Troops Take Key Hilltop

SAIGON (UPI) — Leathernecks, some of the "brave heroes" cited by South Vietnam in a Memorial Day message to its ally, charged through communist gunfire and captured a key hilltop fortress, U.S. military spokesmen said today.

The spokesmen said American troops killed 82 communists in this and other scattered action and found the bodies of 45 Reds killed in earlier clashes.

But 17 Americans were killed and 92 wounded, most of them in fighting just south of the border Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) and in the guerrilla-infested Central Highlands.

Two companies of the 4th Marine Regiment, about 410 men, stormed Hill 174 Monday and in eight hours of tough, artillery-backed fighting dislodged North Vietnamese gunners who had been raining shells on leatherneck posts.

Nearby Communists slammed into U. S. Paratroopers with mortars, recoilless rifles and small arms. They killed eight Americans and wounded 14 others in one attack from fortified positions. But the Reds were driven back with the help of air power and left at least six dead behind.

In a series of scattered fights in the Mekong Delta, the U.S. 9th Infantry Division reported killing 33 Viet Cong while suffering one dead and one wounded.

To the north, four miles east of Lai Khe, Communist mortar fire injured 18 U.S. Infantrymen.

One American was killed and 10 injured when a "short round" from their own mortars landed close to them 16 miles northwest of Hue. In a similar mishap, an American-fired 81mm mortar round hit a patrol of the 25th injuring five GIs. Investigations of both accidents were ordered.

U.S. spokesmen said the Marines had pushed from three sides against Hill 174 which overlooks the American bastion of Con Thien just below the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) dividing the Vietnams. Air strikes and artillery barrages did not defeat the defenders. So the Marines charged into the machinegun and small arms fire.

Seizure by Police Boosted by Ruling Of Supreme Court

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court, always unpredictable, has turned the tables on its critics by a ruling that gives police a bigger break in searching for evidence in criminal trials.

By an 8 to 1 vote Monday, the high court revised a 45-year-old ruling that had limited police when they searched private premises during a criminal investigation.

Under previous rules, police could seize and use such items as the weapons used in a crime or stolen goods. But they were denied use of other evidence found in their searches such as clothing or what in the legal profession is known as "mere evidence"—things they might come across in an otherwise valid search.

The court, in a majority opinion by Justice William J. Brennan Jr., held that this set up a "wholly irrational" distinction. Justice William O. Douglas dissented. Two others, Chief Justice Earl Warren and Justice Abe Fortas, agreed with Brennan on his findings, but questioned his basic legal argument.

At issue was the arrest and conviction of a Baltimore man, Bennie Joe Hayden, who was found guilty, on the basis of clothing found in his possession, of robbing a taxi company.

Hayden's attorneys contended the clothing was unconstitutionally seized and should not have been admitted as evidence.

Memorial Day Marked Here By Services

The soft, slow sound of buglers playing Taps floated up from Memory Gardens and Fairview Cemetery at dawn this morning as about 500 Pampans gathered to honor Pampa's war dead in annual Memorial Day services.

About 472 Pampans at Fairview Cemetery and 12 at Memory Gardens stood in the damp grass at sunrise while prayers were said and flags raised in honor of Pampans who died in World Wars I and II, Vietnam, Korea and other foreign wars.

At Memory Gardens, WW II veterans and V.F.W. Auxiliary members conducted a flag raising ceremony of the 74 veterans buried there.

The flags and others flying throughout Pampa, today will remain until 5:30 p.m., unless it rains too much.

"Since a flag is not supposed to be rained on, we may have to take them down," Mrs. Hattie Wright, VFW Auxiliary president, said.

At Memory Gardens, 85 casket flags were on the staff which was put up by Cleo Goff and Alvin McCartney.

Chaplain was Harry Nelson, and Roland Gee bugler. Four auxiliary members assisting at Memory Gardens were Mrs. Wright, Mrs. Mary Hudgel, Mrs. Bunnah Walling and Mrs. Mary Eckroat.

Race Stopped

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI)—The 500-mile race was stopped today after leader Parnelli Jones had gone 18 laps because of a drizzle on the track.

Mario Andretti, the fastest qualifier and one of the favorites, came into his pit after 11 laps for a check, and after one more lap he stopped again. His crew lifted the hood and Andretti jumped out of the car, apparently out of the race.

At the time the race was stopped, Dan Gurney was second, A.J. Foyt third, Joe Leonard fourth, Al Unser fifth, Art Pollard sixth, Bobby Unser seventh, Gordon Johncock eighth, Jim McElreath ninth and Rover McCluskey 10th.

Treaty Forms United Front Between Two

By WALTER LOGAN
United Press International

Egypt and Jordan buried the hatchet today and shored up Arab defenses with a treaty bringing Jordan and its army into a united front against Israel. The Israelites vowed to break the Arab blockade in the Gulf of Aqaba by themselves, if necessary.

Amid Israel's warnings that it would give international diplomacy only limited time to succeed in breaking the blockade, King Hussein of Jordan suddenly appeared in Cairo, where he has been denounced bitterly as a pro-American "CIA agent."

U.A.R. President Gamal Abdel Nasser welcomed him at the airport with open arms and the two leaders signed a treaty committing both nations to regard an attack on one as an attack on both.

The treaty aligned Jordan's 40,000-man army with the U.A.C.'s 300,000-man force. The Israelis make no bones about their respect for the Jordanian army.

But Israeli Foreign Minister Aba Eban in Jerusalem warned that Israel's patience has limits. "International diplomacy must break the U.A.R. blockade of the Gulf of Aqaba within weeks," not months or years, he said.

Eban ruled out any settlement that would deprive Israel its outlet on the Gulf to the Red Sea and markets in Asia and Africa.

The semi-official Cairo newspaper Al Ahram reported without confirmation that U.A.R. blockaders fired a warning shot across the bow of an American-owned ship bound for Israel's port of Elath and forced it to turn back. It did not name the vessel.

Washington officials said they knew of no such ship or incident.

Members of the United Nations Security Council began assembling in New York for a second straight day of argument pitting the United States and the pro-Arab Soviet Union on the issue of the blockade.

Eban, speaking at a news conference, stressed the need for speed to get the matter settled.

General Delivers LBJ's Message For Memorial Day

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson called today for a rededication to American principles including a 'patient and determined search for peace, freedom and justice."

The President's Memorial Day message was delivered by Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, at Arlington National Cemetery where 500 of the country's 10,000 Vietnam war dead are buried. Johnson was spending the holiday at his ranch in Texas.

Wheeler said the President had written him, asking him to address the Memorial Day ceremonies and outlining thoughts he would like expressed. The general quoted directly from the President's letter:

Calls For Rededication

"This is a time for rededication to the principles so courageously defended by those we honor this day. Their sacrifices enable us to persevere in our patient and determined search for peace, freedom and justice as their glory inspires our quest, their success assures man's right to an independent choice of life and destiny.

"May God guide us in this purpose and bestow his blessings upon those who guard the ramparts in Vietnam. They will ever be (a credit) to this country and its cause."

360 Receive PHS Diplomas

The 3,000 Pampans watching the 360 graduates receive Pampa High School diplomas last night learned a diploma can be a "bridge to the future," but may not, "as some think, signify the graduates have learned all there is to know."

With 17 honor students distinguished by gold tassels on mortar boards and gold ropes on their green robes, the 1967 graduates, all robed in green, filed into the high school fieldhouse to the processional "Pomp and Circumstance," played by Pampa High School Band.

After M. B. Smith gave the invocation, Harris Brinson directed the band in "Elsa's Procession to the Cathedral."

Without formal introductions, the 1967 salutatorian, Peggy Peeples, Senior Class president Larry Franklin and Valedictorian, Anne Jamieson, gave their final addresses to senior classmates, parents and faculty members.

Salutatorian's Address

Miss Peeples, in defining what education is and what it must do to be successful, said, "Education is to widen your horizons, to inflame interest and teach us to think straight, if possible."

She named three aims of education as being to teach students how to learn, to help build character and to inspire students to find their own answers.

"We learn how to learn by critical reasoning, creative imagination, insight and foresight, but we must hammer and forge our own characters with tools of education," she said.

She suggested for education to be successful, teachers, advisors and counselors, must inform and inspire students to discover their own answers to problems.

"We have learned how to learn, been given tools to forge characters and create individuality, but more than that, we have been given a bridge to the future. A philosopher once said, 'the direction education starts a man will determine his future life.' "

Senior Class President

Franklin interjected a lighter tone with his remarks by commenting "Some say giving seniors diplomas is like giving Attilla the Hun the key to your front door."

"Some think it is a license to loot, pillage and burn, but Pampa can rest easy, because as a whole, we (seniors) think one should dwell more on happiness, an all too scarce commodity."

He remarked to some graduates the diplomas is an E.P. (Emancipation Proclamation,) but "only when we have won the war with ourselves and society will we be free to be ourselves, and not to loot and burn."

According to Franklin, critics of high school seniors say they are "impatient, reckless and pessimistic rebels."

"I say yes, we are reckless, but that is a tendency of youth of any age. We are impatient, but that is because we are left in a world where there is much to be done.

