Public Hearing Set On School Budget

Public hearing on the 1960-61 budget of the Big Spring Independent School District will be held at 7:30 p.m. today in the administration offices of the district, 10th and Runnels.

After several weeks study and several minor changes, trustees open the doors today to discuss the proposed budget with interested residents.

Although the $2,361,800 budget sets a new high record for the district, it is only four per cent more than the current budget. Normal growth has been given as the reason for the higher expenditures.

This portion of the proposed budget is $1,622,560, or 68 per cent of the total.

Of the total budgeted amount for instruction, 94 per cent will go for salaries, the remainder for expenses incurred by the teaching and supervisory staff members.

Two new appearances in the budget include a general supervisor of instruction and clerical help for school principals. The supervisor is listed at a salary of $7,500 and the total cost for the clerical assistants is $13,500.

Instruction, $1,622,560 ($1,491,546);
Attendance service $11,825 ($11,414).
Health service, $14,580 ($14,343);
Transportation, $12,650 ($13,400);
Plant operation, $180,500 ($163,900);
Plant maintenance, $67,500 ($68,750);
Fixed charges, $15,650 ($17,250);
Athletic expense, $30,000 ($30,000);
Community service, $1,000 ($1,000);
Total operational $2,067,059 ($1,913,127);
Capital outlay $106,135 ($145,158);
Debt service $188,606 ($195,033);
Total budget $2,361,800 ($2,253,318).

Neutralists Stage Revolt In Tiny Laos

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—A neutralist military revolutionary committee overthrew the pro-Western government of Laos today, radio broadcasts from the capital at Vientiane declared.

However, the revolutionary committee ordered military commanders in the little Asian kingdom to avoid bloodshed and keep their forces away from "adversary units." This indicated not all the army was behind the coup d'etat.

It was also considered possible that the rebels were not in complete control of the capital but had seized the radio station and were broadcasting communiques.

One of the communiques said one of the committee's neutralist aims is to expel all foreigners from the country. This would be a severe blow at the Laotian army itself. The French and a U. S. military team of 24 train the 30,000-man army of Laos to help it resist the Communist rebels in the country.

More important, the United States pays all the costs of the Laotian army, provides other aid and backs the nation's currency. The United States has poured 165 million dollars into the kingdom since 1955.

In addition to the U. S. military advisers, there are about 80 Americans in Laos helping in the aid program. There was no word of the fate of Premier Tiao Somsanith, a good friend of the United States who took office in May after April elections. Reports circulated in neighboring Thailand that many Laotian government officials had been arrested, but they made no specific mention of Somsanith.

Airlines reported the Vientiane airport closed to all flights. The revolution came in what had appeared to be a period of relative calm. Just 13 months ago the pro-Communist Pathet Lao rebels, supported by neighboring North Viet Nam, ignited guerrilla warfare in northern Laos. The trouble spread southward but calmed after the United Nations sent a representative to look things over.

Traffic Group Slates Meet

Four items are slated for consideration when the traffic commission meets Wednesday, 5:15 p.m. at city hall. They include reorganization of the driver education school and re-zoning speed limits around schools.

The driver education school was discussed favorably at the last commission meeting, as was a revision of school zone traffic control.

A report on city participation in the National Safety Council program will also be considered by the commission.

Loading zone designations for areas downtown are due discussion, according to Bruce Dunn, executive-secretary of the group.

Russians Claim Powers Guilty Plea

MOSCOW (AP)—Francis Gary Powers has "pleaded guilty to the substance of the charge" that he spied on the Soviet Union in his U2 plane, the news agency Tass said today.

Tass said the guilt of the American flier, due to go on trial here Aug. 17, "is confirmed by material and written evidence," the findings of experts and the testimony of witnesses.

In Washington, the State Department had no comment on the Tass report.

Powers' father, Oliver W. Powers of Pound, Va., told a reporter the report could mean anything or "practically nothing."

"You can hear anything in the world," he said.

"Powers and his wife were visiting a daughter in Falls Church, Va., en route to Moscow for their son's trial. The father said they hoped they might be able to do something—"at least we can tell the American people what kind of chance he had."

The indictment against Powers, who parachuted from his crippled plane in the Urals May 1, was reported to total about 4,000 words.

Tass said the indictment was drawn up by the state security committee and was approved July 9 by Roman Rudenko, U.S.S.R. prosecutor general.

It accuses Powers of "having been engaged in active espionage against the Soviet Union, which represents a manifestation of the aggressive policy followed by the U. S. government."

Powers' high-flying plane came down near Sverdlovsk, east of Moscow. The Soviet version is that it was felled by an anti-aircraft rocket.

According to the indictment, Tass said, Powers "intruded into the airspace of the U.S.S.R. for the purpose of collecting intelligence of strategic nature on the location of rocket bases, airfields, radar network and other highly important defense and industrial objectives of the U.S.S.R."

Tass said Powers is accused under Soviet law "on criminal responsibilities for state crimes."

The crime of which the Pounts Va. flier is accused carries a penalty ranging from seven years imprisonment to death by shooting.

"The indictment notes," said Tass, "that it has been established by the preliminary investigation that Powers' spy flight was organized with the knowledge of the American government by an intelligence detachment specially designed to conduct espionage against the U.S.S.R. and based at the American-Turkish airbase of Incirlik."

Moscow has refused to let American diplomatic officials interview Powers, or to permit an American lawyer to defend him at his forthcoming trial. It has, however, granted his parents visas to attend the proceedings.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Democrats today slapped down a Republican move to pass a civil rights bill at the present hotball session of Congress. They accused the Republicans of playing politics and of trying to scuttle other legislation.

The battle came to a smashing climax shortly after it had been opened by Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois with the introduction of a two-point civil rights bill urged by President Eisenhower.

Sen. Joseph S. Clark (D-Pa.), a leading advocate of civil rights, moved to table and thus kill Dirksen's bill before it even had a chance to be placed on the Senate calendar.

The Senate approved the motion. The roll call vote was 54-28. Dirksen said that in offering the bill he was not trying to embarrass anybody but rather was seeking to carry out Eisenhower's legislative program.

He told the Senate that his move was "entirely free from political or partisan considerations."

But Democrats saw it differently. They called it political and insisted it was designed to embarrass them by pointing up the split between Northern and Southern Democrats over the civil rights issue.

Dirksen's bill would have set up a commission to try to end racial discrimination in government contract employment and would have provided aid for schools complying with the Supreme Court's desegregation program.

Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.) called Dirksen's move "a purely political byplay."

Russell earlier served notice he is prepared to use "every parliamentary weapon in the arsenal."

"If they expect to accomplish anything else," he said of sponsors of civil rights legislation, "they won't bring it up."

Russell spoke in an interview as Republicans maneuvered to force the test vote on the two civil rights proposals.

One would set up by law a commission to seek an end to racial hiring discrimination under government contracts. The other would help school districts meet added costs of integrating.

Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said he would offer Tuesday if not today, a bill embodying the President's recommendations. Both were omitted from a bill passed earlier this year.

Dirksen placed the bill on the Senate calendar for action without being referred to the Judiciary Committee, long a dead end for civil rights bills.

Dirksen said that if the tabling motion carried, he thought it would "just about wind up civil rights proceedings" for this session. The effect would be to route the bill to the Judiciary Committee.

For the Republicans the vote would have the advantage of pointing up the deep division between Northern and Southern Democrats over civil rights.

The present situation plays right into the hands of the Southerners because the Senate, in resuming work after a five-week recess for the national political conventions, is loaded down with unfinished business.

While there is no hard-and-fast deadline for winding up the session, leaders hope to adjourn by Labor Day to clear the track for election campaigning.

Earlier in the year, when it took the Senate eight weeks to pass a civil rights bill, the Southerners showed how completely they can tie the Senate in knots.

Senate Republicans Adopt Strategy To Push Ike Program By Every Means

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Republicans declared a strategy today of pressing President Eisenhower's legislative program by every possible means, including offering his proposals as riders to bills brought up by Democrats.

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, the Republican floor leader, introduced a bill to carry out Eisenhower's two civil rights proposals that were omitted from the civil rights legislation passed by Congress earlier this year after a bitter struggle.

A scrap over this move could point up the big split between Northern and Southern Democrats over the civil rights issue.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the Republican presidential nominee, attended the breakfast session with Eisenhower. The meeting ran nearly two hours.

Afterward, Nixon went back into the White House.

Dirksen told newsmen the discussion centered primarily on the President's legislative program but also touched on politics and the election campaign.

He said that Nixon "entered into the general discussion right along the line" and that the legislative leaders, rather than the President, did most of the talking.

In addition to Nixon and Dirksen, those attending the meeting were Sen. Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky, chairman of the Republican National Committee; Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel of California, the assistant GOP Senate leader; Sen. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire, chairman of the Senate GOP Policy Committee; and Sen. Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts, chairman of the Conference of All Republican Senators.

Stock Is Here, Raring To Go For 15th Annual Junior Rodeo

The stock is here and raring to go for the 15th Annual Howard County Junior Rodeo beginning Thursday.

Some 70 contestants have already filled out entry blanks and a last minute rush of entries is expected to swell that number substantially.

County Agent Jimmy Taylor expects the total to climb to about 150.

Some of the top contenders for the National Championships in the American Junior Rodeo Association have plunked down entrance fees and are ready to climb aboard whatever critter luck gives them Thursday.

LEADER ENTERED The leader for the title of National Champion calf roper, Bassett Smith of Plainville, is one of the cowboys already entered. The Waggoner, Okla., cowboy, Barry Burke, who stands in third place in the same event, is also entered.

Jim Whitefield, who holds a secure lead in bronc riding and also leads in bull riding, is entered as are his two closest competitors, Bugs Wright in the bronc riding and Charles Engle in bull riding.

riding. Both are of Big Spring.

Big Spring rodeo fans are proud of the fact that out of the top 10 contenders in the bull and bronc riding for the National Championship in the junior rodeo, four are from Big Spring.

Among the other entries is Nancy Bain of Columbus, N. M., who was world champion cowgirl last year and is riding in second place this year. She has appeared on the national television show, "To Tell the Truth." The advance sale of tickets has shown good results.

"The advance tickets are going better than during any of the previous years I have been here," Taylor stated.

Riding stock for the show is being furnished by Roland Reid of Fort Worth and was moved into Big Spring Sunday. Members of the 4-H Club are caring for the stock until the rodeo begins.

Lyndon Claims Ike Plans To Keep Arms Fund On Ice

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas asserted today that President Eisenhower intends to keep frozen $21 million dollars in defense funds voted by Congress.

Under those circumstances, Johnson told a news conference, the Democratic Congress wants to know whether it would be only spinning its wheels if it provides more funds for the accelerated national security program promised in both parties' platforms.

In a wide-ranging attack, Johnson, the Democratic vice-presidential nominee, suggested that

Eisenhower's submission of a 21-point legislative program to the hotball Congress session represents "panic that seeks to make up in one month for the lack of a record over 7 1/2 years."

Johnson announced he had received from Secretary of Defense Thomas S. Gates Jr. a report on the financial policies the Pentagon intends to follow.

Johnson said a quick reading of the report indicates that there was no answer to his Aug. 2 inquiry as to what additional defense funds, if any, would be spent if they were provided by Congress.

Girl Killed, 5 Hurt In Area Collision

A five-year old girl was killed and five persons injured, four of them seriously, in a two-car collision 26 miles south of Big Spring on U.S. 87 about 5:30 p.m. Monday.

Janice Ruff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Ruff, San Antonio, was dead upon arrival at the Sterling County Hospital. Funeral arrangements are pending at the Lowe Funeral Home at Sterling City.

SERIOUS INJURIES Mrs. Ruff, driver of one of the cars, and her two sons, Leslie Ruff, 14, and James Ruff, 5, were hospitalized with serious injuries.

Driver of the other car, Royce Haley, San Angelo, escaped serious injury and was not hospitalized.

His two passengers, M-Sgt. Jesse V. Shans and Maurice Bradford, also of San Angelo, were hospitalized.

Mrs. Ruff and the younger son are at Sterling County Hospital. She received bruises, numerous broken ribs, and shock, hospital officials said. The boy had both legs broken below the knee.

Mrs. Ruff's older son, along with Bradford, were admitted to Cowper Clinic and Hospital in Big Spring. The attending physician said that the Ruff boy received a compound fracture of the left thigh and a severe brain concussion, in addition to shock and several fractured ribs. Bradford received a severe brain concussion.

Sgt. Shans, stationed at Webb AFB was taken to Goodfellow AFB Hospital at San Angelo where he underwent treatment for bruises of the face and several broken ribs.

CAR SKIDDED Investigating highway patrol officers said Mrs. Ruff evidently lost control of her car rounding a curve. The pavement was wet, following a shower, and her car skidded into the path of Haley's car.

Both Haley and Bradford are civil service employes at Webb AFB.

Mrs. Ruff was said to be on her way to Colorado Springs, Colo., where she and her children were to leave to join her husband, stationed in Germany with the Army.

