Graduates of Loco School to be Honored at Loco-Arlie Reunion

The annual Loco-Arlie community reunion will be held Sunday, August 7, in Bura Handley Community Center.

The traditional reunion format will be followed.

Visitors will begin gathering about 10 a.m. Sunday morning and coffee and donuts will be served.

A basket lunch will be served at noon, and in the afternoon there will be visiting and business session.

This year's reunion will honor the students who graduated from Loco High School during the 5 years in which the full 11 grades were maintained. (Texas Schools had 11 grades at that time). Teachers of that period will be honored also. A number have said they will be here.

Those graduates include: 1930: Elizabeth Gibson, Mildred Gibson, Ronald Sanders, Juanita Greer, Johnny Dyer, Alma Ruth Lovelace.

1932: Ione Shanks.

WHS Ex-Students Gather For Reunion on Saturday

Directors of the Wellington Ex-Student Association announce the annual reunion to be held Saturday, August 6, with most activities to take place in the Bura Handley Community Center.

Co-Chairmen, Brenda Phillips Barton and Vickie Mayhugh Porter, are in charge of the registration for the day. They are planning to have a table for pre-registration (those sending in their cards and fees earlier) and a table for those registering Saturday between the hours of 9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m.

The business meeting will be held at 10:30 a.m. with Andy Henard, president, presiding.

Pre-registration chairman, Louise Lancaster Peters, has announced approximately 200 exes have pre-registered with registration fees still coming in almost every day.

The Association enjoys hearing from Exes even though they might not be able to attend, said Mrs. Porter.

Rose Mary Popwell Throne, Helen Gibson Gollighugh and Phyllis Thomas Killian are decoration chairmen and will have table favors and other mementos for those attending.

The barbecue dinner, catered by Country Cuisine, will be held in the Wellington Elementary Cafetorium, with serving hours between 6:00 to 8:00 p.m. Tickets will be: Adults, $5.50 and children under 10, $2.50.

Jerry Duncan is chairman for this event.

The Wells Fargo Band from Pampa will play for the dance in the auditorium of the Community Center. Hours for the dance are from 9:00 p.m. to 1:00 a.m. Tommy Thomas is dance chairman. Dorothy Baird McGill was in charge of arrangements to reserve the band for this date.

Only ex-students and their guests will be in attendance for this dance. No children under 18 will be admitted.

Each year the Association buys a Wellington High School annual and also keeps a yearly scrapbook. Most items for the scrapbook are newspaper clippings of ex-students from the Wellington Leader and other publications. "The directors are always glad to receive clippings and photographs from ex-students; these will be placed in the scrapbook," Mrs. Porter said.

Those having individual class reunions are asked to give a copy of printed materials to the Association for the scrapbook.

These scrapbooks and annuals are not to be taken from the club room during reunion time. They are placed there for all to enjoy.

This project has been handed down through the years, and was started by Donald and Thelma Masten Curry; who still store these books for the Association.

Directors include: Andy Henard, president; Helen Gollighugh, vice-president; Louise Henard, recording secretary; Louise Peters, corresponding secretary; Rose Mary Throne, treasurer; Brenda Barton, Phyllis Killian, Debra Belw, Tommy Thomas, Jerry Duncan, Dorothy McGill, Audie Watson and Vickie Porter.

Girls Softball Tourney Slated

A women's and girls' slow pitch softball game will be held at Marian Airpark Ballpark Friday through Sunday, Aug. 5-7, according to Candy Reyes, president of the Wellington Softball Association.

The first session will begin about 7 p.m. Friday, Reyes said.

Other sessions will be Saturday and Sunday afternoons, with the time not definitely decided on.

From 10 to 12 of the top women's softball teams in the area are due to participate, including one or more from Amarillo, Childress, Shamrock, Clarendon, Wheeler, Memphis and Wellington.

Trophies will be awarded.

Reyes urges all slow pitch softball fans to come out and watch the fine performances of these girls teams.

Five Fires Destroy Home, Grass

Five fires, ranging from Quail to Dodson, to within a few miles of Texola, kept Wellington Volunteer Fire department busy, joined by Samnorwood and Shamrock departments at two blazes.

But in fighting these fires, the department's rural unit broke down and chief Danny Gray says a second firefighting truck is badly needed. Firemen are considering some funding projects to raise $22,000 for a second unit.

The split-level three-bedroom house belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Noah Beachy a short distance west of Quail was totally destroyed in a blaze that broke out about 10:30 a.m. Wednesday, July 27.

