WITNESS REFUSES TO ANSWER QUERIES OF PROBERS

HOUSTON CITIZEN WILL NOT TELL OF ROAD CONTRACT

NEEDHAM SAYS ANSWERS WOULD AFFECT SUIT IN COURT

THREAT CONTEMPT

"WHEN LEGISLATURE CONVENES, MEMORY WILL FRESHEN" HE'S TOLD

(By The Associated Press) AUSTIN, Nov. 9.—Persistent refusal of T. B. Needham, former employee of the Sherman-Youmans Construction company of Houston, to answer questions relating to that company's state highway contracts enlivened Tuesday's session of the house investigating committee. He was the first witness thus far to refuse flatly to answer interrogations.

Needham, who is vice-president of the Southern Road company, pointed out a suit brought by Attorney General Dan Moody is pending in the 126th district court here, and declared questions pertinent to the suit should not be asked him by the committee. He held to his contention under the vigorous questioning of three attorneys, and of Representative W. A. Williamson of San Antonio, committee member.

Threatens Him

After Needham had refused by answer "yes" or "no" to a series of his questions, Williamson asked permission of the committee to address a remark to witness. Upon permission being given, Williamson said to Needham, "I just want to tell you sir, that your memory will be freshened when the 40th legislature convenes."

When the legislature is in session, it can punish a witness for contempt. A power the committee apparently concedes it does not possess when the legislature is not in session.

Richard Critz, committee attorney, informed Needham the committee would want him to go on the stand Wednesday, but Needham said he had to return Tuesday night to sit Arthur and the committee refused to say him the mileage and witness fee allowed other witnesses.

Needham told the Associated Press he felt he had been treated unfairly by the committee.

PEONAGE ALLEGED

Mexican Held to Pick Cotton Released When Official Threatens to File Charges

DALLAS, Texas Nov. 9 (AP)—Threats of filing peonage charges made by Mexican Consul E. Ortiz Lira here resulted Tuesday in the release of a number of Mexican citizens, three families and two single men, by a farmer who had retained them to pick cotton.

The pickers complained that they had been promised "best paying" cotton, but after arriving at the place were expected to pick second and third round cotton, under threat of being shot if they left the farm.

Doctor Says Splotches on Millikin Pistol Are From Red Corpuscles

LOCKHART, Texas Nov. 9 (AP)—Stains found on a pistol taken from A. C. Millikin when he was arrested in San Antonio for the murder last May of Mrs. Virginia Petty, of San Antonio, were made by red blood cells a witness at Millikin's trial, testified here Tuesday. Dr. E. Wright of New Braunfels, who analyzed the stains, gave the testimony. Dr. Wright said that he could not tell because of decomposition, whether the stains were made by human blood.

CAR POPULATION GROWS AT RATE OF TWO PER DAY

An increase of two new cars per day was the rate of the increase in Lubbock county's population of gasoline vehicles, the records of County Tax Collector I. F. Holland show. A total of eighteen licenses for new cars have been obtained since November 1. This brings the total of cars driven by Lubbock county citizens to approximately 7,300.

ONE FIRE FOR NOVEMBER

Only one fire has been made by the local fire department this month and that early in order that the excellent condition of Lubbock's fire system might be shown. At this time of the year in the past months the department has been busy with calls.

PARADE PLANS READY

"Thank the Lord for Short Skirts" Says Methodist Prexy Before Club Women of Texas in Dallas Meeting

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, Nov. 9.—Short skirts and kitchen equipment were discussed from the same platform before the Texas Federation of Women's clubs in the 25th annual convention here today.

The discussion came at the afternoon session following presentation at the morning session of a resolution denouncing gun toting and asking that the legislature be petitioned to "control and regulate the sale of firearms." This resolution, with others, was read and will be discussed and acted upon later in the convention.

The president of a woman's Methodist college, Dr. H. E. Stout, of Texas Woman's college, Fort Worth, told the 800 club women present that he "thanked the Lord for short skirts."

Nobody's Business

"Woman could not be the woman she is today if it were not for the short skirt, which gives her the freedom of motion necessary for health. The dresses of today are the most fitting ... at this time."

He said that the fundamental things young women should be taught are "the fundamentals of physical womanhood." He deplored the modern reducing fad and extolled healthful play, which he said, was far better than "sitting curled up in a chair reading bad books."

Need More Sinks

President Stout praised Mrs. Margie Barry, of College Station, chairman of the American home department of the general federation of Women's clubs, who preceded him with a talk on conditions in the American home which she said were deplorable.

She declared that of the 28,000 town homes of Texas, less than half have kitchen sinks and running water. This condition, she asserted, is comparable with carrying freight by ox cart.

Much of the drudgery of home work is due to lack of proper equipment for the house with whose occupation since the beginning of time has been considered outside the pale of profitable employments, according to Mrs. Barry.

Prizes Awarded

She urged the women to insist that the United States government include the home maker in the census, and that the government complete its farm equipment survey, and make a ... of urban homes to determine their needs in kitchen equipment.

... owers club of Waco was awarded first prize in the flower contest. The Dallas sunshine club took second, and the clubs of Mexia and Brownsville received honorable mention. First prize was $25 donated by the Standard club of Sulphur Springs. Second prize was $10 given by Mrs. L. A. Wells, of Amarillo.

A loving cup for the largest number of county federations went to the first district.

EVERYTHING IS READY FOR ARMISTICE DAY PROGRAM

PARADE STARTS AT 9

TWO PLANES WILL DROP FLOWERS ON THE MARCHERS

Everything is all set for the big Armistice day celebration tomorrow, committees in charge said yesterday. The parade now includes bicycles, automobiles, horse drawn vehicles, pedestrains and airplanes. The entire South Plains will move to Lubbock early tomorrow to take part in the celebration.

The Allen Brothers Post of the American Legion, the Texas Technological college, the Chamber of Commerce and other organizations are jointly promoting the celebration and committees from these organizations have been at work for several days getting ready for the day.

Starts at 9 A. M.

The parade will get in motion at 9 o'clock, H. F. Morris, manager and owner of the two planes that have been flying over Lubbock for the past few days, will remain here for Armistice day and to take part in the parade, doing stunts and novelty flying during the entire time the parade is in motion. Lieutenant E. R. Moore and Lieutenant W. B. Atwell are the pilots. They were in the service during the entire war. Moore trained at Oxford, and saw service with the British. When the United States entered, he served with the American aviation. Atwell was an instructor in a camp in Florida. The planes will fly low and drop flowers over the procession.

After the Parade

At the Tech a program will be held At noon visiting lodges will be the guests of the local legionaires at a dutch lunch. In the afternoon the Texas Tech Matadors will meet the Abilene Christian college Wildcats, and in the evening the reserve officers will meet at the court house to perfect a permanent organization of reserve officers of the South Plains.

The celebration is expected to be the biggest in West Texas this year. Almost everyone is responding to requests from the committees in charge. Merchants who will have a car in the parade with a sign bearing their firm name or a floral are requested to call the Chamber of Commerce, and advise the committee to this effect.

Lubbock schools, banks and retail stores will all be closed tomorrow, for Armistice Day. Union barber shops will also be closed, but will stay open until 8 o'clock tonight.

HOW THE ARMISTICE DAY PARADE FORMS

Lieutenants H. E. Killin and A. H. Wait in charge of the formation for the Armistice Day parade tomorrow have announced the place for each unit to form. The Tech section including the Tech band, guard of honor, flag design, guard of honor (second), girls' pep squad, U. S., football float and college floats will form on Avenue K between Ninth and Main streets; the Legion section including the national guard, the old veterans, the colors (sailor, marine, soldier, scot), legion, 2 P. G., army mule, medical detachment, auxiliary (legion), A. Gold Star mothers, Red Cross, and ambulance, will form on Avenue I between Ninth and Tenth streets. The high school section including the band, scouts, campfire girls, students, bicycle brigade will form on Avenue J between Ninth and Tenth streets. The local organizations' section including the fire department, retail firms, automobile firms in order of arrival. Tech autographed "wrecks", will form on Tenth street between Avenues I and H. A car cherrying the speakers for the Memorial program will lead the parade. It will travel from Tenth and Avenue K east to Avenue I, south to Broadway and west to the Tech. As it passes each intersection the various units will fall in in the following order: Spekakers' car, Tech unit, legion unit, high school unit and local organization unit.

STUDENTS DIE AS A SUDDEN STORM WRECKS BUILDING

NINE PERISH IN RUINS TWO OTHERS ON WAY TO HOSPITAL

TWENTY MORE HURT

HOUSE IS SHATTERED AS WIND SWOOPS FROM SULTRY SKY

LAPLATA, Md., Nov. 9. (AP).—A twisting wind struck suddenly out of a sultry sky today and shattered a school house here in which about 50 children were studying.

Nine perished in the ruins, and two others died while being rushed to Washington for treatment. At least 20 more are injured, some critically, and a negro man and woman were killed in their dwelling, one of three caught in the narrow long path of the storm.

Nine of the torn little bodies lay tonight in the town's undertaking establishment or at their homes, while two were still in the Washington hospital where they were reached too late.

The dead:

Marie Langley, aged 10; Mary Ellen Bowie, 7; Lever Martin, 12; Jack Clark Jr., 12; Lester Sinclair, 7; Mary Alice Cooksey, 9; Edward Bean, 10; Henry H. Claggett, 8; Lucille Myles, 12; Wright Maddox, 9; Rupert Watts (negro); Charlotte Brown, negro woman; an unidentified boy, aged 10, thought to be the son of Rev. Dr. Cooksey.

Laplata, which has a population of only 50, was dazed by the disorder. At three o'clock, only a little rain was falling and everything was calm. Two minutes later the wind, driving a torrent of rain before it, descended upon the village. Dr. G. D. Heath, Maryland health department official, whose office was across the street from the school, saw it twisted into a mass of splinters, and closed his eyes to shut out the horror.

Cry For Help

The whole town was soon rushing to the little knoll on which the school house stood. Injured children lay in the twisted wreckage, which was strewn over a wide circle. Other children were running about dazed and crying for help. Some had been carried by the wind several hundred feet, others had fled, stumbling and weeping.

Although several houses had been smashed by the storm's path, its greatest force seemed to center in the one small spot on which stood the little school house. The wind and rain came out to the southwest and up the Potomac river, which flows not far away. Cutting a northeastern path it missed the greater part of town.

Boots? Here Are Very Latest From Lunnon

Boots! Boots!! Boots!!!

Pause, reader, and consider what the male of the species is about to put upon his feet.

Above you see the latest (and, please heaven, the last) word in pedal embellishments from London. (These are not just exhibits; they are meant to be worn.)

In the upper row are a few tricks to brighten up the tired businessman's drab office.

Frontiermen of the pharmacies! Adance! In the middle row are three foot-pieces that will have the haughty flappers eating out of your hands.

Below is something a trifle darker, a bit more conservative, that might well grace the foot of a Dawes or a Borah.

All in all, the group speaks (or is it yells?) for itself.

Like Clothes She Wears, Fashion Model Soon Goes out of Style

There was a light, meaningless love-making betwden salesmn eand models.

By MARIAN HALE
NEA Service Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—Harry, the sheik salesman in the wholesale dress house where I worked as a model, came up behind Dolly and kissed her o nthe back of the neck as she was leaning over.

"Is that nice?" snapped Dolly. Without looking around she continued to moisten the run in her stocking.

"Oh, awfully nice," smiled Harry.

But Harry never asked Dolly for a date. He never took her to lunch. Neither was unusually interested in the other. This was simply the comradery of the house.

Between the salesman and models there existed a friendly banter and light, meaningless love-making.

Part of Her Work

A otham model comes in contact with many kinds of men. And, as I learned in two weeks as a model in one of the large wholesale dress houses, she has a different "defense and attack" for each.

She may smile and flirt with an out of tow nbuyer, but that's business. It's the same smile that the chorus girl flashes across the footlights. If the dress house manager asks her to have a date with a particular buyer, it is simply part of her work.

Each wholesale house has from three to ten models, depending upon the size of the organization.

One of the girls is the sample model. All dresses made in teh work rooms of that house are fitted to her. Alice was our sample model, a perfect size 16. Every new dress planned by the designer was literally made on Alice, and at the end of each season she was entitled to the dresses she wanted for her own wardrobe.

January first and July first opens the wholesale buying season, and the summer peak for New York houses comes about August first. Designers for the large houses go to Europe three months before the season opens to get designs and ideas. The dresses they design upon their return, must be approved, material purchased, and made before the season opens.

Some of the designers get their ideas from buyers who have bought dresses in Paris and returned to this country with them, to sell the styles.

One woman buyer wit han import shop charges $100 just t oshow her dresses to designers in the wholesale business.

If one of these designers wishes to copy a Parisian frock, he must pay $35 in addition to buying the material and making the gown. Consequently most wholesale houses find it more satisfactory to either retain a permanent designed in Paris or send their own, twice a year.

Buyers for retail stores in all parts of the country come to the New York wholesale houses twice or four times a year.

Make Their Choice

From the dresses shown on the models they pick the style and designate the size and particular color in which they want the dress. The order is then placed in the dressmaking rooms and the bill of goods sent to the customer two to three weeks later.

The sidewalks in the wholesale district are piled high with brown cardboard shipping boxes, going out every hour of the day to all parts of the country.