World War Peril Moves U. N. To Clear The Congo

UNITED NATIONS N.Y. (AP)—Warned that world war might erupt if the Congo crisis is not solved, the Security Council early today called for Belgian troops to give way to U.N. forces immediately in secessionist Katanga province.

In a resolution sponsored by Ceylon and Tunisia and adopted 9-0, the 11-nation council authorized Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold to arrange the change-over and asked him to report back. France and Italy abstained.

The 4 a.m. vote climaxed an urgent overnight session that lasted for 11 1/2 hours.

Hammarskjold, who gave the world war warning, planned to leave after midnight tonight to fly back to the Congo, where Premier Moise Tshombe of Katanga last week walked the entry of U.N. troops into his mineral-rich province in the southeast Congo.

QUIET FEARS The resolution sought to quiet Tshombe's fears that U.N. troops would be used to bring Katanga under the control of the central Congo government headed by Premier Patrice Lumumba.

It specified that the 12,000-man force would not "be used to influence the outcome of any internal conflict."

The resolution was in line with suggestions made by Hammarskjold. It followed up the council's July 14 and 22 decisions that Belgium should pull her troops out of the Congo. It called upon her to withdraw them immediately from Katanga—the only one of the six Congo provinces where they remain outside their bases—and to do so "under speedy modalities determined by the secretary-general."

USE OF FORCE The Soviet Union, after supporting the resolution, did not press for a vote on a resolution of its own that implied the use of force if necessary to get U.N. troops into Katanga. This would have had Hammarskjold "take decisive measures, without hesitating to use any means to that end, to remove the Belgian troops" from the Congo and safeguard the country's territorial integrity. It asked him to report back in three days.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov explained he voted for the rival Ceylon-Tunisia proposal because it specified Hammarskjold's main job was to get the Belgian troops out.

Earlier he accused Belgium of aggression against the Congo and said if this aggression continued, his government would "not hesitate before any decisive action aimed at repelling the aggressor."

RED CHARGE Kuznetsov said only Belgian bayonets were propping up Tshombe. He said if the U.N. force could not oust the Belgians from the Congo, troops must be sent from other countries ready to help. Ghana and Guinea both have offered to take their troops out of the U.N. force and put them under control of the Lumumba government.

Hammarskjold told Kuznetsov bluntly, "I do not believe, personally, that we help the Congolese people by actions in which Africans kill Africans, or Congolese kill Congolese."

Tunisian delegate Mongi Slim, introducing the Ceylonese-Tunisian resolution, also said the U.N. troops "ought to be fully authorized" to use force if that was the only way they could get into Katanga. But Hammarskjold reminded the council it had power to enforce decisions for peace by calling on U.N. members to break off diplomatic relations, trade and communications with any recalcitrant country.

MAIN CAUSE In presenting his report Monday, Hammarskjold declared the "main cause of continued danger" was the presence of Belgian troops in Katanga. "The problem of the Congo is one of peace or war—and not only in the Congo," he

Constitutional Changes Before Voters On Nov. 8

Official notice is being given, through legal publication over the state, of the proposed constitutional amendments which will be before Texas voters in the general election of November 8.

The amendments were approved for submission at the last session of the Legislature, and cover the following subjects:

No. 1 on the ballot (HJR 29)—Authorizes the Legislature to create hospital districts co-extensive with Lamar County, Hidalgo County, and County Commissioners Precinct No. 4 of Comanche County, and sets forth certain powers, duties and limitations.

No. 2 on the ballot (SJR 63)—Increases the maximum permissible interest rate on bonds heretofore issued by the Veterans' Land Board to 3 1/2 per cent.

No. 3 on the ballot (HJR 31)—This bill is what is known as the "annual salary bill" for legislators. It provides for an annual salary of not to exceed $4,200 for each legislator, and a per diem allowance of not to exceed $12 a day for the first 120 days of each regular session and for 30 days of each special session as maximum compensation for members of the Legislature. Also it limits the regular session to 140 days.

No. 4 on the ballot (HJR 63)—Authorizes the Legislature to classify loans and lenders, license and regulate lenders, define interest, fix maximum rates of interest, and provide for a maximum rate of interest of 10 per cent per annum in the absence of legislation setting maximum rates of interest; provides that the rate of interest shall not exceed 6 per cent per annum in contracts where no interest rate is agreed upon; provides for the right of appeal and trial de novo in the event of cancellation of or refusal to grant any permit.

County Accepts Three Low Bids

In their regular meeting Monday, the County Commissioners accepted and voted on petroleum bids for the County Road and Bridge Department for 1960-61.

Five companies submitted bids on various fuels, used in operation of county road machinery. Three of them received contracts.

Gulf Oil Co. received contracts on diesel motor oil and on gasoline by making low bids of .7324 cents for diesel and .1369 cents for gasoline.

Contracts for transmission and differential oil, lubricating oil and grease and diesel fuel were awarded to Coston on bids of .1164 cents, .1386 cents and .1063 cents.

Humble Oil Co. received contracts on gas, motor oil and hydraulic oil by bidding .4604 cents and .2121 cents.

The contracts will run from Sept. 1, 1960, through Aug. 31, 1961.

The two other companies submitting bids were Continental and Mobil.

GARDEN TALK

Freak Plant Probably Is Hybrid, Not An Accident

The other day a Mr. Arrant called to say that Irene Merrick had brought in a vegetable that was a cross between a cucumber and a squash. It seems that the yellow squash and the cucumbers were planted side by side, and now the plants are producing this vegetable that looks a little like both. He brought one out to my office at HCJC and it really does look like both vegetables at that.

Because this is a common problem with this group of vegetable, I thought it may help a lot of us gardeners understand the squash family a little better if we tried to figure out what could have happened. Both the cucumber and squash are members of a large plant family or group known as the cucurbitaceae. This includes, squash, cucumbers, watermelons, pumpkins, cushaws, gourds, citrons, cantaloupes, and many many others.

It is possible that some hybrid seed were planted and these produced the unusual fruit. Still it could have happened from some inherited characteristic of the plant. There are 80 genera containing 601 species, according to Jones and Rosa in their book, "Truck Crop Plants." With so many different forms it is possible that the result is due to the breeding that went into the seeds that were planted. Still, it could just be a species of squash that resembles the cucumber.

It is not likely that the plants growing closely together could influence each other in the garden. Always the following crop is influenced by cross-pollination. Pollen has no real effect on the type of fruit produced in its own generation, but rather it determines the product of the seed of that generation.

Most farmers and gardeners recognize the great importance of planting good seed. The Bible states something to this effect. Watermelons are often contaminated by crossing in the field. Still this does not affect the current crop, but the crop that follows from the contaminated seed. It is always a good rule for gardeners to plant the very finest seed available. Seed we save at home is not always true to the variety because we are careless with the chance pollination that produced it.

Cons Locked In After Ruling

BALTIMORE (AP)—Striking inmates of three Maryland prisons stayed locked in their cells today, even for meals, to prevent any violence over a ruling against them.

They whooped and yelled in anger for 15 minutes Monday night when Superintendent of Prisons James W. Curran disclosed that outside trustees no longer would have their sentences reduced by one day for each day of work.

The State Board of Correction had ruled effective Aug. 1 that prisoners doing such outside work as road labor would get that time cut from their prison terms, a day for a day, up to five days a month. The man who do work inside the walls, such as laundry, sewing and shoe making, began a no-work strike in protest.

It began at the House of Correction between here and Washington. By Monday it had spread to the Maryland Penitentiary in Baltimore, and the Reformatory for Males at Hagerstown in western Maryland, involving 1,450 prisoners in all.

Then the attorney general ruled the outside work time-off was illegal. It was decided to rescind the decision at a tense, five-hour meeting of Curran with members of the board, wardens of the prisons, an aide of Gov. J. Millard Tawes and State Police Supt. Carey Jarman.

BILKO ACTORS STOP FOR EATS

Two members of the Sgt. Bilko show stopped here briefly Monday afternoon to hear out the fact that not only armies, but actors also travel on their stomachs.

Maurice Gosfield, better known to TV viewers as Dobberman, and Harvey Faye, who played the heel of the show, stopped at Coker's Restaurant with their road manager, Bob Lewis, to replenish before going on to San Antonio.

The trio is touring Air Force Bases with a 45 minute show. They were en route from Lubbock where they played at the officers club.

No new Bilko series have been made in over a year, but the old shows are being replayed.

4 Persons Die In Car Crash

CLEVELAND, Tex. (AP)—A car crashed into a tree near here Monday and killed four Splendor, Tex., persons, including a woman who was freed in the slaying of her husband.

They are: Mrs. Ethel Mae Simpson, 38, who was acquitted on Dec. 31, 1958, on a charge of murdering her husband; Edwin Clark, 30, his wife, Mrs. Emma Lee Clark, 22; and their son, Norman, 2.

Another Clark son, Larry, 5, was injured.

Constable E. J. McDonald said Mrs. Simpson, who was driving, veered to avoid hitting an oncoming car. Her car hit a pine tree 9 miles south of here in Southeast Texas.

James Walter Simpson, a Fort Worth Convair airplane plant employe, was shot while on a fishing trip on the San Bernard River near Freeport, in Brazoria County, July 3, 1958.

Mrs. Simpson pleaded self-defense, claiming her husband tried to drown her and later threatened her with a knife.

She first claimed a Negro killed Simpson and raped her. Later she admitted shooting Simpson.

DEAR ABBY

NO COMMENT!

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: The woman who signed herself "IMPOSED UPON" had every right to complain because her parents and her husband's parents pestered them with surprise visits with the excuse, "We are dying to see the grandchildren."

the orphanage I was raised in and I should have had your parents. They could visit me as often as they wished and would be welcome to stay as long as they cared to. My children have never known loving grandparents, and they never will because my husband's parents are both deceased and I never knew mine. I am sending Abby my name and address with permission to invite your parents and in-laws to come to visit me.

DEAR ABBY: I am 14 and quite mature for my age. My little sister is 12 and she is even more mature than I am. We are both considered cute by the boys.

On Saturday afternoon we go to the movies. Last Saturday some boys sat behind us and started fooling around. One boy asked my sister to come back and sit with him, so she did. Abby, she made out with him and didn't even know his name. She was a disgrace! She is always giving boys she never saw before her telephone number, too.

Balloon Moon Try Delayed

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Space scientists today postponed an attempt to launch an immense balloon satellite into orbit about the earth.

Technical problems with the Thor-Delta booster rocket delayed the effort.

The launching of the 100-foot sphere was to be the first step in a long-range investigation of the use of satellites for global communications.

Worldwide radio, telephone and television systems could evolve from the project, called Echo.

The countdown procedure proceeded smoothly until 25 minutes before the scheduled launch time. Then an unexplained hold was called and half an hour later the National Aeronautics and Space Administration called off the shot.

Porpoise May Have A Harem

NAPLES, Italy (AP)—Palooza, a bachelor porpoise from Miami, Fla., arrived in Naples Monday night on his way to an Italian bride, or maybe a harem.

Palooza made the trip from the United States in a rubber pool 15 feet wide and 6 feet deep aboard the liner Augusta. The ship sailed up the coast today toward Genoa, where a helicopter was to pick up the porpoise and fly him to the zoo at Cesenatico where his bride-to-be, Lalla, awaits him.

Capt. William Grey of the Miami Daily News after Cesenatico officials wrote the mayor of Miami, telling how lonely Lalla was without a mate.

But while Palooza was at sea, a fishing boat caught five other porpoises in the Adriatic and brought them to Cesenatico. They were dumped in the same pool with Lalla but no one knows their sex. Palooza may find lots of rivalry for Lalla's favors or a pool full of new girl friends.

Daily Average Oil Production Rises

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—Daily average production of crude oil and condensate rose 19,980 barrels to 6,847,415 barrels during the week ended Aug. 5, the Oil and Gas Journal's survey showed today.

Largest increases were in Louisiana and Oklahoma, the former up 6,800 barrels to 1,066,100 barrels and the latter up 6,200 to 498,400.

The Journal estimated 1960 production at 1,534,376,900 barrels compared to 1,533,125,600 a year ago.

Other advances were in New Mexico, up 3,975 to 294,975; and Texas, 3,625 to 2,437,895.

Proof Lack Frees Playboy Held After 'Adultery' Raid

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Released from jail for lack of proof of adultery with Princess Ira von Furstenberg, 20, playboy Francisco (Baby) Pignatari slept off his fatigue and then traded insults Monday night with the man who put him there.

Drawn and red-eyed after 36 hours behind bars, the Brazilian millionaire said of Ira's estranged husband, Prince Alfonso Hohenlohe, 43: "I do not even wish to mention that guy's name; it simply makes me sick. I may not have a title, but at least I have honor."

The Spanish nobleman, who has done well selling cars in Mexico, replied in like manner.

Hohenlohe is suing his wife for a divorce and custody of their two sons, Cristobal, 4, and Alfonso, 16 months. She has the children with her in a guarded hotel suite.

