MITCHELL-NOLAN COUNTY OFFICERS CAPTURE STILL

Sheriff W. J. Chesney and Deputy Dale of Loraine and Sheriff D. E. Bardwell and Willis Barbee of Sweetwater, raided a still late Friday afternoon, destroying three hundred gallons of mash and carrying off as their loot five gallons of perfectly good booze (so Mr. Chesney reports) a part of the still equipment, a suit and other personal effects of the ...canyon 18 on the line in Nolan County. Mr. Chesney reports that the outfit was complete in detail and was so secluded as to make as possible the finding of its location very problematical. The first intimation the officers had that they were in the vicinity of the still came to them in the tell-tale odor of the mash. Next a pot of simmering beans, left on the fire, surrounded by signs that two men had only recently been partaking of their evening meal, was found. Next a tent, which was a complete camping outfit, was found hidden away in a canyon underneath a heavy growth of brush. This underbrush was dense and served to hide the tent well that the officers had to use their hands in parting the foliage before the tent could be seen, though lying but a few feet away.

A careful search of the suit case and pockets of clothing found in the tent failed to establish any clue as to the identity of the "proprietors," Mr. Chesney stated. A strong box, however, was found in the tent and it was thought perhaps that it might contain some evidence toward establishing a clue. The box was carried to Sweetwater by Sheriff Bardwell.

A total of seven 50-gallon oil barrels was found to constitute a part of the still equipment. One of these was used as a boiler and the remaining six as containers of the mash, all of the mash barrels being full. These, together with their contents, were destroyed by the officers. The still taken from the boiler was taken in charge by Bardwell and carried to Sweetwater.

Local officers believe that this still was furnishing much of the booze that has been distributed at Colorado during recent weeks. No arrests had been made Monday, but it is expected that identity of those responsible for the still will be established within the next few days.

BANKS CLOSED MONDAY IN HONOR OF MEMORIAL DAY

The banks of Colorado were closed Monday out of honor of Memorial Day, which was generally observed throughout the country. The post office was also closed.

Sadie Broadsky of Chicago is in this week on a visit to her mother, Mrs. Louis Landau, and will spend the summer here.

WINDOW DISPLAY ATTRACTS CROWDS OF SPECTATORS.

A display in one of the windows of the W. L. Doss drug store Sunday, in which memoirs of the Civil and World wars were featured, was the source of much interest among pedestrians frequenting the downtown district during the day. Muskets used by veterans during the struggle between the States more than a half century ago, and specimens of the improved implements of modern warfare, gas masks, etc., forming a part of the field equipment of the American soldier in the late titanic conflict were alike displayed.

Two favorite poems, "The Blue and the Gray," depicting memories of the Civil War, and "In Flanders Field," portraying the purposes for which the American boys paid the supreme sacrifice in France, were each silhouetted in striking effect against the background of the display. The placards on which these poems were written were banked with daisies and poppies, the flowers made sacred through the struggle between the Blue and the Gray, and the more recent one between the mailed fist of the oppressor as arrayed against the rights of democracy.

Another very impressive feature of the display was that sentiment coming to the observer as he read the following titles on Victor records in the window: "Tenting On The Old Camp Ground," "Dixie" and "Stars and Stripes Forever."

Among those to visit the store and silently and reverently look upon the display were veterans of both those conflicts and it is needless to state that memories hallowed by them were made fresh once more.

NEW BASEMENT AT BAPTIST CHURCH NEAR COMPLETION.

The work of improving the basement at the First Baptist church building is nearing completion and this room will be ready for occupancy of a department of the Sunday school by Sunday, June 12. The excavating was completed last week and the concrete work was practically finished Wednesday morning. Workmen were setting frames Wednesday afternoon.

The Baptist church, though without a pastor during the past few months, has made a steady growth and services conducted under supervision of the laymen have been attended liberally and universally appreciated by the congregation. The Rev. M. C. Bishop, who comes to Colorado this week to accept the pastorate of this church, is among the leading clergymen of the Baptist church in this part of the State and he and his estimable family will make a valued addition to the citizenship of the city.

HOWARD-MITCHELL BOUNDARY CONFERENCE HELD TUESDAY.

James T. Brooks, county judge of Howard county, was here Tuesday from Big Spring to confer with Judge J. C. Hall on the Howard-Mitchell county boundary line, which, according to records in the office of the General Land Office at Austin, has never been definitely located. It is the plan of the commissioners courts of the two counties to cooperate in having the boundary line between the two counties established, Judge Hall stated.

The north and south terminals of this line, however, have been officially located and field notes of the same are recorded in the General Land Office. To run the line through would mean nothing more than to describe a line between the two corners.

MITCHELL COUNTY FARMER GROWING EXCELLENT CROPS.

D. T. Smith of a few miles northeast of Colorado brought some specimens of the onion, sweet clover and alfalfa crops now maturing on his farm to the Chamber of Commerce office last week where they are now on display. Each of the three specimens are of excellent quality, demonstrating that Mitchell county is producing other staple crops than cotton, corn, maize, and the other sorghums. The sandy loam and shinnery belts of Mitchell county are peculiarly adapted to the prolific growth of truck and fruit crops. Berry patches and vineyards too, on these soils, are bearing most satisfactorily.

Memorial Day Appropriately Observed; Soldiers' Graves Decorated

In common with the rest of the United States, appropriate Memorial services were held in Colorado Sunday afternoon, honoring all former soldiers, sailors and marines and nurses who gave their lives in war in defense of their country.

The exercises began at 3:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon when members of Oran C. Hooker Post, American Legion, met at the Chamber of Commerce to form in line for a march to the First Methodist church, where a program under direction of the U. D. C. chapter was rendered, commencing at 4 o'clock. Veterans of the Civil War, the U. D. C., Legionnaires, and members of the Woman's Auxiliary, American Legion, occupied reserved seats in the church auditorium.

The first number on the program, a selection by the Colorado Booster Band, was announced at 4 o'clock by Mrs. Jack Smith, secretary of the U. D. C. Following two numbers by the band, "America" was sung by the audience. The invocation was then offered by Rev. C. L. Browning, pastor of the First Methodist church.

As Mrs. J. H. Guitart played softly the preessional, "When You and I were young, Maggie," Master Eugene Soper, dressed as Uncle Sam, and little Miss Mary Dickson Smith as Columbia, accompanied by little Miss Lena Rebecca Smith and Mabel Ernest Cooper led the march of the chorus down the aisles from the front entrance to their places behind the chancel railing. The chorus, composed of twenty-five girls daintily gowned in white, was seated in the choir, the chair of each bearing a beautiful wreath of evergreens and flowers.

The reading, "Southland for Me," by Miss Annie Mary Lupton, accompanied by the chorus in pantomime, was next on the program. This was followed by a solo, "In Flanders Field," by Mrs. Guitart, with piano accompaniment. The solo was also accompanied by pantomime by the chorus.

The Memorial address was delivered by Dr. D. R. Hardison, pastor of the First Christian church. He paid a tribute to veterans of the struggle between the States during the Civil War and of those who served under the American flag during the recent World War. In fitting language the speaker recalled the deeds of chivalry enacted at Brandywine; at Gettysburg and other blood strewn fields of the Civil War; of the millions of the youth of America who heard the call of their country in latter years and rallied to the support of democracy against the forces of Prussianism; depicted the scene of Pershing before the tomb of Lafayette, the Americans at Chateau Thierry, Belleau Wood and other fronts on the fields of France.

Dr. Hardison's address was one of the most beautiful and diplomatic eulogies to the memory of these heroes this writer ever heard. He did not become emotional, so as to sway his congregation into emotions, nor did he relax into a single utterance that failed to carry with it the impression of a sacred memoir out of respect to the country's heroic dead.

The chorus then sang "Flowers of May," an expression in verse replete with memoirs of Dixie and the Southern Confederacy. Expressions on the face of each of the seven Civil War heroes who were present told impressively that they were living over again some of the chivalrous ideals of Dixie and in their memory's eye marched again through the Southland over fields covered with daisies.

A male quartet, Messrs. Thos. Dawes, T. J. Ratliff, S. D. Wood and Chester Thomas, came next on the program. The chorus, again led by Uncle Sam and Columbia and their charming little pages, marched from their places and from the building, singing softly "Roses, Lillie, Flowers of May." A band selection, "Immortal Heroes," concluded the exercises at the church.

Marching from the church the Confederate veterans, United Daughters of the Confederacy, the Woman's Auxiliary, the Legionnaires and the other guests following, formed in line along Chestnut Street for the procession to I. O. O. F. cemetery, where the exercises of the day were to be concluded. This procession, headed by two mounted marshals, extended over a mile and was one of the longest ever recalled at Colorado.

Arriving at the cemetery, the Booster Band rendered selections of martial airs as the Legionnaires, the U. D. C. and Woman's Auxiliary members marched into the cemetery, the Legionnaires carrying wreaths to be placed on the graves of veterans of the Civil and World wars. A total of eighty-one graves were decorated. The benediction was pronounced at the cemetery gate by Rev. J. M. Shufford, a Civil War veteran.