"We believe in established order, but not in the infallibility of traditions. As to pessimism, we are more concerned with the future, for to us, yesterday is dead and today is sleeping."

Nigeria Rift Spurs Split Of Regions

LONDON (UPI)—The British Broadcasting Corp. today reported eastern Nigeria has seceded an declared itself the "Republic of Biafra."

The BBC quoted the eastern region's military ruler, Lt. Col. Odumegwu Ojukwu, as announcing the secession on a regional broadcast.

It said shortly after his announcement, a new national anthem was played and a new red, black and green flag with a yellow rising sun was hoisted over government buildings in the eastern capital of Enugu.

The announcement brought to a head 18 months of tribal dispute. It climaxed Ojukwu's efforts to gain more autonomy for his region and fellow Ibo tribesmen.

Nigeria is Africa's most populous nation, with at least 56 million people. It has been badly split by a constitutional crisis among its four regions. Secession of the eastern region also may mean a breakaway of the western region where leaders said they would follow Ojukwu's move.

Thunderstorm Drops .30-Inch

A solid front of thundershowers that dropped .30 inch of rain here last night created a funnel cloud in northeast Pampa which reportedly did not touch ground and caused no damage.

In the midst of graduating 360 seniors from Pampa High School last night, a thunder and lightning storm roared in "like a fast freight train," and skipped around in the air before dissipating.

One report indicated the funnel, which, if it had touched ground, could have been a first rate tornado, said it "came in about 9:30 p.m. from the southwest, about 100 to 150 feet up in the air. It was high and small, but had the definite roar associated with a tornado."

In the spotty area rain, Pampa was included in "a good solid area" of strong thunderstorms" that pelted most of the central and eastern Texas Panhandle, according to weather bureau observers.

The .30-inch moisture last night may not have made the creeks rise or overflooded any rivers, but added to the .49-inch Friday night and .17-inch Sunday, it was welcomed by Panhandle area farmers and ranch

Holiday Traffic Toll Continues Fast Climb

By United Press International

Death took no holiday today as millions of Americans combined ceremonies honoring the country's war dead with the simple pursuit of pleasure traditionally linked with Memorial Day.

[illegible]ns of motorists jammed the highways and byways. Hundreds would not return home. The nation's traffic toll today was expected to spurt beyond 600 in a flood of homeward-bound fun-seekers winding up the first holiday weekend of the summer.

A United Press International count at 10 a.m. CDT showed 439 persons killed in traffic accidents since the 102-hour holiday period started. Fires, plane crashes, drowning, and other accidents ran the total holiday casualty count to at least 665.

The breakdown:
Traffic 465
Drownings 117
Planes 26
Miscellaneous 88
Total 696

California, with 40 traffic deaths, led the states. Michigan and New York were second with 29, followed by Texas with 26 and Illinois with 20.

Alaska, Colorado, Delaware, Hawaii, Vermont and Rhode Island listed no traffic deaths during the period which ends at midnight.

In Texas, the nation's first family spent Memorial Day at the LBJ Ranch. The President called on Americans to join him in prayer at 11 a.m. local time —prayers for peace in Vietnam and the safety of all Americans serving their country.

President Johnson planned to return to Washington by afternoon or evening.

Across the nation, in countless villages, towns and cities, parades and grave-side ceremonies were held today to pay tribute and express gratitude for the sons, fathers and sweethearts who gave their lives fighting for the ideals of peace and liberty.

Many areas held observance Saturday or Sunday since the Memorial Day weekend was split by Monday, which for many was a working day.

Fatalities Increase

But as the honor guard rifles cracked their traditional salute to the war dead, the much longer peace-time rolls of dead in traffic and other accidents, mounted.

U.N. Debate More of U.S.-Soviet Clash Than Between Israel, Arabs

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI)—Security Council debate on the Middle East crisis today careened closer to a diplomatic blowup between the Soviet Union and the United States than a military explosion between Israel and its Arab neighbors.

The council adjourned Monday night after four hours highlighted by acid exchanges between U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg and Soviet Ambassador Nikolai T. Fedorenko. It agreed to meet again at 2 p.m. CDT today

Goldberg sought to have the council go on record for freedom of navigation through the Egyptian-blockaded Gulf of Aqaba. Fedorenko solidly supported the Arab case which included contention by the United Arab Republic that Israel even packs legal claim to its vital port of Elath, at the top of the gulf.

Israeli Ambassador Gideon Rafael called on the council to take four immediate steps:

—"All inflammatory statements and threats against the territorial integrity and political independence of any state should cease."

—"The charter obligation of nonbelligerence must be strictly complied with."

—"The armed forces should be withdrawn to their positions as at the beginning of the month."

—"In the Straits of Tiran and the Gulf of Aqaba there should be no interference with any shipping."

But U.A.R. Ambassador Mohammed Awad el Kony cited international law precedents under which most shipping, including U.S. flag ships, agreed prior to 1956 that the gulf was territorial waters of Egypt and Saudi Arabia.

He argued that Israeli forces seized the port village of Om Rashrash on March 30, 1949, in violation of Security Council orders and the general armistice agreement, and renamed in Elath. International law, he said, provides for possession of occupied territory only if it is specified in a peace treaty. No such treaty between Israel and the Arabs exists.

American Field Service Student Due in August

In mid-August, a 17-year-old American Field Service youth is expected to arrive in Pampa to make his home here for a year and to attend the 1967-68 semesters in Pampa High School.

Mrs. Mack Hiatt, president of the Pampa Chapter of the American Field Service, announced Mario Zoratti of S. Daniele, Udine, in northern Italy, has been selected by the New York AFS office for Pampa and will make his home with the W. C. Epperson family, 1900 N. Nelson.

MARIO ZORATTI
. . . AFS student

The six-foot one-inch, red-haired Italian youth is the only child of Mr. and Mrs. Gino Zoratti; his father is a groceryman and his mother is an elementary school teacher.

Mario will attend high school classes with the Epperson's son, Johnny, who will be a junior next fall. Other members of the Epperson family are a married son, Gary, who resides in Pampa, a son, Scott, who attends West Texas State University and an eight-year-old daughter, Betty Ann, who attends Travis Elementary School.

The 1966-67 AFS student, Werayut Yoothongham of Thailand, will be leaving Pampa this week with his American family of the past year, Rev. and Mrs. Harry Vanderpool, Phil and Pat. Rev. Vanderpool, pastor of the First Methodist Church here, has been transferred to the Polk Street Methodist Church in Amarillo.

The American Field Service program has been in progress in Pampa since 1960. During the past seven years American Field Service students and their families have been:

Marika Minelli of Italy with Dr. and Mrs. Frank Kelly; Jarle Molvar of Norway with Mr. and Mrs. Coyle Ford, 1960-61;

Maria Luise Prieto of Spain with Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Morgan; Turan Soylemez of Turkey with Dr. and Mrs. J. B. Veale, 1962-62;

Peter Kaddoum of Brazil, with Dr and Mrs M. McDaniel, 1964-65;

No one is permanently immune to poison ivy, poison oak or poison sumac, says the American Medical Association.

Israel's armed forces are heavily outnumbered by the combined forces of her major Arab enemies, but statistics don't tell the full story. The Israelis have an advantageous central position with short lines of communications and supply while the Arabs are separated by geography and political feuds. Also, many of the United Arab Republic's best troops are tied down in Yemen. Total Arab strength includes, in addition to the forces of the major states bordering on Israel, several thousand men which could be contributed by Lebanon and Saudi Arabia.

Miss Jamieson's definition of "best" encompasses both material success and the more intangible, abstract, but more satisfying goal to live up to what one is capable of doing.

"Best may be described as the ratio between what a man is and what he might be. As a complement to ourselves and an inspiration for the future, we must live up to our own class yell, 'We're the best this side of heaven, We're the class of 1967.' "

After the addresses, Senior Sponsor Mrs. W. A. Morgan, read the roll of 1967 graduates, while Superintendent Dr. John Damron presented diplomas, assisted by high school principal Cameron Marsh and assistant principal Weldon Trice.

After siging the school song, "Dear Old Pampa High School," and the benediction by R. J. Stevens, pastor of Central Church of Christ, graduates filed out of the fieldhouse to the "Tannhauser March," played by Pampa High School Band.

WJAR-TV, Rhode Island's first television station, went on the air July 10, 1949.

Campership Won By Brownie Scout

Penny Miser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Miser, 1225 S. Sumner, was awarded a Brownie Campership to attend District II Girl Scout Day Camp's first session June 5 through June 9.

The $4 campership was awarded for writing the best letter telling "Why I Want To Go To Camp." The Brownie Scout's letter was one of two chosen to be presented to a selections committee appointed by Mrs. John Porter of Shamrock, Quivira Girl Scout Council president.

Penny, whose troop leader is Mrs. J. D. Williams, 1012 S Dwight, wrote this letter: "This is my first year in Brownies. And I have never been to Day Camp. I want to learn about outdoor life. Playing and learning with the other girls will be a lot of fun. If camp is like Brownies, I know I will have a good time. Thank you."

