FDR Seeks $5,985,000,000 To Push Fight

DEATH IN THE SKIES—Careening upward, streaming smoke behind and a portion of its shattered tail falling, an army pursuit ship has just collided with the navy dive bomber just behind it and is about to start a plunge to earth that brought death to Lieut. John Bobroski of Racine, Wis. In the bottom photo, the pursuit plane is caught hurtling earthward—death only seconds away for its occupant. The planes were in opposing forces in current army maneuvers near Coushatta, La. The radio man of the navy plane parachuted safely and the pilot made it back to base, although the surviving craft was damaged.

Added Sum To Keep Up Flow Of War Effort

Speed Is Urged In Request; Russians Granted Big Sum

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—President Roosevelt asked Congress today for an additional $5,985,000,000 for the lend-lease program so that there might be "no interruption in the flow of aid to those countries whose defense is vital to our own."

In a letter to Speaker Rayburn, he recommended speedy action. The appropriation would bring the total of lease-lend funds to $12,-985,000,000.

Vital Supplies In Mind

Mr. Roosevelt noted that of the original $7,000,000,000 last March $6,280,000,000 had been allocated.

He sent to Rayburn a letter from Budget Director Harold D. Smith which contained a proposed appropriation measure showing the projected breakdown of the $5,-985,000,000.

The largest single item, reflecting a determination to supply vital needs for the enemies of the Axis, was $1,875,000,000 for "agricultural, industrial and other commodities and articles."

To Provide Munitions

The next biggest of the subdivisions was $1,190,000,000 for ordnance and ordnance stores of various kinds, including armor and ammunition. For planes and aeronautical material, including engines, parts and accessories, it was suggested that $685,000,000 be laid down.

One stipulation contemplated in the draft of the legislation sent along by the budget bureau would forbid use of any of the lend-lease funds to pay any person who advocates, or belongs to an organization which advocates, the overthrow of the United States government "by force or violence."

An affidavit would be considered prima facie evidence that the person making it was not such an advocate.

Includes "Information"

The measure also would let the president authorize contracts with foreign governments for the United States to supply them with defense articles, information or services, which would be paid by these governments. This would apply to any country whose defense the president deems vital to the defense of this nation.

If the chief executive considered any defense article covered by the act to be necessary for the defense

He Rode A Pan Of Biscuits Into Headlines, And Now--

"Pappy" O'Daniel Tosses Eggs Into Politics

(By The United Press)

HOUSTON, Sept. 18—W. Lee O'Daniel rode a pan of biscuits to the governorship of Texas and into the United States Senate.

Today, he gave the tip-off that he may straddle a crate of eggs and toboggan to re-election as the junior U. S. senator from Texas next summer.

O'Daniel was glowing with praise for the longhorn state this morning when he stepped off a train from Dallas to be guest at a breakfast, and for a day's visit.

"Now," he tipped, "for some real Texas eggs."

His breakfast host, William N. Bonner, recalled the senator's recent transcribed radio remarks about the lack of eggs in the nation's capital to go with ham.

O'Daniel had said that if somebody sent him some Texas eggs, he'd splotch some yolk on his tie to show Washington folk what "real eggs" look like.

A hotel waitress first passed the biscuits this morning, and then some eggs—just in case O'Daniel wanted to splotch himself. But there was nary a speck of yolk forthcoming.

"Why splotch Texas eggs in Texas?" the senator wanted to know.

After a discourse on the great size and fine quality of Texas eggs, O'Daniel said he was more convinced than ever that he knows what the public wants.

"I'm getting more mail as a senator than I did as gover-

Whole History Of World Said "In Balance"

London Warns More Aid Must Be Sent To Reds "Quickly"

(By The Associated Press)

High London quarters, declaring that "the whole history of the world" hinges on the bloody campaign in Russia, said late today that Britain and the United States must rush a Niagara of supplies to the USSR to make up Soviet losses and prevent a disastrous turn for the Allies.

The source described casualties in the east as rising to "astronomical heights," with latest data showing that up to the end of August Russia had suffered 3,-000,000 casualties against 2,000,-000 for Germany.

Reds' Plight Desperate

As this grave survey of the 89-day-old conflict emerged, President Roosevelt asked Congress for an additional $5,985,000,000 for the lease-lend program so that there might be "no interruption in the flow of aid to those countries whose defense is vital to our own."

The London source warned that if the Russians did not receive equipment and weapons they might be forced to lay down arms.

In the Far East, meanwhile, the Japanese news agency Domei reported that Japan has protested to Russia over alleged Soviet mines floating in the sea of Japan — the route traversed by United States tankers carrying aviation fuel to Russia's port of Vladivostok.

Soviet Stronghold Falls

On the Russian war front, Nazi dispatches reported the fall of a Russian city of 30,000 which was described as "the key to the Soviet armament industry."

German troops were reported to have invested a fortified park and taken by storm 119 pillboxes on the outskirts of Leningrad today, while Nazi siege guns bombarded the heart of the old czarist capital and prepared to shell the great Kronstadt naval base of the Russian Baltic fleet.

Other dark news for the Soviet cause was contained in advices reaching London, which said Adolf Hitler's invasion armies at the extreme southern end of the front had apparently cut off the entire Crimea peninsula.

Luftwaffe Takes Toll

Sebastopol, the big Russian naval base on the Black sea, presumably was isolated from the U. S. S. R. mainland.

Hitler's high command announcing "great success" in the onslaught against Leningrad, said German troops sweeping eastward across the Dnieper river in the Ukraine were "processing irre-

U. S. Warcraft On Search For Pacific Raider

Shooting Appears Inevitable; Nazi Warning Recalled

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—With convoys plowing the Atlantic and a grim raider hunt on in the Pacific, the United States navy let actions do the talking back today to repeated Axis threats of dire consequences.

When Germany believed there was a possibility of convoys months ago, no less a person than Grand Admiral Erich Raeder openly warned the United States that the Reich would consider such a step "an open war act" and that the German navy would use its guns if necessary against American warships on such duty.

Details Kept Guarded

But all uncertainty on the question of American convoys was dissipated late yesterday when Navy Secretary Knox disclosed that the Atlantic fleet was using all methods, convoys included, to safeguard British-bound lease-lend cargoes in the 2,000 miles of the North Atlantic that are regarded as "defensive waters."

The navy chief thought it "unwise and indiscreet" to go into further details, and he declined to answer a question as to whether the American escorts were turning over the protected cargoes to the Royal Navy somewhere off Iceland for the final 800-mile voyage to port.

Tell World About It

At the same time, however, Knox revealed that the navy believed an Axis surface raider was operating near the Galapagos islands in the South Pacific and, while the fact had not been positively established, the hunt was on.

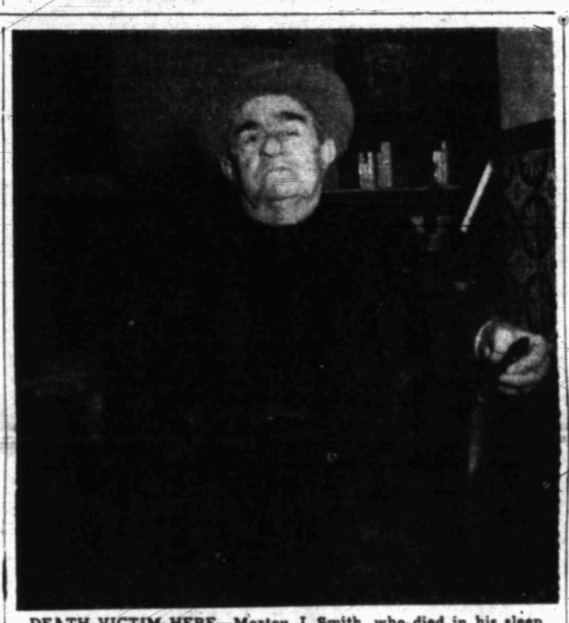

"We'll tell the world about it," Knox promised if any raider was caught.

The twin disclosures gave official notice that no half-way measures were being employed to enforce the policy which President Roosevelt enunciated in his speech a week ago, when he barred "defensive waters" to Axis raiders and ordered the navy to protect all shipping in those areas.

Axis Measures Justified

As far as words went, the announcement of convoys appeared to join one issue squarely, for Admiral Raeder already has placed himself on record that lease-lend

Ultimatum Is Delivered In Kansas City

Workers Threaten To Quit Again If Demands Not Met

(By The United Press)

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 18. — A new shutdown of electric power to this metropolis was threatened today as union workers delivered an ultimatum to officials of the Kansas City Power and Light company.

Striking members of the AFL International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers at a closed meeting agreed to return to work until 2 p. m. today when they will again walk from the power plants unless "a satisfactory settlement" of their dispute has been reached.

Maintain Picket Line

They maintained a token picket line at the two main plants of the company but allowed their own members through it to man the massive turbines until the deadline is reached.

Whether a new walkout would cripple the city as did the union's first, unannounced strike at midnight yesterday, depended, it appeared, on the company's ability to replace the skilled electricians with loyal employes and strike-breakers.

A. E. Bettis, vice president of the company, said that he had not been contacted by the union regarding the new ultimatum but that he believed the company would be able to continue furnishing power without interruption.

"I don't look for any such shutdown as we had yesterday," he said.

House OK's Bill Pointing To Municipal Auditorium On Campus At Texas Tech

The House of Representatives in Austin today passed a bill offered by Rep. Hop Halsey, of Lubbock, which may lead to construction of a municipal auditorium on the campus of Texas Technological college, President Clifford B. Jones has announced.

Specifically, the bill gives to the college directorate the right to sell ground space on the college campus for the purpose of location of an auditorium. The space is limited to five acres and the bill carries with it the clause that should such an auditorium be built, and later—for any reason — be abandoned, the property would revert to state ownership.

Senate Approval Questionable

Whether or not the bill will receive Senate approval and then go to the governor for his signature and enactment, depends upon the attitude of the Senate on local bills in the present special session of the legislature. Thus far, the Senate has declined to accept any local bills of any nature, advices from Austin say. However, ob-

Death Claims M. J. Smith

Morton J. Smith, 76, pioneer of the South Plains for whom the town of Morton was named, was found dead shortly before 10 o'clock this morning in his room at Hilton hotel.

He had said that he did not feel well before retiring Wednesday night. A physician attributed his death to a heart attack. He apparently had been dead several hours when his wife awakened and physicians were called.

The body was taken to Rix Funeral home.

Staked Out Townsite

Mr. Smith first came to the South Plains 56 years ago with a group of cowboys driving a herd of 3,500 steers to Fort Sumner, N. M. He returned to live in the area 31 years ago and established his home in Lubbock.

He staked out the townsite of Morton in the heart of a 20,000-acre tract he had purchased from Mrs. Minnie Slaughter Veal, and was the guiding force behind the

Lubbock's Rainfall Is Nearing Record

Total rainfall as recorded at Lubbock sub-station of the state experiment service up to this morning was .43 of an inch under the all-time annual record of 31.88 inches, made in 1915, said Don L. Jones, superintendent, in reporting .13 of an inch recorded Wednesday and Wednesday night.

