Cash From Sky - Santa, Too Here Saturday For Shoppers

Colorado City's first "Bonus Cash From The Sky" will drop Saturday — the same day Santa Claus makes his first of four weekend appearances in the city.

"Bonus Cash From The Sky" and Santa will signal the final shopping season before Christmas.

For Colorado City firms are sponsoring the special pre-Christmas attractions on successive Saturdays in conjunction with Chamber of Commerce merchants committee.

"We want all citizens within our area to know they are especially welcome in Colorado City and to invite them to make our town their pre-Christmas shopping headquarters," said Ed Thrift, chairman of the Chamber committee.

An airplane will fly over Colorado City's downtown area at 2 p.m. Saturday and drop colored ping-pong balls.

The balls will be worth $125 in "Bonus Cash" each Saturday, depending upon the color. This Saturday 100 will be worth $1 each and one will be worth $25.

Winning colors must be redeemed the same day they are dropped from the plane at Chamber of Commerce office between 2 and 4 p.m.

Santa, with free candy for the kiddies, will be in Civic House Saturday from 2 to 5 p.m. so that youngsters can greet the Old-Gent and tell him their Christmas wishes.

Civic House will assure warm, comfortable location for the crowd of youngsters regardless of weather conditions.

And, Santa will be at Civic

House each Saturday afternoon before Christmas.

"Bonus Cash From The Sky" is a unique way Colorado City business firms are distributing prizes to the public in appreciation for their patronage.

"Bonus Cash" will not be actual money, but will be good as cash at the 40 firms participating in this pre-Christmas event. Each Saturday, the color of ping-pong balls — good for cash — that same day will be announced downtown over a public address system.

Here are the local firms sponsoring the pre-Christmas attraction and where "Bonus Cash" will be good as actual money:

Mode O'Day, Ben Franklin, J. C. Penney, Roberts Butane & Appliance, Frontier Electronics, Don Henderson, Texaco, C. R. Anthony, Thomas Bros., Good year, Beauty Box Beauty Shop, Jackie's Beauty Shop, Landay's, Jeff Taylor Eneo Service Station.

3 AT TOURIST MEET

Three Colorado City men flew to Carlsbad, N.M., Monday to attend a meeting of Chamber of Commerce executives interested in Permian Basin Chamber of Commerce plans to promote tourism in the Permian area.

Frank Derogibus, president of the local Chamber, Sefton Pickens, manager, and Don Benson, of the Chamber's Industrial committee, were among the 30 guests of Jay Miller, of Midland, at the old Washington Ranch for an overnight stay. Miller is PBCC president.

John Ben Shepherd, executive secretary of Permian Basin Chamber, arranged the Monday meeting which was followed by a tour of the new Guadalupe National Park, Tuesday, with lunch at the J. C. Hunter lodge.

HEMISFAIR TICKETS

A HemisFair ticket headquarters has been set up here at Texas Electric Service Company.

The promotion locally for ticket sales — with special reduced prices for the next month — is in cooperation with tourist development for the entire state.

Tickets next year at the HemisFair in San Antonio will be $2 per person. If purchased before Jan. 1 the same tickets are $1.70 each.

Between Jan. 1 and March 31, tickets will be $1.85. HemisFair will open next April 6 and continue through Oct. 6, 1968. Advance tickets purchased here at the TESCO office will be good for the entire time the HemisFair is open.

'No' To Probation Burditt's Application Denied

County Judge Elmer Martin Tuesday signed judgment for jail sentence of Jim Raymond Burditt, and ruled against the Snyder youth's application for probation.

Burditt, found guilty Nov. 16 by a County Court jury in the auto crash death of J. P. Nunn, has 10 days appeal for a new trial. If he accepts the court decision, then he will begin an 18-month sentence in Mitchell County Jail.

Entering of the judgment in County Court records Tuesday was routine, carrying out the guilty verdict and 18-month sentence imposed by the jury two weeks ago.

However, Judge Martin's order overruling application for probation was a new development in the case. Defense Attorney James G. Baker of Perryton had asked for probation after the guilty verdict and County Attorney Frank Ginzler, prosecutor, had argued that Burditt's offense deserved immediate jail term, not probation.

"After due hearing" on the application for probation of Jim Raymond Burditt, defendant in the above cause, the same is denied Coach Caddo Matthews' Wolf basketball team, short on experienced talent, discovered victory No. 1 of the young season Tuesday night in Ballinger.

Kerry Campbell, lone starter from last year's District 5AAA championship team, led the Wolves into the winning column with 21 points. He sparked C-City to a first half lead that was never relinquished on the way to a 70 to 54 success over the Bearcats.

