On Soviet Union...

Trade Sanctions Imposed

LOS ANGELES (AP) — President Reagan, moving to punish the Soviet Union for the military crackdown in Poland, will block the sale of equipment for a pipeline that would carry natural gas from Siberia to Western Europe, a well-placed administration official says.

After reviewing recommendations by a high-level task force, Reagan also decided to halt of exports of high technology to the Soviet Union, including computers, and suspend maritime rights under which Soviet ships use U.S. ports and aviation rights under which Soviet airliners operate within U.S. boundaries.

An aide who asked not to be identified described the program being pursued by Reagan as "tightening the screws." It marks the first step taken by the administration against the Soviets, whom Reagan blames for the imposition of martial law in Poland.

Reagan, spending a week-long holiday in California, was expected to announce the decisions this afternoon after receiving the recommendations Monday of the administration's Special Situation Group.

The group met 2½ hours Monday while Reagan was on his way by helicopter to an afternoon of manual labor at his ranch about 100 miles north of here. The recommendations were relayed by telephone by Vice President George Bush, Edwin Meese III, the presidential counselor, and Adm. James Nance, acting national security adviser.

The president will confer later in the week with Secretary of State Alexander M. Haig Jr. in Palm Springs, deputy White House press secretary Larry Speakes said. Haig was speaking in San Francisco today.

Although Reagan's aides have said he would consult with the Western allies about any steps taken in connection with the developments in Poland, those likely to be announced today could be pursued without allied cooperation.

At the top of the list was a break in the sale of the equipment intended for the Soviets' planned 2,400-mile pipeline to carry natural gas from Northwest Siberia.

One well-placed source said the president rejected a proposal Monday to limit Polish credit at U.S. banks and to interrupt the export of technology for a combine harvester plant in the Soviet Union. The financially pressed International Harvester Co. received an export license for the technology transfer in early December.

GIFT PRESENTED—Evelyn McLaughlin Knox presented a gift of $2,000 to Historic Scurry County, Inc., an organization dedicated to the preservation of property of historical significance here. Contributions Made To Historic Scurry County

A fund-raising campaign of Historic Scurry County, Inc., has received a $2,000 gift from Mrs. Evelyn McLaughlin Knox. It is the largest contribution by an individual in the organization's program to restore and maintain the Dodson House, Scurry County's oldest dwelling.

Historic Scurry County has organized its fund-raising program in units corresponding to members of pioneer families. A gift of $5,000 or more qualifies for a "grandparents" membership, $1,000 to $5,000 is called a "mom and pop" membership, $500 to $1,000 a "brother and sister" membership, $100 to $500 an "aunt and uncle" membership, $50 to $100 a "cousin" membership, $20 to $50 a "friend" membership, and $1 to $20 a "visitor" membership.

Mrs. Knox's gift is the fourth received in the "mom and pop" category. Others are Edith McKanna; Sondra Cooper Davis and Charles Cooper III, in memory of Mrs. Ella Eubank, their grandmother who lived in the Dodson House for a number of years; and the Scurry County Historical Commission.

Three contributors are listed in the "grandparents" category, but none are individuals. They are First Federal Savings and Loan, purchaser of the property where the Dodson House was located which later contributed the house itself to Historic Scurry County; the City of Snyder and Scurry County.

Memberships listed in the "brother and sister" category include the late Lois Bennett, who made a contribution in memory of her husband, Harold Bennett; Wayne Boren, in memory of his wife, Esther Boren; West Texas State Bank, in memory of Esther Boren; and Coleman H. Smith, in memory of Clare Dodson Smith.

Historic Scurry County, Inc., was organized to serve as a vehicle for preserving properties of historical significance since county historical commissions are not permitted to own property. After the Dodson House was given to the organization by First Federal Savings and Loan, the house was moved to a permanent site on the Scurry County Coliseum grounds where restoration work has been in progress for several months.

Judge Upholds Handgun Ban

CHICAGO (AP) — A federal judge today upheld the right of a suburban village to ban the sale and possession of handguns.

U.S. District Judge Bernard Decker said the Morton Grove ordinance is valid and does not infringe upon the individual rights provided by the Illinois and United States constitutions.

Attorneys for one of the groups of citizens opposing the ordinance said they will appeal the ruling.

Martin Ashman, Morton Grove village attorney, called Decker's ruling "a landmark decision."

The village board had voted 4-2 on June 8 to ban the sale and possession of handguns by Morton Grove's 24,000 residents. The ordinance, among the most stringent ever enacted in the United States, was immediately challenged in court as an infringement on the constitutional right to bear arms.

In a 35-page decision, Decker said, "reasonable people can, in good conscience, oppose what Morton Grove has done, while equally reasonable people can fully support this ordinance."

He said the Morton Grove trustees "must have been aware of the deep-seated conviction of a number of its citizens that they should be permitted to retain handguns for the protection of person and property.

"The trustees concluded, however, that the public interest outweighed the claimed personal interest of the opponents of this legislation. The ultimate settlement of this troublesome political question must be returned to the citizens of Morton Grove where it properly belongs rather than in the court."

Police Officer Is Kidnapped

KINGMAN, Ariz. (AP) — State police officer Claudia Schmitz, abducted Sunday by two hitchhikers, says she doesn't think she "could have come any closer to death than that."

Ms. Schmitz, 31, said one of the two hitchhikers who held her at bay with her own revolver "kept saying he was going to shoot me if he didn't get free."

"Every time we saw another patrol car, he said he would shoot me," Ms. Schmitz said. "He had the hammer back and as we approached the roadblock, he had me by the collar with the gun at my head. I figured he was going to do it."