Year's total to date is 31.45 inches, he said.

Lamesa Girl Claimed By Death Here Today

Dorothy Jean Shackelford, 17, daughter of Mrs. J. B. Shackelford of Lamesa, died of a blood stream infection at 4:25 o'clock this morning in St. Mary's hospital.

She had been ill about 30 days and had been a patient in the hospital three days.

The body was taken by Higginbotham Funeral home at Lamesa. Funeral arrangements were not announced here.

Survivors include a brother, J. B. Shackelford.

Portales Group Pays Brief Visit To City

Twenty-two Portales business and professional men, advertising the annual Roosevelt county fair next week, arrived in Lubbock shortly after noon, attended a Kiwanis club luncheon and then gave a short program in front of the Lubbock hotel on Avenue K, before returning by way of Brownfield and other towns.

New Mexico State Senator A. F. Jones headed the group. Others included Dean H. C. Gossard, of the Eastern New Mexico State college, and Frank Craddock, secretary of the chamber of commerce. Literature telling about the fair was distributed. The party left at 2 o'clock.

Druggists Elect New Officials

Lester Short of Midland, vice president the past year, was elected president of the West Texas Pharmaceutical association at the closing business session of the annual convention in Lubbock hotel this morning.

He succeeds Bert Pinson of Lubbock, who becomes a member of the board of directors.

Other Officers Named

Ted Sloan of Abilene was elected vice president, to succeed Short, and Glen Huls of Jayton was chosen secretary-treasurer, succeeding John A. Weeks of Ballinger, who also became a member of the board.

Other new directors selected were A. C. (Deacon) Hull of Spur and L. C. Milton of Benjamin. Wynne Collier of Tahoka and Bill Oswalt of Abilene were reelected to the board. Retiring directors are Charles Frost of Big Spring and Gerald Allen of Robert Lee.

Shortage Of Clerks

Included in the forenoon program was a discussion of the shortage of registered drug clerks by Weeks, from the viewpoint of the drug store owner, and Dallas Whaley of Lubbock, from the standpoint of the clerk.

They agreed that the shortage already is acute with every prospect that the situation will become worse. Weeks said that prevailing wages already are more than most druggists can afford to pay. Whaley said the wage is too small, considering the four-year college course that is necessary be-

Sweeping Approval Given Bond Issue

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Sept. 18.—An overwhelming House vote today sped to Governor Coke R. Stevenson's desk a compromise road bond bill—10 days to the minute from the time the special session of the legislature convened.

With 138 affirmative ballots and a lone dissenting vote the House accepted Senate amendments to a House bill continuing state servicing of county and road district bonds and splitting equally between the state highway department and counties the annual surplus in the road bond fund.

Because the measure received more than a two-thirds affirmative vote in each branch it will become effective as soon as the governor signs it.

Quick Action Taken

House members tabled, 124 to 15, a motion by Rep. Clayton Bray of Longview to send the bill to a conference committee for revision of one section.

The bills as amended by the Senate reached the House floor at 11:25 a. m. and exactly at noon the 138 green lights and one red light flashed on the big voting board, signaling House acceptance of Senate alterations.

The lone dissenter was Richard Craig of Miami.

Virtually Ends Session

Final approval of the road bond bill virtually ended the business of the special session. Although both branches had agreed on sine die adjournment at 6 p. m. tomorrow there was a probability they would recede from this stand and order an earlier adjournment.

The House has passed a number

Four Soldiers Are Caught

(By The Associated Press)

CROSS PLAINS, Sept. 18.—Four soldiers hunted since a break from the Camp Wolters guardhouse at Mineral Wells were taken into custody here today after two of them had given up voluntarily.

The quartet allegedly fled in an automobile taken from a soldier and girl companion.

75 Officers In Search

Seventy-five officers participated in the search for the men—one of the biggest manhunts ever staged in these parts.

Corporal John A. Stinebaugh, who was on guard duty at the brig when the escape took place, and Audley C. McBride, 23, of Klondike, hailed bus driver J. H. Kenner of Abilene two miles east of here and rode into town with him.

The pair directed officers to the vicinity where the other two soldiers, Roy M. Rankins, of Washington state and Walter Sakaitis of Chicago were hiding.

The search was concentrated in this area after the automobile, taken at Ranger Monday night, was found hidden in a brush pasture.

School Election To Be Staged Saturday

CROSBYTON, Sept. 18. (Special)—Trustees of the Crosbyton independent school district have called an election for Saturday to decide on setting of a district tax rate of $1.50 per $100 valuation.

It is explained by the trustees that in the event the tax rate is changed to the new figure, present valuations will be reduced one third so that there will be no increase in taxes. The change is being made because under the state law with a tax rate of $1.50 the district will receive $3,500 more to help continue the school term to nine months. Without the additional income, the full nine months will be impossible, it is said.

Fair Booster Trip Planned

The complete schedule for the first good neighbor trip sponsored by the chamber of commerce to publicize the Panhandle-South Plains fair Oct. 6-11 and dates and itineraries for three others were announced this morning by Ray Farmer, general chairman.

The first trip has been set for Slaton and points south, Farmer announced. C. L. Minyard, motor freight line official, has been named trip chairman.

Other Dates Set

Dates of other trips are to be Thursday, Sept. 25, with Portales, N. M., and the Roosevelt county fair there the terminal point; Tuesday, Sept. 30, with Hobbs, N. M., the terminal point; and Thursday, Oct. 2, to points north, northeast and east.

Schedules for the second, third and fourth trips are still to be worked out and committees to make preparations for them are yet to be named, Farmer reported. The plan is, he related, for a service luncheon club to sponsor each trip.

To Present Programs

In a general way, Farmer said, the plan of previous years will be followed in arranging the trips. Souvenirs, fair literature and free tickets for children's days at the fair will be distributed and pro-

Hubby Barred From Home, Barn To Make Room For Kin, Cows

(By The United Press)

CHICAGO, Sept. 18 — A bantam rooster named "Joe" kept Adolf Jozalis out of his chicken coop and his wife, Anna, kept him out of his house and barn.

Jozalis found that the law was more effective in overriding his wife's action than that of the rooster and obtained a court order requiring her to admit him to his home.

His attorney, Victor Frohlich, told Judge Rudolph Desort that Mrs. Jozalis had evicted her husband from their home on the southwest edge of Chicago although he had been a "great family man" for 30 years. The Jozalis' have 11 children.

"Jozalis was so enthusiastic on the arrival of each new addition to the family that with his own hands he constructed a room for the newcomer," Frohlich said. "The house now has 11 rooms and my client still has his tools."

The lawyer said the children wanted to have a party

House "Advises" Lindbergh He Isn't Welcome Around Texas

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Sept. 18 — By a roaring vote, the Texas House of Representatives today passed a resolution recording opposition to utterances of Charles A. Lindbergh and advising Lindbergh any purpose he has in opposing the policies of President Roosevelt will not be served by visiting Texas.

By Rep. Pat Dwyer of San Antonio, the resolution also declared Texas stands solidly behind President Roosevelt and other elected officials.

The lone opposition speech came from Rep. J. K. Hileman of Atlanta, a teacher.

He asserted he disagreed with Lindbergh's isolationist declarations but "I'll die to defend his right to say what he wants to say."

Proponents countered the resolution was no bar to free speech.

Ruling On Bail Bonds Issued

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Sept. 17—Chief Justice James P. Alexander of the Texas Supreme court said today that none of the statutes relating to actions to forfeit bail bonds in criminal cases were repealed or replaced by new court rules, and as a consequence, the procedure in such actions will remain as before.

Justice Alexander made the statement to erase confusion in the minds of some attorneys over the bail bond question.

Rule Amended

The defendant, he said, "will have until the next regular term of court after the citation in which to answer, and he will be entitled to 20 days' service prior to the convening of such term of court."

The supreme court, Justice Alexander said, had amended rule 2 to provide in part:

"All statutes in effect immediately prior to Sept. 1, 1941, prescribing rules of procedure in bond forfeiture in criminal cases are hereby continued in effect as rules of procedure governing such cases, but where such statutes prescribe no rules of procedure in such cases, these rules shall apply."

The same procedure, he said, would be followed in reference to suits for taxes.

Parity Checks Are Received In County

Largest shipment of cotton parity checks to be received by the county Agricultural Adjustment administration office was announced this morning by Walter M. Wells, administrator, who said a total of 156 checks, amounting to $17,020.07 had been received.

Recipients were being notified today to call for their checks at the AAA office, 1320 Avenue Q.

Meantime, an additional shipment of approved applications for payment was sent to the state AAA office at College Station. This number, 75, brought the total to more than 700 applications forwarded.

Some delay is being occasioned by lack of sufficient crews to measure the 483,009 acres in the county for performance. With 84 per cent of the 2,550 work sheets in the county measured, a heavy percentage of cotton acreage overplanted has necessitated a second measurement to see that performance has been complied with.

Additional men were put to work this week to complete the land measurement.

Formal Offer Made For Phils' Purchase

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 18 (AP)—A syndicate headed by Jack Kelly, national director of the civilian physical training program, has submitted its offer to President Jerry Nugent for purchase of the National league Phillies and is ready to talk turkey.

"The next move is up to Mr. Nugent," declared Kelly. "We are willing to negotiate if he wants to sell the club. If he doesn't—well, that's another matter. We want to give Philadelphia a winning ball club and I think Jerry is ready to talk business."

County Agents Will Gather In Lubbock

County agricultural agents of district 2 of the state extension service will meet Friday and Saturday here, with K. J. Edwards, district agent, presiding.

Friday the agents will spend most of the day at the state experiment sub-station, three miles east of town, where they will go over latest development in the breeding of new types of grain sorghums, the use of irrigation in growing sorghums and also the new types being grown for combining.

On Saturday the agents will meet in Lubbock hotel for an all-day discussion of problems for the year, including a trench silo filling campaign, club work, the feed and food program of the national defense work.

Miss Lida Cooper, district home demonstration agent leader, will meet with the home demonstration agents during the day. She will discuss cooperation of agents with the various district and county fairs this fall, among other matters.

College Night Will Be Held At Church

Friday night in First Methodist church, Rev. W. H. Wallace, who is conducting a revival there, will hold "college night," for all college students and the theme of his sermon will be "The Jaloppy Goes to College," it was announced this morning by Rev. H. I. Robinson, pastor.

Tonight he speaks on "The Watchman on the Tower."

An "open house" for all Methodist college students, and others who care to attend, will be held in the church Fellowship hall following Friday night's service. It will be in keeping with the custom of Lubbock churches to hold a college night program at the beginning of each college year on the same night. All college students in the city are invited to attend.

Wednesday night Rev. Mr. Wallace preached to 450 persons on "Living in Expectations." At the worker's meeting preceding the service 110 persons attended. It is planned for the workers to contact all members of the church to invite them to attend the revival.