Previously, in two initial tries, the Wolves finished a potent early-season scoring ability only to fall to even better shooting — losing 69-88 to Stanton, 67 to 87 to Snyder.

Ballinger was more accurate with their shots, hitting 57 per cent in the first half and 43 per cent in the second half. However, the Wolves hit a fatter total while averaging 43 per cent both halves.

The Wolves, starting a quintet with sophomores and juniors around one senior, fell behind 12 to 17 in the first quarter. In the second period, though, Campbell, Randy Parker, Robert Hopkins, Willie Hopkins and Lyneal James divided 22 points between them and the Wolves were out in front 34 to 25, at halftime.

Campbell, the sturdy senior, hit for nine field goals and 2 out of four free throws. Parker, who moved up to the varsity last year with Johnny Matthews, in bidistrict playoffs hit for six field goals and three free tosses for 15 points.

Matthews finally caught the scoring fever in the second half for a 5-point total. Bender and Hopkins, two promising sophomores, added to the scoring — 11 points for Bender with 3 field goals and one free throw, 4 points for Hopkins with four field goals and a lone gratis shot. It was a double success story for Colorado High in Ballinger as the B-Team also triumphed, 49 to 39.

Paul Contreras and Don Safford led C-City B with 14 points each. Safford hit seven field goals, Contreras four.

In their previous encounter, the B-Team has been on the short end of scoring — falling 42-54 to Stanton, 54 to 65 to Snyder.

Grades Drop Slightly Cotton Classing Office Reports

Grades were lower, staples about the same, Mike readings lower, and percentage of cotton reduced because of Bark doubled the past week, according to B. B. Manly, Jr., of the U.S.D.A.'s Cotton Classing Office at Abilene.

Below Grade cotton increased from practically none to one per cent, Manly said.

Lower grades were most likely caused by harvesting cotton too wet and/or too green, and by the end of the week were showing some improvements and not as many "barkies" were being called.

Lower qualities also indicate harvesting is getting into the late planted cotton which is more immature than cotton harvested earlier, he said.

Predominant grades and staples at Abilene were: 7 per cent, Strict Low Middling as compared to 10 per cent last week; 26 per cent Middling Light Spotted as compared to 38 per cent last week; 40 per cent, Strict Low Middling Light Spotted as compared to 30 per cent last week; 12 per cent, Low Middling Light Spotted as compared to 5 per cent last week.

Grades in the spotted color group increased from 2 per cent last week to 6 per cent this week with Middling Spotted, Strict Low Middling Spotted, and Low Middling Spotted each representing 2 per cent. The remaining per cent was made up of 3 per cent Middling, 1 per cent

Low Middling, and 1 per cent Strict Middling Light Spotted. One per cent of the cotton was Below Grade.

Staple lengths were fairly constant with 7 per cent 29/32 compared to 8 1/2 last week; 55 per cent, 31/32 compared to 51 per cent last week; 29 per cent, 31/32 compared to 30 per cent last week; 7 per cent 1 1/8 inch compared to 6 per cent last week. Staple lengths of 1 1/32 and 1 1/16 remained the same at 1 per cent each.

Mike readings were one per cent 2.7 - 2.9; 4 per cent 3.0 - 3.2; 5 per cent 3.3 - 3.4.

Readings in the 3.5 - 4.0 or premium range took a slight decrease from 81 to 81 per cent. Seven per cent read 5.0 - 5.2 and one per cent 5.3 and above.

Home On The Range Where Deer

Spotted fawn hiding its natural habitat was snapped by a USDA Soil Conservation Service camera. Cover of grass, weeds and brush plants attracts does with young. Deer hunting in Mitchell County, under strict regulations of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, is in full swing. Some area ranches are booked up for day hunting months in advance of the season.

MITCHELL UPPED

Conservation Program Of Benefit To Sportsmen

"The sportsman's stake in agricultural conservation is very high," said A. K. McCarley, Jr., Chairman of the Mitchell Soil and Water Conservation District, this week.

More hunting and fishing areas are needed according to John L. Kazda of the Soil Conservation Service. "Each year about a million more Americans get interested in hunting and fishing. One man in five goes hunting," he added.

