ERNEST WEST

Church of Christ Plans Meeting

Ernest West of Roswell, N. M., will return to Tahoka to conduct a Gospel meeting at the Church of Christ beginning Sunday and continuing through the following Sunday, Aug. 22-29.

Brother West was minister of the local Church for several years, succeeded by Doyle Kelcy, the present minister.

Lathel Caskey of Belton will again direct the song services. He was here in the meeting last year.

Services will be held twice daily, at 10 a. m. and at 8 p. m., and the following are some of the subjects which will be discussed: In Christ We Trust, Why We Believe the Bible, Our God is Able to Deliver Thee, Open Thou Mine Eyes, The Open Way, Trust and Obey, and The Home of the Soul.

T. W. Johnson, 90, Buried Saturday

T. W. Johnson, 90, a resident of Lynn county for nearly 40 years, died at 3:45 p. m. Thursday of last week in a Lamesa Hospital. He had suffered a heart attack nearly two weeks before his death, followed by two or three lighter attacks, but it was only on Saturday prior to his death the members of the family could prevail upon him to go to a hospital.

Funeral services were held Saturday at 3 p. m. at the First Methodist Church, with Rev. Silas Dixon, Draw Methodist pastor, and Rev. D. W. Copeland, Tahoka Baptist ministerial student, officiating. Burial was in Tahoka Cemetery under direction of Stanley-Jones Funeral Home.

Thomas William Johnson was born May 19, 1864, in Washita county, Arkansas. He grew up there and married Letha Southernland. To this union four children were born, Walter, now deceased, C. C. of Hobbs, N. M., J. O. and Mrs. Lee McFadden of Tahoka. Later, he was married to Cindy Wages, and to this union six children were born, one of which died in infancy, one son, Monroe, died at Paris, Texas, and surviving are E. L. of Plainview, J. M. of McCamey, L. B. of Tahoka, and Mrs. Jim Williams of Lubbock.

The Johnson family moved to Lynn county in 1916 from Paris, and has lived here since. Mr. Johnson farmed eight miles east of Tahoka before moving into town about 25 years ago. He was a kind and loving father, and left a host of friends who held him in high esteem.

He is survived by his wife, seven children, 10 grandchildren, seven great grandchildren, and one brother, George, of Paris.

SMU GRADUATE

Mrs. Vada Holt and daughter, Miss Julia Thomas, have returned to their home in Dallas, after visiting in the home of Mrs. G. C. Murray. Miss Thomas received her degree from S. M. U. in the Spring and has accepted a position in the Houston Schools.

Joe Harvick is in bed this week with a case of the mumps.

Tax Re-Allocation Election Saturday

Although the run-off primary election is not until Saturday of next week, Lynn county has an important county-wide election set for this Saturday.

The election this Saturday is for the re-allocation of county taxes, an election called by the Commissioners Court to adjust the tax structure, as provided by law, so the County can meet its obligations. Or, in other words, to re-distribute the tax monies so that they can be used to best advantage.

Such re-allocation was approved by voters on Dec. 22, 1947, for a period of six years, the limit set by law. Now, another election must be held to set the tax structure for another six years.

More money is needed, Judge Walter M. Mathis explains, in the road and bridge funds, and less money is needed in some of the other funds.

Statutory rate is 80 cents, of which 25 cents is provided for the general fund, 15 cents for the jury fund, 15 cents for the road and bridge fund, and 25 cents for permanent improvements.

Proposed division of tax funds, which has been in effect the past three years and on which property tax-paying citizens of Lynn county will vote Saturday is: 35 cents for general fund; 25 cents, road and bridge; 5 cents, jury; and 15 cents, permanent improvements.

This is necessary to retire the 10-year $120,000 road bonds issued in 1948, six installments of which have already been paid.

The re-allocation does not raise county taxes in any manner, but legally places the money received in funds where such monies can be used to best advantage in paying off the paving bonds and prevents the building up of surpluses in funds for which there is no need.

Soil Tour Set For Next Tuesday

Plans are being completed for the annual Soil Conservation Field Tour.

Tuesday morning Aug. 24th, the Lynn County Soil Conservation District Board of Supervisors are making final arrangements and are looking forward to a good turnout for the event.

The tour will assemble at the Court House at 8:00 a. m. Tuesday morning and begin the tour immediately. There are six stops scheduled in various parts of the Lynn District. Refreshments will be served by the Tahoka Chamber of Commerce at one of the stops. It is planned to complete the tour by noon.

Most of the practices to be seen will be vegetation practices. We have long had the problem of finding crops and cropping methods that will protect and improve our land, says Lonnie Howell, chairman of the Lynn County Soil Conservation District Board of Supervisors. Next year we will have a very immediate need for some of these crops on our diverted acres. The district Supervisors are hoping that this tour will furnish local farmers with some ideas and information that they can use in their farming plans next year, says Howell.

Cemetery Group Meeting Is Called

All those who have relatives buried in Tahoka Cemetery are urged to attend a meeting of Tahoka Cemetery Association called for 2 p. m. Saturday, Sept. 4, in the county court room.