The evangelist also is working in the senior high department. At his Wednesday night service he showed pictures on "High School Life in Corpus Christi." At tonight's service he will show pictures of Old Mexico and will talk on "Heaven."

Heavy Moisture Brings Prospects Of Good Fishing; Outlook At Buffalo Lakes Bright

There's a silver lining for fishermen of the area in the heavy moisture that has fallen over the South Plains in recent months, according to reports here this morning from officials of the state game, fish and oyster commission.

The crop of young fish has been the most abundant that fishermen could recall, according to the reports collected by the state commission.

The accuracy of these reports was confirmed by operators of Buffalo lakes southeast of the city. They predicted that next season will bring the best fishing that ever has been known there.

Protection Afforded

The reasons are apparent, they explained. The lake levels have been raised so that the water has spread over areas that were covered with weeds, grass and brush. The vegetation has provided shelter, protection and food for the young with the result that more have survived than normally would have been the case.

The report from the state commission said that approximately 12,000,000 fingerlings will be available for distribution this year. Information has not been received as to how many will be available for Buffalo, but the expectation is that the allotment will be about the same as last year's allotment of 3,000.

New Wells In Area Gauged

Eight new wells were gauged Monday in the Slaughter field of the North Permian basin, according to reports in Lubbock.

Atlantic Refining company No. 26 H. T. Boyd, in Cochran, made 1,709.20 barrels of crude per day when tested after acidizing with 10,000 gallons in pay lime from 4,960 to total depth of 5,050 feet.

The same firm's No. 21 Boyd, deep test on the Cochran side of the Slaughter, is shut down for orders at 7,000 feet in lime and shale. It may be deepened to 7,500 feet. The well entered the Clear fork, Lower Permian, at 5,660 feet but apparently found that formation barren since no shows were reported.

The Texas company added a trio of wells in Hockley. The largest is No. 33 Bob Slaughter block, good for 1,653.24 barrels a day at 4,990 feet. No. 31 Slaughter made 1,355.16 a day at 4,990 and No. 35 Slaughter 869.40 at 5,010 feet. All three wells were acidized.

Also in Hockley, Western States Gasoline corporation No. 9-B Mallet Land and Cattle company gauged 1,253.04 barrels daily after 11,000 gallons at 5,050 feet. Honolulu Oil corporation completed a brace of oilers on its Mallett "B" lease. The No. 10-6-49 made 1,359.04 daily at 5,035 feet and No. 11-11-50 1,180.12 a day at 5,034. Each was acidized with 10,000 gallons.

Ed McAdams No. 1 K. Stoker, Garza county wildcat six miles south of Post, is shut down for 8-inch casing at a total depth of 2,365 feet in lime.

The Lubbock county discovery, L. C. Harrison and associates No. 1 W. G. Nairn estate, last was reported cleaning out shot hole at 4,915 feet. It has 3,400 feet of oil in the hole. Total depth is 5,002 feet in Clear Fork lime.

George P. Livermore, Inc., Lubbock, No. 1 J. E. Rice, Clear Fork test in northern Lynn county, is drilling below 6,320 feet in hard lime. A core from 6,129-97 feet returned seven feet of lime showing nothing. Derrick is being rebuilt at Trinity Drilling company No. 1 Dan Auld, wildcat in western Lynn county. Rig was pulled in while crew was coming out with drill pipe at total depth of 4,900 feet in lime.

Shell Oil company, Inc., No. 1 Mary L. Hammer estate, northeast offset to the discovery well of the Ownby area in southeastern Yoakum county, flowed 90 barrels of oil through 2-inch tubing in 12 hours after acidizing with 1,500 gallons. Oil was diluted one per cent with sediment and acid water. The company is preparing to give the well another dose of acid. Hole is bottomed at 5,351 feet, plugged back from a total depth of 5,700 feet in lime.

Rotary is being moved to Honolulu No. 1-131. H. Wright, new eastern Yoakum county wildcat. Osage Drilling company, Inc., is contractor on the job.

In southern Yoakum's Wasson field Aloco Oil company No. 6 Knight flowed 289.60 barrels a day in response to 10,000 gallon acid treatment at 5,313 feet. Plymouth Oil company No. 4-A Bennett was good for 331.20 barrels following 9,000 gallons at 5,260 feet. Gulf Oil corporation No. 6 C. A. Elliott rated 438.56 a day after 10,000 gallons at 5,217 feet.

In the northwestern Gaines county sector of the Wasson, Continental Oil company No. 3-53 A. L. Wasson was finaled for 193.20 barrels per day after a 4,000-gallon treatment, bottomed at 4,940 feet.

Stanolind No. 2 Lillian Scanlan, northwestern Dawson county deep try, is mixing mud in an effort to restore circulation at total depth of 5,878 feet in lime. Its objective is 7,000 feet unless Clear Fork production is encountered at a shallowater depth.

HAD GIVEN UP HOPE OF FINDING RELIEF; THEN I TRIED HOYT'S

Now I Can Sleep; Soreness, Stiffness, Swelling Are Gone From My Feet And Limbs; I Enjoy Doing My Housework, Says Mrs. Belsher.

MRS. A. M. BELSHER

Sooner or later the majority of folks who suffer from indigestion, constipation, headaches, nervousness, try Hoyt's Compound, and are amazed at the relief they say it gives them. For example, there's Mrs. A. M. Belsher, of 1518 Avenue F, for 18 years a Lubbock resident. In recalling her illness, she tells, "My feet and limbs were so swollen and sore and stiff that I could hardly walk. The pains were so severe that I couldn't sleep or even rest. I had given up hope of finding any medicine that would help me.

"Then I began taking Hoyt's Compound, and from the very first few doses I could actually see a marvelous change. Today I feel and act years younger than before." She adds, "and I can really get a good night's rest. The awful pains have left me, the stiffness and swelling have gone from my feet and limbs. At last I can really enjoy doing my own housework, something I have been unable to do for a long time! Hoyt's is the exact medicine for me," Mrs. Belsher continues, "and I hope that others who suffer as I did will take my advice and try it so that they, too, will get blessed relief!"

The longer you delay, the longer you may be unable to find relief from distressing ills, and the harder it may be to recover your health. So, why not try Hoyt's Compound now and make 1941 a year you'll remember? Hoyt's Compound in the super-sized new package still sells for $1.25, two for only $2.00, or a 50 cent saving. It is recommended and sold by the Mark Halsey Drug Store, Broadway and Avenue L and by leading druggists everywhere. Mail orders promptly filled. Adv.

sistibly."

London quarters also reported an Italian attempt to send warships flying the Bulgarian flag through the Turkish-controlled Dardanelles. The British ambassador at Ankara, it was said, "probably" had made representations to the Turkish government.

Destroyers Purchased

A highly-placed foreign observer at Ankara, recently returned from Rumania and Bulgaria, said Bulgaria had purchased six Italian destroyers in a "smoke screen" deal and had asked Turkey's permission to bring them through the Dardanelles into the Black sea, where British and Russians suspected they might be used by the Axis.

The Bulgarian request was said to have been delivered to the Turks on Sept. 12, with no answer as yet.

Under the Montreaux convention, no warship of a belligerent nation may pass through the Dardanelles. Although technically neutral, Bulgaria is dominated by Germany.

Nazi warplanes operating from the Arctic to the Black sea were credited with sinking three Soviet troop transports, a destroyer, two submarines and four torpedoboats. Sixteen other ships were declared to have been hit so heavily their loss could be assumed.

Red Also Claim Success

German commentators said the silencing of Kronstadt, which guards the sea gate to Leningrad, would permit Nazi warships to move up the gulf of Finland and take the siege-girt metropolis with its 3,200,000 population under a devastating fire.

Countering Berlin's claims of success in the 89-day-old struggle, the Russians reported a sharp blow to German blitz prestige, asserting that Red army troops defending Bryansk, on the central front, had all but annihilated the mechanized forces of Col. Gen. Henz Guderian, the so-called "phantom general" of the French campaign.

A Soviet bulletin said Guderian, whose radio-directed panzers outflanked France's Maginot line in 1940, had lost two-thirds of his effectives—a total of 20,000 troops killed, wounded or captured, as well as 500 tanks, 70 armored cars, 1,525 trucks, 195 airplanes, 52 trench mortars and vast stores of other booty.

organization of Cochran county in 1923. Aiding him in his efforts to organize the county were those who had purchased tracts cut from the huge block of land he had bought from Mrs. Veal. The county was organized only after numerous obstacles, including 16 law suits, had been overcome.

Started Career Early

Mr. Smith was born March 1, 1865, in LaGrange. His father, Charles N. Smith, died when he was 3 years old. His mother later married Capt. N. T. Sneed of Waco and the family lived in Waco.

Beginning his cowboy activities when 12 years old, he spent three years on a ranch in Brady City and drove herds from Waco to Dodge City, Kas., in the 1870's and 1880's. He was associated with C. W. White of Waco in ranching interests and once operated a livery stable in Waco.

Land Holdings Extensive

He was married to Miss Emlea Bruce of Waco Jan. 7, 1905. Survivors include a foster son, Morton J. Smith, jr., of Dumas, nephew of Mrs. Smith who was reared by the couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith had lived in the Hilton hotel since its opening about 16 years ago. Previously they had lived in the Merrill hotel, which formerly stood at the present site of the Hilton. They lived in the Lubbock hotel several years.

Although he had not been in good health the last year, Mr. Smith was seldom confined to his bed.

At time of his death, he still owned numerous town lots in Morton and several farms operated by tenants in Cochran county.

Texans Get Report By Sen. O'Daniel

(By The United Press)

DALLAS, Sept. 18—U. S. Sen. W. Lee O'Daniel, who after election promised to keep Texans posted on what he found at Washington, today had made his first report.

It contained some statements calculated to raise alarm.

In a half-hour speech at a Constitution day rally at Dallas last night, O'Daniel charged that American democracy is threatened by minorities using the national emergency as a subterfuge.

Labor Is Accused

Labor, specifically, was accused of formulating a "well-organized plan" to dominate industry. There are "other powerful minorities," equally dangerous, who propose to "destroy the whole system of free enterprise in this country in order to prevent the making of a few war millionaires."

The American public was criticized for its "apathy."

The speech held one striking anomaly. O'Daniel hit at centralization of power and "bureaucratic control" but absolved President Roosevelt of responsibility.

Mr. Roosevelt has not exceeded his constitutional rights in carrying out his foreign policy, the junior senator said. Continual sniping at the president by such isolationist leaders as U. S. Sen. Burton K. Wheeler and Charles A. Lindbergh was termed "ill-advised and harmful."

O'Daniel said he was unqualifiedly committed to giving all possible aid to England and her allies. He pooh-poohed price control legislation, asserting that the job of fixing prices probably would require from 700,000 to 1,000,000 men.

Hits Pipe Line Proposal

The proposal to build a crude oil pipe line from Texas to the east coast he called a "desperate plot" by eastern corporations to "ship one of Texas' greatest natural resources from the state and thus impede Texas industrial progress and deprive Texas laboring people and others of their heritage."