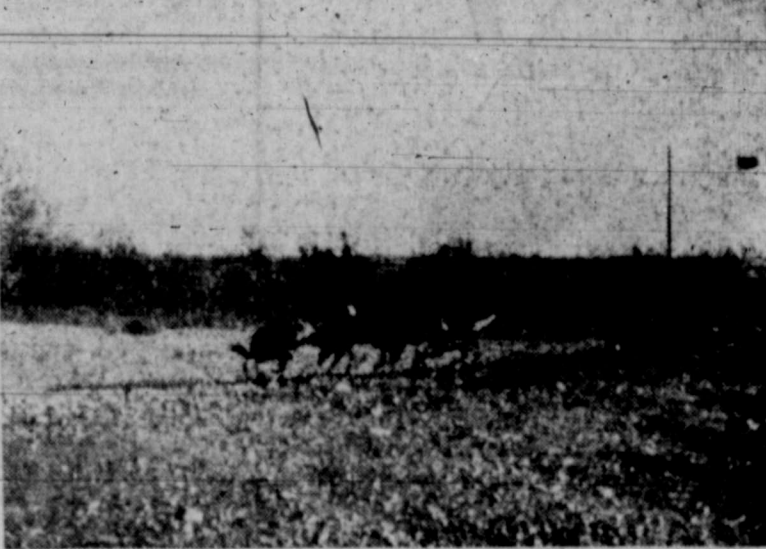

Rancher Francis Winn, of Colorado City, says, "Many hunters come to my ranch from as far as the Dallas-Fort Worth area."

W. J. Waltrip, manager of the Benderbrook Spate Ranch said, "Our day hunting is booked full months in advance."

Fishing is even more popular with men and it has a strong appeal to women as well as with the younger set. More than one-third of American families, mostly from the city, are interested in fishing.

"As our reputation expands, we will have a need for more hunting and fishing opportunities, more parks and playgrounds, and for more open meadows and woodlands close to cities and towns where people can get away for the weekend," said Kazda.

Privately-owned farmlands provide 80 percent of the wildlife available for hunting as well as much of the good fishing. Upland game birds, local game animals, fish, and even the migratory ducks and geese are a part of the harvest of farms. "This is why sportsmen are directly interested in agricultural conservation on private lands," states Kazda.

In Mitchell County, the suppression of brush and better range management has improved the habitat for deer and turkey as well as for quail. Adequate conservation on farmland keeps soil out of adjacent lakes and streams, and improves them for fishing.

In turn, these wildlife benefits increase hunting, fishing and other recreational opportunities. Thus, the Great Plains Conservation Program and the Agricultural Conservation Program of the United States Department of Agriculture benefit sportsmen, Kazda explained.

Mrs. T. L. Finley's topic was, "Rice - Mechanized Giant." Rice is the principle food of half the people of the world, she said, and is one of the more stable industries of Texas. "It is grown in 20 to 25 counties along the Gulf coast from the Louisiana line to Laredo Bay. Some 490,000 acres are included in these Texas rice fields. They are irrigated from artesian wells and the rivers that run across the coastal area," she said.

Mrs. Doyle Hester discussed "Rags to Riches," in which she gave a compre-

Grandma baked pies today and we had a good laugh together over the story she used to tell me as a little girl of a lady who baked pies and marked them to tell them apart. Half she marked T M for 'Tis Mince, the others T M for 'Tisn't Mince.

It's such fun having Grandma live in our house. Her stories of the old days, her understanding humor, and her joy in living spark our lives. She needs no label. That she's a Christian glows in everything she does. No matter what the circumstances, she meets people and situations with love and goodness. Full credit is hers, that none of the problems that we feared when she came to live with us have developed.

Yes, I'd say Grandma has rubbed off on all of us. We all go to church now and we're much happier because of it. We've learned from Grandma that happiness comes from doing good and loving God.

Why don't you go to Church and take your family with you?

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and read your Bible daily.

larity and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

County Agent Gives Tips On Dressing Deer

With the deer hunting season here, hunters may be interested in a visit with the local county agent for a copy of Extension Leaflet L-631, "Field Dressing a Deer."

Since quality venison depends primarily on how the deer is handled from the time of the kill until it is placed in the freezer, field dressing is important, points out County Agent Bobby Lemons. The leaflet outlines one method of field dressing skinning a deer.

However, explains Lemons, any method which results in a clean well-bled deer is satisfactory. Unpleasant experiences with venison usually result from lack of care before the meat reaches the kitchen, he adds.

Information in the leaflet was provided by Wallace Klusmann, Extension Wildlife Specialist, and by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission.

Another publication which has been of interest to hunters and housewives is B-987, "Wild Game Care and Cooking." It offers many suggestions for preparing delicious dishes of venison as well as other wild game meats. This bulletin is also available at county Extension offices, Lemons said.

