Huston Announces Plan To Resign August 7 After Conference With Hoover

AGITATION FOR PARTY CHIEF'S OUSTER ENDS

Long Parley With President Followed by Huston Statement

MEETING CALLED

Resignation to Be Made At Gathering of G. O. P. Executives

WASHINGTON, July 24. (AP)—Announcement was made on behalf of Claudius Huston as he left a conference late tonight with President Hoover that he would submit his resignation as chairman of the Republican national committee to the executive committee next month.

The statement of Mr. Huston which was given out through James Francis Burke, counsel of the National committee, read:

"I have just had a satisfactory conference with the president and we are in entire accord on our program. The president has approved my decision to call a meeting of the executive committee on August 7 at which time I intend to submit my resignation as chairman of the Republican national committee."

Agitation Ends

The announcement brought a sudden and dramatic end to the whirl of agitation which has raged around Mr. Huston's head almost from the day he succeeded Dr. Hubert Work as Republican chairman early in the Hoover administration.

Until he faced President Hoover tonight, Mr. Huston kept his party leaders in doubt as to his final decision. His call at the White House followed 24 hours of feverish activity in the high command of the Republican party.

Coming to Washington late tonight, Huston went immediately into conference with Mr. Burke who has acted as go between in the negotiations between the president and his harassed party chairman.

Fess Slated for Post

Senator Fess, of Ohio, is slated to take over the chairmanship of the national committee upon Huston's retirement. The executive committee which will be called to receive Huston's resignation next month has the power to fill the vacancy.

The agitation against Huston within the party became active after it was testified before the senate lobby committee that he had solicited funds for the Tennessee river improvement association in behalf of the Muscle Shoals lobby and that he had used these funds in his brokerage account before turning them over to the association of which he was president.

Jury Of Scientists Decides Babies Switched In Weird Parentage Mixup

CHICAGO, July 24. (AP)—The big question in Chicago's mixed-infant mystery tonight was not who is Baby Watkins, but where is he? The three-weeks' old child had disappeared, together with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bamberger, when Health Commissioner Arnold H. Kegel went to the Bamberger home tonight to advise them that his committee of scientists had found they had the offspring of Mr. and Mrs. William Watkins.

Stories in the evening papers, quoting Bamberger as saying he would defy the helth commissioner to take the baby in his home, had attracted a crowd of neighbors and street urchins around the residence by the time Dr. Kegel arrived. When the commisisoner found that Mr. and Mrs. Bamberger had taken the baby and left, he expressed regret, explaining that he had not come to take the baby but to advise the Bambergers to abide by the decision as they had agreed prior to the tests.

Decision that the babies had been mixed before they left the Englewood hospital where both were born was reached by 13 modern solomons today with one dissenting vote and two not voting.

CHICAGO, July 24. (AP)—Thirteen modern Solomons who set out to determine the parentage of two three-weeks' old babies, born the same day in the Englewood hospital, decreed today, with one dissenting vote that the infants had been switched and are in the hands of the wrong parents. Two of the 13 did not vote.

The verdict brought joy to one father, William Watkins, who has felt certain he had the wrong heir, and defiance from the other, Charles Bamberger, who believed he had the right son all along.

"I won't give up the baby I have," Bamberger said, "I'll barricade my house and hire a lawyer to help me fight to keep my baby."

Both mothers were in a state of collapse. Mrs. Bamberger was too ill to leave her home to attend the conference and she kept the infant she has been mothering as hers close by her side. Mrs. Watkins alternately walked the floor or sat huddled in a chair outside the

HOUSTON HOST TO AIR DERBY

Little Rock Plane Keeps Lead in Race

HOUSTON, July 24. (AP)—Eleven of the 12 planes which sped away from Little Rock, Ark., this morning in the all-American air derby had checked in here late today. Lieut. Lee Gehlbeck in the Little Rocket, the Arkansas city's entrant, still was far ahead of the field with elapsed time of 3:01:34 from Little Rock here and a total unofficial elapsed time of 15:22:32. Gehlbeck won $500 of the $1,000 lap prize offered here. Stub Quinby of Moline, Ill., took the second money of $300 and J. R. Wdell of New Orleans, the $200 third award.

The craft which failed to arrive was that of Herman Hamer of Chicago, who started well. Hamer was forced down, the officials were advised, at Hankamer, Liberty county, Texas. They presumed lack of fuel brought him to earth, as he sent word that he needed a mechanic and some gasoline.

The waspish Little Rocket came tearing over the finish line so rapidly that the number on the side hardly could be read. It was checked in at 12:05:34 p. m.

Quinby's little ship was next in. He was clocked at 12:06:06.

Wedell arived some five minutes behind Quinby, at 12:13:55. The leaders said they had sighted the unfortunate Hamer earlier in the day and that he was "burning up the sky." They believed he would have been hard to beat, but for the trouble he had.

The planes will take up the race again beginning at 9 a. m., tomorrow. San Angelo, Texas, is the next control point.

Death Dealing Hurricane Brings More Deaths to Quake-Torn Italy

Terrific Gale Kills 12 at Treviso While Rescue Agency Seek Victims of Earth Shock

TREVISO, Italy, July 24. (AP)—A hurricane in this section today caused the death of 12 persons, injured many more and blew down hundreds of houses over a stretch of nearly 25 miles.

Serious damage was done at Barco di Sesegana, Nervesa Selva and Volpago, small communities not far from here, and it was feared more bodies were buried in the ruins of fallen houses.

The hurricane blew along a course marked by the townships of Susegana, Piula, Volpago del Montello and Montebelluna.

Troops were promptly dispatched to organize relief. Treviso is near the Adriatic, about 17 miles northwest of Venice.

RECE WORKERS SEARCH FOR BODIES

ROME, July 24 (AP)—A relief army of soldiers, doctors and special workers of all kinds, with scouting airplanes to guide them, tonight swarmed into the mountainous recesses of the Neapolitan hinterland to count an ever-increasing total of dead and care for thousands of injured and hundreds of thousands of homeless from Wednesday's calamitous earthquake.

From King Victor Emmanuel and Premier Mussolini down, Italy today began mobilization on a wartime scale for the rescue work. Pope Pius XI, horrified by the extent of the catastrophe, prepared the forces of the church.

"Ankle" Devastated

From the Bay of Naples and the Gulf of Salerno on the west almost to the Gulf of Manfredonia on the Adriatic zone of devasted and stricken towns, hamlets and houses stretched like an open wound around the "ankle" of the Italian boot.

With the figures of known dead at the ministry of the interior already mounting past 2,000, and those of the known injured approaching with dizzying speed the 5,000 mark, forecasts of a death toll of at least 3,000 were confidently made in Rome tonight.

Unofficial reports gave 3,025 as the number of bodies already found. In remote communities and distant

NEGROES LOSE BALLOT PLEA

Galveston Tribunal Rules On Question

GALVESTON, July 24. (AP)—The first court of civil appeals here held that the Democratic executive committee of Harris county was well within its right in excluding negroes from voting in the Democratic primaries, declining to issue a mandamus asked for by Julius White, Houston negro.

HEARING ON WICHITA CASE SET TODAY

The possibility that Wichita county negroes will be granted their plea for a mandamus to compel the Democratic executive committee to allow them to vote in the primary Saturday was dimmed here Thursday evening when Associated Press dispatches to The Record News stated that the first court of civil appeals at Galveston had denied Harris county negroes on a similar mandamus application and held that the county committee was within its rights in refusing to allow negro voting.

A hearing on the application of several negroes here for a mandamus will be called in the 89th district court at 9 o'clock Friday morning, according to an order of Judge P. A. Martin.

Attorneys Thursday expressed the opinion that the status of negro voters in the Democratic primary would be established here before noon Friday, although it was possible that introduction of the contentions of both sides would take longer than expected.

FINAL DAY OF CAMPAIGN SEES MANY RALLIES

'Ma' Ferguson Alone Given General Recognition As Leader

STERLING 'SATISFIED'

Homecoming at Houston For Highway Advocate Brings Cheer

(By The Associated Press)

Texas candidates for office Thursday concluded their next to the last day of campaigning before the first primaries Saturday with the race for the Democratic nomination for governor still holding the center of interest.

The field of 11 Democratic candidates for governor will be narrowed to two Saturday and seven aspirants to the state's chief executive post claim to foresee places for themselves in the runoff.

The prohibition issue has been injected into the race for the Democratic nomination for the United States senate. United States Senator Morris Sheppard of Texarkana, author of the 18th amendment, who has been unable to make a campaign because of duties in Washington, has been actively opposed by Robert L. Henry of Houston, former congressman and a wet. C. A. Mitchner or Irion is a third candidate for that place.

Moody vs. Storey

Governor Moody's charge that Representative Cecil Storey of Vernon is a "Ferguson man" has added interest to the attorney general's race. Other candidates for that office are Attorney General Robert Lee Bobbitt of Laredo, a Moody appointee, James V. Allred of Wichita Falls who almost gained the nomination four years ago, and Ernest Becker of Dallas.

Several candidates for lieutenant governor are well known and most of the aspirants to that office have traversed the state.

The seven stumping candidates for governor continued their speechmaking with fervor Thursday afternoon and night and their respective headquarters were scenes of increased activity.

Ferguson Confident

James E. Ferguson, confident that his wife, Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, would lead the ticket by a big margin went to Eastland Thursday night. He continued his attack on Ross S. Sterling, an appointee of his arch-enemy, Gov. Dan Moody.

Ferguson's address to an enthusiastic audience at Fort Worth Wednesday night was broadcast over radio. "My opponents say that my wife is a proxy candidate," he stated, "and in the next breath they

Laundryman Runs for Governor

C. C. Moody, Fort Worth laundryman pictured above, expects to clean up in his race for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination in Texas, on which the state will vote in the primary of Saturday, July 26. He is one of the dozen candidates for the office now held by Governor Dan Moody, not seeking re-election.

'Soapy' Moody Steels Himself For Verdict of Texas Voters Saturday

Laundry Wagon Candidate to Deliver Clean Clothes as Usual While Citizens Decide His Political Fate

FORT WORTH, July 24. (UP)—Saturday will be just another work day for C. C. (Soapy) Moody, the laundry wagon candidate for governor.

He will arise early and deliver the week-end washings until 8:00 or 8:30 o'clock that night.

Easing down in the rear of his laundry wagon today, soapy promised he would meet the voters' decision Saturday with a steady hand and a hopeful mind.

He'll Listen In

"I'll go down to the barber shop after I get through with my work Saturday night and listen to the election returns over the radio," he said.

"I won't stop because this job means more to me than the governor's office. I just wanted this job because of the honor, that's all. I've got friends who will keep me advised all day how I am running.

Wants to Beat Love

"Mainly, I want to beat Tom Love. And if he keeps on saying things about me that he did to those rabbit twisters in East Texas, I will.

"And if it's Love and I in the run-off I will be the next governor of Texas."

Soapy is irate over reports that Love said in several East Texas speeches that he is "just a common working man who had the nerve to run for governor."

"My election would be one of the most Democratic things that ever happened in Texas," Soapy said today, "and it would clean up some of this dirty politics."

Bid From Oklahoma

But win or lose, Soapy is ahead of his race. An Oklahoman has invited him to come there and make the race should he be defeated in the primary.

The invitation said "our election is on the 29th. That would give you three days in which to warm up."

Also, his defeat would mean 200 more laundry customers. Two hundred men and boys in office buildings he has canvassed have promised to help out with their business if he is defeated.

DRIVER HELD AFTER FATAL MISHAP HERE

G. W. Moore, 65, Knocked To Pavement in Business District

WIDOW IS STRICKEN

Heart Ailment Augmented By Shock Following Accident

G. W. Moore, 65, proprietor of the Cherry Rooms, 812 Seventh street, was fatally injured when he was struck down by an automobile driven by Guy J. Scholl as he attempted to cross the street in front of the roming house about 9:30 Thursday night. Scholl surrendered to police after the death of the aged man. He was placed in jail to be held for the questioning of the district attorney's office Friday morning.

The aged man was hurled to the pavement and dragged several yards before the car could be halted. His skull was crushed and he died at the Wichita Falls Clinic hospital two hours later. The body is being held at the Albert's Funeral home pending the completion of arrangements.

Buys Soft Drinks

Mr. Moore had crossed the street to buy soft drinks for himself and his invalid wife and was returning to the rooming house at the time of the accident. Mary Catherine Solesbee, 12, 702 Lamar, watched him leave the drink stand and start across the street, bearing the two bottles in his hands.

The tragedy was a serious shock to Mrs. Moore, who is critically ill with a heart ailment. Attendants were forced to call a physican to quiet her and her condition was regarded as perilous late Thursday night.

Scholl, a geologist who lives at 1820 Eleventh street, told investigators that the hysterical condition of his wife forced him to leave the scene of the accident soon after the injured man was placed in an Albert's ambulance. He drove with Mrs. Scholl to the home of a friend in the hope of quieting her, he declared. When inquiries at the hospital revealed the seriousness of the injury to the aged man, Scholl called the police and voluntarily went to the police station.

Man Appears Suddenly

"I was driving not more than 25 or 30 miles an hour, having just made a green light at Seventh and Lamar," he said. "The man appeared suddenly from beside a car or out of an alley and I had struck him before I had time to apply the brakes."

Mr. Moore had lived in Wichita Falls for the past 17 years. He has operated the Cherry Rooms since 1927. Before that time he was connected with the McAfee Produce company. Besides his widow he is survived by two daughters, Mrs. A. W. Phillips and Mrs. Corrie Welsh, both of Wichita Falls, and a son, Paul Moore of Arkansas.

