Colorado City Band Rates High at UIL

Colorado City school bands, both of Junior High and of High School, took several "excellent" ratings Friday in University Inter-scholastic League concerts at San Angelo.

Rated one excellent was the sight-reading and marching as performed by the high school band with Dwight Tomb as instructor. The high schoolers were rated "two" for concert.

Junior High players won a rating of one for concert and rated two on sight-reading. They did not compete in marching. Bob Newman instructs the 101 member band at Junior High.

Two high school band members won the coveted excellent rating of one for student conducting. They are Gary Gresham and Arla Jo Payne.

He has been stationed with the SCS office in Mitchell County since Jan. 1961, as soil scientist in Uvalde.

He is a 1959 graduate of Texas A&M College and a veteran of four years in the Air Force. As crew member of a B-36 has home base was rapid; S. D., but he also saw duty in the Pacific, in England, and in Puerto Rico.

He is married and is father of six children — four sons, two daughters from two to nine years old. Mrs. Holder grew up in Miles City, Montana. Holder is a native of Lipan, Texas, in Hood County.

During his two years in Colorado City, Holder has completed a survey of soils in Mitchell County. He has been in charge of all field work for soil mapping as to depth, texture, slope and erosion, Sheppard said.

Holder's recent final field proved him ready to start writing the copy for the publication of "A Soil Survey of Mitchell County," to be made available to local people who need such a soil survey.

With permission of the State of Montana Soil Conservation Service, Holder would still like to write up the survey, possibly as his winter project during the months when Montana soils are frozen.

Survivors are his wife, the former Mattie Davis; seven daughters, Mrs. Roy Scott and Mrs. Curtis Scott of Colorado City; Mrs. Helen Kemp Midland; Mrs. Seaman Ellis; Mrs. Donnie Pierce and Mrs. Effie Anderson, Odessa; Mrs. Sherman Stafford, Los Angeles, Calif.; four sons, David Woods Tyler, Johnnie Woods, Denver, Colo. — Earnest Hardemon of

BRIEF STORM

Wind, Showers, Hail In Weather Spree

Three o'clock Friday afternoon brought stormy weather to Colorado City and most surrounding communities. The storm was brief.

Strong winds gushing up to 40 miles per hour came to town and parts of the county along with showers and five minutes of marble to walnut sized hail in the downtown area.

Telephone service in the downtown area here was temporarily disrupted during the short storm period.

Other county rural areas reported little or no hail to light hail. Some areas had no rain. Rain gauges in town recorded as much as .9 in the Eastover addition and as little as .2 in the western edge of town.

Official weather gauge at City Hall showed .42. Buford farm of Mrs. Berta Mann got .25. M. A. Webb farm, two miles south of Westbrook, received .2 and no hail.

At Landers, the W. W. Holman farm was skipped altogether by the showers and the Rogers community farm of T. J. Geiger didn't receive enough moisture to measure.

China Grove farm of O. N. Laster Jr., 11 miles northeast of town, got no hail and .3 inch of rain.

New Boundary Lines Win Unanimous Vote

By RUTH COFFEY
Record News Editor

Mitchell County Commissioners Court voted late Wednesday to redistrict this county's four precincts. Boundary line redistricting is effective immediately. The 6 p. m. vote for the redistricting and shifting of precinct lines was voted unanimously after W. M. Vest, precinct 1 commissioner, moved adoption of the redistricting plan. County Judge Elmer Martin seconded the motion.

Biggest adjustment in the redistricting of Mitchell County's four voting precincts was made in votes city limits precinct 3 boundary line goes back to Colorado River and on into the cut as commissioner, has been until now the only completely rural precinct in the county.

Precinct 3, with its thousands of rangeland acres and farms, has had a voting strength of only 60 votes. Adjustment of the boundary lines for precincts now give precinct 3 a potential vote of between 600 and 800 votes.

Most of the new voting strength for precinct 3 will come from precinct 1, the Colorado City town precinct. A few votes and roads were cut from precinct 4's southern boundary line. Precinct 4 is the precinct with Moody, Richardson as commissioner. As the boundary lines have now been fixed by unanimous vote of Commissioners Court, roads and voters are more equitable, detailed study shows.