Land owners may be interested in obtaining either "Seasonal Hunting Lease Agreement" or "Day or Weekend Hunting Permit Agreement" from the County Extension Agents office. These agreements are D-539 and D-538 respectively.

CONVERSATION CORNER

AMONG little-known phenomena is the fact that after a few years in this business, newspaper reporters wind up thinking exclusively in headlines.

That is not a closely guarded trade secret or it would not be admitted in this here space.

Any spouse or member of the newspaper family can tell you how it works. It affects all household routine and communications, even.

Practically everything that happens gets expressed in headlines—some big and bold, some middle-sized, and some little filler items.

After so long a time it gets to be such a habit that community happenings, national, state, and family events are relayed only after being relegated to the headline count.

BUG the private premises of the average reporter and you'd get taped recordings saying things like "Son Enroute to Detroit... No Thanksgiving Visit."

Or "Calendar Shows Four Weeks... Four Days 'til Christmas." And maybe "Rain Falls Sunday Night & Monday."

That headline syndrome creeps into family messages scribbled on old envelopes and left in that special place by the fruit bowl.

A curious intruder might find lines saying, Turn Up Thermostat... Freeze Predicted, or "Pork Chops, Baking Yams, Pineapple," or "Gas Bill Due Today."

LIFE, after all, is usually written in headlines, whether it's ever occurred to you or not.

The most ordinary conversation between friends turns into headlines when a newspaper person is taking part, it's only fair to warn you.

Headlines for the woman's pages one recent day, Nov. 17, should go "Callie Craig Married... To Raymond Greer."

Callie and Raymond spent Thanksgiving Day here visiting with the A. C. Craigs and Callie's son Don. Callie lives and teaches now in Odessa where Raymond is area distributor for Baldrige.

OTHER headlines this week would read "Jamie Anderson Home For Weekend." He visited the Record staff of which he is an ex-news editor.

Another could say "Ned Nickerson Moving To Dallas." Martha Jones (Majors) Nickerson, having lunch with her mother Mrs. Sam L. Majors, Sr., was saying that she and Ned and daughter Ellen will be moving to Dallas after the first of the year. They've been living in Abilene where Ellen is a senior in ACC High School.

Ned has been managing Colonial Inn at Abilene and will be manager for a big new motor hotel on Industrial Boulevard in Dallas when it is completed.

LITTLE headlines might further inform, "Gina Goes Blond." Gina is wife of Joe Edd Coldeaway and looks very chic with her new hair style.

Another would proclaim, "Allen and Ann Baumann Tour Record." They are son and daughter of Lena and Melvin Baumann of Loraine. Lena (nee Lindsey) was pinch-hitting on news of women's last week.

Still another headline could tell "Leonard Allen, of China Grove Plan Golden Wedding Party, Dec. 17." They were office visitors Monday.

HEADLINES in bigger papers either excite you or move you to mutter ho-hum.

In the ho-hum, couldn't care-less department these past few days have been these little jewels: "Mia Farrow and Frankie Sinatra Try Temporary Separation."

"DeGaulle Speaks 99 Minutes At Paris Press Conference."

"Sammy Davis Jr. and Mae Britt Marriage Ended."

ON THE OTHER side of the coin, headline and picture which came as a personal and sorrowful blow was, "Harry Truman Watches Parade From Porch."

Remembering President Truman in Sept. 1948 campaigning in Dallas... a man so vital, a speaker so witty and so sure of victory, hand in pocket of double-breasted gray suit... brought a choked-up feeling to throats of those who love him. Tempus Fugit.

SEEN LATELYS around town and rating headlines in the local and personal category include Jimmy Payne ordering up some lemon cake... Betty Drennon (Mrs. R. H.) at the Down Town... Doris Carter (Mrs. Bill F.) on Walnut St... Margie (Mrs. L. L.) Ellwood... buying holi-

Plea Says Mail Early In The Day

Postmaster A. M. Morris has reminded local residents that it is just as important to mail early in the day as to mail early during the Christmas season.

Mailing early in the day can assure that gifts, cards and letters can be sent on their way by the earliest possible transportation. Often there is only one connection per day for many distant points. If mail is deposited after that transportation has left there can be a one day delay in moving the mail on its next sorting point, Morris said.

Because of the heavy nationwide Christmas mailing, Morris asks that citizens mail early in the season to assure that there are no jam-ups in major cities where trains, trucks and planes converge with their mail.

"Early mailing assures an even flow, not a sudden surge which could log-jam the postal system," the postmaster said. "According to Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien's predictions there will be over nine billion pieces of mail delivered during the Christmas rush. If all that mail were to hit at one time there would not be enough workers or space to handle the mail and Christmas mail would be delayed," he added.