Without the Memorial exercises here Sunday afternoon were perhaps the most impressive services ever attended by the people of Colorado and Mitchell County. Not only were the services attended by the people of the city, but automobiles from various parts of the county began arriving in Colorado shortly after three o'clock, loaded with citizens anxious to have a part in making the tribute to the heroes of Mitchell county as fitting as possible. It was an occasion long to be remembered.

COLORADO-TEX COMP'Y PLAN ADDITIONAL WELLS

Geo. A. Reese, manager for the Colorado-Tex. Petroleum Company, and Horace Cook, an associate of the company, left Monday for Desdemona to negotiate the purchase of three rigs to be shipped to Iatan. The company will drill three additional wells on the holdings on the Foster ranch near Iatan, according to authentic information received by the Chamber of Commerce.

Work of cleaning Foster No. 1 at Iatan was still in progress Wednesday afternoon when a representative of The Record visited the well. Operators continue optimistic and believe a production of 100 barrels will be realized when the well is put under pump.

It is learned that the Iatan well will be put under pump again this week, or the first of next week.

$52 REALIZED FROM POPPY SALE CONDUCTED SAT'DAY.

$52 was realized from the sale of poppies on the streets of Colorado Saturday, the Woman's Auxiliary to the Oran C. Hooker Post, American Legion, who had charge of the sale, announced Monday. This money will be used for bringing relief to indigent orphans in France.

A total of 300 of the poppies, which were made in France by the children orphaned during the recent war, were shipped to Colorado and they were all sold.

INFANTRY CONVOY PASSES THRO COLORADO TUESDAY.

A motor convoy of thirty-seven trucks and two touring cars, under command of Capt. G. A. M. Anderson, U. S. A., passed through Colorado Tuesday afternoon en route from Camp Travis, Texas, to Fort Logan, Colorado. In the command were 260 men of the 9th Infantry, 2nd Division. The men were fully equipped for field service.

Captain Anderson stated that his convoy was making excellent progress, averaging about 18 miles an hour on the road. He came from San Angelo Tuesday morning and stated that the roads in Mitchell county had been found to be above the average of those between here and Camp Travis. From here the convoy went to Snyder where Tuesday night was spent.

"Speaking for myself and the men of my command, I appreciate very much the courtesies extended us during the short stay of the convoy in Colorado," Captain Anderson stated just before leaving the city. "We have found the people all along the route to be most courteous to us, rendering whatever assistance needed, and we appreciate this consideration."

SCATTERED RAINS FALL OVER MITCHELL COUNTY.

Good rains fell in some communities of Mitchell county Friday of last week, putting out stock water in surface tanks and sufficient moisture in the ground for germinating seeds recently planted. The heaviest rainfall was at the H. S. Ranch, where a precipitation of one and one-half inches fell. One inch fell at Spade.

Good rains also fell at Sweetwater, Roscoe, Loraine, Iatan, Coahoma and Big Spring Friday. One cattleman of near Iatan reported as a result of the heavy rainfall the dam at one of his tanks was practically washed away.

Wednesday night of this week other scattered rains fell in the county. At Colorado .75 was registered, and at Buford and the J. W. Gross farm six miles northwest of Colorado, one inch fell. The rain at Cuthbert was very light and from east of Colorado it was reported that no rain fell at all.

JOHN VAUGHAN REMOVED TO TEMPLE SANITARIUM.

John Vaughan, who with his daughter Miss Winnie Vaughan, left Colorado Thursday night of last week for Georgetown, is again critically ill and has been removed to the Scott & White Sanitarium at Temple for treatment, according to telegraphic information received in Colorado on Wednesday.

Mr. Vaughan was convalescing from a recent illness and decided that a change of climate would prove beneficial. Immediately upon arriving at Georgetown, however, his condition became worse and his daughter telegraphed Mrs. Vaughan to come. She wired again Wednesday that the condition of her father had become serious and they were leaving him for the sanitarium at Temple.

His two sons, Nelson Vaughan of Colorado, and Mert Vaughan of Sweetwater left Wednesday for Temple to be with their father.

A wire from Nelson, late Thursday evening says: "Mr. Vaughan some better; taking him to Marlin."

Joe H. Smoot, Mrs. Smoot, their little daughter and his mother, Mrs. H. B. Smoot, returned Monday from Dallas, where they spent a visit with relatives.

McFANN OIL COMPANY TO DRILL SMITH NO. 1

The Smith well, spudded a few months ago by the Underwriters Co. on the Nat Smith tract six miles west of Colorado, will be completed by the McFann Oil Company, L. W. Sandusky, attorney representing owners of the lease stated Wednesday afternoon.

Negotiations between S. S. Owen, formerly manager for the Underwriters Company and the McFann Oil Company have been pending for several days, but because of the financial stringency Mr. Owen was unable to consummate a drilling contract. When an offer was made to place some of this acreage with local buyers, sufficient funds were received with which to insure that the well would be drilled.

Tools used by the McFann Company in drilling a well on the 24 ranch in Kent county, will be moved to the Smith location at once, Sandusky stated. The contract specifies that the well shall be drilled to a depth of 3180 feet, unless a commercial well be drilled in at a lesser depth.

More than usual interest has centered around the Smith well since the day the location was made last year. Several geologists who have visited the wells at Westbrook and Iatan expressed the opinion that these were edge wells and that by drilling further to the east a big pool should be encountered.

The Smith well was started with a rotary rig but because of the very hard rock formation unsatisfactory progress was made and this rig was moved away, the Underwriters Company planning to complete the well with a Standard string of tools. This however, was never done, because of the financial stringency developing a few months ago.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS HAVE ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING.

On Wednesday night Colorado Lodge No. 44, K. of P. served refreshments to its members. This lodge is getting back in old time form—for over thirty years old 44 has been recognized as one of the leading lodges in this Domain, its membership being composed of the leading business men of Colorado. Why should it not accomplish something, with such a fine body of men living up to the great principles taught by the order.

This lodge is increasing its membership and with the fine class of citizenship here should easily double its present number. On next Tuesday regular convention night, a number will be initiated in the rank of page. The ranks of Esquire and Knight will be conferred at the following conventions.

JUDGE BARKER SPEAKS TO COLORADO VOTERS

Judge J. D. Barker of Cisco, candidate for state senator, was in Colorado Monday afternoon in the interest of his candidacy. He spoke from the corner of Second Street at the City National Bank building to a representative crowd of farmers and business men.

"If elected to the state senate from this the 28th district, I shall be on speaking terms with the administration," Judge Barker stated. "This is not assured in the case of my opponent, Judge Burkett of Eastland. I favor the establishment of an agricultural and mechanical college in West Texas," he continued.

Judge Barker stated that his candidacy was meeting with approval of the voters at every point in the district visited by him. "The Ranger Daily Times, and the thirty-five other papers in this district are actively supporting me in this campaign," he stated.

Patronize Home Institutions

The public schools of West Texas are just now turning out their annual "grist" of graduates and a very large number of the boys and girls are planning to go on to higher institutions, either during the summer or next September.

When deciding upon a school in which to finish the work begun in the high school and prepare for the business of life, why not give more consideration to home institutions?

We have in Abilene as good a business college as is to be found anywhere and one which has numbers of efficient graduates to its credit as may readily be proved by inquiry among the business men right here in our home community.

The National Business College is a West Texas institution; the man at the head of it, Mr. G. E. Lawson, is a worth-while citizen who commands the respect of all who know him; his school is ably conducted with a corps of high class instructors and students are given thorough knowledge in the course which they elect to pursue.

Why is it that we insist upon sending our boys and girls to far away places when they could get as good training, perhaps better in some ways nearer home? Let's build up our home institutions of learning while we are building industrially and commercially, and make them the successful institutions they are worthy to be as well as give them a chance to add to the glory of West Texas.

SOMETHING NEW.

In the five reel comedy, "Married Life," Mack Sennet presents to the public a different line of stunts than that of the usual type of comedy. This is a big comedy on a big scale and will remain in your memory forever.

Many people in Colorado will remember the comedy "Down on the Farm," as presented by the Best Theatre as being a true work of art. "Married Life" is a picture produced by the same company. The experience gained by the former production has all been blended into the latter with such great results that we do not hesitate to say that this is the greatest five reel comedy ever produced.

In this picture you will see Ben Turpin, the cross-eyed comedian, who has won the whole world's instant approval. He can get a big laugh out of the most commonplace event and it is this blended with simplicity which makes this picture take its place with others as the greatest of the day.

It is only with difficulty that the small town exhibitor can get a playing date on such new and wonderful productions as "Married Life" and those within that territory should certainly feel it a privilege to see this picture. And the Best Theatre will feel justified in bringing such a picture to Colorado by your liberal patronage, without which it cannot operate.