It was O'Daniel's first speech in Texas since he left for Washington in July to assume his Senate seat. He indicated he would return to the capital soon.

recently and Mrs. Jozalis persuaded her husband to move into the barn.

"He has since doubted her sincerity for in his absence his wife moved her mother into the house as a permanent resident," Frohlich said. "My client shared the barn with three cows. The first night one cow, named Baby, calved. So deep and all-inclusive is my client's respect for motherhood that he stayed up all night assisting the delivery."

The attorney said a second cow was expecting but that Mrs. Jozalis feared her husband would disfigure the calf and ordered him from the barn.

"The only other place he can go is the chicken coop," Frohlich continued. "It is commodious and he would move in willingly, but his entrance is disputed by a bantam rooster named Joe, who is unfriendly toward him."

Fraser McGuire, who has a restaurant at 1313 Thirteenth street, ran down two persons who had presented a $5 check to him for cashing. One has a long drunkenness record, police told McGuire.

"I was right in opposing draft extension. The army vindicated me. They announced many draftees would be released after 14 to 15 months' service.

"Most people believe I'm right in pushing my anti-strike bill.

"Most people believe I'm right in standing by the president.

"Sure, I'm cooperating with him—100 per cent. The fact that the administration supported Johnson Congressman Lyndon Johnson, his opponent in the special senatorial election) in no way influences my feeling toward the president. I proved you can beat a lot of money," O'Daniel said.

"I did under-rate Johnson, though," he admitted. "I figured him third or fourth." (Johnson was runner-up by a narrow losing margin.)

The senator breakfasted with Bonner, Mayor Neal Pickett, former Gov. W. P. Hobby, Democratic National Committeeman E. B. Germany, Sam W. Davis, Charles I. Francis, D. H. Byrd, George Goss, Clarence Butcher and Jesse McKee.

He will receive friends today and then go to San Antonio.

Asked if he would run for the Senate again or for governor, O'Daniel speared another Texas egg and replied: "I'm not saying."

Lindbergh was reported planning a series of speeches in Texas.

In a fiery speech for the resolution, Rep. Tom W. Deen, Floydada farmer, shouted that "Lindbergh ought to be shipped back to Germany to live with his own people."

There was no opposition voice raised when Speaker Homer Leonard of McAllen put the vote.

Chileans Arrested, Germany Discloses

BERLIN, Sept. 18 (AP)—Several Chileans—the exact number undisclosed—have been arrested in Germany on suspicion of engaging in activities hostile to the Reich, authoritative sources announced today.

"We regret being compelled to take such measures," one informant asserted, "but reasons of state make them imperative. We are in war and it is essential to eliminate all elements intriguing against us."

Boys Escape France To Land In England

LONDON, Sept. 18 (AP) — Five shivering French boys, all just under 20, landed at Eastbourne this morning, soaking and exhausted from an all-night trip across the English channel in a 12-foot canoe to join the Free French forces.

They had battled an unfavorable tide after shoving off from the French coast.

Last event on the convention program was a luncheon.

Featuring the entertainment of the annual meeting was a banquet, floor show and dance in the main ballroom of the Lubbock Wednesday night. T. C. Root, professor of economics and business administration at Texas Technological college, was the principal speaker. New Strike Set

D. C., arrived here late last night to join Albert F. Wright, another of the union's international representatives, in an attempt to reopen negotiations with the company.

The union, which claims 350 members, struck because it seeks to represent in present contract bargaining sessions 200 members of an independent organization which it said is a company union.

To Answer Citation

The independent union has been the basis of a national labor board action and a circuit court of appeals decision affirmed the board's order to the company to disestablish it. The company has not complied and is to answer a contempt citation in circuit court here Oct. 11.

Clif Langsdale, union attorney, said that the strike was called because the union believed the company had failed to show good faith in negotiations.

"The men were disgusted after four years of litigation by the worst anti-union company of its kind in the United States," he said.

Loyal employes and strike breakers succeeded in restoring power to Kansas City yesterday; four hours after the switches first were thrown and the power has continued without interruption under police guard.

Eleven Belgians Face Sentences Of Death

(By The United Press)

BERLIN, Sept. 18—Eleven Belgians have been sentenced to death by a German court martial "for assisting the enemy, espionage and reproducing anti-German pamphlets," the German-controlled newspaper Brussels Zeitung announced today.

The Cracow Gazette of Poland, likewise German controlled, announced that a "special court" at Warsaw had sentenced a Pole to death for butchering 20 pigs and 15 calves and selling the meat in the illegal underground market at prices "15 times normal ones."

Avenged Only By Death

"This crime against the food supply is so serious it can be avenged only by the death penalty," the newspaper said.

The Belgium trial was conducted by German authorities who rule Belgium and northern France.

One of those condemned was sentenced to death twice.

The German court specified that there could be no appeal from the sentences.

Courts Are Relentless

"These sentences show that the courts of the German military forces will proceed with relentless severity if, in spite of all warnings, citizens of occupied territories assist the enemy against greater Germany," the Brussels Zeitung said in announcing the sentences.

At the trial, which lasted 14 hours, one person was sentenced to seven years in prison for assisting the others.

Armored Vehicles Stressed

Other specific items in the budget bureau's breakdown were:

Tanks, armored cars and other automotive vehicles, $385,000,000; vessels of various descriptions plus equipment and supplies, $850,000,000; miscellaneous military and naval equipment, $155,000,000; facilities and equipment for manufacturing defense articles, including land acquisition, $375,000,000.

Testing or repairing defense items for other governments, such as damaged vessels, $175,000,000.

Necessary services and expenses, $285,000,000.

Administrative expenses, $10,000,000.

The proposed bill also carried language which would permit the shifting of the various funds from one category to another provided that no consolidated item should be boosted more than 30 per cent. This would not apply to the $10,000,000 for administrative expenses.

Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau revealed today that United States financial aid to Russia began a month ago with a $10,000,000 treasury advance to the Soviets.

The secretary made the disclosure at a press conference after Federal Loan Administrator Jesse Jones announced yesterday that a Reconstruction Finance corporation subsidiary was buying $100,000,000 of minerals from Russia and paying for part of it in advance in order to provide the Russians with cash to pay for war supply purchases in this country.

U. S. To Get Gold

Morgenthau said that on August 15 Russian Ambassador Constantine Oumansky informed him that the Russians were shipping $10,000,000 of gold to the United States in the next 90 days, but needed the money immediately to pay American manufacturers for goods already ordered.

With the approval of the state department, Morgenthau related, he paid Oumansky the $10,000,000 in advance upon the ambassador's promise to deliver an equivalent amount of gold in 90 days.

Morgenthau said no further requests for Russian aid had come to the treasury and he could not predict what action would be taken on any future request because, "you know, the treasury is on a day to day policy."

"ESSENTIAL" INDUSTRY

However, the drive of love was great, so he went to a department store and ordered the clothing. He paid for it with a check, which, he said, he knew was not good but he would make it up. Today young love is cooling in the county jail. He was named in a forgery complaint late yesterday.

House OK's Bill

servers there believe the Senate may reverse its decision after the Road Bond Assumption act is finally passed and sent to Governor Stevenson.

For several months there has been talk in Lubbock of the possibility of a municipal bond issue to raise funds to build an auditorium to be placed on the college campus, probably in the vicinity of the southeast corner of the campus at Nineteenth street and College avenue. Leaders of the Junior Chamber of Commerce have recently been studying the possibilities with the idea in mind of that organization's sponsoring the plan.

College Approves Idea

With the exception of the passage of the House bill today, the idea has not gotten past the conversational stage, but officials of the college are known to favor the idea.

Should bonds be voted and the auditorium erected, the building would be used jointly by the City of Lubbock, as a municipal auditorium for conventions and entertainment purposes, and by the college—which lacks a suitable convocation hall—as well.

Convoying Starts

cargoes would be attacked, regardless of the nationality of their escorts.

"Since the nature of the cargoes of convoyed ships, according to American admissions, was established from the very beginning as contraband," he declared May 25, "resort to this type of convoy system would not be a neutral convoy in the sense of international law or American treaties, but an open war act and a bare, unprovoked attack.

"German naval forces would therefore be justified in taking measures against these contraband carriers, according to the law of sea warfare and would, by exercise of these rights, have to repulse by arms if necessary any hindrance, even against American warships."

Man Killed Instantly When Hit By Train

FORT WORTH, Sept. 18 (U.P.) — Marian Odell Daniel, 24, a highway worker, was killed instantly today when he was struck by a T. and P. passenger train at Roanoke, 17 miles northeast of here.

Accompanied by a fellow worker, the pair had started to cross the tracks where they were to climb into Daniel's truck. The friend looked up and barely managed to jump to safety when the train struck Daniel.

Gun Wounds Claim Two At Gainesville

GAINESVILLE, Sept. 18. (AP)—John M. Sharp, 30-year-old farmer, was found shot to death today and an hour later, Edward G. Streng, 21, whom Sharp was charged with having shot Saturday night, died of his wounds in a Gainesville hospital.

Sharp's body was discovered on a bed at the home of his uncle, E. L. Kibbler, 6 miles west of here. One bullet, fired into his mouth, had blown off the top of his head.

The shooting of Streng followed an altercation in a tavern in Oklahoma, several miles north of here.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 18 (AP)—Lynn U. Stambaugh of Fargo, N. D., today was elected commander of the American Legion.

Ickes Says Gasoline Curfews To Continue

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18. (AP)—Secretary of Interior Ickes, the defense petroleum coordinator, declared today the rationing of gasoline and the filling station curfew would continue in the east, despite a finding by a Senate committee that there was no oil shortage and that present restrictions should be lifted.

"To take off all restrictions now, and yell 'come and get it'" Ickes declared, "would be stupid."

In his first press conference since the committee wound up its oil investigation September 11, the coordinator said the problem of an oil shortage did exist, and he cited figures to substantiate his claims.

Clamor For Opening Of New Front Heard

LONDON, Sept. 18 (AP)—Clamor for opening of a new front against Germany, presumably by landings in western Europe, broke out again in the British press today after a brief respite inspired by disclosure that an RAF wing had arrived in Russia.

The Times, which ordinarily is slow to join press criticism of the government's policies, devoted a full column editorial to a sober reminder that the British are universally convinced the nation must make the most of the present opportunity not only to help on the eastern front but also to "develop other fronts where the enemy will have to expend his strength."

Alice And Phil Plan A Second Ceremony

GALVESTON, Sept. 18 (U.P.) — Alice Faye, screen actress, and Phil Harris, the band leader, prepared today to make certain that their recent marriage in Mexico is legal in the United States. The couple, vacationing here, decided on another marriage ceremony here next Saturday. A minister and the time have not been selected.

Schoolboys Facing Big Week End Of Grid Games

Majority Of Teams Swing Into Action; Amarillo Entertains Childress; North Side Here

BY JOE PIERCE
Journal Sports Writer

A full schedule of 28 games, replete with important inter-district contests, is on tap Friday as the West Texas football campaign hits top speed for the first time in the 1941 season.