Officers will be elected and other important business taken up.

Garland Pennington is president of the Association, and Mrs. Helen Ellis is secretary.

Crops Suffering From Drouth

Many crops over Lynn county are deteriorating because of lack of moisture, and what once looked like great prospects for a bumper crop has dwindled to only fair.

Cotton in parts of the county, especially in the west and south-west portions of the county, reacted pretty well to the recent showers, according to County Agent Bill Griffin.

Most seriously injured cotton, by the drouth, is that in the southeast part of Lynn, and spots are suffering in other sections.

Sixty to 75 percent of the approximately 250,000 acres of maize is badly damaged or burned up by the hot, dry weather.

The county has about 200,000 acres of cotton, of which 30,000 to 45,000 acres is irrigated.

The county agent reports there is a light infestation of both bollworms and leafworms over the entire county, except in cotton that has quit growing, which will do-watching.

The first generation of leafworms is now maturing, and it is the future generations that will bear watching, Mr. Griffin says.

District Court Session Is Set

Lynn county term of District Court will open on August 30, according to District Clerk W. S. Taylor.

Judge Louis B. Reed, however, has set the jury civil cases for Sept. 27, and non-jury cases for Sept. 30.

Mr. Taylor states the following names have been drawn for grand jury service, and they will report for duty Monday, August 30: Welton Martin, H. W. Edwards Jr., H. W. Carter, Kevill Coffman, V. F. Jones, Harvey Line, Ivan Cathcart, R. D. Moses, Raymond Gatzki, Wayne Smith, A. L. Holder, F. E. McNabb, C. E. Morgan, F. B. Hegli, British C. Daniel, and Jim Rodriguez.

Misses Betty and Janice Ray, summer visitors of Mrs. G. C. Murray and sons, have returned to their home in Houston.

W. R. JONES

New Home Church Plans Gospel Meet

W. R. Jones, Lubbock minister, will do the preaching in the New Home Church of Christ meeting which opens tonight and continues through Sunday, August 29.

Services will be held daily at 10:30 a. m. and at 8:00 p. m. A cordial invitation is extended to everyone to attend.

Queen Contest Here Tonight

Ten Lynn county girls are entered in the Farm Bureau Queen contest which comes to a close with the open program tonight, Friday, at 8 o'clock in Tahoka High School auditorium.

Winner of the contest tonight will receive a wardrobe of clothing to wear in the district contest which will be held in Lubbock September 18.

In addition to the contest, which will be judged by three parties from out of the county, there will be varied entertainment.

Pupils of Mrs. Dea Parker will present tap dancing numbers, and vocal numbers will be presented by some young ladies from Wilson.

C. H. DeVaney of Coahoma, vice president of the Texas Farm Bureau, will make a brief talk. C. A. Verner will act as Master of Ceremonies.

Girls entered in the contest are: Mary Lou Allsup, Carolyn Nowlin, Martha Roper, Peggy Hemmeline, Janet Dube, Judy Blankenship, Ada Marie Barnett, Wilk Ann Shockey, Joyce Vercamp, and Wanda Marlin.

The general public is invited to the program and contest event. There are no admission charges.

Douglas Henderson of Burbank, Calif., is here visiting his father Howard Henderson.

REV. H. C. MAYO

Mayo Will Preach In Draw Revival

Draw Methodist Church on Sunday opens an eight-day revival, August 22 through August 29, announces Rev. Silas Dixon, the pastor.

Rev. H. C. Mayo, pastor at Grassland, will do the preaching, except for the Sunday services.

Services throughout the week will be at 10 a. m. and at 8 p. m. Rev. Dixon will lead the song services.

Fair Catalogues Ready Next Week

Catalogues for the annual Lynn County Fair will be out early next week, according to County Agent Bill Griffin.

The Fair will be held this year on September 22 and 23.

Plans are being made for a large exhibition of farm and garden products, livestock, and the culinary arts.

All people of the county are urged by Mr. Griffin and Miss Wanda Roach, home demonstration agent, to begin planning entries now.

Band Practice Starts Monday

Tahoka High School Band members will meet three days next week, Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, from 2:00 to 4:00 p. m. in the Band Hall, Myron L. Gilstrap, the new director announces.

The first session will be devoted to a informal organization meeting and testing instruments. Rehearsals will start Wednesday. Mr. Gilstrap urges all band members to be present.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Huffman of Houston, visited relatives here over the weekend. Mrs. Huffman is the former Sina Bairrington.

Schools Announce Plans For Opening

Season Tickets Are On Sale

Only one more week remains for football fans who had reserved seat tickets last year to exercise an option on their present seats.

After Saturday of next week, seats not reserved by old ticket holders, will go on sale to all comers.

This early pre-season sale was designed to accommodate those who wished the same seats they had last year. If these are not picked up next week, they will be sold to the first asking for them.

This information comes from Maurice Small, school tax assessor and collector, who has them on sale at his office in the Nowlin building.

Wilson Schools Ready To Open

Wilson Public Schools will open the 1954-55 session on August 30, Supt. J. P. Hewlett announces, with students of the first eight grades registering on that day. All classes will open on that day.