The couple has built the house themselves over a period of several years. Cary Don Neeley, a reserve deputy and one of the first to reach the fire, said Mrs. Beachy and their 7 and 8 year old sons, Joe and Johnny, got out of the burning house safely after she was unable to reach neighbors by telephone.

Neeley said the house was burning on the northeast side when he arrived and the peak of the roof was already buckling. "It was already too hot for us to get in there and do anything," he said.

Neeley and Fire Department members believe the fire may have started from electrical wiring.

Beachy is employed by the City of Wellington and was at work when his house burned. The family is staying with an other son, the Dan Beachy family in Quail.

A benefit fund for the Beachy family has been started and donations may be made at Jessie Alston's Store in Quail. "Many people have brought things to them," Neeley said.

At 3:10 p.m. firemen

Livestock Carriers Elect D. Cudd

Dennis Cudd, a partner in Cudd Brothers Trucking, was re-elected vice-president of the Texas Livestock Carriers Association at its annual meeting in Amarillo Friday and Saturday, July 29 and 30.

Mike Jordan of Mason was re-elected president and B.J. Luce of Tilden secretary-treasurer.

Cudd joined Cudd

Brothers three years ago, on the death of his father, Hiram Cudd, a founding partner with his brother, Wayne Cudd.

The Amarillo convention emphasized the Sunset Laws, and the effect that the lapse of certain state agencies would have on the trucking industry in general and on livestock carriers specifically. The direct effect this would have on producers of livestock and agricultural products was pinpointed.

State Representative Chip Staniswallis reviewed legislation relating to transportation during the last session of the legislature that "almost put us out of business."

Cudd pointed out that one of the agencies in danger of expiring was the Texas Railroad Commission. He explained that laws governing transportation go back to the establishment of the Interstate Commerce Commission about 1880. Regulation of transportation in Texas has been continued by the Railroad Commission. "With that history and legacy, we feel the Railroad Commission needs to continue to regulate transportation in the State of Texas," Cudd said.

Cudd, the son of Mrs. Hiram Cudd, retired from the U.S. Army as a Major after 7 years service. He and his family returned to Wellington in 1972 and he

County Tax Valuations Down

Collingsworth County property valuations are down approximately $2 million from last year, Tax Assessor Ann Wauer said this week.

The county, city, hospital and school districts are in the process of budget and tax planning for the coming fiscal year, and the tax assessor has given the county a working figure of $109 million in valuations, down from a working figure of $111 million. Actual valuations may be slightly higher, she said, but she uses a conservative figure in preparing the budget and tax rate.

The county lost approximately $3 million in oil and gas valuations from last year because many small wells in the north part of the county are either shut in or producing less than their maximum capacity.

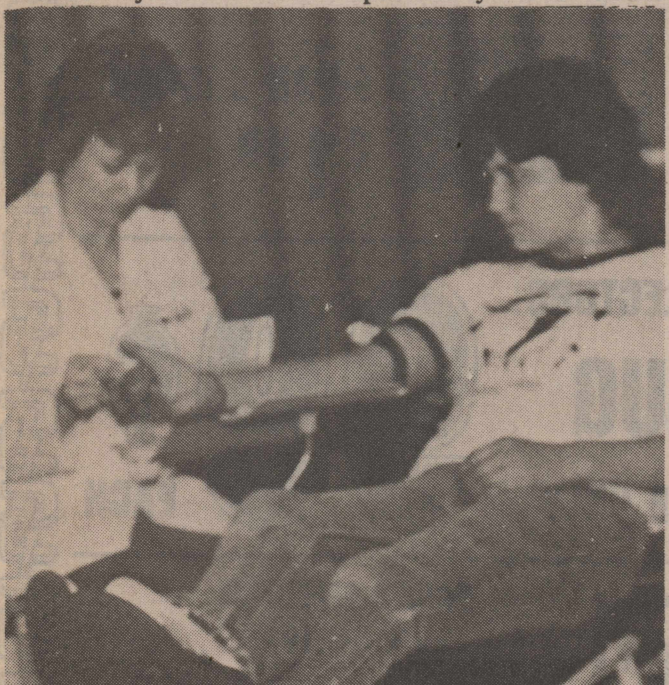

Producing oil and gas valuations still account for between a third and a fourth of the county's valuation--$29 million, down from last year's $32 million.

That loss was offset partially by the addition of a $2.5 million valuation of the new Red River Pipeline which crosses the north part of the county.

All farm equipment has been removed from the tax roll this year as prescribed by state legislation. That change cut approximately another $1 million from the

English Trio Tastes Wellington Hospitality

A trio from England learned about Texas hospitality during a visit in Wellington, and went home to say "It was a long trip, but worth all of it."

