Phil Kennamer Convicted Of First Degree Manslaughter

Tulsa Slayer's Sentence Will Fall Saturday

Decision Reached By Jury On Twelfth Ballot; Murder Not Considered From First; Boy Cool At Announcement

New Trial Asked

Precocious Son Of Judge Pats Father's Shoulder And Is Led Away To Await Passing Of State Penalty

By WILLIAM VOIGT, JR
Associated Press Staff Writer

PAWNEE, Okla., Feb. 21. — The trial of the fantastic Phil Kennamer murder case ended here tonight with a verdict of first degree manslaughter against the 19-year-old precocious son of a federal judge. Judge Thurman Hurst will fix the penalty at 2 p. m. Saturday.

Under the conviction, the Thanksgiving slayer of John Gorrell may be sentenced to serve from four to 99 years in state prison at McAlester.

New Trial Asked

But the defense will not give up without a further long legal battle. At the same time the youth is sentenced his attorneys will file a motion for a new trial which, if overruled, will be followed by an appeal to the state criminal court of appeals.

Sitting beside his father, Federal Judge Franklin E. Kennamer of the northern district of Oklahoma, young Kennamer took the verdict without rising and without showing visible emotion.

Kennamer Consoles Father

The father was the more moved, tears starting to his eyes, and young Kennamer patted the smallish, gray-haired man on the shoulder.

A moment later he was surrounded by consoling friends and was led back to the little 1889 model sandstone jail to await passing of sentence.

Neither father nor son would comment. Holly Anderson, Tulsa county prosecutor who tried the case here on a change of venue, was delighted.

Prosecution Pleased

"We are mighty pleased and are convinced Judge Hurst will overrule the new trial motion, and that we will be upheld to the last," Anderson said.

Mrs. Corcorran Is Buried Today

Mrs. M. S. Corcorran, mother of J. D. and Edd Corcorran of Lubbock, died in a hospital here at 4:45 p. m. Thursday after an illness of about a week. Death was attributed to peritonitis. She had been in the hospital two days.

Funeral services for Mrs. Corcorran, 63, who lived near Littlefield, will be conducted at Broadway Church of Christ at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon by R. L. Travis, Church of Christ minister, of Ralls. Burial, directed by Sanders Funeral home, will be in Lubbock cemetery.

Corcorran Tailors, 1216-A Texas avenue, operated by J. D. Corcorran, will be closed today.

Mrs. Corcorran had lived in Lubbock and Ralls. She came to the Plains in 1912. She was survived by her widower; five sons, J. D. and Edd Corcorran of Lubbock; J. M. Corcorran of Sentinel, Okla.; R. O. Corcorran of Littlefield, and H. B. Corcorran of Clovis, N. M., and three daughters, Mrs. W. C. Latham, Dill, Okla., Mrs. S. E. Beard of Floydada, and Mrs. R. C. Travis of Hale Center.

Secrecy Rule Liberalized Through Bonus Proponents

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21. (AP) — A new, stringent secrecy rule was invoked, criticized and promptly liberalized today by house leaders as backers of the $2,000,000,000 Patman bonus pay-off bill moved to assure its consideration.

Representative Patman (D-Tex.) filed a petition to force a house vote in the event his bill is blocked in committee. Within two hours, he had obtained 64 of the necessary 217 signatures. When the day's session ended, 78 names were on the petition.

NOMINATIONS MADE

AUSTIN, Feb. 21 (AP)—Governor James V. Allred today nominated Miss Ima Hogg, daughter of former Governor James S. Hogg, and Mrs. R. S. Sterling, wife of former Governor R. S. Sterling, to the board to supervise maintenance of the executive mansion.

Tugwell Will Not Quit Post In Washington

Speculation Rife Anent His Relations In Conservative-Liberal Flareup, But Wind Points To His Staying

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.— Apparently reassured by President Roosevelt, Rexford G. Tugwell, undersecretary of agriculture, told reporters on leaving the White House late today that he intended to continue his present post.

A flare-up of the liberal-conservative row at the AAA had led the youthful looking administration advisor to consider quitting.

For how long he will remain he did not say, and it was known that for weeks a feeling of loyalty to the president had caused him to refrain from more serious consideration of submitting his resignation.

Several Have Quit

For some time it has been evident that Tugwell and Chester C. Davis, AAA administrator did not agree. Davis has been winning lately, if the resignations are any indication.

First, Jerome Frank, AAA counsel and close associate of Tugwell, was asked to go. Gardner Jackson, a liberal in the consumers counsel, went with him, as did several others.

Then, only yesterday, Victor A. Christgau, assistant administrator and a member of the liberal group, submitted his resignation after a heated clash with Davis over policies.

But Frank today accepted a position as assistant railroad counsel for the RFC. This strengthened the belief among Tugwell's associates that the latter had no intention of leaving.

Structurally Weak Frame Is Ascribed Macon Crash Cause

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 21 (AP)—Commander T. L. Gatch, judge advocate of a naval board of inquiry, said today a sharp gust of wind straining a "structurally weak frame," sent the dirigible Macon into the Pacific with a loss of two lives Feb. 12.

"The loss," Gatch added, "we can only conclude from evidence the court has gathered, should be charged to profit and loss and, if we build another airship, we can now build her a lot better."

Ludwig Lewisohn Married By Proxy In Juarez Ceremony

EL PASO, Tex., 21. (AP)—Ludwig Lewisohn, writer and lecturer who yesterday obtained a divorce at Juarez, Mexico, from his first wife, Mary Arnold Childs, was married by proxy to Thelma Bowen Spear today.

Justo Salaizes, Juarez civil register, performed the ceremony, Salvador Franco Urias, Lewisohn's attorney, acted as groom and his secretary, Jesus Navarro, represented Mrs. Lewisohn.

Lewisohn and his bride first were married in Europe 11 years ago. They have a child now in Burlington, Vt.

PIONEER DOCTOR CRITICAL

WACO, Feb. 21. (AP) — Dr. J. M. Witt, 84, a pioneer in Texas medicine and for 12 years a member of the state board of medical examiners, was reported by attending physicians tonight to be in a critical condition and sinking. He has been ill several days.

Glass Charges If Holder Of Note Undertakes To Collect Payment Due Him He Is Told To "Go To Hell"

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21 — The supreme court's gold decision was inextricably tangled in the web of national politics tonight and loomed an irrepressible issue for the 1936 presidential campaign.

That result was made inevitable, many thought, by a statement from Herbert Hoover, titular head of the Republican party, pushing the vast implications of the verdict—and himself to the forefront of political discussions.

Golden Hornet's Nest

His urge for a return to the monetary standards of other days stirred, figuratively, a gold hornet's nest.

The situation was intensified by a quick and chilly reply from an administration spokesman, and by a torrid senate debate which saw two factions of the Democratic party battling each other on the court's finding that the government had no right to disregard the gold payment promise of its own bonds.

Upholding in private statements Hoover's view that the currency should be made immediately redeemable in gold, senate Republican leaders for the most part scrupulously avoided taking any part in the acrid argument which divided the senators on the other side of the aisle.

Challenge Accepted

Meanwhile, Secretary Morgenthau, the New Deal's outstanding spokesman on monetary questions, promptly accepted the challenge flung across the continent by the former president.

"I am perfectly satisfied with the way our monetary policy has worked out during the last year and see no reason for changing it," he told newspapermen at his regular semi-weekly press conference.

He made it clear, however, that

Senior Class To Give Play Tonight

Members of the senior class of Lubbock High school will present the annual class play at the auditorium tonight at 8:15. The play, "Rosalie Runs Riot," is a three-act musical comedy directed by Miss Lula Mae Cravens and Mrs. Waldo Trotter.

Rehearsals have been held for several weeks. The cast was pronounced ready by directors last night.

Twenty-one students take part in the play while the ensemble is composed of 10 boys and girls. Geneva McGeehee and F. M. Roberson have the lead roles in the production and are supported by the following: Robert Dowell, Barbara Goodloe, Ernesteen Lockhart, Berl Marie Mason, Eron Gafford, Macon Skinner, Betty Lindsey, Ruth Rosenquest, Frances Bell, Reo Ford, Hugh Horne, Eugene Alderson, Howell Young, George 2d O'Neal, Felix Hocker, Elmer Adams and Sid Brown.

Seventeen musical selections will be sung by the ensemble. A Spanish dance will be presented by Ruthe Leberstein.

Babe Ruth's Japanese Tour Blamed By Would-Be Killer

TOKYO, Feb. 22 (Friday) (AP)—Mitsutaro Shoriki, distinguished Tokyo publisher, was near death today at the hands of an assassin who charged Shoriki was not patriotic because he sponsored Babe Ruth's tour of Japan last fall, causing money to leave the country in time of depression.

Physicians resorted to a blood transfusion in an attempt to save Shoriki, who was stabbed and dangerously wounded. He is publisher of the Yomiuri Shimbun, third largest newspaper in Tokyo.

CONTROL FUNDS SOUGHT

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21. (AP) — Representative West (D-Tex.) introduced a bill today seeking an appropriation of $75,000,000 for flood control and power development on the American side of the lower Rio Grande valley basin in Texas.

Apparent Death Cheated; Medico Quickens Heart

TYLER, Feb. 21 (AP) — Weakly struggling to live, W. A. Strange dozed under an oxgen tent today after a quick-thinking physician had brought him back from apparent death with an adrenalin injection in the heart.

One person in the operating room while Dr. Howard Bryant was resorting to the emergency measure said Strange indicated his mind was blank during the five minutes cardiac and respiratory action was suspended.

"He intimated to me his mind was blank during the time and I feel sure he wasn't conscious of anything from the way he talked," said this hospital room attendant, whose name was withheld.

Strange, 71, a former sheriff of Smith county, still was weak today. Bryant felt more confident with each passing hour of the patient's recovery. Strange is unable to see anybody and sleeps most of the time.

Dr. Byrant who revived the patient five minutes after he had folded his hands in "death," said his chances for complete recovery were "good."

Strange weakened slightly early today as he lay in an oxygen tent—his watch beside him—but attendants still hoped for recovery.

Dr. Bryant, who termed the case "extremely rare," said Strange came to his office yesterday, apparently suffering from coronary occlusion.

"His breathing was difficult—he was unable to speak and I had to diagnose his condition from examination alone. His pulse was thready and very weak.

"He was placed on an examining table and his head raised to a semi-sitting position. He was given stimu-

Kin Of James Doolittle Cuts 24 Minutes 44 Seconds Off Old Record; Radio Handling Blamed By Airman

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Feb. 21—In an unheralded dash across the continent, Leland S. Andrews today set a new transport flight record from Los Angeles to Floyd Bennett field.

The former record was held by Andrews' brother-in-law, the famous James Doolittle.

In a single-motored monoplane, Andrews made the west-east transcontinental flight in 11 hours, 24 minutes and 16 seconds.

This cut 24 minutes and 44 seconds from Doolittle's record of 11:59.

With a good tail wind, Andrews—with Henry Meyers as co-pilot and G. D. Reyburn as radio operator—took off from Los Angeles at 2:50 a. m. (EST).

Samuel Levy, manager of Floyd Bennett field and a timer for the National Aeronautic association, clocked Andrews over that field at 2:24:16 p. m. (EST). Levy said Andrews did not touch his wheels, but banked and sped across New York bay to Newark airport, where he landed at 2:35 p. m.

Wasted Some Time

En route from the coast, Andrews set down in Washington for 14 minutes.

Climbing from the lane at Newark, the pilot—small, thin and 42 years old—said he could have made even better time, despite the stop at Washington, "if we had used our radio better. Several times we got a little of the course."

The trip, he added, was uneventful.

Levy said the record would un-

Single Ballot Turns Tide In Great Dispute

Startling Reversal Inserts Into Relief Bill McCarran Prevailing Wage Amendment And Quandary Results

Long Is Credited

Louisiana Senator Does Quick Work On Floor Of Chamber; Arranges Pairing Of Votes, Obviates Deadlock

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—Despite the threat of a presidential veto, the senate today forced the McCarran prevailing wage amendment into the president's $4,880,000,000 relief bill by the narrowest of margins—44 to 43.

So startling was the defeat handed the administration that it left Democratic leaders in a quandary as to the ultimate fate of the bill.

Victory Held Significant

Some considered significant the fact that the adverse vote came only a matter of minutes after the reading of a letter from President Roosevelt, giving assurance that wage scales in private industry would not be permitted to be lowered because of the $50 a month "security wage" contemplated for relief workers.

The ballot in favor of paying "prevailing wages" in whatever community the relief projects are undertaken came as the first major test of administration strength on the controverted measure and was reached only after two days of heated debate betwen the Roosevelt wheel horses and the organized labor group headed by Senator McCarran (D-Nev.)

Demos Support Amendment

American Federation of Labor representatives brought their powerful influence to bear for the amendment. Despite an eloquent last minute plea by Senator Glass (D-Va.) to defeat the amendment on the ground it would endanger the government's credit and wreck the relief program, 21 Democrats voted for it.

Forty-one Democrats and two Republicans, Hale of Maine and Metcalfe of Rhode Island, voted against the amendment. But the tide was turned when 21 Republicans, an equal number of Democrats, together with LaFollette, the Wisconsin progressive, and Shipstead, the Minnesota Farmer-Laborite, record-

German Funds Conscripted To Buy, Consolidate Debts

BERLIN, Feb. 21. (AP) — Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler conscripted the nation's cash today to buy raw materials and consolidate debts.

In one of the shortest laws passed by the Nazi government, the hunt for liquid assets was begun and will spare none upon whom the reichsminister of finance wishes to call for money.

Lutz Schwerin von Krosigk, the finance chief, was given wide powers to secure funds through credits, and is limited only by the fuehrer's personal estimate of the extent to which he should strip liquid assets from those who have them.

Overdue Yacht Making Port Safely; Overdue From Nassau

Indefinite Stay Won By Hauptmann As Lawyers For Carpenter File Writ

Split In The Ranks Of Council Heals, Affirmed

By The Associated Press

TRENTON, N. J., Feb. 21.—Bruno Richard Hauptmann, sentenced to die in the electric chair for the kidnap-murder of the Lindbergh baby, won an indefinite stay of execution today, and his four lawyers, once more harmonious, promised to go ahead with his appeal as speedily as possible.

Lawyers Huddle

Edward J. Reilly of Brooklyn and the three New Jersey counsel, C. Lloyd Fisher, Frederick A. Pope and Egbert Rosecrans, conferred for several hours at the state prison. Mrs. Hauptmann attended the conference and all five saw Hauptmann.

Hauptmann's execution, set for the week of March 18 by Supreme Court Justices Thomas W. Trenchard, was stayed when a certified copy of a writ of error was filed with Irving Bleam, prison clerk, by Pope and Fisher. An hour earlier they had filed the original writ with the court of errors and appeals, the state's highest tribunal.

Differences Adjusted

Pope was asked who was chief counsel now. During the trial Reilly held this nominal post.

"We are asked who was chief counsel now. During the trial Reilly held this nominal post.

Of Hauptmann he said:

Madcap Winds Scatter Dust

June In February Experienced By Middle States; Gales In Montana Freighted With Ice And Swirling Snow

By The Associated Press

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 21 — Heat and dust were flung by the Madcap weather man from his bag of tricks today.

A temperature of 74.2 degrees at Topeka, Kas., broke all Feb. 21 records there. A 79 at Jefferson City, Mo., made it the hottest February day there in 10 years. Temperatures in the seventies brought a premature touch of spring to Texas.

Dust, propelled in places by wind of more than 56 miles an hour velocity, swirled over parts of Nebraska, Kansas and Colorado. Montana, just to be different, had snow.

Dust Storm Brews Here Early Today

A portion of the dust a strong wind was picking up in Amarillo last night and a larger amount gathered in this section was sweeping across Lubbock early this morning.

The dust storm began to obscure downtown lights about 11 o'clock, growing heavier quickly. There was no appreciable decline in temperatures, the mercury staying around the 50-degree mark.

Post Bondsmen Go To Dallas And Arrange Bail For Men Charged With Murder; Turns In Case Sensational

Three Indictments

Subornation Of Perjury And Two Counts Of Conspiracy Charged Attorney; Men Told To Falsify, Alleged

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, Feb. 21.—Sheriff W. F. Cato of Garza county, charged with murder in the slaying of Narcotic Agent Spencer Stafford, tonight was at liberty under $50,000 bond following a day of sensational turns in the case.

Tom Morgan, farmer deputized by Sheriff Cato shortly before Stafford was shot to death at Post, Feb. 7, and also charged with murder, was released under $15,000 bond.

Three Outlaw Indictments

Earlier a federal grand jury indicted N. C. Outlaw, defense attorney. The indictments, of which there were three, named Outlaw alone on a charge of subornation of perjury, Outlaw jointly with C. M. Loe on a charge of conspiracy to obstruct justice through false testimony, and the lawyer with E. R. Braddock on the same charge.

Outlaw's bond was set at $5,000 on each of the two conspiracy charges, and $1,500 on the subornation count, for a total of $11,500.

Lawyer Held, Client Freed

The lawyer remained in jail tonight while his client went free.

The indictments brought the total indicted to seven. Dr. L. W. Kitchen, a veterinarian, and Dr. Y. A. Hartman were named in murder charges with Sheriff Cato and Morgan several days ago.

Dr. Hartman was released today on $15,000 bond. He made $2,500 bond yesterday on charges of violating narcotic laws. Dr. Kitchen, also charged with narcotic law violation, had not been released.

Testimony Agreement Alleged

Allegations in the Loe indictment were that Outlaw and Loe agreed that Loe would testify that he was present when the shooting occurred and that he saw Stafford run out of the office of Dr. Kitchen, in front of which Stafford was shot, with what appeared to be a gun in his hand. The indictment charged that Loe was to receive $500 for his testimony.

The Braddock indictment charged that Braddock agreed with Outlaw that he would testify he saw Stafford run out of Kitchen's office with his hand in his hip pocket and that he heard Cato call:

Hookey Obviated Through Holiday

Lubbock public school children won't have to play hookey today to observe George Washington's birthday as a holiday.

Students, from the primary grades through the senior class in high school, will have a full day's holiday, it was announced yesterday.

