Bad Checks Pose Problem

"Bad checks cost everyone." That's what most of the merchants say about those checks they get bounced back from the bank marked "Insufficient Funds."

"It's a costly loss," says E-Z Way owner Travis Cawthron, who estimated that his loss is about $500 yearly. "This is why groceries are high," he said as he pointed to a stack of bad checks.

"It just makes you mad," said Virginia Fuller, who with her husband Raymond own and operate Fuller Foods.

Besides the cost, most of the merchants said that it's a hassle.

"A check is supposed to be good, just like cash, and when it's not, then this two or three percent who can't keep up with their money make it rough on everyone," Cawthron said.

"Some go into the bad check file each month, but then you get some back," said Randall Witte, Safeway manager.

"The county attorney does an excellent job," Witte said, as he added that since the first of this year Safeway has not received as many of the bad checks as in the past.

Skinny's manager said that many of the bounced checks that store gets are "just mistakes. People do come in and pick them up. Some have come down and paid them off even before we get them back," Gary Massey said.

Colonial also gets some bad checks but not so many because of a stringent information system that store maintains. If a potential check casher will not consent to fill out one of the cards, then no checks are accepted, even for merchandise, said an employee.

"Well, I probably have all the information I need," Cawthron said. "The thing about it is, they'll tell you they're going to come in and take care of it and then they won't."

When that happens, a person or business should send a certified letter to the person which gives them 10 days to take care of the See BAD, Page 2

Review Board Accepts Appraisal

In a decision on the disputed value of property owned by Valero Gathering System, the Appraisal Review Board accepted Pritchard and Abbot's appraisal.

Decision came late Tuesday after a more than two hour hearing with two representatives of the pipeline company.

Mitchell County's chief appraiser Mike Burt said that the difference between the company's figures of their property and the appraised value was about one million dollars.

Burt added that no compromise could be worked out between the two as the Valero manager, Ron Meadows, said that the company's position was not open to compromise.

"So the board accepted Pritchard and Abbot's appraisal," Burt concluded.

Real estate values will be reviewed by the board this week. Meetings are set for Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, starting at 10 a.m. in the Middle School cafeteria.

Members of the board are Chairman Bobby Lemons, W. R. Powell and Ray Preston.

Rodeo Entry Blanks Must Be In Today

Cowboys and Cowgirls that were not 20 years-of-age by August 31 have until 5 p.m., today to submit their entry in the AJRA Rodeo that is planned to begin Wednesday, June 30. Entries must be post marked no later than today, June 21.

New Bank Changes Name

Max Shaw, proposed president of the new bank which is in the process of organizing in Colorado City, announced that the official name of the bank will be The First National Bank, Colorado City, Texas.

The original charter was granted with the name Citizens National Bank of Colorado City. The organizers decided on the name change to See BANK, Page 6

The annual rodeo will be held in the Mitchell County rodeo arena, west of Colorado City on highway 80, beginning at 8 p.m. nightly through July 3.

Events the buckaroos will be competing in will include barrel racing, pole bending, break-away roping, team roping, ribbon roping, tie down roping, steer or bull riding, junior bull riding and bareback riding.

Youth 12 and under will need to pay $13 for each event they choose to enter which include all the above, with the exception of team roping, tie down roping, junior bull riding, bareback riding and bull riding.

Day Care Center Receives Check To Aid In Operation

The Mitchell County Day Care Center announced it received a check for $4,500 from the Atlantic Richfield Companies Foundation and the Corporate Child Development Fund for Texas.

Presenting Mrs. Gregory with the check was executive director Bruce Easterline.

The grant will be used to match state and federal funds from the Texas Department of Human Resources to provide child care services in Colorado City.

As part of the community action program from the county, the agency provides developmental child care services to 58 pre-school children from Colorado City and surrounding rural communities. While the children receive educational and physical instruction suited to their developmental levels, their parents are able to find and maintain jobs.