The male hitchhiker is believed to be Arnold Naftel but apparently is known by a variety of names. A woman who identified herself as Dawn R. Lombard accompanied him and the two were being held here Monday following the alleged abduction.

Sgt. Allen Schmidt of the Arizona Department of Public Safety said the pair surrendered to Officer Schmitz after 40 minutes of negotiations at a police roadblock near Hoover Dam.

Bond was set at $16,800 each after a Justice Court appearance here Monday.

Ms. Schmitz had stopped two hitchhikers Sunday morning on Arizona 93, about two miles north of Kingman, and had run a routine check to determine whether either was wanted for any felony, Schmidt said.

That's when she was told a second-degree grand larceny felony warrant had been issued by the Broome County Sheriff's Department at Binghamton, N.Y., in the name of Arnold Naftel for a person fitting Naphtali's date of birth and general address in Endicott, near Binghamton, Schmidt said.

Naftel told Ms. Schmitz that the warrant might be for his brother, but about that time a police dispatcher lost radio contact with Ms. Schmitz.

Ms. Schmitz said Naftel pulled a knife and that in the ensuing struggle he was able to gain possession of her gun.

"We struggled and I went for my gun and he went for it, too. I tried to get the knife that at that point was at my throat," she said.

"It all happened so fast, the only thing I could think of was to keep that knife away from my throat," she added.

Ms. Schmitz said Miss Lombard was frightened.

"She didn't want to go to jail, but she didn't want to die, either," Ms. Schmitz said.

Other officers arriving on routine backup saw Ms. Schmitz, in handcuffs with a gun trained on her, being ordered into the back seat of her patrol car, Schmidt said.

Ms. Lombard drove the patrol car north toward the Nevada border while the backup officers and aircraft followed, Schmidt said. DPS dispatchers rerouted traffic and set up a roadblock near Hoover Dam, he added.

The police car was turned around when the driver saw the roadblock but was stopped after about a half-mile, he said. A DPS negotiator then talked with the hitchhikers by radio for about 40 minutes before Ms. Schmitz got on the radio and said they had agreed to surrender to her, Schmidt said.

Ask Us

Q.—Is there any plan to put new topping on East 25th St. in Snyder?

A.—This street, which carries traffic for Business U. S. 84 and 180, is maintained by the state and at present there are no plans for retopping it. Ed Vernon, resident engineer for the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation, said a request was made for sealcoating, but so far, it has not been approved, which means they will have to continue patching the existing pavement.

15-Year-Old Boy Held In Stabbings

ODESSA, Texas (AP) — A 15-year-old boy was being held Monday in connection with the stabbings of two men, one of whom died after being stabbed 51 times, police said.

The man who died was identified as Casimiro Ramirez Trejo, 53. He was pronounced dead inside a wooden shed at 1:58 a.m. Sunday.

The injured man, Ramon Huerta, was listed in critical condition Monday in the intensive care unit of Odessa Medical Center Hospital.

According to a report filed by Odessa police detective John Blanco, police officers A.S. Lawrence and Harold Salmon went to a home on Olive Avenue in response to a report of an assault. When they got there, the 15-year-old told them he had killed two men, the report said.

Police were trying to determine what prompted the stabbings.

Tuesday update

Hispanic Immigration

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas (AP) — An Hispanic leader has lashed out at the Reagan Administration's Latin American immigration policy as "nearsighted and hypocritical."

Ruben Bonilla, national counsel of the League of United Latin American Citizens, criticized in a statement Monday reported plans by the Immigration and Naturalization Service to revoke tens of thousands of temporary residency permits that have allowed Mexican aliens to live legally in the United States since 1977.

A Christmas weekend news story by the Los Angeles Times quoted an unidentified immigration official as saying INS offices would begin revoking about 170,000 temporary permits issued while an immigration case involving Mexican National Refugio Silva was being resolved in Chicago.

China Cools Ardor

WASHINGTON (AP) — China is cooling its ardor toward the United States as part of a long-range policy aimed at enhancing its position among Third World nations, American officials say.

The officials, who asked not to be identified, said the Chinese policy has added a new and divisive dimension to Sino-American ties, already clouded by uncertainties over future U.S. military relations with Taiwan.

China has been trying to gain clout with Third World countries for years with only marginal success. It apparently has concluded, the officials said, that the campaign was being hampered by its close identification with the United States.

Percy Meets Israeli Leaders

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — Sen. Charles Percy says the Reagan administration has been repeatedly surprised by the Jewish state's sudden military attacks and annexation of the Golan Heights.

The Illinois Republican, who chairs the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and frequently criticizes Israel, planned to meet Prime Minister Menachem Begin and Defense Minister Ariel Sharon later today. Israelis hope the talks will ease tensions between the allies.

Percy met Foreign Minister Yitzhak Shamir for two hours Monday after he arrived for the two-day talks but made no comment. Israeli officials described the tone as cordial.

"We would all like to see the relations moving to a better understanding," said an Israeli official who requested anonymity.

Morin Hearing Set

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — Defense attorneys say they will ask for a change of venue in the murder trial of a man accused of four killings and considered a suspect in a string of abductions, rapes and other slayings in nine states.

Court-appointed attorney Pete Torres Jr. said he expects Stephan Peter Morin to plead innocent based on insanity or incompetence to stand trial when he appears before Justice of the Peace Maria Irene Canales de Janssen.

The examining trial to determine whether there is probable cause to hold Morin without bail will mark his first appearance in open court since his arrest Dec. 12 in Austin.

Morin, 34, a native of Providence, R.I., has been jailed here since Austin police arrested him at a bus station on charges he shot 21-year-old Carrie Marie Scott to death in San Antonio while attempting to seal her car. He also is accused of wounding Dru Valdes, 25, during the same incident.