Potential voting strength for precinct 3 (the old Spade precinct) now stand they begin at the county boundary south of Spade, stretch along the west shore of Lake Colorado City, to Interstate 20, into Colorado City, cut down the business route of Highway 800 into West 2nd St.

From 2nd St. the line goes down Oak St. north to 6th St. due east to Austin St., then due Precinct 2 (Westbrook) still has a potential vote of between 350 and 400. Drue Cawthron is precinct 2 Commissioner.

Precinct 3 (Spade plus part of precinct 1 now) jumps from 60 to at least 600.

Precinct 4 (Lorraine) vote remains at between 600 and 650.

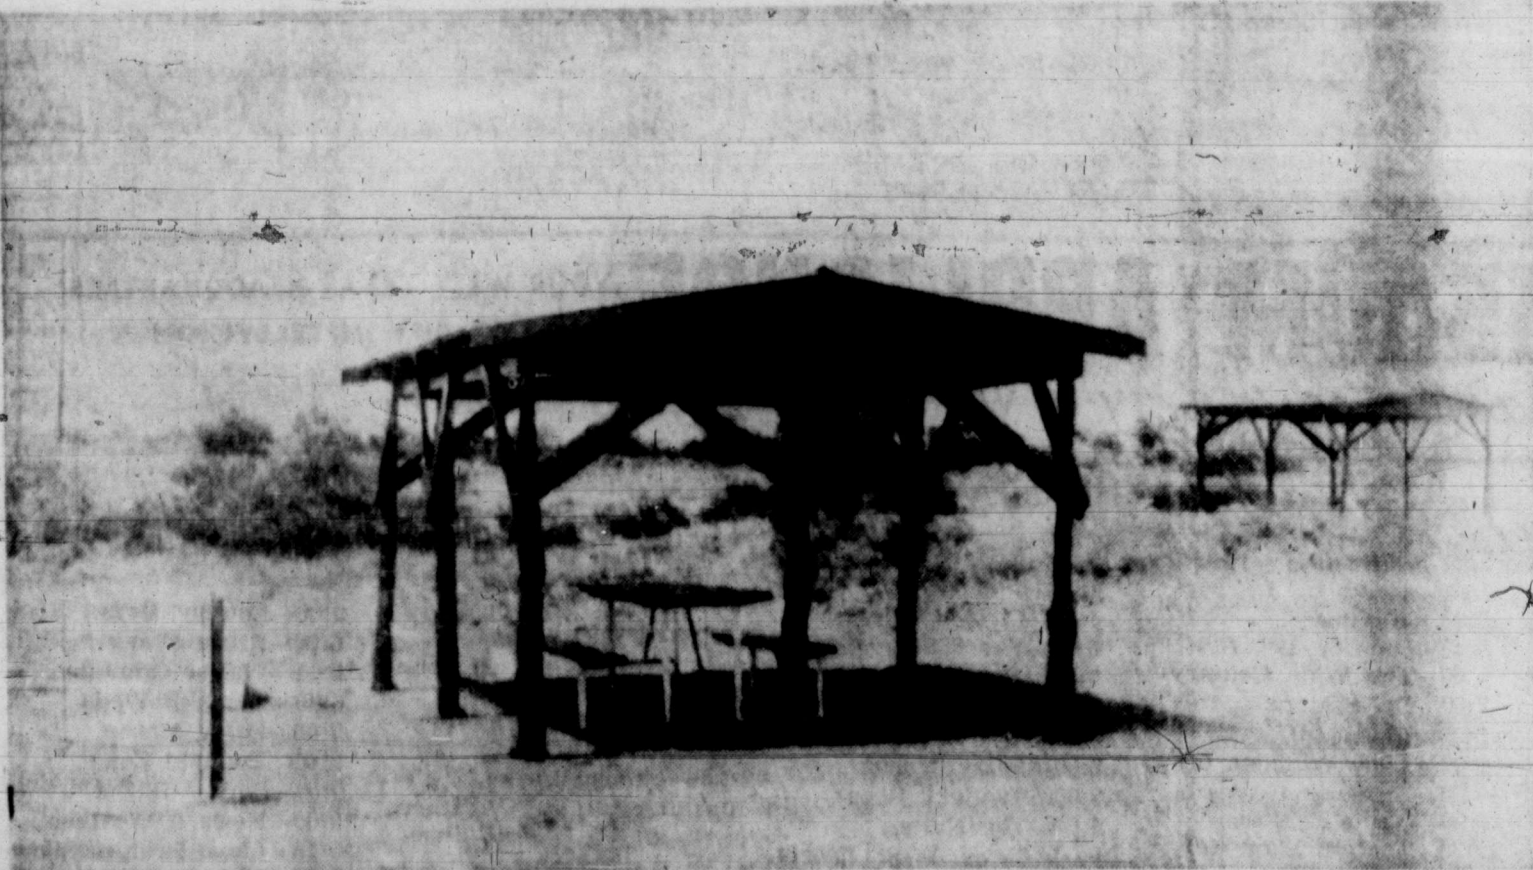

Road and Bridge funds can be more equally dispensed (25% each) under the new redistricting.

Increased traffic on both lake roads has been a real county road problem the last two days after heart surgery. She was born in Lorraine Nov. 22, 1960.

Max Leach, Church of Christ minister of Abilene, officiated at last rites assisted by the Rev. Mack Farrington, former Baptist pastor at Lorraine now of First Baptist Church in Brownwood.

Survivors are the parents, a sister Rita Sue, grandparents Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Barron and Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Taylor all of Lorraine.

New Picnic Shelters

Six new picnic shelters, painted bright red, have been erected at Lake Colorado City's City Park. Six others have been placed at Lake Champion, Mitchell County's newest lake. Workers were in the process of installing picnic tables, benches, and barbecue stoves hoping to have them ready for this week-end's exodus to the lakes. Last Sunday, all shelters were in use at both lakes. Five two-family shelters and the six new single shelters are now ready for the summer outing season. City Council voted unanimously to install more shelters and outdoor cooking stoves after a recommendation from the City Parks and Recreation Board this month.

Boat Ramp Is Ready