Hambone's Meditations

Wichitan in Critical Condition After He Is Knocked Down in Fight

Frank C. Martin, manager of the battery department of the Texas Electric company, Eleventh street and Indiana avenue, is at the Wichita Falls Clinic hospital in a serious condition with severe concussion of the brain and a deep scalp wound sustained when his head struck a lathe in the electric company shop after he had been knocked to the floor by a blow dealt in the course of a quarrel at the shop late Thursday afternoon.

Another man was arrested when police were called shortly after the termination of the quarrel. He was questioned at police headquarters but was released, officers said, while the condition of Martin was being watched. Any charge against the man arrested will depend upon the seriousness of Martin's injury and his possibilities of recovery, it was said.

Martin was rushed to the hospital in an unconscious condition by an ambulance from the Albert's Funeral home, with city motorcycle officers clearing the way through the heavy late afternoon traffic in the downtown section.

Police were told that the man they arrested had bought an automobile from Martin and had claimed it proved unsatisfactory. He went to the shop Thursday afternoon seeking to make an adjustment on the sale of the car, it was reported, and a dispute over the machine led to blows, one having felled Martin so that he toppled backward, striking his head with terrific force against the piece of machinery.

Pitch Game Decides Which of Two Old Friends Enters Sheriff's Race

HERKIMER, N. Y., July 24. (AP)—Fortune lay in the cards tonight for Daniel F. Strobel. He won not only the right to enter the primaries as a candidate for the Republican nomination for sheriff of Herkimer county, but the good will and support of the man he beat in a game of pitch, otherwise known as high-low-Jack.

To a little tavern outside this village they went, Strobel, Fred Sauer, against whom he was to play pitch with the principal place on the Republican county ticket at stake, and a retinue of followers of both. They have been friends for a quarter century, and neither would enter a political fight against the other. So they decided to leave it to the cards.

While self-appointed sergeants at arms promptly squelched the kibitzers who could not refrain from offering advice at intervals, Strobel and Sauer faced each other as grimly as any duellists. The cards were dealt and play began. Strobel took some friendly jeering when his match shook as he attempted to light a cigaret. Sauer was twitted because he couldn't decide whether to leave his hat off or on. The goal was 11 points. Strobel got three first.

At an adjoining table three other Republicans played pinochle to decide who next would hold the appointive office of county purchasing agent. Maurice Kraus, with 1,000 points, emerged the victor over M. L. Hyde, who had 490, and John Flank, whose total was 380.

LAW TO CURB TREE SITTING

Dusty Statute to Halt Juvenile Performers

CHICAGO, July 24. (AP)—The old reliable statutes, which may be depended upon to provide a "don't" for almost everything that anyone might want to do, have finally provided a cure for tree-sitting.

Careful search of the law has uncovered no specific ruling against tree sitters, but it has found a rule striking at fathers and mothers of tree sitters, which amounts to the same thing.

Carl J. Appell, assistant corporation counsel, had discovered that parents may be fined $100 and sent to jail for three months for allowing their children to endanger their life and limbs. The law is dusty with age, but that doesn't make any difference.

Police today were given orders to get the boys out of the branches. This may provide some tense moments, with portly policemen pursuing nimble youths from limb to limb, leaping and frisking like—well, monkeys or squirrels. However, with the parents themselves in danger of arrest, the problem may be found to have simplified itself.

The only tree sitter who viewed the threatened police invasion without alarm was Steve Makowski, who is 19 years old and therefore outside the authority of the juvenile officers. Besides, he has an attorney all ready to get a writ of injunction.

Specter of Modernism Invades Traditions of Ancient Greece

By H. ALLEN SMITH

NEW YORK, July 24. (UP)—John Vassos, the artist and architect, who represents the ultimate in the zig-zag modernistic school, has got himself into a pretty kettle of fish by designing a 16-story building for the city of Athens in his native Greece.

Mr. Vassos has drawn up plans for the building in his best modernistic style and now certain citizens of Athens are bombarding him with protests. What was good enough for their fathers, they say, surely should be good enough for themselves. And rather than stick a modern American skyscraper up in their ancient metropolis, they would prefer having something in the Greek tradition, like the parthenon, or the temple of Athens.

Athens Divided

The controversy over Mr. Cassos' design has reached such a stage, it is reported, that Athens is split into two camps. One faction cheers loudly for Vassos, saying his building is dandy. The others cry out against the introduction of modernism into a city that is noted for its architectural gifts to mankind. These opponents of the Vassos design are inveighing against it with all the zest of Demosthenes, thundering out his denunciation of Philip of Macedon.

The building is to be erected by members of the American legion of Greek descent, who have contributed $300,000 for it. These American Greeks, Vassos said today, are well satisfied with his design for the building.

In his plans, Vassos has provided for a copious use of marble and steel. The design calls for much black and white. The building has a spreading base, of three stories. From the center of this base rises a tower of 13 stories, with three narrowing tiers at the top.

Scholars Opposed

It is to be used for sort of an American institute and hotel, with accommodations for American Greeks who come back to the old country. A concert hall, exhibition room and other features are included.

A delegation of American Greeks is scheduled to sail from New York on Aug. 15 for the laying of the cornerstone. Mr. Vassos told the United Press today nothing can interfere with present plans—that a modernistic skyscraper will rise over the Corinthian columns of the Acropolis whether some people like it or not.

Vassos said the Greek press as well as many prominent Athenians favor his design. The opposition comes from a small group of scholars, he said, who are blindly devoted to a traditional worship of the Periclean age.

U. S. ENVOYS MUST ABSTAIN

Congress Refuses to Buy Embassy Liquor

WASHINGTON, July 24. (AP)—Bubbling champagnes and choice wines at governmental expense are forbidden luxuries in American embassies and consulates abroad under an executive order just signed by President Hoover.

The order cites in detail regulations governing the disbursement by nearly 100 American diplomatic and consular missions abroad of allowances recently voted by congress for official entertaining.

After a six years fight for such funds, congress recently allotted $92,000 to this purpose in its appropriation for the state department.

Congress authorized the allowances in 1924, but failed to make the necessary appropriation in any bill since that time until the present budget.

In addition to liquors, three other items are tabooed under the order. They include hire and repair of automobiles, printing and engraving expenses and club dues.

The order states that "express provisions of the law" prevented governmental funds being used for these purposes.

Liquor Big Item

Among the items permitted under the appropriation are receptions at the missions on American national holidays, flowers and wreaths for weddings and funerals, tips and gratuities, dinners, formal and informal functions and special entertainments.

The ruling came as a considerable surprise to state department officials and particularly those in the foreign service who will benefit by the funds.

The item of serving liquors is generally considered by foreign service officers stationed abroad to be about the heaviest of any for which they have been forced to pay out of their own pockets.

Many of the foreign service officers who do extensive entertaining have found that liquors frequently run to a considerable bill.

Department officials said today they had no information as to the number of missions abroad whose heads maintained "arid territories" in compliance with prohibition laws of their country at home.

Ambassador Dawes in London caused considerable comment last year by announcing that no liquors would be served at the embassy in London during his term of office.

At the homes of many foreign service officers, however, liquors are served, but under the present ruling these must continue to be paid for by the host no matter what the occasion.

Tired and Hungry Jobless Man Seeks Refuge in Prison

CLEVELAND, Ohio, July 24. (AP)—George Kinney, out of work, tired and hungry, congratulated himself today on his success in getting room and board at the county jail with prospects on spending the winter in Atlanta penitentiary.

He was brought before John B. Osmun, assistant United States district attorney, with a letter which he said he had stolen from the mail. Skeptical of Kinney's story, Osmun wanted to know why he had gone direct to him with the letter.

"I'm tired and hungry and want to go to bed, that's why," Kinney replied. "June 2 was the last time I slept in a bed."

Osmun, somewhat reluctant to accommodate, looked up the law. "Five years for stealing from the mails," he meditated. "Too long, it would be a shame. Six months for delaying the mails. That's better."

"All right you may go to jail until August when Federal Judge Samuel H. West can hear your case," Osmun said. After going through the ceremony of pleading guilty, Kinney was locked up.

LEXINGTON, Ky., July 24. (AP)—L. T. Brumagen, young Lexington tree-sitter, was forced to abandon his perch today when a polecat disputed ownership of the tree.

Brumagen had been up 56 hours when the skunk arrived and took a liking to the tree. The tree sitter's ground crew came to his rescue and killed the prowling animal. Brumagen and his ground crew then voted unanimously to vacate immediately.

Too Much ACID

Many people, two hours after eating, suffer indigestion as they call it. It is usually excess acid. Correct it with an alkali. The best way, the quick, harmless and efficient way, is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained for 50 years the standard with physicians. One spoonful in water neutralizes many times its volume in stomach acids, and at once. The symptoms disappear in five minutes.

You will never use crude methods when you know this better method. And you will never suffer from excess acid when you prove out this easy relief. Please do that—for your own sake—now.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drugstore.

Parnell to Speak at Rally For West Texan

trolia, Electra, Iowa Park, Burkburnett and possibly other cities over the territory, according to the substance of messages received here by E. H. Eddleman, who will preside at the rally Friday evening.

Senator Small will be introduced by Walter D. Cline. Prior to the principal address from the candidate, which will be broadcast over station KGKO by rembte control from 8:30 until 9:30 o'clock, several brief talks will be made by Wichita Falls and out-of-town supporters of Senator Small's candidacy. The list of those who are expected to give two to five-minute talks, Mr. Eddleman said Friday, includes A. H. Britain, R. E. Huff and Ray Nichols, the latter of Vernon. Others will likely be called upon for brief talks at the opening of the rally.

Big Crowd Expected

Complete arrangements have been made to provide accomodations for the large crowds expected, it was said. In addition to the large seating capacity of the grounds, a wide expanse of grassy hillside giving a full view of the speaker's stand will be available for those desiring to sit or recline on the ground. The speeches will be audible in all parts of the grounds, by means of loud speakers placed at points of vantage which will create the impression that the speaker is standing directly in front of the listener, regardless of his position with respect to the speaker's stand. Lighting effects, also, have been arranged to flood the entire area and footlights on the stand will make the speakers visible to persons at a distance from the stand.

PARNELL TO SPEAK AFTER SMALL RALLY

J. D. Parnell of Wichita Falls will bring his campaign for lieutenant governor to a close here Friday night with a rally at the Memorial auditorium grounds following the all-Northwest Texas rally in behalf of Clint C. Small for governor.

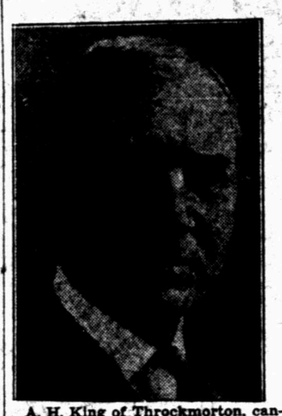

The mass meeting will open at 8 o'clock, with Senator Small's address being broadcast over station KGKO between 8:30 and 9:30 o'clock, after which Senator Parnell will take the stand for an address in the interests of his own candidacy. His address will also be on the air over KGKO.

Senator Parnell was in San Antonio Thursday in the interests of his campaign. He will arrive in Wichita Falls Friday afternoon to make final preparations for his last address. Supporters of his candidacy here Thursday evening reported they had been advised that reports from all sections of the state were highly favorable toward Senator Parnell's candidacy, and that they were confident of the election returns Saturday being in his favor.

For Farmers

A. H. King of Throckmorton, candidate for commissioner of agriculture, was in Wichita Falls Thursday en route home after a campaign tour that carried him to many Texas points. Mr. King, a former member of the legislature, hopes if elected to make the state department of agriculture of greater service to the dirt farmer. He is the only West Texan in the race. Mr. King is a native of Hunt county, Texas, but has lived at Throckmorton for many years.

say she will be in the runoff. If they can't beat a proxy candidate, why don't they quit?"

After a "highly satisfactory" homecoming celebration at Houston Wednesday night, Sterling remained in what he considered "cinch" territory Thursday. He spoke at Liberty Thursday morning and was booked for a speech at Beaumont Thursday afternoon and Port Arthur Thursday night. The highway commission chairman formerly resided in Chambers county, once a part of Liberty county, and his brother is Mayor of Dayton near Liberty.

Unemployment Issue

At Sterling's North Texas headquarters, Murphy Townsend said that relief of unemployment was "the vital issue" before the American public today. "If we can finish commencing right away, instead of our highway system in 12 years, puttering along indefinitely and indiscriminately as at present, a measurable relief of unemployment will be found," Townsend said.

Clint Small's Dallas headquarters charged unfair campaign tactics on the part of the supporters of Jim Young.

John Erhard, Northeast Texas campaign manager for Small, said that District Attorney Welch of Breckenridge, claimed to have deserted Small for Young, told Erhard Thursday that "Young supporters approached me but I refused to go over to them."

"As for the other men mentioned by Young headquarters as having switched, I don't believe they ever were for Small," Erhard said. He stated that in a number of West Texas counties a contest had developed as to which was going to give Small the largest majority.

Paul Page Jr., of Houston, former assistant attorney general and Jim Young supporter, said reports from "key" counties all over the state showed Young, Mrs. Ferguson and Sterling leading. "These reports further show that the strength of Sterling and Mrs. Ferguson has been greatly overestimated," Page said.

Final Love Rally

Workers at Dallas headquarters for Thomas B. Love were busy making plans for his homecoming speech there Friday night. H. H. Jacoby, chairman of Love's campaign in Dallas county, said that E. G. Senter, George Wallace, W. M. Taylor and Cullen Thomas, all of whom supported Alfred E. Smith in 1928, would be on the platform for Love's speech.

Morris Mayfield, brother of former United States Senator Earle B. Mayfield, said that a crowd of about 5,000 persons heard the former senator at Dallas Wednesday night.

Mayfield predicted his brother was a "cinch" to go into the runoff because he would get a good vote throughout the state.