The postoffice and Lubbock's three national banks also will close their doors for the day. The regular morning mail delivery will be made in the business district and box collections will be made as usual, said Acting Postmaster M. M. Brown.

With Rev. L. N. Lipscomb, pastor of First Methodist Episcopal church, to deliver the address, Yellowhouse lodge of Masons will observe the patriot's birthday anniversary at 7:30 o'clock tonight. The meeting will be in the hall in the Citizens National bank building.

Beautiful Sisters, Wrapped In Last Fond Clasp, Leap 3,000 Feet To Death

(By The Associated Press)

UPMINISTER, England, Feb. 21.—Two beautiful American sisters plunged hand in hand from an airplane today to die even as their British army aviator fiances died in Italy last week.

The two—Elizabeth Dubois, 23, and Jane Dubois, 20, daughters of the United States consul general at Naples—fell 3,000 feet. Workmen found their broken bodies half buried by the impact.

Inseparable as twins in life, the two were alone together in their rendezvous with death. They paid six fares to reserve every seat aboard the Hillman airways transport plane whose pilot, J. Kirton, though he was flying the sisters to Paris.

After he was well over the channel, Kirton glanced back to find the plane cabin empty, the door ajar. On one seat were two sealed letters. One was addressed to their father, Coert Dubois, the other to their mother. These and their baggage Scotland Yard took in charge.

Friends said the girls were "informally engaged" to two British flying officers, Elizabeth to Flight Lieutenant Henry Longfield Beatty and Jane to Flying Officer John A. C. Forbes, who were among the nine killed when the British seaplane "Ace of Diamonds" crashed in Sicily Feb. 15.

(At Bedford, Bedfordshire, Dr. Blakeley said his daughter Kathleen was engaged to Forbes and expected to marry him after he returned to Singapore in April. At Dublin Mrs. Harold Lett, mother of Beatty, said her son wrote from Messina mentioning his acquaintance with the Dubois girls but saying nothing of any engagement.)

At the West End hotel in London where the girls were guests during the last four or five days, the girls' near-hysteria

A NATIONAL HERO

ON this day the wheels of industry cease while the nation pays homage to this gentleman, soldier, statesman, writer, diplomat—America's pioneer president. There are citizens who would debunk the works and life of this hero of American history who stood for peace and honestry. Though students reading histories written in recent years grow sceptical of his vision and judgment of purpose, clearly beyond the confusions of succeeding political dynasties the personality of George Washington and his utterances of hope and warning seem significant and potent today.

WASHINGTON'S WRITINGS

WRITING to his friend, Benjamin Harrison, he said: "Of all the animosities which have existed among mankind, those which are caused by difference of sentiments in religion appear to me the most distressing. I was in hope that the enlightened and liberal policy which has marked the present age would at least have reconciled Christians of every denomination so far that we should never again see their religious disputes carried to such a pitch as to endanger the peace of society."

That was written almost 200 years ago. Do you suppose he would notice changes if he returned today? Of the government he said: "Towards the preservation of your government and the permanency of your present happy state, it is requisite, not only that you discountenance oppositions to its acknowledged authority, but also that you resist with care the spirit of innovation upon its principles, however precious the pretexts."

We have urged the support of munitions investigation and it is logical for us to protest against this tremendous munitions appropriation."

Novelty Motifs Afforded By Season Encourage Parties, Dances, Teas During Last Part Of Week

Taking advantage of the many novelty party ideas afloat just before, during and immediately after Washington's birthday, numerous clubs and individuals are entertaining with colorful teas, dinners and dances this week-end.

Mrs. W. F. Schenck, 1820 Main street, entertained with a covered dish luncheon Thursday afternoon. Guests were members of the New Deal club which meets semi-monthly.

Sub-Deb club members entertained last night with their annual presentation dance at the Hilton hotel

Planned For Today

Today's parties include an annual colonial tea which members of the First Methodist Builders class will give from 3 until 6 p. m. in the home of Mrs. M. C. Overton, 1808 Broadway. Members of the house party will wear colonial costumes.

Mrs. William Dingus, 2502 Twenty-first street, will be at home from 4 until 7 p. m. today to members of her First Methodist Sunday school class.

The Wranglers, stag social club at Texas Technological college, will entertain with their annual formal dance at 9 o'clock this evening at the Hilton hotel.

Bids Are Issued

Two hundred bids have been issued Tech students for the annual military ball which will be given in the ballroom of the Hilton hotel from 9 to 12 Saturday evening. Miss Marie Zimmermann of Tulia, a freshman student, will be crowned queen of the ball. Misses Mary Frances Standefer, Eva Mea O'Neall and Pauline Anderson are to be majors at the dance.

Miss Zimmerman is the daughter of Dennis Zimmermann, recently elected member of the board of directors at the college.

To Visit Here

Members of the Littlefield Junior Study club are to attend a luncheon Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock on the mezzanine floor of the Hilton hotel. Mrs. W. P. Avriett of Lamesa, president of the seventh district, Texas Federation of Women's clubs, will be one of the sepakers.

On Sunday at 2 p. m., a semi-monthly meeting of the Fireside forum will be conducted in the lounge of the women's dormitory at Texas Technological college. The society is sponsored by the Quarterly club and women's forum at the college. Discussion will be on the topic, "What Women Do."

Box Lunches Are Sold At Meeting

Box lunches were auctioned at a meeting of the First Baptist Truth Seekers class in the home of Mrs. M. J. Stratton, 2218 Eighth street, Wednesday afternoon. The meal was served at foursome tables.

Mrs. H. Tong of Plainview was a special guest.

Members attending were Mesdames Ralph Moore, Estelle Payton, O. W. Langlotz, R. J. Chandler, J. F. Anthony, H. F. Maner, Ray Allen, J. L. Langford, R. F. Goodrich, H. M. Wright, Louie Shell, Freeman Shell, M. L. Tinsley, Ted Barnett, J. E. Ward, Ray Higgins, E. E. Morris, Carl Moore, Claude Keeton, E. W. Millsap, A. E. Herring, Cliff Elliott and C. A. Henderson.

Mrs. Sidney Claiborne was assistant hostess.

Girl's Condition Is Unchanged

Her condition unchanged, 9-year-old Corralie Jones of Ochoa, N. M., remained critically ill of pneumonia and typhoid fever in Lubbock sanitarium last night.

She was brought here in an ambulance airplane Wednesday night by Art Chase, Lubbock pilot, who hazarded a night landing on an unlighted field at Lovington, N. M., where the child previously had been treated. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Jones, Ochoa ranchers.

Our earth would be wetter than it now is if it never rained. Rain removes the humidity from the air; without it, the air would be steam, the ground would be slime, and moisture would condense on every earthly object and keep it soaked in water.

Soap will not transmit germs. Experiments with soap taken from various places, such as hotels, kitchens, machine shops, etc., have been made and in no instance was a single living organism found.

Polychrome Prints Are In Vogue

Vivid multicolor prints are making a splash in spring fashions. Orange poppies and bits of yellow, green, red and blue are strewn liberally over the navy blue background of this attractive two-piece dress. Brilliant green grosgrain makes the cuffs and the bow at the collar. The navy blue kid pumps have stitched red bows and red piping, in the new bright color combinations favored for spring footwear. The small navy straw hat swoops sharply over one eye.

Today's Events

First Christian church members, families, friends, 6:30 p. m., church, supper.

Mrs. William Dingus, 4 to 7 p. m., 2502 Twenty-first street, open house for members of her First Methodist Sunday school class.

First Methodist Builders class, 3 to 6 p. m., Mrs. M. C. Overton, 1808 Broadway, annual silver colonial tea.

Lubbock High school senior class, 8 p. m., school auditorium, presenting "Rosalie Runs Riot", play.

Round-Up club, 9 p. m., Auditorium, dance.

Friday Needle club, 3 p. m., Mrs. W. C. Bryan, 1304 Main street.

Wranglers club, 9 p. m., Hilton hotel, formal dance.

City Federation of Women's clubs, 3 p. m., room 212, Hotel Lubbock.

La Douzaine Contract Club Meets With Mrs. H. Norman

Mrs. Hugh Norman, 1908 Avenue M, entertained with two tables of bridge for La Douzaine Contract club Thursday afternoon. Patriotic motif was featured in score pads, tallies and in refreshments.

Special guests were Mesdames Neil Vanzant and Lillard Pass.

Mrs. A. O. Thomas won high score and Mrs. Vanzant, second high.

Others attending were Mesdames G. O. Walker, C. D. Eaves, Charles Hill, H. B. Prickett and V. R. Plummer.

Robert Allen Talks To Unit

Mrs. C. P. Carlock Addresses Group Briefly; Delegates To District Conference In Plainview Named

"Schools and Citizenship" was the subject of a talk made by Robert Allen, local attorney, at a meeting of the J. T. Hutchinson unit of the Junior High Parent-Teacher association Thursday afternoon at the school building. Mrs. C. P. Carlock spoke briefly on founders day.

Pupils of Miss Ruby Hill presented the following program: Song, "George Washington," four girls; "February Days", eight girls; play, "The Colors in My Flag;" reading, "The Cherry Tree," Billy Rodgers; "Young Patriots," four boys; reading, "Exceptin' Pa", Betty Flo Maxwell play, "Home Work," and piano solo, "The Little White Butterfly," Billy Ray Medley.

Mrs. Fred Childress played a piano solo. In a business session, Mrs. C. G. Wilson was elected delegate to a district meeting of Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers in Plainview in March. A collection was taken to be sent to state P. T.-A. headquarters in Austin to be used in extension work.

Miss Hill's room received the award for having the most mothers present. Tea was served.

Church Folk Will Meet For Supper

Young people of the First Christian church will serve supper, prepared by women of the church, at 6:30 p. m. today in the church annex. All members, their families and friends are invited to attend, it has been announced.

The purpose of the meeting is to introduce the workers of the School of World Friendship and to explain the method, materials and purpose of the school. Talks will be made by the Rev. W. R. Vivrett, J. E. Hartley and S. J. McFarland.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Moore will sing and there will be group music.

John R. McGee, 1301 Avenue G, who is ill with pneumonia, was taken to West Texas hospital Thursday afternoon for treatment.

Eighteen Sources For New Taxes Or For Increased Levies Are Recommended

Sales Tax One Down On List

Majority Recommendation Is Made By Senators Duggan Of Littlefield And Holbrook Of Galveston

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Feb. 21. — Eighteen sources for either new taxes of increases in levies were listed by the senate tax program committee today in its report to the legislature.

The majority recommendation was by Senators A. P. Duggan of Littlefield, chairman, and T. J. Holbrook of Galveston, authors of the pending sales tax constitutional amendment.

Woodruff Utters Dissent

Senator Grady Woodruff of Decatur, dissenting, said, "I do not believe adoption of a general sales tax is the proper solution" for the state's financial problems.

He suggested exemption of homestead real property from all ad valorem taxes, except public school support, and increases in gross receipts taxes on every enterprise with a selected sales tax on non-essentials, to make up for decreased property tax revenues.

New Taxes Recommended

New taxes recommended by the committee to the house, where all revenue measures must originate, included:

Correction in cigaret tax law to yield $1,500,000 more annually; in gasoline motor fuel tax to increase income $1,700,000 annually, and in beer tax to add $250,000 annually.

Stamp tax on "drug store" whisky and higher fees on permits to sell medicinal whisky, and stamp taxes on cigars, bonds, mortgages and notes.

Taxes on loan brokers, finance companies, theaters, film brokers, rented or leased tabulating machines, goods in warehouses; one cent per 1,000 cubic feet of natural gas produced; $15 per mile on easements within a city and $10 a mile on easements outside; five per cent on sales of radioes; three per cent on electric refrigeration and 15 per cent on pari-mutuel betting.

The committee listed numerous bills already introduced to correct many tax laws and collecting methods.

Peanut Growers To Hold Slaton Meet

Peanut growers of the county are to meet tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the city hall at Slaton to discuss a control program for the county, P. T. Monifort, county agent, said. Attendance of 12 to 15 is expected. All commercial growers are invited.

Under a plan proposed by the AAA, a reduction of approximately 10 per cent will be made, with an average payment of $18 per acre for reduction.

Intention of the program is to hold acreage to that of an average of the 1933-34 program. A minimum of $2 per acre for acres allowed in 1935 is proposed, with $8 a ton payment for actual production in 1934.

Mr. Monifort said he did not know how many commercial peanut growers there were in the county, nor the approximate acreage, but placed the latter at several hundred. Most of the growers evidently reside in the Slaton territory.

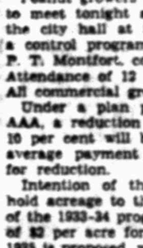

Lubbock Entries In Checker Meet

Chas. Graves, J. C. Williamson, and Vinson, Stanphill will be in Abilene today for an eighth annual West Texas Checker tournament to be conducted at the Abilene Athletic club. All three players will enter the tournament.

The Lubbock men will also issue an invitation to players of that section to attend the Texas Plains Checker tournament which will be held here at Hotel Lubbock, Friday, March 1. Several score checker players from over the Panhandle-Plains are expected to enter the local tournament.

M. D. Teetzel of Abilene, editor of the American Checker Monthly, has donated nine checker books to be given away as prizes at the local contest. Other awards will also be made to winners.

A group of old masters valued at $1,500,000, including the Rubens portrait, "Anne of Austria," shown here, will be auctioned soon.

House Agricultural Committee Torn By Discussion On Reimbursing Gins

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21 (AP)—The house agriculture committee wrangled today over whether to reimburse cotton ginners for expenses incurred under administration of the Bankhead act.

Little progress was reported and the committee decided to continue the discussion tomorrow.

Culley A. Cobb, chief of the cotton section of the agriculture Adjustment administration, and John C. Thompson, president of the Texas Cotton Ginners association, were subjected to a severe cross-examination by certain members of the committee who thought the expenses could not be taken out of processing taxes or other revenue collected under the act.

Representative Boileau (D-Wis) drew from Cobb the information this cost might be paid out of taxes so that the appropriation for the Bankhead act would not be exceeded.

Representative Cummings (D-Colo) contended that the Bankhead act had caused a tremendous increase in the price of cotton to the farmer and suggested that the ginner should not complain of the added cost because comparatively all months could be passed to the farmer in the ginning charge.

Representative Kleberg (D-Tex) sought to show that it was impossible in some instances to follow that figure.

Thompson said the average cost to the Texas ginner last year was 59.7 cents per bale while the average cost over the country was 49.8 cents.

Wildcat Test Drills Ahead

T-Bar Ranch Well Is Down To 3,700 Feet In Anhydrite At Last Report; Repair Made To Broken Shaft

(By Staff Correspondent)

TAHOKA, eb. 21.—Latest reported depth of the Hart wildcat oil test on the T-Bar ranch, about ten miles west and south of here, was approximately 3,700 feet in anhydrite.

A slight delay was occasioned this week by breaking of a shaft. This was repaired and drilling resumed.

Edgar T. Hart, supervising the job, does not expect much additional oil showing for another 800 to 1,000 feet. E. B. Germany, Dallas, has the contract, and 17 men comprise his crew.

Location is in the southwest quarter of section 26, certificate 70, L. and S. V. Ry. survey. Cass O. Edwards, Fort Worth, is owner of the property.

Coiffures, Like Christmas Trees, Are Discarded After They Serve Purpose

Reluctant to rearrange coiffures dressed under the supervision of two of the country's leading hair stylists, several models who displayed one-occasion styles in a revue Wednesday evening nevertheless did so Thursday after finding themselves out of place in everyday business and social life.

One girl who appeared in an evening gown and whose platinum tresses were elaborately arranged in swirling horizontal waves in the back and small ringlets which formed a halo over her head, would not consent to having her hair reset Thursday morning. Finding the waves too formal for daytime wear and impractical in West Texas winds, she visited a beauty shop to have her crowning glory arranged less gloriously.

Seventeen models appeared in the style show, which was one of the concluding programs of a three-day trade show and beauty school in Lubbock. Operators from Lubbock and surrounding towns dressed hair under the supervision of Walter Wilson of Dallas and F. Charles of Denver.

Several waves were dressed for pracicability, others for originality. Many styles of the latter type were meant to be worn for only that evening.

Models who appeared, the first four being selected for outstanding hair dress, were Misses Jimmie Hamilton, Irene Wright, Robbie Lee Crawford, Mrs. Max Harbison, Misses Ina Horten, Jane Woodruff, Mary Florence Knox, Lessie Fancher, Dorothy Clements, Lucille Emerson, Eloise Smith, Flora Self, Belva Moss, Melba Williams, Janet Hambright, Sophie Alice Hardgrave and Opal McMahon.

Beauty operators who dressed hair of models were Vera Fritz, Fritz Beauty shop, Raton, N. M.; Mrs. Bess Cantwell, Palace Beauty shop, Floydada; Mrs. Opal Clark, Clark's Beauty shop, Post; Frances Armstrong, Orchid's Beauty shop, Slaton; Mrs. Hazel Field, Hilton Beauty shop, Plainview; B. H. Black, Real Art shop, Crosbyton; an operator from the Cozy Beauty shop of Slaton; Helen Milton, Milton's Beauty shop; and the following Lubbock operators: Jeanne Brewton, Jeanne's Beauty shop; Ella Mae Butler, Hilton Beauty salon; N. 'Republic' On Isle Is Quiet

Far From Maddening Crowd, It Suffers None From Slump, As Its People "Ain't Heard Of Any Prosperity"

BY HARRY E. FARNHAM

BRISTOL, Me. Feb. 21. (AP)—Life on Loud's island is easy and informal. The bustle of world affairs does not affect it. Loud's island is literally "off the map."

For some inexplicable reason, a government survey of this section of Maine failed to include the body of land, three miles long and a mile wide, lying off the coast of Bristol in Muscongus bay. Loud's island is virtually a republic in its own right.

Samoset Buried There

Inhabited since 1650, the island has a tradition that Samoset, the Indian chieftain who gave the first land deed in New England to white men, lived on its confines, and was buried there.

Loud's island has not felt the pinch of economic depression.

"Thunderation!" said one inhabitant. "We ain't never had any prosperity, so how'n tarnation can we have depression?"

