Colds, Flu Close County Schools; Dodson Reopens

Flu closed all four schools in Collingsworth County, but one of these, Dodson, re-opened this week.

Wellington Superintendent J. L. Harper announced after attendance was checked Wednesday morning, Jan. 10, that students were being sent home and the school will be closed until Monday, Jan. 15.

He said 118 students were absent and this amounts to just under 15 percent of the total enrollment.

Both Samnorwood and Quail closed Monday.

The first to close was Dodson, on Friday, Jan. 5, after the school buses had run and it was determined that about 13 percent of the enrollment was absent. Classes were resumed Monday morning, Jan. 8, Supt. Lloyd Patterson reported.

Supt. R. E. Dwight said the reopening at Norwood will depend on when the flu cycle is broken. Absences Friday amounted to only 3 percent, but on Monday they had jumped to 30 percent. The flu incidence is heavier in the elementary grades than in high school, he said.

The Samnorwood Eagles had no basketball games scheduled for Tuesday or Friday and their next date is with Clarendon on Saturday, Jan. 13. Mr. Dwight said this probably will be played if the boys are all right.

Quail school will reopen on Thursday, Jan. 11, according to present plans, Supt. E. P. Haynie said. Absences Monday morning amounted to about 16 percent of the enrollment, he said.

Health Officer Warns

Respiratory Illnesses Reach Epidemic Stage

Upper respiratory infections have reached epidemic proportions in Collingsworth County, Dr. Carter Holcomb, county health officer, said late Tuesday evening, Jan. 9.

Some of it is flu, and some of it is not, he said.

He warned that the most effective way to keep from contracting flu or other respiratory infections is to stay out of crowds and public gatherings.

"And take care of yourself when you do get it. Go home and go to bed until you get over it," he declared.

Dr. Holcomb said the flu cases here do not appear to be Asian flu, which is appearing in some parts of the country.

Several cases of pneumonia have developed.

It is impossible to determine definitely the extent of the epidemic, since a lot of people who become ill are going home, going to bed and taking care of themselves, the health officer added.

At present the flu is not as severe as the last epidemic about five years ago, nor is there as much of it.

Banquet Plans Started

1968 C-C Officers Begin New Duties

1968 officers of the Collingsworth County Chamber of Commerce took over their duties at the close of the regular directors meeting Monday evening, Jan. 8.

Heading the organization this year is Jeff D. Wilson, president of the City State Bank. He succeeds Wayne Cudd, partner of Cudd Brothers Trucking.

Alvin Horton is vice president and Billy Moseley is secretary.

Three new directors took office: Mayor John Coleman, Robert Lewis and Denver Powell. Their terms are for two years.

With Mr. Cudd presiding, the directors took care of work closing out the year, then began plans for the annual Chamber of Commerce Banquet, which will be held Thursday, Feb. 8. The speaker will be Burl Huffman, freshman football coach at Texas Technological College and one of the popular after-dinner speakers of West Texas.

At this meeting, Mr. Cudd

Juniors Reset Variety Show

The junior class of Wellington High School postponed its Variety Show, planned for Monday evening, Jan. 8, due to the large incidence of flu in town.

The show was reset for Thursday night, Feb. 1.

Tickets already sold will be good for that performance.

Purl Tippie, Retired Teacher, Dies on Friday

Purl Tippie, of Dodson, builder of championship basketball teams, died in Harmon County Memorial Hospital at Hollis at 10:55 p.m. Friday, Jan. 5. The retired teacher, who was 66, had been in ill health about four years.

Mr. Tippie had coached or taught in three of the county's four schools, Samnorwood, Quail and Dodson, and had lived at Dodson about five years. He retired from teaching after his health began to fail.

Altogether, he taught for 38 years, 21 in Oklahoma and 17 in Texas.

He came to the Samnorwood School in 1948 and in the next nine years he produced eight district champions and two regional winners. From 1957 to 1961, he was at Lazbuddie, on the South Plains, where his boys team won the district championship one year.

Mr. Tippie returned to the Quail School to teach one year.

Collingsworth Bank Deposits Soar to New, All-Time Record

A new high in Collingsworth financial history was reached with the end of 1967, as bank deposits and bank assets reached the highest point since banks were established here.

For the first time ever, deposits approached the 10 million dollar mark, with the total standing at $9,944,841.35 when the year-end bank call was made by the State Banking Commissioner and the Federal Reserve Bank.

The Dec. 30 figure is more than three-quarters of a million dollars above the deposit figure at the end of 1966, when deposits amounted to $9,157,620.59. It is almost two million dollars more than the money on deposit at the end of 1965.

Total assets climbed upward correspondingly and for the first time passed the 10 million dollar mark. On Dec. 30, the county's three banks, the City State, Wellington State and First State of Dodson, listed assets of $10,775,097.11. Assets were around $800,000 lower a year ago, when the figure was $9,953,186.11. It is nearly a million and a half higher than assets two years ago, on Dec. 31, 1965.

It is to be noted that bank assets at present are more than four million dollars higher than they were when this decade began, Jan. 1, 1960.

Of the total deposits in the three banks, demand deposits of individuals and business firms total $7,199,784.55, again an historic high. This is the money Collingsworth people use to carry on their day to day business.

A year ago the total was $6,928,087.62, and two years ago it was $6,519,812.32.

Time and savings deposits account for $2,745,056.56. These deposits draw interest and represent an investment for the depositors. This is up nearly one-half million dollars from last year, when the figure was $2,229,532.97.

Loans and discounts now to $5,716,721.24. Last year it was $5,483,125.81.

The capital structure of the three banks now totals $792,723.54, up around $30,000 from last year's figure of $765,244.90.

A part of the capital structure of any bank is its undiv-ed profits, and this year the county's three banks list $292,723.54.

It is to be noted that the end of the calendar year is the date on which the bank calls are made. Dec. 30, 1967 was not, in fact, the date on which deposits were actually at the highest point, for memoranda published along with the bank statements reveal that the deposits for the 15 days preceding the bank call averaged above the 10 million mark: $10,433,039.94.

Peach Production Meet Set Here for January 17

Collingsworth area farmers interested in promoting commercial peach production will hear one of the state's foremost authorities on that fruit in a meeting called by the Extension Service for 2 p.m. Wednesday, Jan. 17.

The meeting will be at the Farm Bureau building, County Agent Sammy Helmers announced.

The speaker will be B. G. Hancock, State Extension Horticulturalist, from College Station.

He will discuss three phases of peach production: Potential of peach production in this area; orchard management, and marketing.

"Right now, there are only about 60 acres in peach production in our county and it is more or less left to make as it can," said Mr. Helmers. "Even with that, these orchards are still profitable, and with some type of management and with more acreage, peaches could become an important crop to the county."

Mr. Hancock has worked closely with some of the major peach producing areas of Texas — Stonewall and Montague Counties, the Pittsburg and Stephenville sections. He is regarded as the foremost authority on fruit and nut production in Texas.

"If the people want to know about other fruits and nuts for Collingsworth County, Mr. Hancock will talk about them and there will be plenty of time for questions and answers," Mr. Helmers continued.

The county agent said that increasing fruit tree acreage is one of the programs of the Extension Service in Collingsworth County this year.

"A large amount of acreage here is suited to fruit growing," he declared. "I believe there are desirable locations on 80 percent of the farms in this county."

Fruit growing can be worked into the diverted acres program of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation program.

Board Hires School Head for 3 Years

Members of the Wellington School Board, in a meeting on Monday night, Jan. 8, re-elected J. L. Harper as superintendent of schools for a three-year period, ending in 1971.

Mr. Harper is now in his eighth year as head of the Wellington school system, and in his 29th year as a teacher and administrator.

His present contract expires with the end of the current school year.

In other business, the board took care of several minor matters pertaining to completing the school remodeling, Mr. Harper said.

Mrs. Tank Forrester was approved as an employee in the school tax office.

Approval was given for trips by two members of the high school band to participate in the area band contest and for vocational agriculture students to attend the Fat Stock Show in Houston late this month.

Mr. Harper said that school tax collections are now coming in well.