John Davis, former state senator from Dallas county, phoned Miller headquarters that prospects for Miller were excellent in the lower Rio Grande valley. Davis has been to Edinburg, Harlingen and Brownsville. "Miller will get a clear majority, I believe, in Cameron county," Davis said.

Miller will speak over radio station WFAA of Dallas from 8 to 8:15 Friday night, preceding his homecoming talk.

Pretty Surprise Shower Honors Jnly Bride-Elect

As a pre-nuptial courtesy to Miss Fay Dunaway, whose marriage to W. A. Branun is anounced as an event of Sunday, July 27, Mrs. Orbon Leach, was hostess at her home on Buchanan street Thursday night at a surprise shower given in the form of a summer lawn party. Mrs. Ray Brearley was associate hostess on the pretty occasion.

The party was held under the starry sky where tables covered in the bride-elect's chosen colors of blue and white were set round a huge wedding bell in the same pretty colors.

The evening was spent in games and before the refreshments were served, the bell was raised, showering the honoree with many beautiful gifts.

The lawn was lighted in blue and white and the wedding bell motif was carried out in the appointments on the tables. A delicious ice course was served to Miss Dunaway, the honoree, Missess Marie Ford, Emma Wall, Lucile Whitman, Willie Mae Ermis, Marguerite McHam, Frances McHam, Faye McBride, Margaret Brand, Beulah Gilbreath, Rachel Gilbreath, Ruth Lammers; Mesdames R. PEEPS AT PEOPLE

By MRS. L. N. CASON

We've been reading about critics and what they have to say concerning late books. It seems that the consensus of opinion is that war stories and negro stories are still to be the leads in fiction, take "Sweet Man" for instance!

We know the books we would select and they are not of these types, but we have been waiting impatiently for the dollar editions, promise of which raised such a storm among publishers. Today we saw a list of six to be released by Simon & Schuster on July 31 and not one is the kind of book we desire.

We had hoped for an opportunity to buy books once more; we can never buy many at the present prices. But if it is only a selected few to be issued, we'd rather have fewer books of the quality we like.

The August Golden Book took up the question of the books we loved as children and quoted selections from them to see if people could remember them. With the exception of the Henty books, which we never read, they were fresh as if we had read them yesterday—lines from "Uncle Tom's Cabin," "Alice in Wonderland," "Swiss Family Robinson," "Elsie Dinsmore," etc.

But they were the young books of yesteryear. One of the young people of today saw the list and the following conversation ensued.

Younger Generation: "I never did read 'Uncle Tom's Cabin.'"

Older generation: "Well you never missed much."

Y. G.: "Wasn't it a good book?"

O. G.: "It was one that roused a lot of passion and helped hurry on the Civil war."

Y. G.: "I've heard so much about Liza crossing the ice; was that exciting?"

O. G.: "Well, she crossed on ice when she had to jump from one broken piece to another to get away from the overseer and his bloodhounds."

Y. G.: "Why didn't she cross it some other time?"

O. G.: "She had to cross when the ice was breaking and to leave water between herself and the bloodhounds."

Y. G.: "I mean why didn't she go across sometime when the overseer didn't see her run away?"

O. G.: "O, for Heaven's sake, read 'Uncle Tom's Cabin.' "

It looks as if the younger generation wants to analyze those books the older generation read with eager imagination. They scorn Louisa May Alcott, and "Elsie Dinsmore" is impossible and they don't even care for "Swiss Family Robinson."

Just the same, they have read one we find impossible and that's the Pollyanna series. No, no; don't be Pollyannaish around us.

Miss Gilbreath Honoree At Surprise Shower

Miss Rachel Gilbreath was honoree at a pretty surprise shower Wednesday night when Mrs. Frank Allday and Mrs. Walter Walker entertained in her honor. Miss Gilbreath's first intimation that the party was in her honor was when she was asked to sign in the bride's book, a pretty pink and silver heart in the bride-elect's chosen colors.

Billie Frank Allday led the honoree to a table where she found many lovely gifts wrapped in pink and silver.

Games, contests and a mock wedding were the evening's entertainment and the prizes, a crystal sugar bowl and cream pitcher were won by Maurine Leach and Ethelene Jones. Both were presented to the honoree.

Guests wrote their favorite recipes on pages from a loose leaf note book which were presented to the honoree as a cookbook when completed. Today

At the Theaters

By ELEANOR FLEMING

STRAND: Fay Wray, Richard Arlen and Jack Holt in "The Border Legion." Talking short subjects and comedy.

STATE: Bebe Daniels and Ben Lyon in "Alias French Gertie." Talking short subjects and sound news.

MAJESTIC: "Dangerous Nan McGrew" with Helen Kane and Stuart Erwin. Comedy, screen song and sound news.

GEM: All-talking western, "Romance of the West." Chapter 3 of "The Lightning Express." Comedy.

It's pretty bad business when a critic can't even pan theater managers for booking old shows. The Palace at Dallas, called "the key house of Texas" is just now playing "The Big House;" "Dangerous Nan McGrew" opened one day sooner in Wichita Falls than in Dallas; "The Bad One," which was rather a bad one, played here and in Dallas simultaneously; and "For the Defense," opening at the Majestic Saturday, will be shown for the first time in Texas when it begins here.

Wichita Falls also gets the first shot at a number of good ones promised for the next few weeks—notably, such successes as "The Floradora Girl," "Let Us Be Gay," (recommended to diversion seekers by Walter Winchell a day or so ago), "Let's Go Native," "Grumpy," and "All Quiet on the Western Front."

For those who like to plan their vacations according to the theater program, I might lift up the curtain and tell what's happening in August—for instance:

At the Majestic, "For the Defense" opens Saturday; "The Flirting Widow" (Dorothy Mackaill) the next Wednesday; "The King of Jazz (Paul Whiteman, George Gershwin, the Bronx sisters and everybody else) on Saturday, Aug. 2; "Sweethearts and Wives" (Billie Dove and Clive Brook) on Wednesday, Aug. 6; Richard Dix in "Shooting Straight" on Saturday, Aug. 9; John Boles in "Captain of the Guard" on Wednesday, Aug. 13; "Queen High" with Ginger Rogers, the I-got-It-but-It-don't-do-me-no-good girl, on Saturday, Aug. 16; Marion Davies in "The Floradora Girl" on Wednesday, Aug. 20; "Let's Go Native" with Jeanette MacDonald and Jack Oakie on Saturday, Aug. 23; Cyril Maude in "Grumpy" on Wednesday, Aug. 27.

The Strand promises Norma Shearer and Marie Dressler in "Let Us Be Gay" next Friday, immediately following "The Border Legion;" Lewis Stone and Greta Garbo in "Romance" on Friday, Aug. 8; Moran and Mack in "Anybody's War," on Friday, Aug. 15; Joan Crawford in "Our Blushing Brides" on Friday, Aug. 22; and "All Quiet on the Western Front" on Friday, Aug. 29.

Starting with "Alias French Gertie," now playing at the State, Manager D. L. Johnson will offer "Born Reckless" with Edmund Lowe; "Mountain Justice," "Children of Pleasure;" "Beau Bandit" with Rod la Rocque; Lois Moran in "Not Damaged;" "Roaring Ranch;" Sally O'Neil in "Girl of Port;" "Lone Rider" with Buck Jones; and "Wild Company" with Dixie Lee.

It looks as if a theater critic is going to be compelled to resort to grumbling about using the same record every day during the advertisements, or the lack of cool water in the drinking fountain at the Majestic—there's no other kick coming.

Fifteen Candidates Abandon Ancient Custom of Handing Out Cards at Polls

A practice which numerous Wichita county voters have urged to the candidates of this year's election—that of not handing out cards on election day—will be followed by 15 county aspirants in six of the races for office here Saturday, according to an agreement signed and turned over Thursday to County Judge John P. Marrs, chairman of the candidates' arrangements committee.

Judge Marrs said that numerous voters had signified their disfavor of the bother of being handed cards as they approach balloting places. The voter on the usual election day, he pointed out, is besieged with cards as he passes through the "gauntlet" of campaign workers and candidates on the way to the election booth. The practice is both bothersome and troublesome in view of the fact that all or most of the cards are tossed away soon after having been handed out and that they litter up the lawns, sidewalks and streets about the voting box, he said.

Those candidates who signed the agreement not to hand out or have handed out their cards Saturday were: W. G. Bralley, Perry Browning and George H. Hodgins, candidates for sheriff; Allan D. Montgomery and J. W. Akin, candidates for judge of the 30th district court; Irvin J. Vogel and E. E. Fischer, candidates for judge of the county court-at-law; M. A. Bundy, J. H. Patton and M. H. Pearce, candidates for county commissioner, precinct No. 1; O. L. Gibbs and A. E. Brown, candidates for justice of the peace, precinct No. 1; and Luke Rowell, Fred K. Smith and Frank Morgan, candidates for constable, precinct No. 1.

Can You Do Your Housework?

If you are not as well as you want to be, if you are weak, nervous or rundown, give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial. Take at least three bottles. It will tone up your whole system and help you to eat better, sleep better and feel better.

Mrs. Marie Vriesenga, 2002 Lexington Ave., New York, New York.

"My work is keeping a rooming house in New York. I was weak and tired and didn't seem to feel well at all. Some friends told me about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I took it four times a day. It has helped me very much. I feel better in all ways now."

Ask Your Friends

Mrs. Paulina Pascuzzi, 316 Tremont Ave., East Orange, New Jersey

"I never had any appetite and I could not sleep well, and I was irregular and often suffered from headaches because of my age. I read a booklet left at my door, and so I took eight bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I have also taken the Herb Medicine. I feel stronger in every way now. I have gained weight and am not nearly so nervous and can do my housework without getting too tired."

Edna Sluraff, 1129 DalySt., Philadelphia, Pennsylvania

"I was completely rundown from nursing. I took four bottles of your medicine with very good results. I have been a nurse for twenty years without losing a patient, I am proud to say. I will continue to recommend any of the Lydia E. Pinkham products at any time and you may use my name."

Restless Children

Children will fret, often for no apparent reason. But there's always one sure way to comfort a restless, fretful child. Castoria! Harmless as the recipe on the wrapper; mild and bland as it tastes. But its gentle action soothes a youngster more surely than some powerful medicine that is meant for the stronger systems of adults.

That's the beauty of this special children's remedy! It may be given the tiniest infant—as often as there is any need. In cases of colic, diarrhea, or similar disturbance, it is invaluable. But it has everyday uses all mothers should understand. A coated tongue calls for a few drops to ward off constipation; so does any suggestion of bad breath. Whenever children don't eat well, don't rest well, or have any little upset—this pure vegetable preparation is usually all that's needed to set everything to rights. Genuine Castoria has Chas. H. Fletcher's signature on the wrapper. Doctors prescribe it.

WITNESSES FOR BRINKLEY TALK

Kansas Gland Specialist Defended

TOPEKA, Kan., July 24. (UP)—A succession of defense witnesses were called before the Kansas medical board here today to testify that treatments given by Dr. John R. Brinkley, rejuvenation specialist, were beneficial.

The board seeks to revoke Dr. Brinkley's state license on grounds that his goat gland operations and general practices at his Milford, Kan., hospital are fraudulent and unethical.

Today's witnesses told of paying $750 for the rejuvenation operation and asserted it improved their health and vitality.

Leonidus F. Richardson, 63, York, Neb., testified he was in such poor health in 1928 when he went to Dr. Brinkley that he feared death.

C. L. Brown, wealthy oil man of Corsicana, Texas, said he was advised against Dr. Brinkley by his family physician who branded the Kansas as "a quack."

Brown said he tired many specialists and went to Brinkley as a last resort. He believed, he testified, that goat glands were grafted.

"I feel fine," Brown declared.

FEW PAY HONOR TO RICH HOBO

James Eds How's Body Is Cremated

WASHINGTON, July 24. (UP)—Only a handful of mourners gathered today at the funeral rites for James Eads How, the millionaire who spent his life in service for the poor and downtrodden.

Men who had worked with the "millionaire hobo" in the slums of great cities rubbed elbows with those who had known him at preparatory school and Harvard, but there was no outpouring of tribute from the great masses whose improvement was the aim of this cultured teacher-physician-clergyman. The pallbearers were employes of the funeral director.

The body was cremated later and sent to St. Louis for interment in the family vault.

Cotton Corporation To Absorb Surplus

NEW ORLEANS, July 24. (UP)—The cotton stabilization corporation will complete the purchase of 1929 surplus cotton within 30 days, Carl Williams, cotton member of the federal farm board, announced after a meeting of the executive committee of the American Cotton Cooperative association here.

More than 1,000,000 bales were held by the state cooperatives when the corporation began buying.

"The cotton being taken over will not be dumped on an unwilling market nor will it be so handled as to unduly depress prices for the growers of new cotton," he said.

Williams denied rumors this cotton had been hedged on the futures market.

English City Swept By Flood Waters

WHITBY, Yorkshire, England, July 24. (AP)—Four days of incessant rain tonight had left this east side city in the grip of a flood with hundreds homeless and destitute throughout the valley of the River Esk.

Today's downpour, a veritable cloudburst, furnished a climax of the storm and temporarily put an end to relief work.

Whitby, a seaport and the seat of important manufacturing of jet ornaments and fisheries products, was paralyzed.

The Esk, at whose mouth Whitby is situated, flowed in a raging torrent. Small dwellings, scores of skiffs an da vast amount of debris were piled high in the streets by the tide and great trees of the picturesque countryside lay uprooted in the fields.

A Boy Flier Dies Culturing the Conqueror Prof. Erskine's Theory Are Women Included?

