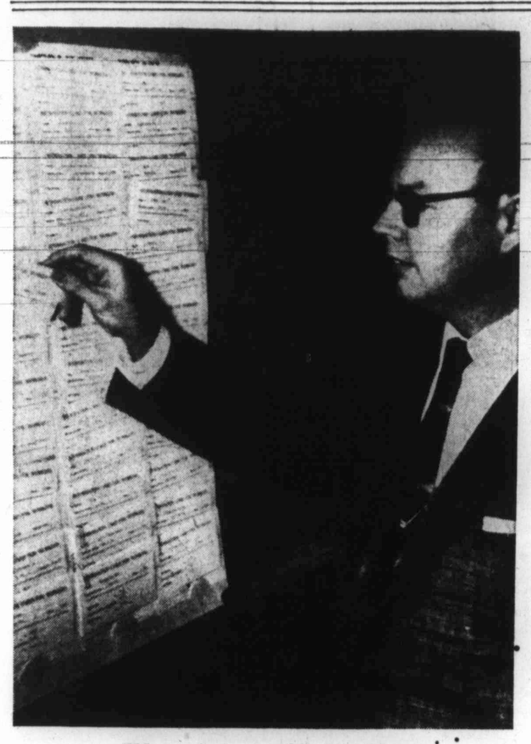
Warren Hints Real Issue Is State Ban Of Negro Rights



The Answer's In Here

Rad Ware, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce finance campaign, says these and other prospect cards hold the answer to the organization's financial problem. Workers in two divisions started the drive for new members and more money this morning.

More C Of C Funds 'Must,' Hogan Says

The Big Spring Chamber of Commerce is in the position of having to increase its resources or quit functioning at all, Dr. J. E. Hogan, president, told membership at dues adjustment workers at two campaign kick-off meetings this morning.

"If members who are not paying adequate dues will increase their support, and if we can enlist a large group of new members, this organization will not die on the vine as budget figures show it is about to do," Dr. Hogan declared.

The Chamber president predicted that most citizens of the community will join in support of the agency if they understand it is in financial difficulty and that they are not carrying their share of the burden.

Two groups of solicitors went out to enlist new members and to ask old members to adjust their dues upward in cases where membership is still held on the old $1 per month basis. The new membership minimum is $3 per month.

Rad Ware, chairman of the joint project, and Bill Quimby, Chamber manager, joined Hogan in urging a concerted effort to increase the funds available for Chamber of Commerce activities. They also explained mechanics of the two campaigns and urged workers to complete their assignments as rapidly as possible.

Dr. Hogan pointed out that the local Chamber operated at a deficit of $4,788.12 during 1957.

"Our reseserves have been all but exhausted," he said. "We must increase our revenues or really go into the red this year."

Explaining that routine operating costs, including rent, supplies and salaries, approach $30,000 per per year, Dr. Hogan asserted that "to spend $30,000 on overhead and do only $800 worth of activities is poor business."

More funds for activities are essential if Chamber of Commerce operations are to be kept up to date in this expanding area, he said. The Chamber is the only agency in town which people can pour their ideas into and produce action.

He cited housing and master planning projects of the Chamber as current examples of the organization's value to the community.

"We've done these things without spending much money, but some things can't be done without finances," he said. "I think most of our people will come along if they understand our financial difficulty and realize they are not providing their share of support."

Old Parking Fees Getting $5 Boost

Twenty five motorists wil have to pay $5 more on their traffic tickets after this morning.

Stanley Bogard, city warrant officer, was preparing warrants for the 25 persons who were issued tickets over a month ago and who didn't appear with the required 10-day time.

When the warrant is issued, an additional $5 is charged above the cost of the fine, should the person be found guilty of the violation, Bogard said.

Dawson County Fair Has Opening Today

LAMESA — The 1958 Dawson County Fair opened here with entries reported from seven surrounding counties.

Officials of the fair reported that they were overrun with sheep and swine entries, but the cattle entries were below normal. There was an abundance of exhibits in the women's divisions also.

Fire Destroys Lamesa Grain

LAMESA—Fire swept through a grain-filled feed mill here Wednesday night destroying about $20,000 worth of equipment and grain.

The damage was only about $500 to the building of the John H. Clark Feed Mill, but $20,000 was put on the loss of grain and equipment inside. Firemen were called out about 7:45 p.m. and had the blaze under control by 8:30.

Clark said he had been grinding feed all day and the motors were extremely hot when shut down. Evidently one of them developed a short circuit.

Chinese Artillery Breaks Up Convoy

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Chinese Nationalist supply ships, convoyed by American warships, reached Quemoy beach today but were forced back by a heavy Red artillery barrage before they could unload the bulk of their cargo.

Associated Press correspondent Gene Kramer, in a dispatch from Quemoy off the Red mainland, said an "intense saturation shelling" forced two supply ships to withdraw after they had unloaded only a few supplies for the beleaguered Nationalist garrison.

American warships stood off at a distance, he said.

The Nationalist Defense Ministry said earlier that the supply ships had returned undamaged to their Pescadores base after unloading.

This was the first attempt to run supplies to the garrison since Monday, when Communist artillery fire blew up an ammunition ship on the Quemoy beach and forced another to retreat after losing most of its cargo.

Stormy weather prevented the dispatch of convoys on Tuesday and Wednesday.

The Red artillery opened up at the appearance of the convoy today after being silent 21 hours.

Meantime, the admiral commanding the fleet's carrier planes said that any Communist planes attacking U. S. aircraft will be pursued to the coast of Communist China and possibly beyond.

The American ships convoyed the desperately needed supplies through the international waters of the Formosa Strait for the first time on Sunday. That time there was no Red opposition.

The second supply convoy was Monday. Communist artillery blew up a Nationalist ammunition ship on the beach. The other landing barge backed off and lost most of its supplies.

The U.S. command on Formosa announced that American jet pilots have begun taking an active part in the defense of Formosa itself.

A spokesman said American air units are now in position at bases here and "have assumed full alert responsibilities for nighttime defense of Taiwan (Formosa)."

That means the planes stand on runways, fully armed and warmed up. American pilots in combat flight suits are ready to take off the moment there is any report of unidentified planes approaching.

The spokesman would not say how many U.S. planes and pilots are involved, but it is generally believed there are about 250 to 300 American Air Force and Marine jets on Formosa ready for combat.

Talking with newsmen aboard his flatship, the carrier Midway, Rear Adm. Ralph S. Clarke said his pilots now are restricted to flying no closer than 20 miles to the Red China coast.

But, said the commander of the 7th Fleet's carrier striking force, if Communist planes attack U.S. ones, they will be pursued to the coast and possibly beyond. It would be up to the individual pilot's discretion whether to pursue farther than the coast, the admiral said.

So far no Communist MIGs have been sighted by his fliers, Clarke said, nor have any been picked up on radar screens of his Task Force 77. The 7th Fleet planes have provided air cover for U. S. cruisers and destroyers escorting Chinese Nationalist supply ships to within three miles of Quemoy Island.

Tax Hearings Close Friday

Friday is officially the final day of the five days of sessions of the tax equalization boards of the county, city and schools.

At 10:30 a.m. today, 455 taxpayers of the approximately 13,000 in the county, had appeared at the courthouse and registered protests on tax values set on their property.

Staff members of the tax evaluation firm of Prtichard & Abbott, which conducted a county wide tax revaluation survey in the county, were moving ahead with the conferences they hold with protesting taxpayers. When an agreement is possible, the taxpayers and the tax engineers settle the protests at these interviews. Where the taxpayer is not satisfied with the results offered, he takes his case to the equalization boards for final decision.

About one taxpayer out of each 10 who list their names as protesting carry their cases to the equalization board. The others are usually settled in the conference with the tax engineers.

The tax engineers had estimated that 650 of the 13,000 taxpayers would show up at the five equalization sessions. This estimate was lagging somewhat at 10:30 a.m. Thursday.

However, the last day will probably see a large number of citizens on hand.

250 Apply At HCJC

Prospects are increasing daily for a substantial increase in enrollment at Howard County Junior College.

As of Thursday morning more than 250 applications for entrance had been filed. This is a much larger number than ever before, said Dr. W. A. Hunt.

The faculty of the college has been holding its committee sessions all this week and will have a general session Saturday to prepare for registration.

Freshman orientation is set for Monday, and registration will be held on Tuesday and Wednesday.

The traditional get- acquainted social for the faculty of HCJC will be held Saturday evening in the student union building.

Jurors Notified

Sixty jurors have been notified to report to 118th District Court on Monday at 10 a.m. for trial of civil cases. It was not certain today just how many cases may be ready for trial.

Compromise On Cosden Valuations

Cosden Petroleum Corp., protesting valuations established on its plant and properties, accepted a compromise solution submitted by the county and school equalization boards late Wednesday afternoon.

Cosden spolesmen said that the compromise was not what the company wanted but that it was materially different from the figures set by Pritchard & Abbott, taxing engineers.

"We have accepted the compromise," said Ray Ebling, tax officer for Cosden," and will go along with the values established in it."

No conference was held on Wednesday with Cabot Carbon Co., which had teamed with Cosden in the original protest against the formula employed by the tax engineers in establishing values on their two establishments. It was believed by all concerned, however, that Cabot could go along with the compromise as accepted by Cosden.

Under the terms of the compromise which was drawn up by the two equalization boards, the 100 per cent value on the land, improvements and merchandise for tax purposes held by Cosden is fixed at $13,673,000. This compares with the Cosden contention of a 100 per cent value of $13,563,500 for tax purposes. Pritchard & Abbott's 100 per cent valuation for tax purposes was $20,330,790.

For tax purposes for the county, 20 per cent of these values was set. The Cosden formula showed this figure at $2,712,500; Pritchard & Abbott $4,066,160. Compromise settlement $3,134,640.

For tax purposes the school tax rate is figured on 50 per cent of the tax value total. The figure under the compromise is now $7,836,810.

Cosden estimated the new figures would represent an increase in tax bill to the county of approximately 20 per cent over last year and to the schools, 40 per cent over 1957.

Cosden was assessed at $2,575,000 for county tax in 1957.

Cabot totals are much smaller than those involved in Cosden. The company maintained, however, that its position was identical with its larger associate in the matter of the inequity of the Pritchard & Abbott formula.

4 GRIDDERS HOSPITALIZED

Four starters on the Big Spring High School football team entered Big Spring Hospital with intestinal flu this morning—36 hours ahead of the team's opening game of the season.

Hospitalized were Donnie Morrow, Bud Bridges, Wayne Fields and Don Payne. Coach Al Milch said it is not known whether any of the quartet will be able to play in the game against Edison High School of San Antonio Friday evening.

They will remain in the hospital at least until Friday morning.

Woman's Body Found Hanging In Old Grainery

Body of Mrs. Nola Hollandsworth, 71, was found hanging in an outbuilding at the family home about seven miles west of Knott early today.

The discovery was made by her son, F. E. Hollandsworth, who arose about 5 a.m. to go to work and became alarmed when he noticed Mrs. Hollandsworth was missing from her room. He started a search and found the body in a former granery that has been converted to a tenant house.

Sheriff Dan Saunders and Justice of the Peace Martin Gibson of Stanton said there was no evidence of foul play. They said members of the family reported Mrs. Hollandsworth had shown signs of despondence recently.

Gibson has made no ruling.

Mrs. Hollingsworth and her husband, the late J. E. Hollandsworth, moved to the Knott community in 1939. He died last Jan. 30.

Survivors include seven sons, F. E. Hollandsworth of Lenorah, J. H. of McFarland, Calif., J. W. and Charles of San Diego, Calif., J. C. of Lubbock, T. J. of Fort Worth and Claude Hollandsworth of Sacramento, Calif.; five daughters, Mrs. J. J. Dunlap of Seminole, Mrs. A. J. Bailey of Big Spring, Mrs. Harold Burton of Tacoma, Wash., Mrs. W. A. Wood of Lubbock and Mrs. Bobby Airhart of Muleshoe; 23 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Nalley - Pickle Funeral Home.

Flash Floods Hit El Paso

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)— Heavy rains today sent flash floods through El Paso, blocking streets, flooding homes and forcing the closing of some schools.

An official 2.1 inches of rain were recorded in some areas, with as much as 3¾ inches in others. Light rain continued to fall during the morning.

Some 25 homes in low areas were reported flooded, some with as much as 12 inches of water.

* * *

High water was affecting traffic in far West Texas Thursday morning.

On one stretch of track on the mainline of the T&NO (San Antonio-Sierra Blanca - El Paso), water washed out four miles of the Torcer siding.

At one point near Alemore, water lapped at the cross-ties on the T&P tracks, but there appeared no immediate threat of damage to the main line.

For a time Thursday morning U. S. Highway 80 was closed to traffic both east and west of El Paso.

At midmorning rains were still falling in that area.

Supreme Court Arguments Begin

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chief Justice Warren suggested today the real issue in the Little Rock school controversy is whether any agency of the state is preventing Negro school children from exercising their constitutional rights.

Warren tossed this in the form of a question to Richard A. Butler, attorney for the Little Rock School Board who was arguing for suspension of integration in the city's Central High School.

Warren asked if, conceding the good faith of the board, was not the court concern with whether action by the state "has frustrated the constitutional right of these children?"

Butler replied that the board felt it was entitled to be heard on its own record, adding "We've asked the court to look at our problem in Little Rock."

Repeatedly, Butler alluded to the phrase "with all deliberate speed" used by the Superior Court in a 1955 decision for desegregation. He argued this gave flexibility for suspension of integration in view of disorders in Little Rock the past school year.

U.S. Dist. Judge Harry J. Lemley authorized a 30-month suspension of integration in the high school, but his decision was overruled by the 8th Circuit Court of Appeals.

QUESTION FOR COURT

The question for the Supreme Court is whether to sustain the district judge or the appeals court.

But in a broader sense, the high court is confronted with a basic issue of how fast the South must move in throwing over its long-time system of separate schools for white and Negro children.

Butler opened arguments before the high court which was in its second extraordinary session in two weeks on the momentous issue of removing racial barriers in the public schools.

A packed court room lay before the black-robed justices. More than half of those in the spectator places were Negroes.

The marble court room has seats for 177 general spectators. In addition, about 30 to 40 standees are permitted.

The choice spectator seats fell to the first comers among 184 people who were in line when the court room doors were opened at 9 a.m.—three hours before the hour for the justices to take the bench.

IN LINE ALL NIGHT

Among the 184 were four who had waited all night. And, at 3 a.m., there were 17 in line.

The precise legal issue is a narrow one—whether a plan of integration, once in operation, may lawfully be suspended because of popular opposition to it. But the impact of the court's ruling is certain to be far reaching.

Specifically, the court will determine whether Little Rock's Central High School must readmit Negro students, whose attendance there last year brought on violence and the subsequent use of troops.

But the decision, whatever it is, will throw out guidelines to federal district judges grappling elsewhere with the vexing problem of applying the high court's 1955 command for "all deliberate speed" in integrating schools.

Any delay for Little Rock could mean more time for other areas of the Southland in their bitter stand against having Negroes and whites go to school together.

But a ruling that Little Rock is not entitled to suspend its integration program until January 1961 would be the signal for district judges in other areas to take a firmer stand on integration orders. Several judges have withheld final orders until the court rules.

BY WEEKEND

There was no indication how soon the Supreme Court would rule, but a decision was generally expected by the weekend. The Little Rock school is scheduled to open Monday, and the court called its second extraordinary session in two weeks to hear the case in advance of that time.

Actually, the court already has heard—and read in legal briefs—substantially what the opposing lawyers prepared to say today.

Two weeks ago the court heard the plea of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People for quick removal of legal barriers to the immediate resumption of integration in Central High.

The new litigation started during the summer, when Federal Dist. Judge Harry J. Lemley of Hope, Ark., granted a 2½-year suspension of court-ordered integration at Little Rock. On Aug. 18, the 8th Circuit Court of Appeals at St. Louis reversed Judge Lemley's

Surprised

Actress Elizabeth Taylor wears a hint of a smile as she turns to answer reporters' questions concerning her dates with singer Eddie Fisher which have created quite a fuss. Liz arrived in Hollywood after a flight from New York where she and Fisher had been together at night spots on several occasions.

Liz Doesn't 'Feel' She's Taking Eddie From Debbie

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Debbie Reynolds today blamed her separation from Eddie Fisher on his New York night club dating with Elizabeth Taylor.

But, she declared in a news conference at her front door: "I'm still in love with my husband."

Miss Taylor, who with her late husband, showman Mike Todd, was supposed to have been a close friend of the Fishers, said: "I don't feel that I've taken Eddie away from Debbie—because they weren't getting along, anyway."

Published accounts quoted Miss Taylor, 26, as saying: "Eddie is not in love with Debbie and never has been."

To which Miss Reynolds retorted: "We were never happier than we have been in the last year."

The formal separation of Debbie 26, and Eddie, 30, was announced Wednesday night. Eddie went to the home of a friend, comedian Joey Forman. Miss Reynolds stayed at home with their two children.

She came to the door, wearing a robe and pin curlers, and told newsmen: "This separation is the result of what happened in New York and the stories that originated there. As to your questions as to whether Miss Taylor had anything to do with this separation, I'm unable to answer at this time.

"Do I consider Liz Taylor a good friend? Liz never was a 'good' friend. I would only say a friend. Eddie and I both knew her through Mike Todd.

"The separation definitely was not my idea. I love Eddie and I always have loved him. I hope this separation will iron out the difficulties and we can get together and be happy. Don't blame Eddie. He's a wonderful boy, although I think he's a little misled.

"Liz must have been misinformed about the relations between Eddie and me. We have never been happier than we have been in the last year. I would even say ecstatically happy. I'm shocked at her report.

"I don't want this marriage to break up. There are our lovely children and a beautiful life ahead of us."

Miss Taylor was quoted in one account: "I don't go around breaking up marriages. Besides, you can't break up a happy marriage. Debbie's and Eddie's never has been."

On whether Liz loves Eddie: "I like Eddie very much. I've felt happier and more like a human being for the past two weeks than I have at any time since Mike's death. Mike and Eddie loved each other."

Miss Taylor also was quoted: "What am I supposed to do, ask him to go back to her and try? He can't. If he did, they'd destroy each other."

Brady, Abilene Men Among Crash Dead

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Air Force listed two Texans among the 13 killed in the crash of a C47 transport plane near Anchorage, Alaska, Tuesday night.

They were:

Maj. Charles A. Pennell, wife, Mrs. Thelma L. Pennell; father Charles A. Pennell Sr., Brady, Tex.; mother Mrs. Ella Pennell, Sweetwater, Tex.

Airman 1.C Spencer D. Shelton, wife, Mrs. Kathleen M. Shelton, Abilene, Tex.; parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Shelton, Hughes Springs, Tex.

Ike Goes On Radio-TV Tonight To Push His Far East Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower goes on nationwide radio-TV tonight to seek more support among the peoples of America and the free world for his Far East policies.

Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerty told newsmen at Eisenhower's Newport, R.I., summer headquarters that the President would make a major address from the White House at 9 p.m. (EST).

It will be carried live over ABC television and major radio networks, with NBC and CBS television carrying delayed telecasts at 10:15 p.m. (EST).

Hagerty said Eisenhower decided to make the talk after consulting by telephone with Secretary of State Dulles. He said the President would return to Newport tomorrow morning.

Two events Tuesday apparently supported what Dulles' public affairs advisers have been telling him: the U.S. public and the allies were not comprehending the whys and wherefors of the China crisis.

Those events were Dulles' 45-minute news conference Tuesday morning and his hour-long conference Tuesday afternoon with Australian Ambassador Robert G. Casey.