The dress that is planned by the designer in Paris, made by the wholesale house in New York, modeled in the showrooms, sold to a buyer, eventually reaches the thousands of retail stores, and is purchased by women in California and Maine.

What becomes of the fashion model?

She either works into the business, before her modeling days are over, or marries. Few models are over 25 years old.

Y. W. A. Meets With Mrs. Gladys Clninger, President

Miss Gladys Cloninger, president, was hostess to the Y. W. A. of the First Baptist church Monday evening at her home, 2011 Eighth street. Mrs. Pennybacker Is to Speak in Lamesa Monday Eve

Mrs. Percy Pennybacker, international figure and speaker is to speak in in Lamesa next Monday evening at the high school auditorium under the auspices of the Woman's Study club of that city and the Lubbock club women are being invited to attend. Mrs. Pennybacker was the only woman delegate who sat in the Geneva conference and was conceded the most compelling speaker, irrespective of nationality, at the sesquicentennial meeting of the International council of women in May, 1925. Her lecture is to be on "What I Saw, Heard and What I Felt in Geneva."

To Honor Tech Faculty Women With Tea on Friday

Women of the Tech faculty will be entertained with a tea at College Inn from 4 until 6 o'clock Friday afternoon, with the girls living in the dormitory as hostesses, it was announced.

The Woman's Day

Twenty unbobbed German chorus girls who came to work the other morning, were met by six lusty barbers tried and true, who proceeded to snip off 20 heads of flaxen tresses. It seems that the chorus girls has signed contracts which called for bobbed hair and had taken the jobs, and proceeded to forget about having their hair cut. Ergo—

Despite the fact that even in this advanced day some employers in our own land still object to bobbed hair girl employees, I wager the day will come, when they'll hire barbers to cut em short, if they wont, or dont cut themselves short.

"We girls must wear our initials on simply every thing this year, fashion says. So department store counters are heaped with initialed slipper buckles, powder compacts, initialed handkerchiefs (some little sense in that) initialed pen holders, initialed rings, 'n everything. And the noonday crowds of girls scrambling for their p's and q's is worse than a pogrom!

Modern girls denounce the petting instinct in modern young men. This from a minister who preached recently on his findings when he set forth a questionnaire to dozens of young girls asking them to list the faults and virtues of the modern young man. He found that they objected more strenuously to petting than anything else. At least they say they did.

Do you believe it? Neither do I. If the majority of modern girls, or girls of any decade objected seriously to petting, it would be a serious thing for the race indeed!

You women who dote on antiques, and what woman doesn't, should dip within a little tome called "collectors' luck in England," by Alice van Leer Carrick. Alice goes to England, snoops around in the Isle of Wight, and everywhere, and picks up such samples of Georgian copper urns, telescope candlesticks and Pembroks tables.

By the way, are there any antiques left in America? It seems that this good lady, and others must have done it, too, spent her summers for years, rambling through New England seeking what she could devour in the way of spool beds and cherry highboys, then holding auction with her loot. Yum yum.

"I would rather be married than single," writes a w. k. woman author in a current magazine, proceeding to explain why she thinks thus:

"Mother nature sees to it that we find no satisfactory substitute for mating," writes she. "We can't be content while we are neglecting her business. We may become doctors, lawyers, and merchants and chiefs if we like—and we can—but she won't let us off being sweethearts, and wives and mothers as well."

Well, that's not so unfair, to sop the feminists! Men are up against the same thing. They are doctors, lawyers, and merchants and chiefs and don't seem to be able to get away without being sweethearts, husbands and poppas too. Sauce for the goose and gander.

Mrs. Neel Says Suffering Is Only Memory Now

Improvement in Health Surprises Everyone. Stomach Troubles, Nervousness, Loss of Sleep Wasted Woman to Shadow. Strength Restored. Gains 17 Pounds. Tanlac Gets All Credit

Men and women suffering from nervousness and run-down condition, who are facing a life of black despair and pain will be interested in the amazing experience of Mrs. J. P. Neel, 2306 Fourth Avenue, Dallas, Texas. She says: "I was more dead than alive.

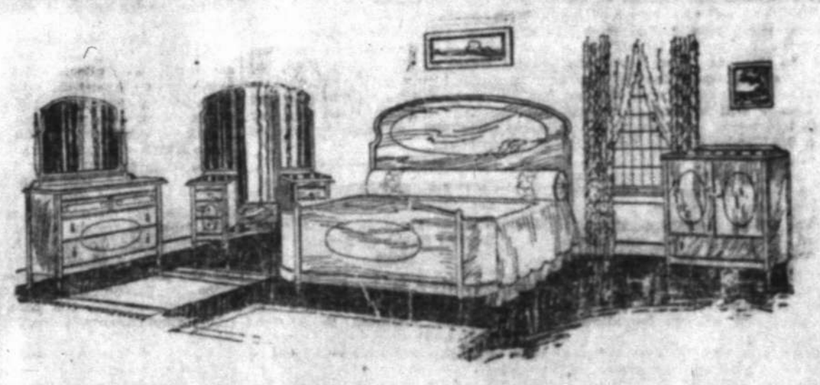

"Indigestion so ravaged my system that I was run-down and so weak that I couldn't do my housework. I had no energy and life was a dull panorama that excited no interest. I didn't want to go anywhere or do anything.

"My nights were terrible. I was so nervous that I couldn't sleep. And I suffered from headaches. I took various remedies in search of relief. But nothing seemed to help. Finally, after reading of how Tanlac helped so many people, I decided to try it.

"This wonderful tonic gave me an appetite for food and put my stomach in such shape that I seldom suffer after eating. I sleep like a baby and do my housework without tiring. I am always full of energy. I have gained 17 pounds since taking Tanlac. I can recommend this tonic most highly to those suffering as I did."

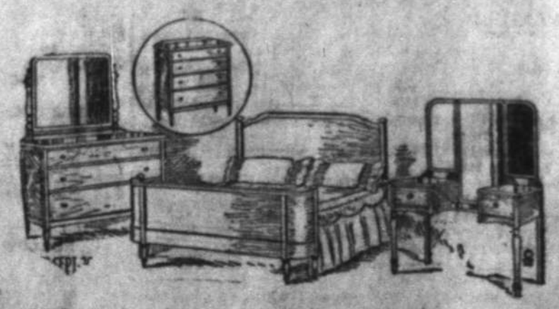

Follow the advice of Mrs. Neel and the thousands of other men and women who have been benefited by Tanlac. This tonic, made from roots, barks and herbs, usually builds strength, puts flesh on scrawny bodies, banishes pain and gives good health. Take Tanlac. Over 40 million bottles sold. At all druggists.

The Morning Avalanche Menu for the Day

LUNCHEON—Cream of mushroom soup, croutons, jellied tomato salad, rye bread, rice pudding with raisins, milk, tea.

DINNER—Stewed chicken with rice, creamed peppers, stuffed celery and endive salad, bran rolls, milk, coffee, pumpkin pie.

This menu is planned for a week-end when the whole family are at home for all their meals. "Big brother" will delight in the breakfast of sausage and pancakes with apples. This same combination makes a very good luncheon occasionally. No potatoes are suggested in the dinner menu. Rice is served as a substitute.

Children under six years of age should not indulge in the fried apples but older persons will find them so much to their liking that the recipe follows.

Four large tart apples, ½ teaspoon cinnamon, 2 tablespoons sugar, 3 table spoons butter.

Wash apples and wipe dry. Remove cores but do not pare. Cut in quarter-inch slices. Melt butter in frying pan, add apples, cover and cook over a hot fire for several minutes. Reduce heat, sprinkle with sugar and cinnamon and cook until apples are tender and brown.

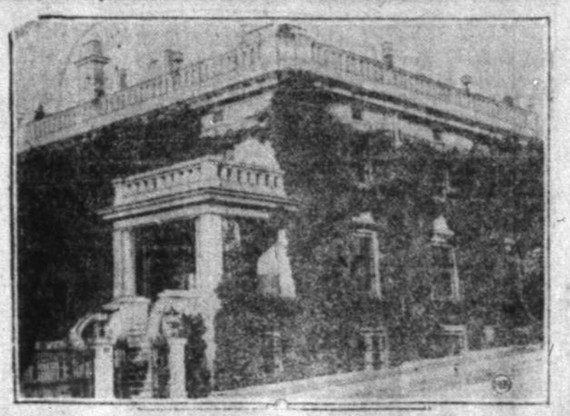

If the apples are pared they will fall apart during the cooking. Close watching and a low fire are necessary because the apples will burn quickly after the sugar is added.

Tart apples are the best for frying but "sub-acid" fruit can be used if generously sprinkled with lemon juice. (©Copyright, 1926, NEA Service, Inc.)

Built for a King—Opened for Marie

This $100,000 concrete palace near Seattle was built years ago by Sam Hill to entertain King Albert of Belgium. But King Albert was prevented from coming and it was never used. Now Hill has offered it to Queen Marie during her visit to the west coast. Dissension among members of the Seattle entertainment committee, however, makes it possible the offer will not be accepted, 'tis said. Hill is a son-in-law of the late James J. INVESTIGATE FATAL CRASH OF TRAIN AND TRUCK AT HOUSTON, AND TO FIX BLAME FOR DEATH OF SEVEN PERSONS

HOUSTON, Tex., Nov. 9 (AP)—District Attorney Horace Soule Tuesday began an investigation to fix the blame for deaths of seven cotton compress laborers and the serious injury to thirteen others, who were killed or injured early Tuesday when a Southern Pacific accomodation laborers' train en route to Galena struck a turning basin compress truck and trailer at the intersection of the Clinton road and the railroad.

Eight others were slightly injured.

Justice of the Peace Campbell B. Overstreet held an inquest and rendered a verdict of accidental death.

Soon after the accident, G. S. Waldo, vice-president and general manager of the Houston division of the Southern Pacific started an investigation of the accident.

The cotton compress company joined by an accident indemnity company is conducting a third investigation.

Ed Sanderson, driver of the truck who was badly hurt, declared he was unaware of the approaching train and failed to see any signal of its approach.

Joe Porter, negro, stopped by the crossing bell and waited for the train to pass, said engineer J. J. Barrell probably could not see the truck because of the Ehrwich brothers cotton warehouse at the corner.

Porter in a statement said the truck and trailer had straddled the track when the crash came. He said he heard the passengers screams prior to the accident.

Almost every available ambulance in the city was rushed to the scene of the accident when first report of the crash reached the city.

The dead and seriously injured were removed to morgues and hospitals and those less seriously hurt were taken to their homes.

Supreme Court Must Choose Which Of Two Congressmen is Telling the Truth

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9 (AP)—Responsibility of passing upon straightout issue of veracity involving two congressmen was thrust upon a jury in the District of Columbia supreme court today.

E. B. Howard of Tulsa, Okla., victorious in his race for the house last Tuesday, told the court he had never borrowed a cent from Representative Guy E. Campbell of Pennsylvania and did not owe him $2,500 as claimed by Campbell and represented by two notes.

When he left Washington two years ago after being defeated for re-election Howard said that at Campbell's request he left with Campbell two of these blank notes to be used in curtailing a note which he had given the Pennsylvanian as an accommodation.

Campbell said he had made curtailments on the notes to "protect his credit at the Riggs bank" after the notes had been repudiated by Howard.

The stonework of the British House of Parliament is crumbling and the work of restoration will take ten years at a cost of one million pounds.

DOCTOR TELLS OF MRS. MILL'S DEATH

TELLS OF EXAMINING BODY OF PASTOR AND WOMAN WHO WERE KILLED

SOMERVILLE, N. J., Nov. 9 (AP)—Technical testimony, beginning with finger print developments in the morning and continuing to autopsize in the afternoon, claimed a full session's attention of the court which is trying the Hall-Mills case here today.

Result of an autopsy performed last month on the bodies of Mrs. Eleanor R. Mills and the Rev. Edward W. Hall, was told by Dr. Otto H. Schultze, assistant medical examiner of the district attorney's office of New York county. Dr. Schultze, after testifying that any one of three bullets entering the head of Mrs. Mills would have caused death said that the larynx, the tongue and the upper part of the wind pipe had been cut from Mrs. Mills' body after death. One flash with a knife had cut the slain woman's throat, he said.

Uses Wax Head

To assist Dr. Schultze in illustrating his testimony, a wax representation of a human head was used with an additional wax representation of the cross section of the head and neck as far as the collar bone, no question was raised during the examination of Dr. Schultze as the position of Mrs. Mills, but he was questioned as to the possible position occupied by Mr. Hall when he was shot.

The slain rector was shot above the opening of the right ear, the physician suggesting that the downward course of the bullet indicated that the weapon was sending it on its way had been fired from above, with the victim possibly stooping.

When he had said that the three bullets entering Mrs. Mills' head were confined to a space of four inches, Dr. Schultze was asked by prosecutor Alexander Simpson if he did not consider that pretty good shooting.

Asked instantly by the defense counsle, if he proposed to qualify the witness as an expert on fire arms, Mr. Simpson replied in the affirmative, but after some discussion, abandoned that line of questioning with the statement that he had other fire arm experts. Henry Stevens, one of the defendants is reputed to be an excellent shot.

Asked if he could tell from the direction of the bullet how he might have been standing or stooping, the witness said, "anybody could."

Dr. Schultze then suggested that Mr. Hall might have been wrestling with any opponent, who had a weapon, or with someone trying to wrest a weapon from the minister.