Twenty-two Mexican policemen broke into the suite before dawn Sunday, seeking Pignatari on adultery charges filed by Hohenlohe. The police said Pignatari was found in trousers and shirt but the princess did not appear.

Pignatari and the six-man guard he had hired to protect Ira and her sons put up a fight. The Brazilian playboy and his men were carted off to jail and additional charges of resisting arrest were filed.

Pignatari was freed because, under Mexican law, his presence in the apartment did not constitute evidence of illicit relations. His lawyers threatened to file countercharges against the prince.

Following the public hearing, requested by the city commission, the planning and zoning commission will make recommendations to the city commission on extending the limits of the ordinance.

Extension would include 3rd and 4th only, east to Birdwell and west to the city limits.

Ralph Gossett, owner of property south of FM 700 and west of U. S. 87 has requested re-zoning from A residential to F commercial.

Clubbers Plan Knott Directory

The Knott 4-H Club met in regular session Monday night at the Knott school. The main order of business was discussion of the community directories to be erected at intersections on the Knott road.

The directories are a club project and, when completed, will carry names of the rural residents and directions for reaching their homes.

Following the motto and pledge, Martha Robinson and Karen Jackson led the group in a song. There were five adults, eight members and one visitor present.

Two public hearings have been called by the planning and zoning commission. One will consider extending the limits for alcoholic beverage sales and the other for re-zoning property at the intersection of FM 700 and U. S. 87.

Both public hearings will be held at the commission's next regular meeting, Sept. 12, 5-15 p.m. in city hall.

Sale of alcoholic beverages is controlled through an ordinance which spells out definite locations where such businesses can be located. As such, the ordinance serves a zoning function.

Soviets Warned U.S. Isn't Afraid

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Christian A. Herter warned Soviet leaders today the United States will act "with speed, force and unity" to deal with any new Red threat or world crisis.

Herter told a news conference he issued the warning in an effort to dispel any belief by friends or foes abroad that the United States "becomes paralyzed or semi-paralyzed" during a presidential election period.

Also, he said, he issued it because of the possibility of a dangerous miscalculation by the Soviet government.

"The United States—the President—can act just as quickly and forcefully during this election period as at any other time," Herter declared.

"Our allies and other nations of the free world can rest assured that when action is necessary it will be taken. Our opponents should take warning that the American government and people can move with speed, force and unity during this period just as at any other time."

At his news conference, Herter also said:

1. The United States cannot indefinitely continue a suspension of nuclear weapons tests while British-U. S. negotiations with the Soviet Union for an inspected test system drag out at Geneva. Herter would not say, however, what deadline might be set.

2. The administration is considering asking Congress for authority to show the Soviets certain kinds of equipment for setting off atomic explosives in order to get an agreement with them to conduct a series of joint underground tests to perfect inspection equipment. No decision has been made.

3. The United States has filed a new protest with the Castro government of Cuba against seizures of U. S. property on the ground that the seizures were arbitrary and failed to provide for adequate compensation. Such protests establish a record against the time when the Cuban people themselves —as Herter put it—take care of the situation.

4. At the inter-American foreign ministers meeting in Costa Rica next week, the United States hopes all American nations will fully discuss what action, if any, should be taken on the central question raised by the Cuban issue—the question of intervention by a foreign power in the affairs of the Western Hemisphere. The United States has accused Cuba of becoming increasingly tied to communism.

5. The West Germans should decide for themselves about having a parliamentary meeting in West Berlin later this year in the face of Soviet threats to sign a separate peace treaty with East Germany. Herter said the United States believes this is strictly a matter for the Germans themselves to decide.

Herter declined to discuss in any detail the two latest news developments—the report of a revolution reported in Laos and the situation in the Congo.

Russ German Charge Denied

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States told the Soviet Union today that this country and its allies will not be deflected, by Soviet threats, from arming with ballistic missiles or taking any other joint defense measures.

In a note to Moscow, the United States also accused the Soviet Union of making "unfounded charges" that West Germany has aggressive military aims.

The note released by the State Department rejected a Soviet protest of three weeks ago against any U. S. action to supply this country's European allies, particularly West Germany, with medium-range ballistic missiles such as the Polaris.

World tensions, the United States declared, are the result of threats uttered by the Soviet Union and the Soviet government.

"The repeated threats of the Soviet government to take unilateral action with respect to Germany and to deprive the people of Berlin of their freedom stand in contrast to the constructive policies pursued by the freely elected government of the Federal Republic (West Germany)," the U. S. note said.

White House Sees Surplus Vanish

WASHINGTON (AP)—A White House report today estimated potential congressional action could govern four billion dollars more than President Eisenhower's budget for this year, all but wiping out the President's proposed surplus.

Over the following five years or less, the report by Budget Director Maurice H. Stans added, net federal expenditures could be boosted nearly 20 billion dollars beyond that sought by the Eisenhower administration.

The figures spelled out in some detail Eisenhower's statement in his message to Congress saying congressional programs plus lack of action on money-raising proposals threatens to do away with the entire four-billion-dollar surplus his January budget message anticipated for the fiscal year started last July 1.

Kennedy Slips Bill To Okay

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) steered a hotly-contested picketing bill to swift approval by a Senate subcommittee today after a brief brush with Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.).

Goldwater objected, on the ground there was no quorum, to Kennedy's calling the Labor subcommittee into session. But Goldwater, an opponent of the bill, stayed out of the hearing room where his presence would have made a quorum.

Kennedy, Democratic presidential nominee and chairman of the subcommittee, promised organized labor last year that he would push for legislation relaxing restrictions against picketing of construction projects.

The legislation would overcome a 1952 Supreme Court ruling banning picketing of construction projects where more than one contractor is involved.

The court ruled that such picketing came under the Taft-Hartley Act prohibition of secondary boycotts. A secondary boycott ordinarily is defined as pressure by a union against a neutral concern to try to keep it from doing business with an employer involved in a dispute with the union.

The bill now goes to the full Labor Committee, which may consider it this week. Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, Senate Democratic leader and Kennedy's running mate, has given it high priority for consideration in the Senate.

Lakeview Council Meets Thursday

A meeting of the Lakeview YMCA Advisory Council is scheduled in the YMCA for 7:30 p.m. Thursday.

The council will plan to plan the fall program, meet for future facilities and to terminate the summer program.
Everett Taylor, youth program secretary, urges all members of the council to attend.

HAVANA (AP)—The Cuban government today set up a National Institute of Mining, a step that could be preliminary to seizure of the U. S. mining properties that escaped Prime Minister Fidel Castro's weekend nationalization of most American holdings in Cuba.

Alaskans Vote Today On Move Of Capital

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP)—Hugged by both the mountains and the sea, this once-roaring gold camp's fight to remain capital of the nation's largest state was in the hands of the voters today.

An estimated 35,000 ballots, far below the record number of 50,343 cast in the 1958 general election, were expected to decide whether Juneau would lose the capital to the Cook Inlet-railhead area, dominated by booming Anchorage, the state's largest city.

Gov. William A. Egan would be empowered to name a five-man committee to select an actual site in the Cook Inlet-railhead area for a new capital, to be established by Jan. 1, 1965, if the proposal wins approval.

Egan and the other two top Democrats in the state, Sens. Ernest Gruening and E. L. Bartlett, both have said they oppose the capital move proposal.

So have the two top Republicans, Mike Stepovich, who was governor of Alaska under territorial status; and John Butrovich, who fought Egan for the governorship two years ago.

Drawing their main support in Anchorage, backers of the capital move plan argued that Juneau was too far from the Anchorage-Fairbanks center of population; that great economies could be achieved by moving the capital from Juneau; and that air transportation to Juneau, the only year-round means of getting here, was often interrupted by fog and rain clouds.

And, pointing at Juneau's place on a narrow ledge between high mountains and deep-flowing Gashline Channel, they said there is no room for capital expansion here.

City Dads Face Light Agenda

A light agenda is on tap for the city commission, meeting today at 3:15 p.m. at city hall, with only five items slated for the commissioners' consideration.

City Manager A. K. Stalghamer plans to present a recommendation to buy two cars to replace 1959 models in service in the police department.

Commissioners will consider an ordinance calling for the refunding of $80,000 in 1938 water improvement bonds, and ordinances will be read re-zoning the Sards Restaurant and Coronado Hills properties and annexing the Kentwood Addition.

A city owned building at Webb AFB is also expected to be officially turned over to base officials for their disposal.

Testimony in the damage suit brought by Gentry Construction Co. Inc. against A. P. Kasch Co. is continuing in 11th District Court this morning.

Court convened at 9 p.m. with Judge Ralph Calton presiding, and testimony for the plaintiff terminated just before noon. The case for the defense continued this afternoon.

The case alleges non-payment of a bill totaling $4,148.68 by the Kasch Co. to Gentry for work done on a junior high school football field in Snyder in August, 1958.

The plaintiff, Gentry, is asking for payment in the amount of the bill plus attorney's fees of $1,250 and six per cent interest fee per annum.

Jurors selected in the case were Mrs. M. C. Sneed, Jack Alderton, Glen E. Gale, Mrs. Dee Bennett, Eldon H. Cook, B. E. Palmer, Cecil R. Cone, Gene Nabors, Bill Emerson, Neil Spencer, J. M. Blake and Dee Foster Jr.

The case probably will not go to the jury before Wednesday morning, according to Wade Choate, district clerk.

Fat M. Baskin is acting in behalf of the plaintiff and John A. Coffee is attorney for the defense.

Youngsters Plan Y Aquatic Show

Youngsters will get in the swim of things and give an aquatic show for their parents and friends at the YMCA Thursday at 6:30 p.m.

The children, about 35 who have been enrolled in the YMCA swimming program, will demonstrate the progress they have made this summer with various strokes and show the various stages of swimming.

A diving exhibition will be staged and the YMCA Girls Synchronized Swimming Team will perform. A scuba diving club will also be present.

The parents night show will end two months of swimming instruction. Classes will begin again in September.

U. S. Protests Cuban Mailings

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States demanded today that the Cuban government stop using its free mailing privilege to distribute anti-American propaganda in this country.

Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield said he had learned the Cuban central government has been "misusing" the franking privilege to mail into this country unsolicited pamphlets, contents of which "are untrue, abusive, unsubstantiated, provocative and hostile to the United States, and attack the economic policy and integrity of this government."

Postmaster General Arthur E. Civic Theatre Play Is Cast

Announcement of the cast for the Big Spring Civic Theatre's three-act comedy, "The Warrior's Husband," by Julian Thompson, was made at last Thursday's meeting, and rehearsals are well under way.

The cast includes Mrs. Faye Bodine, Mrs. Marjorie Brown, A.L.C. Walter J. Bernady, S.Sgt. Arthur T. Clonts Jr., Mrs. Lynn Seebo, Mrs. Frankie Bledsoe, Liz Massey, Mrs. Gay Hartwell, Don Hush, Chaplain (1st Lt.) Lewis H. Dunlap, T.Sgt. Fred Overholt, S.Sgt. Fred W. Assad and T.Sgt. Dewey Magee Jr. in the role of Hercules.

Minor roles include Mrs. Florence Wood, Lida Fiveash, Sueanna Ashley, Mrs. Carolyn MacYoung, Mrs. Barbara Tibbs, Jo Ellen Fiveash, Dick Bailey, Paula Faulcon, A.C. Lindsey C. Brock Jr., and A.C. Joseph R. Plourde.

The play is a satire on Greek mythology and takes place in the land of the Amazons.

The theatre group will present the play in its own Prairie Playhouse.

Directing "The Warrior's Husband" is 1st Lt. James W. Marlin Jr. of Webb, and assisting him is Miss Mary Jane Engstrom. Production crew consists of producer, T.Sgt. Dewey Magee Jr.; sets, A.L.C. Walter J. Bernady; props, Don Hush; costumes, Lynn Seebo; lights, M. Sgt. Howard A. Brown Jr.; and stage manager, James Tibbs.

Police Check Two Burglaries

Two break-ins, one at the Jet Drive-In Theater and the other at the Ranchburger cafe, were under police investigation today.

At the drive-in theater, on U.S. 87, the coin box on the cigarette machine is reported missing. The amount of money taken is unknown.

Entrance was gained to the Ranchburger, 511 W. 3rd, through the store room, but nothing is reported missing.

Theft of two billfolds was also reported to police overnight. The missing wallets were reported by Walter R. Weaver, 304 Circle Dr., and Mrs. Johnny Hernandez, 303 N. Aylford.

Firearms Class Moves To Range

Big Spring police officers will go to the target range Thursday and Friday for actual firing of their weapons following extensive drills and lectures being conducted through Wednesday.

FBI firearms instructor Leo Robertson, Dallas, is conducting the course at the police building. He will also be in charge at the range, located on the Andrews Highway.

Firing and classroom work for the second shift of officers is conducted from 10 a.m. until noon. The first and third shifts take instruction from 2-4 p.m.