Death Toll Falls Short

Associated Press

Good weather and a lousy economy might have helped keep the Christmas traffic death toll below estimates made before the three-day holiday weekend, a National Safety Council official says.

During the holiday period, 320 traffic deaths were reported on the nation's highways, well below the 450 to 550 deaths the council projected would occur between 6 p.m. Friday to midnight Sunday.

In Alabama, where officials had estimated that 10 people would die in holiday traffic accidents, no highway fatalities were reported. State police spokeswoman Paula Weiss said it was the first holiday period on record during which no traffic deaths were reported.

No traffic fatalities were reported in 10 other states — Alaska, Idaho, Maine, Montana, Nevada, New Hampshire, North Dakota, Utah, Vermont and Wisconsin. The highest state death tolls were in California and Florida, with 32 each.

This comes a little late to help if you were hard pressed to find an appropriate Christmas gift for a wife or girl friend. But there's always next year.

Anyway, we have received word that a marijuana flower perfume is on the market. It is called "Sinsemilla," and was allegedly created by an Italian perfumer in a laboratory on the outskirts of New York City.

The makers claim that it captures "the sweet, resinous fragrance of the California sinsemilla bud in an exotic, intoxicating perfume."

From the little we know about the smell, or odor, of marijuana, they can have it, and girls around the office declare they would regard it as a liability rather than an asset if they were wearing it to impress someone.

To each his own, however.

Perhaps this has helped the production of marijuana to become one of the top agricultural crops in California.

But, as many fragrances as there are, we can't help but wonder why anyone would bother trying to capture the odor of marijuana in a perfume. Of course it might come in handy if an addict, or user, should be stopped for a traffic violation. If the peace officer got a whiff of marijuana and indicated that he might look farther, the user could say, "It's okay officer. I'm wearing marijuana perfume and that's what you smell."

But we still wonder why. Like we wonder why the Houston Oilers let Ken Stabler come out of retirement, and why they traded Rob Carpenter away.

But, getting back to the perfume, we also have been favored with some information about the use of cosmetics in the 18th century. It seems that "the porcelain look" was all the rage in those days. And they used a lot of plaster-type substances because it was needed to cover up dirt imbedded in the skin. Bathing was not popular in those days.

But women of class painted their faces as white as they could get them. A suntan was an indication that a person worked in the fields.

So, with bathing shunned and the procelain look in style, suffice it to say that there was no market for swimming pools in those days.

Healthy Year Seen In Hospital Report

The board of managers of Cogdell Memorial Hospital approved the administrator's report for November and briefly discussed some of the hospital's financial problems last night.

Although the November financial report showed a balance of $137,000 for the month, the hospital has a deficit of $400,000 for the first 11 months of 1981.

The situation is attributed to several factors, including opening of the new wing last spring, delays in Medicare payments, higher utility bills, etc. However, the patient census was cited as the major factor.

People just haven't been getting sick as much as usual this year, said Cy Miller, administrator. Miller said he had discussed the situation with administrators of several other hopitals in the area, and all reported a similar experience, and they have similar deficits for recent months.

Miller also said that doctors are not seeing as many patients as usual.

So far, the late fall and winter months have not produced the usual heavy demands for hospital services. Consequently, there has not been the normal catching up from the slower summer months.

No immediate solution was seen, although Miller said he expected the patient load to increase eventually.

Rex Robinson, chairman, presided over the meeting. Other board members attending were Sam Cross, Roy Kidd, Leon Autry, John Jarrell and County Judge Preston Wilson. A. Z. Glover was absent.

Ex-Ambassador Says...

Cut Off Trade To Poland?

WASHINGTON (AP) — The former Polish ambassador to Japan who renounced his position to protest the Warsaw regime says the United States should cut off all trade with his homeland and the Soviet Union.

"Do not give a single penny to the perfidious Polish junta," Zdzislaw Rurarz told the Commission on Security and Cooperation in Europe.

Asked by Sen. Bob Dole, R-Kan., whether this meant "no trade, no food, no credits" to the Polish military government, Rurarz replied: "I would go even further than that. Not to the sponsors either."

He identified the "sponsors" as the Soviet Union, saying, "We are, in fact, fighting against the USSR.

"This junta, this government, would not stay in power for even a day, would never have come to power, without backing from the USSR," he said Monday. "The real screen players and conductors of the Polish drama are behind the Kremlin walls."

In Los Angeles, White House spokesman Larry Speakes said the administration's Special Situation Group met at the White House on Monday and "reviewed a number of possible steps or options that may be taken as a result of the Polish situation." He said President Reagan's decisions would be reached and made public by the end of the week.

The United States already has suspended food aid to the Polish government, but has stopped short of an outright trade embargo and is backing food contributions as long as they flow through non-government channels in Poland.

AFL-CIO President Lane Kirkland charged Monday in a speech to the Industrial Relations Research Association that the administration is not reacting firmly enough to the situation in Poland.

Kirkland did not give details, but said the AFL-CIO was urging "a series of strong measures...aimed at the Polish government and the true authors of the crackdown, the Soviet Union."

