WATER FOR FLOYDADA — The water supply for City of Floydada will get a big boost soon as new wells and water line are tied in. Pictured above at right is Mayor S. W. Ross who was snapped while looking over the unloading of pipe for the big line. J. T. Brodie, Inc., of Amarillo has the contract for the new construction. Two wells will be added to those now in use by the city. The pipe in the foreground is 12 inch asbestos and will be used in building a line from the wells southwest of town to the city mains. The construction will not only add to the available water supply but will also be in maintaining steady pressure when the irrigation loads are heavy.

The interior is just as it was when it rolled from the assembly lines in '33. At present Turner is using the car to go to and from work but he says he plans to put her away in moth balls pretty soon and bring it out only on special occasions. So far he has had to replace the horn on the car and finally located a hub cap here to fit one of his spares, actually it doesn't fit too good, being for a standard model.

WASHINGTON NOTES

NO FEAR OF NEW CRISIS

The report was issued by the National Advisory Committee on Radiation, in which Surgeon General Luther L. Terry said, "In the light of the current United States series and the possibility of future Soviet testing, these levels must be watched with renewed attention."

Although the note was the strongest the Soviet Union has issued recently on Berlin, United States authorities said they saw no indication that the statement foreshadows a Kremlin effort to start the Berlin crisis boiling again.

SPECIAL ARMY FORCES

The Army is reinforcing its anti-guerrilla special forces with 1,300 civic action specialists to do "nation building" work in underdeveloped countries vulnerable to Communist subversion.

About 100 Asians are receiving training on Okinawa. These include South Vietnamese, whose country is under serious Communist guerrilla attack.

Details of the program were disclosed when the new 142-page brochure was issued by the Army.

NO CAUSE FOR ALARM

An advisory committee of scientists has voiced reassurance about possible health hazards from nuclear testing. But it also urged a sharply accelerated program to develop countermeasures against all types of radioactive contamination.

The report was issued by the National Advisory Committee on Radiation, in which Surgeon General Luther L. Terry said, "In the light of the current United States series and the possibility of future Soviet testing, these levels must be watched with renewed attention."

TO EUROPE

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower plans to visit Western Europe next month where he will speak in Stockholm, Sweden, to an international organization of teachers.

General Eisenhower will cross the Atlantic by ship accompanied by Mrs. Eisenhower. Beyond the scheduled speech in Stockholm the rest of their tour is tentative.

G.O.P. VERSUS DEBT LIMIT

In the next few weeks the Kennedy Administration faces difficulty in Congress, especially in the House.

Republicans see an opportunity to embarrass the Administration beginning with a routine bill to limit the national debt.

The Republicans argue that this lower limit would force the Administration to cut spending by $2,000,000,000 in the fiscal year starting July 1.

DEFENSE BILL APPROVED

The Senate approved unanimously the $30,500,000,000 defense bill which will be a record peace-time appropriation.

The bill returned to the House as a Senator sided with former President Eisenhower on import increases over what the House originally voted. The difference must be resolved before the bill

ON ONE-MAN RULE IN LAOS

The United States is working to head off a situation that would put pro-Communist Prince Souphanouvong in temporary control of the new coalition government of Laos late this month.

Since two other members of the three-man regime are scheduled to be out of the country, United States officials said that at the very least they considered it bad psychology to leave command in the hands of just one member of the ruling group at this budding stage of the coalition.

PANAMA TALKS SET

Representatives of the United States and Panama Canal Zone plan to begin discussion, at an early date, over differences over operation of the Panama Canal and the adjoining Canal Zone.

This was made public following talks between President Kennedy and President Roberto F. Chiari, of Panama. Both reported satisfaction with the talks and visit.

NEEDS G.O.P. SUPPORT

In a recent news conference President Kennedy has urged Republicans to ignore party labels and vote for his major proposals.

The President said that he needed G.O.P. votes on some issues and has challenged Republicans to adopt a nonpartisan stance on "matters of great national import."

He further reminded them that as a Senator he sided with former President Eisenhower on import increases over what the House originally voted. The difference must be resolved before the bill

FROM COUNTY AGENT'S OFFICE

By Cecil Lewis, County Agent

Management of Midland Bermuda Proper grazing of Midland Bermuda can depend on profit and loss. Allowing for a good rotation and fertilizer program can mean increased yields.

To produce 10 tons per acre of forage from Midland requires 400 pounds of actual nitrogen, 100 pounds of actual phosphorus and 300 pounds of potassium. We see that high rates of nitrogen are needed to produce large yields. The application of from 60 to 80 pounds of nitrogen each time it is grazed or cut for hay will produce maximum yields.

Midland Bermuda will require from 24 to 30 inches of irrigation water for maximum yields. This will mean from 6 to 9 irrigations during the growing season. Leaflets are available in the County Agents office for more information.

Beef Cattle All cattle feeders might be interested in a Beef Cattle feeding meeting to be held in Lubbock, Monday July 2, 1962. The meeting will be held in the Board Room of The Plains Co-op Oil Mill. The meeting will begin at 10:00 and end at 3:00 p. m.