Casey, a veteran diplomat, was reported to have voiced uneasiness about U.S. policies. But after an hour with Dulles and a half hour with Walter S. Robertson, assistant secretary for Far East affairs, Casey pronounced himself possessed of "much more understanding."

His statement seemed to bear out Dulles' news conference comment that in time more and more allies and even more neutrals would come to appreciate U.S. Far East policy.

That policy includes support of Nationalist China, tolerance of a Nationalist military buildup on the islands within sight of the Red-held mainland, and threatening to meet force with force if the Communists seemed about to wrest the islands from the Nationalists.

Criticism boiled up before Dulles at his Tuesday news conference. Seldom, in the memory of veteran diplomatic reporters, had so many sharp questions fired at a secretary of state.

Nor had Dulles ever appeared more on the defensive.

The issuance of a long statement appealing for public understanding was rejected as too undramatic, too lacking in headline appeal.

In the end, Dulles went to the top, convincing Eisenhower that it was a job only the President could do.

The main U.S. policy being pursued, meanwhile, was an effort to resume stalled U.S.-Red China ambassadorial talks. These negotiations were expected to get started soon between U.S. Ambassador Jacob Beam and Red Chinese Ambassador Wang Ping-nan in Warsaw.

Dulles hinted at his news conference that the United States was ready to make concessions in these talks if Peiping would agree to a cease-fire or a renunciation of force.

'Quick-Kiss' Atoms Help In Disease Tracing

GENEVA (AP) — Doctors are beginning to get quick-kiss radioactive atoms to diagnose diseases.

The radiation lasts about as long as the memory of the late-for-work husband's goodbye kiss.

That means ultra-safety when these medical atoms are swallowed, injected or breathed into the human body to track down causes of illness.

Two kinds of the quick-kiss atoms were described today to the U.N. atoms-for-peace conference by British scientists.

One is a new form of radioactive iodine, iodine-132, for measuring faulty or normal activity of the thyroid gland. It has a half-life of only 2 hours and 20 minutes, meaning half of it disappears within that time. By contrast, radioactive iodine-131, now widely used in treating or diagnosing thyroid troubles, has a half-life of eight full days.

Iodine-132 exposes the thyroid and the sex glands to only about 1 per cent as much radiation as does iodine-131, according to the report from Dr. K. E. Halnan of Manchester and Dr. E. Eric Pochin of London's University College Hospital.

Iodine-132 is so safe it can be used to make daily tests of thyroid activity and can even be given to pregnant women, they said. The result is that repeated tests can be given to sufferers from thyroid disorders.

The thyroid is the pacemaker gland of the body. The hormone it produces, by using iodine, regulates the pace of many body chemistry reactions. The British doctors reported their tests on humans showed the thyroid normally seems to vary by as much as 20 per cent in its activity. They also found that the thyroid glands of pregnant women keep taking up iodine at an increasing rate until the baby is born.

'Electron Farm' Is Answer To Moon Power Problem

WASHINGTON (AP)—A design for a moon power plant was introduced today by Westinghouse Electric Corp. It would convert sunlight into cheap and reliable electrical power.

Dr. Peter Castruccio, head of the company's newly formed Astronautics Institute, said the plan had been presented to federal military and space officials.

Castruccio said that electrical power will be required for any base that man sets up on the moon.

The solar power plant uses only wire mesh and a chemically coated plastic as its basic components.

When the sun's rays strike the plastic sheet, the chemically treated surface emits electrons which, in turn, are collected by the wire mesh.

"This process creates an electric voltage which will exist as long as the sun shines on the surface, which can be called an electron farm," Castruccio explained.

Pope Okays Spread Of Data On Birth

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Pius XII has urged publicity for modern medical knowledge about heredity factors producing defective children so couples can "put themselves on guard against terrible accidents." He suggests the creation of "services of information and consultation" to give advice to prospective parents.

The Pope emphasized in a speech to delegates of the International Congress of Blood Transfusion that such efforts to avoid defective children do not violate Roman Catholic Church prohibitions against birth control.

New Findings May Increase Frogman Depth

GROTON, Conn. (AP)—New research findings promise to allow Navy frogmen to swim deeper and longer without danger of the bends, a Navy doctor reported today.

Capt. J. Duffner, senior medical officer of the Navy's experimental diving unit in Washington, D. C., said the prospect results from experiments in which swimming divers breathe a mixture of helium and oxygen instead of the usual compressed air, which contains nitrogen and oxygen.

He told the first International Symposium on Submarine and Space Medicine that it is now proposed to furnish all frogmen with such a mixture. It would be carried, as compressed air now is, in a so-called "scuba" apparatus.

Scuba means "self contained underwater breathing apparatus."

The symposium is being sponsored by the American Institute of Biological Sciences with the support of the Defense Department.

The condition known as the bends is technically called decompression sickness.

When a diver is deep in the water, the increased pressure from the water causes any inert gas in his breathing mixture—such as nitrogen or helium—to be compressed into his tissues. When he ascends the gas in his tissues is under lower and lower pressure. If he comes up too fast, the compressed gas will be released in the form of bubbles. They can get into his tissues, his joints and even his brains and lungs.

Duffner, in his report, said the new research has disclosed that much faster rates of ascent can be tolerated when helium-oxygen is breathed underwater than previously believed possible.

The research was undertaken, he said, after a finding by Lt. Cmdr. Edward Lamphier, of his unit, that the body retained carbon dioxide when nitrogen-oxygen mixtures were breathed underwater.

This can cause convulsions, if in sufficient quantity. While the condition is different from the bends, Duffner indicated that it was considered a possible drawback in the case of nitrogen-oxygen for swimmers.

Helium-oxygen was found not to cause carbon dioxide retention.

The captain stressed in his report that the helium-oxygen apparatus was something to be used only by professional divers. The compressed air apparatus (aqua lung) is still recommended for amateurs, he said.

ACC Beginning Its 53rd Annual Term

ABILENE—Another record enrollment appears likely at Abilene Christian College as registration for the fall semester is held this week.

If the 1957 fall figure of 2,319 is broken it will be the fourth straight year for a record to be set.

Freshmen students Monday began their annual orientation program under the guidance of the student government. Registration was scheduled to begin Wednesday afternoon and continue until noon Saturday. Classes begin at 8 a.m. Monday, and the official opening ceremonies of the 53rd session of Abilene Christian College is scheduled at 10 a.m. Monday.

Closed-circuit television makes its bow Monday at ACC in the teacher education program and in teaching multiple classes simultaneously. It was installed at a cost of $10,000 and includes three cameras, five receiving sets and considerable cable.

LABOR PROJECT

Drive To Decide Fate Of Hospital

The number of porchlights turned on here and across the state tonight will determine if the lights are to remain on at the Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation in the future.

Because if tonight's porchlight campaign for funds undertaken by the state AFL-CIO is unsucessful, the doors of the rehabilitation center will be permanently closed. The drive is to be sponsored here by the Brotherhood of Operating Engineers, Local No. 826.

Members of the union will take contributions from Big Springers who turn on their porchlights tonight. And the members of the union urged citizens to give liberally to help keep the Foundation in business.

The drive will begin here at dark, said Alfred Goodson, who is heading the campaign, and it will continue until the town has been completely canvassed.

Big Spring will be helping the labor group to raise $500,000 tonight to help keep the Gonzales center operating.

Charles Seitz of the Foundation reported that the center would need $110,000 within the next 30 days to allow treatment to continue for patients with polio, muscular dystrophy, and other diseases and injuries. The center is a non-profit, non-sectarian hospital for the severely disabled.

Dr. Marjorie Kirkpatrick, who was formerly associated with Medical Arts Hospital here, is the assistant clinical director of the Gonzales center.

Jaycees Want Annual Sessions Of Legislature

Big Spring Jaycees have set up a special committee to work in support of a resolution sponsored by the Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce proposing annual sessions and yearly salaries for state legislators.

Texas Jaycees voted to back the proposal at their 1956 convention and local Jaycees are now supporting the resolution which will appear as constitutional amendment No. 1 on the general election ballot in November.

Chub Jones, local Jaycee president, said the committee, headed by Bill Gray, will form a speakers bureau to furnish programs at civic meetings in an effort to inform voters of the various aspects of the proposal.

In addition, the organization hopes to obtain public service time for informational programs on radio and television stations.

Scout Finance Drive Begins

Machinery for the independent finance campaign for the Boy Scout program was meshed into gear Wednesday evening at Stanton.

Under O. B. Bryan and Cecil Bridges, community chairmen, were Jim McCoy, special gifts; James Jones, rating committee; James Eiland, arrangements and publicity; John Rouche, general solicitation; Sammie Houston, audit.

Other community leaders on hand were Henry Bauer, Sterling City; Clyde Reynolds, Garden City; J. G. Kilgore, Flower Grove; and E. L. Roman Jr., Grover Springer, A. C. Woodward, Lenorah and Tarzan.

Dr. W. A. Hunt, district chairman and associate council chairman of the campaign in areas where chests and United Funds do not exist, presided. P. V. Thorson, council executive, spoke as did Lyle Deffebach, Snyder, prospects and rating chairman; Wayne Miller, Odessa special gifts chairman; Lee May, Midland, publicity. Two film strips were shown along with the delivery of instructions for organization and operation.

4 States Take Brunt Of Polio

NEW YORK (AP)—Four states — Michigan, Texas, Florida and California—are taking the brunt of this season's polio attack, and late reports indicate that Detroit may be the hardest hit city.

However, over-all, the United States may be experiencing a record low year for the post-Salk vaccine period.

The nation showed 2,223 cases for the 35 weeks ended Aug. 30. This compares with 3,879 cases for the same period last year and 13,711 for the average period of the years 1953-57.

Convention Ends In Turmoil

A surprise adjournment of the Texas State Democratic Convention set off a near riot at San Antonio's Convention Hall and angry delegates stomp and wave banners to let Gov. Price Daniel and his workers know they did not approve of the political strategy.

New Accounting System Ordered

COLORADO CITY—The Colorado City School Board voted Monday night to employ Roy Coles to set up a revised and modernized accounting system for the school's financial affairs. Coles, Mitchell County's school superintendent, will also audit the school books for 1957-58.

Frank Wilson, superintendent of the Colorado City schools, reported an enrollment of 1,971. As expected, this is up from last year.

Wilson also reported that Rep. George Mahon will sponsor and pay for achievement tests for Colorado High School seniors. These tests are designed to indicate capabilities and to furnish a yardstick on what and how much students are learning. The tests will also be of value to colleges and prospective employers, who might require information on a particular student, said Wilson.

$63,500 Is Asked In Damages Suit

Damages in the sum of $63,500 are asked by Billy E. Kerr, oil field roustabout, in a lawsuit filed in 118th district court Wednesday afternoon. Defendant in the suit is Dowell, Inc., an oil well acidizing company.

Kerr alleges in his petition that the accident for which he seeks damages occurred on Oct. 3, 1957, at the D. W. Shaffer No. 1 well between Big Spring and Snyder. He says that he was employed by Nortex Oil & Gas Corp., as a roustabout on the rig. The defendant firm was acidizing the well at the time.

Kerr says that he was ordered, in his capacity as roustabout, to help break out lines in the well, which he started to do. There was still a quantity of acid in the lines, he insists, and some of this ran on his left foot. As a result of the burns and additional infection difficulties, he was hospitalized for a long time and left handicapped. He asks that he be compensated by $63,500 damages.

Services Held For Robert F. Winter

COLORADO CITY — Funeral services for Robert F. Winter, 56, carpenter-farmer who died of a heart attack in Big Spring early Monday, were held Wednesday at 2:30 p.m. at Southside Baptist Church in Colorado City. Burial was in the Colorado City Cemetery under the direction of the Kiker and Son Funeral home.

Mr. Winter had lived in Colorado City for about eight years.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Rosa L. Moseley, and his wife, both of Colorado City; five sons, Robert, USAF; William, Charles W., Jerry, and Paul all of Colorado City; two daughters, Mrs. Christine Wood, Dallas and Wanda Ruth Winter, Colorado City; a brother, Wesley Winter, Colorado City, and three sisters, Mrs. Florence Bradshaw, Weslaco, Mrs. Velma Treadway, Los Angeles, Mrs. Maxine Decker, Colorado City and one grandchild.

Boy, 8, Admits Killing Parents With A Knife

NEW YORK (AP)—Melvin Nimer Jr., 8, who, authorities said, told them he slew his parents with a kitchen knife, today was sent to New York's Bellevue Hospital for psychiatric examination.

The action was taken by Children's Court Justice Charles E. Ramsgate with the concurrence of the district attorney and Harris B. Steinberg, attorney employed by relatives to represent the youngster.

The calmly told story by the boy fits the facts of the bloody Staten Island stabbing at first attributed to a masked intruder.

But the district attorney emphasized that there is still much to be explained about the Sept. 2 murders and that Melvin has not been arrested.

A psychiatric report on the child indicated he has a persecution complex and a personality compatible with the commission of violence.

The boy's uncle, Dr. Harold Nimer, said he does not believe the confession to the murders of Dr. Melvin Nimer and his pretty brunette wife Lore Jean, both 31.

A source close to the investigation quoted the uncle as saying the boy had recanted after making a similar confession to him.

The boy's confession was obtained by Dist. Atty. John M. Braisted of Richmond County last Saturday, but was not disclosed until late Wednesday night.

In the meantime, the calm, dry-eyed youngster flew to Utah and attended his parents' funeral—apparently never indicating that he had confessed.

Braisted said Melvin—taken to the house of death Wednesday night—"indicated to us the manner in which his parents were murdered."

No matter what the final findings in the case may be, the boy could not be charged with homicide because of his age.

Braisted said young Melvin told him:

That he plotted the murders days in advance—apparently aggrieved by some real or fancied actions of his parents. Braisted declined to say just what the grievances were.

That he seized a knife from the kitchen, walked upstairs to the parents' bedroom, and stabbed his father first, then his mother.

That his father somehow staggered to his feet and chased him downstairs, then collapsed there—where police found him.

That he washed off the knife and replaced it in the kitchen.

Massey Rites Set For Friday

Funeral services are planned for 3 p.m. Friday in the Methodist Church at Coahoma for Clarence Howard Massey, 52, Coahoma farmer who died in a hospital here this morning.

Mr. Massey, who moved to the Coahoma area from Mason in 1920, had been in failing health for several months. He was born April 21, 1906, in Mason.

The Rev. H. L. Morris, Coahoma minister, will officiate, assisted by the Rev. Royce Womack of Big Spring. Interment in Salem Cemetery will be under direction of Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home.

Mr. Massey is survived by his wife, Mrs. Forence Massey of Coahoma; one daughter, Mrs. Mary Margaret Hughes of Coahoma; one son, Clarence Hugh Massey of Big Spring; his mother, Mrs. Mary Massey of Coahoma; two sisters, Mrs. Bennett Hoover of Big Spring and Mrs. Billy Childers of Coahoma; and one brother, Ray A. Massey of San Diego, Calif.

City Tax Take Up By $7,000

The city tax department revenue was about $2,300 for August and raised the current fiscal year's increase over the comparable time

Most of the year's increase has been in delinquent taxes. This increase is probably due to the efforts of the city attorney, Wayne Basden, who has been attempting to collect the old taxes.

Tax department revenue for August amounted to $2,323.99 which is $272.52 more than came in during August of 1957, and it raised the total for the current fiscal year to $18,457.19.

The current total is $6,974.65 more than came in last year during the first five months of the fiscal year.

In August, the city collected $1,069.02 in delinquent taxes, and got $357.23 from interest and penalties. Occupation taxes amounted to $767.92, the monthly report from the tax department showed.

The delinquent taxes raised the five-month total for that fund to $10,771.90, or $6,215.53 more than were collected during the same time last year.

Current taxes paid through August amounted to $2,800.17. Penalties and interest on delinquent taxes amounted to $2,704.95.

Occupation taxes contributed $1,144.42, and dog tax revenue was $143.25. The bus franchise has brought in $183.34 during the five months and the cab franchise $467.74.

Khan Comes Back

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—The Aga Kahn, 21-year-old spiritual leader of 20 million Moslems of the Ismali sect, is coming back to Harvard to complete his studies in oriental history and economics. When the previous Aga Khan died in July, 1957, the young prince had just finished his junior year.

Jap Police Begin Quiz Of Airman

TOKYO (AP) — Japanese police began questioning A.3.C. Peter E. Longpre today after the U.S. Air Force ruled Japan can try him for fatally shooting a Japanese youth.

The police questioning will determine whether the 19-year-old airman from Lakewood, Calif., will be indicted. As a minor under Japanese law, he could be turned over to a family court, which assigns less severe penalties than the criminal courts.

While on guard duty last Sunday at Johnson Air Base, 20 miles northwest of Tokyo, Longpre fired his carbine. The bullet went through the window of a train 300 yards away, hitting Sachiywki Miyamura in the back.

The Air Force said an intensive investigation "clearly shows that the shooting occurred when Airman Longpre was not actively engaged in guard duty and, while apparently accidental, came about because Airman Longpre violated his instructions in the unauthorized loading and use of his weapon.

"Under these circumstances, the administrative agreement between the United States of America and Japan governing jurisdiction leaves no alternative but to allow the Japanese to exercise their right to primary jurisdiction."

Longpre described the shooting as "a horrible mistake." His defense counsel, 1st Lt. Hugh R. Braun of Athens, Wis., said Longpre did not contest being turned over to Japanese authorities.

COURT

order, but later granted a stay to permit appeal.

The arguments two weeks ago were on making the Court of Appeals decision effective until the high court could rule. But the court delayed action on the temporary move and called for new arguments today on the merits of the case. Its decision thus will be final on the issue.

SCHOOL CLOSURE

Since the appeals court acted, the Arkansas Legislature has passed legislation to permit the governor to close any school that might be forced to integrate.

Judge Lemley found there was "chaos, bedlam and turmoil" at Central High throughout the 1957-58 school year, when Negroes attended for the first time.

He called the situation intolerable, and said federal troops will be required again next year if Negroes return to the school.

But the Court of Appeals, dividing 6-1, said the disorders were insufficient to constitute a legal basis for suspending integration.

"We say the time has not yet come in these United States when an order of a federal court must be whittled away, watered down or shamefully withdrawn in the face of violent and unlawful acts of individual citizens. . . ." Judge Marion C. Matthes said for the majority.

Here briefly are the conflicting arguments, as set forth in legal briefs filed in advance of today's arguments:

By the school board:

1. It made a prompt start toward integration and has continued throughout to act in good faith. Because of severe impairment of the educational system, both present and prospective, it is entitled to a postponement "regardless of the source and motivation of the destructive forces."

2. Thousands of school districts in the South have made no step toward integration and are conducting educational programs without harassment of any sort.

3. Thus, the board says, it would be the height of irony if the Little Rock school district, having made the start in good faith, were denied the postponement it seeks.

NAACP ARGUMENTS

By the NAACP, through Atty. Thurgood Marshall:

1. Neither overt public resistance, nor the possibility of it, constitutes sufficent cause to nullify the federal court orders directing the school board to proceed with its desegregation plan.

2. The case "involves not only the supremacy of all constitutional al rights declared in Brown (the 1954 Supreme Court decision declaring segregation because of race unconstitutional) but the very survival of the rule of law. This case affords this court an opportunity to restate in unmistakable terms both the urgency of proceeding with desegregation and the supremacy of all constitutional rights over bigots—big and small.

By the Justice Department, through Solicitor General J. Lee Rankin:

The decision of the court of appeals reversing Judge Lemley is correct in holding that opposition, violence and unlawful acts do not justify a postponement of the Little Rock desegregation plan. There is no showing in the record to indicate that determined local authorities cannot handle, if necessary, any future disturbances occurring in or around Central High.

