Q. Why did Tele-Media (formerly Landmark Cable) increase their rates? And did they have to have it approved by the city council or whoever, or did it just happen?

A. Tele-Media Co. purchased the local cable television company on Oct. 1, 1989. Due to price increases effective Jan. 1, 1990, it was necessary for Tele-Media to increase its rates. The new rates are very comparable with other similar operating cable television companies.

In 1984 Congress passed the Cable Television Act which removed rate control from all cities.

Jury selection slated Monday
in murder case

Jury selection is scheduled to begin Monday in the murder trial of Dale Gray, accused in the June, 1988 death of his wife at Lake Colorado City.

Tammy Lynn Gray, 30, of Big Spring was pronounced dead about 4:30 a.m. June 23, 1988 at Mitchell County Hospital after the woman's husband took her to the hospital. Reports at that time indicated the couple was swimming in an area about a half mile south of Cooper's Cove on the east side of the lake about 3 a.m. when the woman apparently drowned.

However, an autopsy report later indicted the woman's death was the result of an apparent homicide. A Mitchell County grand jury later indicted the husband in the woman's death.

The autopsy report indicated evidence of abrasions and bruises on the woman's face and neck areas, and that she had died "as a result of the combined effects of strangulation and drowning."

Gray this past week filed a malpractice against the Dallas medical examiner who performed the autopsy. Gray is seeking $2.5 million plus attorney and bond fees in the suit in which he alleges Dr. Besant-Matthews was negligent in performing the autopsy.

The suit states that the autopsy was "wholly inaccurate and incorrect" and that "completely erroneous, false, and misleading conclusions and diagnosis of the autopsy" has caused Gray to suffer "extreme harm and damage."

Minor infractions noted in jail

An inspection of the Mitchell County Jail Thursday by the Texas Commission of Jail Standards showed only two minor areas of non-compliance, said Sheriff Wendell Bryant.

Bryant said that during the four-hour inspection, Inspector Terry Julian found only two areas that need correcting.

Terry said that the jail rules for inmates need to be available in Spanish as well as English and that the inmates are not allowed enough outside exercise.

"We're already in the process of finding a printer to have the jail rules translated into Spanish," said Bryant, adding that the second area can be corrected easily by merely allowing the inmates more outside exercise time.

Bryant said as soon as the two areas are in compliance, the jail will be certified by the agency.

Bryant said he was very pleased with the outcome of the inspection, and that the inspector was very complimentary over-all of the jail and its operations.

"I'm very pleased and the problem areas cited by the inspector can be fixed in a short time," said Bryant.

The inspector noted in his report that "the jail is clean and the jail staff is doing a good job."

During an informal meeting with some of the county commissioners following the inspection, Julian suggested that the county consider installing a generator unit for emergency purposes.

Bryant said the inspector also was complimentary of the new jail kitchen completed last year.

Tumbleweed Festival slated

Those tumbling tumbleweeds that motorists are dodging may be worth something - that is if you have the largest one entered in the Tumbleweed Festival at Fort Wood Saturday, March 3.

A $200 cash prize - donated by Wood's Boots, Clothes Barn and Fort Wood Cafe - will go to the individual entering the largest tumbleweed in the event during judging Saturday afternoon.

And who better to judge a tumbleweed contest than Tumbleweed Smith of Big Spring? Noted for his syndicated radio show, The Sounds of Texas, Smith will be on hand to judge the contest as well as to meet the contestants and on-lookers.

In addition to the largest tumbleweed contest, a pair of Laredo Roper boots will be given to the ugliest person bringing in a

As some of you know, I'm always on the lookout for a new diet, and I think I've finally found one that's appropriate for me.

This one mysteriously showed up on my desk and is called "Dieting Under Stress". It apparently is designed to help you cope with the stress that builds up during the day.

For breakfast, you're supposed to eat half a grapefruit, a slice of whole wheat toast, dry, and drink eight ounces of skim milk. For lunch, you can eat four ounces of lean broiled chicken breast, one cup of steamed spinach, one cup of herb tea, and one Oreo cookie.

A mid-afternoon snack is required. That's when you get to eat the rest of the Oreos in the package along with two pints of Rocky Road ice cream with hot fudge sauce, nuts, cherries and whipped cream.

Dinner consists of two loaves of garlic bread with cheese, a large sausage, mushroom and cheese pizza, four cans or one large pitcher of drink, three Snickers or Milky Way candy bars.

And, while watching the late evening news, you can eat anything left in the refrigerator.

