLean boys.

In the second round of play Friday, girls division, losers of games 5-7 play at 9 a.m.; losers of games 1-3 at 2 p.m.; winners of games 1-3 at 3:30 p.m. and winners of games 5-7 at 7 p.m.

In the boys division, losers of games 8-6 play at 10:30 a.m. Friday; losers of games 2-4 at 2 p.m.; winners of games 2-4 at 5:30 p.m. and winners of games 8-6 at 8:30.

On Saturday the girls consolation finals will begin at 12 noon and boys consolation finals at 1:30; girls third place at 3 p.m.

L.V. Burney Dies at Pampa

L.V. Burney, 66, died Friday, Nov. 20, at Pampa, where he had lived 38 years.

He was the brother of Mrs. Carl Wischkaemper.

Burney had worked for Cabot Corp. 37 years before he retired.

He was born at Henrietta, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. C.R. Burney, longtime Quail residents.

Services were conducted at First Baptist Church, Pampa on Nov. 23, with burial in Pampa Cemetery.

Survivors are his wife; a son, M.J. Burney of Houston; a daughter Ann Fryer of Levelland; four sisters, Mrs. Allie Mae Campbell of Casa Grande, AZ; Mrs. James Gardner of Sacramento, CA; Mrs. Beatrice Smith of Pampa, and Mrs. Wischkaemper, and one brother, Bud Burney of Amarillo.

Mr. and Mrs. Wischkaemper attended the funeral from here.

and boys third place at 5 p.m.

The girls championship game will begin at 7 p.m. and the boys championship game at 8:30.

Admission to the games is $2 for adults and $1 for students.

Humanism VS. Christianity

3rd of series

There are varying shades of humanism. Not all humanists think exactly alike. The description given above is that of a "committed humanist." It is a description of those who are totally humanistic in their thinking. Some people have at least a partial influence of Judeo-Christian values in their background. So, they may be humanistic in their thinking and behavior while not subscribing fully to some of the things mentioned above.

Some people, for example, believe and act like a committed humanist does but aren't aggressive about it. A committed humanist will be aggressive in pursuing humanistic goals. Some humanistic-minded people want their families raised in a moral environment, but have been exposed to humanism throughout their schooling and don't realize humanist policies will destroy the family—these type of people usually vote for liberal politicians and then can't understand why the country gets to evil.

Second Trades Day Drawing Saturday

Second in the series of Christmas Trades Day Drawings sponsored by the merchants of Wellington and the Chamber of Commerce will be held at 4 p.m. Saturday on the south side of the courthouse. The winner of the first $100 Saturday, Dec. 5, was Mrs. Jim Phillips, 1207 Belton St.

Persons participating in the drawing are those who have shopped with Wellington merchants and have put their trades day ticket stubs in a hopper from which a lucky number will be drawn.

The winner will again receive $100 in script which can be redeemed with the participating merchants.

Margaret Vines, chamber of commerce secretary, reminds that a person must be present to win; that the ticket holder is responsible for getting his ticket stubs in the hopper, and must be 18 years of age or older or be married.

Other trades day drawings will be Wednesday, Dec. 16, at 4 p.m. Saturday, Dec. 19 at 4 p.m. and on Thursday, Dec. 24, there will be a drawing at 2 p.m. followed by a drawing for children only for a gift instead of script.