Drillstem Test Started At Amerada Wildcat In Howard

A drillstem test was under way this morning at the Amerada wildcat eight miles southwest of Big Spring with operator trying the Devonian.

The Amerada No. 1 Blanche Lester was being tested in the Devonian above 10,016 feet today, but a report on it wasn't available at noon.

In the Howard-Glasscock field, three new wells have been finaled, two of them by Humble and one by Kenwood Oil Co.

Borden

Operator was letting the Midwest No. 1 Clayton wildcat stand today to get a fluid buildup test after swabbing new oil from Ellenburger perforations. After treating with 1,500 gallons and recovering all load and acid residue, the well swabbed 43.20 barrels of clean oil in the first six hours. The wildcat is 12 miles northwest of Gail, C SE SE, 16-31-6n, T&P Survey.

Shell No. 1 Dillingham, C SE SE of Section 4, Hood Survey, made hole in shale and lime at 6,265 feet today. The 8,800-foot exploration is 12 miles northeast of Gail.

The Shell No. 1-MA Jones, a wildcat six miles southwest of Fluvanna, prepared to set intermediate string at 2,429 feet today. It is C SW SW, 423-97, H&TC Survey.

Operator prepared to test the Lone Star No. 1 Porter after sinking 5½-inch string at 9,920 feet today. It will try the Siluro-Devonian below 9,700 feet. The potential strike is C NE SE, 9-32-4n, T&P Survey, and 12 miles southwest of Gail.

John Eisner No. 1 Lanham is a new site in the Fluvanna (Strawn) pool about six miles northwest of Fluvanna. It is 660 from south and 1,980 from west lines, 536-97, H&TC Survey, and will be drilled to 8,600 feet.

Garza

In the Northwest Justiceburg (Glorieta) field, McCrary & Franklin staked the No. 1 G. G. McCrary about 12 miles east of Post as a 2,800-foot test. Operator located it 2,260 from south and 330 from east lines, 128-5, H&GN Survey.

Smith & Breyer No. 1 Beggs is in the same field 330 from north and west lines, 42-2, T&NO Survey. Drilling depth is 3,000.

Shell No. 1 Sims, a wildcat 10 miles south of Post, made hole at 2,106 feet in anhydrite and lime. The project is 1,980 from south and 926 from west lines, 875-97, H&TC Survey.

Sinclair-Shell No. 1 Stoker, five miles east of Post, drilled in lime and shale at 3,079 feet. It is 1,980 from west and 660 from south lines, 68-5, GH&H Survey.

Six miles southeast of Post, the Mabee No. 1 Connell drilled at 2,390 feet in lime. The site is 330 from south and west lines, 11-5, GH&H Survey.

Dawson

Texas National No. 2 Richardson, C NW NE, 77-M, EL&RR Survey, penetrated to 9,302 feet in lime. The wildcat is 10 miles northwest of Lamesa.

Howard

Kenwood Oil Co. completed the No. 16 Kloh in the Howard-Glasscock field for a daily potential of 42 barrels of 31.4-degree oil and 60 per cent water. The well is practically on the Glasscock County line, 475 from south and 2,640 from west lines, 13-33-2s, T&P Survey. Total depth is 2,459 feet, with production from open hole reached at 2,096 feet.

In the same field, Humble No. 1-G Douthitt produced 60.80 barrels of oil along with 20 per cent water on 24-hour final test. Gravity is 27 degrees, and the hole was treated with 300 gallons of acid before the final test. Total depth is 1,583 feet, and top of the pay zone is 1,478. Perforations extend from 1,478-84 feet. The site is 660 from south and west lines, 143-29, W&NW Survey.

Humble completed the No. 17 Settles in the same pool for a daily potential of 42.19 barrels of 27.4-degree oil and 20 per cent water. It is 339 from south and 1,650 from west lines, 131-29, W&NW Survey. The hole extends to 2,418 feet, and top of the pay zone is 2,172. Perforations are from 2,172-98 and 2,212-20 feet.

The Dorland No. 11 Denman has been completed in the Iatan East Howard field for 49 barrels of 31.4-degree oil and only 10 per cent water. The site is 2,310 from south and 990 from west lines, 16-30-1s, T&P Survey. The hole bottoms at 2,915 feet, and production is reached at 2,760. Perforations extend from 2,780-802 feet.

Amerada No. 1 Lester was taking a drillstem test above 10,016 feet in the Devonian section today, but no report had been made on it by noon. The project is eight miles southwest of Big Spring, C NE SW, 41-33-1s, T&P Survey, and a mile south of the shallow Moore pool.

In the Oceanic (Pennsylvanian) field, Tidewater No. 1 Mrs. Noel Lester penetrated to 7,516 feet in lime and shale. The project is C SW SW, 27-33-3n, T&P Survey.

Martin

Humble deepened the No. 1 McKaskle wildcat to 8,580 feet in lime and shale today. The site is C NE NE, 13-35-1n, T&P Survey.

Mitchell

Magnolia completed the No. 38-A-C Foster in the Iatan (San Andres) pool for a daily potential of 74.48 barrels of oil and 29 per cent water. Gravity of oil is 31.4 degrees. The well is 330 from north and 2,310 from west lines, 7-29-1s, T&P Survey. The well is plugged back to 2,370 from 2,375, and perforations are from 1,852-2,366 feet. Production is hit at the upper level of perforations.

Texaco No. 1 Nail, 16 miles southeast of Colorado City, drilled in shale at 4,830 feet today. It is C SE SE, 25-12, H&TC Survey.

Six Dresses And Car Parts Stolen

Dresses and car parts were reported stolen this morning.

Bill Turner Used Cars, 1410 E. 4th, reported that a generator had been stolen from a 1952 Ford on the lot during the night. Billie Redman, 1005 E. 2nd, reported that six dresses had been stolen from her. She put the value of the loss at $25.

Bandit, Girlfriend Rake In $20,403

CALVERT, Tex. (AP)—A shotgun toting bandit and his pistol-packing black - haired moll took $20,403 from the Citizens State Bank yesterday after locking four employes in a vault.

The pair fled in a black automobile. The Department of Public Safety said a black car believed the one used in the holdup was found abandoned six miles south of here. Calvert is 60 miles south of Waco.

Adams Hasn't Told Anyone

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP)—If Sherman Adams is planning to quit as President Eisenhower's chief aide, he reportedly hasn't told his boss or anyone else on the White House staff.

That is the word today from another key presidential lieutenant at Eisenhower's vacation headquarters, which yesterday denied Adams already had quit.

That lieutenant and others here are not saying that Adams, a target in the Bernard Goldfine case, won't resign in the wake of Republican political disaster in Maine.

These Eisenhower assistants don't profess to know what the taciturn Adams may be turning over in his mind in the wilds of a Canadian fishing camp where he is on vacation. Adams himself, reached at the fishing camp, declined comment on the resignation reports.

The aides simply contend that before he left last weekend, Adams had not given Eisenhower or any White House staff colleague any indication that he might be about to pull out.

Dedication Of New Aquatic Camp Set

Dedication of Camp Ed Murphy, the new aquatic camp of the Buffalo Trails Boy Scout Council at Lake J. B. Thomas, is set for this evening.

A water show staged at 5 p.m. by Boy Scouts and Explorers under direction of S. G. Painter, field executive, will launch the celebration. Following a free barbecue, there will be a brief program tracing the history of the camp, named for a pioneer Borden County rancher.

Members of the council staff are in session there Thursday and will remain there until noon Friday to plan work for the autumn.

In charge of the program is Lyle Deffebach, Snyder, former council president. After the 6 p.m. barbecue, H. Lyman Wren, veteran lay worker for the Scouts, will offer the invocation. There will be a brief sing-song led by Virgill Mott, Snyder, and Nolan Von Roeder, Snyder, chairman of the Camp Ed Murphy Development Committee, will review history of the project. The Rev. Harry Vanderpool, Snyder First Methodist pastor, will bring the dedicatory address and E. H. Williamson, Snyder, will touch on plans for further development. Closing ceremony will be given by Scouts and Explorers, and the Rev. James Carraway, Snyder, will pronounce the benediction.

The camp is located on land given by the late Ed Murphy and is on the northwest side of the big lake. Part of it is an island connected by a causeway thrown up voluntarily by dirt contractors rallied by W. D. Caldwell, Big Spring. The plant already is valued at around $60,000, of which some $25,000 was invested by the council this year. The first two weeks of camping were held there in August. Many leaders have predicted the camp will become the largest, from point of attendance, in the council.

Staff members due at the meeting are P. V. Thorson, Midland, area executive, Carl Corbin, Woody Smith and Lowell Longley, Midland, S. G. Painter, Odessa, Bob Read, Alpine, Ed Harvill, Kermit, Joe Bohannon, Snyder, and W. T. McRee, Big Spring.

Avoid Temptation

Patricia Cawley, MGM's Cinderella girl, believes the best way to diet is to get away from tempting foods. She will soon be seen in "Andy Hardy Comes Home."

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Admit Weaknesses When You Start Diet

By LYDIA LANE

HOLLYWOOD — Patricia Cawley was working in an advertising office in Connecticut when she decided to come to Hollywood. In her heart was the dream of a major studio contract. She saved her money and planned toward the future, even though she knew it would be a chance in a million if she succeeded.

But when Patricia arrived, her dreams came true almost over night. She was so admired by an agent that she was taken to MGM for a screen test. There she won a term contract and within six weeks she was given the leading role opposite Mickey Rooney in "Andy Hardy Comes Home." If the present generation reacts as the one 15 years ago, this movie will become a series and Patricia will become a star as Ann Rutherford did in the same role in the old "Andy Hardy" series.

Patricia had her first interview with me, and we chatted in her Malibu home within the sound of the sea. I asked her reaction to seeing herself on the screen.

"They did a wonderful job of flattering me," she confessed. "But I couldn't believe how much heavier I looked than in still photographs.

"That's one reason I wanted to come out here to the beach. I can always walk a few miles daily while I diet. Dieting is so much more effective when you exercise with it.

"I wanted to lose eight pounds. I knew I could if I could get away from the temptations of eating out. I decided to make no dinner dates and cook my own meals," Pat explained.

"For breakfast, which is my biggest meal of the day, I always have scrambled eggs, bacon, whole wheat toast, sugar free jam, berries or citrus fruit and coffee.

"At lunch I have just a hamburger patty and cottage cheese or something similar.

"At night I cook a light dinner of lamb chops or any other meat with all the fat cut off, a green salad, one steamed vegetable and some type of fruit.

"I think success in dieting depends on admitting to yourself your weakness for certain foods and then refrain from eating them," Patricia concluded.

FHA Officers Are Named At Goliad

Girls in the Sixth Period Class at Goliad Junior High School elected Linda McNew as their president of the Future Homemakers of America. Sharon Starr was named vice president.

Other officers, chosen Tuesday, will be Karen Koger, secretary; Nancy Clay, treasurer; Bonnie Roland, reporter; Sherry Stanley, historian; Mozelle Groebl, parliamentarian. Dana Jo Pearcy will be song leader, and Barbara Daily social chairman, Misses Starr and Koger will be council representatives.

Moose Auxiliary

Institution ceremonies for the Big Spring Auxiliary of the Moose Lodge will be held at 1:30 p.m. Sunday at the Lodge Hall. An official team from Andrews will officiate at the service which will recognize the local group as a chapter.

Potato Trick

Garden Clubs Plan For Flower Show; Slate Sale

Three garden clubs, meeting Wednesday, laid the foundations for the approaching Fall Flower Show, slated for Nov. 1 at Howard County Junior College. All heard speakers discuss flower arrangements, and one group made plans for a rummage sale to help with various expenses.

PLANTERS CLUB

Analogous and monochromatic arrangements drew the attention of the Planters Garden Club, Wednesday afternoon, when 15 members met at the home of Mrs. S. P. Jones.

Characteristics of each type of arrangement were distinguished by Mrs. D. S. Riley, member of the Big Spring Garden Club, who is a junior flower show judge. In specifying the relationship of colors, she told the group that the dark colors provide weight in an arrangement. Emphasis was placed on the container and background.

The club voted to work with the garden council in the state hospital project, and to lend assistance with a patient. November 1 was announced as the date for the council-sponsored flower show, and each member was asked to enter either an arrangement, or a specimen for the horticulture division.

Flower School No. 5 will be held here Sept. 29; exams are slated Oct. 1. Fee for the full period will be $5, or $2.50 for one day. This year there will be no nursery provided.

The door prize was awarded to Mrs. R. L. Collins at whose home, 1401 Stadium, the next meeting will be held at 1:30 p.m. Oct. 8.

Mrs. D. C. Sadler and Mrs. Ora Miles were introduced as guests.

OASIS CLUB

Mrs. Bill Craig of Odessa, a national flower judge, was guest speaker for the Oasis Garden Club, Wednesday morning at the home of Mrs. Robert A. Bonnell Jr.

The informative lecture on preserving materials for dried arrangements was brought to life by Mrs. Craig with a demonstration. She outlined the several procedures for drying flowers and foliage.

In the brief business meeting, the group voted to cooperate with the garden council in the therapy work at the Big Spring State Hospital. Looking toward the future, they also agreed to dispense with regular meetings next summer.

Following the program, Mrs. Bonnell served dainties from a table laid with a white linen cloth. A centerpiece of orchid dahlias emphasized the coloring of her Haviland china. Coffee was poured from a silver service.

Mrs. C. O. Hitt will be hostess to the group at 9:30 a.m. Oct. 8 at her home, 1301 Penn.

Present Wednesday were 18 members, Mrs. Craig and two other guests, Mrs. Dale Smith, council president, and Mrs. Ruby Baggett.

FOUR O'CLOCK CLUB

To add to the treasury of the club, members of the Four O'Clock Garden Club planned a rummage sale for Oct. 4; Mrs. Marvin Wright will be in charge of the sale preparations.

The group met Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Guy Cook with Mrs. Bill Swindell as cohostess. Mrs. Eddie Kohanek was introduced as a new member.

Mrs. Swindell gave a report from the recent meeting of the Council of Big Spring Garden Clubs, naming the date of Flower Show School No. 5. She told the group that arrangements to be discussed will follow Victorian themes, and the horticulture class will deal with dahlias.

Mrs. Bill Tubb explained the flower show scnedule and illustrated her discussion with sketches of various types of flower arrangements.

An ice cream supper is planned for Monday evening at 7:30 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tubb in Western Hills Addition. Families of members will be guests.

'ROUND TOWN

With Lucille Pickle

Those older people you see with the sore abdominal muscles are those that have succumbed to, but probably haven't succeeded in the body movement that goes with successful manipulation of the Hula Hoop. The action seems to come naturally to the young but the "oldsters" (20-to 45 and over) find keeping the hoop going in circles takes action in muscles long unused. Most of us are getting our exercise with the hoops by picking them off the floor.

JUDY FOSTER daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Riley Foster, plans to be in Abilene for the weekend as the guest of Malinda Mead at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Mead. The Meads are former residents of Big Spring.

Runnels P-TA

A reception for teachers at Runnels Junior High School has been planned for Monday evening at 7:30 at the school gymnasium. There will be an election of officers and all parents are urged to attend.

Coffee Given For Mrs. Ellis Lentz

An informal coffee was a compliment to Mrs. Ellis Lentz Wednesday morning in the home of Mrs. Monroe Gafford. Joining in the hospitality were Mrs. Newell Derryberry and Mrs. Granville Hahn.

Mrs. Lentz will leave Big Spring soon to make her home in Alabama. A gift from the 14 was presented to the honoree.

A silver service and other serving appointments highlighted the polished table from which Mrs. Derryberry served.

Berry Family Has Westbrook Reunion

WESTBROOK — Guests of the Jim Berrys have been their children, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Pike and Margie of Chula Vista, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Don Miller and baby of Colorado City; Elton Berry of Mayhill, N. M.; Mrs. Ozelle Miller of Midland and Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Phillips of Big Spring.

Mrs. J. A. Moody of Abilene has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Hart. Mr. Hart is in Root Memorial Hospital, Colorado City.

The Rev. and Mrs. C. L. Eastman and children of Andrews visited the Altis Clemmers and other friends in Westbrook last week.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Oden and children attended the Wagner-Brown Reunion at the park in Big Spring Sunday. Approximately 50 attended from Westbrook, Colorado City, Silver, Midland and Big Spring.

Fr. Moore Meets With Altar Society In Final Session

In his final meeting with the St. Thomas Altar Society, Tuesday evening at the church hall, Father Wm. J. Moore OMI expressed his appreciation to the women for their cooperation. The clergyman will leave today for his new post at St. Ann's Church in Midland.

Mrs. J. E. Flynn was installed as president by Father Moore. Others taking office were Mrs. B. P. Hutchton, vice president; Mrs. Riley Ward, secretary; and Mrs. W. E. Blanchard, treasurer.

Plans were made for an open house next Sunday to honor Father Francis Beazley, who has been assigned here from Elgin as pastor of St. Thomas Catholic Church. The affair is to be held from 4 to 6 p.m. at the church hall.

During the social hour, coffee and cookies were served to 14.

Goliad Students Elect Cheerleaders

Seventh grade students of Goliad Junior High School elected their cheerleaders Wednesday morning. Sonja Arrick, Virginia Wilson, Sandra Walker, Martha Glickman, Charlotte Shive and Christy Tiles were named to the posts.

Cheerleaders for the eighth grade are Kenny Kay Stephens, Karen Lee and Karen McGibbon and for the ninth grade, Telie Grooms, Katie Bess Morgan and Judy Gillean. These two groups were chosen in the spring elections.

Mrs. Joy Corvin is faculty sponsor for the cheerleaders.

Low-Calorie Snack

Ever team cottage cheese with minced anchovies for a low-calorie snack for weight watchers?

Elbow HD Hears Tour Highlights

Memorable moments during her recent European trip were recalled by Mrs. Armour Long for the Elbow HD Club meeting Wednesday afternoon at the school cafeteria. Mrs. B. J. Petty was hostess.

Mrs. Long brought along a number of souvenirs to display to the group. She was one of 12 who formed the touring party led by Bruce Frazier.

Ten members answered roll call with ways to improve the club. The devotion, from Acts 6, was brought by Mrs. Petty.

Election of officers resulted in Mrs. Ray Shortes being named president. Mrs. Jack McKinnon, Mrs. L. L. Phemister and Mrs. Pershing Morton will assume their duties as vice president, secretary and treasurer, respectively, at the first of the year. Mrs. B. J. Petty is council delegate.

Cookies will be baked for the state hospital next month, it was agreed.

The next meeting is set for 2 p.m. Sept. 24, at the home of Mrs. Shortes.

First Aid Tips Given For Child Study Club

Otto Peters Sr., veteran instructor of first aid courses in this county, was guest speaker for the Child Study Club at their Wednesday afternoon assembly in the home of Mrs. Glenn Allen.

Peters' topic was "Six Fundamentals of First Aid." He concluded his informative talk with his statement, "Remember, the first aider never adds to the injury."

Mrs. F. D. Williams, president, announced the appointment of Mrs. Charles Sweeney as representative to the state hospital advisory council; Mrs. Wayland Yates will act as alternate. Also named was Mrs. Bruce Wright Jr., who will be representative to the city federation council.

Heading the project committee will be Mrs. Yates. She will be assisted by Mrs. Zack Gray and Mrs. Allen.

The club agreed to change the hour for future meetings from 2:45 to 2 p.m. The next session will be Oct. 8 at the home of Mrs. Tommy Hart, 1750 Purdue.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Allen and her cohostess, Mrs. David Elrod, to 14.