By EMILE GAUVREAU

Frank Goldsborough, boy aviator, who held the junior transcontinental flying record, dies as a result of a crash in the fog. His father lost his life in an attempt to fly the Atlantic. Flying was a fever in the family and seemed to run in the blood. Fathers of growing boys should study this new urge which is developing with the flying age. Flying is a young man's game. When youth learns to keep out of the air in bad weather accidents will diminish. Even Lindbergh, who knows how to fly above storms, doesn't do it very often.

Mr. John Erskine, president of the Author's club, who wants women admitted to membership in the organization, and justly so, says he has learned from a study of history that "the culture of a conquered nation always dominates the culture of the conqueror," and he intimates that if men allowed themselves to be conquered by women, they could then really dominate the women and not before.

Perhaps Mr. Erskine has in mind the subjugation of Israel by the Egyptians and the Persians; the Athenians by the Spartans; the Romans by the Huns; the Britons by the Saxons. But the American redskin was conquered by the white man. Did he ever impose his culture on the conqueror? The Polynesians were subdued by the Europeans. Today what is left of them is completely dominated by our species of civilization.

To pursue the good professor's line of reasoning, Asia, partly mastered by Alexander of Macedon and his successor, dwelt under the Macedonian-Greek influences for centuries. The Greeks themselves were but lightly affected by the culture of Buddhistic India. All the aborigines of Latin America were not only conquered territorially but also culturally by their Hispanic invaders. The Englishman today, who is trying to rule India, does not show alarming traces of having been subdued and conquered by Hindu culture.

Only races and peoples possessing a more vital culture than their conquerors may effect the phenomenon of triumphing intellectually in their defeat. Otherwise they go to the Darwinian way of all things. Professor Erskine's deductions hold true only where the invading hosts are barbarians descending upon a physically effete civilization. If women should become barbaric and men physically effete something might happen.

The Michelin Tire company announces it will pay $700,000 in bonus money to some 700 employees who have been out of work since the tire plant closed down four months ago when business became depressed. Those employes will want to come back and work as soon as business picks up, knowing they are on the pay roll of a company with a heart and soul. Big business is sound and means well. This has kept the country out of a lot of mischief during the slump.

Frederick Creamery Interests Exchanged

FREDERICK, Okla., July 24.—G. E. Kadane, manager of the Frederick creamery for the past several months, has sold his interest in the plant to M. O. Awes of Colorado Springs. Awes has already taken charge of the plant.

Awes is an experienced creamery man who has been operating creameries since 1887. He recently disposed of a creamery in Colorado Springs to come here and take over the Frederick plant.

Mr. Awes has moved his family, which consists of his wife and two sons, to Frederick. One boy will be a member of the senior class of the local high school this year.

When Experts Disagree

MENTION has already been made of that murder trial in Ohio where six very eminent psychiatrists blew themselves to opposing opinions concerning the sanity, or otherwise, of a young wife-murderer who was on trial.

As it happened, the jury either decided to believe the alienists for the state and to disbelieve the alienists for the defense, or it put the whole expert-testimony racket out of its mind and went ahead to use its common sense; at all events, the prisoner has been convicted of first degree murder and has been sentenced to the electric chair.

However, the taste of this thing lingers. It is such a typical example of the fumbling, incompetent way in which our courts strive to do justice in murder trials that it is worth extended examination.

This case was right in the accepted pattern.

The murderer's lawyers called three psychiatrists, all of them very eminent and reputable men. They agreed that the young man was woefully incompetent mentally; he was, they said, half way between a moron and an outright imbecile.

Then the state's attorneys called three other psychiatrists, all of them quite as eminent and reputable as the three the defense had called. They agreed that the young man was quite normal mentally, fully able of weighing the consequences of his acts and distinguishing between right and wrong.

Now we haven't the faintest notion whether this particular killer was, in fact, a lunatic or a normal human being. But it does strike us that this method of getting at the truth is about as poorly devised as anything one could imagine.

Why, in the name of ordinary logic, wouldn't it be better to hold the sanity hearing in advance of the trial, with qualified alienists hired, not to testify for one side or the other, but simply to render the truth as they saw it? If they reported the prisoner insane he could be locked up; if they found him sane, he could be put on trial and the case could be decided on its merits.

The present system leads only to confusion. It offers the hardened, intelligent killer a chance to escape the punishment he deserves, and it also makes it possible for the state to electrocute some poor nitwit who ought to be in a hospital. The one thing it does not do is offer a chance for dealing out exact justice.

There is a good deal of talk nowadays about respecting the courts. How is it possible to respect a system that undertakes to get at the truth in a roundabout, inefficient manner like this?

An Old Law Is Repealed

THE town council of Lowestoft, England, discovered the other day that their town had a law forbidding any male at a public bathing beach from coming within 100 yards of any female bather.

This law had been passed in 1854, in response to some bit of early-Victorian prudery. After enjoying a good laugh, the city fathers repealed it, and co-educational bathing parties at Lowestoft are now just as legal as they are anywhere else.

All of this, of course, is very amusing; but suppose that law had been discovered on the statute books of some American town. Would the city dads have had the courage to repeal it? Or would they have decided that to do so might conceivably offend some organized minority of the easily-shocked? Isn't it quite possible that they would simply have let the law remain a law, tipping off everybody, meanwhile, that no one needed to pay any attention to it?

At any rate, that's the way we do with most of our out-moded laws.

Safety at Bathing Beaches

THE heat wave that has been sweeping the Middle West lately has brought with it the usual toll of drownings. Hot weather drives people to the beaches to cool off, and makes them forget the elementary rules of safety that should be observed at such places.

First and foremost, probably, comes the rule that it is not safe to go swimming, alone, in a pool or river where there are no qualified life guards. It is safer to stick to the public beaches. They may be crowded, but at least there are people there to give help if help is needed.

On top of that is the necessity for remembering that it is always dangerous to go in the water too soon after a meal. The man who bolts a heavy lunch and then rushes to the bathing beach is running a big risk. The readiness with which people run that risk on an unusually hot day probably goes far to explain the increased number of drownings during the last hot spell.

Hard to Get Excited

SOMEHOW it is a bit hard to get excited about this 156-year-old Turk who is now visiting this country.

In the first place, one may be pardoned for being a trifle skeptical about those 156 years of his. A doctor recently pointed out that extreme old-age records are generally claimed by illiterate peasants—by people, that is, who would not have any written records to substantiate their claims.

In the second place, one is inclined to ask, "Well, what of it?" The gentleman may have lived every minute of his 156 years; but why get excited about it? It is safe to assume that in all his century and a half of life he has not done a tenth as much genuine living as an intensive, active young American like—for example—Charles A. Lindbergh.

Stable Manners

I often pinched myself and wondered why
The gods had been so very kind to me;
I asked for love and you were their reply,
And what an answer you turned out to be.
You had a breathless beauty all your own,
A wistful way that lured me from the start;
Each phase of our romance, each overtone
Was dipped in beauty—strangely set apart.

But love that thrives on silly vagrant things,
Can die in dull and trivial ways as well;
And now a recollection of you brings
An episode to mind I loathe to tell—
Last night we dined—and though I'm not a snob—
Where did you learn to eat corn off the cob?—Beau Broadway.

Gag

Jesse Block, who will be seen at the Palace in August, offers the one about the Jewish doctor who was born in Scotland. He joined a country club and on the first day he was told that if he had his name inked on the golf ball that it would be returned if lost and found.

"So ull right," he said, "put down on mine ball Ginzberg, plizz."

The man in the golf supply shop wrote his name on it.

"Hmmmm," he hmmm'ed, "dot's dendy, would you ulso plizz put don M. D. efter mine name? I'm a ductur!"

"Be glad to," said the fellow as he added M. D. to Mr. Ga's tag.

As Mr. Ginzberg inspected the finished product he cooed: "Would you mind dooing me one murr favor, plizz?"

"Of course," said the man, "now what?"

"Put don hours 10 to 3."

Flip Crack

Jack Benny, of "Vanities," who wasn't arrested because they didn't know him with his clothes on, says that things are getting worse in Chicago. "I just heard," he bellows, "that the gunmen out there have given the Chicago police 24 hours' notice to get out of town!"

"Always Belittlin' "

And Bert Lahr, of George White's "Flying High" show, has joined the army of finger-pointers now that Earl Careless is in trouble, again. During the performance Kaye Smith hastens on stage and excitedly cries:

"Can you tell me the quickest way to a police station?"

"Sure," says Lahr, "join Vanities!"

Which Reminds Me—

That Mr. Carroll has an amusing blackout in his revusical, which has already received printer's ink here. It is the gag about the two little girls who are toying with mud in the street. A passerby pauses and asks one child: "What are you making?"

"I'm making Mark Hellinger," she says, meaning that she is making a picture of the Man Who Spells It 'Monkies.'

"Well," why don't you make one of Walter Winchell?" he asks.

"Ain't got enough dirt!" is the brat's reply.

A funny skit, at that, and it is received with lusty laughter. But what we started out to say was: People who live in courtrooms shouldn't throw sketches.

Enterprise

He runs one of the smartest of the local speakeasies in the 50s. The cuisine is excellent and the giggle water melts in your palate. The particular whoopse-makers are packing the place, which ran for nine months without enticing much trade.

"I cannot stand to see a cold place, a dead one," he was saying, "people won't come back to a place that is lifeless—and when a place is crowded it is gay—people like to look at others and wonder about them—and if they are celebrated they give the place tone and atmosphere."

Then he explained how he kept the place "looking crowded." He keeps them at their tables by sending over a free round of something—which usually forces them to make another "buy" to return the compliment, etc.

"But why do you close so early—at 1:30, and shoo everybody out?" we queried. "Because after 1 o'clock they start getting noisy," he answered, "and I can't stand drunks!"

As If We Didn't Know

Arthur Caesar, one of the Babes in the Hollywoods, offers this definition of the western movie colony: "It is a group of illiterates catering to the vast multitude of half-wits!"

Overheard

"Why don't you like him?"

"Because he's like that guy who kisses with his eyes open—he hasn't any cab manners!"

"What do you mean?"

"Oh, when he's got a girl in a taxi, and she complains that she is chilly, he closes the windows!"

Quiteso, Quiteso

It is Benjamin Holzman's observation that when a New Yorker in Hollywood keeps writing back to New York about the grand sunshine and the beautiful orange groves, you can safely wager he is still out of a job.

"STEP-CHILD"

BY ROB EDEN

Unable to remember anything of her past, Kay Smith is endeavoring to establish her true identity. Jim Whalen, a stranger, is so positive in his belief that she is a confidence woman, Kitty Banning, that Kay investigates, only to find nothing conclusive. Kay loves Dane Talbot, and from another girl in his office learns of Madame Marcia, a psychic. Hopeful to learn something of her past, Kay goes to the famous woman.

CHAPTER XIV

Madame Marcia bit her lips and glanced quickly at Kay. She was a large woman, tall, well built. A mass of black hair was neatly arranged in a knot at the back of her neck. But it was her eyes that attracted the girl the most. They were brown, large and piercing. They were searching Kay's face eagerly now, while her hands were playing idly with the white slip of paper.

Finally the eyes lowered themselves on the paper, and Kay was conscious of relief. Then a sigh came from Madame Marcia's lips, a deep sigh. And for the first time, she spoke. Her voice was low, but very distinct. "Something about you I cannot see. As if a curtain were in front of you. Relax a little, please." The please was more of a command than a request. Kay leaned back in her chair, and tried.

"You're not succeeding," the voice took a sharp edge.

"I'm sorry . . ."

"Queer you should want to know about your past," Madame Marcia was almost petulant. "You are too young, and too pretty. You should be concerned with the future."

"I want to know about the past," Kay insisted, weakly.

A sigh again, then another reproof. "You're holding yourself away from me. Some way. I don't know how, but you are. You are not receptive. However, I shall try to give you something you want. Just what part of the past do you want? The immediate past? Or beyond that?"

"Childhood, not my immediate past." The girl was getting discouraged. Madame Marcia could tell her nothing. She might have known that.

"You are a very peculiar subject. I don't know when I've ever had anyone like you. I can say frankly I never have. You live so tightly within yourself that I can see nothing. Absolutely nothing. Oh, I can see the immediate past. That's not hard, but beyond that, nothing. I know for instance that you've made a trip recently, a trip that made you very unhappy. You've been ill. Probably in a hospital . . ."

"Yes."

Thorough Examination

"But that's not what you want. I know that. You interest me." She caught Kay's hand which was resting on the table, and studied it carefully. "You're a strange combination of the dreamer, the practical. Unusual in a girl so young. How old are you?"

"How old would you think?" Kay parried. She was thankful she could.

"Your eyes tell me you are older than your body. Anywhere from 17 to—21. Youth is so deceptive these days. You've had a childhood—I think, mind, I'm not saying for sure, because I don't know—that's been unhappy . . ."

Kay recalled Dr. Raleigh's words. They were almost identical.

The maid came in to announce that the 15 minutes were up. Madame Marcia looked up frowning.

"Don't bother me, Sarah, until I call you. I'm going to give this young lady more time. I haven't satisfied myself about her yet. Let the others wait."

"Now I want you to tell me if I'm right. I need help. You understand?"

"I can't tell you, Madame Marcia. That's what I came for. I don't know anything about—my past." It was out at last. Kay hadn't meant to tell, but she felt she must now, with Madame Marcia trying to help her.

Before Kay knew it, she was playing and singing the love song she had heard Julie play.

The seeress's eyebrows rose. "You know nothing of your past?"

"Nothing. Not even who I am."

Madame Marcia dropped her hand, and sat back in her chair. Her fingers again sought the white paper. Her eyes narrowed and she looked at Kay for a long time. This time her stare did not make the girl nervous.

Finally she spoke.

"So that's why. I see. I'm afraid you're going to be disappointed. I can see so little. There's a piano over there. Please go and play and sing for me." It was a command. Kay was amazed. She was about to protest when Madame Marcia repeated her orders.