Pampan Charged With Assault

A 24-year-old Pampa man, George H. Duke, 512 Oklahoma, has been charged with aggravated assault as the result of an altercation Sunday night near the Busy Bee Cafe.

According to investigating officers S. R. Belt and D. C. Lewis, a call was received by police that a colored male was at Highland General Hospital with a cut on his head.

According to the officers, the man, Earl Cartwright, 17, Pampa, told them he was driving on Oklahoma St. when Duke stopped him, started an argument and cut him with a knife.

Duke was first arrested for drunkerness and made a $25 cash bond.

THINNES MARRIED

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (UPI)—Television actor Roy Thinnes and actress Lynn Loring were married Sunday at the Beverly Wilshire Hotel.

It was the second marriage for Thinnes, 29, who plays the lead in "The Invaders," and the first for this 23-yearold bride.

Thinnes, who starred on TV's "The Long, Hot Summer" before taking over "The Invaders," was divorced last May 11 by his first wife, Barbara Chapman.

First military post to fly the Stars and Stripes was Ft. Schuyler in New York.

memorial service was conducted by the VFW and VFW auxiliary.

Pampa units participating included the Daughters of the American Revolution, Red Cross Volunteers and Salvation Army.

"We placed wreathes on the tomb of the unknown soldier and Lloyd Laramore raised the flag, while Doug Laramore Laramore, Mrs. Harry Hoyler, H. S. Folley of the Salvation Army, gave the memoriam prayer.

Four VFW auxiliary flag bearers at Fairview Cemetery were Mrs. Jess Hatcher, chaplain; Mrs. Marie Boyd, Mrs. Lloyd Laramore, Mrs. Harry Hoyle, Mrs. J. W. Dart, and Mrs. C H Lawrence

Woman Arrested On Shoplifting Charge

A Pampa woman, Dorothy Harding Palmer, 33, 709 N. Nelson, was arrested by Pampa police Monday on a charge of shoplifting.

According to a Pampa police report, Mrs. Palmer was charged after she was reportedly caught by Harold Dougherty, manager of Ideal No. 3, with a three-pound roast in her purse.

The population density of the United Kingdom is one of the highest in the world.

Former Pampans Receive Award From Optimists

Mrs. Minnye Archer Windsor, former Pampan and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Archer, 214 N. Sumner, was awarded a bronze trophy recently at the 21st Annual Convention of the Pacific Central District of Optimist International for editing and writing the Alameda, Calif, Club bulletin, the A l a-Opti News.

The bulletin was voted best of the 109 clubs of 25 members and under of the Northern California District at the California Convention held at the Flamingo Hotel in Santa Rosa, California.

Mrs. Windsor's husband, Robert Windsor, also from Pampa, a member of the Alameda Optimist Club and official editor of the bulletin, received the award for Mrs. Windsor.

Both Mr. and Ms. Windsor attended schools in Pampa.

Police protection and correctional institutions in the United States during 1965 cost $3.8 billion.

Camillus, N.Y., near Syracuse, claims to be the birthplace of the Republican party.

The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license, nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself no more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Memorial Day Reminder

Today on Memorial Day Americans pause to pay tribute to those who have died in the military service of their country.

But it is with a feeling of sadness that we seek to honor the thousands that have gone on before when we find our nation again deeper embroiled in another conflict. American men are still being killed and maimed in a confused — but undeclared — conflict.

We would not for a second seek to detract from the individual heroism of the soldiers, sailors and marines who are giving everything they have for their country in Vietnam.

One of our readers has sent us a copy of an editorial of years ago. He says in part: "If Vietnam were substituted for Korea, this article is as timely today as it was when it was written. History certainly repeats itself when it is written by the political rulers of the United States of America."

We are going to use parts of that Korean "police action" editorial and accept our reader's suggestion and change the name to Vietnam. We also believe the statements describe conditions of the present.

"Even now, in Vietnam, Americans are dying for a purposeless, vacillating, vague and even fickle policy which has no principle nor goal.

"Why are men dying in Vietnam? Answer that if you can.

"What if we 'win' in Vietnam? Are we going to occupy the place forever? Are we going to fight a thousand Vietnam actions in Asia and Europe from now on: And what are we going to do with these 'liberated' and occupied countries? Are we going to force the administration's conception of 'democracy' upon the unwilling or apathetic people?

"Apparently our 'foreign policy' gets down to this? We have drawn a series of imaginary lines across countries, continents and even cities. We have said that whoever shall step across those lines will be subject to 'police action.' We have divided peoples by those lines. We have tried to erect our own iron curtains against trade, words, people and ideas. As Bastiat said, where goods cannot pass a given line, troops will. And that is our policy and its results.

"We are going to preach 'freedom! And we are going to use every method of force to put our preaching into action. We are saying liberally, 'You'll be what we want you to be, or we'll beat your brains out.'

"Meantime, at home we more and more imitate the methods of those nations we are fighting Two of our 'allies,' at least, are frankly socialistic. We are following in their footsteps.

"And so the GI is drafted into the military and told he is to crusade against socialism (communism.).

"Is it any wonder it makes no sense to the soldier? Is it any wonder he fights because it is the only thing left to do?

"The Nazi fought because he was going to conquer the world as he had conquered Germany. The Russian fought to spread Communism to every country of the world.

"War is the logical and inevitable method of spreading Communism and socialism.

"But the answers to those questions might well embarrass the administration right out of office."

As a matter of fact, the administration did get out of office. But the change was only a change of names. Lyndon Johnson is losing his popularity and has lost some of his congressional supporters in the off-year election.

Voters are remembering that Johnson won his great landslide three years ago because he and his friends accused the Republican standard bearer of seeking war. Some of them are saying it makes no more sense to fight without trying to win than it did in Korea. Others are noticing more and more the idiocy of fighting communists in Viet-Nam and then using foreign aid and low interest loans to subsidize the nations that are supplying the communist enemy with war material.

Until Americans decide that they are more interested in freedom than they are in policing the world, the several thousand who have died in Vietnam plus other wars will have died in vain.

Effects on U.S. of 'Bloody Impasse'

Vietnam, Vietnam, Vietnam. The war casts a lenghtening shadow over the mood and morale of the nation.

With more than 10,000 Americans who have fallen in Vietnam now numbered among the honored dead, the President in his Memorial Day Proclamation makes an impassioned plea that our opponents sit down with us to chart some course to peace—to end "this tragic waste. . .This bloody impasse."

The words go unheard or if heard, serve only to reaffirm the foe in his faith that America will ultimately tire and its people welcome peace on any terms.

And indeed, as this uncertain and unpopular conflict grinds on, a polarization process deepens the division between Americans and Americans, and between some Americans and their government.

An Army doctor goes before a court martial charged with refusing to give medical training of Green Berets and of spreading disaffection and disloyalty. His defense— that the United States is engaged in war crimes in Vietnam.

At 25 medical schools across the nation, more than 250 students sign statements refusing to serve with the armed forces in "an unjustified war."

Meanwhile, thousands of men who have served their time in the hell of Vietnam volunteer for a second tour, and millions of their fellow citizens, resenting comparisons of their country with Nazi Germany, find themselves calling for an intensification of a war they want no more than those who demand its immediate end.

The nation agonizes, knowing that neither choice offers any real and lasting solution to the bloody impasse.

As it takes two to make war, so it takes two to make peace, short of the outright destruction of the strength and will of one belligerent. The tragedy of the world today, as it has been the tragedy of the world throughout history, is that there are so many ready to make war and so few to make peace.

Thus Vietnam, Vietnam, Vietnam.

How Was That, Sir?

Asked at a news conference if he sensed a rising pace in the Vietnam war from five or six months ago, President Johnson replied:

"I believe our objectives are the same . . . and our determination just as strong as it has ever been."

Rhetoricians and logicians may have a fancy name for that kind of reply to that specific question. The man in the street also has a name for it. Double talk.

Blocking The Track

A strike against a major segment of the nation's transportation system is not simply a strike against one or more companies. It is a strike against the American people who depend on public transportation for passenger service and movement of vital freight.

Last summer, the U.S. suffered a long, costly strike when union contempt for the public interest grounded most American domestic air carriers. The losses to business were tremendous, and the public was sorely inconvenienced at the very time when most people are on the move.

Now comes the threat of a rail strike. Here again, the public would be the chief victim. For normal operation of the railroads is essential to the prosperity of this country.

Before the strike becomes a reality, it is imperative that the public opinion be made evident to the six railroad shop unions. They should be made to understand that the American people have had enough of union high - handedness.

The "Chicago Daily News," commenting on the rail strike threat, recently said: "It should be evident that the only thing blocking a settlement has been union intransigence — supported by the administration's reluctance to act." Indeed the administration proposal is to set up a five - member study board that would mediate the dispute and put off the showdown until 1969. "This timetable," said the "Daily News," "would carry past the presidential election of 1968; the voters must not be distractd by a crippling rail strike in a campaign year — it might turn them against the administration."