They were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dunkley and Miss Ivy Randell of Leicester, in the center of England. Their United States hosts were the Dunkley's daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Dodge of St. Louis, Mo., who accompanied them to Wellington where they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Dodge.

In Texas, and in Wellington, the trio of English visitors was introduced to Mexican food and found it to their taste.

A side trip took them to Altus Air Force Base, where John Dodge was once stationed, and where they had a current view of the nation's fighting planes.

The Dunkleys and Miss Randell not only live in the center of England geographically, but in the historic center as well. "They take advantage of this, and at every opportunity they visit England's historic places to learn everything they can about them. I think this is great," commented their Wellington hostess, Patsy Dodge.

Leicester is in the heart of England's hunting country, frequented by royalty, and dotted with Castles familiar to everyone who has studied English History.

They were interested to learn that Collingsworth County was once the home of the Rocking Chair Ranch, owned by titled Englishmen.

American visitors to the area eagerly seek tickets to races at Newmarket. This English group can attend races as a matter of course for they are as interested in horse racing as their hosts are in football.

Their travels have taken them to Scotland as well as throughout England.

Leicester is a job center that has been hard hit by the world-wide recession. The dole is again a reality although Social Security offers some relief. The Dunkleys hope that as the general economy improves, the unemployed numbers will drop.

Dunkley drives a lorry and is a gardener.

During World War II he served in the RCAF and recalls he spent four years in the desert of North Africa chasing German General Rommel, then missed seeing him by half an hour.

Miss Randell is a retired nurse, whose service also goes back to the World War II period.

Larry Dodge was serving in the U.S. Air Force stationed in England when he met Jennifer Dunkley and they were married there.

Their daughter, Tracy, is now grown and has made her choice to return to England to live. They have a son, Andrew, living at home. Dodge is retired from the Air Force and employed by the State of Missouri, but a number of years ago, while he was on a period of detached duty, Jennifer Dodge lived in Wellington with the John Dodges for a period of several months.

Scattered Rains Break July Dry Spell Here

A break in the county's June-July dry weather came during the three day period of Friday to Sunday, with amounts varying from no moisture at all to three schools. At the 1930-34 period, Loco had 185 students with 5 teachers. Arlie was of almost equal size.

Berea School became a vital part of the Loco district. On Christmas eve 1905, the school burned. It was rebuilt and in 1907 moved farther north. Then in 1912, it was moved again. It remained here on Buck Creek, a mile south of the Hollis Highway, until 1928, when it consolidated with Loco.

Teachers of the 1930-34 period who will be honored are:

1930: Carl Chaudoin, Floy Kesler, Bonnie Willis, Beulah Hunsaker, Lulu Sadler and Ima Gentry.

1931: Mr. and Mrs. Chaudoin, Naomi Hunt, deceased, Mr. and Mrs. J.W. Know, Ima Gentry.

1932: Clifford Groves, Cecil Parker, Margaret Hix, Ima Jane Gentry and Maurine Greer. Groves and Parker drove school buses.

1933: B.F. Kirk, Gordon Mills, Bertha Mae Wells, Naomi Hunt, Margaret Hix and Mabel Newman.

1934: A.J. Morris, Laverne Chaudoin, Helen Smith, Mae Love and Lena White.

Loco-Arlie Reunion officers this year are Pauline Brown Patterson, master of ceremonies; Lucille Covey Mosenbocker and Edith Copeland Carter, secretaries. Hosts are Sammy and Lucille Mosenbocker, Loyd and Ethel Clark, John and Johnny Stout of Clarendon and Clarence and Merle Black.

The Wellington area received from .5 to an inch of rain altogether.

Moisture amounts varied widely in the Quail area.

The heaviest was at the T.L. Stovall farm, where roll, Mrs. Wauer said.

Additional homestead exemptions also reduce the tax roll, although there has been some new construction that has been added to the roll in the past year.

The taxing of local bank stock is still up in the air, awaiting guidelines from the state, in the wake of a federal court ruling that some bank capital could not properly be taxed by local governments.

Samnorwood ISD's valuations are down about $1.5 million from $41.5 million to $40 million this year, Mrs. Wauer said, primarily because of lower oil and gas valuations.

Hedley ISD's Collingsworth County valuations are down about $132,000 to $3,139,000, due to loss of farm equipment from the roll, she said.

Wellington ISD valuations, before exemptions, are down $3 million from $68 to $65 million this year. That drop is mostly due to taking bank stock off the rolls at the present time.