Completed last week is this new concrete boat ramp edging the water at City Park, Lake Colorado City. With Colorado City National Annual Fishing Rodeo in swing, fishing and boating are again the two most popular sports offered in this once arid area. Water skiing season at Lake Colorado City is another sport as summer comes in. Both boating and water skiing are banned by city ordinance at the newer of Colorado City's two lakes — Lake Champion, southeast of town because the newer lake, not yet full, hides numerous under-water trees, scrub undergrowth and thick moss.

"In primary and secondary high schools, examinations are taken at the end of the year and the results of these exams determine whether a student goes into the next class or not.

"In secondary schools, these tests are given by the Board of College and Secondary Education and all the students from all the different schools are given the same tests. The tests are given at special examination centers. They are quite hard and the students are required to prepare themselves for them," she said.

She told the members that in secondary schools, when a student is to enter the sophomore class from the freshman class, for instance, he has to pass this exam. She said they are then given a certificate.

"The diploma that a Pakistani student receives at the end of his senior year determines his entrance into college. A student also has to take a few college-board tests as well, before he is allowed to enter college," she said.

Miss Akhtar told the group that the religion of the people is Islam and that 85% of the people are Moslems. She said that the rest of the people are Hindus, Buddhists and Christians. She said that their customs and ways of life were connected with religion.

"Our government is a Federal Democratic Republic," she said. "We have three branches, executive, legislative and judicial. The president is head of the executive department. In the legislature we have only one house, called the National Assembly. The judicial branch has its supreme court and other smaller courts. The country is divided into provinces and counties and this makes local administration easy," she said.

Roll call was answered by Bob Reilly, Robert Aycock, Jr., Newby Pratt, H. B. Broadbent and Sam L. Majors.