Only one team in the entire area, Whitharral, is idle.

Topping the card are the following tilts: Fort Worth North Side at Lubbock, Childress at Amarillo, Matador at Olton, Brownfield at Levelland and Slaton at Floydada.

Amarillo's state champions initiate their season's schedule, with all of Texas eyeing the game for a clue as to the power of the Sandies this season. Childress, a 2-AA team, isn't regarded as strong opposition.

Others In Action

Lubbock's Westerners, state champions of 1939 and third-place team in the district in 1940, inaugurate their campaign against a team that's rated second only to Masonic Home in the Fort Worth area.

Other District 1-AA games find Pampa at home to Burkburnett, Borger at Quanah and Plainview at Abilene. Plainview, winner over Olney by 24-0 last week, will be favored over Abilene, despite the loss of Mick Mason, star fullback who paced the team to a once-beaten season last year.

Borger, an unknown quantity with only four lettermen, faces a team that made a bad start by losing to Class A Paducah, 7-6, last week. The district 2-AA team was thoroughly outplayed by the Dragons, who were regarded as weak in their own district.

Brownfield Vs. Levelland

Pampa is another unknown quantity. The Harvesters expect a good test from Burkburnett, 7-0 losers to Cisco last week.

In Class A ranks, the top game is the annual grudge battle between Brownfield and Levelland, this year slated for Levelland's high school field, one of the finest in Texas. Last year these two teams fought to a bitter 6-6 tie, with Brownfield taking the decision on first downs after penetrations were even.

The Cubs went on to win the district, the Lobos moved on through an unbeaten season. Brownfield won its opener last week with a 28-0 victory over Kermit of District 7-A. Friday's game will be the first for Levelland.

Matador Meets Olton

Matador's Bull Fighters of District 4-A play at Olton in another top attraction. The Mustangs will be opening their campaign for a fourth consecutive zone title in District 5-A, and with 10 lettermen back, are considered strong. Matador lost to Crowell, 13-0, last week, but nevertheless the Matadors are considered one of the top teams in their district.

Slaton and Floydada open their seasons at Floydada, with the Tigers shooting for revenge for the 50-7 pasting they took from Floydada last year at Slaton. The Whirlwind will be introducing a new coach, Floyd Murray, who succeeded Odell Winter when Winter resigned to take the head coaching job at Seymour.

Murray captained the Floydada team in 1932 and later played at West Texas State Teachers.

Slaton To Get Test

Slaton reputedly has its best team in three years, with Elzo Collier, two-year letterman who's about the hardest hitting fullback in West Texas, pacing the attack. Floydada lost a lot of lettermen from its third-place team of 1940, and is definitely a darkhorse in 4-A.

One conference game is slated in District 5-A, with Morton's Indians playing Sudan at Morton. Morton has already lost one conference game, dropping a 21-0 decision to Littlefield last week. Sudan downed Class B Amherst, 6 to 0.

Other 4-A games: Crosbyton opens its season at Denver City, playing the team that turned in a 19-13 upset victory over Ralls last week. Ralls plays Post, 6-0 loser to Lubbock's Cowhands, at Ralls. Spur, beaten 26-0 by Rule, tackles another 10-A team, Haskell's highly rated Indians. Paducah, upset victor over Quanah last week, tackles Crowell, 13-0 victor over Matador. Lockney opens its season at home against Canyon.

In 5-A, Littlefield plays at Hereford in an effort to square a 6-2 defeat the Wildcats took last year. Muleshoe opens its season at Spring Lake, playing a Class B team which tied Class A Friona, 6-6, last week. O'Donnell opens its season against Class B Fluvanna. Seagraves tries to maintain the pace it set in winning a 42-0 contest from Plains last week against Cooper of District 4-B. Seminole plays its opener at Sundown. Tahoka is host to Andrews of District 5-B.

Top game in the Class B ranks matches Amherst's Bulldogs with the Buffaloes of Petersburg at Amherst. Amherst made a fine showing in holding Sundown to a 6-0 decision last week, while Petersburg took the lead in District 4-B with a 2-0 conference win from Hale Center.

Lamesa, Santone Clash

Other Class B games send Anton to Abernathy, Melrose, N. M.; to Farwell, Frenship to Hale Center, Ropes to New Deal and Meadow to Southland.

Lamesa's Golden Tornado, which marked up a 33-0 conquest of Tahoka last week, meets stiffer competition, playing Thomas Edison of

Teams To Drill Here Tonight

Lubbock's Westerners and North Side's Steers from Fort Worth polish up their plays for one last time tonight before meeting on Tech Field Friday night in Lubbock's 1941 football premiere.

For two hours or more, beginning at 7 o'clock, the Tech gridiron will be the scene of final limbering-up exercises tonight. The Black and Gold will work first, for probably an hour. Then the Steers will take over, probably going through their paces for another hour.

Fans Are Invited

The Lubbock coaches, Goober Keyes and Dixie White, have invited fans out for a final preview of the game, and Coach Herman Clark of the Steers will probably allow the fans to witness the drills of his team.

Twenty-four hours after those two drills, the two teams line up for the first kickoff of the 1941 season in Lubbock, slated for 8:15 o'clock Friday night.

Dopesters are still having a tough time figuring which team to call the favorite, but it's probable the "honor" will fall to the Westerners, on the basis of better-than-expected showings in practice.

Also, the Lubbocks have 10 lettermen, compared to six for the visitors. The Westerners will have experienced men at every position except one end and one tackle, while North Side must rely on two backfield and three line players without previous game experience.

This game will mark the fourth in a series that began in 1938, and North Side has yet to win a game. Lubbock has won two and the middle contest was a scoreless tie.

Atlanta Takes 3 To 2 Edge Over Nashville

(By The United Press)

Atlanta needed only one game today to complete a successful season and land in the Dixie series against the Texas league champion.

The Crackers exploded all over Nashville's ball park last night for a 12 to 8 victory, giving them a 3 to 2 edge in the Southern association's championship series.

Four Vol pitchers were touched for a total of 21 hits as Atlanta won the wild and woolly contest.

Verse Of Flatbush--
Here's To Bum Who's Making Things Hum!

By HARRY FERGUSON
United Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Sept. 18. — News item: "Hugh Casey has appeared as a relief pitcher for the Brooklyn Dodgers five times in six days."

Once Mudville had a Casey who struck out in the clutch.
And with the howling, shouting fans put himself in dutch.
Now Brooklyn has a Casey
who always saves the day.
Oh, there ain't no joy in Mudville, but Brooklyn feels
okay.

When it's tied up in the ninth with men on foist and thoid.
Durocher signals to the pen and
Casey gets the woid.
Then Higbe, Wyatt or Hamlin are washed up for the day.
Oh, there ain't no joy in Mudville,
but Brooklyn feels okay.

Casey walks in slowly, two hundred pounds in size.
Smears his hand with resin and sneers at Johnny Mize.
Owen gives the signal so there won't be no delay.
Oh, there ain't no joy in Mudville, but Brooklyn feels
okay.

The Cardinals look at Casey like
you look at a hearse,
And thirty thousand Dodger fans
give out in one big verse.
Durocher tells the outfield to back up all the way.
Oh, there ain't no joy in Mudville,
but Brooklyn feels okay.

Mighty Casey looks at foist and then he looks at thoid.
The fans out in the bleachers give Johnny Mize the boid.
Mighty Casey takes his wind-up,
the ball is on the way.
Oh, there ain't no joy in Mudville,
but Brooklyn feels okay.

The ball comes straight at Johnny; it's gonna hit his head.
He hits the dirt—but then,
"strike one!" the umpire
said.
Mighty Casey coived one: oh,
happy, goigus day!
Oh, there ain't no joy in Mudville, but Brooklyn feels
okay.

Brown on thoid, Hopp on foist—
each takes a lead off base.
Two outs, and a scowl of anger is on Johnny Mize's face.
He grips the mighty war club after brushing sweat away.
Oh, there ain't no joy in Mudville,
but Brooklyn feels okay.

The thirty thousand Dodger fans start tearing up the jernt
As Casey throws and the umpire's fingers upward pernt.
It's strike two on Johnny Mize,
but now there's some delay.
Oh, there ain't no joy in Mudville,
but Brooklyn feels okay.

Southworth's running to the plate and here Durocher comes.
The field is full of Cardinals and all the Brooklyn
bums.
Southworth yells it was a ball,
the umpire tells him
"nay."
Oh, there ain't no joy in Mudville, but BBrooklyn feels okay.

Casey takes his wind-up and the ball streaks toward the dish,
And Johnny rends the air with a furious, futile swish.
Men dance in the aisles, gals clap
and yell "heigh-heigh."
Oh, there ain't no joy in Mudville,
but Brooklyn feels okay.

Now, the Giants sing of Matty,
the Sox of Lefty Grove,
But the talk through Flatbush winters around the red-hot stove.
Is about the Mighty Casey who pitched nearly every day.
Oh, there ain't no joy in Mudville, but Brooklyn feels
okay.

Oh, somewhere in this favored land the sun is shining bright,
And somewhere bands are playing and somewhere hearts are light.
But it ain't in old St. Louis where the natives sadly say That Mighty Casey is the guy who makes Brooklyn feel okay.

Jodie Bihl To Give Exhibition Tonight

Jodie Bihl, Lubbock professional who is the outstanding golfer in the West Texas area, tonight will demonstrate his repertoire of trick shots in a special exhibition at Sock-'Um Fairways, College avenue and Fourth street to be followed by a men's driving contest.

Bihl, professional at the course, former pro at Meadowbrook and owner of many championship cups than any other individual in this section, hopes to leave here this winter and compete in some of the country's major winter professional tournaments.

From his caddy days at Meadowbrook, Bihl has been one of the most consistent winners of golf prizes in West Texas. After turning professional some time ago, he participated in few tournaments, but this year he got back in the groove and won the Meadowbrook Open, the Lubbock City Open, the Ruidoso, N. M., Open, and finished second in the recent Plainview Open. He established a new course record at Meadowbrook recently with a 64—seven under par. Previously he had been tied at 66.

Tonight, starting at 8:30 o'clock Bihl will demonstrate some "trick shots" he has picked up and developed. These include: Driving a hook, a straight ball and a slice—on purpose; driving 200 yards with ball teed on top of a soda pop bottle; driving a ball swinging on string; driving a ball dropped by caddy; hitting two balls with the same stroke; driving three balls while blindfolded; hitting five balls in succession so that all five are in the air at the same time; driving ball off face of watch without endangering the works thereof, and several other stunts.

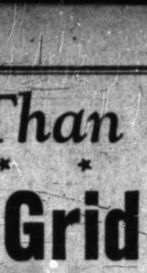

The driving contest is open to all men, and starts at 9:30 o'clock. There will be no charge for the exhibition.