DOES Will Stage A Bunco Party Oct. 1

Tentative plans for a bunco party, open to the public, were mapped by the BPO Does, Wednesday evening at the Elks Lodge. The event is set for 8 p.m. Oct. 1 at the club, with 50 cent tickets to go on sale soon. Hostesses will be Mrs. S. V. Jordan, Mrs. Julius Zodin, Mrs. Alma George, Mrs. Joe Clark and Mrs. L. D. Jenkins.

Pro-tem officers for the evening were Mrs. Glen Gale, first counselor; Mrs. A. J. Prager, senior counselor; Mrs. Hugh Nixon, outer guard; Mrs. Joe Clark, conductress. Twelve attended.

Mrs. Grace Grandstaff won the attendance prize.

Music Study Club Hears District Official And Tour Highlights

Fitting in with the study theme for the year, "Worlds of Music", members of the Music Study Club heard an informal talk by Joyce Howard, Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Harold Talbot.

Miss Howard was one of 88 singers who comprised the All America Chorus which toured Europe the latter half of the summer. She shared the highlights with her fellow club members.

Guest speaker was Mrs. Max E. Ramsey of Andrews, president of the Ninth District. Her inspirational addres followed the theme "The World of Federation and International Relations."

Musical selections were presented by Elsie Willis, pianist, who played "Impromptu in F Sharp", Chopin, and by Mrs. Jack Ware who sang "Impatience" by Schubert. She was accompanied by Mrs. Jim Line. Roberta Gay, who is chairman of the Hymn of the Month feature, acompanied the club as they sang "Jerusalem, The Golden."

Mrs. J. E. Hardesty was appointed on-to-convention chairman, following the announcement of the District Convention slated for Midland on Nov. 7 and 8. Yearbooks were distributed by Mrs. Fred Beckham, program chairman, and her committee. The group includes Mrs. C. A. Boyd, Mrs. Douglas Wiehe, Mrs. Harrol Jones and Miss Howard.

In other action, the club accepted the resignation of Mrs. Ruth Burnam, who has moved to El Paso.

Refreshments were served to 21 by the hostesses, Mrs. Chester Barnes and Mrs. C. A. Boyd. The next meeting will be at 3:30 p.m. Oct. 8 at the home of Mrs. H. M. Jarratt, with Mrs. Bill Griese and Miss Howard sharing hostess duties.

AL Auxiliary Dance

The American Legion Auxiliary will sponsor a dance Saturday at the Legion Hall, from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Music will be provided by Tony Starr and the Continentals. All Legion members and their guests are invited. There will be no charge.

DEAR ABBY

NOURISH HIS EGO

By ABIGAL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: If this man was not my husband I wouldn't put up with him for an hour. We've been married 16 years and he has always had the idea that he is the life of the party. He is really the loudest mouth in the place wherever we are. He tells the most vulgar stories right in front of women (including my own mother) and believe me he has been told off more than once by many people. It doesn't do any good. How can I get him to clean up his talk so he won't embarrass me?

EMBARRASSED

DEAR EMBARRASSED: Your 'little boy" (because that's what he is) is still trying to get attention. His ego is desperately in need of nourishing. Maybe he needs a build-up on the home front instead of a scolding. Have a serious heart-to-heart talk with him and get a good psychologist to help you.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I am a 15-year-old girl and my girlfriend invited me to sleep in a tent in their backyard and my dad said "No—never." But he wouldn't give me a reason why. We'd be sleeping right in their backyard and if it rained or something we could go in the house. My brother who is 11 can sleep outside in a tent. Is this fair? C.S.E.

DEAR C.S.E.: A 15-year-old girl is a young lady and shouldn't be sleeping outside in a tent with another girl. I can't criticize your father's decision — only his refusal to explain his reasoning.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I am a young man who would like to get married but I don't make enough money. The only way I could make it would be to marry a girl who had a good job and wouldn't mind going 50-50. Is this okay or do you think the husband should take the full responsibility of earning the whole check?

YEARNING TO MARRY

DEAR YEARNING: When your earning capacity equals your yearning capacity, marry. But not until.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Eleven years ago I had a baby boy out of wedlock. When he was seven months old I met a wonderful man and we fell in love. I told him the whole story. He married me anyway and adopted my little boy. Since then we have had two of our own. We have never told the first boy that his "Daddy" is not his real father. There would be so many things we couldn't explain. Are we making a mistake, Abby, in letting him believe as he does? The only ones who know the truth are my mother and my sister.

KEEPING A SECRET

DEAR KEEPING: Go right on keeping your secret. Sometimes a kind lie is better than a cruel truth. If the time ever comes when you have to reveal the whole story, the boy will probably be mature enough by then to understand it.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I decided that this year for my vacation I would just stay home and relax. This was the worst mistake I ever made. My wife handed me all the odd jobs she had been saving up for five years. I cleaned the garage, painted the screens, repaired the roof, built an outdoor barbecue and poured concrete for the patio. I sanded and revarnished all the floors in our eight-room house. I never worked so hard in my life. I have to go back to work on Monday and I need a vacation from my vacation. It's too late for me, but be a pal, Abby, and print this. It might save some other sucker who decides to spend his vacation at home just "taking it easy."

If Smoke Won't Do It, Nothing Will

BOISE, Idaho (AP) — Mrs. Charles O. Brady built the first fire of the season in the fireplace yesterday. The heat melted honey from a beehive in the chimney. It dripped down and a swarm of angry bees followed. Firemen plugged the chimney to keep the bees out of the house but no one quite knew how to get them out of the chimney.

Space Panel Tells Of Future Targets

WASHINGTON (AP)—The newly established National Aeronautics and Space Administration has detailed plans to probe the skies with a whole series of earth satellites.

These are for the year ahead. For the more distant future NASA is already at work on projects to explore the moon and then move on to the planets.

NASA's program plans were disclosed for the first time at a packed-to-capacity dinner meeting of the Institute of the Aeronautical Sciences last night.

They were outlined by Edgar M. Cortright of the Lewis Flight Propulsion Laboratory at Cleveland, a major unit of the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics. NACA is in the process of space - age transformation into NASA.

Cortright said he believed that through the NASA programs man would:

1. Be placed in orbit around the earth within two years.
2. Land on the moon and return to earth, within 6 to 10 years.
3. Undertake exploration of Mars, but certainly not for at least 10 to 15 years.

Cortright described 16 space experiments which NASA has ready or can get under way within its first year of operation. Some can be combined, so that the actual number of launchings required has not been determined.

Seven experiments involve satellites weighing between 100 and 120 pounds, launched into orbits some 300 miles above the earth.

One satellite, used in geodetic measurements, would be equipped with a flashing light so that it could be sighted simultaneously from various tracking stations.

Two satellites would be specially designed to study the earth's cloud cover. Others would investigate aurora, air glow and primary particles which color the early morning skies.

A 100-ound satellite inflating to a diameter of 100 feet, for studies of communications, radar and air density, would be launched before next July. Some of the satellites in this series would carry living organisms —yeast, initially — into space.

Nine of the proposed experiments would involve satellites weighing more than 200 pounds, orbiting at more than 300 miles and serving as stabilized platforms.

Some of the larger satellites might be sent aloft before all of the 100-pounders were launched.

One of the big satellites would carry into its orbit an atomic clock, a complex device making use of resonance within the atom. It would be compared with an atomic clock on the ground as a check of Einstein's theory of time in space.

Others in the large category would carry optical or radio telescopes to study the stars. Other experiments in this group will investigate the amount of hydrogen in space, celestial far ultraviolet light, electromagnetic radiation from the stars, cosmic ray sources the direction and intensity of cosmic dust, and propagation of radiation through the ionosphere.

Cortright said the experiments would follow up the studies currently under way as part of the International Geophysical Year.

80 Dogs Killed At City Pound, Traffic Gets 72

The number of dogs killed on city streets and those destroyed in the city pound continued to be about the same.

During August, the city destroyed 80 dogs in the pound, and there were 72 picked up by the city which had been killed by motorists.

In all, the city impounded 84 dogs during the month, according to the report from the pound. Twelve animals were redeemed or sold during that time. License fees collected during the month amounted to $19.25, and $21 were paid in pound fees.

Big Scout Rally Slated Sept. 25

The fall roundup for the Cubs, Boy Scouts and Explorer Scouts of the Lone Star District is to take the form of a rally on the evening of Sept. 25.

Plans are to hold the program in the junior high stadium and for all units in the district—Cub packs, Scout troops and Explorer posts—to take part.

Each unit will, according to tentative plans under the direction of Jack Alexander, general chairman, march into the stadium and be recognized as to number and sponsor.

Boys interested in taking part in any part of the scouting program —from 9-year-old Cubs on up through Explorers—will be invited to attend the big rally with their parents. After the brief program, there will be an opportunity for boys to visit the unit they would like to join and there talk with leaders and be signed on the spot if they desire.

Master of ceremonies will be Dr. W. A. Hunt, and Floyd Parsons will be the keynote speaker. The Order of Arrow will arrange a brief program including Indian dances.

Named to a committee to secure unit participation were the Rev. C. W. Parmenter and Ben Johnson. On a publicity committee are Bill Gray, J. N. Young Jr., Bob Lindley and Joe Pickle.

Traffic Fines Total $2,205 During August

Motorists felt the effect of the city's radar set during August and paid some $2,205 in violations during the time.

The city police department used the radar set extensively during the month with the result on the fine ledger. In all, 237 traffic tickets brought convictions and fines totaling $2,205, according to the police's monthly report.

Drunks drew their share of fines. There were 110 persons convicted of being drunk, and their fines amounted to $2,437. Five more were fined $120 for being drunk in cars.

Nineteen were fined $111 on vagrancy charges, and 16 disturbance convictions brought fines of $490. Fines of $145 were assessed against four persons for leaving the scenes of accidents.

Overtime parking violations paid amounted to $712, and $25 was paid on warrants.

Cash receipts at the police department amounted to $4,602, and fines of $2,071 were laid out in jail at $3 per day.

For all types of offenses, the police officers issued 1,202 tickets.

Tech Adds Degree In Entomology, Second In State

LUBBOCK—Insects, which outnumber all other living creatures on earth, are due to have more opponents when Texas Tech entomology graduates begin reaching "fields of combat."

A formal major in entomology at Tech has been approved by the Texas Commission on Higher Education.

This makes Tech the second Texas institution to offer a complete sequence of courses leading to a degree in the important field of insects and insect control. It culminates several years of work to establish a course sequence and arrange for qualified faculty members to educate students in insect identification, insect control and the many ways insects affect civilization.

"As the new toils and instruments of science find their place in our modern world, we find increasingly important contacts with the insect world," says Dr. Donald Ashdown, entomology professor in the Agriculture School.

"This largest of all groups of living things not only competes with us for food, fibre and living space, but it also contributes much to the condition of our health, production of crops and knowledge in appreciating and understanding the world about us," he added.

50,021 TURN OUT BUT TRIBE PALMS OFF GAME TO YANKS

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

That "back-the-Indians" drive paid off with a crowd of 50,021 and a touch of irony at Cleveland last night.

It was the Tribe's largest night game draw since 1954, the last year they won the American League pennant. But the Injuns came through with the same sort of play that has kept the folks away ever since, losing 8-3 to the New York Yankees. Two of their runs were unearned, and the third was hustled home on three walks and a hit batsman.

It was a Bill Veeck type deal that brought out the crowd. Fireworks, music, entertainment, prizes and a chance to see the Yankees, who had lost four of their last five games and seven of their last 12, reduce their magic number to five.

The Chicago White Sox, with nothing else to shoot for, padded their second-place edge over Boston to 2½ games by beating the Red Sox 7-2. Washington knocked off Detroit 5-4 and Kansas City defeated Baltimore 4-2.

The Indians had seven hits, all singles off rookie Zack Monroe (4-1), who was relieved by Ryne Duren and Art Ditmar. Elston Howard, Tony Kubek and Hank Bauer each drove in two runs for the Yankees as Don Mossi lost his eighth in 15 decisions.

Southpaw Billy Pierce allowed eight hits and won his 16th for the White Sox. The White Sox broke a 2-all tie with five runs in the eighth off reliever Murray Wall (7-9).

Clint Courtney drove in four runs for the Senators, who were shut out on one hit by Paul Foytack (12-12) for five innings. Courtney's two-run double capped a three-run sixth, and his seventh homer was good for a clinching two runs in the eighth. Charlie Maxwell hit his third career grand-slam homer in the third for the Tigers, who then were blanked by Russ Kemmerer and winning reliever Tex Clevenger (9-8).

Rookie Willie Tasby's first homer, a solo shot in the sixth, gave the Orioles a 2-1 lead at Kansas City. But a two-out error and Hector Lopez's 15th homer put it away for the A's in the eighth. Bob Grim (6-6) was the winner. Jack Harshman (11-13) lost it.

Coahoma Grid Captains

Friend Claims 20th Victory Behind Bucs

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Bob Friend of the Pittsburgh Pirates is the first pitcher to win 20 games in the National League this year.

Friend, 27, had to go 10 innings to do it, beating San Francisco 6-4 on Dick Stuart's two-out, two-run homer.

The Giants tagged him for a dozen hits and three walks. But Friend, with his mates getting only three hits over the last eight innings, left 11 on base and blanked the Giants on four singles over the last five frames.

No Pirate pitcher had won 20 since Murry Dickson in 1951, the year Friend broke in with the Bucs.

The Bucs now hold second place by 5½ games over the Giants with the three-game sweep. The Milwaukee Braves, 6½ games ahead kept rolling toward a second straight pennant by beating Cincinnati 3-0 on Juan Pizarro's three-hitter.

St. Louis tied Cincinnati for fourth, beating the Chicago Cubs 3-1. Philadelphia knocked off Los Angeles 8-6.

Friend had a 4-1 lead after two innings. But it slipped away on Daryl Spencer's two-run homer in the third and Orlando Cepeda's sacrifice fly in the fifth. Stuart's shot followed a two-out single by Roberto Clemente off loser Marv Grissom (7-5). Ray Monzant, lifted for a hitter in the 10th, had blanked the Bucs on one hit for 7 1-3 innings.

Pizarro (6-2), a 21-year-old southpaw, gave up only a pair of singles by Pete Whisenant and Johnny Temple's double while gaining his first major league shutout. The Braves beat Bob Purkey (16-10) with a fifth-inning run on Billy Bruton's bunt and a two-out single by Red Schoendienst.

A pair of errors helped the Cards in a winning, two-run fifth while Wilmer Mizell (10-11) breezed with a four-hitter. Taylor Phillips (7-9) was the loser.

The Phils scored seven runs, three unearned, in three innings against loser Don Drysdale (11-13).

Spirits Of Coaches Rise, Fall In SWC

By WHITEY SAWYER
Associated Press Staff Writer

If anyone had kept a graph on Southwest Conference football coaches' spirits Wednesday it would have shown more peaks and valleys than the Rockies.

There were outstanding performances in many cases. Some were by veterans returning to form, others welcome efforts by newcomers. But there were long injury lists throughout the conference and bad weather didn't help any.

The champion Rice Owls scrimmaged up and down a muddy field with movie cameras catching the action for study Thursday. Coach Jess Neely called it a good scrimmage and praised Mike Bowen for his crisp blocking at halfback.

Larry Roberts, Bendy Poole and Bill Donaldson were on the injury list.

Coach Abe Martin of TCU promised rough work Thursday after Wednesday's light drill. He said he was pleased with the punting of Jimmy Gilmore, Larry Terrell and Aubrey Linne. Martin also praised the running of reserve back Jimmy Todd.

SMU was jolted by injuries to first string center Jerry Sharrock, who reinjured his ribs. Max Christian, a sophomore, showed up surprisingly well, however, as Sharrock's replacement. Veteran fullback Wayne Slankard reinjured a knee.

Rene Ramirez sparked the Texas workout with a return to last year's brilliant running. However, there was an epidemic of injuries. Both the first and second string right tackles, James Schillingburg and Don Talbert, were injured.

Texas A&M had 16 men on the injured list, but only wingback Randy Sims is expected to miss the Texas Tech opener.

Ed Dudley moved to the No. 1 tailback position ahead of Charles Milstead.

Baylor's first two teams practiced offense. Larry Hickman ran for one score, soph Randy Brown constructed three and soph Halfback Richard Gowen came up with a touchdown run.

QBC IS FORMED

Stanton To Open New Press Box

STANTON (Spl)—The new press box at the Stanton High School football field will be formally opened to members of the Fourth Estate, when the Buffaloes launch hope play against Big Lake at 8 o'clock here Friday night.

The Stanton gridiron was opened a year ago but was done so hurriedly that the board did not have time to have a press box built.

Following the 1957 campaign, Stanley Reid, president of the board, went to work on the press box.

H. S. Blocker donated 250 feet of two-inch pipe, which was used to secure the box above and back of the seats in the east stands.

N. I. Sorrels furnished welding equipment and welding rods. LeRoy Fincher, Herman Cain, Floyd Huckaby, Gene Clements, Sorrels and O. C. Turner did the welding and other work.

The school maintenance men, Thomas Rodriquez and Pete Jones, built the press coop itself.

T. R. Louder donated the wiring for the 6 X 18 foot structure.

The project cost an estimated $550 but its value has been placed in excess of $1,000.

* * *

The Stanton Quarterback Club was formally organized in a meeting held at the High School Cafeteria Tuesday night. A total of 25 attended.

Stanley Reid was named president of the booster organization. Eugene Baugh will serve as vice president and T. R. Louder secretary-treasurer.

Present plans call for the club to meet each Tuesday evening in the cafeteria.

Each member was urged to bring a prospective member with him to the next meeting.

Directors of the club will include Gordon Stone, O. C. Turner, Owen Thompson and Jim Stallings.

Connie Mack Hood presided over the Tuesday night session and introduced head coach Harlin Dauphin and his assistant, John Bailey.

Dauphin briefly outlined his program and introduced players on the football team to the members.

Floyd Sorley, junior high coach, was also called upon to introduce members of his team.

Campy Proves He's Improved

NEW YORK (AP) — "Now I can touch any part of my body. I can feed myself. Maybe it doesn't sound like so much, but to me it is wonderful."

Roy Campanella smiled and raised his right hand toward the collar brace that held him erect in the wheelchair. The hospital room was jammed with reporters for the first full scale news conference since Roy's near-fatal auto crash Jan. 28.

"I've been in some tough spots with foul tips and things like that but nothing compared to this," he said. "The first tough one came after I slid off the road and hit that pole. I thought I'd turn the engine off. That's when I found out I was paralyzed.

"Then on the second day I came down with bronchial pheumonia and I couldn't breathe. They had to lance my throat and put a tube in.

"I didn't think I'd make it that night. I really prayed. There I was paralyzed and couldn't breathe. It was a pretty tough feeling. It's wonderful to know how much I've improved."

Roy is thin compared to the 230-pound man who used to catch for the Dodgers when they still were in Brooklyn. Somehow he looks younger. They say he had trouble speaking at first but now his voice is strong enough.

He can't walk and nobody can say for sure that he ever will. He is limited in the time he can sit up and he has only partial use and control of his arms. The suspension frame has given way to a special bed from which he can easily be placed in a wheelchair.

He is just beginning training on propelling his chair and sliding with help into a car. The bulky neck frame has been revised to permit greater freedom of movement.

NewYorker Confident He Can Lick Harvie Ward

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Three golfing collegians confidently faced tough, experienced former champions Harvie Ward, Charlie Coe and Dick Chapman in the fifth round of the U. S. Amateur Tournament today.

"Sure, I think I can beat Ward," declared 20-year-old Ward Wettlaufer, a senior at Hamilton College in New York. "I'll surprise the golfing world. My game is at its peak."

Ward, who won in 1955 and 1956, commented: "At this stage, every match is tough. The title is at stake on every shot."