Members present at the meeting were Mrs. J. S. Craddock, Jr., Trevor Crawford, Jim Edison, L. S. Girvin, Jr., Larry Kihard, Curtis Lattimer, Henry Lewis, Eldon Mahon, Sam L. Majors, Jr., Ray Noble, Rhode, Bob Robinson, James Trammell, O. B. Trulock Jr., Brady Warren, Marvin Weaver, George Witten.

Mrs. A. C. Moody From Visits Mr. and Mrs. Tom Glover, 920 Oak St., left Thursday for Houston, where they will visit their son and family. Mr. and Mrs. Ross Glover and son, Ross, Jr. They will be in Houston for a week-long visit.

and the voice of this county's citizens as expressed by the ballot.

Equal representation for this county's voters was the other major consideration, Judge Martin said, along with the Road and Bridge fund equalization plan.

Citizens who have been moved from precinct 1 to precinct 3 are to be acquainted with the change in polling places well in advance of any coming elections, commissioners said.

The box at Spade will be retained. A box for precinct 4 voters in Colorado City will be either at the American Legion Hut or, if permission can be obtained, at the Civic House. Election judges will be appointed for the new balloting place.

In announcing the redistricting success Judge Martin made this statement: "Adjustments will be made later if necessary. The court is to be commended for the long hours of work and for the fair, conscientious manner in which they accomplished the necessary fixing of county new precinct lines."

Equal division of Road and Bridge county funds will become effective on the basis of 25¢ to each precinct, October 1.

CONVERSATION CORNER

"Some memories are best forgotten."

THAT LINE cropped up this week in an article in a magazine—that one named Sat Eve Post. Like pressed forget-me-nots little lines like that stay in any mind willing to give them space. That line, so simple and so short, can start a lot of pondering.

MOST MEMORIES are good for keeping, of course. The memory of baby fingers curled around your thumb . . . Memory of a loved face no longer of this earth . . . School days, courtin' days . . . A walk along the dogwood path . . . A stay near the sea . . . A sonnet . . . A song . . . Strain of a haunting melody . . . A book, a picture, a ride in the raft. But "some memories are best forgotten."

UNLESS every mother in the world could so quickly forget the memory of giving birth, there would be few second babies and hardly any after that.

Memories of pain and of injured bodies are best forgotten, once mended. More than that, memories of what it was that hurt a heart once long ago are better forgotten. It takes practice to acquire the fine art of forgetting some memories—the too quick too loud, too cutting answer, the disagreement, the sudden wild young anger.

SUDDEN ANGER is superior, even so, to slow anger. Slow anger dwells within a memory and grows more dangerous as it smolders.

More marriages, more friendships and more good human relationships have been saved by two little words than all the marriage counseling and psychoanalysis available in this newly brilliant world.

The two little words are "I'm sorry." Said by two people at once, especially, they're pure magic.

TO SAY them is sometimes easier than to accept them in the spirit offered.

"I forgive but I can't forget," is no more and no less than a downright lie.

When you forgive you have to forget. If the little grudge is still there—against mate or friend or child or fellow-member—then forgiveness is not there, either. It can't be.

Unless you can "forget the memory" misunderstanding is still there.

Most people admire a good memory—Here's to kind hearts with good forgettery.

FROM a Record reader in Hot Spring, Ark. came a note enclosing a clipping from that publication called "Grit."

Clipping is headed "I'm Proud of My Town!" with an overline "Civic Center, Texas Style." The article is bylined Joe Earnest. It is a civic-pride tribute to Jaycees and the Civic House they maintain for this community.

Everybody in C. City knows this town's Civic House is a point-with-pride asset. Now all readers of "Grit," a thing of national circulation, know it too.

TO FIDELIS CLASS

Miss Mabel Smith Presents Reveiw of "The Listner"

Miss Mabel Smith presented someone who will really listen to one's problems, is one of the members of the Fidelis Class. The review of the book, "The Listner," by Taylor Caldwell, to the members of the Fidelis Class, Sunday School Class of First Baptist Church at their meeting recently in the home of Mrs. Lee Lavender, 437 E. 15th St.