So it might. The public might well be sickened by further tender solicitude, on the part of the White House, for the wants of the union bosses who have no hesitation in threatening a strike which injures the American people and which would seriously impede the nation's defense effort in Vietnam.

There has been altogether too much delay in arriving at a showdown on union tyranny. Union power has to be curbed. This is a basic public need and public issue. The American people must act decisively.

Consider what the printer's union in New York City did recently in the case of the "World Journal Tribune." Seven hundred thousand New Yorkers bought that newspaper each day, but the paper was forced to stop the presses and close its doors. Two thousand six hundred men and women employed by the paper lost their jobs because the union was determined to make wage demands that the newspaper management could not possibly afford to meet.

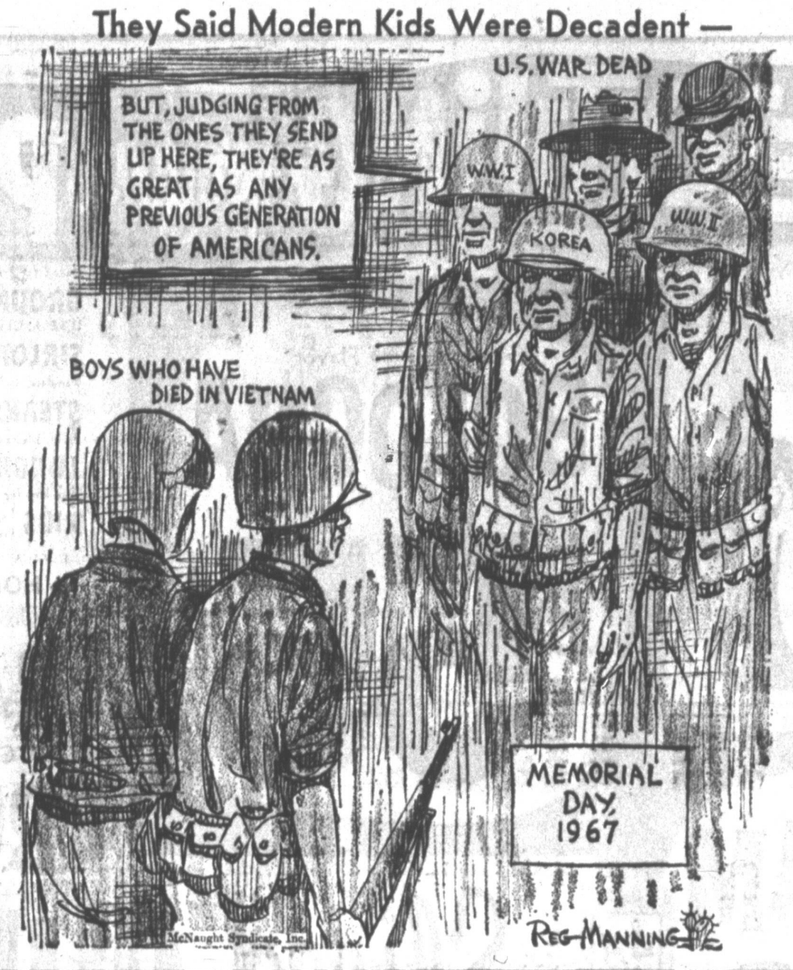

Indeed the "World Journal Tribune" had been put together as a combination of three other dailies that had been virtually "done in" by the unions. The net result of the union activity in New York City is that the metropolis has only one afternoon daily newspaper, and that of an ultra-liberal character.

The union leaders, who wield this enormous power, also deprived the individual union members of their livelihood — a shocking, tragic, and outrageous record for a free country that prides itself on a free press. Obviously, the press can't be free where arrogant union leaders have the capacity to muzzle a newspaper by illogical economic demands.

The transportation industry also could be wrecked by irresponsible unionism. In the case of the railroads, they have had a long, uphill fight for modernization. Today's railroad managements, however, have attained remarkable success in weeding out 19th century work practices. They have developed giant new freight and tank cars, won new business (such as the movement of new automobiles on new tri - level cars), introduced "unit" trains that provide low cost shipment for high volume service, and have prepared the rails for a brilliant new era in cargo and passenger service.

Today the U.S. railroads represent a $27 billion investment. Yet this investment could be severely injured if the railroad unions were allowed to return to the work practices of the steam locomotive era or if the unions insist on irresponsible demands, using a strike weapon as a train wrecker. The loser in such a situation would be all the people of the United States who benefit from modernizing of the country's basic transportation system.

JOB CORPS GIVES AFL-CIO $270,000

The Job Corps, a division of the Poverty Warriors Army, has contracted with the AFL-CIO to pay the union $270,000 to RECRUIT 5,000 applicants for the Corps by June. Enlistments are to be dug up in South Carolina, North Carolina, Virginia, Ohio, Pennsylvania, and Tennessee — the region known as Appalachia.

Job Corps Colonels say the program is having much difficulty filling its authorized ranks, and they find it especially hard to sign up white youths. "There's a shortage of kids," says one subaltern of the Corps. "Negro youths have entered in greater proportionate numbers and have stayed longer so recruits are beating the bushes for white youths to maintain 'balance' in the 113 camps around the country." (We have not seen such premeditated discrimination in years . . . and by a minion of government, too! This guy had better keep a low silhouette or the EEOC crowd will have him running a Neighborhood Poverty Center for the Ojibwas in the middle of an underground test site.)

The U. S. Employment Service had handled the Corps male recruiting up to this point, but it fell dismally short of the Warriors' goal of 20,000 new recruits by January, 1967.

The USES failure is the reason for the Poverty Troopers' seeking outside help to jazz up recruitment. The Corps now has about 28,500 youngsters in its ranks, aged 16 to 21. This is about 1,000 less than it had in July, 1966.

It costs about $4,000 per year to "train" each Corps recruit. The Corps is staffed at a ratio of about one instructor or administrator for each four or five "trainees."

At a time when LBJ is telling us that the $135 billion budget has absolutely no fat in it, we're terrified that the AFL-CIO WILL find the 5,000 recruits to spend another $20 million on.

While Job Corpsmen are having difficulties attracting trainees in Appalachia, urban planners under another Title of the Poverty Law War are at their wits' end because hill dwellers in Appalachia won't move down into the towns so they can be furnished with sewers, water systems, hospitals, schools, public housing, etc., and thus create more urban problems for the master planners to grapple with.

The independence of the mountaineers has the OEO Crowd in a high dudgeon. So much so that they held a conference in Washington on it.

The upshot of that well-rounded blue - ribbon meeting of folks who are determined to make the hill dwellers happy was this: $236,000 is to be spent to conduct a survey to find out why these people insist on being anti - social and independent and free.

The thought that other groups of citizens might learn of the antisocial attitude of the hill dwellers has sent a tremor through official Washington.

Extending Enlistments or Calling Up Reserves, Or Both, Required Within 30 Days, President Informed

ROBERT ALLEN PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Within the next 30 days, President Johnson must either extend Army and Navy enlistments for a year or call the services' reserves to meet their growing military manpower needs.

That's the stark finding in an undisclosed report on these services' personnel requirements that Defense Secretary McNamara has submitted to the White House.

It stresses that one of these emergency manpower measures is needed immediately to bolster U.S Army forces in Vietnam, even if this country avoids new military involvement in the Middle East.

Should the latter become necessary, both an extension of enlistments and a call up of reserves will be needed to meet U.S. commitments in those areas.

In anticipation of presidential approval for the involuntary extension of Army enlistments, Defense Secretary McNamara already has taken several steps:

—A highly classified message was sent to all Army commands alerting them that a directive is being prepared to extend all enlistments expiring after July 1 for one year.

—The Defense Department's legal staff was directed to prepare an opinion stating that the President has authority to do this under either the Korean War Emergency powers still in effect or the Tonkin Gulf resolution.

The latter resolution was passed overwhelmingly by Congress on August 10, 1964. It authorized President Johnson "to take all necessary steps, including the use of armed forces, in defense of freedom in Southeast Asia."

LEGAL CONTROVERSY — The legal opinion was requested by President Johnson after Representative Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, inserted a staff memorandum into the congressional record stating that the President now lacks this authority.

Only if there is a Declaration of War, according to the committee's attorneys, can the President extend Army enlistments as McNamara proposes. The same holds true for the Air Force, but not the Navy. The Navy enlistments can be extended under the Korean War Emergency powers as McNamara suggests.

As reported in this column on May 17, Representative River with the approval of a majority of his committee is now preparing legislation to limit the Navy's authority to involuntarily extend tours of military duty.

An extension of Army enlistments, without advance approval by Congress, will lead to a new confrontation between the administration and Congress. In calls to both the Pentagon and the White House, Representative Rivers has made it clear his committee will challenge the legality of the action.

Rivers' committee already has returned to McNamara as unacceptable his legislative proposal that the three services be given authority to extend enlistments indefinitely, without action by or prior notification to Congress.

VIETNAM TURNOVER — The growing manpower needs caused by the intensification of the Vietnam war are highlighted in a confidential Joint Chiefs of Staff paper obtained by the Senate Armed Services Prepar-

It reveals that 576,000 soledness subcommittee.