Tom Morgan of Fresno Calif. State College met Coe, and Southeastern Conference titlist Tom Aaron of Florida teed off against Chapman, who won way back in 1940.

In all, five collegians were listed among the 16 starters, who didn't include last year's champion Hillman Robbins or the man who beat him yesterday.

Deane Beman, Maryland junior who said he hadn't heard of Johnny Dawson before this tournament drew the 55-year-old former runner-up as his opponent. UCLA's Dick Foote faced Don Bisplinghoff of Miami Beach.

Chuck Kocsis, the Michigan veteran who went to the final in 1956, tried his game against Clyde Oskin, Bethlehem, Pa. Dr. Frank (Bud) Taylor, the 41-year-old Pomona, Calif., dentist who lost in last year's final, tangled with the only foreign entry left, Canada's Eric Hanson.

In the other match, Claude Wild, twice winner of the Maryland state title, teed off against Cincinnati's Roger McManus.

Defending champion Robbins left the scene via a 4 and 2 defeat by fat, 43-year-old Marty Stanovich of Niles, Ill., who was beaten by Oskin in the next round.

Ward whipped Charlie Leider, San Mateo, and Jerry Pittman, Tulsa, yesterday.

ACC Enters 1959 ABClub Relays

R. H. Weaver, director of the 1959 American Business Club Relays, announced this morning that Abilene Christian College had entered the huge track and field show, which will be held the last Friday and Saturday in March.

Oliver Jackson, ACC coach, confirmed the Wildcats' entry via letter this morning.

Six universities have now entered teams in the local show. Of those who competed here last spring, only Duke and the University of Texas have not committed themselves and Weaver expressed confidence that the Steers would be included in the 1959 meet.

Clyde Littlefield, coach of the Texas team, has already made inquiries about the meet. Texas won the university division this year.

Other universities which have already entered teams here include Baylor, Southern Methodist, Houston, North Texas and Texas Tech.

Duke made one of its rare appearances in a meet west of the Mississippi river here last spring. The Blue Devils' Dave Sime bested ACC's Bobby Morrow and Bill Woodhouse in the "race of the century" here.

An out-of-state team may be sought to replace Duke in the local show.

Weaver said he had received no reply from the invitation he extended Russia to field a team in the local meet.

The invitation was extended to the Muscovites through Llewellyn E. Thompson, United States Ambassador to Russia, after the State Department had given its approval.

SEASON DUCAT SALE MOUNTS

Season ticket sales for Big Spring High School home football games now total 722.

The season ducats will remain on sale at the School Business Office through Friday. They sell for $10.50 each and are good for seven home games, including the opener tomorrow night with San Antonio Edison.

Edison game ducats will be available at the School Business Office until 2 p.m. Friday. Box office at Memorial Stadium will open at 7 p.m. for those who have not been able to purchase tickets.

The game ticket sells for $1.50 and purchaser can just about have his choice of where he wants to sit. At 11 o'clock this morning, a total of 180 tickets were sold for five home games.

Bill Read Named To Army Team

FORT RILEY, Kan. (SC)—Army Pfc. William L. Read, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Read, Coahoma, Tex., recently was selected to be a member of the 69th Armor football team at Fort Riley, Kan.

Read is regularly assigned as a clerk-typist in the armor's Company A. He entered the Army in August 1957 and completed basic training at Fort Carson, Colo.

The 23-year-old soldier is a 1953 graduate of Coahoma High School. He attended Sul Ross State College.

Team 1 Scores Bowling Sweep

Team 1 achieved the only sweep in Housewives Bowling league play at Clover Bowl Wednesday, winning the maximum number of points from Wasson and Trantham.

In other matches, Tom's Peanuts turned back Zale's Jewelers and Team 6 churned past Team 5, both by 3-1 margins.

Fannie Woodson led individual scoring with 165-426. Dora Court had a 410 aggregate and Faye Brophy a 156 single game.

Team 1 posted the best scoring aggregate, with 1,863.

The only split was converted by Betty Duncan of Tom's Peanuts—the 5-6-10.

Next week, Team 5 meets Tom's Peanuts, Team 1 takes on Team 6 and Zale's challenges Wasson and Trantham.

Football Action To Begin At 4:30 P.M. Here Today

There'll be five football games in Big Spring this week and four of them will be played this afternoon and tonight.

All the contests on tap today and tonight will be unreeled in Steer Stadium, located at 10th and State streets, which now is used as a practice field for the varsity Steers.

Action gets under way at 4:30 p.m. today, with a game between Snyder and the Goliad 7th grade club.

Snyder's 8th graders tackle the Goliad 8th at 5:30 p.m. An hour later, Lamesa's 7th graders take on the Runnels 7th while at 7:30 p.m. Lamesa's 8th squares off with the Runnels 8th.

One other local contingent, the Goliad 9th, visits Lamesa at 7:30 p.m. for its opening game.

The Big Spring High School A and B teams, along with the Runnels 9th, also see action this weekend.

The varsity troops host San Antonio Edison at 8 o'clock tomorrow night in Memorial Stadium while the B team challenges Lamesa there at 7:30 p.m. Saturday and the Runnels 9th visits Midland for a 2 p.m. imbroglio Saturday with Austin Junior High.

Don Stevens coaches the Goliad 7th, Dan Bustamente the Runnels 7th, Bobby Zellars the Runnels 8th, Jimmy Marcus the Goliad 8th, Dan Lewis and John Perry Yates the Goliad 9th, Hugh Hamm and Ted Kirby the Runnels 9th, Roy Baird and Vernon Harton the Big Spring High School B team.

Starters for the Goliad 9th graders include:

Don Ellis, center; Richard Bain and Thomas, guards; Ernie Samples and Larry Carney, tackles; Red Schwarzenbach and Gil Jones, Jimmy Madry or Bob Moore, ends; Tucker, quarterback; Dexter Pate, wingback; Benny Pitzer or Ken Moelling, fullback; and Dean Lee, tailback.

Three Sweeps Are Scored In League

Team 2 knocked over Team 1, Team 4 turned back Team 3, and Team 6 nudged Team 5, all by 4-0 in inaugural Officer Wives bowling league competition at Webb AFB recently.

In the other match, Team 7 eked out a 2½-1½ victory over Team 8.

Evie Malott posted a 488 for top agregate. Charley Gilliland and Jerri Kraas each had a 178 for top individual game.

Team 6 dominated overall scoring, with 1,892.

Splits were converted by:

Fran Nixon, 2-3-5-7; Lorraine Lahr, 5-10; Bobbie Cobb, 5-7; Charley Gilliland, 3-10; and Betty Reid, 3-10.

Dark Or Tebbetts May Be Next Manager Of Cards

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Alvin Dark and Birdie Tebbetts seem to be the most likely candidates to replace Fred Hutchinson, under fire as manager of the St. Louis Cardinals.

Reports that Hutchinson, along with all the Cardinals coaches, would be fired continued to mount despite denials.

Cardinal executives, including President August A. Busch, have repeatedly said no decision about a manager will be made until the season is over. But only yesterday in New York, Executive Vice President Dick Meyer said, "Frankly things don't look too good for Hutchinson right now."

Tebbetts, who recently quit as manager of the Cincinnati Redlegs, has talked with Cardinal officials. Meyer said he had talked to Tebbetts "but not about a managerial job." He did not elaborate.

Dark was traded by the Cardinals to the Cubs for pitcher Jim Brosnan early in the season. It is reported that when with the Redbirds he impressed team officials as possible manager material.

A source close to Cardinal executives said, "You can put it this way. Either Tebbetts or Dark would be welcomed by the Cardinals. Both names have come up because some other club may beat them to the punch in getting Tebbetts and the Cardinals are not sure of Dark's availability."

Service Club Set To Honor Athletes

FORSAN (SC) — The Forsan Service Club will honor members of the 1958 Forsan High School football team and their coaches with a barbecue on the Forsan High School patio at 7:30 p.m. Saturday.

Tickets to the barbecue are $1.50 are now being sold by members of the club and at the high school.

The Bisons play in Ackerly Friday night.

Palmer Says 273 Needed At Denver

DENVER (AP) — The PGA's leading money winner so far this year, Arnold Palmer from Latrobe, Pa., says a score of 271 to 273 should be enough to pick up the $2,000 first prize in the $20,000 Denver Open Centennial tournament beginning today.

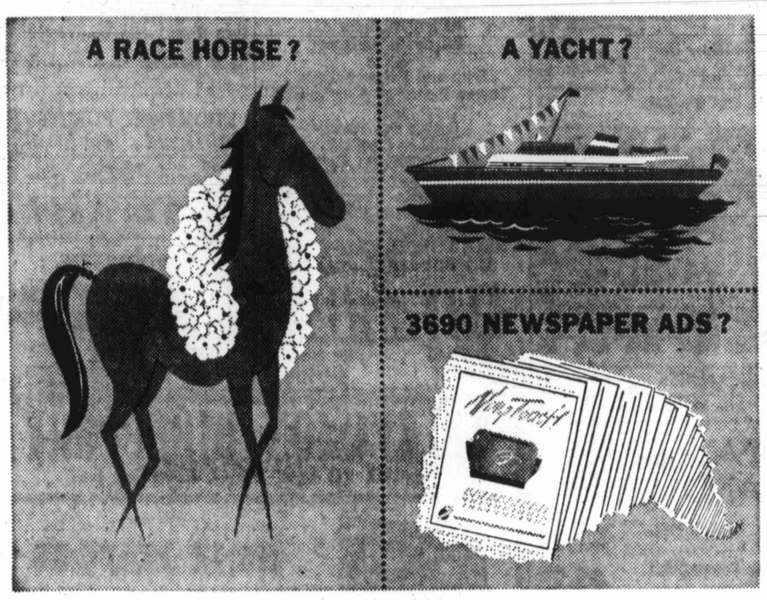
What could you buy for the annual cost of a TV drama... on 3 stations in Michigan?



ONE OF A SERIES

ANSWER: YOU'D BE BETTER OFF WITH THE DAILY NEWSPAPER. That is, if you are an advertiser. For example, a typical hour drama costs $256,223 a year to run on three stations in Michigan. This would buy a schedule of 26,844 lines a year in all 55 Michigan dailies with a total circulation of 2,390,000. That's 3690 ads the same size as the one you're reading right now! No wonder advertisers invest more money in the daily newspaper than in radio, television, magazines and outdoor combined!

C-C Group Elects Tune

LAMESA—Carroll Tune, a service station operator here, was elected foreman of the Roundup Club, membership and public relations wing of the Lamesa Chamber of Commerce, in that group's regular monthly breakfast meeting Wednesday. Replacing Tune as head wrangler is Lloyd Cline. Bill David becomes head cowpoke. Tune succeeds Bill Beeson and David succeeds Don Nutt.

The new foreman led the Roundup Club during the past year in securing new members. He was followed closely by Ross Woodson, also a member of the Wranglers.

Beeson, in his closing report to the club, depicted the year as being very successful, with 87 new members signed to the Chamber and a net gain of $1,200 in membership fees during the year. Only 11 persons or firms who were members at the beginning of the year, and who are still in business failed to either remain members or to renew their membership during the year.

Three Charged With Felonies

Bryan Arly Ragg, 39, whose home is in Odessa, was picked up in Midland Wednesday afternoon and returned to Howard County to face forgery charges.

Miller Harris, sheriff, said that Ragg has been charged with forging the name of R. E. Sims to a $5 check, Harris placed the man in jail here.

Other charges filed in the court of Walter Grice, justice of the peace, include:

Horal Lynn Bailey, accused by his wife of deserting his two children, 9 and 10 years of age; and Robert Watson, driving while intoxicated, second offense.

Arms For Cuba Grabbed

Dock workers at Fort Lauderdale, Fla., look on as Raymond Bond of the U.S. Border Patrol examines an anti-tank gun and other weapons and ammunition confiscated from a boat which was bound for Cuba. Customs officials said the arms and ammunition were bound for Cuba to aid Fidel Castro's forces. Thirty men, all in uniforms, were taken into custody.

Newspaper Group Indicted For Anti-Trust Violation

DALLAS (AP)—The Dallas federal grand jury Wednesday indicted three companies and three individuals on charges of violating the Sherman Anti-Trust Act in operation of the Greenville Banner and the Greenville Herald, now the Herald-Banner.

Indicted were:

Harte-Hanks Newspapers, Inc., Abilene; Herald-Banner Publishing Co., Greenville; Harte-Hanks and Co., a partnership, Abilene; Houston Harte, San Angelo; Millard Cope, Marshall; and Bruce Meador, Abilene.

The indictment states that prior to October 1956 the Greenville area had two newspapers, the Morning Herald and the Greenville Banner, an afternoon newspaper.

The federal documents state that the two were the only significant sources of local news, advertising and other information disseminated regularly for Greenville area residents.

Also charged is that the defendants, who purchased the Banner in 1954, conspired to eliminate the competition of the Herald and did eliminate it. The Banner purchased the Herald.

Matt Sheley, publisher of the Herald-Banner, made this statement to The Associated Press following the indictment:

"Naturally we are disappointed in the verdict of the grand jury. The anti-trust division gave us no opportunity to present our side of the case to the members of the grand jury.

"We feel that if the grand jury had been given an opportunity to hear our side of the case, there would have been no indictment.

"We look forward with confidence to the opportunity of presenting our case to the federal court."

The companies and individuals earlier fought against the indictment, claiming they permitted federal investigators to see records only if the records would not be used for prosecution.

This contention was upheld by U. S. Judge William H. Atwell of Dallas. But Atwell's ruling was overturned by the Fifth U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals. The U. S. Supreme Court refused to hear an appeal.

Harte said, after the Supreme Court refused to act, that "We feel it is not only our right but our duty to resist any attempt to make a disclosure of our private affairs."

Harte further said the group also "feels an obligation as publishers of newspapers enjoying the constitutional right to freedom of the press to stand firm against any encroachment of the no less important constitutional right which we share with all our citizens."

Victor R. Hansen, assistant attorney general in charge of the anti-trust division, said:

"According to the charges of the grand jury in this case, the defendants have operated the Greenville Banner to intentionally eliminate the only other competing newspaper in the Greenville area. This case is indicative of the great concern which we all have in protecting the right of the small businessman to engage in free competition in his market place. Such conduct must be proceeded against in order to successfully deter others from engaging in such practices."

Stanton P-TA Sets Date For Festival

STANTON (SC) — The Stanton Parent-Teachers Assn. has set Oct. 14 as the date for the annual P-TA Harvest Festival.

At the first meeting of the year on Monday, plans were set in motion for this major activity. Elmore Johnson, former elementary principal, was the speaker for the meeting and urged parents and teachers each to accept responsibility rightfully theirs and not shirk or shift it. L. M. Hays, superintendent, outlined the safety program, emphasizing the importance of unloadng pupils on the side of the street next to the school campus. He said the city police would help with traffic safety measures around the school. Program chairman for the meeting was Lawrence Adkins.

Election Planned

Woodmen of the World circle members have been urged to attend an important business session Friday at 7:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Viola Bowles, 1602 Scurry. Among other items of business will be the election of officers, said Mrs. A. M. Ripps, president.

Jess Talkin'

Demand for cotton pickers is probably greater than ever before at this time of year. Cotton matured quicker than even some farmers expected, and it all seems to be opening at once.

Boll pulling is just now getting under way in this area, but is picking up steam every day. Yesterday afternoon the Guitar Gin turned out 25 bales. The first one had come in last Friday.

The Co-operative Gin & Supply had ginned 31 bales, while the No. 2 co-op had a total of 12 bales.

Most of the cotton has graded strict middling. The bales had averaged about 1,900 to 2,000 of pulled cotton for each 500-pound turnout. Some of it was a little damp the first few days this week.

Braceros are coming in by the truckloads, but not fast enough to suit most farmers. Leon Kinney at the Texas Employment Commission said he had authorized the importation of about 3,500 Mexican Nationals since Sept. 1, and that the last of this number would be here early next week.

This seems like a lot of workers, but it covers a three-county area—Howard, Martin and the cotton growing section of Glasscock County.

"Within a short while, the farmers could probably use twice this many workers," Kinney said.

He also said not many native workers had moved into this part of Texas yet. And as for local workers, very few have been asking about farm jobs.

Incidentally, there are two or three openings for all-around farm hands, said Jack Hatch at the TEC. One farmer will furnish housing and utilities and provide enough work to keep a man busy throughout the year.

One or two farmers also need men to help fill silos.

Maize continues to flow into Big Spring. Finis Taylor, manager of Kimbell's Feed Mill, said he received nearly a million pounds of grain last Saturday and almost half a million pounds yesterday.

"Some of it was a bit damp after the wet days," he said, "but it's beginning to dry out now."

Taylor says most farmers report that maize is making from 900 pounds on up to three-quarter of a ton. Some of the fields north of Big Spring may beat this. The late maize crop won't be harvested for some time yet, but it is also looking good. It was helped greatly by the last rains.

No. 2 maize is selling for $1.55 per hundred now. Most producers are accepting the retail price instead of putting it in the government loan.

* * *

SHORT ITEMS:

A modern Pied Piper could drum up a good business in Texas. Reports from downstate show that the Alexandrian rat is trying to take over. In Taylor County the Extension Service has an eradication campaign and the county agent put out over 10,000 pounds of rat poison.

The first cotton ginned at Stanton shows a higher grade than last year. Much of it was middling, which brings over 37 cents per pound . . . We understand Ray Winans, former manager at Kimbell Feed Mill in Big Spring, is now working for the Goodpasture Grain Co. of Lubbock.

The Urban Renewal people believe in doing things slowly. Stanton has not received any further word from the Fort Worth office after the first report was sent down there several weeks ago.

Some of the best dryland crops on the South Plains can be found north of Lamesa. Between Lamesa and Welch one can hardly tell the difference between dryland and irrigated cotton . . . Alfalfa hay is so cheap that one Dawson County farmer quit irrigating his field. He said the cost of one irrigation and the cutting took out all the profit.

Law officers are probably not so enthusiastic about the bracero program as farmers are. The braceros are getting a bit smarter and bolder every year, one officer said, and are causing quite a strain on the limited number of officers who must ride herd on them after farmers bring them to town on Friday or Saturday.

"Farmers don't want us to put their workers in jail," said the officers, "because they need the braceros in the cotton field on Monday morning."

Sandra Crow Is Queen Contestant

Sandra Crow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Crow of Luther, will represent Borden County High School in the Dawson County Fair queen contest Friday evening.

Sandra, who is a freshman at the high school in Gail, was elected in a contest with nominees by other classes to represent the school. Finals will be held at 8:30 p.m. Friday at Lamesa.

Vagrant Woman Is Fined $200

A Latin American woman, often arrested by police and county officers for vagrancy, drew one of the heaviest fines in some time in justice court on Wednesday.

She was fined $200. Lacking funds to pay the fine, she was back in jail. Sheriff Miller Harris said that he and his deputies, as well as city police, have had many occasions to arrest the defendant.

Educator Dies In San Angelo

SAN ANGELO, Tex. (AP)—Mrs. W. W. Carson, 86, widely known in West Texas as an educator and civic leader and the mother of Texas athletes, died Wednesday after an extended illness.

Mrs. Carson founded the Ft. Concho Museum. For more than 50 years she taught in West Texas schools.

She began teaching when 14 and continued until her retirement a few years ago. She formerly owned and operated the San Angelo Business College.

Mrs. Carson was for some time a member of the board of the Odd Fellows Orphans Home at Corsicana.

Three sons, Hezzie, Wood and Harold Carson starred in athletics at Texas Christian University. Wood coached football at Belton two years and football and basketball at Austin for three years. Hezzie and Wood live in San Angelo and Harold in Alamo.