As the New York physician, who said he made "hundreds of autopsies" was testifying, James Mills, husband of the slain woman, sat following the description of the fatal wounds to his wife, closely but showing no emotion. Charlotte Mills, his daughter, was not in the seat she had occupied during the trial.

ALL COLLEGE AFFAIR TOMORROW NIGHT

The second all college affair will be held tomorrow night by the senior class at Cheri Cafe. It will be the senior prom and arrangements have been made for a gala time. A program will feature in the evening's entertainment and refreshments will be served. All faculty members are cordially invited.

The affair is not with the approval of the social committee and a committee will act with them in the staging of the affair.

ABILENE TO SEND SPECIAL HERE TOMORROW

The first special train to be run into Lubbock for a Tech home game will arrive here tomorrow morning loaded with enthusiastic Abilene fans. Reports from that city are that a large number are coming. The Tech students are planning to meet the train provided it does not interfere with the Armistice day program.

The A. C. C. band and pep squad are coming with the train and will make a formation on the field between halves. The Tech pep squad will also give their formation on the field.

LIBERAL ARTS BOYS CALLED FOR FOOTBALL TEAM

A meeting of all the male students of the school of liberal arts has been called for Friday morning at 12 o'clock for the purpose of organizing for a foot ball team. The school will issue a challenge to the winner of the aggie-engineer game which is to be played November 18. A coach will be selected at the meeting Friday and the team will start practice at once.

WORK STARTED ON GYM

Workmen have already begun work on the construction of the building which will be used as a gymnasium during the year. The building, which will be constructed of tile and brick will be designed for a gym but will be used eventually by the college as a warehouse for the storage of supplies. It will have a regulation size basketball court with locker rooms, shower baths and bleacher sections with a good hardwood floor. The building is expected to be finished about January 1 and basket ball practice will start immediately following.

SURVEYING CLASS DOING CONSTRUCTIVE WORK

The class in surveying of the school of engineering is doing some good work in its laboratory periods and in several months, the boys will be capable of running the jobs themselves. At intervals during the term, the class is taken out to the canyon east of town where the instruments are placed on actual work. The class contains one girl who is making the regular hike with the rest of the group.

ENROLLMENT CLIMBS SLIGHTLY

In the past two weeks, the total enrollment for this year has increased slightly, the total up to date being 1871 students. With the continual pouring in of letters and inquiries from students all over the state, the officials are expected the enrollment to reach 1500 in the second term.

EZRA'S PRAYER—"O my God, I am ashamed and blush to lift up my face to Thee, my God; for our iniquities are increased over our head, and our trespass is grown up unto the heavens." Ezra 9:6.

ARMISTICE DAY

It is almost time for another Armistice celebration. We will again take an active interest in that memoriable day, November 11, and the entire citizenship will join in making Armistice Day one of the greatest days in the history. We should never forget the price that our boys paid and how they so willingly and unselfishly responded to the call and fought so valiantly for victory. There was no shirking among them. They came home with honors and emblems announcing that they had performed their duties valiantly. A sad fact is that some of the native sons never came back at all and are now sleeping in Flanders Field where poppies grow." While we are celebrating Armistice Day we should not forget the mothers and fathers and sisters and brothers of these valiant heroes in our prayers and eulogies. We, who stayed at home in our comfortable surroundings knew no hardships. It was those valiant boys who left home never knowing whether or not they would ever return, who learned what hardships really meant. Some of them for days slept in damp dingy trenches; some for months never heard a line from home; some were wounded; some were gassed and the many hardships and inconveniences can not be depicted. Time brings many changes, but time can never erase the terrible ordeals our boys were called upon to face. The little mother at the fireside who gave up her boy at her country's call—she, too, went through agonies of anxiety and suspense. Neither must we forget the wives, sweethearts and other dear ones. We cannot forget these things. We do not want to forget them. Armistice Day should be a day of reverance. It should be a day of recompense. It should be a day when we like to think and meditate on the War and the noble things our boys did for our country. Armistice Day should be one of the grandest and noblest holidays on the calendar It should be a day that we gather flowers and present them in word bouquets to our boys who were spared. It should be a day when we gather our rosebuds an adorn the graves of those whom we have buried. Armistice Day should not be a day of pleasure-seeking. The true meaning and significance of the holiday should be brought into our plans for the day. Armistice Day comes near the happy Thanksgiving season when hearts should be glad and the whole nation imbued with Thanksgiving of our many blessings, and most of all that our nation is at last at peace and our boys are not endangered with trench life, cannons, gas and other deathly means of destroying the youth of our country who are to make our future citizenship. Let us join heartily with our splendid American Legion organization in making this Armistice Day one to be ever remembered by the men, women and children of this county.

THE SAME OLD GANG

The same old gang is after West Texas again. It would seem that when everything in that section of the state gets in a bad condition, and the fellow down in the sticks begin to get panicky the first thing they seem to think about is to bestow sympathy upon the poor, miserable creatures of the Western part of the state. We were shown a letter from a fellow in East Texas yesterday, which began by saying it was reported in that section of the state that Lubbock was badly over-built, that there were large numbers of big brick business houses vacant, hundreds of dwelling houses could be rented for the insurance and taxes. He went further and said that many people were wanting to sell these big brick buildings for less than they cost, and wanted a list of the buildings as such bargains. He also was lamenting the report thta many of the farmers in this country didn't have food for their children nor clothes for them, and was just heartbroken almost that East Texas had not produced enough food and stuff to supply these West Texas sufferers. He wound up by saying that the crop failures, and the low price of cotton has "broke everybody" in that part of the state, and pictured a direful situation.

This is a sample of the dope that is being scattered in that part of the state, which, so far as the West Texas and Lubbock feature of the report is concerned, is absolutely without foundation, and is untrue. There is no property offered in Lubbock at sacrifice prices, and if you will undertake to buy one of these brick buildings you will be thoroughly convinced that no one is specially anxious to transfer the title to someone else.

The party who received this letter stated that he was going to write to the fellow and tell him that if he had money to put into buildings he would do well to come out to Lubbock and build some more, as they are in demand, and not a drug on the market by any means.

The condition in the Plains is not alramin in the least. The farmers are in better shape, so we are told than most anywhere we have heard of, and their crop of cotton has not yet been gathered. True the price is low, but compared with East Texas it has not cost the farmer anything to produce it, and therefore can take half what the East Texas farmer can afford to take and make money. However the farmer in this part of the country is not going to sacrifice his crop. He can hold his cotton, or much of it at least, and live off his diversification program and be better fived than nine percent of the East Texas farmers.

So well is this country adapted to diversification, and so readily and quickly can the farmer gather together a few good milk cows, and a number of shoats and a few dozen hens, all of which will begin producing on short notice, that there is no necessity for calamity. There is no need for alarm, and there will be more money in this country next summer as a result of the so-called disaster than there would have been with cotton selling at twenty cents. What is made will be saved, and will be used economically and sensibly while if wealth had been lavished upon the people of this country in the shape of a tremendous cotton crop at high prices, much of it would have been squandered and foolishly spent, and would have resulted in no permanent good to the people of this community.

Calm yourselves, East Texas. Come out to Lubbock and take a look at a real honest to goodness, growing city.

ENCOURAGE PRODUCTION

We have heard of a number of instances where people—farmers, say they would raise certain products of the farm and garden if there was a market here for the products. We do not know how many people are standing back on the same proposition but we would not doubt if there are large numbers of people in the same mind, and if this be true, there is need for the business men, the business organizations and the farm organizations getting together on a proposition of providing a market for the products and giving due publicity to the fact that these products can be handled in any quantity in this city. We see no reason that Lubbock cannot be made the market center for all kinds of products of the farm, the garden the poultry yard and the hog pasture.

Lubbock already has a small packing plant that is using quite a bit of the livestock products. Especially is this true in regard to beef and pork, and with the proper encouragement of the people of this city, and the surrounding towns this can be made one of the really worth-while industries of the South Plains. This is an institution that is needed, and we are glad to see it has already started out on a big scale. There can be good money made by the farmers of this country if they will each have a number of baby beeves to market each year. With the amount of feed that can be so cheaply raised in this country this can be done at a good profit, and will at the same time supply the local markets with a grade of beef that is not to be had in any other way.

Lubbock also has a splendid poultry market. Several firms in Lubbock handled unlimited quantities of poultry, and there is no danger in overstocking the market here in the poultry line, for there is an outlet that will take all of the poultry that can be raised, and the price is going to be very satisfactroy at all times. There is a great field here for the development of the poultry industry in a large way. It will mean much for this section, and will be much better than cotton.

As to dairy products. There has never been an overproduction of cream in this section. Lubbock has a local consumption that takes up much of the production, and also agencies that buy and ship the product to other points. This product too will no doubt be developed to a greater extent if the business men of the city will advertise to the people of the South Plains that this market will handle all the cream they can bring in at a satisfactory price. This country is well adapted to the production of kinds of products of the dairy, and with the proper encouragement will no doubt become one of the rich dairying sections of the Southwest. Lubbock business interest should see to it that the necessry markets are provided for all kinds of products.

Little Avalanches

General Pershing has again warned the country against decreasing the size of the permanent army. Advocates of economy have proposed a further reduction and the former commander of the A. E. F. says: "There can be not earthly justification for saving a few millions of dollars a year on the Army during peace, if, as a consequence, we must spend many billions in an emergency in an attempt to make up deficiencies and invariably this has been the consequence."

Five amphibian air planes of the Army will start from San Antonio in December on a flight of some eighteen thousand miles, during which over seventy stops will be made and in which visits will be made to every independent country in Latin-America excepting Nicarauga, Equador, and Bolivia. The flight will end some time in 1927 when the aviators will return to Washington. Ten army officers will make the flight. This is a very ambitious program but its success will demonstrate the practibility of airplanes for such long and extended trips.

OUT OUR WAY — By Williams

LAUGHS

Formal

"I think I heard the bell," said a mistress to her new parlor maid.

"Yes, it was the bell," replied the maid.

"Well, hurry up and answer it. It's sure to be some friend making a call."

"You go, madam. You know them so much better than I do."

Trespassers

"You told me you hadn't any mosquitoes," said the summer boarder reproachfully.

"I hadn't replied Farmer Hayrack. "Them you see floatin' around come from Si Perkins' place. They ain't mine."

Doubted It

Gray—They say a man's first thousand dollars is the hardest to get.

Green—I can't agree with that. An oil stock promoter go mine easily enough.

A Woman's Logic

Mrs. Jones cast an entirely new light—and, it may be, a wholly reasonable one—on the problem of woman's dress the other night. She and Mr. Jones were awaiting callers, and Mr. Jones surveyed her new gown rather critically. "Isn't it a little extreme?" he suggested. "A little short and low cut?"

"Well, I don't know," said Mrs. Jones, "they are coming to see me, aren't they—not the dress?"—Argonaut.

"Why don't you go into politics?"

"I am in politics," answered Miss Cayenne. "I cast a vote every time I have the opportunity."

"Why don't you run for office?"

"I cling to the idea of feminine superiority. I prefer having a man requesting me to vote for him to being in a position where I would have to request him to vote for me."—Washington Star.

SO THINK WE

We think the South Plains has the best schools in the state, and Lubbock has the big outstanding state school of the southwest.

We think Armistice will be the next big event—then Thanksgiving, and then Chrisamas.

We think it is about that time of year when we can use that same old threat on the children and get results—that if they are not good—this or that, Santa Claus will not come to see them.

We think as tree planting time is fast approaching why not arrance to plant a few pecan trees, or some other fruit tree that will serve a double purpose of furnishing fruit and shade at the same time.

We think a lot of folks make a big fuss about it if they do not have their pockets full of money. We think as long as we have plenty to eat and good clothes to wear we should be thankful, and more especially if we live in west Texas where we have such good health where we can eat with pleasure and wear with comfort these splendid blessings.

We think with more wheat sown and less acreage left for cotton, with more feed stuff for the cows, and more corn for the hogs, and more of these animals on the farm, this county will be a top notcher next fall.

We think that worrying is one of the most useless things in the world. If you overcome trouble then there is nothing to worry about, and if you can't it does no good to worry, so what's the use.

We think that less cotton acreage will help the South Plains next year, provided the balance of the south will do likewise.

We think there is two sides to every question, the other side and our side.

We think that after all the boll weevil did not hurt Texas very much.

We think most people who contend that Christianity is a failure have never been willing to give it a trial.

We think if this speed mania keep up today is going to get ahead of tomorrow. As it is now a great many people are living far ahead of their income.

We think that the fellow who believes he has a right to drink booze, will find that what he thinks are drinking rights will finally end as a funeral rite.

We think that dead men tell no tales. That is possibly the reason that the bootlegger feels that he is reasonably safe. His customers will be dead ones very soon.

IT IS REPORTED

That Lubbock had some high flops here Sunday. Many Lubbock folks went up in the aeroplanes.

That some of the men of Lubbock are going to economize this winter by wearing their summer belt through the winter.

* * *

That Jim has sued the Dallas News for $100,000 claiming to have been libeled in a recent news report.

* * *

That Dan Moody has already received almost as many applications for jobs as he received votes in the General election.

* * *

That Editor Haynes of Miami Chief say that town is over run by stray cats. Down Fort Worth way they raise a huge sum of money to keep their cats in good condition. Possibly if Haynes will train his cats they will become an asset rather a menace.

