Expected Battle On Sales Tax Fizzles

Gov. Daniel Challenged

By GARTH JONES

AUSTIN (AP)—An expected hot battle over a general sales tax bill was postponed today while House members argued over a charge of "legislative pressuring" by Gov. Price Daniel.

Rep. John Allen of Longview and Forrest Harding of San Angelo withdrew their sales tax measure from immediate debate and challenged Daniel to produce a so-called compromise measure. Allen at first said he was asking postponement until May 1, then made his withdrawal indefinite.

Rep. Franklin Spears of San Antonio defended Daniel's stand in opposing the general sales tax measure. He said he regretted the cancellation of debate today "as does the House Revenue and Taxation Committee, which was looking to this house for an expression on the sales tax."

"It is an extremely unusual position to postpone a bill that is offered with courage and conviction as an answer to the financial problems of the state," Spears said.

He said it was "least surprising of all that the governor has said corporate interests are backing a sales tax."

A member of the Revenue and Taxation Committee, Spears said "I regret very much this action, as does the revenue and taxation committee, which was looking to this house for an expression on the sales tax."

The Longview legislator accused Daniel of making untrue statements in the Saturday press release.

"He has intimated that corporate interests are backing my action, which is untrue," Allen said. "The real truth is that I am just a salesman and the governor with all his appointive powers in this state can't get any other than through the press."

"I wish to remind the people of Texas that some of us have tried sincerely to bring forth a program which will pay the total cost of the programs the governor has advocated," Allen said.

"However, I wish to state that I was rather defeated while trying to solve the problems we've had for the past four years, than to go down in history as the man who came into office with money in his pocket and during the past three years the state has had a deficit under his guidance which

Burned-Out Ship Sinks Near Beach

MANAMA, Bahrain (AP)—The burned-out and deserted wreck of the British liner Dara sank today as salvage ships were trying to beach her. The owners issued a new casualty toll raising the number that may have been lost in the Persian Gulf disaster to 212. Two were Americans.

The figures were issued here by Gray Mackenzie, agents for the line.

The company's breakdown: 500 passengers, 132 crew, estimated 60 visitors, total 772. Survivors 560. Missing 212.

An official of Gray Mackenzie said the number of visitors was approximate because they did not have to register when they came aboard at the Arabian port of Dibal, 300 miles east of this port.

Most of the missing were Asians, but an American employe of the Caltex Oil Co., L. V. Dorsch of Brooklyn, N. Y., and his wife, Vala, were aboard. They were reported on their way to California to retire after 35 years with Caltex.

The 8,300-ton Dara was en route from Basra to Bombay early Saturday when she collided with another ship in storm. The Dara headed for open water to avoid being blown ashore in heavy winds, but at 4:43 a. m. an explosion in the engine room rocked the liner and fire broke out. The flames spread rapidly, and passengers and crew abandoned ship.

SAFE LOOTED—This safe at Snyder Drug was looted of narcotics Saturday night by burglars who also damaged another safe and took cash from a post office sub-station and a cash register in the store.

Drugs Taken By Burglars

The burglary occurred sometime between 9:30 p. m. Saturday and 8 a. m. Sunday. Patterson told officers he left the store Saturday night and discovered the burglary when he returned at 8 o'clock the next morning.

The burglars broke into the store through a drive-in window located on the north side of the building.

The 300 previous meetings were held in the morning hours, and some members indicated that they were unable to attend morning sessions. Any member or other citizen who was unable to attend one of the first four sessions is invited to sit in on the meeting tomorrow.

As for the first four meetings, Joe Cargile, Chamber of Commerce president said officials were pleased over participation, although attendance was not as high as hoped for in the beginning.

"We have achieved the goal we were striving for, and that was participation by members in determining programs which the membership as a whole would like to see incorporated in the chamber's program of work," said Cargile.

The board of directors will evaluate each suggestion made at the meetings to formulate a continuing program of work. Progress of our community depends on the long range goals we now establish," Cargile concluded.

Fifth C C Session Is Set Tuesday

Chamber of Commerce directors have formed a series of membership meetings "successful and anticipated plans for one more session for the convenience of those who were unable to attend one of the original series.

The fifth meeting will be held at 2:45 p. m. Tuesday at the 66 Cafe.

The four previous meetings were held in the morning hours, and some members indicated that they were unable to attend morning sessions. Any member or other citizen who was unable to attend one of the first four sessions is invited to sit in on the meeting tomorrow.

Anti-Castro Pilots Reported Training

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—More than 35 anti-Castro pilots were reported headed for a secret training camp today to head a call by the Cuban Revolutionary Council for a "second war of liberation."

The pilots, including some formerly associated with Cuban dictator Fulgencio Batista, reportedly left Miami Sunday for a secret training camp, probably in Central America.

Family members and friends said the men were stripped of their clothing and identification, given uniforms and told to say their goodbyes before being spirited out of the United States.

Some of the pilots said they had waited for months to join the anti-Castro fight. They were rounded up shortly before midnight and taken to an embarkment depot, the Miami Herald said.

The ranks of exiled Cuban pilots have been swelled steadily by defecting employes of Cuban Airlines. Before the government-controlled line stopped serving Miami, pilots frequently would land and announce they did not intend to return.

It was the first time so-called "Batistianos" were reported to have joined forces with Prime Minister Fidel Castro. Those with Batista ties previously had been excluded from major revolutionary organizations.

The call for a "second war of liberation" was sounded by Dr. Jose Miró Cardona, president of the exiled Cuban Revolutionary Council in New York. He said his country is occupied "by a foreign army at the service of those who betrayed the revolution."