Still, its homes are well kept and attractive. A free library is provided in its schoolhouse. Religious services are held when a misisonary boat sails up the coast.

Like A Large Family

Its residents are like a large family, many of them closely related. Doors are never locked. About 80 people reside on the island and get their sustenance from the sea. Fishing is the main business of the menfolk, and most of that is for lobsters, although some trawling and seining is done. Only two men maintain farming activities of any consequence.

Neither a plantation nor a town, Loud's island has no real government. Matters of public interest are discussed at a public meeting in the schoolhouse. A moderator, elected by vote, conducts all business and decisions are backed by the community as if they were state laws.

For years, the island's school was supported by a state contribution of 40 cents a pupil, the residents assuming the remaining expense. In recent years, however, the state has borne the entire charge.

Declined To Be Drafted

During the Civil war, Bristol sought to include the island as part of the town and forcibly seize nine men named in the war draft to serve the colors. But when a recruiting officer landed on the island, the entire population, armed and resistant, threatened to start a war itself.

Although they declined to be drafted, the Muscongus menfolk decided to do their part. They organized a draft of their own, and each man drafted paid $300 for a substitute on the mainland to "help lick the rebels."

One Answer To Prison Unrest

Striking support of the theory that American prison unrest and outbreaks are caused by congestion is given in this picture, of a "tank cell" in San Quentin, Calif., state prison, where a recent break attracted nation-wide attention. This cell, one of 48 of its type in San Quentin, is 7 2-3 feet by 11 2-3 feet, with an 8-foot ceiling, and houses five prisoners, although designed for two. There are no sanitary facilities, except buckets.

Extra-Mural Groups To Be Compared Scholastically Under Tech System

Social, athletic, academic and other groups at Texas Technological will be compared scholasticly each semester beginning with the end of this semester at the college. A new system of averaging grades of students has been adopted.

This will not change the rule that students are required to have the same number of grade points as semester hours to graduate. In considering students for graduation one hour of credit in a course in which a student makes the grade of A has counted three grade points, one hour of B, 2 grade points; one hour of C, 1 grade point; and one hour of D counts no points.

In the new system, each semester hour of grade A counts 6 points, each hour of grade B 4; each hour of grade C 2; grade D counts no points and each grade F counts -2 points. A student who had 3 hours of A, 6 hours of B, and 6 hours of C would have a grade average of 3.6.

Before this time, students could not be averaged according to grade points, as there were no points given or deducted for making F grades.

This method is in use in a number of other colleges. It will be more convenient than other systems of averages they have attempted, according to the president of the college.

A continuous comparison of accomplishment of groups will be studied so that the administration council may ascertain value of work done by groups and the influence of the group on the general average of its members, Dr. Bradford Knapp said.

Government Digs Deeper Into Charge Against Mellon, Ex-Utilities Czar

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 21. (AP)—Favored by a ruling that gave "every latitude" for investigation, the government today dug deep into the records of Andrew W. Mellon and adduced evidence designed to prove its charge the financier never divested himself of bank stock while acting as secretary of the treasury under three presidents.

Volumes and records of the Mellon financial structure were thrown open for scrutiny before the board of tax appeals to show, purportedly, that the cabinet member drew dividends in the form of interest from bank stock which he had sold to his brother, the late R. B. Mellon.

The brother had taken the stock in return for a $10,520,495 note on March 3, 1921, the day before Mellon became a member of president Harding's cabinet.

Nine years later, the records showed, Paul Mellon, the son of the financier, repurchased all the stock for exactly the same amount. Mellon's books, which had carried the records of the stock as a special "R. B. Mellon account," disclosed there was a surplus of about $300,000 left after interest payments to A. W. This sum was shown to have been given to Paul.

This evidence was introduced after Mellon's counsel, Frank J. Hogan, lost a fight to have it excluded on the ground it was irrelevant.

Ernest H. Van Fossan, chairman of the board hearing the case, ruled that "every latitude shall be given in the introduction of evidence" under the law. He said:

"It must be remembered that in this case there is a charge of fraud and the government has made broad and sweeping allegations."

Mellon was an interested spectator at the proceedings, which are based on his petition for a refund of $139,000 from the government over payment of his 1931 income tax account. Several times during the testimony of his confidential secretary, Howard McCracken Johnson, Mellon put on his prince-nez and studied rows of figures he took from his portfolio.

The government claims Mellon's return was fraudulent and that he owes $3,089,000 including a 50 per cent penalty.

Alexander Graham Bell used a dead man's ear in the mechanism of an apparatus which recorded the vibrations of the human voice. By speaking into the ear, the vibrations were traced on smoked glass.

OXYDOL BRINGS YOU SCIENCE'S FASTEST SAFE WAY TO GET "DIRTY DIRT" OUT OF CLOTHES

15 minutes to soak out dirt from clothes—safely! No wonder OXYDOL is called "the miracle soap of modern science." Because it not only ends the drudgery of scrubbing and boiling, but also works faster than even the fastest-washing soaps known today. Cuts washing time 25% to 40% in tub or machine. And gets clothes whiter in one washing than other granulated soaps can do in two washings!

Yet, due to the protection of its new and improved formula—the latest amazing discovery of the famous Procter & Gamble Company—colors won't fade, fabrics won't suffer! Even your sheerest cotton prints and children's dainty frocks are safe.

It cost more than one million dollars to perfect this amazing new soap! Try it, and end the drudgery of washday.

FDR's Signing Of Feed Loan Interpreted As Move To Keep Budget In Limits

Restlessness Is Increasing

Congress Feels It Has Made Sufficient Concessions To Chief Executive; Does Not Want To "Sit Around"

BY CLARENCE M. WRIGHT
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21 — Some Democratic leaders on Capitol Hill interpret President Roosevelt's action on a $60,000,000 seed loan as a new attempt to prevent congressional restlessness from expressing itself in such a way as to wreck the president's budget.

At the same time one leading Democrat said the "restlessness" was due in part to a feeling that congress has "yielded a lot of its functions to the executive branch" and does not want to "sit around and do nothing."

Money Not In Budget

Some time ago congress passed the $60,000,000 crop and seed loan bill. It represented money not included in the budget. Yesterday the president signed it, but recommended that since the funds were primarily for drouth relief the $60,000,000 should be taken out of the relief funds in the $4,880,000,000 work and relief bill now before the senate. Thus, he said, the seed money would not represent an increase in the budget estimates.

The high Democrats who expressed the opinions did not wish to be quoted by name, but one said privately that the president "went out of his way to put congress on notice that he intends to live up to his budget."

Brake Action Interpreted

"Under the terms of the bill as it was," another Democratic leader asserted, "the president could have made that allocation himself. He didn't have to ask congress to give him authority to do that.

"He foresees, apparently, new demands for expenditures on things he hasn't included in his budget, and figures that is the way to stop them."

Adds Romance To Literary Career

Her mother waited 60 years for recognition as an author, Ettie Stephens Prichard's childhood dream coming true at 67 with publication of her first book, but Margaret Prichard, above, New York short story writer, refused to wait for success—or romance. Well on her literary way, she'll combine a matrimonial career with work, her wedding to be a summer event in Chicago, the bridegroom, with whom she grew up in Princeton, Ill., to be James A. Carlson, now of Chicago.

Negro Woman Treated After Water Glass Broken On Head

A heavy water glass shattered against her forehead, Lola Simmons, 34-year-old negro, suffered two severe lacerations above her left eye in Bell cafe, 1714 Avenue A, about 11 o'clock last night.

A young negro man was sought as the Simmons woman's assailant. She said she "guessed I stepped" on the youth's toe. L. Butler, operator of the cafe, was "nodding" when the disturbance occurred and he did not know what caused the assault.

After treatment at police station by Dr. J. W. Rollo, city health officer, the woman was carried to her home.

Eighty per cent of people die without leaving any estate; 96 per cent of them leave less than $1000.

NEWS BRIEFS

A jury which heard trial of Bo Bryant, taxicab driver, for speeding was unable to agree yesterday afternoon and it was dismissed by Justice of the Peace J. J. Dillard, in whose court the trial was conducted.

H. W. Stanton, 2120 Thirteenth street, notified police yesterday that he had found a bicycle which had been stolen from Carey May, 1102 Fourteenth street.

Jimmie Frank Johnson, 20-day-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Johnson, 1510 Avenue F, died at 3 p. m. Thursday at the family residence. Funeral services will be conducted at the home at 3 p. m. today by Rev. Lowell Ponder, an uncle of the child, of Rochester, Tex. Burial, directed by Sanders Funeral home, will be in a cemetery here. The child was survived by his parents and two brothers, Harold and Lewis.

S. A. Beard and family left last night for Rush Springs, Okla., to attend funeral of Mr. Beard's father, G. W. Beard, who died Thursday.

A shorted electric current in a battery charger at Armstrong Radio shop, 1111 Avenue K, resulted in a run by fire department equipment at 9:22 o'clock last night. Damage was negligible.

A 48-year-old Lubbock man was arrested in 300-block Avenue O last night for drunkenness and distrubance.

Because Mary Sweatt, 33-year-old negro, did not stay away from drink, she was in county jail yesterday facing a charge of wielding a butcher knife when another negro woman angered her. The Sweatt woman was arrested by police Wednesday night for drunkenness. She had been charged several days ago in county court with aggravated assault upon another negro woman, whose thumb she nearly had severed. The thumb however, saved a neck, as the victim had lifted her hand to fend off the blade.

Owen McWhorter, at a meeting of Lubbock Kiwanis club in Lubbock hotel yesterday, discussed "George Washington as a Man, Rather than a Myth." He outlined briefly the great patriot's life and gave a resume of his political achievements and characteristics as a man. H. D. Woods was program chairman. Miss Ruth Mildred Rylander entertained with two vocal selections, accompanied at the piano by Miss Ruth Elaine Lewis.

Annual banquet of ex-students and graduates of University of Texas of Lubbock and vicinity will be conducted at Hilton hotel Friday night, March 2, Wm. H. Evans, president of the local organization, has announced. The banquet is scheduled to begin at 7 p. m. Mr. Evans is requesting all former students of the university who plan to attend the affair to make their reservations with him at telephone 368 or at the hotel.

Three quarts of hair oil and a quart of hair tonic were stolen from Charme Chemical company, 2415 Main street, late Wednesday or early Thursday, police reported. G. R. Martin of the cosmic company's laboratories discovered the burglary about 8 a. m. yesterday, police said.

A lunacy hearing in county court to determine whether a 75-year-old Slaton recluse should be committed to an institution will be conducted probably this morning, County Attorney Jess C. Levens said. The man, who had alleged attempts had been made to poison him, was taken into custody yesterday morning when he appeared at the office of County Attorney Levens for an answer to a letter he had written to the prosecutor. Two alienists examined him in county jail later. He once won a jury verdict, permitting him freedom in a county court hearing here, the county attorney said.

Police Reveal Better Method

New Powder Smeared On Object Does Not Require Photo To Bring Out Fingerprints Of One Who Handled

TAUNTON, England, Feb. 21. (AP)—An invention which may revolutionize the whole of the present system of recording fingerprints left on objects handled by criminals, is the work of a police officer here in Somerset.

In the quiet of this typical English market town, Detective Inspector Webber of the local police force has been making exhaustive experiments with a chemical powder which he has submitted for tests to government analysts and the head of the fingerprint department at Scotland Yard, London.

Possibilities Impressive

These experts have tested his powder and say they are impressed with its possibilities.

Its innovation is that it dispenses with the need for a camera in taking fingerprints, enabling far more rapid results to be obtained.

By the present system, the object handled by the criminal has to be smeared with a powder which brings out the detail of any telltale marks left upon it, and then it has to be photographed. The new powder merely has to be smeared over the object, when trace of any fingerprints upon it is revealed instantly. No photographic process is necessary.

Sheep Raising And Gardening Occupy Mrs. Stoll In Her Effort To Forget

BY D. L. PITKIN

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Feb. 21. (AP)—The quiet tenor of the life of Mrs. Alice Speed Stoll, rudely interrupted last October 10 by the melodrama in which she played the role of a kidnaper's victim, has been restored. As a "dirt farmer" she is seeking forgetfulness from the harrowing experiences she suffered in the week before she was released for $50,000 ransom.

Melodrama never had any place in the scheme of things for the quiet-mannered, sweet-spoken young society woman whose entire life had been sheltered.

Shunning publicity, she has never discussed the kidnaping with anyone other than members of the immediate family and department of justice agents. The instructions of the government agents that she say nothing until she takes the witness stand in the trial of those charged with the kidnaping she has obeyed to the letter.

"I have been instructed by my attorney not to give any interviews," she said. "We do not care for publicity."

The trial of Mrs. Frances Robinson, wife of the alleged kidnaper, has been continued by Federal Judge Charles I. Dawson until February 11 pending the appeal of her father, Thomas H. Robinson, sr., from a Tennessee federal district court decision ordering him transferred to Louisville for trial.

Mrs. Robinson and her father are charged with conspiracy in connection with the kidnaping. He is at liberty under $25,000 bond at Nashville, Tenn., and she is held in jail here in default of similar bond. They were alleged to have aided and abetted young Robinson in the kidnaping, but claim their purpose was to aid the government agents and protect Mrs. Stoll.

While her husband, Berry V. Stoll, takes time from his duties as an executive of the Stoll Oil Refining company to assist federal agents in their hunt for young Robinson, Mrs. Stoll devotes her full attention to the care of their "farm" and to the activities she engaged in before the kidnaping.

To the Stolls, their modest brick home and 16-acre tract near Louisville is not an "estate," but a farm. Stoll refers to his wife as a "dirt farmer," but does not apply the title to himself as most of his time is taken up in business.

Adviser On Gardening

Published references to their home as a "mansion" and the surrounding land as a "southern plantation" amused the Stolls. He said the house cost only $7,000.

In the boom days the Stolls pioneered in the "back to the soil" movement and decided life in the country was more desirable than the city.

Mrs. Stoll finds pleasure in raising sheep, planting fruit trees, flowers and a garden. A negro servant is her trusted adviser in gardening.

Recently Mrs. Stoll took up landscape architecture as a hobby which she finds of practical value in developing her "farm." She also finds time to attend art classes and to continue her study of music. She is an accomplished pianist.

Supporter Of Y. W. C. A.

If Mrs. Stoll permits herself to worry about anything now, it is as to whether the Y. W. C. A. cafeteria will show a profit. She is an active supporter of the local Y. W. C. A., serving as one of its officers. She also serves on the budget committee of the Louisville community chest, the clearing house of charitable activities. Junior league work gets some of her time.

Woman Spins More Than 300 Miles Of Thread Over Past 32 Years; All Spools Kept

CASTLE DAWSON, Northern Ireland, Feb. 21. (AP)—Somthing in the way of a long-distance needlework record has been set here.

In the past 32 years, nearly 300 miles of thread have spun under the tireless fingers of Mrs. R. Pickering, who boasts a collection of 2,024 empty spools. Each spool originally held more than 250 yards of thread.

She has kept each spool as she emptied it since 1903. Nearly 60, she does not use spectacles despite the strain of thousands of hours of sewing on intricate patterns.

America Discovered All Over Again— This Time By Musical Chris Columbus

BY JOHN SELBY

NEW YORK, Feb. 21. (AP)—America has been discovered all over again, this time by a musical Columbus. The discoverer is a woman, a violinist, and a Hungarian. Her name is Edith Lorand.

"I thought I knew a lot about America before I came here," says Miss Lorand, whose first name is Edith because of a Scottish grandmother. "But it's nothing like I thought.

"Europeans still say, and why I can't imagine, that there is no fundamental musical culture here. Well, I have heard almost everything important since I've been in New York, and I find Americans do 'sleep' through some music.

"They sleep through the commonplace music. But when something really good is done, they recognize it instantly and show their pleasure marvelously. So far I've heard only one of your great orchestras, the Philharmonic-Symphony. I don't know enough English to explain how I feel. It is a dream—incredible. We have nothing like it in Europe."

Miss Lorand should know. She has played as soloist with every large European orchestra. She has played solo recitals and chamber music throughout the continent. She has made 2,500 separate recordings, which have sold in the millions.

She also has played many radio engagements, made musical films, arranged quantities of Hungarian music for concert performance, and originated something new and personal.

This is her series of dance programs—not jazz to be danced to, but historical resumes of the dance, using the music of Bach, Beethoven, Mozart, Schubert, Lanner and the Strausses. These she plays with a small orchestra, which she conducts while acting also as its concertmaster.

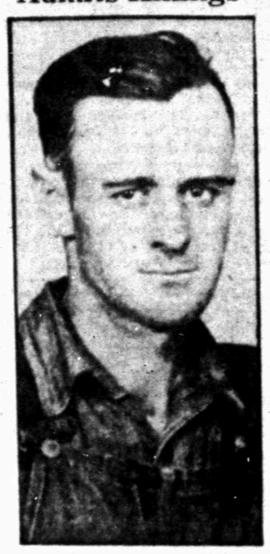

Miss Lorand has an ambition. It is to make America know and understand Hungarian music.

"I hear good Hungarian tunes credited to the gipsies," says she. "And others are called Viennese. Many are not known at all.

"I shall play our music, and I think I shall also dress in Hungarian costume so people will know what it looks like. I saw a 'Hungarian' ballet the other day in which the costume was half Bavarian and half Spanish.

"That," said Miss Lorand, smiting lustily the arm of her chair, "is scandalous!"

Admits Killings

Frank Bechtoldt (above) has confessed, County Attorney C. E. Shouse said, to the slaying of Bertha and Howard Scammel near Columbus, Kas., because they "sent him on a wild goose chase to California."

OLTON WOMAN DIES

OLTON, (Special)—Mrs. Lucynda Cates, 92, who died Feb. 13, at the home of a step-son, Tom Cates, was buried Thursday. She had lived here two years. Three stepsons survive.

Germany is estimated to use one-fourth of the world's chemical plant fertilizers in an area slightly larger than the combined areas of New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana.

Russia exported more than a million pounds of candy to this country during the first three months of 1931.

ARE YOU RUNDOWN, WEAK?