Wounded Trying To Kill Snake

Jack Murdock, 2406 Robb, was in the Howard County Hospital Foundation today recovering from a shotgun wound in his left heel. The wound occurred when the weapon accidentally discharged shortly before noon Monday.

Officers said Murdock told them the accident occurred after an unsuccessful attempt to kill a rattlesnake outside his house. Unable to locate the snake, Murdock said he went back inside the house and was unloading the shotgun when it discharged.

Hospital officials said Murdock's wound was not considered serious but he was being kept at the hospital for observation.

AF Seeks Help In Family Search

AUSTIN (AP)—The Department of Public Safety received a request from the Air Force today for help in finding Capt. E. W. Spullenberger and his family en route from Joplin, Mo., to Taylor.

The Air Force asked that Spullenberger be informed "that the dog that bit your children in Morocco was rabid."

The Spullenbergers, with two children, are traveling in a station wagon.

DE Students Urged To Apply

George Rice, who is the new distributive education coordinator, has opened his offices at high school and is anxious to contact all potential DE students.

He said he is especially anxious to hear from the 30 students who last year pre-registered for the course. They will not be actually enrolled in the program until they complete their application with Rice.

He also asked that those of junior or senior standing who would like to enter the program or to see him at his office. From now to the end of the month, he will be at room No. 120, in the new classroom wing of high school, from 9 a.m. to 12 noon.

The distributive education program is vocational training on a cooperative basis. The pupil takes required academic studies for completion of high school work, and at the same time studies subjects related to a particular job he or she is seeking to learn.

During afternoons the student goes on the job with some local business or service establishment to get the practical side of the job. This program is geared for sales and services, whereas the ICT (Industrial Cooperative Training) is geared at skill trades.

Jack's Aides Bare Plans

WASHINGTON (AP)—Aides of Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts outlined today the first stages of what they assured news men "will be an increasingly intensive campaign" for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Press secretary Pierre Salinger described to a news conference the tentative schedule of Kennedy and his vice-presidential running mate, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, and their more detailed plans upon congressional activities.

Next Sunday, Aug. 14, Kennedy will visit Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt at her Hyde Park, N. Y., home.

On Sunday, Aug. 21, Kennedy and Johnson will fly to Des Moines, Iowa, for a farm conference.

On Labor Day weekend, Sept. 3, 4 and 5, the two candidates plan to fly to San Francisco; Honolulu; Seattle, Wash.; Anchorage; and Detroit, Pontiac, Flint and Muskegon, Mich.

Then, if Congress is not in session, Kennedy is scheduled to go to Billings, Mont.; Portland, Ore.; and Sacramento, Calif., arriving in Sacramento on the evening of Sept. 6.

Don't Allow Car Troubles Spoil Your Vacation Trip

There's nothing quite like car trouble to spoil a vacation trip, but you can erase this worry from your mind if, before leaving, you take the family car to Jones Motor Co., 1st and Gregg, for a complete check and tune-up. The service department at Jones, under the direction of E. I. Stephens, is fully equipped to insure that your car will be ready to make a round-trip with a hitch. Skilled mechanics at Jones Motor Co. garage will check all the things that could go wrong on your trip whether you plan to drive 50 miles or 1,000 miles. In addition to any adjustments and tuning that may be needed, an air-conditioner mechanic is on hand to make sure your cooler will stand up during the trip. Service-wise, your car will be ready for just about any trip after a stop at Jones Motor Co.

S. M. Smith Handles Low Cost Butane

The same dependable low cost butane gas that so efficiently heats your house in the winter serves many a purpose around a home in the summer. S. M. Smith Butane Company has the equipment to outfit any home in the area with such a fuel. More Texans than ever before are enjoying the benefits of butane gas. Butane and propane are also used as fuel for pickup trucks and tractors, and an increasing number of farmers in the area are consulting the S. M. Smith concern about converting their vehicles to the use of such fuels. Butane is not only safer to use than the conventional uses but causes less wear and tear on an engine, thereby increasing the length of its service. Butane is also used to heat the water the housewife might use for her dishes, provide the needed heat for child incubators and cook the family meals. For the most modern kitchen ranges can be converted to its use. The S. M. Smith Butane Company, main offices of which are located on the Lamesa Highway in the north part of the city, has been a Big Spring business institution for a dozen years and has built a solid reputation for dealing fairly with the public.

Wood You Believe It?

SUMMIT, N.J. (AP) — Archie F. Wilson is a University of Illinois' research associate in anatomy—wood anatomy to be exact. The 57-year-old industrialist conservatively values his extensive collection of 6,000 carved, glued, turned, or laminated wood objects from all over the world at $10,000. When he moved here from Decatur, Ill., 11 years ago it cost him more to move his wood collection than his furniture. Wilson, who studies his wood objects through a high-powered microscope, prefers the intellectual to the functional approach to wood expertise. There are two schools of thought concerning wood, he explained, "but I wouldn't call them splinter groups."

Major overhauls are also handled with expertise at the garage at 1st and Gregg. If the family car isn't perking just as it should, it could be that something's wrong that requires extensive work. Don't wait until your car lays down and dies, but drive into the 1st Street entrance just east of Gregg and let the Jones Motor Co. mechanics handle the problem. If you're in the market for a new car or truck, you can find just the thing at Jones Motor Co., dealer for Dodge, Dodge Dart, Simca and Dodge trucks.

Just A Game

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP) — Kissing is an increasingly important factor in many games, says an assistant professor of psychology at Bowling Green State University. But a strong element of chance also is present. Thus, concludes Dr. Brian Sutton-Smith, no one is inclined to think the kissing too seriously. "We need to remember," says the professor, who is studying personality development, "that this is the age of lounge-tied early dating. Kissing games provide a means for a socially acceptable relationship with the opposite sex."

Trouble Blows In

STARKE, Fla. (AP) — Police Chief Riley Sweet directed his men to pick up any youngster found blowing up toy balloons. A few hours later, patrolmen spotted a pair of 13-year-olds standing on a street corner, busily inflating colored balloons. At the police station, the youngsters admitted they had broken into a service station to steal knives, flashlights, candy and a carton of toy balloons. Said Sweet: "I figured it was the work of kids. I knew they couldn't resist blowing up all the balloons."

Thomas Office Supply Stocks New All-Electric Typewriter

All new all-electric General adding machines, which must be seen in operation to be appreciated, are on sale locally at the Thomas Typewriter and Office Supply. The General Series 400 machines, new and vastly improved in design and construction, boast adding dials with magnifying windows, transparent tear-off bars; oversized, recessed twirler knobs and detachable current cords. The non-subtractor 407 Model is a top-value machine for everybody who figures. It operates electrically at lightning speed. It adds and totals seven columns, or one less than $100,000. It multiplies with just one entry and prints the total and subtotal on tape. The 408 Model adds seven columns and totals eight (or one less than $1 million). It is noted for its versatility, speed and economy. It adds and subtracts automatically, at almost three cycles per second and prints subtracted items with a minus sign for identification. The 409 Model adds nine columns and total nine (or one less than $10 million). It handles heavy work-loads quickly and economically, outperforming machines selling for twice as much. It is good for years of accurate, dependable uninterrupted service. Convince yourself that these are the world's best values in heavy-duty machines by having employees of the Thomas concern demonstrate them. Better still, try out one yourself for ten days without charge.

Toys Have Become Year-Round Treats

Time was, perhaps, when one associated the idea of toys only with birthdays and Christmas. No longer is the case. Toys have no season now, they are items of importance the year 'round. Occasions are endless when a toy is the answer to a gift for some youngster. They are rewards, often, for some youthful achievement. They are given on birthdays and on occasions when the child is recovering from an illness. Often, they are purchased and presented just because they appeal alike to the buyer and to the recipient. That is why a complete stock of modern toys in a wide variety are stocked at the Sportsman-Toyland Center at 1606 Gregg the year 'round. It is not essential that some special event be celebrated with a gift—it may be that you happen to know a boy or girl who has a longing for some particular toy and want to gratify that wish. Toys are not limited in their appeal to the young. Adults who visit the Sportsman-Toyland Center are strangely tempted by the colorful display. A visit usually terminates in a purchase.

U. S. Tennisists Edge Mexicans By 3-2 Tab

By JACK RUTLEDGE
MEXICO CITY (AP) — United States Davis Cup captain David Freed breathed a sigh of relief today and looked ahead to the American zone final against Venezuela in Cleveland Sept. 16-17. Freed's charges whipped Mexico, 3-2, in the semifinals which finished up on a discordant note Monday. After Barry MacKay clinched the decision with a 6-2, 6-4, 2-6, 12-10 victory over Mario Llamas, Chuck McKinley of St. Louis and Fabian Reyes Jr., took the court for the final (though meaningless) singles. With McKinley ahead, 2-1, in the Southwest Conference football play — long a Texas Tech goal — will be obtained this fall by the Red Raiders, who again will have the school's first All-American, center E. J. Holub (above), in the lineup.

Ex-Aggie Aided Stadium Move

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — The last of 41,500 seats are being installed in Jones stadium as Texas Tech prepares for its first season of championship contention in Southwest Conference football.

Know who was most important in preparing Tech for its conference entry? Well, it was an Aggie. Yes, the late W.G. (Bill) McMillan of Lubbock, who quarter-backed the Texas A&M team in 1921, was the man who showed Tech how to build — or rather move — its stadium.

Tech was voted into the conference in 1956 but had to wait four years to compete for the title in football. In order not to be a financial handicap to the conference, Tech wanted to expand its stadium seating to a figure more comparable to those of the other members. The stadium, built in 1947 had a capacity of 27,000 which was too small to assure confident members of adequate receipts.

The school decided enlargement rather than construction of a new stadium was more desirable because of the ideal location of the stadium on the campus, near the coliseum, track and other athletic facilities. But how?

The most obvious method of rounding out the stadium's "horseshoe" was counseled against because fans are slow to buy seats behind the goal lines — even though the area would come next, followed by the line of the ensuing slopes. Nor did the expense of an over-achieving second deck seem advisable.

Finally, McMillan, a contractor and long-time Texas Tech booster, came to the rescue.

Mrs. E.N. Jones, wife of a former Texas Tech president, vividly recalls when McMillan came up with the idea of moving the stands. "At an early September high school game," Mrs. Jones related, "Bill was sitting by Dr. Jones and me. He just sat there quietly for a long time, not paying any attention to the game. Then he turned to us and, rather excitedly, told us he knew how Tech could enlarge its stadium."

McMillan noticed seven sections of each side of the concrete-and-steel stadium were connected only by tarred expansion joints. Essentially, his plan was to separate the sections and pull the stands apart. Excavation of the playing surface would come next, followed by the lining of the ensuing slopes with new stands. That way, all the additional seating would be between the goal lines.

Covington Gives Dodgers Trouble

By The Associated Press
It wouldn't be surprising if the Los Angeles Dodgers held a high level conference today on a touchy subject: what to do about Wes Covington.

On July 31 the Milwaukee Braves outfielder with the gimpy knee came off the bench in the eighth inning to hit a home run off the cowering Don Drysdale, the towering Dodgers speedball artist. It didn't win the ball game, but it wasn't Covington's fault.

Monday night at Milwaukee with two out in the eighth inning and two Braves on base, and Drysdale again pitching for the Dodgers, Covington hoisted himself from the bench and picked up a bat. Possibly recalling his last exploit as a pinch hitter against Drysdale, Manager Walter Alton called in Ed Rebeck to pitch to the big fellow. Covington promptly hit a three-run homer, enough to give the Braves a 7-6 victory and cut the lead of the idle Pittsburgh Pirates to five games. Cincinnati's Reds pulled out a 4-3 ninth-inning victory over the San Francisco Giants in the only other National League game. Covington's last eighth appearance at the plate have been as a pinch hitter, and his game-winning blast boosted his average for the season to .296.

The Dodgers had built up a 6-1 lead on Carl Willey, the starting Braves' pitcher, before Milwaukee started nibbling away at it. The Braves got an unearned run in the fourth and added two in the fifth when Del Crandall got to first on an error and Eddie Mathews hit his 23rd home run. Drysdale settled down after that blow, and appeared to have everything under control until the fatal eighth, when singles by Joe Adcock, Red Schoendienst and Johnny Logan produced one run and Covington's blow provided the clincher.

A home run was the decisive blow in the Cincinnati-San Francisco game also, with Ed Bailey pouring in the fireworks. With the score tied in the bottom of the ninth, Bailey first man up hit into the stands to give Cincinnati the victory over the Mayisys Giants. Willie was laid up with a bad cold.

first set after breaking Reyes service in the third game, rain began to fall. Mexican officials called the match and announced it would be continued today.

But Freed demurred. He said the team members had plane reservations home and that it would be impossible to play today. He ordered McKinley to default.

So it wound up a hair-thin margin for the U.S. team, the closest, in fact, ever against Mexico. "We were lucky to squeeze through," commented Freed, in his first year as non-playing captain. "Mexico has a very good team. I don't think we'll have as much trouble against Venezuela."