Miró Cardona refused to discuss any timetable for possible landings on Cuban soil or strength of the invasion forces. He said when these forces became active inside Cuba they will number six million, embracing "all of Cuba."

Reports from Havana said government-controlled radio stations and newspapers ignored Miró Cardona's call.

In a nationwide TV talk Sunday, Castro repeated earlier warnings that insurgent bands and expeditionary forces invading Cuba would be liquidated. He did not refer directly to the latest call to arms against his regime.

Castro told Cubans that despite a U.S. economic blockade they would not lack the essentials of life. He said Cuba is the only nation in the Western Hemisphere that can guarantee food, clothing, medicine and education for all its people.

In Montreal, Canada, Dr. Oscar Abello, a legal adviser to the Castro government who was de-fending a breach of contract action involving ships bought while the government was in power, said he had detected and plans to join anti-Castro forces.

Rolando Masferrer, one of the most notorious of Batista's former aides, was under guard in a Miami hospital. He "claimed" a heart condition. Masferrer was taken into custody Saturday. Officials awaited a report on his condition before deciding whether to return him to custody or deport him.

He was arrested after the state Department said his presence was "prejudicial to the interests of the United States."

State Clear, But New Low Expected

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Wild spring weather gave Texas a breather Monday and skies cleared. But a low pressure area aimed at Texas threatened more turbulence.

A few thunderstorms are expected to form in western sections of the state Tuesday. The low center is scheduled to breed scattered thunderstorms in New Mexico Monday afternoon.

Overnight low was 32 degrees at Dalhart, compared with 23 degrees, the previous morning.

Brisk north winds swept the state free of storm clouds Sunday and charred dust into the air.

There were scattered showers across central and southern sections of the state Sunday in the wake of the turbulence, but none measured more than one-half inch.

Weather Bureau observers predicted clear to partly cloudy skies in all parts of Texas through Tuesday. Except for scattered thunderstorms in Northwest and extreme Southwest Texas, they saw no prospect for rain.

New long range forecasts issued Monday called for temperatures the next five days averaging 6 to 10 degrees below normal in Northwest, North Central and Northwest Texas and 2 to 4 degrees below normal in South Texas. Cooler weather was expected again about mid-week.

Mail-Carrying Rocket Firing Slated Again

MCCALLEN, Tex. (AP)—Members of the McAllen American Legion will launch another mail-carrying rocket across the Texas-Mexican border again in July. And this time they hope to have better aim.

Twenty-five years ago they fired six rockets carrying about 2,000 letters across the Rio Grande. Some of them, misfired, some fell into the river and one hit a ship on the Mexican side.

Officers from the first flight are collectors' items.

Practice Attacks Suspended By AF

GRANTS, N.M. (AP)—The Air Force has ordered fighter pilots to stop making practice attacks on "stop" airplanes until it finds out the bomber's cockpit, and knocked a B-52 bomber out of the sky.

Three crewmen were killed Friday when the B-52 crashed and exploded after an air-to-air Sidewinder missile broke loose from an F100 jet fighter and hit one of the bomber's eight jet engines.

The fighter was making a run over the target when the accident occurred.

Sunday the Air Force announced suspension of all practice intercepts.

Five of the bomber's crew ejected. Three were picked up within hours after the accident. The other two were not found until Sunday.

Capt. Ray C. Obel, 28, Logan, Okla., the bomber's copilot, and Ssgt. Manuel C. Mieras, 23, crew chief from Flagstaff, Ariz., suffered through a blizzard that dropped temperatures to 10 degrees and produced winds of 65 miles per hour.

Nonetheless, a military hospital in Phoenix, Ariz., said the crew was "Marvously and certainly miraculously" saved.

Mieras, who broke a leg when he hit the ground, fished a "snatch" from a "tree limb" and hobbled to an abandoned sheep-herder's hut. He found a deck of cards and spent the time playing "one-handed pinocle." He was sure he was going to win on R.

Obel and Mieras, who bailed out at 35,000 feet, were found at 65,000 feet in the Mt. Taylor area northeast of Phoenix. Obel suffered a broken vertebrae.

Obel made his way to the top of a small hill where he caught the attention of a ground search plane. A helicopter spotted Mieras and Obel and they were rescued.

Obel said the Sidewinder missed like a shot when it hit the bomber.

The aircraft went out of control, Obel said. "Just before I ejected I could feel the heat. I did not see any fire."

"I believe I lost consciousness very soon after I pulled the ejection seat handle. When I came to my parachute was open."

Obel landed on cactus plants and sustained some minor but painful wounds. He inflated a life raft from his survival kit for shelter.

A board of inquiry is investigating the crash. A search party was to return to the crash scene today to check an air policeman's report that he had spotted part of the missile in a ravine.

In Albuquerque, the F100 fighter, which fired the Sidewinder, was being studied by Air Force technicians and the civilian firms which make the plane and the missile.

Bodies of the dead were recovered Sunday and taken to Kirtland Air Force Base in Albuquerque. They were Capt. Stephen Carter, 28, East Horsham, Pa.; Ssgt. Glenn "Burr" Blissett, 28, Kalamazoo, Mich.; S-Sgt. Kommerer, Wyo.; and Capt. Peter J. Gineris, 30, Albuquerque.

The three rescued shortly after the crash were Capt. Donald C. Blissett, 28, Kalamazoo, Mich.; S-Sgt. Kommerer, Wyo.; and Capt. Peter J. Gineris, 30, Albuquerque.

Eichmann Near Fateful Hour

BY REILMAN MORIN

JERUSALEM (AP)—Adolf Eichmann today neared the fateful hour that will bring him face to face in court with Jewish survivors of the Nazi extermination camps — including some who claim to have suffered personally at his hands.