Mrs. L. J. Taylor was co-hostess for the meeting. "The preface of the book, 'The Listner,' prints these words," said Miss Smith, "No body has time to listen to any one; not even those who love you and would die for you. Your parents, your children, your friends; they have no time."

Miss Smith told the group that the author has said this lack of a sympathetic ear, of an anteroom and a quiet, comforting tranquility," said Miss Smith.

"The listner remained concealed behind closed curtains — but would reveal himself to those who truly suffered. No one who sought his help ever revealed the identity of the listner."

"All kinds of people came to the chapel; the rich, the poor, the scoffing, and the faithful — and all left at peace with themselves and with their world, having discovered the real source of true happiness," she said.

Miss Smith quoted the author: "Man's real need, his most terrible need, is for someone to listen to him, not as a patient, but as a human soul."

She told the members, "Through a series of modern parables, the author shows that desperation and spiritual aridity can result when fundamental faith is lost or allowed to wither."

"This is a modern religious novel which will inspire people of all faiths by its simple eloquence and stirring affirmation of the power of faith so desperately needed in the menacing present and the ominous future," she said.

Refreshments were served to the following members present: Mmes. Lavender, Taylor, O. B. Trulock, Curtis Baker, M. E. Miller, Coy Harris, Chester Hart, Sam Thompson, Ethel Dawson, Perry Barber, Charles Wakefield, Irene Robertson and Miss Smith.

Hosts Spade HD Club Meet

Mrs. Ross Hargrove hosted the Wednesday, April 17, meeting of the Spade Home Demonstration Club in her home in Spade Community.

Mrs. Ruth Airhart was in charge of the program on flower arranging.

"There are five elements in arranging flowers," she said. "These elements are line, pattern, form and texture. Six principles are balance, dominance, contrast, proportion, rhythm and scale."

She displayed a right-angle arrangement to demonstrate the lines used in arranging flowers. She used another arrangement to point out the importance of height, balance and width.

Present at the meeting were Mmes. Pete Allard, J. E. Boyd, D. L. Barber, Hargrove, A. L. Ashford, Rex Northcutt, J. C. Northcutt, Harry Dockrey, Wright Hook, H. H. Salley and Eugene Bradbury.

Presbyterian Guest Pastor

Wilson Dee Webb, second-year student at Austin Presbyterian Theological Seminary in Austin, will be guest pastor at the Colorado City Presbyterian Church Sunday, April 28.

He holds a bachelor of arts degree from Bahaven College in Jackson, Mississippi, and he has attended Columbia Theological Seminary in Decatur, Georgia.

He has served as student assistant to the pastor at the Central Steele Creek Presbyterian Church in Charlotte, North Carolina.

PUBLICATION of the National Alpha Delta Pi, "Adelphaean," carries in the newest issue a picture of our Judy Bilberry, junior student in O. U. at Norman. Judy, daughter of the Henry Bilberys, is secretary of the Student National Education Association, reporter for the O. U. campus paper, and has served as vice-president of the Alpha Delta Pi sorority chapter at the University of Oklahoma. Her scholastic average is 3.3. Nice going.

SORORITY which claims our Judy, also claims as "exes" our Winnie Quinney, Nettie Doss, (Mrs. Bill) and Ruth Hightower—all Southwestern University alumni—and Jane Trulock Majors (Mrs. Sam L. Jr.) North Texas grad.

Mrs. Quinney, by the way, is teaching science at Junior High for the rest of the semester. She is, most of you will remember, officially a retired teacher and was for many years principal at Hutchinson School.

RETIRED newspaper people, like retired teachers and ministers, never really lose the love of it, the feel for it, and the special kinship with the clan.

Met for the first time this week Mrs. G. E. Allbright who worked for years on a paper at Graham, her hometown. She came in just to sniff a little printers' ink, hear the linotype machines clatter—stuff like that. Journalism is incurable. People go through life afflicted with it.

Mrs. Allbright's husband is driller for a well on the Smartt land near Westbrook. The couple, parents of a grown daughter, are living temporarily in Ruth Airhart's apartment and go to First Christian Church.