"The Mexican team had the home crowds rooting for it and that helped. In Cleveland, we'll have the crowds on our side. The Mexican officiating was excellent. We couldn't ask for more."

Brown Lauds Team Effort

PITTSBURGH (AP) — "They never give up. They never quit. They never press the panic button."

General Manager Joe L. Brown of the Pittsburgh Pirates cited these factors today as the main reason for Pittsburgh's drive for its first National League pennant since 1927.

The Bucs are leading the league, five games ahead of the Milwaukee Braves. "The Pirates are the most aggressive bunch of fellows I have ever seen," said Brown. "It's been a team effort all the way. No superstars, just team balance and a lot of hustle."

Brown said a pennant winner doesn't need to have the strongest man in the league at each position. "I'd rather have a team with no glaring weakness than a team full of superstars," Brown went on. "Right now the club doesn't have any noticeable holes. You just put all the players together and you have a winner."

QBC Will Convene At 5 P.M. Today

Plans for the annual barbecue honoring the Big Spring High School football team will be discussed at an open meeting of the Big Spring Quarterback Club, scheduled to be held at the Chamber of Commerce offices at 5 o'clock today.

Lots of volunteer workers are going to be needed in order to assure the success of the barbecue. Dr. Bob Johnson, chairman of the booster organization, said.

All members of the club or those who would like to be members can feel free to attend today's convocation. Dr. Johnson stated. The date of the barbecue ordinarily falls around Sept. 1. It is held in the City Park.

David Parks Is Added To Squad

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (AP) — The Texas squad that plays Oklahoma in the Oil Bowl here Aug. 19 was completed over the weekend with the addition of 11 players.

Along those taken in was David Parks of Abilene, the top lineman of the Texas Coaching School All-Star game last week. Oklahoma still needs 19 players to round out its squad.

Texans To Tangle With Patriot II

By The Associated Press
The Dallas Texans, last undefeated professional football team in Texas, are in Boston for a clash with the Patriots in an American Football League exhibition Sunday.

The other two Texas pro clubs are back at work. The Houston Oilers, who dropped six players Monday, will go to Los Angeles Thursday to meet the Chargers in the AFL exhibition. Ends Charley in the finals, 54. Pete Cook manages the Cook team while D. A. Miller is pilot of Charley's contingent.

Defending champion of the State meet is Lake Jackson while Brownwood Floral Company was the 1959 runnerup. Both teams are due to be back.

In all, more than 20 teams are scheduled to compete at Brownwood. Lake Jackson did it the hard way last year, fighting back through the losers' bracket to nip Brownwood Floral in the finals. Among teams which are entered in the tournament are the Shamrock Oilers of Abilene, Austin Merchants, Bay City Rockets, Kelley's of Freeport, Corpus Christi, Hutlo, Beaumont and Coor's of Odessa. Games will be played in both Daniel Baker and Sportsman Park. If the schedule demands it, Wendal Mayer Park may also be used in the early rounds. Games Friday and Saturday will be played virtually around the clock. Last year, one Friday night session wound up at 6:40 a.m. Saturday while the Saturday morning session started 30 minutes later—at 7:30 a.m.

Sny Sisters Lead Reds In Olympic Activity

By WILL GRIMSLEY
By The Associated Press
MOSCOW (AP)—A couple of shy sisters from the Ukraine who have never been beyond the Iron Curtain are the Soviet Union's big one-two track and field punch in the Olympic Games starting Aug. 25 in Rome.

With the Soviet Union lacking a male star certain to win, Tamara and Irina Press loom as successors to 1956 double champion Vladimir Kuts as the toast of the huge hammer and sickle brigade. "I will be disappointed if Tamara does not win medals in both the shot and discus," Soviet head coach G. V. (Harry) Korobkov said today. "As for Irina—that girl can do anything. She is marvelous." Tamara twice broke the world record in the women's shot put this year winning the Olympic trials with 99 feet. She hurled the discus 122 feet, 3 inches.

The slimmer, younger Irina tied the world 80 meter hurdles record with 10.6 seconds. She also is a good sprinter and broad jumper. Korobkov said he plans to enter her for three events including the relay. "I am confident each of the girls will win at least one gold medal—and a place in other events," he added. "Between them they may win five."

Tamara is 23 and built for durability. Five-foot-seven, she weighs 158 pounds and has arms and legs like young oaks. A long, back-sweeping hairdo frames a strong, square face.

Irina, 21, is lean and supple with close-cropped curls and flashing blue eyes. At a quick glance she bears a striking resemblance to the late Babe Didrikson Zaharias, America's all-time great woman athlete.

Tamara and Irina Press are classic examples of how the Soviet Union takes promising young stars and molds them through specialized training into sports jewels.

The girls were born in Charkov in the Ukraine. Their father was killed in the war. Their mother worked at manual labor. "While we were still young we moved to Samarkand in the Asian province," Irina said. "There we began playing in the streets and in the forests. We were what you called 'tomboys'."

Tamara was a very good runner then and she caught the eye of athletic officials. They put her in a children's sports school for training and she began competition. Later, although I was not good, I was invited to the sports school also."

The Press sisters were given the equivalent to a scholarship for study at the Leningrad Institute in 1957. "I am in the fourth year of a motoring school and Tamara is studying construction," Irina said. "I want to build bridges. Tamara wants to build houses."

Earl Ballew drove in four runs and Harmon Killebrew got a two-run homer, his 14th, in the Senator attack. Killebrew also had a brace of singles, but the really hot batter of the evening was the Athletics' Dick Williams, who went five-for-five including a pair of doubles. Norm Siebern had three singles and a triple in five trips.

The Washington Senators took a slugfest from the Kansas City Athletics, 10-7, in the only other American League game.

LOOKING 'EM OVER With TOMMY HART

Sports dialogue:
SID GILLMAN, coach of the Los Angeles Chargers of the new AFL:

"At this stage of training, I would have to say that, based on performance thus far, we will field the finest sets of defensive backs I have ever had available."

FLOYD PATTERSON, heavyweight boxing champion, when asked if he worried about the threat of Sonny Liston:

"I like to worry about one fighter at a time. When it comes time to worry about Liston, I'll worry."

CANNON

FRANK FINCH, Los Angeles sports writer:

"We'd like to wager a few kopecks that Frank Howard never plays first base for the Dodgers, except, perhaps, on an emergency basis. The heir apparent to Gil Hodges' job presently is Tim Lincecum of Atlanta, who is knocking down faces in the Southern Association. As a fielder, Tim was a major league first baseman when I had him at Kokomo (Midwest) in '57," avers coach Pete Reiser."

TOM SHEEHAN, manager of the San Francisco Giants:

"I prefer managing to scouting, and why shouldn't I? The money is better, the hours are better, and you do meet a better class of people."

DON McILHENNY, former Green Bay star, now with the Dallas Cowboys:

"There's no doubt that Don Meredith has all the potential in the world. He has one of the finest arms I've ever seen. I think having Don Heinrich and Eddie LeBaron on the team will help him immeasurably. Many other great quarterbacks have had to undergo training and I think Don will, too. But you never can tell. He may jump right in there and be a ball of fire. I'm certainly looking forward to seeing what will happen."

TIM COHANE, writing about the great infielder for the Chicago White Sox, LUIS APARICIO, in Look magazine:

"Aparicio has the quickness, range and arm of an all-time great. In the last quarter of a century, only Phil Rizzuto, Marty Marion and Roy McMillan belong with Luis."

WALTER SCHLINKMAN, former Texas Tech backfield ace, now a coaching aide of the Houston Oilers, comparing Billy Cannon with John Crow, the former Texas A & M great:

"He reminds me of Crow because of his distinctive running style. Like Cannon, Crow doesn't lift his feet high. Jon Arnette is a little more balanced than Billy, and can run, stop and then run back the other way. Cannon is just a straight-ahead runner who'll flat outrun you. I'd put him in Ollie Matson's class on straight-ahead speed — and I'm talking about Matson in his prime, not the Matson of last season. Billy needs to work on his blocking, but so does every other rookie in the league. He's already running pass patterns better than Ollie, but then that was never Matson's strong suit. The quarterbacks like to throw to Billy. He catches the ball real well. I don't see how we can afford to play him on defense, because that's what the crowd will be coming out to see — Cannon carrying the ball."

OTTO GRAHAM, coach of the College All-Star gridgers:

"Pra teams look for speed and agility. That comes first. Then . . . when they are all fast and agile . . . a good big man beats a good little man . . . or anyone."

CASEY STENGEL, manager of the New York Yankees:

"I had only one player who said the Yankee uniform didn't give him a lift and help. This one said it only made him itch."

Meredith Gets A Big Chance

CHICAGO (AP) — Don Meredith, George Izo or Pete Hall. Take your pick.

On the arms of these three passers rest the College All-Stars' hopes of upsetting the Baltimore Colts Friday night in the midsummer football classic in Soldier Field.

Meredith, Izo and Hall were three of the finest collegiate passers in the nation last fall. Whether they can connect against the Colts remains to be seen.

Meredith did his pitching for Southern Methodist and in some quarters is considered the finest passer to emerge from the collegiate ranks in years.

Don got his initial experience of playing professional ball last week in a scrimmage against the Chicago Bears. The All-Stars lost 30-14 but Meredith accounted for the losers' two scores, with touchdown passes.

Izo is a native of Barberton, Ohio. He did his passing at Notre Dame and has the professional touch. Izo can throw long, short, hard or soft — depending on the situation.

Hall, from Wheeland Pa., is one of the finest passers to come out of Marquette. At 21 he is one year younger than Izo and Meredith and will play his professional football with the New York Giants.

Coach Otto Graham has not as yet committed himself which of these three quarterbacks will start against the Colts. Games Friday and Saturday will be played virtually around the clock. Last year, one Friday night session wound up at 6:40 a.m. Saturday while the Saturday morning session started 30 minutes later—at 7:30 a.m.

White Sox Kayo Yanks To Move Nearer Lead

By The Associated Press
It was increasingly evident today that the Chicago White Sox have no intention of rolling over and getting laid whenever things get tough in the American League race.

There was a time when, with the White Sox making threatening gestures in a pennant race, the New York Yankees would come to Chicago, lead with their ace, wind up taking an important series. Then they'd leave town brushing their hands with a "that's that" gesture.

Eddie Lopat used to put the Chicago upstarts in their place. Then Whitey Ford took over as the killer.

Last year the Sox began to get better acquainted with Ford. They beat him three out of four times, and wound up with the pennant.

Ford started this year with a 25-13 record against the Chicagoans. He has started four times against them this year. The Sox have beaten him four times, including the 9-1 shelling they gave the Yankees Monday night.

"The victory before a whooping crowd of 48,323 cut the Yankee lead to half a game, and evened the season's series between the two clubs at 8-8."

Billy Pierce had the New Yorkers eating out of his sinewy left hand as he turned in his 11th victory against 7 defeats. He held them to four hits, walked one and struck out four. Gil McDougald doubled in the third, and went to third base and then home on infield outs for the Yankees' only run.

Minnie Minoso contributed three singles in the White Sox 13-hit attack, and drove in three runs. Ford lasted through the seventh inning, and Ralph Terry, who relieved him, was clipped for the final three runs in the eighth. Jim Landis also got three hits for the Sox.

The Washington Senators took a slugfest from the Kansas City Athletics, 10-7, in the only other American League game.

Earl Ballew drove in four runs and Harmon Killebrew got a two-run homer, his 14th, in the Senator attack. Stars At Soap Box Derby

Stars, cars and boys will hold the national spotlight at Akron, Ohio, Sunday, for the 23rd running of the All-American Soap Box Derby. In the world-famed coasting competition for boys, a field of 168 young champions from the United States and overseas will go down the Derby Downs starting line at 2 p.m. One of those competing for the $15,000 in college scholarships and other awards will be Mike Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Smith and the Big Spring Derby champion. Stars of movies and television will be featured in the traditional pre-Derby Oil Can Trophy Race, driving over-sized coasters. They are Dale Robertson (in TV's Wells Fargo); Craig Stevens (TV's Peter Gunn); and singer Andy Williams.

Addison Lists Creditors, Then Takes 5th

DALLAS (AP)—John Milton Addison has acknowledged that he was "commercially" in debt $37,941, but he would not outline his "lenders" debts on the grounds that it might incriminate him.

The uranium promoter Monday filed his list of commercial creditors with Federal Bankruptcy Referee Elmore Whitehurst, but pleaded the Fifth Amendment on the others.

His petition said that due to his being under a federal criminal indictment the information contained in a complete list of "lenders" would violate his constitutional rights of self-incrimination.

Whitehurst said that he will take the matter under advisement. In the meantime, Whitehurst said he will continue with the proceedings, under information requested from the attorneys for the petitioning creditors in the involuntary bankruptcy petition.

The commercial debt list filed Monday includes a $23,450 indebtedness to a Idaho Springs, Colo., service station; $3,600 to the Dallas Aero Service and $1,200 to Western Airlines.