Ben Turpin, the cross-eyed comedian, grew very nervous when he found out that his deadliest enemy was to operate on him at the Best Friday and Saturday.

SUPPORT THE DEVELOPERS.

The development of operators in the Mitchell county territory has now reached a stage wherein success in surmounting the prevalent stringency depends very much upon the moral support of the people. The fact that all three wells already completed in the county have penetrated an oil bearing sand and that two of them are producing under the pump today and the other, though never given a thorough test, promises to become considerably the best well of all when cleaned, should be sufficient to cause every citizen of the city and county to be optimistic in the belief that a big commercial field will be developed here if drilling is continued at the present wells already started and at new locations to be made in the future.

Complaint has been made to the Chamber of Commerce and The Record that some interests who are apparently much interested in the development of this field are at times making of themselves the source of reports concerning some of the wells that may be construed as being in opposition to moral support. These reports have not yet been confirmed by either the Chamber of Commerce nor The Record, and we trust that our informant was erroneously advised in making them. The Record would regret very much to know that such a policy was being fostered. We would warn against the harmful results to come through such a policy if it be entertained. The success of the Mitchell county field depends, just as much upon the reception given operators who bring their capital here, perhaps, as upon any other agency, for ultimate success.

According to data compiled by the Chamber of Commerce, one half million dollars have been expended in this territory by the several interests who have either drilled wells or alone acquired acreage in the county since the first wild cat project was started a few months ago. There is barely an interest in Mitchell county that has failed to profit directly or indirectly as a result of this money, representing the cash of foreign capital, being placed in circulation. The business and professional interests of Colorado, Loraine and Westbrook, have certainly profited because of this and who can ascertain the real worth this foreign capital has been to the land owners of the county, who, through the consummation of lease sales, have profited. There are land owners in this county who were in arrears in meeting deferred payments on their property until the developer came to his assistance with cash offered and paid in exchange of lease rights. There are other citizens who were assisted in meeting varied obligations from the same source.

In consideration of the most promising outlook for success to come through continued drilling in Mitchell county field, augmented by the material worth already realized to the county through expenditure of a half million dollars in cash brought into the county by outside interests, is there any consistency for withdrawal of at least our moral support from any worthy developer. We need this outside money and it will most assuredly come quicker and in larger quantities if welcomed by the people with outstretched arms. Stay with the men who are banking their finances on the success of this field. Their success will mean the success of yourself.

"LEAD KINDLY LIGHT."

"Ah, now I was to know the great secret. For forty years I had been wondering, wondering."

Former Secretary Lane's dying message to the world will be quoted probably long after his most brilliant words of strictly earthly import have been forgotten, though he had said and wrote many things relating to the affairs of this life worthy of remembrance, both for eloquence and exalted wisdom. But his deathbed valedictory touches a note of universal human concern, which is sounding in every human heart, from the time he has shot the exciting rapids of early manhood to old age—a note sometimes overpowered by the struggle and the turmoil of daily interests, passions and ambitions, but always returning to make him "wonder, wonder," what it all means. At last he reaches the point where, as Mr. Lane expressed it, he realizes that he shall soon "know the great secret."

A mystery story is life, in which life must end before we know the answer, and finally this answer becomes the chief thought in our "strange and eventful history." It is the platform of a common fate on which a great scientist, like Sir Oliver Lodge, meets the most ignorant of men. Different men face the "great secret," differently, but for all it is at last the central interest. Some confront it with the apparent jaunty indifference of the American soldiers who encountered death during the World War singing, "Where do we go from here," some with the dignity and philosophy of ex-Secretary Lane, and some with bravado and assumed skepticism, but nearly all, nevertheless, "wondering, wondering." The appeal in the last words of Mr. Lane is in their frank revelation of a feeling that belongs to nearly the whole brotherhood of mankind.

However, there are some to whom it is given not to wonder, but to believe; for whom faith has performed the perfect and triumphant miracle of conviction. Those are the real multimillionaires of life, the owners of the pearl beyond price. Most of us, no matter how much we may profess, still continue to wonder and wonder, to "accept," as courageously as may be, what is to come, to hope that a "kindly light" may lead us to a more kindly sphere. It is the touch of nature in the last literary will and testament of Mr. Lane that makes it so akin to the feeling of the ordinary man; that makes it a human document of lasting interest. It is because complete faith is so rare and so difficult that it is so exalted and lauded in the New Testament. Faith is a miracle worker, indeed. It moves mountains into the sea, it commands the winds and waves, so far as the mind and soul of the faithful are concerned.

But there is consolation for those who can only "wonder" in the cry of the honest doubter, "I believe, help thou mine unbelief." The great American, who was not an American of the full blood, voiced something of this honest doubt and pleading hope when in his last moment he cried out, "Lead Kindly Light."

THE SLACKER LIST.

From the National capital comes the information that soldiers slacker list will be published throughout the United States, in that the public may know the identity of those who are registered as showing a yellow streak and running away when their country called them into service during the recent war. Representative newspaper men of the country recently met and discussed this matter, and, according to their findings, the war department has made many errors in compiling the slacker list. A part of the report made by these men, received this week by The Record, follows:

MEMORIAL DAY

I have a lover in the fields of France,
Where larks still sing and scarlet poppies wave.
There let him lie—I ask not his return
That my poor grief may tend a lonely grave.

There let him lie, among his comrades all,
In the world's common sepulchre and shrine;
The trysting-place of every nation's heart;
And let the common sorrow hallow mine.

But let me plant beside his resting-place,
Where fleur-de-lis and scarlet poppies nod,
A bit of beauty from his native land—
The yellow glory of our golden-rod.

There Belgium's bloom and Italy's fragrance blend;
There shamrock buds and purple heather grows;
There the fair lilies of the fields of France
Grow side by side with England's beautiful rose.

There, with the whispering maples and the pines,
With cypress black and fragrant laurel bloom,
The evening winds with gentle rapture blend
The breath of wattle and the southern broom.

O ask me not to take my love away—
We should be lonely for the fields of France.

—The Landmark

"Including the names of valiant ex-servicemen among the list of the slackers leads unbiased people to suspect that the persons who kept the records should head the list. These lists sent out by the war department have been found to be so unreliable the press of the country hesitates to publish them until the record of each man has been carefully traced.

"If the records of the war department and the draft boards have been so loosely kept as to be largely unreliable, then the editorial fraternity is quite justified in refusing to publish the names of alleged draft evaders until information can be supplied from a source that is dependable.

"It is better to let a hundred guilty men escape than to publicly humiliate one innocent veteran."

Until such time when The Record has every assurance that the war department slacker list is authentic, we shall refuse to give these official reports space in our columns. We are not announcing this policy through any desire to shield anyone who was a slacker from the public scorn to which he is so much entitled, but in compliance with a policy to publish only accurate reports concerning a matter so grave as this.

That a slacker list should be in the hands of the public, The Record does not deny. We are quick to accede that such should be. And in the "slacker list" we would not stop at those who refused to enter military service. There are a number of others, among them profiteers, that merit a similar classification.

The seven veterans of the Civil War who were honor guests at the Memorial Day exercises at the First Methodist church Sunday afternoon added by their presence an air of sacred solemnity to the program that carried its message, though silently, to all those who thronged the auditorium and galleries of the building. Those old veterans, who fifty-six years ago heard the bugle call of the Southern Confederacy for the last time, constitute the last of the thinning ranks of the champions of Dixie who quite soon will respond to the last bugle call and muster in the celestial camp in the Great Beyond. The beautiful tribute paid these men by Dr. Hardison in his address and all that The Record might say in commemoration of what they have done for society of the Southland like a spent arrow shot at the stars, falls short of the mark. Facing hardships and privations untold by the writers of history and unappreciated to a great extent by those of us who are today enjoying the superior advantages of advanced civilization throughout the South, these men have become more brave and chivalrous as the years came and passed into history in that they might contribute their part in the roll of making the country what it is today. These men are entitled to the largest degree of reverence and gratitude that it is possible for us to bestow.

The Sweetwater Reporter is a strong champion of those interests at Sweetwater who desire to have Sunday baseball endorsed by the public of that city. The Record, knowing the sterling qualities of Mayor Geo. Sheppard and the members of his commission, was not surprised that an ordinance had been passed there prohibiting Sunday baseball soon after announcement was made for the first time that such was planned by the management of the Sweetwater Baseball club. Sheppard, however, is a democrat, and when a petition, signed by the fans of Sweetwater who favored such a policy of Sabbath desecration, requesting that the ordinance be submitted to a referendum vote of the people, was filed with the city secretary, issued a proclamation calling for the election, which is to be held on June 16th. The Record has no doubt that this election will demonstrate to the Sweetwater Reporter that its policies in this instance, as was demonstrated in former instances are not in keeping with the policies of the sterling citizenship of Sweetwater.