That city officials have said that if people do not want to get run in for being drunk the best thing is not to get drunk, for they are going to tame 'em in no matter how good they have been in the past.

* * *

That speeders are not going to enjoy speeding in the future, it is going to be entirely too expensive to be enjoyed.

* * *

That some of the jurors in the court who were never known to work a day in their life have offered the excuse that their business needs their attention and would like to be excused from jury service. We think the judge should excuse them from jury service, and see that they do the work they claim they want to be doing.

* * *

That some women will wear silk stockings even if it puts them in debt up to the knees.

* * *

That some men are in favor of Christianity provided it does not interfere with their business. Any business that Christianity will interfere with is no doubt of a nature that any community would do well without.

* * *

That one Lubbock man wants to go back to the "good old days" of the covered wagon, because he says it hardly ever run over anyone.

* * *

That some of the paragraphers are getting uneasy for fear there will be nothing to extoll or poke fun at after Queen Marie returns to her native home. Never fear there will be plenty evolutionists left.

* * *

That there is only one thing has a right to lay around and that is the hen.

* * *

That a pessimist never gets anywhere. Then don't be one.

* * *

That it is now open season for paying taxes.

—o—

That people are making a habit of driving their cars across the school grounds in muddy weather and it leaving the grounds in very bad condition. Patrons should refrain from doing this in the future. Let's have plenty school grounds.

SOUTH PLAINS PRESS

PEANUTS

Clyde Enterprise: The champion peanut story of the year has been sent to West Texas Chamber of Commerce officials who are leading in the movement for diversification on West Texas farms. Peanuts planted on a five-acre plot by O. S. Robbins of the Jakehammon community, near De-Leon, yielded for its owner of the land upon which the crop was planted and grew $589.12 being made from the diversification in peanuts. Three hundred twenty-six and a half bushels were harvested from the five acres, netting $439.12. Two hundred fifty bale of peanut hay from the plot brought $150. The five acre planted in peanuts brought an average of $117.82 an acre, though the average marked value of this class of land is only about $30 per acre.

The main thing that stands in the way of the plants of diversification in this country is the problems of marketing, and we are of the opinion that our Chamber of Commerce, our Board of City Development, our civic clubs, and all other organization that are working for the development of the country should devote much of their attention to the problems of marketing. There is no doubt in the minds of the people of this country, that the soil will produce about everything that any other section of the country will produce, and with the encouragement and assurance that there will be market for the product there will be a large acreage planted, and the productions will be greatly increased. Peanuts we are sure can be grown here in as great abundance as in the Clyde community and there should be a market developed here that will take care of car loads of this product.

Homes Among the Clouds!

By NEA Service

NEW YORK, Nov. 9—New York will move her people out of dinginess and confinement into a realm of fresh air and flowers, if the prediction of Alfred C. Bossom, noted architect, comes true.

The New Yorkers will go up, as high as 100 stories, a quarter mile into the air.

Far above the reach of flies and mosquitoes they'll go, out of the noise and fumes of traffic, in plain view of the rising sun, says Bossom. He sees this form of home evolving within 20 years and points to the signs today.

Homes Above Offices

Only the first 10 or 15 floors will be used for business offices.

"Every three floors or so a setback will start," he says, "and on its level there will be private gardens, with real trees, grass, pools and flowers in abundance.

"Already New York has one such apartment, with a pool large enough to float a canoe.

"Almost the entire capacity of these buildings above the fifteenth floor will be given over to apartments whose windows and gardens will look upon the most magnificent cities in the world.

"It will be as healthy as living at a mountain resort. Even chimneys will be eliminated in the skyscrapers of the future, for electrical currents will generate the heat.

Like Mountain Resort

"There will be sidewalks about the buildings, allowing the residents to stroll around the entire structure."

Such sidewalks have already been built, one of them on the Chili building in Hamburg, Germany, Bossom points out.

"There will be no obstruction in the view," Bossom adds, "because of one building being in front of another. The enormous size of the building at the base will permit the structures to rise at intervals of one block, and the pyramidal design will make their highest points on a perspective with other nearby skyscrapers so that the tenant can always have a clear view in any direction.

"The trend for tall buildings is an economic one."

Scientists, at Radio Sets, Scan Stars to Gauge Drift of Continents

By NEA Service

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Oct. 9—After three years of preparation a net of radio and eye-observation has been drawn around the world and the stars to measure the drift of the continents.

Astronomers and mathematicians of 70 nations are gathered at 70 radio stations to find out if the two American continents are separating and how much—if the old world and the new world once were one, but drifted apart, and still are drifting.

Several years ago the hypothesis was put forward by the Austrian scientist, Alfred Wegener, that the shore lines of the Americans approached if not actually coincided with those of Europe and Africa.

Gradually, the Americans have drifted westward, and even now are shifting toward Asiatic shores, he held.

Organize for Accuracy

The organization which is undertaking the enormous mathematical task of measuring the year of continents is a marvel in itself.

The naval radio station at Annapolis, Md., co-operates with the San Diego group. There are three scheif observation posts—San Diego, Shanghai and Algeriers. French astronomers man the Algiers an dShanghai posts while the American link is operated by French and Americans jointly.

Every clear night, with these three posts as a nucleus, astronomers make solar observations and receive signals. The observers determine their local astronomical time, then compute the longitudinal difference by arriving at the time difference.

Radio's Big Part

The investigation demands practically instantaneous communication of radio time signals and accurate local time through observations of the stars. Radio and astronomical methods must be combined to work as accurately as is required.

By going through the same procedure ten years from now, and comparing the results with those obtained in the observations now being made it will be learned whether Algiers and San Diego remain the same distance apart as they are today.

Changing longitude lines, and the rate at which this continent is sliding westward, will be known.

Captain Frank B. Littell, professor of mathematics at the U. S. naval observatory, J. C. Hammond and Paul Sollenberger, assistants to Littell, and Colonel Charles Mailley, representing the government of France, are conducting the tests at San Diego.

The finest instruments procurable are being used.

When fogs or dew make observation impossible the group relies on a clock housed in a concrete room. Through a constant temperature controlled by a thermostat, this clock is kept at a rate which varies not more than three one-hundredths of a second every three days.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST

STRIFE

"Some look at life," said he, "as though
Care never should be theirs to know.
They seem to fancy they should be
From loss and hurt and trouble free,
As if to them some pledge were made
That they should never be afraid,
But every day should laugh and sing
And never feel an ache or sting.

"They call unjust the pains they bear
And say that only joy is fair.
To hear them talk you'd think that they
Were guaranteed a life of play.
The world they bitterly condemn
When any hardship comes to them,
Although the privilege of life
Obliges all to constant strife.
'All growth is struggle.' As we gain
By journeying the road of pain,
One cannot into manhood grow
But what it hurts and cares he'll know.
There is no pleasant path to tread,
For all some trial waits ahead
And wisest they who best prepare
Their souls to stand to grief and care.

"All grief is bitter, well I know
For I have suffered 'neath the blow
But since 'tis something each must bear
I cannot say that it's unfair.
Not easily life's joys we reap
Who truly love must some day weep;
Who would some distant goal attain
Must pay for it with hurt and pain."

BEARS HOPE TO UPSET DOPE-BUCKET IN BATTLE WITH MUSTANGS SATURDAY IN SPITE OF BEING THE UNDERDOGS

WACO, Nov. 9. (AP)—Despite a seemingly prevalent opinion throughout the state among non-partisan critics that S. M. U. will emerge the victor in the clash with Baylor university at Dallas Saturday, Waco fans decline to concede anything but victory to Coach Jennings' Baylor Bears, as the day for the gridiron clash nears.

Bruin followers see at least an even chance of winning Saturday. As they fondly recall the exploits of Little Wier Washam at quarter in his generalship and broken field running; of Abe Kelly, with his punting, passing and running; of Ox Keyes, that charging demon who has crashed every opposing line that had attempted to stand before him this year; of big Sam Coates, that crashing and pass snatching end and other lesser but nevertheless shining lights in the Bruin camp, the ycannot see how Baylor can do other than make a better showing than outside critics are predicting. In fact, victory seems probable to them, even when the equally mighty warriors of Coach Morrison's crew are paraded in front of their retrospective eyes.

Tendler and Pershon Are Suspended

NEW YORK, Nov. 9 (AP)—The state athletic commission took steps today to untangle the championship affairs in three divisions, tabled the challenge of title aspirants in two others and handed indefinite suspensions to two widely known boxers, Lew Tendler and Harry Pershom for fouling recent opponents.

Casting aside its recently announced hands off policy toward the creation of new champions, the commission recommended an elimination program to decide the successor of Louis (Kid) Kaplan as featherweight title holder.

The commission tossed a barrier in the way of Tex Rickard's proposal to match Elky Clarke, British flyweight champion with Fidel LaBarba, recognized in this country as the world's champion. Clarke, it was suggested should first be tested against one or two other opponents of his class before meeting LaBarba.

Charlie Rosenberg, the license committee of the board ruled, must defend his world's bantahweight crown against Bushey Graham of Utica, N. Y., without any "tune up" contests.

The challenge of Joe Dundee, for a title match with Pete Latzo, the welter weight king and of Mike McTigue for a bout with Jack Delaney the light heavyweight title holder were set aside temporarily.

"Latzo and Delaney last defended their crowns in July and hav cuntil January before they are subject to official challenges.

LAMESA VS. O'DESSA

(Special to The Avalanche)

LAMESA, Nov. 9.—The Tornadoes meet the Odessa high school squad here November 11th. It is General opinion that this game will be one of the hardest tilts the tornadoes will have the season.

The NUT CRACKER by Joe Williams

BABE RUTH has gained eighteen pounds since the last game of the series. . . . Which probably explains why his vaudeville act is going over so big.

AN inquiring reporter asked Mr. Dempsey how much he paid for his socks and he said he didn't know. . . . It probably would be too indiscreet to ask him how much he paid for the socks Mr. Tunney handed him.

BY charging $5.50 for tickets Mr. Cash and Capacity Pyle has clearly demonstrated what he meant when he said he was going to put tennis on a higher scale.

MAYBE you've heard of the Chicago citizen who died a natural death, having been riddled by machine gun bullets fired from a speeding motor car.

THE death of Walter Camp changed football to a greater extent than anybody figured it would. . . . Whereas only one man picked an All-America team then, everybody picks one now.

WHEN Mr. O'Goofty heard there were four mules in the Illinois backfield, he remarked that that was a remarkably low average of mental density for a college squad.

MR. JACK CURLEY has invited Queen Marie to attend one of his wrestling matches. . . . This practically amounts to an overt act, and Rumania will be justified in demanding an immediate apology.

IT is hard to explain the resignation of Fred Clarke of the Pittsburgh Pirates. . . . Perhaps Donie Bush, the new manager, does not pronounce "YES" very distinctly.

DEMPSEY and Rickard went to lunch together the other day and Dempsey had to pay the bill. . . . This is convincing proof that he has gone back completely.

BOBBY JONES says he does not intend to defend the British open golf championship next summer. . . . Presumably on the ground that he is getting too far along in the sport to be annoyed by minor events.

THE scholarly young gent at the next desk who has been reading Mr. Tunney's life history is very disappointed. . . . "That guy hasn't sent me to the dictionary yet," he moans.

Strolling Down Sport Lane

With James R. Dow

From all reports the Buffs are setting all their hopes on conquering the Texas Tech Matadors on Turkey day. The last season's score was in the "bullfighters'" favor, but very little, 13 to 12.

"Big Os" Eckhart, is training his crew of prairie stampeders rigidly for the big grid performance in Canyon on Thanksgiving.

—o—

Abilene Christian College will move to Lubbock for Armistice day, according to all reports from the "tee-pee' city. There will be a sspecial train for the fans of the Wildcats.

Already some 150 have signed for the train and it is thought that fully 300 will follow their grid favorites to Lubbock for the occasion.

—o—

Theo. Powell, a South Plains product and former member of the Ralls Jackrabbits, is the demon of the Wildcat offense—it has been his last minute rally that has won the Purple and White occasional victory this season.

Powell is one of the strongest bidders for a all-T. I. A. A. berth in the conference. It is a triple threat man—passes well, one of the most consistant ground gainers of the Cats, nad does a great part of the kicking.

His actions will be observed by a great crowd of Ralls fans it is thought. Powell was one of the most popular high school athletes in the high school circles at the time he was enrolled in the Ralls high school.

—o—

What is thought to be one of the fastest backfields on a Texas gridiron—the Matadors have it—with Percy Walker and Roy Stevens at halfs Woolridge at quarter and "Satchel" Hill at full.

—o—

Followers of the A. C. C. gridiron club consider the Tech game their big game of the season and would be satisfied to lose to everybody else, if the Wildcats can defeat the "bullfighters. That is the general opinion of the fans of the Purple and White.

—o—

A. C. C. Special train was practically assured Monday evening. The proposed schedule is: Leave Abilene 7 a. m.; arrive in Lubbock shortly before noon, Thursday. Train will leave Lubbock at 7 p. m. and arrive in Abilene at mid-night.

—o—

Some 200 to 300 fans will board the train at Abilene Armistice morning for Lubbock. The team, band, pep squad will all take the railroad route.

—o—

One of the backfield men of the Daniel Baker crew stated that the Freeland line was a night-mare to him. "Every time I carried the ball, there was either that "Ox" Reed or Carrot-top Smith right in front of me."

