Missing Actress Found Monday

Suffering Injuries In Hospital At Monterey

(By The Associated Press)

MONTEREY, Calif., March. 2. (AP)—Miss Edna May Cooper, movie actress by profession and aviatrix by avocation, was located here today after she had been mysteriously missing a week from Hollywood.

Miss Cooper was in the Monterey hospital, under guard, recovering from head injuries. How she obtained the injuries mystified physicians and police.

It was learned Miss Cooper had been registered at a local hotel several days under the name of Caroline Hope of Los Angeles. She showed signs of illness yesterday and Dr. Hugh Dormody was called by hotel employes. He found she had an abrasion, "possibly a week old," on the back of her head and bruises and contusions on her body, especially on the right thigh.

Identified By Friend

Miss Cooper was removed at Dr. Dormody's orders to the Monterey hospital where she was identified by Mrs. Ruth Morris, as Miss Cooper. Mrs. Morris said she knew Miss Cooper a few years ago on the Lasky lot at Hollywood.

How Miss Cooper got here was as much a mystery as how she acquired the injuries. She had little to say but told authorities she thought she was in Santa Monica when she got here as she started for Santa Monica when she left Los Angeles.

Joseph Duckwell, Monterey taxicab driver, said he picked the young woman up while she was wandering aimlessly in Carmel, nearby art colony. Chief of Police Oyer, however, said Miss Cooper got off a Los Angeles-San Francisco train last Wednesday night and took a cab to the hotel from which she was removed to the hospital. She apparently was without funds when taken to the hospital.

Hotel employes said the actress telephoned to Joseph Martin, an oil man in Los Angeles last night. Mrs. Mary Cooper, Miss Cooper's mother, also talked by telephone with her daughter. What Miss Cooper and Martin said to each other could not be determined and Mrs. Cooper said she was unable to explain how her daughter got to Monterey.

Her injuries were not considered serious and Dr. Dormody said she could leave the hospital when she pleased.

Sues Griffith

Mrs. Fern Setril, 22, above, faces questioning by the Los Angeles district attorney's office regarding her suit against D. W. Griffith, veteran movie director, for $601,000 damages. She charges Griffith mistreated her.

Auto Show To Open Friday

Exhibition Will Continue At Uptown Dance Palace For Two Full Days And Nights; Late Models Here

Plans are being perfected for the annual Lubbock automobile show to be held next Friday and Saturday, at the Uptown Dance Palace, when the doors will be thrown open to approximately $30,000 worth of new automobiles, representing the latest efforts of six leading automomile manufacturers.

The exhibition will open at 9 o'clock Friday morning and will not close until Saturday night.

The Uptown dance palace is being especially decorated this week, the floor being divided and marked for the different exhibits.

Lubbock automobile dealers hope to make the 1931 show one of the best of the time. In comparison with other years the show may be smaller as for as the number of cars is concerned, but it is optimistically expected that the demonstration of the advances made in automobile engineering during the last year will more than bring the exhibition to a successful close.

Lubbock companies to be represented in the show and their models are: Kuykendall Chevrolet company, Ratliff-Rogers Buick company, Scoggin-Dickey Oakland and Pontiac, Hub Jones Chrysler company, Lubbock Auto company, Fords and Lincolns, and Royalty Motor company, distributors of Dodge and Plymouth products.

Dollar Day Is Extended Today

Because of the almost impassable condition of streets and roads and the disagreeable weather following the heavy snow, Lubbock merchants Monday morning decided to continue Dollar Day values through Monday and Tuesday.

Dollar Day specials, advertised in Sunday's Avalanche-Journal to apply only on purchases made Monday, will all be applicable through today, the merchants have announced.

House Works On As Senate Takes Holiday

Discussion Of Bill To Force Road Contractors To Guarantee Minimum Wage 30 Cents Opens Session

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, March 2.—The house worked today almost the same as if it were not Texas Independence day. Every roll call showed a bare quorum or a few members over. The senate meanwhile took a holiday.

The fact the declaration of Texas Independence was signed exactly 95 years ago was not overlooked. Representative McGregor of Austin responded to an invitation to make a patriotic address and when the house adjourned at noon, it did so in memory of the birth of the republic of Texas.

Action Postponed

The house began discussion of a bill by Representative Burns of Huntsville and others authorizing the highway commission to force road contractors to guarantee a minimum wage of 30 cents an hour. Representative Farmer of Fort Worth proposed the figure be changed to 50 cents and action on both the amendment and the bill was postponed until tomorrow.

Two proposed constitutional amendments were offered. One by Farmer, would permit the people to enact new laws and to bring about the submission of a proposed constitutional amendment. The other, by Representative Richardson of Grand Saline, would exempt farm lands from taxation, but would impose in lieu thereof a levy of 20 cents a hundred pounds on lint cotton.

With only three opposing votes, the house passed a bill by McGregor allowing game to be stored 30 days after the close of the season instead of 10 days as at present. At the request of officials and employees of the game department who were charged with violating the present law the bill was amended so as not to apply to charges now pending. Four members of the game department and an Austin cold storage plant manager were charged with violating the law in connection with a dinner tendered the legislature by the game, fish and oyster commission late in January.

Investigation Of Prices On Foods Recommended In Senate

WASHINGTON, Mar. 2. (AP)—Investigations by the federal trade commission and the justice department, of "Tendencies toward monopolistic control of the nation's food supply" were recommended to the senate today by its food price investigating committee.

Reporting on its inquiry into the prices of bread, meat, sugar, milk and other foods, the committee headed by Senator Capper, Republican, Kansas, said it had found "an alarming tendency toward the monopolistic control of the food of the nation by a small group of powerful corporations and combinations."

Secretary Hyde Notifies Congress That Agricultural Department Ready To Loan $20,000,000 Fund

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 2.—A resolution to permit drouth-stricken farmers without security to obtain part of the $45,000,000 fund voted by congress was adopted today by the senate.

A little later it was notified by Secretary Hyde the agriculture department was ready to begin loans on the $20,000,000 supplemental fund.

Approve Resolution

Virtually without debate the senate approved and sent to the house a resolution by Senator Caraway, Democrat, Arkansas, to authorize $5,000,000 of the original $45,000,000 fund for loans to farmers who have no security to offer.

The information from Secretary Hyde was demanded by the senate last week in a resolution by Caraway asking him to explain the delay in making the loans.

As the senate broadened the scope of the drouth relief program, Senator Wheeler, Democrat, Montana, urged adoption of his program for a $100,000,000 fund for relief of the unemployed.

Little Hope Seen

He has introduced a resolution proposing to place such a fund at the disposal of the president. Senate leaders indicated, however, there was little chance of its consideration in view of the short time before adjournment.

Caraway, urging the senate to make the loans available to those without security, said many men of

Weinert Bill Drawing Fire

Weatherford Minister Charges That Proponents Of Measure Voted Against Prohibition; Weinert Replies

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, March 2. (AP)—After lively discussion, the house today voted 78 to 28 to engross a bill by Representative Weinert of Seguin to broaden the suspended sentence law to apply to liquor law violators over 25 years old.

Weinert pointed out the law already applied to liquor law violators under that age and to infractors of all other laws. No attempt was made today to pass the bill finally.

The bill drew the fire of B. J. Forbes, minister-member from Weatherford. "It is just another of those bills intended to loosen up the liquor laws," Forbes shouted. He charged the men who sponsored the bill had voted against prohibition.

Weinert admitted he was an anti-prohibitionist but stated his views on prohibition had nothing to do with his sentiments on the bill. Speaking of Forbes, Weinert said: "The milk of human kindness evidently has frozen in his breast; it still exists in mine." Weinert also admitted he saw no hope of a change from prohibition at the present.

Compromise On Summer School Bill Approved

House And Senate Break Deadlock With Recommendation Of $254,000 For Summer Schools Of The State

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Mar. 2 (AP)—The house and senate free conference committee late today broke their deadlock and compromised with a recommendation that $254,000 be appropriated for the 1931 summer schools.

Of the amount which the committees agreed to add to the house proposed appropriation of $250,000, $2,000 would be added for the North Texas Junior Agricultural college at Arlington, and $2,000 for the Sul Ross Teachers college of Alpine.

The final figure agreed on by the committee constitutes a drop of $168,700 under the amount asked in a senate bill.

The committees started their deliberations last week. The house committee rejected successive proposals from the senate committee that first $293,175 and then $256,500 be appropriated for summer schools.

The compromise summer school appropriation approved by the house and senate free conference committee yesterday would authorize $21,000 for Texas Technological college as compared to the $35,000 asked for the summer term here.

Another Naval Parley Looming As Tripartite Agreement Seen

PARIS, March. 2. (AP)—With a tripartite naval agreement reached among France, Great Britain and Italy, and approved today by the French cabinet, the new development tonight appeared to be that another five-power parley now may be necessary.

Although it is admitted that the modifications to existing naval treaties caused by yesterday's three-power accord do not affect directly the vital interest of the United States and Japan—the other powers which attended the London naval conference last spring—The Associated Press was informed tonight of the likelihood of the five-power meeting.

Only Local Men Having Families Will Be Given Jobs In The Campaign; Single Men Not Considered

MORE than 130 men had registered at the United Charities headquarters at the labor temple by 5 o'clock Monday afternoon, and it was expected that many more jobless men would report for work Tuesday morning in the lot cleaning campaign.

Work of cleaning up lots will not get under way until Wednesday morning, according to John Dalrymple, chairman of the employment committee of the clean up campaign.

Tuesday was to have been the deadline for the cleanup in the 21 districts that the city has been divided, but the unexpected weather has forced the committee to postpone the starting date until Wednesday.

"Only men having families to support will be given jobs in this cleanup campaign," said Mr. Dalrymple. "Single men, and men who do not have to support families need not apply."

Mayor Approves Work

Mayor J. J. Clements Monday morning issued a proclamation approving the lot cleaning campaign, which he said "will promote better sanitation conditions, better health conditions and a more attractive city, in addition to furnishing employment."

A meeting of district foremen was held at 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon at chamber of commerce offices. Districts were assigned, foremen were told what their duties would be, and the program was discussed. Foremen of all except three dis-

Roads Throughout South Plains Area Reported Heavy; Think All Routes Will Be Opened Early Tuesday

Snow, melting under the influence of a spring sun Monday afternoon, flooded fields and turned unpaved highways into a sodden mass.

A tie up in traffic resulted in certain localities, though in most of the country, roads were passable. A tieup was reported on highway No. 7 near Shallowater. A similar condition was reported by the county judge at Levelland on state highway 24 between Lubbock and Levelland.

The Pioneer Motor Lines reported very little snow between Roswell and Brownfield. What snow there had been on the road from Saturday's snowstorm had been blown off before it had had a chance to drift.

The greatest trouble experienced on surrounding highways, according to Ed Eoff, one of the bus drivers, was a two mile stretch of road west of Lubbock. Here, with many heavy drifts and much traffic, there was a serious tieup in traffic for some time.

It was expected Monday night

Victim Of Racketeer's Vengeance

The mysterious murder of pretty Vivian Gordon, has added a new melodramatic complication to New York's vice investigation. The former actress and fashion model, whose body was found at the foot of a steep embankment, had previously threatened to reveal to authorities a "frame-up by police officers and others." A search was instituted for the driver of a taxi into which Miss Gordon was believed to have been lured when her unknown slayer strangled her to death with a clothesline.

Youth Will Testify In Effort To Dodge Chair

State Completes Its Testimony Asking For Death

(By The Associated Press)

VALPARAISO, Ind., March 2.—The state today completed the introduction of evidence which its prosecutors believe will send young Virgil Kirkland, Gary youth, to the electric chair for the death of 18-year old Arlene Draves.

Tomorrow the defense will begin its case, expected to be built largely around the 20-year old steel mill worker's testimony in his own behalf. John Crumpacker, Kirkland counsel, said the youth will take the stand, possibly tomorrow.

Miss Draves died after a party in the home of David Thompson, 22, a city fireman. Thompson, Kirkland, Leon Stanford, Henry Shirk and Paul Barton were accused of attacking the girl and causing her death.

Fight State Claim

Fighting persistently against the state claim the girl was slugged by Kirkland and, while she was unconscious, assaulted by him, the defense counsel entangled Dr. G. H. Stoner, of Valparaiso, in a hypothetical question intended to show that Miss Draves might have died from a head hemorrhage, suffered by accident.

With Elsie Draves, 24, sister of Arlene, on the stand, the state again exhibited the young woman's crumpled and torn party garments. Elsie, a country school teacher, identified them, telling how the two girls dressed together the night of Arlene's date with Virgil.

Dr. Stoner agreed with Dr. James C. Burcham, coroner's phy-

Texas Observes 95th Birthday Of Independence

(By The Associated Press)

HOUSTON, March 2 — "We, therefore, the delegates, . . . do hereby resolve and declare that our politocal connection with the Mexican nation has forever ended . . ."

Ninety-five years ago today, stern men, "In convention assembled" in an humble hut at Old Washington, on the Brazos river, affixed their signatures to a document so reading and a republic, later to become the state of Texas, was born.

Today, on the decorated mezzanine of a fashionable Houston hotel, a group of men and women, sons and daughters of the Republic of Texas, gathered to hear the declaration of independence read again and to hear their orators tell of the early and lusty days.

The Rev. J. H. H. Ellis read the declaration, a solemn manifesto drawing up a bill against the Mexican government and declaring Texas divorced from it forever.

The Texas flag, a single white star in a field of blue, and the flag of the United States were draped about a copy of the document.

The inclement yeather prevented the attendance of Col. A. J. Houston, grandson of General Sam Houston, head of the Texas army and first president of the republic.

Meanwhile, former students of the University of Texas met tonight, in banquet halls at various points over the country, in celebration of the anniversary.

Thirteen State Officers In Series Of Raids On Domino Parlors, Speakeasies And Cafes In East Texas Town

Raiders Ride Into City On Horseback; Action Taken In Effort To Break Up Gang Of Criminals In Oil Field

(By The Associated Press)

KILGORE, March 2.—Three hundred persons were arrested in this new oil boom town of East Texas today in a series of raids by thirteen state rangers and officers led by Ranger Captain Tom Hickman and Detective Captain L. M. Pack of Dallas.

Domino parlors, cafes and speakeasies, which had sprung up with the influx of thousands of persons after oil had been discovered in the vicinity, were among the places raided.

Lodged In Church

The prisoners were lodged temporarily in a church several blocks from the business district and in some unoccupied buildings. The police patrol wagon from the nearby town of Longview shuttled back and forth rapidly between the scenes of the raids and the impromptu jails.

Cold and rainy weather made the day ideal for the raids, since it drove many unemployed men and women indoors. After examination by rangers, workmen were released. Capt. Hickman said two convicts were among those arrested.

Officers stated the raids were made to rid the town of undesirables and to break up a criminal gang believed operating in Kilgore.

Sweep Into Town

Gathered from points as far distant as the Mexican border, the rangers met in Gladewater, near Kilgore, and early in the afternoon swept into town.

Speakeasies, domino parlors and similar places of amusement were the first places visited, and only men arrested immediately. Raids of rooming houses and tents and shacks began as night fell.

Capt. Pack and three other Dallas detectives worked with the rangers, checking up on the identity of per-

Demo Leaders Are Ready For Start

WASHINGTON, March 2. (AP) — Harmony movements were definitely under way tonight for the Democratic national committee meeting Thursday as the party leaders began assembling here.