The postmaster also encouraged all mailers to use ZIP Codes on every piece of mail to assure efficient postal operations.

All Talk, No Candidates

By VERN SANFORD

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION
Everybody's talking about the 1968 governor's race. As of this writing, however, Lt. Gov. Preston Smith is the only one who has formally announced.

Secretary of State John L. Hill says he wants to run and will support "contingents" to crystallize. Adds Hill: "I know the political realities are such that if I am going to run, I ought to announce soon, but I don't want to speculate when."

Utah rancher-banker Dolph Briscoe says he definitely is interested but has reached no firm decision. Although he hasn't announced, former Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr made a candidate-like move in demanding that U. S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough, another potential candidate, resign his office should he enter the governor's race.

Austin attorney and former Congressman Joe Kilgore, a close friend of Gov. John Connally, says it is unlikely he will be a candidate but he did not close the door. Other names have been mentioned but no statements have come from them, pro or con, as to their interest in the race.

COURTS SPEAK

Millions of dollars may be added to the Texas Permanent School Fund pending outcome of suit by a San Antonio County man challenging private ownership of 12,068 acres of South Texas oil lands, says attorney general's department. Walter C. Atchley, in lawsuit, claims that the state never decided away land to oil operators and is still owner.

Third Court of Civil Appeals upheld award of $147,456 to a six-year-old Austin boy whose leg was cut off by a power shaver at a drive-in theater here.

State Supreme Court in a divided five to four decision held that a San Antonio detective investigator was dismissed on insufficient grounds, though he offered for sale a shot gun reported stolen.

High court rejected appeal of an Edinburg man for release from jail where he is held on order to pay $17,000 of his Mexican national lottery winnings to a woman who had purchased a half interest in one of his "lucky" tickets.

Supreme Court concluded that a Travis County district judge should not have ordered a new trial of ease protesting denial of a new savings and loan association charter in Llano.

Court of Criminal Appeals held that conviction of a man imprisoned 28 years on forgery and other felonies cannot stand because he did not have counsel in his 1939 trial.

SMITH APPOINTMENTS

Lieutenant Governor Smith announced these appointments:

Sens. Charles Herring of Austin and Tom Creighton of Mineral Wells to Multi-state Tax Compact Advisory Committee.

Sens. Grady Hazlewood of Amarillo, Criss Cole of Houston, William T. Moore of Bryan, Bruce Reagan of Corpus Christi and Ralph Hall of Rockwall to Joint Interim Highway Safety Committee.

Sens. Oscar Mauzy of Dallas, James S. Bates of Edinburg, Creighton, H. J. Blanchard of Lubbock and Murry Watson Jr. of Waco to special Committee to Study Governmental Immunity whether principle should be with request to recommend continued or abolished.

Sens. William N. Patman of Canada, Watson and Hazlewood to special Parking and Traffic Committee to study congestion in the state capital area.

CITY SALES TAX — Five more Texas cities have given overwhelming approval to one per cent city sales tax levies.

Huntsville, Beatty, Seguin, Comstock and Llano voters asked for the tax by margins ranging from two-to-one to eight-to-one. So far, 33 cities have approved the local revenue-raising method, passed by the Legislature this year although it was believed to be highly controversial. Only two, Lufkin and Electra, have turned it down.

Next two elections — December 2 — are in Galveston and Kilgore. Fifty-six cities will vote on December 5, including Houston, Dallas, San Antonio and Fort Worth.

BOND PROGRAMS

Two state agencies are busy planning how best to take advantage of $275,000,000 worth of authorization voted them by Texas citizens on November 11.

One of the constitutional amendments revived the Veterans Land Program and authorized the issuance of $200,000,000 in bonds to finance it. Another set up the Park Development Fund and provided for the sale of $75,000,000 in bonds to finance it.

Veterans Land Board, administrator of the land program, should be ready to begin its operations soon after the votes are formally canvassed on November 28. No friction is anticipated in this for two reasons.

First, the old Veterans Land Program expired only in 1965, so Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler is experienced in operating it. Second, there are few complications to work out — the state merely sells the bonds and acquires the money, then asks for applications from veterans. Sadler said veterans should locate tracts they want, then apply for loans after January 15.

But Parks and Wildlife Department is facing a different situation. Bond experts met with department officials last week to give them a "short course" on securities.