It reveals that 576,000 soldiers, sailors, Marines and airmen will complete their tours of duty n Vietnam during the growing manpower needs year starting July 1.

During the same period a total of 821,000 enlisted men — about 27 per cent of the combined enlisted strength of the armed forces — is expected to leave the services as their draft terms or enlistments expire.

Both totals represent almost a 200,000 increase as compared to the present year which ends on July 1

According to the Joint Chiefs of Staff study, these figures indicate "the urgent personnel problem that confronts the armed forces for the next 12 months if the war in Vietnam continues at the present level."

These military advisers warn that "replacement training and personnel 'turbulence' or turnover will keep nearly all units in the Army in a state of instability" and "the Army will find it almost impossible to maintain their experience level unless enlistments are extended or specialized reserve units called up."

SPREADING IT THIN — The Army now has six and one-third divisions in Vietnam, plus a number of independent units of regimental size. Two divisions are in Korea and five in Europe. There are about four and two - thirds Army divisions in the central strategic reserve in the U.S., plus brigades and battalions.

But of these units few except the 82d Air Force division are ready for immediate combat. The First and Second Armored division have been trainng replacements for Vietnam for the past 18 months.

Of the five Army divisions alerted for possible invasion of Cuba during the 1962 crisis, four are now in Vietnam. Only the 82d Air Force would be available among Army divisions if a new Cuban crisis should develop.

DOVES AND HAWKS — Representative S. Rosenthal, D-N.Y., an outspoken hawk on the Middle East crisis, got a blunt reminder of his dovish position on Vietnam.

As one of the authors of a statement urging President Johnson "to take whatever action necesary to resist aggression against israel," Rosenthal approached Representative John J. Rooney, D-N. Y., in an effort to get him to sign it.

"Isn't this a big change in position for you?" questioned Representative Rooney. "Only a couple of weeks ago you sent those Strike for Peace women to my office to urge me to oppose further U.S. military action in Vietnam. This statement is almost a declaration of war. What are those women going to say if I sign it?"

"They were talking about Vietnam," answered Rosenthal.

"What is the difference?" chided Rooney. "The Kremlin is behind the aggression in both Vietnam and the Middle East. If you are going to be a hawk in the Middle East you can't be a dove in the Far East."

That broke up the conversation.

GLOBAL VIEW

Have U.S., China Agreed Secretly on Peace 'Price'?

By LEON DENNEN
Foreign News Analyst

MUNICH (NEA) — According to Communist Czechoslovakia, the United States can continue to escalate the war in Vietnam without fear of Red Chinese retaliation.

Prague's official newspaper Rude Pravo even claimed in a recent editorial that Washington and Peking have an "unspoken agreement" not to employ military force against each other under "certain conditions."

What are the conditions? If Rude Pravo is to be believed, Peking assured the Johnson administration that if the territory of Red China "is not violated and if American troops do not directly invade North Vietnam they need have no fear in Washington of a clash with China in a great Asian war."

This may be Communist fantasy. The State Department has neither affirmed nor denied the existence of such an "unspoken" agreement with Peking.

Red China, to embarrass the Russian "revisionists," has been accusing Moscow for several years of collaboration with the United States in a plot to undermine North Vietnam's will to resistance.

The Russian leaders "work hand in glove with American imperialism on a series of conspiratorial activities, resorting to the peace talks hoax and alternating this with war blackmail," Peking's leading newspapr reiterated on April 20.

Moscow in turn has countercharged that Red China is plotting with the United States to undermine the world Communist movement. Since Czechoslovakia sides with the Russians in their conflict with Mao Tse-tung, the claim of an unspoken agreement between Peking and Washington may be Rude Pravo's contribution to Moscow's accelerated global propaganda campaign against Peking.

Nevertheless, some West German specialists on communism do not rule out the possibility that behind Moscow's accusations lurks a suspicion that Washington and Peking indeed may someday arrive at an understanding detrimental to Russia.

The Russians —themselves international conspirators — are great believers in the theory of conspiratorial diplomacy. Thus Radio Moscow has been beaming broadcasts to all corners of the world which claim that the interests of Communist China and the United States coincide in Vietnam.

A recent English-language broadcast to Asia said that American military strategists were counting on Peking to hold up Russian war supplies destined for Hanoi.

This was followed by a statement in the Red Army's official newspaper that Red China was maneuvering for a deal with the United States on Vietnam to prevent a Chinese-American confrontation.

U.S. strategists "welcome the anti-Soviet policies of Mao Tse-tung which open opportunities for the Americans to bolster their aggressive anti-Communist policies in Asia," Krasnay Zvezda said.

Rude Pravo even claimed to know what price the United States agreed to pay for Peking's hands-off policy in the Vietnamese conflict.

In return for Mao's promise not to launch an attack on the United States, the Johnson administration "forced" Chiang Kai-shek, president of Nationalist China, to give up his plans for using the confusion caused by the "cultural revolution" to invade China's mainland from Taiwan.

What is fact and what fiction in these assertions? Is it to confuse the Russians and their allies in the Red camp that Peking has recently made half-hearted charges that U.S. planes have violated Chinese territory?

Is Gen. William C. Westmoreland urging the intensification of war in Vietnam with the knowledge that Red China will not enter the conflict?

Only President Johnson can reveal whether there actually exists a "secret" or "unspoken" agreement between the United States and China not to attack each other under "certain conditions."

H. L. Hunt Writes

COMMITTEE OF FORMER ELECTORS

The Congressional District Plan for reform of the Electoral College system would bring forward in a presidential election year nearly 1100 men and women from throughout the country capable of performing inestimable service to the Republic.

Their function would not have to end once they had cast their electoral votes for President and Vice President. The 53 winning nominees could join with the 53 losing nominees, probably of equal stature, to form an unofficial committee which could engage in vitally needed activities — such as those carried on some years ago by the Hoover Commission.

The studies and recommendations of such a committee regarding public affairs would carry great weight. Its members would have the unique distinction of half of them having been elected by the people in their districts or states and all having been nominated for high honor in their districts or states.

From time to time a call is sounded for the formation of a committee of one million, five million or 10 million to correct some situation in government which the committee's founders feel has gone wrong and sometimes to initiate needed reforms. These committees have whatever standing their founders and membership give them. But the committee of about 1100 nominees for presidential Elector would have the prestige of having been called to service by their constituents. When the committee spoke its voice would be heeded.

Establishment of such a committee would be only one of the benefits to come from adoption of the Congressional District Plan. It would by no means be of minor importance.

Astrological Forecast

By CARROLL RIGHTER

FOR WEDNESDAY MAY 31

GENERAL TENDENCIES: You can wind up the month on quite an unhappy note unless you make a point to keep cheerful and do not let problems get you down as there are some very interesting means by which you can handle them by just a little extra caution and extra thought. Sudden and drastic changes now put in effect can cause heartache.

ARIES: (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) — Many private anxieties can really worry you if ou aren't objective about them and wait until the morrow before taking any action on them. Help those who are in trouble. Then yours look small in comparison.

TAURUS: (Apr. 20 to May 20) — A good friend could treat you rather gruffly but don't let this bother you, since he, or she, is under some pressure. Avoid the social in p.m. and you can steer clear of further annoyances. Take time for study.

GEMINI: (May 21 to June 21) — Doing whatever higher-ups expect of you is very important now. Impress others that you are an A-1 citizen by performing vital duties intelligently. Support one who is very ethical. Be sure your bills are paid on time.

MOON CHILDREN: (June 22 to July 21) —Don't be unintelligent and go running after one who is altogether too appealing. You are sure to get into trouble. Hir, or her, views could be to far out. Stay with those who are stable and whose mettle has been proved.

LEO: (July 22 to Aug. 21) — You are not very eager to carry through with obligations, but you had better be steady and get them handled for good results. Do not jeopardize backing. Show one wh is devoted that you are most appreciative.

VIRGO: (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) —Partners in every category of your endeavor can be very cooperative if you talk over your aims in a friendly, clear way. Some thoughtful courtesies can now turn a former opponent into a friend. Be gentle.

LIBRA: (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) — Get busy with the tasks that are before you and impress others with the fact that you will more than hold up your share. Do whatever will make you more physical capable, also. Be good to yourself.

SCORPIO: (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) — You can go out for a good time provided you do not neglect whatever is important to your advancement. Get right into the reports about which you have been procrastinating for some time. Be precise.

SAGITTARIUS: (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) — You require more money, but take care you do not get taken in by impractical schemers who could ruin you, or by similar ideas that you have. Be more conservative and add to your assets. Be wise.

CAPRICORN: (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) — Complete the money, practical matters at hand cleverly and complete the month on a very satisfied note. Be sure not to make radical changes that could be to your detriment. Think before you speak, too.

AQUARIUS: (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) — Let usual allies realize that you will perform certain confidential matters well, though they may not be to your liking. This will give you more free time later. Serve loved one for best results.