While considerable apprehension continued among the democratic chieftains in congress over a prohibition flare up, others privately expressed the view that the proposals to commit the committee to an anti-prohibition stand would- not be pressed.

Significance was attached to the statement today at Raleigh, N. C., by Alfred E. Smith, democratic presidential nominee of 1928, that the national committee is without power to do anything on political issues. Smith conferred over the week-end with Chairman Raskob.

Tears Interrupt "Bridge Game" Murder Trial As Mother Of Defendant Testifies On Stand Monday

(By The Associated Press)

KANSAS CITY, March 2.—Tears interrupted the trial of Mrs. Myrtle A. Bennett for the alleged "bridge game" murder of her husband today.

They came when Mrs. Alice Adkins, 67, mother of Mrs. Bennett was called to the stand.

Visibly affected by the ordeal to which her mother was to be subjected, Mrs. Bennett tried to restrain herself. Her sobs became audible when James A. Reed, her chief counsel, asked the witness her name. She was crying without restraint when the mother answered.

Tears welled to the eyes of the former United States senator when, after vainly attempting to start another question several times, he appealed to the court for a recess.

Mrs. Adkins, who sat quietly but watching her daughter with concern while friends quieted her tears, presently was able to continue testimony in which she helped develop the theory of the defense that the shooting of Bennett was accidental.

She said she awoke in her bedroom the night of the trouble when the light was turned on and saw her daughter rummaging in the drawer in which Mr. Bennett's pistol was left for Mrs. Adkins protection when he was not traveling.

"What are you doing?" she asked.

"Jack wants his gun. He is going to St. Joseph," her daughter replied, according to her testimony.

"Did she seem to be worried about something?" the attorney asked.

"Yes, she did appear troubled," replied Mrs. Adkins.

Pistol shots rang out a moment later, the witness said, and she ran into the living room where her son-in-law was staggering near a doorway and her daughter was "paralyzed by fear." Both women rushed to the wounded man as he slumped to a chair, she said.

"Oh, Jack, I couldn't help it," Mrs. Adkins quoted her daughter as saying.

High Court To Review Ruling

Hoover's Oil Conservation Policy Closing Public Oil And Gas Land To Prospecting To Be Taken Up

WASHINGTON, March 2. (AP)—President Hoover's oil conservation policy closing public oil and gas lands to prospecting, will be reviewed by the supreme court.

Four cases assailing the policy, supported by New Mexico, Montana, Wyoming, Utah and Colorado, will be considered on their merits by the highest court.

The oil policy was made effective under an order by Secretary Wilbur in March, 1929.

Ethel M. McLennan, had a permit to prospect near Sacramento, Calif., and H. H. Simpson and W. P. Pyron also desired to prospect for oil in that state. Roy G. Barton wanted to search for oil in New Mexico.

All contended that the president had set aside an act of congress, and Secretary Wilbur's order was attacked on the ground that the president had issued no formal proclamation.

The five states complained that the effect of the closing of public lands to oil prospecting would materially lower their revenues, by depriving them of a fruitful source of taxation.

The District of Columbia supreme court, where approximately 200 other similar cases are pending, decided in favor of the prospectors, but the court of appeals reversed that action and sustained the order.

Many Tourists Are Visiting Carlsbad

Accurately showing the popularity of the Carlsbad Caverns as a resort of tourists and seekers of natural phenomena, the February report of the famous national park totals 2,108 persons as having visited the caverns during last month.

Only when one realizes that but 95 persons visited Carlsbad during February, 1924, the year that it became a national park, it may be understood how the fame of the caverns has spread.

During the month of February, New Mexico had 430 of its citizens to visit the cave, Texas had 394, California 164, Oklahoma 162, and so on to North Carolina and Florida one.

As for the representation of foreign countries: Canada two, South Africa two, England one, Denmark, two, and Mexico one.

J. I. Kilpatrick, Class Of '16, Named Head Texas Exes Monday Banquet

Celebrating Texas Independence Day in their traditional manner, Texas Exes and "annexes" held their annual banquet in the Matador ballroom of the Hilton hotel last night. Seventy-four persons were present at the affair.

Preceding the evening meal and the program which carried out "Texas Under Six Flags" theme, a reception was held on the mezzaine floor where old friends renewed acquaintances and made new ones. Several out of town people were present.

J. I. Kilpatrick of the law class of 1916 was elected president of the Lubbock association in the annual election succeeding Mrs. William Dingus who presided over the night's program. Dorris Baugh, '30, was named secretary; William H. Evans, vice president and C. W. Ratcliff, Alcalde reporter.

The program was opened by the singing of "The Eyes of Texas" to be followed by invocation by Dr. A. W. Evans.

Earhart Honor Guest

E. P. Earhart, Sr., Lubbock pioneer was introduced as a "native Texan" and the distinguished guest of the evening. He was born in the Republic of Texas in 1845 and has seen it under three flags.

Following introductory remarks by Mrs. Dingus, a letter of greetings to all Texas Exes was read by R. A. Mills. A short talk was made by Prof. C. B. Qualia on the work of the graduate school and while Jas. H. Goodman gave a humorous talk on pee wee golf as a much needed addition to the university course.

Interspersing the program were yells and songs. William H. Evans led the yells while Edgar Shelton had charge of the songs. Mrs. R. A. Mills accompanied on the piano.

Dr. Paul W. Horn, in closing the program, paid a tribute to the late Will C. Hogg and told of his continual efforts to advance Texas in the field of education. He also paid special tribute to Dr. William Sutton. The entire group stood for a moment's silence in tribute to Mr. Hogg.

Upstairs alone while others danced...was the reason 'B.O.'?

(Body Odor)

"MY HEAD ACHES," she said. "I don't feel like dancing." But the pitying look on the other girl's face told her everyone knew the real trouble. No partners!

Everyone suspected the reason, too. But they hesitated to tell her. It wasn't until some days later that one of the girls finally dropped a tactful hint about "B.O" (the polite name for body odor) and suggested a simple safeguard.... Now she enjoys every minute of a party—has every dance taken. "B.O." once ended—loneliness vanished, too!

We get no warning!

That's what makes "B.O." doubly dangerous. We don't know when we offend, because we quickly get used to an ever-present odor. But pores give off a quart of odor-causing waste daily. Don't take chances—don't risk unpopularity.

Adopt Lifebuoy as your toilet soap—say good-bye to "B.O." worries. Lifebuoy gives an abundance of rich creamy lather, even in hard or cold water. This searching antiseptic lather penetrates pores—removes all odor. Its pleasant, extra-clean scent—that vanishes as you rinse—tells you Lifebuoy purifies.

New complexion beauty

Thousands of happy women are rejoicing over the radiant new complexion beauty Lifebuoy "facials" have brought. So simple, too. Just work the bland, creamy lather well into the pores. It gently loosens and dissolves clogged impurities—tones and stimulates dull skins to fresh, healthy radiance. Adopt Lifebuoy today.

House Orders Investigation

Hawley Resolution Calling For Thorough Probe Of Oil, Lumber And Other Industries Is Passed Monday

WASHINGTON, March 2. (AP) — The house passed the Hawley resolution today calling for a board investigation of oil, lumber, manganese, asbestos and agricultural industries by its ways and means committee.

The proposal goes to the senate where a two hour filibuster by Senator Thomas, Democrat, Oklahoma, secured a place on the calendar of business for the Nye resolution directing an inquiry into the oil business by a select senate committee.

Approval Blocked

An objection blocked house approval of the Garber resoltuion ordering the tariff commission to investigate relative costs of oil between the United States and countries from which 2,000,000 barrels or more have been imported during the past two years.

The ways and means committee had unanimously approved both the Hawley and Garber proposals.

Democratic Leader Garner supported Hawley's measure as "Advisable if carried out in good faith." He said Secretary Mellon and John D. Rockfeller, Jr., should be the first witnesses on oil.

"This ought to be entitled a resolution to save the face of the speaker and the Republican organization," Garber said. "It's purpose is the protection of the Republican party in this house."

Events Reviewed

Garner reviewed recent events in the oil fight including Speaker Longworth's special call on ways and means committee Republicans to reopen the oil case after it had been shelved and the bolt from the Republican caucus of five Kansas regulars.

No further investigation is needed to show the justice of an oil tariff, he said, "for the independents made the case so strong that 9 out of 10 so-called free trade Democrats on the committee voted for a duty. Every Republican knows the case is made."

Garner said New England Republicans protesting against Longworth's action in reopening the oil case told him "we too have some votes" on house organization.

"Six years ago," he said of Longworth, "he was a monarch shaking his mane to the world; now, looking over the slim margin he has to support his crown he is like a four-months old puppy."

Resent Application

Representative Hoch, Republican, Kansas, who led four of his colleagues in refusing to attend the house party caucus, said "we resent the sectional application of the policy of protection that we have supported."

"I don't want the impression to go out to the country that the Democratic party is a high protection party," contended Representative O'Connor, Democrat, New York, after Garner's speech.

"Some of us still oppose a high protective tariff and will oppose this resolution as a forerunner of a high duty on oil that will insure to the benefit of the large companies."

Meantime, the Senate agriculture committee approved a resolution by Senator Wheeler, Democrat, Montana, calling for a full inquiry into agricultural conditions.

Nearly 180,000,000 acres of the public domain of the United States, exclusive of Alaska, remain unappropriated and unreserved.

Government In Peru Effected

Luis Sanchez Cerro Is Out As Provisional President And Ricardo Elias Named Head Of New Junta

LIMA, Peru, March 2. (AP)—Luis M. Sanchez Cerro is out as provisional president of Peru and Ricardo Leonico Elias, lately cheif justice of the supreme court, is in at the head of a new junta government, but the rebels who hold the southern city of Arequipa have not yet been brought into the fold.

The Arequipa forces are ready to treat with the executive, however, and President Elias has sent emissaries into the south to talk with them.

Col. Ruiz Bravo, who approved the expeditionary force which started south last week to crush the Arequipa rebels, is the army's representative in the New York government and 'Southern Junta" cannot forgive hi mfor his intentions of a week ago.

The party in the south informed the new provisional president this afternoon they would not recognize his government and bravo's presence was assumed to be the reason for their stand. Six representatives of the new government started for Arequipa by airplane after the ultimatum was delivered to arrange a common ground for agreement.

Lima itself took things calmly. Stores were open, soldiers were out of the streets for the first time in a week and Sanchez Cerro was in his hotel, after having issued a statement to the effect that in the past two weeks of trouble his course had been guided by what he conceived to be the nation's best interests.

Texas Farmers Receive More Than 1,000 Relief Checks

FORT WORTH, March 2. (AP)—Federal seed loan checks have been mailed to more than 1,000 Texas farmers from the St. Louis office of the farmers federal seed loan fund, it was estimated here today by Fred Moise, Washington, who arrived from St. Louis.

Moise is an attorney and will pass on the legal phases of loans made to Texas farmers through the seed loan office being established here.

Bond Issue Looms For Terry County

Following announcement that a bond issue had been voted in Gaines county last week for $250,000, for paving of highway No. 137 through that county, information was received in Lubbock Monday that Terry county will call a similar election within the near future. The information was received by J. H. Hankins, chairman of the highway committee of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Hankins stated yesterday that, according to information he had received, the Terry county issue would approximate $700,000 for paving of highway No. 137 north and south and for paving or highway No. 84 east and west. Definite date has not been decided for the election.

"If the Terry county issue is successful, Highway No. 137 will connect as a paved link with the Broadway of America at Odessa and will offer an outlet to the oil fields of that section," Mr. Hankins said.

CONTINUE EXPERIMENTS

PLAINVIEW, March 2. (Staff Special)—Experiments in flax culture will be continued by the Texas Land and Development company on its experimental farm, W. Fred Lowe, one of the superintendents of the company, announces.

Records of last year's experiment will be available for the work. The season was much more unfavorable than in previous years. Whether the acreage this year will be as large as in 1930 has not been determined, Mr. Lowe stated.

Funeral Service Held For Mrs. Mollie Farmer Monday

Last rites for Mrs. Mollie Farmer, 60, were conducted at the Rix-Sanders funeral home at 3:30 Monday afternoon by Elder John T. Smith, of the Church of Christ.

Mrs. Farmer died last Friday night at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John Schalte, 2110 Twentieth street. She is survived by her husband, Mr. Bill Farmer, two daughters and one son besides Mrs. Schalte.

Pallbearers were: T. A. Rhodes, J. C. McCalley, Tom Tritle, Marvin Collier, J. G. Oslen and Chester Spurlock.

Oil production in Illinois dropped to 5,296,000 barrels during the first 11 months of 1930, a drop of more than 500,000 barrels from the same period in 1929.

Attendance At Missionary Society Meetings Here Monday Is Small

The Woman's Angle

BY BLANCHE E. BEAN
Avalanche Woman's Editor

SOME women do follow reducing programs. I've found that much out during the last few days.

Last week in a moment of skepticism, I said that I had no faith in women and their efforts to reduce and that I'd like to see one some day who did reduce and then maintained her new weight. There are such people. My telephone began ringing by the time I got to work on that morning and it has been ringing at intervals since.

One of the readers who called said that she formerly weighed as much as 175 and that her excess flesh ruined her girlhood days because people said such unkind things to her. In desperation, she tried everything on the market for reducing—tablets, baths, exercises, medicines and even drugs—and she continued to gain instead of lose. Finally, she tried a strict reducing diet and lost weight. Since then, for eight years, she has been watching her diet and she has been able to control her weight.

"Exercising alone won't reduce," she said. "I tried that and gained five pounds in one week because I was so hungry that I ate more than usual."

This was from one of the most prominent women in Lubbock. She asked that her name should be excluded if I commented on this but said she would be glad for me to give it to anyone who was having a hard time losing weight, if she could help any.

Another call was from a nurse up at the sanitarium who said she just wanted me to know that women do reduce. The way to do it is to watch what you eat, she asserted.

These two and some more may reduce by following diets strictly over a period of years, but I still think they are exceptions. My faith in the ability of women to cling to a program has been strengthened. I'm not quite the old skeptic that I formerly was, but I do believe that the one who reduces and stays that way is an exceptional sort of woman.

Not that it matters. If one is happier that way, why worry over it?

You have no idea how terrible you feel when you try to reduce, one woman told me. "One gets hungry—so hungry that a mouldy piece of bread looks good—and that causes irritability and unhappiness. Reducing is a terrible thing to go through because it affects one mentally as well as physically," she explained, saying that a lot of people are happier to remain over-weight than to try to lose and that it is a foolish thing for people to attempt unless they are in earnest and willing to make sacrifices.

SOMEWHERE I got this hint: When reheating left-over vegetables, add a teaspoon of sugar along with salt and pepper. It blends and restores flavor.

CITY BEAUTIFICATION

PERHAPS we've heard more about it this spring than during any previous year, but there seems to be an unusual amount of interest in yard and city beautification.

Of course, flowers and shrubs came out earlier this spring than they do some years and the balmy weather of February was an incentive to gardening among those who are inclined that way, but at that, there seems to be a lot of interest.

The City Federation devoted most of the program last Friday to discussion of beautification. The club women endorsed a movement to beautify the highway between Lubbock and Slaton by planting trees along that road and one hundred trees have already been donated. This would be an element in beautification that would give immeasurable pleasure to the people living here and it would be a memorable spot to those who pass across the Plains.