The valuations that the school will actually use to tax on will be closer to $54 million after homestead, over-65 and veterans exemptions and freezes are figured, Tommie Watts, school tax collector, said.

The City of Wellington does not yet have a working figure on its valuations.

over three inches was reported.

Two inches fell at Quail, and 2.4 inches was received at the Cary Don Neeley home a short distance south of Quail.

Rainfall reports in the Marella area, north of Quail were .9 inch at the Monty Mitchell farm, with lighter amounts to the vicinity of the Etta Farmer, John Carson and Raymond Ross places.

Two miles east of Marella, only .4 inch fell, and to the west there was about one-half inch. Ring community "didn't get enough to lay the dust."

Rain north of Wellington was heavy Saturday night.

The Samnorwood area received a total of 2.1 inches for the three day period. Rudie Tate received about .3 inches and James Martindale the same amount at Abra.

Lone Mound Hill had 1.7 inches. There was no moisture in the northeast part of the county.

The Livestock Carriers Association was organized in 1946 with Wayne Cudd as the first president. He has served in that capacity several times since.

Other convention speakers were Morris Cobb, an attorney for ICX Trucking Co., and John Danks of Texas Motor Transportation Association.

Mrs. Wayne Cudd was in charge of activities for women at the convention, which included visits to Las Tiendas, the Amarillo Medical Center, Discovery Center and a luncheon at the Amarillo Club.

FIRE--

received a call to a point where fire started at the edge of the pavement on Highway FM 1 1/4 miles west of the intersection of US 83. The blaze moved across the right of way and into pasture land owned by Mrs. A.Y. Bell and leased by Jim Henard. The fire gained momentum, moved into a stand of trees and did not stop until it reached Salt Fork River.

City of Wellington maintainers were called in to plow fire guards to the east and west of the fire. This is rough country and because of the trees, firefighting equipment could not be moved into some areas. It is also where the Wellington rural fire truck broke down.

Bruce Ward's action in plowing with a tandem disc is credited with saving hundreds of acres of grass.

Chief Gray said Henard estimates about 400 acres of grass burned. Samnorwood and Shamrock fire departments joined in fighting the fire. Firemen remained until 10:00 p.m.

Lightning started a grass fire on the Emmert Ranch south of Texola about 2 a.m. Sunday and burned along the west side of the county road which extends from Needwood Cemetery to Texola.

All available units from Wellington, Samnorwood and Shamrock departments responded.

"The ranch had high grass that has not been grazed for several years and the road was the only thing that stopped the fire. If it had gone across the road it would have burned all the way to Oklahoma. There's nothing we could have done," said Gray.

Firemen left Wellington in rain, which was heavy until they reached Lutie, grew lighter along the FM east of Lutie, and by the time they crossed Elm Creek, there was no rain at all.

Gray estimated 40 to 50 acres of grass lost, but the potential was there for one of the major grass fires of recent years.

First of the series of fires occurred Saturday, July 23 on the Bruce Ward farm about 3 1/2 miles north of town. The blaze started from burning trash, Gray said. The fire was traveling toward the Ward house, however Ward was wetting down the area around the buildings, according to firemen.

An estimated 110 acres of grass burned.

Other grass fires included one at the home of Mrs. D.C. Camp in the Kelley community. Little grass was burned, but again it was near the house and other buildings.

Another grass fire broke out in the 100 block of East Avenue Monday, Aug. 1. It was quickly contained.

"The ground looks wet, but the grass is still dry," Gray said.

The fire chief appealed for funds to be started for a new rural fire truck. The present truck has been repaired, but Gray said that it cannot continue to hold up under the punishment such as it took during the last 10 days.

Rodeo Winners Get Montana Silver Buckles

Montana silver belt buckles will be awarded to winners in the Wellington Rodeo slated for Friday through Sunday, August 19 and 21. This is a finer buckle than has ever been awarded in past rodeos, according to Walter Clements, who is helping with plans.

Friday and Saturday nights will feature the regular rodeo events, and a team roping is slated for Sunday. All performances are at the VFW Rodeo Arena in northeast Wellington.

Friday and Saturday night performances will be at 8 p.m., the Sunday roping at 2.

Plans are complete for the rodeo dance to be held both nights, from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. in Bura Handley Community Center. The Red River Band will play.

Jeff Langford called a meeting of the Wellington Rodeo Association, the rodeo sponsor, for Tuesday night, Aug. 2, and additional plans were to be made.

I Saw... by Virginia Robey

If a Wellington resident goes away from home and is in a public place, he's not surprised to find someone who used to live here.