ASTRO-GRAPH

Bernice Bede Osol

Your Birthday

December 30, 1981

Dealings this coming year with friends who think on your same wavelength should work out successfully for all concerned. Involvements with persons whose ideals clash with yours could prove bothersome.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Don't have a short memory and forget persons who have been helpful to you recently, especially if they are in the need of your assistance now. Predictions of what's in store for you in each season following your birth date and where your luck and opportunities lie are in your new Astro-Graph. Mail $1 for each to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to specify birth date.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) If money is a factor in plans you are conceiving at this time, it's better to project the cost higher and allow for contingencies.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Certain persons with whom you'll be associated today will be impossible to please, no matter what you do. Do your best. Let the chips fall where they may.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) You are likely to handle matters extremely well up to a point today, but there is a chance your interest may wane. You could undo that which you've accomplished.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) If everything does not come out exactly as you'd hoped today, try not to blame others for something you should have attended to.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Timing is extremely important today, so don't press your plans into action prematurely. Think things through. Move at a cautious pace.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) This is not a good day to leave essential tasks to the last minute. By scheduling your workload properly, you can be both productive and efficient.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Subdue impulses today to take risks where you could get in over your head if you miscalculate. Erratic behavior spells trouble.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Be careful about making commitments today moneywise. Later, you may want to back out of an impulsive promise and find that you can't do so gracefully.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Do things pleasurable to you today, but don't make them your top priority. Activities which interfere with duties should be postponed.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) On a whim today, you could buy something or enter into a financial arrangement which may not serve your best interests. Prudent analysis will enable you to avoid this mistake.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Your friends might find you a trifle hard to read today. You could say one thing and mean another. Let your actions represent your thoughts.

at wits end

by erma bombeck

This winter, a lot of you people out there are going to be using your fireplace a lot. As some of you may or may not have already discovered, there is an art to starting a fire.

Here are some observations that might prove helpful.

Do not count on a careless smoker to start your fire. There is never a careless smoker around when you need one. I've seen them on television a million times and so have you. The smoker who simply flips a cigarette butt into a field and seconds later 300,000 acres of forest are ablaze. All it would take to start you fire is one careless cigarette, but it'll never happen.

Old newspapers never burn. You can feed your fire 50 to 60 pounds of newspapers that are taking up space in your garage, but they won't burn. The only paper that will catch on at all is the one just delivered which no one has read and which still has a rubber band on it.

Cereal boxes, milk cartons and cracker boxes are excellent fire starters, but you lose momentum when you have to stop and wait until the kids eat up their contents.

Everyone in the room watching you struggle to build the fire will know that your wood is unseasoned but you. The builder of the fire is always the last to know.

Half of the people in the room watching you struggle to build the fire will know that you are giving the fire too much oxygen, thus creating a draft and blowing it out.

The other half of the people in the room watching you struggle to build the fire will know that you are not giving it enough oxygen, thus smothering it and blowing it out.

Do not be proud when members of the family offer old rulers, yardsticks, shoe supports, wooden hangers, birdhouses and Popsicle sticks. Every little bit of kindling helps.

Do not assault people who say they installed a gas conversion urner for under $14, use the prepared logs at the store for 98 cents, or who sit around all summer having the kids roll logs out of old newspaper that burn for 30 hours.

Never spurn the help of an eight-year-old Scout who once built a fire out of wet wood by rubbing two Boy Scout leaders together.

Never to go bed on a fireplace of darkened ashes. The moment you turn your back and say, "It's too late for a fire anyway," flames will leap out toward the screen, wood will crackle and pop and you'll have smoking embers for three days.

Remember, being warm isn't everything.

Demonstrators Being Detained

ISLAMABAD, Pakistan (AP) — Afghan demonstrators protesting Soviet intervention in Afghanistan were detained temporarily in the capital of Kabul on the second anniversary of Moscow's military action, officials said.

The demonstrators shouted anti-Soviet slogans and attempted to march on the Soviet Embassy in the capital. The embassy was closed Sunday and its staff apparently unaware of the incident.

Dear Abby

Boxer Shorts Bear Many Blessings

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1981 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: Around the first of the year you had a lot of letters in your column advising men to wear boxer shorts, instead of the tight kind that hugged the body, if they wanted to become fathers.

It so happened that my wife and I had been trying unsuccessfully for years to have a child. The doctors found nothing wrong with either one of us, but none could help us. The last doctor told us to give up and adopt a baby.

Then we saw the letters in your column recommending boxer shorts to increase fertility. We both laughed, but my wife said, "Let's try Abby's suggestion for just one month," so I bought three pair of boxer shorts and started to wear them. Guess what? The second month my wife got pregnant!

On Nov. 19 she gave birth to a beautiful baby girl. She weighed 7 pounds 6 ounces and we named her Catherine Ann-Marie. (I'm enclosing her picture.)

God bless you, Abby. My wife, Carol, and I both love you for your wonderful column in the Cedar Rapids Gazette.

GALEN A. LUKE, CEDAR RAPIDS, IOWA

DEAR GALEN: Congratulations to you and Carol. Catherine Ann-Marie is indeed a beautiful baby. May the Lord richly bless you and your family.

DEAR ABBY: I'm a bachelor living alone. There's another bachelor in my building who drops in often, and we rap. He seems like a nice guy, but all he talks about is his sex life — which according to him is terrific! His biggest complaint is that once he scores with a woman he can't get rid of her.

I don't know whether to believe him or not. He certainly doesn't look like a ladies' man, and I've never even seen him with a date.

What is your opinion of a guy who is always talking about sex?

DOUBTING THOMAS IN THOMASVILLE, GA.

DEAR THOMAS: He's probably doing what he does best. Talking.

DEAR ABBY: You said you couldn't understand why anybody would refuse to share a recipe. The enclosed poem may give you a clue:

She didn't have potatoes
So she used a cup of rice.
She couldn't find paprika
So she used some other spice.
Tomatoes weren't in season
So she used tomato paste.
The whole can — not a cup, dear
She couldn't bear to waste.
And now she isn't speaking;
She's convinced I pulled a fast one.
So don't ask me for a recipe —
That one was my last one!