Whether or not the plan is feasible, I do not know. Usually, trees that are planted here need considerable care and water until they have been in the ground for several years, and it might not be possible to water them sufficiently, if the years after they were planted happened to be dry ones.

However, if the plan could be carried out by the club women of the town and county, it would be a worthwhile project.

The Federation has another plan for consideration now that will give club women another opportunity to do something worthwhile in the way of city beautification. Through Mrs. Fred Stubbs, the City Park board has presented four plans to the Federation for erecting a memorial in a Lubbock park. One of these is a rose garden, another is a Spanish wellhead, another is a picnic shelter with seats and the fourth is seats to go near a fountain in the McCrummen Park.

A wellhead is a sort of shelter such as is built over wells and the Spanish name for it is Brocal. I called Mrs. Stubbs for that because my ideas about wellheads were decidedly limited.

The Federation had offered some help to the city in beautifying the parks and it was out of this offer that the suggestions from the board grew. Any of them is good and will help in beautifying the parks which the city is improving now.

ROASTING CONTROL IS FLAVOR SECRET OF RARE COFFEE

Scientific Control Gives Hills Bros. Coffee the Flavor of Flavors

Invariably foods cooked in small quantities taste the best. The cook is able to control every step—perfectly—mixing, flavoring and cooking.

The principle of Hills Bros.' patented, continuous roasting process is based on the same idea. Instead of roasting their exclusive blend of coffee in bulk, measured quantities of about three pounds pass continuously through the roasters. The heat and speed of operation are accurately controlled with the result that Hills Bros. Coffee is absolutely uniform.

No other coffee can have the same delicious, uniform flavor of Hills Bros. Coffee because no other coffee is roasted the same way. This process—Controlled Roasting—was originated and patented by Hills Bros.

The vacuum can in which Hills Bros. Coffee is packed keeps it fresh always. By the vacuum packing process, air, which destroys the flavor of coffee, is taken out of the can and kept out. Ordinary cans, even if air-tight, will not keep coffee fresh. Grocers everywhere sell Hills Bros. Coffee. Ask for it by name and look for the Arab—the trade-mark—on the can.

Postpone Meetings Because Of Weather Here Yesterday

No Plans Are Made For The Meetings Which Were Not Conducted Monday; Some Societies Meet

Although attendance at meetings of church women's societies was short Monday afternoon because of the inclement weather, several of the programs were carried out as they had been planned.

A regular study Bible lesson was held for women in the First Presbyterian church by Mrs. C. J. Wagner during the afternoon. The attendance was smaller than usual, but the regular lesson was conducted. This program was at the church.

With Mrs. George McCarty conducting the devotional on "Perfect Love" preceding the regular program, members of the First Christian Women's Missionary society met with Mrs. R. L. Howell at 1616 Main street.

Three On Program

Mrs. Charles Files, Mrs. J. W. Kolb and Mrs. R. J. Keller had parts in the program on India.

Others who attended were Mesdames Walter P. Jennings, D. N. Leaverton, Fred Childress, Leo Edwards, R. D. Allen, D. W. Robertson and J. E. Hartley.

A business meeting of the First Methodist Mary Helm society, scheduled for Monday afternoon, was postponed until the fourth Monday of March, it was announced early in the afternoon.

The Asbury Methodist W. M. S. business meeting was not conducted and it is probable that the society will follow a regular schedule during the remainder of March with no other business meeting until April, it was announced late in the day.

Six At Meeting

Six members of Circle 7 in the First Methodist Women's Missionary society met with Mrs. R. B. Smith, 1910 Dixie Drive for a regular lesson in the study book. Mrs. O. R. Copeland conducted the lesson.

Mrs. B. F. Hodges conducted the study for members of Circle 2 in the First Methodist W. M. S. in a meeting with Mrs. Reeves Catt at 1622 Avenue X.

With the exception of these two meetings, the ones with Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Catt, no other meetings were held in that society. Circles were scheduled to meet with Mesdames J. C. Reynolds, Harry Hall, W. W. Royalty, G. B. Walden, J. F. Hawthorne and Erle Thompson. All of these were postponed because of the weather.

Mrs. Mary W. Doak conducted a lesson on another chapter in the book, "India Looks to Her Future", Monday afternoon when members of St. Paul's Episcopal Auxiliary met in her home at 2421 Broadway. There were 12 members at the meeting.

Mrs. H. W. Wylie Entertains In Honor Of Her Son, Bobby

Bobby Dean Wylie was honored with a surprise party Saturday afternoon when his mother, Mrs. H. W. Wylie, 2421 22nd street, was hostess to several of his little friends. The occasion marked the boy's seventh birthday.

Interesting games were diversions for the afternoon and the refreshments, featuring the birthday cake, were served in the dining room. Favors were given to the guests and the birthday gifts were presented to the honor guests by Betty Oakley.

Mrs. Wylie was assisted by Mrs. F. L. Grissom and Mrs. Hugh Slagle in entertaining. Guests included Tommy White, Harold Grissom, Horace Hawkins, jr., Harris Milton Hunt, Jimmy Dick Mullins, Billy Wright, Jimmy Noble, A. B. Sansom, Tom Sherman, J. V. Selman, Jack and Don Slagle, Wallace Wood, Norman Tomlinson and Betty Oakley.

More than 22,000 square miles were topographically surveyed the last fiscal year by the geological survey.

Today's Events

The Junior Twentieth Century club meets in the Tech home economics building at 3 o'clock.

Mrs. Guion Gregg is to entertain members of the Idle Hour club in her home at 1901 10th street at 3 o'clock.

Members of the New Era study club are to meet with Mrs. Joe Telford 1815 23rd street, at 3 o'clock.

The City Parent-Teacher council is to meet in the girls' study hall of Lubbock high school at 3:45 o'clock.

A meeting of the Camp Fire Executive board has been announced for 7:30 o'clock in the Camp Fire office at 2009 Broadway.

Mrs. A. B. Conley, 1611 Main street, is to be hostess to members of the Tuesday Bridge club in her home at 3 o'clock.

The B. Y. P. U.'s of the First Baptist church are to meet at the church at 7:30 o'clock for a business session.

Daleth Delphian members will meet at 2:30 o'clock on the mezzanine floor of the Hilton hotel.

Members of the Order of the Eastern Star will meet at the Masonic hall at 7:30 o'clock. Visiting members of the chapter are invited to attend.

An art exhibit sponsored by the Texas Fine Arts association and brought here under the auspices of the Junior Twentieth Century club will be shown at the Hilton hotel.

Local Woman On Committee

Mrs. C. M. Ballenger Named Local Chairman Of First Annual Purchase Prize In T. F. W. C.

Notice of appointment as local chairman of the first annual purchase prize committee in the Texas Federation of Women's clubs has been received by Mrs. C. M. Ballenger, a member of the Twentieth Century club here. Mrs. Ballenger received word of her appointment Sunday.

Through this committee, Texas artists may exhibit paintings at the annual meeting of the Texas Federation in Lubbock next November and one of the canvases may be selected to hang in the permanent headquarters that is to be erected in Austin. The one selected will carry an award of $500 to the painter and ten honorable mentions will be awarded blue ribbons.

Mrs. Ballenger will work in connection with a committee composed of Mrs. R. F. Lindsay, of Mount Pleasant, president of the Texas Federation of Women's clubs; Mrs. Alex Adams, of San Antonio, state chairman of the department of fine arts and Mrs. C. A. Fagg, of Greenville, chairman of the division of art.

She has not been notified about rules for entries except that a picture will not be considered that has been entered in a competition or exhibit previously.

The number of horses and mules in Montana decreased from 400,454 in 1929 to 362,661 in 1930, largely because of increased use of power machinery on farms.

The books to be reviewed are "Deepening Stream" (Fisher) and "The Education of a Princess" (Princess Marie).

COFFEE HEAD DIES

CORSICANA, March 2. (AP)—Funeral services were planned today for J. N. Royall, 59, founder and president of the Royall Coffee company. He died suddenly at his home here yesterday from a heart attack. Royall was formerly president of the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce. He is survived by his widow, two sons, and three daughters.

FIRE AT SWEETWATER

SWEETWATER, March 2. (AP) — Damage estimated at $20,000 was caused last night by fire which partly burned a barber shop, a jewlery store, and the basement of a department store.

A new automobile highway has eliminated the use of mules in transporting passengers and freight from the end of the railroad at Las Bocas, Columbia, to the important city of Bucaramanga.

Mrs. W. T. Milam To Exhibit Her Paintings In Childress

Invitation Comes To Local Woman To Show Her Work In Childress Club House During April

An invitation has come to Mrs. W. T. Milam, local artist, from the art division of the Women's department club of Childress to exhibit her paintings in their club house during the first week in April. Mrs. Milam expects to have about twenty or twenty-five oils ready for exhibition by that time.

Many of the paintings which Mrs. Milam will submit were done several months ago when she spent some time in Arizona and New Mexico.

Former Club Member

Mrs. Milam went to Childress as a bride and lived there for several years. At that time she was a member of the club that has asked her to return with her exhibit, however it was not until she had lived in New Mexico that she became seriously interested in painting. She left Childress in 1916 and lived for a year in Colorado and six years in New Mexico before she moved to Lubbock.

She is known here, principally, for her welfare work, particularly in providing a milk fund during the summer months for the last several years. She participates in club and P.-T. A. activities and is an active member of the First Christian church, to which congregation she recently presented a painting which now hangs in the main auditorium.

Mrs. Milam's exhibit is to be on April 2, 3, and 4 and it will hang in the women's club house, which has been recently erected by the club women of Childress. Mrs. Milam expects to go to Childress about the first of April and will be the guest of friends there for several days.

PRODUCER IS SEEN

HENDERSON, March 2. (AP)—The Olsan Brothers' No. 1 Brown in the Joiner area came in late last night for an estimated 4,800 barrels daily. It struck the sand at 3,694 feet. Three other wells in the Joiner area were being swabbed and due to come in within a few hours. Heavy rainfall made the roads almost impassable and kept rigs from being moved to the field.

Couple Is At Home On Farm Near Lubbock; Weds Thursday

C. A. Dawes, of near Lubbock, and Mrs. Beulah Stribbling, of Nacogdoches, were married on February 26 at the First Baptist church in Shreveport, La. They arrived in Lubbock Monday and will make their home near here, where Mr. Dawes is a farmer.

THREE CHECKS RECEIVED

SPUR, March 2. (Staff Special)—Three checks out of the 250 applications filed by Dickens county farmers for federal production loans, have been received. More are expected soon.

According to E. L. Tanner, county agent, there should be at least 600 applications from the county. The chamber of commerce has plenty of blanks on hand, Dewey L. Granberry, secretary, announces. The committee has rooms next to the chamber of commerce and Mr. Granberry is aiding in the work.

CASE IS APPEALED

AUSTIN, March 2. (AP) — H. W. Middleton, convicted by a Milam county jury of murdering his father, J. J. Middleton, October 8, 1927, and assessed 99 years in the penitentiary, today appealed to the court of criminal appeals. Allegations were that Middleton gave his father poisoned medicine when the elder Middleton complained of being ill.

Men who were recently laid off by factories in Cucuta, Columbia, immediately went into the country and secured work on farms, so that the district has no unemployment problem.

CAPIAS IS RECEIVED

AUSTIN, March 2. (AP)—A capias for the arrest of O. O. Norwood, Austin bond man, was received by Sheriff Coley White today. White took the capias to Norwood's office where bond of $1,000 was signed by E. P. Cravens and J. T. Bowman, Austin business men.

The capias was issued under an indictment announced Friday in Hidalgo county, charging receiving and concealing misapplied public property.

Baptist Class Members Are Guests At Afternoon Party

Members of the J. O. Y. class of the First Baptist church met Saturday afternoon at the home of Mary Geniece Hardberger, 1921 13th street. The time was spent in sewing on articles which will go to charity. Later the young hostess served a refreshment plate. Those present were the teacher, Mrs. R. S. Wilkinson and Martha Cosby, Dorothy White, Mary Owen Martin, Katharyn Weaver, and Jimmie Hamilton.

SENTENCED TO DIE

PAMPA, March 2. (AP)—Moncus Twitty, who received the death penalty for an attack on a small girl, was sentenced today to die in the electric chair April 24. The case had been affirmed on appeal.

Business Over State Better

G. B. Hogan, Southern Pacific Official Declares Freight Traffic Is Increasing Over Entire State

"Business conditions over the state are showing some improvement," G. B. Hogan, Fort Worth, traveling freight and passenger agent for the Southern Pacific, said Monday afternoon while in Lubbock on business.

He added that the past several weeks had shown an increase in the amount of freight traffic. "Business men over the state are more optimistic now than they have been for some months," he continued. "I think that we will have a better spring movement than we had expected."

Santa Fe Also Showing Gain

More cars of automobiles were handled by the Santa Fe into Lubbock during the months of January and February than were handled for the last four or five months of 1930 according to E. Kancher, division freight and passenger agent.

Some of the cars were consigned to the Lubbock motor show this week end. Mr. Kancher said that he expected the spring months to show a steady increase in business.

"Conditions look better now, especially to the farmers," he went on. "The farmers have a brighter outlook. Before this snow the soil was in the best shape in years. And the show has added untold benefits to the farmers."

Mr. Kancher is expecting that with the construction of highway slabs started, there will be a decided increase in building materials handled by the company.

It is estimated 5,000 men have been kept on St. Louis payrolls this winter through employers' co-operation with relief agencies.

Train Drags Auto 900 Feet

A sedan struck by a railroad train at a "death trap" grade crossing in Buffalo was dragged 900 feet before the train could be halted—and this is what the wreckage looked like after it was all over. One occupant of the auto was instantly killed, and two others were critically injured.

Pure Cotton Seed Sold In Territory

In preparation for the springs planting and in an effort to better the type of seed used, seven car loads of pure cotton seeds have been sold in the Lubbock territory by representatives of the Texas Cotton Cooperative association, according to N. H. Payne, one of the field men of the association.

Over district No. 2 approximately ten more cars have been sold to farmers, with indications that the number for the entire district by the time to plant arrives, will number at least double the present total.

"We have sold 7,200 bushels of seed in the Lubbock territory," said Mr. Payne. "Orders for another car are about completed. I hope we can dispose of several more cars in this section."

Levelland has enough orders for a car load of seed, Mr. Payne said. At Lorenzo the latest figures indicated over 600 bushels, with prospects of completing the car of 1,000 bushels.

Smyer, Morton, Tahoka, Crosbyton and Seagraves also are reported as having orders for at least a car load, while Pleasant Valley is reported as sending in orders for a car load of certified seed.

Post, Spur to Order

Post and Spur, reports indicate, will order at least two cars each of certified seed, and possibly several other cars.

Superintendent Is Re-Elected At Spur

SPUR, March 2. (Staff Special)—Sam Z. Hall, superintendent of schools here for the past year, has been given a two year contract by the board of trustees. Mr. Hall will continue his work here.

During the past year the Spur school system has enjoyed a steady, substantial growth. New courses have been added to the high school and an increase in affiliation credits is expected.

Gene Taylor, coach, also reelected, announced he had accepted a place at Brownwood as coach. No successor was chosen.

No other teachers were elected.