The rules for this diet are unique, to say the least:

- If you eat something and no one sees you eat, it has no calories.
- If you drink a diet soda with a candy bar, the calories in the candy bar are cancelled by the diet soda.
- When you eat with someone else, calories don't count if you don't eat more than they do.
- Foods used for medicinal purposes NEVER count, such as hot chocolate, brandy, toast and Sara Lee cheesecake.
- If you fatten up everyone else around you, then you look thinner.
- Movie related foods do not have additional calories because they are part of the entire entertainment package, not part of one's personal fuel, such as Milk Duds, buttered popcorn, Junior Mints, Red Hots and Tootsie Rolls.
- Cookie pieces contain no calories. The process of breaking causes calorie leakage.
- Things licked off of knives and spoons have no calories if you are in the process of preparing something. Examples: Peanut butter on a knife making a sandwich and ice cream on a spoon making a sundae.
- Foods that have the same color have the same number of calories. Examples are spinach and pistachio ice cream, mushrooms and white chocolate. Note: Chocolate is a universal food color and may be substituted for any other food color.

As I write this, it's mid-afternoon and my stress level is rising. Now where did I put that package of Oreos?

To the People of Mitchell County

My name is Jimmy Redwine, and I think it's time for some straight talk. First of all, I would like to thank Ray Mayo for printing all my letters to the editor in the paper. I want everyone to know that what I say does not represent any group or organization and although there are those who agree with me, there are also those who do not. In writing what I felt about my home town and county, I've made a lot of friends and some enemies, but everyone needs to say how they feel about the way our tax dollars are spent and the people who are spending them. We all want and expect improvements. We've had the same people running our city and county government for a long time now. And, as you can see by the way this place is dwindling down to nothing, it's definitely time for some changes. Think about what four more years of the same people will do to our already almost non-existent community. You be the judge. Take a long look around you and then decide for yourself if you think we can stand more of the same.

In March, all of us have a chance to change things and turn all of this around. We have some new, real honest and sincere candidates running for office. We need people who really care and have new ideas to bring this county back to life. If we don't make some complete changes at election time, I myself believe that we are going to cease to exist.

I am not accusing anyone in our present government of anything. My grandparents used to say "the proof's in the pudding". (After a number of years of bad pudding you get a stomach ache.)

So, come election time, please try to remember what all I have said in the past year and give some of these new candidates a chance to make 1990 a great turning point. Spring is near and it's time to think about cleaning out the closet. Also, I haven't forgotten our city government, but we can only go one step at a time.

Thanks for your time.

Jimmy Redwine
Jimmy Redwine

Ray, you have my vote and support. Knowing you these past years, I have learned that you are honest and sincere and do what you say. You would be a Judge that Mitchell County could be proud of. We need more people like you. You remind me of our Judge that retired - he cared.

Thanks,
Jim

CHIEF LONE WOLF

We'll be hearing a lot in the weeks and months to come about the 1990 U.S. census.

The first census taken in Mitchell County was in 1880. The enumerator was Henry C. Foster. It's a little difficult to evaluate his work 110 years after the fact, but, suffice to say, Henry left a few questions unanswered.

Before we delve into that, let's visualize the task he had. In 1880, Mr. Foster would not have counted heads by following the sidewalks along neatly trimmed lawns in front of rows and rows of freshly-painted homes.

Quite to the contrary. He would have saddled his horse and headed out into the hot summer weather, going from cow camp to cow camp. The railroad, from which "Colorado" would eventually spring, was still more than a year away from what would become the townsites of our current city.

And, when Henry rode up to a camp in the far reaches of Mitchell County, what did he find? Here's an example: William R. Hinton and his family. Hinton was 35 years old, a native of Arkansas, who had moved west where there was plenty of free rangeland. Thus, the 1880 census listed his occupation as "herdsman", as were most other heads of households here in 1880.

Hinton's wife was 30-year-old Ella and she was born in Holland. The Hinton's had six children: William, age 12, who was big enough to help his father; Nella, age 10, who was big enough to help her mother; John, 9, who was probably pressed into serving by his father and older brother; Nancy, 7, Isabel, 5, and Ellesa, who was two years old.

Imagine the difficulty Henry the enumerator had spelling and writing the names of the Hinton family as the west Texas breeze blew his census paper. After getting the names of various families, along with their ages and where each person was born, plus their parents' places of birth, there was likely an exchange of news or gossip and then it was time for Henry to climb back on his horse and look for the next camp.

He had to rely on directions from various herdsman and their families and, probably, he was told more than once about a camp he didn't know existed. It's likely Foster was asked by many of those first permanent residents of Mitchell County "who wants to know?" as he asked the census questions or was told "none of your business."