Two Band Members Play in Area Contest

Two members of That Skyrocket Band won places in the annual Region I band tryouts at Canyon Saturday, Jan. 6, and will compete in the area contest at Lubbock on Saturday, Jan. 13, according to Band Director James Larson.

David Groves, a senior, placed first in the cornet division, and Jamie Larson, a junior, was third in the trombone section.

Five cornets and four trombones were chosen to participate in the area contest.

This is the first year that Wellington High School Band has had a member advance to the area band tryouts, Mr. Larson said, although there have been a number to participate in the state solo and ensemble contests.

Only 240 high school musicians from the entire state are selected to make up the All-State Band. All divisions, from 4A schools down to Class B compete together.

Among the schools in the Region I contest Saturday were Lubbock, Amarillo, Borger, Pampa and Plainview.

Musicians from three regions will compete in the Area Contest, and these include Region I or the Panhandle, Odessa, and El Paso, Mr. Larson explained.

Area winners will compete in the state contest, and selection for the All-State Band is the highest honor that comes to band students on the high school level.

SCD Board Hears of Needed Watershed

Aubrey Dalrymple, state field representative with the Texas Association of Soil Conservation Districts, Lubbock, met with the board of supervisors of Salt Fork Soil Conservation District Monday, Jan. 8, to discuss information needed in working up the proposed Buck Creek Watershed Project.

Also meeting with the board was Douglas Cunningham, of Pampa, area supervisor of the Soil Conservation Service.

Mr. Dalrymple outlined the correct procedures for making application for the watershed project. He explained the ratio of benefits and expense to make such a project feasible.

Factors to be considered by the Texas Association of Soil Conservation Districts, which must pass on all watershed projects, include pollution, recreation, wild life, flood control, irrigation, industrial and municipal water and others.

Gary Reed, work unit conservationist, said that the Salt Fork SCD supervisors are in the process of contacting the supervisors of the other soil

Quitaque Girls and Rockets Win Tourney

Quitaque girls and Wellington boys won the Wellington invitational basketball tournament in the finals played Saturday night, Jan. 6.

Wellington girls and Altus A boys placed second and winners in the consolation bracket Saturday afternoon were Altus B boys and Altus A girls.

The Wellington Skyrockets took the championship from a team that had beaten them twice earlier in the season. Altus got the upper hand early in the game and at one point had Wellington down 16 to 3. The Rockets fought an uphill battle all the way and played some of their hardest ball of the tournament.

Top scoring honors went to Rick Barnett of Altus with 18 points, and Kent Clark was high for Wellington with 17.

In winning the girls championship game over Wellington 51 to 35, Quitaque remains undefeated for the year. This was also an off night for Wellington and the girls had difficulty hitting the basket. Myers of Quitaque was high pointer with 17 and Mary Lou Holton had 15 for Wellington.

Altus B girls defeated Shamrock 45 to 42 in one of the closest played games of the entire tournament to win consolation. The lead changed hands a dozen times or more and it was not until near the end of the game that Altus B took the title. High pointers were Pam Richardson of Shamrock with 24, and Click of Altus, 21.

The Altus B boys defeated Wellington B 58 to 45 for the consolation title. Nicky Watts of Wellington was high scorer with 15 points, while Bob Tahchuda had 13 for Altus.

The girls all-tournament team included Mary Lou Holton of Wellington, Cheatham of Quitaque, Terry Deck of Shamrock and Barbara Martin of Altus, forwards; Mary Ingram of Wellington; Billie Purkey of Samnorwood; Rekieta of Paducah and Cheatham of Quitaque.

On the boys all-tournament team were Andy Henard and Kent Clark of Wellington, Pointer and Payne of Quitaque, and Carraway and Williams of Altus.

The tournament opened on Thursday morning, Jan. 4 with a thriller when Wellington girls defeated Shamrock 40 to 37 in an overtime period. The game was tied 34-34 at the end of regular play, then Wellington's four free throws and one field goal took the victory. Mary Lou Holton had 22 points for Wellington; Terry Deck 18 for Shamrock.

In other first round games, in the girls bracket, Paducah girls defeated Samnorwood 39 to 21; and Quitaque girls defeated Altus 57 to 29.

In the first round of the boys bracket, Wellington boys defeated Altus B 64 to 37, leading all the way. Quitaque took a 56 to 24 victory over Samnorwood, a team weakened by the loss of two starters due to illness.

In the final game, Altus A boys defeated Wellington B 77 to 39 in a game that was closer than the score indicated.

The second round of the championship division saw Wellington girls defeat Paducah 52 to 30, and Quitaque girls drew a bye.

In the boys division, Wellington boys defeated Quitaque 79 to 75. Altus boys drew a bye.

Going the consolation route, Shamrock won over Samnorwood girls 48-41 in overtime play. The game was tied 39-39 at the end of regular play. Altus girls drew a bye.

Altus B boys won in the second round consolation play over Norwood 78 to 43 and Wellington B drew a bye.

Officials were Cliff Marco, Wayne Bagley and Bob Conners of the Amarillo Officials Association.

Most Helium Near Amarillo

Ninety-three per cent of the western world's known reserves of helium are located within a 300-mile radius of Amarillo. It is found as a constituent of natural gas.

The Texas and Oklahoma Panhandles, together with northeastern Arizona, northwestern New Mexico and Kansas are the best known sources of supply.

All helium plants are located in these states at present.

Helium is also present as a constituent of natural gas in Canada, and in a few other parts of the world, but these sources are minor in importance compared to the volume available in the United States.

Helium was discovered in 1868 in observations of the corona of the sun. Not until 1895 was it found to exist on earth.

Veteran Home Buyers Warned Against Loan "Side Deals"

Veterans seeking home loans guaranteed by the Veterans Administration are advised by the VA to be cautious about getting involved in "side deals" or "tie-in-sales" as a condition to purchasing a home.

There have been cases in which veterans have been requested or even required to purchase items of furniture or other merchandise. These are paid for in cash and not from the proceeds of the loan guaranteed or insured by the VA. In some cases the items have been so overpriced as to constitute additional consideration for the purchase of a home.

Sometimes these offers are legitimate and benefit the veteran, and the VA has no objection to such purchases so long as they are not paid for with the proceeds of the loan.

In any case where the seller and purchaser have entered into a "side arrangement" or "tie-in-sale" involving personal property to evade the GI statutory requirement that the purchase price of the home not be in excess of the reasonable value established by the VA appraisal, the VA is required to investigate the matter thoroughly.

In cases where a "side deal" or "tie-in-sale" appears to be involved, details must be revealed to the VA, which reserves the right to inspect and appraise the items involved before approving a loan.

Rivest Loses 13 Puppies in Fire

Leo Rivest lost 13 registered German Shepherd puppies and one female in a fire that swept the kennels in which he had them housed on Wednesday, December 27. An electric stove was overturned by one of the females and ignited the blankets in one of the kennels. One of the mother dogs had to be destroyed after becoming crazed over the loss of her puppies.

Both litters were registered. One set of the sibolens was only 2 days old and the other not much over a week. Mr. Rivest ordinarily sells the young animals for $25 each.

Mr. and Mrs. Austin V. Atkinson

Mr. and Mrs. Austin V. Atkinson Observe Golden Wedding Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. Austin V. Atkinson celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Sunday, January 7, in the home of their daughter-in-law, Mrs. Betty Atkinson, 901 Childress Street.

The hosts were their son and daughters-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Atkinson of Buck Creek community and Mrs. Betty Atkinson, and their granddaughters, Beverly Henry of Buck Creek and Mrs. Benny McDanel of Dumas. Junior hosts were their granddaughter, Catrina Atkinson, and their great grandchildren, Jerry Wayne Henry and Karen McDanel. Mrs. Troy Stallings acted as co-hostess.

A gold color scheme was used, and flowers from friends were used throughout the house. Guests were served from a table centered with gold and bronze chrysanthemums in a footed gold leafed bowl. The tablecloth was accented with gold roses.