APPLICATIONS AIDED

CROSBYTON, March 2. (Staff Special)—Receipt of four checks from federal drouth relief headquarters at St. Louis for farmers in this part of Crosby county will stimulate the making out of applications for aid, Sep Smith, member of the county committee, says. One hundred applications have been forwarded from Crosbyton alone, Mr. Smith added.

Plans For Market Week Are Outlined

Plans are being made for the third semi-annual West Texas Market week to be held here March 16, 17, and 18.

A meeting was held at Hotel Lubbock Saturday afternoon at which time representatives of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce and the traveling men discussed details for the third wholesale clothing market.

Those present at the meeting included: David H. Kohen, Dallas; James E. Allen, Dallas; C. E. Hooper, Lubbock; J. E. Hartley, Lubbock; E. B. Ward, Lubbock; A. D. Brown, St. Louis; Al Thiele, Chicago; R. Donosky, St. Louis; Irwin L. Jones, of Lubbock; Dwight Kierbow, Dallas; Zenie Hammer, Albany; C. A. Sheffield, Lubbock; A. B. Davis, manager, and Garnet Reeves, convention manager, Lubbock Chamber of Commerce.

A number of routine matters were discussed regarding the marketing event and the style show that will be held in connection. The style show will be held on the evening of March 17, which is on Tuesday. The traveling men report a good interest from retail merchants over the section.

The Anti-Lynching Move

DAY BY DAY public sentiment is mobilizing in the South against the evil of lynching. Organization of a woman's anti-lynching league was significant, but even more promising is the support found in the Tennessee legislature for a bill providing for the ousting of public officials who too willingly surrender victims to the mobs of mad Judge Lynch.

This measure provides that in case of a lynching the sheriff or other official who had the victim in custody or was charged with his safe keeping, shall forthwith be suspended from office pending the outcome of ouster proceedings and shall receive no pay during the period of suspension.

Back of this is the knowledge that it has been too easy for mobs to reach their intended victims and the responsible public officials have felt secure in their positions and salaries while betraying their public trust. They may show a little more resistance if they stand to lose their income, though resistance may cost them some votes for reelection.

A shocking increase in lynchings in a number of states during the last fifteen months probably is responsible for much of the anti-lynching agitation, an unusual show of resistance by jailers in several instances and legislative action. The cause is not as hopeless as it was beginning to appear with that sudden relapse after years of satisfactory progress in lynching prevention.

When Time draws its merciful curtain and weeks roll by uncounted, how many people who, at the time of its occurrance condoned a lynching, agree that it should have been perpetrated?

Take the hideous, disgraceful riot at Sherman, for instance—that happened nearly a year ago. While the lust for vengeance was at its height and blood ran at fever heat, no doubt scores of Grayson county persons firmly believed that to lynch the attack suspect was the only way to secure punishment for the crime.

But go back to Sherman today.

Go back to the people who were there and who helped perpetrate the crime which blackened the name of their city and all of Texas from Maine to California.

You'll find most of them, if they'll talk at all, will agree that it shouldn't have been done—and that they wish it hadn't been done.

The Morning Avalanche often grows impatient with the delays of the law; the sluggishness of the courts and the trickery and red tape in which some attorneys revel. But two wrongs have never yet made a right and judge Lynch should never be permitted to be abroad in the land.

It is to be hoped that the anti-lynching move gains momentum—not only in the South but throughout the land, for the South is not alone to blame for mob action.

In taking the lead the South is performing a service which some day will be of the scope that it cannot be forgotten. "Finis" must be written to the tenure of Judge Lynch.

Practical Health Problems

USE OF COMPRESSED AIR TOOLS MAY CAUSE LOSS OF FEELING IN FINGERS OF WORKMEN

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN
Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygeia, the Health Magazine

As the modern skyscraper goes up, people in the vicinity are either annoyed or entertained by the music of the compressed air drill and the compressed air hammer used in such construction.

The popularity of these devices has grown rapidly and industrial physicians are beginning to pay special attention to the hazards associated with pneumatic tools. In Germany, diseases of the muscles, bones and joints from the use of pneumatic tools are now included among the diseases and injuries scheduled under the German compensation acts.

Recently Dr. M. Seyring has given consideration to some of the special forms of diseases that may arise from this type of work. The most common conditions are disturbances in the blood vessels, commonly called "dead fingers." The fingers lose sensation when they become cold as occurs also in the disease called Raynaud's disease.

Dr. Seyring finds that the tendency to this condition increases as the years of work go on. In apparently has to do with the effects of vibration and contact of the hand with the cold metal, although associated also with exposure of the hands to cold air from the exhaust of the compressed air.

Dr. Seyring is inclined to believe that the second cause is not so important, since the left hand, which does not come into contact with the exhause from the compressed air, is the one most frequently affected. On the other hand, the left hand is the one subjected to the most serious vibration during operation of the pneumatic tool.

Some of the workers suffered degeneration of the muscles of the thumb due to the constant strain of holding the valve at the top of the handle of the pneumatic device. Wherever there is excessive muscular exertion with pressure on the nerve or muscle in any occupation such paralyses may occur.

The final type of inflammation involved in these occupations is a serious inflammation around the elbow joint, particularly the right elbow. In these cases there is pain and limitation of movement and in some cases detachment of pieces of bone results from the constant vibration and pressure.

New industries with new devices constantly expose men to hazards for which his body was never created. The machine age has introduced not only hazards to the mind of men and to his social organization, but also to the very muscles and tissues of which he is composed.

Ohioan Mentioned For Race

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, March 2.—Suggesting Democratic presidential possibilities is an increasingly popular form of mental relaxation in Washington, Mr. Hoover's renomination on the Republican ticket being accepted now as a foregone conclusion.

Every time a gathering of Jeffersonian politicians falls to discussing the party's list of 1932 availables, someone is sure to ask:

"What do you think of Bob Bulkley?"

Meaning, of course, Robert J. Bulkley of Cleveland, who was elected to the senate last November for the remaining two years of the term originally voted to the late Theordore E. Burton. Governor Cooper appointed Roscoe C. McCulloch to fill the vacancy temporarily when Burton died, but Bulkley beat him at the polls a twelvemonth later.

IN THESE conversations the Clevelander's name never is proposed affirmatively but always interrogatively, in some such phraseology as, "What about Bulkley?"

Yet it is surprising how practically certain he is to be mentioned whenever the Democrats' next choice of a standard bearer is under consideration.

And, with equal regularity, the folk to whom the query is put simply shuffle, sidestep and equivocate. No one seems to have any definite idea, "WHAT about Bulkley?" one way or the other.

EXCEPT TO answer to the roll call Senator Bulkley literally did not peep from the time he took the oath of office at the beginning of this session of congress until the other day. He threw off his cloak of silence by introducing a resolution demanding that Attorney General William D. Mitchell reveal to the senate upon what information the bureau of prohibition based statements made in a pamphlet widely distributed last October, extolling prohibition.

Consequently it has ben impossible to "get a line on him."

Once he served a couple of terms in the house of representatives, but they say he uttered scarcely a word then, either; just sat there like a Stotun bottle.

NEVERTHELESS, there are politicians who believe the Ohioan must have concealed potentialities, which he will reveal at the proper juncture.

In the first place, it is quite a feat for a Democrat to win an Ohio senatorship—not unprecedented but highly creditable. From Columbus come intimations that the dryly Democratic George White, who was elected governor on the same ticket with Bob, as the Democrats' wet senatorial candidate, is under the impression that he dragged Bob through with him. As the story is told here; it was Bob who dragged HIM through, and largely by virtue of his nerve in emphasizing his own wetness in spite of the politically more experienced George's strong objections. Ohio accounts also represent the senator as an excellent campaign talker—not eloquent, but convincing.

Maybe he is wise in keeping quiet until he grows thoroughly accustomed to his new surroundings, old-timers agree.

THE YOUNG Buckeye solon did do one thing to focus attention upon himself when he threw his ballot, along with five of his fellow Jeffersonians, against the administration-inspired famine relief measure, in favor of which Leader Joseph T. Robinson of the Democratic forces in the senate, had tried to align all his followers, as part of the program to prevent an extra session of congress.

Many senators, even among those who voted for the compromise, hold that this was clever strategy on Bulkley's part.

It placed him in the position of deserting his own leader, to be sure, and on the side of the minority. Nevertheless, it is forseen that the legislation will prove unpopular, and the Ohioan opposed it in first class, liberal company, including such Democratic senators as Barkley, Connally, Glass, Wheeler and Thomas of Oklahoma; and such progressive Republicans as Borah, Couzens, Cutting, Frazier, Johnson, La Follette, Norris, Schall, Blaine Brookhart, Norbeck, Nye and Pine, and the Farmer-Laborite, Shipstead.

NOW, IT SO happens that young Senator Bulkley's economic liberality has been considerably questoined by those who have canvassed him presidentially.

Seemingly Democratic policy is going to call for at least a modgrate wet in 1932 and the Ohioan is all right in that respect, but the candidate also (without being alarming to big business) must offer a contrast to Mr. Hoover in the latter's supposed friendliness toward the socalled "interests"—and Senator Bulkley's Cleveland law firm is reputed to have an extraordinarily large corporation practice. His vote with legislators like La Follette, Norris and Wheeler ought to take some of the curse off it, and without necessarily antagonizing big business, for no such issue was at stake in connection with the famine relief problem.

TO FOOT UP his assets:

Senator Bulkley's geography is ideal, his last autumn's victory was both timely and spectacular, his prohibition stand is as satisfactory as can be expected on that most impossible of all issues, he seems astute, at 51 his age is about right, he is a big, fine looking chap and he is said to have acharming wife, by no means a negligible political consideration.

But he does need a reputation, and, to acquire one, he wil have to come out of his shell sooner or later and say something more. After that it will be easier to estimate him as a Democratic presidential prospect.

SCHWAB READS THE SIGNS

One man who never sells America short is Charles M. Schwab, whose courage like his business is of steel. If he cannot say something good about the United States and business conditions, he talks about something else. He has been called the Pollyanna of business, but without intent to belittle his optimism.

He is now predicting economic recovery—slow, but sure and lasting. Moreover, business is taking the turn he prefers it to take—a slow and steady upturn being, in his judgment, better than a sudden boom.

This is the mature decision of an observer whose fingers are on the nation's economic pulse. Steel is basic, and Schwab is basic to steel.

His verdict is upheld by some of the leading economists and financiers and finds foundation in the acceleration of industrial production and a "bull" stock market. Even the arch pessimists are growing optimistic and the bears seem to have hibernated.

The steel magnate is known as a conservative and his very conservatism gives weight to his present forecast of clearing weather on the economic horizon.

The British might have at least given Gandhi a suit of clothes when they released him from prison.

Unlike most fighters, however, Buster isn't asking for a return engagement.

On August 31, 1923, though he had been blind in one eye since about 1920, he won the World's Middleweight championship in a 15-round battle with Johnny Wilson.

WOOD OF A TREE IS A DELICACY—HEART OF PALM.—We obtain sago—a table delicacy—from the central portions of various tropical palm trees. The palms are about 30 feet high, and have hard stout stems filled with spongy wood which the natives extract and concert into sago.

For GINGER'S SAKE

BEGIN HERE TODAY

To keep life from growing too dull in Red Thrush, Iowa, GINGER ELLA TOLLIVER organized a Junior Country Club. It was to be exclusive—no parents, no babies, just the "younger set." Accordingly Ginger, whose father was a minister and whose step-mother, the former PHIL VAN DOORN, was both wealthy and indulgent, purchased the Mill Rush farm, a 10-acre tract with an old house, and remodeled it.

Into Red Thrush came BARD HOLLOWAY, a young artist who was hoboing around the country. Attracted by Ginger, he agreed to stay and paint portraits and decorate the new club house. The Tolliver's made him their guest.

Bard thought "Joie de Vivre" would be a good name for the club. It was adopted. And he thought it would be splendid if they could import from Chicago one NICOLO CALLENO. For Nicolo was handsome and he could cook and sing and strum a guitar. He would be a knockout on the opening night, for which an elaborate dinner dance was planned.

But on the morning of the opening there arrived at the Tolliver's not one Italian youth but what seemed an army. Little ANGELO was a musician, and PIETRO could cook. And BENITO could sing. Nicolo, it seemed, could not come, so they had come in his place, to make themselves useful, glad to work for their board.

That night at the opening Bard realized he was falling in love with Ginger. The event was a great success. Pietro, Angelo and Benito added just the right touch of color, but EDDY JACKSON began to think that Ginger would have her hands full with them, and JENKY BROOKS, who with her husband, BENNY, were chaperons of the club began to have misgivings.

But the Italians soon won her over and they made plans to stay at the Joie de Vivre. Benito built bird houses and planted gardens and the others were equally useful. Meanwhile Bard thought he had better leave Red Thrush, but Phil persuaded him to stay a little longer.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XX

But Phil was a woman of wide experience. She thought it all over that afternoon while Ginger had Bard out at Mill Rush working on the series of sketches he was making of different views of the house and grounds. And suddenly she went to her desk and wrote a letter to Speed Roney, who had finished college and was in business with his father back in Massachusetts.

"Speed, my dear boy, you promised to do me a good turn whenever you had an opportunity. Here it is. We are all bored and stupid and tired of each other and just shriveling up with ennui—especially Ginger. Won't you come out for a week or 10 days, longer if you can, and cheer us up? It will be such a nice surprise for Ginger and Mr. Tolliver, who do not know I am writing you. Please wire me at once that you are on your way, for this is the good turn that you promised. And I shall try to see that you are a little amused and entertained while you are here.

"Cordially,

"Phil Tolliver.

Ginger hung up the telephone receiver and returned to the breakfast table. She was laughing.

"We must hurry right out to Mill Rush," she said to Bard. "Benito's got woodpeckers in his flagpole and he wants us to come immediately."

"That Benito is positively too good to be true," said Phil. "I can't say much for Pietro except that his food means well, and Angelo is not the ultimate in artistry. But Benito is without peer."

"Does Benito mean the Blessed?" asked Ginger. "He is."

When they reached Mill Rush Benito was waiting for them and with eager cries of delight led them out to the flagpole, which he had erected with his own hands, and where, to his boundless and booming delight, a red-headed woodpecker was pounding vibrantly.

"You see," he cried, cavorting about on the green grass, "A woodpecker! A red-headed woodpecker! That is good luck for this house."

Ginger and Bard were eager in agreement. Certainly that house was the biding place of rare good fortune!

"Look!" Benito went on, turning and pointing up to the corner of the house, the southeast corner of the house, which he called his. "You see that bird-house? Right outside my window."

"Are there birds in it?" asked Ginger interestedly.

"Not yet. But wait. Birds will come. I sprinkle the floor with the finest seeds. I fill the bowl with fresh cold water twice, three times a day. Birds will come. Right outside my window. It's very lucky to have birds outside your window."

Ginger and Bard followed him about for a while from house to house, expressing interest and pleasure more to please him than anything else, and presently moved away. But it was not solely to admire the woodpeckers that Benito had enticed them forth, not entirely to display the smart new bird-house he had built outside his attic window. He followed them down to the landing.

"Miss Ginger," he said, "you take me in town and I go to Chicago tonight. To get my clothes and my money and to see my friends. Tomorrow I come back. Miss Jenky, she says all right. I go, I come."

"Oh, you asked her, first did you?"