Addison said that this was the best list he could compile at present because some of his business records were in the hands of former associates and law enforcement officials.

A full "schedule" of his assets will be filed today, Addison said in his petition. Addison said that he was under order from Whitehurst to have the list of all his creditors and his schedule filed by Monday.

If Whitehurst rules that Addison is in contempt of court by not filing the list of lenders, the matter will be referred to Federal Judge T. Whitfield-Deavidson for a decision.

NLRB Anti-Labor, Roosevelt Claims

DALLAS (AP)—Rep. James Roosevelt (D-Calif) charged here Monday that the National Labor Relations Board is an "instrument of management against labor" and that he is going to call for an investigation of NLRB Chairman Boyd Leedom's political activities.

Journalism Clinic Enrollment Gains

LUBBOCK — Enrollment in special workshops for high school journalists slated at Texas Tech. Aug. 14-18 is up 30 per cent over previous years, Prof. W. E. Garrett, Tech journalism department head, has announced.

Registration fees have been paid by 100 students and faculty sponsors while more than 80 others have sent in pre-registration forms, he said. Attendance at previous workshops, here totaled 85 and 75 in 1958 and 1959.

Teen-aged writers from Texas and New Mexico have signed up for one of three workshops being offered by Tech's journalism department during the four-days. The short-course in high school newspapers is designed to help young writers produce better news copy and improve the editing of their publications.

The yearbook workshop will stress copy writing and layout techniques, editing, photo cropping and advertising sales. A special workshop in news photography will introduce the teen-aged "shutterbug" to photo journalism.

Journalists from West Texas newspapers will speak at the newspaper workshop. They include Jerry Hall, regional editor of the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal; Joe Pickle, managing editor of the Big Spring Herald; and Miss Louise Evans, editorial page editor of the Amarillo Globe News.

Miss Margaret Turner, women's editor of the Avalanche-Journal, and Joe Kelly, Avalanche Journal sports editor will discuss news writing in their respective fields. Douglas Meador, Matador Tribune editor and columnist for several Texas papers, will speak on column writing. Ralph Sellmeyer, assistant professor of journalism, will direct the photography workshop.

Powers' Father Sees A Rat; Soviets Deny Brainwashing

By JOE F. KANE
WASHINGTON (AP) — The father of U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers says experts think his Soviet-imprisoned son has been given "a 10-to-15 day treatment in solitary confinement."

Oliver Powers of Pound, Va., did not identify the experts he said had told him that. He and his wife are heading for Moscow, where their son faces trial Aug. 17 on espionage charges.

But the Soviet Union's No. 2 jurist angrily dismissed as "absolute rubbish" the possibility that the pilot was brainwashed.

"Capt. Powers has not been influenced in any way for the trial. Such methods as using lie-detector and brainwashing techniques are antithetical to our legal ideals," L. N. Smirnov told newsmen in London Monday night. Smirnov is deputy chairman of the Soviet Supreme Court.

Powers, whose plane was shot down over the Soviet Union May 1, faces trial before the Military College of the Supreme Soviet. The Soviet penalty for conviction of espionage ranges from 15 years imprisonment to death.

The pilot's parents arrived here Monday on the first leg of their journey to Moscow. Powers' wife is expected to leave her home at Milledgeville, Ga., later this week. She is scheduled to arrive in Moscow Aug. 18.

The father told newsmen he believed Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev will heed his appeal for clemency. He said he was pretty sure Khrushchev will listen to the appeal of "one working man to another and one father to another."

"They think he has been given a 10-to-15 day treatment in solitary confinement," Powers said.

Smirnov talked with newsmen in London while attending a U.N. crime prevention congress. He said he wanted to assure everyone in the West that Powers would get "the fairest possible trial." "It would be good to wash with clean water the brains of people who suggest that Powers has been brainwashed," he said.

Asked why the Soviets refused to permit Powers to be represented at his trial by an American attorney, Smirnov said "I don't know anything at all about that. I cannot answer."

A group of Virginia attorneys who wanted to accompany the parents to the trial were turned down by the Soviets when they asked for visas.

The State Department said it was not aware that any American lawyers were being allowed to attend the trial. But the elder Powers said he understood that San Francisco attorney Vincent Hallinan and several other American attorneys had been granted Soviet visas to observe the trial. Hallinan ran for president in 1952 on the Progressive ticket.

YOUTH LEADER SAYS:

Juvenile Crime Rate Will Rise

GATESVILLE, Tex. (AP)—Texas can expect an increase in juvenile crime in the present decade, the director of the Texas Youth Council says.

Dr. James Turman made the prediction at a hearing Monday before the legislative and governor's budget staffs at the Gatesville State School for Boys.

"I see no decrease in juvenile crime in this state. I see nothing but an increase," he said. Turman outlined the school's financial needs for the state biennium beginning Sept. 1, 1961. Included was a new 240-boy training unit, to cost $394,000.

The school's budget requests were $2,204,995 for fiscal 1962 and $2,030,475 for 1963. The building budget is for a school building at the unit for Negro boys. If the school can obtain government surplus building materials, the state won't have to bear the $124,000 item, Turman remarked.

The institution spent $1,131,601 in the 1959 fiscal year and has a budget of $2,355,841, including $606,867 for construction, in the coming fiscal year.

Turman told the budget panel the new training unit is necessary to meet an expected increase in the school's population by the end of the 1962-63 biennium.

The school population averages about 1,300 boys daily. About 1,790 are anticipated during the biennium, and 2,959 by the end of the decade, he said. Per capita cost per day should rise from the present $3.51 to $4.26 by the end of 1963, Turman said.

Turman said in 1950 Gatesville had only 403 boys. The average length of a stay at the institution is 7.4 months.

The Youth Council director spoke in favor of a state juvenile parole system. He said between one-third and one-fourth of the boys at Gatesville now have been there more than once, some as many as five times.

"I think we can keep some of these kids from coming back if we have a parole system," he said.

Part of the budget request that Turman defended was an item for four unit superintendents. The school wants to operate on a six-unit basis, with vocational, educational, recreational, and work programs at each unit, Turman said.

Material Witness Sues For Losses

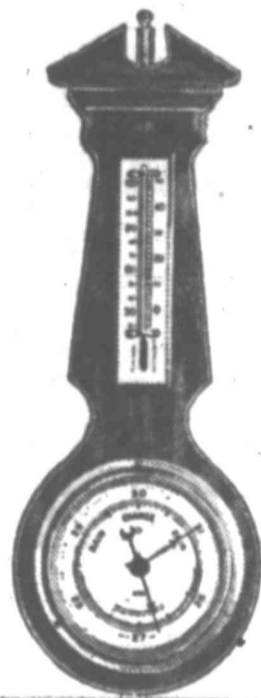

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A Miami man, jailed 81 days as a material witness to a slaying he reported, is suing Dade County Law officials for more than a million dollars.

Elliott Fletcher, 35, based his suit on a contention of false imprisonment. He asked a million dollars punitive damages and more than $5,000 for loss of work during the time he spent in jail. Fletcher complained that while he fretted behind bars, the accused slayer went free on bond.

Harry Kemp Dies; Ashes To Be Spread

PROVINCETOWN, Mass. (AP)—Harry Kemp's ashes should rest as uneasily as the turbulent poet of the dunes lived through most of his 78 years.

The "tramp poet," who once shared a fishing shack here with the young dramatist Eugene O'Neill, died Monday.

Kemp instructed his landlady to strew half his ashes over Peaked Hill Bar, a submerged menace to navigation three miles off shore which has brought death to many ships.

The other half, he instructed, should be strewn in Greenwich Village, New York City, at the corner of 14th Street and Houston Avenue. Kemp began his climb to literary renown in the Bohemian village.

Herman Tasha, who gave Kemp the cottage which was his last home, said he would execute the poet's wishes.

Kemp, native of Youngstown, Ohio, went to sea at 17. On one occasion he stowed away on a luxury liner from which he was removed in chains in England. A letter from George Bernard Shaw brought his release from a jail sentence.

He was closely associated with O'Neill's rise to fame as a playwright. He came to Provincetown 41 years ago. He enjoyed tramping the sand dunes barefoot and swimming winter and summer in the raw.

Kemp's best known works include "Tramping on Life," "Chanteys and Ballads," "The Cry of Youth," and "The Passing God."

Mississippi Attorney Is Constitution Party Hero

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—The Constitution Party Monday night named Charles Sullivan, 35-year-old Clarksdale, Miss., attorney, as its presidential candidate.

Sullivan, who ran third in the race for governor of Mississippi, was not present at Monday night's meeting, attended by approximately 350 delegates from Texas, Tennessee, Mississippi and Michigan.

Party leaders have delayed naming a nominee for the vice-presidency until they confer with Sullivan.

A major plank in the platform of the conservative party's platform calls for abolishment of the federal income tax.

Nomination of the Mississippi lawyer and judge climaxed several weeks of work by the party in trying to find a suitable candidate.

His name was placed in nomination by Dr. Charles W. Finley of Lubbock, chairman of the negotiating committee.

Sullivan's selection caused one person—Addie Barlow Frazier of Dallas—to talk out of the convention.

Mrs. Frazier, a leader in the pro-segregation White Citizens' Council, said she wanted to place in nomination the name of Gov. Orval Faubus of Arkansas.

The Constitution Party's goal is to get enough electoral votes to prevent either the Democratic or Republican parties from receiving a majority in November—thus throwing the election into the House of Representatives, leaders said.

British Women Are Safer Drivers

LONDON (AP)—A British insurance company survey says it has shown that British women are safer drivers than men. The company is cutting liability premiums for women drivers at least 10 per cent.

A company spokesman said men can get the discount if they can prove their wives or daughters do most of the driving.

Negroes Hold Prayer Rally Near Grocery

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—More than 50 Negroes held a prayer service and set up picket lines in front of a grocery store Monday. They urged the store to hire more Negroes.

Officials of the Handy Andy grocery stores denied any policies of discriminating against Negroes. The stores' attorney, Hubert Green Jr., said in a statement that "anyone who comes into our stores can readily see we have a number of Negro employees, particularly in the store that has been charged with discrimination."

He said "we feel that any boycott would be very unjust and particularly will be a reflection on the very fine relations that the store has enjoyed with its many Negro customers." Green added that the stores employ more than 100 Negroes "who have made very fine employees and we know of no way we have discriminated against the race."

The Rev. H. C. James of the Baptist Ministers Alliance of San Antonio said the store now employs Negroes only as porters and the group seeks to convince the store it should hire Negro checkers.

The store is in a predominantly Negro neighborhood. Some of the Negroes identified themselves as members of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and the Ministers Alliance. Joseph V. Luter, president of the San Antonio Branch of the NAACP, said the Negroes held their prayer meeting on a traffic island in order to avoid doing so on private property.

THIS DAY IN TEXAS
By CURTIS BISHOP

The Fort Griffin "Echo" reported triumphantly on this day in 1879 that citizens of Fort Griffin had won a $2,500 wager from public-spirited people of Fort Worth.

The bet between the two municipalities, which is unusual if not unprecedented, was over how many cattle would move up the old Kansas or Chisholm Trail as compared with shipments up the Dodge Trail. (Some historians are prone to blend these two cattle routes into one trail, but they were separate paths to Kansas).

In this early instance of municipal rivalry (Fort Worth has since done most of its civic feuding with Dallas) both towns claimed to be the hub of Texas cattle traffic. The amount of $2,500 was posted after editorial disputes between the Fort Griffin "Echo" and the Fort Worth "Democrat."

Fort Griffin was an easy winner, and much of the $2,500 was expended promptly upon a history-making celebration. Fort Worth had claimed that three-fourths of the Texas cattle would move along the Chisholm Trail, whereas less than half of the Longhorn entrepreneurs selected this route.

Eye Care Simplified By Sunglass Wardrobe

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Beauty Editor

Sunglasses have become an essential part of the summer wardrobe.

Many career girls and vacationers have a wardrobe of sunglasses to match summer clothes. These are not bought in one fell swoop but accumulate from year to year.

One persistent problem is how to tan the face evenly when wearing sunglasses. The telltale white circles and line across the temples can be pretty annoying when we remove our glasses at the end of the day. This is a particular nuisance to models who must look all one hue before the camera. Then, too, they often are posing for ads that will not appear until next fall or winter.

A trick they employ when wearing sunglasses is to rest the eyes at intervals in the sun, removing the glasses during these periods. If the eyes are kept closed for 5 or 10 minutes at the right time in the sun, they will take on a gradual tan around the eye area. After that they often put small cotton pads dipped in ice water or witch hazel over the eye area for a brief period before again donning the sunglasses.

Newer sunglasses include the pince nez style. These petite sunglasses are likely to give eye protection without leaving white marks as they do not have temple pieces.