MANY women of middle age who are passing thru the "change of life" need a dependable tonic. Then there are those women who suffer from weakening drains. All such women need the tonic effect of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Mrs. C. C. Carson of 7836 Ave. E., Houston, Texas, says: "About three years ago I was in a rundown condition and suffered from irregularity, cramps and frequent headaches. I used Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and regained my strength and had no more trouble of any kind." New size, tablets 50 cts., liquid $1.00. Large size, tabs. or liquid, $1.35. All druggists. DECRY FLORAL FUNERALS

BERLIN (AP)—Victor Lutze, chief of staff of the brown shirts, says too much money is being spent on flowers at funerals. He has decreed that only plain laurel or oak leaf wreaths, tied with a simple ribbon, shall be used, the money thus saved to be given to the winter relief fund.

DEMOCRATS TO ORGANIZE

MATADOR, (Special) — Motley county Young Democrats will meet in the district court room here March 1 to form a Motley county chapter. At least 25 members are necessary to form a chapter.

The first poet to assume the title of poet laureate of England was Geoffrey Chaucer, who, in 1389, received a royal grant of a yearly allowance of wine as one of the perquisites of the office.

QUICKER, SAFER STOPS

With Dodge Perfected, Dual-Cylinder Hydraulic Brakes

JUST when others are offering their first hydraulic-type brakes, Dodge gives you the extra safety of Perfected, Dual-Cylinder Hydraulic Brakes, pioneered years ago by Dodge and proved in the service of hundreds of thousands of owners.

With 20% more braking surface—fully equalized against skidding or swerving—they get thousands of extra miles from tires and brake linings—give greater operating ease, quicker, surer stops—more safety than ever. Remember, there can be no successful imitation of Dodge brakes—or their safety!—without Dodge experience and manufacturing precision.

Here is a big, smart, 85-mile-per-hour car that actually gives you three to five more miles per gallon of gas than lower-priced cars. And even more astonishing economy of oil! With all its savings, the Dodge "Red Ram" engine gives brilliant new ranges of speed—flashing pick-up—silky silence and ease. Its famous patented Floating Power engine mountings smother vibration, which racks ordinary cars to pieces.

The final word in protection—the famous Dodge safety all-steel body is known to nearly 3,000,000 Dodge owners.

Only the genius of a manufacturing organization such as Dodge—with such complete facilities, with 20 years of experience in building nearly three million fine vehicles—could create such astounding dollar-for-dollar value!

Soviet Publications Brand German Peace Semblance Disguised War Front

Aggression In Intent Charge

Soviet For Peace Pacts Only In Entirety; Triple Alliance Against Russia Emblazoned On Front Pages

BY JOHN LLOYD
Associated Press Foreign Staff

MOSCOW, Feb. 21—The official organs of Soviet opinion upbraided Germany today with accusations of plans for aggression in both eastern and central Europe.

On the heels of the approval of the London agreements extended by Maxim Litvinoff, commissar for foreign affairs, on the condition they are made effective in their entirety, the authoritative press pictured the nazis as hungry for war under the disguise of 'diplomatic chattering."

Charges Are Aired

General display was given charges by the Czechoslovakian newspaper Narodni Politika that Japan, Germany and Poland were preparing for war against the Soviet union. The influential Pravda and Izvestia, however, concentrated their attacks on Germany with incidental jibes at England.

"German fascism," said Pravda, "is getting ready to occupy east and central Europe in order to prepare for war on the western front. That is why it is against the eastern pacts and mutual assistance.

"Further, it is trying with English help to destroy Franco-Soviet cooperation. The English bourgeoisie must take into account that the mass of English toilers does not want war and does not approve of encouraging the adventuristic plans of German fascism.

Up To English

"The English government has taken to complicated maneuvers, but is now faced by the general conclusion that if it necessary to accelerate the completion of regional pacts, above all the eastern pact, and that it is up to the English ruling circles to promote this end."

Soviet Russia has lined with France and Great Britain in an effort to obtain from Germany unqualified adherence to the principles of the London agreements.

Russia's views were contained in messages sent by Maxim Litvinoff, commissar for foreign affairs, to the French and British governments and made public last night.

Russian Note, Nicely Timed, Big Surprise

LONDON, Feb. 21 (AP)—Diplomatic quarters today viewed Russia's unexpected and shrewdly timed note demanding that Great Britain and France stand solidly behind their entire pacification program as an adroit move to forestall any further concessions to Germany.

The note arrived only a few hours after the cabinet had debated the question of sending Sir John Simon, foreign secretary, to Berlin for the direct conversations suggested by Reichsfuehrer Hitler.

Encourages Breach

Despite the Soviet's warning that "disregarding" any one of the regional agreements projected at London would be "open encouragement of a breach of peace in the region concerned," British officials remained lukewarm toward the proposed eastern Locarno pact. Russia favors an eastern security agreement as sponsored by France, but Germany has been hostile to it.

The soviet note came as a surprise here as the British had intended for the present to keep negotiations within the circle of the Locarno signatories. When the Anglo-French talks ended, the British foreign office ignored Russia by contacting only the embassies of Germany, Italy, Belgium and the United States.

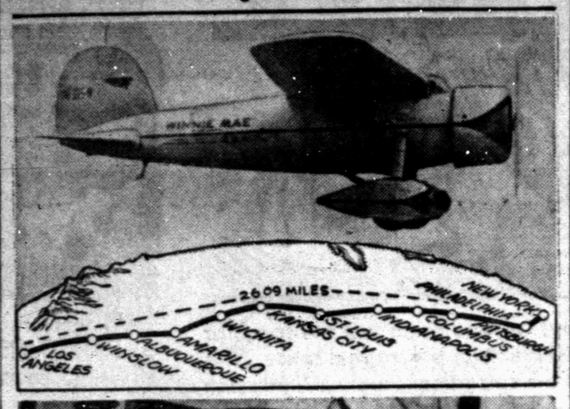

Other Towns Get Good Fire Record Credit, Announced

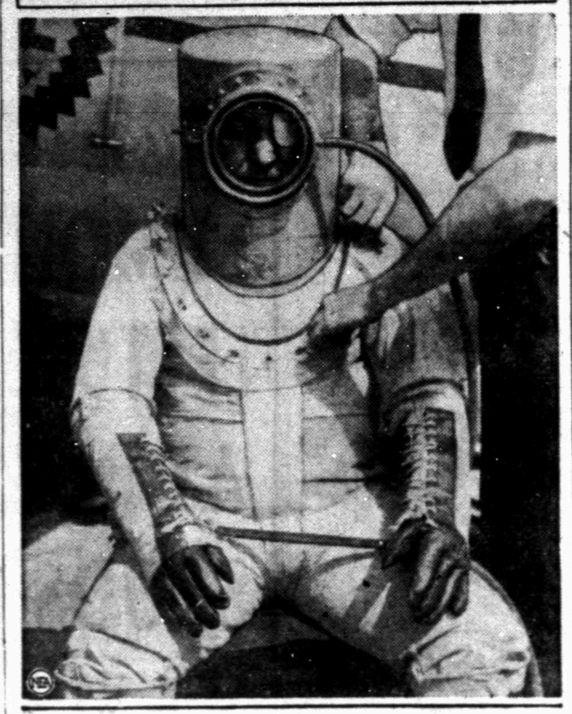

Fifteen per cent credits on fire insurance premiums for good fire records were granted Petersburg, Ralls, Post, Seagraves, Spur, Sudan, and Tahoka Wednesday by the state insurance department, the Associated Press at Austin reported.

Slaton received 6 per cent credit, Snyder 3 per cent credit. Southland was penalized 6 per cent.

Exports from Russian Black Sea ports passing Istanbul during the first nine months of the current year registered an increase of 12 per cent compared with the corresponding period of 1933.

Aims To Hop U.S. In 7 Hours

Los Angeles to New York in seven hours, flying at an altitude of 30,000 feet! That is the sensational feat, cutting three hours from the present mark, which Wiley Post, one-eyed globe-girdling speed demon, hopes to accomplish, carrying a limited load of mail. The cabin of his streamlined Winnie Mae, top photo, in which he will make the attempt, has been made airtight to save oxygen in the stratosphere. The map shows the regular TWA mail route which Post will follow. The airman is shown below in his specially constructed suit of rubberized balloon silk, built to prevent possible bursting of heart, lungs, and other organs in the lowered pressure of the stratosphere.

Cusack Retarded Again As Court Action Deferred

CUERO, Feb. 21. (AP) — Charles Cusack's legal battle to regain custody of his three sons was temporarily balked in district court here today when attorneys for the parents of his estranged wife obtained a postponement of the hearing until Feb. 28.

Former Governor Dan Moody and other lawyers representing Mr. and Mrs. Thornton Hamilton, the parents of Mrs. Cusack, petitioned the court for a continuance on the grounds that the parties they represented were not ready for immediate disposal of the case.

The three boys, Charles, jr., 9, Thornton Hamilton, 7, and William Leroy, 5, have been staying at the Hamilton home her, closely guarded, since Mrs. Cusack brought them from Beverly Hills, Calif., during the Christmas holidays. Cusack's attempts to regain custody of the children at that time were frustrated, although he followed his wife to Texas with a California court order.

Break The Grip Of "LAXATIVE HABIT"

The easy way to unkick the grip of dangerous laxative habit is to take delicious Feen-a-mint. It is the delightful tasting chewing gum that contains the laxative ingredient which medical research has proven does not form a habit. Because you chew Feen-a-mint the laxative is mixed with helpful salivary juices and so enters your system scientifically and as nature intended. No laxative mess hits you suddenly to disrupt delicate functions. Feen-a-mint is prompt, fully thorough and yet so kind in its action that doctors recommend it for the entire family. Remember—delay is dangerous. Today, get back on schedule and stay there. Delicious Feen-a-mint, 15c and 25c at druggists.

Relief Funds Hold Problem

Spreading Of Monies Through Remainder Of Year Concerns Legislators; Problem Given No Tenable Solution

AUSTIN, Feb. 21 (AP)—The problem of spreading meagre funds for relief through the remainder of the year remained unsolved in the Texas legislature today.

The house amended a senate bill to sharply curtail expenditures from the $3,500,000 in bonds remaining unsold from an original issue of $20,000,000 and adjourned until tomorrow without final action. The senate adjourned to Monday after a brief session.

The house proposed to use $750,000 in March and a like amount in April and to reduce the allotment for May, June, July, August, September, and October and November to $400,000 with $700,000 to be expended in December.

Construction Hope Held

Members hoped public works construction would provide employment for a majority of those physically able to work and that state funds could be used primarily for relief of unemployables.

An amendment was pending on adjournment to authorize the board of control to use a portion of the fund to construct a relief headquarters building in Austin to eliminate payment of $1,000 a month rental.

The senate, its session interrupted by a joint meeting to hear the governor, gave up attempts to consider the oil injunction bill and adjourned until Monday, as Friday, usual week-end adjournment day, will be George Washington's birthday.

Oil Bill Up

The oil injunction bill, to prohibit issuance of restraining orders against railroad commission oil orders without notice, was special order, but Sen. Clint Small of Amarillo, sponsor did not complete his opening explanation.

Mrs. I. D. Fairchild of Lufkin, recently confirmed as University of Texas regent, addressed the senate. Her late husband was a senator for several years.

Public hearings were announced by the senate health committee on the dental anti-advertising bill March 7, and the bill to permit Christian Scientists to operate with a medical license for March 14.

The world's smallest postoffice is in the Straits of Magellan. It is a small painted cask chained to the rocks in such way as to allow it to float freely. Passing ships send a boat to it to take letters out and put others in. It is under the protection of all navies of the world.

The United States contains the richest community in the world. It is the Klamath Indian tribe, with a potential per capita wealth of $28,000, located on a 1,000,000-acre reservation in southern Oregon.

Corn-Hog Pact Signers Meet

Seven Groups To Gather; Meet For Monday Night Also Is Slated; 474 Contracts Are Signed For 1935

Corn-hog contract signers are to meet tonight and Monday in group meetings to select committeemen for 1935, P. T. Montfort, county agent, said.

Seven group meetings will be held tonight and one Monday night. The group composed of producers at Slide, Barton and Foster has not announced its date.

Total of 474 contracts for 1935 have been signed, Mr. Montfort said. Last year there were 578 contracts. There are about 45 new contracts this year, most including small producers.

Tonight's Schedule

Meetings scheduled for tonight: Estacado, Center and Becton at Becton school; Slaton, Posey and McClung at Slaton city hall; Woodrow, New Hope and Southeast Ward at Woodrow school; Wolfforth, Southwest Ward, Hurlwood and Carlisle at Wolfforth; Shallowater, Hardy and County Line at Hardy school; Liberty, Northwest Ward and Northeast Ward at Northeast Ward school; Monroe, Grovesville and Caldwell at Grovesville school.

Monday night Idalou, Acuff and Canyon meet at the Idalou community club house.

Shipments of American iron and steel products to foreign countries during September were larger than for any other month since the abnormal consumption of such products during the World war.

Old Age Pension Subject Of Address Saturday Afternoon

H. H. Halsell, Lubbock man who has recently returned from a 10 day visit in Washington, will speak here Saturday afternoon on the subject "The Position of Congress on the Old Age Pension."

Mr. Halsell, an old age pension advocate, was sent to Washington by others interested in the project and who paid his expenses to and from the national capital. His speech, he says, will be in the form of a report on his learnings while in Washington.

Paste Jewels Adorn Society

Socialites Of Mayfair Show Ingenious Method To Shave Insurance Rates Caused By Numerous Thefts

LONDON, Feb. 21. (AP)—Glittering diamonds ablaze at the throats of Mayfair socialites, these days, more often than not are paste.

Hard times, a wave of gem thefts and the high cost of insurance have combined to banish many of the world's most famous jewels to the dark security of bank vaults, while their owners—not always consciously—display ingenious imitations.

"I think it is safe to say that most of the world's great stones have now been copied," said one of the leading jewellers of London. "When they are worn, only the owners know which is which—and not always then.

Insignia Of Garter Copied

"The extraordinary improvement made in the last few years in the reproductions of gems has brought about this situation. Today there is no jewel which cannot be copied so faithfully that even experts are deceived."

A London firm now makes facsimilies of the highest honor within the gift of the king—the insignia of the Most Noble Order of the Garter—for $150. The genuine insignia, made of gold set wth diamonds and fine emeralds, costs at least $22,500.

A reproduction of one of the world's most famous ropes of pearls, recently completed, cost $300. By contrast, the original was insured for $85,000.

Husband Fools Wife

One London hostess who travels extensively and always takes her jewels, was paying premiums amounting to $40,000. She still flashes jewels at Biarritz, Cannes and Monte Carlo.

As far as she knows, they are worth tens of thousands of pounds. But, her husband no longer pays that $40,000 insurance a year. He and a certain jeweler alone know they are paste.

Beef, Beer And 'Baccy To Be Given English Oldsters Through Will Of Altruist

HURSTBOURNE TARRANT, Eng., Feb. 21. (AP) — Oldsters of thsi Hampshire village are smacking their lips and puffing with a little deeper enjoyment on their pipes, because every Christmas henceforth they will receive:

Five pounds of English beef, one gallon of beer, half a pound of tobacco and five shilling in cash.

The annual gifts are provided in the will of Henry Wykey Prosser, of Windmill, who left a nestate of $970,475.

Every "working man of 60 or more who has lived in the village" qualifies for the Yule-tide windfall.

Aged working women are to get the same order of beef and cash, but no tobacco and instead of beer they will receive a pound of tea.

The world's largest organ is said to be that in the convention hall in Atlantic City, N. J. It has 35,000 pipes, 100 stops, and 8 keyboards.

Science Courses Given In French, German At Tech

Scientific instruction in German and French is being offered at Texas Technological college this semester. Graded reading in chemistry, physics, geology, mineralogy and anatomy is provided in German courses 233X and 234X, which also include review of grammar and practical information about Germany.

For students capable of reading more advanced texts with the help of a dictionary, and wishing to specialize in the reading of some particular science, popular and secondary school texts are provided.

Efforts are being made to procure publications in the German langauge on chemistry, physics, botany zoology and medicine, and similar reading matter in French. A course for second-year science students is being offered.

The foreign langauge department is subscribing for current German and French magazines in scientific fields.

District Cage Tournament Opens Here; Favorites Falter On Houston Course

Sixteen Teams Are Scheduled To Play Today

Lamesa, Lubbock, Shallowater And Levelland Expected To Survive First Round Play; Games Start At 9 O'Clock

With Lamesa's Golden Tornadoes, Shallowater's high-flying cagers, Levelland's Loboes and the Lubbock Westerners among the teams favored by dope, the annual District 3 interscholastic league basketball tournament gets away at the Texas Tech gymnasium this morning at 9 o'clock.

It is a tournament of champions, and the second important step toward the state championship tournament.

Winners of county-wide tournaments from fourteen South Plains counties, plus the two Class A teams of the district Lubbock and Plainview High schools which were not obligated to play in county tournaments, are scheduled in a sixteen-team double bracket.

Terry And Garza Open

Champions of Terry and Garza county are scheduled to open the tournament at 9 o'clock this morning. Games follow on the hour for the remaining of the day until 10 o'clock tonight.

Twelve games are scheduled for today, three for Saturday.

In the second game this morning, the Plainview Bulldogs will meet Abernathy's cagers, winners of the Hale county tournament. The winner will meet the victor of the Terry-Garza game at 5 o'clock this afternoon.

Lamesa Plays Olton

Lamesa's Tornadoes make their first bid in defense of their district title at 11 o'clock this morning, playing Olton, the Lamb county winner, in a first round game. Lamesa is favored to win, and to meet the winner of the Lorenzo-Dickens game at 7 o'clock this evening.

Lorenzo, champion of Crosby county, plays Dickens at 12 noon today.

Continuing the first round game this afternoon, Baileyboro, the champion of Bailey county, meets Floyd county's representative at 1 o'clock. Morton, the Cochran county delegate, plays the strong Levelland team, victor over Ropesville in the Hockley county tournament, at 2 o'clock. Winners of the two games clash at 9 o'clock this evening in a second round contest. Levelland is a slight favorite to continue.