Miss Henry presided at the punch and coffee service while Mrs. McDanel served the cake. Mrs. A. T. Atkinson registered the guests and members of the family showed the gifts. Friends called throughout the afternoon.

A. V. Atkinson is a prominent farmer-rancher in the area and a member of one of the first families to settle in the Quail section. The family is also credited with being the first to grow cotton in Collingsworth County.

Mr. and Mrs. Atkinson are long-time members of the Assembly of God Church in Wellington.

They met by coincidence while he was traveling cross-country in New Mexico and stopped at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Young, parents of Cora Ethel Young. At that time, towns were far apart and almost everyone offered hospitality to the traveler.

One year later they were married, January 3, 1918. They traveled over one hundred miles to Socorro, New Mexico, in a Model T Ford to be married.

Mr. Atkinson was the fourth of ten children raised on a farm near Buck Creek. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Atkinson, from Alabama, settled in the county in 1892, and A. V. Atkinson was born in a half dugout in 1894.

Cora Ethel Young was the second of two children of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Young. She was born at Silver City, New Mexico in 1902. After their marriage, they came back and settled at Buck Creek until 1925, when they moved to Farmington, New Mexico. They raised their two sons, Cecil Colan and Asel T. Atkinson in New Mexico. They again came to Collingsworth County and in 1950 made their permanent home at Buck Creek. They suffered a great loss when their oldest son, C. C. Atkinson, died of a heart attack at the age of 45 in 1965.

They now have three grandchildren and two great grandchildren and are still living on the same place where Mr. Atkinson was born.

Product News

The new year is here and so are some new products to make your day to day living more comfortable. Technology is bringing so many changes and keeping up with these changes becomes an important responsibility of the alert consumer.

All products resulting from technology cannot be evaluated alike. Quality and function are important, but they are not the only factors one should consider. The consumer should consider his own needs, wants and values of what is important.

To one, saving time is important; to another, fulfillment of a personal desire is reason enough to purchase a new product. What are some of the new products for 1968?

—On-a-door skirt marker that clamps to the edge of any interior door is new. The fully adjustable height makes it possible to do not only skirt lengths but minis, sleeve lengths, jacket hems and pockets.

—The steam press valet is designed to crease trousers, pleated skirts, press ties, and will do touch up pressing and steaming on other items. Two pressing plates, coated with teflon to hold the area of the garment to be pressed or steamed.

—The new toast alarm only can be set for degrees of doneness desired, but it will signal with an alarm when the toast is ready.

—The cook-n-stir blender is the first and presently only blender on the market with a built-in heating unit. Foods can be prepared on either the hot or cold setting. The hot setting controls the temperature from 100 to 375 degrees Fahrenheit.

These are just a few of the new products you can find at the stores now.

Be a Smart Shopper

Anyone can be a smart shopper and everyone should be!

Wise buying takes only a few simple ground rules plus the willingness to spend some time and effort in observing them. In fact the whole science of smart shopping might be reduced to these three commandments:

1. Never expect something for nothing. While it is true most stores have periodic sales of specials, keep in mind that no successful merchant ever gives anything away. Expect to pay a reasonable price, but do some comparison shopping before buying, and be highly suspicious of anything that is advertised as an outright give away.

2. Resist impulse buying. Nothing can wreck a budget faster! Before you take the buying plunge, ask yourself two questions: Do I really need it? Can I afford it?

3. Be an informed shopper. The better informed you are about price, quality, advertising techniques, store reputations, labels and brands, the more you will be able to get for your money. Being informed takes time, but it pays off in dollars.

Knowing these rules is only half the battle of becoming an expert shopper. Learning how to apply the rules and developing know-how through practice and experience make up the rest.

Apples in Meatballs

"Be adventurous in cooking habits. Do not get in a rut."

If you made only one New Years resolution about how you will prepare meals for your family in 1968, this would be a wise choice. Adventure leaves the whole field of menu magic wide open.

Take apples, for example. Only a cupful of apples will do wonders to moisten and flavor APPLE MEATBALLS.

Mix 1 pound ground beef, 1 cup grated fresh apple, 1 cup dry bread crumbs, 2 eggs, beaten, 1 teaspoon salt, and ¼ teaspoon pepper. Form into 1½ inch balls, and place in a casserole. Cover with 1 cup tomato juice and bake 1 hour in a 375 degree F. oven. Add more tomato juice if necessary during the holidays. to keep meatballs moist.

The ladies were served tea and candy and exchanged gifts.

Mrs. Creed Hill Tells Domestic Science Club of Louisiana Cooking

Mrs. Creed Hill enlivened the last meeting of the Domestic Science Club with a discussion of Louisiana cooking and prepared chicken gumbo for the members and guests. The meeting was held Thursday, January 4, in the Greenbelt Electric Club Room with Mrs. Faris Wood as hostess.

Mrs. Hill told her audience that modern Louisiana is divided into three parts, The North, The South, and The City—New Orleans, and each section differs drastically in people and tableware.

Mrs. Hill's talk dealt mainly with the Creole cooking of the people of the southern part of Louisiana. "There are five fundamentals in Louisiana cooking," Mrs. Hill said. "These are the iron pot, the roux, stocks, herbs, and alcoholic beverages. The iron pot is essential because it retains the heat and does not burn its contents, especially the roux. Every type of dish is cooked on a slow fire—for time is meaningless for Louisiana cooks. They know that going slowly is the secret of good cooking. A large wooden spoon is always used."

"Then there is the roux—all cooks in Louisiana use a roux—which is a sort of gravy that is the basis of a large number of dishes, such as gumbo, stews and vegetables.

A stock pot always has a prominent place on the Louisiana stove. Into this goes game meat, fowl flesh, whole fish, crawfish, shrimps, crabs and oyster juice and anything else that might add flavor. This stock is used for soups, stews, gravies and basting.

"The knowledge of herbs came to Louisiana with the first French settlers and when these stocks were exhausted, they turned to the Indians and the old slave cooks added their own African seasoning. Each home had a herb garden planted between the big house and the smokehouse and most still do.

"Gumbo—the original creation and cherished possession in South Louisiana kitchens use any shellfish, fish, game, or fowl as a base. It is made with File', the powdered sassafras leaf, or okra as a thickening agent. It was used by the Choctaw Indians. Their word for sassafras was Kombo from which we got the word gumbo. Gumbo is a wonderful way of using leftovers, bits of ham, chicken, turkeys, duck, sausage, seafood or bacon.

"Some dishes are apt to surprise the most seasoned cooks, such as fried pigs feet, calf's head, blood sausage, crawfish etoufee, to name a few."

Mrs. Hill continued her fascinating talk by giving the details of Louisiana cooking flavored with the history of the state and the customs of the people.

Guests present for the Thursday meeting were Mrs. L. E. Ward, Mrs. J. D. Wilson, Mrs. C. T. Hubbard, Mrs. Hazel Butler, Mrs. E. F. Bartlett, Mrs. R. W. Brantley and Miss Bonnie Willis.

Members present were Mrs. Jerry Nix, Mrs. Clyde Drake, Mrs. J. Frank Johnson, Mrs. John Coleman, Mrs. L. C. Hill, Mrs. Deskins Wells, Mrs. J. B. Stevenson and the hostess, Mrs. Wood.

Watch Night Service Held

Intermediate young people of Faith Baptist Church held a Watch Night service Sunday, New Year's Eve. Games were played, and at the stroke of 12, the group blew noise makers and wished each other "Happy New Year." The evening closed with a prayer.

Approximately 12 boys and girls attended, along with the sponsors, Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Vines and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Parker, and the pastor, the Rev. and Mrs. Jack Tutor of Childress.

Christmas Ceremony Here Unites Barbara Livingston, Norman Black

Miss Barbara Livingston of Tulsa, Oklahoma, became the bride of Pvt. E-2 Roger Norman Black of Ft. Lee, Virginia, in a ceremony at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Black, 1710 Ellison Street, on Saturday, December 23. The Rev. Leroy Gaston, pastor of First Baptist Church, read the vows at four o'clock in the afternoon.

The bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Livingston, live at Tulsa. Wedding music was presented by Miss Beth Smith, pianist, and the vocalist was Miss Patricia Wilson.