Benito shrugged his large shoul-

Drouth Relief Peak Reached

Approximately $1,000 Per Day Being Spent In Ten Counties Of This Area According To Red Cross Head

The peak of Red Cross drouth relief work in ten counties on the South Plains has been reached in the opinion of Carl Van Hoorebeke, special field representative of the American Red Cross.

Mr. Hoorebeke said Monday that about $1,000 a day was being spent in the relief work and that between 1,500 and 2,000 families in the ten counties were receiving aid.

Counties in this territory include: Lubbock, Dawson, Lynn, Martin, Garza, Crosby, Borden, Cochran, Bailey and Hockley

Caring For 2000 Families

"Last check I had two weeks or so ago showed over 1,400 families that we were then taking care of," he continued. "I estimate we now are handling around 2,000 families or about 10,000 people."

The work of the Red Cross in the drouth stricken area was started primarily "as a drouth relief program," Mr. Van Hoorebeke said. "We have handled a number of other things in addition to our drouth relief work," he added. "We have handled a lot of unemployment work.

"In many towns we had to take over work that other organizations were unable to handle. Now we are beginning to be relieved of that work."

One important factor in causing Mr. Van Hoorebeke to arrive at the decision that the peak has been reached, is the fact that drouth relief checks are beginning to arrive in the territory.

"When a man begins to get his drouth relief, his credit becomes much better," the Red Cross man said. "With farmers having credit, they can make progress in their own community and our work will be lessened."

Mr. Van Hoorebeke said he had not heard from the two army officers who were here recently to look over the territory. They were to report to Colonel P. J. Hurley, secretary of war, and it is doubtful if their synopsis of conditions will be made known.

Sixty Veterans Eligible For Loans In Crosby County Area

CROSBYTON, March 2. (Staff Special)—Sixty World War veterans in Crosbyton and this trade territory are eligible for increased loans under the bill which congress recently passed over President Hoover's veto.

Should all of the veterans make application for their loan it is expected that around $18,000 will be received here. Total amount of insurance is estimated at in excess of $60,000. Average policy is around $1,000.

The entire county has insurance amounting to from $120,000 to $150,000 according to former service men.

How They Make Animated Cartoons

It would take one artist two years, working alone, to draw all the pictures necessary for a single Silly Symphony or Mickey Mouse comedy, but one reel is turned out every week by an ingenious hook-up of art and photography

Taking Mickey's picture. . . . . This elaborate camera mechanism . . . "shoots" each completed picture on a film . . . and the succession of them makes action as you see it.

Manufacturing Mickey Mice. . . . Here are four of the many artists in the Walt Disney studios . . . drawing endless pictures of Mickey Mouse. . . . Usually one draws animals, one scenery, one wagons, autos, boats, and so on . . . which are mechanically combined to make a finished picture.

Walt Disney is only 30 . . . but he had an idea, and he is one of Hollywood's successes. . . . He has youthful energy and pep, but nary a trace, his friends say, of Hollywood head.

By DAN THOMAS

MOVIELAND'S most popular star!

This title has been held at various times by Charlie Chaplin, John Gilbert, Mary Pickford, Douglas Fairbanks, Gloria Swanson and a few others. But all have been forced to relinquish their claims—and rightfully so—to the one and only Mickey Mouse.

Many writers have tried to mortalize Mickey, to put him in a class with real human actors. But that can't rightly be done, as Mickey after all is only a mouse—and not even a live mouse at that. Consequently this blotch of ink, which is what Mickey really is, must stand alone upon a pedestal even higher than those allotted to some of our favored screen celebrities. He can do things which even the acrobatic Fairbanks would hesitate to attempt. But such stunts are simple for Mickey. He thinks nothing whatever about them.

This little inky star, whose pictures ranked among the "10 best" of 1930, can dance like nobody's business. He can play any kind of a musical instrument; can run faster than Charlie Paddock; can climb the highest mountain with no effort whatever; and can swim an entire ocean much quicker and more easily than the great Lindbergh could fly over it.

And who is responsible for this child of the silver screen—if you can call an eight-year-old mouse a child? Somebody must be, as it is hard to believe that a blotch of ink could do all of the things Mickey does of its own volition. The power behind this little mouse, in fact his creator and the creator of his brothers and sisters, is a young man—Walt Disney.

WALT is an interesting character, too; interesting because in real life he is Mickey. About 11 or 12 years ago Walt, who even then had a creative streak in him, went to work as a cartoonist on the Chicago Tribune. Later he took a similar position on the Kansas City Star. A few animated cartoons had been shown on the screen at that time, but Walt thought they could be greatly improved, so in the fall of 1923 he and his brother, Roy, came to Los Angeles to go into the animated cartoon business. Their combined capital was less than $500, but they had plenty of energy, ingenuity and ability, and originated a series known as the "Alice Cartoons."

Although this series proved popular almost from the first, Disney thought it could be improved through the introduction of a live character. So a young girl was put in the pictures along with the animated drawings through a double exposure process. This series was produced for about two years, after which Disney went to the Universal studio and originated Oswald the Rabbit. It was during the production of this series that Mickey Mouse was first conceived. Walt wanted to spend more money on his cartoons to improve them, but the Universal executives demurred, so Walt went into business for himself.

WHY did he choose a mouse for his principal character?

"Principally because I needed a small animal," Disney replies. "I couldn't use a rabbit because there already was a rabbit on the screen. So I decided upon a mouse, as I always have thought they were very interesting animals. At first I decided to call him Mortimer Mouse, but changed to Mickey as the name has a more friendly sound, and Mickey really is a friendly sort of character. We have become great pals. And I'm not fooling when I say that he is jus, as much of a person to me as anyone I know. He actually is just like a child to me."

Disney still is a young man, only 30. And he still is filled with the dynamic energy of youth—an energy which he instills into Mickey who, like his master, never seems to tire. He is unassuming and modest, too, qualities seldom found among the successful or even near-successful in Hollywood, where success and fame seem to be about all that count.

During working hours it would be a difficult task to pick out Disney from the rest of his staff unless you knew him by sight. At the studio he is just one of the boys, never giving anyone the impression they are working for him—it's always with him. Yet this characteristic never overshadows his influence over his staff, an influence which makes them regard Mickey in the same light that he does.

OF all the places in Hollywood to visit, perhaps the most interesting is the small Disney studio. It really isn't particularly small except when compared to other gigantic film plants, any one of which could house Disney's plant in a corner without even missing the space. There are about 50 employes, and all of them are kept busy every minute of the day turning out the one Mickey Mouse and the one Silly Symphonies cartoon which must be produced each month. Two short reels of between 600 and 700 feet each doesn't sound very big until you realize that it takes thousands of drawings for each reel.

The process from which one of these reels evolves also is exceedingly interesting. First of all there is the story conference, just as there is on any feature picture. After the story has been written, funny situations, or gags as they are known in the film colony, must be injected. Then the dialogue must be written. Although this is not recorded until after the picture itself is completed, it must be written first so that the action of the animals' mouths will synchronize with the words they speak in the picture.

The story being completed, it is ready for the artists, each of whom has his definite part of the picture to draw. Disney himself always makes the assignments, as he knows just what type of drawing each man does best. Some draw the animals. Others draw scenery. While still others may draw wagons, automobiles, boats, etc.

Before going any further into the explanation of the animated process, it might be well to explain for the benefit of the uninitiated that every motion picture actually is nothing more than a series of still pictures. For example, it may take 50 still pictures, each very slightly different than the preceding one, to show a girl opening a door. Likewise it may take 50 drawings, each varying only slightly, to show Mickey wag his tail from one side to the other.

THE artists all work with a lightweight, semi-transparent drawing paper placed on an illuminated drawing board. The light paper and illuminated drawing board are necessary, because after one drawing has been completed the second piece of paper is placed right on top of it so that the artist can vary his drawing just enough to make the movement smooth. After the drawings are completed they are turned over to a corps of girls who trace them on sheets of celluloid. Then they are filled in with the proper shades of black, white or gray. Then they are ready to be photographed.

The cameraman's job is perhaps the most monotonous of all. Unlike the cameraman on an ordinary picture, he can't photograph an entire sequence by merely turning the crank of his camera. Each individual picture must be photographed separately, and since it requires 16 pictures to make a foot of film, even the most experienced man cannot turn out more than 50 feet of film a day. It requires anywhere from one to four sheets of celluloid with their drawings to make up a single picture to be recorded for the finished film.

AS an example of that, supposing there is to be a scene of Mickey riding across the desert on the back of a wagon. On one sheet of celluloid would be the desert background. On the second one would be a drawing of the wagon. On the third one would be Mickey. And if his little playmate, Minnie Mouse, happened to be with him, she would be on the fourth sheet. Consequently, instead of 16 it sometimes requires 64 separate drawings for a single foot of film.

"Sometimes we write our musical score to fit the picture and other times we create the picture to fit the music," remarked Disney. "It all depends upon whether we get an idea for a story or for the music first. Many people have remarked about the perfect rhythm we have in our pictures, declaring it to be much better than that found in any other pictures. That's not hard to understand, in as much as the human element doesn't enter into our pictures like it does in others. Everything we do is mechanical, so it is just a question of co-ordinating the two mechanical forces—drawing and music."

Working alone, it would take a man about two years to turn out a Mickey Mouse reel which varies between 600 and 700 feet in length, being shorter than the usual one-reel feature of 1000 feet. In the Disney studio it takes a force of 50 men and women two weeks to complete a feature. They alternate between the Mickey Mouse and the Silly Symphonies cartoons, producing one of each every month.

The greatest break Mickey and, incidentally, his creator, ever had was when the talkies came in. Up to that time animated cartoons had been considered as sort of fillers on theater programs. But today Mickey's name goes up in electric lights just as do the names of players in the feature picture. However, Walt Disney was "in a spot" for a few months at the time. All of the major producers were scurrying around frantically to install sound equipment in their studios and were recalling finished pictures to inject sound and dialogue in the final reels so that they could be released as talking pictures. Consequently none of them had time to talk to Disney about his features.

REALIZING what he was up against and knowing that he must synchronize sound with his cartoons if he was to find a market for them, Disney immediately set about making a feature which was drawn especially for synchronization with sound and music. Then he took his film to New York for the synchronization process, as at that time there was no available independent sound apparatus on the coast.

Even then it was not until after "Steamboat Willie," the first Mickey Mouse drawn especially for synchronization, had taken the public by storm that Disney was able to get a nation-wide release for his product. That picture started Mickey on the road to a popularity that never has been enjoyed by any other star. And he still glitters as the brightest star in the cinema heavens, especially since his pictures are not confined to English-speaking countries, but have a world appeal. It is said that whenever Mickey is shown in a British theater he is billed above all other stars appearing on the program.

And his popularity has grown to such an extent during the past three years that manufacturers of various commodities are using him to promote the sale of their goods. Today Mickey is being reproduced as dolls, jewelry, candy, on chinaware, children's dress goods and in a dozen other ways.

Strange, isn't it, that all of this fame and popularity should come to just a little splotch of ink?

Mustangs And Frogs In Championship Battle Tonight

Former Spudder Infield Counted On By Browns This Season

Methodists In Lead With 433 Points To 342

Not Much To Choose Between Teams In Championship Go On Dallas Court Tonight; Teams Evenly Matched

BY BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer.

FORT WORTH, March 2. (AP)—Supremacy for Southwest Conference basketball honors will be at stake here tomorrow night where Texas Christian University and Southern Methodist University will offer a goal shooting barrage. Having scored 433 points against opponnets 342 points this season, the Mustangs top T. C. U. on season's offensive play by 21-points. T. C. U. has scored 412 points against 330 for opponents. Where the Mustangs are 21 points stronger on offensive in eleven games the Frogs hold a 12 point margin over S. M. U. on defense.

Teams Counterbalance

With the southwest conference championship in the balance the night's contest looms as a scoring game. With four leading goal shooters in the game, mid-court shots will probably feature. Coach Schmidt of the Frogs has two crack basket loopers in Adolph Dietzel, conference leader with 159 points, and "Doc" Sumner, third ranking. To counter balance, Coach St. Clair of S. M. U will play R. Williams and Jake Reynolds, a pair of boys who have dealt misery to all opposition this season.

Close Game Before

There isn't much to choose between these two teams. In their previous meeting, which S. M. U. won 36 to 33, the score was close throughout.

T. C. U officials have made arrangements to accommodate a huge crowd. There is a natural rivalry between Dallas and Fort Worth, and nothing could serve better to bring out basket ball fandom to see the Frogs and Mustangs scrap in the closing conference game in which the eventual winners will be hailed as kings of the hardwood in the 1931 conference marathon.

R. J. Spiller, manager of the Atlanta Crackers, has proposed a new league to replace the Southeastern and South Atlantic baseball circuits.

The Florida 'Gators of 1931 will be a young team, inexperienced in varsity baseball.

Plainview Draws Bye In State Tourney; To Play In Semi-Finals Friday

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, March 2.—Athens High school, national interscholastic basketball champions, drew a bye in the opening round of the state high school basketball tournament which will open at the University of Texas Friday and end Saturday with the crowning of a state champion.

Plainview and Nocona also drew byes, according to the schedule announced by Roy B. Henderson, athletic director of the University Interscholastic league.

The first round, Friday morning, will see Mathis playing Bardwell; Big Springs tangling with Yancey and Sidney Lanier of San Antonio meeting Denton, 1930 state champions.

In the afternoon round, San Jacinto of Houston will play Gober; Locker will meet Austin and Plainview will take the court against Nocona.

Athens and the winner of the Sidney Lanier-Denton game will meet in the first game Friday night. The survivors of the Mathis-Bardwell game will meet the winner of the Big Spring-Yancey tilt with the victors of the San Jacinto-Gober and the Locker-Austin games meeting in the Friday night final.

The semi-final round will be played Saturday morning and the championship will be decided Saturday night. As a preliminary to the title game, the losing teams in the semi-final round will play for third place honors.

Texan Loses In Bermuda Net Championship Fight

HAMILTON, Bermuda, March 2. (AP)—Herbert L. Bowman of New York and Sarah Palfrey of Boston won the mixed doubles final of the Bermuda tennis championship today, defeating Berkeley Bell of Austin, Texas, and Virginia Rice of Boston, 6-3, 3-6, 7-5.

Play in this division of the championships was started and finished today, seven teams entering.

Shift In Betting On Petrolle Bout And KO Discussed

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, March 2.—All the circumstances surrounding the Billy Petrolle and King Tut battle in Madison Square Garden last Friday night will be discussed tomorrow by the New York state athletic commission.

PETROLLE

The commission is trying to find out if the blond king had either an active or passive part in his knockout by Petrolle in the fourth round of the sixth match these two young men have fought. As far as the eye could see, the scarred Fargo veteran merely smote Tut so lustily with both hands there was no standing before him, but the skeptics think differently.

As soon as the match was over, Commissioner John J. Phelan, the only member of the three man board present at the battle, ordered the purses of the fighters held up pending an investigation. He refused to voice the reasons for his suspicions at that time and no statement has since been made by the commission. Both warriors and their managers, however, were suspended Saturday by the Minnesota state athletic commission pending the outcome of the inquiry.

Odds on Tut, a decided favorite because of his recent 34-second knockout of Petrolle in St. Paul, shifted shortly before the fight and Billy went into the ring a favorite. It also was reported that considerable money on Petrolle appeared throughout the mid-west shortly before the bout. Some of New York's smartest gamblers went down to disaster for large sums on Tut.