I met Pat and Nancy McAlister of Perryton in the Dallas-Fort Worth airport Sunday. They and their party had just landed and were on their way to a meeting of electric co-operatives in Ft. Worth. I was waiting to fly back to Amarillo. Pat you will remember, was with Greenbelt Electric Co-operative here. Nancy was a deputy county clerk.

Ex-Students are coming in early. Susan Lowe DeLaney flew down from Williston, North Dakota, with her two-year-old son, Shawn. She's joining her class of 1973 for a 10th anniversary reunion.

Flying from Denver to Albuquerque, she had a good visit with the woman sitting next to her. They discussed Amarillo, among other things, but not until near the end of the trip was Wellington mentioned.

This was Patsy Patton Wauer. She and her husband, Ray, lived in Arvada, Colorado. Parents of these two women, the Bill Lowes and the Raymond Pattons, were living across the street from each other when Susan was born.

Mrs. H.L. Creed came by to say that because of vision problems, she can no longer read newspaper type. Instead, she's sending The Wellington Leader to her daughter, Mary Ruth Creed, in Olney.

Mrs. Creed said she's been reading Wellington newspapers since 1907 and The Wellington Leader as long as it has been published. Such a lovely subscriber will be missed.

Lisa Karnes, Richard Booker Wed In Formal Ceremony at Lubbock

First United Methodist Church in Lubbock was the setting for the wedding of Lisa Kaye Karnes, and Richard Maxwell Booker, both of Lubbock at 11 o'clock Saturday morning, July 30. The Reverend Neal Baumgart officiated.

The altar was decorated with blue and white spring flowers and candelabra entwined with ivy and stephanotis. Two white doves were perched on each candelabra and large blue satin bows adorned the pews. The service was conducted beneath the stained glass Rose Window, the largest of its kind in the world.

Gordon McMillan of Lubbock was the organist and vocal music was by the First Methodist Church Choir.

Mr. Karnes gave his daughter in marriage.

The bride wore an off-the-shoulder dress of candlelight slipper satin with a chapel length train. The bodice was held at the shoulders with silk flowers and with re-embroidered lace and pearls. Her headdress was a halo of silk flowers which matched the bridal dress. It held the full-length illusion veil embroidered with lace and pearls. For "something old," she wore a strand of pearls which were a gift of her from her great aunt, the late Mrs. Ike Rogers. Her Irish linen handkerchief was borrowed from her mother. She carried a cascade of gardenias, white roses, stephanotis and foliage.

The bride was attended by Teena Brown of Lubbock, and the bridesmaids were Ann Graff and Lisa Lyles, also of Lubbock. They wore baby blue floor length dresses with sheer sleeves, and carried white fans adorned with baby's breath. Their headdresses were halos of baby's breath and blue ribbon.

Dick Booker of Midland was the groom's best man, and groomsmen were Tommy Bartley and Richard King, both of Lubbock. The ushers were Mike Karnes, brother of the bride, and James Dougherty, both of Lubbock. They also lighted the candles.

After the wedding, Mr. and Mrs. Karnes were the hosts for the reception in the First United Methodist Church parlor.

The reception table featured cherubs made by her maternal grandmother and a basket of chrysanthemums, gladiolas, carnations and stephanotis. The tiered bride's cake was decorated with pale blue flowers.

The groom's table held a cake formed by two interlocking hearts.

Members of the house party were Tresa Brasell, cousin of the bride, Anne Baumgart, Sara Baumgart, Nancy Stone, Julie Mitschrich, Linda Daugherty and Eliese Braun, all of Lubbock, Peggy Schwartz and Becky McAlpine, both of Amarillo.

After the reception, the couple left on their wedding trip to Jamaica and upon returning they will live at 3237 94th Street, Lubbock.

The bride is the great granddaughter of four couples who were early Collingsworth County settlers; Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Karnes, Mr. and Mrs. William Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Will Roark and Mr. and Mrs. John L. Morris. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Karnes and of Lee Roark and the late Mrs. Nova Roark.

She attended Amarillo College, where she was a member of Kappa Delta Chi sorority and Windsong. She graduated with honors from Texas Tech University, where she belonged to Gamma Phi Beta Sorority, the Resident Hall Association and Phi Kappa Phi honorary society. She is currently employed as a probation officer at Lubbock.

The bridegroom graduated from Midland High School where he belonged to the National Honor Society and the golf team. He graduated with honors from Texas Tech in 1978.

Wedding guests from Collingsworth County were Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Karnes and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Roark.