Feedlot facilities, Cattle Feeding, and Midland Bermuda will be discussed. Contact the County Agents Office for more information.

takes northwest Floydada out of precinct two and puts it in precinct three.
 The portion of west Floydada north of the alley between California and Missouri Streets and south of the center of Virginia Street is moved from precinct two into precinct one.

Precinct two picked up some rural voters along the line between one and two when the line was moved 1/4 mile south for four miles just west of the north east corner of section 35 block G, and again on further west when the line was moved south 1/2 mile across block N.

Precinct four picked up some city voters when the line between one and four was changed. As in the past the line for precinct four leaves the court house and goes down the alley between Main and Wall Streets, but it leaves the old mark at the highway on Houston Street turning west down the center of Houston to a point one block west of Y courts then south down the road that joins the city dump ground on the east. One and one-fourth miles south of town the line turns back east and joins the old precinct line which remains unchanged from that point to the county line.

This moves the voters in south west Floydada that are south of Houston Street from precinct one to precinct four.

 These new lines it is believed will equalize voting strength in the county's four precincts much more evenly.
 On Monday night the commissioners court also opened bids for a maintainer and after looking them over recessed until Wednesday morning when they met again and awarded a contract to Tom W. Carpenter Equipment Co. of Amarillo. The contract was for an amount of $14,500.00 net to the county on exchange of an old road grader for a new Allis Chalmers 45 Motor Grader.

Commissioners

takes northwest Floydada out of precinct two and puts it in precinct three.

The portion of west Floydada north of the alley between California and Missouri Streets and south of the center of Virginia Street is moved from precinct two into precinct one.

Precinct two picked up some rural voters along the line between one and two when the line was moved 1/4 mile south for four miles just west of the north east corner of section 85 block G, and again on further west when the line was moved south 1/2 mile across block N.

Precinct four picked up some city voters when the line between one and four was changed. A in the past the line for precinct four leaves the court house and goes down the alley between Main and Wall Streets, but it leaves the old mark at the highway on Houston Street turning west down the center of Houston to a point one block west of Y courts then south down the road that joins the city dump ground on the east. One and one-fourth miles south of town the line turns back east and joins the old precinct line which remains unchanged from that point to the county line.

These new lines it is believed will equalize voting strength in the county's four precincts much more evenly.

On Monday night the commissioners court also opened bids for a maintainer and after looking them over recessed until Wednesday morning when they met again and awarded a contract to Tom W. Carpenter Equipment Co. of Amarillo. The contract was for an amount of $14,500.00 net to the county on exchange of an old road grader for a new Allis Chalmers 45 Motor Grader.

A&M Faculty and Staff Deeply Into Research

This is the first of a series of articles written by the faculty and staff of Texas A&M College of Oceanography and Meteorology. Some of the results in immediate research are being added to the knowledge and provided for further ventures in research.

L. Alsmeyer, Jr., STATION, Texas Texas A&M College

EXAMPLE: What are the detailed mechanics of a tornado or a hurricane? A better understanding will allow improved weather forecasting including more advance warning of destructive storms.

EXAMPLE: Learn everything possible about the Gulf of Mexico as a physical and chemical system. The importance of additional knowledge of this body of water and of oceans generally carries special value. The use of oceans as a disposal point for nuclear waste and other materials is but one reason why mankind has begun an urgent study of the oceans.

Information relayed from TIROS and other weather satellites circling the earth, a specially-equipped vessel for deep-sea voyages, and radar and radio equipment are some of the working tools of the A&M scientists in oceanography and meteorology.

The oceanographers are the ones who sail the seas, while the meteorologists busily study the secrets of weather. The A&M department is recognized as having one of the outstanding meteorological and oceanographic programs of instruction and research in the nation.

A number of the projects are financed directly by the federal government. The largest single grant was announced in March by the National Science Foundation.

Sea or sky, Texas A&M College scientists are probing deep into the research frontiers.

Wind Erosion On Irrigated Land Studied

College Station. — Wind erosion can be controlled on irrigated land by maintaining a crop cover during as much of the season as possible and by keeping the soil surface rough and cloddy between crops, points out a new U. S. Department of Agriculture publication.

"Wind Erosion Control on Irrigated Lands" (L-506) explains that conditions are favorable for soil blowing on many irrigated fields. Cultivation and preparation of land for irrigation often leave the soil pulverized and bare and winds in most irrigated areas are high enough to cause this soil to blow.

The publication, prepared by Stephen J. Mech, agricultural engineer of the USDA's Agricultural Research Service, outlines erosion control practices to use during preparation of new fields for irrigation and after the soil has been stabilized or "tied down."

On a new field, Mech says, the wind erosion hazards will be minimized by beginning land preparation in the summer. He advises planting a cover crop immediately after leveling and ditching to stabilize the bare and pulverized soil.

After this soil is stabilized, a cropping system that includes other erosion-preventing practices is recommended. Mech advises delaying spring plowing until just before planting, preparing a cloddy seedbed, seeding forages in stubble, and planting row crops on ridges.

Erosion-resistant strips of stubble or cover crop should be left in large fields of cultivated row crops, as these fields are particularly susceptible to wind erosion.

Single copies of "Wind Erosion Control on Irrigated Land" (L-506) are free from the Office of Information, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D.C.