Forty-one diamond candidates answered the first call for baseball at North Carolina State college.

Killefer Uses Youth To Help Bolster Squad

Wholesale Shakeup To Change All Departments Of Browns' Game; Veterans Are Second Choice With Skipper

(Editor's Note: This is the second of a series of first-hand Associated Press stories on major league baseball prospects.)

By ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., March 2.—The St. Louis Browns face the American League baseball season with a hustling band of youngsters, a wholesale infield shake-up, and lots of the old college spirit, plus a law suit with Commissioner Landis over the status of Outfielder Bennett.

The law suit is more important as the first test of the commissioner's authority, in a tilt with a major league club owner, than in its effect on the state of Bennett, whom the Browns desire to recall from Milwaukee. Landis has ruled they can't, having allegedly violated the option agreement, but the Browns have determined to fight it out all summer, if necessary.

Killefer Begins Experiment

Meanwhile, Manager Bill Killefer has taken his 1930 second division club apart, discovered a number of aging pieces of baseball ivory that need replacement, and begun another noble experiment with youth.

The principal hold-over assets, around which Killefer has begun his reconstruction, include the veteran slugger, Goose Goslin, in the outfield; the hard-hitting Ralph Kress, in the infield; "Rick" Ferrell, a great young catcher, and Wally Stewart, one of the finest southpaws in the game and the ace of a strong, experienced twirling corps.

If Killefer's plans develop, he will start an infield composed of Irving Burns at first; Oscar Melillo, a veteran, or Lin Storti, at second; Jim Levy, rookie ex-marine, at short, and Kress, heretofore the regular shortstop, at third.

Former Shortstop in Infield

Burns, Storti and Levy composed three-fourths of the crack Wichita Falls (Texas League) infield last year. Killefer thinks Levy and Burns are ripe now. They showed their defensive class last year, Burns figured in 160 double plays, Levy in 102, Storti in 164. Burns hit .356 and may furnish much needed punch, missing last year when the veteran, Lu Blue, skidded down the batting scale to .235.

With Goslin in left, either Fred Schulte or Earl McNeely in center, the contest for the right-field berth involves Larry Bettencourt, former St. Mary's all-America football center, who hit .320 and collected 43 homers with Wichita Falls last season; Tom Jenkins, a .345 batter with Milwaukee; Frank Waddey, ex-Georgia Tech gridiron star, who hit .344 with Memphis.

To Watch Sam Gray

In the box, much depends on whether Sam Gray can stage a come-back and take an effective turn with Stewart, George Blaeholder, Dick Coffman, Warren Collins and Chad Kimsey. Gray lost nine straight games last year in which his teammates produced only 17 runs altogether behind him. He won only four all season after winning 38 in two previous years.

The Browns, due to changes and the big "ifs" as to infield strength and batting power, do not figure to cut a vital figure in the pennant chase. Killefer frankly does not expect to get out of the second division. He does not see how the Athletics can be stopped from making it three straight.

Houston Buffs Hustle Through Fast Practice

HOUSTON, March 2. (AP)—Skipper Joe Schultz today did not need to tell his ball players to hustle. The cool winds took care of that and 33 aspirants for jobs with the 1931 Houston Texas League ball club went through their paces at a lively clip. Gill Johns, former Texas Aggie star shortstop who belongs to Rochester, also took part in the San Antonio shortstop, looked on.

Seventeen pitchers, five outfielders, three catchers and eight infielders reported for the first day's workout. George Puccinelli, promising outfielder, who is expected to furnish much of the club's punch, agreed to terms by telegraph, and announced he was leaving the Pacific Coast for Houston. Homer Peel, outfielder, and Leo Dixon, catcher, are the only players unsigned.

An Indiana college basketball player covered 2 and 34-100 miles during a regulation game recently. His movements were followed and measured on an electrical device.

Phillip Bolich, Duke's boxing star, has never known defeat in the ring. He will bid for the southern conference title.

A total of 111 teams have been entered in the North Carolina sixth annual high school basketball tournament.

"Smilin' Bill" Murray, Duke halfback in 1930, coaching the Duke frosh cagers, has lost one game this season.

Doc Adkins, of Durham, N. C., father of Emory, Duke football center and Fenton, Carolina tackle, was a pitcher for the Baltimore Orioles.

George Lott Wins Over Van Ryn In Pan-American Set

(By The Associated Press)

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., March 2.—George Lott, Chicago, out-fought the elements and John Van Ryn, East Orange, N. J., today to win the singles title in the Pan-American tennis championships, 6-2, 1-6, 6-2, 6-4.

It was the second successive year Lott carried off the singles crown in the Miami Beach event. He defeated Johnny Doeg in the finals last year of the South Florida championships, which became the Pan-American championships this season.

The finals were postponed from yesterday by inclement weather and Lott and Van Ryn played the first three sets today in a drizzling rain. A downpour starting during the intermission before the fourth set caused the play to be moved to a glass-enclosed court nearby.

Lott had little difficulty in winning the opening set, 6-2, but suffered on the slick courts in the second which Van Ryn won, 6-1, in quick fashion. Lott braced to win the third with the play of both slow and the court heavy.

After the switch to the enclosed court the players settled down to hard-fought tennis. They see-sawed in the lead until the game count stood at four-all. Lott then took his own service to lead by one game and in the next dropped a backhand cut over the net out of Van Ryn's reach for the set and title.

Another Ferrell Brother Joins Big League Class

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., Mar. 2. (AP)—Still another member of the House of Ferrell has gone in for professional baseball. Marvin, 20 years old, 6 feet tall and weighing 175 pounds, will work out with the St. Louis Browns until they break camp here, when he will join Wichita Falls of the Texas League. Catcher Rick Ferrell says Brother Marvin has as much natural stuff as Brother Wesley of the Cleveland Indians. Marvin has played semi-pro ball for three years in Pennsylvania and North Carolina. A fourth brother is in the International league.

Railway wages in Northern Ireland are being reduced.

Connie Mack "Sees By Papers" He's Needing Hurler; "Wrong; Need Four"

FORT MYERS, Fla., March 2. (AP)—Wet grounds kept the Philadelphia Athletics from practicing today, so Manager Mack did the talking for the squad.

"I see by the papers," said Connie, "That I'm looking for a pitcher. The truth is I'm looking for four. I have six regulars and I want four youngsters who can stand the gaff. Why? Because it looks like a pitching year. The new ball is the reason. The pitchers are chuckling among themselves, confident this is their year. That's why I want some more."

John McGraw Imposes Fines On Tardy Men

SAN ANTONIO, March. 2. (AP)—John McGraw's famous 'iron hand' made its appearance today. John surveyed his New York Giants and discovered that five regulars had not arrived in camp as ordered and he promptly imposed fines of a day's pay each on three of them. The unlucky trio consisted of Bill Terry, Fred Fitzsimmons and Frank Hogan.

The other absentees were Hub Pruett and Joe Genewich but both had permission to delay their arrival.

May Send Posse Out For "That Cuban"

CLEARWATER, Fla., March. 2. (AP)—Wilbert Robinson, portly manager of the Brooklyn Robins, is thinking seriously of sending out a posse in search of Adolio Luque, the eminent right hander from Havana. The man whom Robinson calls "that Cuban-what's-his-name" is the only regular pitcher not in camp and his whereabouts are a mystery.

Rain kept all but the battery men idle today.

Babe Ruth And Mates Turn Down Holiday

ST. PETERSBURGH, Fla., March 2. (AP)—George Herman Ruth, apparently as enthusiastic about the game that made him famous as he was 15 years ago, turned down a chance for a vacation today.

A heavy rain led Manager Joe McCarthy to excuse all the New York Yankees from work except the pitchers and catchers but Ruth, Earle Combs, Dusty Cooke and Lyn Lary donned uniforms and worked out for an hour and a half anyway.

New Shortstop Fits Into Pirate Plan

PASO ROBLES, Calif., March 2. (AP)—Manager Jewel Ens of the Pittsburgh Pirates today watched as his new shortstop, Tommy Thevenow, in action with Suhr, Grantham and Traynor, guardians of the bases. This lineup in all likelihood will compose the regular infield during the coming campaign. Thevenow and Grantham, the second sacker, worked well together in practice.

Gene Connell Looks Like Real Backstop

WINTER HAVEN, Fla., March 2. (AP)—Burt Shotton, manager of the Phillies, has been looking for a first class catcher and he believes he has landed one in the person of Gene Connell, former University of Pennsylvania backstop. "He looks like a fine prospect," Shotton said today.

Man Who Tied Babe Holding Out On Sox

SAN ANTONIO, March 2. (AP)—Chicago White Sox officials had a holdout problem to consider today, Carl Reynolds, who tied Babe Ruth for third place in American League batting last season, having failed to agree to terms.

Reynolds was reported to have been offered $10,000 for his services, but was likewise reported to have set $25,000 as his idea of major league baseball wages. Moe Berg, catcher, has not signed, but the Sox have plenty of receivers without him. Today's work was handicapped by a stiff wind, which caused Manager Donie Bush to dispense with batting practice.

Eddie Morgan Suspended When Fails To Report

NEW ORLEANS, March 2. (AP)—Eddie Morgan, erstwhile first baseman of the Cleveland Americans, now honeymooning somewhere in the south, was automatically suspended today when he failed to show up with the rest of the infielders. If he decides that after all he doesn't want to be a full time business man, he will have to be reinstated by club officials.

With the entire squad in camp, rain and cool weather precluded practice today.

Reds In Unsatisfactory Workout In Florida

TAMPA, Fla., March 2. (AP)—Bad weather, which hampered the Cincinnati Reds training activities nearly all last week, was present again today. Rain forced the Athletes to confine themselves to an abbreviated and unsatisfactory workout in Exhibition Hall.

Jim Bottomley's Rival Reports To Gabby

BRADENTON, Fla., March 2. (AP)—James "Ripper" Collins, the young first baseman from Rochester, who is expected to give Jim Bottomley a battle for the first base job, reported to Manager Gabby Street this afternoon and now only five members of the St. Louis Cardinals are absent.

They are Outfielders "Pepper" Martin, Chick Hafey, Taylor Douthit and Ernie Orsatti and Second Baseman Frankie Frisch. President Sam Breadon said Hafey was the only player who had expressed his satisfaction with terms offered.

A short workout was held this afternoon after it had rained all morning.

Bill Walters Looms As Great Third Sacker

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 2. (AP)—If Bill Walters, 20-year old Philadelphia sandlotter, does not make National League grade this season, Bill McKechnie, Boston Braves manager, will be keenly disappointed.

McKechnie today described the kid as "the most promising third baseman to enter the league in years."

Boston Sox May Change Outfielder To Sacker

PENSACOLA, Fla., March 2. (AP)—The Boston Red Sox, with the idea of capitalizing John Winsett's long hitting, are trying to change the Tennessee youngster from an outfielder to a first baseman. The boy has an extraordinary length of arm and leg and a natural ease of adapting himself. Despite these advantages, however, Manager Collins fears he will not be ripe for at least two more seasons as he is not a clever glove handler, even in his native outfield.

Cubs In School To Professor Hornsby

AVALON, Calif., March. 2. (AP)—The Chicago Cubs went to school today to Professor Rogers Hornsby.

The Rajah sent the pitching candidates out to take turns in working on the art of holding runners on the bases; the catchers were tutored in sniping base runnings, and the base runners were told how to outsmart the pitchers and catchers. While not occupied in running or throwing, the players sat in a row and watched, while Hornsby made comment on the quality of work.

Walter Johnson Says Senators Balanced

BILOXI, Miss., March 2. (AP)—Walter Johnson has a healthy respect for the Athletics and Yankees, but there is a big "if" attached to even their pennant chances, as the Washington manager sees things.

"If they don't uncover some good pitchers, we'll beat them out easier than a lot of people expect," he said.

"Clubs like Detroit and Cleveland are going to knock off the good teams often, but they lack balance which is necessary over a long stretch.

"We'll have substitutes on hand this year almost as good as our regulars."

Appearances

"Never judge by appearances, says Tilford Moots who wuz held up an' robbed in his own home by a caller with a furcoat an' chauffeur.

"Jest because a feller drives a big car it ain't no sign he's paid fer it.

"An' it ain't safe to bawl out a guy in a flivver these days till you've checked up in the social register.

"It's a sign o' the times. Look at cigars. You can't tell a five-cent rocky ford with the band off from the kind your boss used to keep locked up in his bottom drawer.

"An' a list of the men I've heard of who smoke 'em 'ud read like a Blue Book."

ROCKY FORD is long-filler, Sumatra-wrapped. Made in a sunlit factory, the pride and show-factory of Richmond, Va. . . . a factory as clean as a modern bakery . . . a factory that is automatic machine-equipped throughout.

Service Tells
During Cold Spells

When the piercing winds came out of the North, together with heavy snows, and the drop of mercury shivered and sought refuge at the bottom of your thermometer you were

WARM

The comfort you enjoyed was not due to any accident—but was the result of the untiring labor of hundreds of employees of an organization which spares nothing in its efforts to keep faith with you. While you were sitting in front of your fire, while you were eating a warm appetizing meal, while you were enjoying a good night's rest, these men were fighting hard and unflinchingly against the bitter elements, perishing winds, ice and snow — TO INSURE YOUR PERFECT COMFORT.

The Result of These Efforts Is ....Service

Natural Gas, without SERVICE, is of little advantage—like a gun without a shell. When, however, it enjoys the companionship of a whole-hearted service, which we strive unceasingly to give, it becomes immediately the most beneficial, economical and dependable fuel known to man.

For Ginger's Sake

ders.

"You are just lost building birds' nests here in the woods, Benito. You should go in for diplomacy. The way you handle Jenky now! She says it is all right, does she? But how about all that money for fare?"

"Miss Ginger, I tell you what. You pay me to Chicago, and I'll pay me back."

"And do you promise faithfully that you will come back? Can we depend on you?"

Benito laid a large hand in the general direction of his heart.

"Miss Ginger", he said solemnly, "I come. My heart she will bring me."

"It's too bad that she won't pay your railroad fare," interrupted Bard facetiously.

Since he had set his heart upon going there was nothing to do but acquiesce, and Ginger, half-fearing he would not return, held out as many inducements as she could.

"You know we're going to be making money here pretty soon," she said. "We've more than paid our expenses already, and it is largely due to you, Benito. You stand by us and we'll see that you don't lose by it."

Again and again he promised He was sentimental about going away. He walked slowly through the grounds, filled all the bird bowls with fresh water cleared the debris from the fountain, watered the flowers.

He took a look at every garden spot, rubbed down Mrs. Carter, the mare, and clucked jovially to the chickens. He pulled in his old boat, tightened up the bolts, shook out the rugs and blankets, and emptied the cans of bait.

"Benito, you are coming back, aren't you?" asked Ginger, tagging at his heels. "You wouldn't just say it to fool me?"

"Tomorrow I will come back—if not tomorrow, then Saturday. You be here on Saturday. You'll see. And Miss Jenky, too."

"He'll make it Saturday, I'll bet Mrs. Carter," said Bard. "He's dramatic enough to want the gang on hand to give him welcome."

Ginger drove him to the train, stopping at Ben and Jenky's for a fond adieu, and for the first time Miss Jenkins had the experience of having her hand kissed. It flustered that dear lady a great deal.