By Oswald Jacoby and Alan Sontag

The late Helen Sobel won both the Vanderbilt and Spingold cups. The only other woman to do the same is Edith Kemp of Miami.

Edith has been at the top for 40 years. Her style is aggressive. Hence, when East stuck in a non-vulnerable three-spade pre-empt Edith decided to overbid and got to six notrump on her own momentum.

West opened the seven of diamonds and Edith studied that lead. Why not lead partner's bid suit? Obviously, because you hold the guarded king. Why lead dummy's bid suit? Probably because you have the other two kings. What did that leave East for his three-spade bid? Favorable vulnerability and mild insanity.

So, Edith decided to play West for all three missing kings. At trick two she led her queen of hearts. West's king fell to dummy's ace. The nine of clubs was led and allowed to ride to West's king.

A second diamond was led. Edith won in her hand, cashed her ace of spades and last three clubs while discarding a heart from dummy. Then she ran dummy's diamonds. West had to throw two hearts in order to keep the king of spades. Edith had chucked her queen on one of the diamonds and the J-9 of hearts were the 11th and 12th tricks.

BAKED EGGS

As they were enjoyed by youngsters at a well-known nursery school.

4 teaspoons butter
4 large eggs
4 tablespoons milk

Butter each of 4 six-ounce custard cups with 1 teaspoon of the butter. Drop an egg into each cup without breaking the yolk; pour 1 tablespoon of milk over each egg. Place cups in an 8 by 8 by 2-inch baking pan; add enough hot tap water to the pan to come up as high as the eggs in the cups. Place a sheet of foil over the pan, folding the foil down over the sides to cover the pan tightly. Bake in a preheated 325-degree oven until the egg whites congeal and the yolks are still soft but firm — 30 minutes. Serve at once, passing salt and a pepper mill. Makes 4 servings.

Computers Used In Fabric Design

PARIS (AP) — Microcomputers are being used to help discover new and practical designs in color for fabrics, reports a computer information journal.

According to MIS Week, the system — intended to provide a personalized method for design by weavers — is already online in Paris.

"The biggest single advantage of computer-assisted design is that it provides an enormous gain in time for creating new woven fabrics by diminishing the number of samples required," the journal said.

Main functions of the system include:

—An ability to determine if any one design can be woven according to its specifications and to indicate how that design can be woven.

—The capacity to permit a designer to visualize the finished product on a screen with "zoom" capability for enlarging or diminishing the pattern.

Your electricity will cost more in 1982 mainly because the fuel to make it will cost more.

In 1982, we'll have to pay more for the fuels used to produce your electricity. Partly, this is because another contract for low-cost natural gas fuel is expiring. But mainly it's because the price of all fuel continues to rise.

We spent about $200 million in 1980 for fuel to make your electricity. In 1981, the fuel bill will be about $400 million. And in 1982, we estimate we'll have to spend $640 million for fuel.

Approximate Cost of Fuel

Year	Fuel cost paid by Texas Electric	Your average annual fuel cost per kilowatt hour
1980	$200 million	1 cent
1981	$400 million	2 cents
1982*	$640 million	3 cents

*Estimated

We buy all our fuels at the lowest price available. We charge our customers exactly what we have to pay for fuel. And each month, we show on the bill the "fuel" part of the total cost of electricity.

At Texas Electric, we're trying to hold down fuel costs by making as much electricity as possible in plants built to use lignite coal — a cheaper fuel. And we're building a plant to use uranium, the lowest priced fuel available to us.

You can help hold down your electric bill by conserving at home. To learn how, please call us.

Gophers Rout Army; North Carolina Wins

by The Associated Press

It was simply a case of one team having all the troops.

That team was the Minnesota Gophers, who marched all over Army 79-37 in the opening round of Pillsbury Classic Monday night. The ninth-ranked Gophers' victory was the most impressive on a busy night of college basketball festivals, classics and holiday tournaments.

"Going in, we felt we may have the best 10 players on the floor, not one or two best," said Minnesota Coach Jim Dutcher. "It is hard to fool guys when you are so much bigger and faster."

Army Coach Pete Gaudet wasn't that impressed with the Gophers - for the first 10 minutes at least.

"We did what we wanted to do. If we had continued to play our game, we could have made it respectable," he said, referring to the small 21-15 lead host Minnesota held at that point. Then the Gopher reserves went on a 14-2 tear and Minnesota was ready for the finals, againt Arizona.

Gary Holmes paced 6-1 Minnesota with 17 points.

Arizona moved into the championship game with a 64-59 decision over Montana State. Gregg Cook and Jeff Collins combined for 34 points and led a 14-2 spurt in a four-minute span of the second half to put the Wildcats on top.

In other tournament action involving ranked teams, No. 1 North Carolina edged Penn State 56-50 in overtime in the first round of the Cable Car Classic in Santa Clara, Calif.; No. 2 Wichita State nipped Fullerton State 70-57 and No. 20 North Carolina State beat Michigan State 67-46 in the opening round of the Rainbow Classic in Hawaii; No. 7 Missouri took Southern California 65-58 to win the Winston Tire Classic; 12th-ranked Alabama routed Delaware 84-62 in the Best Holiday Classic in Portland, Me.; No. 19 Villanova edged No. 11 Indiana in the ECAC Holiday Festival in New York; No. 15 Oregon State fell to unbeaten Idaho 71-49 in the semifinals of the Far West Classic in Portland, Ore., and 18th-rated Houston edged Purdue 59-58 in the opening round of the Sugar Bowl in New Orleans.

Super Pitcher Gets Married

MERIDA, Mexico (AP) - Fernando Valenzuela, the Los Angeles Dodgers' pitching sensation, has married an elementary school teacher in a brief civil ceremony, but he'll do it again tonight in church.