Another Reason Why New York Wins--
Tommy Henrich--Yanks' Right Fielder--Answer To Prayer; Has Eyes On World Series

BY GEORGE KIRKSEY
United Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Sept. 18—Tommy Henrich, the Yankees' right fielder, is the answer to a manager's prayer. He's easy to handle, tends strictly to business, always hustling and is willing to risk his neck, if necessary, to win a ball game.

Henrich's value to the Yankees never has been appreciated fully by the public-at-large and many persons tab him as the most underrated ball player in the American league. With 30 home runs, only Ted Williams of the Red Sox and his teammate Charlie Keller are ahead of him in this vital department. He's a fine outfielder and nobody has a better throwing arm for accuracy or power.

HENRICH

His main drawback is a weakness against southpaw pitching which he is gradually curing by playing regularly. If he ever learns to hit southpaws like he does right-handers, Henrich will be one of the terror hitters of the league. Even now almost every other one of his hits is for extra bases.

Is Quite Popular

No longer are American league pitchers fooled by Henrich's .270 batting average. All things considered it's probably the most dangerous .270 average in the majors.

Henrich has the best disposition of all the players on a Yankee team which is made up of even-tempered athletes. He is popular with everybody and has a kind word for all. Just what sort of a guy he is can be appreciated by the fact that George Selkirk, the fellow he beat out of a job, is one of his biggest boosters.

The pink-cheeked Massillon, O., boy is one of the few softball players to make the major league grade and he is easily the best buy of all Commissioner Landis' free agents. Henrich was the property of Cleveland when Landis declared him a free agent in 1937. Eight major league clubs made him offers but Henrich signed with the Yanks for $20,000. The money never turned Henrich's head like it did some of the other "free agent" crop who got rich overnight. After four years with the Yanks Henrich hustles just like the rawest rookie.

"I have to keep hustling to hold my job," Henrich says. "If I should go into a prolonged slump somebody else would be out there. And I'm particularly anxious to play in this World series. I played in 1938 but I didn't see any action in 1937 or 1939."

Brooklyn Boys One Game Up On Cardinals

BY JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

The favorite flippancy of baseball players is "I'd rather be lucky than good" and this little crumb of wisdom explains why the Brooklyn Dodgers still are in first place in the National league and seem destined to win the pennant.

Their daily adventures read like chapters out of a story book and yesterday they outdid that fictional piker, Merriwell, again.

Win In Ninth

Brooklyn was on the verge of dropping its second straight game, trailing 3-1 going into the ninth inning at Pittsburgh. A loss coupled with a double victory by St. Louis over the Boston Braves would have transferred first place to the Cardinals by a tiny percentage margin.

But what happened? You guessed it, the Dodgers scored five runs in the ninth inning and beat the Pirates 6-4 to retain a one-game margin over the Cards, who whipped the Braves 6-2 and 3-2.

Reds Win Two

The Cincinnati Reds bagged a doubleheader from the Phils 1-0 and 3-2. John Vander Meer pitched a three-hitter and fanned 11 in the first game and Gene Thompson pitched a six hitter and made two doubles and a single himself in the nightcap. The Chicago Cubs climbed on the New York Giants 7-3.

In the American league the New York Yankees clipped the Chicago White Sox 5-3 with a four-run fifth inning rally climaxed by Tom Henrich's 31st homer with two on. The Boston Red Sox edged out Cleveland 3-2 with Joe Dobson pitching six-hit ball and Dom DiMaggio driving in all Boston's runs—two on a single with the bases loaded in the ninth. Detroit downed the Philadelphia Athletics 3-2 although outhit 7-4 and Washington whipped the St. Louis Browns 9-8 in 10 innings.

Raiders Tapering Off For Wildcat Tussle

The Texas Tech Red Raiders believe in being ready, rain or shine.

So today, rain or shine, they'll drill once more and for the next-to-last time before Saturday night's curtain-raiser game with Abilene Christian.

There's a lot of rough spots that need to be ironed out before the season gets under way, and Coaches Dell Morgan and Berl Huffman will try again to eliminate them today. Especially do the coaches plan to run the varsity through some defensive and offensive plays favored by Coach Bugs Morris of ACC and demonstrated by Tech's freshman eleven.

Coaches Not Displeased

The field became so slippery, after a time, that Head Coach Dell Morgan called a halt and sent the players inside. He had been anxious to practice "timing" of plays, a feature that was not always evident in the Tuesday night "all-out" scrimmage among varsity men.

Morgan, however, was not too dissatisfied with the Tuesday night drill. He admitted that he did some "quarterbacking" himself, which might have had something to do with the total lack of scoring, but he seemed pleased with the progress made by the Red Raiders so far this season. He was a bit disappointed with "down the field" blocking, in some instances, but he had no severe criticism for the performance, generally or individually.

Tickets On Sale

"We've got some work to do on timing of plays, on blocking and passing, and there'll be a lot of punting practice, but the boys are coming along at just about the right speed to suit me, and I have

It's Nearly Football Time
By Collier Parris

DANGEROUS DUTCH HERMAN CLARK is bringing his Fort Worth North Side Steers into town this afternoon for a final, nocturnal workout before they clash with the Lubbock High Westerners in the season opener tomorrow night.

• • •

The North Side Steers are considered one of the strongest clubs of the Fort Worth district; in fact, they're rated as possibly the only team of the district capable of upsetting the Masonic Home club this year. The Masons are reckoned to win the state championship. That makes the Steers pretty important characters.

• • •

This will be the fourth consecutive meeting of the Steers and the Lubbock Westerners. The Steers haven't beaten Lubbock till this very yet, and they're not established favorites to gain much revenge this time. But they'll be scrapping, and it'll be a fine test for the Westerners, who haven't been called the probable District 1 champions, as yet. A Lubbock victory over Herman Clark's team tomorrow night would give the Westerner critics something to work on, however.

The Westerners seem to have a fair-to-middling good football team — a team, in this sense, as in the rulebook, consisting of slightly less than a dozen boys. When you pass the "first team," however, you've about passed the Westerners, who have anything but an abundance of reserve strength. That has been the case for many seasons, now, and on some such occasions the first team has come through most nobly.

If Coaches Goober Keyes and Dixie White can keep their first eleven men on their toes and out of the hospital, the Westerners will make a determined bid for District 1 honors this season.

• • •

Tomorrow night's game should be interesting, and if you haven't purchased that season ticket for all Lubbock High home games this year, you better be seeing a guy named Lowrey down at the Hilton Hotel lobby right away. He has the coupon booklets there, and he might peddle a few individual tickets to Friday night's game.

• • •

BEGINNING TOMORROW, this column will offer a series of "dope bucket" spillings concerning the teams on the Texas Tech football schedule this season.

The first sketch will deal, of course, with Bugs Morris' Abilene Christian college Wildcats, who play here Saturday night. In order, after that, we'll try to give some advance information regarding the Oklahoma Aggies, the Los Angeles Loyola tribe, the Centenary Gentlemen, the New Mexico Loboes, the Miami Hurricanes, the Creighton Bluejays, the St. Louis university Billikens, the Hardin-Simmons Cowboys and the Wake Forest Deacons.

In the meantime, a few short, short subjects:

Hardin-Simmons university called in a Baylor alumnus, Warren Woodson, to coach the Cowboys; Baylor called in a Hardin-Simmons alumnus, Frank Kimbrough, to coach the Bears . . . . Two purposes are served: The Baptists stick together — and the other alumni can't howl . . . . for the first season, at least . . . .

• • •

Blair Cherry, former Amarillo High mentor, must have lost some of his pull with Golden Sandstorm grid graduates . . . A flock of them followed him to University of Texas, where he is end coach, year before last, but not many this year . . . . Texas A. & M., most hated rivals of the Longhorns, scooped up a large handful of Sandie grads, including Center Charles Green, Fullback Otto Payne, Guard Fred Page, End R. A. Boyter and End Scud Redus . . . . That's five of the eleven regulars on the state championship team of last season — and a pretty good average for the Aggies . . . .

• • •

Myrle Greathouse, blocking back; M. T. Johnson, tailback, and Boone Baker, wingback, off the same great Amarillo eleven, are enrolled at Oklahoma U. . . . But Greathouse suffered an ankle injury the other day that may lay him low for the season . . . . Southern Methodist university got Wooten, star Sandie end, and Texas Tech got Clyde Clark, scampering, kicking backfielder of the championship team . . . . That doesn't leave much for the Longhorns . . . .

WE ALL KNOW that Washington, now nearing the 1,000,000 population mark has about doubled in size during the past eight years.

We are told on every hand that Uncle Sam is hiring new help in the nation's capital to the tune of several thousand per day; that the national government now sports more departments, agencies and bureaus than were ever dreamed of a decade ago—and more of them are being thought up and placed into operation every few days.

But if you think all the expansions of departments, agencies and bureaus—and the addition of federal employes to operate them—is being done in Washington, you're wrong.

The additions and the expansions are going on in every state in the union, and in every important city in every one of the 48 states.

For instance, the new telephone directory lists a dozen federal offices and agencies of one kind or another right here in Lubbock.

* * *

The State Observer, weekly newsmagazine given over to government affairs and politics and published in Austin, recently surveyed the federal agency, department and bureau situation in Texas and results of the survey are surprising, to say the least.

But look over the findings yourself. Says The Observer:

"The long arm of the federal government, which has more fingers than a porcupine has quills, reaches today into 88 Texas cities and towns. How many separate offices are possible is shown by the fact that Dallas, with the largest number, has 65 federal offices (counting the representative). Among these 88 Texas towns and cities, none has less than four accredited agencies of Uncle Sam right around the corner.

"It takes 96 pages of a 126 page directory to list the federal offices with the names of those in charge. The remaining 30 pages listed all the state departments and officials.

* * *

"THESE and other interesting facts about the extent to which Uncle Sam has invaded Texas are shown in a directory prepared and recently issued by one of the federal agencies about which you seldom hear—an agency charged with keeping track of what the other agencies are doing, the Office of Government Reports.

"The new directory was swelled to a certain extent by the comparatively recent addition of army and navy recruiting stations. But it does NOT list such recent additions to the federal setup as the army training camps; nor the recently established oil offices. For that matter, the Office of Government Reports (hereafter called OGR) forgot to list the Federal Tender board, a quite important oil agency at Kilgore, in its geographical cross-index.

"The more familiar federal agencies are postoffices — only first class are listed; weather bureaus; federal courts.

* * *

"Then there are the alphabetical agencies which likewise are becoming matter-of-course and some which are less familiar: AAA, BAE (Bureau of Agricultural Economics, state and local planning division); FSA (Farm Security administration); REA (Rural Electrification administration); SMA (Surplus Marketing administration); CAA, FCC, HOLC, FHA, RFC, FPC (Federal Power commission); CCC, which has 52 camps in Texas, NONE of which are listed in the division of federal offices by towns and cities; and NYA, SSB (Social Security board); FTC (Federal Trade commission); two FWA, or Federal Works agency, which includes as subdivisions the PBA (Public Building administration), PRA (Public Roads administration), WPA, and several lesser known subdivisions, such as the Projects Planning division. To continue the alphabetical agencies, there's the widely-known NLRB, and the less-well-known NRPB (National Resources Planning board), a bureau in the labor department; and OGR, RRS (Railroad Retirement board); SEC, the comparatively new SSS (Selective Service system); FBI, and several others which could not be reduced to letters.