HERE AND THERE caught glimpses of Doyle and Frances Kiker... Billie Gregory Harrison (Mrs. Jimmie) in a becoming shade of blue... Ford Merritt, city manager, who was saying he and His Honor H. L. Berman met up with Earl Keaton, former city manager now of Hurst, while attending a meeting in Austin.

Other nice familiar faces around and about belong to the district judge Eldon Mahon... Rob and Mary Post... Bob Kelly, who's master-minding Turnleweed Festival events... And Mary Barber (Mrs. J. Dell).

Teens Discuss Driving

By PEGGY BELVIN
Record Women's Editor

Is driving an automobile necessary in a teen-ager's scholastic and social life?

Does a teen-ager feel that driving an automobile is necessary to their way of life?

All but one of the teen-agers interviewed for the Record's survey indicated that they did approve of teen-agers driving automobiles, to school as well as to other places.

"I THINK IT IS NICE to be able to drive yourself where you need to go," said Anne Rhode.

Said Don Free, "Being able to drive certainly saves a lot of time."

"I think it is a good idea for teen-agers to drive themselves," said Danny Gale.

Teen-agers and Automobiles

Can teen-agers and automobiles be paired satisfactorily? Can a teen-ager drive a car, to and from school, as well as to other places, and still be proficient in his grade averages? In this issue's article on teen-agers' driving habits, the teen-agers reveal their opinions on these questions.

Library News

The following is a list of new books just received at the Federation Library. They are available by request from Mrs. Boyd Dozier, librarian.

"COMANCHE BELLE," Charles Thomas (Doubleday). The engineer in charge of building a railroad from Abilene to El Paso was used to sabotage by whites disguised as Comanches. Then he found a real Comanche arrow in the engine cab. What he didn't know was that the Comanche was a girl with golden hair.

"BLOODY INSTRUCTIONS," Sara Woods (Harper and Row). Elderly James Winters was stabbed to death in the office of a firm of solicitors. Police immediately suspected Anthony Maitland, the young lawyer who found the body, and Anthony found himself involved with a group of Shakespearean actors.

"CONQUISTADORS," Paul Horgan (Farrar, Straus). The 200-year history of the adventures, pillagers, and treasure hunters from Spain who looted South America and Mexico, explored much of North America, and left their indelible mark upon the New World.

"INNOCENT IN ALASKA," Margaret Knudsen Burke with John Springer (Coward-McCann). Red-headed Margaret tells of the day in 1904 when, at eighteen, she set sail for Alaska to become the first woman telephone operator in the Territory. Her meeting with the piratical-looking Will Burke (whom she married two years later) and their adventures together making money, making friends and helping neighbors, even twenty miles away.

"HORIZON," editors of Horizon (Doubleday). The hardcover magazine about literature, drama, art and other cultural and intellectual interests. With more than 40 pages in full color plus many other illustrations.

"THE CASE OF THE MISCHIEVOUS DOLL," Eric Stanley Gardner (Morrow). Don

rie Ambler had a rich and notorious double, the beautiful Minerva Minton, Madcap Heiress of Montrose, and Dorrie came to Perry Mason with the uneasy suspicion that Minerva or someone planned to make use of her. Then there were two murders, and Perry had a touchy job on hand.

"A HOME OF OUR OWN," Gladys Ogden Dimock (Macmillan). A country housewife tells with warmth and candor how she and her family escaped one dark side of modern home-owning by moving to a Vermont farm, where independence, lasting friendships and natural beauties compensated for the hardships of a New England winter and the demands of a busy growing family.

"THE COMPLETE BOOK OF PUPPY TRAINING AND CARE," Maxwell Riddle (Coward-McCann). The author of the syndicated column, "Kennel and Leash," tells who should own a puppy, what selection basis he should use, and advises on training, feeding, discipline, and caring for a puppy as pet, hunting dog or show dog.

"FOLLOW YOUR HEART," Emily Loring (Little, Brown). A combination of romance and mystery. If Jill dies before she's twenty-one, her inheritance is to go to an art institute. Jim is posing as a chauffeur to check on accidents that have endangered her and runs into a series of robberies of art treasures.