High School students may register at any time between now and August 27, next Friday.

There will be a general meeting of the faculty, trustees, lunch room employees, custodians and bus drivers at the cafeteria Saturday, Aug. 28, at 3 p. m.

At a recent meeting of the Wilson school board, it was voted to follow the example of some of the neighboring schools and not admit married students to school.

The faculty for the term follows:

Grade School: L. G. Fuller, principal; Miss Ethel Sumnerlin, first grade; Mrs. Ruth Nelson, second; Miss Gladys Kirtley, third; Mrs. Leila Vada Jones, fourth; Mrs. Jo Fuller, fifth; and Lawrence May, sixth.

Senior High: W. P. Jones, principal, and William Martin, Mrs. Pearl Davidson, Miss Dorothy Knippling, Ralph Huntington, Darrel Sims, Mrs. Alma Achee, George Rhoads, Joe Marshall and Mrs. E. W. Patterson.

New Home Will Open August 30

New Home School will open the 1954-55 session on August 30. High School students will register on Friday, August 27 from 9:00 a. m. to 3:00 p. m., Supt. C. O. Head announces.

The faculty is complete with just two new members. Mrs. Burkhalter will teach first grade. She taught at Robertson school last year. Mrs. Joyce Daniel will teach typing, and science in high school. She taught in Dallas last year.

Other members of the faculty are: Mrs. Bill Armstrong, second grade; Mrs. Wanda Jacobson, third; Mrs. Mary Eryor, fourth; Wallace Hillyer, fifth; R. O. Webb, C. O. Mrs. Minnie Sayles will teach the Negro school again this year. New Home will have four new buses this year.

See it first in The News.

Tahoka schools will open with a full schedule of classes on Monday, August 30, according to Supt. Otis Spears.

On that day, buses will run their regular schedule the same as last year. All students from the first through the eighth grades will register, receive their books, and start immediately into the class schedule at 8:40 a. m.

High School Principal Jake Jacobs announces that all new students in High School, or any student who must make a schedule change or is not already registered, will do so next Friday, Aug. 27, between the hours of 10 and 12 a. m. All other high school students were registered and their schedules made out last Spring.

High School and eighth grade students will assemble in the auditorium at 8:40 a. m. Aug. 30 for further instructions.

All first grade students entering school for the first time should bring with them their birth certificates. These will be returned to parents after necessary information is recorded.

Friday morning, Aug. 27, the first general faculty meeting will be held following an 8 a. m. breakfast in the school cafeteria. Following this meeting, teachers will spend the remainder of the morning getting their rooms ready for school opening.

Supt. Spears expects the enrollment to increase this year somewhat. Last year, due to the severe drouth, first day enrollment dropped from about 875 to 770.

Dunbar, the Negro school, will also open on August 30, with British C. Daniel and Paralee Sayles the teachers.

There have been several changes in the faculty for the coming year.

Milton Gardner, who came from Aspermont, is the new North Elementary school principal and lunch room manager. He succeeds Archie Sims, who served as principal of both elementary schools and who resigned to become superintendent at Maple, J. B. Howell, a teacher here last year, is principal of the South Elementary school.

Other new teachers are: O. L. Smith, formerly of Lorenzo, and Mrs. V. P. Carter, Tahoka, sixth grade.

Mrs. Betty Haralson, graduate of Howard Payne, teaching experience at Brady and Crane.

Football Practice Starting Monday

Coach Bill Haralson has issued a call for all boys who expect to play football this fall to meet at the High School next Monday morning to start pre-school work-outs. Drill sessions will be held mornings and afternoons all next week, and after the start of school on August 30 drill periods will be cut to one a day.

The new assistant coach, Dean Wright, has moved here and will assist with the work-outs.

The 1954 season opens in Tahoka on September 10 with the Littlefield Wildcats.

Coach Haralson returned home Sunday from Dallas, where he spent a week attending the annual Texas High School Coaching School.

The first zoo in America was at Philadelphia in 1874.

TAKE NOTICE that an election will be held on the 21st day of August, 1954, in said County, in obedience to an order duly entered by the Commissioners Court on the 12th day of July, 1954, which is as follows:

On this the 12th day of July, 1954, the Commissioners Court of Lynn County, Texas, convened in regular session, at the regular meeting place thereof in the Courthouse at Tahoka, Texas, with the following members of the Court to-wit: W. M. Mathis, County Judge; Clarence Church, Commissioner Precinct No. 1; C. W. Roberts, Commissioner Precinct No. 2; Beatrice McLaurin, Commissioner Precinct No. 3; E. H. Odds AND Ends

(BY E. L. THE ELDER)

Last week we closed this column without having told the whole story.

With the United States Army Engineers as the chief accusers, we had virtually convicted the great Mississippi River of being a bad, bad boy, a tricky, unreliable, uncontrollable, treacherous, natural-born ingrate and criminal, who seems to be intent upon robbing the great city of New Orleans and the capital city of Baton Rouge of great wealth and of a large part of their actual means of continued subsistence.