The center is located on East 10th Street in the old Community Center building. It operates five days a week from 6:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. in order to fit the schedules of working parents.

Forty of the children, who range in ages from infancy to eight years, are eligible for subsidized services, while 18 other children pay the full $7 day tuition.

"We need child care in this area," explained Ann Gregory, director of the agency, "so that parents can work and children can be better prepared for school. This grant from the corporate fund will enable us to maintain our services."

Mitchell County Boasts "Survivor"

This story is true and a credit not only to Mitchell County but society in general.

It is about the courage we would all like to have, the internal fortitude we all wish we had.

This man did not think he had done anything special or out of the ordinary. To him it was simply a job that had to be done and he did it.

He is one of the quiet people with the determination to turn impossible odds into victory.

He was born in Mitchell County, 1907: went to school, married, farmed, built a rock home and had three children. The droughts, depression and wars came and went for him as they did for all of us.

None of this is too much out of the ordinary for most people, but how many could have done it with no legs?

He had polio when he was six years old, spent one year in the hospital in St. Louis, Missouri, but all to no avail. He came home with two paralyzed and useless legs.

Even as a child this did not defeat him. He was determined to have a normal life.

As a young man, he met and won Mattie Patterson's hand in marriage. There is no doubt she could see the courage in her man's heart. Together they built their rock home on a 160-acre farm. Together they raised cotton, maize, food, cows, chickens, hogs, mules and children.

Though he had only his two arms to work with, he made his upper body strong enough to do the work his legs could not do.

He had six horses, all trained to his commands. Before sunup he would go to the barn, pull himself up and sit on the harness race. The harness hung in a row. He would call the horses by name and they would go to their harness size and stand there until he slid down the rack to put their gear on.

When he wanted to hitch the team to the wagon, he would tell them to "Back up" and they would back up to the wagon.

If he wanted to ride one of his horses, he would have the horse to lay down, then he would get on. Sometimes the lot would be muddy so he would pull himself onto the fence and have the horse See SURVIVOR, Page 2 check. Then, if there's still no response, the check can be turned over to the county attorney's office for further action.

County Attorney Pat Barber said that his office has available upon request to businesses or individuals which might accept many checks a list of information to be checked.

It contains such helps as a copy of a sample letter to be sent by certified mail when a simple letter or telephone call fails to get results.

It also gives those kinds of checks which cannot be accepted for prosecution by the county attorney's office. These include postdated checks, stop payment checks, checks drawn on out of state banks, two or three party checks, checks for which partial payment has been received, checks received in the mail or several other types.

Also, if the amount is over $200 then the jurisdiction changes to the District Attorney's office because that's a felony and not a misdemeanor.

If the courtesy letters fail to get a merchant the money, then it's time for a warrant to be issued by the county attorney's office. Upon presentation of this document by a deputy or warrant officer, a person might still avoid jail if the amount of the check is paid, plus the fine of $16 each bad check and a fee which varies with the amount of the bad check.

When the warrant is served, if the person who gave the bad check does not have enough money to cover the check plus fine and fee, then some of them make arrangements with the county attorney's office to pay off their bad checks.

Sometimes people will not do as they promise and then the case can be turned over to the Justice of the Peace for prosecution in JP court. Cawthron said he thinks this is the area that could stand some more muscle. "I think if more people were convicted on this then there would be fewer bad checks passed."

Whites Auto Store owner Corky Houston said, "Sometimes it's our own fault for not getting enough information on the check. Maybe they've moved and then we can't find them, when if we'd just get a driver's license number it might help."

Also the check might be more closely scrutinized at the time it's written. Sometimes people will just forget to sign it or something else might be peculiar.

Former District Attorney Frank Ginzel said that he'd had in his desk for years a check signed 'Uve Ben Had.'

Speaking of the goals of this organization, Esterline noted, "We believe that by linking private and public resources, we can invest in children and assure that they will become productive adults. This is a cost-effective way of helping families now and reducing the need for government spending in the future."