Eichmann was chief of the Gestapo's Jewish Affairs Section during World War II. He goes to trial before a special panel of three Israeli judges in Jerusalem Tuesday morning.

Israel, in a massive, 15-count indictment, accuses him of "crimes against the Jewish people and crimes against humanity." Death is the maximum penalty.

The second paragraph of the indictment reads:

"The accused, Adolf Eichmann, during the period, 1939 to 1945, caused the killing of millions of Jews in his capacity as the person responsible for the execution of the 'Final Solution' for the physical extermination of the Jews, known as the 'final solution of the Jewish problem.'"

Part of the support for this charge comes from 242 papers, letters and reports captured in the Foreign Office of Nazi Germany during the war.

The state has scheduled 20 witnesses to testify. Of these, 13 met Eichmann personally during the dark years when the prosecution alleges he was carrying out "the final solution."

Three of the witnesses, Yoel Brand, his wife, Hani, and Philip Freudiger, met Eichmann in Hungary in 1944. This was when the Nazis devised the scheme to release a million Jews in exchange for 10,000 Allied army trucks.

Brand will testify that Eichmann said: "Blood for goods — goods for blood."

Another witness, Dr. Hugo Kratzky, was among a group of 1,000 Jews deported from Czechoslovakia to Poland. When the train stopped, Eichmann met the Jews. He allegedly told the deportees that they would have to build their own concentration camp.

Some Jews were weak from lack of food and water. Some had fainting spells, according to survivors. When they asked Eichmann for water and supplies, they say he answered with one word: "Dig."

Avraham Krassik, another witness, was a member of a group of 70 Jewish prisoners rounded up to obliterate evidences of the work of Nazi murder teams known as Einsatzgruppen (operational squads).

In the early stages of the "final solution," thousands of Jews were slain by firing squads. Late in 1944, the Nazis' Eastern front was crumbling, heavy efforts were made to obliterate the mass graves of the Jews. Krassik and the other 69 Jews opened the graves, ground up the bones, and scattered the fragments over the fields.

The other 26 witnesses — those who did not meet Eichmann in person — presumably will testify to various actions with which they had first-hand experience and for which he is held accountable.

Eichmann's chief counsel is Herbert Rosenthal, 66, a widely known West German lawyer.

He says he has not yet decided whether he will let Eichmann, on the stand. Rosenthal also said he has not yet made up his mind about cross-examining the state's witnesses.

It is generally believed that he will open his defense on such legal points as:

1. The ex-post facto character of the Israeli law under which Eichmann is being tried. The "Nazi and Nazi collaborator (punishment) law" was passed in 1950 and was made retroactive.
2. The fact that Eichmann was kidnapped in Buenos Aires, and brought to Israel.
3. The argument that the acts of which Eichmann was accused did not take place on Israeli soil and that Israel did not in fact exist as an independent state at the time.

Jerusalem's community center has been converted into a courtroom. It can accommodate 700 spectators. About two-thirds of these will be newspaper, radio and television reporters from 35 nations.

"Closed-circuit" television will bring the proceedings to a huge press room beneath the courtroom. To other parts of the building, and to a nearby, movie theater.

Eichmann was transferred last week to a cell in the building from a carefully concealed place outside Haifa. He has been in custody since May 1960.

Gail Scout Troop Has First Eagles

GAIL — Borden County's first Eagle Scouts were presented with their awards at a special dinner here Saturday night in the school cafeteria. The Gail troop's first Eagle badges in history went to Steve Dennis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Dennis, and to Wayne Cooley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Cooley. Another son of Mr. and Mrs. Cooley, Joe Cooley, received the star award. The awards were presented by Carl Carbone, Scout Executive from Midland. The boys are members of Boy Scout Troop No. 33 in Gail, which is a part of the Lone Buffalo District. Wayne Cooley is chapter chief of Troop 33, and both Eagle award winners are working as junior assistant scoutmasters. Wayne Cooley also has been selected to represent the district in making the Scout report to the governor in Austin.

Debaters Win First Places In Contests

Snyder High School debate teams swept to first place in their respective events, and Snyder students placed in six other events at the District 3-AAA literary contests Saturday in Sweetwater. Both the boys and girls debate teams were winners, with Buddy Patterson and Dick Martin taking first place in the boys contest and Candy Weyel and Jackie Dean following through with first place in the girls debate contest. In overall ratings, Snyder placed third in the meet with 84 points. Sweetwater was first with 136 points and Lake View was second with 92 points. Colorado City and Lamesa placed fourth and fifth with 45 and 42 points, respectively. Kathy Mott placed second in girls poetry reading and second writing. Jackie McNish was second in boys oratory declamation. Charles Merritt was third in senior boys oratory declamation. Dickie Clemmer was third in boys poetry reading, and Linda Farmer was third in the shorthand contest.

Four Enter Guilty Pleas

Four Negro women from Lubbock waived jury trials and entered pleas of guilty before Judge Sterling Williams at 12:30 District Court here this morning. Each defendant was charged on two counts of felony theft, involving merchandise taken from local business firms. Entering guilty pleas to tax counts each were Betty-Lou Childers, Louanna Griggs, Charline Ward and Lester Jo Mooring. Each was assessed a two-year prison term on each count, with the sentences to run concurrently. The defendants were represented by John McFall, Lubbock attorney, while W. J. Holt, Lubbock attorney, represented the state.