"UNDOUBTEDLY the most far-flung federal department is the Department of Agriculture, with its 25-man AAA administration, and requiring 36 pages of the directory, much of it single-spaced on the page, to detail. With 24 district agents and county agricultural and home demonstration agents in each county the extension service is one of the larger branches of the Agricultural department. The Agricultural Marketing service has numerous subdivisions; and the entomology and plant quarantine offices are busy on numerous researches, in Texas, such as grasshopper and Mormon cricket control, and the division of Insects Affecting Man and Animals, with three offices, one in John Garner's home town.

"The Agricultural department includes the extensive FSA, which has Rural Rehabilitation supervisors in most counties, forest service, forest research, Prairie States Forestry project, State National Forests, and an Office of the Coordinator, Southern Great Plains, whose duties are not hinted. The separate Soil Conservation service is also extensive and the surplus marketing administration has several offices.

"The Commerce department has several subdivisions, including the CAA, FCC and weather bureaus; and eight pages go to Federal courts. The FDIC (Federal Deposit Insurance corporation) and Federal Loan agency appear to be under no general departments. The FLA includes the FHA, HOLC, RFC, EHFA (Electric Home and Farm Authority) and others.

* * *

"Newest 'department' is the Federal Security agency which subdivisions the CCC, Food and Drug administration, NYA, Public Health service, SSB, State Employment service, and Bureau of Old-Age and Survivors Insurance.

"The OGR index cross-indexes 3,700 names. How many are federal may be estimated by the earlier division of 96 to each 20 state officials."

* * *

DOUBTLESS many of these agencies are essential to modern, complex living.

Certainly all of them are essential to an all-out, pantalistic government and can be very helpful around election time.

Doubtless many of the hundreds of thousands of federal employes are efficient, honest, helpful individuals who are earning what they get and who vastly contribute, through their efforts, to improved living. On the other hand—human nature being human nature—many must simply be riding a gravy train operated on the taxes of their fellow citizens.

At any rate, merrily we roll along, with the nation's tax bill mounting every time a second clicks by.

And the problem certainly is one requiring thought on the part of us all; fear on the part of us who will take time to think the situation through.

Chapter 30
Morris' Story

"As has already been pointed out," Morris said, "I drove her from it."

"By forcing your attentions on her?"

"Not at all. I fired her for incompetency. She had a nasty habit of standing on stage and not being able to say a line."

Steve said, "Yes, because she was so terrified of you that . . ."

Morris' voice rose above Steve's. "No. Because she was drunk. On one occasion, the last, she wasn't even able to stand, she passed out on stage. We had to lower the curtain and have the understudy take over."

"That's a lie!" Steve said hoarsely.

Carol clutched at his shoulders with both hands. I could see that they were shaking. But her voice was steady.

"Yes, Steve, it's a lie. It's what he told the other managers in London about me. That's why they wouldn't give me a job, any of them. Don't listen to him, Steve."

Morris said calmly, "I told the other managers about you because I didn't want you to spoil their productions as you did mine."

"Go on, Mr. Morris, go on! Tell what you told them. Tell everything you said!"

"I'd rather not, really."

"No. You're afraid to. You're afraid in front of Steve, you know that he . . ."

Peterson said, "Take it easy, Miss Blanton."

She sank back on the couch trembling violently and Steve held her tight with one arm around her shoulders, his other hand clasping hers. Morris looked at the cigarette that he turned in his fingers as if it were the only important thing in the room.

"So you'd rather not talk about what happened in London, Mr. Morris?"

"No. I assure you it is as painful to me as it is to Miss Blanton and her young champion."

"Nuts!" said Peterson. "If I were you, Mr. Morris, I'd talk. And I'd talk loud."

"Very well. It seems my reticence has implicated me in a mess I'd hoped to avoid. So my story is this.

"I saw Miss Blanton, then Miss Gray, playing at the Royal Academy as she says, and I thought her a beautiful child giving a lovely performance. I cast her in Green Apples. When rehearsals started we were a happy group of people. The cast was a playwright's dream.

"But in six weeks it was turning into a cesspool. There wasn't a friendship left. My actors were behaving like a bunch of neurotics. My leading man and my leading lady hated each other. The lovely young thing who had been playing Haila Rogers' part attempted suicide. Her engagement to the young stage manager had been mysteriously broken. My character man, a fine old chap, had suddenly become a dipsomaniac. That made two in my company, including Miss Blanton."

Truth At Last

Jeff sidestepped in front of Steve as he started to rise. Carol sat rigidly, one hand covering her eyes.

Peterson growled, "Go on."

"The character man had been milked of every cent he had, and made a fool of, by my pretty ingenue. In those six weeks a brilliant young actress' career and love affair had been ruined by this ingenue's malignant slander. She had broken friendships, torn people apart with her lies and intrigue and ambition. That ingenue was Leila Gray."

There was a moment of white-hot silence before Carol, tears streaming down her cheeks, leaped to her feet.

"Now you see why I ran away, why I changed my name, why I've lived in terror of him! Now he's trying to wreck Steve's love for me, he's trying to break my life again."

She turned to Steve, her chin lifted bravely. "I knew he'd do this, Steve. That's why I wanted to send you away. Steve, darling, try to forget all this, forget how horrible he is and all his horrible lies. . . ."

She fled into the bedroom. Steve stared after her, a bewildered, almost frightened look on his face.

"Steve," I said, "go to her. She needs you now. Don't stand there like that! Steve, why don't you go to her!"

Jeff said quietly: "Because what Morris said is true, Haila. All of it."

No one moved. Steve was still looking dazedly at the closed bedroom door and Greeley Morris watched him with anxiety. Peterson, the policeman, sat waiting.

I said, "No, Jeff."

"Yes. Don't you see that she's done the same thing to your company that she did in England? Only here someone tried to kill her for it, and that covered her up. Everyone was afraid to tell the truth about Carol for fear that it might throw suspicion for her attempted murder and Eve's death on them. Everyone but Alice McDonald. She knew what Carol was and she could speak. Carol hadn't given her a motive for murder. But when Alice told us you laughed at her. You didn't believe her."

"But you didn't either."

"It started me thinking."

Peterson said impatiently, "What has she done? And who did she do it to?"

"To Philip Ashley. She used the same technique on him that she practiced on that character man in England. In his room I found an I.O.U. for five hundred dollars. It was a silly game, he said, the I.O.U. was only a joke. But it wasn't a joke. it was real. And God knows how many more of them there were or why he was fool enough to have loaned her the money.

"Look at Tommy Neilson. She had him nuts about her, she took everything that Tommy had to offer and then she dropped him. She dropped him because she saw bigger game and that bigger game was Steve. With Steve there was wealth and position. No wonder she did everything in her power to keep the story of Lee Gray from coming out. That's why she was rushing the engagement and the wedding. She made him think that it was he who was doing the rushing. She talked about endangering his life, knowing that it would make Steve more anxious to marry her quickly and take care of her."

"But, Jeff," I said, "with me she was always . . . she seemed such a child. I thought she was my friend. And she was, Jeff! She never did anything to me."

"Haila, she's been using you

OUR FOOD AS A WAR FACTOR

There was a lot of common sense in the comment by Vice President Wallace the other day that American food may prove the most potent "fifth column" working against the Axis among conquered peoples.

It requires no imagination to perceive the temptation that our food supply might become to hungry people. They know, of course, that they will get no American food so long as there is the possibility that the Nazis may benefit directly or indirectly. They should be aware, too, that there will be no American food for them so long as they do nothing on their own behalf.

But when they become completely convinced that America has the food for them, and that America can get the food to them — which, perhaps, is the biggest question in their minds at the moment — then there is likely to be a lot of trouble from the Nazis among the oppressed peoples.

If that should happen, then it may be the fate of the Nazis to learn the truth of the fact which has been proved repeatedly to tyrants during history that no fighting is so ferocious, so scornful of personal danger and so utterly without mercy as that inspired by a gnawing belly.

ONE Newspaperman to Another: The sinfulness of New York's swanky saloon-set was scolded again the other day by a Detroit newspaperman . . . His by-line is omitted for reasons the reader will note below . . . But his indictment is interesting, if incoherent . . . It is quoted in part—and the reply which follows is from the portable of one of Manhattan's most prosperous press-pass raters—who served his apprenticeship as a reporter on Detroit, Miami and N. Y. gazettes.

* * *

Intoned the Detroiter: "This strange mingling of gangsters and so-called socialites came about as a result of prohibition. The blind-pigs were called clubs to dodge the law and the gangster rum-runners began fraternizing with the silly sons of the idle rich who had cash to pay on the line for hooch. To their surprise, the gangster and the son of the idle rich found that underneath the skin they were both alike—with the same lack of moral standards and the same attitude toward life . . . That's how one swanky spot owner met the 'Corny' Vanderbilts, the Asinine Astors and the other worthless parasites who live off their inheritance. The racketeer dances with the daughter of the dowager and a good time is had by all. The only change is that the racketeer is dressed up and puts on polite manners and the Social Set quits pretending it ever had any Standard of Decency."

TO which a former student of the complainant rebuttals:

"Dear B: I can feel your arteries hardening. The sound terrifies me—because you're in that flight that soloed with glass wings just about ten years ahead of me. So I missed all save the tail end leavings of Old Delmonico's Rector's, Jack's, etc., which you recall with rose colored, nostalgia—nights when only ambitious youngsters were swinging their hips in the first fox trots—and their arms with the drink of the day, as compared with second generation wastrels which you see drinking in the joints today.

"But when I was doing features a few years ago and dug into the files of those days, it was historically recorded that the same complaint was made by guys with low hair and high blood pressure . . . Guys who were regarding their own youth in the mellow glow of their dying embers.

"I think both those historians—and you today—are wrong . . . . I think there was inherited wealth foolhardily clamoring for notice then—and now—and always overshadowing for public comment the table talk and drinking repartee of the smart, ambitious youngsters and the genteel, ambitious and hard hitting members of the inherited wealth group.

* * *

"Take today, for instance. Your newspaper publisher is a man of considerable inherited wealth . . . You would call him—or you should—a useful scion of inherited wealth. . . . He put his financial and mental shoulders 'neath the decaying arches of a property you saw falling around you . . . Still we see him around these same night clubs—having fun, . . . And I'll bet often doing a mite of good for his properties . . . I understand he'll even tear the numbers off a roulette table—in his earnest attempt to pick a right one.