Neither agency is planning to sell all the authorized bonds at once. Land Office is talking about $25,000,000 to $30,000,000 in the first issue, and though the Parks and Wildlife Commission will have the final say-so, the most popular figure discussed at the meeting was $10,000,000.

Land bonds will be 40-year bonds. Park bonds are limited to 10 years and will be retired by revenues from entrance fees to state parks. Both have a 4 1/2 per cent constitutional limit on the interest the state may pay, which could complicate their sale.

JOB CORPS

More than 14,000 Texas young men and women have been employed by the Job Corps.

Since the program began two years ago, about 13,000 male trainees from Gary Job Corps have accepted assignments. The McKinney

Job Corps for girls, which began screening applicants in April, already has placed 1,132 on jobs.

LIQUOR BOARD

Coke Stevenson Jr., administrator of Texas Liquor Control Board, suspended two Dallas agents for "remarks" about board operations, and ordered them to a Tuesday, November 28, hearing here.

Action followed distribution of a circular in the capital area and in Dallas criticizing Stevenson and James E. Dale, Dallas LCB supervisor. Circular also repeated the Baptist General Convention demand for investigation of the Board. Stevenson called the publication "malicious slander."

Dallas State Sen. Oscar Mauzy said he is looking into LCB activities himself following rumors about alleged wrongdoings.

SHORT SNORTS

House Speaker Barnes has been named to the board of directors of States Urban Action Center, along with four governors and other national leaders.

Texas draft quota for January will be 1,659 men, highest since November 1966.

Governor Connally selected Nueces County Commissioner Robert Barnes to interim committee to study roads and parking areas on Texas beaches.

Texas Research League has recommended a teletype network to connect all Rio Grande Valley law enforcement agencies, and that their radio systems be improved for use in emergencies like Hurricane Beulah and floods. Frank Hildebrand, Texas Tourist Development Agency director, was picked by President Johnson to serve on 22-member special travel task force.

December 5 and 9 House of Representatives vacancy elections have been called in Harris and Travis counties.

William J. Burke, executive director of State Board of Control, has been elected a vice-president and board member of the Institute of Purchasing and Supply of Great Britain. Burke is president of National Institute of Governmental Purchasing.

El Paso Attorney Robert L. Donigan has been named chief counsel of the Commission on Law Enforcement Procedures, which is to produce a handbook to serve as a practical guide for law officers in the field.

"NOW DON'T LET HIM BRAINWASH YOU"

Electing Our President

By OMAR BURLESON
U. S. Congressman
17th District

The method of electing the President and Vice President of the United States came under long and strenuous discussion at the Constitutional Convention of 1787.

Little difficulty was encountered on agreeing that the President and Vice President should be elected officials, but there was wide disagreement on the method. At the 1787 Convention and since, there have been proposals to elect the President and Vice President by direct popular vote, election by the Congress, election by the State Legislatures and election by Electors, which is the present system.

There are presently pending before the Congress proposals for a Constitutional Amendment which would abolish the present Electoral College System. Others would maintain the Electoral System but provide that each candidate for whom votes were cast for President and Vice President within each State would be credited with such proportion of the electoral vote as he received. In other words, if a candidate received 51 percent of the total vote within a given State, he would receive only 51 percent of the electoral vote of that State, and the opposing candidate would receive 49 percent. Under the present system, a candidate receiving 51 percent of a State's vote receives the entire electoral vote of that State.

The Constitution of the United States provides that "Each State shall appoint, in such manner as the Legislature thereof may direct, a number of electors, equal to the whole number of Senators and Representatives to which the State may be entitled in the Congress." All States provide for "appointment" of electors through direct election by the people.

In the last Presidential election (1964) the 50 States, with a total of 100 Senators and 435 Representatives plus 3 Electors from the District of Columbia, totaled 533.

In each of the states, the political party obtaining a plurality of votes, no matter how small, names the entire slate of Electors. The Electors thus chosen on the Tuesday after the first Monday in November, convene as "Colleges" in their own States, on the first Monday after the second Wednesday in December and cast their votes for President and Vice President of the United States. This group is known as the "Electoral College."

Originally the Founding Fathers intended that Electors vote as individuals in choosing a President. Experience, however, soon proved that Electors merely acted as representatives of the political parties and expected to vote for candidates nominated by their party. By 1800 independent voting by Electors almost disappeared. The States began to adopt the unit vote system by the Electors, and by 1892 the present practice had evolved.