Other survivors include another son, W. W. of Crane; two daughters, Mrs. M. K. Stevenson of Harlingen and Mrs. Herman Seanger, Fort Stockton; 2 sisters, one brother, 10 grandchildren and 17 great-grandchildren.

Her late husband was county clerk and later county judge of Irion County.

Funeral services will be held here at 3 p.m. today.

Baptist Boys Tell Of World Congress

Highlights of the world congress for Royal Ambassadors, a boy organization sponsored by Baptist laymen, were given to the Brotherhood of the First Baptist Church on Tuesday evening.

Among speakers were the boy delegates who attended, including Bill Tom Hale, Mike Faulkner, Dale Bullough, Cliff Creighton, Kenny Nance, Tommy McCann, B. T. Faulkner and T. H. McCann, who accompanied them, also talked briefly. At the Oct. 14 meeting, new officers headed by Dr. Earl Burnett will be installed.

WINNERS OF CAP ROCK ELECTRIC SCHOLARSHIPS TO HCJC
Patty Francis and Vernon Massey get awards from Arah Phillips

VERNON MASSEY, PATTY FRANCIS

Cap Rock Co-Op Awards Two Scholarships To Jr. College

Vernon Massey, Lomax, and Patty Francis, Sand Springs, have been selected to receive the Cap Rock Electric Cooperative Scholarships to Howard County Junior College for the 1958-59 school year.

The cooperative gives two scholarships, one to a boy and one to a girl, each year. Each scholarship provides tuition and fees for two semesters. Recipients are selected by the Scholarship Committee of the college.

The only requirement established by the cooperative is that students receiving the scholarships must come from families whose homes are on the cooperative's power lines.

Miss Francis is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Francis of Sand Springs. She is a sophomore physical education major at Howard County Junior College. Her favorite sport is basketball. After playing four years at Coahoma High School, she earned her letter as a forward on the Jayhawk Queens basketball team last year. She is a member of the Womens Recreation Assn. at the college.

Patty works as a copy writer at radio station KBST to help finance her education. Her twin sister, Peggy, also attends Howard County Junior College. Patty and Peggy were members of a trio that entertained with vocal numbers at the Cap Rock Electric Co-Op annual meeting in August. Another sister, Mrs. J. D. Spears, lives in Austin.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Massey, reside in the Lomax community. He has one sister, Lilly Fay, who attends school in Stanton.

Iraqi Belly Dancers Get Cold Shoulder

By TOM OCHILTREE

BAGHDAD, Iraq (AP) — Belly dancers are getting the cold shoulder from Iraq's revolutionary government.

The girls can hardly complain, for conditions are even tougher for the local horse players. They're getting no action at all. Orders issued by the government of Brig. Abdul Karim Kassim, the country's new premier, have given the Iraqi revolution strong puritan overtones.

Kassim wants people to concentrate on productivity rather than smirk at girls or gamble their wages away. His government has closed the race track. Clubs featuring high-stake card games also have been shut.

Bars are now required to serve last drinks at 11 p.m. instead of 2 a.m. In working class districts, cafe proprietors are even required to shoo their coffee-drinking customers home about midnight instead of allowing them to lounge around most of the night.

The belly dancers, mostly girls from southern Europe, come into Iraq on six-month permits. Then they are required to leave for six months or so before they can obtain readmission. That was the old system, apparently designed to give the customers a break. For in addition to dancing, the girls in many establishments sit with customers, urge them to buy drinks and get a commission. It was felt that after six months a girl got so good at this, she could run through a customer's bankroll in record time. By being kept out of the country for a while, a girl lost some of her hold on customers.

Some dancing girls are still working in Baghdad, but they expect to have difficulty getting back into the country when their permits run out, unless the government has a change of heart.

"Talk about the romantic Middle East. This place is getting as dead as a country town," said a Greek redhead who is billed as "The Dancer of a Thousand Delights."

"This changing of governments has gotten men's mind off dancing anyway," she said with a pout. "They come to the cabaret now to talk politics, which is sort of an insult to a girl's artistic temperament."

Angel To Appear On Trustee Panel

George S. Gandy, Wheeler, president of the Texas Assn. of School Boards, announced in Austin that Clyde Angel, Big Spring school board president, has accepted appointment to a panel which will discuss the new school budgeting and accounting procedures.

The panel will be presented at the 12th annual meeting of the association which will be held October 12 and 13, 1958, at the Driskill Hotel in Austin.

At the same time, it was announced that Dr. B. F. Pittenger, professor emeritus of educational administration at the University of Texas, will deliver the keynote address, "What is Wrong With Public Education?"

Colleges Thin Ranks Of DeMolay Members

Departure of several members to enroll in various colleges cut attendance at the weekly DeMolay meeting Tuesday evening. Only 17 showed up, compared to 24 a week earlier.

Among those missing were Wesley Grigsby, Julius Glickman, Kelsay Meek, Jan Loudermilk, Robert Stripling, George Peacock and Bob Leach, all now enrolling in college. Plans to hold an area conclave here later in the year were discussed last night. Haley Haynes is in charge of planning for the proposed gathering.

Thieves Got Lost

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Two years ago the Park Department built a maze of high hedges and invited the public in to "get lost." Few visitors ever enter. But Tuesday a couple of men robbed a filling station and fled into the maze, chased by a group of officers. The robbers "go lost," all right. The cops couldn't find them.

China Gets Chance For Peaceful Gains

By WARREN ROGERS JR.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States apparently is offering Red China a chance to gain eventually through patience and peaceful negotiation what it has sought fruitlessly through force—the offshore islands in the Formosa Strait.

If Peiping seizes the opportunity, it could spell a new era in U.S.-Far East relations.

That era might be marked by deflated U.S. prestige, and is feared by some U.S. officials. But, as even some in the State Department say, it might also mean an end to carping criticisms from neutral nations and even some U.S. allies who decry U.S. China policy as unrealistic.

Diplomatic officials saw three clear-cut hints of a proposition to Peiping. They listed them as:

1. A lowering of U.S. objectives in any new U.S.-Red China diplomatic talks.

2. A new U.S. emphasis on the possibility of good things flowing from any Red Chinese pledge not to use force in the Formosa area.

3. Repeated notice to Peiping that it would not have to abandon its territorial claims if it renounced force as a means of achieving them.

These hints were seen primarily in Secretary of State Dulles' news conference statements yesterday.

Dulles declared: "If there were an effective, dependable enunciation of force, it would be certainly a very constructive new element in the situation which might have further consequences."

This was widely taken as a broad hint to Red China that the United States was prepared to make concessions if Red China swore off the use of force in the Formosa area.

The emphasis on Red China's maintaining its claims has appeared in several recent top-level U.S. pronouncements. The most recent was the White House statement last Saturday welcoming Red Chinese Premier Chou En-lai's offer to resume ambassadorial talks with the United States. These talks, stalled since last Dec. 12, would be the opening step toward any agreement.

That White House statement said: ". . . Such renunciation of force need not involve renouncing claims or the pursuit of policies by peaceful means."

The general interpretation was that, however objectionable the United States might find Red China's claims to Formosa and the other Nationalist-held islands off the China mainland, it wanted to assure Peiping that any switch from war threats to peaceful parley would not undercut those Communist claims.

Dulles also told his news conference, speaking of proposed new talks on Red China's threats to Formosa: "I think the matter can perhaps be dealt with in a more specific way, rather than in abstract generalities, and that it might not be useful to repeat the ritual of the last three years."

The interpretation here was that Dulles was convinced previous U.S. efforts to get Red China to renounce force in the Far East had been too ambitious, too broad in scope. The feeling was that Dulles would now aim at a smaller target—say, a cease-fire involving only Quemoy and Matsu and the other Nationalist-held islands within sight of the Communist mainland.

One speculation was that Red China might be offered freedom of ship movement to Amoy. This island port, once a busy trade thoroughfare, has been blockaded for years by the presence of Nationalist force on the islands which command its harbor.

In exchange, Red China might be expected to promise not to bombard the islands any more.

BIG SPRING DAILY HERALD

SEC. B BIG SPRING, TEXAS, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 11, 1958 SEC. B

STARTING IN JANUARY

1,258 Here To Get Higher Social Security Benefits

The Social Security Amendments of 1958 will provide increased monthly payments to about 1,258 people in Howard County, beginning with the checks which are due early in February, 1959, according to H. P. Thomas, social security district manager in Odessa.

The amount of the increase will be about 7 per cent, although the increase in some checks will be slightly more than 7 per cent and slightly less in some others.

People who are already getting social security payments do not need to apply for the increase. It will be automatically added to the checks for January, which will be mailed out early in February.

Under other changes made by the new law, social security benefits will become payable to a number of people not previously eligible for payments. They must, however, apply to their social security offices before payments can start. Among the groups now eligible because of the amendments are:

Dependents of people who are 50 or over who are now getting disability insurance benefits (children under 18 or disabled; a wife of any age who has a child in her care and is entitled to benefits; a wife 62 or over; or a dependent husband 65 or over).

Disabled people 50 or over who could not qualify for benefits under the old law because they did not have as much as 1½ years of work in the three years before they were disabled. (A total of at least five years of work under the law is still required).

Dependent parents whose son or daughter died after 1939 and who could not qualify for benefits under the old law because the son or daughter left a widow, widower, or child.

Adopted children whose adopting parents began receiving retirement benefits less than three years after the adoption. (In many cases this provision will also make possible payments to the mother of the adopted child.)

A person receiving benefits who marries another person also receiving benefits can continue to receive monthly checks, or can become eligible as a dependent of the new husband or wife without waiting three years.

Some people in situations similar to those mentioned above may have applied for benefits in the past and been notified that they did not qualify for payments. These people should get in touch with their social security district offices promptly about filing new applications, Thomas noted.

Disabled workers whose social security disability benefits were reduced or were not payable because they received workmen's compensation or other Federal disability payments will begin to receive the full amount of their social security disability payments. (These people do not have to file applications. Their social Security checks will be started automatically with checks mailed out early in September).

Beginning January 1, 1959, the social security tax rate for employes and employers will be 2½ per cent each. The rate for self-employed people will be 3¾ per cent. These rates are scheduled to increase every three years until they reach 4½ per cent for employes and employers and 6¾ per cent for self-employed people in 1969.

Starting with 1959 the first $4800 of earnings in a year will be taxed for social security and will count toward social security benefits.

The Odessa social security district office is at 1428 E. 8th St. It is open from Monday through Friday, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

White's Having Manager's Sale

White Stores Inc. will conduct their first annual company-wide "Store Manager's Sale" during the month of September. The manager of the winning store will receive an all-expense-paid vacation in Nassau for himself and his wife.

This is one of White's biggest sales events of the year. Not only will merchandise be offered at the lowest prices ever, but, throughout every department, there will be items marked "Store Manager's Specials" and will be priced exceptionally low. These super values will be the trademark of the sale, which runs through Sept. 30.

"This is one of the most exciting sales contests we have ever had," says John Palone, manager of the local White Store, located at 202 Scurry.

The winner and his wife will fly to Miami and stay overnight at the world-famous Fontainebleu Hotel. The trip to Nassau will be made by boat. The president of White Stores Inc., W. Erle White, and his wife, will meet the lucky manager in Nassau and serve as host and hostess for the full week of entertainment and relaxation in the renowned pleasure resort.

Boating, Fishing Bring In Revenue

Permits for fishing and boating at Moss Creek Lake continued to be a big revenue item for the city during August with the money collected at the small lake totaling $800.

This brought the total for the four principal water-sport months of May, June, July and August to $3,975. In August of last year, shortly after the city had opened the lake for skiing and swimming, the revenue was $778.50.

Record month for the permits was July when the total hit $1,165. It was $1,110 in June.

The monthly report from the city secretary also showed revenue of $4,805 from fines in corporation court. Other general fund accounts included $2,773.53 from the gas franchise, $805.50 from building permits.

The plumbing permit fees brought in $334.75, and electrical permits revenue was $255.30. The gas permits revenue was $123.25.

At the swimming pool, the city collected $660.10 from adult swim tickets and $406.25 from children. Club swims amounted to $256.90. Revenue from the North Side pool for the month was $91.80.

Nine-hole green fees contributed $244, and holiday green fees amounted to $330. Monthly golf cards brought in $192.50, and $67.50 was paid for 18-hole green fees.

The city collected $3,875.09 from parking meters during August, and revenue at the cemetery was $653.50.

Water metered to customers during the month amounted to 285,573,800 gallons, an increase of 78,470,700 gallons over July and 36,474,400 over August of last year. Water and sewer bills dispatched during the month amounted to $102,216.23 which is $15,851.85 over July and $10,835.18 over August of '57.

The city's bonded indebtedness at the end of August was $1,177,500 tax bonds and $1,411,000 revenue bonds.

Safeway Meat Cutters Vote To Join Union

Employes in the meat department of the local Safeway store have voted in favor of affiliation with the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butchers' Workmen of North America (AFL-CIO), John Crawford, National Labor Relations Board representative in Fort Worth, has informed The Herald.

The union election was conducted under supervision of the NLRB following a petition by the union. Crawford said seven employes were eligible to vote, and six voted, all in favor of the union.

A five-day period, starting Wednesday, is provided for the filing of any objections. If none is received, the union will be certified. If a complaint is filed, the NLRB will conduct an investigation and reschedule the election if the agency feels a new vote is justified.

NLRB supervision of such elections insures free choice of employes and safeguards their votes, Crawford explained.

More Marines To Leave Lebanon

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—A second battalion of U.S. Marines will sail home from Lebanon next week, but retiring President Camille Chamoun says the remaining 10,000 American troops may stay here until the end of October.

The 1,700-man battalion will begin boarding ships Monday. They will sail for the East Coast Sept. 19.

Big Spring Native Takes College Post

J. R. Tamsitt, a native of Big Spring, will assume duties as instructor of biology at East Texas State College in Commerce when the next fall semester begins Monday.

Tamsitt, who has just completed a year's work as lecturer in zoology at the University of Manitoba, Canada, holds a bachelor of arts degree in zoology from the University of Texas. He later received his master of arts and doctor of philosophy degrees in vetebrate ecology from the university where he also served two years as a research scientist.

He has spent several months in the Mexico interior where he did extensive study and assembled a collection of vertebrates.

Dr. Tamsitt holds membership in the Southwestern Assn. of Naturalists, American Assn. of Mammologists, Society for the Study of Evolution, Ecological Society of America, Society for the Study of Animal Behavior, and the Canadian Field Naturalists Club.

He has authored two articles published in the Texas Journal of Science while two other articles are in the process of being published. Another article to be published soon will appear in the Southwestern Naturalist Journal.

Dr. Tamsitt was graduated from Big Spring High School on Jan. 25, 1946. He is the son of Mrs. Andy Brown, Big Spring.

Jet Fighter Hits Car, Kills 2

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP)—An Air Force jet fighter slid off the end of a rain-slicked runway as it landed yesterday, smashed a passing car and crushed its two occupants.

Stanley Mendenhall and his wife, Wallene, were killed when the delta-winged F102 Dart piloted by 1st Lt. Charles Arnet, 27th Air Division, Norton AFB, Calif., plunged into their car.

Westbrook Church Gets New Pastor

WESTBROOK — The Rev. Gene Henson of Fort Worth has accepted a call to the pastorate of the First Baptist Church here.

The minister is a student in Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary at Fort Worth. Mrs. Henson is a teacher in the Fort Worth schools. The couple has two daughters, Melody Ann, 4, and Rebecca, 1. The family will not move here until next summer.

The local congregation voted to offer the position to the Rev. Henson last Sunday morning and he accepted at the evening service.

Earlier, the Rev. Bill Huff of Salem Baptist Church near Big Spring had turned down a call to the local pastorate.

Oatmeal In Muffin Form Gives School Children A Good Start

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

The school bell rings and back and forth between home and school youngsters go. What a busyness!

It's reading, writing, arithmetic and homework for everybody—including Mother. Only she does a good part of her figuring in the kitchen. What will fill up boys and girls and give them plenty of energy? Here comes the new round of school-day breakfasts, lunches and suppers.

When I was young, September school days meant plain cooked hot oatmeal on the breakfast table. But it was fancied up by my mother with a tray of trimmings—a pitcher of thick cream and one of milk, curlicues of fresh butter, bowls of white and dark brown sugar and one of granulated clover honey. What oatmeal topping is your whim this morning? Take your choice.

My four sisters and I were strict individualists about food and a tray of such trimmings didn't discourage our tendencies. But this sort of pampering never hurts children. My mother knew the small permissions that help a parent's love make its way to a child's heart.

After one of my older sisters graduated from college she took what was then a momentous step for a small-town girl: She came to New York City, got a job and was on her own. And what was one of the first reports she sent back home? A glowing description of her breakfasts.

She had found a cafeteria, where, for a dime, she could eat a large helping of perfectly cooked oatmeal with heavy cream. For another nickel she could buy herself a square of butter and a tiny paper cup of honey. Cream, butter and honey all went on the cereal, just as they might have done at home.

Rolled oats are, of course, one of the foods that nutritionists rate high. And we highly recommend these muffins made from oatmeal. When we served them recently, they were all eaten at one sitting and particularly enjoyed because they were hotter than hot. Not more than one minute elapsed between the time I lifted them out of their pans, tucked them under a napkin in a basket, and passed them around.

Before School

Those schoolbound youngsters will go for an oatmeal breakfast, particularly if the oatmeal is in muffin form. Pineapple and dates have been used in these.

The spicing in these muffins is just right, and raisins add plump nuggets of sweetness. We think they reach perfection when they're spread with butter and granulated clover honey. Nowadays honey of this sort usually comes pasteurized, but it still retains a good deal of its old-fashioned flavor.

OATMEAL MUFFINS

Ingredients:

1 cup sifted flour
3 tasps. baking powder
½ tps. salt
1 tsp. cinnamon
¼ tsp. nutmeg
¼ cup firmly-packed dark brown sugar
1 cup quick-cooking or regular-style rolled oats
½ cup raisins (rinsed in hot water and drained)
1 egg
¾ cup milk
4 tbsps butter or margarine (melted)

Method:

Sift together on a piece of paper the flour, baking powder, salt, cinnamon and nutmeg. Add the brown sugar, rolled oats and raisins. In a medium-sized mixing bowl, with a rotary beater (hand or electric) beat egg until thick and pale-colored; add milk and beat enough to combine. Add flour mixture and melted butter. Stir just until dry ingredients are moistened.

Fill buttered muffin cups two-thirds full. Bake in hot (425 degrees) oven 20 to 25 minutes or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. Serve hot. Makes 10 to 12 muffins if pans whose wells each hold 1-3 to ½ cup are used.

For Pineapple-Date Muffins:

Omit cinnamon and nutmeg, substitute ½ cup chopped pitted dates for raisins and add ½ cup well-drained crushed pineapple.

Wedges Capitalize On Cherries, Dates

Come the first few gusts of cold wind and you will be scurrying to find richer dessert ideas. One of these might be fruit wedges, which rely on cherries, dates and raisins for the extra margin of sweetness.

Here is the recipe:

FRUIT WEDGES

Ingredients:

1 cup sifted flour
¼ tsp. salt
¼ cup chopped glace cherries
¼ cup chopped pitted dates
¼ cup chopped raisins
¼ cup butter or margarine
½ cup sugar
1 egg (separated)
2 tbsps. milk
½ tsp. vanilla
½ tsp. cinnamon

Method:

Sift together the flour and salt; mix with cherries, dates and raisins. Cream butter and sugar; beat in egg yolk thoroughly, then milk and vanilla. Add flour mixture; mix well. Beat egg whites until stiff; fold in fruit mixture.