Mr. Black gave the bride in marriage.

She wore a floor-length orchid dress, made in sleeveless, princess style. Over this she wore a matching lace jacket, with high neck and short sleeves. Her flowers were a ball of orchid glamelias with tufts of tulle.

Mrs. Charles Black of Fort Worth was the matron of honor. She wore a street-length white lace tent dress with a bow at the low back neckline and her corsage was of blue and white carnations.

Charles Black was his brother's best man.

After the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Black were hosts at a reception. The bride's table was laid with a beige cloth and the centerpiece was of white tapers in a wrought iron stand, with an arrangement of white roses and a miniature bride and groom. Edith Black and Judy Peters served the wedding cake and punch.

Mrs. Charles Black registered the guests.

The bride is a student in a Tulsa, Oklahoma high school and will continue her studies.

The bridegroom was graduated from Wellington High School and attended Western Republic College in Amarillo. He is now serving in the United States Army and presently is receiving training in IBM operation and accounting at the Quartermaster School at Ft. Lee, Va.

Garden Club Elects New Officers for 1968 in Meeting Held January 3

The Wellington Garden Club elected new officers at its regular meeting January 3 with Mrs. Joe Thompson being elected as president for 1968.

The meeting was held in the home of Mrs. Thompson, with Mrs. Ollie Raburn as co-hostess. Mrs. Silas Crawford read the collect which was read in unison and the roll call was taken by each member giving their New Year resolution.

New officers elected at the business meeting were: Mrs. Joe Thompson, president; Mrs. Howard Riggs, first vice president; Mrs. G. L. Jones, second vice president; Mrs. Ray Clubb, recording secretary; Mrs. Milford Harris, treasurer and corresponding secretary; Mrs. Coy Vaughan, reporter; Mrs. Bill Tarter, historian; and Mrs. Creed Hill, parliamentarian.

Mrs. Hill gave the program and showed slides of flowers and homes of Garden Club members.

Refreshments were served to the following members: Mrs. Jess Cook, Mrs. John Henard, Mrs. Coy Vaughan, Mrs. Creed Hill, Mrs. Woody Wood, Mrs. Silas Crawford, Mrs. Milford Harris, Mrs. G. L. Jones, Mrs. Henry Vaughan, and the hostesses.

Pastor Recovers After Surgery

The Rev. Ellis Todd, pastor of First Methodist Church, underwent major surgery in Methodist Hospital, Lubbock, Saturday, Jan. 6 at 9:30 a.m.

There were no complications and by Sunday morning he was able to joke with members of the family and close friends, according to Dr. Luther Kirk, district superintendent of the Methodist Church, who was with him for the surgery.

If his progress continues to be good, he may be able to return home by the end of this week, Dr. Kirk told members of the congregation here. He is in room 428-B of Methodist Hospital.

Mrs. Todd is with her husband, and their daughter and son-in-law, the Rev. and Mrs. Davis Hamlin of Memphis, were there for the surgery.

Ko Shari Honors Sponsor Mon.

Members of Ko Shari honored one of their sponsors, Mrs. Lyndon Crelia, Monday, January 1, in the home of her mother, Mrs. Sandy Parsons, Jr.

Mrs. Crelia is moving to McLean. She has worked with the high school girls social club about four years.

Individually, the girls paid tribute to Mrs. Crelia, then presented her with a gift certificate.

Approximately 30 attended.

Beth Smith Is Club Speaker

The Excelsior Club met on Thursday evening, January 4, in the home of Mrs. J. F. Michael, who also acted as program leader.

Mrs. Bernice Welch presented Beth Smith, who reviewed "To Serve with Love."

Miss Sara Jones, president, conducted the business meeting. Refreshments were served to Mrs. Lowell Wells, Mrs. E. F. Bartlett, Mrs. Denver Powell, Mrs. Henry Vaughan, Miss Jones, Mrs. Robert Barjenbruch, Miss Bonnie Willis, Miss Dorothy Robertson, Mrs. Welch, Miss Smith, and the hostess, Mrs. Michael.

John D. Coleman Family

Beef Cattle Researcher Returns Here to Live

Dr. and Mrs. John Dee Coleman, and daughters Carol, 11, and Susan, 5, have moved to the Panhandle area from a Chicago suburb, where Dr. Coleman has been doing experimental research in beef cattle nutrition for Abbott Laboratories for the past 3½ years. Mrs. Coleman, the former Sandra Burden of Shamrock, was a first grade teacher in Illinois.

The Colemans arrived in Wellington in time to spend the Christmas holidays with the Jay Dee Colemans. After Christmas they moved into the former ranch home of the Dee Colemans located 11 miles Southeast of McLean. From that location Dr. Coleman, a veterinarian, will be primarily engaged in ranching operations, and secondarily in a specialized veterinary practice limited to cattle health and nutrition. This practice will include synchronized breeding programs for beef cattle and pre-conditioning programs for feeder calves.

In 1956, Dr. and Mrs. Coleman and Carol flew to East Pakistan where they lived and worked for four years. Dr. Coleman was a Veterinary Consultant in the East Pakistan College of Veterinary Science and Animal Husbandry where he taught senior veterinary students in diagnostic and clinical medicine. In 1960 the Colemans were called home on emergency leave due to the illness of Sandra's father, the late W. Y. Burden of Shamrock. They remained in the States and Dr. Coleman served his military obligation at Fort Rucker, Alabama, as the Post Veterinarian until 1962.

Having developed a deep interest in animal nutrition, or the lack of it, in East Pakistan, Dr. Coleman entered Auburn University to do graduate study in that field. He completed a Master's Degree in Nutritional Pathology in July, 1964. Following graduate school, the Colemans moved to Illinois where he conducted field research in cattle feedlots in the United States and Mexico for Abbott Laboratories.

School Office Changes Made

Mrs. Barbara Williamson has been named deputy in the office of the county school superintendent, T. E. Lennon. She began work Monday, Jan. 8.

She is succeeding Mrs. Ted Brock, who with her family, is moving to Portales, N.M. She will remain in the superintendent's office until Jan. 19.

Mrs. Williamson formerly worked in the office of Mrs. Nita Brantley, tax assessor and collector for the Wellington Independent School District.

Now employed in the school tax office is Mrs. Tank Forrester, a reporter and in charge of circulation at The Wellington Leader four months. Mrs. Forrester, whose husband is on the high school coaching staff, returned this year from Portales, N.M. There she was employed at Eastern New Mexico University.

Mr. and Mrs. D. C. McMillin and daughter, Brenda, of Tulsa came Christmas for several days with his mother, Mrs. Claud McMillin, and his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Sandy Parsons, Jr.

Guests in the home of Mrs. R. L. Tenison over the holidays were her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. George Hutchins and Mary of Palestine, and Mrs. Hutchins' son, Bobby Harris of Amarillo.

Cook Funeral Held in Mangum January 5

Funeral services for Hefflin Jesse Cook, 70, of Reed, Okla., were held Jan. 5 in Mangum in the Trinity Baptist Church with Rev. Bill Moseley, pastor of the Sulphur Baptist Church, assisted by Rev. Bill McGee of Mangum conducting the services.

Burial was in the Roselawn Memorial Park under the direction of Greer Funeral Home. Mr. Cook, who died Wednesday, Jan. 3, in the Mangum City Hospital, was born April 13, 1897 in Franklin, Ga., the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Cook. He moved to Wellington in 1915 and married Miss Myrtle Virginia Rymer. In 1923 they moved to Reed. He was a member of the Sulphur Baptist Church.

Survivors include his wife and two sons: Bill of Mangum and Tommy of Dumas; four brothers: W. W. of Amarillo; Olin and Emmett of Wellington; and J. B. of Andrews; six sisters: Mrs. Myrtle Patton and Mrs. Tinnie Wall of Riverside, Calif.; Mrs. Reid Strickland and Mrs. Edith Russell of Amarillo; Mrs. Thelma Lowe of Truth or Consequences, N.M., and Mrs. Dub Dempries of Lamar, Colo.; six grandchildren and one great grandchild.