Mary Jack Witherspoon, the great-niece of Mrs. Marvin Manuel and John Coffee, was quite a hit on the Johnny Carson Show Tuesday night.

10-year-old Mary Jack was asked to appear on the show after she was the youngest female runner to complete a 26-mile marathon recently.

Mary Jack told Johnny that her dad rode a bicycle alongside her. Johnny asked her what he said that kept her going the distance. "He kept saying his bottom hurt a lot," was Mary Jack's answer.

Esta Glenn is "helping" our Barney on plans for his 50th class reunion this weekend. I saw the beginnings of a bouquet she's ordered that includes a card with the words of "Nearer My God to Thee" and a can of prune juice.

It's fun to visit the various class reunions around the community on reunion weekend and I'm sure all the classes welcome drop-ins. "We're not getting older, we're getting better" must apply to reunions. The people at the 5, 10 and 15-year reunions don't look like they're having a whole lot of fun, but beginning at about 20-year reunions, things pick up and at 35-and-more-year reunions folks really seem to enjoy seeing each other.

It's not just West Texas farmers that are concerned with water development in the state. A recent 700-page report, "Water for Texas, Planning for the Future," predicts that major Texas cities face a water crisis before the end of the century. Researchers predict that even if Houston spends $1 billion on new projects, the city could run out of water by the mid 1990's. The researchers estimate Texas will have 21 million people by the year 2000. State Sen. Bill Sarpalis quotes Ben Franklin: "When the well's dry, we know the worth of water."

You Can Find Strength Though God's Word

"There is strength in God's Word that you're not going to get through just praying. You're not going to get it through going to great conferences. God speaks so clearly and shows you His hand and His heart through the reading of His Word."

Jann Rosen of Orlando, Florida needs all the strength she can get. She has dedicated her life to working with women in prisons and women who are victims of abuse.

"I think people who are interested in knowing God's way and want God's will for their lives have to be in the Word of God. Satan is the king of deceit, and he is the greatest deceiver. And we can be so easily deceived. But when our heart is tied into God's Word, we will not be deceived. God will never lead us contrary to His Word."

Jann has come to depend on the Scriptures for daily strength and direction. To her the Bible is much more than just a good book.

"It's not a book. It's the Word of God. It's alive. It's active. The Holy Spirit ministers through the Word."

The strength and direction that Jann Rosen finds in the Bible are available to anyone who will read the Scriptures regularly. STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Speculation that Texas' embattled Atty. Gen. Jim Mattox should resign increased last week, as state prosecutors questioned a lawyer who has said Mattox threatened to put his firm out of the bond business.

Sources reported the Houston lawyer gave grand jurors a tape recording of telephone conversations containing the Mattox threats. Thomas McDade, a partner of the firm Fulbright and Jaworski, has alleged Mattox was angered when McDade refused to pull down a subpoena for Mattox's sister.

His sister was subpoenaed to testify about a $125,000 energy loan she and another brother obtained in 1982, which may have been diverted to the Mattox campaign.

On the heels of the alleged tape revelation, came reports that Mattox, who has been closely linked to one of his major campaign financiers, multimillionaire Clinton Manges, drives a luxury Cadillac which his sister purchased at a discount from a close friend of Manges.

Records show the car is registered under the sister's name and was bought at less than half of its book value. Mattox drives the car, and told police it was his when vandals broke into it in March.

Mattox Subpoenaed

Mattox has denied wrongdoing in the loan, the alleged threat and the automobile transaction, but his many troubles have raised questions about his effectiveness, innocent or not.

He claims he is being hunted down by "the big oil companies" that he has angered, but his own temper has compounded his recent problems, particularly with the Capitol press.

Last week, grand jurors subpoenaed Mattox and all records dealing with his airplane, phone calls and meetings since taking office seven months ago.

The records were delivered but kept sealed until a district judge could rule on the legality of the subpoena.

Mobil Boycott

Latest development in the continuing Maddox saga occurred last week when the attorney general urged a crowd of labor union members to boycott Mobil Oil Co. products because the company has refused to settle a royalty suit with the state.

"There's something you can do to help," Maddox told approximately 600 union members attending the Texas AFL-CIO convention in Austin. "I tried to talk to these folks and bring them to the bargaining table and tell them to pay up . . . but they weren't willing to do that. I think you ought to think about boycotting Mobil Oil's products."

John Flint, a spokesman for Mobil's corporate headquarters, characterized the attorney general's request as an "outrageously improper form of retaliation."

Budget Deficit?

While the attorney general worries about his courtroom problems, other lawmakers are worried that state government may be facing a budget deficit soon.