Spread evenly over bottom of a buttered pie plate (9½ by 1½ inches); sprinkle cinnamon over top. Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven 25 to 30 minutes or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean.

Cut into wedges and remove with spatula. If desired, sprinkle with confectioners' sugar. Makes 16 wedge-cookies.

Single Omelet

If you have an 8- or 9-inch skillet you can make individual omelets and fill them. Use 3 eggs, 1 tablespoon of light cream and ¼ teaspoon of salt for each omelet and plenty of butter in the skillet.

Veal Chops

Ever braise veal chops in tomato barbecue sauce? Brown the chops first.

Pancake Surprise

Add whole-kernel corn to batter for buttermilk pancakes and serve, along with maple syrup, with fried chicken. Make the pancakes small.

Brunch Is Time For Hot Rolls

Brunch guests will thank you if you treat them to hot rolls. One of the commercial mixes will save you some time in stirring them up.

For a dressy touch, prepare the rolls in fluted brioche cups. Baking time consumes only 20 minutes, at maximum.

BRIOCHE-SHAPED ROLLS

Ingredients:

1 pkg. (14¼ ounces) hot roll mix
¾ cup warm (but not hot) water
1 egg (beaten until it begins to get thick)
2 tbsps. butter or margarine (melted).

Method:

Sprinkle the yeast (from the hot roll mix) over the warm water; stir to dissolve. Stir in the well beaten egg. Stir in the dry mix; beat well. Let rise in warm (85 to 90 degrees) place until light and doubled in size—30 to 60 minutes.

Shape three-quarters of the dough into 18 rolls. Place rolls in well-buttered muffin pans. Divide remaining dough into 18 small balls. Press a large indentation into the center of each large roll; brush with melted butter. Press small ball into indentation of each large roll. Let rise in warm place until light—30 to 60 minutes. If small balls roll to side during rising, replace in center of rolls before baking.

Bake in moderate (375 degrees) oven 15 to 20 minutes or until golden brown.

Note: If fluted brioche cups (each holding about 2-3 cup) are used, recipe will make 12 rolls. Wide heat-resistant glass custard cups may also be used.

Dad Stars As Barbecue Chef

Nothing gives the head of the house an opportunity to shine as a chef before an admiring audience like the backyard barbecue. And it's a rare home that doesn't boast some kind of barbecuing equipment.

Although we have come to call any kind of outdoor cooking a "barbecue," the real McCoy has three requisites: a low fire; long, slow cooking; plenty of smoke.

Charcoal or briquets may be used and each has its adherents. The fire should be built well in advance so that the coals have a chance to burn down to a dull gray before cooking is started.

For extra flavor and smoke, add some wood chips, hunks, cross-cuts or pieces of bark. Hickory is the traditional choice, but pecan and fruitwood are equally good. Be sure the wood has been well soaked for an hour or two, so that it smoulders rather than burns.

If the grill is large enough, it is best to place the meat at the opposite end from the bed of coals. This eliminates flare-ups from dripping fat. If this is impossible, keep a pail of water and clean whisk broom handy to douse the occasional flame.

Thick cuts of meat, ribs, poultry and seafood are all good for barbecuing. The difference in the flavor is the difference in the sauce. This should be made well in advance to give the ingredients a chance to blend. A long-handled brush is a must for easy basting. And frequent basting is the secret of the golden brown crust and moist tenderness that is the mark of appetizing barbecue.

Baste the meat as you put it on the grill and every 15 or 20 minutes until it is done. To test for doneness, press the thick part of the drumstick or ribs between the fingers (protected with a paper towel). Meat should feel soft and come off the bone easily.

Grocers are offering attractive prices on broilers and fryers now. For grill cooking, choose tender 2-2½ lb. fryers, splitting them down the back. Break hip, knee and wing joints to keep them flat during cooking.

Grease the grill well, brush chicken hayles with barbecue sauce and place them with cut side down on grill. Baste and turn frequently until meat is tender and skin is crisp and brown.

BARBECUE SAUCE FOR CHICKEN OR TURKEY

Combine and Simmer 5-10 minutes:

½ cup Golden Capri Oil
¾ cup lemon juice
¼ cup chopped onion
2 cloves minced garlic
1 tsp. salt
1 tsp. black pepper
1 tsp. thyme

Marination for ½ hour in this sauce makes the chicken even more flavorful. Recipe serves four.

Here's a tangy sauce that goes well with meat, poultry or fish.

GOLDEN CAPRI BARBECUE SAUCE

Saute for 5-10 minutes:
1-3 cup Golden Capri Oil
1-3 cup grated onions
Add and simmer 10 minutes:
1-3 cup chili sauce
½ cup vinegar
1 tbsps. Worchestershire sauce
3 tbsps. brown sugar
2 clove minced garlic
1 tsp. salt
½ tsp. paprika.
Makes about one pint

Canned Ripe Olives Are Plentiful, For Once

Olives, olives, olives, and more olives. There're plenty of them at your grocer's now, reports the Agricultural Marketing Service.

The olive supply is large this year. Crops were big in 1956 and 1957, and the 1958 crop promises to be even greater than the record of 1956. So this year, for the first time, canned ripe olives have been placed on the U. S. Department of Agriculture's plentiful foods list.

Generally, a big olive crop comes along every four or five years and is absorbed through normal trade channels. But, with three big crops in a row, things are a little different this year.

Rich, ripe, and mellow, olives are packaged to your convenience. You can buy them whole or pitted, chopped or sliced—just as you want. Most of the ripe olives are grown in California and packed there.

Try some chopped ripe olives in Thousand Island dressing, pitted ripe olives in gelatin salads and casseroles, or whole ripe olives, well chilled, for relish and appetizer trays.

Black olive sauce is a delicious flavor accent to broiled chicken. Just combine melted butter and flour—three tablespoons flour for every two tablespoons of butter. Cook over low heat until thoroughly browned. Add one cup of consomme for each three tablespoons of flour used. Bring to boiling point and cook for about five minutes. Season to taste with salt and pepper. Add 12 black olives, sliced for each cup of consomme, and serve hot.

Gingerbread Mate

Hot applesauce is delightful with gingerbread warm from the oven; so is crushed pineapple that's been heated.

Cookie Dough

Rolls of refrigerator cookie dough are usually best when they are shaped about 1½ inches in diameter. When you use a 3-cup flour recipe, make two rolls.

Dainty Confection

Stuff dates with fudge and roll in confectioners sugar. Sweet but good!

Proper Breakfast Has Fourth Of Calories

What did you have for breakfast this morning? Coffee and doughnuts? Or was it a full meal that gave your day the proper start?

The U. S. Department of Agriculture offers a three-point test for a good breakfast: It must yield raw materials for body building and repair and to maintain health; it should provide fuel for body energy; and it should taste good.

If your breakfasts don't pass this test, now is a good time to make them better—September is National Better Breakfast Month.

A passing-grade breakfast calls for a fourth to a third of your daily calorie and protein needs. These can be provided by foods that also are rich in minerals and vitamins.

Calorie needs can be met by cereals, enriched breads with butter or similar spreads, and by meat, milk or eggs. Fruit, with its vitamin C, also is important.

By all means, don't overlook the livestock products. They are the protein foods that stick to the ribs. Slow to digest, they release sugars to the blood in a steady stream. You have energy when it's needed—from three to five hours after eating. That's when light-breakfast eaters drag themselves to the snack bar.

Sugars and starches furnish quick energy. But their staying power is limited. You'll live better, and feel better, if you break your night-time fast with a full-meal breakfast.

Double Boiler

Some directions for butter sponge cakes tell you to beat the eggs and sugar in the top of a double boiler over simmering water. Make absolutely sure your double boiler—regular or improvised — is really large enough to hold the mixture as it increases in volume.

The mysteries of a flashbulb camera so intrigue little Diana that her favorite picture book lies unnoticed in the hands of her mother, Mrs. J. S. Owens. One of those rare brown-eyed blondes, Diana is a charmer and understandably the apple of her parents' eyes.

Casseroles Rank At The Top Of Mrs. Owens' Culinary Preferences

Of all the food Mrs. J. S. Owens, enjoys preparing, she places casseroles at the head of the list. Perhaps it's the meal-in-one-dish feature that appeals to her, or the latitude they allow one in experimenting with combinations and seasonings.

Whatever it is, casseroles have followers in most households. Many a homemaker will be interested in the chop suey, meat casserole and egg supreme recipes Mrs. Owens passes along here.

Although he doesn't have much time for it these days, Owens has no little cooking talent himself, according to his wife. A specialty of his is an Italian casserole that calls for high seasoning. His duties as manager of the Greyhound Bus Terminal claim much of his time, however, and the cooking is really Mrs. Owens' domain.

Favored dessert at 105 Mt. Vernon is German Chocolate Cake. This concoction has come into its own in the past year and a half and many versions are offered. Mrs. Owens' formula, included in this story, is a sure winner and not nearly so involved as many.

A recipe clipper, Mrs. Owens admits to perusing newspapers and magazines for exciting dishes, which she hesitates not a bit to try. Another enthusiasm involves interior decorating. She likes to repaint walls; light fixtures and picture frames come in for fresh coats of color, too, if she thinks the change will improve the decor. Her interests also include the Lions Auxiliary, and the Koinonia Class and Anne Dwyer Circle of First Baptist Church.

Foremost of this couple's interests is their daughter Diana, who will observe her second birthday in November. She is the star of the Owenses' movies, the prize ones having been made last spring at Disneyland. Chances are when she grows big enough to hold a mixing bowl, she will share her mother's interest in cooking.

Here are our featured cook's recipes:

CHOP SUEY

1 lb. veal, diced
1 lb. pork, diced
2 cups chopped celery
1½ cups chopped onion
1 can bean sprouts
¼ cup fat or oil
2 cups water
4 tbsp. chop suey sauce
2 tbsp. bead molasses
2 tbsp. cornstarch

Brown meat in hot fat or oil. Add celery, onions, water and sauce. Cook slowly for 30 minutes or until tender. Add drained sprouts. Mix cornstarch, molasses with small amount of water and thicken. Serve with plain hot rice and chow mein noodles. Serves four to six.

MEAT CASSEROLE

½ lb. fresh pork
½ lb. veal, cut in small pieces
¼ cup shortening or oil
2 cups chopped celery
1¼ cup chopped onion
¾ cup chopped green pepper
1½ cans condensed tomato soup
½ No. 2 can tomatoes
4 ounce can mushrooms and liquid
½ tsp. salt
⅛ tsp. pepper
5 oz. package uncooked broad noodles

Cook meat in oil for 15 minutes. Add vegetables. Cook slowly for 30 minutes. Add soup, tomatoes, mushrooms and seasoning; simmer a few minutes. Cook noodles separately until tender, drain and rinse. Add to meat mixture. Spread in greased pan and sprinkle with crumb topping, made as follows:

Topping: Melt 2 tbsp. butter in skillet; add ½ cup cracker meal and ¼ cup grated cheese. Brown in oven.

EGGS SUPREME

4 oz. can mushrooms
1 cup white sauce
6 hard-boiled eggs
1 tsp. salt
Pinch paprika
½ cup grated cheese

Saute mushrooms for 5 minutes in butter. Add white sauce, hard-cooked egs (sliced) and seasoning. Pour into greased baking dish. Sprinkle top with cheese and bake for 45 minutes in moderate oven.

GOLDEN BARS

2-3 cup shortening
2 cups brown sugar
2 eggs, well beaten
1 tsp. vanilla
¾ cup chopped walnuts
1½ cup sifted flour
2 tsp. baking powder
¼ tsp. salt

Melt shortening in saucepan in which batter is to be mixed. Remove from heat and stir in remaining ingredients after first sifting flour, baking powder and salt together.

Spread in a shallow pan, 12" x 8", which has been greased and lined with waxed paper. Bake in 350 degrees for 30 to 35 minutes or until the surface will spring back when pressed lightly. Cool and cut in bars. Makes 26.

GERMAN CHOCOLATE CAKE

1 cup shortening
2 cups sugar
4 egg yolks
1 cup buttermilk
2½ cups flour
¼ tsp. salt
1 tsp. soda
1 tsp. vanilla
4 egg whites

Bring to boil ½ cup water and drop ¾ bar German sweet chocolate into water and set aside to melt. Meantime, mix together shortening and sugar and blend well. Add beaten egg yolk, blend. Add melted chocolate, buttermilk and blend well. Add salt, flour, soda and mix. Beat egg whites until stiff (about 1 minute); fold in egg whites as the last ingredient.

Pour into greased cake pans. Bake for 25 to 30 minutes at 350 degrees. Makes two large layers.

ICING

Mix together 3 beaten egg yolks, 1 cup sugar, ½ pt. cream, 1 tbsp. butter and cook in double boiler 20 to 25 minutes or until mixture begins to thicken. Add 1 cup coconut, 1 cup pecans and 1 tbsp. vanilla.

Cake Mix Pointer

When you are using a cake mix, read the directions carefully and use the size in baking pan called for.

Sandwich Spread

Add mashed hard-cooked eggs to mashed cooked chicken livers plus seasonings for a nutritious sandwich spread.

Chicken Dumplings

You can use corn muffin mix with which to make dumplings for chicken stew or fricassee.

Purple Plums, Grapes, Greens Rate With Onions As Best Buys

By The Associated Press

Purple plums, grapes and western peaches head the list of best buys at Texas markets this week.

This is the peak season for purple plums and grapes and their price is about as attractive as it will be this fall, the Department of Agriculture says.

Good quality peaches from Idaho, Washington and Colorado also are plentiful. Prices of early apples are declining as the supply increases.

Lemons of all sizes are slightly weaker, but other citrus is higher than a week ago. Strawberries are moving higher as the end of the season fast draws nigh.

Marketings of cantaloupes and watermelons are dwindling as harvesting reaches the cleanup stage.

Locally grown greens—mustard, turnip and collard—take the spotlight this week at Texas vegetable counters. Also cabbage, carrots, onions and potatoes rate high as economy buys.

Rains have increased supplies of field peas and okra. Plenty of sweet corn is coming from Michigan, Minnesota and Wisconsin at about the cheapest prices to be seen this fall.

Celery from California is sharply higher this week. Also, lettuce, yellow crook neck squash and California pole beans are higher than a week ago.

Tomatoes from California, New Mexico and other areas are about as low in price as they are expected to get this fall.

Large eggs of the higher grades went up this week, but medium and small eggs remained about the same.

Broilers and fryers as well as fish and variety meats claim the bargain spotlight at the meat counter. However, supplies of beef, pork, lamb and stewing hens are increasing seasonally with some shading of prices.

Peppermint Tip

Like peppermint flavor on ice cream? Add a little peppermint extract to a fudge sauce.

A Bible Thought For Today

He that loveth father or mother more than me is not worthy of me: and he that loveth son or daughter more than me is not worthy of me. (Matthew 10:37)

Let's Do Our Best, Too

We admire what Dr. P. D. O'Brien had to say the other evening at the Quarterback Club barbecue honoring the Big Spring High School football squad.

Referring to school or other athletic teams, we all are prone to say that Big Spring plays Midland, or Big Spring plays Abilene, etc. when in reality we are referring to the teams. But, as he pointed out, there is a lot more truth in the looser use of the terms, for when our school teams go into action against teams of other schools, it is in effect one community in friendly test with another.

Thus, it would make no difference if our team ran up a top heavy score against the opposition, if the opposing group makes a better showing in the stands. Our city would still lose in this contest of support and representation.

Friday evening we will have the first football game of the season. The young men representing us have put in hours upon hours of hard and sometime painful physical effort and constant mental drill in an effort to be as ready as possible for this test against Edison High of San Antonio.

If they do their best, can Big Spring afford to do any less? Let's fill up the stands Friday evening and thus tell our boys how we feel.

Face With Strength Or Be Undone

In the realm of maneuver with machination the Communist world as symbolized and vociferated by the Kremlin has sought by every means to achieve two goals:

1. To compel the United States to shake the bloody hand that cost us between 25,000 and 30,000 lives and billions of dollars in Korea, by recognizing the Peiping government of China.

2. By euchering the United States into a summit conference with the Kremlin, there to relieve us of what was left of our shirt at Geneva in '55.

These twin objectives are what Khrushchev's most recent note to President Eisenhower is all about. It differs in words from all that preceded it, but it's the same old tune.

"If you dare attack my friend Mao Tze-tung," says Khrushchev, "the Soviet Union will consider it an attack on itself."

What does Khrushchev want, specifically? Why, he says so right out loud. He appeals to President Eisenhower to stem the risk of general war by withdrawing American forces from Formosa and recognizing Red China.

The build-up for this umpteenth attempt to hornswoggle us into backing down and pulling out started with the most recent upheavals in the Middle East. As soon as that situation was cooled off a bit, Mao took up the burden by exerting pressure at Quemoy and Formosa. If Stern U. S. reaction there cools off that situation, the Communist conspirators will launch an international stinkbomb somewhere else. The approach may be different, but the technique and the objective will be the same.

The recent Anglo-Icelandic squabble over fishing rights was a minor sideshow, but quite in character, a piece of the whole. If the ploy at Quemoy fizzles, the Iceland incident may be ballooned into bigger proportions, just to keep the ball rolling.

There is no respite in the Communist pursuit of conquest by terror, by subversion and perversion of truth, by every means that serves to disturb, roil and set men's teeth on edge.

We must face it with strength and resolution day and night, month in and month out, year in and year out, or we are undone.

Could Even Upset The Boat

David Lawrence

Disunity Over Defense Of Formosa

WASHINGTON — Disunity and defeatism—the curse of the democracies of our times—could bring on a third world war.

At the very time when the President of the United States is acting in accordance with the letter and the spirit of a resolution—adopted in January 1955 by the overwhelming vote of both parties in Congress—that authorized the use of American armed forces to defend Formosa, the wisdom of that decision was openly questioned by the foremost spokesman of the Democratic party on foreign policy—Dean Acheson. The former secretary of state issued a scathing attack on his own government's policy. His defection from the American position was widely broadcast last Saturday. It was a detailed argument in favor of the Communist side of the controversy by the same man who withheld American support from the Nationalist government at a critical period when Chiang Kai-shek was fighting for the survival of the free government on the mainland of China.

Just 24 hours after the Acheson statement was publicized, Premier Khrushchev boldly demanded the withdrawal of the American armed forces from the Far East and warned that an "attack on Communist China" would be considered "an attack on the Soviet Union."

President Eisenhower lost no time in reminding the Soviet premier that he should concern himself with the aggressive operations of the Red China regime and restrain his ally, instead of worrying about the defensive tactics of the United States in the Far East. For there hasn't been and isn't the slightest intention on the part of United States forces to "attack" Communist China. As Secretary Dulles said in his statement, authorized by the President after a conference in Newport on September 4, "neither Formosa nor the islands of Quemoy and Matsu have ever been under the authority of the Chinese Communists."

The statement pointed out that the United States has a mutual assistance treaty with free China and called attention to the finding in the congressional resolution of January 1955 that "the possession by friendly governments of the Western Pacific island chain, of which Formosa is a part, is essential to the vital interests of the United States and all friendly nations in and bordering upon the Pacific Ocean."

Secretary Dulles reminded the world that the same resolution of Congress—which authorizes the President to employ the armed forces of the United States for the protection of Formosa—also calls for "the securing and protection of such related positions and terrorities of that area now in friendly hands and the taking of such other measures as he (the President) judges to be required or appropriate in insuring the defense of Formosa."

For several days now there has been a mischievous propaganda encouraged inside the United States demanding, in effect, that the President notify the enemy of what his military advisers tell him is the proper course to follow in the detailed military measures to be taken in defense of Formosa and the related island positions.