PISCES: (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) — Contacting usually loyal friends could prove to be a rather disappointing business today, if you are not more than helpful to their causes. Avoid social affairs where odd-acting persons are apt to be. Be on the safe side.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY . . . he, or she, will be one of those interesting young ones who will be self-sacrificing and then feel abused, or sorry for himself, or herself at every turn; so be sure to teach that perplexities are challenges to test the mettle and intelligence will overcome all. Fine chart for business, the artistic, musical, cultural.

Indy Drivers Showing Nervousness

INDIANAPOLIS (UPI) —This is the day 33 different men in this particular metropolis have worked, sweated and waited for, and no matter how much they try to make you think otherwise, they all feel the same way inside.

For a tough, race-hardened Texan like A.J. Foyt, this is his 10th Memorial Day 500-miler for Parnelli Jones, an amiable Californian, it's the seventh and the sixth for Dan Gurney, a fellow Californian.

Each insists he isn't nervous at all, yet each in his own way provides subtle evidence that he's not all ice water and cucumber-like inside.

Question Touches Nerve

Jones, who'll ordinarily answer any question in the world. plainly showed her nerve ends were a bit frayed by suddenly getting his back up when someone questioned him on the subject patrons often dwell upon around here, tragic mishaps.

"I don't care to answer the question," Jones said, properly enough.

He walked off from his questioner and repeated that he didn't think it was a good question.

"It makes me boil," he said, almost to himself. "A friend you've been driving with for 10-15 years will get killed and then they'll come up and ask you, 'What do you think about it?' What in devil do they expect you to say."

Jones, who will be driving the new turbine-engined car in this 51st annual 500-mile race, has been over this route many times before but he still gets the "feeling" before moving across the starting line.

"I'm a nervous individual normally, but I've never been what you would call extremely nervous before this particular race," he said. "I find the qualifying trial more nerve-wracking than the race itself. Don't forget in the qualifying you have to do four perfect laps or you just don't make the race."

Customarily, Jones has no trouble sleeping before an event like the 500.

"I've never had any particular problem that way," he said, "But when you get up on the day of the race you do get to thinking."

Gurney likens the day-of-the-race feeling to the same one anyone experiences when taking some "big examination—like maybe a bar exam to become an attorney."

"I wouldn't know how to describe it exactly," said the intense-looking speedster from Costa Mesa, Calif., who has been driving sports cars for 12 years,,"but it's about like a fighter would feel on the day of a fight."

"Some fighters even throw up before a fight," someone said to Gurney.

"Some drivers do, too," he came right back.

"There's the normal amount of . . . I don't know what you'd call it, before a driver goes out to race,' Gurney went on.

"Apprehensiveness?" came a suggestion.

"No, I wouldn't call it that," Gurney said, trying to think of the exact word he wanted.

"Just call it 'feeling,'" he said, for lack of a better word. "Whatever it is, though, nervousness or anything else, it all disappears as soon as the race gets underway. You have to push that feeling aside because of the intense concentration that takes hold. There is no other way."

Retirement In Line for Ford

NEW YORK (UPI)—Whitey Ford, the New York Yankees' Casey Stengel era, is expected today to resign as Chairman of the Board—the honorary title by which he was known among his teammates.

The 38-year-old left-hander, who has been bothered by a sore arm for the last two years, probably will retire from active duty to become a pitching coach with the Yankees after testing his arm before a doubleheader with the Minnesota Twins. Club physician Dr. Sidney Gaynor will examine the arm after the workout and advise Ford whether an operation is necessary.

Ford already has said that he will retire rather than undergo which he underwent before the 1966 season. The ailment is believed to be a painful bone spur on Ford's left elbow.

The most successful pitcher in Yankee history, Ford has a lifetime record of 236 victories and 106 losses plus a 10-8 record compiled in 11 World Series. His 10 victories are a record for World Series competition and he also holds a mark of 32 2-3 consecutive innings of shutout pitching in classic competition.

Ford won 20 or more games only twice—he had a 25-4 record in 1961 and a 24-7 mark in 1963—but had won-lost percentages better than, .700 in seven seasons and earned run averages of less than three runs a game in 10 seasons. He was used as a deluxe spot pitcher by Stengel, who often gave him five or six days of rest so that he could pitch key games, but he went on a regular four- day starting rotation after Ralph Houk replaced Stengel in 1961.

Ford won the Cy Young Award as baseball's top pitcher in 1961 when he had a 254 record and a 3.21 ERA in 283 innings. He had a 2-4 record and a 1.64 earned run average this season.

SECOND SPORT

BALTIMORE (UPI)—Bubba Smith, the All-America lineman who was the first round draft choice of the National Football League's Baltimore Colts, said Sunday he will first try his hand at basketball by going to the Baltimore Bullets' rookie camp, June 12-17.

Smith, who has been given full permission by the Colts, was drafted in the 11th round by the National Basketball Association's Bullets.

NATIONAL LEAGUE ROUNDUP

Cards, Reds Stay Same

By United Press International

Pete Rose and Tony Perez seem to be playing musical chairs in the Cincinnati Reds' lineup but manager Dave Bristol is enjoying the tune the most.

Rose, moved to leftfield this season after last year's switch from second to third didn't work out, ran his hitting streak to 25 games Monday night with five hits in eight trips as the Reds split a doubleheader with second place St. Louis.

The split enabled the Reds to retain their 1½ game lead in the typically exciting National League race.

Continues Hitting Streak

But Rose has to keep hitting just to stay ahead of Perez, who ran his hitting streak to 16 straight games and seems to be at home at third base after starting the season as a part-time first baseman

Perez led off the ninth inning with a triple and eventually scored on Dick Simpson's sacrifice fly to give the Reds a 7-6 victory in the second game of the twi-night doubleheader and a split after the Cards had won the opener 2-1 in 11 innings.

As the top two hitters in the Cincinnati lineup, Rose and Perez have played key roles in keeping the club in first place. Rose is hitting .341 with four homers and 21 RBIs while Perez is hitting .310 with nine homers and 31 RBIs.

In the other National League action San Francisco edged Philadelphia 12-9 and Los Angeles beat New York 7-2. There were no American League games as the teams rested for Memorial Day action today.

Tim McCarver and Julian Javier hit 11th inning doubles off Don Nottebart to give the Cards and Bob Gibson the victory in the opener. Gibson went alp the way as he restrictd the Reds to six hits, struck out 12 and walked three.

gbattle For First

The victory moved the Cards' to within one-half game of first place out the Rveds stretched th margin to 1½ again in the nightcap when Perez tripled off Ron Willis in the ninth and scored on Simpson's sacrifice fly off Joe Hoerner.

Gary Nolan, 19, pitched the ninth for the Reds and picked up the victory to boost his record to 4-1.

Tom Haller came off the bench to drive in five runs and the Giants batted around in successive innings to whip the Phils. Haller entered the game as a pinch-hitter in the fifth and drove in the runs with a fielder's choice and two singles. Trailing 3-1, the Giants got four in both the fifth and sixth innings and added three in the seventh, while pinning the loss on starter Dick Ellsworth.

Len Gabrielson's three - run homer highlighted a four-run fifth inning rally that carried the Dodgers past the Mets. Bill Singer worked seven innings to gain his first major league victory while Jack Fisher went six innings and lost it.

GROCERY BOWL

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI)—Denver Broncos will meet July 24 in the fourth annual Grocery Bowl Game in Municipal Stadium.

Tickets are sold at $1 a piece in stores throughout the Kansas City metropolitn area with no limit to the number an individual can buy.

CLARKE HONORED

BELIT, Wis. (UPI)—Frank Clarke, the Dallas Cowboys' 33-year-old pass catcher, was honored by this city Monday and suggested he may be ready to retire from the National Football League.

The City Council had proclaimed the Frank Clark Day" and during ceremonies Clark said, "I don't want to speculate about my future after this season."

JETS PLAY GIANTS

NEW YORK (UPI) —Sonny Werblin, president of the New York Jets, said Thursday his American Football League club will play the New York Giants of the National Football League in an exhibition game next year. Date and site remains to be decided.

Campbell Leads British Amateur

FORMBY, England (UPI)—Bill Campbell wasn't able to relax Monday but he still enjoyed himself in the opening round of the 1967 British Amateur golf tourney.

Campbell led the contingent of 13 Americans who survived the first round of action in the historic tourney. A total of 27 Americans are still in the field and 20 played today on the par 72 Formby course.

A 44-year-old Huntington, W.Va., insurance man and veteran Walker Cupper, Campbell shot a five-under-par round for 17 holes to turn back surprising Bernard Gallacher, an 18-year-old Scottish lad having a fine round himself, by a 2 and 1 score.

Praises Opponent

"I wasn't able to relax a moment," Campbell said afterard, "He's a great kid."

But Campbell, favored to win the tourney after leading the U.S. to the Walker Cup earlier birdies.

Thirteen of the 24 Americans who saw action were victorious, including four of Campbell's Walker Cup teammates. But among the losers were Walker Cuppers Don Allen of Rochester, N.Y., and Jack Lewis Jr., of Florence, S.C.

Among those to advance were Walker Cup stars Downing Gray of Pensacola, Fla., Ed Tutwiler of Indianapolis, Jim Grant of Wethersfield, Conn., and Ron Cerrudo of San Rafael, Calif.