—o—

Every club that goes up against the Tech line, goes off the gridiron singing, "There is power, power, wonder working power, in the Tech line."

—o—

Yon and Frnka are certainly taking their high school gridsters through a series of workouts this week, getting ready for the Bulldogs of the Plainview kennel.

—o—

It is another chance for the Westerners and certainly they will prove worthy of the chance. For years it has been up and down with Lubbock and Plainview for the South Plains supremacy. This season the Westerners have won one game from "Duckie Allen's crew", but turned around and lost to the Sandies of Amarillo, then Amarillo loses to Plainview.

—o—

A great crowd of football fans will be expected to the weke-end performances. First, the Matadors, vs. the Wildcats, and then the Lubbock high school Westerners vs. the Plainview high school Bulldogs.

Ike Boone Coming Back

Ike Boone is coming back. The chap who led the Boston Red Sox in batting in 1925 with a mark of .330, but was shunted out to the Pacific Coast, will be seen in a Chicago White Sox uniform next season. During the 1926 campaign Boone, playing with the San Francisco Missions, was one of the leading batters in the coast circuit. He's expected to add much strength to the Collins team attack.

Lull Follows Valley Grid Storm

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 9. (AP)—A lull following the excitement of saturday's gridiron melodramas, settled over the campuses of Missouri Valley conference members as the teams settled down to the grind of mid week practice for Saturday which will see every squad in the valley pitted against a conference foe with the exception of Kansas and Oklahoma, who meet Thursday at Lawrence.

At Manhattan Coach Bachman prepared his Kansas Aggies for their invasion of Nebraska Saturday. The Aggies will virtually own the title if they dow nthe Corn Huskers.

Mustangs Ready Up for Dallas

DALLAS, Nov. 9. (AP)—Forgetting the victories they have already won this season, the Southern Methodist University Mustangs are bending all efforts toward bring in top condition for their fray against the golden Bears of Baylor university here Saturday, starting earnest preparation Tuesday afternoon. No heavy work was indulged in, as Morrison wants his men in their best physical shape for the battle. Dummy scrimmage and practice of new plays filled the afternoon.

Morrison reported his squad in perfect condition. Use of his reserve strength for a good part of the Rice game, enabled him to save his regulars considerably, and the cripples from a preceeding game all will be in shape to start Saturday.

Notre Dame to Meet Army Saturday

NEW YORK, Nov. 9 (AP)—Led by Army's unbeaten warriors of mole skin and pig skin, fifteen formidable football battallions of the east will unlimber heavy artillery on Saturday in the most extensive series of major engagements this year.

Chief national interest will center in Army's battle with Notre Dame at the Yankee stadium where two unbeaten elevens will battle with championship aspirations at stake. Ancient rivalries will be renewed between Princeton and Yale, Harvard and Brown, Colgate and Syracuse, Cornell and Dartmouth, Williams and Amherst, Washington and Jefferson and Pittsburgh, and Pennsylvania and Columbia.

The Army-Notre Dame feud started thirteen years ago in defeat of the West Point team 32 to 13. In the twelve games played, Rockne's teams have carried off the honors in eight, Army has won three, while one contest, that of 1922, ended in a scoreless tie.

The overwhelming victory of the future generals here last year at 27-0 interrupted a long Notre Dame march, for the Hoosiers had not previously been upset by Army since 1916.

The grapple of Princeton and Yale, which may decide the "big three" championship brings together the most ancient foes of the gridiron. They opened football hostilities more than half a century ago. With a triumph over Harvard last week the Tigers today ruled favorites to repeat their 1925 sweep to honors.

Indoor Practice For Western Teams

CHICAGO, Nov. 9 (AP)—Field houses and gymnasiums on every "big ten" campus echoed tonight with the shrill barking of football signals as Western Conference teams, driven indoors by a snow storm, readied themselves as best they could for Saturday's games.

Northwestern worked with fatalistic frenzy for the Chicago classic confronted by two jinxes. The Wildcats are dedicating Dyche field, their new stadium Saturday and they are entertaining the Maroons of the Evanston gridiron for the first time in almost twenty years.

Wisconsin foresees its first real chance to beat Iowa since the schools resumed relations in 1924. Iowa has won both contests in the last two years but in the infrequent clashes between 1894 and 1917 the Badgers won eight straights.

Michigan, regarded by Wolverine followers as nearing the peak of its form, drilled confidently for Ohio State and found itself a favorite after the easy win from Wisconsin.

A Stranger From the Sea

This unidentified ocean monster came too close to the United States liner Republic during a storm and was washed on board, smashing the ship's rail. It weighed 600 pounds. Seamen were unable to name its species though they were sure it was not of the whale family. Passengers called it a "Whatsit," which serves as well as anything.

CONVICT HERO MAY GET PARDON

FORMER BASEBALL STAR AIDED GUARDS IN BATTLE IN OHIO PRISON

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Nov. 9 (AP)—C. W. (Tex) Lattimer, former big league baseball player now serving a life sentence in the Ohio penitentiary for second degree murder, may have won himself a pardon or other clemency by his heroisf during the pitched battle that attended the escape and recapture of thirteen convicts at the institution yesterday.

Lattimer, a trusty, was working in the penitentiary office when the riot alarm sounded. He seized a revolver and joined the guards.

Miss Amanda Thomas, daughter of Warden P. E. Thomas, heard in the residence quarters above, the sound of shooting and started down stairs. Lattimer endeavored to persuade her to stay upstairs in safety. When she refused, he placed himself in front of her, it was said, to shield her from the convicts.

Lattimer was sentenced from Xenia, Green county, two years ago. He is said to have slain a man who was declared to be out to "get" him.

Lattimer was a catcher with the Baltimore American League team in 1901, and a member of the Brooklyn Nationals in 1902.

Governor Vic Donahey today said Lattimer's case had been discussed "unofficially" but no action had been taken. "Something may be done later" he said.

Oliver Claspy, the only one of the thirteen convicts not captured yesterday, had not been heard of by prison officials. Warden Thomas indicated that grand jury action against the men participating in the escape would be asked.

LUBBOCK SHOWS SCHOOL INCREASE

THIS COUNTY AMONG STATE'S LEADERS IN SCHOOL INCREASES

AUSTIN, Nov. 9. (AP)—Travis county showed the largest loss in scholastic poulation of any county in Texas last year, with a decrease of 15.97, the department of education announced Tuesday. Travis county scholastics decreased from 17,201 to 15,604.

The state scholastic on the whole increased from 1,340,000 to above 1,-348,000 the smallest increase in years, according to S. M. N. Marrs, superintendent of public instruction.

MARYLAND STORM

ers of the school, called the children about her when the first inkling of the storm was given. As they gathered, the building began to move and then the frame work was sheared from the foundation as cut by a scythe. The larger part of the building was about 50 feet away. Every living thing within its walls went with the wind.

Within ten minutes after the storm, calls for aid had been sent to Indian Head and Dahlgren, Md., and Washington. Medical aid was dispatched at once. The physicians and nurses first out on the scene found only a measure of order restored but most of the severely injured had already been started to Washington, and for others, the town's two hotels and newspaper offices served as hospitals.

Child Tells About It

One of the few children within the school who was able tonight to give an account of the disaster, was Muriel Hardesty, 13, one of the oldest in the classes. She suffered only a few bruises.

"The first time I knew what was happening," she said, "was when the window panes began to chatter. Then there was a thunderclap and a roar. The stove began to wobble about the room and then the whole building went over. The next thing I know, I was in the Bowling hotel."

30,000 Tickets Sold for Aggie-Tex. Game

AUSTIN, Texas, Nov. 9 (AP)—Approximately 30,000 tickets to the Texas A. and M. game Thanksgiving day have already been sold, it was announced by Wylie Glaze, secretary of the department of athletics at the University of Texas, Tuesday night. This leaves only about 10,500 yet to be disposed of.

Approximately 13,000 of the tickets have been sold by the University of Texas offices in Austin, while distributing agencies of A. and M. college have sold approximately the same number. The remaining 4,000 of the total number dispensed with have been taken up by the student bodies of both schools.

With fifteen more days in which to distribute the tickets before the date of the game, Glaze stated that he was most certain that the remaining 10,500 would suffice to meet the demand. The new stadium, which is nearing completion, as the concrete for last section in the north end has been poured, will seat 40,500 spectators.

HIGHWAY PROBE

September coucher for Ballentine, setting forth the $60 was "for work in the governor's office," and signed by Governor Ferguson.

Ballentine provoked much merriment by his laughing protestations that he had nothing to do, "as far as I know" with enforcing the laws of the state. He said he cleaned up the governor's office and the office of the board of pardons.

Ballentine said he had served time in the Texas penitentiary, was granted a parole by Governor Hobby, that the parole was revoked by Governor Neff, who later granted him a conditional pardon, and that he was granted a full pardon by Governor Ferguson. He stated he went to work in the governor's office when granted a conditional pardon.

Refuses to Answer

Needham refused to admit the Sherman-Youmans company used state highway department equipment on a private contract in Houston, and also declined to say how much state equipment the company used in maintaining for a year the Harris and Galveston county highways.

Critz asked if he company did not paint out the state sign on state equipment in use on private contracts, and Needham again refused to answer, pleading as in other instances of refusal that he Sherman-Youmans case was in court.

Although styling himself vice-president of the organization, Needham said he knew little about the Southern Road company, except that L. A. Sherman and Frank Youmans, who compose the Sherman-Youmans company, were putting up the money. Other officers of the company, he said, are, president, Colonel E. H. Combs; secretary-treasurer, C. A. Wells, both of Houston.

Away from Office

Office of the company is at Houston, and Needam said he had not been in the office since October 15. The company was chartered in Arizona with a capital stock of $200,000 of which $50,000 was paid in, and has a permit to do business in Texas. Needham said he had subscribed to $5,000 of the capital stock, but had paid none of it so far, and that he was to draw $300 a month salary beginning about November 18.

Needham said the Southern Road company had a sub-contract, under A. C. McFarlane, of Orange and Beaumont, to do inverted penetration work on about 30 miles of Jefferson county highways. He said Sherman also bid on the Jefferson county job, but that the contract was awarded to McFarlane at 34.9 cents a square yard—the same price the Southern Road company was to get under its sub-contract.

GENERAL WOOD ASSUMES POWER

PHILIPPINE GOVERNOR TAKES OVER DUTIES OF CENTRAL BOARD

MANILA, Nov. 9. (AP)—Governor General Wood today issued an executive order announcing that hereafter the duties and powers heretofore exercised by the board of control will be exercised solely by the governor-general. The board of control is comprised of the governor-general, president of the senate and speaker of the house of the insular legislature.

The executive order was issued under authority, it was stated, of opinions rendered by the judge advocate general of the United States army and attorney general of the United States holding invalid provisions of the Philippines statutes creating the board of control and defining its duties. These opinions greatly increase the power of the governor-general.

Under the Philippine statutes, the board of control selects the directors of all government owned corporations including the Philippine National bank, Manila Railroad company, National Development company, National Col company and other corporations.

The senate president and house speaker, being a majority, were enabled to dictate decisions of the board overriding, the governor-general.

The executive order with the opinions of Judge Advocate General Davis and Attorney General Sargent was handed to president of the Senate Manuel Quezon and Speaker Manuel Roxas immediately after the sine die adjournment of the legislature this morning.

LA FON LAYS PLANS FOR WHOLESALE HANDSHAKING AT NEW HOTEL NEXT MONDAY NIGHT FOR FORMAL OPENING

The traveling men of the southwest, the hotel officials of Texas, citizens of Lubbock and the South Plains will be guests of the Lubbock hotel and the Lubbock hotel operating company, Monday, November 15, when the formal opening of the hotel will be held. The Adolphus hotel of Dallas will take a leading part in the glad hand shaking given the local hotel by other Texas hotels while practically every hotel in West Texas will be represented, W. E. LaFon, manager of the hotel said last night.

The Adolphus hotel will be represented here by Otto Schubert, assistant manager and a number of other officials of the Dallas holstery. The hotel will also send the Jack Gardener's orchestra here to play during the celebration.

Open house will be declared from 4:30 to 5:30 when the public is cordially invited to visit the hotel and be shown through from top to bottom. In the basement the hotel officials will show guests through the sample rooms, barber shop, boiler room, trunk storage rooms, kitchen storage rooms and press shop.

They will also see the refrigeration plant, the well, and the water softening plant. On the ground floor visitors will be shown the lobby, the coffee shop, the kitchen and the various stores. On the mezzanine floor the visitors will be shown the banquet hall, the private dining rooms, and open court. A type of the rooms will be shown the public.

"The directors of the operating company are especially anxious that Lubbock people visit the hotel during the open house hours", Manager La Fon said last night. "Very few people here realize what a fine hotel we have here."

A dance will be offered the public from 9 to 12 Monday night with Jack Gardener's orchestra furnishing the music. A midnight lunch will be served the guests before the close of the dance.

The directors of the hotel operating company will assist the management of the hotel in extending a hand of welcome to the public. The directors are: W. A Myrick, Sr., president; Sam Arnett, W. L. Ellwood, Roscoe Wilson, Walter A. Myrick, Jr., Tom Duggan, I. C. Enochs, Dr. J. T. Hutchinson and Wyatt Hedrick, Fort Worth.