Present at Monday night's ceremony was his business manager, Tony DeMarco, and the man credited with having discovered him, Mike Brito.

Tonight's ceremony for Valenzuela, 21, and Linda Burgos, will be held in Merida's church of the Immaculate Mary. Dodger Manager Tommy Lasorda is expected for the church wedding.

Valenzuela, who was named National League Rookie of the Year and given the Cy Young Award as the league's best pitcher in 1981, is a national hero in Mexico.

He has been received by President Reagan in Washington and by President Jose Lopez Portillo in Mexico.

Arkansas Tripped Up...

Hog Rally Falls Short

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) - Shrouded in obscurity by a dense fog and a potent North Carolina offense in the second half, Arkansas appeared ready to hand the 11th-ranked Tar Heels an easy Gator Bowl victory.

But the Razorbacks, led by eternal optimist Lou Holtz, staged a fourth-quarter comeback and forced the North Carolina defense to come up with the key plays in a 31-27 victory.

"I'm sure a lot of people thought the game was over early in the fourth quarter, but I never felt that way," Holtz said. "We managed to recover an onside kick and then got a lift from a couple of big pass plays."

Junior tailback Kelvin Bryant rushed for 148 yards on 27 carries and one touchdown, while freshman Ethan Horton, switched from quarterback to tailback when Bryant and backup Tyrone Anthony were hurt in midseason, ran for 144 yards and two scores on 27 carries.

Combined with a 1-yard sneak by quarterback Rod Elkins, North Carolina ran up a 31-10 lead with 7:29 left, enough to have sent some of the Razorback faithful out into a night so thick with fog that the public address announcer suggested that the officials would switch from whistles to foghorns.

But with the aid of penalties and passes by freshman quarterback Brad Taylor, Arkansas marched back down the field and scored with 5:03 remaining on a 1-yard run by Jessie Clark. A two-point conversion pass closed the Razorback deficit to 31-18.

Bruce Lahay's onside kick was recovered by Ed Jackson and the Razorbacks parlayed the strategy into a 7-yard scoring pass from Taylor to Darryl Mason with 2:44 remaining. Suddenly, the rout was a contest at 31-25.

North Carolina took the ensuing kickoff at its own 5. After being pinned in by the Razorbacks, punter Jeff Hayes elected to run out of the end zone for the safety instead of yielding ground for a last-gasp Arkansas attack.

After Gary Anderson returned Hayes' free kick 29 yards to the Tar Heel 49, North Carolina's defense did its job. The key play was a sack by seldom-used Ronnie Snipes, a freshman nose guard who had been in on several plays earlier.

North Carolina finished its season at 10-2 and also took its third consecutive bowl victory, a first in Atlantic Coast Conference history. The Tar Heels are also 3-1 in Gator Bowl play.

Arkansas closed at 8-4.

Starr Awarded Pact But Pressure Is On

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) - The Green Bay Packers' hierarchy, weary of long unfinished rebuilding programs, has given Coach Bart Starr an unmistakable win-or-else mandate along with a new two-year contract.

Robert J. Parins, the National Football League club's chief executive office, said Monday that he and the executive committee's six other members "believe that reasonable success is foreseeable with our present head coach, and probably an addition to the staff."

But Parins also said Starr's seven-year coaching record (39-65-2), including a season-ending 28-3 thrashing Dec. 20 by the New York Jets that cost the Packers an NFL playoff berth, weighed as heavily in the decision as did the team's second-half turnabout of six victories in its last eight games.

The decisions on the rehiring and contract length essentially were those of Parins, who was elected chief executive officer by the club's 44-member Board of Directors Oct. 11.

Parins told a news conference he discussed "the general concept of a contract" with other committee members over the last several days.

Although he said the contract does not contain an escape clause, Parins said Starr may not be asked to return for the second year of the pact unless the Packers do well in the 1982 season.

"We have not finalized the contract, but we do not anticipate any such provision," he said. "Nor do I see a need for one. We can always terminate it."

He listed no specific won-lost expectations. Neither he nor Starr would elaborate on Parins' comment about "an addition to the staff."

Maryland Eyes Oilers' Nolan

WASHINGTON (AP) - Dick Nolan, who is currently defensive coordinator for the Houston Oilers, has reportedly confirmed that he was interviewed for the football coaching job at the University of Maryland.

According to a report in today's Washington Post, Nolan said he would consider the Maryland job a "great challenge and an honor."

Playoffs Bring Best Out Of Tony Dorsett

DALLAS (AP) - National Football League playoff games normally bring out the best in Tony Dorsett.

The classy Dallas tailback has rushed for 833 yards on 162 carries for an average of 5.08 yards per carry in postseason games with the Cowboys.

Dorsett has scored seven playoff touchdowns in his six years with the Cowboys.

"A playoff game is money time," Dorsett says. "That's what you work hard all year for - a chance to produce in the playoffs."

Dorsett goes into Saturday's National Conference divisional playoff against the Tampa Bay Buccaneers with added incentive. He's mad at himself for two costly fumbles in Dallas' regular season-ending 13-10 overtime loss to the New York Giants.

"I'm still upset about it," Dorsett said.

Dorsett twice fumbled pitchouts that the Giants recovered, costing Dallas field position and eventually the game.

He had lost only three fumbles all year prior to the contest.

"The Dallas fans have been great to me this year and I'm going to make it up to them - I owe it to them," Dorsett said.

Dorsett also lost the NFL rushing title to New Orleans' George Rogers by gaining 39 yards rushing against the Giants. Dorsett lost to Rogers by 28 yards -1,674 to 1,646.

"Winning the rushing title wasn't my No. 1 priority," Dorsett said. "Going to the Super Bowl is."