On the fashion scene too this year are glasses with simulated gold frames that resemble the popular gold framed eyeglasses. These go along with a fad that has caught on in the best swim circles, much to the consternation of fashion soothsayers. This is the trend to gold on the beach—gold beach shoes and golden makeup.

More sunglasses are available for children this year. Parents are beginning to think that children need them as well as adults.

Jewels On Lashes? You Can Have 'Em

The fairy godmother of nursery tales who gave girls beauty by waving her wand had nothing on one of the cosmetic manufacturers. He puts wands of iridescent mascara in girls' hands, and tells them how to stroke jewel-like colors on their lashes and put the look of stars in their eyes.

The new iridescent mascara in five fabulous colors—blue, green, blue-green, lavender and gold—strokes on almost as quickly as you can bat an eye. Water-proof and smear-proof, it lets you do a half-Nelson in the deepest pool and come up with the stars in your eyes intact.

This summer, when you want to frame your eyes in thick-lashed iridescence, coat your lashes first with your usual dark shade of mascara. Then, tip them lightly with one of the new iridescent mascara colors in a shade to match your eye shadow.

For the most dazzle, match your eye make-up to your jewelry, says the expert. Wear iridescent blue mascara with a sapphire necklace or earrings; with an aquamarine, as big as a decanter's stopper, that you pin under your chin. If you wear an amber or topaz necklace, screw gold Gypsy hoops into your ears, or load your arm with golden charms, wear iridescent mascara in the golden shade.

'ROUND TOWN

Another Texas and Pacific family, MR. and MRS. C. E. WILLIAMS, will be leaving soon to make their home in Fort Worth. He is an auditor for the company.

As a compliment to Mrs. Williams, six hostesses entertained this morning in the home of MRS. CLARENCE PERCY with a farewell coffee. MRS. CHARLES BALDWIN, MRS. R. L. LONG, MRS. DREW DYER, MRS. TOMMY THOMPSON and MRS. HARRY DOAN joined Mrs. Percy in planning the affair.

If you like cavens there is a comparatively new one down by Sonora that is not as large as the Carlsbad layout but very pretty. This is the opinion of MRS. OMAR JONES who with her husband and Jon Taylor made the trip the past weekend. The distance is approximately 250 miles and makes a nice jaunt if you like that sort of weekend.

MR. and MRS. B. F. PETTY are expecting their daughter, MRS. WARREN LEE WILBUR, to arrive here Wednesday for as long as she can stay before the beginning of the school term. The REV. MR. WILBUR accepted the pastorate of the First Baptist Church in Flint Hill, Va., in June immediately after completing his seminary work in Louisville, Ky. They are well pleased with Flint Hill, which is located in the Shenandoah Valley.

En route to Big Spring Mrs. Wilbur stopped in Dallas to visit Mrs. Bill Bacon and in Abilene to spend some time with MRS. BILL BARNARD (MARILYN MILLER). During her visit here Mrs. Wilbur will also visit her brother and his family, MR. and MRS. BENNETT PETTY of Midland. She will teach in a Flint Hill school when she returns to Virginia.

Always a pleasant time of the year is that one which brings a meeting of the West Texas Press Association. Attending the gathering at Pecos we spent much time with former Big Springers MR. and MRS. JOHN KING who proudly distributed copies of their Robert Lee Enterprise, a weekly publication. In downtown Pecos to see how the Pecos stores conduct their sales, we were happy to see MRS. JIM SEWARD who formerly was employed by Swartz here and is now with the Style Shop owned by former resident, MRS. BILL TURPIN.

PAT FISHER, FRANKIE HARDESTY and TOMMY PICKLE spent the weekend in Fort Worth as guests of DOUGLAS BURRAGE and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Bennett. Douglas is a former H.C.J. student who is now a chemistry major in Texas University.

Winner of a bride contest in Scotts Bluff, Neb., was the new daughter-in-law of MR. and MRS. BILL SCHLECHT. Joining the family in June, MRS. DEAN PASOLD, the former Jeannie Bernhardt of Scotts Bluff, was voted the prettiest bride of June it was announced recently. She won a $500 bond.

Play It Real Cool If You Want Summer Beauty

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Beauty Editor

Keep cool if you'd look pretty this summer.

A game of sports such as tennis or golf needn't put you in the hot, perspiring class when the mercury soars. There are ways of beating the heat, and young people should employ them.

Dress comfortably. If you wear foundation garments, be sure they are light and not restricting. Launder them often as the human body can produce a gallon of perspiration on a single sweltering day. All aesthetic reasons aside, perspiration must be washed from foundation garments so their efficiency will not be weakened.

Wear well-fitting, but not tight-fitting clothes made of porous fabrics. Cotton and linen or blends of these with some synthetic fibers will serve you best in dress. Young girls look lovely in crisp cottons.

A bath is an effective cooler in summer. Even if you shower right after your swim or game of badminton, climb into a bath for sheer relaxation. A warm bath will cool you off quicker than a cool one. Pat yourself dry. Pat some good quality witch hazel over your body for a lovely cooling sensation. This is particularly effective if you've

Fashion Awards Set For September By Dallas Store

The Neiman-Marcus Award '60 for distinguished service in the field of fashion, presented annually to persons who have made notable contributions in fashion and related fields, is the oldest existent award of its type in the world.

The presentations are made usually during the first week of September at the Neiman-Marcus Fashion Exposition, when the store presents the premier collections of the great couturiers, designers, jewelryers, and accessory makers of the world. Each year the exposition follows a carefully developed theme in presenting the new and prophetic in fashion and generally encompasses two large and elaborately staged benefit fashion shows and an exposition ball.

The handsome handcut silver and ebony plaques that are the actual awards have for years been referred to as "Oscars of the Fashion Industry," and the list of recipients since 1938 as "a roster of Fashion's Hall of Fame."

In number, the awards vary from single ones in 1943 and 1957, to eight in 1958. They are made not only to fashion designers but to persons influential in related fields such as industrial design, publishing, manufacturing or researching, for a broader interpretation of the word and world of fashion. The awards have ranged from the directness and fashion impact of one of the late Christian Dior in 1947, the year of the "new look," to the implication and nuance of the one to the Director of the Metropolitan Museum of Art in 1945.

Jewel Pin Test Is Taken By Sorority

The jewel pin test occupied members of the Mu Kappa chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha Monday evening. Ten members took the test to qualify for the jewel pin ceremony that will be held Aug. 19 at the Webb AFB pavilion. Presbyterians Have Concluding Sessions

Meetings held by the circles of the First Presbyterian Church were the final sessions of this fiscal year. At the next meeting, Sept. 12, all circles will meet together for a general meeting in which the new officers will be installed.

KING'S DAUGHTERS

Monday morning eight members of the King's Daughters met in the home of Mrs. Roland Schwarzenbach. Mrs. Cecil Wasson opened the session with prayer.

Two Bible studies were conducted during the meeting. Mrs. Schwarzenbach led the study of Isa. 9:11, 52, 53. "Christ, the Unifying Center of God's Plan for the Government of Man," and "Christ, the Unifying Center of God's Redemptive Plan."

"Let's Learn About Evangelism" was the discussion topic led by Mrs. Florence McNew. The meeting concluded with the mizpah.

On Sept. 12, at 2:30 p. m., all circles will meet at the church, it was announced.

C-City Selects Lubbock Firm For Surveys

COLORADO CITY—The city council Monday night selected Parkhill, Smith and Cooper of Lubbock, to study Colorado City's water problems and to make recommendations as to the city's present and future water needs.

The council also received an audit of the city's books from Darrell Knight and Hart of Abilene; accepted the low bid of R. B. Hobson and Company of Midland to relocate city water supply lines under Interstate 20.

Inquest Slated For This Week

LARAMIE, Wyo. (AP)—An inquest is tentatively scheduled this week in the death of Edward John Stanney, 42, of Abilene, Texas. He died Wednesday at a Laramie hospital without recovering consciousness.

If You Want Children Of Your Own

By HALVARD T. HANSEN, D.C. Lloyd Sanders, president of Atlas Mutual Life Insurance Company, wrote recently: "We have always recommended chiropractic for heart, hypertension, sprains, lumbago and female diseases, also many other diseases. When chiropractors are in attention, the insurance claims run less."

Customs Argument

Dr. Barbara Moore tries to restrain Customs Inspector George Muller from searching her belongings at San Francisco's International Airport just after her arrival from Sydney, Australia.

Area Quota Is 1,970 Braceros

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Premier Patrice Lumumba said today his fledgling Congo army and soldiers of other African nations will invade Katanga province to free it from the Belgians.

Katanga Invasion Seen By Lumumba

The army will arrest anybody, black or white, who disturbs order in the Congo, the Premier declared. This action could cause serious difficulties between the Congolese soldiers and the U.N. force now trying to maintain order in all of the Congo's provinces except dissident Katanga.

Guardsmen Free On Bond; Battle For Trial Wars

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Five Indiana National Guardsmen were freed on bonds today as civil and military authorities contended for the right to prosecute them for the drowning of a companion.

Mrs. Aadland Is Found Guilty

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Beverly Aadland's mother last court shaken and weeping after a judge found her guilty of contributing to the sufficiency of her daughter's traveling companion of the late Errol Flynn.

'Slept Better' After Killings

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Richard Henry Dare told reporters today "I slept better than I have slept in years" after his estranged wife and three relatives were killed.

Dare, a carpenter, pleaded innocent to four murder charges Monday after admitting and sketching in detail for police and reporters the four slayings.

South Will Stay With Demo Ticket, Observer Predicts

By ROBERT M. JACKSON
Editor, The Corpus Christi Caller-Times

Where's the South going on election day?

Travel eastward from Texas and you can get all kinds of prognostications even without going into the old Deep South, but we're willing to stake our reputation as a political prophet that the electoral vote of the entire area is going to end up in the Democratic column.

The protests against the platform and the outcries against Sen. John F. Kennedy have not reached their crescendo, of course. We understand, for instance, that momentarily there is going to be issued a strong blast signed by a number of the principal office holders of Mississippi. The scheming and fingling to effect some switch of the electoral votes has hardly started. And a lot of thoughtful Americans of all beliefs are fearful that we have not even seen the commencement of the campaign of religious bigotry that is going to be launched against Sen. Kennedy. It will take part in all sections of the country, of course, but there are frightening indications that it will reach its peak in the South.

What, then, are the reasons for believing the South will reject the Nixon-Lodge ticket?

Sen. Kennedy himself is a principal one. The senator is not only a persuasive vote-getter, he is an appealing young man who has the happy knack of doing and saying the right thing at exactly the right time and place. He is not going to alienate any southern votes. He appreciates the importance of the South in the nationwide political picture far more than his two predecessors as Democratic presidential candidate.

It is a virtual certainty that Kennedy will tour the South. Do not be surprised if he makes a major speech on the religious issue, possibly in Texas. Wherever he goes and whatever he says, he is going to get votes.

Secondly, Sen. Lyndon Johnson is not going to take his place on the ticket as a sop to the South and then ignore it while he campaigns from New England to Hawaii. He is going to make an all-out appeal to it and he showed the other night in Nashville, Tenn., that he has what it takes to stir almost unbounded political enthusiasm in the South.

NASHVILLE RALLY

The rally at which he spoke was held in a beautiful Nashville park. Those in charge estimated the crowd at 10,000. A lively brass band blared "Dixie" and "The Yellow Rose of Texas" more times than a disc jockey plays a payola record. The crowd was packed with keyed-up, enthusiastic partisans in the red-hot Tennessee senatorial race. In such an atmosphere it is not surprising that Johnson was well received.

What was significant was that Johnson was applauded and cheered so loudly despite the fact that he pointedly refused to make any direct appeals to the South. He emphasized the national character of the Democratic campaign and he contrasted it with what he called "the sectional policies of the sectional Republican party."

He asserted:

"Wherever I may go, I will never speak as a Southerner to Southerners or as a Protestant to Protestants or as a white to whites. I will speak only as an American to Americans—whatever their region, religion or race."

LEADERS ON HAND

The alacrity with which political leaders from all parts of the South flocked to the Nashville rally is but one more indication of the political pulling power that Johnson possesses. A Corpus Christi businessman who is not a particular admirer of the senator, once said, "The farther away from Texas you are the bigger Lyndon Johnson gets." That's true, of course, and it is almost a political axiom about any national figure. Franklin D. Roosevelt could sweep 46 out of 48 states but he had difficulty in his home voting box at Hyde Park. Before the depression really settled down, Herbert Hoover was one of the most respected presidents this country had ever had.

yet he lost his own precinct at Palo Alto, Calif.

One of the wire dispatches seemed to give undue emphasis to the fact that some of the Southern governors who had accepted invitations to the rally later declined. Those of us who were there could discover no reason of significance for that. What was not mentioned in that particular dispatch was that all of the absent governors had sent representatives.

Five governors were present—those from Kentucky, North Carolina, Alabama and Florida as well as Tennessee—and it was learned authoritatively that each one of them privately told Johnson that the Democrats were a "cinch" to carry his state.