FM Highway Road to Lake

Access to Lake Colorado City Park was improved this week with completion of Farm to Market Road No. 1229.

The new FM highway joins the Sterling City Highway with Interstate 20 west of Colorado City at the intersection of Highway 80 business route and Interstate 20.

Wallace Has 2 Wins

Wallace Wildcats pounded 6 hits to beat a defensive Snyder team Wednesday afternoon in Colorado City 12-3. This was the second meeting between the two teams. Colorado City won both games. The first was played in Snyder last week. Wallace's record now is 2-0 (Snyder and C. City are not in the same district.)

Wallace journeyed to Plainview Friday for its first conference game. Eddy (Head) Campbell was expected to start for the Wildcats.

The game Wednesday was a pitching duel between Frank Biggers (C. City) and Durst (Snyder) until Wallace made 6 runs in the bottom of the third when Snyder made 4 errors (3 by shortstop Todd.) "Pakistan Largest Islamic Republic" Culture Club Told "Pakistan is the largest Islamic republic in the world," Miss Suraya Akhtar, Colorado City's exchange student from Pakistan told the members of the Self Culture Club at their Wednesday April 17, meeting in the home of Mrs. L. B. Elliott, 404 E. 5th St.

"The religion of the people is Islam and 85 percent of the people belong to this faith. The government, customs, and manners are all closely related to religion," she said. Miss Akhtar told the group of her country's history and some of their customs. She said that her home is in Karachi, a city with a population of 2 million.

"The climate is very moderate there," she said. "The winter temperature doesn't go below 50 degrees and the summer temperature seldom is over 105 degrees," she said.

She said that the government is a federal democratic republic. She said that the president is head of the executive department and is elected by the people. She said the Legislature has one house called the National Assembly whose members are also elected. She told the group that, in the judicial department, there are supreme courts and local courts. She said that they also have local government in the counties.

In most of our schools, the national language of Urdu is the medium of instruction. But in some, all the subjects are taught in English," she said. Miss Akhtar has had seven years of instruction in English and her parents speak English.

After her talk, Miss Akhtar answered questions asked by the club members.

Miss Akhtar was introduced to the group by Mrs. Dewey Davis, the program leader.

Mrs. L. A. Strain presided over a short business session. Members voted to give $15 to Plate favors were fortune cookies with information about the speaker. Miss Akhtar was presented a charm bearing the club's name to be attached to her charm bracelet.

PEGGY'S Paragraphs

By PEGGY BELVIN

THE PROFESSIONALLY INTELLIGENT percentage of our American population and American scholars are despairing at the lack of correct pronunciation in the English language.

Sturred, blurred and otherwise indecipherable sounds are being passed off today as substitutes for good English. And we, in West Texas, are among the world's worst in the usage of incorrect pronunciation.

WORDS LIKE "doncha", a horrid interpretation of don't you, is not uncommon in our West Texas dialogue.

Another phraseology, hated among the scholarly, is "hafta", a chopped-up version of have to.

Sentences like, "I'm gonna 'hafta' go ovah yonda after-while," are common in adlib communication.

"Yesturday" is the most common form for the word meaning the day before today and "tamorra" generally means the day after today.

Countless times daily, West Texans slaughter the phrases, can't you and won't you. These come out of the grinder as "cancha" and "woncha."

THIS HABIT of chopping off words is reversed when West Texans count.

A West Texas cattleman has been heard many times to say, "I have 'fitee' head 'a' cattle in 'tr' east 'paster'".

When children of this area start to school, they learn to count as fast and just as well as probably any other children in the world.

But the way they count is a little different.

By the time they are in the third grade, they're usually counting by tens: ten, twende, thirde, fordy, fitee, sixde, sevendee, eighdee, nidee and one hundee.

I GUESS West Texas wouldn't be the same, though, without it's own special manner of speech.

I personally, don't think I'd like to see it changed.

If ya don't wanta talk diffrent, doncha do it, 'cause ya don't hafta.