The Corporate Fund receives financial support from over 30 other corporations and foundations in Texas. They include Atlantic Richfield, Shell Oil, Sun Gas, Exxon, West Texas Marketing Corporation, Galveston-Houston, Getty Oil and Geosource.

Grants similar to the one in Colorado City are being made to child care programs in Hamlin, Breckenridge and Snyder.

"It is reassuring to see private industry helping these types of programs as the federal government is cutting back," added Mrs. Gregory.

On hand for the presentation with Esterline was Contract Manager Louie Jones.

At cotton picking time, he hitched one horse to a wooden slide, sat on it with his cotton sack and would tell the horse "Take one step." That the horse did. He never had to say whoa.

To head maize he had a two-foot wide, six-foot long box he sat in. The horse would pull him along to the same command, "Take one step."

The horses were so well-trained he would take them to the Colorado City rodeo each year. There they would perform for the public.

These horses deserve special mention. They are Prince, Don, Frank, Ribbon, Blackie and Rotary.

He sold the horses when he bought the tractor. Special hand brakes were fitted to the tractor for his use. He would pull himself up on it and drive from daylight until dark. Mattie would bring him his lunch and more seed.

After all the crops were in, this man worked as an auto mechanic for Al Peterson to make extra money.

Last but not least, he made a miniature covered wagon and hitched it to a pony for his children to go to school and back.

Kirschbaum Winner Of Local Drawing

Joe Kirschbaum won a chance to represent Anderson Motor Co., in a search for a pound of gold in Austin, Tex., this summer, according to Phil Anderson, owner.

A pound of gold is the top prize in each of 48 state-wide Dodge Truck Gold Rush Sweepstakes and Treasure Hunts sponsored by the nation's 2,600 Dodge truck dealers.

Kirschbaum was selected in a random sweepstakes drawing at Anderson Motor Co., from entries deposited by customers. All entries were entered on or before May 31, 1982.

Kirschbaum won a 1906 ten dollar gold piece for winning the local drawing.

The treasure hunt will be held on a Saturday this summer with all the sweepstakes winners, representing every Dodge truck dealer in Texas, competing in a treasure hunt for a pound of gold.

Anderson noted that the contestant who followed the treasure hunt instructions exactly and readily would win the pound of gold.

Additional prizes of gold necklaces will be awarded.

"The Dodge Truck Gold Rush is part of a multi-million dollar advertising and promotional campaign aimed at selling Dodge trucks and their special new "Prospector" packages of options," concluded Anderson.

Letter To The Editor

To The Editor,

Another softball season is finally in full swing. There was a little worry and doubt as to if and when we could start this season but after a lot of late phone calls and discussion, League President Charles R. Watlington finally got it all lined out. He wants to take this opportunity to thank some local people and businesses for their help and support. Also to apologize to those who helped for calling so late and so often.

There was trouble with the lights after a breaker box caught fire during the C-City "A" Tournament. Thanks to Tommy Guelker for getting us the breaker box at his cost. Thanks to Tommy and Eddie Gregory for putting the box in on their own time. Thanks to Lone Wolf Electric, Kenneth Rogers and TESCO, B. B. Hardee for a donation toward the purchase of the wire. Thanks to Colorado Lumber for furnishing conduit to install the box.

At this time also goes a special thanks to Tex and Jolene Blankenship for their help and support of the league in providing the concession stand. Without their help, the concession stand would not be possible. They are super.

Watlington says he hopes everyone will come out and watch some games this year. It looks like a good season coming up and we want to get everyone interested and involved in this good summer past time and fun for the city. We do wish we had more teams but would like for all to come out and enjoy the games. If we could have more teams and city support from everyone, we could have a lot of fun and exercise for a smaller fee and better league and field for next year.

Thanks to all of those again who contributed their time and financial support.