There remains yet one other reason why it looks right now as if the Democrats will sweep the South. It is an ugly one, but it is one of the cold, hard facts of political life and it might as well be faced: Southerners who find the Democratic ticket unpalatable will find the Republican even more objectionable and they will choose the lesser of two evils.

FOR NEGRO VOTE

There is going to be an unseemly scramble for the Negro vote and the distribution of it in northern and eastern states makes it imperative that the Republicans outdo the Democrats in their efforts to corral it. There are several key states which the Democrats might, and possibly will, take without getting a majority of the Negroes. Local situations are such that the GOP cause in those states would be hopeless without them.

Make no mistake about it: The Republicans are going to make an all-out drive for Negroes. And when the country begins to get flooded with pictures of Candidate Nixon happily arm-in-arm with his colored friends, the fires of Southern "revolt" will be squelched considerably.

Pilot Gets Rank In ROK Air Force

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—Chung Nak-Hyun, 24, the pilot who defected from North Korea in a MIG15 jet last week, was commissioned a first lieutenant in the South Korean Air Force today.

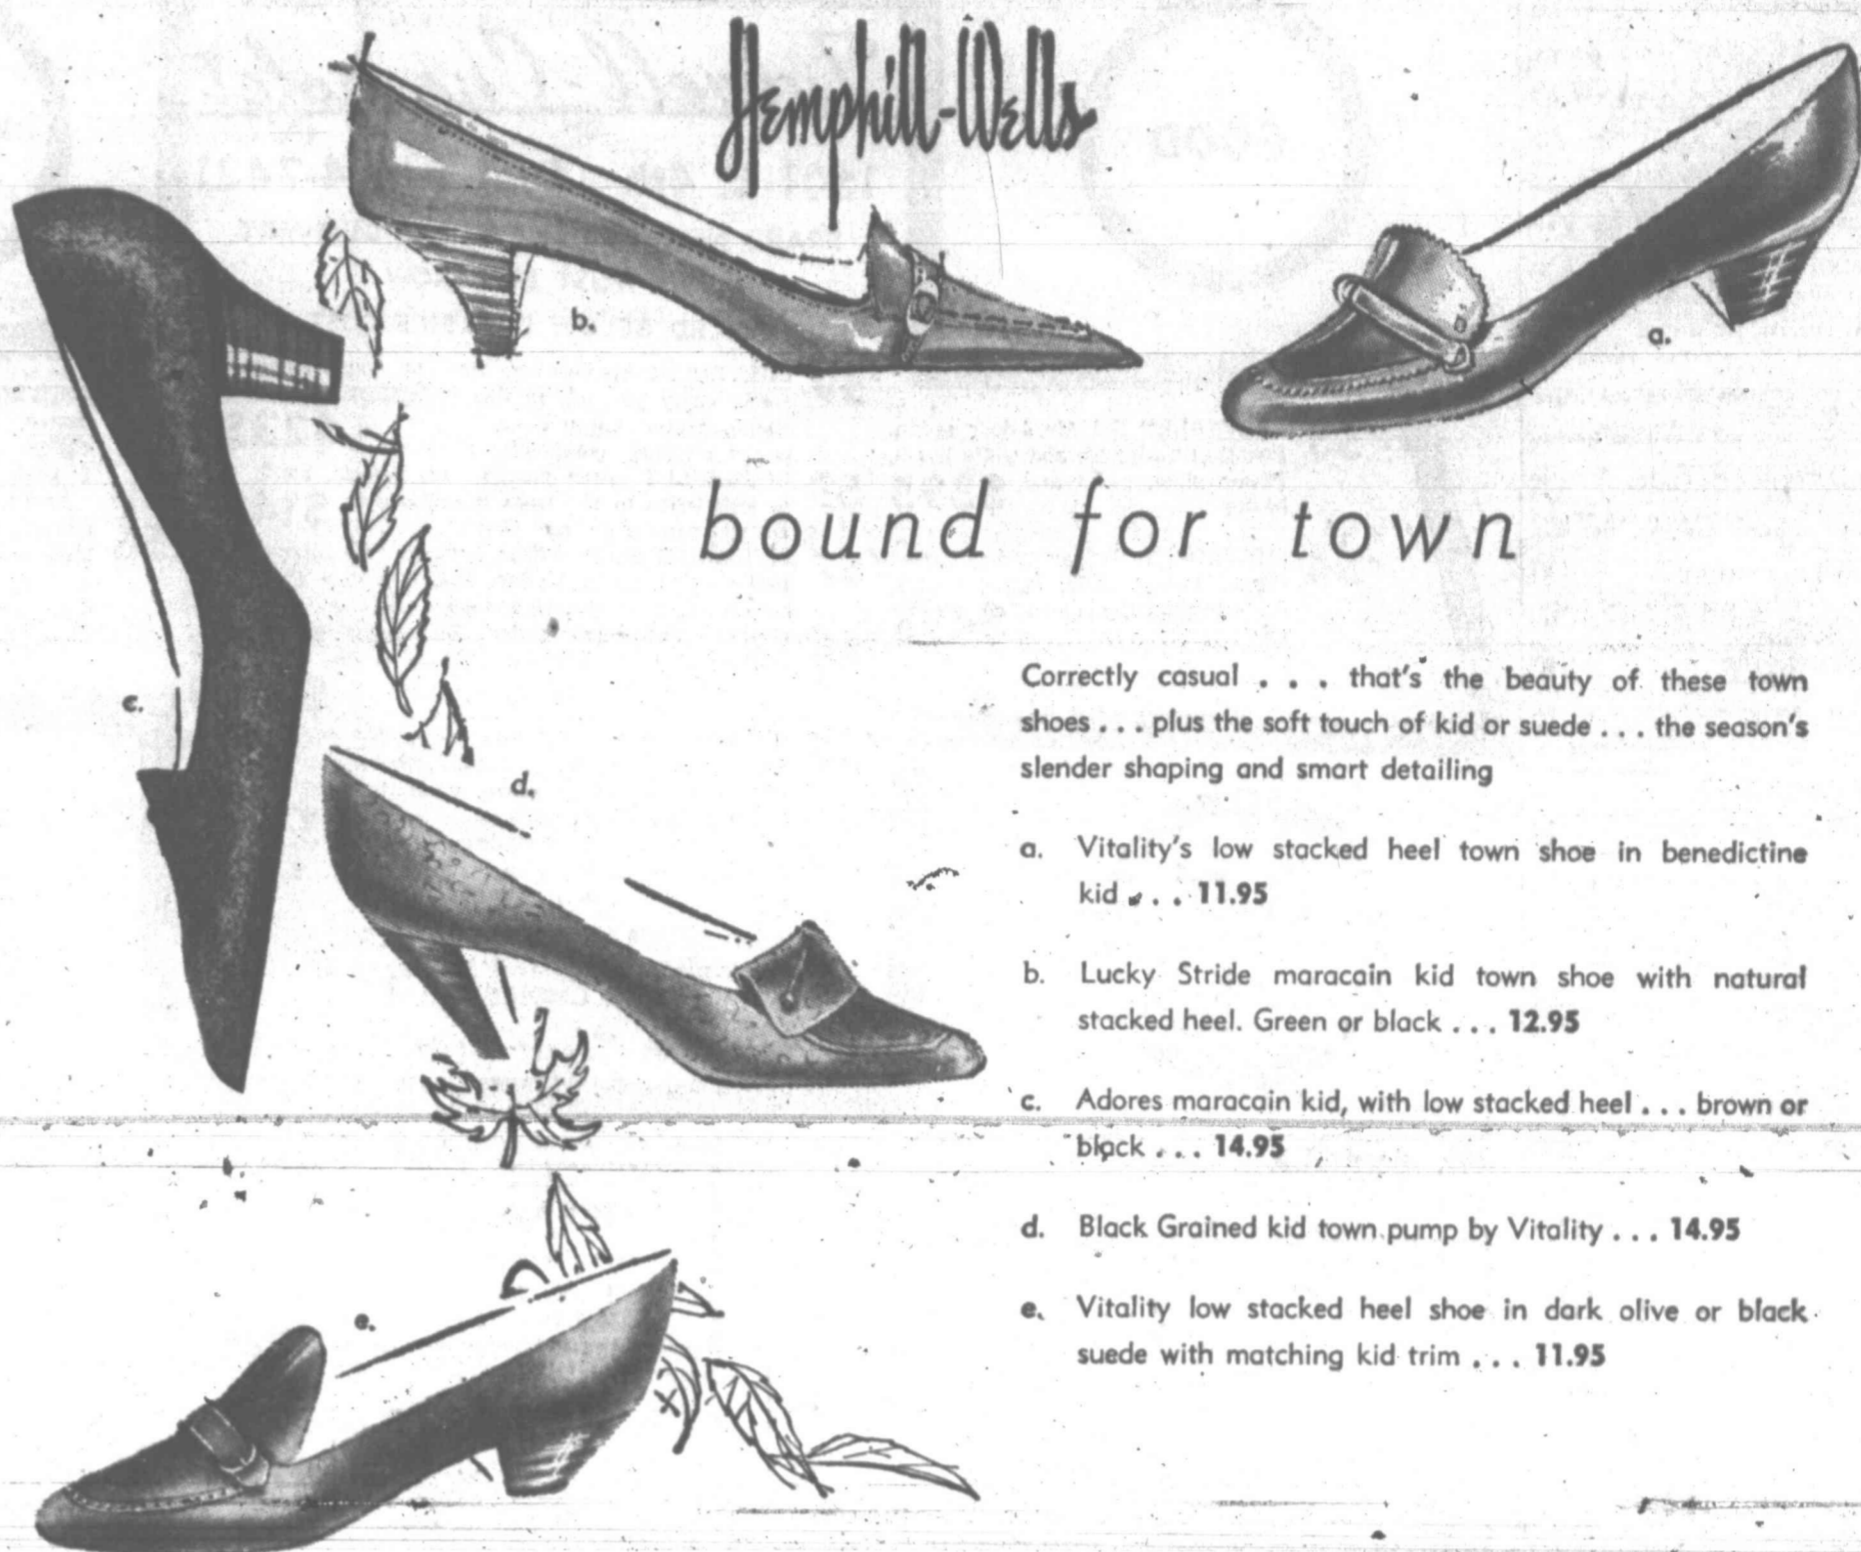

Chung also was awarded the South Korean order of military merit with gold star and 10 million hwan ($15,300 at the official rate) at a ceremony at the air force headquarters.

ON THE SHELF

THE ORIGINS OF ROME. By Raymond Bloch. Praeger. $6.50. VIEW-HUNTING IN ITALY. By Sidney and Alya Bloeme. Dresser-Tappinger. $6.50.

Latins, Sabines and Etruscans; Aeneas, Anchises and Lavinia; Romulus and Remus; Tarquin and Lucretia; Horatius and Lars Porsena; the Horatii and the Curatii—how many names does ancient Rome conjure up to attract the modern traveler!

Romans date their history from B.C. 753—or 747—when Romulus marked out the line of city walls with a plowshare. But it is only Romans left now, as indeed it has been for 200 centuries; and it's natural that they exaggerate their own role in the development of the Italian peninsula, and fill in to their own satisfaction the gaps left by time. Increasingly, new discoveries furnish new information or a check against legend, and they are surveyed here excitingly and authoritatively by Frenchman Bloch.

There was an Aeneas known in 500 B.C.; wolf-priests sanctified the place where the twins were brought up; Etruscans and Romans were rivals. But it seems likely Rome grew more slowly than we have supposed. One illustration shows an earth stratification cut down some 16 feet with 25 different layers betraying as many stages in Rome's history from the Iron Age to medieval times. Rome started a bit later than other ancient societies, but developed not in isolation but along with the rest of the peninsula. Bloch considers the prehistoric peoples, the legends and their reliability, language, law and religion, down to about 450 B.C.

The Bloemes tells us about all of Italy heel to toe right up to the hip. Dividing it up into provinces, they advise you how to travel, what to see en route and in the various cities and towns, what to eat, what hotels are good and even which rooms have balconies and views. There are two kinds of guidebook, one small for the pocket and usually with type too fine to read and indistinct photos, and the other heavy to carry, easy to read, with visible pictures. This is the second kind—and sitting now at a desk I much prefer it. I might if I were traveling, too.

well to make them bigger; he'd like to help his father more when they row out against the Atlantic swells to their net and lobster pots, and he'd like pretty Ellis Conneeley to admire him.

And right now as this short novel opens, he's going to need to be as mighty as a full-grown man: The nets are empty when they should be full, vast twittering flocks of unknown birds come sweeping in from the West, the swells rise higher, the ocean takes on a fearful glassy look, a terrible storm is brewing. The Coast Guard takes the Conneleys to the mainland, but the Joyces, father, mother and son, stay on, and so does the small island's only other family, the old Reeces.

Wibberley, best known for his humor, gives us here a fine romantic picture of overpowering wind and tide beating at humans who will not be overpowered, and of a boy and his love for a girl.