So much for Mr. Foster's hardships. He made his survey between June 5 and June 18, 1880 and his census covered 12 pages. But no names were listed on two of the pages, so, at best, we have a partial list of inhabitants of our county. Foster counted 23 heads of households and a total of 118 persons in Mitchell County.

Here are some other interesting facts from our first census: The oldest person in the county was Ingram Bartell, a herdsman, who was 55 and a native of England. The youngest was the Bartell's three-month-old daughter, Nora.

Most of Mitchell County's first residents were relatively young people. Sam W. Bull of Arkansas was 25 and his wife, Emma, was 18. Willis Johnston was 30 and his wife, Margaret, was 21.

And there were all the others, including one widow, 51-year-old Plina Cox, a grandmother from Mississippi.

The enumerator's notes don't tell us what family Mrs. Cox was attached to, but chances are she was with a son or daughter and their family.

Also, one family was apparently reasonably well off...it had its own servant. That first census tells us Sarah Richardson, a 30-year-old black woman from Alabama, was a servant. Sarah had four children with her: Fannie, 9, Henry, 7, Alice, 5, and George, 2.

So, we know a few interesting things about the men, women and children who lived in our county 110 years ago. If you would like to learn more, the 1880 Mitchell County census is kept in the Colorado City Museum.

But don't look for any information on the enumerator, Henry Foster. He forgot to include his own age and place of birth!

Lady Bulldogs continue in basketball playoffs

The hottest basketball news, no doubt, has to be the play of the Loraine Lady Bulldogs. Not only have they captured the district title, they stole the coveted bi-district title away from Roby Lions, and on February 20, in Forsan, the Lady Bulldogs outplayed, out-hustled, and convincingly defeated Sterling City by a score of 63-53.

As soon as the game began, the Lady Bulldogs came out firing as the young ladies connected on 9-11 shots from the field. Sterling City, on the other hand, shot a dark and dismal 4-13. From then on, the Lady 'Dogs played their game and never once looked back, as the score was 18-9.

Loraine, in the second quarter, kept pouring on the pressure and finally Sterling City had to take a time-out with 4:17 to go in the half. The score was a 12 point differential, 26-14. As play resumed, the time-out did not seem to help S.C. as the Lady 'Dogs kept their championship composure and mustered up 14 second quarter points to lead at the half, 32-18.

In the first few minutes of the third, Loraine had fallen out of championship form for a brief moment, yet S.C. was still suffering from the field. Coach McGhee, then motioned for a time-out to regroup his troops, and his soldiers came out bombarding the enemy. Although, Sterling City had an excellent quarter scoring 14 points, Loraine still controlled the game as the Bulldogs led, 45-32 at the end of three.

With only one period remaining, Loraine's dream of going to the Regional Tournament was eight minutes away, and Sterling City feeling the same way, came pressing full court in a man-to-man defense. This pressure disrupted the play of the Lady Bulldogs for a couple of minutes, but Coach McGhee called a time-out with 3:02 to give his girls some time to regain their confidence. As Coach McGhee sent his girls back on the court, Sterling City picked up their intensity level and started connecting with the bottom of the net. The young ladies from S.C. even managed to cut the lead to seven with :57 seconds, but Loraine Lady Bulldogs had the right stuff to maintain the lead and become the Area Champs by a score of 63-53.

An overwhelmed Coach McGhee complemented on the teamwork his young athletes displayed, "The girls played as a unit, and teamwork was definitely a name of the game." With this sweet victory, the Lady Bulldogs earned the right to participate in the Regional Tournament in Abilene, February 23-24. Results of the tournament will be in Thursday's issue.

Scoring for the Area Champion Bulldogs were Michi Atkins, 33; Christina Lopez, 9; Christy Blair, 7; Michelle Garcia and Amy Vasquez, 6; and Trena Williams, 2.

Westbrook loses to Ira in bi-district match-up

The Westbrook Wildcats took on the Ira Bulldogs Thursday night, February 22, in Bi-District play-off action. Although the Wildcats have had a very successful season, these young men came up a little short as the Bulldogs did their 'runnin' and gunnin' to defeat the Wildcats by a score of 72-63.

In the first quarter, the Bulldogs scored first, but it did not take the 'Cats too long to strike back. Each team traded basket until an Ira offender was fouled and was sent to the charity stripe. He connected on both and put the 'Dogs up by one. At the end of the period, Ira had a narrow margin of 3 points, 18-15.