Those attending the funeral from Wellington were Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Cook, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Templeton, Mr. and Mrs. Olin Cook, Ralph and Benson Long and Jerry Paul Cook of Perryton.

Four-H Lamb Show Winners Are Announced

Eleven head of sheep were exhibited in the annual 4-H Lamb Show, held Saturday, Jan. 6 at the Wellington Livestock Sales Barn.

The lambs were entered in three classes, said County Agent Sammy Helmers, and winners were:

Fine wool: first, Ricky Nall; second, Jim Bob Nall; third, Barbara Wilbur; and fourth, Mike Burge of Dodson.

Fine wool cross: first, Gary Scott; second, Jim Bob Nall; third, Ricky Nall; fourth, Wendell Burge, Jr., of Dodson; fifth, Mike Burge of Dodson; sixth, Barbara Wilbur.

Hampshire: first, Gary Scott. All these lambs will be taken to Amarillo on Saturday, Jan. 20, and will be shown in the lamb show of the Fat Stock Show Monday, Jan. 22, Mr. Helmers said.

Fathers who worked with the county agent in the 4-H Lamb Show were Wendell Burge of Dodson, Richard Nall, Dwane Scott and C. A. Wilbur.

Farm Tax Guides Here

The 1968 Farmers Tax Guides are available in the county agent's office.

"Closing time," as it relates to 1967 farm records, is at hand. This means totaling up the balance sheets on farm and home enterprises and taking a look at what happened during the year.

A close look should point up problems that must be met in planning for 1968 and the years ahead, reminds County Agent Sammy Helmers. Records often reflect whether management changes are needed and also whether an enterprise should be expanded or dropped.

Furthermore, a complete set of records is a must for proper income tax reporting. Regularly kept records can save dollars at tax paying time, for deductible expenses are often overlooked, especially if paid for in cash.

Too, complete farm records are an asset when money must be borrowed for production and operating expenses. Knowing what the business is doing makes a strong talking point in effecting credit arrangements, says the county agent. Farm families need facts on which to base their decisions and none are more reliable than those obtained from well-kept farm records.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. McQueary spent Christmas in Mineral Wells with their parents, Rev. and Mrs. W. H. McQueary and Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Brown. The week after Christmas they visited their son, Mark, in Corpus Christi. Accompanying them were their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Ritchie of Fort Worth.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Myers of Kirkland visited her brother, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Motsenbocker Sunday.

Firecrackers Win Two Games

The Wellington Junior High School 8th grade Firecracker basketball boys and boys picked up two more victories over the Arnett 8th grade teams Jan. 4.

The girls game was won by 34-23.

High point girl for Wellington was Mary Lou Davis with 22. Others scoring were Frankie Moore with 10 and Carol Cochran with 2. High point girl for Arnett was Miss Zepedh with 15.

This brings the season record for the Firecrackers to 3 wins and 2 losses.

The Firecrackers, still undefeated this season, won their game 80 to 14.

High point men for Wellington were Danny Waters with 20, Lester Robinson with 17, Larry Robinson with 12, and Denny Carter with 8. Arnett's Bryant had 4.

All members of the Wellington team saw action in this game.

Coach Carroll Nunnelle said the Arnett team had not had much practice this season due to their building a new gym and felt like they would improve when they were able to practice more.

This game brought the Firecrackers' season record to 6-0. The next game for the Firecrackers will be against Sham-

Ministers Plan Easter Sunrise Service Here

Members of the Collingsworth County Ministerial Alliance voted Monday, Jan. 8, to hold community-wide Easter Sunrise Services here on April 14, and to begin plans for the event.

The action came in the regular monthly breakfast of the Alliance.

The group also voted to hold the services at the Assembly of God Church.

Rev. James Jackson, president of the group, said all member churches of the Ministerial Alliance will participate. It has been a number of years since such services were held here, he added.

Mrs. Eldon Wildman, David and Phillip of Dallas were here several days last week visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Riggs.

rock Thursday, Jan. 11 in the Wellington gym. Both the 7th and 8th grade boys and girls will play, starting at 4:30 p.m.

Mrs. Conner Dies January 7 in Oklahoma City

Mrs. Edith Wise Conner, 76, formerly of Wellington, died Jan. 7 in St. Anthony Hospital in Oklahoma City. Graveside services were held Tuesday, Jan. 9 in Memorial Park Cemetery, directed by Smith and Kernke Funeral Home.

Mrs. Conner was a native of Whitehall, Ill. She moved to Wheatland in 1904 and to Oklahoma City in 1914. She was a registered nurse and did her training work at University Hospital in Oklahoma City and had been employed as a registered nurse for many years prior to her retirement some 16 years ago.

She lived in Wellington during the twenties and assisted her husband, Henry Coker, in the operation of the Rialto Theatre which was located in the building now occupied by Town & Country.

Her daughter, Mrs. W. K. Hartford, the former Evelyn Conner, is a graduate of Wellington High School.

Ignorance of the Law

Ignorance of the law excuses no one, is an ancient maxim. It was established in the belief that without this maxim ignorance of the law would become the universal excuse of every man when he became involved in trouble. Prosecutors would have their hands tied most of the time.

However, laws and restrictions today have become so multiple and complex in business, in homes, and in private lives that the old maxim of ignorance of the law excusing no one, becomes punitive to the average law-abiding citizen.

People are becoming so burdened by bureaucratic rules and regulations that they cannot keep up with them, nor can they understand them, let alone the laws. Some fine day the people will demand relief from this growing system of restraints by administration rather than by laws.

Until that times comes, there may be some comfort in the knowledge that there is no law without a loophole for him who can find it. Confronted by any unjust law and its punitive interpretation imposed by bureaucratic theorists, the people question whether they violate an ethical rule when they attempt to circumvent impositions that bear a tainted bureaucratic label.

Oscar W. Underwood, an American politician, who from experience knew what he was talking about, said:

"When people lose respect for one bad law, it is but a short step before they include the good laws with the bad and are shortly in rebellion against all law."

INTELLIGRAM

How are you on recent events? Complete the following six statements, checking your answers with those below, to find out.

- 1—Pictured foreign minister of Britain (George Brown) (Harold Wilson) supports U.S. peace efforts, scolds North Vietnam for not responding.
- 2—Unpublished manuscript of the author of "Ulysses," (Aldous Huxley) (James Joyce), is found.
- 3—Intraparty strife forces the resignation of Heinrich Albertz, mayor of (Belgrade) (West Berlin).
- 4—The battle for (Con Thien) (Da Nang) is compared to the French situation at Dien Bien Phu.
- 5—Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy will pay a visit to a country frequently at odds with the United States, (North Korea) (Cambodia).
- 6—Finally to be crowned king after 26 years as ruler of his country is pictured (Shah of Iran) (Tunisian premier).

Eternal Optimist

AUSTIN.—Vision tests and color photographs are a required part of all drivers' licenses being issued this year.

New regulations make it necessary for all drivers to renew licenses in person at a Department of Public Safety Office.

Each applicant will be photographed and given a standard vision test.

DPS Director Homer Garrison, Jr., says that all licenses will be renewed to expire on the birthdate of the holder. Drivers holding licenses ending an even number will get new licenses good for four years. If the license ends in an odd number, it will be renewed initially for two years, thereafter for four years.

EDUCATION AIMS.—Performance, rather than spending or teacher pay, should be the basis of a more efficient school system. So says Glenn H. Ivy, director of the Governor's Committee on Public School Education. His views were expressed to public school administrators at their mid-winter conference here.

Among highlights of Ivy's preview of the most far-reaching inquiry into Texas' education needs ever undertaken were:

—To achieve national leadership in education, the state must seek excellence in performance and super-efficiency.

—Favored tax status for rural and suburban districts is a "luxury" the state cannot afford.

—"Unequal education"—like pre-school training for the non-English speaking and special programs for migrants—is necessary to offset disadvantages faced by many children.

—Education must be made "more relevant" to potential dropouts. In particular, those with Spanish language backgrounds. Obstacles to school attendance must be overcome.