A committee of women will have charge of decorating the banquet hall for the formal opening celebration and will assist the directors of the operating company in entertaining the guests. This committee is composed of Mrs. W. A. Myrick, Jr., Mrs. Tom Duggan and Mrs. I. C Enochs. This committee will be assisted by other ladies whom they will call in to assist them.

WILL TRY TO GET NEW AUDITORIUM AT "STATE"

AUSTIN, Nov. 9. (AP)—Twenty public speaking organizations on the University of Texas campus have united efforts to obtain an auditorium for the institution. Resolutions have been adopted to be presented to the general assembly of students, and the board of regents, favoring a building to be called the Texas Union building project, to be constructed in two units one to be called a union auditorium building and the other a union gymnasium building.

The petition to the regents calls for the uniting of all the outside activities such as forensic, publications, dramatic and other activities by housing them in the auditorium, which would seat 3,000 to 5,000 persons.

At present the university is without an auditorium, being compelled to use a dilapidated shack for public gatherings.

STORM SWINGS FROM PANHANDLE

COLDEST WEATHER OF SEASON HITS CORN BELT WITH SNOW

CHICAGO, Nov. 9. (AP)—Winter strode across the corn belt today, turning rain to snow and leaving in its wake the coldest temperatures of the season as it advanced toward the Atlantic coast.

The storm was borne to the Great Lakes region from the Texas Panhandle, and from there it turned eastward promising snow as far east as the Seaboard within a couple days.

The snowfall swept by a strong wind across Iowa, Illinois and Indiana today, ceased toward nightfall as the storm moved eastward. Cold weather ensued. Lowering the mercury to twelve degrees in South Atlanta sixteen degrees in North Iowa and bringing freezing temperatures to the rest of the encompassed area.

Slight abatement was reported today in the southwest where the crest of the storm carried temperatures below 20 degrees.

Indoor football practice, slippery streets, late trains and some heavy snow were by-products of the first taste of winter. In Chicago the snow fell so heavily that it failed to melt outside of the business district as it fell. Wisconsin has five inches of snow.

Spoils of a Still Hunt

Estimated to have cost $300,000 to construct, this is all that remains of a giant bootleg distillery near Atlantic City, N. J. State police and prohibition agents destroyed it with five charges of dynamite. The copper coils were six inches in diameter, and feed pipes of the same size led to the waterfront a quarter of a mile away, where it once was used to load the liquor into small boats.

TEXAS BAPTISTS TO MEET IN SANTONE

HARMONY EXPECTED TO MARK 78TH ANNUAL CONVENTION

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 9. (AP)—Harmony and the absence of controversial issues are expected to mark the seventy-eighth annual session of the Texas General Baptist convention which opens here November 17.

Evolution, the troublesome question that has caused uproars in so many denominated conventions, will not be an issue, leaders say, because this body always agreed almost unanimously to bar its teaching from the schools, controlled by the convention.

In the past three years messengers from Dr. Frank Norris' church in Ft. Worth have caused some comment by their efforts to obtain seats in the convention, but even this issue is not expected to cause friction this year as leaders believe their uniform refusal to seat the representatives of the Norris church has established a precedent.

The chief concern of the convention will be the reports which it will receive from some more than a score of institutions owned by the convention in the state, and from its state board which administers the funds collected in the state for missionary enterprises and educational institutional enterprises.

"Much of the harmony in our conventions is due to the fact that the state convention is not a legislative body," the Rev. Jesse Yelvington explained. "The convention controls the policy for all of the institutions which it owns, but the convention has no voice in the doctrine of the member churches, with each church determines from the words of the new testament.

A blow at the American film industry is seen in the formation of an Australian company with $20,000 capital to distribute British made pictures in New Zealand.

TAX BATTLE IN CONGRESS LOOMS

LEGISLATORS GET OUT WAR CLUBS AND COOLIDGE LEAVES IT TO 'EM

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9. (AP)—With congressional war clubs already lifted for a tax battle at the approaching short session of congress, President Coolidge today left his tax refund proposal to the mercy of the legislators, with a suggestion for non-partisan consideration.

The official spokesman at the white house declared the president would leave it entirely up to congress if and how tax relief should be given at this time.

Moreover, he said the executive had not finally endorsed the program advanced by Secretary Mellon for a credit of about 12 1-2 per cent on next year's income tax payments, rather than an immediate refund.

He will talk with members of the house, where the legislation must originate before fixing upon a final plan.

There was no hint at the white house, however, that Mr. Coolidge would sanction any revision of the tax rate at this time—a demand which has been made by some Democratic leaders. Senator Smoot, chairman of the finance committee which must consider any tax legislation that comes before the senate, meanwhile has reiterated his view that the prospective $250,000,000 surplus for this fiscal year should be used for retirement of the public debt. If tax relief is to be given now, however, Senator Smoot said today that he considered the plan by Mellon practical.

LONGHORNS BRANCH OUT IN PHYSICS

EXPERIMENTS CONDUCTED IN THREE SPECIAL FIELDS

(Special to The Avalanche)

AUSTIN, Tex., Nov. 9.—In three distinct fields, the physics department of the University of Texas is doing special work. These fields are seismography, electromagnetism, and polarization. Experiments are being conducted in these respective fields by Dr. Arnold Romberg, Dr. S. Leroy Brown, and Dr. J. M. Kuehe.

In the field of seismography, Dr. Arnold Romberg, professor of physics, is working on the perfection of a low period seismograph, an instrument used to measure earth tremors. Seismographs for measuring short period vibrations are now being used, but Dr. Romberg is working on a seismograph which will measure long time vibrations.

Measurement of high frequency waves in wireless telegraphy and telephony is the work in which Dr. S. Leroy Brown, professor of physics, is now engaged. Dr. Brown is trying to extend into the domain of high frequency waves the same accuracy of measurement that has been attained in ordinary low frequency alternating currents.

Dr. Brown and his students have already invented a high frequency multimeter. Its invention marks a great advance in that direction by greatly increasing the quantitative accuracy of work in that field.

In the field of radio, Dr. Brown and his students are greatly aided by having a fully equipped radio station, KUT, which is no wonder the control of the physics department.

Steady progress is being made by Dr. J. M. Kuehne, professor of physics, in his research work in the field of polarized defraction and polarization. He states that his progress and findings have not been spectacular but they have been constant and steady.

Among the recent achievements in the physics department is the perfection of a new hygrometer by L. W. Blau, instructor in physics. Mr. Blau worked out his hygrometer, an instrument for measuring the moisture content of the atmosphere, in connection with his master's thesis. It involves a radically new principle and is extraordinarily sensitive, according to members of the department.

Probably the outstanding contribution in the field of photography was made last summer by Sister Michael Edwards of San Antonio. By experiments which she made at that time, she added considerably to the knowledge possessed concerning the laws of photographic action.

Special mention was made of the photographic exhibit of the class in photography which was shown in the Texas Exposition. It was officially adjudged the best display shown.

LAMESA PLANS TO DIVERSIFY

C. OF C. COMMITTEE MAILS OUT QUESTIONAIRE TO ALL FARMERS

(Special to The Avalanche)

LAMESA, Nov. 9.—The agricultural department of the Chamber of Commerce met in special session here last evening and outlined an extensive diversified program for Dawson county. A questionaire is to be mailed to every farmer in this county asking such information as to how many hogs, cows, chickens, turkeys, and acres to be farmed another year in cotton, feed, etc. This questionaire will also contain articles wanted on the farm. An effort will be made to return to the county all turkey hens to be placed on the market this fall. It is estimated that the Dawson county has 1500 turkey hens and if they could return to the county another year at least $10,000 would be realized.

This committee also suggested plans for organizing a poultry association to stimulate poultry products in the county.

This Department of the Chamber of Commerce cooperates with the C. B. Martin county agent.

The maid, who was employed in the Taylor home, had been fired in 1923 for shop lifting, police records showed.

'Dreyfus Case' Once Upset France, But Now Peace And Luxury Attend Last Chapter

BY MILTON BRONNER
NEA Service Correspondent

PARIS, Oct. 9. Thirty years ago he was the most famous man in the world. His hair once was as dark as his skin, slightly stooping, he is practically unrecognized. He is the most uninterviewable person in the French capital—Alfred Dreyfus.

The victim of a military caste's frame-up, the prisoner of Devil's Island, dwells in a sumptuously furnished apartment in one of the swagger residential districts of Paris. He, who once wrote poignant letters from a cell now sits quietly in his big study and writes and writes—what? Perhaps nobody will know until after the death.

Accused As Traitor

Remember his story? He was convicted by a military court martial of the crime of telling French military secrets to the Germans. He was a captain attached to the general staff. He came of a well-to-do Alsatian family and there was no financial reason for him to betray his country.

On January 4, 1895, he was publicly degraded. In front of his troops he went through the agony of having his epaulettes torn from his uniform. By a special law he was sent away, a solitary prisoner on a bare rock off Guiana—Devil's Island.

But he had friends who uncovered the real traitors and showed how he had been made the scapegoat to cover their sins. A new court martial brought in the remarkable verdict that he was guilty "with extenuating circumstances." He was sentenced to ten years imprisonment.

Reinstated and Promoted

But President Loubet granted him a pardon and in 1906 the highest court in France declared him innocent. He was restored to the army and advanced to the rank of Major.

During the war he was with the Artillery and served at the front. His son, during wartime entered the army as a private and came out a captain. His nephew got the Croix de Guerre and was killed. Dreyfus retired as a lieutenant colonel and in 1919 was made an officer of the Legion of Honor.

I found Col. Dreyfus "in," but he always is "out" when newspaper men call. He's had enough publicity to satisfy him for several lives.

But the concierge of the building is not quite so mute. The concierge knows all the comings and goings.

"Ah," said she, "I could have told you you would waste your time and a calling card. Oh!one! Dreyfus never receives reporters. Sad? Le Colonel Dreyfus? Mais non. He is gay. He is happy in his home, happy with his beautiful wife, happy at the married happiness of his son, Captain Pierre, happy with his brother Mathieu.

"Do his defenders come to see him? Monsieur, they are nearly all dead. Jaures, the great Socialist orator; Colonel Picquart, who risked his career to speak for him; Labori, the great lawyer; Zola, the famous novelist, all are dead.

"Only his brother and Clemenceau survive.

"Ride? No, the Colonel is getting too old for horseback. But Mathieu has an automobile and often comes to fetch him. He's very nice, very nice."

A man may not be a hero to his valet, but the martyr of Devil's Island is certainly an idol of his concierge. And if you know anything about the hard-boiled, worldly-wise concierges of Paris flat buildings, that is abundant praise.

GUN TOTING IS ASKED BANNED

GOVERNMENT CHARGED WITH ENCOURAGING SUCH ACTIONS

(By the Associated Press)

DALLAS, Nov. 9.—The federal government was charged with encouraging Texas gun toting in a resolution presented here today to the Texas federation of women's clubs in 29th annual convention.

Numerous killings in this state, may of them unpunished, are deplored by the resolution, and the organization is asked to petition the state legislature "to control and regulate the sale of fire-arms."

Held for Later Action

The resolution was among a number read by Mrs. Frank H. Slater of Dallas, chairman of the resolutions committee. With all other resolutions, it is to be held for action until later in the convention. Mrs. Slater had 14 resolutions, of which she read seven. There was no discussion.

The anti-gun resolution declares that "daily reports reveal an appalling number of fire-arms being carried by citizens" and states that the "federal government encourages this by advertising its cast off army and navy pistols for sale."

Want State Songbird

Selection of the "mocking bird" as the official state songster was suggested in another recommendation read by Mrs. Slater. Other resolutions urge appropriation by congress on $10,000,000 for a national art gallery the teaching of the United States constitution in the schools, and a closer co-operatio between the sate's institutions of higher learning and the club women.

About 500 club women from every section of the state attended as Mrs. J. U. Fiebis, of Haskell, state president, called the convention to order with a gavel made out of native mesquite by Mrs. W. R. Stamford, chairman of the arts and crafts department of the federation.

IDALOU WOMAN DIES

Mrs. Fannie Perkins, 88, died Sunday at the home of her son-in-law, O. T. Easter, at Idalou, and was yesterday buried in Franklin, Texas, her former home, the body being sent there by Rix undertakers.

BAPTISTS IN CONVENTION TO DISCUSS CONTROL OF $28,500,000 WORTH OF SCHOOL PROPERTY OF TEXAS CHURCH

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Nov. 9 (AP)—Control of what is perhaps the most valuable church property under the administration of any Texas organization will be exercised by the Texas General Baptist convention which convenes here November 17.

The various benevolent and educational institutions owned by the convention are estimated to represent a value of at least $28,500,000. They included eleven schools eight hospitals an orphans home and a publication.

The schools administered by the convention follow:

Howard Payne at Brownwood.

Simmons University at Abilene.

Burleson college at Greenville.

College of Marshall at Marshall.

The Decature Baptist college at Decatur.

Wayland Baptist college at Plainview.

Rusk Junior College at Rusk.

The San Marcos Baptist Academy at San Marcos, the largest academy in the south, and the second largest in the United States.

The Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary at Fort Worth, the second largest seminary in the world.

Hospitals and sanitariums controlled by the convention include:

The Baylor hospital at Dallas, said to be the largest in the southwest.

The Central Texas Baptist hospital at Waco.

The Fort Worth Baptist hospital.

The Baptist hospital at Houston.

The Rio Grande Valley Baptist hospital.

The Baptist hospital at Harlingen.