Sincerely,
Charles Watlington

July 2, 3 and 4. The tourney is limited to the first 12 teams to enter. June 28 is the entry deadline and the entry fee is $85 per team.

The tournament is being held in conjunction with the UGSA to raise money for new restrooms at the girls softball field.

For more information contact CC Athletics at 915-728-3378, Sheryl Lamb at 915-728-3628, or Urda Wulfjen at 915-728-5167. The entry fee may be mailed to Sheryl Lamb, 1340 Eastover Street, Colorado City, Texas 79512.

KITTY COULD RETIRE WITH ALMOST A QUARTER OF A MILLION DOLLARS.

THE NEW TAX-DEFERRED INDIVIDUAL RETIREMENT ACCOUNTS-IRAs.

Kitty doesn't have much money these days. But if she had a tax-deferred Individual Retirement Account (IRA) at our FULL SERVICE BANK,* she could have a lot of money in the days to come.

By depositing just $19.23 toward an IRA every week, she could end up with $255,800 in 30 years.*

That's worth repeating: A deposit of $19.23 a week could total $255,800.

Of course, because the maximum allowable yearly investment has been increased to $2,000, it's possible to earn even more. Making deposits by the week, by the month, or whatever is most convenient.

But whatever she invests could soon be earning high-yield interest to help make her golden years a lot more golden.

And, because our Individual Retirement Accounts are tax-deferred, Kitty could deduct each of her yearly investments from her taxable income. So she'd pay no federal taxes on her IRA until she starts withdrawing funds (minimum age: 59½).

Then when she retires, she'll probably be in a lower tax bracket, paying lower taxes.

If you'd like to set up an affordable IRA, come talk to the professionals at our FULL SERVICE BANK.

They'll show you how a regular savings plan can help almost anyone retire with a quarter of a million dollars.

Including Kitty
*This example assumes 12% interest, compounded annually, based on the average quarterly balance. It is intended to be an example of how regular deposits into an IRA can grow into a substantial sum. It is not a guarantee of interest rates or end financial results.

WE'VE GOT THE ANSWERS.

Boll Weevil Count Drops

Boll weevil traps, according to County Entomologist Deanna Myers, dropped in the number of weevils caught per trap for those baited the week of June 7 through June 11 and checked the week of June 14 through June 18.

The 1981 average for this same week was .39 weevils per trap where as this year the figure dropped to .22 weevils per trap.

Myers concluded, "So far it appears that the peak emergence of weevils occurred the last week of May and we will not have another major peak this year."

On the grasshopper demonstration, Myers reported that it would appear that there will be no problem with grasshoppers this year. Due to the rains, grasshoppers are staying in the pastures for the green grass.

Myers said, "The grasshoppers staying in the pastures is good in that it gives the cotton more time to come up and mature. And I have seen only one jumbo so far."

Juan Carlos, son of Mr. and Mrs. Juan M. Salazar, of Colorado City, was born in Root Memorial Hospital June 12 weighing 7 lbs., 4 ozs.

City Swimming Pool Not Open Yet

Rick Crowley, city manager, said they were shooting for Monday for the opening of the Colorado City swimming pool.

He said the pumps were installed, along with the chlorination equipment Thursday and if there were no problems, the pool would open at noon Monday.

Juan Molina, pool manager, said the hours for the swimming pool are Monday through Saturday, from noon until 6 p.m. and from 1 p.m. until 6 p.m. on Sundays. Molina said these open days did not include Wednesday, as the pool would be closed all day on Wednesdays only.

Molina said that Larry Dearen would be the lifeguard on duty.

In conclusion, Molina said the pool was open to anyone and there would be a straight admission charge of 75 cents per person. He said there would not be any family tickets sold this year.