But that conviction rested mainly upon the testimony of expert witnesses without entering fully into the reason upon which their which they give seem to be not testimony was based.

The reason and circumstances only convincing but also intensely interesting. For some of those circumstances, they go far back into history. We now propose to give you that testimony in greater detail as written by Arthur W. Baum and published in a recent issue of The Saturday Evening Post, from which we quoted extensively last week.

After concluding that the Mississippi River floods hereafter will be controlled by sending half or more of the water through the ancient Old River and the modern Morganza floodgates down through the old channel of the Atchafalaya, a much shorter route, to the Gulf, Mr. Baum observes that the implication is "that never again will the Lower Mississippi Basin suffer creeping, relentless drowning." And then he hastens to burst that bubble like a fleck of foam in the face of a storm.

"But there is one looming hitch in this man-made mastery of the daddy of rivers," Mr. Baum observes, "a mastery which has cost the major part of a billion dollars and eventually will cost more. A large share of the good in this investment lies under the shadow of a potential disaster which could stun in various degrees all upriver cities on navigable channels and throw deadly blows at New Orleans and Baton Rouge, among others. This is The Second Great Problem of the object being stolen is the Mississippi River. The bare-faced culprit is Old River. Geologically, the theft is neither unnatural nor criminal. Hernando De Sota, gazing with wonder at the inland sea of a Mississippi flood, probably missed seeing a similar theft by only a generation or two." De Sota, who had served as Spanish governor of Cuba, organized an exploring party of 600 men and started out through the southern part of what is now, the United States. Betrayed and misguided by hostile Indians, he lost his way. He came upon the Mississippi River in 1541, and is reputed to be the first white man of any nationality to see that great stream.

In 1542 he died of a fever and members of his party secretly lowered his body into that stream at some point in the River which has never been revealed, the secrecy being employed to keep the Indians from finding and molesting it. But his name and fame have been rendered immortal as the discoverer of the Mississippi River.

"A prior nabbing of the Mississippi channel by an intersection with a seductive stream offering a shorter way to the sea occurred about the time the battle of Hastings was being won by Norman Archers." The Battle of Hastings was fought between King Harold of England and that bold invader, William of Normandy, popularly known as William the Conqueror, in October 1066, nearly 900 years ago. And so the channel of the Mississippi came very near being re-routed by the willful and wayward waters of that mighty stream then, according to Mr. Baum.

"The quiet stream beside which Evangeline mourned for Gabriel now known as Bayou Teche," Mr. Baum continues, "was once the Mississippi—until Bayou Lafourche stole it, and in turn lost it. The engineers have a beautiful map of these ancient geological misadventures in which the Mississippi is shifted east and west and its mouth moved as much as 100 miles.

"The present Mississippi is an alluvial river wriggling downhill on a bed of muck that covers a deep gorge scored by a melting ice cap. Rivers like this meander. They chew up their banks, throw out wide loops, and then cut them off. The Mississippi once threw out such a loop westward and caught the Red River, which promptly gave up and flowed into the channel of its captor. Old River is the remnant of part of that loop. But the Red, rusty with dust from the Texas Panhandle, also had another occasional outlet, a flood-time exit to the south, just eight miles from the Mississippi at Old River. This minor passage into the watery swamps was the Atchafalaya, so choked with debris 100 years ago it was called a raft and not a river.

There was thus presented some time ago a confluence of waters in the shape of the letter H. The H is still there. Its eastern upright is the Mississippi. Old River is the cross bar. The top part of the western upright is the Red, and the bottom part, from the crossbar down, or where the Red and Old River combine to form it is the Atchafalaya.

More than 100 years ago settlers along the Atchafalaya set fire to the raft and the Atchafalaya became a river. Gradually it snatched the Red River away from the Mississippi. The last time Old River flowed east into the Mississippi carrying a Red current was in 1942. The duration of that flow was nine days.

Now Old River continually flowing west out of the Mississippi is also delivering into the Atchafalaya a steadily increasing portion of the Mississippi itself. The little cross bar of the H has become the key to trouble. Let's look at this oddly powerful diversion which affects thousands of miles of watershed and holds New Orleans in the hollow of its yellow-gray wet hand. It lies just over the levee from the gravel road between Toras and Simmesport, Louisiana.

The levee is grass-covered, cows graze on its peaceful banks, sloped at toboggan pitch. If a ship were going by at high water, you would look up at it from the road, a strange experience. A trusting house sits at the roadside, its chimney above level with the levee-top.

Other situations just as precarious are described.

The reason big Mississippi is becoming so soft a victim for little Old River and the Atchafalaya is basic. The Old River route is only 100 miles long to the Gulf, about one-third the distance via New Orleans. . . . Old River now offers the most impressive short cut of all, and captains of river towns are just about as fond of cut-offs as a river. Consequently, beginning about 1947, waterway traffic coming from west of Morgan City on the Gulf and bound above Baton Rouge began to use this shorter Atchafalaya route whenever water heights permitted. Why not? It has been pointed out by one river operator that a big river tow—a tow is actually pushed—using the Atchafalaya would be 243 miles ahead of a similar tow using New Orleans when it reached the Old River-Mississippi junction. This equals a saving of $1,500 on a round trip.