ELECTION LAW SEMINAR SET.—Officials responsible for conducting elections in Texas will go to school for a day. They will discuss new changes in voting laws.

Secretary of State John Hill, chief state election officer, called the workshop sessions for Jan. 18 here.

Leading the discussions will be: Hill; State Democratic Chairman Will D. Davis; GOP State Chairman Peter O'Donnell, Jr.; Mrs. Mary K. Wall of Hill's staff; Midland County Clerk, Mrs. Rosanella Cherry; and Dallam County Judge W. D. Henson.

New electronic voting equipment will be displayed at the seminar.

NEW CANDIDATE FILES.—Gordon B. McLendon, Dallas radio-television executive, true to predictions, jumped into the governor's race by paying his $1,000 filing fee.

In 1965 he ran unsuccessfully for the U. S. Senate. But he received more than 672,500 votes in his close race with Sen. Ralph Yarborough.

Secretary of State Hill says he plans to announce soon after the Jan. 18 voting seminar.

AIR POLLUTION REGULATIONS.—Cities of less than 5,

000 population face new regulations relative to the burning of garbage and rubbish. New regulations were adopted by the Texas Air Control Board and became effective Jan. 4.

Municipalities are regulated in the new rules, as well as industrial plants, businesses and individuals.

Rules permit burning wastes: —Outdoors, as long as the burning is outside a defined Standard Metropolitan Statistical Area;

—Outside a municipality; —Between the hours of 9 a.m. and 4 p.m.

Regulations cover emissions of smoke and particulate matter, outdoor burning, sulfur and air pollution from motor vehicles.

Board Chairman Herbert McKee of Houston pointed out that two problems are not regulated by the Board rules — odor and effects of emissions on visibility. City and county health officials will have to rely on the State's General Nuisance Law to control air polluting odors. Nothing can be done about visibility regulations until a Federal study is complete, says McKee.

However, cities and counties will be able to use the Board's regulations to enforce pollution control of other wastes emitted into the air.

AIRLINES.—Latest in a series of applications for licenses to operate intrastate air lines in Texas is that of King Flight Service of Wichita Falls.

King asked the Texas Aeronautics Commission to let it fly four times a day between Wichita Falls and Dallas.

MIXED DRINK TAX APPLIED. — State Comptroller

Robert S. Calvert stirred the ire of some 1,350 private club operators by ruling that as of Jan. 1 their sales of mixed drinks and related services would be subject to state and local sales taxes.

A delegation led by the Texas Restaurant Association called on Calvert urging him to change his mind.

New ruling applies to private social clubs and veteran and fraternal organizations dispensing mixed alcoholic beverages. It covers set-ups, mixes, ice, service charges for mixing and serving — and even the 15 percent tip most clubs add to the check.

"The entire charges for mixed drinks will be presumed as a part of the taxable gross receipts," Calvert's ruling says.

STATE'S SUIT LOOKS GOOD —Possibility that the State Treasury will be enriched by several million dollars through an anti-trust suit charging price-fixing by five major pharmaceutical companies is looking better this week. This after a Federal court jury in New York returned a guilty verdict against American Cyanamid, Bristol-Myers, and Charles Pfizer and Company.

Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin filed charges of price conspiracy in Austin against these three firms and Olin Mathieson Chemical and the Upjohn Company. Suit alleged that State schools, hospitals and prisons paid too much for certain drugs because of a conspiracy and asked triple damages.

A Dallas Federal court has ruled that the Texas case can be processed 60 days after the New York decision.

CIGARETTE AND LIQUOR TAXES.—State Treasurer Jesse James reports that Texans smoked less and drank more in December.

Cigarette stamp tax sales were down from the previous month $282,607 — to $10,100,000. Liquor and wine stamp sales were up $263,635 — to $1,400,000 total.

SOUND OF HAMMERS. — State Building Commission has awarded a contract to Lanphier Construction Company of Corpus Christi for $2,896,100 for first-phase construction at the new Corpus Christi State School for the Severely Mentally Retarded. Project was ordered by the Legislature in 1965.

Commission also awarded a $108,224 contract to Troup Lumber Company for Tyler State Park improvements. Contract includes a headquarters building, 30 screen shelters, one group shelter, and restrooms and showers. It's a part of this year's program for improving existing state parks.

LICENSES SUSPENDED. — State Consumer Finance Commissioner Frank Miskell suspended for six days the licenses of Colonial Finance Corporation of San Antonio for making duplicate loans to the same customers as Credit Plan Corporation of San Antonio.

Like suspensions also were ordered in two other offices of the same owner in Corpus Christi and Houston.

State law forbids related firms from making loans to the same borrowers.

CROSSROADS REPORT

Dear Editor:

My ranch-runner neighbor reads where State University of Pennsylvania has discovered that ground-up newspapers mixed with molasses makes a fine cattle feed.

But he says eating newspapers which contain reviews of today's books and movies would leave a dark brown taste in the mouth of any self-respecting cow, no matter how much molasses was mixed with the paper.

And for intelligent cows like his, all of the political speechery and guff that will be in this year's papers would make them hard to swallow.

Courtesy Saves Lives Driving on Highways

We hear a lot these days about courteous driving. Courtesy is the oil that keeps friction from developing when we rub each other the wrong way in traffic. Without it we would soon be at each other's throats, reminded Patrolman Chester E. Fant, safety officer, Texas Department of Public Safety, while in Wellington Thursday, Jan. 4.

Courtesy is such an important part of the daily life of each of us that we speak of it as "common courtesy." You have often heard someone say something like this, "Well, common courtesy demands that we do this." With courtesy such a common thing it seems almost out of place to have to mention it to a group of professional drivers.

But courtesy is not a common thing among drivers. It seems that when we get behind the wheel we forget many of the things we do as a matter of course at other times. The man who politely tips his hat and stands aside for a lady to enter a room ahead of him will, behind the wheel, race the same woman for first place at an intersection. The most charitable thing we can say about discourtesy in traffic is that it is the product of a fast moving civilization that places too much emphasis on winning and not enough on how the victory is won.

Courtesy is far reaching. If you perform an act of courtesy to some driver he will usually look at you a little bewildered at first as if he can't believe his eyes, then a smile lights up his face and he goes down the street ready to pass it on to someone else. Thus a small act of courtesy moves outward in an ever-widening circle like waves when a pebble is thrown in a pool of water.

What are some of these courteous acts that produce such wonderful results? Very simple things like —

1. Slowing down when passing through pools of water to avoid splashing cars or pedestrians.
2. Stopping to assist a motorist in trouble.
3. Waiting behind a confused motorist while sound motorist without sounding our impatience on the horn.
4. Yielding to avoid an accident or a close call, even when it's our turn.
5. Stopping and making a break in traffic to let a vehicle enter from a driveway.
6. Waiting for elderly or confused pedestrians to clear the intersection.

County Has 45 Births and 57 Deaths in 1967

Collingsworth County recorded 45 births during 1967, certificates filed in the office of Lorene Jenkins, county-district clerk show.

During the same period, 57 deaths were recorded.

There were at least two births every month, while March and December had the most, 6.

Births in other months were January 4, February 2, March 6, April 2, May 3, June 5, July 4, August 4, September 5, October 3, November 2, and December 6.

December accounted for the largest number of deaths, 8. The number by months was: January 6, February 6, March 4, April 4, May 3, June 5, July 4, August 4, September 4, October 4, and November 5.

Heart disease killed more Collingsworth residents than any other single ailment, it being listed as the immediate cause of 23 deaths.

Ranking second was apoplexy or cerebral hemorrhage, the immediate cause of 13 deaths. Cancer accounted for 6 deaths; respiratory conditions 4, injuries from car accidents 2; and three others from miscellaneous causes.

Godbeys With Family During Holiday Season

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Godbey spent Christmas in Amarillo with Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Rigdon and family and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Tipton and family. They were met there by Mr. and Mrs. Troy Godbey and girls of Dumas and Jerry Godbey of Birmingham, Ala. Jerry returned home with them for a few days visit before returning to Birmingham where he is Director of Public Relations of Jefferson County.