"Mr. Benito," she said, "now don't you forget to come back. Seems like we just couldn't stand that place without you."

"The real trouble with having him," thought Ginger, "is the slump that lies ahead of us when we lose him."

But she had many things on her mind—Bard's portraits, in particular, as she was torn between the desire to promote his professional success and to keep him away from the better-looking girls of the community.

In the end her better nature triumphed, but the days were not without their sadder moments. She had never before realized the utter shamelessness of the nicest girls of her acquaintance in forcing their attention on entirely different and disinterested men.

It was after a particularly trying hour, when Miriam Updike had quite overstepped the proprieties for young ladies having their portraits painted by lighting with her own hands and at her own lips a cigaret for the encumbered artist, that Phil greeted her with deadly news, delivered it smiling, as though it were something to rejoice over.

"Oh, Ginger," she cried, "I have a surprise for you. Do you remember Speed Roney? He is coming out for a visit. He is in New York now, and will be here in a day or two. He's going to wire us."

Ginger gasped audibly.

"Coming out? Coming here? Who's he going to visit?" she ejaculated.

"Why, us, of course, dear."

"Oh, us of course," repeated Ginger. "How—nice! Speed Roney—dear me!" She looked helplessly at her father, hopelessly at Phil, yearningly at Bard. "C-couldn't we put him off a while?"

"Why, darling. You are so fond of Speed."

"Y-yes, of course," she faintly assented. "But it is a very inopportune time—I'm pretty busy right now—what with Mill Rush—Bard's portraits—Benito gone—"

"Oh, dearest, I am so sorry." Phil sounded most contrite. "I only asked him to come for your sake—because you were so bored."

"Oh," Ginger pulled herself together and gave a hoarse little laugh. "Dear me! So I was. Well," she added dryly, 'fancy I'm going to be a whole lot boreder in the next 10 days."

"Will he stay here at Doorndee?" asked Bard almost jealously. 'Perhaps it would be more convenient for me to move in town—out of the way."

"Don't!" Ginger laid a detaining hand upon his arm. "The more the merrier. Always room for one more. Safety in numbers. The burned child dreads the fire. All that sort of thing. Phil," she said suddenly, "let's ask Eddy Jackson to come too, to help liven things up—I'm—so—bored." But she laughed strangely.

Services Today For Mrs. Solon Johnson

Funeral services will be held at the First Presbyterian church this afternoon for Mrs. Helen Mary Johnson, 50, who died Sunday morning at her home, 2616 Twenty-first street.

Mrs. Johnson was the wife of Solon Johnson, insurance agent and former Presbyterian minister. She had been a resident of Lubbock for the last four and a half years.

The ballbearers are:

R. C. Harvey, Dr. W. C. Holden, J. F. Anthony, Joe Caldwell, Dr. E. L. Reed, T. R. Prideaux, John Jarrett, D. A. Forbess and L. G. Beard.

Dr. Jack M. Lewis and Rev. G. D. Robinson will officiate. Burial will be in Lubbock cemetery under direction of Rix-Sanders funeral home.

Mrs. Johnson is survived by her widower; a sister, Mrs. W. R. Fay of Springfield, Mass., and a niece, Miss Helen Chase of Lubbock. Mrs. Johnson was born in Massachusetts. She was a member of the Presbyterian church.

In eight months more than 600,000 persons visited the Adler planetarium at Chicago.

It costs more than $96,000,000 a year to operate the Chicago public schools.

Farmers in the United States spend about $350,000,000 annually for fertilizer.

The common house rat is the most destructive rodent in the United States.

Run-Down, Weak Nervous?

To have plenty of firm flesh and the ability to do a big day's work and feel "like a two-year old" at night, you must eat three good meals a day, relish your food and properly digest it. If you can't eat, can't sleep, can't work, just give Tanlac the chance to do for you what it has done for millions.

Mrs. Fred Westin, of 387 E. 57th St. North, Portland, Ore., says: "Tanlac cured my stomach trouble completely after three years of suffering. It built me up to perfect health, with a gain of 27 lbs. That was two years ago, and I still enjoy the best of health."

Tanlac is wonderful for indigestion and constipation—gas pains, nausea, dizziness and headaches. It brings back lost appetite, helps you digest your food, and gain strength and weight. It contains no mineral drugs; it is made of roots, barks and herbs, nature's own medicines for the sick. The cost is less than 2c a dose. Get a bottle from your druggist. Your money back if it doesn't help.

Cotton Cotton Eases Off On Later Trading Livestock Prices Unevenly Steady To Higher Grain Easy Disposal Is Seen On Monday

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, March 2. (AP)—Although the cotton market started off quite active and advanced 10 points or half a dollar a bale in the early trading it later became quieter and eased off quite sharply from the early highs, losing 17 to 18 points.

The decline was due to realizing at first but later was influenced by an easier stock market which induced selling by ring traders and by recent buyers.

The early gain probably was influenced by the more favorable news from India indicating an early settlement of the political troubles in that country. The market ruled rather easy all afternoon in sympathy with a lower stock market and made new lows on some months 18 to 19 points below the early highs. There was a slight rally of 3 to 4 points at the end and the general market closed steady at net declines for the day of 5 points.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, March 2. (AP)—An opening advance in cotton on relaiively firm Liverpool cables and reports of prospects for a settlement of political disputes in India was checked by realising combined with local and southern selling today. May contracts, after advancing to 11.48 at the start, sold off to 11.27 in the later trading, and closed at 11.31 with the general market closing steady at net declines of 3-7 points.

The opening was steady 7-12 points higher in response to the firmness of Liverpool, the Indian political news, and continued favorable reports from cotton cloth markets. Reports of further rains in South Texas where wet weather is said to be causing some delay in farm work may also have been a factor on the opening advance which carried March up to 11.22 and October to 11.56. The demand was quite readily supplied at these figures, however, and prices later reacted under realizing or liquidation which seemed to be combined with some southern and local selling for a reaction.

Prices Give Way All Directions As Market Opens With A Relapse

BY JOHN L. COOLEY
Associated Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK, March 2. (AP)—The convalescent stock market began the new month with a relapse today.

Prices gave way in all directions. Net losses ranged from 1-5 points, which has been the extent of some recent reactions, but the decline in the standard statistics index covering 90 stocks—3.3 points—was the largest suffered by that group this year.

After early efforts to stir up interest in specialties, motors and motor accessories, bull pool operators stood aside and rather large selling orders were executed for both accounts. Brokerage houses reported that bids were being placed well below the market, so that, lacking much intermediate support, quotations slipped off rapidly in the last hour, the most active period of the day. Sales totaled 3,300,000 shares.

Wall Street's reaction to the treasury financing was an expression of relief that the uncertainty was over and that a clearer idea of the demands of the bonus loan payments would be obtained soon if not immediately. The $1,400,000,000 total of new government securities to be sold March 15 indicates that the treasury expects veterans' borrowings in the next month to total about $700,000,000, although an equal sum probably will be needed before the mid-June financing.

Heavy Snows

that the North Plains Coaches would be operating between Lubbock and Amarillo. The South Plains coaches also expect to continue their services to Sweetwater and Lamesa, and the Pioneer lines plan to be operating on their assigned schedules.

The Texas Motor Ways, Inc., was able to operate busses into Ralls Monday, though it was found impossible to continue service into Dickens and Spur because of the heavy drifts in Blanco canyon.

Crops To Be Aided

The precipitation from melting snow is expected to air crops in general and to benefit winter wheat over the Panhandle. Temperatures have not been low enough to cause any loss in livestock.

The heavy wet snow that fell Saturday night is said to be the second heaviest snow to fall in Lubbock during March since the establishment of the state experiment station here, according to Don L. Jones, superintendent. Seven inches of snow fell Saturday, 16.5 inches fell March 4, 1915.

The maximum temperature reported Monday from the state experiment station was 47; the minimum was 16 degrees the coldest temperature record in the state, according to dispatches, and being the second lowest reading for Lubbock this winter. A temperature of 12 degrees was recorded here late in December.

Sixteen Dead Result Storms

LONDON, March 2. (AP)—Railroads were blocked, highways were impassable and communication lines were down in many parts of Europe tonight as a bitter wind blew snow across the continent from Russia to France.

Sweden and Denmark were under heavy drifts; in England the snow was two or three inches deep in the south, seven or eight inches in the north with deep drifts in the mountains of Scotland, Wales and Ulster.

The gale made bad weather in the channel and the north sea. Sixteen men were believed to have drowned off Fraserburgh, Scotland, when a Dutch trawler went down and heavy seas prevented rescuers from going out in small boats. One body was washed ashore.

Bankers Meet Is Postponed

FLOYDADA, March. 2. (AP)—Highways blocked with snow and ice today forced postponement of the semi-annual meeting of the Caprock Bankers' association. J. V. Daniel, member of the local entertainment committee, said a new date for the meeting had not been chosen.

Drouth relief financing was to have been the principal subject for discussion. Bankers of Floyd, Crosby, Motley and Dickens county are members of the association.

Drouth Loans

high character were unable to meet the requirements set up by Hyde.

The Arkansas senator exhibited a pair of tattered and patched overalls to demonstrate the plight of farmers in his state as a result of the drouth.

"A farmer down there has sent me his overalls," Caraway said, referring to charges of exaggeration of distress, "and I think they do not indicate that our stories of want have been overdrawn."

Hyde told the senate administration of the supplemental fund had been delayed in order to set up the administrative plan but that "there exists now no reason why applications for loans may not be received and payment made shortly thereafter."

COL. LEEPER DIES

SHERMAN, March 2. (AP)—Colonel Graves Leeper, 76, former secretary of state in Oklahoma, died here today after an acute attack of diabetes.

Livestock

MIDDLEWESTERN LIVESTOCK

KANSAS CITY, March 2. (AP)—(U. S. Dept. Agr.)—Curtailed supplies of cattle had a stimulating influence to the trade on most killing classes. Prices were unevenly steady to 25 higher. Fed steers and light yearlings at some points took the full 25 advance. Big packers, however, bought very sparingly and at a few points outsiders practically made the market. Chicago had a top of 11.25 on choice heavy steers and secured 10.50 for yearlings. Choice 1200-1312 lb. steers at Omaha and Kansas City reached 10.00. There also was a little better action on stocker and feeder classes at firm to 25 higher values. Choice stock steer calves in Kansas City sold up to 8.50 and several loads of yearling stockers brought 8.00. Receipts were estimated at 47,000.

FORT WORTH LIVESTOCK

FORT WORTH, March 2. (AP)—(U. S. Dept. Agr.)—Hogs: 1,200; steady; truck top 7.10; rail top 7.00; bulk 170-220 lb. truck hogs 6.90-7.00; few packing sows 5.50, or steady.

Cattle: 4,500; slaughter steers and yearlings weak to lower; medium weight few steers on order 6.75; fairly good fat yearlings 6.25-6.40; butcher cows about steady. few cat cows up to 4.50; butcher cows around 3.25-3.65; stock steer yearlings 7.00 and plain stock steers 5.50, about steady; slaughter calves fairly active, 25-50 higher; good heavies on short yearling order 6.75, other weighty averages around 6.25 down.

Sheep: 2,200; steady; good fat lambs 7.00; good fat lambs carrying few yearlings 6.85; medium grades 6.00-6.50; yearlings and 2-year-old wethers 5.00.

Cleanup Work

tricts had been chosen this morning.

To Employ About 300

Attaches of the emergency employment committee of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce and Board of City Development, which adopted the plan, expect employment to be furnished about 300 men for two to four weeks. Lots in both business and residential areas will be cleaned.

Only men receiving work orders from the employment office at United Charities headquarters will be permitted by district foremen to work on the lots. Members of the committee Monday morning stated that men having families or young men who had dependents who had lived here six months or more were to receive preference today. No outsiders will be given jobs.

To Furnish Own Tools

Workmen will be expected to furnish their own rakes and hoes. Trash and debris which cannot be burned on the lots will be hauled to the city dump grounds in trucks.

The employment committee estimated that there were approximately 3,600 vacant lots in need of cleaning here.

District foremen who met Sunday with General Foreman Clark, minimum number of men to be used in each district, and point at which work will start, respectively, follow:

New Theater Will Be Erected In Amarillo At $400,000 Cost

AMARILLO, March 2. (AP)—Announcement of a new theater for Amarillo, at an estimated cost of $400,000, was made today by the Paramount-Publix corporation of New York through the local chamber of commerce, construction to begin within two weeks.

The building, which will be 140 by 180 feet, will be erected by Amarillo men at Ninth and Polk. The theater will have a seating capacity of 1,800. Latest equipment will be installed.

Three Negroes Charged With Throwing Man From A Train

GROESBECK, March 2, (AP) — Three negroes pleading guilty at Corsicana today to attempting to wreck a train were indicted here later in the day for murder, charged with throwing Charles Hunter of Lawrenceburg, Tenn., off a freight train near Kosse recently. The men were "Sonny" Miller, Cal English, and Tom Henry Armstrong. Rufus Hunter, a brother of the slain youth, appeared as a witness before the grand jury.

Grain

FORT WORTH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, March 2. (AP)—Cash grain receipts here today were heavy but fair demand was reported and offerings were easily disposed of. Estimated receipts: wheat 69 cars; corn 13; oats, 7; sorghums 8, and cane seed, 4 cars.

Quotations ranged as follows, basis carloads delivered Texas common points, freight paid.

Wheat, No. 1 hard of any protein 77 1-2, 80.

Corn, No. 2 mixed 67 1-2, 68 1-2; No. 2 white 70 1-2, 71 1-2; No. 2 yellow 69 1-2, 70 1-2.

Oats, No. 2 red 41 1-2, 42; (No. 3 white delivered Texas group one points 40 3-4, 41 3-4.)

Sorghums, No. 2 milo per 100 lbs 1.17, 1.19; No. 2 kaffir 1.15, 1.17. Cane seed, bulk country run red top per 100 lbs, according to type, germination, origin and clean-out 2.50, 2.60.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, March 2. (AP)—Bigger farm stocks of wheat than expected, and another increase of commercial visible supplies, with primary receipts persistently above normal, pulled wheat prices downward today. Monthly unofficial estimates indicated that forecasts of heavy use of wheat as livestock feed had been much exaggerated, and that 35,000,000 bushels more wheat than a year ago was now available in the United States. Assertions that Gulf of Mexico export sales of wheat by government sponsored agencies had been made at satisfactory prices in competition with Canadian wheat failed to act as a counterbalance.

Wheat closed irregular, 1 cent lower to 1-4 advance, corn 1-4, 3-4 down, oats unchanged to 5-8 off, and provisions showing a rise of 5 to 27 cents.

Acting as a further weight on wheat was knowledge that 4,308,000 bushels had been delivered on Chicago March contracts, and that 1931 domestic winter wheat yields promised a harvest of 850,000,000 bushels, compared with 804,000,000 last year and a 5-year average of 590,000,000. Farm stocks of wheat were unofficially estimated as the largest since 1921. The average of private estimates was 143,000,000 bushels, against a five-year average of 125,000,000.

Boom Raids

sons suspected of having criminal records.

Among the rangers were five under command of Capt. Albert Mace from the Rio Grande neighborhood. Capt. Mace was mayor of Mexia when that town was a roaring oil boom community.