A deficit would bring a special session to raise taxes high enough to put state government into the black, Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby said last week.

But Hobby said it is still too soon to tell if the state will meet Comptroller Bob Bullock's estimates which has the state barely making ends meet for the next two years.

Hobby's comments came after officials learned state tax revenues are dropping perhaps as much as $114 million this fiscal year.

The budget board worries that Bullock's estimates could be off the mark by as much as $500 million, but the Comptroller stuck to his estimate last week. His office says they took into account factors which the Legislative Budget Board did not.

Bullock Warns Congress

Bullock was busy last week trying to persuade Congress not to decontrol natural gas, a move that would cost Texas $98 million on top of other budget woes.

Decontrol would lower natural gas prices by 2 cents to 11 cents, and lower the state income from the natural gas production tax. Although revenues would increase in '87 and '88, Bullock warned that the initial negative impact would come at a time when Texas' economy is hurt by the oil industry slump.

Post For Sale

The news that the Hobby family was selling the Houston Post started political watchers looking for hidden political motives.

Since Hobby is the leading Texan backing John Glenn for president, some thought he might be getting ready to take the vice presidential slot, or a cabinet post, or make a run for the U.S. Senate.

Taking it in stride, Hobby noted that his daughter, a recent law school graduate, was getting married July 31, but quipped, "It is not true that we have to sell the Houston Post to pay for Laura's wedding."

Forfeited Land Sale

The state will sell 120 tracts of land whose owners have defaulted on Veterans Land Board loans. The owners have until August 15 to vacate the property.

Land Commissioner Garry Mauro said his office notified 250 veterans of pending delinquency, and most have complied to bring the loans up to date.

Last week, Mauro indicated he may favor selling natural gas to farmers for irrigation purposes. The state might sell gas produced on state lands to regional farm co-ops, which in turn would sell to farmers.

45-50 Rockets Due Out

Skyrocket head coach-athletic director James Williams expects between 45 and 50 boys to show up for 1983 football practice, he said Monday evening, after he and other coaches had spent the day striping Powell Field.

Coaches returned from coaching school over the weekend and on Wednesday shoes were issued to the Skyrockets.

"We're looking forward to getting started. We have quite a few players carried over from last year who should help a lot," Williams declared.

Three offensive starters are back, Chad Holland, Michael Breedlove and Dwayne Culpepper. James Benton and Rosendo Villanueva played quite a lot in 1982.

Defensively, 5 starters are back, Holland at end, Mark Hunnicutt at defensive end; Darvin Nix, linebacker; Breedlove, linebacker and Culpepper in safety position.

Villanueva and Benton also saw action at cornerback last season.

"We're going to look at a lot of junior varsity kids from last year's team. There's a lot of spots that have to be filled and backups to be named. We're going to have a lot of those kids (from JV) move up on the varsity," Williams continued.

The Skyrockets will go into pads Monday, Aug. 8. Workouts have been set for 6:30 a.m. and 6 p.m. Williams and the other coaches invite Skyrocket fans to come out and watch the action on the practice field.

In spite of their spectacular record of the 1982 season, Dave Campbell's Texas Football magazine ranks the Skyrockets in No. 3 in District 2-AA, and far down in the state ratings.

This is due to the loss of the number of starters from the Wrecking Crew of '82, Williams points out.

However, it is to be remembered that the Skyrocket head coach has never believed in pre-season predictions and there couldn't be a better example than last year's placing of the Rockets as 4th in the district.

Panhandle Panthers are picked to win District 2-AA and the state football championships next year.

"Panhandle has everybody back and some new ones," Williams said. The Woods boys moved down from Gruver. Their father works for Buck's Sporting Goods in Amarillo and the family lives in Panhandle.

Panhandle has 11 offensive and 10 on defense returning.

Ranked second in the district are the Quanah Indians, with 7 defensive players and 8 offensive players back.

Memphis is rated fourth by Texas Football Magazine; Shamrock 5th and Clarendon last.

This is the year Panhandle has been working on for the last 4 or 5 years, when these kids become seniors.

"We'll have our work cut out for us," declares Williams. "We'll have to work filling places in the line. I think we can play defense real well, but have to work on the offense. I think we'll come along like last year."

Right now, Williams is concentrating on the first scrimmage with Wheeler, on either Thursday or Friday, Aug. 18 or 19. Specific dates were to be determined Wednesday.

The next week the coaches will prepare a little bit for the second scrimmage with Hale Center August 25 or 26, and then bear down hard for the opener with Hollis Sept. 2.