SALES TAX

Continued From Page 1 its first order of business today. The Senate gets into the taxing act this afternoon, with a public hearing on the only House-approved tax bill this session, a $32 million measure, HB334, earmarked to help meet the state's big deficit. "I sincerely believe a sales tax with possibly a few of the necessary exemptions is the answer in the long run," Rep. John Allen of Longview said in his general sales tax bill, designed to raise $117 million. "This bill is the most obvious and inequitable of any of the versions of a retail sales tax and I predict that it will be defeated." Allen's original bill calls for a 2 1/2 per cent levy on almost all retail sales, including food and medicine. Most of the exemptions offered items now under selective sales taxes, such as gasoline and cigarettes. In a statement handed out Saturday for Monday morning newspaper and radio use, Daniel said selective sales tax plans offered by Reps. George Hinson of Minot and Ben Atwell of Dallas were far more equitable than Allen's. "The sooner HB334 is defeated the better will be the chance to arrive at a compromise which will be based more on ability to pay and at the same time provide an adequate broad-based growth tax to meet the needs of this state," Daniel said. "I believe there is room for such a compromise by combining features of the Hinson and Atwell bills." Hinson proposes a $36.5 million a year tax bill "HB334" that includes a tax on gasoline, gross receipts for utility taxes, a penny-a-bottle levy on soft drinks and beer and a tax on "broad-based excise tax," HB700, levying the number of items by name.

California Town Is Hit By Quake

HOLLISTER, Calif. (AP) — This little county seat town 80 miles south of San Francisco, was still picking up today after the heaviest earthquake in its history. "I've lived in Hollister all my life," said Sam Benito, County Coroner Eugene Franke here. "And this was the worst quake I've seen." In addition to extensive but relatively minor damage, Hollister had to contend Sunday with thousands of curious motorists.

Say Soviets May Have Put Man In Space

NEW YORK (AP) — Indications that the Soviet Union is about to launch a man into space or have done so were reported today by the Columbia Broadcasting System radio network. A CBS spokesman said a live short-wave broadcast from the CBS correspondent in Moscow, Marvin Kalb, indicated that an announcement of the man-in-space launching was expected this morning, but apparently was held up.

Public May Attend H-S Assembly

A substantial number of seats will be available to the general public for an appearance of M-Sgt. Charles B. Schlichter in high school auditorium here Tuesday morning. Schlichter is scheduled to speak at a high school assembly at 10:25 a. m. A prisoner of the North Korean communists for three years, Sgt. Schlichter appeared here last March 13 at an Americanism seminar sponsored by the Snyder Kiwanis Club. His return appearance here is being arranged by the Kiwanis Club, the school student council and school officials. School officials said the general public would be welcome to attend the assembly and program tomorrow. Sgt. Schlichter is scheduled to speak at the Downtown Lions Club meeting at noon tomorrow, and will visit the two junior high schools during the afternoon.

Boycott By U. N. Doomed

UNITED NATIONS N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. special political committee today approved by a slender margin an African resolution calling for a diplomatic and economic quarantine of South Africa because of its racial policies. The proposal was doomed, however, because it failed to get the two-thirds majority required for final approval in the General Assembly. The vote on the boycott demand was 47 in favor, 29 against and 13 abstaining. This was the tougher of two proposals before the 90-nation committee. The other, simply urging "separate and collective action" against South Africa, was expected to be approved by an overwhelming margin. The second was sponsored by five Asian countries.

BEHIND THE SCENES OF YOUR TELEPHONE SERVICE

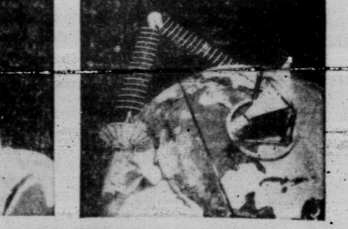

An interview with Richard A. Goodson, Southwestern Bell Vice President and General Manager for Texas

BY DON DAVIS, TELEPHONE NEWS WRITER

What will tomorrow's communications be like?

DIAL-IN-HAND PHONES? WORLD-WIDE TV? PICTUREPHONES? Telephone researchers probe for new electronic aids to serve you better. When I asked him to describe tomorrow's communications services, Dick Goodson, who heads up Southwestern Bell's Texas operations, smiled and said, "The only definite answer I can give you is that they won't be like today's." He then went on to say that telephone research people are working on so many different sizes, shapes and models of phones that it's impossible to predict which ones will actually prove out and be placed on the market. But after having him describe some of the futuristic phone researchers are working on—such as those shown here—I think it's clear telephone users can count on some wonderful surprises headed their way. Scientists are not only experimenting with new telephone instruments, but they're also unlocking the secrets of space communications (see illustration). Without doubt, the future will bring Texans communications services even more enjoyable, convenient and economical than they are now.

DIAL-IN-HAND PHONE is new instrument undergoing tests. New telephone dial, complete with night light, is easier to see and operate. When handset is placed in its cradle or mounting, the phone locks smooth, oval.

ECHO SATELLITE, still orbiting the earth, proved itself as a space communications vehicle when scientists successfully bounced phone calls off its surface. Bell System plans a satellite relay system for world-wide communications, including television.

Wade Rites Here Today

Funeral services for Mrs. A. Wade, 78, who died here early Saturday, were to be held at 3 p. m. today in the First Baptist Church. The Rev. Walter A. Mitchell, pastor, was to officiate. Mrs. Wade, a native of Oklahoma, had been a resident of Snyder County for 51 years. Burial was to be in Hillside Memorial Gardens under direction of Bell Funeral Home.

II Hurt In Train Wreck

THREE HAUTE, Ind. (AP) — Eleven persons were injured, one critically, as an Atlantic-Coke passenger train was wrecked in hitting the tank trailer of a truck today. Two diesel locomotives flipped onto their sides and the first seven cars of the train were jackknifed and derailed but remained on the track. Three other cars derailed. Ambulances were sent from Terre Haute and nearby Clinton to the wreck on the Chicago & Eastern Illinois Railroad main line at Axtelton, six miles northeast of Terre Haute. The CREI dispatched buses to take about 250 injured passengers to Danville, Ill., the railroad's division headquarters, 45 miles from the wreck scene. The wrecked train was the Chicago, bound from Atlanta for Chicago. Police reported the tank truck was loaded with liquid fertilizer.