The Record is proud of the progressive citizenry constituting the voters of this city and adjacent territory, comprising the Colorado Independent School District, as evidenced by the overwhelming adoption of the school bonds in the election Thursday of last week. And we have every reason to believe that the proposed bond election for consummating a project to dam Lone Wolf Creek and to lay a sewer system in the city will be supported by even a more decisive majority. The people of this city are progressive and desire to cooperate in a program calling for a greater and more desirable Colorado.

You cannot dream yourself into a character; you must hammer and forge yourself into one.

DESERVED RECOGNITION

The fact that churches are more and more coming to a realization of the value of the services rendered by competent, consecrated leaders is evidenced almost daily. A true capable minister is not only a valuable asset to a church, but also to a community and it is always a sign of a healthy moral situation when a board of stewards or deacons leads out in seeing that a proper salary is paid to a religious leader or teacher who faithfully discharges his duties. The First Methodist church of Abilene in voting to pay their pastor, Dr. J. G. Miller, $3600 a year, a raise of $600, showed by deeds that that church appreciates the work of this splendid preacher and religious leader, and the friends of Dr. Miller, both in his church and out of it, rejoice in the recognition thus accorded him. Dr. Miller is having a fine year with his church.—Abilene Reporter.

San Marcos has just celebrated with proper municipal pride and pomp the completion of a seven-acre municipal camp ground for automobile tourists, which reminds us that Judge C. H. Earnest recently authorized the statement that he would contribute free of cost a suitable tract of land adjoining Lone Wolf Creek on the eastern outskirts of the city to be used as a camp site for tourists, provided the property should be properly improved. Lubbock has an attractive tourists camp and so do many other progressive West Texas towns that are going after the tourists traffic. What are we going to do about this?

The Record predicts the election of Judge Barker to the State Senate in the special election throughout the 28th Senatorial district Saturday. Of the thirty-six newspapers published in the district, it is said that not one of them is actively supporting the candidacy of Judge Burkett, the other aspirant for the vacant seat. And observation has taught us that the country newspapers are as a rule generally lined up on the right side of issues political, as well as commercial, economic, educational and religious.

William J. Bryan hit the ball the other day when he declared that "no drunkard should be appointed to enforce our prohibition laws because he can not decide between their oath of office and their appetite."

HOW THEY STAND ON MINIMUM WAGE QUESTION

A letter was recently written to Judge Barker of Cisco by Mrs. J. Spiller, of Sweetwater, chairman of minimum wage committee, 121 representative district, reminding him of the fact that the survey Texas by the Minimum Wage Commission showed that seventy-five per cent of the women workers of Texas are receiving less in wages than they have to pay for living expenses, and he was asked the following questions:

"Do you believe in the minimum wage law for women based upon the actual cost of living in each community?"

"If you are elected to the state senate will you support a bill which will provide for a minimum wage for women and minors based only upon the bare cost of living as ascertained by the proper commission after investigation?"

Judge Barker sent the following telegram:

"Am in hearty sympathy with legislation protecting the women and children. A practical bill on outline you suggest would receive my support"

A similar letter was addressed to Judge Joe Burkett and answered by his secretary who enclosed a copy of Mr. Burkett's platform containing the following statement:

"I stand for a workable minimum wage law for women and children in all establishments working more than a limited number."

The above correspondence was made public in a letter received by The Record from Mrs. Spiller Tuesday.

Are you reading the advertisements carried in The Record by the Baptist, Christian, Presbyterian, and Methodist Sunday schools of Colorado? These four Sunday schools are united in a campaign to interest the citizenship of this community in the influence of the Sunday school. The officers and teachers of these four churches represented, are working hand in hand in this campaign. They are not suggesting that you become identified with any particular Sunday school, but rather, cordially extending together the invitation that you join the Sunday school of your choice. Whatever your church affiliation or preference may be, you should join the Sunday school of that church. We need you, and you need the social and Christian atmosphere of the school. Come to Sunday school next Sunday morning. You will be given a welcome and caused to recognize the fact that we desire you to become one of us.

There is not a location in the entire State of Texas that will produce more and better sweet potatoes than the sandy and shinnery belts of Mitchell county. The sweet spud is also one of the surest crops ever grown in this county. Farmers who have for several years planted an acreage to this crop have found in the sweet potato a sure return as a big dividend payer. The only trouble is the marketing problem. Colorado should commence now plans for building a large potato curing plant before another year and cooperate with the farmers of Mitchell county in a policy to grow sweet potatoes to eat at home and sell abroad.

Twelve trainloads of Illinois farmers journeyed to Springfield to protest against passage of a measure which they claim would interfere with the marketing of their grain. Wonder what the farmers are going to do about the truck tax law soon to become effective in Texas? This law does not only indirectly affect the farmer in hauling his produce to market, but either directly or indirectly affects every other interest except the railroads. S. D. Wood, local operator of service trucks, stated recently that his tax would deduct three dollars out of his pocket for every trip one of his machines made to Sweetwater and return. "And it would cost me ten cents in taxation every time I drove home to dinner and back to the office," he added.

Prayers and Pugilism.

First Small Brother—An' please bless Willie, an' make him less quarrelsome, Amen.

Second Small Brother—Say, you start knocking me to God an' I'll paste ye in the eye.—Life

And It Is.

Say buddy do you remember when we were over there, they used to tell us that when we got back, nothing would be too good for us? "Sure, what about it?" "Well, they told the truth."

Judge J D Barker of Cisco, Texas, Announces His Candidacy for Senator of the 28th Senatorial District

"To the Voters of the 28th Senatorial District: "I take this method of soliciting your support in the coming election on June 4th, at which time the vacancy caused by the resignation of Senator Jno. A. Russell will be filled.

"To those who do not know me, I will state that I am a native Texan, born in Collin County forty-four years ago. In 1899 I made my home in Fisher County. For the last three years I have resided at Cisco, Eastland County.

"I know the needs of West Texas; I know the people of the West—their hopes and aspirations. The time has come when the West should assert herself, when she should demand justice in the solution of her pressing social, economic and industrial problems; when she should demand less of politics and more of plain business and common sense; when she should demand leaders who know the needs and are capable of giving her adequate representation.

"MY OPPONENT.

"What can West Texas gain by electing my opponent to the office of senator? He is now representative from this district, and has the same opportunity to serve the people in the house as in the senate. He has refused to resign from his present office. Should one man try to hog all offices in the district at one time?

"If he should be elected, he would have to resign from the office of representative. The special session is called for July. After June 4th it will be almost impossible to elect a man to fill such a vacancy and West Texas will be minus a representative during that important session. And, God knows, she will need every vote she can get at that critical time, when so many issues will arise that will vitally concern her interests.

SOME PROPOSALS FAVORED.

All measures designed to advance the rural free schools and of the entire public school system.

Immediate re-districting of the representative and senatorial districts of Texas.

A well equipped West Texas Agricultural and Mechanical College, with all political appendages removed.

An amendment to the suspended sentence law, with the aim of restricting its use and preventing its abuse.

Protection of our citizenship from criminality by more rigorous enforcement of the present law, rather than by multiplying the number of laws.

Economy in state government by the elimination of unnecessary officials and by the consolidation of duplicating departments.

In view of the fact that West Texas practically donated the capitol building to the state and built the asylum for the blind, by contributing its fertile prairies, and that she has given thousands of acres to the railroads of the state, at the same time, she has borne an unequal share of the burden of taxation, I THEREFORE FAVOR A MORE UNIFORM TAX LAW THAT WILL RELIEVE WEST TEXAS FROM THE PRESENT UNEQUAL BURDEN.

Immediate and substantial relief for all soldiers wounded or otherwise incapacitated during the World War.

If elected I will concentrate my untiring efforts to the policy of less politics and more business in the administration of government and strive sincerely to forward the interests of the farmer, laborer, stockman and business man, to the end that all classes may have a part in developing the unlimited resources of the West and of the entire state.

Sincerely yours,

J. D. BARKER.

Judge Barker is Endorsed by Bar

TO THE VOTERS OF THE 28TH SENATORIAL DISTRICT OF TEXAS:

We, the undersigned attorneys of the Cisco bar, take this method of expressing our approval and endorsement of the candidacy of Judge J. D. Barker, of Cisco, as the logical man to fill the responsible position of state senator of our district. He is an upright and exemplary citizen, a sound lawyer of broad judicial experience, and is a man qualified in every respect to represent the people of West Texas in the senate. Having resided in this district since 1899, he is thoroughly conversant with the industrial and economic problems of the West, and will be a fearless advocate of her legitimate legislative requirements, yet sane and conservative in procuring and presenting those measures which will best subserve the demands of our section and of the entire state.

OUT BUFORD WAY.

When we were talking of showers in last week issue of The Record, we did not mean "showers of hail," but we like to have had a hail storm. If raring counts for anything, we had a very narrow escape, and we learn that northeast of us some 30 or 40 miles in Fisher county, folks were hailed out. Sweetwater got some hail, and a good rain out of the same cloud.

We learn that Grandpa McGuire is not doing as well as was expected, and he and Mrs. Holt are to return home at once. Tom McGuire of Hillsboro, visited his father while in McKinney.