"What for would defense take? Why not shut off Old River completely, cracking the nut at one stroke? Utterly impossible! In the basin-wide defense against potential super-flood the Atchafalaya is a vital part. Also, The Mississippi Basin. It is A Case of Thievery.

It is a river in good standing, important to navigation, and important to the residents of its basin. Moreover, the Mississippi below Old River couldn't handle its own floods plus the extra burden if Old River were closed."

In other words, the Engineers are trying to solve this second big problem by using both streams and at the same time keeping each under reasonable control. They think they can do it by rushing the work if super-flood will hold off till 1965 and possibly by 1963. It's a fight against time. They may win or they may lose.

Heavy floods over the great Mississippi Basin could become more destructive than a West Texas Drouth.

Senorita Aurora Gutierrez has sent me another "article" for publication this week which contains some mysticism and some very important historical references pertaining to the Maximilian era in Mexican history.

The "mysticism" lies in the fact that the writer is seemingly proceeding to discuss the Garden of Borda at Cuernavaca but drifts apparently into a description of the Maximilian Palace on Chapultepec Hill in the city of Mexico and of the marvelous park surrounding and adjacent to it. When these articles shall have been finished, I think we will understand the significance of the Cuernavaca Garden and the motive that inspired Joseph de Borda to plant and nurture it for so many years. Now the article.

Attached to (or situated on) the grounds is a long house with a succession of cool rooms on one floor, and in passing the open denuded sala (hall) as one begins to descend the main terrace, it is impossible not to remember for a moment that the place was lived in by Maximilian and Carlotta. It is impossible too, especially if the white roses and jasmine of the arbor are in bloom, not to pay the unfortunate lady and gentlemen the tribute of a sentimental pang. In Mexico, one often finds oneself thinking of Maximilian and Carlotta, and on the whole with kindness springing, I am sure, chiefly from the fact that they were young and in love.

(Note: The experience of this Frenchman, Maximilian, placed on the throne of Mexico as Emperor of the country, by Napoleon III of France, is one of the strangest and most significant events in human history. It exemplifies the folly and the futility of any dictator who at some opportune moment in his career undertakes to rule another people against their will and opposition, for in nine cases out of ten the throne of the dictator finally tumbles, and when he falls, he is usually down and out forever. Maximilian was the dupe and the stooge of Napoleon III. He was finally stood up against a wall and shot. As for poor deluded and disappointed Carlotta, she is one of the most pathetic characters of all history. She appealed to the boastful Napoleon for help but he was unable to give it and wept like a child. She appealed to the Pope, but the Pope's arms likewise were too short; his influence too vapid, as it is in every emergency. Foolish is every person who depends on the Pope even for temporal salvation. Carlotta died a hopeless maniac in the home of her brother in Belgium.)

And now I send you some Mexican Popular Types.

La China Poblana: This legend is a general favorite with all Mexican people—the popular ideal of the feminine type. La China Poblana is the equivalent of the Spanish "Maja," sung of by Roman de la Cruz and immortalized by Goya in his paintings, as her pious Spanish counterpart who inspired the verses of poets, such as Fidel in his "Musa Callejera," and painters from the time of Arrieta of the past century to the modern artists of today, so does the "China Poblana" rise in mystic aspects far removed from the gallant or profane in "Retablos" and interesting canvases of the people and their "miracles" showing scenes of bed-ridden sick, of prisoners in jail, or of victims of accidents who have been miraculously saved—popular paintings which form one of the most valuable archives of Mexico's artistic past.—Continued.—Aurora Gutierrez.

P. S. In this column next week I expect to discuss the Governor's Race. Will discuss a burning issue that has been generally neglected.—E. L. Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Thompson Jr. have recently moved to Ada, Okla., where he is working with the REA. Mrs. Thompson is the former Sarah Beth McGlaun.

Buick's biggest hit brings you a 3-way bonus

1. You get the car that's in step with tomorrow

From stem to stern, Buick today is styled a year ahead—with long, low glamor lines, with the very look of tomorrow, and with that broad panoramic windshield that many other cars won't have till 1955. Equally important, you get in Buick advanced V8 power, big room, luxurious comfort, the famed Million Dollar Ride—and all for prices that start just a few dollars above those of the so-called "low-price three." Is it any wonder, then, that Buick today is outselling all other cars in America except two of these "low-price three"?

2. You get the car that's a sure high resale value

Buicks have always had a high trade-in value. But the 1954 Buick has an extra advantage in its year-ahead styling. That means your Buick will stay well up in the style parade for years to come—will stay fresh and new-looking well into the future. So you're bound to be way ahead in actual dollars when trade-in time comes.

Come see for yourself why—

3. You get a bigger allowance from our volume business

Every month's sales figures this year have affirmed this fact: Buick sales are soaring; Buick is outselling all other cars in the nation, regardless of price range, except two of the "low-price three." So with this tremendous volume, we can—and do—offer higher trade-in allowances. Come in, see and drive a new Buick—then check for yourself that our volume business really does mean a far bigger allowance for you.