Also visiting with them was a grandson, Doug Rigdon of New York, N. Y., who is a student in Columbia University.

Don't Overlook Safety Factors

Do not overlook safety factors in farm construction. These extra measures of safety are built-ins which protect against the unknown and unexpected, says County Agent Sammy Helmers.

When an engineer designs a building, a bridge or an airplane, he uses safety factors to provide an extra measure of safety against normal differences in materials or against unusual or unexpected forces.

Gamma radiation is an unexpected force but it could happen and homes and public buildings should be constructed so as to include this safety factor.

Features to provide a protection factor can be easily added and at little extra cost of they are included in the early stages of the design of the building, explains the county agent. Like other safety factors, the extras provided by the protection factor can save lives if the unexpected should occur.

Quail Splits Double Header With McLean

The Quail Bobwhites defeated the McLean Tigerettes 49 to 34 in a game played at McLean Friday night, Jan. 5. At the same time, the McLean Tigers defeated the Quails 74 to 60.

McLean girls took the lead in the first quarter but by half time Quail was ahead by nine points. In the last period, the lead was widened and the Bobwhites ended the game with a comfortable 15 point margin.

Stella Johnson of Quail was high scorer for the game with 20 points. Marsha Hunt had 12 for McLean.

McLean boys took an early lead that amounted to eight points at the end of the first quarter, and they held on to it, but added little more margin until near the end of the game, when they picked up enough for a final 14 point lead.

Game high pointer was Brad Dalton of McLean with 20. John Blevins was Quail's top scorer with 17.

CUT EATING TIME

Anthropologists believe that before man began cooking he must have spent most of his waking hours chewing food. Once having learned to cook and thus break down the tough fibers of meats and roots, he was able to cut his eating time to about two hours a day.

102 Marriage Licenses Issued During 1967

Collingsworth County was a popular marriage spot during 1967, with 102 marriage licenses sold by the office of Lorene Jenkins, county-district clerk.

June, the traditional month of weddings, was popular, with 13 licenses sold. But it was not the most popular, for 14 couples declared their intentions to marry in November.

Marriage licenses issued by months were: January 6, February 7, March 5, April 4, May 7, June 13, July 10, August 11, September 8, October 6, November 14, and December 11.

A check showed that of 46 licenses issued, one or both of the couples lived in Oklahoma.

Highlights of 67 in Files of The Leader

In the Jan. 4 issue, The Wellington Leader carried a chronology of the events of 1967 up to the last week of May.

This week the enumeration of many of the important news items are continued from May to the end of the year. They include the accounts of the raging hail storms which hit in three separate areas of the county July 3, wiping out crops of cotton and young maize. Storms proved to be not as disastrous as at first thought as growers replanted land in maize, guar, soybeans and other crops.

Recognition comes to Wellington as Tony Dechant, National President of the Farmers Union and other state and district officials attended a meeting of District 1. High honors came to Mr. and Mrs. George Henry; he being elected vice president of Texas Electric Co-ops, and Mrs. Henry was selected as state chairman of ladies activities.

The Wellington School system opened with an increase in enrollment and the Collingsworth County Free Fair presented outstanding exhibits in every department. The Dominican Sisters agree to continue operation of St. Joseph's Hospital following trip by a group of interested citizens to Springfield, Ill.

The principal events of each month are listed under the date of The Wellington Leader in which they were published, which does not necessarily mean the date of the happening. The combined chronology, the issues of Jan. 4 and 11, will provide an interesting record of 1967 for those who decide to keep it.

Last Cotton Quality Report for '67 Given

The quality of the 1967 Eastern Panhandle cotton showed marked improvement over that of last year according to the USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service, Memphis.

Through Friday, Jan. 5, the cotton division's classing office in Memphis had classed a total of 133,000 samples compared with a seasonal total of 113,000 samples in 1966, stated K. E. Voelkel, officer in charge.

Comparing the 1967 crop with the quality produced last year, the cotton classed this year reflected better quality factors in every respect. The grade index was higher this season with 96.4 compared with 86.6 in 1966. (Middling White is 100 and the larger index numbers indicate higher grades.)

The significant change in the grades this season was the larger percentage of White and Light Spotted grades, with 19% and 71% respectively, compared with 4% and 39%; and, the smaller percentage this year of Spotted and Tinged grades, 9% and 1% respectively, compared with 39% and 17%. Below grade cotton represented less than .5% compared with 1% last season. Only 1% of the cotton in 1967 was reduced in grade because of Bark, compared with 15% in 1966.

—By Deskins Wells

Paul Crume, the inimitable conductor of the Big D column in The Dallas Morning News, sets forth his views on the metropolitan war on poverty and in so doing comes forth with a sane and pleasing evaluation of life in a small town:

"It now seems to me that all the fine ideas for things like the Model Cities Program and the metropolitan war on poverty are self-defeating. They merely encourage other people to move into the cities and make the problem worse.

"The federal government should actually be subsidizing people who move out of the city into the smaller towns. In a small town, a person ceases to be a problem. He becomes a human being again, one very visible in trouble to his neighbors. We should be giving tax advantages to business firms which move into the little towns and create jobs for people where their roots are, not corporations that move into the hearts of cities.

"The modern city is almost completely vulnerable to modern warfare. The small town isn't. It isn't even a worthwhile target for an H-bomb. People in small towns have more fun. The man who argues that there is more satisfaction in living in Dallas than in Mount Vernon merely demonstrates why we need so many psychiatrists in Dallas.

"There is a limit to the size of any governmental unit that is efficient. If a school system becomes too large, for instance, it becomes the property of the administrators rather than the teachers. Cities can get too large, too. New York is already impossible. Dallas is on the verge."

Sammy Helmers has scheduled a meeting on peaches at the Farm Bureau building for Wednesday, Jan. 17. At that time B. G. Hancock, horticulturist of the A&M Extension Service will be on hand to talk about orchards—principally peaches. It is a move that could mean a greatly increased income to farmers in this area many of whom own land whose soil is ideal for the production of peaches. The meeting should be worth your time and attention.

Some schools have been forced to close on account of the flu and others may be closed by the time you read this for the disease is widespread although it is not particularly virulent. A few old commonsense rules help when there is a potential epidemic in the offing. Don't go to public meetings when you have a cold or are sneezing and this also applies to visiting people who may be in a hospital. If you feel feverish the old recipe of plenty of rest, plenty of liquids and take what the doctor gives you, still has merit. Some of these suggestions seem so old that people are inclined to feel that they are obsolete; but they are not.

When I talk of old remedies I do not mean we should adopt practices that are too ancient. For instance a remedy for children's colds from the Old Smokies was: An onion wrapped in a wet cloth, is roasted on a hot cloth until soft. Mashed and applied in a cloth to the soles of the child's feet, it is said to be effective in drawing out the cause of the trouble.

In startling contrast to some of the old folk remedies it is now possible to secure immunization against a number of infectious diseases such as smallpox, tetanus, measles, polio, whooping cough, influenza and diphtheria. The trouble with so many of us is that we neglect to take these in advance. It is now recognized that adults should take booster shots as well as children.

Overheard Elzie White commenting to Rufus Shanks that it was hog killing weather if anybody had any hogs. This is close enough to make people talk about it; but actually the old hog killers did not want weather so bitter cold it would freeze the meat. They wanted the weather somewhat betwixt and between so it would be cold enough to keep the meat from spoiling and warm enough for the salt to soak clear to the hip joint of the ham. Anyway this weather does make you think of sweet potatoes and spareribs and those great country sausage Rufus Shanks used to make.

And while we are on the subject of food you should turn over and read the story

Money Awards

Annual Conservation Essay Contest Set

Students in the county's four schools have been invited to enter the 1968 Save the Soil and Save Texas essay contest, sponsored each year by Salt Fork Soil Conservation District.

This year's subject is "Conservation: Key to Texas Prosperity?" according to Gary Reed, work unit conservationist of the Soil Conservation Service.

Billy Moseley will handle the contest for the district, and he has distributed contest materials to the schools.