Lubbock Vs. Wilson

Wilson, the Lynn county champ-Westerners at 4 o'clock this afternoon, engages Lubbock High schools noon, and the winner takes on either Shallowater or Plains at 8 o'clock tonight in a quarter-final game.

The Westerners will employ the services today for the first time of one Wassom, who barely gets in under the eligibility wire in time for the district tournament. Wassom is considered to be a valuable addition to the Westerner forces.

Shallowater, winner of the Lubbock county tournament, is a favorite to beat Plains, the Yoakum county representative, in their first round game at 3 o'clock this afternoon. Shallowater and Lubbock High are seen as second round opponents tonight.

Semi-final games are scheduled for 9 and 10 o'clock Saturday morning, and the final at 8 o'clock tonight. If consolation games are played, they probably will follow the championship contest.

Lamesa's team worked out on the Tech court Tuesday night, and impressed onlookers with their height and ability to shoot baskets. The Tornadoes won the district, bi-district and regional titles last year and entered the state tournament at Austin.

Texas Netter Will Play In Miami Beach Net Semi-Final

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 21 (AP)—Two foreign-born tennis masters swept aside young Americans today to enter the semi-finals of Miami Beach's first annual professional tennis tourney.

Hans Nusslein of Berlin, United States champion, defeated Charles F. Wood, jr., of New York, seeded fifth, 6-1, 6-1, 6-1.

Karel Kozeluh, the Czechoslovak from Norwood, Ill., former champion, eliminated Bill Einsmann of Brooklyn, former national boys' champion, 6-1, 6-2, 6-2.

In the other two quarter-final matches, Bruce Barnes of Austin, Texas, bested Herman Peterson of Fishers Island, N. Y., 6-3, 6-8, 6-2, 6-2. Vincent Richards, former Davis Cup player, was leading Peter Peterson of Spring Lake, N. J., 6-4, 7-5, 2-3, when darkness intervened.

Shallowater Girls Win Over Littlefield Team, 35 To 30

SHALLOWATER, Feb. 21 (Special)—The Shallowater High school girls basketball team defeated the Littlefield girls, 35 to 30, here tonight in an interesting contest.

Shallowater is an established favorite in the district tournament at Wilson March 1 and 2.

Preceding the girls game tonight, the Shallowater junior boys team downed the Plainview Juniors, 21 to 18.

Varsity Track And Field Candidates Of Tech Meet Today; 5 Meets Booked

Sport To Be Placed On Major Basis This Season

Candidates for the Texas Tech varsity track and field team have been invited to attend a meeting with Coach Virgil Ballard this afternoon at 5 o'clock in the athletic department offices.

Ballard, varsity basketball and freshman football mentor, also will undertake to administer to the track and field boys this spring.

To Be Emphasized

Track and field is to be recognized as a major sport at Tech this spring, and Ballard has signified his intentions of emphasizing this branch of Tech athletics, which has all but fallen into the discard during recent years. He will have the cooperation of Pete Cawthon, head coach and athletic director, and Dutchy Smith, assistant, in building up a representative team of runners and weight men.

At the conclusion of the track season and after Tech participates in the Border conference track and field meet at Albuquerque about April 11, outstanding performers will be awarded letters and trophies in line with football and basketball rewards.

Ballard said the Matador thinly clads would indulge in an extensive, intercollegiate schedule this spring. Four duel meets have been definitely scheduled, besides the confernce meet.

To Meet Buffs

The Matadors, who will enter an intensive training season next week, will meet the West Texas State Teachers collge track and field team here April 6, and will return the meet at Canyon on April 13. New Mexico A. & M. sends its team here April 20, and Tech meets University of New Mexico at Albuquerque on May 4, one week before the conference tournament.

Ballard expects to announce a track and field personnel after today's meeting. He hinted yesterday that he expected quite an array of talent to respond. Several members of the varsity football and basekthall teams are expected to report for track and field this season.

West Texas Frosh Cagers Win Over Tech Fish, 34-20

The Texas Tech freshmen bowed to the West Texas State Teachers college Yearlings, 30 to 34, in a scrappy basketball game at the Tech gym last night.

Eleven players were used by the West Texas coach. Taylor, forward, took scoring honors with six field goals and two free buckets, nosing out Wiginton of the Tech team by the margin of the gratis shots.

Case, Picador center, scored eight points, all from scrimmage, for third place. Patterson and Henderson were other scorers for Tech's first year men, who are coached by Juicy Owen.

The game was close all the way, and victory was either teams until the final minutes.

Tommy Field Named Mentor Weatherford College Gridmen

DALLAS, Feb. 21. (AP) — Tommy Field, husky Southern Methodist university football guard, today was notified by President R. C. Boger of Weatherford college that he had been selected as that school's football coach.

The appointment becomes effective next fall.

Field succeeds Byron Rhome, who has accepted the post of athletic director at Texas Woman's college, Fort Worth co-educational school.

Field, a former Weatherford star, played two seasons with the Mustangs, his elegibility ending last season.

Stars Are Missing Tonight When Mustangs Play Porkers

DALLAS, Feb. 21. (AP)—Each suffering the loss of a star, the Southern Methodist university Mustangs and University of Arkansas Porkers will clash here Friday and Saturday nights in a series that may decide the Southwest conference title.

Paul Briggs, veteran Mustang guard, is confined to bed with a case of mumps and Taft Moody, scoring demon of the rangy Razorbacks, has a leg injury that will keep him out of the line-up.

The Mustangs have another player, Truman Spain, out with symptoms of mumps. The towering reserve guard reported ill yesterday.

The Mustangs could leap into a first place tie with Arkansas by sweeping the series.

BASKETBALL RESULTS

West Texas Freshmen 34; Texas Tech Freshmen 30.

T. C. U. 25; Rice 29.

McMurry 49; Austin college 39.

Southwestern 23; Daniel Baker 29.

South Carolina 34; Duke 37.

Temple 42; George Washington 38.

HUNTERS, beware of the sluggish, tired rabbit.

If the cotton-tail or jackrabbit has a tendency to show that tired feeling in the field, he is more than likely, suffering from tularemia, or "rabbit fever."

According to Dr. D. M. Nigro, friend of the late Knute Rockne and widely known midwestern public health official, tularemia is "a plague-like disease of rodents; an acute infection, non-contagious, due to infection by bacterium tularense, which appears in man after exposure to the skin, hides or flesh of infected r[illegible]

"This is carried from animal to animal by bites, and given to man as a result of handling skins of infected rabbits. Epidemics occur among men who prepare rabbits for market."

Although the disease is very prevalent among wild rabbits and squirrels, too, in some sections, it is seldom found in domestic rabbits. It may be fatal but no deaths from it have occurred since 1930 in one large city which had its first puzzling case a few years earlier, when the patient attracted the attention of many physicians.

The first patient recovered only after samples of his blood had been sent to Washington to determine the nature of the disease. He has since been called upon to provide blood for transfusions to save infected victims.

Wear Rubber Gloves

THE symptoms of the infection usually are severe chills, fever, pains and aches about the body and muscles of the back," Dr. Nigro says. "Incubation period ranges from one to six days, averaging three to four days. The treatment is symptomatic; there is no specific treatment. Local hot packs are placed over enlarged glands and infected parts. As a rule it gets into the blood stream and infects the lymphatic glands.

"Hunters should be cautious after-shooting or killing rabbits, especially those which are sluggish and do not try to make the customary getaway. Only a sick rabbit will refuse to hop away rapidly.

"Prevention calls for the wearing of rubber gloves while handling rabbits, and washing the hands with a strong antiseptic solution after handling. If there is a skin eruption or small cut do not handle rabbits.

"Tularemia is a reportable disease and should be reported to health authorities."

Ballin' The Jack

OUT where the west begins and cattle are on a Russian thistle ration because of the drought, the annual campaign against the jack rabbit has acquired renewed vigor.

Veteran hunters throughout the prairie and mountain states are leading townsfilk and farmers into the battle being waged by county farm bureaus against the common enemy. The rabbits weigh up to 10 pounds.

With ranchers and farmers trying to save the least bit of vegetation for livestock, this long-earned denizen of the plains finds himself facing organized drives all along the front.

Men, women and cildren take part in the roundups, armed with golf tools, garden implements, lengths of pipe and clubs. The jacks are driven into pens constructed by relief labor. A yield of 5,000 in one day is not unusual.

Kansas, with short crops as a result of dry growing seasons, has its perennial jack rabbit problem to contend with. The state has declared war on the thousands of jacks, which, authorities estimate, cost the farmers at least a dollar a head to maintain for one year.

So serious has the problem become that one county paid $200 for shotgun shells to be used by hunters in the eradication campaign. Poisoning was tried without much success.

Art Shires May Manage Club At Harrisburg In NYP Loop

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 21. (AP) — Walter Smallwood, business manager of the Albany International league baseball team, said today a letter from Joe Cambria asserted that Cambria had hired Art Shires to manage the Harrisburg, Pa., team of the New York Pennsylvania league.

It was reported yesterday Cambria, owner of the Albany club, also had acquired the Harrisburgh franchise.

Shires, a Texan, is a one time big leaguer.

George Milstead, Southpaw, Signed By Fort Worth Cats

FORT WORTH, Feb. 21. (AP)—At the suggestion of Manager John Heving, George E. Milstead, left handed pitcher, has been signed by Roy Meehan, business manager of the Fort Worth ball club.

He is a veteran, 33, who served in major, Class AA and Class A leagues for the last nine years. He won 10 and lost seven for Buffalo in the international last year.

It is said that the average American eats his weight in meat annually.

Westerners To Play El Paso

Chapman Announces Agreement With El Paso High For Game There In September; Squad Scrimmages In Workout

The Lubbock Westerner footballers, marking the second week of spring training with a scrimmage session in which every candidate for the 1935 team saw a bit of service, were told yesterday by Coach Weldon Chapman that they would journey to El Paso again this year for a ball game.

The Westerners will play El Paso High school there on September 28, Chapman said. It will mark the first game between the teams since Chapman became coach here. The Westerners dfeated Austin High of El Paso, 25 to 6 last season, at El Paso.

Lubbock made a two-year contract with the El Paso school. The Border team will return the visit in 1936. Othol Martin is coach at El Paso High.

Other games scheduled by Lubbock for 1935, in addition to the District 1 bookings, are with Abilene at Abilene on Oct. 5 and with Clovis, N. M., on Nov. 2 here. Lubbock is tentatively scheduled to meet Sweetwater there October 19.

About fifty candidates for this fall's team cavorted in a pleasing scrimmage session at the Fair Park field yesterday.

Hardin-Simmons Plays Baylor And SMU On Gridiron

ABILENE, Feb. 21 (Special) — Two games with Southwest Conference teams, one intersectional tiff, and seven engagements with some of the minor conference competition in Texas compose the 1936 football schedule of Hardin-Simmons University.

The intersectional altercation is with Morningside College at Sioux City, Iowa. Morningside will repay the visit in 1936, on Thanksgiving day. Baylor and S. M. U. are the Southwest teams playing the Ranchers. A new opponents will be the Texas A. & I., powerful squad from Kingsville, which has lost but four games in the last five seasons.

Out Of Race

As the schedule stands, the Cowboys will not be contenders for the Texas Conference title. They play but three members of the conference, whereas the championship requirement is six games.

The card, to which may be added a game with St. Mary's of San Antonio on Oct. 19, follows:

Sept. 20.—Texas Tech at Abilene.
Sept. 28—Baylor at Waco.
Oct. 4—St. Edwards at Abilene.
Oct. 11—Morningside at Sioux City, Iowa.
Oct. 26—S. M. U. at Wichita Falls
Nov. 2—Sul Ross at Alpine.
Nov. 11—Texas A. & I. at Abilene
Nov. 16—Howard Payne at Brownwood.
Nov. 23—College of Mines at El Paso.
Nov. 28—Daniel Baker at Brownwood.

Glenn Cunningham To Enter Texas Relays On March 30

AUSTIN, Feb. 21. (AP) — Glenn Cunningham, holder of the world record for the mile run and who last week set a new record for the mile indoor, will participate in the Texas Relays March 30, the athletic council of the University of Texas announced today.

The council decided not to invite Ralph Metcalfe, Marquette university's negro sprinter, to participate.

JUST HIS CALLING

LOUISVILLE, Ky.—A few years back, Robert Kober was a spectator at a Michigan-Ontario League baseball game. Shy one umpire, officials asked Kober to serve in that capacity. The next day he was made a member of the league staff, and now is a new addition to the American Association roster.

Moreland Hard Pressed; Wins On 20th Green

Leland Hamman And Reynolds Smith Fall Out Of Picture; Johnny Dawson, Harry Todd Enter Quarter-Finals

HOUSTON, Feb. 21. (AP) — Two champions of the Southwest, Leland Hamman, the Trans - Mississippi king and Reynolds Smith, Texas titleholder, were swept out of the twenty-first annual Houston Invitation golf tournament today in a day of spectacular blasting by a crack field.

To add to the slaughter of the favorites, Gus Moreland of Dallas, three times winner of the Houston meet and sparkling member of the Walker Cup team, was forced to pull every trick in his famous collection to shake off Halbert Grumbles, San Antonio's boy star, 1 up in 20 holes.

Fred Odom of New Orleans, Harry Todd of Dallas and Ed White of Bonham, gave fine sub-par performances, the only ones of the day, to advance into the quarter-finals.

White Beats Hamman

Hamman was a two down victim for Ed White in the morning round and Smith bowed out of the championship by the same margin when he ran into some steady golf from Lonnie Wendland, blonde youngster from San Antonio.

Moreland, playing the type of golf that carried him to three invitation titles and a dozen other championships, had a lot of trouble sticking through the quarter-finals.

Don Schumacher of Dallas proved troublesome to Moreland for the first nine of the morning match but faded badly coming in and Moreland ran through for a five and four verdict.

Against Grumbles, Moreland saw the San Antonio youth step out to a two up advantage and the Dallas golfer had a hard time of it shaking loose.

Moreland's 35, even par, coming home picked up those precious two holes and at the first extra hole Grumbles had to make a remarkable recovery to keep the match alive.

The San Antonio golfer over shot the green but almost dropped his pitch shot coming back to halve Moreland's perfectly played par.

Moreland Recovers

At the second extra hole, a one shooter, Moreland caught a trap and Grumbles followed him into trouble. Moreland's explosion left him five feet from the cup. Grumbles was 20 feet short coming out of the sand and missed his try for a par. Morcland downed the putt and the battle ended.

While Grumbles was putting on a brilliant exhibition in an effort to grab off a place for the 36-hole battle tomorrow, his running mate, Lonnie Wendland, was two over par in beating Reynolds Smith.

Using 39 strokes on the outward nine, Wendland was one down to the Texas champion but the Alamo city star started dropping putts on the last nine and his sub par picked up three holes to account for a two up margin. In the morning Wendland was badly off form, going around in more than 80 strokes and eking out a one up decision over Preston Moore of Houston.

Odom, whose 69 for the final qualifying round set the low mark of the tournament, was under the card to win from J. T. Chenoweth of Houston, 4 and 3, then brushed Nelson Munger, jr., of Houston three and one in the afternoon. Odom stepped out to four birdies on the first six holes against Munger but lost his advantage over par before the match closed.

Ed White, runner-up for the national intercollegiate last year, whipped A. K. Newby of eBaumont 8 and 7 after his win over Hamman.

Todd Comes Through

Harry Todd, young Dallas player, smashed through to a couple of wins at the expense of George Cummings of Corpus Christi and Ossie Carlton of Houston. Six birdies in the morning paved the way for Todd's 6 and 5 win over Cummings and in the afternoon he beat Carlton 3 up and 2 to play.

The Dawson brothers from Chicago, Johnny, defending champion and George, accounted for two places in the quarter-finals. Johnny was a 4 and 3 winner over Morris Norton, Wichita Falls, in the morning and downed Jimmy McGonagill of Dallas 3 and 2 in the afternoon.

George Dawson had to travel an extra hole to win from A. A. Fredde of Dallas in the morning. In the afternoon, he showed a big improvement in mowing down Ed Anderson of Houston, 5 and 4.

The other quarter-final post was filled by Zell Eaton, medalist and favorite. Eaton was two under par to beat Gray Little of Beaumont, 6 and 5, in the first match but was a mid 80 shooter when he downed Al Smith, Houston, 3 and 1.

Tomorrow's program offers a quartet of great matches. Eaton will pair off against Lonnie Wendland and Fred Odom will face George Dawson in upper bracket contests. Moreland draws White and John Dawson plays Harry Todd in the lower half of the draw.

John Henry Lewis, sensational Pacific coast light-heavyweight, is studying for the ministry.

Augusta Joust To Draw Stars

Bobby Jones To Be Host Again At Augusta National; Stars Of Six Countries Invited To Play, April 4-7

NEW YORK, Feb. 21 (AP)—An international field of 138 players from six countries has been invited to participate in the second annual tournament of the Augusta (Ga.) National golf club. The event will mark the one and only competitive appearance of the year for Robert T. Jones, jr., the former world champion, and will be held April 4-7.

The list includes all the best-known names in amateur or professional golf, here or abroad. All British and American titleholders, past and present, as well as present members of the Walker or Ryder cup teams, received automatic invitations. The list comprises 93 American and 34 British golfers in addition to four from Canada, three each from France and Japan and one, Jose Jurado, from the Argentine.

Heading the homebred players are Olin Dutra, National open king, and William Lawson Little, jr., holder of both the British and American amateur crowns. Gene Sarazen has already signified his intention to compete, for the first time, and the professional brigade will be back in force, headed by Horton Smith, Craig Wood and Paul Runyan, leaders of the pack which routed Jones last spring.

Arizona Wildcats Prepare For Trip

TUCSON, Feb. 21, (Special) — Heads barely above water at the second place level in conference standings, the University of Arizona basketball Wildcats will have but a short breathing spell this week before leaving Tucson for Border loop games with the University of New Mexico and Texas Tech, to complete their 1935 schedule.

Friday and Saturday nights of this the Wildcats will contest with a Douglas (Ariz.) independent team, at Tucson.

Leaving Monday morning, February 25, the Wildcats will meet the University of New Mexico Lobos Tuesday and Wednesday nights at Albuquerque. A day's travel Thursday will put the Arizona team in Lubbock for two final-season games with Texas Tech.