Mr. John Biggs and family from up in Scurry county, west of Snyder, and Mr. and Mrs. Biggs, from East Texas visited in the A D Powell home Sunday. Both men are brothers of Mr. Powell.

These good folks were visiting in our Sunday school and we were very glad to have them. Mr. John Biggs has been a Sunday school superintendent for a number of years, and we had the best report of the year. 103 present and quite a lot of interest in Bible reading.

Several questions of community and Sunday school interest were settled. The committee reported on the work done on the church building, and as a result half wire is over the most of the windows and they are well protected. Also some other of needed work is being done.

"GRIT."

Grit is a most valuable possession. It's hanging on with a determination that needs no bounds. It's holding down your job at any cost, in the very face of difficulties. Grit enables you to overcome obstacles and score a success. To say you have grit, is to say you are already a success. It means that you are a stickler and not a quitter, and that you get up every time you fall and go at it again with a greater determination to win. It takes grit to hang on until it thunders; but that's what you'll do if you have plenty of it. The man of grit never whines, grumbles or thinks his task is hard. He not only believes, but knows he can do anything that anybody else can do.

Do your best. Throw life, energy, enthusiasm and zeal into your effort. Concentrate your mind, heart and soul on your work. You can do anything that can be done by any one else if you will go at it with a determination that needs no bounds. The business world is full of people who fail because they halfway do things. Half-hearted effort means failure. Most failures come from people who go at their work in a half hearted manner. Success comes from hitting hard and shooting straight. Are you going to do this? It is up to you to decide.

THE BUSY MAN'S CREED.

I believe in the stuff I am handling out, in the firm I am working for; and in my ability to get results; I believe that honest stuff can be passed to honest man by honest methods. I believe in working, not weeping; in boosting, not knocking; and in the pleasure of my job. I believe a man gets what he goes after, that one deed today is worth two deeds tomorrow, and that no man is down and out until he has lost faith in himself. I believe in today and the work I am doing, in tomorrow and the work I hope to do, and in the sure reward which the future holds. I believe in courtesy, in kindness, in generosity, in good cheer, in friendship and in honest competition. I believe there is something doing somewhere for every man ready to do it. I believe I'm ready—RIGHT NOW!

The Man Who is Too Late.

When I was a lad, not so very old, I learned things could be had, without silver or gold. But it takes a Man, as true as can be, To offer a sacrifice, and sacrifice for thee. And then through this world's pleasure, The joy of life we may see. Then when we come to the other world, What will be our plea? Then we have realized the mistake we have made, And the pleasures of the world Was all but naught and vain, Now, wake up and be a man, Be a brave man and true, When you come to the Pearly Gate, He will surely let you through. —Marvin Smith.

TRIED AND TRUE RECIPES

Devils Food Cake.

Cream together one and one-half cups sugar and one-half cup butter; add one-half cup grated chocolate dissolved in one-half cup boiling water; yolks of two eggs; half a cup sour milk; dissolve teaspoon of soda in same; two and one-half cups flour sifted three times; whites of two eggs; flavor.

Filling for Cake:—Two cups sugar; one cup sweet milk; two squares chocolate; lump of butter. Stir while cooking; flavoring. Try by heating a little in a saucer until it cools.

MRS. D. J. MOSS.

One Egg Cake.

One egg; one cup of sugar; one heaping tablespoon butter; one cup sweet milk; one teaspoon baking powder and two cups sifted flour; flavoring.

Fruit Cake.

One pound brown flour; one and one-fourth pound butter; ten eggs; one and one-half pounds brown sugar; two pounds raisins; two pounds currants; one-half citron; one pound almonds; one pound English walnuts; one teaspoon cloves; one pint brandy; one fresh coconut if liked; dates, cherries.

Apple Sauce Cake.

One cup sugar; one-half cup butter; one and one-half cups apple sauce, sweetened; one cup raisins; one-half cup nuts; two cups flour; one cup strawberry preserves; one teaspoon cinnamon; one teaspoon nutmeg; one-half teaspoon cloves; two teaspoons soda. Splendid substitute for fruit cake.

MRS. M. Y. WILSON.

Apple Sauce Cake.

One cup brown sugar; one-fourth cup butter; one-fourth cup lard mixed; one and one-half cups apple sauce mashed with potato masher and put with sugar (fresh apples are better); one and one-half cups flour; one level teaspoon of soda; one teaspoon of cinnamon; add one-half cup raisins; one-half cup of nuts; one-half cup of dates, with flour mixture and mix. Bake slow.

MRS. H. S. ARNETT

Jam Cake

Five eggs; one cup butter; two cups sugar; four cups flour; one cup jam; one cup buttermilk; one pound raisins; one pound shelled pecans; one teaspoon soda; one teaspoon baking powder; spices of all kind.

Lemon Filling.

One cup sugar; yolks of three eggs; grated rind and juice of one large lemon; one tablespoon butter. Cook until it thickens; when cool spread between layers.

Angel Food Cake.

One cup flour (put nearly half of this corn starch); one and one-fourth cups sugar, sifted; one cup egg whites; one rounding teaspoon cream of tartar; one-fourth teaspoon salt; one-half teaspoon lemon extract; one-half teaspoon vanilla extract. Put salt and cream of tartar in egg whites and beat until very light. Measure flour and sugar separately, before and after sifting. Sift flour five times. Use only fresh, cool eggs. In summer it is best to place them on ice for a little while before using. Fill measuring cup by using a small scoop or tablespoon; do not shake down or pack the flour or sugar. After you have eggs beaten light and all other ingredients ready, fold sugar in egg whites gradually, with wooden spoon. Add flavoring, then fold in flour gradually. Do not stir, use only folding motions. Do not shake cake down as you put it in pan, but handle as gently as possible. Use a pan with stem. Bake in slow oven until cake has risen to its fullest height, then increase the heat for ten minutes, then decrease the heat for fifteen minutes. Bake an hour in all. When done let hang in pan until cool by placing upside down on three cups.

MRS. MAT MEADOR.

Macedoine Mold.

One and a half teaspoons gelatine; two tablespoons cold water; one and one-third cups hot chicken stock; one-fourth cup vinegar; cayenne; six hard-boiled eggs; one and a half cups chopped cucumber; one cup chopped cold chicken; salt. Soak gelatine in cold water and dissolve in hot chicken stock. Add vinegar and season highly with salt and cayenne. Put in center of individual molds a slice of hard boiled egg. Cover with a layer of egg, chopped, and a layer of chicken, mostly white meat. Pour over this the stock; chill thoroughly; remove from molds and garnish with heart leaves of lettuce. Serve with boiled salad dressing, or Russian dressing. Celery may be substituted for cucumbers.

Dark Cake.

Three or four eggs; two cups sugar; three cups flour; one-half cup butter; one cup milk; one package mince meat; one cup cocoa and two and one-half teaspoons of baking powder. Makes three large layers and is delicious with this filling.

Filling For Dark Cake

Two cups sugar; one-half cup cocoa; one cup sweet milk; two large spoons of butter. Let cook until it forms a soft ball in glass of cold water, then take from the stove and set in a pan of cold water until it is almost cold, take a large spoon and beat until it creams and sets light. Have ready a cup of nuts and mix as you beat it. Spread it between the cake before it gets cold. This does not turn back to sugar. It also makes a delicious candy.

MRS. W. W. GREEN

Devils Food Cake.

Two eggs; two cups sugar; one cup butter; one cup buttermilk; one teaspoon soda dissolved in milk; one-third cake chocolate dissolved in cup of hot water; three and one-half cups flour; two teaspoons vanilla.

Memorial Services.

The Methodist church was filled to its fullest capacity Sunday afternoon for the Memorial service, which was short but sweet and impressive.

The following program was given: Invocation Rev. Richardson.

Music, by Band.

Reading, Miss Baird.

Duet, "Star Spangled Banner," by Miss Thompson and Mr. Norman.

Reading, Miss Hunnanco.

Vocal solo, Mrs. W. R. Martin.

Tribute to Tim Garland, Charlie Thompson.

Piano Solo, Miss McCowan.

Benediction.

The Legion boys led the procession to the cemetery, where the graves of the soldiers of the recent war and the past were especially decorated; also other graves were remembered.

At The Fine Home.

J. S. Fine, who resides in East Loraine, has one pear tree that in 1919 brought one hundred and ten dollars from the sale of its fruit. Mr. Fine and daughter have grown some very beautiful flowers and splendid vegetables and fruits by their cultivation at their home. Both have realized some nice sums from their gardens. Why can't we have more of such in Loraine?

Sunday School Picnic.

Saturday, Mesdames Jim and Frank Johnson, Hutchins and Hester took their Sunday school classes of boys and girls down to Pecan Grove in Looney pasture. There were forty-some-odd present, and a jolly time of fishing, eating and making merry was spent. B. Walker took them on his truck.

At The Jacksons.