YOU AUTO KNOW
By Aaron Carpenter

Q. With a rare feeling of competence, I started to replace my own shock absorbers one day. The old ones are still on the car. I gave up when I couldn't budge the blasted things. A. First of all, get yourself a can of penetrating oil and apply it, very generously, to the bolts. Then, go take a nap or watch a ball game. When you come back, the penetrating oil should have done its thing. Shock fasteners are among the most difficult objects to move you'll find on a car, but it can be done. Next, get the wheels off the ground with axle blocks to release pressure on shocks. Remove the lower fastener, then the top one. On the rear shocks, work from inside the engine compartment. In re-installing, just do the reverse: Top fastener first, then bottom. If the fasteners still give you trouble, apply more penetrating oil and 40 more winks.

Playhouse To Cast Comedy

Casting for the next Colorado City Playhouse production will be held at 7 p.m. Monday and Tuesday, June 28 and 29, at the Playhouse.

This play, entitled "Opal is a Diamond," is a hilariously funny sequel to "Everyone Loves Opal," which the Playhouse produced 15 years ago.

Needed for this story, according to Joan Sorflaten, the director, are at least nine cast members. Specifically, she is looking for two sweet, eccentric old ladies; one middle-aged salesman-politician and two 30-year-old executives, one man and one woman.

Non-specifically, Miss Sorflaten is looking for four to six truck drivers, male or female, any age. "These are especially good parts for people with or without previous stage experience," she told the Playhouse Board of Directors, "so I am looking forward to seeing a lot of new faces among those of the veterans."

Scheduled production dates are July 29-31 and August 4-7. Those interested in auditioning should read the play first. Copies are available from Elaine Fugate at The City National Bank.

Paul Kidd Devoted Church Member

Rev. Charles Casey
Pastor
Calvary Baptist Church

Recently I read the testimony of Paul Kidd, who served as a footman to her Majesty the Queen Mother of England. He was reared near Manchester, England, and was the product of a broken home. Because of a disappointing experience he concluded that Jesus didn't exist.

When he was 16, he joined the Navy and continued to reject Jesus. A naval officer witnessed to Paul and invited him to attend church services with him. Paul Kidd asked the Lord Jesus into his heart. He was saved that very night.

Kidd became a devoted church member, studied the Bible regularly, and frequently witnessed on his ship. Later he worked as a child care worker, helping troubled boys. He applied for work in Buckingham Palace and became a steward in the palace. He met many government officials at the palace and witnessed to some of them.

After two years he was promoted to footman to Her Majesty the Queen Mother. He moved to Clarence House, St. James' Palace, where the Queen Mother lived. Christmas 1979, the Queen Mother gave Paul a Thompson Chair Reference Bible. "Your Majesty, I'm really thrilled with it," he said, "I'm a Christian and believe that the Bible is God's Word."

Paul Kidd testified, "I realized that not only is it a great honor to serve the Queen of England, but the greatest honor is to serve the King of Heaven."

Very few will ever have the privilege of serving a Queen, but all who are in Christ are privileged to serve the King of Kings and the Lord of Lords. Rejoice today if you are a child of the King and that you are privileged to serve Him. (Romans 8:16-17)

C-City Playhouse Announces Film Festival To Be Held

The Colorado City Playhouse is announcing its first film festival. The festival will be held in mid-July and is featuring some of the oldest favorites in American film history.

On July 8 will be "Gunga Din" starring Lionel Barrymore and Sam Jaffe. This film is based on Rudyard Kipling's great novel about the Muslim Wars the British fought in India. Next, on July 9, Sophia Loren's academy award nominated performance will be seen in "Two Women."

At two p.m., Saturday afternoon, the original film version of "Heidi" will be shown. "Heidi" is the charming children's tale of a young girl who lives with her grandfather in the Alps. One day she is cleverly stolen away by a cruel and selfish aunt.

Then Saturday evening returns to adult fare with Ruth Gordon's 1971 performance in "Harold and Maude." This film deals with an eccentric old lady and a very troubled boy and how their unique and controversial relationship is developed.