Flagstaff's double win, 52-42 and 48-47 last week-end, at Flagstaff, has placed the Wildcats in a tough position, although their possibility of ending the season atop the Border conference ladder is not entirely gone. Almost without exception, teams throughout the conference have been sadly crippled these past several weeks by injuries and seasonal illnesses.

NORTON REPRESENTATIVE

COLLEGE STATION, Feb. P21. (AP)—Homer H. Norton, director of athletics at Texas A. and M., today received notice of his appointment district of the American Coaches' as representative of the Southwest association from Bernie Bierman, Minnesota coach, association president. Norton also was appointed on the committee on football officials.

Rice Owls Shove Horned Frog Quint Deeper Into Southwest Cellar By Taking 29-25 Game

Kitts Team Climbs To Within One Game Of Razorbacks By Thumping Frogs; Conclude Home Season Unbeaten

HOUSTON, Feb. 21. (AP)—Rice institute atoned in some measure for the setback handed them here on the gridiron last fall by Texas Christian university by outlasting Coach "Dutch" Meyers' Horned Frogs cagers here Thursday night, 29 to 25 in a very rough game.

The defeat pushed the Frogs further into the conference cellar and raised Jimmy Kitts' team within a game of the pace-setting Arkansas Razorbacks. It was Rice's seventh conference victory of the season, the most the Owls have registered in many years and enabled them to complete the 1935 season unbeaten on their home court.

Coach Meyer's club played a deliberate game that appeared to puzzle the fast breaking Owls and for most of the game the contest was a zig zag affair.

Rice gained a five point lead early in the second half but the Frogs kept whittling away and the score was 20-18 for Rice with 11 minutes to play when Aaron Stanford went out on fouls. Truelson's free throw made it 20-19 but free throws by Kelly and Journay and a basket by Kelly put Rice in front by five points, a comfortable lead they maintained the rest of the way.

Captain Harry Journay paced the Owl scorers with nine points with Kelly of Rice and Truelson and Lester of the Frogs garnering seven apiece.

Sixty-Five Candidates For Arizona Grid Team To Show Up For Spring Training Work

TUCSON, Feb 21. (Special) — Spring football, a six-week schedule, will start in latter February for the University of Arizona Wildcats. Coach G. A. "Tex" Oliver, in a preliminary meeting 10 days ago, gathered 65 of his veterans and aspirants for instructions leading to actual practice. Many of the groups are inexperienced, he said.

It is probable the practice period will close with a spring game.

Treasury Financing Practices Indicate No New Money To Be Asked March 15

No Hypothesis For Bringing Dead To Life Recognized Despite Indications

BY HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

NEW YORK, Feb. 21. (AP)—Bringing the dead back to life in cases like W. A. Strang of Tyler is rapidly becoming common medical practice.

New York City and Chicago alone record about 500 such cases in the last three years. The rapid spread of this healing art in handling stopped hearts is something new in medicine, although the fact that it could be done has been known for years.

Up to 1930 medical literature recorded only about 30 cases of this kind. In all of them persons whose hearts had stopped were restored to life by something which mechanically started the beat again.

These mechanical restorers were originally injection of adrenalin, caffein and other stimulants. It was found that the stimulant had less to do with restarting the heart than the prick of the needle which injected the drug.

So hearts were started merely by irritating them with a needle. Surgeons did it during operations, if the patient's heart was within reach, simply by closing a hand over the organ alternately compressing and releasing.

A slight electric current was then found to be very effective. The very latest methods are some developed at Johns Hopkins university, Columbia university, and in Chicago of shooting a slight electric shock through the body. This electric current has to be placed expertly so as to hit the heart just right. This sometimes restores life, particularly after the "death" has been caused by electric shock.

Medically these persons with stopped hearts are not really dead. Actually no one is dead until two or three or up to 10 minutes after the heart stops.

The stopping of the heart used to be the final criterion of death because physicians had no means of starting a heart again. What scientists learned after they could restart hearts raised interesting questions as to exactly when death comes.

In the medical records 15 minutes is the outside limit so far as the heart is concerned. Some of the bodily organs live for days. Others die very quickly.

But the hope of pushing death back much farther than already done is slight, because the brain seems to die more quickly than any other organ. It is suspected that persons brought back after death has started to permeate the brain, would not have their full mental powers.

Hearts cannot be restarted in all deaths. This restoration to life is limited to about a dozen types of disease or accident. These include carbon monoxide poisoning, electric shock of some mild type, drowning, anaesthesia, some infections, infantile paralysis, mechanical suffocation, pulmonary complications, lung collapse, drug poisoning and fires.

A good many of these "dead" have been observed for signs of approach to some "other world" after the heart stopped. All the medical evidence points to this condition being merely a deeper form of unconsciousness rather than real death.

1935 Model Frigidaires Arrive Here

New In Design, Carrying All Efficient Features, Including New Super Freezer

Nineteen thirty five models of Frigidaire, world's fastest selling electric refrigerator, were shown today for the first time in the retail store of Household Supply Co., dealer here for the products of this unit of General Motors.

Sensationally new in design, carrying all the efficiency features required for household food protection and preservation and priced for every purse and purpose, the line consists of sixteen models in four series, all featuring the famous Frigidaire super freezer, which, according to Mr. D. A. Davis, is a remarkable contribution to economical home refrigeration.

"The super freezer, principal feature of an electric refrigerator that has everything," Mr. Davis said, "provides the cold necessary to properly preserve food, to freeze ice cubes and desserts.

"With it on the more popular lifetime porcelain models is the new quick freeze switch that permits a housewife to freeze cubes and desserts quickly, on completion of which, the unit switches back to normal operation and holds a steady low temperature.

"The 1935 Frigidaires are the result of careful analysis of the requirements of housewives based on a house to house survey in various parts of the country which represents the sentiment of 100,000 families who either have electric refrigerators or will buy them in 1935.

"The striking result of this survey was that prospects want, above all, economical and efficient refrigeration, and secondly, various features that broaden the uses of a refrigerator. With the super freezer, we have supplied the new day requirement for extraordinary capacity and with the cold control, quick freeze switch, hydrators, automatic ice tray release, automatic reset defrosting, tall bottle storage space, and other accessories we have provided the features.

"Even the lowest priced standard models in the 1935 line have the famous cold control and automatic defrosting reset switch. The line of sixteen models is complete in every particular and we anticipate record volume this year."—Adv.

Minor Changes Held In Plan

Cheapness Of Money Prompts Shift, It Is Believed; Now For First Time Nine-Month Bills To Be Discounted

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—Secretary Morgenthau today outlined a shift in treasury financing practices from which observers drew the inference that the government plans to borrow no new money on March 15—the next big financing date.

The change in financing methods was comparatively minor and believed to have been prompted by the cheapness of money. Morgenthau said the treasury shortly will offer, for the first time, to sell nine-month bills on a discount basis.

Paper To Be Replaced

Heretofore, paper of longer maturity than six months has been sold at a fixed interest rate. Morgenthau said the usual weekly offerings of $75,000,000 in 6-month bills will be replaced by a sale of $50,000,000 in 6-month bills and $50,000,000 in 9- month bills.

By this method, a total of $325,000,000 of new money will be picked up in the next three months, making it unnecessary to float a long term issue for new money at the next quarterly financing period on March 15.

However, it was expected a conversion offering of securities will be made then for maturities of $2,403,000,000, consisting of $528,000,000 in 2 1-2 per cent notes and $1,875,000,000 in called Liberty 4 1-4's.

The treasury now has a cash balance of $2,136,085,773.

Open House Will Attract Patrons

Open house for patrons of Lubbock public schools will be conducted May 3.

The day was selected by a committee in which all schools of the system were represented. Exhibits will be arranged for the visitors' day, the high school newspaper, The Westerner World, reported today.

Patrons also may visit the school laboratories and workshops.

The committee and the members' respective schools are:

Dan W. Powers, Miss Gertrude Watson, high school; Mrs. Dorothy Bryan, Mrs. C. E. Thames, junior high; B. C. Wells, K. Carter; Miss Sallye Bean, central; Mrs. J. R. McCook, Dupre; Miss Gladys Pryor, Hunt, and Miss Ruth Rylander, Sanders.

Dad-Son Banquet At Littlefield

LITTLEFIELD, Feb. 21 (Special)—A father and son banquet followed by a Boy Scout court of honor will be conducted in First Baptist church here tonight. Dr. F. B. Malone, South Plains area council president, of Lubbock, will attend.

Scheduled awards for scouts are as follows:

Troop 25: First class, Jack Singer, Calvin Brazil, Jimmie Wedel, and Eldridge Eagan; merit badges, Hall Rowe, Robert E. Willis, Volley Dalton, Jack Singer, Harold Latimer, Clayton Beckner, Joe Douglas, and Scoutmaster Eugene Latimer; star award, Hall Rowe, Volley Dalton, and Robert E. Willis; life, Scoutmaster Latimer.

Troop 26: Tenderfoot, Buck Denton, Howard Gregory, Othell Duhigan, Dorwood Yantis, Pat Boone, jr., J. Lee Robbins; second class, Leon Todd, J. Lee Robbins, Pat Boone, jr., Curtis Anderson, John Foust, and Alvin Roles; first class, Clyde Lee.

Garden Club Will Hold Tree Tag Day

Third annual Tree Tag day will be conducted Saturday by Lubbock Garden club. Funds will be used to replace dead trees on highways leading from this city. A number of women will direct street sales of tags at 10 cents each.

Three years ago, the club headed a movement to plant trees two miles out on the five highways leading from Lubbock. A total of 4,600 trees were planted. Two thousand had to be replaced last year and 700 will have to be replanted this year.

Mrs. Clark M. Mullican is chairman of the club's tree committee and is arranging the tag day.

"We're just asking ten cents from each person to take care of loss of the trees, and surely, anyone won't mind paving that small sum so that we can have beautiful highways," Mrs. Mullican said.

The highway department will plant the trees and water will be furnished by the City of Lubbock.

When bubble-dancing Sally Rand wears clothes, that's news. She's shown at left as she appeared in some 1890 unmentionables at a New York fashion show. That evening she donned the voluminous Regency costume (right) to attend the gala Beaux Arts Ball.

Glass Grins As Explanation Of Note Not Given

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21. (AP)—Carter Glass, Virginia's independent senator, refused to tell newspapermen today whether the bill he held up before the senate today during a money discussion was a gold certificate, but said he was ready to go to jail if anyone wanted to put him there.

"What was that note you held up in there?" a newspaperman asked Glass.

"What do you want to do, put me in jail?" he retorted with a grin. "Well if you want to, I'll go."

That was all he would say. Gold certificates have been withdrawn from circulation and their possession is a violation of law. But thousands of federal reserve notes still used legally bear the inscription "Redeemable in Gold on Demand at the United States Treasury."

Legion Criticism Severely Struck

HAGERSTOWN, Md., Feb. 21 (AP)—John P. McNulty, Maryland department commander of the American Legion in a speech last night, criticized representative William D. McFarlane (D-Tex) for an attack on National Legion Commander Frank N. Belgrano, jr.

McNulty's speech was directed at an address made in Baltimore by McFarlane Tuesday night to the Veterans of Foreign Wars. He said Belgrano had "sold us out" on the bonus fight. He appealed to individual legion posts to arouse the "rank and file" members against Belgrano, who was described as "fighting the bonus legislation."

McNulty said:

"Although claiming to be a loyal legionnaire, McFarlane admitted he had attempted to secure the addresses of legion posts so that he might attack his national commander. No loyal legionnaire stoops to such tactics."

The highest per capita tax burden of all nations is that of England; it amounts to $93 for every man, woman, and child in the nation.

GET $5 A MONTH

MOSCOW (AP)—"The Moscow Worker," a wage earners' newspaper, says the average worker in this city now gets 174 paper roubles a month. At the current "black bourse" quotation on roubles, this is equivalent to $5.25.

Mother Advised Taking Cardui

"I had a severe pain in my side and felt nervous all the time," writes Mrs. Floyd Ferrell, of Thomasville, N. C. "At times, I felt so weak and had a dull, sleepy feeling, not energy enough to do my work. I had been advised by my mother to take Cardui as she had obtained good results from using it. I took three bottles of Cardui. It increased my appetite, built my strength up, helped my nerves and the pain in my side."

There are many similar cases.

Thousands of women testify Cardui benefited them. If it does not benefit YOU, consult a physician.—Adv.

As many defeats as victories fell to the lot of Washington. Through the winter at Valley Forge troops were poorly fed and scantily clothed. There were desertions from the ranks of the small Continental Army. Many a man would have quit the struggle. The interesting fact about this man was that his indomitable spirit and character kept an army in the field and won independence for a Nation.

Long's Latest Outbursts

SENATOR HUEY LONG, who according to rules of Congressional etiquet must be referred to in the chambers of the upper house as "the gentleman from Louisiana", offers an interesting study in psychology in his attacks upon Postmaster General James A. Farley.

According to Long, General Farley is the living, breathing example of "political slime and corruption." General Farley, says the 'Hooeysianan,' "is a very mean and dishonest man and a political demagogue as well."

All The Morning Avalanche has to offer in rebuttal is that if Long's charges are true it has taken everybody, including General Farley's longtime friend, President Roosevelt, a long time to find out about it.

Up until the time the self-styled Kingfish of the Canebreaks brought out his charges against General Farley, the latter was never spoken of publicly in any other than commendable terms. Since the same thing cannot be said of Long, who has for years been tagged with a questionable reputation, the general public is likely to take his statemetns against the cabinet member with considerably more than one grain of salt.

1732 GEORGE WASHINGTON 1935

It is the human qualities — mental, moral and spiritual—underlying great acts that lend to them their chief appeal. The doers of immemorial deeds have all been men of many and varied qualities. To understand their acts and their lives, properly requires a broad comprehension of their combined characteristics. But it is always found that every great figure in history was gifted with some one quality that stood out pre-eminently above all the others.

Lincoln's supreme trait was his humanity. Washington's, is generally agreed to have been his sense of duty. This quality, like the leitmotif in a Beethoven symphony, was visible in every important phase of his career. It gave strength and logic to all his other qualities. It sustained him during the most trying experiences of the War of Independence. It steadied his hand in the formation of our present system of government. It was a motive power behind many of his acts as president that strengthened the foundations of the government built on the new constitution. And, too, it gave Washington's character a certain sternness in dealing with men and problems that may easily have seemed unjustifiable in a less monumental figure. Frequently his expression of his sense of duty was in keeping with Wordsworth's description of that quality in the line, "stern daughter of the voice of God."

While he has long since found his place in history as one of the world's greatest patriots and statesmen, the true Washington still suffers a certain obscuration from a host of apocryphal legends. Mason Weems, probably his most popular biographer seems to be chiefly responsible. The cherry tree story is pretty. It points to Washington's instinctive regard for truth. But the essential dignity of his truthfulness and honesty is shown with entire sufficiency in his real deeds. Myths often tend to throw their heroes out of perspective. Legends may be glamorous and have boundless sentimental appeal, but men can be interpreted correctly only in terms of reality.

Doubtless most Americans think of Washington chiefly as the commander of the military forces of the original states. But generals in the field of action are of necessity destroyers. Washington deserves to be remembered for the great constructive abilities he exhibited after the close of the War of Independence.

WITH OUR CONTEMPORARIES

"Citizens of the town of Ralls will determine by ballot on March 16 whether or not they will incorporate under the name of 'Ralls'" says a "14 years ago" item in the Floyd County Hesperian. "A recent census indicated that the territory described as within the city limits had a population of more than 1,000 people."

Today's One-Minute Sermon

Take heed that ye do not your alms before men, to be seen of them: otherwise ye have no reward of your Father which is in heaven.

Therefore when thou doest thine alms, do not sound a trumpet before thee, as the hypocrites do in the synagogues and in the streets, that they may have glory of men. Verily I say unto you, They have their reward.

But when thou doest alms, let not thy left hand know what thy right hand doeth:

That thine alms may be in secret: and thy Father which seeth in secret Himself shall reward thee openly.—St. Matthew, VI:1-4.

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By George Durno

SECRETARY OF AGRICULTURE WALLACE's AAA has slipped a report to President Roosevelt which should make most of the country's farmers feel better.

It forebodes a city consumer's tear, however, to match each rural smile.

Wallace has advised the White House that farm cash income is up 42 per cent in the last two years—with livestock prices shouldering the load at the moment. This means much higher prices for steaks and chops as the housewife already well knows.

LAGGARD: Beef, lamb and pork are way up—thanks to the drouth and the AAA program of decimation. Washington's two biggest chain stores in the last two weeks have started carrying quantities of fish daily instead of on Friday only in an effort to meet the situation.

Experts in the Agriculture department predict that meat prices are still to reach their peak.

Meanwhile Wallace tells the President his big problem is to restore an internal balance between the various farm products. Certain regions, notably the Northeast and the far West, haven't responded to treatment as well as the rest of the country despite benefit payments, etc.

DUMPING: The pressure on President Roosevelt from within his own official family to chart a definite course for our future international trade relations is getting somewhat acute.

On the one side is Secretary of State Cordell Hull. On the other is Foreign Trade Adviser George Peek.

Hull won the last round when FDR announced that Peek's deal to unload three-quarters of a million bales of cotton on Germany in a straight barter negotiation was a dead turkey because the goods we would have to take in exchanges would violate our anti-dumping law. Peek's office has kept its mouth shut on this decision but a Congressional source reports government legal experts ruled the cotton deal would not have run counter to the letter of the dumping law. What it would have done to the spirit of the act is clear.

TIME: Those close to Peek say the White House rebuff has not inclined him to offer his resignation in a huff. Rather, he plans to sit tight in the belief his formula eventually will have to be accepted.

Secretary Hull's activities have been directed to a preservation of the most-favored-nation clause whereby all nations agreeing have an equal shot at any foreign market.

Hull's economic adviser, Herbert Feis — a Felix Frankfurter man who first entered the State department in the Hoover administration—advises that if the most-favored-nation rule is discarded that race for international trade will devolve into a chaotic scramble. Feis urges that from three to five years be given the State department to work out commercial agreements embodying the clause.