Sweet Voice

Hesitantly she arose and looked for the piano. It was behind her. Play, sing—she did not know how. The instrument was an old one, and a fine one. She touched the rosewood softly, and sat down on the stool. Her fingers felt the keys. They were mellowed, like old satin.

Then before she knew it, she was playing, and singing the love song she had heard Julie play at Mrs. Talbot's. Her voice rose sweetly, quaveringly at first, but gained strength as she went on. The keys felt natural to her fingers. She did not know all the words, but she slurred over those she did not know.

When she finished, she sat at the stool, until Madame Marcia bade her resume her seat at the table opposite her.

Kay was astounded. She did not understand. Why, when she had been at Mrs. Talbot's with the piano, had she not felt any urge to play or sing? True, she had hummed around the apartment, the same song. She remembered the tune. But she had never tried to sing.

Puzzled she sought Madame Marcia's eyes.

"Good, you have a fine voice, and you play well. A trained voice."

"But I didn't know I knew how to play or sing. I've been near a piano before, but had no urge to play or sing."

"Were you asked?"

"No."

"I asked you. Forced you. You did so reluctantly, but you obeyed. Tell me how did you feel when you sat down to play?"

"I felt strange at first, then when I touched the keys, I knew I could play. Do you suppose, in the past, I . . ."

Madame Marcia interrupted her. "You certainly played and sang in this past of yours you can't remember. And did both of them well. I said your voice was trained. The way you breathe, the way you sing. I'm sure you had lessons. You have a natural ear, too, for the piano. When did you hear this serenade you played for me?"

"Recently."

"Will you go to the piano again, and see if you can play something else. Something you haven't heard recently?"

Kay complied, but with no success. She could remember the songs she had heard at the cabaret at the theater with Dane, snatches of a hurdy-gurdy tune she had heard from her room in the hospital. But nothing else. She was forced at last to come back to the table.

"How did you know I could play, and sing?" she finally asked Madame Marcia to break the ponderous silence that had settled in the big room.

"Your fingers told me you could play. Something told me to ask you to sing. I can't explain."

Gratitude

Kay remembered that when she had danced with Dane, there was that same fear at first that she could not dance. Joy when she knew she could, as tonight when her fingers had been familiar with the piano keys. She had learned more than she had thought she would. She tried to tell Madame Marcia how grateful she was, but the woman waved her thanks aside.

"You'll come to me again?" she asked, as she pressed a button under her desk for Sarah.

"I'm interested in you and wish I could give you more time tonight. Unfortunately I can't. There are several people waiting, and I've kept them longer than I thought. Let me phone you when I have some free time." She scribbled down Kay's phone number on the white slip of paper and carefully put it away in a drawer.

When the girl attempted to pay her, Madame Marcia refused to

Answers to Questions

By FREDERIC J HASKIN

Did you ever write a letter to Frederic J. Haskin? You can ask him any question of fact and get the answer in a personal letter. Here is a great educational idea introduced into the lives of the most intelligent people in the world—American newspaper readers. It is a part of that best purpose of a newspaper—service. There is no charge except two cents in coin or stamps for return postage. Address Frederic J. Haskin, director, the Record News Information bureau, Washington, D. C.

Q.—Where is Col Theodore Roosevelt—W. A. S.

A.—He is now governor of Porto Rico. He should be addressed at San Juan.

Q.—What is the Crime club?—E. B.

A.—It is a name given to the subscribers who wish to purchase certain books restricted to the mystery type of story.

Q.—Is C. Q. still used over the radio?—D. R.

A.—C. Q. D., which was a distress signal, is no longer used, but C. Q. which means "attention" is still in use.

Q.—How many community trusts are there in the United States?—W. N.

A.—There are now 75, and they are administering trust totaling $32,000,000. Last year they distributed $803,636.

Q.—Why can condensed milk be kept in the can after opening, when vegetables will spoil?—H. P. C.

A.—It is because condensed milk has a sugar content of about 45 per cent. Bacteria will not grow so quickly in condensed milk.

Q.—How large an acreage does it take to constitute a farm?—H. I.

A.—In taking the census, anything from three acres up is considered a farm. No tract smaller than this is recorded as a farm unless it produced at least $250 in crops last year.

Q.—What was the native language of John A. Comenius?—E. M.

A.—John Amos Comenius was probably born at Urgarisch-Brod, Moravia. He studied theology at Herborn and at Heidelberg. The great Czech reformer died at Amsterdam in 1670. His native language was German.

Q.—Is 18 too old to begin studying the violin with an idea of becoming a concert player?—F. T.

A.—Etude says that most violin students have completed their studies for the profession at that age. Violin playing must be begun in very early childhood or youth to develop into a highly paid profession.

Q.—Why was a submarine leased to Sir Hubert Wilkins, Arctic explorer, for one dollar a year?—R. B.

A.—Sir Hubert Wilkins was charged a dollar a year for the use of the United States submarine because it would be unlawful for the government to let him have such a boat free of charge. This is the same principle under which men such as Herbert Hoover, during the world war served for a dollar a year. The government could not accept their services free.

Q.—What is meant by an air pocket?—O. V. H.

A.—The evenness of air while flying varies with the temperature. If the air is warm or what is called thin air it is difficult to gain altitude. In cold or dense air it is easy to gain altitude. The air over cities is warmer than that over the surrounding country. It is when a flyer approaches warmer air that the plane has a tendency to lose altitude. In some places a change from cold to warm air is very abrupt. This is known as an air pocket or bumpy air.

Q.—Why did the university of Notre Dame refuse to let the producers finish the football picture they started?—F. B. F.

A.—The motion picture producers had completed a number of scenes and invested a considerable sum of money before they applied to the university authorities for permission to make the campus sequences in the film depicting episodes in the life of a football hero. In its reply the university expressed regret but stated that its function was to secure celebrity through scholarship rather than athletics.

Q.—Is intisy rubber of high grade?—C. D.

A.—The latex of Euphorbia intisy which flows from any cut in the plant, coagulates in the air without further treatment. The bands of rubber thus formed are of very high quality. This shrub or small tree is native to Madagascar, and with its discovery in 1891 and the following commercial exploitation, the plant has been almost exterminated. The United States department of agriculture has secured specimens and is experimenting with them in a hope of adapting this remarkable rubber tree to growth in this country.

The Record News Offers A Booklet on Ice Creams

Heavy cream is the most satisfactory base for desserts frozen without stirring, according to the government expert who prepared the booklet now available to readers of The Record News for a postage and handling charge of 10 cents. Such cream is used in making mousses and in combination with egg whites in parfaits. These are frozen by packing in ice and salt or placing in a mechanical refrigerator, provided the temperature of the unit is sufficiently low, from 21 to 27 degrees Fahrenheit.

Heavy cream is expensive, however, and if used alone is too rich to be palatable; so recipes have been prepared in which the rich cream is diluted by the addition of evaporated milk and thin cream, or by rich milk thickened with gelatin, eggs or flour.

Send today for booklet that tells all about this.

Frederic J. Haskin, Director,
The Record News Information Bureau,

Then Kay was out in the reception room, where Edith was sitting, looking quite nervous, and ill at ease.

"I couldn't imagine what had happened!" Edith exclaimed when she saw Kay.

"I'm sorry I was so long." When they were finally out on the street, walking to the subway, she told the nurse what Madame Marcia had discovered about her. Edith said little. She was surprised, more than surprised. She had expected to laugh with Kay, cheer her up when she came out. A foolish errand, this. But it had turned out not so foolish. Madame Marcia had discovered something that Doctor Raleigh with all his training had failed to do. How she had done it, Edith couldn't tell. At any rate, the visit had made Kay very happy, and the nurse was determined to rent a piano, and squeeze it into the tiny apartment the next day. Who knew? It might be the link Kay wanted. The link Doctor Raleigh said was there if they could only find it.

Kay was thinking of Kitty Banning. She wished she had asked Mrs. Jones more about Kitty, whether the girl played the piano . . . However, now, it was too late. She was never going back to Langly.

Kitty . . .

What she had learned tonight took her farther and farther from the girl she didn't want to be.

She was glad she had gone to Madame Marcia . . .

S. P. ACQUIRES FRISCO STOCK

Hale Holden Announces Purchase

NEW YORK, July 24. (INS)—Hale Holden, chairman of the executive committee of the Southern Pacific company, stated today that ownership of a substantial block of the common and preferred stock of the St. Louis Southwestern Railway company had been acquired some time ago. In addition, the company had recently completed the purchase of additional shares of both issues but in amounts leaving the aggregate of its holdings at less than a majority interest.

With the sanction of the Interstate Commerce commission, however, it will acquire a majority of the outstanding stock of the St. Louis Southwestern railway.

The St. Louis Southwestern railway lines, owning and controlling something more than 1,800 miles of standard gauge railroad, serves the easterly and southeasterly portion of the state of Missouri and southwestern Illinois, traverse the state of Arkansas from the northeast to the southwest, and reach a number of important cities in northern and northeastern Texas, connecting with present Southern Pacific lines at various points.

The steadily increasing interchange of business between Southern Pacific and Cotton Belt routes, affording direct connection from the Southern Pacific's important North Texas communities to St. Louis and Memphis gateways and intervening territory, influenced Southern Pacific company to take this step, believing that it will insure the preservation of existing routes and channels of commerce, in harmony with the provisions and policies of the transportation act, and for the betterment of the service afforded by the Southern Pacific to its patrons.

Family Marooned By Flood Rescued

LONDON, July 24. (AP)—One of the most dramatic stories coming from the flooded district of the Esk valley concerns a family named Rodwell, of Whitby.

When a coast guard reached the Rodwells' house it was deep in water and he could get no answer to his calls. He eventually discovered that the family had taken refuge for the night in the bedrooms, but the water soon invaded these rooms and they were forced to move higher. Rodwell had clambered through a small aperture into a false roof above the ceiling still known in rural Yorkshire as the clockloft, and had succeeded in dragging the whole family after him.

Here they remained in total darkness throughout the night, listening to their furniture colliding in the swirling flood which filled the rooms below. They heard the coast guard's call but were unable to answer. At dawn the water went down and they were taken off in a boat.

Rodwell conducted a tea garden most of which was washed away by the floods.

SCURRY ASKS ELECTION JUDGES TO AID IN REPORTING VOTE

PARTY HEAD QUOTES LAW

Instructions Also Given On Precinct Votes

To facilitate the gathering of returns in the state primary Saturday, Wichita county election judges will be asked to cooperate with the newspapers in accordance with the state law which not only permits but requires election officials to give out unofficial totals for each candidate at the closing of the polls and at least every two hours thereafter, according to a statement issued by Judge Edgar Scurry, chairman of the county Democratic executive committee Thursday.

Asks Cooperation

Judge Scurry reminded officials that the recent revision of the law does not change the terms regarding unofficial returns and requested that every effort be made to keep the returns gathering machinery working as smoothly and rapidly as possible so that Wichita county could join the rest of the state in getting the election results to the people as quickly as possible.

The law requiring the furnishing of unofficial returns, especially to newspapers, is quoted in full below:

"Art. 3022. Status of—Count Announced.—Immediately upon the closing of the polls, and at intervals of two hours thereafter, a judge shall make a correct, but unofficial memorandum of the total number of votes counted for each candidate at that time, such memorandum being in the order in which the names of the candidates appear upon the ballot; and thereupon he shall publicly announce from such memorandum the status of the count at the door of the building where the counting is in progress. This memorandum shall thereafter be accessible to the public, and especially newspaper reporters, who may call for information; and the presiding judge or an associate judge may furnish reporters information concerning the status of the count at other times after the polls have closed. The announcement of the status of the count shall continue as aforesaid until the count has been completed, when a correct, but unofficial, announcement of the total number of votes received by each candidate shall be announced as above provided. This article shall also apply so as to require the same reports from judges of primary elections. No judge or clerk shall make any statement, nor give information in any manner, of the number of votes or any other fact regarding their opinion of the state of the polls, after the closing thereof, except as herein permitted."

Sealed Official Returns

The revision of the election laws relating to official primary returns, made last year, follows:

"Art. 3124. All returns of precinct primary elections, properly signed and certified as correct by the judges and clerks thereof, showing the vote cast for each candidate, shall be sealed and immediately delivered, after such primary election, to the chairman of the county executive committee of the party. Such party chairman shall securely keep same and shall neither open nor permit the same to be opened, but shall give notice to the members of the county executive committee to assemble at the county seat of the county on the first Saturday after any primary election; and said returns shall then be opened under the direction and in the presence of such executive committee and canvassed by them."

Slayer Directs Police To Body of Girl Victim

BUTTE, Mont., July 24. (AP)—The body of Sylvia Hill, 17, was found by Butte authorities today after they had been directed to it by Roy Hendrickson, 22, who confessed he shot and killed her.

Hendrickson surrendered voluntarily to the police, saying he had killed his sweetheart because they did not have enough money to get married. He said he also intended killing himself but lost his nerve.

PRECINCT OFFICES

In making a choice of a precinct chairman, vote only for a candidate in your own precinct, was the subject of a reminder given Thursday by Judge Edgar Scurry, chairman of the Wichita county Democratic executive committee to those who expect to participate in the primary Saturday.

It is a further instuction to election officials, he said, however, that ballots upon which the voter marks choices of chairman in precincts other than his own are not to be thrown out for that reason.

In such instances, election officials are advised, Judge Scurry said, to count selections of all offices in which the voter has the legal right to make a choice. In such instances, it was added, the vote for precinct chairman will count only in a choice for the voter's own precinct.