Man Is Arrested For Burglary

A suspect was arrested in San Angelo Saturday who is believed to have perpetrated the burglary of O'Donnell postoffice, Ellis Chevrolet Co. of that city, a Lubbock postoffice substation, and the Meadow postoffice.

He is Melvin Dean Barton, 29, a Lubbock convict recently released from the Texas State penitentiary, where he served a five year term for forgery.

The burglar is alleged to have broken in Ellis Chevrolet, secured an acetylene torch, with which he attempted to open the safe in the O'Donnell post office.

He was arrested after having attempted to pass forged money orders obtained in the burglary of a postoffice substation in a drug store on East Broadway in Lubbock. He admitted to officers the Lubbock and O'Donnell break-ins but denied the Meadow job.

Only once has the speaker of the house ever become president, when James K. Polk was elected in 1894.

The Dominican Order was founded in 1215.

Mrs. Wilmer Smith, County Delegates Attend State H. D. Meeting In Dallas

Returning Friday night from the 28th annual meeting of the Texas Home Demonstration Association held at the Adolphus Hotel in Dallas were 54 delegates from 18 counties of this district.

Included in the delegation were Mrs. B. M. Harris, retiring state president of Plainview, and Mrs. Wilmer Smith of New Home community, the newly installed district vice-president. Mrs. Smith holds the only district office of the association.

The elected delegates attending from Lynn County were: Mrs. T. D. Dunlap of the Dixie community, Mrs. W. C. Maeker of Wilson, and Mrs. K. K. Moore of New Home. Over 1,000 club members of Texas attended the meeting.

Highlights of the meeting were addresses given by the following: Miss Lisa Sergio, nationally known commentator and lecturer, who spoke on how Communism may be combated through the home; Miss Maurine Hearce of the Extension Service at Texas A. and M. College described a year spent in Bolivia under the Point 4 Program; and Dr. Imogene Bentley, dean of women of North Texas State College, Denton, gave an address on evaluating leadership.

Recommendations were made for further study and action on the following phases of home demonstration club work: 4-H, recreation, education, civil defense, health and safety, and citizenship.

Mrs. John Golightly of Hic was elected state president for the coming two years.

Sweet Street Pastor Resigns Position

Rev. Bill Wadley, pastor of Sweet Street Baptist Church for the past eight months, resigned last Wednesday night to enter Wayland College, and subsequently plans to go into full time evangelistic preaching.

God richly blessed Bro. Bill during the short time spent as pastor of Sweet Street. There were approximately 85 additions to the church during the eight months. Fifty-five of these were professions of faith in Jesus Christ. Two young men surrendered their lives to the call to preach the Gospel. One young lady surrendered her life as missionary nurse, and several others dedicated their lives for Christian service. Scores of rededications were made by Christians. All in all, it was a short, but fruitful ministry.

Bro. Bill says that he feels that God would have him to further his education in order to prepare himself to be a better preacher of the Gospel of Jesus Christ. He says that he hopes that God will keep him busy preaching during the week-ends while he is in school, and that during the summer months he will be able to hold evangelistic meetings where ever the Lord can use him. To the many, many friends in and around Tahoka, Bro. Bill says: "Lily and the girls and I love every one of you, and may the Good Lord bless every one of you real good."

Spears Is Named Area Consultant

Editorial

On Monday evening of this week, we listened to and viewed a television program wherein a group of the Hon. Ralph Yarborough's friends subjected him to a quiz program respecting his position on certain problems that now confront or soon will confront the people of Texas. He doubtless knew in advance the nature and the scope of the questions that would be asked him, for obviously all the questions had been prepared to the intent that his answers to them might consist of the very propaganda that he wished most to deal out to the people. In other words, it was a cut-and-dried affair. Scores of questions were asked him but not once did any of these questioners ask him what his attitude, position, plans, or program would be for breaking up the notorious and shameful practices of the ballot-box stuffers, fraudulent election returns, and the occasional murder or attempt to murder those law-abiding people who criticize the official and illegal conduct of the Duke of Duval and his political stooges. No, these questioners steered clear of all such embarrassing questions. The time is growing late, and Yarborough has not spoken clear yet as to his attitude toward the Parr gang. It is too late now for him to answer; for if he should now promise to see that the Parr dictators are ousted, or tripped of their power in the event of Yarborough's election as governor, people would not believe him, and Parr would turn upon him with all the fury that he could command. The biggest issue is this whole campaign in whether we will clean up Dirty Duval or give the would-be potentates a new lease on the Throne.

Bering Strait was named for Vitus Bering, a Dane in the Russian Navy.

Help Is Needed By Polio Fund

The Emergency March of Dimes was launched in Lynn county Monday, according to Clint Walker, county chairman of the local March of Dimes Drive. The campaign will last through August 31 and is being carried on all over the Nation.

This drive is necessary due to depletion of funds raised in the regular March of Dimes Drive last January. The large scale vaccine program, other research programs, and the heavy patient care load have drained the resources of the National Foundation For Infantile Paralysis; making this emergency drive a necessity in order to continue taking care of those needing assistance and carrying on the research programs.