The second quarter saw the Bulldogs attack the glass and out-rebounded the 'Cats, 12-9. From these rebounds, the 'Dogs ran a fastbreak to almost perfection as they had 2 on 1 on almost every Westbrook miss. Although the Wildcats were not far in rebounding, the difference was that the Bulldogs were connecting on their shots, and with 2:41 to go in the half, Ira had a 33-22 lead. The Wildcats then fell into a shooting slump and Ira was beating Westbrook's full court press. Coach Jimmy Hill saw his club shoot 4-11 from the field in the second period, while Ira was 9-16. At the end of the half, Ira had a commanding lead of 40-24.

With a 16 point lead, it would appear that Ira would have the momentum, but on the other hand, it would be an aggressive Westbrook defense that would take that momentum, and used it to their advantage. With 7:03, the Wildcats had managed to cut the lead to 11. Little by little, bit by bit, the 'Cats were taking the steam out of Ira, and by third quarter's end, Bubba Botts, and his 14 third quarter points, helped his teammates cut the lead to six, 56-50.

With one period remaining, the Wildcats had one last chance to overcome the 16 point, half-time lead. As Westbrook kept pressuring the Bulldogs, Ira seemed to lose the composure they possessed in the first half and started making mental errors which allowed Westbrook to cut the lead to 4 with 3:45 remaining in the game, 61-57. But the Wildcats began to foul to stop the clock and Ira capitalized on their free-throws. The remainder of the game was as so, and the Wildcats saw their dreams of going further into the play-offs diminish as Ira won by a score of 72-63.

"We pressed well in the second half," Coach Hill stated. "We even won the second half by 7," he continued, "we just didn't press as well as we needed to in the first half." The Westbrook Wildcats ended with an impressive winning record of 20-10.

Scoring for the Wildcats in the final game of the season were Bubba Botts, 24; Scooter Hines, 23; Spencer Cannon and Jason Morris, 7; Franny Rincones, 2.

teacher for grades 6-12. He has been on the board of trustees of the Loraine Independent School District for seven years and is currently secretary of the board. He also is a member of the Loraine City Council, a position he was appointed to in October of 1987 and elected to in the spring of 1988. He also has seven years experience as a member of the board of directors of the Loraine Co-op Gin Assn., five of which were served as secretary of the board.

"If elected as your commissioner, I will resign the positions I currently hold as a member of the Loraine School Board and the Loraine City Council at the time I take office next January," he said. "I do this to remove any possible conflict of interest and also so that I might direct my full time and attention to the office of county commissioner."

"As an elected official, of the voters of precinct four, on the school board and city council, it has always been my intent to serve the taxpayers in an honest, open-minded and unbiased manner and to express the opinions of the majority on any legitimate matter," he said. "If elected as commissioner of precinct four, I will serve the people of precinct four and Mitchell County with the highest moral and ethical standards."

"I feel that I am very qualified and very capable to serve as your county commissioner," he said. "The years of experience that I have gained on the various boards that I have served on has provided me with a solid background that I will use to serve you, the voters of precinct four and Mitchell County."

"Your vote and your influence will be greatly appreciated in the March 13th Democratic primary," he said.

"I have been asked many times, 'What does the District Clerk do?'" she said. "By way of explanation, the following is an excerpt from the 1987 District Clerk Manual:

District Courts are created by the State Legislature, and each court serves a specific geographic area. It is the highest level trial court of original jurisdiction in the Texas judicial system. Generally, the District Court will hear the more serious criminal cases, the more important civil cases, and most cases dealing with juveniles and domestic relations.

The District Clerk provides support for the District Court. The clerk is registrar, recorder and custodian of all court pleadings, instruments and papers that are part of any cause of action in any civil or criminal District Court. The District Clerk indexes and secures all court records, collects filing fees, and handles funds held in litigation and money awarded to minors.

"In other words, the role of the District Clerk is to assist the court in preserving a methodical and orderly system of criminal and civil justice," she said. "I believe that I am totally qualified for this position by reason of my above-mentioned working experience."

"I would enjoy this work because I have an avid interest in legal matters and judicial procedure," she said. "It is my promise to execute the duties of the District Clerk in a timely, efficient and professional manner."

"It is my goal to be the best possible District Clerk," she said. "Please give me this opportunity on March 13."

honest and dependable at all times," he said. "I have no bones to pick or axes to grind. I plan to make this my full-time profession, if elected, and am ready to devote all the time necessary to do the best job I can do for the voters of Mitchell County. Your vote will be greatly appreciated."