From left and their place on the honor list are: Carol Young, third; Carol Coleman and Roy Hanson, tied for fourth; Ann Patterson, second, and Sally Wade, first.

Lamar Junior High Spring Banquet

Lamar Junior High held their spring banquet in the High School cafeteria Friday, at 7:30 p. m. This festive occasion burst forth in a host of yellow daisies blooming on yellow miniature trees decorating each table, accentuated by distinctively designed yellow programs marking each place. The freshness of spring was told completely by the lovely floral centerpiece at the speaker's table consisting of tulips, snapdragons and iris of yellow, with tremendous white daisies pinpointing the decorative theme.

Alma Mata put to music for the first time Mr. Tim Dennis composed the music and Miss Ann Patterson, who wrote the words to the new song, sang it beautifully in her clear, and melodious voice. The highlight of the evening was the presentation of Awards to outstanding students. Trophies bought by the Student Council were presented to the following: Most Valuable Football Player—Fred Wilson, 7th grade; Edward Schulz, 8th grade; Most Valuable Basketball Player—Bill Blum, 7th grade; Jerry Vestal, 8th grade; Jim Wilson, 9th grade; Track—David Bentley, 7th grade; Tom Kincaid, 8th grade; Harley Bynum and Craig Stokes, 9th grade.

Actor Martyn Green Is Wed To Model

NORWALK, Conn. (AP)—Actor Martyn Green, 31, has been married to New York model, Genevieve Shaveau, 39.

It was the third marriage for the British actor, noted for his roles in Gilbert and Sullivan operettas, and the second for Miss Shaveau.

They were married in a simple ceremony Sunday at the United Congregational Church of Rowayton.

Green lost a leg more than a year ago. It had to be amputated when it became caught between an elevator and a wall in New York.

The Dunn Home Demonstration Club will be host for an all day plaster molding tomorrow, starting at 9 a. m. in the Dunn community center.

Plaster and molds will be available. The public is invited to attend. Participants are asked to bring a salad and drinks will be furnished.

Starve A Moth

The best guarantee against moth damage is cleanliness. If wool clothes have been washed or dry cleaned recently, put them in a clothes dryer to be tumbled with fresh air. This removes dirt from pockets, seams, etc. Then seal the clean clothes in an air-tight garment bag and close the opening with masking tape.

Cool Salmon Salad

Salmon salad, a gelatine delicacy, will set in one hour on the jet-cold shelf of a refrigerator. Dissolve a package of lemon-flavored gelatin in 1 cup of boiling water. Add a cup of cold chicken broth and a tablespoon of vinegar and chill until slightly thickened. Fold in 2 seven ounce cans of salmon, 1/2 cup chopped celery, 2 tablespoons chopped green pepper, 2 tablespoons chopped pimiento and a tablespoon of grated onion. Pour into individual salad molds and chill until firm. Serve on a bed of watercress.

Heavy textured cottons, such as jacquards and tapestries, are among the popular fabrics for spring fashions. It's best to wash and rinse these inside out to prevent snagging the long floats of thread which give such cottons their unusual surface interest.

STRONG BENCH HELPS

Cousy Lauds Celts

By JIM VAN VALKENBURG
Associated Press Sports Writer
ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—The Boston Celtics, just one game from another pro basketball crown, have their "best team" ever, and one reason is the club's only rookie, Tom (Satch) Cousy.

Bob Cousy, the Celtics' great backliner in his 11th season, put it this way: "This is the best basketball team ever assembled. We didn't have Sanders and (Jungle Jim) Loscutoff in the playoffs last year. The Jones boys (Sam and C.C.) are better."

"Now we have a great bench—and that makes this our best club."

Boston is on the verge of its fourth National Basketball Association title in five years. Sanders hit 10 of 14 shots and scored 22 points—the same number as Cousy—as the Celtics belted St. Louis 119-104 Sunday on the Hawks' home court. Bob Pettit had 40 points for St. Louis, but little help.

"It gave Boston a 3-1 grip in the best-of-7 series going into the fifth game," said Cousy. "I was like the (Harlem) Globetrotters do—I told him to stop that right now. He was a good pivot man but never shot from more than 20 feet out. He didn't pass the ball—he squirted it."

"I told him to get contact lenses right away and keep wearing 'em—and to get rid of those knee guards."

Sanders now has an 11-point average for the St. Louis series, no better than seventh on the deep Celtic team. But he's shooting a sizzling 369 from the field against St. Louis and 314 including the Eastern final with Syracuse. This tops the team for playoff action.

"He has the confidence now," Cousy said. "Satch always had a fine touch but this is never enough if you don't have the confidence."

game Tuesday night at the Boston Garden.

Boston Coach Red Auerbach admits he was somewhat dubious about Sanders when he signed the New York University star last summer, largely on the recommendation of St. John's Coach Joe Lapchick.

"He was wearing glasses and those old-time knee guards," Red said. "He weaved his shoulders like the (Harlem) Globetrotters do—I told him to stop that right now. He was a good pivot man but never shot from more than 20 feet out. He didn't pass the ball—he squirted it."

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP)—Wayland's Flying Queens from Texas, winners of their sixth national AAU women's basketball championship in seven years, will make up most of the team that tours Russia starting April 19.

The Queens put seven players on the all-star squad for the European tour. Nashville Business College, which Wayland beat 39-29 for the AAU title Saturday night, has two players on the squad and St. Joseph and Iowa Wesleyan College one each.