The scrimmage with Hale Center is called "another real good test right off the bat." The last two years Hale Center was defeated in the semi-final games, and this year is rated No. 10 in the state.

Enrichment Class Teachers Named

Enrollment for Saturday Enrichment Classes will be held Thursday, August 18, and the first classes for the elementary and junior high school students will meet on Saturday, August 27, according to Mrs. Eddie Hankins, chairman.

Enrollment hours will be 9 a.m. to 12 noon, and 1:15 to 3 p.m. in the elementary school.

Classes will be held each Saturday through October 8, with the exception of Sept.

10, when the Funfair will be underway.

This enrichment program began from a desire to provide classes for students in 1st through 8th grades who have an interest in certain areas, said Mrs. Hankins.

"The only qualification a student needs to enroll are to be in grades one through 8 and have an interest in the class or classes he or she registers for."

Teachers and their classes were announced and Mrs. Hankins pointed out that all are drawn from the talent within Wellington. They are:

Katie Davis, art in elementary and junior high grades; Haun Kite, choral music, junior high level; Margaret Pendleton, math in elementary grades; Lois Ratliff, creative writing grades four through 8; Jackie Wilkerson, computers, grades three through 8; Margaret Wood, History of Collingsworth County elementary grades and Saunna Blacksher, elementary math.

The classes will be held in the elementary school building.

Members of the committee responsible for organizing the program and locating teachers are Mrs. Leamon Bawcom, Mrs. Hankins, Mrs. Tommy Hudson, Mrs. Bill McKinney, Mrs. Wayne Phillips, Mrs. Johnny Shaver and Mrs. Bill Spillman.

A fee of $5 or $10 will be charged for each class. Location of each will be given at the time of registration.

The white lines in the middle of highways usually have to be repainted about every three to four months.

Don't count on being safe from the sun even under water. Ultraviolet rays can penetrate even three feet below the water's surface.

Firemen Complete Training

Three members of the Wellington Volunteer Fire Department attended the 54th annual Firemen's Training School conducted at College Station July 24-29. They were Dan Langford, department president, Richard Keller, and Kenneth Patterson. Because these Wellington Volunteer Firemen satisfactorily completed a fire prevention course, the city will receive a full 5 percent off its fire key rate. This will give Wellington residents a deduction in the fire insurance premium on property located within the city.

Keller completed courses in these areas: fire cause detection, fire prevention, education, public and community relations, L.P. gas inspection, fire inspections, and classification of fires. Keller said that these courses are set up for fire marshals, inspectors, and investigators. Langford and Patterson completed courses in fire attack simulation, aids and sources, equipment capabilities, tanker operations, warehouses and lumber yards, shopping centers, operational problems, hazardous materials, drafting pre-fire plans, overhaul and salvage, tactical use of protective systems, protecting exposures and heavy stream appliance, ventilation, fire ground search and rescue, initial attack lines and apparatus positioning, size up first arriving officer. These courses were set up for fire fighters and commanding officers.

Over 2,000 students participated in the training activities conducted by the Fire Protection Training Division of the Texas Engineering Extension Service, a part of the Texas A&M University System. Sponsored by the State Firemen's and Fire Marshals' Association of Texas, the school is considered the largest and most comprehensive of its kind in the world.

Brayton Firemen Training Field, site of the annual school, features 120 acres and over $14 million in buildings, specialized equipment and training aids. Instruction combines classroom sessions and hands-on training in actual firefighting under close supervision of experienced firefighting instructors.

Mitchells at Peanut Growers Association

(Lynda) McGill, and five grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Monty Mitchell of Marella were in Stephenville recently to attend the annual meeting of the Southwestern Peanut Growers Association.

There was great concern among the members over the non-quota peanuts that are being grown in the United States and sold overseas to countries that process the peanuts and sell them back to the United States buyers with only a three percent import duty. Mitchell said "Peanut butter and it comes in duty free," he added.

A representative of the SCS program from Washington discussed the future of the program and pointed out that processed peanuts which originate on non-quota acrea are coming into the U.S. from Mexico, Japan, and Canada. In order to participate in the government peanut program, a grower must have an acreage allotment, which growers in the Quail-Marella area do have.

"They (non-quota growers) are contracting peanuts overseas for less than $400 a ton. We (quota growers) get about $500. There is no way we can compete with them. Mitchell believes. He said that unless action is taken, the non-quota growers will kill the present quota program. Mitchell said the current price of peanuts on quota acres is $550 per ton; the price on non-quota acres is $185. Growers attended from New Mexico, Texas, Oklahoma, Louisiana, and Arkansas.