RULES GIVEN ON TRANSFERS

Raley Advises Those Who Have Changed Residence

Voters in Wichita Falls and the county who have moved from one voting precinct to another since obtaining their poll tax receipts and who have not already obtained a transfer to the new precinct, must cast their ballots Saturday in the box in the precinct from which they have moved, according to an announcement Thursday from Guy C. Raley, county tax collector.

The deadline for obtaining transfers, Mr. Raley explained, was Monday, the law requiring that transfers must be obtained five days before the election.

A voter whose poll tax receipt was issued when he lived in one precinct and who has since moved to another precinct without having obtained a transfer must not only vote at the box for which his receipt was issued but must also vote for the precinct chairman of the box for which the receipt was originally issued, Mr. Raley said.

The tax collector further announced that persons in the county who have become 21 years of age since the first of the year or who became 21 late last year may obtain poll tax exemptions by calling at the collector's office in the courthouse Friday.

Persons who will become 21 after the primary and before the general election in November, he said, may obtain their exemption certificates at the collector's office at any time after they become of age and before the general election, in order that they might vote in November. In no case, he declared, will exemptions be issued before the person comes of age.

"It is one of the greatest attributes of our citizenship that, from that citizenship, will come brainy, scholarly men, and good men and true, to quietly carry on, in our behalf, the great judicial responsibilities of our state.

"Such a citizen of Texas is C. M. Cureton, chief justice of the supreme court of the state of Texas. Judge Cureton has the broadest conception of the great office which he fills. He carries with him always the highest ideals of the great court over which he presides. Such men are pulwarks of safety and protection to the institutions of this country. Nothing else can vouchsafe to us true liberty and the pursuit of true happiness and contentment.

"The candidacy of Judge C. M. Cureton for re-election we should all see in its true light as a privilege to us."—Houston Chronicle, April 18, 1930.

"C. M. Cureton has proved himself, through years of service, a learned, fair and upright judge, qualified in every way to continue in the high office he now holds. He has devoted himself single-mindedly to his duties, with conspicuous success. Lawyers and laymen all over Texas have the fullest confidence in him.

"Those who know the chief justice best will count it a privilege to cast their votes for him."—Houston Post-Dispatch, April 19, 1930.

"Judge Cureton has earned with utmost distinction the public commendation, the bar endorsements, which have followed the formal announcement—and nothing further—of his candidacy for renomination at the primary on July 26.

"In that position Judge Cureton has served so excellently that, on the 26th, his renomination by a great majority should testify to Texans' sentiment of esteem and gratitude."—San Antonio Express, July 11, 1930.

Health and Diet Advice

By DR. FRANK McCOY
Author of "The Fast Way to Health"

Questions in regard to health and diet will be answered by Dr. McCoy who can be addressed in care of this paper.
(Copyright 1930, by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

FRUIT BEFORE BEDTIME

Many persons enjoy eating small portions of fresh fruit before bedtime and find that this helps them to sleep better and improves the bowel elimination in the morning. The action of the water, cellulose and fruit acids encourages the peristaltic action of the bowels during the night in a mildly stimulating way that is far superior to the use of cathartics.

It is the custom in many foreign countries to eat six or eight meals every day, and although I do not advocate overeating, it seems that these people do well, provided the meals are not too large or heavy. Nervous persons often find it helpful to take four or five small meals a day rather than two or three large ones. Whenever more than three meals a day are eaten it is much better to make at least every other one a fruit fneal.

The average meal leaves the stomach in about four hours, and for this reason all heavy meals should be spaced at least four or five hours apart. Fruit or fruit juices when used alone leave the stomach more rapidly. For this reason, when one is on a fruit juice or other liquid diet it is equally advisable to take the feedings at exact intervals of two or three hours apart.

Those who feel an appetite between meals or at night may use one kind of fresh fruit without injury. This is much better than filling up on sandwiches or sweets between meals. A very fine after-theater snack is just to use a slice of watermelon or cantaloupe a la mode rather than a lobster Newberg, so difficult to digest.

The fresh fruits should be used in season. Not only are they least expensive, but are most wholesome and flavorable at the height of the crop. Melons, cherries, apricots, grapes, peaches, berries, loquats, figs, plums, etc., are now abundant, and you should take advantage of their healthful food values.

It should be remembered that fruit is taken best by itself and not with a meal containing heavier foods. The acid of fruit never seems to combine well with the starchy mixtures of an ordinary meal, and when used together fermentation begins. Yet, on the other hand, eating plenty of fruit is a healthful habit, and we all seem to like the juicy fresh fruit in the summertime.

The best plan is to make a meal of fruit by itself. Those who have an appetite at night may use fruit with no fear of harm, but this should not be sooner than about three or four hours after dinner. This is a much better way to fill up late at night than to raid the ice box. Another good plan for the warm days is to use only some of the fresh acid fruits for lunch.

This has a cleansing and cooling action on the blood stream and as the fruit juice and fruit leaves the stomach rapidly it is all right to use a little more in the afternoon, preferably of the same iknd of fruit, permitting at least an hour to elapse before the evening meal.

Get into the habit of helping yourself to some fruit before going to bed, if you are hungry. It is a good health habit if you follow the instructions which I have just outlined.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Large Pores

Question—W. S. asks: "What is the cause of large pores in the skin on the nose and cheeks? What ointment or lotion would you advise using or would you let nature take its course and depend upon their disappearing in time?"

Answer—The large pores in your skin can be partly closed if you will use an application of ice to your skin each day. Move the ice about for several minutes over the entire face, and bathe your face frequently in cold water. Besides doing this you should wash your face several times daily with soap and water to keep the pores as clean as possible.

Growing Taller

Question—H. J. K. asks: "Is there anything a young person can do to grow taller?"

Answer—Anyone less than 30 can increase his height to some extent through a combination of dieting, exercising and taking certain treatments. The diet must contain plenty of bone-building material, which is found in the leafy green vegetables and in whole grains. Exercises should be designed to twist and stretch the spine. The treatment should be with manipulative therapeutics, such as given by the osteopath, naturopath or chiropractor. You are about a half inch taller in the morning than in the evening. This is due to the settling of the bones of the body, principally in the spine at the end of the day. Treatments given the spine to loosen up and separate the spinal segments will help the circulation of blood to these parts, and tends to stimulate the growth of bone.

Rotary Club Hears Convention Report

Experiences with foreign delegates to the annual convention of Rotary International at Chicago recently were discussed by Herbert Voelcker, president of the local Rotary club, at the weekly meeting held Thursday noon at the Kemp hotel.

Americans at the convention were impressed by the fact that a great majority of those representing Rotary clubs in other countries spoke the English language acceptably, Mr. Voelcker said. It was stated that at least half the speakers presented on the convention program were of foreign residence.

Association with an Italian delegate who makes violin-making his hobby was related by Mr. Voelcker. Mr. and Mrs. Voelcker and their three daughters later met the gentleman from Italy in New York, and inspected a group of his violins. He told them that good violins are manufactured and sold at a profit in Italy for from $6 to $15 each.

Musical entertainment Thursday consisted of solos given by Mrs. Pearl Calhoun Davis, soprano, accompanied by Mrs. Lucille Brooks Huff, and a singsong led by R. E. Shepherd with Mrs. Shepherd at the piano.

Oneal Gives His Views on State's Education Duties

Friends of Ben G. Oneal, candidate for the state senate, will speak in his behalf over radio station KGKO Friday night, it was announced Thursday. Mr. Oneal's supporters will use the period between 8:15 and 8:30 p. m. for a brief summary of his candidacy, closing his campaign.

Speaking over the radio Thursday, Mr. Oneal assured friends of education in Texas that he is not only in sympathy with their problems, but is familiar with many of them from actual experience. He pointed out that he taught school in a small rural school one year, taught at Albany one year and was two years on the faculty of Fort Worth high school before entering the practice of law. He also served on the county board of education of Parker county, he pointed out.

Declaring that the modern tendency for mergers and business upon a huge scale does not give the boy or girl today the same opportunities of the past, he expressed the belief that it is the duty of the state to provide so far as possible equal opportunities for educational training for rural residents as well as those nearer the center of population. Institutions of higher education should be provided for students in the less thickly populated sections as near to the homes of these students as possible, Mr. Oneal declared.

YOUNG SPEAKS IN WILBARGER

Candidate Opens Fire On Clint Small

Special to The Record News.

VERNON, Texas, July 24.—Invading what Clint Small has claimed as his own territory but where Young claims he himself will get a big vote and where the Kaufman candidate began his three months' tour of campaign speaking last April, Jim Young, gubernatorial candidate, Thursday predicted victory for himself at the polls Saturday while a crowd listened to him on the courthouse square.

Judge J. O. Rouse introduced him. Small came in for no little share of Young's criticism, being charged with failure to support the Democratic party two years ago or now, with voting against the people in all special interest contests, with being put into his race as special interest candidate, with voting as senator for the state road bond plan he now says he opposes.

Finally Young predicted that Small's campaign has collapsed, that Small will be lucky if he gets 50,000 votes out of West Texas, where he has been claiming 100,000, and said that the strong swing toward his, (Young's), candidacy in the last few days is carrying with it numerous former leaders of the Clint Small campaign, several of whom he named.

Declaring that none of the other candidates in the race has courage to defend the party they now ask to honor them, Young repeated that "the people will not elect a coward governor of Texas."

He called attention to the support given him by Judge Hudspeth, veteran and beloved West Texas congressman, and to Hudspeth's statement of Young's congressional achievements, which include winning a fight for West Texas cattlemen against the Big Five packing monopoly which sought to strangle them; the obtaining of many thousands of dollars in appropriations to fight cattle and crop infestations; the prevention of cotton quarantine; the single-handed defeat of the effort at government price setting on cotton during the war.

Pile Sufferers

End Your Misery Without Salves or Cutting

External treatments cannot permanently end Piles. Nor does cutting remove the cause.

The cause is internal—bad circulation of the blood in the lower bowel. The veins are flabby—the bowel walls weak—the parts almost dead. To quickly and safely rid yourself of piles an internal medicine must be used to heal and strengthen the affected parts.

Dr. J. S. Leonhardt, a specialist, after years of study discovered a real internal Pile remedy. He named his prescription HEM-ROID, and prescribed it for 1,000 patients, with the marvelous record of success in 960 cases, and then decided every Pile sufferer should be able to get HEM-ROID from their own druggist.

Don't waste time on external remedies or think of the pain and expense of an operation. Get a package of HEM-ROID from Allison Drug store with their guarantee of money-back if it does not end all Pile misery.—Adv.

Jim Young for Governor

A Sane Tax Program, and a Breathing Spell for Taxpayers

In all the counties west of Fort Worth and north of the T. & P. Ry. there were polled in last primary 113,000 votes. If Mr. Small gets one-third of these, which is improbable, and all the votes he could be expected to get elsewhere, he will still lack 50,000 of getting in the run-off. A vote for Small is a vote wasted, and that should be cast for Jim Young to help us get an honest and an able man who has a chance to win. A vote for Sterling is a vote for the interest that intends, and will if Sterling wins, close as a bankrupt, every independent oil refinery in the State. The independent oil operator who votes for Sterling needs a political guardian, but if Sterling wins, will not need a financial one, as the bankrupt court will take care of his estate. With money and the time to use it effectively, the time may come when ambitious men may buy for themselves, or for the interest backing them, the Governorship of this State; but not yet, not yet.

Giants Beat Pirates In Six-Inning Game

NEW YORK, July 24. (AP) — A home run by Fred Lindstrom, some fine pitching by Carl Hubbell and a timely storm enabled the Giants to defeat the Pittsburgh Pirates, 1 to 0, today in the six-inning opening game of their series.

Lindstrom clouted his homer in the first inning for the game's only tally and for the next five frames, Remy Kremer had the Giants helpless. Score:

The bonded debt of Wichita Falls was reduced by $176,500 during the fiscal year ending last June 30, according to a financial report issued Thursday by City Clerk W. E. McBroom.

On June 30 last year, the report indicated, the city's bonded debt amounted to $3,786,000, and at the close of the fiscal year the debt had been reduced to $3,609,500. The report was filed in the clerk's office by W. S. Abbott, city treasurer. The tax levy in force to cover payments on bond interest and premiums, Mr. McBroom explained, is 50 cents on the $100 valuation. The figures quoted in the report Thursday do not include the school or water district debts, sinking fund or tax levy.

DON MOE GOES DOWN FIGHTING

Champion Falls Before Johnny Lehman

BEVERLY COUNTRY CLUB, Chicago, July 24. (AP)—Don Moe of Portland, Ore., wearied by his long golfing wars in England, went down fighting today in his struggle to defend his western amateur golf championship over the Beverly country club course.

The smiling champion and Walker cup star fell before another fighting youth, Johnny Lehman of Chicago, one up, after their quarter-final battle had extended to the 37th green. The result forged together another chain of jinxs that has followed champions of the western amateur, as not since 1923, has a titleholder retained his crown.

A 35-foot putt, roaming down a treacherous course, accomplished the conquest for Lehman, who brought the Big Ten championship to Purdue just three years ago. Going to the 37th green, both he and Moe were equidistant from the cup. Johnny putted first and dropped it. The fading champion also tried but his ball stopped two feet short of the cup and it was all over.

Three other sharpshooters, T. Phillip Perkins, lately of King George's golfing forces; Ira Couch of Chicago and Bob McCrary, trans-Mississippi champion from Des Moines, also reached the semi-final round.

Two Catholics, Daniel Carroll of Maryland, and Thomas Fitzsimmons, of Pennsylvania, helped frame the constitution of the United States and signed their names to the draft reported by the convention.

THREE GUNMEN TO DIE TODAY

Kansas City Trio Awaits March to Gallows

KANSAS CITY, July 24. (AP)—Three gunmen who shot a path through a Republican national convention crowd June 14, 1928, to escape after robbing the Home Trust company in the manner of the old West, today faced the certainty of death on the gallows Friday morning.