Mr. Reed said that the total prize money will depend on whether all schools enter the contest. The overall winner in each school will receive $25 cash, and each class winner will receive $5.

Essay entries from the county schools will be entered in the state contest, which along with the other Save the Soil and Save Texas contests is sponsored by the Fort Worth Press and 19 other co-sponsors in Texas. Among these are two serving this county, Lone Star Gas Co. and Fort Worth and Denver Railway.

The contest is open to all Texas boys and girls 10 years old or younger, in or out of school but not high school graduates. Entering the contest does not affect Interscholastic League about Louisiana cooking that Mrs. Creed Hill gave before the Domestic Science Club. It is not a society story in the accepted sense. It is a mouth watering tale about Louisiana cooking and some of it is as basic as son of a gun and just as rustic. There was also quite a bit of history in her talk such as the fact that the word gumbo comes from the Choctaw Indians. I thought that it came from something the Creoles had evolved from the French and Spanish. While it is not mentioned in the story, there was also the reference to coudh coudh which is clabber poured on hot cornbread. This brings up another difficulty about communicating from one generation to another. How are you going to tell a teenager what clabber is?

Daves Leases Owens Station On Highway 83

Carl Daves announced this week that he has leased the Chevron station at the corner of Highway 83 and 15th Street from Robert Owens and will operate it under the name of Daves Super Service.

"We will operate a pick up and delivery wash and grease service and will give your car a careful inspection each time you bring it to us," Mr. Daves said. This includes tires, batteries, oil and the items that need to be checked regularly.

Mr. Daves has had years of experience in the filling station business and says that he extends a cordial invitation to the old customers of Owens Super Service to continue with the firm.

closed his second term as president of the Chamber of Commerce, an honor but seldom given in this area.

The new Chamber president came here in May 1965, when he purchased the controlling interest in the City State Bank. At that time, he was Assistant Vice President of the First National Bank in Lubbock.

A native of Parnell in Hall County, he was reared in Amarillo and entered the finance field in 1956 as loan interviewer with a finance company. He was later transferred to El Paso, Austin and Tyler in managerial capacities. He returned to Amarillo in 1961.

In January, 1962, Mr. Wilson became assistant cashier and installment loan officer of the First National Bank in Lubbock. He was promoted to assistant vice president in January 1965.

Mr. Horton, a partner in H&H Construction Co., is a long-time Collingsworth County resident and knows intimately the many facets of the area's economy and its needs.

One of the town's younger professional men, Mr. Moseley began work in the City State Bank shortly after he graduated from Quail High School. He presently is assistant cashier.

Holdover directors who will work with the new state of officers are C. T. Hubbard, Bill Hatch, Jack Sanford, George Shaddid, Jimmie Kelso, Eddie Slay, all of Wellington, J. I. Morgan of Quail, Cortez Barnett of Dozier, and Pete Nippert of Dodson.

DeBord Is Ag Agent at Brady

Jerry D. DeBord, 27, a graduate of Quail High School, has been named Agricultural Agent of McCulloch County, with his headquarters at Brady.

He has been associate county agent at Lubbock since 1964.

Mr. DeBord is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. (Slats) DeBord of Hedley, and his mother formerly taught school at Quail.

Mr. and Mrs. DeBord and daughters moved to Brady in late December and he began his new duties Jan. 1.

Peach Meeting

"It is something that can create a demand for labor and bring people back to the county; something that takes a lot of work but is still profitable," Mr. Helmers continued.

In an earlier meeting on peach production, Mr. Helmers pointed out that at least 1,000 acres in plots of 20 acres or larger would be needed for profitable commercial production. A consistent program of cultivation, fertilization and spraying on a year-around basis would be required.

Yet the profits are good if proper orchard management is maintained.

Demonstration peach and grape plots are due to be set out this winter. Trips to major peach producing areas are scheduled to study marketing methods of growers in those areas.

Red Simpson

leagues in the House of Representatives have argued the importance of our district maintaining its position of seniority in the House.

"I was further motivated by the fact that several extremely liberal groups from the southeastern part of the state took a great deal of solace from my announcement not to run.

"The resignation of several other responsible legislators of considerable seniority makes it imperative that our district maintain its position of leadership.

"Being in such a position, I feel an obligation to continue the participation in public service which I began over ten years ago. My goal is nothing more than the expression of conservative ideals and the presentation of the needs of my district to the state's lawmaking body.

"During the time which I have served in public life, I have tried to evaluate carefully each issue as it has come before me. I have voted on each issue without regard to any special groups, and have sought to reflect the wishes of my constituency. This I pledge to continue as I seek a fourth term as State Representative."

Simpson seeks to continue his representation of the 75th district, which includes Randall, Carson, Armstrong, Briscoe, Donley and Collingsworth counties.

then moved to Dodson where he was a member of the faculty two years and rounded out his teaching career. His classroom teaching was in the field of science.

That career had started at Victory School, near Altus in Oklahoma, where he coached his first state championship boys team. At Ozark he coached two teams into the Oklahoma State playoff, and at Blair he won state titles twice. Mr. Tippie also taught at Vinson.

A native of Oklahoma, he was born at Taloga April 13, 1901, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Tippie. He grew up around Weatherford where he graduated from high school, and received his degree from Southwestern State College.

He was a member of the First Christian Church.

Mr. Tippie was married to Miss Effie Warlick on Dec. 23, 1922 at Weatherford.

Funeral services were conducted at 2:30 p.m. Sunday at the Church of Christ in Dodson by Minister Van Borneau. Burial was in the Dodson Cemetery under the direction of Kelso Funeral Home.

Pallbearers were Don Dennis, Floyd Teutsch, Weldon Sexton, Rufus Jameson, T. E. Lennon, Lloyd Patterson, Ross Swift and Howard Hunt.

Mr. Tippie is survived by his wife, Mrs. Effie Tippie of Dodson; three sons and two daughters: J. W. Tippie of Gainesville, Bill Tippie of Lubbock, Bob Tippie of Houston, Mrs. Bob Smith of Iowa Park and Mrs. Thurman Taylor of Mesquite.

Other survivors are three sisters, Mrs. Alice Wilks of Okmulgee, Okla., Mrs. Albert Freeman of Oklahoma City, and Mrs. Susie Schumacher of Chicago, Ill. There are nine grandchildren.

ber of Commerce, and many other community activities since he returned to Wellington six years ago to establish his own business.

He issued this statement concerning his candidacy: "I have no elaborate promises to make in announcing for Commissioner of Precinct 1. It will be my purpose to devote my time to making you a good commissioner by studying the problems of the county government and the community and doing all I can at every opportunity to promote the advancement of the community while keeping the county on a sound financial basis.

"Between now and the first primary I will try to see every voter in Precinct 1 personally. In the meantime consider this announcement as my sincere solicitation of your vote and support."

Woodrow Wood

work for you and I have enjoyed my association with the other members of the court. We feel that we have done a number of worthwhile things in the past years, including more farm to market roads while keeping the dirt roads in good condition. It will be my aim to work to keep the county on a sound financial basis and at the same time render those essential services required by the duties of the office.

"Your vote and help will be appreciated.

"Sincerely,
"Woodrow Wood, Candidate for Commissioner of Precinct 1."

SCD Board

conservation districts in which the Buck Creek watershed lies, Donley County and Hall-Childress Counties.

John Robert Henard, chairman of the Salt Fork SCD supervisors, said a number of people who are favorable to the watershed project have contacted him since it was announced.

Mr. Reed outlined the first-stage work necessary if the watershed is sought:

—Application to the Texas Association of Soil Conservation Districts for approval of the project.

—Approval or disapproval of the application.

—If approval is given, a field examination will be made.

—The fourth step would be approval or disapproval for planning the project.

Mr. Reed estimated that six months or more could be required for these steps after the application is made.

Attending the Monday night meeting, which was the regular monthly meeting of the SCD board of supervisors, were Mr. Henard, Pat Bradley, Ted Wheeler and Orville Vaughan, board members; Mr. Reed and Jon LaBaume of the SCS office, Mr. Cunningham and Mr. Dalrymple.