* * *

"MR. B., get the clinkers out of your arteries—you lived your past in your own way and had fun at it . . . Give the future the same chance you had. I notice you belted a guy who was once a liquor dealer during prohibition . . . . Memory recalls that I bellied to the same bar as you in Detroit in those memorable days . . . The only difference between the guy you rapped—and you and me—in those days was, figuratively, the side of the bar on which we stood—and the fact that your target didn't drink . . . For my dough you and that guy were a parlay, and if you criticize him in the wake of a law that was so unpopular it had to be stricken from the books— you should reserve a word of public reproach for yourself.

* * *

"There is no record of your target's arrest or patrol wagon ride in New York during those speakeasy days . . . Nor have there ever been any public or private condemnation for any spiffed speeches he tried to make before YMCA groups . . . You can see that my memory functions, eh? . . . If you are going to be so righteous and reformed in such a virtuous way; if you are going to insist that everybody ride the wagon of decorum, then you should save a seat for yourself and be sure you stay in it—and never climb down—not even for a periodic bender . . . And those weren't gangsters you saw in the New York night clubs when you were tipping the bottle on a trip to Gotham. . . . Those were former Detroit newspapermen, who trained under you and once used you as a model for success."

A MONTANA house organ quotes a radio station client as saying: "We are turning thumbs down on Winchell on our station until NBC will present two or more opinions on the same or adjacent programs or at least at the same time on alternate days. When this is done you and I, the public, will be able to make up our minds as to which is right."

What minds? And what distortion! What the station stooge for certain Senators actually told the NBC—when the NBC executive offered to substitute our time in Montana with someone like Kaltenborn—was this: "Only on one condition. That you put someone on right after Kaltenborn who will refute everything he says!"

Kaltenborn pans only Nazis.

Official Goes Elinor Glyn One Better With "Three Weeks"

Donald Nelson Needles Speed Into Arms Drive

BY PETER EDSON
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18 — It was Elinor Glyn who first made famous the "three weeks" idea, but when the record of the U. S. defense effort is finally put on paper, the first three weeks of September, 1941, might be known as Donald M. Nelson's. The Nelson three weeks may lack some of the sex appeal of the Glyn three weeks, but they will exceed in dramatic intensity and fireworks. What is happening briefly is this:

PETER EDSON

The entire priorities section in Office of Production Management setup is being given a thorough working over. Nelson, knowing the weakness and faults of the old OPM, now under his new authority as executive director of Supply Priorities and Allocations Board, and also as director of the division of priorities in OPM, has simply gone to work to overhaul the whole shebang.

The first week was cleanup week, when on a dramatic Saturday afternoon everything was taken from the tops of some 800 desks in the priorities section, analyzed by three rough, tough mail order experts from Sears-Roebuck, and handed back to the astonished defense executives with curt orders to get all the mail answered within 48 hours and to keep handling all priorities applications within 48 hours from time of receipt—or, else.

* * *

UNWINDS RED TAPE

THE second week is organization week. Nelson is going over his staff with a pair of jackstraw hooks, and any personnel that can be spared without disturbing the organization pile will be put to more useful effort or dismissed. Consequently, heads are rolling in OPM these days, and by some counts a hundred or more of the red tape underlings who had wound themselves around the priorities bottleneck may soon be buying one-way tickets for home.

The third week is to be requirements week. No one has ever sat down and figured out the over-all bill of goods, shooting irons and ball ammunition needed for the defense effort. Instead, one set of requirements has been piled pell-mell on top of the last one until now the order sheet is a completely balled up set of unspecific specifications. Nelson's idea is merely to get Army, Navy, lease-lend, hemisphere defense, home defense and civilian requirements tabulated and added up. When that is done, SPAB, OPM, and the country at large will know just how much steel, aluminum, rubber and other raw materials will be needed.

Don Nelson's own dual personality, first as director of priorities under OPM, and then as executive director of SPAB over OPM may be a little confusing, but when you put this into a parallel of corporation organization for perspective, it becomes a little clearer. As director of priorities, Nelson is a kind of second vice president — one of seven second vice presidents, in fact, the other six being Hillman for labor, Henderson for civilian allocations, Batt for raw materials, Harrison for production, MacKeachie for purchases and plant sites, and Floyd Odlum for contract distribution. Over these seven is William S. Knudsen, a kind of first vice president as head of OPM. But above the OPM is SPAB, and there Nelson is chairman of the board of directors — in other words, boss.

* * *

BARUCH BLAST BACKFIRES

BERNARD M. BARUCH, chairman of the old War Industries board in the last war and still one of the President's closest advisers on defense matters, was all set to condemn this latest defense reorganization. As a matter of fact Baruch did issue one blast against it, talking to reporters on the White House steps after a long conference with the President. That was before Nelson had talked to Baruch. Afterward, Baruch changed his tune somewhat, for Nelson had apparently sold him.

What Baruch has always insisted on is that there be one man at the top in charge of all defense activities and with authority to make decisions. It was Baruch's original idea that the new SPAB organization did not meet his requirements. Nelson pointed out to him, however, that even in the last war, Baruch had over him a war industries board to which he was responsible.

It is Nelson's contention that SPAB is parallel. Nelson will take questions to his board, consisting of Vice President Wallace, Hopkins, Henderson, Knox, Stimson, Knudsen and Hillman. The board will make the policy and Nelson will carry it out. If he keeps carrying it out the way he has in his scheduled three weeks reorganization, the defense effort is far from hopeless. In fact, it will begin to get places fast.

was in a hurry to get to the hearings and he cut himself badly while shaving at home. He had to stop in a barber shop and let a professional patch him up. . . . In spite of the air-conditioning in the Senate caucus room where the movie investigations opened, the crowd was large and the day was hot. All perspired freely, and the red mahogany varnish and the red upholstery dye on a chair rubbed off on Senator Bennett Champ Clark's nice fresh seersucker suit, ruining it. . . . "It looks like this sub-committee may go far afield and hear testimony for a long time," said Wendell Willkie, employed as counsel for the movie moguls. And then Willkie added significantly, "I may be fixed up until 1944." . . . Willkie had another crack after the opening session of the hearings. "They say there's a monopoly in the movie business," Willkie began, "but those fellows fight each other like everything. Why, it took them three weeks to agree to employ me."

Made Up To Kill

since the moment you met. She made as much money from Green Apples as you did, but she's borrowed from you, lived here, eaten your food, worn your clothes . . ."

"But they were such little things! I didn't mind."

". . . and she drank your liquor. Didn't the amount of liquor that little angel put away ever puzzle you, Haila? But she was watching her step pretty carefully. She never wanted Steve to see her drunk."

I forced myself to look at Steve. He was hunched down in a big chair, his face blank with shock. His eyes seemed strangely glazed. I turned away from him to Jeff.

"But I . . . I can't believe all this! She couldn't have been so . . . couldn't have been what you say and at the same time seemed . . ."

Jeff said, "She was, Haila. She is a wonderful actress. Tonight when I announced that I had found Lee Gray the way she leaned forward and said, 'Who?' nearly made me think I was wrong. She told her fantastic story about Greeley Morris to Greeley Morris had never batted an eyelash. She lied to you about her voice the night the play opened, about everything. Think a little, Haila. It's true, isn't it?"

Steve stood up. Mechanically, he went to the table in the corner and picked up his hat. Without looking at any of us he moved to the door. We heard his heavy footsteps on the stairs outside. The door remained wide open.

Morris said suddenly: "I'd like to run along, Peterson. That boy. Perhaps I can . . . he's too nice a kid to have had this happen to him."

"Go ahead, Morris."

My brain felt muddled, foggy. There was a sharp, biting ache at my temples. I walked to the bedroom door and stood looking at it.

From behind me Jeff was saying, "All along I've known that there was some strange undercurrent, something I couldn't put my finger on, running through the whole company. And I knew that in some way it was connected with Carol. Everyone was too fond of her, too incredulous that a single hair of her pretty head should be in danger. There was something phony about it. I didn't know that it was because she was hated so passionately, and with such damn good cause, that everyone was leaning over backward for fear of being suspected of murder."

I turned at the sound of Peterson's voice. He stood in the doorway frowning.

"We've tried like hell to find a suspect," he said, "someone with a motive to kill Carol Blanton. I thought when we found Lee Gray we'd also get our suspect. Well, we found her. Before, we had no suspects. Now, as far as I can see, practically everyone in New York and England has a reason to kill her."

Shooting Between U. S. Convoys, U-Boats Expected

New Drive On Oceans Seen

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE
Journal War Analyst

Secretary of the Navy Knox's announcement that American warships are to be used in convoying our merchantmen should cause little surprise, inasmuch as there is no other way in which the safety of cargo boats can be ensured.

That is the corollary to President Roosevelt's order that shipping be protected in our defensive waters. If that order is to be enforced there is no alternative to the employment of strong naval escorts, well bolstered with the fast, tough destroyers which make a special business of dealing with submarines. Either you convoy your ships or many of them will be sunk.

Germans Make Claims

The situation is emphasized by the statement today from Dienst Aus Deutschland, authoritative German commentary, that U-boats have sunk 30,000 tons of shipping daily for the last ten days in the North Atlantic. There is no confirmation of this claim, but we do know that there has been a steady loss of British ships. Less than four months ago, on May 27, President Roosevelt summed the position up thus grimly:

"The blunt truth of this seems to be this — and I reveal this with the full knowledge of the British government: The present rate of Nazi sinkings of merchant ships is more than three times as high as the capacity of British shipyards to replace them; it is more than twice the combined British and American output of merchant ships today."

Shooting Expected

If two and two make four, then a continuation of such a loss must mean that American aid would lie rotting at the bottom of the sea, and that the Allies would meet defeat. Lack of sufficient British warships to protect shipping has been a major cause of these heavy losses. A somewhat similar situation in the World war almost brought disaster to the Allies, and it was the inauguration of strong American naval convoys which had much to do with saving the day.

Will there be shooting between our convoys and Nazi raiders? Of course there will, for it must be expected that U-boats will invade our North Atlantic route to Iceland.

Hitler Quite Busy Man

However, it remains to be seen whether Herr Hitler will force the issue far enough to bring on war, or whether he will try to avoid it by devoting most of his efforts to British territorial waters. Many observers hold that the latter course would be the logical one, but it must be admitted that logic not infrequently blows up in one's face in war time.

There has been a distinct slowing down of the U-boat campaign for some weeks now, but we can be sure that this is only a temporary respite. Hitler hasn't been employing anything like the total fleet he is generally believed to possess.

There are excellent reasons for this. One is that he needs U-boats for operations against the Russian navy in the Baltic, and the other is that he is getting set for possible operations against the Bolshevists in the Black sea and has been shipping light submarines across country to Rumanian and Bulgarian ports.

However, the time will come when the fuehrer will be ready to unleash his pack again in the Atlantic — and it is likely to be a formidable one.

Tynwald Day, the oldest open-air free speech Parliament in the world, was recently celebrated on Tynwald Hill, Isle of Man.

CAN'T KEEP GRANDMA IN HER CHAIR
She's as Lively as a Youngster—Now her Backache is better
Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.
The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.
When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.
Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills. ADV