The hospitable home of A. M. Jackson was thrown open to Rev. M. F. Richardson and family, J. S. Jackson and family, R. E. and Hal Bennett, and wives and E. P. Phillips and family of Arizona. Mrs. Jackson, assisted by Mrs. R. E. Bennett, served a most appetizing spread of good home grown vegetables, meats and fruit.

Senior Play.

The Seniors went down to Roscoe Monday evening and put on their play "Mary's Millions." They report a good house and a nice sum netted.

The Ball Game.

Colorado came down Tuesday afternoon and played Loraine. A big crowd witnessed the game, but Colorado won. The score was 13 to 7.

Claude Munns and wife, Mrs. Bara Haney and children, Miss Irene Garland, were here Sunday for the memorial service.

R. W. Weatherby, a ranchman of Big Lake, was a Sunday guest in the Judge Stevenson home.

Misses Myrtle Newton and Grace Burruss left this week for San Marcos where they will attend school.

Mrs. Mattie Nace arrived Tuesday from Plainview and is a guest in the S. D. Dunnahoo home.

Miss Gussie Christian of Big Spring who has frequently visited here has gone to Laburge, Wyoming, where she will teach an eight months term of school.

Judge J. H. Barker of Cisco, who is in the senatorial race, spoke on the streets to a number of citizens Monday afternoon. He was a guest in the Hiram Toler home while here.

H. C. Griffith had the misfortune to lose a fine young colt Tuesday, on account of the extreme heat.

Alfred Ritchie has treated his residence to a new coat of paint.

Alonzo Phillips and family visited relatives in Roscoe Sunday.

W. F. Altman received a fine box of peaches Sunday sent to him by his wife. They were grown at his home in Arlington.

Miss Lois Coon Sundayed in Abilene.

Mrs. S. A. Farris and children of Sweetwater spent the week end with her parents, S. M. Hallmark and wife.

Friends of Mrs. S. A. Dees will regret to know that their little grandson, John Durst is quite ill at Ranger.

Mrs. C. C. Coffee attended Methodist convention at Quanah as a representative for the W. M. S., Sr., the earlier part of the week.

Harvey Munns will go to Knox City where he will have charge of a ball team.

Wm. Richards and wife are entertaining another granddaughter, Cutia Louise, who was born to Homer Richards and wife on the 28th.

H. H. Carroll and D. K. Nelson, A. Foy, Rowland Hall, are on an auto trip to Devil's River and to places in South Texas.

Rev. Jennings of Slaton held services Sunday morning at the Cumberland church.

Friends here of Mrs. Callie Perry of Roscoe will regret to hear of her recent accident. She fell on a trunk and broke two of her ribs.

Little Mary Louise Toler has scarlet fever at her home in Sweetwater.

Friends of Bertice Perry and family will learn with interest that they have returned from New Mexico to make their home at Roscoe. His sister Miss Anna Joe will attend school at Alpine this summer.

Miss Ethel Mann of Colorado was here for a few hours Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Lee of Daugherty visited in the home of Mrs. Velma Allwalt, the earlier part of the week.

Mesdames Allie M. Erwin and sister, B. F. Myers of Kansas, visited in San Angelo Tuesday.

Mrs. J. H. Munns accompanied her son Claude and wife home to Roscoe Sunday returning Tuesday with her son, Harvey, who will be here for a few days.

News comes from Ross Gregg and family that they have reached Los Angeles, Calif., and are delighted with the place.

LONE STAR.

Some of the farmers are through work until it rains.

Bro. Jones of Westbrook, the Christian preacher, preached Saturday night and Sunday at the school house.

The B. Y. P. U. met Sunday afternoon for the first time. Bro. Greene was with us. A short program was rendered after which the business part was taken up. It was decided to just meet every two weeks. We expect to do better when we get our literature. Mr. and Mrs. Donas Dunlap of Loraine were also with us.

Miss Lillian Porter is visiting relatives at Sweetwater and Abilene.

Oscar Moore and family of Sweetwater visited in the Richardson home Sunday, Pearl Richardson returning home with them to spend the week.

Willie Harris had a sudden attack of appendicitis Sunday morning and was carried to Abilene Sunday night for an operation.

P. A. Davis, wife and daughter, Linnie, of the Bauman community, visited in the W. E. Williams home Sunday.

Eddie Richburg was a dinner guest of Pearl and Florence Richardson on last Sunday.

William Martin and family and Wade Preston and family were the guests of Norvil Richburg and wife Sunday.

E. J. Dunlap and family of Sweetwater spent Monday night with Gray Taylor and wife.

Charley Hamilton and wife were guests of William Martin Saturday night.

A few from here attended the meeting at Loraine Saturday and Sunday night.

Annie Mae Porter was a dinner guest of Willie Harris Sunday.

Emma Darden and Estelle Davie were dinner guests of Lillie Richburg Sunday.

Sanford Fraser and family spent Friday night at the home of his brother at Champion.

HORN SCHOOL NOTES.

Here we are again, after a brief rest. Everything is beginning to look dry and dull in this part of the country.

Logan Allison was bitten by a rattlesnake Thursday morning, while working in the field. He is doing nicely at this writing.

Mr. and Mrs. Robison and son J. C. of Westbrook, visited with Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Gross Sunday.

Mrs. Ben Horn visited with her daughter, Mrs. T. J. Robison Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Horn and son, Tom were among the ones to spend the day at Westbrook Monday helping to clean up the graveyard.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Moore spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Moore.

The Sunday school is still in progress. Our contest begins Sunday, with Miss Cora Roddy captain of the reds, and Mrs. C. R. Gross of the blues.

Mr. J. H. Humphrey will furnish special music next Sunday.

UNION HAPPENINGS.

This time was real when Rev. W. C. Hart appeared on the ground at Union Sunday morning and delivered one of his masterful sermons. His subject was "Christian Education." It was uplifting, edifying instructing, and to many of us served as an abuse or reprimand to our neglect or careless way of doing and thinking. Rev. Terrell was also present with a message but withheld it in favor of Rev. Hart.

Our children's day program has been changed from an all day service to a night service, owing to the fact that our cooks have the responsibility of practically all the preparation for the day, and they didn't want to be overtaxed. Everybody concerned take notice and lend us your hearty cooperation, and write the word sympathy instead of criticism.

The weather is very dry, crops are suffering. Some cotton is dying for the want of moisture. Generally speaking, feed crops are doing fairly well and mingling with the illustrious living of our community. I hear the doleful sound of "I'm trying to make more of my living at home. The most of our people have hogs, chickens, turkeys, etc., and we country people are getting more eggs to eat than common, and some to sell at what we think to be an inferior price, but I guess no one is to blame for it. And I think now is a good time to offer a suggestion to the general public. I see no valid reason why the Farm Bureau and the Chamber of Commerce couldn't work in conjunction with each other and establish a cold storage room of some sort for the protection of the country people in securing a reasonable price for their surplus eggs and other perishable products and to insure the town of a bountiful supply at all times and under all circumstances. Now in conclusion I am glad to note that the general health is good and all things in general are on the up-grade.

OBITUARY.

J. D. (Jeff) Falkner, the subject of this sketch was born in Georgia in 1861, and died at his home near Spade, Texas, May 10th, 1921. It is not so much the object of the writer to record the birth and death of this my good neighbor as it is to say something as to his life.

Brother Jeff Falkner has been my nearest neighbor for about 20 years. Of all the good men that I have known I never knew a better man than Jeff Falkner. As to his relation to his family, I observed that he was a good and faithful husband, a kind and indulgent father. As a citizen he always stood and worked for everything that was good and against everything that was against the best interests of his country. He did not weigh greatness by dollars and cents, but by their moral worth. In speaking of men or propositions he always thought the matter over carefully before expressing his opinion. But I feel that his citizenship would not have been complete without the chivalrous graces which he possessed. He was converted under Major W. E. Pen and joined the Missionary Baptist church at Spring Creek Baptist church, Bosque County, Texas, and lived a true and consecrated Christian to the end of his life.

He and Miss Fannie E. Everett, daughter of Mr. A. S. and Mary Everett, in Bosque County were married. To this union was born eight children, five girls and three boys. B. A. Falkner of Spade, Mrs. Etta Farris and Mrs. Pearl Woodrough of Oklahoma, Miss Linnie and Miss Inez and J. D. Jr., living with their mother. One son is dead, buried at Colorado.

APPRECIATES STAND OF THE RECORD ON BASEBALL

Phelan, Texas, May 28, 1921 Colorado Record, Colorado, Texas. Dear Sirs:—In your paper of May 27 I notice an article in which you state you refused to publish and ad about Sunday baseball. I, for one reader, wish to let you know that I appreciate your stand in the matter and I am sure all good Christians and Sabbath observing people heartily endorse your action, and every one should subscribe to your paper in appreciation for your noble stand. Yours truly, G. R. LEACH.