Gray Over Jordan

Gray topped Ted Jorlan of England, 5 and 4, Tutwiler topped Michael King of England, 4 and 3, Grant beat Geoff Proffit of England, 5 and 3, Andy Cerrudo topped Englishman Mike Lee, 3 and 1.

Lewis bogyed the 18th hole and lost to Alan Murphy of Scotland 1-up while Allen was beaten by Britain's Ray Ratcliffe on the 19th hole.

Among the other American winners Monday were 1937 champion Bob Sweeny of Palm Beach, Fla., James Hopper, a 23-year-old Englishman attending Oklahoma State University and Marine Cpl. Pat Baker.

Rain in Forecast for Indy Auto Race

INDIANAPOLIS (UPI) — A forecast of possible rain today discouraged the chances for record speed in what had been billed as possibly the fastest Memorial Day 500 mile race.

Weather forecasters said there was a 50-50 chance for "periodic thundershowers," which would drench the crowd of more than 100,000 and more important, turn the 2½ mile asphalt race track into a slippery trench.

Should it rain, there would be no racing, or racing at reduced speeds only, until the track surface dried, a period of two hours or more.

Only once in the history of the speedway has the race been postponed by rain. That was in 1915. Only twice has it been halted by rain— 1926 when Frank Lockhart won a 400-mile test, and in 1950 when Johnny Parsons was the victor at 345 miles.

Officials Decide

Official decisions would determine what would happen, should rain strike. Should the race be stopped before 250 miles, it could be resumed or started over on Wednesday.

Should the leader be past the 250-mile mark, the race could be slowed lown, stopped and resumed, or stopped completely.

With a clear track the luckiest of the starting 33 who averaged a record 164.173 miles per hour in their 10-mile qualifying tests.

DEAR ABBY: I am 15 and "G" is 18 and we are very much in love. I know you will say we are too young to know what love is, but you are wrong. We spoke to our parents abut getting married and they laughed at us. "G" is not in school (he quit at 16) and he doesn't have to worry about the draft because he's 4-F.

I could quit school and get a job and I know we could make a go of marriage, but kids can't get married unless their parents sign for them in this state.

If I got pregnant our folks folks would have to let us get married unless their pargirl takes birth control pills and skips a few days she will be about 10 times more apt to get pregnant, isn't that true? Also, a girl friend told me that the Planned Parenthood people give the pills to anybody who asks for them. Is that true?

NO NAME, NO CITY

DEAR NO NAME: IF you were to become pregnant, your parents would not necessarily have to let you get married. Yes, birth control pills, if taken improperly, do increase one's chances for becoming pregnant. And the Planned Parenthood people do not give the pills to anyone who asks for them. What you need is self control—not birth control. Next time, sign you name and address and I promise you the bigest nickel's worth of advice you'll ever get in a letter.

DEAR ABBY: I am very much in love with a fellow, but his kisses turn me off. You see, he grew a mustache. I like the looks of it, but I don't like the feel of it. It reminds me of a grandfather I had when I was a liitte girl. When he would kiss me his big, bushy mustache would "scratch." My boyfriend's isn't that big and bushy but it does scratch. Anyway, the minute I feel it, it spoils my mood. Do I dare tell him how I feel?

REPELLED

DEAR REPELLED: Yes, tell him how you fell, and tell him how he feels, too.

DEAR ABBY: My husband is doing something which I think is wrong, butI need someone to back me up. Our son, 6, is left handed, or started out to be, band sees him doing something with his left hand he gives him a smack and makes him try to do it with his right hand.

My husband says that when he wa a boy he was also left handed, or started out to be, but he had a teacher who used to force him to use his right hand instead of his lef nd she finally broke him o habit. He says he is thankful to that teacher because all the tools and things are made for right handed people, and it is a handicap to be lefty. Is this true or not? Our son is now writing with his right hand, but he wets the bed.

BATTLING MOM

DEAR MOM: The inconvenience of being left handed is nothing compared to the emotional damage a child might suffer from being forced to use his right hand. Tell your husband to let the boy alone.

Gibson's Opens Grocery Section

GIBSON'S DISCOUNT CENTER, 2211 PERRYTON PARKWAY, PAMPA

The Pampa Daily News

60TH YEAR | TUESDAY, MAY 30, 1967 | 11

Five-Day Observance To Celebrate Event

Some $600,000 in merchandise goes on sale at Gibson's Discount Center, 2211 Perryton Parkway, today as the firm celebrates the Grand Opening of its grocery department in Pampa.

The five-day observance will continue the remainder of this week with free gifts and outstanding values featured throughout the store.

The completely new grocery department will occupy 6,500 square feet of floor space, according to store owner Delmar H. Watkins. He said that a complete selection of nationally known name brands would be carried throughout the grocery section. He added that at this time all items in the market area would be available except fresh red meat. Packaged meats and poultry will be carried, he emphasized.

Grocery manager will be Bill Derr.

The local Gibson's Discount Center is No. 79 in the organization's chain of 270 stores.

"Fantastic" is the word that best describes Gibson's growth. The first Gibson's Discount Center was opened in Abilene, Tex. in 1958 by H. R. Gibson. It proved so successful that the current chain of Gibson's Discount Centers was born. In only nine years more than 279 stores have been opened and more are projected before the end of the year.

Friends and relatives wanted into the act and it wasn't long before Gibson's became a combination of company-owned stores and franchised stores with every store following the same policy.

"Obviously, so many stores give us a tremendous buying power, which accounts for our very low prices," Gibson explained.

The Gibson chain is called the nations biggest group of discount stores in America featuring famous name-brand merchandise and the Gibson trade show at Market Hall, in Dallas is recognized as the largest private trade show in the world.

Total sales in 1966 exceeded $550 million and the organization's goal is set for one billion dollars by 1970.

Gibson's has twenty-four family owned stores and a majority of the franchise stores are under multiple ownership with several franchisers operating up to twenty units.

Delmar Watkins, local Gibson store owner, also owns interest in the Hereford and Borger Units and he recently acquired the franchise for Canyon.

Unless the tight money situation creates additional problems, Gibson's founder says he foresees no slack in the fast rate of expansion for the Gibson's Discount Centers, both in cities of 25,000 population and up to 150,000 population.

DELMAR H. WATKINS

Owner Watkins Is Old Hand At Discount Stores

Owning Gibson Discount Centers is becoming a habit with Delmar H. Watkins, who heads the discount store operation in Pampa.

In addition to Pampa, the 35-year old Watkins has partial ownership in Gibson Discount Centers in Hereford and Borger, together with Chester Thompson.

He is president of Delmar Watkins Properties, Inc., Sandra Wholesale Co., Gibson Products of Hereford, and Gibson Products of Borger.

Born in Canadian, Okla., in 1930, Watkins attended both elementary and high school there, graduating from Canadian High School in 1948. After four years of service in the United States Air Force, Watkins went on to attend Oklahoma cState c and North Texas State Universities, where he majored in Business Administration and minored in Accounting.

In 1956 Watkins went to work for National Cash Register Co., working in the Dallas and Amarillo offices of the firm for seven years.

In 1963, Watkins opened his first Gibson Discount Center in Pampa, Store No. 79, and his association with Gibson's as one of their franchise owners has been a rewarding one.

When asked about the future, Watkins said: "We will continue to grow with the Gibson organization by opening additional units as financial backing permits."

Watkins and his wife, Sandra, a native of Van Alstyne, Texas, live at 1820 Fir in Pampa, with their sons, Joe, who is 11 and Mike, 6 years old.

Parking Area Is Convenient

Parking area at Pampa's Gibson's Discount Center is measured in acres where some 300 automobiles may be accommodated at one time.

"We realize today's shopper most often prefers to drive to do her shopping, . . and she wants convenient parking," says Delmar Watkins, owner of the local Gibson organization.

"When a shopper reaches our store she should find a reasonably convenient place to park . . . and it's for free."

Varied Lines Are Carried at Gibson's

Included are sporting goods, toys, school supplies, soft goods, hardware, housewares, automotive supplies, jewelry, records, cameras and photographic supplies grocery lines, health and beauty aids, patent medicines and prescription drugs.

Fifty-seven Gibson stores now have grocery departments.

BOB CRIPPEN
.. manager

Bob Crippen Is Gibson's Manager

A former midwesterner who came to Pampa, liked it and stayed, is the manager of Gibson's Discount Center in Pampa.

He is Bob Crippen, a native of Salem, Illinois, where he also graduated from high school in 1956. He came to Pampa in 1960 as warehouse manager for Baroid.

Crippen joined Gibson's in August of 1963, where he worked in the receiving department when the Pampa store first opened.

He has held the position of store manager for the past three years.

Married, Crippen and his wife, Janice, have one son, age 6.

As for hobbies, Crippen enjoys fishing and sports car-racing.

Motor vehicles in the United States consume more than 72 billion gallons of fuel each year, estimates World Book Encyclopedia.