All-star choices are Laura Switzer, Betty Scott, Cynthia Shelton, Thelma Gay Ivey, Nelda Smith, Glynn Masten and Carla Lowry of Wayland, Gil Upton and Joan Crawford of Nashville, Sandra Plets of St. Joseph and Judy Hodson of Iowa Wesleyan.

Coached by Harley Redin of the Wayland Queens, the women's AAU team will join a men's all-star team made up of collegians and other amateurs on the tour. They will play Russian teams at various cities in the Soviet Union.

Both the men and women will be in Moscow for the opening ceremonies. They will arrive back in this country May 9.

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Chesty challenger Gary Player and crusty defending champion Arnold Palmer face a delayed final go for the Masters golf title today after a rainstorm drowned Sunday's scheduled last round.

The entire 41-player field must start over again but based on Sunday's canceled activity, Player's four-stroke lead may fold over Palmer pressure.

When the lightning-etched, hoisted skies spilled a waterfall on Augusta National course, Player held only a two-stroke lead over Palmer at 65 and 63 holes respectively.

At that point no other contender had a chance for the estimated $20,000 top prize, although 10 players already had completed 72 holes, led by Mike Souchak and Dick Mayer with 2918.

The forecast envisioned, partly cloudy, windy weather with temperatures reaching the high 60s. The par 36-56-72, 6,900-yard course drains well, so Player and Palmer, whose birdie-birdie finish carved his second Masters' triumph last year, could wind up in a tight finish.

Player, who starts 30 minutes ahead of Palmer, could find him self in the same sad situation as Ken Venturi last year. Venturi finished with an apparent title-clinching 283. One stroke down with two holes to go, Palmer bagged birdies on the 17th and 18th and won with 282.

Rain Victor In Masters Finals

Between South Africa's Player, seeking to become the first foreign player to win the Masters, and Palmer, the most charged over the cancellation came from Palmer. "I was getting the breaks and on the move," he said.

Palmer had wrapped up a 2-under-par 34 on the first nine, while Player—turning the first nine in 35—had floundered to a bogey on the flooded 11th green when play was called.

Palmer conceded there was no other choice than to cancel the round with the 10th, 11th, 12th and 16th greens under water.

"They were running out of time and nothing else could be done," said Palmer. "But that front nine 34 I had looked very good. I knew Player bogied No. 11 and I felt I had some sort of a chance. I'd rather be two strokes behind with nine to play than four 'with 18'."

Player estimated the cancellation was worth one-half stroke to him, although maybe it was "50-50 whether it helped or hurt my chances."

NEW NATS IN FIRST FLING

Majors Set For Openers

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
Baseball's most revolutionary experiment of the century—a 10-team major league—was scheduled to get under way in the nation's capital today when the brand new Washington Senators inaugurate the American League season against the Chicago White Sox.

The American League, which beat the National to expansion by one year, has the field to itself today provided the weather cooperates. Everybody is ready, including President Kennedy, who is slated to throw out the first ball. Also anxious to get going are right-handers Early Wynn of the White Sox and Dick Donovan of the Senators, who will attempt to pitch the rest of the way.

A pouring rain drenched Griffith Stadium Sunday. Should the rain refuse to relent, or make the field unplayable, the game will be pushed back to Tuesday when the rest of the American League's 10-team setup begins the flag chase. The National, with its customary eight teams, starts Tuesday. It's 10-team expansion program—involving Houston and New York—will not go into effect until 1962.

Tuesday's opening pairings are as follows: in the American League, the old Washington team, now called the Minnesota Twins following its move to Minneapolis-St. Paul, will play the Yankees in New York; Cleveland will oppose the Tigers in Detroit; Kansas City is at Boston, and the new Los Angeles team will meet the Orioles in Baltimore. Washington and Chicago will rest after today's inaugural, unless rain forces a postponement.

The National opens Tuesday put Pittsburgh at San Francisco, Philadelphia at Los Angeles in the only night game, and Chicago at Cincinnati and St. Louis at Milwaukee.

If the weather holds up, more than 200,000 spectators are in line for the nine-game program over the two-day period. The largest crowd, 50,000, is due at Los Angeles where the Dodgers will begin their long night schedule.

Lish and the Improvement of Her Score could lift the pitching but age is creeping up on such non-pitching front-liners as Minnie Minoza, Al Smith, Nellie Fox and Sherm Lollar, too.

Cleveland helped its pitching by acquiring southpaw Johnny Antonelli and gained a power hitting in outfielder Willie Kirkland. Lack of a capable relief pitcher and reserve outfielders and a second string catcher are the weak spots.

In the National League, Pittsburgh is pretty much in the same position as the Yankees in the American. The Pirates have good first-line pitching, defense and balanced hitting but they lack second-line pitching and a strong bench. They also could use more power.

Milwaukee has explosive power in the middle of the batting order. Henry Aaron, Ed Mathews and Joe Adcock and a more solid infield because of the addition of Roy McMillan and Frank Bolling at short and second. The Braves, however, helped themselves at the expense of their outfield and pitching. Don McMahon must prove he can furnish the necessary bullpen help.

The Los Angeles Dodgers are rich in young talent, strong on the mound and plentiful on the bench. They have tremendous maneuverability. The main weakness is lack of power and a first rate catcher.

St. Louis has good pitching, a great relief pitcher in Lindy McDaniel, a sound infield and fair catching. The Cards' trouble is in the outfield, which is old and slow. They don't have a proven big league center fielder and Stan Musial must prove his 40 years are not too much a burden.