It is almost unanimously agreed that some change in the present process of Presidential elections is in order. Congressional Committees are studying a variety of amendments which reveal broad differences as to the precise nature of the present inequity, as well as the method by which it should be remedied. If, however, people are to have a more direct voice in the election of the highest officials of the land, changes from the present system are necessary. Political parties, as such, have no standing under the Constitution but under the present system it is the political parties which stand in for the people and between them and the election of a President and Vice President. Since political parties have no Constitutional standing, they should remain as intended — to be private and free of Federal regulation.

Numerous flaws exist in the idea of the President and Vice President being elected directly by popular vote. Perhaps any plan will not be perfect, but there is a need for the influence of the voting constituency to be brought closer in determining who heads our Country.

Senator's Point

Advertising and Health

By RALPH YARBOROUGH
United States Senator

This week I announced my support in the United States Senate of two bills written in the interest of the health and well-being of the American people, and especially young Americans. I am cosponsoring two bills which would restrict television and radio advertising of cigarettes and alcoholic beverages, prohibiting this advertising during prime afternoon and early evening hours when most children are watching or listening in.

Consider with me these alarming statistics:

★ More than 250,000 premature deaths each year are related to cancer and other ailments frequently associated with smoking.

★ Between four and five thousand school children start to smoke each day in the United States.

★ A million youngsters now in school will die before their time because of illnesses related to smoking.

These are figures gathered by our United States Public Health Service — government figures gathered with your tax money; shocking figures that point to an unhealthy nation puffing itself into an early grave.

The same is true with drinking. According to the President's Crime Commission, one out of every three arrests in this country is for drunkenness. In a nine-year study conducted recently in San Antonio officials found that 61 per cent of all drivers and pedestrians killed in traffic accidents were intoxicated to some degree.

There are more than five million diagnosed alcoholics in the United States today and at least that many more who have not sought out help and who have not been classified. According to the American Journal of Psychiatry, one out of every 15 Americans or 13.3 million Americans are alcoholic.

That, fellow Texans, is why I am supporting bills to curtail these advertisements that make smoking and drinking seem so much fun, so irresistible that you simply must do it to be "in."

There is public support for such a law. A poll taken two weeks ago by a Fort Worth-Dallas area television station, found that 63 per cent of the people wanted absolute bans placed on cigarette advertising.

Our sophisticated advertising methods — Madison Avenue methods — create the impressions that all pretty girls and handsome men, the beautiful people of America, smoke two packs a day and put away two cocktails with every meal. While that is not a true presentation of American life as you and I know it, it creates an attractive and dangerous illusion in the minds of many children in their formative years.

Pedestrian Liability

Peddaling his bicycle along the sidewalk, a delivery boy collided with a woman shopper as she emerged from a market. Painfully injured, the woman filed a damage suit against the boy's employer.

But in court, the company denied liability.

"It is true that our boy didn't see her," acknowledged the company. "But it is equally true that she did not see him. Neither one was watching, so it is a standoff."

However, the court ordered the company to pay the woman's claim. The judge reasoned that, since sidewalks are "pedestrian territory," the bicycle rider had a greater duty than the woman to keep a lookout.

As a rule, the pedestrian on a sidewalk enjoys a privileged status. He is entitled to protection not only against the wayward bicyclist but also against the intruding motorist.

Consider this case: A motorist, backing down his driveway, kept his head out the window. But he looked straight behind him, not to either side. Nor did he sound his horn. Sure enough, his car struck an elderly pedestrian, approaching unseen on the sidewalk.

Result: the motorist was held liable for the accident. "In the use of a public sidewalk," said the court, "a pedestrian has a superior right of way over an automobile."

In fact, the pedestrian is protected even against other pedestrians who disregard sidewalk etiquette. Thus, a man won damages after being bowled over by a youth scampering along the sidewalk without looking. The judge commented: "Human legs, like an automobile, when used carelessly may be dangerous."

On the other hand, a pedestrian's own negligence — that is, something worse than just a moment's inattention — may count against him in court.

In one case, a woman sued the city after tripping over a slight break in the sidewalk. But it turned out that she had been walking with her gaze firmly fixed on a parade passing in the street. Holding her negligent the court said:

"Ordinary care requires the plaintiff to take some note of her own surroundings."

Farm Credit

Total Rises In State

Texas farmers and ranchers are continually using more agricultural credit, according to James Mallett, farm management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. On January 1, 1967, farmers and ranchers in the state had debts of over $2,581,052,000 — that's two and one half billion dollars.

Real estate loans accounted for about two-thirds of the total — $1,705,427,000; and, non-real estate loans accounted for one-third or $875,625,000, Mallett said.

Non-real estate loans increased four percent during 1966, and 58 percent over the past five years. Real estate loans increased eight percent last year and 75 percent over the past five years.