All Merchandise Given Guarantee

All our merchandise is brand new, first class, shipped direct to us from the manufacturer," Delmar Watkins, local Gibson Discount Center owner, said. He added, "There is no warehousing, no rejected merchandise, no second rate products, no merchandise that has been in a jobber warehouse for long periods of time.

"Our merchandise is unconditionally guaranteed. If the customer is not completely satisfied, his money will be cheerfully refunded provided he has the sales slip showing that he purchased it here," Watkins concluded.

Second Expansion Recently Completed

Opened to the public on October 1, 1963, Gibson's Discount Center in Pampa has just completed its second expansion program.

The store originally occupied some 22,000 square feet of floor space and last summer it was increased by an additional 3,000 square feet.

Second stage construction consisted of 6,500 additional square feet for the grocery department, bringing total floor space area to about 33,250 square feet.

Unique Franchise Used by Gibson

A unique franchise arrangement is used by Gibson Products Co. in setting up buying sources, arrangeing prices and terms and having shipments of merchandise made direct to the individual stores. No franchise sore is required to buy sources, arranging prices and any specific item through the central offices in Seagoville, Texas, near Dallas.

Derr Will Head New Department

Latest addition to Gibson's growing family of department heads in Pampa is William "Bill" Derr, who will be in charge of the firm's new and modern grocery section.

A native of Oklahoma, he was born and raised in Greer County and attended school in Mangum. He later matriculated to Midwestern University in Wichita Falls, where he majored in business.

Derr started in the grocery business at the age of nine when he worked as a package boy for United Grocery Co. in Oklahoma. He later became a store manager with that organization.

BILL DERR
.. department head

Coming to Pampa in 1953, Derr was associated with a local food store in both the grocery and market departments until 1955. That same year he moved to Amarillo where he worked for the Glover Packing Co. as a salesman, later becoming area sales manager. He also helped establish their plant in Amarillo.

In 1961 he moved to Lubbock, where he went into the drive-in grocery business as well as home frozen food service and retail and wholesale meat markets.

Derr married the former Frankie Quarles, of Pampa, in 1956 and they now reside at 1833 N. Nelson with their two children, Randy Lynn, 8, and Billy Kent, 6 years old. They attend the Mary Ellen and Harvester Church of Christ.

The new grocery manager joined the Pampa Gibson store early this year.

Brand Names Key To Popularity

Emphasis on name brand merchandise from reputable manufacturers or importers "at reasonable prices" is credited as a major factor in "spontaneous" acceptance of Gibson Discount Centers across the country and growth of the franchise organization into a network of some 279 stores since 1958.

H. R. Gibson Products C which serves the franchise network, notes that over 7c per cent of all merchandise in the Gibson stores bears recognized name brands. This applies to all departments.

The central offices at Seagoville, Tex., utilize the cumulative buying power generated by total volume of all pricing in dealing with various manufac'urers and importers.

As a result, Mr. Gibson noted that major brand lines are made available to the various Gibson stores at substantial savings.

Pharmacy Offers Standard Discount

GENE SIONS
.. pharmacist

FRED COOPER
.. pharmacist

DEAN COPELAND
.. pharmacist

Gibson's Discount Pharmacy in Pampa and Borger operate at standard Gibson store discounts from the regular retail price, according to pharmacists Gene Sions and Dean Copeland, owners and operators of the pharmacies.

They and pharmacist Fred Cooper handle the prescription service.

Sions is a graduate of Southwestern State's School of Pharmacy, in Oklahoma, having received his degree in 1951. He has lived in Texas for the past ten years and in Borger since 1958. Sions and his wife Frances, live in Borger.

Copeland, a Pampa resident, lives with his wife, Carolyn and their two children at 1605 Fir. He graduated from Southwestern State College in 1956, also with a degree in pharmacy.

He has lived in Texas nine years. Copeland helped develop the poison Control Center at Borger's North Plains Hospital, which contains antidotes for over 10,000 natural and household poisons.

A two-year resident of Pampa, Cooper is the third member of the group to gain his degree in pharmacy from Southwestern State. He graduated in 1965.

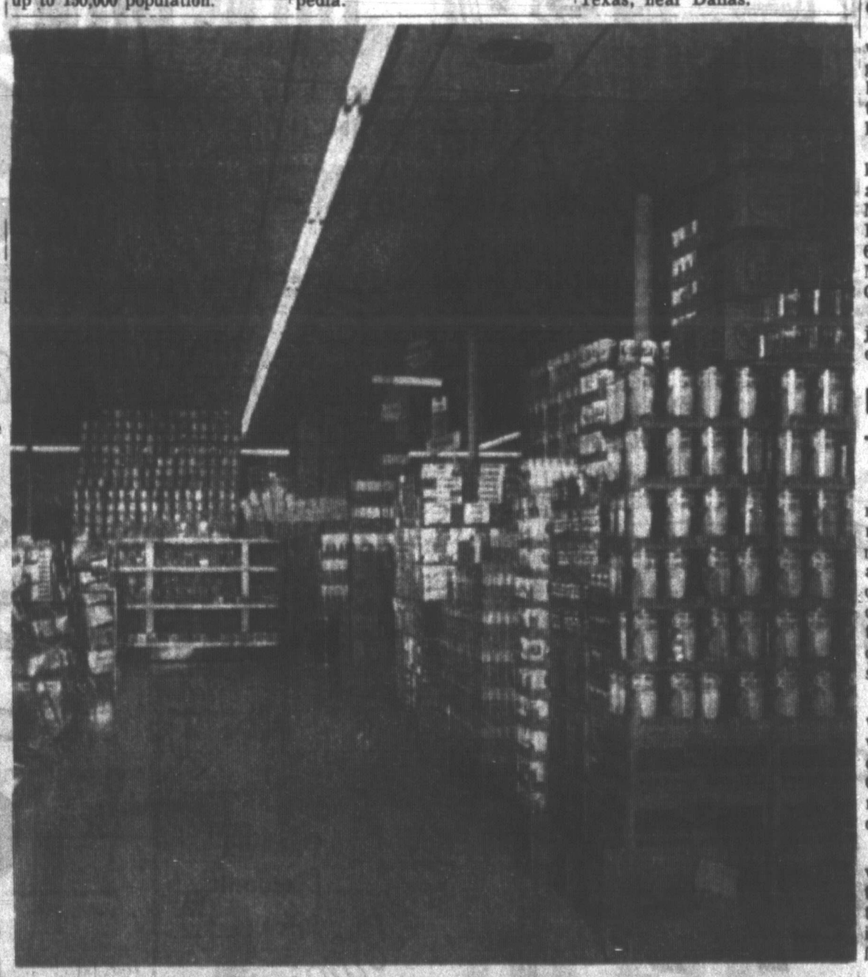

Born in Turkey, Texas, he is a graduate of Panhandle High School.

Cooper lives with his wife and 3-year old son at 1124 Seneca.

Gibson's Centers In Twenty-Two States

Rapidly becoming a nationwide organization, Gibson's Discount Centers are now located in twenty-two states.

Listed alphabetically they are Alabama, Arkansas, California, Colorado, Florida, Georgia, Hawaii, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, Nebraska, New Mexico, Oklahoma, South Dakota, Tennessee, Texas Utah and Wyoming.

GIBSON'S NEW GROCERY DEPARTMENT is now open. The store is celebrating the opening of the section with outstanding values and free gifts featured throughout the store.

BRAND NAME FOODS are the watchword in Gibson's grocery department, just opened. Here, a Gibson employee stacks cans high in preparation for the five-day observance to celebrate the opening of the new department, which will occupy 6,500 square feet of floor space.

Hatlo's They'll Do It Every Time

The Lighter Side

WASHINGTON (UPI) —A couple of the boys down at the Agriculture Department laboratory began fooling around a few years ago trying to find the right formula for an insect lure.

Specifically, they wanted to devise a chemical compound that would attract the European chafer.

They mixed up a little batch of this and a little batch of that without notable progress. Then one day they happened to mix up a little batch of "2, 4-hexadienyl butyrate." Bingo!

The Agriculture Department announced last week with appropriate fanfare that the experiments of the two chemists, Terrance P. McGovern and Morton Beroza, had been crowned with success.

Affects Yellow Jackets

When the "12, 4-hexadienyl butyrate" formula was tested, not a single European chafer was attracted to it. But it did attract a big swarm of yellow jackets.

The department implied that finding a lure for yellow jackets was even more important than finding a lure for the European chafer. But personally, I suspect the department was only trying to save face.

It has been my experience that darn near anything will attract yellow jackets. A picnic lunch, for instance.

Just why the discovery of a synthetically produced chemical lure should be regarded as a big deal is beyond my ken. But then, the Agriculture Department often works in strange and mysterious ways its wonders to perform.

Anyway, the incident may shed some light on a minor historical mystery that came to my attention during the recent visit here of John Gilbey, an English gin maker.

Gilbey made a tour of this country giving illustrated lectures on "the martini: then and now." With the help of a friendly bartender, he would trace the evolution and development of the martini through the last 100 years.

Gilbey had martini recipes dating back as far as 1860 (one jigger gin, one wine glass sweet vermouth, one dash bitters, two dashes maraschino liqueur).