SPECIAL EDITION REFLECTS WEST TEXAS DEVELOPMENT

The "New Home Edition" of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, issued on Sunday was perhaps the most elaborate edition of a metropolitan daily paper ever issued in Texas. The edition was in commemoration of the new million dollar home of the Star-Telegram, at Seventh and Taylor Streets, Fort Worth, recently occupied by the publishers, the Wortham-Carter Publishing Company. The edition weighed three pounds and it contained sections depicting the commercial, agricultural, livestock, automobile, oil, educational, religious and other items in the marvelous progress of Fort Worth and West Texas. In the pictorial section of the edition, pictures of scenes at Seven Wells, beauty spot near Colorado, were shown. This makes the second time this year that the Fort Worth Star-Telegram has carried pictures of this place, among the leading scenic attractions in West Texas. Col. Louis J. Wortham, president and editor, Ammon G. Carter, vice president and general manager, and their force of more than two hundred associates and employees are to be congratulated upon the wonderful success attained by the Star-Telegram. From the old "Fort Worth Star," with a small circulation, the paper has grown to the largest circulation of any paper in the state and is housed in one of the finest and best equipped newspaper plants South of the Mason and Dixon line.

FROM THE REMOTEST PARTS OF THE GLOBE

Tanlac Elements Come From Many Lands Far Away From Here.

The ingredients from which the celebrated medicine Tanlac is made, come from remote sections of the old earth, and are transported thousands of miles over land and sea to the great Tanlac Laboratories at Dayton, Ohio, and Walkerville, Canada.

The Alps, Appenines, Pyrenees, Russian-Asia, Brazil, West Indies, the Rocky Mountains, Persia, India, Mexico, Columbia and Peru are all among the far away points from which the principal properties of this remarkable preparation are obtained.

What is said to be the largest pharmaceutical laboratory in the entire United States has been completed at Dayton, Ohio, for the manufacture of Tanlac which, according to recent reports, is now having the largest sale of any medicine of its kind in the world; over 20,000,000 bottles having been sold in six years.

The new plant occupies 60,000 square feet of floor space and has a daily capacity of 50,000 bottles. Uniform quality is guaranteed by a series of careful inspections by expert chemists from the time the roots, the herbs, bark and flowers are received in their rough state from all parts of the globe until their medicinal properties have been extracted by the most approved processes. The finished medicine is then bottled, labeled and shipped out to tens of thousands of druggists throughout the United States and Canada to supply the demand never before equalled by this, or any other medicine. Tanlac is sold in Colorado by W. R. Charters.

HUMOR OF BOYS

“MY next door neighbor has a boy who is going to get into trouble if he doesn't reform,” said the retired merchant. “He's always playing idiotic tricks on me, and I'm getting tired of it. This morning, as I was leaving home, I found my front gate nailed shut, and I had to climb over it, and nearly broke my back doing it.”

“I wouldn't give three cents for a boy who didn't play tricks,” replied the hotel-keeper. “I expect you were as giddy as the rest of them when you were young. Whenever a boy puts up a job on me, and I feel myself getting mad, I recall some of my own exploits when I was a lad, and that enables me to forget my troubles.”

“I was looking through an ancient album last evening, and saw the pictures of a lot of people who fell off the earth many years ago. They were venerable men and women in my school days, and I had played tricks on every one of them; not with malice aforethought, but just because a kid must have his fun.

“There was a picture of old Aunt Betsy, who used to come to our house once in a while, on a visit, and as soon as she came she took charge of everything. She knew how to do things better than anybody else, and she was always criticizing my mother's methods. Whenever mother started to do anything, Aunt Betsy would take the job out of her hands, saying she would show the right way to do it.

“I had heard somewhere that if you put a drop or two of acetic acid in a gallon of cream, that cream will never make butter. I had a great memory for such facts, and kept them on file where they would be useful. One morning mother said she would have to churn, and she got things ready. I knew that as soon as she started Aunt Betsy would want to show her how it should be done, so when I had a chance, I dropped some of the acid into the churn, which was one of those old upright affairs, with a dasher that you worked up and down until the butter came.

“Mother seated herself on a stool and began churning, and then Aunt Betsy came along, and said that while she was a modest and unassuming woman, she did claim to know a little more about churning than anybody of her weight in that part of the country. ‘Let me do it, my dear,’ said she, ‘and I'll have butter in seven minutes by the clock.’ So she took hold of the dasher and began slapping away with it. She worked and worked, and the sweat began rolling down her face, and every once in a while she'd lift the lid of the churn to see what ailed the doggone cream, and then she'd pour in some cold water, and then some hot water, and the more she wrestled away, the less sign of butter was there.

“She whanged away at that ding-busted churn for two hours and couldn't get results, and she was so mad and disgusted over it she wanted to pack her trunk and go back home. Mother saw me rolling around in the yard all doubled up with unholly mirth, and she realized at once, by deductive reasoning, that I was responsible, and the licking I got that evening took the edge off my sense of humor for three weeks.

“Another time, Uncle James was visiting us. He used to sit in a rustic chair under an apple tree and doze, after dinner. He had a bald head, and his hat always slid off after he had snored a few times. One day I sneaked up behind him with a feather and began tickling his head. He'd slap his dome of thought and cuss a little, and then doze again, when I would get busy with the feather. That went on for quite a while, and I was having the time of my life. I never heard any language more highly colored than Uncle James put up.

“My mother heard him saying things, and came to the door and asked him what was the matter, and he said a ding-donged lopsided fly was chewing his scalp off. He had chased it away three million times, but it always came back. I got another licking that night, and my mind was occupied with serious things for a month.”

FARM BUREAU NEWS

The cotton acreage of Texas will be reduced approximately 4,000,000 acres this year, according to the report compiled by E. F. Shropshire, Director of the Cotton Division of the Texas Farm Bureau Federation, which estimates the reduction at 33 per cent. This report is made up as an average arrived at from nearly 2,000 estimates made by the county judges, bankers, and secretaries of commercial and agricultural organizations for the various counties, and was received by The Record Monday. Reports were made from 170 counties and some counties were represented by as many as 38 estimates.

“This report further indicates a reduction in the use of commercial fertilizer in that part of the state where it is used, of approximately 65 per cent, which naturally means a further decrease in yield of the acreage planted in those counties,” Mr. Shropshire said.

“No effort should be spared by all interested in this essential task and especially individuals from the counties from which this report is made, to further reduce the acreage and to make absolutely certain that the acreage report to be compiled by the government will bear out in every particular the report as herein given.

“I desire to express our appreciation for the hearty cooperation given by the bankers, business men, Chambers of Commerce, A. & M. College, state agricultural and marketing departments, press of the state, and the others for making possible the successful conclusion of this campaign to date. The campaign will be continued until planting is completed.”

Mr. Shropshire expressed gratification over success of the Farm Bureau campaign now under way in this county.

BLACK BOYS PLAY SERIES OF BASEBALL GAMES.

Last week the local team of colored ball players matched a series of games with the San Angelo team.

Thursday the score was 3 to 4 in favor of Colorado, but they had to play ten innings to get it. The batter-ies were Burns and Lewis for Colorado and Sanco and Miller for San Angelo.

On Friday the home team blew up and while the pitcher did good work they knocked him clean out of the game. The score was 12 to 6 in favor of San Angelo.

Saturday, with Lewis and Marshal as Colorado's battery, they won out by one mark only, the score being 12 to 13. This was a close and well played game, and it gave the black boys of Colorado two games out of three.

Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Every family should keep this preparation at hand for instant use when needed. Severe attacks of colic and cholera morbus often prove fatal before medicine can be procured or a physician summoned. The uniform success that has attended the use of this remedy and the prompt cures it has effected have made it a staple article of trade.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION

THE STATE OF TEXAS, To the Sheriff or any constable of Mitchell County, Greeting: You are hereby commanded to summon T. D. Zornes by making publication of this citation once in each week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your county if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not then in any newspaper published in the 32nd Judicial District, but if there be no newspaper published in said Judicial District, then in a newspaper published in the nearest district to said 32nd Judicial District, to appear at the next regular term of the County Court of Mitchell County, to be holden at the Court House thereof, in Colorado, Texas, on the first Monday in July, A. D. 1921, the same being the 6th day of July, A. D. 1921, in a suit numbered on the docket of said Court No. 1338 wherein W. D. McCauley and M. G. McCauley, partners in the firm doing business under the firm name of McCauley Brothers are plaintiffs and T. D. Zornes is defendant, and said petition alleging that on the 13th day of December, 1920 the defendant purchased from plaintiffs certain merchandise and in part payment therefor defendant made, executed and delivered to plaintiffs his promissory note for the sum of $175, said note being of date December 13th, 1920, and due and payable ninety days after date; that twenty-five dollars was paid on said note on April 2nd, 1921; that the amount now due on said note is One Hundred and Seventy-one and 70-100 dollars; that said note is now past due and unpaid, and defendant, though often requested, has hitherto failed and refused and still fails and refuses to pay the same or any part thereof, to plaintiffs' damage in the sum of One Hundred and Seventy-five and 70-100 Dollars.