According to Mr. Walker, the O'Donnell chairman of the drive is John Ellis and citizens of O'Donnell have planned several fund raising events.

A. L. Holder is chairman in Wilson. The Rainbow Girls and the Boy Scouts have been helping on the drive in Tahoka and anyone else or any group that wishes to assist on this drive is urged to contact Mr. Walker.

Letters have been mailed to Lynn county citizens and coin collectors have been placed in business houses.

Contributions may be mailed to Clint Walker, Tahoka; John Ellis, O'Donnell; and A. L. Holder, Wilson.

MAKE INTERESTING TRIP TO THE WEST

Mrs. Dona Moore reports that she returned home Thursday of last week from a very interesting trip through the western states with her daughter, Mrs. O. F. Aycock, and children, David and Taylor.

They saw the mighty Boulder dam, Grand Canyon, the Painted Desert and the Petrified Forest, visited Mrs. Moore's oldest son, who is a carpenter in Las Vegas, Nev. and saw the sights in and around Los Angeles. The children enjoyed bathing in the Pacific Ocean. Their trip was one they will long remember, Mrs. Moore says.

Grayam George Operator of "Mystery Farm" No. 6

Last week's mystery farm house is owned by a Lynn county native, son of a pioneer cowboy, and was one of the first farms broken out in northwestern Lynn county.

Grayam George is the operator, and he and his mother, Mrs. E. G. George of Lubbock, are the owners of the fine section of land, much of which is irrigated, located two miles south of New Home on the Dixie pavement.

Mrs. Lewis Hudgens was the first Tahoka reader of The News to guess the farm correctly, and Gaylord Armontrout, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Armontrout, was the first rural reader.

Others identifying the picture were: Wanda Marlin, A. E. (Pete) Ware, Ramon Castro, "Dub" Lowery of Seminole, Buddy Chestnutt, T. R. Riddle, Frank Lisemby, Mrs. F. G. Roper, Joe Wayne Roper, Jackie Smith, Mrs. Lewis Allsup, Mrs. Dwight Corbell, Joe Draper, and Edwina Overstreet.

Grayam is the son of the late Elton G. George, who died October 3, 1936. His mother is Mrs. Callie George, now of Lubbock, also a pioneer of the county and a member of the Nevill family.

Elton George was born in Tennessee, came out to Quanah in the 1890s, and then came to Lynn county in 1898 to work for the old Nunn ranch. Later, he worked for "Uncle Cass" Edwards as a cowboy on the T-Bar.

While working on the T-Bar, Elton George filed on four sections of land on the north side of the T-Bar, and his wife and son still own one of these sections, which is Grayam's home place. Elton broke out the first 40 acres of the farm in 1906. For thirty-five years preceding his death, Elton George was one of Lynn county's most prominent stockmen and farmer-citizens.

Grayam is following in his dad's footsteps in many respects. He still raises some cattle—60 head at the present time. With four irrigation wells on the section, he has a pretty fair size farm operation. These wells include an 8-inch, two 6-inch, and one 5-inch wells, with which he irrigates about 285 acres. Grayam lost his wife a few weeks ago, she being the former Floy Ben King, who like her husband, was born and reared in Lynn county.

Then, there are two fine young boys, Gerry, age 16, and Elton, age 8.

Elton is a grade school student at New Home, while Gerry is a junior in high school there and plays football and basketball and carries on FFA projects.

Hostesses for the occasion were: Mmes. Billie Hancock, Virgle Haley, Duard Franklin, and Carlise Edwards.

The Edwards were unable to attend because of the misfortune their little son, Don Mack, suffered in breaking his leg on Saturday.

Others attending with their families included Messers and Mesdames Wilmer Smith, Joe D. Unfred, G. B. Mayfield, Earl George, Dub Thompson, G. B. Smith, Morris Renfro, Frank Lisemby, Sr., Robbie Gill and Loyd R. McCormick.

School Plant Is Ready For Term

Many minor improvements have been made in the Tahoka school plant during the summer.

The old Classrooms barracks building was sold to Farmers Co-op. gin and has been moved to doors and windows of the long the gin lot. The space occupied by the building is being cleaned up and will be sodded to grass next spring.

Nearly all the campus, fully 10 acres, has been sodded to Bermuda grass. This was made possible by the drilling of a five-inch irrigation well last spring on the campus of North Elementary school and the purchase of a sprinkler system. Plans are for further landscaping of the grounds this winter, with which Tahoka Garden Club is helping.

The Band Building has been improved with the addition of celotex to the ceilings and plywood to the walls in order to make the building warmer, to improve the acoustics and the warmth of the structure.

Floors of all three major buildings have been refinished. A new ticket booth is being built of concrete blocks at the north east of the football stadium. Other work has included leveling and cleaning up the campus.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayland Walton and daughter, Wayla Ann, moved Saturday from New Home to Morton, where he is associated with his brother, Gerold, formerly of Snyder, in the Higginbotham-Bartlett Lumber Co. Wayland has been bookkeeping for New Home gin the past two years.