Gov. Henry S. Caulfield announced yesterday he would not stay the triple, simultaneous execution of the bandits, condemned for the slaying of James H. (Happy) Smith, who pitted his courage against the automatic firearms of the bandits and three companions.

The men under death sentence are Tony (Lollypop) Mangiaracina, dandy of the Italian colony; Carl Nasello, olive-skinned machine gunner, and John Messino, driver, whose mistake led to the capture of the gang.

A platoon of guards with machine guns at strategic points and powerful floodlights on the county jail are the sheriff's answer to repeated rumors a last minute delivery will be attempted.

Six bandits participated in the robbery, accomplished to the accompaniment of a rattling machine gun and roaring shotguns. From the haven of a vault a bank employe drove off the robbers with tear gas bombs after they had gathered up $19,500.

The retiring robbers turned their guns on a convention crowd thronging the street and made a spectacular escape. Patrolman Smith, a charge of buckshot in his neck, died as he shot the windshield from the bandits' car. Four others were wounded and one witness died of heart failure.

Tony Bonello, fourth member of the gang, pleaded guilty and is serving a life sentence in the Missouri penitentiary. While he was at large his young wife was slain in New York, presumably by gangsters who thought she "knew too much." Police still seek Sam Stein as leader of the gang, and the sixth participant in the robbery, known only as "the cowboy."

A door torn from their car in the mad flight led to the arrest of the three condemned bandits 48 hours after the spectacular robbery.

BILL TILDEN TO FACE JEAN BOROTRA AT AUTEUIL TODAY

NET VETERAN IN FIRST MATCH

Allison and Van Ryn Picked As Doubles Team

By GEORGE W. HINMAN JR.

PARIS, July 24. (US)—William T. Tilden, Philadelphia veteran of the courts, will face Jean Borotra, of France, in the Roland Garros stadium at Auteuil tomorrow afternoon in the first match of the strongest challenge for the Davis cup made by an American team since the prized international trophy was lost to France in 1927.

The luck of the draw today placed upon Big Bill's shoulders the burden of America's hopes. By it was determined that George Lott, of Chicago, will meet Henry Cochet, France's "unbeatable," in the second match of the day.

Tilden and Borotra will face each other across the net at 2:15 p. m. (8:15 a. m. Eastern daylight time). When their match is completed, Cochet and Lott will take the court. Sunday's singles play will be opened by Lott and Borotra. Cochet and Tilden will battle for the final score under what auspices it is hard to conjecture.

Allison in Doubles

Wilmer Allison and John Van Ryn are Captain Dixon's selection for the American doubles team for the Saturday match. No official announcement of this was made, however, since Pierre Gillon, the French captain reserved the right to withhold the naming of the French doubles team until the results of tomorrow opening singles are known.

French experts are agreed that Big Bill will carry the burden of responsibility for America's success or failure when he faces Borotra tomorrow. The master of the cannon ball service has already seven times conquered the "Bounding Basque," but Borotra came close to defeating the mighty Bill at Wimbledon.

It is practically conceded by even the most rabid of American boosters that Lott is bound to fall before the flash of Cochet's racket. It is also conceded that the doubles will almost certainly go to Van Ryn and Allison, who last year defeated Borotra and Cochet in three sets.

Upon Tilden's showing against Borotra in the opening fray, therefore, depends America's hope for entering the final singles matches Sunday with a 2-1 advantage over France. Should Tilden fail against Borotra it is certain that he cannot defeat the tacitturn Henri. Thus America would fail to capture the cup by 4-1, or 4-2 at the best and conceding Lott a victory over Borotra.

U. S. May Come Back

If, on the other hand, Tilden defeats the Basque in the opening singles, Van Ryan and Allison take the doubles, then Lott would be spurred to high efforts against Borotra and there would be a magnificent opportunity for the United States to regain its place of supremacy in the tennis world.

Tilden and Lott today went through a light practice on the Auteuil courts in preparation for the gruelling tests they will face tomorrow. Tilden did not seem to be easing up because of the wrenched ankle he suffered Sunday. Both he and Lott appeared in the best of form and condition.

Slugfest Nets Cubs 19 Runs Over Phils' 15

PHILADELPHIA, July 24. (AP)—The Cubs defeated the Phils today, 19 to 15 in a wild and woolly game. In the eighth the Phillies scored seven runs but fell three short at tying the count. Score:

Hafey's Bombardment Fails to Save Cardinals

BOSTON, July 24. (AP)—Despite the heroic effort of Chick Hafey, St. Louis Cardinal left-fielder, who hit in two home runs, a double and a single in four trips to the plate Bobby Smith pitched the Boston Braves to a 5 to 4 win over the visitors today. Hafey drove in three of the visitors' four runs. His two homers brought his four bagger total to 14 for the season. Score:

It must be

to upset them so!

TIRE manufacturers the country over have been raising a terrific advertising ado about "Mail Order" tires, so called. "Compare! Compare! Compare!" has been their wail. They have quoted prices purporting to show they have tires that can be bought just as low as Sears, Roebuck's famous ALLSTATES which have rolled in a tidal wave of popularity from coast to coast.

The Reason for All This Is Easy to Find

Put an ALLSTATE Tire on your car and check its service against any other brand you select—at any price. The results will explain one of the greatest tire successes in the industry. It is this ALLSTATE superiority that has increased Sears, Roebuck's tire sales 871 percent during the last six years, while the tire industry as a whole was increasing 35 percent. At this moment Sears, Roebuck sells one out of every ten tires bought for replacement.

It Takes a Mighty Good Tire to Succeed Like That

All along we have told you that ALLSTATES were the greatest money's worth you could find in tires. We have proven that to ourselves by every conceivable test and analysis to which a tire can be put. Now ALLSTATES themselves have proven it to the American motorist by their superior service and unmatched success.

Like all successes ALLSTATES have thrown consternation into the camps of competing tires. Claims have been made! Prices have been quoted! Attacks have been launched! The result has been confusing to the tire buyer.

The Public Is Entitled to the Plain Facts

The reputations of both Sears, Roebuck and of ALLSTATE Tires have been built on honest statements, honest service and honest value. All this flurry by manufacturing competitors is very flattering to us—and we are human enough to love to be flattered. But we cannot enjoy it half so much if we know the public is being confused. So here are the plain facts, plainly stated.

Every major tire manufacturer produces two grades of tires, namely a "first line" and a "second line." The "second line" tires are satisfactory—but naturally the "first line" are a great deal better. Sears, Roebuck is no exception to this. We have two grades—the famous ALLSTATES are "first line"; DEARBORN SR the "second line."

When manufacturing competitors have made price comparisons with ALLSTATES, they invariably have used their "second line" tires for the purpose. It is true their prices are just about the same as ALLSTATE prices. All of which is most complimentary—for ALLSTATES' "first line" standards call for so much more in quality that you cannot help buying them; especially when, as our friendly manufacturing competitors confess, ALLSTATES cost no more than their "second line" tires. On the other hand, if price is a prime consideration, Sears, Roebuck's DEARBORN SR is as good as any "second line" tire to be had, and costs far less.

Here's the Best Advice We Can Give Tire Buyers

All recognized brands are good. But naturally, just as human nature varies, so do tires. Consequently some are better than others. If the "second line" prices are satisfactory, the same amount of money will buy "first line" quality in ALLSTATES with all they provide in the economy of greater service. But, if "second line" serves your purpose, then by all means buy the "second line" tire that costs the least—which is Sears, Roebuck's DEARBORN SR. Our great tire volume, combined with the most economical method of distribution yet devised, makes these savings possible.

But by all means, in comparing tires, compare "first line" with "first line"—and "second line" with "second line." To make it easy for you to do this we are listing precisely which of the best known tires come in each classification.

Best Known "First Line" Tires	Best Known "Second Line" Tires

We will be pleased to help you compare either Sears, Roebuck tire with others in its classification.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, July 24. (AP)—Cotton was lower today under more active and general selling which appeared to be promoted by the failure of recent unfavorable weather conditions to bring in more general crop complaints from the South and reports of rains or showers in Mississippi and Alabama.

July and the nearer new crop months made new low records for the season with the new October selling off to 12.45 or 29 points net lower. That delivery closed at 12.52 with the general market closing steady at net declines of 18 to 25 points.

The opening was steady at an advance of 1 point to a decline of 3 points. There appeared to be some buying on overnight weather news, but the demand was limited and prices soon weakened under renewed liquidation combined with some further local and southern selling.

The day's selling was attributed, in part at least, to rains in Texas, although some felt that the rains or showers so far reported had been inadequate. Trading was more active and general today than it has been for some time and some southern selling was reported on the decline.

Liverpool cables said liquidation and Bombay hedge selling in that market had been absorbed by trade calling and scale down buying, checking the decline. Exports today 100, making 6,806,032 so far this season, according to revised figures. Port receipts, 1,617. U. S. port stocks, 1,561,307.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, July 24. (AP)—The cotton market sought new low levels for the present movement in moderate trading today. Continued liquidation of July caused that option to open 9 points down but the month was inactive after the offerings had been supplied. New crop months opened a point up in sympathy with cables but soon turned easier on the map showing a heavy rainfall in the Texas Panhandle and the market was on the down grade most of the session on prospects for rain in Mississippi and on fears of hedging declining 18 points from yesterday's close. The general market closed steady at net declines for the day of 21 to 26 points.

Liverpool came in 1 to 2 points better than due and new crop months here opened 1 point up. Prices soon eased off on rain reports and by the end of the first hour October traded down to 12.68 and December to 12.83 or down 12 to 13 points from the previous close.

The market made new lows in the late trading at 12.50 for October and 12.68 for December or 27 to 29 points below the previous close. The close was a few points up on covering, October closing at 26 points net lower and December 24 net lower.

Prices Relax as Market Tapers Off Into Mid-Summer Dullness

By BRODAN WALL

NEW YORK, July 24. (US)—Stock trading tapered off considerably today and prices were inclined to softness throughout the day. It was evident from the opening that the constructive forces, satisfied with having brought the market back from the sharp reaction on Monday, were permitting the market to drift for itself without undue stimulation.

In a sense the session was a test affair to see whether removal of aggressive sponsorship would bring out any appreciable offerings. The dullness which developed, and as indicated in total volume of 1,475,000 shares, against 2,500,000 shares the previous day, was ample evidence of only moderate selling coming into the market. Lacking any stimulating news either from industry generally or from the commodity markets, the market appeared a typical mid-summer session, with prices tending lower after the vigorous recovery of the preceding two days. Grain markets were firm, but cotton suffered a renewed liquidating movement. Industrial stocks suffered more severe reactions than the Rails or utilities. The Rails, as a matter of fact, were only fractionally off, on the average.

Radio, Radio-Keith, Standard of New Jersey, and others of the group which had been dominating market interest, were all lower at the close, but displayed evidence of less aggressive sponsorship by their sponsors. The inclination of these market interests to prevent unduly rapid advance was accepted as an encouraging sign. Thus far, however, they have failed to attract any general public following.

From its wording, the M. J. Meehan & Co., market letter explaining it bullish stand is obviously based on the disclosure made here last Monday that the average price on all stocks listed on the New York stock exchange is now the lowest since early 1925. This column then declared that this disclosure was of sensational nature, since most popular "averages" show prices back only to two or three years ago, and some only one year's recession in quotations. The Meehan declaration emphasizes the drastic extent of the decline in price, taking the entire market, not a limited number of preeminent issues which always sell far above the main body of stocks. The firm also reiterates the opinion expressed in its world-wide advertisements, that present prices of stocks offer buying opportunities.

Tendency to ignore developments was reflected in continued quietness among the rail shares following announcement Southern Pacific has secured control of the St. Louis-Southwestern. The latter's preferred and common stock responded modestly, while Southern held a fraction above Wednesday's price. Perhaps the general quietness in the Rails reflected renewed stories of possible widespread investigation of railroad stock holdings in security houses. Among leading stocks only moderate price declines took place. Steel common sold off a little over a point on appearance of earnings estimates which placed the six-months' net somewhat above $6, compared with the year's $7 dividend, but confirming statement here that an extra dividend is unlikely. U. S. Industrial Alcohol dipped over 7 points on more general appreciation of the sharp drop in earnings during the first half-year. It is likely that the net for that period amounted to only one-fourth the dividend requirements. Accumulation of inventories because of slow movement of alcohol is likewise a factor in the situation. Recent improvement in the stock obviously was chiefly on short covering. Foster-Wheeler, however, with a very favorable six-months' statement, likewise sold off. This company's earnings are on the uptrend, in the first half-year having earned $4.27 a share, a sharp improvement over the same 1929 period, despite increased number of shares. Union Carbide, whose half-year report showed a decline in earnings equalling 33 cents a share, sold off over two points. National Cash register, in which Durant activity recently brought about a sharp rise, dropped over 4 points on announcement of a 10 per cent cut in its wages.

A powerful group, in which Standard Oil and Corn Products interests are prominent, have been accumulating commercial solvents for several days in anticipation of an important announcement in the near future. Sponsorship of the stock is in the hands of a leading interest who only recently turned bullish. The stock is one of the favored issues of some of the best-informed financial interests in the financial district. The company's past record is one of tremendous expansion and it is stated that new products promise continuation of the uptrend in profits.

Retention of the 2½ per cent local rediscount rate and the $17,000,000 drop in brokers' loans were minor developments, with money rates reflecting an enormous surplus. Call funds on the exchange were officially available at 2 per cent throughout the day, but actually money was offered as low as 1 per cent on the "outside." Activity in the bond market reached the highest level of the week and prices generally were higher. The contest between stocks and bonds for popularity continues.