Commercial banks held 70 percent or about $617,434,000 of the non-real estate farm and ranch loans on last January 1. Individual lenders were highest in real estate loans with $591 million, followed by Life Insurance Companies with $561 million, Federal Land Banks with $412 million, commercial banks with $126 million and the Farmers Home Administration with $15 1/2 million.

Non-real estate loans were used by farmers and ranchers for operating expenses; living costs and intermediate-type investments such as machinery, livestock, and property improvements requiring longer than a one-year repayment program. Real estate loans were used primarily for farm purchases, or additional land, however, some were used for items listed under non-real estate loans and for refinancing existing debts.

Mallett says, reasons for the increased agricultural credit include higher costs of production items, higher land prices, and increased farm sizes. The index of prices paid by Texas farmers for production inputs increased from 255 in 1954, to 266 in 1959 and to 270 in 1964, the last three census years. For these same periods, average land prices increased from $60.54 per acre to $81.11 per acre to $144.20 per acre. The average farm size in Texas increased from 497.7 acres in 1954 to 690.9 acres in 1964 — a 38.8 percent increase in ten years.

Agriculture in Texas is big business, stated Mallett, and the move toward larger more efficient commercial farms continues at a fast pace.

Food Misconceptions

Naturally, the interest of all of us in food gives rise to numerous food superstitions and misconceptions, says TODAY'S HEALTH GUIDE, the American Medical Association's manual of health information for the American family.

Some tabulations list more than 200 common modern-day misconceptions about food.

Here are a few of the more common fallacies. They are all erroneous —

If a few vitamins are good, more must be better. (Not correct.)

Never give milk to a patient with fever. (The milk won't affect the fever at all.)

Parsnips should be eaten often to cleanse the kidneys. (They don't.)

Pork is indigestible. (It is no more indigestible than other meats.)

Sour foods, such as lemon juice or sauerkraut, can cure diabetes. (They can't.)

Cooked cereals heat the blood. (They don't.)

Warm bread may cause a stroke. (It won't.)

Putting cream in coffee makes the coffee more harmful. (No.)

Ice water causes heart trouble. (It doesn't.)

Raw vegetable juice contains life-giving properties, but cooked foods are "dead." (Not so.)

Olives, oysters and raw eggs increase sexual potency. (They don't.)

Wine makes blood. (It doesn't.)

HOLIDAY VOWS

Miss Ann Palmer Bride Of Jimmy Lynn Gale

Double ring vows exch-anged at eight in the evening, Friday, November 24 at First Baptist Church here, made Miss Rebecca Ann Pal-mer the bride of Jimmy Lynn Gale.

The bride is daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Palmer, 807 Oak St., Graham form-erly of Colorado City. Par-cuts of the groom, also for-mer residents of Colorado City, are Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Gale, 113 Denver Trail, Az-le.

Rev. Caddo Matthews, pas-tor of Plainview Baptist Church, officiated for the ceremony.

Wedding music was play-ed by Dovey Edwards, pian-ist of Westbrook, who also accompanied David Sullivan cousin of the bride, of Ode-ssa, soloist who sang "More and Wedding Prayer."

Altar of the church was marked with seven-branched candelabra and pedestal arrangements of white gladi-oluses and chrysanthem-ums.

Escorted to the altar by her father, who gave her, in marriage, the bride wore an empire-styled gown of white crepe with accents of heavy Irish lace. Designed and made by the bride's aunt, Mrs. Grady Beach, the dress was fashioned with bell sleeves with wide bands.

Detachable chapel train was fastened at the empire waistline. The bride's finger-rtip veil was arranged from a lace-trimmed pillbox. Her flowers were white carna-tions and rosebuds, with love knots on a white-Bible.

Miss Billie Jean Johnson of San Angelo, was maid of honor. Her dress was of red chiffon over red taffeta styled with a cape-effect bodice banded with taffeta at the wrists and neckline. Match-ing pillbox with brief chif-fon veils was her headdress.

Walking papers for the Windmill...

An electric pump is cheaper to install than the windmill and it pumps water whether or not the wind blows. With the LONE WOLF ELECTRIC COOPERATIVE offering a dependable low-cost electric service, the modern efficient way to pump water is electrically. You still see friendly windmills over the state but mark them well. Old "hiah lonesome" has his walking papers. The day is coming when the only spot for a wind-mill is where there's no electric power. Such spots are fast disappearing thanks to the mam-mal-owned LONE WOLF ELECTRIC COOP-ERATIVE which is brightening the rural scene while Helming Texas Grow.