VETERAN: Peek's men say they have no complaint against this forward-looking program but they foresee the United States losing many of its markets forever in the 3-to-5 year interim.

The barter plan is advanced by Peek as a recognized makeshift designed temporarily at least to help lighten the domestic unemployment load and hold some of our rapidly falling markets. Currently he is twiddling his thumbs while Hull proceeds with negotiation of new commercial treaties.

Cordell Hull, in addition to being No. 1 man of the Roosevelt cabinet, is a veteran of Senate politics. He already has scored in one major engagement with a fellow New Dealer—Ray Moley—and most of the official family have given him a wide berth since.

* * *

GYPS: The Post Office department has felt itself called upon to warn all postmasters against a magazine solicitation enterprise in which at least one member of Congress is said to be involved.

A name which sounds intimately identified with the Democratic party was trademarked for the publication and agents were sent out to get subscriptions at the rate of $2 a year.

Very shortly complaints began coming in to Washington that postmasters had been approached with the rather urgent suggestion they take half a dozen subscriptions. Now P. M. G. Farley asks all postal people to nail the gyppers and help put 'em in the jug.

TAXATION: Whether the bonus bill goes through or not a "slight" increase in taxes is likely to be made toward the end of this session. The taxes that will otherwise expire must be renewed, and in that renewal measure fresh items are under consideration. The House Ways and Means committee has a mass of figures bearing upon taxation and possible source of revenue, gathered during 1934.

Added taxes are not discussed openly just now. It is necessary first to push through the spending program. Key men like Senator Pat Harrison, chairman of the finance committee, shush down questions on the prospects of added taxation.

* * *

NOTES: Tariff lobbyists are becoming as thick as fleas in Washington. . . . They are trying to widen the split between Hull and Peek. . . . Public interest in Supreme court history is reported by the Library of Congress. . . . Social security bills are "coming along" with plenty of perplexities. . . . Many House members kick against the Home Owners Loan operations and demand an investigation, but it's improbable.

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

NEW YORK sharps say the collapse of British speculative balloons in minor commodities gives us a sweet break in monetary negotiations if we choose to take advantage of it.

They argue that our London friends are in a much worse jam than the outside world realizes yet. Not only are financial big shots involved—there is evidence that thousands of small fry have been gambling high and handsome also. There are indications that the prize bubble of all—the London gold market—isn't in as happy a state as most people have thought. The informed remark that this bubble remains intact chiefly because the American Treasury is still willing to guarantee a minimum price of $35 per ounce for the metal. Our monetary policy has helped the vaunted British "recovery" quite a bit in the past year.

So the British are in no position to argue if we care to force the stabilization issue. Experts contend that if we gave them the choice between stabilization and a renewed American gold embargo they would have to come across with the former on our terms. The alternative would mean too serious a risk of a calamitous smash.

New York also expects the flop of the London commodity markets to speed the return of a Labor government to power. The political drift is all that way and will get fresh impetus from public indignation.

SURRENDER: The New York Stock exchange has hauled down its flag—part way. Admission of office partners—usually older men—to the Board of Governors, as urged by the Securities & Exchange commission and the Association of Stock Exchange firms, is a dramatic concession but not quite as important as it sounds. In the first place the "outside" governors will number only eight out of 48. In the second, if "voluntary cooperation" on this point distracts attention from other features of the SEC's reform program the old guard will consider it a good investment.

Note that the office partner governors are to be called "governing members." That deft designation is the fruit of heavy eight thinking on the part of exchange authorities and their legal advisers.

The exchange's deepest concern has been to preserve its status as a private club. It was feared that allowing non-members to become governors would alter this status in the eyes of the law—thereby inviting a host of complications, especially a greater vulnerability to damage suits. The law committee fairly frothed at the thought.

STRANGE WAY OF EARNING A LIVING

There are a few people in the world who employ very strange bizarre means of earning a living, and Senor Lazaro the strange native of Baracoa, Cuba is one of them. Some performers chew up razor blades and eat them, others bite off morsels of light globes or water glasses and swallow whole mouthfuls, but Senor Lazaro mystifies his audience by putting large darning needles in his eye and taking them out of his mouth. There is no deception whatever in Lazaro's accomplishment, and he performs daily for his audiences in Havana.

THE GIANT CIGAR

Work on the largest cigar ever made was completed by a Tampa, Florida, cigar-maker early in December after months of tedious labor putting together more than 25 pounds of filler and 250 wrapper leaves all especially secured for this special cigar. The finished product measures 92 1-2 inches in length and has a circumference of 12 inches. The giant smoke will be on exhibition in Tampa the latter part of February during the Cigar Industry Golden Jubilee celebration commemorating the 50th anniversary of the cigar industry in Tampa.

I did not kill Osborne

By VICTOR BRIDGES

SYNOPSIS: Nicholas Trench and Jimmy Fox, the latter a page boy protege of Nick's, just have rescued Molly O'Brien from the clutches of Peter Orloff. Orloff is determined to have a formula worth millions which belongs to Molly, and will not believe that it has been stolen from her. The three, with Jerry Mordaunt, plan to sail in Jerry's boat to Hambridge, there to inspect a factory in which the man who first stole the formula produced a piece of the metal it describes.

Chapter 33
ANCHORS AWEIGH

"All ready!"

Jerry heaved overboard the tin can which marked our moorings, and catching hold of the halliard hauled up the peak.

As though reveling in her newfound freedom the Seagull heeled over to the strong westerly breeze. I steadied her with the tiller, and bowing a farewell to the other small craft which were tossing about at their anchors, she plunged forward down the Ray.

It was barely four o'clock, and the broad expanse of the Thames Estuary was still shrouded in darkness. Ahead of us on the left the mile-long lights of Southend pier stabbed their way out into the river.

The green eye of a steamer, slipping up on the half-flood, moved slowly across our bows, while far in the distance, like a false dawn, a faint gleam from Sheerness Dockyard mounted up into the starless sky. The atmosphere was distinctly chilly.

I buttoned up my coat and peered ahead under the swaying boom. Forward in the bows Jerry was busy stowing the anchor and coiling up loose ends of rope. He had the true sailor's horror or untidiness, and for ten minutes or so he continued his labors until everything on deck was in apple-pie order. Then with a satisfied air he sauntered aft and dropped down beside me into the little open well.

"Going along like a daisy," he observed. "If this wind only holds we shall have a topping sail."

I nodded. "You're quite a good weather prophet, I will say that for you, Jerry. I'm glad now that we didn't start yesterday."

"We shouldn't have got in," was the reply. "at least, it would have been a near thing. One can only scrape over the bar an hour each side of high water."

"Inconvenient sort of place to choose for a factory," I remarked. "Isn't there any other way of getting at it?"

"There's an entrance from the Crouch farther up, but we should have to go right round outside the Maplins for that. As it is we can sneak up inshore. That's the best of these centre-board boats; they can sail practically wherever it's wet."

I looked back at the lamps along Westcliff Parade, which were already fading into the distance.

"I'd give something to know whether we've been followed from London," I said.

Jerry shrugged his shoulders. "Probably; and, if so, no doubt they've seen us pushing off. All the same I'm not worrying. Skunks like Orloff and Dimitri are dangerous enough ashore, I grant you that, but when it comes to this sort of thing they're a bit out of their element. I don't suppose they could tell one end of a barge from the other."

"What about that Russian ship that's lying in the river," I suggested, "the one they were going to take

Great Citrus Record Made

Second Heaviest Crop Of All Time For Lower Rio Grande Established; Previous Years Saw Disasters

BROWNSVILLE, Feb. 21. (AP)—The lower Rio Grande valley of Texas, dealt body blows by the record freeze of 1930, this season is harvesting the second largest citrus crop in its history.

More than 7,000 carloads of fruit, growers estimated, will be shipped out of the valley before the movement ends, compared with 8,000 carloads in the peak season of 1929. At least half the current crop is going out by truck.

Storm Devastating

Both years, however, yielded crops far below that on the trees in the fall of 1933 when the disastrous windstorm struck. Between 18,000 and 20,000 carloads had been brought virtually to maturity when the wind came along from which the orchards have not yet fully recovered.

The bloom this season was described as light and spotted, and the crop particularly light on small trees.

Two new factors entered the marketing of citrus fruits in this section during the season; compulsory inspection and grading, adopted by the industry and enacted into state law; and proration of fruit.

Proration has evoked bitter controversy and has been opposed vigorously by some independent shippers, but the consensus of leaders in the industry is that it will continue, enforced through the packing plants. Three co-operative exchanges handle the bulk of the fruit.

MOVING TO CROSBYTON

LORENZO, (Special) — H. W. Roberts, owner of the Lorenzo Drug store, announces he plans to move his stock to Crosbyton.

William Pitt, the English statesman, demanded that his meals be placed on the table instantly, the moment he desired to eat, but there was no certainty as to what hour of the day or night he would call for food. Therefore, chickens were kept boiling and roasting at every hour.

TARZAN AND THE GOLDEN LION, No. 53

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

A black-maned lion moved with majestic unconcern through the jungle night. He was not hunting, for he made no effort toward stealth nor did he utter any sound. Moving swiftly, he sometimes stopped to smell and listen. And thus at last he came to a high wall, along which he sniffed, until the wall was broken by a half-opened gateway, through which he passed. Before him loomed a great building. As he stood watching and listening, there broke from the interior the thunderous roar of a second lion.

He of the black mane cocked his head and moved stealthily forward. At that very instant, Tarzan of the Apes had hurled the spear he had taken from the black into the council chamber of the gorilla-men. With rage and consternation the Bolgani saw it bury itself in the heart of their Emperor—the great, black-maned lion. At Tarzan's side was the Gomangani whom he had terrified into service. As Tarzan rushed forward toward LA, this black cried to his fellows: "Help this stranger free his mate and you may escape from the Bolgani forever!"

The other Gomangani hesitated. Tarzan had reached LA's side and was dragging her toward the dais where he hoped to make a momentary stand against the fifty Bolgani who were now rushing forward. "Slay the three who sit upon the dais!" he cried to the Gomangani. "Slay them if you wish your freedom! Slay them if you wish to live." The ape-man's authoritative voice, the magnetic appeal of his personality, his natural leadership—all won the blacks for the brief instant that was necessary to turn them upon the hated authority that the three Bolgani upon the dais represented.

As they drove their spears into the shaggy black bodies of their former masters they became them and forever the creatures of Tarzan of the Apes; for they knew that there could be no hope for them after this in the land of the Bolgani. With one arm about LA, the ape-man carried her to the dais and drew his spear from the dead lion. Then, turning about and facing the advancing Bolgani, he placed one foot upon the carcass of his kill and raised his voice in the terrifying victory cry of the great apes of Kerchak.

WALL STREET REPORT

BY FRANK MacMILLEN
Associated Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Feb. 21. (AP)—The financial markets today appeared to be slipping back into innocuous disquietude.

A substantial lift in the longer term U. S. government loans on the announcement of the treasury's March 15 financing plans was the most important feature of otherwise dull security trading. Stocks mostly ended nearly even, with the utilities and a few specialties making the most of limited interest.

Commodity trends were mixed. Wheat improved 1-4 to 1 cent a bushel, and corn was off 5-8 to up 1-2 cent. Cotton declined 10 to 15 cents a bale. The pound sterling was mildly reactionary, but gold monies were a shade better against the dollar.

Volume in the stock exchange dropped back to 700,972 shares, the quietest day since before the gold decision last Monday. The Associated Press average for 60 stocks was unchanged at 38.8. The utility stocks used in the average advanced .3 of a point to 23.1.

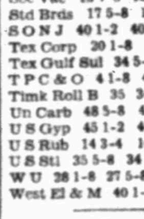

Action of Loew's directors in placing the common stock on a $2 annual dividend basis, compared with $1 previously, helped the corporate news. The day also brought fourth announcements of regular disbursements by International Harvester, Texas Gulf Sulphur and National Dairy Products.

New Courthouse To Replace One Burned By Lynch Party

SHERMAN, Feb. 21. (AP)—A courthouse to replace the one burned by a mob that sought to lynch a negro in May, 1930, will be constructed, starting March 15, County Judge J. Loy said today.

A $300,000 loan and grant from the public works administration was approved at Washington today. The old courthouse was razed when hundreds of maddened citizens, thwarted in an attempt to seize a negro then on that in a criminal attack case, set fire to the building and burned the negro in a vault.

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 21. (AP)—The cotton market was somewhat more active today, particularly in the afternoon. Cables were lower than due and there was considerable liquidation of the March position by transfer of later months, in advance of the first notice day on Saturday. There was also evening up in advance of tomorrow's holiday, Washington's birthday. After opening unchanged to 1 point up prices gradually declined until at the lowest at the close they were 4 to 6 points down from the best of the morning. The market closed barely steady at the bottom with prices showing net declines for the day of 5 to 7 points.

Prices made lows for the day in the late trading at 12.39 for March, 12.49 for May, 12.55 for July and 12.49 for Oct. December which had been inactive most of the session traded at 12.56 right at the end. The close was at the bottom with all the active months 6 points net lower for the day and December 7 net lower.

Liverpool is due on New Orleans tomorrow 2 to 3 penny points down.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Feb. 21. (AP)—Cotton futures moved slowly today within a 5-point range, closing barely steady at net declines of 2 to 3 points.

There was some early selling in response to relatively easy Liverpool cables but it was offset by trade buying and covering which helped to steady values.

Much of the trading was again connected with the evening up of March contracts in preparation for March notices next Tuesday. Trade interests continued to buy March.

Livestock

KANSAS CITY REPORT

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 21. (AP)—Approximately 24,000 cattle were offered at 11 markets compared to 19,092 actually yarded last Thursday. No material price changes were made in the slaughter steer and yearlings at river markets. At Chicago, however, strong to mostly 25 higher rates were paid although the market closed slow with a moderate supply unsold. All grades of heifers and lower grade cows were also 25 up at the latter point while other centers reported these classes steady to weak. Trade in thin cattle returning to the country has slowed considerably in sympathy with the recent decline in killing classes. Today's levels are weak to lower than last week's closing quotations. At Chicago 13.70 was reached on choice light steers with choice light weight heifers at 10.90.

The hog run numbered 43,000 against 51,000 the same day last year. A slight setback was made from the recent 25 cent advance. Today's sales were largely 5 to 10 under Wednesday's figures with extremes as much as 20 off. A top of 9.00 at Chicago was the highest point around the circuit.

Yesterday's prices in fat lambs were unchanged at most points with a slight loss at others. Sheep were comparatively scarce and ruled steady to 25 higher. Feeding classes went unchanged. At Chicago and St. Louis 8.75@9.00 was registered on selected lambs.

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, Feb. 21. (AP)—Hogs 1,200; trade hogs mostly steady; top 9.35, paid by packers; limited supply 180-380-lb. hogs 9.25@9.35; bulk receipts mixed grades selling from 7.00@7.75, packing sows steady 7.00@7.25.

Cattle 1,300; calves 500; market quotably steady, poorly tested; few plain killing steers around 9.0; fed yearlings in 9.00 range; three loads heifer yearlings 7.00; few fat cows around 4.00@4.75; no stocker business; some good heavy slaughter calves 6.00@8.50.

Sheep 1,000; receipts mostly lambs and wethers, fully steady; good wooled fat lambs 7.75; shorn fat lambs 7.50; feeder lambs 5.00@5.75.

LOS ANGELES REPORT

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 21. (AP)—Hogs: 150; 235 pound lonals 9.00 load grain finished lonals held above 9.50, few packing sows 7.00.

Cattle: 500; fairly active fully steady, few head choice 1265-pound fed steers 11.00; 821-pound yearlings 10.75; one load Texas at 8.35, stockers and feeders to 6.50; dairy cows 4.50@6.00.

Calves: 175; strong to higher, few 315-pound calves 8.50.

Sheep: Receipts none; no lambs offered; good fed wooled quotable 8.00; possibly 8.50; few 128-pound shorn ewes steady at 4.25.

the circumstances."

"He was cheerful and keeping up very well as he always did and always will." "He can do it only because he is innocent," Mrs. Hauptmann said.

She said her husband asked what food his baby son, Mannfried, is now getting, and whether he has learned any new words. She displayed with a touch of pride a photograph of her husband, taken by newspaper photographer at Flemington, and autographed by Hauptmann for his wife. The inscription read "With love always, Your Richard. Flemington, N. J., Feb. 15, 1935."

Grains

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Feb. 21. (AP)—Storms of dust extending into five states southwest and west made wheat prices jump 1 1-2 cents a bushel maximum today.

Acute lack both of surface and subsoil moisture was reported as affecting a total of bwteen 6,000,000 and 7,000,000 acres of wheat territory in Nebraska, Kansas, Texas, Oklahoma and Colorado. Fears were expressed that as a result of moisture dearth and of wide spread dust clouds much dmage would be done to the new domestic winter wheat crop.

Wheat closed nervous, 1-4 to 1 cent above yesterday's finish, May 97 3-8@97 1-2, corn 5-8 off to 1-2 up, May 85 3-4@85 7-8, oats at 1-4 decline to 3-8 advance, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 5 cents.

Today's dust storms in some sections were described as the worst yet this season, and of a severity unsurpassed in recent years.

Relative indifference of cash corn buyers largely explained a dragging tendency that developed in corn and oats. Argentine new crop estimates as to corn were construed as bearish.

Provisions rallied with wheat, despite weakness of hog values.

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, Feb. 21. (AP)—Demand for grain here Thursday was only moderate. Receipts were: wheat 1 car; corn 13; and barley one car. Prices quoted:

Wheat—No. 1 hard 1.11 1-2@1.12 1-2. Barley No. 2 nominally 84@88; No. 3 nominally 73@87. Sorghums No. 2 milo per 100 pounds nominally 2.20@2.25; No. 3 milo nominally 2.18@2.23; No. 2 kafir nominally 2.05@2.10; No. 3 kafir nominally 2.03@2.08.

lants but his condition became worse. He stopped breathing and his heart stopped.

"I told his wife he was dead and she called an undertaker.'

Dr. Byrant said he tied the man's hands together and covered him with a sheet but instructed an attendant to stay with him until the undertaker arrived.