The West Texas Baptist hospital at Abilene.

The Baptist Tubercular hospital in El Paso.

In Dallas the denomination maintains the Buckner Orphans home, which houses more than 700 children, all of whom are being educated and cared for. The publication, "The Baptist Standard," is edited in Dallas.

Funds for all of these enterprises are provided through the state board of the convention, which is headed by Dr. Frank S. Groner, of Dallas.

QUELLED MOB

Man Sent To Jail For Forgery Has Had Spectacular Lifetime

HATTIESBURG, Miss., Nov. 9. (AP)—Probably the most spectacular incident of the career of Dr. G. S. Harmon, who was sentenced here today to serve 70 years in prison for forgery, occurred here in February 1920, when the minister repulsed a mob with a pistol.

Casey Jones, negro, was arrested on a charge of slaying a woman. A large mob formed one night and demanded that Jones be turned over to them. Harmon threatened to shoot any man who attempted to take the negro. The minister succeeded in preventing the summary execution to Jones.

A week later a mob removed Jones from the Forest county jail and lynched him.

CANYON PASTOR OLD IN SERVICE

REV. M. M. BEAVERS HAS SEEN CHURCH GROW FOR TWENTY YEARS ON PLAINS

(Special to The Avalanche)

CANYON, Nov. 9—Monday morning Reverend M. M. Beavers left Canyon to attend the annual meeting of the Northwest Texas Conference of the Methodist church at Childress.

Mr. Beavers has just completed a four-year pastorate at Canyon during which time his congregation has built a $65,000 church, equipped it, and have successfully removed the last cent of debt.

Bishop John T. Moore preached the sermon Sunday at the service which dedicated the handsome structure which is to serve the congregation for many years to come.

Beavers Old in Service of Northwest Texas Conference

M. M. Beavers has been in the Northwest Texas Conference for twenty years; a few days ago he stated that he is the only man left in the conference who has served it continuously since he entered it.

During his years in this Panhandle Conference he has seen the country change from one of wide reaching ranches to a region of farms, oil wells, and industries. His contribution to this great material development has been the building of eight churches.

A Builder of Young People

While the building campaign has been going on in Canyon, Beavers has said repeatedly "I would not do this work for a bunch of gray-beards and old women; they have passed he ime when hey need a church; his work is for he young people who are here now and for those coming later." As Canyon is a college town, and nearly 350 of the 780 members of the Canyon Methodist church are college people, the significance of the pastor's remark is evident. When workers were scarce and money hard to get, M. M. Beavers carried brick and did other hard work to keep the church building growing.

Through his insight, a trained worker, Miss Mattie Maw Swisher, has been put in charge of the young people's activities of the Canyon church, and through the co-operation of the pastor and worker practically every Methodist boy and girl of Canyon has been enlisted in some phase of church work.

During the past year 100 members have been added to the Canyon church

Popular Pastor with Canyon People

Canyon people are hoping that Reverend M. M. Beavers will be returned to Canyon for another year, as one member put it, "to enjoy the church he has just completed." Building the church in Canyon was a hard task for three other churches had building programs on hand and the town was only about 2500 year-round residents. The church has been built through the efforts of the entire citizenship uniting to assist the members of the Methodist church.

LOWRENCE CASE TRIED NEXT WEEK

MAN CHARGED WITH HAVING 3 WIVES TO BE DEFENDED BY WITCHER

While Judge Mullican agreed to continue the case of State of Texas vs. Lonnie Lowrance until the January term of court, counsel for the defense, late Tuesday, decided to withdraw their motion to that effect and the case will be tried here nex tweek.

Lowarnce is charged with bigamy, and the trial gives promise of being one of the most hotly contested cases for this term of court. W. B. Garrett, of Mangum, Okla., and Walter C. Witcher of this city will serve as counsel for the defense. Garrett and Lowrance's father, G. W. Lowrance, sheriff at Sayre, Oklahoma, left today for that city, but will return for the trial.

The defendant is charged by indictment with having married without a divorce from a former wife. He will plead temporary insanity, his attorneys say.

SAILOR RETURNS

Herbert Ottinger Visits Parents After Four Years In U. S. Navy

Herbert Ottinger, twenty-three year old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Ottinger, 913 1-2 Broadway, arrived home from San Francisco Monday night. Mr. Ottinger has been in the United States Navy for the past four years on the United States Steam ship Atair. Mr. Ottinger has served his four years enlistment, and on November 6th, received an honorable discharge. He had worked himself up to the high office of boat's swain at the time of his discharge, which is a very high office in the navy. He will remain in Lubbock temporarily at least.

DUGGAN WILL TAKE PART IN WEST TEXAS PRESS OPENING

LITTLEFIELD, Nov. 9.—President Arthur P. Duggan of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce has been asked to tak epart on the program to be held in connection with the creation of the West Texas Press Association at Colorado, November 20. A regional organization of newspaper men of West Texas is being undertaken for the purpose of getting a closer relationship between journalists of that section and to help them in working out problems of that fraternity in serving the best interests of West Texas.

Manager Homer D. Wade, of the West Texas Chmaber of Commerce will be toastmaster at th eluncheon which will launch the organization of the West Texas Preas Asociation. The Colorado Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring the movement, and has secured a number of prominent men of the state to take part on the program arranged for th ecvent.

MUSICIANS MEET

Littlefield Women Hostess To Music Teachers of South Plains Last Week.

(Special to The Avalanche)

LITTLEFIELD, Nov. 9.—The South Plains Music Teachers Asociation met here last week with Mrs. Arthur P. Duggan and Mrs. G. M. Shaw hostesses. The program rendered on Friday night, in charge of Mis Mary Dunn, of Lubbock, in connection with a pipe organ recital by Prof. Waghorn, director of music in the Tech college at Lubbock, was a rare treat to those fortunate enough to be in attendance. A banquet was served to the visitors in the basement of the Presbyterian church Saturday at noon. This Teachers Asociation is an organization of much educational and inspirtarural value to its members and friends, and this city is proud to have been selected as the meeting place of such an organization.

RAKING OYSTERS FROM THE DEEP

CORPUS CHRISTI GATHERS DAILY 20,000 COCKTAILS OR 120,000 SINGLED OYSTERS

(Special to The Avalanche)

CORPUS CHRISTI, Nov. 9.—Approximately 20,000 oyster cocktails or a grand total of 120,000 individual oysters are harvested daily from the mild waters of Corpus Christi Bay and are immediately distributed to many different Texas cities, according to information very recently compiled by the Corpus Christi Chamber of Commerce.

Over one hundred oyster fishermen put out in small boats each morning equipped with oyster rakes and knives and the average catch for each fisherman in about four gallons of the bi-valves which at the present time average around 300 oysters to the gallon.

The present method in use by these fishermen is to gather a large quantity of oyster shells in their boat, then pull the boat over to a reef in the bay, drop the anchor and leisurely remove the oysters from their shells.

For this operation a especially constructed constructed type of knife with a heavy blade and a large handle is used. Some fishermen are more dexterious than others both in regard to raking up the oysters and opening them and the fastest men of the fleet sometimes bring in as many as eight and ten gallons daily.

Professional fishermen are not the only ones however to be found among the oyster beds. Many residents of Corpus Christi prefer to catch their own supply of oysters and then tourist from all parts of the nation may be found gathering oysters practically every day in the week.

These oysters are shipped to practicaly every section in Texas and many go to Oklahoma, Arkansas and Mexico. They also prove popular with tourists as Christmas gifts and during the holiday season are sent to all parts of the United States.

The area of land under cultivation is dwindling in France. Figures show there were 390,000 less acres cultivated this year than last.

The National Cash Register Co. will send its "100 point" salesman to Havana, Cuba, in January as a "treat." Six hundred may go.

Military training will be introduced in all Turkish high and normal schools for boys. Attendance at summer training camps will be obligatory.

Detroit's new traffic ordinance besides forbidding "one-armed driving" and front seat crowding, also prohibits any one to drive with another person sitting in his lap.

Davis Makes Report of Visit to Philadelphia; Other Matters Are Discussed

Appropriating $50 to finish paying the expenses of the recent Nazarene convention here, listening to the report of A. B. Davis on his visit to Philadelphia, Waco, Washington, and other points, discussing action towards securing seven day mail delivery for smaller south Plains cities, and attending to other and minor matters, the Board of City Development met yesterday morning in the Chamber of Commerce rooms. Miss Mrytle Murray, district home demonstration agent appeared before the body and explained that the county would now be required to pay $1500 a year on the salary of the county remonstration agent, in lieu of the $1000 paid previously. Disc ussion was had of the possibility of having the Des Moines baseball club train here. No action was taken in these matters.

DR. BIDWELL TO OPEN OFFICE FOR HIMSELF

Dr. Bidwell formerly practiced past 18 months has made Lubbock his home, announced Tuesday that after this week he will maintain an office and do a general dental practice in this city. For more than a year he has been associated with Dr. W. S. Ferguson, but after this week he will be in his own office, room 219 Ellis building, where he hopes to meet all his old friends and customers, and new ones as well.

Dr. Birdwell formerly practiced dentistry in Kansas, but has been in Texas for almost two years. His office is being equipped this week and it is posible that it will be open to the public by Friday or Saturday. "Lubbock is a good town," said Dr. Bidwell, "and I have decided to make it my permanent home. There may be better towns, but its suits me so well that I have no desire to make a change."

WEAK, RESTLESS

Tennessee Lady Had So Little Strength She "Couldn't Get Around." Took Cardui With Benefit.

Gassaway, Tenn.—"I wasn't able to do any of my work, and it seemed like I had so little strength I just couldn't get around," says Mrs. Frank Murphy, who lives near here.

"My mother knew of the good Cardui could do, so she told me to take it. I sent and got a bottle, and seemed like all the time I grew stronger.

"I had been suffering with pains in my sides all the time, and Cardui helped this wonderfully. I needed a tonic for female trouble, and Cardui just fitted the need. I was awfully restless and could not sleep at night, but after taking two bottles of Cardui I could sleep 'like a top'. I got along all right, and I know it was due to Cardui. I can certainly recommend it to women suffering from women's troubles.

"My present health is just fine."

Thousands of women have written to tell how Cardui relieved them of pain and suffering, and helped them to improve in health and strength.

Cardui is perfectly harmless, being an extract of mild-acting herbs, and contains no dangerous drugs or harmful ingredients.

Sold everywhere. NC-174

DO CHRISTMAS MAILING EARLY

VAUGHAN WARNS OF CONGESTED CONDITION COMING NEXT MONTH

"Do your Christmas mailing early," is the plea which is being sent out by Postmaster John L. Vaughan i nan effort to relieve the local office of as much congestion as possible. He is making plans now to take care of the ten day holiday rush, having ordered additional equipment and clerks.

A large increase in the local mailing is expected by Vaughan through the local office and his plea is going out merely to insure as good service as possible for the citizens of Lubbock. He urges the co-operation of all the citizens as well as the merchants in aiding in the holiday mailing period. All greeting cards sent out by both merchants and citizens should be in the office not later than December 22, he pointed out yesterday to assure service on them before Christmas day.

With less than six weeks until Christmas, Vaughan urges that the people make preparations for early mailing of both cards and packages.

HUNT HAS LEAD OF 358 OVER OPPONENT

PHOENIX, Ariz., Nov. 9 (AP).—With little prospect of a material reduction in the official figures yet to be reported by th eclerks of the boards of supervisors in Apache and Maricopa counties, Governor G. W. P. Hunt's lead in his race with Judge E. S. Clark for the governorship today stood at 358 votes, the count being: Hunt (democrat) 39,919; Clark (republican) 39,561.

These figures included official report from the entire state with exception of half of Maricopa county and all of Apache county.

Never in the history of the automobile industry has the public been given such an opportunity to buy good tires at low prices.

Usco Tires are now priced as low as any tire on the market—including those foundlings that bear no manufacturer's name.

Yet Usco Tires, manufactured by the United States Rubber Company, bear the Company's name and trademark on the sidewall and are sold under the standard warranty.

You take no chance on quality when you buy Usco Tires—and the prices speak for themselves.

A PRODUCTIVE THOUGHT

The conversation ran something like this: Cotton prices are very much lower than usual, and I wonder how conditions will be next year. The railroads are not doing as much business as they were at this time last year. Then someone mentioned the fact that their "rooms were vacant;" some had "apartments," others "houses" some had "furniture" to sell. They were wondering what they could do to overcome these conditions, when a friend dropped in and suggested using the Avalanche-Journal classified ads. They are real business getters. He knew, because he had used them. They filled his vacant rooms, apartments, houses, sold his old furniture. You may use the classified ads, and obtain the required results.

DAILY MARKET

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Nov. 9 (AP)—The cotton market was comparatively quiet today, after selling up to 12.60; January contracts eased off under realizing by recent buyers, reacted to 12.45 and closed at tha figure, he general market closing barely steady, net 1 point higher to 5 points lower.

The market opened firm at an advance of 9 to 15 points. Active months showed net advances of about 14 to 16 points in early trading, December selling up to 12.50 and March to 12.86. Buying evidently was encouraged by the steady ruling of yesterday's market. Relatively firm Liverpool cables, while there was not much southern hedge selling. December eased off to 12.35 and March to 12.68 in late trading.

Las prices were at te lowest of the day, with May and later deliveries relatively easy.