San Francisco has Willie Mays, baseball's No. 1 star, and other good hitters in Orlando Cepeda, Harvey Kuenn and Felipe Alou. The Giants have good front-line pitching and a pair of promising rookies in infielder Charlie Hiller and catcher Tom Haller. They need bullpen and catching help. Willie McCovey at first base must come through at the plate.

Phillip Crosby Are Back Together

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Phillip Crosby, one of crooner Bing's twin sons, and his ex-showgirl wife, Sandra Drummond, are back together.

Mrs. Crosby said they agreed after a family dinner at Bing's house Friday night to call off their separation.

The couple, married in Las Vegas, Sept. 25, 1958, split last month and she filed for separate maintenance, charging cruelty. She said she is dropping the action. They are parents of two children.

Polaris Submarine Is On Excursion

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The Polaris submarine Theodore Roosevelt today began a two-day run as an excursion ship before setting final checkpoints for orbital patrol duty.

Scheduled to take half-day submerged trips today were groups of congressmen and newsmen. The nuclear-powered craft Tuesday will take aboard a delegation from the White House, Navy officials and their guests.

The Roosevelt successfully fired a Polaris from beneath the sea last Thursday to complete a series of four test firings. Two were successful.

They have written Postmaster General J. Edward Day for permission to paint the receptacles pink.

Kennedy Could Be A Better Golfer

WASHINGTON (AP)—Who would win a golf match, President Kennedy or former President Dwight D. Eisenhower?

It would be close, a golfer who has played with both said today.

That's because, he said, Eisenhower has played more golf in recent years than has Kennedy.

"If Kennedy played as frequently as did Eisenhower there'd be no contest," he said.

The golfer who made the comparison asked to remain anonymous.

Reporters never have been permitted to watch either Kennedy or Eisenhower on the golf course.

Kennedy is a fast player. He faces along, lines up his shot and hits the ball quickly like a professional player.

Both are pleasant golf companions. Eisenhower never fusses about anyone's game, but Kennedy likes to indulge in a little kidding.

Driving is the best part of Ike's game. He's generally done the fairway 200 yards. Kennedy is very likely to slug a few 285 yards and then hook a couple into the rough.

On the middle and long-irons, Kennedy is better. He has the edge around the green. Jack's main fault here is that he's moving too fast.

Battle To Save $2 Growing Rapidly

By SAM DAWSON AP Business-News Analyst NEW YORK (AP)—The battle to get you to save a dollar is growing about as keen as the drive to get you to spend it.

And more and more you have the choice of taking your dollar to the saving institution of your choice or letting your boss do it for you.

The latter is supposed to be the painless way of getting a bond or an insurance policy, a pension, that is, as paying your income tax or providing a pension.

Uncle Sam urges you to save with him — by buying savings bonds and holding on to them and has sweetened the return to tempt you.

You can buy the bonds at a bank or through payroll deductions. At the same time Uncle Sam is making a big money available for constant spending to nudge the economy out of stagnation and back to growth.

Private employers for your savings vie with each other to get you to work their particular offer or save through payroll plans.

Commercial and mutual savings banks have raised the interest they pay on deposits, in many cases as high as various laws will allow.

Savings and loan associations have raised interest rates—especially in growing West Coast communities where demand for loans is pressing.

Of late Washington has urged a stop to the hiking of interest on savings so that the associations can lower mortgage payments as a spur to more home building.

Credit unions have been growing steadily—and meeting competition from in-plant savings and lending plans of banks.

Mutual funds and insurance companies have been singing the praises of their own form of investing your savings as preferable to the other's.

Just now the insurance companies are boasting of big gains in the payroll deduction way of taking out insurance.

Individuals buy life insurance through their office or plant.

In 1949 such salary savings came to $300 million. In 1958 more than $1.5 billion was put on the books this way.

The Institute of Life Insurance estimates that in 1960 the sum topped $2 billion, with more than 30,000 companies providing such service — 6,000 of them for the first time last year.

A pioneer in the field, Equitable Life Assurance Society, says in 1960 its sales of salary savings insurance on 21,300 policies topped $125 million, up five fold in 10 years.

Equitable's pioneer plan was for employees of the New York Telephone Company in the mid-1920s.

Increasingly active in the field are such companies as New York Life, John Hancock, Penn Mutual, Metropolitan, Travelers, Phoenix Mutual, Aetna, Connecticut General, Prudential and Shinandah.

In all 114 companies include such plans in their portfolios.

A similar allotment plan is available to members of the armed forces through representatives of private insurance companies who have permission to solicit sales on military bases.

The government deducts the insurance premiums.

Canyon Fire Toll Heavy

CANYON, Tex. (AP)—Firemen fought three hours to control a blaze which caused thousands of dollars in damage to three stores on Canyon's downtown square Sunday.

Firefighters, called volunteer aides from church services as reinforcements. Three units came from Amarillo, 17 miles north of here.

The blaze destroyed Shell's drug store and inflicted unestimated damage in the neighboring Warren Department Store and Western Auto store.

Shell placed his loss, including the building, at $115,000. What started the fire had not been determined.

Junior Editors Quiz on TREES

QUESTION: What and when is Arbor Day?

ANSWER: When Columbus came to America, the land was a wilderness. Most of it was covered by trees. But as man settled the land he cut down the trees to have room to farm. He used the wood for homes, fences and firewood. Eventually, where there once had been large forests, a person could travel for many miles without seeing a tree. Just after the Civil War, people began to realize that unless something was done the time would come when there would be no more trees to supply this country's needs for lumber. One of these people was J. Sterling Morton, a newspaper publisher of Nebraska City, Neb. He proposed that a special day be set aside for the planting of trees. This day was called Arbor Day. It is now a national holiday and the first one was held in Nebraska on April 10, 1872. Another man, Birdseye Northrop of Connecticut, traveled widely lecturing on the need for conservation of trees and spreading the Arbor Day idea. Today every state celebrates Arbor Day with special tree-planting ceremonies. However, states celebrate it at different times. In the North, it is celebrated in April or early May while southern states observe Arbor Day at various times from December through March.