"I went back in a few minutes and decided to try adrenalin," said Dr. Bryant. "The adrenalin was injected through the chest wall into his heart through a spinal puncture needle.

"His heart began to beat. He began to breathe lightly. His oxygen was forced into his lungs from a gas machine. His color picked up and soon he appeared to be much better. He apparently had a typical attack of coronary occlusion."

Ten hours later the patient appeared normal, Dr. Bryant said. His pulse was of good volume and his chest was clear except for a few moist roles at the base.

Dr. Bryant was reluctant to discuss the case and would not compare it to a similar case reported recently in England, where a man "died," was revived and told of his vision of the hereafter.

Strange, upon revival, weakly said: "I was sure gone that time, Doctor. I don't know how you did it.'

Then he asked for his watch. He has not talked since.

Post Will Take Off Early This Morning

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 21 (AP)—Wiley Post, 35-year-old holder of two round-the-world speed flight records, said late today he planned to take off about dawn tomorrow on his sub-stratosphere flight to New York.

The spectacular non-stop flight, Post said, probably will start about 6 a. m. He expects to fly seven to eight miles above the earths surface and hopes to make the distance in less than eight hours.

Hoover Breaks Political Silence To Urge Reestablishment Of Gold Norm

TUCSON, eb. 21. (AP)—Smashing his self-established precedent of silence as a "private citizen," former President Herbert Hoover urges reestablishment of the gold standard to "restore confidence in our currency" as a needed contribution to "real recovery."

If the dollar were made convertible at the present 59 cents of gold, he said in a prepared statement here last night, "it would tend to check inflation, replace relief with real employment, and contribute materially to general recovery."

In his comment on the supreme court's gold clause decision, Mr. Hoover broke his consistent policy of refusing to express his opinion upon political matters—a policy he began when he left the presidency March 4, 1933.

His departure from his usual custom came as he returned with his son, Allan, from a visit to New York. While he repeatedly disclaimed political implications, the titular chief of the Republican party was nevertheless greeted all along his route by political allies and former officials.

All members of the court, he commented, "agreed the government acted unconstitutionally in repudiation of the covenant on its own bonds," although a majority held the private citizen "has no remedy."

"That will have long moral consequences," he said, "but whatever the morals, right or wrong, of the devaluation may be, the face of the American people must be forward.

"The need and the opportunity now is to restore confidence in the dollar. All threat . . . of further devaluation should now be removed. To do this and to give a needed contribution to real recovery, the dollar should immediately be made convertible at the present 59 cents of gold, making it payable in gold bullion."

War Department Investigation Threat Looms; Business Dealings Under Fire

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21 (AP) — A threat of further investigation of its business dealings by the house military committee was held today over the war department.

The question of renewing an inquiry that brought unusual disclosures last year was put up to Chairman McSwain (D-SC) by a leading Democratic committee member, Representative Rogers of New Hampshire.

They agreed the department should be given a little more time to carry on its own investigation, but that two or three weeks ought to be enough.

At the committee's insistence, the department in studying the reasons the house group gave for its recommendation for removal of Maj. Gen. Benjamin D. Foulois, chief of the army air corps. Foulois was accused by the committee of violating regulations for aircraft purchases and of "gross misconduct and inefficiency."

Rogers is head of a sub-committee that looked into war department expenditures and procurement. To clear the way for its further operations, McSwain named today another sub-committee to handle any other lines of investigation the committee might develop.

At the same time, W. Frank James of Hancock, Mich., former Republican chairman of the full committee, was named special counsel to help with any inquiries. He was defeated in the last congressional election.

Meanwhile, McSwain was continuing a search for important papers "relating in an intimate way to some army officers" which are missing from his files. While declining to discuss their nature, he said they were important and left the impression that they would be valuable in a possible future investigation.

He last saw the documents in December and put them away in his desk. Weeks later he was unable to locate them, even after peering carefully "into every nook and corner" of his office, he said.

o'clock cut visibility at the local airport down to a quarter mile.

During the afternoon, clouds of fine dust hung over the Panhandle area, but the duster did not blow up until after dark. West wind reached a maximum of 32 miles at 4:15 o'clock, and visibility was cut to 2 1-2 miles from the 7 mile limit at 4 o'clock.

The northeast wind should subside during the night, the department of commerce observer here reported.

Air traffic has not been interrupted. All flights are going through on schedule.

to Morgan: "Shoot him, Tom—he's about to shoot me."

It was alleged that Braddock and Loe did not see the shooting.

Loe and Braddock pleaded guilty when arraigned yesterday on perjury charges.

Judge W. H. Atwell released them today, each on his own recognizance bond of $1,000. He also recognized them as government witnesses in the murder case, which has been set for trial at Lubbock May 20.

Principals, Bondsmen Are En Route Home

POST, Feb. 21. (Special)—Friends of Sheriff W. F. Cato were informed today that he, Tom Morgan, and some of their bondmen would arrive on a Santa Fe passenger train early Friday morning from Dallas.

Sheriff Cato and Morgan, charged with murder of a federal narcotics agent, were released on bonds of $50,000 and $15,000 respectively today at Dallas.

Bondsmen Listed

Signers of Sheriff Cato's bond were W. B. Roy and John S. Boren of Justiceburgh; J. B. Slaughter, W. L. Davis, Marshall Mason, K. Stoger, L. G. Thuett, T. R. Greenfield, W. A. Cash, and G. W. Connell, all of Post; and M. L. Thomas and E. A. Thomas of Lynn county. Those bondmen, with J. D. Hinton of Nocona, signed Morgan's bond.

Mr. Slaughter was reported to have telephoned a friend here today that most of the Post residents, including the sheriff and Morgan, who was deputized shortly before the machine gun slaying of Spencer Stafford of Fort Worth here, would arrive Friday morning.

CLINE TO RESIGN

DALLAS, Feb. 21. (AP)—Walter D. Cline has offered his resignation as regional director of the federal housing administration for Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico, it was announced today.

Death Leap

excited the interest and sympathy of attendants.

The Hillman Saloon Coaches and Airways, Ltd., which operates passenger ships from Romford to Paris, issued an official statement late today which revealed that one of the two, shortly before taking off, "asked the pilot to close the door separating the pilots' cockpit from the passenger cabin."

"In addition," the statement said, "they asked him to cover up the two small ventilating windows through which the pilot usually glances into the cabin," saying they felt a draught.

"The pilot, having no reason to think there was anything odd in this procedure, complied in order to assist the comfort of his passengers."

Pilot Kirton estimated he flew for an hour before discovering that the two girls were missing.

Workmen looked up as the ship roared over the conutryside near Upminister to see two white objects plummet down.

A channel plane which Kirton, by strange coincidence, was piloting recently, spilled out $110,000 worth of bar gold as it beat its way through gales to England. The gold was subsequently recovered.

Their first thought, the workmen said, was that something of the same sort had appened. They rushed to the spot, to find the broken bodies.

One witness said the two sisters hurtled to their death "clasped hand-in-hand in a last embrace."

Equal Representation For Women Committee's Decision

AUSTIN, Feb. 21. (AP) — Women should be accorded equal representation on the state Democratic executive committee, the privileges suffrage and elections committee of the house decided today in reporting a bill to change the existing setup.

Executive committees of parties would be composed of 62 men and women, representing the state's 31 senatorial districts.

ALLRED COMMENDS DAY

AUSTIN, Feb. 21. (AP)—Gov. James V. Allred today commended the purposes of Brotherhood day, Feb. 24, sponsored by the National Conference of Jews and Christians for promotion of friendly and cooperative relations between all religious groups in matters of citizenship and human welfare.

Without Benefit Of Clergy, Ex-Mayor Of Topeka Buried

TOPEKA, Feb. 21. (AP)—Without benefit of clergy, as he requested in funeral directions seven years ago, J. B. Billard, 90, was buried today.

Billard, who in 1920 became Topeka's first mayor under the commission form of government, was buried in a grave beside his parents.

"I know nothing of what may be beyond this life and have no fears for the future, if there is any," he wrote in directing his burial.

Youth Convicted

ney for Kennamer, was at the defense table as the verdict came in. Anderson and his junior assistant, W. F. Gilmer, jr., who closed the state argument at 11:45 this morning, were present, representing the small army of lawyers who sat on opposite sides of the long table through the seven days of the trial.

Courtroom Filled

There was a stir when it was learned the jury had agreed just seven hours and 15 minutes after beginning deliberations.

The crowd that had been waiting in dwindling hope of a verdict tonight hastily pushed through the doors and in two minutes the courtroom was filled.

Judge Kennamer entered from the court library, where he had sat patiently through the afternoon and early night in quiet conversation with friends, smoking one long cigar after another.

Sister's Eyes Wet

His brother David, a veterans' bureau employe in Washington, sat beside the judge, but Opal Kennamer, sister of the youthful slayer, took a seat far back in a corner. Her eyes were wet but she did not weep as she heard her brother convicted of the slaying which has excited Oklahoma for almost three months.

Dr. J. P. Gorrell, father of the 23-year-old student dentist, entered the courtroom just a moment before Judge Hurst, who had been called from his home. Mrs. Gorrell was not with him, for the first time during the trial.

Murder Not Considered

By agreement the jury did not consider a verdict of guilty of murder and voted from the first on guilty or not guilty of manslaughter, it was learned from one member.

On the first ballot three voted for acquittal and nine for guilty of manslaughter.

Ten more ballots were cast before the jurors agreed on a verdict of guilty of manslaughter with the sentence not considered. On the twelfth ballot they agreed to leave the sentence to the court.

"We had quite a time getting together," Jacob Clark, foreman, said

Woman, Former Gubernatorial Candidate, Must Serve Term

DALLAS, Feb. 21. (AP)—Judge Noland G. Williams today ordered Mrs. Kate Johnson, former gubernatorial candidate, taken to Huntsville state prison to complete a two-year sentence on a conviction in Wilson county.

Mrs. Johnson was in the county jail after having been surrendered by sureties on bonds made for her when she was indicted here in four cases of forgery.

WOULD HIKE PENSION

AUSTIN, Feb. 21. (AP)—The senate state affairs committee today recommended passage of a bill to increase the pension for unmarried Confederate veterans from $25 to $50 a month. Other classifications would not be changed.

American Officials Probing Arrest Of Airman In Mexico

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21. (AP) — American consular officials in Mexico are investigating the arrest at Guaymas of Dale Myers, an American aviator, on charges of smuggling arms and munitions into Mexico during 1935.

Consul Guy W. Ray at Guaymas has reported to the state department that Myers, pilot-owner of a plane from Tucson, Ariz., was transferred to Hermosillo on Feb. 18, shortly after his arrest, and is being held by the military authorities there.

ed themselves for the "prevailing wage."

Credit Given Long

Some senator credited Huey Long of Louisiana for the administration defeat. Just before the vote he secured a pair for Senator Dickinson (R-Iowa) with Mrs. Caraway (D-Ark.), who was absent. Under the "pair" arrangement one senator for and one senator against a question agree that their votes will not be counted in the total.

Long ran across the senate chamber and held a hurried conference with Dickinson. Then, when Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the Democratic leader, who is Mrs. Caraway's colleague, questioned the pair, Long insisted he had authority to make the arrangement. Had Mrs. Caraway's vote not been sc fixed the result would have been a tie that would have killed the amendment.

Gold Debate

monetary policy was still on a day to day basis and that, in other words, the intention is to accommodate it, if need be, to the necessities of a changing economic situation.

Connally—Glass Debate

A tumultuous debate took place shortly thereafter on the senate floor involving two Democrats, Glass of Virginia and Connally of Texas.

Connally (D-Tex) had formally called the Hoover pronouncement to the attention of the senate, with a statement that the former president was seeking a return to the same system "which brought his administration tumbling in ruins about him."

The nation, he asserted, was already on a gold standard and should avoid the old system "which brought destruction." This brought Glass, long at odds with the administration, abruptly to his feet.

Holder "Can Go To Hell"

After shouting a statement charging fiat currency, he added:

"And, following the decision of the supreme court on a fiat bond basis."

"The supreme court has answered the senator from Virginia," Connally retorted.

"No, it hasn't answered me. The court said that what was written on these notes was a cheat and a repudiation and has said that in spite of this cheat and repudiation if a holder of a note undertakes to get what is due him he can go to to hell."

THOMAS HOLCOMB DIES

Thomas Holcomb, 15-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. I. S. Holcomb of Roaring Springs, died early this morning in a sanitarium here. He had been here several days. Funeral services will be conduced at the Christian church in Roaring Springs Saturday afternoon, Rix-Bynum Funeral home said. The Holcomb family has lived there about 18 years.

I did not kill Osborne

By VICTOR BRIDGES

Molly to? If she's any sort of a size there must be at least half a dozen men on board, and I expect some of them know how to handle a boat."

I paused. "By the way," I added, "now I come to think of it, I wouldn't mind betting that that big lout I clipped on the jaw was one of the crew. He looked like a sailor, anyhow. He'd rings in his ears and his arms were tattooed to the shoulder."

Jerry yawned. "Well, you never know. Funny things can happen, but I can't exactly picture a boat load of Bolshies bumping about in an Essex creek."

He leaned across and relieved me of the tiller. "Perhaps I'd better take her over now. It's rather tricky work dodging in and out of these steamers, especially in the dark."

I slid forward along the seat, and at the same moment Molly's head appeared through the hatch. She was wearing a blue knitted jersey which she had bought at Westcliff the previous day, and with her short curly hair blowing about in the wind she looked like some mischievous and attractive boy.

"Hello!" she exclaimed reproachfully; "you might have wakened me."

"We hadn't the heart," explained Jerry. "It was only four o'clock when we started, and you were snoring away so comfortably in your bunk. . . ."

"It's a lie," I interposed, "a cruel and blackhearted lie. I was awake all night and I swear on my honor that you never gave even the tiniest snort."

"Thank you, Nick." She climbed out and, steadying herself with one hand, gazed inquiringly over the cabin top. "Where are we?" she demanded. "And what are all those pretty lights?"

"That's Southend pier," said Jerry, "one of England's famous beauty spots."

Molly gave a little shiver. "It's horribly cold. I shall go down and make you both a cup of hot cocoa. You must want something—starting like this without any breakfast."

"We meant to wait until we got into the creek," I explained. "It will be nice and quiet there, and. . . ."

"Don't you trouble miss." An untidy head poked itself out from the cabin. "I've lit the Primus, and I'll bring it up to you as soon as it's ready."

Jerry laughed. "Splendid," he remarked. "I quite forgot we had a steward on this trip."

"How did you sleep, Jimmy?" I inquired.

"Fine, sir; and the dog, too. Lay alongside o' me all night e' did. It was 'is lickin' me ear wot woke me up."

"I thought you looked extraordinarily clean," said Jerry. "Bright lad that," he added as the grinning face disappeared. "I've half a mind to take him on as understudy to Dawson. He could do the rough work like brushing George and answering the telephone."

"You can't have Jimmy," I objected. "If we all get safe out of this he's coming to me. He'll be jolly useful in the studio and I shouldn't be surprised if some day or other he didn't turn out to be a good artist."

"Well, I won't stand in his way." Jerry bore up sharply to meet the wash of a passing tramp. "After all, it would be a pity if Dawson hadn't enough to do. He might lose his figure."

By now the first glimmer of dawn was already making its appearance. Low down in the east the sombre grey of the sky had given place to a sickly yellow, while little by little the vague outline of the opposite shore was beginning to separate itself more distinctly from the dun-colored water.

It was a cheerless dawn, as dawns at sea usually ran. The mystery and beauty of the night appeared to be changing gradually into a dreary expanse of tumbling waves and inhospitable-looking mud flats.

The arrival of cocoa, however, followed by a welcome cigaret all round, soon dispelled our depression. As though scenting the approach of the sun, George, who up till then had remained in the fo'c'sle, condescended to join our company.

For the first minute or so he stood up in the well on his hind legs sniffing the breeze and glancing suspiciously round the horizon; then, having apparently decided that there was nothing wrong with the navigation, he gave a short bark of approval and stretched himself out contentedly at Molly's feet.

"Don't altogether like the look of it," remarked Jerry, jerking his head towards a bank of black cloud which had crept up behind us. "Shouldn't be surprised if we were in for a spell of rain."

"Hambridge must be a gay place on a really wet day," I observed. "Still, as far as that goes, we shall have plenty to do."

"How long do you think we shall have to stop there?" asked Molly.

"All depends." Jerry let out the mainsheet a trifle and the Seagull buried her nose joyously in the white-crested water. "We don't know anything about this farmer and his wife at present. People who settle themselves in these out-of-the-way places are generally inclined to be a bit glumpy and suspicious. No use trying to rush 'em, or they shut up like an oyster."

"It's the woman I want to see," I said. "If she was looking after Osborne and getting his meals and all that sort of thing. . . ."

"I wonder whether she's pretty," broke in Molly. "If she is I've no doubt he talked to her quite a lot. He was always running after some woman or other when he was with us; it was the one thing father used to object to."

Jerry shook his head. "I shouldn't build on that."

Short Course Will Be Held

Tech Session Is Designed For Assisting Women In Putting Up Home Products; Monday Is Date Decided

To help women improve products for home use, a second annual short course for farm women of Lubbock county will be conducted in the pavilion at Texas Technological college Monday, beginning at 10 a. m.

The department of dairy manufacturing at the college is sponsoring the course, with the cooperation of Miss Hazel Bratley, county home demonstration agent. K. M. Renner and Arthur Prichard, head and assistant professors dairy manufacturing, will give a demonstration of the making of butter. Butter, cheese and milk will be scored according to an official score card to familiarize women with products from the market standpoint.

Sixty-seven women attended the course last year, in which the making of cheese was discussed. Several groups of women from other counties plan to come here for the meeting, according to Mr. Renner. Women plan to bring lunches.

Hugo Mika Tenth Tech Man To Join Erosion Service

Hugo Mika has been selected as a tenth Texas Technological college graduate to be a trainer in projects of the Soil Erosion service. Mika finished with the 1932 class, was doing graduate work at the college when he was appointed. He left this morning for Temple, where a project directed by H. B. Geib, is underway.

The ten other graduates and one student who will be graduated this spring left recently for Dalhart, Temple and Lindale, where they will study four to five months.