Dorsett has become a team leader for the Cowboys this year and was named offensive captain by Coach Tom Landry.

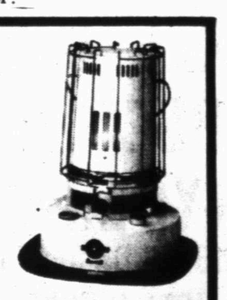

Dorsett worked extremely hard in the offseason for the first time.

Dallas is 29-1 in games where Dorsett rushed for 100 yards or more.

The Bucs and Cowboys collide at noon Saturday in Texas Stadium. Dallas is 2-0 in the short series between the two teams.

Also receiving awards this year were directors James Beaver, five years; Carl Williams, three years, and Dan Cotton, 15 years.

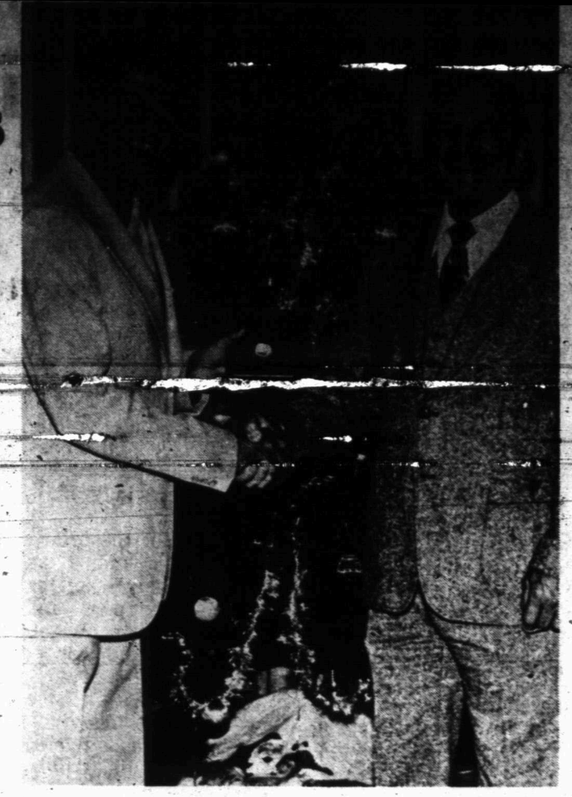

Thieves Take Cross, Marker

WASHINGTON (AP) — A marble marker and wooden cross at Robert F. Kennedy's gravesite at Arlington National Cemetery have been stolen.

U.S. Park Police said that the thieves apparently scaled a stone wall and a six-foot fence to get to the gravesite, where they dug out the small Vermont marble tombstone and pulled up the two-foot white wooden cross.

The theft was reported Sunday morning after cemetery workers discovered the loss. Police said they had no suspects.

Raymond J. Costanzo, the park superintendent, called the theft "a terrible thing" and said it was the first theft of a tombstone that he could recall.

Engine Failure Blamed For Plane Crash

GUNNISON, Colo. (AP) — Engine failure has been blamed for a single-engine airplane crash that five Dallas men survived two miles west of here Monday in the rugged south-central Colorado mountains, officials said.

Three of the five remained hospitalized today. The pilot, Jay Fichtner, 55, was in serious but stable condition with back injuries at Gunnison County Hospital, and his two sons, Kirk, 20, and Mark, 23, were in fair but stable condition, hospital spokeswoman Judy Sabin said.

The other two passengers, Kevin McCool, 23, and Mike Goodfriend, 23, were treated for bruises and released from the hospital, she said.

Gregory Feith, air safety investigator for the National Transportation Safety Board, said the Federal Aviation Administration's Denver Center at Longmont heard the pilot report that "he lost his engine and that was the last word he said on the radio."

Computer Stolen From High School

Snyder police are investigating a major burglary which occurred over the weekend at Snyder High School.

Around 8:30 a.m. Monday, Lee Presswood, vice-principal at the high school, called police to report a break-in and theft at the school. Taken in the burglary was an Apple computer used by the math department.

The burglar or burglars apparently gained entry by breaking a window in a door of the building. Investigation into the incident is continuing.

Police also received another theft report and a criminal trespass complaint Monday.

At 5:15 p.m. Monday afternoon, Raymond Teel, a resident of the Bunkhouse told officers that his room had been burglarized. Teel reported that an undetermined amount of cash and a ring valued at $40 had been taken from his room.

Harold Denson, of Denson's Used Cars, called police around 7:45 a.m. and reported that the north window to his office had been broken out. Although the window appeared to have been broken in order to gain entry to the office, nothing appeared to have been taken in the break-in.

The owner of the Davenport Auto Clinic called police at 8:30 Monday morning, and reported an incident of criminal mischeif at his place of business. He reported that a window in a car parked at the shop had been broken and its battery stolen. Value of the damage in this incident was set at $150.

Around 7:45 p.m. Monday, Luther Williams filed another criminal mischeif report. Williams told officers that someone had stripped some wiring from his vehicle while it was parked at Pool Well Service between 6 a.m. and 6 p.m. No value was set on the damages in this incident.

One minor hit and run accident on Clairemont Highway rounded out the day's action for the local officers.

Around 3 p.m., a 1974 Buick driven by Carol Ann Slaughter was in collision with an vehicle which fled the scene of the mishap. A sign in the median of the highway was also damaged in the accident. Damages to the Slaughter vehicle were listed as minor.

AT&T To File FCC Request

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American Telephone & Telegraph Co. says it expects to file a request Wednesday with the Federal Communications Commission to change the current method of computing charges for long-distance calls.