On the next Thursday, July 15, the viewers will be treated to Montgomery Clift, Elizabeth Taylor and Shelly Winters in "A Place In The Sun." On July 16, "Sunset Boulevard" will be shown. William Holden stars with Gloria Swanson in what some critics called her greatest film.

On Saturday, July 17, the 2 p.m., matinee will be "Black Beauty." This is the first film version of Anna Sewall's story of a beautiful black horse and the boy who found manhood in his devotion to him.

The festival closes that night with Gregory Peck and Audrey Hepburn in the charming comedy, "Roman Holiday." A young princess-seeking refuge from the demands of public life—is befriended by an American reporter who, coincidentally, is looking for a princess who has recently disappeared.

A newly acquired, large, beaded screen will be used during the festival. Bill White, coordinator for the entire project, is currently arranging for film shorts to be shown with each feature and guest speakers who will introduce each featured film.

Reservations will be necessary and the Playhouse Box Office will open at 1 p.m., Monday, July 5. The number to phone is 728-3491. Tickets are on a per film basis and are $2.50 for adults and $1.50 for children, students and senior citizens (65 years or older). The films, except the children's matinees will begin at 8 p.m., each evening of the festival.

Dove Season Dates Listed

"It all depends on the planting and from the looks of it, there will not be a lot of grain and this will of course effect the dove season in Mitchell County. Because the more grain, the more doves," commented Game Warden Ronnie Aston in regards to the dove season this year.

He said that every year, the farmers are planting more cotton and there has been a noticeable decrease in dove population and also in interest of dove hunting in general in the area.

Aston said that the Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission has approved 1982-83 hunting season date and bag limits for doves and teal ducks in our area.

Dove season for our area is set September 1 through October 30, added Aston, noting that teal duck season will run a week, September 11-19.

Aston said, in our area, we have mourning doves and teal duck.

Bag limit, Aston noted, for mourning doves will be 12 per day, possession limit 24, and for teal dove, it is four per day and possession limit eight in the aggregate.

Shooting hours in our zone, the north zone, will be one-half hour before sunrise to sunset.

Computer Course Offered

A basic Micro-Computer Course will be offered on Saturday, July 17 at the Wallace Center. The one-day course will be held from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m. and the fee is $25. Dr. Gene McClurg, Dean of Occupational Education at Western Texas College, will be the instructor for the class. Dr. McClurg has a Ph.D. from Texas A&M in Physics and is very qualified to teach this course, according to Center Director Barbara Gray.

This basic course will consist of a general understanding of the fundamentals of micro-computers. Terminology and practice with the computers will be stressed. Application of the computer to individual businesses will be discussed.

Students must pre-register by July 16. Registrations may be made by coming to the Wallace Center Community Education Office or for information, phone 728-2392.

This course is sponsored through Western Texas College.

YOUNGSTERS WHO ATTEND the Mitchell County Day Care were feted to a birthday party on Wednesday by the Wilson Wyatt VFW Post 9178 and its Ladies' Auxiliary. All children who have birthdays during the month of June were honored and ice cream cone cupcakes and punch were served to all the children by auxiliary members Ann Ingram, Mary Bell and Virgie Mosley.

Local Firm Sponsors Fireman

The 1982 Texas Firemen's Training School will be held at the Texas A&M University campus, July 25-30. Texas Farm Bureau Insurance Companies and the Mitchell County Farm Bureau will jointly sponsor one fireman to the school.

Ray Dillard of Colorado City, who is a fireman with the Colorado City Volunteer Fire Department, will study modern fire-fighting techniques and disaster operations, along with fire prevention procedures at the school.

All firemen and fire marshals attending the annual firemen's training school will participate in conferences conducted by the Texas

Farm Bureau Insurance Companies. These include "Interest in Rural Fire Protection" by Ed Drake, TFB Insurance Companies director of administration; and "Preventing Rural Fires" by Ward Cross, former TFB Insurance Companies administrative assistant.