Football Outlook Fair, New Home

New Home High School football boys will start practice August 23 with returning Coach Norman Windham.

Although the squad lost four regular starters who graduated last spring, the school is encouraged with the return of several other lettermen, and prospects are looking good for a winning team this season.

Returning ends are C. L. Rogers, Wayne Poer, Gerry George, and Wendell Morrow, who are all sophomore lettermen.

The backfield duties will be handled by Jimmie Kieth, Jimmy Brown, Jim Peek, Glenn Robinson, John Ford, Jimmy Dean, and Keneth (Curley) Smith.

In addition to the above list, several other boys are coming out who will give much reserve power to the team.

Big Premium Is Offered For First Bale Cotton In County

The first bale of cotton raised and ginned in Lynn county this year will probably draw the biggest premium in the history of the county, states, Geno Jones, secretary of the Tahoka Chamber of Commerce.

The premium will be at least $360.00 plus 40 cents per pound and possibly other benefits.

Heretofore, Tahoka has offered the premium for the first bale ginned in Tahoka.

On suggestion of several ginners and citizens of other county communities, this year the principal part of the premium is being ing offered by the ginners and the C. of C. acting as the sponsoring agent.

The first bale may be ginned at any gin, and raised in Lynn county. It must be a "normal" bale of cotton. The first ginned bale unloaded on the First National Bank of Tahoka corner will be the winner.

Later, possibly on the following Saturday, the bale will be sold at auction, and Tahoka C. of C. is guaranteed at least 40 cents per pound for lint, in addition to the other premiums.

The following gins are cooperating in the county-wide first bale premium, and others may be added to the list to further increase the premium, Mr. Jones says:

O'Donnell Paymaster, Tahoka Co-op, W. C. High, Farmers Co-op of Tahoka, West Point, O'Donnell Farmers' Co-op, Draw Paymaster (two gins), Rowland Gin of New Lynn, Grassland Co-op, Wells Co-op, Gordon, Thomas Bros. of Grassland, Wilson Farmers Co-op, Alex Sanders of Wayside, Sweetwater Cotton Oil Co., New Home Farmers Co-op, and Gatzki Gin of Wilson.

Statement Is Made By State Highway Commissioner On Governor Race

Marshall Formby of Plainview, member of the Texas Highway Commission, today expressed deep concern that Ralph Yarborough, candidate for Governor, is reported promising roads and bridges in parts of the Texas, in an effort to garner votes.

Formby is a Plainview attorney and owns interest in several West Texas Radio stations. He was appointed to the Commission by Governor Allan Shivers in February, 1953.

Formby said that Yarborough's recent promise to build a $5,000,000 highway and bridge in Galveston county and along the Gulf Coast, if he were elected Governor, is an example of political promises that would eventually harm the fine Highway department in Texas. His full statement follows:

"I am deeply disturbed when I hear of the dozens of promises that Mr. Yarborough is making to the people offering to build new roads and bridges in various parts of the state."

"For more than a quarter of a century the Highway Department has been completely free of political road and bridge building. The Texas Highway Department has built roads and bridges based strictly on merit and need."

"Texans everywhere take great pride in the Highway Department stressing the fact that there are no politics in it, and for the good of all Texas I sincerely hope that they can continue to have that pride."

"The present Commission has not spent one dime on a political road or bridge since I have been a member, and I know that the three members would never vote 15 cents to fulfill any political obligation."

"I have been a member of the Commission for 18 months and during this year and a half Governor Shivers has never once requested me to spend one dime on any particular road or bridge but has insisted to me that every expenditure be based strictly on need and merit as far as the money would go."

"To my mind, that is the only way a highway department can be run." Texans must see that this condition continues to prevail.

Good Neighbor Party To Visit Tahoka

Mayor E. R. Edwards announced this week that a group of officials from Ralls Chamber of Commerce, will visit Tahoka, Monday, Aug. 24, at 4:15 p. m. as a Good Neighbor project. City officials and Chamber of Commerce officials invite all citizens to be on hand to welcome this party. They will be in a group from Ralls Jaycees, advertising the third annual Junior Chamber of Commerce Rodeo, which will be held August 26-28.

BLACK CATS WILL MEET BRAY CHEVROLET BOYS

Tahoka Black Cats will play the Bray Chevrolet boys Sunday Aug. 22, at the ballpark two blocks east of the Rose Theatre. These two teams met earlier in the season, with the Chevrolet boys winning over the Cats.

Last week, the Black Cats were defeated by the Levelland Globe-trotters by a score of 10-9. The Black Cats hope to get back in the winning streak this week.

Visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tek Kewaski are his sister, Miss Jennie Kewaski, and her girl friend, Miss Girlie Damory of Everett, Mass. Early this week they enjoyed a trip to Carlsbad, N. M., El Paso, and a tour of Juarez, Old Mexico.

Warns Golfers On City Park Use

He suggests that those wishing to practice their golf shots at the City Park move over west of the line of trees—to that part of the park not yet improved.

One local golfer has suggested that if sufficient people are interested, a fund will be raised to clean up and mow the grass on the plot west of City Park.