PIT NOTES

CHICAGO, July 24. (US)—Interest in wheat seems to have reached a standstill. Although a few local professionals buy every morning on strong cables they quickly sell when the market fails to respond. While Russian offerings occupy a prominent place in pit gossip, breaks on Russian selling have appeared almost weekly for the last six months despite the fact that Russian exports during the period have been less than 6,000,000 bushels. It would seem that if Russia were a real competitor, continental buying of huge quantities of American wheat even into December, would not be as large.

The Van Dusen-Harrington weekly crop report says that with the exception of the Red river valley, the entire territory needs moisture badly. Hot weather has forced the ripening and harvest is in full swing well up into North Dakota. Minnesota gives promise of a fair crop, South Dakota is about average, and North Dakota very spotty. From Fargo to the Canadian boundary in the Red River valley excellent prospects are seen both as to quality and quality. Southwestern sections will probably harvest a fair crop but from Devils Lake west conditions are deteriorating badly.

A Winnipeg rust expert says that reports are being received of rust in the whole of Alberta and the eastern half of Saskatchewan, the degree varying from a mere sprinkling to heavy.

According to the farmers union terminal association of St. Paul, spring wheat deterioration has been severe this month and prospects for bread wheat are now approximately 168,000,000 bushels, compared with 171,000,000 last year.

ECTOR COUNTY GAUGE CALLED

Penn Pool Wells to Be Prorated

FORT WORTH, July 24. (AP)—Instructions to make potential gauges on all wells in the Penn pool of Ector county were issued to Ray W. Richmond, prorating umpire of the Yates pool, who will be in charge of Ector county proration temporarily, at a meeting of the advisory committee meeting in Fort Worth Thursday morning, at which W. L. Todd, chairman, presided.

Another meeting will be held next Monday in Fort Worth at which time allowable production figured from Richmond's gauges will be discussed and necessary adjustments made. No official order from the railroad commission has been received, but it is understood it will cover production based on market outlet from pipe line company nominations and will set a maximum production of 15,000 barrels daily.

Proration in Ector county is to be based 100 per cent on average potential of 40-acre units with special units for wells producing 150 barrels or less.

In addition to Todd those attending the early session were F. J. Adams, Gulf Production company, Fort Worth; L. E. Barrows, Texas company, Fort Worth; H. E. Marsh, Amerada Petroleum corporation, Fort Worth, and C. W. Alcorn, Shell Petroleum corporation, Dallas.

TERRIFIC GALE STRIKES ITALY

12 Killed by Hurricane At Treviso

farms it was feared hundreds more were buried under debris.

Naples, metropolis of the area, lying under the glowering menace of Mount Vesuvius, was under a war regime today. Soldiers guarded the streets, convoys of food and medical supplies rushed through the streets, buildings lay in ruins as though struck by shells and flags everywhere flew at half staff.

From Naples almost as far as the plains of Apulia, on the other side of the Appennines, at least 85 towns and villages lay desolate.

In the provincial centers and larger towns Fascist militia men and all Fascist auxiliary organizations moved in swift disciplined order on their errands of relief. Health authorities, fearful of epidemics such as follow in the wakes of great disasters, mobilized an army of doctors and pharmacists. Medicines and serums were collected at strategic points.

Food supplies were massed in depots and distributed by the truck load. Water was rushed in tank trucks to communities whose drinking supplies had been cut off.

After great difficulty the Italian army signal corps re-established communication between the larger towns.

health commissioner's office, where the scientists, doctors and lawyers were debating whether the child in her arms was hers. When informed they had decided that it was not, she became semi-hysterical.

Both fathers attended the conference. Toward the end as the evidence showed what the outcome would be, Bamberger, pale and trembling, left the room. He did not return for the vote.

When the poll was taken and Watkins found himself the father of a baby he had seen only a few times instead of the boy he had thought his own, he gripped the arms of the chair tightly.

Previously the parents had agreed to accept the decision of the jury, though its report is not compulsory, but Bamberger showed fight when later informed of the decree.

Lindberghs Deny Plans For Residence Change

NEW YORK, July 24. (UP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh today denied reports that he was planning to change his place of residence to Oklahoma City.

The famous aviator said he had been inundated with telegrams, cablegrams and letters with offers and inducements for him to move from his present home at Englewood, N. J. He said he and Mrs. Lindbergh had not even discussed moving, that St. Louis remained their legal residence, and that they had no idea of changing.

McFarlane Assails Williams' Record In Address at Auditorium Here

Graham Senator Points to Many Services He Has Given Area In Past; Sartin and Smith Given Rap

Assailing the congressional record of Guinn Williams as "the policy of a 'yes man' who sits idly by and does absolutely nothing," W. D. McFarlane of Graham Thursday night addressed a crowd of about 500 persons at the auditorium grounds, centering his speech about his own record in the state legislature in contrast with that of Representative Williams in congress.

State Senator McFarlane was introduced by P. B. Roberts. His address was broadcast by remote control over station KGKO and transmitted to the assembly on the grounds by means of loud speakers.

Tells of Legislative Record

The candidate expressed confidence that he would "lead the field in the first primary." In the opening portion of his address he pointed out that he had fought in the state legislature for the tax on gasoline, to be used in maintaining the roads of the state, and said he had stood out in the fight for lobby control and for tax remissions to the various counties in his district.

He denied that Guinn Williams' record on labor was equal to his own and to enforce the point, read a letter from George Slater, executive secretary of the Texas Federation of Labor, in which Mr. Slater wrote, "McFarlane's record on labor in the house and senate is perfect." The speaker said he had led the economy bloc on the floor of the house.

"I helped pass and worked for from the first, the bill by which the Burkburnett free bridge was built. I have always favored free bridges and I fought for two different free bridge measures in the senate.

"I took an active part in the fight to secure a court of civil appeals for this district. The bill, through my cooperation and efforts was passed in both the house and senate, only to be vetoed by the governor.

"The large number of magnificent buildings built recently at your state hospital here were secured since I have been your senator. These are not promises. The buildings stand as mute evidence of the constructive program which I have followed while your representative in the senate. At the last session, your Mr. Bullington and Mr. Kemp asked that a dairy herd be provided for the state hospital. I was active in securing the fine herd which is there now.

"I had an active part in the dairy farming bill, to make possible extensions in dairy farming in this and other sections. I was active in other measures to aid the farmer, stock raiser and the laboring man. This section needed bank legislation and short railroad legislation, to put short railroads on an equal basis with the larger roads. I was active in putting over that needed legislation. I am the author of your present hot check law, so needed by the merchants.

Aids Oil Industry

"I laughed when Guinn Williams said he fought for the independent oil operator. I have gone down the line on every measure affecting the independent operator and helped to secure the best legislation possible for them. The pipe line measure to be passed upon July 30 is a good measure and should be upheld. I opposed the five per cent tax on oil and it was later cut to two per cent. Williams has been as silent concerning the independent operator as he has been on every other measure affecting this district. He sat idly by and allowed the tariff bill to become a law and never even offered an amendment to place a tariff on oil. If he is the friend of the oil operator, why didn't he say something or do something then? Now that the race is on, I'm glad he is at least realizing there is oil in his district.

"As to Sartin and Smith, there is nothing new in this race as far as they are concerned that wasn't in the race last time. Both of them were badly defeated. Sartin lost 11 counties in the district by a vote of two to one. Both of them voted for Hoover and they want you to elect them on that account. Sartin and Smith could not even get in the state Democratic convention, but I fought to send a dry delegation to the national convention and I voted for Al Smith, even though I did not like him, because he was the Democratic choice.

"Out of the more than 69,000 pages on the congressional record, what is shown about Williams? He has filled less than 12 of these pages and has spoken in congress a total of 104 minutes in all of his five terms up there. On the branch banking bill he voted with the Republicans and against the majority of Texas Democrats, yet he now says he is against chain banking. He never made but one five-minute talk on the Philippine Island question and then he only said 'something should be done,' without saying what. He has never offered an amendment to any bill of importance. An investigation by the senate showed that there was nothing wrong with the federal reserve bank for this district, yet Williams claims he is responsible for the reorganization of the bank.

"He says, 'Oh, but I was in the committee rooms all the time.' The records show that no committee on which he served ever accomplished a thing or obtained any congressional action. He claims he saved you hundreds of thousands of dollars on the Virgin Island legislation. The records show that neither he nor his committee have ever done a single thing on Virgin Island legislation and no measure has passed on those islands since he has been a member of congress.

"Mr. Williams has declined to meet me in joint debate to discuss these records of his in congress. If you want action, results, someone to get what you need in this district, I have my record of action in the state legislature for your consideration. I shall lead the entire field in the first primary."

Murder of Detroit Radio Orator Arouses Sweeping Political Storm

Attack on Commissioner Follows Police Shake-Up as New Units March on City's Underworld

DETROIT, July 24. (AP)—The murder of Jerry Buckley, fiery radio orator, had far-reaching effects today in the city where he minced no words in denouncing the underworld before the microphone.

In the burst of police activity which followed the killing of Buckley by three gunmen as he sat in a hotel lobby early yesterday, the centralized vice squad was swept out of existence and the precinct squads which were substituted for it were ordered to "smash up," every liquor and vice resort in the city.

A few hours after Police Commissioner Thomas C. Wilcox had issued orders creating the squads and starting the raids, a hard blow was struck at the commissioner himself by a story in the Detroit News.

The News stated that Wilcox admitted that his statement last night that he possessed an affidavit, in which a whisky racketeer accused Buckley of taking $4,000 from him was false. The commissioner, the News said, admitted that he has no such affidavit "as yet."

The paper published an interview with Wilcox in which the commissioner was asked, after he had repeated that he had the affidavit, to prove its existence by showing it to a judge of the circuit court.

"Well, it isn't signed—not yet," Wilcox was quoted as saying.

In abolishing the centralized vice squad and returning to precinct commanders the duty of suppressing gambling, bootleggings and other vice, Commissioner Wilcox abandoned a policy inaugurated by Mayor Charles Bowles. This policy had been one of the focal points of attack in the successful recall campaign which ended Tuesday with the mayor's defeat by a majority of 30,000.

T-P EXTENSION HEARING ENDS

I. C. C. to Give Decision On Plan at Later Date

WASHINGTON, July 24. (AP)—Final arguments on the project of the Texas & Pacific railway to extend its own line directly to San Angelo, Texas, by construction of 40 miles of new road, through a subsidiary, the Abilene & Southern were submitted today to the Interstate Commerce commission.

The Santa Fe system, by reason of its ownership of the Kansas City, Mexico and Orient railway, was the only opponent of the proposed extension, while the Texas railroad commission by letter indicated its neutrality.

T. D. Gresham, counsel for the Texas & Pacific, declared his company could only participate effectively in traffic offered in the San Angelo territory by laying its own rails into the city.

He added that there was unanimous support of all business interests and municipalities along the route for the construction, other attorneys heard, directly representing these interests, supported his argument.

G. B. Ross, for the Santa Fe, argued that his company had spent much capital in maintaining service to the territory and that it would be unfair for it now to be forced to divide business with the Texas & Pacific.

The commisison took the case under advisement and withheld its decision until a later date.

Foreign Missions Dependent Upon Funds From U. S., Says Speaker Here

Addresses by Chinese Religious Workers Feature Opening Of Wichita-Archer Institute

The afternoon session of the Wichita-Archer Baptist Woman's Missionary Study institute which opened at the First Baptist church at 10 o'clock Thursday morning was featured by talks by Dr. E. T. Snuggs and his daughter, Miss Faith Snuggs, missionaries from Pokhoi, China.

Dr. Snuggs explained that Pokhoi is a small city in the extreme southern part of China and that the Pokhoi mission is the youngest of the five missions in China, "if it were not for the Missionary societies in the United States, foreign missions would be nothing," he declared. Dr. Snuggs went into detail in relating incidents relative to the financial hardships that missionaries are compelled to work under in foreign fields. He also told of plans under way to finance the expenses of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Chapman who have served in the same mission with himself and his daughter and who wish to return to the work.

Miss Snuggs told of the educational, religious and social activities of the children and touched upon the beliefs and manner of living of the older people. She displayed a modern Chinese dress, worn by the better class of people, which was a one-piece garment, fashioned very much like an American dress with snaps closing it at the side. Miss Snuggs also demonstrated the use of chop sticks and displayed an ordinary idol that the Chinese worship in their homes.

In discussing Chinese superstitions, Miss Snuggs explained that Chinese never leave one person at the table eating, because an evil spirit may get into his soul and destroy him and they will not tolerate an uneven number at the table. Another custom Miss Snuggs elaborated upon was the habit of friends exchanging miniature coffins as love offerings.

Both Dr. Snuggs and his daughter have been giving talks over various radio stations throughout the state for the past 10 days. They will lecture again during the morning session of the study institute Friday morning.

Morning Session

The morning session was opened with a devotional by Mrs. W. M. McGintis after which Rev. and Mrs. G. N. Newfus of Iowa Park had charge of the music. A special number was a duet by Misses Mary Virginia Barron and Loneta Smith. Mrs. Collins gave the devotional for the afternoon session and Mrs. I. M. Prince of Thornberry gave a short talk in which she discussed the person without Christ and the person who let Him become a part of his life.

In addition to talks by Dr. and Miss Snuggs, the Friday morning session will include special music arranged by Mrs. Fred Barron and a study hour. Members of the Lamar Avenue, Highland Heights, City View, South Side, Lory Memorial and Scotland Baptist churches will serve lunch at the noon hour. Mrs. Homer McGregor will be the principal speaker for the afternoon meeting. The session will close at 3 o'clock.

Business Council To Resume Meetings in Fall

Following the practice established in former years, the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce business council will hold no more meetings during the month of July and August, it was announced Thursday.

Bi-weekly meetings will be resumed on the first Friday in September, according to Paul G. Putty, chairman.