Mr. Acheson openly criticizes what Congress did in 1955 and gives the impression that he is advising the Democratic party now to back out on the votes it gave in support of that resolution. He questions the soundness of the statement that a "friendly government" on Formosa is "essential to the vital interests of the United States," and adds:

"Congress certainly has been led to say so. But Congress cannot make something true which is not true. Four times between 1948 and 1950 our highest military authorities concluded that this proposition was not true and did not justify American military action."

And what did Mr. Acheson do at the time? He told the world about our military strategy in a speech at the National Press Club in January 1950, and six months later, the Communists invaded South Korea because they assumed the United States wouldn't defend Korea in as much as Mr. Acheson had publicly said it was outside the "defense perimiter of the United States."

Mr. Acheson, however, found it necessary in June 1950 to reverse his previous views as he counseled with Mr. Truman in favor of armed intervention in Korea. The American people suffered nearly 137,000 casualties in the war that followed.

The principle is the same today, but the Eisenhower administration has chosen to leave no doubt this time that it will fight to defend Formosa. This is an effective way to prevent another war in the Far East, and it would be even more effective if all political-minded spokesmen, instead of publicizing arguments that indicate disunity and defeatism, would stand behind their own government in this critical hour.

Bottle Barrage

GREENVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Roy Langley, a soft drink distributor, was knocked unconscious for several minutes when his merchandise exploded.

A case of soda pop fell from a stack and exploded as the bottles hit the floor. Langely was in the line of fire, but escaped with only a knot on his head.

32 Years Overdue

Background To Ike's Address

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's decision to broadcast to the nation tonight on the Far East crisis comes after Secretary of State Dulles' admission the public has not been adequately informed on the situation.

Many people have wondered why this country gives the appearance of readiness to fight Red China if it attacks the small Quemoy and Matsu islands, held by Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist Chinese just a few miles off the China coast.

The basic question is and has been: Are they worth fighting for?

But more than lack of information on this critical question is involved. There has been confusion.

Dulles himself caused some of it at Newport, R.I., last week by speaking to reporters as secretary of state one minute and the next as a "high official" who sounded tougher than Dulles when he was speaking as secretary.

This left the public wondering who was sounding tougher than Dulles and Eisenhower on a question which might involve this country in war.

Newsmen were bound by ground rules not to identify the "high official" as Dulles, but the secretary since has agreed to let himself be named as the source.

In all fairness — this writer believes — some newsmen who listened to the "high official" must bear responsibility for part of the confusion. They wrote a much tougher interpretation into his words than the words themselves expressed.

This is the background leading up to tonight's talk by Eisenhower:

Last Thursday Dulles visited the President at his Newport vacation headquarters, then he came out and, under his own identity, read to newsmen a 900-word statement approved by Eisenhower.

This was the official American position on this country's relation to Quemoy and Matsu and what the United States would do if they were attacked. It actually added little or nothing to what was already known.

It was deliberately vague. Simply, it said Eisenhower hadn't yet decided what to do. Although this left the American public guessing, it also left the Chinese Communists guessing.

But Dulles, having finished this formal statement, then conducted what is known as a background conference. This means that newsmen understand they are not to identify by name the government official who talks to them.

Standing behind this screen of anonymity, Dulles went a little further than what he had just read.

He was asked if the vague but official statement meant the United States would fight in defense of Quemoy and Matsu if Chiang's men couldn't hold them. Dulles, in his role as a "high official," said: "That is the indication of this thing."

He quickly added that he didn't want to go beyond the official statement. Some newsmen interpreted his words as saying the administration had made up its mind to defend the islands although the official statement said Eisenhower hadn't made up his mind.

During this give-and-take Dulles was asked if he didn't think many people in this country might oppose going to war with Red China over the islands. The "high official" said: "I believe the sentiment of the country, when it is adequately informed," would be overwhelmingly behind any decision to defend Quemoy and Matsu.

Then began the public puzzlement over the identity of the "high official" doing this big talking.

Dulles let himself be named after Dean Acheson, former secretary of state flatly said Dulles himself had been the "high official."

At his Tuesday news conference, Dulles was repeatedly asked why the public had not been kept better informed on administration thinking about Quemoy and Matsu. Dulles said in brief: Some things are so delicate — in final decisions of great importance — that the President and his advisers can't share them with the general public.

Dangers Of Good Morale

NEW YORK (AP)—Elbert Q. Tweagle, president of the Giant Acme Tiddlywinks Co., was frankly puzzled.

On his desk lay a letter signed by Frank N. Caustic, foreman of the punchpress crew, an employe for 30 years.

"I hereby resign. It ain't safe around here no more," the letter said.

Tweagle pushed a button. Three-fifths of a second later in raced Albert Beaver, Acme's personnel executive.

"How many employes were killed on the job here in the last five years?" asked Tweagle.

"None, sir."

"How many were hurt at work?"

"None, sir."

"Then what the blazes does this man mean by saying it isn't safe to work here anymore?" demanded Tweagle, who was proud of his company's safety record.

After studying the letter, Beaver said, "Sir, Frank Caustic is a malcontent."

"What do you mean?"

"Well, sir, he was beanballed in a company intramural softball game last week, and he thinks it was deliberate. Anyway, it's just as well he resigned."

"Why? Is his work slipping?"

"Oh, no, sir, not that. But he's been playing centerfield for the punchpress team, and nobody on the team has spoken to him since he dropped two flies in a row early in the season. They think it's time to get a younger centerfielder."

"Isn't our company sports program perhaps getting a bit out of hand?" said Tweagle.

"Oh, no, sir. It's been great for company morale. You remember what you said when we started it: 'The corporation that plays together, stays together.'"

"I sometimes wonder how much good our company sports program has done health," said Tweagle. "For example, how many are absent today because of illness?"

"From ordinary illness, sir?" asked Beaver. "None, sir. Of course, some are out with injuries."

"What kind of injuries?"

"Well, sir," replied Beaver. "three junior executives are out with minor heart attacks from the company tennis tournament. Vice President Blowzer is out with a broken nose. He tripped over a log in the company golf tournament.

"Then, let's see — there are four girls out with bad knees from the company's ladies basketball tournament. A bookkeeper is out with a brain concussion. He got hit in the head during the company horseshoe pitching tournament. Eight men in the factory were crippled in the company soccer tournament, but two should be back tomorrow. That's about all, sir. But company morale has never been higher."

As Beaver turned to go, Tweagle noticed he was limping.

"Someone dropped a ball on my foot during the company bowling tournament last night, sir," explained Beaver. "The company doctor just told me to go home and spend the rest of the week in bed.

"But don't worry, sir. I'll be back to work in time for the next game. I'm not the kind of man to let the corporation down. If there's one thing you've got here, sir, it's the old team spirit."

"Yeah," said Tweagle, "but isn't it about time the team started making tiddlywinks instead of hospital cases?"

Around The Rim

Growing Old Seems Slow – To The Young

There was a time around our house when such things as height, weight and age were the principal standards against which our son, now five, gauged his progress toward adulthood and, I suppose, his concept of personal liberty and independence.

First, if memory isn't faulty, was height. Age meant little to Kent, and weight was some abstract thing he couldn't quite cope with.

But he could see the height of tables, chairs and other household items and great was his job when he disovered he could stand flat-footed and see what was on the table. A little later, he was equally happy with his capacity for standing on a chair and exceeding the altitude of his parents.

This phase hasn't completely passed, but it has yielded some of its enthusiasm to age. When he was three, his playmates often boasted of being four, so our youngster was delighted when he attained that magic milepost.

However, he was quickly disillusioned because some of his friends soon started letting it be known they had advanced to five.

The same thing happened when Kent reached five, and he began to cast about for some other standard of equality when many of his acquaintenances became six and started talking about going to school.

Weight sufficed briefly as a standard of comparison, but our son soon discovered that he ranked in the lightweight bracket.

For weeks he was frustrated. Everywhere he turned he found that most of his friends were much closer to becoming "big people" than he.

Lately, though, he thinks he's found a solution to the dilemma. Few of his pals are snaggled toothed, but he has discovered that progress toward maturity is accompanied by the loss of teeth.

Now, each morning, he announces around a mouthful of fingers that he has a "looth tooth." Anxious as he is to produce a gap, I fear he will have them all pulled before their time.

He has some advantages not enjoyed by his snaggled-toothed daddy, though. He still has a new set of natural ivories to look forward to. And in his desire to age, he hasn't learned yet that there's no way to turn the calendar back.

Coming Out Of Our 'Hypnotic Stupor'?

Well, sir, nothing surprises me less than a survey of television habits in the Chicago area, indicating that both elementary school children and their parents are spending less time in a hypnotic stupor in front of the family television set.

Now Prof. Paul Witty of Northwestern University, who made the survey, did not use the phrase "hypnotic stupor" in his report. That's a phrase that came to me just like that—after an unusual spate of teevee viewing. Or, maybe I should soften that phrase from "hypnotic stupor" to "hypnotic trance."

But to get back to Prof. Witty and his report: He finds that kids are spending two hours less time, or just 20 hours, viewing teevee in 1958 as opposed to 1957. And that adults have gone on the wagon to the extent of watching television for only 19 hours per week in 1958 vs. 20 hours in 1957.

This could be a trend, and I hope it is. If children continue to improve at the present or Witty rate, the teevee set can be junked in another 10 years, unless—as the statistics indicate—it takes longer to wean the old folks. It is even possible that the sensational new trend to teach Johnny to read may speed the divorce from video as Tiny Tykes learn the wonder, fascination and illimitable boundaries of the written word.

Now I have nothing in the world against television except its content, which is cheap, vulgar, repetitious, phony, crude, violent, unimaginative, anti-intelligent, anti-intellectual and just plain dull. And puerile. So puerile, in fact, that even elementary school children are beginning to turn from it.

Recently I have been confined to the house by a nasty ankle sprain. There were days, once the teevee set was turned on for my entertainment (stet), when I couldn't turn it off. I had to wait until someone heard my piteous screams and came to my rescue.

This was my first real experience with daytime television, a traumatic bout at best. Such a sadistic interweaving, for hour after hour, of giveaways and soap suds! It's a toss-up which is worse.

The gambit I hated most were those indecent free-hand drawings of human innards, over which nature itself sympathetically provided the initial veil. Innards are functional and best left unviewed. But not in the opinion of the sponsor who manufactures any nostrum to relieve headaches or other ills too private to mention except on television.

The intestinal tract, a complicated bit of plumbing that is useful but scarcely pretty, is a sponsor's setup: On teevee, the stomach always looks like the Mediterranean in a March storm, with waves beating high, while the intestinal tract resembles a fire in a Bunsen burner.

Invariably, the sponsor's patented brew acts like a seasick remedy on the Mediterranean and firedamp on the Bunsen burner. And like an emetic on me. Such teevee pitches are the new-type organ recital that, in pre-video days, was supposedly the monopoly of old wives who were always "porely, thank God."

Probably one-tenth of television viewing is good to excellent. The rest is tripe. Speed the day when pay television will give the audience some choice in the matter.

Reds Win With China Propaganda

WASHINGTON—If it were not for the extraordinary misconception of Communist China's intentions that is at the base of American policy it would now be quite clear that the Reds have extracted just about all the advantage they sought from the latest scare over Quemoy and Matsu. In the cold light of the realities those advantages can be summed up as follows:

1. First and foremost by setting a 12-mile limit for their territorial waters, a propaganda maneuver, the Reds succeeded when American warships came within three to four miles of the coast to protect Nationalist China's supply of Quemoy in making official the charge of "aggression." This may not seem important here, but in Asia it is of the greatest significance.

The principal objective of the whole exercise from the viewpoint of the Communists may well have been to demonstrate to the world once again that the United States is denying them access to islands that lie within plain view of their shores.

2. A war scare has again diverted the attention of the West from critical problems of immediate concern. In the Middle East United Nations Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold is having great difficulty carrying out the hazardous assignment passed on to him by the General Assembly to arrange conditions under which American and British forces could leave Jordan and Lebanon.

3. The Reds have advertised to the world that even without a direct invasion of the offshore islands it is only with the help of American naval forces that the Nationalist position on Quemoy and Matsu can be maintained. In the face of the Red artillery barrage Nationalist gunboats were helpless and the islands were successfully blockaded until the American Seventh Fleet intervened.

4. As though this were not enough, American admirals came through as they have so often in the past to help out the propaganda harvest. Vice Admiral Roland N. Smoot gave a typical press conference in which he said among other things, according to the news reports, "We can lick 'em." Such statements are eagerly seized upon by the Red propagandists to make the United States appear as bent on aggression. They dismay the uncommitted peoples and frighten our allies.

All this is not to deny that a grave danger existed. Chiang Kai-Shek has a pressing interest in involving the United States in a war with mainland China. While most of the evidence indicates that the Reds want to stop short of war, they might not be averse to drawing this country into a costly engagement that could end in nothing but disaster in an all-out nuclear war.

The Reds are completely indifferent to human life, and they know that if this country used atomic bombs on oriental people again we would have not a single friend left in Asia. The memory of Hiroshima and Nagasaki may have faded here but it is still alive in the Far East.

This comes down to what is perhaps the greatest gain of all that the Communists have reaped from this latest exercise. That is to work their own people up to the threat of aggression. Huge rallies are being held in all the big cities, the Peking Radio reports, and propaganda fire eaters are making hay at the expense of the wicked American imperialists.

The American response to the threatened invasion, as projected in the propaganda out of Peking and the cries of alarm out of Formosa, perfectly suited this end, with the admirals talking about "licking 'em" and the President of the United States meeting in solemn and well-advertised session with the National Security Council to consider two dots of land.

We would stand firm, we would send more warships, we would never allow this attack to succeed. Quite apart from the danger of actual war, it is a built-in situation for the Communists who mean to exploit to the fullest the strange position in which the United States finds itself.

Cozy Copperhead

JACKSONVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Andrew Lindstrom was stretched on the floor of his home watching television when he felt something touch his arm. The Lindstroms had been having some trouble with roaches and he brushed his arm thinking one of the insect pests had crawled on him.

Then he turned his head and was horrified to find a 4-foot copperhead snake staring at him. He and his wife shooed the poisonour reptile to the door and killed it with a shovel.

Vacation Blues

ALEXANDRIA, Va. (AP)—Robert H. Miller of Ottumwa, Iowa, doesn't expect his golf game to improve this summer. Thieves stole a matched set of Cary Middlecoff autographed clubs from the trunk of his car here.

Soft Job Now

ASBURY PARK, N. J. (AP)—Beach Director Sherman Mischler says the newly installed loudspeakers that carry piped music over this Atlantic Ocean bathing beach are also handy for finding lost children.

"That job used to take a full day sometimes," he comments, "but now we can do it in 10 minutes and even provide background music for the reunion."

Rapid Deduction

RUSSELLVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Just as police were ready to give up the search for illegal hooch in a local restaurant, Patrolman George Milam leaned against the pinball machine.

It was cold to the touch.

Milam pried into the bottom of the machine and came up with 38 pints of iced beer.

Training Play On Public View

The Webb operations and training officer, Capt. Cecil D. Peters, turned what would have been a routine lecture into an impressive two-act drama.

The training period was to have been the first of two one-hour lectures on psychological warfare. Peters asked Capt. Allen Robertson, information services officer and president of the Big Spring Civic Theatre, to come up with something other than a lecture.

Robert Walker, a civilian employe at Webb, wrote the script, called "The Box," and the narration to precede the play. T.Sgt. Dewey Magee was assigned to direct and to play the Russian colonel, commander of a prison camp in Korea. Magee picked A.1.C. Norman Sant to play the American pilot, a prisoner of war. S.Sgt. Bill Hickinbotham plays the Russian prison camp doctor. A.2.C. Thomas Hardee and A.2.C. Jerry Fouts took the parts of rough prison guards.

The play was so well received at Webb that Peters is sending forward a copy of the script and narration for possible command-wide use.

The play depicts interrogation scenes between the Russian colonel and his prisoner. It graphically points out many of the do's and don'ts American servicemen should follow if ever taken prisoner of war.

All the members of the cast are members of the Civic Theatre.

The play will be presented to the theatre group at their next meeting and will be open to the public.

Lyndon Unhappy With Convention

AUSTIN (AP) — Sen. Lyndon Johnson is unhappy with the outcome of the Democratic Convention, a close friend confided yesterday.

The fresh split in the Texas Democratic Party is the reason. Johnson and Speaker Sam Rayburn threw their support behind Gov. Daniel, the titular head of the party, to help him keep control of the 62-member State Democratic Executive Committee, the party's nucleus.

Daniel bumped two Senate district nominees and made the party's liberal element mad. This action reopened the split which was healing during the early hours of the convention at San Antonio. No one had the anteseptic when a 45-minute protest demonstration started.

"Sen. Johnson feels, as does Speaker Sam Rayburn, that the district nominees should have been honored," said the friend who talked with Johnson about the convention but insisted his name not be used.

"He thinks the resolution adopted by the convention called for the honoring of the caucus nominees."

Daniel said he acted in good faith when he bumped Dr. Chloe Armstrong of Waco and Bernard Lifshutz of San Antonio. The governor said they did not live up to another provision in the resolution which called for committee members to follow the party program.

Lifshutz himself appeared before support the program, but Daniel said he had not been informed. Daniel replaced the two bumps with John Peace of San Antonio and Mrs. Sam Wood of Killeen.

Neither Johnson nor his office made any direct comment yesterday on the convention in answer to numerous request by newsmen. Johnson did not attend the convention, but was with his mother, Mrs. Sam Johnson who underwent surgery.

Sen. Ralph Yarborough accused Daniel of deceit, fraud and broken promises. Daniel denied this, claiming it was "a well-deserved victory for majority rule."

The governor also said there were fewer "bumps" by him from the executive committee — which now has 40 new members — than at any convention he could remember in the past 20 years.

"It is a tragic situation for the Democratic Party in Texas," Yarborough said.

Rayburn and Johnson's efforts to gather a united party behind Daniel apparently have failed. The big aim was for the close - knit group to go to the 1960 presidential convention.

State-Wide Water Conference Slated At A&M Sept. 15-17

LUBBOCK — How farmers and ranchers may influence the amount of water that stays on their land will be related by Dr. Gerald W. Thomas, Texas Tech agricultural dean, at the fourth annual Water for Texas Conference Sept. 15-17 at Texas A&M.

"Theme of this year's conference will be 'Watershed Management and Our Water Supply,'" Thomas said. "We know that through good watershed management we may increase crop yields with less water and build underground water supplies."

The Tech dean's subject will be "Vegetation and Runoff."

"We on the High Plains are probably more concerned with water—particularly irrigation water—than any other section of the state," Thomas commented. "That is one reason I am happy to be able to represent Texas Tech at the conference."

Dr. Thomas will be making his first official appearance as Tech's dean of agriculture in speaking at the conference. On Sept. 1, he succeeded Dr. W. L. Stangel who retired after three decades at Tech.

Also attending the Water For Texas conference from Lubbock will be W. L. Broadhurst, chief hydrologist for the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1. His topic will be "Conservation Measures by Texas Ground Water Users."

Among the other speakers at the conference will be Gov. Price Daniel and Gov. George D. Clyde of Utah. Gov. Clyde will discuss "Water — A National Problem." Gov. Daniel will tell how "Texas Attacks Its Water Problems" at the first morning session.

Assignment Shift Gives More Classes

STANTON (SC) — More class time has been provided through a system of freeing teachers from study hall duty in the Stanton High School.

Jimmy Bickley, principal, said that upwards of a dozen classes could be provided through this system.

Enrollment in the school was slightly under expectations. The high school has 221 and the elementary grades have 449, a total enrollment to date of 670.