Said petition further alleges that on dates ranging from March 2nd, 1921, to April 2nd, 1921, at the special instance and request of defendant, sold and delivered to defendant at the several times specified account attached to said petition and marked Exhibit “A”, certain goods, wares and merchandise in said account mentioned, in consideration whereof the defendant then and there promised plaintiffs to pay the said several sums of money charged therefor in said account specified, amounting to the sum of Two Hundred and Forty-one and 50-100 Dollars. That said amount is due and unpaid, and defendant, though often requested, has hitherto failed and refused and still refuses to pay the same, or any part thereof, to plaintiffs' damage Two Hundred and Forty-one and 50-100 Dollars.

Wherefore plaintiffs pray the court that defendant be cited to appear and answer this petition, and that he have judgment for his debt, Four Hundred and Thirteen and 50-100 Dollars, interest and costs of suit, and for such other and further relief, special and general, in law and in equity, that he may be entitled to.

Herein fail not, but have before said Court, at its next aforesaid regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same. Witness, W. S. Stoneham, clerk of the County Court of Mitchell County, Texas. Given under my hand and the seal of said court at office in Colorado, Texas this 6th day of May, A. D. 1921.

W. S. STONEHAM, Clerk Court Court, Mitchell Co., Texas. A true copy, I certify, W. J. CHESSEY, Sheriff Mitchell County, Texas. 6-3 c

 Mrs. R. G. Caruthers visited Mrs. Howard Rogers part of last week.
 The West Side singing convention will meet at Fairview next Sunday June 5th. Everybody invited to come

R. F. Erwin Regarding His Troubles
 "A year ago last winter I had an attack of indigestion followed by biliousness and constipation. Seeing Chamberlain's Tablets so highly recommended for stomach troubles. I bought a bottle of them and they helped me right away," writes R. F. Erwin, Peru, Ind. If you have any trouble with your digestion give these tablets a trial. They will do you good.

Sheriff's Sale.

THE STATE OF TEXAS—County of Mitchell.

Notice is hereby given that by virtue of a certain order of sale issued out of the Honorable District Court of Mitchell County on the 30th day of May, 1921, by W. S. Stoneham, clerk of said court, for the sum of fifty-one hundred and thirty-two dollars and 90-100 dollars and costs of suit, under a judgment and foreclosure of Vendor's Lien, in favor of W. T. Newman in a certain cause in said Court, No. 3789, and styled W. T. Newman vs. H. F. Newman et al and placed in my hands for service, I, W. J. Chesney, as sheriff of Mitchell county, Texas, did on the 30th day of May, 1921, levy on certain real estate, situated in Mitchell and Scurry counties, Texas, described as follows, to-wit: The west one-half (w. 1/2) and the Southeast one-fourth (se. 1/4) of section No. Forty-one (41) in Block No. 3 of the H. and G. N. Ry. Co. surveys in Mitchell and Scurry counties, Tex., save and except 100 acres sold out of the north part of the northwest one-fourth (n.w. 1/4) of the said survey to D. D. Wimberly being 380 acres of land more or less, and levied upon as the property of H. F. Newman and that on the first Tuesday in July, 1921, the same being the 5th of said month, at the Court House door of Mitchell County, in the city of Colorado, Mitchell County, Texas, between the hours of 10 a. m. and 4 p. m. by virtue of said levy and order of sale, I will sell above described real estate at public vendue, for cash, to the highest bidder, as the property of said H. F. Newman.

And in compliance with law, I give this notice by publication in the English language, once a week for three consecutive weeks immediately preceding said day of sale, in the Colorado Record, a newspaper published in Mitchell County.

Witness my hand, this 30th day of May, 1921.

W. J. CHESNEY,
 Sheriff Mitchell Co., Texas.

WITH THE CHURCHES

CHRISTIAN REVIVAL TO BEGIN NEXT SUNDAY, JUNE 5

Next Sunday, June 5th, a revival will start under the auspices of the First Christian church. Our pastor D. R. Hardison will do the preaching, and the trained choirs of the city led by Harry K. Shields of Glendora, Calif., will furnish the music. We hope to have the singers ready to start on time so there will be plenty of time for all the services and that we can get to our homes without being worn out with long hours.

We hope to have two outstanding attractions during the entire revival—good music and the presentation of a message that may prove a blessing to every worthy cause in the city and community.

We therefore ask the cooperation of all good people.

CHILDREN'S DAY PROGRAM.

A children's day program will be rendered at the Methodist church auditorium Sunday morning at 11 o'clock in which members of the primary and intermediate departments of the Sunday school are to participate.

NEW PASTOR AT THE FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH.

Next Sunday at 11 o'clock at the Baptist church, Rev. M. C. Bishop will preach the initial sermon as pastor of this church. Mr. Bishop comes from Anson to take the pastorate at Colorado, and his reputation as a splendid speaker, and good pastor has preceded him. He is well known by many Colorado people and all speak in the highest terms of him and his family. It is very much desired by the members of this congregation that a large audience greet Mr. Bishop next Sunday morning, and all the members of this church especially are urged to attend. All visitors to our city and every family who have no other church affiliation, are requested to worship at this church. A letter from Mr. Bishop shows that he is pleased with the call to this place and is very enthusiastic about his work, and anxious to get started.

His family and household goods will arrive next week, after which they will be at home in the parsonage, next door to the Baptist church.

Let everybody come out to Sunday school (we want 250 in the school) and give the new preacher a rousing welcome.

EDUCATIONAL CAMPAIGN TO CLOSE SUNDAY, JUNE 5TH.

The Christian educational movement of the Southern Methodist church to raise $33,000,000 for advancing the cause of the church denominational schools of the South, will be closed Sunday.

Final reports to be made on that date are expected to show that the church has gone "over the top" in its quota. Team captains at Colorado, who have been directing the work of raising the church quota of $5300 report they have been meeting with good success.

BAPTIST BIBLE CLASS ORGANIZED FOR WORK.

Monday evening the Senior Bible Class of the Baptist Sunday school, met at the residence of E. Keathley to discuss the organization of the class, and ways and means of building it up. Mr. Sadler, who has done such splendid work with the Young Men's Bible Class, was present and told of his experience and urged the organization. Mr. Keathley read the plan of organization, giving the officers and their duties. After some discussion it was decided to go into permanent organization, though only about half the class was present. Mr. Sadler acted as temporary chairman and Dr. Ratliff as secretary.

The following officers were elected and will begin their duties next Sunday.

President, J. R. Sheppard, whose duty is management. First vice president, Dr. T. J. Ratliff, enlargement; second vice president, M. C. Ratliff, fellowship; secretary, E. Keathley, records; treasurer, W. S. Stoneham, financier; reporter, A. L. Whipkey, publicity; teacher, F. B. Whipkey.

Name—"Convention Bible Class." After more discussion and an exegesis on last Sunday's lesson by Dr. T. J. Ratliff, and prayer by J. P. Smith, all were invited into another room, where some of the wives of the members had been enjoying themselves, and were bounteously served ice cream and cakes by Mrs. Keathley. All present enjoyed this meeting very much and Mike Ratliff, whose duty it is to see to the entertainment of the class says he will see to it that we have many more equally as enjoyable.

Every member of this class is urged to be present next Sunday and to bring some one with you. The goal has been set at 30 for this class before June has passed. Our preacher will be with us next Sunday and we want to greet him with a big crowd on his first day. Reporter.

YOUNG MEN'S BIBLE CLASS AT THE BAPTIST CHURCH.

Our membership is growing fast. Interest fine. Remember, young man, if you are not a regular attendant at some Sunday school we extend you a hearty welcome. We want you. We need you.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Lee Jones entertained the class at their beautiful home in North Colorado, Tuesday night, May 31st. All present had a nice time. You are not compelled to be bundled up in hot clothes to attend our class, but come on, without your coat if you wish, we want you to be comfortable and feel perfectly free. Better come join us or you may miss something you will regret.

76TH ANNUAL COMMENCEMENT AT BAYLOR UNIVERSITY.

The Record acknowledges receipt of invitation to attend the seventy-sixth annual commencement exercises of Baylor University, Waco, which are to be held June 12th to 15th, inclusive. In all, approximately 350 diplomas will be awarded by the main university at Waco and the technical and professional schools at Dallas.

Baylor University is among the leading denominational universities of America. Her record, extending over three quarters of a century has been commendable. It long ago became an institution without a par in the Southwest and one of which every citizen may well feel proud.

SLACKER LIST PUBLISHED BY LOCAL LEGION POST.

The first slacker list to be published in Colorado was posted last week by the local post, American Legion, on the post bulletin board at Colorado National Bank building. The list was compiled at headquarters, Eighth Corps Area, Fort Sam Houston, and furnished under direction of the war department.

A total of thirty-seven names appear on the list, a large number of whom are Mexicans; the list was compiled from reports of local boards of the following counties:

Crosby, Grayson, Callahan, Madison, Carson, Collingsworth, Franklin, Coke, King, Parmer.