FOR YOU TO DO: Find out when Arbor Day is celebrated in your state.

Paul Goshon of North Bergen, N. J., wins $10 for this question. Mail your question on a postcard to Violet Moore Higgins, AP Newsfeatures, in care of this newspaper. If you have questions received, Mrs. Higgins will choose the winners. $10

20 Traffic Deaths Top Violence

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS. Texas counted 25 violent deaths during the week-end, including 20 in traffic. Latest deaths included: James Dorsey, 30, an airline steward at Kelly Air Force Base in San Antonio, died early Sunday as two cars collided in San Antonio. George Simmons, about 35, of Meridian drowned Sunday in Lake Whitney after falling from a boat into water 40 feet deep. Four persons were killed at the edge of Tyler in a two-car smash-up on Friday. A. S. 44 Saturday. The dead, a Negro, were Berthena Holland, 28, her son, Dallas, 2, and her nephew, Michael Frazier, 3, in one car and Saul Mason, 11, in another. The Negro, 48, of San Antonio, died Sunday of injuries suffered in a San Antonio auto accident the night before. Robert Jack Moreman, 41, of Halladay, a food store chain owner, and Reuben Lobig, 44, of Cactus, also a grocer, were killed Saturday night when their car crashed into the side of a freight train near Dumas.

New Highway In Valley Dedicated

MCCALLEN (AP)—A four-lane highway linking Mission and Brownsville will "make the Lower Rio Grande Valley one big city," former chairman Marshall Formby of the State Highway Commission predicted Sunday. The highway, 73 Expressway, expected to cost nearly $1 million for each of its 68 miles, is due to be completed in 1970 at the earliest. Formby, former chairman of the project, helped get state approval of the project in Hidalgo and Cameron Counties. The county commissioners have decided to name it the Marshall Formby Valley Expressway.

Folk-Singing Fans Wrestle Police

NEW YORK (AP)—Folk-singing fans and police turned Green Village's Washington Square into an eight-acre wrestling ring Sunday in a shouting, bruising battle over a ban on impromptu songfests.

When the tumult and the shouting died after about three hours, 10 demonstrators—including novelist Harold L. Humes—were under arrest and several arrested protesters and bruised.

One policeman suffered a bitten hand. He said a dog did it.

Nine of the 10 arrested were released in hall on charges of holding a demonstration in the park without a permit. Five of them also were tagged with an additional charge of disorderly conduct.

Bed Bound For Mexico

KINGSVILLE, Tex. (AP)—The kind of spring fever that "kicks college boys, pushing beds, kicking high tops" brought a University of Houston student to Texas A&I College here Sunday.

It took them slightly less than two days to travel the 207 miles from Houston to Kingsville in south Texas. They handed their four-wheeled bed over to Alpha Tau Omega fraternity brothers here.

All students proposed to shove it on in Pan American College at Edinburg, Tex. or possibly to Monterrey, Mexico.

Other colleagues started the journey before Easter from Baylor University in Waco. They went as far as Austin, and University of Texas students relayed the bed to Houston. Fraternity spokesmen say the eventual goal is Mexico City.

Lamar Tech Duo Is Debate Winner

DALLAS (AP)—Sue Hill and Robert King of Lamar State College won the Texas Intercollegiate Television Debate Tournament by defeating David Thomas and David Deaton of Hardin-Simmons Sunday.

Sue Hill is from Orange Thurgood is from Valley Mills and Deaton from Abilene.

The Hill-King combination argued before tournament judges that further development of nuclear weapons should not be prohibited by international agreement.

Works called phosphorus settle on the sea floor and secrete a tube around themselves, building up a shell. The phosphorus perhaps has feet. The phosphorus, which may reach a length of 12 inches, looks like its self-built prison, but crawls up and down inside.

Houston Blue Law Rapped

HOUSTON (AP)—A Houston church leader says he thinks a blue law enforcement campaign here has fostered a black market and is making criminals of honest citizens.

"This thing has gotten out of hand," said D. D. Smith, president of the Greater Houston Council of Seventh Day Adventists.

Police are arresting good honest citizens over a roll of toilet paper.

He said several people have advised they can buy him anything he wants on Sunday despite Mayor Lewis Orter's order for police to enforce the old state Sunday closing law.

Leach made the remarks during a panel discussion of Houston's blue law enforcement campaign here last Saturday night.

Houston police Sunday arrested 13 businessmen and filed reports involving 13 persons suspected of being illegal business.

His reports said a diverse group of such things as socks, a dress and a down chapter. The reports were in turned over to the city legal department.

Not Bitter, Says Benson

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP)—Former Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson says he isn't bitter at the critics of his policies during the Eisenhower administration.

Benson spoke feelingly about his eight years in the Cabinet in a talk before the General Conference of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints Sunday.

He is an apostle of the church. There have been honest differences of opinion," Benson said. "But I was never motivated very much because in my heart I was convinced I was doing right. I have no bitterness today. I do not hate any living soul."

British Novelist Oliver Onions Dies

LONDON (AP)—Oliver Onions, 86, British novelist noted for his ghost stories, died Sunday in a hospital in Wales.

He wrote more than 30 novels among them "The Story of Ragged Robin," a tragic tale set in the 17th century, and "Foot Man's Paper," about the eve of the Wars of the Roses, which won him the James Tait Black prize in 1946.

Onions probably gained his greatest fame for "The Beckoning Fair One," a ghost story printed in many languages.