Ride Into City

The border rangers rode into Kilgore on ponies, wearing the hats, chaps and guns which make up their customary garb while scouting along the Rio Grande. Directed by Ranger Sergeant M. T. Gonzaullas of Dallas, they directed their main efforts toward cleaning up the shack town of Newton, west of Kilgore.

Later they returned to Kilgore, driving a dozen prisoners on foot before them. Sergeant Gonzaullas, who had been in Kilgore for several days prior to the raids, said several persons with criminal records were in the lot rounded up.

Police Chief P. K. McIntosh, city attorney, Randolph Caldwell and Mayor Malcolm Crim, all indicted into office after the town's recent incorporation, said newcomers were welcome to the town if they were not undesirables, McIntosh and his officers worked with the rangers.

Thirty Jailed

At eight o'clock tonight, all but thirty of those arrested had been released. The thirty were taken to the jail at Longview.

The recently vacated Baptist church was used to house the arrested men during their examination. Because the prisoners complained of the cold, natural gas was quickly piped to the building, and stoves were installed.

No gambling paraphernalia or liquor was seized, as in the case of big raids at Mexia and other boom towns in Texas' oil history. One man was found to have a small quantity of a narcotic on his person.

Death Asked

sician, that shock, exposure, exhaustion and cerebral hemorrhage caused Miss Draves' death, basing his decision on the hypothetical question submitted to Dr. Burcham, who performed the autopsy. Shock induced by assault, would have been the "outstanding cause," he said.

Question Is Framed

Ronald Oldham, in opening defense cross-examination asked: "Supposing this hypothetical girl had voluntary relationship with our hypothetical boy, do you think a fall upon a concrete floor, causing cerebral hemorrhage would have killed her?"

Stoner glanced at Judge Crumpacker.

"You can't appeal to the court," snapped Oldham. "I framed the question so you couldn't dodge it."

"I don't want to dodge it," the doctor snapped back.

"I do not mean in a derogatory way, doctor," cut in Oldham. "I mean in a medical way."

"Yes, it could have killed her," the physician concluded.

It is the defense contention that Miss Draves' fall upon the porch floor at the Thompson home brought on her death.

Queen Crowned In Colorful Pageant At Amarillo Show

AMARILLO, March 2. (AP)—In a colorful pageant that marked the opening night, Miss Agnes Beasley, daughter of J. N. Beasley, prominent Amarillo grain man, and sister of Irene Beasley, widely known vaudeville and recording artist, tonight was crowned queen of Amarillo's first annual fat stock show.

Princesses and maids of honor in the queen's court came from two dozen Panhandle cities. Former Governor R. C. Dillon of New Mexico was master of ceremonies. A ball for the queen and her court at this city's new university club was scheduled to follow the coronation.

ARMY CHIEF DIES

PANAMA CITY, March 2. (AP) — Lieutenant-General Edgar Jadwin, former chief of engineers of the United States, army, died unexpectedly of a cerebral hemorrhage in Gorgas hospital at 5 o'clock this afternoon.

Champion Daredevils Of The Air

Meet the world champion daredevils of the air! They're Tex Rankin, left, and Dorothy Hester, center, who have just established new men's and women's records for consecutive outside loops, the most dangerous stunt in aviation. Rankin, with 78 loops, broke the old record of 46, while Miss Hester performed the difficult feat five times, two more than the previous women's mark. The flyers are shown here with Edward Cunningham, field manager of a Glendale, Calif., airport where the records were set.

NEWS BRIEFS

Herschel Brown, who has been foreman of the state highway department at the Lubbock sub-district headquarters, has been transferred to Post where he succeeds G. E. McPherson, assigned to the Lubbock post.

The change is effective this week. At Post, the highway maintenance work for Garza and Lynn counties is handled.

'Tis an ill wind that blows no one any good. Because of the heavy snow and wet streets, Lubbock merchants Monday morning decided to continue Dollar Day through Monday and Tuesday.

Mrs. D. M. Merritt of Colorado died in a hospital of that city Monday night following a serious operation, according to word received by relatives here. Mrs. Merritt was the niece of Mrs. G. G. Johnson and Mrs. Floyd Beall, both of Lubbock. The local women are to leave today for Colorado. Mrs. Merritt's mother-in-law, Mrs. J. G. Merrit, is well known in Lubbock, having visited here on numerous occasions.

Prisoners To Be Brought Here Today For Scheduled Trials

O. B. Conley, deputy sheriff, left for Plainview early this morning to bring to Lubbock six prisoners now lodged in the Hale county jail.

These men's trials appear on the criminal docket of the 72nd district court, and are expected to come to trial sometime this week.

Since the Lubbock county jail has been torn down and since the city jail offers only limited facilities, county prisoners have been kept at Plainview until their trials.

The men that will be brought to Lubbock today are: Boyd Moore, charged with forgery. Raymond Short, charged with arson. Dale McMinnis, charged with arson. Frank King, charged with robbery with firearms. Paul Hain, charged with robbery with firearms and C. V. Kennemore, charged with theft.

FIFTH WELL IS IN

HENDERSON, March 2. (AP)—The Carter Powell number one Mayfield Alford well on the J. Ximines survey came in today for an estimated 2,400 barrels daily. It was the fifth well in the Joiner area to come in during the last three days.

American concrete paving machines are being used on the Central Highway of Cuba.

Snake Berth Mate Of Man On Train

NEW YORK, March 2. (AP)—A fourteen-foot king cobra, largest of poisonous serpents, was the pullman berth mate of Dr. Raymond L. Ditmars the other day on a trip to Washington, D. C.

Dr. Ditmars was delivering the snake to the National zoo from the Bronx zoo, where he is curator of reptiles and mammals. A fat man in the berth above the curator objected to what he thought was whistling on the part of the occupant of the lower berth. It was the snake, purring in contentment because he was nice and warm.

The cobra travelled in a leather handbag in the foot of the berth. Dr. Ditmars covered the bag with a blanket and curled his feet about it.

"No one knew I had a snake," said the curator. "I thought it might be just as well not to mention it."

Cobras must be kept in a temperature of 70 degrees or more. That was the reason for the personally conducted trip.

Local Rotarians Postpone Trip To Plainview; Roads Too Bad

The program which was to have been put on at a meeting of the Plainview Rotary club today by Lubbock Rotarians has been postponed indefinitely, Dr. W. A. Jackson, president of the local organization, announced last night.

The muddy condition of the roads was given as reason for postponement. Neil Wright, chairman of Inter-city Relations committee of the Lubbock club, was to have been in charge of the program.

Greenville Man Killed When Car Crashes Rear Of Truck

GREENVILLE, March 2. (AP)—Leopold Bodenheimer, 38, was almost instantly killed tonight on the Greenville-Dallas highway, five miles southwest of here, when the automobile in which he and Sam Hayam, 26, were riding crashed into the rear of a truck loaded with lumber. Bodenheimer's skull was crushed, his face was badly mangled, and both arms were broken. Hayam suffered a broken right leg and face lacerations.

ADOPT HEAVY PROGRAM

DALLAS, March 2. (AP)—E. E. Germany of the independent oil firm of Cranfill and Germany said here today the company had adopted a million dollar drilling and construction program calling for the drilling of more than 40 wells in the East Texas field within the next few months.

The company will construct a 50-car loading rack at Willow Springs and lay gathering lines to it from their wells.

Cotton Co-Op Active In Area

Approximately 80,000 Bales Have Been Handled By District No. 2, According To Charles M. Davis

Approxomately 80,000 bales of cotton, or over 20 percent of the total ginnings for the district, have been handled by District No. 2 of the Texas Cotton Cooperative association for the 1930 crop, Charles M. Davis, manager, announces.

"We are well satisfied with the results in the district," Mr. Davis said. "Considering the season and the short crop, we have done very well.

"It was expected at the beginning of the season that we would get 100,000 bales of cotton in this district. I know of one storm that cost us at least 10,000 bales. Several farmers declared that it really cost the cooperatives 20,000 bales.

"Our membership is increasing. There is more interest this year than ever before in farmers securing longer staple and pure seed. I believe we will go over the top in this district this year."

Lubbock Leading

Lubbock's branch office continues to hold the lead in the way of number of bales received. Totals for the week ending Saturday were 16,745, or nearly 100 bales more than the next largest office, Wellington, which had 16,660 bales.

Other large offices in the district include the following South Plains towns: Lamesa, 5,248; Levelland, 6,735; O'Donnell, 2,800; Littlefield, 6,480; Brownfield, 7,000.

The Lubbock branch will be kept open for the remainder of the year. It is in connection with the district office and is handling the receipts for all nearby towns.

Brownfield To Close

It is expected that K. B. McWilliams in charge of the Brownfield office, will close his work there this week. A receiving agent will be named to succeed him.

Some cotton is being received at Levelland and Littlefield. These offices probably will be maintained for a little while longer.

A receiving agent is in charge at O'Donnell.

The Lubbock branch with approximately 80,000 bales, ranks second in percentage of the ginnings for the year and fourth in total number of bales, latest figures announced from the general offices of the association at Dallas, show.

The receipts are slightly less than 21 per cent of the ginning total as shown by the latest government figures. Ginnings were 381,371 bales.

Lubbock also ranks second in total membership in the state, 10,590 farmers holding memberships here. Only the Dallas district has a larger number of members.

In percentage, Abilene with 60,497 bales out of 275,130 bales ginned, has 22 percent of the total handled through the cooperative group. This was the smallest unmber of bales handled by any district.

Approximately 72,000 Indian children are in schools in the United States this year.

More than 600,000 reindeer are in Alaska now as compared with about 1,200 40 years ago.

AC COLLEGE COLUMN

By MARSHALL FORMBY, TECH CORRESPONDENT

REGISTRATION DATE CHANGED

Registeration date for the spring term has been changed to Monday, March 23 by a recent ruling of the college officials. The annual Tech bulletin gives the registration date of the spring term as being Saturday, March 21 which is the day following winter term examinations.

All college instructors are to turn in failure cards for the winter term by March 20, according to E. L. Dohoney, Tech registrar. Students are requested to turn in their gradebooks to the office within the next few days.

The change of registration date will give many of the students an opportunity of visiting their homes between the terms. Most students will finish their exams by Thursday or at least by Saturday of the exam week which begins March 16.

TO HOLD PLAY TOURNEY

Approximately twenty schools will be represented in the Interscholastic league one-act play tournament at the college March 28, states Miss Anna Jo Pendleton, acting head of the Speech department, and who is district tournament manager. The winner of this district which is number 16, will be eligible to enter the regional meet which probably will be held at Abilene.

The plays will be held in the auditorium of the chemistry building. All schools who are to enter the contest must have their $5 deposit fee in to Miss Pendleton by March 18.

IS CAMPUS VISITOR

Bailey Carroll, Tech graduate and former member of the history department faculty, was a visitor on the campus yesterday.

Carroll is studying toward his Ph.D. degree at the University of Texas this year.

WILL ENTER CONTEST

Before leaving for Fort Worth Friday where the following day they will judge at a livestock judging contest at the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show the six members of the junior stock judging team of Tech will get plenty of practice this week. The six who were chosen Saturday to make up the Tech team include: James Dominy, Jason Gordon, E. Liner, W. McKinney, F. Nix and B. E. Snyder. The team is under the direction of Professor Ray C. Mowery, Tech livestock judge coach.

Twelve students in the Tech school of agriculture have been working out for the team for some time under the direction of Mr. Mowery. Several nearby places have been visited for the class members to get practice on the different kinds of stock beside the animals on the Tech farm. The other six besides those chosen on the team who worked out for the squad include Leo Beaver, B. Chesser, M. Hale, W. A. King, L. Moore, and E. Turbiville.

MATERIAL OFF TO PRINTER

The first shipment of material for the 1931 Tech annual, La Ventana, is to be sent to the printer today, R. C. Marshall, editor, said late yesterday. The Economy Advertising company of Iowa City, Iowa has the printing contract.

The material sent today already has been engraved by the Star-Telegram Engraving company of Fort Worth which has the engraving contract.

RESORT TO ICE WAGON

Student employees of the Tech student dairy department, determined to deliver milk yesterday despite the snow, hooked a team to an ice wagon and did the job very nicely, though slowly. Most of the cases of milk were carried from the milk cooler in the home economics building to Broadway by the students by hand.

A picture of the students in the department appears in the new pictorial bulletin recently issued by the college. Professor K. M. Renner is head of the department.

DEBATE McMURRY TONIGHT

Defending the negative of the question, "Resolved, That the Nations Should Adopt a Policy of Free Trade", a Tech debating team made up of Bill Sewell, Slaton, and Wayne Castleberry, Eastland, will meet a team from McMurry college at Abilene tonight.

The Tech debaters in company with Miss Anna Jo Pendleton, director of debate left for Abilene yesterday at noon. They were scheduled to debate Abilene Christian college team last night, taking the negative of the same question.

The engagement tonight probably will be Sewell's last debate for Texas Tech, he having been on the Tech squad for four years.

RETURN FROM CONFERENCE

Ten delegates from Texas Tech returned yesterday morning from Dallas where they attended the North Texas Student's conference which was under the auspices of the "Y" associations. The students were accompanied by Jack Boyd, Tech YMCA secretary and Miss Jo Wilder, Tech YWCA secretary. Mrs. Boyd also accompanied the delegates.

LIBRARIAN SPEAKS

Mrs. James Kilday, one of the librarians of the Houston public schools spoke yesterday morning at 11 o'clock in the auditorium of the chemistry building on "The Use of the Library". Several 11 o'clock classes were dismissed in order that the class members might hear Mrs. Kilday.

"I find that although the Tech library is very young, there are some rare collections of books in it" Mrs. Kilday said. "I also find many very interesting books in your library."

President Paul W. Horn who is a former superintendent of the Houston public schools presided over the meeting.

CAUGHT IN SNOW

Several Tech students who spent last week-end in their homes in the various parts of West Texas were unable to reach school until yesterday afternoon due to the heavy snow Saturday night. It is estimated that more students spent the week-end at home during the past week-end than during any previous week-end this term.

Co-eds, like Tech men, donned their boots and trousers yesterday to wade the snow on the campus. It was about the biggest snow some of the students from South Texas ever witnessed.

Effect Saving On Road Work

Johnston Declares 14 Cents Or More Per Square Yard Saved On Highway No. 9 In Lubbock County

A saving of 14 cents or more a square yard on the slab for highway No. 9 between Lubbock and Abernathy, was made by the state highway department in the letting of a bid to the Interstate Construction company for the paving of 16 miles of slab, Guy R. Johnston, construction engineer for the state highway department, says.

"The Interstate people made a bid of $1.86 per square yard, or about 14 cents under the cost of the Slaton paving," Mr. Johnson said. "It looks like the county will be able to save a little money on that job."

The firm, according to Mr. Johnston, is an Oklahoma City firm, and has been handling some road work around Yoakum, Texas. Their present field headquarters for the state are there, he said.

Activity Expected

"There should be considerable activity around here by the middle of March," Mr. Johnston continued. "I do not think that any concrete will be poured before the first of April.

"This is an emergency contract and under the rulings of the state highway department, work will begin as soon as possible. I believe that the material will begin coming in pretty soon. The machinery should be here by the middle of March."

Work will be started on the south end of the project. It is thought that the slab will be completed as far north as the airport by the middle of May so that the municipal airport may be officially opened during the coming West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention here May 14 to 16.