Reports of further rains and windy weather in the south were a factor on the opening advance, as it is believed that an unusually large amount of cotton is still in the fields which might be damaged by unfavorable conditions.

Private cables reported covering with London and Bombay buying in Liverpool market and also a better turnover in cotton yarns.

cloth demand from India with a fair

Exports today 34,516 making 2,914,499 so far this season. Port receipts 119,684. U. S. port stocks 2,555,936.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 9. (AP)—The cotton market ruled rather quiet today with price fluctuations comparatively narrow. Following on early advance of 14 points, due to favorable cables and to the map showing of much rain and cold weather in the belt, prices turned easier on a renewal of hedge selling and realizing and before noon all the early gain had been lost and a little more besides as the price level was 1 to 2 points under the close of yesterday. During the afternoon the market ruled quiet with price fluctuations decidedly narrow and within the early range. Some trade demand developed on all dips and a little hedge selling on the rallies. The market turned easy again the late trading, the close showing net losses for the day of 5 to 8 points.

Liverpool came in about four penny points bette rthan due and the weather in the belt, according to the map, was bad. As a result first grodes showed gains of 10 to 12 points and prices advanced further after the start to 12.64 for December, 12.68 for January and 12.84 for March, or 11 points above the previous close.

The subsequent reaction due to hedge selling and prospects for better weather caused December to ease off to 12.48 near noon, January dropped to 12.53 and March to 12.89. In the late trading the market again eased off owing to prospects of good weather and hedge selling, making new lows for December at 12.42, for January at 12.46 and for March at 12.63, or 21 to 22 points down from the highs. The close was at or near the lowest. Exports for the day totalled 34,516 bales.

COTTON SEED OIL

NEW YORK, Nov. 9. (AP)—The easiness in tallow, greases and stearines, and selling by refining interests caused an easier feeling in cotton seed oil today with all deliveries except November selling into new low ground for the season. Final prices were 4 to 10 points net lower for active positions. Sales were 25,000 barrels. Tenders on November contracts, 300 barrels. Prime crude 6.75 at 6.87 1-2; prime summer yellow spot 8.46; November closed 8.37; December 8.27; January 8.25; March 8.34; May 8.45.

COTTON GOODS

NEW YORK, Nov. 9 (AP)—Cotton goods were sold at concessions today, pending a general price revision for spring that is expected in the next few weeks. Demand for gray goods are quiet. Yarns held steady with trade fair. Burlap markets were unchanged. Raw silk was firmer at Yokohama, but held steady here, with trade quiet. Silk goods ruled quiet.

WOOL

BOSTON, Nov. 9, (AP)—Sales of domestic fine fools are being closed at prices fully up to recent levels. A lot of territory short French combing and clothing staple has realized nearly 1.05 clean basis. This particular lot, however, was better than previous lots were in grade. Dealers are very firm at this figure and buyers are paying this price for delaines a little more freely.

SUGAR

NEW YORK, Nov. 9 (AP)—Raw sugar prices were unchanged today but the undertone was firm with continued good inquiry at the 4.58 cent level for Cuban, duty paid. Sales were about 100,000 bags of Cuban for prompt and November shipment at te quoted price including about 75,000 made late yesterday.

Fairly activ trade developed in raw sugar futures but orders were pretty evenly divided and prices moved within a range of 1 to 2 points. Final prices were unchanged to one point net higher. Approximate sales 50,500 tons; December closed at 2.80; January 2.84; March 2.84; May 2.92; July 2.99.

The refined sugar market was unchanged at 5.70 to 5.90 fro fine granulated with moderate withdrawals on only contracts but only small new business.

COFFEE

NEW YORK, Nov. 9 (AP)—Coffee futures showed a further decline today under liquidation and trade selling which appeared to be inspired by the easier ruling of Rio exchange rates and lower Brazilian markets, the general market closed at net declines of 20 to 25 points. Estimated sales 38,000 baks. Closing quotations: December 15.68; January 15.55; March 15.12; May 14.62; July 14.20; September 12.55.

Spot coffee steady; Rio 7s 16½ to 16 5-8c; Santos 4's 20¾ to 21c. Cost and freight offers included part Bourbon 3's and 5's at 19.20 to 19.55.

FORT WORTH LIVESTOCK

FORT WORTH, Nov. 9 (AP)—Steady tone developed throughout the livestock market here today. Receipts called for 3,900 grown cattle, 900 calves 30 0hogs and 375 sheep.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK

CHICAGO, Nov. 9(AP)—Cattle, 16,000; steady; vealers 11.00 @ 12.00.

Hogs, 35,000; 25c to 35c lower; top 12.65; bulk 12.00 @ 12.25; sows 10.25 @ 11.25; estimated holdover 10,000.

Sheep, 14,000; lambs steady to 25c lower; top natives 14.15; bulk fat lambs 13.25 @ 13.75; feeding lambs 12.75 @ 13.25; sheep unchanged, ewes 5.50 @ 6.50.

CHICAG O GRAIN

CHICAGO, Nov. 9 (AP)—Corn scored a brisk rally today, whereas wheat prices tended to sag. Much of the trade was to undo spreads, and was in the nature of simultaneous buying of corn against selling of wheat, a process requise the even up recent large transactions of exactly opposite character. Sharp falling off in the volume on corn today was apparent.

Corn closed unsettled 7-8c to ¼c net higher. Wheat unchanged to 3-8c off, oats at 1-8c @ ¼c to 1¼c advance and provisions varying.

Wheat prices averaged a little over, taking the day as a whole. One of the chief factors was word of improved weather in Argentina, but wheat crop reports from that country were conflicting, then, too, the movement of wheat in Canada continued liberal, offsetting notice of smallness of wheat stock at Liverpool. Oats sympathized with the upward trend of corn.

Provisions reflected weakness of hog values, but subsequently became steady on account of lard buying on the part of houses with foreign connections.

The British government has granted temporary settlement in London to 170 Russian Jews who have been trying for three years to enter the United States.

The Kona coffee crop, grown on the southwestern side of the island of Hawaii, is expected to reach 50,000 bags this year, a record.

Growing of bulbs, especially narcissus, has become a profitable industry on the abandoned rice fields of South Carolina.

Electrical speedometers, clocks and revolution counters, were among the accessories attracting most attention at the French Automobile Show.

HUBBARD OF C. I. A. IS A QUIET MAN

BORN IN PORTO RICO HE HAS HAD WIDE TEACHING EXPERIENCE

(Special to The Avalanche)

DENTON, Tex., Nov. 9.—Perhaps the very reserve of Louis H. Hubbard is his most compelling characteristic. At first one loses sight of his other traits in trying to fathom the man whose calm, almost tired eyes seem always mildly appraising, and whose sparse words are delivered in a voice that is seldom lifte dabove a level, well-modulated tone.

He has taken seriously his new assignment of directing the destinies of the second largest women's college in the world. Perhaps his naturally quiet mien is accentuated by the rather sudden acquisition of added responsibilities.

President Hubbard has determined to set certain new scholastic standards at the Colleg of Industrial Arts and to maintain rigidly certain other older ones. And to glance at his firmly set mouth, to note the resolution one finds in those eyes under an expansive brow, is to feel somehow—he will do it.

The C. I. A. head was born at Mayaguez, Porto Rico on February 10, 1882, but almost his entire life has been spent in Texas. When he was five his family moved to El Paso and he lived there thirteen years, working his way through high school while in the employ of the El Paso Herald, and later holding a position in the freight department of the Southern Pacific railroad. The four years following his graduation from high school were spent at the University of Texas where he received his Bachelor of Scienc degree in 1903. He was an a-r dent athlete, a member of the football team in his senior year and was awarded a "T" by the athletic association.

President Hubbard has had a wide experience as a teacher. He taught English in the Belton high school from 1903 to 1906. From 1906 to 1908 he was principal of the school and then went to San Angelo where he served in a similar capacity for two years. In 1910 he became superintendent of Belton schools and remained in that position for fourteen years, going to the University of Texas in 1924 as Dean of men. He came to C. I. A. as its president last June first, after nearly completing work for a Ph. D. degree.

President Hubbard is a life member of the Texas State Teachers' association and one of the organizers and a former president of the State English Teachers association, which later merged in the State Teachers association as the English section. He was one of the organizers of the Belton Rotary club, serving three years as its president.

Mr. Hubbard was married to Miss Bertha Altizer of Salem, Va., in 1912 at Long Beach, Calif. They have two children, Martha Louise, 10, and John Randolph, 7.

There is a certain competency expressed in President Hubbard's reserve his carefully weighed words, that is assuring. Behind that sober, unassuming manner burns an ardent flame of idealism, ambition and resolve for the state college for women that promises much.

COOLIDGE IS OFF FOR MIDDLE WEST

PRESIDENT TO DELIVER AN ARMISTICE DAY TALK AT KANSAS CITY

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9 (AP)—President Coolidge travelled again tonight toward the middle west, closing his offices to deliver an Armistice Day address at the dedication of the Liberty memorial at Kansas City, Mo., where five years ago, as vice president he spoke at the corner stone exercises.

In addition to Mrs. Coolidge, the president also had in his private car Secretary Davis of the war department, who is a resident of Missouri, and will speak at the ceremonies; Everett Sanders, secretary of the president and military and naval aides.

The president is due to arrive in Kansas City Thursday morning and remain there seven hours. He will speak at the exercises at 11 a. m., and then attend a public luncheon at a hotel. He wil not return to his desk here until Saturday.

It is the first time Mr. Coolidge has been into the middle west since he addressed the American farm bureau federation in Chicago last December and it is his first visit to Kansas City as president.

Citizens from all parts of the southwest will attend the dedication exercises which have been arranged on a non-political basis.

NEW AIR MAIL PLANE RECEIVED

WILL CARRY MAIL, EXPRESS, OR PASSENGERS FROM TEXAS

DALLAS, Nov. 9.—The National Air Transport, Inc., today received its new three-motored mail, express and passenger airplane.

Built for National Air Transport by the Ford Motor Company, the airplane represents the most advanced type of flying machine available for deluxe air travel. It is built entirely of metal, which practically eliminates fire hazard and greatly increases the life of the plane.

The power plant consists of three separate Wright Whirlwind engines, model J-4-B, each of 200 H. P. These engines are aircooled, which decreases weight and does away with much of the trouble caused by water cooled systems. In ordinary operation all of the three motors will be running at a part of their maximum output of power. In case of an accident to one of them the plane can proceed with only two in operation at about their rated output. In fact if two of them should be put out of commission the one remaining will increase the distance that the plane can glide by approximately 500 per cent, making it easy for the pilot to pick a proper landing field in the remote event that a forced landing is necessary.

120 Miles An Hour

At full throttle this new airplane will fly at 120 miles an hour. Ordinary cruising speed is about 10 0miles an hour.

In addition to mail and express, accommodations are provided for eight passengers. They wil lride in comfort in an enclosed cabin, insulated against heat, cold and noise, without any necessity for special clothing. Among the appointments are including a washroom comparable to that on a Pullman. The plane is fitted with dual controls. The pilot will always be accompanied with a mechanic capable of taking charge of the ship should the pilot become disabled.

This plane will be used by National Air Transport, in experiments to determine the feasibility of air passenger service. As soon as the machine has bee nthoroughly tested and the pilots have become familiar with its operation it will be sent on a trial trip over the air mail route operated by the National Air Transport, beeween Chicago and Texas. This trip will be the occasion of an inspection tour covering all stations on the route by officials of the company and their guests. The date for departure from Chicago had been tentatively set for Tuesday morning November 9th, but was postponed on account of cold weather.

BRITISH STRIKE LOSS REPORTED VERY HEAVY

LONDON, Nov. 9. (AP)—The British coal tie up and the subsequent slowing down of other industries thus far have resulted in loss of production in Great Britain of between £250,000,000 and £300,000,000, Sir Philip Cunliffe-Lister, president of the board of trade, today estimated in the house, which opened its autumn session.

This estimate he said did not include losses due to the disturbance of trade connections and contracts.

PRISON SYSTEM IN GOOD SHAPE

MORE CONTRACTORS TELL OF ALLEGED OFFICE IRREGULARITIES

(By Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Texas, Nov. 9 (AP).—The total indebtedness of the Texas prison system January 1 will be approximately $1,544,197.79 of which $1,287,826.72 will be due on that date, W. F. Magee, auditor of the system, told the house investigating committee today.

He said the appraisement of the system's properties by a qualified legislative committee would clear the books of "inflated values" with respect to assets, making the books "worth something like one hundred cents on the dollar" and go far toward making the system self-sustaining.

Veteran Testifies

Captain John L. King of Fort Worth, world war veteran and state commander of the disabled veterans of the world war, testified that although he was an intimate friend of Frank V. Lanham, former chairman of the highway commission, that he failed to get highway maintenance contracts because "my bid was too low."

Lanham said that his hands were tied and that he could not do a thing; that James E. Ferguson, the governor's husband, "let the contracts and that he did not have a thing to do with the letting."

Bids Not Considered

King said that he bid on maintenance for Hopkins, Franklin and Rains counties, and that Lanham told him his bids were not opened, neither were they considered.

Judge Richard Crita read into the record that King had bid $8,640 for the Rains county contract, and that it was awarded to F. E. Cawthorne of McKinney, Collin county engineer, for $25,526, and that the Franklin county maintenance contract was awarded to P. D. Price of McKinney, for $14,100 when King bid $3,247.