Under the current system, an interstate long-distance call is billed solely on the basis of when it began. AT&T has three long-distance rate periods: standard rate for weekday calls placed between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m.; 35 percent less between 5 p.m. and 11 p.m.; and 60 percent off the standard rate on weekends and on weekdays between 11 p.m. and 8 a.m.

At present, for example, if a 20-minute call begins at 4:59 p.m. on a weekday the caller is billed at the standard rate for the entire 20 minutes. Under the proposed system, if a call spans two rate periods, both rates would be applied, so the caller in this case would be billed for one minute at standard rate and 19 minutes at the lower night rate.

Slow diet expectations

DEAR DR. LAMB — I am desperate and I don't know who else to ask. Our family doctor is fat so he doesn't think I have a problem, although I am 10 to 15 pounds overweight and it is all on my tummy, hips and thighs.

I went on a low-calorie diet two years ago. I lost all that excess fat and I felt so much better. I felt like a teen-ager again, although I'm 44. I had more energy and my arthritis didn't bother me. I felt great for six months or so. Then we took a vacation and it was hard to eat the right food and I started gaining weight. Since then I can't seem to control myself and I get so miserable after overeating. I've tried gagging to throw up but I couldn't. I am an active person and have a daily exercise program. I jog and bike.

I lose two pounds one week and gain back one pound the next. I've tried grapefruit, bran, you name it. I've gained the whole 15 pounds back and I need help.

DEAR READER — If your doctor is not interested in your weight control, you might want to see one who is. You need to be sure you do not have a low thyroid problem, even though this is seldom the cause of being overweight.

You might profit by some forms of exercise that strengthen and build your muscle size, perhaps at one of the local health clubs. Endurance exercises are fine but good muscles also help to use calories all day long.

No doubt your biggest problem is expecting too much too soon. I am sending you The Health Letter number 4-7, Weight Losing Diet, to help you. Others who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

Stick with a well-balanced, low-calorie diet that you can live with and don't budge from it a single day. Don't be upset when your weight fluctuates. That kind of fluctuation is usually from changes in how much water your body retains. If necessary make a rule to stay on your diet plan for a month without looking at the scales. That may help you keep from being so discouraged.

When you get the urge to eat, just drink a lot of water and go for a walk. In time, if you are patient you will lose the fat — not just water — and feel better.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I have had a urethral stricture for the past few years. I've had catheters and been dilated several times which doesn't seem to help. Two weeks ago my doctor ran a catheter and two metal rods up my urethra but now I am back in the same fix. It hurts mostly in the morning before I pass urine and hurts afterward.

I understand an operation for a stricture is very dangerous for a man my age. I'm 67 and had a heart attack two years ago. I have a hard time passing my urine. My doc says my prostate is OK, even though I had a prostate operation 10 years ago. Is there anything that can be done?

DEAR READER — A urethral stricture means closing of the urethral tube that siphons urine out of the bladder. The most common cause of a stricture is an old inflammation, such as from gonorrhea. The inflammation causes scar tissue to form that contracts and causes the stricture. Dilatations simply stretch the scar tissue.

The problem with operations to remove scarred areas is that as the incision heals more scar tissue forms. Stay with your doctor. He is doing the best that can be done in a difficult situation.

Killed In Odessa...

Vigil Maintained For Priest

DENVER CITY, Texas (AP) — Mourners stunned by the beating death of this town's only Roman Catholic priest held an around-the-clock prayer vigil beside the body of the Rev. Patrick Ryan.

The priest's nude, bound and badly beaten body was found earlier this week in an Odessa motel room. Police Lt. Kenneth Jones said Monday investigtors had no suspects in the slaying.

The vigil for the priest, affectionately known as "Father Paddy" in his predominantly poor and Hispanic parish, began Sunday night and was to continue until the funeral at St. Williams's Catholic Church at 2 p.m. today.

Ryan, 49, will be buried in his native Doon, Ireland.

Ryan's body was taken first to a funeral home Sunday, but so many people gathered to pray beside the slain priest that the body was moved to the church to accomodate more people, said church member Elida Perez.

"His church is predominantly a Mexican-American community," said Lew Barrett, editor of the Denver City Press and a close friend of Ryan. "They're taking it quite hard. Paddy was a very gentle, soft-spoken man and everybody loved him."

He said several hundred people filed through the doors of St. William's on Monday to participate in the prayer vigil.

The Pallottine priest lived alone in a parsonage beside St. William's and was known in this town of 5,000. He also was the only priest for the nearby community of Plains.

Jones said investigators had gathered little information from an examination of Ryan's car, which was found Sunday 120 miles from Odessa in Hobbs, N.M.

Ryan, who left a steak dinner on the stove when he vanished, was reported missing Christmas Day after he failed to appear to celebrate a Mass Wednesday, a Christmas Eve midnight Mass and a Christmas Mass.

Saturday, a body found Tuesday in an Odessa motel room was identified as Ryan's.

Dr. Richard Coker, medical examiner in Odessa, said Ryan's body was covered with bruises and that death probably was caused by a blow to the neck. He said the injuries were inflicted with a blunt instrument such as fists or a club.

Investigators said scratches on Ryan's arms and the condition of the room indicated a struggle took place.

No identification was found in the motel room and the room was registered under a false name and address, Jones said. He said a sports shirt and trousers were in the room but no clerical clothing.

"That is the 64-dollar question — what he was doing in Odessa," Barrett said. "I had never heard him mention Odessa. I knew he went to Lubbock quite frequently and met with some Irish priests. But we can't conceive of what business he would have had in Odessa. That's an entire mystery."

Ryan, who recently celebrated his 25th year as a priest, had been in Denver City for about two years, after spending 12 years as a missionary in Tanzania, Africa.
